THREE OF ROYAL FAMILY NOW ILL

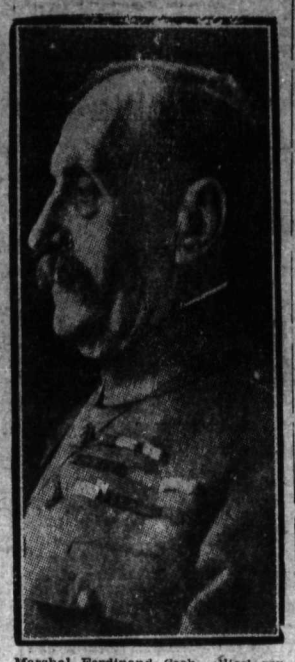
Prince George Confined to Bed; King and Queen Show Improvement

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The King and Queen and Prince George, their youngest son, were all reported in satisfactory condition tonight. The prince was the latest addition to the list of royal patients in Buckingham Palace. He, like his mother, is suffering from a cold, and both are confined to their rooms.

The King enjoyed a comfortable day, this word coming after the morning bulletin had announced that he was making progress. The doctors said that another 26 hours would elapse before they would issue another formal bulletin.

Lord Dawson of Penn visited his patient this evening as usual, and Doctors Hewett and Woods also were in attendance to give him the usual ultra-violet treatment.

SERIOUSLY ILL



Marshal Ferdinand Foch, allies' general during war, who is seriously ill in Paris.

MARSHAL FOCH IS IN BATTLE FOR LIFE AT PARIS

Allies' General During War Is Stricken With Heart Attack; Progress Slow

PARIS, Jan. 15.—The slight improvement shewn by Marshal Ferdinand Foch in the early part of the night has not been added to and his condition is stationary. This was learned at his home at 1 a. m. One of his physicians paid a visit of a few minutes just before that hour.

HEART ATTACK

PARIS, Jan. 14.—Ferdinand Foch, marshal of France, and comamnder-in-chief of the allied armies in the closing stages of the great war, tonight was holding a slight advantage in his most critical engagement. The winner of many gigantic battles was fighting for his own life against a heart attack which struck him down this morning while he was lighting the cigar which habitually follows his morning coffee.

The marshal was resting this evening but was in a rather exhausted states after the bitter struggle of the day in which illness appeared at times as about to conquer the sturdy defence of the warrior's will to live. Intermittent sinking spells, followed by courageous recoveries had six doctors worried.

At one stage his two daughters were called to the bedside with their mother and many expected the end was near.

The doctors issued a short communique in which they said only this:

"The marshal is suffering from a heart attack, necessitating complete rest."

They added to this that his great spirit alone had carried him past the crisis.

MRS. RUTH AND DR. KINDER WED FOR OVER YEAR

Marriage Took Place in Montreal in August, 1927, States Doctor's Dad

INVESTIGATION SHOWS DEATH BY ACCIDENT

Police Satisfied With Statement Made by Watertown Doctor They Say

MONTREAL, Jan. 14.—The wife of George Herman (Babe) Ruth, who was burned to death in a Watertown, Mass., house which she occupied as the wife of Dr. Edward Kinder, was married to the latter in Montreal in August, 1927, according to a statement by a special dispatch from South Boston to the Montreal Gazette today in which the father of Dr. Kinder is quoted as making the assertion.

Dr. Kinder's father, himself a physician, is quoted as saying, "Edward and the former Mrs. Ruth were legally married in the city of Montreal in August, 1927, and furthermore every one that knows my son and his wife knew of the marriage. That includes Ruth himself."

POLICE SATISFIED

WATERTOWN, Mass., Jan. 14.—Dr. Edward H. Kinder, Boston dentist, was questioned for nearly four hours here today by Watertown police in regard to his relations with Mrs. George Herman Ruth, wife of Babe Ruth. Mrs. Ruth was burned to death in Dr. Kinder's home here last Friday night. She had been known to neighbors as Mrs. Kinder.

The chief said that he was satisfied with Kinder's statement and that the case as far as the local police are concerned is closed.

Meanwhile District Attorney Robert T. Bushnel ordered a second autopsy on the body of Mrs. Ruth, although he said he was satisfied from evidence that Mrs. Ruth died by no other means than by accidental causes.

Kinder, in his interview with Chief Milmer, according to the latter, said there had been nothing morally wrong in his relations with Mrs. Ruth. Kinder was certain that Ruth knew that his wife was living at the Watertown address.

Compulsory Hundred Per Cent Pool Is Cause for Argument

DAVIDSON, Sask., Jan. 14.—The necessity of a 100 per cent. marketing organization, either by voluntary or legislative enactment, for the grain growers of Saskatchewan, which has been discussed by many witnesses before the Saskatchewan royal grain commission, was again a subject of debate when the inquiry opened here today. Under plans submitted to the commissioners every grower of wheat would be a member of the present wheat pool, giving it 100 per cent. marketing power, but there is a wide divergence of opinion as to whether this 100 per cent. pool should be voluntary or compulsory.

