SNOW STORM AND RAIN HIT PACIFIC SLOPE

Parts of Idaho Buried Under Six Feet of Snow

RAIN SOAKS CALIFORNIA

Air Mail Lines Grounded Between Sacramento, Salt Lake City

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19 (AP)—The storm king wrapped the draperies of his couch about the mountain west and the Pacific slope today, burying the highlands deep in snow and showering portions of the seaboard with rain.

The high Sierra was experiencing its worst blizzard of the season in the Lake Tahoe region; Nevada was piled high with snowdrifts; the white blanket was six feet deep in parts of Idaho and rain-soaked southern California.

Air mail lines here said all ships between Sacramento and Salt Lake City had been grounded and the mail placed on trains. Highway crews were fighting through deep drifts near Bridgeport, Calif., to a mail stage reported stuck in the snow. Eighteen persons, marooned over night in the Lake creek district of Colorado were reached by road crews. Rail service was hampered in that area.

DEEP DRIFTS

Thirty inches of new snow was reported in the Sierra summit. A fifty-mile gale made deep drifts near Elko, Nev., causing anxiety for cattle.

Oregon, which had been in the grip of the storm for three days, had moderating weather. Several deaths and many injuries in traffic accidents were attributed to storm conditions there. Cold weather prevailed in Washington state, where one death was blamed upon snow.

Except for snow in the Sierra, northern California skies cleared but more rain was expected in the extreme portion tonight.

STUBBS TO RESUME DEFENSE FRIDAY

Dealing Step by Step With Complaints

WINNIPEG, Jan. 19 (CP)—Prepared to continue until at least tomorrow evening, Judge Lewis St. George Stubbs, tomorrow will resume his defence of charges of judicial misconduct, laid against him by the attorney-general. Step by step he is dealing with each complaint as filed to the minister of justice.

With his counsel sitting before him, the judge is revealing the facts in the form of a narrative in which he bitterly attacks his accusers and belittles the charges as applied to him. He scoffed at the suggestion that a judge could be removed from the bench because of his judgments.

When he concludes his "evidence" the judge will occupy next week's sessions with his "final argument" to Mr. Justice Frank Ford, the commissioner appointed to hear the charges.

Consolidated Cuts Treatment Rates on Lead Concentrates; Difference of $1 to $1.50 Ton

A new lead ore schedule, designed to assist shippers of lead ores and concentrates by reducing the treatment charges to them, has just been mailed out by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada.

The new schedule, which is designated as "Schedule J." in the Consolidated's nomenclature, effects a reduction of from $1 to $1.50 a ton on lead concentrates, this reduction being accomplished through adjusting downwards the base rate and likewise the penalty for sulphur content.

In the case of ores that are low in lead and silver, the new schedule provides a somewhat higher allowance for these metals.

At the present time, owing to the almost unprecedently low prices for the base metals produced by this district, the silver-lead mines of the Slocan and other areas are quiescent, though many of them are in a position to operate with advantage whenever the market level is such as to assure some return.

TAXICAB WAR IN WINNIPEG

Companies Face Prosecution on Bylaw

WINNIPEG, Jan. 19 (CP)—Another taxicab war looms in Winnipeg. Taxicab companies are facing prosecution, rates are extremely varied and according to some company heads, practically all are ignoring the new city bylaw which established price zones and a minimum rate.

Three of the largest companies are awaiting trial for defying the bylaw and other companies are announcing even lower rates. But passengers aren't complaining for it is not objectionable to them to be able to ride home in a taxicab during cold and blizzard weather for as low as 25 cents.

Spence was killed last Friday when his airplane struck ice blocks in a forced landing near The Pas, Man., in a snowstorm.

The brief service at the graveside was conducted by Rev. W. E. Patterson of Oshawa. Chief among the mourners was the flier's widow.

STEWART, B.C., Jan. 19.—Mickey Nash, well known old time prospector and miner of this district and nearly every mining camp on the continent in the past 40 years, was burned to death in his cabin here this morning.

When discovered by a neighbor the fire was beyond control. Apparently Nash had got up, lit his fire and gone back to bed where his body was found after the flames were extinguished sufficiently to drag the bed out.

Nash recently suffered from a slight stroke. He was born in Dublin, Ireland, 65 years ago.

At the meeting of the police commission last Thursday, it is said, a military officer was in attendance.

U. F. A. URGES SCALING DOWN OF FARM DEBTS

Favors Cutting Debts in Ratio to Drop in Commodity Prices

ADVOCATE EQUAL RIGHTS, TARIFFS

Ask Consideration Debts at Ottawa Economic Meeting

CALGARY, Jan. 19 (CP)—Immediate consideration of scaling down of western farm debts to the ratio by which commodity prices have dropped was urged by the United Farmers of Alberta in convention here today.

The convention directed a telegram be sent to Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta asking the present federal-provincial conference now in session in Ottawa consider the suggestion.

Informed by E. J. Garland, MP for Bow River, the Alberta government could not act on the question independently because of the limitations in the British North American act, the delegates proposed a joint conference of the Dominion and provincial administrations. Deeming the problem of high importance to the agricultural communities, the convention voted a request the Ottawa conference take action.

EQUAL RIGHTS IN TARIFFS

A dozen other resolutions were dealt with by the convention, urging equal rights in tariffs, protection of purchasers against suits for collection after seizures and the right to free speech for school instructors and civil servants, when not on duty.

Protest against the duty on farm machinery parts was voted. The delegates declared the present tariff was imposed on the parts brought into the country from independent parts manufacturers while parts imported from the makers of the implements entered free.

TAKE AWAY PROTECTION

On tariffs, it was urged the protection be taken away from industries who were unwilling to supply the goods to the Canadian consumer at world prices.

A move that would have given municipalities control over truck traffic within their boundaries was defeated. It was proposed as a means for municipalities to protect their roads from damage caused by heavy trucks in bad weather, particularly when frost was leaving the ground or after heavy rainfall.

PROTECT PURCHASERS

Protection of purchasers of machinery, cars or similar articles against suit after seizure had been effected for default in payment was urged after lengthy debate. Cases where farmers had almost completed payments on farm machinery or cars and then had the machine or vehicle seized, with suit for collection of the balance owing, were cited.

Opposition to the ear-marking of revenue from automobile licences for road building purposes, as requested of the Alberta government by the Alberta Motor association, was expressed. Criticism of the handling of the farmers' rebate on the gasoline tax when purchasing gasoline for agricultural purposes was voiced and a resolution urging the rebate be made at the time of purchase of the gasoline was passed.

The vote was more than 7000 lighter than in the general election.

TRAMPS SNOW IN STOCKING FEET

Woman Trudges 16 Miles; Slightly Frost Bitten

QUESNEL, B.C., Jan. 19 (CP).—Suffering no serious effects after a tramp of 16 miles i stocking feet through the deep snow between the 84-mile post and the 100-mile house on the Cariboo road, Mrs. H. R. Hatch of Vancouver has arrived here with her husband and party. They are en route to Cottonwood to engage in mining.

The party, travelling in two cars, were four days and nights on the road between Clinton and the 100-mile house. Unable to travel in high-heeled shoes when their cars failed in the deep snow on the 83 hill, Mrs. Hatch took them off and trudged the highway in her stocking feet.

Beyond being slightly frost-bitten she is apparently no worse for her trying experience. They were almost 36 hours without food. Teams of horses were later employed to get the cars through to Bridge Creek (100-mile house). From that point to Barkerville the road is in good shape for auto travel.

CONFERENCE AT OTTAWA CONCLUDED

Consider Medical Attention for Persons Receiving Relief

TO CONSIDER BUS, RAIL COMPETITION

No Resolutions Passed on Unemployment Insurance

OTTAWA, Jan. 19 (CP).—Extension of the present unemployment relief service along one or two lines, dictated by humanitarian considerations and at the same time tightening up to eliminate abuses and effect possible economies may result from the conference of Dominion and provincial governments which ended here tonight. A long list of resolutions adopted by the conference covered relief administration, bus and truck regulation, company law and taxation.

