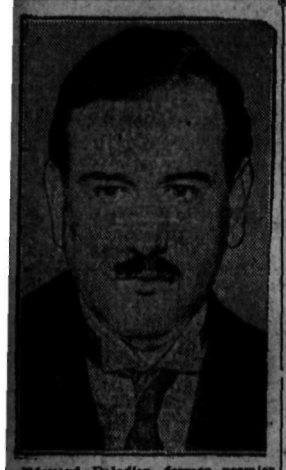
French Military Heads Flat Against Germany Re-Arming



Edouard Daladier, former premier of France, who attended the meeting of French military heads.

Decide to Refill the French Army and Recall Troops

PARIS, Dec. 18 (AP).—French military leaders decided today to oppose flatly any rearmament in Germany and develop plans for keeping French army ranks filled during the years beginning in 1936, when the low birthrate in the war years will make itself felt.

As members of the superior war council, the chieftains met in a secret session, studied Chancellor Hitler's demands for arms equality, and prepared to pass their adverse recommendations on to the government.

General Maxime Weygand, chief of the general staff of the French army, and former Premier Edouard Daladier, now minister of war, attended the session.

After ministers of war, navy and air have discussed the military findings, the government plans to send the reply to Berlin.

Another ministerial decision will involve the wisdom of further Franco-German talks on disarmament, when the steering committee meets in mid-January. The council decided 15,000 specialists will be enlisted and troops who engaged in the pacification of Morocco will be returned to France.

Normally at least 200,000 youths past their 21st birthday are available for army service, but beginning in 1936 war ministry officials fear the minimum may fall as low as 100,000.

An important point in the direct, ambassadorial talks so far held concerns the French attitude that if Germany is allowed the army of about 300,000 men she wishes, that number should include Nazi storm troopers, regarded here as a military force although in Germany they are considered merely party members.

Price Rises and So Does Commodity Price in U.S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP).—In the face of a renewed attack upon the Roosevelt monetary program, Acting Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau today said government gold buying had induced a 3½ per cent rise in commodity prices and added:

"I'm satisfied."

His statement followed the first increase in the Reconstruction corporation's quotation for newly mined domestic gold since December 1. After a consultation between Morgenthau and Chairman Jones of the R.F.C., the figure was advanced from $34.01 to $34.06.

Meanwhile, Jones announced purchases of domestic gold had totalled 469,491 ounces at a cost of $15,-662,000. As usual, both he and Morgenthau declined to disclose the amount of purchases abroad, although it was known these, previously negligible, had been greatly increased in the last fortnight, possibly to the extent of $35,000,000.

Paraguay Proposes Armistice, Bolivia Accepts

MONTEVIDEO, Dec. 18 (AP).—Bolivia accepted a proposal for a truce in the Gran Chaco border warfare with Paraguay, it was authoritatively learned tonight.

Paraguay proposed the armistice at the Pan-American conference in order to allow for an arbitration of claims of the two nations, which have been in dispute over the Chaco Boreal for 50 years.

Previously President Salamanca of Bolivia had advised President Gabriel Terra of Uruguay, conference chairman, that Bolivia was "disposed to listen" to peace proposals, and a definite announcement of the truce was considered imminent.

WYATT IS BACK IN THE FIELD

Is the Fifth to Get Into Trail's Race for Aldermen

TRAIL, B.C., Dec. 18.—"I have made up my mind to retire," said Mayor Bruce Lerose, when the council members discussed the coming civic election in January at a meeting of the council Monday night. "It is not fair to the public to leave it to the last day," continued the mayor.

"It is pretty well understood all over town that you were running again," said Alderman Anderson. "I am rather disappointed."

"I will be one year off the council and then run again for alderman the following year," stated Mayor Lerose, "and I will give my support to the three members of this council who are running again. (Alderman J. Thompson, J. H. Woodburn and J. R. Anderson).

This information came to light after the council meeting following the presenting and acceptance of the resignation of Alderman E. L. Groutage, chairman of the finance committee. Mr. Groutage had another year to complete.

GROUTAGE IN MAYORALTY FIELD

In handing in his resignation Mr. Groutage stated his intention of running for mayor in the January elections.

In a private interview with the reporter of the Nelson Daily News, following the meeting, Mr Groutage stated he decided to run for mayor only after Mayor Lerose inferred he would not be a candidate for the mayoralty office.

S. J. Wyatt, former alderman, has announced his candidature for alderman. He is the fifth to enter. There will now be five seats to fill. John "Joe" Young and the three aldermen complete the list.

So far Mr. Groutage is the only one in the field for the mayoralty office although there have been suggestions and rumors of others entering.

RAIN CLOSES MANY ROADS

C. P. R. Train Is Held by Slide at Blake

Turning soft after a week of heavy snow, rain fell all day Monday to further cripple transportation in the district. The Canadian Pacific Railway company's morning train from the east was held up by a 300-foot slide east of Blake and the Kettle Valley also arrived slightly late. The Great Northern passengers ran on schedule.

Auto traffic became even more difficult as the snow became softened by rain and the Slocan was practically closed. The buses will not make their scheduled run in that area today. The Salmo road was still choked, soft conditions also made travel hard between Trail and Nelson. Government road plows, which have been kept in operation almost 24 hours a day, were again busy Monday in all areas.

At Nelson where the temperatures varied between 28 and 37 degrees, one inch of snow and .19 inch of rain fell. Walking conditions were exceedingly unpleasant. Both of the city sidewalk plows were kept in action all day. The street plow plowed out the cemetery road.

The north shore line was again out Monday morning when a tree fell across the line. Lights went out at 11 p.m. Sunday night and the power was turned on again at noon Monday.

Can't "Last Long" Is Statement of His Doctor

BOSTON, Dec. 19 (Tuesday)—(CP).—"Ace" Bailey took a turn for the worse at one a.m., this morning and Dr. Joseph Hahn was summoned to his bedside.

Dr. Hahn worked over Bailey for several minutes and performed an operation to relieve pressure on the hockey player's brain.

Coming from Bailey's room at Boston City hospital, Dr. Hahn said:

"Bailey's blood pressure soared suddenly. He suffered an attack of cheynes strokes and dyspnea which lasted a couple of minutes. A puncture was performed."

Dr. Hahn did not believe the hockey player could "last very long."

Only a few hours previously an encouraging report had come from Dr. Hahn, one of the specialists who has been attending the slim Toronto Maple Leaf wingman since he suffered a skull fracture in last Tuesday's game against Boston Bruins.

Dr. Hahn then had given new heart to the hockey world by stating Bailey's condition was somewhat better than late in the afternoon when the "Ace" was reported as steadily growing worse.

ABERDEEN AND HOQUIAM BEAR GREAT LOSSES

Tidal Wave Blown by Gale Does $100,000 in Damage

THREE FREIGHTERS CALL FOR HELP

Heavy Rain Adds to Confusion South of B. C.

SEATTLE, Dec. 18 (AP).—North Pacific coast cities and shipping, harrowed over the week-end by a terrific gale, were beaten by a steady rain in the wake of the storm today while water deepened in 3000 flooded homes.

The freighters Losmar, Henry D. Whiton and Charles L. Wheeler Jr., hard hit by the storm, called for assistance of the coast guard. Scores of small craft were tossed onto beaches or swirled away by the tides.

No loss of life was reported but more than nine persons were injured. Water flodded over highways, flooded sewers, cut power lines and caused earth slides.

The Losmar, with steering gear carried away and the crew struggling to rig hand gear, wirelessed her trouble from off Yaquina Head, Ore. The coast guard cutter Chelan went to aid her. The Charles L. Wheeler Jr. stayed hard aground in Desdemona sands, inside the mouth of the Columbia river, though the powerful cutter Redwing had tugged for hours to free her.

The Henry D. Whiton finally limped into the Columbia, seemingly out of danger.

Aberdeen and Hoquiam, on Grays Harbor, Wash., suffered losses to business houses alone between $40,-000 and $100,000 when a 15.8-foot tide, driven by the gale, swept through their streets.

The Losmar, a freighter of the Calmar line, lost her deckload of lumber when her steering gear carried away as she plied southward from the Columbia river. Her master, appealing for aid, said the ship was far enough offshore not to be in immediate danger.

The Losmar had loaded lumber and general cargo at northwest ports for New York and Baltimore. She carried a crew of 37.

