B.C. MUST CUT LIQUOR PRICES

Now Certain Repeal of 18th in U.S. Makes It Necessary

VANCOUVER, Oct. 6 (CP)—In a special dispatch from Victoria the Province today says:

"British Columbia will soon face the necessity of overhauling and drastically reducing its whole structure of liquor prices, as a result of the now certain repeal of the 18th amendment in the United States.

"This is the opinion of the liquor board and the provincial government as it surveys the prospect of cheap liquor flowing soon, just south of the boundary. Against this competition, it is realized here, British Columbia can not hope to maintain its present liquor price level.

"It is too early to foresee exactly how the end of prohibition will affect liquor prices in the United States. Over there, as here, the federal government may exact a heavy toll in taxation. But it is regarded as certain, that when the United States takes to legal drinking again it will not pay the fancy prices demanded by bootleggers there by governments here.

"If prices there are much lower than the British Columbia scale, inevitably this province will be flooded with smuggled American liquor and Canada, which for many years deluged the United States, will find the tables turned."

TAKE OPPOSITE VIEWS OF INDIA

British Conservatives and Laborites Hold Meetings

(By the Canadian Press)

The two leading political parties of Great Britain—Conservative and Labor — took opposite views Friday of the long vexing problem of what to do about India.

The Labor party, meeting at Hastings, openly demanded the release of Indian political prisoners in a resolution which criticized the policy pursued by the government.

The Conservatives, meeting at Birmingham, dealt the diehards of that group a blow in passing an amendment which approved the course taken. This includes the withholding an announcement of what the United Kingdom intends to do until the joint parliamentary commission is drawing up legislation for Indian makes a report.

POLICE BELIEVE NAZIS BOMBED THE HEADQUARTERS OF DOLLFUSS PARTY

VIENNA, Oct. 6 (AP). — Police said tonight they were convinced the bombing of the headquarters of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss' patriotic front organization at Frems early today was a Nazi job, but they did not see any connection with the attempt this week on the chancellor's life of Rudolf Dertil.

Meanwhile, the police said they had found an application card for membership in the Austrian party filled out by Dertil, a former army bugler.

On the basis of this card, the authorities still were unable to say definitely whether Dertil remained a member of the party. He himself said he resigned six months ago.

Unofficially one police executive expressed doubt that Dertil was directed in his assassination attempt by leaders of the Nazis.

Dertil has been turned over to a provincial court for trial at a date as yet unset.

PLAN OF AID FOR REFUGEES STRIKES SNAG

Riddell Objects to Giving Them All Facilities for Employment

MEANS OBLIGATION ACCEPT REFUGEES

Canadian Delegate Says Dominion Not in Position to Do So

GENEVA, Oct. 6 (CP and AP cables).—The League of Nations' plan for helping German Jewish refugees struck a Canadian snag today and the proposal for appointing a bureau and high commissioner with full freedom of action was sent back to a subcommittee of the political committee for reconsideration.

What Canada objected to, said Dr. W. A. Riddell, permanent Canadian delegate, was that part of the proposal which called on the different countries which have so far received few or none of the Jewish refugees, to give them all facilities for employment.

The Canadian delegate felt this implied an obligation on the part of the various states concerned to accept the refugees.

Dr. Riddle pointed out the unemployment situation in Canada was such that the Dominion could not accept obligations in regard to immigration.

The sub-committee plan invited the collaboration of the United States.

The dead included two Communists, Felix Vitl, 23, and Luis Melian, 19, who were killed when unidentified persons fired into a cafe in which they were sitting. Two companions were wounded. The other death was of an unidentified man struck down by a shot fired from an automobile.

The four others injured were the victims of the bombing of two laundries. These incidents were blamed on labor troubles by the authorities.

Meanwhile, the political leaders continued a series of secret conferences and two groups of Americans met in an executive session to discuss the fate of the army and navy officers who were imprisoned following Monday's battle at the Hotel National.

U.S. RAILWAYS CUT RATE FOR PASSENGERS

Make Reduction in Attempt to Boost Number Travelling

CANADIAN RAIL OFFICIALS SIT IN

Are Studying Experiment With Interest; Cut Problematical

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (AP). — The Western Railway Executives association today decided on a sharp reduction in passenger fares as an experiment in increasing their business. They voted to reduce from 3 6-10 cents a mile to three cents the rate of one-way rail transportation. A 2½ cent a mile round trip rate was agreed upon and the present pullman surcharge of 50 per cent.

MONTREAL, Oct. 5 (CP)—Officials of both the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific railways have been sitting in at conferences of both the Eastern and Western Railway Executives' association of the United States, a railway official stated here tonight.

The observers have held "watching briefs" amid discussions as to the ways and means by which business might be increased. A direct result of the United States discussions was the announcement from Chicago today that the western executives had decided on a sharp reduction on passenger fares as an experiment in increasing their business.

Canadian railways are studying the experiment with interest, it was stated here. S. J. Hungerford, president of the Canadian National, and E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific, could not be reached for comment.

Whether or not Canadian railroads would undertake a reduction in rates was highly problematic, it was stated.

PARTY SYSTEM ONLY SOLUTION SAYS PATTULLO

Flays C.C.F. and Independents at Chilliwack Meeting

CHILLIWACK, B.C., Oct. 6 (CP) —Flaying both the C.C.F. and the Independents, T. D. Pattullo, British Columbia Liberal leader, delivered a fighting address to a crowd which thronged the Canadian Legion hall Thursday night. He defended the party system as the only possible means of carrying on responsible government and ridiculed the C.C.F. for using the name "associated clubs" in what he described as an effort to mislead the electors into thinking it was not a party.

Mr. Pattullo reiterated his promise that nuisance taxes such as the meal tax will be abolished if the Liberals are returned to power. The Liberal government would live within its income, he said.

British Columbia was suffering from "too little education," rather than too much, he declared. Rights of municipalities in the field of taxation should be defined and protected, he maintained.

CREDIT FOR WORK SCHEMES

In regard to unemployment the Liberal leader vigorously condemned the present dole system and urged use of national credit to provide works schemes for relief of unemployment. He reaffirmed his prophecy that Prime Minister R. B. Bennett will be forced to introduce legislation for provision of public works at the next session of parliament. Under the present system men were being "herded like cattle" into relief camps and the morale of the people was being broken through acceptance of charity, he said.

In conclusion Mr. Pattullo declared that the Independent factions could not take office immediately after the election, because the lack of organization among them would make for waste and inefficiency. The only alternative to confusion was the return of the Liberal party, he insisted.

Ed Barrow, former minister of agriculture, spoke briefly in opening his sixth provincial election campaign.

Mr. Pattullo leaves today for Kamloops.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 6 (CP).—John A. Machray, who was buried today, left an estate of $210,000 in insurance, of which $175,000 was assigned to the University of Manitoba, the Winnipeg Tribune says today. Other creditors of the former university and church official, the newspaper says, contend this assignment was illegal and propose to contest it.

SEE HOPE FOR STRIKE ENDING

Watchfulness Replaces Disorder of Thursday in U.S. Areas

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (CP)—Watchfulness replaced disorder and bloodshed today at steel plants and coal mines as strikers and owners awaited the result of efforts to smooth over difficulties.

In Illinois, where 19 persons were wounded Thursday in an outburst of interunion warfare, Donald Richberg, counsel for the NRA, conferred with miners and owners, and reported that he saw hope for a solution of difficulties under the NRA bituminous coal code.

Six companies of the Illinois national guard controlled Harrisburg, scene of the shooting at Peabody mine No. 43. The shaft was closed by Governor Horner to avoid fresh disturbances.

In other districts including Ambridge, Pa., where miners are on strike, and Steubenville, Ohio, scene of mill workers' riots, quiet prevailed throughout the day.

Dominion in Favor of Medical Service for Unemployed but Say Provinces Should Pay

OTTAWA, Oct. 6 (CP).—The Dominion government is in entire accord with the movement to secure adequate medical attention for those forced to subsist on unemployment relief, but the administration of such additional assistance lies with the provincial governments. This was the tentative answer given a delegation of the Canadian Medical association today by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, but it was not his last word and a statement covering the whole situation is expected tomorrow.

It was felt the prime minister and his associates were entirely in accord with the efforts being made to secure medical attention for those who, in many cases according to the delegation, have been greatly neglected in this respect.

Dr. G. A. B. Addy of Saint John, N.B., president, and five members of the Canadian Provincial Medical association, made up the delegation. They urged that medical care be added to the other items included in the general relief scheme, food, clothing, shelter and fuel. Practically all the provinces had already expressed a willingness to bear their share of extra cost if the Dominion government would do the same. The division would be two-thirds for the provinces and one-third to be paid by the Dominion.

"Good Behavior" Period Rejected

GENEVA, Oct. 6 (CP)—A restatement of the German attitude on disarmament, rejecting the so-called "good behavior" period, was presented orally today to representatives of the United Kingdom, United States and Italy.

