HART KIDNAPPERS ARE LYNCHED

"The Answer to Virginia" and Nelson's Christmas Cheer Fund

Nelson's Christmas Cheer fund is this year in greater need of donations than ever before, yet money is coming in slowly. Unless funds are raised much more rapidly than at present many will this year go without their Christmas Cheer.

Have you read "The Answer to Virginia"?

The most widely read editorial ever written appeared 36 years ago in the New York Sun, has been reprinted by the Sun annually at Christmas time ever since, has been quoted in a score of languages the world over.

This world-famous "Santa Claus editorial" was an answer to the following letter:

Dear Editor: I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Please tell me the truth.

VIRGINIA O'HANLON.

The editorial writer who was assigned to reply to Virginia at first disdained the task as trivial, then found himself warming up to a real opportunity, and finally wrote the words that millions since then have warmed to read:

"Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticsim of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect in intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias. There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

"Not to believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch all the chimneys on Christmas eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see.

"You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest men, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view the supernal beauty beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

"No Santa Claus? Thank God! he lives, and lives forever. A thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

CLAIMS BANK CHARGE ILLEGAL

Service Charge for Accounts, Eight Per Cent Interest Questioned

VICTORIA, Nov. 26 (CP)—Move to force Canadian banks to discontinue their alleged customs of imposing on clients a service charge of 50 cents a month and of charging and collecting interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum was begun here before Mr Justice H. B. Robertson in supreme court by C. L. Harrison.

Mr. Harrison is conducting the defence of James Cameron, being sued by the Royal Bank of Canada seeking to enforce payment of a $1700 note he had endorsed. Mr. Harrison made a counter-claim against what he called the bank's illegal charges and then asked the court for a full accounting, claiming collection of the note could not be endorsed because the bank had been operating illegally against its customers in respect to interest and service charges.

Counsel pointed out the bank act sets 7 per cent as the maximum interest rate chargeable by the banks.

French and Germans Discuss Arms But Meeting Is Secret

PARIS, Nov. 26 (AP).—The secret conversation in Berlin between Ambassador Andre Francois-Poncet and Chancellor Hitler met with little enthusiasm in Paris today in the face of a prevailing attitude of fear that France would have to concede everything and get nothing in return.

Face-to-face talks between premier and chancellor were openly rejected by former Premier Albert Sarraut, whose cabinet fell last week, but he felt at the same time diplomatic conversations would help define Hitler's desires and test his sincerity.

Currie's Condition Is Critical

MONTREAL, Nov. 26 (CP).—From the hospital room where Canada's greatest soldier, Sir Arthur Currie, is fighting for recovery from a dangerous illness tonight came an official bulletin in one sentence:

"Sir Arthur Currie's condition is critical."

This bulletin, issued by a group of noted physicians attending the principal of McGill university and commander-in-chief of the Canadian corps in France, came a few hours after an announcement that signs of pneumonia had appeared, further complicating the serious illness which overtook him almost three weeks ago.

Development of pneumonia was announced in the following bulletin made public just before noon:

"Sir Arthur Currie has taken a turn for the worse. Signs of pneumonia are present."

Larger Army Is the Demand of Chief of Staff in U.S.A.

Points to Unrest in World; Urges Fast Action

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff, today reported the United States army's strength "below the danger line."

"I consider it of the most urgent importance to the United States that this condition be rectified without delay," he said.

The chief of staff's warning on America's military standing, which he said was 17th in the world relative strength, was made in his annual report to Secretary of War George Dern.

In making specific recommendations for increasing the army's efficiency, MacArthur spoke of the "obvious state of unrest now prevailing throughout the world." The recommendations included:

A boost in regular army enlisted strength from 120,000 to 165,000, with immediate exemption of the enlisted man from the 15 per cent government pay cut.

An expenditure of nearly $200,000,000 on aircraft, modernization and motorization of the field artillery, mechanization, anti-aircraft equipment and general motorization.

Maintenance of the national guard at existing strength. At least 120,000 reserve officers with two weeks annual training for at least 30,000. At present there are 119,000 reserve officers.

BATTLING BUCK FALLS TO RIFLE AT LISTER

CRESTON, Nov. 26—A light fall of snow would be much to the liking of local hunters, with the deer season due to close Thursday. So far the take of venison has been light. One of the luckiest of the hunters is John Bird, postmaster and merchant at Camp Lister, who Wednesday morning discovered a pair of bucks with horns locked in battle on his ranch, in close proximity to the house. Losing no time in securing his rifle he brought down a fine four-point buck. Hunters report the ducks and geese as even more numerous than a year ago, with the season on these also due to close at midnight, Thursday.

SILVER MOVE ANTICIPATED

May Be Included in Gold-Control Program

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
(Associted Press Writer)

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Nov. 26 (AP).—President Roosevelt studied the domestic recovery campaign today in meetings with his principal aids. There were no announcements.

There has been a lot of talk about including silver in the gold-control program and something in line of aid for the silver industry is believed the next step.

Certainly there is no sign of any deviation from the administration program to increase the purchasing power through the gold-buying moves.

GANGSTERS PAY THEIR PENALTY

Are Found Murdered in Auto With Five Bullet Wounds

DETROIT, Nov. 26 (AP).—Slain in the manner of gangland, the bodies of Abe Axler, 34, Detroit public enemy and long known to New York police, and Eddie Fletcher, 33, identified with Axler in underworld activities here since 1926, were found early today in an automobile near the fashionable Bloomfield Hills suburb, 23 miles from here.

The bodies were found in the rear of a car owned by Axler's wife, parked on a lonely road. An autopsy indicated the men had been dead 30 minutes. Each had been shot five times. Both men were reputed members of the "Purple gang" here and had been taken into custody for questioning on nearly every major crime in the city since 1926. Police records show Axler in 13 years was arrested 18 times in Detroit, New York and Brooklyn.

ARABS STRIKE

JERUSALEM, Nov. 26 (AP).—The Arab executive today proclaimed a strike of all Arabs in Palestine to take place tomorrow and Wednesday in protest against the trials of Arab leaders for recent demonstrations against Jewish immigration.

MOTORSHIP SAILS FOR ALEUTIANS WITH CARGO OF CHRISTMAS NEEDS

SEATTLE, Nov. 26 (AP)—The motorship Dorothy sailed today to take two Christmasses to the lonely Aleutian islands, west of Alaska—one Christmas for white traders and one for the natives, who observe Greek Orthodox faith.

The barren island would see little of the trappings of yuletide if the Dorothy, sent by the Atka Trading company, failed to chug in with holiday food, toys, gay clothing jewelry and musical instruments.

Just about Dec. 25, she will reach the nearer islands of the group with a cargo of silk lingerie, evening gowns, high-heeled shoes, chiffon stockings and such luxuries for the families of the traders.

For the natives, who were trained in the Greek Orthodox faith when Alaska and the Aleutians were ruled by the czars of Russia, the yule season begins later, on Epiphany eve, Jan. 6, the natives, who speak a mixed tongue called Atka, compounded of Russian and Indian words, wants toys, oranges, fresh meat, butter and canned milk.

JAIL WRECKED AND MEN DRAGGED INTO PARK BY HUGE MOB

Police Officers Hurling Tear Bombs Are Powerless Against the Crowd; 6000 See the Lynching

CALIFORNIANS BEAT COUPLE UNMERCIFULLY BEFORE DEAD

Sheriff Beaten Into Unconsciousness; Dead Pair Admitted Kidnapping and Murder of Young Hart

SAN JOSE, Calif., Nov. 26 (AP).—The confessed kidnapper-slayers of Brooke Hart, San Jose youth, were lynched here tonight by a mob which broke into the jail and seized the pair.

The mob which had repeatedly been repulsed by tear gas bombs hurled by officers around the jail, finally battered down the jail door and were able to reach the men, Thomas H. Thurmond and John Holmes.

They were taken across the street from the jail into St. James' park and hanged.

Thurmond was entirely stripped.

Thomas H. Thurmond (left), and Jack Holmes, confessed kidnap-slayers of Brooke Hart (inset) son of a wealthy San Francisco merchant. Thurmond confessed young Hart had been murdered before ransom demands were made to his family.

When the mob entered the jail two men were seized but it was later found one of them was not connected with the kidnapping. The crowd tossed him aside, rushed back into the jail and seized the other kidnapper.

The two kidnappers were dragged 100 yards from the jail to the park. There, leaders of the mob sought a tree from which to hang them. Holmes' clothes were virtually torn from his body. Both were badly beaten and almost unconscious. The officers were powerless to cope with the mob.

Thurmond fainted and was unconscious when he was hanged.

Holmes resisted and threw the rope once off his neck. It was forced back on and he was raised kicking into the air.

Sheriff Willian Emig was taken unconscious to the hospital. He was beaten about the head.

The hanging was witnessed by a crowd of 6000. Thousands more were flocking to the park to see the bodies both hanging some 10 feet above the ground.

The crowd jeered as the pair were hanging. The interior of the jail was reduced to wreckage.

Brooke Hart was kidnapped on November 9 last as he was driving his automobile. According to the confessions of the two men lynched by the California mob, they took him to a bridge, hit him on the head with a brick, tied him up and dumped into the San Francisco bay. They then demanded $40,000 ransom. Fears against mob violence had been entertained by the police since their arrest.

BLANK SHELLS LATE MYSTERY

Husband Drawn Into Chicago Murder Case

CHICAGO, Nov. 26 (AP).—Solution of one of the most puzzling angles of the Wynekoop murder case was announced today by Assistant State's Attorney Charles S. D. Dougherty, with the discovery of several blank cartridges for the pistol with which Rheta Wynekoop was shot.

The cartridges were shown the prosecutor by Earle Wynekoop, husband of the slain girl, and are believed to explain the finding of three exploded shells in the gun despite the fact only one bullet took effect in Rheta's body.

"It is our theory Earle and his mother may have planned to kill Rheta for several weeks," Dougherty said. "If their plot was to confuse the issue, and to create just such a mystery as has been developed, the firing of blank cartridges in the gun would accomplish this end."

The youthful husband, Dougherty said, admitted purchasing the blank cartridges, which were in a box with several loaded shells, but offered no explanation other than that he "used them sometimes."

MYSTERY BLAST WRECKS BLOCK

Two Bodies Recovered in New Glasgow, N.S.

NEW GLASGOW, N. S., Nov. 26 (CP)—Victims of a terrific explosion that wrecked the heart of this town's business district, two bodies were recovered today from the ruins of a two-story brick building where the mysterious blast had its origin.

They were identified as Morris David and Simon Attis, merchants who had occupied adjoining stores in the building.

Mrs. Morris David, who saved herself by rushing to the street when the explosion occurred, lay in hospital tonight suffering from serious cuts and bruises.

Cause of the upheaval of brick, stone and wood was still unknown as workmen repaired half a dozen damaged stores in the vicinity and linesmen restored 300 telephones to use.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 26 (AP)—A mother and four children were burned to death early today when flames trapped them in their small frame house.

The victims, negroes, were Myrtle Parson, 43; Viola, 12; James, 11; Jean, 6, and Mildred, 2.

The husband and father, William Parson, 78, a laborer who got his first pay cheque in months yesterday, was critically burned.

Religious Strife Is Flaming in Germany

Union of Catholics and Protestants Is Hitler Aim

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
(Copyright, 1933, by the Associated Press)

BERLIN, Nov. 26 (AP)—If Adolph Hitler had his way he would unit all Germans, Catholic and Protestant, in one christian faith, just as he has united them politically.

It is an open secret that Reichbishop Ludwig Mueller has been dreaming of bridging the gap between Catholicism and Protestantism. So certain was he of success he advised Chancellor Hitler to join the National Evangelical church, which held its first national synod at Wittenberg, September 26.

