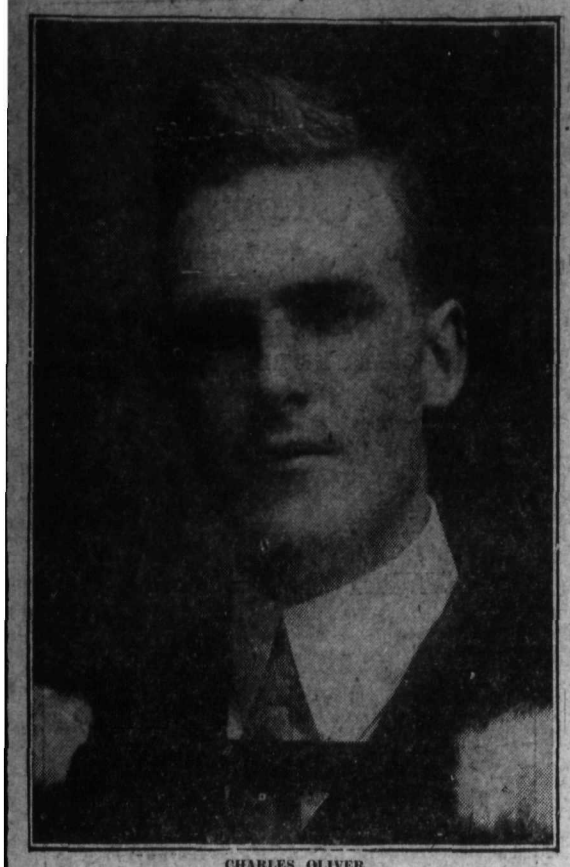
OL. 28 NELSON, B. C. SATURDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 7, 1929 NO. 200

Accused by Latimer



CHARLES OLIVER

Son of the late premier John Oliver, resident of Penticton, who comes for trial on Tuesday at Penticton on a charge of forcible seizure in connection with the kidnapping and tarring and feathering of Dr. V. E. Latimer of Penticton. He will likely elect speedy trial. An alibi it is stated will be his defense. Rumors in Penticton are that others not so far implicated may make statements that will clear Oliver. There are rumors in the Okanagan that six others may be arrested.

$1,189,000 Is Spent on Public Works in West Kootenay; This Season

$123,000 Is Spend on Bridges; Ferries Cost $52,000

A total sum of $1,189,000 has been spent on roads, bridges, river bank protection, ferries, mines department assistance, etc., in the West Kootenay district to date, according to figures obtained from the public works department. Of this sum $660,000 was for consruction, reconstruction and surfacing of roads; $240,000 went for maintenance of roads and trails; bridges cost $123,000 and ferries $52,000.

This work, under supervision of the public works department, was carried on, in all the West Kootenay district, which includes the Slocan, Arrow Lakes, Kootenay lake, Creston, Trail-Rossland and the Revelstoke section of the country.

MAJOR ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Major accomplishments of the department to date include the completion or near completion of 13 new bridge spans; construction and maintenance of three ferry barges; oiling of 60 miles of main highways during the summer months; construction of 2.2 miles of 18-foot asphaltic roadway with concrete shoulders between Trail and Rossland; widening and conditioning of existing highways; construction of a diversion between Silverton and Eight Mile and the keeping open of 390 miles of highway during the winter months of 1928 and 1929.

Following is a brief summary of the work done by the department to date, according to figures prepared by the department:

One heavy section of work completed this year was the diversion between Silverton and Eight-Mile creek, a distance of almost 5 miles. This eliminates what is known as the Galena Farm hill, and reduces the maximum grade to 8 per cent.

Table Shows Expenditure on Public Works in West Kootenay District to Date

Following is a statement showing the extent and nature of projects authorized by the provincial public works department in West Kootenay during the fiscal year from April 1, 1929, to March 31, 1930.

The figures are as follows:

Roads constructed, reconstructed or surfaced	$660,000
Roads and trails maintained	240,000
Bridges constructed or renewed	123,000
Bridges maintained and smaller structures renewed	52,000
Mines department assistance	39,000
River bank protection	23,000
Ferries reconstructed and maintained	52,000
Total Cost	$1,189,000

Widening operations with a power shovel were also undertaken in the vicinity of Rosebery, New Denver, Three Forks and Sandon, and a diversion was constructed near Parapet which cuts out a dangerous section of the old road above the C. P. R. tracks at that point.

A further stretch of four miles of standard road was built from Summit lake toward Rosebery, leaving about 9½ miles to be constructed next year to give through connection.

The main roads in the Slocan valley, Kaslo and Arrow lakes area were all gone over with tractors and heavy graders, and in this way were widened where the nature of

Tarred and Feathered

DR. V. E. LATIMER

Above is a photo of the Penticton ear, nose and throat specialist who is the accuser of Charles Oliver in Penticton's sensational "tar and feather" case. Latimer who since the start of Oliver's preliminary hearing on a charge of forcible seizure, has declared he will sue Oliver for defamation of character. The doctor was seized at his office, taken five miles from Penticton and on an Indian reserve he was stripped, splashed with creolin, showered with feathers and left to walk home.

9 Lives Lost at Sea Off England, Shipping in Danger; Rescue Many

One Vessel from Ireland Unreported; Damage in Cities

LONDON, Dec. 6.—Severe gales developed in the English channel tonight and again menaced shipping around the British Isles and off the coast of Spain. Violent winds had already taken a toll of 19 lives at sea, and seven on land with one other vessel missing.

The Clyde Line Steamship Arklow, was 18 hours overdue at Waterford, Irish Free State. Three lifeboats from Bembridge, Isle of Wight, Worthing and Selsey, put out into the storm tonight in response to signals from an unidentified ship which the gale was forcing ashore at Selsey. A cable ship has also proceeded to the aid of the vessel, which was believed to be a Hungarian steamer. Along the south and southwest coasts of England, gusts of wind reached a velocity of 60 miles an hour.

CRUISERS COLLIDE

From Spain came a brief despatch that two cruisers of the Spanish navy had collided off Ferrol, the northwest corner of Spain. No mention was made of their condition, or whether help would be required. Spanish sources also reported an Italian steamer on fire and asking aid off Mogador, Morocco. It was said that the vessel was in a precarious position because no other ships had been reported in the vicinity.

DROWNED

The most serious disaster of the storm thus far, was the foundering of the steamship Frances Duncan, off Lands End, with a loss of 16 of her crew of 21. The other five clung to the wreckage until picked up by the steamer Alice Marie. An Irish fishing boat with three men, disappeared during the storm.

Torrential rains which accompanied the gale, increased the already extensive damage from floods in Wales, Portugal and Spain. Land communications in England were severely disrupted and extensive property damage done. Shipping in the English channel was practically at a standstill and air service also crippled.

COLD WINTER IS OPINION OF THE METEOROLOGIST

"We are certainly having a very dry season and even yet the areas of high and low pressure are following abnormal paths both across the Pacific and this country," says F. Napier Denison, Dominion meteorologist at Victoria, in a letter to the Dominion public works department at Nelson.

If they persist this will be a very cold and dry winter on the North Pacific coast," continues Mr. Denison.

CALL LOANS BY CANADA'S BANKS SHOW DECREASES

Call Loans Outside Fall Off Even More; Current Loans Increase

OTTAWA, Dec. 6—The bank statements for the end of October shows a falling off in call loans by Canadian banks, both in this country and abroad. In Canada, the call loans were reduced from $280,805,686, the total at the end of September, to $268,336,003 at the end of October. The call loans outside Canada showed an even greater falling off. On September 30, they totalled $313,381,231 and on October 31, they were $252,283,450.

On the other hand there was an increase of current loans in Canada from $1,404,371,359 to $1,473,427,797. The total for the end of October was $246,255,474 more than the banks had out in current loans in Canada at the same date last year. There was also a slight increase in the current loans outside Canada.

Demand deposits showed an increase over the month before, whereas, notice or saving deposits remained almost stationary.

CADY GAS TUG BURNED HERE

Fire of Unknown Origin Develops Late in Afternoon; Was Insured

Considerable damage was done to G. V. Cadys gas tug, "Morsby", by fire of unknown origin which broke out in the interior of the vessel about 5:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The tug, which was in its winter moorings beside the government dredge next the shipyard where it had been moved from the city wharf earlier in the afternoon, had no crew aboard when the fire broke out.

First sign of the blaze was noticed by G. Clerihew, operator of the Nelson ferry, who immediately turned in an alarm to the city fire department. In a matter of minutes the fire department had arrived and run a hose from a hydrant to the burning tug. Before the fire was controlled the side of the dredge had caught on fire but the blaze was extinguished before any more damage than a severe scorching, was done.

Though it was hard to ascertain the actual damage done on account of the dark, it is understood that the destruction of the cabin was the greatest damage done to the tug.

