SHOOTS WIFE AND DAUGHTER AND SUICIDES

Chauffeur of Clement Studebaker, Jr., Wipes Out His Family

HEARING OF LATER WILL IS CAUSE

Had Been Left $5000 by the Late Clement Studebaker

CHICAGO, Dec. 29 (AP)—The story of Peter Peterson and his wife and daughter ended today in double murder and suicide.

It began 29 years ago when Peter went to work for Clement Studebaker Jr. as footman. Studebaker was one of the South Bend wagon-makers then.

As wagon-making turned to automobile manufacturing, Peter became the family chauffeur. He stayed at that job 21 years, long enough for Pauline, the daughter of Peter and Anna, to grow into a 20-year-old senior at Northwestern university with high scholastic standing.

Clement Studebaker Jr. of late a leader in public utilities, died. And in a will he left $5000 to the faithful family chauffeur out of the wealth amassed from Studebaker motor cars and public utilities. But yesterday a later will was found, leaving Peter Peterson nothing.

Peter had grieved for his employer and counsellor. He had brooded over loss of his life's investments. This will was the finish.

He walked into his daughter's bedroom this morning, placed a revolver at her temple, and fired.

SHOOTS WIFE

He walked to the sun parlor where his wife lay slumbering and sent a bullet into her temple.

Then he went methodically about the business of notifying those who should know, and making ready to die. He called the police, told them where to find the bodies. Then Peter telephoned Clement Studebaker III, 38-year-old son of his late employer.

Studebaker and the police arrived simultaneously at the Peterson flat. Peter had laid down beside his dead wife, pulled up a blanket and ended his life.

The younger Studebaker said there had been no change in Peter's $200 monthly salary, that he was still employed. Peterson had $100 in a bank and $6600 life insurance.

PHILIPPINES BILL BY HOUSE

Uncertain Fate Awaits It at White House; Expect Hoover Veto

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29 (AP).—By a preponderantly lop-sided vote the United States house of representatives today passed the much-disputed issue of Philippine independence on the White House where an uncertain fate awaited it.

From members of President Herbert Hoover's party, the freedom measure — a conference agreement with the senate providing independence after a 10-year transitional period—received extensive support. In the final house decision only 16 stood in opposition, while 171 arose to back the bill.

Among those who have kept closely informed on the subject, there was a distinct inclination to believe Mr. Hoover would veto the measure. Many pointed to his last direct statement on the question—that immediate freedom would lead the islands to disaster.

Provisions intended to help the islands attain governmental and commercial stability in the interim were included in the measure.

New Group Forms Against de Valera

Aim at Breaking Economic Deadlock in Free State

The movement is the outcome of a public appeal recently launched by Senator Arthur Vincent.

DEMAND CUT IN RAILWAY RATES

Special Committee Waits on C. N. and C. P. Officials

MONTREAL, Dec. 29 (CP).—A reduction of approximately 20 per cent in railway rates for transportation of grain and grain products along the all-rail and lake-and-rail routes from Fort William and on the Georgian bay route, to Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, formed the basis of demands filed with officials of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways today by a special committee.

The committee represented the Canadian National Millers' association, Ontario Millers' association, Montreal grain exchange and Toronto and Montreal boards of trade. Submission of the demands to the railway came in the wake of conferences between representatives of the varied grain interests held here during the past two days.

In asking for a reduction in transportation rates the grain interests submitted a plea that in the interests of the trade in the four provinces it was desirable that rates be brought nearer pre-war levels in view of present economic conditions.

$40,000 IN SLAB OF PIONEER ORE

Block of Ore Causes Great Excitement

VANCOUVER, Dec. 29—One slab of ore, four feet long, eight inches wide and six inches deep, taken from Pioneer mine, contained an estimated value of $40,000, according to George Shepherd, M.E., who has arrived from Bridge River district.

Mr. Shepherd is engineer and assayer at the Bridge River Exploration company. This block of ore, said Mr. Shepherd, was estimated to weigh more than half a ton. He heard that the entire block of high-grade, news of which was made public recently, weighed nearly a ton and contained about $50,000. The one slab, however, was so spectacular that it created great excitement among the miners, even those familiar with the occasional enrichments encountered in Pioneer mine.

While development in Bridge River during the past season has been satisfactory, Mr. Shepherd predicts it will be far greater in 1933. Larger operators, as well as individual prospectors, plan full-season programs.

(Copyright, 1932, by the Associated Press)

SS. DELAWARE SUN, at Sea, Dec. 29—While proceeding to Marcus Hook from Smith Bluff, Texas, on Thursday, December 29, at 1:50 p.m. the SS. Delaware Sun sighted the SS. Doris Kellogg of the Kellogg Steamship company with home office in New York, ablaze with a heavy volume of smoke arising from her after section. This was sighted by the second officer, Edwin Morris, who immediately notified the commander.

The course was changed and the Delaware Sun headed for the stricken vessel, which was observed flying distress signals. The coast guard cutter Yamacra was notified by radio of the scene of the disaster, and is proceeding with all possible speed.

The Delaware Sun arrived and stood by the Doris Kellogg. All life boats had been lowered and with all hands were heading for the rescue ship.

The Doris Kellogg was commanded by Captain Chapman and was proceeding from Fort Arthur, Texas, to Philadelphia with a cargo of crude oil for the Atlantic Refining company.

REPORTED SAVED

Three lifeboats load were taken aboard the Delaware Sun and all members of the Doris Kellogg crew reported saved. Due to the suddenness of the blaze it was impossible for the radio operator of the Doris Kellogg to complete his distress signals, which he started, but power lines failed before he was able to sign his call signal.

The Delaware Sun, owned by the Sun Oil company of Marcus Hook, Philadelphia, is standing by the scene awaiting the arrival of the Yam Craw. The immediate cause of the fire was not determined.

ROBBERS REPEAT THEFT IN STORE

Empty the Register and Flee at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Dec. 29.—Two daring gunmen believed to be the same who held up Julia Haddad, clerk in United Cigar Store, 2793 Granville street on Wednesday night of last week, obtaining $75, practically duplicated the robbery at 8 o'clock tonight.

On the former occasion, one bandit had asked for a package of gum and while the girl was depositing a nickel in the cash register, he levelled a gun at her and scooped up the $75 and a check for $42. His partner kept guard at the door.

Clad in different clothes and this time making no purchase, the bandits terrorized the girl with a gruff command to "sick 'em up and be quick about it," while pointing an automatic pistol at her. After cleaning out the register, the robbers fled from the place.

BRITISH FIRM AND SOVIET IN LUMBER PACT

News Agency States Contract for 790,000,000 Feet Concluded

B. C. LUMBERMAN TELLS OF DEAL

Means Shutout for Canadian Lumber to Great Britain, States

LONDON, Dec. 30 (Friday) (CP cable)—Reuters news agency today said it understood an agreement between Timber Distributors, limited, and Soviet timber interests had been virtually concluded and that Timber Distributors would import from Russia about 790,000,000 board feet of lumber during 1933.

Negotiations between the company and the Soviet interests have been going on for some time. But tonight no details of the proposed transaction were available.