Pair Convicted for Theft of Ring— One Has Healthy Criminal Record

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Dec. 18 (CP)—Walter Hull, 28, was sentenced today to one year in prison and W. C. Sponsaugle, 40, to six months when they were convicted in police court of the theft of a $50 diamond ring from a New Westminster jewelry store December 11. A ring was located by x-ray in Hull's stomach after the robbery but, when recovered, proved to be an imitation.

"While the evidence is circumstantial, there is no doubt in my mind that you are guilty," said Magistrate H. L. Edmunds. "You, Hull, passed the ring to Sponsaugle and he disposed of it in some manner."

The fluoroscope that revealed the ring in Hull's stomach also showed a bullet in his spine. Hull said in police court that he had been shot by a policeman. He declared he had swallowed the imitation ring while drinking beer a week ago.

Hull has a long police record, it was indicated today. He was sentenced to four years in Manitoba penitentiary for theft in June, 1927, and also to one year for forgery and larceny in Seattle in January, 1932. Sponsaugle had no previous police record.

Dominion Export Figures to Empire and Foreign Countries on Increase

OTTAWA, Dec. 18 (CP)—The total Canadian domestic export to British Empire countries last month was $33,693,346. This was an increase of 48.7 per cent over November, 1932, when the total was $22,644,207. The export to the United Kingdom alone reached $28,874,828 last month compared with $19,232,-731 for November of last year. This was an increase of 50 per cent.

"This was a clear demonstration of the value of the Empire trade agreements," said Hon. Dr. J. M. Manion, acting minister of trade and commerce today in issuing the statement.

"At the same time there was also an increase in the exports to foreign countries, the total was $26,691,244 compared with $23,300,-213, an increase of $3,391,031, or 14 per cent. This also shows that these agreements have not militated against our trade with foreign countries but have rather stimulated it," Dr. Manion declared.

WAVE CAUSES BROKEN BONES

VICTORIA, Dec. 18 (CP)—Chief Officer John Gair and two Chinese painters of the British freighter Ben Avon are in hospital here today with injuries received when a huge wave from a cross sea swept across the ship's stern yesterday morning and pinned them to the deck under scattered cargo and equipment. Their injuries are painful but are not believed serious.

Driving forward the length of the ship, the wave toppled a crate of potatoes and a gear box onto the three men. Gair suffered a fractured arm just above the wrist; one Chinaman had several ribs broken and the other received a fractured hip.

The accident occurred soon after leaving Port Alberni, off Destruction Island.

Captain Fairweather put back to Victoria for medical assistance and the men were ordered to hospital immediately. It was expected the ship would put to sea later today with her mixed cargo bound for the United Kingdom.

The accident marked the second misfortune suffered by the crew during the Ben Avon's visit to British Columbia. Another Chinese painter was taken off the ship at Port Alberni suffering from spinal meningitis. His condition is reported critical.

Marshall, which burned off the Nova Scotia coast Friday night and drove 26 men to the boisterous Atlantic in dories—three of them to death.

"Crew of 23 men of American fishing schooner Ellen T. Marshall landed Yarmouth after ship burned," states the message, signed by the captain.

"Consul refuses necessary clothing men actually need. We ask your assistance in directing that consul supply clothing needed. Men had only what they stand in and this is hard and dry from over 48 hours soaking in sea water. Help needed at once.

"Three of crew dead on Seal island."

American Consul McKinney refused to discuss the situation with newspapermen.

"I expect the matter will go to Washington," he said in reply to questions, but in the meantime I have nothing to say."

TRAIL BEATEN BY KIMBERLEY IN FAST GAME

Score Is 2-1 With Kimberley Goal Tender Star

KIMBERLEY TAKES JUMP AT OPENING

Game Rough in Spots With Five Men in Box at Once

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Dec. 18—Kimberley Dynamiters came back in fighting mood tonight to beat the Trail Smokeaters 2-1 in a hectic game, the second of the West Kootenay Hockey league series, and after a 7-3 defeat by the British Columbia champions Saturday night. The Dynamiters played like demons all the way through and Trail never got a chance to settle down and play like they did in the opening match. The ice was slow and sticky and many well-meant passes went astray.

Hutton showed better form in the Kimberley goal and in a rearranged defence, Max Bell staged a brilliant game with McGillivray, who later gave way to Brown after being injured. It was hard to single out any player as being in the limelight, for every man played a spectacular game. Puffy Kemp again showed splendid form while Ken Moore gave a better performance.

Dupuis, in goal for Trail, Jordan and Mercer proved a stonewall defence. The Smokeater forward line was not as effective, Wheatley and Brennan in particular seeming unable to make headway, and the

Affleck Speaks on Auto History

Gyros Hear of Gas Buggy; Mr. Hunt Sings

The history of the horseless carriage in Nelson, given by City Engineer Boyd C. Affleck, program chairman, and two songs by Harold Hunt, constituted Monday night's Gyro entertainment, following a luncheon in the Hume silver ball room.

Harry eFrguson announced that the Gyros had won 175 toys and 20 pounds of candy in a recent cigarette contest. As the distribution of hampers is being done by the stores this year, Toc H members have volunteered to look after the delivering of toys and the Gyro members voted to turn the prizes over to that body. Both Boyd C. Affleck and R. D. Barnes spoke on behalf of the Toc H.

Communications included a letter from J. P. Pitner, who handed in his resignation to the club and asked for a letter of transfer to the New Westminster club. The Trail Glee club, through S. G. Blaylock, vice-president and general manager of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company, wrote thanking for the reception given the members while in Nelson two weeks ago. An invitation from the Spokane club to attend its annual meeting on January 4, was read.

Mr. Affleck gave a review of the progress of auto travel in the immediate vicinity of Nelson from the time C. Donaldson first imported a gas buggy in 1910, until 1919. Archie Bremner brought the first car to the city and thrilled the citizens and stampeded the horses by chugging down Baker street.

Paul Nipou was the first Nelson resident to own an auto and combined business with pleasure by purchasing a tourist and delivery body of the removable type. Hugh W. Robertson was one of the pioneer motorists, being the proud possessor of a four-cylinder 30-horse power machine.

H. D. Birkbeck of Trail made one of the first trips to Nelson, utilizing the C.P.R. bridges at Castlegar and Taghum to cross the rivers and in doing so brought down the mild wrath of those overseers of the rail division.

The city's fire truck was one of the early machines of the district. The first automobile club was formed in 1916 and the car owners elected C. R. Hamilton, K.C., to the chair.

Humerous incidents in connection with the arrival of the autos in the city were recounted by several members. Mr. Affleck stated that George Ferguson, who had been a horse fancier, would have nothing to do with the new fangled contrivances and would not allow them in his storage shed. R. D. Barnes described an accident Mr. Ferguson was in. "George" received several nasty bruises but could not be persuaded to go into the hospital. Two other occupants, with lesser injuries were laid up for several days. Several other incidents were described.

Mr. Hunt, accompanied by Mrs. Hunt, sang "Anchored," and "The Lamp Lit Hour."

"POISONING" KILLED CHILD

So Declares Windsor Mayor in Children's Home Inquiry

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 18 (CP)—Mayor David A. Croll of Windsor today told the investigation into affairs of the Windsor Children's Shelter how he came to take an active part in inquiring into conditions and how this had led to the present inquiry being conducted by M. A. Sorsoleil, deputy minister of public welfare, as commissioner.

In July, he said, when Marie Godsell Pearl, 4, died after a brief illness, he had secured a copy of the physician's report which showed "poisoning" as the cause of death. Cause of the poisoning had not been definitely ascertained, but was believed to have been "something she had eaten in the back yard, although the character of it had not been decided."

In October, a woman whom the mayor did not know by name had told him Miss Haley of the Young Women's Christian association had some information about the Shelter he should have. He communicated with her and was told the stories which former attendants of the institute had revealed.

It was reported that almost 40 trucks and cars were stuck in that location.

For the twenty four hours ending 9 p.m. Monday, .70 inch of rain fell in Trail and the maximum and minimum temperatures were 39 and 31 respectively.

MUSIC CONCERT BOOSTS FUNDS

Local Artists Give Program to Large Nelson Audience

A concert of distinct delight to music lovers was given by local artists in the Capitol theater Sunday afternoon in aid of the Christmas cheer fun, and at which $46 were raised. The concert was sponsored by the Nelson Gyrettes and Trinity Service club.

Miss I. Fleury, who was in the chair for the afternoon, thanked the audience for the fine support, and also the artists for the excellent program.

