ROOSEVELT HAS "NEW DEAL" ON DEBTS

JAPAN IS EXPECTED TO START LONG HERALDED ATTACK ON THE PROVINCE OF JEHOL THIS WEEK

Chinese Disregard Japan Ultimatum Despite Threat of Attack; Hsiao-Liang Has Orders to Resist Any Advance

By JAMES A. MILLS, Associated Press Staff Writer

CHINCHOW, Manchuria, Feb. 19 (AP).—Convincing indications were seen today that this week will witness the beginning of the long-heralded Japanese and Manchukuoan assault on the Chinese province of Jehol and the opening of an extensive conflict.

With the fanfare of preliminary threats and ultimatum nearly over, the preparations of General Nubuyoshi Muto, Japanese commander-in-chief of Manchuria, were near completion. Lieut.-General Kumaiki Koiso, chief of staff for General Muto, was said to be directing genius of the expedition.

(A Japanese ultimatum ordering Chinese forces to immediately evacuate Kailu, northern gateway of Jehol province, was received yesterday at Peiping. It was said at Chinese-Manchurian headquarters it would be disregarded, even though the Japanese threatened to attack at once. The Japanese were reported prepared to issue two similar demands to other Chinese officials.)

The Japanese military machine was pointed westward. Japanese leaders expressed confidence five days after the advance was begun the Rising Sun banners would be within the shadow of the main objective, Jehol City, the ancient summer capital of imperial China.

COORDINATED SCHEDULE

Japanese columns, with less sturdy Manchukuoan troops sandwiched between, were expected to enter Jehol according to a coordinated schedule. Authoritative estimates of the invading forces placed the total at 50,000, nearly half of them Manchukuoans.

Estimates of the number of Chinese troops in Jehol ranged upward to 226,000. Some Japanese officers, however, calculated the number at 105,000, of which the regular troops of Chang Hsiao-Liang, North China military leader, and General Tang Yu-Lin comprised 55,000.

ORDERED TO RESIST

PEIPING, Feb. 19 (AP).—Marshal Chang Hsiao-Liang, North China military leader, today sent a telegram to the Chinese delegation at Geneva saying, "We have categorical orders from the Central government to resist" a threatened Japanese invasion of the Chinese province, Jehol.

The marshal returned today with T. V. Soong, finance minister of the Nationalist government, from an inspection trip of Jehol.

The message of the Chinese delegation at the League of Nations said in part:

"Determination of the government and the people of China to resist the Japanese invasion has crystallized in a concentration of forces for that purpose.

LACK EVEN PRETEXT

Japan has made the specious claim she has invaded Manchuria to sustain treaty rights, but it lacks even the pretext for invading Jehol, as there are no treaties in connection with that province.

Belief the far east may be plunged into the most serious international crisis since the Russo-Japanese war if the Japanese invade Jehol is shared by many well-informed neutral diplomats here.

According to reliable reports from several sources, the Japanese now are moving troops into position for a drive on Chengtehfu from the direction of Kailu in the northeast, hoping to reach the objective by March 1, the anniversary of the proclamation of Manchukuo.

JAPAN WILL QUIT LEAGUE

TOKYO, Feb. 20 (Monday) (AP)—The Japanese cabinet has agreed on measures whereby Japan will ultimately secede from the League of Nations, following an adverse report on Japan's activities in Manchuria, the vernacular newspapers announced in extra editions today.

CAMERON NEW CHIEF AT COAST

Court of Appeal Grants Injunction Against Action by Board

VANCOUVER, Feb. 19 (CP)—The board of police commissioners of Vancouver on Saturday appointed Chief of Police John Cameron of New Westminster to that position in Vancouver, at about the same time that the court of appeal in Victoria was issuing an injunction against the board taking such action.

The application for the injunction in Victoria was marked by charges of "corruption" and "maliciousness" against Mayor Louis D. Taylor and Police Commissioners E. M. Charman and A. J. Dumaresq, for the manner in which they brought about the recent dismissal of Chief of Police C. E. Edgett.

Apart from the legality of the board's action in making an appointment Saturday, J. B. Williams, city solicitor, states the net result of the situation as follows:

"John Cameron's appointment cannot be completed until he is sworn in, which is effectively postponed by the court of appeal injunction. The whole thing stands in the statu quo until this injunction is disposed of. The court of appeal in its notice to the commissioner made the notice returnable at the court house, here on March 7."

Writes Communist of Plot to Kill President

Mexican Police Check Up on Rumor

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 19 (AP)—A rumor that Giuseppe Zangara or a friend of his had written a Communist here and divulged part of a plot to kill President-elect Roosevelt led Mexico City police to begin a check-up of all known Communists.

Two persons were arrested yesterday for questioning. Authorities denied specific knowledge of a letter telling of a conspiracy.

INDISCRIMINATE FLYING BARRED

CANBERRA, Australia, Feb. 19—(AP)— Indiscriminate flying over dangerous areas, particularly the desert regions of Australia, has been prohibited by the defence ministry. The defence department has been put to heavy expense and military aviators have risked their lives in rescues in the wilderness.

In the future airmen and their passengers must guarantee the cost of any rescue expeditions necessary and their plane must be certified as suitable.

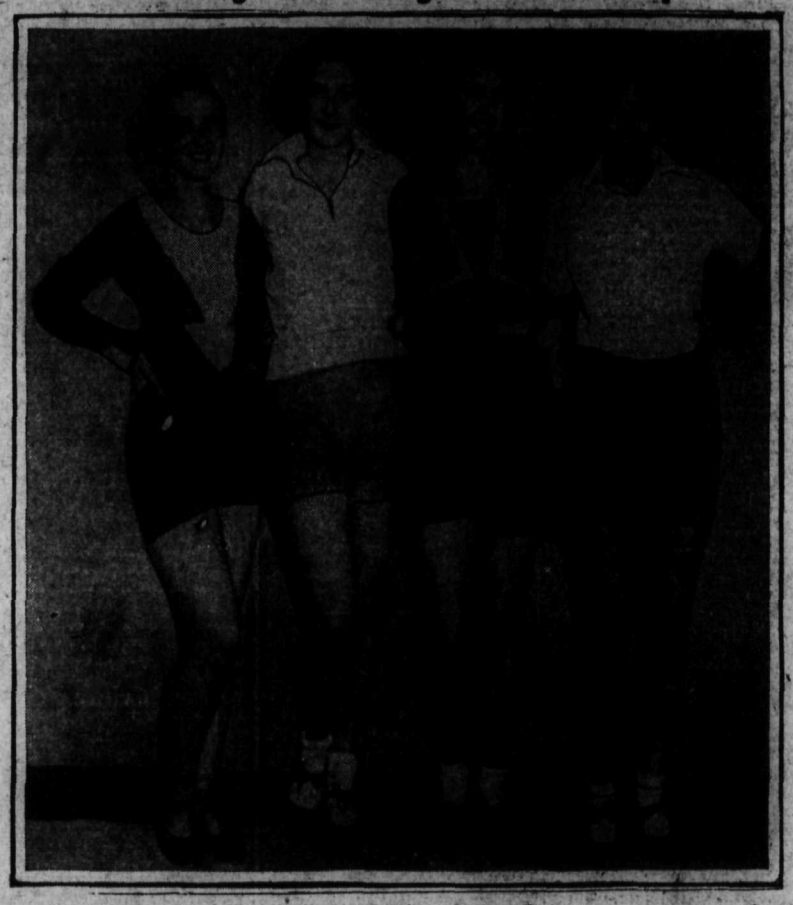
KING APPROVES AWARDS, AIRMEN

LONDON, Feb. 19 (CP cable).—The King, it was announced today, has approved award of the air force cross to Squadron Leader O. R. Gayford and the bar of the air force cross to Flight Lieut. G. E. Nicholetts for their record-breaking flight from Cranwell to Walfish Bay, South Africa.

NATIVE DAUGHTER DIES AT NEW WESTMINSTER

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Feb. 19 (CP)—Mrs. George H. Turnbul, 73, died here today. She was a native daughter of British Columbia having been born in Sappleton near here, in 1860.

Charming Junior League Chorus Group



These four charming young ladies certainly make an attractive chorus, but they aren't chorus girls. They are popular members of Junior League in Toronto in sensible and attractive work-out costumes of shorts and jerseys. The costumes are worn during rehearsals in preparation for a revue being put on by the Junior League in one of Toronto's largest theatres. They are: Mrs. J. Balmer, Miss May Rolph, Miss Margaret McCausland and Mrs. Murray Stewart.

NADIN BURIED

SASKATOON, Sask., Feb. 19 (CP).—Borne to his final resting place by six fellow airmen, Air Engineer W. B. Nadin, who died in a plane crash January 31 near Great Bear lake, was buried in a soldiers' grave in the cemetery at Prince Albert this afternoon.

CERMAK AND MRS. GILL IMPROVING

Secrecy Veils Plea Gunman Will Make

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 19 (AP)—Steady improvement was displayed today by Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago, and Mrs. Joe H. Gill, seriously wounded victims of Giuseppe Zangara, while secrecy veiled the plea of the gunman, who sought to kill President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt, will make to the courts tomorrow.

Physicians found encouragement in the condition of Cermak and Mrs. Gill, who were struck by the stream of bullets that poured into a cheering crowd gathered to greet Mr. Roosevelt last Wednesday night.

Urges Members of Dail to Take Cut

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Feb. 19. (CP Cable)—Frank McDermott, leader of the Centrist party in the Dail Eireann, tonight called on all members of the chamber to take a reduction in their indemnity to help finance the tariff war with the United Kingdom.

If the tariff war, which arose from the Free State's refusal to pay land annuities the British government claimed were due the Bank of England, is to be continued, Mr. McDermott told the annual convention of the Roscommon farmers and ratepayers league, more must be done to equalize the burden between different sections of the community.

"I agree," he said, "members of the dail should have some recompense, but there should not be a sacred class when all others are suffering reductions."

MOVIE STARS IN LINE FOR CUTS

Move Being Made Bring Them More in Line With Times

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Feb. 19 (AP)—The drive against the big salaries of Hollywood movie stars is under way and, with many of the "boom" days contracts expiring in rapid-fire order, an usual tactical situation exists in the industry.

Greta Garbo, Maurice Chevalier, Marlene Dietrich, Gloria Swanson, Ronald Colman, the four Marx brothers, Ann Harding, William Powell and George Arliss are among the film folk involved in the producers' program to bring salaries into line with the times. Contracts of these "big money" names range from $3000 a week to $250,000 a picture.

What will come of the negotiations in new contracts is somewhat problematical, for some of the performers who have gained marked success on the stage are known to be casting glances toward offers in other centers.

STAGE ENGAGEMENT

Ann Harding may take a stage engagement in England; Chevalier intends to make one picture in California and one in France each autumn. His contract is said to call for four more pictures at the rate of two a year and guarantees against infringement upon his salary, reported to be $1000 a day.

Garbo's plans are unknown. Arliss may rusticate for a time in England or go back on the stage. Colman is considering a bachelor rest in the British countryside, but his contract specifies he must return within a year or give notice of his intention to do so, else it may be terminated.

Ruth Chatterton and Powell are still holdouts. They have steadfastly refused to take cuts that would leave Miss Chatterton with $7500 a week and Powell with $8000.

MAYOR AND HIS CABINET FLEES

NOGALES, Spain, Feb. 19 (AP)—Civil guards are seeking the mayor and his entire cabinet. None of them wanted to face the complicated and delicate problem of distributing lands under Spain's new agrarian reform law and they slipped out of town one by one.

SMITTY PLANS FOR NEW MARK

WELLINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP).—Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, it is said, is planning to try for a new record for a flight from England to Australia in about eight days. The record held by C. W. A. Scott, is eight days, 20 hours, 49 minutes.

LORD LOVAT DIES

DEPPING NORTON, Eng., Feb. 19 (CP cable).—Lord Lovat, fourteenth baron of that name, is dead here following a stroke which seized him as he was watching a steeplechase yesterday. Baron was rushed to hospital, but died en route. He was 61 years old.

MANY JOBLESS AFTER BLAZE

Ontario Company Is Burnt Out

CORNWALL, Ont., Feb. 19 (CP)—Fire destroyed the plant of the Cornwall Pants Manufacturing company here today, causing a loss of about $250,000 and throwing 250 men and women temporarily out of employment. There were no injuries and although scores of nearby residences were endangered firemen were successful in preventing the spread of the blaze.

CALGARY VETERANS REJECT INVITATION

CALGARY, Feb. 19 (CP).—Calgary division of the imperial veterans, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., today rejected an invitation from the Imperial veterans at Windsor, Ont., to secede from the Canadian Legion and form a separate Imperial veterans unit independent of the legion. The branch here decided nothing was to be gained by quitting the legion and found its affiliations within the legion harmonious.

SPORTS EDITOR RESCUES YOUTH

TORONTO, Feb. 19 (CP)—Diving fully clothed into the chill waters of Lake Ontario, Lou Marsh, sports editor of the Toronto Star, rescued a 9-year-old boy who had ventured on a floating cake of ice in Lake Ontario yesterday. Marsh swam 150 feet to bring Billy Vaughn to shore when it seemed the youngster would be carried far out into the lake.

NEGRO DIES FROM EFFECT OF BEATING

AIKEN, S. C., Feb. 19 (AP)—George Jeter, negro, died today from the effects of a beating given him by a group of white men last Tuesday and four men, his alleged assailants, were arrested.

Officers quoted members of Jeter's family as saying he named those arrested as the men who beat him and said the flogging was inflicted after they had accused him of stealing liquor from them.

PROMINENT ACCOUNTANT DIES

MONTREAL, Feb. 19 (CP)—Prominent member of the firm of Riddell, Stead, Graham and Hutchinson, chartered accountants, James Hutchinson died at his home Saturday of a sudden heart attack. He was 59 years old.

DENVER GANG LIGHT KILLED, KIDNAP CITIZEN

Notorious Gangster Riddled With Bullets at His Home

APPEARS TO BE SAME PLOT

Ransom Notes Ask for $60,000; Has Been Missing a Week

By GEORGE V. McINTYRE
Associated Press Staff Writer

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 19 (AP)—Two crimes, the slaying of the city's most notorious gangster and the kidnapping of one of its most reputable citizens, tonight challenged police as possible ramifications of the same plot.

Joe Roma, the "little north Denver grocer," was the victim at the lower end of the social scale. Assassins found him picking his mandolin and watching a pot of spaghetti at his home Saturday and filled his slight form with bullets.

