U.S. PLAN WILL GIVE WORK TO MILLIONS

ARGENTINE AND BRITAIN SIGN TRADE TREATY

Pact Is Third in Series of Agreements With Foreign Countries

NO MENTION IS MADE OF WHEAT

Argentine Declares Benevolent Intentions Toward British Capital

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 2 (CP cable)—The government tonight announced details of an Anglo-Argentine trade pact, third in a series of reciprocal agreements with foreign countries. The treaty, as ratified by parliament, will be effective for three years at least, and will be terminable after that time on six months notice by either nation.

The agreement provides:

1. That the United Kingdom may not restrict imports of Argentine chilled beef below quantities permitted under the Ottawa agreements act, unless it becomes necessary to maintain a remunerative price level and then only after consultation with the Argentine government.

2. The Argentine government undertakes that the full amount of sterling exchanges arising from sale of Argentine products in the United Kingdom, after deduction of a reasonable sum annually toward the service of Argentine public external debts payable to other countries, shall be made available to meet current requirements of the United Kingdom. (At present the sum of £10,000,000 is frozen owing to financial difficulties and consequent peso exchange restrictions.)

3. A supplementary agreement will be concluded before next August 1 regarding customs duties and quotas between the two countries.

NO MENTION OF WHEAT

The agreement was signed yesterday, and it was noticed no mention was made of Argentine wheat.

The pact provides that if it becomes imperative for the United Kingdom to reduce imports of Argentine chilled beef to a level more than 10 per cent below that prescribed in the Ottawa agreements act, the government will consult with the governments of the chief meat exporting countries, including the dominions, with a view to ar-

TIRE COMPANY ON FULL TIME

AKRON, Ohio, May 2 (AP)—All work in plants of the General Tire & Rubber company was stopped for a time today so workers could celebrate inauguration of capacity production. Free cigars, cigarettes and candy were distributed and posters on the walls announced "happy days are here again."

General is working four six-hour shifts a day and officials announced the plant was behind in its orders. No additional help is being employed, however.

Is Non-Commital on Anglo-Japanese Pact

LONDON, May 2.—(AP)—Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade, was non-committal today when he was asked in the commons whether the government would cancel the present Anglo-Japanese goods in this country, the crown colonies and the dominions."

The cabinet minister indicated conversations were proceeding with Japan. "I am not in a position to give the house any details today but hope to make a statement in the near future," he replied.

Built at a cost of $10,000,000, the Washington is equipped to carry 1100 passengers, and will be one of the fastest cabin ships afloat.

CHARGE HOLT SEEKS CONTROL

Opposition Warns Montreal Baron After St. Lawrence Project

OTTAWA, May 2 (CP)—Beauharnois cast its shadow over the political stage again today when opposition members warned the government Sir Herbert Holt, Montreal utility baron, was angling for control of the vast St. Lawrence power project and sought protection for the bondholders.

Three members of the progressive groups—E. J. Garland, Robert Gardiner and J. S. Woodsworth—pressed for expropriation of the Beauharnois power and navigation scheme and its development as a public utility. They were joined by Hon. W. D. Euler, former Liberal minister of national revenue, who suggested the Dominion acquire control through stock purchased with printed currency. This would have the double affect of acquiring the power plant and moderately inflating currency.

NO DEFINITE STATEMENT

Caught unawares when the subject was introduced, Premier R. B. Bennett said he could make no definite statement. "At the appropriate time, if it is thought desirable, a statement will be made," he said. At the same time he announced no licences for export of power from Quebec had been granted or sought from the Dominion. This point had been raised by the progressive speaker.

The Montreal Light, Heat and Power company, with Sir Herbert Holt in control, was seeking control of Beauharnois, it was charged. This corporation was termed by Armand Lavergne, deputy speaker of the house, as "the greatest octupus that ever laid its tenacles on the province of Quebec," by Mr. Gardiner as "a set of gangsters" and by Mr. Garland as "this huge power trust" and "a pirating group of unscrupulous promoters and financiers."

NO CONSIDERATION

Beauharnois bondholders, it was charged, would receive no consideration with Montreal Light, Heat and Power in control of Beauharnois.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former minister of justice, said Quebec province would resent discussion of its own private affairs, of which he claimed Beauharnois was one.

ISSUES DEFY TO MILITARY PATROLS

LE MARS, May 2. (AP).—A defy to the military patrolling two sections of western Iowa following last week's farm rioting came late today from the Cherokee county prosecutor.

County Attorney James Smith at Cherokee, who said he had reports that troops stationed in search of alleged offenders, announced that if such steps were taken the Iowa National guardsmen would be arrested and charged with violence. The Smith declaration asserted there had been no trouble in Cherokee county.

Meanwhile organization of a military council to prepare the cases of the hundred odd farmers arrested by guardsmen in connection with the riots proceeded.

Fines Face Evaders of B.C. Meal Tax

VICTORIA, May 2. (CP). — Teeth were put into the new hospital aid tax on meals today by a series of government regulations providing penalties up to $50 for general infraction of the act and special penalties on those who evade its terms in certain particulars. The regulations cover all matters in relation to the collection, accounting and return of the proceeds of the tax to the government, as trustee of the sum for B. C. hospitals.

The penalty on citizens who refuse or neglect to pay the meal tax when called on will be "not less than $5 and not more than $25." The penalty for restaurant keepers for evasion of the law in any particular will be not less than $10 and not more than $50. The general penalty for infractions not otherwise provided for will not exceed $50.

VIOLATES MINIMUM WAGE ACT; IS FINED

VANCOUVER, May 2—A fine of $25 was imposed in police court on H. Gautche, who was convicted of violating the minimum wage act. The charge arose out of the operation of a beauty parlor. The accused, through his counsel, contended that he had turned the parlor over to his employees and they operated it for themselves, paying him a percentage. Counsel intimated that the conviction might be appealed.

NEGOTIATIONS ON RELIEF OPEN

Certain Matters in 4 Western Provinces Need Readjustment

VICTORIA, May 2 (CP)—Negotiations have been opened for the four western provinces to take joint action in making representations to Ottawa on unemployment relief, it was learned on return of the British Columbia relief delegation from Ottawa.

A conference of representatives of the four provinces may be arranged to draft out a brief for submission to the federal government.

This move arises out of the drain on municipal and provincial treasuries by relief costs, it is understood, and reapportionment of costs in several matters is sought.

Some of the matters which, it is said, require readjustment, are: Bearing cost of relief for transients, proposed on a 50-50 basis by the governments; allowances for taxes to a relief recipient threatened with loss of his home; sharing of administration costs in municipalities by the governments; allowance proposed for medical, dental and oculist services to persons on relief.

Oldest Resident of Manitoba Dies

WINNIPEG, May 2 (CP)—Manitoba's oldest resident, Chayimgershon Zelnikoff, born in 1822, 10 years before the passing of the reform bill, is dead here of pneumonia, aged 111 years. He was a picturesque figure around the Jewish old folk's home where he had lived for 17 years.

With his wife and family Zelnikoff came to Canada from Russia 25 years ago and settled at Edenbridge, Sask. There he farmed until his wife died 17 years ago. Physicians say he should have gone on living. They found no organic disease and pronounced his constitution perfect. Of 13 children, one daughter survives. "Never hurry; don't worry," was his recipe for longevity.

Japan Sure to Ask for Naval Equality

TOKYO, May 3 (Wednesday) (AP) —A foreign office spokesman declared today Japan almost certainly would demand naval equality with the United States and Great Britain in the 1935 naval conference.

"Even Germany is demanding equality in armaments, and there is no reason Japan, which never has been defeated in war should accept a position of naval inferiority," he declared.

He said he was of the opinion the question of relative naval strengths was not likely to be seriously considered at the coming Washington or London parleys or anywhere prior to 1935.

CANADA'S INDIGENT NUMBER 1,600,000

OTTAWA, May 2 (CP)—The number of persons in Canada who are receiving direct relief is placed at "over 1,600,000" by Miss Charlotte Whitton, executive director of the Canadian council on child and family welfare, in her report to the conference meeting here. The monthly cost of this relief Miss Whitton places at approximately $6,000,000.

ARGENTINE-U.S. TALKS STARTED

Trade Restrictions and Armaments Come Into New Prominence

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP).—A fresh attack upon world problems today by President Roosevelt brought trade restrictions and armaments into new prominence.

Tariff walls and the task of controlling surplus wheat production occupied the president in his first talk with Argentina's special envoy, Tomas le Breton.

The arrival tonight of Guido Jung, spokesman for Italy, brought up again the Geneva disarmament conference deadlock and the method of solution.

There is every indication Mr. Roosevelt is looking favorably upon the program for disarmament recently advanced at Geneva by Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain.

This plan has as one provision a proposal for consultation among the nations signatory to the Kellogg-Briand peace pact whenever peace is threatened.

TALK THINGS OVER

It is believed here Mr. Roosevelt is willing, through either a formal note of proclamation, to declare the readiness of the United States to talk things over—as has been done recently—in the event of a war threat.

This would not mean United

WHEAT DELEGATES SAIL FROM U.S.

NEW YORK, May 3 (Wednesday) (AP)—A delegation typifying President Roosevelt's "new deal" to international politics sailed aboard the Bremen early today to participate in a wheat conference at Geneva preliminary to the international economic conference to be held at London in June.

Members of the delegation were Henry Morgenthau of New York, former ambassador to Turkey, Frederick E. Murphy, Minneapolis publisher and farm authority, and George C. Haas of Washington, economist of the federal farm board.

At Geneva they will confer on May 10 with representatives from Argentina, Australia and Canada.

Female Section of Prison Quiet

KINGSTON, Ont., May 2 (CP)—Convicts of Kingston penitentiary quartered in the new female prison were today reported "quiet" after a mild May day celebration that did little except partly upset the equilibrium of the institution.

Hooting, shouting and singing popular songs with a gusto that made their voices clearly heard by passersby on the prison road, the convicts demonstrated until about 9 o'clock last night, when they apparently decided sleep was more to their liking.

ELECTRIC LIGHT GOES ON A CASH PAYMENT BASIS AGAIN AND COLLECTION OF ARREARS

Step Taken by Council After Arrears Reach $27,000, With Revenue Falling; If No Settlement, Cut Off Juice

Collection of electric light arrears, now amounting to over $27,000, has been decided on by the city council as a necessary measure to meeting the startling decline in revenue from the electrical department, and the electrical light service will go back on the cash payment basis, which was departed from during the past year when enforcement by cutting off service became increasingly difficult to apply owing to the stringency.

Failure of the city to apply the penalty of cutting off service is credited to a large extent with the accumulation of the arrears, which amounted at the first of this year to approximately $25,000. Since then there has been a further accumulation, while the electrical revenue has declined startlingly.

