MAIN LAKE FIRE IS RAGING

Railway Construction Camps' Fate Unknown; Fire Travels 17 Miles

ERCE GALE FANS FLAMES ALONG LAKE

mbers Travel Across Four Miles Water to Start a Fire at Ginols

TEAMER GROPES ITS VAY THROUGH SMOKE

o Dense, Wind Bad, Boat Unable Make Landings; Extent Unknown

Travelling at breakneck speed h the teeth of a fierce gale, re swept up the west shore- ne of Kootenay Lake from anyon creek almost to Wilson reek, a distance of 17 miles, esterday afternoon.

An extremely disturbing sit- ation existed last night for here were many men working n the construction line in the ection that appeared to be wept by the fire. Many of the ine camps were situated well up in the woods.

WIND CARRIES BRANCHES

Wind was so strong that branches of trees, some of which were three feet in length were blown across the lake to the vicinity of Boswell where a number of spot fires were reported to the forestry branch last night. One of these fires was reported at Ginol's Landing and another on La France creek. Both of these fires were under control.

Due to the fact that the lake was still boiling in a 45-mile an hour gale last night, no attempt could be made to reconnoiter the situation either from Procter or Boswell, where launches were standing by for the first opportunity to approach the fire and ascertain the fate of construction workers.

Previously, bad fires had been experienced at both Midge and Wilson creeks where sizeable sections were burned over. Apparently this new fire started south at Midge creek in the direction of Wilson creek at Canyon and was blown back past Midge creek in the direction of Wilson creek where it is thought that the old burned over area would be sufficiently wide to hold the fire from proceeding further.

NASOOKIN HAS BATTLE WITH GALE

Crew of the S. S. Nasookin after landing at Nelson half an hour late last night, reported that the storm on the main lake was one of the worst that they had ever experienced and that, coupled with intense smoke, made it impossible to make landings between Kootenay Landing and Procter.

FIRE BURNING FROM SHORE TO PEAK

Smoke which cleared for an instant at a time revealed the fact that fire was burning at the shoreline as well as among the peaks.

NEW SPOT FIRE NEAR NELSON

In the vicinity of Nelson a new spot fire was located yesterday high up behind the Silver King mine. This fire though not large was dangerous and a crew of men dispatched to this location this morning.

Reports received by the forestry department last night stated that the fire on Goat creek had been held in control regardless of the gale.

THREE LIGHTNING STRIKES

Three lightning fires were reported from Brilliant last night one of which was on the hill between Thrums and Brillisnt last night one of which was on the hill behind Brilliant. Little or no rain was reported from this point.

Fire was reported on Rover creek near South Slocan. A crew will be sent to the fire this morning. Rain at this point amounted to nothing more than a sprinkle.

Fairly heavy rain reported in the Vernon district helped the fire situation to some degree.

Cranbrook district reported that weather conditions there were hot and dry and extemely hazardous.

Reports Penticton stated cool and cloudy weather.

RAIN NOT GENERAL

Rainstorm that passed over Nelson yesterday afternoon appeared to be of a general nature, however, it was found that instead of a deluge at all points of the district that only certain vicinities had been blessed with rain.

Barometrical readings found that the mercury was high once more.

Nelson District Fair Is Off for a Year

EXPENSE IS TOO GREAT SAYS BOARD

Fire Puts Fair Out of Commission All Contracts Are Cancelled

MIDWAY CONTRACT GOES WITH REST

Heated Discussion Ensues Regarding Midway Before Decision Reached

Nelson will not have a fair this year. Such was the decision of the Nelson fair board at a meeting held last night in the city hall. Not only will Nelson not have a fair, the board decided, but the board has cancelled its contract with the Conklin & Garrett's All Canadian Shows, thus doing away with the midway and grand stand attractions.

At the last meeting of the fair board, the matter of holding the fair itself was referred to the executive. Last night the executive presented the following resolution to the board:

"That this executive recommend to the board of directors that owing to the fact of the fair buildings and equipment having been destroyed by fire, and the very heavy expense that would have to be incurred in procuring suitable tents, that the Nelson fair not be held this year."

On the motion of J. B. Gray, the recommendation of the executive was indorsed and passed by the board without much comment. It was clearly realized by all present that in view of the recent disastrous fire razing the fair buildings, that expenses would be too heavy to run the exhibition part of the fair this year.

SOME DISCUSSION

It required more, and much more acrid discussion to decide whether the board would allow the midway and grand stand attractions of Conklin & Garrett to show under its auspices. On this question the board divided itself up into fairly even camps and engaged in a heated but good-natured set-to, with J. B. Gray and R. Fleming pairing up to champion the cause of those desiring to bring the Conklin & Garrett Shows to Nelson regardless of the fact that the remainder of the fair would not be held, and J. E. Irving and W. Irvine carrying the banner for the opposing side.

Finally the question was put and a resolution cancelling the contract with Conklin & Garrett was passed by a vote of 6 to 2.

"That's the best scrap I've seen around here in years," declared Mr. Fleming. "It certainly livens things up."

"Exhiliarating to say the least," stated Mr. Irving, laughingly.

All other arrangements made to date in connection with the fair were cancelled.

DEADLOCK IN HAGUE MEETING

Snowden's "No" to Offer of Creditor Powers is Cause; May Find Solution

THE HAGUE, Aug. 23—Fresh surprising developments are now an hourly ocurrence at the reparations conference. At the moment, a complete deadlock prevails as a result of Right Hon. Philip Snowden's having said "no" to the last offer of the four other creditor powers, France, Belgium, Italy and Japan.

Optimists however are still convinced a way will be found out of the difficulty and that settlement will have been reached by Monday, when a plenary session of the conference will probably be held in the event of a breakdown.

The dominant feature of the present situation is that the four powers have succeeded in involving Germany in the dispute over the division of German reparations and are leaving it to that country to come forward with proposals which will enable them once again to make an offer to the British chancellor of the exchequer.

Kaslo Launch Leaves Attempt Rescue On Lake

Authentic information received at 1:30 o'clock this morning stated that, although the main lake was still exceedingly rough, a boat had left Kasio in an attempt to rescue any persons that may have been trapped by the fire that was raging down the shoreline of Kootenay lake and in the vicinity of the railway construction camps.

NEW YORK MISS WINS MARATHON SWIM, TORONTO

Martha Norelius First in 10-Mile Event; Ethel Hertle Finishes Fifth

TORONTO, Aug.23—Martha Norelius of New York, is the conqueror of a new swimming world. In her first major professional competition, the former queen of the amateurs outswam and outlasted a field of 45 starters in the Wrigley marathon 10 mile championship at the Canadian National exhibition today.

Never headed from the starting point, the new champion set a pace that averaged 54 strokes to the minute and finished 300 yards ahead of Ruth Tower, of Toronto and formerly of Denver Col.

With Miss Norelius's victory come the dethronement of Ethel Hertle, 1928 champion, who finished in fifth position.

The cheers of a 100,000 persons banked in a solid mass along the exhibition seawall or Lake Ontario, acclaimed the champion of champions.

Sixth place, that carries no money award, went to Miss Dorothy Widmer, of Seattle, Wash.

To Miss Norelius goes recognition as women's champion and a purse of $10,000. Ruth Tower, Now Mrs. George Corsan, but swimming under her maiden name, will receive $3,000; Mrs. Armstrong $1,000; Lea Riley $600, and Miss Hertle $400.

Turner Valley Oil Field Was Fire Threatened

CALGARY, August 23.—Air survey of the fire ridden area in the immediate vicinity of Calgary by the Albertan revealed Friday evening that the oil interests of Turner valley, and valuable property in the vicinity of the city, are safe. As far as could be told their safety was largely in the result of a sudden shift in the wind, shortly after seven o'clock in the evening, which made possible the first clear view of the situation. The fire spread rapidly eastward, from the start, 25 miles west of Turner valley, Friday afternoon and the rumor arose that the valley was threatened when it was learned the extent of the blaze the Albertan chartered a Great Western Airways plane and learned that the fire is driving away from the valley, although oil areas were endangered but not seriously.

Steamer Beothic at Chesterfield on Hudsons Bay

OTTAWA. Aug. 23.—The Canadian government patrol ship Beothic reached Chesterfield on the west coast of Hudson Bay yesterday, according to a wireless dispatch received by the department of the interior today. The ship carrying the department's 1929 arctic expedition left Lake Harbor Southern Baffin island on August 18 and proceeded westward through the Hudson straits.

