Gang Loot Beside Jail Deliveries About $250,000

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 26 (AP)—Chained together in a row, the leaders and three members of the desperate Dillinger gang lost their attitude of defiance today under the sharp orders of a justice of the peace who set their bonds as fugitives at $100,000 each.

John Dillinger, the outlaw chief and last of the four to be seized here last night, dropped the bravado that characterized the first few hours of his captivity. He attempted to deny his identity, but turned

PATTULLO NOT BIT WORRIED

Farming, Mining and Manufacturing Are All Big Helps

MONTREAL, Jan. 26 (CP).—British Columbia is not in the least worried about the future, Premier T. D. Pattullo said here today. With mixed farming, with mining activity, with the growing lumber production and with Vancouver as the third largest manufacturing center in Canada—why should it be worried?

Premier Pattullo, was here today on the way to New York.

"We only came down to Ottawa conference because the federal government controls credit and finance," he said. "Certainly British Columbia is no beggar. In the past five years we have paid $20,000,000 more than our per capita share of all government expenses and debt into the Dominion treasury."

Crows Nest Pass May Only Be Secondary Air Course

"That's Him", Says Factor Identifying Kidnapper

Kidnapping Story Told in Court Is Lurid and Unrivalled in Court History; Tells of Note

By RAY BRENNAN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

CHICAGO, Jan. 26 (AP).—John Factor today told a jury a lurid story of his kidnapping and three times he stepped down from the witness stand to point dramatically at a defendant as one of the men who imprisoned, kicked, cursed, beat and threatened him for 12 days last July until $70,000 ransom was paid.

First he pointed to Albert Kator, of whom he said:

"I saw him when the blindfolds over my eyes were being changed, and I'd never forget him."

Then he indicated Gustav Schaefer, and said, "He's one of the men who helped grab me."

He came to Roger Touhy, curly haired, youthful appearing former telegraph operator, who became a beer runner and then head of the Touhy gang.

"THAT'S HIM"

With arms outstretched, lips quivering, and voice breaking, Factor said, "That's him." He referred to the man who he said stood partly concealed by a blanket and directed him to write a note to Mrs. Factor urging her to use every possible effort to obtain $200,000 ransom.

A dramatic moment in his testimony came when Factor said that early in his captivity one of the abductors asked him, when he, terrified, started to pray:

ONE TO IDENTIFY

"Why are you praying to God? Your life belongs to me."

When Factor's story had ended—a story which lawyers and court attaches said was unrivalled for drama in the history of the Chicago criminal courts—there remained only one defendant who had not been definitely identified in the state's attempt to send all four to the electric chair. He was Thomas McFadden, bald, bespectacled man of 60 years. Prosecutors said further evidence would link him with the crime.

Factor began his story with the kidnapping on the morning of July 1 from the Bells, a suburban roadhouse in the territory of the Touhy beer operations. Men with machine guns, rifles, and pistols dragged him from his automobile in view of his wife, Bella, and his oldest son, Jerome, 20, a victim of kidnappers previously.

They loaded him into an automobile, took him some miles away and into a dingy basement. Factor declared he was treated cruelly.

Long Sweeping Trains From Shoulder-Hair Ornaments Revived

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP)—Court trains in all their graceful splendor of prewar days were revived tonight at the senate drawing-room held by the governor-general and the Countess of Bessborough in the senate chamber.

Not for many years have as many women worn the long sweeping trains from the shoulders. Several of those presented wore the same costumes in which they were presented last summer at the court of St. James in London.

The glittering hair ornaments of other years were also revived in all their glory, more than three-quarters of those attending wear-

COLDSTREAM TAX LEVIES UPHELD

VANCOUVER, Jan. 26 (CP).—Upholding tax levies by Corporation of District of Coldstream for 1932 and 1933, Mr. Justice H. I. Fisher has dismissed a supreme court action at suit of the Hon. Catherine MacDonald-Buchanan, owner of Coldstream ranch. Plaintiff contended that the municipality must tax improvements.

Coldstream's money bylaws provide for interest and sinking fund by taxes on all "rateable property of the municipality."

His lordship concluded that the Coldstream council had been given power by the legislature in the Municipal Clauses act to say what is rateable property, and this included the power to exempt improvements.

MOST OF CANADA'S GOLD EXPORTED TO BRITAIN

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP)—Export of gold bullion from Canada in 1933 as valued at the par of $20.67 per ounce aggregated $56,002,261, of which $42,804,715 went to the United Kingdom and $16,197,546 to the United States, according to a Dominion bureau of statistics report. In 1932 the export was $51,395,700, of which $50,609,033 went to the United States but none to Great Britain.

The export of gold-bearing quartz in 1933 had a gold content at mint par value of $2,299,650, while in 1932 it was $3,925,729, practically all of it going to the United States.

PROPOSED ROUTE IS NOTHING NEW SAYS McLAREN

VANCOUVER, Jan. 26 (CP)—"A direct air mail route between Calgary and Vancouver over the mountains has been considered by aviation experts and discarded as out of the question due to the hazards of mountain flying," Major D. R. McLaren, D.S.O., assistant manager of Canadian Airways, Limited, in charge of the Pacific coast division, stated here tonight. He was commenting on a report from Calgary that such a service was being considered by unnamed interests.

"An air mail route from Vancouver east to Lethbridge has already been mapped out via Princeton and south of the Okanagan lake, and the Dominion government has completed five landing fields," Major MacLaren added.

No T.B. Cattle Peddled in B.C.

VICTORIA, Jan. 26 (CP).—Peddling of tubercular cattle in British Columbia is almost unknown, department of agriculture officials stated today when apprised of the recommendation of the Ontario Veterinary association that legislation be brought down to compel the marking of tubercular cattle.

Since 1896, an act has been in force in this province under which government veterinary inspectors may at any time inspect and subject cattle to tuberculin tests.

GUILTY OF HOLDUP

VANCOUVER, Jan. 26 (CP)—Frank Willis, 22, acquitted earlier in the week on a robbery with violence charge was convicted in county court today by Judge Ellis on a similar charge arising out of the holdup of R. A. Myers, taxi driver and theft of his taxi.

Sentence was postponed until January 30 when Ellis will face a third holdup charge.

Air Mail Starts to Arctic Shores

EDMONTON, Jan. 26 (CP).—Inaugurating the first all mail flight to Coppermine River, on the shore of the Arctic sea, Pilot Walter Gilbert, Canadian Airways, limited, took off from Cameron Bay Thursday with Postal Inspector R. Walter Hale on board.

Crammed into the cabin of the machine were 4800 first flight "covers" sent by stamp collectors from all over the continent as well as regular mail and express.

BURNS NIGHT WAS REAL SCOTCH SAY TAXI MEN

Certain taxi-men in Nelson are ruefully convinced that Thursday night was Burns' night. Although the streets were in poor condition, even bordering on dangerous in parts of the uphill sections, and although some 300 people in all attended the banquet and dance, not a single call for a taxi was made. One driver sat up three hours waiting, and lost another three hours telling himself he should have known better.

POLICE HALT MOB IN PARIS

Chautemps Fights to Last Ditch Over Scandal

PARIS, Jan. 26 (AP).—After a hectic day in which Minister of Justice Eugene Raynaldy resigned, Premier Camille Chautemps announced tonight he would fight to the last ditch an opposition drive to wreck his ministry as a result of the Stavisky pawnshop scandal.

The premier himself was reported by Socialist deputies earlier this evening to be ready to quit, but he later issued a fighting statement declaring he would face parliament Tuesday for another debate on the $40,000,000 Bayonne fiasco.

Minor street disorders occurred in the centre of Paris, meanwhile, as popular indignation over the government's alleged part in the affair flared again. Royalists, who have staged frequent riots lately, announced they would conduct further demonstrations Tuesday. Six hundred manifestants paraded near the Madeleine church shouting, "France for the French," and started a movement toward the chamber. This the police stopped.

CAR LOADINGS ARE UP BY 7000

OTTAWA, Jan. 25 (CP)—For the third successive week car loadings showed an increase of more than 7000 compared with the corresponding week last year, says a report issued today by the Dominion bureau of statistics.

Car loadings for the week ended January 20 totalled 40,782 cars, 7,632 above loadings for the corresponding week last year. Every commodity showed increases and miscellaneous freight again led with an increase of 2324 cars. Pulpwood was heavier by 1146 cars, merchandise by 800 cars and grain by 885 cars. Compared with the previous week's loadings, the total was down by 607 cars, coal being lighter by 839 cars, and the index number dropped from 75.77 to 72.50.

Debate on Throne Address Will Take Natural Course

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP)—Debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne will not of necessity engage the entire attention of the house of commons until its completion, to the exclusion of other business. This intimation was given in the commons today by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett in reply to a question by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, opposition leader.

The debate, Mr. Bennett stated, would "take its course on the order paper." This was the practice in the British house and in the Canadian commons also for the past few years.

YEAR'S PROMISE MORE THAN KEPT

Public Works Program Confined Upkeep and Repairs

OTTAWA, Jan. 26 (CP).—Drastic reductions in most branches of government with increases in only two, and a total decrease of about $17,000,000 from the current year's expenditures, were shown in the main estimates for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1935, tabled in the house of commons this afternoon.

In bringing down the main estimates so early in the parliamentary session, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, minister of finance, created a precedent. This is in general keeping with the government's intentions to place all the important business before the house as early as possible.

The grand total of estimated expenditure for the fiscal year 1934-35 is $343,648,273 as compared with $360,738,210 during the current fiscal year, a decrease of $17,089,937.

British Trawlers Meet Off the Iceland Coast

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Jan. 26 (AP) Twelve British seamen were drowned when the British trawlers Sadik and Euthania collided near Dryafjord today.

The Sadik sank almost immediately. The Euthania, badly damaged, succeeded in reaching Dryafjord harbor.

The only two survivors of the Sadik saved themselves by jumping to the deck of the Euthania at the moment the collision occurred. The captain and mate of the Sadik were seen swimming after the accident but rough seas made their rescue impossible.

Public Works Expenditure in B.C. Will Be Mainly for New Buildings

VICTORIA, Jan. 26 (CP)—One of the most important results accruing from the spirit of national consciousness aroused, with the understanding that each province was to be treated according to its particular needs, stated Hon. Gordon M. Sloan, attorney-general, who returned here today.

"When we produced figures showing the retrenchments put into force by the western provinces during the last few years, the charges of extravagance in administration were dissipated," stated the attorney-general, "and a better understanding of the west's problems was had by our eastern contemporaries."

The public works program to be undertaken by the Dominion which may, it is said, total 50 millions, including nearly four millions for this province, will largely take the form of public buildings, rather than roads, thought Mr. Sloan.

Fewer Marriages and Fewer Births in B.C.; Infant Death Rate Lower

VICTORIA, Jan. 26 (CP).—A drop in the rate of natural increase in British Columbia, fewer marriages and fewer births are noted in the latest report of vital statistics covering a year's period made public today.

Births for the year 1932 totalled 10,314 against 10,414 for the previous year, giving a rate of 14.86 per thousand population as against 14.96 for the previous year. The death rate among children was 46.7 against 49.7 the previous year, British Columbia continuing to have the lowest infant mortality rate in the Dominion.

There were 6150 deaths in the province during the year under review making a rate per thousand population of 8.7 as compared with 8.8 for the previous year.

The marriage roll dropped 275. There were 3604 in 1932 compared with 3879 the previous year.

A table in the report on the rate of natural increase covering the last five-year period shows that in 1928 it was as high as 6.96. It has now dropped to 5.77 per thousand population.

MORE ABOUT B.C. ROADS

motor vehicle owners contribute 72 per cent of this cost.

This question of taxation of motor vehicles, the minister said, is one of the big problems.

LIMIT TO AMOUNT

"Just how far the taxation will go I am unable to say. There is a limit to the amount which can be borne by the vehicle owner," he said.

Public interest in transportation facilities had created a demand for uniformity of regulations, of highway building, of taxation and of restrictions.

"Uniformity is undoubtedly necessary and desirable, but in the matter of detail I doubt if it can be attained for years," Mr. MacPherson said.

Giving some statistical details of British Columbia roads, he said altogether there were 19,280 miles of provincial roads, an additional 500 miles of municipal roads under provincial control, and 9418 miles of trails.

An increase of 33 per cent in mileage in the past 20 years was not very great when it was remembered that traffic had grown enormously, the number of registered motor vehicles had increased 13 times, and the net revenue therefrom 31 times.

MAJOR PROBLEM

Cost of maintenance was a major problem. Some 7000 miles were now surfaced with gravel or some better surfacing, and of this 3100 miles had been surfaced since 1921.

On the 5964 miles of trunk roads and main highways, the annual cost of maintenance averaged from $75 to $600 per mile, not including bridges.

Average yearly maintenance cost of all roads had been $1,832,683 for the past five years, and in 1932-33 was necessarily far below that average.

Dealing with commercial vehicles, the minister said that commercial traffic in British Columbia was 18 per cent of all traffic.

There were 178 licenced operators or firms as common carriers of whom 65 per cent had only one licenced vehicle and 20 per cent had only two vehicles.

"Commercial traffic in British Columbia is thus still very much an individual and local affair," he said.

TELLS COURT COWDEN THREW NAILS AT "BIG BOHUNK" TO START FRACAS AT LONGBEACH

Camp Foreman Grabs Axe From Cowden He Tells Court

A story of an Irishman who aggravated a Czechoslovakian by throwing nails at him, and who later precipitated a general fracas when the Czech offered to "break" his head for him, was told at the assault trial of Robert Cowden in provincial police court Friday afternoon by three witnesses for the prosecution. Robert Cowden appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate John Cartmel on a charge of assault causing grevious bodily harm.

