100,000 CHIN[ESE] MARCH ON MUDKEN

News Agency Reports Vast Forces of Volunteers Are Advancing From Three Directions

POLICE RAID HITLER HEADQUARTERS TO SMASH PLOT FOR CIVIL STRIFE?

STORM TROOPS ARE READY TO MOBILIZE AT VARIOUS POINTS IN STATE, DECLARE OFFICIALS

Police Confiscate Correspondence and Membership Lists; Offices and Homes of Various Nazi Leaders Are Visited

"GRANDMOTHER DEAD" WAS TO BE SIGNAL FOR LEADERS TO MARCH TO NEAREST CITY

Hitler Issues Press Communique Acknowledging Concentration of Forces; Minister Orders Raid in Sheer Panic

BERLIN, March 17. (By Louis P. Lochner, Associated Press staff correspondent)—Headquarters of Adolf Hitler's National Socialist party throughout Prussia were raided today by police acting on orders to smash what Prussian officials declared was a plot to plunge Germany into civil war and seize power by force of arms.

In addition to visiting the offices of the party the police searched the home of many Nazi leaders. They confiscated numerous files of correspondence and membership lists.

Prussian officials declared they had established that 500,000 Hitler "storm troops," including automobile and motorcycle detachments, had been made ready for mobilization at various points throughout the state.

A code message — "grandmother dead" — was to be broadcasted throughout Prussia, these officials said, and it was to be the signal for each unit to march upon the nearest large city.

Hitler issued a press communique from his Munich headquarters tonight acknowledging that a concentration order had gone out to his men, as 40 of his comrades had been killed and thousands wounded in the last few weeks by red savages."

The communique added that he would furnish documentary proof that Karl Severing, the Prussian minister of the interior, had ordered the raids in sheer panic."

R. B. BENNETT COMPLETELY EXONERATED

Committee Reports Gordon's Conduct Deserving of Censure

OTTAWA, March 17. (CP) — Finding that the conduct of G. N. Gordon, ormer Liberal minister of immigration, in his allegations against Premier R. B. Bennett at Hamilton and Lindsay, Ont., in January last was "reprehensible and deserving of the censure of the house of commons" is made in the report the parliamentary committee which has been conducting an enquiry into the matter.

The committee finds that the charges were of a most serious nature, "calculated to do injury to the reputation" of the prime minister; that the statements in question had been actually made by Mr. Gordon except that the name "Mr. Herridge" was used and not "Mrs. Herridge"; and that these allegation were untrue. The statements were "intended" to injure Premier Bennett, the committee finds, and were made by Mr. Gordon "recklessly and without any adequate attempt to ascertain, before making them, whether they were true or untrue."

RENO MAKES NEW STRIKE OF ORE IN DEEP TUNNEL

Gold Shoot Two to Three Feet Wide; Thought Same Shoot

A nice shoot of sulphide ore was struck in the Reno gold mine of the Sheep creek camp Wednesday morning, in the No. 5 or deep tunnel, and by Thursday afternoon it had been opened for about 12 feet, by which time four rounds of holes had been shot. The showing is two to three feet wide.

This shoot, which is a little over 120 feet from the portal of No. 5, is believed to be the downward continuation of the shoot of the same character in No. 4 tunnel, which was being mined when the Reno's modern cyanide mill was destroyed by fire a few weeks ago. No. 5 tunnel is 285 feet vertically below No. 4.

When the mill, which included the Reno's power plant in the shape of oil engines, was burned, Superintendent Hugh Mateer installed a portable compressor with which to continue the development work in No. 5.

Since the Reno commenced production a couple of years ago, the Reno Gold Mines has brought to the bank here more than $400,000 worth of bullion.

Famous Pilot Aids Lindbergh

Major Thomas G. Lanphier, above, famous army aviator and a close friend of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, has been assisting in the search for the kidnapped child.

Lady Nancy Astor Pulls "Beau Geste"

LONDON, March 17 (AP).—When the members of the house of commons were called to the house of lords today for a royal commission, they were greeted with the traditional "Hats off, strangers," as they reached the door. Lady Astor, although not bound to obey because she is a woman, jerked off her hat when the men did. A friend asked her why, and she said: "Well, look! I have just had my hair washed, waved and crimped."

PARENTS LOCKED IN PRISON FOR BEATING CHILD

Five-Year-Old Is Hovering Between Life and Death

SPOKANE, Wash., March 17 (AP).—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hesner were locked in the county jail today, and charged with beating their 5-year-old child, Arthur, until he was hovering between life and death.

The technical charge was "contributing to the delinquency of a minor", which in Washington, the prosecutor's office said, means "neglect, cruelty and depravity". Their bail was set at $1000 each.

Deputy Prosecutor Frank Funkhouser said today Mrs. Hesner, stepmother of the boy, admitted beating him with switches, the leg of a stove, and other instruments, and with hurling him against an iron bedstead.

"The youngster has bruises over his entire body, a fractured skull, and appears to be badly undernourished," said Funkhouser.

Mr. and Mrs. Hesner at first said the child was bruised by a "fall". The boy underwent an operation today for the skull injury, and physicians said his recovery was "doubtful".

Mrs. Elsie Hesner divorced Hesner four years ago, and when he remarried he petitioned for custody of the boy.

Norwegian Tanker Drifts Helplessly 700 Miles Off Coast

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP).—Several hundred miles off the Virginia capes, a Norwegian motor tanker, the Raila, was believed to be drifting helplessly in heavy seas tonight.

Coast guard headquarters here received a radiogram from the steamer Duchess of Bedford announcing the plight of the tanker. The cutter Champlain was dispatched to the aid of the Raila. The trip would take 15 hours, officials said. The messages from the Duchess of Bedford did not give the cause of the trouble. It was assumed the tanker's engines were disabled. Her crew numbered 35. She was bound from Constanza, Roumania, to Baltimore.

BANK OF ENGLAND DISCOUNT RATE IS GIVEN THIRD CUT

Monetary Situation So Easy Trade and Commerce to Get Benefit

LONDON, March 17 (AP)—The Bank of England cut the discount rate today from four to three and one-half per cent. It was the third reduction in a month.

The market was surprised by the decision of the bank authorities, in view of the fact that February 18 the rate was lowered from six to five per cent and March 10 from five to four per cent.

The monetary situation has grown so easy, however, and revenue has been coming so steadily that apparently the bank directors agreed it was time to give trade and commerce the benefit of a further cut. Until February 18 the rate had stood at six per cent since Great Britain suspended the gold standard last September.

The lower rate will assist the government in its conversion plans for public obligations. The first of these was announced last night. Holders of 4½ per cent treasury bonds due April 15 were invited to turn them into a conversion loan at four per cent.

The new rate resulted in firmness on the exchange.

Central Reserve Bank Needed, Says Leon J. Ladner

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 17.—Belief that some sort of central reserve bank is needed in Canada today was expressed by Leon J. Ladner, K.C., in addressing the chapter of Canadian Credit Institute of B. C. here tonight. "Our Banking System" was his subject.

"In these times it is necessary that we mobilize the credit of this country with its government and so stand united as an economic force to meet any contingency which might occur," he said.

"A reserve bank or central bank of rediscount would be in a position to be a bankers' bank through which credits could be increased or decreased," Mr. Ladner continued. "It would also possess rediscount facilities, and in reality could do the business of the government of Canada."

A Popular Spring Chapeau

Last in one's choice but first in popularity comes the successor to the cloche, the shallow-crowned, close-fitting hat with a brim. This spirited little number is of a popular new spring color, gray. Its small brim flares in animated manner up to a very high peak off the left temple, and to prove that spring can be captious, cotton pique in grey and white form the banding and the curled imitatio feather over the right eye.

MRS. ANNIE BULLER BEING TRIED FOR RIOTING CHARGE

ESTEVAN, Sask., March 17—With the court room jammed to the limit of its seating capacity, trial commenced today of Mrs. Annie Buller of Toronto, charged with rioting in connection with the September 29 striker-police melee here.

Mr. Justice H. Y. MacDonald is presiding. Mr. Justice Embury, who heard 18 of the 20 cases, will return to Regina Friday.

JURY FINDS "RED" WALTERS SUICIDED BY STRIKING HEAD

Witness Testifies to Victim Bashing Head on Rocks

JASPER, Alta., March 17 (CP).—Harry (Red) Walters, who died late Tuesday as a result of head injuries, commited suicide by striking his head against rocks located near the intersection of the Canadian National railway tracks and the road to Summer Lodge.

This decision was reached by a coroner's jury here tonight after Stewart Buck testified that he had seen Walters viciously dashing his head against the rocks. A bottle of rubbing alcohol was found nearby.

A foul play theory was exploded when Corporal Baker, Royal Canadian Mounted police, testified that the only tracks in the fresh fall of snow were those of Walters and Buck, who took Walters to hospital. There was no sign of a struggle.

The form of suicide is unique in police annals.

Relatives of Walters are not known here, and the belief that he was a nephew of Capt. Angus Walters, Lunenburg, N. S., has been eliminated.

DAYLIGHT SAVING PROPOSED FOR B. C.

Would Be From May to September; House Is Divided on Issue

VICTORIA, March 17.—Day light saving for British Columbia from May to September yearly was proposed in the legislature today, and showed the house divided on the issue. J. A. Loutet (Conservative, North Vancouver) proposed action by the government to make daylight saving time effective on a regular yearly basis. The debate was adjourned after argument.

Mr. Loutet said Benjamin Franklin suggested the plan in 1794. It had been adopted in wartime England with considerable monetary savings and was in operation in Ontario and Quebe, in Canada. Even Turkey had instituted the measure, which in this case was being supported by British Columbia boards of trade, service clubs and other circles.

Reginald Hayward (Conservative Victoria) opposed the motion. Nature he said was the best provider of the limit between night and day. Irrespective of what other clubs thought, the Mothers' club knew that daylight saving was not practicable he argued.

J. W. Berry (Conservative Delta) followed also opposing the move and Colonel Nelson Spencer (Conservative Vancouver) came out flatfootedly and said daylight saving measures were all "humbug" labor, added W. R. Rutledge (Conservative Burnaby) had not yet been known to favor the plan Hon. R. L. Maitland K.C. adjourned debate on the issue for the day.

CHINESE HAVE NO HOPES FOR PEACE ADVENT

Japanese Airplanes Continue to Fly Over Railways

SHANGHAI, March 18 (AP).—Chinese reports today said Japanese airplanes continued to fly over the Shanghai-Nanking and Shanghai-Hangchow railways, despite the cessation of hostilities.

One report said two Japanese airplanes yesterday flew low over Hangchow.

"Chinese soldiers opened fire with rifles," the message said, "the Japanese returning the fire with machine guns."

The report added that one child was wounded, but otherwise there was slight damage. This message continued:

"The Japanese action in flying over the city at such a low altitude and making suspicious maneuvers, which seemed to indicate they were trying to get their machine guns trained upon some object on the ground, was provocative in the extreme.

"It seems that the Japanese are not sincerely looking for peace with the Chinese. There is virtually no Chinese here who has any hope of peace."

DEPUTIES OPPOSE WOMAN SUFFRAGE

PARIS, March 17 (AP)—The chamber of deputies turned thumbs down tonight on woman suffrage, less than a month after it had voted overwhelmingly for it. By a vote of 299 to 127 the chamber eliminated an equal suffrage provision from the electoral reform bill, as well as two other amendments.

One amendment stricken would have dispensed with a second ballot in elections where no clear majority was obtained on the first. The other would have made voting for all those who held a franchise.

Passage of the electoral reform bill with its provision for woman suffrage helped precipitate the crisis which led to the fall of Premier Pierre Laval's cabinet recently. The senate turned Laval out of office soon after the chamber had passed the measure.

SOUTHERN BRITISH COLUMBIA TO HAVE AIR TOUR IN JULY

VERNON, B. C, March 17—The air tour of southern British Columbia for next July is now assured. Ten or 12 planes will visit a dozen or more cities under the sponsorship of the Aero Club of British Columbia.

Tentative plans call for a five or six weeks circuit from Vancouver to Lethbridge and return with aerial displays at Mission, Chilliwack, Princeton, Merritt, Penticton, Trail, Grand Forks, Cranbrook, Fernie, Kimberley, Nelson, Kelowna, Vernon, Kamloops, and Ashcroft.

There will also be a brief visit to Vancouver island for shows at Victoria, Courtenay, and perhaps Duncan

The purpose of this tour is to encourage the provision of airport facilities.

HOPEWELL IS TAKING MORE PLACID ASPECT

Inhabitants Getting Over Excitement of Linbergh Kidnapping

POLICE CONTINUE TO GUARD ROADS

Mayor Proud of Way Citizens Opened Doors to Influx of People

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 17 (AP). — Hopewell's 1800 inhabitants slowly are returning to their placid ways after 16 days of excitement.

Since the night of March 1, when Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. was snatched from his crib, the people of this community have been torn between grief for the infant's parents and excitement over the invasion of several hundred reporters ad photographers.

With the gradual thinning of the ranks of news gatherers—less than two-score of them were here today—living rooms are again becoming living rooms, and Gebhart's hotel is a place for those of Hopewell's population who do not dine at home.

The town's active police officer, Charles Williamson, who spent most of the past two weeks in the saddle of his motorcycle keeping traffic on the run, is again performing his police duties on foot.

Charles Ashton, Hopewell's taxi driver, is back to his daily routine of meeting trains and responding to an occasional call on the telephone.

The moving picture theater in Columbia hall, which is the headquarters for the fire department and houses the town's aldermanic chambers, suffered a heavy loss of patronage.

PROUD OF PEOPLE

"The people of Hopewell are going to miss the excitement," said Mayor Albert F. Gies. "Even though it was a sad event for Col. Lindbergh and his brave wife, and for us, too, I am proud of the way in which Hopewell's citizens opened their homes to the visitors."

The state police guard on roads leading to the Lindbergh home was not relaxed. A barrier is maintained nearly two miles from the flyer's home.