Few programs given in Nelson have possessed the merit of entertainment of the Sunday concert, and the audience was loud in its approval of each number. The solos, duets, trios and quartettes, were renditions of unusual quality and sweetness.

Master Stuart McIntosh of Cranbrook, making his first appearance in Nelson, was well appreciated.

UNSTINTED APPLAUSE

Mrs. Gladys Webb Foster proved a favorite again with her violin numbers and Miss Frances Wheeler was given unstinted applause for her interpretation of Beethoven's "The Allegretto and Presto Agitato."

Both reading numbers of Mrs. Gordon Allen proved happily chosen and were very entertaining.

The Trinity Treble choir opened the concert with two Christmas carols. They handled their numbers with ease and showed thorough training.

In the vocal numbers Miss Dorothea Graham's rendition of "Down the Vale"; Mrs. J. T. Andrews, Mrs. S. Couch and Mrs. W. C. Mawhinney rendition of "The Dairy Maids"; and the solo number of Mrs. John Gansner, "A Birthday," were popular with the audience, as were the duet of Mrs. C. W. Tyler and Arthur Stringer, "Trees," and the "Christmas Song" given by Miss Charlotte Annable.

Arthur Stringer's interpretation in his vocal solos was splendid. The mixed quartette numbers sung by Mrs. C. W. Tyler, Mrs. W. C. Mawhinney, A. A. Pagdin and F. Webber, and which completed the vocal numbers, pleased the audience, especially the first one, "Kashmiri Song."

The program was as follows:

Choral, Trinity Treble choir — "Carol, Sweetly Carol," and "Shepherds Rejoice."

Vocal solo, Miss Dorothea Graham—"Down the Vale," by Frank Moir and "A Song of Sleep," by Lord Henry Somerset.

Vocal trio, Mesdames Andrews, Couch, Mawhinney—"Elegy," by Massenet, and "The Dairy Maids," by Frank la Forge.

Pianoforte solo, Miss Frances Wheeler—Second and third movements, "The Alleggretto and Presto Agitato," from Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata.

Vocal solo, Master Stuart McIntosh—"Let Bucks a Hunting Go, an English folk song, and "Infant Holy," a Christmas carol.

Vocal solo, Mrs. John Gansner—"A Birthday," by Woodman and "Killarney," by Balfe.

Reading, Mrs. Gordon Allan—"I Just Pretend," and "Making Others Thankful."

Vocal duet, Mrs. C. W. Tyler and Arthur Srtinger — "Passage Birds Farewell," by Eugene Hildach, and "Trees," by Oscar Rasbach.

Violin solo, Mrs. Gladys Webb Foster—"Bolero," by Danela, and "LeCanore," by F. Poliakin.

Vocal solo, Miss Charlotte Annable—"Christmas Song," by Adam, with piano and marimba accompaniment.

Vocal solo, Arthur Stringer—"On the Road to Mandalay," by Oley Speaks," and "A Good Heart All the Way," by R. C. Clarke.

Mixed quartette, Mrs. C. W. Tyler, Mrs. W. C. Mawhinney, A. A. Pagdin, F. Webber—"Kashmiri Song," by Amy Woodforde Finden, and "An Old Fashioned Town," by Squires.

Accompanists were Mrs. Gladys Webb Foster, Mrs. C. W. Tyler and Miss G. Lowery.

Eating on Credit Receives Setback

LONDON (CP)—Condemning the system of licenced restaurants giving credit to customers Sir Alfred Tobin, Westminster county court judge, in a case in which a man was being sued for a debt of $70 for food and "refreshments," Sir Alfred said:

"I don't like this credit by licenced places at all. I dare not show my face at a restaurant if I could not pay my bill. I am not going to make a committal. I think it is important to restrain this credit. University undergraduates may come up to town and get into debt and the practice may grow. I propose not to commit in cases of licenced establishments giving credit."

The debt and costs were ordered to be paid at $15 a month.

JUNIOR ARTISTS GIVE CONCERT

Original Program Is Heard at St. Paul's School Rooms

The St. Paul's junior players staged a Christmas concert in the St. Paul's Sunday school rooms Friday night to a fairly large audience who found the program most entertaining. Most of the program was original, and especially in the case of the smaller children, was carried out with catching spontaneity. The stage was beautifully decorated with Christmas colors.

One of the prettiest numbers was the "Sunburst" by Miss M. Macfarlane's class. The 12 girls wore different colored costumes and carried colored streamers. Different colorded lights were thrown on the girls as they sang.

In the beautiful Christmas pageant Winnie Jardine takes the part of Mary, the Mother of Jesus; George Beattie is Joseph, George Russel, Foster Mills and Jack Wright are the three shepherds; Lillian Bennett is the angel; Gordon Bowell, Donald Wilson and Donald Beattie are the Three Wise Men, and Jack Morris is Tiny Tim. During the pageant the senior boys' choir sings off stage, and carollers sing "Silent Night" and "Bethlehem Lullaby." Bobby Morris also recites a Christmas poem. The pageant depicts in song, Christmas as it came down through the ages, from the biblical picture to the English setting and ends with the famous line of Tiny Tim from Dicken's "Christmas Carol," "God bless us every one!" Mrs. Ferguson directed the pageant, assisted by Mrs. Bowell and Mrs. Argyle.

Various parts of a circus, put on by the senior boys, went off without a hitch after the giraffe had gargled his throat and they had put the cork in the bottle fly. Pyramids, Siamese twins, tight rope walking, the strongman, the midget, the Hindu doctor, for "men only," high school cadets, and a dance by the circus queen, were shown. Bobby Morris was the chief announcer, and had a vocabulary that taxed his vocal chords to the utmost and several times threatened the use of his tongue. The circus was in charge of Rev. T. J. S. Ferguson, J. Boyce, and R. B. Morris.

The girls' choir under the direction of Miss Eileen Mackenzie sang two very sweet numbers, "Bethlehem" and "Lullaby."

Miss Grace Laughton's class dressed as sailor boys sang a sailor song.

The tiny tots were very entertaining. They gave a demonstration based on some of the work done in the nursery class on Sunday morning. Among the things given were finger plays, story plays and action songs. Mrs. Cameron dressed as the spirit of Christmas promises the children that Santa will come. She tells the old story of Christmas and the chimes and as the number finishes the chimes play off stage. Miss McIntosh, Mrs. Cameron and Mrs. Ferguson directed the play.

Miss Lorraine Ferguson and Miss Jean Ramsay gave a very pleasing piano duet. The string orchestra consisting of nine scholars, played several Christmas carols in opening the pragram.

Charles Morris was chairman for the evening.

Add 1 teaspoon of vanilla, a pinch of salt, 1 cup of chopped English walnuts. Put in a buttered pan and place in ice-box over night. This is very creamy and tastes much like the regular cooked chocolate fudge.

Trail FROM Day to Day by A. R. J.

Following the election and initiation of officers of the Trail Elks the other night, members of the order were guests at a "venison feed". Probably branches of the same order further north enjoyed a real feed of elk on such occasions.

Jimmie Davies told a nice joke the other night about an Englishman who came out to Canada and arriving in Winnipeg remained there for a few days before proceeding with his journey. Accosting a policeman the Englishman asked the time of day.

• • •

"18:45 C.P.R. time," was the reply.

The Englishman looked rather surprised and replied: "The boat I came across on was owned by the C.P.R., the train I arrived here on belongs to the C.P.R., the hotel I am staying at belongs to the C.P.R., and now they are trying to claim the time."

• • •

A. P. Levesque passed the remark that his son Peter, now attending college in Montreal, asked his dad to pass on the news that he read this column. He added in his letter that he read it even if no one did in Trail.

Ain't dat sumpin'.

It appears as though no one is going to be deprived of the joys of Christmas this year. Candles, oranges, apples and other Christmas delicacies were being taken into the community chest headquarters the other day. The old saying: "He who expecteth nothing receiveth a whole lot" will very likely prove its truthfulness on that day.

And for the sick the C.M.&S. Glee party is making a visit to the Trail-Tadanac hospital Sunday before Christmas to sing yuletide songs for those who will be handicapped in joining in the Christmas merriment.

Retreading Plants Object to Taxes

VICTORIA, Dec. 18 (CP)—If a recent ruling of the excise branch of the department of national revenue remained in effect it would diestroy the automobile re-treading industry of British Columbia, according to spokesmen for 13 plants who state they will attack the ruling, court.