It was thought the magnetism of Hitler's personality would sweep even the Catholics of Germany off their feet and carry them into the one United German church.

Baldur von Schirach, who as the reich's youth leader is in a pivotal position as far as Germany's future is concerned, repeatedly stated in public he favored one German church which would be neither Protestant nor Catholic.

Rev. Fritz Loerzer, vice leader of the "German Christians," told a representative of the Berliner Tageblatt, Aug. 13 that the team work of Hitler and Mueller constituted "the deepest symbol of our future activity."

Constructive Business in Manchuria Not War With Russia Is Japan's Aim

VANCOUVER, Nov. 26 (CP).—Japan is more concerned in doing a job of constructive business in Manchuria than she is with thinking of war with Russia—or with United States in the opinion of Hon Iyemasa Tokugawa, Japanese minister to Canada.

The Japanese diplomat arrived here last night with his daughter, Miss Toyoko Tokuawa, en route to Ottawa, where he will resume his duties after a six months' leave of absence.

"Not only have we no intention of war with Russia, and in this I think I can speak not only for the present government, but the Japanese people, but we have always regarded the new state of Manchukuo as a buffer between Japan and Russia, a sort of safety valve."

CITIES PRESS FOR QUICK AID FOR JOBLESS

Municipalities Are to Meet Cabinet in Two Weeks

VANCOUVER, Nov. 26—Early commencement of a provincial government program of public works to absorb unemployed of the province will be urged upon the government by the executive of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at a conference to be held in Victoria within the next two weeks.

Indication that organized municipalities of British Columbia intend to lose no time in pressing the new government to implement its campaign promise of "work and wages" was given on Saturday night when the executive of the municipal union met at the Vancouver city hall.

One of the chief points which will be brought forward at the projected conference will be the question of what part is to be played by municipalities in financing an extensive relief work program. If the province plans to proceed under the existing relief agreement, it will mean that costs will have to be shared equally by Dominion, province and municipalities.

It is this aspect which is causing concern among representatives of municipalities, according to remarks by members of the executive after Saturday night's meeting, which was held in private. Falling revenues and lack of municipal credit has resulted in a situation where few municipalities of British Columbia could find funds for extensive works. It is hoped, however, that any general work scheme—if municipalities are to share in the costs—will provide for advances from the Dominion to the province and thence to municipalities to cover the latters' costs.

"Some such system of governmental credit, at a low interest rate, might help to meet the situation," declared Reeve William Crouch of Saanich, president of the union.

However, in an effort to ascertain governmental proposals, a committee of the union's executive will meet Hon. G. S. Pearson, minister of labor, in Victoria next Thursday. It will also seek to "iron out" a few minor difficulties in relief administration.

COMMITTEE CHOSEN

It is expected that the conference between government and union's executive will take place the following week; and, in preparation for the discussion, the executive has chosen a committee which will canvass the whole relief work proposal from the standpoint of municipalities and submit its findings to the executive at a meeting in Victoria the day prior to the meeting with the government.

At the conference with the government municipal representatives will also reiterate their demands for restoration of government grants to municipalities to the basis which existed prior to 1931. They will also ask that the province reassume the burden of social service costs, which were placed on to municipalities. Ever since the former government reduced its financial aid to municipalities and unloaded a large portion of the social service costs, the union has been stubbornly fighting for a return to the old basis. They are hopeful that their efforts with the new government will meet with success.

Saturday night's meeting also saw the resignation of Hon. A. Wells Gray, minister of lands and mayor of New Westminster, from the position of secretary-treasurer of the union—a post which he has held since 1916. At the request of the executive, however, he agreed to continue in office until the organization's convention, which will open in Victoria on January 29.

Red Wings Are to Start Sawing Wood

The Nelson Red Wings hit for the bush this morning. While Mother Nature is making up her mind about ice the boys will begin at the small end of about 600 cords of wood with the buck saw and axe. Sooner than be idle for the time, the boys asked for work and have got it. The wood is in the Svoboda ranch vicinity and young foresters will sally forth each morning and return in the evening. Coach Jack Carr will be the straw boss, Walt Gillett is to go also.

N. J. Lowes, F. A. Whitfield and T. Brewer begin canvassing the city this morning.

PROVED by "Blood Tests"

Thousands of people in 72 different countries have declared that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been of definite benefit to them in the treatment of nervous, run-down conditions. That is evidence—now comes PROOF. It is furnished in the recorded results of "blood tests" made by a reputable physician on patients who were in a run-down, tired-out condition, due to impoverished blood.

The one sure proof of the efficiency of a blood-builder is its power to improve the haemoglobin, as the physician explained to his "blood test" patients, is the oxygen-carrying element of the blood. It builds body cells and clears the system of poisons. Normal health and energy are possible only when the haemoglobin content of the blood is normal.

The physician "blood tested" a typical group of under-par, anaemic people. They were put on a treatment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for a month, and were then given a second blood test. In the physician's own words, the haemoglobin increase was "nothing short of remarkable." The patients had better color, more pep and vigor, more desire to work. They were no longer anaemic. The physician's records of these cases are authentic, and copies will be given to any person who desires them.

Why not try this "blood tested," proven remedy? It will revitalize your run-down system and brighten your life. It will do as much for "teen age" girls and weak children. Your Druggist has Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—50 cents a package.

BUCK PATTULLO IS McGEER CRY

Give a Strong Opposition Urges "Gerry" on Election Eve

On the eve of the Vancouver and Victoria elections:

G. G. (Gerry) McGeer says "crying need" of this province is real opposition to the Pattullo government. He openly advised his friends to vote against the Pattullo candidates in Vancouver and Victoria.

At Victoria Hon. John Hart, minister of finance, declared Premier Pattullo will not sarry a chip on shoulder to Ottawa, but would seek aid for unemployment.

Hon. George S. Pearson declared there must be an improved scale of unemployment relief. He predicted changes in minimum wage and hours of work acts. The government intends to introduce a marketing act.

Premier Pattullo urged return of six Liberals as with one already opposing (G. G. McGeer) six more members opposing with deflection of a few Liberals could easily bring chaos.

ROSSLAND HAS EIGHT SIGNED

Reinikka Gets Puckmen on Prairie; May Be Still More

Rossland has arranged for eight hockey players from Calgary and vicinity to play for the Golden City this winter and among the array of stars are included Leo Shannon, Tommy McDowall, Jimmy McConnel, Mel Snowden, Ab Cronie, Sing Johnstone and Eddie Wares. McNamara and L. Anderson of Drumheller, Marshall of Vulcan, Dame and Rimstad of Edmonton are reported to be included among the players who will line up with the Rossland club.

The coaching of the team will be in the capable hands of Oliver Reinikka, former Canmore player, who played with Vancouver when the big western circuit operated, and with the Springfield Indians and other teams in the east.

The Calgary Herald carried the following in a news story: "Completing the greatest onslaught made on amateur hockey material in this city and district in the history of the game, a representative of the Rossland, B.C., Hockey club stepped into Calgary and arranged for the migration of no less than eight players during the last few days."

FRIENDSHIP IS SERMON THEME

Dr. Charles Endicott Is Speaker to the United Churches

"Friendship" was the theme of Dr. Charles Endicott, visiting speaker from Saskatoon, Sask., at the joint services of Trinity and St. Paul's United churches in St. Paul's church Sunday evening. Rev. W. C. Mawhinney and Rev. T. J. S. Ferguson assisted Dr. Endicott. The choirs of the two churches also united.

"You couldn't belong to a greater organization than the church, or one that was doing the fine social and spiritual work that it was," declared Dr. Endicott. "Never be ashamed to admit that," he urged, "for it was something to be proud of." He asked all to know more about the church and to spread that knowledge. Be friendly, for it was because no one cared for them that people generally slipped.

TWO MAIN REASONS

There were two main reasons why the friendly way was the best, asserted Dr. Endicott, and he stated he would illustrate it from messages he had heard given by two different speakers. The messages would show how it was often difficult to get people to accept the truth, and how great a service could be done by those who sought to meet the needs that others failed to meet.

The first was an incident in the life of his nephew, a missionary in China. Six hundred Communists had been imprisoned and had petitioned to learn English. He had offered his services as teacher, but at first they demurred because they thought he would attempt to teach them Christianity while he was doing so. Finally they agreed and the lessons began. After a time they asked him to read portions of the New Testament, which he refused to do, first because he said it was just a trap, and secondly because the governor would not allow it. They persisted even going so far as to petition the governor. So the governor granted it.

The reading of the New Testament was begun. Once the Communists found that Christianity was not something being forced on them by foreigners, they accepted it, and later when 30 of them were released, asked to join the church and were accepted. Friendship had done that.

AIDED OTHERS

The second instance was the case of a young man in Winnipeg who had asked for work, and got it, where most people would have given up. He took what was left over from a remnant sale, cleaned it, repaired it and made it serviceable. He had started taking what was given over by people as useless and now had a large business, and one which paid some thousands each year in wages, still of course making over things that had been discarded. Not only had he aided himself, but he had aided many others.

Jesus did the same for those who would listen to Him, concluded the speaker, He cleaned them, repaired them and fitted them for service.

TRAIL WINS BUT A SINGLE MATCH

Angus Beats Bush in Shuttle Tourney With Trafalgar

The Trafalgar club swept through its tournament against the Avenue Badminton club of Trail Saturday night, and but for the fine badminton of Angus, would have whitewashed the visitors. Stan Angus beat W. Bush in the men's singles match by 15-12, 15-7.

CELEBRATE END OF CHURCH YEAR

Jesus the Same for Ever Is Message of Archdeacon Graham

Sunday evening was the last night of the Anglican church year and at St. Saviour's church Ven. Archdeacon Fred H. Graham spoke on the importance of the event and the text "Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today and forever."

To a certain number the last night of the church year meant a great deal, especially to those who made it a habit of being regular at service. It was increasingly important as the years passed.

It was a time for reviewing the manner in which the application of Jesus' teaching had been treated in the first half and a time for preparing for the great day when "He gave his only begotten son."

In leaving the year, Ven. Archdeacon Graham expressed his wish to pass along the text "Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today and forever," found in the epistle to the Hebrews, as a motto. Conditions under which this was said were different from those of today. They had known Him for the marvel of His resurrection and His ascention, put were unable to visualize the way in which He was to influence the world. They were unable to forsee the difficulties which beset His teachers, the successes, the failures and the glorious triumphs. Jesus Christ was the same today, forever and forever, he said. Life was just a short span but touched by the spirit of Christ, held promise of eternity.

BORAH BACKS ROOSEVELT'S MONEY IDEAS

Reported Rift in the Board and U. S. Treasury

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP).—Public discussion over the United States government's monetary policies continued today while the capital awaited the return tomorrow of Acting Secretary Henry Morgenthau of the treasury, who has been in conference with President Roosevelt at Warm Springs, Ga.

R. L. Owen, former Democratic senator from Oklahoma, joined supporters of the presidential monetary program, contending in a statement "contractionists" of the currency, if their policy were followed, would intensify the depression and probably bring a "violent plunge into Communism."

Observers were looking to the posting of Monday's gold price to see if they could interpret the immediate trend of the gold-buying policy. At Warm Springs, Mr. Roosevelt has given indications he would adhere to the purchase plan for the time being.

Congressional leaders discussed in private the comment of Senator William Borah, Idaho Republican, supporting the president's program along with Senator Fess, Republican from Ohio, and others. They were awaiting further developments.

Senator Borah jumped into the free-for-all battle over the monetary program with a direct challenge Saturday to critics of the price-raising plan to offer something in its place other than "the policy under which we arrived at our present disastrous condition."

