KING GEORGE WILL LIVE

...ERS REVIEW COURSE OF THE LONG ILLNESS

...atement of Leading British Medical Journals Is Encouraging

...ORE IMPROVEMENT NEEDED EMPHASIZED

...nditions Following Seige All of the Best; Exhaustion Tells on King

London, Jan. 4 (Friday)—An official review of the progress being made by ...e King in his fight against pleurisy, ...e most informative statement given ...t by medical men who have attended ...s Majesty, is published this morning ... two of the leading medical journals ...itish Medical Journal. The statement ... Great Britain, the Lancet, and the ... considered extremely encouraging, ...owing as it does that the King's ...ogress, while slow is definite enough ... justify hope for his restoration to ... The text of the statement:

"For the true understanding of the ...osition it must be emphasized that ...either in its inception nor in its sub...equent course has this illness, con...ned to what is called pleural pneu...onia, rather it was streptococcus ...hich by a fortunate happening was ...localized at the base of the lung first ...imperfectly and later as an empyema ...fixation abscess) forming between the ...ase of the lung and the diaphragm.

"In the second phase of the illness, ...he clinical picture (dusky appearance, ...iry, cracked tongue, delirium, exhaus...tion) was that of severe toxaemia, re...sembling that of a severe case of ty...phoid fever, in the third or fourth ...week.

"So now the picture is that of the ...aftermath of a severe general infection. ...The empyema wound is now clean and ...steadily diminishing in size. The ...discharge from the pleural cavity is ...small in amount and the streptococcus ...that originally found in the blood) is ...grown from the pus (identical with ...diminishing in potency. Enzol has been ...effective in local application and ...though, through the courtesy of an ...American colleague, Doctor Sherman of ...Pittsburgh, a supply of Dakin solution, ...electrolytically prepared, has been re...ceived there has been no opportunity ...to use it.

"On the other hand disinclination for ...food, dryness of the tongue, low blood ...pressure, weakness and wasting and ...notable exhaustion though slowly im...proving, will for a long time be an ...anxious problem. It will be readily ...understood that while this exhaustive ...state is pronounced the margin of re...serve power must be narrow and small ...setbacks, inevitable at this state, have ...a correspondingly more severe effect. It ...is important that the public should not ...interpret such setbacks or reports of ...'no change' as relapses.

"During each week there will be ups ...and downs and progress will consist ...of the slow and increasing predomin...ance of the ups over the downs."

"As regards nourishment, about ...which so many suggestions have been ...received, the difficulties will be under...stood when it is stated there is dis...inclination for most foods and dis...like for many and that the weakness ...necessitates nourishment being given ...by a nurse with a feeder. Adequacy ...of nutriment, both as regards in ...quantity and variety is now being se...cured, though not without difficulty. ...Moreover, combatting the loss of weight ...which has been noticeable, depends not ...only the food taken but the food ...digested and assimilated.

"The blood pressure has fallen too ...low and the calcium content of the ...blood has lately considerably decreased.

"It need hardly be stated that the ...question of transfusion received full ...consideration, but it has been put aside ...at the present stage as definitely un...desirable. Moreover, the red blood ...count is one of the most hopeful fea...tures, whereas, in the early days of ...illness the red blood count was as ...low as 2,900,000, today the count being ...4,300,000.

"Moreover, the exhaustion is as much ...weariness of the mind as of the body, ...though there is an increasing sense of ...the burden of his illness, the will of ...the King to live is there.

"Because of this exhaustion the ...course must be long and for the pres...ent anxious. None the less, improve...men... and progress are taking place ...slowly but surely enough to justify ...hope that the King will be restored ...to his people.

At the end of the authoritative statement, the Lancet adds:

"Though there is increasing reason ...to think that preservation of the King's ...life during these many weeks will not ...have been in vain, a more definite ...and settled improvement is unfortu...nately needed before our anxiety can ...be replaced by confidence.

The enzol solution mentioned in ...the statement is an antiseptic solu...tion of hypochlorous acid ded for the ...same purpose as Dakin's solutions.

Northcott's Mother May Appear in Case

World's Refuelling Endurance Flight Record Is Broken

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 3.—The world' refueling endurance fright of 60 hours and seven minutes was broken tonight by the army's tri-motored Fokker monoplane Question Mark. The giant plane, circling over Imperial valley at 9:06 was reported by army officials here to have remained in continuous flight for nearly two hours longer than the time record set last June 2, by two Belgian army fliers.

MORE HELP FOR B. C. TECHNICAL SCHOOLS ASKED

B. C. Cabinet Goes on Record Asking Federal Government for Aid

VICTORIA, Jan. 3.—In preparation for the extension of technical education in British Columbia in a large way, the cabinet today passed an important resolution asking the federal government to extend for a term of years its present system of grants to technical schools. This proposal will be submitted to the federal authorities immediately, in the hope of preventing any lapse in the existing federal grant toward technical education.

The federal government some years ago appropriated $10,000,000 to be handed over to the provinces which built technical schools. Hon Joshua Hinchliffe, minister of education, explained. This grant will lapse on March 31, next unless it is renewed.

The provincial education authorities look forward to the construction of other technical schools in British Columbia as the population grows and are anxious to have federal assistance in financing the cost of these services. Unless action is taken at the forthcoming session of parliament, no more money will be provided after April 1.

HANGS FOR TWO MURDERS, EAST

Trap Sprung in Barrie, Ontario Shortly After Midnight Sounds

BARRIE, Ont., Jan. 4.—George O'Neil, farm hand convicted of the murder of his employer, Azor Robertson, and Robertson's daughter on Feburary 4 last, was hanged at seven minutes after midnight in the yard of the jail here.

Permission to witness the hanging was refused newspaper men and others and the only witnesses were jail officials, the man's spiritual adviser and a doctor.

O'Neil was prononced dead two minutes after the trap was sprung.

O'Neil was convicted of the murder of his aged employer, Azor Robertson, 72 years old, and the latter's daughter, Mrs. Ruby Martin, who lived with her father. He was sentenced to hang by Mr. Justice McVey at the last fall assizes in Barrie.

The bodies of Robertson and his daughter were found in the ashes of the Robertson barn which was burned on the morning of February 4 last.

Youths Held on Robbery Charges

SASKATOON, Sask., Jan. 3.—Suspected of being implicated in an attempted holdup of a street car motorman here last night, two local youths, R. Legare and E. McClintock, were arrested by city police late today.

The motorman, George E. Speers, was shot in the right arm when he refused to hand over money in his possession. He was not seriously injured.

The youths probably will be arraigned in court tomorrow.

Tots Burn to Death; Six Others Saved

THE PAS, Man., Jan. 3.—Ann Kirkness, a girl of three years of age, was burned to death, and six tots were rescued when the house they were living in at Split Lake, Mile 187, Hudson Bay railway, was burned to the ground on New Year's eve.

News of the tragedy reached The Pas in a letter from A. M. Demdney, a missionary. He says that Mary Kirkness, 13, a sister of the chilld who was burned to death, was the heroine of the tragedy.

PARLIAMENT TO COMMENCE ITS WORK IN MONTH

February Seventh Is Opening Date Announced by Premier from Ottawa

HON. R. B. BENNETT TO BE BACK FOR START

Lively Session Expected; Budget Will Be Brought Down Early

OTTAWA, Jan. 3.—Parliament will open on Thursday, February 7. Official announcement to this effect was made early tonight by Premier King at the conclusion of a meeting of the cabinet council.

The prime minister stated that no appointements to governmental vacancies were made at today's sitting of the cobinet.

Hon. R. B. Bennet, Conservative leader, who is now in Europe, will return to the capital about the middle of this month. Mr. Bennett sailed for England two weeks before Christmas on a brief holiday prior to the opening of parliament.

