LEAGUE GIVEN A THREE POINT OUTLINE, EAST

To Be Debated by Leaders; Pressure Agreements Void

REQUEST POWERS ASSIST FOR ORDER

Ask Committee of 19 to Keep Firm Grip on the Problem

GENEVA, March 10 (AP) (By F. L. Lipsey Jr.)—A three-point program for settling the Sino-Japanese conflict adopted today by a drafting committee of the League of Nations assembly was turned over the leaders of the league that they might prepare themselves for debate at a public session tomorrow.

The first resolution in the program proclaimed that no agreement reached through military pressure would be recognized.

The second resolution acknowledged the armistice efforts made by the great powers at Shanghai and requested the powers to assist in maintaining order in the zone to be evacuated by the Japanese.

A third resolution provided a committee of 19 to keep a firm grip on the problem. This committee would supervise peace-making efforts and would report to the full assembly not later than May 1.

By various indirect methods, the resolutions established that the entire Sino-Japanese question was within the competence of the assembly, confirming China's contention that Manchuria was included and rejecting the Japanese thesis that it was not.

Although the resolutions did not denounce Japan and did not acquit China of any responsibility—as China had requested—it appeared tonight that Chinese delegation would accept the program.

The Japanese also seemed disposed to approve, although there was a possibility they would find some features to which they would enter reservations.

Al Capone Believes Could Find the Lindbergh Baby

CHICAGO, March 10 (AP) (Copyright, 1932, by the Associated Press)—Al Capone appealed to the federal government from his cell in the Cook county jail today to release him on bonds so he can help in the search for the Lindbergh baby.

"I'd do anything in my power to get the baby back," Capone told the Associated Press, "and I probably could do as much as anyone alive.

"I know a lot of people who might be valuable in finding the child. There's nothing I can do here behind these bars. But I am pretty sure there would be if I could get out for a while."

Capone said he would be willing to post bond up to $200,000 for his release. He has been in jail more than four months, awaiting appeal to the higher courts from a conviction and 11 year penitentiary sentence on charges of failure to pay income taxes on the millions of dollars he earned as boss of Chicago's underworld.

The scar-faced gang leader made his statement after being visited by Arthur Brisbane, editorial director of the nation-wide chain of Hearst newspapers, and Harry Read, publisher of the Chicago Evening American.

NO FORMAL OVERTURE MADE

He said, however, that no formal or official overture had been made toward him to aid in hunting down the Lindbergh kidnappers.

"I'm telling you the way I stand on the matter now," Capone told the Associated Press. "That is—I'll do everything in my power to get the kid back. If the government or anybody else wants to take up my offer let them do it.

"No, I don't know if anybody is trying to arrange the bond matter. But if it is arranged, somebody else will have to do it. The government won't listen to me."

TOKYO, March 11 (AP)—The Japanese government decided today to instruct its Geneva delegation to refrain from voting on the League of Nations assembly's proposed new resolutions for a settlement of the conflict with China and to oppose to the utmost application of article XV of the league covenant in Manchuria.

IRISH POLITICAL PRISONERS ARE GIVEN RELEASE

Owe Freedom to Election of Eamonn de Valera as President

DUBLIN, March 10. (AP)—(By Michael Rooney)—The gates of three Irish prisons opened wide today for 20 Irishmen who were serving long jail terms for political offences. They owed their freedom to the election of Eamonn de Valera as president.

Many thousands outside Arbour Hill prison, where Mr. de Valera himself once was incarcerated, cheered wildly as 17 men appeared at the portals. The released inmates were hoisted to shoulders and carried to waiting automobiles.

The cars, adorned with large tricolors, carried signs reading:

"Welcome home, Republican prisoners."

There was a great parade through the streets between rows of cheering throngs, and the prisoners were taken to a hotel for a public reception.

SECOND ICY ONSLAUGHT IMPERILS OCEAN TRAFFIC AND VEGETATION

300 FISHERMEN ARE TAKEN OFF DRIFTING ICE

30 Horses Rescued; Men Believed Suffering From Exposure

HELSINGFORS, March 10 (AP).—About 300 of the 700 fishermen stranded on ice floes in the Gulf of Finland were saved today by courageous boatmen, who braved heavy seas. One fisherman died of heart disease and over-exertion.

An ice-breaker, which put out from Helsingfors last night, reached the neighborhood of Suursaari island, about midway between Helsingfors and Leningrad. Rescuers planned to continue operations during the night.

About 100 men were reported on the large floe near Suursaari island. Another floe, carrying 30 men, broke into several sections. The fishermen were stranded when large sections of the ice broke loose yesterday during a storm.

The rescuers also saved 30 of the 100 horses marooned with the fishing party.

The cold has been intense, and it was feared the fishermen were suffering from exposure. The horses were in a bad way, as there was no fodder on the floes.

An ice-breaker put out from Helsingfors last night, but was unable to get near the marooned men.

U.S. to Begin Process of Balancing Budget

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 10.—(By Ken Clark, Canadian Press staff writer)—With the introduction of a two billion dollar revenue bill in the house of representatives today, congress began the unpleasant business of deciding how to get the money from United States citizens to balance the budget. Representative Crips, Democrat, Georgia, defending the proposed sales tax, the most contentious provision, warned congress that unless the bills were passed "the financial world will become frightened as to the solidity of United States credit."

JOHN PHILIP SOUSA IS LAID AWAY

WASHINGTON, March 10)AP).—John Philip Sousa was buried today in Congressional cemetery. Nearby he had often played with boyish companions.

The services for the man known for years as the "march king" were held in Marine barracks, only a little distance from his birthplace, and even more intimately associated with his memory. He was a member of the Marine band when only a boy, and its leader from 1880 to 1892.

East Coast Is Held in Fresh Onslaught of Winter

CREW ESCAPES AS VESSEL SINKS

Frigid Wind Nips Plants as Far South as Mexico

(By the Associated Press)

Winter's icy winds loosened a fresh assault over land and sea yesterday and sent to the bottom of the Atlantic the collier H. F. de Bardeleben, which for three days had resisted incessant buffeting.

The disabled vessel sank some 600 miles of New York several hours after her crew of 34 took to lifeboats and were put aboard the British freighter Laganbank.

The Hamburg American freighter Harbur meanwhile helplessly awaited the arrival of the salvage tug Foundation Franklin, having declined an offer of aid from the American for France freighter Vincent. She was in no danger, although her rudder was broken.

Nine coast guard cutters and three destroyers searched the Atlantic off Delaware capes for the patrol boat CG-218 missing since Monday with a crew of five.

The collier Wellhart, with a fouled anchor, was guarded in Buzzards bay, Massachusetts, by the coast guard patrol boat Eagle.

NIP PLANT LIFE

Meanwhile, on land the frigid winds, which ranged from a few degrees below freezing to around zero, nipped the life from plants that had taken earlier warm breezes

WRITING EXPERTS FAIL TO REACH A DECISION ON CASE

Gypsum Queen Commission Adjourn Before Arrive at Conclusions

OTTAWA, March 10. (CP)—After three days occupied in examination of handwriting experts, the Gypsum Queen commission, headed by Chief Justice Horace Harvey of Alberta, had not yet completed this phase of the investigation when adjournment was reached tonight. The experts were called to give their conclusions as to the authenticity of the "exhibit No. 7" a certificate of ownership of the Gypsum Queen allegedly signed by John S. Henderson, shipping master at Parrasboro, N.S.

Senator Hance J. I an, as counsel for Captain Freeman Hatfield, owner and master of the Gypsum Queen, used this certificate in his claim before reparations commission Errol McDougall for damages for the alleged torpedoing of the schoner off the Irish coast in 1915. Mr. Henderson subsequently denied that he had issued the certificate and swore to that effect before the Harvey commission recently.

Cochrane Man Charged With Banff Holdup

CALGARY, Alta., March 10.—William Robert Wills, 27-year-old Cochrane district homesteader, was charged today with the $60 holdup of the Banff cafe February 10, the first armed robbery to occur at the famous Rocky Mountain pleasure resort. Wills, with his 47-year-old mother, Mrs. Lily Wills and 15-year-old sister already face a charges of armed robbery in conection with a furrier store holdup February 27 in Calgary.

VANCOUVER ALDERMAN SEES FURTHER SUBSTANTIATION OF THE DEPRESSION

VANCOUVER, March 10—The old illusion that civic representative who makes a formal and dignified visit to a foreign land is wined, dined and pampered, has been shattered by Ald. W. H. Lembke, chairman of the civic boards and railway committee.

Ald. Lembke was appointed by the city council to represent Vancouver at a recent opening of the George Washington bridge in Seattle. In view of the approaching opening of the Burrard bridge here, it was thought he might get a few pointers on procedure. Besides, Seattle was anxious that Vancouver be represented.

But it was a sadder and wiser alderman who reported to his colleagues on the subject. He may have learned a few things about bridges—but he certainly did learn a lot about exchange.

When he arrived there he found he was also, in effect, the official representatives of British Columbia. When the log which closed off the bridge was sawed, he was at one end of the saw, with the Washington governor on the other, and a Mexican representative pouring oil on the saw cut. But, despite all the glory, he had to pay 15 per cent exchange on all his expenses, and—worse than that 30 per cent on Canadian silver.

However, after the log-sawing, he went back to his hotel and waited for the commencement of a banquet after the opening. But that was all that happened. The banquet proceeded, but the lonely Vancouver alderman waited vainly for some one to inform him that there was a place for Vancouver's representative at the dinner.

"Finally, I decided that there was no banquet for me," he said. "But when I thought of that exchange, I got less and less hungry. So I came home.

"After I got back," he said, "a photograp er sent me a proof of a picture showing the governor and me sawing the log. I was told, in an accompanying letter, that a photograph would be sent me on receipt of $2.50—likely plus exchange—and if I did not want a picture, would I please return the proof."

CHINESE REPLY IS A DEMAND TO EVACUATE

Withdrawal Placed as a Perequisite to Negotiations

SHANGHAI, March 10 (AP).—(By Morris J. Harris).—The Chinese government, replying to the latest Japanese peace proposals, reiterated today its demand for unconditional evacuation of Japanese troops as a prerequisite to truce negotiations. The peace proposals had come from Marmoru Shigemitsu, Japanese minister to China, who informed Chinese authorities that civil and military officials of the Tokyo government were ready to start negotiations in accordance with the League of Nations assembly resolution adopted March 4.

"There is every reason to entertain some anxiety concerning the situation at the front," the Japanese minister said in his note to the Chinese authorities, "and we consider it a matter of urgent necessity to reach a definite agreement for cessation of hostilities forthwith. Then we may discuss and determine arrangements for a withdrawal of Japanese troops."

Japanese officials announced that their losses from the beginning of hostilities on the night of January 28 to March 5 totalled 532 dead and 2072 wounded. These figures included army, navy, and civilian casualties.

STATE HEALTH IS ESTIMATED AT A COST $6,500,000

Dr. Gillis States Is Desirable Move; Has Found Favor

VICTORIA, March 10. — State health insurance would cost $6,500,000 yearly on "the most ideal plan" put forward by the royal commission on the subject, George S. Pearson (Liberal, Nanaimo) confided to the legislature today during debate on the subject. This huge expenditure, the member for Nanaimo contended, would not be a dollar more than is at present paid in relief of sickness, would be more equitably shared. Three members contributed to the debate, which was adjourned by W. R. Rutledge (Conservative, Burnaby).

Opening debate for the day, Dr. J. J. Gillis (Liberal, Yale), contributed a thoughtful address in which he stressed the preventive side of ill health, and advocated application of the principle of state health insurance.

As a member of the royal commission that made the report, Dr. Gillis got an attentive hearing. He said organized plans to conserve and improve the general health of the people were desirable, that the public wanted this step taken, and the commission had found unanimously in favor of its adoption. Maternity loss in Canada, he continued, now amounted to 1500 persons yearly; tuberculosis took 2500 lives annually, and cancer was on the increase. The state now paid $1,500,000 in aid to hospitals, while employers paid $700,000 to workmen's compensation benefits. At greater cost state health insurance could be operated.

GRAVEL PIT NEEDS BEING CONSIDERED

Two New Screens Recommended and Overhauling of Motor

A recommendation by City Engineer Boyd C. Affleck, for the purchase of two screens for the screening plant at the city gravel pit, to replace the present worn ones, and for the overhauling of the motor that operates the plan during the construction season, is being considered by the public works committee.

The motor has been running about five years, with only local repairs, and a full overhauling now, the city engineer believes, may secure several years more of service. If the council authorizes the expens, th motor will be shipped to the factory in Vancouver for the overhauling.

TRAIL, B. C., March 10.—Dr. D. G. Crawford examined 29 babies at the Women's institute baby clinic in the Trail-Tadanac hospital today. This was the largest number of babies examined so far. Dr. Crawford was assisted by Mrs. Arthur McMillan and Mrs. Alfred Saunders.

MATERIAL INCREASE IN THE RANSOM MONEY IS THE LATEST DEMAND

Amount Is Materially Increased in Subsequent Communications With Lindbergh; Famous Flyer Ready to Meet Demands

AL CAPONE WOULD POST $200,000 BOND IF COULD OBTAIN TEMPORARY RELEASE

Attitude of Lindbergh Unknown; Johnson's Activities Check Satisfactorily; Police Are Silent on Findings

HOPEWELL, N.J., March 11. (AP)—(By Francis A. Jamieson)—A material increase in the ransom demanded by the kidnappers of Charles Augustus Lindbergh Jr., was advanced early today as one explanation of the delay in the return of the child, as a spectacular offer of assistance in the search came from "Scarface Al" Capone.

It was reported the original sum sought, $50,000, was jumped in subsequent communications received by Col. Lindbergh from the child stealers, who have been keeping their identity and hiding place a close secret.

