RECRUITS ARE POURING INTO AUSTRIA ARMY

110,000 Men Ready to Meet Revolt Threats

SOCIALISTS ARE STORMING AGAIN

Streets In Vienna Are Patrolled by Armed Forces

By WADE WERNER
(Copyright 1934 by the Asoociated Press).

VIENNA, March 1.—Recruiting for the Austrian army and its allied Heimwehr corps spurted today as a Socialist official newspaper urged party members to be ready "for a resumption of our fight."

Chancellor Dollfuss has conquered, but "opportunities for a resumption of our fight and for our victory will come," asserted the organ, published in Czechoslovakia and distributed here by government mail men.

At least 110,0000 were under arms today, ready for any continency, and their members increase continuously in response to government appeals at the height of the recent Socialist uprising and because of fearsome rumors of many hues.

These reports, all of which were denied, included one that mob violence was brewing against Americans here, that an attempt was made on the life of the chancellor and that Nazis were considering some sort of coup.

More than 80,000 boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 18 in Vienna alone will be organized for systematic instruction in drill calculated to imbue them with a Fascist patriotic spirit. The new youth

FRANCE STILL ARMS HOLDOUT

PARIS, March 1 (AP)—Premier Gaston Doumergue's foreign affairs director held out today against a proposed four-power treaty permitting Germany to re-arm and demanded guarantees that any new arms level be observed.

England and Italy, it is understood, were near an accord to put a lid on their armaments and let Germany re-arm as a result of visits to Berlin and Rome of Captain Anthony Eden, British lord privy seal and leading arms negotiator.

Premier Doumergue will give a definite French reply in a note to London in two or three days.

290 Men Return to Camps Most of Remainder Likely

IT IS PLAIN POO YEE TO YOU

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP) Names of Henry Pu-Yi today enthroned as Emperor Kang Teh of Manchukuo, are pronounced differently in Japan and China.

KiYoshi Iwamoto, New York representative of the Reno News agency of Japan, explained the various pronunciations as follows:

Pu-Yi—In Japan is pronounced "Foo Ghee;" in China, "Poo Yee."

Kang Teh—In Japan, "Co-Toe-Cod;" in China, "Kahng Toe."

DINNER FATAL TO NINE MEN

Toadstools Eaten in Mistake; 15 Are Dangerously Ill

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif., March 1 (AP)—Their dinner of rejoicing turned into a fatal feast by poisonous mushrooms, nine Filipinos were dead here today and 15 other persons were seriously ill.

The 22 Filipino vegetable pickers and their two white employers ate what they though were succulent mushrooms. John and Walter Huber, the farmers, were precariously ill in general hospital here, together with the 13 remaining Filipinos.

The 24 men became ill Tuesday night. They were rushed to the hospital here. Six died yesterday, three today, and death may not spare a single one of the 24, the dooctors said.

KILLS TWO AND TAKES OWN LIFE

EDMONTON, March 1 (CP)—Believed to have been insane with Jealousy, John Manzak, 38, Wednesday, shot and killed Mrs. Elijash, 26, and her husband, Nick Elijash, 38, as they worked in the yard of their farm home near Wildwood, Alta., and then walked into a bush and ended his own life by sending a charge from a 12-gauge shotgun into his head. Wildwood is approximately 80 miles west of here.

PILOT HONORED

OTTAWA, March 1 (CP)—In recognition of 16 years of war and peace time flying, Pilot Walter E. Gilbert of Fort McMurray, Alta., has been awarded the transcanada trophy for 1933.

SIX STRIKERS IN JAIL UPON THEFT CHARGE

Theft of Government Clothing Is Charged

OTHERWISE DAY IS UNEVENTFUL

Staffs Work Hard to Reinstate the Strikers

Approximately 290 men, of the 360 that the four camps involved in the recent relief camp strike were short of Tuesday, preceding the dispersal here Wednesday afternoon of the demonstrating strikers and their ejection from town, were on the camp rolls again by Thursday night, and the number still missing was down to 70.

The 290 included a considerable number of men who absented themselves from their camps to avoid the walkouts, and later returned and asked to go to work; over 100 who were in Nelson as willing or unwilling participants in the abortive demonstration which the police terminated when the ultimatum expired, and who applied here for reinstatement and were sent to the reception camp at Taghum, and from there redistributed to their original camps; and 140-odd similarly sent down to Taghum and not yet distributed.

Of the 70 loss to the camp rolls,

COLUMBIA VOTES ON MARCH TENTH

VICTORIA, March 1 (CP)—Nominations for the British Columbia by-election in the re-created riding of Columbia will be held March 6 with polling, if necessary, on March 10; it was announced today through the office of Premier T. D. Pattullo.

If there is no contest, the new member will be able to take his seat in the house a week from today. If polling takes place, the successful candidate will have to wait until the final certificate of election is fyled. There are 1583 names on the constituency voters' list.

East Kootenay Is Against New Seat

Protest Split in Riding Which Supported Hon. Mr. MacPherson

LAKE WINDERMERE, B. C., March 1 (CP)—In connection with the protest of electors in this district, which has been forwarded to Premier Pattullo, against the creation of a separate riding in Columbia, the explanation is given that the present representation is considered entirely satisfactory.

A large portion of the territory is nearer to Cranbrook than Golden and business interests are more closely affiliated. Canal Flat, the largest poll in the district, is composed almost exclusively of former residents of Cranbrook, long associated with Hon. Frank MacPherson, the present member.

Golden interests are more closely affiliated with Revelstoke and will be more so when the Big Bend highway is completed. Electors here consider the expense of a by-election and sessional allowance for an additional member a further unnecessary burden on the taxpayers.

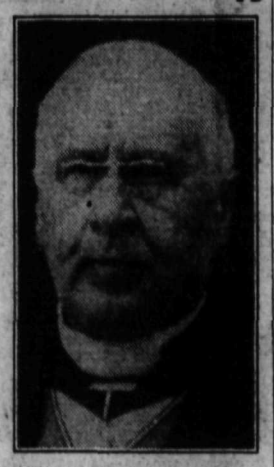
Essentially a farming community and with low returns from their products, the farmers are more interested in the elimination of unnecessary expense and a possible reduction in taxation, the protest indicates.

Fraser Farmers Protest Against Toll Bridge Plan

VICTORIA, March 1 (CP)—Farmers of the Fraser valley cannot afford to pay tolls to cross the river, the private bills committee of the British Columbia legislature were told by a delegation today of the Fraser Valley Reeves' association, who opposed the clause in the Fraser River Bridge company's private bill which would require closing of the present free bridge when the new one is built.

Reeve McDonald of Coquitlam, Reeve Both of Langley and Reeve J. Brown of Surrey presented the views of the area.

World Tour at 73



Bishop J. Taylor Smith, who is 73, will shortly start on a world missionary tour, visiting Ceylon, Singapore, Java, Dutch East Indies, Australia and South Africa. His trip "is really for the sake of getting a rest." Bishop Taylor Smith was chaplain general to the British forces for almost 25 years.

RODENTS WILL GET THE WORKS

Cheap Poisons for the Kootenay Battle; Farmers Elect

VICTORIA, March 1 (CP)—The provincial department of agriculture intends to wage intensive warfare against the rodent menace in the Kamloops, Cariboo and Kootenay districts, the advisory board of the Farmers' Institute was advised by Hon. Dr. K. C. MacDonald, the minister, at a session of the board in the legislative buildings here today.

The minister told the delegates his department would make every effort to rid the district of rodents and would bring in large quantities of poison to do the job. The poison would be distributed at a low cost. The minister said he was in favor of gopher club competitions.

Other matters considered by the board today were the abolition of resident fishing licences and that resident game licences should be $2 instead of $3.50.

The board wants the $10 bounty on cougars continued and $15 for wolves and the bounty on coyotes restored during the summer.

Officers elected today were: Chairman, A. B. Smith, Cranbrook, vice-chairman O. B. Appleton, Procter, and secretary, W. L. Bonavia, Victoria.

SPAIN'S CABINET QUITS OFFICE

MADRID, March 1 (AP)—Internal political difficulties caused the resignation of the cabinet today. President Nicoto Alcala Zamora immediately began conversations with party leaders with a view to a quick solution of the crisis.

Premier Alejandro Lerroux and the members of his entire cabinet handed in their resignations after Lerroux had failed to convince the president that a partial reorganization of the cabinet would end certain internal opposition to Zamoras policies.

DR. GILLIES TAKES HIS SEAT IN HOUSE

VICTORIA, March 1 (CP)—Absent through illness which detained him during the first week of the current session, Dr. J. J. Gillies veteran member for Yale, was welcomed warmly on his return to the B. C. legislature yesterday.

OTTAWA LETS ALL FOOD CONTRACTS FOR CAMPS

CALGARY, March 1 (CP)—Officers of the national defence department in Calgary who administer relief camps in British Columbia are not responsible for the heavy purchases of Alberta beef complained of before the agricultural committee of the British Columbia legislature.

George M. Murray, M.L.A., for Lillooet, told the committee yesterday of the large purchases of Alberta beef for the relief camps and declared it looked like "someone was working a profitable racket."

"Contracts for purchases in connection with relief camps are all let in Ottawa except for a few small extras we may buy," stated Brig.-General H. H. Matthews, officer commanding military district No. 13, in charge of the camps.

NOBLE FIVE TO RESUME WORK AT SANDON?

Lincoln States He Will Call for Diamond Drilling Bids

TO RECONDITION THE 100-TON MILL

Ships Three Cars of Ore From Athabasca Mine Above Nelson

Early resumption of work at the Sandon holdings of the Noble Five Mining company has been forecast by Paul Lincoln, president and manager of the company.

Although silver-lead prices would be the ultimate deciding factor, Mr. Lincoln stated that the company will immediately accept bids for diamond drilling the large, virgin block of ground between the 800 and 1800-foot levels. A small crew will be put to work immediately reconditioning the 100-ton mill and mine workings.

The drilling will serve to prove up the ore reserves and it is planned to drill from stagings in the connecting man-way and drive the intermediary levels accordingly.

Work on the new low-level tunnels at the Athabasca and Venus mines on Toad mountain is progressing satisfactorily, declared Mr. Lincoln. Theee are gold operations. Three cars of ore have been shipped from the Athabasca to the Trail smelter.

PU-YI IS OUTCAST BY NATIONALISTS

NANKING, China, March 1 (AP)—The national government's foreign office issued a withering denunciation today of Henry Pu-Yi's enthronement as emperor of Manchukuo.

Condemning the newly-made emperor, who once sat in China's dragon throne as a boy, foreign minister Wang-Wei declared that "Pu-Yi's assumption of the imperial title is but another of his acts of high treason against China."

Wang confirmed yesterday's indication that the national government is adamant in its determination not to recognize the "so-called Manchukuo."

MRS. McPHERSON WINS RIGHT TO APPEAL IN HUBBY'S DIVORCE CASE

LONDON, March 1 (CP cable)—Mrs. Cora Lillian MacPherson of Edmonton today won the right to appeal to the privy council against the decree of divorce granted her husband, Hon. O. L. McPherson, minister of public works in the Alberta government.

SENATE HAS SAVED DOMINION MILLIONS

OTTAWA, March 1 (CP)—Evidence that the senate, in amending the rejecting bills, had saved Canada at least $103,650,000, was offered to the upper chamber today by Senator Charles Murphy. He quoted Sir Richard Cartwright as saying that "the value of the senate is not only in what the senate does but in what the senate prevents other people from doing."

Recently Senator A. D. McRae had drawn the senate's attention to the fact that "the people of Canada have but a very vague and quite erroneous impression as to the responsibility of this honorable house with respect to government."

WEATHER DAMP, MISTY NELSON

Thursday was another damp day and during the late afternoon a heavy mist blanketed the valley. The rainfall for the day amounted to .1 inch and the temperatures were 31 and 39 degrees.

BRIGHTER INDUSTRIAL LOOKOUT IN N. S.

HALIFAX, March 1 (CP) — A brighter industrial future was predicted for Nova Scotia today in the speech from the throne read by Lieut.-Governor Walter H. Covert at the opening of the 40th provincial legislature.

DRAYTON GOES EAST

VANCOUVER, March 1 (CP)—Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the economic committee of the Canadian chamber of commerce, was enroute east today after completing a speaking tour of the Dominion.

Can He Take It? Well, Could You? Broken Hip Is His 17th Major Accident—He's 83

ELDORA, Iowa, March 1 (CP)—Hank Shafer, 83, "the man of many accidents," can take it, and how.

He's recovering in a hospital from a fracture of the hip, sustained when he fell on the ice near his home. The recovery will be Hank's 17th major one.

In his 83 years he's been struck by lightning three times. He was buried in a coal mine once. He fell down a high trestle. Blown into the air by a cannon, he lost an arm and an eye. He's been buried under two tons of clay and has fallen 30 feet over a cliff.

A horse threw him and dragged him through a barbed wire fence. Hank came out of that with three broken ribs and a broken collar bone. He sustained a skull fracture in a fall from a bob-sled.

Then at 80, he hit his stride to survive an attack of double pneumonia. At 81 a paralytic stroke stopped him for a time. But he came back at 82 to sustain a few broken bones when a horse and wagon ran over him. And the bones were broken again in an auto accident later the same year.

MOORE, REDDING, M'GILLIVRAY OUT OF ALL AMATEUR HOCKEY GAMES FOR REST OF SEASON

Hewitt Rules Kimberley Can Carry on in the Allan Cup Playdowns Without Them; Word Late Thursday Night

VANCOUVER, Mach 1 (CP).—Ken Moore, G. B. McGillivray and R. W. Redding, stars on the Kimberley Dynamiters, finalists with Vancouver Quakers in the British Columbia senior amateur hockey race, have been declared ineligible for further competition in organized amateur hockey this season.

Art Jefferd, president of the British Columbia Hockey association, tonight received word from President R. W. Hewitt of the Canadian Amateur Hockey association, that Dynamiters were eligible for Allan cup competition providing the three players whose transfers the Saskatchewan body refused to sanction, did not play with them.

Moore, McGillivray and Redding went to Kimberley from the prairies last year and secured legitimate positions. The Saskatchewan officials refused to grant them transfers, maintaining they were not bona fide.

Minimum Wage Act Violated by B. C. Department Stores?