The tug, powered by a diesel engine, was brought in from the coast by Mr. Cady, last spring and measured some 45 feet from stem to stern.

Fire insurance was carried on the vessel.

ADNER DENIES HE WILL RESIGN

OTTAWA, Dec. 6—Retirement of Hon. H. Stevens is regarded in Conservative circles as making more defence plans for organization of the party by Gen. McRae, official organizer. Mr. Stevens who supported Rt. Hon. Meighen against the leadership of Rt. R. B. Bennett, is stated as not taken kindly to plans for strengthening the Conservative ranks.

Senator J. Ladner today laughed at reports that he, too, planned to retire,

HIGH CEREMONY WEEK IN ROME

ROME, Dec. 6.—Rome lives this week in an atmosphere of high ceremony and meetings of state.

Yesterday King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena paid their first visit to Pope Pius. Tomorrow, Crown Prince Umbert and his sisters, Princess Yolanda and Maria, accompanied by the queen, will also visit the pontiff to discuss the settlement of the Roman question and the end of discord between the house of Savoy and the Holy See.

PIPING TIMES IN PEACE IN WASHINGTON

President Hoover Has Had Busy Week; May Be Fateful One

SOME CRITICISM ON TARIFF STAND

Business Administration Has Troubles in Foreign Affairs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The past week has been in Washington and particularly in the White House one of those "piping times of peace." Mr. Herbert Hoover delivered to congress his message and his budget for the sessions. He addressed a gathering of business leaders and he consulted with Secretary of State Stimson on the matter of Russia and the Kellogg pact. The week may be a fateful one for the fortunes of the administration.

The president's message to congress was generally accepted by the press as a business-like, if lengthy, review of the "state of the union." There was some criticism of his tariff stand. The New York Times says:

"About the unhappy mess into which tariff legislation has fallen he speaks with less energy and with slighter inclination to assert his leadership than had been hoped."

The Detroit Free Press on the other hand thinks he made it evident that he still believes in limited tariff revision, principally for the benefit of the farmer."

WASHINGTON WATCHES

Washington, the home of the prophets, as well as "the sons of wild asses" to quote a senator, is watching the development of the president's career narrowly at the moment. In view of the failure of congress to get through the tariff bill at the special session just ended, and the agility displayed by the president following the stock market crash, critics are inclined to place most of the presidential fortunes upon the success of his attempt to stabilize business and preserve the prosperity of the country.

In foreign affairs, the administration had its troubles initiating the move to remind Russia of the Kellogg pact in the Manchurian difficulties. Washington was severely snubbed by Moscow.

The incident is described by one observer as follows:

"The Kellogg pact was their baby, and Russia kicked their baby in the face."

Is Promoted to Rank of Group Captain in Air

TOOAWA, Dec. 6—Wing Commander E. W Stedman, chief aeronautical engineer in the department of national defence, has been promoted to the rank of group captain, the highest rating in the air service of the Dominion.

The official announcement of the promotion made today, recalls the prominent part Group Captain Stedman has played in aeronautical development in Canada. He is recognized as one of the world's foremost aero engineers and recently was honored by election as a fellow of the Royal Aeronautical society.

TWO KILLED ON VANCOUVER STREET

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6.—Lloyd Morrison, 17, and an aged man named Warner, were killed here tonight on Fourth avenue when the motor cycle on which Morrison was riding collided with Warner. Doris O'Connor, 17, who was riding with Morrison, was seriously injured, and is in a critical condition in hospital.

KELLOGG PREDICTS NAVAL AGREEMENT AT CONFERENCE

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—Former Secretary of state Frank B. Kellogg, upon his return from London today, said that Secretary Stimson's note to Russia was "perfectly proper," and that the Soviet's reply was in no way weakening to the effectiveness of the Kellogg peace pact.

The note urging Russia to make peace with China was timely, he said, and it is perfectly proper, in international practice, to call the attention of nations to the obligations of treaty.

"London is now looking forward to the navel conference," he said, "and I believe the nations will come to an agreement."

PASTOR FACES MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE, COAST

First Instance That Man Is Charged After Jury Returned "Accidental Death"

VICTORIA, Dec. 6—Charged with manslaughter following the shooting of Louis Godtel on November 18, while hunting at Sooke, Rev. Samuel Lundie, pastor of Knox Presbyterian church at Sooke, has been remanded in provincial police court on bail of $2000 and will appear for preliminary hearing next Wednesday afternoon. The case is the first instance known in Victoria where prosecution of a hunting fatality has followed a verdict of accidental death being returned by a coroner's jury.

Hon. R. H. Pooley, attorney general, explained: "Early this fall I decided that all such cases should be subjected to prosecution for manslaughter, irrespective of verdicts rendered by coroners' juries. It cannot be tolerated that people can be so careless with fire arms when hunting in the bushes.

THREE PLANES WITH RESCUED AT WINNIPEG

Lost MacAlpine Expedition Returns to Civilization Safely

MRS. MacALPINE AND SON GREET AVIATOR

All Happy; Pay Honor to Eskimos and to Plane Mechanics

WINNIPEG, Dec. 6.—A chapter of stirring adventures—the greatest in the history of Canadian aviation—was closed here this afternoon when three giant planes of the MacAlpine party soared in from the north to a perfect landing on the ice of the Red river, at the Brandon avenue aerial base of the Western Canada Airways.

Col. C. D. H. MacAlpine and his seven mates — rescued from the perils of the barren lands, where they had been lost to all knowledge of the outside world for 51 days—had returned to civilization, far from the treacherous snow and ice of the far off Arctic shores.

From the gateway of the north, The Pas, and a little mining town, Cranberry Portage, 50 miles distant, the planes travelled today on the last flight of the 2000 mile aerial trail—a trail of adventure and mishap—from Cambridge Bay, site of the lonely Hudson's Bay post, on Victoria Island, to where the MacAlpine aviator-explorers were guided by Eckimo hunters after weeks of wandering.

It was a scene of joyous welcome that was witnessed on the ice of the ancient Red river today. As the arctic clad adventurers stepped from their planes, they were greeted by wives, sweethearts, children and friends, as well as scores of well-wishers who had awaited the stirring moment.

SUTTON'S PLANE FIRST

The first plane to soar out of the clear sky carried Col. MacAlpine, Major R. F. Baker, of St. Catharines, Ont., and Alex Milne, Winnipeg, mechanic, of the original lost party, and it also brought members of the Blanchet rescue patrol.

It was piloted by Captain Charles Sutton. Soon another came roaring in, with Ken Dewar at the controls, and some time later came H. Hollick-Kenyon, one of the northland search patrol aces, with his ship to write "finis" to the weeks of adventure and hardship.

In all, the planes returned to civilization 19 men, either members of the MacAlpine party or of the search expedition. One of the MacAlpine men remained at The Pas, "Don" Goodwin, who had three toes amputated, the lone casualty of the frozen trails. While Richard Pearce, editor of the Northland Miner, the first of the explorers to reach Winnipeg, was at his home in Toronto tonight.

"BATH AND A SHAVE"

The 19 men from the north had one desire. It was unanimous. "A warm bath and shave," and from the river landing there was a rush to autos and then to downtown hotels, with all the comforts of civilization.

Surrounded by Mrs. MacAlpine and his son, who came from Toronto for the "great day" of greeting, Col. MacAlpine commented on his adventure at his hotel suite tonight. He frankly described the trip as "a failure" because it had failed of its objective.

"The rea heroes of this trip are the airmen of the Western Canada Airways, who rescued us," he declared.

"What feature of all your experience impressed you the most?" he was asked.

"Our Eskimo friends. Their kindness was remarkable. They helped supply us with food. I don't know what we would have done without them."

Doctor Latimer Is Threatened; Would Throw Acid in Face

Tar and Feather Victim Receives Anonymous Letter

IS ASKED LEAVE CITY WITHIN WEEK

Not Aroused by Threat Penticton Tense as Trial Nears

PENTICTON, Dec. 6—Among the new developments of the Latimer kidnapping case, which has been keeping Penticton in a tense state of excitement for more than a week, is receipt by Dr. V. A. Latimer, tar and feathering victim, of a new anonymous letter. The epistle, written in ink in a rather bad hand assails the doctor in unprintable terms and concludes, "If yor are in town a week from now, I shall throw sulphuric acid in your face." M. M. Colquhoun, Dr. Latimer's counsel, is endeavoring to trace the authorship, but, like his client is not aroused by the threat.

This letter is in a different hand-writing and on different paper from that received by Magisirate Guernsey before the preliminary hearing. Indeed, it was apparently written with a different spirit, since his worship's epistle was evidently directed against Charles Oliver, now facing trial on a charge of kidnapping Dr. Latimer.

