Churchill Pledges Allies to Cleanse Norway of Tyrant

British Reinforcements Arriving Every Hour North of Trondheim; Germany Pouring Men in by Plane

LONDON, April 19 (CP)—Winston Churchill today pledged the Allied armies to an offensive which will "cleanse the soil of the Vikings from the filthy pollution of Nazi tyrant" in a rousing, confident speech to seamen from the destroyers Hardy and Eclipse. (Also see "Churchill", page 8).

While British troops, side by side with their Norwegian Allies, struck Southward toward Trondheim, perhaps Germany's most vital Norwegian base, London gave a thunderous welcome to the returning sailors.

Word brought from the Northern front by a Norwegian official showed Germany is pouring 2000 men a day into Norway by plane. In an interview the official accused Germany of carrying out seven bombing raids against King Haakon and his Government.

Victory in the battle for Trondheim, Scandinavian observers said, would be one of the richest prizes of the war. By gaining possession of Trondheim, the Allied could turn the tables on Germany with a base for operations against the Nazis in Denmark as well as against Germany's Baltic ports.

Trondheim is such an important position, they pointed out, that the Germans may be content to dig in along a line extending Eastward from Trondheim to the Swedish border without attempting to push further Northward.

Newspaper military experts pointed out that the German expeditionary force must lack heavy artillery and large supplies of ammunition, since it would be impossible to transport these by air.

Mr. Churchill paid tribute to the Hardy's Captain, R. A. Warburton-Lee, who, he said, "took the responsibility of ordering this determined attack upon the enemy and sealed his great decision with his life." He then added:

"But you, although your vessel was sunk, did not hesitate, with rifles in your hands, to carry on the war on another element and thus prove again the amphibious character of Britons and our navy."

B. J. Rees, the Hardy's radio operator who described how the men swam to shore, said:

"If we'd been hit by snowballs as we staggered up the beach, we would have been knocked over."

The last message he had sent, he said, was "we're going in."

Seaman John Walters' account of the battle between the British and German destroyers was simply:

"We kept on firing. We didn't give a damn for them. They hit us and we knew it but we didn't give a damn. We just kept shooting."

Able Seaman Dunn said that after the men got ashore the wounded were carried 15 miles to town in improvised ambulances. One wounded man was wrapped in lace curtains from a fisherman's home and another was strapped up in a pair of women's corsets.

STOCKHOLM, April 19 (AP).—Fragmentary reports from Norway said tonight that British reinforcements are arriving every hour in the Norwegian waistline, North of German-held Trondheim, and indicated that a decisive battle seems to be shaping up between German troops and Norwegian defenders joined by the British expeditionary force.

Some Swedish correspondents, reporting through Storlien, railway village just inside Sweden, said the British reinforcements were arriving along a 15-mile line from Steinkjer, at the head of turbulent Trondheim Fjord, North to Namsos.

All circumstances, said these reports, showed that a decisive encounter seems unavoidable in the vicinity of Steinkjer.

Norwegian authorities said the fight may well start at Sicklestad South of Steinkjer, a site famous in Norwegian history. At Sicklestad the King, St. Olaf Haraldsson, was killed in a war against peasants in 1030, A.D.

STOCKHOLM, April 20 (Saturday) - (AP)—British and French troops have landed on the Norwegian coast at Molde, Laerdal and Namsos, the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter reported today. It said British officers already are at Norwegian headquarters. Two British divisions and one French division were landed, the report said.

Laerdal is near the head of Sogne Fjord, 90 miles Northeast of Bergen and 140 miles Northwest of Oslo.

These landings explain, the paper said, why German parachute troops were sent over the railroad at Dombos to try to hinder contact between the Allied and Norwegian forces, but it said this manoeuvre evidently failed.

Government of France Is Given Deputies Backing

PARIS, April 19 (CP.-Havas) — Fortified by the Allies' determined action in Norway, Premier Reynaud's Government tonight received a unanimous mandate from the French Chamber of Deputies to press the war to victory.

The vote by the 504 Deputies who participated in a one-day secret debate matched the undivided support given by the Senate yesterday and dispelled the uncertainty left behind by the Government's shaky start a month ago.

On the Western Front the day was marked by brisk fighting between opposing reconnaissance units and an air clash in which two German planes were put out of action.

The Deputies voted on a motion drafted jointly by Edouard Miellet, Radical-Socialist Chairman of the Chamber Army Committee, and Maxence Bibi of the moderately Leftist Socialist and Republican Union.

"The Chamber sends grateful greeting," the motion read at the outset, "to the land, sea and air Allied forces and to the heroic Norwegian people." The resolution was passed unanimously by a show of hands.

The second section of the motion read:

"Approving the Government's declarations and entrusting to it confidence to continue the war to victory, the war policy which has been approved constantly by Parliament is put to a vote."

The resolution was carried by 504 to 0 after Premier Reynaud made the issue one of confidence.

Five Die in New York Train Crash

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., April 19 (AP)—The Lake Shore Limited, a crack New York Central express train, jumped the track about a half mile East of here tonight and five persons were reported killed.

First accounts of the accident, which occurred shortly before midnight, were fragmentary because the train carried communications lines down as it left the roadbed.

John Crowley, Editor of the Little Falls Times who lives a few hundred yards from the scene, said approximately six cars left the tracks and estimated the dead at five.

An estimated 20 persons were injured.

The cause of the accident was not immediately known but witnesses on the scene said debris was strewn for hundreds of yards up the tracks. The train's high-powered engine leaped several yards from the track landing across Route 5, main New York State East-West Highway, blocking motor traffic.

Princess Elizabeth to Celebrate Today

LONDON, April 19 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth, oldest daughter of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth will be 14 years old Sunday but her main birthday celebration will be tomorrow.

Her birthday-eve program includes a quiet tea at which she will entertain her mother and father and a few other guests.

There is no program for Sunday, other than church attendance with her sister, Princess Margaret Rose, and the King and Queen.

Slide Blocks Crow's New Lake Highway

(CP)—Highway traffic was blocked at Crow's Nest Lake today when a rock slide swept across about 75 feet of the important mountain route through the Rockies. No traffic will be possible until the slide has been cleared

Aircraftsmen Graduate From St. Thomas Air Training School

Four hundred and seventy-one qualified aircraftsmen took part in graduation ceremonies at St. Thomas Technical Training centre: the first class of aircraftsmen to be trained in Canada under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan. These men will make up ground crews so necessary to keep the Empire's fighting planes in the air. Military brevity and simplicity characterized the ceremony which marked their transition from students to qualified aircraftsmen. The graduating class is shown, left, as it swung smartly past the reviewing stand. Note the Air Force flag flying in the background. Another view of the young aircraftsmen is seen, right.

Waterways Body to Sit at Creston on Dyking Districts

ROSSLAND, B.C., April 19 — Word from the International Joint Commission to W. K. Esling, brings advice that a public hearing will be held in Creston Friday, June 14, at 10 o'clock a.m., for the purpose of the adjustment of differences between the Drainage Districts of the Kootenay Flats in British Columbia arising out of certain orders of approval granted by the Commission to the districts.

At this hearing all persons interested in the subject matter of the application are entitled to be heard.

Must Prove Nazis Cannot Succeed

ST. LOUIS, April 19 (CP).—The first task of the Allies is to prove "once and for all" that the Nazi plan of campaign which seeks the overthrow of Great Britain and France cannot succeed, the Marquess of Lothian, British Ambassador to the United States, said here tonight.

He told the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce: "Our second is to mobilize the immense resources at our command so as to be able either to knock out the Nazi power or to convince the German people that the road to freedom and prosperity for themselves also is substitution for the Nazi regime of a Government whose main purpose is not aggression and in whose word the rest of the world can trust."

In an address which he said was to put before Americans "why we are against a patched-up peace and the King of peace we are fighting for," Lord Lothian denied German charges that the Allies seek the break up of Germany. What Britain and France are fighting for "is security, security for everybody against aggression and war, poverty and unemployment; security for Germany no less than for her neighbors and ourselves."

15-Year-Old Girl Kills Brother in Firing at Thieves

TORONTO, April 19 (CP).— A frail, 15-year-old girl, attempting to assist in preventing a robbery in a York Township coal yard, wildly fired six shots from a revolver today, accidentally killing her brother-in-law Andrew Bednarz, 39-year-old part-owner of the yard, hitting one of the thieves twice and grazing the arm of another.

She appeared in County Police Court on a manslaughter charge, laid by Chief Robert Alexander, was remanded a week and released on $2000 bail.

"It was simply a case of a young girl protecting her property against burglars and thieves," the Chief said. "I feel very sorry for the poor girl. It was a terrible accident."

DROP CHARGES AFTER AUTO THEFT CONFESSED

HANEY, B.C., April 19 (CP)—A charge of manslaughter laid against Weldon Douglas, 20, in connection with the traffic death of Eugene Callaghan near here March 20, has been withdrawn.

The charge was dropped after police said two juveniles had confessed to stealing an automobile, which struck Callaghan. The juveniles appeared in court here and were remanded eight days on manslaughter charges.

SHIP DISPUTE SETTLED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19 (AP)—Settlement of a contract dispute between the C. I. O. American Communications Association and the Ship-Owners Association of the Pacific coast was announced tonight

HOLLAND UNDER MARTIAL LAW

THE HAGUE, April 19 (AP).—All Holland was placed under martial law tonight in a royal decree more far-reaching than any since the constitution guaranteed civil rights to Netherlands 92 years ago.

This action was taken to permit taking of more drastic measures against persons within the nation endangering Netherlands neutrality or who would threaten its safety if Holland were invaded.

It was invoked just after Premier Derek Jan de Geer, in a broadcast to home and empire on two sides of the world, declared that Holland would resist by force of arms any attempt by a foreign power to extend "protective" help to the Netherlands.

Even before Queen Wilhelmina signed today's all-embracing decree, Holland had been dotted with hundreds of "islands' of martial law, at points which were important to the country's elaborate and secret system of land, sea and waterline defences.

Under the decree, the military may take any action from imposing a censorship to calling up civilians at will for either military servce or labor.

Already, several announced meetings of National Socialists (Dutch Nazis) have been prevented and police have conducted searches for firearms and ammunition.

McLarty Hopeful of Strike Result

TORONTO, April 19 (CP)—Hon. Norman McLarty, Minister of Labor, after a private conference tonight with three representatives of the striking Canadian Seamen's Union, said he was "quite hopeful" of the outcome.

He said a "spirit of conciliation" had been manifested during his meeting with the union spokesmen but declined to enlarge further on the progress made. No further announcement would be made in that regard until this return to Ottawa first thing tomorrow, he added.

The Labor Minister flew to Toronto tonight and shortly after went into a session with Arthur W. Roebuck, Union Counsel and member of Parliament-elect, J. A. (Pat) Sullivan, Union President, and J. S. Chapman, Union Secretary, of Montreal.

DESTROYER ECLIPSE RETURNS TO BRITAIN AFTER HIT BY BOMB

LONDON, April 19 (CP).— The destroyer Eclipse arrived at a British port today in tow of a warship after suffering some damage from a German bomb.

Tonight A. B. H. Goodard, sailor from the Eclipse, told reporters that a German plane dived low and dropped a salvo of bombs, one of which burst alongside the Eclipse and "caused some casualties."

"The Eclipse took on a list and a warship later took the destroyer in tow," he said.

The Eclipse, completed in 1934, carried a normal complement of 145 men.

LAST OF KAISER'S NAVAL CABINET DIES

BERLIN, April 19 (AP)—Admiral Georg von Mueller, 86, last chief of the Kaiser's naval cabinet and general adjutant to the Kaiser, died tonight at Hanelsberg-on-the-Spree, 20 miles Southeast of Berlin.

Although he held Germany's highest military order, Pour Le Merite, for services in the last war, Admiral von Mueller occasionally was at odds with the Admiralty Chief, Grand Admiral Von Tirpitz, and before the outbreak of war in 1914 was said to have sought an understanding with Great Britain.

Oslo Quiet but Depressed Says Man Who Escaped

STOCKHOLM, April 19 (AP).—A young Norwegian, arriving in Stockholm after fleeing Oslo and slipping through German lines on skis, said tonight that bread and milk were being rationed in the city and that meat was almost unobtainable.

More Germans were arriving steadily, he said, and the newcomers were less polite than at first.

Farmers, he declared, were "furious" at German requisition orders.

In Oslo, he added, people were quiet, but depressed.

Germany Drawing on Her Reserves

BERLIN, April 19 (AP).—Walter Funk, Reich Minister of Economics and President of the Reichsbank, admitted today that Germany was drawing ruthlessly on her reserves to pay for her war activities along the Siegfried Line, in Poland, Denmark and Norway.