Henry Wilmer, a local district farmer, a witness before the commission today, expressed the opinion, that a compulsory 100 per cent. pool savored too much of a monopoly. If it were voluntary, then he thought such an organization "would not be so bad."

Beauharnois Power and Navigation Plan Up at Capital Today

The sitting will be open at 10 o'clock in the office of Hon. J. C. Elliott minister of public works.

GENERAL BOOTH MAKES REPLY TO ARMY'S COUNCIL

Next Step Up to Council; Anxiously Await Events of Day

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The reply of General Bramwell Booth to the suggestion of the High Council of the Salvation Army that he retire from office was delivered to representatives of the council at Sundbury-on-Thames this evening. The context was not divulged.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Definite action on the continuance in office of General Bramwell Booth commander of the Salvation Army, probably will come tomorrow. The council agreed on this point after it had become known that the general's reply to the suggestion of the high council that he retire, had been delivered late today at Sunbury-on-Thames.

Both sides said they were completely in the dark as to what move the aged leader would make against the retirement when the high council reassemble. The reform element said, however, that if he had declined to retire the council would at once proceed to vote on his physical fitness to continue his duties.

The fumes which travelled through the underground telephone conduits, advanced more than a mile from the original break, entering churches and the plant of the telephone company. A search of more than a mile of gas main failed to reveal the break and today the city of Oshawa is without gas, the main source having been turned off as a precautionary measure.

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—The entire board of school trustees for the township of Aylwin, Quebec, was found guilty by Judge Roland Millar in Hull court today of failing to comply with health regulations of the province. The members were fined $5 and costs in each of two separate cases.

The matter arose last May when there was an outbreak of smallpox in the district, when it was charged the trustees ignored vaccination orders.

Seven Kootenay and Boundary mayors and one reeve were reelected today by acclamation in nomination proceedings. Fernie and Kaslo and Revelstoke provided the only mayoral contests, Fernie having three candidates, Revelstoke and Kaslo two.

Grand Forks' only contest is for the east ward aldermanic seats. Every office in Kaslo, except that of mayor, went by acclamation.

500 MILES NEW LINES FOR C. N. R.

Such Is Program Contemplated; Will Be Entirely in the West

OTTAWA, Jan. 14—The Canadian National branch lines program will provide for approximately 500 miles of new lines.

In the session of 1927, the Canadian National railway's three year program was ratified by parliament and the money voted to carry it out. The action of parliament came at so early a date that year that the company was able to go ahead with its construction almost at the opening of the season with the result that it finds itself with its 1927 program well on the way to completion. Accordingly it will come before parliament with a new program this session, details of which have not yet been announced, but which will likely provide for some 500 miles of new branch lines for the most part, if not entirely, in the west.

One of the new lines planned by the C. N. R. will provide a cutoff connecting Saskatchewan with the Hudson Bay railway which will make a direct route for grain moving from that province to Churchill.

GIRL FIGURES IN MURDER MYSTERY

MONTREAL, Jan. 14.—George Schnabel, wanted in connection with the death of his wife, Florence, proposed marriage to a local girl in January, 1928, saying he would be free to marry her in September, according to detectives, who stated they had received this information voluntarily from the girl. In September Schnabel again proposed marriage to the girl, detectives say, telling her that he was now free. She asked to see his divorce papers and when he could not produce them, declined his proposals.

MURDERER GRANTED RETRIAL, REGINA

Melfort Slayer Loses Appeal; Hangman on Way to Saskatchewan

REGINA Sask., Jan. 14.—A new trial has been granted William Hugh Megill, 27, who was on November 1 last sentenced to die for the murder of Anna Goff, Climax district girl. The Saskatchewan court of appeal today handed down judgment in Megill's favor, granting a new trial for him on the ground that there had been misdirection of the jury regarding an insanity verdict.

At the same time the court of appeal refused a new trial for Ernest Olson, condemned Melfort slayer, who is sentenced to be hanged on February 15 at Prince Albert jail. While dismissing this appeal the court noted that an attendance record of the sanity of the prisoner had been brought forward and this will be forwarded to the minister of justice at Ottawa.

At the present time Arthur Ellis, Canada's chief executioner, is on his way to Regina, where he had planned to officiate at the execution of Mike Haak, Melville district murderer, and then remain for the hanging of Megill, set for February 1. The hangman, then planned to go north to Prince Albert for the execution of Olson.

MIDDLE WEST IN MIDST COLD SPELL

Six Deaths; Heavy Snow Ties Up Transportation and Communication

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—The middle west was locked tonight in the grip of one of the most severe cold waves and biggest snow storm in recent years. Weather almost as cold as that of the last three days was predicted.

The storm and cold tonight had succeeded in accounting for the death of half a dozen persons and suffering for lots of others, had blocked main highways in half a dozen states, hamperer rail transportation and tied wire communication to pratically a standstill.

