LINDY MAKES A MYSTERIOUS TRIP IN AUTO

Leaves His Estate for First Time Since the Kidnapping

MRS. LINDBERGH WAS ALSO AWAY

Major Schoeffel Slips From Liner to Disappear in England

HOPEWELL, N.J., April 3. (Copyright, 1932, by the Associated Press)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, driving over an unfrequented road, returned to his country home near midnight tonight after making a mysterious automobile trip on which he departed last night.

It was first time he had been absent from the estate since his son was kidnapped March 1.

As the colonel sproached over the Stoutsburg road, a country road which joins the main roads leading to the Lindbergh estate he met a party o reporters.

In the darkness the colonel stopped one of the newspapermen and said: "Who are you? The police?"

"No," the reporter said, "we're the press. Is there anything new?"

"Thank you," responded the colonel as he drove away.

The colonel, who was driving, was accompanied by an unidentified man.

Earlier it had been learned from a reliable source that Mrs. Lindbergh was absent from the house, but it was presumed that she had preceded him home.

LEAVES LINER MYSTERIOUSLY

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., April 3 (AP)—Major H. Schoeffel, assistant superintendent of the New Jersey state police, who has been active in the search for the kidnapped Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., slipped into England tonight from the liner Mauretania as mysteriously as he left the United States.

Care was taken to hide every clue as to the identity of the officer, whose trip was thought by some to be a secret mission in connection with the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby.

His name was not on the passenger list.

NEGOTIATORS SILENT

NORFOLK, Va., April 3.—For the second consecutive sabbath, John Hughes Curtis, one of the three intermediaries for the return of the kidnapped Lindbergh baby, was out of the city today in the interest of negotiations for the child's recovery.

Neither of his asociates, Admiral Guy H. Burrage or Dean H. Dobson-Peacock, former Canadian pastor, would break the silence they have maintained since they tersely announced that Mr. Curtis had "left the city on the Lindbergh case."

Chinese and Japanese Clashes Are Becoming More Intense on Line

SHANGHAI, April 4. (Monday—(AP)—Clashes of growing intensity between Chinese and Japanese troops along the battle line west of Shanghai were reported today, adding to the difficulties of facing negotiators of an armistice who were scheduled to meet again at 2 p.m.

Chinese reports from the area where the Chinese and Japanese forces have been facing each other since the cessation of hostilities here a month ago said skirmishes were occurring frequently, causing increased tension on both sides.

YOUTH IS KILLED AS OLD RIFLE IS FIRED BY ACCIDENT

CARNDUFF, Sask., April 3.—The accidental discharge of a gun which he was carrying caused the death of Zibre Hoeffer, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hoeffer, residents 18 miles southwest of Carnduff Saturday afternoon, when the bullet from the weapon pierced his heart. An inquest will be held next Saturday.

Zibre with his brother Yocsum left home about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon to hunt on the river banks. He was carrying an old 22 rifle with the butt carelessly wired on. The butt fell off and while stooping to pick it up Zibre struck the gun on the ground causing it to discharge.

MONTREAL, April 3 (CP).—Affecting some thousands of men and women throughou Canada, the announcement was made today that the commercial telegraphers and clerks employed by the Canadian Pacific railway's system had accepted a 10 per cent reduction in their wages. The cut will go into effect from May 1, and be for one year.

SEVERANCE OF LINK BY IRISH NOT EXPECTED

Intent on Abolishing Oath and Withholding Annuities, However

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, April 3 (By George Hamblelon, Canadian Press staff writer).—The Free State government of President Eamon de Valera tonight was said to contemplate no severance of the link between this country and the British commonwealth of nations as a result of its proposals to abolish the oath of allegiance to the crown and to withhold payment of land annuities from the British treasury.

Usually well-informed circles here took it for granted that, when the government's reply to Great Britain's note warning against possible breaches of the Anglo-Irish treaty is forwarded to London, it will reassert the Free State's intention to abolish the oath and retain land annuities. Government circles, however, pressed the point that with the oath abolished the Free State would remain a co-equal member of the British commonwealth with the same constitutional status as Canada and the other dominions.

WOULD NOT SEVER LINK

Abolition of the oath as it stands in the Irish constitution would not sever the link with the Empire, it was argued. It was pointed out Mr. De Valera is pledged to strike the oath from the constitution, but that his andate from the people, given in the general election, goes no further.

Government circles cited two instances in support of this contention:

1. Mr. De Valera's acceptance of the invitation from Prime Minister R. B. Bennett of Canada to send a delegation to the Ottawa Imperial economic conference next July.

2. That if and when the oath is abolished the Free State Constitution act, with the constitution itself and the Anglo-Irish treaty, will remain the law of the land; that under the constitution the national legislature will still consist of the King and two houses of parliament; that executive authority will still be vested in the King, and exercisable according to "law, practice and constitutional usage governing the exercise of executive authority as in the case of the Dominion of Canada."

The position taken by the Free State government regarding the oath is that the constitution goes beyond the terms of the treaty. The treaty

PREFERS WESTERN PLAINS TO EASTERN SOCIETY

Miss Ellen McAdoo, attractive daughter of the former secretary of the United States treasury, enjoys a typically western life in the deserts and mountains of Arizona, despite the fact that her father's position would entitle her to a brilliant society career in the east if she were so minded. She is shown with her favorite pony ready for a dash through the hills.

Air Route Across the North Atlantic Is to Be Surveyed

NEW YORK, April 3.—Pan-American Airways announced today it had entered into an agreement with Trans-American Air Lines to conduct the necessary survey and research work for development of an air route across the North Atlantic.

Details of the transactions were not made public, and it was not definitely know whether survey flights would be made next summer over the proposed course, which is by way of Canada, Greenland, Iceland and the Faroes and Shetland islands.

It was announced, however, that the thorough study of the project being undertaken will be a preliminary step to the actual launching of exploratory flights through the north.

Trans-American Air Lines has been assisted during the past year in its study of the problem by the noted polar explorer Vilhjalmur Stefansson, who proposed a northern commercial air route 13 years ago.

As an indication of the progress made in the preliminary work, it was pointed out the parliament of Iceland within the last month has passed an act granting Trans-American and their associated interests a 75-year franchise for the transportation of mail over Iceland on an air route between North America and Europe.

The specific routing of the northern line has not been determined, pending the further extension of surveys.

GERMANY IS SCENE OF ELECTION FIRE WORKS, DISORDERS

BERLIN, April 3 (By John A. Boughan, Associated Press staff writer).—Election fireworks and disorders began in Germany today almost on the stroke of noon, when President Von Hindenburg's decree of truce for the Easter period came to an end.

Adolf Hitler, the Nazi leader, and foremost opponent of the president in the final election on April 10, mounted a rostrum at Leipzig immediately after noon and declared for law and order before an audience of 50,000.

Speaking for the aged president, Adam Stegerwald, minister of labor in Chancellor Heinrich Bruening's cabinet, spoke at Breslau, declaring that the actions of the Nazis belied their words when they said they sought to obtain power legally.

The worst disorders came in Berlin, where a group of Communists were badly shattered in Gneisenau Strasse by police who attempted to disperse them. One Communist was shot in the chest and four were arrested. In the northern section of the city four Nazis were injured in a fight with Communists.

MISSING AVIATOR PERISHED IN SNOW

Fighting Between Japanese, Bandits, Endangers Koreans

Lives and Property of 1000 Koreans Reported Hazardous

PINGYAN, Korea, April 3 (AP).—The lives and property of about 1000 Koreans were reported today to be endangered by fighting which has broken out in the Chientao district of Manchuria, near the border between Korea and Soviet Russia.

Scouting and fighting airplanes left here today to cooperate with Japanese forces sent yesterday to combat a rebellion against the new Manchurian government. Dispatches said the Chinese rebels were supported by "bandits and Communists."

Hordes of "white Russian" and Korean refugees were said in the reports to be crossing the Tumen river into Korea.

Elevator Operator Killed as Caught in Swirling Machinery

LOVERNA, Sask., April 3.—Caught in the machinery of an elevator here today, William English, the operator, was crushed to death. Apparently he was oiling the machinery at the time but was alone in the engine room.

The body was discovered by Dave McKerrow, operator of another elevator, who noticed the machinery was not running properly.

The victim leaves his wife and six children. He had been in charge of the elevator since 1924.

CONSOLIDATED LAYOFF IS ONLY OF CONSTRUCTION CREW SAYS BLAYLOCK; 100 PER CENT PLANT CREW RETAINED

Superphosphate Plant Closed Temporarily While All Available Sulphuric Acid Goes Into Other Fertilizers; Hope Shutdown Brief

Rumors current here Friday that the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada had shut down its fertilizer plant and laid off its crew, were given vigorous denia Saturday morning here by S. G. Blaylock, vice-president and general manager, when he passed through from Trail, to attend the annual meeting of the company at Montreal on April 15.

NO OPERATING CREWS OFF

"Our only lay-off is of excess men whom we had no construction work, which is now practically completed," said Mr. Blaylock. "Practically all the men that have been laid off were only on for construction work, and were told when they were taken on that their employment was temporary. The lay-off applies mainly to men who were taken on during 1930 and 1931.

"We are keeping, for the present at any rate, the full 100 per cent crew required to operate our plants at 100 per cent, fertilizer and everything else. We are doing this by keeping the crew working at 75 per cent time, that is to say, working 15 days, and being off for five.

"We are running the lead plant at 85 per cent of its rating, and the zinc plant at 55 per cent.

SHORT ON ACID

"The sulphuric acid plant is not up to its rating because, with the zinc production cut, there is not enough roaster gas to keep it running at full capacity, all of the zinc gases being used for this purpose.

"All of the sulphuric acid is being made into ammonium phosphate and ammonium sulphate fertilizers, these plants being run to use all the sulphuric acid produced under these conditions.

"This makes it necessary to shut down the triple superphosphate plant temporarily, but we hope this will be only for a few months."

SALE OF EXPORT

Mr. Blaylock said an important part of the fertilizer output was being exported.

He expects to be back from the east in probably a month's time.

BOMB THROWN AT KRESTOVA MISSES MARK

Hits Ground 48 Feet From School; Fuse Fails to Carry Spark

WATCHMAN FINDS IT FOLLOWING DAY

Fourth Outrage in Less Than Week in Doukhobor Settlements

A bomb that was thrown at Krestova Doukhobor school, in the settlement on the flat west of and overlooking Crescent Valley, but that failed to explode, though the fuse was lighted, was discovered Friday afternoon by the Doukhobor watchman.

A Crescent Valley resident who learned of the occurrence reported it to the provincial police here Friday night, and Staff-Sergt. A. T. Stephenson investigated the case.

It is surmised that the bomb, which was hurled over the fence and landed at a point 48 feet distant from the one-story frame building, was thrown during Thursday night or Friday morning, while the guard was at the further side of the building. The fence, which is made of barbed wire, was erected for the special purpose of keeping incendiaries at a distance.

THROWN BY SLING

The missile consisted of a small gunny sack filled with explosive and sand, with eight feet of fuse, with cap in contact with the explosive, wrapped around it, a small piece of looped cord being tied around it, so that the bomb-thrower could swing it around his head and hurl it.

Only three inches of the fuse was burned, with the result that the bomb, which was timed to explode eight minutes later, when the incendiary would be far away, did not go off.

This bomb outrage in the Doukhobor settlements was the fourth in less than a week, the others being the blowing up of a section of the Pass creek irrigation flume at Castlegar, and an attempt to blow up a government power-grader parked between Thrums and Brilliant—both these being early the preceding Saturday—and bombing of the two-room brick school at Glade with slight damage, Thursday night.

Mrs. A. Dalglass of Nelson is the teacher at Krestova.

STEAMER AND NAVY SUBMARINE CHASER COLLIDE

SAN PEDRO, Cal., April 3.—The steamer Japanese Prince collided tonight with Eagle Boat No. 4, navy submarine chaser, about 10 miles north of San Diego harbor.

The eagle boat was badly damaged, but in no immediate danger of sinking, wireless reports said.

The Japanese Prince began efforts to put a line aboard the smaller fract. In the meantime the coast guard cutter Camarillo put out from here for the scene.

WINTER REIGNS IN EAST AGAIN

TORONTO, April 3.—Winter unleashed a savage post-season blast of snow and sleet in eastern Ontario Saturday night. The storm was felt as far west as Toronto and nearby points, and struck Brockville in the east, with Kingston apparently the focal point of the attack.

Arrangements Being Made for Edmonton, Calgary Air Service

CALGARY, April 3 (CP).—The Calgary Albertan Saturday states it has learned final arrangements are being made for the inauguration of a daily air passenger service between Calgary and Edmonton, with the probability that it will commence May 1. The paper adds that plans for an air service between Spokane and Great Bear lake mining areas, via Calgary, are under way also.

"Mamer Air Transport corporation, of Spokane, Wash., plans development of an air service between Spokane and Great Bear lake via Calgary. It is proposed that a tri-motored plane be operated on this run, carrying persons bound for the United States to Great Bear lake," the Albertan concludes.

25 OVERCOME AS CHLORINE GAS ESCAPES

Safety Plug Blows Out in Starch Company's Plant

CARDINAL, Ont., April 3 (CP).—Overcoming more than 25 employees and killing a horse directly in it spath, a greenish-yellow cloud of chlorine gas hovered over the Canada Starch company's plant here for several hours Saturday after a safety plug blew out of a one-ton tank of chlorine.

Floating along on a mild wind, hugging the ground and creeping into several buildings in the plant, the gas was finally carried out over the St. Lawrence river. Reports from six miles up the river indicated it was still visible there, but casualties were confined to the starch plant itself.

Four doctors attended the stricken employees. Several remained unconscious for as long as three hours, but the majority were sufficiently recovered to go home shortly after. Some have developed bronchitis and pneumonia will have to be guarded against.

Piccard Planning to Explore Atmosphere Over the North Pole

Will Probably Start From a Point in Canada Near Hudson Bay

BRUSSELS, April 3 (AP).—Professor Auguste Piccard, the Belgian physicist who last year ascended more than 50,000 feet in a free balloon, is planning to direct exploration of the upper reaches of the atmosphere over the north polar region, starting probably from a point in Canada near Huson bay.

Professor Piccard first, however, is preparing for another exploration of the stratosphere—but he is not going aloft again. True to his promise to his wife that he would not subject her to another such period of anxiety, he has selected Max Cosyn, a 25-year-old electrical engineer, to try for even greater heights, perhaps 12 miles, or approximately 69,000 feet.

M. Cosyn will be accompanied by an experienced balloon pilot. They hope to make the attempt in May. Augsbury has been selected as the starting point.

$119,000,000 AUTOMOBILE PLANT AT NIZHNI-NOVGOROD COMES TO A STOP AFTER RUN LASTING THREE MONTHS

Plan to Put Every Russian Behind a Steering Wheel Receives a Jolt; Unsatisfactory Leadership Chief Difficulty

MOSCOW, April 3 By Stanley P. Richardson, Associated Press staff correspondent).—The wheels of the $119,000,000 automobile plant at Nizhni-Novgorod have ground to a jolting stop barely three months after they began to hum.

This was admitted today by the powerful executive committee of the Communist party in a proclamation demanding drastic reforms in leadership so that production may be resumed on April 15.

