LADY MEMBER AMUSES IN FEDERAL HOUSE

GNES M'PHAIL IS CAUSTIC IN HER CRITICISM

s After Liberals and Conservatives Alike in Budget Debate

OULD RATHER HAVE CONSERVATIVES SAYS

dget Debate Nearly Collapses for Lack of Speakers; Carried Over

OTTAWA, Feb., 28.—Miss Agnes MacPhail had words of caustic criticism in the house today. As she rose to continue debate on the budget, she faced a well-filled house which laughed and cheered as shaft after shaft went home. She described the budget as giving to him that hath, and taking from him that hath not, even that which he hath. But it was in relation to past Liberal overtures to Progressives that Miss MacPhail was most critical. She spoke of them as "false friendships" and declared she would rather have the "bitter, uncompromising, unfriendly, snobbish attitude of the Conservative party."

"I cannot say that it promised much," so she went on, "but at least it was honest, and we knew where we stood. I often wonder why these Conservatives think they are so much better than other people."

"You said they were honest," interposed J. S. Chaplin, Conservative, Lincoln.

"I said they were honest in their bitterness toward us," Miss MacPhail retorted.

MOST COLLAPSES

Shortly before the house adjourned debate almost collapsed for lack of speakers. No one was ready to continue. Speaker started to put the question. Hon. Hugh Guthrie observed that arrangement between whips was for debate to continue several days. Once more debate went over to another day.

Hon. James Malcolm, minister of trade and commerce, reviewing the trade situation, observed that Canada had the greatest favorable trade balance per capita of any country in the world.

CREDIT TO CANADA

It should be borne in mind, he said in arriving at a correct point of view regard Canada's trade, that exports of Canadian goods to Great Britain were absorbed in that country. Great Britain was a big clearing house for exports, which finally reached other countries. Compared with the United States percentage of raw material which this country in a manufactured state was a credit to Canada.

In regard to unemployment, Mr. Malkin argued, it was to be remembered that it was largely seasonal, and that it was usually an off-season when parliament was in session.

In the past 14 years Canada had absorbed approximately 2,000,000 into permanent positions, and now there was little unemployment other than seasonal unemployment.

AMERY'S VISIT

The recent visit to Canada of Rt. Hon. L. C. Amery, secretary of state for the colonies, brought sharp reference from Wilfrid Giguard, Liberal, Drummond-Athabasca. "The Liberal party," he said, "stands for the most complete autonomy on both internal and external affairs." And after indicating the criticism made in certain quarters that Mr. Amery had been here as an Imperial

CHAUFFEUR IS CHARGED WITH PEG MURDER

Does Not Plead When Formally Arraigned for Killing of Mrs. Lottie Adams

WINNIPEG, Feb. 28.—Albert Victor Westgate, 35-year-old automobile mechanic and chauffeur, was formally charged with the murder of Mrs. Lottie Adams, 30-year-old St. Vital housewife, late today.

Closely guarded, Westgate was arraigned before Magistrate Welsford in provincial police court. The accused did not plead and after the charge was read, he was remanded for a week. He has retained counsel. Westgate displayed no emotion during the brief court session, and calmly surveyed his surroundings during the hearing.

The body of Mrs. Adams, who disappeared on February 16, was found late Monday in a snowdrift near her home. Police advanced the theory tonight that a small axe or hatchet was the instrument of death, while there is a possibility that the victim also was shot. Several vicious stabs, which may have been caused by a bullet, and five sharp hatchet wounds were found on the body. A post-mortem examination is under way and this will definitely determine if the woman was shot as well as beaten with the hatchet. With the aid of shovels, an exhaustive survey was made of the area surrounding the spot where the body was discovered, and it is understood a number of new clues were found today.

An inquest will open Wednesday afternoon. The jury will view the body and then adjournment will be made until the police investigation has been completed.

In the meantime, Westgate, who is a married man, is confined in the provincial jail here.

'CLOSED DOOR' POLICY VOTED BY FARMERS

Reaffirm Stand Decided Upon at Inaugural Meeting; Publicity Committee Named

NORMAN OPENS UNITED FARMERS' CONVENTION

Johnson of Moose Jaw Is Chairman; Mrs. Hollis Urges Cooperation

SASKATOON, Sask., Feb. 28.—Reaffirming their stand on the "closed door" policy adopted at the inaugural meeting of the organization last year, delegates attending the annual convention of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, applied themselves today to a lengthy agenda of business, with the press excluded from the deliberations.

Protagonists of an "open door" convention maintained that the principle of secret assemblies was an erroneous one and urged departure from a policy which, according to one delegate, "put the organization in a wrong light before the eyes of the public." The motion to open the convention was defeated by a substantial majority. Reports on the day's business was entrusted to a publicity committee of three.

The convention was officially opened this afternoon by Major G. W. Norman of Saskatoon, and Dr. W. Murray, president of the University of Saskatchewan.

JOHNSON PRESIDES

R. M. Johnson, Moose Jaw, was elected chairman of the convention. Mr. Johnson was formerly vice-president of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers.

Mrs. George Hollis, president of the women's section emphasized the importance of cooperation and the need for lifting the rural standards of living.

During the four-day session of the organization the delegates will be called upon to consider an imposing array of resolutions, numbering nearly 150. These embrace a wide field of problems from minor difficulties met by constituency locals to the more important issues of taxation, tariff, immigration, grain grading and legislation.

If No Relief He Sees Desolation on Fraser Valley Dairy Farms

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Feb. 28.—"Unless a solution is found to relieve the cooperative dairyman from the burden of utilizing surplus milk of the lower mainland, a wide-open milk fight will result and the now prosperous Fraser valley will be a scene of desolation with abandoned dairy farms," declared W. J. Park, president of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers association, at the annual meeting, which opened here today.

Mr. Park was referring to the dairy losses distribution bill now before the legislature. He stated that the policy of the board is to meet all price cutting.

Leaping into space at an altitude of 15,000 feet, her parachute became entangled in the plane. She was unable to disengage herself, but managed to swing up and hold on to the under carriage. After the plane had landed it was found that she had fainted. She was rushed to hospital, where she quickly recovered, her only injuries being slight bruises about one arm.

Leech, chairman of the Saskatchewan liquor commission from 1920 until the inception of government liquor control in 1925, collapsed and died suddenly at his home here tonight. Arbitration of disputes between the committee and produce shippers also is provided by the new legislation, while to control oriental shippers the keeping of books of account in English is made obligatory.

MINERS STATE HAD ORDERS TO DUMP DEBRIS

Says Were to Dump Refuse From Thaw-House Into Unused Stopes, Hollinger

TIMMINS, Ont., Feb. 28.—Two witnesses, John Reid and Stanley Richards, who appeared before the royal commission investigating the Hollinger mine disaster today under examination swore that they had, under instructions, dumped debris from the thaw house on the 550-foot level into stopes otherwise unused, while a third man, W. Leblanc, admitted he also had performed similar work, but he never had inquired from the fellow workers immediately in authority over him why this method was being practiced.

John Knox, the assistant general manager, was positive he had not known of the practice of dumping the thaw house waste in quantities until after the fire, and he told the commissioner he never had considered it a safe practice.

Mr. Knox had no recollection of having been approached by any representative of the miners and warned of the practice of dumping.

Precautionary measures were dealt with during the time Mr. Knox was on the stand. The first aid stations at the mine have no gas masks or apparatus to combat the effects of carbon monoxide gas, Mr. Knox said, and he considered the policy of the United States bureau of mines in sending out cars "more in the field of instruction than in mine rescue," a good lead for Ontario to follow.

'TAY PAY' O'CONNOR RETURNS TO STATES

Seeks Change for Sake of Rheumatism; Declines to Discuss Politics

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—T. P. (Tay Pay) O'Connor, since 1885 a member of the British house of commons, came back to America after 11 years, today, in search of a climate which will help his rheumatism.

Nearing his 80th birthday, the "father of the house of commons" can walk now only with the aid of a physician and a nurse.

The problems of Ireland belong to Ireland alone, he told interviewers when he greeted them aboard the liner Berengaria, as she steamed up the river. He declined to discuss Irish politics, nor would he talk about the United States problems.

"The Irish of Ireland and of America," he said, "are entitled to their own views and opinions. But the two millions of Irishmen in England also are entitled to their place in the sun. They share the ideals of Great Britain and leave Ireland the job of settling her own political differences."

RESERVE SALE BEST WAY OUT SAYS PATTULLO

Minister Explains Sale of Kitsilano Reserve to the Dominion Government

ANSWERS CRITICISM OF CONSERVATIVES

Says If Harbor Board Deal Made Would Have Received Half; Premier Ill

VICTORIA, Feb. 28.—Surrender of all British Columbia claims to the Kitsilano Indian reserve at Vancouver, in return for payment of $350,000 by the Dominion government was the best way out of the Kitsilano reserve controversy, in view of all the circumstances, the legislature was assured this afternoon by Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands and by Attorney-General A. M. Manson.

Joshua Hinchliffe, Conservative, Victoria, and other opposition members raised the question, expressing doubt whether the province had made a proper deal. Mr. Hinchliffe said that some years ago the Vancouver harbor board had offered as much as $750,000 for the reserve. He considered this was one matter that could justifiably be carried to the highest court of law for decision.