The charge arose from a fracas at the Longbeach relief camp Tuesday when the accused is alleged to have struck and injured John Simon with a carpenter's claw hammer, when the fracas was thought over. The case was adjourned until Saturday morning, when the witnesses for the defence will be heard. Cowden is not represented.

Cowden first consented to trial before Stipendiary Magistrate Cartmel and pleaded not guilty.

THREW NAILS

Simon, who had received the brunt of the fracas, was the first witness. He claimed that he had been working outside of a bunkhouse on the floor for a new building. His partner on the job, George Copak, was working near him when "four-inch nails" commenced to fly out of the bunkhouse and bounce in front of Copak. Copak shouted out to the thrower to quit. Cowden then jumped out with a hammer in hand and made for Copak who dodged the blow and grappled with his adversary. The blow, although missing his head, struck him in the back. Simon said he tried to hold Cowden but was unsuccessful. The two grappled and fell into the snow and rolled down into a creek bed.

"They fought for a while, then he (Cowden) take an axe in his hand. I thought he was going to cut Copak to pieces. He wasn't fooling."

Camp Foreman Lawrence Piper intervened and took the axe away from Cowden, later evidence showed.

"After that he took a hammer again and hit me on the head from behind."

"How did you know Cowden hit you," asked the magistrate.

"I have witnesses," was the reply.

Simons then explained how he was taken to the camp office and his wounds attended to by the foreman.

WRENCHES

Cowden in questioning the witness asked him how he knew they were four-inch nails and asked him if he and Copak were using wrenches and if they had them in their hands when he came out of the bunk house or carpenter shop. He asked the same of Piper, a third witness.

George Copak was the second witness.

He was working with Simon. "He help me, I help him, we both help."

Earlier in the morning when lifting a 16-foot 4 by 4 he asked a young fellow to help him. The young fellow refused and Copak replied "You supposed to help me, you work for 20 cents a day the same as me."

Frame, another worker said "Shut up you bohunk——"

BREAK HEAD

Copak said "I told him I don't boes anybody but please help me." Frame said lots more but I didn't listen. Then came 10 o'clock and some one started throwing nails at me. I couldn't see, so I waited for a while and watched. Then I see Cowden. The nails hit my chest. I hollered at him 'cut out before you get a broken head.'"

The nails startled him like the bullets in the army. The magistrate asked him what army he had been in and he said the Bohemian army. "But you weren't up against an Irishman?" asked the magistrate to the witness who answered in the negative with a broad grin on his face.

Accepting the invitation for a broken head, Cowden jumped down out of the building brandishing a hammer, the witness said. He struck at Copak who ducked and caught the blow on his back and threw his assailant over his head and rolled into the snow with him. "He called me a big bohunk again," explained the witness.

KICKED AND CUT

"When I got up he kicked me in the chest with both feet and I grabbed his wrists and he bit me. Two other workers joined in the fray and commenced to belt him he said.

Copak let go of Cowden who ran back a few feet. "Then he get an axe and said 'I cut him to pieces, the big——.' He got the axe, I was in the creek. I come out from the creek and Mr. Piper grabbed the axe."

The witness then explained that the fight cooled off and he went toward the cookhouse as it was then the dinner hour. He hadn't got far, however, before he ran into another young fellow who caught him a clip on the nose and it started bleeding profusely. He saw Cowden come out of the carpenter shop, again brandishing a hammer, but, bending over to keep the blood off his clothes, he missed the actual striking of Simon.

HANDY MAN

Foreman Lawrence Piper, who, though small in stature, prevented Cowden on two occasions from injuring workers with the axe and hammer, he testified.

He grabbed the hammer from the accused when he first swung it at Copak and took the axe from him when he offered to "cut to pieces" the same man.

"It didn't take long to get it away. He didn't have a chance to use the axe," he told the court.

"You were kind of a handy man," the magistrate remarked.

"I did the best I could," replied Piper.

Copak seemed to be the cause of flying fists before the fray was over, he said.

Hall, another foreman, then came into the picture and grabbed Cowden and led him up to the platform which the men had been constructing, and sat down with him.

The fight was then apparently over. He turned to the men and instructed them to go to their dinner. No sooner had he turned his back than Cowden jumped up, secured a hammer, and ran into the crowd and struck Simon, he testified later. Both Piper and Hall testified seeing the striking.

Piper told the magistrate he knew of no reason for the outbreak. He was not aware of the so called "bohunk" enmity. He had only been in the camp a short time.

MEANT BUSINESS

John Charles Hall, one of the foremen who had been working further up the hill, and who had arrived when the fracas was in full swing, was the last to give evidence. He had taken Cowden to one side and when the latter broke loose a second time he had witnessed the assault.

"From all appearances he meant business," Hall said.

Constable Robert Samuel Beck, who with Corporal D. Halcrow, went to the scene, described the arrest and exhibited a hammer marked with blood. It was supposed to have been the hammer with which Simon had been struck.

THANKS TO BUCKLEY'S HE NEVER WORRIES ABOUT BRONCHITIS NOW

Mr. Clifford G. Morrison, Rainy River, Ont., has abundant reason to bless the day he heard of BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE.

Since his school days he has suffered torture from bronchitis, but now at the first sign of an attack he nips it in the bud with BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE. He says:- "My experience with this wonderful medicine makes me always keep a bottle in the medicine chest—I never worry about bronchitis now."

Mr. Morrison's experience can be yours. If you are lying awake nights, racked to pieces with coughing, choked up until you can hardly breathe, just try BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE. You will be astounded how quickly the cough will stop, how your breathing will instantly become easier.

There's nothing like Buckley's for quick, sure, safe relief. It acts like a flash—A single sip proves it.

MRS. BALFOUR IS BURIED TRAIL

TRAIL, B. C., Jan. 25—Many old time friends gathered at Clark's funeral chapel to pay final tribute to Mrs. Elizabeth Balfour whose funeral was conducted Friday afternoon.

Rev. Bryce H. Wallace officiated at the parlors and at the graveside in Mountain View cemetery.

Floral tributes were many and beautiful.

Mrs. Balfour passed away Tuesday morning at the home of her son Alex, Government road. Besides Alex, another son, Jack, several grandchildren and one great grandchild survive. Her husband predeceased her in Dunfermline, Fife, Scotland, in 1908.

Pallbearers were Andrew Crichton, William Taylor, Frank Strachan, James Thompson, Charles Strachan and Alex Ross.

The Caledonia society of which Alex Balfour is president was well represented at the funeral, as were other lodges and societies.

TRAIL GYROS OPEN ROOMS

TRAIL, B. C., Jan. 26—Trail Gyro club last night officially opened its new club quarters at the Crown Point hotel with a carabet party. Visiting Gyros and friends of Trail members joined in the festivities and the novel party was a success in ever yway.

The newly-decorated quarters presented a picture upon which every visitor commented. Soft lights overhead and bridge lamps spaced around the wall gave a mellow tone to the while ceiling, ivory and green walls and mottled floor. Streamers of gold and blue, Gyro colors, formed a laced net overhead. Potted plants and ferns and artificial palm trees contributed to the general effect. Heavy curtains were draped at the archways.

President Elliott Crowe welcomed the guests in the brief ceremony marking the official opening of the quarters.

Mayor E. L. Groutage congratulated the club, declaring it had provided in the hall a new community asset, one that was sorely needed.

to them from various sources and that it was authentic. They declared negotiations were conducted in secrecy and that only within the past few days had the news leaked out.

"Information they had been able to obtain indicated that Calgary, instead of being merely a subsidiary point, served with a branch service making contact with the main air line at Lethbridge, might be the key point in the west, as the jumping off place for machines bound for Vancouver. In the past it has been generally agreed that the air mail would proceed through the Crow's Nest pass to Vancouver, and emergency landing fields have been constructed along this route by the government."

IMPERIAL AIRWAYS OFFER

"Unconfirmed rumor has it that Imperial Airways, major British flying concern, has made an attractive offer to the Canadian government for operation of the transcanada service as well as the route over the Atlantic. This would be in line with the arrangement made with Africa when Imperial service was extended to Capetown.

"It was thought that in Canada the personnel of the machines flying the route would also be Canadian for scores of men in the Dominion have wide experience in such flying.

CROW TOO DANGEROUS

"There have been various rumors to the effect that the prairie air mail will recommence this fall, linked up with a British service across the Atlantic. Main barrier to the cross-country air mail run is the Rocky mountains and Calgary fliers said they understood that conversations between experts had led to the decision that alternative routes be established.

"The Crow's Nest Pass route, while probably the best under good flying conditions, is admittedly dangerous in foggy weather as the machines will usually fly through the valley, with the danger of collision with a mountain side evident when visibility is poor.

GUIDED BY RADIO

"Flying at 20,000 feet, guided by radio beam service, the pilot would have nothing to fear except engine failure, and with multi-motored planes this would not be a common occurrence. This height would be sufficient to take him over the highest peaks en route to the coast. There, of course, he might encounter a problem if the Vancouver airport was fogbound, but Canadian and British air line pilots have made landings in thick fog, with the aid of radio installations.

"In the meantime, and pilots were careful to make this clear, Ottawa has said nothing."

MURDERS AND ROBBERIES

Wanted for a series of murders and bank robberies in the middle west as well as penitentiary breaks in Indiana and a jail delivery in Ohio, Dillinger and his henchmen, Harry Pierpont, asserted "trigger man," Russell Clark and Charles Makley, were left without benefit of legal counsel, put rapidly through the arraignment and clapped back into jail again while mid-western authorities moved to return them.

The three women arrested with the gangsters, identified as Anna Martin, Opal Long and Mary Kinder, fared better, as they were allowed to walk free to and from the court.

However, Anna Martin, first placed under $500 bond as a material witness, later was ordered back into court to be held under $100,000 bail for Illinois authorities as a fugitive from justice on a murder charge.

Miss Long was held in lieu of a $5000 bond on charges of obstructing an officer during the dramatic arrests. The Kinder woman was held under bail of $500 as a material witness.

The Indiana authorities computed the cash loot of the Dillinger gang at $250,000, adding that much of it had empowered them to carry on their terror reign.

HANDS TRAIL SECOND DEFEAT OF SEASON IN OVERTIME PLAY

Is Nelson's First Win Over Smoke Eaters

WEST KOOTENAY HOCKEY LEAGUE STANDING

	F.	W.	L	F.	A.	Pt.
Trail	13	11	2	68	45	22
Kimberley	12	7	5	49	36	14
Nelson	13	5	8	38	52	10
Rossland	12	2	10	38	62	4

Staging a furious comeback in the overtime period that gave their opponents little chance to organize, the Nelson Red Wings came back into the win column when they downed the Trail Smoke Eaters Friday night 4-2 in a game that had the fans on their feet with excitement throughout the 70 minutes play.

Nelson took the lead in the second period when Thompson sent in a hard shot from the wing. The Red Wings seemed well on their way to victory when the score remained unchanged nearly half way through the last period. Trail sent five forwards on the ice, and in quick succession scored two goals to take the lead. Brennan banging in the first on Buckna's rebound and a minute later Andreachuck duplicated the feat when he slammed Brennan's rebound behind McKay. It was then the Red Wings turn to go on the rampage, and after 16:45, Fairburn tied up the game when he took Thompson's pass and gave Dupuis no chance.

The Red Wings came back on the ice in the overtime determined to regain the lead they had lost so suddenly in the last period Dupuis made a great save from Wade after three minutes overtime play, and Fairburn picked up the puck at the blue line and let go a shot that Dupuis never saw until he fished it out of the net.

Just 26 seconds after the teams changed ends, Jack Annable picked up a loose puck at center ice and tore down on the Trail defense. Reaching the blue line he overskated the puck, but came back and recovered, to send in a fast waist high shot that completely fooled Dupuis.

Trail sent every man up the ice, but McKay was playing in unbeatable form and the rest of the Red Wings were checking the Smoke Eaters off their feet. At one time Dupuis came out 20 feet to pass the puck back to a teammate.

Soft ice, that became practically snow in places, as the game wore on, made the going tough for the players, but despite these adverse conditions, both teams set a dizzy pace and kept the goalies working overtime.

A total of 29 minutes in penalties was given out by Referee Desireau, Trail getting 13 minutes and Nelson 16.

The smallest crowd of the season witnessed the game, but what they lacked in numbers was more than made up in noise. When Nelson tied up the game and finally won out in the thrilling overtime period, the rafters rang as the whole crowd came to their feet with applause.

The fans were taken by surprise as Len Wade started on defence with Gerry Thompson. Peter Paul moved up to the starting forward line with O'Genski and Annable. Paul played a hard game, although at times he forgot he was not back on defence, both of his penalties coming for body checking men in the opponents' territory. Wade seemed in his place on defence and handed out heavy body checks that took the steam out of the Trail attacks. Thompson played the best game he has displayed since coming to Nelson and figured in two of the local goals, getting the first on a solo dash down the ice and getting the assist on the goal that tied up the game. Although the oldest player in years as well as service Frank O'Genski was the hardest worker on the ice, and gave Dupuis many anxious moments. The old veteran seemed to glory in the hard going and kept up a fast pace till the end.

All the players played bangup hockey, Bannister again showing the form that featured his first few games in the West Kootenay. Culley, Fairburn and Annable also played sparkling hockey all the way. McKay again displayed some of the most marvelous goaltending ever seen in these parts, especially when the locals were playing short handed, in the first two periods. At times it seemed as if the Trail team was sure to score only to be robbed by the brilliant Red Wing goalie. On two other occasions Bannister came up fast to make a couple of wonderful clearances.