Silverton Beats New Denver 7-5 in Hockey

Silverton, B.C., Jan. 14.—Silverton took the second game of the district hockey league at New Denver Tuesday when it defeated the New Denver aggregation by a score of 7 to 5. The game was close all the way through, the score being tied 3 to 3 at the end of the first period.

New Denver took a lead in the second period when it added two goals while holding Silverton to only one tally. The first and second periods were somewhat slow and were not marked by anything spectacular.

GAME LIVENS UP

In the third period things livened up a little, both teams showing plenty of determination. C. Towgood, New Denver goalie, was struck on the nose with the puck and play was stopped for a time. A few minutes before the end Bruce MacAulay, Silverton goalie, stopped the puck with his nose, but was able to carry on till the end.

There was a good attendance of both Silverton and New Denver fans.

GYROS INSTALL J. CARTMEL AS NEW PRESIDENT

M. Montgomery Is Initiated as a Member of the Nelson Gyro Club

On occasion of the installation of Gyro officers for 1929 at the club meeting in the Canadian Legion building last night the "Gyrometer," press organ of the Nelson Gyro club, published an editorial on the sportsmanlike way in which John Cartmel had accepted the office of president of the club.

The Gyrometer went on to state that the president and officers could be assured of the all-hearted loyalty and support of the club.

W. M. Myers, first president and first Gyro of the Nelson club installed the officers for 1929. "I feel sure that 1929 will eclipse past years for the Nelson Gyro club. Officers of the club should be men of character, energy, balance and ability to make and to retain friends," Mr. Myers declared, "for in the officers of a club the outside world sees the character and spirit of that club. The officers for 1929 are a true type of the Gyro club of Nelson," declared the club's first president.

Responding to W. Myers' speech John Cartmel, the club's new president, thanked him for the sentiments of loyalty he had voiced on behalf of the club and stated that he now dreaded less, the mantle of presidency which his fellow members had placed on his shoulders last week. "Now that you have placed my shoulder to the wheel, I will do my utmost to carry on the good work done by Dr. W. B. Steed during the past year," Mr. Cartmel declared.

First vice-president Harry Ferguson and second vice-president P. E. Poulin expressed in short speeches their allegiance to their president.

Dr. W. B. Steed, the retiring president was called upon to say a few words. Taking this opportunity Dr. Steed personally, as well as on behalf of the club thanked E. L. Buchanan, the club's secretary and the committees of last year for the 100 per cent loyalty with which they seconded him during his year of office.

M. Montgomery, city electrical engineer was initiated a member of the club. R. B. Morris performed the initiation ceremony. Mr. Morris pointed out to the "Baby Gyro" a few of the rules of the club and outlined the history of the international Gyro club. Dr. Steed as the closing duty of his office, welcomed the new member into the Gyro family.

"Since coming to Nelson I have met with nothing but a friendly spirit from every one and I believe this spirit is due to the Gyro club to which you have paid me the honor of selecting me a member," stated Mr. Montgomery in his reply.

Mayor R. D. Barnes supplied the smokes on occasion of the installing of the new president and officers. Installing officer W. Myers then asked John Cartmel to take the chair.

Mayor Turner Expresses Appreciation for Cooperation of Council

ROSSLAND, B.C., Jan. 14.—A communication from the Great Northern railway received by the city council tonight inquired if the city would consider leasing the ground occupied by the athletic park, should the railway officials not decide to sell. NEW EXPERIMENT BOYS' SETTLEMENT

Schoolboys From Britain Go to New Zealand School for Agricultural Training

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 14.—(By Canadian Press)—An interesting experiment in Empire settlement has just been inaugurated, a dozen boys from British schools having left for New Zealand to become pupils at Waitaki school, Oamaru.

Waitaki school is one of the best known in New Zealand, and the system of training pursued there has been the subject of praise by many visitors from England, including the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, Lord Jellicoe, Admiral Halsey and Mr. Amery. The headmaster, Frank Milner, C.M.G., is keenly interested in the problems of Empire settlement.

The boys will take a one or two years' course of agricultural training before engaging in farm practice. They will receive instruction in agricultural subjects, wool classing, dairy science, and plot work from experts, and several afternoons a week will be devoted to practical work on adjoining farms in the rich agricultural and pastoral district near Oamaru. The boys who proceed to New Zealand under this scheme are eligible for assisted passages, provided that they undertake to remain five years in New Zealand to engage in farming after the completion of the school training.

Mr. Milner gives the following guarantee, which means that the boys are given a wonderful opportunity to carve out a career for themselves:

TAKE RESPONSIBILITY

On the termination of a year's course of work at the school, I accept the responsibility for placing the boy with a suitable employer for practical training in such branch of farming as commends itself to him with my approval. I also accept the responsibility of keeping in touch with the lad during this period of probation, and of obtaining for him expert advice. The boy will have the right of appeal to me in the case of any complaint arising out of his employment, and I shall do my best to rectify the same. Before this boy is placed with any farmer such employer will be distinctly notified that the boy will keep in communication with me or my deputy and that I shall act generally in loco parentis.