PASS RESOLUTIONS

Marked achievment was made in the three days' parley. Unanimous resolutions were passed on many subjects which both Dominion and provincial delegates alike said would bring far-reaching beneficial results. Only on relative jurisdiction over insurance companies and social and unemployment insurance were there no resolutions passed. On these subjects, Quebec and Ontario were not inclined to give the Dominion the degree of authority it desired, most of the provinces favored Dominion authority.

Medical attention for persons receiving direct relief was one of the humanitarian aspects of relief considered. The conference decided a limited expenditure of money for medical attention should be made legitimate as a part of the relief service.

The problem of the youth leaving school or college and finding himself without work was also given careful study. No method of dealing with this problem was settled but the conference recommended the Dominion director of relief should take it up with the proper provincial authorities with a view to evolving some means of aiding young men of this class.

With a view to the prevention of abuses a committee of the conference considered appointment of additional investigators but decided this would be justified only on the grounds of sound administration and economy.

SMYTHE PICKS OLD CHAIRMEN OF COMMITTEES

Last Year's Line-Up Kept Closely; Adds Relief Committee

MAYOR ASKS FOR ASSOCIATES' HELP

Six Aldermen All Pledge Cooperation; Welcome Scanlan

Making practically no change in the composition of standing committees of the city council from last year, except as necessitated by change of personnel, Mayor S. H. Smythe reappointed his five colleagues from the 1932 council to their old chairmanships, at the statutory meeting of the 1933 council Thursday night, handed his own old assignments over bodily to Alderman T. J. Scanlan, the new council member, and created a relief committee, of which he placed Alderman R. W. Dawson in charge.

After the routine matter of the minutes of the final meeting of the 1932 council was attended to, his worship addressed the council, expressing a desire for cooperation and the several aldermen spoke in turn, briefly echoing his sentiments, and pledging his best work for the city's interests.

MAYOR WELCOMES

"Gentlemen, it is with a great deal of pleasure and an appreciation of my responsibility in taking the position as mayor of our city, that I address you," said Mayor Smythe, in opening. "I feel that it is a great honor to serve the city in this capacity, and I am grateful for the opportunity. I feel that I am very fortunate in having so many of my colleagues of 1932, and I sincerely welcome Alderman Scanlan as the new member of our council.

"We have been elected to these offices of trust by our fellow citizens and they expect, and I am sure they will receive, our best thought and action in the interest of the city as a whole.

"There are many problems which you will be asked to consider and decide upon, but I have not the slightest doubt of our combined ability to successfully meet them as they arise.

"If I might mention one problem knocking incessantly at our civic doors, it is the problem of relief, that is taking up a great deal of time, and the expenditure is mounting up and I am taking the liberty of appointing a new standing committee, known as the relief committee, whose duty it will be to thoroughly investigate all cases on relief, and those applying for same, and I believe this committee will be one of most importance to the council.

ASKS COOPERATION

"Gentlemen, I have many things to learn as your chief executive, but I can assure you that I have no axe to grind, no political favorites, and have nothing in my mind except the conduct of public business in a fair and efficient manner, and in asking for your cooperation I feel that it is mine before being sought, and if we bring this spirit to our civic duties, 1933 will be a year to be proud of.

"Before asking the city clerk to read the names of those appointed to the different committees, I wish to say that after very careful consideration I decided I could not do better than let the committees remain much the same as 1932, with one or two exceptions, believing that they were familiar with the departments, which would assist in the city's business."

ALDERMEN RECIPROCATE

After City Clerk W. E. Wasson read the committee assignments, Alderman J. B. Gray responded to the mayor, congratulating him on being elected to the seat of honor, and assuring him of the cooperation of his associates. While there were many problems ahead, including the ever-present financial one, he was confident if all worked together, their work would be successful. While Mayor Smythe was new to the chair, Alderman Gray said all of them would join in trying to make things easy for him.

Alderman H. B. Lindsay said his sentiments combined hopes and regrets. While expressing to the new mayor his hopes for a most useful and successful year of office, he took occasion to pay a tribute to the mayor's predecessor, ex-Mayor J. P. Morgan, for his outstanding work.

Admitting that elections often contained surprises, the recent one being no exception, Alderman Ross Fleming said he appreciated the honor the citizens had conferred on Mayor Smythe, and now that they were settled again into harness, he declared he would do all possible to cooperate with the mayor. Placed again in charge of the public works department, he said he would do his best to carry out that work to the mayor's satisfaction.

Alderman R. W. Dawson recalled he had already publicly stated he would do the best he could to cooperate with Mayor Smythe, and to support the city's progress. He expressed pleasure at being left in charge of his pet baby, the parks. Also he found he was to have the relief responsibility. He declared the mayor could rely on the council for its very best work.

The new member, Alderman T. J. Scanlan, assured the mayor of his cooperation in everything in reason. Like the mayor, he was new to his duties, and to a certain extent would probably live and learn for a while, but in any case would assist all he could.

Alderman W. R. Campion said his associates had left little for him to say, except to endorse their sentiments. He pledged himself to do his utmost to make this a banner year.

COMMITTEES

Committee assignments were read out by the city clerk as follows, with the first named alderman on each committee, chairman:

Finance—Aldermen Gray, Dawson, Fleming.

Fire, water and light—Aldermen Campion, Gray, Lindsay.

Street railway—Aldermen Lindsay, Scanlan, Campion.

Gas—Aldermen Scanlan, Fleming, Campion.

Fire wardens—Aldermen Lindsay and Fleming.

Three vacancies on the municipal library board caused by completion of the terms of E. P. Dawson, P. H. Sheffield, and W. C. F. Heathcote, were filled by the council, by reappointment of the three incumbents.

REVISION COURT

The entire council was named to sit on the court of revision in respect to the 1933 assessment roll, which under the statute will sit on February 8.

Next Monday night was named for the first ordinary session of the new council, and it was decreed that it should meet fortnightly thereafter.

Dr. F. M. Auld, city medical officer of health, was present to go into health matters, if required, and paid his compliments to the new council.

It was decided to hear Dr. Auld at an early regular session.

ADVISES BOARD CAMPAIGN FOR PART-YEAR PAY

New Board Council Is for Same Licences; Ask Electric Signs

Reviewing the motor licence resolution that was referred back by the board of trade for further study and additional information, the board of trade council Thursday decided to again recommend the principle of protesting against the apparently proposed full year's motor licence as obligatory for all using motor-vehicles.

Against a strong minority view by H. B. Gore, who approved the plan for a full year's licence, the council, on motion of J. A. Irving and W. R. Grubbe, recommended that the board of trade urge retention of the late system, with licences available for three, six and nine months, as well as for 12, and a year terminating December 31. It was also recommended that the board should write other interior boards and endeavor to mobilize them against the full-year proposition.

FOR ENTRANCE SIGNS

On motion of L. H. Choquette and H. B. Gore, the council recommended endorsement of a proposal under discussion by the city fathers, for placing large electric signs at the three highway entrances into the city, showing Nelson's name in illuminated letters, which would both inform those arriving of the city's identity, and reveal Nelson as the electric city.

It was left to President C. H. Hamilton to convey the sympathy of the council to Secretary D. A. McFarland in his illness.

This was the first meeting of the new council, and the first of Mr Hamilton's incumbency as president G. S. Godfrey acted as secretary for the session. Other members present were Vice-president W. R. Grubbe E. A. Mann, D. L. Kerr, J. A. Irving, F. E. Denison, H. B. Gore and L. H. Choquette.

Japan Concentrates Large Cavalry Force

Units Move Toward Chinshi; Airplanes Scout

TOKYO, Jan. 20 (AP)—The Japanese army has begun what is called preliminary clearing operations in southern Gengtien province on the Jehol border by concentrating a large force, mostly cavalrymen, at Chinhsi.

The cavalry brigade which occupied Chiumenkow—a pass in the great wall of China 14 miles north of Shanhaikwan—and nearby Yunganpao, has been going northward along the border since January 15 dispersing irregular bands en route.

This brigade reached Chinhsi Thursday evening and joined forces with a cavalry regiment from Chinchow and an infantry detachment from Lineshan, according to a dispatch from a Rengo (Japanese) news agency correspondent at Chinchow.

Airplanes scouted for and covered the various units on the march to Chinhsi.