So far as could be learned no approach has been made to France, to whom the German position is understood to be not acceptable. The German attitude is understood to contemplate complete arms equality at the end of a four-year period, which would not be regarded as one of trial but rather a period of progressive disarmament by Germany's neighbors.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Oct. 6 (AP).—Under sentence to hang Dec. 15 for the murder of his wife, David A. Lamson, former Stanford University publishing house executive, was taken today from the county jail here to San Quentin prison.

His brother Rex, 18, was severely burned in a brave attempt to beat out the flames.

Refunding Loan Issue to Be in Three Series

Primary Purpose to Refund Victory Loan Due November 1

OTTAWA, Oct. 6 (CP).—While the complete details of the Dominion government's refunding loan of $225,000,000 will not be officially published until next Tuesday when the bonds become available to the investor, it is learned on the best authority that the issue will be divided into three series, two, six and 12 years, to yield, respectively, about 3¾, 4.20 and 4.35 per cent.

The primary purpose of the loan is to refund $170,000,000 of 5½ per cent victory bonds due November 1 next.

It is the hope of the department the majority of holders of maturing bonds will convert, and to the registered holders of a letter from Hon. E. N. Rhodes, making that suggestion, has been mailed with the cheques covering the interest to November 1.

FERNIE TO CUT ASSESSMENTS

Land Values Lopped 40%, Improvements 10%

FERNIE, B.C., Oct. 6—City Clerk A. E. White was ordered to reduce land values 40 per cent and improvements thereon 10 per cent to the nearest $5 in this year's assessment by the city council at their Thursday meeting.

The adjustment is made to equalize city and outside taxes levied to pay school costs because assessments have been slashed by the provincial government, outside the city. The resulting higher mill rate within the city limits does not mean higher taxes but will be a protection to the citizens and taxpayers, preventing them from carrying an unfair proportion of the school costs. A comparatively low assessment outside the city would otherwise shift the burden.

The Canadian legion wrote asking the city to buy a poppy wreath for Armistice celebration on November 11. The request will be granted.

An overdue light account came up for discussion. Light in this case is a necessity so to prevent having the service discontinued arrangements will be made with H. A. Bryant, government agent, to have the bill paid direct out of the relief.

City Foreman Hunt's allowance for expenses of running his truck is overdrawn. He was ordered to try and balance the gas and oil account by the end of the year.

A. Blackey, city electrician, reported that trees on a number of boulevards were causing interruption to the street lighting service. People who have trees interfering will be ordered to have them cut.

An advance payment on water and light at relief rates was granted to J. D. Naughton in accordance with a request from him.

A number of accounts were ordered paid as recommended by the finance committee.

The city clerk read a statement regarding the annual tax sale held last Saturday. Sixty-seven properties were up for sale this year, at a total upset price of $12,566.19. One was sold to a party other than the city. The increase in properties up for sale for non-payment of taxes over 1932 is 116 per cent and over 1931, 319 per cent. Increase in valuation over 1932 is 172 per cent and over 1931 is 35 per cent, while increase for 1932 compared to 1931 was 94 per cent and properties 40 per cent in valuation.

ENTHUSIASM AT LISTER RALLY

Local Organization to Be Completed Tuesday; Open Rooms

Enthusiasm and determination characterized a meeting at the Legion Friday night, of supporters of Lieut.-Col. Fred Lister, C.M.G., as a candidate in this election Independent of all parties, called at the briefest notice to initiate a working organization for the portion of the campaign pertaining to the Nelson district.

C. D. Blackwood was named chairman of the meeting, and a finance committee was named, and instructed to appoint a campaign manager and secure committee-rooms, so that systematic work can be begun at once.

It was decided to open the organization work with a rally next Tuesday night, at which all the committees necessary to the campaign here will be appointed.

A suggestion by Lieut.-Col. John Murray of South Slocan, for special arrangements to secure the largest possible representation from district points for the Tuesday meeting, was warmly appoved.

GOOD RECEPTION

Colonel Lister in reviewing the situation stated that wherever he went among the voters of the riding, he met with an excellent reception, and it seemed an assured fact that the great bulk of the voters of Nelson-Creston riding wished to see party politics shelved at this time, and the placing first of the public interest.

So far as Nelson was concerned, which he was seeking for the first time to represent, he placed himself in the hands of those standing for Independence in politics, and would do everything open to him, to make the campaign victorious.

Chairman Blackwood paid a tribute to Colonel Lister's public service in his 13 years in the legislature as representative of the late Creston riding, now associated with Nelson.

Dr. L. E. Borden, late M.P.P. for Nelson, just back from Victoria, and Vancouver, reported the feeling on Vancouver Island and at the coast was that those standing on platforms independent of any party would almost certainly constitute the largest group in the new house.

Candidates Should File Papers Early

VICTORIA, Oct. 6 (CP).—Provincial election officials today expressed a timely warning to candidates intending to file nomination papers in the coming provincial election. With so many legal points to consider, intending candidates would be well advised to show their nomination papers to returning officers in their own districts well in advance of October 12, the final date for filing, it was stated. In this way any irregularities may be cleared up in time to permit of the papers being presented finally in their proper form.

The BEST way to stop CONSTIPATION

Nothing like Fruit-a-tives

"I was in a very bad way with constipation. My stomach was off-colour and I kept having headache after headache. Quite frequently I had severe pains in my joints and muscles. The general effect was very depressing. Indeed, I felt so wretched that I was about to give up work. Today my health is excellent and I certainly feel that 'Fruit-a-tives' played a large part in bringing this about. They toned up my entire system."

VERIGIN MAY FACE COURT

Trail City Authorities Protest at Alley Blocking

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 6—Peter Verigin, president and spiritual leader of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, will likely be prosecuted in city police court for obstructing a public thoroughfare by placing posts in the alley at the rear of the Doukhobor block from the Canadian Pacific railway and that the railway is "spotting cars on the siding, thus using his siding."

Thursday he had three posts placed in the lane with rope strung between them to hold two cars on the siding. Police told him to take the posts out of the lane and that he could put them in private property if he wished but they must not be on the lane since they would constitute an obstruction.

Verigin is said to have told the police that if anyone cut the string it would be just like cutting off the King's head.

Friday the string was broken and the cars gone, but the posts were still implanted in the alley outside the building line.

It is understood today that city officials were preparing evidence to be used in bringing Verigin into court. The city was not concerned with Verigin's position as far as the railway company was concerned but solely with the posts being placed in the alley, it was pointed out.

RIVER WALL TRAIL'S PLAN

TRAIL, B.C., Oct. 6—A donation from the district municipality of Tadanac of cement to the value of $10,000 which will allow the immediate construction of Trail's riverfront wall, was accepted at a special meeting of the city council Thursday night.

Plans of the project were presented to the council by City Engineer S. S. McDiarmid and the proposed wall would join with the present retaining wall of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company off the foot of Victoria street and its contour along the riverfront would be to a large extent symmetrical with the shore line of the river. The reclaimed area would vary in width from 130 feet at the widest point to 60 feet. The necessary wall would be some 20 feet in height with a coping to the height of two feet, and an ornamental pipe rail fence on top to a height of approximately an additional two feet. Construction details as to the composition of the proposed wall were presented to the council by the engineer but they were tentative and subject to further study of the proposal. The wall would follow a contour close to the river's low water mark.

The first steps toward construction of the wall will be to gather into heaps the rocks on the riverfront and to prepare footings. It is expected this work will be commenced before many days have elapsed.

The Consolidated company has promised the civic authorities it will cooperate in making the necessary fill by turning the launders from its smelting plant into the area.

Expel Dimitroff

"I Wish I Had a Gun," Hungarian Shouts

By W. E. BROCKMANN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

LEIPZIG, Germany, Oct. 6 (AP).—Fiery Georgi Dimitroff, shouting, "I wish I had a gun—I would use it," was expelled from the court room today after he had taunted the supreme court justices hearing the reichstag fire trial and accused a policeman of being a liar.

The court room was thrown into a tumult and many of the spectators laughed as the defendant, former leader of the Bulgarian Communists, by his tactics handicapped the prosecution's efforts to substantiate charges of high treason against him and Blagoi Popoff, another Bulgarian.

This followed a continued tirade by the defendant during which he charged the court records had been falsified and assailed the police as "incompetent."

BOARD TO GIVE ESLING FACTS

Will Ask Aid to Get an Engineer Kept; Ask Stevens Too

Facts placed before the council of the board of trade Thursday by W. R. Grubbe and C. F. McHardy, in regard to the large Dominion public works interests in the Kootenay, further confirmed the council in its effort to sidetrack the complete closing of the district office here, and it was decided to prepare a strong presentation on the matter, and submit it to W. K. Esling, M. P. for West Kootenay, with a collateral appeal to Hon. H. H. Stevens, British Columbia's cabinet representative, to have at least one engineer retained in the upper country.