"The golden dollar is the most dishonest dollar ever created, except absolutely irredeemable paper money," he said.

Borah said neither Smith nor Warburg offered anything but a return to gold and he did not believe that would suffice.

Governor Black of the federal reserve board denied there was a conflict between the board and the treasury, following reports of such a rift arising from the board's last report which showed it had sold rather than bought, government bonds.

MASONIC ORDER GOES TO CHURCH

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 26.—D. Charles Endicott, western secretary for maintenance and missionary fund, with headquarters at Saskatoon, Sask., addressed the morning congregation at the Knox United church in Trail Sunday.

He pointed out that human needs required four things: material help, mental stimulus, spiritual assistance and friendship. He dealt largely with friendship and told of the success of Rev. James Endicott, his nephew in China, in his work among prisoners, imprisoned Communists, by his setting friendship first. He also cited the success of the goodwill industries, carried on by the United church.

To make these home and foreign tasks more successful, he urged support for the maintenance and missionary cause.

The Masonic order visited the church in the evening and Rev. Bryce H. Wallace chose as his subject "Building Brotherhood."

The text, taken from a section of the New Testament in St. Peter's address, "Honor all men, Love the Brotherhood, Fear God," advocated reverence in our heart, not cringing before our God.

JAPAN HAS 422 SHIPS TIED UP IN PORTS FOR SCRAPPING

Scrapping Law and Subsidy Not Working Right

TOKYO, Nov. 26 (CP)—The operation of the new Japanese ship building encouragement law is encountering an unexpected obstacle in the increased purchase here of worn-out foreign vessels for breaking-up purposes.

The law was designed to encourage ship building activities for the purpose of giving work to the Japanese shipyards and to improve the merchant marine by means of offering subsidies for new ships. The law stipulates, however, that for every ton of new shipping to be built under the subsidy benefit, two tons of old shipping must be scrapped.

There is an enormous demand in Japan for old iron and steel, and old vessels are one of the most fertile sources of this scrap Japanese owners of old vessels, however, are holding out for higher prices than the shipbreakers will pay in view of the fact that they can buy more cheaply abroad, including bringing the scrap ships to Japanese ports under their own power.

Thus the new law is promoting the very object it was intended to defeat, clogging up Japanese shipbuilders, and raising imports into the country coupled with payments abroad which otherwise might be kept at home.

Japanese owners of old vessels believe that prices for scrap will advance before long, and consequently are holding out, despite official advice to be more reasonable as to price, while it is understood that though these owners are trying to get the government to do something to prevent import of old ships, the latter refuses to act.

It is estimated that on October 15, there were 422 ships tied up in Japanese ports, the tonnage aggregating 177,000. This was a decline of 103 ships, aggregating approximately 100,000 tons, from the same date last year. Compared with September 15, however, the tonnage showed a gain of 7000, though there were 7 ships less.

Freight ships ordered to be constructed in Japanese yards under the new subsidy law in the last fiscal year aggregated 50,000 tons. Up to date during the present fiscal year the total ordered has reached 72,600 tons. It is expected that before the present fiscal year ends some 35,000 tons more will be ordered of the freight class. The speed of these ships ranged between 16 to 18.5 knots, and the tonnage ranged between 4600 and 10,000 tons.

BUSINESS HOLDS OWN IN CANADA

Business continues slow on the prairies and apples are moving much slower than a year ago at Edmonton, states the market newsletter issued by the department of agriculture from Victoria. Calgary notes only a slight improvement in the apples situation, as does Saskatoon.

Edmonton—Busines is exceptionally quiet and complaints are heard among those concerned. Apples are moving in much less volume than a year ago. Rain, snow and mud of the past three weeks has been a contributory cause but merchants complain of a noticeable falling off of business activity generally. Apple prices are fairly steady for standard varieties but prices in general have declined to a point where the wholesale is getting very little margin. McIntosh bulk is quoted at 90 cents to $1.10 and loose pack $2.25 to $2.50 per cwt. Several concerns, not in the business hitherto, have again entered the general competition and a feeling of uncertainty and anxiety prevails throughout the wholesale trade. One of these outsiders brought in a car of mixed celery and apples on the 16th, which futher adds to the chaotic condition of the celery market which within recent years has never been so low, $2.50 to $3.00 per cwt., by the crate, being the prevailing quotations. Onion prices are slightly lower. There are heavy offerings of all local vegetables including potatoes but prices generally remain stable. Potatoes, local netted Gems are 90 cents to $1.00 per cwt. Car arrivals for week. B.C. —8 apples, 1 mixed fruit and vegetables. Imported—1 vegetables, 1 cranberries, 1 grapes, 1 oranges, 1 citrus fruits.

CALGARY

The market is very quiet and price changes not important. The apple situation shows only slight improvement. Jobbing prices on the 65-pound carton varies from $1.30 to $1.40 for the same variety and quality. Unless some of the B. C. shippers are secretly generous to their jobber friends, it means that these jobbers are taking a loss as this particular carton—McIntosh —is costing $1.33 delivered. Wrapped apples are selling very slowly. Ontario barrel apple sales, after the first splurge, have gone dead and repeat orders are not coming in. The potato and onion markets are still weak. Root and ground vegetables are very plentiful and prices very low. B. C. and Alberta hothouse tomatoes are selling at $2.75 to $3. per crate. Potatoes, Alberta Gems, 80 cents to 85 cents per cwt. B. C. Gems are quoted at $1.85 per cwt. Car arrivals Nov. 11 to 17, 1933. Alberta—1 potatoes; B. C.—1 potatoes, 1 celery, 2 apples bulk containers, 1 apples and vegetables, 3 box apples, 1 mixed apples and onions, 1 apples and pears. Imported—1 grapes, 3 Washington vegetables, 5 citrus fruits.

REGINA

Weather here clear and cool with snow practically all gone. The market is very slow—no matter what price jobbers are asking there seems to be a scarcity of money. There is no change in prices. Some McIntosh in 65-pound boxes are arriving in poor condition, being too ripe and badly bruised. Car arrivals for the past week: B. C.—6 boxed apples; Sask.—1 mixed vegetables; Alberta — 1 potatoes; Man.— 1 potatoes. Imported— 1 grapes, 1 oranges, 1 Washington head lettuce.

SASKATOON

The weather was mild all week and the snow has disappeared. Business was slow until the last two days of the week when there was some improvement. Apple sales were slower, the wrapped stock being especially affected. McIntosh in jumbo crates is still one of the best sellers and bulk of which there is only a limited quantity on this market. McIntosh apples in the jumbo crates are retailing at eight pounds for 25 cents. Some fancy wrapped McIntosh are quoted as low as $1.65 per box retail. Pear stocks are light and sales slow. Tomatoes are scarce and the wholesale price jumped 75 cents per crate on express arrivals. These are now quoted at $3.25 per crate. California Emperor grapes are retailing at two pounds for 25 cents and this price is speeding up sales. B. C. celery and California head lettuce are moving in good volume. Celery is retailing at from 5 cents to 10 cents per pound and head lettuce at 10 cents each. Another car of good quality vegetables, chiefly cabbage, was received from Manitoba. Onions and potatoes continue to move quite freely on this market. The bulk of potato arrivals is now coming from Manitoba. These are quoted at 90 cents to $1.20 No. 1 per 90 pounds. Car arrivals for week: Man. —1 vegetables, 3 potatoes; Sask.— 2 potatoes; B. C.—5 apples, 1 celery. Imorted—1 lemons.

WINNIPEG

Weather mild and cloudy. Business is fair. Apples are mostly moving in jumbo crates and bulk. Box apple sales are slow. Ontario apple receipts are light. There is practically no change in prices. Car arrivals for the past two weeks are as follows: Ontario—2 bulk apples. 6 hampers, 8 barrels; B. C.—30 bulk, 12 boxed apples, 2 pears, 3 celery, 1 onions, 1 strawberries. Imported—1 tomatoes, 1 Washington lettuce, 1 Spanish onions.

STAR OF EARTH

By Octavus Roy Cohen

CONCLUSION

"About midnight, while Mr. Shannon was dictating to me, I saw Mr. Devoe cross the lot and start toward his office by a route which I knew would carry him through the Chinatown set.

"I knew Tanse was there. I remembered that he was carrying a gun to defend himself against John. I was afraid John had a gun, too. That was when I tore away in the middle of the dictation. But I dared not go straight to the place where Tanse was. I wanted to head John off . . . and that was when I almost bumped into you and Mr. Glynn near Bergdorf's sound stage. I didn't think that things would happen so horribly quickly."

"And," asked Hanvey, "you saw Devoe kill Tanse?"

"I—I saw the end of the struggle. I heard the shots and then saw Tanse drop. I grabbed John and we ran past that old Morrish fortress and into the darkness beyond. We waited there a while and then went to his office. Not until then did I know that Marian was not dead—that the hospital had reported she would recover as soon as she slept off the medicine which they had not been able to pump out of her.

John and I talked it over. No one had seen the actual shooting, and we knew it was self-defence. We couldn't explain without ruining Marian's entire future. And we decided, for her sake, to keep it secret until—or if—some one seemed in danger of being convicted. Of course we didn't suspect then all the horrible things that would happen."

Hanvey spread his hands on the desk and faced the reporters.

"There's the story. The impulsive act of a child who imagined her life ruined, started the whole thing. Miss Venable struggled bravely to save that child's reputation, because she knew that the world would be eager to think just exactly what John Devoe first thought.

"The balance of Devoe's story I believe to be true. He was walking toward his office and saw Tanse. He advanced toward the actor with the Baromile bottle in his hand, intending to find out definitely just what had gone on between Tanse and Marian.

"Tanse, terrified, pulled his gun and fired at the unsuspecting Devoe. Devoe, who is a big man and army trained, acted instinctively. He jumped on Tanse and in the struggle the shot which killed Tanse was fired.

"Meanwhile, the actions of the others are easy to check up. We know that Bergdorf had engaged Kanzler because he hoped that Iris's ex-husband might do something violent. Bergdorf saw Iris and Kanzler walk off together. He hid himself on the other side of the wall of the Paris set and listened to their quarrel. He knew that it was Kanzler who struck Iris Randall and knocked her out. But he twisted the truth deliberately so as to make it look bad for her.

"Kanzler really thought that Bergdorf had killed Tanse. He knew that Iris was innocent. And Iris told the truth when she said that she didn't know who had done it. As for Mr. Devoe, I cannot doubt that he acted in self-defense. I believe the district attorney agrees with me."

The prosecutor nodded. "I do," he said. "We may have to go through certain formalities, but I cannot see any danger that Devoe will be convicted."

Hanvey addressed the reporters once more.

"I've come clean," he said quietly. "I hope you'll do what you can to protect Marian Devoe."

The spokesman nodded. "I don't think you need worry about that," he said, "Especially if Devoe isn't actually brought to trial."

"He won't be," stated the district attorney, "I can pretty well promise that."

At a gesture from Hanvey the reporters surged toward the door, each eager to be the first to reach a telephone. Jim fumbled in his pocket and produced a black and evil cheroot which he lighted with affectionate care. He extended one to Dave Robins.

"Not me," grinned Dave.

"Why not?" inquired Jim .

"Because I'm going home," said Robbins. "I need sleep, and to make sure I get it, I'm gonna take a dose of Baromile."

Jim did not answer. He was gazing at two couples: John Devoe and Mary Venable in one corner and Stuart Trent and Glory Hale in another. There was a dreamy, faraway look in his drowsy eyes.

"It's a great town," murmured Jim Hanvey irrelevantly "this Hollywood."

