GERMANS MAKE THREAT TO QUIT GENEVA MEET

Line Up With Italy in Stating Declaration Inacceptable

MAKE DEMANDS FOR EQUALITY

Italian and French Socialist Deputies Cause Melee in Session

GENEVA, July 22 (AP).—Germany threatened to leave the world disarmament conference today, lining up with Italy in stating the declaration to be adopted before adjournment was entirely inacceptable.

Count Rudolf Nadolny, German spokesman, said when the conference is resumed after the summer recess it will be without the collaboration of Germany unless the delegates recognize before adjourning Germany's right to a position of equality among the other nations of the world.

Meanwhile, in the room next to that in which the disarmament delegates were gathered, a session of the inter-parliamentary union broke up in a dispute between the French and the Italians.

It developed the Italian deputy, Coftvamagna, had aroused the resentment of the French Socialist deputy, Renaudel, by attempting to instruct the meeting on parliamentary procedure.

The Frenchman protested. The Italian shouted and answer. Renaudel cried: "Down with the assassins of Matteotti!" referring to the killing of Giacoma Matteotti, a Socialist deputy, which was one of the sensational events of the early days of Fascism in Italy.

BLOWS STRUCK

Before the ensuing melee was ended, several blows were struck, and police were called in.

Count Nadolny's threat to the disarmament delegates came during consideration by the conference commission, a sort of committee of the whole, of the adjournment of declaration.

Italy announced through General Italo Balbo yesterday the declaration was entirely too general to satisfy a world which has waited for many months for some definite achievement in disarmament.

General Balbo spoke after Maxim Litvinoff, representative of Soviet Russia, had tried in vain to work in an amendment declaring for a one-third cut in armaments instead of the "substantial reductions" recommended in the declaration.

The German objection took another tack.

RIGHT TO EQUALITY

Count Nadolny, while declaring the declaration to be inacceptable, emphasized the thesis Germany has a right to a position of equality with the rest of the nations regarding arms.

"The right of equality is a fundamental principle on which the League of Nations rests," he said. "If this conference wants to establish rules and principles of general disarmament, at the same time excluding Germany or other states from these rules and principles, or subjecting any statement to discrimination, such an attitude would be incompatible with sentiments of national honor and international justice."

CANADA FAVORS RESOLUTION

GENEVA, July 22 (CP).—Before the general commission of the world disarmament conference, Hon. Maurice Dupre today declared Canada favors the five-point adjournment resolution providing for limitation of specified heavy land guns and undefined effective troops.

The resolution represents the greatest sum of agreement which can be reached before adjournment, said the Canadian solicitor-general, and it furnished some hope for attaining the final goal.

The adoption of the resolution, by sections and without change today, makes it possible for the conference to adjourn for a recess until autumn.

CAR UPSETS KILLING ONE, INJURING TWO

WINNIPEG, July 22—One man is dead and two are seriously injured as a result of a motor accident south of St. Boniface tonight. Mike Pinsik, 21, Alfred Beatty, 19, and William Bores, 21, were riding in a "bug" they had bought only a few days ago. The car got out of control going around a curve and turned over in a ditch. Pinsik was killed.

FLORENZ ZIEGFELD DIES AT HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, July 22— Florenz Ziegfeld, noted musical comedy producer, died tonight at a hospital here.

Death cam at 10:31 p.m., after an unexpected setback that developed only tonight. Only Dr. Marcus Radwin, attending physician, and a nurse were in the room when the producer died.

S. G. BLAYLOCK WILL BE SPEAKER AT THE CONSOLIDATED PICNIC

Residents of Trail and employees of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting company will be welcomed to Nelson at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Lakeside park when Mayor J. P. Morgan will speak through the loud speakers especially installed for the occasion.

Following the welcome by Mayor Morgan, S. G. Blaylock, vice-president and general manager of the Consolidated company, will address the gathering. Following Mr. Blaylock's speech George Horstead, secretary of the Kootenay Launch club will announce the program of sports at the park and on the water front.

DAIL PASSES TARIFF BILL

Will Become Law as Soon as Signed by Governor-General

DUBLIN, July 22 (CP cable)—The dail eireann in special session tonight adopted the government's emergency tariff bill after refusing to accept a senate amendment. The bill becomes law when signed by the governor-general, probably tomorrow.

President Eamon de Valera's government may now levy duties of any amount on imports from Great Britain. The measure was designed levied by Britain on Free State to answer the 20 per cent duties goods following Mr. de Valera's decision to withhold the land annuities.

In adopting the bill tonight, the dail rejected a senate recommendation to delete the important first section. This section empowered the government to impose stamp taxes on documents used in transactions, and aimed at British insurance companies doing business in the Free State.

Patrick McGillivan, former minister for external affairs and a leading opponent of the bill, asserted it would affect a Canadian insurance company which is one of the largest operating in the Free State. He brought the imperial economic conference into the debate by deferring to the fact that Free State delegates joined in a message to the King adopted at Ottawa yesterday. Only a year ago, he declared, Sean O'Kelly, now head of the delegation at Ottawa, had described such messages as "hog-wash."

Sealed Indictments Handed Police Case

Counsel for 13 Policemen to Open Them Monday Morning

NEW YORK, July 22—Sealed indictments were handed up tonight by the grand jury that investigated the "third degree" death of Hyman Stark.

Counsel for the 13 policemen who were arrested in connection with Stark's death was instructed to produce them in court Monday morning, when the bills will be opened.

Preliminary charges against the policemen ranged from second degree murder down to neglect of duty. Four of them were accused of murder.

Investigation of alleged poison and prison brutalities spread rapidly today as four deaths were laid to "third degree," "sweat box" and torture methods of handling prisoners.

In Griffin, Ga., a county convict warden was indicted for involuntary manslaughter for the death of a negro convict.

DID KILL LASSITER

The indictment charged he "did kill one John Thomas Lassiter by hitting, striking and beating him with his hands, fists, sticks, pieces of wood and other weapons."

The warden, Capt. P. H. Randall, was freed on $1 bail.

In Raikord, Fla., the full board of commissioners of state institutions completely exonerated prison officials and employees in the recent death of two convicts.

The two prisoners whose death were being investigated were Harold Bradley and Frank Powell.

Bradley, whose home was at Loretta, Pa., was shot and killed by a guard when he and another prisoner attempted to escape from a prison road camp.

Powell, a one legged convict from Miami, died shortly after he collapsed in the prison shoe factory.

The board did not investigate the "sweat box" death of Arthur Maillefert, young New Jersey convict, who was found strangled to death with a heavy chain about his neck and his feet in wooden stocks at the Sunbeam prison camp.

HOOVER SIGNS BILL OF HOME LOAN BANK

WASHINGTON, July 22—Placing the seal of approval upon the last great cog in his reconstruction machine, President Hoover today signed the act which will spread a $125,000,000 chain of home loan banks across the United States.

Smiling and genial as the changed this bill into law, the president told newspapermen there was an immediate demand for between $300,000,000 and $500,000,000 in home construction, awaiting only financing facilities.

POSITION OF CANADA SHOWN OTTAWA FACTS

Comprises 27 Per Cent of Empire Area; a Leading Manufacturer

PRODUCES MOST NEWSPRINT, NICKEL

Stands Second Only to Britain in Trading of Empire Countries

OTTAWA, July 22 (CP)—Sessions of the imperial economic conference in Ottawa bring into relief outstanding facts about Canada's present standing in the empire and the world. Here are a few, prepared by the department of trade and commerce:

Canada, with an area of 3,690,043 square miles, is the largest country within the empire and comprises 27 per cent of the empire's total area of 13,491,977 square miles.

Canada leads the world in production of newsprint, nickel and asbestos; holds second place in the production of gold, platinum metals and cobalt; third in the production of Zinc and silver and fourth in the production of copper, wheat, automobiles and lead.

CANADA LEADS IN WHEAT EXPORTS

Canada leads the world in the export of wheat, newsprint, nickel and asbestos; holds third place in the export of wheat flour; fourth place in the export of automobiles and wood pulp and fifth place in the export of rubber tires. She ranks high also in the export of a wide variety of other products.

Canada stands seventh among the trading nations of the world, and only second to Great Britain among empire countries.

Canada trades with over 100 different countries of which over 32 are within the British Empire.

Canada has provided approximately one-third of the total supply of world wheat entering into international trade during the past two months.

SECOND IN POWER CONSUMPTION

Canada stands second in per capita consumption of developed hydro-electric power.

Canada's fisheries are among the most extensive in the world.

Canada is recognized by the League of Nations as one of the eight leading manufacturing nations of the world.

Canada's eastern ports are closer to Britain and northern Europe than any other port of the western hemisphere, and her Pacific ports are from one to four days closer to Japan than are any other ports on this continent.

Canada comes second in total mileage of steam railways among the countries of the world.

Canada stands fourth among countries in the number of motor vehicles in use and comes second in per capita ownership, or approximately one to every eight persons.

Canada is only exceeded by one country in the proportion of telephones in use and the number of calls.

FLYING BAT FRACTURES SKULL, GIRL

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., July 22—Struck on the head by a flying bat while watching a group of boys playing softball at Nipigon about 8 o'clock last evening, Martha Wawie, 12-year-old daughter of Mrs. Josephine Wawie, Nipigon, sustained a slight fracture of the skull. The injured girl was brought to Port Arthur by train last night after receiving first aid treatment, and was taken to St. Joseph's hospital. She will be in the hospital for some weeks, her physician said.

GIRL IS STRUCK UNDER EYE WITH SPLINTER, GLASS

Struck under the eye with a piece of flying glass after the car driven by her father had smashed into the back of a truck driven by Jimmy Morrison Tuesday morning near the Kootenay Lake General hospital, the little 6-year-old daughter of Robert W. Watson of Trail received a nasty gash, requiring four stitches to close the wound.

Four cars were proceeding westward along Nelson avenue at a moderate rate when the front car suddenly stalled. The second and third cars stopped, but the fourth car, driven by Mr. Watson, ran into the car in front, breaking the windshield.

The little girl was able to continue the journey after a rest of two hours.

FRIDAY HOTTEST DAY OF THE YEAR

Rises to 96 Degrees for New Seasonal High Temperature; Low Is 50

Exceeding all hot weather so far this season, the mercury climbed to 96 degrees for high temperature, Friday. Friday's high temperature was two degrees higher than the previous high of 94 degrees. Low temperature for the 24-hour period ended at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon was 50 degrees.

AGED MAN OF PERRY SIDING ENDS OWN LIFE

Pere Ostlund, aged 81 years, who was recently discharged from hospital, care following a lengthly illness, took his own life at Perry Siding on Thursday night between 11 and 12 o'clock. Mr. Ostlund died from the effects of a shot gun wound in the head.

He retired to his room leaving his son and daughter in the lower bed room of the house. Shortly after a shot was heard and son and daughter, Gustef and Mrs. Carlson rushed up to find him dying.

Sergeant C. G. Barber of the provincial police and Coroner Dr. H. H. MacKenzie investigated and found an inquest unnecessary.

Lays Cards on the Table

CHARLIE WATTS SAVES KIDDIES

Heroic Effort Saves Papazian Children From Kootenay

Presence of mind of Charlie Watts of Nelson probably saved the lives of the adopted son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Papazian on Friday afternoon. The children were playing on a log at the Launch club boat houses when it suddenly overturned and threw the two children into the water. The young girl grabbed the log and the boy clambored on top of it. Mr. Watts threw off his coat and plunged into the water to propel the log to a safe place. The children were none the miss for the experience.

WALLET GAME FALLS SHORT

Coast Man Puts Police on Track of Confidence Men

VANCOUVER, July 22—The lure of the "wallet game" failed to tempt Christian Gangun, East Cordova street, who put police on the trail of two confidence men who would have practiced the game on him.

Gangun told detectives that on July 19 he met an affable stranger on Georgia street viaduct and made an appointment to visit New Westminster on Friday.

Arrival in the royal city, he went to Queen's park with the stranger, and while strolling along a pathway they found a wallet which bulged with important-looking papers and information regarding racetrack betting. When they were examining their find, an agitated man arrived on the scene and claimed the wallet.