While the famous flier was represented as willing to meet the new demands, it was learned in a reliable quarter the abductors had informed him they did not feel the time safe yet to conclude negotiations.

Capone made his offer to aid in Col. Lindbergh's private hunt, from a cell in the Cook county (Chicago) jail. He agreed to post a $200,000 bond if the federal government would release him temporarily.

State police here said they had not considered the offer and did not contemplate considering it. They added it was a matter for the federal government, not the state police.

It was possible to learn the attitude of Col. Lindbergh himself toward the suggestion, for he remained on his hilltop estate where he is directing his own negotiations, independent of the police investigation, but protected from questioning by troopers.

The state police let it be known they were pressing forward with their own line of activity; that they had not yet vindicated Betty Gow, the Lindbergh baby's nursemaid, or her friend, Henry Johnson, and that an international investigation of the pair was being conducted.

ENTERS ILLEGALLY

They said that if had been established Johnson had entered the country illegally and that if responsibility for participation in the kidnapping were fixed on him, he would be turned over to the immigration authorities for deportation.

As that statement was being issued word came from Newark, N. J., where Johnson has been held since the first of the week, that he had been formally arrested on a charge of violating the immigration laws.

ACTIVITIES CHECK SATISFACTORILY

Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf issued a long statement in an effort to clear up the mystery that has surrounded Johnson. He said so far Johnson's story of his activities up to the time of the abduction a week ago last Tuesday night had "checked satisfactorily" and that police had not been able to "fix any definite responsibility in connection with the kidnapping on Johnson or Betty Gow."

He explained that because of the

The commissions and all other expenses represent 55-100 of one per cent on the principal account.

The amount borrowed under the National Service loan of 1931 was $221,189,358. The commissions to banks and brokers was $1,819,106. The other expenses are estimated at $366,000. Commissions and all other expenses represent 95-100 of one per cent of the amount raised.

ROTARY PLOW IS MAKING PROGRESS ON APEX BLOCKADE

Shovel Gang Still Working on Slide; May Open by Saturday

While the snow shovellers are on their second week on the 1000-foot snowslide between Apex and the Golden Age, the rotary plow of the Reno mine is working on the snowed in portion of the Apex section of the Nelson-Nelway highway, which portion has been cleared since the middle of February, when it became impossible for the ordinary plows to open the cuts, which had become narrower and narrower from repeated plowing in the course of this winter of unprecedented snowfall.

William Ramsay, district engineer, went over the road Wednesday, accompanied by Engineer W. L. Affleck, and by J. J. Skillicorn, general road foreman at Kaslo, and found the rotary, which started work Tuesday, making gradual progress under difficult conditions.

It was said at the public works office Thursday that it was hardly possible the road could be opened before Saturday, and perhaps not then.

Until the heavy snowfall preceding the week of slides, the Nelson-Nelway road was open through to the boundary, being plowed out after every snowfall, and since the obstruction at Apex it has been open from Salmo to Nelway, and on the Nelson end as far as Perrier mine.

SASKATOON, Sask., March 10—General council of the United Church of Canada, scheduled to meet in Hamilton, Ont., in September, may not be held this year for the first time in the church's history owing to economic conditions, it was learned here today.

Consideration to the question has been given by high church officials, it was said, but no definite decision has been reached as yet.

Attached Bill Was Senator's Own One

OTTAWA, March 10, (CP)—The document which Peter White, K.C., produced before the house of commons Beauharnois committee last year and which, according to Senator W. L. McDougald today, Mr. White had said attached to it the Bermuda hotel bill of W. L. Mackenzie King, was not Mr. King's bill, but that of the senator himself. This was the evidence given before the senate Beauharnois committee this afternoon when Dr. McDougald was subjected to a cross-examination by Arthur L. Smith, committee counsel. The point arose when the matter of moneys received from Beauharnois by the senator was under review.

NELSON TENNIS CLUB HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING

E. E. L. Dewdney Re-Elected President; Three New Faces on Committee

At the annual meeting of the Nelson Golf and Country Club Tennis club, E. E. L. Dewdney was re-elected president. The meeting was held at the home of Mr. Dewdney Thursday evening. L. Simpson was reelected vice-president, and N. German, secretary-treasurer, was also reelected. A largely new committee was elected, A. W. Idiens being the only old member. New members were B. Hobson, G. Simpson and Edward Saunders.

It was reported that $1000 is owing on the club house. This has been taken in last year, while the cost of running of the courts had been $600, thus leaving a surplus of $400. The surplus has been used for the making of improvements at the tennis court.

After much discussion it was decided to construct a special bouncing board at the Golf club.

Many of the more experienced tennis players volunteered their services in connection with the teaching of beginners.

It was decided to run a free bus to the golf course during May and June again this year.

A new caretaker has been employed, and it is expected that the courts will be kept in good shape.

The hall was packed and the dances by the youngsters were loudly applauded. Ted Swansen and Rasmas Walde, local musicians, were loudly cheered and were twice brought back by the audience, when they offered several violin and accordion selections.

Mrs. E. Sutcliffe, chief lady ranger, welcomed the guests at the supper table. John Ramson, chief ranger, also spoke a few words of welcome.

THOSE ON PROGRAM

Those in Mr. Wallace's class participating in the entertainment program were Ruby Gibbon in the Sailor's Hornpipe; Johnny Wade and Tommy Wallace in a waltz clog; Hughie Wallace in a junior hornpipe; Pat Plowman in a sword dance and Ruby Gibbon in an Irish jig.

Fred Webber, accompanied by Jack Toulson, sang a comic song and encored with an overseas song, composed by a friend.

Jack Toulson played two piano solos which were well received.

Miss Phyllis Elliott, accompanied by Miss Edith Wood at the piano, played a violin solo.

George Guille rendered a piano solo.

Following the program a dance was held, those not caring to dance playing cards in a room adjoining the big hall. The dancing lasted till an early hour.

Forrest Plowman acted as master of ceremonies.

The committees in charge of the banquet were: Court Ellen, Mrs. E. T. Jarvis, chairman, Mrs. E. Sutcliffe, Mrs. L. J Dunk, Mrs F Foster, Mrs J. Campbell and Mrs. J Bailis.

Court Royal—A. Deferro, chairman, F. Stringer, Jr., T. Bates, L. Dunk, A. G. Jeffereys and J J McEwan.

The evening was a huge success and the entertainments were much enjoyed.

Stomach Bad . . .

Niagara Falls, Ont. — "For a time I suffered from nervousness and could not sleep at night. My stomach was bad, my head was dizzy and heavy. I felt so tired and sick in the morning and after I had eaten my breakfast I was filled with gas," said John Joseph Barnes, 991 Huron St. "Let me tell you I felt so discouraged I just gave up everything almost. Finally I tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it did me so much good I took three bottles of these wonderful tablets and now I am real well." All druggists.

Acids in Stomach Cause Indigestion

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain. How to Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness burnings, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia, (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

King Carol of Roumania and his son, the former King Michael, are shown in the above picture. King Carol has asked his ex-wife, Princess Helen of Greece, to return to Roumania to be a mother to the boy. She defiantly refused reconciliation with Carol and is at present in Italy. Michael became king during his father's abdication in Paris, and then stepped down upon his father's return. The two are the best of pals, much of their time being spent together. Liberals Attack on Unemployment Action

OTTAWA, March 10. (CP)—Premier R. B. Bennett was painted to the house of commons today as a dictator and autocrat as the Liberals swung into action in opposition to renewing the "blank check" terms of the government's Unemployment Relief act. Parliament, said Ernest Lapointe, former minister of justice, was being asked to surrender all its powers and rights, and members were being reduced "to a condition of servile impotence".

What the Press Is Saying

BRITAIN BUYS MORE

The current newsletter issued by the Dominion Dairy and Cold Storage Branch at Ottawa contains some very interesting figures with respect to imports of butter in the United Kingdom for 1930 and 1931. Canada has at last come into the picture as an exporter of butter to the extent of 8,656,900 lbs., or 0.96 per cent. for 1931. While this indicates a healthy movement in the direction of developing export trade it means very little compared with the possibilities present, as shown by the fact that imports of butter for 1931 totalled within 15 tons of 904,000,000 lbs., an increase of some 149,000,000 lbs. over the preceding year 1930. These figures show that the Old Country is importing a steadily increasing volume of butter; they also give a fine indication of the potential market for Canadian export butter.

HOW TO PLANT TREES

As a sequel to taking over by the Experimental Farms Branch of the federal Department of Agriculture of the Forestry Experimental Station in Saskatchewan, the Publications Branch has available for distribution in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta a supply of copies of a special bulletin—Forest Service No. 1—on the subject of tree planting on the prairies. This bulletin is one of the most interesting and practical text books on the subject to which it relates, and is certainly well worth the trouble of writing for a copy. Shelter belts of suitable trees and hedges are doing much to raise the standard and comfort of home life on the bald prairie areas. For success in growing trees or hedges under prairie conditions one must know what to plant when to plant it, how to plant it, and where to get it. These points are all dealt with fully in the bulletin referred to.

CROPS ROTATION BENEFITS

As expressed by E. S. Hopkins, Dominion Field Husbandman of the Department of Agriculture, "the chief advantages of crop rotation consist in maintaining the productivity of the land at a higher level, in distributing the farm labour more uniformly throughout the season, and in controlling more effectively weeds, insects, and fungous diseases. Crop rotation is the growing of different crops upon the same land in a definite order and in recurring succession."

investigation of the two abroad "we are not in a position to vindicate them."

POLICE REFUSE INFORMATION

The police head refused to say whether he had any more knowledge concerning the identity of the kidnappers and the whereabouts of the baby than he had the night of the kidnapping.

An indication police have not narrowed their hunt for the missing child down to any one area came in a late night press conference.

The following question was put: "Have the police developed a definite theory of any kind as to where the baby might be held, that is, in the immediate Hopewell area, in the New York metropolitan area, or at some point farther away?"

"All three of these are possibilities and we are investigating all angles." Col. Schwarzkopf replied.

Earlier the hunt for the child had spread to the shores of England, when the Ile de France touched at Plymouth. The ship was searched, but only nine children were found aboard, all of whom were quickly identified.

CITY MAY REQUIRE A BABCOCK TESTER

Health Committee Now Securing Figures on Full Installation

Exact cost of a Babcock milk tester, installed for use, is being figured out by the health committee of the city council, for the information of the council at its next meeting.

The committee recently recommended the purchase of this machine, long asked for by Dr. E. C. Arthur, city medical health officer, but the available figures related only to the cost f.o.b. Vancouver.

Some provision for hot water may have to be made, and there may be some other expense involved.

Sentiment in the city council is favorable to the investment, if it is going to result in systematic and frequent tests of the city's milk supply.

The tester, if purchased, will be set up in Dr. Arthur's office at the city hall, probably on the cement base already there.

LODE-GOLD AND PROSPECTING IS THEME OF BOOK

Mines Branch Stimulates Prospecting for Gold Veins in B.C.

VICTORIA, March 10. — In line with the vigorous policy of stimulating gold mining in British Columbia, Hon. W. A. MacKenzie, minister of mines, announces the issue of an important bulletin devoted to the lode gold deposits of the province. The bulletin contains much information regarding gold properties in the province and outlines promising areas for the prospector. The resident engineers' reports on their respective districts have been written so as to direct attention to many dormant properties which present suitable opportunities for capital, and to assist the gold prospectors.

Metal mining in the province commenced with the production of lode gold, soon, however, overshadowed by the bonanza outpourings of placer gold in the early '60s. Later on, the first important lode gold camp was Rossland, and many others followed. After the war gold output fell off, and in recent years more attention has been paid to silver and base metal mining. In the last two years, with the tremendous decline in metal prices, the latent gold possibilities of the province have attracted greater attention. There has been need, Hon. Mr. MacKenzie points out, for a compilation of the available information on lode gold potentialities of the province. Accordingly, instructions were given last year for the preparation of the bulletin, and now the latest information and useful data contained in past annual reports is all available for those who desire it. To the owners of gold properties seeking assistance from capital for the further development of their claims, the bulletin should prove helpful. Scouting engineers will find much to interest them, and a careful perusal of the resident engineers' reports will show many properties that merit investigation and development.

The issuance last year by the department of Bulletin No. 1, 1931—"Placer Mining in British Columbia"—giving exhaustive information regarding placer gold possibilities in the province, undoubtedly did much to stimulate activity in this branch of mining, with resulting larger production. Mr. MacKenzie considers that the forthcoming bulletin on lode gold deposits will similarly quicken the exploitation of many gold properties in the province.

The widespread gold mineralization in the province is shown by the many areas which contain promising gold properties and indications. For the prospectors there are opportunities in slightly prospected or unprospected areas, and also scope for intensive prospecting in many of the old productive gold camps of the province. A very considerable literature exists of gold properties and gold areas in the province, and much of this could not be included in the bulletin. It is hoped that all those interested will write freely for further information. Trail maps and sketch maps of areas that are available will be supplied by the resident engineers of the respective districts.

Gold mining represents the world's best business at the present time, and Hon. Mr. MacKenzie believes that no effort should be spared to vigorously prosecute the development of the latent gold resources of British Columbia.

The present time would be most opportune for the revival in much greater measure of the old system of grub-staking prospectors. In the early days of lode mining in the province, hundreds of prospectors were "grub-staked" by individuals who had a little money for mining speculation and a lively interest in developing the province. A few hundred dollars will put two good prospectors in the field for the season, and backers and prospectors share in any mineral discoveries. The system has gradually died out, but Hon. Mr. MacKenzie believes every effort should be made to revive it. Many excellent prospectors are now in the ranks of the unemployed, and those who can afford it would be relieving distress by backing these men in search for nature's treasure.