The cost of the boy's outfit is estimated at about $100, and $30 per term is regarded as a reasonable allowance for incidental expenses. Mr. Milner has arranged for the employment of the boys on farms during the vacations, should they require it, so parents are saved any anxiety on this score. If by any chance no regular employment for the vacation can be secured free board and lodging will be provided at the school.

The scheme will add considerably to the responsibilities of the headmaster, who has suggested it only because he is interested as he states, in the transplantation of British public school boys as most valuable colonizing material for the Dominions.

WOMAN MAKES LONG DANGEROUS JOURNEY

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 14.—The only woman, indeed the only white person, to take part in a 2000 mile trip through French Guiana to study native religious and whitecraft, is Lady Dorothy Mills, who has organized the expedition and has just sailed from Liverpool.

"I hope to collect masks and idols and shall go where the spirit moves me," she said. "By traveling alone one gets more into the spirit of the country. I never take any arms on my expeditions because no native or animal will attack unless you interfere first.

"Travelling is in my blood. Whitchcraft is a subject that interests me a great deal. African witch doctors give natives medicine mixed with what they call magic, which is something I rather believe in. Their magic seems to be akin to our phycho-analysis or auto-suggestion and the primitive races know more about nature in the rough than we do.

"They are not all cloaked up in materialism as we are. It is difficult for a white person to see through the barrier of mysticism which stands between them and civilization, and that is why I like to travel alone. It is easer to win the confidence of the natives."

During her trek Lady Dorothy will wear shorts when possible and breeches when necessary.

Creston Anticipates an Influx of Germans to Take Camp Lister Land

CRESTON, B.C., Jan. 14.—The first of a prospective influx of German agriculturists to take up vacant farms at Camp Lister put in an appearance with the arrival Thursday from New Westminster of Mr. and Mrs. Staner and two young sons, who are at present occupying the former David Chalmers' place until they look around and decide which of the several unoccupied farms they will purchase. Previous to going to the coast a few months ago the newcomers were residents of Winnipeg.

A few weeks ago Rev. Mr Schuster, representing the North German Lloyd colonization department, investigated Camp Lister for German settlement purposes and the new arrivals are here on inducements held out by land settlement board officials at Victoria.

DOCTOR ENTITLED TO REWARD BY THE MILE

LONDON, Eng., Jan. 14.—"It is the custom of the medical profession that a specialist who goes out of town to a patient is entitled to charge one guinea per mile for the distance travelled," declared counsel in a case before Mr. Justice McCardie in the king's bench.

Dr. John Henry Douglas Webster of Cavendish square was seeking to recover $515, balance of fees which he asserted were due to him from Miss Muriel Clifford of Bloomsbury. Miss Clifford had paid $150, and contended that the fees asked were unreasonable.

Dr. Webster agreed with the judge that, perhaps normally, a doctor adjusts his fees to the social and financial circumstances of the patient. On 14 occasions the defendant made appointments which she did not keep. Dr. F. H. Humphreys, consulting X-ray physician to the American hospital, said Dr. Webster's charges were quite reasonable.

Mr. Justice McCardie: "How much money should you want to go to Newcastle?" "Two hundred guineas. I should not only ask that, but I have actually had that amount for Newcastle."

"But I see, according to the time-table, that Newcastle is 268 miles from London?" "On that occasion, when I was asked what my charges would be, the light was bad, and I mistook 268 miles for 200 miles, and said 200 guineas."

"So you lost 68 guineas through the smallness of the print in the time-table?" "Yes."

It was clear that the difficulties that arose would not have been caused if doctors would tell their patients in clear terms at the beginning of the treatment the scale of fees they intended to charge, said his honor. He held that Dr. Webster's charges were reasonable, and that he was entitled to everything except the $150 charged for the visit from Eastbourne to London. In such circumstances a doctor should make it clear that he was going to charge a special fee. He reduced this section of the claim by $130, and he, therefore, gave judgment for Dr. Webster for $385, with costs.

Heathcote Farmers' club membership, 108, shipped 51 carloads of produce during past year.

Indigestion
Immediate Relief!

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

Sun Life Policyholders To Receive Special Bonus

In Addition To Regular Dividends in 1929 of approximately $17,500,000

SUN LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY OF CANADA

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

MONTREAL January 8, 1929.

To Our Policyholders:

We have just completed another wonderful year, with profit earnings never before equalled. Our Directors have therefore inaugurated the principle of allowing a Special Bonus on maturing participating policies. The basis for 1929 may be summarized as follows:

> On policies ten years in force, maturing by death or (on 'reserve dividend' policies) by the expiry of the reserve dividend period, a bonus of 10 per cent of the reserve, increasing yearly to 15 per cent on policies in force twenty years or longer; on endowments, at maturity, a bonus of 10 per cent of the face value of policies ten years in force, increasing yearly to 15 per cent on policies in force twenty years or longer.

Details will be given in the forthcoming annual report.

This special bonus is in addition to, and independent of, the usual annual profit distribution, the scale for which, for the ninth consecutive year, will again be increased.