ENFORCE THE MILK LAW

Enforcement in Nelson of the provincial milk act is the only practical means of ensuring a pure milk supply, a matter almost as vital, as Dr. Simmonds, the medical health officer, has pointed out, as a pure water supply.

Contaminated milk is a menace which all health authorities and all medical men fear. They know the consequences of consumption of milk which contains filth or is otherwise contaminated.

Not only in the November report of the laboratory tests do we find that of the 15 dairies whose milk was examined the product of 20 per cent was "unsatisfactory," which means dangerous for human consumption, but dairymen pointed out to the council at the last meeting that 17 or 18 unlicensed dairies were selling milk in Nelson.

These milk "bootleggers" are selling milk which is subject to no inspection and no bacteriological examination. If of the dairies whose milk has been tested 20 per cent are selling contaminated milk heaven only knows what impurities and baccilli the milk of the unlicensed dairies may contain. The council has ordered an immediate check-up of these dairies.

But there can be no effective control without enforcement of the provincial Milk Act. Enforcement is vital to the public health and there is the secondary consideration that dairies which have spent large sums to enable them to produce milk under safe and sanitary conditions should be protected against the dairies which are producing milk under conditions which would horrify those who are consuming it.

As The Nelson Daily News has pointed out, the provincial Milk Act does not enforce pasteurization. That is not the issue. The Milk Act provides for sale of raw milk from Grade "A" dairies, as is being done by scores of efficiently operated dairies in the 11 cities, most of them smaller than Nelson, in which the law is being enforced. The Act does forbid the sale of milk whether pasteurized or not by ungraded dairies, and it does provide that dairies which do not grade "A" must have their milk pasteurized. All over this continent similar Acts are in force and they have done much to prevent epidemics and to save the lives and health of children.

Nelson cannot afford to continue to allow the sale of milk carrying the germs of diseases.

AN ABLE CIVIL SERVICE

Official announcement comes from Ottawa of the retirement of Canada's senior trade commissioner, Donald H. Ross, who for 30 years has been Canada's representative at Melbourne, Australia. Mr. Ross opened Canada's trade office in Melbourne in 1903, and for three decades has no only been a trade commissioner, but has represented the Dominion somewhat in the capacity of a high commissioner.

Canada has a trade commission corps of which it has reason to be proud. The fact that Canada today is the world's fifth exporting nation is in large part due to her aggressive representatives in all parts of the world, ever alert for new business for Canadian exporters. It was in the early part of the century that the trade commission service was first established. Unfortunately in the early days it was looked upon as a matter of patronage and in many cases political friends with few qualifications were given posts abroad. They treated their jobs as sinecures.

It was Sir George Foster who frist put the trade commission service on a sound basis and introduced the idea of securing young university students, well trained in economics and trade, for this service. He took the service out of politics. He built up a corps of keen young men, who were first given training and experience at Ottawa. Hon. James Malcolm expanded and developed the service. He opened up new offices and encouraged in every way the young commissioners. It was Mr. Malcolm who was largely responsible for having the trade commissioners make periodic tours of the Dominion in order to keep abreast of Canadian industries development and to get in touch with Canadian manufacturers and importers. Hon. H. H. Stevens has carried out the traditions established by Sir George Foster and Mr. Malcolm. He appreciates the value of foreign trade. Despite the necessity for economy he has kept up the trade commissionership service at full strength. Mr. Stevens is particularly interested in tthe Oriental trade and has improved our Oriental connections. He has taken every possible step to secure advantage of the Empire agreements.

There are people who sometimes complain about our civil service, but the Canadian trade commissioners are a group of men who conscientiously, earnestly and ably act as Canada's commercial travelers in all parts of the world.

Suffice it to say that somewhere in Suffolk, England, is the parish register of an ancient village church the original of this amazing bill, presented by a painter many years ago, is still preserved.

Stanley Baldwin's son, Oliver, who, among other things, is the British Broadcasting company's new film critic, has written a book, "Unborn Son," giving his views on a wide range of subjects in the form of advice to his imaginary son.

Although himself unmarried, Mr. Baldwin gives much advice to married people. If you want to be happy though married you should:

Live apart for at least four weeks every year.

Have complete liberty of action for both, unless in individual cases it has been decided otherwise by discussion.

Not interfere with what each is to wear.

Have complete independence of thought.

Arrange for one party to leave the room at the first sign of temper or nagging from either side.

Forbid jealousy; punishment for its expression being eight weeks apart instead of four.

A farmer once hung his vest on a fence in his barnyard. A calf chewed up a pocket in the garment, in which was a gold watch. Seven years later the animal, a staid old milch cow, was butchered for beef, and the timepiece was found in such a position between the lungs of the cow that the respiration kept the stem-winder wound up, and the watch had lost only four minutes in the seven years.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Speak of Wars Truthfully as Wasteful Butchery

The Editor Daily News:

Sir—The recent letter of Rev. W. J. Silverwood regarding some not generally known facts about the inner history of the World War, as well as the enlightening comments by "Canadian" in a subsequent issue, possess an educative value in the "Debunking" of war-making in general, and provide food for serious thought. There is still much war talk in the air, and publishers state there is in consequence a heavy demand for books about war and peace. It is not surprising. Apprehension is a thing very near to the human heart, and it is to the hopes and fears of the human heart that the common people, whose lot it is to fight and laugh, fight and cry, or fight and die, will always turn.

There have been enough books written about the last war—our excellent Municipal Library has an excellent selection—revealing volumes indeed, that everyone of mature age should read and keep their contents in mind when feather-brains talk idly of "the next war". To those of us who were mere numbers—front or rear rank—in the last war, these books have come as a shocking revelation of the ineptitude of our masters. Had we suspected when marching front-linewards that those in whom we were expected to place a blind trust were oft-times the fools these books reveal them to have been—Well, anything might have happened. "Such incredible blunders, stupid rivalries, squandering of lives and money with a criminal prodigality, failure after failure in diplomacy and strategy" . . .

No wonder that towards the end, when even the rank and file gained an inkling of the futility of it all, there was much murmuring among the "troops" under the banners and bannerets of Empire, and the war was openly referred to as "The Great Swindle". What actual good came of it all? Not enough to cover with butter the bread of one workless man's child. Only ruin and grief were the unforgettable portion of humanity, victors and vanquished alike. Think once again of the millions of slain and the destruction of an amount of material wealth which is incalculable War has not yet been sufficiently "debunked". The enduring sentimentality about it all, its meretricious glamor, is the great enemy of Peace. Somehow, despite everything, the sentimental feeling that war is an heroic thing is still retained. As a matter of fact, it is almost comically unheroic. One forsees the danger to the uprising generation, for the youth of many nations pays little heed to the warnings of those who were witnesses of the World war. Our war books have done no good seemingly; our war films, depicting the realities of war, have not frightened the younger mind, have indeed perhaps only excited it to taste that fierce intoxication. It is not seen in its true light as "The Big Bad Wolf" of civilizations.

We must continue to speak of war truthfully as the foul and wasteful butchery that it has always been; how foul, only the men who fought the battles can really know; non-combatants can have no adequate conception. Let us "debunk" war to our children at every opportunity, tear away the false cloak of its gorgeous militarism, and reveal it in its true light as the ugly pride of murder; really, we should even regard the Aldershot Military Tattoo as a barbaric survival.

Odd that so many good people, even many deeply religious people, believe that the moral laws, which restrain an individual in his private life, do not and should not restrain an individual in his private life, do not and should not restrain anyone when acting on behalf of his country under the guise of a nationalistic patriotism.

The answer is, of course, that mankind has been nutured in this mesmeric belief with the result that it has now become one of those articles of faith which are accepted rather than examined.

I pick up an newspaper, and what do I read? "Tomorrow, the Queen of Italy will preside at the ceremony of presenting model machine guns to Fascist children's Organizations"! One can hardly expect that the Consort of Mussolini's King can thereby be considered a fitting candidate for the Nobel Peace Prize this or any other year. The same paper also reveals that the Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Parliament has decided not to award the Nobel Peace Prize this year. It seems that there has been no notable contribution to this cause of world peace, neither in the League of Nations, or out of it—"The year", the dispatch concludes, "will pass into history as a world-wide reversion to fear, suspicion, animosity and the whole hateful spirit of war." It only indicates what a stranglehold this war business has on the world at large. Some take delight in voicing the time-worn shibboleth—"Man is a fighting animal", and let it go at that. In the dawn of history, some original genius, whoever he was, proposed and persuaded his fellow creatures that men, living as friends, would be an invincible combination against the alien forces of nature. Our civilization, such as it is, is the fruit of peace, not of war, a house built at leisure out of the energies that would have otherwise been dissipated in keeping the hard-won necessaries out of the hands of others. War is a cult, not an instict. The most part of us live without any sort of weapon, defensive or offensive, in the thick of our neighbors. Your yearly budget and mine do not provide for lethal weapons. The transformation from the predatory cave-man to the peaceful citizen—we are all really peaceful at heart, and yet we go to war when the bugles call; how Mad-Hatterish it all seems, was brought about by a change of mind, the change from fear to trust, which brings one to the irrefutable statement that fear is the most dangerous as well as the most uncomfortable of emotions. Fear is the cause of all war, and until it is destroyed within the individual consciousness, then there is little hope for a surcease from the periodic outburst of armed fonflict. Much more could one write, but space precludes.

The situation is by no means hopeless, and these few observations are not penned in a pessimistic strain. There is an expressed determination of a large section of the world's youth to resist the demands of war, and to prove that while war may be inherent to our modes of civilization, it is not innate in mankind. There are conscientious objectors and passive resisters even in France and Hitlerized Germany. English youth too, is deeply resentful of the war spirit. Not every one, even in Nazi-land, is longing to die with a piece of shell in his stomach!

There are hopeful signs that something more constructive than mere disillusion is developing among the peoples. In millions of minds, there is the consciousness that another war would write the word finis to our era of civilization.

As I write, there comes to my ears over the radio the tuneful cowboy melody of "The Last Round-up". That is surely what another war would mean to the world as we know it at present.

One can only write, in conclusion, that 15 years after the Armistice of 1918, the forces working for peace in thoughtful minds, in tolerant hearts, in the soul of humanity itself, are discouraged, but not defeated.

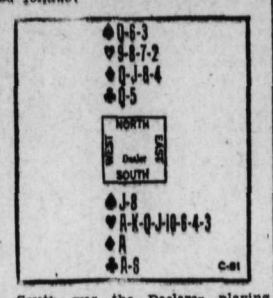
Auction and Contract Bridge

By the World's Leading Authority, MILTON C. WORK

PICK YOUR PLAY

In a recent duplicate game of unusual competitive interest and exceptional standard of play, an interesting situation occurred. The North-South cards were distributed as follows:



South was the Declarer playing a contract of four Hearts, West led a Club, dummy's Queen was played and surprisingly enough, it held the trick, West having opened a King suit; consequently, at least five odd was assured. However, in a duplicate game the Declarer is more than ever anxious to take every possible trick and the question of card management to accomplish this result elicited many and varied opinions in the expert post mortems following the play.

Some contended that the lead to trick 2 should be the Deuce of Hearts to eliminate the danger of unnecessarily losing a trick through a ruff by the lone outstanding trump a not-to-be-disregarded danger in view of the unusual card distribution in the Declarer's hand.

But even among those agreeing to this play, a difference of opinion arose as to the subsequent development of the hand. One faction contended that the singleton Ace of Diamonds, should be led to trick 3, and on trick 4 dummy should be put in with a trump to lead the Queen of Diamonds, and if East failed to cover, South should pass the trick, figuring that the best chance for getting a Spade discard would be that East held the King of Diamonds.