In the meantime the town is waiting tensely for Tuesday, when Oliver is expected to elect for speedy trial before Judge Brown. Inspector Cruikshanks of the provincial police was here for a time to launch the probe on behalf of that force, but he has left the case in the hands of Sergeant King and Corporal Hatches, who are following up any leads presented to them.

400 SPEECHES HEARD AND 438 COMING, FRANCE

PARIS, Dec. 6.—With 400 speeches delivered and 438 still to be, the budget debate in the chamber of deputies has long passed all Canadian records. From now on the chamber will sit three times a day, during the week, and also on Sundays in an effort to end the apparently endless loquacity of its members before the close of the year. It should be added, however, that French debates on the budget are not confined to taxation measures, as under the British and Canadian practice, but also cover expenditures.

The Tardieu government's proposals before the chamber provide for a total expenditure of $200,000,000 over a period of five years for development purposes. Of this amount $60,000,000 will come out of the 1930 budget. The plans cover the great schemes of national efficiency with assistance for road construction, port improvements, developments of hydro-electric power and hygiene. Votes for agricultural purposes — radio broadcasting systems and rural telephones in the country districts, are also included with the object of stimulating production from the land and encouraging the French farmer to stick to his farm.

CRUISERS COLLIDE

MADRID, Dec. 6.—The Spanish cruiser Prince Alphonse, was reported today to have collided with the Cruiser Jalme, in a violent storm off Ferol, the northwest corner of Spain. No details were available.

EARTHQUAKE HAS SHIFTED BED OF NORTH ATLANTIC

HALIFAX, N. S., Dec. 6.—That the bed of the North Atlantic was shifted as a result of the earthquake of November 18, was *indicated here tonight in re*ports from cable ships assigned to the task of repairing the submarine breaks. Soundings showed that the floor of the ocean had been moved and that the fishing banks had shifted as a result of the disturbance.

Breaks in the cables connecting the old world with the new have been plotted over an area 400 miles southeast and 300 miles northeast of Halifax. In some cases several breaks occurred in the same cable over a distance of 100 miles.

BRITTANIA PLANT TO LAY OFF MEN, POWER SHORTAGE

To Lay Off Different 250 Men Each Week; No Relief by Rain

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6 — Fine, cool weather has returned to Vancouver and the light rains and drizzle of the past couple of days have done practically nothing to relieve the power shortage caused by the unusually dry weather of the past year.

The British Columbia Electric Railway company however, announces that mobilization of private power has progressed so far that they hope shortly to be able to shut down their hydro plants during the night.

Owing to the curtailment of power the Brittania Mining & Smelting company at Brittania Beach, has laid off 250 men for two weeks. At the end of that time they will return to work and another 250 will be laid off.

No efort on the employment market is expected from this circumstance, owing to the manner in which the lay off will be rotated.

VICTORIA, Dec. 6—In the department of public works some changes have been made in the location of engineers. James C. Brady of Cranbrook has been transferred to Prince George where he becomes district engineer. Arthur Dixon who has been district engineer at Prince George is transferred to Cranbrook.

ENGLAND'S CHRISTMAS MIRTHFUL

Island Empire Celebrated Season Heartily From Earliest Times

No country has entered more heartily into Yuletide observance than England. From the earliest known date her people have celebrated this festival with great ceremony. In the time of the Celts it was principally a religious observance, but this big, broad-shouldered race added mirth to it, too.

They came to the festivities in robes made from the skins of brindled cows, and wearing their long hair flowing and entwined with holly.

With the coming of the Saxons, higher revelry reigned, and a Saxon observance of Yuletide must have been a jolly sight to see. In the center of the hall, upon the open hearth, blazed a huge fire with its column of smoke pouring through an opening in the thatched roof, or if beaten by the wind, wandering around among the beams above.

There was an abundance of food, for the Saxons were great eaters. Besides flesh, fish and fowls their gardens furnished plenty of beans and other vegetables, and their "ort-geards" produced raspberries, strawberries, plums, sweet and sour apples and "cod-apples" or quinces. The cider and strong drinks which were quaffed from quaint round-bottomed tumblers which, as they could not stand up, had to be emptied at a draught.

The Saxons dined at about 11 o'clock and, as business was not pressing in those days, could well afford to spend hours at the feast, eating, drinking, and making merry.

After everyone had eaten, games were played, and these games are the same as our children play today, handed down to us from the old Saxon times.

DISH OF HONOR

The boar's head held the principal place of honor at the dinner. So during September and October, when the boar's flesh was at its best, hunters with well-trained packs of boarhounds set out to track this savage animal.

They attacked the boar with spears or surrounded him and drove him into nets. He was a ferocious antagonist to both dogs and men and when sore-pressed would wheel about, prepared to fight to the death. Before the dogs could grip him by the ear, his one weak point, and pin him down, his sharp teeth would often wound or even kill both hunter and dogs.

PRAISE FOR FOE

The pluckier the animal the louder the praise sung in his honor when his head was brought into the hall.

The great head, properly soused, was borne in on an immense salver by the "old blue-coated serving man" on Christmas day.

He was preceded by trumpeters and followed by mummers and thus in state the boar's head was ushered in and assigned to its place on the table.

The father of the family or head of the household laid his hand on the dish containing the "boar of atonement", as it was at one time called, swearing to be faithful to his family and to fulfill all his obligations as a man of honor.

ALL TAKE OATH

This solemn act was performed before the carving by every man present. The carver had to be a man of undaunted courage and untarnished reputation.

Next in honor at the feast was the peacock. It was sometimes served as a pie with its head protruding from one side of the crust and its widespread tail from the other; more often the bird was skinned, stuffed with herbs and sweet spices, roasted, and then put into its skin again, when with the head erect and tail outspread it was borne into the hall by a lady, as was singularly appropriate, and given the second place on the table.

IMPROVING POULTRY BY SELECTION SAID TO OBTAIN RESULTS

By selecting the best laying hens of flock, and mating them with males from heavy laying stock is it possible to build up the laying capacity of the flock in a few years. At the Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere Experimental Station, operated by the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, the production of eggs per hen in the flock has been doubled in six years. For this period each year since the test began fifteen of the best layers were set apart for the production of hatching eggs and were mated with the sons of heavy laying hens.

The first year of the test the fifteen best hens laid an average of 123.6 eggs in the year. Last year the yield of the best fifteen had gone up to 246.2 eggs per hen.

This policy of systematic selection with hens whose records are known by trap-nesting, might well be followed by many of the egg and poultry farmers of the country.

NAKUSP LOSES TWO CITIZENS

Leander Joseph Faucher and Hugh Martin Are Called by Death

NAKUSP, B. C., Dec. 6.—Nakusp has just lost two of its most highly respectable citizens by the deaths of Leander Joseph Faucher on Sunday morning and Hugh Martin, clerk to the Nakusp water commissioners, on Monday evening. Both deceased were next door neighbors, living on Marine drive, close to town.

Mr. Fauchier was an old time Kootenaian coming to Nakusp in the first instance nearly 30 years ago as millwright for the old Yale Columbia Lumber Company's sawmill. Later, about 16 year ago, he returned and built a pretty bungalow in which he and Mrs. Faucher had lived since.

He was born in Michigan, of French Canadian parents, 82 years ago, the family returning ot Canada during his childhood. In religion he was a keen Roman Catholic, and was loved by his fellow ctiizens of all denominations.

Besides his widow he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. George Ingram, of Revelstoke, who was present at his death and Mrs. Eccles of Calgary.

The interment took place on Tuesday morning at the local cemetery, the following being pall-bearers: Capt. C. S. Leary, R. Islip, Eugene Levegue, J. Parent, George Keys and L. J. Edwards. Rev. Father Finnegan officiated. Mrs. Faucher left for Revelstoke with Mr. and Mrs. Ingram on Thursday morning, where she will spend the winter.

MR MARTIN ILL SOME TIME

Hugh Martin who had not been physically strong for a considerable time came here from Calgary a few years ago and was appointed clerk to the water commissioners, which office he had most efficiently discharged. He was at his office on Saturday, but was taken ill next day and died on Monday evening. His body will be taken east for burial at Kempville, Ont., his old home.

He was about 55 years old.

ELKO BOARD NOT ELIGIBLE WATER RIGHTS, CREEK

ELKO, B. C., Dec. 6.—A meeting of the Elko board of trade was held in the Schoolhouse here with Mrs M. Roo, the president, in the chair. There was only a small turnout of members.

A communication read by the secretary from the [illegible] Victoria advised the board that as the village of Elko was not incorporated it would not be possible to obtain the rights on Callaghan creek unless some body were formed for that purpose. The board requested the secretary to write for further information.

Considerable discussion on the water supply ensued but it was decided little could be done until the citizens met T. Uphill, M.P.P., as he had promised to lay the case of the town before the proper authorities at the coast when the next session of the legislature opens.