MEANS SHUTOUT FOR CANADA

MONTREAL, Dec. 29 (CP)—Soviet Russia has just entered into a contract with a British firm to supply 870,000,000 feet of lumber, valued roughly at £4,000,000, declared H. R. MacMillan, prominent British Columbia lumberman, in addressing the Montreal Wholesale Lumber association today.

Mr. MacMillan told his audience he had received a cable today to that effect. The contract, he said means a "shutout" for Canadian lumber export to Great Britain as the amount was four times Canada's annual export to the United Kingdom.

AGAINST SPIRIT

The terms of the contract, as outlined in his cable, showed that the order was against the spirit of article 21 of the imperial economic conference pact hammered out last August at Ottawa, the speaker declared. Russia had guaranteed to reimburse the British purchasing company for any competitive price which was lower than that at which Russia had sold. In other words, Mr. MacMillan added, the Russians absorbed any loss that might be sustained by the British company. He did not state the name of the United Kingdom company concerned or the source of his cablegram.

DEPUTIES VOTE AUSTRIA LOAN

Action Is Taken Over Objection; Herriot Defends It

PARIS, Dec. 29 (AP)—The chamber of deputies, by a vote of 351 to 187, tonight authorized the government to participate in the projected reconstruction loan for Austria, which will mean an advance by France of approximately $14,000,000.

This action was taken over objections of a group of deputies who argued that France should not lend money to Austria when only two weeks ago she refused to make the war debt interest payment of approximately $19,000,000 due the United States.

Former Premier Edouard Herriot, who was responsible for French policy on the Austrian loan question when he headed the government, vigorously defended it before the chamber.

One of the principal opponents of the action was Deputy Henry Haye, who said: "Two weeks ago we refused to pay 500,000,000 francs to those to whom we owed something; are we going to give 350,000,000 to those to whom we owe nothing?"

NECESSARY FOR STABILITY

Premier Joseph Paul-Boncour, appealing for a favorable vote, said the loan was necessary for the stability of central Europe.

The senate also considered financial measures today, voting in favor of a 5,000,000,000-franc (about $195,000,000) issue of treasury bonds requested by the government as provisional credits for January. The senate also went on record in favor of placing wheat funds in the hands of any army purchasing board instead of creating a wheat bureau.

REITERATES NO NEEDY PERSON WILL SUFFER

Repeats Policy to Cooperate With Municipalities and Cities

EXPECTS THEM TO BEAR SHARE

Rate of Allowances Will Insure Ample For the Needs of People

VICTORIA, Dec. 29 (CP)—The provincial government's reply to the memorial submitted to the executive council on Dec. 19 by the Union of British Columbia Municipalities dealing with unemployment relief measures was given out at the legislative buildings here today through Hon. William McKenzie, chairman of the unemployed relief committee of the executive council.

The memorandum is a complete review of the unemployment situation in British Columbia. The government reiterates its policy that no bona fide needy person should suffer through the lack of necessaries of life, offers to the fullest cooperation with the cities and municipalities, but at the same time reminds the municipalities that each must bear its full share of responsibility.

STAND BY SCALE

It is apparent from the report that the government intends to stand by the relief scale as announced recently and sets out the reasons why it considers the scale adequate to assist in the care of British Columbia's needy.

The memorandum goes on to state "After investigation of what was being done in the other provinces of Canada and after the fullest consideration it was decided to make a fixed rate of allowances for the whole of British Columbia. The adoption of this rate was not meant to infer that municipalities which had sufficient funds would not be allowed to give additional assistance over and above the rate, but the municipal taxpayers would have to bear the additional burden."

The statement bears the contention of medical experts that the health of the people of the province was never better than at the present time and therefore that the scale adopted by the government appeared adequate but admittedly did not provide for luxuries." The scale is equal to what has been provided in the average municipalities in the province and the allowance for food compared favorably with what is being given in many of the main centers of the rest of Canada," the report states.

UNDUE BURDEN

The report continues: "It was never intended that any undue burden should be placed on the people of British Columbia as a whole because some municipalities preferred to see that their needy people were cared for on a rather higher scale, but none the less this administration has at all times been willing to listen to the representations of any municipalities who found themselves in a straightened financial position and we are now and always have been prepared to give consideration where such municipalities after thorough investigation of each individual case in conjunction with officials of the provincial government and where it is shown there are special circumstances demanding adjustment in connection with lodgings within their boundaries beyond what is ordinary or common. Under such circumstances municipalities may be assured that the province will do everything within its power to meet these conditions fully having regard to our own resources."

CANADA AIDS NEWFOUNDLAND

Will Join With Britain to Lend $1,250,000; Protect Position

OTTAWA, Dec. 29 (CP).—The Canadian government deemed it necessary and advisable to take the action in question to protect the credit and financial position of the Dominion and provinces. In a statement issued late tonight, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett emphasized this feature of the joint action by the British and Canadian governments to loan Newfoundland $1,250,000 to enable that country to meet its interest obligations in full January 1. The British and Canadian governments each advance one-half of the loan.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Dec. 29 (CP).—Newfoundland will not default. The governments of the United Kingdom and Canada have come forward with assistance toward meeting the interest on the island dominion's public debt, due January 1. A commission representative of the three governments concerned will be appointed at an early date to recommend improvements in Newfoundland's financial structure with a view to ensuring the dominion's ability to meet future interest charges.

Announcement of the arrangements to meet the obligations was made at a public meeting here today by Premier F. C. Alderdice. Newfoundland must pay about $2,400,000 in January. Of this amount, Great Britain and Canada will provide $1,250,000. Divided in equal amounts of $625,000. Newfoundland will find the balance.

On the loan, the premier explained after the meeting, interest will be paid at the rate of four per cent. This interest, amounting to $58,800 yearly, would be earmarked in excess payments made by the Imperial Oil company to the amount.

CRESTON LOSES TO CRANBROOK

Visitors Have Best of Two Basketball Events

CRESTON, B. C., Dec. 29.—Both the ladies' and men's basketball quintettes came out on the small end of the score in encounters with Cranbrook Friday evening. The local ladies held the visitors to a 11-12 standing at the end of the third period but in the final play Cranbrook ladies annexed three additional points to win 15-11. In the men's clash the visitors won by a commanding margin of 40-13. Creston was ploying the pick of the in-town talent of the men's league, but the aggregation never got going in the form they have shown in local league clashes.

After the games the visitors and homesters were guests at a dance for which the Crestonian orchestra supplied the music, and the ladies of the Creston basketball league supplied a very fine supper.

The program was under the direction of the teacher, Miss Elvera Gustafson, and was varied with songs, recitations, dances and sketches. A charming little offering was by four girls and entitled "Sewing for Santa." A clever drill by seven girls, each one representing a day of the week, was loudly applauded.

Recitations were given by Tina Chemenkoff, "Santa's Home"; by Walter Hill, "When Pa's Sick"; Jack Laktin, "Look Pleasant Please"; a sketch entitled "Aunt Susan Changes Her Mind" was given by four girls and three boys.

A pretty innovation was a folk dance entitled "Ace of Diamonds" by Alice Hucal and Tina Chemenkoff. A quartet sang "The Milkmaid's Song." "A Dream of Mother Goose" was portrayed by seven girls and four boys. A pianoforte solo, "Star of the Sea" was rendered by Mary Talbot. A descriptive piece, "March of the Mechanical Dolls," was by Joyce Riley, Jean Hill, Nora Masloff and Tina Laktin, and "A Clay Dance," was by four girls in national costumes.