FOUGHT ALL THE WAY

As in every game this season, the Trail club never gives up hope of victory until the final bell. Dupuis was his usual reliable self and made at least half a dozen saves that were of the sensational variety. Mercer played a hard game on the defence and gave McKay many anxious moments as he repeatedly bore right in on top of the Nelson net. Brennan, Buckna, Wheatley, Hanson, Morris and Andreachuck never let up their terrific pace at any time throughout the game, even when the going got very heavy.

FIRST SCORELESS

No scoring resulted in the first period although both goalies were called on to make numerous fast saves, and at times only a rolling puck robbed the forwards, when they appeared to have Dupuis and McKay at their mercy.

Thompson scored the opening goal of the game, 5:04 after the start of the second period. Breaking up a fast three-man rush, Thompson flashed in on the Trail defence, he was skated into the corner, but beat off his check, picked out a corner in the goal and let go a hard drive that nearly went through the back of the net. Half way through the third period with Bannister in the penalty box Brennan banged in Buckna's rebound, after McKay had made a great save from the latter.

A minute later a fast three-man Trail attack took them right in on the Nelson net, and Andreschuck duplicated Brennan's feat when he banged in Brennan's rebound. With less than four minutes left to play, Thompson sent in a hard shot that Dupuis just managed to save. The big Nelson defence man went in fast, circled the net and passed out to Fairburn, who gave Dupuis no chance to save.

In the dying moments of the period, Dupuis made two marvellous saves when Culley and Bannister were right in on top of him. McKay then came out of his net to stop Hanson and Wheatley in succession.

Wade and Bannister just missed the net at the start of the overtime period. Trail was playing short as Brennan was still in the penalty box, and were resorting to shooting the puck down the ice to save the pressure. Just after the start of the overtime period Fairburn let go a shot that completely fooled Dupuis. And 26 seconds after the teams changed ends Annable put the game on ice when he put the Red Wings two goals up with a beautiful shot from the wing that the Trail net minder never saw. Trail sent every player up the ice, and in the dying moments of the game McKay came out of the net on two occasions to rob Wheatley and Hanson.

Marriage Bliss Is Preferable State

SOUTH SLOCAN, B. C., Jan. 26—It is possible to be happy though married. In fact, "Married Bliss is Preferable to Single Blessedness" if the result of the regular Monday night debate in the community hall here can be believed.

The case for wedlock was opened by Mrs. Knowles who argued that the security obtained by a woman in marriage, the responsibility of conducting a household and the culmination of desire in the possession of legitimate children were advantages which far outweighed the few benefits of "single blessedness." Mrs. Heathcote and Mrs. Murray, remaining speakers for the affirmative, presented complementary speeches. The former described with graphic detail the joys and domestic comfort for both men and women while the latter painted a miserable picture of the luckless bachelor and the forlorn spinster.

"I wish I was single again," sang Milly Potosky in concluding her plea for the superiority of single independence. The sentiment of the song Miss Potosky attributed to a married gentleman of her acquaintance. Miss Edwards spoke second for the negative. She thought that one day with an unemployed husband around the house would about convince anyone of the desirability of the single state. Enlarging upon the drudgery and worry entailed in married life, Miss McKinnon, final advocate of celibacy believed that the prevalence of divorce showed the weakness of the marriage institution.

IRON SULPHATE COMBINATION IS BEST SPRAY STATES HUNT

Beats Apple Scab Without Leaf Burning

That long sought non-burning spray for control of apple scab in this district has been brought to light in the formula tried with success in Nova Scotia, employing arsenate of calcium and iron sulphate with lime sulphur, which was under test in representative West Kootenay orchards the past season in spray studies carried out by J. W. Eastham, provincial plant pathologist, with the assistance of District Agriculturist E. C. Hunt, is brought out in the report made by Mr. Hunt to the department of agriculture at Victoria.

The formula used for this mixture, which was tried out against other sprays, consisted of 10 pounds of iron sulphate, 2½ gallons of lime sulphur, and 5 pounds of calcium arsenate, in 100 gallons of water.

In reporting on the season's tests, the spray studies having been carried on here for a number of years, Mr. Hunt gives the following conclusions:

BEST YET TRIED

"From the results given in detail in this report, it has been clearly demonstrated, from the one year's work, that the iron sulphate-lime sulphur-calcium arsenate combination spray is the most satisfactory one yet tried for the control of apple scab in this district where the disease is so prevalent.

"One of the main objections to this spray mixture is its cost. This may be overcome to some extent by using a weaker solution, and also by using other spray materials at certain times in the spray schedule. It is quite likely that less spraying would be required to keep the disease under control than with the other materials tested out so far. For example, at Queen's Bay in the Attree orchard, variety Rome Beauty, the iron sulphate mixture plot received only five sprays, while the lime sulphur and the lime sulphur calcium sulphide mixture received six sprays, yet the percentage of scabby fruit was much less in the iron sulphate plot than in the other plots.

"In all the plots where the iron sulphate was used, and with all the varieties under test, very little if any of the late 'pin-head' type of infection occurred on the fruit. This condition was very noticeable, as all the other plots sprayed with the different materials showed a lot of this kind of late infection on the fruit. Any spray material that will keep down this late infection to the fruit in this district is very important, and is one that should be considered and recommended in the spray schedule in the future. It is hoped that further tests can be carried out with the material another year.

"As to lime sulphur, it has always proven a very good fungicide in the control of apple scab, but many growers in the Kootenay were finding objections to the materials, chief of which was the burning (in some seasons and on many varieties) to the foliage. When the foliage is severely injured through burning, a heavy drop of the fruit will result, and a reduction in the yield, through the failure of the fruit to size up. However, it was quite noticeable this year all through the district, that lime sulphur burning was much less than usual, due probably to a drier atmosphere dur.ng May and June, which resulted in a quicker drying of the spray material on the foliage.

"Where the calcium sulphide-lime sulphur, half strength of each, was used, the results on the whole were about equal to the results obtained by lime sulphur alone. If this mixture is used and sprays applied about every two weeks apart, not longer, and from five to six applications for the season, except in years of severe late infection. There was no burning to the foliage with this mixture, and the trees on the whole had a better appearance on the foliage than where either the lime sulphur or iron sulphate was used.

"For such varieties as Cox's Orange, Jonathan, and Ontario, the calcium sulphide mixture is quite satisfactory and could be used with good success for all sprays. Other varieties more susceptible to the disease, such as McIntosh Red, Newtown, Beauty, etc., seem to require a spray material with greater adhesiveness, especially for the later sprays, and the iron sulphate mixture, from the one year's test in this district, seems to fill the bill.

Another feature in connection with the iron sulphate mixture is that the average growers will do a much better job of spraying than with most other materials. The iron sulphate mixture is black, like ink, when applied to the trees, and it is very easy to see at once if any portion of the three is not sprayed. In our work this season, with 100 gallons of the different spray mixtures used, from two to four more trees were sprayed with the lime sulphur and the calcium sulphide than with the iron sulphate. Some of the growers had a larger difference. This, if nothing else, emphasises the importance of thorough spraying, and of paying particular attention to the top of the trees."

DEBATE ON EDUCATION

KASLO, B. C., Jan. 27—The Kaslo Literary and Debating society held their regular meeting Monday evening in the King George hotel, with president, W. P. Rudkin, in the chair. There were about 25 present. After the regular business session was finished the program for the evening was announced, this taking the form of a debate, the topic being "Resolved that the privilege of higher education be limited to students with outstanding ability." The affirmative was taken by Mrs. E. H. Latham, George Mortan and Page Robinson and the negative by S. J. Mayses, Mrs William Whitaker and E. C. Cherry.

The debate was a most interesting one, excellent points being brought out for both sides of the question. The judges were J. A. Fraser, Mrs. John Keen and F. S. Rouleau who awarded the decision to the negative side.

Arrangements were made for the next meeting to be held the first Monday in February when a question box will be the order of the evening.

Miss Margaret Smith of the public school teaching staff is confined to her home by illness. Miss Kathleen Burgess is relieving at the school during Miss Smith's absence.

Mrs. W. J. Green, who has been a patient in the Victorian hospital has returned to her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Smith of Nelson were recent visitors to Kaslo.

Paul Brating who has been a patient in the Victorian hospital suffering from an injured foot, is able to be out again.

Miss Elaine Calvert entertained the girls' bridge club Tuesday evening

Mrs. Jack Sutcliffe of Riondel is a patient in the Victorian hospital.

Mrs. J. M. Kirk is spending a few weeks visiting friends in Spokane.

Mrs. O. Stenberg and infant son have left the Victorian hospital for their home in Johnson's Landing.

S. H Green is confined to his home by illness.

Jack Strachan has received word of the death of his eldest brother, who passed away recently at his home in Scotland.

The Women's auxiliary of the Catholic church held their annual meeting Sunday evening in the vestry of the church with the president, Mrs. William MacDonald in the chair. Mrs. O. Austin, the secretary-treasurer gave her annual report which was most satisfactory showing the years receipts to be $173.95 with expenditure amounting to $102.15. All outstanding accounts had been paid in full. Mrs. MacDonald and Mrs Austin were reelected as president and secretary-treasurer, respectively and Mrs. C. J. White was elected vice-persident. The ladies were tendered a vote of thanks to Rev. J. Cheevers, the priest in charge of the local parish.

CONTRACT GAMES AT CRANBROOK

CRANBROOK, Jan. 26—Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Little entertained at dinner on two evenings recently, blue and rose being the table decoration motif. Dinner was followed by contract, prize winners on the first evening being Mrs. Barber and J. M. Baird and on the second evening Mrs. McKowan and A. J. Ironside. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Scott, Dr. and Mrs. Large, Mr. and Mrs. Brackett, Mr. and Mrs. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Spreull, Mr. and Mrs. McKowan, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Fink, and Mr. and Mrs. Ironside.

Mrs. G. E. L. MacKinnon was tea hostess at the Women's Badminton club Tuesday.

Mrs. F. S. Mackenrot entertained some 20 young people Wednesday evening at her home in honor of Miss Doris Mackenrot who is here from California on an extended visit. Several novel games were introduced and a hilarious time enjoyed by all present. Supper was served in individual boxes for two, each young lady having to sing for her partner. The guests were Miss Helen Wright, Miss Doris Edwards, Miss Enid Shankland, Miss Jean Glendenning, Miss Aubrey McKowan, Miss Lily Matson, Miss Florence Finley, Miss Elsie Wood, Miss Elizabeth MacDonald, Gordon Dezall, Leighton Warren, Ben Murgatroyd, Bill Taylor, Jack Atchison, Fred Large, Jack Barber, Percy Russel, Fred Brown and Jim Proven.

His honor Judge Thompson was speaker at Rotary club this week and stated that too often clubs asking a guest to speak limited his time to an extent that made it impossible to cover fully the subject. The 'short and snappy' talk could be carried to an extreme. The unconsidered criticism of men occupying positions of prominence, particularly of the judiciary, was mentioned. People should investigate carefully before publicly expressing opinions, newspapers being found to be particular offenders in this way. Those in authority were thus placed in a poor light and had no recourse to publicity to deny the truth of such allegations.

The Sinclair Y.W.C.A. of Knox Presbyterian church held their first meeting Saturday. Election of officers resulted, president, Miss Alwyn Evans; vice-president, Miss Ina College; secretary, Miss Selma Voge; treasurer, Miss Margaret McInnis; press secretary, Miss Betty Spence. It was decided to hold the meeting at the homes of the members. Miss Betty Spence will be the next hostess.

Word has come to the city of the death, at the coast, of Percy Foote, for many years employed in the local government office. He had been in failing health for some time. He was 47 years of age and was a veteran of the world war.

LOVERS' LANE

By Kathleen Norris

SYNOPSIS

Dina, the kitchen drudge in her aunt's boarding house at Squidgett, is fired by ambitions to get out into the world. She has come across a book which says anything is possible if one has the "will to believe." She imparts some of her enthusiasm to Mont, a young fellow at the boarding house, who has ambitions to be an artist. They elope in Mont's old car and reach San Francisco. They are married. Dina writes for $500 which she has coming to her when she is 21 or married. Meantime, both being without funds, Dina takes a job washing dishes in a restaurant. Mont refuses a job as waiter. He disappears, but returns to the restaurant with big news. He takes her to see a studio he has rented.

INSTALMENT EIGHT

They walked a short block, climbed a curving ramp that was lighted by an occasional feeble bulb dangling from a post, followed a footpath across a dim great corner lot filled with eucalyptus trees, and came out upon an odd little cobbled street like a shelf, handing above the scattered lights of the city below.

Cabin roofs, furry in moonlight, and windows, showing specks of yellow light, descended down the steep slopes to the broad sweep of the brightly illuminated Embarcadero. The cities across the bay, Berkeley, Oakland, twinkled like bracelets of diamonds.

"Oh, Mont!" Dina gasped, transfixed.

"Isn't it?" he exulted. "Well, come on!" he urged her.

They went through an old iron gate, and up some broken cement steps that wandered past one odd little doorway after another; dimly lighted bay windows were set here and there, queer little lamps—Turkish, Japanese, Italian—shone down on jumbled entries where potted plants, artistic little shelves, green Chinese jars and teakwood seats were intermingled with brooms, mail boxes and garbage tins.

He rang a bell.

"By the way," he said in a hasty aside, "they think we've been married a long time—I had to——"

"That was a good idea!" she agreed. There was no time for more, a door opened, and all Dina's senses swam dizzily as she tried to assimilate the scene before her.