The newcomer was profuse in his thanks for the return of the wallet and had just commenced to offer a reward for its recovery in the form of "sure thing" race-track tips, when Gangun suddenly remembered reading of how others had been fleeced by the "wallet game." He excused himself to his chance acquaintances and hastened to New Westminster police headquarters. Officers went to the park but the men had disappeared. Search for them had been extended to Vancouver.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN KILLED BY PRAIRIE TRAIN

CANORA, Sask., July 22—A man whose identity is as yet unknown was run over and killed by an eastbound passenger train tonight outside of Margo. It is assumed that the man was riding on a freight train running ahead of the passenger train and had fallen off and was not noticed until he was run over by the passenger train. Police are investigating.

AUSTRALIA OFFERS WIDER PREFERENCES TO BRITAIN, ASKS THE SAME IN RETURN

Hon. Stanley Bruce Outlines Scheme in Statement to Economic Conference; Makes Offer Conditional on Reasonable Reciprocity

AREAS UNEXPLOITED BY MANUFACTURERS OF AUSTRALIA TO BE MADE AVAILABLE

Declares Must Receive Aid on Meat; Delegates Plan Detailed Study; Committee on Promotion of Trade Holds Meeting

OTTAWA, July 22 (By George Hambleton, CP staff writer).—Australia has now tabled her cards. She offers wider preferences to Great Britain. She asks wider preferences in return.

Hon. Stanley Bruce, head of the Australian delegation, outlines the scheme in a statement submitted to the Imperial Economic Conference. By further reclassification of her tariff, Australia will make available in a preferential way to Great Britain protected areas in Australian industry which are not being exploited by Australian manufacturers. She will widen the margin of preference in Britain's favor with respect to admission of essential goods not produced in the Commonwealth. Possibly with very slight exceptions, she will undertake to remove remaining prohibitions and surcharges imposed for financial reasons two years ago. She will adhere to all preferences now obtaining. She will give "earnest consideration" of any British requests for additional concession which are in the power of Australia to make.

Mr. Bruce is emphatic that all these proposals are conditional on reasonable reciprocity. He mentions meats, dairy products, fruit, wheat and wool, but it is on meats particularly that Mr. Bruce presses the point. "On meat, and here I am including pig products," Mr. Bruce says, "Australia requests, and indeed must firmly press, for effective assistance from Great Britain." He declares Australia has heard with "much astonishment" the suggestion the new British preferences are conditional on new or increased preferences being granted by the dominions. "I may add," Mr. Bruce further observes, "that the unanimous view of the Australian people is that, while for a quarter of a century they have given preference to Great Britain freely and unconditionally, they regard the British preferences granted under the Import Duties act as a somewhat tardy response for the benefits from Australia long enjoyed by British industry."

DETAILED STUDY

And now, with the Canadian and Australian proposals in hand, conference delegates plan days of detailed study. This afternoon, the main committee of the conference—that on promotion of trade within the Commonwealth—met and chose Lord Halisham of the British delegation as its chairman. Although the committee does not meet again till Monday, all delegations are planning private meetings of their own for tomorrow, meetings at which they will examine proposals made and plot their course.

The idea at present in mind is not the conclusion of one agreement between Great Britain and all the dominions together, but rather a series of agreements.

These may be roughly classified:

(1) Bi-lateral agreements between Great Britain and one dominion.

(2) Bi-lateral agreements between two dominions.

(3) Agreements in which Great Britain, and possibly several dominions, will be concerned.

GENERAL UNDERSTANDING

Accompanying these proposed agreements on trade, a general understanding is suggested on Empire content—that is to say, the percentage of Empire material and labor which manufactured articles must contain to permit them to qualify for preferential tariff rates. In most Empire units, the percentage required is around 50. In Great Britain it is only 25.

Irish Free State delegates are understood to be meditating a scheme whereby they will take Canadian wheat in return for reciprocal advantages on the Canadian wheat.

CABINET OUSTING IS TO BE HEARD

German Supreme Court Will Hear Arguments in Prussia's Appeal

BERLIN, July 22 (AP).—Tomorrow the German supreme court will hear arguments in Prussia's appeal against the ousting of its cabinet by President von Hindenburg and the von Papen government.

There will be at least moral support from Bavaria, Baden and Wurttemberg, all of which have filed complaints questioning the constitutionality of the federal government's course.

Even among the protestants there appeared to be an agreement that the federal government was within its rights in declaring martial law for Berlin and the province of Bradenburg, but they question whether the federal authorities can legally interfere in the internal government of a state to the extent of supplanting its ministers.

But Chancellor von Papen, who said the day the decree was issued that all the appeals in the world would not delay its execution, carried out his promise.

Constitutional or not, the Prussian cabinet is out, and General von Runstedt, von Papen.s deputy, is ruling by martial law.

At 5 o'clock this morning a squad of soldiers entered the home of Hugo Heimanssberg, chief of the Berlin police, tumbled him out of bed and placed him under arrest.

The charge was vague. It dealt with "suspicion of having contravened the presidential decree imposing martial law." A police major and a member of the Reichsbanner also were arrested.

10,000 MINERAL CLAIMS WILL BE OPENED TO STAKE

VICTORIA, July 22 (CP).—The provincial department of lands has cancelled the survey, field notes and official plan of the Gold Drop, Prince Rupert, Evening Star, Vancouver, Gold Cup, and Gold Sovereign mineral claims in Range 4, Coast district, according to official notice in the British Columbia Gazette.

It is understood that approximately 10,000 mineral claims, all crown granted, which have reverted to the government for nonpayment of taxes, are under review by the department of mines, and all those in arrears for 10 years will be thrown open to prospectors as free areas, which may be staked for $2.50 per claim and title granted after the customary assessment work of $100 per claim is done for five years.

MACHINIST KILLED AT PAPER MILL

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., July 27—Drawn between the reel drum and a roll of paper while back tending on No. 1 machine at the Thunder Bay paper mill, about noon today, Ernest Cote, 27 years old, Fort William, was instantly killed.

BODY OF MISSING MAN RECOVERED FROM RED RIVER

WINNIPEG, July 22—Missing since last Friday, the body of Bert Enfield, 45, was recovered by police from the Red river today. He was said to have been despondent and to have previously attempted suicide by turning on the gas in his room.

25-DAY RAILROAD STRIKE IS ENDED

NOGALES, Ariz., July 22.—Disrupted by a 25-day strike, the Southern Pacific of Mexico railroad resumed operations today in the hands of the Mexican government. A large crowd stood on the international boundary line and cheered as smoke began to pour from the funnels of the locomotives.

HOG JUMPS HIGHER AS FENCE RAISED

BELLEVILLE, Ont., July 22.—J. W. Coulter, Prince Edward county farmer, claims to own the champion jumping hog in these parts.

"I have a three-year-old Yorkshire sow which took to jumping out of the pen," said Mr. Coulter today. "I could not keep her in, so I added a board all around. She went over that. I added another, and she took the leap over that. Then another, which made the total of five feet in height, and behold, she cleared that with ease."

OLD TIMER IN NELSON, CALLED

Luther Marshall Sucumbs to Peritonitis Friday Morning

Succumbing to peritonitis which set in after an operation for appendicitis, Simpson Luther Marshall, a resident of Nelson for the past 28 years, died at Nelson early Friday morning after an illness of only three days.

Mr. Marshall was born in Kirkbyunderwood, Linconshire, England and came to Canada about 28 years ago. He came straight to Nelson and has made his residence here since. He was unmarried.

A pioneer driver in Nelson, Mr. Marshall worked for several Nelson trucking firms, and was the oldest employee of the West Transfer, being in the steady employee of that firm for the past 28 years.

Since early in the history of the Nelson branch of the I.O.O.F. Mr. Marshall has been a member and an ardent worker in the lodge.

He is survived by seven brothers, J. R. Marshall of Nelson, and six others in England; and four sisters in England. He is also survived by a cousin, Jack Alice of Penticton.

AUTOGRAPH HUNTERS CONTINUE AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, July 22 (CP).—Autograph hunters have stormed Parliament hill, capturing many delegates to the Imperial conference. They lie in wait behind pillars and doorways, swooping out when a Stanley Baldwin, a Sean O'Kelly or a Sir Atul Chatterjee appears. Then a touching plea for a signature, a gleam of satisfaction as the pen touches paper, and a return to the roost behind the pillar to await another celebrity.

If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.—James 1:5

Magnesia Best for Your Indigestion

Most people who suffer, either occasionally or chronically from gas, sourness and indigestion, have now discontinued disagreeable diets, patent foods and the use of harmful drugs, stomach tonics, medicines and artificial digestants, and instead, following the advice so often given in these columns, take a teaspoonful or four tablets of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water after meals with the result that their stomach no longer troubles them, they are able to eat as they please and they enjoy much better health. Those who use Bisurated Magnesia never dread the approach of meal time because they know this wonderful anti-acid and food corrective, which can be obtained from any good drug store, will instantly neutralize the stomach acidity, sweeten the stomach, prevent food fermentation, and make digestion easy. Try this plan yourself, but be certain to get Bisurated Magnesia especially prepared for stomach use.

50-50 CHANCE OF SEEING ECLIPSE

MONTREAL, July 22 (CP)—Here is a new type of insurance asked for which proved to be one of the few not granted.

An enterprising young business manager wishing to organize an excursion to Sorel, Que., or thereabouts on August 31 to view the total eclipse of the sun taking place on that date had fear of bad weather ruining his venture.

He therefore made application for insurance to protect him against this possibility, but officials of the company upon investigation found that the next total eclipse was scheduled to take place 300 to 400 years hence. This would mean a long time to wait for a possible opportunity to regain the loss in case of bad weather on August 31 this year, so the applicant's request was refused.

Chances for fine weather on that date, however, are 50-50 according to McGill university scientists who will take into consideration the time of the day the eclipse will occur and whether statistics for this district over a period of many years.

MARITIME AIR SHOW PLANNED

HALIFAX, N. S., July 24 (CP).—A definite announcement is expected early this month in regard to a maritime provinces air pageant that has been planned for several weeks. Halifax, Sydney, New Glascow and Charlottetown flying clubs already have agreed to co-operate in financing shows at the different airports, and Moncton and Saint John clubs have been asked to take part. The tour would have the approval of the Canadian lying Club association.

Enthusiasm for aviation is developing rapidly on Prince Edward Island, according to Dr. J. S. Jenkins, who recently flew from Charlottetown to Halifax to attend a meeting at which pageant plans were discussed. He was accompanied by I. Y. Reddin and H. Jones, members of the Charlottetown club.

First Man in Tropics, Find Indicates

Mankind may have originated in the tropics after all (despite the present wide acceptance of the theory of a central Asian birthplace of the race.

This suggestion is brought forth by W. F. F. Oppenoorth, who with a fellow engineer, and geologist, C. Ter Haar, recently fould the upper half of a primitive human skull and fragments of a second skull at Ngandong on the Solo river in Java. It was on this same river that famous Pithecanthropus bones were found over 40 years ago.

Mr. Oppenoorth bases his suggestion on the decidedly Neanderthaloid shape of the newly found skulltop, which places this Java man on a decidedly higher plane than that occupied by Pithecanthropus, and practically on a par with the Neanderthal men who lived in Europe and Asia at the same time. The skull of this "Solo man" has a slightly flatter forehead than that of the typical Neanderthaler, and its back portion is cut off much more squarely and sharply. But it has the same generally massive construction, and specially the same beetling eyebrow ridges. What the brain cavity is like has not yet been determined, for only the outside of the skull has been cleared of the stony mass in which it was embedded when found.

RESIDENTS IN JAVA DURING ICE AGE

Together with Pithecanthropus, dating from a considerably earlier time, and the so-called Homo wadjakensis, of much more recent time, the new-found Solo man builds up a series of human remains indicating that the island of Java has had human or pre-human inhabitants since at least the middle of the Ice Age, and possibly even considerably earlier than that.

The new find also renders improbable, in Oppenoorth's opinion, the theory that Pithecanthropus was a backward or degenerate race, advanced by Prof. Henry Fairfield Osborn.

SYNOPSIS

Lynn Harding, young and pretty clerk in the Sea Coast Bank & Trust company loves Tom Shepard, secretary to one of the bank's vice-presidents. They cannot marry on Tom's salary so Lynn decides to hold her position. She learns, however, that the bank does not want married women. She seeks the aid of David Dwight, prominent lawyer, whom she met through Sarah Dennet, her chief at the bank. Dwight had been Sarah's sweetheart years before but gave her up to work at the bank. David, attracted by Lynn, offers her a position, but due to Tom's objection, Lynn rejects it. Later, Tom informs Lynn he has an opportunity to become rich by taking advantage of secret information relative to the bank merger and buying stock. Lynn disapproves on the ground that it is dishonest, and Tom reluctantly promises not to speculate. Shortly after, Tom is offered a position at a radio station. As engineering is his forte, he is delighted. Anxious to tell Lynn he asks if he might call, only to learn that she is going away for the week-end with Sarah. Lynn neglects to mention that Dwight will be their host.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

"Put it up to her," advised Hank, "if she's the right kind of a girl she'll see your point. You could serve your time on the checkerboard and perhaps get into the lab. You'd like that."