A dialogue "Annoying Interruptions" by three girls and three boys was well presented. Mary Masloff arrayed as a negro mammy, give a monologue entitled "Aunt Dinah's Christmas."

Mrs. G. Talbot rendered a pianoforte selection and played the accompaniment.

Santa Claus dropped in on the party and presented the gifts, also bags of goodies to every child.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1932.

It Paid After 1815

Great Britain, in its attitude of generosity to its allies, and to Germany, is following out its traditional policy. It has taken the lead in bringing about the reduction of the amount due from Germany and, soon after the war, virtually forgave the greater part of the debts due from allies. Since that, at Lausanne, Great Britain has virtually placed itself in the position that it cannot hope to collect from its allies.

This is simply following out the principles which were put into effect at the close of the Napoleonic wars. At that time the obligations of the victorious powers were eager to collect reparations and to secure cessions from France. The Duke of Wellington replied that if it were desired that France be devastated, it lay within the power of his armies to do so. He would accept the task, but he would never consent to a policy which was certain to breed another war. In "The Duke", Philip Guedella quotes the words of the Duke of Wellington as follows:

"In my opinion, then, we ought to continue to keep our great object, the genuine peace and tranquility of the world, in our view, and shape our arrangements so as to provide for it.

"If the policy of the united powers of Europe is to weaken France, let them do so in reality. Let them take from that country its population and resources as well as a few fortresses. If they are not prepared for that decisive measure, if peace and tranquility for a few years is their object, they must make an arrangement which will suit the interests of all the parties to it, and of which the justice and expediency will be so evident that they will tend to carry it into execution."

The author adds:

"Other allies at the end of other wars hae faced the choice between negotiated and a dictated peace, but the alternatives were not so clearly stated, and the statement did not emanate from their leading soldier."

Synthetic Life

In a book published just before his death, Lord Birkenhead, looking far into the future, made predictions as to the manner in which man might be born, have his being, and die, in, say, a thousand years from now. Among his forecasts was the introduction of ectoplastic birth.

Of late we have been treated to many dissertations on scientific life. Some have been declared false in their deductions, but others are thought to be leading toward something definite in the way of a solution of life's secret, which man has never penetrated.

Dr. G. W. Crile of Cleveland produced a sort of living matter in a test tube. Dr. Alfonso L. Herrera of Mexico, after twenty-five years of research, created what was thought to be protoplasm, subjected it to sunglass rays and the result was living cells. But in neither case did the "life" survive, and Dr. A. J. Carlson of the University of Chicago believes that there was some mistake about it and that actual life cannot be created by men.

Now comes Dr. Dimitry F. Sinitsin, a Russian scientist, with a new word for the primary elements of life. It is "aphanobionts" which he is said to have produced synthetically. Dr. Sinitsin, while lecturing to a local group of students the other day, said that aphanobionts are invisible living organisms, perhaps of eternal life, that are back of all life processes."

Most scientists agree that it was from minute particles of lagoon slime that life began in protoplasmic form. In the light of Dr. Herrera's demonstration with the sun glass it would seem that in the beginning life was generated spontaneously by rays from a sun much hotter than it is today.

But after all, life is still a mystery. There is no satisfactory definition of it. The Standard Dictionary says that it is "the state of being alive," and "alive" is defined as a "living state." Take your choice. Where does the philological circle land you?

TOUCHING THOUGHT FOR TODAY

In times like these it's hard to tell whether the tidy desk of the big executive is due to a love of order or a lack of time.

Absconding financier in California, after making the first payment on a yacht, sailed out to the open seas and was missing for months.

Human life is a mass that brings troublesome days,
When the world seems most burdensome to you,
When a touch of the flu makes you weary and blue,
And instalment collectors pursue you;
Over hill, over dale, they stay hot on the trail,
And you watch their approach with emotion,
But you'll never be caugh if you purchase a yacht,
And go sailing away on the ocean.

Though you strive, year by year, so develop good cheer,
Just sufficient to pass the inspector,
Your high spirits are curbed and your sleep is disturbed
When you dodge the instalment collector—
In a sea-going boat, bound for places remote,
(We beg leave, worried friend, to remind you)
You may rest at your ease on the somnolent seas
While collectors are trying to find you.

WHOLESOME CANDIES

Around New Year's many parties are given. Try some of the following candies on the card table or with other refreshments.

Hard Peppermint-Nut Patties: Boil one and one-half cup of granulated sugar with one-third cup of light corn sirup, one-eighth teaspoon of cream of tartar and three-quarters of a cup of water (do not stir at all). When a little of the mixture will give a sharp crack when tested in a cup of cold water, take from range, add eight drops of oil of peppermint, and drop the mixture from the tip of a spoon onto a buttered platter. Press halved walnut meats into each patty, and let become very hard before serving.

Ginger Fudge: Cook two cups of granulated sugar with one-half tablespoon of butter and two-thirds of a cup of sweet milk till the soft-ball stage is reached, at 238 degrees F. Then take from range, cool till tepid, and stir in one-third cup of crystallized ginger cut in bits. Add one-half teaspoon of vanilla and beat till creamy before pouring into a square buttered pan. When almost cold, mark in squares.

Maraschino Penuche: Slowly cook two cups of brown sugar with one-half cup of sweet milk, one-eighth teaspoon of salt, two and one-half tablespoons of corn-starch powder and a piece of butter the size of an English walnut; when the sugar has melted, cook the mixture more rapidly, continuing to cook it for two minutes, after it starts to boil, and beating it all the time. Now take from fire, add one-half teaspoon of vanilla and stir in one cup of chopped Maraschino cherries drained from their can sirup. Turn into a buttered pan and mark in squares when almost cold.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

EPILEPTICS AND THE SALT INTAKE

It would seem that the cause and the cure for epilepsy is being vigorously searched for all over the world.

Although the actual cause has not yet been found, so much has been learned that it is possible for many sufferers from epilepsy to live practically a normal life almost free from attacks. As mentioned before this is accomplished by cutting down on starchy foods—potatoes, bread, cake, increasing the fat foods, cutting down on the amount of fluid taken—tea, coffee, water or other liquids—and the use of a quieting drug such as luminal of the barbital remedies.

Another point that was discovered 30 years ago, but has been somewhat lost sight of, is the cutting down on the amount of salt eaten. It has been shown that an increased intake by epileptics of ordinary table salt—sodium chloride—might bring on convulsions.

In epileptics, or those suffering with ailments resembling epilepsy the evidence shows that the tissues of these individuals hold more salt than do those of individuals in normal health. The ability of these epileptic individuals to retain a large amount of salt in the system varied considerably, but all of them showed some increase.

In some cases, moderate or large doses of salt bring on the epileptic attacks.

Just why these individuals store this salt is not really known at present. The natural organ or organs to blame would be the kidneys, but it has been definitely proven that the kidneys are in no way to blame as there seems to be no disturbance of the manner in which the kidneys throw out water. That it is of brain or nervous origin, or that it may be due to a disturbance of one or more of the ductless glands is considered a possible if not the probable cause.