CURLERS' BANQUET HELD, TRAIL HALL

Blaylock Proposes Toast to Association

TRAIL, B. C., Jan. 19—With the K.P. hall filled to overflowing the British Columbia Curling association tonight held its annual banquet. Proposing the British Columbia Curling association, S. G. Blaylock, Trail, declared the present bonspiel bringing 224 players together and holding them for a week, was worth consideration. It had given "old man depression" a knock in the eye. The response was by L. F. Tyson, retiring president, who declared he knew no game that brought men together better.

The toast of the "roarin' game" was proposed by Joe Dundas of Vancouver. He stated he had received a telegram from the coast announcing a new visitors' competition for the Pacific bonspiel next week which would be designated the Visitors' competition and which would be emblematic of the British Columbia championship. Rules governing it were to be drawn next year. He stated the Vancouver club next year expected to send a representative rink to Rossland to compete with the interior's best and in the McDonald Briar competition provincially.

GORDON SPEAKS

The response by R. W. Grigor of Rossland was "one of the finest in the world." He saw in curling and skating a means to internationalism. The "visitors" was proposed by S. S. McDiarmid of Trail, who extended a welcome to the visitors. Harry Goetz of Spokane replied, voicing his hopes of getting curling and skating organized in Spokane. J. M. Gordon, Nelson, proposed the ladies and George Reimann responded.

REMARKS GIVE BEATTY CREDIT

Editorial Comment Shows Nation Wide Interest Aroused

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 19. — Newspaper editorial comment on the speech delivered in Toronto on the railway situation, by E. W. Beatty, K.C., chairmand and president Canadian Pacific railway, when he advocated consolidation of the two systems under one management as the only practical solution to Canada's railway problem, continued to illustrate the nation wide scope of the tremendous interest which his adress aroused.

"Whatever else may be said," the Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph declares "even those who differ from him most profoundly, must give E. W Beatty credit for the display of two fine virtues—courage and candor—" The criticism that the Canadian Pacific railway is selfishly interested in advancing this proposal is an easy one, and when the idea was first put forward by Lord Shaughnessy public opinion refused to give it the slightest consideration.

HEAVIER BURDEN

"Today, with the Canadian National railways a still heavier national burdern than it was 10 years ago many people are in a more receptive frame of mind but public ownership sentiment is still strong, and it is open to question whether Mr. Beatty will be more successful than his predecessor. On the other hand, the Duff commission's recommendation of comulsory cooperation is a long step in the direction of consolidation, and if cooperation fails to produce the desired results, it is hard to say what other practical alternative will then remain, whether one welcomes the prospect or not."

The St. Catharines Standard in a lengthy discussion of the subject says: "E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific railway, addressing the Canadian club at Toronto, struck out from the shoulder yesterday in a manner which should find a response with every Canadian tax payer". This newspaper concludes with: "Unquestionably the address at Toronto was the strongest presentation of the railway situation from a C.P.R. and general public standpoint which has ever been heard outside the halls of parliament. It was the voice of a railway statesman, and one which will surely be heard with respect throughout the country. In the matter of self interest alone, the country must stop, pause, and listen. In Mr. Beatty's address there was certainly something for our political expedient politicians to reflect upon."

EXTENSION OF SERVICES

The Woodstock Sentinel-Review, "Mr. Beatty's carefully considered pronouncement yesterday upon the railway situation compels serious thought, as to whether the explored perils of a monopoly, whatever they may be are great enough to require that the Canadian public shall go on paying millions annually for the doubtful privilege of having separate systems. At that, there is no competition in the matter of rates, which are controlled by a public body, the board of railway commissioners of Canada. The competition has been in extension of services now gradually being curtailed but the effect of which must be felt for years to come." Further the Sentinel-Review says: "There is a somewhat general belief that the half-way solution proposed by the transportation commission came less as a matter of complete conviction on the part of all members, than as an attempt to suggest something which would be reasonably sure of adoption. In Mr. Beatty's words, the commissioners consulted political expediency."

DETROIT AND SYRACUSE TIE

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 19. (CP). — Detroit Olympics and Syracuse Stars fought to a 2-2 tie in the International league hockey match tonight Even a rough overtime period in which both teams tried desperately to score failed to break the deadlock

Said to be a communist agent among the Doukhobors, and to have lined up an organization known as the Doukhobor Kommor Youths, who were to have seized possession of Nelson Tuesday afternoon had the attempted red parade of the forenoon resulted in the defeat of the police. Steve Lewchuk or Leftchuck was arrested at Glad Thursday afternoon by Provincial Constables David Halcrow and J. G. M. Lock, and brought to the provincial jail here, where he is now under investigation

Lewchuk or Leftchuck has been addressing meetings at Kootenay river points, including South Slocan a few days ago, at which it is stated, he held out hopes of a successful revolutionary coup.

IT DIDN'T CLICK

As it happened, the Doukhobors in the abortive parade, that was broken up by the police Tuesday forenoon, had to report that the attempt to defeat the authorities had not succeeded.

The members of the organization, said to number hundreds, had expected, it is reported, to swarm into Nelson and take possession, eating at the best cafes, sleeping at the best hotels, and lording it over the citizens, with their communist allies here.

FIND FRESH GRAVE

Indians Report Grave White Man in Wilds

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 19 (CP)—A report that a comparatively fresh grave, apparently of a white man, had been found in a remote section of country between Minaki and Red lake, was given by Indians to Provincial Police Constable Martin Erickson who is stationed at Minaki, northwest of here, on the main line of the Canadian National railways.

The grave, the Indians stated, was found on a small island on Sydney lake, which is about 200 miles north of Minaki, and about half way between Minaki and Red lake, although many miles off the usual route of prospectors going to and from the Red lake mining district.

The grave was marked by a wooden cross into which had been stuck a hunting knife. Over the grave was found a number of articles of clothing described as those usually worn by a white man.

There are no records of any man having been reported missing in the district. It is expected that Constable Erickson will make a trip in to the spot by airplane as early as possible after the spring break-up.

Longbeach Turns Down Health Idea

Time Not Appropriate for Additional Tax Burden

LONGBEACH, B. C., Jan. 19—At a special meeting of the taxpayers of Longbeach the question of the new Health Unit now before the public was considered and the idea turned down. It was a representative meeting. J. D. Kerr was voted to the chair and Mr. Leggatt secretary.

The chairman clearly explained the position, and had before him the estimated cost which would be incurred were the proposal accepted.

Mrs. H. Leggatt thought that the services of the existing medical officer of health met the case adequately for the present time.

Dr. A. F. Wilson agreed to this. A. F. Hudson moved a resolution that the proposal be turned down, expressing an opinion that this was not a reasonable time to add to the taxation of the country either directly or indirectly.

This was seconded by F. Chanter and carried unanimously.

Commander B. A. Smith said while the advantages of a Pathalagical Laboratory were valuable the cost to the rural stations is far too great to entertain.

Mr. Kerr was then appointed as delegate to the meeting to be held in Nelson.

THAT DEPRESSED FEELING IS LARGELY LIVER

Wake Up Your Liver Bile . . . Without Calomel, And Feel Like a Million Dollars.

Nothing can put your system out of kilter more quickly than your liver. All it has to do is stop pouring its daily two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels—and life certainly gets grey.

That sluggish flow of bile slows up digestion and elimination and makes you "feel punk". Your stomach acts up—gas, bloating, sourness, pain. Your breath is bad and the taste in your mouth is nasty. Your head aches. Skin is blotchy. All, of course, because your system is full of poisons.

Mere bowel movers like salts, oil, mineral water, roughage, laxative candy or chewing gum are not good enough to correct this condition entirely. You're livery and you must wake up your liver bile to be happy again.

Avoid calomel (mercury). The thing for you is a box of Carter's Little Liver Pills. They never upset you because they're purely vegetable, gentle and safe; but how they do change your view on life!

Don't waste your money on substitutes. Be definite. Ask for Carter's by name—and get them! Look for the name, Carter's, on the red label. 25c. at all druggists. 50

The proceeds were used to buy play equipment for the children's softball outfits, football and badminton supplies being bought. Each Friday afternoon and evening during the winter the children are entertained at games in the hall under the supervision of the institute members. During the cold weather last winter hot cocoa was provided for those children having to carry lunch to school.