FORKIN RELEASED FROM CHARGE OF SEDITIOUS LIBEL

Alleged to Have Published Sandwich Board of Communist Savor

SASKATOON, Sask., March 17—Stephen Forkin, alleged to be a Communist and a member of Communistic organizations, was given his freedom this afternoon from jail, where he was held on a seditious libel charge, when bail of $4000 was supplied. Forkin was arrested earlier in the day and was remanded for preliminary hearing until March 24.

His arrest by city police marked the first drive by the Saskatchewan government to fight Communism through the law courts. It is understood the case was referred first to the attorney-general's department before city police took action.

Forkin is alleged to have published a sandwich board on which he urged people to hear Annie Buller, now awaiting trial in connection with the Estevan riots of last September 29, speak on the Estevan strike and "the murder of miners by a ruthless government" The alleged offense was committed on February 19

TROTZKY NARROWLY ESCAPES IN WRECK

ISTANBUL, Turkey, March 17—(AP)—Turkish fishermen revealed tonight that Leon Trotzky, exiled Communist, escaped from death in a squall which wrecked his motorboat a few days ago.

Their story was that Trotzky and two unidentified companions were fishing in the Sea of Marmora when a southerly gale dashed their motorboat upon the rocks of Lonely Dog island, where thousands of Istanbul dogs were sent to starve years ago.

Trotzky and his companions crawled laboriously over the rocks to the barren shores of the island. Bruised and drenched, they remained there all night with not even a tree to afford them shelter.

In the morning the castaways signaled a passing fishing smack.

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP)—Police headquarters announced tonight it had broken up a plot to assassinate the heads of the International Union of Operating Engineers in a second outbreak of violence within that organization.

POLICE MYSTIFIED BY FINGER PRINTS OF ARCTIC HUNTER

EDMONTON, March 17. — Prints taken from the fingers of Albert Johnson have failed in establishing his true identification.

The mystery of the man who shot one R. C. M. P. constable in the Arctic, wounded another policeman and a member of a posse, and who finally was cornered in the Yukon on February 17 and shot to death, was still unsolved after his fingerprints had been examined at Ottawa, it was announced today.

Following Johnson's death, the body was taken back to Aklavik and examined thoroughly. The fingerprints were sent to the bureau of identification at Royal Canadian Mounted police headquarters at Ottawa, but a thorough search of the files has indicated that Johnson never passed through the hands of any police organization of the Dominion.

With this information, a Dominion-wide investigation establish Johnson's history and identification is being extended to take in the whole continent.

PRINCE DAVID WAS GOING TOO QUICKLY DECLARES WITNESS

Improper Navigation Was Cause; Women Behaved Well

NEW YORK, March 17. — The grounding of the Canadian National liner Prince David off Bermuda on Sunday was attributed in part by an eyewitness to improper navigation today when the Duchess of York arrived with 23 passengers and 147 seamen from the ill-fated vessel.

Captain McKay, the master, and 14 deckhands remained in Hamilton to testify at a local inquiry into the cause of the wreck, originally laid to poor visibility in a rainstorm. The ship is being pounded to pieces on a reef near Hamilton harbor, and is understood to be a total loss.

Herbert H. Dugas of Dorchester, Mass., held up the behavior of the women passengers as the outstanding part of the accident. Other passengers agreed that the work of taking off the passengers had been conducted by the crew in an orderly, efficient manner.

George H. B. Turner, a publisher of Ayer, Mass., however, was critical of the manner in which the liner was handled.

"The Prince David was going very fast at the time—about 23 knots, I think—and it seems to me that was too fast in those waters. After we got into the lifeboats we saw that the four members of the crew who were doing the rowing didn't seem to know anything about handling the oars, and two of the men passengers then began to row.

"After that we began to get somewhere. We boarded the Lady Somers, but only after a pretty sad time of it. The sea was very rough, and all of the 16 passengers in our boat were soaking wet."

MUKDEN GARRISON IS MAKING READY

Chinese in Manchuria Declare Do Not Want Japanes Rule

SHANGHAI, March 18 (Friday) —(AP). — The Kuomin (Chinese) news agency reported today that 100,000 Chinese volunteers were marching on Mukden, Manchuria, from three directions.

The volunteers, the news agency said, were destroying the flag of the new Manchurian government in all the villages along the way, and were hoisting the Chinese National ensign.

The Japanese garrison at Mukden, the Kuomin dispatch said, had received information of the advance, and had mounted guns in the outskirts of the city. The Earl of Lytton, head of the League of Nations commission investigating the Sino-Japanese conflict, received a telegram from a group of Chinese organizations at Mukden declaring that the 30,000,000 Chinese in Manchuria would rather share the destiny of China, whatever it may be, than live under the rule of Japan.

The message, which described the new Manchuria as "merely a puppet of the Japanese army", was signed by Chinese labor unions, the Educational association at Mukden, the Bankers' association, and 26 other organizations.

FU YU IS CAPTURED

CHANGCHUN, Manchuria, March 17 (AP).—News of another revolt against the new Manchurian government reached here today.

A powerful force of Chinese insurgents, provided with artillery equipment, attacked and captured Fu Yu, a city of 80,000 people, 100 miles southwest of Harbin, it was reported.

According to information reaching here, the insurgents were led by a Manchurian named Tsing Hai. The attack took place last night.

Fu Yu, which also is called Petuna and Sincheng, nominally is within the Kirin province of Manchuria. It is the commercial outlet for inner Mongolia, and near it Prince Chai, inner Mongolia's representative in the Machurian government, maintains a citadel.

Lloyd George Greets Long Lost Companion of His Tuneful Art

LONDON, March 17 (AP)—David Lloyd George, Liberal leader who became ill before the general election campaign last year and has been convalescing ever since, made his first appearance in the new parliament this afternoon. He entered unobstrustively from behind the speaker's chair but when the house caught sight of him there were general cheers.

After signing the roll and shaking hands with the speaker, Mr. Lloyd George turned about and in a narrow passageway came face to face with Sir Herbert Samuel, his former lieutenant who deserted him to join the Protectionist National government.

The veteran Liberal leader made the best of this enforced meeting with a man whose political course he had berated yesterday in a speech before the Junior Liberal club. Smiling broadly, he seized Sir Herbert's hand and shook it in the most friendly fashion. Sir Herbert, somewhat embarrassed, made his way to his seat amid loud laughter and cheers.

PATRICK DECLARES CHICAGO USES LESS WATER THAN LIMIT

Replies to the Accusations Made by Senator Casgrain

CHICAGO, Ill., March 17.—United States Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, informed that a Canadian senator accused the Chicago sanitary district of taking twice as much water as authorized by treaty from Lake Michigan, said today the amount was "much less" than the limit set by the supreme court.

Senator J. B Casgrain told the senate in Ottawa yesterday that the "United States government was doing nothing about it, and the matter hould be taken to the foot of thes throne."

The anitary district is well within the limit set recently by Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes as master of the dispute with other lake states, Hurley said. "Three months ago we found that the level of the Great Lakes was actually higher than usual."

Senator Casgrain had said the diversion of water at Chicago was damaging Canada's shipping severely.

Hurley said the charges of excessive diversion had been brought to his attention lately and he had investigated it.

He referred to the United States state department Senator Casgrain's suggestion that "the next treaty between the United States and Great Britain should be made so that it would be lived up to and not ignored."

COSTLY STEW

TACOMA, Wash., March 17.—Stew is one of the world's commonest dishes, but the Joe Marchesini family found it can be one of the most expensive. They were having stew for dinner when Game Warden George Mitchell walked in. He sniffed the stew, inspected it, and found the breasts of three quails in it. As quails are protected in this state, Joe was fined $30—$10 for each bird.

MANUFACTURERS EXPRESS GENERAL FAVOR OF BUDGET

Unimpaired Credit of Province Is Key-Not of Situation, They Agree

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 17.—General satisfaction of B. C. manufacturers with the budget as it reflects economies in provincial expenditure was expressed today in a statement by F. C. Brown, chairman of the B. C. division of the Canadian Manufacturers' association.

Mr. Brown said:

"There can be no question that the province was, and is, faced with a serious financial situation. Mr. Jones, in my opinion, sounded the keynote of the whole question by stating in his speech yesterday that the credit of the province must be maintained unimpaired.

"The Canadian Manufacturers' association and other business organizations have been urging upon the minister in recent weeks that this could be achieved by drastic economies.

"We are pleased to see that the minister, in cooperation with his colleagues, has gone far in that direction. Possibly, if he could have gone further, industry might have escaped more lightly than they have from additional taxation, under the new budget.

"We recognized, of course, that some additional taxes were practically unavoidable, but it should appear that, admitting that this was so, the minister has made a real effort to distribute the burden as equitably as possible.

"I quite agree with the minister that we are facing a period, I hope not unduly prolonged, but for some years at least, when in government, just as in private business, every possible economy must be practiced, and the industrialists in British Columbia, comprising this association, sincerely hope that the policy of economy enunciated by Hon. Mr. Jones yesterday will, during this period, be maintained and extended wherever that is possible."

There Is Only One Provincial Income Tax, Is Explanation

Load Placed More on Single Men; One Per Cent Tax Is All

VICTORIA, March 17 (CP).—By placing the income tax load on more single men and raising it on those in receipt of high incomes, many married men in British Columbia with dependents will be entitled to refunds from the government instead of income tax bills, it was explained at the parliament buildings today.

It was made perfectly clear that there is only one provincial income tax. The 1 per cent levy will be taken off every pay check. This, for virtually all married men with dependents, earning $4000 a year, will more than pay their income tax.

They will submit forms at the end of the year, claiming exemptions on account of dependents and insurance, and refuds will be mailed to them. The act, which consolidates all three provincial income tax acts, goes into effect April 1 of this year. Those entitled to refunds will receive them a year later.

While the ordinary married man will pay less in the main, it is estimated the total collection will be around $4,000,000, roughly $2,500,000 more than previously collected. With the gross tax collected from banks and insurance companies, also classified as income tax, the total collection may amount to $5,200,000.

As the government places the onus of proving a right to a refund on the applicant, books for keeping track of wages earned will be issued by the department and sent to employers and government agents. These are especially for the benefit of workers who move from one job to another. They will be available before April 1.

Gas in the Stomach Is Dangerous

Recommends Daily Use of Bisurated Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Acid Indigestion

Gas in the stomach accompanied by a full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a little Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of four tablets in water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and then is no sourness, gas or pain Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never in liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Pattullo Urges for an Economic Conference, Reply

Favors Board of Business Leaders to Advise on Provincial Finances

VICTORIA, March 17.—Calling of an economic conference, through the medium of a board composed of members of the government of B. C., industry and labor, was suggested in the legislature today by T. D. Pattullo, leader of the opposition, in a characteristically vigorous address as first in reply in the budget debate.

Mr. Pattullo said also he would favor the setting up of a volunteer board of business leaders to examine and advise on provincial finances, and the quarterly publication of fiscal statements.

Unemployment had become a problem for which a remedy must be sought, both as to seasonal slackening of work, and the residue of unemployment as a result of several years' economic unrest. He advocated consideration of the "man-a-block" plan, whereby citizens assumed responsibility for the jobless by private measures; a general policy of land settlement to get the men out of the towns and on to farms, where they would be self-supporting; intensive agricultural development along live stock lines; and vigorous forest exports.

On the actual contents of the 1932-33 budget, Mr. Pattullo said very little, though he spoke at some length on the budget a year ago. Premier Tolmie, who had attended in the house to hear the budget brought down ,accorded the same courtesy to the leader of the opposition, and sat good-humoredly through a rousing attack on the government and all its works.

MINING ENGINEER DEMANDS AUDIENCE IN APPEAL COURT

Vociferously Declares Has Important Need for Hearing

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 17.—Rudely disturbing the tranquility of the court of appeal, Joseph Saulter, 80-year-old mining engineer, East Cordova street, demanded an audience with Chief Justice J. A. MacDonald today.

The old man was preceded by a tall telegraph messenger, who emitted to remove his hat and carried an envelope, which Saulter intended for delivery to the chief justice.

As an usher attempted to persuade Saulter to make his application at a more opportune time, the elderly miner shouted out that somebody was being murdered in the 700 block on Pender street.

Fred Hardwick, registrar of the court, hastened to the usher's assistance, and the two officials bundled the old miner out, but not before his parting cry of "I want justice."

With the judicial calm set in reverse gear to that extent, argument resumed in a case before the court.

The "important" documents which Saulter sought to have handed to the judge contained, he said, a letter from Premier Bennett. The old man has made a practice of drawing to the attention of personages holding high office matters which he believes are inimical to the welfare of society and the state.

A provincial police constable escorted Saulter out of the building.

CONFIDENCE

For some one, every day, the biggest news is not on the front page. It's not even in the news columns.

There may be an earthquake in Italy or a revolution in Central America. There may be a hot election campaign or a million-dollar fire or a metropolitan crime wave. But for Jim Jones, who has decided to buy a new sendan, and for Mrs. Thompson, who needs some schooldresses for little Mary Lou, the big news of the day is in the advertisements.

Even the doings of parliament and the big-league baseball results pale into insignificance beside the news of something you really want.

The advertising columns bring you, each day, sound information about quality, style and price. They announce new products and new developments that save time, trouble or expense for millions of people. They point out healthful habits of eating, sleeping, exercise.

Consistently advertised goods are safe goods to buy. Behind them stand the manufacturer and the merchant, guaranteeing their uniform quality. Read the advertisements before you buy.

MANY PERSONS ON RELIEF LIST NOT ENTITLED

Craig Questions Dominion Right to Interfere With B. C.

NELSON AND FERNIE REQUESTS REFUSED

Ottawa Did Not Ask Discontinuance of Highway Works

VICTORIA, B. C., March 17.—Names of many persons who were not entitled to relief were put on the relief payrolls sent by the British Columbia government to Ottawa, it was testified before the unemployment relief investigating committee of the legislature today by M. H. McGeogh, assistant to the federal director of relief in British Columbia.