The knowledge that the ordinary table salt may cause epileptic attacks should be of much value to sufferers with this ailment.

Drs. F. Proescher and W. S. Thomas state that in cases where there are mental upsets without the usual epileptic attacks tests now show that the system is retaining too much salt.

"Murder of the Night Club Lady"

The New Thatcher Colt Detective Mystery

By Anthony Abbot

We drew nearer and peered at the two fuzzy, microscopic pieces held in the nippers. What could they be? Professor Luckner deposited his precious findings on a clear piece of the cardboard, and placed over it a magnifying glass.

"See for yourself!" he invited.

Quickly the commissioner bent over, turned the screw of the glass, and squinted. With intense interest he studied the almost invisible treasure which the scientist had rescued from a sea of dusty sweepings.

"They look like the thin attenuated bristles of some insect!" declared Thatcher Colt.

The professor gave a mighty sigh.

"Exactly, Herr Commissioner!" he boomed. "You should have been a scientist yourself!"

"But bristles of what insect?" urged Colt.

Again without replying — there is no one who loves the romance and drama of a situation more than a cold-blooded, precise scientist, especially a German one—Professor Luckner opened a drawer in the kitchen table up on which he had performed his mysterious labors. From the drawer, he drew out a long tube which physicians call a specimen jar. It is the kind of glass house in which an appendix often finds a permanent home. This jar was nearly filled with yellow alcohol. It was labeled, and as Colt received the bottle from the professor's long, pale hand, he pronounced the legend of the label as if it were an incantation:

"Cebtrurus Exilicanda!"

With a startled air, Colt glanced from the embalmed thing in the specimen jar to the flushed and proud face of Professor Luckner.

"What is this?" asked the commissioner.

"A scorpion!"

"A scorpion!" repeated Colt in astonishment. "A scorpion, did you say?"

"The most deadly known to man!"

"Lola Carewe and Christine Quires died from the bites of a scorpion?"

"There is no doubt of it! I have already talked on the telephone with your Doctor Multooler."

My ears were ringing with astonishment. How could such a thing have been done? I remembered the box, stuffed with cotton, found in the snow. But who could plot and manage such an unthinkable method of murder? It seemed mad—preposterous—and madder still when I remembered that once Lola Carewe had danced a waltz of her own invention that was called "The Scorpion"!

"Tell me about this," urged Thatcher Colt. "I had never understood that the bite of a scorpion was necessarily fatal."

The old scientist wagged his head to one side and his eyes gleamed with the pride of superior knowledge.

"But this is not the ordinary insect," he explained with a bland air. "It caused me a great deal of trouble before I could identify it. Seven Columbia professors have been here this morning to help me out. Fortunately one of them had this perfect specimen—and then I knew I was right!"

Over Colt's shoulder I looked at the dead creature in the bottle. It was light-colored, long-tailed, and was about two inches long, with two enormous feelers at the head, flat at their ends.

"There is an even finer specimen in the bureau of entomology, in Washington, so I am informed," continued Professor Luckner. "I have a photograph—"

"But where are these creatures found?" interrupted Colt.

"Particularly in Durango, Mexico," Professor Luckner replied. "They cause about 40 deaths a year in that region."

Colt glanced at me quickly, and at once I began making notes on the professor's remarks.

"What are the symptoms when one is bitten, professor?"

'A stinging, burning sensation like a hot needle being plunged into the flesh. It is a peculiar sensation and is always recognized, even by those who did not see the alacran, as the Spaniards call the scorpion. Within a few minutes the bitten place becomes red, followed by a severe pain in the part affected. In a little while—in some cases it is three or four minutes, often a second or so—that part becomes numb. The tongue becomes thick and it is impossible to pronounce words clearly."

Colt glanced at me. Our thoughts must have been the same. Again we were living through those moments of agony when he had found Lola Carewe in anguish on the floor.

"Go on," urged Colt in a low voice.

"For quite a while there is a coma. Then spasms of convulsions of the entire body begin. They are more marked in the legs and back. They are accompanied by a straining and grunting sound. There is more or less paralysis of the respiration. Croup-like sounds come from the throat. These convulsions come in waves and increase in severity. There is a livid pallor to the face. Just before death the pulse is very rapid, the eyes bloodshot—and often the patient spits up blood."

Colt's sombre eyes lingered on the specimen of the dead scorpion in the bottle.

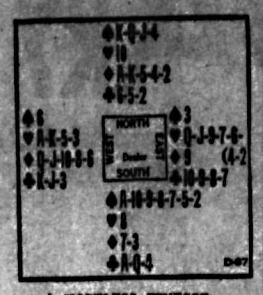
Auction and Contract Bridge

By the World's Leading Authority. MILTON C. WORK



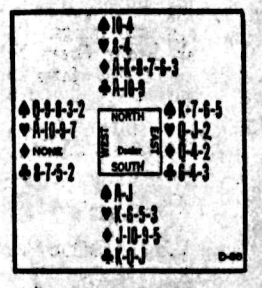
A HOPELESS FINESSE

This hand was sent to me by a Texas correspondent; it was played in a rubber game of Contract with East and West vulnerable. South bid one Spade, West doubled, North made a game demand jump-shift by calling three Diamonds, and East overcalled with three Hearts. South rebid his long Spade suit. West made a game-bid in Hearts, North called four Spades (the bid he had in mind from the start), and East risked a bid of five Hearts despite his vulnerability, on the strength of his seven-card suit. South, having shown his full strength, was obliged to pass and leave to North the choice between doubling or overcalling. North feared that a freak distribution with a blank Spade suit in the Hand of East or West might permit the five-Heart contract to be made; therefore he bid five Spades which became the final contract.

When the hand was played in Texas w/, South the Declarer playing a five-Spade contract. West led the King of Hearts and followed with the Queen of Diamonds. Declarer won in dummy, drew a round of trumps and won a second round of Diamonds in dummy. When East's discard showed the impossibility of establishing even one of dummy's Diamonds, Declarer was obliged to win two Club tricks to make his contract. He tried the Club finesse and South's Queen was won by West's King. West led a Diamond, and eventually won two Clubs and a Heart, setting the five-Spade contract one trick. My correspondent asked whether, without "double dummy" knowledge, the Declarer could have fulfilled his contract.

THE CORRECT PLAY

West's informatory double marked him with the King of Clubs; consequently the Declarer should have made every effort to avoid relying upon the Club finesse. After the second round of Diamonds disclosed the uneven division of that suit, South should ruff a third round of Diamonds, and then put dummy in with a trump, ruff a fourth round of Diamonds, and then put dummy in with a third round of trumps. Dummy's last Diamond should then be led, and a small Club discarded from closed hand. West, thrown in the lead, would be forced to lead a Club up to South's major tenace, or to lead a second round of Hearts. The latter, of course, would be ruffed with dummy's last trump, while closed hand discarded the Queen of Clubs. In either case Declarer would lose only one Heart and one Diamond.



A HARD LUCK HAND

This hand was played at duplicate contract (match point scoring) with neither side vulnerable; although the players were using a variety of systems, the bidding was the same at every table. South started with one no trump (having a count of 15, more than two and a half honor tricks, no biddable suit, and a stopper in every suit), North made a game-demand take-out by calling three diamonds, and South's bid of three no trumps became the final contract.