The great project was set in motion January 1 with the ultimate idea of putting every Russian behind a steering wheel, and it came to grief because there were "too many fingers in the pie."

Today's proclamation minced no words in insisting that matters be set aright with speed.

Drastic changes were decreed in the party organization at the plant in an effort to overcome the difficulty. The secretary of the Regional party committee at Nizhni-novgorod was ordered dismissed. The plant's foundry and assembly captains were ordered discharged.

INSTRUCTED TO REORGANIZE

The Regional party committee was told to establish immediately personal responsibility for operation of the project in one directing head. The committee was also instructed to reorganize the plant's party structure so as to improve leadership in the shortest possible time.

Resumption of operation in time to complete the program for the first six months of 1932 on schedule was demanded.

After declaring the plant had stopped production, the proclamation admitted that "quite unsatisfactory leadership" was the chief difficulty.

A contributing factor was called "anti-specialist tendencies," which means there is discrimination against technicians of both the old and the new orders of Russia. "Persecution of administration of technicians" also was cited, but was not explained, either in the proclamation or by the press which published it.

LUMBERMAN ASLEEP IN HOME WHEN IT BURNS TO GROUND

Neighbors of South Slocan Believe Him to Be in Nelson With Family; Tragedy Saturday Evening; Widely Known

Burned to dismemberment, presumably after he had died in his sleep from suffocation, Edward Watts, 51, South Slocan lumberman and son of A. E. Watts, was the victim of a fire that Saturday evening completely destroyed his residence while it was generally supposed he was in Nelson with his family at the picture show.

SEEN ALIVE AT 8:15

Mr. Watts was last seen alive at 8:15 o'clock, when Mrs. Louis Cox, passing his house on her way to the South Slocan station, saw him standing in his doorway in his shirtsleeves. He told her that he had a severe headache, and was going to take a couple of aspirin tablets, and go to sleep. This intention he evidently executed, for he died on his couch in his "den" on the first floor. When Mr. Cox returned from the railway station some little time before 9 o'clock, the Watts home was dark, and there was nothing to indicate fire.

It was at 9 or 9:05 that Edwin Gordon, of Bonnington, driving past in his car, saw the Watts place afire, and immediately gave the alarm in the South Slocan hall adjacent, where a number of residents were playing badminton.

CRAWL INTO SMOKE

There was a rush for the Watts home, and a determined effort was made by J. D. Yeatman, Lieut.Col. John Murray, and W. R. Walkley to get at the site of the fire, which was in the front part of the two-story frame building, the men entering from the rear and penetrating as far as the dining room, taking to their hands and knees to avoid the smoke, but the smoke drove them back repeatedly.

It was evident from the first that the house and its contents were doomed, and after the first minutes efforts of the residents of the area were directed to keeping the flames from spreading. It was not until later that it became known that Mr. Watts had not gone to Nelson, by which time the house was in embers.

At that point South Slocan is built up only on the lower side of the highway, and the Watts residence faced toward the west, next to the highway on the first floor being Mr. Watts' den, containing his couch, where he often rested, all the sleeping rooms of the family being upstairs. Next to the den was the office, and in the office was a stove, whose pipe entered a chimney that was partly in the den. As Mr. Watts was a non-smoker, and so could hardly have set his room on fire while lying down, it is con-

BAGLEY HUNT FAST NEARING A STANDSTILL

Promising Leads Have Failed to Prove Fruitful

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 3—Search for William Bagley, escaped convict and alleged assailant of Detective David Maxwell, Burnaby, who was shot and seriously wounded on Hastings street March 26, was practically at a standstill Sunday.

New leads in the hunt obtained by the police several days ago and which at first seemed to be promising have failed to materialize into anything of a definite nature, but are still being followed up.

Public interest in the search appeared to be waning Sunday for no rumors or reports of the fugitive having been seen were received during the morning or afternoon.

DRAMA ENACTED IN NORTH TO PREVENT MOVE TO SUICIDE

Trapper Is Later Found to Have Taken Life With Gun

BRIDGEFORD, Sask., April 3. — Gaiety concealing an anxious manner, and the playing of old time music to distract a man's thought from suicide are elements in a drama revealed in a letter received here from Fort Reliance, in the Arctic circle, by Mrs. E. Brooks from her son-in-law, George Magrum.

Some days prior to the writing of the letter by Mrs. Magrum, a trapper Otta Lanner dropped into the Magrum cabin, and on entering the door announced his recision to commit suicide. A look at the man convinced Mr. Magrum that he meant what he said, and so he had to use discretion and tact.

Mr. Magrum invited Lanner to sit down, gave him a good meal, cheered him up, then asked his son Bill to play the violin Lanner enjoyed the old time melodies, and seemed to get over his despondency. Supper time came along and Lanner had another excellent meal. After supper a long conversation ended in a promise from Lanner "to stick it out" and the trio went to sleep in their Arctic bags.

Some hours later the dogs barked outside, a shot was heard, and Mr. Magrum went out to find the body of Lanner in the snow. Lanner was buried.

NEGRO IS SLAIN AFTER KILLING THREE PEOPLE

CHICAGO, Ill., April 3—Barricading himself in his home, after killing his wife and wounding a man he found in her company, Ed. Welsh, 35, negro, today shot four policemen, one fatally before he was slain.

A rito squad was rushed to the scene and the police raked the enraged husband's stronghold with machine gun fire.

Wind Storm Blows Over Buildings and Kills Farm Animals

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 3—A wind storm of hurricane proportions struck Wyoming county and a portion of northwestern Pennsylvania late Saturday night. Several buildings were felled, trees were uprooted and cattle and horses killed. So far as known no loss of life resulted.

YOUTH RECOVERS FROM INJURIES; MEMORY IS LOST

GLACIER, B.C., April 3. (CP) — Fourteen-year-old Kenneth Hyham has recovered from injuries received in a fall over a precipice in the Rocky mountains but the youngster's memory has been destroyed, at least temporarily.

Eight-year-old Gerald Mattern died from injuries received when he plunged over the precipice with young Hyham while hiking in Glacier National park.

For two weeks Hyham lay unconscious in hospital here. When he emerged from the coma he was unable to recall the accident or any events in his life in the week before.

Alberta Is to Ask Dominion to Care for Single Jobless

EDMONTON, April 3 (CP).—The Alberta government will urge the the federal-provincial unemployment conference in Ottawa April 9 that the Dominion government assume full responsibility for all single jobless men, Premier J. E. Brownlee announced yesterday.

Speaking about the forthcoming conference, the premier said Alberta would urge the federal authorities to take the responsibility of organizing the men into camps for training or educational purposes, depending upon the nature of the scheme adopted. A share of the costs, he said, could be charged back to the province on the basis of population.

Questions to be discussed at the meeting, said Premier Brownlee, would include financial requirements of the provinces, repayments of the borrowings from the Dominion, and needs of the provinces and municipalities in connection with unemployment relief.

CANADIAN PLANTER SUICIDES WITH GUN

KINGSTON, Jamaica, April 3. (CP cable) — Henry Holgate, Canadian planter, shot and killed himself on his Setgestard estate Friday. He was the son of a Canadian engineer.

Imperial Conference Is Greatest Thing Since Reformation

TORONTO, April 3 (CP)—G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian high commissioner to Great Britain, back from England for appearance at his own request before the senate Beauharnois committee, today told interviewers "on every hand it is said that since the reformation there has been nothing of so much importance as the (Imperial) economic conference" which will be held at Ottawa next July.

The conference, the former premier of Ontario said, "is spoken of as the new dispensation in British history. Independent of policies, independent of everything else; it is realized that the Empire is facing a termination of its dependence on international contacts."

Mr. Ferguson spoke of Canadian finances. "British people of all walks of life are tremendously impressed with our financial strength," he said. "They have seen our big conversion loans taken up by the people. They have seen our municipal and provincial bonds absorbed by Canadians."

He refused to discuss Beauharnois. To rumors regarding his possible return to Ontario politics he shrugged his shoulders.

MRS. C. McINNIS TAKEN BY GRIM REAPER, NELSON

Dies Here Saturday Night After Lengthy Illness: Leaves Family

WAS PREDECEASED BY HER HUSBAND

Was an Ardent Church Worker; Born in Harris Hebrides; Nov. 30, 1877

Mrs. Catherine McInnis, widow of the late A. McInnis, who died some six years ago, died here Saturday night at the age of 54, after having been in poor health for the past year. She was born in Harris, Hebrides, Scotland, where she later married Mr. McInnis. She came to Canada with her husband in the year 1906, later taking up residence in Nelson.

Until recently, Mrs. McInnis had been an ardent church worker at St. Paul's United church, and was a member of many circles and committees in connection with this work.

She was also a member of the Daughters of Scotia and the Court Ellen, Ancient Order of Foresters.

She is survived by three sons, John of Trail, Allan and Alex of Nelson, and four daughters, Mrs. John C. Argyle, Mrs. E. Hedley, Marion and Rose, all of Nelson.

Church services will be held in St. Paul's church, with Rev. T. J. S. Ferguson officiating. Burial will be in the Ancient Order of Foresters' plot at the Nelson cemetery, with Daughters of Scotia taking charge at the graveside.

contains an oath "to be taken by members of parliament," and Mr. De Valera's Republicans hold the words "to be taken" are not mandatory. The constitution, on the other hand, after specifying the terms of the oath, adds that "such oath shall be taken by every member . . ." These words, it is argued, exceed the terms of the treaty. On this ground the goverenment contends the oath can be struck from the constitution without violation of the treaty itself.

Following the Free State custom in constitutional amendments, Mr. De Valera intends personally to submit to the Dail the government's bill to abolish the oath. If the Dail passes the bill it will be the 18th amendment to the Free State constitution, and some observers forecast it would become as famous as its predecessor in the United States.

WOULD NECESSITATE CHANGES IN ELECTORAL ACT

Abolition of the oath would virtually necessitate changes in the Electoral act. Here again commentators see its effect on the Irish scene as far-reaching. By amendment to the Electoral act passed in 1917, a candidate before nomination is required to make a declaration that if elected, he will be prepared to take the oath of allegiance. The idea behind this amendment was to prevent nomination of extreme Republicans who did not intend to take their seats in the Dail even if elected. The result has been since the amendment was passed there have been no advanced Republican candidates for election, and, it is argued, no adequate test of Republican strength at the polls. With the oath struck from the constitution and the 1917 amendment repealed, however, the situation would be very different.

A speaker at a victory rally of Mr. De Valera's Republican party, held last night at Kingston, declared he wanted the people to understand that final victory would not be won until the flag of the Irish republic floated over all the 32 counties of Ireland. "We have won an important victory," he added, "but it is not final victory."

The chairman of the rally hinted there might be another general election within a year.

Fire Department Old Timers Hold Meeting at Trail

TRAIL, B. C., April 3.—Trail fire department old timers gathered at the fire hall Saturday night for their annual meeting.

Mayor Bruno Lemose complimented the department on its efficiency and answered criticisms that had been made. He declared he was delighted to see the firemen sitting around the hall doing nothing, for it meant that property holders were getting efficient protection.

Alderman A. Saunders echoed his assertion.

Fire Chief A. A. MacDonald announced the appointment of K. N. Spence as assistant chief.

CONFERENCE TO INCLUDE ALL OF CRISIS MATTER

Four-Power Conference to Probe Affairs of Danubian States

LONDON, April 3 (AP) (By Frank H. King, Associated Press staff writer)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald after a preliminary conversation with Premier Andre Tardieu of France tonight announced that a four-power conference on Wednesday will include the whole range of the European crisis, including disarmament, debts and reparations.

Originally the four-power conversations among Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy were proposed by Mr. MacDonald to tackle primarily the financial structures affecting the five Danubian states, Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia, and Roumania.

After a preliminary conversation with M. Tardieu, however, the prime minister said that the Wednesday discussions will include the disarmament situation at Geneva and the approaching Lausanne conference on reparations. This decision came after the two statesmen had talked together for an hour and a quarter.

PRELIMINARY MOVE

Mr. MacDonald indicated the conversations he began with M. Tardieu tonight were merely a preliminary move for a general settlement of European difficulties.

Tomorrow Mr. MacDonald will spend the whole day with the French premier, starting a task which he said "will be carried on at Lausanne and Geneva, and probably in other ways—a continuing work."

"The invention of the British government is sincere and disinterested," the prime minister said, "in getting the maximum amount of good will and international cooperation brought to bear on solution of the problems before us.

NEED IS FOR COOPERATION

"One country cannot do it. Two countries cannot do it. The policy which we are working out is a policy of cooperation with everybody who is aiming at peace."

To allay a suspicion existing in some European countries regarding the meeting between the two premiers, they jointly declared:

NO AGREEMENTS BEFORE HAND

"There are no agreements beforehand. There are no drafts of proposals beforehand. We want an agreement which will be consistent with the interests and well being of each nation concerned. Our policy is for practical steps to establish and maintain the peace and well being of Europe and the world."

The two premiers will start their conversations at 10 a.m. tomorrow, with the Danubian situation coming first in the survey.

After calling at the French embassy, today, M. Tardieu went to Downing street, the traditional home of Britain's premiers, for a preliminary discussion of important meetings in London this week, and next.

MAJOR PROBLEMS OF EUROPE

These events include the MacDonald-Tardieu conversation on all the major problems of Europe including debts and reparations, but especially the Danubian crisis; the four-power Danubian conference Wednesday; and a special meeting of the League of Nations council next week.

Of these the four-power Danubian conference probably will have the greatest immediate attention, for it brings together representatives of Great Britain, France, Italy, and Germany to discuss the plight of the five agrarian states of Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia, and Roumania.

Warnings by both the Danubian governments concerned and by the finance committee of the League of Nations have been given recently. They declared in effect that unless urgent reconstruction measures are taken, another financial storm such as blew out of middle Europe last summer may again sweep the continent with world-wide consequences.

Austria said she might have to resort to restriction of imports, and the league committee noted the emergency in the foreign debt positions of Austria, Greece and Bulgaria.

LEAD TO INFLATION

Suspension of payments on foreign loans by Austria, Hungary, or other Danubian states would threaten to blaze a trail of inflation and repudiation, according to the general concensus of financial experts.

M. Tardieu came to London to avert such a crisis by evolving an Anglo-French understanding for the rapid extension of financial support to the southeast, such as international loans.

The predicament of the southeastern nations has evoked sympathy for Great Britain, not upon the narrow lines of central European alliances, but upon the basis of the welfare of the whole range or nations from the Baltic to the Black sea and the Mediterranean.

Upon the preliminary survey of the situation, which lasted for an hour and 15 minutes, the statesmen prepared to attend a dinner at the French embassy, at which M. Tardieu was named guest of honor.

After his preliminary conversation with the British prime minister, M. Tardieu issued an optimistic statement to the press, concluding thus: "Great Britain and France, having the same object in view, that is to insure normal conditions of life for all nations, we are bound to bring to a successful conclusion what is in our minds. We have both in the past accomplished more difficult tasks."

Tennis Enthusiasts Rebuild Fence

With a number of tennis enthusiasts turning out on Sonday, great strides were made in rebuilding the south fence of the lower courts of the Nelson Golf and Country Tennis club, which was blown down by the strong wind near the end of the week. About 150 feet were flattened necessitating the reconstruction of the entire section.