Others, while agreeing to the trump lead to trick 2 and the Ace of Diamonds to trick 3, felt that the dummy should next be entered by a trump, a small Diamond led and ruffed with an honor by Declarer's hand. If by chance the King fell on this play, two Spade discards were afforded; if not, then dummy should again be entered via the trump route, another Diamond led and ruffed with another honor. If the King now dropped, one Spade discard would be afforded.

Still other contended that on trick 2before giving East any information concerning South's enormous trump length, the Queen of Diamonds should be led from dummy to inveigle East into playing his King in accordance with the old precept of always covering an honor with an honor.

What would you do?

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

HOW WE KNOW INFECTED TEETH CAUSE ILLNESS

A few years ago one of the witty sayings was "It is easy to be a doctor, all you have to say is "It's your teeth that are the cause of your illness.'"

The fact that the teeth were considered the cause of disease was said to be a "new" invention of the doctors.

As a matter of fact, in 1801 Dr. Benjamin Rush, the famous physician, reported the cure of disease by extraction of diseased teeth.

Unfortunately the relation of diseased teeth to disease was only discovered about 25 years ago, but it has now been so thoroughly proven that one never hears any more jokes about it. Bad teeth and their deadly effect upon the body is now known in practically every household.

How do physicians and dentists know that teeth definitely cause illness?

1. A patient is suffering with rheumatism, heart, kidney or other illness, and after removal of bad teeth or tooth, he is in a very short time free of any of the symptoms. In some cases the symptoms flare up immediately after the removal of the teeth, but in a few days or weeks at most, symptoms which have been present for months and years disappear.

2. In examining under the microscope the little organisms that have been found about the infected teeth, they have found this same type of organism in the diseased part, such as in an infected knee or other joint.

3. By taking these organisms found about the diseased teeth and injecting them into animals they have been able to produce the same illnesses as those which they caused in man.

From the above you can readily see why the dentist of the future will really be a physician who is a mouth specialist just as another physician is an eye or heart specialist.

Thus Dr. Herbert V. Dobson, of Peterborough, Ontario, a physician, suggests the need for "team" work between physicians and dentists. For instance, a patient with an inflamed eye, consults an eye specialist, who thinks that some body condition is causing the trouble and sends the patient to a physician who suspects the teeth and he sends him to the dentist who treats or removes the teeth which are suspicious and the eye condition clears up.

Or a patient consults a dentist who finds a long standing infection of the teeth, and advises the patient to consult his physician and learn what harm if any may have been done to the body, heart, joints, kidneys or other parts, by this infection.

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN

Monday, Nov. 27, 1933.—Clear and cold nearly everywhere, but about northwest and north clouding up and becoming slightly unsettled with scattering precipitation.

Tuesday, Nov. 28. — Change to warmer in west, but east remains cold; unsettled with considerable precipitation about north and midwest; probably mild storm disturbance in central sections.

Wednesday, Nov. 29. — Continues much warmer in most central provinces but cold in east; some precipitation and mildly stormy about southern borders and southeast sections.

Thursday, Nov. 30.—Mild storm with snow flurries along southern sections and east; changing to colder in west and northwest but somewhat warmer about the eastern sections.

Friday, Dec. 1.—Cold wave from the northwest and generally clearing weather, except light precipitation about southeast sections where it remains moderately warmer.

Saturday, Dec. 2. — Temperatures generally somewhat lower; mild disturbance with some precipitation about southeastern sections of central provinces.

Sunday, Dec. 3.—Some stormy weather but not very much snow; temperatures generally nearly stationary or slightly lower; in Great Lakes regions rather unsettled, some snow.

Week of Nov. 27 to Dec. 3, 1933, in central provinces begins with clear, cold weather, which soon clouds up in most sections and becomes considerably warmer. Scattering precipitation under storm condition, especially about the southeast border sections. Near 29 or 30 unsettled weather, carried in by a cold wave, is expected to come on from the west and lasting several days, though changeable in passing the different sections. Precipitation in general is expected to be below the normal in most sections except in the Great Lakes country.

As the month of November ends in these regions this year a sudden warm spell is expected, but as it appears to last only a short time, quickly followed by a longer period of cold weather, it does not seem to offer any particular advantage. The autumn has been quite mild, with no very severe storms, though near last of October temperatures in many sections dropped to rather low seasonal levels, but now the weather takes on the form of a series of cold waves with short moderating spells in between them. The cold waves are dated near Nov. 16, 25 and Dec. 5, the mild spots coming on about Nov. 22, 29 and Dec. 10.

PATMORE-BLANEY WEDDING PRETTY

Kimberley United Church Is Scene of Marriage

KIMBERLEY, Nov. 26—The United church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday when Garnet Wolsey Patmore of Cranbrook and Lily Maud Blaney were married. The altar was banked with flowers and greenery against a dark green velvet curtain. Rev. R. Cribb performed the ceremony. The bride looked very charming in a gown of white satin with net veil and carried a bouquet of ferns and chrysanthemums of rosy mauve color.

The bridesmaid, her sister, Miss Phyllis Blaney, wore a royal blue gown, ruffed and full skirted with slight crinoline effect; slippers of royal blue and white silk sash and wide brimmed white hat.

The groom was supported by Roy Linnell of Cranbrook.

The bride's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Blaney, were present, her sisters, Evelyn and Mrs. McLean, with her children Kenneth and Donald; her brothers Brinley and Clifford; also the groom's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Patmore, his sisters Gertrude and Mary, and his brother Alan. With them was his aunt Mrs. Graham from Kingsgate.

After the ceremony the happy pair drove to the home of the bride's parents where a wedding supper was served. Before the supper finished the bride and groom slipped out by way of a window and escaped the customary wedding farewells. They motored to Spokane for their honeymoon.

Norman Bentley and Clifford Blaney were ushers at the church for the wedding.

DRIVER'S LOSS KIDS' GAIN

Oranges Roll Down Street to Eager Hands

Old St. Nick appeared in a new guise, that of an unsuspecting truck driver, Saturday, for the delight of several Nelson youngsters. Standing in the vicinity of the post office they were astonished, and to say the least, delighted, to see a veritable flood of big, luscious oranges come rolling down Ward street. The oranges soon disappeared as did several lemons.

The unexpected shower of fruit came when a case of oranges and lemons fell off the back of a truck and broke open. The driver was unaware of his loss, which served again to demonstrate "It's an ill wind—."

"STRENGHT FROM GOD" SUBJECT

Rev. Mr. St. Denis Is Preacher at Trail

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 26.—"Strength From God" was the subject of the sermon of Rev. F. G. St. Denis at the morning service in First Presbyterian church, Sunday. The text was from Isa. 40:31. "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength," from which was drawn the lesson of God's power in human life is manifest to the one who is in heavenly communion.

"The strength from God comes in three ways. The man who waits on God gets a new view of the meaning of life for the promise is that they shall mount up with wings as eagles. In the race of life, there is rest for the weary. Life is a continual contending and in the struggle the Lord will give the needed help. But the most of a man's existence is not characterized as a run but a walk. There is much of monotony, routine, and the quiet carrying on from day to day. This is the test that breaks many, but those who wait on the Lord, in their walk will not faint."

The junior choir led the service of praise.

EVANGELISTIC SERMON

In the evening the minister preached an evangelistic sermon on "The Forgiveness of Sins," dealing frankly with the nature and penalty of sin as it is seen in the lives and hearts of men. It was shown that the only forgiveness was through death of Christ as the sacrifice. The problem of the justice of God and His love was shown to be merged in Calvary. An appeal was made for a surrender to Christ by faith.

At the services it was announced that James Kirker and Angus Murray had been elected as elders by the vote of the congregation, and that they would be ordained to the eldership and inducted into the session at special services to be held next Sunday morning. Mr. St. Denis will conduct the ceremony and will be assisted by the present elders, John Allison, Noble Binns and J. E. Carter.

Toy Matinee in Trail Successful

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 26.—Over 300 toys of all kinds, many of them in first class condition and others needing a little repair work only, were piled up in the lobby of the Rialto theater Saturday morning at the special toy matinee in aid of the Scout-Guide toy shop.

Among the 300-odd articles received Saturday morning were 60 dolls. There were about 60 toys and books and other playthings which will not require repairing.

Rovers are to take charge of the toy shop, situated this year at the Crown Point, Tuesday night.

Trail FROM Day to Day by A. R. J.

Saw Bill Lauener, Bert Gordon, Parker Williams, taking in a movie—Curly Wheatley, Fred Scott, talking about hockey—which would be the natural thing for them to talk about—heard "Fergie" Fergus talking about soccer—heard Tommy Needham naming off streets and places in London, England—Jim Schofield and Charlie Dodimead rendered salutations from Jim's open car—they looked rather chilly—Jack Mackinnon and Pete Levesque chewing the rag—Phil Williams proceeding along Cedar avenue—passed the time of day with A. E. Allison—he looks the same as when he taught school in Nelson eleven or more years ago—S. H. Kyle enjoying dinner—Andy Thornbur as busy as ever.

* * *

A banner strung across Cedar avenue advertising an affair of the Trail Rover scouts fell down the other day, most likely a prey to the wind. The boys had apparently "been prepared" for the wind for the banner had been riddled with holes to take the wind out of the sail as it were. But nevertheless it was down—but not for long—for later a couple of scouts were up the poles doing their boy scout deed for the day and at the same time keeping their banner flying.

It was not so very long ago that the American dollar was worth more than the bill on which the picture of our King predominates.

But such is not the case now. Whereas in the past everyone would take American dollars as quick as a wink so that they could possibly collect a little from it through some friend who was taking a trip over the line, store keepers have a hard job getting rid of cartwheels or bills minted in the United States.

Friday Eric Brown handed two cartwheels over a counter to Jack Aldridge.

"Now watch for the fight," mused Eric.

"You bet your life," said Jack, "There will be one if you don't give me two dollars in Canadian money."

CRIBBAGE DRAWS LESS THAN BRIDGE

CRESTON, Nov. 26—By way of variety the Community Society at Camp Lister tried out a cribbage tournament in place of the usual bridge at the semi-weekly meeting last night, but the expected attendance from other points in the valley was not in evidence. The first prize went to Miss May Webster, vice-principal of the Camp Lister school, and H. C. Sparrow captured second place. The evening was under the direction of Frank Baker.

Mrs. M. Ross was a Wynndel visitor during the week, a guest of her niece, Mrs. Clarence Ogilvie.

Miss Betty Ostrensky has returned from Spokane, Lewiston, Idaho, and other U.S. points. The trip was made by auto, in company with Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Rudd.

Clarence Davis of Innisfail, Alta. is renewing old acquaintances in this section this week.

EFFICACY OF PRAYER TOPIC

Rev. David Brunstrom Is Speaker at Trinity

"I believe in prayer because I believe in God," declared Rev. David Brunstrom of the Scandinavian church of Spokane, in speaking at the Trinity United church Sunday morning when he chose as his sermon theme, "The Efficacy of Prayer."

Reading from the Book of Luke, Mr. Brunstrom pictured the scene where Peter had been thrown into prison by the Romans, and the church, missing his help and guidance, were praying for him at the home of Mary.

It was a wonderful contrast, he stated, the dark, gloomy prison in the foreground, with its guards, chains, and heavy prison walls, and in the background the vision of the praying church. The Christians lacked the power to get Peter free, but they could pray to God for his deliverance. So they joined in earnest prayer, and it was fulfilled., for Peter was miraculously freed by an angel, even though he had been sleeping between two guards and heavily chained.

BELIEVE IN MIRACLES

"I believe in God, therefore I believe in prayer," continued Mr. Brunstrom. "And I believe in the miracles of God." God was mightier than man and He could do things that man could not understand. If people would pray to Him, would lift their voices to Him, He would do things that man could explain.