BOTH AGREEMENTS

The minister of lands reminded Mr. Hinchliffe the Vancouver harbor board offer covered both the provincial and federal rights. British Columbia would not have been given the entire $750,000, he said. The attorney-general said the Ottawa legal position had been pretty strong and that for his part he had not been prepared to advise the government to fight the question out in the courts.

Progress was made in the passing of estimates.

Premier J. D. MacLean was prevented from attending today's session being indisposed. He is suffering from an affection of one of his eyes and he will probably be confined to his home for a few days.

Officers in the bank who failed to make a proper inspection were blamed for the conditions to a certain extent.

AGNES M'PHAIL IS CAUSTIC IN HER CRITICISM

(Continued from page one) propagandist, Mr. Girouard asked "Do we need to protest against the making of any such attempt? Do we need politely to request all these personages to travel a little less, or at least to travel elsewhere than here, if they come with imperialistic propaganda in view?"

Hon. J. W. Edwards, Conservative, Frontenac-Addington, declared the government was seeking applause for reducing taxes, such as sales and income, which they themselves had increased since coming into office. He also declared there had been decreased immigration since the Liberal party assumed power. He reviewed the McConachie case, where a mother and a 14-months-old child were sent back to Scotland. The minister of immigration had given permits to the deaf and blind, but apparently had no consideration for this woman.

FORKE REPLIES

"I will not admit a feeble-minded girl," declared Mr. Forke.

"The minister will hear more of it before the session is over," replied Dr. Edwards.

The administration should be termed "zig-zag" government and each member of the cabinet should wear on the lapel of his coat a brass tag bearing the letter "Z."

T. H. Stinson, Conservative, Victoria, declared that the budget did not contain one tariff change which would bring increased employment for Canadian workmen or result in the return of Canadians now residing in the United States. He suggested that some arrangement might be made whereby unemployed British labor could be used to develop the natural resources of Canada. He made a plea for development of home markets and declared the Canadian farmer must now realize that his interests have been sacrificed by the government in the Australian trade treaty. He advocated an export duty on wheat for milling in bond in other countries. Concluding, he indorsed the amendment to the budget moved by Mr. Cahan.

Mr. Speaker Issues Mild Rebuke to Interruptions While Members Speaking

OTTAWA, Feb. 28.—A mild remuke was administered during the budget debate in the house of commons today to members prone to interrupt others who are speaking. The speaker's remarks came on the conclusion of the speech of Hon. James Malcolm, minister of trade and commerce, and as Hon. J. W. Edwards, Conservative, Frontenac-Addington, rose to address the house.

Before the honorable member proceeds, I should like the chair to be supported in this," said Speaker Lemieux. "I allowed an interruption a moment ago with the result that I had to give a few minutes extra to the honorable minister of trade and commerce in order that he might complete his sentence. Under the 40-minute rule, if interruptions are too numerous, speeches are so cut up that in many instances the meaning of the honorable member, who has the floor, is obscured."

Speaker Lemieux then proceeded to quote Bourinot in parliamentary procedure to the effect that a member may interrupt to ask a question only with the consent of the speaking member.

B. C. Man Tells About Dodd's Kidney Pills

Mr. Herman Wewers Suffered Severely With Pains in His Back

Lumby, B.C., Feb. 28.—(Special)—"About 25 years ago, in the States, when husking corn, I got a pain in my back, so bad I had to stop work," writes Mr. Wewers, well known in this district. "The farmer I was working for advised me to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. I did, and was soon able to work again. I always keep Dodd's Kidney Pills in the house and if my back gets sore I take a few and am soon all right again."

Dodd's Kidney Pills purify the blood, and pure blood carried to all parts of the body means new health and increased energy all over the body. Dodd's Kidney Pills are an excellent tonic, and now is the opportune time to take them. During the long, weary winter months the system becomes weakened and gets in a run-down condition. Dodd's Kidney Pills work with Nature by encouraging and assisting the kidneys—to cast out everything impure or diseased.

MONARCHS AND KOKANEES HAVE BITTER CLASH

Starting at Dinner, Contest Continues Through Show to "Refreshments"

Vancouver Monarchs and Nelson Kokanees, bitter opponents for the right to name a room at the Kootenay Lake General hospital society's new nurses' home, and eager contestants for the unofficial title of provincial runners-up, forgot their enmity for an hour or two last night, when the Nelson Amateur Athletic association beckoned members of both teams with a finger sweetened with social jam.

It was strictly a "stag" affair, but at that there were no kicks. The boys were so pleased with the way things went that they didn't even bother to think of their game tonight, which will start at 7:30 so the Vancouver team will be able to get away on the 9:05 train.

BARRELS OF FUN

The fun started with 16, perhaps it was 17, courses at dinner at a local cafe, the "eats" including everything from soup to nuts. It was served "a la mode," "table d' hote," "cap a pied" and several other ways. Bill Freno presided at the tea urn, and "Scotty" Notman and Earl Robertson cut the ices. Joe Smith saw that things came his way. "Frenchy" Pelletier explained the "ritzy" items on the menu.

Vancouver, leading by three finger bowls, then switched from fast offensive tactics to a defensive game—until the rush for seats at the show began. Their greater experience was a big aid in this strenuous work. Both teams were then displaying speed that swept the referee, the Count of Monte Cristo, off his feet. He caught many asides, however.

PLAY SPEEDS UP

Play, already fast, attained a terrific pace when both teams began striving for the winning counter at the Canadian Legion building following the show party.

The attack on the "refreshments" resembled the charge of the Light Brigade, except for the fact that there were no casualties. In spite of strict-ist cross-examination of all concerned, it was found that no one had blundered. No alibi was offered by either team, and hopes for future similar encounters remain high. The party adjourned until the next regular meeting which will be at the rink at 7:30 tonight.

GOVERNOR WILL FLY TO VIEW SMOKE DAMAGE

Will Investigate Claim That Trail Smelter Smoke Damaging Columbia Lands

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 28.—In an effort to bring about an adjustment between American farmers and the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company of Trail, B.C., for alleged damage done to land by fumes from the smelter, Governor Hartley will make an airplane tour of devastated areas soon, flying with Nick Mamer.

A committee of farmers of that region was to have met with the governor today during his visit here to speak at the mining convention, but condition of roads made it impossible for them to come, John Leaden, president of the association, wired S. W. O'Brien.

SITUATION IS SERIOUS

Mr. O'Brien is a large owner of land that has been damaged by the fumes and said:

"The situation around Northport is becoming distressingly serious. Three or four years ago the smelter company said when the higher stacks were completed the damage would cease. The higher stacks only tended to throw the fumes further away and with steady increase in the smelting of sulphide ore the fumes are becoming more noxious. The entire area around Trail has become a veritable desert. Indications now are that the Columbia river valley down as far as Marble will be in the same condition in a few years. The timber is first affected, then the crops and brush go next."

MUCH LAND RUINED

The largest single property owner affected is the Upper Columbia company, financed in New York City. This represents an investment of $1,000,000 and was intended as an orchard and market development, and comprises 1000 acres.

Mr. O'Brien said he was next on the casualty list with bench land holdings which were 100 per cent loss as far as farming or orchard possibilities were concerned.

"Unless something is done a grievous wrong is going to be inflicted upon hundreds of innocent people," Mr. O'Brien said.

United States has nearly $300,000,000 invested in school furniture equipment.

Lace Trims Taffeta, Satin, Crepe or Velvet

THERE is something of the gallant Cavalier in the slim grace and easy elegance of this smart frock with its deep lace cuffs flaring above tight cuffs, its flattering lace collar setting off the slender basque and its scallop-edged circular skirt swinging in unstudied flares both front and back. The scalloped outline in which the skirt is attached to the basque hints at a slightly higher waistline, a suggestion favored by the young girls and small women who will wear this frock. Its simple yet semi-formal style makes it most suitable for countless afternoon and informal evening affairs of the fall and winter, and it is particularly useful for the college or boarding-school girl.

your farm and who refuses to become a member of your cooperative and educational organizations," Mr. Stoneman declared.

"Our problem, as I see it," he added, "is to get rid of this fellow who seems to think it his privilege to ride on our backs, and who is furnishing the only ammunition your opposition has to fight you."

"I think the time has come when we must decide as to how we are going to collect from the non-pool farmer a fair share of the upkeep of the organization which gives him the only economic protection which he has in this highly organized age," Mr. Stoneman said.

The lack of equality between agriculture and other groups and classes in Canada, the speaker characterized as "appalling." In order to stem the tide of oppostion he believed that collective action was essential.

"If we do our part, then we will be able to influence effectively the trend of the Dominion's policy to agriculture."

The work of the United Farmers of Canada, the speaker continued, covered an almost infinite field, leading toward one ultimate goal — the development and maintenance of an enduring and wholesome condition of rural life in the Dominion as a whole.

This condition of rural life, he said, should be such that it will be attractive to the best of the boys and girls of the farms in coming generations, and one which would develop a farm citizenship with a rising standard of living.

Eradication of obstacles and impediments tending to retard the progress of the human race was urged by Mrs. George Hollis, president of the women's section, as one of the biggest problems confronting civilization of the present day.

The permanent greatness of any country, Mrs. Hollis added, must ultimately depend more upon the character of its country population than anything else.