INTERVIEWED FORDE

Mr. Grubbe reported on the interview which President C. H. Hamilton and himself had had with J. P. Forde, who will have sole charge of the British Columbia work under the reorganization, and who informed them that the plans of the Dominion had been laid long ago. Mr. McHardy argued that the interests of the government in $700,000 worth of wharves and $400,000 worth of equipment on these lakes, in addition to such matters as maintenance of the channel in the Arrow lakes, which was of almost day-to-day attention, could not be handled to the best advantage from the coast.

It was stated that Mr. Esling was very much concerned about the proposed complete closing, and was acting in the matter, and it was considered that he should be given the board's strongest backing.

The council decided the matter could be best handled by a committee, and President Hamilton named W. R. Gurbbe, C. F. McHardy, and A. Baird as the committee.

FINANCE PROPOSAL

A report from the finance and membership committee, presented by its chairman, A. Baird, was discussed.

This led to revival of discussion on a possible closer cooperation with the Chamber of Mines of Eastern British Columbia, with possible financial gain to both organizations without any loss of efficiency.

On the motion of Messrs. Grubbe and Baird it was decided to write the Chamber, suggesting an examination of the possibilities.

The council luncheon and meeting were held at the Hume, the first under a new deal just made.

The club was entered in the international attendance contest, competing in class B, for clubs with a membership of 50 or under.

William Lauener was named chairman of the sports committee in place of H. J. Foster now in Victoria.

The club decided to drop out of the cigarette wrapper contest it had entered since the minimum requirements were beyond reach.

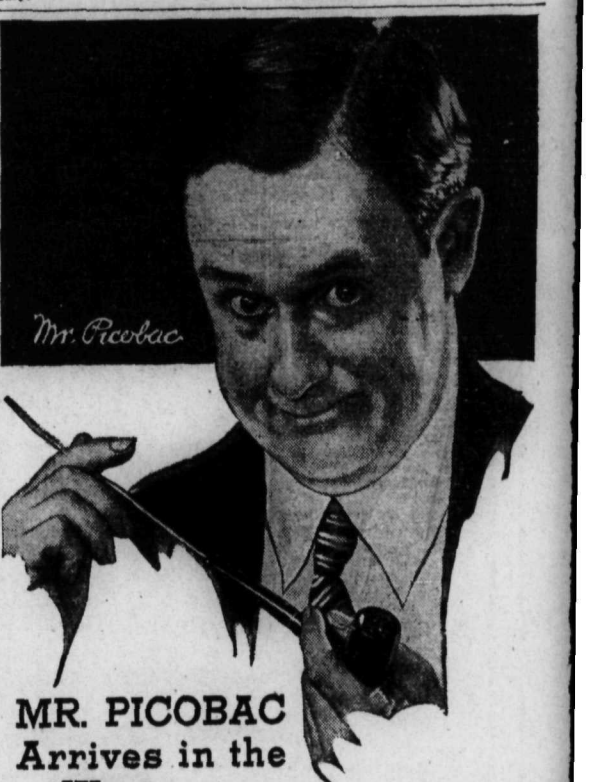
B.C. Will Have No Horticultural Pests

VICTORIA, Oct. 6 (CP).—British Columbia has no intention of giving up its 40 years' record of being free from horticultural pests and diseases, but will maintain its inspection of foreign and interprovincial imports of nursery stock at all hazards, the government made clear to nursery men today.

Difficulty arose when a change in federal legislation shifted the onus for such inspections from provincial to Dominion control.



MR. PICOBAC Arrives in the West

Having devoted several weeks to the study of smoking conditions in Eastern Canada, Mr. Picobac has now turned his attention to the West. At Regina the Picobac reception committee welcomed him to Saskatchewan and motored him out to see the threshing gangs at work.

Asked as to his views on the future of Western Canada, the philosopher from sunny southern Ontario picked up a wheat straw and thrust it through the stem of his pipe . . :

"As long as you can grow No. 1 Northern : : : on a long, strong, heavy, pipe-cleaning straw like that," pronounced he; "and as long as we can grow the quality of Burley which makes Picobac : : ."

Mr. Picobac threw away the straw, replaced his pipe at a defiant angle and left the rest to imagination: Canada, both East and West, will go on and on.

Picobac, "the pick of Canada's burley crop, grown in sunny southern Ontario," is Canada's idea of a mild : : : cool . . . sweet smoke. Try it. On sale everywhere.

ASK BAN OF MULTIPLE LURES FOR WEST KOOTENAY WATERS

Nelson Rod and Gun Club Changes Attack to a Territorial Basis; Supervisor McLeod Talks Fish; Kearns on Game

Adapting its tactics to the conditions revealed by R. W. McLeod, supervisor of Dominion fisheries for district No. 1, the Nelson District Rod and Gun club Wednesday night asked the department of fisheries to prohibit the use of multiple trolling lures in West Kootenay waters. For years the Nelson organization has battled alone for the protection of the province's game fish from these multiple lures, and Mr. McLeod asserted all the other clubs and the fish and game associations were satisfied with them, and that there was not the slightest chance of this type of lure being prohibited in response to Nelson's unsupported request. The fishery official also held that thus far there was no conclusive evidence that this type of lure was more destructive than others, stating it was the creel limit that counted.

This last assertion was strenuously combatted by many members of the club, who gave instances drawn fom the principal fishing waters in this district, including Kootenay lake, the South Slocan pool, and Wilson lake, of users of these unethical lures invariably getting striking catches, irrespective of feeding times of the fish, thus depleting the supply which the government was maintaining hatcheries to build up.

WHY HATCHERIES

At one stage President C. D. Blackwood threatened, if the department "insisted on refusing to protect the fish," that he would propose that the club ask the government to close all its game fish hatcheries and make legal the use of dynamite and nets for the taking of trout, if the quickest possible annihilation of the fish stock was to be the apparent object.

Dr. H. B. Morrison asked Mr. McLeod if it would not be possible to have fishery regulations local to certain districts, as was the case with game, and received the reply that while it might be possible but it would not be very feasible.

This line, however, seemed to offer the only direction for gettinng action, and when Mr. McLeod found the club members inclined to use it, he suggested that as substantial a territory as possible should be named, as it would give the move increased importance if the campaign should be successful. He pointed out that the sportsmen, through their club recommendations, and not the government, made the regulations, and that Nelson could not expect success on this line until it had won support from other clubs.

On motion of Dr. Morrison and Mr. Blackwood, the club decided to ask for abolition of these lures so far as West Kootenay is concerned.

FISH CULTURE WATERS

The club approved unanimously for the 1934 regulations, extensions of the closing of Cottonwood lake, Six-Mile Lakes, and the connecting Six-Mile or Duhamel creek, for another three years, for fish culture purposes. These are the waters that the Dominion hatchery here uses as the source of supply for eggs of the mountain Kamloops trout, or mountain trout, as it is popularly called. This change would extend the closed period to 1937.

In addressing the club, which was called together especially to hear him, Mr. McLeod admitted the past year had not seen the advance in the department's work that had been recorded each year for the previous 10 years, as the funds had been cut so severely that it was only with the hardest struggle that any showing could be made. The case, he predicted, would be the same next year. While the work was greatly cut down, he admitted there was probably benefit from the stringency, in that it gave the department a new point of view.

Much of the advance of recent years, he said, had been the result of a better understanding by the anglers of the department's work, as the result of closer contact.

RETURNING OF FISH

Discussing points of general interest to anglers, Mr. McLeod said many anglers in this province, particularly those at the coast, argued against the return of under-sized fish, claiming that the slightest wounding, from hook or otherwise, meant shortly dead fish, and that it was ridiculous to return fish that could not survive.

New light had been thrown on this matter by experiments last year in Prince Edward Island, Mr. McLeod said, the department's biologist at Halifax, when on his holidays, happening to discover in some clear water some trout with broken gill arches. These fish seemed not to be inconvenienced in any way, and this led to his catching 24 fish and keeping them in a trough of running water, after injuring them in various ways, some of them by tearing the gill arches. Some took food in 48 hours and seemed fully recovered in 60 hours. A second group was tested later, and the final result was 92 per cent of the fish made apparently complete recovery and were not inconvenienced by the mutilation.

Respecting care in handling fish to be returned, the speaker said he felt handling live fish with a dry hand must have serious results, probably inducing inflamation at least.

Mr. McLeod mentioned the debate respecting the size limit of eight inches for trout, which some sections have wanted reduced, on the theory that where conditions are not favorable, the trout in a particular water, though becoming mature and reproducing, never attaining legal size. As a result of this matter being raised at the Kamloops convention, the diologists were being asked to take up the problem, he said, and for this purpose under-sized fish were being sent from various waters where it was claimed such fish were mature, to ascertain their actual state of development. The biologists would have the determining word, he said, as to whether any adjustment would be made.