Research work looking for something no other man had found, finding it perhaps; or working to perfect the vague dream of someone who'd gone before. Lord, he'd love it, if only he didn't have to think of money.

"Wish someone would leave me a million," he said.

Yes, he'd ask Lynn. He'd been an ass, sulking for these last few days; it wasn't after all, her fault that he'd listened to Rawlson's sauve schemes.

He telephoned her eventually, all set to say: "I have a proposition. May I come up and sell it to you?" It would be this: that she would agree to his leaving the bank and getting into the U. B. C. outfit; then when the depression passed and there was no fear of her losing her job, they could marry and work togther. Because of his own dissatisfaction of his job and his longing to be doing something he believed to be important and constructive, he was beginning to understand Lynn's attachment to her own work.

But Lynn wasn't in. She was at Sarah's.

Saturday morning he saw her, not at breakfast, but in the office. Impossible to say much. Just "Suppose I buzz you up tonight?"

She said: "I'm sorry. I'm going away for the week-end."

Week-end? You didn't tell me."

"I haven't talked to you much," she reminded him.

"Where are you going?" he demanded.

She did the natural thing; told the truth, or half of it; hedged. She answered stiffly, "With Sarah. We'll be back in time for work Monday."

That was that. He turned and left the room. She sat at her desk staring after him. She felt small, ashamed. Why hadn't she said: "We're going down to David Dwight's. It will be fun. I wish you were coming, darling"?

She hadn't said it. No matter why. Tom had been different—since the night in her apartment. She had waited for him to come to her and say, "You were right. I've told Rawlson. Let's forget it," but he hadn't said it.

Dwight drove them down himself in his small open car. There was another man with him, a polo player. Lynn found herself in the front seat with Dwight, the polo gentleman, politely bored, with Sarah in the back. It was a warm day and the Long Island roads were crowded with cars, and dusty.

"I hope you brought a bathing suit," said Dwight.

She assured him that she had. He drove well, effortlessly. He was hatless and the faint wind stirred by their passage ruffled his thick gray hair .

"I'm glad you came," he told her. "I was afraid that young man of yours wouldn't let you."

"He hasn't anything to say about it."

"No! And he didn't have anything to say about the job I offered you, either?"

She was silent a moment; then she replied, "Of course not," without conviction.

Dwight laughed. "What a poor witness you'd make," he mocked her, "I could tie you into knots on the stand.—of course, yes. Of course he said, 'I'd rather have you starve than work for that old reprobate!' "

"He didn't say anything of the kind."

"Well, perhaps he didn't put it quite so strongly, but whatever he said, he was right," agreed Dwight, cheerfully. "I thought it over myself afterwards. I was ready to stand by my bargain, of course, but I realized that you are entirely to distracting to make a good amanuensis."

He had never spoken to her in that way before, lightly, caressingly. She rather liked it, but was warned.

She said, with equal lightness, "Well, you needn't worry, need you, as the distraction never materialized?"

"I do worry," he said, leaning nearer.

In the back seat the polo player by way of making idle conversation with Sarah, growled, "Looks like old David was making a play for the youngster. What did you say her name was?"

Sarah, her heart tightening, replied, "Lynn Harding. She's my goddaughter."

"Bet Dave would like to be her godfather," said the polo player. "Looks as if he were offering her about half his kingdom this minute."

Sarah spoke of the scenery but she was not happy.

Was it possible that David Dwight's kindness to Lynn meant anything?

It wasn't possible. Surely he owed her, Sarah, too much. What did he owe her exactly? A little belated loyalty perhaps; certainly a sense of decency. She felt herself flushing with anger.

David liked pretty girls—she'd always known that—but Lynn!

No, he wouldn't, he couldn't, he dared not use her, Sarah, as a screen, as a convenience. Besides, Lynn had no interest in him. For the first time Sarah felt a definite gratitude to Tom Shepard for loving Lynn; for being loved by her.

Why had she been so blind—if she had been blind? Was it because she saw David Dwight through the eyes of 20 years ago? Saw him, perhaps, without love, but still with illusion; he might do as he wished, possess a hundred women, cast them aside, and she would still regard him with candoning eyes.

To Wed or Not to Wed, at "The Dangerous Age."

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

An Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

About a week or so ago, a woman wrote to this column that she was seriously considering marrying a boy a little more than half her age.

She was forty, the dangerous age, computed to have been Helen of Troy's when her beauty and general IT qualities started the Trojan war and incidentally gave us the Iliad. The havoc ladies of 40 may bring about being so well vouched for, why question it?

But the wisdom of capitalizing that final burst of autumnal beauty and marrying boys of half that age is questionable. My correspondent's letter has been answered by a woman who writes that: "With wide open eyes, I gambled for a year or two of happiness against years of immeasurable dullness and loneliness." She continues:

"And so we were married. I was 35 and my husband was 23. He was an expert tennis player. I was always poor at the game. During the first months of our marriage, he met a girl who played almost as well as he did. I tried to play, too—mistake number one. I couldn't have showed my age more plainly than in my clumsiness, heavy breathing, and the way I always looked—red and dishevelled.

"That girl used to watch us in a cold-blooded way that took from me poise and whatever ability to charm I had for my husband. Looking back, I'm sure I couldn't have been what I mistakingly felt I was—ridiculous—but I was hypnotized with that idea. It preyed on my mind. It haunted me day and night. It was a spectre that I crumpled before. Naturally, before the year was over I lost my hold over my husband, who is now married to the girl with whom he played tennis during the first weeks of our marriage.

"My warning to the woman who wrote you, or to any woman who might be contemplating this hazardous step, is to keep her head and her courage—never to harbor an inferiority complex. That was what wrecked my happiness.

"Play the game, but never do before a rival the thing that you do less well than she does. In any case, it was attempting to play tennis against a younger woman who specialized in the game."

THE HOUSEKEEPER'S NEIGHBOR

From time to time I receive letters from many women readers on the subject of neigaborhood criticism. "If only my neighbors would mind their own business," said one of these letter-friends, "I would be so happy with my little family, my simple home and my busy housekeeping daily tasks—if I did not have to realize that every move I make is watched by almost unfriendly eyes and talked over in the surrounding homes! What is the solution, Miss Kirkman? Some of the townspeople know of certain things which have happened in my family, of which they do not approve. Consequently they criticise us unmercifully. And owning our own home, with my husband's business established in the vicinity we must continue to live here all our lives! There have been such unjust stories circulated about us too—mere figments of some idle woman's imagination. It all makes life hard for me."

My answer to this frank leter (and how many, many families it describes, beside the one meant) is to walk proudly with your head high. You cannot change these conditions overnight. Injustice has been suffered by many persons before you. That should be a comfort to you—that many, many other folk have had to face just your problem!

Do not dwell on a thing you cannot help. Bear it. But bear it with the inward conviction that you have always done your best in life. What more can you do? When you are saddened by pointed unfriendliness or suspiciousness in those you meet, remember to keep your chin up. Such high handedness on your part will overthrow and disarm the scorching attitude of others. For, psychologically, other folk will think to themselves: "If she acts so superior she must have some good reason to feel that way!" In time through your show of pride in the face of criticism, people will forget all about the things they have in mind, now, concerning you. Just try it, my dear, it always works.

TEMPT FAMILY WITH DRESSED DINNER DISHES

There is something about the addition of a little cheese that dresses up a vegetable and may make it just that unusual dish that the otherwise ordinary menu needs. Perhaps the next time you have unexpected company you can try one of these ideas with the vegetable and I am sure that you will bring forth the pleasing exclamation. Of course the kind of cheese we use makes quite a difference in the flavor but you know what your family likes best. The vegetable should suggest to you which type of cheese to use also, in some cases. For instance Italian squash just doesn't have the right flavor unless we use the Italian cheese. In the majority of recipes for using cheese with vegetables we use the grated cheese. For purpose of grating, a hard cheese is preferable to a soft one. Here I have for you a Cheese Sauce which can be substituted for a white sauce with vegetables and is especially nice with cauliflower, cabbage or asparagus.

2 tablespoons shortening
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper
1 cup cheese (grated)

Melt the shortening in a saucepan. Add flour mixed with seasonings and stir until well blended. Add milk and stir constantly. Cook until thick. Then add the cheese, which has been carefully grated, and cook slowly until the cheese is melted. Additional grated cheese may be sprinkled over the vegetables after this sauce has been poured over them.

Now if some members of your family are being a bit stubborn when they see the usual dish of healthful spinach on the table just tempt with this:

2 cups cooked spinach
3 eggs
¾ cup milk
2 tablespoons butter
½ pound grated cheese
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains pepper

Chop the spinach very fine. Beat egg yolks add milk, melted butter, cheese, seasoning and stir while heating. Mix one-half of cheese sauce with the spinach and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Fill buttered timbale molds with mixture, place in a pan of hot water, and bake in a moderate oven until firm Turn out on a hot plate, garnish with slices of hard boiled egg, and pour balance of cheese sauce around the timbales.

Have you ever tried stuffing your tomatoes for baking with a cup of bread crumbs that have been moistened with a little milk and 1 tablespoon melted butter then combined with ½ cup grated cheese and salt and pepper to season.

Never let a chicken stand in the stock in the same vessel in which it has been cooked, with a cover on it. When it is permitted to remain in this situation, a dangerous poisonous gas is formed which is likely to give ptomaine poisoning to those eating the chicken.

Wants to Marry in Opposition to Parents

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX—

I am 16 years old and in the third year high school. I am very much in love with a boy of 20, who cares for me, and we expect to be married soon. My parents are opposed to my even speaking to him, and have no idea we are in love or even see each other. He led a reckles life before but has changed wonderfully since he met me. Do you think it will be all right for me to marry him against my parent's wishes? KITTY

Indeed, I do not think it would be well for you to marry this young man against your parent's wishes. On the contrary, I think you will be laying up unhappiness for yourself, if you do this thing. A girl of 16 is entirely too young to consider marriage with anyone; but when it happens to be a boy of 20, who, you say has been reckless, please don't, if you consider your future happiness. I'm glad you've had such a good effect on this boy. Let him prove to you that this effect is permanent.

Go to a Plastic Surgeon

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX—

I am very much in love with a girl who used to be extremely pretty, but in a terrible autobomile accident her nose was injured, and much of had to be cut away. The fellows I know always kid me and laugh when they see us together. Tell me whether I should stop going around with this young lady? I really would like to marry her, but I don't know what to do. Sometimes I think I shall marry her in spite of their brutal laughter. RONALD

Go to the nearest hospitasl in your city and inquire of the doctor in charge the name of the best plastic surgeon available in town. Wonderful facial operations have been successfully performed since the world war. Persuade the young lady to consult one of these, and if possible to have the necessary operation performed. To laugh at a deformed person, or one who has been the victim of an accident, shows a coarse yellow streak. Frequently these people who find such sorrows amusing have no idea how brutal they are. I hope you will write and tell me what the doctor says.

Cousin in Love With Her

Dear Miss Fairfax: I have been a constant reader of your column and I am coming to you with my problems, and hope you will be able to help me. My cousin is in love with me, but I do not return his love. He is the kindest and best of men, and I respect him, but not as a lover. I am 18 and he is 26. M. L.

My dear child, there is no law which compels you to marry a man with whom you are not in love, especially a cousin. It's a good deal of a problem when such relatives are both in love, and wish to marry, but when you only respect him, why should marriage enter into your consideration at all? At the delightful age of 18, just go ahead and enjoy yourself.

Fears Someone Else Will Beat Her to Him

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I go around with a group of girls and boys who range between the ages of 19 to 29, but every time the boys get together they select a different group of girls.

There is one boy in the crowd that I like better than the rest. We are of the same faith. We talk about some of the married couples and then we talk of ourselves. He tells me that he has no desire to go with one girl, and does not intend to marry until he is at least 30. I like him so much that if he'd ask me to marry him tomorrow, I'd say yes. I am afraid some other girl in the crowd will beat me to him. He is not working but has wonderful ambitions, and is very willing to take a job if he could find one. ANXIOUS

No, I don't believe one of the girls in the bunch will beat you to that nice young man. As he is without a job at present, it's not likely that he can consider marrying anyone at present. And the fact that you both belong to the same faith must be a real bond.

