Typhoon Lashes Japanese Coast

THREE KILLED IN LANDSLIDE AT YOKOHAMA

Buries 30 Houses; 500 Houses Burn at Suzukawa

RAILROADS RESUME CRIPPLED SERVICES

Death Toll Expected to Mount Through Fishing Boats Lost

TOKYO, Nov. 15 (AP)—Three deaths in a Yokohama landslide and scores of injuries in Yokohama, Tokyo and Numazu were the only known casualties this afternoon from a typhoon which has raged along the Japanese coast although possible losses of fishing boats may increase the death toll.

The typhoon, the severest since 1917, struck Hondo, the main Japanese island, near Numazu after lashing the Loochoo islands. Communications were being slowly restored. Messages indicated widespread damage around Tokyo in a radius of 100 miles. Telephone and telegraph wires were down. Several towns spent the night in darkness.

Railroads were resuming badly crippled service.

The landslide at Yokohama buried 30 houses. At Suzukawa, northwest of Numatsu, 500 houses were destroyed by fire fanned by strong winds.

The main railway between Tokyo and Osaka was temporarily suspended.

The freighter Unkai Maru, 3070 tons, bound for Yokohama from Hokkaido, flashed a distress call tonight, reporting it was caught in the typhoon.

NEW BRITISH DUTIES PLACED ON FREE STATE

Range From 10 to 50 Per Cent; Lose the British Preference

LONDON, Nov. 15.—(Tuesday)—(CP Cable)—Expiration of imperial preferences granted the Dominions under the tariff act of last autumn today placed on imports of goods from the Irish Free State duties ranging from 10 per cent in the case of manufactured articles to 50 per cent in the case of cattle.

From the stroke of midnight the new duties became effective and, as far as trade relations between it and the United Kingdom were concerned, the Free State became a foreign country. Its goods became subject to general 10 per cent tariff of the United Kingdom in addition to special duties imposed on some farm products by which Great Britain hopes to recoup the amount of land annuities which the Free State refused to pay the Bank of England.

Failure to comply with the British terms in a proposed settlement of the land annuities question forced the Free State delegation to return from last year's Ottawa Economic conference without an agreement with the United Kingdom. Its continued refusal to meet those terms resulted in the institution by Britain of Special duties against certain Free State products constituting the bulk of the country's exports.

SOCIAL SERVICE SEEKS TO IMPROVE PRISON CONDITIONS

TORONTO, Nov. 15.—(CP)—Urging that families of prisoners should receive pay; that larger opportunities be offered prisoners for the improvement of their minds; that greater safeguards be made to prevent warden's from inflicting punishment and that food of prisoners be placed in care of a trained dietician, the social service council of Canada today forwarded a series of recommendations to Hon. Hugh Guthrie, minister of justice.

Terrific Gale Sweeps Southern Cuba

FEAR OVER TWO THOUSAND DEAD IN CUBA

A great wall of water, driven by a terrific gale, swept over southern Cuba on Nov. 9, and is believed to have caused the death of over 2000 people. The town of Santa Cruz del Sur was wiped out, and entire province of Camaguey laid waste. Police have taken charge of the distressed area.

PICK SITES FOR DOMINION WORK CAMPS THIS DISTRICT EMERGENCY LANDING FIELDS

Experts of Permanent Force at Esquimalt and Employment Officer Look Over Salmo, Kitchener and Yahk

OTHER SITES AT PRINCETON AND FLOOD; PARTY IS NOT RETURNING TO THE COAST

Each Camp to Take 100 Single Men; Will Be Civilian in Character But Will Utilize the Army Services

Winding up a tour of the mail air route through the province taken for the purpose of selecting camp sites for the relief work shortly to be done on the five emergency landing fields by the Dominion government, Lieut.-Col. H. F. Greer, district supply and transport officer; Major E. Chambers, district engineer officer, and Quartermaster-Sergt. W. S. Smith, engineer accountant, all of the staff of military district No. 11, and J. H. McVety of Vancouver, general superintendent in this province of the employment service of Canada, left Nelson Monday morning for the coast. The three Esquimalt men will go through to Victoria, while Mr. McVety will return to Vancouver.

The five landing fields are to be at Yahk in East Kootenay, Kitchener in the Creston district, Salmo in the Nelson district, Princeton in the Similkameen, and Flood, on the Canadian National lines near Hope, the party starting with Flood and ending with Yahk. Salmo was visited Friday, and the points on the Crow Saturday, the visitors returning to Nelson by Sunday night's delayed train from the east.

RETURN OF UNITS

Each of the camps to be established will take care of approximately 100 men, who will be employed on the work of clearing and grading the sites for the emergency landing fields, which are each approximately half a mile long by 600 to 800 feet wide. The labor will be drawn from single unemployed men who otherwise would be in receipt of relief, and will be provided through the services of the unemployment officers of the various centers.

While the camps will be of the

AMY JOHNSON

ORAN, Algeria, Nov. 14 (AP).—Amy Johnson, who is trying to beat the flying time of her husband, Captain J. A. Mollison, from England to South Africa, took off at 11:30 p.m. tonight for Bamey, French West Africa, about 1800 miles across the Sahara desert.

She flew here today from Lympne, England, arriving this evening. Mollison made the flight in four days, 17 hours and 19 minutes.

PHEMIUS IN BAD SHAPE BUT SAFE, KINGSTON PORT

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 14 (CP via Halifax and Bermudas cable)—With her funnel missing and most of her superstructure torn to shreds, the steamer Phemius lay in Kingston harbor today. One week after her wireless call for help was answered, the Phemius was towed into port by the tug Killering.

With a heavy list to starboard, the Phemius was the plaything of a merciless hurricane during four days and nights. Mountainous seas swept her deck and the fires were doused shortly after the funnel went.

U.S. ANSWER ON DEBTS MAY BE FLAT NEGATIVE

Roosevelt Accepts Offer to Confer; Unable to Set Definite Date

REAL SOLUTION TO BE DIFFICULT GOAL

Not Only Foreign Attitudes to Be Compromised

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—A momentous diplomatic and legislative battle was forecast today as Washington studied weekend developments in the ever-thorny war debts problem and President Herbert Hoover hurried to Washington for a later discussion of the subject with his successor-elect, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Meanwhile, a distinct possibility arose—and was put into words by one influential house Democrat—that the United States' answer to the plea of Great Britain and France for an extension of the Hoover moratorium and re-examination of the debt situation might be a flat "no," with this followed by an outright default of payments due on December 15.

This possibility has been foreseen for months by the administration as regrettable but perhaps inevitable. If it should come about the situation would leave the obligation still outstanding against the defaulting nation.

However, Mr. Hoover and Mr. Roosevelt will analyze the situation

SEDAN PLUNGES INTO LAKE, FOUR PEOPLE TRAPPED

Almost Certain Victims Are Drowned; Two Escape, Go for Help

ANACONDA, Mont., Nov. 14 (AP).—Four young persons were trapped in a sedan which plunged into Silver lake, 12 miles from here tonight. Efforts to pull the machine out with a team of horses were begun immediately.

Two others in the car as it ran off the road and into sight feet of water, escaped and telephoned for help.

Officers regarded it as almost certain the four victims had drowned.

Those trapped were:

Nellies Lee, 18; Marie Reardon, 20; Patrick Kelly, 20; James Clifford, 26.

Gertrude Roney and Charles Munson escaped from the car and went to a ranch a mile away to notify the sheriff's office.

CAPONE GANG IS ATTEMPTING, GET CONTROL OF BEER?

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 (CP)—Reports were current today that members of the gang of Al Capone are planning an attempt to control the legal beer business in Chicago, if and when beer is legalized.

The Chicago Herald and Examiner said it had heard that gangsters hold options on two breweries, and that they were negotiating for more plants.

TURNER BREAKS THE EAST-WEST FLIGHT RECORD

Cuts Two Hours and 17 Minutes Off Transcontinental Flight

BURBANK, Calif., Nov. 14 (CP).—Breaking the transcontinental east-west speed record by two hours and 17 minutes, Roscoe Turner set his airplane down at the United airport at 5:19 p.m. Pacific standard time today, 13 hours and 33 minutes out of New York.

Turner abandoned tentative plans for an about-face in an effort to establish a new round trip record between Los Angeles and New York, explaining it would be necessary to do some work on his ship.

The previous New York-Los Angeles speed record of 14 hours, 50 minutes, was set by Frank Hawk on August 6, 1930.

Turner said he averaged 199.2 miles an hour against strong headwinds the entire distance. He left New York at 7:46 a.m., eastern standard time.

Turner took off from here at 2:34 a.m., last Saturday in an effort to set a new round trip speed record between New York and Los Angeles, but damage to his landing gear in setting the ship down at Columbus, Ohio, forced him to abandon the attempt.

44 Start Work on Constitution, India

Must Whip it Into Shape Before Christmas; to Present "White Paper"

LONDON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Forty-three men and one woman start working against time Wednesday to whip into shape before Christmas a constitution for India's population of 350,000,000.

These delegates aided by a corps of experts, will gather for the third and final Indian round table conference. When their work is finished their findings will be presented to parliament in the form of a "white paper" which will require an implementing act of parliament before it can become law.

The opening of the third round table conference will see the number of delegates limited to less than half that of either of the preceding conferences, while the agenda will be fixed.

JOBLESS BREAK WINDOWS, COAST

VANCOUVER, Nov. 14 (CP).—Several hundred unemployed men paraded in Hastings and Granville streets this afternoon, and during their progress two windows, one in the Bank of Montreal, Hastings and Carroll streets, and another in the Kelly Piano company's premises in Granville street were smashed. Otherwise there was no trouble. Two men were arrested and held by police for investigation, but later they were allowed their freedom.

The demonstration followed refusal of the city council to hear a delegation from the unemployed council when they sought to present demands to the aldermen.

TOLMIE REITERATES DESIRE FOR UNION

VICTORIA, Nov. 14.—Addressing ward four, Saanich Conservative association tonight, Premier S. F. Tolmie reaffirmed his desire to bring about union government in the province and reiterated his intention of reorganizing the cabinet after the next session, and going to the country with the best selection of men available, regardless of their party creeds.

C.P.R. ENGINEER DIES, REVELSTOKE

REVELSTOKE, B. C., Nov. 14.—(CP)—John Boyd, engineer in charge of the Canadian Pacific railway locomotive Countess of Dufferin when it pulled Sir William Van Horne, president of the railway, into Winnipeg, on the first passenger train to reach there in 1882, died here today. He was 91 years of age.

VICTORIA, Nov. 14.—(CP)—Annual meeting of the B. C. Conservative association will open at Vancouver on November 25 in a two-day convention

TO KNOW GOVERNMENT ATTITUDE ON SALARIES WITHIN THREE WEEKS

VICTORIA, Nov. 14.—(CP)—B.C. municipalities ang school districts should know within three weeks time definitely what the government proposes to do about fixing a teacher's salary schedule it will be prepared to recognize for the purpose of provincial grants, Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe said today. Such a schedule it is forseen, will be a compromise between the divergent reports presented to the minister of education and the government's view on the matter.

FIRST BATCH OF WOMEN NUDISTS OFF WEDNESDAY

Recently Anxious to Go They Now Want to Remain Here

Under instructions from Victoria, the first batch of 30 women prisoners to leave Nelson jail for the new penitentiary area on Pier island will be forwarded under escort by Wednesday morning's Kettle Valley train, if arrangements transmitted to Inspector John MacDonald, commanding "E" division, are not changed.

This will leave 102 women still here, to be forwarded in similar batches later.