COARSE FISH INNOCENT

Asked respecting the studies to determine whether coarse fish in interior waters are destroying trout eggs or fry, Mr. McLeod gave an analysis of the contents of 26 squawfish stomachs from Lake Windermere, secured just after the trout spawning season. Clams, snails, tadpoles, and aquatic insects made up the bulk of the food found, and the negligible fish remains found were considered to be probably not salmonoides.

A similar examination of 71 stomachs of suckers showed not a trace of trout eggs.

He said the belief that suckers ate trout eggs probably arose from them being seen burrowing into the bars where the trout had recently spawned. They were really burrowing, he said, to prepare their own nests.

Trout, he said, for their first two years found young suckers and squawfish an important part of their diet. In their later stages, the kokanees were the preferred food, especially by the Kamloops trout.

Another office performed by the suckers, Mr. McLeod said, was cultivation of the bottoms of the shallows, where weed growths, if not checked, would spoil the bottoms for the animal food necessary for young trout.

A resolution of thanks was extended to Mr. McLeod, for his address.

The Nelson hatchery officials were also the recipient of an appreciative vote, for their efficient work, and for their assistance extended to the club.

KEARNS EXPLAINS

Sub-Inspector C. F. Kearns, who is chief game officer for "B" division, addressed the club briefly on the game matters which had been the subject of representations by the club last winter.

He expressed the hope that President Blackwood, though disappointed at the failure to secure abolition of live decoys, would not carry out his threat to retire from active game conservation work. While the Nelson club was thus far the only one in the province in favor of this step, he said every game warden, as well as Commissioner Bryan Williams, was personally in favor of it, and hoped the educational work would be successful.

Respecting the Nelson resolution asking a close season for willow grouse in this district, Mr. Kearns said he did not support it for two reasons, one being that he himself saw lots of willow grouse wherever he went, and the other being the large number of letters he received from district points, protesting against it.

On the caribou open season, he said the club must admit its wishes had been acted upon.

Mr. Kearns was also accorded a vote of thanks.

ARCHIE JOHNSON

The final act of the club was to adopt a resolution expressing the loss sustained by the organization, and by the angling fraternity generally, in the death a few days ago of Archie Johnson, K. C., formerly of Nelson, the father of the three-pound limit for trout before being eligible for sale.

The Road to RECOVERY

A Statement by the Prime Minister of Canada

WITHIN a few days the Dominion of Canada will offer for public subscription the 1933 Refunding Loan, the purposes and terms of which will be announced in detail by the Minister of Finance on Tuesday, October 10. In this national undertaking an opportunity will be afforded both for sound investment and for public service, and I have no doubts as to the readiness with which Canadian investors will respond.

I feel, however, that the 1933 Loan marks a point in Canadian affairs to which it is only proper that public attention should be drawn as a means of extending justifiable encouragement to many thousands of men and women who have endured adversity with such admirable fortitude.

With due precaution against unwarranted optimism I think I may say that in Canada we are now on the road to recovery. The road may be long and progress may be slow, but the events of the past six months appear to demonstrate with increasing clarity that the downward trend has come to a definite stop and that an upward trend is now in progress.

The evidence of improvement is written in the statistical facts of our industry and trade. These records show that our general economic condition reached its lowest point during the month of February last and that today we are definitely above that level following a recovery which has been gradual but persistent and unmistakable.

The most significant of these figures are probably those dealing with the physical volume of business, wholesale prices and employment, and I give here briefly the record of recovery in each case as shown by the reports of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

The index of our physical volume of business, which represents virtually the economic pulse of the nation, stood last February at 67.1. For August, the most recent month for which the index is available, the figure was 89.9, an improvement of approximately 34%.

Wholesale prices, in which even minor changes are highly significant, have risen over 9%, or from an index of 63.6 last February to one of 69.4 in August.

Employment, although still at a regrettably low level, has, nevertheless, been gaining steadily for the past five months. On the basis of partial reports from industrial employers some 116,000 persons have been added to pay-rolls since last April. An estimate by the Bureau on a more comprehensive basis places the total increase in employment at 246,000 during the same period.

Our external trade figures are equally encouraging. Both exports and imports have risen, with the former showing the more rapid increase. As a result, Canada had a favourable trade balance of over $114,000,000 in the twelve months ended August 31st this year. For the corresponding period last year the favourable balance was only $38,000,000, and in the two previous twelve months' periods instead of favourable figures we had unfavourable balances of $45,000,000 and of $103,000,000 respectively.

All these facts and figures I think we may quite safely take as sign-posts on the road to recovery. In our further progress, no single factor will have more significance than the success of our national loan operations. The recent 4% loan in London was a notable tribute to Canada's credit standing. It was immediately oversubscribed many times and now commands a substantial premium. I feel satisfied that our own people will be quick to perceive that the 1933 Refunding Loan in Canada is at once a challenge and an opportunity—a challenge to aid in the restoration of business recovery and an opportunity to serve thereby their own and their country's best interests.

INSTALMENT ONE

"Or because he wishes to."

"Have it your own way," said Glynn. "If scandal is permitted to start on the New Art lot tonight connected with Tanse Wilson, this company stands to lose several million dollars."

At the New Art studio Martin Glynn parked his car near the huge iron gate which separted the lot from the outside world. Ahead, Jim observed what appeared to be the street of an English village and which really was a double line of offices occupied by directors, scenario writers and stenographers; but which architecturally would be used as foreign background when necessary. A few lights burned dimly along this strangely exotic street.

The gateman recognized Martin Glynn and touched his cap.

"Mr. Shannon wishes to see you immediately, Mr. Glynn."

He stepped into a tiny sentry box and whirled the dial of a telephone. Within five minutes Steve Shannon barged down the street of the English village and grabbed Martin Glynn's hand.

"By gosh," he exploded, "I'm glad you've come."

A shadow of apprehension flashed across Glynn's finely chiseled afce.

"Nothing has happened, hat it?"

"Happened," roared Shannon. "Not yet! But it's going to!"

Tonight the chronically excited young Irishman was excelling himself. His athletic frame was trembling with fury and bewilderment. He strode along in front of his visitors toward his office, muttering to himself.

Steven Shannon's office was in the middle of a huge hallway.

The director plopped into the swivel chair, lighted a cigarette at which he puffed viciously.

Martin Glynn rested his thin, long-fingered hands on the desk and spoke in his bleak little voice.

"This is Jim Hanvey, the detective, what's wrong, Steve?"

"I wish I knew. The dope about Tanse Wilson packing a gun is straight. He's carrying the thing in his hip pocket and won't take it out, even when we're filming a scene."

"Any explanation?"

"None. But you can take it from me that lad is plenty nervous. He was all set until a little after 8 o'clock, then he suddenly went blooie; came rushing up to me and said he couldn't work. He said this request didn't have anything to do with his marriage, but that he simply wasn't feeling well. And that, Mr. Glynn, wasn't any lie. He was green around the gills. I had a tough time with him, and finally I made him stay. Since then he's been hunting the dark spots.

Hanvey's easy voice broke in: "Dark spots?"

"We're working in the tank," explained Shannon. "We've got it fixed up like a little mountain community on the edge of a lake. Adjoining our set are two enormous sets; one of the Montmartre section of Paris and the other a rather lavish Chinatown thing. Naturally those sets are dark. The minute we quit using Tanse Wilson on our set he beats it off by himself and sits in the darkest spot of Chinatown."

"Afraid of being seen e.h?"

"Probably. Or else he's waiting to get the drop on somebody. My hunch is that he expects to be pot-shooted, and hasn't back bone enough to take matters in his own hands and walk off the lot."

"His nervousness seemed to start about eight o'clock?" asked Glynn.

"Yes."

'It's after 11 now. Nothing has happened yet?"

"No."

"Then isn't it possible that nothing will happen?"

"Sure. It's possible."

Glyn chose his words with care. "Is it Karl Bergdorf?"

Shannon shook his head: "I don't think so."

"Has Bergdorf been on the set?"

"Not yet. His unit is working on Stage Nine."

"Bergdorf might have a real quarrel with Tanse—or Iris."

"Your darn right he might," the director replied, "Bergdorf got a dirty deal. It struck me that the kid might be afraid of Bergdorf."

"Then," suggested Glynn, "why not let Hanvey keep a close eye on Bergdorf?"

"Sounds simple," returned Shannon, "and would be if there wasn't another factor which has me completely up in the air."

"What?"

Shannon hesitated. Then: "Do you remember Mary Venable the stenographer? She's working with me as script girl now."

Glynn nodded: "I remember. A trim little trick. And a pretty good worker."

"Precisely. Accurate as a finely jeweled watch, popular with actors and crew, and the best script girl on the lot. Well . . . she's mixed up in this affair somehow."

"I'm afraid," said Glynn, "that I don't understand."

"You've got nothing on me."