We congratulate our members on this happy announcement. It has been made possible only by the large profits earned on the securities selected for the investment of the Company's funds.

As ninety-five per cent of all surplus earned by the participating assurances accrues to our policyholders themselves, they enjoy practical mutuality, combined with the enterprise and stability of stock management. The effect of this combination is evidenced by the results.

President.

ngratulations to Mayor Barnes

sterday Nelson reelected or Barnes for a second term cclamation, an honor that citizens generally will feel ell deserved.

Salvation Army Battle

evelopments in the leader- and control of the Salva- Army are turning out as been mooted for some time The high council, now in ion, has asked General nwell Booth to retire from active leadership because is health, as it is believed impossible for him to re- sufficiently to resume his rs. The assumption is owing to his sickness Gen- Booth will acquiesce, how- much the proposal goes st the grain, and that here the Salvation Army will administered and directed council or commission ap- ed by the high council, General Booth, during his me, retaining only the titu- honor of the position to h he succeeded on the of his illustrious father. e career of General Bram- Booth, the Salvation Ar- head for the past 16 years the chief executive for years before, says the ria Colonist, has been a pointment to those who ted that this organization break up after its foun- nd masterful director had away. The fact is that eldest son took up his r's work and carried it nd, enlarging its field op- ns and perfecting it into a world-wide enterprise of great cohesive strength. Not a flaming evangelist as was his father, General Bramwell Booth was a wise and gracious administrator. He harnessed the warm-hearted energy created by his parent and made the movement one of the most powerful humanitarian and redemptive institutions of Christian history. The Salvation Army is an illustration of the power of a great idea yoked with a great business ability.

The contribution the Salvation Army has made to modern life cannot be computed. It has stood for giving the worst man and the worst woman another, and still another chance. Its confidence in the restoration to good of the worst is founded upon its faith in God as the friend of mankind. In an age that has its full share of scoffers at the simple faith of the New Testament Christian, the Army has stood for and practiced that faith. It has gone out to seek and save that which was lost, and many of its members are among the lost that were saved. Great as is its humanitarian work, it is a humanitarianism inspired by the redemptive spirit.

Of this redemptive spirit organized for humanitarian ends. General Bramwell Booth is one of the finest contemporaneous embodiments. He is a superbusiness man who has devoted himself to saving men. As an executive worth $50,000 a year he is content with $1000. The "Gentleman With the Duster", termed him a fanatic. He is a "fanatic", who has a warm and joyous heart. Mr. Harold Begbie remarks upon his lack of pessimism. In contrast with the materialistic temper of today, which is cynical and pessimistic, is the buoyant, hopeful spirit of this man who believes in God with a great faith. An onlooker might well covet the gaiety of the Salvationist. In daily contact with the worst phases of humanity, he preserves a confident hope concerning humanity. General Bramwell Booth will stand in history as an administrator of a high order, who marshaled into step a vast company of men and women for the business of making God more real to mankind through the personal touch of loving hands. The throne of service and redemption which the first and second of the Booth dynasty built in the Salvation Army organization will endure.

ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES.

Mrs. W.: "Some time ago another reader mentioned making wall paper portieres, asking how to make the paper beads. I have made them and this is how: Cut triangles of wall paper, each triangle elongated. Take a steel knitting needle and wind the triangle on his needle, beginning at the broad end of the triangle; when you get to the point, touch it with glue so as to keep the little triangle tightly rolled up. You may shellac each bead with white shellac, or not, as you please. String them on heavy thread with a real (china or glass) bead between the paper beads, and fasten these long strings to a portiere rod."

Answer: Thank you for these directions, which I am sure "Mrs. G. M." will be glad to see in response to her request.

C. W. S.: "Can you tell me how to prevent fur coming out of a fur coat? Would steaming help?"

Answer: I never heard of steaming a fur coat to prevent the fur from falling and I would not advise it. Go to a professional furrier and ask him about the garment. You might ruin it by experimenting with it yourself.

Constant Reader: "Please give me a recipe for Potted Steak."

Answer: Potted Steak: Get two and one-half pounds of bottom round steak and cut it in pieces suitable for serving. Dip these pieces in flour and brown them well in drippings, then add six onions sliced and peeled, one cup of diced raw turnips, one cup of canned tomato strained (so that only the tomato juice and none of the more solid parts are added to the meat), and season with one teaspoon of salt and a generous pinch of pepper. Now barely cover with boiling water and let cook slowly till tender—about two hours—adding more water as the original boils away. Serve garnished with peas.

Tomorrow—Corn Muffins.

More People Yet Lower Death Rate

When with more people in a country there are fewer deaths per thousand there must be a reason.

In 1881 the population of England and Wales was many millions less than in 1923 and yet the death rate with these many millions more in 1923 was less than in 1881.

In 1881 the infant death rate was 130 per thousand births; last year it was only 70, that is about one half.

What has been one of the factors in bringing this about?