The women are Sons of Freedom nudists under sentences of three years each for offences committed at Thrums on successive Sundays throughout May, the men having preceded them to the special penitentiary area by some months.

Although recently staging demonstrations demanding their early removal to join their men folk, it is said that the women have worked themselves up over imagined rigors at Pier island until now they want to remain at Nelson.

STATE EMPLOYEES CHARGED, BRIBERY

Criminal Inquiry to Be Asked in Insurance Commissioner's Office

LOS ANGELES, No. 14 (AP)—A criminal inquiry of the state insurance commissioner's office was asked today in a petition presented the district attorney by Benjamin F. Boyd, general manager of a bond and indemnity corporation who charged two employees of the state office had demanded bribes.

Boyd, general manager of the Benjamin Franklin Bond and Indemnity corporation, told Buron Fitts, district attorney, and Thomas F. O'Brien, chief deputy, that the two employees, whose names were withheld by authorities had demanded briges of securities and cash under threat of withholding his permit to do business in California.

PROHIBITION VIOLATORS TO BE PARDONED

SACREMENTO, Calif., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Freedom came in sight today for about 1000 persons held in Californian prisons and jails on charges of violating the state prohibition law, when Governor James Rolph, jr., announced he intended to pardon all these as a result of the overwhelming vote last Tuesday for repeal of the statute.

LINK TOGETHER REDUCTION OF ARMS SECURITY

Believe It Will Solve Security and German Demands Too

FIVE FEATURES TO THE SCHEME

Two Underlying Principles Necessary for Success of Whole

By P. I. LIPSEY, JR.
Associated Staff Correspondent

GENEVA, Nov. 14 (AP)—An elaborate scheme for breaking the disarmament deadlock, solving the problem of security and meeting Germany's arms equality demand by tying together arms reductions and security pacts, was submitted textually to the disarmament conference tonight in behalf of the French government.

The French plan calls for application of the Briand-Kellogg pact, the League of Nations covenant and special regional agreements for mutual assistance against any aggressor. It proposes reduction in effectives and materials of war, with a special allotment of certain troops and arms for the use of the league in enforcing peace.

The technical features of the plan, which is designed to achieve these general purposes, are:

FIVE CLAUSES

1. Establishment in European countries of short-term defensive conscript armies.

2. Special offensive forces which would be placed under the direction of the league in a time of emergency

3. Establishment of stocks of powerful arms in certain localities in the countries providing those stocks, which would be under the control

ESLING SUPPORTS AGREEMENT BILL

Liberals and Independents Voting Against Are Opposing B. C. Trade

OTTAWA, Nov. 14 (CP).—British Columbia members in the Liberal and Independent camps voted against increase export business for the Pacific coast province in opposing the Canada-United Kingdom agreement, W. K. Esling (Cons.-West Kootenay), said in the house of commons today.

Mr. Esling continued discussion of the bill which ratifies the trade agreement. It is now in the committee stage. The agreement would be beneficial to British Columbia exporters of lumber, fish, copper, lead and zinc, Mr. Esling asserted.

It appeared to him that members on the opposition side of the house were prejudiced against anything which emanated from the Conservative party, whether or not it was beneficial to the country.

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, opposition leader, told Mr. Esling, the British secretary of the treasury had stated the United Kingdom government did not consider itself bound to maintain the tariff schedules provided for in the agreement. The prime minister of Canada had himself stated the British government was bound only in honor to observe the terms. Both the Liberal and Labor parties in the British parliament had announced they would not consider themselves bound by the tariffs set forth in the agreement.

WHEAT VANGUARD LEAVES MONTREAL

HALIFAX, Nov. 14 (CP).—The "advance guard" of a 1,000,000 bushel shipment of wheat destined to reach Halifax shortly for the United Kingdom, left Montreal tonight in a 90,000 bushels trainload, it was announced here.

John Lindgary who has been ailing for some time was taken to Kootenay Lake General hospital Monday afternoon. He resided at 114 High street and was taken to the hospital in the Somers ambulance about 2 p. m.

WHEAT POOL TO OPERATE WITH BANK BACKING

Dominion Assures Guarantee Against Loss in Financing

WILL BACK TO AMOUNT, BONUS

Hedging Operations Will Not Disturb Law of Supply, Demand

OTTAWA, Nov. 14 (CP).—Counteracting the lowest wheat prices in centuries and assisting the orderly marketing of western Canada's crop, the government has made financial arrangements to promote hedging operations, Premier R. B. Bennett announced in the house of commons.

Canadian banks have been guaranteed against loss in financing hedging operations by the Canadian Cooperative Wheat Producers Limited, the central selling agency of the three prairie pools.

It is improbable that the federal treasury will sustain any considerable loss through the guarantees, the prime minister said. The Dominion stands behind the banks to the extent of about $18,000,000—the estimated cost of a five-cent bonus on this year's crop.

NATURAL LAW TO HOLD

Without hedging operations, prices on the Winnipeg grain exchange might have fallen below 40 cents a bushel, Mr. Bennett said. Circumstances combined to limit the organizations or individuals willing or capable of buying futures. Prices dropped and the exchange markets became demoralized. The Dominion then stepped in, arranged the credit to enable the central

HUNDREDS FLEE FLOOD WATERS IN WASHINGTON

Flood Continues But Cooler Weather Promises Early Relief

SEATTLE, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Although flood waters continued to surge over the lowlands of the Green and White river valleys today driving hundreds of persons from their homes, cooler temperature and no rain tonight gave promise of early relief.

The cooler temperatures had brought snow to many portions of the Cascade mountains and stopped the thawing rain which sent streams throughout western Washington out of their banks, over farm lands and highways.

The Green river was reported falling although farms in the Kent and Auburn districts still were inundated and the valley highway between Seattle and Tacoma still was under water in several places.

Both approaches to the bridge over the Snoqualmie river between Juval and Monroe were washed out and traffic was detoured over an old gravel road.

The Pacific highway north of Centralia was under water as it was north of Everett, where traffic was rerouted through Arlington.

In the Snohomish valley, east of Everett the flood waters were receding tonight after large areas of lowland had been flooded when two dikes were broken along the Snohomish river.

A report from Lake Beche was that 50 head of catle had been drowned.

HUNDREDS KILLED SAN PEDRO FIGHTING

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Many hundreds were reported killed during 12 hours of heavy fighting between rebels and federal troops today at the city of San Pedro.

Insurgent Liberals, who lost out in the presidential election two weeks ago, captured Nacaome, 100 miles from Teguciglalpa and the key to the southern district of Honduras. They captured San Pedro last night and federal troops, assisted by the Nationalists, were making a counter attack.

FORCE OF FAITH SERMON THEME, REV. SILVERWOOD

Speaks on Prevention of War at the Church of the Redeemer

"Force of Faith," was the theme of a forceful Armistice day remembrance sermon given at the Church of The Redeemer on Sunday evening by Rev. W. J. Silverwood. Special music was prepared for morning and evening services at St. Saviour's church in the absence of Ven. Archdeacon Fred H. Graham.

"The late premier of Great Britain, Stanley Baldwin, has told us that one more war in the west and the whole of the civilization of the ages will fall with as great a crash as that of Rome," said Rev. Mr. Silverwood in opening his sermon. "When we are thinking of this life and death matter of peace or war, it is well to keep steadily in the mind this dread alternative of which Mr. Baldwin spoke.

"Every year it is becoming more and more certain that, if there should be another war, there will be no victor in it. Victor and vanquished will fall together with irreparable ruin, if you want further proof of this, go to the airmen and gas chemists. They have worked out in detail, a forecast of events in case of another war.

LEARN SLOWLY

"Men learn their lesson very slowly and indeed for the next 15 or 20 years we are going to witness a race such as men have never witnessed before, the race between education and catastrophe. There is in man an element of the ape and tiger and when men have gone so far as to kill those elements we still have to reckon with the donkey.

"If the world really believed in peace it would get it tomorrow. Let me put before you what I believe, can, on Christian principles, prevent war. First of all arbitration, disarmament and economic cooperation. These three agree for they make up that oneness which is necessary if there is to be unity of nations.

"Why actually is the world spending each year $3,640,000 on defence? Not because nations go out looking for someone to quarrel with nor because people like to provide this colossal sum of money. Why then, in heaven's name do they do it?

SEEK SECURITY

"They do it, and always have done it, on account of a deep routed desire to be secure from potential attack and equally deep routed fear of being insecure.

"This question of security lies at the very base of the whole problem of disarmament. So we come around again to the question which always comes before us in times of national crisis and national question. What is the relation of the Christianity to the peace of the world? Jesus proclaimed the advent of a new age, a new order of things and a new kingdom, where things should be on earth as in heaven.

"He proclaimed a vision of brotherhood such as the world had never heard of before and never will. A vision in which there cannot be Greek and Jew, circumcised and uncircumcised, barbarian, synthian, bond nor free, but Christ is all in all. Since Jesus proclaimed this way, how far has the Christian society been true to his ideas. That is a question which no thoughtful followers of Jesus can escape asking and answering.

"And the answering reveals the very disquieting fact that there always has been and there still is, a grieviously wide gap between the mind of Christ and the mind of the church. Between the practice of Christ and the practise of the church.

BLIND SPOT

"There have been many blind spots in which the Christian society has tolerated gross and wicked social evils. We think of slavery and its many evils.

And one of those blind spots is still with us, our blind spot in tolerating war.

"At a time when the whole of Europe is still itching for war, it is time for the church to do a little straight and plain speaking.

"There is just one way of ending war," said Mr. Silverwood, "and that not done by sword, or by tongue or pen. There is but one way. God make us better men."

The council believes this city is not liable.

WIRE SERVICE IS PARTLY RESTORED ON LINES NORTH

Wire service, both telegraph and telephone, to Kaslo, interrupted since Saturday's heavy snowfall, was restored Monday morning.

By evening the Canadian Pacific commercial wires north were working through to Arrowhead, through the B.C. Telephone was still having difficulty in the New Denver area. The telephone service on the Arrow lakes was still out of order Monday night.

Both companies had to contend with broken poles, trees on wires, and considerable sections of lines down.

Except for the areas named, all wires in this district were in good order Monday.

Railroads, State Interests Oppose Waterway Treaty

Appear Before Senate Sub-Committee; Buffalo Takes Lead

By NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Ratification of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty with Canada was opposed before a senate foreign relation sub-committee today by representatives of railroads and New York state interests who said the project was economically unsound.

They appeared as witnesses at the opening of the committee's hearings on the treaty calling for joint participation by the United States and Canada in the waterway and power project on the St. Lawrence estimated officially to cost more than $500,000,000. The treaty was signed last July after years of negotiation.

Using similar weapons, three opponents of the project led the attack on the treaty.

BUFFALO TAKES LEAD

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 14 (AP)—Buffalo today took the lead in a fight to prevent ratification of the St. Lawrence seaway treaty between Canada and the United States. The water power project also was attacked.

TRAIL COUNCIL FILES MALAKOFF REQUEST FOR WORK

TRAIL, B. C., Nov. 14—The city council tonight filed the request of Harry Malakoff for two month's steady work to pay off taxes.

RICHARDSON TO GO INTO NEEDS FOR DREDGING

Leave for the South Thompson, Also Arrow Lakes

BACK FROM THREE MONTHS UP NORTH

Had Charge of Waterway Work; Carried Out Inquiries

Having only recently returned from three months field work in northern British Columbia, during which he tavelled 400 miles by outboard motor boats and and 2400 miles by car, W. A. Richardson, assistant engineer, of the interior district of Dominion Public Works, left Monday night to investigate dredging proposals on the South Thompson river between Chase and Monte creek, and to visit the Narows between the Upper and Lower Arrow lakes, where dredging will shortly commence.