West led the trey of spades, East's king being won by South's ace. South led the jack of diamonds, and his hopes for game vanished when West discarded a club. Declarer won two diamonds and put East in with a third, West discarding clubs and South retaining the five of diamonds. East led a spade, and at most tables West then won four spade tricks with the queen, nine eight, and deuce. When West, unwilling to lead his heart ace, led a club, declarer was set but one trick. When West played his ace of hearts, declarer was set two tricks. Declarer, of course, had the remaining tricks (in diamonds and clubs) just as soon as he could regain the lead. One East-West team succeeded in setting declarer five tricks; not by "double dummy" defence but by logical play. Do you see how?

THE CORRECT PLAY

East played correctly in returning his partner's spade lead at trick 5. A heart led at this stage would have been double-dummyism pure and simple, as East did not know that West held the heart ace. One West player realized that East might hold the queen-jack of hearts, and he forced East to lead a heart at the proper time by perfect manipulation of the spades. West won the second and third rounds of spades with the queen and nine, then deliberately blocked his eight by leading the deuce. East, forced to win with the five, had no choice but to lead the queen of hearts up to dummy's weakness. By these tactics, regardless of declarer's play, East and West won four hearts, four spades, and one diamond, setting the contract five tricks.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

ADVOCATES "CAT" FOR HOLD-UP MEN

To the Editor of the Nelson Daily News.

Sir:

Your editorial "Banish the Pistol": I a msure it is time something was done along this line. I have often thought that all ammunition should be sold only through a government store or Police.

It is difficult to find out who has firearms, but they are quite harmless without ammunition. All ammunition now sold at stores could be called in and a heavy penalty imposed on any person selling or smuggling it across the line.

I often wonder men ever join a police force in face of the way they are handicapped in doing the very thing the taxpayers hire them to do. I think very few people realize that a policeman is not supposed to shoot to kill, only to disable, while the culprit has no such handicap. Only those who have looked into the muzzle of a six shooter know what it feels like.

Do we ever stop and think of the tremendous amount of money taken every year by hold-ups?

Yet we simply put them in jail if we catch them and fork out more taxes to feed, cloth and have them guarded. In the writer's humble opinion the "cat" should be the punishment. They don't stop at torturing their victims. Why should we hesitate at feeding them on their own medicine. There are only two things that really get down to bed rock, one is the infliction of pain, the other is hunger.

Can we ever expect taxes to lessen when we keep on adding to them by keeping so many in jail. Let the "cat" be used on hold-up men, a minimum of 50 lashes and then one for every dollar taken.

If we want men to enforce the law the least we can do is give them an even break or better.

GRATEFUL FOR CHRISTMAS CHEER

To the Editor of The Nelson Daily News:

Sir: Through the medium of your paper, if you will be good enough to allot me a small space, I desire on behalf of my wife and family to extend our grateful thanks and much appreciation for the package of Good Cheer which was delivered to our home on Christmas eve.

The receiving of same enhanced much pleasure and great joy towards making the festive season so much the brighter and, to those responsible in handling these tokens of happiness are due many thanks as also, to those who so ungrudgingly contributed toward making a Christmas day happier.

Surely "goodwill toward men" is as strong in the hearts today as ever it was, and, may the watchword be carried on throughout everyday of the coming New Year and which I hope may be a better one for all. With the Season's greetings

WALL STREET CLOSE IS HIGH

Has Best Prices on Largest Turnover Since November 11

By JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 29—Stocks rallied with better success today, thereby celebrating the conclusion of all but last-minute tax sales for the year.

Unlike yesterday's session which saw a late relapse, the market was higher all day and closed at its best prices in the largest turnover since Nov. 11. Rail stocks ran along in the vanguard, but other groups did equally well, especially during the uplift that characterized final dealings.

BOND MARKET IS MORE CHEERFUL

Prices on Whole Are Steady to Firm

NEW YORK, Dec. 29 (CP)—Despite numerous irregularities, the bond market displayed a somewhat more cheerful tone today.

Last-minute tax selling and profit taking gave the list a spotty appearance at times, but prices, on the whole, maintained a steady to firm position with some indications of investment as well as speculative buying apparent.

Sales totalled $15,637,000, par value

All Sections Gain on Montreal List

New York Rally Dominant Factor in Advance

MONTREAL, Dec. 29 (CP)—With only two more days of the current year left, Montreal security prices rallied strongly on the stock exchange today. Advances seldom exceeded a point but fractional gains extended to all sections of the list.

The New Year's rally in New York was the dominant factor in the Montreal advance but the local list did not experience the ups and downs of the Wall street market. Prices opened steady, advanced quietly and closed at the best levels of the day.

REPORT ON WINTER CROP IS BULLISH

Wheat Prices Turn Upward Late Thursday

By JOHN F. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor

CHICAGO, Dec. 29 (AP)—Stimulated by official reports of precarious prospects for winter crops in a large section both of Kansas and Nebraska, wheat prices turned upward late today.

Chicago wheat prices closed firm, ¼ off to ⅜ up compared with yesterday's finish, corn at ⅛ to ½ advance, oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, and provisions unchanged to a setback of two cents.

Boys' Parliament Has Full Program

Kept Busy at Victoria Session

VICTORIA, Dec. 29—A trip through Christ church cathedral personally conducted by Dean Quainton was the feature of today's early program of the young people now in Victoria for the 10th tuxis older boys' parliament of British Columbia.

This morning's activities in the parliament buildings included a cabinet meeting, general assembly, prayer, announcements, a worship service, morning committee meetings and a photograph of the group.

At noon parliament luncheon was held in Spencer's private dining room and afterward the boys assembled for the visit to the cathedral.

At 2:15 o'clock this afternoon a caucus was convened in the conservative rooms and an address was delivered by Robert McMaster, Vancouver, the government critic. The second session of the 10th parliament commenced at 4 o'clock, following committee meetings, and at 5 o'clock the house adjourned until 7:15 o'clock this evening, when further discussion of matters close to all tuxis boys were resumed.

The last item on today's program was a social hour as guests of the Victoria branch of the Canadian girls in training followed by a personal evening meditation. The gathering here will continue until late Saturday evening.

TORONTO STOCKS BEST IN WEEKS

Show 20 Gains Against Eight Recessions

TORONTO, Dec. 29 (CP)—The stock exchange had 25 gains to show against eight recessions at the close of business today which was the best performance the market has given in several weeks. Volume was also higher than in recent sessions.

Buoyancy in the New York market resulting from covering by the short interest pulled the local mart out of the rut. General bopefulness for better things in the new year also brought in some buying.

GETS TWO YEARS FOR CAR THEFT

Much Perjury Committed in Trial Says Magistrate

NEW WESTMINSTER, Dec. 29—Two years in the penitentiary was the sentence meted out to David Lockerbee, 20, of Langley, found guilty on a charge of stealing an auto, by Magistrate H. L. Edmonds in police court here today.

Clause L. McA'pine, Lockerbee's counsel, who was yesterday ejected from the court by order of the magistrate, did not appear and the case was concluded without counsel for the defence.