Charles Boettcher, second scion of a wealthy pioneer family, was at the other end. Boettcher was kidnapped from his home last Sunday night and has not been heard from since. Ransom notes have asked $60,000 for his return.

Tonight officers held six men, among them:

Frank Mortellaro, former Pueblo, Colo., man and brother of Vincent Mortellaro, who was shot to death here March 16, 1932. Roma was once accused of conspiracy to commit the slaying.

J. F. Rotitto, termed a California gangster who recently "muscled in" on Roma's whiskey business. Clark said both Mortellaro and Rotitto are suspects in the Boettcher kidnapping.

Roma, they said where such things are known, tonight, didn't approve of kidnapping. He conferred last week with Chief Clark, presumably about the Boettcher case and the word was out that Roma had volunteered to help secure return of the kidnapped heir to his family.

TRIO SWIM AT MOOSE JAW DAM

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Feb. 19 (CP)—First to swim in the Moose Jaw river in 1933 were Miss "Mickey" Bell, Stanley Bell and Alex. Hunt. The trio went for a dip at the high pressure dam shortly after noon Saturday.

While the day was moderately warm, with snow melting on the streets, yet it was still mighty cold for outdoor swimming and the three found the water at the dam ice-cold. Needless to say they didn't stay in very long.

TWO KILLED IN GERMAN CLASH

ROSTOCK, Germany, Feb. 19 (AP).—Two Reichsbannermen were killed and seven seriously injured and two Nazis slightly hurt in a clash after a Reichsbanner meeting at Bad Doberan today.

LYNCH NEGRO

RINGGOLD, La., Feb. 19 (AP).—Less than 14 hours after J. P. Bachelor, 51, cashier of the Ringgold bank, had been beaten to death, Nelson Nash, 24-year-old negro, suspected of being the slayer, was lynched today by a group of several score men who hanged him from a tree.

JIM CORBETT DIES IN SLEEP

Complication of Diseases Saps Strength of Ex-World Champ

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—A pale, courageous shadow of the once-magnificent "Pompadour Jim" of the gay 90s and the man who rocked the pugilistic world by knocking out John L. Sullivan over 40 years ago, James J. Corbett, 66, died Saturday in his sleep at his Long Island home.

Death was due to a complication of diseases which had sapped the former heavyweight champion's strength for the past year and developed a fatal heart ailment three weeks ago.

Wistfull, a few hours before he died, his dark eyes opened and slowly searched the room where he has received the homage of the sporting world since the day he was stricken.

"You're there, dear, aren't you?" Corbett asked, with a smile, as he looked for the wife who has been his constant nurse and companion.

"Of course, Jim," she replied.

"Kiss me, darling."

He groped for her with one arm. She leaned over. As she kissed him Corbett sank back, unconscious, into another period of unconsciousness from which he never emerged. Corbett died at about 1:40 p.m., with a small group of close friends at the bedside, his wife's arm about him.

Peace Threatened States Mussolini

Sums Up Fascist Newspaper Charges

MILAN, Feb. 19 (AP).—Assertion that the peace of Europe is being threatened was made today by Premier Mussolini's newspaper, Il Popolo d'Italia, in summing up Fascist newspaper charges France is arming her Balkan allies against Italy.

The Balkan bloc must be considered a "provocation," Il Popolo said, adding new war clouds were collecting over the continent.

La Stampa of Turin, printed a list of armaments it said were furnished Jugoslavia and Rumania in the last few years by France and asserted the French controlled armament factories in Czechoslovakia.

Predicts Return of Hohenzollerns

Former American Consul-General Sees Fusion

SUMMIT, N. J., Feb. 19 (AP) — Return of the Hohenzollerns to power in Germany was predicted today by T. St. John Gaffney, former American consul-general in Munich and Dresden and frequent guest of Wilhelm II at Doorn.

Gaffney said the "Hapsburg coalition"—the fusion of the forces of Adolf Hitler and his Nazis with Dr. Alfred Mugenburg and the German Nationalist peoples party—speeds up what he termed "a growing, solidifying Nationalistic spirit that works for the return of the former Prussian ruling family."

"This return, I feel," said Gaffney, "will not be consummated by the former emperor himself, but rather by one of his sons. "Whilhelm II has often told me," said Gaffney, "that he would never return to Germany unless at the invitation of the reichstag or the cabinet."

THROWS PEPPER IN HIS EYES; ROBS CAR MAN

CALGARY, Feb. 19 (AP)—A lone bandit tonight boarded a street car, threw pepper in the motorman's face and escaped with an undetermined amount of money.

CONFERS WITH HIS ADVISORS ON ECONOMICS

Meets Sir Ronald Lindsay, British Ambassador, on Monday

IMPORTANT PEOPLE AT SERIES, PARLEYS

Signs of Imminent Action in Complicated World Economics

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP).—President-elect Franklin Roosevelt laid the basis for a "new deal" on world economics and war debts in a round of conferences today with his economic advisors of the eve of tomorrow's meeting with Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador.

The significant series of meetings throughout the day at the Roosevelt home included such callers as Bernard M. Baruch, financial authority; Professor Raymond Moley, expert on war debts; William H. Woodin, close advisor of Roosevelt on economics affairs, and Col. Edward M. House, veteran in the field of foreign affairs.

All in all, there were signs of imminent action in the complicated world economic situation.

PERSONALLY AND SEPARATELY

Bernard M. Baruch, who spent the afternoon at the Roosevelt conference table in company with Professor Moley, is looked upon as the probable head of the American delegation that will talk economics with the European representatives. Mr. Roosevelt is still adhering to his intention to deal personally and separately with the foreign debtors on the subject of war debts.

There is some speculation that Sir Ronald is bringing back a counter proposal for an immediate world economic conference to which all nations would be invited. With regard to debts some of the Roosevelt advisers have talked about a postponement of payments.

CAMPBELL FINDS BEACH TOO ROUGH

Puts Off Test Run Beyond Monday

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 19.—(AP).—Sir Malcolm Campbell tonight decided the nine-mile beach racing strip was too rough for him to attempt a test run at low tide tomorrow morning. Westerly winds blew in from the ocean last night causing tides that chopped up the beach in many places, made the shoreline ragged and the sand soft.

Sir Malcolm, holder of the world land speed record, was hopeful the winds might change to the north or northeast tonight or tomorrow and roll the beach smooth in time for a run Tuesday morning. Late today, however, the ocean was calm and gave no evidence of becoming rough enough to roll the tides so high that they would iron out the corrugations.

B.C. LEGISLATURE OPENS THURSDAY

Will Be Time-Honored Ceremony

VICTORIA, Feb. 19 (CP)—Quieter this year due to the times, but still with time-honored ceremony the final session of the seventeenth legislature of B. C., will be opened by Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson on Thursday afternoon. The main business before the house will be the voting of supply, together with whatever emergency legislation may be considered expedient. Government supporters believe there will be a Pacific Great Eastern railway bill introduced at this session, but no conformation of this can be obtained at the present time.

On its fiscal side, the main efforts of the government will be to hold expenses down.

NEWS PROVES FATAL SHOCK

STRATHCLAIR, Man., Feb. 19.—Mrs. Laura Schomperlen, 45, who has been in a dying state of coma since last Wednesday when informed of the death of her brother, William Glenn, died here today. Her brother died from injuries received in a hockey game and Mrs. Schomperlen did not recover from the shock.

Suicide Victim Urges Creation of a Suicide Society by Legislation

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 19.—(CP).—August S. Seymore, 60, had drifted into a death sleep of his own choosing today after leaving a note addressed to the United States congress urging creation of a suicide society by legislation.

The note asked congress to appoint a board of physicians empowered to "end the lives of aged persons suffering from incurable illnesses and misery." The plan for the suicide society, as the Seymore note set forth, was capitalization of a national organization for $100,000,000 and the erection of a 100-story hotel where people suffering from illnesses could be taken for treatment.

In the event that such treatment disclosed there was no hope of being cured, he suggested, the member would be presented with the alternative of three different modes h. which to end his life. These were suggested as a "pink pill" bringing instant death, placement under a "death ray," or inhalation of "laughing gass."

The letter was found in Seymore's room Saturday. The man appeared heavily drugged, possibly after taking a heavy sleeping draught.

Man Finally Pronounced Dead After Having "Died" Several Times Before

WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 19. (AP).—One of the strangest medical annals had ended tonight as Leory Taylor, 43, officially was pronounced dead.

Taylor actually died last Thursday, but not until exhaustive tests over a period of two days failed to show any signs of life, and rigor mortis set in fully, were attending physicians ready to state unequivocally that he was ready for the undertaker. That was because Taylor had "died" several times before.

Once, in 1927, he dropped in a Philadelphia railroad station. Authorities pronounced him dead. He was taken to the morgue, and placed on a slab to await identification.

The attendant went out of the room for a moment. Returning, he said, he took one look, shrieked in terror, and fled. For Taylor was sitting up, gazing about him in bewilderment.

The cause lay in war injury. As a result of it, a vein and an artery in his head, his family said, were connected and venous blood seeped from the vein into the arterial system.

When sufficient venous blood got into the arterial system, a condition difficult for physicians to explain other than in medical terms resulted. Approximately what happened was that masses of bubbles appear in the blood.

That would result in a deep sleep so similar to death, his family declared, as to defy ordinary, perfunctory examination.

PRESENT FIRST AID AWARDS AT BIG GATHERING

C. P. R. First Aid Organization Sponsors Fine Social

MANSON GIVES OUT LARGE LIST AWARDS

Ald. J. B. Gray Officiates; Cards, Music and Addresses

Seventy-five first aid awards were presented to successful candidates at pleasant social evening held by the First Aid organization in the Canadian Legion hall Friday night. The small hall was filled to capacity for the event. Presentations climaxed a varied program of cards, musical numbers and addresses. W. Manson superintendent of the C.P.R. Dr Kootenay division, presented the various awards.

The entertainment started off with a progressive whist drive, Mrs. Graham and Eli Ironmonger winning ladies' and gentlemen's first prizes respectively. Miss D. Coble and A. Joanin received consolation prizes.

Ald. J. B. Gray officiated as chairman in the absence of Mayor S. H. Smythe.

WORK OF HIGH ORDER

In his remarks on first aid work Mr. Gray stated that work such as first aid that forwarded the welfare of the community was work of the higher order. It aided in making better homes and in helping the homes it affected the community at large. Mr. Gray also dealt with the successes of the organization and the C. P. R. team. In closing he stated that he expected the team to win the only trophy left—the Dominion.

Dr. F. M. Auld in a short address traced the beginning and growth of first aid from its inception in Great Britain to the world wide importance it holds today. He declared that every Nelsonite should be familiarized with first aid, especially so since the success of the C. P. R. team.

Mr. Manson in his presentation address spoke of the "team's enviable record" under the leadership of Frederick Blakeman.

PREMIER TEAM

"The C. P. R. team is one of the premier teams of the dominion as is evidenced by the number of trophies it holds, and throughout the east we have probably learned more about the city of Nelson through the medium of its first aid team, than through any other agency or channel."

He also spoke of the junior classes and paid the following tribute to the late John Shardelow, who, prior to his death, served on the team for many years. "He was an ardent and competent first aider, a man of high principles and a loyal and faithful employee. His sympathetic and sage advice is missed throughout the Canadian Pacific employ and he has left an inspiration to strive for further achievement in the work he loved so well," the superintendent declared.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP

Another feature of the evening was the announcement by Mr. Manson that Dr. J. P. Gussin and Dr. J. H. Bennett, first aid examiners had been granted honorary life membership in the order of the St. John's Ambulance association, London, England. The doctors have been actively associated with first aid work for many years, having examined 500 first aid students as well as regulars. Dr. Bennett in reply to Mr. Manson's words congratulated th team and designed Captain F. Blakeman as "A Julius Caesar looking for new fields to conquer. Mr. Blakeman gave a resume of the class work over which he presides. Last year 135 took instructions.

C.G.I.T. SUCCESSFUL

Mrs. John Shardelow thought the Girl Guides also deserved a little praise. The girls had won the Dominion title three years and had placed second three times. She declared that while there were no competitions being held across the dominion the girls would be out for the honors the next time one was held. D. Rees had a similar statement to make about the Boy Scout team. The boys had competed six times and had won three firsts and two seconds. The Nelson boys were the smartest in the dominion he declared. Mrs. Penny, John Applewhaite of Willow Point and Mrs. L. Pickard all gave remarks on the first aid work.

The program included: Mrs. F. Blakeman, mandolin; Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson, piano, A. Trigillus, flute and J. Worthington, violin, instrumental quartets; William Coleman, vocal solos; Mrs. Ferguson, Mrs. Blakeman and A. Tregillus, instrumental trio; J. Worthington, accompained by S. R. Thomas, violin solos; Fred Paton, monologues.

A. Wigg and R. Fairburn acted as masters of ceremony for cards. Refreshments were served at the close of the entertainment and presentations.

Awards given were as follows—Junior—Agnes E. Gary, Esme E. Penny, Stella Mary Paterson, Marguerite E. O'Grady, Beryl C. Wilson, Eileen M. Manahan, Mary F. Venables, Elizabeth Strangherlin, Pauline Marie Stangherlin, Agnes Parker, B. L. Bates, Maisie B. Grimes, Ada M. Murnane, Edith L. Paterson, Hazel B. Kellogg, Dorothy M. Wheeler, Marjorie G. Make Important Fossil Mammals Find

Dr. L. S. Russell and Dr. R. T. D. Wickenden of the geological survey department of mines, Ottawa, have announced the discovery of a new locality for fossil mammals in Canada. The two government paleontologists, working near Swift Current, Saskatchewan, have obtained a small collection of fossil teeth which proved to represent animals of the late eocene times, which have not previously been found in Canada, Such fossils have been found in Utah and more recently in South California. Teeth of a rhinoceros, of titianotheres (large horn-bearing beasts), or a three-toed horse (primitive antelope-like creatures and a fore-runner of the squirrels) are included in the find. A single rabbit tooth is one of the oldest known records of such animals. In the above layout is shown (1) a titianotheris, a large horn-bearing animal and (2) a sabre-tooth tiger pulling down a prehistoric horse.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Pimples On Face A Dreadful Sight

Miss C. H. Langenhahn, Vermilion, Sask., writes:—"My face was covered with pimples, and I hated to be seen by anyone, as I was a dreadful sight.

I got no relief until a friend, who had had the same trouble, told me to use Burdock Blood Bitters, and after I had taken two bottles I am happy to say my face is all cleared of the pimples."