According to H S. Thain, spokesman, the ruling was made under legislation brought down last May which imposes an excise tax of two cents on automobile tires in addition to the six per cent sales tax. The ruling applies these taxes to retreaded tires and would, he said, be equivalent to taxting the same tire twice. The industry claims it is in the same position as boot repair shops which rebuild worn shoes, and should likewise be free from manufacturing taxes.

Thain said the industry in Victoria and Vancouver employs 150 men and involves an investment of $150,080. He added it was particularly a coast industry owing to year-round road conditions which permitted use of retread tires. The only other plant of its kind in Canada that he knew of was in Toronto.

250 IN FIRST AID CLASSES

Men's Class in Nelson Largest Yet Says Fred Blakeman

Nearly 250 people will be taking first aid classes in Cranbrook, East Robson and Cranbrook, declared Frederick Blakeman, recently appointed first aid instructor for C.P.R. western lines, and who will be taking classes for the next six weeks.

Thirty-six attended the first class in Cranbrook on Monday and it was a very good class, stated Mr. Blakeman considering that the work crews were all busy and so not able to attend. He expects there will be a class of 75 there.

At East Robson 14 were at the first meeting and this number should be increased to 20.

The men's class in Nelson was the biggest one he had ever had here, declared Mr. Blakeman. Fifty-one were there on Tuesday and there will be more later. In the other classes there were 30 Girl Guides, 27 ladies, and there will be about 25 Scouts.

Lectures during the first week consisted of general talks on first aid, the meaning, importance and place of first aid. Following this will be lectures on the skeleton, fractures and treatment, and practical bandaging.

NO INTERFERENCE WITH COURTS

An incident reported from London the other day is refreshing. The home secretary, on behalf of the police, sent a request to a court that a certain document be kept secret in the public interests. Mr. Justice McNaughten promptly read it aloud and made this comment:

> It must not be presumed that the crown has any right to intervene in a private suit or that the court is in any respect a servant of the crown. Judges, since the Act of Settlement, have been absolutely independent of the crown. Their duty is to administer justice between subject and subject, and between the crown and subject.

The independence of the courts was won after so hard a struggle that all attempts to override it must be resisted. Suggestions heard from time to time that in reaching their decisions they have regard to considerations of public policy are full of danger. Their function, as the Edmonton Journal points out, is to administer the law as it stands, any changes in which it is for the legislative body to make, and this demands that they be left wholly free in carrying it out. That does not mean, of course, that a judge may do exactly what he likes and continue to occupy his position. There is an established procedure by which he may be removed from his post for adequate reasons. But so long as he is on the bench, he must be left alone by the political branch of the government. The English jurist's rebuke of the home secretary was therefore not unduly emphatic.

SCANDINAVIANS GOOD SETTLERS

Frank Isackson, of Saskatchewan, who won the world's wheat honors at the Chicago International Grain Show, is a Swedish immigrant to this country. All of which calls attention to the fact that Canada has no finer settlers than peoples from the Scandinavian countries. When the time returns that we are looking for immigrants serious effort should be made to encourage settlers from Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Iceland and Finland, although the latter are racially different.

Peoples from these countries, outside of Finland, are allied to British stock. They are accustomed to laws similar to our own and understand representative and responsible government. Among the early settlers in Manitoba, coming in the seventies of the last century, were a large number of Icelanders. Today the descendents of these pioneers are fully assimilated Canadians, taking a lead in the educational, political, professional and business life of the province.

They are advanced and progressive countries in many ways ahead of the Dominion. Denmark leads the world in cooperative agricultural marketing. From a standpoint of national health, Sweden is a model to most countries.

From a climatic standpoint the northern countries are very similar to Canada. Peoples from Sweden, Norway, Iceland and Finland should make ideal settlers for Canada. The Canadian governments, if they are making plans for the future good times for immigration, should seriously study the possibilities of securing an influx of settlers from these countries.

"What's the idea," he asked, "of putting a hammock in a place where the flies are so thick?"

PREMIERE

By ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

CHAPTER NINETEEN

Leni relaxed in his arms, her eyes closed.

She had absolutely no idea what life was doing with her. At last she had come to the point when she had ceased to care. Against the breat of Lucky Cavanaugh, encompassed by his muscular arms, she would find solace, or find it nowhere. Everything else—even the brief soaring jealousy—had passed out of the life of this storm-tossed woman.

"Which one is your bedroom?"

A silken sleeve slipped back from her rounded arm as she flung it out in wordless direction.

Whatever happened to her from now on could not possibly be worse than what had happened in the past. The taste of glory had gone bitter in her mouth. There was nothing to do but lie limp in Cavanaugh's arms as he carried her on.

A vagrant thought stirred in her mind. How little the public knew of the real story of Leni Luneska!

She simply was no longer interested in either the public or her own career. All of that was passed and scarcely worth thinking about, but suddenly, deep within her, came a tiny soft pang of nostalgia—not sorrow, nor struggle, merely a little soft ache of regret.

Cavanaugh was standing beside the bed, still holding her in his arms. Her cheek was against the silk facing of his dinner jacket. From his body came a clean smell of cigarettes and splendid clothing. His arms tightened around her for a moment and she could feel with her body the steady throbbing of his heart.

"You poor little kid!" he whispered.

She was conscious of something strangely beautiful surrounding her and this man—or was it only an illusion of the senses? Yet it was something curiously familiar— a quality of feeling never before felt, yet vaguely remembered as a half-forgotten dream.

Very gently Cavanaugh lowered her to the bed. Her head with its thick fragrant hair rested upon a small cushion of silk no larger than a baby's pillow.

Her breast rose and fell—utter peace, devoid of any excitement, rippled softly throughout her being. It did not matter much whether or not it would prove eternal. Here and now was a moment of delicious calmness that transcended any possible passion. A moment so exquisitely and completely perfect that it was worth everything in life she had suffered to reach.

Cavanaugh sat down on the side of the bed and picked up her hand.

That was all. . .

Leni snuggled her head more comfortably and gave her body a tiny stretch. She was pleasantly tired, but the gripping weariness of inner and outer storms had miraculously seeped out of the slender and perfect body. Life had become almost a dream and she wondered, hazily, whether Cavanaugh was dreaming it too.

Her eyes opened slowly. She looked up at him. Perhaps in the poor light it was an illusion but it seemed that his features had softened—that he had taken on a tenderness of expression that had erased all that was tense and sophisticated.

For the moment he seemed scarcely to be a creature of flesh and blood but rather an entity composed of something rarer than mere human clay. Such impressions depend, of course, upon the state of human mind and it may be that Leni perceived some unaccountable spiritual essence that constituted the man. Perhaps her vision was no more than an outpicturing of her own inner self transferred to another.

"Please—always be like this," she whispered.

The man gazed at her adoreably. Her hand in his palm was like a bird in a warm nest.

"I'm so tired, Lucky," she said. "I don't know what anything's all about any more . . . and I don't care. . ."

He did not answer and she watched him silently for a moment.

"What's the matter, dear?" she asked.

When he spoke it was as though a barbaric hand had brushed aside a gossamer veil.

"You win!" he said abruptly. "When I brought you upstairs I meant to put you on your bed and leave here right away. I didn't want to get under any woman's spell. You're a movie star and that means you're a hundred to one shot to top any man that gets mixed up with you. I've always been the ace in my own particular pack, and I thought I had everything figured out. My idea was to see you through this jam and then forget about you—for my own self-protection. It was a swell idea but it didn't work."

Something in Leni's breast began to go dead. His words had smashed through the glistening fabric of her dream and brought her back to the harsh realities she had sought to escape.

"And now what?" she asked with a beginning of sadness.

He leaned forward until his face became a dark cloud hanging over her.

"I want you too much to leave you!" he said with almost a song in his voice. "I've never seen anybody so beautiful."

The strange thing about it was that Cavanaugh's words fell upon her like sleet, chilling and freezing the heavenly feeling of her contentment.

This man who knew so much about women knew nothing. She had yearned for something more tender, more chivalrous.

Cavanaugh did not understand. He was trying to give her—and take from her—that which was deeply hidden in the gloomy caverns of her memory. —Men! Men—With all their imagination rooted in animalistic brutal passion—He did not understand that her battered soul had found its only sanctuary in the immense fatigue of her career—

"I wanted it to be—different—" said Leni in a whisper his ears strained to hear.

His face hovered motionless, baffled. "How do you mean—different?"