SATURDAY, JULY 23, 1932.

Welcome C. M. & S. Co. Employees

The community of Nelson today delights in welcoming the employees of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting company from the sister communities of Trail and Rossland, who will hold their second annual picnic in this city.

It was anticipated last year, when the idea of the picnic was first noted, that it would prove to be a great success. These expectations proved to be correct. Not only was the number of people in attendance greater than had been estimated, but the picnic was a huge success from every angle from which it might have been viewed.

Registrations by applicants for tickets indicate that the number of people in attendance at the picnic today will be as great as in 1931, and preparations which have been made for their entertainment at Lakeside Park and for the sports which are to take place in the recreation grounds have been made in the light of improvements which were suggested by last year's experience.

Visitors to the picnic will no doubt be particularly impressed with the very marked improvements which have been made at Lakeside Park. They found the park attractive last year, but it is safe to assume that they will find it even more attractive today, as a result of the construction of the esplanade and the filling in and seeding of a large expanse of lawn.

It is Nelson's sincere wish that every visitor, man, woman and child, may enjoy himself to the utmost.

Empire Trade

About one-third of Canada's entire import and export trade is at the present time within the Empire. Imports to the Dominion from Empire countries in the past fiscal year amounted to $147,825,833, while exports to countries within the Empire totalled $220,328,743.

Empire countries carrying on the heaviest trade with Canada during the past fiscal year, together with trade transacted with each country, were:—

United Kingdom, $281,212,318; British South Africa, $12,725,045; Australia, $11,086,778; Newfoundland, $8,384,420; British India, $8,143,167; Jamacia, $7,124,364; British Guiana, $5,353,641; Trinidad and Tobago, $5,302,018; New Zealand, $4,808,730; British West Indies other, $3,987,432; Barbados, $3,794,437; Fiji, $2,743,142; Irish Free State, $2,707,420; Bermuda, $2,092,396.

Britain's Refunding Loan

Two points which governments, when forced to secure money by issuing bonds, should seriously consider were made clear in a letter sent out by the Chancellor of the British Exchequer, explaining the bond conversion plans which have recently been such a success.

No one can reasonably expect to continue to enjoy the right to five per cent insterest when the national credit justifies a much lower rate. . .

. . . What is clearly requisite in the interests of our country cannot in the long run prove injurious to interests of the holders. The successful conversion . . . will pave the way for lower interest rates and enable industry more easily to obtain capital with which to employ more people and produce more goods as our trade conditions improve.

The British Chancellor of the Exchequer, in emphasizing these two points, is looking to the future, and to the fact that high interest rates for government bonds are bound in the long run to retard the development of industry.

The British conversion loan plans provide for the conversion of £2,000,000,000 of 5 per cent war loan bonds to a 3½ per cent basis. The holders of the war loan are responding to the offer with even greater readiness than had been expected.

Success is assured in this tremendous financial operation, which is one of the largest on record.

The refunded loan is being exchanged for 3½ per cent bonds, callable on or after December 1, 1952, at part The 5 per cent loan is being redeemed at par, with a cash bonus of 1 per cent for those who convert into the new issue before July 31. That means that holders of the old loan can take cash if they prefer to do so, but such is the desire of the people to play their part in the present emergency that very few holders are applying for cash. Under the conversion scheme the annual saving to the British Treasury is estimated at £30,000,000, less the smaller receipts which will be derived from income tax and surtax, estimated at £7,000,000. That means that the net annual saving in payment of interest on government securities is £23,000,000.

British government securities have risen substantially since the conversion loan was launched. In fact the whole London market has shown increasing strength. There is a better feeling abroad. Those qualified to judge believe that economic affairs are trending upwards; that the worst is over, and that the measures taken by the British people are definitely strengthening British stability. Britain is not only coming back; in many respects she has arrived.

Dr. Millikan, the eminent scientist, says the great problem these days is to find something to do with our leisure time. During the depression, we would say, the answer to that one is easy. Spend it looking for a job!

That vaudeville actor who married the ventriloquist is certainly taking a chance. Imagine hearing yourself suggest that your wife needs a new summer outfit when that thought is farthest from your mind.

Build a good mouse trap and the world will beat a path to your door, says the old proverb. And the same thing will happen if you have a sharp lawn mower.

At last the Soviet government is beginning to show signs of real efficiency. A recent order issued by railroad heads requires all locomotive engineers to carry watches.

POOL O'LONDON

It's down by Nore and Warden Point
We leave the white caps' foam,
And Chapman Light and Lower Hope
Are landmarks leading home.
At Gravesend Town and Tilb'ry Dock
The eastbound sirens shriek—
But let me hear within the Pool
The voice of London speak.

And up and on the flood we pound
Through London's ancient road;
Long Beach and Erith, Gallions, too,
Where brown-sail'd barges load.
And Woolwich Reach, where ferries churn,
With Dockland's masts behind
The wharves which lead to London Pool,
Where spells of London bind.

Blackwall, where clipper shellbacks spoke
Of knots with ev'ry breath,
And Limehouse Reach, where Norsemen stop
With "firewood" now, not death.
Then leave the home of wood behind,
And voyage round the bend;
At last the Pool, the busy Pool—
Old London River's end.

The pool where Celt and Roman fought;
Where Dane and Saxon died;
Where coracle and galley fled
On Time's relentless tide.
The age-old pool, the modern pool,
The pool of woe and mirth,
The pool of life, the pool of death,
The pool of London's birth.

Here London's liquid history fleets;
Here London's heart forever beats.

We are ready to collaborate on any scheme—ours, the French or any other—which will relieve the depression in Europe and start nations on a sound business basis.—Chancellor Franz von Papen of Germany.

THE WEATHER BULLETIN

Monday, July 25, 1932, begins with unsettled weather and light showers in most of central provinces. Area of low barometric pressure near Winnipeg indicates heavy clouds and scattering rains in that section, probably extending far to the northwest. Temperatures stationery or slightly rising.

Tuesday, July 26—Low shifts eastwardly but unsettled conditions continue from northwest of Alberta to the great lakes region of Manitoba, although quite scattering and leaving dry spots to the southeast. Temperatures are slightly falling.

Wednesday, July 27.—Rain in belt extending west from Lake Huron but in south parts of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba quite scattering and in few places only clouds with many clear spots. Temperatures definitely falling.

Thursday, July 28—Clearing except in British Columbia sections where unsettled conditions, with scattering rains, are coming in from the northwest. Not perfectly clear, but the rains now moderate and weather becomes much cooler.

Friday, July 29—Except in the extreme west these days should be rather clear, or with few light showers along southern borders. Temperatures a little below the normal near this time; strong, variable winds expected.

Saturday, July 30.—West of the mountains and also along southern borders of the central provinces probaly light rains, but scattering and in many spots clear. Temperatures rising.

Sunday, July 31—General tendency to clear, except in southwest quarter and west of the mountain ridges. About this time a rather sudden rise in temperature in central provinces and in regions of great lakes.

Week of July 25 to 31, 1932, in central Canada is expected to be rather wet for the season, although near middle of week in July is not far from one-third of an inch, but is a little great in the plateaus about Nelson and Revelstoke, and this week there should be more than normal amounts of rain. About the Bow and North Saskatchewan river basins an inch of rain is expected, while in the South Saskatchewan and the Qu'Appelle river basins somewhat less. About the southeast quarter normal rains approximating an inch are expected. In most parts of the central provinces temperature is expected to be lowest about the middle of the week, but no dangerous frosts are looked for as about the 31st weather should be quite warm.

Regarding the solar eclipse of August 31, 1932 visible in eastern Canada and United States, weather forecast is that seeing will not be very satisfactory, except, probably, far up on the east coast of James Bay, near Fort George in the province of Quebec. If the theory is correct that solar eclipses exert seismic 'stress," then near first week in September tidal waves and earthquakes would be indicated.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON

RETAINING DEAD TEETH

A patient suffering from neuritis was advised by his physician to have two molar teeth removed. They were both dead teeth (nerve removed), the canals were not filled right to the bottom, and one root showed slight changes. As the teeth looked good, despite the X-ray findings, the dentist advised the teeth be not removed.

The patient returned to his physician in great distress, undecided what to do. His neuritis was still severe, but he was trying to carry on with his work.

In the meantime he had learned of a wonderful remedy containing sweet spirits of nitre, epsom salts, the juice of lemons and water, and he asked the physician about leaving the teeth in and trying out the medicine.

Instead of being annoyed the physician advised him that the dentist was using his best knowledge, but it conflicted with the advice of Dr. Weston Price, America's outstanding dentist, and Dr. Charles Malo, America's outstanding surgeon, both of whom advised removal of dead teeth after the age of 40. This man was past 50.

However he might use the remedy as it would help clear out the poisons from the system in a shorter time than if nothing were used; that the acute attack was likely nearing an end anyway, and that he would likely get relief from his pain, and might be free of it for some months.

He pointed out to him, however, that when infections from teeth or other sources in the body, got to the point where they were causing neuritis, the infection had likely been in the system a long time. Infection, at first, causes laziness, tiredness, breathlessness on slight exertion, but later on begins to affect the joints and muscles, and oft-times the heart.

Now this patient and others with similar conditions may tide over one or more attacks or neuritis or arthritis by using large and regular doses of epsom salts, but each attack is bound to leave its effect upon the joint to say nothing of its effect upon the heart.

Fortunately dentists and doctors work together in trying to remove infection from the system, because in medicine and dentistry one looks for the commonest causes first. The commonest causes of neuritis are infections of teeth and tonsils.

Summer Stars

(By Gretchen Gibson)

Once again in our voyage through space we pass our glorious summer stars, once again Vega, Arcturus, Altair, Deneb, Antares and Spica flash toward us their distant signals. It is interesting to watch these great stars come out in the early evening, especially if one is on the lake or in any place where a good sweep of the sky can be obtained.

Vega, overhead, is the first to pierce the twilight, then, more westerly, Arcturus. Suddenly Antares in the south flickers like a red spark above the mountains, followed by Altair in the southeast, Deneb east of Vega, and Spica in the extreme west. These tremendous first magnitude stars twinkle through the gloaming like mere pin-points of light. Monarchs of the night, they alone are powerful enough to enter the realm of lingering day. For a while they hold court unattended, and it is a very good time to mark their locations.

Not long after the first magnitude stars have appeared, the second magnitude and lesser stars begin to glimmer here, there, everywhere. The constellations gradually take shape. On each side of Altair a sparkle is seen and Aquila, the Eagle spreads its mighty wings to the night. Above us, toward the east, Cygnus, the stately swan, gathers shape about Deneb and prepares to float gracefully over night's lake. This contellation is also known as the North Cross. Vega becomes the apex of a perfect ecualatoral triangle and Lyra, the Harp hangs overhead. Between Vega and Arcturus the mighty Hercules steps into the picture. Nearby Corona, the Northern Crown, displays its gems. Out of the south creeps a serpent, Serpens, while from the north the dragon Dracco crawls.

Finally night's summer sky-book is thick with illustrations, not as distinctly marked as winter's pictures, nevertheless clearly defined after one has once found them. We have exceptional opportunity of picking out these pictures at present while the atmosphere is so free from smoke.

Trees Enduring Shade Win a Place in Sun

TREES ENDURING

When an area of forest land is cleared or burned over, the first trees that come up on the devastated land are hardy pioneers, like poplar or aspen or jack pine, that have winged seeds, so that they are able to get in quickly. These grow up thick and rank, crowding ahead of the more solid, slower-coming, slower-growing trees. They possess the land.

But they possess it for only one generation. The seedlings of these tree pioneers demand full sun, and are unable to grow in the shade cast by their parents. Only where a tree falls, or is blown down by the wind, are second-generation trees able to establish themselves. So a generation of stranger children works its way in among the feet of the aging pioneers—such trees as oak and tulip poplar—and as the first comers die off these take their place, building up a forest of entirely different character.

Yet even these second comers may not be able to hold what they have gained. Their offspring, too, are not able to thrive in the denser shade cast by their thicker crowns. But if there happen to be any beeches, maples or hemlock growing within seed-distributing range, the second forest eventually comes to have a population of seedlings of these three species on its floor; for the seedlings of these three species can grow even in dense shade. So they in time replace the second forest.