Dawes Declares Progress in the Naval Question

ELGIN, Scotland, Aug. 23—Definite assurance that the Anglo-American negotiations for naval reduction have favorably advanced, was given today by General Charles G. Dawes, United States ambassador, in a speech here. At the same time he warned that they have not necessarily reached the prepared stage for public discussion in detail.

Fanatical Doukhobors Declare War Against B. C. Government

THREATS ARE MADE BY THE DOUKHOBORS

"To Make Terrible Trouble, Worse Than When They Burned Schools"

DEMAND RELEASE OF PAUL WLOSSOFF

Nearest Intimation to Admission by Fanatics That They Burned Schools

GRAND FORKS, B. C., Aug. 23.—War has been declared by the Fanatical group of the Doukhobors against Government Authority and they are planning an onslaught of retaliation according to information given to the police.

Yesterday two men and two women of the Son of Freedom stripe walked into the courthouse and demanded from Constable McKay that one of their number, Paul Wlossoff, who was recently sent up for trial at the fall assizes for connection with the burning of Doukhobor School be liberated forwith. The Constable gave his visitors little hopes that their wishes would be gratified and they warned him that if Wlossoff was not liberated they would "make terrible trouble, worse than when they burned the school."

This is the nearest intimation of an admission of the Sons of Freedom that they had been responsible for the burning of a dozen or fifteen Doukhobor school destroyed in recent months. The prisoner, Wlossff, when receiving a preliminary hearing recently admitted that the day before the burning of some five schools he had attended a meeting of the fanatics, and information obtained from other sources by the police was to the effect that the object of the meeting was planning the fires.

The Doukhobors who made the verbal demand from the police stated that an official ultimatum would be sent them through the mail and that the government could then look for trouble.

MONSTER FIRE BURNS PLANTS NEAR SPOKANE

All Available Apparatus Rushed to Fight Flames; Rail-Roads Lose

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 23.—A great conflagration which started in the J. P. McGoldrick Lumber Company yard, early tonight, has destroyed the yard, a sanitarium, five dwelling houses, an apartment building and was sweeping to the Cascade laundry plant. Only five pieces of fire fighting equipment weer left in the city for emergency the rest being massed in an apparently futile effort to check the spread.

The Great Northern railroads main line track and bridge and the Spokane United Railways bridge were burning. A series of light and telephone lights stretching over the blaze were out, throwing a portion of the city in darkness. The origin of the fire was unknown.

Dolding and Morrison were killed on August 12 and two other firemen were injured.

LIGHTNING AND WIND FAIL TO HALT THE GRAF

Giant Dirigible Glides Over the Pacific at 80 Miles Per Hour

NEW YORK, Aug. 23—Copyrighted articles to the New York American and Allied Hearst newspapers tonight reported the Graf Zeppelin's position over the Pacific ocean as 38 degrees north latitude and 159 degrees east longitude, or 1,110 miles northeast of its Japanese airport on its flight to Los Angeles on its round-the-world cruise. The time was 7 A. M., Tokio time. The weather was clear and an average speed of 71 miles an hour, was being registered by the Graf, the copyright report stated.

BAD STORM

TOKIO, Aug. 24—Plunging unscathed through a violent storm of wind and lightning which struck her full force, three hours after rising from the Kasumigaura air port, the Graf Zeppelin roars on across the mightiest of ocean toward America.

With clear moonlit skies above and the waters of the Pacific below, the Graf sailed through the night, cutting away at nearly 100 miles an hour, the 5,000 miles separating her from Los Angeles to the last stop on her circling of the world.

Dr. Eckener seized an unexpected amount of good weather, ordered passengers aboard and the big ship was drawn from the hangar Friday afternoon.

Heading into the northeast the Zeppelin disappeared within seven minutes in the direction of the open Pacific and shortly after flew into the storm area. Wind and rain beat against her and lightning flashed on her silver sides as she rode through the squall into clear weather.

BEER DRINKERS MAY BE TAXED

Would Help Educational Expenses; Propose Tax Restaurant Meals

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 23—People who eat and drink heartily at restaurants and beer parlors may be called upon to pay an extra tax to the British Columbia treasury to help finance public and high schools.

This new feature to relieve taxation for school purposes was intimated last night when Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, minister of education, conferred with the city council and school board on proposed changes in taxation for school purpose.

When Alderman John Bennett asked why a tax on liquor could not be made to help pay for educational services, the minister replied: "A tax of one or two cents a glass on beer might well be considered."

The minister also suggested it might be well to follow the plan of Quebec of raising money for hospitals, and impose a tax of 5 cents on all meals served at restaurants and hotels at a cost of more than $1.00.

Investigate Cause Many Forest Fires Throughout Manitoba

WINNIPEG, Aug. 23.—Police and forestry officals are investigating the origin of forest fires in different sectons of Manitoba under the belief that all of the firse have not been accidental.

Provincial police and the air patrol have been asked to keep a sharp lookout and report full information in case of any new outbreaks.

Forest fires in Northern Manitoba and in the southern area were reported under control today and the situation once more near normal.

CROWDS OVER SLOCAN HEAR TORY CHIEF

Urges Use Canadian Heritage Handed Down by the Pioneers

MONSTER CROWD AT SILVERTON SPEECH

Says Conservatives in Power Will Fight for Defense of Canadians

SILVERTON, B. C. Aug. 23.—Whereever he went today Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative chieftan was greeted by crowds. He spoke first at Robson, met people throughout the Slocan Valley, spoke at Slocan City and tonight addressed a monster gathering here.

SILVERTON B. C., Aug. 23.—"Don't forget the pioneers both those pioneers developed this magnificent Slocan district, and this earlier ones, on the little islands in the north sea, whose sacrifice and enterprise gave us our Canadian heritage," counselled Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservtive leader to a great gathering tonight in Memorial Hall Silverton. A gathering representative also of Retallack, Sandon, Three Forks, New Denver, Slocan City and even Slocan Valley points.

"Utilize the heritage handed Canadians by those pioneers and also early Canadian statesmen, well," he urged "and see that in the end you hand it on unimpared to future generations." His object in going throughout the Dominion, making addresses to his fellow Canadians, was not to ask for votes he said. It was also to attack the general record of the King administration. He could easily find material for attack, and he might take up this matter at a future time. His whole object on the present tour was to talk over with the Canadian people the single matter of the industrial situation of Canada under present conditions, and to put before them what he considered would be a remedy.

Political economy was generally though an abstruse subject and hard to understand, but the essence of it was that if Canadians spent their money as far as possible in Canada, it gave employment to Canadian workmen, and if it was spent abroad, it deprived Canadian workmen of livelihood.

SOME EXAMPLES

Mr. Bennett said he could remember when the country subsidized Trail Smelter to enable it to produce lead. Assistance was necessary then, for the Consolidated had not then developed it's great industry as it since had, and had not the mass production, amounting to 420 tons of refined lead a day, that enabled it to meet competition anywhere in the world. The new wealth produced annually through Trail Smelter amounted to many millions. Was it better for Canadians to buy lead in the United States, produced by American workmen, or to purchase it at Trail? Canada shipped out raw asbestos and bought back the refined article, it shipped out lumber and bought from the United States the fabricated wood, it shipped out blister copper, and bought back refined copper at $5 a ton more than the United States Copper Export association would permit Canadians to get it at. As a consequence of this extra price for copper, Canada imported $29,000,000 annually of American electrical equipment, largely employing copper, that should have been made in Canada.

DEFEND CANADA

"If we get power," said Mr. Bennett, "I say to you without mental or other reservation, the Conservative party proposes to use it's power in parliament for defense first of Canada's homes." Loud applause.

TAX ON SHARES

W. K. Esling, M. P., preceding his leader, spoke briefly on the special tax on share sales recently imposed by the King government in such a way as to bear inequitably on the low priced shares by which mining in British Columbia is chiefly financed and which was opposed to the last ditch by himself, together with practically the unit*ed Conservative party. Mr. Esling* declared he would renew this fight next session, and persist till repeal was granted.

Capt. James Fitzsimmons M. P. P. for Kaslo-Slocan expressed pleasure at the splendid gathering from the Slocan district, congregated to hear Mr. Bennett.

William Hunter, the chairman, after listening to Mr. Bennett, saw nothing but Conservative success at the next election. He spoke also of the part the Slocan played in the early days of Canadas mining development.

After the speaking program was concluded the floor was cleared and dancing was indulged in for many hours.

LOS ANGELES, August 23.—Michael J. P. Cudahy, 21, of the Chicago meat packing family, was convicted by a jury in superior court tonight on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. The jury recommended a $5000 fine.

PAST WEEK A NIGHTMARE OF FIRES

Last Sunday night opened a week that proved to be full of action for the forestry branch, from highest officials to field men and fire fighters.