Municipal Request for Moderation of Budget Is Refused

Plans Will Be Studied This Year and Brought up at Later Date

VICTORIA, April 3.—To British Columbia municipalities' request for moderation of the Jones budget, the provincial government gave a final refusal Saturday.

At the same time it was announced that it plans this year to study the whole problem of provincial and municipal finances and put them on a new basis. Municipalities were led to hope that at the next session of the house the long wrangle between them and the province over taxation rights would be ended.

"It is impossible now for the budget to be altered," Premier S. F. Tolmie said, in announcing the government's decision, which followed weeks of negotiations and conferences here between the cabinet and municipal representatives. "I have conveyed that fact to representatives of the municipalities, and for the present session the matter is closed.

"It is realized, however, that this is a situation which requires further study, and, no doubt, further action. This year we shall confer with the municipalities at length, and go into the whole problem from top to bottom, with a view to concrete steps at the next session."

FLYING CORPS VETS MEET FOR FIRST REUNION

Memories of War Days Recalled at Gathering in Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Man., April 3 (CP)—Memories of the days when men jested with death in the air fights and bombing raids of the great war were recalled here last night at the first reunion of war veterans of the Royal Flying Corps, Royal Air Force and Royal Naval Air Service. Fighting pilots and observors who had not seen each other since they parted in France gathered in one banquet hall.

Reminiscent of the sporting spirit which animated the warriors of the air was the place of honor at the head table accorded to Carl Neuman, former oberlieutenant in the famous flying circus of the late Baron von Richtofen. The baron and his comrades clashed many times with Canadian, Captain Roy Brown, who finally shot down Germany's premier flying ace.

At as solemn pause in the night's merriment, the 1000 o more veterans stood and drank a toast to the memory of the pilots and observors who did not come back. Wing Commander Ralph Banker proposed to toast. Wesley McCurdy, president of the Aviation league of Canada, presided at the dinner.

lectured that the fire must have started from the stove in the office, as it was the front part of the house that was ablaze first.

BURNED BEYOND RECOGNITION

The body when extracted from the embers was burned beyond recognition, and possibly beyond identification, and was partly dismembered.

Mrs. Watts and her 16-year-old daughter Edna came to Nelson in the morning, and were joined in the afternoon by 14 year-old Donald, it being Mr. Watts' intention at that time to join them for the picture show. After the tragedy was known, their immediate neighbor, M. McIntyre who was also in town, located them and rushed them home in his car.

Just before the fire started, Corporal C. G. Barber of the provincial police came through South Slocan for Nelson, and on arriving here, Mr. Weatman having in the meantime notified headquarters here, turned about, accompanying Inspector Forbes Cruickshank to the scene, where they arrived about 10:30, commencing the police investigation. Sunday, both officers went down again, with Dr. H. H. MacKenzie, district coroner, to continue the investigation.

INQUEST LATER

Dr. MacKenzie stated Sunday night that the tragedy appeared purely accidental, though it was unusual for a man to become so soundly asleep in the time available to Mr. Watts before the fire was seen as not to be aroused by the smoke. If he had aroused, Dr. MacKenzie said, he could have escaped by either a door into the dining room or a window opening on a porch.

LIFE-LONG LUMBERMAN

Born in Great Britain, Mr. Watts came out to Canada with his parents, the family settling at once in the Kootenay, his father, A. E. Watts, starting his lumber operation at Wattsburg, on the Crow, on the site now occupied by Lumberton, about 1906. At an early age young Watts was working with his father in his lumber business, both at the Wattsburg mill, and at the one soon after started at Procter. The Procter operation ceased about 1910 or 1911, the mill lafer burning. He was married while at Wattsburg.

About 1914 Edward Watts started a mill on Smoky creek, above South Slocan, his father moving over from Wattsburg shortly after. Under the name of Watts & Co., father and sons—the firm including for a part of the time also Frank Watts—operated at different times and sometimes simultaneously at South Slocan, Evans Creek, and Glade, the Glade operation being based on a leased Doukhobor mill at that point. The Smoky creek mill was moved down right into South Slocan.

Mr. Watts is survived by his wife, a daughter, Edna, and a son, Donald; by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Watts, South Slocan; and by three sisters and a brother, Mrs. Kelsall of Vancouver, Mrs. William Oliver of Shoreacres, Mrs. Leo Brown of Hedley, and Frank Oliver of Los Angeles.

B. C. to Ask Right to Turn Transients at Her Boundaries

Representatives of Province Will Seek Right at Conference

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 3.—Hope that British Columbia may establish the right to turn back at her borders unemployed who wander westward in the autumn seeking the milder coast climate is held by Hon. R. W. Bruhn, minister of public works.

Discussing the matter Saturday after he arrived in Vancouver on the way for a hurried department visit in Fraser valley, Hon. Mr. Bruhn said that the matter would be pressed by British Columbia representatives at a conference which will be held in Ottawa late this spring.

British Columbia, he said, will demand the right to refuse admittance to non-resident unemployed men who obviously would become a charge on the public. He has hopes that some measure of protection may be afforded.

"There are still between 6000 and 7000 men in relief camps, and the majority are working at the rate set—$7.50 a month with board and clothing," continued the minister.

"There are still some who are unwilling to work under these conditions, and many of them are drifting away to other provinces. We have hopes that we can prevent them returning."

Questioned about future relief policy, Hon. Mr. Bruhn said it is impossible to set a definite program until Ottawa announces its policy.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT IS A SUCCESS

City Band and Other Musicians Render Selections; Several Solos Sung

A large crowd attended the musical concert put on under the auspices of the Nelson Glee club at the Capitol theatre Sunday night. The audience lauded the wonderful efforts of the musicians and singers.

The City band opened the program with "O Canada" and also played "Washington Grays March" and "Caliph of Bagdad."

The second number on the program was two songs by the Men's Glee club, entitled "Rolling Down to Rio" and "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise."

Following their songs, Miss Theodore Rhodes sang two solos.

R. E. Stratton, accompanied by Miss Gwen Lowery, played two cello solos, "Widnuage" by Popper and "Javotte—F sharp minor—by Coupern. votte"—F sharp minor—by Coupern.

Mr. Stratton's selections were followed by two songs by W. Coleman which won favor with the audience.

The Glee club rendered two other selections, entitled, "Annie Laurie" and "Ole Uncle Moon."

As the closing number the City band played its test piece of last year's musical festival, an overture, entitled "Memories of Britain," and "God Save the King."

F. L. Irwin directed the Glee club singers and Spencer J Newell acted as bandmaster. George A. Brown acted as announcer. Mrs. C. W. Tyler accompanied Miss Rhodes in her solos, while F. E. Wheeler accompanied the Glee club singers and Mr. Coleman. The concert was a great success, throughout.

LEARY TO RUN HIS MILL AT NAKUSP SOON

Visits Local Legion to Arrange for Nakusp Celebration

C. S. Leary, Nakusp lumberman, spent Saturday in Nelson. He stated that he intended to start his mill at Nakusp shortly. He was at the Hume.

Mr. Leary only recently returned from Victoria, where he sat on the floor of the house as guest of Capt. James Fitzsimmons, M.P.P., Kaslo-Slocan. Mr. Leary was a former member for the Kaslo-Slocan riding, and was defeated in the last election by the genial captain.

While in the city, Mr. Leary met officials of the Canadian Legion relative to the opening of the new Canadian Legion quarters now under construction at Nakusp. The opening will be a large affair, with various Legion branches throughout the district being represented. In all likelihood the Canadian Legion Bugle band from Nelson will take part in the opening proceedings.

WOMAN SNOWBOUND IN ARCTIC

Mrs. Edward M. Biddle, Philadelphia society matron, who is snowbound in the interior of Alaska, as she would appear in the Arctic costume that is protecting her from the sub-zero storms. The blizzards prevented her from leaving the isolated home of Fannie Quigley, pioneer woman of the Katishna region, after her arrival by dog sled.

There is a touch of magic in some of the new spring clothes. Not the least trick that these newcomers play is that of looking like one thing and being another.

You probably have noticed the intriguing way street dresses look like coats. And vice versa. But have you seen the new little sports outfits that look exactly like suits, when they really are two-piece dresses?

One of the smartest of the former that I have run across is a neat pin-checked green, brown and white featherweight tweed coat dress.

Made with a double capelet effect and trim, sleek body lines, it fastens with self-buttons and uses them on the sleeves too. There is a line of white pique around the inside of the collar line, and inside cuffs are made of the pique, fastening with cuff buttons, in old-fashioned manner. It has a certain "just right" young look about it that is tremendously pleasing.

Two kinds of twill, silk twill and wool, combine in the jaunty sports dress. The upper is made of a heavy white silk twill, that tailors to perfection. It is a very abbreviated little upper, double-breasted, with roll notched collar and deep cuffs. To be sure it could be worn as a jacket, with a little blouse under it, but it is essentially the top of the sports frock and perfect for it.

The skirt is of the same type of twill, only in wool. It is a ravishing blue. Made with one flaring godet that comes clear up to the placquet line, it has a new swing to it that is neat and comfortable. There is a stitched belt of the skirt's wool to finish it.

Dreamy waltz music played by Wayne King, orchestra leader and radio performer, helped win the heart of Dorothy Janis, tiniest satellite in the constellation of Hollywood, who rose to fame overnight in 1928 when chosen as Ramon Novarro's leading lady. Mr. and Mrs. King, shown above, were married recently in Highland Park, Chicago's North Shore suburb.

It's only six hours and 18 minutes by railroad-automobile from Miami, Florida, northward to Jacksonville. That's 42 minutes better than the best previous rail time. And here you see the pneumatic-tired car, guaged to regular tracks, that performed the record run. Left to right, in the foreground, are G. H. Hurley, division superintendent of the Seaboard Railway; H. Gold, of West Palm Beach, train master, and Clifford D. Smith, engineer.

TAXI-DANCER WEDS HEIR

Romaine Fleming, "hostess" in a Broadway dime-a-dance hall, has been disclosed as the December bride of Allan P. Carlisle, 20-year-old Harvard student and scion of a wealthy New York broker's family. Miss Fleming worked for two years in the dance hall before meeting young Carlisle.

SHOT HIMSELF DEAD

Chief Buffalo Child Long Lance, noted North American Indian, who shot himself dead in a multi-millionaire's home in Los Angeles. He was a journalist and known all over Canada. He wrote for a Calgary newspaper, and was considered the only journalist of his race.

Unlike the old-fashioned horse-drawn sleighs that once were synonymous with the Russian scene, this "aero-sled" whirled into view on Moscow's snow-covered streets the other day to show proud citizens the Soviet government's newest mechanical product. The sled-like vehicle, capable of considerable speed, is driven by propellers.

LADY CHAYTOR TO FLY TO AUSTRALIA

Lady Chaytor, wife of Sir Edmund Chaytor, of Witton Castle, left Brooklands aerodrome, March 18, on a flight to Australia. On arrival in Australia, Lady Chaytor will make an aerial tour during which she will lecture on fashions. Her pilot is Mr. R. T. Richards. Photo shows Lady Chaytor playing a tune on her ukelele before leaving Brooklands aerodrome. Mr. Richards is also seen.

JAPANESE OCCUPY WOOSUNG

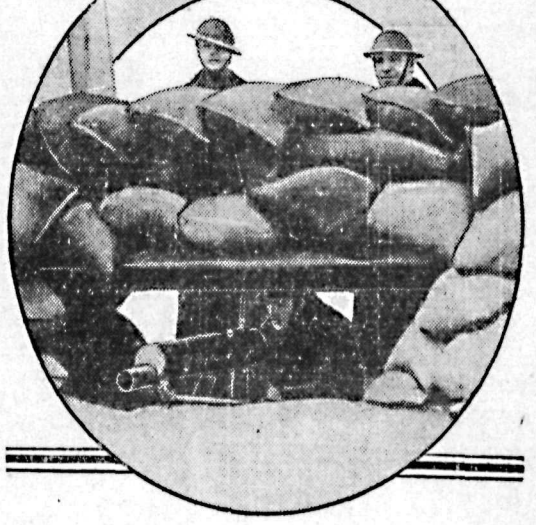
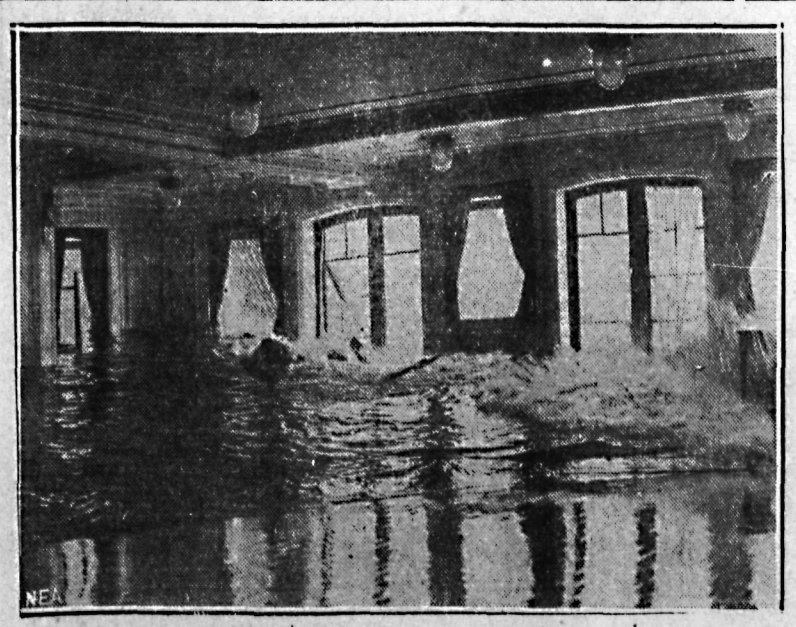
Carrying out the wounded with equipment unchanged since the days of Genghis Khan, a stretcher suspended on ropes to a shoulder pole borne by coolies. Picture taken in the Kiangwan area behind the Chinese lines as the 19th Route army fought heroically to stem the determined Japanese advance.



Light weight, but warm is the chic tweed three-piece suit worn by Mrs. Maitland L. Griggs, in Bermuda. The skirt and coat are the new string beige in color, the coat made with grand round shoulders.

All isn't quiet on the Far Eastern front—not yet, at any rate—for here you see American doughboys on the job in a dugout at Shanghai, ready to protect American lives and property in the fighting between the Chinese and the Japanese. The machine gunner looks as though he really means business.



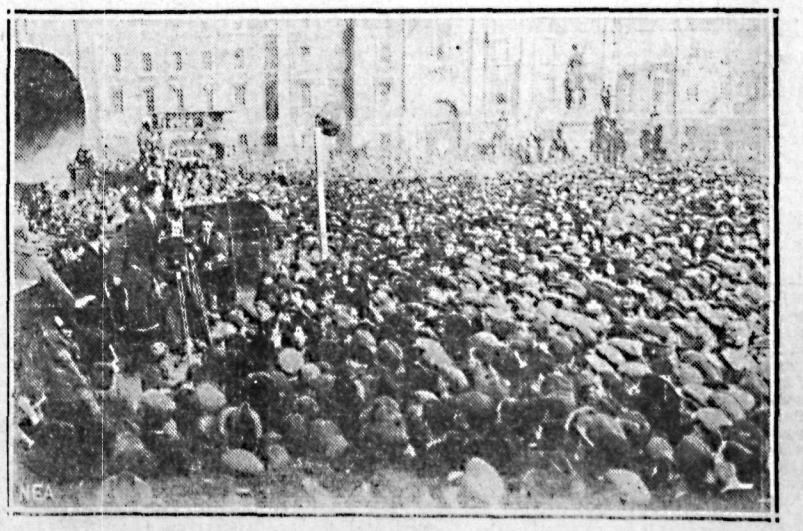
Swirling waves danced through the lounge of the stricken Canadian liner Prince David, where only a few hours before 80 passengers of the ship had been spending gay moments. This remarkable picture was taken while the vessel was hard and fast upon a reef off Bermuda. Passengers and crew took to lifeboats and were transferred in safety to another steamer.