Funk disclosed that Germany must carry on economic "bin-scraping" to finance its war on a day when the nations marked the following developments:

1. German dispatches from Scandinavia claimed Nazi troops pushing up the Glommen River 20 miles inside Norway from the Swedish border drove today to the vicinity of Elverum.

2. Nazis claimed German bombers tonight attacked British transports off the West coast of Norway and struck two and a cruiser with heavy missiles.

3. The German High Command, reviewing yesterday's operations, claimed German fliers sank a submarine and hit other vessels in a surprise raid as the British began landing troops in the Far North. It was claimed three other submarines were sunk in the Skagerrak and Kattegat as well as a Norwegian torpedo boat on the West coast of Norway.

4. On German orders to be out of the country by midnight, Arne Scheel, Norwegian Minister to Berlin, and other members of the Norwegian diplomatic staff and their families left by special train in an effort to reach Norway by way of Denmark.

8 Nazi Destroyers Sunk, Not 7, Claim Swedish Sailors

STOCKHOLM, April 19 (CP) — Three refugee Swedish sailors said tonight that eight German destroyers—not seven as had been announced—were sunk by ships of the Royal Navy in the spectacular battle at Narvik.

Deadly, accurate aim of the battleship Warspite's guns, they said, silenced shore batteries and even machine-gun nests in the surrounding mountains, and paved the way for the sinking of the German vessels.

Interviewed by the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter, the sailors said their ship was sunk in Narvik Harbor in the crossfire of British and German forces and they were permitted by the German commander to hike along the ore railway to the Swedish border.

$2,850,000 Going to Homes of Soldiers

OTTAWA, April 19 (CP). — Some $2,850,000 now is going each month into the home of men on active service with the Canadian forces it was learned today. The number of beneficiaries has reached 55,000.

These payments comprise assigned pay in combination with allowances to wives, children, parents or other eligible dependents.

Shipping Program Ahead of Schedule

OTTAWA, April 19 (AP).—Some three months from now the first steel minesweepers and patrol vessels built under Canada's $50,000,000 wartime shipbuilding program will be launched, many of them to be manned later by increased naval personnel now in training.

In 15 shipyards on Canadian coasts and inland waters these vessels are taking shape as a force of some 4000 men push construction night and day.

Actually it was announced today, the program is proceeding ahead of schedule. The announcement came from the Bureau of Public Information under the authority of Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply.

The program now calls for construction of more than 100 vessels in the next two years for various naval and air force purposes, including 64 patrol ships and 26 minesweepers, many of which now are on the ways.

Nazis, Rumania Sign Trade Pack

BUCHAREST, April 19 (AP) — Germany and Rumania, it was learned tonight, have concluded negotiation of a new trade payment treaty and an agreement is scheduled to be signed tomorrow.

Germany is to receive greater customs facilities and her wheat purchases are to continue on the scale in effort prior to the recent Rumanian embargo on wheat exports to the Reich.

The agreement is to be signed by Dr. Karl Clodius, German economic expert who heads the mission which has been negotiating here, and Rumanian officials.

The treaty is to operate for the protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia as well as Germany proper, but will not concern the German-occupied section of Poland.

Skagerrak Naval Battle Reported

GOTEBORG, Sweden, April 19 (AP)—Indications of new naval action in the Skagerrak came from offshore today when six heavy detonations, possibly caused by torpedoes, were heard here.

Buildings on the Swedish West coast rocked as if in an earthquake.

The first of the explosions was heard at 5 a.m. and they continued until 10 a.m., when cannonading still was in progress. The successive explosions moved in a Southerly direction.

Inhabitants of the Island of Hochne, in the Goteborg Archipelago, reported they saw at least 20 foreign warships and three troop transports heading Northward, but they could not say what nationality the vessels were.

Coastal residents reported they saw the wreckage of lifeboats and other ship debris, apparently from the transports, shortly after the cannonading.

Second I.R.A. Hunger Striker Is Dead

DUBLIN, April 19 (CP) — A second Irish Republican Army prisoner, John McNeela, who had been on a 55-day hunger strike, died in a military hospital tonight.

His death was announced after it had been reported that four fasters, including McNeela, had called their hunger strike off and were taking food.

The hunger strike started Feb. 25 when eight members of the outlawed I. R. A. were sentenced to three months imprisonment.

Hungary Rumored to Be in Danger of Nazi Invasion

Precautions Taken Despite Discounting of Reports; Searchlights Out, Air-Raid Squads Patrol; Nazi Moves Noted

YUGOSLAVIA TRACES DOWN PLOTTERS

BUDAPEST, Hungary, April 20 (Saturday) (AP) — Numerous members of the British and French colonies moved out of Budapest last night and early today because of rumors in Allied quarters that Hungary is in danger of German invasion.

Although Hungarians discounted such rumors as alarmist, the Government appeared to be taking special precautions.

Searchlights swept the sky over Budapest throughout the night and air-raid protection squads patrolled the streets.

Among the departing Britons were newspaper correspondents, who moved their headquarters to Belgrade. There also was a report that some documents of the French legation had been taken to Belgrade. A speedy truck stood in the courtyard of the British legation, ready for the rapid transfer of documents, should this seem necessary.

While there is also considerable concern over the safety of Yugoslavia, Belgrade is regarded as less cut off than Budapest in case of sudden thrust.

The British and French sources which gave credence to the rumors said that Hungary is attractive to Germany as a key position in the Balkans.

PARIS, April 19 (CP)—Havas News Agency in a London dispatch reported tonight that Germany has concentrated several fresh divisions on the Hungarian border and inaugurated mysterious troop movements near Yugoslavia, apparently to force Italy out of neutrality and into the war.

That such an eventuality is being reckoned with in Rome was indicated, Havas said, by the bitter anti-Allied Italian press campaign. Fascist leaders may be seeking to prepare public opinion for possible belligerency, the news agency said.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, April 19 (AP)—Yugoslavian authorities announced tonight they had discovered a plot to overthrow the government and turn the country over to the Nazis and had interned former Premier Milan Stoyadinovic, "friend of Germany", in a lonely and inaccessible mountain hamlet.

Stoyadinovic was moved from Belgrade to isolate him from foreign agents and his own Yugoslav colleagues, who fell from power with him a year ago.

"We want no quislings, no henleins, no hachas, no seyssinquarts in Yugoslavia," said one official. He was referring to Germany's "front men" in the invaded countries of Norway, the Sudetenland, Czecho-Slovakia proper, and Austria.

The village where Stoyadinovic was taken is cut off almost completely from the outside. Police said cryptically: "Even an airplane cannot land there."

Reports from the Italian frontier described, meanwhile, unusual activity among Italian troops. There have been other reports of German troop concentrations near the Yugoslav border.

In Turkey, 60 Germans were expelled today and the government denied foreigners the right to enter Turkish schools without special authorization from the Ministry of Education.

MOSCOW, April 20 (Saturday) (CP-Havas) — Tass, Soviet News Agency, today denied reports that negotiations between the Soviet Union and Rumania had resulted in an agreement for withdrawal of Russian troops 10 kilometres (about 6¼ miles) from the Rumanian border.

The reports had said, also, that Rumanian troops were to be withdrawn an equal distance from the Soviet frontier.

Tass also denied that the Soviet Government will conduct "political" negotiations with a Yugoslavian delegation which, however, is en route to Moscow to discuss economic relation and;

That the U.S.S.R. is seeking an agreement with Japan to gain a free hand in Europe.

Little Support for Telford Gasoline Plan

VANCOUVER, April 19 (CP)— Mayor Lyle Telford's plan for civic distribution of gasoline found little support among aldermen at the City Hall today but the Civic Utilities Committee agreed to table the project for two weeks in an attempt to gauge public opinion on the matter.

Alderman H. D. Wilson, Chairman of the Civic Utilities Committee, will call an ther meeting within two weeks to dispose of the matter, finally. In the meantime Corporation Counsel D. E. McTaggart will prepare a report on whether the City has legal power to engage in the retail sale of gasoline.

Italian Papers Modify Tone of Pro-Nazi News

ROME, April 19 (CP).—Apprehension over Italy's position in the war subsided today as the Italian Press modified somewhat the tone of its pro-German treatment of war news.

Italian circles generally tended to minimize the tension which developed earlier this week with speculation as to Italy's readiness to enter the war immediately on Germany's side.

The authoritative Editor, Virginio Gayda, asked in Il Giornale D'Italia what had developed in Italy's attitude that was not already known.

"Where is the Italian menace?" he asked.

He advised Britain against "unwise manoeuvres" and said other nations should mind their own affairs and leave Italy in peace.

"Italy has nothing to learn from anyone about its rules of conduct," he said, "and would not accept a warning from anyone."

The Italian Press continued to voice Italy's desire for a stronger position in the Mediterranean and to express annoyance at the Allied blockade.

Il Giornale D'Italia published on its front page a map showing Italy's sea routes barred by gates at Gibraltar, Suez and the Dardanelles.

Popolo D'Italia said Il Duce already had indicated that the Italian people would be capable of exceptional sacrifices to prevent Italy from being "kept prisoner" in the Mediterranean.

The newspaper said that Italy is "in the Mediterranean a single and huge aircraft carrier having at its disposal six or seven superb bases that no one will ever be able to sink," and warned Britain that she must remember this.

Phones to Ring if Sweden Invaded

STOCKHOLM, April 19 (CP-Havas).—Telephone bells will ring in homes throughout Sweden in the event of an invasion, under a plan which officials have under preparation here. Nearly all Swedish homes have telephones.

N. McClement and Nisbet Win High School Oratory

Medals Presented to Four Winners; Wide Variety Chosen

The winners:

Seniors—Neena McClement, first; Alan Emmott, second.

Juniors — Walter Nisbet, first; Willa McClement, second.

These four students were winners of the Nelson Rotary Club and Alumni Medals, respectively, in finals of the Nelson High School Oratorical Contest at the Junior High School Friday night. Georgina Williscroft was third for the seniors and Eric Holmgren third for the juniors. First place winners received gold medals and second place winners silver medals.

The medals were presented by A. T. Horswill on behalf of the Rotary Club and James Ryley on behalf of the Alumni.

Judges were Rev. Foster Hilliard, who announced the results and criticized the speeches; and C. H. Hamilton and Mrs. Nelson Colville. A wide range of subjects was chosen.

Neena McClement humorously told of the antics of her pet parrot Polly, a bird of 25 years of age. It was a case of clucking like an old hen when she was patted, or calling out "Poor, poor Polly" when she was neglected. Incidentally, Polly was a well brought up parrot, and did not swear. When she disagreed with an action of someone, she merely told them they were "very bad, bad." She whistled her own tunes and danced various jigs, but her singing crowned all. She even sometimes helped out radio singers which was too much.

TWO PROBLEMS IMPORTANT

Alan Emmott chose a deeper subject, and one smacking of events highlighted across the Dominion last month when he spoke of "As Youth Looks at Democracy". While one speaker after another on both sides of the political fence pulled "the other fellow" down, in the recent election campaigns, neither party mentioned two problems which the speaker considered among the most important of the day. These were the youth problem and unemployment. Hundreds of youths got out of school and became "jacks of all trades", never really getting anywhere in life. "But you can't hold that against them. They do their best." But something must be done to relieve the situation, the speaker contended. "We have a big rich country here. The Okanagan and the Kootenays have a lot of natural resources in them but people throughout the country are starving," he said. Of course they could obtain relief, but that was of little help.

The Dominion could appropriate $1,000,000 a day for "successful prosecution of the war," as Mr. Mackenzie King put it. And during peace time that $1,000,000 a day could have been used for road work or some other enterprise which would have put thousands of the country's unemployed to work.

The speaker said he did not blame the Governments, but he urged his listeners to "delve into the Governments" and "read about them so that you will understand them."

PROPAGANDA DEADLY

Right here in Western Canada, citizens were being threatened with one of the most deadly and insidious weapons of war — propaganda — declared Georgina Williscroft. Propaganda was a slow, deadly poison that was administered in small doses in daily news broadcasts. It was a ceaseless 24-hour barrage. At listening stations of the large radio networks, the propaganda was received and there the greatest amount of twisting and turning of the truth was done. "This is propaganda, rough, tough and juicy," the speaker said.

The word propaganda was first derived in 1615 and had been used through the centuries, but it became synonymous with war during the Great War, and was continuing to be so used in the present conflict.