MRS. McMULLIN IS BURIED, VICTORIA

Wife of Head of Provincial Police Formerly of Fernie

VICTORIA, B. C., March 10—The death occurred Tuesday morning, at the Jubilee hospital, after a sudden illness, of Mrs. J. H. McMullin, wife of Lieut. Col. J. H. McMullin, commissioner of British Columbia provincial police, of 37 Beach drive. Mrs. McMullin was born at Ballynahinch, Ireland, in 1879, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Pelly, of Armstrong, British Columbia, who came to the Okanagan 46 years ago. After her marriage to Colonel McMullin, she lived at Fernie and later in Prince Rupert, coming to Victoria in 1923.

She made many friends throughout the province, who will regret to hear of her passing.

COAST MOTORIST BEATS SNOW WHEN DRIVES TO CITY

Drives Over Railway Part of Way Between Salmo and City

Fred Cox, publisher of a series of road maps in British Columbia arrived in Nelson yesterday by automobile from Spokane, being the first motorist to make this trip since winter conditions snowed up the highway between Salmo and Apex. Mr. Cox also holds the distinction of being the first man to make the trip from Vancouver to Grand Forks through the Fraser canyon this year. From Grand Forks he went south to Spokane.

Last night he declared it a shame that a motorist could drive from Spokane to Metaline Falls on clear roads without chains and even on to Salmo and then be balked by slides and snow this side of Salmo. He believed these slides could be speedily cleared if enough men were put to work.

From Salmo to Hall he fought loose snow and used chains, from Ymir to the Golden Age mine he stated he fought the road as well as snow. From there to Apex he took to the Great Northern railway track.

"It is a shame that this road is not kept open all winter," said the coast man. Nelson is losing a lot of business just through the winter blockade," he added.

BOARD RALLIES TO DEFENCE OF MINE ENGINEEERS

Will Give Stated Reasons for Wanting the System Continued

ENGLISH ENGINEER PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE

Reno and Perrier Assisted; Committee Will Expand Resolution

Mere endorsation of "the present arrangement with regard to resident mining engineers" and expression of disapproval of the Cranbrook resolution asking the provincial government to abolish them, as recommended by the committee on mining and natural resources of the board of trade, was deemed by the board of trade, at its session Thursday, not to go quite far enough, and it was decided that the board should go on record, both with the government and with the Cranbrook board of trade, as very emphatically in favor, for definitely stated reasons, of the resident engineers being retained.

R. W. Hinton was the member who suggested that the board should make its opinion more effective by giving its reasons, both for the benefit of the government, and to convince the Cranbrook board, which had been influenced by one large company that had been reported against, whereas the general experience was that the resident engineers did very valuable work, that benefited the district.

W. R. Grubbe seconded this idea, stating that in the matter alone of reporting where mining roads and trails could be justifiably assisted, the engineers saved the government much money.

STORY OF RENO OPERATION

W. R. Thomas, the English mining engineer, now spending some time in Nelson, who was present as a guest, was invited to speak, and told of how English capital was introduced to the Reno, Capt. Hutton, representative of English interests, meeting him at the coast, and asking him to give an opinion on its possibilities. The only report in existence that was really a report, and that gave information that an engineer would want, was that of Resident Engineer B. T. O'Grady, published in the 1927 report of the minister of mines, and the facts it set forth, inclusive of extensive assays, so favorably impressed him that he came up with Capt. Hutton, and on seeing the property, expressed a favorable opinion on it as "a good little spec.", and advised a development program and a small test mill. The result was the present Reno operation, which far exceeded expectations, and which had already produced $400,000 worth of gold bullion.

"Any mine you like in this province, if you look up the reports of the government's resident engineers, you will find fair and accurate reports," concluded Mr. Thomas.

PERRIER PROFITS BY AID

F. J. S. Sur, manager of the Perrier, said the resident engineers were also of valuable assistance to operators, giving the experience with the Perrier as an instance. He said his people took over the Perrier, and to see if they had a mine, tried the small mill for five weeks, knowing there would be a loss but realizing they had to know what could be done. When he told Mr. O'Grady that he proposed to shut down and have other mill tests, Mr. O'Grady asked him why he did not figure out a shipping scheme. "You California people know how to mill cheaply with silicious ore, but why not try shipping?" he reported Mr. O'Grady as saying.

This idea had never occurred to him, Mr. Sur confessed, but the result was that he went into this question, was given a $2 rate by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada, and the upshot was that since December 15 the Perrier had shipped say 1200 tons of ore to Trail, had paid out $6000 in wages, all of which was spent in Nelson, and ascertained that it could ship at a profit as long as the ore should hold out. This development came directly from the resident engineer.

The board then by unanimous vote instructed the committee on mining and natural resources to amplify the resolution to be sent to the minister of mines and the Cranbrook board, by incorporating the reasons for the board's support of the present system.

Secret Service Men Question Mrs. J. Vanderweg; Expect Little

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 10.—(CP)—Investigation made in Vancouver during the past few days by United States secret service men in connection with the Lindbergh kidnapping case in New Jersey may result in an early arrest in the United States, it is reported here.

Although the two United States police officers who came to Vancouver to question Mrs. J. Vanderweg, occupant of a houseboat on Burrard inlet, refused to make any statement before they left Thursday afternoon for Blaine, it is reported they have uncovered an important trail.

The federal operatives were assisted by Royal Canadian Mounted police officers. Mrs. Vanderweg, who was reported to have been a friend of Betty Gow, Lindbergh nurse, was cross-examined by the visitors, and her houseboat searched.

Neither Royal Cahadian Mounted police nor Mrs. Vanderweg will make a statement regarding the matter.

The United States consul's office here is inclined to believe, however, that there will be no new developments from the Vancouver visit. It was just a matter of checking every possibility, it is said.

DENIES KNOWING BETTY GOW

Mrs. Vanderweg told officers that she did not know Betty Gow, who is reported to have visited Vancouver three years ago. The U. S. officers motored to Blaine after completing their investigation here, and have not made any statement from across the line.

Mrs. Vanderweg revealed that the federal officers asked her if she knew Henry Johnston, who is under arrest in connection with the kidnapping. Johnson, a sailor on Thomas W. Lamont's yacht Reynard, is said to have been in Vancouver in July, 1930, when the yacht was here in the course of a cruise to Alaska. No official records are available showing the yacht actually visited Vancouver.

The officers also wished to know if Mrs. Vanderweg was acquainted with Betty Gow, and when assured that she was not, confronted her with a statement made by a Vancouver man. This man said that Mrs. Vanderweg had introduced him to Betty Gow in 1930.

The investigators also asked Mrs. Vanderweg if she knew a man named Fred Short. She said that she knew a man of that name in Australia, and that she had seen him in 1930 in Vancouver.

Mrs. Vanderweg, born in Australia, has been a resident of Vancouver since 1925, and was married at Bellingham in 1930. Her husband has been on city relief since 1931.

GRANTS TO B. C. CITIES STAND SAYS CAPITOL

They Will Be Charged for Mothers and Old-Age Pensions

SEVEN-CENT GASOLINE TAX

New Tax on All Government Liquor Is Now Probable

VICTORIA, March 10—There will be no interference with government grants to municipalities, but the municipalities will be charged for the full cost of mothers' pensions, old age pensions and treatment of their residents in provincial institutions.

This is the latest financial program of the provincial government, and represents a complete shift from the original plan to eliminate the existing grants. But the net effect of it, in the opinion of municipal leaders, will cost the municipalities just as much.

SEVEN CENT GASOLINE TAX

Another important change in the budget, is a 7c gasoline tax instead of the 6c tax decided on a short time ago. Automobile club officials, told of this plan by Conservative members of the house, immediately began to organize to oppose it. The threat was even made that if the 7c tax were implemented the automobile clubs would attack the legality of the whole principle of gasoline taxation, the soundness of which constitutionally is very doubtful.

A third budget development is a probable tax on all liquor sold by the government according to its price.

The decision to leave municipal grants untouched was intimated to a committee of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, which met Hon. J. W. Jones, minister of finance today Mr. Jones, while declining to give details, said the government would not hit the municipalities nearly so hard as had been forecast. Later the municipalities learned from other sources that the grants would stand, but that they would be charged for the cost of mothers' pensions and old age pensions for their own residents. Presumably the charges against each municipality on this score will be deducted from government grants.

In addition the daily amount payable by municipalities to the government for the care of their residents in such institutions as Tranquille sanitarium will be raised about 50 cents a day, or almost doubled.

Municipal leaders are busy calculating the effect of this scheme. Some of them declared it would work out almost exactly in the same way as the cancellation of municipal grants from liquor profits, parimutuel taxes and motor licences, but the government, it is understood does not believe this to be true. It holds that the cities will not feel the pinch nearly so severely under the new arrangement as under the old.

It is expected this matter will be clarified by each municipality during the next few days. In the case of Vancouver, it is said the extra cost to the city would be around $750,000, or three mills a year, but this could not be confirmed in the absence of municipal records.

Meanwhile it was understood the government is going ahead with its plan, announced some time ago, of levying a special tax on liquor. This will give it a new revenue without increasing the actual catalogue price of liquor and the increase thus will belong to the government alone. It will not be shared with the municipalities. A tax of 25 cents a bottle on the more expensive liquors and 10 cents on the cheaper varieties is generally expected, but the details of the plan have yet to be worked out.

The budget is still incomplete and changes so frequently that its final form can not be foreseen accurately yet. But that it will contain a new monthly income tax at the rate of 1 per cent per thousand dollars of income, an increase gas tax, a fuel oil tax and a reduction in municipal income in one form or other seems assured. The budget may be ready by the end of this week.

Threat to Unlimited Salmon Fishing Is Entertained Lightly

SEATTLE, March 10 (AP)—Refusing to take seriously the implied threat of officials of British Columbia to open the Fraser river to unlimited salmon fishing, Victor Elfendahl, former president of Association of Pacific Fisheries, today said he didn't think the "Canadian government would cut its nose to spite its face."

He said the plan of transplanting sockeyes had been tried before without success and he did not see how the loss of the Fraser spawning grounds, the largest in the territory, could be made up.

He said if British Columbia really wanted to destroy the Fraser river salmon run it could be done.

"Most of our cannery men are for the treaty the same as British Columbia, but Gov. Hartley has strongly opposed it."

Officials at Victoria blamed the non-ratification of the fisheries treaty between the United States and Canada by the United senate on the state of Washington.

Gov. Hartley has strongly opposed it and clearly stated his opposition to the Washington state congressional delegation some months ago.

Elfendahl said if the British Columbia threat was carried out it would mean at least a $4,000,000 loss to the Puget sound annually.

CONSULAR OFFICE REFUSED DISTRICT

Board Requests Gravelling of Trail-Castlegar Section

Recommendation of the publicity committee that the Nelson board of trade endorse the action of its delegates to the Fernie conference that resulted in the organization of the Southern Scenic-Red Trail association and accept its assessment of $150 toward the year's program provided the $1000 budget was raised, was unanimously approved by the board of trade at its monthly meeting Thursday.

Before this action was taken, Alderman J. B. Gray pointed out that the Trail board, according to The Nelson Daily News report, raised a question of whether advertising of the highway before it was in good order for traffic would not injure rather than help the district, and he suggested leaving the matter over for a month. If Trail did not come in, it would mean other boards, including Nelson, would have to put up more.

TO CONFER WITH TRAIL

H. M. Whimster, chairman of the publicity committee, said Trail wanted more information, and it had been arranged that A. Browne and himself should go over to Trail and meet the board's council on this matter, and he had no doubt that the position could be explained in a way that would secure Trail's support.

Mr. Browne said if anything was going to be done, it had to be done without delay. He explained that there was considerable leeway, and that if a majority of the boards written to came in, the $1000 would be raised even if some stayed out.

A. Leith said the matter was of such importance that if it should be found that a larger contribution from Nelson was needed, he for one would be willing for it to be put up.

R. W. Hinton also urged approval, pointing out that one of the arguments of the government for low maintenance appropriations was that there was not the traffic to justify them. He favored going after the traffic.

HIGHWAY BOARD NEXT MONTH

Final action on the subject of a highway commission for the province, on which S. S. McDiarmid of Trail addressed the board a month ago, was further postponed.

After discussion by R. W. Hinton, President C. B. Garland, W. M. Cunliffe, and Ven. Archdeacon Fred H. Graham, the roads and bridges committee, on motion of Dr. E. C. Arthur and E. C. Wragge, was instructed to bring down a resolution on the matter for discussion at the next meeting.

A letter from the United States consul-general in Vancouver respecting the board's suggestion that the commercial interests of this district made the opening of a consular office here highly desirable, transmitted the answer of the United States department of state, which was to the effect that owing to shortage of finances and also of personnel, the department could maintain consular offices only at points where the need was very pressing, and that Nelson's request could not be complied with.

C. F. McHardy, who prompted the application, said in a matter of this sort success could only be obtained by keeping after it, and he suggested the matter be laid on the table for the present, to be pressed again later.

Action in accord with this suggestion was taken.

ASK FACTS ON BRIDGE

A report from the council, recommending that a copy of all past correspondence with respect to the Kootenay Landing railway bridge be sent to the department of public works at Ottawa with a request that the interests of the district with respect to navigation at that point be fully safeguarded, was adopted.

In addition, on motion of R. W. Hinton, it was decided to ask the department for full information as to what was going on in this matter, and what was proposed to be done.

GRAVEL TRAIL ROAD

A. Browne said he had recently been over the Trail-Castlegar road, which was temporarily closed to traffic because of the spring breakup, and was of the opinion that what was needed at this time was gravelling, the road being soft and in just the best condition to take the gravel. He said he had told the board of trade in Trail that if it applied to the minister of public works for the gravelling of that section, it could no doubt look for support in the matter from the Nelson board.

It was decided to ask for the gravelling of that highway.

George E. Fleming and the Empire Machines, limited, were elected to membership.