The board decided to put on a dance in the school here, the proceeds of which will go toward the Children's Christmas Tree fund. All arrangements are to be left in the hands of the entertainment committee.

SCOTS CELEBRATE IN WINDERMERE

INVERMERE, B. C., Dec. 6.—Scots from far and near throughout the Lake Windermere district assembled to do honor of the memory of Scotland's patron saint. The gathering took place in the dining room of the Invermere hotel. The hagis for the occasion was sent in especially from Victoria by His Honor Lieutenant- Governor R. Randolph Bruce L.L.D., who is a patron and one of the chief founders of the local branch of the Caledonian society.

Accompanying the hagis was a letter from His Honor sending his best wishes to his brother Scots of the land of the heather and the hagis. The wearing of the Kilts and the skirl o' the pipes were among features of the evening. But the grandest of all was the dancing with special reference to those of Scotland. Supper was served in the form of a banquet during which there were appropriate speeches.

HOME COOKING SALE SUCCESS, INVERMERE

INVERMERE, B. C., Dec. 6—The annual sale of home cooking as staged by the members of the Women's Auxiliary for the district was again a success from every view point. This sale is put on each year on or about the end of November.

The net proceeds were well over $140. Several drawings in aid of the funds were held. In every case these netted proportionately large sums of money. Mrs. R. A. Kimpton of Windermere won a handsome embroidered bed spread made by Joan Peters of Athalmer; Mrs. Alexaner J. Dobbie, the "Surprise Box"; Mrs. F. William Hillier a box of home made candies made by Mrs A. J. Dobbie, and Miss Adams of Wilmer, won a fruit cake.

ROTARY CARNIVAL AT TRAIL TURNS OUT BIG SUCCESS

Many Members of Nelson Club Present to Help Stage Gala Event

TRAIL, B. C., Dec. 6.—The Rotary carnival staged here tonight under the auspices of the Trail Rotary club was a splendid success from start to finish. For the Carnival, a program had been arranged that, with the aid of many members of the Nelson Rotary club, provided much hilarious entertainment for the spectators.

The first feature of the evening was a rugby football game staged on the ice between teams representing the Nelson and Trail Rotary clubs. Trail sewed the game up when W. E. B. Moneypenny threw the ball into the Nelson net for a one point lead which was held to the end of the game which lasted ten minutes. The Trail players appeared on the ice in assorted suits of underwear while the Nelson representative team appared in a varied range of ladies' dresses.

A baseball game staged on the ice between two teams from the Trail Rotary club afforded another big laugh. The players were attired in dresses, evidently belonging to their wives.

BLAYLOCK HITS FIRST BATTER

S. G. Blaylock, in the box for one team started the ball rolling when he knocked over the first man up to the plate with a pitched baul. The batter had to be carted to first base. W. A. Curran, proved to be the big swat of the evening when he slammed out a three bagger. Mr. Curran also chalked up the long distance sliding record when he tripped over first base and slid home.

The game had not gone far when the players on both teams became incensed over a decision of Umpire Dr. C. F. Williams. In the riot that followed Dr. Williams was killed. In order to get rid of the body it was decided to cremate it. For this purpose a huge pile of cardboard boxes were piled in the middle of the ice over the body. The lights in the rink were extinguished and from the pile of boxes flashed a blinding glare of light. When the lights were turned on the boxes were moved but no body was in evidence. From among the last few boxes a squealing pig emerged to be pursued by all the baseball players.

In the 15 minutes of scoreless exhibition hockey staged by the Trail and Tadanac teams the spectators were treated to some good classy hockey.

The teams were:

Trail—Garland, goal; Morris and De Pasquale, defence; M. Brannad, Art Mackie, Gustason and Waite, forwards.

Tadanac—Hornquist, goal; Houbregs and Reddick, defence; Dub Mackie, Hazard, Wheatley and Wright, forwards.

A. T. Levesque, in charge of the refreshment stand, proved to be one of the most popular men of the evening. In general, all the booths did a thriving business.

PRIZE WINNERS

"Best dressed" prizewinners: Lady, Mrs. E. Clay as "Made in Canada Goods."

The use of flowers artfully chosen to accentuate the color or colors of the fabric, is extremely important, and day, afternoon and evening fashions, repeatedly add flowers as a decorative note, variously posed at the termination of the neckline in front of the shoulder, to finish the deep de colletage at back, or at the girdle, while flowers of various types and sizes are used, but they invariably attract because of the color harmonies they achieve.

UNEMPLOYMENT IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Coast reports tell of an increase in unemployment as compared with last year.

It would be of value if figures could be obtained to show whether this unemployment arises out of a decrease in industrial and other activity or through an exceptional increase in the number of men attracted to British Columbia.

For example, we know that many men have arrived in Kootenay to seek work on such new undertakings as the construction of the C. P. R. line between Procter and Kootenay landing.

On the face of it, the indications are that the increase in unemployment is due rather to an increase in the number of newcomers to British Columbia than to a decrease in the number of persons in employment.

Both mineral and timber production are increasing, and usually when these industries are active the other main industries of the province which are heavy employers of labor are active in sympathy with them.

British Columbia's climate is a great asset, but it also becomes in the winter a liability in that the moderate temperature of the coast attracts many workers from parts of Canada where climatic conditions are rigorous.

TIMBER AND MINE OUTPUT GAINING

Timber scaled in British Columbia in October of this year showed a gain of more than 60,000,000 feet over October of 1928. An increase of 115,000,000 feet is shown as compared with September of this year.

Mineral production during 1929 is going to show a nice increase over that of 1928.

With a constantly growing gain in production in basic industries, British Columbia may look forward to the future with confidence and continue without hesitation the program of development in business and industry which has been such a marked feature of events in this province during the past four or five years.

An original idea for stalls at a bazaar was staged at the Hyde Park Hotel this week, when a girl's club had all the hours of the day represented at stalls, from nine, which is the breakfast hour, to the "small hours between yesterday and to-morrow," while white elephants and nihtmares will be on sale.

TOLD IN RIME

DREAMS VERSUS REALISM

Years ago while still in my teens
I had the most fantastic dreams—
Of fame that was to come to me
Never once doubting my ability.

Many wise sayings I learned by heart
Hoping in literature to play a great part
'Twas easy, I read, to write stories and tales,
Genius was only a capacity for taking great pains.

To observe everything; old and new
Was something I must never fail to do
Plenty of copy was always at hand
If human nature I would try and understand.

Why editors many manuscripts return.
Didn't take me very long to learn,
Papers are read by all classes of men
Experience is needed in dealing with them.

My famous book is still a dream—
But for publishers now I can feel:
And human nature is still a puzzle to me—
For I am the Press correspondent in a small community.

That Body of Yours

By JAS. W. BARTON, M. D.

THE DRINKING OF WATER

During the last few years you have been receiving the advice from your doctor and health writers to drink plenty of water.

The thought has been that the water washes out the stomach, clears the intestine, and flushes the kidneys.

Now as a matter of fact the water you drink actually takes considerable time to reach the kidneys, and yet the kidneys appear to react to it immediataely.

Drs. Amard and Schmidt of Strasbourg, France, have been able to show that the drinking water stimulates the lining of the intestine to produce a substance which acts directly upon the kidney cells and thus water-urine is produced.

Now what about drinking plenty of water?

For the majority of people it is a wise proceeding if taken on an empty stomach. Research men find that when the stomach is empty, that the water acts more rapidly, as the lining of intestine is likely to be also more easily reached by the water.

Water also gives the intestine something to work on, and stimulates action of its walls.

However there are certain individuals in whom the drinking of large quantities of water is a mistake.

Many thin individuals in an endeavor to put on weight drink three or four glasses of water at one time.

Many of these individuals have narrow bodies with the result that the stomach hasn't room to lie crossways, but has to hang downwards somewhat.

This means that too much fluid at one time only helps to keep it in this position.

This means also that food has a long climb upwards to get to the intestine. In fact food often lies there so long that another meal is eaten before the stomach is emptied.

Another class of individuals who should not drink too much water are those who are overweight.

Most folks have tissues that hold more water than others and thus they only make mattrs worse by drinking too much water.

They have an idea that water has no effect upon increasing weight and yet as I've mentioned before, boxers and jockeys to whom overweight means loss of work, watch the intake of water very closely.

After the "weighing in' is over, their first thought is to allay their thirst with two or three glassfuls in this matter.

Put onto wax-paper pat down, and make little marks on each cake with a fork, having these small cakes onehalf inch thick. Bake in a slow oven, till brown. They will not rise, but will be short and tender."