Presenting a scientific matter in a simple manner and being apparently "well up on his subject," Walter Nisbet told of the activities and the diseases common to the deep sea diver. The most important parts of a diver's equipment were his rubber and canvas suit, his lead weighted shoes and belt, and his helmet. The worst and most common disease was one known as the "bends." This resulted when divers stayed down too long. When they rose to the top, changes took place in the blood, caused by the change of air and sea pressure on the man, and bubbles in all blood veins and arteries resulted. These caused intense pain and if a bubble reached the heart and blocked the muscles sudden death might occur.

The "oxygen jag" was another illness which attacked a diver when he received too much oxygen while on the bottom of the sea. He acted as though he were intoxicated. He often believed he had superhuman strength and thereby often strained his heart muscles. There was no known cure for the disease.

DOUKHOBOR HISTORY RELATED

Willa McClement chose a subject close to Nelsonites when she told of the history and life of the Doukhobors. These peasants came from Russia in 1899 and settled in Saskatchewan. When their leader, Peter Verigin, came out of exile in Russia in 1902, the Doukhobors started out on a long march seeking a "promised land." They thought Verigin might be Christ and they were going to meet him. They were stopped however, at Yorkton, Sask. She told of nude parades, and the death of the first Peter Verigin in a train explosion, October 29, 1924, near Farron. She also told of Peter Verigin the Second and the trouble which had occurred in the country during his leadership.

INSTRUMENTS OF WAR

These "devilish instruments of war," — torpedoes, depth charges and mines — were described by Eric Holmgren.

He described the construction and the method by which a torpedo was driven through the water by two propellers. A depth charge, or "ash can" weighing about 300 pounds, could deal a crushing blow to a submarine if it struck near it underwater.

Magnetic mines were of two types —those which rose to the surface when a ship passed over, and those which stayed on the bottom and exploded when the passing ship set up magnetic contact.

While the judges were reaching their decision, a short program was given. On this were a vocal solo by Roberta Patterson accompanied by Daisy Norris; vocal solos by Gordon Allan, accompanied by Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson; a humorous monologue regarding a young wife at her first baseball game by Marjorie Jorgenson; and piano selection by Mrs. Ferguson.

Robert Morris was Chairman.

All Tired Out Before Day Half Over

Women who should be strong and healthy become weak, run down and worn out, and are unable to attend to their household duties. They get up in the morning dreading the day's work ahead of them.

Some disease or constitutional disturbance has left its mark in the form of shattered nerves, impoverished blood, and an exhausted condition of the entire system.

Women will find in Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills the remedy they need to supply food for the exhausted nerve force, and one that will help them back to sound, perfect health again.

38 Choirs Will Sing, Festival

Choirs, particularly school choirs, are always a major attraction of the Kootenay Music Festival, and followers of that variety of music will receive the utmost of enjoyment again this year when the festival is held in Nelson from Wednesday to Saturday of next week.

There are a total of 38 choirs in competition in a variety of classes during the festival, and as usual most of the classes, which will be adjudicated by John Goss of London, England, will be run off Friday. Of the 38, 21 are school choirs, eight church and nine miscellaneous.

Motion to Disband Trail Ratepayers Fails Find Support

TRAIL, B.C., April 19 — Robert Mullaney proposed a motion at the annual general meeting of the Trail Ratepayers' Association Friday night, that the organization disband "until ratepayers in the city showed more interest in their own affairs". But there was no seconder and the Association decided to continue to function.

David Kenneway, newly elected President, in taking over the chair from Tom Reid, stated that in order to succeed the Association must create interest in itself as other successful organizations have done.

Other officers elected follow: C. W. McLean, Vice-President; Joe Hart, Secretary-Treasurer; Sam Stewart, Guy Sanborn, Frank Campbell, W. L. McDonald and Tom Reid, Executive Committee. The committee was empowered to add to its number.

About 20 attended the meeting.

High School, Junior High to Hold Track Meets Week, May 13

Permission to hold the annual Nelson High School and Junior High School track meets in the week, May 13-17, was granted by the Nelson School Board Friday evening. The local meets will precede the Kootenay-Boundary School Track and Field meet at Trail a week.

Permission for two teachers to accompany the High and Junior High contingents to the District meet at Trail was also granted.

Half Holiday Granted Schools for Festival

A half holiday for Nelson schools on the afternoon of Friday, April 26 to enable school choirs to compete in the Kootenay Music Festival was granted by the Nelson School Board Friday evening. Principals were also empowered to dismiss their classes at their discretion earlier if it was felt necessary to facilitate the choirs work in the Festival.

Tuning of the piano at the Hume School over this weekend for use of the choirs, to be entered in the festival and for regular singing classes, was authorized.

PURCHASE HUME SPORTS EQUIPMENT AUTHORIZED

Immediate purchase of athletic equipment for the Hume School, covered in the estimates, was authorized by the Nelson School Board Friday night, acting on the request of Principal B. B. Stallwood. Secretary Fred L. Irwin was authorized to make the purchases listed by the Principal.

REQUESTED USE PHYSICS LAB REFERRED TO ROGERS

Request of Wright MacIntosh, who is taking a senior matriculation course by correspondence, to use the physics laboratory of the Nelson High School was referred to Principal L. V. Rogers for a report by the Nelson School Board Friday evening.

COAST MAN FOUND DEAD

RICHMOND, B.C., April 19 (CP) — Neighbors entering the Lulu Island home of Walter Obuchovsky today found the Russian dead with a knife wound just above the heart. The doors of the house were locked from the inside and a note written in Russian lay beside the body.

C.N.R. REVENUE GAINS

MONTREAL, April 19 (CP)—Increase of $7,727,899 in net revenue of $5,437,961 for the three months ended March 31, compared with a net revenue deficit of $2,289,938 in the first three months of 1939, was reported today by the Canadian National Railways.

Increased Mill Rate Appears Bound Come Clark Tells Trail Ratepayers

TRAIL, B. C., April 19—"I think the Council, like myself, have made up their minds that there is bound to be an increase in the mill rate," Mayor Herbert Clark, told a meeting of the Trail Ratepayers Association Friday night when he reviewed the deficit with which the 1940 Council was faced and how it had set out to regain this ground.

However, after Mr. Clark concluded his address, Ald. P. R. McDonald, told the meeting that he personally was opposed to an increase in the mill rate.

Mayor Clark pointed out that the Council had the option of making a drastic reduction in Civic expenses, or raising the mill rate, or "a little of both".

The Council, besides having to operate the City at $18,000 less than last year, was faced with a debt of about $30,000, he said.

"As Trail is essentially a working man's town we felt," Mayor Clark said, "that we shouldn't boost the mill rate if we could get away from it, and the Council agreed to back me 100 per cent. I don't say we are doing everything right, but we are doing the best we can."

Mayor Clark said that the city staff was working on the estimates and not until it was found out what revenue was available would it be known what saving, if any could be made.

DIFFICULT PREDICT

"Therefore," he said, "it is difficult what the mill rate will be."

The speaker pointed out that for 11 years the tax rate was 37 mills and added he would like to see it returned to that. (The 1939 mill rate was 40½ and in 1938 it was 42).

"It has been suggested," said Mayor Clark, "that we keep within our budget and write off a portion of our overdraft. If we have to suffer, I believe in suffering and getting it over quickly. If we are to clear our decks, we have to raise the mill rate. Next year's Council could reduce it."

Mayor Clark was "pretty sure" that a reduction in expenditure had been made during the first quarter of the year. He pointed out that by the new system suggested by a firm of auditors early in the year, a statement of city affairs would be obtainable at the end of each month, enabling a rigid check on expenditures.

"In that way," he said, "we will have an advantage which other Councils have not had."

WATERWORKS BONDS

In reviewing Trail's waterworks system over a period of about 30 years, he said $400,000 had been borrowed for development of the system during that time. The $130,000 borrowed for the recent extension was the largest waterworks loan made by the City. Of the $400,000 borrowed since 1909, a total of $126,000 had been retired, leaving a balance of $274,000. Of the latter sum $37,000 would be retired in 1941. At present the City was paying $8000 a year toward principal and interest but with the retirement of the $37,000 bond issue next year, annual payments would be reduced to $4000.

"While some feel there should be a reduction in water rates in the City I feel the Council would be foolish in monkeying with them at this time," Mayor Clark said.

Principals Will Be Reminded Must Make Known Substitutions

A reminder that all substitutions made for teachers absent because of illness must be made known to the Nelson School Board by the Principals will be sent out in a letter to the Principals, it was decided by the Board Friday night. This decision was made when Trustee William Coles asked if the Board had been informed of a substitution at one of the schools, and if the regulation that the Board be notified of all substitutions was being enforced In the case mentioned the Board had been notified through Secretary Fred L. Irwin.

T.A.A.A. Officers Returned to Posts

TRAIL, B.C., April 19—The entire slate of last year's officers was returned by acclamation at the annual meeting of the Trail amateur Athletic Association at the Memorial Hall Friday night. The officers follow: W. O. Williams President; Ivan Jefferies, Vice-President; B. A. Pople, Secretary; G. F. Haszard, Treasurer; and P. F. McIntyre, Honorary President.

In commenting on the year's work, President W. O. Williams stated that busiest year of its history. Eight activities, covering some 300 athletes, were affiliated with the T.A.A.A. during 1939.

Jock Lilley, Harry Rothery and Joe Haley were appointed a committee to allot times for use of Butler and Victoria Parks.

PROPERTY COMMITTEE IS TO HANDLE INSTALLING CENTRAL RADIO WIRING

Property committee of the Nelson School Board Friday night was requested to investigate the estimates for the Central School, and if provision had been made, to have electrical connections installed in the music room for the class radio immediately. At present it is necessary to run a connection through a window into the dentist office to use the machine, Principal F. B. Pearce reported.

Mr. Pearce also reported that permission had been granted for the use of the Central School piano, purchased by the School, in the Kootenay Musical Festival.

St. John Ambulance to Use Classroom

Nelson Centre, St. John Ambulance Association, Friday evening was granted permission to use a Central School basement room for new classes opening Tuesday, by the Nelson School Board. The Centre used the room for previous classes on the understanding that it arrange for extra janitor work.

Request for the use of the room was contained in a letter from Arthur Singleton, Honorary Secretary.

Under the proposed plan students will be organized into traffic patrols, similar to those of Junior Police organizations in larger cities.

Retired Refinery Employes Honored at Banquet, Trail

TRAIL, B.C. April 19—Thirteen retired employees of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company were feted by fellow workers of the silver refinery at a banquet at the Crown Point Hotel Friday night. The guests of honor were J. J. Fingland, Retired Superintendent, and Steve Borkes. George Goddard, Tony Battistella, Angelo Ludovici, Jack Wilson, Mike Woolf, Archie Forrest, Joseph Koehn, William Gopp, Frederico Caputo, G. Ginnetti and Charlie Defeo, retired employees.

A total of some 340 years service with the company was represented in the group of retired employees.

The program included musical selections and short talks.

Over Five Tons of Fertilizer Donated Rossland Employees

ROSSLAND, B.C., April 19—A report issued by H. W. Lefevre, Secretary of the Consolidated Company Workman's committee, showed that 10,500 pounds of fertilizer were distributed among Rossland employees last week. About 525 families took advantage of this distribution, which was given out in 20 pound lots to employees both of the C.M. & S. Company and of the West Kootenay Power & Light Company.

Ford Co. Is Accused of Employing Thugs

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP).—A National Labor Relations Board trial examiner today accused the Ford Motor Company of "gathering together the most brutal, vicious and conscienceless thugs in its employ" to block unionization of Ford workers under the Wagner Act.

The accusation was made by Examiner Robert Denham in a report of a month's hearing on labor difficulties at the Ford plant in Dallas, Tex. He recommended that the Company reinstate two employees with back pay and notify individually all of its employees in the United States that it would "cease discouraging" union membership.

DALLAS, April 19 (AP).—Gabe P. Allen said tonight a National Labor Relations Board accusation that the Ford Motor Company had gathered together "brutal, vicious and conscienceless thugs" to block unionization of workers was "just a conclusion and wild inference" in an effort to carry out the Board's policy of "persecuting" the company.

Mrs. A. Watt Tells West Kootenay Institutes of Work Through World

Over 100 Persons at Banquet in Her Honor

An interesting review of the history and varied work of the "biggest single organization of women in the world, which are a great asset to civilization"—the Women's Institutes of the world—and splendid insights into the customs and general life of members of each country, were given at a large dinner meeting of well over 100 persons, representative of Women's Institutes throughout the West Kootenay and other ladies' organizations in Nelson, at the Hume Silver Room Friday night by Mrs. Alfred Watt, M. A., M. B. E., O. M., President of the Confederated Country Women of the World.