Two week ago the council decided on the principle of proceeding to collect arrears and returning to the cash basis, left it to City Clerk W. E. Wasson to work out the form of notice.

FORM OF NOTICE

This was approved by the council at Monday night's session, and will be sent at once to all owing the city for eletrical service. It reads as follows:

"I beg to advise you that you are indebted to the city of Nelson in the amount of——for electric light I am instructed to advise you that settlement of the amount must be made on or before May 15 next.

"If you are unable to meet the full amount by cash payments within this period, it will be necessary to make satisfactory arrangements concerning payment at the city office.

"Failing payment, or the completion of arrangements for settlement, I am instructed to advise you that the service will be discontinued on the 15th of May next, without further notice."

HITLER FORCES NOT MILITARY

Geneva Committee Decides by Majority of One

GENEVA, May 2 (AP)—The disarmament conference committee on armies met one of the most perplexing problems before the conference Monday, when it held Chancellor Adolf Hitler's brown shirted auxiliary police should not be regarded as a military organization.

This decision was approved by a majority of only one.

Great Britain, United States, Italy, Japan, Hungary, Sweden and Holland voted that these police forces, about 50,000 strong, have no military value hence should not be counted as a part of the army which the convention will allow Germany.

France, the three little Entente Nations, Poland, and Spain contended the auxiliaries, who have been specially active in German affairs the last few months, should be regarded as soldiers.

Measures 200 Feet by 60 Feet in Height

SILVERTON, B.C., May 2.—The standard slide which came down during the week, is proving quite an attraction, most people from around the district having visited it. It is somewhere around 200 feet in length and 60 feet in height, and covered with loose earth, fallen trees and debris, giving it the appearance of a huge earth or rock slide, instead of snow.

REGINA, May 2 (CP) —Charles McIntosh, Liberal M. L. A., for Kinistino has been taken into the Anderson government as minister of natural resources. The by-election necessary will be held Monday, May 22 with the nomination day one week earlier, May 15.

Mr. McIntosh joined the government during the last session in protest against the attitude of the Liberal council in respect to coalition.

"He represents," said Premier J. T. M. Anderson in making the announcement today, "a very considerable body of Liberal thought in this province that favors coalition of political parties during the present period of severe economic difficulties.

Socialist Labor Hit Stunning Blow

BERLIN, May 2 (AP).—A stunning blow to Socialist-organized labor was dealt today by the surprize occupation by Nazi storm troopers of all premises throughout Germany of the free trade union, whose aggregate membership is about 4,000,000.

Socialist union leaders were arrested and the brown-shirted Nazi followers of Chancellor Adolf Hitler announced that henceforth trade unions will be national, instead of international, in character.

The lightning raids on the offices were conducted early today under orders of Robert Ley, Nazi member of the reichstag now president of the states council.

WIND DAMAGE IS $2,000,000

63 Dead and More Than 500 Injured as Tornadoes Sweep Crazily

By the Associated Press.

Spasmodic tornadoes that hopped about crazily from Louisiana to Illinois during a two-day assault on the Mississippi Valley left at least 63 dead in their paths, more than 500 injured and property damage in excess of $2,000,000.

The winds got a running start in the Mississippi delta Sunday and for 24 hours wove a weird pattern of destruction in scattered sections from Minden, La., to northwest Illinois.

The dead by states: Louisiana 41; Arkansas 10; Mississippi 7; Illinois 5.

Sunday tornadoes were comparatively mild and were confined to the Mississippi and Arkansas deltas. Eight were killed—seven in Mississippi and one in Arkansas. But Monday, the winds renewed the attack and jumped about from Minden, where at least 35 were killed, to Morrison, Ill. Even Chicago felt fitful gusts of the storm.

People Scurry From Mud and Ash Shower

ROME, May 2 (AP)—Showers of mud and ashes caused inhabitants of Rome and Naples and the intervening country to scurry for cover today.

PIERRE, S.D., May 2 (AP)—Another "gold" rush is on in South Dakota.

Ever since federal authorities reported finding $9360 in currency on the Verne Sanky ranch near Chamberlain, alleged hideout of the gang which received $60,000 ransom for the return of kidnapped Charles Boettcher, wealthy Denver broker, there has been a rush of money seekers to the locality. Armed with picks and shovels, men and women are reported digging in search of more of the ransom money.

Gov. Tom Berry said he had been told the "gold seekers had dug up enough land so it could be "profitably planted with wheat."

Half an hour after midnight they were still at it and there were many fiery exchanges with government members.

LEADERS HAVE THEIR PROGRAM ALMOST READY

Will Lay It Before Roosevelt This Week; Aim Stir Industry

WOULD PERMIT SELF REGULATION

Devote Attention to Protecting Labor and Small Manufacturer

By JAMES P. SELVAGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP).—A widely ramifying plan for mobilizing United States industry in a combined offensive against the depression is to be laid before President Roosevelt this week by leaders who have been studying the question for weeks.

Headed by Senator Wagner of New York, a close friend of the administration, the committee was reported tonight to be nearing completion of a plan to stir industry into activity by permitting self-regulation under the proper government supervision.

With this in view, the group, which is acting as a clearing house for the many depression-cure proposals that have been presented, is studying the anti-trust laws carefully with a view to recommending that trade associations be permitted to weld their industries together into closely knit groups to wipe out "cutthroat competition" and prevent further slashing of wages.

It was said particular attention was being devoted to protecting labor and the small manufacturer, with assurance against monopolies.

MILLIONS TO WORK

On its side, industry was said by James H. Rand, head of the Remington-Rand company, to be prepared to move immediately to put millions to work.

Scores of proposals have been laid before the committee, considered and laid aside as it drove toward a workable plan. Among those which were said to have been eliminated was a proposal that the war industries board of the council of national defence be revived to aid industry.

It is understood the committee is working toward a plan to substitute for the Black 30-hour week bill, which is arousing considerable controversy with many objections centering around the Connery provision that it be made applicable to foreign imports.

Daughter of Harwichport Couple Taken

HARWICHPORT, Mass. May 2 (AP) — Margaret McMath, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil C. McMath, formerly of Detroit, and granddaughter of Francis C. McMath, wealthy Detroit engineer and industrialist and former president of the Canadian Bridge company, was kidnapped today.

Dismissed from her fourth grade schoolroom after a telephone call purporting to be from her father had been received there, the girl entered a large blue automobile driven by a man described as a negro.

No motive for the kidnapping was known to the family. Police, however, believe ransom was the motive because of the reputed wealth of the child's family.

CANADIAN MUSKRATS THREATEN IRISH ELECTRIC SCHEME ON SHANNON RIVER

Imported Animals Escape and Do Damage

By JOSEPH DENNIGAN
Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, May 2 (CP cable).—Canadian muskrats are believed to be threatening the Free State's great hydro-electric scheme on the river Shannon. In an unguarded moment last year the department of agriculture gave permission for the importation of two of the animals from the Dominion.

After a short period of captivity the animals escaped from their owner and last week it was discovered the Free State was afflicted with a pest from which it had hitherto been immune.

Half a dozen of the rats were shot by a Tipperary farmer who observed them on a Shannon embankment and mistook them for otter.

The department of agriculture has ordered an investigation and experts from the department of industry and commerce fear stringent measures will have to be adopted to prevent the pests from damaging the hydro-electric scheme embankments.

The government has promised to introduce a bill in the dail which will make the rats illegal inhabitants of the Free State, believing the present system of licenced importation is inadequate. In the meantime the department of agriculture is to seek advice from the Canadian department of agriculture as to the best means of exterminating the animals.

BURNS CAUSE DEATH OF GIRL

TRAIL, B. C., May 2 — Vilma, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Pastualotto, died in Trail-Tadanac hospital Monday afternoon.

The little girl was seriously burned some time ago when she fell into a bonfire in the Rossland avenue area. She was rushed to hospital for treatment and had been under constant care since. Her father received hand burns at the time the little girl was injured.

Natale Fabbi, hailed into police court on a charge of setting the fire and leaving it without arranging proper supervision pleaded guilty and was fined $7.50. Magistrate Noble Binns set the minimum fine and costs when it was announced Fabbi had agreed to pay all expenses in connection with the child's injury.

1250 Competitors for Trail Festival

Large Number of District Entries

TRAIL, B. C., May 2—Twelve hundred and fifty aspirants to musical honors will compete in Trail this week at the fourth annual Kootenay Musical festival, sponsored this year by the Trail Musical Festival association.

While the majority will be from Trail and Nelson, the festival this year is featured by a large number of district entries. Competitors from Grand Forks on the west to Cranbrook and Kimberley on the east are to take part.

The largest group of entries is in the day school choir classes, in which 600 will compete. Junior choirs comprise 80 more competitors, senior choirs 120, ladies' and male choirs 100, and a boys' choir 20 more.

Four bands will bring 100 individuals into the festival, and two orchestras will add 65. It is estimated that a minimum of 1065 individuals will compete in such group classes.

Remainder of the entries is made up of individual competitors in various classes.

Entries, including those sent in late under the penalty clause, number 190, one more than the figure attained in the Nelson festival a year ago.

TALKS

States would be bound by votes of other nations or that she would vote herself—rather, a consultation in the interests of peace.

On the ground that this does not depart from present United States policy, it is the understanding that the declaration of intention be made by President Roosevelt in a note, not requiring senate ratification, rather than by the formal signing of a consultative treaty. This security assurance has been insisted upon by France.

After concluding his talks with Jung and the representatives of Germany, Japan and China, who are en route here, it is expected affirmative action will be begun at Geneva.

TARIFF PROPOSED

Meanwhile, Norman H. Davis, special ambassador of President Roosevelt, is awaiting tomorrow's return to London of Prime Minister MacDonald to press the United States proposal for a world tariff truce until the London economic conference convening on June 12.

Reports that the president himself might attend the London parley to make a speech were authoritatively disavowed at the White House.

There was increased expectation today that James M. Cox, the 1920 Democratic presidential nominee and former governor of Ohio, would be a member of the United States delegation to London.

Secretary Hull, who has headed the group of advisers with the president in the discussions so far, is regarded as the probable choice to be chairman of the American delegation.

ranging reduction in imports of chilled and frozen meat from all producing countries.

It stipulates imports of Argentine chilled beef may not be reduced to more than 10 per cent below the Ottawa agreements level unless imports of chilled beef or frozen meat from the dominions also are reduced by a percentage equalling the reduction in excess of 10 per cent imposed on the Argentine product.

Restrictions on imports of frozen beef, mutton or lamb from the Argentine below the level set in the Ottawa agreements act may not be imposed unless imports of such meats from the Dominions also are reduced.

The protocol of the treaty says the Argentine government intends to revert in general to tariff rates and duty valuations in force in 1930 as far as goods on which the United Kingdom has asked tariff reductions are concerned. The condition, it emphasizes, applies only insofar as fiscal considerations and the interests of national industries permit. The Argentine also undertakes to make changes in classification of goods in "appropriate" cases.