An enormous room, skylights, hanging tapestries, great north window bare to the black night sky and the stars, dim lights within, music playing, two or three couples circling in a dance, others scattered here and there in the shadows and everywhere a litter of chairs, tables easels, canvases, properties of all sorts. She saw detached hands holding glasses; she saw a tall, broad-shouldered man with bushy gray hair welcoming Mont and herself, gesturing hospitably. And she saw Sonia France.

Sonia was in yellow. Her skin was daisy-petal white, untouched with rouge, powdered white over her straight nose; her hair was pale white-gold; her throat, arms, her hands were white. She had sleepy hazel eyes; her mouth was carmine.

Dancing when Dina and Mont came in, she nodded at Mont over some man's shoulder, and went on dancing.

Dina was conscious of her own clumsy clothing and tired, ungroomed face and hair; she was wearied almost to faintness. Somehow she reached a great low couch, littered with pillows upon which more than one other person had already sunk comfortably. The man next her—she could not see him at all—caught at her hand and drew it tightly through his arms, which felt velvety, as if he had a wrapper on. Mont had gone across the room; she dared do nothing but accept whatever came along.

After the dance was over Perry Hickson came to sit beside her and to say that she looked tired, and would perhaps like to go right downstairs?

"Your apartment is part of our place,' he said, "but I have no use for it; I rent it. Your husband simply fell in love with it—wanted it right off——"

Lights had been turned up. Dina saw that the man next to her in the velvet coat was a slim, oily looking creature, almost as dark as a negro. He wandered away immediately, and not seeing Mont anywhere she felt bewildered and forlorn.

"I'll take you down," Perry said. "I think Sonia's got Brett into a poker game."

"Poker!" Dina said, with a memory of the fights that always went on when the men at Mrs. Robin's played poker.

"It's just a little game," the man said. "We were playing last night, and he took a hand. He couldn't lose,——he cleaned us all out!"

"Going down?" Mont called, looking up from his hand as she somewhat clumsily followed Perry across the room. "I'll be right down!"

An odd expression came over her tired face, an odd feeling gripped her heart, as she went through a door at the back of the studio and carefully descended a flight of narrow stairs. Perry preceded her. He snapped up a light.

They were in a large basement room, showing three large windows against the night outside. There was almost no furniture in the room. An empty table against one wall had a two-burner gas stove on it; a curtained wooden box nailed to the wall above showed a few cups and blue Japanese saucers. Against another wall was a narrow couch, with two gay blankets and a ticking pillow piled at its foot. Dina saw an old cardboard box, and Mont's imitation alligator skin suitcase, standing together beside a wooden chair.

"You have a washroom there," said Perry, opening a door upon darkness. "It's a complete little place The man who was here before had it for three years!"

"Thank you," Dina managed to say, strangling. Immediately she was alone.

She sat down on the narrow bed and stared dully ahead of her. From upstairs came the pulsing of the victrola, and the pushing sound of feet, dancing.

After a long time Dina got up, took her cardboard box, burst the strings that tied it and laid it open on the table.

She undressed, hanging her clothes on the pegs in the washroom; she washed her face with hot soap and water, and combed her mahogany brown hair. Then she went back into the big room, and spread the blankets smoothly on the couch. Afterward she snapped off the light and went over to one of the great windows, to open it.

With the darkness the beautiful panorama below the studio leapt into view; the stars, the starry bracelets of light that she and Mont had seen from the hill. She saw the green waters of the bay flowing and moving mysteriously under the moon, and the dim dark line of the mountains closing in the east like a wall.

After awhile she went over to the couch. It was narrow and slippery; she could not manage to keep the gray blankets comfortably about her. For some time she twisted and turned. Then suddenly she was comfortable. She sighed, a delicious heaviness fell upon her.

Upstairs, the victrola droned on, stopped, began again—was finally still. The shuffling feet shuffled no longer. Dina knew nothing, felt nothing; all the fatigue and problems and puzzles of the long day were merged, softened, lost in sleep.

INSTALL NAKUSP PYTHIAN SISTERS

G. H. Gardner Elected To Development Commission

NAKUSP, B. C., Jan. 26—Syd Johnson of Burton is a visitor in town, receiving medical attention.

An enjoyable tea was held at the home of Miss M. Butlin recently when she entertained the members of the Eastern Star. Miss R. Islip presided at the tea table and the hostess was assisted in serving by her niece, Miss Joyce Butlin.

B. Stech returned yesterday from a prolonged visit to California where he went for his health.

Mrs. M E. Fleming, who has been the guest of Mrs. A. Moffatt for the past few months has left for Crescent City, California.

Miss Betty Gardiner returned from a visit to Edgewood today.

Mrs. L. Jones assisted by Mrs M. Jones and Mrs. J. Parent installed officers of the Pythian Sisters recently. A social evening followed the installation.

Officers installed were Mrs. R. Salstrom, past chancellor; Mrs. E. Horrey, master of the exchequer; Miss E. Dilly, secretary; Mrs. M. Jones, treasurer; Mrs. E. Beurge, manager; Mrs. E Mayok, master of records and seals; Mrs. E. Johnson, master of finance; Mrs. A. Humphris, guard; Mrs. Aalten, protector; Mrs. E. Buerge, G.R.

The annual meeting of the Nakusp Development district took place in Abriel's Small hall on Monday evening last. C Howarth was appointed chairman for the meeting and Mrs. G. N. Jordan secretary. The financial report was gone over very thoroughly, item for item, and discussed. debate centered mostly around the ever increasing outstanding water rates, due to conditions. The commissioners stated most emphatically they had practiced rigid economy and intended to continue thus until the sinking fund was built up to a satisfactory sum. In view of the times the financial report was considered good. C. H. Gardiner was elected a commissioner for one year to take the place of G. H. Keyes who sent in his resignation. F. Rushton was re-elected for another three year term by a unanimous vote, as was J. H. Butlin for the appointment of auditor.

FERNIE UNITED CHURCH YEAR IS SUCCESSFUL

FERNIE, B. C., Jan 26—The annual congregational meeting of the United church was held Wednesday evening. The minister, Rev. Frank Sanders, presided and gave the report for the session. The treasurer's report showed the church to be in a somewhat better position financially than it was a year ago. Other reports from the Ladies' aid, the Women's Missionary Society and the Sunday school reviewed the activities of the year. All departments reported a successful year with organizations in good shape for this year's work. The managers elected for 1934 were F. Britney, C. B. Anderson, H F. Douglas, R. McKeown, T. Biddulph, J. Shaw, Mrs. J. McLaren, Miss I. Dicken, Mrs. T. Ried, Mrs. W. Shorthouse, Mrs. J. E Dicks.

PINCHBECK HAD BIRTHDAY PARTY

SLOCAN CITY, B. C., Jan. 27—Mr. and Mrs. J. H Pinchbeck entertained on Tuesday evening in the Odd Fellows hall, the occasion being the birthday of their eldest son, E. J. Pinchbeck. Seventy-five guests were present. The first part of the evening was spent playing cards and games. A delicious supper including a birthday cake was served at midnight, after which dancing was indulged until the early morning hours. After supper all the guests formed a circle on the dance floor and sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

WE NEED IT

A relatively mild winter such as the present emphasizes the need for artificial ice in Nelson. There are financial difficulties in the way, as has been learned in Trail, but a solution might lie in combining the proposed artificial ice rink with the much discussed and greatly needed auditorium.

Construction of an auditorium is hardly on the cards this year, but it is a matter which should be kept in mind. Hardly a week goes by without bringing attention to the manner in which Nelson is suffering through the lack of a suitable auditorium.

A MARKETING ACT

One of the most important features of the speech from the throne at the opening of the Dominion parliament at Ottawa is the announcement that legislation to facilitate efficient and profitable marketing of agricultural products will be brought down.

The marketing act in the United Kingdom may or may not be the model for the Canadian legislation, but that some form of legislation is required has been obvious for years. It has also been obvious that while we now know that it may be possible to bring down provincial legislation which would be intra vires no provincial legislation could be entirely satisfactory. Federal legislation is what is needed.

The British Marketing act covers not only primary agricultural products but also secondary producers. For example, its scope might include jam factories, or meat packing plants. It is to be hoped that the Canadian legislation will be equally broad in its scope.

It is of great importance, to take a case in point, that we should be able to market our apples in an orderly and profitable manner, though with due regard to the interests of consumers. But it is also of great importance that growers of strawberries and other fruits and vegetables suitable for jam-making or canning should be assured of fair prices.

Under present conditions one jam-maker in Canada, compelled perhaps by urgent need of money, can break the market for the whole country, with the result that fruit growers are compelled to sell to factories at less than the cost of production. The market is highly competitive and if one factory cuts prices all the rest are compelled to follow.

It may be that in conjunction with the new federal legislation, some provincial legislation may be needed. In any event, the federal legislation is the main thing because it will obviate any interprovincial difficulties which might otherwise arise.

A MESSAGE FROM YOLGA YOGAN

(By CLAUDE FORDYCE)

Dear Nelson Newsters:

It are with enormous diffidents and other modest passions that I impen these lines which, I cannot hesitate to doubt, will achieve to immediately cause parallelless and epochal sensations in all ¼'s.

It are only at the urgent requestings of innumerous 1,000's of Nelson Newsters that I are imbanging this bomb from the blue which, more likely as not, will knock all the Honourables into 100 per cent cocked-hats.

For the time has non-dubitably arrived when, because of the present so awful state of conditions, a genius person should step into the breeches.

Though I love nothing more better as hiding my lights in a bushel like the so modest violet, I feel I should be entirely non-worthy of the confidence of saidly Nelson Newsters if I succeeded to fail them at this so frightful crisis.

Though enduring to suffer anguishing pains to my private feelings (not to say anything of stupendous expenses) and hating publicities more worse as a serpent, I are preparing to immediately answer this so clarion call.

Therefore I beg to inform that I are impiunging into the politicals arena where, I warrant to bet, I shall produce some biggish splashings.

Every true Canadian, whether masculine, feminine or infantine, are invited to at 1-ce join the Yolga Yogan party which are the Party of Youth, Independence and Pep.

Because of their so pure and stainless principles, all members of this great party will wear white sox, (per $1.75½ a pair), so that persons non-soched will show themselves to be patroiticless traitors and ninoompops.

Our programme (in three colours) includes that all politicals over 40 annums of ages will suffer banishment to some unknown island; a vote (suitable for framing) to all adult persons of ages 10 and upwards; a prohibitive tariff on cod-livers oil, no home-work and free shows.

I are more as convinced that it are by only suchly drastic measures as these that Canada can succeed to again become a top-dog.

Persons sending enough money to buy socks will enjoy; to receive a dazzling beautiful art calender (warranted for 12 months), Masculine members of the party will be known as "sockers" and feminines as "sockettes."

Now are non-doubtlesly the time for all Canadians to pull up their sox, likewise take their necks from under the corn yoke of tyranny and oppressions.

All may join this so awful good party; I am antidisestablishmentarianistically, so come ye ones! Come ye alls!

Honourabely your's
Yolga Yogan.

HARROP

Come let us away and go over the ferry,
To Harrop, the land of the plum and the cherry.
That fair little Eden recessed in the hills,
The Land of echantment, with beauty that thrills.

Go in the spring, when the blossoms are blowing
Go in the summer, when small fruits are showing,
Go in the fall, when the apples are red,
Go in the winter, with white mantle spread.

Go any season,
For all the year round,
Beauty and "Beauties"
In Harrop are found.

MY LADY FRIEND

One day when I was feeling blue,
I was walking down the street
And met a little friend of mine.
Who had a smile so sweet
That my gloomy thoughts all vanished,
And the sky once more seemed blue,
When my little friend looked up and said:
"Hullo mans! I like 'oo."

As we go down the road of life,
I think it's great, don't you?
To have a little friend like this,
To say, "Hullo mans! I like 'oo."

We will now switch on to a night club.
O look ma! Daddy is there,
Sitting with that nice big blonde
And leaning back in his chair.

Now and then the business office pinch-hits for yours truly. This comes from our lady bookkeeper and the handler of our cash. I'm giving it to you just as it came to me.

J.B.C.:

EXTRA SPECIAL

This afternoon one of our customers came into the office and informed us that his cow had eaten up his paper. He left the paper in a wagon and when he returned a few minutes later his cow had eaten all but the headlines. Cow Bossie was just eating up the milk situation.

All of which leads me to ask just what the Powell River people are putting in their newsprint these days.

I'll bet the cow looks a little "pail" today. The farmer is reported to have yelled "hay" as the paper was gradually disappearing. The cow did the best she "cud" to eat all the paper but the "red" headlines went against its political grain. Bossy was just "digesting" the news. Well, that paper had a lot of good news in it and the farmer can expect good milk. But the farmer complains that the "cream" of the news had been gobbled up. If the cow ate the market page her "stock" will go up. There will be more "butterfat" in her system. If she ate the sport page she might be seen any moment galavanting around the pasture. Don't worry, Mr. Farmer, she is probably trying to score a goal on the opposing hockey team, or showing how the Toronto Maple Leafs drew a blank against the Maroons.

If she ate up the social column she will probably do her best for the ladies having pink teas and bridge parties. If she ate the editorial page watch out—she might consider herself overly educated for a cow and demand better things.

And dear farmer, if she seems more loving than usual, and is off her feed, she certainly must have chewed up Bim Gump and his dearly beloved Millie. This lovey-dovey stuff is catching at times.

And dear sir, if she ate up yesterday's column by J.B.C.—just get a veterinary right away. The cow will certainly be giving sour milk.