WEATHER IS SPRINGLIKE

Mercury Hits 36 Saturday; Snow Melts

High temperatures Sunday started the snow melting on the pavement and on the street car line and for a while in the afternoon a springlike atmosphere prevailed.

Saturday the mercury made the big jump of 15 degrees, from 19 to 36 degrees. Sunday's temperatures ranged between 24 and 33 degrees, showing a steady increase toward warmer weather during the past three or four days.

Down in Weight and Very Pale

Mrs. Beare Thankful for Way in Which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Helped Her Back to Health

Gained Weight and Color

"I can truly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for they did wonders for me," writes Mrs. Mabel R. Beare, New Westminster, B.C. "After a long and very trying illness, I was down to 90 lbs. in weight. I could not eat a hearty meal. In fact, I have had to go away from the table hungry, from a dinner I dared not touch. I was also very pale. I had often read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, so thought I would give them a trial. I soon found I was able to eat with any one, and life began to look brighter. My weight came up to 118 lbs. and my lips and cheeks had lots of color. I am more than thankful I ever took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I only hope others will try them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually create an abundance of new red blood, which is the reason they have given new vitality and strength to thousands of such nervously exhausted women. Equally helpful for growing girls. Try them. At your druggist's in the new glass container, 50c.

RANGERS FALL TO KILMARNOCK

Beaten 4-0 in Race for the Cup; Hearts, Celtic and Motherwell Win

GLASGOW, Feb. 19. (CP Cable)—Victors over their arch-rivals Glasgow Rangers, by a 4-0 count, Kilmarnock, tonight were headed toward capture of the Scottish cup, a goal they missed by a narrow margin last year.

Single tally, scored by Liddell, Saturday sent the Killies into their fourth round and banished the Glasgow team, leaders in the Scottish league, from further contention for the trophy they have won three times in the past five years.

Three other outfits Saturday won the right to join Kilmarnock in the fourth round and four more ambled in by the bye route. On March 4 the eight sides will battle to determine which four will reach the semi finals.

Hearts, Celtic and Motherwell, as well as Kilmarnock, won their round games while Albion Rovers, Clyde, Stenhousemuir and Hibernians rested from cup play. While 56,000 people largest crowd of the day, looked on Celtic battled Partick Thistle to a 2-1 decision after being down to the Thistles at half time.

RAINVILLE IS RANKING MAN

Wright's Name Is Left Off List of Tennis Association

TORONTO, Feb. 19 (CP)—Marcel Rainville, fiery little Montreal Davis cup star, heads Canada's ranking tennis for 1933 while Dr. Jack Wright, veteran ace from Vancouver, is unlisted.

While no explanation was made when the ranking list was issued at the annual general meeting here Saturday of the Canadian Lawn Tennis association, it was believed Wright the Dominion's Davis cup mainstay, had played so little championship tennis during 1932 that his name was not considered.

The association went on record as opposed "at the present time" to open tournaments as endorsed recently by the United States Lawn Tennis association. Vancouver Lawn Tennis club was awarded the 1933 Canadian championships. The 1934 championships will be held in Toronto during the city's centenary celebration.

Men's—1—M. Rainville, Montreal; 2—G. Nunns, Toronto; 3—Walter Martin, Toronto-Regina; 4—C. W. Leslie, Montreal; 5—R. Longton, Montreal; 6—T. O. Ryell, Vancouver; 7—L. Boucher, Montreal; 8—Grant Watson, Winnipeg; 9—M. Laird Watt, Montreal; 10—W. W. Gyles, Winnipeg; and K. Brawn, Vancouver.

Women's—1—Mrs. G. Worsley (Olive Wade), Toronto; 2—Miss M. Leeming, Victoria; 3—Miss M. Campbell, Victoria; 4—Mrs. W. D. Patrick, Montreal; 5—Miss J. A. Burritt, Toronto; 6—Mrs. E. Gray, Toronto; 7—Miss Bea Symons, Toronto; 8—Mrs. K. J. Salmond, Toronto; 9—Miss E. M. McDonad, Toronto; 10—Mrs. H. L. Beer, Ottawa.

Chicago's New Public Enemy No. 1

Murray "Hump" Humphries is successor to the doubtful honor of being Chicago's Public Enemy No. 1, the title once held by Al Capone now of Atlanta, Ga. Humphries, 34, athletic, and called brainy, is credited with having put Capone into various commercial rackets. Humphries has been active also in gambling and labor racketeering. He is now regarded as head of whatever is left of Capone's activities in Chicago. Frequently hauled in by police, Humphries was most recently arrested in the down-town raid which revealed high-powered and business-like headquarters under a fake name in a Loop office building.

CLOSE TO 600 HEAR DAVIES

Welsh Boy Gives Second Concert, St. Paul's

Close to 600 persons packed St. Paul's United church Sunday evening after the regular service to hear Iwan Davies, Welsh boy soprano, for a second time. The church was well filled for the service and a large number coming later completely packed the hall.

Iwan excelled himself again in his rendering of the "Lost Chord" and "The Holy City Always," two favorites. "The Holy Child," an arrangement of the well known words of "Away in the Manger," by Easthope Martin, proved a gem sung in the clear, rich tones of the boy. "Angels Ever Bright and Fair," was a request number. "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," the concluding number, was made richer and fuller of meaning when sung to the lovely Welsh tune Aberystwyth. Matthew Heft contributed a piano and an organ selection.

REV. DOUGLAS IS SPEAKER, TRAIL

TRAIL, B. C., Feb. 19—Rev. R. J. Douglas, D.D., of eastern Canada spoke during services of the First Presbyterian church here tonight, his text being "We Are Ambassadors for Christ."

No joy was equal to the joy of dealing with fellow men. That was the work of every ambassador of Christ, he said, in concluding his address.

NEW HAVEN STEPS OUT OF THE CELLAR

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 19 (AP). —New Haven Eagles climbed out of the cellar in the Canadian-American Hockey league tonight by defeating Quebec 2-1. The teams exchange places in the league standing as a result of the contest.

STRONG TEAMS WIN CUP PLAY

Manchester, Derby County, Everton and Sunderland Advance

LONDON, Feb. 19 (CP)—Four strong first division clubs tonight stood out as favorites to reach the English cup final at Wembley. From among Everton, Manchester City, Sunderland and Derby County experts believed, will come two teams who will battle for the premier trophy of the soccer world before 93,000 people on April 29.

The quartette won fifth round matches Saturday and qualified with Burnley and Luton Town, for sixth round play March 4.

Joining the half dozen will be the winners of the Middlesborough-Birmingham and Brighton-West Ham replays made necessary by draws Saturday.

Manchester City will enter the sixth round as sole representative of the eight teams who reached that stage last year. All others, including the mighty Arsenal, have fallen by the wayside this season.

Leeds United joined other strong outfits in the discard when Everton trounced them 2-0. Bolton Wanderers went down 4-2 before Manchester City's powerful attack, Blackpool were single goal victims of Sunderland and Aldershot were bowed out of the picture by Derby County 2-0. Burnley defeated Chesterfield 1-0 and Luton Town took Halifax Town 2-0 in the other games decided.

Castlegar Valentine Dance Is Big Success

Trail Wins Basketball Game Before Dance

CASTLEGAR, B. C., Feb. 19—The Valentine dance of the C.C.C. held on Friday evening was an outstanding success.

Visitors from Trail, Thrums, Robson and Nelson all tended to make it the success it was. H. E. Dill of Nelson was an interested onlooker, while awaiting train service, he remarked on the wonderful community spirit that enabled such a good hall to be built and what a delight it was to see the young people so enjoying themselves.

Previous to the dance a rousing basketball game was played between the Diakonas of Trail and a local team, Diakonas won hands down 42-22. The game was noticeable all through for good clean sportsmanship. Smiles meeting every mishap, and cheers every win. Miss Irene Defoe handled the whistle to everyone's satisfaction. W. Walton keeping score.

Diakonas players—A. Robb, Barnes, Evans, Matthews, Green and Crawford.

LORNE CAMPBELL GIVES SURPRISE PARTY, APPLEDALE

APPLEDALE, B. C., Feb 19—A surprise party was given by the young folk for Lorne Campbell at the home of his father whom he is visiting. Those present were Miss E. Cant, Miss I. Honeysett, Miss J. Trozzo, Miss J. Varseveld, Miss I. Day, Miss J. Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. L. Wynne, and Florence, J. Trozzo, A. Meyer, L. Truscott, G. Cant, A. Woyna, A. Trozzo, B. Cant, S. Edey, Vivian Young and Mr. Young. Games were played and enjoyed by all.

DANGER SIGNALS

HE CALLS HIS SWEETHEART "BEAUTIFUL"

BUT what he calls "beauty" in the girl he loves is only the sparkling vitality that results from perfect health.

Her disposition is sweet. She is never too tired to accompany him on long hikes, to play eighteen holes of golf, or to dance half the night. She is a wise little lady. She knows she isn't really a beauty. But she knows that good health and a merry disposition will insure a happy future for her.

She takes no chances with the nervous and functional disorders that keep so many of her girl friends from complete enjoyment of life and the society of men.

At the first sign of trouble, at the first of those "danger signals" that come periodically, such as headache, backache, extreme nervousness, insomnia and so on, she resorts to the simple and helpful remedy that kept her mother and her grandmother in good health for many years.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can keep your body functioning properly, too. It will alleviate those periodical sufferings that are the despair of every woman; will aid in keeping your complexion rosy and the nervous system in proper working order. Your druggist can supply you.

Nervous . . . Tired

"I am glad to say a word in praise of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I had occasion to use it," said Mrs. H. Waldron of 99 No. Ferguson St., Hamilton, Ont., "it helped me wonderfully. I was awfully nervous and irritable, tired out and had headaches, but the 'prescription' soon had me feeling all right again. It strengthened me wonderfully."

SCHOOL HEALTH REPORT GOOD

No Infectious Diseases; Milk for Underweight

Nelson school board Friday night authorized a letter of thanks to Kokanee chapter Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, for donation of 12 quarts of milk two days per week for under-weight pupils. The letter was ordered following the report of Miss K. Gordon, school health nurse. She declared that weighing of junior high children had been concluded and 10 grades examined. No infectious diseases were reportable. Attendance was good. She suggested the continuation of the use of milk for undernourished children and the administration of cod liver oil for those in need. Of course this was given at doctors' orders and with consent of parents. In central school 49 pupils were underweight but none was undernourished.

Kootenay Music House was awarded a contract to keep four school pianos in condition and tune for a year at a cost of $20.

Accounts totalling $171.27 were ordered paid.

Two Face Charges Secrets Violation

Irish Inspector and Army Officer Plead Not Guilty

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Feb. 19 (AP)—Inspector William O'Connell of the civic guards headquarters staff, and Colonel George Hogan, an army officer, were arrested today on charges of violating the official secrets act.

They were arraigned on six counts and, after pleading not guilty, were remanded in custody until tomorrow. The prosecution opposed bail. The two men have been active politically.

Colonel Hogan is a brother of Patrick Hogan, former minister of agriculture and a lieutenant of former President William T. Cosgrave.

Stories were persistently current in Dublin tonight, despite apparently authoritative denials, that the arrests followed discovery by the government of plans to effect a coup d'etat.

The secret of the contents of documents referred to when the arrested men were arraigned was not divulged, and the further proceedings Saturday morning were eagerly awaited.

Although the documents were not officially made public, it was said on reliable authority that they related to the activities of communist organizations in the Free State.

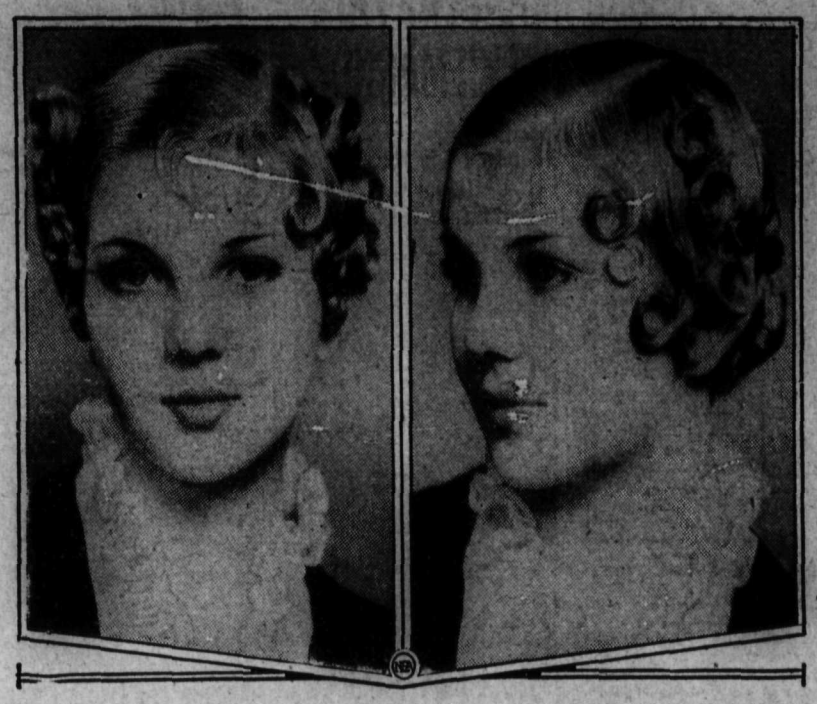
Valentine Program Given at Balfour

BALFOUR, B. C., Feb. 19—Balfour school children held a Valentine party on Tuesday afternoon. Many of the children's parents were present. The program was as follows: Speech, David Peachey; song, Roy Hudson, Albert McDonald singers and Mary Ling and Selma Smith. Dance, Doreen Ling, Dorothy Cooper, Ralph Shell; a skit, grade I; song, David Peachey; "Little Miss Muffet," grade I; debate, "resolved that England is justified in pursuing its present course in the administration of India," the affirmative side was taken by Henry and Nora Hartridge, the negative by Audrey Hudson and Matthew Alymer. A song, girls in grade 4, 5 and 6. Skit, Mabel Conrad, Lindsey Hott and David Peachey. Dialogue, grade 2. Song, grade 1 2 and 3. Dialogue, all the school.

After the program a huge box of Valentines was distributed. This was followed by a delightful tea served by some of the older pupils.

TRY "MECCA" OINTMENT—AND MUSTARD POULTICE (PREVENTS BLISTERING) FOR CHEST COLDS REMOVES CONGESTION

They're Wearing Rings on Their Hair



"Make head-way for the Fedora vogue," says Dumas of the Savoy-Plaza. And he has created a brand new coiffure designed to give a soft, feminine look to a girl, even under a masculine hat.