"I have been advised by Ottawa that payrolls have been presented there having on them the names of persons who are not entitled to relief, but these have not been presented to me," Mr. McGeogh said.

Asked as to the Dominion's attitude towards persons who list themselves as destitute, but have accounts in the banks, Mr. McGeogh said:

"The situation as far as paying relief to such persons is very simple for us. We do not pass the accounts."

Mr. McGeogh said that as Dominion officer he took the stand that all certificates from the province covering relief expenditures should be submitted to him. But this had not been done.

QUESTIONS DOMINION RIGHT INTERFERE

Explaining the attitude of the province in this connection, Mr. McGeogh read the letter of December 11 ,1931, from Comptroller-General J. A. Craig, at Victoria, to Harry Hereford, director of Dominion relief at Ottawa, in which Mr. Craig said: "I do not recognize the right of the Dominion to interfere with the expenditures of the province."

He continued under examination to testify that there had been "quite a controversy about Burnaby." On December 18 and 21 last, he said, his office had notified the British Columbia government that men in Burnaby were being paid who were not entitled to receive relief and the province was advised to take necessary steps. On January 9, he had notified Patrick Philip, chief engineer of provincial department of public works, that there were men being carried on the city of North Vancouver payroll who should not be there.

EVERY COW GOES DRY

A. M. Manson, K. C., took up and read the "every cow goes dry" telegram which Senator Robertson sent on November 1, and which was read into the records by Mr. McGeogh. In this Mr. McGeogh wrote from Vancouver to Premier Tolmie.

"Refering to our telephone conversation last evening the following is from the minister of labor at Ottawa:

"'No request for discontinuance of highway works has emanated from here.'

"Federal government received provincial proposal of the 19th and yesterday approved undertakings of highways aggregating $3,500,000, one-half of which the federal government committed itself to. Municipality works proposals delivered here on October 28th by Mr. Jones. Unable to consult the council before Monday. Kindly request Mr. Bruhn to proceed to Ottawa as British columbia finance minister is here, but the government is at liberty to send minister if so desires. Federal expenditures to October 9, for relief from British Columbia, aggregate more than $1,250,000 for all purposes. Federal expenditures have recently been made. You can communicate by telegram to the government. Every cow goes dry some time."

CHECKING UP ALL TIME

Asked about this Mr. McGeogh said he and his inspectors had checked up quite a few expenditures in the cities, and in fact were checking up all the time, receiving copies of invoices from the cities on request, pending the receipt of the certificates.

Mr. McGeogh read his letter of February 17, 1932, to Mr. Hereford at Ottawa dealing with certificates covering expenditures in British Columbia for $2,100,943. In this it was set out that the Dominion's share was $1,050,471, while items to the total of $31,467 had been rejected by the Dominion officials. He said that the provincial government was sending these certificates to Ottawa without eliminating these rejected items, and added: "We understand that the government is sending certificates for $600,000 which we had previously rejected."

Asked by Mr. Manson for his reason for rejecting certain certificates, Mr. McGeogh said these covered items which were not proper charges to the Dominion's relief contributions such as freight on lumber.

NELSON AND FERNIE REQUESTS REFUSED

Questioned on an item for $878 for jack hammers and tool steel for Nelson, Mr. McGeogh said this had been rejected by the Dominion government because its agreement was to pay rental on such equipment as jack hammers instead of purchasing.

The same was true for a number of other rejected Nelson items running over $1000 for machinery and fish plates.

An item of $200 rejected at Fernie had to do with compensation to be paid by the provincial authorities for some land. At the request of Mr. Manson Mr. Philip was instructed to get committee details in connection with this.

TRAVELLING EXPENSES HELD UP

Other items rejected by the Dominion included $531.55 to L. H. Rawlins for travelling expenses; $36.97 for freight on Simmons beds at Grand Forks; $717 to the Interior contracting company for rent of a shovel; $323 to the Kamloops Lumber company for Merritt lumber.

Another item held up by the Dominion official was a net of $101.09 after deducting sales tax paid the Boyd Motors of Merritt for six sets of tire chains.

"We held this item up because we wanted to know whether the chains were being bought for government or private trucks, as our policy has been only to rent trucks."

Mr. McGeogh went on:

"Did you prior to January 12, when these items were held up, advise officers of the provincial government that items of this class would not be passed by the Dominion?" Mr. Manson asked.

CONTINUE TO APPEAR

"Yes, but the continued to appear afterwards on the certificates," Mr. McGeogh replied.

"That is one of the difficulties you encountered?' asked Mr. Manson.

"Well, they put them in and we did not pay, that is all," was Mr. McGeogh's reply.

Asked whether the Dominion had checked the prices paid by the provincial authorities for lumber, Mr. McGeogh replied:

"We are in the happy position we do not have to check the prices paid on lumber because we are not paying for the lumber."

Questioned about prices Mr. McGeogh said he had not noticed in any of the vouchers checked and OK'd for payment any excess prices, but the items had not been checked as to prices charged.

Questioned about the workmen's compensation charges, Mr. McGeogh said the ruling was the Dominion was to pay half the actual charges.

COOPERATIVE MEET HELD AT CRESTON

W. Vance Gives Interesting Talk on Marketing and Outlook

CRESTON, B. C., March 17—Valley orchardists attended a meeting in the United church hall Saturday called for the purpose of discussing the advisability of Creston co-operative fruit exchange resuming active operations. The exchange was out of business in 1931 ,having leased its Creston warehouse to Scott Fruit company, limited.

James Compton, the exchange president, was in the chair and briefly explained the reason the meeting.

W. Vance, who is in charge of the associated growers central at Nelson, and held a similar position here in 1930, gave a practical and interesting talk on the 1931 marketing and the 1932 outlook. He said the export market was the best for the growers even in a bad year like 1931, and was strongly of the opinion that with the anticipated preference of 40 cents a box, and a reduced freight rate, overseas selling in 1932 would be still more advantageous. Mr. Vance gave figures to show apples still in storage at prairie centers and Okanagan points, the stock of 150 cars of McIntosh most disappointing of which was reds still unsold, and which are deteriorating rapidly at this late date.

John Hall and others were strongly in favor of the exchange getting back into the marketing business and a resolution to this effect was carried unanimously. At the close of the meeting several of the growers signed up to sell through the exchange in 1932 and a canvass of the whole valley is to be undertaken ,the understanding being no start will be made until a tonnage at least on a par with 1930 is signed up.

ACTIVE ISSUES CONTINUE DROP, VANCOUVER LIST

VANCOUVER, March 17— Active issues continued to decline in fairly active trading on the Vancouver stock exchange today. Heavy offerings in several of the leaders in the precious metals group, with a lack of buying support helped the downward trend.

Premier Gold, opening firm at 50, sold off 46½ cents in late trading for a loss of 3½ cents. Pend Oreille, also a firm opener, declined to 92 cents bid, off 3 cents. Lorne Gold lost a fraction at 14¾ cents bid as did Big Missouri at 9½ cents.

Reno Gold, the only active issue to show strength, sold up to 28 cents, closing at 27¼ cents bid, a net gain of 1¼ cents.

Other active issues in both mines and oils closed unchanged.

BRITISH LUMBER TARIFF OF NO HELP TO B. C.

Action of Britain in granting Canada free entry of lumber while imports from non-British countries will pay a duty of 10 per cent is of no value to Canadian producers under present conditions, said Mr MacMillan.

STREETS GIVEN FIRST WASHING

Pavements Get First Daily Hosing; Remnants of Ice Impede

Nelson's street washing campaign for the season opened Thursday morning when for the first time since the fall the street washing crew, consisting of William Heasell and D. Bain, gave Baker street pavement its daily hosing, and then tackled the intersecting blocks.

The ice remnants on the shady side of Baker street and in the gutters of the intersecting streets made the first washing a tedious matter, but in a very few days the paved sections should be entirely clear, and then the early hours before traffic starts will be sufficient for the work.

Mud on the streets has been scraped into piles and removed by trucks.

DVORJETZ ASKS SUGGESTIONS ON NEW INDUSTRIES

Suggestion Made That Trail Metals Might Be Worked Up

Suggestions as to possible industries that might be induced to establish in Nelson, or that might be devloped here by local initiative, were asked from the board of trade council Thursday by George Dvorjetz, a member of the board's committee on industries.

The chief suggestion that grew out of a long discussion of his request was that it might be possible to develop some local industry that would secure its raw material from the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada at Trail.

Small manufacturing industries, it was pointed out, often were able to operate when large industries that turned out basic products that required a wide market suffered when general conditions were adverse.

Mr. Dvorjetz himself advanced the suggestion that the board might write S. G. Blaylock, vice-president and general manager of the Consolidated, and ask him if he could suggest any line of manufacture, based on the company's products, that it might be profitable to attempt here.

It was suggested that members of the board who had any ideas on the subject of possible new industries should pass them along to the sub-committee, consisting of W. M. Cunliffe, Mr. Dvorjetz, W. D. Fleet and Boyd C. Affleck, appointed to list possibilities and report back to the committee.

PATROL BOAT TRIED TO RAM FISHER LASSIE?

Evidence on Case of Obstructing Customs Brings New Slant

VANCOUVER, March 17—Instead of the 47 ton seiner Fisher Lassie attempting to ram the government patrol boat Despatcher, 13 tons, in Welcome Pass on January 24, the situation was the reverse, according to evidence adduced before Judge Cayley in county court today when trial resumed of George Gorry and his brother, Thomas Edward Gorry.

The accused are charged with obstructing customs officers in the execution of their duty.

Members of the Fisher Lassie's crew testified that as the Despatcher overhauled the seiner off Secret cove, she would have cut the larger vessel in two, if the Fisher Lassie remained on her course.

Although excise officers from the Despatcher thought that sacks, which were thrown overboard from the seiner, as the pursuing vessel approached, contained liquor, defence witnesses swore that the sacks, three or four in number, had nothing more in them than rubbish, which had been swept up from the hold of the ship.

EIGHT INSTALMENT

She went down into the bag again, and I expected nothing less than the pocketbook, letters and all, to appear. But she dragged up, among a miscellany o: articles women like to carry, an envelope.

"Yesterday," she said, "I took a taxicab ride. You know my chair gets tiresome, occasionally. I stopped at the newspaper office, and found the bag had t been turned in, but that there was a letter for A 31." She held out the envelope to me.

"Read it," she observed. "It is a curious human document. You'll probably be no wiser for reading it, but it shows one thing: We are on the track of something."

I have the letter before me now. It is written on glazed paper, ruled with blue lines. The Writing is of the flowing style we used to call Spencerian, and if it lacks character I am inclined to believe that its Weakness is merely the result of infrequent use of a pen.

You know who this is from. I have the bag and the letters. In a safe place. If you would treat me like a human being, you could have them. I know where the walking-stick is, also. I will tell you this. I have no wish to do her any harm. She will have have to pay up in the next world, even if she gets off in this. The way I reason is this: As long as I have the things, I've got the whiphand. I've got you, too, although you may think I haven't.

About the other matter I was innocent. I swear it again. I never did it. You are the only in all the world. I would rather be dead than go on like this.

It is unsigned.

I stared from the letter to Mrs. Dane. She was watching me, her face grave and rather sad.

"You and I, Horace," she said, "live our orderly lives. We eat, and sleep, and talk, and even labor. We think we are living. But for the last day or two I have been seeing visi ns—you and I and the rest of u, living on the surface, and underneath, carefully kept down so it will not make us uncomfortable, a world of passion and crime and violence and suffering. That letter is a tragedy."

But if she had any susp' 'on then as to the writer, and I think she had not, she said nothing, and soon after I started for home.

In one way, Mrs. Johson's refusal to speak to me that evening had a certain value, for it enabled me to leave the house without explanation and thus to discover that, if an overcoat had been left in place of my own it had been taken away. It also gave me an opportunity to return the fire-tongs, a proceeding which I had considered would assist in a return of the entente cordiale at home, but which most unjustly appeared to have exactly the opposite effect.

It has been my experience that the most innocent action may, under certain circumstances, assume an appearance of extreme guilt . . .

By Saturday the con ''on of affairs between my wife and myself remained in statu quo, and I had decided on a bold step. This was to call a special meeting of the Neighborhood Club, with Miss Jeremy, and put before them the situation as it stood at that time, with a view to formulating a future course of action, and a'so of publicly v' cating myself before my wife.

In deference to Herbert Robinson's recent attack of influenza, we met at the Robinson house. Sperry himself wheeled Mrs. Dane over, and made a speech.

"We have called this meeting," he said, "to determine whether the Neighborhood Club, as a body wishes to go on with in investigation, or so stop where we are."

He paused but, as no one spoke, he went on again. "It is rea'; not as simple as that," he said. "To stop now, in view of the evidence we intend to place before the Club, is to leave in all our minds certain suspicions that may be entirely unjust. On the other hand, to go on is very possible to place us all in a position where to keep silent is to be an accessory after crime."

He then proceeded in orderly fashion, to review the entire situation up to then.

Mrs. Dane then read and explained the two clippings and the letter and the situation, so far as it had developed was, before the club.

Were we to go on, or to stop?

We broke into animated discussion. The letter to A 31 was the rock on which all our theories foundered that and the message the governess had sent to Charles Ellingham not to come to the Wells house that night. By no stretch of rather excited imaginations could we imagine Ellingham writing such a letter. Who had written the letter, and for whom was it meant?

As to the telephone message, it seemed to precluded the possibility of Ellingham's having gone to the house that night. But the fact remained that a man, as yet unidentified, was undoubtedly concerned in the case, had written the letter, and had probably been in the Wells house the night I went there alone.

In the end, we decided to hold one more seance, and then, unless the further developments were such that we must go on, to let the affair drop.