Political prognostigators forecast that the session opening next month will be much livelier than the previous one. No intimation has been made in official circles, though, on the possibility of an election this year. Two general elections have been held in the Dominion during the past few years, on in 1925 and the last one in 1926; and there are many observers who lean toward the opinion that no further appeal will be made to the people before 1930.

EARLY BUDGET

The budget, it is understood, will be brought down early during the coming session. Presentation of this document, containing as it does the government's fiscal policy with any changes to be made in the tariff is always eargerly awaited.

Indications are that the coming session of parliament will run into June. While the legislative program of the government has not been indicated, a number of important matters are definitely scheduled to come before parliament.

Recently Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, announced that a bill for the return of natural resources to British Columbia would probably be put up at the coming session.

The whole question of the stimulation of immigration to Canada will likely receive attention.

Irregularties in connection with the Athabasca election of 1925, may result in certain changes being introduced to the Dominion Elections act.

The report of the Duncan commission on maritime rights will probably be discussed further. Certain resolutions of the commission with respect to iron and steel have not been fully completed yet.

Morality and Dry Squads Abolished Vancouver Force

VANCOUVER, Jan. 3.—Immediate abolition of the morality and dry squads, amalgamation of their personnel with that of the crminal investigation department, and promotion of Inspector of Detectives John J. Thomson to be chief inspector of the Criminal investigation department was ordered today by Chief Constable J. W. Bingham of the Vancouver police force.

Today's order follows the suspension yesterday of six members of the force and the retirement on pension of 10 others, which Chief Bingham ordered immediately after taking office, as part of his general reoganization plans.

Canada and States in Dispute Regarding Broadcast of Radio

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Indications here are that a bitter fight will be waged by Canada, Mexico and Cuba when the international radio conference opens in Ottawa, January 31.

Representations have already been made that the United States in recently assigning all but 88 channel waves has appropriated far too large share.

LIEGE, Belgium, Jan. 3.—Fifteen workmen were drowned when an automobile transporting them fell into the Ourthe river this evening.

BOYS CONFESS TO INNOCENT CRIME

Italians Appeased by Confession; Boys in Australia Meant No Harm

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Jan. 3.—With the confession of two boys that they were the culprits and the announcement of the Italian vice-consul that the proposed gathering of Italians had been indefinitely postponed, the Italian coast of arms incident at Innisfail, North Queensland, is losing its significance.

Today two Innisfail boys admitted to the police that they had been the one to remove the coat of arms from over the Italian consulate and place it upside down in front of a Chinese store. It was only a holiday joke, they pleaded, and they did not even know the significance of the emblem, which they thought was a bank sign.

Thinking that some one had meant to insult the Italian nation, the Italian consul was at first highly incensed and called a meeting of sympathizers to replace the coat of arms with all due ceremony at the same time calling upon the government to apprehend and punish the offenders. As it is now obvious that no insult was intended, the matter will probably be dropped.

BRITISH HEIRESS ARRESTED SEATTLE

Charged With Theft of Auto; Claims Relationship Sir James Douglas

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 3.—Gertrude Douglas, 20, who says she is the grand daughter of Sir Edmund Douglas, one-time governor of British Columbia, and heiress to a British estate, was held in jail here today while authorities prepared to file automobile theft charges against her.

Officers said she took a machine from a motor car company here and drove to Bellingham, where she contracted a hotel bill before borrowing gasoline from a service station operator to return to Seattle for New Year's eve celebrations. She was arrested at a party at the Broadmoore Golf club here and held in lieu of $1500 bail.

"My feet got tired," she explained, "So I decided to ride for a while."

She said she had no idea of the value of the estate which she said she would inherit when she becomes 21. Officers were inclined to doubt her story. She said that her parents live on Lummi Island, Wash.

SASKATOON PIONEER CROSSES THE DIVIDE

SASKATOON, Jan. 3.—Another link with the pioneer days of this city and district has been severed by the passing this morning of Robert McCordick, 76 years old, at his residence.

Coming here 45 years ago by ox team from the end of steel at Moose Jaw after a train journey from Ontario, Mr. McCordick was one of the first settlers of this area. He was known as the pioneer who laid the foundation stones of this city and assisted in the first development work of the district.

YOUTH'S LAWYER FIGHTING HARD AT RIVERSIDE

Some of Jurors Picked for Murder Trial in California Court

MOTHER'S TESTIMONY N MAY CLEAR NORTHCOTT

Judge and Defence Lawyer in Several Near Clashes as Day Wears On

COURTHOUSE, RIVERSIDE, Cal., Jan. 3.—After having been blocked for a day and a half by numerous motions thrown into the legal hopper by Norbet Savay, defence counsel, the wheels of court routine in Gordon Stewart Northcott's trial for murder suddenly started to turn this afternoon, Selection of a jury to try the 21-year-old youth, who is accused of slaying Lewie and Nelson Winslow of Pomona and of beheading an unidentified Mexican lad, was started immediately after the noon recess. Examination of the jurymen marked a sudden lull in a persistent battle by Attorney Savay to gain more time for preparation of evidence. It followed a morning session during which Savay came near an open break with Judge George R. Freeman, but during which he was granted one request by the court—the appointment of a commission of experts to consist of three sanity examiners, a biochemist and an anthropologist. The commission would examine into the sanity of the defendent and scrutinize physical evidence to be submitted, described by Savay as "hair, bones, human protein and bullets from rifles."

EXAMINES JURORS

Savay consumed the entire afternoon in examination of jurors. At adjournment he tentatively had accepted seven jurors, three others remained in the box against Savay'e wishes, his challenges for cause bing ovrruled. Two challenges for cause were accepted and the jurors excused. Savay used none of his 20 peremptory challenges.

One outstanding issue which Savay raised during the day remained unsettled. It dealt with the return of Mrs. Sarah Louisa Northcott from San Quentin prison to testify in her son's defence. Mrs. Northcott last Monday pleaded guilty to the murder of Walter Collins for which she was indicted jointly with her son and accepted immediate sentence of life imprisonment. Savay, in his demand that she be returned to Riverside as a witness, declared her to be in possession of "knowledge proving young Northcott innocent." Savay was instructed by Judge Freeman to amplify his evidence in this regard, pending which decision was reserved.

Notre Dame Church Erected Century Ago Damaged by Flames

MONTREAL, Jan. 3.—Damage estimated at $10,000 partly covered by insurance was done by fire in the Notre Dame Church one of the oldest institutions of its kind about fifty miles from this city, early tonight.

For a time it was feared that the structure which was erected about a century ago, would be destroyed, but after three hours work the fire was extinguished.

FISHING BATTLE LOOMS ON PACIFIC

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 3.—The Seattle chamber of commerce in a letter to the Dominion department of fisheries at Ottawa, it is revealed here, maintains that Canadian officials in British Columbia are violating the letter and spirit of a treaty between Canada and the United States, in that fishing boats of the latter country seeking shelter, are being ousted from British Columbia ports.

Spokesmen for British Columbia fishermen deny this and contend that the United States fishermen are attempting to use ports along this coast as fishing centers.

It is upon the interpretation of the word "shelter" that settlement of the dispute hinges.

SOUTHAMPTON, Jan. 3.—The first emigrants to leave Great Britain for Canada under the new scheme of passages at a fare of $50 sailed from here today aboard the liner Ascania.

BEDFORD NAMED MAGISTRATE OF COURT IN TRAIL

Kennedy of Cranbrook Becomes Mining Recorder at Fort Steele

VICTORIA, Jan. 3.—Important changes in the ranks of the civil service are covered by orders-in-council passed by the cabinet yesterday and today.

In the department of agriculture, W. J. Bonaval becomes superintendent of farmers' institutes, in a reorganization which follows the appointment of J. B. Munro, yesterday as deputy minister. Mr. Bonaval has been departmental secretary, as well as secretary of the fall fairs association for years.