That Is Charge Made by John Price, a C.C.F. Member

WHERE IS WORK AND WAGES PLAN?

VICTORIA, March 1 (CP).—"I have information to the effect that departmental stores in the city of Vancouver have been continuously violating the minimum wage act," stated John Price, (C.C.F.-Vancouver East) in the senate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne in the British Columbia legislature today.

Citing examples, Mr. Price said that in some instances, when an employee became qualified under the act to receive the minimum wage, he was told his services were no longer required; but that it might be possible to be re-employed if application were made at the office, and he was re-engaged on the basis of a wage considerably less than the minimum in the act.

Other instances have occurred, said Mr. Price, where the actual

February Building Total $1600 Trail

TRAIL, B.C., March 1.—Although total value of building permits issued in Trail during February was only $1600, it is almost three times the total for February of 1933, when permits to the value of $550 were taken out, according to H. D. Bayley, city building inspector.

No permits were issued in January of 1933 or 1934 so the above amounts are also the comparative figures for building permits for the first two months of the two years.

No new work was started in February of this year, the permits issued being for repairs and alterations.

Permits issued in February were as follows:

S. Fame, Nelson street, repairs following fire, $600; H. Calidcott, Riverside avenue, alterations to fire place, $400; E. G. Crispin, Third avenue, repairs to dwelling, $300; A. Lauriente, Victoria street and Pine avenue, repairs to dwelling, $300.

COAST FIRM FINED UNDER THE FEEDING STUFFS LEGISLATION

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., March 1 (CP)—Issuing a warning that the feeding stuffs act of the Dominion must be observed, Magistrate H. G. Johnston in city police court found the Brackman-Ker Milling company, limited, New Westminster, guilty of breaking the act and fined the company $10 and costs.

The company, for whom John Clark, manager, appeared in codri, was charged with exposing or holding for sale feeding stuff December 12 which contained more than five vital weed seeds per ounce, the maximum permitted under the act. Mr. Clark pleaded not guilty.

Wheat Moves in Narrow Range

WINNIPEG, March 1 (CP)—Wheat futures moved within a range of only ½ cent on the Winnipeg grain exchange today and closed at unchanged levels.

May option finished at 67¾ with July 69 cents.

It was estimated some 200,000 bushels were sold for shipment.

Hunger Marchers Storm the Palace

But Do Not Demonstrate; Several Cause Storm in British House

LONDON, March 1 (AP)—Groups of unemployed "hunger marchers" peered through the iron gates of Buckingham palace today, then dispersed without a demonstration.

Extra patrols of bobbies were on duty as the marchers walked to the front of the palace. The gates were reopened at 6:30 p.m. when the marchers left.

While debate was proceeding quietly on a new Anglo-Russian trade agreement in the almost empty house of commons tonight, a number of hunger marchers seated in the visitors' gallery suddenly created a stormy scene.

Jumping to their feet they shouted, "Down with the national starvation government!" and "Down with the slave government!"

After a struggle Scotland Yard officials hustled the interrupters out of the building.

WAGES FORCED DOWN IN ZEAL TO GET SALES

Mayor of Stratford Tells Furniture Side of Tale

EXPERIENCED MAN GETS 76 CENTS DAY

Cabinets Cost $10.92 Sold for $11.92 to Bring in $18.70

OTTAWA, March 1 (CP)— A glimpse of chain and department stores forcing down wages and demoralizing labor conditions in an industry through mass buying, was given to the house business committee today by Mayor O. J. Kerr of Stratford, Ont. He told of big-buying organizations holding a price club over the Ontario furniture manufacturers, forcing down wages and costs in their zeal for sales and more sales.

Behind a cloak of anonymity, the Stratford mayor, himself a furniture worker, told of a manufacturer in that city making a suite at a cost of $10.92. It was sold to a Toronto department store for $11.92 and advertised to the retail trade at $18.90. A wardrobe cost $10.84 to produce, was sold to a Toronto store for $11, the general public paying $18.70.

STRIKE RAISED WAGES

It took a four-week strike in the Stratford furniture shops last September to raise wages, said Mr. Kerr, and ever today the levels were extremely low due to piece work standards. Before the walkout, a man with 21 years' experience worked for eight and 10 cents an hour. Another man received $3 for a full

YOUTH NO WORSE TODAY; IN THE OLD DAYS THEY JUST PULLED THE BLINDS

So Declares Mrs. Paul Smith, Lady Member in the B. C. House

VICTORIA, March 1 (CP)—"Youth of today are no wrose than youth of today are no worse than youth ence is that in old days youth pulled down the blinds," according to Mrs. Paul Smith, (Lib.-Vancouver Burrard).

Mrs. Smith, only woman member of the British Columbia legislature, made her maiden speech yesterday, raising again a woman's voice in the place of that of the late Mary Ellen Smith, so long one of the most colorful figures in Canadian public life; and the empire's first woman cabinet minister.

Mrs. Smith paid tribute to her predecessor "as the pioneer worker for social service legislation enacted in British Columbia," and stated that women and children of the province owed her a debt they could not repay.

Speaking of unemployment insurance she said that never again would the labor of all people be needed all the time to produce the world's requirements. The world's work should be performed by younger men and women eager for the struggle, and older people must not be compelled to hold on to jobs or starve while youth at its heart out in idleness.

WOMEN KNIT IN THE B.C. HOUSE

VICTORIA, March 1 (CP)—Mr. Speaker George Black of the house of commons at Ottawa notwithstanding, knitting is very conspicuous in the galleries of the British Columbia legislature.

Fast-moving needles click as the problems of the province, purled and plain, are unfolded on the floor.

They seemed to exercise a hideous fascination for a nervous member who was about to make a maiden-speech yesterday.

ADDYMAN SPEAKS, PRAYER-MEETING

Rev. Charles Addyman of Moyie, who attended the Kootenay United church presbyterial, spoke at the mid-weekly prayer service held at the Baptist church Wednesday evening, on "Second Hand Religion."

Religion was a personal experience and not something that is handed down by traditions, he stated. At the heart religion is man's yearning for God, and no church nor bible, nor creed can satisfy unless the power of God touches the springs of life and feeling. Rev. H. W. Guscott presided.

BOARD MOOTS TRAIL-PROCTER GAS-CAR IDEA

Board's Committee to Urge a Day Service

Suggestion that the present train service between Trail, Nelson, and Kootenay lake might well be supplemented by a gas-car which would give a day-time service between Trail and Procter, was made to the council of the board of trade Thursday by C. F. McHardy, who said Nelson merchants were voicing the opinion that the present service was inadequate.

The present service is by the morning westbound train, which is met at Castlegar by a local from Trail, and the reverse of this at night.

Instructions were given by the council to the freight and transportation committee to bring this suggestion to the attention of William Manson, Canadian Pacific division superintendent.

CONCERT SERIES TYPICAL OF TIMES

Three Separate Attractions Coming a Month Apart

Typical of the times is the Hollywood concert series, now on tour of the Pacific west and western Canada under the direction of Frederic Shipman, well-known impresario. It is being sponsored in Nelson by the Nelson Men's Glee club. This series made up exclusively of California artists, comprises three separate concert attractions, appearing one month apart and at prices within the reach of the majority of music-lovers. The first event of the series will be a joint recital by Mary Teitsworth, 1st, at St. Paul's church on March 13, soprano, and Marguerite Bitter, pianist.

The two other concerts on the series will present Leslie Brigham, singing actor, and Raymond McFeeters, pianist; and Margaretha Lohmann, pianist, and Kurt Reher, cellist.

Gas Shovel Working Again at Longbeach

LONGBEACH EAST CAMP, March 1—C. D. Ogilvie is in charge of this camp in the absence of Stanley Humphries, foreman in charge, who is confined to Kootenay Lake General hospital by illness. Mr. Humphries is steadily improving.

William Wilson left on Tuesday evening for Broadwater on the Arrow lakes where he has secured temporary employment.

The gas shovel which is operated by the provincial government on this project is at work after a brief shut-down caused by the fact that the two trucks which are ordinarily used hauling material from it, are still at Rock Creek. Good work is being accomplished by the shovel making a temporary road between two cuts.

The recent snowstorm has rendered the road near here very slippery and motorists are advised to have chains on their cars. There is about 10 feet of frost in the road and when this starts to come out in the spring breakup, motorists can anticipate bad roads for the period that the frost is coming out.

E. R. Humphries, storekeeper at this camp, was in Nelson on Wednesday attending to matters in connection with his duties.

Seven men who joined in Monday's parade to Nelson have returned to this camp up to the time of writing and the actual number of men in camp is 91.

Dan Burns has been temporarily transferred to act as gang boss at the west camp to take the place of Charles Hall, who has been moved to Shoreacres.

FERNIE PEOPLE LEAVE FOR COAST

FERNIE, B. C., March 1—Howard Uphill, chief lineman of the East Kootenay Power company left Wednesday for Vancouver where he will visit.

Howard Brown, J. A. MacDonald and Charles Black of Rooseville, B.C., were city visitors Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McVannel left Wednesday for coast points where they will visit. Mr. McVannell has been in poor health for some time.

Mrs. M. A. Kastner of Vancouver is in the city, called here owing to the death of her father, W. W. Brown.

Mrs. L. A. Mills and daughter Audrey are holidaying in Seattle.

Mrs. J. Culleton, George Shorthouse and Miss Loretta Mangan were Nelson visitors this week, returning to the city Wednesday.

T. G. Howland of Minneapolis, Minn., was a Fernie visitor this week.

C. V. Stainsby of the high school teaching staff was called to Vancouver Wednesday owing to the death of his father.

Frank Kearns, chief forrester, B.C. government, returned to the city today after accompanying Game Warden Cameron on a trip into the Flathead. He will leave shortly for Nelson.

Miss Betty Podbielanciik of Spokane is visiting her parents in the city.

Sunday's hockey game between the bankers and the East Kootenay Power company staff left some of the boys so they needed a little "juice" to pep them up. The power company were victorious by a score of 6 to 4.

ELOLUTION OF TRACTOR HITCHES

The success of big-scale farming depends largely upon the amount of work one man accomplishes. By the use of large power units his ability is increased in proportion to the increase in the power he directs. A tractor used under too light a load is not only working inefficiently but the amount of work accomplished by the operator is less than he is able to do. The purpose of the tractor hitch is to permit building up an economical load for the tractor and driver. Forced by the necessity of devising means of pulling more than one implement by tracor, many farmers in Western Canada developed many types of successful hitches which were studied by engineers towards the designing of the standard hitches now in vogue.

Exploding a popular misconception that the intelligence of the average American adult is that of a 12-year-old child, the U.S. Office of Education asserts that only five per cent of adult population have a mental age of 12 years or less.

GOLD MOVE GIVES GOVERNMENT VAST PROFIT ON PAPER

By providing for adoption of the "bullion gold standard" in Canada under the legislation brought down for the purpose of creating a Central bank, the Dominion Government has taken a step which would under current U.S. definitions, be described as "revolutionary." The move is radical in the sense that it turns away dramatically from the past, but rational, because it tends to bring Canada in line with existing world realities.

The Act creating "The Bank of Canada" does not disclose clearly just how far the government plans to go, nor in precisely what direction, in exercising the powers of monetary manipulation that will come to it through acquiring all of the gold backing for money now held by the commercial banks. Instead, it holds to the simple position that, since the new bank is to become the sole agency of currency issue, it is essential for the institution to control and own the metallic base for that currncy.

But the further implications of the move are not hidden deeply, says the Toronto Telegram. The gold, possibly $50,000,000 of it, is to be bought at the old Currency Act rate of $20.67 an ounce, from the banks, while the existing world price for the metal is $35 an ounce. Whenever currency chaos subsides sufficiently to justify fixing a new statutory value on gold with some hope that will be permanent, there will be a paper profit to the government of close to $15 an ounce.

The banks, of course, would prefer securing this profit themselves, instead of having the government get it, but this feature of the policy conforms with accepted practice in other countries.

While taking over this private gold, as well as that held by the government, at the old price, "The Bank of Canada" will also reduce the ratio of metallic backing for money below the point that existed under the old gold standard, the drop being from 40 per cent to 25 per cent. This will increase the total of "free gold" or the store of the precious metal above the amount needed as backing for the present volume of currency in circulation, by 37½ per cent.

If the new bank takes over $50,000,000 in gold, therefore, it will be able to increase its theoretical value to roughly $87,000,000 through revaluation. Subsequently, under the change in currency backing provisions it would be in a position to add approximately $32,000,000 to the store of "free gold". A combination of the two moves would, on paper, enrich the government by almost $70,000,000 in handling the original sum of $50,000,000 in gold at present statutory prices.

While the possibilities of such fiscal legerdemain are breath-taking, it should be remembered that they like the profits—are on paper. The wealth created is of the bookkeeping variety, and to be viewed as more apparent than real. The purchasing power of Canadian money, both at home and externally, has been brought under the control of a great variety of forces which bear little relation to the national gold store or the metallic base for currency, in the period that the country has been completely "off gold." Those forces—such as the position of our foreign trade—will continue to exert more influence on our monetary situation than any scratch of the pen or new legislation at Ottawa, until all chief world currencies are brought into a fixed ratio with each other.

The new gold provision, as observed before, is a step toward bringing Canada in adjustment with existing international realities. One trouble, however, that must be recognized is that these realties, in the present era, have a habit of changing very rapidly.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

COMPLEX OR BIAS—ONE FORM OF MENTAL AILMENT

There was a time, not so long ago, when it was the common opinion that if an individual were insane, it was because there was something wrong with the structure of the brain, just as in diseases of the heart, lungs, or kidneys, there is something wrong with their structure.

However the type of ailment where the structure is the cause of the trouble is not common; the ordinary or usual type of insanity or what is now called mental ailment is not due to structure but to the way the individual uses his brain.

This individual at some time had an experience or a number of experiences which caused him to have a certain viewpoint about one certain part of life or conduct, and he encourages anything and everything that will support this idea or line of conduct.

This is called a complex.

You and I may have certain political or other beliefs and we stick to these beliefs or ideas even when some real logical facts are put up to us which our ordinary common sense would admit were sufficient to upset our beliefs. In other words we have a political or even a religious complex, in which we do not use the same reason or common sense that we use in practically every other thing in life.