That my wife had felt a certain bitterness toward Miss Jere..., a jealousy of her powers, even of her youth, had not dawned on me. But when on Sunday, in her new humility, she suggested that we call on the medium that afternoon, I realized that, in her own way, she was making a sort of atonement.

Miss Jeremy was out riding with Sperry, but arrived shortly after we got there. Sperry was glad to see us.

It was not hard to see how things were with him. He helped the girl out of her wraps with a manner that was almost proprietary, and drew a chair for her close to the small fire which hardly affected the chill of the room.

Sperry looked at the girl and smiled.

"Shall I tell them?" he said.

"I want very much to have them know."

He stood up, and with that unconscious drama which actuates a man at a crisis in his affairs, he put a hand on shoulder. "This young lady is going to marry me," he said. "We are very happy today."

My wife, to my surprise, kissed the girl.

Tea was brought in by Hawkins! I knew him immediately, but he did not at once see me. He was evidently accustomed to seeing Sperry there, and did not recognize my wife. But when he had put down the tray and turned to pick up Sperry's overcoat to carry it into the hall, he saw me. The man actually started. I cannot say that he changed color He was always a pale, anoemic-looking individual. But it was a perceptible instant before he stooped and gathered up the coat.

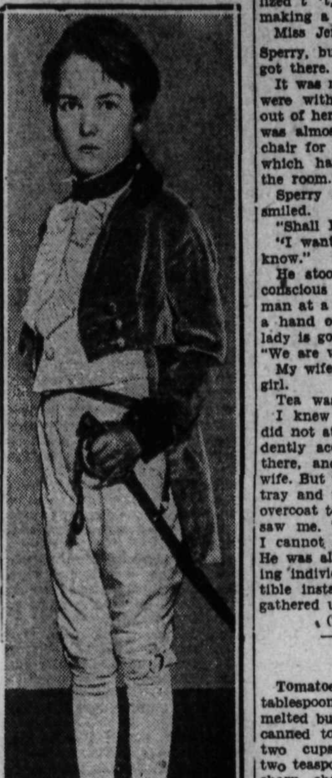
Youngest Earl in England



No, he isn't dressed up for a costume party. This 8-year-old boy is entitled to wear his fancy suit with knee-breeches and pumps all the year around, for he's the Earl of Gainsborough—and the youngest earl in England. His great-great-grandfather wore just such an outfit in 1840, when he received the title.

RECIPES

Tomatoes, Corn and Cheese—Three tablespoons flour, three tablespoons melted butter or other fat, two cups canned tomatoes, one onion, sliced; two cups canned or fresh corn, two teaspoons salt, one-fourth pound sharp cheese, shaved thin. Brown the flour in a heavy skillet, remove the flour from the skillet and blend with tow tablespoons of fat. Brown the onion in the remaining fat, add the other ingredients except the cheese, and cook for about 10 minutes. Stir in the cheese and when melted serve on thin, crisp toast.

SWeet Potato Puff — Five or six medium sized sweet potatoes, two eggs, one teaspoon salt, two tablespoons melted butter, two tablespoons hot milk. Boil the sweet potatoes. To the sweet potatoes add the yolks, fat, milk and salt, beat well and fold in the well-beaten whites. Pile the mixture lightly into a greased baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 45 minutes, or until light and fluffy and brown on top.

Molded Lamb Tongues — Cook lamb tongues until tender in hot water to which salt, a ew celery seeds and one small onion have been added as seasonings. When done, cool, remove skin and slice and reserve the liquid in which cooked. Strain this liquid and for each pint add one tablespoon gelatin. Baked Pork Chops — Six chops one inch thick, flour, six slices pineapple, salt and pepper, six tablespoons boiling water. Dredge pork chops with flour. Add pepper, salt and a bit of celery salt. When nicely browned add the hot water and cover the pan closely. Cook in a slow oven for one and one-half hours. About 15 minutes before the chops are done cover each chop with a slice of pineapple and finish cooking.

Angel Pudding — First part: One quart sweet milk; boil. Beat the yolks of four eggs with three heaping tablespoons of sugar until light. Then pour in the boiling milk. Add four large tablespoons of cornstarch dissolved in a little milk and a pinch of salt. Add small teaspoon of vanilla. Beat well with egg beater. Second part: One-half cup of water put on to boil, one tablespoon sugar and two tablespoons dissolved cornstarch poured in the boiling water. Beat four whites of eggs stiff Put altogether with a little vanilla. Beat well and put over the first part.

CHOCOLATE BREAD PUDDING

Two cups of stale bread crumbs, or cubes, four cups of scalded milk- two squares of chocolate, one-half to three-fourths cups of sugar, two eggs, one-fourth teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon vanilla.

Soak the bread in the scalded milk until very soft, about one-half hour. Melt the chocolate over hot water, add the bread and milk mixture and combine thoroughly. Beat the eggs slightly, add the sugar, salt and vanilla and combine with the first mixture. Turn into a buttered baking dish. Set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven, until firm, about one hour. This quantity serves eight.

LIMA BEAN SAUSAGES

One-half cup dried Lima beans, one-third cup bread-crumbs, three tablespoons milk, one-fourth teaspoon each sa'' and pepper, two teaspoon poultry seasoning, one egg slig tly beaten.

Soak beans over night in cold water to cover. Drain and cook in boiling, salted water until soft. Aga'n drain and rub through fine sieve. Add fine dried bread-crumbs and other ingredients. Shape and fry like sausages.

FRESH OR COOKED CARROTS IN RING

A few blanched almonds will vastly improve a carrot ring.

1 bunch of carrots
2 eggs
1 cup evaporated milk
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon sugar
Pepper
½ cup blanched almonds
1½ tablespoons butter

Wash, scrape and grate the carrots. There should be two and one-half cups. Boil with the tiniest bit of water until tender, or use them raw if you prefer. Beat the eggs. Add milk and seasonings and the blanched almonds, coarsely ground. Melt the butter in a ring mold. Use it to butter the mold well and pour the rest in the mixture. Combine with the cooked or raw carrots. Fill the mold. Set in a pan of hot water and bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees, until the ring is set. This recipe will make eight servings.

There is plenty of food value in this dish to make it sufficient for a main dish.

Royal Prince Spurns Formality, Weds Commoner

PRINCE WEDS COMMONER IN REGISTRY OFFICE

Too rushed before the ceremony to get his hair cut and wearing a gray lounge suit, gray shirt and royal blue tie, Prince Lennart of Sweden married Miss Karin Nissvandt last week in a London registry office. As the bride is a commoner, Prince Lennart had to give up his royal rights. Nevertheless it was reported that King Gustav of Sweden (1), the prince's grandfather, had displayed a conciliatory attitude. Grand Duchess Marie of Russia (3), the bridegroom's mother, travelled from New York for the ceremony, but refused to attend when the prince insisted on a civil marriage. The duchess wanted a church wedding. The prince and his bride are shown in (2).

The Engagement Habit

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
An Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

There's glamor about a girl who has been engaged four or five times—that is, if she is under 22, and pretty. She becomes a romantic legend. Dazzled young men insist on meeting her, secretly wondering if there is still a chance for flirtation.

Girls who have never managed to get engaged at all eye her distrustfully and agree among themselves that it can't be beauty that accounts for her triumphs.

But is a girl with the engagement habit really enviable. And is the man who finally marries her, in luck?

My own notion has always been that a young man who took marriage seriously, and hoped to find peace and joy in his own married life, would do well to find a girl who hadn't had too wide experience in accepting and rejecting suitors.

It is possible for a girl to be so attractive to men that there isn't any real comfort in being engaged to her, much less married.

You know the sort of girl I mean. Quite often she is small and frail-looking without any regular beauty. You perhaps wouldn't notice her at all except for the fact that the minute a man of any age enters the room he makes straight for her.

The man doesn't know why. There is something almost hypnotic about it. It isn't beauty or brains or clothes that's the magnet. It's just irresistable feminineness.

Such a girl isn't to be blamed, I think, for forming the engagement habit. Her life is like a popular girl's evening at a dance. Not only do men cut in endlessly, but she would despair if they didn't. No partner is so delightful that she wishes to hold him beyond the merest fraction of time. Is it two minutes, or three? No finance is so completely satisfactory that she can quite forego the excitement of conquering the newest unattached man.

But excitement is a feverish and unwholesome diet, and a girl can't live on it indefinitely. The kind of girl I am talking about doesn't really want to. Her own desire, all the time, is to find the man who can dominate her and compel her real love. She would be willing enough to give up the superficial thrill of repeated engagements if she could experience lasting love, the kind there's no mistake about.

Are you the dominating type? If you are not, I suggest that you don't pin your hopes of married happiness on a girl of many engagements, however lovely she may be.

Like Codfish?—Well Here's a Recipe

An excellent recipe for codfish:

Take a one-pound brick of good boneless codfish and let it soak over night if it is to be used for luncheon, or soak it all day if it is to be used for dinner.

Pour off the water. Pull the fish apart in rather large pieces. Add two cups of cold water, one small green pepper cut very fine, two or three cloves of garlic. Cook slowly until tender. Now melt one-fourth of a cube of butter. To this add one heaping tablespoon of flour and one scant tablespoon of chili powder. When smooth add three cups of milk and cook to the consistency of thick white sauce. To this sauce add two or three hard-boiled eggs, chopped with parsley. Pour over the codfish and allow to simmer gently for about half an hour before serving.

And this rich and delicious cake was given by Mrs. Ash:

¼-cup butter,
¼-cup sugar,
2 egg yolks beaten,
3 tablespoons milk,
½-cup flour,
¼-teaspoon salt,
½-teaspoon baking powder.

Cream the butter and sugar. Add the beaten egg yolks, then the milk, then the dry ingredients sifted together. Spread very thin in two small cake pans. Cover the unbaked dough with a meringue made by beating the whites of two eggs, then slowly beating in one-fourth of a cup of sugar. Over the meringue sprinkle shredded almonds, using about half a cup. Bake for half an hour in a slow oven. Put the layers together with whipped cream and you can use jam or jelly, too, if you like.

Hang the mirror where it adds to the size as well as attractiveness of the room. A couple of well-hung mirrors can do wonders to the small living-room.

READER'S RECIPE

Miss A.: "Another reader asked for the following recipe—Butter Cakes: Sift two cups of flour with four teaspoons of salt. With the fingers rub in two rounded tablespoons of butter, then gradually stir in three-fourths of a cup of cold, sweet milk. Roll out one-half inch thick as if for biscuits, but bake on a hot griddle, well greased, on top of the stove, rather slowly and turning but once. They will puff up to double their original size.

S. C.: "Borsht: (A fine old Jewish recipe). At any Jewish grocery store buy about 10 cents worth of 'sour salt." Now shred half of a small cabbage and put this into a saucepan with one-half pound of flesh flank soupmeat, add a marrow bone, one-half teaspoon each of salt and pepper, two medium sized pieces of 'sour salt,' one tablespoon of sugar, one pound of beets peeled and cut small, and three quarts of cold water Cook all together slowly for two hours, then add a beaten egg yolk (first heating this yolk by stirring into it a little of the hot soup mixture). Stir and serve, with toasted rye bread."

Mrs. T.: "Sour Milk Pie: To one cup of thickly soured milk add one cup of sugar, one teaspoon each of ground cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg, one teaspoon of vinegar, one beaten egg and one cup of raisins. Pour into a pan lined with unbaked pastry, put top crust on, and bake for five minutes in a hot oven (to set crust), then reduce to medium (so egg filling will not boil in the crust and whey) and bake 25 minutes longer."

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

White lipsticks can be purchased; their mission is to keep the little pink petals from getting dry and ragged. Lanoline, which comes in tubes, has a healing quality that puts rough lip surfaces in good condition again. Biting the lips is a habit that is ruinous to their loveliness.

Once a day is sufficient for the thorough washing of the face with soap and warm water. The scrubbing should be at night; it should not be casually accomplished. What with soot falling like rain in large cities, faces take on grime that a delicate lady-like face washing does not thoroughly remove. In the morning use cold water. When cleansing up during the day use a liquid cosmetic or a thin cold cream.

Inexpensive and effective is a mild bleach which is compounded by mixing together four ounces of rubbing alcohol, two ounces of stronger rosewater and fifteen drops of simple tincture of benzoin. Apply with cotton and let dry on the skin.

No woman should fail to keep her complexion, neck and hands well oiled. Lubricating the skin surface retards the shedding of scales which condition causes roughness and invites wrinkles. Oily cosmetics perform as protective agents against dust, harsh winds and strong sunlight. Whether or not they actually feed the tissues, supply them with nourishment, is a question that is disputed by the disputers in the medical profession.

VITAMIN B IN BRAN, RESEARCH REVEALS

Also Has "Bulk" to Further Assist Elimination, and Iron for Blood

One of the functions of Vitamin B is to help tone the intestinal tract, and promote elimination. Now, laboratory experiments show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains this valuable vitamin.

In addition, ALL-BRAN brings a plentiful supply of "bulk" — which provides the "ballast" needed to exercise the intestines.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Inside the body, it is different from the way you see it in the package. It absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass which gently clears the intestines of wastes. Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, milder, more palatable.

Another healthful element brought by ALL-BRAN is iron. Tests show this cereal has twice as much usable iron as the same weight of beef liver.

Check common constipation — with its frequent headaches, loss of appetite and energy — by eating this delicious cereal. How much pleasanter than taking pills and drugs — so often habit-forming.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily — sufficient to overcome most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Get better acquainted!

If you knew Old Dutch Cleanser as do thousands and thousands of Canadian housewives, you, too, would realize that: "Old Dutch is the only cleanser you need in your home."

Read this interesting letter:

"Naturally women who are just learning the art of good housekeeping must have reliable cleansing agents to depend on to assure perfect cleanliness.

"Not until I used 'Old Dutch' did I find a cleanser which quickly and efficiently scours, polishes and thoroughly cleans my kitchen utensils, and bathroom accessories. It is also indispensable for removing brown stains from pyrex ware, also for cleaning my electric iron and toaster. I find Old Dutch Cleanser splendid for cleaning the exterior and interior of my frigidaire.