Terrific winds last weekend whipped fires out of control all over the district and the new fires that were caused, and the work of bringing the old ones into control, made costs for the week rise by leaps and bounds. Week's costs amounted to $90,000.

It is estimated from the costs that there were from 1700 to 2000 men employed as fire fighters throughout the dis*trict during the week.*

Pending setttlement of the action an injunction was obtaind to prevent payment of more than seven per cent preference dividend until the court's decision has been rendered.

WEST TAKING CROP FAILURE IN GOOD MOOD

"Taking Tuck in Belt and Carrying on" Throughout the West

YIELD PREDICTED AT 52 PER CENT

Labor Conditions Good; Crop Has Stood Great Punishment This Year

WINNIPEG, Aug. 23.—The west is taking the partial crop failure philosophically and with unhshaken faith in the future. It is taking a tuck in its belt and carrying on. With lots of money in the country the tendency will be to sit tight, cut down luxuries and keep a weather eye on the export wheat market. Reports of a panicky feeling in the east are met with smiles. "Why said one authority "the farmers have not got all their money from last year's crop, let alone spent it. There are going to be lots of individual cases where the crop is a total failure, but on the other hand there are many more where farmers with an average crop will be better off than with last year's big crop with its low price."

Well informed places the yield at 5 per cent of normal; another source at 225,000,000 bushels minimum.

Manitoba has a bit the edge of the other two provinces—it is an old saying Manitoba has never known a total crop failure, and particularly in the Red river valley. There are some good stands of wheat. But the southwest of the province is light and some fields are not worth cutting.

STANDS DRAUGHT

In Sasktchewan, too, the southern areas are worst off, but here again wheat sown on summer fallow has stood the drought well and reports of these run as high as 20 bushels It is a curious fact that a fair crop is found next to a total failure due to better farming or a lucky slant of rain. And again quite large districts have done quite well, such as that immediately surrounding Saskatchewan and the Carroat river country further north.

These diverse conditions are to be found too in Albert, for the country south of Calary, between MacLeod and Lethbridge to the boundary shows a good stand of wheat, while further east and north great areas report estimates anywhere from three to six bushels. But the Peace country has a good yield.

COLEMAN'S STATEMENT

D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway here who is in a position to know estimates the crop at over 250,000,000 bushels. The west, he said, "has never met a partial crop failure in the same spirit they have met tis one. No one has let himself be stampeded, and where there has to be curtailments, such as in the implement business, it has been met calmly and without any sign of panic.

"I doubt," he went on, "whether any other soil in the world could have brought through a good half crop with so little precipitation. Our figures from January 1 to August 16 as compared with last year, of precipitation, both snow and rain, show for Brandon 9.6 inches against 15.5 in 1928; for Indian head 6.43 again 10.13; for Lethbridge 12.62 against 14.4.

"There are other factors jutifying optimism. Labor conditions are good, thanks to northern mining camps, railway construction and the opening up of oil fields in Alberta.

CASH AND CARRY

Without delving too deeply into the economic situation there is good reason for saying the Canadian prairie west is now on a cash-and-carry system. Ten years ago 8 or 9 months cred it system prevailed, when the storekeeper was expected to carry and did carry the needy farmer until he had threshed. Then while yet the wheat was running out of the spout, he was confronted with his creditors, the storekeeper the banker and the implement dealer, who literally forved him to hitch up and drive the old wagon to the nearest elevator and take wheat spot price and what grade was offered. Cooperative marketing has changed all that. The farmer need not turn in his wheat until the market is favorable and he is assured of the top average price, while the interim payments he received from the wheat pool assists him to sane budgetting over the whole year and checks the quite natural tendency to "blow in" some of the cash wrung out of the soil under the old system of elevator dumping so soon as threshing was over. He has escaped from the thraldom of credit and is an economic freeman.

But after a morning spent on Main street chatting with bankers, grain men, credit men and wholesalers, the astounding marvel is the recunperative quality of the crop. A month ago even experts gave it up if no rain came, and no rain did come, but yet there is a good half crop at a price that will be high. Though the berry is small and not of good color the gluten content is unusually high and that is what the British miller is willing to pay for, because it makes good bread.

GREAT PUNISHMENT

The crop has stood an extraordinary amount of punishment. There was little rain last fall, and a cold dry spring was followed by hot high winds right through the growing season into harvest. Under such conditions wheat has stood up better than could have been expected; it appears to have gone harder with coarse grains particularly oats. But on the whole the spring returns show a better yield than a period possible a few weeks ago.

The west has come to realize a single setback after several good years is not a calamity; it has weathered the driest season on record; is now curtailing its commitments; but looks with confidence to the future. There are worse things than a small crop at a high price. But what of the farmer who has nothing? It recalls the situation a few years ago when the Dominion government advanced considerable sums for seed grain. But since then the wheat pool has come into existence, the cooperative idea has entered into the very fabric of the farmer's life, and it would not be surprising to find that this problem of next springs seeding will be solved by the farmers themselves in a fine cooperative way.

No Claimants For Body of Hanged Woman

HULL, Que., Aug. 23.—Unclaimed by any of her eight children ,the body of Maye Viau, lies in Hull jail tonight Burial nearby in "Potters field" is to be the fate of the 42 year-old mother who died today on the gallows with her lover, Philbert Lefebvre, 32, for the poisoning of her husband Zephyr Viau.

An hour after it had been cut down from the scaffold the body of Lefebvre was claimed by his father This afternoon it was taken to Montreal where it is expected a funeral service will be held.

Last night, as she waited stoically for death, Mrs. Viau penned last messages to each of her children, to her mother and other relatives. The communications went unanswered. Lefebvre unnerved by approaching fate, wrote but one letter asking his father for forgiveness.

SAM WATERS OF TRAIL, NELSON DIES, CHICAGO

Well Known Kootenay Railroad Man Ill Some Time; Family Lives in Trail

News was received last night by Mrs. Steeper of the death of her son Samuel Waters aged 36 years, at Chicago.

Mr. Waters, who had been residing in Nelson for two years, was taken ill last winter and went to Seattle for treatment. It was found necessary a few months ago to remove him to Chicago, where he was under professional care until his death yesterday. Mrs. Waters had been with him since June.

Mr. Waters is well known in this district, having been brought up in Rossland and Nelson. During the war he was in active service and on his return made his home in Trail. He was employed as yardman, by the Canadian Pacific railway, and was moved to Nelson two years ago.

He is survived by his step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Steeper of Trail; his wife and daughter, Lorraine; and a brother Clifford of Seattle.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made but it is expected the body will be shipped here for interment.

Mr. Waters served in the American army during the war and his death was believed due from the effect of the war. He was practically raised in Nelson and was before the war was actively engaged in athletics having played on the Old Hungry Nine baseball team and Nelson's senior aggregation.

Prior to going to Chicago for treatment Mr. Waters was for a time after leaving Nelsn under care of medical authorities at Seattle.

Unable to swim and wading out beyond her two girl companions while bathing in the Old Man river, Taber, Alta., Emma Renner, 13, was drowned and swept away by the dangerous undertow when she fell into a deep hole.

MAKE CANADIAN MONEY WORK AT HOME; BENNETT

Conservative Leader Speaks at Robson, Senator Green, Esling, Lister Heard

ROBSON, B. C., Aug. 23—That the one million of Canadian money sent into the United States last year to buy American pears has already done $10,000,000 worth of work for the Americans and that the $600,000 sent for peaches, the similar sum for plums, and the $900,000 for apples was similarly performing service for the Americans while lost to Canada, was asserted here this morning by Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, when addressing a large gathering of the ranching community of residents of Robson in community hall shortly before the noon hour.

A $5 spent for Robson or Okanagan fruit he said not only secured the purchaser the fruit but retained the $5 in Canada where it would turn over so many times paying wages and taxes and freight, that ultimately it would do not less than 100 times its original value of work and do $500 of service to the country. If, on the other hand, the $5 went for Wenatchee fruit the purchaser got fruit, it is true, perhaps not as good as the Robson or Okanagan article, but the money remained south of the line to do $500 work for the Americans.

To make the necessary statue which would result in transferring this business to Canada providing work for Canadians and building up industry, population and agricultural markets in Canada, was the aim of the Conservative party, Mr. Bennett said. It was to the Conservative party that Canada owed almost all of its development history. Although the honors of confederation were shared by MacDonald and Brown, the latter soon left, and after that the Conservative carried the burden of the country development alone.