Speaking to the Nelson Institute directly, Mrs. Watt said that the greatest war service her listeners could offer was to make a still more prosperous country out of Canada, the home of the Women's Institutes, and "not let it go downhill while we are sewing socks for the soldiers." She believed that the time had come when the Women's Institutes should discontinue looking after other organizations, such as the Red Cross, and should concentrate all their attention to building up their own body. The present war, she said, was essentially an economic and political war, and what she advised was to develop the home resources.

PREVENTION OF WAR

Regarding the Women's Institutes as a world organization, she said that she believed "we have found the right way to internationalism Before the last war broke out, we had a conference in London with representatives attending from the 37 countries active in this work. If I kept these ladies together for 10 years, why couldn't the men?" she queried.

Mrs. Watt said that the first Institute was formed in Ontario in February, 1897, and it was a simple gathering that gave little thought at the time of the movement ever becoming international. She reviewed its spread throughout the world, until at the last census there were 1,500,000 members.

"We have made extraordinary progress in a very short time" the speaker stated, "and I've never been sorry for having taken up this work."

She explained the objects of the Institutes, such as education of their membership, thus contributing to the improvement of home and community life—general citizenship.

NO CASTES IN INSTITUTES

One point which Mrs. Watt enthused upon was the fact that it was a democratic, self-governing organization, instancing that in rural England the country women and nobility belonged to the same Institute. Every member of the Royal Family was a member of the local Institute. Queen Mary being very interested in the work. Several times she has asked me to speak at her Sandringham Institute to hear about Canada and the work in other lands," Mrs. Watt said. Mrs. Watt mentioned the fact that any lady could belong to the Institutes was evident in Sweden, where the distinction of clothes was completely obliterated. Whether an Ambassador's wife or a peasant's wife, all dressed alike.

Mrs. H. H. Pitts, in welcoming the visiting speaker, said she was pleased to see so many attend, stating that there were representatives present from Rossland, Thrums, Procter, Balfour, Fruitvale, Burton, Ymir, Salmo, Willow Point and Passmore Institutes. Also there were three Nelson charter members in attendance from 1908 — Mrs. Hector Mackenzie, Mrs. James Johnstone and Mrs. G. A. Hunter.

Special music was provided by Miss Maude Dolphin and Mrs. G. M. Williscroft, who delighted their listeners with violin and vocal solos respectively. Mrs. F. E. Wheeler, President of the Nelson Institute was in charge.

MAN'S SALVATION DEPENDS ON OWN EFFORT, REV. LONG

Man's salvaton depended upon his own effort, his belief in Christ and repentance of his sins, declared Evangelist J. W. Long of Spokane at the Bethel Tabernacle Friday evening, answering the question of the Disciples and of man today, "Lord are there few that be saved?" The Lord gave the answer in these words "Strive to enter in at the straight gate for many I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able." And that answer was the answer to the same question of today.

It was not Christ's fault or the Church's fault that salvation will not come to every man for Christ has gave the way, and the Church was on hand as a guide. Man must make the move towards God, he said, "Man must repent his sins and believe in Christ, before the Lord can save him." Most men were lost because they failed to realize salvation depended on themselves, as well as upon Christ.

Few were saved from the flood, the Evangelist said, not because there was no room in the Ark, nor because they were not warned, but because they failed to heed and waited until God shut the door. Similarly the door of God's mercy will be closed and many will not be able to enter, if they fail to heed God's words and "strive to enter".

Song service was led by Miss Elsie Riddock, while Miss Doris Weaver led in prayers Testimonies were led by Erling Kraft. "Good Night and Good Morning" was a solo sung by Miss Weaver.

High School Body's Offer Earns Praise of Board Chairman

"It is certainly fine to see the students displaying such a spirit and they should be encouraged," said Chairman R. B. Morris on the reading of a letter from Alan Emmott, Nelson High School Parliament Premier, offering the students' cooperation should the Board decide upon a beautification program for the school grounds.

The letter was referred to William Myers, Engineer in charge of the Boards' school ground beautification project, with the request that he suggest some way in which students could put their offer into concrete form in actual assistance in the ground beautification. The letter will be acknowledged with thanks, it was decided.

CHRISTENSEN OUTLINES REESTABLISHMENT OF NORMAL LIFE BEHIND LINE

OSLO, April 19 (AP) — Elnar Christensen, Chief of the Administrative Council which has taken over Civil Governmer functions in the German-occupied territory, today outlined the duties of his council as reestablishment of normal life behind the German lines.

The council was appointed by the Supreme Court although the Norwegian Government, fugitive from the German invasion, denies its authority.

Christensen said his task was "limited to restarting production within occupied territory, relieving the population and creating liveable conditions."

He added: "Our chief duty is to create a connection between producers and consumers and between farming districts and small towns on one side and Oslo on the other."

Hitler Gives Pardons as Birthday Gift

BERLIN, April 19 (AP)— Publication of a decree by Adolf Hitler of amnesty for physicians, dentists and pharmacists convicted of offences against their professional rules committed before last Sept. 1 coincides with preparations for celebration tomorrow of Hitler's 51st birthday.

The Sept. 1 limit for the amnesty coincides with the date that Germany invaded Poland, touching off the second Great War.

Hitler's anniversary will be celebrated on a countrywide scale but the celebration will be subdued because of the war.

Rudolph Hess, Hitler's deputy party leader and second in line of succession to him, addresses the German youth tomorrow morning. Baldur Von Schirach, head of the Hitler Youth Organization and now a Corporal in the army, will extend the organization's best wishes to Hitler from the Westfront by radio tomorrow night.

'At the direction of Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering Germans for weeks have been contributing objects of bronze, copper, nickel, lead, brass and zinc to the war-time metal collection as a birthday gift to Hitler.

EGYPTIANS SEIZE DANISH TANKER

CAIRO, April 19 (CP-Havas) — The 7000-ton Danish tanker Asmark, coming from Bahrein, on the Persian Gulf, with a cargo of oil, was seized today by Egyptian authorities and interned for the duration of hostilities. Three Norwegian vessels now are at Alexander awaiting their status to be straightened out.

End of May or Early June Earl of Athlone Will Sail for Canada

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

BALCOMBE, Sussex, England, April 19 (CP Cable)—The Earl of Athlone expects to sail for Canada to take up the duties of Governor General about the end of May or early in June, he told me here today at his big country home, Brantbridge Park, set in the midst of the tree-covered Sussex hills.

It will be his first glimpse of Canada since 1901 when he crossed the country with King George V on his way to Australia. It will be a first visit for Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, whose great grandfather, the Duke of Kent, lived at Montmorency Falls outside Quebec.

Seeing him in the simple life typical of an English squire it struck me that they are much the same sort of couple as the King and the Queen, only older. He is reserved, almost shy, with the bearing of a man who has spent years in the army. She is sparkling and vivacious, and there always seems to be a smile on her animated face which mirrors soft, quizzical eyes.

It seemed entirely out of character for a granddaughter of the haughty, austere Victoria to call a brindle bulldog from the house and exclaim "his name is Bronx, you know, he comes from a whisky and soda family."

Lord Athlone has a deep, quiet, resonant voice and his long years in the army, with service in India, Africa and France have left an unmistakable stamp on him. His hair is greying and he has the thick, bushy moustache usually associated with retired majors sitting quietly in West end clubs. But the sun and wind of many climates have tanned his face and given his eyes that clear far-away look of an outdoors man.

Lord Athlone has many shooting trophies on the walls and floors of his home and is looking forward to hunting big game in Canada. But he admitted almost ruefully that it seemed he was not much of a fisherman.

Princess Alice also is a keen hunter, with lions, tigers and an elephant to back up her stories of prowess with a rifle. She particularly enjoys camping trips and expects to find some time for this backwoods relaxation.

"I haven't been on skates since I was a child," she exclaimed when told of the skating parties at Rideau Hall. But it would no surprise me if she started skating again— she seems to be that sort of a woman.

Both Princess Alice and Lord Athlone said they are looking forward with keenest delight to their vice-regal term at Ottawa.

"It was a very great disappointment to us," Lord Athlone added, "when we could not go in 1914 but now all that will bepassed over."

The war will make things difficult for them, Lord Athlone said, but they expected o find ime to travel in every part of Canada, perhaps even the Arctic, as the late Lord Tweedsmuir did.

"I expect to see great changes in Canada," Lord Athlone declared. When he was there in 1901 in the party of the future King George V, they were on their way o the opening of the first parliament of the Commonwealth of Australia. It was a hurried trip through Canada.

But he still has vivid memories of Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Regina, Vancouver and other centres.

"Winnipeg in those days," Lord Athlone said, "was only a small place of 25,000 people, with the town just laid out. Now, of course, it is a big city of 200,000 or 300,000 people—I shall see a great change there and in other places as well."

Only Six Finnish Cities Escaped Russian Bombing

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) —Only six of Finland's 38 cities and towns escaped Russian bombing during the recent war, the American Red Cross was advised today by its representatives at Helsinki.

The reports gave this picture of the war's toll in Finland:

18,000 combat dead; 40,000 wounded; 10,000 of them permanently disabled.

640 civilian dead; 1500 hospitalized, two-thirds of them with serious injury.

440,000 homeless refugees from the Karelian Isthmus territory ceded to Russia in the peace.

Partridge Jailed Four Months for Forgery of Check

Pleading guilty to a charge of forging a check, Patrick H. Partridge was sentenced to four months in the Provincial Jail at Nelson when he appeared before Magistrate William Brown in Police Court Friday morning. It was alleged Partridge signed the name of Paul M. Hunden on the back of a $12 check drawn on the Imperial Bank of Canada for the B. C. Plumbing & Heating Co.

Partridge was arrested by Constable R. R. House of the City Police Thursday night.

Vanity . . .

Mother Who Won't Face Old Age Is Object of Pity

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

There's no worse embarrassment for children than to see their mothers throwing dignity to the four winds and behaving like silly young girls. Instinctively a daughter wants to honor her mother and it's a worse pain to daughter to be denied the privilege than it is to mother to be dishonored. When a child sees a parent falling off the pedestal she suffers. But alas! Most fathers and mothers do topple occasionally or at least lean at a tower of Pisa angle.

Can't we sympathize with the writer of this letter whose love and loyalty are being strained to breaking point? "I have a good mother in her way, but she embarrasses me to tears. Every time she goes out she has something to say about some man's flirting with her. She even says the husbands of her best friends make eyes at her when they meet her on the street. Mother is nearly sixty and I don't believe any gentleman wants to flirt with an old lady. A gentleman would have too much respect for age. Mother wasn't this way when father was living and it's terrible to see her so changed. If you can give me any suggestion as to how I can convince her she's wrong, I'd appreciate it."

Child, not respect for an old lady but utter indifference to her is what keeps the men from making eyes at her or trying in any way to flirt with her. (Not that sixty is old for a woman but that a sixty-year-old woman is old in the eyes of her children and the men on the street). There's what's getting your mother. She knows she's lost her cunning but the feminine vanity is dying hard. She's trying to breathe new life into it by pretending. She's trying to convince herself by playing a game of make-believe. If you were to fall for the tall tales she'd be considerably comforted. She would see that faint ray of hope which they say lasts as long as life.

Some day when you are much older you will have an inkling of this mystery which none has really solved; the mystery of the vain woman, unwilling to grow old gracefully, looking frantically about her, wondering if the life she once knew is gone forever, wondering if her charms have vanished with the rose: hoping against hope that she can stave off the bugaboo of old age.

It is this sort of foolish feminine vanity that makes her dress like a 16-year-old, wear her skirts too short, her colors too bright, her cheeks too pink and her lips too red. She's searching, always searching to see if she can still make an impression.

When she begins to complain that the men are making eyes at her, trying to flirt with her, you may be sure she has searched in vain for reassurance. Her pitiful little wish is father to her foolish little thought. Of course her public laughs at her but those who love her should pity her. She's dying a thousand deaths while she's dyeing her hair and her eyebrows.

Light Perfumes Till After 5 P.M.

By DONNA GRACE

Though most of the cosmetics are delicately perfumed no girl is satisfied with less than a few bottles of her favorite scents. But perfume, like the costume, has its time and occasion.

We know it is not in good taste to use the heavy exotic aromas at any time except after five in the afternoon. The correct time formerly began with the dinner hour but smart afternoon costumes at the cocktail hour permit the use of many of the evening scents.

The smart girl knows she may do as she likes about morning perfumes. Few use more than a cologne or toilet water and the scented dusting powder, and some dispense with all scents except the dainty suggestion of the powder. All bath and dressing rooms will have the English lavender either in cologne or bath salts. This is always the clean refreshing scent we like to associate with the wholesome type.