Another word for complex might be "bias"; being biased is a certain direction. Thus one large class of insane patients is really where the mind is normal, in a sense, but has allowed a complex or bias to so greatly develop that the individual does not realize that his ideas or conduct are not in line with what the majority of people think or do.

In other words the apparently foolish things that these insane individuals say or do have all been worked out in the patient's mind just as clearly and sensibly as you and I do the sane or sensible things that are expected of us by the community.

For this reason the mental specialist in handling this type of case, doesn't argue with the patient but goes carefully back in the history of the individual and finds the place or the circumstances which started the patient thinking along the line of his particular bias or complex.

It is when he and the patient reach this point, and the event or circumstances is brought out into the cold light of day, that treatment or this type of case begins to make progress.

THE MARCH TO NELSON

They marched in to Nelson and then marched out again.
I wonder if their pilgrimage is going
To be in vain.
They all seemed very cheery and
Exceptionally well dressed.
No doubt they will feel better now
They've got this off their chest.
There are also others on relief who each
Month get twenty-four fifty.
They have five kids, a wife, and themselves to keep
So they have to be very thrifty.
To pay for food, clothes, and light, they
Have to make this do—
Figure this out and you will find there are Others worse off than you.
You will say two wrongs don't make a right,
Which is perfectly correct.
We are all victims of circumstance and
Suffering from the effect.
So now you're been to Nelson, to have
This little talk,
I hope it will result in more gravy
On your pork.

Well, it's March. Did you pay your income tax or make the return as you should have done? It is reported the income of tax return was heavy the last few days at the government office. In fact the result will tax the brains of many a civil servant for the next few months. The government is looking for the funds from this tax and a lot of the people are looking for refunds. Many taxpayers recorded a lot of dependents but now it all depends on the financial department. Taxpayers were allowed a little leeway on insurance. Now they wish insurance of a refund.

March didn't come in like a lion. It didn't come in like a lamb either. It came in all wet if you ask me.

Shoot hands with Tom Ledingham yesterday. Tom is certainly pleased with his win in the coast curling series. Once we got that Brewery cup we were satisfied, said Tom. He reports that Rev. F. R. G. Dredge is not in his usual good state of health but nevertheless he hasn't forgotten the way to lay down a rock.

Well the scene shifts to Kimberley. The Dynamiters hockey win over Trail was a popular one in the district, judging by the phone calls handled in this office. Well we can sit back now and watch Trail build up for next winter. This scribe predicts some new hockey faces on Trail's team next year. However, despite the bad weather, the Kootenays enjoyed some excellent games with keen rivalry between the towns, which is good for any district in such as we live.

More power to you, Kimberley. Let's see you get going bigger and better than ever.

Our February Days

(By Gretchen Gibson)

Let us pay a tribute to these February days before our shortest month is added to the great calendar of oblivion.

Every winter has its outstanding features. Those who jaunted to Fairview last year, (and there were many) to witness the final ski-jumping contest, may recall that perfect winter day, when for sport-activity and snow effects Nelson might have vied with many renowned winter resorts. The ice-bound lake hummed with the rhythm of skaters; coasters shouted their warnings from snow-packed hills; skiers speeding from snow-covered heights swished through the air, like strange wing-footed birds, and disappeared in a cloud of snow; breathless, glowing-cheeked snow-shoers ploughed highways across snow-filled fissures; and along the gleaming roads could even be heard the faint jingle of sleigh-bells, an echo from the Gay Nineties as a smart little horse attached to a pung added its bit to winter's revelry.

This winter has produced no such days of snow and ice and winter sports. Weeks of light snows and rain, slush and mud at first prevailed, then "water, water, everywhere!" The puzzled trees began to bud and bedeck themselves with immense, enthusiastic pussy willows, while bewildered birds of many varieties wheeled in the air, trying to decide whether winter was here and they should be off, or winter was off, and they should remain.

Eventually came February (it is a faithful month), a most remarkable and picturesque February, curtained in the early mornings of its young days with fogs. Fog is not associated with Nelson and it gave one an unreal feeling to pass through a heavy morning mist unable to discern approaching pedestrians until almost face to face. Stories of weird adventures in fog-draped cities became plausible, and the unexpected seemed to lurk around every corner.

But when the mist-curtain was withdrawn, behold what a picture! Mere words could not begin to do it justice, no theatre could present such beauty of setting! White with rime, hoar-frost, frozen dew, each tree, each shrub, each building, each fence and common object, stood like an ethereal thing in a land of enchantment. It would seem that winter having failed to materialize was leaving its spiritual impress upon our world. For days its beautiful ghosts haunted our landscape, then vanished.

There has followed such glorious, invigorating weather that even the oldest timer cannot remember it ever having been surpassed at this time of the year.

So here's a toast to you, our Kootenay February of 1934, with your twittering birds, and enormous pussywillows, your mists and historic hoar-frost, your unstinted sunshine and winelike air—we couldn't change you if we would; we wouldn't change you if we could! Which is saying quite a bit for the weatherman.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

CONGRATULATES UPON EDITORIAL ON LACROSSE

Sir—The congratulations of the sporting fraternity of Nelson goes to you for your leading editorial of February 28th regarding girls playing lacrosse. The way this splendid game is played in other countries shows that we do not appreciate the earnest efforts of a small group of players to put this sport again in the limelight it enjoyed in other days. For many years Canada held an enviable reputation in the sporting world for the excellence of her lacrosse and hockey players; we have held our position in hockey, although lately many teams in different countries have challenged our supremacy—but where are the lacrosse players? Last year when the Hamilton Tigers came to defeat Westminster, they showed a brand of lacrosse which has not been seen for many years out here in the west. They were all young players There is no reason why Nelson should not be able to field a team of good players. Lacrosse is a game which demands the utmost in speed, skill, stick-handling and team work, and the person who plays this game seriously must be an athlete of the finest type. We also believe it would be a great thing if Nelson could field a girls team of lacrosse players, just like they have in hockey. Here's hoping we see a bit more of Canada's National game.

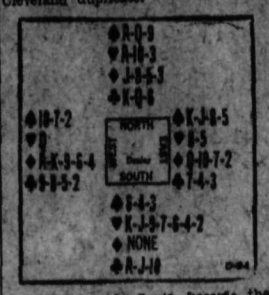
FINESSE AGAINST ELIMINATION

The relative merits of a finesse compared with an elimination have been frequently discussed in this column, and never has there been a more satisfactory illustration of the problem than is furnished by the following hand played in a recent Cleveland duplicate.



At every table South became the Declarer with a contract of six Hearts. West led the King of Diamonds and South ruffed. Surveying the situation, most of the Declarers realized that unless there is a 3-0 distribution of the adverse trumps, which will occur in twenty-two hands out of a hundred, and unless the first lead of trumps makes it impossible for Declarer on the second round to catch the Queen by finesse, no trump will be lost. Obviously, there are no Diamond or Club losers, and with the Ace, Queen, and Nine of Spades in dummy and three small in the closed hand, a successful Spade finesse will produce a fulfilled slam contract.

The more expert Declarers, however, appreciated that in most cases a finesse is an even gamble while an elimination play may be a sure thing, and in this hand, these Declarers fulfilled their contract, while the players who thought only of the obvious finesse failed to do so. The eliminators led a trump to trick 2, winning in dummy, and then from dummy a second Diamond, ruffed by closed hand. After that, came a second trump, won by dummy's Ten, and a third Diamond ruffed by closed hand; then my's last and fourth Diamond ruffed by closed hand. Then the Clubs were eliminated, closed hand winning the third with the Ace, this left Declarer with one trump in each hand, and the Ace, Queen, and Nine of Spades in dummy. With a small Spade led from closed hand, dummy would play the Nine if West plays small. If west covers with the Ten, dummy would play the Queen. In either event, East, winning, will be forced to lead a Spade up to North's major tenace, and the contract will be made; whereas with a Spade finesse taken before the elimination, regardless of whether it be with the Queen or the Nine, the diversaries will capture two Spade ricks and defeat the contract.

VERSE

OASES IN THE DESERT

Earth is a desert dream, so where we will,
Sin's vast Sahara stretches round us still,
Yet mid the waste some blessed spots are found,
Which still the Voice pronounces "holy ground".

There are lone pathways by the world untrod
Where deathless enochs still may walk with God—
Wild solitudes whose living Cheriths glide,
Where Heav'n's Elijahs from earths Ahabes hide.

God never yet an arid desert made
Without its Elim wells and palm-trees shade,
And never yet a week of labor planned
Without a Sabbath set by His command.

A time to lift our thought from sordid themes
And drink deep draughts of power from living streams.
O let us prize the Day, the house, the word,
Wherein we see the beauty of the Lord.

The Word, the Book, the desert bush that burns
From which the seer God's saving message learns—
Rejecting which we write our "Ichabod"
And yield to foes the very Ark of God.

We live our life by thronging duties pressed
And oft our pleasures make us long for rest
But after crowded hours and weary days
The quiet evening comes for prayer and praise.

How sweet to leave behind the wrangling mart—
The highway's din—the city's hectic heart
And seek some garden scene whose tranquil airs
Remind us of the Master's midnight prayers.

To kneel like Him with filial love sincere
And pour our own into our Father's ear—
Lo, such a garden is the hour of prayer,
Where kindred souls their meditations share.

And praise Him for each interval of time
When we can hold such fellowship sublime,
And keep the Sabbath's altar fires alive
When world pursuits to quench them would contrive.

For in these hours we rise to holy heights
And there and then behold the sight of sights.
We looked on Jesus! but his raiment shone—
Dazzling with Diety—God's glorious Son.

While prophets who had lost its glory been
Came back to talk with Him of Calvary's scene
That we might learn whatever earth may deem
That His Decease is Heav'ns absorbing theme.

But whether mountains crest or garden sod
That ground is holy where the Christ hath trod
Even the restless Galilean lake
Is holy for our blessed Saviour's sake.

Because the tossing tides beneath His feet
Were solid as the New Jerus'lem's street
Thus in our blighted world of death and doom
The "Lily of the Valley" broke in bloom.

And "Sharon's Rose" breathes balm upon the air
Changing the waste into a garden fair
Until with all the desert journey past
We stand with Him in Paradise at last.

—KATE McNEILL.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

NO MORE ROMANCE?

The old world, it seems, still has a few surprises in its bag of tricks. Just when everyone begins to agree that exploration isn't what is used to be the unexpected trick is played. A few months ago two great expeditions set out for Antarctica. The last secrets of that mysterious expanse seemed to be threatened. Now one of these expeditions, equipped with all the apparatus of modern science, is returning in temporary defeat. The other, even more elaborately fitted out, is staging a spectacular battle to make a landing that had appeared to many as routine, if difficult.

At the same time a ship is sailing from a New England port to look for a mysterious sea reliably reported to be as large in extent as France. The Atlantis, research ship of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, is on the trail of the elusive Sargasso Sea, about which romance and rumor have been weaving their stories for centuries. Columbus reported its existence. And yet no modern research expedition has been able to glean any reliable information about it.

Strange stories have circulated about the existence of that mysterious sea. Superstitious sailors tell weird tales of the secrets to be found there. There is no doubt of its existence. The few explorers who have found it report that is resembles an undulating prairie of vegetation. Yet when Dr. William Beebe went to look for it he could find nothing that resembled the description, and came to the concusion that some great storm had scattered the vegetation. Sir John Murray, heading another expedition, met with no greater success.

It is plain, therefore, as the Atlantis sails, that adventure and romance have not vanished from the earth. For as the laboratories of the world continue to shatter old mysteries, and hurl at the gates of the last secrets of matter, a company of modern adventurers sail to find a sea of weeds floating extensively on an ocean that lies charted before them on their maps, and yet has managed to evade searchers for centuries. Even though maps and charts have thrown their lines in crisscross belts about her girth, the old earth still seems to have a trick or two up her sleeve. —Christian Science Monitor.

MISS BATHIE HAS SURPRISE PARTY

WYNNDEL, B.C., March 1—Several of Margaret Bathie's school mates gave her a pleasant surprise on her birthday, Saturday. The afternoon was spent in playing games, after which a delicious supper was served, including a lovely birthday cake, trimmed with 14 candles. Her guests included Olive Uri, Winnie Moon, Elsie Davis, Eileen Dalbum, Louise Butterfield, Rose Marie Wolfrum, Nesta Huscroft and Jennie Pearson.

A number of young people gathered at the home of Miss Ellen Uri, on Saturday, the occasion being her 18th birthday. After a jolly time spent in games and dancing refreshments were served followed by a presentation to the guest of honor a lovely box of stationery from her many friends, Miss Ellen suitably acknowledged the gift, and all present wished her many happy returns of the day.

Mrs. W. Vankoughnut of Boswell was a visitor in Wynndel, recently, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. Uri.

Many were busy the past few days putting up ice. Due to the mild winter ice is reported to be only seven or eight inches thick.

Sanitation Issue Talked at Creston

CRESTON, B. C., March 1—The village council was in special session Monday, largely on sanitary conditions and the reconstruction of the main highway along Canyon street. Tenders for the position of village handyman were opened and on motion of Comfort-Murrel, the job will be offered to Canute Anderson at 35 cents an hour.

For the handyman job there were 11 applicants, one of which was from Erickson and was not considered. Two of the applicants asked a straight $70 per month. Another would take it at $38 and give 13 days service. Another would serve part time at $35 per month, and another at $50 per month or $3 for each day employed.

Final choice shifted from the $35 a month for part time and the Anderson bid, with the decision in favor of the latter, who will commence his work March 1. The appointment is not a permanent one but will be made so for the present appointee if he can deliver the goods.

A petition signed by 25 residents on Fourth and Fifth streets asking for a hydrant well down either thoroughfare, as well as a better water supply, was discussed with Col. Mallandaine of the waterworks company, who went into the water supply matter very fully, as well as the hydrant asked for. In discussing hydrants it was disclosed that the one at the Speers' corner on Hillside road, as well as the one serving the school, have been tampered with and had a fire broken out the hydrants would have been useless.

The sanitary situation was definitely concerned with two serious infractions of the Health act on the lower side of town, and a minor one in the lane back of Canyon street, at the rear of the new hot dog stand. The latter had been looked into and can be remedied with a little pick and shovel work, but the other two are critical.