VANCOUVER TO COMBAT SOCIAL SERVICE EXPENSE

VANCOUVER, B. With many new structures going up in Russia young women are called on to learn building trades while on the job.

Action Is Initiated Against Hinchliffe

VICTORIA, March 10 (CP)—Action has been initiated in the supreme court by John Alexander Anderson against Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe for a declaration that the plaintiff is in no wise responsible for or liable for shortages, if any, which may be shown in the accounts of the text book branch of the department of education.

A writ issued by A. J. Patton, on behalf of Mr. Anderson, sets out that Mr. Gunliffe caused the plaintiff to be dismissed alleging him to be responsible for certain alleged shortages.

SYNOPSIS

Six people, Horace Johnson (who tells the story), his wife, old Mrs. Dane, Herbert Robinson and his sister, Alice, and Dr. Sperry, friends and neighbors, are in the habit of holding weekly meetings. At one of them, Mrs. Dane, who is hostess, varies the program by unexpectedly arranging a spiritualistic seance with Miss Jeremy, a friend of Dr. Sperry and not a professional, as the medium.

At the first sitting the medium tells the details of a murder as it is occurring. Later that night Sperry learns that a neighbor, Arthur Wells, has been shot mysteriously. With Johnson he goes to the Wells residence and they find confirmation of the medium's account. Mrs. Wells tells them her husband shot himself in a fit of depression.

The French maid admits she was out at the time Wells was shot, telephoning from a nearby drug store. Johnson goes to the drug store where the clerk tells him the maid phoned to the Ellingham house, telling somebody there not "to call that night."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

At dawn I went downstairs again, heartily ashamed of myself. I found that a door to the basement had been left open, and that the soft movement had probably been my overcoat, swaying in the draft.

Sperry had, I believe, told Herbert Robinson of what we had discovered but nothing had been said to the women. I knew through my wife that they were wildly curious and the night of the second seance Mrs. Dane drew me aside and made me promise I would tell her all I learned, after it was all over.

Miss Jeremy did not come to dinner. She never ate before a seance. And although we tried to keep the conversational ball floating airly, there was not the usual effervescence of the Neighborhood Club dinners. One and all, we were waiting, we knew not for what.

I am sorry to record that there were no physical phenomena of any sort at this second seance. The room was arranged as it had been at the first sitting except that a table with a candle and a screen for Mrs. Dane's secretary.

There was one other change. Sperry had brought the walking-stick he had taken from Arthur Well's room, and after the medium was in trance he placed it on the table before her.

The first questions were disappointing in results. Asked about the stick there was only silence. When, however, Sperry went back to the sitting of the week before, and referred to questions and answers at that time the medium seemed uneasy. Her hand, held under mine, made an effort to free itself, and, released, touched the cane. She lifted it, and struck the table a hard blow with it.

"Do you know to whom that stick belongs?"

A silence. Then: "Yes."

"Will you tell us what you know about it?"

"It is writing."

"Writing?"

"It was writing, but the water washed it away."

Then, instantly and with great rapidity, followed a wild torrent of words and incomplete sentences. It is inarticulate, and the secretary made no record of it. As I recall, however, it was about water, children, and the words "10 o'clock" repeated several times.

"Do you mean that something happened at 10 o'clock?"

"No. Certainly not. No, indeed. The water washed it away, all of it. Not a trace."

"Where did all this happen?"

She named, without hesitation, a seaside resort about 50 miles from our city. There was not one of us, I dare say, who did not know that the Wellses had spent the preceding summer there and that Charlie Ellingham had been there, also.

"Do you know that Arthur Wells is dead?"

"Yes. He is dead."

"Did he kill himself?"

"You can't catch me on that, I don't know."

Here the medium laughed. It was horrible. And the laughter made the whole thing absurd. But it died away quickly.

"If only the pocketbook was not lost," she said. "There were so many things in it. Especially car-tickets. Walking is a nuisance."

Mrs. Dane's secretary suddenly spoke "Do you want me to take things like that?" she asked.

"Take everything, please," was the answer.

"Car-tickets and letters. It will be terrible if the letters are found."

"Where was the pocketbook lost?" Sperry asked.

"If that were known, it could be found," was the reply, rather sharpely given. "Hawkins may have it. He was always hanging around. The curtain was much safer."

"What curtain?"

"Nobody would have thought of the curtain. First ideas are best."

She repeated this, following it, as once before with rhymes for the final word, best, rest, chest, pest.

"Pest!" she said. "That's Hawkins!" And again the laughter.

"Did one of the bullets strike the ceiling?"

"Yes. But you'll never find it. It is holding well. That part's safe enough—unless it made a hole in the floor above."

"But there was only one empty chamber in the revolver. How could two shots have been fired?"

There was no answer at all to this. And Sperry, after waiting, went on to his next question: "Who occupied the room overhead?"

But here we received the reply to the previous question: "There was a box of cartridges in the tabledresser. That's easy."

From that point, however, the interest lapsed. Either there was no answer to questions, or we got the absurdity that we had encountered before, about the drawing-room furniture. But unsatisfactory in many ways as the seance had been, the effect on Miss Jeremy was profound—she was longer in coming out, and greatly exhausted when it was all over.

She refused to take the supper Mrs. Dane had prepared for her, and at 11 o'clock Sperry took her home in his car.

I remember that Mrs. Dane inquired after she had gone.

"Does any one know the name of the Wellses' butler? It is Hawkins?"

I said nothing, and as Sperry was the only one likely to know and he had gone, the inquiry went no further. Looking back, I realize that Herbert, while less cynical, was still skeptical, that his sister was noncommittal, but for some reason watching me, and that Mrs. Dane was in a state of delightful anticipation.

My wife, however, had taken a dislike to Miss Jeremy, and said that the whole thing bored her.

"The men like it, of course," she said. "Horace fairly simpers with pleasure while he sits and holds her hand. But a woman doesn't impose on other women so easily. It's silly."

"My dear," Mrs. Dane said, reaching over and patting my wife's hand, "people talked that way about Columbus and Galileo. And if it is nonsense, it is such thrilling nonsense!"

BUTTERSCOTCH AND CARAMELS

Butterscotch and caramels seem to be the favorite candies, to judge from letters I get from column readers, asking for these recipes:

Butterscotch Number One: "Two large tablespoons water, one tablespoon butter, two large tablespoons granulated sugar, three tablespoons molasses. Cook this mixture till brittle, then add a pinch of soda before taking from range." (Contributed by a reader, who says this recipe always "works" without any more exact directions than this for making it!)

Butterscotch Number Two: Mix together in a saucepan one cup of granulated sugar, ¼ cup of molasses or brown sugar, ¼ cup of butter, one tablespoon of vinegar, two tablespoons of boiling water, and one teaspoon of vanilla. Boil this mixture till, when tested in cold water, it becomes brittle. Turn into a buttered pan, and when slightly cool mark in squares.

Vanilla Caramels: "Put two pounds of granulated sugar and 1½ pounds of glucose (or corn syrup) with one pint of cream into a saucepan and stir constantly till it will form a soft ball when tested in cold water. Then add another pint of cream, stir steadily till a soft ball forms again, when tested in the cold water. Add a third and last pint of cream and cook again till the syrup will form into a firm ball when tested in cold water—but not brittle. Turn into buttered pans and mark in squares when almost cold. If this recipe seems too expensive for the home cook, divide it. I use it when making candy to sell at a church fair." —Contributed by a busy housekeeper.

HOW'S YOUR LIVER?

If you are feeling low these days don't blame it all on the depression. Your liver may have a lot to do with it. So may your coiffure, the tired look in your face, your appearance in general.

If you can withstand the slump of the fag end of winter and still leap out of bed joyously mornings, chaming at the bit, then you certainly are good.

However, if you wake up wishing you could go to sleep again and still manage to crawl out and not only get going but going strong, then perhaps you are even better.

Setting up exercises sound terrible? Well, substitute some tricks for them then. But be sure you do a certain amount of bending, of moving your legs and arms and twisting your trunk. Winter makes folks terribly lazy if they don't look out, for the minute cold weather hits you it is much easier to duck inside and stay there comfortably than face biting winds and get the exercise you need.

An excellent trick to make yourself get the requisite amount of stretching is to keep a deck of cards on your bedside table. Throw your arm out as you get up and knock them helter-skelter on the floor. Of course, you'll have to pick them up. If you can turn on a gay record and bend this way and that recovering them all, you will have encouraged your circulation, gotten yourself limbered up and be all in trim for your shower and dressing.

Don't overlook the hot water lemon during morning. And if you need a night cap, don't go in for fattening things. Try a nice tomato juice cocktail or even another cup of hot water. Last and best is to start the day with a brisk walk to work. It is impossible for many folks. But no one exists who can't walk to the next car stop or two and get a little constitutional in the cheapest way in the world.

GRAND FORKS, B. C., March 10—Considerable interest was roused last week in the annual handicap billiard tournament held in Reuter's billiard parlors last week, H. Collins again capturing first place with Eric Atwood cornering second.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

The perfect eyebrow tapers at the far end, but is doesn't taper at the point where it faces its partner. The eyebrow silhouette should be a curve like that of the wing of a bird in flight. Girls who have destroyed their little window arches and who use black crayon as a substitute should learn something about the proper contour instead of streaking on one long, thin, straight line.

There is a French bluing that can be bought in any beauty shop and at some drug stores, the purpose of which is to bleach yellow streaks from white hair. It has a purple cast and imparts a lovely shimmering silver effect to the sisters who carry cotton-colored halos atop their heads.

Sulphur ointment is an old tried-and true remedy for facial eruptions, though it may not work in all cases Ointment of zinc oxide is also healing. Before applying either of these, bathe the face with warm water and a bland soap, rinsing first with warm water then with cold.

Foot binding in Chinese is outlawed. Yet spiked heels, almost as harmful, are worn by women who are supposed to have advanced minds; anyhow they go to the polls and vote, help carry on the world's industries. Manufacturers of shoes say they are ready and willing to produce comfortable shoes, but that the great demand is for stilts on which the poor deluded femmes hobble about, throwing their bodies out of alignment, putting strain on leg muscles and spinal columns. The high heel was never meant for street wear. Smartly dressed women, women of fashion, culture and intelligence, wear walking shoes when they trot along the buyways. There now, take that, high-heeler!

There's an idea traveling about to the effect that by eating more green vegetables and green salads a girl will rid herself of moth patches. This cure is based on the notion that skin discolorations are produced by the sluggish intestinal tract or a torpid liver. Some say so, some say not; authorities do not agree. Since green vegetables and salads are what everybody needs, no sense in not trying 'em.

Cornmeal will perform as well as any other substance as a dry shampoo. It brushes out more thoroughly and readily than powdered orris, the old-time medium. It picks up oil from scaly and hair strands, but it is doubtful cleansing agent. A weekly shampoo with melted soap, a rousing cold bath spray, plenty of scalp friction, and a final cold water rinsing will keep any head of hair in apple pie order.

Feet that are cold and clammy need to do dance steps. Something wrong with circulation. Vigorous massage will afford temporary relief, so will friction with alcohol and vigorous applications of a coarse Turkish towel. Lift up and down on the toes. Place the heels on the floor and tap with the toes. Keep on until the flesh glows.

SECOND SERIES OF BENEFIT BRIDGE IS STAGED

WYNNDEL, B. C., March 10—Mrs. C. Robinson and Mrs. W. Hagen were joint hostesses at the second series of bridge afternoons on Friday.

These bridge drives are being put on by the Wynndel Women's institute to gather funds for Lillian Gregory's return from the solarium.

Over 30 ladies were present with seven tables in play. Mrs. W. J. Cooper won the high score while Mrs. W. Wigen annexed the low score trophy.

A pen and pencil set was raffled, Miss F. Woodhouse was the holder of the lucky ticket.

At the close of the afternoon a dainty lunch was served. The free will offering amounted to $5.55.

A CLEAN DUSTER

Don't forget you are only wasting your time when you dust a room with a dirty duster, because it will leave just as much soil and dust in its wake as it seemingly takes away.

He's Married, But Separated

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I read your column every day, and I wish you'd advise me. I have met a man with whom I am very much in love. He invites me out with him often, but I don't know whether to accept his invitations or not. He is married, but his wife and he have been separated for over a year. Should I accept his invitations?

Waiting

If the man is not actually divorced he is in the eyes of the law another woman's husband. A certain popular author was "separated" from his wife for about fifteen years, and he had the grandest time imaginable, having affairs with other girls and saying, almost with tears, "unfortunately, I'm not in a position to marry."

He paid his wife huge sums not to get a divorce, because that would have interfered with his freedom. As you say, you've much in love, you've got to watch your step. If you've got to watch your step. If you've got marriage in view, find out if he's going to get a divorce.

Whether you should accept an occasional invitation depends on your own standards. If you and your people are straight-laced, you'll probably hesitate about going out with a man who is not yet free, legally. It's a trying situation and you have my sympathy and good wishes.

Objects on Account of Brother

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am a young girl in my teens. I have a boy friend whom I love dearly. He comes from fairly good parents, but his brother is not worth very much. My parents are apposed to my friend, although he is very decent and quite bright. I have often tried to stop going with him but found out I could not. It is about a year now since we've been together. What should I tell him? When I refuse dates with him on account of my parents, I feel as if he doesn't understand.

V. S. M.

No, I don't believe I'd tell a nice boy you like that your parents object to him on account of an unworthy brother. It would probably hurt him and make him unhappy over something for which he is not to blame. It's easy enough for anyone in her teens to get out of a date. You can have lessons, or, work, or say your parents prefer to have you wait until you're older. It would be pretty hard to have to accept, as bars to friendship, the shortcomings of our friends' relatives, and if the young man proves he's worth while and you're patient, perhaps your parents may lift the ban.