SO THIS IS EASTER!

Miss Gladys Gregory's visit to the New York flower show was profitable to her in one way, she got her new Easter bonnet all ready for the Sunday morning parade. She is shown wearing her hat, which is decorated with a pretty Easter lily.

RECEIVES PROMOTION

Inspector Mark H. Vernon of the R.C.M.P. who has been made superintendent of the whole service at Ottawa, under Major-General J. H. MacBrien. The new superintendent has a splendid overseas record.



The turbulent scene which accompanied the liberation of political prisoners from the Irish Free State's Arbour Hill prison, soon after the election of Eamonn de Valera to the presidency, is vividly portrayed in this picture. Here you see close-packed, jubilant throngs as they listened to an adress by Sean McGuiness, one of the freed prisoners. It was a gala day for the once-illegal, secretly organized Irish Republican army, whose leaders had been jailed under the regime of former President W. T. Cosgrave.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING INSTALMENT:

Feodor Staire, attached the the British embassy in Paris, after serving in Madrid, was wealthy, was determined to make his way in the diplomatic world, was unmarried, and was bored by the modern young girl. On his 36th birthday he was on the Calais train, bound for London, when he met his old friend, Ronald Halkett, who reven months before had married the beautiful Greta Wareham, daughter of Lady Alice Wareham, who lived in Paris. Ronald mentioned his sister-in-law, Toni, but Staire was not interested. Then he was attracted to her when he saw her rescue a little pet dog from beneath a lorry in London, and later when he saw her riding in the Row. Soon after her return to Paris, she went on a visit to the United States. In the meantime, Greta had met the Comte Henri D'Arbiaye, who, although received in the American colony in Paris, did not bear a very good reputation.

INSTALMENT 2

Lucille was silent, her soft little face perplexed and unhappy, and Haze' Beauman, an American girl who had hitherto kept silence, shrugged her shoulders and laughed —not a pleasant laugh for a young girl.

"Toni's right, of course. Look at my family! People say my father and mother were crazy about each other. Undying devotion and all that. Before I was two my father was having an affair with a Spanish friend of the family's, and my mother, getting bored, took to nerves and then to a Chicago millionaire. They've both fought over me—and they're both married again —and are now fighting over their new families. That's your love, Lucille!"

"We don't divorce," Lucille said rather pitifully. "We respect the family in France."

"I know. But how many of your French husbands are faithful. Tell me that!"

"I hate your point of view," Lucille's voice showed sudden indignation, and Toni looked at her through a cloud of cigarette smoke.

"You don't suppose we like it? It's thrust on us. That's all. It's life."

"And you don't believe people can die of a broken heart?"

Broken heart? Lucille, are you 1932 or 1932? Sometimes I wonder. It's more likely hysteria. Of course, they don't. Whatever love used to me, it's not like that any more. Don't be too absurd."

And Lucille did no more.

Out of the big limousine that slid to a standstill outside L'Hermitage, Lady Alice, Toni, and a man, Ronald Halkett, descended, one June evening a week or so after Toni's conversation about love. Lady Alice was dark and beautifully gowned, and her daughter—like, yet unlike her with her fair hair and widest blue-grey eyes under heavy lids, with something of the gamine in her personality was looking lovely in palest pink chiffon.

As they descended, Ronald turned to mother-in-law: "It's a pity Greta couldn't come," he said as they entered the restaurant. "She sent her headache was too bad for her to stir."

"She never used to have headaches," Greta's mother said, vaguely disturbed. "But it was good of you to come, Ronnie. We should have been in a difficulty without you," and, handing her cloak to her daughter, she added: "Take it in Toni, dear, we're late and I see Mrs. Delville waiting with a severe look."

Toni nodded, said casually: "Let her wait, darn her!" and strolled into the cloak-room, where the first person she encountered was the sister in question, who glanced up from her powdering in startled amazement.

"Good heavens, Toni! What are you doin, here?"

"Dining and dancing with a party mother's giving for the Delvilles."

"Mother . . ? But I thought her party was to be at the Meurice?"

"So it was. They changed their minds at the last minute. Ronnie's with us—"

Ronnie's wife stood very still for a moment, her powder-puff uplifted half-way to her face. Then she shrugged her shoulders, put the puff way and spoke carelessly.

"Oh, well—I changed my mind, too. I told Ronnie I wouldn't come because I had a headache. It's better, so I did."

"Well, it's hot enough for anyone to have a headache," Toni agreed. "It's a furnace of a night—I'm tired as a dog—but Ronnie may be mad all the same! I'd advise you to can your party and join us."

She yawned luxuriously, showing two rows of perfect teeth, and Greta looked at her in some disapproval.

"Don't be common, Toni—visiting America hasn't improved you."

"It didn't have much chance. Don't be afraid. I'll not be joining your show, but if you don't want to meet the family and embark on explanations you'd better wait here a minute. They're all on the mat."

"What on earth do you mean?" Greta's voice was sharp, her eyes had a glint behind their dreaminess. "Why shouldn't I want explanations? What is there to explain?"

Toni shrugged and drew a scarlet pencil along her lips.

"You know best, my dear, but if you are still running with the pack you were with yesterday—"

A little insulting gesture completed the sentence, and Greta answered it by turning her back and walking straight out of the cloak-room, whereupon Toni laughed to herself, ran a comb through the bright loose waves of her hair and followed Greta out.

Her mother stood near the head of the steps leading into the restaurant—the centre of a little group of people, and Toni's glance flashed over the faces, and arrested by one of them, paused a moment. She had seen him before—but where or when she could not for the moment remember—and her brows drew together in a little frown of perplexity. Who was he—what was he? A little above middle height, clean-shaven a look of controlled vigorous strength about him, and eyes that reminded her of the clear coldness of ice. Puzzled, but with the outward carless indifference of the set and age, Toni strolled up to the group, was greeted by her mother's guests, and then found herself facing the stranger and heard Lady Alice's voice.

"This is my daughter, Antonia. Toni—Mr. Feodor Staire."

Toni held out her hand, was prepared to be flippant, found herself gazing straight into those steel-grey eyes and, as he took her hand, felt a little shock go through her, a shock that startled her out of her youthful sophistication and made her dumb as they descended the steps together, and followed in Lady Alice's wake across the dancing floor to their table.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

Mrs. Efficiency who takes her job somberly and seriously is precisely the type of woman who is likely to develop a firm, square jaw, the kind that makes you think of a bear trap, which won't win her any beauty laurels or enrich her with affection from family and associates. No need of smiling sweetly right and left, looking vapid and buttery, beaming and bowing, but one certainly should appear to have within one's soul a bit of human feeling, tolerance and sympathy for other mortals. You don't catch glimpses of those sunny elements when you look at the stern countenance of the old gal whose teeth are clinched together and whose jaw line seems to be composed of steel ribs and rivets.

The sleeping porch is the ideal apartment for rest because there a current of fresh air is moving. During sleep breathing is light and when the air is not fr the sleeper is likely to awaken feeling dull and draggy, with complexions grey, eyes heavy, feet dragging. No use buying beauty wares unless you have nine hours of complete relaxation every night.

Long faced girls must not wear the v-cut neck, nor must plump ones select the round one. Cross lines in the way of dress design detract from height. If the figure is tall and thin, it is a sartorial crime to wear a frock that extends beyond the ankle.

Forehead fringes are piquant and sassy, considerable relief after the popularity of the bald forehead with barely a suggestion of eyebrows. Hairdressers are playing up beauty catchers, soft little curls fashioned carefully, place where they do the most good. A rounded bang is a new coiffure whim; it has ends slightly curled and two lines of shadow waves that are joined to the undulations in the coiffure proper, forming a part of the wave pattern. The glorious crown that has been subjected to the permanent process lends itself in a kindly manner to fringes.

Calluses on the soles of the feet are due to pressure; the remedy is in change of shoes. Soak the feet in tepid water for 15 minutes. Dry and rub the hardened flesh with a pumice stone which removes the growth more gently and evenly than will the knife. Several treatments may be necessary before the flesh will take on normal appearance.

White spots on the nails come to those misguide girls who insist upon using a metal instrument for lifting the cuticle from the nail base. The proper implement is the orange wood stick, so pliant and soft that it does not injure the matrix, that new portion of the nail, soft and delicate, hidden away beneath the flesh. No external application will have any effect upon the white spots on human talons.

She's Tried to Forget Him

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

Since I read your column of advice every day, I thought you could help me with the following. I'm in love with a boy who is very nice to me, but he treats other girls better. Since he has fooled around with other girls, I've tried to forget him but I can't. So could you please tell me how to gain his love?

E. W.

"Blessings brighten as they take their flight," a poet warns us. If the young man treats other girls better than he does you, he is probably too sure of you. You've no doubt spoiled him by letting him break dates, and things like that. You may save the situation by showing a little independence of character. Men hate to lose "adoring angels".

But when there are so many nice young men about, I often wonder why girls want to hold men who give them only secondary consideration. In your place, my dear, I'd shuffle the cards and cut for a new deal.

Signatures to Letters

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

The other day I wrote a letter to a man I've known for six months. I signed my letter "Miss Mary Smith" which isn't my name. He wrote me a very nasty and sarcastic letter saying "if you sign your name as Miss, you're likely to sign it that way for the rest of your life, unless you marry some cheap mutt."

Was it wrong to sign miss to my name? I've always done it. I didn't answer my friend's letter, and he hasn't called me since.

Jennie

His letter to you was in worse taste than signing yours "Miss". But while we're on the subject, it is not considered good form to sign letters "Miss", "Mrs.", or "Mister". Always sign them "Mary Smith", "Fannie Jones (if you happen to be married, never "Mrs. Philip Jones")—and "George Robinson", if you're a man. The Miss or Mrs. was supposed to indicate you were writing to an inferior, hence the young man's huffiness.

She's Promised to Change

DEAR MISS AIRFAX:

I have been brought up to think a great deal of my religion, and my parents and I are all very active in the affairs of our church. Now I am engaged to a girl who is a member of another church, and my parents do not approve of my marrying her unless she will promise to change to our belief. She has agreed to do this, but I feel sure she is very unhappy about it. What should I do about this? I want to please my parents, but I don't wish to make anyone do anything of such a serious nature without being convinced it is right

T. F.

My dear young friend, that is just where I cannot advise you. You seem to understand that the question is or that must be work it out between the girl and your own conscience. Put yourself in the place of the girl. Would you be flap: if you should promise to take up her religion? Think well, dear boy, before you decide in this case.

What Shall She Give Him?

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I have been going "steady" with a man from out of town since October. For Christmas he brought me a beautiful set of boudoir lamps and a five year diary with a key to lock it. What I want to know is: Is it proper for a girl to buy her boy friend a present for Easter and what would be suitable? We both like each other.

It's always in good taste to give if the man is fond of reading. Handkerchiefs make a nice present, too, and if you're clever with your needle, you might embroider them with his initials. Neckties make a charming gift. They should be handsome, and you should bear in mind something in which he would look well. Leather goods are always acceptable—photograph frames, collar boxes for travelling, or military hair brushes in a case.

FRUIT DROP COOKIES

NEW DISHES THIS WEEK

Spinach Salad—Stir one-half cup of French dressing into three cups of cold, cooked left-over spinach. Let stand 30 minutes, then divide among individual salad plates lined with lettuce, garnish with one sliced hard-boiled egg, and give each salad a red note by shaking a little paprika over it. This recipe makes four generous servings.

Marshmallowed Strawberries: Crush ripe strawberries, stir them into a little canned marshmallow paste, or fluff, and chill the mixture before serving, piled into sherbet glasses, each portion topped with a whole berry.

Banana Mousse (This will be Saturday night's dinner dessert)—Beat one unseparated egg well and to it add one cup of cold sweet milk. Turn the mixture into the top of a double boiler, to cook over simmering water, then thicken it with one tablespoon of flour previously mixed with a little extra cold milk to form a paste. Cool, before adding a pinch of salt, one-half teaspoon of vanilla extract, and one cup of banana pulp obtained by crushing ripe bananas with a wooden potato masher. Fold in one cup of heavy cream stiffly whipped. Freeze in the automatic refrigerator (or pack in salt and ice for three hours), or till set. If you prefer a slightly different frozen banana dessert, try this one, instead of the plain banana one:

Apricot—Banana Alaska — Soak enough dried apricots overnight to make three-quarters of a cupful when cooked till soft (in water to cover), and then pressed through a wide-meshed sieve. Combine this amount of the fruit with one cup of banana pulp (uncooked). Flavor with three tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, a pinch of salt, and add one-half cup of confectioner's sugar (or sugar to suit individual liking); fold in one cup of heavy cream stiffly beaten. Freeze as above directed.

Scouting—Here There and Everywhere

BY E. R. H.

Among the various activities of scouts the prowess of the Danes in physical development has always been admired. Their magnificent victory over all comers in the tug of war at Copenhagen in 1924 is well known, and now we hear of another proposal which should interest all scouts. A relay race is being arranged from Skagen in North Jutland to Copenhagen on April 22 to 24. This distance is 500 kilometers or over 300 English miles. Five hundred scouts will participate, each scout taking one kilometer. Further details concerning this event will be interesting as we know that Danish scout usually make a good job of their scouting, especially if part of that job happens to include physical culture. Their displays at past Jamborees have been the envy and delight of all nationalities.

This idea of acquiring an island for scouting seems to becoming a habit. The Hudson River Regulating Board have been generous enough to grant Brooks Island, Sacandaga Reservior, in New York State, to American Sea Scouts. The island is of about sixty acres and is called "Scout Island."

American College Scouts—As in most countries scouting in universities is well to the fore in America. It is estimated that the students who join the various universities and colleges in the United States, at least fifty per cent. are scouts. This gives us an idea of the number of scouts aiming for university training. In order to retain the interest of young men in scouting, scout societies have been formed in twenty four American universities and colleges with a membership of over seven hundred. This reminds us that at both Oxford and Cambridge, Rover scouts are very well organized and have done some fine work.

A True Wolf Cub Story—The scene is laid on an English street in the evening. A gang of rather tough looking boys are fooling about beneath a street lamp. A regular rendezous for old country boys in winter evenings. A man passes by and in pulling out his handkerchief a piece of paper falls to the ground. As soon as the man is out of earshot the boys made a dash for it—the winner opens it and reveals—a Treasury note. A consultation takes place and developes into angry words. The boy rushes after the man in spite of remonstraces from his companions. A touch on the man's shoulder—broken words from the breathless boy, "You dropped this." The astonished man holds out a coin but the boy is moving off and calls out rather timidly "Its all right"—I'm a Wolf Cub.