"There's satisfaction in using Old Dutch Cleanser. It's the only cleanser I would have in my home."

Mrs. A. D. Turnbull, 716 De L'Epee Ave., Outremont, P.Q., Canada.

Every day, more and more Canadian housewives are adopting Old Dutch exclusively because it cleans more things . . . cleans quicker... doesn't scratch... is kind to their hands... goes further; costs less to use.

The following wedding ceremony will be of interest locally, both the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, having lived here some years ago. Mr. Stewart attended both public and high school, which met in a short time in the principal's office in the old public school and later in the building now used by the City band. Mr. Stewart also played in the Nelson intermediate hockey team which won the championship in 1905-1906. The bride is a sister of W. E. Corry of the provincial water rights branch, who relieved in Nelson last summer. They were married in Victoria Saturday. The report follows:

"St. Matthias' church, Foul Bay, was the scene of a particularly pretty wedding last night at 7:30 o'clock, when Rev. A. G. E. Munson performed the marriage rites for Muriel Edna, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Corry, Highlands, and Norman C. Stewart, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Stewart. S. C. Cummins played the wedding marches.

"Given in marriage by her father, the charming bride looked lovely in her model frock of deep delphinium blue georgette. It was fashioned with a tight bodice which had short slit puff sleeves and a cowl neck, the flared skirt being ankle length. She wore a large beige hat which had a bandeau of forget-me-nots beneath the brim in front, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, mauve and pink sweet peas and maidenhair fern.

ONE BRIDESMAID

"Miss Elsie Peters was the only bridesmaid who wore a becoming frock of beige georgette with a long sleeved coatee, and a close-fitting hat of Copenhagen blue. She held a bouquet of blue irises and white carnations.

"Dr. Carlyle Reals attended the groom.

SMALL RECEPTION

"A small reception was held later at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. H. L. Smith, 1810 Hollywood Crescent, where daffodils and Japanese plum blossoms were attractively arranged throughout the house, the supper table being lighted with tall mauve candles. During the evening Mrs. W. E. H. Godson sang "O Promise Me."

"Mr. and Mrs. Stewart left at midnight for Vancouver en route by motor for a wedding trip to Portland, and on their return will make their home at 1827 Crescent road. The bride made a delightful study in brown in her travelling attire when she wore a dark muskrat coat, a new model hat of brown rough straw, suede shoes and other brown accessories."

UNITY OF IRELAND, ST. PATRICK'S DAY PLEA OF DE VALERA

Song and Dance Prominent in 15th Centenary of Day

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, March 17 (AP).—Erin celebrated the fifteenth centenary of St. Patrick today with dance and song and military parade, winding up the day by hearing a message from the new president of the Irish Free State, Eamonn De Valera.

De Valera appealed to all Irishmen at home and abroad to close their ranks and march forward.

"Let our desire to work for our country be our common bond," De Valera said, renewing in effect his plea of yesterday for the union of north and south Ireland.

De Valera stressed that his aim was Ireland for Ireland, but tempered with friendly feeling for all nations.

"Our common desire," he said, "has always been to bring about the unity and independence of this nation."

The St. Patrick's day celebration was marred by a disturbance at Ulster near Ballinderry Bridge, in the county of Londonderry. A party of four members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians were ambushed and two of their number were wounded.

The youth of Ireland danced tonight in celebration of the day, but the dance halls closed early, and, as for some years past, no liquor was sold with which to drown the shamrock.

The day was marked in Dublin with a great parade of Free State troops.

The smart green-clad men gave the salute in review to Frank Aiken, the new minister of defence. It was recalled that Aiken was one of the foremost guerilla leaders in the days of "the trouble". Many of those marching soldiers who saluted him, and whom he in turn saluted, had been his bitterest enemies.

The Irish Republican army of De Valera held no parade, but went ahead with plans for a big demonstration on Easter day.

CITY TO ROUND OUT FAIRVIEW WATER SYSTEM

To Serve Sixth Street and Gordon Road; Protect Pole Yard

PIECE UNDER CREEK TO START AT ONCE

Balance Will Probably Be Done Under Relief Program

Advantage will be taken by the city of the short interval remaining before the rise of Anderson creek, to excavate under the creek where it crosses Sixth street in Fairview, and lay a 100-foot section of six-inch water main, which will form a link in a new line to serve the northern end of Sixth street and the eastern end of Gordon road and provide additional fire protection for the pole yard of the Schaefer & Hitchcock company, now filled with a stock of poles that runs into big money.

The matter was brought to the city council's attention by the company, which in a letter from Superintendent G. V. Cady, reminded the council that action was promised a year ago. At present there is only one hydrant near enough to the yard to afford any protection, and it has been recognized that extension of the system would be necessary. This extension will also improve the service to about a dozen residences. The council linked this improvement up with the relief program, but the limitation of the program by the province resulted in this improvement going into abeyance.

TO MAKE START

Discussion of this matter in committee of the whole has resulted, Mayor J. P. Morgan stated Thursday in a decision that this improvement must be made, and that it can probably be brought under the future relief program, and in authority being given to City Engineer Boyd C. Affleck to do the portion of the work that must be done at once.

The new main will connect with the present system at the corner of Elwyn street, and will be laid along Sixth street for several blocks, to Gordon road, where it will turn west to connect again with the present main. A hydrant will be placed at the corner of Sixth street and Gordon road.

A crew will be started today on the section that will pass under the creek, so as to get it done before the creek floods.

U. S. UNAWARE OF OFFER TO REFER MATTER, LEAGUE

Refuse Comment on Casgrain's Rejection of Water Proposals

WASHINGTON, March 17 By Ken Clark, Canadian Press staff writer)—Officials of the United States department refused comment today on the rejection of Senator Casgrain as futile the proposals to refer to the League of Nations the Chicago diversion of water from Lake Michigan. Informally, it was said Washington is not aware of any proposals to that effect.

As to the treaty referred to by Senator Casgrain in proposing his motion to the senate that further negotiations on the St. Lawrence waterway project be held up, the assumption here was the senator referred to the treaty of 1909 on boundary waters.

It was pointed out the language of this treaty was not entirely strict with respect to the Chicago diversion. It was assumed the senator's reference was to article 4 which provides that no further diversions should be made without the approval of the international joint commission.

Further it was pointed out, the treaty provided it was not to interfere with "ordinary use" and it was asserted it was not intended to cover the Chicago diversion.

The question of whether the treaty could be brought up as having to do with the Chicago diversion was admittedly a moot point.

Washington official circles preferred to leave this as a matter for Canadian examination.

Lack of Confidence Expressed in Dr. L. S. Klinck at Meeting

VANCOUVER, March 17.— A resolution expressing lack of confidence in Dr. L. S. Klinck, president of the University of B. C., was debated for several hours at a special meeting of the institution's senate on Wednesday evening.

No note was taken on the resolution which was tabled until the senate can arrange a joint meeting with the board of governors. Discussion on the motion, which was presented by the younger element in the senate, continued until midnight with a number of members still waiting the opportunity to speak.

President Klinck has failed to meet adequately the emergency created by the provincial government's drastic 57 per cent slash in university grants, supporters of the resolution declared.

FISH HATCHERY AT GERRARD IS BEING REFITTED

Engineer McHugh Back From Week There; Crew Making Repairs

Returning to Nelson Wednesday night from a week spent at the Gerrard fish hatchery, J. McHugh, of Vancouver, engineer of the Dominion department of fisheries for the British Columbia district, reported that W. Goodlet, assistant superintendent of Kootenay hatcheries, was making rapid progress with a crew of five men in refitting the hatchery for the season's work in propagating Kamloops trout.

The hatchery was established in 1912, and the present building is therefore 20 years old. New floors have been constructed, and a new "fence" put in to guide the spawning salmon to the pens, which are also being rebuilt where necessary. Other necessary work is also on the program.

Thursday, under the guidance of Fisheries Inspector C. H. Robinson, Mr. McHugh met various citizens interested in the fish situation, including C. D. Blackwood, president of the Nelson and District Rod and Gun club, and city officials.

He left for the coast Thursday night.

Highways Pay Their Own Bill

British Columbia's highways are the province's best investment; they are paid for almost entirely by those who use them. If the total revenue from highways is taken into account, the provincial treasury actually makes a direct profit from them.

How many other major governmental services pay for themselves?

Hon. J. W. Jones' budget speech shows that the revenue from gasoline tax, auto licenses and drivers' licenses pays all the interest and sinking funds on highway loans and all the annual maintenance cost with the exception of $267,190. It is obvious that income and other taxes collected from garage owners, garage employees and others deriving their living from the automobile business will more than offset the $267,190.

Every public man, every public body, every business man, every taxpayer should give heed to this situation. Highways are still the one outstanding governmental service upon which there is justification for borrowing money, because the highways themselves provide the revenue to meet the interest and sinking fund.

Think of the happy position we would be in if other major governmental services produced directly even 50 per cent of their cost.

The B. C. Budget

The British Columbia budget has been brought down and now that we know the worst it is nothing like as bad as was feared. Big cuts are made in expenditure and the budget is balanced.

Changes in the income tax not only will not be burdensome but inequalities which existed under the present law are removed. Exemptions granted to married and those with other dependents are such that those who on account of the seasonable nature of their employment earn in a year less than smaller wage earners are employed steadily will receive rebates by applying for them when making their annual income tax statement. The present 1 per cent tax, for example, does not apply to a regular employed married man with a wage of $24.75 a week, whose earnings for the year are $1287. Yet a carpenter employed at $36 a week for an average of six months in the year will pay 36 cents a week tax, and yet earn only $936 a year. Under the Jones budget plan a married man with two children and a little life insurance earning $936 a year would still have the 1 per cent. deducted from his regular paychecks but at the end of the year would receive a rebate from the government for the full amount.

There will be some questioning as to how the increase of 2 cents in the gasoline tax will work out, as to whether it will produce much extra revenue or not. As to the taxes on amusements and liquor and similar levies the minister of finance is walking on well trodden ground.

Municipalities are to bear new burdens in that they are to be called on to pay a part of the cost of social legislation of various kinds. One large item will be 50 per cent of the cost of Mother's pensions paid to residents of municipalities. As the municipalities are to pay half of the cost of such allowances they should insist upon a voice in the decision as to whom such allowances are to be made. There should also be a time limitation to prevent people living outside municipalities from moving within their boundaries; there should be a waiting period during which newscomers would not be eligible.

Mr. Jones has abandoned the turn-over tax of 1-loth of 1 per cent. Although unsound in principle the tax hurt no one, it drew a little revenue from businesses which did not pay income tax and in the long run the treasury may regret that it was not retained.

Very wisely, Mr. Jones provides for treasury control of expenditures. This is a step which should have been taken long ago. The department which has to raise the money should be given firm control in financial matters over the departments which enjoy the privilege of spending it.

Mr. Jones deserves, and should receive, applause for the depth to which his axe has cut into expenditures. Some of the large cuts are: Department of agriculture, $119,000; department of attorney-general, $1,200,000; education, $900,000; labor, $250,000; lands, $600,000; mines, $100,000; provincial secretary, $200,000; public works, $800,000. There is a total reduction in controllable expenditures of $4,306,134, but against this is an increase of $900,000 in charges arising out of the public debt. This increase of $900,000 illustrates vividly what happens when we have to borrow money to pay deficits.

In bringing down the budget the minister of finance faced the issue of provincial finances frankly and made abundantly clear that the time has come when expenditures in excess of revenue must cease. There is no alternative. The reductions in expenditures which have been made will, it is to be hoped, be only a commencement. Even with the new budget, the expenditures of British Columbia are still too great for the population of the province. We still have too expensive an administration but everything to be desired cannot be accomplished in one year. The gratifying feature of the matter is that we are on the right road. We are embarked on the policy of living within our income. The next thing to look forward is to a further trimming of frills, to a further reduction in the cost of an administration which has become top-heavy.

In this connection, Mr. Jones toward the conclusion of his speech issues the pregnant warning, conceived out of our present difficulties, which are the result of past policies, against the illusion that the shifting of services from the individual to the government will get the people something for nothing.

It is upon those who hope most greatly to benefit from the impracticable dream of obtaining "something for nothing" that the burden in the final analysis falls most heavily.

That is one of the bitter lessons of the present depression and it is to be hoped that none of our generation will forget it.

"Between You and Me"

By "J.B.C."

"Sure a little piece of heaven came down to the earth one day."

That's Irish I believe. And it tells the truth. I have the honor of being a daddy to a dainty little colleen who first saw the light of day early St. Patrick's morning. She's husky, has dark hair which tends to curl and has a pair of lungs which would make any singer feel proud. She should have been a boy but not being such, she arrived on St. Patrick's day so she could be called "Pat." Needless to say the babe and her mother are doing well. Had little Pat arrived five or 10 minutes later "she" would surely have been a "he," for a little Irish boy arrived at the hospital just about that far behind "Pat."

* * *

So feeling proud-like I have become a real Irishman. Of course the family originated in Ireland and at that we have something on old St. Patrick himself. Owing to the depression there will be no cigars.

* * *

After a restless night I got up rather early yesterday and upon arrival at the office the following letter awaited me. All it said was:

"Dear Jimmie"

"Between you and me" better watch that baby. $50,000 is a lot of money." Signed "T."

* * *

I am handing that letter over to the police. There are several clues that I have already stored away. In the first place I know for a fact that the letter came from the Savoy hotel. But I'll do my best to keep an eye on "Pat."

* * *

And I guess that is about enough about family affairs. We have been having tough luck. You know we had two of the finest gold fish you ever saw We called them Amos and Andy. Amos was a little darker under the eyes than was Andy. They were playful little brutes and just about sardine size. But Amos took sick the other day and despite the tenderest of care he just "kicked out." I always did believe too much water was not good for one. So now Andy is swimming about lonesome as the dickens. And then on top of it all Perkins our pet cat, somewhat disappointed that "Pat" was not a boy, went off his grub. I am nursing him along and he will be days getting over it. If he doesn't get better I'll have to feed Andy to Perky and he'll pull through.