A Case of "It-Might-Have-Been"

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

Please give me a word that will help me to make a big decision in my life, one way or the other. I am thirty-five years old and have been married for fifteen years. My wife is a good little mother to the children, three girls, but never seems to find interest in anything outside of the children, their clothes and the housekeeping in general. I have always been a great reader, and in going to a certain book store I have recently met a young lady who works there and who seems to have innocently upset all of the peace and contentment I thought I had in my life. This girl takes about everything that I am interested in, and has read everything. She is a revelation to me, as I didn't realize that women could be so intelligent as well as attractive. She doesn't know it, of course, but I am afraid I have fallen in love with her. What should I do about this? Am I not entitled to real companionship in marriage?

Chemist

Most certainly you are entitled to that, but remember that you also have valued the peace and contentment you have until lately found in marriage. Even if you could easily secure a divorce from your good wife on the grounds of "incompatibility," and marry this intelligent girl, are you sure that you would have the happiness you desire? Wouldn't the thought of the patient little mother, and the three little girls, (for of course she would keep them), throw a shadow over all of this companionship you are seeking? It would if you are the type of man I believe you to be.

Have you ever tried to interest your wife in the things that you like? Perhaps if she is not interested in books for your sake or her own, she could be persuaded to take up reading for the sake of the little girls. You would be surprised if you knew how many mothers write to me asking for help in keeping abreast with their sons and daughters. Suggest to your wife that you and she should do some reading along lines that will help you to keep in touch with youth. And, my dear man, keep away from that book store unless you want to break the heart of that charming young lady.

SUFFERED FOR FORTY YEARS

Then One Lucky Day She Used Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Here is great news for sufferers from constipation. Read Mrs. Kendig's voluntary letter:

"For about forty years I had been praying for a lasting remedy for constipation and its attending evils. To make it short, I ate nothing but ALL-BRAN and a little broth. Since that time (about ten years ago) I have not taken any medicine. Have been well and entirely free from constipation."—Mrs. I. H. Kendig (address upon request).

Constipation is caused by lack of two things in the diet: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN furnishes both. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the wastes.

Isn't it much pleasanter to enjoy ALL-BRAN than to risk taking pills and drugs—so often harmful?

Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. If you have intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve as a cereal, or use in cooking. It is not habit-forming. Recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

KASLO LADIES HOSPITAL AID ASKS SUPPORT

Seek Government Aid to Keep Victorian Hospital in Operation

KASLO, B. C., March 10.—The executive committee of the Ladies' hospital aid held a special session Tuesday evening at the home of the president, Mrs. E. H. Latham to consider the advisability of approaching the province for financial aid to carry on the work of the hospital. Matters pertaining to operation and costs were most thoroughly discussed. After much instructive discussion a resolution was formed that owing to lack of funds the Victorian hospital, without financial aid, will be compelled to close its doors, and as the institution served the city and district, caring for indigents as required, the government should make a substantial monetary grant to the Victorian hospital to aid it in carrying on the humane work. Mrs. Raven was appointed to confer with S. H. Green, president of the Kaslo board of trade, in regard to having the various men's associations take the matter up. Mesdames Stubbs, Anderson, Barclay, white and Chandler to get in touch with the women's societies, asking them to cooperate with the ladies aid in furthering the good of the hospital, all organizations to be asked to endorse, by wire, the above resolution.

Automobiles Add to Happiness Is the Result of Debate

ROSSLAND, B. C., March 10.—"Resolved that the automobile has added to the sum total of human happiness," was the subject debated at the meeting of the Y. P. S. of St. Andrew's United church, and though honors were pretty evenly divided, the affirmative won. Eric Blackwell and Monty Graham contended that the automobile helped people to get change of scenery, fresh air and a new outlook on life, who would otherwise be bound by a ceaseless routine. Jack McDonald and Gilbert Kay pointed out the number of accidents which are increasingly yearly, that people buy cars who are unable to pay their bills, and cast asperations upon the methods of lady drivers. Fred Ellis led the discussion for the affirmative and Russel Jones for the negative.

DEPORTATION OF AGITATORS TO BE DISCUSSION TOPIC

Dual Control of Unemployment Relief Funds to Be Second Subject

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 10.—(CP)—Deportation of foreign agitators who are found making trouble in unemployed camps will be among the subjects discussed at the conference of western provincial representatives in Calgary on Saturday.

It is declared that difficulties now experienced in handling the unemployed situation in camps is largely the fault of agitators, and among these are a number of foreigners.

Another subject which will be discussed is dual control of unemployment relief moneys. Under present arrangements the federal government must first pass on proposals originating in the provinces and cities. It is claimed that this method not only results in delay, but is a real obstacle to efficient handling of the situation in some instances. Each of the provinces, it is stated, knows best the most efficient method of handling its own particular problems.

A third matter which the conference will discuss is a general policy regarding unemployment payments, and the almost constant problem of how to handle transients.

TRAFFIC IS NOT DIVERTED FROM C.N. RAILWAYS

MONTREAL, March 10 — A statement issued today by Sir Henry W. Thornton, president and chairman of the Canadian National railways, reads in part:

"From time to time there have been rumors to the effect, among other things, that the government of the day had caused, by either direct or indirect methods, traffic to be diverted from the lines of the Canadian National railways. These rumors are entirely without foundation, and the management of the Canadian National categorically and emphatically denies that anything of the sort has occurred.

McDougald Continues Testimony at Power Cross Examination

OTTAWA, March 10 (CP)—Insisting that previous statements he had made explaining his connection with Beauharnois were substantiated by facts, Senator W. L. McDougald continued testimony under the cross-examination before the senate investigation committee here today. Details of his association with power development on that part of the St. Lawrence were brought out, with Arthur L. Smith, committee counsel, concentrating on the sale of the Sterling Industrial corporation to Beauharnois.

Sterling was the company, owned jointly by the senator and R. A. C. Henry, which, incorporated in 1923, was bought out by Beauharnois in 1928 for 2000 part interests in the larger corporation. Much of the familiar ground with regard to the "nuisance value" of Sterling was covered today, the senator affirming the exchange price for Sterling to be fair. He denied he had become interested to the extent of 20 per cent in Beauharnois without putting into the enterprise a single cent.

KERR APARTMENTS OPENED TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

$35,000 Spent in Last Eight Years improving Nelson's Modern Apartment

Today, March 11, is the twentieth anniversary of the opening in Nelson of the Kerr apartments.

This substantial granite building, one of the finest structures in the city, was the first apartment house in Nelson. It was constructed by the late Edward Kerr, and has been managed by his son, D. L. Kerr, who arrived in Nelson on March 11, 1900, exactly 12 years before the date of the opening of the block.

While the Kerr apartments have been in operation for 20 years, they have been kept consistently modern. From time to time the various new developments designed to add to the comforts and convenience of apartment houses have been taken advantage of by Mr. Kerr. During the past eight years, no less than $35,000 has been expended on improvements to the apartments. Adjoining property has been purchased, so that the building now stands between lawn and flower gardens. All the apartments have, at various times, been remodelled. Hardwood floors have been laid, and electric refrigerators installed.

The object of the management has always been not only to maintain the Kerr apartments at the highest stage of modernity, but also to concentrate on the most efficient service to tenants. For these reasons, it has only been on rare occasions that any vacancies have existed for more than a short period, at the Kerr apartments.

The German Budget

Vigorous protests have been made of late by German taxpayers against the mounting cost of government. With the affairs of a much greater territory to administer in 1913 and with an enormous army to maintain, the total expenditure in that year was $718,363,560. The army and navy cost $460,000,000, pensions and debt service, $58,000,000 and general government expenditure aside from these items was $165,000,000. This was under the Kaiser and even then there were mutterings of needless extravagance.

Year by year, under the republic, expenditures have increased. In 1926 they were $1,917,414,240, of which $186,000,000 went for reparations. Last year the total reached $2,679,273,600, or nearly four times that of 1931. Of this huge amount $273,000,000 was for reparations, while the general government expenditure was $1,676,000,000, or more than twice the total of the 1913 budget, including the then cost of army and navy and other government outlay.

In 1913 the amount paid in pensions was only a few hundred thousand dollars. Last year, although allowances had been reduced considerably due to dull times, the pension cost was $17,000,000. Military maintenance cost $460,000,000 in 1913 but the cutting of it down to $89,000,000 in 1931 did not seem to help the finances of the German nation, staggering under the huge burden of general expenses of admistration which are now more than ten times what they were under the Kaiser.

Call for radical budget reform have been made from time to time by the people, but nothing has been done, though often promised. They have been industrious and they cannot understand why they must be so burdened with taxes to support their government. Two years ago S. Parker Gilbert pointed out some of the reasons for the persistent growth in public expenditure in Germany. One was that the Reich had become involved in subsidizing and contributing to social insurance organizations and was trying to make good the shrinkage due to inflation. The moratorium will help to certain extent, but it seems clear that if Germany is ever to prosper as a nation it must lop off much of what its economists call needless expense.

A "Managed Gold Standard"

Some of the most outstanding contributions to economic thought in Great Britain have for years past been the speeches by the Rt. Hon. Reginald McKenna, at the annual meetings of the Midland bank, one of the great financial institutions of the United Kingdom.

As chairman of the Midland bank, Mr. McKenna has been the same outstanding success that he was in the house of commons. He has displayed the same sound view-point and the same sure vision as he displayed in the critical days when, but for his hearty cooperation as secretary of the navy, with the late Lord Fisher, the British navy would not have been in a state of adequate preparedness in 1914.

Mr. McKenna has recently made some striking observations on the gold standard, and its breakdown under present conditions. He stated that the time has gone by for the child-like faith that as long as a country is on the gold standard, all is well. Harsh experience has shaken this faith rudely. It has been found that return to the gold standard in Great Britain did not bring prosperity, and going off it did not entail ruin. He declares, "So far from ruin indeed, our present trade conditions vastly improved, and we are getting on as well without the gold standard as with it."

Mr. McKenna emphasized the fact that the gold standard never operated in Great Britain without the control experienced by the Bank of England.

"It is to be regretted that the indispensable conditions for operating the gold standard successfully have never been defined, nor apparently even consciously recognized. At the time when it was working more or less smoothly, London was the only great free gold market. A very considerable surplus was due to this country on current international account, and this, if no steps had been taken to avert the natural consequence, would have been settled largely by imports of gold. Simple but adequate measures were, however, adopted by the Bank of England. If gold was coming to London in excess of our currency requirements the rate of interest was lowered and foreigners were encouraged to borrow from us. If, on the other hand, through excessive lending abroad, too much gold was being taken, the rate for money was raised; foreign borrowing was thereby discouraged, and the favorable balance of payments rapidly replenished our gold stock. Thus the surplus on current international account was used according to the needs of the time to reinforce our gold reserves or to provide accommodation for debtor countries to develop their economic resources.

"For many years before the war this system was in regular operation. It will be noted that two psychological conditions were essential for its success. In the first place, if it had been the national disposition, either permanently or under the influence of panic, to hoard currency the Bank of England, which was bound to retain gold pound for pound against notes in excess of the fiduciary issue, would have been forced to keep an increasing stock, and the rest of the world would have been deprived of the indispensable base of credit and currency. Again, it was necessary that the British public should have the disposition to lend, so that, when the bank rate was low, cheap money would encourage the foreigner to borrow our surplus. Had we been a hoarding nation, or had we been imbued with a spirit of financial isolation, the gold standard would never have worked successfully. Gold would have poured into the vaults of the Bank of England and remained there, not from any wish that this should happen, but because of unfavorable psychological conditions. In these circumstances the Bank of England would have anticipated the more or less involuntary experience of the central banks of America and France in accumulating vast stocks of bullion, and the rest of the world would have been as starved of gold as it is today."

Mr. McKenna dwells on the obvious fact that the gold standard cannot remain operative if the great creditor nations act in such a way as to create a corner in the metal. If they do not re-lend the surplus on their balance of international payments, gold, the only ultimate medium of payment, must flow into their vaults in a continuous stream. Then the debtor countries, unable to obtain the necessary credits, are forced to dump their products on the world at any price they can get.

He suggests that whereas in the past the Bank of England has concentrated itself upon the maintenance of exchange stability, the future may see a condition of a "managed" gold standard of which the objective would be stability of internal price levels.

"Between You and Me"

By "J.B.C."

Attended the curlers' banquet the other night and on one side of me sat H. M. Whimster and next to him was Tom Ledingham. Bad pair to be mixed up with at a banquet. Bert was looking for something to do to make someone else the butt of a joke and Tom was worried to death for fear that Max Baskin would be left off the program.

First of all Mr. Whimster ordered a side order of ham for friend Max. The order was delivered and Max frowned. He forthwith sprinkled the ham with water from his glass and ate it. He affirmed that the ham was turkey and tasted just right. And he won a ham in competition this winter, too.

* * *

Another little joke the former president of the board of trade pulled was to borrow Eldon Waterer's cigarettes. After helping himself he passed the package along and Eldon salvaged one or two out of a whole package. And a year ago I was sitting next to Bert at the British Columbia spiel banquet and he filled my pockets with hot spuds. One of these days someone will get even on said Mr. Whimster.

* * *

I got a great kick out of a joke pulled by Rev. James Youngson the club chaplain. According to him an Aberdonian was hunting in Africa. He was looking for an elephant to shoot. He came upon one but it was terribly lame. Taking pity he went up to the animal to find that it had stepped upon a sharpened stake. The Aberdonian pulled the stake out and let the animal go free. Some years later the Aberdonian came to Canada and was attending a circus. Unknowing to himself he saw the elephant he had spared perform in one ring. The elephant, however, recognized the Aberdonian. Finishing his act he walked over to the 25 cent seats and engulfing the Aberdonian in his trunk picked him up bodily and deposited him in the 75-cent row.

And of course the curlers nearly went wild when Max Maskin addressed Alderman J. B. Gray as "Brother Gray." The alderman immediately rose to his feet with "Now, Max, don't go too far.