Parts of an automobile stolen from Sidney Bristow, 836 Seventeenth avenue, Burnaby, July 13 last, were found in Lockerbee's home in Langley. The car, stripped, was found in a gravel pit.

Much perjury was committed during hearing of the trial, Magistrate Edmonds declared when making his decision. He added that John Wasylenchuk, crown witness at present serving a term in Oakalla jail, should be prosecuted for perjury, and that action may be taken against him. Wasylenchuk in his evidence denied making certain statements to police.

ENGLISH SOCCER TEAM WEAKENED

Teams Will Be Fielding Much Changed Sides

LONDON, Dec. 29 (CP Cable).—Weakened in the stiff holiday schedule, English soccer teams get back to the game-a-week program Saturday with the majority reporting practically all players injured to some degree. Consequently, teams throughout the country will be fielding much changed sides for Saturday's battles.

Christmas football left its mark particularly on the Queen's Park Rangers and Cardiff, of the third division southern section. Rangers players are suffering from influenza and the Cardiff team is so riddled the manager stated today he could not name one player who would be certain to be fit Saturday. Clapton Orient, of the same section, has 12 players on the sick list, five of them from their first team, and it is doubtful they will be able to field an outfit in the London combination.

Arsenal, first division leaders, have been hit with the rest of the teams, although they hope to have the service of Hill, Roberts, Coleman and Lambert, their invalids, when the play at Highbury with Birmingham. Even without the quartet they should have little difficulty adding two points to their total.

DOUBLE-HEADER HOCKEY SUNDAY

Hume vs. Wolves and Maple Leafs vs. Fairview

With the honors of the first few games evenly divided, four intermediate City league teams, the Hume Hotel, Wolves, Maple Leafs and Fairview battle in their second double-header of the season at the skating rink Sunday afternoon. The Hume Hotel and Wolves, winners of the first double-header, play the first game and the Maple Leafs and Fairview play in the second.

The Fairview team beat the Hume Hotel in the first league game putting the teams about on a par.

HOGAN GOES BACK TO BOSTON BRAVES

NEW YORK, Dec. 29 (AP).—Francis J. Hogan, of Somerville, Mass., the bulky, shrill-voiced catcher of the New York Giants, today went back to the Boston Braves, the club which traded him to the Giants four years ago.

In the course of the trading session, Manager Bill Terry obtained Gus Mancuso from St. Louis to fill the post of first string catcher with young Francis Heatey available for relief duty.

SCOTTISH TEAMS FACE TOUGH GRIND

Stage Holiday Schedule Saturday, Monday, Tuesday

GLASGOW, Dec. 29 (CP cable).—Scottish soccer teams get a taste of the grind the English league outfits went through last week when they stage their holiday schedule Saturday, Monday and Tuesday. Injuries and position changes will probably result from the hard games and wearying travel as they did across the border.

Rangers, who lead the first division because they have played two games fewer than Celtic, should lose no sleep over going to Ayr on Saturday, but on Monday it will be different when they meet the Celts in their annual match at Inbrox park. Tuesday the light blues visit Partick Thistle and here, too, the travelling will not be so smooth.

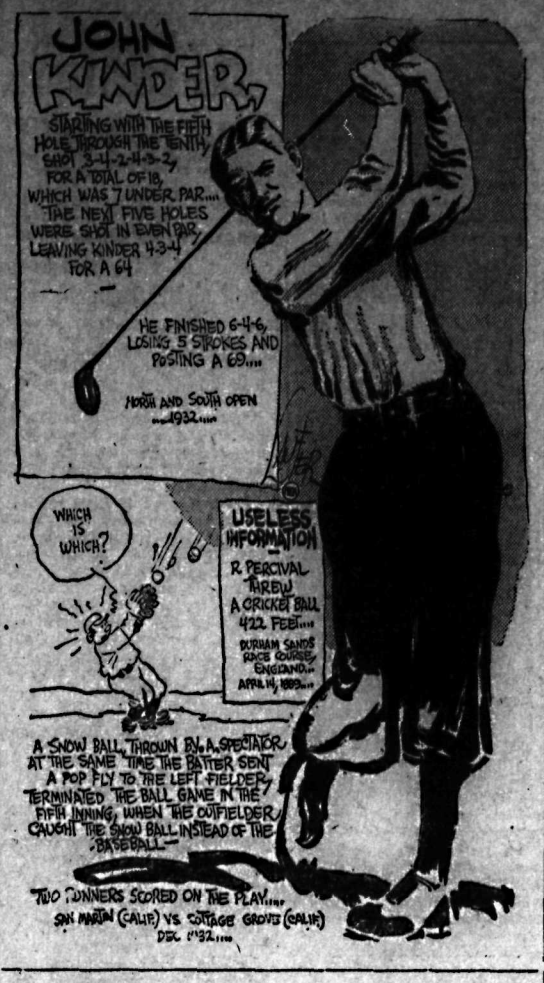
Celtic are idle Tuesday but Saturday they take on Hamilton Academicals and, should they attempt to keep anything in reserve for the Monday battle, may be tripped up. Motherwell, in third place, will be at home to Aberdeen and are expected to pick up at least one point.

CURLERS PLAN FOR BONSPIEL

Provincial Trials at Trail January 16

The British Columbia Curling association's annual bonspiel will open at Trail Monday, January 16.

As Trail has artificial ice there will be no danger of postponement. Already a number of rinks have been formed here and in other centers throughout the province where ice is available for practice.



HOOKS and SLIDES

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER

They tell you that football is a game that helps to build youth's character. If the team doesn't win, however, the coach—who happens to be the man hired to build the young men's characters—is fired. Thus, one of life's sweet lessons that a young football player surely learns is that it is just too bad if you don't win. Well?

• • •

GREAT HELP TO TRAFFIC

There really is no excuse for a man who has played college football for not slapping on the brakes when he hears the shrill tootle-oo of the traffic policeman's whistle. In a modern game of football, with a referee who is inclined to take the rules seriously, your young football player gets all the practice he needs at whistle-listening. College football ought to be a great help to automobile traffic.

• • •

WORK FOR PAINTERS!

New York race tracks have been specializing in snappy paint jobs lately. The idea is to take a good horse, disguise him with the markings of a cheap plater, enter him in a race as the plater and clean up on the bookies. This ought to help solve the unemployment situation among Manhattan painters.

• • •

HOW ABOUT GENE?

The late Jimmy DeForest, who trained many fighters in his day, remarked that Firpo was a good fighter "because he came from the gutter, and all good fighters come from the gutters." It is to be wondered if Gene Tunney wasn't an exception to Jimmy's axiom. Certainly he didn't come from the gutters, but from a good Christian home, and, well—wasn't he a good fighter?

• • •

Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons trained horses during the summer racing season that won more than $300,000 in stakes and purses. Inasmuch as Jim gets 10 per cent of the winnings, it looks like lots of ice cream and many movies for Fitz this winter. No wonder that line, "He was a great admirer of the thoroughbred race horse," creeps into so many biographies.