The Argentine government, further, makes a declaration of benevolent intention toward British capital enterprises within its own borders.

The United Kingdom offers to cooperate with the Argentine in a joint inquiry into the meat trade, and the Argentine government undertakes to establish a special committee to prepare the supplementary agreement before August 1. Representatives of the British government will be invited to take part in deliberations of this committee.

ASTORIA, Ore., May 2. (AP). — White workers at all the fish canneries here held a mass meeting tonight and voted to strike in sympathy with the fishermen's strike against the price of six cents a pound by packers for Chinook salmon. It was expected that about 700 white workers would be affected.

BRITISH SCHOOL TEACHERS SPEAKS MINDS ON ECONOMY AT CONFERENCE

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, May 2. (CP). — British school-teachers have been speaking their minds.

Economy budgets have cut their pay, reduced grants for education made the path of the poor scholar more difficult.

And, in annual conference, the school-teacher has now said what he thinks.

Reports presented to the National Union of Teachers on conditions of certain schools read like the mordant satire of Dickens. In one case, sanitary conditions that reek of the middle ages; in another, a window that leaks so badly that the main schoolroom floor is covered with water after every rainstorm. In a third case, a teacher reported rats ran under the doors; in a fourth, the heating is so poor in the infants' classroom that ink has been known to freeze in the inkwells.

Several teachers complained of poor lighting. One—in modern England—reported there was no proper drinking water and children had to fetch it from a neighboring farm.

"Close the door to the opportunities of the poor," a schoolmaster charged, "and you bottle up forces which will blow you to destruction."

Nor are economy cuts the only trouble.

OBJECT TO WOMEN HEADS

Male teachers object—very strenuously—to having women teachers over their heads. The National association of Schoolmasters has passed a resolution strongly resenting men being called upon to serve under headmistresses and insisting all mixed schools should be under a headmaster.

"A married man," complained J. W. A. Taylor, Liverpool, during the discussion, "cannot serve under a woman if he has a wife worth much. If his wife knows he is taking orders from another woman he is not likely to be very happy in his home."

G. Curruthers, also of Liverpool, told a pathetic story of a schoolmaster who went home one day sick and miserable.

"What is the matter?" questioned his wife.

"Miss Jones has been cross with me," he replied.

And the unfeeling conference laughed.

Puzzles Solved for Thousands of Contract Players Throughout World

NEW YORK, May 2. (AP).—Puzzles were solved today for some 100,000 contract players all over Canada, United States and other parts of the world.

The National Bridge association announced the pars of 16 especially arranged hands used in its world-wide olympic last night. Pairs which had the greatest number of pars will be given national and sectional titles. Here are the pars:

Hand 1—North-South par, four spades bid and made or set one. East-West pars three spades for opponents. A ruff by East must force a trump honor from South so West can make a trump king.

Hand 2—East-West par, seven no trump. Grand slam can be made only at no trump.

Hand 3—East-West par, four hearts bid and made. Game possible only in hearts by cross-ruff.

Hand 4—North-South par, six spades bid and made. End play in diamonds on West.

Hand 5—East-West par, seven spades bid and made. No trump grand small possible.

Hand 6—North-South par, three no trump bid and made by South. Key plan is low spade lead from North hand to South's jack.

Hand 7—East-West par, six diamonds bid and made. Holdup of club ace to get discards.

Hand 8—North-South par, six spades bid and made. Ruff with king of trumps as safety play.

Hand 9—North-South par, four spades bid and made or set one. East-West par three spades for opponents. West's lead of king from kingdeuce of hearts sets the contract.

Hand 10—North-South par, three no trump bid and four made. South must finesse diamond nine as a safety play to prevent east getting the lead.

Hand 11—East-West par, three no trump bid and made. East must holdup a club winner till North is out of them.

Hand 12—East-West par, six hearts bid and made. Opening little slam bid by West. Approach bidding likely to cause an impossible grand slam contract.

Hand 13—East-West par, five clubs bid and made. Trump queen finessed toward ace-ten.

Hand 14—North-South par, four hearts bid and made. Trump king led first. Safety play against bunched trumps.

Hand 15—North-South par, four spades bid and made or set one, East-West par three spades for opponents. Dummy must be forced to ruff so East's king cannot be caught by a finesse.

Hand 16—North-South par, six hearts bid and made. Triple squeeze.

Plan Construction at Ottawa Aid Relief

OTTAWA, May 2. (CP).—Construction of a large office building in Ottawa is planned by the government to relieve unemployment it is learned today.

It would be west of the Confederation building on Wellington street. It is proposed the new structure, which would cost $5,000,000, would be paid for by "transient notes" to be paid off in annual payments instead of the more costly plan of issuing debentures.

It was in reference to such a transaction that Mr. Bennett was speaking last night when he said "I hope to introduce into this house before it rises a measure, not a long one, to give effect to the principle in connection with a matter I mentioned the other day."

WILLIAMS GIVEN JAIL TERM, TRAIL

TRAIL, B. C., May 2—Albert E. B. Williams was sentenced to pay a fine of $300 or to serve three months in jail by Police Magistrate Noble Binns today when he was found guilty of supplying liquor to an interdict. He chose the jail term.

CHIMNEY LIGHTED, EDGEWOOD AVENUE

The fire department's truck and fire fighters were called to 911 Edgewood avenue shortly after 10 o'clock Tuesday night to extinguish a small chimney fire. No damage resulted from the flareup.

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., May 2.—(CP)—The western stocks growers' association will meet in annual convention here May 26. Senator Dan Riley, president, will preside at the meetings.

COUNCIL SAYS THAT RELIEF SCALE MUST STAND AS YET

Proposal to Accept 50 Per Cent Settlement of the Cemetery Arrears Ratified; Condolence for H. Selous

At a late hour Monday night the city council took up the petition of 140 relief workers for reconsideration of the recent action in reducing the relief allowance to the government scale for the summer, as promised the delegation that presented it, but the net result was that the city fathers could not see their way to revoking the step already taken after exhaustive consideration.

The council was a unit in deciding that the government allowance should stand, for all relief workers, and that those in receipt of such relief should be required to work out the government allowance for their several categories at $2 a day.

CEMETERY DEAL

A report from the cemetery committee, recommending clearing up the arrears owing the city by organizations holding plots in the cemetery, principally lodges, but accepting settlements at 50 per cent, was finally adopted by the council after a long debate, in which Alderman Fleming and Mayor S. H. Smythe put forward the view that the debts had been acknowledged and were collectable, and that giving such a concession was encouraging those having dealings with the city to let arrears accumulate.

At one point Alderman Fleming moved that the accounts stand and that the city proceed to collect where necessary, but Alderman J. B. Gray, chairman of the finance committee, argued that the committee had practically made a deal with those affected, having been instructed by the council to take up the matter and as this revealed a majority for accepting the composition, opposition was dropped, and the proposition was ratified.

CONTRACTS FOR UNIFORMS

Tenders were opened from seven local firms in respect to the city's requirements for uniforms. After a lengthy inspection of samples and of prices, the council accepted the grades and prices that seemed to suit the situation. J. A. Gilker received the contract for three police uniforms at $49.50 each, Emory's Limited, was awarded the contract for six street railwaymen's uniforms at $27 each, and the Ideal Tailors will make what ever extra trousers are necessary for the fire department. Other tenderers were J. A. MacDonald, Charles Morris, the Hudson's Bay company, and John T. Pierre.

City Clerk W. E. Wasson was instructed to obtain prices on a car of calcium carbide, as a dressing for the unpaved streets.

HOSPITAL TAG

Permission was granted Kootenay Lake General Hospital Women's auxiliary to hold a tag on "hospital day," May 12, for the benefit of the hospital.

On the recommendation of the city medical officer of health, the council granted the application of W. Riley for a milk dealer's licence, to operate in respect to premises on Ward street.

The city clerk was instructed to write a letter of condolence to the relatives of ex-Mayor Harold Selous, expressing the sense of loss felt in his death.

Tomato Growers Are Optimistic

Small Fruits Looking Good in Sumas and Mission Districts

VICTORIA, May 2 — Government liquor seals are being changed from green to blue. It was learned at the parliament buildings today. The stock of green seals on hand will be used up before the new ones are put into use.

Out of 46 cases of liquor destroyed in a train wreck on the Canadian National 22 miles east of Blue River on April 28, but one gallon jar of Logana was saved, it was reported to the government today. Three cars of the freight train were derailed and two were totally destroyed. The third car, loaded with oranges, was partly salvaged. Four transients with their pockets filled with cigarettes and oranges were found near the wreck and made to disgorge.

Okanagan tomato growers are highly optimistic over prospects of disposing of their crop at much improved prices, it was indicated in reports received here today. Canners on the mainland have contracted for most of the crop in advance at prices better than in previous years.

J. B. Munro, deputy minister of agriculture returned today from a trip through the Fraser valley into Sumas and Mission districts and reports that small fruits look better than expected. Raspberry and Loganberry crops will be somewhat lighter than last year, but the strawberry vines were helped considerably by an excellent rainfall over the week-end.

This downpour brought the early seeded crops right along.

Tries Shelve Pension Amendments a Year

OTTAWA, May 2.—(CP)—Suggestions the amendments to the pension act should be shelved for another year in order to give the present machinery longer to overtake the work in hand, and that the present provisions of the amending bill abolishing the pension tribunal be eliminated, were put before the house of commons committee today by Col. J. L. Ralston (Lib.-Yarmouth Shelburne).

If the thought behind the contemplated abolition of that body was that congestion and avoidable expense had resulted from its operations, then the actual evidence did not bear that out, he said.

J. R. Bowler, general secretary of the Canadian Legion, speaking for that great body of organized veterans, said he opposed the abolition of the tribunals. He recalled it was the veterans who had complained of the administration of pensions act and had brought about the committee of enquiry. The report of Colonel L. F. Sherwood, a member of that committee, had amply austified the veteran's complaints.

FANS WILL PAY BASEBALL FINES

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP).—At the suggestion of an enthusiastic supporter of the Senators, the Washington Post will receive contributions of a dime each from local baseball fans to pay the $100 fines assessed Second Baseman Myer and Pitcher Whitehill, who tangled with the Yankees in the "riot" here last week.

The idea was advanced so that fans could "assure themselves of aggressive baseball on the field, and was endorsed by the Post with this comment: "Aggressiveness on the ball field more than any other single item has served to endear the game to the fans and has been too long lacking on big league diamonds."

Chicken Louisiana—a Roast in Trim

Clear the way—here comes Chicken Louisiana, as the chef cooks it at the New Yorker hotel King Chicken shares his throne with a ring of wild rice and all the other goodies that go with the meal.