ESLING HEARD

W. K. Esling, M. P. for Kootenay West, who preceeded Mr. Bennett, outlined the delinquency of the King government in regard to dumping duties of fruit, now in operation. Senator R. F. Green, who was a resident with his brother, of Robson, in 1891, paid tributes to Mr. Bennett as the future prime minister and to Mr. Esling as an able and devoted worker for Kootenay West.

Lieut. Col. Fred Lister, M. P. P. for Creston predicted the prairie would tell a different tale after the next election. At the end of the meeting O. B. Ballard proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. Esling for arranging to let Mr. Bennett speak to the people of Robson, who were thereby "tickled stiff." A. Hartford presided.

Mr. Bennett's party motored to Thrums for luncheon where Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Chalmers presided at "a Window in Thrums," the entire menu being from their own ranch.

KEEP CANADIANS IN CANADA URGE OF MR. BENNETT

Address Crowd at Slocan City; Uses Smelter at Trail for Example

SLOCAN CITY, B.C., August 23. — That the operations of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada gave directly and indirectly a living to 80,000 people, was stated at Slocan City this afternoon by Hon. R. B. Bennett when driving home to the concourse of citizens assembled in Odd Felows hall, the significance of the Conservative policy which demands developing industries in Canada by giving Canadian industries their home market.

Ten new industries of such size would mean the support of 500,000 people, he pointed out.

OPPOSE POLICY

Standing opposed to this policy was the King government which not only would do nothing to encourage the spending of Canadian money in Canada for the benefit of Canadian employers and Canadian workmen, but once Mr. Fielding was removed from control, proceeded to lower the bars to new world competition with the result that foreign competition, backed by its mass production seized new portions of the Canadian market, closing Canadian factories and displacing Canadian workmen. The remedy for the condition was a simple one ne stated. It was merely to enact a tariff statute that would give Canadian industry and Canadian workmen a fair break with their competition.

"If you vote for Liberals at the next election, then you prefer jobs for Canadians in the United States to jobs for Canadians in Canada," was Mr. Bennett's comment, loudly cheered.

CONGRATULATE CITY

Mr. Bennett and W. K. Esling, M. P., both referred with thankfulness to the escape of Slocan City from the fire fiend that menaced it last Sunday, and to the weather change that promised to end the fires in this territory.

Senator R. F. Green, who stated Slocan City had stayed by him in every election he had contested since 1891, assured it's people that "Billy" Esling was the best representative Yale-Kootenay, or Kootenay West, tracing the territory through it's legislative history, ever had.

A WELL DESERVED TRIBUTE

Members of the staff of the Winnipeg Free Press and editors of other newspapers paid tribute Thursday to E. H. Macklin, president and managing director of Winnipeg's leading daily.

They paid tribute to a great newspaperman, as great for his human qualities as is his ability in his profession.

Western Canada owes E. H. Macklin a debt which is not generally recognized by the public.

It is to Mr. Macklin perhaps more than to any other single individual that western Canada newspapers were able to develop a Canadian service of telegraph and cable news. He was a leader in the development of the Western Associated Press, an organization which prior to the war supplied a Canadian service of news to dailies between Winnipeg and Victoria, and which during the war developed into the Canadian Press, and provided a Canadian news service which served east as well as west and welded east and west together into one cohesive whole as far as news gathering and news distribution are concerned.

Since its first organization on a Canada-wide basis Canadian Press has grown rapidly, both in the quality and the quantity of its news service, but if it had not been for the vision, the courage and willingness to make financial sacrifices of such men as Eddie Macklin there would have been no Western Associated Press and no Dominion-wide Canadian Press news service.

A CORRECTION

Owing to an error in typewriting, an editorial which yesterday poked fun at the Edmonton city council, which is enjoying a wrangle concerning garbage cans, spoke of "our aldermen." It should, of course, have read "Edmonton aldermen" as the editorial had no local application.

That Body of Yours

BY JAMES W. BARTON, M. D.

IS GOLF HARMFUL

What about golf for everybody.

Within a few weeks seven players dropped dead on the golf links of Great Britian..

And this is the game that is jokingly referred to as "an old man's game". This despite the fact that the majority of recent champions have been in their twenties.

Is the game really hard on you from a physical standpoint

Much depends on your make up.

If you are of the liesurely type and do not take your golf seriously, don't rush from hole to hole, then the outdoors, the exercise, and the mental enjoyment will make golf of great benefit to you.

If however you take golf very seriously, rush your work through to get to the links early, keep your mind and body tense as you try to remember all the suggestions given you by the club professional the position of the feet, the grasp of the club, the position of the body, with all other little details then instead of being a benefit your golf may be doing you harm.

Don't misunderstand me, you have to learn golf as you had to learn to walk to ride a bicycle, or a horse, It all tired you until you learned to do these things automatically without thought on your part.

You cover a considerable distance and do a lot of work when you play a game of golf; the distance itself with some hills and the search for lost balls, all means effort.

My thought is that boys, girls, young men, young women, old men and women may all safely play golf if they will remember that there is considerable physical work in playing golf and govern themselves accordingly.

Middle aged and elderly folks who are just taking up golf should play only a few holes at a time, as in the mental strain of learning to play golf is just the same as in other games, and when the brains used in an excercise fatigue comes on sooner. After a game of any kind is learned and the brain therefore not used so much i tis really only the muscles that get tired, and play may be continued for a longer period of time.

DR. W. O. ROSE RETURNS AFTER LONG VACATION

He and Mrs. Rose Visit Coast Cities During Three Months Recuperative Period

"After living in a given place for 30 years one is liable to think of that place as home," philosophized Dr. W. O. Rose' last night at his residence where he had returned on the previous evening following a three and a half months from Nelson.

Dr. and Mrs. Rose, on account of the poor state of health of the former, closed their house for the summer and left Nelson for Spokane on May 7. Since that time while the doctor's vitality has been slowly returning they have sojourned for short periods in Spokane, Portland, Seattle and Victoria. In Victoria they spent two months of their vacation where the even temperature was invaluable in the expediating of the doctor's recovery to better health.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Rose stated that they had enjoyed thoroughly their stay in the capital city which was a glorious panorama of rose blooms during the summer months. Also they expressed their surprise at the rate at which Residents, Great have been the im- that city is becoming a mecca for fine provements made in that city since the time eight years ago when Dr. Rose represented the Nelson district in the provincial house, according to his observations.

Great kindness that they received, while in Victoria, at the hands of former Nelson residents was greatly appreciated by the doctor and his wife Among these old friends met were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Holmes, who have just completed a fine modern home there; Mr. and Mrs. G. G. McGee and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Drew.

During the short period that Dr. and Mrs. Rose stopped in Portland they decided that they liked that city and the surrounding country exceedingly well but added that when they got to Victoria they thought the quality of her flowers was just a bit more enticing than those of her American neighbor.

Dr. Rose said that the whole of the country that they travelled through was suffering from the drought that has been so general this year and that in a number of places on the return journey forest fires were seen raging in the mountains.

Dr. and Mrs. Rose will be at their home in Nelson until the sixteenth of October when they will sail for New Zealand on the Aorangi, one of the largest liners in the Pacific fleet. On this three weeks cruise they will have a couple of day stops, one each at the Hawiian and Fiji islands before they arrive in New Zealand where they will spend the winter months.

Dr. Rose stated last night that though his passports covered Australia, China and Japan, he was not at all sure that they would visit these countries.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drug store.

Less Money Sent Abroad By the U. S.

"In the second quarter of the year foreign securities publicly offered in the United States amounted to $212-000,000. A small part of this was for refunding, but the greater part, $202-400,000, represented new capital invested abroad. This compares with $264,279,000 in the first quarter of the year and $543, 739,000 new capital in the corresponding period of 1928. From this tapering off, however, the hasty conclusion should not be drawn that the era of foreign financing is drawing to a close", points out the Wall Street Journal.

"Instead of attempting to peer far into the future or predict what is to come to pass it may be better to accept the fact that expanding business requires capital, and that the placing of loans depends a great deal upon interest rates. If there is ease in our money markets at a time when any foreign enterprise is seeking capital, there is no reason why its securities should not be offered and accepted here, if property rights are respected in that foreign country. The reconstruction of Europe and the development of many backward countries still call for large outlays of capital.

"It is in parts of the world other than Europe that we now find the bulk of foreign financing done here. In the second quarter of the year Canadian financing represented $81,684-000 of government, municipal, provincial and officially guaranteed corporate issues and $40,187,000 of private corporate bonds. This makes a total of $121,871,000. Latin America, which had the lead in the first quarter, stood next to Canada in the second quarter with a total of $70,125,000, of which $24,500,000 was government and $45-625,00 private.