PROGRESS MADE

Mrs. Hollis drew attention to the scientific progress of the present generation. We are forging steadily ahead in the mechanical and materialistic world, yet, in the midst of this material prosperity, we are faced with the fact that millions of the human race still exist under conditions of degrading poverty and adversity.

"We seem to have come to a parting of the ways. We must decide whether we will be content to follow the so-called law of the jungle or to follow the urge of our higher nature toward the general amelioration of living conditions but mutual aid and cooperation."

The financial report revealed a total revenue of $99,199 from October 1, 1926, to December 31, 1927. An actual deficit for the period was given as $465, but an additional item of $25,000 was listed by the auditors as "deferred expenditure."

In commenting on this outlay, the auditors explained that the amount had been expended in former years in connection with organization work and that benefits from this work would not accrue until 1928.

TRAIL ALMOST ASSURED OF THE ALBERTA PLAYOFFS

VICTORIA WIRES THEY ARE BACK OF TRAIL TEAM

Definite Ruling Will Come From Dr. Sandercock This Morning

WILLIS WORKS HARD IN TRAIL'S INTEREST

C.A.H.A. Asks Confirmation on Gate Guarantee; Team Practices Steadily

TRAIL, B.C., Feb. 28.—Short of having the dates set, Trail is now practically assured of being the scene of the senior amateur hockey championship play in the British Columbia and Alberta playoffs.

F. S. Willis of Tadanac, vice-president of the B.C.A.H.A., this afternoon received a wire from Dr. F. E. Sandercock of Calgary, president of the Canadian Hockey association requesting confirmation of the gate guarantee and rink rental for the series, which was unofficially made earlier. The wire also stated that Dr. Sandercock would announce the dates tomorrow.

VICTORIA FIRM

Earlier today, A. J. McDonnell, president of Trail Hockey club, was advised by three Victoria executive members of the B.C.A.H.A., to demand a revote by the executive, if Trail was not given the preference over the coast in the championship playoffs, and assuring him that the three Victoria men would vote in favor of Trail on a revote.

Meanwhile, Trail's Allan cup aspirants are training with the same cool persistence that took them over the provincial championship hurdle with flying colors—drilled in tactics on the ice by their own veteran players—massaged into physical perfection by their trainer, E. Arthur—and watched over like a bunch of thoroughbreds, both on and off the ice, by their manager R. B. Dimock.

CALGARY CANON SPEAKS TO TRAIL

Canon Simpson's Theme Is Religious Education and Its Aims

TRAIL, B.C., Feb. 28.—Religious education—its aim to better equip parents spiritually to meet changing conditions and enlarged responsibilities; and similarly to balance and harmonize the three-fold personality of young people, equipping them with character to sustain the higher role imposed by democratic responsibility—was the subject of an interesting address delivered by Canon W. Simpson of Calgary to St. Andrew's Churchmen's club Sunday night. Preceding the Churchmen's meeting, he conducted the evening service at St. Andrew's church.

PERSONALITY

Holding in mind the three-fold basis of personality of an individual—body, mind and spirit—and realizing that normally there is good opportunity for the development and satisfactory expression of the first two, organized religious education tries to win adequate opportunity for the development and nourishment of the third—spirit. Otherwise, to Christianize living in the social and the individual life.

This presents a real problem in the rapidly changing conditions of life today, declared Canon Simpson. In the last 100 years there have been 13 inventions and discoveries of the first magnitude, as against seven in all previous history. There impact on human life and social relations has brought disproportion and lack of balance, and inevitably left grave problems of readjustment.

INVENTIONS NEUTRAL

The war smashed the old idea that new inventions were infallibly a revelation from God, and a divine recognition of the fitness of man for greater responsibilities. Inventions are neutral, belong to the outer order. They can be used for man's destruction as well as for his progressive development. They have no moral content in themselves. All depends on the use to which they are put.

Man's responsibilities having thus grown with his material progress, modern civilization requires a higher type of man to support it. But man's ethical development has not kept pace. It is necessary deliberately to equip future generations to meet and balance problems of progress and coincident responsibility, said Canon Simpson.

CHILD GUIDANCE

Labor-saving devices have given larger leisure. Noticeably, he said, women are making more use of it in social work, wider contacts, greater freedom and opportunity for enjoyment. But it raises the problem of child guidance when a mother is absented from her home.

Similar problems of harmonization arise from changes in social organization. Democracy dethrones autocracy, even to the home; and democracy needs a higher type of citizen to sustain it than does autocracy. Parents need to be of higher type to win and hold leadership through voluntary idealism in their children in the "democratic" home.

M'DONALD TELLS TRAIL ROTARY CLUB OF WILLS

Advises Draw Early in Life to Avoid Legal Expense and Difficulties

TRAIL, B.C., Feb. 28—"Make your will now, and save money, worry and disappointment for your dependents" was the gist of an extempore address by D. MacDonald, which was much enjoyed by Trail Rotarians at their weekly luncheon at the Arlington today.

Mr. MacDonald spoke on the suggestion of T. W. Bingay, who thus discharged the duty of preparing the day's program.

It is the man who makes the will who avoids legal expenses, not the man who tries to avoid expense by neglecting to make his will, said Mr. MacDonald. For, usually, in small estates of $1000 to $10,000, the executor named in the will being usually a personal friend, declines fees for his labor. A will properly drawn frees the process of distributing the estate of many legal difficulties that almost invariably, otherwise, arise.

MAY BE UNFAIR

Then, too, the will insures that the beneficiaries will benefit as the deceased person intended. But, if there is no will, the estate will be administered according to law, and the division of property may, and often does, result in much unfairness in particular cases. In this connection he mentioned that an estate distributed under the act would, in the case of a widow with one child, result in the widow receiving one-third and the child two-thirds, obviously the division not commonly in the best interests of the mother and child.

In response to questions, and they were numerous, Mr. MacDonald also enlightened the members on many technical points, and the troubles that can arise if they are not properly taken care of, in correct drawing up of a will.

Debate on Old Age Pensions Resumed in Manitoba House

WINNIPEG, Feb. 28.—The debate on the old age pensions bill was resumed in the Manitoba legislature today and following lengthy discussion the measure was given second reading after an amendment offered by W. Sanford Evans, Conservative, Winnipeg, had been defeated 25 to 14. The amendment would have prohibited the government from imposing a direct tax on municipalities in collecting the $500,000 required for the payment of old age pensions in the province.

Other methods of raising the money were discussed during the session. These included an addition to the supplementary levy; setting aside of the necessary sum from liquor profits; a poll tax of $2 per year and that bachelors should be compelled to bear the brunt of the expense by means of a special impost on them.

No decision was reached as to the method of collection to be instituted.

Turn Hair Dark With Sage Tea

By JEAN MACON

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product for only 75 cents, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

Being kept in with a cold is no joke

THERE are two other people who don't think it's so funny either. His mother who has to stay home with him and take care of a cross and disappointed young son. And his teacher who has to help him catch up with the lessons he is going to miss.

The worst part of it is, he's one of maybe half a million children who are right now staying indoors for the very same reason. And a whole lot of them could avoid most of these colds if only their resistance was built up ahead of time. If your children seem to "catch everything that goes around", try giving them Nujol.

For Nujol not only prevents any excess of the body poisons (we all have them) from forming, but also aids in their removal. It certainly would do no harm, anyway, to try Nujol, would it?

Try Nujol for, say the next three months. Then compare their report cards with those they had last year. See how the absences from school have dropped—how the school marks have jumped. Nujol was perfected by the Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey).

See for yourself if Nujol doesn't help build up healthy resistance to colds and resulting ills—as thousands of other mothers have discovered. Keep a bottle of Nujol handy and give it to them regularly. Contains absolutely no drugs or medicine. Be sure you get the genuine.

Publicity Brings Tourists an' Tourists Bring Money

Victoria is a good example of the profits to be derived from advertising for tourists.

Last year 360,000 tourists visited Victoria and left behind them more than $3,000,000.

New residents were attracted to the capital city, too. More than $750,000 was expended by newcomers in the purchase of Victoria property.

Nelson, so far, has only gone into the publicity business in a moderate way, but it has secured excellent results. The returns from advertising in Spokane last year were wonderfully good.

This year we should extend our advertising campaign to the prairies, covering their local dailies.

The Need for a New Fair Building

The need for a new fair building in Nelson, a building which can be used also for big dances, for musical events, for kirmesses and similar functions and for big public meetings, as well as for badminton and other indoor sports, is pretty generally admitted.

As a result of the construction of highways Nelson can today attract many hundreds of people to a well advertised and interesting function, so that the ordinary hall will not hold the crowd.

Provision must be made to handle such crowds as attended the dances some years ago when the Shriners laid a floor in the rink—an undertaking not practicable except on rare occasions; to handle such crowds as attended the two big band concerts in 1926 and 1927 and which crowded to hear the bishop of London.

We require more badminton courts, more space for basketball. We need a place where amusements can be held at a rate of admission which will attract large attendances.

We need a building in which can be staged big musical events, such as operas by the Doyley Carte company, which would have come here last year if there had been a hall big enough.

And we need, and need very badly, a new fair building. Nelson's fair, can never amount to much as an exhibition until we have a decent building in which to stage displays.