* * *

Around town yesterday I didn't see a great deal. Could hardly see over my chest I noticed John Learmonth looking over a new bus that had just arrived. I had a lot of sass from J. C. Forbes at the hospital and George Lester was doing a little kidding. I saw Jimmie Robertson of Grand Forks who was buried in the snow slide. James thinks he'll be home with his folks about the end of the week. Tony Gallicano still has an eye all plastered over with gauze and sticking plaster but Tony says "I'm feeling fine. Rev. Mr. Harvey of Procter is a patient in the hospital. He is suffering with a broken jaw following a sleigh riding accident. But he is getting along fine.

What Do You Think?

Will Oil Companies and Dealers Pay the Extra Gas Tax

To the Editor of The Nelson Daily News

Sir: There has been considerable discussion during the last few weeks on the advisability of increasing the gasoline tax, the possible effect on the motoring public generally. A pertinent question to ask in this respect is: "How is an increase in tax going to affect the price of gas locally." Will there be an addition to the already exorbitant local price of 37½ cent per gallon, or will the oil companies and dealers absorb the difference. The price of gas in coast cities is, I believe, 30 cents per gallon. Such being the case why should the motorist here be compelled to pay 37½ cents for the same gasoline.

Is there any good satisfactory reason why this price difference should exist, or is it simply a bare-faced hold-up?

Save and Spend Wisely Is Urge, Answer Liverpoo'

The Editor of The Nelson Daily News

Sir: I see that a champion in the person of "Liverpool," has again stepped forth to uphold the absurd and fallacious socialist argument—tax the high salaried man . . tax big business."

May I suggest to "Liverpool" that he pause to think logically? He will then find that he starts the circle at the wrong end—his own.

The circle starts with taxation. High taxation of employer, capitalist, or executive, means that these taxes have to be "passed back" by these men as reflected in higher salaries and so flow into production costs and tend to raise commodity prices. Were taxation on industry and capitalists lowered, competition would force a cheapening of prices and would ultimately bring about a reduction in the salaries paid which hitherto had been subject to a higher taxation.

Taxes are a burden on industry and are "passed on," i. e. included in the price of the finished product in exactly the same way as high interest rates.

The ultimate outcome of increasing taxation means increased cost to the consumer, who is the ultimate and real taxpayer.

The "passing on" process is inevitable. It may not be reflected in a higher price of the finished product but may bring about a decrease in wages all round in the particular industry. It may, however, be reflected in both.

There is no form of taxation which can justifiably be called "direct." So called direct income tax is one of the most indirect taxes ever conceived.

It passes through every stage of manufacture, financial transaction and distribution cost with added profits.

Taxation can become so exhorbitant that it pays to "avoid" it, which can be done quite legally. This has been happening for the past 10 years in Great Britain.

Taxation is becoming so great in this province that such a state of affairs is rapidly forcing itself upon us. It can become so burdensome that it is reflected in the worsening of the general economic condition. This is the case today!

The socialisation of government service is so advanced that the credit of the B. C. government requires payment of over six per cent interest and that of the Dominion government only 5 per cent.

How can industry borrow capital at rates advantageous enough to produce cheaply when the securities with the best backing the country has to offer are yielding so much?

Industry, having poorer security, has to pay higher rates and on top of this is saddled with taxation out of all reason, to meet the unreasonable commitments so carelessly incurred by the bureaucratic unbusiness-like governing bodies.

The government refuse to adopt the one and only safe way out. Drastic economy. To help towards this each and every citizen should practise the most rigorous economy in his private affairs.

He must balance his budget and save money. This will in turn lower interest rates all round, for government borrowings and for loans from the banks. Employers will be able to use borrowed capital without going broke and the wheels of commerce will slowly begin to turn again.

"Liverpool" claims that this means starvation for many. The money the government are at present squandering on relief is sufficient to take care of this, were it properly applied. We have lost all sense of proportion. We forgot in so-called prosperous times that the only means to success is hard work and plenty of it, and the spending of less than one earns.

It is hard enough to earn. It is more difficult to save. But it is most difficult of all to spend wisely.

Yours truly,
STANLEY J. K. SLOAN, LL.B., F.R.E.S., late of Liverpool, Eng.

Useless to Expect Income if Capital Dissipated, He Writes

To the Editor of
The Nelson Daily News

Sir: The controversy carried on in this column between Mr. Harris and Mr. Bealby in regard to thrift has interested me very much. The proper Christian attitude toward thrift lies somewhere between the extremes taken by each of these correspondents. Thrift followed to extremes becomes parsimony, wordiliness and ungodliness. Complete scorn and disregard of this homely virtue would leave us in the position of the sluggard." A little more sleep—a little more folding of the hands in sleep—so shall thy poverty come as one that travelleth and thy want as an armed man." Bible teaching favors parsimony as little as it does waste. One is as strongly condemned as the other.

Mr. Harris appears to think that thrift has been condemned by the teaching and example of some of the leading Biblical characters. Moses refused the honors due him as the son of Pharaoh's daughter and chose rather to suffer affliction with his own people. David refused to raise his hand against the "Lord's Annointed," even though his status from that of a hunted fugitive to that of a crowned king. Our Savior chose to associate with the poor and needy when kings sought his company and the people were ready to acclaim him a prince among men. His teaching, at times, seemed actually to endorse improvidence. "Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat and the body more than rainment?"

These are beautiful words. And yet I think we shall fall into grievous error if we focus our attention exclusively upon them and take no thought of their relation to other precepts of our Savior and of his apostles that are equally entitled to respect and obedience. We should not forget that these words were addressed directly to the 12 apostles who were being prepared for the great work of preaching the gospel to every creature. Let us not forget that as members of the body of Christ different duties are required of each of us. While it is just and right that "those who preach the gospel should live by the gospel," and consequently be freed from the need of "taking thought for the morrow," it is equally the duty of those to whom God has given worldly possessions to look well to the condition of their lands and the state of their herds lest poverty and want should come upon them and lest they should be unable to support those who preach the gospel and lend succor to the poor who are always with us. With full knowledge then of the glorious examples of Moses and David, men under divine guidance to carry out a divinely ordained mission, with full knowledge of the abnegation of worldly ambition which our Saviour taught to his chosen apostles. I still think that thrift is a duty imposed on the ordinary Christian by the teaching and example of Christ and his apostles and by the whole tenor of bible teaching.

But grant this and there is at once the danger of grievous excess. If one forgets the injunction, "Consider the lilies, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin," and focuses attention too exclusively on our Saviour's command, "Gather up the fragments. Let nothing be lost" or upon St. Paul's injunction, "Not slothful in business," there is danger that commendable thrift may degenerate into reprehensible parsimony. If one becomes too fearful of the admonition "Be thou diligent to know the state of thy flocks, and look well to thy herds; for riches are not forever" and at the same time heeds the warning, "He becometh poor that dealing with a slack hand" there is danger that he may forget the command, "Give to him that asketh, and him that would borrow of thee turn thou not away."

To sum up. It appears that good management, good husbandry, economy, as well as generous giving and the free and proper enjoyment of God's gift will all find their place in any well-ordered Christian life. The annual increase given by fields, orchards, gardens, forests, seas, herds and mines is God's good gift to man and should be fully and freely enjoyed. Storing of grain, fruits, vegetables, fish, etc., beyond a limited time only harbors vermin and breeds corruption. Thrift finds its proper place in maintaining the fertility of the land, in pruning the orchard and in maintaining unharmed and undiminished the capacity of the sea, soil, forest and mine to yield their increase.

A like relation in business exists between capital and income. Income above expenses, insurance, depreciation and emergency funds can be spent freely and safely. But the day of disaster is not far distant when inroads for living expenses are made upon capital accounts. The condition of such business is like that of the home where walls and partitions are torn down for fuel. It is useless to expect income if capital be dissipated. It is idle to expect warmth and comfort in the home if the outer walls be burned for fuel. It is equally idle to look for churches, public service and care of the poor in a Christian community that fails to exercise ordinary business prudence.

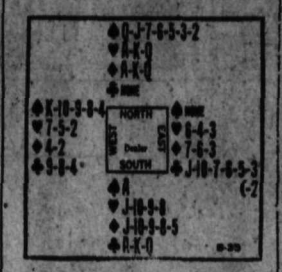
Auction and Contract Bridge

By the World's Leading Authority, MILTON C. WORK

A HIDDEN GRAND SLAM



When this unusual Contract hand was played, South bid one No Trump. West passed, and North made a forcing jump shift to three Spades. South, forced to overcall, bid three No Trumps. North, however, assumed that South's No Trump must contain the Ace or King of Spades, in which case a slam was almost certain; so he ventured a bid of six Spades. East and South passed and West made a double, the wisdom of which was doubtful. It caused South to rescue with six No Trumps. (West would have set a six-Spade contract). West then doubled six No Trumps "on general principles," and everyone passed.

At Auction South would bid one No Trump, North two Spades, South two No Trumps and North three Spades.

In the play West, with no long suit except Spades, led the Ten of that suit through North's announced strength—the only lead that stood any show of defeating the contract. South won with the Ace and discarded three of dummy's Spades on the Ace, King and Queen of Clubs. Dummy then was put in to lead his three Hearts and three Diamonds and the Queen of Spades. West won the last-named with the King and returned the Nine. Dummy was forced to lead a fourth round of Spades, and West's Eight set the contract one trick. Did Declarer make the most of his unusual holdings?

THE CORRECT PLAY

Despite West's annoying Spade lead, Declarer had practically a showdown for a grand slam (with the contract No Trump). His play was as simple as it was unusual. He should lead South's three Clubs to tricks 2 to 4 and discard North's three Hearts. Having thus established South's Hearts, he should discard dummy's three high Diamonds on them. South's Diamonds, now unblocked, would supply the remaining tricks. Declarer thus would have the unusual experience of winning all thirteen tricks in his own hand, with the additional distinction of discarding six winning cards from dummy.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON

REDUCING WEIGHT INTELLIGENTLY

You are putting on weight and have decided that you are going to get rid of the fat, and keep well rid of it. As you look back you can remember just about when your weight began to increase; in fact you had previously been so thin that the addition of this extra weight was really very welcome.

There are two periods in life when extra weight seems to come to men and women; one is at the age of puberty 14 to 17, and the other as they near the age of thirty.

The increase at puberty, if not too much, is really of help as it "fills out" the frame, and gives the individual a certain amount of surplus weight to use in games or as a safeguard in sickness. If however the growing boy or girl becomes a regular "roly poly" of fat at that time then the glandular changes which occur at this time are not adjusted properly, usually the thyroid gland in the neck being to blame. When this gland is not doing its work properly, it does not burn the fat up completely, and overweight results. It is over-activity of this gland that prevents the accumulation of even a normal amount of fat on the individual and he becomes very thin, "skinny" in fact.

So, if you are overweight, and there was not a great increase of weight at puberty, then you can hardly blame the gland system for it, and would not be justified in using gland extracts to reduce your weight.

If your weight came on at the age of twenty-five to thirty years, it can usually be attributed to the changes in your method of living. Where formerly you worked hard at your usual occupation, and went out every evening on athletic or social activities, at this age you settled away or settled down more to your work or occupation, stopped playing the active athletic games, and cut down on your evening social activities also.

Now getting settled away in your life's work, so that you "knew" what your work was to be, lessened the worry or anxiety as compared with the previous few years, and lack of worry will allow weight to accumulate.

Cutting down on your active athletic work, and shortening your evenhours of social activity, meant more rest of body, and weight had more chance to accumulate.

Added to these three things—less worry, less active exercise, less social activity, more leisure to eat, your ability to purchase food you like, should just about tell you why your weight increased.

Therefore when you decide to reduce your weight, think over what you know brought on your extra weight, and you'll know how to go about reducing it.

SASKATOON WESLEYS TAKE SERIES FINAL BY BEATING TRAIL 4-0 IN JUNIOR GAME

Wolfe Stars in Goal; Defence Too Weak for Wesley Attacks

TRAIL, B. C., March 17.—Saskatoon Wesleys trimmed Trail juniors 4-0 tonight and advanced to the western Canada final in the Abbott cup series. Trail won the first game 1-0, the total score being 4-1. It was a great battle, with Trail fighting for a break, but the best team won. Trail's 1-0 lead was wiped out in the second stanza, and then Saskatoon went through to definitely establish their supremacy.

Saskatoon won the game on its hockey. Trail put up a great battle, but they were not in the same class. Wolfe was again the star of the game, but he had not the compact defence that blanked Saskatoon Tuesday. Wolfe made but one mistake, and it cost him a goal, but his all-around goal tending was of a high order. Richardson, in the Saskatoon net, was not tested as severely as Wolfe. O'Neil and Buckna were the outstanding men on the ice. Each of them had all kinds of speed, and their stickhandling carried them in again and again. O'Neil got through one, and scored. Mike was blocked on every attack. Trail's failure tonight was in its defence, and in the face of the attacks Saskatoon launched, any team might have collapsed.

The speed the fans saw in the first game was not lacking in the first period, and it began to appear that Trail's one-goal lead might mean a lot in this series. Both teams pressed in, and the rough stuff which broke out every now and then, putting needed men in the box, found the short team backed up to its own territory. Offsides were not nearly so frequent. Wolfe again pulled some great saves. Hood, Trail defence man, missed the chance of his life when he beat the whole Saskatoon team and then was robbed by goalie Richardson.