ASLEEP SPIRITUALLY

There were many in Peter's condition spiritually, they were sleeping the sleep of indifference or sin. Peter might have told the angel there was no use trying to escape, that he was chained and guarded on either side. But he did not, he obeyed and gained his freedom.

Many more people were stressing the worldly side of life instead of the spiritual. Wealth and social position meant more to them than prayer and faith.

Prayer service, he concluded, was the thermometer of the church, and where it was faint, so also was the church. God answered prayer and in unity of prayer there was great strength.

Slice thinly four medium sized cold boiled potatoes and six hard boiled eggs. Butter a baking dish and dispose a layer of prepared potatoes, sprinkle lightly with salt, pepper, and finely choped chives, or onion juice; cover with a layer of eggs, sprinkle with salt, pepper and a thin grating of cheese. Repeat until potatoes, eggs and one-quarter cup grated cheese have been used. Pour over to cover thin white sauce, to which has been added one-quarter cup grated cheese and a few grains cayenne. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in hot oven until crumbs are brown.

ROAST HAM

Soak a 14 pound ham several hours in equal parts of cold water and sweet cider. Drain, scrape and trim off skin near shank. Put into a stock pot with one cup each of sliced onion, carrot, three sprigs parsley, piece of bay leaf, one teaspoon peppercorns, one-half dozen cloves. Cover with cold water and simmer until tender, about four hours. Add one quart cider after two hours cooking. Let cool in the liquor. Peel off skin, sprinkle with brown sugar and bread crumbs. Bake in oven slowly one hour, add dash paprika and stick with cloves. Serve hot or cold.

BAKED POTATOES EN SURPRISE

Wash and pare large, uniform-sized potatoes. With an apple corer remove two rod-like sections from each. Fill cavities with "little pig" sausages, first removing the skins. Replace a plug in each cavity to cover sausages. Put in a dripping pan and bake in oven till potatoes are soft. Baste with sausage fat while baking.

Unprepared potatoes may be baked the same way omitting the basting while baking.

EGG SCALLOP

Drop raw eggs into cream sauce; sprinkle with cheese and bake until eggs are set.

EGGS IN TOAST

Toast inch thick squares of bread, scoop centre out, drop raw egg into hollow. Grate cheese over it, bake till eggs are cooked.

Prayer Subject of Rev. Mr. Morrant

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 26—Sunday evening at St. Andrew's Anglican church Rev. L. A. Morrant spoke on the subject "Why Pray?"

The text was taken from I. Timothy, 2:8. "I will therefore that men pray everywhere lifting up holy hands without wrath and doubting."

A prayer is not simply a means of getting something from God. Some people regard God as existing chiefly for their material well being, as a force of electricity to be used rather than to be adored. They want to harness God to their train rather than to be harnessed to God's train.

"A prayer is more than this and more than auto-suggestion. The great experts in prayer claim that in prayer they touch the objective reality. This is true of all experiences worth while in life. Be it love, thought, beauty, or religion, an objective is implied. Prayer is not unscientific, for in the first place if it be real it is a state of mind. Christian prayer is a state of mind toward God and all good, and the saying of prayers the articulate expression in that state of mind.

"Inasmuch as it appears to be unscientific to pray, it may be said to relate to a law we little understand, for prayer is not an attempt to change or contradict an existing law, but to cooperate and to reach out to the first great cause.

"Briefly there are five reasons at least for believing in prayer and practicing it. (1) It is an instinct universal and age long, and every instinct has its object by which reciprocation or return is expected. (2) Prayer is necessary. (3) Jesus prayed. (4) The uniquely inspired book, the Bible, commends and commands prayer. (5) Others need our prayers and sometimes all we can do is pray for them. Why pray? That we by the very processes of mind and speech learn to understand our fellowmen and likewise learn to understand our God."

An anthem, "God Is the Spirit," was sung by the choir at the evening service.

"From Strength to Strength" was the theme of the sermon at the morning service. "They go from strength to strength. Everyone of them in Zion appeareth before God."

Referring to his subject, Mr. Morrant spoke about the patronal festival and the needs of the church at home and in the dioceses of the west.

STABLE DOLLAR IS PREDICTED

Utilities Work Up; Industrials Are Mixed

By JOHN L. COOLEY,
Associated rPess Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP) — Markets here were sluggish and narrow Saturday. The recent rise in dollar exchange was halted, but United States government bonds somewhat more than held their own in quiet dealings.

Transactions in the dollar found the United States currency a bit off, though extreme variations were of minor extent.

Despatches from Warm Springs, where President Roosevelt was conferring with various administration officials, said it had been made clear the president's currency control pans were not being sidetracked by the criticisms which have provided big headines this week. Nevertheless, some financial quarters thought the unchanged gold price might signify leanings toward a more stable dollar.

On the stock exchange, utility shares again worked higher. Industrials were slightly mixed. Metals showed some uneveness, Homestake rising 3 and American Smelting yielding a point. Rails were steady and quiet. Sales totalled only 477,917 shares.

Currencies Are Quiet for Day

MONTREAL, Nov. 26 (CP)—Movements were extremely narrow on Montreal foreign exchanges Saturday and the general list of currencies moved irregularly downward. The British pound sterling, closed at $5.12⅞ where it held a gain of ⅞ cent.

The United States dollar ended the day at 1⅛ per cent discount, off ⅛ of one per cent from Friday's final quotation, while the French franc eased .03 cent at 6.09 cents.

STEADY IN N.Y.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (CP)—The foreign exchange markets were steady in dull sessions Saturday.

The Canadian dollar did not budge from 1¼ per cent premium, Friday night's final rate.

Sterling moved within a range of less than three cents and closed at $5.19 for a net gain of one cent. The French franc was inclined to weakness due to the cabinet crisis and yielded .02 of a cent to a closing rate of 6.17 cents.

Rich Ore Ledge on Manganese Property

A. J. Curie has found a quartz ledge on the Manganese property at Seven-Mile containing good quantities of gold and silver. Assays value from .12 ounces up to two ounces in gold and from eight to 32 ounces in silver. The ore also contains a small amount of lead and antimony.

The ledge is an uncommonly large one.

So frequently do new insects and plant diseases suddenly sweep over American farming fields, that if scientific research to control these invaders should cease, within 10 years the United States would face famine.

BOTTOM FALLS OUT OF WHEAT

Other Grains Dragged Down in the Chicago Pit

CHICAGO, Nov. 26 (AP).—Shaken by persistent doubts regarding the monetary situation, wheat prices collapsed late Saturday, and dragged all other grains down.

Contributing to instability of every kind of cereals was word declines in European exchange rates had checked for at least the time being any large new export dealings in corn.

Wheat closed spineless, 2⅝ to 2⅞ under Friday's finish; corn 1⅛ to 1⅜ down; oats ¾ to 1 cent off, and provisions varying from 22 cents setback to a rise of 10 cents.

From the outset, dearth of aggressive buying characterized the wheat market, and made the price of wheat unusually vulnerable to offerings. Absence of any fresh definite statement overnight as to the administrator's financial policy was much emphasized in various quarters.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP) — Bonds stepped quietly toward higher levels Saturday as the currency stabilization controversy in the United States showed few signs of abating.

Dutch East Indies obligations rallied 5⅞ to 6½ points, the Germans were up 1 to 2 and issues of the United Kingdom recorded moderate recoveries.

Walkers common was in active demand and advanced 2¼ to 35¼ while Distillers Seagram gained 1¼ to 18¾. Brewers and Distillers closed 10 cents down at 2.15. Beer stocks were off fractions.

LAKE SHORE IS UP 45 CENTS

TORONTO, Nov. 26 (CP) —Lagging enthusiasm in the mining market resulted in moderate price weakness in Saturday's brief session of the Standard mining market.

Lake Shore recorded an advance of 45 cents to 46.45 but Dome dropped 40 cents to $32, McIntyre 40 cents to $38.60, Pioneer 40 cents to $8.40, Wright Hargreaves 5 to $6.80, Hollinger 5 to $10.70 and Bralorne colsed unchanged at $8.

Most of the second gold shares were off a cent or two each.

Silver Speculation in States Is Wild

NEW YORK, Nov. 26—The feverish speculation that is going on in the United States will be better appreciated when it is known that in three days of New York marketing the sales reached 40 million ounces, which is almost twice the quantity of the present yearly output of silver in the republic. The price of bar silver already has established a high level for three years and if many speculators have sold short and banks. Have become parties to the speculation, as is likely, a "squeeze" may develop that will force the price considerably higher. Of course allowance should be made for the fact that some of the silver probably changed hands several times in teh three-day period.

Silver is a commodity and usually follows the price trend of other commodities. The depreciation of the American dollar naturally forces up the price of silver but the great hopes that are entertained by speculators are based upon the expectation that exceptional treatment is about to be accorded to silver, and that it will be rehabilitated as money by the United States, and many other countries take their lead from the republic. In this they may be disappointed by the general outlook for silver is becoming increasingly favorable. The world needs silver to help gold to carry the monetary burdens of the world.

AMERICANS GO ON SCORING SPREE IN THIRD PERIOD TO BEAT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, Nov. 26 (CP).—With a third-period scoring spree, Joe Simpson's New York Americans defeated Ottawa Senators 3-2 here Saturday night and pulled themselves from the cellar position in the Canadian section of the National Hockey league. It was the sixth loss in a row for George Boucher's fast-slipping Senators, and dropped them into last position.

Senators entered the final period of a slow colorless game with a 2-0 lead. Syd Howe listed a goal in the first and Bill Touhey added the second late in the second period.

Then the Americans went to work. Two minutes after the start Brydge took a perfect pass from Normie Himes and beat Billie Beveridge. Six seconds later, Himes stole the face-off from Cooney Weiland and tied the game with a flip shot.

Six minutes later Red Jackson streaked down the left wing, took a pass from Rabbit McVeigh on the run and scored from a foot out.

Morris Roberts was recalled from Cleveland Indians to replace the injured Roy Worters in the American nets and played a sound game.

CHARLEY WAS COACH, AND HOW!

BY AL DEMAREE

Here's a story on Charley Moran when he coached at Centre College. Centre had beaten Harvard 6 to 0 and was playing the Eastern school a return game the following year.

Just before the team started for the stadium on the day of the game, Moran gathered his players around him.

"Remember fellers," he pleaded, "these Harvard boys have treated you mighty fine and shown you a wonderful time, but when that game starts this afternoon, just remember every one of 'em votes the straight Republican ticket and is a damn Yankee."

"They are even going in for sex appeal in football these days," said Zuppke, Illinois coach. "But at that it's about the only thing the coeds haven't gone in for. Still, there are quite a few 'powder puff' athletes in the game today."

ARGOS REACH CANADA FINAL

Torontoans Defeat Montreal 15-5 on Cold Day

MONTREAL, Nov. 26 (CP) — Championship of the interprovincial football union rested today with Toronto's charging Argonauts who bumped Montreal out of the first-place play-off series here yesterday with a 15-5 victory. With the 5-4 win at Hamilton the previous week, Argos found themselves on the heavy end of a 20-9 score for the round. They are ready to take on either Sarnia Imperial, O. R. F. U. champions, or Winnipegs, western Canada champions, in the Dominion semi-final next Saturday.

A shivering crowd of less than 1,000 fans braved a temperature of 14 degrees above zero to see the Toronto tanks gallop to victory over a gridiron fozen hard as granite and slippery with hard-packed snow and ice.

The Montrealers started out hopefully with a field goal Welch sent spinning between the posts to wipe out the single-point lead Toronto secured at Hamilton, and give the home team a margin.