Toilet water of the more definite scents may begin at the lunch hour. The more pungent aromas are definitely back in favor and may be used even with filmy gowns. Darker period costumes call for a fine selection of these perfumes, while the pastels should be kept more delicate in their aura of loveliness. Some of the newer ones, however, are quite appropriate for all occasions.

Keep the fine scents in the case and not exposed to light and air. Examine the bottles frequently to make sure they have not been disturbed by someone who forgets to replace stoppers.

CENSUS ENUMERATOR FINDS 128-YEAR-OLD

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP) — A census enumerator reported she had found a man who claimed to be 128 years old and presented documents as proof. Officials said the evidence was so convincing the man's age was recorded officially. He gave his name as Sayed Mehren.

Tea or Coffee

BRAISED POT ROAST

Three pounds pot roast of beef, four or five medium-sized onions, chopped fine, one clove garlic, one cup chopped celery, six or eight carrots, two cups tomatoes, salt and pepper to taste, flour.

Rub sides of Dutch oven with clove of garlic cut in half. This may be omitted if the flavor of garlic is not liked. Wipe meat with damp cloth, brown in small amount of fat or melted suet. Add chopped onions, celery and whole carrots. Cover with tomatoes. Season well. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) two hours, or until meat is tender. Serves four to six.

IRISH SPICE COOKIES

Two cups fine oatmeal, one-half cup chopped nutmeats, one package (three ounces) chopped mixed candied fruit peel, two eggs (well beaten), one and one-half cups sifted flour, one-half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half cup melted butter, one-half cup dark brown corn syrup.

Mix oatmeal, sugar nutmeats and fruit peel; add sifted dry ingredients; mix well. Mix butter, syrup and eggs. Combine mixtures. Drop from tip of spoon onto oiled baking sheet and bake in hot oven at 400 degrees F. about 15 minutes. Makes three dozen.

MACARONI MUSHROOM SALAD

Cook one pound elbow macaroni in boiling salted water, until tender. Drain and cool. Mix with the contents of an eight-ounce can of mushrooms (drained of all liquid) Marinate with French dressing and allow to stand at least an hour.

Just before serving, add one-half cup crisp fresh vegetables, shredded or cut fine (cabbage, green peppers, a touch of minced onion, celery and celery leaves) and one-half cup mayonnaise. Serve on lettuce leaves with garnish of tomatoes cut into eights. Serves six.

RICE and MUSHROOM SALAD

One cup rice, washed and boiled in eight cups salted water. Drain. Shake in a colander, place in hot oven until every grain is dry. Let cool, sprinkle with a little salt, and over this sprinkle one-fourth cup nutmeats, chopped fine.

Make a French dressing of six tablespoons lemon juice. When well mixed, add teaspoon Chinese soy sauce. Place one-half cup canned button mushrooms over nut meats and pour dressing over all. Serve on lettuce.

Chicken Mushroom Salad Loaf

One eight-ounce can mushrooms, can of clear chicken soup, tablespoon plain gelatin, two tablespoons cold water, one cup cooked chicken, one green pepper, one pimiento, tablesp on Worcestershire sauce.

Drain liquid from mushrooms into a measuring cup. Add the soup and water sufficient to make two cups of liquid. Bring to a boil.

Soften the gelatin in cold water. Add the boiling liquid and stir until dissolved. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Add the mushro ms, the cooked chicken, shredded or cut fine, and the Worcestershire sauce. Pour into loaf pan Chill. Unmold on platter, garnish with salad greens and serve with mayonnaise. Serves six.

Nature's Aids to Clear Skin

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Is bowling a healthy sport for women?

I thoroughly believe in bowling as a healthy sport, both for men and women. As a form of exercise it has good psychological features. Interest in the game makes people forget they are taking exercise and they are, therefore, not so likely to give up easily, which they would do with bedroom exercises or walking, both of which get somewhat monotonous.

It is splendid exercise for the back, the arms, the thighs and the forelegs, and it cultivates coordination of the muscles with the eyes and the sense of equilibrium.

It is good for a problem child of any age because it promotes companionship and good sportsmanship. It should appeal to women because it is a good way to streamline the body, and it stretches many muscles which otherwise would not be used.

Curiously enough, it reduces fat people and increases the weight of thin people. Neck, chest, back and thigh muscles that are becoming stringy and unbecoming fill out into rounded contours. It improves carriage and complexion.

DIETS SUGGESTED TO IMPROVE SKIN

What diets are recommended for the skin?

Nature's remedies are probably the best skin tonics. Sunshine, fresh air, water and cleanliness are included in these. For complexion and health the skin needs sulphur, iron, vitamin A and probably a newly-discovered vitamin which is present in liver.

Vegetables and fruits are substances which contain the natural minerals and vitamins that are skin tonics. Onions may be said to be good food skins; the onion is rich in sulphur and if eaten raw probably is more benefical than when cooked.

Among other foods that are good sources of sulphur are sprouts, cabbage, beet root, radishes, endive, cauliflower, red cabbage. Foods which contain iron are watercress, spinach, prunes, raisins, apricots, parsley, olives, dandelion leaves and nearly all dark green vegetables. Vitamin A is supplied by carrots, which contain carotene, the basic substance from which vitamin A is manufactured. Do not peel the carrots because the surface, as with most vegetables, contains larger amounts of vitamins than the pulp.

Almonds and brazil nuts contain oils which are said to be skin tonics.

Plenty of water is also advisable.

HOW TO SELECT CHILDREN'S SHOES

Recipe for good children's shoes.

1. Measure both feet to be sure that they are both well fitted; that the shoes are wide enough but not too wide.
2. Stockings should be long enough so that they will fit the foot loosely.
3. Give the toes room to expand.
4. The instep should be fitted snugly but not be binding. The heel should also be fitted snugly so that it does not chafe.

Teaching a Child Self Sufficiency

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Often in this column I have emphasized the importance of training the child in self-reliance from his early years and, through many concrete instances, have suggested ways and means of cultivating it.

I enjoy the increasing number of letters I receive which tell how it worked, letters which describe success in child guidance and parent-child relationships. I felt strong admiration for the mother as I read the following from her letter. Those who have religious interest will be impressed that this mother prays for guidance in bringing up her children.

Dear Dr. Myers: I have never before written you although for years I have read your articles and found help in them, as you always write concerning the average family, which I consider mine to be.

What I wanted to tell you was that I agree with you very much in your idea of 'self-sufficiency.'

TWO DAUGHTERS

My two daughters, Louise in the second year in high school, and Barbara, in junior high school, are 16 and 13 years of age . . . As early as the girls were able to cross the streets they were allowed to go to the store and buy listed groceries, sometimes to select one other item of their own choosing. As they grew older they somethies selected the groceries for the whole meal.

We happened to live near three grocery stores. They learned early to compare the different food prices and to get the best bargains so that they might have the penny that would be left over. They were always careful to look for the best quality, too.

At Christmas time they were allowed so much money with which to select gifts for the family and their friends.

They were allowed the same privilege of selecting and buying their clothing and shoes. Sometimes their clothing was better, sometimes not quite so good, but I consider them to be more or less experienced now. No clerk can talk them into buying something they do not want, and they certainly do compare prices and go where they can get the best buy. My husband and I want to train our boy that way, too. . . .

PRAYER MEANT MUCH

Prayer has always meant much to me, and taking our children to God in prayer has, we think, helped us solve many of our problems. I do not know how any mother or father could get along in raising children in this stream-lined age without asking the aid of their Heavenly Father.

May I wish you continued success in your fine daily column.

By the way a few years ago, when I felt particularly low, one day, about the gulf between what I preach and what I practice as parent, I wrote a prayer for myself. Supposing it might be helpful to my fellow parents, I had it printed at the end of my book, "The Modern Parent." You may have a reprint of this parent's prayer by writing me in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it. In like manner you also may receive an assortment of prayers for the little child.

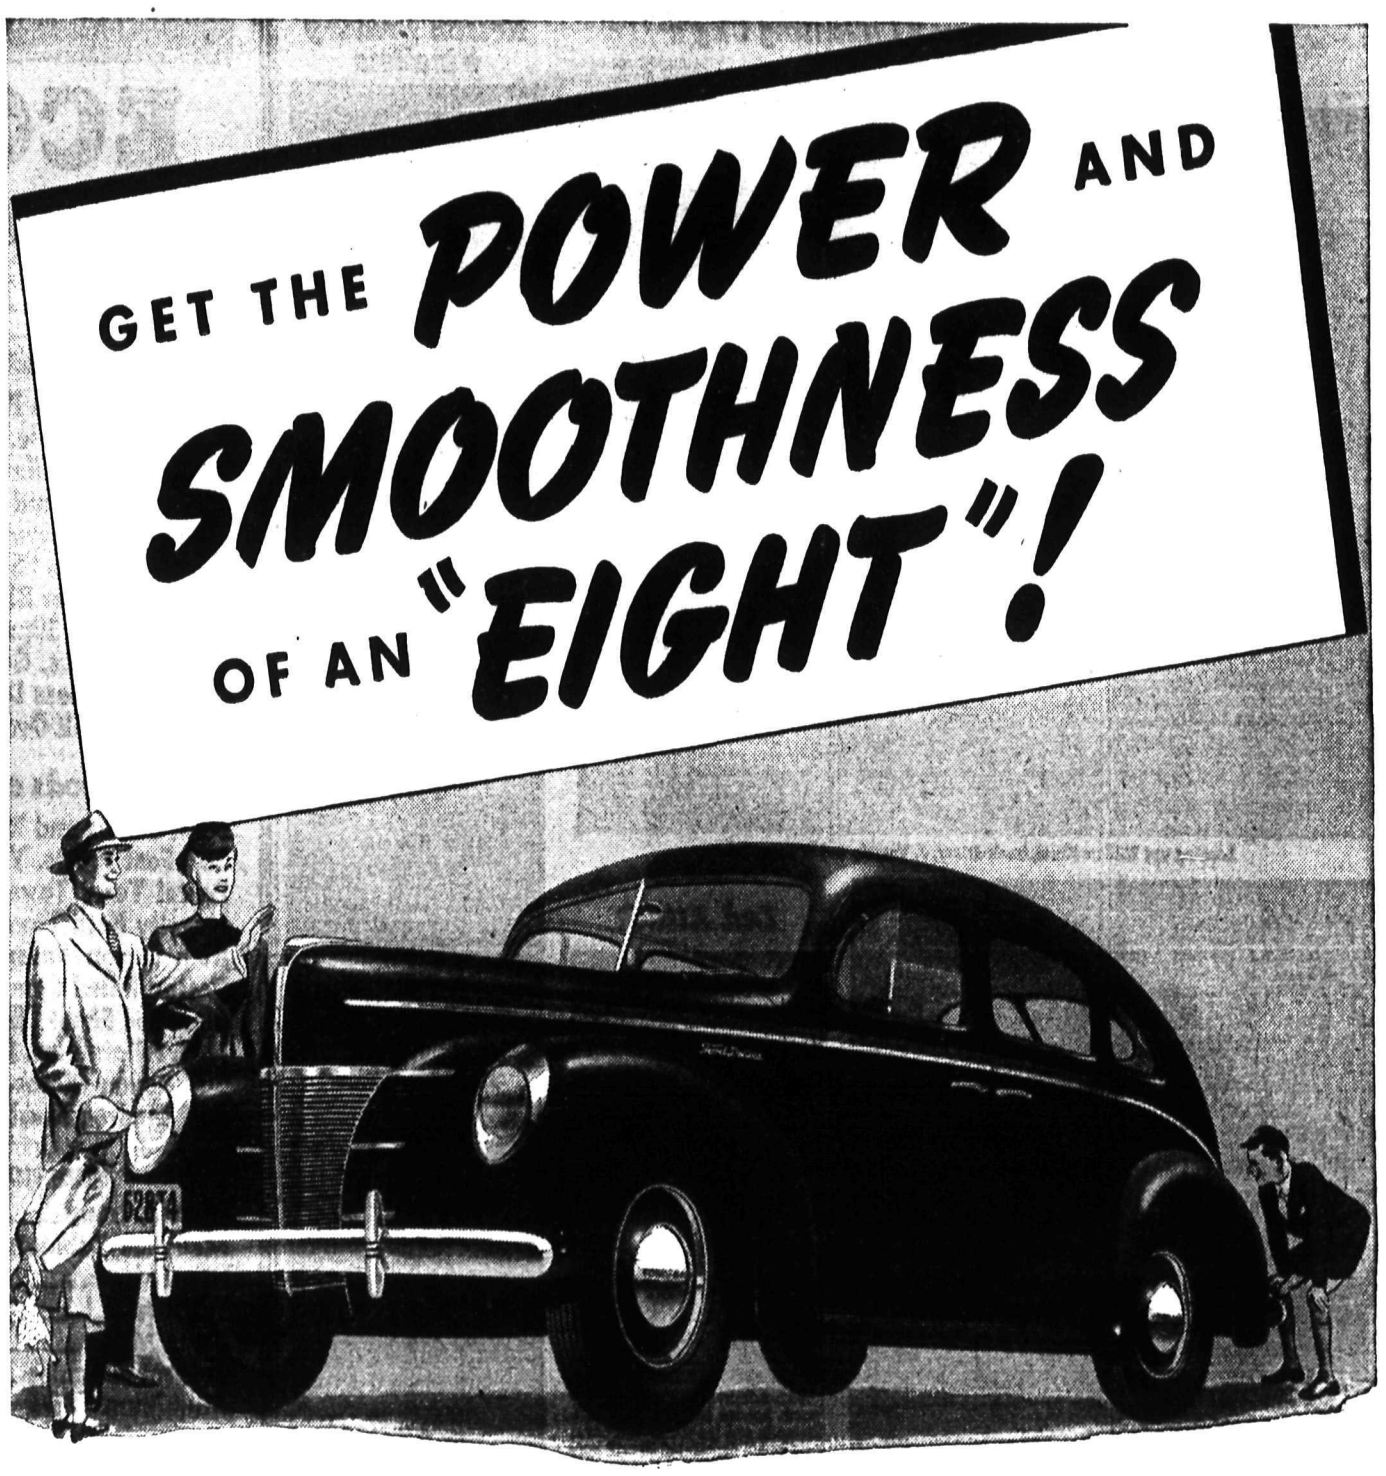
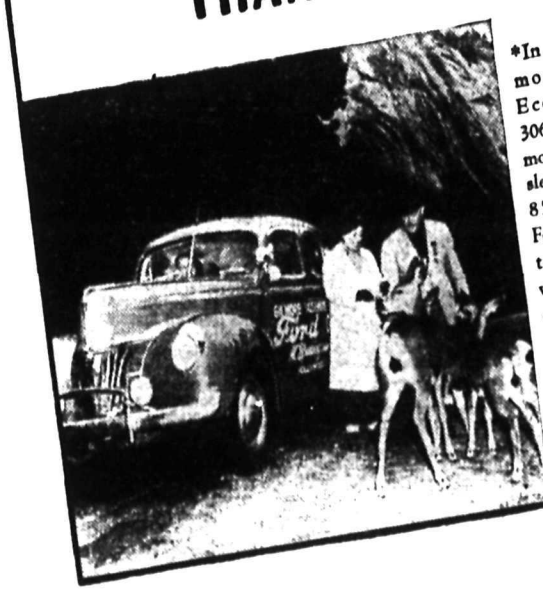
GET THE POWER AND SMOOTHNESS OF AN "EIGHT"!