He crushed out the stub of his cigarette. 'I've known this Venable girl for a couple of years," he continued. "She's all right as they make 'em, and doggone efficient. I've never known her to be temperamental, or other than cheerful—and I've used her plenty with my companies.

"Just before we got ready to shoot at eight o'clock tonight she was called to the telephone. Up to that time she had been cheerful, and was kidding with the crew like she always does. Five minutes later she came back looking like she had seen a ghost. At first I thought she was ill, but she insisted she was all right. Then I asked if she had any bad news, and she said no. She was lying about one or the other of those things, and I told her so, but I couldn't get a word of explanation.

"A few seconds later I saw her walk over to Tanse Wilson. She drew him aside and talked to him. Being worried about the girl I watched them. I saw Tanse turn green under his make-up, and the minute she left him he came over to me and said he wasn't going to work tonight. He also refused to give any reason, but I know it was because of something Mary Venable told him.

"I resorted to browbeating and subdued that kid mentality of his. But a few minutes later he disappeared from the set and shortly after he came back Bill Vent reported that he had copped a gun from the property room and was carrying it around. Since that time Tanse has been acting like I told you, and Mary Venable has been up in the air." Steve crashed his fist down on the desk top. "I don't know what it's all about," he roared, "but I know this' Something has got Tanse Wilson cuckoo and Mary Venable knows precisely what it is."

THE GROWTH OF EMPIRE TRADE

The steady growth of Empire trade month by month is the best answer to those who criticised the trade agreements signed at Ottawa as ineffective.

The agreements have been in effect nine months. In that period Canadian exports to British countries totalled $161,000,000 compared with $140,000,000 in the same period before the agreements became effective. Exports to the United Kingdom show a gain of $20,000,000 or 18 per cent.

Imports from Empire countries for the nine months were $85,000,000 as compared to $93,000,000. During the last three months, however, the imports increased by $5,000,000 over the same period of the previous year, or 16 per cent, showing that the agreements are becoming effective in import trade as well.

Last year at this time Canada was importing 30 per cent of her requirements from Empire countries. Now the proportion is 35 per cent. Last year the United States was supplying 57.5 per cent of our requirements. Now the proportion is 51.8 per cent.

Our exports to the Irish Free State, Australia, Newfoundland, the British West Indies, the British countries of Africa, and various other dependencies and colonies all showed increases in August.

During the present fiscal year, five months, the exports to British countries other than the United Kingdom have increased from $14,000,000 to $17,000,000 or 22 per cent of the figure is steadily increasing. It is now at the highest level since November, 1931.

Our imports from British Empire countries increased 22 per cent in August as compared to August of last year.

The trade agreements have brought about no spectacular alteration in our business scheme of things. They are, however, more and more rapidly developing new business for Canada and all the Empire countries. Canada is selling more, not only to the United Kingdom and the self-governing states, but to a host of colonies and dependencies where formerly we sold nothing at all.

RECREATION'S VALUE

The practical usefulness of public recreation grounds in a time when economic depression gives lots of people more leisure than they know what to do with is graphically shown in figures just issued by the National Recreation association.

Sightly less than 7500 of the 12,684 directed play areas supported by 1012 cities in Canada and the United States were visited by more than 270,000,000 adults and children during 1932. Attendance at outdoor playgrounds was 13,000,000 above the previous year's total.

Even in desperately hard times, public recreation deserves full tax support. Money spent on these facilities is money very well spent indeed. It would be difficult to over-estimate the amount of good that organized play spots have done during the past year.

'AUTUMN GLORY THAT MISSED ITS CUE

By DAVID SCOTT Jr.

Autumn is my weakness. It goes to my head like wine, and causes me to write poetry that—that, well even my best friends tell me to go somewhere and stop breathing if I ever feel another seizure coming on. The editors send me the sweetest rejection slips, you have no idea how sorry they are, and it doesn't necessarily imply that the manuscript is without merit and so on. You really ought to have a look at my collection sometime when you have a week-end to spare.

This year, while waiting for the trees to put on their make-up and start doing their stuff, I wrote the opening line of what was to be my "Mystery of Autumn" in three volumes. It ran: "This is the season of all the year when I feel——"

And then: Crash! Bang! Flash! Just another leak in the roof, just another cloud burst, and just another inspiration washed away, which might have reigned supreme in many an editor's wastepaper basket.

I fell, no more, in fact I'm nearly frozen. All that is left for me is to write this sad little comentary on the autumn glory that missed its cue.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Socialist System Is Only Hope Retaining Home Life He Writes

To the Editor—

Sir: I will be obliged to you if you will kindly publish the following in answer to a letter by "Individualist" which appeared in your paper of Sept. 27.

This gentleman writes, "Where is the parent who would part with his least favored child for all the wealth of the world? Where the husband who would not lay down his life to defend the honor of his wife or slay the villain who would smirch the purity of his home?"

I wish to point out to "Individualist" that if the present system is allowed to continue we will not be able to support our wives and children and our homes will be owned by the money lenders.

If the capitalist system can be "improved" and "adjusted" as our Conservative and Liberal politicians tell us it can, then let us have this adjustment immediately. We have been waiting for years for this improvement and the speed with which it is coming is pretty good proof that there is no improvement to be expected as long as we adhere to an economic system which allows one man's wife to live in luxury while another man's wife and family barely receive the necessities of life; not because the second man will not work, but because he is denied the privilege of working. He is denied the privilege of working because he has worked too well and produced too much. His sons are herded into camps and his daughters walk the streets.

My friend, the time is rapidly approaching under out present system when you will find your "tangible" possessions slipping from your grasp and your "untangible" possessions which you rightly state you hold so dear will slowly but surely follow.

If you, my friend, prize your family and friends so highly it is strange that you should violently support a scheme of economics which is bound to lead this country into an even deeper morass of suffering than we now know, ending possibly in bloodshed and civil war.

You uphold a system which can not and never has been successful without periodic wars, with the consequent slaughter of our sons and the young fathers of families, not to mention the terrible effect upon the young women of the country.

You state that socialism will wreck the home and encourage "free love." What rot. On the contrary a Socialist system is our only hope of retaining the home and encouraging married happiness.

I personally know of young couples who would gladly marry and be mighty happy if it were possible for the young man to support a wife and family.

I also know of a young married couple with a small family, the young mother working to support the home because he cannot find work and she happens to have a job. This does not encourage married bliss. And these little children are not getting a mother's tender care.

The C.C.F. through their planned system of production and distribution will give us the privilege of earning and receiving according to our production. We will be able to retain our homes and provide for those we love. We will be able to hold our "tangible" and "intangible" possessions without the continual fear of unemployment, sickness and foreclosures.

You rave of divorce in Russia being had for the asking. It is not so in Canada. Divorce is a privilege granted only to the rich in our prosperous Dominion. It is like most things under our capitalistic system. It has to be bought.

If a couple find themselves mismated and are flying at each others throats every five minutes, if the husband is a drunkard and a loafer, yet no divorce is possible without our great "god" money.

My friend, you should not write of Russia, because you know nothing about the U.S.S.R. You get your information from the capitalistic press, rationed to you and censored.

You are even behind the times in this information. Don't you know it's not fashionable any more to speak of Russia as a failure? Don't you know that it has been discovered just recently that Russia is prospering and her people happy, but not under Communism. If you have been faithfully reading our local papers recently and loyally shunning all others you will believe that Russia has now a capitalistic system. Yes. Controlled capitalism. We have evidently been mislead all these years in the belief that the U.S.S.R. was a chaos of red communism. The Russian revolution was evidently a great upheaval to bring into effect a new system called controlled capitalism.

I wonder if the Canadian people are really expected to believe all this. At any rate I believe the majority of us are in the habit of using our brains even if they are a little rusty from idleness. There is one thing the depression has done for us and that is to cause us to awake and think.

The working masses of the people are like a great giant which does not know its own strength, drowsy and unthinking when well fed. Hunger and privation is now causing this giant to arouse himself and think. This thought is being rapidly followed by action to sever the puny chains which have bound it in ignorance and slavery. The chains of capitalism.

You "Individualist" say that Socialism will make every woman the common property of man. Drivel! Give woman a little credit for at least an ounce of common sense and a will of their own.

Socialism does not necessarily have to abolish marriage. Why should it?

And anyway it is not the marriage vow that holds a woman true to her husband or a husband true to his wife. Under capitalism or communism that which holds a man and wife together is something far deeper and stronger than any man-made laws, and if any woman desires to be the common property of all men then she will be so regardless of capitalism or Socialism, and vice-versa.

But there is one thing that is certain, the onward march of civilization can not be checked and civilization and humanity can not progress further under capitalism.

PHYSICAL DEFECTS INTERFERE WITH SCHOOL WORK

Your youngster is attending school where there is dental and medical inspection and you are notified of some physical defects in your youngster.