The city council last year asked for ideas and suggestions and received many. The next step should be to secure from architects tentative plans of the proposed building, so that estimates of the cost could be secured.

It will probably be found that the revenue from the proposed buildings will more than cover interest and sinking fund on a bond issue.

A Power Shovel Will Cut Road Costs

A lot of money has been wasted in road construction throughout this district through the lack of adequate machinery. It is an open secret that the district engineer has been endeavoring for years to secure a power shovel. As long ago as during the construction of the southern section of the Nelson-Nelway road the matter was brought up.

Mr. Ramsay has now secured a gasoline shovel, which is at work on the Nelson-Trail road, while another is to be brought in for use in the Creston district.

Equipment of this sort should have been supplied to Mr. Ramsay long ago.

Did you ever see a family that would refuse a meringue pie, if the housekeeper went to the trouble of making one? I didn't! Lemon meringue and chocolate meringue seem to be the favorites in most homes. Here is how I make them:

Crust for Two Meringue Pies—(While you are baking a pie it is just as easy to make two as one, or, if you wish, you can at least bake the two undercrusts and put one of them away till several days later and then, cooking the filling for it, cover the top with egg white, and slip into the oven to brown). Sift one and one-half cups of pastry flour into a bowl with one-third teaspoon of baking powder and a pinch of salt. Into this dry mixture work with the fingers one-half cup of lard and one-half cup of butter. Wet to a stiff paste with three-quarters of a cup of cold water and toss onto a floured board. With a sharp knife cut the mass into two equal halves, using one-half for one undercrust and the other half for the second pie's undercrust. Roll each half out into as nearly circular shape as possible and gently lift it (with the help of a pancake turner) onto a pie pan and stick with a fork all over. Bake in a hot oven about 10 minutes, or till delicately brown, crisp and tender. Then fill as follows:

Chocolate Meringue Filling—In a saucepan put one pint of boiling water (two cups), one-third cake of unsweetened chocolate shaved (that is, about three ounces, or squares) and one cup of granulated sugar. When boiling, thicken with two tablespoons of cornstarch mixed to a paste with a little cold water. Remove from range and add at once two beaten egg yolks. Cool slightly before turning into the baked crust. Over the top spread the two egg whites, stiffly whipped, with two tablespoons of sugar and a pinch of cream of tartar. Return to oven to brown.

Lemon Meringue Filling—Heat together one and one-half cups of sugar, one tablespoon of butter, the juice and grated rind of one lemon and one cup of water. When boiling add four heaping tablespoons of cornstarch mixed with a little cold water. Take from fire and add two beaten egg yolks (or more yolks—up to four—if you can spare them, for the richer, the more delicious). Cool, fill crust with this mixture, and make meringue as directed above.

Tomorrow—The Housekeeper's Friends.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

Dilated or Distended Stomach

You read frequently about a dilated stomach, a "dropped" stomach, and perhaps you have an idea that this type of stomach is a big hollow organ hanging down in abdomen all the time.

As a matter of fact, the normal stomach is a large organ, and when filled has a capacity of three to four pints, but when it is empty it does not hang fully distended. In fact its walls practically touch one another.

You see its walls have muscular coats which run lengthways, circular, and obliquely, and these muscles when they act, churn up the food just as milk is churned for butter, or soiled clothing is churned in the water of a washing machine.

Now when food enters a healthy or normal stomach these muscular walls contract or shorten in their efforts to have this food well mixed with the stomach digestive juice.

If they do not contract or shorten, then the food distends the stomach and it is called a dilated stomach.

As the stomach is dilated and the muscular walls not working any too well, it means that the stomach will be slow in emptying its contents into the small intestine.

There will thus ensue some accumulation of gas which causes pressure, and sometimes pain.

Further, in nervous individuals the emotions can interfere with the working of these muscular coats of the stomach.

The main symptom in this loss of muscular tone in the stomach is the "sense of pressure in the stomach region."

Now your doctor in treating you, will suggest small meals taken four or five times a day.

However, there is no question but that where you find weakness in the muscles of the walls of the stomach, you will usually find weakness in all the muscles of the body, so that regular exercise which will strengthen the body will be of help to the stomach muscles.

Because if the muscles of abdomen are developed by bending exercises, with knees straight, the abdominal walls will tighten and will thus help hold the stomach up in its proper position.

I have outlined before the simple method of helping the stomach to empty itself. About four hours after you have eaten, or just before your next meal, you lie down on right side for about 10 minutes.

Thus any food lying in the stomach is syphoned into the intestine and the stomach gets a little rest before the next meal. You can see that this is a valuable help in preventing the stomach from being distended for too long a period at a time.

AUSTRO-ITALIAN TENSION LOWERED

Premier Mussolini Decides Not to Address Chamber on Subject

ROME, Feb. 28.—Austro-Italian tension over the speeches of the Austrian chancellor, Max Siepel, and others criticizing the Italian regime in the Upper Adige, southern Tyrol, was somewhat lessened during the day owing to the fact that Premier Mussolini decided not to address the chamber of deputies on the subject for the present.

Mussolini decided to have the whole situation placed before him by the Italian minister, Giocinto Aurieti, who was summoned to Rome, Saturday, before making his pronouncement.

Signor Aurieti was closeted for a long time today with Signor Grandi, undersecretary for foreign affairs, prior to making his explanation of the situation to the premier personally.

Told in Rime

THE QUIET GUY

(By M. F. McIntyre)

We are all well acquainted with the noisy gent,
Who is forever trying to dodge paying his rent,
But is always willing to drink somebody else's beer,
And tell the crowd on which side to cheer.
He is very fond of giving real loud advice,
On anything at all from elephants to mice.
Yes, he can tell anyone how to even catch and ride
A wild bucking bronk on the prairies wide,
Or how to safely swim the English channel,
Or train a race horse or even a desert camel,
Or make a million dollars or hunt wild deer,
This knowledge pays for the other man's beer.
But the gamest men I have ever so far seen,
Were always quiet and they were often lean.
I have seen men risk their life and limb
On the back of some bucking son of sin,
And after the cheers and yells of the crowd,
That were enough to make a monarch proud,
You would most likely hear them just say:
"Why, that is very common down our way."
But, folks, as for making a grandstand spiel,
I would suggest a good Tom Mix reel,
If you would care for some excitement strong.
I guess that's all, so I will say so long,
Because I don't savvy finance or love,
Now that's as true as the stars up above;
In fact, I was just plumb lucky today,
I might of been hurt if he had started to play,
It was just mere luck on this quiet horse,
There are far better riders here, of course.
And then he bowed quickly and quietly went
Over to the station, and a message he sent
To a grey-haired woman many long miles away:
'Just transacted a little business today,
Here is a hundred, now, dear, that's for you,
I will be sending some more in a week or two;
Be careful now and don't catch more cold,
For remember, Mother, you are growing old."
But this here loud-voiced knowing guy,
Who drinks free beer and winks his eye,
He says, "Boys, if you would hear of a ride,"
And he points to himself with open pride,
I will tell you of one that I one time made,
And a thousand dollars was the price it paid."
Now, I have seen men risk a lot at times,
From thousands of dollars down to dimes,
And this is what sure does make me boil,
But the gamest men that I have ever met,
Why, the public has not even heard of yet,
So here's to the bravest men ever born,
God bless them, they don't blow their own horn.

ROBERTSON AUTO CLUB DIRECTOR

Elected Vancouver; Will Urge Reestablishment Tourist Bureau

H. W. Robertson was elected Nelson representative on the directorate of the Automobile Club of British Columbia, at the annual meeting of the association in Vancouver on February 20.

In view of the value of this bureau to Nelson, Mr. Robertson will probably use his influence to have it reestablished this year.

HOSPITAL BOARD DECIDES TO GIVE TRIAL CONTRACT

Mrs. Stella Freid's Tender of $175 Month Accepted on Trial

The board of directors of the Kootenay Lake General hospital, in special meeting last night, after nearly an hour's heated discussion, decided to hire Mrs. Stella Freid, month by month, to run the hospital laundry. She will be paid the amount of her tender, $175 a month, which was the lowest received, the hospital to supply heat and other incidentals, and Mrs. Freid to hire competent help and supply washing necessities.

There was much discussion over a tender of $155 a month from a Chinaman, who would not use the electric irons and drier, thereby saving a substantial sum of money in electricity. It was moved and seconded by John Cartmel and Charles F. McHardy, that the Chinaman be given the contract, but the motion was defeated.

J. C. Forbes, secretary of the hospital, said that efficient work could not be done in the laundry unless the operator was prepared to go to work at 5:30 in the morning so as to have hot water by 8 o'clock. It was held that the Chinaman would be willing to do that, whereas there was some doubt whether other tenderers would.

Alderman J. P. Morgan and W. J. Meagher were strongly opposed to giving the contract to any other than a white person. The efficiency, the economic value, and other good points of Chinamen in general were stressed by those in favor, in reply to which W. J. Meagher said that he had not realized what a saving it would be to employ Chinese clerks in his store.

It was finally decided to give Mrs. Freid a trial, and if she proved satisfactory, to draw up a regular contract.