• • •

The last unanswered question of the baseball season, it seems to me, is: "Why didn't they give Rogers Hornsby his world series share?" If ever a man deserved a full share, it was the Rajah, who developed the ball club with which Charley Grimm went on to win the pennant. Judge Landis doesn't seem to have the answer. Nobody seems to have the answer. Hornsby, one the greatest figures baseball has known, is allowed to pass from the game under a cloud, his status unexplained. Well?

• • •

In keeping with our annual custom of writing during each football season one paragraph about strange names, let it now be recorded that the name of the quarterback at Vanderbilt is Mighty Close. But we don't know whether he's Scotch, or what.

• • •

Fritz Crisler, former Minnesota coach, now building character at Princeton, was asked the other day to compare eastern and middlewestern football. His reply was that in technique and coaching, the two sectors were on a par, but that there was some difference in the material, more men being available to Big Ten coaches. He might have gone further, if he had been an ardent middlewesterner, and added that after all it's the players who play the game.

SEVEN LINE COACHES

There are seven coaches assigned to coach the Duke university line. That is one coach to each man. It ought to work out fine—if each coach hasn't a different idea about line play.

TO STRENGTHEN REP PUCK TEAM

Practice Tonight; Pick Players

Intermediate players will be out in full force tonight for the selection of a representative team to play Trail here Monday afternoon. Last Monday the team fell by the wayside at Trail mainly through lack of practice, but this Monday it will be a different matter.

The game will be on home ice and Nelson will have a considerably stronger team. During the past few days several good practices were held and the players are in much better condition.

Ed Neff and Ty Culey, who are in charge of the rep team have been working hard with their charges and expect better results.

BASKETBALLERS TANGLE TONIGHT

Two more ladies' basketball league games are scheduled for this evening. Nelsonians, league leaders, are booked to play the Nurses and the Maulerettes, the Junior High.

So far the games have been close with low scores in almost every game. The closeness of play has attracted good audiences and tonight shows no promise of an exception.

WORK OR STARVE, DECREES RUSSIA

Will Make More Housewives Work in Shops

MOSCOW, Dec. 29 (AP).—Russian housewives who now may purchase for themselves small rations of bread and sugar from the government stores will lose that privilege after January 1 and thereafter will have to earn those commodities by working in the factories.

The government decreed today that after the first of the year all housewives under the age of 56 will be deprived of the cards which entitle them to purchase sugar and bread. In the category of housewives are included all healthy women not engaged in "socially useful" work. The wives of a number of high government officials are in this class.

The new order reflects the continuing food shortage and is an extension of the government's "no work—no food" policy. Its object, apparently, is to bring more women into industrial occupations with the view to ultimate abolition of the home as the unit of family life.

Barkerville Gold Rush Unconfirmed

Ground Is Covered With Four Feet of Snow

VICTORIA, Dec. 29 (CP)—Stories of a rush to record claims in the Barkerville area of the Cariboo, with the historic old cemetery and the gold commissioner's house being staked, are not borne out by reports to the department of mines here, where such reports are discouraged.

There are three to four feet of snow covering the ground in the district and any claims staked at this time are illegal, as staking on the snow is not accepted. A prospector must swear that he is staking "where mineral is in place" and obviously this cannot be done with a thick mantle of snow covering the ground.

"Big League" BOWLING

By AL DEMAREE

It is not how hard you hit the pins, but where you hit them that counts.

Mrs. McCutcheon, probably the world's greatest woman bowler and teacher, has proved this in numerous ways.

"I use a cork ball with beginners in my lessons," she says, "and numerous times this cork ball, delivered, by one of my pupils, has had just enough momentum to arrive at the 'one-three' pocket and scored perfect strokes..

"This cork ball, as light as a feather, was moving so slowly when it reached the pins, that it stayed on the alley, in the midst of the fallen pins all around it.

'I advise women, and men also, for that matter to try for rythm and accuracy rather than to concentrate on speed.

Al Demaree has prepared an illustrated bowling leaflet on "Improving Bowling Delivery" which he will gladly send to any reader requesting it. Address Al Demaree in care of this paper and be sure to enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

CHILD ON WAY RIVAL FAMOUS STRONG GIANT

Nova Scotia Boy of Five Worked in Field With Father

HAS STRENGTH OF MAN AT SIX

Brings to Mind Tales Told About Angus MacAskill

LUNENBURGH, N.S., Dec. 29 (CP).—Out on Heckman's island there is a child bidding fair to rival the fame of Angus MacAskill, the Cape Breton giant who left the marks of his heels in Windsor castle after visiting Queen Victoria.

MacAskill was a youth when he replaced a sick horse in the traces and teamed with the remaining animal before the plough for two hours, but Harry Heckman, of Heckman's island, worked alongside his father in the fields when he was five years of age.

Harry is just six, he weighs 130 pounds, stands four feet three inches and measures 38 inches around the chest. He gained 30 pounds in less than a year.

He has the strength of a man and can do a man's work with ease. His brain has developed almost as rapidly as his body, and he is intelligent far beyond his years.

EQUAL TALL STORIES

But if Heckman is to reach the fame of MacAskill he will have to equal some tall stories in later years. MacAskill stood seven feet nine inches, measured three feet across the shoulders, had palms six inches wide and weighed 500 pounds.

Born in the Hebrides in 1825 he moved with his parents to St. Ann's, Cape Breton. It was in St. Ann's that with feats of strength he gained fame which later spread around the world as he travelled on show and held Tom Thumb, his partner, on the palm of his hand.

One day MacAskill picked up a 2700-pound anchor on a New York pier. As he dropped it one of the flukes caught his shoulder. He recovered from the injury but his great physique was wrecked.

For some years afterward he conducted a store at St. Ann's. He died August 8, 1863, aged 38.

RANGERS TAKE DIVISION LEAD

Defeat Senators 4-2 to Pass Bruins

NEW YORK, Dec. 29 (CP)—New York Rangers once again took first place in the United States division of the National Hockey league tonight, passing the idle Boston Bruins as they defeated Ottawa Senators, 4-2, in a stirring ice battle.

For two periods it was one of the fastest, hottest games in New York this season with extra frills in a "gift" goal and another goal which drew violent protests from the Senators. A near-capacity crowd was kept in a high pitch of excitement.

Ottawa penalties led to the Rangers' winning goals in the second period after the first had ended 2-2. In the first Bill Cook opened the scoring in the opening minute with a goal that went into the net off Allen Shields' stick.

Shields and young Syd Howe scored Ottawa's goals on a pair of flashy solo plays while Gordon Pettinger tied the count, coming in to grab a puck which had lain loose while the Senators' defence was holding Butch Keeling. It was the first big league game for Pettinger, lanky kid from Regina.

WINGS HOLD THE CANADIENS TO TIE

MONTREAL, Dec. 29 (CP)—Jack Adams' Detroit Red Wings held Canadiens to a 3-3 overtime tie in a National Hockey league game here tonight before a crowd of 9000.

Two goals down at the end of the first period, Canadiens tallied once in the second and tied the game half way through the third. Both teams scored again near the close of the third and the deadlock could not be broken in 10 minutes of overtime.

Ebbie Goodfellow notched two of Detroit's goals and Eddie Wiseman got the other, while Howie Morenz, Pete Lepine and Gerald Carson were the habitant marksmen.