U. S. Girls Playing Lacrosse

At one time in Canada, lacrosse, a healthy and vigorous game, was the Canadian national pastime. It is one of the oldest sports in the country. The French found the Indians playing lacrosse when they first brought European civilization to Eastern Canada, and the English took it up after the conquest. Lacrosse reached its zenith of national popularity some two decades ago or more, when the great Newsy Lalonde was the hero of every boy in the land. Now it has somewhat faded from the picture, although there has been a revival in the past few years of box lacrosse, which is played with a smaller team under less strenuous rules, and can also be played indoors.

While the sport has lanquished in this country, however, it has been adopted in the United States, although not to the same extent as hockey. But over there even the girls play it. A New York Women's Lacrosse Association has been formed, and the New York Times has a photograph of the agile, athletic members engaged in their practice in Central Park near West 106th street. This group is a member of the United States Women's Lacrosse Association, which also has teams in Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia that will be rivals of the New York group in the inter-city competition.

The game of lacrosse has never been played by women in Canada, and today it is not played by very many men, for that matter. As a pastime indigenous to Canada, it is too bad that it cannot be revised. Like hockey, it is a spectacular spectator sport, and as a participating pastime is a fine builder of vigorous physique. Perhaps the decline in its popularity is due in a measure to the popularization of golf, once a game for the wealthy few that has now been brought within the reach of the many.

The Family's Food Bill

There is something deeply interesting about the food supply budget for the average family, as worked out recently by experts at Clemson College.

Figuring that the average family consists of two adults and three children, the experts estimated that during a year it would consume the following amounts of food:

One hundred chickens, 1456 quarts of milk, 2600 eggs, 260 pounds of butter, 650 pounds of fresh meat, 174 pounds of leafy vegetables, 234 pounds of fresh tomatoes, 65 heads of lettuce, 108 quarts of canned tomatoes, 303 pounds of other fresh vegetables, 130 pounds of canned vegetables, 10 bushels of potatoes, 20 bushels of wheat, 10 bushels of corn, 12 bushels of fresh fruit and 180 quarts of canned fruit.

Somehow, it comes to a lot, when you add it all up that way. And when you contrast that list with what thousands of the unemployed are actually getting, you can see just how far short of dietary requirements some of our depression menus are falling.

Bert Hinkler

The fact of Bert Hinkler's death is now generally accepted. This outstanding Australian airman, regarded by many as a finer flier than Lindbergh even, has simply disappeared. Gone into the blue! Perhaps, if he had any choice in the matter, that is the way he would have preferred to go. He had set out from England on what was to have been a record-breaking flight to Australia a week ago and no trace has been found. Yet it was an old sky lane to him. He had set records on it before. He had flown the South Atlantic also. Had hopped hither and thither over much of the world.

All the world will salute the memory of a fine sportsman and intrepid airman.

It is difficult for the most ardent Britisher not to feel sympathy with Mr. De Valera in the latter's efforts to calm down for election purposes the Irish factions which he stirred up to get elected.

England and America sometimes are closer to each other by 63 feet because of the moon's influence. And a bottle of it sometimes will make old enemies get down and cry together.

At any rate, revival of scrip and bartering should silence those wiseacres who have a habit of slapping you on the back and saying: "Dont take any wooden nickles!"

Kissing stimulates heart action, says a medical investigator. What a debt we owe to science for disclosures of this sort.

Here's some wise cracks I crimped from an A. C. T. Bulletin.

A well known man never could stand dirty people, so when he found after staying six weeks at the boarding house that they had no bath tub, he left in high dudgeon!

And, if you must wear a loud overcoat, for goodness sake put on a muffler!—Don't worry if the baby falls on his head; the world can always use another radio announcer!

• • •

Watched the boys playing this new game—much like the old game of Baggetelle—Case of trying to make some little magic balls fall in certain holes in a board which have numbers under them—It costs you a nickel to try and if you make a certain score you get back some trade—Tried a nickel and was far short.

• • •

Watched Bud Thompson play the board—But he was unlucky, too—Noticed Jim Foulds all dolled up in a heavy mackinaw—which reminded one that wintry winds were blowing—Met Al. Gibson all bundled up—And Al. just grunted "Good evening" — Overheard four ladies discussing bridge—And one remarking that she had laid off to give her partner time to play her ace—Vic Lommel passed down the street all unconcerned—He didn't even look at bargains in some of the store windows And then to work.

It is a good thing my cat Perkins does not live in Plymouth Mass.—Putting the cat out for the night in Plymouth is mighty dangerous—for the cat.

Approximately 80 tabbies of regular home habits have disappeared during the past two weeks and the police have been deluged with protests.

Police believed they had an explanation in the report that the Harvard Medical School recently purchased 40 cats from a Plymouth man at 90 cents a cat, and Chief of Police Dearborn thinks he knows who the cat thief is.

This fits several Nelson Notorists:

I am not much inclined to boast;
I have not much to boast about,
I think it's safe to say: my most
Malicious friend will bear me out.

I see men smoking bigger pipes;
They have more children and more wives;
Their trousers have much wider stripes—
They put their bees in bigger hives.

They drive much faster cars than mine;
They toot on bigger, bull-voiced horns;
They la, more money on the line
For bigger shoes for better corns.

And yet one championship I claim
I hope I'm not unduly proud,
But give me just one driver's name
Whose brakes squeal even half as loud!

Concluding a Difficult Season

Since returns from fruit are the main source from which the people of the Okanagan Valley draw their livelihood, it is natural that there should be great uneasiness and concern over the huge quantities of unsold fruit in cold storages.

This anxiety is reflected first and foremost in the current discussions by members of the cartels. Shipping agencies are uneasy. There is no disputing that they are disturbed first for themselves and almost as greatly on behalf of the growers.

The shipping season opened in high hopes. The Imperial Economic Conference paved the way for treaties and for decision which seemed to assure Canadian fruit an outstanding advantage on the British market. The dominion market though low in purchasing power, seemed assured for the Canadian producer by the splendid protection given under the Bennett Government. Formation of the cartels seemed to be good grounds for the belief that the ruinous scramble for home markets would be curbed to such an extent that prices would be fair to consumers and producers.

One by one the props have been kicked from under this comfortable hope. First it was shippers outside the cartel. Then it was bootlegging and non-cartel tonnage. Pressure to unload and the weakness of the domestic market gave such an impetus to shipment of apples in bulk that varieties which previously had escaped that ignominy were hustled out to take their part in the general melee. They first lost their prestige and then their value. It, as a result of the cartel operations some depths of evasion and rebatting were not plumbed from the start, mostly they were reaching at the season developed.

The Americans rushed huge quantities of apples to the Old Country before the date when advantage would pass to the Dominions. Later when shippers in Washington found that returns would bear no relation to the cost of production, but rather offered something better than the dump for them, if not for the growers, they used that outlet regardless.

These are the factors which have turned sour the hope with which the 1932 shipping season commenced.

This is the condition of the industry today. Largely it is the result of events over which presently there is no adequate control. It is a disappointment to everyone and it has not resulted so far, in consumers getting anything like the maximum benefits. Too often the extra low price forced on the producer went to pay the expenses of some intermediatory or a profit to a source which contributed nothing of value.

There is unrest and dissatisfaction everywhere. Growers are discussing the Isaacs report with its provisions for a uniform contract. There is some general recognition that they must unite forces to prevent the surplus swallowing up one and all. Shippers within the cartel in almost endless meetings, are trying to find means to save their own skins, realizing that in so doing they must also save the growers.

These are desperate times for the fruit industry as well as for the wheat growers, livestock breeders, for all the activities which in the past have appeared to be sheltered from the more severe of the buffetings of adversity. Also they are times for sane thinking, for tried and proven leadership, for avoidance of any sort of experiment which may rock the boat.

When Christ's teachings are understood, and practiced, when honesty, probity, ability to think clearly and work hard, are recognized as prime requisites, the world sickness will vanish and the interrupted march of progress may be resumed.—Vernon News.