Log Cabin of Remembrance—Less than ten miles from Landon's roar there is a log cabin such as one sees in Canadian backwoods. It has been erected by scouts at Gilwell Park in Epping Forest to the memory of a pioneer scout. Francis Gidney, M. A., or as he used to be called, skipper, was Camp Chief at Gilwell from 1919-1923. It was he who tackled the job of putting into practise the Chief's ideas of training for scoutmasters and in consequence we have today those wonderful courses of training in every part of the world. In those courses at Gilwell Park itself, 9,000 men from 25 nations have participated. Francis Gidney's successor was W. F. Wilson, and it was with the assistance of Don Potter, he who has erected this log cabin whose workmanship at Gilwell is well known when the Chief Scout formally opened the cabin, he walked across the training ground of the Nations, where men of even color, class, creed, and tongue learn the game of scouting and pass it on to their younger brothers at home. This cabin has been built to last. The shingles came from Canada the American Scouts gave the hickory Furniture. Inside are housed Frank Gidney's personal mementos and a library of Scout books. On the rough stone chimney stack, surmounted by a carved scout badge, hang an old muzzle loader and two powder horns Underneath is the inscription "owned and used by General Daniel Montgomery, founder of Danville, Pa.me and annoyance to everybody 1793." Much could be written of this else!" cabin and its surroundings but more could be written about the man in whose memory it stands. He came home after four strenuous years at the war, his health serious by undermined. His songs, jests and stunts at the camp fire were fine and his infectious smile and happy nature will be remembered for many a day by scoutmaster and tenderfoot alike.

Things All Scouts Should Know—A "ship's husband" is a man who takes care of a ship when she is in port.

The word was used frequently by the standing army in India. The word is derived from the Hindustani word Bilayati, and the colloquial meaning of it is "home."

A troop of American Scouts have done a novel good turn. They gave a show at a local theater, but instead of charging cash for admission, each entrant was required to bring some foodstuff to pay for the seat. About 1800 people subscribed, and the food was given to the poor.

FOR CUBS

In the bog went Herbert, heedless;
Thought his sister's warning needless,
Naughty Herbert got a scratch,
Didn't think it mattered much,
Just because it didn't hurt,
Quite forgot about the dirt.
Herbert stayed away from school,
Which was quite against the rule.
Teacher asked us every day,
"Why does Herbert stay away?"
But Herbert on a stretcher lay.
Lack-a-day, ah, lack-a-day,
Horrible was Herbert's woe—
His leg was cut right off, you know.
Cubs would never, never share this fate;
They all know what Herbert learned too late—
That even from a dirty scratch
What dread diseases you might catch.

—From "The Scout."

WHISTLING VS. SMOKING

During the recent newspaper whistling nuisance debate Lord Baden-Powell confessed to being one. "Carrying out the scout law," he said, "when angry, or in difficulty I whistle, and likewise when I am particularly enjoying life and feeling uppish. Also for me whistling provides a substitute for smoking,—for, like a pipe, it gives satisfaction to everybody and annoyance to everybody

Embarrassed By Pimples on Face

Mrs. O. J. Benson, Seal Cove, N.B., writes:—"I was in a very nervous, rundown condition, and not able to do my own work.

My face was severed with pimples which was very annoying and embarrassing to me at times.

After taking three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters I can do my own work, and the pimples have entirely disappeared."

Mrs. Fitzpatrick Tells How Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Made Her Well.

Can Now Run Upstairs.

"I became run-down and unable to do my work for a family of seven," writes Mrs. W. P. Fitzpatrick, Marquis, Sask. "I was told I had anaemia, and I took treatment, but with very little improvement. Finally my sister, who had had the same disease, advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they had done her so much good. I have taken seven boxes. Today I'm well; able to do my own work; no more tired feeling or weak spells. I can run upstairs without puffing. I sleep and eat well. My friends are astonished at my changed appearance and never fail to ask what I'm taking. My reply is: 'Dr. Williams' Pink Pills'."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually create an abundance of new red blood, which is the reason why they have given new vitality and strength to thousands of such nervously exhausted and overtired women. Equally helpful for growing girls. Try them. At your druggist's in the new glass container, 50c a package. 272

HIS HEALTH IMPROVED 40%

After Use of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

If you are constipated, read this letter which Mr. Murray had attested by Notary Public:

"Two months ago I commenced using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to relieve constipation. I am in better health today than I have been in years, due to the use of your wonderful bran. My bowels move regularly, and my general health has improved 40%."—George A. Murray (address upon request).

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN brings two things needed to correct common constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently it clears the intestines of wastes.

How much better to use ALL-BRAN than to abuse your system with pills and drugs—often harmful.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation—in serious cases, with every meal. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal with milk or cream, or in cooking. At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

She wears two-strapped walking sandals, in the approved brown and white that most women are sponsoring on the little islands.

"Unreality" Sermon Subject, Christian Science Church

"Unreality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in First Church of Christ, Scientist, Nelson, on Sunday.

One of the Scriptural texts was "For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us. Because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God" (Romans 8:18,21).

Following the Bible texts, selections were read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scripture" by Mary Baker Eddy, one passage being the following from page 227: "Christian Science raises the standard of liberty and cries: 'Follow me! Escape from the bondage of sickness, sin, and death' Jesus marked out the way. Citizens of the world, accept the 'glorious liberty of the children of God,' and be free!"

MASQUERADE IS HIT, ROSSLAND

ROSSLAND, B. C., April 3—Hilarity was king at Knights of Pythias Friday night, when Rossland Temple No. 4, Pythian Sisters put on their annual masquerade ball. There were a number of original costumes, although a number of the dancers came in ordinary evening dress. Pierrot and Pierret rubbed elbows with stately ladies in the court dress of long ago. "Old Man Depression" on wooden clogs and garments hanging in tatters, was confronted with "Hard Times," who wore raiment equally disreputable, and whose nose gave rise to suspicions that he had been unduly familiar with John Barleycorn. Sailors were much in evidence, and a convict in the striped garb of Sing Sing danced gaily along apparently oblivious of the fact that Constable McKay was an interested spectator at the door. All stratas of society were represented, chefs, ladies' maids, nurses and ballet dancers mingled merrily together, and many were the "ohs and ahs" when some of the marks were removed. The prizes were awarded as follows: Best dressed lady, Miss Dixie Edwards, "Madame Butterfly;" best dressed gentleman, Charles Ward, "Pierrot"; best comic lady, Miss Molly Simcock, "Mama Doll"; best comic gentleman, Oscar Anderson, "Old Man Depression"; most original lady, Miss Carrie, "Pierret"; most original gentleman, Fred Fredlund, "Hard Times." The judges were Mrs. William T. Turner, Mrs. Roy Stevens and Henry Singer.

A Cottonwood Fish Hatchery

The restoration of the game fishing resources in Kootenay will be stimulated if the department of fisheries is prepared now to accept the offer of the city of Nelson to allow Cottonwood creek to be used for the hatching of spawn and the development of fry.

About two years ago, the department entered into negotiations with the city with a view to securing the right to use the creek for this purpose, but at that time the city of Nelson could not agree to the proposal, because Cottonwood water was still being used occasionally to increase the supply of domestic water from other sources, that is, from Five Mile.

Cottonwood water is no longer being used, and there is nothing to prevent the fish hatchery being established on Cottonwood.

Silver and Imperial Conference

The proposal in the provincial legislature of Capt. James Fitzsimmons, M.P.P. for Kaslo-Slocan, that the silver question should be taken up at the Imperial Economic conference, should receive support not only from those directly interested in the mining industry but from everyone interested in the development of Canada.

As a result of existing low prices for silver, very few silver mines are operating at a profit, and lead, zinc and other mines which in normal times have a valuable by-product in silver are also seriously handicapped.

British Columbia is a large producer of silver, and has a very special interest in the question.

The Imperial Economic conference will have before it a vast amount of business, but there seems no reason why a sub-committee should not be appointed to delve into the silver question with the hope of establishing some programme which would bring about a betterment in market conditions. The monetization of silver is hardly within the bounds of practical policy, but there is no reason that the demand for silver should not be increased by intensive advertising of the advantages of the use of silver utensils, plate and so on. Nor does there seem any sound reason why the silver-producing countries of the world should not use more silver in the manufacture of currency.

Reducing Saskatchewan Legislature

The government of Saskatchewan is following a sound policy in reducing the number of seats in the legislature. It proposes to eliminate 11 constituencies. Such a course will not only result in substantial direct economies, but in many indirect economies, and will facilitate rather than retard business-like debating of legislation in the provincial parliament.

But there is a matter which the Anderson government in Saskatchewan will have to explain to the public of that province. The list of constituencies to be abolished, with the names of the members, and the parties which they support, is as follows:

Notuku, A. L. Grant, Liberal;
Estevan, N. L. McLeod, Liberal;
Wynnard, W. H. Paulson, Liberal;
Lloyd-Minster, Robert Gordon, Liberal;
Saltcoats, A. Lopston, Liberal;
Cumberland, D. U. Hall, Liberal;
Ile a la Crosse, Jules Marion, Liberal;
Jackfish Lake, D. M. Finlayson, Liberal;
North Qu'Appelle, Anton Huck, Liberal;
Popestone, W. J. Patterson, Liberal;
Vonda, James Hogan, Liberal.

Every one of these constituencies is a Liberal seat, and while this measure of redistribution may not be a gerrymander, it will look very much like it to outsiders, and possibly very much more like it to those intimately associated with politics in Saskatchewan.

It is to be hoped that Premier Anderson does not propose to revert to the questionable political methods which under a succession of Liberal administrations made Saskatchewan a by-word throughout Canada. The election of the present Saskatchewan Conservative government was to a very large extent an expression of revolt by the people of Saskatchewan against the skullduggery of the past.

Sousa's Reward

Shortly before his death John Philip Sousa prepared an article on "The Rewards of the Musician," in which he dwelt upon the satisfaction felt by one who could thrill a vast audience with his stirring melodies. This article recently appeared in the Philadelphia Public Ledger and it reveals the egoism as well as the altruism of this master artist.

Sousa writes that "there is nothing in the gift of the government, from the office to sheriff to the presidency itself that I would have accepted for what I have been doing." He tells of the joy in the mind of the musician who gives comfort and inspiration to the multitude, saying that while the lawyer strives to punish the criminal, the judge must render sentence, the doctor must work at the bedside of the sick and the minister is surrounded by sorrow, the musician adds joy to the world. From the knowledge of this he extracts extreme satisfaction such as is rarely felt by those of other professions.

But while a certain spirit of egoism is revealed by such complacent utterances as these and others in the article, and people might smile at them were they based on vain pretense, no objection will be made when they come from a Sousa. Cellini and Courbet tossed bouquets at themselves. Shakespeare expressed the highest opinion of himself in his sonnets. Robert Louis, Stevenson wrote: "I know what pleasure is for I have done good work."

It's harder now for Canadians to enter the United States, but it's easier to restrain the impulse to go.

A month ago my car looked swell,
I drove with carefree pride;
It wasn't new, but it would do,
And I was satisfied.
But now that old bus makes me blush,
It seems to crawl and creek;
It rattles and is full of flaws,
And looks like some antique.
It's still the same old car, I'm sure,
It can't have altered so,
I guess it's me that's different now—
I've seen the new cars go.

The Absent-Minded Professor's Daughter.

Mr. Wiggen Delves Into the Reals of Money and Banking

To the editor of The Nelson Daily News:

Sir: Mr. Brackmann Dybwad, a Norwegian lecturer, say: "That the last 17 years financial war in Europe is the result of a handful of unconscious citizens playing with human imagination." He compares the world today with "A great hydraulic plant operated by a handful of crazy and hysterical children."

And, "That when the Creator constructed the waterfalls, he intended that they should deliver energy to serve and lighten the burden for you and me, whereas our politicians have reversed our Creator's intention and made you and me serve the water falls."

I wonder, Mr. editor, if this Creator's intention will be reversed on our Beauharnois enterprise also?

Mr. Dybwad further says: "That we are not yet advanced so far, that there is not one single financial man in Europe today, who knows what he is doing."

Mr. Editor, there are more truths in the above quotations than I dare admit, for fear of being ostracized by the financial world, as well as by our politicians.

Every time I read in the papers of a succesful negotiation—either by our provinical or dominion government—for a few million dollars loan from our financial corporations or or private citizens, a shiver runs through the whole frame of my conscious body, knowing as I do, the human miseries, that must follow in the wake of such an insane financial system. For not one dollar is obtainable through this source—either by the provincial or the dominion government without first mortgaging the energy from you and me, our children, grand and great-grandchildren, besides guaranteeing the collection of same, even at the point of the muzzle—if need be—

But, that is not all! Our present monetary system compels our government to collect in human energy—transfered into dollars and cents—twice the amount borrowed from our monetary-lenders, before the account can be settled in full.

And that does not include interests.

If you doubt this statement Mr. Citizens, let me give you a concrete example, that will arouse you from the hypnotic stupor, that our present banking and monetary system wield over us all.

We must first realize that capital or money now circulating is nothing but accumulated spent energy, expressed in dollars and cents, whether it is stamped on metallic coins or printed on paper.

As we are all aware, our Prime Minister R. B. Bennett negotiated a $20,000,000 worth of currency last fall. So as to enable him to utilize a few thousand jobless citizens—listed as unemployed.

These citizens were employed to deliver energy to the amount of their wages for each day; and said energy to be applied for the construction and improvements of our public highways.

We now observe that these $20,000,000 worth of currency are all or nearly all spent as intended. The jobless citizens delivered their energy—left it on the roads—got their pay and departed. The government, the representative of the citizens, got the new and improved highways for convenient use by its citizens. The transactions between the government and the jobless citizens appears to be closed. But is it? No! No! No!

The money lenders, who hold the mortgage on the citizens (the jobless citizens are also citizens) for this $20,000,000 worth of currency had not been paid, they want their money back. The government has no money, nor has it got the franchise to issue any money. It is helpless, and so has to call upon its citizens to relieve it from its dillemma, by asking them to deliver to the government another 20 million dollars worth of energy—without pay—so the government can square its account with the money lenders for the $20,000,000 worth of currency borrowed.

If your brain is not befagged Mr. Citizens, you will discover, that you have to deliver $40,000,000 worth of energy for $20,000,000 worth of public highways. And that does not include interest. Under present economic conditions, we will do well if we can square this account with our money lenders within the next 10 or 15 years, and that will add another $20,000,000 worth of energy from you and me to deliver without compensation—making a grand total of $60,000,000 worth of human and mechanical energy to pay for $20,000,000 worth of public highways.

I note, that some of you rise to protest, that the workers, who provided the second third allotments of $20,000,00 each, also received pay. Quite true, my friends; but you fail to realize that the government representatives came in through the back doors and collected it from you and your employer in the invisible form of taxes excise and import duties.

Will this be sufficient to open the eyes of our citizens to our present insane banking and monetary system? Or, do we have to run the gauntlet over the course of strikes revolutions and war?