RAISERS SUSSEX POULTRY FORM PROVINCE CLUB

Turkey Breeders Also Trying to Organize; Landon Handles Movement Here

Breeders of the light Sussex breed of poultry have recently formed a club in cooperation with the provincial poultry branch and the British Columbia Poultry association, the object of which is to promote and further the interests of this breed in the province. The breed is becoming more popular every year.

Efforts are being made to affiliate with the club in Great Britain.

Strong efforts are also being made to have the breed included in the new standard of perfection which will be published in 1931 by the American Poultry assication.

Efforts are also being made by the provincial poltry branch to organize a turkey club in the province, taking in all pure bred varieties. One of the main objects of forming the club will be to get out a reliable breeders' directory. Many inquiries are being received for turkey eggs and breeding stock.

Breeders of either light Sussex poultry or turkeys, who wish to join either of these clubs should notify G. L. Landon, district poultry instructor, Nelson, or J. R. Terry, department of agriculture, Victoria.

SOLDIER PENSIONS FULLY DISCUSSED

Date on Which Applications Terminate Causes Considerable Argument at Ottawa

OTTAWA, Feb. 28.—Further consideration was given this afternoon by the special committee on pensions and returned soldiers' problems to the submissions of the Canadian Legion, British Empire Service league.

F. L. Barrow of Ottawa presented the suggestions of the veterans and urged the amendment of the Pensions act to provide that, where ex-service pensioners married prior to the official declaration of peace, September 1, 1921, the pension be continued, in case of death to the widow. At present no such provisions exists. The special committee was addressed by Mrs. J. A. Wilson of Ottawa representing the National council of women.

Considerable discussion developed as to the reason why September 1, 1921, should be set as the date on which applications for such pensions should be terminated and it was pointed out the Legion did not put this forward as arbitrary, but as the minimum which it felt the committee would recommend.

DANGEROUS PRACTICE

Peter McGibbon declared that the practice of continually extending time limits was dangerous. He did not like the risk of penalizing a soldier, who had been wounded and could not get married, but the point was how to achieve the object in mind without throwing the door wide open to abuse.

Mr. Barrow said that while the necessity of protecting the country from impositions by fraudulent or death bed marriages was fully recognized, the great majority of the widows affected appeared to fall in the following classes:

(a) The case where subsequent developments show that the disease must have existed at the time of marriage although its presence was not recognized.

(b) The case where marriage took place after the first appearance of the injury or disease, but at a time when the disease had so subsided that there was no reasonable expectation of death; but the man subsequently died of a recurrence.

(c) The case where there was a bona fide engagement to marry before the appearance of any disease or injury.

Mrs. J. A. Wilson declared that the women of the country had given these matters broad consideration and they had no doubt that these cases should be provided for.

Reggie McNamara, past 40 years of age, the "iron man" of six-day bicycle racing, will ride fifty-sixth long jaunt in the fourty-fourth international race in New York City March 4-10. He has won 13 six-day races, finished second seven times, third nine times and fourth five times. He has suffered more injuries than any other distance rider in the game. His collar bone was broken three times, skull fractured, nose, jaw and ribs smashed in various spills.

A Blessing to People of Advanced Years

Gin Pills relieve sufferers from kidney and bladder trouble

"I wonder if you really know what a blessing Gin Pills are to people of advanced years.

"I am 72 years of age, and suffered for a considerable time with kidney and bladder trouble. My rest was broken through having to get up in the night three and four times. Later I suffered with pains in the bladder, and my son, who had used Gin Pills for pains in the back and lumbago, bought me a box. Before I had finished it I was relieved of the pains in my bladder and had to get up less frequently. At my age I can scarcely expect to be permanently free from troubles of this kind, but if Gin Pills will give others the relief they have given me, they will be a blessing indeed."

(Name on request.)

Prompt and lasting relief has been found in Gin Pills by thousands of people of advanced years who have had kidney or bladder trouble. If even slightly troubled in this way, get a box today at your druggist's — 50c. National Drug & Chemical Company of Canada, Limited, Toronto, Canada.

'Her Husband's Secretary'

By WILLIAM ALMON WOLFF

CHAPTER XLVIII.

Over a belated dinner Eileen MacVeagh sat with Ted Chandler and Morton Bishop, who, looking tired, but, as always, cheerful and competent, had come in to join them for coffee.

"So," Eileen said. "That's how I feel, Mort. I think now what I've always thought—that John made a great mistake when he associated himself with Foster and the rest of them. I hold these securities. Legally, I have the right to vote them as I please. And I have decided to turn the proxies over to you."

Bishop looked at her.

"I think there's very little question of your legal right to do that," he said. "How about your moral right?"

"I think that's just as clear," said Eileen. "In the last drive, when Foster's crowd was trying to squeeeze John last year, they had him beaten until I gave him $5000 I had saved and he used it to buy up the few last shares he needed to give him control."

"Yes," he said. "That makes a difference. Very well. What are your conditions?"

"I want John to have the same measure of control he has now. I can't state absolute terms—I don't know enough. I assume that John's properties don't bear quite the same relation to your holdings, as a whole, that they have to Foster's—"

"That's true," said Bishop. "We have a better organization than they. If I can vote these securities tomorrow we will control a more adhesive merged property than they have had. We will drop some of their properties—eliminate them. But your husband's contribution, made through you, is enough to give him an extremely important standing. And, if he chooses to work with us—he may not—and is as good a man as I have every reason to think he is, he will, within six months, be the operating head of the entire proposition—simply because he will be the logical man to assume that post."

"That's enough for me," said Eileen. "Have you a pen?"

Very quietly, with a firm hand, she signed paper after paper. And she had just pushed the last over to Bishop when a shadow fell across the cloth and she looked up to see John.

"Hello, Eileen," he said. "Good evening, Mr. Bishop. How are you, Chandler?"

The two men sprang up.

"Won't you join us?" said Ted. "Have you dined?"

John took the chair a waiter brought up.

"Thanks," he said. "I've dined — yes."

"John—" said Eileen. "I've just given Mr. Bishop all the proxies you sent Miss Drew to get from me."

"So I gathered," he said. "Why, Eileen?"

She looked at him; then, appealingly, at the other two. Ted sprang up.

"Let's shove off, Mort," he said. "This is between Eileen and MacVeagh, don't you think?"

"Quite," said Bishop. "MacVeagh—I'm very much at your disposal, at any hour, tonight or in the morning. Please don't let the hour at which you're ready to talk to me influence you."

"Thanks," said MacVeagh. "We'll have to talk—and I'll take you at your word, Bishop."

"Eileen," he said, when they were alone. "Do you realize what you have done?"

"Yes," she said. "What I have done twice before. I interfered between you and Marcia Lovewell—against your will, but not against the wish in your heart. I kept the money you gave me to spend for my own, and it was available last year when you neeeded it. And this time I have done for you what your own intelligence would have made you do if you hadn't been bound by the sense of your fancied obligation to Foster and the others. You will be far stronger and safer, allied with Bishop, than you can be with the others."

"That's true," he said. "I won't quibble about it. It's literally true. But—a man may know that one course of action will bring him to safety and still have to take another because he has bound himself to others. Can no woman realize that?"

"Of course I can realize it!" she said. "But I realize something else, too. I know that you put these securities in my name to protect yourself against yourself—to have time, at least, to repair the consequences of any mistake you made, any defeat you suffered. Didn't you?"

"Yes."

"Well—if you used me, you must expect me to keep my right to decide equally with you, when to make use of the power that precaution of yours gave me. I am as concerned as you in this. And—I believe I've only done what, in your heart, you wanted to do yourself! I—"

Shockingly, amazingly, his reply was interrupted. Foster, his face livil, was beside them.

"You double-crossing blackguard!" he stormed. "You always meant to leave us in the lurch! Drew has told me the whole thing! You've let your wife sell us out to Bishop!"

"Oh, no—no!" said Eileen. "Mr. Foster—"

"I'm not fighting you—I'm not blaming you! You damned fool, MacVeagh—I put Margaret Drew in to watch you the minute I know your stocks were in your wife's name. But—today—you fooled me! I believed in you!"

"One moment—" John's eyes were blazing with understanding. "You mean Miss Drew has been your agent?"

"Every minute—"

MacVeagh laughed.

"If I needed one last proof of your incompetence—that's it!" he said. "Eileen, my dear—you've saved me again."

"Here—if you think—" said Foster.

"Get out—before I throw you out!" said John. He rose, menace in the slow movement. And Foster, with a little squeal, backed away. John turned back to Eileen.

"My dear," he said. "I—I've been a very stubborn fool. But—I've been — I've done—my dear, can I make you believe that I—that this girl has not—"

"As if it would have mattered!" said Eileen. "But—I knew. My dear—we've both got things to tell one another, I'm afraid, that are going to be hard to hear. But, firse, we've things to tell other people. You have to see Mort Bishop—and Margaret Drew. And I—I have to see Ted Chandler. But then—come back to me, my dear."

CRESTON LADY HEAD KOOTENAY PRESBYTERIAL

Presbyterian Missionary Society Elects Mrs. Dow Its New Head

ALLOCATION OVERMET; GREAT ENTHUSIASM

Rev. Mr. Youngson Tells Mission Experiences in British East Africa

Great progress in every department was shown in reports made at the fourteenth annual meeting of the Kootenay presbyterial of the Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, held in the First Presbyterian church here throughout yesterday. The meeting was in three sessions—morning, afternoon and evening.