READER'S RECIPES

Last summer a reader wrote in and asked for a recipe for making preserved strawberries without cooking. This request was printed in the column, and I have received such a recipe from S. E. C., whom I thank. So, although it is no longer strawberry preserving time, I shall print it for the reader who made the request. Clip it, and keep it in your cookbook until next summer.

Preserved Strawberries: Wash enough ripe strawberries to make two quarts. Add equal amount of sugar and stir until the sugar is dissolved. Now put in clean cold jars, run a silver fork down the sides to remove air, put on new rubbers, seal, and store in cool place. Use for plain ice cream or shortcake. —E. S. C.

Four-Egg Sponge Cake: Separate four eggs, and beat the yolks, until thick and lem colored. Then add one cup of sugar gradually, and four table-spoons of cold water, and mix thoroughly. Sift together four times one cup of sifted pastry flour, one-fourth teaspoon of salt, one and one-half teaspoons of baking powder, and one and one-half tablespoon of cornstarch. Add to egg and sugar mixture, and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites, and one teaspoon of lemon extract. Bake in an ungreased tube pan in a slow oven for one hour.—Mrs. C. N. Steady Reader.

Molasses Doughnuts: Mix together one cup of molasses, two cups of buttermilk, two eggs, one teaspoon of ginger, two teaspoons of melted butter, and enough flour to make a soft dough. Do not knead. Pat lightly, roll, cut and fry in hot lard. —G. M.

Lemon Meringue Pie Filling: In a double boiler mix one and one-fourth cups of sugar, one and two-thirds cups of water, the grated rind and juice of one and one-half lemons, four table-spoons of cornstarch mixed to a paste in one-half cup of additional cold water, and a pinch of salt. Cook till thick and clear, stirring often, then add three egg yolks and cook ten minutes longer. Cool before turning into a baked crust. Make a meringue from three stiffly beaten egg whites, sweetened. —Mrs. T.

That Body of Yours

WHEN TONSILS SHOULD BE REMOVED

By Jas. W. Barton, M. D.

The number of individuals with infected tonsils who refuse to have them removed is very large indeed.

They argue, quite naturally, that the tonsils were put there for some definite purpose and they should not be removed. This is quite true and tonsils have sometimes been removed simply because they were large, when as a matter of fact they were doing useful work for the body.

The tonsil is a sort of filter that filters out harmful substances from the blood; it also destroys harmful organisms that might cause trouble in the system.

However just as the filter on your water tap can get overloaded with dirt or other substances so also can the tonsils get so infected and so damaged that instead of doing their filtering work for the blood, they are actually pouring harmful substances—poisons into the blood

When the tonsils should be removed surgery is still considered the best method. However if for some reason, surgery cannot be used, diathermy—electricity—is now proving effective.

By this method the tissue of the tonsil is coagulated, and thus all bloodvessels, nerves, and other structures are destroyed.

Unfortunately the destruction of the tonsils cannot be done in one operation as in surgery, and requires a number of visits to the doctor's office. Drs. R. G. Brown and J. V. Duhig, Sydney, Australia, state that the removal of tonsils by electricity can be performed, almost painlessly, and with practically no discomfort following, provided just a little destruction is done at each sitting.

Furthermore, the use of electricity for this purpose should be in the hands of only those skilled in its use, as bad results in some cases are due entirely to lack of knowledge on the part of the operator. When the work is not done properly, parts of the tonsils, containing considerable infection, may still be left, and the harmful substances continue to be absorbed into the blood.

The thought then is that surgery is always the best method unless there are defects in heart, lungs, or other organic conditions.

Where these organic conditions exist, or the patient fears the operation, diathermy, in skilled hands, is indicated.

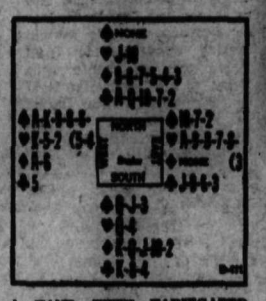
A BRILLIANT COUP



A HAND WITH VARIEGATED RESULTS

The above hand was played recently in a duplicate game at a leading metropolitan club; both sides were vulnerable and some enormous swings were produced.

At most of the tables South started with a bid of one Diamond over which West called one or two Spades. Some Norths overcalled West's Spade bid with a higher bid in Spades, thus showing "no Spade losers"; a few ventured an informatory Club bid intending to go back to Diamonds; but the majority jumped the Diamonds to three or four. Over any of these bids East called Hearts, and East and West eventually played the hand at Hearts—at some tables five, at others six doubled.

One North varied the outcome by bidding five Diamonds over West's two Spades, and in that case East felt that five Hearts was a little too dangerous a venture for a vulnerable player. He passed, South passed, and West doubled.

With East playing Hearts, South led the King of Diamonds, West won, and East discarded a Spade. West led the Deuce of Hearts, East's Ace took the trick and he was careful to return the Heart Six, retaining the Trey. The adverse Hearts all fell on the second round which West's King captured. West now led the Ace and King of Spades and then a third Spade which East ruffed with the Heart Seven. East then led the Heart Trey, West winning with the Five; after which West ran his four established Spades, East discarding four Clubs and Declarer taking thirteen tricks.

At the one table where South played five Diamonds doubled, a Spade was led by West and ruffed by North. North then led a Diamond which West won and, not wishing to lead from his King of Hearts, he tried his singleton Club through North's exposed Club strength. South won with the King, drew West's remaining trump, cashed North's two good Clubs and established his fifth Club by ruffing the fourth round.

After that North ruffed a Spade and South got rid of a Heart on North's fifth Club; so the five-Diamond contract was made, although a Heart lead at trick 1 or 3 would have set the contract one. The Diamond game-contract, considered too dangerous by all but one North because of the vulnerability produced a big gain over the other tables where thirteen tricks were made with Hearts the trump.

"Murder of the Night Club Lady"

The New Thatcher Colt Detective Mystery

By Anthony Abbot

Apparently the line-up of the morning after the New Year's Eve celebration had been full of surprises. Two Italian troubadours who sang and played for the riders on the Dykeman Street ferry boats had been caught with several ounces of morphine hidden in the bellies of their guitars. Through them the head of the narcotic squad was working to trace back the drugs to the sources—a never-ending quest that seemingly succeeds only in spots; the hardest of all wars waged by the police. There is an immeasureable distance between the arrest of the lowly dope-peddler and the conviction of the man higher up. Beneath the typewritten report on the ferry-boat minstrels appeared a clipping from one of the daily tabloids in New York—a vicious attack on the Police Department and on Colt personally, and demanding that politics be thrown out of the department. With a brief smile, Colt thrust this aside. Ever since he had been in public life he had known, as does every other strong administrator, constant assaults like these. They may originate in someone with an object to serve. But as often as not they are simply yellow journalism; an unsuccessful newspaper trying to make a noise in town. They are a symptom of modern political life in modern American cities. Thatcher Colt had time for only a casual glance at the printed attack.

CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE

He went on through the memoranda that disclosed what was happening throughout the five boroughs of the Greater City. A trigger woman had killed her gangster lover not far from the Doyers Street bend in Chinatown. She had got away, but an hour later, her body, chopped in seven pieces, had been found in a baker's wagon on Third Avenue. From this macabre note, Colt turned to smile at the account of what happened to a young New York university student while on a walk through Central Park. A car stopped by, in which three good-looking girls were riding. They enticed him into their car and drove off with him. Hours later he was discovered stumbling along through a deserted path that wound at last into the lights of Long Island's Merrick Road. He had been criminally assaulted by these amorous Amazons. Up to a late hour no trace of his captors had been found. A case of penny-weighing of expensive jewels was reported from one of the important Fifth Avenue jewlers. Johnny Silvers, the falon who had escaped from Sing Sing several months before, had at last been located. He had allowed himself to be arrested as a vagrant in a small Georgia town, and had thus lain perfectly hidden in a small town jail. He would have remained entirely safe if he had not written a letter to his sweetheart in Brooklyn. The police had never stopped watching her; they got the letter first and Silvers had been in the line-up that morning. Apparently there was a fresh epidemic of hotel thieves operating in Brooklyn and Colt made a special notation to get Flynn busy on that as soon as the scorpion murder cases were disposed of.