FOREST THAT ENDURES ALL EXCEPT AXE OR FIRE

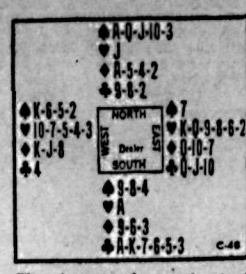
But nothing ever drives out this last type of forest, if it ever becomes established—nothing but the axe or fire. For the shade-tolerant seedlings can grow even under their parents' tops, and generation replaces generation of trees without interruption.

This type of forest, that can take hold of a country and keep it against all comers, is known as the "climax" forest. The temporary stages that precede it are called "sub-climax" types. There will be different climax and sub-climax forests in different regions. In the Rocky mountain region, the first sub-climax—frequently the only one—is lodgepole pine, which gives way to Douglas spruce, true spruce, or balsam fir, any one of which may constitute the climax. In the southeastern United States there will be a pioneer stage of scrub pines of the jack-pine type, followed by tulip poplar and perhaps hickory or pecan, yielding to a climax forest of magnolia and oak. But always the basic condition underlying the succession of stages is the same—the ability of each succeeding type to survive as seedlings in the shade of its predecessor, and the final ability of the climax type to bring up its seedlings in its own shade.

Auction and Contract Bridge

By the World's Leading Authority, MILTON C. WORK

(This Article Is Intended for Contract Bridge Beginners.)



The above hand was played at a number of tables of duplicate, and at all of them North became the Declarer with a Spade contract. South's opening bid was a Club which West passed; North called two Spades and East, who was not vulnerable, risked three Hearts. That led to a variety of bids from the various Souths. One or two ventured four Hearts; the majority said three Spades; but there were quite a number who bid four Clubs on the strength of their six-card Club suit. Every North who had a chance to do so, bid four Spades; but at one table West bid five Hearts and North had to call five Spades; at that table and one or two others a small-slam bid in Spades was reached.

The play which made the small slam should not have been too difficult, but proved to be so for many of the Declarers. In all cases East opened with a Heart and dummy's Ace won. The Nine of Spades was then led and finessed, and a second Spade lead was followed by a second finesse, but a discard by East marked West with the King of Spades still guarded. It was easy to put South in with a Club to lead his third Spade, and for North by a third finesse to put himself in position to drop West's King. Practically every table played the hand correctly this far, and also killed the King of Trumps on the next trick, but quite a number of Declarers fell down on the following play.

A Club was led and a second Club honor played by East; but in some instances, North having thoughtfully led the Nine and Eight to unblock dummy's Clubs, South's Ace was played with the hope that West would follow suit with the last adverse Club. When West failed to accomodate, the Declarer had to lose four tricks. Those who played the hand carefully (and among the number were the Declarers who had bid for a small slam) did not try to take the thirteen tricks which a 2-2 break of the adverse Clubs would have produced; but appreciating the danger of finding the adverse Clubs divided 3-1, they ducked the second Club trick and took the remaining tricks.

Pacific Has All The Flavor

In the beginning when vacuum packing was coming into use for dry foods, it was said to be impossible to use for liquid products. It was admittedly the ideal method for retaining natural flavors.
Not believing anything impossible, Pacific Milk began experiments which resulted in learning how to put milk in vacuum cans.
Now all the fine natural flavor is kept perfectly for you. Try it.

avis Boys Lead Attack as Philadelphia Defeats Brooklyn

TTSBURGH, 3;
HICAGO, 1

PITTSBURGH, July 22.—The Chi-go Cubs were beaten back today their first attack of the im-rtant "first place" series, Pitts-rgh increasing its lead to three d one-half games with a 3-1 vic-ry.

Steve Swetonic was nicked for 10 feties, but he kept them well scat-red to register his 11th win of the ason.

Pittsburgh bunched four of their hits off Pat Malone to score all eir runs in the second inning. Barbee started the uprising with single, and he made third when is Suhr cracked a double. Both nners scored on Tony Piet's two-gger, and after two were retired vetonic scored Piet with an in-ld single.

The Cubs made their only run in e fifth. Hartnett doubled, waited ere while two of his mates were it out, and scored on Herman's ngle.

Today's victory came as a birth-y gift to Manager George Gibson the Cubs. He's 52 today.

CHICAGO GREETS EMPIRE TEAMS

Guests of City for Day; Different Athletes Picked Out

CHICAGO, July 22 (By Mark Dulmage Jr., Canadian Press staff writer).—Not at all wearied from a week or more of entertaining the world's Olympic teams as they pass through on the way to Los Angeles, Chicago today greeted the British Empire's largest delegation with a hospitable enthusiasm centered on the more famous of the contingent's members.

The teams of Canada, Great Britain, South Africa and Hungary were welcomed at the station by city officials provided with every training convenience by Chicago sports organizations and admired by thousands who met them and waved them farewell as the lengthy Olympic special pulled out of Dearborn station tonight.

INTERESTED IN CANADIAN TEAM

Hero-worshipping Chicago acclaimed Britain's titled hurdler, Lord David Burghley, at every point the flaxen-haired captain of the British team appeared. As a whole, it was more interested in the Canadian team, crowds pointing out young Bert Pearson, Hamilton schoolboy sprinter who equalled the world record for 100 metres at the Canadian trials a week ago, as "The Kid," and Jimmy Ball, tall Winnipeg quarter-miler, as "the guy who nearly beat Barbuti at Amsterdam."

Coach Nick Bawlf of the Canadian track division put his charges through a stiff workout, and Bobby Kerr made members of his girls' team work hard for more than an hour in the morning.

The three Empire teams were taken on a sight-seeing tour of the city in the afternoon, guests of Chicago. In the early evening they reboarded the train for California with prospects of only one more brief stop before they arrive Monday at the scene of the tenth Olympiad.

A light workout is to be held at Albuquerque, New Mexico, Sunday. All the 64 Canadian athletes in the party were reported tonight to be in perfect condition.

MICKEY LEADS ATHLETIC WIN

Hammers Out Single, Double, Triple, Homer Against Washington

PHILADELPHIA, 8;
WASHINGTON, 4

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Running the base hit gamut, Mickey Cochrane led the Philadelphia Athletics to an easy 8-4 victory today over Washington.

The Philadelphia catcher hammered a single, double, triple and home run. He drove in four runs and scored three. Bishop was on base in the third when he lifted his 15th home run over the right field wall.

Washington got 15 hits off Walberg but poor base running aided the big left-hander. In the second, four successive singles off him failed to score a run.

Philadelphia tightened its hold on second place through the win, since both Cleveland and Detroit were idle.

TRAIL BOWLERS INVADE NELSON GREENS TODAY

When the Trail lawn bowlers invade the Nelson lawn bowling greens this afternoon in the second round of the intercity Kootenay Breweries cup contests, they will have to vie with rinks skipped by W. C. Chapman, P. Bates, E. Y. Brake, and J. Draper.

Nelson rinks in order of lead, second, third and skip, are:

J. Argyle, S. Brown, E. Penwill and W. C. Chapman.

W. Brown, G. A Meeres, A Wigg, and P Bates.

S. Bates, P. Coulter, J. Armstrong and E. Y. Brake.

D. Eccles, N. B Bradley, A Elliott and J Draper.

Spares—F. Waters, H. Allen and W. Clark.

The tourney is scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

GEHRIG HATLESS BUT NOT HITLESS

By AL DEMAREE

Lou Gehrig, the big, genial, fence-busting partner of Babe Ruth on the Yankees, is the typical collegiate type of modern ball player.

Hatless, vestless and garterless summer and winter, he is still just a great big freshman, gifted with a wonderful physique and a marvelous batting eye. Lou has a sense of humour too, as this story he told me at a party given in his honor by his pal Elmer Perry wil portray.

"Some fans eat, drink and breathe baseball," said Lou. "One of these fanatics had occasion to call up his banker and ask about his bank balance. The connection was bad and the man at the other end couldn't get the name.

"'Spell it,' he yelled. "O.K." answered the fan.

"'R' for Ruth, 'O' for Ott, 'S' for Shires, 'E' for English, 'N' for Nalin, 'B' for Bush, 'A' for Appling, 'U' for Urbanski, and 'M' for Maranville."

Lou is a bachelor and lives with "Ma" Gehrig and his greatest pleasure when the team has an off day, is to take his mother fishing with him.

The hen of our neighbor appears to us a goose, says the oriental proverb.—Mme. Deluzy.

TRAIL JUNIORS HERE SUNDAY

To Meet Local Junior Nine in West Kootenay Playoff Series

Trail and Nelson junior baseball teams will meet at the Nelson Recreation grounds at 2:30 Sunday afternoon in the third game of a five-game championship series. Each team has already won one game. In the last game Nelson appeared considerably stronger, being especially superior in batting. Trail is reported to be bringing over a strong lineup including a new pitcher. Many Trail fans, who will be attending the picnic on Saturday, will stay over for Sunday's game to cheer for their favorites. Nelson will also test out a new pitcher, and either Slim Horswill or Alan McLean will start for Nelson. Duff Stewart and Steve Smith being held for reserve. George Stewart or Clarence Wilson will be behind the plate. A few changes will be made in the rest of the team. Nelson is expected to line up as follows:

Harry Stirzaker, 1b; Ty Culley, 2b; Teddy Romano, ss; Jim Lipsett, 3b; Clarence McDougall, 3b; Lorne Stewart, cf; Steve Scott, rf; Hager Renwick, infield; Howard Moore and Steve Smith, outfield.

J. Brennan, manager of the local senior team, will umpire.

SPOKANE BOATS ARRIVE, NELSON

Joe Pedicord Brings Speed Boat; Kaslo, Sand Point Represented

Spokane will be well represented in the events of the Kootenay Launch club regatta today. Joe Pedicord, who has contested many a regatta in Nelson, arrived last night with his speed boat. Others from Spokane who will control the throttle of the speed launches include Al Richert, W. B. "Red" Reed, J. Jacoy, Fred Lindsay and W. B. Earlscourt.

Other entries in these events are from Kaslo, Sand Point and Nelson.

HOOKS and SLIDES

ANKEES MAY GO FAR,
T THE CLUB STILL HAS
AWS IN THE INFIELD

A number of things have happened in baseball that the boys in't count on before the season ened. Of these, I think the most narkable has been the showing of e Yankees.

"They have good pitching, good tting and fair fielding," Connie ck told me the other day. "They likely to go a long way. The tting has more than made up the fielding."

Fielding was one of Joe McCarthy's chief worries during the spring. zzeri's comeback has helped a eat deal, but Joe has had to go ng with Lary at short and Joe well at third. Joe is getting well ng in years, and Lary is not the rest of shortstops.

OSE BROWNS

The Browns are more than a Washington jinx." Bill Killefer has embled a pretty fair ball club an tfit that seems destined to finish the first division. Killefer, characteristically, takes no credit for the m's showing.

"The fellow who has given us the nch we needed is Bruce Campell," Bill said the other day. "He's man we got from the White x in the trade for Kress. His rk has been consistently good."

E AMAZING CAMPBELL

Campbell himself is a surprise. nseca traded him to the Browns h the explanation, "he'll never an outfielder."

t appeared that Fonseca's apisal of the man was sound a or so after the deal went ough. In his debut with the wns, Campbell, in right field, nbled one grounder, allowed ther to skip between his ankles, misjudged an easy fly ball and almost knocked his brains out against a concrete wall chasing another ordinary fly.

The next day Killefer laughed.

"Wasn't the kid a great show yesterday?" said Bill. "But listen. I've never quit on a youngster after watching him in only one game and Campbell is going to be my right fielder even if we finish in the cellar.

"Campbell is going to be a hitter. I've seen a lot of lads like Campbell who were terrible fielders but who developed. He's improving.

"I would say Campbell has made us a first division ball club this year. And that's a lot to say for one man."

THE OTHERS

Recently John Collins, manager of the Red Sox, praised the Browns for their heads-up baseball.

"Blacholder has been tough to beat," said Shauno. "Goose Goslin is back on his home run stride. Fred Schulte is hitting for extra bases and can go right out and get 'em in the outfield. And this Burns at first base is helping the club a lot.

"The team is playing together as a unit. There are no remarkable standouts, but the club has a bunch of good ball players who are pulling together. That's important."

Campbell came to the Browns because Red Kress sulked on the job. The red-head was dissatisfied with his salary. Killefer took a chance when he traded him for the rookie Campbell and the uncertain Hadley.