Some parents become indignant, others are surprised, and still others pay no attention to the notice from the school dentist, doctor, or nurse.

How do physical refects interfere with the progress of the child at school?

The records show that children suffering with defects are not able to do their best work and fall behind what they really could accomplish, were they free of these defects.

The director of health and physical education, Fresno, California, made an analysis of the health and school records of 811 children in the first to sixth grades.

In the matter of eyesight, for instance, it was found that few children in the group who were advanced in their studies for their age had any eye defects, or poor eyesight.

In the group who were of normal age for their grade, an equally small number had eye defects.

However, among those pupils who were behind in their school work for their age the number with defective vision was double that of the other two groups.

What happened when all the parents of children with defective vision were notified?

It was found that the parents of those children who were advanced in their school work for their age, and also those whose children were in the normal grade for their age, responded to this notice for the school, three times as often as did those parents whose children were behind in their school work for their age.

You can readily understand that if a youngster doesn't see some of the work on the blackboard practically the whole of that instruction may be lost as little or no attention will be given. It is this lack of attention that will interfere with the youngster's progress, and this can really be blamed on the defective eyesight.

The thought then is that from the information the above figures give us, parents should see the importance of early examination for children and of prompt correction of defects.

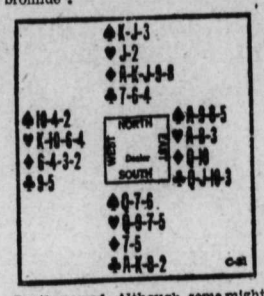
Auction and Contract Bridge

By the World's Leading Authority, MILTON C. WORK

A PLOT EXPOSED

At the Bridge table and at the council table in a World's Conference appearances were sometimes deceptive. It is not wise to appraise every high card and every high promise at face value. The following hand played by a quartette of experts in a recent rubber game illustrates the Bridge truth of the above "bromide".



South passed. Although some might appraise his hand as containing two and a half high-card or honor tricks, few would consider it strong enough for an original bid. West passed and North bid one Diamond. South called two Clubs, and North rebid his Diamonds; South bid two No Trumps and North, figuring that South must have some Heart strength, called three.

West led a Heart, dummy played the Deuce (the Jack would have been an egregious error), and East won with the Ace. East returned the Eight of Hearts which South covered, hoping that West would misread the Hearts; but West was not deceived. East's Heart return denied an original holding of four Hearts and enabled West to mark South with two more, so he played the Six, permitting dummy's Jack to win.

As Declarer needed at least one Spade trick North led the King of Spades, East won and led his third Heart which West took with the Ten and then cashed his King, making four adverse tricks. On the third and fourth Heart leads, North discarded two Clubs and East one. After that West led a Diamond and Declarer determined that it was sound play to win the first Diamond trick and, if advisable finesse later. So North played the King of Diamonds and East (realizing that if he played his Ten, Declarer would be apt to refuse a second finesse also) tried to deceive by playing the Queen under the King. This apparently would make a finesse with dummy's Eight on the second round of Diamonds a winner. However, the Declarer was not a Bridge neophyte and he determined to see if he could get a count of the hand before risking the Diamond finesse which seemed almost too tempting.

Two good Spades were cashed and after that the Ace and King of Clubs, West followed to all four tricks and that disclosed to the Declarer that East could not be Diamondless, West had played four Hearts, three Spades and two Clubs; therefore, he could not originally have been a singleton and he must have held more than four Diamonds —ergo, East's Diamond could not have been a singleton and he must have held Queen-10 and played the Queen with deceptive intent. With this information the Declarer won with the Diamond Jack and then Cashed his Ace and Nine.

Told in Rime

READY FOR WINTER

I have dropped the leaves from each twig and bough,
I am ready, all ready, for winter now.

Stripped of their fluttering flags
and sails,
My trees have no fear of the winter
gales.

Their sap is safe 'neath the frozen ground,
Till the clear, high summons of Spring shall sound.

Each bud is wrapped warmly, secure and tight,
And each has a waterproof, new and bright.

My bulbs are covered, my seeds are sown,
And away to the south have my song birds flown.

The year's been so busy happy
and blest,
And now I am weary and long for rest.

Wrapped in my leafy blanket light,
I wait for the snow's warm coverlet white.

I will not care for winter's blast
And whirling snow-wreaths driving fast.

They will but cover me still more deep
And only lull me to sweeter sleep.

Drowsed with content I will stretch
my form
And dream to the fifes of the far-flung storm.

Then Mother Earth sank into slumber deep,
Smiling "Good-bye, labor and welcome sleep!"

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN

WEEK OF OCTOBER 9 TO 15

For western and central Canada, embracing British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario.

Monday, Oct. 9, 1933—Clear, mild weather in nearly every part of the country except the Pacific slope and in mountains, where it is slightly cloudy and unsettled.

Tuesday, Oct. 10—Unsettled with light rains probable about southwest sections of central provinces, but in general clear and warm for the season.

Wednesday, Oct. 11—The unsettled condition drifts eastward mostly along the southern borders, but in central and west sections weather is clear and changing to slightly cooler.

Thursday, Oct. 12— Weather is clear and cool except in section about southeast, near great lakes, where there are clouds and some precipitation.

Friday, Oct. 13—Clear and much cooler weather in all parts except southeast Manitoba and west Ontario, where it is probably cloudy and some precipitation.

Saturday, Oct. 14—A period of clear, cool weather in every part of the central provinces, clouds in only a few places and no heavy or stormy winds.

Sunday, Oct. 15—Weather remains fairly clear, except in the southeast, about great lakes, where it is slightly unsettled. Cool spell, but change to warmer probable.

Week of Oct. 9 to 15, 1933, in central regions should begin with mild, clear weather, with almost no storm disturbances except on Pacific slope and about mountains. At first becomes warmer, but near mid week changes to considerably cooler. In general the week should be mild and clear except for clouds and light precipitation drifting along southern borders to southeast. In last days probably short warm spell in west and on the great plains between western mountains and lakes country.

The general temperature forecast for October indicates an average somewhat below the normal, in this country. The forecast for precipitation also shows a decline, and from this we conclude there will be a considerable number of clear, cold days this month. A few warm days are expected in the central regions near 7th and 19th, or a day or two earlier in the west and a day or so later in the east. Coldest days ought to come around 13th and 25th, and near this latter date a rather tight freeze may be expected in northern sections, but soon followed by much warmer weather.

WYNNDEL FAIR MONEY MAKER

Ladies to Outfit a Semi-Private in Creston Hospital

WYNNDEL, B. C., Oct. 6—A special meeting of Wynndel Women's institute was held at the church on Thursday afternoon, for the purpose of winding up matters in connection with the fall fair of the week previous, 20 members and 8 visitors were present. The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. F. C. Robinson.

Miss Olga Hagen, secretary, presented a financial statement in connection with the exhibition which indicated that after paying the prizes in full and all other expenses the fair will clear at least $35, and when to this is added the intake from the tea room and the proceeds of the raffle of the linen chest, the exhibition will have proven an outstanding financial success.

In addition to paying Creston brass band as agreed, the institute voted to donate them an extra $3 in appreciation of their contribution to the fair's success. The secretary was voted $5 in appreciation of her splendid work in connection with the fair. The president expressed a sincere appreciation of the wholehearted support she had received in staging the fair, and Mrs. 'Eakin moved a vote of appreciation of the president's very thorough effort, and this was carried with enthusiasm.

OUTFIT HOSPITAL ROOM

In connection with furnishing a room at Creston hospital the institute decided to outfit a semi-private ward, and for this year it will omit its usual grant to the Crippled Children's work as well as the Solarium, and with the money saved will purchase an extra bed for the Wynndel Institute toom at Creston hospital.

The drawing took place on the linen chest and the lucky ticket was held by Mrs. McKenzie of Creston. Three articles not completed in time for the chest were disposed of in a drawing competition which brought in an additional $3.

Before closing, a vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. E. Hackett, who made the quilt for the linen chest. Mrs. E. Towson was similarly remembered for her good work as convenor of the tea room committee, and she in turn thanked all those who had so ably assisted with the work.

There was the usual social hour at the close of proceedings, at which each member was a hostess, and provided a fitting finish for one of the most satisfactory meetings in the Institute's history.

LITTLE CHANGE IN WALL ISSUES

Tone Brightens Toward Close After Stocks Had Dragged

By JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—Weak grain markets brought a downward drag in stocks today, but the tone brightened toward the close and final share prices were little changed.

Rye's sharp break to the limit allowed for a single trading day had a reactionary effect on other grains, and cereals slumped badly for U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Westinghouse, General Electric, American Telephone, Chrysler, New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio, Consolidated Gas, North American, Loose-Wiles, National Cash Register, A. M. Byers, Sears Roebuck and Seaboard Oil net declines ranged from small fractions to a point.