Mrs. X. Z.: "My Apple Slump: Cut up apples as for apple sauce. Put them into a saucepan with sugar to suit individual liking, a pinch of salt, a dash of ground cinnamon and a little water; cook over mild direct heat while you make the crust as follows: Rub two tablespoons of butter into one-half cups of pastry flour previously sifted with two teaspoons of baking powder and a pinch of salt; stir in enough cold sweet milk to make a fairly soft dough (as for biscuits) Put the cooked apples into a baking dish over it put the uncooked dough and cut a slit in the top for escape of steam. Bake in a hot oven at 425 degrees F. for 15 minutes or till, crust is done, then run a knife around the top of dish place a plate larger than dish on top, invert so that the pudding will lie on the plate with the crust under the apple mixture and serve with thin sweet cream or a hot liquid sauce. I'm sorry I haven't the exact measure of milk in this recipe but a little experimenting will show any cook how much to use."

H. P. "Orange Sponge Cake: Stir one cup of sugar into the yolks of two eggs and beat till creamy, before turning over this mixture one-half cup of hot sweet milk. Sift one and one-fourth cups of flour with one teaspoon of baking powder and a dash of salt, and add this dry mixture together with one and one-half tablespoons of orange juice, and a half teaspoon of grated rind. Fold in two stiffly whipped eggs whites, bake 40 minutes in a greased pan at moderate heat 350 degrees F."

FOSTER'S WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—First week of December was expected to be a cold, stormy and wet period. While greatest increase in precipitation during first half of month is expected along central and south Atlantic coast, some increase on Pacific slope is expected to occur before it becomes necessarily to seriously curtail the use of water in that area, excepting probably such hyrdo-electric plants as now estimate a seriously heavy curtailment of water used by December 6, according to the I.N.S. This early increase in Pacific slope moisture will be expected mostly in section seven, the northern part. A storm wave of mild intensity is expected to cross continent during week centering on 10; as this storm wave moves eastward, temperatures will average higher and storm force decrease; precipitation, while expected to increase during the month, will come mostly during storm period centering on 1, 15 and 30. Storm wave centering on 10 will not be expected to move into southern states. Moderate storm wave expected to cross continent during week centering on 15 will move well down into southern states, probably furnishing some needed moisture in the southwest and a little for the north Pacific slope and northern Rocky mountain country.

I have forecasted a drouth to cover a considerable area of North America during 1930. Every effort should be made to conserve all possible moisture during spring of 1930. Complying with that advice will cost you nothing, for, even though the drouth does not strike your vicinity, the extra work will pay for itself. On ground for spring planting, vegetation should be left to hold moisture; then spring plowing should be done early and deep. I expect practically the whole continent to have sufficient moisture for spring work, but the difficulty will be to hold moisture to carry crops through.

SUNSPOTS AND WEATHER

In his November issue of Sunspot, from which I quoted last week, Fr. Ricard makes the following statement, that should be of value to anyone investigating meteorology: "One main reason for failure in seeking a relationship between weather and sunspots is that the accidental was mistaken for the substantial. Briefly they took rain to mean weather and having found no correlation between rain in a given section of the country, say New York state, and the sunspot curve, they imprudently concluded that there was no such correlation. Bad logic is always fatal. It would have been less dangerous to have taken temperature, had astronomers been not so foolhardy as to eliminate temperatures from the weather compound. But very likely they would have found that while the sunspot curve was ascending or descending, the temperature was lower in once place and higher in the next place and the would have served to an expectant world the inference that weather is independent of sunspots. The fallacy would always have been the same; taking the part for the whole and the rotten part at that."

A Gift that Increases in Value

Presentation Covers are provided for Christmas Gift Books.

WHAT DID YOU GIVE LAST CHRISTMAS?

Toys for the kiddies—most of them broken by now. "Something useful" for the grown-ups—now worn out or forgotten. Cash to your employees—appreciated but soon spent. Other presents—hurriedly bought and perhaps ill-chosen. Are they remembered now?

Suppose this year you give them each a Bank Book containing an initial deposit, and urge them to add to it regularly. Could anything be more suitable?

Add "Royal Bank Pass Books" to your list of Christmas Gifts.

Lovely hair!

Modern hair dressers add beauty to your hair by graceful lines and contours. It is just as important to keep your hair soft, lustrous, abundant, rich in color.

Millions of girls and women are doing this at home with the easy help of Danderine. It is so simple to use. All you do is put a little on your brush each time you arrange your hair.

Instantly Danderine brings out the natural color of dingy, lifeless hair; makes it more sparkling and lustrous than brilliantine; makes it easy to manage; holds it in place.

Leading New York Stocks Reach New High Records

SPLIT, GENERAL ELECTRIC SENDS STOCK UPWARD

Scores of Shares Soar Two to 25 Points; Money Rates Firmer

NEW YORK, Dec. 6—The flames of speculative enthusiasm, fanned by the 4 to 1 split-up, of General Electric stock, leapt up anew in today's stock market, reaching new heights for the post-crash period.

The recasting of capital structure of such a premier industrial enterprise as General Electric, project at this time, was regarded in many quarters as conclusive evidence of the faith of Wall street's most powerful banking interests in the revival of the stock market.

The market showed considerable hesitancy during the early transactions, but soon pointed upward, and with the General Electric announcement, an upsurge in leading stocks got under way, carrying scores of shares up from two to nearly 25 points. A little profit-taking appeared in the final transactions but failed to make serious inroads into the day's gains.

Total sales were 4,714,800 shares, a new high level since the recent return of normalcy.

Money rates were slightly firmer. Call money held officially at 4½ per cent, and time money, while extremely dull, was nominally quoted a little higher at 4¾ per cent flat.

General Electric shot up nearly 25 points to $287, and closed at $254. At the top, it was nearly 90 points above the low reached a few weeks ago. United States Steel, after fluctuating uncertainly during the major part of the session, surged up more than seven points to $172 in the last hour.

Allied Chemical rose approximately 14 points; Eastman Kodak 12; Westinghouse Electric 10; Dupont 9, and such shares as American Telephone, American Can, American and Foreign Power; Johns-Manville; Chesapeake and Ohio Commercial Solvents, American Smelting, Erie, International Harvester, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, and Union Pacific rose 3 to 6 points.

TRADING CARRIES PRICES UPWARD ON MONTREAL MARKET

Total Sales Are 89,443; Profit Taking Sets in But Close Stronger

MONTREAL, Dec. 6.—Another burst of trading in the last two hours of the session again carried prices upward on the Montreal stock exchange today and expanded total sales to 89,443 snares as compared with 87,048 yesterday. Shortly before the final gong profit-taking again set in and forced many of the leaders downward, though the final standing presented a much stronger appearance.

A sudden demand for International Nickel after the stock had moved listlessly all morning, started prices upward and the leader touched a peak of 33⅛, the final sales at 33¼, indicating a net advance of 2¼ points. Brazilian led the market in early trading, but became comparatively neglected when Nickel began its march. The traction issue finished fractionally stronger at 46 7-8.

Lindsley, a stock which has performed quietly during recent months, suddenly shot up five points to 25.

A number of less active issues, such as Canada Steamship Lines, were from one to two points stronger. The more prominent industrial and newsprint stocks generally showed minor improvement. The greatest gain of the session was scored by Tuckett, which made a spectacular climb of 40 points to 215, on a turnover of more than 800 shares.

MERLAND STRONGER, VANCOUVER LIST

Touches High of $1.40, Closes at $1.35; Grandview Features Mining

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6—(By Hugh W. Robertson, Ltd., leased wire)—Merland today was again the heaviest trader on the Vancouver stock exchange with price firming under news that flow at the well was estimated at 14,000,000 cubic feet of wet gas. The exact barrelage of this flow has not yet been estimated but it is thought that the separators have been hooked up to the well by this time and report of production test will arrive in the morning. Irregular tone was noted in the other issues with losses and gains benig spotted across the board.

Merland opened stronger at $1.38, touched a high of $1.40 during the session and closed firm at $1.35. Sterling Pacific also showed appreciation for the day's session, opening at $1.28 and closing $1.31. Net gain of 6 cents. Eastcrest on rumor that the well was entering a fault sold off 6 cents to closing of $1.34. A.P.C. at $2.15 was up 3 cents. Calmont was also up 3 cents on the day's activities. C. & E. closed 9 cents higher at $3.40. Dalhousie opened $1.80, touched a high of $1.85 and closed $1.75. During the session unofficial report was received that Dalhousie No. 7 was afire after encountering gas flow similar to that of Merland. Home Oil opened and closed $11.30. Mayland closed $2.00, yesterday's close price also. Southwest Pete at $1.97 was 2 cents off. Southwest Petroleum has encountered a softer formation and will drill a short distance then make a production test. Other oil issues traded within a narrow margin and closed with few changes apparent.

Strength in Grandview featured trading in th emining section. Stocks opened higher and closed 18¼ cents on word that operations were not closed down at the mill. Reeves McDonald continued strong. Other mining in the mining section. Stocks cent levels.