The team is unfortunate in one respect—there are no reserves. There is no substitute for Burns at first, and Eddie Grimes is not ready to step in and fill short or second should Melillo or Levey be injured.

NELSON HIGH MEETS TRAIL IN SOCCER GO

Field Snappy Aggregation for Intercity Soccer Exhibition

When the Trail high school football team invades Nelson seeking football laurels in their scheduled exhibition game against the Nelson high school team at the Recreation grounds today, they will have a stronger team to contend with than they expect. Although the team chosen to represent the local high school average in age from 13 up, they are considered to be the best combination of youngsters fielded here for some time.

With Morgan in the net, and Alan McLean and John Affleck as backs, anything that gets by the forwards will have to be on their toes to get by Nelson's defence line.

Many new faces in inter-city football will be seen on the field, including Archie Bishop, Bill MacDonald, Ward, Bishop, Graves, and Rothery, along with such well-known young soccer stars as Joe Wallach and DeWitt McQuaig.

The lineup is: Morgan goal; Alan McLean and John Affleck, backs; Joe Wallach, Archie Bishop and Bill MacDonald, half-backs; D. McQuaig, Graves, Bishop, Rothery and Ward, forwards.

Draper's Bowlers Win Over A. Wigg's

Take 21-5 Victory for Fourth Straight Win in Argyle Cup Tests

J. Draper's lawn bowlers won a sweeping 21-5 victory over a rink skipped by A. Wigg in the Argyle Cup competition Friday night. Draper's bowlers took an early lead and kept piling up points for a victory margin of 16 points. This is the fourth straight win for Draper's bowlers in this competition.

Teams, in order of lead, second, third and skip, were:

W. C. Crowther, J. P. Morgan, P. Coulter and A. Wigg.

D. Eccles, N. B. Bradley, A. Elliott and J. Draper.

MRS. P. COULTER'S RINK WINS LADIES' LAWN BOWLING TEST

In the Ladies' Rink competition at the Nelson lawn bowling greens Friday afternoon, Mrs. P. Coulter's bowlers defeated those of Mrs. R. Pollard, 13-10.

Rinks, mentioned in order of lead, second, third and skip, were:

Mrs. A. J. Sindell, Mrs. E. Frost, Mrs. A. Elliott and Mrs. P. Coulter.

Mrs. J. Richards, Mrs. E. Y. Brake, Mrs. A. Wigg and Mrs. R. Pollard.

TRAIL FIELDS A SNAPPY JUNIOR FOOTBALL SQUAD

Will Play Nelson High Team in Monster Smeltermen's Picnic Program

TRAIL, B. C., July 22—Trail high school football team, a snappy bunch of youngsters, are lined up for the battle in Nelson Saturday against the lake city junior squad.

The boys have been working since school closed on the organization of the team, and with excellent coaching have been whipped into a condition that will take some beating.

L. Evans is slated for goal, with W. Groom at right back and S. Jewell at left.

K. Adcock has the center forward position. His right wing consists of W. Dambicki, outside, and J. Kendall, inside. On left wing C. Ross has the outside.

A. McPhail is listed as the reserve.

The boys have their transportation and are rarin' to get going. They will play the Nelson eleven Saturday morning as part of the monster smeltermen's picnic program.

GERMAN AND U. S. NETMEN ARE EVEN

Vines Wins But Play Is Disappointing in Davis Cup Competition

PARIS, July 22 (AP).—Germany and the United States broke even in their first day of play in the inter-zone final of Davis cup competition here today.

Ellsworth Vines Jr., United States and Wimbledon champion, defeated Daniel Prenn, number one of the German team, 6-3, 6-3, 0-6, 6-4, after Frank X. Shields had lost to Baron Gottfried von Cramm, 7-5, 5-7, 6-4, 8-6, before 5000 spectators.

Vines' play, like that of Shields, was superb in spots, but it did not compare with his play at Wimbledon, where he lost only two sets in winning the title. He lost nine straight games to the stolid, swarthy Prenn, and showed he could toss them off as rapidly as he could win them. His spotty play aroused French hopes for a successful defence of the historic cup next weekend.

The German veteran cleverly mixed his length and strength with a sound backhand, and almost had the youngster against the wall when he won the first three games of the final set after sweeping the third. Vines pulled himself together to win, but he was worried toward the end.

If Vines was disappointing for part of his play, Shields was worse. His service was ineffective and his whole game was without coordination.

ARGUES TARIFFS SELF-SUFFICIENT

Super-Tariff Devices Hinder Trade Movement, Says Economist

(By B. K. SANDWELL, F. R. S. C.)

OTTAWA, July 22—The previous article in this series was devoted to the need for a more careful and explicit discrimination, in the tariff schedules, between those grades and varieties of articles which it is decided can economically be produced in Canada and those grades and varieties of the same articles which it is decided should be procured from other parts of the Empire—This discrimination is also necessary because the proper development of the Imperial preference idea involves the largest possible freedom of movement between Empire countries compatible with the economic interests of each country.

When these discriminations have been made they should be followed by the complete elimination from existing methods of tariff enforcement of all devices which are in themselves obstructive to import trade, insofar as they relate to articles of a class, kind, grade and variety which we are willing to accept from the Empire.

Only those who are familiar with the actual processes of importation —and these are in any event so laborious, cumbersome and annoying that the average citizen scrupulously avoids having anything to do with them—know how efficient is the barrier to trade set up not by the duties themselves but by the regulations for their enforcement. Most serious among these in its deterrent effect upon import trade from the countries of the British Empire is that by which the customs department is entitled to alter without notice the whole basis of valuation of imported goods for customs puposes without regard to the actual price paid for them by the importer. This device operates much more effectively against Empire trade than against importations from the United States; for the nearest of the Empire countries is several days away from Canada while the United States is at our doors, and therefore a much longer time elapses between the booking of the order and the clearing of the goods, increasing the rick of an unfavorable turn in the rate of valuation.

SO MANY OBSTRUCTIONS

The amount of documentation required in connection with the importation of many classes of manufactured articles is very great, frequently involving a detailed analysis of the component parts of a mixed product, of the elements or costs contained in it, and of other factors about which it may be difficult for the importer to secure information. Insofar as they apply to articles of a kind or grade not made in Canada, these requirements are merely so many obstructions to a desirable exchange of products between countries of the Empire. . .

It is surely clear that any movement of trade which is accepted as desirable under the principles described in earlier articles of this series should be freed from all hampering restrictions. The imposition of a moderate tariff is obviously justified, and it is equally obvious that Empire imports must be scrutinized at the customs to make sure that they actually come from Empire sources, that they contain the requisite percentage of Empire labor and material, and that they belong to the class and grade of goods which it had been decided to favor. But all impediments which go beyond these simple and necessary perquisites of duties should be eliminated in the case of Empire products.

INTUITION HELPS CHECK SMUGGLERS

Illegal Stations Discovered, Signals Read and Their Positions Found

NEW YORK, July 22 (CP)—Many messages transmitted by private wireless stations of rum runners and narcotic smugglers are decoded by a system of intuition, or "assumption, pure and simple," says Arthur Batcheller, travelling supervisor for the United States department of commerce radio division.

Explaining the methods whereby 13 unlicenced stations engaged in illicit operations were closed in the New York district last year, Batcheller told how in an isolated garage a wireless set built into an automobile begins to crackle. The operator of a rum boat somewhere off the coast, replies.

"AFBN" he says; "AFBN-WX." Decoded, the message reads, "Can't load owing to WX," the last two letters indicating that a coast guard cutter is picketing the craft. A load of liquor will not be brought in that night.

Besides the man in the garage and the man on the rum running, Batcheller is listening to the signals. He and his associates take down every strange code signal, every message on an uncharted wave length and every unauthorized call letter.

"We take down the messages and then we stay with the station day and night," he says. "Meanwhile, code experts work on the letters. Mathematicians map out directions and find bearings. Presently we have the location of the land station, and arrests begin."

Explaining how "intuition" figured in the process, he told how one inspector without the use of a system decoded "OK Omozh ogkot bottom facub" into "OK champaign in bottom of boat," without the use of a system. The translation was correct.

MRS. MAY, VANCOUVER GUEST AT CASTLEGAR

CASTLEGAR, B. C., July 22—Mrs. S. May and son Sidney, who have spent a week's vacation here at the home of Mrs. May's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Christenson, have returned to their home in Vancouver.

Mrs. Inge and son Billy, who have been visiting Mrs. H. Christenson, have returned to their home in Vancouver.

Miss Josephine MacKinnon, who has been attending high school in Nelson, has returned to Castlegar, where she will spend her vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. MacKinnon.

Mrs. R. MacLanders has returned to her home in Sandon after spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Christenson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Wallner and daughter Donna, who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Wallner of Jaffray, have returned to their home here.

An enjoyable afternoon was spent last Friday at the home of Mrs. J. MacKinnon, who was entertaining in honor of Mrs. S. May of Vancouver. ALBERTA WOMAN HAS SHOES 60 YEARS OLD

HIGH RIVER, Alta., July 22.—(CP)—An item in the daily press states that James Inkster of Ontario possesses a pair of shoes 37 years old, the present record of that province for old footwear. Constable Benson of Quebec claims the record for his province with footwear of his wife's which is 48 years old.

Alberta can surpass both these records, writes a High River resident. After reading the article, Mrs. George Young of High River has produced a pair of shoes 60 years old. They are a pair of children's leather copper-toed boots worn by her brother some 60 years ago. The shoes were originally bought, worn and discarded in Ontario. After Mrs. Young moved out west, these little residents in an obscure part of the old shoes were found by the new old house. They were sent out to Mrs. Young in High River, who still has them in her possession.

Trail and Rossland

On behalf of the Citizens of Nelson the desire is expressed that the 1932 Picnic of Employees of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company will be even more successful and enjoyable and give even greater pleasure to the visitors than the first annual picnic in 1931.

Nelson welcomes its visitors not only because of the happy personal relationships which exist between the people of Trail, Rossland and Nelson, but because the employees of the Consolidated Company represent the largest single industry in British Columbia and one whose successful operation means so much to Kootenay.

N. S. CHURCH HAS BOSTON CONNECTION

Old Trinity Church in Middleton Founded by Missionary

BOSTON, Mass., July 22 —About 1760, when people from New England began to take possession of the lands in Nova Scotia that had belonged to the exiled French Acadians, various religious sects sprang up, forming a bond between the New England and early Nova Scotian churches. One of these, an Anglican church known as Old Holy Trinity in Middleton, N. S., was built in 1787-91 through the enterprise and effort of Rev. John Wiswall, from Boston, appointed missionary in 1783 to succeed Rev. Henry Bailey, whose Anglican mission originally embraced Cornwallis and Annapolis, 70 miles apart.

Old Holy Trinity church, which is a county landmark, is still standing on the original site at the lower end of the town of Middleton, in good state of preservation, and is surrounded by the parish cemetery, where Mr. Wiswall is buried. In the New Holy Trinity church, built in 1903, there hangs a tablet to his memory, inscribed as follows:

"Sacred to the memory of the Rev. John Wiswall, A.M., who was born in Boston, U.S., April 3, 1731, and ordained by the Bishop of London 1764. He left his native land in 1775, in consequence of a revolutionary struggle, and was appointed rector of the Parish of Wilmot in 1789 where he continued until his death, December 2, 1821. He was the first clergyman of any denomination who settled in this place."

The establishment of Old Trinity church at Middleton was due largely to the efforts of Mr. Wiswall. When Halifax was founded there was no resident bishop, the lieutenant-governor being commissioned to receive and make appointments to ecclesiastical office. Receiving a mandate from the governor, Mr. Wiswall, resigned at Cornwallis and began work in the parish of Wilmot.

He began preparations at once for establishing a church centre, and Middleton was selected. In his work he was aided by Bishop Inglis, Mayor Bayard and Coptain (later general) Ruggles. Work progressed slowly, because the people were poor and struggling hard to make a living, but Mr. Wiswall persevered and August 4, 1791, saw the work advanced enough to hold the first service.

The church was practically completed in 1792. The bell was donated by Colonel Bayard, and is still used in the new Holy Trinity. The original silver communion set, altar cloths and Bible are carefully preserved.