"These private issues in Latin America of $122,962,000 in the first quarter and $45,625,000 in the second, for the most part represent American companies financing their operations in the republics south of us. The large investments in the first quarter were mainly by two American concerns who were acquiring additional power and public utility properties. In the second quarter the largest Latin-American offering was by a British corporation—the Lautaro Nitrate Co., which operates in Chile, but American nitrate interests are closely connected with it.

"The department of commerce, which is authority for these figures, credits the remaining issues to one petroleum, two banking and three public utility corporations. Given a reasonable measure of safety, capital should still flow to Latin America, making itself felt in our foreign trade."

Last party of British trainees to be sent this year to Canada has arrived in Calgary.

MC INTYRE IS CONSTRUCTING 100-TON MILL

Will Give New Milling Methods Practical Test; Laboratory Experiments Successful

Encouraged by laboratory tests, which were quite satisfactory, McIntyre-Porcupine is now setting up a 100 ton mill to give a six months', practical-tonnage, demonstration of the new milling methods being worked out for the company by James J. Denny, its mill superintendent, says the Northern Miner.

It had been officially stated that the new proposals, if as successful as preliminary trials indicate, will revolutionize gold ore reduction methods in Porcupine, and make the present practice obsolete.

"SECRET"

McIntyre executives decline to discuss the new scheme. "That's our secret," they say, "until we know how well it works." But while not saying what equipment is involved they freely admit that the machinery and accessories for a complete 100-ton plant are being set up within the present building. It is presumed that an entirely new flowsheet is not involved but radical departures in important milling phases are in mind.

Six months will be required to complete tonnage tests. That fact indicates that mill expansion——if mill expansion there is to be—cannot see a start on construction before next year.

PRESENT MILL.

McIntyre's present mill, or at least, about half of it, has been in use for about 15 years. Hollinger's and Dome's mills are in large part even older. It is not charged that the structures or their equipment are passe, for they are good for many years, but many milling men have thought they could see room for improvement in methods for some time past. Dome uncertain as t its future, has been satisfied with the good costs and extraction won from its plant, which is more or less unique in the north. And Hollinger, with other matters on its mind and more mill that it currently uses, has bent its efforts toward refinements rather than radical changes. If the Ventures people have the success at depth they hope for the Coniaurum, and larger milling facilities are required there, whatever benefits derive from the new proposals should accrue to that mine.

It may be that McIntyre is on the eve of adding materially to the science of gold recovery the world over, and as every advance in that branch of mining has led to the mining of ore lower in grade than has hitherto been thought of economic character world gold production might be beneficially affected.

It is not konwn whether the 100-ton pilot mill will add materially, if at all, to regular McIntyre production It may divert some of the present mill-feed; that remains to be learned.

New Increases Affect Canadian Products Trade Commissioner Announces

OTTAWA, Aug. 283.——The Canadian government trade commissioner's office at Melbourne, Australia has cabled the department of trade and commerce here that increased Australian customs duties were made operative today on liquors, tobaccos and products, pictures films, petrol, motor chassis, silk and artificial silk piece goods. Canadian imports affected the cable states are unassembled and assembled chassis by ten per cent. The British preferential tariff remain unalterated on artificial silkpiece good. the British preferential increased by five per cent and the intermediate and general tariff by 10 per cent.

Under Canadian-Australian trade agreement the department states, the immediate tariff chassis unassembeld and assembled, is applicable to Canada It is assumed that the percentage increases in the cablegram are ad valorem On this basis the new tariff on chassis unassembled would be 22½ per cent intermediate and 2½ per cent general. They would enter free under the British preferential.

On chassis assembled, the new tariff would be five per cent under the British preferential, 30 per cent under the intermediate and 35 per cent under the general tariff.

WHEAT PRICES, BRISK UPTURN

CHICAGO, Aug. 23—Big buying of United States wheat for shipment over seas led to a brisk upturn in wheat prices today. Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 2½ to 3¾ a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed ⅛ to ¼ up, oats ¼ to ⅞ up and provisions unchanged.

Development of Water Power Now Faces Province

Will Be the Greatest Program Ever Attempted in Western Canada

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 23.—The greatest water-power development programme ever undertaken in Western Canada is now facing British Columbia, with half a dozen important utility corporations involved in the pettons for hydro concessions.

These applications stipulate for the harnessing of 80,000 horsepower additional to that already being utilized. The total electrical output of the province this is being increased by projects now under way from approximately 480,000 to something over 1,-000,000 horsepower, all of which is needed to keep pace with expanding industry.

Most of the present development is being carried out by the two great power companies of British Columbia, the B. C. Power Corporation which owns the power, lighting, gas and street railway franchisee in Vancouver, Victoria, New Westminster and several other centres, and the West Kootenay Power and Light Company, a subsidiary of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, which is an important factor in the development of mines in the interior of the province. Among the other companies applying for rights are the International Utilities Corporation, Canadian Utilities, Ltd., Campbell River Power Company and the Strathcona Power Company.

The B. C. Power Corporation's chief development now under way is at Bridge River, 135 miles north of Vancouver, where two units to produce 30,000 horsepower each, are being installed, but it is expected the ultimate development here will reach 350,000 horsepower, the largest hydro scheme in the west. At the same time this company is carrying on development at Ruskin on the Stave River, to produce 40,000 horsepower and later two additional units of the same size will be installed, making a total of 120,000 horsepower.

Market for Swedish Pulp Is Favorable State Producers

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, August 23—The Swedish manufacturers of both chemical and mechanical pulp report most favorably on the first six months of 1929, and the Swedish Paper Journal states the improvement of the market has fully corresponded to the highest expectations. Thus, for unbleached sulphite cellulose the demand has been so lively several mills have entirely sold out their production for the year, and only four to five per cent of the total output remains unsold, while for 1930 more than half has been sold in advance. The prices, for easy bleaching and strong sulphite have risen by 25 to 30 shillings per ton since the beginning of the year. Of bleached sulphite about 18 per cent. of the entire output remains unsold. As regards suphate cellulose the apprehensions voiced at the beginning of 1929 there would be a general overproduction in the market have disappeared, and only about 15 per cent. of the year's production now remains unsold. Also the sales of mechanical pulp have been satisfactory with firm prices, and foreign buyers manifest considerable interest in the 1930 deliveries.

Great Britain Wishes Peace Says Churchill

EDMONTON, Aug. 23.—Declaring that Great Britain sought nothing but peace in the world, Right Hon. Winston Churchill, former chancellor of the exchequer, delivered a thrilling address at a civic luncheon in his honor here Friday afternoon.

Cheers broke forth when Mr. Churchill, declared, in referring tonaval discussions with the United States that he would urge his countrymen to never put their hand to a treaty that would bind Great Britain to rigid naval parity with any power in the world. "If we cannot agree then let us disagree but not build more than what we reill, declared, in referring to naval dis-

Hon. Mr. Churchill, in referring to the British navy said it had been aggressive against none and had proved the sure shield of liberty during the Great war. He also pointed out that it was the British navy that had grappled with the deadly enemy submarine but despite that warfare it has handled the situation.

Steel Car Has Excellent Day At Montreal

MONTREAL, Aug. 23—Shawinigan had large sales and was up a point at $104.

Steel car showed the greatest gain, advancing ten points net to $91. Sugar preferred suffered the widest loss, declining 14 points net to $50, a new low.

Dominion Bridge was strong throughout the day, selling up to a new high at $115, closing with a net gain of 1½ at that level.

The implements were dull.

Nickel gained a fraction and Brazilian reacted more than a point. The close was firm.

Central Patricia in No. 25 drill hole has an average grade of $10.16 over a true width of 22 feet. Drilling has been done to 250-foot depth and No. 26 hole is now being sunk about 100 feet east of No. 25. Altogether a zone nearly 600 feet has been drilled with good results.

Foster's Weekly Weather Bulletin

WASHINGTON, August 23.—Cool wave centering on 25 will not be expected to go far below normal but will be followed by a sharp rise in average temperatures centering on 28: warm wave centering on 28 will be of short duration and will be followed by a sharp drop in average temperatures that will be expected to continue well into Sept. Storm wave expected to cross continent during week centering on 28, while of mild intensity, will be important as the breeder of a cool, wet period to follow. As this cool period progresses, increase in precipitation will be general over the continent; principal increase in precipitation will be near meridian 90 and eastward from that imaginary line. Both major and minor evaporation points that will be expected to control North American precipitation during September will be located off the coast of southern California, bringing most precipitation to southern and western slopes and land approaching those slopes; influence that will be expected to allocate area of heaviest precipitation of September will be located almost identical to 90th meridian.