OIL BRIEFS

CALGARY, Dec. 6—(By Hugh W. Robertson, Ltd., leased wire)—Merland was definitely proved Thursday to be a commercial producer, according to F. D. Lunday, managing director, following a test made by the Royalite Oil company at Lunday's request. J. H. McLeod, producing manager of Imperial Oil company, visited the well with Lunday Thursday and he declared the well in very good condition. The test difinitely proved that the gas was wet. At the same time, the flow was measured at 14,000,000 cubic feet a day, an increase of 1,500,000 cubic feet over the figure determined by test on Wednesday. Lunday declared no estimate could be made of production now and no figure given until thorough test is made through the separator, hooking up of which is being completed as quickly as possible, and it is expected production test will be under way late today.

Eastcrest No. 1 took two cores from the bottom of the hole at 4,346 feet Wednesday, according to word received from the well Thursday. It was reported that these cores showed streaks of such a nature as to cause doubt regarding the nature of the formation. It is suspected that the well may be entering a fault of some sort but nothing definite will be known until geological report has been made and then it may be revealed that there is nothing wrong with the formation. Meantime, the well has a gas flow estimated at 5,000,000 feet with rigging of a separator under way. It is expected a production test will be started today. No. 2 was drilling at 1,653 feet and had successfully sidetracked the lost piece of drill rod and bit. It was believed the new hole had run into the old hole again and it would be cleaned to the bottom at over 3,000 feet.

Drilling of Sterling Pacific, standing cemented in lime at 5,169 feet, will resume today, according to a director of the company. This well will be watched with much interest in view of recent developments at Merland a mile south.

Closes at $33.10 at Toronto; Noranda Strengthens $1.10; Merland Feature

TORONTO, Dec. 6—(By Hugh W. Robertson, Ltd., leased wire)—Trading on the Toronto Standard Stock and Mining exchange was featured today by strength and activity in International Nickel in the mining section and return of strength to Merland in the oil section. Although some of the issues recorded slight recessions at close, general tone of confidence was noticeable throughout the session.

International Nickel opened 25 cents down at $30.75 but under good demand strengthened to close $33.10, net gain of $2.35. In 1931 International Nickel is expected to operate at a capacity of approximately 3,000,000 tons a year. Operating profits are expected to exceed $20 a ton or at the rate of $60,000,000 or more annually.

Noranda strengthened $1.10 from opening quote of $35 to close of $36.25. The plant now being brought into play at Noranda is believed to be turning out approximately 100,000,000 lbs. of copper annually, possibly a maximum of 110,000,000 pounds.

Of the Lindsley issues Falconbridge Nickel was the star performer of the day. Of special interest at the moment is fact that F. L. has completed its new smelter and can at very short notice begin operations. Stock opened $5.55 and appreciated 35 cents to close of $5.90. Sudbury Basin closed $3.85 after touching high of $4.15. Sherritt Gordon at $3.42 showed recession of 8 cents. Ventures closed 5 up at $2.90. Ventures Ltd. planning extensive development of the Coniarium property. Teck Hughes at close of $5.25 recorded net gain of 15 cents. Gains were also noted in Abana, Big Missouri, Dome, Hollinger, Lake Shore, Newbec, Nipissing, and Wright Hargreaves. No substantial changes were noted in the other issues, which on the whole, exhibited firmness.

OTTAWA, Dec. 6.—Exports of fully manufactured Canadian goods in the 12 months ended October last, the latest figures available, amounted to 505,979,251, and increase of approximately $36,000,000 over the preceding 12 months. Included in this total is which showed a decrease of $8,609,714. Wheat flour has been adversely affected by world prices and world demand similarly to wheat and other grains. Elimination of wheat flour, which is not "controllable" locally, shows exports of other manufactured goods amounted to $448,733,065, an increase of $44,605,864, or 11 per cent, in 12 months.

These figures reveal a healthy, industrial condition in Canada, and a growing export consciousness among Canadian farmers.

"When we are married Why, what will you do?"

MODERN WOMAN has every right to ask this question of the man who wishes to marry her.

When a man marries, he gives up nothing. The woman, possibly, gives up a comfortable home, a good job and a certain economic independence. What is her compensation? Very possibly she becomes a hard working wife and mother, without pay. If death comes riding and gathers up the husband, she may be left with the care and financial worry of a young family.

It's well to give presents to a bride, but many a bridegroom might better give his bride a Life Insurance Policy for a few thousand dollars. Such a gift is the true measure of his intention to provide—until death—and beyond.

Write for pamphlet entitled "Protection at a Low Rate of Premium." It is quite interesting. Address:

Walter Hagen's Title Hopes Dashed By Leo Diegel

IEGEL MOVES TO FINALS IN CLOSE BATTLE

rrell Eliminates Watrous Six and Five in Other Match

ARS AND BIRDIES DEFEAT SIR WALTER

agen Plays Par Golf But Diegel Dishes Up Super-Par Game

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5—Championship hopes of Walter Hagen crashed on the fairways of Hillcrest today when the colorful wanderer of golfdom, bowed to the superior play of Leo Diegel, defeating the title holder 3 and 2, in the semi-finals of the National Professional Golfers' association tournament.

While Diegel met and matched the challenge of Hagen, Johnny Farrell of New York, cruised through his test to eliminate Al Watrous, Detroit, by an overwhelming 6 and 5 victory. Smiling Johnny fought his way back from the brink of defeat yesterday, when he came through, from behind, to nose out Craig Wood, Bloomfield, N. J., on the 27th, but his conquest today was made without much exertion. As the result of his win he will face Diegel tomorrow in the 36th hole final.

PARS AND BIRDIES

Seeking his sixth P. G. A. title, Hagen saw his chances swept away before a rush of pars and birdies that streaked from the clubs of his keenest rival—the same rival who a year ago eliminated him from the ranks of the contenders. Diegel shot sub-par golf; Hagen par. It is the answer to the advance of the slender pro from Agua Caliente, Mexico; and the reversal of a challenger who now holds the British open title, twice sat on the national open throne, and five times in the past has ruled the roost in the P.G.A. circle.

Diegel toured the Hillcrest country club course in 68 in this morning's round to lead his opponent two up, at the half way point. Hagen shot a respectable par 71. Two times in the two rounds, "breaks" aided Diegal, and necessarily worked against "The Hague". Diegel captured the seventh to square the match with a par four to Hagen's six. Diegel's ball was headed for some brush but glanced off a spectator's heel, and bounded back toward the green.

The 21st hole brought Diegel a three up lead after he had hooked his drive into a fence and the ball bounded back into the fairways. He eventually posted a birdie three to Hagen's four.

SEATTLE WINS OVER PORTLAND SCORE TWO-ONE

Savage and Reinikka Tally for Seattle and Downie for Portland

SEATTLE, Dec. 6—Seattle Eskimos added to their string of victories in the Pacific Coast Hockey league here tonight when they defeated the Portland Buckaroos in a close and hard battle 2 to 1. All the scoring was done in the first period.

6000 FANS

Approximately 6,000 persons cheered the Eskimos on to their fifth victory of the year. Seattle's only other game ended in a tie.

The local club scored a third goal in the last period which caused a great commotion when it was not allowed. Referee Ion ruled that the Portland goalie, was being interferred with and the fans virtually raised the roof with the boos and stormed the ice with paper and peanuts.

The Buckaroos opened the scoring after two minutes of play of the first period when Downie scored. Two minutes and 41 seconds later Seattle tied the count by Savage.

The winning goal was made on a clever play by Reinikka and Townsend.

Fourteen penalties were dished out, nine being charged against Seattle.

Following the survey of the proposed Deer Park-Syringa Creek road, over two miles were constructed near the Deer Park end by local labor.

NELSON DISTRICT

In the area tributary to Nelson the policy of widening, improving alignment and graveiling was continued on the Nelson-Balfour, Nelson Castlegar and Nelson-U. S. boundary roads, and approximately five miles were improved in this way.

On the Kuskanook-Gray Creek road, gangs working from LaFrance creek north and Gray Creek south will have completed approximately two miles of 18-foot roadbed this year.

In the Creston area, considerable widening and reconstruction has been done, or will be completed by March 31, 1930, and on this a quarter-yard power shovel has proved itself a very useful unit.

In the Rossland-Trail electoral district the following is a list of the more important work undertaken:

TRAIL-ROSSLAND

(1). Reconstructing 2.2 miles of the Trail-Rossland road between the Rossland city limits and Warfield, and hard-surfacing of this stretch on a total width of 18 feet consisting of asphaltic top laid between concrete shoulders.

(2). Constructing a half mile diversion of heavy work on the Rossland-Paterson road to eliminate switchbacks with heavy curvature.

(3). Widening and reconstructing the two and three-quarters miles of the Castlegar-Trail road between Kinnaird and Blueberry and at Genelle.