WITH GREATER ECONOMY* THAN A "SIX"



*In the 1940 Gilmore-Yosemite Economy Run—306.5 miles across mountain ranges in sleet and rain—an 85-hp. De Luxe Ford V-8 surpassed the two other volume-production cars in its price class (both "sixes"), and turned in a record of 29.88 miles per Imperial gallon of gasoline!

Engineers know that at least 8 cylinders are desirable for power, smoothness and flexibility. As proof, consider the fact that the highest-priced cars of most manufacturers have 8 cylinders or more.

V-type engines—"the world's most modern automotive engine"—hold unsurpassed records on land, sea, and in the air. This is the type of engine chosen for several of the highest-priced cars in the world.

Yet the 1940 Ford—the only low-priced car with an 8-cylinder engine, or a V-type engine—offers greater economy than the two volume-production "sixes"! (See information in panel).

Of course, performance and economy aren't everything. And in the Ford V-8, you'll find comfort and quiet . . . luxury and style leadership . . . roominess and a level, stabilized ride to match the plus-performance of the Ford V-8 engine!

Ask the Ford-Mercury-Zephyr dealer to put a Ford V-8 at your disposal, while you discover for yourself how much value low Ford prices represent. You'll like everything about this truly modern "eight"!

Trail Legion Band to Play, Ypres Day Ceremony, Nelson

"It has now been definitely confirmed that the Trail Canadian Legion Band will arrive in Nelson Sunday morning to join our local Legion in their ceremonial Ypres Day Parade," stated H. E. Thain, Secretary-Manager of the Nelson Legion, Friday afternoon.

"Many requests have been made that while in our City, this prize winning band should favor us with something of a worthwhile program, but due to another engagement in Trail early Sunday evening it is regretted that these bandsmen will have to leave fairly early in the afternoon. It is possible, however, that they will find time to play two or three numbers on the lawn in front of Legion Headquarters about 3:30 Sunday afternoon," Mr. Thain said.

The Trail band will take part in the Ex-Service Men's parade to the War Memorial on Vernon Street, the Rigby Memorial Tablet at the City Hall, and the special service at the First Presbyterian Church in the morning. They will then go in cars to Nelson Memorial Park in the afternoon for a short flag raising ceremony with the Veterans.

Max Baskin Home at Slocan Park Burned

The home of Max Baskin, Slocan Park pole buyer, was totally destroyed by fire with all its contents about 9:30 Friday morning. Mrs. Baskin said in Nelson in the afternoon that she was away from the house when it burned.

Mrs. Watt Tells Institute Women Can Help Win War on the Farm, in the Home and Keeping Up Morale

Holding the interest of her audience every minute Mrs. Alfred Watt M.B.E., President of the Associated Country Women of the World, gave an enlightening and interesting address on how the Women's Institute could be of most help to Canada during the war, when she spoke to the Institute Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Watts who was connected with the Department of Agriculture in London during the Great War, stated that from experience and past mistakes she felt now that she was in a position to know the best interests that could be served. At the outbreak of this war the Dominion Government had asked her to survey conditions in Canada, and this she had done, and formed a plan for the institutes to follow.

Her proposal was, first for women in the country to increase the food supply by all the means within their power; secondly, for the women of the country and of the cities to conserve food, which will be needed sometime, thirdly, for the women to keep up the morale of the community. With these three leads to follow, Mrs. Watt stated the Institute would be giving invaluable service to the country.

In the first instance, of increasing food production Mrs. Watt urged the women to grow more produce this year, and appealed to the women in the city to help their sisters in the country to achieve this object, by giving of their time.

Conservation of food could be effected by the members canning more fruit and vegetables, and in numerous other little ways. It was most important for members to keep this conservation in mind, she said, as supplies would play a great part finally in this economic struggle.

As for keeping up the morale, in the community and in the home was where women perhaps had their greatest influence, and she urged the members to remember such things as to suppress depressing false rumors, which were usually propaganda or the work of subversive interests, and to keep their general attitude towards their country and government stable and sound. The Institute being a respected organization, and in good standing all over the world, the members had a tremendous advantage in work of this kind, she stated, as their word always carried weight. In the home was the beginning and moulding of character, and here again women could play an important part by seeing that their homes represented the best in thought and deed, and were a bulwark of strength.

Social service was also another phase where women could be a strong force by keeping this country's living standard high, Mrs. Watt stressed that, and stating that the scale of civilization must not be lowered, as was happening in the totalitarian states, where such things were being neglected.

In closing Mrs. Watt stressed that actually there was no greater service that the Institute could render than to increase the economic prosperity of the locality. "Seek expert advice" she counselled, so that clearly defined methods and the right way could be followed. There was a great deal of pleasure to be derived by women putting into use these forces and talents, she said, and she hoped that the members would be able to accomplish great things.

CONSTABLE LEES TELLS PUPILS AND SCOUTS OF SAFETY REGULATIONS

Pupils at the Hume School and Central School were addressed Friday afternoon by Constable R. A. Lees of the Provincial Police Highway Patrol, on safety regulations and traffic safety. This dealt with crossing streets, riding bicycles and so on. He spoke to the Hume pupils at 2 o'clock and the Central at 3 o'clock.

In the evening he addressed Boy Scouts, at the Scout Hall.

W.M.S. Told of Conference by Mrs. D. Maloney

United Women's Missionary Society met in the Trinity United Church Parlor Thursday afternoon to hear the report of Mrs. David Maloney on the Branch Conference at Vancouver recently. Mrs. Foster Hilliard was in the chair.

Reports of Secretaries were received. The hospital visitors, Mrs. C. M. Young and Mrs. B. Simms, reported 126 calls during March. Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. J. A. Wilson also had a full report.

The Bible reading from the 14th Chapter of St. John was by Mrs. R. J. Patterson. Two vocal solos were greatly enjoyed. Mrs. J. C. Chambers sang "My Saviour Abides With Me", and Mrs. J. C. Hielscher sang "Sweet Peace, the Gift of God's Love".

The featured number on the program was a report by Mrs. Maloney on the Branch Conference of the W. M. S. held in Vancouver recently. The conference theme was "I am the Way, the Truth and the Life", and all speakers and leaders stressed the forward look. The Presidents of the five Presbyterials introduced a five-year plan for new organization work in their districts. A departmental "Treasure Chest" added many new ideas for use in auxiliaries, Mrs. Maloney said.

Six returned missionaries were introduced to the conference. New candidates were needed again this year for service at home and abroad, it was stressed.

Conference Branch renewed its membership in the League of Nations Society in Canada.

The Corresponding Secretary gave a forward look into years of unparalleled opportunity, stating the Great Leader was ready and able to lead to great achievements. During the past year many good speakers gave freely of their time and talents on speaking tours throughout British Columbia, it was reported, while Miss Louise Foster and Miss Mabel Carroll of West China University and Dr. Chone Oliver of India, gave outstanding help to many Societies. During the year there were 12 new affiliated groups and an increase of 83 in membership. The Sardis W. M. S. celebrated their 50th anniversary. Mission Bands and Auxiliaries used dialogues, pageants, study groups, dinner meetings, sewing groups and many other ideas to add interest to their work. During the last war W. M. S. givings steadily increased.

LIQUOR HITLER'S ALLY

The Temperance Secretary said that liquor was Hitler's greatest ally for it makes weaklings out of men who need all the strength and courage they possess. The Government of Canada asked mothers to give their sons for war, and therefore the Conference Branch endorsed a resolution asking the Government to curtail the sale of liquor to these "boys".

Several well-known soloists entertained the delegates. The finest musical offering of the Conference was the rendition by a Japanese girl of "Open the Gates of the Temple" and "My Prayer".

Among reports that of the Supply Department told the best story of them all, Mrs. Maloney said. This work, which included the making of scores of quilts and an endless supply of useful clothing and of "extra" gifts for the sick, the lonely and discouraged. These gifts showed these lonely ones they were not entirely alone, that someone cared for them, and cared enough to work and give unceasingly for them. The Kootenay sent a full supply allocation and an abundance of extra gifts. In all departments the U. W. M. S. have plans for a more consecrated service so that members may be more efficient Christian women, reports showed.

Seven Plays Entered East Kootenay Drama Festival Next Week

Seven plays are lined up for the East Kootenay Drama Festival at Kimberley April 26 and 27. Major L. Bullock-Webster of Victoria, Provincial Organizer of School and Community Drama, will adjudicate. He will be introduced by Dr. A. G. Pentland, President of the East Kootenay Drama Association. Kimberley Play-Reading Club is host for the festival.

Three plays are entered in the senior division and four in the junior. The senior plays are W. W. Jacobs' "The Monkey's Paw", by Creston C.Y.O.; Sacha Guitry's "Villa for Sale" by Creston Dramatic Club; and "The Wasp", by Kimberley Play-Reading Club.

Junior plays are Mary Reynolds' "The Waxen Man", by Creston High School Drama Club; Rose Kent's "Gory George", by Fernie High School Drama Club; Florence Ryerson's and Colin Clements' "Her Majesty the King", by Kimberley High School Junior Dramatic Club; and Beulah Marie Dix's "The Hundredth Trick", by Kimberley Senior High School Dramatic Club.

Creston Men Jailed Month for Supplying Liquor for Indians

John Joy and Patrick O'Reilly of Creston were brought to the Provincial Jail at Nelson Friday to begin serving sentences of one month each with hard labor imposed on them Thursday for charges of supplying liquor to Indians. Joy was sentenced by Donald Bradley, Justice of the Peace, and O'Reilly was sentenced by James S. Wilson, Justice of the Peace, both at Creston.

The men were escorted by Constable R. H. Hassard of Creston.

Mrs. Johnstone Suggests Probe Youth Activities

Reads Accounts Youth Congress; Nazi Work in U.S.