During the war "man power" was the biggest thing in the world. Therefore as much as any one will guard or protect that which they consider precious, so therefore was the health of the soldier given every means of protection, and every chance for complete development.

He was first overhauled physically and any physical defects were noted, pointed out but were corrected as far as was possible at the time.

Bad teeth were removed, any shortage of teeth, grinding teeth, was replaced.

Bad tonsils were removed, nasal obstruction rectified, eyes fitted with glasses, varicose veins removed, and hernias repaired.

Any tendency toward kidney ailments was detected and treatment instituted.

Hearts that were too fast, or irregular, but organically sound, were given exercise to strengthen and regulate them.

Recruits whose chest measurements were below normal were given breathing exercises to bring them up to the required standard.

Do you wonder then that notwithstanding the fact that many hundreds of the best stock in the country were killed, leaving what would naturally be a little poorer stock, nevertheless, such was the effect of these "lessons in health" on the community in general that the death rate per thousand was less than it was before the war. So although the war was beset with many evils, and the loss of our best bloods, nevertheless it did teach the world in general better habits of life.

Simply that the things that keep us from being our real selves, 100 per cent., can in many cases be rectified if we allow the family doctor to examine us once a year.

FLU
is now Epidemic!

Compared with 1918, this epidemic, so far, is mild; and yet, in spite of vastly increased capacity, the Vicks laboratories are once more operating night and day to meet the emergency demand for more and more Vicks VapoRub.

How best to use Vicks VapoRub

1. AS A PREVENTIVE

Several times a day, insert Vicks up the nostrils. Also melt a little night and morning in a bowl of boiling water and inhale the steaming medicated vapors. This helps to ward off germ-infection.

2. IF A COLD STARTS

If posible, go home and go to bed. Take a laxative and a hot lemonade. Apply hot, wet towels over throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. Then rub vigorously with Vicks. Spread on thickly and cover with warm flannel. Leave the bed-covering loose, so that the vapors, released by the body-warmth, may be freely inhaled. At the same time, Vicks also acts through the skin like a poultice. Repeat this treatment every four hours, eat lightly, and stay in bed until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body throw off the cold more quickly.

3. AFTER A FLU ATTACK

Physicians advise that the chief danger in this epidemic is after influenza. Then, more than ever, colds, attacking the weakened system, may lead to bronchitis, sinus-trouble or pneumonia. This is especially true of children or old folks. Heed even the slightest cold as a danger signal. Vicks is especially valuable here, because it is applied externally, and so can be used freely, as often as needed, without upsetting delicate digestions, as too much "dosing" is so apt to do.

Blue eyed and blond complexion are characteristics of sturdy Viking Ancestors. People with Blue Eyes indicate an optimistic disposition.

What Story Do YOUR Eyes Tell?

Besides being indicative of character and disposition, eyes tell the story of your health. They show the condition of the blood, digestion, liver and the organs of elimination. Do your blue eyes indicate the same robust health of your sturdy ancestors? If not: does a yellow tinge indicate a disordered system?

Don't spoil the fascination of your eyes—if the whites are not bright and clear, with a pleasing tinge of blue — if a yellowish tinge robs them of their beauty, it is a warning of sluggish liver and intestinal inactivity.

CHAPTER LVI.

"A Dragging Anchor.

...as terribly sweet and terribly ...reckless to bury her face in Chet's shoulder and let him try to dry her tears. Rosalie sat up presently, her good sense coming back to her, and murmured: "We better go on over to The Springs and let you do whatever you had to do and then go straight back to Aunt Sarah's. I'm too unhappy to think!"

"And I'm too upset to try to talk cement to old Sam Crowder, that's sure—but I suppose we better get us something to eat."

She found herself remembering Aunt Sarah's numerous remarks about Chet's unfailing appetite. It was too absurd of him, in the midst of this unhappiness to talk about mere food! She said rather petulantly: "I don't see how you can talk about eating!"

"Because I'm hungry and know you must be," he said sensibly.

"I shan't go into that horrid old hotel," she told him.

"Neither shall I!" he was positively gay about it. He stepped on the starter, let the car fairly fly over the little stretch of smooth state road that lay before them. At the next village she laughed when she discovered what he meant to do. He went into the grocery and general merchandise store and came out presently with numerous bundles while a small boy followed him with more. He had a thick steak and a cheap broiling rack, some rolls and butter, a can of asparagus tips, coffee and tin coffee pot. He laughed at her surprise.

"We'll have a picnic, Rosie girl," he said cheerfully, "maybe when we've had a snack we'll have our wits about us."

They made their tiny camp fire on the banks of a wee stream about a mile beyond the village. That is, Chet made it. He took a cushion from the car, put it on the ground for her and went deftly about his cooking. It was amazing how quickly he had the coals glowing and the steak sizzling over them.

Serving presented rather a problem. He had only his pocket knife, but he managed to haggle off slices of bread for toast and bits of steak to tuck between them.

Rosalie nibbled at hers and laughed. "You forgot the salt," she reminded him.