Here and there — Rev. James Youngson tucking a large letter into his inside pocket—"Slim" Horswill wondering about a hockey game—George Lambert selling tickets for a minstrel show—Chief Alex Stewart and Sergeant Bob Harshaw— In whispered conversation down the street—J. R. Hunter coming out of a blacksmith shop—and entering the board of trade rooms—George Steele making the rounds about the boat houses—Ross Renwick having the honor of being the first to work on a motor boat this year—That's as far as I know—and he had her "putting" pretty nicely —There are more and more planks missing off the old city charf—Someone must be getting firewood there—A huge pile of snow from Baker street has been dumped from the wharf—I wondered how many nickels and dimes were imbedded in the pile—Every sign of the old Nelson sawmill has disappeared—And folks, the track is not half bad for walking these days—And on the way back to the office I learned that Harry McLean smokes the same brand of tobacco that I use—and he likes it—And that's all for today.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

FIGHTING THE NOISE EVIL

For years you have seen the signs warning those travelling on foot, by horse and wagon, or by motor car or truck, that they were in the neighborhood of the hospital, and requesting quietness for the sake of the sick inmates.

That noise can lower the resistance of a sick individual has long been known as it not only disturbs those that are sleeping but also tenses the nerves of those that are awake. And tenseness tires.

From London, England, comes the announcement that, recognizing the ill effects of noise on the well as on the sick, a new society called the Anti-Noise league has been formed, comprising some of the most prominent public men including leaders of the medical profession.

The league states that there is need for immediate action to lessen the noise evil, especially the unnecessary hooting of automobiles in residential sections. They aim at enlisting such a force of public opinion as will induce the authorities to regulate by law forms of noise that are known to be injurious to the comfort, health, and repose of the community at large, as well as being damaging to the efficiency or ability to do one's work properly.

From another high source, the British Association for the Advancement of Science comes the information that this body, which meets regularly in a different country every two years, has been working on the noise evil for some years.

At the last annual meeting various papers were read describing the progress that had been made in the reduction of noise, especially in connection with aircraft. The association set up a committee to consider those noises that it is most important to reduce.

The whole idea is to try to lessen the amount of noise without interfering with the efficiency of work that must be done.

I believe the above information is worth much thought on our part. New York, Paris, Berlin and other large cities are recognizing the bad effects of noise on the health of the citizens.

As mentioned before, one's nerves become tensed, and in turn the muscles become tensed with loud noise, as this was Nature's method of having the muscles ready for defence. Muscles that are kept tensed from noise are doing no useful work, and only causing fatigue.

If every one of us had the thought of the harmful effects of noise on everybody including ourselves, we would do our part to lessen the noise evil.

DATE BARS

3 tablespoons icing sugar
1 tablespoon butter
2 eggs, yolks and whites beaten separately
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 dessert spoon vanilla
Pinch of salt
1 pound dates
1 cup walnuts

Mix all together and put on a buttered pan. Moderate oven. Cut in bars while warm.

Chocolate Nut Bars

½ cup butter
1 cup sugar
Cream these and add:
3 eggs slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
¾ cups flour
2 squares melted chocolate
1 cup chopped nuts

Cook in fairly hot oven.

Macaroon Teas

Toast fresh marshmallow very lightly. Toast very lightly twice as many almond macaroons. Put marshmallows between two macaroons and dip in boiled frosting. Sprinkle some with grated cocoanut and some with fine chopped pestachio nut meats. Serve at afternoon tea.

Cherry Cakes

½ cup butter
2-3 cup sugar
2 eggs
1-3 cup milk
1½ cups flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ cup candied cherries

Mix in order given, pour in small muffin pans or in krinkle cups. Bake in quick oven. A few almonds are an improvement.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

THE JAPANESE HEIR

There is a class of sophisticated Japanese, with a critical knowledge of their country's history, who agree with occidental scholars in finding the first thousand years of this remarkable lineage shrouded in impenetrable mist. But from the fifth century of our era to the present the history of the Japanese imperial family's unbroken line is unimpeachable; so this new-born scion of a hundred serene majesties, more or less, is not only the latest and most important offshoot of the world's oldest reigning dynasty, but he probably has the longest clearly established genealogy of all living mortals except that of the descendants of Confucius.—New York Herald.

PEACE FOR THE BALKANS

One of the curious features of present-day politics in Europe is the example which is being set by the Balkan states in the peaceful settlement of difficulties. A few years ago the stock phase was that there was trouble in the Balkans, and these countries were regarded as the danger-spot of Europe. Today the Balkan states, including even Turkey, have agreed upon conventions that will maintain peaceful relations between them, while the major powers, who used to regard the Balkans as the home of firebrands, are finding it difficult to arrive at any understanding that will assure peace.— Fort William Times-Journal.

BRITISH RAILWAYS PROGRESS

The Canadian railway systems, still hard-pressed for finances as a result of much reduced traffic, must envy the management of the well known L.M. & S. railway, operating lines throughout the United Kingdom, which has just announced that it proposes to spend the colossal sum of £9,000,000 upon new works and rolling stock next year. This expenditure is to include the purchase of not less than 232 locomotives, 159 locomotive boilers, 674 passenger cars and 5565 freight cars and the renewal of 500 miles of permanent way through the laying of improved rails. Since the various lines now comprising the L.M. & S. were merged in 1923, the company has spent over £100,000,000 on major replacements and improvements.—Brockville Recorder-Times.

Auction and Contract Bridge

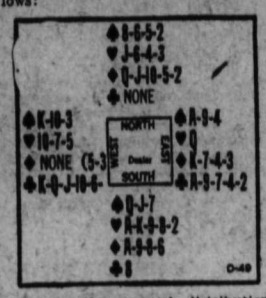
WHEN NOT TO RUFF A LOSER

A hand which required fine card reading and brilliant play occurred recently in an informal team-of-four match hat Little Neck, Long Island. The cards were distributed as follows:



Despite the unusual distribution, it is most remarkable that the bidding proceeded along the same "fighting" lines at both tables. North and South were vulnerable. South bid one Heart, West two Clubs, North two Hearts, East four Clubs, South four Hearts, and West five Clubs. North, vulnerable, passed, and East also passed. South doubled West and North passed, East redoubled. After the redouble, North decided to risk a bid of Five Hearts. This time East doubled. West considered the practical certainty of taking no Club tricks against a five Hearts contract, and decided that a moderate penalty, reduced by 100 for honors, would be cheap insurance against the possibility of a doubled vulnerable game for North and South, so called six Clubs, which was doubled by South.

After this "fighting" bidding, both Norths led the Queen of Diamonds (due to the double, North should have led a Heart, that being the lead that South expected.) At one table West hopelessly put up dummy's King, ruffed South's Ace, led a round of trumps, two rounds of Spades, and conceded the loss of a Heart and a Spade. He was set one trick.

THE CORRECT PLAY

At the other table, Mr. Charles Grosjean, sitting West, saw the futility of playing dummy's King of Diamonds at trick 1. He ruffed in closed hand, took a second Diamond, and surrendered a Heart trick to South at trick 4. South led a second Heart which was ruffed in dummy. Mr. Grosjean ruffed dummy's third small Diamond, hoping to drop the Ace. When he was disappointed, he ruffed his last Heart in dummy, losing King of Diamonds would have surrendered his one chance for slam, the chance that South held the Queen-Jack of Spades as well as the Ace of Diamonds. (A chance made quite probable by the bidding.) Tricks 8-10, Declarer led three more rounds of trumps, discarding a Spade from dummy. South could hold but three cards, and was forced to discard the Ace of Diamonds or unguard his Queen-Jack of Spades. Preserving the threat of the King of Diamonds gave Declarer a doubled slam, and the swing that decided the match.

You, who have never faltered,
Once through the changeful years,
You, who have never failed me,
Whether in joys or tears,
You, who have soothed each sorrow,
Who have assuaged each ache,
What can my poor toil offer
Fit for your heart to take?

Just as your love is flawless,
Steadfast and not of earth,
It will endow my efforts
Out of its own vast worth:
So I dare bring you daily
Work of my faulty hand,
Certain your love's perfection
Ever will understand!

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN

For Western and Central Canada, embracing British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario

Monday, Jan. 29, 1934—Cold in east but changing to warmer in west; probably some light precipitation about the northwest, but most of the country clearing.

Tuesday, Jan. 30—Unsettled conditions drift to east along the Southern border and a cold wave of short duration comes on from the northwest, yet with some clearing, about northeast.

Wednesday, Jan. 31—Very cold in west and northwest of central provinces, but warmer near great lakes regions and east, where there is probably light precipitation.

Thursday, Feb. 1—Moderating and somewhat unsettled in west and southwest sections, but about far northeast remains clear and cold.

Friday, Feb. 2—Mildly stormy in central regions but not much precipitation and many parts nearly clear; no great change in temperatures.

Saturday, Feb. 2—Tending to clear and becoming slightly colder in west, but about great lakes regions and southeast borders moderating with some precipitation.

Sunday, Feb. 4 — Changing to clearer and in general warmer weather; temperatures probably going above the normal for the season in many sections, especially about southeast.

Week of Jan. 29 to Feb. 4, 1934, in central provinces begins with cold weather in the east, but changes to warmer in west, then becomes generally unsettled. Near 31st probably a short cold wave followed by gradually rising temperatures, a mild storm period with some precipitation and finally, near last of week definitely warmer in nearly all sections and becoming clearer everywhere. Near the 4th may be a short period close to thawing weather in some of the southern and southeastern sections, although normally this is the season of zero weather here.

Near the first week of February and again around the 21st of the month some moderating weather is expected. In the south these warm spells may be far enough above the local normal of the season to thaw some of the winter's ice and snow. Usually about the 21st would be the time for a "February thaw" this year, but there might be enough sunshine near the first week to at least "pack" some of the snow. Then comes on an exceedingly cold wave that does not moderate much until after the middle of the month. Extreme variations in temperatures are expected for this month in nearly all parts of the country.

UNITED CHURCH AT ROSSLAND CLOSES A SUCCESSFUL SEASON

Women's Guild Made About $500 for Church Use

ROSSLAND, B. C., Jan. 26—In spite of the inclement weather, about 90 of the members and adherents of St. Andrew's United church sat down to supper, and enjoyed an hour of pleasant social intercourse. After supper, vocal duets by Mrs. William T. Trembath and Mrs. Ernest Morris, and A. H. Freeman and Louis Freeman were enjoyed, and then Rev. C. H. Daly took the chair and the reports of the various organizations were received.

The report of W. F. McNeill, church treasurer, showed that contrary to expectations the church had met all of its obligations and had a credit balance of $15. Envelope collections had amounted to $1268 and loose collections to $414. The Y. P. S. had contributed $150, the Women's guild $250, and the Women's Friendly circle $90. All contributions to the Missionary and Maintenance fund were not yet in, but it was hoped the total would equal that of last year which was $725.

RAISED $500

Mrs. J. C. Urquhart and Mrs. O. Bisson reported for the Women's guild, which had raised about $500 through its various activities. This organization assumed responsibility for the taxes and repairs to the manse, and assists materially with the general expenses of the church. Mrs. Bisson paid tribute to the self-sacrificing efforts of Mrs. Frederich S. Peters, for 17 years president of the guild, who is at present laid aside by illness. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to the guild.

Mrs. William Blackwell, Mrs. R. Clelland and Mrs. Alfred Hale reported for the Women's Friendly circle, which is completing its fifth year of activity, and is affording a wide field for service for the younger married women of the church. Twelve attractive programs have been carried out, in addition to the annual garden party on the grounds of the manse. Although not a money making organization the circle raised $130 during the year.

Stuart Jamieson reported that the Church Attendance league, formed to promote the attendance of boys and girls at one church service each Sunday had an enrollment of 80 with an average attendance of 45 to 50.

127 ON CRADLE ROLL

Miss Ruby Rogers stated that there were 127 babies on the cradle roll, a gain of 6 over last year, in spite of the fact that 30 had graduated into the Beginners department, and 23 more had removed from the city. Miss Rogers also reported for the C. G. I. T. groups in the absence of Miss Mary Rogers. There are two groups led by Miss Rogers and Miss Elsie Brown and three explorer's groups, led by Miss Ruby Rogers, Miss Isla Terhune and Miss Effie Brooks. The Vacation School with an attendance of 31 had proven a success.

George Bishop spoke of the Boys' groups which had a membership of from 30 to 40. Their activities were planned to develop the boys mentally, spiritually, physically and socially. They were particularly proud of the boy they had been able to send to the "Older Boys' parliament" at Victoria, Gilbert Kay, who had been appointed to the cabinet. He asked for the cooperation of the parents, and said they could use some of the older boys as leaders.

RAISED $370

Charles F. Daly emphasized the importance of the Sunday school in the community, and Douglas V. Wood gave the financial report which showed $370 raised of which $105 had gone to the Missionary and Maintenance fund to help spread the Gospel in less favored spots.

Miss Isla Terhune and Fraser Mitchell told of the work of the Y.P.S. which is tending to bring the young people into a vital relationship with the church. The young people publish a paper, the Y.P.S. Echo, hold interesting meetings under direction of devotional, missionary, social and literature committees, and have made substantial contributions to the Missionary and Maintenance fund as well as to the ordinary church expenses.

Mrs. W. F. McNeill and Mrs. William Arrowsmith presented the work of the Women's Missionary society, which had raised $175 for the Presbyterial, studied the needs of the mission fields at home and abroad, made an effort to deepen the spiritual life of the women of the church, and in conjunction with the C.G.I.T. groups had sent parcels of hospital supplies, clothing and Christmas gifts to needy churches.