WHEAT SLUMPS

WINNIPEG, Oct. 6 (CP)—Succumbing to the bearish influence of a five-cent flop in Chicago wheat futures values on the Winnipeg grain exchange slumped near the close today and finished 1⅜ to 1⅝ cents under previous final figures.

The closing stages were quite active with October selling at 59½, November 60, December at 59¾, and May at 64¼ cents.

Toronto Stocks Lose Early Strength

TORONTO, Oct. 6 (CP)—Stocks backed and filled today on the Toronto stock exchange and the result was a generally lower close. Volume was only 22,000 shares.

The market had a steady opening but lacked the steam to erase afternoon losses. Nickel closed down 85 cents at 19.75. Smelters was off ⅛, Brazilian ½, Ford "A" ⅝ and C.P.R. ½.

In the distillery group Distillers Seagram sold down ½.

MINE LEADERS OFF SLIGHTLY

INTERNATIONAL NICKEL OFF 60

Corn Continues Slide

Wheat Closes Nervous Over Three Cents Down

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (CP)—Continued absence of definite knowledge of the government's monetary plans sent all grains spinning to lowest prices that exchange rules would permit today.

Wheat rallied just at the last about a cent from the low point, closing nervous 3½ to 4⅛ under yesterday's finish, corn 4 to 4⅛ down, oats off 3 to 3⅛, and provisions unchanged to 32 cents setback.

Corn reached the bottommost quotations since early last May, and more than 34 cents down from the high point in July.

Giants Win Third Game Behind Hubbell in 11 Innings

ERRY'S HOMER AND JACKSON'S UN SUFFICIENT TO DOWN THE ENATORS IN BRILLIANT GAME

eaver and Hubbell Stage Pitcher's Duel in Closest Game of Series; Senators Weak in Batting in Pinches

By ALAN GOULD

CLARK GRIFFITH STADIUM, Washington, Oct. 6 AP).—The young man who sounded the Giants' famous ar—"They can't beat us"—proved it this afternoon in e of the most thrilling world series games played in rs.

John Collins (Blondy) Ryan, fair-haired boy shortstop the National league champions, came through in the h inning with the base-hit that scored the winning run d then saved the game by rting a double play that ded the last desperate rally the Senators with the ses full.

n a finish that had the hearts one and all, including 27,762 h customers, beating wildly with itement and suspense, Carl Owen bbell pulled out second conquest the American gue champions the thin margin 2-1 after a sen- ional duel with nte Weaver. uthful right- nder of the Sen- rs.

t was the third umph for the ants in four bril- ntly pitched ball mes, by far the st dramatic of thing that has happened so far, d puts this amazing New York m within one game of its goal— world series championship that med like a "pipe dream" to ir followers only a few months o.

ut for an error by the great bbell himself in the seventh in- g, when he juggled Joe Kuhel's y bunt and paved the way for tieing score, the master of the rew ball" would have scored a shutout in the regulation nine ings, thanks to a terrific home drive by Manager Bill Terry o the conelike centerfield bleach- in the fourth frame.

NISH MANUSH

s a result of this deadlocked sit- ion, the two pitchers and the two ms fought in spectacular fashion the edge. In a furious struggle ked by the ejection of Heinie nush, slugging left-fielder, from game after the sixth inning for ow with umpire Charles Moran the National league on a close sion at first base.

he Senators' outfield was shifted they came back in their half the seventh to tie the score on bbell's misplay of Kuhel's bunt, ege's infield out and Luke Sew- hard single to center field. ut their mightiest efforts there- were frustrated by a Giant nce that refused to be cracked er the heaviest of pressure.

AN IS HERO

Ryan emerged as the hero of e dramatic eleventh inning fin- at a time when it looked as ough Hubbell and Weaver might ht it out until darkness. ravis Jackson, substitute third eman started the eleventh by ing out a beautiful bunt down the third base line. It was a sur- prise bit of work. Mancuso sacri- ficed and Ryan then cracked the second pitch over Bluege's head and Jackson raced home with the win- ning run.

Weaver was abruptly removed when Carl Hubbell singled sharply to left-centre and Jack Russell, right-handed relief pitcher, retired Joe Moore and Hughie Critz to end the uprising.

All Hubbell had to do now was retire three more Senators but it proved another difficult job.

SCHULTE STARTS ATTACK

With the crowd roaring for a rally, Fred Schulte opened the Sen- ators attack with a sharp single to left. Then Kuhel bunted along the first base line, a dribbler that Terry thought was going to roll foul. It didn't and there were two on, with none out, as a result of the Giant manager's "boner."

Bluege sacrificed, Jackson to Terry, and the dangerous Sewell then was passed, filling the bases. Lacking a sufficiently reliable right-handed pinch-hitter, Man- ager Cronin as- signed Cliff Bol- ton, a portside batsman, to take Russell's place at the plate. It was the most tense moment of the game as Hubbell worked carefully on the young backstop. Bolton finally dribbled a grounder that Ryan pounced on for the start of a double play, completed by Critz and Terry.

Cliff Bolton

BITTER DEFEAT

It was a bitter defeat for the Senators, who had shut out the Giants yesterday behind Earl White- hill's great pitching.

The Washington cleanup wallop was conspicuously missing. Goslin, Manush, Harris, Cronin and Schulte collected only three scattered hits altogether. Three times, with run- ners on second or third, Manager Cronin was an easy victim as he flied out, fanned or grounded weakly.

The Giants will rely on Hal Schu- maker to duplicate his victory in the second game and beat the Sena- tors for the deciding gesture of the series. Cronin refused to say what his hurling choice would be, but it seemed likely he would start Al Crowder, veteran right hander, who was beaten by Schumaker last Wednesday.

Sewell up—Sewell lifted a short fly to Critz who ran back to second for the catch. Seven of the first eight Senators had gone out on fly balls.

Weaver up— Weaver grounded sharply to Critz who made a nice stop and threw to Terry for the putout.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING—GIANTS

Critz up—Critz tried to bunt and missed. Critz grounded out, Cronin to Kuhel.

Terry up—Terry smashed a home run into the bleachers in deep center field.

Ott up—Weaver appeared unsettled. Ott walked, the fourth ball being low and Cronin came in for a talk with his young pitcher.

Davis up— Davis grounded to Bluege for a scratch single. The third baseman had to run in for the pickup and did not even make an attempt to throw to first base. Ott stopped at second.

Jackson up—Jackson fouled to Bluege who made the catch a few feet from third base.

Mancuso up—Mancuso walked on a fourth straight ball.

Ryan up—Ryan fanned, swinging at a fast ball inside, and the crowd let loose a roar.

One run, two hits, no errors, three left.

FOURTH INNING—SENATORS

Myer up—Myer bunted to Hubbell and was called out on a close and spectacular play. Hubbell fell to the turf after grabbing the ball, then picked it up and made the throw out while reclining almost on his back.

Goslin up—Goslin got a single on a hard drive that Terry was unable to handle. Manager Bill got his glove on the ball but it was too hot for him to hold.

Manush up—Terry and Mancuso went to the box for a talk with the southpaw. Manush walked, the fourth ball being wide and Goslin moved to second.

Cronin up—Cronin hoisted to Ott and Goslin ran to third after the catch. Manush remained at first.

Schulte up—There was another conference of the Giants' infield around their pitcher. Schulte grounded to Ryan and Manush was forced out at second, Ryan to Critz.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

FIFTH INNING—GIANTS

Hubbell up—Hubbell lined out to Cronin.

Critz up—Critz lifted a Texas leaguer that Myer caught on the run well back of first base.

Terry up—Sewell threw to first but Moore slid back safely. Terry connected with another long drive which Schulte grabbed close to the fence in deep left center.

Mancuso up—Mancuso was intentionally passed on a fourth wide pitch.

Ryan up—Ryan rolled out, Weaver to Kuhel.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

SIXTH INNING—SENATORS

Myer up—Myer beat out a sharp grounder to Ryan by a step. The shortstop made a nice pickup of the ball behind second base but his throw was a trifle late and it went for a single.

Goslin up—Goslin bunted to Jackson and was thrown out at first, sacrificing Myer to second.

Manush up—Myer ran to third on Manush's grounder after Critz grabbed and threw to Hubbell at first for a putout on a close decision. The Senators kicked long and loud in the belief that Manush had beaten the throw by Critz, who had made a spectacular stop of the ball. Terry was out of position and Hubbell just got to first in time to take the throw. Cronin went to the plate after losing his argument.

Cronin up—Cronin struck out, swinging hard at a screw ball and Hubbell was out of another jam. The disgruntled crowd let loose some boos as the Washington manager went back to his position but it was apparently directed at the umpires.

No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

The Senators gathered around first base for another argument with the arbiters. As an upshot of the argument, Manush was put out of the game and the Sena- tors were forced to shift their outfield. Harris went to right and Goslin replaced Manush in left field. Manush had gone out to take his place after the big de- bate and was finally persuaded to leave by Umpire Pfirman who went out and escorted him in.