The appointment does not affect the position of C. E. Whitney Griffiths, as secretary of the advisory board of farmers' institutes. Formerly the deputy minister was also superintendent of farmers' institutes.

Following the reappointment of N. A. Wallinger to his old post as government agent at Cranbrook, J. E. Kennedy who has recently held this position, has been made mining recorder, at Fort Steele. The appointments of J. A. Stewart as deputy commissioner of lands at Cranbrook and P. H. McCurrach, gold commissioner at Fort Steele, have been rescinded. W. A. Talbot, assistant district engineer at Anyox, goes to Revelstoke.

H. E. R. Bedford of Trail has been made a justice of the peace and magistrate of the small debts court in Trail.

CHARGED HAVING ILLICIT STILL

Strong Odor of Whiskey in a Vancouver Court When Case Is Opened

VANCOUVER, Jan. 3.—With a strong odor of whiskey from courts exhibits of large copper tanks, the trial opened today in district police court before Magistrate H. O. Alexander of John Henderson, James Stewart, G. H. Harwood and George Broder, charged with having in their possession an illicit still at Texada Island, in Pochantas Bay, a short distance up the coast from Vancouver.

Seizure of the alleged still was made under spectacular circumstances on December 5, search for the suspected base of supplies of illicit which had been flooding the coast, having been made by air, sea and land.

Evidence today stated that a sign reading "Hunters please keep out; goat farm," greeted the customs excise officers when they made their raid. No goats were found. Other testimony told of the seizure of 117 gallons of alcohol on the gas boat B. and M., in charge of Broder and Harwood in False creek, Vancouver.

The case is proceeding.

The body was exhumed today from the paupers' grave it had lain in since found on the Montreal-Cornwall highway, 12 days ago and is being taken to Montreal tonight for a fuller examination and complete autopsy to determine the cause of death will be made.

SO STATE HIS PHYSICIANS IN AN INTERVIEW

His Majesty Had Fair Day but Experienced a Restless Night

NO CHANGE IN HIS STATE SAY BULLETINS

Medical Men Do Not Stay Long in Palace as Have in the Past

LONDON, Jan. 3.—King George had a fair day after experiencing a restless night and there was no change to report in his condition when the evening medical bulletin was issued at 8 p.m.. While this was not, in itself, as encouraging as had been expected by the public, it was considered favorable in official circles which took into account the rather optimistic review of the case furnished to the two leading medical journals of the country for publication tomorrow.

"The King will live" said the palace physicians in this review and they added that though his improvement is slow, it is definite enough to justify hope for his ultimate restoration to health.

The official review of the sickness was the most informative statement that has yet been given out. It showed that his majesty was taking adequate nourishment, that his blood had been greatly improved, and that his exhaustion was as much a weariness of the mind as of the body.

It was also noted tonight that the visits of the physicians to the palace and their consultations were daily becoming briefer. This was pointed out as showing a revival of medical confidence in the patient's recuperative power. Tonight, for instance, the bulletin was issued earlier than usual, the consultation having lasted only one hour.

The bulletin was againin in one sentence, as follows:

"The King had a fair day and there is no change to report in his majesty's condition."

Signers of this bulletin were the regular trio, Lord Dawson of Penn; Sir Stanley Hewett and Sir Hugh Rigby.

Son of Newspaper Proprietor Dies at Age Seventeen

TORONTO, Jan. 3.—Marshall Thompson, son of George M. Thompson, formerly proprietor of the Saskatoon Capital and the Calgary News-Telegram, died on Sunday at the home of his parents, at the age of 17 years.

From the age of seven, the youth had been an invalid as a result of infantile paralysis, but in spite of his incapicity, he read widely and was well informed far in advance of his years. He frequently wrote interesting and informative articles to the newspapers under various names.

WRITING

By GERALD S. REES

"Small drops of ink, falling like dew upon a thought."

Writing is a diverting and instructive pastime, likewise a distraction. One writes at times because the urge is not to be denied, or to clarify thought; at other times, to rescue from tedium or for amusement well worth while for its own sake, even as a "bridgeman" will settle himself for a rubber of his game. It is good companionship on steamer or train—facts and fancies can be marshalled in platoons and companies in readiness for the dress parade on paper.

The frame work and part of the structural filling at least must be "on the ground" before the pen is taken up. Preparatory work includes a judicious and plentiful reading of prose and poem, study of styles, syntax, synonyms and antonyms. A faculty for keen observation is essential. Printer's ink is a malicious and progressive "disease". The splitting of an infinitive calls for drastic penance.

The newcomers may be advised to avoid too standoffish an attitude, but to seek to be as much "en entime" as possible in his writing; to be human and interpret life in terms of our common humanity—utilize life's ordinary experiences as a rendezvous, for we all travel the same highway, and the routine and humdrum provide us with the greatest interest if rightly interpreted.

A few fortunates travel vagrant paths and tread the byways, therefrom gaining a broader knowledge of the world and its wondrous ways. On them devolves a pleasurable duty of elucidating experiences for those who perforce keep the main high road.

We are all spectators of Life's Grand Parade—in a sense detached from it, yet of it much a part—watching on the side lines as well as mixed in the game. Observe the fleeting moods of fellow humans, and endeavor to limn the outlines with pen and paper.

In the practice of press writing—and one must practice, else the sword grows rusty in its scabbard, and a hobby horse unridden becomes unrideable—one is enabled to become better acquainted with the inner meaning of words, the chosen vehicle of expression. One sees in what way they are related and interdependent.

THE EAR FRIETH WORDS.

In fragments of verse, rhythmic prose and quoted phrases, one finds a satisfactory medium of self expression. There is pleasure in letting the pen run free, haphazardly, "off the track," so to speak, but at all times keep it from malice, and never dip the quill in venom. One can be an opportunist in the use of word the written as in other matters. With paper came printing, with printing the intelligent life of the world received its most powerful tonic.

Print is cheap today, of small valuation. We read much as we breathe, without conscious effort of understanding. If two centuries of motors will ruin our legs, then possibly two more centuries of print will destroy the capacity for intellectual effort. Splendid tapestries of literature will no longer be woven or embroidered; the printed word will become as the baled cloths of Cottonopolis. What a surprise for Johann Gutenberg and his Latin Bible and for William Caxton and his Chaucerian poems!

The critical writer, as such, is unbeloved. He fulfils a function maybe, but criticism is an art in itself. A critic is like a dog on a long leash, wandering here and there at will, digging holes, upsetting garden furniture, scratching up flower beds. The world is his until suddenly he comes to the end of his rope, and that is what happens to any critic eventually, namely, the rope tightens about the critic's neck, and shuts off his bark! The poet, the writer, the artist and the musician are all fair game for the critic; in the latter's imagination, they exist for the purpose. The critic is happy in his own calling, measuring by his own standards, and is answeable to no charge save that he may be an inaccurate measurer. The world, however, knows the critic is fallible, proves it many times, and does not accept his utterances as in any way final.

So be your own best critic, and snap your fingers at the other fellow, if perchance you are a scribe. Hammer a double row of capital X's on your type machine in defiance of Mr. Critic.

Incidentally, it must at times be tiresome pounding the slab sided keys of the Linotype, which, with its equally wonderful sister the Monotype, is a master invention of modern times. The operator plays his metallic tunes on his gargantuan typewriter, nourishes it with lead scraps ("swinging the lead" to some advantage!) mean while interpreting nigh undecipheable heiroglyphics besmirched with numerous corrections. It is a marvel that so few type errors occur. There are times when one rather raves at any mutilation.

THE BIG BOSS.