PEACE RIVER ROUTES

While in the north country for practically three months of August, September and October, Mr. Richardson was in charge of work being done in improving the upper end of the Crooked river, more especially the Long Riffle and the Harrison riffle. He made inspections in this connection of the Crooked and Pack rivers and a portion of the Parsnip river, these three waterways forming a gateway into the Upper Peace river country much used by trappers, traders, prospectors and miners. He also inspected the Tachi river, this being a link in another long waterway, leading into the eastern section of the Omineca placer mining field.

Mr. Richardson made inspections of departmental works on Stuart, Francois, and Fraser lakes, these being west of Prince George.

Other activities were investigations on behalf of the department at Bowron, Cariboo, and Anim lakes, all in the Cariboo, and a survey and investigation of the obstruction of Quesnel lake caused by the failure of two placer mining dams on Poquette creek.

Officers elected were—

W. R. Thompson, honorary president; R. D. Barnes, honorary vice-president; D. D. McLean, president; A. Scanlan, vice-president; Al Neff, second vice-president; A. Wallach secretary-treasurer.

Jones Still Intends to Balance Budget

VICTORIA, Nov. 14 (CP).—Details of the gross amount that may be available for them in the next fiscal year 1933-34 have been transmitted by the treasury to several of the provincial departments this week. Estimates of revenue are already in, and estimates of expenditure are now being compiled in a preliminary manner.

From figures said to have been placed before some of the departments, Hon. J. W. Jones is taking steps to carry out his announced intention of a balanced budget in spite of depressed revenues next year. Reductions ranging up to nearly half of the current year's estimates have been requested from some branches of the service.

The department of lands, it has been learned, has been asked to get along with $500,008 next year, compared to $833,357 in 1932-33 and $1,464,984 in 1931-32. The reduction of $333,357 implied for 1933-34 is in the form of a request from the treasury but whether or not it can be met by the department is a point that remains to be seen.

TRAIL ORDERED KEEP SEPARATE RELIEF ACCOUNTS

TRAIL, B. C., Nov. 14—Trail city council will make inquiries at the coast as to how single relief men now on the city relief payroll will be affected by the new board which has charge of relief for single men. The council tonight received instructions to keep separate accounts of relief for single men and transients.

PLEADS GUILTY TO BEING INTOXICATED

Charged in city police court Monday with being intoxicated in a public place, William Reid pleaded guilty, and was sentenced by Magistrate William Brown to pay a fine of $25 or serve 25 days in the provincial jail. He took the jail term. The offence was committed Saturday night, Constable Robert Harshaw making the arrest.

ROSSLAND WILL PAY GOVERNMENT WITH NEW BONDS

$8000 Authorized; Covers the Past Relief Expenditures, Part of Interest

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 14.—Bonds to the amount of $8000 in favor of the provincial government were authorized by the city countil this evening. This covers the amount borrowed by the city for relief work last year plus the portion of interest. A check for $124.96 will be issued to care for the balance of the interest. These bonds are payable in 10 years and bear interest of the rate of 5½ per cent.

Word was received from Hon. J. W. Jones, minister of finance, that the five per cent deducted from the original relief grant to Rossland amounting to $1291 was now available provided the city was prepared to absorb one-half the amount. This the council decided to do.

The wood, which has been cut in the city cemetery will be distributed to a number of needy families.

An application for a mother's pension received the approval of the council.

A communication was received from the inspector of dairies stating that grade "F" certificates had been issued to the dairies operated by T. Ninsick, Isaac Berg, Mrs. John Berg, T. Drake and Mrs. M. J. Millett.

MAYOR DOUGLAS ENDS HIS TERM AS MAYOR, FERNIE

FERNIE, B. C., Nov. 14—Mayor Harry Douglas of the city of Fernie has stated that he will not be a candidate for the mayoralty for 1933.

Mayor Douglas has been the chief official of the city for the last two years. During his period of office considerable public work has been done, including extensive street paving and street improving, waterworks replacing by steel pipe and parks improvement. He has had to deal with the unemployment problem through the whole term of his office.

REMEMBRANCE DAY KEPT IN FERNIE

Cenotaph Decorated and Service Held in the Theatre

FERNIE, B. C., Nov. 14—Remembrance day in Fernie was celebrated by a procession and large gathering at the Grand theater, where a service was held. The procession was formed before the Veteran's club and was representative of the many organizations in the city. Headed by the City band it proceeded to the cenotaph in the provincial building grounds where representatives of each organization placed a wreath at the foot of the monument. These tributes in memory of the fallen soldiers were from the Canadian legion. The Mount Fernie chapter and the Major Black chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, the Italian society, Odd Fellows, Rebekahs, Ancient Order of Foresters, Rotarians, Elks, city council, British Columbia Miners association, Women's legion of the Loyal Order of Moose, and the Caledonian society.

The memorial service at the theater drew a crowded house. Robert Billsborough acted chairman, Orlando Kay and the City band furnished the music. William Riley, tenor, sang "Arise Ye to Mount Zion," accompanied by Mrs. Colton. The "Last Post" was sounded by Buglers Biggs and Eastwood.

Taking part in the service were the ministers of the city. Rev. J. G. Holmes of English church gave the opening invocation and later took the Scripture reading. Addresses followed by Rev. J. D. Milton of the Baptist church and the Rev. Mr. Gray, of United church, Ensign Boyles of the Salvation Army pronounced the closing benediction.

The Rev. Mr. Milton, in his address, said that these services should be held as a memory of the great war and its dead so that the children who had not lived during the stress and strain of that period should know the sacrifice that had been made for a nation's honor, the struggle to free a world from militarism, the doctrine of the superman where might was said to be right.

The Rev. Mr. Gray in his address said that this day was the celebration of the men who had not considered themselves before a great cause.

The appeal of the dead had no scale to measure it. These dead had given a deeper hue and a greaty glory to the poppies that grow in Flanders field. The work the dead had begun was not completed, "for we have not yet erected the temple of peace, a peaceful world of happiness, and one of good will to men."

LINKS ROTARY PEACE OBJECT TO ARMISTICE

E. P. Dawson Is Speaker for International Committee

HOW HARRY LAUDER BORE HIS SORROW

Memories Dissipate But Pledges May Help Better World

Linking the sixth object of Rotary—promotion of international peace—with Remembrance day, E. P. Dawson, speaking to the club Monday on a program arranged by the club's international committee, expressed the sentiment that if this object meant anything, every Rotarian would inevitably be present on a day dedicated to recalling the meaning of the Armistice. Recalling the solemnity of the memorial service at the Capitol theater Friday, with the bugle calls and the lament of the pipes, he said it would be inappropriate to repeat the address he gave there, and so he proceeded to new matter, weaving his remarks around the spirit shown by Sir Harry Lauder in his sorrow.

Mr. Dawson said he heard Sir Harry on the stage in London a couple of days after he received word of his son's death in the war. The fact of his bereavement was uppermost in the minds of the audience, but the comedian, determined to do his part whatever the cost, carried on with his quips in an apparently merry mood, though his hearers, knowing the underlying tragedy, interpreted the occasion seriously.

Then came the Armistice, and with it a poignant realisation to Sir Harry, which he described in an address in Vancouver.

"Never, as long as I live, shall I forget the beauty, and the sadness, of the first Armistice day," related Sir Harry. "I was sitting by my fireside, looking out upon a scene of perfect peace. It was a beautiful day. All was quiet and still; there wasn't a ripple on the waters of the Clyde. A few minutes later I went outside, and began to walk into the little town. A liner was coming magestically down the Clyde.

"Suddenly the quietness was shattered by the liner's hooting siren . . . a shrill, piercing blast, which was the signal of pandemonium. Whistles everywhere began to blow, and bells began to ring. In a little while all was quiet again. I wondered what was wrong and asked the first man I met—an old gardener—what was the meaning of the noise, and the hush.

"'Don't you know?' he said. 'Why the war is over.'

"Then I wended my way back again. Then . . . and not till then . . . did I realise that there would always be a vacant chair . . . and a bleeding hear.

"Well, there's nothing to do but go right on to the end of the road."

The rest of the story was the comedian's statement that everyone was born to carry his own burden, that each had a great task of happiness, that his particular job in life was to make people laugh, and that as long as it was possible to bring sunshine into other people's hearts it would keep right on to the end of the road.

Such, said Mr. Dawson, was the meaning of Armistice day to Harry Lauder.

Of course, said the speaker, Armistice day must be a day of memory. But it must be more than that. Emotions would dissipate, and the day must be a day of pledging. If the world went on in the old way after all these yours lives had been sacrificed it would be unthinkable.

EUROPE'S HOPE

Rotary, he pointed out, had taken on a program of promoting international understanding with a view to international peace. This, he asserted was what brought about the remarkable extension of the Rotary movement in Europe—not the luncheon idea. Germany, France, Britain had adopted Rotary as a vehicle for securing international peace.

Pointing out that Viscount Snowden had enumerated in his recent book 32 wars that had taken place since the Armistice, Mr. Dawson developed the principles that he belived should be pressed to bring about both international and industrial good will, on much the lines that he followed in his Remembrance day address.

President C. W. Tyler, in thanking him, said it was a good thing for the club to be reminded from time to time of the sixth object of Rotary.

SLIDE PORTENDS UNLESS CREEK IN TRAIL IS MOVED

TRAIL, B. C., Nov. 14—A. R. Waldie waited on the city council tonight to suggest that unless the council took steps to move a creek on Nelson avenue back into its old channel there would likely be a downpour of silt on Nelson avenue in the next heavy rainstorm. The board of works will investigate.

He suggested also that steps should be taken to stop removal of sand from a pit in the same neighborhood for fear of a slide. Investigation is to be made.

NORMAN SUDDABY HONORED, FERNIE

FERNIE, B. C., Nov. 14—The Rotary club of Fernie presented Norman E. Suddaby with an electric clock as a token of good will on the eve of his departure from the city. Mr. Suddaby having closed his drug business here, left on Wednesday for his new store in Duncan. He has been in business in Fernie from its early days.

TRAIL COUNCIL BRIEFS

TRAIL, B. C., Nov. 14—Chairman J. R. Anderson of the board of works told the council tonight that the late leading to the Lazareff woodyard would be graded and crushed rock spread.

Alderman A. Saunders reported three street lights authorized by the council had been installed.

Alderman E. L. Groutage, finance chairman, expressed the opinion that the city should exchange 6785 pounds of Vancouver sewer bonds for shares in Canadian funds.

The board of works will investigate the complaint of A. McWhinney that grading on Bowery avenue had not been finished.

No objection was raised by the council tonight to the trades licence application of G. Ginnetti.

The city engineer's department will investigate the request of Mrs. Gerrard for restoration of steps in front of her property.

That the ditch on Hendry street was caving in was a report made to the council tonight by Alderman James Thompson.

Lower Riverside grade bylaw passed the committee of the whole and adopted as read a third time.

F. Fressacco land sale bylaw was given three readings.

Alderman C. A. Newmen was given permission to introduce a tax exemption bylaw for Peace Lutheran church.

Proposed bylaw which would pay interest on taxes paid in advance was discussed briefly by the council and was given an unenthusiastic reception. It was left over for discussion again, possibly at the special meeting.

JUNGLE RESIDENT FIGHTS VAGRANCY BUT IS CONVICTED

Though pleading not guilty to a charge under the Vagrancy act, Einar Bjornsti, a resident of the "jungle" here, was convicted in city police court Monday, and sentenced to pay a fine of $10, with a jail term of 10 days as the alternative. He went to jail but expressed an expectation of raising the money.