"You must have hopes of cleaning the murders up pretty soon," I remarked, as I read that pencilled memorandum.

Colt's hand toyed with the little ivory bust of Homer that is always close to his ink-stand.

"I do," he informed me. "There is only one thing needed to set us on the right track and I believe we shall have that in our hands in a few hours at the latest. I know now that this is not an original crime, Tony."

"I have heard you say that you do not believe there is such a thing as an original crime."

Prevent Music at Marquess Address

Musicians Union Forbids Orchestra to Play

VANCOUVER, Jan. 19 (CP) — Luncheon guests who gathered to hear the Marquess of Zetland give an address here on Indian affairs were confined in their enjoyment of a musical program to the reading of the program itself, for not a note was struck, not a string touched. Some slightly bewildered musicians marching sadly out of the luncheon room, lugging their instruments, were seen but not heard.

An explanation was given by C. J. Cornfield, orchestra leader, in a letter to the secretary of the Vancouver branch, national council of education.

Mr. Cornfield stated that after making sure no orchestra was being engaged for the luncheon he had volunteered his services free in honor of the Marquess of Zetland whom he had known as Lord Ronald-Shay when the marquess was governor of Bengal. Sixteen other musicians also offered their services.

A few minutes before the luncheon Mr. Cornfield said, he was informed that the American Musicians union intended to take action. He telephoned the union secretary, and was told that the union executive had decided that the offer constituted "competitive musical engagement." Later a union official arrived to forbid the orchestra to play.

Concluding the letter Mr. Cornfield said:

"It was, Mr. Secretary, a disgraceful incident. I wish, therefore, to disassociate myself and the members of my orchestra from any responsibility for the insult shown to your society and to your guest. I cannot apologize for the American Musicians union, but I am sending a copy of this letter to the union, to apologise to your council for the and I hope the members of the A. high-handed action of their executive F. of M. will direct their secretary board."

STOCKS LIFT MODERATELY

Wheat and Bond Market Assisting Factors

By JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP)—With the help of wheat and a firmer bond market, stocks lifted their average moderately today, though they closed under the highs of another dull session.

Rails, Chemicals and tobaccos made a fairly prominent showing while the market was working upward. Utilities evinced some late irregularity, perhaps because of a sag in Consolidated Gas of New York.

Extreme advances of a point or so over the general list dwindled to fractions. Allied Chemical, up 2 at the best, lost all but a small slice of its rise. Eastman Kodak's 2-point advance was halved.

Sales totalled 624,940 shares.

HEAVY TRADING IN INTERLISTED

Montreal Stock Exchange Has Busy Session

MONTREAL, Jan. 19 (CP)—The Montreal stock exchange had its busiest session in two weeks today when turnover neared the 10,000-share mark. Most of the trading was in interlisted stocks. The market as a whole finished the day slightly higher but the under-lying tone was not firm. Wall street's firm display helped the Montreal list.

Canadian Pacific held steady at 15 throughout the session to close unchanged. Brazilian closed unchanged at 9¾. Nickel closed ¼ higher at 9¼. Consolidated Smelters yielded a point to 58.

MINES ADVANCE ALL ALONG LINE

Buyers Outnumber Sellers; Noranda Up

TORONTO, Jan. 19 (CP)—Buyers out-numbered sellers in the Standard mining market today and prices firmed or advanced all along the line. The high-priced gold shares again assumed the leadership with some of the buying coming from New York. Noranda appeared to line up with the golds and small-lot buying put the prices up to 20.40. Nickel was quiet but firm at 9.15.

Ashley, still moving on the strength of recent ore discoveries, climbed to 1.15 and closed at the top, carrying its parent company, Mining corporation, along 3 notches to 1.59. Dome and McIntyre led with gains of 40 each, the former closing at 14.50 and McIntyre at 23.25.

FOREIGN BUYING BOOSTS GRAINS

Values Climb at Chicago; Winter Crop Hurt?

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor

CHICAGO, Jan. 19 (AP)—Signs of big foreign purchasing of October delivery wheat contracts at Winnipeg, helped bring about a decided advance of Chicago grain values today.

Winnipeg messages said the foreign buying of October wheat had been in progress several days. Reports of dust storms in Nebraska and Kansas were also a strengthening factor, together with advices of extensive winter killing of wheat in parts of the Pacific northwest.

After climbing in some cases 1½ cents, wheat closed firm at ¼ to 1 over yesterday's finish, corn ¼ to ½ up, oats ¼ advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10 cents.

TORONTO STOCK ACTION LIGHT

Gains and Recessions Are of Small Character

TORONTO, Jan. 19 (CP)—Stocks failed to work up any considerable action on Toronto market today. Recessions, however, were light and the few gains were of similar dimensions. Less than 4000 shares changed hands.

Operations in International Nickel were comparatively heavy but it closed unchanged at 9⅛. Ford "A" and Brazilian also held unchanged but C.P.R. dropped a fraction to close at 15. Smelters made a ¾ point gain to 59.

WHEAT ADVANCES MORE THAN CENT

Unfavorable Reports From U.S. Winter Wheat Belt

WINNIPEG, Jan. 19 (CP)—Upturns at Chicago induced by unfavorable reports from the United States winter wheat belt led firmness in other markets and fair export of Canadian wheat as factors in registering gains of 1¼ to 1⅝ in wheat prices at the close of trading here today.

May closed at 46⅞, July at 47¾ and October at 49.

Estimates place Argentine exports this week as high as 4,500,000 bushels, an increase of 2,300,000 bushels over last week's total, but Russia and the Balkan countries did not ship any grain this week.

EGG PRICES DIP

Light Demands Coupled With Heavy Receipts

MONTREAL, Jan. 19 (CP)—Egg prices again dipped lower on the produce and dairy market here today.

"Big League" BOWLING

Don't force the ball too high on your backswing with the idea that the higher and more exaggerated the backswing the speedier your ball will be.

Bring the ball back in a natural leisurely way. Let the ball bring your arm back in the same way the weight on a pendulum carries it backwards and forwards.

The higher you raise the ball on the backswing the more it has a tendency to force your shoulders and head forward and downward which naturally interferes with the rhythm and follow through of your delivery.

Al Demaree has prepared an illustrated bowling leaflet on "Spares" which he will gladly send to any reader requesting it. Address Al Demaree in care of this paper and be sure to enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

TROJANS BEAT K. P.'S, NAKUSP

NAKUSP, B. C., Jan. 19—Friday the 13th spelled bad luck for the K. of P. hoopsters when they lost to the Trojans by four points. The game was close, fast and brilliantly played. At half time the score was 12-9 in favor of the Knights, it mounted to 17-all at full time and in the overtime play the Knights were able to do little else than watch their opponents play with the ball. When the final whistle blew the board showed 21-17 in the Trojan's favor.

Individual scores:

K. of P.—Harris 4, Ledger 11, Hiltz 2, Parent, Miller, Bowes, Stanley.

Trojans—R. White 6, Jones, Alpsen 4, Carlson 6, F. White, Howarth 5.

AMERKS' WIN STREAK ENDS

Chicago Hawks Ride Over Them to Win by a 6-0 Shutout

CHICAGO, Jan. 1 (AP)—Chicago Blackhawks smashed New York Americans' unbeaten streak of eight games tonight by outclassing the New York club 6-0, at the Chicago stadium in a National Hockey league match.

The Hawks, who took a 5-0 trouncing from New York Rangers Sunday, exhibited excellent passing and greatly improved shooting to bowl over the sensation of the international division of the league. Tommy Cook led the assault, scoring two goals, both in the second period, and gaining assists on two other scores.

Johnny Gottselig opened the scoring in the first period, and Mush March assessed one in the same frame. After Cook had collected his pair in the second, Roger Jenkins beat goalie Roy Worters. Paul Thompson banged the last one home converting a pass by Cook.

SOCCER TEAMS ARE HARD HIT

First Division Top Teams Have Easy Marks

LONDON, Jan. 19 (CP cable).—Cup play over for a week, English league teams return to their schedules Saturday with teams weakened by influenza and injuries. Hardly a team is without its list of invalids and many are hard hit. Numerous changes have been necessary in the sides picked for Saturday's play which may see even more upsets than cup ties provided a week ago.