The blue censorial pencil of the editor is a great grief to any writer; this exalted nabob ever holds aloft the keen and minatory knife of his editorial guillotine. Let him go to the "printer's devil"! Spare a kind thought for the unsung reporter, laboring over his "story" amid the machine gun crackle of typewriters in the press room. Little dost thou know of the sweat and profanity that evolve the composition of passable stories; of the imagination and strive necessary to embellish drab incidents and sordid commonplaces in such manner as to catch the subscriber's eye over his morning coffee. We thing newspapers produce themselves, Robot like. Read any reputable news sheet today—the newspapers are mirrors reflecting the world—and you gain the feeling that the thing has been done by some fellows who really deserve our thanks and good wishes. Much press work, as one truly knows, is sheer hackwork and not very satisfactory at that ofttimes. Hack writing is as tiresome as pushing a bucksaw. It is, however, invaluable training for the budding author, who some day may surprise the world—and himself—with his novels, sonnets, essays or whathaveyou.

Two Claiming Reward for The Bandit Capture

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 3.—A reward of $5500, which was offered for the capture of the bandits who shot and killed S. Digby Poyntz, a druggist, in his store here a week ago tonight, is claimed by two gunsmiths. One is Fred Faye, who conducts a shop on Princess street, and the other his assistant, Fred T. Mouseley.

It was Mouseley who tipped off the police, but according to Kaye he had instructed his assistant to do so.

"Mouseley tipped the police upon my instructions," said Kaye tonight. "I was ill in bed at the time, so had my assistant give the tip."

The information given by the gunsmith led to the arrest of Eddie Vanderlip, who is charged with the murder, and subsequently the locating of Carl McGee, alleged companion of Vanderlip, who was shot to death Sunday night when he resisted arrest.

Vanderlip, according to the story told by the gunsmiths, came to the Kaye shop some time in November to order a cartridge clip for his automatic. Later he brought the gun in and it was a .45 calibre Colt automatic. The gun used in the murder of the druggist was a .45, and this led the gunsmiths to suspect Vanderlip.

"I was suspicious of him from the first," said Kaye tonight. "I did not like his looks." Police officials tonight declined to comment on the claim entered by the gunsmiths. The awarding of the reward rests with Chief of Police Chris Newton.

YEAR'S FIRE LOSS AT FERNIE $19,000 IS CHIEF'S REPORT

Insurance $127,000; Beauty Parlor Operators Ask for Longer Hours

FERNIE, B. C., Jan. 3.—The city council held its last meeting during its present term of office Thursday evening, Mayor Irvine and all aldermen being present.

Chief Anderson and Sherwood Herchmer, K. C., waited on the council in connection with instructions the council issued to the chief subsequent to the last meeting to advise all beauty parlor operators that they must close their premises at 7 p. m. in conformance with an existing bylaw.

Mr. Herchmer asked that the bylaw should be amended to allow beauty shops to remain open for business until 10 p. m. He came on behalf of four of these shops, which was a majority, since there were only three other barber shops, all of which had men proprietors. Only one of the latter had voiced any objection to the women keeping their shops open in the evening and that only in so far as it involved hair cutting. It was agreed that little actual cutting was done during these hours, but the trimming of necks was essential to the turning out of a well groomed patron. It was thought that no hardship would be worked upon the men barbers of the town, and the council were very sympathetic toward the proposal, but as the machinery could not be set in motion for the carrying out of this reform before next meeting, it would have to be dealt with by the incoming council.

A letter, was read from Vancouver branch of the Ku Klux Klan of Canada, regarding oriental employment supplanting white men in railways and steamships and other employing companies. The Klan wanted backing for representation to the government to remedy this. The letter bore no signature, only a box number, so it will be disregarded.

FIRE LOSSES.

A report was read and accepted from Fire Chief Crawford, as follows:—Number of fires attended during the year, 11, the two major fires being Rahals and Mintons; value of buildings at stake, $48,400; insurance carried on same, $29,350; loss on buildings, $1997; value of contents, $79,500; insurance on contents, $30,650; loss on contents, $17,032; total loss on buildings and contents, $19,029.50; insurance on buildings and contents, $80,000; value of building and contents, $127,900. The department traveled six and one-half miles in the year, laid 200 feet of two and one-half-inch hose; raised 65 feet of ladders; used 45 gallons of chemical; and worked eight and one-half hours. During the seven months of Chief Crawford's incumbency, there were 26 weekly drills; 86 feet of two and one-half inch hose laid; 635 feet of ladder raised; 207 inspections; 15 fire-prevention notices served; 19 fire permits issued; three drills in schools.

All fire alarm boxes had been tested or rung through by an electrician. Fire alarm batteries were cleaned out and at present were in good working order. There were 14 alarm boxes and 52 hydrants, all of which were painted during the year. The equipment as a whole is in an up-to-date class and compared favorably with any town of Fernie's size in the province. The amount of two and one-half inch hose was 3000 feet; one and one-half inch, 500 feet; chemical one-inch, 200 feet; chemical three-quarter-inch 200 feet. There was 1856 feet of two and one-half inch hose in excellent condition and 1150 feet of two and one-half-inch hose in about second grade condition. The chief intended to test all hose in the department during the present month to 250 pounds pressure. He suggested that 200 feet of two and one-half-inch hose should be purchased yearly for the next five years to take the place of the second grade hose as it became worn out.

A motion was passed authorizing the deeding of lot 2, block 64 to Eder Harper, who paid $150 for it.

NEW BOUNDARIES.

The new city boundaries proposed by the council were next discussed. These had taken in new areas but for convenience had left out small portions of land which had been included formerly. Under the present act new land might be taken into the city limits, but no land which had ever been part of the city might be excluded. That was why aproval of these new city plans making it impossible to put the bylaw had been withheld by the department, at the January elections. Engineer Alfred Cummings was instructed to draw up a new description in conformity plans would again be submitted to with this regulation, whereupon the Victoria.

Accounts to the amount of $22,487.95 were passed. There was discussion as to Dr. Kelman's fee of $7, which was found to be for fees as medical witness at the coroner's inquest into the death of Mrs. Mary Critch.

KERR RESIGNS.

Robert Andrew Kerr filed his resignation as an alderman of the city of Fernie, to take effect immediately. The resignation was accepted.

The city treasury was augmented by the sum of $5060.02, being Fernie's share of the liquor profits for the last period, and $2175.84, the city's share of the betting tax.

The finance committee reported that the city's net debt to the Imperial bank was now only $2567.70, and that the sum of $24,900.70 had been paid off since January 1, 1928. This was in addition to heavy expenses in connection with roads, sidewalks and the new fire truck.

A motion of congratulation was passed by the mayor and aldermen and tendered to Alderman Rutledge upon his recent marisge.

Mayor Irvine thanked the aldermen for their support and cooperation during the year.

Zam-Buk
SAVES DOCTORS' BILLS

ECZEMA ENDED

Madame A. Lariviere of Fall River, Mass., suffered with eczema for three years, and had treatment from several doctors, all of whom gave up the case. "Finally," she says, "I went to a specialist, which cost me another $20, but I was no better.

"A friend advised me to try Zam-Buk, which I did, and for which I have ever since been thankful. I very soon felt some relief, and perseverance with Zam-Buk completely rid me of the disease."

SEVERE CUT HEALED

Mr. C. Oakley of Saskatoon, who sustained a terrible cut on his leg, says: "Had I known of Zam-Buk when the accident occurred, I could have saved myself a $40 doctor's bill! A doctor sewed up the cut and attended me for five weeks, but the wound did not heal, and he advised me to go into a hospital.

"I objected, however, and used Zam-Buk instead, and in two weeks' time was back at work."

SAVED OPERATION

"Father developed a painful sore on his face," writes Miss N. Lewis of Silver Lake, Oregon. "Numerous remedies and treatment from several doctors failed to heal it, and the doctor advised an operation. Someone advised him to first try Zam-Buk. A few applications brought relief, and continued use of Zam-Buk entirely healed the sore, saving father from an operation."