PAUL DEFEATS FIDEL LA BARBA

By CHARLES W. DUNKLEY

CHICAGO, Dec. 29 (AP)—Tommy Paul, Buffalo, N.Y., recognized by the National Boxing association as featherweight champion, proved tonight he was no mistake, defeating Fidel la Barba, Los Angeles, ranked as the outstanding challenger, in their 10-round battle in the Chicago stadium.

Paul outboxed and outslugged the Pacific coast youngster to the amazement of 5926 spectators, who paid $8640 to witness the bout.

B.C. Will Double Lumber Exports '33

Is Expectation in Well-Informed Circles

VANCOUVER, Dec. 29 (CP)—British Columbia will increase her lumber exports to the United Kingdom during the coming year to 150,000,000 feet, it is confidently forecast in well-informed circles. This compares with 87,000,000 feet shipped during the past 12 months, a gain of more than 70 per cent, or treble that shipped in 1931, when 50,000,000 feet created a record.

Sentiment in the United Kingdom in favor of Empire trade, including the general friendly attitude of lumber importers and governmental bodies, is expected to produce this result.

Three men are employed for one day for each 100 feet exported, one in the woods, one in the mill, one in transportation services, etc., so that the coming years expected export to the United Kingdom will provide employment amounting to 450,000 work days, or steady employment for one year for 1500 men. Thousands of dependents will benefit and so much be added to the increased buying power needed to turn the cycle of employment.

CLANCY'S SHOT BEATS MAROONS

Leafs Deserve Game by Having Edge of Play

TORONTO, Dec. 29 (CP)—King Clancy's shot from the blue line, in the first period, that whizzed past Flat Walsh before he knew it was coming, won Toronto Maple Leafs a National Hockey league game from Montreal Maroons 1-0 here tonight. Clancy's counter, rather lucky in itself, gave the world champions an edge they deserved on the evening's play.

The victory gave Toronto a five-point edge in the standing over Ottawa Senators, second-place team in the international section. It was Maroons' fifth straight defeat.

Held even in territorial play by the Montrealers in the first period, the Leafs outplayed Maroons in the second period and held a good edge in the third.

"Spirit of St. Louis" Has Already Captured Young Jim Mooney

SYLVA, N. C., Dec. 29.—The "Spirit of St. Louis" has already captured young Jim Mooney, bridegroom and left-handed baseball pitcher, although he has yet to wear a Cardinal uniform.

Jim, recently traded by the New York Giants to Gabby Street's Cards, believes his new club " has a pennant winning fever." And his pretty bride, the former Miss Elizabeth Wilkinson of Erwin, Tenn., agrees with him.

The 25-year-old Mooney was a leaguer sensation when he joined the Giants late in the '31 season, but his work this year was a disappointment. Now he's anxious to get out on the mound for the Cards and do a comeback.

"I will give Gabby Street everything I have and will try to make a good man for his club," the former school teacher said. "You know I think I will like to play for St. Louis, for they are the one team in the National league that has a pennant-winning fever."

"And I will do all in my power to help bring the pennant to St. Louis next year."

Mooney's home town is Mooresburg, Tenn., but he winters here. He went to the Cards with Walker, Allen and O'Farrel in exchange for Starr and Mancuso.

"I was not at all surprised at the deal," he said. "In fact I felt that I would be traded but didn't expect to go to the Cardinals or any particular club."

Bill Terry, manager of the Giants, "is a swell fellow," according to his recent employe.

Dog Saves Snowbound Trio

Snowbound for 48 hours in the mountains above San Bernardino, Calif., Charles A. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fippinger faced death by freezing. But King, their big dog, saved them by the heat of his body. They took turns clasping the warm, shaggy dog. When the crew of a snowplow discovered them they were still alive.

AUSTRALIA TO BAT FIRST IN SECOND TEST

Are Strengthened by Presence of Famous Don Bradman

MELBOURNE, Victoria, Australia, Dec. 30 (Friday) (CP cable).—Batting Doggedly before the wicked attack of the English bowlers Australia had scored 42 runs for the loss of one wicket when lunch adjournment was taken in the second cricket test match which started today.

Before a crowd of 50,000 Australia sent out a revamped team which included the famous Don Bradman, in an effort to wipe out the stigma of the 10-wicket defeat inflicted by England earlier in the month in the first of the five tests for world's cricket supremacy.

W. M. Woodfull, Australian captain, beat D. R. Jardine of England in the spin of the coin and the home players went to the wickets in boiling summer weather on a pitch that was lightning fast.

After 53 minutes of careful batting Woodfull was bowled by G. O Allen for 10 runs, the first wicket falling for 29 runs. J. Fingleton and L. P. O'Brien were together when the players went in to lunch, the former having scored 27 and O'Brien a newcomer to the side, three.

AUSTRALIA BATS FIRST

MELBOURNE, Victoria, Australia, Dec. 30 (Friday)—(CP cable).—Play commenced today in the second cricket test match between Australia and England for the coveted and mythical "ashes" under ideal conditions. The wicket and outfield were in splendid shape.

Australia, strengthened by the inclusion of the sensational batsman Don Bradman, won the toss and elected to bat first. The home players went into the battle determined to avenge the 10-wicket defeat inflicted by the visitors in the initial test at Sydney, N.S.W., early in December.

REPLACES KIPPAX

Bradman replaced the veteran W H. Ponsford who was chosen as 12th man. The stylish A. Kippax, who has played many times in international matches, was dropped in view of his poor performance in the first test while H. Ironmonger was preferred to Lisle Nagel, one of the commonwealth's younger bowlers, O'Brien, a newcomer, completed the team.

The only change on the English side was replacement of the Yorkshire bowler, Hedley Verity by his teammate W. E. Bowes.

THE TEAMS:

Australia: W. M. Woodfull (captain), V. Y. Richardson, Don Bradman, S. McCabe, J. Fingleton, W. J. O'Reilly, T. Wall, H. Ironmonger, C. V. Grimmett, W. A. Oldfield and O'Brien.

England: D. R. Jardine (captain), G. O. Allen, Nawab of Pataudi, R. E. S. Wyatt, L. E. G. Ames, W. R. Hammond, Harold Larwood, N. Leyland, H. Sutcliffe, William Voce and W. E. Bowes.

Hatcheries Are Stocked With Fry

Most B. C. Sockeye Are Distributed

OTTAWA, Dec. 29 (CP)—From coast to coast Canada's fish hatcheries are stocked with fry, or fish eggs, which will be developed during the winter. Distribution will take place during the spring and summer of 1933 for the restocking of the various lakes and streams throughout the Dominion.

Rivers and lakes are in abundance in every province and with sea fishings on both coasts Canada is a paradise for the angler. The department of fisheries, however, supplements the natural production by the distribution of eggs and fry, and in 1932 more than 138,000,000 fry and older fish were placed in suitable streams throughout the Dominon.

British Columbia sockeye headed the list with more than 97,000,000 fry and fingerlings distributed. Next was Atlantic salmon with 21,000,000. Remainder of the distribution was made up of other varieties of salmon and trout.

TO CURL THREE GAMES TONIGHT

The draws for tonight are: H. W. Robertson vs. W. Brown; D. Laughton vs. C. D. Blackwood and W. Biner vs. E. E. L. Dewdney.