EIGHTH INNING—SENATORS

Harris up—Harris grounded to Ryan and Goslin was forced at sec- ond, Ryan to Critz. The relay to Ter- ry was wild, however, and Harris reached the base on a fielder's choice.

Cronin up—Cronin dropped a single into right field on a looping fly sending Harris to third.

Ott was playing too deep to make the catch.

There was another confab with Hubbell but he stayed in the box.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

Moore up—Cronin conferred with Weaver and decided to remove his young righthander calling Jack Rus- sell to the box. Russell warmed up and Moore took his place at bat again. Moore fanned swinging at a fast ball.

Bluege up—Bluege bunted to Jack- son and was thrown out at first sacrificing Schulte to third and Kuhel to second. There was a big huddle of the Giants in the box.

To Play Special Golf Tournament

Members to Golf on Monday; Wind Up Tourney on October 15

For the benefit of the members of the Nelson Golf and Country club who intend to spend the Thanksgiving holiday Monday on the links, a special competition has been arranged for which a prize will be given. The holder of the lowest net score on any round of nine holes during the day's play, both ladies and men, will receive a prize. Players will deduct half of their handicap from their score for the nine holes, for their net score.

On October 15 the members of the club will bring their season's activities to a close with an Auld Lang Syne tournament. This will be a mixed two-ball foursome, match play on handicap, for a dinner at the club the same evening. Sides will be chosen, the losing side to pay. The match committee will advise the players later regarding special play on certain holes. There is expected to be a large entry as this is the official windup of the season.

RUGBY TEAMS MEET SUNDAY

Nelson Lineup Strengthened; Teams Attired in New Sweaters

All dolled up in their new sweat- ers and newly painted helmets, the Nelson senior rugby team will be seen in action against the Trail team at the Recreation grounds Sunday. Trail will also be garbed in new sweaters, a factor which will no doubt give them a snappier ap- pearance.

Coach A. M. Banks is confident that the needed punch has been added by recent changes. He pins big hopes on the peppier line which has been greatly strengthened by the addition of Bill Vance. Bob Kirby will be on the lineup.

The junior team, which journeys to Trail, will also be much stronger. Several new recruits have been chosen from the big turnouts which featured Thursday and Friday prac- tices. Thursday 29 were out and Friday 30. Pat Duffy, Jack Stout, Bert Green, George Kirby and Pete Dewdney have been added to the lineup.

KIMBERLEY GOLF REACHES FINALS

O'Neil and Montgomery to Meet; Prepare for Winter Sports

Kimberley, B. C., Oct. 6.—Basket- ball Referees association met Fri- day night, J. Shaw at its head. Members favor preparing for the B. C. Basketball Board's tests. This will be an asset to referees hold- ing certificates. Unsportmanlike play- ers will have to appear before the advisory committee, consisting of Shaw, Nicholson, Oliver, Gelling and McGregor.

Tom Marshall, Medicine Hat won from Jack Pratt, Kimberley in ex- hibition golf.

Frank Carlson won the Archie Seaton, secondary competition.

Jack O'Neill beat Dr. Hazard in the quarter finals of the open cup with a card of 76.

The final of the Bruce Ritchie cup is still to be played. This is a 36 hole event and with Jack O'Neill and E. G. Mongomery, a big game is in sight.

Tommy Thompson beat J. Sander- son in his round for the Bingay cup.

The ladies competitions are coming to an end, Mrs. Capt. Bride won over Miss Winnie Burdett in the semi-finals for the open cup.

Kimberley is getting ready for winter sports. Shareholders of the skating rink company met Tuesday with H. R. Banks in the chair. The operation of the rink for the last season showed sufficient profit to cover expenses, insurance and in- terest. Last years board was reelected. F. Slade was elected a director and appointed secretary.

Whether strip or family tickets shall be used is under consideration.

The basketball teams have been re-organized and vacancies filled. The schedules for the seasons games printed, the colors for the team suits chosen and some games played.

Mrs. Hellier of Chapman Camp has returned from spending the summer at her old home in England.

V. Pighin left for Calgary where he will attend technical college.

The Misses D. Hild, and G. Thor- leifson returned Saturday from the coast.

DEER FALL IN KITCHENER WOODS

CRESTON, B. C., Oct. 6—Miss Jessie White, principal of Kitchener public school, was a guest of Mrs. McKelvey at the week-end, reports that hunters in that section are beginning to bring in deer from the Hazel creek district. Recently Selmer Anderson brought down a four point buck, and a day later "Spud" Bush brought in a three point male. The willow grouse season which closed on Saturday, has been one of the poorest in years. While ducks are fairly plentiful it will take colder weather in the north before the geese will be available. Until the apple harvest is complete, about the end of the month, the birds and deer are quite safe, as few hunters are abroad.

KIMBERLEY SOCCER TEAM IS VICTOR

INVERMERE, B. C., Oct. 6—The Kimberley footballers beat the Lake Windermere team 6-5. As the after- noon was one of the first of our Indian summer, there was a large turnout of spectators.

How Catcher's Signs Were Stolen

By AL DEMAREE

Baserunners on second base steal- ing the catcher's signs and relaying them to the batter by hand signs, really started in 1911 world series by the Athletics.

The first runner to reach base were intentionally sacrificed to sec- ond base for no other reason than observation. They would watch the catcher's signs and then compare notes between innings. If they agreed about the fast ball and curve ball signs, they were given to the rest of the team. The rest was simple. The runner on second show- ed his thumbs for a fast ball and hid the thumbs on a curve.

If he was in doubt about the sign, he showed his fist. It was then up to the batter to use his own judg- ment.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

October 7, 1923—Babe Ruth hits 41st homer.

Miller Huggins signs contract to manage Yanks in 1924.

Hugh Fullerton says Giants will lose first game to Yanks 5 to 2. Giants win 5-4.

BILLY AND BEAR DO A DEAD HEAT

Mutually Separate From Surprise Meeting

When Billy Clark, well known trapper, guide and packer of the Upper Duncan, recently found a bear beside him where he expected to see his highly efficient dog, he was surprised out of a year's growth, according to a story brought down by George Palethorpe.

A mother bear and a husky year- ling had been hanging around Billy's cabin, near the mouth of Howser creek, but the trapper and the ursine pair had not come into close contact, and neither had any inten- tion of doing so, it is believed.

The other day, however, shortly after the bears had been seen at the river's edge at a sandbar, Billy had occasion to go down to the water, rescending a six-foot bank, his dog ranging in the bush behind him. Presently the man heard the dog on the bank above him, or so he supposed, and did not look around. The animal launched itself down the bank, and landed just beside and almost in contact with the man.

Billy looked to his right and saw a half-grown bear; the bear looked to its left and saw Billy. A couple of seconds later neither saw any- thing but dust, as they raced from each other. Honors were even.

White Sox Need One More Victory

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (AP).—The old settlers of the American league dressed in the regimentals of the White Sox turned the city series into a rout today by crushing the Cubs 9-0 for their third straight victory.

With Teddy Lyons turning in a neat seven-hit pitching job, it was the second consecutive shutout reg- istered against the third place win- ners of the National league and placed the White Sox within one game of winning the title.

"Red" Kress, with a poor record behind him this year, crashed out a home run and two singles to lead the attack.

Cheap Coal If You Want

The McCLARY

The Furnace That Burns Any Coal

Hard coal, soft coal—it doesn't matter where it comes from or what price you pay—here at last is a furnace that will burn it all. It's the famous Venti-Blast Ring, found only in the McClary, that enables you to save on fuel—burn every pound of coal. Super-heated air blasted over the top of the coal-bed literally feeds fire with fire.

Call or write and we will gladly give you quotations on furnace only or installed complete.

To Play Cricket Game Here Monday

Cricket, a game which flourished here in the early days but which during the past few years has faded into obscurity, is to be revived. Monday the Nelson team will meet Harrop and Longbeach challengers at the Recreation grounds.

J. Draper made a tour of the city Friday and enlisted a number of old players and today they will have a practice before the Monday game. Mr. Draper went up to Harrop and collected the necessary equipment for the practice.

Members of the Harrop-Longbeach team are J. Berry, M. Major, C. Major, C. Price, G. D. G. Barwis, R. Stevenson, T. Url, F. Corbin, G. Whiteside, A. Ogden, H. Fairbank, B. Rowley, F. Hinoley and W. W. Britton.

The following Nelson men have offered to play: D. Underwood, J. Dawson, J. Lemon, T. Nutter, S. J. Newell, J. Draper, P. G. Morey, E. H. Evans, Rev. H. W. Guscott, N. B. Bradley, E. Y. Brake, W. S. King and A. William. A. Major will umpire the game.

China is planning a railroad and highway 2000 miles long as a trade route from the east coast to the western province of Sinkiang.