FOUR DEATHS

Rev. C. H. Daly commented on the various reports and summarised the work of the session and of the church generally during the year, and called on the members to devote themselves with renewed zeal to the work of the Master. Mention was made of the loss by death of four devoted workers, Mrs. R. H. Davis, Mrs. James Finney, H. H Johnstone and Howard Ferguson. By removal and otherwise, 15 names have been taken from the church roll, and membership now stands at 198. The population of Rossland as given in the census was 2848, and of that number 1234 were registered as being more or less identified with the United church. Special recognition should be made of the splendid work over a long period of years of the church treasurer, W. F. McNeill, and appreciation should also be voiced of the Junior and Senior choirs, with their leaders, Miss Mabel Wilkie and Mr. McNeill. Special mention was also made of the fine services of the organist, Mrs. S. Simcock, who at the present time is laid aside by illness.

On behalf of the congregation Edgar Jamieson voiced appreciation of the splendid services rendered by Rev. Mr. Daly and his wife and their sons, all of whom threw the best there was in them into the work of the church.

Dr. J. S. Daly spoke of the work of the "baby" organization of the church, the Men's association, which had undertaken the beautifying of the church grounds and the erection of a retaining wall. A vote of thanks was tendered the doctor and A. H. Freeman, for work done on the grounds last summer.

NATAL CHURCH HAS ANNUAL MEETING

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Nelson Given Mementos

NATAL, B.C., Jan. 26—The Natal congregation of the United church held its annual meeting in the Mission hall recently with Minister Rev. J. H. Mathews in the chair.

The ladies had prepared a very delightful supper to which 36 guests sat down. Immediately following the supper, reports of the various departments were given, interspersed with singing. A very pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation of a Bible to Mrs. R. S. Nelson and an electric clock to R. S. Nelson from the congregation. Both Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Nelson have been loyal and efficient workers in the church and will be missed when they move to Grand Forks to which point Mr. Nelson has been promoted.

W. Goodhall was elected to fill the vacancy on the board caused by retirement of Mr. Nelson and Mrs. Goodhall was elected to replace Mrs. S. Brewer who now resides in Vancouver. The personnel of the board for 1934 is as follows: Mrs. B. Dryden, Mr. and Mrs. J. Billy, Mrs. Causey, Mr. and Mrs. Goodall, Miss F. Kinghorn.

Alex Clarkson and Joe Wasak, trappers in the Bull River and Upper Elk valley respectively, were visitors in Natal a few days ago. Both parties report game to be plentiful on their lines.

A public meeting for the formation of the Natal and Michel C.C.F. was held at the Natal Venegia hall, recently. Due to the small attendance of the opening meeting a secretary and president were only elected, the remaining officers will be elected at the next meeting. J. Tarrion of Michel was elected secretary and P. McGovern of Michel was elected president.

Corporal R. S. Nelson of the provincial police, who has been stationed in Natal for the past seven years, is to be transferred to Grand Forks.

Waterloo Gold Mines Strikes Ruby Silver

Waterloo Gold Mines property at Lightning peak, Arrow Lakes area, controlled by Col. Victor Spencer, Ben Smith and associates, reports a strike of 12 inches of ruby silver in a vein varying in width from 2 to 2½ feet. The main tunnel now being driven, is expected to cut the downward extension of several of the smaller veins within the next 80 feet.—Arrow Lakes News.

The Young Ladies' Discussion club were the guests of Mrs. W. G. Small, Tuesday evening, when they listened to a most interesting talk by Mrs. Gus Hansen on her trip to Holland. Mrs. Hanson told of the quaint customs of the Dutch people and dwelt on their thriftiness and the cheapness of living in their dyke-protected kingdom. She also gave a graphic description of the trip home through the Panama canal. Those present were Mrs. R. Keffer, Mrs. A. F. G. Drake, Mrs. F. M. Ethridge, Miss Georgia Martin, Miss Lilian Johnston, Miss N. Jackson, Miss Eunice Goodenough and Miss Bell.

WHIST PRIZES GO TO LINDSAY AND LEPAGE COUPLES

Another pleasant social entertainment was provided by the Catholic Women's league Thursday evening when they were sponsorers for a whist drive and program.

Honors of the game went to Mr. and Mrs. U. Lepage and Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lindsay, who occupied table

There are nearly one and a quarter million seals in the Government-protected herds of the Phibilof Islands, Alaska.

The program included piano selections by Benny Monteleon; harmonica numbers by Arthur Bouchard and recitations by Jeanett Leriger. J. Eccles was master of ceremonies and the ladies' committee included Mrs. M. J. Varseveld, Mrs. P. Rahal, Mrs. L. H. Choquette and Mrs. A. Stenson.

GRAINS RALLY

WINNIPEG, Jan. 26 (CP).—Light hedging sales, a little export business and steadiness in outside markets rallied wheat prices for gains of ⅝ to ¼ cent on the grain exchange today.

May wheat closed at 68, with July at 69¼ cents. Export sales were made at both Pacific and Atlantic ports, the volume being sufficient to absorb offerings and give prices a small boost. Trade volume was light.

Liverpool prices displayed firmness. Chicago wheat had a similar trend to Winnipeg.

Combined shipments of wheat from Australia and Argentina this week ran to 7,361,000 bushels compared with 6,138,000 bushels last week. Australia's share of this was 3,314,000 bushels, about one third of which was destined for non-European countries.

Cash grains sales were confined to odd cars. Coarse grains operations were routine in character with steady prices.

QUIRMERS TO DO GRAPPLING BY NEW RULES

teps Taken to End Alleged Fake Matches

ROWNING STILL HEAVY CHAMPION

ust Pay Wrestlers by Check and Keep Books Open

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—The ew York State Athletic commis- on rewrote its rules governing restling today as a result of a ecent expose of alleged faked atches.

The new code, patterned after its ringent boxing rules, attempts to reak up cliques and troupes in he wrestling business, syndicated atching, and payment of salaries stead of purses to wrestlers, while ill maintaining matches in this ate must be labelled "exhibitions" ather than "contests."

Jim Browning, recognized here as eavyweight champion, retains his atus, and there is a provision in e new rules that "special per- ission" may be given by the com- ission to label any bout a "bout" "contest."

The 11 p.m. closing regulation, therto the automatic end of an ening's entertainment, has also en modified. By permission of the spectors assigned to all shows outs may continue beyond the evious curfew hour.

Before the commission recently ck Pfeffer, a wrestling promoter, arged that for years heavyweight restlers talked their bouts over be- re they put them on and that ampions were made and unmade will, according to their popular- y. All the leading promoters and restlers were summoned to the mmission during the inquiry that llowed and all denied Pfeffer's arges.

EVISE RULES

The commission's final decision id since wrestling here was on an hibition basis the question of nesty of effort was not an issue. evision of the rules, however, has ecided upon as the best means of ecting the situation.

Under the new rules, one-fall atches continued, and wrestlers who commit fouls may have their licenses revoked. The power of referees is increased and fouls are considered "scratching, striking, gouging, butting and strangle holds" as well as deliberately throwing a man from the ring. Joe Savoldi's pet offensive weapon, the drop kick, is specifically barred. All wrestlers must wear shoes.

Payment of wrestlers must be made by cheque, books must be kept by all promoters, and must be open to scrutiny of the commission at all times.

VARIETY

You will be pleased with the wide variety of foods and special dishes listed on our menu. And you will enjoy dining here because they are tastily prepared and appetizingly served.

SKIERS TO MEET AT GOLF LINKS

Ski Club Plans Social Event for Sunday

Instead of waiting for the snow to come to them the members of the Nelson Ski club have decided to go and find it. Plenty of the balmy beautiful covers the Nelson golf course and is just waiting for someone to try it out. Sunday morning and afternoon will find many ski enthusiasts, veterans and amateurs, sliding down the excellent hills that are abundant on the golf links.

Novices need not be afraid to come out and try their "ski legs" as there will be plenty of skiers to show them the elementary steps and to pick them out of the snow banks, should they happen to lose balance.

The club is particularly anxious to have a good turnout of ladies and the younger boys and girls of Nelson as it is only by learning to ski in early years that Nelson skiers will be able to keep up with outside jumpers in future years.

Many people are under the impression that the present mild weather makes the snow sticky, but if the right grease is used a good speed can be obtained.

Everybody will be treated to free hot dogs and coffee at the club house at noon after which skiing will again be participated in.

A truck will leave Dill's service station at 9 a.m. to take skis to the course, skiing will continue in the afternoon and any late arrivals will be made welcome.

Fernie Seniors Lose to Kimberley

Coy Cup Holders Win 8-3 on Home Ice; Small Crowd

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Jan. 26—The Kimberley intermediates, Coy cup holders trimmed the Fernie seniors Thursday night 8-3 on good ice before a small crowd.

Livingstone scored for Kimberley in the first period, with Cavanaugh's score as the bell rang, being disallowed. In the second period Livingstone and Kosak tallied for Kimberley with Timchuk and Affleck adding two for Fernie. In the third period Livingstone got his third and fourth and Dickens and Cavanaugh each made one. Fernie's final goal came from the melee in front of the goal.

Smolik was the outstanding man for Fernie with Commons, Thomson and Peters playing well. Livingstone and Kosak were the best of the smart all-round Kimberley team.

TEAMS WERE

Fernie—Sweeney, Smolik, Millburn, Commons, Thomson, Timchuk, Kasmar, Brown, Peters.

Kimberley—Hutton, Bell, Kosak, Dicken, Affleck, Livingstone, Mellor, Cavanaugh, Lewis, McKenzie.

Clarence Reddick refereed.

PENALTIES

First period— Mellor, Millburn, Peters.

Second period—Cavanaugh.

Third period—Mellor, Kosak, McKenzie.

KIMBERLEY DYNAMITERS ARE READY TO TAKE THE SMOKE EATERS TONIGHT

All Kimberley Men Out But Keiver; Only One Game This Trip

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Jan. 26 — Everything is set for a record crowd when the Trail Smoke Eaters come here tonight. The ice is in excellent shape. The reserved seats are nearly all sold out already, and district roads are in good shape ensuring a large attendance from outside points.

McGillivray will be back on defence with Brown and Reddick. So far Doug Keiver is the only doubtful starter. He was hurt in the game with Rossland Monday.

Coach Jack Pratt is confident the Dynamiters can repeat the licking they handed out to Trail last time the Smoke Eaters played in Kimberley.

Only one game will be played this trip and not a double-header as before.

Windsor Beats Buffalo Bisons

WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 26 (CP)—Windsor Bulldogs tonight continued their climb to promince in the International Hockey league with a 2-0 victory over Buffalo Bisons here.

A nifty solo dash by Sparky Vail early in the third period started the Bulldogs on the road to victory. Paul Runge clinched the honors on a play with Whitey Fields four minutes later.

BROWN RUNS UP 187 COUNTERS

Bradman Scores 128 and N. S. Wales Score 445

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 26 (CP cable)—New South Wales knocked out a total of 445 runs for loss of only two wickets as they opened the last Sheffield shield interstate cricket match of the season today with Victoria.

Don Bradman ran up 128 and Brown was undefeated with 187 runs when stumps were drawn.

The match is in the nature of a test trial, for the team to tour England next summer will all be chosen from players competing in the present match, so far as is known.

Bradman's flawless innings included 17 fours and four sixes, and all the latter were scored off Fleetwood-Smith, left-hand googly bowler.

SLOVAKIANS GO DOWN BY 12-0

Saskatoon Quakers Too Fast; 11th Win for Team

MORAVASKA-ASTRAVA, Czechoslovakia, Jan. 26 (CP cable)—Saskatoon Quakers, Allan cup finalists of last season, swept to an overwhelming 12-0 victory over the Slovan club here tonight in the 11th game of their European tour.

From start to finish the Canadians were much the best, and their opposition had little chance against the sparkling team play and heavy shooting of the Quakers.

Stars of the game were Tommy Dewey, who scored four goals; Ab Welsh, who also collected four; Bert Scharfe, right winger, who added two and Tony Rogers and Ron Silver, who scored the rest.

Since opening their tour at Oslo, Norway, the Quakers have lost only two games, being beaten once by Berlin Skating club and once by a Prahe squad.

In the 11 games, they have scored 44 goals and had only seven scored against them. Including tonight's tussle, Dewey and Scharfe are tied for the scoring leadership of the tour with nine goals each. Welsh has scored eight.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (CP)—Minor gains and losses predominated in today's quiet bond market.

Liens of Denver and Rio Grande gained 1 to more than 3; Toledo and Ohio General 5s were up 11⅛ and International Paper 6s 3½.

Cuban obligations gained 9 points while Germans declined 1 to 5.

(By AL DEMAREE)

Some fuel for the hot stove league. Here's a good Dizzy Dean story that manager Bill Terry vouches for.

One day the Giants were holding "skull practice" in their clubhouse before a game in St. Louis, when Dizzy wandered in. Terry told him the Giants were having a meeting and discussed the various batting weaknesses of the St. Louis club, and asked him to leave.

Dean waved his hand and replied, "That's O. K. with me. Don't worry about me. I know 'em all too, so you won't be telling me anything!'

The two southpaw managers—Charley Grimm and Bill Terry, who do everything on the field left-handed, both write with their right hands. So does Babe Ruth.

Ruth scans his mail carefully since the day he tore up several hundred letters that had accumulated in his locker and found out later that there was $600 enclosed in them.

Canzoneri Brawl Postponed Week

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP) — A 10-round bout between Tony Canzoneri, former lightweight champion, and Cleto Locatelli, European title-holder from Italy, scheduled for Friday night in Madison Square garden, was postponed.

Due to sudden illness, Locatelli asked for the postponement. The bout has been re-scheduled for Feb. 2. He lost to Canzoneri in a previous garden match.