Leni lifted her free hand and ran her fingers through his dark abundant hair. He was all man—all man—

"Darling—" she whispered.

Cavanaugh's face descended until his mouth rested upon Leni's. Her lips lay motionless without any responding warmth under his kiss.

"What's the matter?" he asked.

"I don't know—"

Leni was surprised at this coldness of her heart. What had become of his power to thrill her? Where was the warmth that ought to be there?

"I only know," she said slowly, "that it's different now. Maybe it was that woman on the telephone. Maybe something you said. I'm afraid, perhaps—"

"Afraid of what?"

"Afraid you'll think I'm too cheap, maybe. I don't know about other women—only myself. There was something beautiful in it, but beauty is so fragile. There have been so many unbeautiful things in my life—I want no more of them. Perhaps it is something no man can understand."

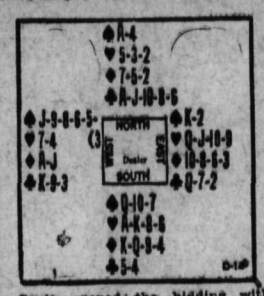
Auction and Contract Bridge

By the World's Leading Authority, MILTON C. WORK

THE HOLD-UP

When playing a No Trump contract, the strategy of the hold-up is frequently employed with the Ace of the suit that is being developed, occasionally with a King, and on rare occasions with a Queen. The purpose of the play is to stop communication between the two adverse hands.

The last Philadelphia Pair Championship produced a striking hand of this type, and one which influenced materially the rating of the competing pairs. It follows



South opened the bidding with one Diamond, West overcalled with one Spade, North bid two Clubs, East passed, South bid two Hearts, West passed, North called three Clubs, East passed, and South, in view of the strength indicated by his partner's free bid and rebid, risked three No Trumps with his questionable Spade protection.

West led the Six of Spades, North played the Four; East won with the King and immediately returned the Deuce which North was compelled to win with the Ace. As Declarer wished to establish a Diamond trick and lead Clubs from the South hand, a small Diamond was led, South played his King which was captured by West's Ace. West then led a Spade which Declarer won with the Queen and led a small Club, finessing the Ten.

In most instances, East took the trick with the Queen and returned either a Diamond or a Heart. The choice was immaterial, South captured the trick in either event, and then successfully finessed the Jack of Clubs, after which North cashed three Clubs. East forced to make a second and third discard, was unable to protect both the Hearts and Diamonds and, as a result, Declarer made his contract and one extra trick, losing only one Spade, one Diamond and one Club.

At one table, however, East, on the first round of the Club suit, considered more carefully. The Declarer had already shown three Spades, had bid Hearts and Diamonds; therefore, it was unlikely that he held more than two Clubs. This player, therefore, elected to chance the loss of his Club Queen against the possibility of defeating the contract and consequently played low. As a result, the Declarer defeated, being unable without dummy's long Clubs to take more than eight tricks.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

MIGRAINE—ONE SIDED HEADACHE

A couple of years ago I ventured the opinion that when the cause of migraine—one-sided headache—was discovered, the liver would be one of the organs on which the blame would be placed.

Despite the fact that research physicians everywhere are studying migraine and have been doing so for years, the real cause has not yet been discovered.

The reason I had the liver in mind was because in most cases there was the feeling of nausea and loss of appetite that so often accompany a sluggish liver and gall bladder.

However research men of the opinion that the brain, the mentality of the individual really enters into the causation of migraine.

As you know hearing bad news, shock of any kind, intense mental work, although it is really affecting or working the mind, so interfers with the regular work of the brain that various processes of the body—digestion, absorption of food, the flowing out of digestive and other juices—all of which get their impulses to work from the brain, are affected, become slow, or may even stop for a period of time.

Thus digestion of food in the stomach which is going along in the regular manner, may stop entirely for twenty minutes or even for an hour or two when the mind is filled with disturbing thoughts.

Dr. E. Podolsky, Brooklyn, believes migraine is started by some mental or physical stimulus, which may or may not be due to some defect or ailment of one or more organs of the body. If due to some disease condition, such as an inflamed gall bladder, the diseased organ should be removed.

However migraine is really an imbalance or lack of balance in the way the mental life of the individual is lived. Not lack of mental ability in any way; but lack of the proper balancing of things in the mind; that is not putting first things, the important things of life, first.

These individuals go ahead on the one track as it were, with all their mental and physical strength, thus, in Dr. Podolsky's opinion, overstimulating and causing a spasm of the little blood vessels of the brain.

His treatment is a remedy that dilates to overcome this spasm.

The non-medical treatment for migraine would be preserving a calmness or poise that will prevent too much mental and physical work and excitement.

PATTULLO TO TAKE UP MARKET SITUATION, INSTITUTE IS TOLD

Sloan Has Doukhobor Data; No Water Action

That the matter of dealing with the agricultural situation created by uncontrolled marketing will receive careful consideration from the provincial government, and that something may result from the eastern move for a federal remedy, is practically the answer of the government to the recent resolution from the West Kootenay Central Farmers Institute asking for marketing legislation on the lines being followed in Britain.

PREMIER AND MINISTER WRITE

Premier Pattullo wrote Secretary Kenneth Wallace:

"I have your letter of the 27th ultimo with regard to marketing legislation. I very much realize the importance of the subject matter of your letter, which I will take up with the minister of agriculture."

The premier's action produced the following letter from Hon. K. C. MacDonald, minister of agriculture, to Mr. Wallace:

"Your letter of November 27 with relative clippings from The Nelson Daily News has been referred to this office by the honorable the premier. You may rest assured that careful thought will be given to the necessity for some measure of relief to producers of agricultural commodities who have suffered loss through uncontrolled marketing operations. As you are no doubt aware, a conference has been in progress in Ontario with a view to securing federal legislation which would enable the producers throughout Canada to organize for control of their marketing facilities."

In response to a huge budget of material on the matter of Doukhobor non-compliance with law, comprising copies of all correspondence on the subject in the possession of the West Kootenay central accumulated during several years agitation of the question, Hon. Gordon McG. Sloan, attorney-general, wrote briefly:

"I am in receipt of your communication of the 27th ultimo with enclosure, for which I thank you. Your suggestions will receive every consideration."

The convention's resolution asking for an amendment to the water act to make the government a trustee to see that riparian owners on developed ranches were reasonably served before outside applications were considered, and for the keeping of a register of all applicants refused on ground of conditional licences so that if a surplus was later found they could be dealt with according to priority, met with a negative answer as to the first point. The second point may be dealt with departmentally. Comptroller J. C. MacDonald, after acknowledging the resolution, wrote:

"The first matter covered by your resolution has been very carefully considered by the department, to the extent at one time of preparing an amendment to the act which would provide some measure of protection for the owners of property on which sources of water were situated. It was later decided, however, that no amendment could safely be made which would not have a greater adverse than beneficial effect. In addition to the above consideration, any such amendment would strike at a fundamental principle of the B.C. water act, namely, the complete extinguishment of riparian rights. This principle is considered by those in charge of the administration of water laws generally in Canada and the United States as the most important advance that has been made in water legislation. The incorporation of this principle is considered to place the water legislation of this province ahead of any of our neighboring states or provinces. You will understand that it is impossible to lay down any general principle that does not work an apparent hardship in some cases.

"The second matter referred to, namely, the retention on the registers of applications refused because of shortage of water in a stream, has also been under consideration by the department. In this matter also legislation definitely providing for such retention would be a serious handicap to the proper administration of the act. Departmental regulations are being prepared which will be just as effective as legislation in those cases which are deserving of consideration."

TO CONVENE ADVISORY BOARD

Respecting the resolution regarding providing for seed control in districts concentrating on seed production, J. B. Munro, superintendent of farmers institutes, wrote that it was being laid before the minister of agriculture.

Mr. Munro mentioned that the minister intended to call the advisory board together at a date to be announced, possibly during the legislative session, and that the provincial seed fair and the first annual meeting of the Field Crop union would be held at the coast at the same time.

Heathcote who has been associated with the Girl Guides in Nelson was the instigator of Mrs. Dockerill's visit and assisted Mrs. McCabe, who was hostess for tea. Pasteurization —Pro and Con

ARGUMENT No. 1—Pasteurized milk has a "cooked taste."