I have revealed the only sane and practical banking and monetary system yet proposed namely: The nationalization of all the banking, loaning and exchange organizations within the nation into one national organization to be known as "The Governor of Nation's Economies" with a cabinet to be invested with the function of receiving, protecting, supervising, administrating and converting human and mechanical energies—expressed in dollars and cents into liquid assets on the books kept by the governor on nation's economies; the depositors then to issue their own cheques or denomination bearing the owner's (issuer's) picture, fingerprints, name and serial number, which becomes legal tender soon as delivered to the bank for entering as liquid assets on the depositors account.

Their processes are more fully explained in paragraphs two, three, four, five and six in a previous article in The Nelson Daily News under date of September 10, 1931.

Am I wrong Mr. Editor, or was it Prof. Osler that coined the phrase "If I could control the energy in one ounce of atomic matters, I could raise the German fleet from Scapa Flow."

Now, Mr. editor, I maintain that my proposed banking an monetary system will enable our civilization to control the atomic matters in men and mechanical energies, that will lift humanity out of the vortex of economic miseries.

A nation with the proposed banking and monetary system will have no kadnappers, no racketeers, no thieves, robbers or murderers for money; for the simple reason there will be no money to be found before they made it themselves.

May I ask our prime minister to send men to coming "Empire Economic Conference at Ottawa next July, who are sane and not insane on our banking and monetary solution—Bankers capitalists and money lenders must be excluded if you want results.

Their brains have been soaked and saturated with our present banking and monetary system till it will be impossible to dry them out or convert them in the short time before the conference opens.

It affords me great pleasure to tell His Honor the Prime Minister that he as at least one representative in the house of commons, who is sane on the banking and monetary question, namely William Irvine, M. P., judging by his writings and speeches.

I have just half finished reading "Industry and Humanity" by W. L. Mackenzie King. The book reveals the author's keen versatile and penetrating reasoning power of rare quality; but, Mr. King has not yet mastered the problem of economic banking and currency, but under the tutorage of Mr. Irvine I think it should not take him long.

As for you, my dear premier, I would not be in your shoes, if you gave half of Canada. And I am only a mortgaged plastered monocyle in our nation's organic life.

I can not truthfully admit that I am particularly attached to any ism—neither socialism, communism, liberalism nor conservative-ism. I find good, noble and lovely women and men among all of them; But not one tenth of one per cent have the slightest conception of the function that money and banking should perform.

Kindly allow me a little more space, Mr editor, so I can close this article with a quotation by Zona Gale in the Colliers of March 12, 1932. It will give another angle of our monetry system attested to by lawyer, a nerve specialist and college president, it reads:

"Sex?" said a big divorce lawyer wth a cynical shrug, "That doesn't cause most of the split-ups. It's money. That's where the quarrels begin—making it, investing it, splashing around with it. Believe me I know."

"Overwork?" the nerve specialist smiled a bit pityingly, "No, that isn't why they break. It's worry. Generally financial sometimes it can't be helped; but a lot of them go on acting as though money grew on trees, till somebody comes along with an ax. Then they start quibbling."

"Lack of ability?" The college professor shook his head. "You're quite mistaken. Most of our failures are directly traceable to money problems—too much money, too little money, or no clear understanding of the place of money in the collegiate scheme of things. The worst of it it, that most of them go out as they came in, never realizing why it happened."

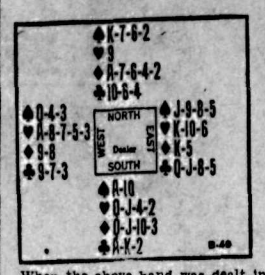
Auction and Contract Bridge

By the World's Leading Authority, MILTON C. WORK

PLAYING FOR GAME



When the above hand was dealt in a game of Contract bridge, South with a count of 18 and at least one stopper in every suit, bid two No Trumps. West passed, and North bid three No Trumps. Had the game been Auction, South would have secured an uncontested contract at one No Trump.

West led the Five of Hearts, which East won with the King. East returned the Ten. South covered with the Jack and West cleverly permitted it to win the trick. West knew that South held the Queen, and probably one of the two unplaced small cards as well. West reasoned that his own hand held no likely entry, and that game could not be saved unless East held an entry and another Heart.

South, winning trick 2 with the Jack of Hearts, paused to "take stock." In addition to the Heart trick already won he could count as sure only two Clubs, two Spades and one Diamond. The three other tricks he needed must be established in Diamonds. He therefore led the Queen of Diamonds and took the finesse. East won with the King and led his last Heart. West, with the Ace-hight-Seven over South's Queen-Four, ran three tricks in that suit. East and West won in all, four Hearts and a Diamond—setting the contract one trick. Should Declarer have been able to make game on this hand against perfect defense, despite the luckless Heart distribution.

THE CORRECT PLAY

South took ock a bit too late. West's lead of the Five of Hearts indicated a suit of four or five cards. If West and East each held four Hearts, Declarer should not lose more than three Hearts and one Diamond; even if West held five Hearts and East the King of Diamonds, perfect play would make the contract.

When East leads the Ten of Hearts to trick 2, South should play the Four instead of the Jack; this postpones the play of the Heart suit proper until a time when East will have no more Hearts to lead. West will be forced to win the third round, or to lose his Ace. East, after winning the Diamond finesse, must return a club; and Declarer will take four Diamonds, two Clubs, two Spades and one Heart.

Now Is Not the Time to Bring Settlers to B.C.

To the editor of The Nelson Daily News:

Sir: It must be a sign of either more optimism, or else of the lack of a better subject to see a large space in today's editorial page devoted to the subject of British immigration. I have read the pamphlet on this subject with much interest. It seems that even after the many failures of various immigration schemes which have been tried since the war, there are still people who believe it is possible to transfer, considerable numbers of persons from English towns and instal them in Canadian homesteads to the mutual advantage of England and Canada.

I think such people are 50 years behind the times, for the modern Englishman is essentially a city dweller. Placed out on a farm or homestead he is lost, like a fish out of water. It does not take him long to drift to the nearest city, or, if he has the friends, to return quickly home again. This is not his fault. The same would happen to any other city dweller placed in the same circumstances anywhere. It is human nature.

I se according to the pamphlet that old country is expected to foot all of the expenses. She has spent thousands of pounds on such schemes. With what results? Today hundreds of her costly emigrants are arriving at her ports weekly, either with the last of their savings spent on transportation, or else kicked out by the dominion government.

Even if emigration schemes were successful what has England to gain by financing emigrants anyway? I see in the latest news that the already low British birth rate continues to steadily decline. It does not appear to be long before she will be losing rather than gaining population.

As for stocking the dominion with British blood, and traditions etc., I have yet to find any difference between a native Canadian of no British parentage and one of English descent.

By all means let us offer all the opportunities we can to Britishers who wish to settle here, but for God's sake don't let us try to coerce them to come over here to add to the already surplus production of farm produce.

ABNORMAL BEHAVIOR

Some months ago I spoke about the wonderful work now being done in mental hospitals whereby, of every ten that enter for treatment 6 come out cured. And the cure in a large number of cases is due to the correction of some physical defect such as infected teeth tonsils, ear, appendix, chronic constipation.

By having dentists and general practitioners on the staff of these mental hospitals, besides the mental specialists and using team work, as it is called, these brilliant results have been obtained.

In former days, as I remember them, and I lived opposite one of the largest mental institutions in the country the inmates were all considered "crazy" and all but a very few were kept locked up in small wards or individual cells.

Now, however, mental ailments, even what is known as insanity are simply looked upon as "behavior" conditions, the individuals simply failing to behave in a normal or proper manner.

Accordingly this behavior is investigated and a search made for any one or a number of conditions that may be responsible for the abnormal behavior of the patient.

If there are no physical defects such as mentioned above, or if these physical defects are corrected and the behavior remains unchanged months afterward, a further search must be made.

Another cause for abnormal behavior has been found in one or other the ductless glands of the body-thyroid, in neck, adrenal above kidneys, pituitary at base of skull, and so forth. Where these glands are not doing their work properly there frequently happens unnatural or abnormal actions on the part of the individual such as extreme irritability, great depression, carelessness of manner or in dress, fears of various kinds, or other conditions of behavior that render the individual unsuited to his usual business or family relations.

Dr. A. R. Timme states that not only may a change in these endocrine glands produce and emotional state, but emotional strain over prolonged period may definitely affect the structure and working of the glands.

You can thus see that if all cases of mental disability are studied from these various standpoints and are treated accordingly a great many "peculiar" individuals are bound to be restored to a condition where they will become normal members of the community again.

SUDBURY WOLF PACK WIN TO TIE IN PLAYOFF

Take a 2-1 Victory From the Winnipeg Monarchs in Second Game

MONARCHS WON FIRST 4 TO 3

Match Goes Into Overtime; Fight Marks High Point in Play

WINNIPEG, Man., April 2—(By Elmer Dulmage, Canadian Press staff writer.) Sudbury's wounded Wolves snarled tonight at the purple door that leads to junior hockey's throne-room.

While two regulars looked on, out o the battle with injuries, the Wolves poured a relentless fire into the full-strength ranks of Winnipeg Monarchs here Saturday night and won the second game of the Memorial cup finals 2 to 1 in overtime. The deciding game will be played Monday night.

Six-thousand partisan fans who crowded every corner of the amphitheater rink to cheer on Monarchs to the Canadian championship stayed to pay tribute to a fighting, game brigade that wouldn't be beaten—and wasn't. Smooth-haired Adelard Lafrance, polished Sudbury left winger, drove in the winning goal after two minutes and 20 seconds of the 10-minute overtime period.

WITHOUT McINNIS AND SMITH

Monarchs won the first game of the series Thursday night 4-3.

Wolves struggled through nearly the whole game without Bob McInnis, stocky little defencemann and Nakina Smith, sparkplug of the first string forward line. McInnis was out of action with an injured arm, received in the first series game Thursday, and Smith went down and out early in the first period when he collided with Pinkie Davie, Monarch defence star.

Smith face was jolted and the jaw badly sprained. Both he and McInnis will be in the game tomorrow night, Coach Sammy Rothebild announced today.

The eastern champions fought cautiously, then desperately and finally sensationally to whip the bulkier Monarchs, Memorial cup defenders. Anthony (Ant) Healy played a superlative game in the Sudbury nets to hold off the western titlists and his defence Jack McInnis and Red Porter, stood up manfully to the job of stopping the fleet Winnipeg attacks.

Rough for a period and a half, the game settled down to a drama of straight hockey after a wild free-for-all in the second stanza. George Brown, 180-pound Monarch left-winger and Adelard Lafrance came to blows and started a general fist fight in which every player on both squads, with the exception of the goal-tenders, took part.

PICK OPPONENTS AND SOCK

Lafrance's stick cut Brown across the face as the two fought for the puck at center ice. Brown pulled off his gloves and went after the Sudbury forward with his fists. Without delay their team-mates dropped sticks and took sides, picked opponents and started to throw punches. It was several minutes before police quelled the player riot. Lafrance and Brown each drew a five-minute penalty.

The Wolves had gone into the lead a few minutes before. The first period had been scoreless. Toe Blake, crafty kid who stepped into Nakina Smith's place and did everything the first-line center was supposed to do, made the play. He wormed past the Monarch defence and while Davie and Shewan hung to him slipped a pass over to Gordon Grant. Grant hung the puck high in the netting behind Goalie Rice-Jones.

With the end of the third period less than three minutes away, big Cam Shewan slammed in the tying counter.

WOLVES BORE IN

But the Wolves came back in the overtime session with a dazzling drive that gave Monarchs no chance. For the full 10 minutes they swarmed inside the Winnipeg blue line, checked back on every rush the Manitobans attempted and returned to push more rubber at Rice-Jones.

Even after Lafrance had won the game, they kept up the pressure. The northerners had far more stamin aleft than their foes. Red Porter paved the woy for a game-winning counter. He stickhandled between Davie and Shewan and passed to Adelard Lafrance as the wingman speeded in. Lafrance sizzled a short shot into the cage.

Norm Yellowlees, peer of junior center men in the west, carried most of the punch in the Monarch attack. Larry Lafance checked Yellowlees closely in the third period and thereby spoiled the effectiveness of the first Winnipeg front line.

Shewan stood out as the other Monarch star. He and Davie provided Rice-Jones with good protection and the 188-pound speedster led the successful third-period assault that brought a tying goal.

SUDBURY NET MAN GOOD

Healy went to his knees when Shewan and Yellowlees combined and the Sudbury netman gave an amazing exhibition for the last 10 minutes of the first period when Monarchs peppered him from far and near. Only on odd occasions could the Wolves break away.

The western drive went on at the start of the second period. Healy made a great save as Davie shot from a few feet out and he took Yollowlees' shot as he lay outstretched on the ice.

The Sudbury front line found an opening just before the five-minute mark and Grant scored on Blake's pass. The Wolves more than held their own for the next few minutes and the play became rough. Sticks were high and bory-checking general. When Brown and Adelard Lafrance started to trade blows, the rest were ready for some fistic combat.

BOTH MISS GOAL OPPORTUNITIES

The fight seemed to take most of the pugilistic ardor out of all the players. It was clean and fast hockey for the rest of the way. Yellowlees was wide with a shot that might have tied the score and as the period ended Larry Lafrance shot weakly when he had a golden opportunity to give the Wolves another goal.

The champions from the east laid down a defencive barrier in the third session. But Monarchs battered it with an assault that was sustained through 17 minutes and Shewan's goal finally sent the game into overtime.

Nothing Monarchs could do was sufficient to stave off the Wolves in the extra session. Lafrance's counter culminated a two-minute rally that seemed bound to succeed. The Wolves very nearly added another when Blake stickhandled in close but Rice-Jones blacked his shot.

McGraw Still Good at Curve Ball

By AL DEMAREE

John McGraw, a trifle more mellow and a little less fiery and aggressive than he was in his old Baltimore days and early years with the Giants, is still doing a very good "master minding" job on the bench.

McGraw is a great believer in the efficiency of the curve ball with runners on base and is often referred to by players on other clubs as the best "curve ball pitcher" on the Giants' staff.

During important series and games Manager McGraw often personally directs just the type of ball should be thrown each opposing batter. This directing of the entire game himself, reached such proportions at one time that certain pitchers and catchers on his club used private signs with each other. McGraw would flash his sign, the catcher would give it to the pitcher, but he would also give his private sign, ignoring McGraw's orders completely. Arthur Nehf and Earl Smith were one Giant battery I know did this.

If everything turned out right, well and good—but Art and Earl had to think up new and original alibis every time their judgment went wrong.

MAPLE LEAFS ELIMINATE THE MAROONS FROM STANLEY CUP

Take a 3-2 Overtime Victory to Win Round 4-3; Earn Right to Meet New York Rangers for Highest Hockey Emblem

TORONTO, Ont., April 3. (By Alex Bell, Canadian Press staff writer.)—Relentless speed and unyielding stamina gave Toronto Maple Leafs a 3 to 2 overtime victory over Montreal Maroons in the thrill-packed second game of their home-and-home total-goal Stanley cup series here Saturday night, winning the round 4 to 3. The Leafs earned the right to meet Lester Patrick's clever New York Rangers in a three-out-of-five game series for the prized Stanley cup, emblem of world professional hockey supremacy.

Defeat of the mighty Maroons obliterated Montreal's last hope of retaining the historic trophy, held for the last two years by Canadiens, intra-city rivals of Maroons. Outshot two to one in every period except the first, and outskated throughout, the big red team went down fighting to the last ounce of strength only conceding the game after 17 minutes and 59 seconds of overtime.