Stipendiary Magistrate John Cartmel presided at this trial at the request of Magistrate William Brown, who, on account of residing in immediate proximity to the locality affected by Bjorsti's instruction, wished not to take the case.

THREE TRAILITES HAVE CHICKEN-POX

TRAIL, B. C., Nov. 14—City Medical Health Officer Dr. F. S. Eaton tonight informed the city council that there were three cases of chicken pox in the city.

MR., MRS. PAGDIN ENTERTAIN AT GYRO LUNCHEON

Members Plan to Send Representation to Trail Inaugural Meet

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Pagdin and J. P. Pitner proved a source of musical entertainment for the Gyros Monday night when the club held a luncheon in the Hume hotel.

Plans for the inaugural meeting of the Trail Gyros on Saturday evening, at which Gyros from Spokane, Vancouver and Nelson will attend, were discussed. The Nelson club is sending a strong contingent to the smelter city.

The members also went fully into possible talent and means of entertainment for a concert which they are staging next month in the interest of welfare work.

Mr. Pitner, who was in charge of the evening's program, sang "What I Want When I Want It," and rendered with Mr. Pagdin, a duet entitled "Watchman What of the Night." Mr. Pagdin sang "Tell Me Your Dream" and "Asthore." Mrs. Pagdin accompanied.

Dismiss Charge Against Alderman Candidate, Court

Fechner Still to Appear at Calgary; Arrested in Raid

CALGARY, Nov. 14 (CP).—Trial of Max Fechner, arrested in a raid on Communist headquarters here, on a charge of circulating and distributing seditious literature, remained on city police court docket tonight as the last of nine cases arising from unemployed disturbances and raids a week ago. Fechner, originally charged with vagrancy, will go on trial tomorrow.

Besides five cases heard in the morning, the court this afternoon heard a charge of disorderly conduct against Murdoch Clarke, United Front candidate for alderman in the forthcoming civic elections. The charge, based on a disturbance at a civic political meeting, was dismissed, the court holding events occurring at the meeting were due to a misunderstanding.

TRAIL MAN REFUSED RIGHT TO TAP WATER

TRAIL, B. C., Nov. 14—The city council tonight refused to permit R. McCarthy, Kavic subdivision, to tap a city water main to supply his house.

MRS. THOMPSON CRANBROOK LADY CURLERS' HEAD

CRANBROOK, B.C., Nov. 14.—The annual meeting of the Cranbrook Women's Curling club was held on Monday evening. The election of officers for the coming year was held. Mrs. W. C. Thompson was chosen as president for the coming year, with Mrs. Slyde as vice-president. Miss Betty Lunn was elected secretary-treasurer. The executive will consist of Mrs. Spence, Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Neilly.

Quite a number of last year's members have moved away or are not able to play and their places are being filled by new members. It is expected the membership will be about thirty.

Arrangements are being made by the ladies for the serving of the supper at the annual Curlers Ball the date of which has been set for November 30.

BRIDGE APPROACH DISCUSSED BOARD TRADE, KIMBERLEY

KIMBERLEY, B. C., Nov. 14—Monday evening the Kimberley board of trade held a short session in the old school room, chiefly routine business occupying the attention of those present.

President Frank Steuart occupied the fair, with Secretary-Treasurer Halpin in attendance, other members present being F. A. Fortier, E. S. Shannon, H. C. Stafford, J. C. Adams, S. Norton, D. A. Sutherland, Al. Hall, Dunc. Chisholm and T. Whittingham.

Minutes of October meeting were read, and confirmed on motion of Messrs. Burnyeat and Norton.

Correspondence was read, Vancouver board of trade regarding copies of the Kidd report and the government's reply thereto; an inquiry as to the names of booksellers in town; a letter to Mayor Steuart inviting him to attend Remembrance day celebration at Ottawa from the legion at Vancouver; a communication from the board of statistics asking for particulars of new concerns established in town; on motion these were all received and filed.

Among motters briefly dealt with were: A light requested in the vicinity of the Sacred Heart church; the condition of the approach to the foot-bridge over Mark creek on Wallinger avenue—Mr. Fortier will see that this is sanded when required; the state of the road in the detour was also criticised; a mid-day lunch (instead of the evening meeting) was suggested but found no support, Mr. Stafford agreeing to see that fires are arranged for the old school house on meeting nights.

Dunc. Chisholm moved the adjournment of the meeting—this was seconded by D. A. Sutherland, and carried.

Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

If you have catarrhal deafness, or head noises, caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat, secure proper treatment at once. Sprays, salves and inhalers may bring you a temporary relief, but permanent results can only come from a constitutional treatment that will expel the catarrhal poison from your system.

Get from your druggist 1 oz. of Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add ¼ pint hot water and a little sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day—clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy, mucous stop dropping. All sufferers from catarrhal deafness or head noises need the simple, pleasant, inexpensive Parmint treatment.

Kimberley Curlers Hold Annual Meet

KIMBERLEY, B. C., Nov. 14—A largely attended and enthusiastic gathering was held in Oughtred hall, Chapman Camp, on Monday evening, when the Curling club held their annual meeting. The treasurer's report found finances in good shape and clear sailing for the coming season. The election of officers found the following returned:

Patron, C. T. Oughtred.
Honorary president, D. A. York.
President, Ross Doran.
Vice-president, Stan Gray.
Secretary, T. W. Matthieson.
Treasurer, G. J. Knighton.
Chaplin, H. W. Poole.
Auditor, C. T. Oughtred.

Board of managers, Messrs. Stone, Andrews, Thompson and McGowan.

Ice committee, Messrs. James, McLellan, Redford and McGowan.

Entertainment, Messrs. Elliott, Dick, Leslie-Smith and Crossley.

Skating committee, Harry Stone.

Competition committee, Messrs. Gray, Moll and Knighton.

The classification committee retain office until the semi-annual meeting at the end of the season.

Between 70 and 80 have signified their intention of curling this year, and while this is quite a bit short of last year, the banner year, under existing conditions this is indeed good. All signs point to a great season. The Selkirk spiel comes to Kimberley this year and will undoubtedly draw a big crowd.

KIMBERLEY AND ALBERTA BASKET TEAMS TO MIX

KIMBERLEY, B. C., Nov. 14—For the first time within memory an Alberta basketball team will play in this district on Saturday night next, when the Calgary Teck schools will tangle with a Kimberley representative team at McDougall hall. This is a real attraction and will undoubtedly draw a big crowd. In addition the Cranbrook Red Wings ladies' team will play the Kimberley Pirates.

The Calgary team is coached by Ralph Swanson, son of A. R. Swanson, local C.P.R. agent.

The Kimberley rep team was chosen on Monday as follows: Center, Holmes and McVicar; forwards, Oliver, Chisholm and Livingstone; guards, Foubister, Dupuis and Nicholson.

China and the United Stats will soon be linked by direct radio telephone service.

SENATOR HAYDON GIVEN LAST RITES

OTTAWA, Nov. 13 (CP)—Leaders in political, church and civic affairs united in paying their last respect to the late Senator Andrew Haydon Saturday. Hundreds of friends and colleagues, of all political affiliations, thronged St. George's Anglican church for the funeral services.

"Andrew Haydon," said Venerable Archdeacon J. M. Snowden in his funeral sermon, "was a Christian gentleman in the truest and best sense of the word. I came to regard him as one of the most honorable, upright, generous and withal one of the most loveable men I have ever known."

THE HOUSEHOLD LINENS

"I know you have often printed a list of necessary household linens," writes a column reader, "but I am wondering if you would publish it again?"

I am always glad to republish a thing which is of general interest, and surely there is no housekeeper who is not interested in the subject of her linen supply.

Bathroom: Two wash-cloths for each person, four hand towels for each person, four bath towels for each person, and two bath mats for each bathroom.

Bedroom: Two pairs of sheets and two pairs of pillow slips for each bed. One runner for each bureau top (although these, no doubt, will be made of silks or cretonne, so do not strictly come under the head of linens.)

Dining Room: One large dinner cloth, one small cloth of fine quality four small cloths for everyday use, 12 napkins to match the large cloth, six napkins to match each small cloth, and two or more doiley sets for breakfast and luncheon with matchingnapkins. Several tray cloths two hot bread napkins, two large and two small oval doileys for platters, and two silence cloths.

Kitchen: Six hand towels, four glass towels, four crash towels and plenty of dish cloths.

I have not mentioned articles for guest use. Surely every housekeeper will want to keep some specially nice linens on hand for company, in addition to the article listed above.

Hot Jelly Biscuits

Two cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 table spoon sugar, 4 tablespoons shortening, ¾ cup milk, a tart jelly.

Sift together dry ingredients. Cut in shortening. Add milk gradually to make a soft dough. Roll out on slightly-floured board to quarter-inch thickness. Cut with small biscuit cutter. Cut centres out of half of biscuits with large thimble or doughnut cutter. Place these on top of the whole ones. Fill the centre of each with jelly and arrange on a baking sheet. (Be careful not to use too much jelly, as it will run over the edge.) Bake in hot oven for 15 to 20 minutes. This recipe makes 10 large biscuits or 14 small ones.

Boiled Ham

Eight pounds ham, water to cover, 2 sliced onions, 8 whole cloves, 2 clery leaves, 4 bay leaves.

Select a small ham or half a large one. Scrub well and cover by two inches with cold water. Add rest of ingredients. Cover and cook slowly until ham is very tender when tested with long-handled fork. It will require between 3 and 4 hours slow cookin to thoroughly cook ham. Remove from water and when cool enough to handle, remove skin. Fit ham into baking pan and add sugar mixture.

Sugar mixture—18 whole cloves, 2-3 cup dark brown sugar, 1-3 cup vinegar, 1-3 cup ham stock (water in which cooked). Stick cloves in. Add vinegar and water. Bake 30 min. fat side of ham. Press with sugar. utes in moderate oven. Baste fre-

Apple Cocoanut Salad

2 tart apples, pared, cored and diced
½ can Southern style coconut
½ cup seedless raisins
¼ cup mayonnaise

Toss apples, raisins, and coco ut together lightly. Moisten with ½ cup mayonnaise. Serve on crisp lettuce. Garnish with remaining mayonnaise and sprinkle with paprika. Serves 6.

SEMI—FORMAL

THE FESTIVE FROCKS, BELOW AND THEIR ACCOMPANYING WRAP ARE SUITABLE FOR ANY ACTIVITY FROM TEA-TIME UNTIL THE DAWN.

THE VELVETEEN SWAGGER COAT AT THE LEFT, BELOW, WILL BE WELCOME BECAUSE NEITHER AN EVENING WRAP NOR A DAYTIME COAT LOOKS QUITE RIGHT WITH THE SEMI-FORMAL GOWN. IT COMES IN BLACK, BROWN AND COPPER RUST.

THE CENTER FIGURE WEARS A FROCK OF HEAVY ROUGH CREPE WITH CLEVER LITTLE SLEEVES OF BRIGHT COLORED VELVET.

THE SEATED FIGURE WEARS A GOWN OF VELVET WITH A NET YOKE AND BUGLE BEADED COLLAR, CUFFS AND BELT.

Will Not Lump

When using flour as a substitute for cornstarch when sugar is used, mix the flour and sugar together, and the flour will not lump.

To mend agate ware, take a piece of putty and mix it in as much salt as you can. Put it over the hole, then put water in the kettle and set it back on the stove until hard.

Before using ordinary flour in making a cake remove from each cup of sifted flour two tablespoons of flour and replace with two tablespoons of cornstarch, then sift twice. This flour makes a very fine grained cake.