You've had roast chicken many times, but have you ever eaten chicken stuffed and served with wild rice and grilled bananas? It is called chicken Louisiana.

To make up the chicken platter the way they serve it 'way down south in Louisiana you put the chicken, all dressed up in fancy colorful paper stockings, on a big platter and place the entire course of food on the platter too.

When you have cooked your wild rice (or you can use plain rice, if you prefer), mold it into shape. It should take second place of importance on your platter, served on lettuce.

The chicken should be flanked by candied sweet potatoes and the outer rim of the platter garnished with the grilled bananas, which you cut in two ways, one banana lengthwise, the other sliced in circles. When serving, it is easy to cut lengthwise bananas in half. You can fry your bananas in butter, if you prefer, but they are better when grilled.

To make the stuffing for a chicken three and a half pounds in weight, use 16 ounces of golden bantam corn ,two eggs beaten a little, a little cream and two green peppers diced. Season with salt, pepper, and if your family likes it, a touch of leeks or onion.

BEHOLD THE MAN, TOPIC

New Members Are Received Into St. Paul's Church

Sunday morning the basis for a sermon given by Rev. T. J. S. Ferguson was Pilate's phrase "Behold the man." The statement was made as Pilate presented Jesus arrayed in the mockery garb of a purple robe and crown of thorns.

The speaker focussed the thoughts on the essential character of Jesus. God was ever seeking to bring a fuller life to each individual.

"As we see the unseen creating power bursting forth in the leaf and the flower in spring time—so in human life God is ever seeking to come to man. In Jesus we see the life in which God came to man in the fullest form."

To live and think as Jesus did and to assimilate His spirit and principles was the highest source of man's joy and strength, the speaker declared.

The holy communion was cited as a symbol that helped toward the Jesus way of living.

New members were received into the church, some by certificate and some by declaration.

Those received by certificate were Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Lowes, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Somers, Ronald Somers, Mrs. M. E. Watts, and John Dingwall. By declaration, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilson, Charles Lequereux, Mose Gergley and Leonard Stewart.

Road Repairs Are On Way at Creston

CRESTON, B. C., May 2.—A start has been made on the repair of one of the worst stretches of the trans-provincial highway, immediately west of the village. The badly worn hard-surface road is being ripped up and will be treated to a couple of coats of gravel, and if funds are available it will later be given a coat of tar. With this repair work done but a few bad spots in the neighborhood of Kitchener require attention. There is no let-up however, in the complaint as to the poor condition of the north and south highway, between Creston and Ryderts-Porthill.

A woman of 70, Mrs. Florence Ada Coxon, first woman mayor of King's Lynn, has been called to the Bar. Numerous men of that age have been called, but Mrs. Coxon is believed to be the first woman.

I.O.O.F. ORDERS ATTEND CHURCH

ROSSLAND, B. C., May 2—Rossland lodge No. 45, I.O.O.F., and Deborah Rebekah lodge, attended divine service Sunday evening at St. Andrew's United church. Preaching from the text "For the measure of a man is as that of an angel," Rev. C. H. Daly spoke of the standard which a man should strive to attain that of the perfect man, Christ Jesus. Only by the pathway of service to others could one mount toward this ideal, and this was one lesson, which Odd Fellowship in connection with all other branches of fraternalism, was trying to inculcate in its membership. When this lesson shall be fully learned by all mankind then will come the day, when the war drums will beat no longer and "battleflags be furled, in the parliament of man, federation of the world." A beautiful anthem was rendered by the choir and a duet by Mrs. William T. Trembath and Mrs. Ernest Morris.

ROBERT IRWIN RECEIVES GIFT

Resigning from his position of secretary of St. Paul's Sunday school, which he held over a period of 16 years, Robert Irwin was the recipient of a farewell gift when the officers and teachers of the Sunday school gathered at a surprise party at the home of Mrs. Sam Burton, Victoria street, recently. The gift was a beautiful leather writing case and was presented by Charles Morris and William G. Stewart.

Mr. Irwin is leaving shortly to join his brother and sister, Joseph and Margaret Irwin, at their Robson ranch.

Craigie Irrigation Official at Creston

CRESTON, B. C., May 2.—East Creston Irrigation district property owners met in annual session on Thursday, with Frank Putman chosen as chairman of the gathering. The chief business was consideration of the balance sheet for the 13-month period ended March 31, which had been audited by J. W. Hamilton, and was explained in detail by L. T. Leveque, the district secretary-treasurer. The accounts showed that the amount spent on maintenance was small while the water supply was abundant throughout the season. Despite the very trying times the orchardist has experienced, the payment of water rates has been fairly satisfactory. J. M. Craigie was re-elected to succeed himself as trustee for a three-year term, and with R. J. Long and L. T. Leveque constitute the trustee board for 1933-34.

Stunt Night Is Hit at Castlegar

CASTLEGAR, B.C., May 2—The Castlegar C.C. had a gala night on the occasion of their Friday stunt night. In all 126 people were in attendance, coming from Robson, Thrums and Kinnaird. Community singing under the leadership of Joe Killough with Ted Pratt at the piano was a great favorite. Acrobatic stunts by a group of boys under the direction of Oscar Christenson, were the most loudly applauded items on the long program. Songs, dances and recitations were heard. Ted Pratt's girls, 10 of them, not all one family, gave some excellent singing. A number of the Robson visitors helped with the program and O. B. Ballard voiced the thanks of the Robsonites for the opportunity of visiting. T. L. Bloomer replying for the C.C.C., thanked those present from the outside for their attendance, and the performers for their freely given services.

GUILD BRIDGE AT ERICKSON SUCCESS

CRESTON, B.C., May 2—Money making social functions at Erickson continue to attract quite generous patronage despite the depression and the fact that this is the season of the year when the orchardist is minus any incoming revenue. Wednesday night last the Erickson Christ church Ladies' Guild had a good turnout for their bridge drive in W. H. Kemp's packing shed at which the high score prizes were captured by Mrs. J. Dodds and H. Cowling, and the consolation honors went to Miss Margaret Fraser and Mr. McNeil. On Saturday the Erickson Ladies' Hospital auxiliary had a well attended daffodil tea at the Erickson school house at which the intake was close to $15. The auxiliary has adopted a resolution that for the future their efforts will be devoted exclusively to raising money to donate to the building fund of the new hospital, which it is anticipated will be erected this year, and be open for patients in the very early fall.

In South Africa in order to prevent the spread of hoof-and-mouth disease, even motor cars have to pass through dips containing disinfectants. These dips were constructed by the roadsides on the exits from the infected district.

England as Well as Canada Puts Limit on Free Speech

Critics of section 98 of the Criminal Code, incorrectly described as an unwarranted restriction on free speech in Canada, have pointed to England as an example which Canada should follow. They are, however, in error in their contention that the laws of that country permit there what section 98 forbids here.

A recent judgment of Mr. Justice Humphreys, one of Britain's most noted judges, makes that fact quite clear. In imposing prison sentences on four Welsh miners charged with conspiring to seduce soldiers from their duty and with distributing Communistic literature, Justice Humphreys made this clear-cut definition of the limitations on so-called free speech:

"A person has liberty to say that the constitution of the country or the religion of the country should be changed, that there should be no religion at all, there ought to be no king, that we ought to have a republic or any other form of government. A person may go as far as that, and so long as he does not offend against the law, nobody can stop him. What persons cannot do, of course, in the course of their criticisms or suggestions to alter the law or the constitution is to advise that they should be done by force or by terrorism. If these persons were engaged as Communists in commenting upon the difference in the constitution of this country and some other countries, they were perfectly entitled to do so, so long as they did not advocate violence or terrorism."

It is quite apparent from this case that England, no more than Canada, permits the advocacy of revolution by force under the guise of political discussion. As it is solely the advocacy of force or violence that the much reviled section 98 proscribes it will be seen at once that it goes no further than the laws of England in the protection of the public against uprising on the part of militant minorities seeking to impose their policies by terrorism and force of arms. Those who advocate change by constitutional means are not affected by its terms.

China's Great Wall

The Great Wall of China has figured in many news dispatches from the Orient in recent months since the Japanese campaign for the occupation of Jehol was commenced. The Japanese contention is that geopraphically the Great Wall is the boundary separating China from Manchuria, or Manchukuo, as it is now called. This contention means the extension of Manchukuo into Inner Mongolia, an extension already accomplished as the Japanese have now advanced to the rampart built two thousand years ago.

The Great Wall was built by the Emperor Tsin Chi. It stretches from the Yellow Sea into Central Asia and is regarded as the most remarkable monument ever reared by man, being 1,500 miles long, traversing high hills sometimes and on occasion passing through deep valleys. According to history, it was constructed by 20,000 soldier-masons who were guarded by 400,000 troops, while 30,000 other men formed a transport and quarry detachment. In other words, some half million men were on duty in carrying on the task for ten years. The Wall is twenty-five feet across the base in parts, twenty-five feet or more high and fifteen feet wide at the top. It was built at a time when China stood in fear of incursions from the north. It was a protection at the time. It is none now, for modern artillery could make breaches whenever necessary.

Eight persons were killed in the Spanish elections, yet we sometimes suffer from the delusion that we have really exciting elections in this country.

FISHING

But give to me a fishing rod,
And a wild river running free,
Where hazel groves and alders nod,
And the happy birds sing wistfully.

For oh! It is a joyous thing,
And makes a lovely singing sound,
And mine is like a zither string,
Stretched taut above the silent ground.

It starts down little ghylls and dells,
And flashes from the mountain's crest.
And there the heather shakes its bells
And calls a tired man to rest!

What the Press Is Saying

THIS IS HOW IT HAPPENED

Some of the rather peculiar statements made by motorists, evidently in all sincerity, in claim forms under their insurance policies, have recently been made public by one of the leading companies. Included among them are the following:

"Cow wandered into car. I was afterwards informed that the cow was half-witted."

"My car was stolen, and I set up a human cry but it has not been recovered."

"A lamp-post bumped my car, damaging it in two places."

"She suddenly saw me, lost her head and we met."

"A truck backed through my windshield into my wife's face."

"I ran into a shop window and sustained injuries to my wife."

"I collided with a stationary street car coming in the opposite direction."

"I misjudged a lady crossing the street."

"The other car collided with mine without giving any warning of his intention."

"I heard a horn blown and was struck in the back—a lady was evidently trying to pass me."

"I unfortunately ran over a pedestrian, and the old gentleman was taken to the hospital much regretting the circumstances."

"Wilful damage was done to the upholstery by rats."

"I thought the side window was down, but it was up as I found out when I put my head through it."

"I cannot pay for the repairs as I am dependent on my mother-in-law, my wife having died three years ago."

"I blew my horn but it would not work as it was stolen."

"A bull was standing by, and a fly must have tickled him as he gored my car."