Discussion had to do with measures to handle present cases and prevent further infractions of the regulation, and the upshot of the matter was that on motion of Comfort-Murrel it was decided the latter should interview Dr. J. Olivier to have him take the appointment of village medical health officer, and along with the water chairman get busy at once.

The letter from A. L. Palmer, public works road supervisor in this district, was read. It pointed out that the department was prepared to put down a first class highway along Canyon street, but before doing any work it must have a guarantee from the village that the water pipes along that thoroughfare on the east end from Victoria avenue have been made watertight. The water pipe situation discussed at length with Col. Mallandaine and it was disposed of by his agreeing to put in a new main to supply Canyon street between Barton and Victoria avenues. The new pipe will be under the sidewalk or in the lane at the rear. Beyond Barton avenue the company has plans made to do away with all the leaks and on Tuesday the chairman of the roads committee with Col. Mallandaine went over the ground and discussed the whole matter with William Ramsay, district public works engineer, who was in town.

If the information unofficially given the council is correct the plan of the department is to put in a high class road the full width of the business section of the street. About a mile of this very fine road is to be put down, and if the council will do its part the whole mile will be built to serve best the village.

Death Takes an Old Timer of Ainsworth

Mrs. Christina Dumas Passes at Age of 84

AINSWORTH, B. C., March. 1—Ainsworth lost one of its old timers this week in Mrs. Christina Dumas, who died on Sunday morning after an illness of about three weeks. "Grandma" as she was affectionately known throughout the district, was 84 years of age, having reached that age last August. She is survived by two sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dumas of Ainsworth and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dumas of Almira, Wash., all of whom were with her during her last illness. There is also a grandson and a granddaughter, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dumas who reside at Almira, Wash. Also three sisters and one brother who reside in the eastern States. Mrs. Dumas was predeceased by her husband in 1916 and by two sons and three daughters, William, Roy, Maud, Rhea and Tillie. The family came to Ainsworth from Stillwater, Minn., 37 years ago and have made their home here ever since. The funeral took place on Tuesday morning, interment being made in the family plot in the Ainsworth cemetery.

The service at the home at Cedar Creek was conducted by Rev. Cheevers, Catholic priest for this district. The pall bearers, all old timers and friends of the family were C. E. Harman, Carl Olsen, G. H. Hobbs, J. B. Fletcher, J. J. Scott, R. Sherraden. The wealth of beautiful flowers testified the esteem with which she was held. A beautiful cross bore the names of the family, namely Bessie and Charlie, Rose and Frank. A very large wreath bearing the word "Grandma" in large gold letters was the tribute of the community.

Union of Empire With U. S. Argued

SOUTH SLOCAN, B.C., March 1—"That union of the United States and the British Empire is essential to the preservation of western civilization," proved so controversial a subject of discussion at the meeting of the Debating society here Monday night that judges were unable to decide the winners. Popular vote accorded victory to the affirmative.

Gordon Thompson, opening the case for union, argued that western civilization was based on consideration of the individual. The present day trend towards Communism was therefore a grave menace to western civilization. War, which appeared imminent, would be fatal to occidental progress unless a union of English speaking peoples was formed. Thus there was danger to present civilization and there was proof that no course that did not include the proposed union could avert the calamity. Finally, said the speaker, the suggested amalgamation could not fail to accomplish its purpose. British justice and American liberty were the complements of each other while those two essentials of power, experience and vision, would be provided respectively by Great Britain and the United States.

Charles Motley and Charles Bland followed Thompson in supporting the affirmative of the resolution. The former stressed the racial similarity of the two nations and suggested the strong moral affect of the union as a war preventative. Mr. Bland pointed out that Britain and the U.S. were at one time united. World unity was a future essential and it must start somewhere. Further he believed that only a strong combination of the white races would prevent subjugation by the yellow peoples.

G. N. Brown, initial speaker for the negative, admitted that conditions were anything but ideal for the preservation of western civilization. He thought, however, that cooperation between the great powers would be infinitely preferable and more feasible than a political union such as that suggested. He further argued that there was a traditional antagonistic attitude between Britian and the U.S. which would stand in the way of any union. As an illustration of this feeling he quoted war debt history.

Gordon Batley believed that civilization could look after itself and therefore no union could be essential to its preservation. English speaking peoples had not shown themselves qualified to be united in a all powerful group and other powers would strenuously oppose such a union. Even if the arrangement should be consummated, said Mr. Batley, it would defeat its own ends since so powerful a body would aim at world supremacy and conflict would result. Col. J. Murray, in the final speech against union, sought to show that there were alternative means of salvation from the present chaos. He favored a development of the League of Nations. Fundamental changes in the people of the U.S. had taken place since the separation from the mother country occurred and union would be well-nigh impossible. Further, Col. Murray believed that the exemplary system of British jurisprudence would be in grave danger of pollution should any constitutional amalgamation be effected.

Those who patronize the Debating society next Monday night will have the opportunity to get "the inside dope" on a radio broadcasting studio since the program planned for that night will take the form of the inaugural broadcast of station BUNK.

'LOVERS' LANE

By Kathleen Norris

INSTALMENT 37

Preparations for the second trial were immediately under way. Valentines were in the windows along Polk street, and the skies over the city and the bay were always blue. Hot days came, with blossoming acacia, and once again the tar was soft in the streets underfoot, and dreamy fog horns sounded through the still sweet mornings.

Mont grew thinner, older; an anxious deep wrinkle formed across his forehead.

Dina found him changed in other ways. He did not complain. One day, in the dreadful room where they met, that room to which she had first come on the dark evening of his arrest, she said to him pityingly, impulsively:

"You're being so good about this, Mont!"

"I am trying to be," he said thickly, with a gentleness, a humility, that were quite new in Mont.

She grew very weary of the jail, its dankness and bigness, its smells, its strange sounds welling through such strange silences. Great doors clanked, footsteps echoed.

Sometimes they told her at the desk outside that she could not see Mr. Brett today, and then she quietly went away.

The new trial was set for the seventh day of March. There had been no word from William Polk. Mont asked Dina, with a little unwonted interest, where the attorney was. She said that business had taken him to the southern part of the state, adding that she did not know where he was at the moment.

"He'll be here!" she predicted with a nod.

"I don't know as it would make much difference," Mont said.

"Mont!"

"I know. I'm talking like a fool. I know that you and Elliot are moving heaven and earth for me. I'm sorry, Dina."

"It won't matter what we have to go through, if it turns out all right!"

"Or even if it turns out all wrong," hemuttered. "It'll be peace anyway, quiet, a chance to get away from the eyes and the voices, and rest!"

And often he would say in a nervous whisper that chilled her blood,

"Listen, Dina, is there a chance that I did it? I must have done it! A fellow could do it, you know, and not know it. They talked to me until I honestly thought I had that first night. I mean, be sure he hadn't done it, be sure he didn't mean to do it, and yet have done it."

Late in the afternoon of the sixth of March they let her see him, let her sit beside him, for he was ill. He had been moved into the hospital ward. He was lying, very thin and guant and patient, in an iron bed. His hand was hot when Dina touched it, and his forehead hot when she kissed him.

A guard was always within hearing. A nurse close by. Dina at least saw neither, and if Mont was conscious of them he only indicated it by his lowered tone.

"Dina," he said, clinging to her hand like a sick child. "If this could only be the end! I'm trying. I'm trying my best to go under here, where it's all peaceful and quiet. I've thrown you down so!"

"Oh, no, you haven't Mont! It'll all be over in a few weeks, and then we'll find some place where I can cook for you——"

"Oh, don't, Dina!" he said, not opening his eyes.

"Mont, can't you go on willing and willing, just holding tight to it, just for a little while?"

He made a great effort, pulled himself quite visibly together, smiled.

"You mean you can?"

"I try to!" Dina said.

"Oughtn't it begin to work, if it's going to?" he suggested, with a hint of his old half-scornful, half-indulgent smile for her fancy.

"It is working, Mont," she said, suddenly thinking of William Polk.

"Oh, it is?"

"Tomorrow," Dina predicted, "I'll tell you that it's working!"

He spoke very little of himself, of his predicament. He seemed to accept it with a hard and bitter philosophy that was more distressing to Dina than frenzy or rebellion would have been.

"You didn't do it, Mont!" she said over and over again. And once he answered gloomily, desolately, "No, but I've done lots of other things. I guess there's a sort of justice that gets you for one thing, if it doesn't for another."

They quickly ran out of conversation. There was little they could say.

She sat beside him as long as they would permit; smiled and waved when she went away. But walking across Polk street in the dark, she cried bitterly all the way, so that the lighted windows and the markets and the theatres were all a blur to her. And that night she was very silent, sitting on a big cushion on the floor, in the dim drawing-room, after dinner, her hands locked about her knees, her rich mahogany mop tossed off her forehead, her eyes reddened with tears.

"Tired tonight, Dina," Elliot asked.

"Yes, I believe I am, a little," she admitted.

"It's a long pull, Dina."

"It's all like a bad dream. And he's getting so tired, he's getting so broken."

"Polk," Elliot reminded her, "could get back here any minute now with news."

IT'S LIVER THAT MAKES YOU FEEL SO WRETCHED

Wake Up Your Liver Bile and Get A New Lease of Life. No Calomel Is Necessary.

For you to feel healthy and happy, your liver must pour two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels, every day of your life.

Without that bile, trouble starts promptly. Your food just won't digest the way it should and your bowels are sluggish. Food decays inside you and your entire system is undermined by this poisonous waste matter. You have Indigestion—the discomfort of gas, bloating, heartburn and sourness. You are prey to headaches. Have a tongue like cotton-wool, a nasty taste in your mouth, bad breath and ugly skin. You haven't anything like the pep a healthy person should have. In fact you are generally wretched.

How can you expect to clear up a condition like this completely by taking mere bowel-movers like salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum, or roughage? They can't wake up your liver bile!

Avoid calomel (mercury). Buy yourself a box of old reliable Carter's Little Liver Pills. All vegetable, sure, gentle, safe. They'll wake up your liver without upsetting you. Bring back the glad-to-be-alive feeling, once more.

Don't waste your money on substitutes. Be definite. Ask for Carter's by name and get them. Look for the name, Carter's, on the red label. 25c at all druggists. 47

An unexpected trip to the city—a big city like Vancouver—should be a great opportunity to pick up any new fangled modes of the moment. With only a few days, at best, to find the latest and prettiest to dress up the feminine boss of the family and poor old hard-working Pa, their homes, their gardens and their children, I rushed about hither and yon, pressing my nose against the window panes of little and big shops. A few hours in and out of the nobbiest places in the city convinced me that Nelson is a pretty good place in which to live. True, the sun seemed a little brighter, the grass a little greener, and the flowers a little further on their way, but only because Mistress Spring had called a little earlier. Imagine my surprise to find no smarter styles, no better bargains, no finer things in any of the stores than our own merchants provide for us. So, with nothing to buy, nothing to see, nothing to do, that could not be done right here, I turned happily back with a song in my heart for dear old home.

There are rumors about that the pompadour is about to play a return engagement. Those lovely waved crests that take grandma back to her younger days, are not now inflated by a fringe or transformation, but ripple glossily back in beautiful undulations from smooth white foreheads. This new old coiffure is elegant and becoming extremely popular. There's something about the pomp! . . .

Boo-hoo-hoo! The cake is heavy and coarse! Why? It was made with a metal spoon. There's nothing like good old wood to get in the shortest possible time, that creamy consistency that makes a cake like a puff of thistledown. And wood, in kitchen accessories is coming into it's own again. THE WOOD, VALLANCE HARDWARE CO., has the latest in hardwood bread boards, spoons, bowls, butter and cream ladles, ironing boards and stools, all ready to be decorated to match your new spring kitchen. . . . . .

An irresistible hat to meet your gayest moments or your brisk morning moods! A hat that's the incarnation of Spring—confident, young and charming! A hat for every costume, for every occasion, with every new brim and crown line. Where? The DUNK AND CONWAY ART SHOPPE, of course!

Heigho! Let's Go! To the Sunday evening concert of the TOO H AND ROVER SCOUTS in the Capitol Theatre. Your silver collection will swell the building fund of these energetic and philanthropic youngsters, and you will enjoy the excellent programme by Mrs. C. W. Tyler, Mrs. John Ganssner, Mrs. Ernest Marsden, Miss Mae Macfarlane, Mr. Arthur Stringer, Mr. Alex McDonald, Mr. J. Worthington, Mr. Hector Angus, The Kootenay Hill Billies and the Nelson Symphony Orchestra. . . . . .

It's strange, isn't it, that many of the newest and gayest about-town fashions have a cloistered look this spring. The more churchly you look, the more fashion worldly you are. Monks, nuns, friars, bishops, all have lent something of that wrapped, muffled look in their robes to your smart apparel. Cowl necklines, in front and back, medieval monk's hoods, the long tie girdle, the stiff bibs of the nuns, bishop's sleeves, and the unpressed pleats of friars robes, are the tricks that lend that 1934 look to your Easter gown or coat.

And so, until next week, Adieu.

CARNERA GETS DECISION ON LOUGHRAN

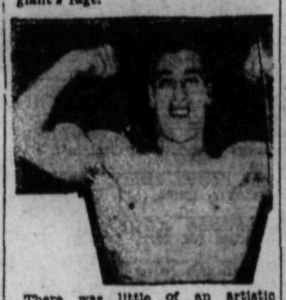
CARNERA OUTROUGHS GAME TOMMY AND LOSES K.O. CHANCE

Loughran on Verge of Kayo in the Last Round

By EDWARD J. NEIL

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN STADIUM, Miami, March 1 (AP). —The David of the prize ring, little Tommy Loughran, failed to night to beat pugilism's Goliath, huge Primo Carnera. He did manage to stand the giant off for 15 rounds though he lost the decision in a rain-swept, financially-harrassed heavyweight championship duel.

All the glory went to Loughran, the little man, who entered the ring for the first heavyweight championship match in Florida in 40 years, an underdog at one-to-five in the betting, considered no better than one-to- two shot to evade a knockout. Yet he stayed erect, while a crowd of 15,000 paying an estimated $50,000 in gate receipts, cheered and all but prayed that the veteran from Philadelphia would survive the giant's rage.



There was little of an artistic success to the performance, and none whatsoever from a financial standpoint.