Lamb en Casserole

Three tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 1 pound breat of lamb, cut in small pieces, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 1 small carrot, diced, 3 small onions, sliced, 1 medium potato, diced 1¼ teaspoon salt ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons melted butter

Combine all ingredients in greased casserole. Bake, covered in moderate oven one hour, or until meat is tender, stirring occasionally. Serves six.

Herring Salad

Cut into half-inch squares four salted herring, boned and skinned, four cooking apples, four large cold potatoes, boiled in their skins, two pickled gherkins, half pound cold roast meat, beef for preference. Mix well. Stir until fairly thick. The soft herring roe in two tablespoons vinegar, yolk of two hard-boiled eggs, three tablespoons good oil, one dessertspoon prepared mustard, dessertspoonful white sugar, or to taste. Mix all well together and garnish with beetroot, sliced egg and currant jelly.

Fruit Punch for Fifty

4 teaspoons tea
2 quarts boiling water
2 cups sugar
2 cups orange juice
1 cup lemon juice
1 quart sparkling cherry beverage
1 quart sparkling water

Pour the boiling water over the tea and let stand three minutes. Strain, add sugar, and cool. Add fruit juices and sparkling beverage. Place a block of ice in punch bowl and pour the punch over it, or serve in glasses with cracked ice.

Chicken Shortcake

"I always use and recommend Magic Baking Powder," says Miss Alice Moir, Dietitian of one of Montreal's finest apartment-hotel restaurants. "Magic combines efficiency and economy to the highest degree. Besides, it always gives dependable results."

In whole-hearted agreement with Miss Moir, the majority of Canadian dietitians and cookery teachers use Magic exclusively. And 3 out of 4 Canadian housewives use Magic because it gives consistently better baking results.

No wonder Magic outsells all other baking powders combined!

Favour your family with Chicken Shortcake—made with Magic as Miss Moir directs. Note its delicate flavour, its feather lightness!

CHICKEN SHORTCAKE

2 cups pastry flour
(or 1¾ cups of bread flour)
3 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder
½ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons shortening
1 egg ½ cup water

Sift dry ingredients; add shortening and mix in thoroughly with a steel fork; add beaten egg and sufficient water to make soft dough. Roll or pat out with hands on floured board. Cut out with large floured biscuit cutter, or half fill greased muffin rings which have been placed on greased baking pan. Bake in hot oven at 475° F. about 12 minutes. Split and butter while hot, and fill with hot creamed chicken. Makes 6 shortcakes.

"CONTAINS NO ALUM." This statement on every tin is your guarantee that Magic Baking Powder is free from alum or any harmful ingredient.

Your Children

BY Olive Roberts Barton

SCHOOL DAYS HERE, REMEMBER THESE

Things for mothers to remember:

Don't take sides with the children against the teacher. If things go wrong or you are convinced that John or Mary is not getting a square deal it is best to put all prejudice in your pocket and go out and find what the real trouble is.

Home work is less and less popular, but there are cases when it must be done. When John has home work try to see that he has a quiet—private place to study. And try to cooperate with him about hours to himself.

Children in school all day need time to exercise after sitting in a crowded room. An hour's play in the fresh air when weather is good is necessary to health.

Get the children to school on time.

Don't let them go without breakfast.

A warm lunch is better than a cold one.

Eight o'clock bed time for six to nine year olds. Nine o'clock for other children up to high school age.

Early movies or none except on Fridays and Saturdays.

DON'T CRITICIZE

Give each child a clean handkerchief every morning. Twice a day if he has a cold.

If a child has a temperature (a clinical thermometer is a necessity inevery home) they are very easy to read) don't let him go to school.

Don't criticise the teacher before your boy or girl.

Try to meet the teacher outside of school hours or on a short friendly visit. The principal, too.

* * *

Things for the teacher to remember:

Fifty children have fifty homes. No two will react to school discipline alike.

Children cannot sit absolutely still very long.

Teachers, like mothers, must pretend not see everything that goes on.

A little laugh now and then is like medicine to weary struggling minds.

If John's hair is not brushed—perhaps there is no brush.

If Susy cannot learn, perhaps her breakfast was only a piece of bread and her lunch some salted corn meal.

KEEP WELL YOURSELF

If Mrs. Zobowski comes storming to the door, threatening to put you on the spot, ask her to step with you to the principal's office And remember, if you can, that her belligerency is due partly to terror of something she does not understand.

A little break after each change of subject with windows open, deep breathing exercises, or a walk up and down the aisle will freshen minds and bodies.

Keep a little powder in your shoes and wear low heals. They prevent broken arches—and wrinkles.

Don't mark papers all day Saturday and Sunday. On Saturday have the best time you know how and on Sunday get enough fresh air to last all week.

If a child looks sick, get him home. If you think he has a chronic trouble, talk to his mother. Teachers see things mothers sometimes miss.

Don't sigh and wish it was Christmas. If you were not teaching you would be doing something else or loafing—and hating it.

Every child you teach will remember you forever—and almost every word you say.

Don't let children sit with wet shoes on. Keep some dry ones on hand.

Try to keep well yourself.

Scissors that run on a little electric motor are being sold for home use.

DUMPING SKIDS GRAIN ADVANCES

Announcement That Little Export Trade Done Dampens Ardor

WINNIPEG, Nov. 14 (CP).—Skidding sharply from the high points of the session, prices on the Winnipeg wheat market forsook Chicago leadership today to close the session more than half a cent lower. Buoyed up by bullish sentiment in the first half of the session, values lost earlier advances of as much as 1½c as traders dumped their purchases in later dealings.

Chicago interests lead in early buying here, local traders falling in line with the bullish sentiment. Announcement that little or no export business had been done, however, dampened their enthusiasm and a wild scramble to unload ensued.

Prices slid rapidly downward in the final minutes and the close found December, May and July futures each off ¾c at 46⅞c, 51½c and 52⅜c, respectively. November was off only ¼c at 47¾c.

Huge Dam Built in Novel Manner at Chute a Caron

Tremendous "Stunt" Is Successful and Heralded As a New Departure

MONTREAL, Nov. 14.—Dropping stones into deep water has always been a fascinating sport, but seldom has anyone had an opportunity to hurl a chunk of concrete weighing 11,000 tons into a river, thereby serving a useful purpose and at the same time creating a new technique in dam construction.

This was the experience of engineers at Chute a Caron, on the Saguenay river in northeastern Quebec, where a dam was completed by the unique method of building it on dry land and toppling it into place with the aid of blasting powder. The story of exhaustive laboratory tests which preceded this remarkable piece of engineering has been made public by Adolphe Ackerman who was in charge of preliminary work.

Despite lack of precedent and experience to guide them engineers succeeded in constructing the dam and toppling it into the river bed within an inch of the spot where it was to come to rest. Observation of small models dropped hundreds of times into replicas of the river bed and careful mathematical computation were the engineers' guides. The new method was devised because of the impossibility of using ordinary methods due to the turbulence of the Saguenay and the impracticability of diverting the stream while the dam was under construction.

The first part of the task consisted of building piers accross the relatively shallow water on either side of the stream, leaving a gap of about 100 feet across the deep, roaring middle of the river. The plug of concrete intended to fall in and fill this gap was then constructed on end at the tip of the larger of the two piers. During construction it was balanced on two blocks of concrete in such a manner that when the outer block had been blown to pieces the tall obelisk would topple outward over the stream.

The design of the obelisk depended upon accurate knowledge of the topography of the river bed at that point This was obtained by taking soundings with a 1,000-lb cast-iron ball suspended from a cable and operating on a hoisting engine.

As built the obelisk was 92 feet high, 45 feet thick up and down stream and 40 feet deep. It contained 5,400 cubic yards of concrete and a quantity of steel cables for reinforcement. Padding of the bottom of the huge artificial stone as had at first then planned was found by labor tory tests to be unnecessary. Nine tenths of the shock when a stone is dropped in a stream is absorbed by the water. The cushioning effect is increased as the stone nears the bottom. Despite the swift current flowing that point no fear was entertained of the obelisk being washed downstream because the water flowing from underneath the stone as it was sinking in the river would have such tremendous velocity as to throw back the river from the sides of the falling obelisk.

Mr. Ackerman believes the Saguenay experiment demonstrates the possibility of the new method being used in damming of much larger streams than the Saguenay. Other advantages are the possibility of estimating the cost of the enterprise and the time necessary for its accomplishment with great accuracy.

For Good Literature

Canadian Book Week, which is being celebrated during the ensuing week, has become an annual institution sponsored by the Canadian Authors' association for the purpose of increasing public interest in reading and in books. The Victoria Colonist points out that this interest is by no means confined to Canadian literature, the association feeling that a good book is a good book, whether it is Canadian, English, Russian or South American. At the some time stress is laid upon the work of Canadian authors as there is proof that hundreds of "Canadian books rank high in interest and in permanent value." The public are urged to read and buy Canadian books, not only because they are Canadian but because they are good.

As Canada is a young country her literature must necessarily be insignificant when compared with that of older and more populous lands. In the earlier days, when life in the Dominion was difficult and it was an unceasing struggle to obtain the barest necessities of life, it was not strange that Canadians paid little attention to those engaged in artistic occupation. A nation must be firmly established before her people have either time or money to spend on the finer things of life, and Canadian writers and artists were forced to seek their livelihood in other lands. Canada, however, has amply demonstrated her ability to enjoy the fruits of nationhood since the stirring days of 1914, when she, as an undivided unit, responded to the Empire's needs. It is now time that Canada and Canadians should recognize the truth of the old saying that "The pen is mightier than the sword."

Premier Bennett, speaking at the annual convention of the Canadian Authors' association in Ottawa recently, said: "Proud as Canada has reason to be of all that Canadians have achieved in literature, I should like to see a more steady appreciation of your services in the building of our nation."

Taxes

In 1930-1931 interest payments by the Dominion were over 9½ times as great as in 1912-1913. This ratio, of course, reflects an increase in average interest rate, because of heavy borrowings when money was dear, as well as the increase in debt.

In 1930-1931 interest payments constituted over 31 per cent of all Consolidated Fund charges, whereas in 1912-1913 they were only 11½ per cent of charges one-third as great.

Provinces and municipalities do not segregate all interest charges on their direct liabilities in one account, as does the Dominion, and therefore figures for these governments exactly corresponding to the above cannot be given. Their positions are, however, similar; slightly more extreme in some respects in the case of the provinces and less so with the municipalities.

Interest liabilities for the provinces in 1930-1931 would have met all their ordinary expenditures as recently as 1916-1917.

If proportionate spending continues, in an easily calculable number of years even present total revenues would not be adequate for interest charges alone.

For payment of debt, still further real financial obligation exists. Borrowed money must be repaid and repayment should be within the period of effective service of the investment.

On this principle, what is a reasonable term within which existing debts should be liquidated?

Japan Feels Isolated

Morris Markey, New York newspaper correspondent lately returned from Japan, describes the intense feeling of isolation and resentment which he says is now so rampant in that country that "all are ready to die to avenge the insults which they believe the world has inflicted on them in their struggle for Manchuria." Why Japan needs Manchuria and why it is willing to break its international obligations in order to get it is explained by Mr. Markey at length, but the chief factor is the necessity for an outlet for its excess population.

The Japanese are saying that Manchuria is more valuable to them than Japan itself, and they are aroused to patriotic frenzy when told that they cannot have it. "If you drive us out this time," they are saying, "it will be the end of us. We have done our best to be a great nation, and have done only what all of you were doing fifty years ago. Always you drive us back upon ourselves—always the whole world is against us. We must have Manchuria or collapse, and we have not the least intention of collapsing. If you send your battleships against us—well, we shall see. It is Japan against the world, and we are not afraid."