AGNES MACPHAIL TALKS ON TRADE

Says Purchase of British Goods Only Salvation for Canadian Farmer

BARRIE, Ont., July 22.—(CP)—The purchase of British goods—goods Britain wants to sell—is the only salvation for the Canadian farmer, Miss Agnes Macphail, Canada's only woman member of parliament, told more than 500 farmers from all parts of Simcoe county, who crowded into and around the little community hall at Stroud, near here, at a non-political meeting of the Innisfail tax reduction league.

"Trade between Canada and Great Britain is more vital to Canada than it is to Britain," said Miss Macphail. "We consume less than five per cent of Britain's exports, while she uses six times as much of ours. We have asserted our right to stand on our own feet, and we are expected to look after ourse'ves. Great Britain put up with a great deal with us. I would not expect her to do so more.

"What are we doing to convince Great Britain we want to buy her goods? We do nothing but put up signs 'Buy British-Made Products' and hold Empire dinners. There is only one thing that will have the farmer. That is, buy British goods and the goods Britain wants to sell."

KENNEL MAIDS ARE UNDER DISCIPLINE IN SERUM SEARCH

LONDON, July 22.—(CP)—In efforts to secure a serum cure for distemper in dogs at the farm laboratories of the British Medical Research council two kennel maids live under strict discipline. Every time one of them goes out she has to submit to an elaborate disinfection process on her return. This includes a disinfected bath and a complete change of clothing. Her working clothes are never allowed to leave the compound. These two kennel-maids must be the most germ-free girls in England. Every bit of food given to the dogs is sterilized or boiled. The dogs themselves are pictures of health and good spirits. They suffer no pain or discomfort in the course of their care-free and germ-free existence. The scientists' first discovery, made soon after the work began in 1923, was that distemper was caused by a virus, a member of that family of incredibly minute, invisible organisms which cause such diseases as measles, influenza and infantile paralysis.

If we examine what has taken place at Washington during the past 30 years or more, we cannot escape the conviction that something is going on which is structurally changing the character of our political democracy.—Clifton D. Gray, president, Bates college.

The communities do not get all the tax money they should have. For instance, only one-quarter of the motor vehicle licence fees go back to them in New York.—State Senator Seabury C. Mastick of New York.

Mrs. Grace Grant and her son Jack returned home from Wallace, Idaho, on Tuseday evening where they had been visiting with relatives for the past 10 days.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Ball had as their guests on Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Franz of Walla Walla. Mrs. Franz was a resident of Ymir over 30 years ago.

W. Lavigne and Andrew Burgess left for the Old Timer mine on Thursday where they will take samples.

The Blackcock mine is shipping a car of ore this week.

Amend your ways and your doings and I will cause you to live in this lace.—Jeremiah 7.3.

GETS PEARLS IN ONTARIO

Commercial Clam Digger Finds the Odd Gem in Harvest

HAMILTON, Ont., July 22 (CP)—Pearl fishing in Ontario? It doesn't sound likely but it's a fact.

A returned soldier, George Robinson, who came out of the war gassed and crippled to tackle the problem of providing for a family of youngsters, has been harvesting clams for the past seven years, and making a living out of it. The scene of his operations is the Grand river at Caledonia, Ont.

Pearls are a secondary consideration with Robinson. The shells are shipped to the United States, where they are ultimately converted into pearl buttons. Every clam is examined for its possible pearl content and Robinson has garnered a collection of beautiful gems.

Shortly after dawn each day Robinson and his three eldest sons arrive at the river and plan out the day's operations. The boys start out with flat-bottomed boats, poling in shallow water until they find a prospect. In knee-deep water, they scoop into the mud with their hands—the government does not allow harvesting clams with toats—lifting the giant clams from the mud and tossing them into the boat. In deeper water they use a wire snare. The clam, like the oyster, lets the water flow between its valves or shells and feeds on the organic matter brought to it.

The harvest is taken to the cooking plant on shore where Robinson has a huge steel-bottomed tank, about eight feet long, built over a fireplace. The clams are thrown into the tank and cooked, after 15 minutes the meat swells up, spreading the shell and tearing free. Robinson makes an examination of the mollusks for pearls. The meat too is dissected as carefully as a surgeon would make a pathological examination. Occasionally a pearl rewards the search. Frequently mother-of-pearl slugs are taken from the membranes.

The government collects a royalty of $5 on every ton of clams taken from the river, and Robinson is licenced in addition. He has but one pay day a year. "We wait until fall and then ship a carload," he said. "I grade my own shell now and it runs 98 per cent perfect."

Grand river clams are divided into eight breeds: Muckets, niggertoes, sand shells, large pocketbooks, crystal backs, squaw-foots, three ridges and pig toes. The last three are of no commercial value, being off color, too small or too uneven in structure.

Robinson's is the only commercial clam bed in the Grand river. Fished judicially it will be worked for 18 to 20 years, but the commercial rule is to rest the bed in five year cycles.

LADY CHAYTOR WEARS COAT MADE FROM A "SHAVED HEARTHRUG"

MELBOURNE, Australia, July 22.—(CP)—Lady Chaytor, lecturing on "Personality in Dress" in aid of the Lord Mayor's fund, asked if her audience knew and liked the story of the dress designer who, for an impressive reason, refused to marry the Duke? "There are many Duchesses of Westminster, but only one Chanel." Skunk was being worn in Paris, but on an English estate skunk is vermin, she went on. Seeing a calfskin lying about Lady Chaytor had a happy idea. She asked her protesting tailor to shave the skin and make it into a coat. She wore it in the south of France, and the great Poiret, who was favoring skunk, asked with a puzzled air what the new fur was. Said Lady Chaytor: "It was a hearthrug, but I had it shaved."

TEEL STOCKS MAKE ADVANCE

oronto Movement Considered One of Most Significant of 12 Months

TORONTO, July 22— Increased es on the Toronto stock exchange day were attributable to heavier ying in steel and oil shares, the rmer resulting from the Anglo-Ca- dian agreement of producers and e latter inspired by confidence in w York arising from conclusions the recent world oil conferences Paris. The market as a whole was ong.

The advance in Canadian Steel ocks is now considered to be one the most significant price move- ents to occur in the past 12 onths. And is accepted as one of e first concrete results of the mpire's business conferences now progress.

Domestic steel issues vied with for first in interest. Canadian r and Foundry rose a fraction to se at 5⅞. General Steel Wares s up ¼, Page-Hersey gained 1, eel of Canada common was up ⅞ 18¼ with 275 shares bought and ominion Bridge made a new high r the year at 18 where it closed th a gain of ½. Hamilton Bridge a also up ½ to 5½.

Both volume and price gains in e oil list were impressive. Ca- dian Oils was up 1½ to 9½. B.A. s up ⅛, Imperial gained ⅝ to se at 9, having sold up 9¼. Pete o gained ⅜ to close at 11, having d up to 11⅛.

Buying of Canadian Pacific from road continued. At its close of ¾, the issue was up ¾ net. Recessions in the base metal group re not important, following recent vances. Smelters lost 1 to close at ⅛ and International Nickel, was ⅛ to close at 6⅜.

BRIDGE RIVER LEADS MINES

Issues Show a Decidedly Firm Trend on Vancouver Stock List

VANCOUVER, July 22 (CP)—Led by Bridge River Consolidated which surged up three points in sensational activity, mines issues showed a decidedly firm trend in trading on the Vancouver stock exchange today. At the close gains ranged from fractions to three points.

Bridge River opening higher at 5½, sold up steadily during the day's trading and closed up 3 at 7½. Over 48,000 shares changed hands during the day. Reno, also a good trader, gained 2 to 40 cents. Lorne at 7¾ was up a quarter, while Georgia River advanced fractionally to 3.

McLeod, the only issue to attract attention in the oils division, gained 2 to close at 22.

The remainder of the active list with one exception, closed firm at unchanged prices. The exception was Big Missouri which declined 1 to 8 cents.

Total transactions amounted to 61,440 shares.

ALLIS CHALMERS COMPANY HAS LOSS SECOND QUARTER

NEW YORK, July 22—Allis Chalmers company had a net loss of $869,503 for the second quarter against net profit of $536,254 in the same quarter last year.

NEW YORK HAS GENERAL RISE

Security and Commodity Markets Profit by Urge to Speculate

NEW YORK, July 22 (By John L. Cooley, A P financial writer)—Security and commodity markets profited by the new urge to speculate for the advance today, the result being a rather general rise in prices.

Railroad stocks and bonds quite naturally assumed leadership on the stock exchange, for Wall street was attracted by approval of the Eastern Trunk line merger plan by the interstate commerce commission even if actual consummation may be some distance away. Oils also made a bid for favor.

Shares closed somewhat under the best, with net gains of a point or so fairly plentiful. It was the most active session since early June when the market responded to announcement of the security-buying corporation sponsored by leading banks, and the net advance, averaging about a point, pushed prices virtually back to the top of that rally. Sales totalled 1,444,905 shares. Rail stocks were hardly buoyant, although many carrier bonds earned that description. Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, Baltimore & Ohio and Delaware & Hudson stocks forged ahead a point or two before meeting much opposition; some preferred equities in the transportation division did considerably better. On the strength of this showing short covering appeared elsewhere, giving maximum boosts of 2 to 3 points to American Telephone, U. S. Steel preferred, Peoples Gas and Auburn. Steel common, American Can, General Electric, Union Carbide, Dupont, Atlantic Refining, Standard Oils of New Jersey and California, Woolworth, Consolidated Gas and North American were up from a fraction to a point net.

BAR PLACERS SHOW LOW ASSAY TESTS

VICTORIA, July 22 (CP).—In the interim report of the department of mines, Assistant Resident Engineer A. M. Richmond's report of his examination of the Crow's Bar Placers, Ltd., property, situated 57 miles northwest of Clinton, reveals lower assay tests than were expected by many local investors in the enterprise.

Mr. Richmond's report reads in part:

"Because of the glowing reports concerning the richness of the ground (some reports claimed over half a billion yards of ground averaging more than $1.50 per yard), considerable time was spent at the property in check sampling the main working exposures, and particularly the hydraulic pit from which 8350 cubic yards (by measurement) of gravel has been removed and put through the sluice boxes.

EGG MARKETS

NEW YORK, July 22—Eggs:

Toronto: Receipts are no heavier but the demand is slow with prices unchanged although the undertone is easy.

Montreal: The market tone here is very quiet. Shipments of graded eggs are selling on spot to wholesalers at extras 19½ to 20, firsts 16 to 16½, seconds 13½.

Winnipeg: Market is unusually ull. There is no change in prices reported although prices are being cut to effect sales.

CARRIER LOANS UP ON BOND MARKET

Encouraged by Proposed Consolidation of Eastern Roads

NEW YORK, July 22—The bond market took a ride on the railroads today and the excursion proved profitable for all concerned.

Encouraged by the interstate commerce commission's approval of a proposed consolidation of eastern roads, carrier loans raised their prices in early trading and, despite some later profit-taking, the majority held substantial gains at the close.

Gains of from 1 to around 4 or more points were recorded by most of the active carriers.

The foreign section was again supported by the German government department, the 5½'s and 7's gaining more than a point.

The Argentines and British firmed and the Australians steadied after early weakness.

Sales totalled $11,395,000 and the average for 60 corporate securities gained eight-tenths of a point.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, July 22—Light trading prevailed on the produce and dairy market here today.

Butter was unchanged, cariots or less of No. 1 being 18 cents a pound. To retailers solids at 20 cents and prints at 21 cents were up a cent.

Cheese held firm, Ontarios being quoted at 9½ cents and Quebec at 9¼ cents a pound.

Eggs declined, quotations being 19½ to 20 cents for extras, 16 to 16½ cents for firsts and 13½ cents a dozen for seconds. To retailers prices were shaded a cent.

New No. 1 Montreal potatoes, per 80-pound bag, advanced at 75 to 80 cents. New No. 1 Virginias were unchanged at $3.50 a barrel. Old New Brunswick Green Mountains have disappeared from the market with the exception of a few small lots.

BROADER DEMAND RAISES GRAINS

Reports of Eastern Pool Formation Forces Grain Up at Chicago

CHICAGO, July 22 (By John P. Boughan, A P market editor)—Broadened speculative demand and reports of the formation of an eastern wheat buying pool forced grain prices higher today.

Augmented purchasing was ascribed to recent advances in securities, sugar and livestock, and to reports that government financed holdings of domestic wheat were losing effect as a market influence.

Wheat closed firm, ¾ to 1⅛ above yesterday's finish, corn ½ to ⅞ up, oats at a shade to ¼ to ⅜ gain, and provisions showing a rise of 12 to 17 cents.