"Women must be level-headed to get along smartly today," he continued, "not only because times are changing but because chic hats are being worn more nearly on the level." He has built up soft ringlets of curls to give the head a sleek flat top surface on which to pose the Fedora for casual daytime and the pancake hat for more formal wear. There are a few curled bangs at one side of the forehead and the entire back of the head builds up its curls towards the crown of the head. He calls this new coiffure "Spring Song, 1933."

REV. MR. HARDY'S FATHER PASSES

CRANBROOK, B. C., Feb. 19—Rev. Ralph W. Hardy of the Cranbrook United church received on Wednesday morning news of the death of his father, who passed away in Vancouver, after a residence there of six years. Other members of the family are Charles F. of Birch Island, Mrs. George Hardy of Oakwood Ont. Dr. A.V. Hardy of Iowa City, F.W. Hardy M.A. B.D. of Columbia college and Howard and Wilbur of Oakwood, Ontario the original home.

DEER PARK LAD OPERATED UPON FOR APPENDICITIS

DEER PARK, B. C., Feb. 19—Mrs. George Briggeman Jr. returned home from a visit to her brother and family in Rossland.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. John Briggeman had a few friends in to celebrate the birthday of her brother O. Johnson. Dancing was indulged in.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Briggeman made a hurried trip to Nelson yesterday with their son Harold, who was immediately operated on for appendicitis. Owing to poor travelling services they had to take a row-boat to Syringa Creek, and a car the rest of the way. Had they waited for one more day it would have been too late.

ROSE PRESIDENT VENEER WORKS

Birch Plywood Suitable for Airplane Construction

Dr. W. O. Rose was reelected president of the British Columbia Veneer Works, Limited at the annual meeting held in the company's office here. The shareholders heard the annual report, a feature of which was the statement that "a high-grade water-proof Birch plywood has been developed. The department of National Defence at Ottawa has approved of the quality as being suitable for airplane manufacture."

The report stated —

"Under such conditions it is gratifying to note that our sales of plywood have increased and that the average price has been maintained. It has, nevertheless been a strenuous year and the success attained is due to every effort being made to increase sales and cut down expenses.

"The profit shown is a nominal one but your directors feel it is satisfactory under the circumstances. It might be pointed out that this is after the usual depreciation and debentures interst have been taken care of.

Favorable features of the balance sheet are the bank loans have been reduced a further $10,000 to $3,400 the working capital shows an increase from $50,000 to $57,000 and the sinking fund from $9,300 to $12,791.

"Old log stocks have been cleaned up and we have a larger stock of finished plywood on hand than a year ago.

"A new departure is the manufacture of Larch plywood, which is now beyond the experimental stage and which it is thought may substantially increase production and sales. It is hoped a satisfactory market may be developed for this product.

"As to prospects for 1933, the current year, the outlook is obscure but is hoped the results will at least be as good as 1932.

"In the opinion of your directors such results as have been obtained are largely due to the energy and capacity of the management and the loyal cooperation of the employees."

The share-holders thanked the management and directors for the excellent work of the year.

Following are the directors.—

Dr. W. O. Rose, president; J. A. McDonald, vice-president; W. M. Cunliffe, secretary-treasurer; George Dvorjetz, S. A. Williams, John Hunter of Beaverdell and Mayor S. H. Smythe, ex-officio.

Canada's Colored Population

An official statement from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows that by the 1931 census there were 19,456 negros in Canada. We may have our share of problems in Canada, but the colored question, which is such a vexed question in the United States, is not one of them. In the past Ontario has always had the majority of our colored citizens, but in recent years they have been decreasing in numbers in Ontario, but curiously have been increasing in Nova Scotia. By the 1931 census Nova Scotia had 7,316 negroes and Ontario only 6,886. Ten years ago Ontario had 7,220, while Nova Scotia had only 6,175. The increase in Nova Scotia has been due to a migration, even if on a small scale, from the British West Indies.

Ontario's colored population was originally due to slaves who had escaped by the underground railway to this province. London's pioneer colored settlers were nearly all escaped slaves. At Lucan there was at one time a considerable colored settlement. Windsor, Chatham and Kent County have always had large numbers of colored people, dating back to before Civil War days. In recent years the lure of the big American cities has drawn the young people across the line, so that these settlements are all smaller than several decades ago.

It is interesting to note that of the four Western provinces, Alberta has the largest colored population. A number of years ago a colony was settled in the Peace River District. Delegates to the Conservative convention in Winnipeg which selected Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett as leader of the party will recall an amusing incident which arose out of the presence on the platform of a colored delegate from the Peace River. There was great tension after the first ballot for leader had taken place. The delegates were on edge. To fill in the period waiting for the count of the vote, General A. D. McRae, organizer of the convention, was presenting some formal resolution of thanks. The colored delegate on the platform quietly slipped over to the chairman, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, to ask some question. A wag on the platform saw an opportunity, rushed to the front, grabbed the delegate and turning to the audience said: "Gentlemen we have at last found our dark horse." The delegates, tense with excitement, went into hysterics of laughter and cheered the colored delegate to the echo. General McRae had to postpone the moving of his resolution.

Milady Helps Canadian Trade

When milady stands in front of her mirror, shampoos her hair, smoothes it with brilliantine, prepares her toilet and concludes her preparations for the dance of the season, does she realize the part she is playing in helping Canadian manufacturing? It is a fact that the output of Canada's toilet preparations for 1931 were valued at $5,946,292 compared with $4,206,513 the year previous.

Young and old Venuses spent the following on toilet preparations made in Canada in 1931: creams of all kinds, $917,246; face powders, $724,630; perfumes, $561,776; talcum powders, $519,217; toilet waters and lotions, $476,837; Florida water and so forth, $322,287; compacts (powders and rouges), $288,655; lipsticks, $66,852; brilliantine, $64,922; sachet powders, $2,769.

Tooth pastes and powders accounted for $1,598,349 but, of course, the male section of the community indulges or should indulge in that on equal terms.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

TOOTHACHE NOT ALWAYS FROM THE TEETH

When you have toothache there is only one thought in your mind and that is to get immediate relief. You are willing to let the doctor or dentist look for the cause a little later.

However, although you have pain in one or more teeth that pain may be caused by other conditions entirely.

Sometimes the pain is in the tooth itself and sometimes in the tissues surrounding the tooth.

Your dentist if in doubt asks questions and makes certain tests thus:

1. In acute inflammation of the pulp of the tooth pain is sharp, shooting, stabbing, whereas, at first anyway, inflammation in the gums is dull, steady, and gnawing.

2. Testing the suspected teeth with heat or cold is of great value. If the pulp of the tooth itself is inflamed the pain increases, whereas if the inflammation is in the gum or tissue around the tooth there is no change in the pain.

3. Tapping the suspected teeth gives severe pain if inflammation is in the surrounding tissue, and no change with inflammation of the pulp of the teeth, provided of course that the inflammation of the pulp has not extended right into the gums.

4. Placing a wisp of cotton-wool in the cavity. With an inflamed pulp this is painful but naturally has no effect if the inflammation is in the surrounding tissue and not in the tooth.

In addition to the pain from the inflamed pulp or the inflamed gum, there may be a "neuralgic" pain from other causes as pointed out by Dr. L. E. Claremont, London, Eng.

1. Wrong and difficult growing position of the teeth.
2. Diseases of the nose and sinuses.
3. Diseases of the eye.
4. Compression of the little nerves by bony or fibrous tissue.
5. Growths about the teeth.
6. Some general or systemic disease of the body—anaemia, gout, influenza, and other conditions.
7. Nerve or brain affections.

Thus toothache may mean a great deal more than an inflammation of the pulp (which includes the nerve) or of the soft tissues around the teeth.

This means that the dentist after making a thorough examination of the patient's mouth is able to report to the physician that the pain is due to the teeth or the tissues about the teeth, or that search must be made elsewhere in the body.

"What have I done now?" she challenged him as she stopped.

"Nothing, madam," replied the officer, "but I would like you to give me a lift in to town."

Says Doukhobor School Problem Was Never Handled Better

To the Editor:

Sir—While the school question in the Doukhobor colonies is apparently settled as evidenced by the continual and wholesale attendance of schools by the children of the members of the sect, it is nevertheless appropriate to discuss it in the interest of the government, the country and primarily the Doukhobor children themselves. Much as are willing to de-tour even the thought of it, these is ever present danger of some of the radicals to suddenly denounce it with inherent recklessness and absurdity, which in the end proves so embarassing and humiliating to their children—as it is, unsuspecting and irresponsible. I have had ample opportunity to taste the fruits of illiteracy and, therefore, assume that I know whereof I speak; it is commonly said that, "Nobody knows where the shoe pinches so well as he who wears it." And indeed the prospect of reaching one's manhood without being able to communicate in the native language of the country of one's birth is appalling to say the least. Yet we cannot but admit of the existance of this ignominious, by its absurdity, fact; happening in one of the most civilized and progressive nations, in the twentieth century; and amongst people of whom a decided majority have no prejudice against the schools whatsoever; whose children are capable of assimilating the learning to a high degree, with the necessary ambition to propell them on the way to a higher plane of moral acquisition.

Now, where is the origin of this irreparable blunder? How is it that thousands of us were deprived of the inherent right to acquire what useful knowledge we could? Realizing the graveness of this problem I sought to find a satisfactory answer being conscious that in the proper solution lies the prevention of future repetitions of this error. But I must confess of having utterly failed in my well wished task—that is, of finding the conclusive answers to these everburning questions.

Going as far back as 1898, just prior to their exodus from Russia, we find that Peter W. Verigin, then exile in Siberia, wrote them as follows: "People write to me that in America school teaching is obligatory. It is better to be so, because elementary teaching is necessary as a help in life . . But I repeat, it can be a help, and a man by reading books can acquire knowledge, and also his mind will in general develop thereby.

"Briefly, I believe if God grants to our people to settle in America the elementary training will be necessary. It would be good if the children were so taught as to enable them to adapt the knowledge practically to the requirements of their daily home life." This was a message from their much respected chieftain, and unquestionably sound and logical. Later on, after their first settlement on the prairies of western Canada, they did not only tolerate, but enthusiastically assisted in every possible way the establishment of the first little summer school in one of the villages on Good Spirit lake; with the instigation and financial aid of their numerous friends—May I mention in abstract, that their first schoolteacher was intrepid and sympathetic, then (1900) Miss Nellie Baker of Toronto, who assumed the duties of her own accord, and neither solicited nor accepted any remuneration for her valuable and encouraging service. The value of Miss Baker's services and her deep unrestrained interest in the Doukhobors cannot be overestimated. An item in The (Toronto) Globe of December 1st, 1900 partly reads, "Miss Baker's work was a labor of love, and was accomplished under great difficulties, but her interest and sympathy were so keen, and her intelligence of so high an order, that the work she did was unusually successful."

All the indications that we are able to get in retrospective point most conclusively that the Doukhobors were decidedly in favor of at least the elementary education for their children at the time of their migration to Canada and the first few years of their life here. Where, in the name of Allah, is the cause of the subsequent contradictions that have taken place in the course of the later years? Had the late Peter Verigin become possessed of the fear of losing control over the youth in the event of their becoming fully conscious of their own mental qualities? Were the parents convinced of losing due respect from their children thereby? Were the Doukhobors embittered against the Canadians and consequently their laws and customs, suffering at the hands of unscrupulous persons representing the people and often the government of Canada? Or has it happened on account of sheer fanaticism inherent in some of the members of the sect? Graphically answering the above questions we may be able to unearth some little items akin to the required answer.

1.—Theoretically it is very probable that Peter W. Verigin might have had such fears as that. But knowing him as a man of high standards, morale and unsophication; as one who willingly sacrificed his carnal welfare, his kinsfolk and the best years of his life for the cause of universal equality amongst men, we cannot but disclaim the thought as not entirely proper or just. It is rather hard to picture such a stalwart personality, as one keeping others in ignorance in order to exploit them. Also being of high intellect he could well see that, "He who makes use of fools is obliged to put up with them." (Cabillo de Aragon) or that mental training would materially help any enterprise. On the other hand we regrettably note that in later years he changed his attitude towards the schools; basing his disapproval on the ground that the school training is in some (obscure) way connected with the military tactics; therefore being a champion propagandist of peace could not put up with it.

2.—Yes, in one way or other they got the notion that their offspring might show them utter discourtesy on completion of their training. It is pleasing to note that the above notion is fast disappearing. The parents are more and more convinced that to have any chance in life a man must possess the necessary qualifications wherewith he could be of service to the community in particular or to mankind in general.

3.—This is a question that requires our greatest consideration. Knowing the Doukhobors as unnecessarily sensitive and reactive to public sentiment or actions we may assume that, anything transpiring during their first year or two in Canada would have the most detrimental or the most beneficial results.

Now in apposition to the good influence that their numerous friends might have had on them, the Doukhobors had quite a few unfortunate incidents which more than offset the latter, happening, as it were before their eyes and bearing immediate consequences of ill repute—We shall never be able to convince a child of the usefulness of some medicine, when his whole being is revolting against its taste. (However if administered persuasively it has the desired effect nevertheless , though it is well to see that he is not given a dose of poison instead). Thus when the Doukhobors were placed between two factions: one advocating the usefulness of teaching their children, the proof of which they could not get before the expiration of at least twenty years; and the other, presumably of learned men, who indulged in mistreating them in every possible fashion, the proof of what they had in immediate future, the outcome was inevitable.

4.—This also was a predominating feature of this misfortune—a blind passion that knows no bounds; that never stops to consider the validity of this or that; that never even pauses to discuss the welfare, the happiness and the safety of children; that ironically clads itself in a mantel labelled—"Freedom." One cannot but pause to delve into this problem at a greater length than seems necessary. Their favorite argument is this: a man, if given opportunity to cultivate his mind to a greater degree than that of his compatriots, will in the end be tempted to use his superior knowledge to dominate the less fortunate brethren thereby. However, they overlook that it may be the case in a land of savages or complete idiots, skipping the possibility of the man doing them a good turn through his superior knowledge; but in a land of knowledge the prospects are somewhat dimmed, i. e., that the man instead of subjugating others, will barely keep pace with the rest and stay out of the dominated class. Thus we know that it depends largely on the environment in which a man finds himself. If it is uncomplimentary to dominate others, it is doubly so to knowingly let others dominate oneself, and indeed is a little short of the art of flagellants. We shall admit that in any refined society there is a tendency of some individuals to rule over others through their more superior training or intellect, but it had been so even in the age of the "caveman," who ruled over others of their species through their superior physical strength or inherent mental cunning.