Board to Sponsor Mineral Classes

Text Books Must Be Turned in End of Year

Should proper application be made, the school board will sponsor the proposed prospecting classes which are to be financed jointly by the department of education and the department of mines, it was decided at the board's meeting Friday night. In doing so it will also contribute to incidental expenses such as janitor and light fees.

A communication was received from the department of education that free text books issued in the future would be the property of the board and would have to be kept in good shape and turned in at the end of the term by the pupils.

Miss K. Gordon, school health nurse, was present and made application for her yearly supplies. She made a special appeal for another set of scales.

Since December some $83 had been spent on footwear and welfare work was pretty well under hand Miss Gordon stated. She also stated that infectious diseases were decreasing.

The secretary of the Rotary club wrote asking the board to assist with night classes again this year and invited the members to the next luncheon to go into the question more fully.

The bonspiel next season will be held in Kimberley.

Junior Y.P. Group Takes Church Service

Senior Group Has Social Time at Home of Mrs. Liddicoat

GRAND FORKS, B. C., Jan. 26—The junior group of the Young People's society of St. John's United church took charge of the evening service on Sunday, Albert Eureby gave the scriptural reading and was assisted by Miss Lola Hutton in the devotional exercises. Rev. M. D. Perley gave an inspiring address on courage, strength and honesty. About 20 young girls from the society formed the choir. Miss R. Buchan gave a vocal selection, "Angels Ever Bright and Fair." The Peter Pan orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. J. C. Tonks also assisted.

Following the services about 25 members of the senior group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Liddicoat. The usual old time Sabbath hymns were enjoyed. Miss R. Buchan gave two vocal numbers. James Dunn, pastor of Knox Presbyterian church delighted all those present with a discourse on "Prose and Poetry."

Dr. C. M. Kingston returned from a month's holiday in the east.

Miss Rossmund Buchan returned on Wednesday to her home in Trail.

Miss Jessie Sweeny left this week for Vancouver.

Austin Derby who has been attending the University of Alberta, is paying a short visit to his mother.

MAIL BAG RETURNED

NUNEATON, England (CP)—A mail bag with registered letters including one with $5,000 in it, which dropped out of a truck and was reported lost or stolen, was found later, intact, with children using it for a roadside seat.

West Kootenay Hockey Chatter

A couple of days ago a number of hockey fans were discussing the popular winter pastime in the lobby of a Trail hotel. One of them had just read where a presentation had been made to Murray Murdock of the New York Rangers, who had just completed his 400th game.

The discussion switched to the old timers of the West Kootenay league, and one of them remarked that Frank O'Genski of the Nelson Red Wings can equal any record for length of service in the game. Just how long the popular Nelson player has been playing hockey remains a mystery. He has been in the senior ranks for over 20 years, with the exception of the time he was overseas, and saw considerable service in the junior and intermediate ranks, previous to that.

The gathering, which grew to a considerable number as the discussion went on, all agreed that a loving cup or some other memento should be given the popular Nelson player, and declared, they as well as many other district fans, would be more than willing to donate their share to such a fund.

* * *

Unless the Trail juniors show vastly improved play in future games, they will never earn the right to defend their British Columbia championship title they have held during the last two years.

* * *

There was practically no system in any of their attacks, and the forwards bunched up too much to get anywhere against the strong Rossland defence. Ron Moffatt and Irvin formed one of the strongest junior defences seen in these parts in many years. Moffatt formerly of Edmonton, was the shining light of the game. As well as being the bulwark of the defence, Moffatt sent in at least eight shots that were dead on the Trail net, and every one of them waist high.

* * *

Purcello, Grubisic and Zanussi, on the first string line for Rossland were more than equal to any of the three forward lines that Trail could send out. Delich, Beaulieu and Sdos were capable reliefs.

* * *

McDonall in front of the Rossland net, although having a comparatively easy time during the first and second periods, played great hockey in the last period when Trail had every man up the ice.

* * *

Trail used 13 players in an attempt to stop the fast skating Rossland players. Included in the total was two goalies. While one of the shots that beat Smith (who was in goal during the first two periods), was of the easy variety, Smith stopped at least half a dozen, that were ticketed as sure goals. Smith stopped a total of 23 shots. Weir who replaced him in the last period, played a good game, although not having many tough shots to handle.

* * *

Dabner and Ponak worked hard on the first string Trail forward line. Doherty and Balfour were the best of the subs. Martin starred on defence and led many dangerous attacks on the Rossland net. Hood was not up to the form he displayed last season.

* * *

Nelson it is believed could turn out representative junior and intermediate squads that would more than hold their own with either the Trail or Rossland teams.

PORTLAND IS DOWNED 5-0

Seattle Goes Upon Scoring Spree at Portland

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 26 (CP)—Seattle Sea Hawks turned on a disorganized Portland Buckaroos team tonight and handed them a 5-0 whitewashing in a Northwestern Professional Hockey league fixture here tonight.

The result put Hawks back in a tie with Portland a single point behind the third place Edmonton Eskimos.

After a scoreless first period Hawks hit their stride to rap home three goals in the middle period and add two more for good measure in the last session.

A little more than a minute after the second period opened Jackson sifted through the Bucs defense and passed to Gilhooly who slammed the puck into the Portland net. Five minutes later Jackson took Whittles' pass for Hawks second score with Gilhooly scoring on Fraser's assist at the halfway mark.

Whittles added another counter late in the third period on an assist by Dyck and Tabor ended the scoring with a half minute to go when he beat Rhesume unassisted.

OLD COUNTRY FOOTBALL CHATTER

Only seven of the original members of the English League are in the first division today, but the others are still going, five in the second division, and one in the northern section of the third division. The original dozen are: Derby County, West Bromwich Albions, Blackburn Rovers, Wolverhampton Wanders, Everton, Aston Villa, Stoke City Bolton Wanderers, Preston, North End Notts County, Burnley, and Accrington Stanley.

The English and the Irish leagues are both older organizations than the Scottish, the first named being started in 1888, the Irish in 1890, and the Scottish in 1891.

A Bristol City supporter thinks some mention should be made of the Bristol club's strings of continued successes. Here are a few pointers for the book. When Bristol City turned professional in 1897 -8 they were not beaten until their 16th match, and then by Southampton in the Cup, but the club's best season was 1905-6 when they won promotion to the first division. Of 44 matches played they won 34, lost 4, drew 6 and scored 99 goals to 34.

That season Bristol City started off with a defeat, and then followed up with 24 matches without one defeat, four being drawn. In the Cup competition the same season they lost to Brentford, and after two more league losses wound up the season with 13 games in a row without a loss. Hope "Bristolian" will be satisfied.

Frank Soo, a 19-year-old Chinese player, whose first appearance on the field was for Stoke City against Middlesbrough, is the first Chinese to play in English League football. He is an inside-left, and when he stepped on the field at Middlesbrough, he realised the ambition of his life. He was born at Buxton.

Everton had made all arrangements with Chelsea for the transfer of Hughie Gallacher, but at the last moment the player himself backed out. Gallacher is not so dense that he did not realise that as soon as the great scoring "Dixie" Dean recovers from his operation he will have to play the role of spectator, because the Goodison park crowd and Dean are inseparable.

One Scottish club has gone on the iron standard. Recently the Mossend Juniors left back was transferred to Holytown United for fifty sheets of corrugated iron, which established a new record.

George Camsell, of Middlesbrough, who has developed into a dashing goal-getter, slugged along for two years in the third team until one day the club was short of a leader and he got his chance. This happened just after Barnsley had refused to pay $1000 for his transfer. Since that day he has won international honors and is worth his weight in gold to Middlesbrough.

When Preston North End was the leading club in England the directors startled the soccer world by paying $500 for a player. That record, for such it was then, was broken by Aston Villa officials whom many thought were crazy when they paid $1750 for a man. The record now is the $51,700 which the late Herbert Chapman paid Bolton Wanderers on behalf of Arsenal for David Jack.

Toronto, Montreal and Hamilton are not the only centers in eastern Canada where may be found soccer players considered worthy a trial with the best teams in the Old Country. The last to leave the Dominion for a month's trial with Glasgow Celtic of the Scottish league is Jack Lafferty, the inside-left with Sarnia last season, and formerly with London Carlings. Third Lanark of the Scottish league also were willing to put Lafferty through his places. Lafferty learned the rudiments of the game in the Old Country.

The book-shelves of Billy Davies of Swansea, are filled with tomes on anatomy, electrical surgery, massage, etc., and a directory of licensed houses and inns. It looks as if Billy will either become a trainer or a "Bonifacc" when his playing days are over.

Brown, the centre-forward from South Africa who has joined Huddersfield Town, was better known in the union as a cricketer, and may wield the willow for some big club next summer.

ESKIMOS HOLD CALGARY TIED

No Score in the Game and Only Two Penalties

CALGARY, Jan. 26 (CP)—Calgary Tigers and Edmonton Eskimos played 70 minutes to a scoreless a tie in a Northerwestern Pro Hockey league fixture here tonight, only two penalties were handed out during the game, both of them to Kenny, Eskimo defenceman.

Less than 500 fans turned out to watch the teams wallow on the water-covered ice. A chinook in the last few days had sent the temperature up to about 50 degrees.

Combination play was practically impossible and one puddle just outside one of the bluelines, caused more than its share of trouble. It was right in the centre of the rink and spoiled the centreman's chance to pass to his wings, and if a long shot were tried the puck went only a few feet while the defencemen were covered time and again with the water thrown up by the shots.

ing tiaras of diamonte or brilliants.

The costume of the Countess of Bessborough was the center of interest to everyone. Her excellency wore a beautiful robe of silver cloth brocaded in small design. It was fitted into the skirt, which fell in graceful fullness to the floor and into a circular train at the back.

SILVER CLOTH

The court train of silver cloth fell gracefully from the shoulders, where ropes of diamonte fell to the waist. The train was lined with aquarine velvet and a broad band of brown fox fur was a perfect finish to this costume. She wore a lovely tiara of diamonds and a broad diamond bracelet while her shoes had brilliant buckles.

The train was held by two pages, Master Angus Wilson, son of Norman Wilson, and the Hon. Cairine Wilson and by Master Donald MacLaren, son on Brigadier-General and Mrs. C. H. MacLaren. They wore costumes of dark blue velvet, braided in gold, with white satin waistcoats, lace ruffles, white stockings and black patent leather shoes.

GLITTERING GOLD LACE

Mrs. Gordon Ives, her excellency's lady-in-waiting wore a dainty costume of pink romaiba, the bodice draped in cowl effect, continuing into a yoke in the skirt, which fell in small box pleats to the floor. The train of glittering gold lace was limited with crepe and fell from the shoulders in graceful folds. She wore a tiara of diamonte and brilliants and a dainty design.

WEARS ORCHIDS

Mrs. Hugh Guthrie, wife of the minister of justice, was striking in a modal of white panne velvet with long lines trimmed with silver sequins. The short train was of silver and she wore orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. W. D. Robbins, wife of the United States minister to Canada, was in light blue satin, with court train of dark blue velvet. She wore a diamond tiara. Miss Helen Robbins wore a frock of white satin, with court train of lacquer red velvet. This was the same costume worn when she was presented at the court of St. James last July.

Mrs. George Black, wife of the speaker of the house of commons, was in a Spencer model of cyster ring velvet, styled on princess lines. Her ornaments were pearls and diamonds, and she sarried a large white feather fan.

Miss Duff, sister of Sir Lyman P. Duff, chief justice of Canada, was in a model of lelong, of white crepe Marco, with court train of the same material, lined with rose and silver lame. Talisman roses were carried and she wore pearl ornaments.

Mrs. Maurice Dupre, wife of the solicitor-general, was in a gown of white satin, made on the most severe lines. A shoulder knot of orchids added a contrasting touch.

Mrs. Alfred Duranleau, wife of the minister of marine, was in gold lame, with court train caught at the shoulders with touches of mink. Miss Madeleine Gagnon-Blouin, of Montreal, the guest of Mrs. Alfred Duranleau, wore white satin with a court train and she carried American Beauty roses.

Mrs. W. A. Gordon, wife of the minister of labor, mines and immigration, wore white crepe romaine, veiled in silver threaded lace, with train of white romaine, beaded in pearls and crystals.

Mrs. Murray MacLaren, wife of the minister of pensions and national health, was in pale grey lace, with silver tissue train. Diamonds were worn with this becoming gown.

Mrs. R. J. Manion, wife of the minister of railways and canals, was in a model by Lelong, of white, handwoven lace, with silver thread lame, made on classic lines. With a court train of the same material.

Mrs. Edgar N. Rhodes, wife of the minister of finance, was in a handsome model of white crepe romaine, with epaulettes of tulle. Her court train was of silver, trimmed with rhinestones, and she parried a feather fan.

Mrs. H. H. Stevens, wife of the minister of trade and commerce, chose a black transparent velvet, smart with touches of white satin. Her train of black velvet was lined with white satin.

PEARL ORNAMENTS

Mrs. Hugh A. Stewart, wife of the minister of public works, was in a model of gold and bronze lame, with bronze velvet court train, with slipp

AIR SHARES TAKE A RIDE

Wright Goes Up 30; Rails Sluggish and Decline General

By JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP).—Stocks found further progress difficult in many directions today, although numerous specialities continued to forge ahead. The net change was a decline of seven-tenths point in a turnover of 2,516,870 shares.

Aviation shares took another ride. Wright Aeronautical skyrocketed nearly 30. This issue, traded in 10-share lots, is usually inactive and the floating supply is limited. Allied Chemical reached a new 1933-34 high but closed unchanged.

Rail stocks were rather sluggish; Northern Pacific gained a point but Santa Fe lost as much. Last week's freight loadings were above 1933 and the previous week, the latter improvement being in contrast to a small decline a year ago.