* * *

And then Dr. H. H. MacKenzie told a Scottish joke about a Presbyterian minister who, although he looked as though he took a drink, was never seen to take one. One day he visited a farmer who had some friends around and they were just going to enjoy a little Scotch. The farmer asked the parson if he would have a nip.

"No," replied the preacher. "I'll ha'e a drapple o' milk."

The farmer went to the kitchen poured half a glass of milk and filled the balance with whiskey and handed it to the parson. He downed it, a smile covering his face. He had another glass of milk, and laid the tumbler down with the words: "What a cool What a coo."

And George Horstead delighted the fellows in reading advertisement from an old curling annual. He found a liquor ad. It said "Dewars, $1.25 per quart."

"Walkers $1.25 per quart."

And the curlers sighed to think of bygone days. The days that are no more.

* * *

The curlers decided that Rev. James Youngson should be reelected chaplain owing to the excellent curling weather his prayers had provided. They added, however, that his efforts next season must be as fruitful or he would be fired. But added A. D. McLeod in his little speech. Rev. Mr. Youngson does not necessarily have to keep praying now. A little spring weather was wanted.

* * *

C. D. Blackwood announced a new curling competition. Trail, Rossland and Nelson were planning an intercity meet. The first games were scheduled in Nelson for the coming week. The next were to be played in Rossland at Easter. The next competion was to be in Trail on May 24 and the grand windup and finals on July 1.

* * *

And while talking about curlers I must admit that I never did run across such a bunch of fellows for alibis. They alibied all night. Every fellow who got up to speak had an alibi that he had not been informed soon enough to prepare a speech. And when the winners toasted the losers half of the curlers did not know whether they had won or lost However, the program was a success, alibis and all.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON

GALLSTONES VERY COMMON

If you were asked which was the most important organ in the body it is very likely that you would say the heart, as you remember that it is only by its continuous pumping of the blood that you are kept alive.

Your doctor however would likely consider other organs of more importance as he thinks of the various jobs they perform in the body.

The liver is really the 'king of the organs' in the estimation of physicians because of the many important things is is doing—making bile, clearing out poisons from the blood, storing sugar and so forth, it seems able to withstand considerable abuse without apparently showing any symptons. And the gall bladder which is really a part of the liver and holds the bile manufactured by the liver, is also able to continue its work despite the abuse it also receives.

In one of the great European hospitals where examinations are made after death in a regular routine manner, it was found that in 1000 cases, 450 men and 550 women, that gall stones were present in nearly one-third of the cases. While there is a little higher percentage than is found in Canada and the United States, nevertheless, it shows that a great number of people have gall stones and do not know they have them because they apparently have no symptons.

The examination showed that in addition to the gall stones that there had been actually inflammation of the gall bladder and the surrounding parts in the majority of cases.

In other words, a great majority of individuals, especially as they get older, really have an inflammed condition of the gall bladder which causes a "sick" feeling in the stomach with a great deal of gas formation, but the individual thinks he has a simple attack of indigestion, or gas pressure from something he has eaten.

Now while it is gratifying in a sense to know that despite the formation of gall stones very few have to undergo an operation, nevertheless, the lesson for all of us is that inflammation of the gall bladder with 'indigestion' symptons and the formation of stones, is usually due to some infection of the system and to the fact that the liver and gall bladder are not "squeesed" sufficiently by exercise or deep breathing.

It is this slowing up or stasis of the liver circulation and gall bladder that causes inflammation and the stone formation.

Income Tax Most Indirect Tax Ever Invented, He Writes

To the editor of he Nelson Daily News:

Re: Abolition of income tax.

Sir—As one who has made a close study of income tax during the past five years, I wish to compliment you on your courage in publishing, and "Justice" on the wisdom of writing the letter regarding the abolition of income tax, appearing in your issue of today's date.

The fact that income tax is reflected in higher interest rates is amply proven when one studies the history of Great Britain, the Dominion, and also (which is more to the point) that of this province. (Loan flotations).

There appears to my mind to be only the following reasons why our weak-kneed and thick-skulled legislators ultimately fall back on income tax to bear the burden of increased expenditures which they so rashly incur: Income tax is the easiest of all taxes to impose and regulate, and it is comparatively easy to collect. Further, the parties penalized are able to offer least resistance and through our disgraceful electoral representation are unable to register the protest required.

A column-long letter of mine appeared in the Vancouver Star in January in which I advocated: "No representation without direct taxation." This is the converse to the slogan the Americans adopted at the time of the Boston tea party: "No taxation without representation," but the time has come when it is up to those who are bearing the heaviest burdens to stand up for their rights. Those who pay least in taxes as a body today have most to say regarding the disbursement of the state's fund. It is not disgraceful that the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada paying $2,000,000 a year in income tax should have less to say regarding the running of this country than some nitwit nincompoop?

Having been closely in touch with the ramifications which exist for the "avoidance" of British income tax and death duties, from which the province of Quebec benefits greatly today, I am in a position to say that this is due to a great extent owing to there having been no provincial income tax in that province hitherto, (and of course the lowness of Dominion as compared to British income tax). I can support the statement made by Justice, and know from practical experience that the gains would be enormous and far outweighing the apparent loss were there no Dominion income tax. Hundreds of millions of British capital has come to Canada during the past three years. But let us attend to our own house first. We can gain enormously by so doing. I know for a fact of many very great losses to British Columbia at the present time where people hesitate to invest their capital in the province and even those who do see to it that their income avoids tax.

The real sufferers are the business men and workers of this province. Both are tied down to their place of livelihood and are unable to "legally" avoid, though they may "illegally" evade provincial income tax. When taxation is high enough it always pays to avoid it. Many millions are going into the pockets of trust companies, armies of lawyers and many others who are finding this racket a depression-proof and lucrative profession.

The ultimate taxpayer is the consumer. Income tax is not a direct tax as our politicians fondly preach. I wonder whether it is their innocence that upholds this, or whether this is an example of their real wiles . . . Income tax is the most indirect tax ever invented. It passes on in accumulated volume, each transaction with profits attached, through interest, rent, depreciation of capital, transportation, wages, dividends, down right through to the cost of the finished product, and so into the cost of living of all concerned.

A Plan of Work for Everybody— All for the Plan

To the editor of The Nelson Daily News:

Sir—From his lengthy and learned letter which you published on the 2nd March, I infer, that my big and clumsy feet have trodden somewhat heavily on Mr. Bealby's tender corns. Well, I am sorry to cause him suffering, but I still think that I fairly stated his argument about thrift not being of much importance in Palestine, however the public who have read these letters can judge this matter.

Now what does Mr. Bealby's argument (these wonderful "syllogisms") amount to, simply this. That if Jesus had happened to live in a colder, rougher climate, Canada for instance, he would have preached a different sort of gospel, and I suppose would have said you had better lay up for yourselves treasure if you live in a cold country.

This reduces the "syllogisms" to absurdity. However, we need not smile at Mr. Bealby's logic for Christians have been doing the same thing with the most important of the teachings of Jesus for thousands of years. That is teaching them as if they were of no practical importance. Look at the way we Christians have ignored His teachings with regard to war. Over 10 million poor wretches were slaughtered by Christians before it occurred to us to wonder if we were doing "the Christian thing in the Christian way."

In "The New Outlook" the very fine paper that the United church publishes as its official paper, on page 201 is a leading article with the heading. "The Vice of Hoarding." It concludes the article with these words. "There is no use arguing about it, hoarding is the meanest thing, the stupidest thing, the most unchristian thing, we can be guilty of. It is a vice of tremendous size and ugliness."

And now we learn that the Doukhobors are capitalists only they own their capital collectively. But when I venture to suggest that we Canadians should own our capital in this manner it seems to give Mr. Bealby a severe pain in his interior. But after all is it not worth thinking about? We are in no position to judge over people harshly when one of the few successful industries on this continent appears to be kidnapping.

Let us face the fact that we have committed the organization of our industries to men that we call capitalists.

And these capitalists have fallen down on their job and the organization of our industries is disgracefully mismanged. So bad is the mess that we shall be compelled, whether we like it or not, to take this business of organization right out of their hands and do the job ourselves.

Socialists do not claim that it will be easy to do this. We have no cheap, ready made heaven, though we are conscious of a present ready made hell, which will become more and more hellish as time goes on.

Our ideal for the nations is a plan to work for everybody and everybody working on the plan.

Yours for justice,

J. C. HARRIS

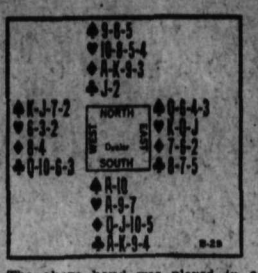
Auction and Contract Bridge

By the World's Leading Authority.
MILTON C. WORK

FIGURES DON'T LIE



The above hand was played in a game of Contract and South, having a count of 19 and every suit stopped, bid two No Trumps. After West's pass North, with a count of 8, bid three No Trumps. At Auction Bridge South would secure an uncontested contract with his opening bid of one No Trump.

West led the Deuce of Spades, from the stronger of his two four-card suits. Declarer, counting four Spades in each of the adverse hands, did not hold up his Ace. Declarer then saw that he was sure of eight tricks, and that his adversaries would run three Spade tricks as soon as they secured the lead. It was useless, therefore, for Declarer to try to establish the thirteenth Heart, since if that was attempted East and West would win three Spades and at least two Hearts, setting the contract. Declarer decided to try for the game-going trick in Clubs. He reasoned that it was useless to lead dummy's Jack when the adversaries held the Queen and Ten; so he led his Ace and King in the hope of dropping a singleton Queen or a doubleton or trebleton Queen-Ten. When this hope vanished, Declarer was forced to be satisfied with four Diamonds, two Clubs, a Heart and a Spade. He was thus set one trick; did he handle Clubs to the best advantage?

THE CORRECT PLAY

Mathematically speaking, Declarer's error was exceedingly great. In trying for the game-going trick in Clubs he selected a play that would succeed in only a small percentage of cases, in preference to either of two other plays whose respective chances for success were 50 per cent and 75 per cent. His "50-50 proposition" was to lead a small Club from dummy and play closed hand's Nine. This play would yield an extra Club trick if East held the Ten. Declarer's best play, however, was first to lead a small Club from closed hand. When West held the Queen (50 per cent of the time) the extra trick would be established at once. When East held the Queen, and captured dummy's Jack, Declarer would still have an even chance for the game-going trick by leading a small Club from dummy and playing closed hand's Ten. And 50 per cent plus one-half of 50 per cent equals 75 per cent.

SELF-HELP FOR FISHERMEN

The United Maritime Fishermen is an exceptionally important organization because it is based upon an exceptionally important industry, and in every move they may make in the interests of the industry the officers and the members of that body may be assured they will have the thorough support of the public at large. THAT DEATHLESS CHICKEN-HEART

The piece of chicken-heart which Dr. Carrel has kept alive for twenty years—longer than a chicken lives—is not quite a perpetual-motion machine. Like the lamp of the vestal virgins, it needs constant attention. It must be kept at the proper temperature. It must have the right kind of air. It must be fed with embryonic proteins. It must be washed to remove wastes comparable with the dead leaves that drop from a tree. In a word, it is a tenderly guarded living flame in the Rockefeller temple of science.

Even now that bit of heart is historic. In the next century, if infection, starvation, physical injury and poison are warted off, it may become as sacred in a scientific sense as a venerated religious relic. Here is a perpetual reminder of the toughness of the primal cell from which all life evolved and of the price that man must pay for his spinal cord, brain and intelligence.—The New York Sun

BRONKS HOLD TRAIL TEAM SCORELESS

Smoke Eaters and Calgary Bronks Battle to No-Score Tie in First Playoff Contest

Both Teams Set Furious Pace; Sharpshooters Fail to Hit Centre; Many Chances Are Missed

BRENNAN GIVES DAZZLING DISPLAY OF SKATING AND STICK-HANDLING TO FANS

Defensive Hockey Played Throughout; Goalies Give Staunch Support; Penalties Are Few; Second Game Later

CALGARY, Alta., March 10.—Trail's Smokeaters, British Columbia senior hockey champions, and Calgary Bronks, Alberta amateur titlists, battled to a scoreless draw here tonight in the first of a two-game toal-goal series in the first of the western inter-provincial Allan cup playdowns.

Throughout the whole of the game both teams travelled at top pace, but sharp shooters of both aggregations were unable to beat the staunch goalies.

Brennan, wingman for the Trail quad, treated the 5000 fans who saw the game to one of the big displays of the season. His fast work with the stick and his speed on the blades were outstanding.

Schriner, wingman for the Bronks, missed three chances to score, twice losing the puck when near the Trail goal and once smacking it against the nets. Kendall, speedy center for the Smokeaters, missed a couple of chances to score while Wheatley also lost the puck when a goal seemed certain.

It was defensive hockey throughout, but McDonald, in the net for the Bronks, and Dupuis, goalie for Trail, were called upon to do smart work at several stages of the match. The second game of the series will be played here Saturday night, and both teams will go onto the ice in even shooting.

THE TEAMS

Trail: Dupuis; Reddick, Gordon; Brown; Wheatley, Hanson, Kendall, Brennan, Seamec, Murdock.

Calgary: McDonald; McLeod, Walshaw; Luis, Sorenson, Kenny; Herbert, Schriner, Creighton, Johnson.

SUMMARY

LYMBURNE TO TRY FOR NEW WORLD SKI JUMP RECORD

REVELSTOKE, B. C., March 10. (CP)—Performing before a weekly half-holiday crowd of over 150 persons, Bob Lymburne on Wednesday afternoon jumped 257 feet, to surpass the amateur record for the continent. The jump is 17 feet in excess of the hill record made by Nels Nelsen in 1925, when his leap of 240 feet became a new world's ski jumping record.