Following my own intuition—an outcome of personal experience and of seeing others struggling in the mire of illiteracy—I might say this: Let every child, every youth, male or female, get his or her share of scholarly training; they shall need it when they are called upon to look after themselves; to look after their parents, when the creative life of the latter is at an end; in order not to become a prey to unscrupulous persons; not to become a burden on the public charity, through unability to provide for themselves; not to become a target for often "street," witticism; in order to be able in turn, to raise children worthy of the name of "men and women." In the case of the Community, it may hamper the style of their leaders a little, but it will never undermine the principles; it may change the general trend, but it will be in the right direction. As to fanaticism, the education is the only remedy; it may be suppressed by force, but the result will never be lasting as it instills the idea of martydrom for the "cause."

I cannot refrain from mentioning the fact that the school question in the Doukhobor colonies has never been so satisfactory as it is since the arrival of Peter P. Verigin and the advent of the present school authorities. Also if it were not for the courage and determination of the school-teachers in carrying on through the terrorism much valuable time might have been lost, which in this instance is irreparable.

GIVES HELPFUL HINTS TO AVOID THE DEPRESSION

To the Editor of the Nelson Daily News—

Sir—At the present time when nearly everyone seems to be engaged in finding causes of, or remedies for the present depression, the following hints may be amusing, even if not helpful, and they need nor be taken very seriously—

Seasonable hints for February and March.

To everybody—Be cheerful, these low periods do not last for ever, fortunately they are rather like the present weather.

To our Government—Now is a good time to inculcate theories of thrift in the rising generations. Then possibly in the next period of depression so much relief may not be needed as a majority of the people, having learned to save and look after themselves, may not need help and may be above looking to you for relief. Why not have the clerical staffs who write up the good advice to small children to state, more or less, truthfully, that they drink a quart of fresh milk a day, have a bath each day and go on, frame some elementary teaching in regard to thrift.

Also for revenue purposes consider stamp duties on agreements for purchase of articles by instalments, now one of the great causes of thriftlessness, also stamps on advertising signs.

To the Nelso nBoard of Trade — Investigate fully the cost of education. In the opinion of many people the expense is appalling and the results are not encouraging. At the same time bear in mind this great country of Canada brings up her school children with less knowledge of the Bible than many of the children of the Dark continent have. In such circumstances the results are what may be expected.

To the members of the legislative assembly—Do not spend your time putting through legislation that will not be enforced. The statute books are overloaded

To the Kootenay fruit grower—Get ready for a few prosperous years, have all repairs done in time for the spring weather with its pleasant times of cultivation seeding and planting. Forget the depression and do not expect government relief and work. When you took up fruit growing you did not expect continuous government work. Give up the odd hour or so a day now wasted possibly on going to see the train or boat come in, the boat or train crew can manage without your presence in these busy months. Above all have that boy or girl who has left school busy with some house or ranch work for a few hours a day.

SMILES.

RETAIN THE JUNIOR HIGH HER URGE

To the Editor—

Sir: I have followed with much interest, as doubtless have many other Nelson mothers, the articles, editorial and otherwise relating to the proposed economic reduction of our schools, and the abolition of the junior high school

The financial side has loomed largely on the horizon, and doubtless our financial experts will be able to juggle the figures so as to convince some and bewilder more. The mental and physical aspects have come in for a considerably smaller amount of publicity, but the moral side seems to have been ignored.

My contention is that the Junior high school is the greatest institution for character-building that we have in our community. There are, it is true, other organizations that are attempting with more or less success to build up the character of our adolescents, e.g. Scouts Cubs, Tuxis Boys, Guides, Brownies, C.G.I.T. and the various Sunday Schools of the town. But all these suffer from handicaps of coming in contact with the minority of our young folks, of having less time with them, and of being conducted often by unskilled workers.

The Junior High school on the other hand comes in contact with almost 100 per cent of our adolescents, has them in care for 30 hours at least each week, and is in the hands of highly skilled and and competent teachers.

The child there is taught self-reliance, his duty to the community, subordination of self and common good, industry and perseverance.

I could go into great detail to illustrate my argument of the Junior High being par excellence, the character building institution of our town, but fear to impose on your valuable space and editorial patience I would say though to all Nelson parents that they should think well ere they see consigned to limbo the moral welfare of their children, at present in the hands of an earnest self-sacrificing principal who in his way is exercising an influence on the lives of the children at the most critical period of development of mind, body, and character comparable to that of Dr. Arnold at Rugby; who is supported by a staff who ably second his efforts for the general good and whom his pupils affectionately speak of as "Mac."

I am a teacher myself, and having lived in Nelson and vicinity some 19 years, have watched with great interest the educational development of our town, having had my children as pupils in the public, Junior High and high schools, so that I know whereof I speak. I would urge parents to strain every nerve to prevent the abolition of our Junior High School. The teachers therein have shown themselves willing to sacrifice in order that work may not be rendered abortive. Let us accept their offer and pinch ourselves in other ways to effect the much-needed economies.

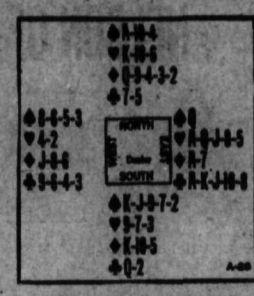
Auction and Contract Bridge

By the World's Leading Authority
MILTON C WORK

FORTUNATE BREAKS



In spite of exclusive merits claimed by advocates of various bidding systems, the final declaration usually is the same under all systems when the bidding is sound; but the above hand, played in an important duplicate game, was an exception. At every table the initial bid was passed up to East, and much hinged upon his bid.

When East started with the Game-Demand Two-Club bid, South passed and West denied an Ace and King holding by a call of two Diamonds. The bidding that followed was: two Hearts by East, two No Trumps by West, three Clubs by East, four Clubs by West, and five Clubs by East. When East used the forcing two-bid and started with two Hearts, West denied with two No Trumps and East's sound second bid was three Clubs, which led to a five-Club contract.

But many Easts produced unfortunate results by failing to use one of the above opening two-bids, or by failing to carry through soundly from their opening bids. Some started with a forcing two Hearts, but erred in not showing the Club suit after West had given the weakness response of two No Trumps (no one made a Heart game); others who used opening two-bids only when the hand contains a sure game, or who considered their hand too weak in honor tricks for an original two-bid, called one Heart which West for the most obvious reason did not raise or over-call.

With a five-Club contract, East had no difficulty in making game by either of the two routes—even with a Spade opening. He could ruff the second Spade with the Jack or Ten of Clubs so as to leave the Nine as an entry in the dummy. Played in that way, and with the Ace and King of Clubs to trick 3 and 4 and the Eight of Clubs to trick 5, West is enabled to lead a Heart which East can finesse. The Ace of Hearts comes next and then a third Heart which West ruffs and Declarer, the adverse Hearts all dropping, takes 11 tricks, losing only one Diamond in addition to the Spade Ace. The other method is by leading Hearts from closed hand after exhausting the adverse trumps; this results in the loss of a Heart trick, but West discarding Diamonds on the long Hearts is able to ruff East's losing Diamond.

The hand contained three extremely lucky breaks for the Declarer; the fall of the adverse Queen of Clubs, the location of the adverse King of Hearts, and the even division of the six adverse Hearts.

"So, as usual, the dumb bunnies gave you no chance at all to get set for the right pitch, the right speed or anything. Well, Miss Allison. You see—this is aimed to sell a new line of cosmetics. Called Beauty Builder."

"I never heard of them," Judy said.

"Neither has anybody else. But the whole world is going to hear about them now—thanks to you and me and the people who pay the bills. So, you're supposed to be a women who's traveled all over the world, seen everything, studied nothing but style and makeup for twenty years. You're supposed to be 35, just about. By the way, how old are you?"

"Twenty." Judy wished she had said 24, as she always did when she asked for a concert job. Too late now.

"Twenty. Lovely age. When I was 20—No. That's too far back."

"You don't look so old, Mr. Day."

"Mister Day? Mister: Child, where are your manners?"

"I—"

"Always, always say Elton. Just Elton. El, if you like it. Jackson Park El, Wilson El—any old El. But not Mr. Day."

"I haven't known you very long, you know, Mr. Day."

"There it is again. Mister! Mister! Oh, waiter!"

The waiter slid up to the table

"Waiter! You know what this young woman just called me?"

Judy's cheeks flamed.

"Why—" She started to get up. One of Elton Day's thin, strong hands waved her back into her chair.

"She called me mister. Think of it, waiter! At my age!"

"Terrible, sir, Terrible," the waiter said, gurgling.

"You see?" Elton Day addressed Judy now. "You see what people will think of you if you go around saying "mister" to me? Well, let that be a lesson to you. You may go now, waiter."

"Yes, sir. Thank you sir."

Judy sat back in her chair, almost in a daze.

"You do—such mad things," she managed at last.

"Mad? You mean crazy? Of course. I am crazy. I'd have to be crazy, to be in a business like this. I—Don't ever let me suspect that you're thinking 'mister' about me again. Or I'll—I'll—Come on. Please laugh. I can't go on being a fool forever. You've got to laugh."

Dutifully—and also because she wanted to—Judy giggled then laughed, and Elton Day laughed, too. And then, suddenly, he touched her hand lightly.

"Now we can really do a good program," he said. "See here, you're 35. You're polished, cultured, wise, friendly. I want warmth in your voice. Friends, Romans, country-women. As if you were right in the room, talking to the women who are listening. Get it?"

"I'm afraid I can't do that.'

"You've got to. That's the whole idea of the program. Look. This script. Broken lines. Even some mistakes in grammar. Because that's the way I want you to talk. None of this la-de-da stuff in my programs. Get it now?"

"I—I'll certainly try hard to get it, Mr. Day."

She saw his hand raised, to beckon the waiter again.

"Elton!" she said quickly, only a little angrily. Then she heard herself laughing again.

"See how I train 'em?" he demanded. "See here— you really need this job, don't you?"

"Of course I do."

"You don't look it, you know. Nice new dress, Cost—cost thirty-five at Blank's. Didn't it?"

"How in the world would you know?"

"I'm a strange man, sister. A strange man. And why shouldn't I know?"

"Well—I didn't think men knew that much about dresses and what they cost and—all that."

"Knowing that sort of stuff is my business, right now. Silly, isn't it?" That's what I always say.'

He chuckled again.

BURGESS IS LAID AT REST

GRAND FORKS, B. C., Feb. 19.—With the passing of J. Burgess Grand Forks has lost another one of its old timers. He was born in California, 66 years ago and has been a residence of this valley for 32 years. Mr. Burgess is survived by one sister and one brother, Mrs. C. Hopper and Sam Burgess, both of this city.

The funeral took place from Cooper's Undertaking Parlours on Thursday afternoon, Rev J. G. Archibald officiating. Pall-bearers were E. Bailey, C. Clark, J. Mooney, R. Reuter, E. Stuart, M. J. Scott.

KOKANEE HATCH NOW 145,000 IN THE NELSON HATCHERY

The Hatch of the Kokanee or redfish spawned eggs at the Dominion fish hatchery at Nelson is now in its latter stages. About 145,000 baby fish are now cuddled together in the troughs, in the friendly darkness, heads upstream, and subsisting on their yolk-sacs, as big in volume as themselves.

Between 60 and 70 per cent of the eggs are hatched, the hatch being necessarily slow on account of the low temperature of the water.

When the fry have absorbed their yolk-sacs and become of normal fish appearance, they will be placed in the Kokanee, Six-Mile and Redfish Creeks, on the West Arm, where the eggs collection was made last September.

BUTTERFLY CAUGHT EARLY A KIMBERLEYITE

KIMBERLEY, B. C., Feb. 19—Bill Hogg caught a butterfly Wednesday.

Mrs. Jack Sanderson learned of the death of her mother, Mrs. C. Queen, who passed away on Thursday last at Palo Alto, Calif.

CHARLES HOLT OF BALFOUR CUTS HAND

BALFOUR, B. C., Feb. 19—J. M Ludwig was a visitor to Balfour, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Peachey.

Mrs. W. Hall has returned after spending six weeks in Kimberley, visiting her daughter who is a patient in the hospital there.

Charles Holt received a bad cut on his right hand on Monday and had to have hospital treatment.

MRS. DOSENBERGER HONORED, HARROP

HARROP, B. C., Feb. 19.—The home of Mrs. C. D. Ogilvie was the scene of a pretty Valentine tea and presentation given in honor of Mrs. N. Dosenberger by the members of Harrop and district women's institute. The presentation address was given by Mrs. J. F. Stevenson, the institute president, Mrs. Dosenberger responding in her own happy style, expressed her thanks for the gifts which were a covered aluminum roaster and French frypan and basket.

Whist formed the afternoon's diversion, the high score honors being won by Mrs. J. Dosenberger, the low score prize going to Mrs. J. E. Fitchett. Tea hostesses assisting Mrs. Ogilvie were, Miss. R. Hindley, Mrs. L. C. Piper and Mrs. F. Andrews. Those present, other than already mentioned were, Mrs. A. R. Johnston, Mrs. R. G. Pope, Mrs. I. Sparks, Mrs. W. S. Ashby, Mrs. R. Quin, Miss Ruby Whitfield, Mrs. J. Berry, Miss Sadie McIntosh, Mrs. W. J. McConnell, Mrs. H. Fairbank, Mrs. B. J. Fitchett, Mrs. E. D. Serres and Mrs. W. W. Britton.

Creston Pioneer Dies in Florida

George Huscroft Entered the Creston Valley in 1894

CRESTON, B.C., Feb. 19.—Word reached here at the first of the week of the death of one of the real pioneers of the valley, in the passing of George Huscroft at Frostproof, Fla., on February 4. He moved to the sunny south from Creston in 1919.

George Huscroft, with his wife, arrived in the valley about 1894 from Park City, Utah, coming here a year later than his father, the late W. R. Huscroft, who was the first to locate land in this part of the Kootenay valley. He remained a short time and then took up residence in Kaslo for a few years, after which he located at Creston permanently, on the ranch on Goat River bottom, now owned by James Davis, who purchased it shortly before Mr. Huscroft and his family left to make their home, first at Avon Park and lately at Frostproof, with the body returned to Avon Park for burial on February 6. He was in his 65th year.