"If the other driver had stopped a few yards behind himself the accident would not have happened."

"A pedestrian hit me and went underneath my car."

—Toronto Saturday Night.

TO OLD JIM SCHOFIELD

There was a little ceremony at the session at Victoria last Friday which perhaps was better worth remembering than some other things said and done lately in the legislature. The members said goodbye to the "Father of the House." James H. Schofield of Rossland—Trail. Premier Tolmie called him "Jimmie," and Mr. Pattullo said he would be greatly missed, and Mr. Attorney-General Pooley—who will be "Father of the House" himself if he survives (politically speaking) the next election—said there was no whiter man in British Columbia. It was a sincere tribute of affection, honoring alike the men to whom it was given and the men who gave it, and we can remember it to their credit, against the other side of the account.

He has been coming down to the house, session after session, from the Kootenay mining country, for a long time. It is such a long time that the memories of the oldest members run not back to the contrary, and it seems a long time indeed since he was other in that place than "Old Jim Schofield" of Rossland—Trail. It is 26 years since he first came, and we suppose, if it depended on the people of the Kootenay country, he would come again. But he is getting old, and his health is not good, and he has said goodbye to public life.

Let us put this farewell, and the manner of it, to the credit of the men in the legislature, who are so vulnerable to criticism on another side. For what they honored in Old Jim Schofield does really adorn the general life of men. They honored him not for his political eminence, but for his character as a man. They were sorry to see him go from amongst them because he had always been honest and friendly and kind. There was no reservation in the voice of their regret, for he had no enemy there, and perhaps it is hardly in the generous nature of Old Jim Schofield to deal in hatred or scorn with any fellow man at all.

And we can join with them in that regret, and we can say sincerely that we are sorry to see him go. It will be a bad day for our conduct of public affairs when there is no longer room in our public life for men like Jim Schofield of Rossland—Trail.—Vancouver Province.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

IMPORTANCE OF SAVING FIRST SET OF TEETH

One of the mistakes parents and teachers have been making is in thinking that nothing need be done about children's teeth until what is called the sixth year molar tooth arrives, and then the child should "go to the dentist."

Dr. Irene G. Woodcock, prominent New York city dentist, reminds the medical and dental profession that waiting until the child arrives at this age before caring for the teeth is a big mistake.

In the first or milk set of teeth, with their pulps (nerves and blood vessels) so near the surface, decay soon means infection in the pulps, with all the ailments which so easily follow.

What are the ailments which follow tooth decay even in youngsters?

The New York society for the prevention of heart disease has placed the responsibility for heart disease about equally between contagious disease (scarlet fever, measles, diphtheria, and other diseases of childhood) and what is called "focal" infection, that is infection beginning in one place—teeth, tonsils gall bladder, intestine—and carried by the blood to other parts including of course the heart.

What does this mean?

It means that if one-half of all heart disease comes from bad teeth, tonsils, gall bladder and intestine with most of the one-half from the teeth and tonsils, then parents should take their children to the dentist at as early an age as two years instead of waiting until the child is six or more.

Just as there is an organization for the prevention of tuberculosis in children with institutions where children from the homes in which tuberculosis exists or has existed, may be cared for, so should there be a campaign of prevention of heart disease in young children, which aims at preserving the first milk set of teeth. This can be done by means of diet, careful cleansing of the teeth, artificial sunlight and other means.

Dr. Woodcock points out that if this set of teeth is properly cared for, many of the ills that come with the second or permanent set of teeth would be abolished.

Further, if the first set is preserved there will be room for the second set when they come which means much not only to the child's health, but to its appearance also.

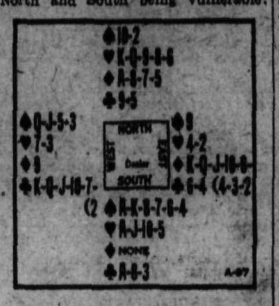
THE FORCING PASS

Within recent years much has been said in expert circles concerning the forcing pass, but the rank and file of Bridge players have not bothered to study a situation which so rarely occurs. A hand played in a recent New York tournament illustrates it better than any hand I have ever noted. The cards were distributed as follows, North and South being vulnerable:



South was a follower of the Official System, so he opened the bidding with two Spades. West bid three Clubs, which North overcalled with three Hearts, and East's four Diamonds was certainly normal. After that, South saw no further need for approaching. His partner's Heart bid, after an adverse bid had relieved him from any obligation to keep the bidding open, made it difficult for South to see how the hand could take less than six Hearts. He made that bid, it was followed by two passes and then the non-vulnerable East, feeling quite sure that the vulnerable South would fulfil his small slam contract, made a sacrifice bid of seven Diamonds. This bid can be defeated and East knows it, but it probably will be a saving proposition compared with permitting North-South to score a small slam worth over 1400. The double of East's seven Diamonds would net the adversaries only 900 (1000 less 100 honors); so the sacrifice was justified.

The Seven Diamond bid placed South in a trying position. Should he risk seven Hearts or double the seven Diamonds? He decided to allow North to take his choice; therefore, he passed, a forcing pass because it virtually said: "Partner, I do not know whether the penalty would adequately remunerate us for giving up the play. There is a chance for a Grand Slam and I am leaving the decision to you. If you think that there is an even chance for a Grand Slam, bid it. If you do not think so, I depend upon you to double."

This put a difficult decision up to North. He knew that South did not have an absolute whale, as he had not opened with the Two-Club Game-Demand bid; but North could be sure that South had very strong Spades and the Ace of Hearts together with a four-card Heart suit. Furthermore, South would not have made the small-slam bid on the preceding round without the Ace of Clubs. Sizing it up, North decided to bid seven Spades, and it will be seen by an analysis of the hand that he had no difficulty in making his contract. North's losing Club was discarded on one of South's Spades which were established after two ruffs by North.

"SHARLIE"

By BEATRICE BURTON

CHAPTER ONE

"What's the difference? Nobody knows where we are," Eddie answered huskily. His blue eyes smiling into hers looked enormous. His face was so close to hers that she could have counted every one of his eyelashes.

His breath was hot against her mouth as he spoke.

"I'm just as crazy as a June bug over you, woman," he murmured. I'm dizzy about you—"

"And, Eddie, you know I am about you," said Sharlie, drawing a long breath. "But let's go out of here—"

She stopped suddenly. Her eyes widened and her whole body became rigid.

Someone was turning the key in the lock of the front door!

"Eddie," she gasped. Someone's opening the front door!—What will we do?" She waved her hands in the air frantically.

It was too late to do anything. The front door had opened and closed. And now somebody was coming across the dining room with quick, light footfalls.

"Hello! Anybody at home?"

At the sound of that voice Sharlie breathed a sigh of relief.

It was Edna Ballinger's voice—and Edna was a good sport. She probably would never breathe a word to a soul about coming home in the middle of the day and finding Sharlie here in her bedroom with Eddie Wallis . . . Sharlie was sure of that.

"I'm here, Edna," she said in a tight little voice as Edna stepped into the narrow hall that ran between the dining room and the bedrooms of the flat.

It was a dim little hall, decorated with tan-and-brown wall paper. But the minute Edna set foot in it she seemed to light it up somehow.

For one thing she was all in white—crisp white tailored suit, white hat and low-heeled white oxfords. Her skin was the dazzling white skin that black-haired women sometimes have.

She had a quick, direct way of looking at people and there was a great deal of light in her steel-blue eyes. Her smile was swift and sudden, and it had a way of putting a great deal more light into her face.

But she was not smiling now.

There was a puzzling frown on her face as she looked at the pair who stood spellbound in the doorway of Sharley's room. Her eyes went from Eddie to Sharlie with her painted lips, her rumpled hair and the stockings that were rolled down around her slim ankles.

"Who is this boy?" she asked her, clipping off her words. "And what on earth is he doing here in your room, Charleen Dunn?"

"Nothing," said Sharlie, flushing.

She gulped and went on:

"His name is Eddie Wallis, Edna. We went to school together . . . I asked him here for lunch . . and here he is. That's all. I—he's been looking at my tennis racket."

The tennis racket lay on the bed where Eddie had tossed it a moment before.

Edna glanced at it.

"I was just telling Eddie that you gave it to me," Sharlie said lamely. "I—I came in here to fix my hair and find an apron. We were just going to get lunch ready."

It hurt her pride to have to explain all this to Edna. After all she was eighteen and it was her own business if she wanted to have Eddie Wallis in for lunch—and suppose he did come into her room to look at the tennis racket? What of it?

She gave her head a defiant little toss.

"Come along, Eddie," she said to him. "You must be starving—We'll fix something for you too, Edna."

Edna shook her head.

"No thanks, I came home because I had a headache all morning. I'm going to lie down for a while." And she vanished into her room at the end of the hall, leaving the door of it wide open.

• • •

"She sure dropped rain all over our party, didn't she?" Eddie asked in an undertone when the two of them were in the neat little kitchen. "Who is she, anyway?"

"My cousin," replied Sharlie. "Her name's Edna Ballinger. She's lived with us ever since I was little. She's pretty, isn't she?"

Eddie shrugged his shoulders.

"Don't ask me," he said gloomily. "I don't think she liked the idea of me being here . . I'm going to beat it!"

He tiptoed into the living room, where he had left his cap.

When he came back he had it on his head in a rakish angle. He was holding a half-pint bottle in his hands. He grinned as he held it up to show it to her.

"Gin," he said softly. "I got it at the drug store on the way over here. I was going to make a drink for you with it—Too bad Cousin Edna grummed up the party."

Sharlie nodded.

"She sure did," she answered mournfully, looking at the plate of sandwiches and the big glass pitcher of iced tea all ready on the kitchen table. "I hate to have things turn out this way the very first time I ask you here."

But she did not want him to stay now. Edna had spoiled everything—Edna, lying in her room with the door open as if she did not trust them!

"You meet me tonight at eight o'clock down here on the corner," Eddie whispered suddenly, his face very close to here. "We'll have our party anyway. We'll go somewhere in the car—and I'll save this stuff!"

He slipped the flat bottle into the pocket of his coat, gave Sharlie one quick hard kiss and was gone.

• • •

When Sharlie went into Edna's room she found her lying stretched out on the bed staring up at the ceiling.

"Your boy friend didn't stay long, Sharlie," she said without turning her head. "I suppose I frightened him away."

Sharlie shook her head with vigor.

"Not a chance. You couldn't frighten Eddie Wallis away. He's not so easily frightened, let me tell you!" A brassy ringing note came into her voice.

"I guess you're right about that," Edna agreed slowly. "He looks pretty hard-boiled. . . Sharlie, what made you sneak a boy like that into this place when you were alone? And then to let him walk into your bedroom!—Sharlie, a nice girl wouldn't dream of doing things like that."

Edna herself was more than merely "nice."

She was good.