Tommy Burns split the Montreal defence wide open with a charging rush that carried him over for a touchdown. Mike Chepesuik booted the convert and Toronto were away in front again.

Each side added a single point in the second quarter. In the third Carl Perina dropped the ball on a plunge and Toronto recovered on Montreal's 30-yard line. Andy Mullan faded back and snapped a forward pass to Teddy Moore, who dashed across the goal line for another touchdown. Chepesuik booted the convert.

Montreal added another point when Ab Cox was rouged on an attempted Montreal field goal from placement. Toronto's final two points, both by Box, came in the last quarter and rounded off their 10-point margin on the game.

WINNIPEG WILL MEET ARGONAUTS NEXT SATURDAY

TORONTO, Nov. 26 (CP).—Winnipegs, winners of the western Canada senior rugby title, will meet Toronto Argonauts, holders of the big four championship, in Toronto next Saturday, it was announced here tonight. The winner of the game will then meet Sarnia, Ontario Rugby Football union champions, in either Sarnia or Toronto.

Expenses of the western Canada team will be paid "from the gates," it was announced.

Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. West Winners

In a recent report of the Legion A and B badminton tournament Mrs. G. K. Ashbey and Miss Smythe of the A club were credited with winning from Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. West. The game was won by Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. West. In the mixed doubles Mrs. R. A. Aldersmith and C. D. Pearson, A players, beat Mr. and Mrs. R. Leonard 5-15, 15-11, 15-12.

NAVY WHIPPED BY THE ARMY, TROJANS WIN

Stanford Ties the Oregon Team on Pacific

MICHIGAN WINS BIG TEN CROWN

Harvard Takes Yale and Notre Dame Is Beaten

BY HERBERT W. BARKER

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—Five of the nine major football conference races in the United States had been settled definitely today, but it will take still another week to determine whether Army, Navy, Princeton and Duke can finish with perfect records and on that basis at least, claim a share in the mythical national title. Army, whipping Navy 12-7 at Philadelphia in one of the most spectacular games of the season, hung up victory No. 9 without defeat or tie, while Duke, although hard pressed, did likewise in a 7-0 triumph over North Carolina state. Princeton bowled over Rutgers 26-6 and now boasts eight victories in a row.

TOUGH HURDLE

The last hurdle this Saturday may be the toughest for them all. Duke's last regularly scheduled opponent is Georgia Tech, while Army plays Notre Dame at New York and Princeton faces Yale at New Haven.

Army was pressed to the full limit of its capabilities by Navy, but won by the brilliant running of Quarterback Paul Johnson and Half-Back Jack Buckler.

Princeton's uncrossed goal line record went by the boards on a nicely executed Rutgers passing play but the Tigers, using reserves most of the way, had entirely too much power for the visitors. Played to a standstill for three quarters, Duke finally pounded out a touchdown on a 45-yard march in the final period of the Blue Devils' game with North Carolina state.

Stanford tied Oregon for the Pacific conference crown and the Rose Bowl nomination. Michigan clinched the Big 10 championship; Harry Wells passed Harvard to its decisive triumph over Yale, and southern California's Trojans made gridiron history by beating Notre Dame for the third year in succession.

Motherwell Chalks Up 17th Victory; Ayr, Aberdeen Draw

GLASGOW, Scotland, Nov. 26 (CP cable).—Foggy weather and some frost hampered Scottish Football league matches Saturday, but did not prevent Motherwell from keeping its undefeated record intact. Meeting the lowly St. Mirren eleven, Motherwell rang up its 17th victory of the season to keep six points in the lead of the first division. Ferrier scored the only goal of the game.

McPhail got a brace of goals and Smith another as Glasgow Rangers defeated Falkirk 3-1 at Glasgow. The win kept the league champions three games back of Motherwell.

Aberdeen and Ayr United played tie games to maintain their deadlock for third position. Dundas held Ayr to a 3-3 tie and Aberdeen was tied 1-1 by St. Johnstone, conquerors of Rangers a week ago.

Third Lanark had a lead at halftime, but finally was beaten 3-1 by Celtic. F. O'Donnell scored twice for the Glasgow team, McGrory getting the other goal.

Stenhousemuir remains alone at the top of the second division after Saturday's 3-0 victory over St. Bernards, gained while Dunfermline lost ground as it was held to a tie by Forfar Athletic.

WEILAND GOES TO DETROITS

Carl Voss Will Be on the Senators Lineup

OTTAWA, Nov. 26 (CP) —Cooney Weiland, play-making centre on Ottawa Senators' forward line, was traded to Detroit Red Wings tonight for Carl Voss and cash, it was announced by T. F. Ahearn, president of the local National Hockey league club.

eWiland will report to Manager Jack Adams in time to play against Chicago in Detroit next Thursday. Voss will don the barber-pole livery of the Senators in Boston Tuesday night.

The sale of Weiland was the first step taken in rebuilding the Senators who have won two and lost six games so far this season. He was a holdout at the first of the season and so far his play has been spotty.

After breaking into hockey with the famous Owen Sound Greys, Weiland jumped into pro ranks with Minneapolis in the American association. rAt Ross took him to Boston where he was centre on the famous dynamite trio. He came to Ottawa two years ago.

Carl Voss broke into sporting headlines through college football. He first played pro hockey with Buffalo in the International league and then went to Rangers. Halfway through last season, Voss was traded to Detroit.

MERALOMAS WIN THE LIPTON CUP

VANCOUVER, Nov. 26 (CP). — Meralomas tonight held the British Columbia big four Canadian football championship and the Lipton cup.

A fast-moving backfield carried the black and orange squad to a 12-5 victory over Vancouver Athletic club here yesterday.

Ellis ran 40 yards early in the first quarter to give Meralomas a touchdown which was converted.

A steady march down the field in the second quarter sent Downey over for the Vacs' lone touchdown which was not converted. Just before the quarter closed Meralomas scored on a deadline kick.

A brilliant 40-yard run by George Niblo and Pete Wilson paved the way for Meralomas' second touchdown in the fourth quarter by Stewart.

HUDDERSFIELD FALLS BEFORE GUNNERS, DERBY COUNTY WINS

Grimsby Town Scores 4-1 Victory on Hull City to Assume the Lead in Second Division; Bolton Is Victor.

LONDON, Nov. 26 (CP cable).—Arsenal, league champions, tonight rested in first place in the first division of the English Football league. Gunners got on top by virtue of a 1-0 victory over Huddersfield Town, before a crowd of 30,000 persons, while the erstwhile leaders, Tottenham Hotspurs, absorbed a defeat.

A crowd of 42,000 at Highbury was shocked to see Spurs trounced 2-1 by Derby County, one of the latter's goals being extremely lucky. Net result was to leave Spurs a single point behind Arsenal, while Huddersfield clung to third place.

FEW CUP TIE SURPRISES

All-third division clubs, of both sections, were engaged in the first round proper of the Association cup Saturday, with the exception of three. In cup battles there were on the whole few surprises, although Rochdale was knocked out of competition by the little-regarded Sutton Town club.

The first half of the battle at Huddersfield was thrilling. Mangall headed in a goal for the homesters but it was disallowed. Dunne scored for Arsenal on a corner by Bastin and Gunners kept up a fierce attack until half time. There was no scoring in the second half.

Spurs were set back at the outset of their match with Derby County. Within four minutes of the start Duncan centred the ball and it rose high in the air, Nichols in Spurs' nets allowing it to go over his hands.

After the interval the teams failed to settle down. Nicholls beat away a slanting shot from Duncan, but Bowers, Derby's international, scored on the rebound. O'Callaghan got Spurs' only goal two minutes from the end.

Plenty of excitement ensued at Grimsby when the local eleven trounced Hull City 4-1, thereby gaining undisputed leadership in the second division. Both goalies showed good work, but McNaughton took advantage of defensive blunders to score for Hull. Glover and Gravan scored and with Hull's offside plans baffled, Holmes and Glover repeated in the closing minutes.

Port Vale slipped from their tie with Grimsby Town when they were beaten 3-0 at Bolton Wanderers' grounds. Twenty thousand saw the match. Milsom scored for Bolton on a free kick and repeated on a pass from Rimmer to make it 2-0 at the interval. Milsom completed the hattrick in the second half.

Rochdale and Southport of the league third division met elimination at the hands of small elevens right at the outset of the long trail to the Wembley stadium and the cup final, as 68 teams battled in the first round Saturday. Sutton trounced Rochdale 2-1, and Workington eliminated Southport 1-0.

In addition five of the league teams were held to ties, necessitating replays. Scunthorpe tied Accrington-Stanley 1-1. Bath played a scoreless tie with Charlton. Margate held Torquay 1-1. Dulwich tied Newport 2-2 and Folkestone battled Bristol Rovers to a scoreless tie.

AJMER, India, Nov. 26 (CP cable) —The touring English cricket team today defeated Rajputana by an innings and 107 runs. England scored 213. The Rajputans were devastated by the visitors' trundling. In their first innings they scored only 32 as Clark took five wickets for 10 runs and Townsend five for 16. Following on the home forces got 74 as Townsend took seven wickets for 22.

Sheiks—C. Baillie 7, Rothery 2, W. Milburn 9, J. Morris 3, J. Burrows 9, K. Chandler 2, A. Gripich.

In the men's intermediate division, the Comets defeated the High School 39-15, the winning team holding control of the situation practically throughout the entire game. Craig starred at the basket, being credited with 12 points of the 39.

Comets—Smith 8, Ross, Evans 4, Craig 12, Temple 3, Gibson 1, Ross 4, Strachan 7, Williamson.

High School—Davis 2, Mason 3, Kendall 1, Kingwell, Londe, Bremner, Wyatt 5, McPhail 2, Pagnan 2.

MANY VIEWS EXPRESSED AT VETERAN MEET

H. L. Howe Describes How Pension Act Disregarded

OUTSIDE POINTS ARE HEARD FROM

Plea Made to Give Present System a Chance

"That a committee be appointed from all the West Kootenay branches, one delegate from every unit of 50 or fraction thereof, to discuss the recommendation to our provincial command the advisability or possibility of the B.C. Command of the Canadian Legion entering politics with every constituency in British Columbia being represented by a veteran candidate in the forthcoming Dominion election, or alternately placing a syllibus favorable to our interpretation of our proposed administration of the Pensions act before every candidate, irrespective of party, in the forthcoming Dominion election," was the main resolution passed at a meeting of exservicemen in the Canadian Legion hall Friday night called to discuss pensions and other important questions. Over 150 returned men were present, Kaslo, Trail, Rossland, Perry Siding, New Denver, Willow Point, Procter, Erie and other points were represented. An amendment later permitted representation from veterans not associated with any Legion branches.

A few minutes before, the meeting went on record as opposed to entering politics.

In calling the meeting to order, Chairman Alderman R. W. Dawson pointed out that in order to observe the Legion constitution, it would be better to continue the meeting apart from the Canadian Legion, or as a body of veterans. The suggestion was carried out, and Mr. Dawson was returned to the chair for the new meeting.

VARIENCE OF VIEWS

A great variance of views was brought out at the meeting, some favoring entering politics as a party, others as an organization and still others believed more could be done by backing the Legion 100 per cent and thus effect their wishes. There appeared to be not a little perplexity as to the power and rights of the meeting and the procedure to move forward, especially in relation to the Legion.

H. L. Howe of Nelson was the chief speaker and he outlined and commented on the pensions act, its intents, purposes and the way it was being carried out. The minister of pensions stated the review of pensions was in no way connected with economy, declared Mr. Howe, and that there was to be no deviation from policy. He had also said the review was just to check "errors in regard to earlier awards", and that the position of the legitimate pensioner would be safe; no injustice would be perpetuated.