The first division schedule provides the three top teams, Arsenal, Sheffield Wednesday and Aston Villa with opponents they should defeat but also furnishes several duels between closely matched outfits near the head of the standing. Arsenal are at home to Manchester City, the Wednesday visit Blackburn Rovers and Aston entertain Liverpool.

EVEN MATCH

Derby County and West Bromwich Albions probably will provide the most evenly matched encounter of the afternoon when they meet on the former's grounds. Sunderland and Everton, too, should stage a close fight and the Huddersfield-Leeds United tussle is another that will draw interest.

Still wondering how the lowly Walsall team beat them last Saturday, Arsenal will turn out in better shape this week-end. Hule and Coleman are returning to the forward line and Cope is replacing Hapgood on the back division.

Chocolate-Watson Bout Postponed

The "Kid" Is Ordered Deported in Florida

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (AP).—Kid Chocolate's featherweight title defence against Sailor Tom Watson, British challenger, has been postponed one week from January 27 to February 3 in the hope that the Cuban boxer, ordered deported today from Key West, Fla., can straigten out his difficulties with immigration authorities.

Meanwhile Madison Square Garden, promoting the match, exerted every effort to save a title bout that had been widely ballyhooed through the recent "trial by jury" of the British champion to determine the extent of his fighting ability.

SUPERIORS WIN THIRD, ENGLAND

LONDON, Jan. 19 (CP cable)—Edmonton Superiors tonight won their third straight victory over an ice hockey team representing England, taking a hard fought game 2-0.

May Grab Title as Biggest Lobster in the World

A cantankerous old rascal is this, according to Customs Inspector John Beach for whom the above lobster formed a great attachment at the Newark, N.J., pier recently. On a search for liquor, Beach's surprise can be imagined when this fellow seized him and held on for considerable time.

RANGERS ARE BACK IN LEAD

Down the Habitants in Rough Battle by 2-1 Score

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (CP) — New York Rangers regained the top of the American division of the National Hockey league tonight passing the idle Detroit Red Wings and the defeated Boston Bruins they beat Canadiens of Montreal 2-1 in a fast and furious contest.

Penalties, which were handed out freely in the rough game, paved the way for all scoring, which was confined to the second period.

Rangers snapped in two quick goals when the habitants were short handed in the middle of the period after Sylvio Mantha had received a major penalty for hooking Cecil Dillon to save a goal.

TWO-MAN ADVANTAGE

A forward pass from Frank Boucher to Bun Cook with a short shovel shot at the end brought the first tally. Then Aurel Joliat went off and while the Rangers had a two-man advantage Bill Cook sank another goal on Boucher's pass.

It was while Earl Seibert of the Rangers was in the cooler near the end of the period that Howie Morenz found an opening and feinted goalie Andy Aitkenhead out of position for the one Montreal tally.

Fine net minding by young Aitkenhead, with some clever defense work by Dillion and Murray Murdoch, who proved annoying to the Canadien sharpshooters, kept the habitants from scoring in the third period, when they had a big advantage.

REGINA PLAYERS AWAITING WORD

"We Don't Know a Thing," They State

REGINA, Jan. 19.—A dozen professional hockey players were "walking around in circles" in Regina tonight.

They were members of the Regina Capitals hockey team, awaiting word from Manager Kenny MacKenzie as to when and how they would leave for Vancouver, reputed to be their new destination in the western professional league.

MacKenzie announced this afternoon the Caps would leave Friday morning to fulfill a league engagement in Saskatchewan Friday night, but he did not say they were bound for Vancouver after that.

The players were told they were "moving". Beyond that they knew nothing.

POOR ATTENDANCE

Poor attendance at the seven games the Caps played in Regina—the official figures were 10,232—is given as the cause for the move of the Caps.

"We don't know a thing more than you do" was the statement from Gene Pusie, Art Townsend, Sammy McAdam, Art Pattenden and Herbie Rheaume when questioned.

E. L. Richardson, of Calgary, president of the league, interviewed by long distance phone in Winnipeg, knew little about the matter.

"Naturally," he said, "any move would have to be sanctioned by me as president of the league but so far I have heard nothing from Kenny MacKenzie."

Scottish Teams in Annual Cup Quest

23 Games Scheduled for Saturday

GLASGOW, Jan. 19 (CP cable).—Scottish soccer teams Saturday start their annual cup hunt with a program of 23 games between 38 league teams and eight outfits who have entered the fray.

Only two clashes bringing first division outfits together and three pitting second division teams against each other are down for decision But interdivisional strife will provide 10 interesting battles. Five first division and three second division sides are meeting the eight teams who are not from the league.

Hoping for a better fate than befell Newcastle United, the English cupholders, Glasgow Rangers taken on Arbroath, a second division team half way down the standing. They should have little difficulty eliminating them, but there is always the chance Arbroath will "stage a Walsall." Having won the cup in 1928, '30 and '32, Rangers in this campaign will be after their fifth in six years.

WHOLESALERS HAVE A QUIET SESSION

Wholesalers had a quiet session of it during the past week. Price changes were negligible, car arrivals including two cars of meat scraps a car of alfalfa, a car of groceries and a car of flour.

JUNIOR HOCKEY SET, SATURDAY

Rangers and Fairview are scheduled to meet in the second city junior league game Saturday evening. Hume hotel stick handlers took the first game Tuesday night at the expense of the Maulers.

Question—A Team uses four men on the offense and keeps a stationary guard back who does not participate in the scoring play other than to make an occasional pass. How shall we handle this type of offense?

Answer—Have the man playing the stationary guard on the defense roam about near the foul line to try to intercept passes, to stop dribblers coming through unguarded, and to deflect passes coming to the pivot man, if the team uses one. He must be wary not to become too engrossed in this business of team co-operation, for if he does not keep an eye in the direction of his own man, the latter may slip under for some easy baskets.

HOME BONSPIEL NEAR THE FINAL

"D" Section Yet to Be Played Off

Nelson curlers have completed all but one section of the stay-at-home bonspiel, that of "D" section. Defaults were numerous. As there was little time between games, players failed to record their scores and hence the results of a large number of games are lacking.

A. Kraft won the "A" section by default. Only one game was played in this section, the rest being defaulted. Kraft beat J. B. Gray. A. Kraft, R. Bell, A. G. Ritchie and J. B. Gray were scheduled to play in the "A" section.

W. Brown beat C. I. Archibald 8-7 to take "B" section. Brown, P. E. Poulin, Dr. W. B. Steed and C. I. Archibald competed for the honors.

"C" division went to W. M. Vance who beat C. E. Mansfield 11-5 in a playoff after a tie, Vance, H. M. Whimster, C. E. Mansfield and H. W. Robertson contested the division.

Houston and Laughton tied for "D" section and have yet to play off. The rinks were skipped by A. E. Murphy, D. Laughton, H. Houston, and C. D. Blackwood.

R. D. Hall won "E" division by default, rinks skipped by R. D. Hall, E. E. L. Dewdney and R. D. Barnes taking part.

Merchants Cancel Bonds of Players

Comes Through Change of Franchise of Team

DULUTH, Jan. 19 (AP).—Duluth merchants today requested local immigration officials to cancel the bonds of five hockey players admitted to this country from Canada to play with Duluth Hornets. The merchants are bondsmen for the players. The action resulted from the transfer of the Duluth franchise of the American Hockey league to Wichita, Kansas. The merchants explained they sought to be relieved of the responsibility for the legal return to Canada of the players involved in the bonds.

The players were admitted for the sole purpose of playing for Duluth. Whether they will be permitted to play with Wichita rests with Washington immigration officials. The local immigration office said.

The players involved are Jack Leswick, "Gloomy" Lessard, Art Merrill, Syl Apps, and Billy Kendall.

MAROONS WIPE SLATE CLEAN

Get Even With Senators for 6-3 Beating and Win 7-3

MONTREAL, Jan. 19. (AP). — Montreal Maroons moved into a tie for third place in the Canadian section of the National Hockey league tonight, swamping Ottawa Senators 7-3 in a lightning fast game before 4500 spectators. Maroon's victory wiped out the 6-3 trouncing Senators gave them on their last appearance on Montreal ice.