He is survived by a widow, and four children, all of whom are well known. The daughters are Mrs. L. Faulkner (Vera) of Cranbrook; Mrs. Kellogg (Ethel), Tampa, Fla.; Mabel, Tampa, Fla., and one son, George, of Wynndel.

In addition to developing a very desirable ranch property he was identified with the public works department activities for some years.

James, John and Charles Huscroft of Huscroft are brothers, and Mrs. John Arrowsmith, Mrs. W. H. Crawford and Mrs. Maud Ross of Creston, are sisters.

RODENT CONTROL EXPERTS WANT A CHANCE TO RID NELSON OF RAT INVADERS

Seattle Expert Outlines a Scheme for Killing Thousands; Asks City for Only Moral Support; Coast Man Gives Recipe

Rodent control experts are writing the city health authorities offering advice and services in connection with Nelson's invasion of brown rats, news of which has evidently percolated up and down the Pacific coast, where the rat is something serious and where millions of dollars loss has been attributed to it and hundreds of thousands have been spent in bringing it under control.

PLASTER OF PARIS WAY

A. D. L. Bancroft, 1826 Barclay street, Vancouver, volunteers a recipe for killing off rats by puting plaster of paris in their food. He writes:

"For destruction of rats and mice.

"To whom it may concern.

"This is a tried method, and one nearly as old as the sun, for cleansing the land of rats and mouse without no danger.

"Mix well 5 parts of calcium gypsum—plaster of paris—4½ parts of fine corn meal, and ½ part of sugar.

"Put the above in vessels or plates in a well protected place from damp, to prevent the calcined gypsum to become damp and be set.

"When the rats find it surely they will have a feast on the corn meal and sugar, not knowing the gypsum, which after partaking of it, will become thirsty and go for a drink of water, which will set the gypsum in their stomach a hard rock and kill them.

"I have used this method with success."

BIG LEAGUER WRITES

T. H. Cooper, at the Waldorf hotel, Seattle, a "big league" rat killer who is finishing a campaign in Seattle, outlines in detail a campaign which he is willing to put on here without cost to the municipal authorities. Addressing the health department, he says:

"My attention was called to a newspaper article some few days ago regarding a rodent problem in your city. The writer, a rodent control expert over a period of years, begs to suggest a plan whereby the rats of your city can be reduced to a minimum without the use of traps or other violent poisons. With your kind indulgence I beg to submit my method of procedure.

"I have been conducting rat campaigns in many cities throughout the United States for the past 10 years, working under the supervision of the health and sanitation authorities in said cities. I have been conducting such a campaign in the city of Seattle with a group of other rodent experts.

PLAN COOPERATION

"In order to successfully combat the rat in any community it is quite necessary to obtain cooperation, as it is quite useless for one individual to fight them alone at any given point. I predicate my work on the theory that it is possible to clean out any one property of rats whether it is accomplished by killing migration or a combination of both. If such is true, then it logically follows that you can enlarge the territory covered by one property to take in a group of properties, and do the same thing—hence, cooperation. My plan has always been to divide a city into zones or districts, and then, through diplomatic handling of the people, to get each property owner to cooperate in a rat drive all at the same time.

"There is no method known whereby you can kill outright all the rats in any one property—unless gas is used, which is out of the question, being too dangerous and too expensive to use. By any other method the best results obtained with the best of luck is 50 per cent by death, and the balance through fear or suspicion leave the property and migrate to adjoining properties, any property being a potential breeding or housing place for rodents. Trapping has not been successful: the rodent is keen and soon gets wise to a trap.

"Violent or direct poisons are not advised: they kill too quickly, the rat by instinct goes home when in distress, carries the scent of danger back to the rest of the pack, dies in a confined area, and the possibilities of stench are quite probable. Ninety per cent of all rat poisons that are sold on the commercial market consist of strychnine, arsenic and phosphorus, all violent poisons. Not only will the aforesaid poisons kill rats, but will kill all other domestic animals should they eat the baits.

BAIT AND SLOW POISON

"The best methods known today and recommended by our department of agriculture is first to feed them, and in feeding or baiting, as we term it, three foods should be used all at the same time. This is not only to give them variety to choose from but to allay suspicion. Said foods should be rotated along the inner wall of all buildings every three to five feet apart, object being no matter where a rat runs or harbors he encounters a food, it becomes a part of his surroundings, it allays his suspicion and he will eat. Foods that are generally recommended are peanut butter, dried milk, fruits of some kind, and a combination of ground wheat and corn. To make the food additionally attractive a faint scent of anise oil is recommended, and pregnated with food three chemicals are used—technical barium carbonate, white squill, and ipecac. Not having the time or space to go into the chemical action of these chemicals when taken into a rat's stomach, suffice to say that the proportions that are used, mixed with the foods, will kill nothing but the rodent; being slow acting, takes about 50 hours to cause death. Rats will not die in confined areas, you eliminate the possibility of stench and the danger of killing domestic animals.

"In my work I try to accomplish two things—first, to rid a property of rodents; second, to teach someone in that property both verbally and in writing how to combat the rat with the most effective methods at the least cost that gets the best results, so that in the future if there should be an invasion in any given zone there is someone there who knows with some intelligence what to do.

CAN BRING ASSORTMENTS

"I am asking no money from the city of Nelson or the health department to finance this campaign. My object is to have each individual pay his pro-rata share of the cost covering his property. The total cost to him for food, chemicals, material and labor of the actual baiting over a period of from three to five baitings will not exceed $1 per thousand square feet. I am prepared at this time to conduct such a campaign in your city providing that I may receive the moral support of the health department.

"If my plan sounds feasible and you are anxious to get rid of your unwelcome guests, I would appreciate an immediate reply, and if agreeable to you I will bring one or two experts with me and kill off a few thousand rats in the city of Nelson."

Doukhobor Youths Appeal for Verigin

Castlegar People Protest the Deportation Order

We, the individual Doukhobor youths are appealing to you in the spirit of brotherly love, to all executors of the law of this country and to the people, the citizens, to take into least consideration, our present conditions. To the recent actions of the authorities of the country, in connection with our beloved leader and also including ourselves.

We hereby warn the authorities, not to think that by cutting off the head they will take full control of the entire body, that by destroying the flesh they can destroy the spirit.

It is needless to say much in explanation of the recent events in this section, as to how our leader was secretly removed from the jail and swiftly taken to the coast for deportation. We openly declare that although all these actions were so cunning and subtle, nevertheless we sense it all with our souls and know what is going on and for what purpose. We therefore appeal to you all, to raise your voices in protest to this procedure, and thereby make it possible for our leader to remain with us, consequently giving us a chance to live up to our motto, "Toil and peaceful life," and avoid the otherwise unavoidable calamity.

We have sent several messages to the head authorities but no response followed, this teaches us that actions and not words are needed.

In conclusion we seriously declare that we will firmly stand on, and fulfill the words, "One for all and all for one." That by oppressing our leader you are stimulating our spirit to higher activity, and there is no other way out but to do the same with us all as you are doing and may yet do with out beloved leader.

MISS THATCHER NAMED MATRON

Will Succeed Miss Bartle at Invermere

INVERMERE, B. C., Feb. 19—At a meeting of the Windermere district hospital directors the resignation of Miss Bartle, the matron, was regretfully accepted. Miss Bartle leaves to be married in April. The appointment of the new matron was announced, the directors having accepted the application of Miss Thatcher, daughter of the Rev. E. G. Thatcher of Spillimacheene, B.C.

Miss Thatcher trained in the Kootenay Lake General hospital, Nelson, and after her graduation had charge of the Rotary clinic in Vancouver, then going to take charge of one of the Red Cross outpost stations in the Peace River country, and expects to take up her duties here April 15.

MARKIN TRIALS ORDER CHANGED

Absence of Judge Brown Puts Kootenay One Ahead of Yale

Absence of Judge J. R. Brown of Yale county, from his home at Grand Forks until March 8, introduces a complication into the plans of the crown to bring Philip Markin, the alleged distributor of counterfeit money, to trial on the Yale county charge against him, before he is tried at Nelson on the Rossland charge.

As things stand, Markin early in February was committed for trial at Penticton, and normally he would have come up to elect his mode of trial in a few days, and he was understood to wish to elect a speedy trial. But, under present conditions he cannot have his trial untfi well into March.

On the other hand, his speedy trial here, purposely set for a late date, February 23, will be due this week, bringing him up on what is not regarded as the main charge.

Nick Posnikoff, Grand Forks merchant, the alleged counterfeiter in the case, celcted to have his trial at the Penticton assizes, and is at liberty on bail.

MEMBERS LEAVE FOR THE HOUSE

Borden and Lister Are En Route to Final Session

Kootenay members of the provincial house are now en route to Victoria for the fifth and final session of the 17th legislature, which opens Thursday.

Dr. L. E. Bordon, M.P.P. for Nelson, left Sunday morning, accompanied by Mrs. Borden, and Lieut.-Col. Fred Lister, C.M.G., M.P.P. for Creston, left at the same time, having arrived Saturday morning from Camp Lister.

One of the measures Kootenay members are expected to support will be a bill to amend or repeal the Security Frauds Prevention act, which in its operation has been claimed to place almost unsurmountable obstacles in the obtaining of capital for development of new mining properties. H. B. Thompson has been working on the proposition, and it is said the bill that will be favored by the house will propose to drastically amend but not to wholly repeal the act.

Material prepared by the Nelson board of trade is in Dr. Borden's hands, for use in furthering the removal of the handicaps complained about. Colonel Lister has promised to support repeal.

Colonel Lister is chairman of the Conservative caucus, which will meet before the opening of the house.

A four-mile bridge which will join San Francisco and Oakland, Calif., will be the world's largest.

AVERAGES OFF AT NEW YORK

Most Fluctuations Small and Irregular; Trend Inconclusive

By JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Staff Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Stock averages returned a minor net loss yesterday after two hours of very leisurely trading.

In most instances fluctuations over the two hours were small and irregular. Exceptions were to be found in a handful of rather prominent shares which appeared to be facing uncertainties as to dividends or earnings, but on the whole the trend was inconclusive.

Union carbide tumbled two points on selling attributed to reports that the dividend might be changed. So called "wet" shares firmed but were less effervescent than on Friday. Rails backed up a bit, fractional losses appearing in New York central, Santa Fe, Baltimore and Ohio, Chesapeake and Ohio and Southern Pacific.

Meagre Volume on Toronto List

International Nickel Meets a Fair Demand

TORONTO, Feb. 19 (CP).—Trading on the Toronto stock exchange almost snuffed out yesterday, only 2200 shares turning, the lowest volume in recent months.

International Nickel met with a fair demand and some buying appeared also in British American Oil while selling of Loblaw "A" was considerable, but elsewhere on the board sales were spotty and price changes had no significance. Nickel closed unchanged at 9¼ after getting up ⅛, Brazilian and Ford "A" dropped a fraction each and C.P.R. finished unchanged at 11½.

Buying of B. A. gave that issue a gain of ⅛ to 8 and International Pete was also stronger at 12. Utilities were featured by a loss of a point for Bell Telephone.

SELLING PUSHES GAINS LOWER

Wheat Closes Unsettled to a Shade Down

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Pertinacious selling that developed on wheat price upturns and was attributed to government financed accumulative bearish effect yesterday at the last.

Wheat closed unsettled at a shade to ¼ below Friday's finish, corn ¼-½ down, oats at ⅛-¼ decline, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents up.

BONDS TRANQUIL

U. S. Government Issues Are Less Freely Offered

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Conditions in the bond market were tranquil yesterday, with some evidences of further recovery.

U. S. government issues were less freely offered and two or three treasury loans escaped the monotony of the recent movement by rallying slightly.

Foreign obligations generally were in better form as a result of cessation of selling in such groups as Germans and South Americans. Japanese issues continued depressed.

HIGH PRICED GOLD SHARES LOOK UP

Hollinger in Heavy Demand on Mine List

TORONTO, Feb. 19 (CP).—The week closed on the standard mining market with all the high priced gold shares looking higher. The tone developed in the last half hour gave the list the strongest appearance of the whole, with more buyers than sellers in the market.

The high priced gold leaders showed gains of 5 to 75, Lake Shore at $39 was up 75, Dome gained 10, Hollinger 25, Pioneer and Teck 5 each and Wright Hargreaves 14. Hollinger was in heavy demand and more than 5000 shares were traded.

Among the medium priced shares Siscoe gained 2, Premier 1 and Ventures 1, while San Antonio dropped 3 and Howey 1.

CANADA'S EXPORTS TO SPAIN GROWING

Canada's domestic exports to Spain have made sharp advances of late. During the eight months ending November of the present fiscal year the value was $1,771,021 as compared with $289,900 in the corresponding period of 1931. Wheat, automobiles, rubber tires, and automobile parts figured largely in the increase.

STOCKS FIRM IN NARROW TRADING

Reno and Cariboo Are the Feature Traders

VANCOUVER, Feb. 19 (CP)—Price changes moved in narrow circles in select trading on the Vancouver stock exchange yesterday. Reno and Cariboo Golds were feature traders in the mines issues while Amalgamated and Crows Nest furnished the bulk of activity in the oils. Issues, on the whole, showed firmness during the short session. Pioneer chalked up the biggest advance of the day, retaining five of a 15-point gain to close at 5.65. Bralorne at 188 was up one while Bridge River at 6¼ and Noble Five at 5½ gained minor fractions. Cariboo Gold was firm at 250 unchanged from the previous day's close. Reno fluctuated between 70 and 69, closing at 69½, down one for the only decline of the day. Amalgamated in fairly heavy turnover, closed up a major fraction at 6½. Crows Nest held firm at 1¾.

BUTTER HIGHER

Reactionary Tendency in the Egg Prices

MONTREAL, Feb. 19 (CP)— A higher movement in butter and reactionary tendencies by egg prices were the most important developments on the Montreal produce and dairy market last week. Strong statistical position with enough stocks in Canada to last until spring production begins and assurances of no more New Zealand importations attracted buyers. As a result prices rose three cents a pound with extensive business being transacted. No. 1 grass make finished the week at 23¼ to 23½ cents a pound for carlots or less.

After touching new highs for the present upward movement. Egg prices quickly broke and on Saturday were down as much as six cents from the top levels recorded early in the week.

PLACER MINING IS POPULAR ON PEND D'OREILLE

PEND D' OREILLE, B.C., Feb. 19. —Another cabin is near completion. It is the future home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Seaman.

Bert Wallace of the Russian Bar visited A. G. Hoard.