Principal cropweather features expected during September will appear in next weekly bulletin. Moon phases of the near future occur as follows, given to nearest hour of Greenwich Civil time; to adjust the time of these phases to your local standard time, count one hour earlier for each fifteen degrees you are located west from Greenwich: Last Quarter August 27 at 20 hours; New Moon September 3 at 12 hours; First Quarter 10 at 23 hours; Full Moon 18 at 23 hours; Last Quarter 26 at 2 hours; New Moon October 2 at 22 hours.

Last July 30, through the A. P., Dr. Seth B. Nicholson, observer at Mount Wilson Observatory said: "A gigantic spot has been discovered near the equator of the sun. It has 80 times the magnetic intensity of ordinary sun spots and 8000 times that of the magnetic field of the earth. This spot is 33,000 miles long and 20,-000 miles wide. This spot will affect the earth again on August 14 and a series of magnetic storms may occur at that time."

That sun spot covered an area greater than the surface of the earth. Nothing more than a storm on the sun, but some storm. Many severe storms occurred on the earth near August 14, striking North America principally in Ontario and New England; also quite a severe earthquake in that section. Scientists who do not wish to acknowledge the electromagnetic theory will claim such things are only co-incident. All large sun spots do not cause severe storms upon the earth, but do have an effect on the earth's magnetic field. At the time a sun spot is formed, if the earth is one of the combination of planets whose relative positions and movements cause the sun spot, then a severe storm will occur on the earth; at times, severe storms at several points on the earth.

GRAIN CUTTING WELL UNDER WAY

Manitoba Will Complete Cut in Week; Peace River Yield 23 Bushels

WINNIPEG, Aug. 23—Grain cutting is well under way throughout the priaries and threshing was made good progress in some sections, according to the weekly crop report issued today by the Canadian Bank of Commerce. The report follows:

Manitoba—Cutting of all grain should be practically completed in a week. Good progress has been made in threshing. Yields of wheat range from 10 to 26 bushels. The estimate for the province is 13 to 14 bushels per acre.

Saskachewan—Cutting is well under way. The average yield for the province is estimated from 7 to 8 bushels, grade four. The oats crop is a disappointment. Yields are not expected to exceed 20 to 25 bushels.

Barley and rye promise a yield of 10 to 25 bushels.

Alberta—In the Peace River district, average yield of 23 bushels per acre is expected. In the remainder of the northern part of the province a yield of 12 to 16 bushels is forecast. In the southwestern section of the central area, crops are yielding 12 to 14 bushels per acre but in other parts a yield of 5 to 8 bushels is about the best hoped for.

In the southwestern part of the province the weather has been hot and the grain is maturing rapidly. Good yields of 30 to 35 bushels in some cases are forecast.

B. C. Cucumbers Must Be Small, Green For Market

The following extract from reports from the Committee of Direction representatives may be of interest:

"Cucumbers: (Edmonton) 12th August, 1929.

"If the British Columbia shippers wish to sell cukes in any large quantities they must be put up small and green. People will not pickle them unless they are small and green. A few large ones can be sold for table use but that would not move the British Columbia crop. ——'s cukes run from 27 to 36 to the case, which is just the size that is wanted.

At the end of last week the jobbers had a meeting at which they decided that they would not put any cars of cukes direct into country towns this year. One reason is that the wheat crop happens to be particularly poor in the districts where most cucumbers are used, but another reason is that the cukes arriving last week on the whole were too ripe to be handled in these country points.

Regina (telegram) 19th instant.

"All British Columbia commodities are arriving in very good shape. Particularly cantaloupes. Trade well pleased with these. Semis still causing lot trouble account arriving overripe and showing considerable decay. Indications point to very active deal Wealthies."

There is a great rush to the new Mammoth mineral field in northern Saskatchewan.

Both Cuthbert and Darling were favored for the final 36 hole match tomorrow. Instead, Shaw and Darling will match shots over the long route for the championship.

Famous Skipper May Compete in Schooner Races

GLOUCHESTER, Mass. Aug. 23—When the fishermen's races are held off this port August 31 and Septmber 2, it is very likely that Captain Martin L. "Marty" Welch, most famous of Gloucester fishermen racing skippers, will be seen at the helm of one of the vessels.

The schooner Progress, owned by the United Fisheries Company, and reported to be one of the fastest of the present fleet in this section, has been entered for the races. Marian J. Cooney, who filed the entry, declared that unless some unforseen development prevented, Captain Welch would be at her wheel when the gun booms for the start.

Captain Welch brought fame to the international races between Gloucester and Nova Scotia and retired when the old Elsie was beaten by the modern Bluenose at Halifax in 1921. The entry of the Progress brings the starting list to four. The others are the schooner Elsie, to be sailed by Capt. Norman Ross; schooner Thomas S. Gorton, Captain Wallace Parsons, and the Mary, Captain Ben Pine.

Four New Yachts to Be Entered in Races at Halifax

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 23.—Four new yachts, three of them 30-footers, all owned by members of the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron, will swing into competition late this week over Halifax waters. Two new boats from Chester, High Tide and Atlanta, are also slated to be at the starting line.

The four new Halifax boats, Swallow, owned by Lieut.-Governor Tory, Blue Heron and Albatross, all 30-footers, and the Highlancer, W. R. MacAskill's new 20-rater, were all designed by W. J. Roue, designer of the famous racing schooner, Bluenose, and also of the Acadia, owned by the Royal Canadian Yacht Club of Toronto.

The four newcomers to the Halifax fleet have added a filip of interest to Harbor racing this season and yachting is booming daily. Interest in the game is picking up throughout the Province, especially in Chester, where new boats are being built to compete with the new Halifax sloops.

Chester has two new boats this season to date, both of which are entered for the Halifax races. They are Grove's High Tide and the Atlanta.

Curious Phenomenon Observed During Yesterday's Storm

A curious phenomenon was observed by several Nelson people during yesterday's thunder storm, when what appeared to be balls of fiery light were seen from the hill sections of the town travelling swiftly down the power lines running into the city near the Granite road. They were first observed about 3 P. M. when the first flashes of lighning were evidenced. Witnesses state that the ball of fire ran in no particular order and from a distance appeared about the size of footballs.

Thrills Expected in Classic Leger

Fifth and Last of Great English Turf Classics Attracts Open Field Without Any Strong Favorites—Walter Gay Scratched

DONCASTER, England, August 23—The best available three-year-olds will go to the post for the St. Leger here on Sept. 11, but the vicissitudes of the dry summer and the absence of some very fine colts will lead to a very open race. The long drought of July and August, resulting in hard training grounds, seriously interfered with preparation for contenders for this great fixture.

The St. Leger is the oldest of the five classics for three-year-olds—it was first run in 1776—and is also longest of biggest event on the turf between Accot and the late Newmarket handicaps, will be worth at least $60,000.

From all appearances, the field will be made up of speedy horses of doubtful stamina, and horses that, while able to last the distance, seem to lack finishing dash. Lord Woolavington's Walter Gay, second in the Epsom Derby, appeared the logical favorite for the St. Leger on his Epsom running, but the handicaps in training resulted in his forced withdrawal. Lord Woolavington his struck this kind of luck so often as to become hardened to it.

Taking these considerations into account, a very interesting race is anticipated. The best of the entrants appear to be Trigo, winner of the Derby; Buland Bala, second in the Grand Prix de Paris; Artist's Proof; Le Voleur, and Mr. Jinks.

Derby winners naturally stand out as commanding entrants in the St. Leger. Trigo really appears the horse to beat. He went the mile and a half of the Derby in comfortable style and the extra quarter miles here should not bother him unduly.

The St. Leger is second only to the Derby—stout Yorkshiremen rank them equal. It is very closely interwoven with the town of Doncaster; indeed the meetings on the Town Moor are an integral part of the town's life. One might almost imagine the chief aim of the Doncaster corporation, in the old days at least, was the promotion of racing and the entertainment of the visitors who came to see it. Even through the Napoleonic wars the St. Leger flourished. And naturally in its long and chequered history, turf epics have arisen. In 1822 Theodore won easily, starting dead lame, and rewarded its venturesome supporters by odds of 1000 to 9. One bet of $5000 to a walking-stick was made.

The odds-on favorite in 1834, Pienipatentiary, winner of the Derby, finished next to last and was found to have been poisoned. Then there was the extraordinary victory of Lord Clifden in 1863, after being 50 lengths behind following a bad start. Nowadays the best horse generally wins but in the old days, when the going was heavier, the jockey had a great deal more to do with it. The race was never run under 3 minutes, 14 seconds until 1888, but since 1899 has always been faster than this time. Coronach, owned by Lord Woolavington, set the record of 3 minutes 1 3-5 seconds in 1926.