Successive penalties that reduced the teams to two men each in the second period gave Saskatoon the opening and they slammed in three. Trail started the shooting, but they were forced back. Morris and Crosby went down near the boards and Crosby was hurt, not seriously. Saskatoon scored its first from a mix-up. Welsh went up and scored on Mason's rebound. Gray was chased for miging with Brown. There was one penalty after another, and Buckna and McGowan were left for Trail, with O'Neil and Haight for Saskatoon. O'Neil soloed through and put Saskatoon one up on the series at 6:17. Toward the end of the period Clint Smith went in. Wolfe came out to meet him and fell, and Clint parked it in the net at 16:21. Trail forced the pace for the remainder of the period, but failed to get in.

The third period brought the Trail crowd to its feet. Shortly after they started, Trail threw four men into the attack, and except for occasional breaks, Saskatoon was pretty well bottled up. Toward the end of the game the visitors repeatedly shot the puck down the ice to clear Trail. Crosby got away on one of the few breaks and went around the net to score at 14:45. It was one continual battle toward the end.

THE TEAMS

Saskatoon — Richardson, goal; M. Smith and Haight, defence; O'Neil, Clint Smith and Crosby; Mason, Welsh and Gray, forwards.

Trail—Wolfe, goal; Hood and McGowan, defence; Morris, Buckna and Martin; Brown, Forrest and Morrison, forwards.

Referee—Claude Small, Saskatoon.

Judge of play—Leo Desireau, Nelson.

Grakle, winner of the 1931 Grand National steeplechase, remained favorite for the renewal of the great English classic at Aintree today. The betting was 8 to 1 against Grakle. CANADIENS ROMP TO 10-3 VICTORY OVER AMERICANS

Frenchmen Maintain Lead Over Leafs in Canadian Section by Win

MONTREAL, March 17 (CP).—Montreal Canadiens triumphed over New York Americans 10-4 in a wide open National Hockey league game here tonight. The Canadiens broke even on the season with the Americans, each having won four encounters.

It was a bad night for Roy Worters, agile little American goalie. Pucks rained at him from all angles and he kept out some shots that looked like sure goals. He was the busiest man on the American team, as the defence in front of him sagged like a wet paper bag. It was a great night for scoring averages, with nothing in particular depending on the outcome of the game. By winning, however, the Canadiens kept pace with Toronto and maintained their four-point lead over the Leafs in the Canadian section standing.

SUMMARY

Jules Audy Suffers Fractured Skull in Six-Day Bike Race

PHILADELPHIA, March 17— Diminutive Jules Audy, 18-year-old Canadian rider, was eliminated from the six-day bicycle race today when he suffered a fracture of the skull in being catapulted from his wheel against one of the bunks at the trackside.

The blond Montreal youngster had just started in pursuit of Fritz Schenk, of the German team, when the latter began a lap-stealing jam.

Coming down off one of the turns, Audy's bike skidded on the flat and he was hurled over the handlebars, striking the end of one of the bunks with crushing force.

After the accident, Audy's partner, William "Torchy" Peden, of Victoria, British Columbia, mounted his wheel and started out to carry the burden alone. He had four hours, under the rules, in which to obtain another partner.

After sprints left the rider's positions unchanged. The French team of Alfred Letourner and Marcel Guimbretiere were leading by one lap

BIG LEAGUE BOWLING

BY AL DEMAREE

Losing your temper in bowling is just as fatal to good results as it is in golf, baseball, boxing or any other game. A certain amount of self-confident assertiveness and aggressiveness is often valuable if not absolutely necessary but a temperament that cannot stand a certain amount of bad breaks is an arch enemy to consistent good bowling.

Keep your poise at all times. The other fellow may seem to be getting all the good breaks, but he will run into his share of "tps" and "railroads" eventually, and if you have taken your share of tough luck with a good natural tolerance, you will be able to take advantage of it.

In other words devote all your energy to knocking down the pins and not fighting yourself.

Don't be like the bowler who yelled after a tough game, "Say isn't there any other way to roll a ball except right handed and left handed?"

Al Demaree has prepared an illustrated leaflet on "spares" which he will gladly send to any reader requesting it. Address Al Demaree in care of this paper and be sure to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

TORONTO LEAFS TAKE JOY FROM RANGERS' FETE

Rangers Lose 300th Game to Toronto 6-3; Old Timers Receive Watches

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs spoiled the New York Rangers celebration of the 300th game since their organization tonight by winning a fast National Hockey league clash, 6 to 3. The victory kept the Leafs in the race for first place in the league's Canadian division.

Lorne Chabot, who played for the Rangers back in 1926 but guarded the Toronto net tonight, was the outstanding star. Time and again he stopped the Rangers when they appeared sure to score. He covered a territory of some 10 feet around his net, skating far out to stop shots or clear the puck away.

In a ceremony at center ice, Col. John S. Hammond, owner of the Rangers, presented gold watches to Manager Lester Patrick, Frank Boucher, and Cook brothers, Chin Johnson, Murray Murdoch and Trainer Harry Westerby, all members of the original Ranger club.

THOROUGHBREDS PREPARING FOR AGUA CALIENTE

Australian Horse Is Entrenched in Favorite's Position

AGUA CALIENTE, March 17 (AP)—Six of the most prominent thoroughbreds entered in the $50,000 Agua Caliente handicap Sunday worked out against time today in preparation for the west's greatest race.

Reveille Boy, after winning a six furlong race against three good platers in 1:11 3-5, went on to complete a mile and a quarter in 2:05 2-5 He was forced to spring the sixth furlong in order to win the race and was not pushed during the rest of the workout. His odds were reduced to 4 to 1. He carried 118 pounds, his assignment for the handicap.

Phar Lap, the Australian invader, worked easily through three-quarters of a mile this morning in 1:20 and his odds were cut from 2 to 1 to 3 to 2, more firmly entrenching him in the favorite's position.

Spanish Play won a lot of backing in his workout, his first serious trial since he arrived here Tuesday from New Orleans, when it was announced he toured a mile in 1:43.

Dr. Freeland worked a mile and a quarter in 2:09 1-5, being held in all the way. Scimitar, not a certain starter, galloped a similar distance in 2:09.

While the result of the work done by Cabezo, one of the most likely three-year-olds here, was not announced, his odds were sliced to 2½ to 1, making him the second choice of the bookmakers.

Bahamas, winner of the Agua Caliente derby, did a mile and a quarter in 2:06.

Those in charge of Phar Lap's training said today that the big red guilding had been put through a more strenuous period of preparation for the handicap than he was for any of his races in the antipodes.

The Falcons threw five forwards into the fray, and less than two minutes before the close of the period Ebbie Goodfellow scored the tying goal after a face-off in Bruin ice.

Boston carried the offence in the overtime, but were unable to beat Alex Connell, Falcon goalie.

LIVERPOOL IS ALL AGOG FOR STEEPLECHASE

Thirty-Seven Horses Are Ready to Start in 91st Grand National

NEW FAVORITE IS INSTALLED

Official Odds Veer to 17 to Two Against "Heart-break Hill"

LIVERPOOL, England, March 17 (CP cable).—Thirty-seven horses are ready to start in the Grand National steeplechase tomorrow afternoon.

Liverpool was already agog tonight, and many more thousands will pour in during the morning to witness as much as they can of the running of the hardest race in the world.

It is the 91st running of the Grand National proper.

On the eve of the race, a new public favorite was installed, official odds veering to 17 to 2 against Heartbreak Hill, the comparatively youthful Irish steeplechaser owned by Mrs. C. S. Bird Jr., of the United States. A shade longer odds were quoted against C. R. Taylor's veteran Grakle, winner of the race in record time last year. Gregalach, winner in 1929, was third choice. The third former winner who is in tomorrow's contest, Shaun Goilin, was at odds of 40 to 1.

CARRY STIFFEST IMPOSTS

Gregalach, Shaun Goilin and Grakle, in that order, carry the stiffest imposts of any allotted, top weight for Gregalach being the usual 175 pounds. The lowest weight, 147, is being carried by a score of contenders; any one of them might be first across the finish line when Aintree's unique course, with its 32 jumps, has taken its usual heavy toll.

The start of the race, the result of which will decide some of the biggest racing gambles in the world's history, is set for 3 p. m. (10 a. m. eastern standard time). It calls for four and a half miles of the toughest going that ever confronted a stout horse and a plucky jockey, and experience is at a premium. At the same time, on the basis of records, the odds are 20 to 1 against Grakle, Gregalach or Shaun Goilin pulling out another victory.

ONE U. S. HORSE

One United States bred horse, Sea Soldier, is among the 13 starters owned in the United States. Lex Wilson of St. Mary's Ontario, will ride him. English turf experts don't think much of his chances, and he is at 50 to 1 in the betting.

And the veteran Coulthwaite, the trainer of Grakle, is supremely confident that Mr. Taylor's Good Leaper will go even better than he did a year ago, when he won in faultless fashion.

But they're all confident as the crowds in Liverpool and thousands in the capitals of the world, and its far-off corners, dream of fortunes that might be made if "their" horse comes through its struggle on top.

The world will pause for a few minutes while the story is flashed to the end of the earth. And then it will be another inscription on the historic roll of the Grand National.

FINAL QUOTATIONS

LIVERPOOL, March 17 C P cable)—The final call-over of odds on the Grand National steeplechase tomorrow showed the following quotations:

Hearbreak Hill, 17 to 2.
Grakle, 9 to 1.
Gregalach, 13 to 1.
Holmes, 20 to 1.
Vinicole and Pelorus Jack, 25 to 1.

CRESTON COUNCIL REDUCES TRADE LICENCE BYLAW

Standing Committees for 1932-34 Are Struck; Business Concluded

CRESTON, B. C., March 17—Business in considerable volume and variety was transacted at the March meeting of Creston village council on Monday night.

The Salvation Army's appeal for the usual $25 grant went unheeded, as did a request from a taxpayer that the fee fo relectrical inspection be reduced. The waterworks company wrote that as soon as weather permitted they would instal the asked-for hydrant on Canyon street. The council filed a letter from the village of Terrace which encloser a resolution which, if acceded to, would allow villages collecting less than $5000 in ordinary taxes to escape the payment of 70 per day on municipal patients in hospitals.

These were as least three letters asking for alterations at the park pavilion. The players dramatic club would like a stage installed and are willing to help pay for the improvement. The badminton and basketball clubs would like the stairway and overhead walk leading to the bandstand and lookout removed to facilitate these indoor sports. The park committe will investigate. The bill for an additional $27.50 for wiring the pavilion to meet the needs of these sports was ordered after some protests as to the invoicing of cost of the work.

A. Stuart Evans and others living in the vicinity of park road were refused a petition asking for the erection of a footbridge to shorten their journey to and from town. The offer of the department of lands for an area on the flats for a nuisance ground was formally accepted and arrangements will be made for fencing it immediately.

After some favorable discussion the council unanimously endorsed the Goat river canyon development resolution sent them by the board of trade. It will go forward immediately, and attached to it will be a letter from the council entering a direct protest from the village against the continued inaction on the part of the West Kootenay Power & Light company.

Notice of motion was given of a proposed revision downward of the schedule of charges in the trade license by-law. Visiting opticians annual fee is reduced for $40 to $10. Second-hand stores are reduced from $20 to $10 per annum and all the professional men will have a like cut in license fee.

The council was quite frank in discussing a request that out-of-town organizations and musicians be denied the use of the park pavilion.

Canute Anderson, Mrs. McDonald and John Sherwood will get the asked-for road to connect with Alder street at the north end. The right of way has been cleared already, and stumping and grading will be got under way at once. The provincial health inspector will be communicated with in respect to certain sanitary matters and information sought as to the instalation of a sewer system.

The sanding committees for 1932-34 were struck as follows: park, councillor F. H. Jackson and Reeve McFarland; fire, light and water, Councillor Henderson and Reeve McFarland; streets and sidewalks, Reeve McFarland and Councillor Jackson. It was agreed that in the matter of needed improvements the committees should have power to take immediate action, but authorization of council must be obtained on new works.

12,000 TO BENEFIT

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., March 17.—(CP)—Twelve thousand farmers of Alberta will benefit under the writing off of interest charges on land contracts announced by the Canadian Pacific Railway land resources department, according to S. G. Porter, superintendent of the department. Amount of money involved cannot be estimated as it is unknown how many farmers will take advantage of the opportunity. Altogether, 19000 contract holders were affected.

NEW YORK LIST SURGES UP ON GOOD RUMORS

Gains Represent Virtual Cancellation of Wednesday's Losses

NEW YORK, March 17—Rumors of good news, and the actual appearance of at least one item that could be so labelled ,gave stocks an upward push today and the market closed with gains which represented virtual cancellation of what had been lost yesterday.

After showing a much firmer undertone in the morning, prices were later stimulated by reported that reputed points of difference on policies to be followed in the matter of the United States Reconstruction Finance corporation loans to domestic railroads had been smoothed over. Coincidentally, the Chesapeake and Ohio released a favorable February earnings statement, and the combined effect was to touch off a fair volume of short covering, especially in carrier stocks.

New York Central and Union Pacific had net gains of 2 points, Santa Fe was up 3⅞ and B. & O. and Sou ern Pacific about a point and a half. Baltimore and Ohio preferred recovered most of an early loss that approximated 4 points, reflecting recognition of the dividend cut.

ACTIVE INDUSTRIALS ADVANCE

Advances of a point or two were the rule among active industrials and utilities. American Tobacco "B" was bought on anticipation of an annual report which would show record earnings for 1931. U. S. Steel, Armed and American Telephone converted a 2-point loss into a gain of about the same size. General Motors touched a new low at 18¼ in the morning but finished unchanged.

Eastman and Kreuger issues were stronger. Activity increased on the rally, the day's trades totalling 1,773,-3 shares, about 300,000 larger than yesterday's turnover.

After dropping dispiritedly most of today the bond market turned round in the last hour and registered several rallies. However, the average for 60 corporate loans closed 10 of a point lower.

LACK OF SUPPORT CAUSES DECLINES IN WINNIPEG PIT

Falling-Off in Export Demand and Moderate Selling Weakens Market

WINNIPEG, March 17 (CP)—Little support was in evidence in the grain market here today, wheat prices sagging throughout the session to close ⅜ to ½ cent lower in dull trading. Falling-off in export demand and moderate selling created a weak undertone and values eased from the opening.