Funny people. They fear planes because of wrecks and keep right on trying matrimony.

The hard part of teaching the kid good manners is to tell him how without showing him.

The prosperous always have been naughty. The world just seems worse because more are prosperous.

If you think it right to lick the kids, why do you feel ashamed when the neighbors catch you at it?

Middle-age is that period when an ankle is just a shank.

Blessed are the poor and ignorant. They don't feel under obligation to raise a bedroom window.

A reader has written to ask me for uncooked dessert recipes. Here are two very good ones:

Canned Blueberry Pudding: Shave the crusts from one small loaf of bread, then cut the loaf into slices and butter these slices. Into a fancy dessert plate put a layer of buttered slices, then over them pour hot blueberries in their juice (heat a can of blueberries to the boiling point). Add another layer of buttered bread slices and again pour on some of the hot blueberries. Alternate these two layers till the berries and the bread slices are gone. (The hot fruit melts the butter and drives it down through the bread). Cool the mixture, then put it in your ice box for several hours to become very cold. Serve cut in slices, each slice topped with sweetened and vanilla flavored whipped cream.

Quick Chocolate Dessert: Beat one-half pint of a heavy cream stiff and sweeten it to taste, also flavor it with a few drops of vanilla extract. Mix together one-half cup of dry breadcrumbs, one-half cup of sugar and one-half cup of dry cocoa powder. Into a dessert plate put a layer of the whipped cream and on it place a layer of the dry cocoa-crumb mixture. Then add more whipped cream, more of the dry cocoa mixture, and continue alternating the two layers till all ingredients are used. Finish with the dry crumbs mixture. Put the dish into the ice box to chill for one hour (and for the cream to soak up the crumbs), then serve.

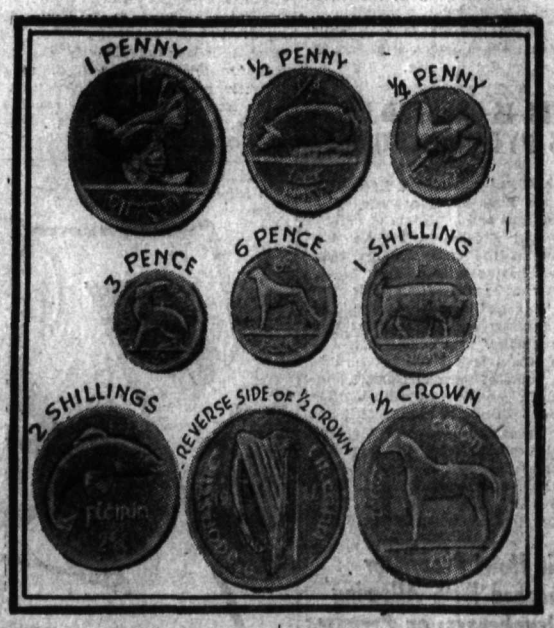
Uncooked Pineapple Dessert: Into a fancy dessert dish put a layer of canned crushed pineapple. Add a layer of marshmallows, cut in small pieces (using one-half pound of marshmallows). Finish with a layer of white Malaga grapes which have been halved and seeded. Add four tablespoons of pineapple juice and put in the ice box for several hours, then serve with one-half pint of heavy cream whipped stiff and sweetened.

HARROP WELCOMES THE NEW YEAR AT A DANCE

HARROP, B.C., Jan. 2.—The New Year was noisly ushered in at a social club dance New Year's eve. Promptly at midnight all joined hands, singing "Auld Lang Syne" and three lusty cheers and a tiger welcomed in 1929.

The hall was effectively decorated for the holiday season. This work having been in charge of the club president, H. Fairbank. Christmas crackers were given as favors during supper. The floor manager was B. S. Creasey.

IRISH COINS ARE UNIQUE



The animal kingdom is well represented in the new coinage of the Irish Free State, as may be seen in reproductions of "fruits of the mint" shown above. The pieces run from half a penny to half a crown and bear imprints of fish, animals of the field and farm and firds of the air.

CENTERS IN HUNGARI AN SUCCESSION ACTIVITY

Excitement reigns in Hungary once more, following the suggestion of Lord Rothermere, British publisher, that a foreign prince should be elected king. Legitimates refuse to entertain the reasons behind Lord Rothermere's suggestion and may make an early move to establish the archduke, Otto, son of Charles IV., on the vacant throne. Royalists hint at warfare if any attempt is made to make the king anyone but a member of the Hapsburg family. Grand Duke Albrecht, in photograph No. 1, was favored at one time for the kingship. Photograph 2 is that of Lord Rothermere; (3) Otto, 16-year-old scion of the House of Hapsburg; (4) Admiral Horthy, regent of Hungary since 1920, who is suggested as king.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

Colds Forerunners of Other Ailments

The United States Public Health Service reports that the average American is ill once a year.

This is the conclusion after a complete survey to determine the amount and the different types of illness.

And as you have already guessed, it is the simple cold, bronchitis, and influenza, that are responsible for more than half the cases of illness.

Now because these illness do not last long, and do not cause very severe suffering, they are naturally not given very serious thought even by the sufferers themselves.

Heads of industrial institutions, however, will tell you that the common cold is responsible for more "absences" than any other one thing.

The medical directors of industrial health services will tell you also that more colds and absences are reported Monday morning than any other one day. And the cases are genuine, and not as some folks think simply an excuse for an employee not to return Monday because he wishes an extra holiday.

Now although the regular treatment of colds by using nose and throat washes has some merit, the important point in the treatment is the immediate cleansing of intestine, and ommitting a meal or two. It is the careless eating, lack of exercise, and lack of proper ventilation over the week end, that is thought to be the underlying cause of colds and other ailments of nose, throat, and chest.

Now if a bone is broken and knits properly it is usually stronger at that point than is actually necessary. If you have smallpox, scarlet fever, yellow fever, typhoid and various other ailments, you do not usually contract them again. You are said to be immune from them. But with colds, bronchitis, and influenza, these ailments actually render you more likely to have them again, and what is still worse actually render you more liable to pneumonia and even tuberculosis.

The thought then is that the prevention of colds rests for the most part in your own hands—sane health habits.

MISS EDITH GREEN MARRIED AT KASLO

KASLO, B.C., Jan. 3.—The marriage took place on December 28 at the home of the bride's parents in Kaslo, of Edith, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Green to J. C. Dawson, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Dawson of New Denver. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. W. Scott under an arch of greenery and white wedding bells. The wedding music was played by Miss Zella Manning of Trail.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, and who was unattended, wore a beautiful gown of delft blue georgette and gold lace, with gold hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses and freesias.

At the reception which followed, the bride's mother was assisted in receiving by Mrs. H. D. Dawson. Centering the bride's table, which was decorated with holly and crimson tapers in silver sconces, was a three tiered wedding cake. Miss Grace Wilkinson, Miss Verna Garland, Miss Jessie MacGregor and Miss Katherine Gillis, friends of the bride, acted as serviteurs.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson left later for Spokane en route to Okanogan, Wash., where they will make their home. The bride traveled in a dress of brown silk crepe and velvet, with which she wore a muskrat fur coat.

ook, there goes the second Mrs.
Quimby—there—with the monkey on her arm!"

It made Quim's sister furious.

"Why don't you leave that idiotic thing home?" she would demand.

"I don't know," Rosalie's perplexity was funny. "I mean to—but she begs and—I—I'm used to her," she ended weakly.

Of course she never took Gwendolen when Quim went with her. But alas! Quim didn't often go with her! After his first brief whirl at it around holiday time, Quim had subsided as a social being. Unless it was something very important he never went anywhere with Rosalie at night, and day times he was far too busy to play around with her.