Miss Nora Smith of Trail is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Heintz.

The relief work on the road was completed.

The cold weather has broken and the weather has moderated considerably.

Theodore and Elmer Sahlstrom visited at the home of T. Davy and Jack Thornber and J. Gough.

J. Gough was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. Seaman Wednesday.

There are about 50 placer miners living near the suspension bridge of the Pend d' Oreille. Several of these are married men with families.

WHEAT DEMAND IS INDIFFERENT

Foreign Importers Declare Holiday on Canadian Grain

WINNIPEG, Feb. 19—(CP)—Satiated with four days of buying, foreign importers declared a holiday on Canada's wheat today. Caught in the eddy of indifferent demand, wheat prices on the Winnipeg grain market drifted fractionally lower in the short Saturday session, closing ¼-⅜ cents below Friday's finish.

Trading was dull throughout, values moving within a narrow range. May future ended at 48¼, July at 49⅛ and October at 50¼ cents.

MONTREAL LIST MEEKLY HIGHER

Half of 5000 Total Was in Hollinger

MONTREAL, Feb. 19 (CP)—Stocks moved higher in meek fashion during Saturday's two hour session on the Montreal stock exchange. Transfers totalled less than 5,000 shares, and of this total half was in Hollinger, a mining stock listed on the exchange.

Canadian Pacific came out in broken lots only, 40 shares in all being traded. International Nickel reacted quietly to the threatened hostilities in the far east, adding ¼ at 9⅜. Brazilian eased ⅛ to 8⅛.

Utilities were steady. B. C. Power moved up ½ to 16¾. It was in the industrials that widest price movements were recorded. Canada Cement preferred dipped 1¾ to 18½ while Cement firmed ⅛ to 2⅞ and Hollinger 25 cents to 7.95. Banque Canadienne National declined 1¼ to 128¾.

Sales totalled 4,826 shares, bonds $14,000.

STERLING AND DOLLAR WEAKER

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—(CP)—Lower prices prevailed in the Canadian dollar and pound sterling on foreign exchanges yesterday. The dollar closed quarter cent weaker at 83¼ cents (U. S. premium of 20¼ per cent) after opening at 83⅜ cents. Sterling ended the day 3-16 cent lower at $3.44¼ for cables, its opening price. The pound ranged from $3.44 3-16 to $3.44⅜.

Race Horses Show Their Temperaments

By AL DEMAREE

Race horses are temperamental cusses. Some seem to be behaving beautifully at the post, standing quietly and seemingly ready for the snap. But, when the barrier springs, they won't even budge. They'll lean against the stall, theoretically cross their front legs and apparently are day dreaming of the little brook in the meadow back home.

Others seem to feel balmy and exhuberant at the post and must cut up.

Many racing fans will remember the time at Washington Park, Chicago some three years ago, when Florida Gold ran away five-eighths of a mile, threw his jockey when led back and ran away again for a half mile, broke loose a third time and bolted a mile and one-eighth, and then after all that, got away to a good start and ran like a champion to cop his race.

RODGERS HEADS ROD, GUN CLUB

Creston Body Elects; Deer Kill Lighter in 1932

CRESTON, B.C., Feb. 19.—Creston Valley Rod and Gun club elected their 1933 officers, as follows: President, F. C. Rodgers; vice-president, Harry Smith; secretary, Lionel Moore; treasurer, Lloyd Couling. Reports submitted indicated that the 1932 kill of deer was lighter than the preivous season, but, on the whole, the 1932 bags of ducks and geese were much on a par with the previous season. The year had been somewhat of an "off" year in all lines of fishing, particularly with trout. The number of Spokane hunters operating in the district was smaller than past seasons.

Mrs. Driffil of Kitchener has been called to Creston due to the serious illness of her father, John Arrowsmith, who is at present a patient in Creston Valley public hospital.

ALL-STARS WIN HOOP BATTLES

CRESTON, B.C., Feb. 19.—Basketball league leaders in both the men's and ladies' sections were beaten by all star teams picked from the rest of the playing talent at a basketball tournament at Park pavilion on Wednesday evening. The hitherto unbeaten High School Reps, were nosed out by a ladies' all-starr aggregation by a 9-7 margin, the winners coming from behind to win out in the final period.

In the men's contest the Centipedes were trimmed 20-18 by a quintette of town talent and the pick of the High School Boys' league collection. The winners had it all their own way in the first half, but in the final stages of play the losers came to life and but for an accident to Farris, who had to retire from play, might have captured the honors.

MINERS HOLD EDGE IN TITLE PLAYOFF

Defeat Bronks Saturday Night 1-0

CALGARY, Feb. 19.—(CP)—Drumheller Miners tonight had taken an edge over the Calgary Bronks in the championship series in the Southern Alberta senior amateur hockey league and the right to advance in the Allan cup playdowns.

After playing to a 1-1 tie at Drumheller, the Miners defeated the Bronks 1-0 here last night in the second game of a best two out of three game series. Liston Anderson bulged the Bronks net on a solo effort in the third period to give the Miners the only goal of a hard-fought game.

The third game of the series will be played Tuesday night at Drumheller. A victory for Miners will give them the league title while a win for the Bronks will force a fourth game.

MIDGETS PLAY FAST TIE GAME

Reds and Blues Unable to Beat Opposing Netminders

Playing two seven minute periods between Sunday's double header the two midget teams again held the interest of the large crowd. The first string of the Reds, Ratcliffe, Hellscher and Winlaw, again showed their strickhandling ability, but found the Blues' defence hard to pass, the game ending in a scoreless draw, Saturday the Reds defeated the Blues 1-0. Another Ramsden appeared before the hockey public in the person of Bert Ramsden, who showed great promise, and his elder brothers will find competition from now on. Several pileups occurred in front of the goals, but both Fred Sutcliffe and Howard Breeze were unbeatable.

The teams were:

Reds: Howard Breese, goal; Gordon Pickard, John Dunnett, defence; Tommy Ratcliffe, Paul Hellscher, Douglas Winlaw, Ernest DeFoe, Bill Crossley and Victor Graves, forwards.

Blues: Fred Sutcliffe, goal; Walter Woods, Johnny Wade, defence; Bernard Brown, Robert Mathews, Bert Ramsden and David Slater, forwards.

FAIRVIEW WINS AFTER 5 TRIES

Beat Silverton Team 6-5 in Touch and Go Game at Silverton

After taking three defeats this year in a row and two losses last year from the Slocan flashes, Fairview turned the trick Saturday night and beat Silverton 6-5 on their own ice in an intermediate series. It was a hard won victory, being anybody's game until the last period when Silverton found Tommy Bishop invincible in goal. Both goalies were tested severely throughout and turned in fine exhibitions.

Play opened in Silverton's favor and they rapped in three goals during the first period to Nelson's one. Bishop had to go through all the forms of a contortionist to keep out the steady stream of shots. Bob Peachey scored the first in a melee with Bishop sprawled on the ice. Offsides were numerous. Hardy, Silverton second string man, netted the second on an assist. Kelly scored in another mixup around the Nelson net. Shortly before the period closed, Chapman and Farenholts combined, worked in and around the net, finally to score when Farenholts batted it in.

Fairview opened up in the second, checking the valley boys in their own defence and peppering the goalie. Laurits and Stromstead carried the puck down past the opposing net and in the melee that followed Stromstead passed out to the waiting Walt for Fairview's second. Peachey tallied his next, shooting from just inside the blue line.

FARENHOLTZ BREAKS LOOSE

It was then that Farenholtz broke into action. He picked up a loose puck near the boards and slammed it home past Moir. Several moments later he rushed through alone, performed several mystic evolutions in the air as he hit Moir, but poked the puck into the cage as he took wing. He hurt his hip in the fall but was able to continue. Frank Mills finished the scoring in that period when he beat Bishop with a sniper.

The last period was mostly Fairview. Their defence kept shooting the puck up the ice and the forwards held Silverton there. Stromstead tied the game when Moir went to knees to save, the Nelson man placing it past him. Haines completed the scoring with a pretty backhand shot after he had missed with his first.

Silverton: J. Moir, goal; R. Mills, H. Elsmore, defence; F. Mills, J. Kelly, R. Peachey, J. Hardy, S. Harris, J. Harris, L. Emerson, White Fairhurst.

Fairview: T. Bishop, goal; H. Chapman, A. Ringrose, W. Laurits, A. Stromstead, W. Walt, G. Haines, A. Farenholtz, E. Waterer.

After the game the visitors were entertained at a supper and dance.

CRESTON CURLERS FAIL LIFT CUP

CRESTON, B.C., Feb. 19.—In an effort to lift the Bowness challenge cup at Cranbrook on Wednesday afternoon, two rinks of Creston curling club were 10 points short of achieving their objective, the total scores in the two contests being 26-17.

The Frank Staples rink in which were G. Sinclair, E. E. Cartwright and Frank Putnam, lost to Charles Spence by a 7-13 margin, while the W. F. Cameron rink of Cranbrook nosed out a 13-10 victory over the M. R. Joyce rink, in which were M. J. Boyd, Art Reed and A. Millen. The Cranbrook rinks dispensed a very fine brand of hospitality and it is likely at least one more trip will be made in quest of the Bowness silverware before the season is over.

WOLVES BEAT FAIRVIEWITES

Travel-Weary Team Puts Up Brilliant Show But Loses 2-3

The Wolves defeated the Fairview Intermediate hockey team in the second game of Sundays double header 3-2 after a hotly contested game. After a slow first period the game developed into the most sensational game of the season with the result in doubt until the final bell. Dolphin stopped hard shots from Ramsden and Chapman before the Wolves could get started.

At 2.15 Ramsden shot from the corner, the puck hitting Whitfield and bounced into the net. Walter Walt was all over the ice and Dolphin made many sensational saves from his hard shots as well as from Chapman, being especially brilliant in stopping rebounds. Slim Horswill moved up to the forward line and gave Bishop a hot time of it all through the period. At the start of the second O'Genski laid a perfect pass in front of the Fairview goal but Horswill missed it. Walt and Ramsden went through the latter's shot nearly knocking Dolphin off his feet. Savage and Wallace were worrying Bishop with hard shots. At 12.10 Wallace took Savage's pass at the blue line and went through for the tieing goal, nine seconds later Walt sent a low fast one from the defence that beat Dolphin. Bishop saved a hard shot from the wing by McLean. After a scramble in front of the Fairview goal Neff again tied up the game 1.56 later. Penalties were Ramsden 1, Richardson 2, Maxwell 1, Walt 2.

O'Genski, Devoin, Maxwell and Farenholtz had hard shots but the goalies were on the job, until at 9.10 Savage shot from close in, Bishop batting the puck into the air, and losing sight of the puck. McLean batting it into the goal giving the Wolves the lead for the first time. From then on it was a steady parade of shots on the Wolves goal, Maxwell, Chapman and Ramsden shooting from all angles and the Wolves using every defense tactic at their command. The Fairview boys were a tired lot due to their hard game in Silverton Saturday night

INVERMERE WINS CURLING CUP

INVERMERE, B. C., Feb. 19—The local curlers went to Canal Flat Sunday to play another match for the MacGraw cup, this time bringing it back to Invermere.

MAROONS AND HAWKS TIE 0-0

Hawks' Attacks Held Off by Kerr's Sensational Net Minding

CHICAGO, Feb. 19 (AP)—On the strength of a remarkable exhibition of goal tending, Montreal Maroons tonight played Chicago Blackhawks to a scoreless tie in a rough, interesting National league hockey game.

During the regular three periods goalie Dave Kerr had 41 stops to 28 for Chuck Gardiner of the Hawks and some of his work was almost like magic. Mush March and Paul Thompson, among others had what looked like set-up shots, but Kerr made all kinds of attempts look the same.

The first period and a few seconds after it ended, provided two fist fights and five major penalties. Archie Wilcox and Roger Jenkins drew majors after hammering each other, and just after the siren sounded ending the frame, Dave Dave Trottier and Pudge MacKenzie tangled. During the battle Lionel Conacher and Jenkins got into it and Conacher, Trottier and MacKenzie were given five minute penalties.

INTERMEDIATE TITLE IS WON BY KIMBERLEY

East Kootenay Champions Defeat Trail in Overtime

SCORE 2-1 WIN TO TAKE SERIES BY 6-4

Game Is Scrappy; Kimberley Seeking B. C. Title Series

KIMBERLEY, B. C., Feb. 19.—After 70 minutes of strenuous hockey here Saturday night Kimberley intermediates defeated Trail intermediates 2-1 and won the East and West Kootenay championship by a total score of 6-4, having defeated Trail 4-3 in the first game. The Kimberley team by its victory goes into the British Columbia finals and is scheduled to meet the Okanagan winners in Trail on February 23, 25 and 27. Efforts are being made to have the finals switched to Kimberley.

About 600 spectators saw the match which started slowly on excellent ice. Both teams were at full strength and the goalies and defenses played great hockey. Mellor, Livingstone and Cavannaugh played fine hockey. For Trail Jim Hanson was a shining light and he made many openings and checked finely. Martin also did excellent work.

Trail was doing most of the attacking as play opened. Livingstone got away but missed a chance to score. Cavannaugh was through but Trail's hook checking was keeping Kimberley out. Bell soloed but shot weakly and following his rush Byers shot five shots in succession. Hazard came within an ace of scoring and Young missed some nice passes in front of the goal. There was no score.

FAST AND SCRAPPY

Hornquist robbed McGowan from close in as the second period opened and a moment later scooped up a daisy-cutter from Mellor. Dicken missed a fine chance. Trail threw a sizzling attack and Hazzard came close to scoring. Byers was having his hands full handling Trail pucks. Martin brought him to his knees twice. The game was fast but scrappy with close checking. No score in the second.

The third period was marked by minor penalties with Mellor, Martin and F. Lauriente entering the cooler. Murray McKenzie missed by inches and Hazzard shot wide. Martin was chased for two minutes for slashing Cavannaugh in the stomach and the latter retired to get his wind back. Dicken missed an opportunity and Trail opened a sizzling attack that had Byers guessing. McKenzie was boarded and went off but he returned to pepper Hornquist. The game was fast and furious with one minute to go Trail scored during a melee in front of the Kimberley net. Martin passed the rubber from behind to Hanson who made no mistake. The goal tied the series 4-4, Kimberley having won the first game 4-3.

They went into 10 minutes of overtime and Trail opened strong. Affleck was hit on the nose and Martin retired with an injured knee. Kimberley's attacks were broken by Trail's hook checking. Marsters and Young combined nicely.