She was as good as she was good-looking. And to say that a girl is both beautiful and good is really saying something these days.

Edna was in love with the man she worked for. He was a married man and for six years Edna had been his private secretary. But never once, in those six years of quiet, steady service, Edna had let him know by word or look that she even liked him.

And that is being really good!

"I think you're ashamed of your friendship for that boy, Sharlie," she went on, her eyes still on the ceiling where the sunlight glimmered like water. "And I don't blame you. He wasn't man enough to explain what he was doing in your room just now. He let you do all the talking and just stood there with his mouth open. His shirt was dirty and he reeked of cigarettes. He looked like a corner bum—"

"Well, what if he IS one?" Sharlie broke in all at once, her face flaming, her eyes bright as glass. "I'm one, too! I've met him on street corners plenty of times, and I'm going to meet him on one tonight!—Now what do you think of that Purity League?"

She swung on her high heel and was out of the room like a flash, slamming the door of it behind her. She heard Edna say something as she went. But she couldn't make out what is was.

There was not another word out of Edna that afternoon. From behind the closed doors of her room came the sound of a sigh once or twice—the long, soft sigh of a person who is in a dead sleeep.

"I don't wish her any hard luck, but I hope she sleeps till midnight," said Sharlie to herself.

800 VOTERS ON CRESTON'S LIST

CRESTON, B. C., May 2.—The April revision of the voters' list for the Creston constituency shows a total of just about 2800 qualified voters, which is much the same as for the election in July, 1928. Neither of the old parties has made much of an effort to enroll new voters, and unless this work is speeded up many electors are liable to find themselves not on the voters' list when polling day comes around.

FRONT STREET WIDENING TO BE EFFECTED

Hospital to Donate the 10-Foot Strip on the Curve

CITY TO COUNTER WITH EXTRA WORK

Added Parking Spaces and Widened Entrance to Be Gained

Widening of Front street by an additional 10 feet around the "hospital curve" to increase the safety factor, was assured Monday night of realization, as a relief project, when the city council accepted the stipulations of the board of Kootenay Lake General hospital as to the conditions on which it would donate the land required for the city's program.

The board's terms were contained in a letter from President C. F. McHardy written April 19, and some of the work stipulated, that was contiguous to the relief project on Park street has in fact already been done, as it worked in conveniently with the city's need for large rock for the Edgewood avenue retaining wall.

President McHardy's letter, replying to the city's, which embodied the proposals of City Engineer Boyd C. Affleck as approved by the council, was as follows:

HOSPITAL'S TERMS

"Dear Sir—I have before me your letter of the 12th instant asking for permission to cut away a portion of the hospital grounds, thus widening the street around what is known as the hospital curve, at the junction of Park and Front streets.

"In reply, I beg to state that our board will not meet until May 9, but owing to the fact that your public works department is anxious to get prompt action, I called a joint meeting of our executive and finance committees yesterday and went over the ground, and am prepared to make you an offer which without doubt will receive the endorsement of the full board at its next meeting.

"The joint committee will recommend that the request of the city be granted without monetary consideration, but the following:

"1—That the city will build a retaining wall along Park street, from the entrance to the hospital grounds and along that portion of Front street opposite a point at the northeastern end of the hospital proper, east to the end of the present wall. Between these two retaining walls, a low wall shall be built on top of the high ground. This ground will be raked down with a smooth surface to the edge of the street. All walls shall have a parapet of at least 18 inches, and be properly capped and well built.

"2—All cinders on the north side of the hospital on or near Front street shall be removed.

SECURE PARKING SPACE

"3—Front street, from a point opposite the northeast corner of the hospital (northwest corner of the laundry) east to the end of the present wall and on the same level as the street, so as to make a parking space for visitors' automobiles. This space shall have a coating or surface of cinders.

"4—Steps shall be built from this parking space up to the level of the hospital grounds for the convenience of visitors.

"5—The row of lilac bushes, you need not replant, but may be disposed of as you see fit. The other hedge, however, you must replant at such location as will be designated.

"6—The present sweept on the east side of Park street shall be continued to the entrance to the hospital grounds. The hospital entrance road shall be widened by removing the rock along the eastern side back to approximately where an electric light pole now stands, and a space made for additional parking south of the hospital, up to the bottom of the path leading up to the end of the fire escapes.

"7—The entrance from Park street shall be levelled off and surfaced, which may mean the cutting off the tops of some of the projecting rocks.

"P.S.—It is understood that the work outlined above will be carried forward with due diligence, and fully completed by July 31 next."

EXPECT LAB BE READY AT ONCE

Equipped for All Work Early May Reports Dr. Simmonds

That "complete facilities for public health and other laboratory work" should be available early this month, at the pathological laboratory, was information obtained by the city fathers Monday night from the report of Dr. Ewert G. Simmonds, city medical officer of health, for April.

"One case of measles was reported the last week in March and admitted to the isolation hospital," the report stated. "This patient—from Reno mine—was discharged on April 6. On April 25 two cases of measles were admitted to the isolation hospital from Salmo airport. All these cases occurred in adults and were from outside points. One case of tuberculosis was reported on April 28.

"Routine medical examination of all the students at the Central, Hume and junior high schools has been completed for the current school year. Medical examinations at the senior high school are in progress and will be completed in the course of a few days.

"One hundred and fifty vaccinations have been performed.

DUMP NOT DANGEROUS

"Alderman R. W. Dawson, Dr. F. M. Auld and myself inspected the city dump during the month. Whatever may be said against it from an aesthetic point of view, there can be no danger to the public health arising therefrom. Disease producing organisms would not be likely to exist in the kind of refuse deposited.

"Good progress is being made in the organization of the laboratory. The full equipment has not yet arrived, but complete facilities for public health and laboratory work should be available early in May."

LANE BETTERMENT IS AUTHORIZED IF EASEMENTS GIVEN

Improvements of the lane in block 8, the most easterly block on the south side of Baker street, was authorized by the city council Monday night, after City Engineer Boyd C. Affleck reported that the itemized improvements requested by the property-owners in their petition were practically all necessary, and could be effected for approximately $125.

Authorization was subject to the property-owners executing easements for the two feet they offered to place at the disposal of the city for the purpose of widening the lane.

Mr. Affleck reported he had already received from L. L. Boomer a release respecting changes that would have to be made to his driveway to correspond with the proposed new grade.

CARRIERS RISE AT NEW YORK

Industrials Unable Find New Buyers to Offset the Sales

By JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—Rails offered a tow to a lagging and quieter stock market today, but had to do most of the advancing themselves.

Carrier shares rallied with unusual vigor in the afternoon and closed with a burst of strength for net gains of 1 to 5 points Several other sections of the list, notably industrials, were unable to find enough new buying fully to offset sales, though final prices outside the rail section were above the day's lows and some utilities advanced. Sales totalled 3,894,630 shares.

Professional traders doubtless felt the carrier stocks had been lagging on recent advances and were entitled to a flurry. However, current traffic statistics are showing distinct improvement for half a dozen western roads loaded more freight last week than in the corresponding period of 1932.

Oils weakened under omission of the Socony-Vacuum dividend, which had been 10 cents quarterly. That issue was off 2 points at the worst, while New Jersey and California Standards lost more than a point. Allied Chemical was down 1½. American Telephone closed just under par for a small decline. Metal issues were sluggish.

INCREASE IN WHEAT EXPORT

OTTAWA, May 2 (CP)—Export clearances of wheat for the week ending April 28 showed a large increase over the previous week, and a small increase as compared with the corresponding week of last year, says the weekly report of the Dominion bureau of statistics issued today. An increase was also shown in wheat marketings in the prairie provinces as compared with the previous week.

A slight decrease is noted in the stocks of Canadian wheat in storage for the week ending April 28, as compared with the previous week. On April 28, Canadian visible supply was reported at 219,821,968 bushels compared with 220,371,631 bushels for the previous week and 164,562,278 bushels for the corresponding week last year.

Export clearances of wheat for the week ending April 28 amounted to 4,456,698 bushels compared with 2,444,355 bushels for the previous week and 4,175,340 bushels for the corresponding week last year. From August 1, 1932, to April 28, 1933, export clearances of wheat amounted to 175,284,277 bushels compared with 116,489,221 bushels for the corresponding period in 1931-32.

During the week ending April 28, Sorel cleared 1,022,401 bushels of wheat, the first shipment from this port since the opening of navigation. Clearances from Montreal were larger than during the preceding week with shipments of 1,630,807 bushels and 1,447,490 bushels respectively.

WHEAT UP 2

Takes Sharp About-Face on Chicago Market to New Season High

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor

CHICAGO, May 2 (AP) —Lively right-about-face action ran wheat up about 2 cents a bushel late today to high price records unequalled this season.

Unofficial crop reports indicated notable reduction of United States 1933 spring wheat acreage, and that less than 29,000,000 acres of domestic winter wheat would pay to harvest, the present growth condition being the lowest ever known at this date. Evidence of quickened progress of inflation measures at Washington counted also as a stimulus to wheat price upturns.

Wheat closed nervous, at some setback from the day's top but ⅞-1⅜ above yesterday's finish, corn ¾-1 up, oats ½-½ advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10 cents.

MONTREAL HIGHER ON BROAD FRONT

MONTREAL, May 2 (CP).—Although confined to narrow limits, prices on Montreal stock exchange swept upward along a broad front today.

With the upturn in New York providing the main inspiration, issues moved in a brisk manner. A minor sell-off occurred shortly before noon, but prices rebounded.

Canadian Pacific railway surged forward as a result of strength of the rails in New York. It closed at 16¼, for a gain of 1⅛. Brazilian Traction, active leader, advanced ¼ at 10½.

Base metals were mainly higher although International Nickel was subject to profit-taking and recorded a loss. Consolidated Smelters established a new high at 95, but finished the day at 94, an advance of a point. Nickel lost 5c at 13.70. Hollinger gained 30c at 9.20.

MINES FIRM CONSIDERABLY

TORONTO, May 2 (CP)—Activity centered in the leading gold shares on the Standard mining market today and the whole list firmed up considerably, supported by a generally strong tone in New York and by good buying of gold shares in that market. Base metals were slightly unsteady and closed with unimportant changes except for moderate weakness in International Nickel. Silver shares met with fair buying but made no headway on the upside.

McIntyre turned in the best advance, closing $1 higher at $29. Hollinger gained 15 cents to 9.05, Lake Shore 85 cents to $37, Pioneer 10 to $8 while Teck Hughes advanced 5 to 4.40 and Wright Hargreaves, although a heavy trader, lost 2 to 4.93.

International Nickel was practically the only unsteady spot in the base metal group, and the big producer closed only 20 cents down at 15.60. Noranda finished 35 better at 27.60. Hudson Bay moved up 10 to 4.60. Sherrit was a leader among the cheaper copper issues, trading 14,000 shares and showing a gain of 2 to 59. Silver stocks were quiet but steady.