'The Foolish Virgin'

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

"I'll write you every night!" he promised fervently. "Seeing you today—well, I know now that there's nobody else!"

They were close to the others.

"Then you'd forgotten that," Pamela could say significantly, cheerfully.

Chester made no attempt to hide his chagrin and self-contempt.

"I'm an ass! But it was all mixed up—it was all—no, it was all my own fault!" he said.

Then Pamela was surrounded, and there was a bustle of good-byes and departures. The Archers and the Beavers and the Lees and the other Archers and the Billingses were going, and it had been so lovely, so charming, so sweet to have the old rancho really opened again—and Pam must telephone, any day—and there must be a lunch at the club—and she must see the new card room. . .

Pamela stood at the patio arch, and Maria ran for wraps, and the big cars, parked in a circle about the outer garden, sputtered and roared and wheeled away, one by one, leaving the oil-stained and wheel - crushed young grass in their wake. It was twilight in the patio, but out here a clear light lingered over the sea, and little red clots of sunshine hung high up in the oaks and eucalyptus. There was a smell of sweet Indian grass and tarweed, and of the first dews on the dry dust.

From the gateway arch Pamela could see the long descending line of barns meeting the long level line of the quiet sea; smoke was rising from the cabins, and men and dogs and babies were idling before the dark little doorways, fed and weary and content, enjoying the last hour of the summer day.

There came to the girl's heart one of those moments of utter felicity that are rare even in the happiest lifetime. The world seemd to smile at her, and her own soul to be reconciled and lifted into the eternal beauty that is always close to the earthly beauty of a spring sunset.

Had she analysed her emotions, she might have said that she was glad to have the social occasion that had given her so much concern successfuly ended, that it was pleasant to be young and fairly comely, standing in the glory of an old adobe doorway, looking down at a gracious June evening ahead were all good things upon which to muse. And above all she might have said that to have Chester back in her life again—nearer and dearer than before, seeking her out for his confidences, sharing with her his troubles, catching her to his heart for his almost angry kisses—that this was the crown of her happiness and the underlying secret of it all.

But she did not analyse tonight; she merely felt. She felt the atmosphere of affection and harmony about her, and she breathed, for a few minutes, the very air of Paradise.

Happiness shone in her face: Sam, Harry, Dick, Kent, saying their good-byes, told her that she was prettier than ever. Chester, who, with the Catherwoods, was the last to go, did not have to say it aloud; his eyes said it.

He escorted his old uncle carefully to the car; there was time merely for his "I'll write tonight!" and Pamela's nod, before Sue Rose and her mother came to say goodbye, last of all.

The patio was deserted now; the guests had drifted away. There was left only Gregory, who was lying on the grass talking to a still alert and untired grandmother, and Charteris, who lay with closed eyes, a half-smile on his lips. Napkins and teacups were strewn about on chairs and ledges, the grass between the flags was trampled flat, and the basket chairs had been scattered at every angle. Pamela thought, with a little prick of mirth, that as soon as the Ctherwoods were gone, now that the tea party was over, the family would have some tea.

Sue Rose, departing with enthusiastic praises, kissed her, and Sue Rose's mother, which was the more amazing, kissed her too. It was an agreeable change in attitude, the wiser and older Pamela reflected, but puzzling. They repeated that she was positively coming in to spend the night next week—any night, any time

Sue Rose was in lemon organdy, with more lemon organdy underneath it and little violet ribbons trailing from a great violet silk chrysanthemum on her shoulder; her hat was lemon stray, with another chrysanthemum on it, and more little velvet ribbons straggling across its transparent gauze brim. Pamela could see the show window, and could hear Sue Rose deciding, "Oh, I want that. I think it's the most adorable thing I ever saw!"

Mrs. Catherwood was in tan: silk gown, silk coat, silk hat, gloves and stockings, all the same shade of coffee and cream. The Catherwoods — mother and daughter—had no other interest in life as vital as that of their clothes.

Mystery Fish Is To Be Studied By Scientists Soon

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 23.—The habits of and life history of the herring and pilchard, mystery fish of British Columbia waters, is to be scientifically studied by a special commission appointed jointly by the Dominion and Provincial Governments, Dr. John L. Hart, noted Canadian fisheries expert who has spent years in studying the whitefish and other species in Ontario lakes, will be in charge of the commission's field work.

Dr. Hart will make a survey of the pilchard situation off the west coast of Vancouver Island as the International Fisheries Commission approached the halibut question and his study will be conducted on both scientific and statistical lines.

It is anticipated that the investigation will require some years to complete for, as in the case of the halibut, Dr. Hart must acquaint himself with the life of the deep sea fish, always a matter of extreme difficulty. It has taken 30 years to develop the facts on the Pacific salmon on which conservation regulations are now drawn, and the salmon is said to be easier to study than the pilchard, which spends its whole life in the open sea except when it comes to the west coast, presumably to feed. Unlike herring, the pilchard does not come to spawn, for it is a pelagic spawner and little or nothing is known of its habits.

Until a few years ago, when the ban on using pilchard for purposes other than human food was lifted, the pilchard was not regarded as commercially valuable. But since then several large fertilizer and oil reduction plants have been established, making exclusive use of pilchards and the industry is rapidly growing.

While here they held a dance at the McBain Lake pavilion which was attended by most of the younger set among the cottagers.

Mr. Burns and his party were planning to motor to Kimberley on Wednesday and return to Calgary on Thursday. They had camped for about a week on the Cummings side of the lake and had gone from here on atour around Spokane and Nelson returning here on Tuesday.

International Note for Dalhousie Reunion

United States Ambassador Phillips to Get Degree

University Was Founded on Funds Collected in Massachusetts by British Customs Men During War of 1912

HALIFAX Aug. 23—Associations which linked the colorful histories of Nova Scotia and Massachusettes from early colonial days when Arcadie was the pawn of rival powers in the struggle for the mastery of a continent will be recalling at the Reunion of the Alumni of Dalhousie University on August 28, 29 30. Dalhousie, the oldest College of British origin in the Dominion of Canada, grew out of the war of 1812-14. It owes its original endowment to the so called "Castine Fund" which was collected in Customs duties in 1814 at the port of Castine on the Southern coast of Maine but then a part of the Colony of Massachusettes. This port was captured by a British military and naval expedition despatched from Halifax to Castine in August 1814 by Sir John Cope Sherbroke, Lieutenant Governor of Novia Scotia and Commander in Chief of the British Forces. When the war ended and the Treaty of Ghent was concluded the British force returned to Halifax, bringing back with them the sum of 11,750 pounds sterling, the net proceeds of the customs collections at Castine. This Castine Fund was applied by the succeeding Lieutenant Governor, George Ramsay the Ninth Earl of Dalhousie, who fought with Wellington at Waterloo, to the founding of the college, bearing his name which was to be open to all without distinction of race creed or color. It was founded on the plan and principle of Edinburgh University, in which, as Lord Dalhousie stated in 1818, "the advantages of a collegiate education will be found within the reach of all classes of society and which will open to all sects of religious persuasions."

EVERY FIVE YEARS

Since the clebration of the Centenary in 1919, Reunions have been held every five years at which some historic association in the life of the University has been commemorated The approaching quintennial Reunion at which sons and daughters of Dalhousie from many points in Canada and the nitUed States will fore-gather, is designed to be of international significance. To signalize the unique associaton of Massachusettes and Nova Scotia in the founding of Dalhousie, and at the same time to exemplify the University's part in the maintenance of friendly relations between Canada and the United States the Senate has tendered th honary degrees of Doctor of Laws to Hon. William Phillip, United States Minister to Canada. Mr. Phillips has signified his acceptance of the honor and will attend in person to receive the degree August 29. The occassion will be the culminating event of the Reunion. The special Convocation at which Dr. A. Stanley MacKenzie, the President of Dalhousie, will cap the nUited States Minister, a son of Massachusettes, will be held in the open air in the afternoon of that day in a natural amphitheatre on the campus at "Studley" It is expected that Mr. Phillips will deliver and address on international relations, and there will be a colorful pageantry commemorating the historic association of thses two outposts of British colonization in the New World.

Another event of interest will be the laying of the corner stone of the new Public Archives Building which is beng erected on the Dalhousie Campus at a cost of two hudred thousand dollars the corner stone will be laid by Hon. Edgar N. Rhodes, Priemier of Novia Scotia, who secured from an anonymous donor in Nova Scotia, the money for the construction of this building. The Dalhousie Board of Governors have given a free site for the building on the nUiversity campus and it is to be entirely fire proof in its construction, wth ample space for the housing and safe keeping of the historical materials of the Province.