This desperate talk heard everywhere in Japan, among high officials and lowly peasants, makes it obvious that Japan is willing to go to great lengths in its defiance of the powers, which it well knows have no desire to proceed to extremes in their effort to make Japan live up to her international obligations.

"Between You and Me"

By "J.B.C."

Have you watched school children, just starting out on their educational highway, leaving the schools and running for their homes at the noon hour or after school in the afternoon? Have you, as I have done many a time, watched some of them dash across the streets without fear or without even looking to see if automobiles are approaching? Have you seen others step to the edge of the curb and then look up and down the street before venturing into danger's way? I have stood at a Baker street corner with my heart in my mouth as time and again little tots step forth carefree and without fear but always in dire danger.

A farmer, desiring to retire, decided to divide his horses among his three sons. First he picked the best one of the lot for himself, and then he gave his youngest son a choice of those remaining. The youngest son could choose only a certain number, for the second son was to receive three times as many. The eldest son, who was to get what was left, received half the total number of horses. His share was one-half again as large as the number given the second son. How many horses did each son receive, and how many horses were there altogether?

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON

PREVENTING FAULTY POSTURE

The way young men entering Harvard University and the girls entering Smith College carried themselves, that is their posture as they walked, stood, or sat down was classified as A,B,C, and D, representing excellent, good, poor and bad.

What was found?

The results showed that 80 percent of the young men entering Harvard University and of the girls entering Smith College were found to have faulty posture and had to be graded C, and D.

Similar results were found in groups of 2000 children, 5 to 18 years of age, in Chelsea, Mass, and in 4000 young children in the State of Maryland.

This certainly proves, as Dr. Reginald H. Wiggins of Victoria, B. C., points out, that faulty posture is much more prevalent than was thought.

When we think of faulty posture, poor position of the body, standing or sitting—we are apt to have in mind curvature of the spine, very round shoulders, dropping head, or other severe conditions requiring the services of a specialist, the orthopedic surgeon, as he is called. As a matter of fact poor posture, which really means slumped carriage, drooped head, cramped chest, and unsainly walk, is something that does not require a surgeon, but just a little thought on the part of the children and boys and girls themselves, and also a little care by teachers and parents.

The first thought is to get the youngster to "want" to be straight, to have an erect carriage. In some schools pictures of the four classes of posture—excellent, good, poor and bad— are so well known to the children that each youngster in the class is classified by all the others at the beginning of the session, at Christmas, and before the summer holidays. Naturally his desire, his ambition, is to get out of the bad or poor class and into the good or excellent.

The simplest yet most effective measure in attaining a good carriage is to have the youngster, boy or girl, man or woman, try to sit and stand "tall" at all times; to try to be always their greatest height.

Try this yourself, standing sideways to a mirror.

What happens?

Your head becomes erect, your neck straight, chin drawn in, shoulders well back, chest well out in front, weight of your body on the front part of the feet.

Your posture is class A for the time being at least.

SHERAN BELIEVES WORKLESS BYLAW WOULD CARRY HERE

To the editor of The Nelson Daily News:

Sir—A couple of months ago I had a letter in your paper in which I suggested that work be started to tide men over for the winter months. I also stated that if a bylaw was put to the ratepayers, there is no doubt it would carry and also said that these men should get the same wages and the same amount of work per month as the old hands on public works.

Alderman J. B. Gray at a council meeting of November 7, said that he and the mayor and part of the council journeyed up the hill and Fairview to talk with several of the ratepayers in regard to placing a bylaw before the people. He said that the ratepayers interviewed believed it would not carry. Why did Alderman Gray make those remarks —without authority as was discovered later in the meeting? Give the mayor a square deal.

MAKES CORRECTION ON THE CATHEDRAL STORY OF NOV. 10

To the editor of The Nelson Daily News:

Sir—Please allow me space to correct a small but amusing error in The Daily News of November 10, page 3, vide, "Restoration of Lincoln Cathedral."

This is given as 30 miles N. W. of London, but is nearer 140. Nottingham (near which city I was born) is 120 m. m. N. W. of London. From Nottingham to Lincoln, 35 m. m., N. E.

As a boy, it was a favorite ride of mine, on my bike, those 35 miles of the "Foss Way"—the magnificent old Roman road built by Caesar's legions nearly two thousand years ago, stretching, level and smooth as a table and straight as a string over the green, over by far lands.

That was in the "Nineties," What is the lovely old road like now, I wonder? Tarvia and gas stations, probably. I never stayed to see one auto on it. Perhaps I was lucky, at that. I would spend the day sketching in and around the glorious old cathedral, the castle and granite mediaval streets.

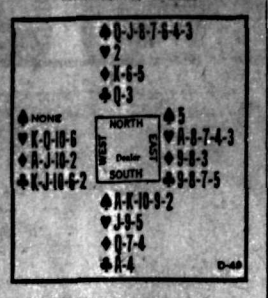
Auction and Contract Bridge

By the World's Leading Authority, MILTON C. WORK



WHEN TO REFUSE A FINESSE

The above hand was played at Contract Bridge with both sides vulnerable. South bid one Spade, and West's best move would have been a two spade bid to show slam possibilities and no losing Spades. But West doubled informatorily; and North, with seven Spades and a side King, jumped to four Spades which shut out both East and West. If West had made the Spade overcall and North had bid four Spades, East, realizing the great strength of West's hand, would have bid five Hearts which might have been made.

Against a four Spade contract West's first lead was the King of Hearts; and when dummy's singleton appeared East overtook with the Ace in order to lead a club up to dummy's single guarded Queen. On the chance that East had obligingly led from the King, South played a small Club with the hope of taking two tricks in the suit. West won with the King and threw South in the lead by returning a club

South won one round of trumps and then led a small Diamond. West putting up the Ten to force dummy's King. Dummy returned a Diamond and West won with Ace and Jack. So East and West set the contract by capturing two Diamonds, one Heart, and one Club. North considered his overbid a worth while sacrifice because it kept East and West from bidding Hearts and probable winning the rubber. Was North's idea correct?

THE CORRECT PLAY

The bidding of East and West on this hand should have permitted South to save the rubber by winning it. West had made an informatory double lacking the Spade suit, the King and Queen of Diamonds, and Ace and Queen of Clubs. South accordingly should refuse to finesse East's Club lead at trick 2. He should win with the Ace, ruff a second round of Hearts in dummy, put closed hand in with a trump and ruff his last Heart in dummy. Dummy's Queen of Clubs then should be led to force the lead on West. After that a Club or heart lead by West would permit declarer to ruff in one hand while discarding a diamond from the other; the lead of the Diamond Ace would give declarer two diamond tricks. An underlead of West's Diamond Ace would be won by South's Queen and a second round then would be led through West's Ace toward dummy's King. So by the above play Declarer would make game against the best defense

LOSERS TALK A GOOD FIGHT

By Al Demaree

"Fighters' memories are tricky," say Mickey Walker, "and a few of them can give any real idea of what happened during a tough bout which explains why there is such a difference of opinion when a fight goes ten rounds or more.

"Some of them, after being down for the full count, haven't the slightest inkling of what came off just a few minutes before.

"Say, I can lick this kid every day in the week," is their usual speech later in the evening.—'Why the lucky stiff only hit me that one punch in the lip, and that didn't more than daze me for a few seconds. He is sure a lucky stiff and I want to fight him again.'

"And as this line of chatter is pulled after a complete knockout, you can imagine the squak of a losing fighter after the bout goes ten of fifteen rounds and one boy shades the other by a slight margin, at least in the opinion of the referee."

SECOND ROUND OF BILLIARDS IS COMPLETED

The second round of the Canadian Legion Russia billiard contest was completed on Monday night and the third round will be finished Saturday next. G. K. Ashby is still high man with a break of 86.

Cuban Takes Severe Punishment in Early Rounds; Decision Booed

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Kid Chocolate, Havana negro, received an unpopular decision over Pete Nebo of Tampa, Fla., in a fast 10-round bout at the St. Nicholas arena tonight. Chocolate weighed 129½ pounds; Nebo 134¾.

Chocolate took considerable punishment in four of the first five rounds but staged a closing rally that won him the last five sessions and the decision. A part of the crowd booed the decision heartily when the verdict was announced although it appeared the Cuban had gained a slight edge by his rally in the latter stages of the bout.

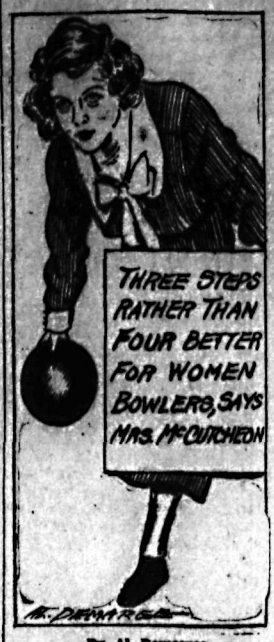
BIG LEAGUE BOWLING



By Al Demarree

Here are some basic points for women bowlers according to Mrs. Floretta McCutcheon, worlds greatest woman bowler.

1. Coordinate stride and swing of ball—swinging ball backward and forward so that left foot, shoulder and ball arrive at foul line at the same time.

2. Start run at same distance from foul line on every delivery of ball.

3.—Wear bowling shoes; never bowl in shoes with high heels.

4. Use straight ball at first and acquire direction before trying curve ball and even curve or "hook" ball is not necessary under modern conditions.

5. Keep eyes on the ball after it is delivered.

6. Do all your bowling back of the foul line.

7. Do not run or walk over twelve feet.

Al Demarree has prepared an illustrated bowling leaflet on "Improving Bowling Delivery" which he will gladly send to any reader requesting it. Address Al Demaree in care of this paper and be sure to enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

CAR OVERTURNS KILLING NUN, SIX STUDENTS

BOGOTA, Columbia, Nov. 14 (AP).—A nun and six girl convent students were killed today when a motor truck in which they were returning from school overturned on a mountain road.

The nun was Margarita Maria Arosemena, 40, sister of former President H. Arosemena of Panama. Four other students were seriously injured.

E ARE WANTING RANKIE BATTAGLIA FANS ON OTHER SID TO SEE MORE OF F

He Is Popular Choice to Beat Marcel Thil for Middleweight Crown

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (CP)—There is restlessness in the middleweight boxing ranks; there is plenty of uneasiness too. There is more interest in this class right now than there has been since Mickey Walker ruled as king.

The cause of it all is a pleasant-faced Canadian kid from Winnipeg named Frankie Battaglia. Last week in Chicago he hammered young Terry of Trenton, N.J., into merciless submission in seven rounds.

That bout didn't cause all the commotion. It neatly capped the display Battaglia gave here in meeting "Chick" Devlin, a good defensive fighter, who learned to take pugilism's knocks in Vancouver.

Today Gotham fans are crying for another look at the Winnipeg clouter. And, while several prominent prospects are already clamoring for the bout, it looks like the Canadian will get the first crack at Marcel Thil, the bald-headed Frenchman, and his world's middleweight crown.

BATTAGLIA IS CHOICE

Despite the pleas of Devlin, Vince Dundee, Gorilla Jones, whom Thil whipped in France, Ben Jeby and others, Battaglia is the popular choice.

His almost meteoric rise from obscurity, insofar as the fistic faithful on this side of the border are concerned, his terrific punching ability and his pleasing appearance and colorful style, have won the hearts of hard-boiled fandom. Promoters have sensed and recognized the Battaglia appeal and he is in greater demand than any other of his class.