But they were youthfully hungry and managed to make a good meal sans salt. And when it was over he sat beside her and took her hand in his and said soberly.

"Rose, we have to talk things out. And I guess there's only one thing to do. Make a clean breast of it to Jean. And you go tell Mr. Quimby that you want a divorce. I don't know just how we will make out, but we will somehow. I'll get me some sort of job. Your saying it wasn't for things you got married makes me sure. We can't give each other up. I—well, I guess you know just about how I'm fixed. Every cent I could save has gone into that bungalow that was meant for you. I guess the right thing to do is to deed that to Jean."

"She wouldn't take it," said Rosalie huskily.

She couldn't look at him. He put things so squarely and crudely and bluntly. She was horribly conscious of her own little—ness, of what a wretched mess she had made of things—she wanted to hide her eyes and cry again.

"Well, it wouldn't be any use to us. We couldn't live here after what's happened, even if we wanted to. And I—well. I wouldn't feel decent living in it. She's set such store by it."

Rose was crying now. Wailing out her rather stupid: "Oh, it's all my fault and I hate myself!"

"It's both our faults!" Chet told her soberly. "But I don't guess we can help it."

He made no move to caress her, just held her hand firmly.

"You'll have to do like I say," he ordered briskly. "I'll do the talking. I'll tell Jean the fault is all mine. And I guess the best thing to do about your husband is just write him that you made a mistake and—"

"But Chet," she stammered, "where in the world will I go in the meantime? I haven't a cent and I don't know where I could get a job and—I—you—haven't any job if you leave your father's business— and I couldn't take money from you—if you did have. Oh," she ended rather blankly. "It's not a bit the way it is in books and plays, is it? In books and plays they never have to worry about—just money."

"I'll manage the money end of it somehow." he told her sternly. He jumped up alertly, made a neat pile of rubbish, set fire to it and stowed the coffee pot and the broiler against a tree trunk. "Come along," he said gravely.

The clock on the instrument board said ten minutes past four. She started guiltily when she saw it.

"Oh Chet, I didn't know it was afternoon even!"

He laughed a little unsteadily.

"I didn't know what time it was either," he said and took her in his arms and kissed her solemnly.

They didn't talk going home. Chet's calm assumption that she was going to acquiesce to his plans rather alarmed her. It was one thing to flirt with him and indulge in rather melodramatic scenes with him but quite another thing to go through all the troubles attendant on getting a divorce from Quim so she could marry him.

She spoke her doubt aloud:

"Chet," she said soberly, "maybe Quim, won't—I—well, I don't know just how I can get a divorce from Quim—he hasn't done anything."

"Oh, I guess you can, all right," said Chet grimly. "Folks, do, you know."

"Being married is—being awfully anchored," she stammered, just as they drove back into Emsville.

"Well, I guess a lot of anchors drag," he said bitterly.

She put her hand on his.

"Chet," she said faintly. "I think you'd better stop at the hotel and leave the car there. I'll walk back to the house. I think we'd better not say anything to anybody tonight—not tonight."

"Do you mean you won't go through with it?" Chet asked savagely.

"I mean I have to have time to think—to plan—I—oh, Chet," she cried softly, "don't look that way!"

Jean was home when she slipped into the kitchen sitting huddled beside the kitchen stove. Her cold was much worse and she looked so utterly wretched that Rosalie felt as though she ought to get down on her knees to her.

Aunt Sarah was frying chops in a sputtering skillet.

"That monkey of yours has driven me nearly crazy," she announced. "I don't want you should leave it here when you go out again. Chet's cousin Eunice stopped to leave a camisole for Jean's hope chest and I wished you'd heard her go on about that monkey! She was some surprised to here you were here," she cast a shrewd glance at her startled niece, "And she certainly is outspoken! I guess from all she says you're a very lucky woman to have got you a good sensible husband."

"She's a hateful old busybody!" Rosalie snapped. "I wish she would mind her own business."

Development Is Planned For The Goodenough Ymir

YMIR, B.C., Jan. 14.—The Goodenough mine which has been steadily worked by two of the owners, Harry Jackson and Alex McDonald, for the past six months, after being released by the Enterprise Consolidated Mining company, shipped during November and December several carloads of ore to the Trail smelter. These shipments netted a substantial profit, proving in spite of experts' opinions, that the owners' faith in the property was justified.

These men several years ago worked one whole winter through until they struck rich ore, some of it going seven ounces in gold per ton. Specimens of this ore are on display around Ymir.

A development campaign is planned for the present and in the spring shipments will be resumed.

Second and Third Year Teams Are Victors in Fernie School Hockey

FERNIE, B. C., Jan. 14.—The hockey teams of second and fourth years of the High School league played Saturday morning, a final score of 4-3 in favor of the second year being chalked up.

The second goal, which was scored by Cummings for the second year, was of a rather freakish nature. It rebounded from the back, over the top of the goal and remained inside. After some discussion as to its legitimacy, it was finally counted.

Third year played against first year, winning 7-2.

Play was close at first but in second period Corrie broke away to score four times.