In the Revelstoke electoral district, improvements were made on the main road to Sicamous, particularly between Three Valley and Solsqua, on the Revelstoke-Arrowhead road between Twelve-Mile and Sidmouth ferries and on the Big Bend road north of Nine-Mile.

Sections of the road from Beaton to Camborne and up Fish river were also improved and gravelled.

BRIDGE WORK

Major bridges constructed since April 1, or still under construction, include the following:

Two Howe truss spans 110 feet and 120 feet on pile piers over Slocan river at Crescent Valley.

One 140 foot Howe truss span on pile piers over Carpenter creek at New Denver.

One 130 foot Howe truss span on pile piers over Lower Duncan river below Howser.

One 68 foot King truss span on pile piers over Cariboo creek at Burton.

One 40 foot King truss span on stone abutments over Cedar creek, north of Ainsworth.

One 50 foot King truss span on timber abutments over Arrow creek east of Erickson.

NEW FERRIES

New ferry barges were installed at Nelson, West Creston and Twelve-Mile, south of Revelstoke, during the year, and traffic on all ferries in the district shows considerable increase over previous years, particularly at Nelson and Castlegar.

For the first time in the history of highway operations in West Kootenay, the oiling of main highways was started, and altogether 60 miles were treated with Imperial Gravel Dust Layer during 1929.

In the winter of 1928-29, 390 miles of roads were kept open for traffic by means of blade snow plows attached to caterpillar tractors.

SEES BETTER TIMES FOR THE U. S. FARMER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Better times are in store for the farmer, in th belief of Secretary Hyde, who informed President Hoover today that such confidence was warranted by the better position of agriculture, higher price levels for new crops, and the operations of the farm board, which has $150,000,000 available for farm markets stabilization and improvements.

VICTORIA LOSES BY FIVE-TO-ONE TO VANCOUVER

Kenny and Phillips Engage in Fisticuffs; Banished and Fined

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6 — Vancouver Lions subdued the Victoria Cubs in tonight's Pacific Coast Hockey league fixture and romped away with a 5 to 1 victory. The locals were held to one goal in each of the first and third periods but in the second they netted three counters. The game was marred in the final period by a display of fisticuffs between Kenny and Phillips. Both players drew a penalty of 10 minutes and $10.

CUBS FODE

The one thousand fans and fanettes saw a hockey game and a slugging one round scrap for the price of one admission. Beaten in all departments of the game after the first canto the Cubs faded in the second when the Lions' sharp shooters shook the netting three times and failed to stay the pace in the final session. Then they began handing out body checks, slashed, hooked and tripped until war broke out.

It was a short and merry tangle with Phillips and Kenny staging the head line attraction. Phillips had been ridden hard by the Cub defence all thrcugh the period and just when the fans were about to head for the exits he took exception to one of Kenny's jolts and swung the hickory with gay abandon.

Kenny moved in and wanted to know what it was all about. Kenny landed a right haymaker which iced the Lions' skipper and Phillips never got a chance to get the point back. The players crowded in and it looked like a free-for-all until a blue coat appeared on the scene and helped untangle the boys. Kenny and Phillips were given major penalties and fined $10 each by Referee Gordon Meeking.

BARNET WOMAN IS KILLED, VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6.—Mrs. John King, of Barnet, was instantly killed this evening on the Barnet road when the car in which she was driving with her husband swerved in passing another car, and turned over in the ditch. Mr. King escaped with minor injuries.

CRESTON CURLERS ELECT OFFICERS

M. J. Boyd is President; Club Has Balance of $1,25 From Last Year

CRESTON, B.C., Dec. 6—With the assistance of the club bridge and whist, which netted $47, Creston Curling club was able to close the year with all accounts paid, and a cash balance of $1.23, according to the financial statement submitted at the annual meeting at the town hall, which was presided over by President W. Fraser. There was a good turnout of club members.

Officers were elected for this season as follows: Patron—W. M. Archibald; president, M. J. Boyd; vice-president, A. L. Palmer; secretary-treasurer, H. W. McLaren; chaplain, Rev. R. E. Cribb; Auditor, R. J. Forbes; executive, Dr. Henderson, C. H. Hare, Dolf Weir; referees, W. J. Craig, M. R. Joyce.

With a membership last year of 48 likely to be repeated, if not exceeded, it was decided to fix the membership fee at $10, and the executive, which was also named the ice committee was authorized to engage a caretaker at a season's stipend not to exceed $100.

The executive was instructed to wait on C. O. Rodgers and see what arrangements could be made to have electricity from the Rodgers plant supplied to the curling rink this season. An appropriation of $100, was voted to defray the cost of installing the Rodgers light, if obtainable.

DRAFT CUP PLAY RULES

Another chore passed on to the executive was the drafting of a set of rules and regulations governing cup play, more especially in the way of penalizing shorthanded rinks that are compelled to pick up material to fill vacancies in the ranks of junior players.

Another meeting is to be held when the full executive will select a list of at least a dozen skips to be submitted at a gathering of the players and the general meeting will elect the required number of rink heads for this winter.

In addition to paying running expenses the club the past two years has been able to repay two-thirds of the money put up by the nine rink building shareholders when the present shed was built about three seasons ago.

The Dangerous Road

By Nancy Barr Mavity

CHAPTER X

"But I told them to charge it!" Eva Walace's effecive silk smocks and fetching sports costumes appeared in public only. She stood now in the dor of her apartment, clad in a frayed and spotted afternoon frock which had been demoted to kitchen purposes. There was a sharp note of insistence in her voice, the insistence of fear. But surely she could deal with a mere delivery boy! "You may leave the dress," she said curtly. "There has evidently been some mistake at the store."

The delivery boy, however, was not to be intimidated.

C. O. D." he repeated stolidly. His indifference was immovable.

With a sigh Eva dropped her hand from the door knob.

"Just wait a moment while I telephone. I will take it up with the management." She was careful to click the door shut, leaving the boy in the outer corridor. It was horrid of them to humiliate her like this! It was hard—hard being a woman—nothing but worry to make both ends meet, that was the trouble. But she must have that dress somehow. Even Cliff, who never seemed to have eyes for such things, would notice if she wore her printed chiffon again. She wished she could put the credit manager "in his place". It he didn't look out, she'd withdraw her patronage, and he could whistle for his bill.

"So careless of me! If you'll just let me call your delivery boy to the phone and have you explain matters to him, I'll send you a check the first of the month."

"I'm very sorry, Mrs. Wallace." The mechanical courtesy of the voice was more stinging than direct insult—and less accessible. "Your account is already four months over-due. We shall be obliged to withdraw your credit, as we wrote you, until we receive your remittance."

"Oh—" It was no use. What did he know about it? All he thought of was his miserable bill. His voice was like—like a phonograph record. She supposed there had been a letter—she had thrown it into the waste basket, along with a lot of other bills. But she must have the dress. Cliff was her one chance just now, and though he might not know just what was wrong he'd get the general effect if she looked shabby.

With trembling fingers she replaced the telephone receiver and opened the door into the outer hall where the delivery boy leaned nonchalantly against the wall.

"They're looking the matter up," she said, "but I won't keep you waiting. I'll pay for the dress."

She moved aside the bowl of Richmond roses that stood on the desk in the living room and reached for her check book. A flicker of anger against Cliff shot through her. He spent all that money on flowers, but he never thought of giving her a check. Some men were so dumb! The check would come back from the bank, of course; she'd been overdrawn for a couple of weeks, and would just have to stay that way till the next alimony payment came. But meanwhile, she'd have the dress, and she'd manage somehow.

As she pressed the blotter over her signature, Eva shivered. The ragged edge—she was used to that. With a twinge of self-pity she wondered whether the girls who grubbed in offices did not have an easier time than she. But she couldn't do that—she who before her marriage had been Eva Byrd, "only a distant connection of the Byrds, of course," and who still felt an ineradicable contempt for "stenographers and shop girls." She had at least always been a lady—besides she knew nothing about stenography or what you did behind the counters of shops. And men, the right kind of men—you had no chance at them in offices. But this eternal juggling with charge accounts, using all your wits to keep going, living on tea and bread and peanut butter when you were alone, and then dressing up and being fresh and sympathetic and without a care of your own in the world—oh, it was hard work all right. Women always did get the worst of it.

Her hand still lay across the blotter, as if something held her back from picking it up. This was—the definite step over the ragged edge." They did something to you if you made out a bad check. Prison! For a moment she stood with horrified eyes at the bowl of roses before her. The delivery boy shuffled his feet on the floor. She had to go through with it now! And anyway—she'd manage.

When the boy had gone, she shook out the folds of the dress with a sense of triumph. She had it! But what a struggle! She must begin to get dressed soon.

"Men hate to be kept waiting," she murmured. It was by knowing what men liked, even when they did not know it themselves, and doing it, that Eva skirted precariously her ragged edge.