Larry wasn't. And Larry in spite of Quim's warning, was unmistakably tangling at pretty "Mrs. Quim's heels". She amused him awfully. And he delighted in tantalizing the spiteful Mrs. Stuyvesant Perry and her attendant swain, Dick Stuyvesant, by flaunting his friendship for Rosalie in their very faces.

Outwardly Dicko was suave and amiable when they met. Mrs. Perry wasn't. She would give a stiff little nod or pretend not to see them. And Larry, bowing elaborately would whisper to Rosalie.

"You peach! I swear you look handsomer than you are when you pass that pair! You're a good little hater, aren't you?"

"I don't exactly hate them," she told him one day, very gravely, "only, they do get rather under my skin sometimes I never did anything to either one of them."

"Oh, my, no!" he interrupted. "You only showed Dicko that there was one girl who wasn't interested in his petting parties and you merely shoved the Perry woman out of a soft spot. She used to go about boasting how Quim would never, never marry again, because he'd loved her dear darling girl."

Her cheeks were flushed. She was looking adorable that day in an incongrously pretty spring hat, though the snow was swirling about the streets.

"It's hardly nice of you to discuss Quim's first wife," she reminded him. "I—I suppose she was perfectly beautiful and that he did love her awfully," her voice choked. "I—you know, Quim didn't merry me because he loved me—he just married me because he was awfully sorry for me and terribly angry with Dicko."

"Umm" commented Larry Drily. "Well I had the pleasure of knowing the lady and knowing her mother and personally I think it's a darned good thing for Quim that the poor dead passed away before she became a second eddition of her esteemed mama."

"You ought not talk that way," she told him primly.

"No, I intend to stop that right now. But she would have led old Quim an awful life, I declare, so would! He's a queer sentimental old duck," he added reflectively, "so deucedly cold and formal most of the time, with such unexpected streaks of—"

"I beg your pardon!" Rosalie's loyalty to Quim gave just rebuke to his talkative relative.

"You mean I should beg yours," he bowed. "I do. But all the same, Quim always has me guessing."

Quim had Rosalie "guessing" too, but she was naturally too proud to admit it.

Outwardly Quim's courtesy to her was unfailing. But in scores of ways his persistent criticisms of everything she did or said were wearing her taunt nerves. It was rarely spoken criticism, or if spoken, it was of the maddening indirect type. But he let her know, by some means or another, that many things she did or said, or did not do or did not say, much annoyed him.

She had at last learned the trick of not retorting. Mentally she stuck out her tongue at her middle-aged spouce when he would murmur!

"My dear girl, haven't you a hat that its not quite so garnish."

He seemed to be sometimes vain of her youth and sometimes annoyed by it.

The first mild day they motored out to the country with a decorator who was going to make some alterations to the country place. Rosalie's heart sank as they wandered through rooms swathed in holland coverings. She was wondering how in the world she would ever learn to run the great house smoothly. It had taken her all winter to learn to manage the comparatively small apartment.

Wrapped in her coat she strolled impatiently up and down the bricked terrace waiting for the two men to come out. Was it only last autumn that she had come so timidly to the house?

She thought of those unhappy days—and automatically she began thinking about Pendleton over the hills—and Chet's cousin—and Chet.

A tiny smile wreathed her lips. Funny, stolid Chet Ferguson! A frown superseded the smile. She remembered that before very long now Chet would be married to Jean.

The two sisters had exchanged very few letters since the eventful day when Rosalie had written. "Dear Jean, I know you and Aunt Sarah will be surprised to know that I was married to Mr. Harrison Quimby today—"

Emsville and Jean and Aunt Sarah and Chet had seemed shadowy figures of the past. But today, with this hint of spring in the air, she was reminded of a day last spring when Chet—she closed her eyes and saw the idealized Chet of her schoolgirl days. And opened them upon Quim—who was looking cross and tired and far older than he was. He had been overworking and he had a tinge of rheumatism and the decorator, in his anxiety for the job, had been rather playing up to Rosalie all the way out from town. Which had annoyed Quim terribly.

"Well, ready?" he demanded sharply.

Back in town they found a message form the woman from whom they had sublet the apartment, saying she must have it by the first.

"I suppose you'd better go on to Chicago with me and let Nannette have a couple of weeks with Bee. The house won't be habitable for another month" He was in an irritable mood.

"I think," she said softly. "I'd rather go back to Emsville, if you don't mind, Quim. I wan't to see my family"

Tomorrow—Swank.

The Hawks played the Maple Leafs on even terms for the greater part of the first two periods, but four minutes fro mthe end of the middle frame, and the Hawks with only five men on the ice, Carson scored on a perfect pass from Bailey. AUSTRALIA 327 RUNS AHEAD OF BRITISH TEAM

England Has Yet to Play Second Innings: Oxenham, Gummett, Blackie, Not Out

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 2.—The sixth day of the third cricket test match opened this morning with Australia 327 runs ahead with two wickets in their second innings to fall and England yet to play their second innings and the fourth of the game. The overnight Australian not outs were R. Oxenham, 39, and Clarence Grimmett, O. J. Blackie was the last man on the Antipodean team. As all these men were bowlers and would be required to start Australia's effort to get England out and win the game, it was not expected they would tire themselves by batting exploits, even if the English bowlers would give them a chance. The fact that England did not have to start their innings first thing in the morning was an advantage as the Melbourne wicket is at its worst before lunch.

England have a task ahead of them worthy of the greatest teams. If they can beat Australia in a fourth innings when they have been called on to get more than 300 runs they will do something that has been only accomplished by an English eleven once in 26 times. Much will depend on the condition of the wicket, which up to now has held up wonderfully well seeing the amount of play that has taken place on it.

If England loses the standing in the test matches will be as follows, England won two; Australia won one; to play two. If England can win they will have retained the "ashes", the term used in connection with the international cricket championship.

LENHART WANTS TO BOX HARLOW HERE

Spokane Lightweight Issues a Challenge to Nelson Heavyweight

Fred Lenhart, light-heavyweight of Spokane, through his manager, Oscar Levitch, has issued a challenge to George Harlow, heavyweight of Nelson to a bout in Nelson. The challenge was made in a communication to The Daily News.

Lenhart is reported to be a hard-punching young man and he has a fine list of victories to testify to the statement. He came from the eastern Washington lumber camps, just north of Spokane, with an ambition to go to the top in the boxing game.

He has twice defeated Charlie Belanger and three times beaten Young Firpo. He holds a knockout in two rounds over Roy Cliff, and Al Stradley, and a knockout in six rounds over George McCormack. He also holds victories over Harry Dillon, Red Uhlan, Erny Owens, Ray Pelkey, Frankie Wine and Al Walther. He lost a close decision to Armand Emanuel.

Babe Misses Tee Shot Makes "Tie" of His Driver

By AL DEMAREE

(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

During my many rounds of golf with Babe Ruth I have noticed that he gets his biggest thrill from the long wood shots of the game, the tee shots and brassies. If the Babe can hit four of five three-hundred-yard drives down the middle of the fairway in a round, the afternoon has been well spent.

When he hits a particularly long low, line drive he usually compares it to some home run he has made in a world series game.

As a rule the big fellow is pretty even tempered but I remember one instance when he was teeing off on the seventh hole of Al Lang's Jungle Country club in Florida, with a large gallery grouped about, expecting to see him hit the ball about four hundred yards, he topped his drive and lost his temper.

Grabbing the offending club he swung with all his might and wrapped his driver completely around a small tree.

Regaining his composure immediately he nonchalantly handed the club, which was now shaped like a pretzel, to his colored caddy, remarking, "Here, boy, is a nice fifteen dollar club for you, it's no good to me anymore! Run over to the pro's shop and tell him to send me another one!"