LOUGHRAN STRONG

For half a dozen rounds tonight it seemed that Loughran, the fragile, 31-year-old veteran who dominated the light heavyweight division for years, might stage the greatest upset of all.

Outweighed 86 pounds by the huge Italian, dwarfed in size by comparison, Loughran went as far as his strength, speed and ring craft would carry him, gallantly and full of fight. But it just so happened that 10 rounds, at the most, was his distance as far as any chance of winning was concerned. From then on he took a brutal beating.

TOMMY OUT ON FEET

Once in the 15th round, when bravery alone was holding the challenger up, the gigantic Carnera smashed his ponderous right full on Tommy's jaw. The Philadelphian reeled back drunkenly and would certainly have crashed to the canvas had the ropes not held him up.

Carnera looked at him almost pityingly for a moment before resuming his clubbing assault. Tommy managed to hold. His head cleared somewhat as he danced on drunken legs. A moment later the bell rang, and Carnera had lost his closest opportunity to floor and possibly finish the comparatively tiny challenger.

Referee Shea, who repeatedly warned Carnera for roughness and hitting while holding, gave Carnera 10 rounds as well as the two judges, Loughran one and called four even, as did one of the judges. The second judge gave Carnera 12 rounds, and Loughran three. In no case did either judges or the referee agree on the round or rounds Loughran had won.

The Associated Press score card gave Carnera 10 rounds, the first, second, fifth, eighth, ninth and last five. Loughran was credited with four, the third, fourth, sixth and tenth, and the seventh appeared even.

GARNISHEE MADE OF PURSE OF DE PREEM

MIAMI, Fla., March 1 (AP)—A writ of garnishment was served today on Primo Carnera, world's heavyweight champion, to prevent the payment of any monies by him to his American manager, Bill Duffy, until Duffy makes settlement of a debt for rent he allegedly owes on a night club at Daytona Beach.

The writ obtained by A. H. Fickler and Florence Fickler, owners of the club, was granted by the circuit court of Volusia county in which Daytona Beach is located.

SCOTTISH CUP RACE NARROWS

Motherwell and the Rangers Picked to Win Games

GLASGOW, March 1 (CP cable)—The Scottish soccer cup again takes the limelight from the league Saturday when the quarter-finals are played, with only one second division outfit left in the running. The fixtures are as follows:

Albion Rovers vs Motherwell.

St. Johnstone vs Queen of South.

Rangers vs Aberdeen.

St. Mirren vs Celtic.

Motherwell, leader of the Scottish first division all season, and Glasgow Rangers, champions of the league and present runners-up, are selected to come through with wins.

The two other matches should be close struggles. Both Motherwell and Rangers have had to play off ties before getting this far in the race, while St. Johnstone and Queen of South are both considered dangerous contenders.

SPEED LAUNCH RACE ALL OFF

NEW YORK, March 1 (CP).—The race for the Harmsworth speed boat trophy on Lake St. Clair this year is off.

J. Lee Barrett, secretary of the Yatching Association of America trustees of the trophy, and Harry Greening, Canadian international commissioner at the races last year, held out no hope early tonight that a challenge would be received before midnight in which case Gar Wood of Detroit would retain the trophy for 1934.

"Big League" BOWLING

By AL DEMAREE

Women bowlers are hard to teach. When you show a man where he can better his playing, as a general rule he accepts the suggestion, and endeavors to remedy the defect. A woman rarely ever does, and that is the reason, probably, why women are not, as a class, as good bowlers as men.

In the first place, a woman should dress properly. It is not necessary that she should have a bowling costume. A short walking suit, shirt waist, and low-heeled shoes make an excellent combination. Every garment should fit loosely, and allow freedom of action to all muscles, and to the back and shoulders in particular. It is an impossibility to get any easy or graceful delivery, or to control the ball, if a woman is dressed in tight-fitting clothes, and high-heeled shoes.

20 YEARS AGO TODAY

March 2, 1914—White Sox and Giant baseball teams touring world, visit Rome, Italy. Too bad Mussolini could not have had a close-up of Germany Schaefer in those days. "Germany" would probably yelled, "Hello, Muss!"

An illustrated leaflet on "Spares" has been prepared by Al Demaree which he will gladly send to any reader requesting it. Address Al Demaree in care of this paper and be sure to enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

HILLCREST BEATS FERNIE JNIORS

FERNIE, B.C., March 1.—The Hillcrest juniors added another victory to their undefeated standing last night by defeating the Fernie juniors in an exciting game of ice-hockey by a score of 5-4.

The first period opened fast. Within one minute of play Hughes and M. Timchuck had the puck down to Hillcrest's goal to result in a scrimmage in which Fernie chalked up its first goal. Hillcrest answered in the next three minutes by W. Bianchini scoring on an assisted pass from R. Damica.

Hillcrest again came forward by R. Draper shooting one which just flipped over H. Hughe's stick to make the count 2-1 for Hillcrest at the end of the first period.

Hillcrest showed a great advantage in attacking over Fernie's blue line, but while Fernie showed fast play the sloppy condition of the ice made combination passing inaccurate.

The second period opened with "Tiny" Herman scoring for Hillcrest three minutes after play started. Frank Hughes returned the score for Fernie by passing the puck between "Red" Haggardy's legs when he came out of his goal to try to save.

W. Bianchini and Grant Hamilton talked things over in the middle of the ice to decide whether they would fight but agreed to settle peaceably.

Twenty minutes of rough and ragged playing ended the second period 3-2 in Hillcrest's favor.

The thrills of the game came in the last period when the score was twice tied. Fernie got off to a good start by peppering the Hillcrest goal until Brown was able to score, making the first tie, 3-3. Firsty answered for Hillcrest by making a nice shot into Fernie's net which gave Hillcrest the lead again.

Mike Timchuck came back for Fernie by making a long shot which Haggardy let slip by. This made the second tie in the last period. Both teams played fast hockey considering the softness of the ice, but neither team was able to score until the last four minutes' of play. A scrimmage took place in front of the Fernie net and Draper was able to put in Hillcrest's winning score, which ended the game 5-4 for Hillcrest juniors.

Lineups:

Hillcrest: "Red" Haggardy, E. "Pinkey" Elsac, W. Bianchini, "Bruzzy" Casagrade, "Tiny" Herman, D. Kroll, "Toughy" Damico, Rod Letcher, R. Damico, M. Mianchini, R. Draper, J. Firsty.

Fernie: H. Hughes, G. Hamilton, A. Rizzuto, F. Hughes, Mike Timchuck, Brown, D'Amico, S. Timchuck, Carl Spence, B. Morris.

Penalties: Third period, "Tiny" Herman (1).

In the 5000-metre, won by Ballangrud of Norway in 9:8:4, Hurd finished 13th in 9:52:5 and Stack 14th in 10:2:4.

Carnera vs. Loughran Round by Round

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, MIAMI, March 1 (AP).—Fight by rounds of the Primo Carnera-Tommy Loughran, heavyweight fight here tonight follows:

ROUND ONE — Loughran danced lightly from his corner. Slipped under Carnera's left jab and shot a long left to the body. The giant champion stormed in on Tommy, pressed him to the ropes and as they swapped body punches Tommy complained Carnera was stepping on his feet. Carnera leaped on the challenger and tumbled him across the ring, heaving him from side to side, and the crowd booed as Loughran bobbed like a cork in a stormy sea. Carnera drove Tommy to the ropes, shot a left hook to the head, a heavy right to the body and another left to the body. Tommy danced away instead and stabbed Carnera's head with three lebt jabs but the champion roared back at him, flinging him about in his huge arms, nailing him with a hard uppercut to the head as the bell sounded.

HE LEANS ON LOUGHRAN

ROUND TWO—Loughran surprised the big boy, dancing a left to the head and chopping a right to the body, Carnera stabbed Tommy's face neatly with a long left and Tommy, looking like a pigmy beside the tremendous bulk of the champion stabbed him right back on the nose. Carnera jumped into close quarters and roughed Loughran along the ropes but Tommy tied him up neatly as Carnera swung wildly with both hands. Carnera chased Tommy into a corner and whipped a left to the body and a right to the head which shook the challenger badly. Holding Tommy with one hand Carnera drove the challenger across the ring and hurled him about roughly, failing to land the blow but bearing down with all his weight on Loughran's smaller form and the crowd howled in protest as the referee pulled the champion away angrily at the bell.

TOMMY PUMPS THREE TO THE NOSE

ROUND THREE—Loughran took the offensive, jabbing Carnera's nose three times with a light left, as Carnera seized the tiny challenger, started to hurl him about again. The crowd howled again. The champ grinned and let Tommy loose. Loughran danced away lightly, pumping three lefts to the head and a right to the body, but Carnera chased after him, smothered him in his big arms and hurled him about on the ropes, clubbing lefts to the body, right to the side of the head. As they feinted in the open, Carnera hit the challenger with a hard left hook to the head but Tommy stopped short and belted the champ with a long straight right to the jaw. The crowd roared approval. Carnera fought back savagely, pounding on Tommy's arms and with both huge fists. Tommy pulled out of a dangerous spot in a corner to fling a left hook to the head and a right to the body as the round ended.

LOUGHRAN TAKES A ROUND

ROUND FOUR—Dancing in swiftly Tommy shot a left to the head and a right to the body. That angered the champion so he picked Tommy up and almost hurled him through the ropes on one side of the ring. The referee warned him again and Loughran danced swiftly in, jamming Carnera's face with a short left, crossing his right full and hard to the jaw. Carnera missed a wild right in a return and Tommy rapped the champion with lefts again and hammered his right to the side, and flung another right to the head as Carnera started to flounder.

Matching all his guile against the tremendous strength of the champion, Tommy stabbed with lefts, feinted him out of position and banged him with both hands as the crowd went wild with applause. Tommy was making the champion miss and Carnera looked like a novice as Loughran speared him and out-danced him to the end of the round.

LOUGHRAN STAGGERS CARNERA

ROUND FIVE — Carnera caught Tommy coming in with a left to the side of the face and roughed Tommy unmercilessly along the ropes, holding him with one hand and then the other, hitting him on the side of the head. He drove Tommy into a corner and the challenger made the giant miss with both hands. But Carnera leaned heavily on the little fellow and smashed him about the head with both hands. Carnera chased Tommy across the ring, caught him on the other ropes and did it all over again. Tommy bounced from side to side, totally unable to cope with the champ's strength. As Carnera batted him again in the corner Tommy suddenly stepped out with a left to the jaw that bent Carnera's knees. Again Tommy sent a right to the chin and Carnera seemed to stagger a trifle. Furiously Loughran smashed both hands to the body with a beautiful rally as the bell sounded.

LUMP ON CARNERA, CUT ON LOUGHRAN

ROUND SIX—Carnera rushed out anxiously and Tommy speared him with a left to the face that brought a lump under the champion's left eye. Loughran flew at the champ with both hands, smashing rights and lefts to the giant's face and Carnera was so frantic he grabbed Loughran about the face with one hand and hammered his head with a right until the referee forced him to stop. Failing at long range, Carnera grabbed Tommy again and forced him to the ropes where he hammered wildly at Tommy's body, forcing him half way out of the ring. Tommy came away and banged another hard right to the jaw, but Carnera forced him to the ropes and hit him on the head with both hands. Loughran crashed a right to the heart and crowd booed as Carnera hit him with a left as the referee broke them. Loughran banged a right to the body but blood trickled down his face from a cut on the left side of his head as the bell sounded.

TOMMY RILES THE CHAMP

LOUGHRAN STAGGERS

ROUND EIGHT—Carnera tore out as if to end the fight swiftly, catching Loughran in mid-ring, driving him across to the ropes under a batlike attack from both fists. Tommy staggered as he came off the ropes and his legs dragged wearily. He shot his left to Primo's body and then landed a hard right to the chin as Carnera followed.

Again as Tommy retreated and the champion tore after him Loughran stabbed his left straight to the head and pounded his right to Carnera's jaw.

Carnera became careful and they danced, each watching for an opening. Suddenly Carnera charged Loughran to the ropes but Tommy grabbed him, pulled his way out of danger and stabbed the champion's nose weakly as the bell rang.

LOUGHRAN IS TIRING

Carnera rushed Loughran to the ropes again, the one place where he continually held the upper hand, and bludgeoned Tommy about the head with both hands. Loughran came out wearily and Carnera jabbed him heavily about the head with three long left handers.

Again Carnera jabbed Loughran's face with a left, then crossed a right to the jaw as Tommy weakened and moved slowly in his efforts to get away. As they clinched the referee pulled them away and Loughran drove a hard right to the head. They were dancing, both tired at the bell.

CARNERA SHOUTS IN ITALIAN

ROUND 10—Loughran bounced up freshly and stabbed for Carnera's long jaw with his left. They popped jabs at each other until Carnera again enveloped the challenger in his huge arms on the ropes and held him, clubbed him and heaved him around generally.

Loughran tried to reach the champion's head with his left but could only retreat to the opposite ropes when the champion again hung all over him. Once more Referee Shea hauled the champion off the little man angrily and Carnera shouted back at him in Italian.

The pace slowed as they were content to feint for right hand openings. Tommy shot a long right to the head, Carnera got one over. Loughran whipped a left hook to the body and Carnera missed with both hands.

Rallying beautifully Tommy slugged with the champion and landed half a dozen right hand smashes to the side as Carnera missed as many punches with both hands. Both went wearily to their corners at the bell.

LOUGHRAN IS WEAK

ROUND 11—Loughran adopted new tactics, bending low, stabbing half a dozen lefts in the corner and smashed the champ heavily on the head with three right hand punches.

Tommy staggered as the referee pulled them apart and he wearily lifted a jab to the champion's head. Carnera measured him with a left but landed high on the head and the champion followed in with a hard hook to the jaw.

Tommy danced heavily away and Carnera caught him in another corner, pounding him on the head with a clubbing right. The champion sank a deep left hook into Tommy's body, forced him into a corner and banged to the head with both hands. Tommy managed to dance away but he was weak and very tired as the bell sounded.

CARNERA STAGGERS HIM

ROUND 12 — Loughran danced about the centre of the ring striving to keep away from Carnera's rushes. The champion bulled after him doggedly, caught him in a corner and smashed him furiously about the head with both hands.