NEGOTIATIONS PROCEEDING

Negotiations are proceeding to match him with the winner of the Jeby-Devlin fight to be held here Nov. 21. He has already met both. Knocking out the former with one sock in the first round, he was given a draw with Devlin although practically everyone present believed he had won the decision.

Jeby and Devlin are matched for what the New York state boxing commission says in the middleweight title, which should just about prove how good the Winnipeg boy is.

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 14 (AP)—Ambrose Palmer, Australian champion, defeated Johnny Freeman, American heavyweight, on points in a 12-round match here tonight.

CRICKET SHIELD GOES TO NEW SOUTH WALES

BRISBANE, Australia, Nov. 14 (CP cable)—New South Wales won the Sheffield cricket shield today from Queensland by an innings and 274 runs.

The scores were: New South Wales 802 (Kippax, 179, Hird 106, Bamble four for 91); Queensland 180 and 148 (McCabe four for 22, O'Reilly, six for 36).

CALGARY TECS LOSE IN HOOP PLAY, CRANBROOK

CRANBROOK, B. C., Nov. 14.—One of the most exciting games of basketball ever staged in the city took place when the team of the Calgary Technical school came up against a picked team of local players, the score, evenly contested throughout, stood 26-26 in favor of the Cranbrook team. An excellent crowd of rooters was kept in a turmoil throughout the game by the fast play and the evenness of the score.

A preliminary game between two girls' teams, the Cranbrook Red Wings and the Kimberley Tillicums, ended in a draw, the score being 12-12.

A dance followed the game and was attended by a capacity crowd. The basketball dances held in the Recreation hall being about the best attended dance held among the young people of the city.

The Calgary team motored to the city and were accompanied by a number of Cranbrook students at the Technical school, who were motored over by Eric MacKinnon.

HORTON SMITH WINS "NATIONAL CAPITAL" GOLF

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Horton Smith, the Joplin ghost, ghosted himself to 69 and winner's part of $700 in the United States "national capital" open golf tourney at Kenwood Country club. With 216 he was six strokes over perfect figures for the 54 holes. Smith's nearest competitor was Densmore Shute of Cleveland, who scored 218.

Single Not Disposed to Leave for Camps

Sooner Stay in Urban Centers; Camps Are Being Put in Shape

VICTORIA, Nov. 14 (CP).—Unemployment camps are being brought into habitable condition through the province, it was learned at the legislative buildings today. The next step will be to get the single, homeless men to leave the urban centres and go to them.

This is no easy matter, as the newly formed Pontiham board is finding out. There are over 500 men in Prince George who demur at leaving that place for camps. The problem of forcing the men to leave cities seems to be the major one to be dealt with at the moment.

There are more than 2,000,000 pure-bred cattle, 400,000 pure-bread sheep, and 300,000 pure-bred hogs on farms and ranches in the United States.

"Murder of the Night Club Lady"

The New Thatcher Colt Detective Mystery

By Anthony Abbot

SYNOPSIS

At 11:30 on New Year's Eve, Police Commissioner Thatcher Colt arrives at the exclusive Mayfair Club in response to a mysterious summons from District Attorney Merle Dougherty. The later informs Colt he believes Lola Carewe, known as "The Night-Club Lady", widow of Gaylord Gifford, the cotton millionaire is the "higher-up" responsible for numerous jewel robberies perpetrated recently which baffle the police. Though her husband died practically penniless, Lola lives in luxury. She arrives at the Mayfair accompanied by Vincent Rowland an attorney. At Lola's urgent request Colt joins her party. She voices the fear that she will not leave Mayfair alive, adding that her dog and parrot were mysteriously killed. And tonight, she received a note threatening death before three a.m. Accompanied by detectives and one woman operative, Colt goes with Lola to her penthouse apartment. Mrs. Carewe, Lola's mother, Chung the oriental butler, and Eunice the maid, are present. Colt warns Lola she should not be in any room, alone, at any time. The Commissioner picks up a white object from the living-room mantlepiece.

* * *

"Miss Carewe," he asked, is this the bag you carried at Mayfair tonight?"

It was an envelope pouch of seed pearls.

"Why, no," answered Lola. "It does not belong to me—it is Christine's—my house guest. She must have forgotten to take it with her."

Odd!" remarked Colt. "Its wet—as if it had been out in the storm!"

Lola looked at him curiously, as if searching for some deeper meaning to his words. Colt struck another match, and lit his cigarette.

"Does your mother know of this threat against your life?" he now asked, apparently dismissing the purse.

"No—please—and you must not worry her."

"Then why did you let her know the police were here?" demanded Colt.

"Well—she will have to be told won't she?" demanded Lola, with unabashed inconsistency. Waiting for no reply, she led the way down a narrow corridor. Colt made no further comment, as our party followed her.

We examined a breakfast-room a little library filled mostly with foreign volumes, many of them in paper bindings, a kitchen where Chung was laboring over an electric stove, and thence on into a guest-room. Lola explained this was being used by Christine Quires, her closest friend. It was a prettily furnished room, with four windows opening on a sheer drop of twenty-three floors to the street. There were temporary articles lying on the bureau, in which Colt displayed more than an idle interest. In this room, as in all the others, Colt examined the closets and made a deliberate survey of all available hiding-places.

"How long has Christine Quires been living with you?" he asked, lingering at the door.

"About three months now."

"How long have you known her?"

"About three years."

"And where is she tonight?"

"Out at the Lion's Paw Club. I had expected to join her there—until I read that note."

"Did she leave before you?"

"Yes!"

Colt seemed about to continue this inquiry; then, glancing at his watch, thought better of it, and passed on, down a corridor that led from the guest-room into another small room, reserved for Lola's mother.

At Lola's knock, the door was immediately opened, and a tall old woman, straight and strong, stood looking at us. Her face was dark, shrewd and thoughtful,—yet a cheerful face, with arched brows, deep-set eyes, and small, pointed ears. Of Mrs. Carewe, Colt once said she had the strong body and the well-chiseled head of a lioness.

"You're home early, Lola," she murmured, "Why all these policemen——"

"Som any jewel robberies, mother I'll explain later. I was sorry to awaken you——"

"I was reading The New Atlantis again. Lot of good sense in that book."

She smiled at Colt as if she were imparting a secret. There was a faint foreign accent in her carefully pronounced words. Lola quickly presented her—naming her mother as Mrs. Carewe.

"You must sit down and rest yourself, Lola," insisted Mrs. Carewe. "You have been worrying too much. Chung is right. Chung has been talking to me tonight. He says we all think too much of death around here. He says death is not important. But he's a heathen. Even when he's right, I don't like him. He gives me chills when he grins and talks the way he does. I don't like grinning people."

As the mother said this, the sharp old eyes were turned directly upon Vincent Rowland.

"Mother darling, I want to show these gentlemen your room. You don't object?"

The old woman shook her head.

"I have not objected all my life. There is nothing left for me to object to now."

And Mrs. Carewe sat down and returned calmly to her book.

The old lady's room was in reproachful contrast to all the wealth and elegance surrounding it. For herself Mrs. Carewe elected a chamber with bare walls—not even one picture adorned it. The bed was like a servants cot, of white painted iron rods, and with plain coverings of a cheap sort. There was one straight-backed chair, in which she now sat.

"We used to be poor," confided Lola, "and mother never changes."

Colt pried into closets, looked under the bed, and glanced out of the window—far down the dizzy drop to the street.

"Would you like to see my room now?" prompted Lola.

If the mother's room had been a surprise, the daughter's was even more of an astonishment.

BONDS SPOTTY

Moves About Nervously; Conflicting Trends; U. S. Bonds Heavy

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—The bond market moved about nervously today and conflicting trends gave the price picture a rather spotty appearance.

Caution marked trading throughout and sales volume dwindled to $7,277,000, par value.

United States government bonds were a trifle uneasy, while Liberty bonds were not usually active but slightly firmer.

A few of the low-priced rails were quite heavy at times, although there were some small recoveries near the close of the session.

DOLLAR OFF; STERLING UP

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (CP)—The pound sterling continued its advance on foreign exchanges today, closing ¾ cent higher at $3.33¼ for cables after opening at its high for the day, $3.34. The Canadian dollar, however, developed a heavy tone after early steadiness, and closed at 88½ cents, ¾ cents lower than Saturday's close.

"POTATO FAMINE" IS FORESEEN, ONTARIO

TORONTO, Nov. 14 (CP)—A "potato famine" is foreseen early in the new year, says the Toronto Star today, as a result of widespread "late blight and rot" in the Ontario crop. Farmers of the province will lose at least one-fifth of their harvested crop, representing a crash value of about $1,000,000, says the newspaper.

POTATO PRICES UP

Eggs Steady With Firm Tone; Cheese Continues Steady

MONTREAL, Nov. 14 (CP)—An advance in potato prices featured the produce and dairy market here today. New Brunswick or Prince Edward Island Green Mountains, per 80-pound bag, gained five cents at 75 to 80 cents. Prince Edward Green Mountain, per 90-pound bag, held firm at 85 to 90 cents.

Eggs were steady with a firm tone. Fresh Ontario extras were 46 to 47 cents. Firsts 39 to 40 cents, pullet extras 37 to 38 cents.

Butter was firm, fodder selling at 20¾ cents and grass at 20¾ to 21 cents a pound.

Cheese continued steady, October Ontarios being quoted at nine cents and October Quebecs at 8½ to 8¾ cents a pound.

COPPER HIGHER

Advances at New York and Europe Following Gains of Last Week

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Copper prices moved slightly higher today, both here and in Europe, following their gains of last week.

Copper for domestic shipments was advanced from 5¼ to 5⅜ cents a pound. Copper Exporters, Inc., reported that its members were continuing to offer metal at 5.70 cents for delivery at principal European destinations. In Europe it was reported that copper had sold for 5.80 cents a pound.

Actual business, it was reported, was light, with offerings having dried up appreciably at the recent lower levels.

Wheat Prices Crumble After Early Boost to the Highest Point in Two Months on Strength Eastern Orders

Early Purchasers Turn Sellers After the Market Downturn

By JOHN F. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor

CHICAGO, Nov. 14— Aggressive buying largely on eastern orders jumped wheat values today to the topmost point reached in more than two months, but later the gains crumbled.

Influenced by New York stock market downturns, many wheat operators who earlier had espoused the purchase side turned seller. The transient advance of wheat was associated in a great degree with a statement, issued by one of the biggest houses in the trade, that definite European steps for readjusting of war debts were a distinctly favorable move toward settlement of the world economic crisis.

Wheat closed unsettled at the same as Saturday's finish to ⅜ higher, corn also unchanged to ⅛ up, oats unchanged to ⅛ advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 20 cents.

PIONEER GOLD DIPS SHARPLY

Vancouver Exchange Trading Lightest in Months; Transactions Few

VANCOUVER, Nov. 14 (CP)—In one of the lightest trading sessions in months only four issues registered any change in price level on the Vancouver stock exchange. With the exception of Crow's Nest Oil which had 7500 shares out, activity was confined to odd lot or single transactions.

Pioneer showed the biggest fluctuation in price, dipping sharply to 3.95, off 15 from Saturday's close. Braloorne eased 2 to 53.

Premier advanced 3 to 61 while Reno, halved a two-point gain to close at 59. Fond Oreille lost a two-point gain, closing unchanged at 68.

WHOLESALE PRICES DECLINE, OCTOBER

OTTAWA, Nov. 14 (CP).—Wholesale prices for the month of October showed a decrease of almost two points as compared with the previous month, and a drop of nearly five points as against the corresponding month of last year, according to a report issued today by the Dominion bureau of statistics on the base of 1926 equas 100. The index for October stood at 65 compared with 66.9 for September, and 69.9 for October of 1931.