May closed at 64½, off ⅝, and July and October futures each were ½ cent down at 66⅛ and 67¾ respectively.

Selling pressure was never heavy but its origin could not be determined. Foreign importers, following two days of good purchases, did not enter the market today. Continued heavy shipments from Argentina were reported, however, which had a bearish effect on the Liverpool market.

Adverse crop news from France and Poland was reported here, but this did not affect the local market.

For the first time in several weeks, some improvement was seen in cash grains, and spreads on higher grades closed fractionally higher. Lower grades, however, were unchanged. Coarse grain prices eased with wheat in mixed trading.

C.P.R. and Brazilian Make Slight Gains; Oils Experience Dull Day

TORONTO, March 17 (CP)—Prices drifted to low levels today on the Toronto stock exchange with trading restricted. A number of new lows were made on further fractional recessions. Brazilian gained ⅛. C. P. R. with 383 shares out was up ⅜ at the close. Ford was off ⅛ and Nickel with 430 shares out was up ¼. Oils experienced the dullest day for many months, neither British American nor Pete appearing and Imperial closing unchanged on nominal turnover.

CHICAGO GRAINS CLOSE NERVOUS

Departure of George S. Milnor for Europe Gives Jar to Pit Traders

CHICAGO, March 17 By John P. Boughan, Associated Press market editor)—Assertions that the United States farm board was trying to arrange credit and sales of 50,000,000 bushels of wheat abroad tended to unsettle grain values today.

Unexpected departure for Europe by George S. Milnor, head of the Grain Stabilization corporation, an auxiliary of the farm boards, gave a jar to traders.

Wheat closed nervous at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 cent lower, corn ¼ to ½, oats unchanged to ⅛ off, and provisions unchanged to an advance of 2 cents.

Bearish effects of uncertainty relative to the significance of Milnor's transatlantic journey were emphasized by the British cables that price declines in Liverpool were largely due to fear of coming pressure on farm board wheat.

POWER COMMITTEE CONCLUDE TAKING OF THE EVIDENCE

OTTAWA, March 17 (CP)—With the final cross-examination of Senator Andrew Haydon from his sick bed, at his home this afternoon, the senate committee investigating Beauharnois concluded the taking of evidence. Counsel were given until March 29 to prepare briefs for submission to the committee, following which the committee will make its report to the senate.

The last word as to what ensues from the investigation, held primary to ascertain if the connection which Senators W L McDougald, Donat Raymond and Andrew Haydon had with Beauharnois violated the dignity and standing of the senate, rests with the members of the red chamber themselves.

Russia Exported More Wheat than 1931 Crop Gave Justification For

OTTAWA, March 17 CP)—During the past month interesting news has been forthcoming from Russia in connection with the difficulties that the Soviet authorities are experiencing as a result of poor harvests in some areas last year, suggesting that Russia has exported more wheat than was justified by the crop harvested in 1931. This information was contained in a statement issued today by H. H. Stevens, minister of trade and commerce.

Apparently Russia is experiencing difficulty in gathering supplies of wheat adequate to seed the 1932 crop says the statement.

FRUIT TREES IN OKANAGAN WINTER IN GOOD CONDITION

Horticulturist Sees Excellent Augur for Bountiful 1932 Crop

VERNON, B. C., March 17—Fruit trees have come well through the winter according to Maurice Middleton, the well-known horticulturist. The spurs are very heavy and vigorous and the first step toward a banner crop for 1932 is progressing favorably.

The fruit trees came through the winter in splendid condition. There is no winter injury reported as a heavy blanket of snow protected the tree roots. At this time of the year there is danger of sunscald, the heat of the sun drawing up the sap and frosty nights causing the bark to break and crack. So far this spring conditions have been very good. There have been warm days and frosty nights but the warm days have not been numerous enough to cause any injury

Throughout the Okanagan valley the trees went into the winter in about normal condition. There never is enough moisture for a real good fall irrigation but there were rains and the snow came early.

Another factor which is beneficial is that the moisture is penetrating the ground. The first heavy coat of snow in the northern end of the valley all blew away in a chinook wind but there has been a number of small snow falls and rain and the condition of the ground is very satisfactory, the light snow tending to draw out the frost and the moisture is penetrating nicely. From Kelowna to the boundary there was about an 18-inch snowfall after the period of regular winter was generally believed to be over. This moisture has been penetrating the ground very satisfactorily. The days were warm with enough chill at night to slow down the run off. This is on lower levels. It is expected that in the hills the conditions are good for the catchment basins to fill and the outlook for good supply of irrigation water taking the valley as a whole has not been better in many years.

TORONTO MINING MARKET PRICES ARE REACTIONARY

TORONTO, March 17 (C)—Reactionary prices again dominated the movement of stocks on the Standard Mining exchange today with leaders in the base metal and gold sections soft. Trading was without special interest. Sales totalled 210,000 shares with 64 issues traded of which 25 closed unchanged, 24 declined and 15 advanced.

Losses were taken in a number of leaders in the precious metal section. Dome and McIntyre each fell 25 cents to close at $11.50 and $17.75 respectively; Teck-Hughes dropped 13 cents to $4.72 with 3170 shares out, while Lake Shore recovered 25 cents to $28.75.

Base metal and oil issues developed weakness. Noranda with sales of 7305 shares broke 45 cents to $18.20 despite the favorable showing made in its annual report. International Nickel was unchanged at $9.10. In the oil section Imperial rose 10 cents to $9.90 while British American and International Petroleum closed unchanged in light trading.

BRISK MOVEMENT MARKS TRADE OF MONTREAL STOCKS

Brazilian and International Nickel Leaders; C.P.R. Makes 3-8 Gain

MONTREAL, March 17 (CP)—Due to an increased demand for Brazilian Traction and International Nickel, trading on the Montreal Stock exchange today took on a brisker pace than yesterday. The market experienced very narrow movements, however.

Five stocks showed gains at the close against four losses. All changes were fractional. Brazilian, active leader with sales of 1851 shares, eased ⅛ to 13¾ after touching 13½; International Nickel, with sales of 972 shares, moved in an opposite direction to close at 9¼, ⅛ better.

Canadian Pacific was ⅜ higher at 18⅜ in quiet trading and Smelters, National Steel Car and Dominion Textile also advanced slightly.

The close was firm. Among losses were Winnipeg Electic, ½ at five; Amalgamated Electric preferred, ⅛ at 13¾ and Canada Cement, ¼ at 6¼.

Total sales amounted to 5167 shares compared with 4275 yesterday.

The bond department was neglected, with one sale of $500 Victory loan 1937's taking place at $106.25.

Sterling closed at $4.0634 and United States money at a premium of ¼ per cent.

Constant Dependability With a GAS RANGE

Day in, day out, a Gas Range renders real service regardless of time, weather, or location. Not alone at meal times does it respond at its best, but during other hours as well, when numerous emergencies call for instant, speedy heat.

A mechanism as simple as a Gas Range seldom has need for the repair man. And Gas, the perfect fuel for the home, is just as dependably awaiting the signal to serve.

SASGRAIN SUFFERS MISAPPREHENSION SAYS T. MEIGHEN

U.S. Did Not Claim Diversion Rights He Tells Senate

OTTAWA, March 17 (CP)—Senator Casgrain, who moved a resolution in the senate yesterday respecting the carrying out of the Chicago water diversion treaty, was "laboring under a succession of misapprehensions," Arthur Meighen, government leader, declared in the senate today.

Senator Meighen stated that in the correspondence passing between the governments the United States did not claim that the treaty provided for diversion rights. Senator Casgrain's address, he said, had been based upon what in his judgment were the terms of the boundary waters treaty of 1909.

"He evidently had the view that this treaty made certain stipulations in the matter of diversion of water, particularly the Chicago diversion," said Senator Meighen. The treaty does not do anything of the kind. There is no treaty dealing with the Chicago diversion or any other diversion, specifically."

The Chicago diversion was made under a proclamation or licence issued by the United States secretary of war in 1900. That permit was the basis of the diversion as exercised by the municipality of Chicago. The United States government did not admit that the treaty applied to the Chicago diversion in any way.

"I have never been able to understand the consistency of the attitude of the United States government," said Senator Meighen. One might as well contend that because Canada gets more water from Niagara than the United States that Chicago should divert more water. None of the treaties deal with diversion.

The Canadian government contended that the treaty applied to the diversion, though basing its protests more on the general principles of international comity and international law, Senator Meighen said. The United States contend in the first place that the treaty applied only to boundary waters and that under article one, it was clear that Lake Michigan was not a boundary water; secondly that article two did not give either contracting party any right beyond that of protest against a diversion which would affect navigation interests, and that article three applied only to future diversion.

METCALFE EQUALS OLD WORLD MARK FOR 40 YARDS GO

Eddie Tolan Forced to Watch Heels of Michigan Star

TORONTO, Ont., March 17. (CP)—Bobby Kerr's old world mark for the 40-yard sprint was equalled tonight by the sprinting speed of dusky Harold Metcalfe, from Michigan's Marquette university. The lean speedster won both 40 and 60 yards drives at the championship Canadian indoor track meet.

Twice Eddie Tolan, Detroit's "midnight express" watched Metcalfe's heels head of him at the tape. Tolan was second to the Marquette marvel in the 60 heading Bill O'Neil of Detroit. But O'Neil edged ahead of Tolan in the shorter run.

Metcalfe's time in the 40 was 4 3-5 seconds equalling the old mark set by Bobby Kerr, former Canadian Olympic sprint star. In the 60, reversing Tolan's victory at Hamilton last night, Metcalfe was clocked at 6 3-10 seconds, one-tenth under the Canadian record.

Ada Wilson, Toronto, marked up a new Canadian time in the women's 60 yards hurdles at 8 1-2 seconds, one-tenth under the old mark. Two other Toronto girls, Mildred Fizzell and Eva Dawes, took respectively the 60-yard run and the high jumps.

BOARD MAY TAKE UP QUESTION OF ADVANCED TIME

Council Recommends Making Campaign for Whole District

A probable campaign to have advanced time in Nelson this season, on the same lines as last year, was foreshadowed Thursday, when the council of the board of trade decided to recommend to the full board that the question be taken up.

The council recommends that other points in the district be asked to consider also having advanced time, so as to make it district-wide, and that the Canadian Pacific be asked to consider advancing railway time in this district to correspond. General action on this line, it was said, would effect the object desired by those favorable to daylight saving, without there being any conflict in time.

A suggestion was offered that the board should send a resolution to the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia on this subject, for consideration at the annual convention, which will open at Fernie May 24.

MORE BIBLES READ

OTTAWA, March 17. (CP) — Are Canadian people turning more to the Bible in these days of stress? The figures of the dominion bureau of statistics would seem to demonstrate that, for in the 12 months ended January 1931 the importation of Bibles, prayer-books, etc., amounted in value to $460,559 and in the same period ended January 1932 it was $484,178. Of that amount $196,541 came from Great Britain and $157,933 from the United States.

GREGORY MANGIN DEFEATS WOOD IN TENNIS GAME

Newark Netter Turns Back Davis Cupper With Ease

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP)—Gregory Mangin, sure-shot from Newark, N. J., supplied the bulk of entertainment in the national indoor tennis tournament today with a decisive quarter-final triumph over Sidney Wood Jr., of New York.

Mangin, ranked No. 11 in 1931, turned back the Wimbledon champion 6-4, 6-2. Wood, 1931 Davis cupper, looked little better than a novice before the magnificent driving and volleying of the Newark netter.

In the day's other singles, George Lott, Chicago veteran, disposed of Julius Seligson, chubby New Yorker, 9-7, 6-4, and Frank Shields of New York eliminated Bowden, 6-1, 7-5. Tomorrow's pairings send Mangin against Lott while Shields opposes Berkeley Bell, conqueror of Jean Borotra yesterday, but Mangin was fully as impressive against Wood today.

Bell and Mangin teamed to enter the finals of doubles by defeating William Aydelotte of Schenectady and Perrine Rockafellow of New York, 10-12, 6-3, 8-6, 6-3.

NELSON BOYS IN HIGH JINKS AT MINES SCHOOL

Bobby Burns Is Pledged to Fraternity; Chuck Berry on Concert Stage

Two Nelson boys at the Colorado school of mines at Golden, Colo., Bobby Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Burns, and Chuck Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Sheeler, are active in school affairs, according to a copy of the Oredigger, the school of mines weekly, that has been received here. Burns has been pledged by the Theta Tau fraternity, the honorary engineering fraternity, and Berry was second tenor in the school of mines vocal quartet that was the headliner at a recent college night at the New Orpheum theater in Denver.

The Theta Tau pledging was thus described by the school paper:

"Twelve men on the Mines campus were pledged to Theta Tau in the ancient and honorable manner Wednesday night. Usually the ceremonies attending the pledging of the various victims made the evening complete, but not this year.

"Following the appearance of the 'ghost' at the various fraternity houses, mysterious happenings occurred on the main drag of this fair city. Twenty-four cars of various shapes, styles and conditions, from John Golden's oldest antique to Wittig's blue hearse, were spirited from their usual resting places, and were found grouped fraternally in front of Foss' store early the next morning, according to City Marshal Gary Kerr. He should know, since his truck was one of them.

"Professor C. O. G. Wittig's car was the black sheep of the outfit, and wandered to a snowy resting place on the south side of North Table mountain. Sheriff Biggins was notified, and spent several frantic hours trying to corner the Theta Taus in their lair.

"Rumors are that the Theta Taus indignantly repudiated all knowledge of the affair, and placed the blame on the Sig. Gams. It was also alleged by the Theta Taus that their professional rivals have waited for some time for an opportunity to 'get even' for the wholesale kidnapping of their pledges which marred their first semester initiation ceremonies."

No man is afraid of the other man's boss.