Bullish factors included signs that Liverpool prices were approaching a relation with the Chicago market which would permit enlarged purchase of United States wheat by importing countries.

Reports that the United States corn crop was in a critical condition added to bullish sentiment. Growth of corn has been splendid, but one crop expert said dry weather had checked improvement.

SALES HOLD ON MINING MARKET

Toronto Prices Firm; Lake Shore Is Active Leader; Jumps 65 Cents

TORONTO, July 22—On the Standard Stock and Mining exchange today sales volume was sustained and prices firm.

Lake Shore under active trading for this stock jumped 65 cents to close at a new high of $29.90; McIntyre closed unchanged at its high for $21.25; Mining corporation rose 10 cents to $1.40; Teck-Hughes moved up 6 points to $4.20 and Eldorado advanced 6 points to $1.33.

Firmer prices dominated the base metal section. While Noranda rose 10 cents to $17.10. International Nickel fell 25 to $6.30 and Base Metals dropped 25 to 55. New interest is swinging behind the Lindsley group resulting in increased sales and advancing prices. Falconbridge jumped 18 cents to $1.08; Ventures advanced 4 points to 50; Sherritt-Gordon rose a point to 43 cents.

CURRENCIES CLOSE FRACTIONALLY OFF

NEW YORK, July 22 (CP)—British currencies closed fractionally lower on local foreign exchanges today. The Canadian dollar ended the session ⅛ cent lower at 87 3-16 cents after opening ⅛ cent stronger this morning.

The pound sterling closed ¼ cent lower at $3.55⅛ for cable transfers. Sterling opened ½ cent hihger.

STOCK MARKET HEARTENS GRAIN

Winnipeg Wheat Snaps Out of Feeble Decline to Notch Gains

WINNIPEG, July 22—Heartened by a soaring stock market and bolstered by strength in markets to the south, wheat snapped out of a feeble decline to notch fractional gains here today.

The close was ⅛ to ¼ higher. July closed at 54⅜; Oct. at 57⅛ and December at 58⅝.

Weakness at the start was attributed to a disappointing Liverpool cable bottom levels fair resistance was met and prices gradually rallied to higher levels.

Foreign news was colorless with a pause in buying by millers and other importers reflected in the decline of ⅛ to ⅜ in the Liverpool market.

Drought conditions were reported from the Russian spring wheat area. Winter wheat conditions were reported as mostly average.

Cash wheat and coarse grains closed a dull trade at prices little changed.

KEPT PAY UP RAISED OUTPUT

Woman Coal Mine Operator Says "Good Housekeeping Business Need

NEW YORK, July 22 (CP)—A wise capitalism should take care of its workers as well as its stockholders, according to Miss Josephine Roche, who believes the troubles of capitalistic society are caused chiefly by "bad housekeeping."

Miss Roche is the young woman who took over the Rocky Mountain Fuel company in 1928. She invited her men to form the first coal miners' union in Colorado. In the first quarter of 1932, paying her miners the highest wages in the state, she sold 13 per cent more coal than the corresponding period of 1931. Coal production and sales for Colorado as a whole were down four and one-half per cent during that period.

During 1931, the state's coal production declined 20 per cent. Her company sold two and one-half per cent more than in the previous year. She was paying her men considerably more than non-union competitors.

Miss Roche explains the apparent paradox. She could pay these wages and still sell coal as cheaply as the other mines because her miners increased their efficiency. They cut the cost of production 26 cents per ton in 1931 as compared with 1928.

Instead of cutting wages, Miss Roche believes, industrial heads should turn their minds to eliminating waste and inefficiency. "I am certain that other industries are filled with the same bad housekeeping I discovered in coal," she says.

Miss Roche knew little or nothing about coal in 1927 when she inherited a large block of stock in the company from her father. An outbreak in which six miners were killed by deputies aroused her to her "responsability." She obtained control, and invited the miners to form a union and help run the company.

The contract provided that the miners receive 28 cents more per day than the base rate paid in non-union mines.

Last August when Colorado's non-union mines reduced coal prices 50 to 75 per cent, her miners voluntarily offered half their wages for nearly three months, which allowed her to meet the competition. The non-union mines gave up and went back to the regular prices.

"As Advertised"...

Here is a phrase with which shoppers are becoming more and more familiar. "As advertised"—these words are full of meaning. Placed with stacks or heaps of merchandise, they announce plainly for all to see—"Here are the goods we promised you, exactly as they were described in our advertisement." Such merchandise is dependable. Its quality is fully vouched for by the manufacturer who made it and by the store or dealer who is now offering it to you.

As it is advertised—so it is. Experience proves this to be true. The advertisements in this newspaper are sincere messages to you from the most progressive merchants who affix their signatures to attest to the correctness of every statement made. In his advertisements, the advertiser expresses the soundness of his entire business policy.

Read the advertisements every day. They are interesting. They will keep you informed of all the newest and best offerings to be found in the shops and stores. The advertisements are a daily record of business progress. They will save you time and money and assure you fullest value for every purchase you make.

"See Canada First" Advocate, in Nelson

Has Travelled 7980 Miles in Canada Since Starting Trip

On an automobile tour across Canada, during which he has not turned south into the United States during any part of the tour, N. E. Bowman, former advertising manager of the Toronto Telegram, was in Nelson yesterday, with the speedometer of his car registering 7980 miles from the commencement of his tour. He was accompanied by Mrs. Bowan, by his son, G. R. Bowman, an Ontario surveyor, and by a fouth member of the party, in the person of an Irish setter, Patricia, a highly pedigreed product of the Guelph Agricultural college kennels.

Mr. Bowman started his tour at Cape Breton, and travelled by highway to Sault Ste. Marie, where his automobile was placed on board a steamer and shipped to Fort William. From Fort William it was taken by flat car to Kenora. From Kenora he drove through Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta to British Columbia. Mr. Bowman, many years ago, swore to himself that he would never visit any other country excepting under pressure of business necessity, until he had visited every nook and corner in Canada. Of United Empire loyalist stock, he has kept sternly to this ideal, and this is his third trip across the Dominion. He mentioned yesterday that he had not yet even been to England. Mr. Bowman is an advocate of "See Canada first," and of buying Canadian and empire products.

IMPRESSED BY IMPROVEMENTS

He stated that he was enormously impressed by the great improvement which had been made in the highways, particularly in Saskatchewan and Alberta, and he also noted some improvement in British Columbia since he visited the west three years ago. He spoke of the immense need of good highways, for the development of traffic in Canada, and of good feeder routes, which would bring people to Canada from the United States.

He stated that during his trip he had been received with the utmost courtesy by government officials and by officials of publicity bureaus and other organizations, particularly those of which the supreme head is F. C. C. Lynch, of the National development bureau at Ottawa.

The party left by way of the Slocan lake and Nakusp for Vancouver, intending to stay at Nakusp Friday night and to proceed by way of Edgewood and Vernon. The return trip will be made by way of Grand Forks, Trail and Rossland, and then to Calgary and north to Saskatoon.

I think we all feel a measure of disappointment that great results have been attained, but I want the country to know that the president has not only had full opportunity to make definite suggestions for further reductions in federal expenditures but that he has been invited to do so by the United States senate in a resolution unanimously adopted. —Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader in the senate.

NELSON'S TRAVELS IN AMERICA TRACED

Historians Review Early Life of British Naval Hero and Argue Travels

HALIFAX, N. S., July 22 (CP)—Having dropped for a time the argument about a suitable place to erect a monument to Lief Erickson and his adventurous Norsemen, supposed to have lived in Nova Scotia 900 years ago, local historians now are paying attention to the dispute as to whether or not Horatio Nelson walked the streets of Halifax before he became a British naval hero.

Many have contributed to the argument during the last few weeks, but W. D. Taunton and George Mullane, two veteran newspapermen, seem to be more aggressive than the others. Taunton, who writes under "I. C. R." and other by-lines, is inclined to believe Nelson visited Halifax, while Mullane, sometimes known as "Occasional," says "no."

"Horatio Nelson is on the carpet now. Some folk are trying to prove that he was in Halifax at one time during his naval career. Others deny point blank that he ever saw the clouds over Halifax. And so the discussion goes merrily on. 'I. C. R.' does not desire to butt in on such a momentous question, but he may be permitted to say that Horatio Nelson, the victor of Trafalgar, was attached as man and boy to the British North American and West India squadron and I hardly think when I say that it is more than the local historians will dispute me probable that squadron visited Halifax. In fact, it was its custom, as it was the custom of later years, for the British North American and West India squadron to summer at Halifax and winter in the West Indies, and I have it in black and white that while in the West Indies Horatio Nelson took unto himself a wife. Down is the little island of Nevis, near St. Christopher's, there is a little church called 'The Fig Tree church.' When Canadian visit that island they seek out that church, especialy on Sundays, and after the service the pastor will ask them if they would care to see Horatio Nelson's signature at one shilling per. 'I. C. R.' paid his shilling along with a lot of other Canadians and the preacher produced the marriage register and displayed Horatio Nelson's signature. He married a widow Nesbit, perhaps none too readily, but he married her legally and formally, and she wasn't Lady Hamilton either. A tablet to the memory of Dr. Nesbit, his wife's first husband, is there on the wall and in the main aisle is a memorial slab to the memory of Alexander Hamilton, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence in the U. S., long, long before it contained the 18th amendment. That is all the proof I have to offer that Nelson was in Halifax for it stands to reason that if the fleet he was attached to sailed up our harbor he was on board one of the ships. Unless, perhaps, he did not want to come in and they placed him on the outer automatic or whatever buoy was there at the time, and left him there till they picked him up a few months or weeks later. Of course it is understood that at the time Nelson is presumed to have been on this station he was not 'Lord' Nelson, but a middy or a sub-lieutenant and at best a captain. It is possible his shipmates called him "Rach' or some appropriate nick name. The British navy from its very beginning always had lads, sons of titled parents, among the compliment of petty officers, but they never presumed on their rank or family connection. In other words, they cut very little ice in the public eye, and it is just possible Nelson roamed the streets of Halifax with his shipmates and behaved like any other well bred youngster."

RADIO CLUB SETS UP LOUD SPEAKERS AT LAKESIDE PARK

Due to the untiring efforts of the Nelson Amateur Radio club, the winners in the water events in the monster smeltermen's picnic at Lakeside park today, as well as the addresses by Mayor J. P. Morgan, S. G. Blaylock, vice-president and general manager of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company, and other speakers, will be conveyed to all sections of the park through loudspeakers.

After numerous tests, the microphone has been placed on the judges' stand above the boat house on the park float, and four loudspeakers are spread through the park in different sections so as to convey the messages to picnickers.

This wonderful asset to the public in general is entirely due to the work of W. Sharp, K. Crosby, M. W. Brown, J. Meek and A. Foster, who sacrificed their leisure hours and loaned their equipment. The loudspeakers have been loaned by George Ferguson of the Nelson Rink company.

NEWFOUNDLAND POSTAL PROBE

Hon. F. C. Alderice Appoints Sub-Committee to Make Report

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, July 22 (CP).—One of the first tasks of the new government of Newfoundland will be the reorganization of the department of posts and telegraphs, according to an announcement of Prime Minister F. C. Alderdice.

Following a recent meeting of the executive council, the prime minster issued a statement to the effect that the condition of the department had been considered and it had been decided to appoint a subcommittee of the council to "investigate and report on the reorganization of the department with the object of creating a more efficient organization than has hitherto existed."

The investigation will be held under the chairmanship of Hon. J. S. Ayre and Hon. W. J. Browne.

It is understood that the members of the committee will not be paid any salaries or fees for services they are expected to perform in connection with the investigation.

NEWFOUNDLAND SEEKS PENSIONS FOR BLIND

ST. JOHN'S Newfoundland, July 22 (CP). — P. E. Layton, known throughout Canada as the friend of the blind, was in St. John's recently to start a campaign to secure pensions for sightless people of Newfoundland.

Addressing a meeting here, he urged his hearers to form a brotherhood. Such an organization, he said, would raise the economic status of the blind in the island dominion and give them better representation before any body which they brought their problems.

Mr. Layton, who founded the Canadian Federation of the Blind in 1926, outlined the objects of that organization.

While advocating pensions for the blind, he does not believe in idleness. Blind himself, having lost his sight at the age of 13, in England, he came to Canada in 1887 and entered the piano manufacturing business. Today he is president of Layton brothers.