STOCKS RETIRE SLIGHTLY FROM HIGHER SPOTS

Slow General Decline With Active Issues Yielding Point or Two

By JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 14—Stocks retreated today from the more advanced positions occupied last week.

It was a slow, if general, decline and few active issues yielded in excess of a point or two. Many brokers thought uncertainties created by the debt matter had made for hesitation, if not unsettlement. Also some bank suspensions occurred in scattered sections. Trade news was of scant market significance. Volume dropped to 1,307,145 shares.

Coca Cola, dipping nearly seven points, reflected speculative disappointment over the company's smaller earnings and the omission of what had come to be a regular extra quarterly dividend of 25 cents. The company in the first nine months covered its regular payment with something to spare; but third quarter net equal to $2.15 a share on the common contrasted with $3.29 for the second and $3.98 a year ago. Presumably traders interests in soft drink stock have not been deaf to the current beer gossip.

MAY REORGANIZE ABITIBI POWER

TORONTO, Nov. 14 (CP)—"I am informed that an effort is to be made to reorganize the company," Geoffrey T. Clarkson, receiver and manager of the Abitibi Power and Paper company, limited, today told Irwin Hilliard, K. C., master of the supreme court, and a gathering of representatives of creditors of the company.

Mr. Clarkson was hopeful and reorganization might be effected without a sale of the company's assets but admitted a sale might be necessary.

OGILVIE FLOUR DIVIDEND SAME

MONTREAL, Nov. 14 (CP)—It was erroneously reported Saturday that Ogilvie Flour Mills Limited had reduced the common stock dividend from eight to seven per cent per annum. The dividend remains at eight per cent as heretofore.

pool to hedge. This had the effect of stabilizing the market and promoting the orderly marketing of the crops. It would not disturb the natural laws of supply and demand.

Hedging was necessary for orderly marketing of the crop, Mr. Bennett said. When a buying agency purchased wheat from the farmers it protected itself by selling in the Winnipeg pit a corresponding amount of grain futures. Banks, advancing credit to buying agencies insisted on hedging. Under normal conditions speculators and investors bought the futures. Speculators practically disappeared and the operators of investors (milling companies) were restricted by the depression. The only organization left to make hedging possible was the selling agency of the pool, supported by the government.

and an effort may follow to avoid a default by some alternation of the present arrangement. Whatever the outcome of this almost unprecedented exchange of views between president and future government heads, one fact was clearly apparent—that a real solution can be reached only through the tedious and laborious process of compromising the sharply differing attitudes not only of nations but, and equally important, of the men in the United States congress whose collective word, in the end will be final.

WAR WILL NOT BE ABOLISHED BY WAR IS SERMON THEME

Nelson Male Glee Singers Give Anthems and Solo at St. Paul's

The Nelson Glee club assisted Sunday evening in special Armistice day remembrance service at St. Paul's church. Rev. T. J. S. Ferguson took for his theme "The Day of Remembrance," described the modern thought of war.

"New light has come to all of us on the question of war in these latter years," he said. "The great thought that sustained out, soldiers in their horrible experiences was that war was being fought to end wars. We cannot speak too highly of the sacrifice, courage, chivalry and endurance of the soldiers, but the folly of war is seen in the fact that this method of settling international disputes has robbed the world of 10,000,000 of its best and ablest men. And the world is still left armed to fight again.

"We are beginning to have some faith in Jesus' principle of refusing to take the sword. He said to his followers, 'put up the sword into its place for all they who take sword shall perish by sword'. Again He states another principle that we are beginning to accept namely—'war cannot cast out war as Satan cannot cast out Satan. Figs do not grow on thistles nor grapes on thorns. Hate produces hate—love produces love, so we have to take up the sword of the spirit of love and learn to love our enemies and pray for them and if need be die for them—but not kill them'. Can we ever acquire this manly art of love? If so, wars will cease."

As an example of the present day thought Mr. Ferguson read a report of the general council of international peace and disarmament sent out to the various United churches of Canada by the Right Reverend T. Albert Moore, D.D., moderator.

The report points out the destructiveness of war of those personal and moral values and petitions the Christian public to create an opinion which will remove the occasion of war. There was good reason to believe, the report charges, that one hindrance to disarmament is the activity of the associated and interlocked international group of firms who manufacture implements of war. An abolition of private manufacturers was a suggested remedy.

Self regarding nationalism throughout the world was enumerated as a menace to world peace, and a general abandonment of the doctrine of political sovereignty, with its claim that a nation is free to take the law into its own hands, advocated.

Besides leading the singing of a large congregation the Glee club rendered two anthems. W. Coleman took the solo part in the anthem "Spacious Fermament," and George Brown the solo in "The Bell Man." "Lead Kindly Light" was a third anthem. Nelson Ball was heard in solo in the rendition of "Nearer My

APPLES GO TO BRITAIN VIA THE PANAMA

Market Overcrowded by U. S. Fruit Just Now; Steamer Official Visits

An increase in passenger and freight steamship business as between Canada and Great Britain is anticipated, as a result of the Imperial economic conference agreements, by F. Lefeaux of Vancouver, representative of the Cunard Line and the Anchor-Donaldson line. The Cunard Line handles both passengers and freight business out of Montreal, and the Anchor-Donaldson Line handles freight by way of Vancouver via the Panama Canal.

While in Nelson Monday, Mr. Lefeaux mentioned that early in the apple-harvesting season extremely heavy shipments of apples were made to Great Britain by the overland route to Montreal, but on account of the flooding of the British market by American growers anxious to get in ahead of the tariff on foreign fruit, later shipments have been going chiefly by way of the Panama, which takes a longer time, as the British market is not ready yet to absorb any large tonnage of apples from Canada.

A Jig-Saw Puzzle?

These battered and wrecked bungalows at Broad Channel, near Rockaway, L.I., give graphic evidence of the force of the gale that shrieked in from the Atlantic and lashed New York and vicinity. Roofs and timbered walls were whipped about like paper scraps. Fifty persons were injured, three seriously, and heavy property damage inflicted. Three flimsy bungalows were whipped out to sea.

PIONEER PROSPECTOR DRIVEN FROM NORTH BY ILLNESS PLANNING TO GO BACK INTO THE PELLY GOLD BELT

Claims Knows Where Rich Virgin Paystreak Rests in Wilderness

VANCOUVER, Nov. 14.—(CP)—The old time type of prospector, characteristic of earlier days, is rapidly passing, in fact he has already disappeared and the present day finds a new kind of mineral explorer—the aerial prospector—taking his place.

Such at least, is the firm conviction of Robert D. "Bob" Henderson, one of the discoverers of the famous Klondike goldfields and world-wide prospector, and adventurer of other days.

"I'm 76 today," Bob manfully boasts, "but if I get the opportunity I'm going back to the Yukon and uncover a new paystreak, one that is even richer than the Bonanza, Eldorado or Hunker Creek. White channel, the real stuff. All the big paystreaks of the Yukon were found in white channels. Well, I know a district in the Pelly region, 200 miles north-east of Dawson City, where richer gold fields will be opened up than were ever dreamed of in the helcyon days.

This is no idle boast on the part of the big Nova Scotian who first put pick and shovel in the Klondyke country in 1894. For Bob knows what he is talking about. For several years prior to his departure from the Yukon in 1924, he mined and prospected in this great Pelly gold belt. He knows the nature of the country and the formation of the land.

The old-timer however, insists airplane is his only hope of reaching the promised land.

"There's not a doubt in the world in my mind," says the famous prospector, "but that there's a rich virgin pay streak in the Pelly district. Some day it will be opened up and when it is the Yukon will experience a sensational as the one to the Klondyke in '97 and '98.

"I would have found it," Bob declares, "if it hadn't been for my health. That's the only reason I left the Yukon in '24. But I'm feeling fine now and I'm going back, God willing, I want to make one more strike, and that one up the Pelly is the one. I know the gold is there but I'm the only one that does know exactly where it is.

Asked why others had not prospected this district, the hardy Yukoner explained:

"It's a tough country and it takes a man with patience and a constitution to stand it. The paystreak lies in a gigantic valley at the head of Pelly river. There has never been a hole sunk into the ground. It is virgin soil, pure gold bearing ground, richer than the dreams of men. I could take a pan and get colors anywhere—right on the surface. But the place is so far remote—so far up the river, obstructed by so many portages and mountain ridges, that a man is worn out before he reaches there. That is by the old way of prospecting where a man had to pack and re-pack his supplies for hundreds of miles. I've had my share of that in the Yukon. But I'd go there by plane in a minute if I had the opportunity, and I'd prove to the world that the gold is there.

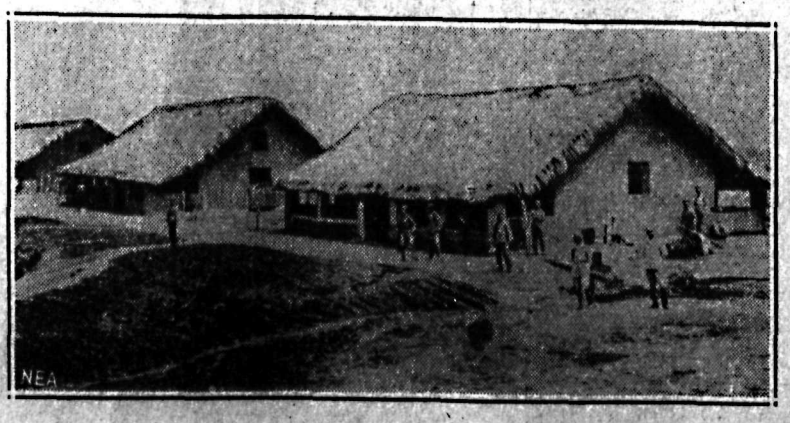
Despite his years and more than a quarter of a century of pitting his wits and strength against obstacles, the old miner is not too staid and stubborn to realize that the old type of prospector has just about vanished.

"Airplanes, that's the only way to prospect in that north country," he will tell you. "Why planes will put the Yukon district on the map in another few years. They are a great saver of time and labor. Believe me, if I ever go north again, and I hope to, it will be by air and I know I will come out the winner."

Know Her Now? Three Guesses

Three guesses—She's one of a pair of sisters who won great fame in the movies. But she hasn't been in the films in recent years. She is shown here as she returned from a European trip. Her name?—Dorothy Gish.

Bolivian "Fort" in War-Torn Gran Chaco



With the capture of Fort Fernandez, the Paraguayan war ministry announced that 18 Bolivian "forts" had been taken and six Paraguayan forts recaptured since war broke out in the disputed Gran Chaco region last June. That the Chaco forts are vastly different frfom the popular conception of such defences is shown by this new photo from the war zone. It shows Fort Minos, Bolivian troop base, a group of thatched barracks.

BILLY HOLLAND RUNS IN FRONT OF MOVING AUTO

Gets Nasty Cuts and Bruises Near Baker and Cedar Turn

Eight-year-old Billy Holland, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Holland, sustained nasty cuts and bruises but miraculously escaped dangerous injuries when he ran in front of a car driven by William Rutherford on the Baker-Cedar turn Monday afternoon.

With Jamie West, a companion, he ran from the alley at the end of the curve and into the path of the car. By luck the other lad escaped. Mr. Rutherford was proceeding toward Fairview.

Billy sustained nasty face cuts and body bruises but last night no anxiety was felt for immediate serious results.

Billy evidently is sharing the ill luck of his elder brother Johnny has experienced. Johnny was run into by a car while operating a scooter a block further toward Fairview several months ago and was taken to the hospital. He is recovering from a broken leg sustained when he fell from a tree.