ANSWER—The "cooked taste" when it occurs, is due to overheating or to too rapid heating. Pasteurization by the older methods frequently caused a cooked taste, but with modern apparatus the process can be so controlled that flavor need not be affected. If milk is held at just the right temperature for the right time in proper equipment, even experts cannot distinguish pasteurized from raw milk by the taste. At a dinner attended by about one hundred dairy and milk inspectors and other milk experts in Harrisburgh, Pa., a few years ago milk was served. Those present were asked to "vote" as to whether it was pasteurized or raw. The vote was about evenly divided. The milk had been pasteurized at 145 degrees, two degrees higher than the New York State requirements. While the "cooked taste" is objectionable to some people, it is better to have the milk overheated than underheated.

COAST PRICES UNCHANGED

Christmas Trade at Victoria Brisk Says Letter

Although Christmas trade is brisk at Victoria, other points note business as slow, according to the market newsletter issued by the department of agriculture at Victoria. On the prairie the icy conditions of the roads has proved a check on business.

Victoria—The Christmas trade in produce is fairly brisk with the principal demand being for lower grade apples. Tomatoes are scarce and the price is now $2.75 for No. 1 with prospects of a further advance. Jap oranges are moving freely. Local celery is offered at from 40 to 75 cents per dozen. Cauliflower is quoted at $1.75 per crate. Imported spinach is on the market at $1.50 per 30 pound crate. Local spinach is also offered at 4½ to 5 cents per pound. The potato market is unchanged.

Vancouver—There is a plentiful supply of apples on the market with no change in prices. A growing scarcity of Japanese oranges is noted in the wholesale district and many houses have none to offer. The demand for these oranges seems to be greater than in previous years. There is a good supply of local vegetables which should continue as long as the weather keeps fairly mild. There is a possibility that cranberries will be short before Christmas. Due to the floods in Washington, a fair boost in the price of lettuce is probable. Hothouse tomatoes are scarce and are up 75 cents to $3.25 per crate. There is a drop of one cent in the large grade eggs. Production is keeping up fairly well. One carload rolled out on consignment during the forepart of the week to Winnipeg. Poultry prices are unchanged. Two cars of live poultry arrived in from Alberta during this week. British Columbia turkeys are quoted at 18 to 20 cents and geese 13 cents. Alberta turkeys are from 16 to 18 cents. There are a few slight changes in wholesale prices for hay, grain and feed. Wheat No. 1 and 2, and oats, bran, shorts, middlings and lay mash down $1 per ton below last week. The balance of list unchanged.

Calgary—. There is very little change in the fruit and vegetable markets. The first car of navel oranges arrived during the week. A slight scarcity of tomatoes has caused local hothouse growers to raise prices. The trade is now quoting $2.75 per crate. It is reported that a car of Mexican tomatoes is in transit for this market. Local jobbers are specializing in McIntosh and Snow apples, household pack, costing 45 cents shipping point, 72 cents delivered and wholesaling at 80 cents. These are of very fair quality. Weather clear and below zero temperatures.

Saskatoon—Jobbers report country business as slow and ascribe it to the icy road conditions. Jonathan apples in jumbo crates proved to be one of the best sellers. Wrapped apple sales are fairly good and prices remain steady with little spread between the different varieties. Jobbers are experiencing little difficulty in selling their quota of Jap oranges so far. The British Columbia cauliflower which arrived here last week was of very good quality and retail stores featured it in their display. Small stocks of British Columbia ungraded onions, due to their poor condition, have been forced on the market, consequently upsetting it.

Seattle—Local truck crops were damaged considerably by floods early this week. Weather today cold with slight flurry of snow. Cold snap or freeze likely to wipe out remaining supplies of vegetables in fields, much of which are now water-soaked. Lettuce market firm. California supplies moderate and demand fair at $2.50 to $2.75 per crate. First car received from Arizona today and selling at $3.50 per crate. Supply of eastern cranberries liberal and market steady at $2.60 to $2.75 per quarter barrel crate. Last deliveries due tomorrow by boat shipment. Sweet potato supplies moderate, demand good and market higher at $1.90 for 50-pound crate of No. 1.

Barry Leads in the Number of Goals Scored

LEAFS LEAD TEAMS WITH 52 COUNTERS

Red Horner Is Bad Man With 67 Minutes

MONTREAL, Dec. 18 (CP).—Tied with another player last week for leadership in scoring in the National Hockey league, Earl Roche, Ottawa Senators' young left wing, today had opened up a clear lead of two points over the field.

His three points accumulated during last week brought Roche to 13 points, made up of seven goals and six assists. Johnny Sorrell, who had been tied with Roche, remained stationery at 10 points and today had four players topping his record.

But the most spectacular advance of the week was by the crafty veteran Aurel Joliat, Canadiens' durable left winger, who scored six points and jumped from the ruck into tie for second place with 11 points.

Marty Barry, Boston's clever centre, passed Sorrell to take honors as leading in actual goals scored with nine. His two points from assists gave him the leadership in point scoring in the United States section. Tied with Barry with 11 points and second in the Canadian division, are Joliat and Charlie Conacher, Toronto Maple Leafs.

Toronto Maple Leafs have amassed the large total of 52 goals, far more than any other team, and make the Canadian division top-heavy with their names. Of the 16 leaders, eight wear the Conny Smythe uniform.

Red Horner, who is under suspension for striking Eddie Shore at Boston last week, far outpasses anyone else in penalties. The Leaf defenceman had 67 minutes against 34 for Lionel Conacher of Chicago Black Hawks. Other highly penalized men are Shore, 32; Smith, Montreal, 26; Jackson, Toronto, 25; Johnson, Rangers, 23; Leduc, Ottawa, 23; Clancy, Toronto, 22; Dutton, Americans, 21; and Bowman, Ottawa, 21.

NELSON SKI CLUB WILL BE WELCOMED

The secretary of the Nelson Ski club, is in receipt of a letter from the secretary of the W.C.A.S.A. expressing the pleasure of the association that the Nelson club is staying with the western association and further adds that upon receipt of a constitution the board will be pleased to confirm acceptance of the Nelson club into membership.

The letter reads:

"It is with a great deal of pleasure that we acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 4th inst. We are very glad, indeed, that Nelson Ski club are staying with the W.C.A.S.A. and thank you very kindly for the cooperation you are showing.

"You will realise now, that we are taking this matter of affiliation over and are endeavoring to get a better working arrangement with the east, who seem only too willing to cooperate with us on the matter.

Mr. Douglas of Montreal has written Nels Nelsen a very encouraging letter, suggesting a western branch with a central governing body called the Canadian Amateur Ski association, to consist of representatives from the various ski districts throughout Canada. He even goes so far as to suggest the president being appointed alternately from the east and west each year. We are more than confident that this affiliation question is going to be settled very satisfactorily for us all.

"You can rest assured that, immediately upon receipt of your constitution, this board will be pleased indeed to confirm acceptance of your club into membership.

"With reference to registration cards, we are omitting sending these out this year from the association, in order to cut down expenses, so that if you will just send in a list of names that your $1.50 covers, they will be registered with the registrar here and it will not be necessary to show cards at Canadian tournaments this year, but of course skiers will be required to have international permit cards for competition across the line, so if you will kindly forward us names of your competitors who will be going over there, we will make out the proper permits for them.

As the Spokane Ski club is a member of the Pacific Northwestern Ski association, who are, in turn, affiliated with the F.I.S., it will be quite O.K. for your skiers to enter their tournament."

HAGEN TOOK STOCK IN TIME

(BY AL DEMAREE)

Several years ago in Florida Babe Ruth played nine holes with John D. Rockfeller, the aged oil king. Wanting to procure a golf ball as a souvenir from the old millionaire, Ruth said he had forgot to bring any golf balls along.

"The old magnate searched his golf bag," said Ruth, "and then with a sigh turned to his caddy and said, 'Well, boy, it looks like we'll have to lend him a new ball.'"

Walter Hagen tells me a yarn about playing with another aged millionaire. He sliced his ball into the rough and found his caddy looking for it. "Never mind the ball, boy," he said. "I never waste time looking for balls. My time is worth $100 a minute."

"We'll get out early tomorrow and play several hundred thousand dollars worth of golf," was Hagen's remark to the small gallery who followed them.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Dec. 18, 1923—Battling "Siki", Senegalese fighter, gave away a dollar apiece to 600 men to buy a drink and was arrested for disorderly conduct, for masquerading as a black Santa Claus.