Jimmy Ward was the star of the game, the former Fort William and Kenora star scoring three of the Montreal tallies and turning in one of his speediest performances of the season. Hooley Smith's polished poke check broke up dozens of Senator plays. Both he and Baldy Northcott got one goal and an assist. Trottier and Haynes tallied the others.

Ottawa scored twice in the opening period, in which seven goals in all were marked, and once in the middle period. The marksmen were Danny Cox, Gus Forslund and Bill Touhey. Sid Howe got two assists and Allan Shields the other.

DAUGHTER OF H. H. STEVENS IS WED

Marries James E. H. Lovick at Ottawa

OTTAWA, Jan. 19 (CP)—Of widespread interest was the wedding here this evening of Marjory Gertrude, daughter of Hon. H. H. Stevens, minister of trade and commerce, and Mrs. Stevens, to James E. H. Lovick, the son of the late Frank Lovic and Mrs. Lovic of Vancouver, B. C. The ceremony was very quiet with only the immediate relatives and intimate friends present, owing to the serious illness of the bride's sister, Miss Sylvia Stevens.

Rev. W. Kelloway, paster of Dominion United church, officiated at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 37 Linden terrace, which was attractively adorned with Premier Supreme roses for the occasion.

The bridal party stood under an arch of southern smilax in the drawing-room. The bride was given in marriage by her father and was attended by Miss Patricia Stevens, her sister, as bridesmaid. Little Patsy Murphy, young daughter of Hon. T. G. Murphy, minister of the interior, and Mrs. Murphy, was a winsome flower girl. Dr. John Stanley of Kingston was best man.

Some people put their best foot forward so far that the other one never catches up.

Beautiful Shawls of Great Value

To wear an Indian shawl properly is an art—especially when it's worth many, many times its weight in gold. These shawls are part of a shipment that has just arrived at the Royal Ontario Museum, Toronto, and represent a donation of immense value by Sir Michael Sadler, of Oxford, England. The three shawls shown are hundreds of years old and woven with infinite care by Indian craftsmen. In (1) the golden shawl is worn in usual Indian fashion, while in (2) the winter style, with part of the shawl used as a cape or hood, is shown. If you handle a shawl as the model does in (3), you are skilled indeed. This particular one is about 10 feet long and six feet wide, and is worn in folds around the body.

MORE ABOUT SEARCHERS

ing 15 miles southwest of Tohoua in Niger. When rescuers reached her they found her standing helplessly beside her machine.

The London Daily Mail said the British airwoman was overcome when help got to her. She was miles from even the most remote outpost and had faced four days of desert terrors—choking sand storms, tropical heat by day and bitter cold by night—without any shelter except her tiny airplane. However, there was the threat of death by starvation and thirst.

First news of the rescue of Lady Bailey came in a wireless message to the French authorities. It was hours later before any details were learned.

Subsequent despatches said that she was taken in a caterpillar car to the French post at Tahoua.

The district where she was found is one of the most desolate regions in that section of the world and the fact that she was discovered at all was said by airmen to be testimony to the thoroughness and speed with which the search was carried out.

Thousands of men were engaged during the last three days in the hunt for her. Cavalry and camel patrols were sent out from every military post, and airplanes searched the vast tracts of sand.

Lady Bailey took off from Croydon, England, Sunday, in an attempt to beat the time of Amy Johnson, wife of Capt. J. A. Mollison, to Cape Town. She reached Oran, Algeria, safely, although showing symptoms of influenza, but no reports had been received from her until news arrived this afternoon that she had been found.

NINE SEARCH

Nine airplanes had been searching for her in French territory in Africa.

A heavy snowfall hampered the search today for Hinkler in the region of Auxerre and the forest near Bussy. An unconfirmed report yesterday said his plane had been sighted in the forest but no trace of the plane or pilot was found when a reconnoitering search was made.

Capt. W. L. Hope, a friend of Hinkler, who set out from Feltham, England, 12 days ago in attempt to set a record for an Australian flight, has been in Switzerland several days searching the Alps where he believes the noted flier was forced down.

Fathered Technocracy, He Claims

Beneath his picture you see a magazine clipping dated 1919 in which Smyth discusses technocracy by that name. He had studied the problem of social effects of engineering for years, and its possibilities were demonstrated, he claims, by operations of the War Industries Board during the World War.

PHONE MESSAGES TO BE RECEIVED WHEN OWNER OUT

Subscriber May Leave Home; on Return Get Reports

LONDON—"Sorry, no reply," will no longer be heard over the telephone in London when the scheme to establish a home for London's "lost" telephone calls is in operation, as it will be shortly. Under licence by the postmaster-general a newly formed company, with headquarters in Grosvenor place, London, is preparing to give telephone subscribers a service which is intended to avoid the irritation and the loss of time and money resulting from unanswered telephone calls.

By this scheme, which has come into being after long negotiations with the general post office, a subscriber of the service will be able to leave his office or his home deserted, with the certainty that he will receive all telephone messages that have matured during his absence. No longer will the bell ring vainly in the empty house or office until the caller's patience is exhausted, but, instead, he will ring up the exchange in Grosvenor place and leave his message. On his return the subscriber telephones the exchange and receives all messages that have accumulated for him. It is believed that the service will be especially useful to the "one man" business.

A large staff of girls working day and night, on Sundays and bank holidays, will ensure that within 15 seconds of his inquiry the subscriber will receive all messages waiting for him. The post office has promised the company an unlimited number of extensions so that no subscriber's call will ever be left unanswered. Each subscriber will provide a list of friends and business concerns with which he has dealings, and the company will inform them that, failing a reply to his number, all messages in his absence will be faithfully delivered.

The operators receiving messages are to be sworn in secrecy before a commissioner of oaths, and each subscriber will receive a number, known only to himself and to the exchange, which he will be required to quote when giving or receiving a message. This will ensure that no unauthorized person obtains information to which he is not entitled.

Live Stock Growers Endorse Barter Deal

Proposition Involves $7,000,000 Exchange

CALGARY, Jan. 19 (CP)—Canadian Soviet Russia barter deals tonight became disclosed as a $7,000,000 proposition.

Endorsed here today by the Alberta Live Stock Growers association in a hurriedly called gathering and by the United Farmers of Alberta in annual convention, the scheme in almost its complete details became revealed. Negotiations with the Live Stock association were made by G. G. Serkau, Winnipeg lawyer and leader of the Canadian syndicate sponsoring the deal, while the U.F.A. endorsed the scheme in resolution form.

Mr. Serkau placed his plans before the ranchers and received unanimous support. The association wired Hon. Robert Weir, Dominion minister of agriculture, urging immediate favorable consideration of the proposed exchange.

IMMENSE IMPORTANCE

The live stock men believed the barter scheme "of immense importance to the live stock industry particularly, and indirectly to Canada generally." Premier John Brownlee of Alberta, attending the western premiers' conference at Ottawa, was sent a similar telegram, seeking his support.

Mr. Serkau told the ranchers that 100,000 head of cattle, it was planned, would be traded for Soviet coal and oil. Hides, in great demand in Russia, would be included in the barter also. In return Russia would give Canada oil shipments and a maximum of 100,000 tons of anthracite coal.

According to Mr. Serkau the coal would enter Canada through the Churchill port on Hudson bay. He expected little opposition to the importation of the Russian product as he believed the amount could be used by one small city in a year.

GRADING PAYROLL FOR A FORTNIGHT IS ALMOST $600

Wage expenditure of the city public works department during the fortnight ending January 19, amounted to $983.20, according to the report of City Engineer Boyd C. Affleck.

Of the total $583 was expended on grading—$338.75 on Douglas street, $154.50 on Cedar street, $69.75 on Gore street, and $20 on general account.

Other items waere $45.50 for street cleaning, $221.70 for snow removal, $9 for street equipment and maintenance, $27.50 for sidewalk sanding, $26 for cemetery maintenance, and $10 for relief maintenance, the last item being for wood sawing.

U. S. Government tests show that school children who drink milk through a straw fail to get the richest part of the milk, if they leave some in the bottle—unless the bottle is shaken up first, or unless the milk is homogenized to break up the fat particles.