Lymburne made four jumps during the afternoon. His first was 197 feet, his second and third 236 and 236 feet respectively, and his last 237. Lymburne's jump is only seven feet behind the world's record, held by Sigmund Ruud of Norway.

If weather conditions remain favorable, Lymburne will try for a new world's record this week-end, it is understood. Official recognition of the jump is being sought.

NEW YORK, March 10.—The New York Americans, playing inspired hockey, defeated their local rivals, the Rangers, 5 to 1 tonight, and retained their mathematical chance of getting into the National Hockey league playoffs. The Rangers lead 3-2 in the "city championship" series.

The game was a rough affair, which wound up a third period fist fight which brought major penalties to Red Dutton and Allan Shields of the Amerks and Earl Siebert and Murray Murdoch of the Rangers.

Maury Roberts, brought in from New Haven to fill Roy Worters' place in the American net, was the outstanding star, turning the Rangers back with a brilliant goal-guarding performance.

CANADIAN OLYMPIC TRIALS ARE TO BE HELD IN HAMILTON

Tentative Dates Set July 14, 15 and 16 Committee States

HAMILTON, Ont., March 10.—M. M. Robinson, honorary secretary of the Canadian Olympic committee, issued the following statement today:

The Canadian Olympic track and field trials will be held in Hamilton. The final decision to this effect was reached yesterday at a conference of the Olympic committee, and Hamilton Olympic club officials, attended by P. J. Mulqueen, W. A. Hewitt, W. A. Fry and M. M. Robinson, representing the Olympic committee, and controllers S. A. Manson, W. H. Childs and Robert Kerr, representing the Hamilton club.

The tentative dates for the trials are July 14, 15 and 16. The British and South African teams are expected to arrive in Montreal on July 8, and will, in all probability, break their journey to Los Angeles by spending a day or two in Hamilton, where the training facilities are so desirable. In this case the Canadian team will journey to Los Angeles in company with the British and South African teams, arriving in the California city on Sunday, July 24.

The understanding is that the women's trials will be held in conjunction with the men's trials, but on a basis to be arranged by the Hamilton Olympic club and the Women's federation.

The men's trials were awarded to the Hamilton club on the following basis:

The Canadian Olympic committee to receive a straight grant of $2500. The Hamilton club to contribute half of the railway charges of each athlete from all provinces outside of Ontario and Quebec, providing each athlete in question has reached the standard laid down by the Olympic committee. The Hamilton Olympic club to conduct a training camp where all facilities will be available for one month to all athletes, but where only those athletes qualifying under the standards laid down will be entitled to their keep while in Hamilton, and then only for a period of 10 days preceding the trials.

A Coming Ring Star

ERNIE SCHAAF AND HIS PROUD FATHER

When Jack Sharkey's protege made a punching block out of Young Stribling at Chicago recently he boosted his championship stock materially. The burly young bruiser who is shown above with his proud father, has everything, according to the critics, who concede that it is only a matter of time before he is battling for Schmeling's crown.

MALLARD FLOCK FED ALL WINTER NOW DISPERSED

Birds Have Chosen Mates and Are Preparing for Nesting

Spring has arrived in the estimation of the wild ducks that Chief of Police Thomas H. Long has fed this winter with corn provided by the Nelson Rod and Gun club, and the big flock of 150 to 200 mallards has dispersed, to prepare for nesting duties.

Every day for the last two or three months, during the height of the winter, when no natural feed was available until the last couple of weeks, Chief Long kept a date with the ducks at 8 a.m., strewing 25 pounds of purchased corn on the gravel. As soon as he retired a few paces, the big birds would swarm over the feeding ground, and soon the corn would be cleaned up. Occasionally the corn diet was varied with wheat donated by the feed houses.

In February the birds began to choose their mates, and now have dispersed over the lake and river, getting natural feed once more, and no doubt looking over possible nesting sites.

RAN IS FAVORITE IN FIGHT DESPITE SUBSTITUTE ROLE

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP)—Seldom does a substitute enter the ring a favorite, but Eddie Ran probably will enjoy that distinction against Chris (Bat) Battalino, former featherweight king, in tomorrow night's 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

The hard-punching Pole, who accepted the fight on three days' notice, when Billy Petrolle turned up with a stiff neck last Thursday, is said to be the choice of bettors.

The rush to the Ran standard is rather confusing, considering that the original match between Petrolle and Battalino was figured to be an absolute stand-off, and that Petrolle recently knocked Ran cold in six rounds. The experts evidently figure either that Battalino doesn't pack the old Fargo Express' deadly punch or that he can't shake off Ran's wallops like Petrolle did.

Ran will carry a stiff advantage in weight, something like 147 pounds to Battalino's 136, and has both height and reach on the Hartford battler. Since losing to Petrolle, Ran scored a second round knockout over Billy Townsend of Vancouver, British Columbia.

Saskatoon Wesleys Defeat Jimmies 4-1

EDMONTON, March 10.—In a last period slashing attack, Saskatoon Wesleys, junior hockey champions of Saskatchewan, tonight defeated Calgary Jimmies, Alberta titleholders, 4-1, to take a strong lead in their battle for advancement in the Memorial cup playdowns.

Jimmies took the lead in the first period with one goal. The second went scoreless, but in the third the boys from Saskatoon turned the tables and rammed home their quartet of notches to grip a three-goal lead in the two-game total-goal series.

The final game will be played here Saturday night.

Baron Long Again Restored to Good Standing on Turf

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico, March 10 (AP.—Baron Long, San Diego sportsman and one of the owners of the Agua Caliente race track, was restored to good standing on the turf late this afternoon by the racing stewards. He had been suspended following the recent famous Linden Tree incident, in which the mutuel price on the 2-year-old was admittedly "built up" by Long. The colt, a 3 to 5 shot before the race, paid better than 9 to 1 in the mutuels, and bookmakers throughout the country were reported to have suffered heavy losses because of wagers made by Long at mutuel prices.

BIG LEAGUE BOWLING

By AL DEMAREE

"Pinching", or holding back, and stopping the hand immediately after the ball is released, has a tendency to give the ball a right-to-left spin which causes it to "back up" or break to the right as it nears the pins.

"Following through" with the arm and hand after the ball is released until the hand is in front of the face or even higher, has a tendency to help turn over the wrist and give a ball that much desired right-to-left English that causes it to curve or hook to the left. This is the working ball that bores into the pins.

If you have been in the habit of stopping your "follow through" as soon as you release the ball, try making yourself bring your hand up afterward until you can see it level with your eyes.

Al Demaree has prepared an illustrated leaflet on "Improving Bowling Delivery" which he will gladly send to any reader requesting it. Address Al Demaree in care of this paper, and be sure to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

SEMI-FINAL GAMES ENGLISH FOOTBALL SET FOR SATURDAY

LONDON, March 10 (CP cable).—The semi-final games in the English football competition for the Association cup will be played Saturday at Aston and Huddersfield. At the former place Arsenal will engage Manchester City, while at the latter Chelsea and Newcastle United will meet one another.

The fortunes of Arsenal will probably draw most attention because they have a chance this season to win both the cup and first division championship, something no team has accomplished for many years. Arsenal won the league championship last season, and the cup the year before.

However, Manchester City are a team to be feared. Newcastle United have a better league record than Chelsea, but league performances are generally a poor criterion to go by in cup ties.

40,000,000 PEOPLE IN PARTS, RUSSIA WILL NEED RELIEF

Failure of Harvest Brings About Condition; Food Required

RIGA, Latvia, March 10 (CP cable) —Official reports from Moscow confirm that no fewer than 40,000,000 Russian peasants, affected by the failure of the harvest in various parts of Russia last fall, will require food relief.

The districts affected are the Urals, west Siberia, the middle and lower Volga basins, Bashkyria and northern parts of the Caucasus. The combination of the shortage and the necessity of supplying these peasants with grain has radically interfered with the Soviet government's spring sowing program.

In the Ukraine in particular, the backwardness of preparations for the spring sowing is causing great anxiety. According to official reports, not more than half of the grain required for sowing is ready.

The dispatch of a million tons of grain to the distressed regions was decreed by Josef Stalin, Soviet dictator, last month, but the movement is proceeding slowly because Soviet railways are unable to cope with the additional traffic. Another hampering factor is the reluctance of affected districts to relinquish grain which officials contend is stored up.

SEEK ACTION TO PREVENT WANETA STATION CLOSING

Pend d'Oreille Resident Hears Great Northern to Close Station

TRAIL, B. C., March 10 — Pend d'Oreille residents, learning that the Great Northern railway intends to withdraw its station agent from Waneta, are considering steps to prevent such action.

Under present arrangements, it is explained, the G. N. station agent at Waneta acts as a customs broker, clearing goods for the Pend d'Oreil's valley and facilitating handling through the customs.

Should he be withdrawn, there would be only the Canadian customs officer at the station. This would necessitate imported goods being manifested either at Nelson or Trail and cleared at either of these points.

It is suggested the customs office at Waneta could hold goods and send manifests to Nelson or Trail for clearing, but he could not do the work himself.

Whether the railway commission would permit the withdrawal of the Waneta station, classed as a frontier port, is another question. It is understood Pend d'Oreille valley residents will appeal to the board of railway commissioners.

CRANBROOK, B. C., March 10—Emil Sparovitch left on Monday for Essondale at the coast in charge of Constable Kirkup, where he was committed on certificate of Drs Green and MacKinnon. Sparovitch, a resident of Kootenay Orchards, had been under observation by the police for some time, having alarmed the neighbors by acting strangely. It was finally decided that he should be cared for at the provincial mental hospital.

CRESTON ADOPTS BIG PROGRAM IN ROAD PUBLICITY

Board of Trade to Spend Up to $75 for District advertising Booklet

VOTE $50 TOWARD RED TRAIL BOOK

Asks the Government to Force Goat River Power Development

CRESTON, B. C., March 10—The biggest attendance seen at a board of trade meeting in many years was out on Tuesday night for the March session in charge of President R. J. Forbes, 30 members turning up. Another trio of members was accepted in James Cook, E. E. Cartwright and G. Garreteon.

For the select committee named to interview Lieut-Col. Fred Lister, M. P. P., in connection with redistribution, F. H. Jackson reported that the local member had expressed opposition to the elimination of Creston riding unless the number of members in the house was cut to 30. Col. List had promised to keep the committee posted on developments in this line but to date no word had been received.

Publicity matter was much to the fore and it was finally agreed to spend up to $75 in getting out an advertising pamphlet covering the whole district. Fifty dollars was voted to get in on the Red Trail tourist pamphlet in which all likely towns between Nelson and Lethbridge will be represented in a pamphlet and road map, 20,000 of which are to be published and distributed in the United States and Canada. Creston will also supply the engraving to be used in illustrating the front cover page of the pamphlet containing the report of the Associated Boards of Trade convention held here last May.

Resolutions were adopted to go forward to the proper authorities urging immediate conditioning of the Kootenay valley north and south road, the payments of five cents a bushel bounty on all wheat produced in British Columbia, and asking the federal public works department at Ottawa to see to it that the new C. P. R. bridge at Kootenay Landing does not interfere with navigation on Kootenay River.

Goat river canyon development was discussed at considerable legth. Reeve McFarland, Councillor F. H. Jackson, Charles Murrel, C. F. Hayes, S. A. Speers, Dr. McKenzie and Guy Constable were prominent in expressing views in the matter, all of whom were agreed that West Kootenay Power & Light company was not playing the game. Messrs. Hayes and McKenzie insisted that pressure should be brought to bear on Victoria, from every possible quarter, to have the water act enforced in the particular respect of rigidly insisting that no matter who stakes the power, at the expiration of whatever time is given to commence development, the permit to develop be cancelled if work is not started and continuously proceeded with.

The matter was disposed of by the passing of a resolution to be forwarder to the minister of lands and Col. Lister calling their attention to "the unsatisfactory conditions existing with respect to the hydro-electric development of the waters of Goat river for the purpose for which they were conditionally licensed to the South Kootenay Power company." A copy of the resolution will be sent the village council for endorsation and forwarding to Victoria.

TOCKS TAKE RACTION SLIDE T NEW YORK

sappointing Steel Tonnage Report Causes Afternoon Sag

ROKERS' LOANS MAKE BIG GAIN

ond Market Continues Forward Movement After Hesitation

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP)—Stocks eased slowly and consequently in a reduced turnover today.

Transactions had a highly professional appearance. Unable to move leaders more than fractionally, bullish operators switched to a few special issues, but were not aggressively interested even in those. A slight sag appeared after noon, following publication of a rather disappointing U. S. Steel tonnage statement, made a partial recovery and then dipped again, closing with an average fractional loss. Sales totalled 1,048,750 shares.

Brokers' loans did the unexpected by rising $57,000,000, the largest gain since March, 1931.

U. S. Steel common closed half a point lower.

Fractional losses developed in General Electric, Westinghouse, Union Pacific Dupont, Allied Chemical and Solvay. The firm spots included American Telephone, up nearly a point.

The bond market, after climbing steadily upward for a number of weeks, hesitated slightly today, and after catching its breath, continued to plod forward.

Considerable profit-taking came on various sections after noon, but it was easily absorbed in most cases, and fresh support was accorded the higher grade issues.

VEGETABLES ARE IMPORTED INTO COAST MARKET

VANCOUVER, March 10—Imports of spring vegetables such as new potatoes, carrots, green beans, etc., are increasing rapidly and the street is taking on a more spring-like appearance, says the market news letter, department of agriculture, Victoria. The S. S. Nebraska arrived last week with heavier shipments of Jamaica oranges and grapefruit than in some time. There was also a shipment of marmalade oranges from Spain consigned to a local jam factory.

Vegetables imported into Vancouver during week ending March 2 California: Celery 408 crates, lettuce 1555 crates, spinach 579 crates, cauliflower 512 crates, carrots 240 crates, green peas 29 crates and 1365 lugs of tomatoes from Mexico.