"SHOELESS JOE" MAY COME BACK

GREENVILLE, S.C., Dec. 18 (AP).—"Shoeless Joe" Jackson, who once slugged his way to baseball's heights only to be barred from professional baseball because of his connection with the 1919 Black Sox baseball scandal, has hopes of reinstatement.

Friends of Jackson, headed by Mayor John M. Maldin of Greenville, have appealed to Kenesaw Mountain Landis, baseball's high commissioner, and said today they expected a ruling within a few days.

Jackson has made several appearances in semi-pro ball in this section.

GREAT ARRAY OF GOLFERS GATHER IN CALIFORNIA FOR SEVEN TOURNEYS

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18 (AP).—Promise of the greatest array of golfers in the history of California's money tournaments was given today as leading professionals continued to arrive for the winter season to get under way at Pasadena Thursday.

It was an optimistic array of mashie and putter performers that crowded southern California's locker rooms and courses to get in a few practice rounds before the Pasadena $4000 event opens.

While the $20,500 in prize money for the seven tournaments is less than half of the stake in the golden era of 1930, it is more than $5000 larger than last season.

Denny Shute, British open champion, is due tomorrow. Ralph Guldahl, runner-up to Johnny Goodman, the amateur, in the United States open tournament, is en route. Gene Sarazen, P.G.A. champion, is expected in time for the Agua Caliente open and perhaps before.

Walter Hagen, the veteran showman of the links also is California bound; Craig Wood, leading money winner of the 1933 season, was on hand. Leo Diegel, former Canadian open champion, has been on the scene for several months, collecting a few titles here-abouts such as the Southern California and California open championships.

Paul Runyan, winner of the big stake last year, the Agua Caliente open, is here.

December 21-24—Pasadena $4000 open.

December 29-31 — Santa Monica $2000 amateur-pro.

January 6-8—Los Angeles $5000 open.

January 11-15—San Francisco $4000 match play.

January 21-22—Long Beach $1000 medal play one day; $1000 east-west matches second day.

January 26-28—Riverside $2000 amateur-pro.

February 1-4—Agua Caliente $7500 open.

SIEBERT WILL JOIN BRUINS

Goes on the Forward Line; Clapper on Defence

BOSTON, Dec. 18 (CP).—An important player deal between Boston Bruins and New York Rangers was born today of the injuring of "Ace" Bailey last week and the suspensions that followed.

Manager Art Ross of the Bruins found he had to revise his lineup with the indefinite suspension of Eddie Shore, who bumped Bailey in the Toronto-Boston game of December 12 and caused the skull fracture which seems certain to cost the life of the "Ace."

Today Ross announced he had landed Albert (Babe) Siebert, hard-hitting right-wing, by sending Centreman Vic Ripley and Roy Burmeister to the New York club. Tomorrow night when Montreal Maroons meet the Bruins they will find three former members of the club —Centre Nels Stewart, Joe Lamb and Siebert—forming one forward line in the machine against them.

Dit Clapper, regular member of the startling line with Stewart and Lamb, will drop back to Shore's vacant defence post.

Burmeister at present is on loan to the London International league club.

Cricket Playoff Planned IN '34

East Will Meet West at Vancouver in September

VANCOUVER, Dec. 18 — Cricket elevens representing eastern and western Canada may meet in a series of test matches on the Pacific coast in September, 1934, according to J. Fyfe Smith, president of the British Columbia Mainland Cricket league. He said such a series would have the 'ultimate object of selecting an all-Canadian team to tour the old country at a later date.

At the 20th annual meeting of the British Columbia association Fyfe Smith said a team of eastern Canadians would probably tour the west and cricketing centers of California next year. This team, he said, would include eight Toronto players, three from Montreal, and several Ridley college "old boys," according to present indications.

If such a tour were made, Fyfe Smith intimated efforts would be made to organize a Canadian cricket association to be affiliated with the Marylebone Cricket club of England.

COBBIN, B. C., Dec. 18.— The home of Mrs. N. Ferryman was the scene for a charming party recently. As the occasion was also the anniversary of Mrs. Ferryman's wedding the guests presented her with a lovely set of crystal goblets. Mrs. Wm. Gross won the first prize and Mrs. A. Grieves the consolation, those who were present included, Mrs. H. Osborne, Mrs. R. Greive, Mrs. Jas. Taylor, Mrs. A. Shepherd, Mrs. Walter Almond, Mrs. J. Dornan, Mrs. Rob't. Elliot, Mrs. W. R. Sykes, Mrs. D. Waddington, Mrs. H. Jorgensen, Mrs. J. N. Barnes.

Bridge drives which are being held once a month by each local lodge are proving very popular again this winter. On Tuesday evening, Mrs. L. Hoffman and E. James, were winners of the first prizes at the Pythian Sisters' bridge, and on Thursday Dec. 7 at the Rebecca's party Mrs. H. Jorgensen and A. Rear won firsts.

The Football club held a dance in B. & B. hall on Friday, when the presentation of the Crahn cup was made by Captain Bob Lillie to E. L. Warburton, superintendent of the Corbin Collieries. The Corbin football team has had an enviable record this season winning two cups the Crows Nest Pass League cup, and the Crahn cup and deserves a great deal of praise.

Mrs. W. R. Sykes entertained at a delightful bridge party on Monday when first prize was won by Mrs. Jas. Dornman and consolation by Mrs. H. Ferryman. Those present were, Mrs. Jas. Dornman, Mrs. H. Ferryman, Mrs. Rob't. Elliot, Mrs. Wm. Gross, Mrs. A. D. Williams, Mrs. W. Almond, Mrs. Chas. Joyce, Mrs. Jas. Taylor, Mrs. D. Waddington, Mrs. H. Jorgensen, Mrs. J. N. Barnes, Mrs. C. Petrie and Miss Bessie Barnes.

Skating started on Sunday and the rink has been well patronized during the week. Hockey practice commenced on Saturday and if the ice continues a team will be drawn up and games with outside teams are invited.

Miss June Rear entertained 25 young playmates on Sunday at her seventh birthday party.

C. G. I. T. are planning a Christmas carol and tableaux service.

Hopes of an entirely open winter were dashed to the ground on Monday the 10th when Corbin awoke to the howls of a winter blizzard and plowed its way through knee-high drifts.

DISTILLERIES UP

TORONTO, Dec. 18 (CP)—Distillery stocks provided more than half the business on the Toronto stock exchange.

Walkers' issues traded in 42,400 shares. Preferred gained ¾ to 151½ while common gained 2¾ to 46¾ on reports of a stock split-up. Distillers Seagram lost ½ to 31¼; Brewers & Distillers weakened 9 cents to 2.75.

TORONTO, (CP)—Premier R. B. Bennett walked miles through slush at Gen. Sir Arthur Currie's funeral in Montreal with no rubbers on, according to a reporter. A woman's comment was: "That man certainly needs a wife, calling from the door-step 'Richard, you've forgotten your rubbers.'"

AMATEUR SKI BODY FORMED

Seek Affiliation With the Amateur Union

VANCOUVER, Dec. 18 (CP)—Formation of the Amateur Ski Federation of Western Canada has been accomplished here. Prof. F. A. Roving of the University of British Columbia was elected president of the new organization at a meeting yesterday.

A. Stenvold of Princeton, B.C., was named first vice-president, and Wallace Inverarity, Vancouver, secretary-treasurer. Directors are Ole Rehdal, Prince Albert, Sask., Ivor B. Moen, Rossland, B.C., and Arne Henderson, Vancouver. Five "A" class skiers will later be appointed to constitute a skiers' council.

The federation will seek immediate affiliation with the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

Golds Hold Firm

TORONTO, Dec. 18 (CP)—Toronto Mining exchange disregarded an advance in the London price of gold and followed New York's easier trend.

All big gold producers closed unchanged or lower with the exception of Bralorne, up 15 to 10.35; Teck Hughes up 15 cents to 5.75 and McIntyre up 5 to 38.05. Losses were small.

In base metals, Nickel advanced 15 cents at 21.35. Noranda lost 5, Falconbridge, 15, Hudson Bay 25 and Sherritt Gordon 5. In the silvers Eldorado lost a point, and Bear Exploration ½. White Eagle gained ¾ to 27¾.

UNION OIL CO. TO ESTABLISH NELSON PLANT

Lets Contract for the Warehouse and the Pump House

DISTRICT HEAD FORMER RESIDENT

Beasley Is in Charge; Crew to Be Local Manager

Work commenced Monday on the construction of an office, warehouse, pump house and storage tank for the Union Oil company, which intends to commence business in Nelson about January 15.