As Tommy swayed before the onslaught rain started falling heavily and the crowd sought shelter. Tired himself, Carnera pushed Tommy from one corner to the other, but the champion was clumsy and wild as he poured heavy punches at the bobbing, retreating challenger.

LOUGHRAN IS ALL IN

ROUND 13—Making it as rough as he could the champion thundered down on Tommy, holding him to the ropes for a two handed cuffing. Tommy tore loose and as they stepped around the middle of the ring he landed three left jabs to the champion's head, but Carnera caught him again and bounced two rights off Tom's jaw and then caught him in a corner with a left hook to the head. The crowd booed again as the champ took every advantage of his great size and hammered Tommy roughly in a corner, and slung hammer-like fists, belted down to Tommy's head and shoulders. Tom could scarcely drag himself erect from the corner. He leaned wearily on the champ, took another hard left hook to the head and then manfully heaved his right into Carnera's side. Tommy was dancing unsteadily at the bell.

LOUGHRAN FIGHTS IN DAZE

Loughran staggered backwards and Carnera followed him madly, shooting for a knockout. Three heavy left jabs and a thumping right rocked the challenger. Desperately Tommy retreated, the left side of his face swelling and Carnera chased him to the ropes. A left and right to the head, a left to the body, drove Tommy cross-legged into a corner.

Weakly the challenger swung two left hooks to the head but Carnera laughed as he drove him again to the ropes and belted Tommy's head with rights. Loughran was so dazed he went to Carnera's corner at the bell and in friendliness Carnera's seconds threw water on him.

TOMMY BADLY BEATEN

STANFORD DRAWS BLANK AGAINST B.C. RUGBY TEAM

PALO ALTA, Calif., March 1 (CP)—The British Columbia all-star English rugby team today defeated the University of Stanford fifteen 3-0 in the first game of a California exhibition tour.

More than 1000 rugger fans turned out to see the invaders take the well-deserved victory.

LONDON, March 1 (CP cable)—Singular honors for West Indies cricket was given today with inclusion of George Headley, their brilliant batsman, among the "five cricketers of the year" in Wisden's Almanac," the "bible" of English cricket.

In its 71st issue appearing today Wisden's grouped Headley and four English stalwarts as the outstanding players of 1933. The others are C. F. Walters of Worcestershire, A. H. Bakewell of Northants, L. Townsend of Derby, and M. S. Nichols of Essex.

Redding, McGillivray and Moore Are Not Under Residence Rule, and Saskatchewan Refuses Transfer of the Players

B.C.H.A., TRAIL AND OTHERS ARE WORKING FRANTICALLY IN THE CASE

VANCOUVER, March 1 (CP).—Kimberley Dynamiters, finalists in the British Columbia senior amateur hockey championships, today faced disqualification, and Art Jefferd, president of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey association appealed to the similar body in Saskatchewan to rectify what he considered an injustice.

Three Kimberley players, Ken Moore, G. B. McGillivray and R. W. Redding, former Saskatchewan players, came to Kimberley to work last summer, and accordingly do not qualify under the residence rule of the Canadian Amateur Hockey association.

Mr. Jefferd stated, however, that in a bona fide case the Dominion rule allowed some latitude, and these men, he declared, were not "hockey-tramps" in any sense of the word, but had secured legitimate positions in Kimberley.

REFUSE POINT BLANK

"President Tom Mitchell of the Saskatchewan body has refused point-blank to sanction transfer of these three players after their clubs had given their approval," said Mr. Jefferd. He added that he was at a loss to understand why transfer had been refused by the Saskatchewan body. No explanation had been given beyond that Mr. Mitchell was not satisfied that the transfers were bona fide. Mr. Jefferd was of the opinion that an examination could not fail to show that they were bona fide.

TRAIL BACKS KIMBERLEY

He said he was flooded with telegrams from the management and sponsors of the Trail Hockey club, eliminated last night by Kimberley, and from Trail fans, asking that he do his utmost to secure the transfers of the three Kimberley players. These telegrams had been received while Trail was still in the playoff fight against Kimberley.

Mr. Jefferd is still hopeful that the Saskatchewan president will reconsider his stand.

B.C. HOCKEY FINALS TRANSFERRED TO TRAIL ICE—START SATURDAY

Dynamiters to Drop Three Stars Protested; Whole Thing Is in Muddle

TRAIL, B.C., March 1.—Trail, already hockey crazy, which saw the B.C. hockey finals snatched away from it by Kimberley's win over the Trail Smoke Eaters, will after all see the B.C. finals played on its own rink. Bad weather making ice conditions dubious in Kimberley resulted Thursday night, in the series being switched to Trail. Kimberley team was held in Trail and the Vancouver Quakers, already in Kimberley, ordered back to Trail. The first game will be on Saturday night with the other games on March 5 and 7. Should they be necessary, further games will be staged on March 8 and 9.

Ralph Redding, Ken Moore and Bert McGillivray, will be missing from the lineup of the new West Kootenay champions, when the Dynamiters skate out on the ice for the opening game of the provincial finals with the Vancouver Quakers on Saturday night, unless the Saskatchewan branch of the C.A.H.A. relent in their decision not to grant transfers to the above mentioned players.

STILL WORK HARD

Kimberley officials are still working hard to get the transfers through if not for the British Columbia finals for the inter-provincial playdowns, in the event of the Kimberley club eliminating the Quakers.

In any event the Kimberley Dynamiters will represent the West Kootenay district against the Vancouver club. Even without the services of their stars, Kimberley can put a team on the ice whom Kimberley and many district fans believe can eliminate the Vancouver titleholders.

All the players on the Kimberley intermediate team have been declared eligible to play with the senior Dynamiters in the provincial and inter-provincial finals. Eric (Swede) Hornquist, will be in his usual position between the posts, with little Jackie Hutton, being held in reserve. Clarence Reddick and Harry Brown can start on defence, but there is a big likelihood of Brown being moved up to the forward line to work with some of the following players on the second string, Hugo Mackie, Doug Keiver, Dub Mackie, Murray McKenzie and possibly another intermediate.

KOZAK ON DEFENCE?

In the event of Brown going up to the forward line, either Paul Kozak or Max Bell with partner Reddick on defence.

The other forward line of Puffy Kemp, Fred Botterill, and Art Mackie, will remain intact, and all of these players are now playing the best games of their career.

The list of eligibles on the Vancouver team, issued by Art Jefferd, president of the British Columbia Hockey association today, does not include the name of Sturrock, the recent storm centre in Vancouver hockey circles, when he was signed by both the Westminster Cubs and the Vancouver Quakers, and who is travelling with the team. The list includes the name of one player, who is known to have received no transfer from the team he was with last season, in fact no transfer had been requested.

VANCOUVER PLAYERS

The list of Vancouver players declared eligible are, George, Wally and W. R. Dunn; Ritchie; McQuade, Dyde, Butler, Scribner, Cranston, Campbell, Gamlin and Milne.

Leo Desireau of Nelson and Oliver Renikka of Rossland will handle all the games in the provincial finals with Desireau being in charge.

WHAT'S WHAT?

Considerable argument has taken place during the last few days, as to the eligibility of certain players on the Kimberley Dynamiters, taking part in the West Kootenay league playoffs, and reports have been noticed in Vancouver papers, that in the opinion of coast officials, the Kimberley team was ineligible. Which has given cause to arise that whatever the result of the West Kootenay playoffs, the Trail Smoke Eaters would be the club to play against the Vancouver Quakers in the provincial finals.

But when the Kimberley officials received word that, cards had been issued to all the Kimberley players, and the cards later arrived, everything was considered to be in perfect condition and the cards were produced before the start of the first game of the playoffs in Kimberley.

Word came through later that the Saskatchewan officials had refused to give Redding, Moore and McGillivray transfers and therefore they were ineligible for the West Kootenay playoffs and incidentally the Allan cup playdowns.

The question then arose as to how they could be ineligible, when they all had the proper cards, which was opposed in the past, and still do, cover, releases, transfers and every qualification as to eligibility for playoffs.

FIGURED ON TRAIL WINNING

Apparently the British Columbia hockey officials, Art Jefferd, president, and Stan Smith, secretary, issued the cards under the assumption that they would never have to be used, as they figured the perennial champion Trail Smoke Eaters were a cinch to beat out anything in this part of the woods. But the

PROTEST OVER OMISSION FROM DRAYTON TOUR

Commerce Chamber's Promises Not Fulfilled

BOARD COUNCIL ASKS ABOUT IT

Various Resolutions Are Referred to Committees

Protest at omission of the Kootenay from the itinerary of Sir Henry Drayton's tour under the auspices of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, after the Nelson board of trade had paid membership dues in that organization for many years, and in violation of a promise obtained that British Columbia itineraries arranged by the chamber should include this district, was voiced by the board council Thursday, on the motion of J. R. Hunter, who instigated the recent effort to get Sir Henry's itinerary enlarged to include Nelson.

A letter from the secretary of the Canadian chamber stated that owing to Sir Henry having an appointment in the east for March 4, Nelson's invitation could not be accepted.

A formal protest on behalf of the board will be forwarded.

Decision of the Chamber of Mines of Eastern British Columbia not to accept the offer of the board for quarters in its building was conveyed in a letter expressing high appreciation of the offer, and explaining that the chamber's present location was so advantageous from a publicity standpoint that the feeling of the executive was against the move proposed. The chamber's letter expressly set forth that if the board should later move closer to the business center, it would be very glad to consider any proposal for joint quarters.

A lengthy resolution from the Grand Forks board of trade, proposing that the province should employ relief labor in mining development, particularly in placering, rather than in road construction, and dealing with relief work generally, was referred to the committee on mining and natural resources, as to the portion of it dealing with mining.

It was mentioned, however, that the Nelson board of trade has always been strong for highway development.

A new silver resolution from the Slocan district board of trade, proposing purchase by the Dominion of large quantities of silver at a price above the prevailing quotation, was also referred to the mining and natural resources committee.

CITY WON'T OPPOSE

C. H. Hamilton reported that the city council, with whom the matter of light rates having been made a charge upon property had been taken up, had no objection to the board asking the attorney-general to have this power taken out of the governing statute.

This matter was raised by C. F. McHardy a couple of weeks ago.

The council approved a letter recently sent by the roads and bridges committee, with its authority, to Hon. F. M. MacPherson, provincial minister of public works, asking that the Southern Scenic highway share adequately in the proposed joint highway construction by the Dominion and provincial governments.

FAIRBURN BRANDS QUAKERS AS GOOD

"Lefty" Fairburn, smart forward of the Red Wings, declares that individually the Vancouver Quakers have a mighty good team. He knows all the players of the coast squad and was with them between trains Wednesday night when they were en route to Kimberley.

How they would size up as a team, he stated, he would not venture to say, but the lineup included some pretty fair players.

MINIMUM WAGE

minimum wage has been paid by cheque, the employer then asking the employee to endorse the check and then cashing it for half its face value.

He disagreed with the eight hour day proposals on the ground that a "progressive move towards a shorter working day for all workers, irrespective of calling," should be made. It was openly acknowledged that a six-hour day would be a definite step toward progress; with wages maintained so that the worker's purchasing power would give him a civilized standard of living.

In dealing with wages one of the first steps of the government should be to re-establish the wages of its own employees, setting a standard for others as well as increasing their purchasing power.

He referred to the low wages paid in the logging industry, declaring the sooner this type of employer was put out of business the better for the community as a whole. Mismanagement of operations had resulted in excessive cost of production and the wage-earner was the goat, he charged.

"This province has more labor and social legislation on the statute books than any other, and yet we have less enforced than any other province," he declared.

Not only at the government, but toward other members who have previously spoken, Mr. Price, said he was still waiting for the details of the "work and wages" program.

He was amused, he said, with the remark of R. W. Bruhn, Salmon Arm, that the people were afraid of C.C.F. policies. He agreed with the suggestion of Clive Planta, Peace River, that a land settlement scheme was needed for that district but could not see any success when hundreds of Fraser Valley farms were vacant. When the minister of labor talked about putting teeth in the labor laws, it was apparent "we are still thinking in terms of the horse and buggy."

And the member for Lillooet (G. Murray) while telling what the financial interests had done for the mining industry, failed to mention the accomplishments of labor power, which was the only real wealth next to natural resources.

MRS. MACPHERSON HAS "AT HOME"

Wife of Minister of Public Works Receives at Victoria

VICTORIA, March 1—Charming in every detail was the at home held this afternoon by Mrs. F.M. MacPherson, wife of the minister of public works who received formally at her home, "Ingsersag," Rockland avenue, for the first time since coming to reside in Victoria.

A profusion of sprin flowers was used to enhance the beauty of the rooms with Calla lilies, tulips in beautiful colors, antirrhinums, violets, daffodils and freesia predominating, while an effectively arranged combination of the same spring flowers was used as a center-piece on the tea table.

Mrs. MacPherson, wearing an imported gown of Malacca brown cut-velvet modelled on smart lines, with which she wore a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds and freesia, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. P. B. Scurrah, whose gown was of plover green drumba crepe, with which she wore a black Gainsborough hat.

Mrs. A. M. Watson took charge of the arrangements in the dining-room, where Mrs. J. A. MacDonald and Mrs. T. D. Pattullo poured tea for the first hour, Mrs. Gordon Sloan and Mrs. John Hart for the second hour, and Mrs. Bruce Hutchinson and Mrs. Richmond for the last hour. Mrs. Clifford Collinson, Mrs. Arthur Webster, Miss Betty Campbell and Miss Elizabeth Edwards assisted in serving.

On Tuesday Mrs. Morrison was hostess at a luncheon at her home when she entertained in honor of Mrs. N. Hogarth of Cranbrook, who is visiting here with her sister Mrs. V. Rollins. Other guests were Mrs. V. Rollins, Mrs. H. A. Jackson, Mrs. J. K. Hodges, Mrs. MacFarlane of Calgary, Mrs. William Sloan, Mrs. G. D. Edwards, Mrs. E. W. Pope, Mrs. E. V. Finland, Mrs. P. B. Stabilization of Produce Prices Is Urge of Dewdneyite

VICTORIA, March 1 (CP)—Stabilization of prices for agricultural produce by legislation was urged by D. W. Strachan, Liberal, Dewdney, in the debate in the legislature today. A move of this sort was essential to protect the farmers from losing their land and their homes, he said.