With the teams deadlocked they entered the second five minutes of overtime and Hornquist worked like a trojan in the Trail net. Hanson threw his stick to stop a play and got two minutes. Murray McKenzie picked up the rubber at center and shot from 10 yards out to tie the score for Kimberley. Marsters and Mellor were chased for two minutes and Kimberley fought hard to hold its one-goal lead in the series. Almost as the bell rang Cavannaugh got a fluke goal. He was chased to the corner and he flipped a high puck from the side. It hit Hornquist on the shoulder and dropped into the net.

Penalties were:

First period—Marsters, Trail, 1 min.; Hanson, Trail, 2 mins.; McGowan, Kimberley, 2 mins.

Second period—F. Lauriente, Trail, 2 mins.; Mellor, Kimberley, 2 mins.

Third period—Mellor, Kimberley 1 min.; Martin, Trail, 1 min.; F. Lauriente, Trail, 2 mins.; Hazzard, Trail, 1 min.; Martin, Trail, 2 mins.; De Pasquale, Trail, 2 mins.

Overtime—Hanson, Trail 2 mins.; Mellor, Kimberley 2 mins.; Marsters, Trail, 2 mins.; Marsters, Trail, 1 min.

Basketball Problems

By NAT HOLMAN

Star Player, Coach and Author of "Winning Basketball"

Question—Do you approve of any select diet for basketball players?

Answer—No. There is no special diet which will help keep a player in better condition than another.

In general, I would advise seeking a balanced diet, avoiding sweets and stimulants. Do not eat for some hours before the game or a practice session. The only meal which a coach ought to supervise personally is the one directly preceding the game. The safest maxim to be applied then is—eat lightly and early enough before game-time.

SENATORS LOSE TO AMERKS 3-1

Winners Tighten Hold on Covetted Playoff Position

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (CP)—Ottawa's attempt to draw up into the charmed circle of play-off berths received a setback tonight when the Senators lost 3-1 in a National Hockey league clash with the New York Americans.

The Americans tightened their hold on their coveted play-off position—third in the international division—by scoring a goal in each period against the last place holders.

Nick Wasnie, on loan from Montreal Canadiens, was the outstanding figure in the American victory, and lanky right winger scoring two goals on speedy plays, the first unassisted. He shared honors with Gordon "Doggie" Kuhn, former New Haven player, who celebrated his National league debut by sinking the second New York tally without assistance.

A fast pass from Cooney Weiland to Hec Kilrea brought Ottawa's only score.

HARD CHECKING IN JUNIOR TILTS

Rangers Beat Fairview; Hume Beats Maulers

Junior Hockey league standing:

Hume Hotel won 4, lost 0, points 8.
Maulers won 2, lost 2, points 4.
Rangers won 2, lost 2, points 4.
Fairview, won 0, lost 4, points 0.

In two close fought junior league games played over the weekend, featured by hard checking, the Rangers defeated the Fairview A. C. 3-2, and the Hume team defeated the Maulers 2-1. Infractions of rules let go took away considerably from the game Friday night. Latta opened the scoring for the Rangers, taking Arlt's pass half way through the first period and gave Bishop no chance on his shot. Baker tied the score in the second, taking Haines' pass only to have Latta again put the Rangers in the lead. Taking the puck at his own goal Haines skated the length of the ice and again tied the score the second period ending 2-2. Jimmy Sutherland scored for the Rangers half way through the third, and from then on the Fairview boys did everything but score, Howard Moore and Collie Baker being especially brilliant in this period. Johnny Wallace refereed.

The Maulers found Clarence MacDougall between them and victory on Saturday, MacDougall coming out of his goal on numerous occasions to rob Gibbons, Francis Clark, and MacLean and others of what seemed sure goals. Savage scored the first goal half way through the first period, shooting from the side the puck bounced into the net off Kitto's leg. Teddy Romano put the Hume boys two up when he drew Kitto out of the net and scored early in the second. From then on the Maulers were in on the Hume goal time after time but though they caused several pileups they were only able to score once when Gibbons scored from Dewdney's rebound early in the third. Dewdney, Francis Clark, Kitto and Gibbons shone for the Maulers. with Pickard Bert Clark and MacDougall starring for the Hume team, Jack Annable refereed, and with the Hume team playing a strong defensive game penalized Bert Clark in the third for shooting the puck into the gallery.

8-3 TRIMMING IS GIVEN HUME

Leafs' Veteran Lines Go Through Hume Defence at Will

The veteran Maple Leaf line of Culley, O'Genski and Gillett proved too big an obstacle for the Hume Hotel hockey team to hurdle and they went down to an 8-3 defeat in an intermediate contest at the rink Sunday afternoon. This win puts the Leafs well up at the head of the league.

McDougall turned in a bang-up game but he was helpless as the experienced Leafs banged away at close quarters, the defence of his team being completely ineffective.

The Leafs scored twice in the first, Culley from Gillett and O'Genski from Culley on combination plays that brought the puck close in; four in the second, Culley on long shot from outside blue line, Gillett with shot that caromed off Benwell's stick, O'Genski from a faceoff in front of the goal and Culley on a long shot that McDougall could not see for defencemen; two in the third, Culley on a combination play with O'Genski and O'Genski on a corner pass from Gillett.

Tanny and Ted Romano proved the scoring aces for the Hume. Tanny got one in the first, sinking Bird's rebound and Ted combined with Tanny to score from close in during the second. In the third Ted bounced a puck off E. Murraro, Glancing off Murraro the disc struck McLean in the back and fell into the net.

During the whole game Bird pounded away at McLean but he failed to find an opening. The Hume lost several fine chances to score when Stirsaker went down with two men but would not pass. Clark passed the puck in front of the net frequently but no one was there to take it. The Murraro brothers and Walter Kitto worked hard for the Leafs.

Shell ice that kept breaking up at various points slowed the game up at times.

Stan O'Genski refereed the game.

GOLDEN GATE CAFE

W. RICHARDSON DEAD, VICTORIA

Father of Mrs. Levasseur, Norman Richardson, Nelson

Mrs. T. E. Levasseur, Silica street, received word Saturday evening that her father, William Richardson, had died at his home in Victoria at 6:30 o'clock. Mr. Richardson had been confined to his bed for several weeks through an injury to his leg and for some time was seriously ill. Mrs. Levasseur had received a letter only a few minutes before receiving the wire. The letter stated that Mr. Richardson had improved and was apparently on the road to recovery.

William Richardson is well known in Nelson and Kootenay district, having lived here 20 years. He left to reside in Victoria nine or 10 years ago. He was a carpenter by trade and followed his occupation until he left Nelson. He was a keen sports follower and an ardent member of the Nelson Curling association. He took an active part in numerous bonspiels. Besides his wife he is survived by five daughters and one son. They are Mrs. T. E. Levasseur, Nelson; Mrs. R. J. Chisholm and Mrs. Arthur S. Miller, Victoria; Mrs. J. T. Balderston, Vancouver, Mrs. R. C. Williams, Portland, Ore., and Norman P. Richardson of Second street, Fairview.

POLITICS BACK VERIGIN CASE?

Young Doukhobor Youths Offer Protest to the Police

The following was presented to Provincial Police Inspector Macdonald by a delegation of five people last week.

We are delegates from Union or Communar-Doukhobors of Canada, appeared here today for the purpose to express before you our voice of protest against deportation of Peter Verigin, and we wish to inform you what have been intrusted to us by all members of our Union.

Tomorrow our spiritual leader and president, Peter Verigin, will appear in court in aHlifax, where immigration authorities must lay before court the reason for his deportation from Canada.

Peter Verigin, was convicted and imprisoned nine months ago, as though for perjury, but those who are more familiar with facts of the case know that perjury charge is only pretence, we know from reliable sources that he is being deported by group of representatives of Conservative government for personal animosity towards Peter Verigin.

Premier of Saskatchewan, Mr. Anderson, three years ago began agitation in public against Doukhobors and also against our leader, Peter Verigin, grounding his animosity on false information which is laid by holligan provocators, who are against Doukhobors. For instance, Premier Anderson blames Doukhobors and their leader for burning schools and their own property, and also he attempted to incite anger of public against Doukhobors, but public of Saskatchewan did not divide opinion of their premier, as he did not have any proof to confirm his charges. It transpired that other persons joined him and began to conduct this black role secretly.

If perjury is the only offence of Peter Verigin, then why the authorities are so severely punishing him? Why Attorney-General of Saskatchewan refused to grant him clemency? Why he was guarded as if he really was enemy of people? It is known to all that perjury is committed daily in courts even by prosecutors themselves and remain unpunished? And why the Canadian law decided to extract the penalty for this offence from Peter Verigin. It is also known to us that authorities showed incredible cruelty towards him in prison, and especially en route to Halifax.

He was guarded more strictly than most of desparate murderers. He travelled in summer clothes in the severe cold weather, and his escorts did not have enough kindness to offer him warm garments.

We repeat that perjury is only pretense to make conviction, behind which is hidden the work of a group of politicians.

We appeal to public to look seriously into this matter and turn your attention to cruel actions of authorities with their subjects. As action of one person might lay a black spot of shame on the whole country.

We appeal to all citizens of Canada, to voice their protest against inhuman treatment of peaceful people— Doukhobors. Who always endeavoured to be peaceful and who appear among the first pioneers of western Canada, and helped to create great wealth in this country.

The fault of the Doukhobors consist of only this, that they are with all their might to aim to live according to teachings of Jesus Christ.

LIFE WEAVER IS SERMON SUBJECT

Rotarians Worship at the Trinity Church

Comparing man's life work to that of a weaver and character to the pattern on a weaver's loom, Rev. W. C. Mawhinney gave a special sermon Sunday night in Trinity United church when the Rotarians held their annual worship. Special anthems were rendered by the choir and Miss Grace May rendered as a vocal solo, "My Task."

"We are all at the loom of life, day by day weaving the tapestry of life and whether it be beautiful or of little use, depends upon the craftsmanship. Its value also depends upon to what use life's materials were put. As careless weaving will detract from the beauty of the finished product, so was the same true of life—foolish habits marred and spoiled the work and fabric.

Speaking of weaving materials at ones disposal, Mr. Mawhinney enumerated willpower, intelect and conscience.

Willpower was to life what bone and muscles were to the human body. It was the originator of the power and force behind the building of the pyramids and the daming of the Euphrates, and it was the force that would help the world swim the dark sea of depression. Industry was the manifestation of willpower, the pastor declared.

Intelect was that with which man was endowed and the ability to increase the endowment.

"To give the best in life, man must cultivate the best and by this we are reminded of the pledge of the Rotary — "Service above self," said Mr. Mawhinney.

George Stephenson's career as the first engine builder, who refused to dispose of his machine for his own personal gain rather than the benefit of mankind, was taken as an illustration of conscience.

Church Board Returned for Year

KIMBERLEY, B. C., Feb. 19—On Monday an enjoyable evening was spent in the Presbyterian church. The first part of the program was turned over to the children of the Sunday school. Games were played, and the period of eating was not the least enjoyable part.

Dr. Douglas was invited to take the chair, Cliff Swan, chairman of the board of managers, read an encouraging report as to the standing of the church. The financial standing was satisfactory, showing decided increase over the previous year.

Reports of all the other organizations were read and adopted.

In answering a question as to the position of the church when Mr. Coulter, the present pastor, leaves Dr. Douglas assured the congregation that steps were being taken to supply the pulpit.

The same board of management was elected.

Tea was served by the Ladies aid.

Yorath Retains Badminton Titles

Alberta Championships Remain in Calgary

CALGARY, Feb. 19 (CP)— All Alberta badminton titles rested with Calgary players tonight as result of a clean sweep made yesterday in the final contests where the local stars were the main contestants after eliminating most of the visitors in the semi-finals.

Eric Yorath, Calgary and Alberta singles senior champion of last year, retained both his titles, winning the city championship recently and defeating Stan Hayden, Calgary, in the Alberta finals, Guy Morton, Calgary, won the singles junior title by beating Stan Hayden. The men's doubles was won by Stan Hayden and Guy Morton, defeating Eric Yorath and C. W. Boenisch.

DETROIT GOES BACK INTO LEAD

Beat Bruins 3-1 on Home Ice; Have One Point Margin on Rangers

DETROIT, Feb. 19 (AP)—Detroit Red Wings took first place in the American division of the National Hockey league tonight by downing Boston Bruins 2-1.

Both squads set up a terrific pace throughout. The Wings scored in the first and second periods, Herbie Lewis and Larry Aurie tallying, before the Bruins opened a third period spurt that kept the crowd on its feet. Joe Lamb got the Boston goal early in the final session.

The victory gave Detroit a one-point edge over New York's Rangers, their rivals for league leadership, and four points over the third-place Bruins.

ROSSLAND LODGE HAS ANNUAL CALL

Wives and Other Lodges Are Guests

ROSSLAND, B.C., Feb. 19.—Rossland Lodge No. 21, Knights of Pythias, held their annual roll call Friday evening, their wives and members of Maple Leaf Temple No. 4, Pythian Sisters, being guests. Among those non-residents who sent letters to be read in response to their names were E. S. H. Winn of Vancouver, Charles A. Coffin of Spokane, Charles Ehlers of Vancouver, Amos LaRue of Nakusp, P Burkman of Hedley, Murdock Mackenzie of Seattle, J. Douglas of Kimberley, E. W. Eaves of Vancouver, and Axel Johnson of Sweden. A. Solo by George Nixon Jr., a selection on the piano accordion by Cecil Turner, and music by an orchestra, added to the enjoyment of the evening. Supper was served in the banquet hall and a couple of hours' dancing followed. An interesting feature of the program was an address on Pythianism, by Raymond G. Topliss, P.C. Mr. Topliss traced the history of Pythianism from its beginning in the little school house at Eagle Harbor, Michigan, where Justus H. Rathbone and four others first took the obligation, until the present day when the order stands in the forefront of fraternalism. He outlined the principles of the order, and called attention to its various altruistic activities, among them the visiting bureau at Rochester, Minn., where those going to that clinic for surgical treatment, find a brotherly hand outstretched to help. R. Maitland was chairman for the evening, and the responses to the roll call were read by R. G. Topliss.

Rossland Society Is Five Years Old

Beginnings of Missionary Work Is Told

ROSSLAND, B.C., Feb. 19.—Five candles graced the prettily decorated birthday cake which centered the table at St. Andrew's manse Thursday afternoon, the occasion being the fifth anniversary of the local branch of the Women's Missionary society.