"In my opinion," asserted Mr. Howe, "the review was made for economy only."

NONE SLIPPING BY

Murray McLaren, minister of pension, was on the committee in 1922 when the deputy minister of pensions had made the statement that only one pensioner out of every 1000 slipped through and was not entitled to it. Why had he changed his mind now? The committee had not found the doctors were committing errors, nor did it seem likely that temporary pensioners, who were examined twice a year from 1919 on, would be likely to slip by.

In the last fiscal year over 2000 cases had been reduced, and 529 reviewed and cancelled.

The fault was not at the door of local doctors. Local boards in many cases had said a man should have a pension yet his case would go adversely at Ottawa. And it would be stated at Ottawa that new light was thrown on the case, which led to the change. Or the local doctor might be returned a new form to be made out, and so he had to change his mind on condition of the veteran or jeopardize his position.

TOO ZEALOUS OF PURSE

The Ralston commission exonerated the board of pensions from conspiracy to defraud and stated that the board had operated "with too zealous regard for the public purse."

The Pensions Tribunal system had been found satisfactory, but the court of appeal that the government had furnished, and by which it could contest any ruling in favor of veterans, had caused protests from all over Canada. It had turned out that 70 per cent of the recommendations in the first instance in favor of the pensioner were nullified by the court of appeal The veterans were supposed to get the benefit of the doubt, where any doubt existed, but that had not proved to be the way it worked out. A vivid example of that was the Carmichael case of Toronto. His local doctors stated he was a very sick man and totally incapacitated. The board, however, opposed the recommendation and the result was that Carmichael had to die to win his case. There was no 'benefit of the doubt' there, or in hundreds of other cases that could be named.

When the government had effected the recent system it had laughed at the recommendations of the veterans as to whom they wanted placed on the pensions board, and only one man the veterans suggested was placed on it.

Men like Col. Cy Peck had been left off because they were too sympathetic to the welfare of the returned man.

CUT $7,000,000

What was the result? Pension cuts under the new board had reached the sum of $7,000,000 and it was not through cutting yet. If reductions were necessary let them begin at the top and not knock down the little fellow. At least, where salaries were concerned, there was no depression at Ottawa.

The pensions act stated that any pensioner would be afforded an opportunity of appearing before the pension board quorum before any change in his status could be made. The government was openly violating that clause today and Mr. Howe cited local cases to exemplify his statement. Was this carrying out the promises that the merits of war would get balance in the scales of justice?

LISTEN TO BALLOTS

The only thing that the government would listen to was a politically organized body of veterans—or call its votes; it would at least heed the ballot boxes. Get capable men who would lead the veterans and fight for the legitimate cause of the returned man.

D. Nevay of Trail, the first of the representatives from the various parts of this district called upon to speak at the meeting, voiced disapproval at going into politics. The Legion had been a political football long enough. It was better to organize in the proper spirit, 100 per cent, and then the veterans would be a force to be recognized.

Mr. Taylor of Rossland believed what was wrong with the veterans was that, like the workers, they would not stick together. In the meeting the veterans had a good start and he believed if they all got together they could demand the rights of the pensioners. He assured the gathering that Rossland would be represented any time it was called.

CAN'T KEEP OUT OF POLITICS

Mr. Nelson of New Denver asserted that if all the veterans had taken the same interest in soldiers' affairs and pensions that Mr. Howe did such a gathering would not be needed. He did not see how the veterans were going to keep out of politics. Such cases as Mr. Howe had cited, pertaining to pension wrongs, should be put before the public, he stated, and circulated freely through the different Legion branches In essence the fight of the returned men was the same now as in 1914.

J. S. Mayzes of Kaslo, in taking issue with the pension management, averred that British Columbia had no representation on the new pensions commission. And he pointed out, although the pension act permitted veterans to align for pensions even though their medical history showed no signs of the ailment under which they were claiming it, the board refused to consider such cases. He felt that the branch inspector should come around oftener also. He assured the meeting that whatever Nelson did, the Kaslo branch would be behind them 100 per cent.

ANALYSES REPORTS

Unavoidably detained from attending the meeting, H. H. Curric sent in a few notes elucidating certain angles of the question which he wished to be noted, and which Boyd C. Affleck read. It was an analysis of the reports of the joint committee showing that all sections including the veteran representative recommendation of a single court of appeal of the first instance which meant the merger of the tribunal with the pensions board. The new court thus formed performed all the functions of both to give the applicant the same right of appearance as enjoyed before the tribunal, gave them the same final appeal to the pensions appeal court and greatly expedited decisions by reducing the adjudicating bodies from three to two. He pointed out that President Roper of the Dominion command of the Legion counselled veterans to give the new system a fair trial and not to go off at half-cocked.

GIVE IT A TRIAL

Mr. Currie's letter expressed the hope that the meeting would ask the government to explain how and why some pensions were being reduced or cancelled without prior notice or appearance of the applicant. But that it would not pronounce on the value of the legislation, which had been accepted by the organized veterans and which would soon produce concrete results by which it might be judged.

The meeting was then thrown open for general discussion.

CONCERNED WITH PENSIONERS

Speaker followed speaker, some directly advocating going into politics, while others were just as opposed to it, pointing out the constitution of the Legion prevented going into politics. It was then suggested that the veterans enter politics as a body. Against this move another speaker declared that the veterans, if they entered politics as a party, would have to be concerned with all phases of public life and the veterans were only concerned with the welfare of the disabled returned man and his dependents.

Just how much area a movement starting up should embrace, also caused ample discussion.

One veteran suggested that the Legion was suffering from economical conditions just as many other bodies and organizations were and so could not expect remedy until general conditions became better. He thought the veterans would get farther by getting behind a man and putting him at the next general election.

What could one man do in parliament? asked another ex-serviceman in reply.

It was foolish to think of entering politics, was the opinion of still another. To believe it would be possible to have the veterans leave parties which they belonged to now, and align solidly with a new party was utterly ridiculous. It would be causing a still further breach in the ranks of the returned men, and making another faction. There were already too many factions.

Many favored a strong Legion, backed 100 per cent, concerned with pensioners and dependents and not with political questions, with the hope that the movement would spread across Canada.

Toward the close of the meeting many veterans were leaving, a thing which one speaker pointed to as the main reason why the returned man was not getting any place.

Mr. Howe was given a vote of thanks for his able address.

MORE ABOUT RELIGION

To realize this aim of a nonconfessional or inter-denominational single German church, the Nazis tried to promote union services. The Catholic church was quick to object, however.

The archbishops of Freiburg-in-Briesgar and Breslau issued warnings against their flocks taking part in such services, the latter branding them as "springing from a wrongly understood enthusiasm for the union of our people."

HITLER PERSISTS

This positive stand of the Catholic herarchy would seem to dash the hopes for an early religious union of all Germans.

Nevertheless, Hitler has not given up his plans. To a delegation of Catholic clergymen who visited him in Essen when he spoke there on behalf of the plebiscite earlier in the month, he is reported to have replied to their remonstrances at Nazi interference with Catholic church affairs:

"If Rome wants a 'Kulturkampf,' I am ready for it."

More recently, according to reliable information, the Nazi party machinery in the aCtholic sections of Germany was geared up to start immediate work for a unified German church embracing Catholics, Protestants, and Germanic cult adherents.

Vice-Chancellor Franz von Papen, a leader among Catholic laity, will side with his temporal chief in such an arrangement, it may be assumed, only if the basis is christianity and if the Catholic church be a dominating factor.

The whole world may soon forget Germany's withdrawal from the League of Nations and the Armsparley, her attitude on the Jews, and her concentration camps, as it becomes fascinated by the gigantic attempt of Adolf Hitler to make even religion subservient to Nazi totalitarian claims.

HARD TASK

This running of a Protestant church on Nazi principles is proving a much harder task than the leaders of the "German Christians" imagined it would be. Revolts are either threatening or already in progress from three sides:

1. There is disunity among the "German Christians" themselves both as regards church policy and dogma.

2. The non-Nazis are determined even at the risk of a schism, to resist the totalitarian claims of the "German Christians."

3. A new Nazi church movement, which decries christianty as non-German and favors a Germanic cult instead, is gaining ground steadily.

FLOWERS MANY AT CHARNOCK BURIAL

KIMBERLEY, Nov. 26—The funeral of the late John Alfred Charnock took place Thursday. The service at All Saint's Church was taken by Rev. M. C. T. Percival. The I.O.O.F. of which Mr. Charnock was a member marched in procession, and at the grave after the burial service by the minister, the chaplain of the order, J. Boardman, read the lodge service. It was a fitting tribute to this fine and kindly man who has loved and grown so many flowers that they were heaped about him in his final sleep.

With his widow and two daughters Mrs. Stilliga and Dorothy, were Mrs. M. Morrison of Fernie, a sister and her husband, M. Morrison, Mrs. Stelliga of Fernie and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Turner of Cranbrook.

CANADIENS FALL BEFORE THE DETROITERS IN BRUISING GO

DETROIT, Nov. 26 (CP).—Obviously tired from a game the previous night in Toronto, Montreal's flashy Canadiens went down 4-2 before the flying Detroit Red Wings here tonight in a hard-played National league hockey match before 8500 spectators.

The Wings sailed into Canadien territory to tally four goals before the white-shirted Montreal team could get their attack organized. Then Mondou and G. Carson each caught the Wing defence napping to beat Goalie John Ross Roach, late in the final period.

Detroit's goals were spread over three periods. Aurie tallied in the first period on a pass from Lewis. Emms and Wiseman scored lone-handed goals in the second period, and Goodfellow took a pass from Frank Carson to score the fourth Detroit tally in the final period.

The game was a bruising one, and was climaxed by a fist fight in the last period between Eddie Wiseman, little Detroit wingman, and Gagnon, Canadien wingman. Both drew major penalties.

SUMMARY

First period: 1—Detroit, Aurie (Lewis) 16:52. Penalties: Emms, Lepine 2, Aurie.

Second period: 2—Detroit, Emms, 3:00; 3—Detroit, Wiseman, 18:35. Penalties: Buswell, G. Carson.

Third period: 4—Detroit, Goodfellow (Carson) 12:17; 5—Canadiens, Mondou (Godin) 14:01; 6—Canadiens, Carson, 18:31. Penalties: Lepine, Gagnon (major), Wiseman, (major).

HOLLETT HERO IN PUCK BATTLE

Detroit Olympics and Buffalo Bisons Draw

FORT ERIE, Ont., Nov. 26 (CP). —Big Busher Hollett did an ironman act in last night's International Hockey league game here and as a result Buffalo Bisons held the Detroit Olympics to a 1-1 tie. His head taped from an injury at Windsor, Hollett played 70 minutes and scored the tieing goal in the third regular period.

He crashed through the Olympics on a solo rush as they were playing defensive hockey to protect their one-goal lead which Wilf Starr obtained on a pass from Carrigan.

Tip O'Neil from Calgary made his first appearance on the Bison defence and new faces in the Olympic lineup were Emile Swenson, former Winnipeg amateur, and George Masseser, who played for St. Louis last year.

BOSTON CUBS WIN IN OVERTIME TILT

BOSTON, Nov. 26 (CP).—Boston Cubs deadlocked Philadelphia Arrows with a fluke goal in the last minute of regular time play and scored again in overtime for the 3-2 victory they held today over the Arrows as a result of last night's Canadian-American Hockey league game. Byrd and King got the Arrow goals and Heximer and O'Neil scored two for Boston.

Hudson, Arrow winger, poked the puck in his own cage when he tried to clear it from a threatening scrimmage. "Peggy" O'Neil was the last Cub to handle it and was credited with the unearned goal.