Mrs. James Johnstone presented a startling picture of subversive activities in the United States when, at a Nelson Women's Institute meeting Friday afternoon at the Institute room, Civic Centre, she described the adverse effect of Nazi propaganda on the youth of America.

Attacking another angle of youth activities closer to home, Mrs. Johnstone read newspaper accounts of the recent Canadian Youth Congress at Vancouver and appealed to Institute members to investigate such activities as she felt that they were not fitting nor desirable for Canadian youth.

CARD PARTY SUCCESS

The card party sponsored by the Institute last month had been successful, it was reported, $19.50 being realized. It was decided to hold another card party in the near future.

Mrs. F. E. Wheeler, President said the Institute had been invited to sponsor the Province Cooking School coming to Nelson next month, the proceeds to be given to the Red Cross. The executive had accepted, and tickets were given the members to sell.

Mrs. John Draper reported three layettes had been given out by the Institute and that a supply of baby clothes was on hand.

There were 16 babies, five of them newcomers, at the Institue Baby Clinic in March, Mrs. J. C. Robison reported.

War Board Takes Steps to Conserve Cod Liver Oil

OTTAWA—As a result of the invasion of Norway, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced the Government has taken prompt steps by order-in-council to preserve the domestic supply of cod liver oil by prohibiting exports of both cod livers and cod liver oil unless approved by the Board. The present action follows efforts by the Board during the past five months to increase the domestic production and to encourage the use of substitutes for animal and industrial needs.

The normal consumption of cod liver oil in Canada for pharmaceutical, animal feed stuffs, and other purposes is about 460,000 gallons a year; of this amount 75 per cent is normally imported. Imports from Norway in 1939 totalled 95,000 gallons.

Christian Reform Minister Goes to Trail From Nelson

Rev. John DeJong, Pastor of the Christian Reform Church at Vancouver, left for Trail Friday to speak there, after speaking both at Nelson and Apex Thursday. Mr. DeJong in his sermon before a congregation, comprised chiefly of Dutch people, at the Scandinavian Church here took his text from a verse in Proverbs, "my son give me thy heart."

30 Trail Scouters Will Be Guests at Big Nelson Meeting

Spirit of Scouting and inter-city friendship will be strengthened when some 25 or 30 Scouts and Scouters of Trail visit Nelson April 26 for a two-hour visit and conference with Nelson Scouting heads. The meeting is being held to confer on Summer activities. It will be held early in the evening so that the Trail men can return early.

Nelson officials attended a Trail Scout father and son banquet at Trail in February.

TRAIL SOCIAL

By MRS. H. S. ALLEN

TRAIL, B. C., April 18 — Mrs. George Drew, who visited relatives in Trail, has returned to Fruitvale.

Mrs. R. Machell and daughter Gene have returned to their home in Vancouver after being guests of the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Forteath, Topping Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bomban have left for California, where they will take up residence.

Mrs. J. W. Dougan has returned from Victoria where she attended the Provincial Capter meeting of the I. O. D. E.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Smith, Turner Street, have as their guest the latter's mother, Mrs. W. H. Walker of Nelson.

Mrs. John Walker and son Johnny have left for Nelson to spend a few days with the former's mother, Mrs. C. A. Burnett.

Women's Missionary Society of Knox United Church held its seasonal Thankoffering meeting in the Church Hall. Mrs. W. C. Mackenzie conducted the meeting and Rev. M. W. Lees took the devotional period. Mrs. M. Maloney of Nelson read an interesting report from the W. M. S. conference at Vancouver. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. W. E. Page, Bailey Street, was hostess to the Ladies' Service Club of Knox United Church. Final arrangements were made for their tea at which men of the congregation will take full charge. A social hour was enjoyed during which the hostess served refreshments. Mrs. Leonard Freeman assisting.

Miss Sandra Gordon has returned from Spokane.

Mrs. Edward Levesque, a bride of this month, was feted when Miss Helen Mawdsley and Miss Dixie Edwards entertained jointly at a delightful miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. H. Mawdsley, Jr., 2000 Topping Street. Bouquets of red tulips decorated the rooms. The gifts were presented to the bride in the form of a treasure hunt, each gift bearing directions for finding the next. Miss Hazel Mawdsley and Miss Jessie Gall assisted in serving a delicious repast. Other guests included: Mrs. T. Harrison, Mrs. E. Gendron, Mrs. C. Edwards, Mrs. S. HOOVER WOULD WITHDRAW RECOGNITION OF SOVIET

In a trenchant article in Collier's Magazine, Herbert Hoover, former President of the United States, reviews devastatingly the record of relations between the Soviet Union and the United States ever since the recognition of the Soviet Government by President Roosevelt, traces the outrageous conduct and standards of the Soviet from stage to stage—every act being hostile to the World's peace, alleged to be sought—shows that even in the matter of trade the Russian market does not amount to more than seven per cent of the Canadian market, and broadly suggests that the United States cease to treat the Soviet Government as respectable.

Dealing with the very last stage of the Soviet annals, Mr. Hoover says:

"Now let us look at the Communist Government at work against nations of free men in its "cooperating . . . for the preservation of the peace of the World."

"On August 22, 1939, the World was startled by an alliance of Fascist Hitler and Communist Stalin. This was no surprise to thinking people to whom the blood brotherhood was well known. It was embarrassing to a vast number of pseudo-liberals who had tried to envisage Fascism as the sole living devel of civilization.

"Nine days after this junction these governments simultaneously attacked independent Poland. They destroyed the freedom of a great people.

"Fourteen days later the independence of Latvia and Estonia was destroyed.

"We move on again for 60 days. On November 30 last came the unprovoked attack by Russia upon little Finland. Here the might of 160,000,000 Russians were thrown against 3,500,000 peace-loving and liberty-loving Finns. Do I need to describe these scenes? Where before in all civilized time has the slaughter of women and children been applied in an attempt to force the surrender of courageous men?

"Is all this, 'cooperation for the peace of the World?'"

Mr. Hoover proceeds:

"We may explore certain other consequences of this recognition of Soviet Russia directly upon American life.

"As a son of the recognition, an appeal was made to the cupidity of the American people. We were told in 1933 that upon this recognition, Russia would buy a vast quantity of American goods. A good part of American business was brought to support recognition by huge promises of new business.

"What is the record? During the almost exactly six years from the day of Russian recognition down to the day Poland was attacked, we sold a total of about $200,000,000 worth of goods to 160,000,000 people in Russia. That is less than 7 per cent of what we sold 10,000,000 people in Canada in the same period. It is a curious commentary that in the six years prior to the recognition we sold Russia almost $500,000,000, or more than twice as much."

After a reference to the $300,000,000 in gold bought from Russia at $35 an ounce since recognition, this "produced by the bleeding fingers of hundreds of thousands of farmers who have been condemned to Siberia for no reason but that they wanted to farm their own farms," Mr. Hoover adds:

"And another commentary on this whole bloody trade is that in the five months since Poland was attacked, our sales of goods to Russia have increased 300 per cent. That represents a large addition of gasoline, copper, alloys, etc., to aid in the subjugation of the liberties of the Finns and the Poles or other peoples."

Penumbral Eclipse of Moon Sunday

By W. G. C. LANSKAIL

The almanacs tell us that in the year 1940 two eclipses, both of the sun, occur. The first of these was on April 7 but was spoiled for us by cloudy weather.

What the almanacs do not tell us is that there are also three eclipses of the moon. This would seem to be a singular omission, but it may be excused on the ground that these three lunar eclipses are not of the usually observable kind.

In addition to the dark shadow, or umbra, in the form of a cone, cast by the earth into space, as it revolves around the sun, there is a fainter shadow completely surrounding the umbra, called the penumbra. It has been customary to list only those lunar eclipses where the moon passes partly or totally through portions of the penumbra, without touching the umbra. Actually this must occur at least twice in every year.

These penumbral eclipses are never very spectacular and are frequently not observable at all, hence their omission from the almanacs.

It happens however that one of these penumbral eclipses this year will be very noticeable indeed. The inner layers of the penumbra are much darker than the outer layers and on Sunday evening next, April 21, the full moon will pass through the penumbra, so close to the umbra as to almost touch it, with the consequence that part of one side of the moon will be very sensibly darkened.

When the full moon rises on Sunday night, if the weather is clear, its disk will be of uniform brightness. About 8 p.m. or shortly after a darkening will spread along the Southern edge, as though an eclipse of the usual kind were about to begin. At 8:27 p.m. the closest approach to the umbra will be made, after which the darkness will fade away and uniform brightness of the full moon will follow.

BEYOND OBSERVATION

There was a penumbral eclipse of the moon on March 23, when the moon just entered the outer layers of the penumbra, but this eclipse was beyond the limits of observation. There will be a similar one on October 16, also not observable to the naked eye. No other eclipse of any kind will be visible in this part of the Northern Hemisphere this year.

Do we realize that a total eclipse of the sun occurs every day? When the earth in its daily rotation carries us between the earth and sun, we see the horizon, or edge of the earth, rise up as it were and obliterate the "lord of day" at sunset. We are then for 12 hours, more or less according to the time of year, within the umbral shadow of the earth and our sun is totally eclipsed for the time being. The phenomenon is a very real one, but dulled to us by repetition.

New Instrument Improves Press Wirephoto Pictures

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—A revolutionary development which will be applied to transmission of pictures over the Associated Press wirephoto network has been conceived, designed, executed and perfected by Harry M. Bixle, AP's Chief Engineer, and his laboratory staff.

General Manager Kent Cooper's announcement of the new instrument, so small it can be held in the palm of one hand, said it would further increase the present quality of pictures on the wirephoto system.

"There is no instrument of a similar nature anywhere in the world so that the Associated Press has the distinction of owning and controlling patents on an invention which will in a number of ways be of material assistance to newspapers in improving their operations and product," Cooper's announcement said.

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

RETURNING THE SUIT

SOUND conventions of defensive play are those which convey valuable meanings from one player to his partner without sacrificing any of the trick-taking value of the cards used. Such a convention is the one that a player should return the original fourth-best of the suit his partner led against a No Trump contract, if he believes that suit affords a good defense against the declarer. The value of this is largely lost, however, if the original leader will not take the trouble to read the messages involved.

West obviously disliked leading a heart into that rebid suit, so selected his diamond 5. South let the trick go to the J, and East returned the diamond 7. Deciding now that a hold-up would do no good because he figured each defender for four diamonds, South took the second trick with the A. Lacking dummy entries, he laid down the two high spades and led a third to West. The latter cashed the diamond K, and realized he had blocked the suit. He could get a fourth trick, in hearts, but still wanted to set the contract. So he led away from his heart A, tempting declarer to win it in dummy and then try a club finesse. The heart trick was won in dummy, but then South saw through the ruse. He played two high clubs to drop the queen and succeeded, giving him a lucky game.

If West had counted East's return of the diamond 7 as his original fourth-best, he would have known East had the remaining two higher ones out, the Q and 9, and so should have played his diamond K under declarer's A. Had he done so, the contract could have been set surely, no matter what South did.

J. G., Nelson — Why do birds throw back their heads when drinking?

The pigeon is the only bird that drinks by suction. All other birds take the water into their mouths and throw back their heads in order to swallow.

W. M., Trail — Where would I write for information to obtain employment on the ground force in the Empire Air Training scheme in B. C.?

Write Officer Commanding, Royal Canadian Air Force, Vancouver, B. C.

F. T., Cranbrook — When entering a British port, does an American merchant ship fly a British flag?

Merchant ships fly two flags. On the foremast is the flag of the port to which the ship is bound, and on the stern mast, the flag of the ship's country is flown.

S. D., Robson — How many Trans-Canada planes are there each day?

There are two Trans-Canada planes travelling West and two East each day.

A. A., Trail — Could you give me the address of the Royal Canadian Air Force and also the Mechanical Transport Division of the militia?

Write Royal Canadian Air Force Headquarters, Vancouver, B. C., for first, and Officer Commanding, M. D. 11, Esquimalt, B. C., for second.

C. B., Castlegar — What is knife money?

It is a form of bronze currency long in use in China. Money knives were highly ornamented and bore characters on the blades indicating their value in the money market. The handles were usually in the form of a disk with a hole in the centre so that the knives could be strung on a cord with other money.

N. M., Nelson — May wood ash be used as a fertilizer?

Yes, wood ash has a definite value as a fertilizer.

Funk Says Currency Backed by Labor

BERLIN, April 19 (AP)—Walther Funk, President of the Reichsbank and Minister of Economics, declared today that "German reichsmark currency is backed by German labor and German achievement, but not by some commodity (meaning gold) the value and the nature of which are determined by forces outside Germany."