DAY AND GRACIE OUTSTANDING

Overshadowing all else in the Leafs' victory was the performance of Clarence "Hap" Day, sterling defence player and young Bob Gracie, fast-skating left winger. Day, with less than 10 minutes left to play in the third period, scored the tying goal for the Leafs and Gracie, with the able assistance of Andy Blair rangy center, scored a goal that ended the game in a Leaf triumph.

The game became a sudden death affair as a result of the 1-1 tie in the first game at Montreal. Both teams played careful hockey with the first period, the Maroons' best chance for victory, played on fairly even terms. For the balance of the game, the Leafs had a wide margin, only exceptionally brilliant work by Flat Walsh holding the Toronto men at bay during the regular playing time.

EACH LEADS FOR TIME

Each team had a turn at leading by one goal in the regulation time and each gained it by a freak goal. "Red" Horner in the fourth minute of the first period, looped a shot over the crouching figure of Flat Walsh into the cage. Wilcox was in the penalty box at the time. The Leafs were massed on the attack and Horner's lift from just inside the blue line and screened by several players entered the net without Walsh seeing the puck as it came toward him. He was the most surprised man in the building when play halted and he tourned around to discover the puck in the net behind him.

Maroons got that goal back in the second period. Smooth working Jimmie Ward scored the goal from a scramble started by Baldy Northcott. Northcott shot from the left wing. Chabot saved and fell to the ice to stop Hooley Smith's try for the rebound. Ward swept in and poked the rubber in.

SECOND FREAK GOAL

The second freak goal came in the second minute of the third period. Hooley Smith grabbed the puck at center ice, skated a few strides toward the Leaf blue line and then let fly at the net. The puck glanced into the corner off Chabot's skate and the goal put the Maroons ahead for the first time in the series.

At the half way mark "Hap" Day launched his spectacular effort. From his own defence he streaked at top speed through the Maroon team in a dazzling exhibition of top-speed stickhandling. Within 10 feet of Walsh where he let loose a fast rising shot the goalkeeper could not stop.

GRACIE SCORES FROM BLAIR

The leg-weary Maroons played for the breaks in the overtime. Though each team had a man advantage, the Leafs twice and Maroons once, the final goal came with both at full strength. Blair got the puck at center, swept in on the defence, shot a quick pass over to Gracie, Gracie steadied then drove the puck hard into the corner of the net.

THE LINEUP

Maroons—Walsh; L. Conacher, Wilcox; Smith; Ward; Northcott. Subs—Starr, Stewart, Seibert, Trottier, Brydson, Haynes, McVicar, Phillips.

SERVICE RUGBY TOURNAMENT FINAL
Army 21, Air Force 4 (at Twickenham).

VICTORIA, April 3—Unleashing a dazzling burst of speed in the last half of the last quarter of the feature game at the Victoria high school gym last night, the Harmony Quintette piled up 12 points to down Kamloops 23 to 13 in one of the fastest contests seen on the local boards this season. Tonight's victory gave the local aggregation full claim to British Columbia intermediate A basketball title for a second year.

Aristocratic...

Fastidious in her choice of books, clothing, jewelry and companions as one "born to the purple" has a right to be... her choice of cigarettes is Dixie, too, for they are the true aristocrats of cigarettedom... cooler, sweeter, milder and more fragrant... Virginias at their best.

ROSSLAND YOUNG PEOPLE AGREE IN MOCK PARLIAMENT

ROSSLAND, B.C., April 3. — The Young People's socie' of the United church turned their regular meeting into a 'mock parliament," and enjoyed a very pleasant evening in addition to learning many valuable points on parliamentary procedure, etc. "Premier" Jack McDonald was ably supported, while Charles F. Daly, leader of His Majesty's loyal opposition, had a strong bodyguard. The first bill brought before the "house" was one providing that owing to the present depression, all single men holding jobs should be replaced by married men. This was strenuously opposed by the opposition, who protested that depriving a man, whether married o. single, of his job, was helping t. destroy his morale and would create an impossible situation once the depression was over. The government contended that unless the married men were given work, growing children would not be properly clothed and fed, and would not be fitted to take their place in the world when the time came. After a vigorous discussion, the house divided and the bill passed. The next bill provided for a subsidy from the British Columbia government for the timber interests in the province, owing to present conditions. This was passed in spite of strong arguments to the contrary on the part of the opposition. The third bill which would have compelled radio owners to pay a $10 tax in one year, was found to be ultra vires, as matters pertaining to radio can only be dealt with by the federal government and "parliament." adjourned.

CHILDREN TAKE PART IN EASTER SERVICE, ROBSON

ROBSON, B. C., April 3.—A special Easter service was held at the ch rch on Easter Sunday, the church being decorated with Easter lilies and daffodils.

The service was arranged by the Sunday school, with the children taking prominent parts in the singing and recitations. The C. G. I. T. girls also sang a hymn. Rev. A. F. McClarmid gave an interesting address to the children. At the close of the service certificates were given for perfect attendance, those receiving them being Jean and Rex Ballard, Alec and Margaret Miller, John, George and Dick Gibson, and Frank Foxlee. Every available seat in the church was occupied.

At the close of the service some of the flowers were paced on the graves of the old members, also some were sent to Ted Foxlee, who is still in the Nelson Hospital.

Edgewood Institute Stages Dance in Aid Othea Scott Fund

EDGEWOOD, B. C., April 3.—The Edgewood Women's institute held a hard times dance at Edgewood hall on Easter Monday in aid of the Othea Scott fund. Owing to the inclement weather, the attendance was not up to the average, and consequently the finances suffered.

Mrs. J. Klein, Dr. Kelso and W. F. Job left on Monday's boat for Renata to attend the funeral of Miss F. Koch, who died on Saturday.

Mrs. Walter Wright arrived on Monday's boat to pay a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Williams, "Hillcrest."

Mrs. Claude Rollins and family, Fauquier, paid a visit to Mr. and Mrs. J. Rollins on Monday.

Court of Revision Held at Greenwood

GREENWOOD, B. C., April 3.—Judge Guernsey of Penticton presided at the court o. revision which was held in Greenwood on Tuesday. J. Hope, the provincial assessor, was also present. There was a large number of applications for reduction of assessments on property.

NEW YORK LIST MAINTAINS ITS LOWER TREND

ax Bill Causing Apprehension; Carrier Issues Low

NEW YORK, N.Y., April 3. — However far the tax bill may be from its final form, Wall street yesterday labored under the apprehensions created by the house version of that measure, security prices maintained their downward course.

Except in rails, a few specialities and numerous preferreds, losses of stocks were rather moderate, even before short covering coincident with wheat's strength reduced declines. But the carrier issues, breaking to the lowest level since the nineties, provided an unfavorable technical indication which doubtless added to the speculative fraternity's depressed state of mind.

Although trees seemed to be upper most in the market's thoughts, brokers attributed renewed rail selling to uncertainties arising from the interstate commerce commision's apparent opposition to granting loans through national credit channels for the purpose of meeting bank notes. There have been assurance that no interest defaults would be allowed, but the differences of opinion over this contentious point appear to have given rise to some uneasiness.

UNION PACIFIC HAS BAD BREAK

Extreme losses in rails ranged from fraction to 4 points. Union Pacific had the maximum break, although its drop was just halved by the late recovery. Santa Fe was down 2¾ at the worst. A further reduction in its dividend at next week's meeting is believed possible. New York Central slipped to 22½ and finished at 23¼, off 1¾. Lackawanna, Southern Pacific, Missouri Pacific preferred, New Haven and Baltimore & Ohio showed net losses of a point or so.

American Telephone sold under 10, but was down only a small fraction for the day. American Can, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, North American, Standard Gas Corn Products, Consolidated Gas and Loew's closed about a point lower, while net losses in U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Electric, Westinghouse, American Tobacco "B" and General Motors were more moderate. Wrigley, Case, General Railway Signal, National Lead, Bethlehem preferred, American Smelting 7 per cent preferred and American Can preferred yielded 2 to nearly 4. Eastman and Coca Cola steadied after yesterday's weakness. Sales totalled 1,045,520 shares.

TORONTO STOCK IS MODERATE IN PRICE DECLINES

TORONTO, April 3 (CP).—Declines on the Toronto stock exchange market moderated Saturday, although the close of the short session saw losses in a substantial majority over gains. International Nickel and Bell Telephone made new lows. New York was irregularly lower.

International Nickel was off ⅛ to close at a new low of 7⅞, with 835 shares sold. Smelters was up 1 at 47, and Coast Copper, a subsidiary, was off 10c to $1.45 after touching a new low of $1.25.

In the oil list, B.A. was unchanged, Imperial was up ¼ to 9¼, Pete was up ⅛, and McColl-Frontenac was off ⅜ to close at another new low of 7⅞. In the base group, Bell dropped to 101½, closed unchanged; Brazilian was up ¼ to 10⅞; and C.P.R. at 14¾ was up ¼. Ford "A", with 870 shares out, was up ¾ at 12. All Walker issues were unchanged, and Distillers-Seagrams was off ⅛.

Sales aggregated 6784 shares, and of 41 issues appearing, 7 closed with gains, 17 with losses and 17 unchanged.

EIGHT NEW LOW CHALKED UP ON MONTREAL LIST

Concludes a Week of Continual Losses; Nickel Most Active

MONTREAL, Que., April 3 (CP)—Eight new lows for the year or longer were recorded on Saturday as the Montreal stock exchange concluded a week of continual losses.

International nickel, McColl-Frontenac, Abitibi preferred, Winnipeg Electric and Bell Tellephone were leading issues to reach new low territory .In the case of Bell Telephone the day's recession amounted to four points. The majority of price changes, however, were fractional.

With renewed selling in New York apparently the deciding factor in upsetting the local exchange, ten issues closed with losses while two advanced. Brazilian Traction, third in activity with sales of 431 shares, edged up ⅛ to 10⅜ and Consolidated Smelters, Friday's weak spot was a point higher at 47.

Nickel led in activity with sales of 1390 shares. It eased ⅛ to the new low of 7⅞. Canadian Pacific railway, with sales of 1085, lost ⅜ at 14⅜.

Other losses included Abitibi preferred, off ⅜ at 5⅞; Fraser, off 25 cents at 75 cents; McColl-Frontenac, off 1-2 at 8; National Steel Car, off 1 at 10; Quebec Power off ⅛ at 16 1-2; St. Lawrence Corporation, off 5 cents at 60 cents; and Winnipeg Electric, off ¾ at 3¾.

Total sales were 5800 shares. In the bond division sales were 15,800.

Sterling closed at $4.1783 and United States money at a premium of 11⅛ pre cent.

DAMAGE TO CROPS SHOW RESULT IN FLURRY OF BUYING

Chicago Wheat Prices Make Maximum Jump of Three Cents

CHICAGO, Ill., April 3. (By John P. Boughan, Associated Press market editor.)—Rapid widening of the areas of crop damage complaints, together with broader export demand hoisted wheat prices quickly yesterday and led the flurry to general buying.

A maximum jump of 3 cents a bushel for wheat ensued, with the market closing the day's tiptop figures. Given special impetus to the upward flight of values was a further increase of the French Import quota to 45 per cent, emphasizing indications that the available supply of breadstuffs abroad had been radically reduced as compared with the total a year ago.

Wheat closed buoyant, 2¾-3 cents higher than Friday's finish, corn ⅝-1 up, oats, ¼-½ advanced, and provisions unchanged to 15 cents down.

TORONTO MINING MARKET TRAVELS TO LOWER LEVEL

TORONTO, April 3 (CP).—Price trend, in common with recent trading, was to lower levels in the short Saturday session of the Standard stock and mining exchange. Trading was without special features. Of 63 issues which were traded, 31 declined, 13 advanced, and 19 closed unchanged. Sales totalled 122,000 shares, with the bulk of trading in the lower priced stocks.

The downward trend in New York brought a reactionary move into the interlisted stocks. In the base metal section International Nickel with 445 shares out fell 5c to $8.10, a new low for the year. Noranda closed unchanged at $16.75 of 1455-share turnover.

Reactionary prices and light trading developed in the gold section. Dome was off 15c to $10.50; McIntyre lost 5c to $16.45; and Hollinger declined 4c to $4.91.

In the oil list, Imperial rose 10c to $9.15, while International Petroleum lost 5c to $10.75.

PROVINCE-WIDE HOME BUILDING CAMPAIGN URGED

F. M. MacPherson, M.P.P., Cranbrook Would Aid Lumber Industry

VICTORIA, April 3—A province-wide home building and home owning campaign was advocated in the legislature by F. M. MacPherson, member for Cranbrook, during discussion of the lands department estimates.

"The lumber business is in need of help" he said, "and unless something constructive is done at once the next year will see the industry on the rocks. Some companies have already passed out and the others are just hanging on in the hope of a resumption of demand.

"I should like to recommend to the minister of lands that a home building and home owning campaign be launched on a province-wide scale instead of locally as in the past.

"The department should and easily could enlist the cooperation of real estate exchanges, loan companies, building contractors and boards of trade. A campaign of advertising directing special attention to the use of British Columbia lumber and desirability of home owning should be undertaken.

"Many people who do not own homes could be persuaded while costs are so low as they now are to undertake construction. Building now means that the residence will enhance in value as prosperity returns and add to family comfort and well-being. The building and rebuilding will create work and help to bring about better times.

"Every branch of industry would be helped directly or indirectly by such a campaign and unemployment would to some extent be relieved."

Speaks on "Vitreous China Manufacture"; New Members Welcomed

"The Process of the Manufacture of Vitreous China" was the subject of a paper presented at the monthly meeting of the Associated Canadian Travellers on Saturday by A. Bruce Grady. He told of the various processes used for manufacturing various types of china and materials which make up plumbing fixtures in use today.

J. Parker-Toulson gave two piano solos, and was honored by the club when presented with an honorary membership. Harold Barwood, secretary, was also presented with a similar membership. Two new members were introduced. A novel question roll-call carried out brought out the fact that the travellers present were the fathers of 19 boys and 21 girls. Alan McLeod presided. There were several visitors.

Civil Service Salaries Up Nearly a Million

VICTORIA, April 3—Nearly one million dollars a year has been added to the total of civil service salaries since the present government took office, T. D. Pattullo, opposition leader, stated Friday in the legislature.

Civil service salaries in the year 1928-29 totalled $3,863,000, he said as against $4,867,000 last year.

"And this year," he added, "we find that in the estimates before us the salaries alone total $4,501,000."

QUOTA FOR BRITISH FILMS IS OPPOSED

VICTORIA, April 3—New opposition to the government bill to provide a quota for British films to be shown in the province, has come from theater employees. Through their counsel, A. C. Desbrisay, they are protesting against the measure, on the grounds that it would lead to lower wages and men being thrown out of employment.

WINNIPEG WHEAT SHOOTS UPWARD; GAINS 2 CENTS

Grand Finale to Week of Declining Prices; Crop Damage Reported

WINNIPEG, Man., April 3. (CP)—Shooting upwards in the last hour of trading Saturday, wheat prices staged a grand finale to a week of quiet markets to close more than two cents higher. Further crop-damage reports in the United States winter wheat belt and good shipments of American wheat resulted in the upswings.