First year secured two goals after a hard fight.

In the third period, Brown and Corrie tallied another three goals.

Collarbone of Jerome Scheerer, New Hamburg, was broken when he fell on cement steps of school building.

HOW THE MAIL IS CARRIED NOW IN ALASKA

A big forward step in the mail service to the Yukon is the combination tractor and plane system which now handles mails into Dawson and beyond. A tractor stage makes the return trip between White Horse and Dawson in one week. The new plane service makes the trip in two hours and twenty minutes. Photo shows the air mail from Greenfield to Pickering in the Yukon being loaded with its valuable registered mail which includes $40,000 worth of gold bricks from the gold fields of the Klondyke. The machine is one of the air mail planes operated by the Klondyke Airways of White Horse, who take the mail to and from the flying fields in motor trucks.

Hagen Forced To Play Minus Luck Caddie

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

The recent ruling of the U.S.G.A. against traveling caddies will take a lot of color out of golf.

Golf followers took almost as much interest in some of the regular caddies of the famous amateurs and pros as they did in the principals themselves.

For years Water Hagen had the same caddie who carried clubs for him in all his important matches in both this country and in Europe And this boy knew as much about the "Hais's" game as Walter did himself and took just as much pride in his victories and felt his defeats as badly.

Hagen told me of one putt in his life that he just had to sink to justify his caddie's belief in him

"It occurred when I won the British open the first time," said Walter, "and I had to sink a 30 footer to do it. After studying my putt I looked up and saw that my caddies was walking off the green into the crowd, figuring I couldn't miss under the circumstances, I 'spose. Believe it or not, I just simply had to sink that putt for my caddies as well as for myself."

Chick Evans formerly had a lucky caddies that he carried about with him for years. Chick actually figurged that his caddie won half of his titles for him

WOLVES WALK ALL OVER THE MAROONS IN JUNIOR HOCKEY

Score a 7-1 Victory in Their First Encounter in Junior League

Wolves romped to a 7-1 victory over the Maroons in their initial game of the Nelson Junior Hockey league schedule at the skating rink here last night before a good sized crowd of fans. It was a good exhibition of hockey and was not quite as one sided as the score indicated.

Arcure opened the scoring for the Wolves within a few minutes of the opening of the game. Campion added another for the Wolves a few minutes later on a solo rush to complete the scoring in the first period.

WOLVES SCORE MORE.

The second period was fairly even, the Wolves probably having the edge. After 7 minutes of play Stromstead soloed through the entire Wolves' team to beat Carlson in the Wolves' net for the only Maroon goal. Marshall added three more in the second period for the Wolves.

Wolves kept up an offensive in the third period and carried the play, Marshall and Roddy McLeod each adding another goal. The Maroons were unable to break through and did not seriously menace the Wolves goal.

THE LUMINARIES.

For the Wolves Tony Arcure, Johnny Wallace and Harold and Walter Gillett were the stars. Farenholtz played a good game in goal for the Maroons saving hot ones time after time. Stromstead was also good for the Maroons.

A. Farenholtz and H. Gillett each got five minutes for coming to blows after Gillett had charged Farenholtz. Marshall drew a three minute penalty for charging Shugg. Walter Gillett got three minutes for slashing. Jack Masacar, as referee, handled the game well.

ELEVEN IN RUNNING FOR FOUR ALDERMANIC SEATS

FERNIE, B. C., Jan. 14.—For the first time in the history of Fernie three candidates are in the running for mayor of the city. Few Issues Make Rally; Allied Chemical Up 18 Points; Air Issues Go Up

A Mining Operation of Real Magnitude

Located about 25 miles east of Baker in Eastern Oregon, comprises over 100 claims covering five miles of an ore zone which shows nine parallel veins.

EXTENSIVE DEVELOPMENT has been prosecuted to a depth of around 530 feet below outcrops, and it is estimated that on two veins alone 1,000,000 tons of average grade ore is in sight.

CONSERVATIVELY FINANCED and ably managed, Oregon Copper is now a proven property. The stock has been listed on Victoria Stock Exchange, and applications made for listing in Vancouver, Seattle, San Francisco and Toronto.

At present market the stock apparently offers an attractive opportunity for a speculation.

U. S. and Canadian Railways to Spend Millions for Stock

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—The expenditure by railways of the United States and Canada for new equipment, additions and improvements to their properties during 1929, is estimated at $800,000,000 says the New York Journal of Commerce. This figure, based on authoritative information is approximately $50,000,000 higher than the amount expended by the carriers of both countries last year.

Railroad authorities regard the improvement program as striking not alone because of its magnitude but because it follows nine years of similar activity.

Corn, Wheat and Oats Make Record Highs

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Flickering out of chances of a bumper corn crop in Argentina sent corn, wheat and oats today to new price records for the season. Closing quotations on corn were unsettled ¾c to 1⅛c net higher, wheat finished ⅛c to ⅝c up, oats ⅛c to ⅜c advance and provisions varying from 5c decline to a rise of 2c.