Excerpt from report of British Columbia Livestock Exchange, Ltd March 5, 1932. Cattle: The market showed a decided improved activity throughout the week. The demand was very much keener with prices firm to stronger in spots. Hogs: Hog prices continued steady all week with bacon at $4.50. Receipts are well cleaned up and prospects are for steady to stronger prices for the coming week. Sheep: The lamb market showed improved strength all week with top lambs firm at 6.50. Receipts are well cleaned up at this week's close and with comparatively small volume in transit we look for stronger prices next week.

Winnipeg—Business is fair and weather very cold. Country shipments are light. A part car of hothouse rhubarb arrived today and selling at $2.25 per 20-pound box. Car receipts for week, Ontario, five cars barrel apples, one carrots and one vegetables. British Columbia, two apples and one onions. NEW York, March 10. — The pound sterling reacted sharply on local foreign exchanges today after Tuesday's spectacular rise of 18c. The currency ended the day 7¼c lower at $3.62¼ for cable transfers. The Canadian dollar closed unchanged at 89¼c.

EGGS GAIN THREE CENTS ON LOCAL WHOLESALE MART

Butter Also Makes Gain of Two Cents a Pound; February Good Month

Eggs continued their upward trend on the local wholesale market this week, gaining an additional three cents per dozen. The price change has been brought on by continued cold weather.

Butter also made a gain of two cents a pound during the past week. Local butter sales are brisk, and it is hoped that prices will continue to rise.

Grocery prices remained firm on the local market, and it is believed that better prices are in sight. Shipments in this line, for the past week, include a car of sugar, a mixed car of groceries, and a car of canned milk. Canned vegetables are in great demand, and the supply is greatly decreased. Higher prices are expected in this commodity.

Flour and feed prices remained unchanged. Shipments this week were three cars of timothy, and a mixed car of mill feed. Poultry supply sales are good. A car of oyster shell arrived this week.

Local fruit wholesalers report business good. A car of oranges arrived this week. Locally grown vegetables are in good demand, although the supply is down.

Nelson wholesalers report that February's business was much better than that of January, and hope that March will be an improvement on February.

OTTAWA SENDS $500,000 MORE TO VICTORIA

$324,546 to Be Distributed Among Municipalities Entitled to Sums

FERNIE IN LINE FOR $19,543

Will Clean Up Outstanding Accounts Up to Middle of February

VICTORIA, March 10—Another $500,000 from Ottawa is now on its way to Victoria, E. D. Johnson, deputy minister of finance, told the unemployment funds investigation committee today.

Out of the $500,000, a sum of $324,546 will be distributed among the municipalities that have sums of money owing to them through the provincial government on Dominion account. This will pretty well clean up such accounts outstanding up to the middle of February.

Payment of the cheques from the provincial treasury to the municipalities will be made almost immediately.

"The situation in so far as the municipalities are concerned is that the province is paying the provincial share of municipal expenditures and financing the municipalities for the municipal share of the municipal expenditures, leaving the Dominion proportion of the municipal expenditure unpaid," said the statement in the wording of the order-in-council from Ottawa read by Mr. Johnson.

"The committee of the privy council therefore on the recommendation of the minister of labor advise in order that the municipalities may receive payment of the Dominion proportion of the municipal expenditures covered by the agreement, that a further advance of $500,000 be made to the province of British Columbia for the purpose of enabling the province to remit to the municipalities the amount expended by the municipalities schedule at $324,546 and to enable the province to pay further municipal accounts for the Dominion proportion of municipal expenditures on approved works."

PAYMENTS

The distribution of payments out of the sum is scheduled by Ottawa as follows: Victoria $15,944; Armstrong $804, Courtenay $1058, Fernie $19,543, Kamloops $1290, Nanaimo $11,929, New Westminster $18,514, Prince Rupert $18,897, Burnaby $109,302, North Cowichan $3443, North Vancouver $15,962, Saanich $23,705, West Vancouver $3741, New Denver $186, City of Vancouver $80,882.

TORONTO, March 10.—Trading today on the Toronto stock exchange continued firm in contrast to New York, where prices turned weak in dull trading. Total trading on the local board dropped to 10,447 shares, and of the 50 issues called, 22 were higher at the close, against 16 which were lower and 12 unchanged.

Noranda reached a high of $19.80, closed at $18.80, with a net gain of 70c.

LITTLE INTEREST IS EXHIBITED IN WINNIPEG GRAIN

Trading Light; Fluctuations Narrow; Slight Gain Made

WINNIPEG, March 10. (CP)—Little interest was exhibited in the grain market here today. Outside interests did not appear in the pit, and local traders were reluctant to commit themselves in view of the limited export trade in Canadian wheat. Trading volume was light, and fluctuations the narrowest of the week, but wheat prices managed to rise ¾c above last night's finish.

Closing prices were: May, 67¾; July, 69½; and October 71c, each ¾c higher.

Italy's action in further raising quota limits on foreign wheat is believed to presage similar action by France and Germany. Italy now permits from 50 to 70 per cent foreign wheat to be mixed with domestic grains, an increase of 10 per cent.

Spreads in cash grain closed unchanged in another lifeless session. Coarse grain futures also were indifferent.

L. Soliague, long connected with various mining companies in Toronto, has been appointed secretary-treasurer of the Macassa mines, succeeding G. A. Young, deceased.

NO ONE TO BLAME TENCHUK'S DEATH THE JURY FINDS

No Opinion Is Expressed in Verdict as to How He Got on Track

ENGINE CREW GIVE STORY OF ACCIDENT

Train Ran Slow After Speeder Was Hit; Man Struck as Curve Rounded

"We, the jury, consider his death as purely accidental, and no blame is attached to anyone," was the finding of the coroner's jury Thursday night, after the second and final session of the inquest into the death of Stephen Tenchuk, C. P. R. track watchman at Drewry, who was run over by the westbound Kootenay Express Sunday evening and his legs amputated, the man dying in hospital in Nelson some six or seven hours later.

The jury, with Edward Neff as foreman, found that Tenchuk died in hospital as a result of shock and hemorrhage resulting from the accident by which both legs were severed, by being run over by the train. No opinion was offered by the jury as to how Tenchuk came to be lying down the bank with his legs on the rail, but evidence of two witnesses at Wednesday's session suggested that he had been drinking early in the afternoon before going on duty.

At the concluding session, presided over by Dr. H. H. MacKenzie, district coroner, Corporal C. G. Barber of the provincial police called the final witnesses, Lionel J. Whittier, fireman, and Hugh J. Brock, engineer, both of Cranbrook, of the train in question.

MAKING UP TIME

The evidence of Engineer Brock showed that the train was a little late when it pulled out of Drewry, and was making up time when it ran into Tenchuk's empty handspeeder on a curve. "Plug her," the fireman shouted to him, as the speeder came into sight about 25 feet ahead, and he applied the emergency brakes, the speeder being derailed to the left, as he subsequently found, as the train came to a sudden stop. He stated he himself had no opportunity to see the speeder at any stage.

After a halt of a minute or two while the fireman searched vainly for a man in connection with the speeder, the engineer proceeded at reduced speed for a half mile or so, or far past the distance which he considered the speeder could possibly run if a man had fallen off it. He then picked up to 22 or 23 miles an hour, and on rounding a second curve, saw the shadow of a small rock cut about 100 feet ahead, and when the engine straightened out and the headlight focussed on the straight stretch, saw the man hanging down the dump about 60 feet ahead, where the shadow had been, his feet on the rail. He applied the emergency instantly, and turned on the sand, but the engine, two cars, and the front truck of the third car passed over the man's legs before the train stopped.

Fireman Whittier confirmed this evidence, and told of crawling under the train when he heard a voice, and finding Tenchuk, minus his legs, in great suffering, and talking incoherently. He said the injured man did not appear rational. He bound up the man's legs with handkerchiefs to stop the bleeding, and with the help of the express messenger and conductor, and some passengers, lifted him into the baggage-car, in which he was brought to Nelson.

Three times after leaving the speeder the engine whistled on curves, the last time about 150 feet before hitting the man, each time with two long and two short blasts.

FIREMAN APPLIED FIRST AID

Asked if he smelt anything on the man's breath, Mr. Whittier stated he did not approach his head.

Engineer Brock said he had become acquainted with Tenchuk during the time when the line was being cleared of the mud slide in February, and considered him a bright young man, not even discovering that he was of foreign extraction, as he talked good English. He said Tenchuk told him he could see the engine's headlight 20 miles away, or even as far as Kootenay Landing, and that he could hear the whistle when the train was 10 or 15 miles away, and could keep tab on the train's progress, apart from being informed by message when he could expect it.

Tenchuk's brother, John Trenchuk, was present again, but though invited to ask any questions of the witnesses that he wished to, did not take any further part.

ADVERSE NEWS IS UNABLE TO DOWN CHICAGO GRAINS

Values Almost Motionless; Italy Increases Wheat Quota

CHICAGO, Ill., March 1. (AP)—Stubborn in the face of government figures showing stocks of wheat on farms totalled the largest in many years, grain value held almost motionless today.

Back of the obstinacy of owners was news that Italy had increased her wheat import quota 10 per cent and there were signs that Germany and France would follow suit. It was also indicated that further quantities of United States hard winter wheat had been taken for export, and that this grain was now available at somewhat below Canadian wheat of quality.

Wheat closed irregular at ¼ decline to ⅛ advance, compared with yesterday's finish, corn a shade down to a shade up, and provision showing a rise of 2 to 10 cents.

Thoughout the day, the wheat market oscillated so slightly that the extreme range was within a cent a bushel. Liverpool wheat quotations were unexpectedly higher, and no evidence appeared that there was any heavy selling pressure abroad from export countries. In this connection, special significance was attached to statements that Russia had apparently ceased offering wheat for shipment to other countries, Russian exports for the last week totalling only 88,000 bushels, a circumstance tending to confirm advances of famine in various sections of Russia.

ICE FLOES THREATEN DREDGE AND FISH IN LAKE ERIE

CLEVELAND, Ohio., March 10 (AP)—Booming ice floes in Lake Erie tonight held fast a government dredge and its crew of 40, threatened to destroy thousands of dollars worth of commercial fish nets and were responsible for one wintry rescue.

The United States government dredge Taylor was fast in the ice between Cleveland and Toledo. Tonight rescue crews from the coast guard station had been unable to get nearer than two miles.

Visibility was hampered by inshore flurries. The coast guard station said the craft appeared to be unusually high forward leading to the belief it had been forced bow up on the reef.

BANK OF ENGLAND REDUCES ITS RATE TO FOUR PER CENT

Financial Men Jubilant; Prospects for Conversion Improved

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—A jubilant shout of "four" was raised men jamming the streets near the Bank of England when it was announced today the bank rate has been reduced from five to four per cent.

This was the second reduction in three weeks. February 1 the rate was lowered to five per cent from six—the figure at which it had stood since Great Britain left the gold standard last September.

Financial circles pointed out that industry now will have to pay only five per cent for its bank advances, instead of the almost prohibitive seven which prevailed three weeks ago, and that commercial undertakings will be further helped by the transferring of money from bank deposit accounts, which now will earn only two per cent, into industrial securities promising a higher yield.

It was said that prospects were materially improved for the chancellor of the exchequer to do something about the conversion of the £2,000,000,000 (normally about $700,000,000) 5½ per cent war loans—a step he is known to favor.

The lowering the bank rate was accepted as further evidence that Britain had collected all—or almost all — of the necessary dollars and francs to repay outstanding portions of American and French credits.

MECHANICAL ROBOT GIVES SUGGESTIVE PICTURE OF BRAIN

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 10 (AP)—A new mechanical brain of steel alloys at Massachusetts institute of technology furnishes a suggestive picture of the probable power of consumption of the human brain in thinking.

The mechanical "thoughts" are only of one kind, the solution of differential equations. Some of these take hours or even day for the human brain. The mechanical "thinker" completes them in a few minutes.

The robot brain is called the differential analyzer. Its food is electric current. One flyweight of force controls it, and it consumes about one-horse power for 10 minutes to solve a problem.

INVESTIGATORS' CHARGES MANY, MISMANAGEMENT

Numbers of Subpoenas to Be Issued to Persons in Relief Probe

VICTORIA, March 10 (CP) — Many charges of mismanagement in connection with camps were made today before the commitee of the legislature investigating unemployment relief and as a result a number of subpoenas will be issued summoning various persons who had to do with supplies and public funds.

At the request of A. M. Manson, K. C., Liberal Omineca, the committee will subpoena an official of the British Columbia lumber dealers' organization in connection with a charge that the lumbermen of the province officially made an offer to the government to supply lumber for camps at a stated price, and that purchasing agents for the government subsequently made arrangements to buy the lumber through various individuals at prices "very much in excess of what the lumbermen's organization offered." Mr. Manson asked the committee to investigate charges that lumber was bought for the camps around Ashcroft at $75 per 1000 fete when the retail price in Vancouver was $35.

Mr. Manson asked for returns for the purchase of beef in the Ashcroft area and whether liver and tongue were charged in the camp as beef.

"Several old sows were supplied to the camps near Ashcroft at 10 cents a pound," he said. "They were found unfit for human consumption and had to be destroyed."

J. A. Craig, comptroller-general of British Columbia, testified that Ottawa had ordered items of office furniture deleted from the vouchers submitted by the government here.

"Were there any pianos under the head of office furniture?" asked Mr. Manson. "I have reports there was a piano bought at Blue River."

Mr. Craig replied he had not seen any item put through for the purchase of pianos.

MONTREAL, Que., March 10.—Traffic earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway company from March 1 to March 7 were $2,377,000, as compared with $2,820,000 in the corresponding period of last year, a decrease of $443,000.