The contract for the work is being carried out by the A. H. Green Company, limited, under authority from H. B. Beasley, district manager, whose headquarters are in Kelowna. Jack Game, the company's construction engineer, is supervising the work. The plant is on the C.P.R. flats.

T. C. Crew, who has been manager for the company at Revelstoke, will be manager in Nelson.

Mr. Beasley, whose territory includes the Okanagan and East and West Kootenay and Boundary, is a son of H. E. Beasley, who for some years was superintendent at Nelson for the C.P.R. Mr. Beasley sr., became manager of the K. & N. railroad after leaving Nelson and is now retired.

Mrs. H. B. Beasley, who went to school in Nelson in 1912 and 1913 held the Pacific coast and Canadian 100-metre championship. In 1912 he was a member of the Canadian team at the Olympic games at Stockholm, Sweden, running in the 100-metre and 200-metre events.

Succession Duties Case Has New Angle

VANCOUVER, Dec. 18 (CP)—British Columbia supreme court will not order the issuing of letters probate or administration of an estate without payment of succession duties until the validity of the B.C. succession duties act has been determined by court of appeal, Mr. Justice D. A. Mcdonald announced in court today.

If special circumstances should require the issuing of letters probate or administration, satisfactory or a bond would have to be given to secure succession duties, Mr. Justice McDonald said.

The announcement was made when A. R. MacDougall sought to proceed with a mandamus application against J. F. Mather, registrar of supreme court on behalf of W. R. Wilson of Vancouver, attempting to compel the registrar to issue letters of administration to the $170,000 estate of Mrs. Emma Wilson without payment of succession duties.

Mr. MacDougall declared Mr. Wilson does not wish to evade payment of the duties if the act, on appeal, should be upheld. He offered to give a bond to secure the succession duties in that contingency.

Registrar Mather was required to show cause on Friday why a writ of mandamus should not issue to compel him to issue letters probate to the estate of Carl Sidoff Gustafson, who died here August 18, where probate was sought without payment of duties.

GOVERNING OF ROTARY TOLD

C. W. Tyler Fills a Vacancy; Somers New Member

C. W. Tyler, called at a late hour to fill a vacancy in the Rotary program Monday afternoon, gave an able talk on "Rotary governing," stating he was speaking to the newer members, those who were unfamiliar with the administration.

E. W. Somers was welcomed as a new member.

The Rotary club came into being in 1907 when a club was formed in Chicago and they became charter No. 1, stated Mr. Tyler and was started for friendship and good fellowship. In 1910 it became a national organization and a convention held then had representatives from 16 clubs. Forty delegates attended.

In the same year it became an international organization and the Winnipeg, Man., club was formed. The following year a club in Dublin, Ireland, took a charter, and in the next year the first annual convention was held at Duluth, Minn.

The Rotary emblem was the purple wheel with six spokes and 24 cogs. It had no official meaning but had many inspirational and beautiful interpretations. It was not until 1910 that a uniform wheel was adopted by the Rotary clubs.

NELSON CLUB IN 1922

The Nelson club was formed in February, 1922, with the charter No. 1111. It was controlled by Rotary International.

In explaining the organization of the local club, Mr. Tyler stated it had a president, board of directors and an aims and object committee. Under the aims and object committee were four main sections, club service, vocational service, community service and international service. Club service was divided again into program, Canadian program attendance, music, Rotary education, fellowship and classification. Community service contained two divisions, crippled children and boys' work.

The secretary and the sergeant at arms were appointed by the directors and were under their jurisdiction, concluded Mr. Tyler.

City of Nelson Is Lucerne of Canada

A tribute to the city of Nelson, which is likened to Lucerne, and the Kootenay, is paid by a writer who accompanied members of the British Columbia government inspectional tour, a group of British people who visited British Columbia last summer. The group spent a day in the city and were shown various points of interest in the district.

Another tour has been planned for 1934 and the itinerary for this district is as follows: Friday, June 29. Arrive Nelson 8:45 p. m. Mines and lakeside homes. Stay at Hume hotel. Sunday July 1. Leave Nelson 1:30 (sleeper available 10:30 p.m.) and arrive Cranbrook 7:35 a.m. Breakfast Cranbrook hotel. Leave by auto at 9 a. m. for Fair Mont hotsprings.

The writer pays his tribute in a pamphlet describing the last tour received here recently. The pamphlet also contains a view of the city from Gyro park.

Nelson is described as follows: "Our next destination is the glorious Kootenay country, one of the great sporting domains of the province, rich in mining and lumbering. We reach it across the Kettle Valley, and halt for a day at Nelson, a modern city on the west arm of Kootenay lake. Beauty of lake, mountain, and stream has conferred on the city the title of the Lucerne of Canada. Cranbrook is our next stopping place, from there we take to the open road on one of the most spectacular motor drives in the world, the famous Lariat Trail across the Central Canadian Rockies."

HOCKEY

usual Trail combination was missing.

Penalties came thick and fast but nearly all were for tripping mostly undeliberate.

FIRST PERIOD

Redding and Moore, Kimberley forwards, showed some nice combination right from the start. Kemp missed a shot on the Trail goal by inches. Hutton saved a hot one from Jackie Hanson that looked like a score opener. Brown was turning in a fine game, breaking up attack after attack. Dupuis saved twice while flat on the ice. Trail forwards then launched a fierce attack but were driven back, and Keiver made a grand solo rush but finished weakly. Brown broke away following an attack on the Kimberley goal and his shot missed by inches. Hutton tipped one over the nets from Buckna. The game was becoming scrappy, the ice seemed sticky. Hanson missed a nice pass from Wheatley with an open goal. The period ended with no score.

SECOND PERIOD

Wheatley flashed away from the face-off but Max Bell blocked his shot. Kiever and Kemp combined but the shot was wide. McGillivray ran into the boards at the Trail end and was carried off, Brown going on defence. Hansen shot hard twice but Hutton saved. The game was rough and penalties many, five players being in the box at one time. Dupuis saved on his knees when Kimberley swept in. The Dynamiter forwards were combining nicely and several snappy dashes were broken up near the Trail goal. Hutton was tested three times in quick succession, the puck finally sticking in the outside of the net. Wheatley and Hanson showed a flash of their old combination, nearly scoring. Redding landed one on Dupuis' pads. The game was speeding up. The first goal came at 13:30. Brown picked up the puck from an attack on the Kimberley goal, tore down the ice into the Trail corner, passed to Redding Redding passed back and Brown whipped it into the Trail nets.

Kimberley flashed away on the face-off but Brennan picked up a loose puck and shot it outside. Moore was winded and went off the ice. Hutton saved from Wheatley as the bell went.

THIRD PERIOD

Morris and Redding still had a minute in the box when the final period started. Keiver robbed Buckna and looked dangerous but Dupuis saved brilliantly. Max Bell went the length of the ice but no one was there for the pass. Dynamiters were playing hard. Keiver went through on his own but Dupuis was again on the job. Brown shot hard, Dupuis going down on the puck to save. Kimberley claimed a goal but it was disallowed. Kimberley was combining nicely at this stage. Hanson and Morris got away cleanly but Wheatley spoiled a promising move by skating offside. Keiver and Brown then got away but Trail came back strong and netted the puck just after the offside whistle blew. However, [illegible] reward came at six minutes. Hanson, snaring a nice pass from Morris and beating Hutton. Mickey Brennan nearly put Trail ahead with a scorcher, the game becoming furious but a little scrappy. [illegible] saved a nice low shot from Art [illegible] was pulled up by Bell in the nick of time. Hutton saved a beauty from Morris while lying on the ice. Andreaschuck and Buckna combined nicely but Bell stopped them again. At 16:30 Hugo Mackie took a pass from Puffy Kemp close in the scored what proved to be the winning goal and sent the crowd frantic.

All tried every trick they knew from then on and bombarded the Kimberley net from all angles and distances. Everyone was up and several melees were staged in the Kimberley goal mouth, but Hutton got through unbeaten. Kemp and Art Mackie were making a promising attack when the final bell went.

Lineups:

Trail—Dupuis; Jordan, Mercer and Hazard; Buckna, Brennan, Hanson, Wheatley, Morris and Andreaschuck.

Kimberley— Hutton; McGillivray and Bell; H. Brown, Moore, Redding, Keiver, Kemp, Botterill, A. Mackie and H. Mackie.