British Columbia was not supplying all the agricultural products it consumed, the proportion being about 10 per cent. He outlined how Oregon supplied goods for a large area.

RELIEF CAMPS

nine men turned in their mackinaws and took their discharges, and no doubt some of the diehards who were included in the organized remnant of 30 last reported Wednesday night as still marching west will fail to return. It is believed, however, that the greater part of those still missing will turn up Friday for reinstatement.

ALL AT WORK

All the ex-strikers were at work yesterday, including those at Taghum pending transfer, and showed apparent willingness to carry on industriously.

The first of the month having arrived, the pay-checks whose acceptance previously would have meant automatic discharge, were in order, and all those applying at the armory for reinstatement were given their checks, and clearances which they took to the provincial police office, where their transporttaion, and that of their dunnage, to Taghum was arranged.

At the armory the national defence headquarters staff was working every minute handling the returning men in addition to regular duties, and at the provincial police headquarters all concerned were busy on the clearing and transporting end.

Outside of this heavy grist of work, the day was uneventful for the provincial police until the afternoon, when six individuals, who had become conspicuous in various ways, some of them by turning up at police headquarters to start arguments, found themselves in jail, charged with the theft of government clothing.

TOOK UP CABIN

Five of these men—Alfred Leger, Charles Raferty, W. Summerfield, Fred Cook, and Andrew Watson—presented themselves at Taghum camp Wednesday night as prepared to work, but went on to Beasely Thursday morning and took quarters in an empty cabin. The last three came in to town, where they were arrested, Watson when he showed up at police headquarters. Leger, the ex-Taghum worker who called out the Shoreacres camp Tuesday afternoon with the news of the $40,000 fortune that a lady in Nelson was supposed to be ready to hand over to the strikers, and Raferty were later arrested in their cabin.

The first man arrested was Jackson, who was brought in from South Slocan. Sale of a mackinaw is said to have led to his undoing.

All six men are billed to appear in provincial police court this morning, for summary trial or preliminary hearing, as they may elect. All of them are said to have been strike leaders.

LEADERS HAD EASY TIME

The ex-strikers are said not to be impressed with the conduct of those who called the strike, and who had a soft time themselves.

While the men of the two Longbeach camps were hoofing it to Nelson Monday afternoon, carrying their packs, it is said that a group of five leaders, including two men believed by police to be paid agitators, came in by bus, put up at a hotel, and lived on the fat of the land for two days, then disappearing before the events of Wednesday. They have not since been seen. The blond leader who did so much speech-making Wednesday, and presided over the many votes taken at the day's assemblies, is also said to be now among those whose whereabouts are unknown.

The seven West Kootenay camps that have withstood the agitators' wiles have been working all the week, except for the day of the heavy snowstorm, when the foreman gave the men a justifiable layoff.

APPEAL TO C.A.H.A. IN CASE OF THE PROTEST AGAINST KIMBERLEY STARS

VANCOUVER, March 1 (CP)—The fate of three crack hockey players, members of Kimberley Dynamiters, finalists in the British Columbia senior amateur hockey race, remained uncertain tonight.

Earlier today telegraph and telephone wires hummed as Art Jefferd, president, and Stan Smith, secretary and registrar of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey association, fought to get Ken Moore, G. B. McGillivray and R. W. Redding back into the Kimberley lineup after they had been declared ineligible through the Saskatchewan association's refusal to sanction their transfers.

With the Saskatchewan body adamant in its refusal to grant the sanctions the Canadian Amateur Hockey association was appealed to but late tonight nothing further had been heard on the matter.

While it is not the C. A. H. A.'s policy to overrule a provincial body it was understood R. W Hewitt, president, had been in touch with the prairie association in an effort to have the transfers arranged if at all possible.

Result of the negotiations is expected to be known tomorrow.

Speaks on Birth Control at Trail

Theory of Malthus Is Related by F. J. Patterson

TRAIL, B.C., March 1—"Malthus and Birth Control" was the subject on which Fred J. Patterson, M.A., gave an interesting address at the open forum in Knox United church hall Thursday night.

Mr. Patterson did not stress in his talk the actual control of birth, but rather that children be well borne.

The speaker opened his address with a few remarks on Malthus and his theory of population stating that the subsistence must be considered in the spirit of science and human welfare and not to be only propoganda.

"Thomas Robert Malthus, who lived from 1766-1834 and was born near Guilford Surrey, England, had a father of independent fortune, cultured, educated by tutors, going to Cambridge at the age of 18. He was elected a fellow of the Royal society in 1819 and in 1803 was married. He was also appointed a professor of history and political economy. He was survived by his wife and two of three children. He was a perfect gentleman and a keen and scientific scholar.

"Malthus' theory grew out of discussions with his father regarding the perfectability of human society. 'I think,' said Malthus, in his essay, 'that I may fairly make two postulates: That food is necessary to man and that the passion between the sexes is necessary, and will remain nearly in its present state. Hence the power of population is indefinitely greater than the power of the earth to produce subsistence for man. Population, when unchecked, increases in a geometrical ratio but subsistence increases only in an arithmetical ratio. The race of plants and the race of animals shrink under this great restrictive lay (lack of food); and man cannot by any effort of reason, escape from it. Among the plants and animals its effects are waste of seed, sickness, and premature death, among mankind misery (hunger, famine, disease, cruelty, and war) and vice.'

"Examples in volume to illustrate the crowding of population upon the food supply may be paralelled today by recently history of Egypt, India and Russia, but prediction is made that the results expected of corn laws, poor laws and the schemes of Robert Owen, would be rather disappointing. No doubt conditions have vastly improved in England during the past 100 years and so has the population. Malthus admitted that his theory was gloomy but true. It had caused much discussion at the time and since and had sobering effects on superficial optimism of social reformers. The theory of Malthus is still contained in the text books."

Mr. Patterson pointed out that the land area of the earth is 51,230,000 square miles, the population 1,721,400,000, with an average of 34 persons per square mile. The population of most countries is steadily increasing. With sanitation and medical science life will be longer; the birth rate is not going down as fast as the death rate.

"With more cultivated acreage, machines and fertilizers, new and better plants and better live stock is the result. Irrigation, refrigeration, transportation are bringing more and better foods than ever before. Some countries have too much food but have all enough? As far as our food is concerned man is trying to regulate the kinds and numbers of plant and animal life to his own benefit. Codling moth, potato weevel and other such detriments to vegetation is held down as much as possible.

"Man has long exercised control of plants and animals because nature's ways are wasteful. Nature works on a wide margin but in gardens a row of beets instead of thickly scattered seeds presents a positive and negative birth control. The good are born, the bad are disallowed. The struggle for existance among the plants is disallowed by thinning. Animals are bred in quality and numbers, wheat, hens, foxes are made almost to order.

"Man is very different than the plants. Overpopulation is almost inescapable without birth control."

It would be far better, the speaker contended, to have control instead of misery of overpopulation. "Different forms of control such as late marriage, celibacy, etc., are not new. The popular meaning of birth control tends to be a form of vice and contrary to the Criminal Code of Canada can be considered in an academic way.

"But who is able to decide what form should be used? What is needed is more births of the well born. In civilization the human progress cannot outrun the physical and mental ability of the populace, and more than a few chance leaders are needed for perfect society. The purpose of life is to create perfect society; the Kingdom of Heaven on earth, if it might be called such.

"Food is not the only need. But what is the desirable balance between food and population, and how can it be attained? By working with Nature we have improved food, and so may the human race be improved. Which proves that Malthus was right, for to obtain better life on earth, control environment, and exercise control; positive birth control that is eugenic."

LOW WAGES

week's work. Another grossed $495 for 12 months.

Flourishing pay envelopes, the Stratford mayor told of a furniture worker with 30 years experience, supporting a family of six children, drawing from 76 cents to $2.96 for a 10-hour day over a period of 19 days.

All through Mayor Kerr's evidence, names were not used, but Hon. H. H. Stevens, chairman of the committee, intimated that names and figures will be presented later. Special investigators will probe the Ontario furniture trade, the clothing industry and others, scanning books and documents for official facts. Retailers, employees and manufacturers will be brought before the committee to trace the effect of low wages and mass buying from worker to consumer.

$3 PER WEEK

Girls in Stratford furniture plants received as low as $3 a week before the September strike, Mayor Kerr said, but now the manufacturers were committed to the regulations. Four years ago, the Furniture Guild, which antedated the union and the strike, laid facts and figures before the Ontario minimum wage board of a girl receiving $3 for 70 hours' work. The board, he said, took no action.

TAKE IT OR LEAVE IT

There was no doubt that mass buying by chain and department stores forced down wages, said the Stratford mayor. He told of store buyers approaching manufacturers with blue prints and a stated price on a "take-it-or-leave-it" basis. When the order was accepted, wages were cut, the general scale of furniture prices came down and a vicious circle started.

Through mass buying, the piece work for assembling chairs in one Stratford plant dropped from $2.05 to 90 cents and from 45 cents to 17, Mayor Kerr said. The pay for dowling 1000 pieces dropped from 60 cents to 25, after a 33 1-3 per cent increase, two of the best cabinet makers in a Stratford plant were able to make only 12 cents an hour.

URGES CODE PLAN

A veteran Canadian Laborite, Tom Moore, president of the trade and labor congress, suggested that Canada follow the lead of the United States and proclaim industrial codes to raise wages and end sweatshops and unfair business practices. Although patterned after the NRA program, the codes would be drafted to fit Canadian conditions.

A board of control would be established in each industry, representing workers and manufacturers, to settle internal conditions. Other legislative suggestions made by the congress president were increased use of the Investigation act to disclose sweatshop conditions and its extension to embrace all industries.

There were innumerable infractions of wage regulations throughout Canada, the congress president said, suggesting prison terms for frequent offenders and increased inspection of staffs.

DOMINION BUYS PRODUCE

The Dominion government itself sometimes makes its purchases from sweatshops, it was claimed by Mr. Moore.

This was possible through inadequate regulations and legislation governing Dominion contracts which permitted "prevailing wages" to be paid men by successful contractors.

There was no guarantee the prevailing wage was fair or adequate.

The trades and labor congress suggested the list eligible for Dominion contracts to be limited to firms that paid decent wages and worked their employees fair hours.

The committee adjourned until tomorrow when J. J. Frawley, an official of the Alberta attorney-general's department, will testify on provincial bankruptcy laws and the Alberta cooperative milk distribution system.

ALL-STAR GAMES ARE ON TONIGHT

Slocan Teams State They Will Be In; Entertainment After

The all-star games between the Slocan and Nelson teams are on for tonight it was stated Thursday evening in Nelson by the officials in charge. The Slocan teams, although having trouble getting cars, signified their readiness to come and they will be here no matter what the weather conditions. They have not, however, given any indication of their lineups, but it is presumed the girls' team will be the same as the one that downed the Nelson girls at Silverton Saturday. The Nelson girls will be bolstered by at least two other players than made the Silverton trip.

The girls game will be first and will start promptly at 8 o'clock. The second game will begin immediately after.

Soft ice, which from the look of the weather seems probable, will likely prove an aid to the better seasoned Slocan teams, but the Nelson all-star men's team will have one Red Wing line that should be able to stand the gaff, Culley, Annable and Gillett.

The games will be refereed by Frank "Father" O'Genski.

After the play the visitors will be entertained at a dance and refreshments at the Memorial hall. A snappy orchestra will be in attendance.

Yo Yos Even Count on Hume Juveniles

Yo Yos—Motion, Frost, Brubaker, Whitfield, Dewdney, Ritchie, Steed and Wheeler.

GALLOWAY IS PAID HONORS

Retired Mineralogist Hears Eulogies of Many Friends

VICTORIA, March 1 (CP)—Members of the civil and mining engineer professions and allied organizations and high government officials representing the various departments of the provincial government, including W. A. McKenzie, former minister of mines, met today to take part in the tribute to John D. Galloway, who has retired from the office of British Columbia provincial mineralogist to enter the private practice of consulting engineer.

Thomas Golby, who presided at the luncheon, spoke of the regret with which all members of the various branches of the engineering professions received the news that Mr. Galloway was leaving Victoria.

"This is not a valedictory to Mr. Galloway," said Robert Dunn, deputy minister of mines. "He is rather stepping from the cloisters of the legislative buildings out into a greater career. He is really just starting his career. During his 21 years in the department he has carried out his office with credit to the department and to the best interests of the mining profession."

Patrick J. Philip, deputy minister of public works, spoke for the Association of Professional Engineers, and emphasized Mr. Galloway's efficiency as a professional man.

"Mr. Galloway is what I call a sane optimist, and we are all glad he is going to stay in British Columbia," said F. C. Green, surveyor-general, in a tribute he spoke for the Corporation of British Columbia Land Surveyors.

R. P. Bishop, spokesman for the prospectors classes, praised the work of Mr. Galloway in encouraging these classes which aim at bringing about more scientific and intelligent prospecting of British Columbia's mineral resources and which have proved to be such a success.

Friends who had worked with him 20 years extended best wishes yesterday to Mr. Galloway.

Mr. Galloway, who joined the British Columbia department of mines in 1913 and has been provincial mineralogist since 1925 was presented with a silver coffee set and an inscribed tray at a meeting of the staff in the office of Robert Dunn, deputy minister of mines, members of all branches were present.

MONTE CRISTO MINE SHOWING RICH ORE

Development of Mine in the Bridge River District on Way; Contains 25 Claims

Announcement of formation of a conservatively financed, well managed syndicate to finance the development of the Monte Cristo property in Bridge River is of importance, says the Western Canada Mining News. This group of claims has long been considered of unusual value by many Bridge River mining experts. Several old-timers in this district have been known to state that the development of the Monte Cristo and Reliance properties would disclose some very large bodies of rich ore. The development work to date on the Reliance group seems to bear this theory out and it is likely that the Monte Cristo will show up equally well, as the Reliance veins likely continue into the former property.

25 CLAIMS

Monte Cristo property contains better than 25 claims and fractions situated on the western slope of Truax mountain in the heart of the Bridge River camp. The claims extend from McDonald lake up to the mountain side. Immediately to the northwest is the Reliance property where recent developments have uncovered a vein of $15 ore at $20 an ounce gold value, while abutting the claims to the southeast is the Goldside property which has met with such conspicuous favor in Toronto.