OTTAWA, Jan. 3.—Montreal Canadiens and Ottawa Senators hooked here tonight in a National hockey league encounter befor 6000 fans and after 70 minutes of fast and thrilling hockey, two tied teams trailed off the ice with the count deadlocked at one-all. Both goals were rigistered near the close of the first period. Ottawa's drove in the first when Clancy caught Hainesworth napping with just a minute to go, but in 30 seconds Leduc equalized for the Canucks ramming Joliat's rebound back in behind Goalie Connel. It was a typical Ottawa-Canadien struggle with both teams fighting hard all the way.

Believes Failure Robson Hoopers Appear Serious Blow to Game in Nelson

Sports Editor: I would like to bring to the attention of Nelson basketball fans the failure of the Robson-Castlegar teams to come to Nelson last night to play the Trinity teams. A number of fans who were on hand in expectation of seeing some good games, were greatly disappointed, as were the Trinity girls, who had been practicing and preparing a reception for the players for some time.

Incidents like this are a serious blow to basketball in Nelson and are a means of killing the attendance at games in the future. Teams which act like this will find it difficult to again arrange games with teams with which I have any connection.

GELINAS TOBACCONISTS

JUNIOR HOCKEY TO OPEN HERE MONDAY

Maroons vs. High Cadets; Cardinals vs. Fairview, to Open Series

Nelson Junior Hockey league schedule will get under way Monday night at the rink, when two games are scheduled. Two games will be played each Monday, the rink having been reserved on Monday nights for the Junior league.

Maroons, a Hans' Farenholtz aggregation, and the High School Cadets will clash in the opening game, and the Cardinals, Harry Stirzaker's team, will battle the Fairview squad in the second game of the evening. In this way all but one of the five teams in the league, will be seen in action on the opening night. The Wolves only will not take the ice.

EVENLY MATCHED.

All five teams in the league are thought to be fairly evenly matched, and the games next week are expected to provide good speedy hockey. It is expected a good crowd of fans will be out to witness them.

The Wolves will make their debut in the league against the Maroons January 14. Speculation is already keen as to which of the two teams will carry off the honors.

Smeaton, the Referee, National League, Is Injured in New York

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Cooper Smeaton, chief referee of the National Hockey league, received a broken leg in a mixup with the players while officiating in the game between the New York Rangers and the Montreal Canadiens here last Tuesday night. The mixup occurred about half way through the game when Smeaton and several players crashed into the boards.

Announcement was made tonight that Smeaton had broken the fibulae of his left leg and will not be able to officiate for at least six weeks.

TORONTO FAILS TO SCORE OVER HARVARD

ronto University hockey team out-

BOSTON, Jan. 3.—Though the Toplayed Harvard all through an exhibition here tonight neither team was able to score. The Canadians had several opportunities to score in each period, but their failure to follow the puck most gave the Crimson defense players a chance to check them out of dangerous spots.

BULLDOGS WIN

TORONTO, Jan. 3.—The Windsor Bulldogs displaced Toronto as third place occupants in the Canadian pro hockey league by defeating the locals 3 to 0 here tonight. The Millionaires lacked a scoring punch.

MINNEAPOLIS WINS

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 3.—Minneapolis kept Kansas City in a tie with St. Paul for first place in the American Hockey association tonight by defeating the Missouri team 1 to 0 in an overtime contest.

PORTLAND BEATS SEATTLE AFTER GREAT BATTLE

Seattle Shoots Three Goals but Fails to Head the Buckaroo Players

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 3.—Four goals behind shortly after the beginning of the third period Seattle Eskimos staged a ferocious finish and ran in three goals to fall one short of tying the score before the final gong rang in their Pacific Coast hockey league game here tonight with Portland Buckaroos. Portland won 4 to 3.

At the end of the first period the Bucks had a 1 to 0 lead as Bond poked one in from a short distance out. Portland added two more in the second, Teal scoring both.

"Sad Sam" Timmins, goalie, aided by a stonewall defense, had stopped everything that came his way.

The fourth Portland goal was made 41 seconds after the third period, Conn shooting it from the blue line. From this point the Seattle team threw caution to the winds. Lindsay made the first Seattle goal. The second was made by Lowe.

Manager Muldoon announced that he had purchased Babe Morrison from Portland, but after arriving here found him in no shape to play, so turned him back to the Buckaroos. Morrison will be sent back to his home in Detroit.

JACK DEMPSEY WILLING TO GO

Says Godfrey Likely Finalist in Elimination Series Now Planned

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 3.—The Tennessean tomorrow will say that Jack Dempsey in an interview today, announced it was virtually certain that he would attempt to regain the world's heavyweight title which he held from July, 1919, when he defeated Jess Willard, until he lost it to Gene Tunney in Philadelphia in 1926.

Dempsey, the paper will say, announced his willingness to meet the winner of Tex Rickard's heavyweight elimination tourney at Miami, Fla., and declared that he believed George Godfrey, giant negro, the best of the present crop of heavyweights.

The interview with Dempsey was given on board a train en route to Miami Beach, where the former heavyweight king will meet Rickard and where it has been said definite plans of Dempsey intentions would be made known.

GOLDEN WINS.

LA JOLLA, Cal., Jan. 3.—Johnny Golden of Paterson, N. J., apparently secured first place money in the $5000 La Jolla open golf tournament when more than two hours of the final has completed the 54 holes of play today.

No one of the outstanding players was given a chance to beat the Paterson pro, who had cards of 76-75-80—231.

Boarton Smith, Joplin, Mo., appears to have second place with 76-78-80—234.

OILERS MOVE UP

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 3.—The Tulsa Oilers evened a two-game series with Duluth tonight by winning two to one in a furiously fought contest. The victory pulled the Oilers out of the cellar and sent the Minnesotians to the bottom.

LEADERS CLASH IN OLD COUNTRY

Sheffield Meets Blackburn in Crucial Battle; Little Exciting in Second Division

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The senior soccer football clubs in England on Saturday will play their last league matches before the third round in the English Football Association cup ties in which they enter this competition. The cup ties are slated for January 12.

An outstanding game in the first division is the meeting at Sheffield of the league leading Wednesday team and Blackburn Rovers, runners up, and the most important clubs in their section just now. A win for the Wednesday would give them a fine advantage in the averages. But a loss cannot deprive them of leadership as they have an advantage of three points over the Rovers. Possibly a draw may result as both teams will not be anxious to risk injury to players in a strenuous game with the cup ties only a week away.

NO ATTRACTION.

The second division fixtures are not a particularly attractive set of games, though Middlesborough, who have got into first place in the standing may have their work cut out to win at Preston. Chelsea, deprived of the leadership by Middlesborough's win on New Year's day, will be at home to Blackpool and it is too much to expect the Lancashire team to travel to Stamfordbridge and win.

A real struggle will result at Plymouth, where the Argyle team, runers up in the standing, meet Fullham, the leaders. Both have the same number of points, but the Londoners have the better goal average.

In the Northern section Bradford City and Stockport county are fighting out the leadership tied on points, with the former having the better goal average. Bradford City have the tougher game on Saturday. The game will be at Bradford City. Stockport County are at home to Chesterfield and should collect two points.

The engagements of the leaders in the Scottish first division are: Rangers at Cowdenbeath, Motherwell vs. Queens Park, Hearts vs. Clyde.

CRESTON, B.C., Jan. 3.—Mrs. W. H. Juvenile talent from the Anglican and United churches was utilized in a children's play at Wynndel that netted about $25 for each of the congregations.

GREENE CANANEA JUMPS 10 POINTS

Kennecott, Nevada and American Smelter Score Gains on New York Market List

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Anticipation of the huge increase in federal reserve brokers' loans was an incentive to heavy profit taking on today's stock market.