BRALORNE MAKES 55 CENT ADVANCE

VANCOUVER, May 2 (CP).—Gold stocks were in demand on the Vancouver stock exchange today. Opening at $5.10 this morning Bralorne gained steadily and reached a new all time high of $5.80 in the afternoon trading. It closed at $5.65, up 55c from yesterday's final price. Reno advanced 10 points to $1.14 and Bridge River gained 1½ at 15¼. Pioneer lost 5c at $7.95 and Cariboo Gold, in the curb market was down 20c at $1.75.

Royalite made the best gain in the oil section, closing at $8.40, up 40c. Mayland gained 10, closing at 46c, McLeod and Sterling Pacific were each up 2c at 35c and 20c respectively and A.P. Consolidated closed at 12c, up 1c.

The base metals were quiet with only fractional changes and in the industrial group Breweries and Distilleries lost 10c at $1.25 and Coast Breweries closed unchanged.

BULLS SEND WHEAT HIGHER

Many Sources of Support Boosts Prices Two Cents Higher

WINNIPEG, May 2 (CP).—Getting underway at mid-session, and gaining momentum as it went along, a fresh "bull" movement that gathered support from many sources sent wheat futures soaring again on the Winnipeg grain market today to mark up advances of as much as 2c.

Trading quickened to a rapid-fire pace as successive waves of buying orders from New York, Chicago and local traders poured a steady stream into the pit. Though fractions were lost as the usual profit-taking made its appearance in the late dealings, values still were 1⅞c to 2c above the previous close at the finish. May future at 61½, July 62½ and October 64⅝ cents. May scored a new season's high mark in its advance. No export sales were confirmed.

STERLING STEADY; DOLLAR IS DOWN

NEW YORK, May 2 (CP).—British currencies fluctuated narrowly on the New York foreign exchange market today. After its sweeping advance of the last few days, the pound sterling was quiet and comparatively steady, moving within a range of 2c to close near its high for the day at $3.89⅝, up ⅝. The Canadian dollar lost 7-16c at 87 9-16. The premium on United States funds advanced to 14 3-16 per cent.

SECONDARY RAIL LOANS MOVE UP

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—Secondary railway loans resumed their leadership in the bond market today by scoring gains of one to five or more points and, at the same time, United States government securities rallied smartly. The average for 60 domestic corporate loans advanced half a point.

The revival of the rails was attributed largely to reports of substantially increased traffic on some of the leading lines, as well as improved sentiment regarding the administration's carrier coordination plans.

Canadian Cattle Leave for Britain

MONTREAL, May 2 (CP)—A total of 2060 head of cattle will leave Montreal for the United Kingdom this week. Five boats will sail during the week carrying Canadian cattle to United Kingdom ports. The Glenworth leaves tomorrow with 500 head, bound for Liverpool. The Manchester Brigade will sail for Birkenhead on Thursday with 450 head. On Friday and Saturday the Siluaria and Kastalia will depart for Glasgow and Cardiff, respectively with an aggregate of 560 head and on Saturday 460 head will sail for Glasgow via the Dunaff head. These shipments will bring the 1933 total to 12,507 head.

Industrial Stocks Hold Strong Front

TORONTO, May 2 (CP)—Industrial stocks maintained a strong front throughout today's session of the Toronto stock exchange, with volume holding about double the average turnover of recent months and gains well in the majority. More than a dozen issues attained new top prices for the year but the best figures were shaded by profit-selling in the last half hour.

Chief interest again centered in the oil group with Imperial the leader. Both Imperial and British American closed at their best prices for the day, B.A. at 9⅞, up ⅛ and Imperial up ⅜ at 11⅛ in a turnover of more than 12,000 shares. International Pete dropped ⅛ to 14⅝ and McColl Frontenac had a strong close at 10.

In the interlisted group, C.P.R. took the lead away from International Nickel, the big rail moving up to 16¼ for a gain of 1¼ and a turnover of more than 6000 shares.

Substantial gains were registered for the steels and the utilities while the foods were firm and mostly unchanged.

HOOP TEAMS MEET TONIGHT EVEN-ALL

VICTORIA, May 2 (CP)—Standing all square with a game each Windsor-Walkerville Alumni, eastern finalists, and Victoria Blue Ribbons, western representatives, meet here tomorrow night in the third game of the Canadian men's senior basketball championship.

After dropping the initial game Saturday night 40-24, Ribbons showed a complete reversal of form and turned back the eastern invaders 38-32 in a hectic struggle last night to tie up the three-out-of-five-game series. With their star playmaker and scorer, Lynn Patrick, on the floor after an illness which kept him out of the first contest, Ribbons showed a fast moving attack that carried them to victory.

The eastern titlists were taken by surprise by the determined assault of the British Columbians in the early stages of last night's encounter. With their brilliant screening play of little use Alumni trailed Ribbons from the first quarter to the final whistle refusing to be drawn out and sticking to their methodical system. Where Ribbons tossed for field goals from close in and mid-floor the Alumni worked in close before shooting.

HOOKS and SLIDES by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

PREAKNESS POINTERS

The value of the Preakness which is to be run May 13, a week after the Kentucky Derby, has been cut to $25,000 . . . that brings it back to near the amount Man 'o War got for it in 1920, which was $23,000 . . . the high point was $60,000 in 1928, when Victorian won it.

But the Woodlawn vase will be up for competition again . . . the old silver trophy, made in 1860 by Col. R. A. Alexander of Kentucky, was buried during the Civil war with the remainder of the family plate at Woodlawn, the colonel's home. . . . the winner is entitled to keep the trophy, but it has been returned from year to year.

• • •

GOVERNOR SURPRISES

As a turf event, the Preakness antedates the Kentucky Derby . . . At a dinner given in 1868, Governor Bowie of Maryland, who also was president of the Maryland Jockey club, wowed the boys out of their chairs by announcing an offer of a purse of $15,000 to be added to a sweepstake of $1000 each, for three-year-olds, to be run at the autumn meeting at Pimlico in October, 1870 . . . it was to be called the Dinner Party stakes . . . there were 30 subscribers to the stake, but only seven horses started.

The winner was Preakness, a bay colt by the immortal Lexington out of Bay Leaf, owned by M. H. Sanford. The distance was two miles, and the time, over a heavy track, was 3:47½.

• • •

LOTS OF ENTRIES

In 1918 the Preakness was so popular that it was necessary to run the race in two divisions, with $15,000 added to each event. It was not until 1919 that the added money was increased to $25,000. That was the year Sir Barton galloped into history by winning both the Preakness and the Derby.

The longest priced winner of a Preakness was Nellie Morse in 1924, and the payoff was $45.60 on each $2 ticket. Man o' War was a hot favorite, refunding $3.60 on each $2 ticket, or 80 cents to $1. But back in '89, Buddhist paid 1 to 30, in a two-horse race.

• • •

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

The earliest international race between British and American horses was run April 25, 1829, near Cambridge, England . . . the contestants were Rattler, a trotter that had scored a series of victories on tracks in the eastern part of the United States, and Miss Turner, a mare owned by a Welshman . . . the distance was 10 miles over the Cambridge-Godmanchester road . . . the purse, including side bets, was $2000 . . . the mare was given a one-minute start. . . . Rattler won by 60 yards, covering the 10 miles in 30 minutes and 40 seconds.

MONTREAL, May 2 (CP). — A slightly firmer tone in wholesale butter prices prevailed on the Montreal dairy and produce market today. No. 1 regraded, which quoted at 22c a pound yesterday sold today for 22c to 22½c a pound. Lightness in receipts caused the small rise. Offerings were only 239 boxes.

Prices in the egg market were slightly lower than yesterday. The general quotation was 16½c to 16¾c for extras, 14½c to 14¾c for firsts, and 12½c to 12¾c for seconds, for graded shipments in carlots or less. Arrivals amounted to 2362 cases.

WHO'LL WEAR '33 NAT'L OPEN CROWN?

By AL DEMARET

Who will win the National Open Golf Championship? This will be played June 8th, 9th and 10th at the North Shore Golf Club near Chicago.

Will Sarazen repeat or will Hagen or Armour crash through? Or some of the younger stars like Dutra, Smith or Runyan? Whoever does will have a tough golf course to score on. There is comparatively little roll at North Shore on account of the sprinkling system. There are 450 permanent sprinkler heads located on the eighteen fairways.

Someone asked if there was not danger of a player's ball frequently coming to rest on a sprinkler head—an unplayable lie? Gene Conley, chairman of the Publicity Committee says not. He has figured to his satisfaction that the chance of a player's ball stopping on sprinkler head is only 1 in 90,000. Figure it out yourself.

WRIGHT BEATS GILBERT NUNNS

TORONTO, May 2 (CP) —Dr. Jack Wright, Vancouver, today made sure he will be one of Canada's singles payers in the Davis cup tennis matches against Cuba by defeating Gilbert Nunns, Toronto, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4 in a test match at the Toronto Lawn Tennis club.

Dr. Wright showed better form than his rival and was particularly good overhead. Nunns played a good baseline game, but many of his shots found the net.

Dr. Wright left tonight for Hot Springs to join Marcel Rainville, Montreal's representative of the team, in practice before the matches begin on May 11. Nunns will leave later.

LARGE CREELS AT THE POOL

Some Nelson and Trail Anglers Get Limit; Use Locusts

Traditions of the South Slocan Pool for being good to the trout fishermen on May 1, the opening day of the regular fishing season, were more than borne out Monday, when a large number of disciples of Izaak Walton from Nelson and Trail, and the local communities successfully lured the lusty rainbows, and three or four actually obtained the limit creel of 15 trout, from the rough water of the rapid.

The fish were conspicuously on the large side, and better than the average of recent seasons, the live locusts offered to them evidently just hitting the spot.

While the water is rising, the rolly stage is a long distance away, and the fishermen are looking for their luck to hold. With the warmer weather the artificial flies will succeed the locust as the successful lure.

Excellent catches were made at various other points on the river, both above Grohman and below Corra Linn. Al Trigillus got the limit near Groham rapid, using artificial flies, which are taken earlier there.

Fishing in the lakes was opened April 15, for the benefit of the unemployed, the traditional date was adhered to for the Kootenay river.

NURSES HONOR MISS O'BRIEN

Miss K. Ethel Gray Gives Account of Victoria Convention

A presentation to Miss C. O'Brien, who is to leave for Tranquille shortly, and an account of the recent graduate nurses' convention at Victoria, given by Superintendent Miss K. Ethel Gray, were features of the regular meeting of the Graduate Nurses' association held at the home Monday afternoon.

The action of the private duty nurses in voluntarily reducing their scale of remuneration was unanimously approved by members of the association. Mrs. J. P. Gussin extended an invitation to the graduates and the graduating class to attend a tea at her home at the end of the month. Miss M. J. Leslie was elected to take charge of arrangements for the annual dinner, honoring the graduating class.