NEW OFFICERS

Officers elected for the coming year were: Mrs. N. G. McCallum, Nelson, and Mrs. M. McEachern, Cranbrook, honorary presidents; Mrs. J. W. Dow, Creston, president; Mrs. A. A. McKinnon, Cranbrook, first vice-president; Mrs. A. E. Hales, Grand Forks, second vice-president; Mrs. D. Dow, Cranbrook, recording secretary; Mrs. H. H. Taylor, Creston, corresponding secretary; Mrs. T. W. Choate, Nelson, treasurer; Miss Alice Smith, Nelson, Young Women's auxiliary and C.G.I.T.; Mrs. C. Hare, Creston, Glad Tidings; Mrs. W. E. Warden, Cranbrook, Mission band; Mrs. Gage, Slocan City, supply secretary; Mrs. J. I. Carter, Trail, welcome and welfare secretary; Mrs. H. Nelson, New Denver, literature and library; Mrs. M. Gibbs, Nelson, Home Helpers; Mrs. Peter McCurragh, Cranbrook, press secretary.

MEET ALLOCATION

The financial report showed that the presbyterial has raised $700.95 during the year. This was $25.95 more than the allocation.

Executives of the presbyterial were overjoyed at the progress reported, and several expressed the common feeling that much lost ground was being reclaimed.

Telegraphed greetings were received from the Westminster presbyterial, which is in session at Central church, Vancouver.

GREETINGS

At the evening sessions greetings were received from other missionary societies of the city as follows: First Baptist, Mrs. W. M. Vance; St. Saviour's, Mrs. E. R. Redpath; Church of the Redeemer, Mrs. D. F. Cowie; and from Mrs. Pillar of Vancouver, provincial president of the society.

The Misses Daisy and Grace May gave a duet, accompanied by Mrs. J. Carrick. Miss K. McNeill read the scripture. Mrs. A. A. McKinnon of Cranbrook, who replied to the greetings, presided. Offerings were used to pay the expenses of the presbyterial.

Featuring the evening session was an address by Rev. James Youngson.

BLACK AFRICA

Reminiscenes of his missionary service with the Kikuyu tribe in British East Africa were given by Mr. Youngson, in connection with his sermon on mission work. The basis of his talk was the message to the early Christians—to go into all lands and spread the Gospel.

Business men and ranchers in foreign lands accused missionaries of upsetting the lives of the natives, said Mr. Youngson. While granting this, the speaker declared that business men and ranchers were equally upsetting to native life.

China, he said, was now in the throes of rebirth. The situation was awful right now, but in time China would become a great nation for Jesus Christ, asserted Mr. Youngson.

One heard that mission-trained natives were awful thieves and liars, but they were no different to many young people at home. But people did not take into account those mission-trained natives, who, unhonored and unknown, were spreading the Gospel in the wilds of their own country.

"Each succeeding argument against missions is worse than the one before," declared Mr. Youngson.

The women of the Kikuyu tribe were treated as cattle. They were burden carriers from the time they were old enough to carry a faggot of firewood. Christianity was a great uplifting force among these women, the speaker asserted.

Theirs was a religion of fear. Sick people were not allowed to die in villages, because it was feared their spirits would hover about the village. As death approached they were taken into the jungles and left to the mercy of the beasts.

POLYGAMY

Girls of marriageable age were purchased, not on the basis of their beauty, but on a basis of their ability to work. "They may be benighted heathens," said Mr. Youngson, "but they know a thing or two."

Polygamy was practiced, not because the men desired many wives, but because of the fact that the more wives a man had, the more gardens were cultivated for him, and he was thus so much richer.

"Don't lose the vision of the far fields," urged Mr. Youngson. "In the old days the Kootenay presbytery was preeminently a missionary presbytery. I hope it will continue to be preeminent in this field," he concluded.

MANY MESSAGES OUT ON THE AIR

Coyotes' Program Contained Greetings From Premier MacLean and Mining Men

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 28.—In a program dedicated as a special tribute to the Northwest Mining association convention and to the many Canadians attending, the Coyotes of Spokane broadcast telegrams of congratulations from many men of international fame, whose names loom large in the history of mining, governmental affairs and financial interest.

The program was broadcast from the Marie Antoinette room at the Davenport hotel. It started with a number by the United States regimental band from Fort George Wright. Then came the "opening frolic," with its riotous chorus. The broadcast was through KHQ and KFOA, Seattle.

READ PREMIER'S LETTER

Probably the most notable letter read over the radio was that from J. D. MacLean, premier of British Columbia, it said:

"As one who has lived for years in a mining town close to the boundary, it is a pleasure to send you this message as a bond between Canadians and Americans at the Northwest Mining convention. Miners and mines are essentially cosmopolitan—as a vein of ore will not be cut off at the boundary, so miners can not be prevented from following strikes.

"Canadian and American miners have passed to and fro over the boundary for years following fortunes of their trade. In so doing they have built up personal contacts and friendships and have profited by each other's methods. That, like them, we may all continue to extract what is best in each other's country with a view to its use for the general good of mankind, is the wish that prompts this message."

A message was also received from Lieutenant-Governor W. Randolph Bruce of Victoria, B.C.; it read in part: "I gladly avail myself of this opportunity to send heartfelt greetings on behalf of the province of British Columbia to the Northwest Mining convention. British Columbia is gratified by the award for the first time of the James Douglas gold medal to a distinguished Canadian, of whose record we are justly proud." T. M. Roberts, mayor of Cranbrook, B.C.; Fred E. Osborne, mayor of Calgary, Alberta; N. J. Christie, president of the Calgary exhibition and stampede; Louis D. Taylor, mayor of Vancouver, B.C., and Robert McKee, president of the Vancouver (B.C.) board of trade, sent messages of "pleasant memories and good fellowship" to the delegates.

SMELTER MANAGER WIRES

S. G. Blaylock, general manager of the Trail smelter, winner of the Douglas medal, telegraphed the Coyotes from New York City; E. G. Montgomery, manager of the Sullivan mine at Kimberley mines, B.C., the largest of its kind in the world, telegraphed, as did W. R. Wilson, president of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal company, limited, of Fernie, B.C., who also sent as an especial mark of appreciation a check for $25 for the Coyotes' welfare fund.

Louis Stockett, mining engineer for the Canadian Pacific railway, in his telegram "hoped that the warm friendship that exists between the two countries and our friendly and cordial relations will always continue."

Many other telegrams from prominent Canadians were read. The broadcast concluded with "God Save the King," by the regimental band.

Estevan Member Would Make Stefansson the Next Agent-General

REGINA, Sask., Feb. 28.—A suggestion that Vilhjalmar Stefansson, the famous arctic explorer, should be invited to come to Saskatchewan, the home of his mother, and be given employment at the University of Saskatoon or agent-general for the province, was made in the legislature today by Dr. F. J. Creighton, Independent, Estevan.

Stating he was "partial to men of the Livingstone type," Dr. Creighton said they all had ideas of that constituted greatness, but he thought that in Mr. Stefansson, western Canada had "produced our greatest living Canadian."

EXPECT LAUNCH NEW STEEL TUG IN WEEK'S TIME

C. P. R. Planning Launch Granthall March 7; Will Replace the Ymir

IS MOST POWERFUL TUG IN INTERIOR

Fulfills Lloyd's and Board of Trade Survey; to Handle Load 1300 Tons

Canadian Pacific Railway company is making arrangements to launch the new steel tugboat Granthall, for the Procter-Kootenay Landing service, on March 7. She will replace the Ymir in barge service.

The dimensions of the new boat are: Length, 102 feet; beam, 24 feet; and draught, nine feet six inches of water. She is of steel construction throughout with the exception of the Texas and pilot house decks, which are of wood and canvas.

The vessel was built by Canadian Vickers Company, Montreal, and fulfills Lloyd's and board of trade survey. The amidships framing is especially heavy to withstand conditions due to towing between two barges.

Accommodation has been arranged for the captain, first engineer and mate on the boat deck, the rest of the crew have good accommodation in the forecastle, which is divided into five nice rooms and a hallway. All rooms have approved mushroom ventilators.

BULKHEADS

Three transverse watertight bulkheads make this boat fairly safe in case of accident.

The cabin and galley are located in the main deck, also a good sized refrigerator to take care of perishable foods. There is also a washroom with shower bath and two lavatories.

Heavy tow bitts are fitted aft the house, and a steam capstan is alongside to assist in handling the 500-foot steel wire tow line. The propelling machinery consists of a set of triple expansion surface condensing engines with working steam pressure of 190 pounds per square inch. Steam will be furnished by a Scotch marine type boiler with three Deighton furnaces 38½ inches in diameter. The propellor is a four-blade sectional type of eight foot seven-inch diameter with a pitch of 10.5 degrees and is designed to tow at a speed of 110 revolutions per minute.

AUXILIARIES

The auxiliary machinery consists of an independent centrifugal circulating pump and a large horizontal duplex donkey pump which can also be used as a circulating pump if required. Both of these pumps can be used to pump the bilges if needed at any time for that purpose. The feed pump, bilge pumps and air pumps are driven off the crosshead.