Nevertheless, she sat on the edge of the bed for several minutes, her chin proped in her hand. This was getting—dangerous. It might be the best thing she could do to settle down. Cliff was not rich, but he could at least lift her out of insecurity—he could take care of her. If she really set out to win him, and succeeded, he'd take it seriously. And it shouldn't be hard! Poor thing, with that wife, probably dowdy, who did nothing but sit at home and mull over the baby. Hadn't she any sense at all? Didn't she know that was the surest way in the world to lose a man altogether? And Cliff—well, she could easily make her little affair the real thing. She had only to let herself go—it was easy to fal in love with almost anybody, and Cliff was attractive. She might do worse—and something would have to be done about that check. Would it be too risky to ask him to help her out? He probably thought it was a terrible insult to offer money to a woman. If she really wanted him to go deep enough to get a divorce and marry her, she might lose everything by shocking him with a request for money. But the check wouldn't wait!

When Cliff rang the bell, Eva met him in a gown of apple-green, lovely as a spring twilight, and drifted, tip-toe, into his arms.

"Oh, Cliff," she breathed, "you shouldn't have made me care—so much!"

The room was dim in the fading light and sweet with the scent of roses.

"I'm sorry, I'll have to telephone from here. I couldn't get a line out from the office before I left." He hated telephoning to Joyce from Eva's apartment, but there was nothing else for it.

"There's a dinner dance at the country club tonight," he said when Joyce's voice had answered his ring. "And Bob Sellers rather particularly wanted me to go. I don't suppose you'd care to leave Jeannie?" What if she wanted to come! But she wouldn't—she never had taken any part in country club affairs.

"No. That's quite al right. Good bye". That was all. He turned, relieved and yet with a flash of anger, from the telephone. If she really cared, she wouldn't be so nonchalant—wouldn't let him go so easily. Well, if she felt that way about it ——!

Eva came behind his chair, and reaching down, cupped his face in her hands.

"I know, my dear," she said softly. "But Eva will make it up to you."

SEDGWICK REGRETS RUMORS REGARDING PERSONAL GAINS

Withdraws Offer of Installing Gas Pump and Service at Airport

At a meeting of the council of the Nelson board of trade held Thursday noon in the board of trade rooms reports were heard from the various committees which have been investigating possible airport sites through the district adjacent to Nelson.

C. F. Sedgwick, who has been chairman of the board of trade airport committee for the past two years, prior to making his report, made a few statements of a personal nature in regard to his connection with the proposed airport. He stated that of late certain rumors had come to his ears to the effect that he was pushing the airport proposition as a means to personal gain.

Mr. Sedgwick informed the council of the board of trade that some time ago he had made an offer to the city council to the effect that if they would choose and develop an airport he in his turn on behalf of any company that he should represent, would install a gas pump and service at the airport absolutely free of charge. The installation of the pump and service would necessarily incur a good deal of expense which would, through this offer, have been totally avoided by the city.

Mr. Sedgwick informed the board of trade council that after thinking the matter over after hearing the disagreeable and unfair rumors from several different sources he had decided to withdraw his offer. Actually, he pointed out, he had spent much of his own time and money on the proposition and felt that the rumors mentioned were most unfair to him.

RHEUMATISM SO VICIOUS HIS CHEEKS AND MOUTH FELT CROOKED

Yet even this 40-year-old affliction yielded to T-R-C's

This is fact, not fiction. On fyle is the actual letter written by Mr. George Dubeau, who lives in Warren, Ontario. Mr. Dubeau doesn't hesitate to speak his mind about T-R-C's.

"I have had Rheumatic attacks for about 40 years (he writes) and was sometimes confined to bed for two or three weeks at a time. I had sharp stabbing pains all over my body, particularly in the elbows. My face was bad too. My cheeks and mouth were painful and felt crooked.

"However, for some years I haven't had much trouble with Rheumatism because I found out about T-R-C's, Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules... I haven't had any of the sharp, stabbing pains in many years."

Repeatedly T-R-C's have given speedy, safe relief from acute Rheumatic suffering. And, when taken faithfully and correctly, T-R-C's have conquered even the most stubborn Rheumatism. Safe and swift also for Sciatica, Neuritis, Neuralgia and Lumbago. No harmful or habit-forming drugs. Reliable.

There is no mystery about the action of T-R-C's. They enter the blood stream. Go to the root of the trouble. Help your body throw off the poisons that are making your life miserable. Buy a box. Get back your normal health again. 50c and $1 at your dealer's. 144

Anaemia

Weakness of the Blood

Pallor of the lips, gums and eyelids is proof that the blood is thin and watery. Anaemia is the name given to this condition.

Anemia is most prevalent among girls and young women. The school girl often suffers as the result of an anaemic condition of the blood and the consequent upsetting of the nervous system.

The remarkable success of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in cases of this kind is perhaps the best proof that it goes directly to the formation of pure, rich blood. And pure, rich blood is the foundation of the health and strength of the whole human body.

Nelson Hoopsters Play Pair Games in Trail Tonight

Representative Teams Go to Smelter City for Opening Inter-City Games

Two Nelson representative basketball teams will go to Trail this afternoon where they will play the first games of the season in the West Kootenay league.

The representative girl's team, which will play the first game tonight starting at 8 o'clock, is practically the pick of the Nelson girl's league.

The second game between the representative men's teams will start directly after the conclusion of the girl's game.

So far this season senior basketball in Nelson has been struggling for existence. However, the interest in the sport is being perserved, to a certain degree, by the activities of one representative team which will play intercity games from time to time throughout the winter months.

Members of the teams which will leave for Trail late this afternoon are: Girls—J. Coles, F. Rhodes, center; T. McLean, J. Worthington, N. Thompson, forwards; E. Buchanan, J. Malnezuk, guards.

Boys—R. Horswill, center; W. Vance, K. Fish, forwards; H. Farenholtz, L. Stewart, G. Wallach, guards.

Nelson Unemployed Number Less This Week Than Before

Number About 150 Men; No More Calls for Jobs Than Year Ago

According to H. Dronsfield, who has charge of the local branch of the employment service of Canada, the number of unemployed men in Nelson at present is much less than for the past three weeks. While approximately 150 unemployed men have been counted in Nelson this week it was only a week or two previously that some 250 of these men, including drifters, were noted.

Ordinary calls for employment placed with the bureau are, according to Mr. Dronsfield no more numerous at present than at this time last year, here. The greater number of the unemployed men are drifters from the prairies on their way to the coast.

Those who are asking for employment are mostly loggers and a few miners.

Castlegar Hoop Teams Win Pair Games, Nelson

A pair of Castlegar basketball teams which invaded Nelson last night defeated both the high school boy's and girl's teams. The girl's game went to the Castlegar team by a score of 34-9, while the boy's fixture went to the out-of-town team, 34-25.

In the girl's game the Nelson squad was outplayed at almost every turn of the game. I. DeFoe, a former Nelson player, was high scorer for the Castlegar girls with a tally of 23 points. Edna Earle Buchanan with four points was high scorer for the high school team.

The teams were: Castlegar—E. Christianson, L. Armeko (3), I. DeFoe (23), E. Olson (8), T. DeFoe, F. Mornell.

Nelson—E. Buchanan (4), K. Keeler, B. Weatherhead, J. Young (2), J. Melnezuk (3), P. Barclay.

BOY'S GAME

In the boy's game R. Page of Castlegar was high scorer with 14 points while Lorne Stewart with eight points was high man for Nelson team.

The teams were: Castlegar—R. Page (14), E. Vanderhoof (5), J. Armenka (8), C. Brown (7), L. O'Borne, J. Vanderhoof.

Nelson—C. Haddon (2), A. McLean, C. Burns (4), J. Bates (5), B. Bell (2), Bert Clarke (4), L. Stewart (8), A. Kirby.

HOLLAND SECOND IN COMMAND OF CANADIAN LEGION

All Other Offices Contested; Dr. Arthur and Ashby for President

Annual nominations, adoption of a code of bylaws, and arrangements for the annual Christmas tree celebration for the kiddies of veterans, constituted the business transacted at the meeting of Nelson branch of the Canadian Legion Thursday night, when 49 members signed the roll as present.

ACCLAMATION FOR HOLLAND

The nominations resulted in one acclamation, Joe Holland being elected first vice-president, after refusing a nomination for presidnet, for which office he himself nominated Dr. E. C. Arthur.

Dr. Arthur is opposed for the presidency by G. K. Ashby. For second vice-president, M. V. Allen and A. Stanley Horswill were nominated, and for the three trustees, Dr. H. H. MacKenzie, D. D. Townsend, H. H. Currie, B. C. Affleck, Dave Wade and Dr. Arthur. The six elective seats on the executive are sought by 12 candidates—J. Spencer, L. Webb, E. M. Gilott, C. C. Nicholle, Ross Riley, M.