The increase of $286,676,000 in federal reserve brokers' loans, announced after the close, was even larger than had been expected wiping out, as it did, about three-quarters of the declines of the past three weeks. The compilation disclosed that the loans "for others" decreased about $156,000,000 as corporations and foreign banks withdrew funds to meet the year-end requirements, but that the New York banks more than offset this and a minor reduction in the account, for out of town banks, by putting more than $500,000,000 into the market.

Greene Cananea Copper was one of the board features, jumping nearly 10 points to a record price, while Kennecott, Nevada and American Smelting touched new highs for a year or more. Pennsylvania railroad and Boston & Maine again sold at the highest prices in years, while New York Central and Union Pacific made good headway. International Nickel and National Biscuit sold up about 10 and 8 points respectively.

General Electric encountered heavy profit taking after yesterday's 24-point advance and sold down 15 points, closing 10 off. Radio shot up 12 points then lost most of its gain. Case Threshing lost about 14 points. Montgomery-Ward, Canadian Pacific, Allied Chemical and Wright Aero about 5 each. Motors turned heavy, Chrysler and Packard losing 2 to 3 points and oils eased off.

Total sales 5,089,000 shares.

FLORENCE ORE WIDENING IN LAST FISSURE

Explored Both Ways for Total Length of 60 Feet, It Has Widened in East Face

NOW TEN FEET WIDE AND NO WALLS SEEN

In West Drift Three Feet of Galena Goes 16 Ounces of Silver, 73 Per Cent Lead

Proving of the ore of the chief fissure for a distance so far of 60 feet, widening of the eastern drift to 10 feet of ore without either wall, and ascertainment of excellent values for the fissure's ore generally summarizes results of a fortnight's exploratory drifting in one part of the Kootenay Florence's new big shear zone—the fissure last to be cut by the lateral in the 33-foot width of shear zone at that point.

From the lateral, an east drift has back-tracked 30 feet toward the lake, and a west one has gone forward 25 feet, in each case having the footwall of the fissure as one tunnel wall, the other wall cutting a couple of feet into the schist to make sure nothing is missed, the tunnel being eight feet wide. In the west or forward drift the ore appears stronger, and three feet of solid galena on the footwall averages 16 ounces of silver and 73 per cent lead. From this the ore thins down through milling ore to the schist. In the east or backward drift the galena shows only as stringers disseminated through eight feet of milling ore, whose averaged sample goes 10 ounces of silver and 32 per cent lead.

ORE BULGING TO EAST

Finding the ore in the east drift widening in the last day or so, Superintendent Howard Dennis widened the drift to 10 feet to find that both his tunnel walls were wholly in ore, the fissure bulging. He is running at this point to crosscut both walls to get again in touch with the walls.

He is also starting a raise from the fissure ore where cut by the lateral to see how it promises. The beginning of the 200-foot of backs to the upper mine.

Pending the improvement in working conditions immediately expected no work is being done in continuation of the main or lake level tunnel, or in the ventilation raise from the north lateral in order to let as many faces as possible be worked in exploration or the ore.

STRAWBERRY CROP AT WYNNDEL SETS NEW HIGH RECORD

Industry Grows in 28 Years to 25,600 Crates and 52 Tons for Jam

DISTRICT BOASTS 100 PER CENT COOPERATION

Crop 100 Acres Annually; 400 Employed Annually to Harvest Crop

CRESTON, B.C., Jan. 3.—Starting in 1900, when O. J. Wigen marketed the surplus of berries from his garden patch at Wynndel in gallon containers made by himself from cedar shooks, to Cranbrook customers who were found for him by engineers on the Crow's Nest Pass railway, who also took charge of the berry transport, and growing to a shipment of 25,600 crates in 1928 as well as 52 tons to jam factories, comprised the history of the development of strawberry growing in of here.

The records indicated that the first the Wynndel area, about six miles west 12 years were the worst, because it was not until 1913 that the requisite five growers were in evidence to form a cooperative association for marketing the crop. This number grew to seven the following year—leaving two to the good to criticize the association's management of five directors.

Like 1913 and 1914, the present year witnessed 100 per cent cooperation at Wynndel, the original Cooperative Fruit Growers' association of Wynndel no whaving them as shareholders each one of the 70 growers in that district, who are now cropping at least 100 acres of strawberries annually.

RAIN CAUSES LOSS

Wynndel devoted its attention almost exclusively to strawberries, the only other noticeable 1928 output being 2400 crates of raspberries and hardly more than 4000 boxes of apples. In connection with the 1928 strawberry production cooperative officials estimate that about 8000 crates of this year's berries were never picked. These were ruined in a rainy spell that continued over about 10 days at the end of June and early July.

In handling a crop such as 1928, some 400 berry pickers are employed, fully one half of whom are Doukhobors brought in from Brilliant and provided with living quarters. It was estimated that fully $16,000 was paid out in wages this year to this army of employees.

At Wynndel the preference is for the Van San, Parson's Beauty and Magoon varieties. Parson's Beautys are favorites as they are heavy yielders and stand up well in long distance shipping.

SHIP IN CAR LOTS

Up till 1916 an excellent market for Wynndel berries was found in express shipments along the Crow line, but in 1916 a surplus in excess of the Crow country demand arose and shipping in car lots began, one car rolling in 1916.

In 1921 carload shipping had grown to the point where pre-cooling facilities had to be provided to meet competition, and in that year a home made refrigerating system was used, consisting of a blower fan operating by gasoline engine and circulating cold air through pipes.

In 1924 the same gas engine was hitched to a small electric plant which operated two 16-inch fans and required 12 hours to cool a car down to the required 45 degrees.

In 1927 Wynndel stepped out and erected a fully modern ammonia precooling plant of three compartments readily handling three cars of berries daily, which could be loaded direct into iced cars. The new pre-cooler cut the ice bill and necessary handling in half. Instead of 400 tons of ice, no more than 200 tons were required. In the building of the pre-cooler and the necessary railway siding, Wynndel growers made an investment placed at $20,000, the pre-cooler covering an area of 40 feet by 80 feet.

FREEZING PLANT

In 1928 still further advances were made, this year witnessing the erection of a 30 by 40 foot freezing plant. It has storage room for 45 tons of berries, and is used for freezing berries that are wanted for long distance shipping for jam manufacture or other such purposes. In 1927 a total of 30 tons of berries were processed in the pre-cooler and shipped to Toronto for flavoring manufacture. In financing both the freezer and pre-cooler, generous grants have been made to the Wynndel growers by the federal department of agriculture.

Returns to the growers this year will probably average $2.25 per crate. High water mark in this regard was in 1920, when the average was $4.70 per crate. Growers assert operating costs in 1928 were much the same as in 1920 with the possible exception of a matter of five cents reduction in the price of strawberry crates.

Using Illustrations In Printing

In printing a picture often will tell a story or emphasize a point advantageously.

We have for the benefit of our customers a service of cuts of illustrations which are often invaluable in the improvement they will make to a piece of printing.

It is not only the advertising circular or folder, but often a cut can be used to great advantage on a letterhead or even an envelope. Frequently they put a lot of "punch" into the general effect of the work.

CIVIC ELECTIONS 1929

Having been approached by a number of influential citizens, I have decided to be a candidate for alderman for the city of Nelson.

I have had 18 years of experience in municipal work, 4½ years of which were spent as city electrical engineer for Nelson.

This experience has given me a real insight into civic problems and the best methods of dealing with them.

I have no axe to grind and desire only to the best of my ability to serve Nelson, where I have my business interests.

My platform includes:

More publicity for civic business.

A square deal for all city employees.

More permanently surfaced streets and sidewalks.

More equal distribution of expenditures on street improvements and repairs.

Revision of light and power rates to remove present inequalities.

Rearrangement of street lighting to give better illumination and avoid waste of current.

Thorough inquiry into the water works.