GEOLOGY FAVORABLE

Geological features are entirely favorable. The diorite, porphyry, serpentine and flow-greenstones, so intimately associated with the ore deposits of the Pioneer and Bralorne, are conspicuous on this property. The veins as disclosed by numerous outcroppings at different elevations, are strong and persist through several claim lengths.

The geographical position is most advantageous, Reliance and Goldside being on either side while across Bridge river the Wayside is nearing production. B.R.X. and Bridge River Consolidated, adjacent properties to the Monte Cristo, are undergoing intensive development and to the south, the Grull-Wihksne is showing up well.

Topographically, the Monte Cristo offers many advantages not possessed by many of its neighbors. A deep gorge enters the property from McDonald lake and extends far into the mountain. According to engineers, this feature of the topography is most desirable as it allows comparatively inexpensive access at depth to the ore deposits indicated by the outcrops on the higher elevations.

LEADS ENCOURAGING

Development to date on the leads has been most encouraging. Stripping of the vein outcrops have disclosed the usual condition found in the Bridge River area. The disposition of the ore in this section is to increase in value with depth. Numerous assays of the various outcroppings have been made and range from 50 cents to $2, while values much higher have been disclosed a short distance below the surface during assessment and development work. A sample taken from a conspicuous outcrop on A vein returned $23.20 per ton. A lower outcrop from which a large representative sample was taken after assessment work was completed returned $47.40 per ton. Gold estimated at $20 per ounce.

LATE RALLY

TORONTO, March 1 (CP)—Rallying tendencies were strong late today among Toronto stock exchange industrials but the reversal of sentiment came too late to wipe out losses entirely.

International Nickel reduced its loss to 5 cents and Smelters spurted to 154½ up ½ net. Twenty-six stocks closed higher and 37 lower.

APPLE PRICES FIRM A TRIFLE

Colder Weather on Prairie Quietens Markets

Regina and Edmonton report firming in apple prices, states the market news letter from the department of agriculture. Colder weather on the prairie has made the markets generally quieter.

Edmonton — Business has been rather quiet during the week, chiefly on account of the very cold weather that has prevailed. Apples are firm in price with slight advances in the better grades. There is a plentiful supply of local grown vegetables with demand normal and prices steady. B. C. onions have advanced slightly but some recent arrivals of ungraded stock are holding the price down. No. 1 is selling at $1.85 to $2.00 and ungraded at $1.60 to $1.75 per cwt. Rhubarb is moving slowly at $3.50 to $3.60 per 40-lb. box. The demand does not appear to be as active as in former years. A number of cars of potatoes have been sent to Saskatchewan but prices paid the growers are not high enough to stiffen the market. Wholesale prices are from 70 cents to 90 cents per cwt. No. 2. Tomatoes are very scarce. Bahamas repacked lugs are selling at $4.65 to $4.75. Adequate supplies of new vegetables are coming from California.

Calgary—The third cold spell of the season hit Calgary Wednesday last. Jobbers report a slowing up of fruit volume owing to cold weather. California green vegetable sales for the past two months are greatly in excess of last year. B. C. forced rhubarb showed a slight drop in price during the week. The cost to consumer of this commodity is too high to effect wide and satisfactory distribution. A price which would enable retailers to quote 3 lbs. for 25 cents would mean a heavy increase in volume. There is very little change in the potato market and shipping point prices quoted last week still hold. Florida strawberries are the only new importation of the week, one local jobber bringing in a small shipment of 150 hallocks. These are wholesaling at 40 cents per pint. Car arrivals, February 17th to 23rd inclusive. B. C. 1 apples and onions, 1 crated and 4 boxed and unlidded apples, 1 onions; imported—4 vegetables, 1 lettuce, 1 cabbage, 5 citrus fruit, 1 Bahamas tomatoes, 2 bananas, 1 grapefruit.

Saskatoon—Heated railway freight service to country points was discontinued the latter half of the week because of the very cold weather. Jobbers report business as only fair. Apple arrivals were light with sales volume slackening off and stocks liberal. The Jumbo crate pack, which has been the best seller on this market, is moving slower since the retail price advanced to 4 cents and 5 cent per lb. The higher priced wrapped apples are selling in fairly steady though limited volume, retail prices ranging from $2.25 to $3.00 per box or 6 cents to 8 cents per lb. Tomato stocks are fairly liberal and movement is greatly improved since retail price dropped from 25 cents to 15 cents per lb. Jobbers are now carrying a large variety of fresh imported vegetables. There is a good demand for staple vegetables such as carrots, cabbage, potatoes and onions and prices which weakened somewhat during the mild spell have again stiffened up. B. C. forced rhubarb is moving quite freely and retailing mostly at two lbs. for 25 cents.

Regina—The weather has again turned cold. Business fair. Apparently the firming up of prices on commodities such as apples and potatoes has not curtailed the sale and consumption of these products on this market. The few additional cents the consumer has to pay for a box of apples or a sack of potatoes means the difference between success and failure of the producer. The market is well supplied with all seasonable commodities which are being marketed in a very orderly manner. Car arrivals 16th to 23rd inclusive, B. C., 6 bulk and 2 box apples, Alberta—1 potatoes; Manitoba—1 vegetables.

Winnipeg—Business has been on the quiet side during the past week. Weather very cold. Hothouse rhubarb sales are slow. Trucking to country points is at a standstill as roads are blocked. There is a moderate demand for tomatoes. Cuba tomatoes in original lugs are quoted at $4.00 No. 2 and Bahamas in repacked lugs at $3.50 to No. 2. B. C. and Alberta onions are selling at $2.25 to $2.50 per cwt. for No. 1. Car arrivals, B. C.—1 onions, 1 box and 4 crated apples, 1 rhubarb. Imported—3 celery, 2 lettuce, 2 tomatoes and 1 vegetables.

STUMBLING ON WALL STREET

By JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, March 1 (AP)—Stocks stumbled occasionally today but final prices for most favorites were little unchanged; the averages showed a small fractional loss.

Some metals backed up. Amusement shares had little following and a few specialties improved. The bond market drifted.

External market influences were few and stock trading looked largely professional. Montgomery Ward, U.S. steel, Chrysler and American Telephone yielded around a point at the worst, but later regained their losses. U.S. Smelting closed 4½ lower. Snider Packing firmed, while General Railway Signal, Paramount Certificates, Radio, Warner Bros. and General Motors improved mildly.

The National City bank's Ferbruary review said "the influences causing the trade revival are still operating."

STERLING UP OVER ONE

NEW YORK, March 1 (CP).—Business proceeded at a dull pace on the foreign exchange market today.

Sterling closed at $5.08 up 1⅛.

Canadian dollars closed at 99 7-16 cents, up 1-16 per cent.

French gold francs closed at 6.57½, up ¼ point.

PREMIER GOLD GOES UP NINE

Reno Gains 2; Pioneer Off 10; Bradian Is Down 8

Rangers Take Second Place by Win Over Hawks in Savagely-Fought Go

CHICAGO, March 1 (AP).—New York Rangers took possession of second place in the American division of the National Hockey league tonight, conquering Chicago Black Hawks 3-1 in the most savagely-fought match of the season.

Paul Thompson blasted the puck through Goalie Andy Aitkenhead's hands early in the first period to give Hawks a lead which stood up for less than three minutes. Cecil Dillon squared it up and after battling through a torrid second session and into the third, Rangers went ahead. The desperate Hawks broke out with a five-man offence, which resulted in Murray Murdock sneaking behind them for the winning goal. Dillon scored the third on the same kind of a play.

The crowd of 11,500 rode the officials and in the second period showered the ice with peanuts, newspapers, ticker tape and decks of playing cards. Action was halted three times while attendants cleaned up the debris.

The officials left the ice after the third outburst to give the customers a chance to cool off.

Maroons Slip Win Over Red Wings

DETROIT, March 1 (AP).—A hard-skating band of Montreal Maroons tonight slipped the Detroit Red Wings 4-1 to hand the Detroit team the first defeat on home ice since Christmas night.

Wings appeared to have suffered from their hard climb to the National league leadership. Their passing game was ineffective for most of the match and the defence gave Wilf Cude little protection in the Wing net.

Bruins Stop the Canadiens 3 to 1

BOSTON, March 1 (AP).—Continuing their season's superiority over the Montrealers, Boston Bruins took a 3-1 victory from Canadiens, their fifth triumph in as many starts this season, before about 5000 spectators at the Boston Garden tonight.

Gaining a jump in the first period, when Red Beattie scored on assists by Nels Stewart and Joe Lamb, the Bruins checked the advance of the Flying Frenchmen and prevented their climbing with the Maroons, the rivals for second place in the Canadian division of the National Hockey league.

ARSENAL AND ASTON VILLA TO DO CUP BATTLE WITH WEAKENED TEAMS

Bolton Sticks to Original Lineup; Derby Meets Huddersfield in League

LONDON, March 1 (CP cable)—Neither of the teams clashing in the feature match of the English cup quarter-finals Saturday have yet been selected, injuries having upset the arrangements of both Arsenal and Aston Villa. The six other elevens left in the hunt for cup honors, however will generally use the same sides that have brought them thus far along the trail, the lineup is:

Arsenal vs. Aston Villa.

Preston North End vs. Leicester City.

Bolton Wanderers vs. Portsmouth.

Manchester City vs. Stoke City.

LINEUPS DOUBTFUL

Arsenal and Aston Villa have been completing preparation at the seaside, the Villans at Rhyl and the Gunners at Brighton. Bastin, Arsenal's international forward, sprained his ankle in last Saturday's match at Newcastle, and the lineup is doubtful. The trainer is trying his hardest to get Bastin fit. Kingdon of the Villa has an injured thigh, but may be in the game. Aston is deciding its lineup tomorrow.

Preston North End and Leicester City will use the same sides that have proved successful up to now. Bolton Wanderers are also sticking to the original cup lineup, but Portsmouth will make its choice Saturday morning.

Manchester City, in the quarter-final by virtue of a replay won against Sheffield Wednesday, is also undecided, Stokes is making no changes.

In league play a keen match is promised at Huddersfield Town, where Derby County is the visitor. The victor will go into a deadlock with Arsenal for first division leadership.

SPURS MEET EVERTON

Tottenham Hotspurs, out of the cup competition, meet Everton and a win would put them just two games behind the first division leaders. Everton expects to have Dixie Dean in the lineup.

Grimsby Town, second division leader, anticipates no trouble when Notts County comes to town Saturday.

Reading of the southern section of the third division have a new centre-forward, Gregory from Manchester City, and will use him in the match against Aldershot. Reading are running fourth, four games below Norwich City.

Another recruit this week is Benny Yorston, Sunderland's Scottish International who played against Ireland in 1931. He goes to Middlesbrough, another first division outfit.

MORE ABOUT HOCKEY

Dynamiters, threw a spoke into all this when they took the first two games from Trail in such a decisive manner that even the most rabid Trail fan gave the Smoke Eaters only an outside chance of winning this year's championship.

With a protest as to the former Saskatchewan players certain as soon as they met any other team in the Allan cup playoffs. The report broke out that Redding, Moore and McGillivray were not eligible to take part in any more games.

NO DIRECT WORD

Many Trail and district fans cannot understand why under these circumstances the Trail club received no direct word from British Columbia hockey officials, as if the players were going to be thrown out later on, they were not eligible to take part in the West Kootenay playoffs against Trail who were the only team, who had really lived up to every letter in the laws concerning Allan cup eligibility.

Naturally word got to the Trail players and officials, but only by an indirect route. Trail officials, apparently considered, that until direct word was received they would go ahead and play the same Kimberley team that they had competed against all season, and made no move to force Kimberley to play with only players who were eligible.

The question that the fans are now asking is who was responsible to advise the Trail and Kimberley management, that the above mentioned players were ineligible?

Numerous irregularities have cropped up in the lining up of the Vancouver team and should the coast officials raised a protest against the former Saskatchewan players fire works are expected.

FACT-FINDING COMMITTEE ON RELIEF OUTLAY

Board Council Acts on Proposal by Mr. Biker

On the recommendation of W. J. E. Biker, the council of the board of trade Thursday appointed a fact-finding committee to study the question of relief organization in West Kootenay, from the point of view of ascertaining what return was being gained for federal, provincial and municipal relief outlays.

In addressing the council on the question, Mr. Biker said if a cross-section of costs and results could be compiled for this district, it might be of assistance in the national picture, the total relief disbursements in Canada reaching a stupendous sum, for which very little was obtained. It was necessary that the actual facts be obtained, before conclusions could be drawn, and he suggested that the actual cost per man-day should be secured, by obtaining all the necessary data from the authorities.

PAY FOR RESULTS

Where relief labor was employed in road construction, as in the Dominion camps here, and realized perhaps 10 cents on the dollar, he suggested a system of paying on the yardage removed, allotting each man a section of work, and measuring it weekly, with a scale that would range from $1.50 to $2 per day, and that could be gradually raised up to the minimum wage act scale. Meals could be worked up to 40 cents a day, and the men would run their own show, while the cost would be no higher than at present.

President R. W. Hinton vigorously objected to the suggestion that only 10 cents was realized on the dollar, arguing that the value was at the very least two and a half times that, and that very considerable value had accrued. He protested against any figures being mentioned that were not based on facts.

C. F. McHardy and J. R. Hunter were inclined to the lower estimate.

Mr. Hinton, referring to Mr. Baker's proposal for putting the men on contract work, said contracts would not be possible in winter. How could snow shovelling be measured? he asked. In any event, he hoped there would be few in the camps next winter.

Vice-president W. R. Drubbe protested against viewing the relief work solely from a business standpoint. The camps, he said, were instituted in the first place for the purpose of giving the men who were out of work three meals a day, and this question should be dissociated from the money aspect.

COMMITTEE NAMED

While willing that the inquiry should be undertaken, President Hinton said he felt so strongly that the inquiry, if properly carried out, would involve much time and labor, that he asked to be relieved from naming the committee, as he hesitated to ask members to make the sacrifice necessary.

On his suggestion, the council decided to name a committee, and selected Mr. Biker and R. D. Barnes, leaving it to these appointees to pick a third man.

Presumably the committee, when its personnel is completed, will get in touch with the national defence officials at Calgary, and with the Victoria authorities, as first steps in the heavy work before it.