The lighting plant includes a direct coupled engine, five-kilowat capacity, which will take care of the lighting throughout the vessel and also supply current for a 5000-candle-power projector searchlight which is fitted on top of the wheel house.

Two 18-foot modern lifeboats of approved type, together with ring buoys, lifebelts, fire hose, fire pails and fire extinguishers, form part of the safety equipment found aboard.

The hull was reerected here under the foremanship of Andrew McIntosh, and the engines were looked after by Mr. Hind of the Canadian Vickers company. The tug is a smart, modern type, and by far the most powerful on British Columbia's inland waters, as her work will be to handle two barges with capacity load of 1300 tons.

Kellner Asks for Action on Coal Problem in Canada

OTTAWA, Feb. 28.—During the budget debate this evening in the house of commons, O. F. Kellner, U.F.A., Athabasca, referred to the problem of moving western Canada coal to the central markets. It was a problem of transportation which the government should solve.

Disappointment was expressed by Mr. Kellner that the government had not reduced the tariff in accordance with its promises. To those who believed in protection he made the suggestion that protection should be given on articles only where the selling price in Canada was as low as that in other countries. If manufacturers in the Dominion would not sell their commodities to the consumer at as low a price, then the protection should be removed.

Sisler Sees Big Year With Eyes O.K. Again

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

Two old familiar faces will show in new places this season, with George Sisler shifted from the St. Louis Browns to Washington, and Tris Speaker taking Ty Cobb's place on the Philadelphia Athletics after a year with the Senators.

Sisler, who had his last big year in 1922 when he hit over .400 and won the most valuable player award, promises to return to his best form this year after being laid low by sinus trouble which affected his eyesight.

With Joe Judge already on hand, Washington may try Sisler in the outfield, as he is a natural player who has played all positions.

The presence of Speaker in the Athletics' outfield seems to indicate that Connie Mack realizes that his long campaign to establish a winner from an all-youngster organization has failed, and he is now determined to try a mixture of vets and rookies.

Ottawa Players Blanked on Own Ice; First Defeat for Champs in 13 Starts

OTTAWA, Feb. 28.—Montreal Canadiens lengthened their lead over the N.H. L. pack by blanking Ottawa Senators, 2-0, in a bruising fray here tonight that produced 16 penalties, one of them a match foul, and two majors.

It was the first defeat the world's champions had suffered in their last 13 games. In the closing minute of the second period Gaudreault scored on a pass from Joliat. Art Gagne added the other counter on a lone thrust in the final frame.

The match penalty fell to Hec Kilrea, when he broke his stick over the head of Howie Morenz, after the latter had crosschecked him. Morenz drew a major penalty and a badly gashed brow.

Moose Jaw Plays Prince Albert to Five-All Draw

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Feb. 28.—Moose Jaw Maroons and the Prince Albert Mintos battled three hectic periods at the stadium here tonight to a 5-5 deadlock in the first game of the Saskatchewan intermediate finals.

The Maroons commanded the play in both first and second periods, in which time they piled up a 4-1 lead. It was in the final frame that the visitors came to life and outscored the home town crew by four goals to one to even the count at five-all. The teams will face each other in the second game of the round at Prince Albert Thursday.

ONE OF HOCKEY SQUADS TO PAY ROOM IN HOME

Tonight's Game Between Vancouver and Nelson Will Decide Who Will Be Stuck

NELSON HAS ONE-GOAL ADVANTAGE TONIGHT

Game Called at 7:30 to Allow Coast Boys to Catch the Coast Train

Who will pay for the furnishing of a ward in the nurses' home, and who will have the honor of naming it? This question must be, and will be, settled in the skating rink starting at 7:30 tonight when Vancouver Monarchs tangle with the Nelson Kokanees. Nelson has a one-goal lead in the series through its 6 to victory over Monarchs on Monday night. The coast boys claim they are going to name the ward, but Nelson has the edge.

Monday night's game was a hummer as every fan who attended will attest. It was fast flashy hockey from start to finish and with little difference between the two teams. What Nelson lacked in teamwork she made up in weight and gave Vancouver a battle all the way.

Vancouver boys are leaving on the 9:05 o'clock train for Vernon tonight. This is the reason for calling the game at 7:30 o'clock.

Vancouver will trot out the same team that gave Nelson such a battle Monday. Nelson will also trot out its same lineup. The rink management reports the ice in perfect shape.

MONARCHS MAY GO TO REGINA FOR EXHIBITION

Dickering Is Being Carried on; Coast Team Plays Here Tonight

Vancouver Monarchs may take a trip east to Regina. A wire, inviting the coast champions east, was received by Manager Joe Smith, following Monday night's game with Nelson. He has since communicated with the Saskatchewan center and is waiting further word, before a decision to make the long prairie hop, is made.

Monarchs have several Regina boys in their lineup. Harvey Dodge, speedy defence star, is a Regina product; as is Robertson in goal. Dave Downie, speedy forward and one of the ablest stickhandlers seen in the Kootenay for some years, was last year a star junior player in Regina. Craundson, disabled in the Vancouver series early in the season, also hails from Regina. If at all financially possible, Manager Smith stated yesterday, that he would take his boys east. However, he said, Vernon must be visited first.

THREE GO HOME

Three members of the Vancouver team left for home last night on the coast train. Earl Blair, star defenceman, injured in the opening playoff game at Trail, and out of the game for the season, was termed, yesterday, by Manager Joe, as a "crock." He was honorably discharged. Larry Bunnell, trainer, comedian, and a highball expert, was also shipped home. Now that the playoff series are over, Monarchs just can't see the need of a trainer, anyway. The third member to hit west was Roy Davis, substitute, who did not get into the Kootenay games. Davis will be rembered by Nelson fans as one of the flashy stars with the Vancouver Bluebirds, who played Nelson Cubs here in 1922.

TIGERS LOSE TO THE FUSE PLUGS

Lead 8-4 at Half-Time, but Lose Out 19-10 When Goucher Banished

Weakened when one of their guards, Goucher, was banished near the end of the first period, and playing the balance of the game with only four men, the High School Tigers went down to defeat at the hands of the Central Fuse Plugs, 19 to 10, after being on the long end of an 8 to 4 score at half time, in a midget league basketball game, yesterday.

The play opened fast, with the Tigers plainly having the edge. Goucher, a little inclined to be rough, committed four personal fouls and was sent off, within a few minutes of half time. With no substitutes to send in, the Tigers played with four men and were no match for the Fuse Plugs, who are by no means a weak aggregation.

The teams were:

Fuse Plugs—Sutherland (9), Leno (8), Bingaman (2), Brown, Hanna, Edmondson.

Tigers—McEachern (6), Green (4), Affleck, Davidson, Goucher.

THE ASSOCIATED-HUME TOURNEY POSTPONED

The friendly interclub badminton tournament planned for last night between the Hume club and the Associated Members of the Nelson club was indefiniately postponed, several of the Hume members having gone to Kaslo, either as members of the Fairview hockey team or as supporters.

Fred Miller, captain of the 1928 football team of Notre Dame, is worth $5,000,000. Miller comes from Milwaukee, where his father accumulated the family fortune in the brewery business. He has been a regular linesman, tackle and guard for two years.

A list of 2240 five-man teams will compete in the American Bowling Congress in Kansas City March 3 to April 2. Forty more teams are entered in the tourney than were at Buffalo in 1925, the previous banner year.

TORONTO MONEY IS TO DEVELOP BLACK CAP MINE

McDermott, Who Financed Aspen, Is Principal; Work to Start Soon as Possible

EIGHT CLAIMS LIE UPON SOUTH SIDE FAWN CREEK

Two Veins Out of Four Have Workings; Fawn Creek Falls to Be Harnessed

Under a deal completed here, Monday, Paul A. McDermott, Toronto capitalist, for himself and associates, secured a lease and bond on the Black Cap mining property of eight claims of the Sheep creek district, a group strong in silver showings, from Neil McColeman of Nelson, the owner. A cash payment was made, the purchase price being $35,000.

It is understood that a company will be incorporated at once, and that a development program will be undertaken "as soon as the weather permits." All the capital necessary to thoroughly test the merits of the property is stated to be already assured.

BIG SHOWING IN SHAFT

The Black Cap group is part of the Pend d' Oreille lime series, with granite intrusions, its eight claims being on the south side of Fawn creek and served by the Reno wagon road. Its workings, which are on the Black Cap claim, central in the group, are only a couple of miles from the Halfway House on the Sheep creek townsite. Of its four close parallel veins, described by Mr. McColeman, only two have been developed. On one is a 20-foot shaft, which on being unwatered for examination a year ago, revealed 4½ feet of clean ore. A test shipment of five or six tons from the shaft to Trail several years ago returned 40 per cent lead, 10 per cent zinc and 38 ounces of silver, the ore having been sorted down for zinc in order to avoid the penalty imposed in those days.

The second vein more resembles an "ore zone," for its lead and zinc are disseminated across a width of 40 feet. In develping this showing, Mr. McColeman ground-sluiced, and he put in a trench that gave a face 16 feet vertically. While this ore zone is low in base metals, with gold values of $2 to $4, it has run up to 165 ounces in silver. Mr. McColeman aimed at getting this rich ore, that was revealed by ground-sluices, opened up at depth, by a crosscut tunnel of 200 feet. He made about 50 of it, when circumstances forced him to cease work.

DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

To equip the property with a compressor and air drills, and to enlarge the camp which at present accommodates six men, will be the first move of the company, in beginning operations, which it is expected will put a minimum of $50,000 into the ground the first season. Whether this development will first deepen the shaft on No. 1 vein, or push the crosscut aiming a depth on No. 2, has not yet been determined. There is also a third alternative that development might follow. The Fawn creek falls, with a vertical drop of 100 feet, is on the Black Cap ground, and Mr. McColeman has held that a crosscut from the base of the falls would intersect all four veins in a distance of 125 feet. By drifting to get greater backs, a depth of 200 feet on the uppermost vein would be obtained.

This falls also solves the power problem, and for four months every year not even a dam would be required.

Mr. McColeman was the locator of the group, but had as a partner until the latter's death on active service, E. G. Revell of Nelson. Development was done over a long period of years by meeting the requirements for assessment work, but after Mr. Revell's death comparatively little work was done, Mr. McColeman easing up after just escaping being crushed by a big boulder of clean ore he had been trying to bring down. All eight claims, however, are crown-granted.

PLAN EARLY START

The location lends itself to early disappearance of the snow, as the altitude is relatively low and the area has been burned over, and early operation is looked for.

The deal was put through by Percy F. Horton. Mr. McDermott is the financier who financed the Aspen mine near Salmo in 1927 by the flotation of the Salmo-Malartic Mines, limited, with Toronto capital.

He is now in Trail, visiting his brother, Andrew McDermott, proprietor of the Crown Point hotel, who is ill.

STRIKE IS REPORTED ON RED BIRD MINE

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 28.—The Red Bird Mining company has struck the ore beyond the fault at a depth of 200 feet, according to R. E. Beeson, president, Spokane. The drift is proceeding and is gaining almost foot for foot, as the ground from this point rises sharply.

The ground adjoins the McDonald-Reeves property of the Victoria syndicate on the southwest and is at the junction of the Salmo and Pend d'Oreille rivers near the international line in British Columbia.

NORTHERN MINE MARKET IN DROP

Prices in Some Cases Carried Below Value; Advice Given on Margins

Those who criticized northern mining stocks, saying that they were too high, surely had their feet wiped from under them by the decline which has been under way ever since November, and which, it is now thought, reached its average low point when two weeks ago stocks dipped in a dizzy, two-day tumble, says the Northern Miner.

At the worst period of the shrinkage market values of more than $150,000,000 were wiped off the gold and silver and Rouyn list. The three leading Kirklands plus Hollinger and Noranda, fell away to the tune of $100,000,000 themselves.

After this decline, the most drastic and notable, the northern mining market has ever experienced, banks and other financial people will not be able to say "mining stocks are too high." Probably a fairer comment would be that the break has been carried to an extreme, that prices have in some cases been carried down below intrinsic values or reasonable anticipation of future earning power. Certainly there is growing a disposition to feel that the better mines are attractive at current levels. Judging from past situations, however, the public will not return to the market in force until the next rise is definitely underway.

The decline of the past three months caught many unexpected. It was widely believed and said that the market would build up into a new period of activity after Christmas. Instead it persisted in its weakness, thus proving that judging the market is no easy task. Small speculators who lost a thousand dollars may take cold comfort in the knowledge that the big speculators were hit also, and that there is many a mining man of long market experience who is today on paper a quarter or a half million dollars poorer than in November.

The larger trader, however, almost invariably deals with certificates and therefore his bank has assisted him and helped him avoid forced liquidation. On the other hand, few of the small traders ever seem to learn that margin trebles the risk and that the best way to weather a storm is to own stocks outright. It has been said that no man can consider himself an experienced speculator until he has gone through a bear market.

There are a lot of "experienced speculators" today. The margin brokers had no other course but to sell out unmargined accounts. The banks, however, assisted many of their customers to carry through, and their attitude was a helpful influence and prevented forced selling which might have carried prices down even lower.

While some may say the mining market will be a long time coming back "because no one has any money," it must be remembered that thousands of people cashed in their profits and sold all or most of their stock in last fall's boom. Hundreds of millions of stocks were sold, and that money is now shopping around, looking for bargains.

RANGERS DEFEAT LEAFS BY ONE

Maintain Lead Over Boston; Score Is Flukey Kind at New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—New York Rangers maintained their one-point lead over Boston in the American group by beating Toronto Maple Leafs in a National Hockey league game here tonight 1 to 0. It was the third consecutive shutout registered by Chabot, the Ranger goalie. Leo Bourgeault, Ranger defenceman, scored the only goal at the beginning of the final period. The score was of the Flukey kind, the puck caroming into the net off Roach's pads.

Soccer Football has Britishers Greatly Excited

LONDON, Feb. 28.—The tremendous struggle going on in the English Football league first division has excited general interest in the British isles. Next Saturday several of the leaders will be engaged in cup ties and people are impatient for a return to league matches so that the battle among the top teams can be renewed. Actually there is only seven points difference between the averages of the first thirteen teams. Everton nominally leads the league with a fractional average better than Huddersfield Town, but the latter have played one less game. Then come Leicester, Cardiff City, Blackburn Rovers, Bolton Wanderers, Newcastle United, Burnley, Bury Liverpool, Sunderland, Aston Villa and Tottenham Hotspurs in the order named.

NEW COMPANY TO MAKE BUSINESS FOR 'TIDEWATER'

Development Mining Company to Find Ore for Ladysmith Tidewater Smelter

Dominion incorporation is being sought for a development mining company in connection with Ladysmith Tidewater Smelters, limited, incorporated during the past year. The parent concern, with a capital of $2,500,000, was incorporated for the purpose of creating a plant for the treatment of British Columbia ores and concentrates, having made satisfactory arrangements with the British Metal corporation, limited, of London, with a paid up capital of $8,760,000 for the handling of the products of the plant.

The British Metal corporation is substantially interested in the smelting company, and it is expected a sound business in the treatment, handling and shipment of ore will be developed, which should work out to the advantage of many of the coast properties which are coming into the period of production.

Henry B. Thomson and Herbert Carmichael were instrumental in the first instance in acquiring the smelter property and other mining interests and after a trip to London, in interesting and securing the cooperation and financial support of the British Metal corporation.

A development mining company is in process of formation, and Dominion incorporation has been applied for, to be known as the Pacific Tidewater Mines, limited, capital $5,000,000. Options on a number of desirable mining properties have been secured, and it is anticipated there will be ample funds forthcoming to thoroughly prove these properties and later develop them into the production stage as rapidly as possible.

PRESSURE TO SELL ON THE CORN MARKET

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—Pressure to sell developed in the corn market today toward the last and some big speculative lines were closed out. The forecast of colder weather was construed in various quarters as likely to permit more free country deliveries.

Closing corn quotations were heavy at ½ to 1c net decline, with wheat ¼ to ⅞c off, oats ¼c down to ⅛c up, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 10c.

VANCOUVER, Feb. 28.—Trading on the Vancouver stock exchange during both the morning and afternoon sessions today was rather listless and lacked any spectacular feature. NOTED PRIEST IS STABBED BY UNKNOWN MAN

Wound of Man Who Settled "Roman Question" in Italy Is Slight, However

ROME, Feb. 28.—Rev. Father Tacchi-Venturia, noted Jesuit priest, who acted as chief negotiator between the Vatican and the Italian government to bring about settlement of the "Roman question," was the object of a mysterious attack, Monday, when an unknown man stabbed him in the neck. The wound was not serious, and the learned priest attended to his regular duties today. The assailant, whose name has not been divulged, though he is stated to have a police record, is under arrest.

The news of the attack, which occurred in the house of Jesuits, leaked out today, but there is extreme reluctance in Vatican and police circles to discuss the case.

Saturday the man appeared at the Jesuit residence, and demanded an interview with Father Tacchi-Venturia, declaring he had urgent business. He was refused admission, but, Monday, succeeded in entering. He was ushered into the priest's presence, and almost immediately he leaped at him, stabbing him in the neck with a paper cutter.

SAVED HIS LIFE

The priest's quickness in recoiling saved him from a fatal blow, the blade of the knife merely glancing along the muscles, and inflicting a painful, though not dangerous, cut.

Other Jesuits present rushed for the police, who hastened from their post in front of the Japanese embassy. The man was quickly overpowered and placed under arrest.

Father Tacchi-Venturia is credited with having brought about closer relationship between the Italian government and the Vatican. He was a friend of Premier Mussolini before Mussolini assumed his high office.

Miss MacPhail Says Woman by Marrying Loses Individuality

OTTAWA, Feb. 28.—"All the wars of the universe were not to be compared with the sufferings of womanhood in attempting in secure expression of her individuality, "Miss Agnes MacPhail, member of parliament for South Grey declared in an address before a service club here today.

"I like men—but there are many who like to be little tin gods in their homes," she said. Much was lost by marrying, she went on, but the women loses her individuality by becoming married, she losses her name, her associates, her career, her par check and in many cases her religious identity.

"The long time of women's subjection has made them superficial and given them the desire to please men—why, I do not know—has made them reflect other people's thoughts and has made them artificial in accent and in phases. Women are like that. They should learn to be themselves.

"I hate housework, I abhor it," was her closing remark.