Each 2⅛ cents above Friday's finish, May and October futures closed at 62½ and 66⅞, respectively. July option advanced an even two cents to 64⅞.

Winnipeg market took its cue from the Chicago exchange, where prices advanced also. Soil-drifting and lack of moisture reports continued to be received from many winter wheat-producing states.

Little export in Canadian wheat was seen, however, aside from some sales made out of Vancouver. Another five per cent boost in the French quota limit on foreign wheat was construed as a bullish factor here.

Good demand was shown for durums in cash grains, but with this exception no interest was exhibited in this section. Trade in coarse grains was slow, with operations mixed and local in character.

ONIONS MOUNT IN PRICE ON COAST MARKET

VANCOUVER, April 1—The last shipment of California marmalade oranges, for this season, is on the market and selling at $5.50 per crate. Florida grapefruit prices have taken a jump of $1 per crate. Carrot and lettuce prices advanced during the past week. Dry Belt and local turnips are down in price, locals are selling at 75 cents and Dry Belts at $1 per sack. Onions are going up in price rapidly. Butter prices continue to advance, the price now being 32 cents per lb. in cartons.

Imports of vegetables into Vancouver during week ending March 25. California, Asparagus 606 boxes, carrots 302 crates, cauliflower 1072 crates, lettuce 2534 crates, spinach 1112 crates. Mexico: Tomatoes 1286 lugs, green peas 44 crates, radishes 16 boxes. 550 boxes of apples from Washington.

Winnipeg—Weather is fair and cool. Business is steady with no change in prices. Car receipts for week: Ontario two barrel apples, British Columbia one apples and two onions; imported, one cauliflower, one mixed vegetables, two lettuce, two tomatoes and one spinach.

MINES MINISTER SAYS PART OLD LOAN AVAILABLE

Replies to Manson's Criticism Regarding Mine Trails in B.C.

VICTORIA, April 3—Criticism of Hon. W. A. McKenzie, minister of mines, for failure to consult the mining industry was voiced in the legislature during committee of supply. T. D. Pattullo said representative mining men had made the complaint.

Mr. McKenzie, who said he knew of the incident referred to, claimed it arose out of failure to ask the industry about this year's mining legislation, but he claimed the issue was so small that it had not been considered necessary.

Several members expressed regret at reduction of the grants to mining organizations that are doing valuable work to give publicity to mining resources, and A. M. Manson, K. C., questioned that owning to the cut of 50 per cent the vote for mine trails would prove adequate in view of the spurt in gold mining this year.

Mr. McKenzie said if the demand were great, there was an additional 39,000 in the old loan vote that could be employed in addition to this year's vote of $50,000.

Two Conservative members, G. A. Walkem and J. H. Beatty, criticized the department because its deputy minister is not a technical man, but Mr. McKenzie said the administrative and technical work were quite different and both the deputy and the mineralogist had their hands full. The jobs could not be merged.

MEN AT WORK ON RED BIRD

President to Direct All Summer; Officers Reelected; Board Member Named

SPOKANE, April 3.—At the annual meeting of the Red Bird Mining company, concluded with the election of officers yesterday, the retiring board, with one exception, resumed places. Its members are L. E. Beeson, president; George Kelchum, vice-president; H. B. Graybill, secretary-treasurer; A. B. Patterson, and Frank McCasky, the last-named having succeeded A. R. Beeson, resigned.

Two men are employed at the mine, lying at a point in British Columbia between the Reeves-Macdonald and the United States line and near the junction of the Salmon and Pend Oreille rivers.

President Beeson will go to it tomorrow to increase the force and to work all summer. The Boundary basin people of Vancouver, B. C., who invested $25,000 in development, will bear their share of the Red Bird costs. Of the 194 stockholders, nearly all are residents of Spokane.

The company has 40 claims, owes nothing on them, and has a surplus, the treasurer reports.

BOND MARKET CLOSES LOW

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 3—The bond market closed the week on a low and doleful note yesterday with prices of numerous corporate issues descending to new depth records for the week.

The railways and untilities were the center of the attacking forces for the principal mortagages of both these groups slipped to the lowest for 1932. Losses in the rails extended from fraction to around nine points with nickel plate being the hardest hit. Total sales were $5,275,000 par value.

The United States government list which had been swimming strongly against the downward trend, marked up small losses for the short session.

The foreign section held steady. The Japanese obligations gained as much as 4 1-2 points in one issue.

Pound and Dollar Moderately Lower

NEW YORK, April 3 (CP).—British currencies were moderately lower on local foreign exchanges yesterday, the pound sterling closing 1⅝c lower at $3.75⅞ for cable transfers. The Canadian dollar ended the day ⅛c lower at 89⅞c.

Sterling opened ½c lower at $3.77 and added the short session lower at $3.75⅞.

Boston Cubs Blinded With Burst of Speed as Lose 4-2

BOSTON, Mass., April 3—Providence Reds blinded the Boston Cubs with speed last night to take the opening clash of the Canadian-American Hockey league's championship series, four goals to two. A capacity crowd of 16,400 saw the game.

The Reds, who set the pace in the six-club loop during all of the regular season, put on a terrific second period drive that netted three tallies and clinched the victory. "Hago" Harrington, second string left-winger, drove two goals into the Boston net and Red Murray and Art Giroux provided the other pair of Providence scores.

Lloyd Klein, Boston left-winger and the circuit's leading scorer, registered both of the Cubs' goals.

The first period, a lively session, ended in a one-one deadlock and early in the second, after two Cubs went off almost together, the Reds put on the pressure. Murray put his team into the lead by poking home a shot on which Harrington and Giroux were given assists.

Harrington then dashed down the left wing, passed to Roy Hinsperger as he crossed the blue line, took the rubber back and slashed it through Goalie Jackson before colliding into the back boards. Giroux's tally came when he slapped in Murray's pass from the right boards.

Late in the slow finale, during which the Cubs played spotty hockey, Klein fought his way through and poked Alex Johnson's assist into the net.

Eddie Burke, the Cubs' aggressive right-winger, gamely fought off an attack of pleurisy for two periods before retiring from the game.

The second conflict of this best three-out-of-five series will be played in Providence Tuesday.

VANCOUVER, B. C., April 3.—Advice was received from Ottawa yesterday by George Derby, district administrator of pensions and health, that relief for pensioners will be continued.

FINALISTS IN ALLAN CUP TO MEET MONDAY

Toronto Sea Fleas and Fort William to Clash for Amateur Crown

MONTREAL, Que., April 3—The amateur hockey supremacy of Canada is at stake here this week. Tomorrow night the best team in the west the Thundering Herd of Fort William, will clash against the best of the eastern stickhandlers, the Sea Fleas of the national yacht club Toronto, in the first game of a best two-out-of-three series for the Allan cup, now 25 years of age.

The second game will be played Wednesday and the third, if necessary, Friday. The teams are expected to furnish two and perhaps three closely fought battles before the successors of the Winnipegs as dominion titleholders are named. Three 10-minute overtime periods are scheduled in each game if the score is deadlocked at the end of regulation time.

Both teams have impressive records, the Thundering Herd, after capturing the championship of the Thunder Bay association, defeated Canada's olympic team in a close series while Nationals, after conquering all Ontario, defeated Quebec's representatives, the Winged Wheelers of Montreal, handily.

The players arrived here today, announcing they were all in good condition.

LONDON AND DETROIT TIE

Both Teams Are Left Trailing in the International Hockey Race

DETROIT, Mich., April 3 (CP).—Sensational goal tending by Herbie Stuart was mainly responsible for London Tecumsehs holding Detroit Olympics to a scoreless draw in an overtime game of the International Hockey league championship playoff series here tonight. The result left the teams trailing in the title race behind Buffalo an Windsor. In the championship games to date, Tecumsehs have played three ties, while Detroit has two draws and one defeat.

The rough, bruising joust was featured by Stuart's stellar performance. Time and again the speedy Olympics cracked the Tecumseh defence, only to nonchalantly be turned back by the netman.

The game, witnessed by 6500 spectators, was a battle from the start. Both teams slashed and pounded their way down the ice, the Olympic defence of Rockburn and Evans staving off most of the London onslaughts. Open warfare broke out in the second period when McCabe, Olympic wingman, and Holway, Tecumseh defence ace, started a battle that wound up with both squads milling about in center ice. McCabe and Holway drew majors.

PAAVO NURMI IS SUSPENDED FROM AMATEUR RANKS

BERLIN, April 3 (AP)—The International Amateur Athletic federation today suspended Paavo Nurmi, famed Finnish long distance runner, pending the result of an inquiry into his amateur status now being made by the Finnish Athletic association.

At the same time the federation sent circulars to affiliated associations to send to the Olympic games at Los Angeles none but genuine amateurs.

It became known several weeks ago that the International Amateur Athletic federation had called upon the Finnish association to investigate Nurmi's standing to determine whether or not he ranks as an amateur. The international body asked the Finnish organization to reveal its standings before the start of the 1932 Olympics.

MOTHERWELL AND PARTICK THISTLE PLAY TO A DRAW

GLASGOW, Scotland, April 3 (CP cable)— Although the defeat of Rangers in a mid-week fixture by Third Lanark practically gives the championship of the Scottish soccer first division to Motherwell, games of major clubs are still drawing good gates. Saturday 30,000 turned out to see Motherwell play Partick Thistle, a good draw resulting after a ding dong struggle during which neither side could score.

Rangers made a show of Cowdenbeath, winning by seven goals to one. McPhail did the hattrick and English added two and Marshall and Fleming one each for the Rangers. Campbell had Cowdenbeath's lone tally.

ARSENAL DRAWS IN ENGLISH SOCCER

Newcastle United Loses; Both Teams Being Watched for the Finals

LONDON, April 3 (C P cable)—With the approach of the cup final, the two clubs who will fight for the trophy, Arsenal and Newcastle United, are being watched carefully in all their games by soccer fandom in England. Saturday Arsenal drew with Chelsea in a London "derby" but Newcastle United lost to West Bromwich Albion because they lacked punch.

When they could do no better than draw, Arsenal faltered in the first division championship race in which they are runners up to Everton. Sixty-five thousand saw the match, which was played at Highbury. Each side scored a goal. Arsenal had the upper hand during the last half hour, but the Chelsea defence was too skilful though on one occasion Millington, in the pensioners' goal, was called to make a great save off a shot from Hulme.

Everton took a step nearer the league championship when they beat Grimsby Town by four goals to two.

In a Sheffield "derby" the United and Wednesday clubs duplicated the performance of the London clubs and drew, each club goaling once.

Newcastle United played the prettier football but West Bromwich Albion had the scoring punch. The Albion got their two goals in the first half when Davidson put the ball into his own net and Glidden scored.

Blackpool, desperate as demotion appears certain, surprised their followers by running West Ham United off their feet and winning by the huge score of seven goals to two.

In the second division Wolverhampton Wanderers beat Bristol City in a match between the top and bottom dogs. With Leeds United the Wolves are now practically certain to win advancement to the first division at the end of the season. Bristol, who were beaten by four goals to nil, did surprisingly well but the Wolves were the better balanced side.

Leeds United were staggered by the fast Burnley forwards at the beginning of their match but held on and won by three goals to one.

SOCCER CLUB STANDING

LONDON, April 3 (C P cable)—Positions of leading English soccer clubs in the championship tables after Saturday's matches were:

First division: Everton, 49 points; Arsenal 45; The Wednesday, West Bromwich Albion, 44; Sheffield United, Huddersfield Town 43.

Second division: Wolverhampton Wanderers, 52; Leeds United, 50; Bury, 46; Plymouth Argyle, Bradford, Stoke City 45.

Third division, Southern section: Fulham, 51; Reading, 47; Southend, 46; Exeter, 44; Brentford, 43; Luton, 41.

Third division, northern section: Gateshead, 51; Lincoln City 50; Crewe Alexandra, Barrow, 45; Chester Southport, 44.

ENTER EASTERN BASKETBALL FINALS

TORONTO, Ont., April 3.—Windsor-Walkerville alumni defeated Toronto Lizzies here Saturday night, 31-29, for the Ontario Amateur Basketball association senior title. Windsor won the first game on their home floor by a 30-25 score, thus taking the honors in two straight games.

They now meet the survivors of the Ottawa-Montreal series in the Dominion playdowns.

NEED DESPERATE FOR CLOTHING OF ALL KINDS AGAIN

Welfare Shelves Practically Bare; Many Requests Refused Daily

WELFARE OFFICIALS ALMOST IN DESPAIR

Citizens Urged to Turn Over Everything Possible When Cleaning

Something like 100 requests for clothing are received by the Community Welfare organization daily, at the depot in the Club hotel, and the great majority of them must be turned down, as the hooks and shelves are nearly bare. Mrs. E. Marsden, who is in attendance at the depot, was in despair Saturday, with donations of old clothes from the citizens practically at a standstill.

CAN'T APPEAR OUTDOORS

Capt. A. Cartmell, of the Salvation Army, head of the welfare organization, stated this was just about the worst time of the year in respect to the need for clothing, as men anted to be out and around, and many men at the Armory kitchen did not have the necessary clothing to enable them to appear outdoors.

There are 150 men at the Armory who, until there is work for them, must look to the citizens of Nelson for clothing, and an equal number of Nelson men, as well as many families.

A REAL HOUSE CLEANING

It is urged that the spring house cleaning, if availed of as a time for clearing the home both of all available old clothing, for men, women and children, and also of such articles as old blankets, mattresses, socks, and footwear, down to magazines.

Only a general response to this appeal can enable the Welfare organization to meet the desperate need.

Apples, eggs and preserves have been parcelled out to the larger families, and these are also at a low ebb.

BUFFALO BISONS BEAT WINDSOR TO TAKE SLIM LEAD

International Hockey Playoff Game Is Stubbornly Fought

PORT ERIE, Ont., April 3 (CP)—Buffalo Bisons thundered into a slim lead in the International Hockey league title-playoffs by defeating Windsor Bulldogs 3-1 here Saturday night. Last year's champions proved a stubborn foe but the well-timed Bisons passing system finally gained the upper hand.

The Buffalo team, which led the league's regular playing schedule this season, has registered a win and two draws in the three games of the championship series to date, while Windsor has a win, a draw and one defeat in its column.

Facing elimination from the race in the event of a loss or tie Saturday night, Bisons took the offensive from the initial drop of the puck and after eight minutes of hard-hitting play Roth and Carr combined to shoot the Homesteaders into the lead. Bulldogs pounded back viciously but the major part of their efforts were solo dashes and Goalie Taugher's brilliance, combined with a wide awake Buffalo defence was too much for them.

Carr, Bogandis and Martin netted for the winners, with Roth supplying a pair of assists. Gallagher shot the single Windsor counter.

NELSON HAS LIGHT SHOWERS, WEEK-END

Nelson citizens were again denied the chance to show-off their "glad rags" when a storm came up Sunday afternoon following a most promising morning. Total rainfall for the 24-hour period ended at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon was .26 inch. The mercury dropped to 50 degrees for high temperature for the 24-hour period ended at 5 p.m. Sunday. Low temperature was 37 degrees.

Nelson experienced intermittent showers Saturday, with very little sunshine. High temperature for the 24-hour period ended at 5 p.m. Saturday was 55 degrees and ow temperature was 30 degrees.