Toronto Stronger

TORONTO, Jan. 26 (CP)—Buoyancy ruled on the Toronto stock exchange today with half a dozen groups revealing definite rising tendencies on a heavy volume.

In a belated spurt Walkers common advanced 1¼, Industrial Alcohol ⅝ and Distillers Seagram and Brewers and Distillers each ⅛.

Ford A in active trade, advanced ¼ to 20¼. Other interlisteds were slow with Brazilian and C.P.R. down ⅛ to ¼. International Nickel eased 15 cents.

Massey Harris picked up and gained ¼ to 6. Gains of half a point or more cropped up in Canadian Canners first preferred, Laura Secord, Western Canada Flour preferred and Westons preferred. Banks advanced 2 to 5 points.

A DETERMINED SCOUT

An example of persistence which won was offered by Rover Scout Fred Blight in capturing the 28th running of the Calgary Herald Christmas road race against 46 other finishers. Blight first competed as a 16-year-old Scout in 1926, taking fourth place. Subsequent places farther back did not discourage him, and in the last run, in 10-below weather, he came through. Rover Scouts Taylor and Broderick took 14th and 27th places.

WHEAT HIGHER

CHICAGO, Jan. 26 (CP)—Rainless skies over drought sections of the southwest brought higher prices for wheat today. Traders, however, showed disposition to await settlement of monetary matters at Washington.

Wheat closed firm ⅝ to ⅞ higher; corn ¼ to ½ up; oats ⅜ to ¾ higher and provisions unchanged to a rise of 17 cents.

Report of St. John's Church Excellent

Reelect Board of Trustees at Grand Forks

GRAND FORKS, B.C., Jan. 26—The annual congregational meeting of St. John's United church was held in the basement of the church on January 19. Commencing at 6 p.m. a very excellent supper was served by the ladies of the church at the close of which the large gathering joined in community singing for a short period.

Rev. D. M. Perley called the meeting to order and Dr. C. M. Kingston was elected chairman.

The report of the session was read by E. L. Kidd.

Mrs. J. C. Taylor gave the report of the Women's association, Mrs. E. Stewart presented the Sunday school report, Miss J. Stewart presented the board of stewards financial report, and trustees report was given by R. Hughes.

Junior C.G.I.T. report presented by Miss Irene Bickerton showed good work accomplished during the year.

During a short interlude in the program Mrs. W. Gowans and Miss Muirhead sang a duet which was much appreciated.

Kenneth Campbell presented reports for the Junior Young People's society and the senior Bible class in the Sunday school. Many young people are attending these groups.

Elizabeth Mooyboer presented the report for the senior C.G.I.T., showing excellent work being done among the older girls.

WORK AMONG BOYS

G. L. Landon and William Euerby Jr. gave reports on the Tuxis and Trail Ranger groups showing the work being done among the boys.

Short reports on the junior and senior choirs were given by Mrs. W. Gowans, Mrs. J. C. Tonks and Miss Edna Stuart. Special mention was made of the fine work done by Mrs. Hutton and Mrs. Donaldson in making surplices for the junior choir members.

The report of the Women's Missionary society was read by Mrs. Knowles showing that nine regular meetings had been held by 10 active members. In April Miss Isobel McIntosh, travelling secretary, visited the district and gave an interesting talk on home missions. In August the presbyterial president, Mrs. McKenzie, of Trail and Miss Frances Kinghorn of Natal visited the district on W.M.S. work. Irene Hutton gave an excellent report for the Mission band.

Miss Marjorie Kidd gave a report on the Senior Young People's society indicating that many interesting Sunday evening programs and Tuesday evening program meetings had been put on during the winter months.

Rev. D. M. Perley stated the church had done very well considering such a difficult year. He pointed out that the church had to meet about $200 extra expense during the year.

Dr. Kingston gave an interesting talk on churches visited in Toronto on his recent trip there.

ELECT OFFICERS

Election of officers was as follows:

Members of session: H. V. Knowles, R. Hughes, J. Donaldson.

Board of stewards: H. V. Knowles, E. C. Hennigar, Dr. C. M. Kingston, William Euerby Jr., R. W. Hughes, J. R. Brown, G. L. Landon, Miss Jessie Stuart, Mrs. John McKie, Hugh Sutherland.

Board of trustees; Judge J. R. Brown, Mr. Hales, Dr. Kingston and R. W. Hughes, reelected.

A vote of thanks was passed to all who contributed their services to the welfare of the church during the year 1933.

British Currencies Show Strength

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (CP)—British currencies ended up the day with a show of strength in the foreign exchange markets today.

The pound closed at $4.95⅛ for a net loss of only ⅛ of a cent. The Canadian dollar fared well, and wound up the day at a discount of ⅛ per cent, up ⅛ from yesterday. The French franc, closing at 6.21 cents, was off .01 of a cent.

LAST DAY FOR FILING APPEAL

Must Be 10 Clear Days Before Court of Revision

With the civic court of revision respecting the assessment roll due to sit to hear appeals at 10 o'clock on the morning of Feb. 8, and the statute requiring "10 clear days notice" of appeals, Saturday would seem to be the last day for filing notice of such appeals, by any property-owners concerned. This would seemingly be the case if the "10 clear days" means undivided calendar days, comprised of the last seven days of February and the last three in January. So far as recalled, the question of exact time limit has never come up for decision here.

Notification regarding the court of revision and of the "10 clear days" requirement was given all property-owners in the assessment notices mailed out Jan. 1. Unless an intending appellant is ready to take chances on the interpretation of the statute, he will have his notice of appeal either at the city hall or on its way today.

Following the usual practice of assessors, except when a reconstruction of the assessment basis is under way, Assessor W. E. Wasson, in making up the current roll, which the late council adopted subject to the court of revision, used the late roll as a basis, making necessary changes where new buildings or other factors entered into the matter.

house, has sponsored a motion to establish a parliamentary committee to investigate the causes of crime and to determine whether Canadian penitentiaries "are doing all that could be done toward protection of society by the reforming of the criminal."

William Irvine, U.F.A., MacLeod, would instruct the government to proceed with a national building program to be financed by a direct issue of noninterest bearing Dominion notes.

ECONOMIC CHANGES

J. S. Woodsworth, leader of the C.C.F. party, has reintroduced his motion to establish an economic system "based on the principle of cooperative production and distribution in which human needs receive first consideration."

William Lucas, U.F.A., Camrose, would create a nationalised system of credit and finance. A. A. Heaps, Labor, Winnipeg North, would shorten hours of labor as an unemployment relief measure and A. W. Neill, Ind., Common-Alberni, would nationalise unemployment insurance.

G. G. H. Dickie, Cons., Nanaimo, will seek adoption of a national flag for Canada.

William Duff, Lib., Antigonish-Guysboro, has given notice of a resolution for a reciprocity pact with Washington. It would permit the natural products of Canada to enter the American market free of duty in return for free entry into Canada of certain processed goods.

Bi-metallism is proposed by Thomas Reid, Lib., New Westminster. He would join silver with gold as the legal currency base and recognise silver as legal tender at a fixed ratio of gold.

BANKS STRONG

MONTREAL, Jan. 26 (CP).—A late rally placed gains in the majority on the Montreal stock exchange today. Trading for the most part, influenced by Wall street, had been hesitant.

Banks displayed the broadest gains. Royal at 154 and Commerce at 155½ each were up 5½ and 5, respectively. Canadian Cottons jumped 7 points at 45 and Dominion Textile 2 points to 73, a record new high.

Among leaders, International Nickel lost 15 cents at 22.80, Montreal Power advanced ⅛ at 37½ while Hollinger gained 30 cents at $12.

Sales 18,726; bonds, $15,450.

DOLLAR STRONG

MONTREAL, Jan. 26 (CP)—The Canadian dollar was strong on currency exchanges here today.

The United States dollar showed a small loss.

The pound closed at $5.00 5-16, off ⅜ cent from yesterday. The United States dollar lost ¼ of 1 per cent at ⅜ of 1 per cent premium. The franc lost .01 cent at 6.27 cents.

ESTIMATES

worn out, while the marine department of public works will get an additional $1,459,650 for deepening the St. Lawrence river ship channel.

National defence as a whole, however, and public works, are both decreased, the former by $370,668 and the latter by $3,295,531.

FARE COSTS

All decreases were accomplished by paring administrative costs to the bone without crippling essential services. It is understood the projected public works program, if carried out, will be provided for in supplementary estimates to be brought down later in the session, but that apart from that item, if decided upon, and unemployed relief, the main estimates will cover the entire expenditure for the year.

In keeping with the usual custom, unemployment relief and railway deficits are not shown in the estimates.

Outstanding decreases in the summary are shown as follows:

Public works $3,295,531; pensions $2,980,093; national health $923,000; post office $997,00; trade and commerce $900,000; national revenue $845,000; agriculture $858,000; miscellaneous $722,000; civil government $533,000.

REDUCE INTEREST

Interest on the public debt (including sinking fund) is reduced by $778,000 due to lowered interest rates and more favorable exchange conditions.

The total consolidated revenue expenditures are estimated at $337,543,773 as compared with $353,497,860; capital expenditures are estimated at $6,044,500 as compared with $7,165,850.

The promise of the government a year ago to attempt a saving of a further $14,000,000 in the cost of administration, has been completely fulfilled, it was learned and is reflected in the estimated total reduction.

Public works will be confined entirely to repairs and maintenance, so far as the main estimates are concerned.

Mail subsidies and steamship subventions are reduced by $169,930, ocean and river services by $207,525, lighthouse and coastal services by $316,493 and fisheries by $252,950.

Estimated expenditures for public works as allocated to the provinces are as follows:

Public buildings: Nova Scotia, $77,000; New Brunswick, $10,000; maritime provinces generally, $40,000; Quebec, $129,700; Ontario, $141,500; Manitoba, $15,000; Saskatchewan, $53,500; Alberta, $17,760; British Columbia, $59,000.

Harbors and rivers: Nova Scotia, $349,500; Prince Edward Island, $52,700; New Brunswick, $90,500; Quebec, $404,000; Ontario, $234,700; Manitoba, $44,000; Saskatchewan, Alberta and Northwest Territories, $10,000; British Columbia, $128,700; Yukon, $5000.

Dredging: Maritime provinces, $151,200; Ontario and Quebec, $215,500; Manitoba, Saskachewan and Alberta, $50,000; British Columbia, $140,000.

U.S. DOLLAR UP

LONDON, Jan. 26 (AP)—A steady demand carried the United States dollar 1⅛ cents to the pound higher today. It closed at $4.94½ to the pound.

Trading was quiet. Gold currencies showed little change. The French franc closed at 79.70 in comparison to yesterday's figure of 79.84.

The dollar closed in Paris at 16.06 francs (6.02 cents to the franc), up four centimes from yesterday's figure of 16.04 (6.22 cents).

348 Illigitimate Babes in B.C. '33

VICTORIA, Jan. 26 (CP).—An increase from 288 to 348 in one year in the number of illegitimate children born in British Columbia is shown in the annual report of British Columbia's vital statistics released today. The increase is shown during a year when there was a drop of 250 in the total number of births recorded.

The question has been raised as to whether tightening of British Columbia marriage laws two years ago has been responsible for the increase in the number of children born out of wedlock.

In this connection it is pointed out that under changes in the Vital Statistics act which went into effect last July many children who come under the classification of illegitimate have now been registered as legitimate. The change applies to children born since the parents were married, or who were not registered at the time of birth.

As high as six to an average classroom were discovered when the vital statistics branch called for registration in schools of the province recently. Parents are notified that it is possible to make fresh registration and remove the stigma of illegitimacy from the child and many have taken advantage in the change in the law.

LAKE SHORE UP

TORONTO, Jan. 26 (CP)—Lacking a definite lead from the senior gold group listings on the Toronto mining exchange finished just about where they left off yesterday. Volume was around 1,500,000 shares.

Lake Shore gained 75 cents to $43, Hollinger 20 cents to 12.10, Bralorne 15 to 10.90 and Wright Hargreaves 10 to 6.90.

Unloading of Mucasa developed proportions and the close was down 11 cents at 2.13.

Nickel weakened 15 cents to 22.80, Sherritt and Sudbury advanced 4 to 6 cents.

SUGAR QUIET

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—Raw sugar quiet, prices unchanged: March 1.45, May 1.50, July 1.54, Sept. 1.58, Dec. 1.63B, Jan. 1.64B.

Refined unchanged at 4.30 for fine granulated.

24 POPULAR AGE FOR GROOM AND 21 FOR BRIDE B.C. STATISTICS SHOW

3604 Marriages Performed in Province During the Past Year

VICTORIA, Jan. 26 (CP)—Twenty-four is the popular age for a bridegroom in British Columbia and 21 the popular age for a bride, statistics released by the provincial health department in the annual report, show; but over 200 grooms waited until they were over 50 and a couple were over 80. The number of brides of 50 and over was small.

In 3604 marriages, there were 287 bridegrooms of 24 years of age. There were 390 brides of 21. With the exception of just over a hundred married before they had passed their twenties the marriage age for men started at 21, the total jumping from 79 marrying at 20 years of age to 222 at 21 years.

With the total rising and falling between the age of 21 and 32 it slides right down to 21 bridegrooms of 49 years. The records show 104 under the next head of bridegrooms between the ages of 50 and 54 years. Twenty men got married after 70 years of age, including two octogenarians.

There were 245 brides of 18 and 12 were under 16. In contrast to the ages of men there were only 108 women who got married after they had passed the half century mark.

The overwhelming proportion of marriages were between bachelors and spinsters, but 183 widows got married again and 219 widowers made the second plunge.