BIG PROCESSION

The ceremonial will include a procession in which the Governors, Senate Graduates and undergraduates will assemble at the site of the original college on the Grand Farade where the City Hall now stands, and march to the scene of the new Archives Building to the North and West of the MacDonald Memorial Library. An address on the history of Dalhousie will also be delivered by C. H. Cahan, F. C., M. P., who is a graduate of the Dalhousie Law School.

The three days of the Reunion will be crowded with peculiar assemblies, luncheons, dinners, balls and other events of peculiar interest to Alumni and alumnae, for Dalhousie was one of the first Universities to admit women to its classes and its degrees Among the distinguished graduates who have signified their intenton of attending the Reunion is Hon. Aulay Morrison lately appointed Chief Justice of British Columbia, who was Captain of the Rugby team in the late eighties.

It is the aim of the Governors and Senate jointly to commemorate in a striking way the unique circumstances of the origin of the oldest English University in the Dominion of Canada between the English speaking commonwealths.

When Baby Is Cutting Teeth

The Bowels Become Loose

At this time diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and other bowel troubles manifest themselves; the gums become swollen, and cankers form in the mouth. This is the time when mothers should use "Dr. Fowler's" and perhaps save the baby's life.

Do not experiment with new and untried remedies, but get one that has stood the test of time. This valuable preparation has been on the market for the past eighty-five years.

BIRTHS, DEATHS AND MARRIAGES ON AN INCREASE

During Year 236,194 Births Registered; 4771 More Marriages

A preliminary report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics on the births, deaths and marriages in the nine provinces of Canada during the calendar year 1928, shows increase over the preceding year in all threecategories, the most substantial being in marriages. While the total number of deaths was larger however the deaths of infants under one year of age showed a reduction from the figure of 1927.

The total number of births reported during the year was 237,194 and the total number of deaths 108,939, giving a net natural increase of 127,255 in population during the year which is slightly below the figure (128,896) for the previous year.

An important feature for the year 1928 is the marked increase in marriages over the two previous years, this increase being 4,771 over 1927 and 7,629 over 1926.

The following review gives a comparison of births, infant deaths, total deaths and marriages for 1927 and 1928, (the figures for 1927 in parentheses.)

Living births in 1928 numbered 236,-194 (234,188) made up as follows: Prince Edward Island 1806 (1697); Nova Scotia 10,899 (11,134); New Brunswick 10,024 (10,497); Quebec 83,621 (83,064); Manitoba 14,604 (14,147), Saskatchewan 21,100 21,015); Alberta 15,508 (14,-897); and British Columbia 10,312 (10,084). The birth rate per 1000 of population for the nine provinces was 24.5 (24.6). Prince Edward Island had a rate of 21.0 (19.5); Nova Scotia 19.9 (20.5); New Brunswick 24.2 (25.5); Quebec 31.6 (31.9); Ontario 21.2 21.2); Manitoba 22.1 (21.9); Saskatchewan 24.8 (25.1); Alberta 24.5 (24.1) and British Columbia 17.7 (17.5).

Cranbrook Boy Severly Injured Fall From Horse

CRANBROOK, B. C., Aug. 22.—Elliott Harris, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harris of this city, sustained severe injuries on Wednesday evening as a result of a fall from the horse he was riding. The lad, together with Sam McCreery, was riding in the region of the Alkili Lakes, between three and four miles east of the town, when the horse became unruly and the rider was thrown, landing on his head among rocks beside the trail.

The horse of the injured boy escaped but his companion managed to get him on his mount and with great difficulty got the stunned boy back to his home in the city. The ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the hospital for examination, being then thought to be in a very grave condition.

It was found at the hospital that no bones or fractures had been sustained and, though he was still in a state of dazednes the next morning, it is hoped that he will be lucky enough to escape with bruises and of course the inevitable shock that a fall of that nature occasions.

Society Leader Is Champion in Cause Supplanted Horse

Has Large Stable of Her Own; Vows She Will Bring the Horse Into Its Own

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 23.—Although the automobile has done much to supplant the place of the horse in the commercial and family life of the nation, the equine is again coming into its own in this society center through the efforts of Mrs. Muriel Vanderbilt Church, one of society's most popular leaders.

An enthusiastic sportswoman, adept at tennis and golf as well as boating, Mrs. Church's real outdoor love is horses. She now has 25 horses, all show animals, in her beautiful $150,-000 stables, erected last Fall.

The Church stable is a stable in the fullest sense of the word. Surrounded by its training track and show ring in the rear of the estate, "Dudley Place," at One Mile Corner, Middletown, just over the line from Newport, it is built in the form of a huge hollow rectangle. It contains 18 spacious box stalls as well as equipment rooms and living quarters upstairs for the personnel.

Broad lawns surround the stable, pierced by a circular half mile track where the horses are exercised daily, while to the rear of the stable is a show ring, the equal of which one must go far to find. Within are eight jumps, of which six are picturesque hurdles built in rustic style, the other two being wall sporting print.

Among some of the vehicles which Mrs. Church has in her carriage houses are almost every conceivable type. They range from sulky up through show buggies, phaetons and pony carts to the gleaming black and yellow tally-coach which is now giving the red and black Venture coach owned by Mrs. Church's cousin, State Senator William H. Vanderbilt, a run for picturesque popularity.

If ever a horse lived an aristocratic life, it is here. Around the stable interior are ranged the 18 stalls, each with its Dutch door and large outside window. Over each stall is the name of the inhabitant, while on a little red and white cricket, a vermillion grain bucket bearing the initials of the owner stands outside the stall.

About the enclosure runs a wide tan bark track, while over the stalls runs a hayloft. Above the entrance end are six large rooms used as living quarters by the men who assist the stable superintendent. The latter and his foreman have their own cottages on the grounds.

The trophy room, which already contains a goodly collection of blue ribbons and cups, is adjacent to the harness room which is crowded with every conceivable type of equipment. Beyond these rooms is the private office of Mrs. Church, which appears more like a lovely den, with a huge firplace flanking the further end.

Mrs. Church's stable of 25 show horses includes hunters, hackneys and a polo pony. Among them is Chipmunk, a trotting bred gelding which has been considered by many of the best judges in the United States as the most perfect runabout horse ever shown. There is Wings, a chestnut hunter standing 16 hands, 3 inches high, and his companion Jimmie, another star over the jumps. Beyond are Dragon Fly and Woodcliffe Surprise, two high stepping hackneys that have walked away with many a ribbon either driven side by side or in tandem.

Brrokside Gossip, a spirited little pony who carried off the championship at Brocton last Fall, peers out from his stall, as does Glenaven Halo, a hackney from Scotland, said to be the best over 15.2 in America. Among the rest are Dictator, the stallion, and the mincing chesnuts that draw the Suncloud and Sunstar.

That furniture you don't need will sell if you advertise it in The Daily Daily News classified columns.

NELSON IS ISOLATED FOR A TIME

Rain, Thunder and Lightning Visit City for First Time Since August

First rain since August 2 was gratefully received by Nelson yesterday. Rain poured down on the city intermittently from 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon until after 7 P. M., accompanied by thunder and lightning and a high wind resulted in isolating the cities communication in part and in a complete shut-down of the city power service for perhaps two hours.

For over an hour there was no telegraphic communication between Nelson and the outside world whatever. Trouble was experienced from lightning and breaks in the wires both east andwest of the city. Connections for The Daily News were soon resumed with Calgary and somewhat latter with Vancouver.

Timber falling on the lines of the British Columbia Telephone company towards Ymir and also towards Balfour and Kaslo broke into the long distance service to these points yesterday afternoon. Service to Balfour was resumed early last night, but telephone crews worked between Nelson and Ymir and Balfour and Kaslo were unable to make connections last night. It is expected that lines will be normally functioning early this morning, according to telephone officials.

Electric light lines in front of the tourist camp on High street were blow down and men had to be rushed to the sceene to remedy matters.

Trail experienced only a few scattered drops of rain yesterday and the thunder clouds passed over the city driven by a strong wind within a short time leaving the sky clear.

Maximum temperature yesterday,according to J. S. Goulding local meteorolobist, was under 83,minumum was 46. Rainfall up to 5 P. M. was .20, samething less than one quarter of an inch. The greater part of yesterday's rainfall howesver, occured after 5 P. M. Humidity was naturally high, averaging 66 for the day.

Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Cornell, and Dartmouth have formed an Eastern Intercollegiate Base- League. Thirty games will be played during the 1930 series, starting April 9.