Mrs. Gladys Webb Foster gave violin selections and at the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Miss Eidt.

Miss Gray, in speaking of the Victoria convention announced that Miss Mabel Gray, assistant director of nursing at the University of British Columbia, was elected president of the B.C. association by acclamation. Miss Elenora Thomson, president of the American Nurses' association, was a guest of honor and gave an address on the value of an occasional appraisal by the whole nursing profession as well as the individual nurse, of the relation of the profession to the patient, the physician and the hospital. She emphasized the importance of visualizing the nursing profession as an art as well as a science. Among the other speakers at the convention were Dr. Neil MacDougall, Miss Grace Fairley, Miss Duffield and Miss Mary Campbell. Many instructive and interesting points mentioned by the speaker were retold by Miss Gray to the Nelson association. Miss Gray received a vote of thanks for her address.

Cuban Soldiers Hurt in Skirmish

SANTIAGO, Cuba, May 2. (AP).—Several soldiers were wounded, two seriously, in a brush with rebel's near San Luis, Oriente province, tonight.

The rebels were believed to be members of the group that attacked San Luis in last Saturday's disorders in the province.

Whethered they suffered any casualties was not determined.

TECHNOCRACY IS BACK WITH BEER

NEW YORK, May 2.—With beer back, the brewers are experimenting with extra-special beverages for the top-hat-and-ermine trade. While ordinary brews may sell for a nickel a glass, a few allegedly superior varieties will bring twenty-five cents the foil-wrapped bottle—and even fifty cents in the big hotels. . . . Many a debbie and dandy is trying to cultivate a taste for the strange liquid which seems slated, for the first time, for social prestige. Costly taprooms are being installed in some of Park Avenue's pent-houses. In one building two wealthy bachelors occupying duplexes have converted a little storeroom into a twenty-second-story "cellar" from which draught beer will flow through copper pipes into both their kitchenettes.

Theatre managers are hoping they will be permitted to sell it between acts, fearful that, otherwise, diversionists will flock to the beer gardens for refreshment and vaudeville entertainment . . . Most of the London playhouses, and some of those in Paris, have bars, with barmaids who also serve up sparkling gossip about the stars in the shows. . . Anyway, American managers are certain that, as of old, there will be a place next door to each theatre, with buzzers to announce the end of intermissions.

As literally scores of Broadway promoters plan to exploit it, the Gay Way fears that it may be turned into Beer Alley. In addition to various parlors and gardens, the street may be cluttered with automatic beverage vendors, nicknamed "technocratic bartenders." For a nickel in the slot of a shiny machine, the customer sees a paper cup swing into place and fill from a jet of amber liquid. Then the foam is scraped off the top and a revolving platform brings the cup before a little door, which clicks open. Nearly everybody but Roy Jackson, inventor of the contraption, shudders at the thought of all this. Unless the automatons are all named Gus, and are equipped to argue the chances of the Yankees and the Cardinals, and will agree that it's a hot day, all right, and will confide their choice for the fourth race at Pimlico, and will buy a round on the house once in a while—unless these mechanistic marvels can do all such things, Broadway hopes they'll be declared illegal.

"ACH DU LIEBER"

With beer the brauhauses in the theatre district and up in the German section called Yorkville are practicing their schnitzelbank and Tyrolean fol-de-rol. Among the best are Maxi's Braus Tuberl, Cafe Zeppelin and the Restaurant Platz'l, all on 86th street; Suesskind's, on Lexington avenue, famous for its sauerbraten made by an old and secret recipe; the Brewery restaurant, in the old Peter Doelger brewery building on East Fifty-fifth street; the Franziskaner, and the Turtle Bay, both on Second avenue; Luchow's, on East Fourteenth street—and many another. Jack Kennedy's taproom, until recently a chop house, now has a corps of a dozen pretty barmaids practicing with steins of more-or-less near beer.

Luchow's, by the way, is the oldest such establishment extant, and rich tradition dating back to 1882 has done much to keep it from being spoiled by the noisy artificialities elsewhere. There are several large chairs occupied by large people. There are big paintings on the walls, and huge mirrors. The waiters, most of them looking overstuffed, hand out menu cards two feet long listing hundreds of German dishes.

Here as at Suesskind's the sauerbraten mit kartoffelklossen (pot roast and potato pancakes) is a prize dish. The orchestra still plays Wagner and Beethoven, and Hans Luchow still talks of the days when the clientele included Victor Herbert, De Pachmann and Richard Strauss.

Another famous place is down at Coney Island—Feltman's Deutscher Garten—where in the old days more beer was consumed than in any other establishment in the world. Charles Feltman, son of the founder, presides over a two-square-block area of tree-shaded tables, with battalions of stein-juggling waiters and Alpine yodelers.

Across the river in picturesque Hoboken, the return of legal beer brings little change. For there the swinging doors have continued to swing through the dry years. Fat burghers have lined the bars of sawdust-floored saloons, and hausfraus have brought pails to the side doors of an evening.

The wind reached its maximum velocity on the third when it blew 35 miles per hour from the southeast. The maximum temperature for the month, 74 degrees, was recorded on the 25th and the minimum, 25 degrees, on the fourth.

River, Stay 'Way From My Door

Storms in the Pennsylvania mountains gave Pittsburgh a $300,000 taste of spring flood. Barges piled up against bridges, dams were washed out and scores of families were driven from homes. Here's a downtown street, with residents imploring the river to stay away from their doors.

Meal Tax Evasions to Be Investigated

Make Charge on Monthly Board

VICTORIA, May 2 (CP)—Regulations governing the meal tax are expected to be issued in a day or so. It is understood that every possibility of evasion has been thoroughly investigated. Cover charges, it is said, may only be made for entertainments. A person buying a 65 meal ticket must pay 25 cents tax although meals may average only 35 cents.

One unsatisfactory feature of the tax it is understood is found in the monthly charge for board. A person paying $30 per month for meals will pay $1.50 although the daily average is but $1 and the average meal costs but 33 1-3 cents.

In private clubs where a group of members congregate around a table at luncheon time and shake dice to see who acts as host for the entire party it is said the regulations call for the tax on the total bill and that the steward of the club must make out a separate check for the party or tack all the checks together and stamp the top one. This means work for the auditors.

It is uncertain yet what attitude the government will adopt toward cafe proprietors absorbing the tax. Unofficially it is understood that the regulations being grought down are not wholly in accord with this idea. When asked concerning this angle, one government official said that proprietors of eating places would do well to study and follow the regulations. Pending the official publication of the regulations it is not known what penalties attach to refusal of a patron to pay the tax but it was intimated that arrests and prosecution would follow such course. The legislation will be enforced and inspectors will make periodical visits to the various eating places in large centers, while provincial police probably will be asked to enforce the regulations in outlying districts.

COMMONS PASS THE SUGAR TAX

OTTAWA, May 2. (CP).—The two-cent sugar tax passed the house of commons today after demands from Liberals for a general retrenchment scheme to trim costs of government. Official Ottawa, said Hon. James Malcolm, former minister of trade and commerce, should take a lesson from private business and cut its overhead. He instanced the 34th research laboratories operated in various government departments and, at the same time, a National research council equipped to handle the same work.

The sugar tax was under constant fire most of the day. Finance Minister E. N. Rhodes said he was unable to accept various suggestions to modify it but introduced one budget resolution to lessen the taxation burden. It would exempt 10-pound purchases or less of glucose, grape, corn and sugar cane syrups from the one and two-cent excise taxes. This raised the exemption from five pound purchases.

Charge 3 With Ruining Painting

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, May 2. (CP).—Three members of the Protestant league were charged in police court today with slashing and throwing paint on a picture of King William III on exhibition in Ulster's new parliament house.

Police said the painting by a Dutch artist, was destroyed because an ecclesiastical figure in it said to represent a pope. It had been the center of a heated controversy and was denounced at a Protestant league demonstration here last night when its removal was demanded.

NO COMPARISON IN HITLERISM AND FASCISM

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP) —Guido Jung declined to answer most questions put to him today when he arrived from Italy to confer with President Roosevelt over world economic matters, but here is one he did answer.

"How do Fascism and Hitlerism compare?" he was asked.

"As a 10-year-old child compares with a new-born baby," the Italian representative replied with a grin.

"Are they children of the same father?" someone asked.

Minister Jung answered that one with a question:

"How can there be one father for two different peoples?"

HOMESTAKE MAY BE WORKED YET

Hecla People Investigate; Union About Exhausted

The entire report of the Hecla Mining company was read at the annual meeting of the stockholders in Spokane last week. Among other details, it showed that the current assets aggregated $1,124,492, of which $879,906 was in United States government securities at cost. The working assets were $136,444, of which $6448 was in prepaid insurance and $129,996 in materials and supplies.

In the course of his address to the stockholders, President McCarthy said there was no plan for a departure from the policy of the last year, referring to operation and employment. The Union mine, near Grand Forks, B. C., from which the Hecla emerged with a net profit of $63,000, had been exhausted except for 2000 tons of gold bearing ore in the stopes, which would be shipped.

SOME GOLD VALUES EXCEED

About 300 feet from the Union was the Homestake, on which the company has an option to purchase and which was responding favorably to development by hand that had attained a depth of 100 feet by shaft. The vein is 20 feet wide in places. There are two feet of high grade and some of the values found have been as high as $106 to the ton, mainly in gold.

A year would be occupied in opening the ground to an extent that would disclose whether it was a mine or a prospect, Mr. McCarthy said. Work will be continued by hand until conditions warrant the use of machinery.

OFFICERS ELECTED

The retiring board was re-elected. Its members are James F. McCarthy, president and treasurer; L. E. Hanley vice-president and secretary, Wallace, Idaho; William G. Hanson, Clarence F. Kipp, George P. Mayer and Arthur J. Pellette of Milwaukee and A. W. Witherspoon of Spokane. Leo J. Hoban was renamed assistant secretary and treasurer.—Grand Forks Gazette.

More Canadian farmers are learning each year to produce timothy seed instead of timothy hay, whenever the hay crop prospects in the United States and in the United Kingdom are reported as promising, and therefore unpromising from Canadian point of view.

The telephone was invented in Canada, and the first talk was conducted between Brantford and Aris, Ontario; a distance of eight miles.

The spectacular rise of the W arm lake level of the past days was checked slightly Tuesd The advance for a 24 hour pe ending at noon was four and t quarter inches as compared w advances of over seven inches corded Saturday, Sunday and M day. This brings the level to the feet mark.

A coincidence in connection w Tuesday's level is that it was ex ly the same as the reading taken the same day last year. The for May 2, 1932, however, was fractional. Last year the lake st ed to rise much earlier and daily advances were much slowe