Funk made this assertion at his address at the annual meeting of stockholders of the Reichsbank.

Finance, like everything else in Germany, recognizes the supremacy of war needs, he said.

"Lowering the (Reichsbank's) discount rate constitutes the first step toward a systematic lowering of the interest rate, whereby financing of the war is to be made easier, especially for the Reich but also for business." Funk continued. "The Reich today pays on the average only three per cent interest on its obligations."

The Reichsbank's statement of April 10 showed that on April 6 its discount rate had been lowered from 4 to 3½ per cent.

Tommies Display Warning at Post

WITH THE BRITISH FORCES IN FRANCE, April 19 (CP)—A sign posted by Tommies on a blockhouse somewhere on the British front:

This position will be held and the post will remain here until relieved.

The enemy cannot be allowed to interfere with this post.

If the post cannot remain here alive it will remain here dead, but in any case it will remain here.

Should any man, through shell shock or any other cause, attempt to surrender he will remain here dead.

Should all guns be blown up the section will use grenades and other novelties.

Finally the post will be held as stated.

The blockhouse is situated on the right of the line held by the British Expeditionary Force where a battalion of the Lowland Scottish Regiment is stationed.

SENATE TO PROBE CAMPAIGNING FUNDS

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—The Senate Campaign Investigating Committee today ordered an investigation of complaints that "excessive sums of money" were being spent in behalf of some aspirants for the United States Presidency.

Senator Gillette (D., Iowa), Committee Chairman, said that the complaints had been received "from apparently reliable sources." He declined to name the candidates or the party involved but said that thus far charges affected only one party.

SERIAL STORY . . . By Richard Houghton

THE KILLER SPEAKS

CHAPTER 13

I spent the rest of that day on the couch in the Markham library. I suspected that the reporter had not notified the police, and had no intention of doing so until after his paper went to press the next morning, but I remembered that he had saved my life. I believed his deception was doing no great harm and decided that I would not spoil his story for him.

Also, I enjoyed having such a beautiful nurse. She did not smile again, though I did my best to distract her attention.

"You are brave," I told her. "Most girls would be in tears."

"I did cry," she admitted, "last night. Alfred was always a wonderful brother to me. But I have been away at school for years; perhaps that is why his death has not prostrated me. And there is George, my other brother, to give me strength."

"Nevertheless, you are very brave," I repeated. "I had no idea who you were until the doctor spoke your name, and I would never have suspected."

"Silly of me, wasn't it, to be out in a boat? That reporter came to the house and said he wanted to search the river. I let him borrow our boat, and I went along. I simply had to do something."

"I wonder what he expected to find?"

"He said he was sure the murderer had come and gone in a boat, and that you had been taken away in a boat. There is a police boat down the river, so he was fairly certain that no one would try to go that way. We went down only as far as the club, then circled back upstream, looking for strange boats. We didn't get far. I believe he has gone back to continue his hunt this afternoon."

"He's not so dumb at that," I observed.

"He certainly acts as though he would cut off his right arm for a story. I never saw him until today. He had my life history in fifteen minutes."

"He's very self-centred. He never did introduce us."

"Oh, I knew who you were as soon as we pulled you into the boat and he said you were the man who had disappeared from the club. Alfred often spoke of you. You and he were great friends, weren't you? This must be a blow to you, too."

I swallowed. "It is."

She went to the kitchen to brew me a cup of tea. After a time she returned. "I'll read you a story," she said. "Perhaps it will take both our minds off our troubles."

The afternoon wore on. I wondered who else was in the house. I heard no sound of any other occupant. Reporters from the afternoon and evening papers came to speak to her. She met them at the door and they had no reason to suspect my presence.

Toward evening I sat up. I felt much better—almost normal, in fact. When Belzer burst in, and saw me, however, he set up a howl. "Put that bandage back on your head," he demanded. "You're a sick man, and the photographer is here to prove it."

The photographer came in, loaded down with his big camera and flash bulbs again. He set up his tripod. Belzer posed me.

"I hope you realize I would never do this if I did not feel indebted," I said, as he directed me how to grimace as though in pain.

They took six flash pictures.

"I've got the story typed," the reporter announced. "All we have to do is wait four more hours and it's ours, exclusive. We'll rush these pictures down and get 'em printed. I found your boat. We shot close-ups, showing the bullet holes." He grinned. "Boy, what a yarn!"

After he had gone the doorbell rang again. I heard Miss Markham greeting "George" in the entry, and knew her brother had returned. He went directly upstairs. She came into the library with a finger over her lips. She was carrying a pair of shoes for me to wear.

"I do feel indebted to that reporter, despite his bad manners," she whispered. "I'll keep George out of here for a while. He is very impulsive, and would insist that you go right to the other papers with your story."

I nodded as she withdrew and closed the door. I put on the shoes. There were sounds in the kitchen now, informing me that the cook, at least, had returned.

George, coming down the stairs, started to open the library door, but his sister called him to dinner. A short time later, apparently while he still was eating, she brought me my dinner on a tray.

"George is in a terrible temper tonight," she whispered. "The police have discovered nothing today. I believe our reporter accomplished more than all of them put together."

I finished my dinner. No one called for the tray. I lay there listening to George and his sister talking, which did not embarrass me, because I could not tell what they were saying. George sounded petulant. His sister's voice was low, musical.

I opened the window beside my couch and stood up to enjoy the fresh air. I stretched my arms. My joints and muscles ached, but otherwise I seemed returning to normal. The dizziness had left my head.

Something came flying through the window. Before I could duck it struck me full in the face and dropped to the floor. I stooped and picked up a wad of paper that had been wrapped around a small stone to give it weight.

On the library table I spread it out and read:

"You haven't got away from me. I'm waiting for you. If you go to the police you won't live to be sorry about it." A trifle makes too much noise down here, but there are other ways."

The note was unsigned. It was written on several sheets of paper torn from a cheap notebook.

I snapped off the light and looked out the window. There was no one in sight. The man who threw the note would not have had time to run to the end of the block. He must be hiding outside.

There was a telephone on the library table. I picked it up to call the police station, then changed my mind. As I set it back on its hook the room lights flashed on.

George Markham was standing in the doorway, his sister beside him restraining him with one slim hand.

"It's all right, George," she said. "You know Bill Strickland, Alfred's friend. He's hurt. This was the best place he could stay."

"The best place . . . Louis, are you out of your mind? The police think this is the man who—who—"

"That's silly, George."

George Markham was not a bad looking sort. He was tall, well built, well dressed. I saw the resemblance to Alfred. I also saw that I was putting him in an embarrassing situation.

"I feel much better," I told him. "There is no need for me to stay here longer. I understand how you feel about it. I'll go."

"Where?" Louise asked.

"To the police station. It's time they heard my story."

"I'm going with you!" declared the girl.

"Suppose we all go," George suggested.

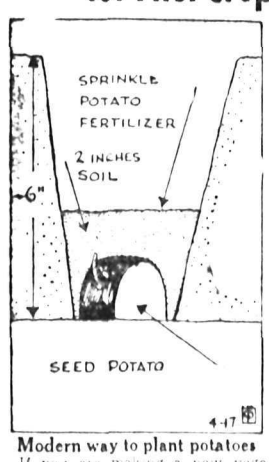
Potatoes Good for First Crop



Modern way to plant potatoes

If you are making a new vegetable garden and turning under sod, it will be a good plan to plant potatoes this first year. Potatoes will grow on sod land, if it is well worked, and by next season the soil will be in good condition for other vegetables.

If planting potatoes, however, plant them in the modern way. This new method calls for planting the seed potatoes six inches deep in a trench, as shown in today's Garden-Graph. Cover the seed potatoes with 2 inches of soil as illustrated, and then spread the fertilizer over them instead of the old method of placing it under them. With the fertilizer sprinkled on top of the two-inch covering of soil the rains will carry the food down as it is needed.

When cutting potatoes for seed purposes divide so there will be one or two eyes to each piece and never use the "nose" end. Too many eyes will decrease rather than increase the yield.

TODAY'S HOROSCOPE

If your birthday is today, look for a year of even, steady fortune. You should, however, safeguard your health, and be careful not to overtax your strength. If born on this date, a child will be clever, quick-witted, bright, cheerful, artistic and musical. Women who are born on this day will marry well, and success comes in middle life.

HOROSCOPE FOR SUNDAY

Rejoice, if your birthday is today, for the year will bring much love, happiness and domestic felicity. If not married, the year will bring you happy courtship and marriage. A keen sense of honor and justice will be but one of the fine qualities bestowed upon the child born today. Such a one will also be sensitively refined artistic, possessing excellent comparative powers and thoughtfulness.

Nelson Ball Club Has Last Workout Today Before Sunday Trip to Metaline

Castilloux Retires

MONTREAL, April 19 (CP) — Dave Castilloux, heavy-hitting Montreal boxer, today renounced his claims to the Canadian featherweight championship, which he has held since 1938 with the Canadian lightweight title.

Castilloux said he was retiring from the featherweight class because of inability to make the weight limit of 126 pounds. He won the title from Jackie Callura of Hamilton, Ont., in May, 1938, but has never had occasion to defend it.

Rossland Boxer Is Titlist

BILL COULTER

ROSSLAND, B. C., April 18—Jack Richardson and William Coulter returned to Rossland Wednesday night from Vancouver, after competing in the Provincial Pro-Rec and the Provincial Amateur Boxing championship bouts held at the Coast city this month.

Coulter starred in the Pro-Rec, winning the featherweight title, while Jack Richardson was runner up in the lightweight class, losing by a decision to Emmery Ramsay of Coquitlam.

The two boys were eliminated in the Provincial amateur bouts.

15 Players Will Be Taken for Use at Metaline

About 15 strong, the Nelson Baseball Club, judged by most observers as at least half again as strong as last year's edition, will be put to its first test Sunday in an exhibition game at Metaline Falls, Wash.

Nearly every player with any chance of making the team this season will be taken to the American town, and will likely get a taste of action. Four pitchers will share the hurling duties—Vic Howard, nifty little southpaw who came to Nelson last year; Steve Smith, veteran Nelson lefthander; Jack Brown, a young righthander who may come along well this year; and George (Andy) Anderson, a righthander who looked extremely promising at Thursday's workout. However, Anderson, guard at the Provincial Jail, may not be able to get off work Sunday.

BATTLE FOR THIRD BASE

Doc Chodorcoff will be back at first base for his second season, Roy Anderson again at second, and Ernie (Kid) Beland, who joined the team in the middle of last season and performed sensationally. From his early form, he will really be a star this season. Third base is a bit of a problem, guarded last year by Tommy McInnes and Walt Gelling. Neither are on hand this season, and if the other infielders are not switched around, the hot corner will likely be fought for by two newcomers, Don Porteous and Carl Locatelli, both infielders.

Outfielding will be done by Jesse Seaby, Art Scribner, both with the club last season, and any of the pitchers when they are not being used on the mound, the new playing coach who will join the club in this afternoon's practice, Steve Scott, a Nelson product and Carl Fisher, originally of Winnipeg. Fisher has shown that he can be mighty useful in the outfield, showing nice style and ability to cover ground. If he can hit under fire he will be okay.

PORTEOUS CAN HIT

Porteous has not been able to show what he can do in the matter of fielding, since the diamond has not been in shape for infield practice. However, if he can hold up his end in the field as he does at the plate, he will be all right. He has been swatting fly balls over the short left field fence with great regularity, and those doubles come in handy.

Locatelli, a young fellow in his 20's arrived in Nelson from Lethbridge just before Thursday's practice and took part in batting practice.

A close friend of Tommy McInnes, third baseman of the past few seasons, Carl Locatelli came to Nelson from his hometown, Lethbridge, Thursday afternoon in search of work, and quite likely will line up with the team this season. A tall lad, he has done most of his ball playing at short and second, and a little outfield.

SEMI-PRO PLAYER

After graduating from junior baseball in Lethbridge, he played in 1938 with the Galt Miners, Alberta senior champions, and last year after playing the early months with Shores Jewellers, a semi-pro team at Vancouver, he returned to finish the season at Lethbridge.

This afternoon's practice, starting at 4 o'clock will last till 6:30, and will see the first chance for infield workout. All the players will be on hand, for the starting lineup for the Metaline game will be chosen at this practice.

Vancouver Hoopsters to Wait at Home for Western Final Series

VANCOUVER, April 19 (CP). — Vancouver Maple Leafs, who beat Magrath, Alta., in the British Columbia-Alberta series of the Canadian men's senior "A" basketball playdowns, returned home today to await the next hurdle in the path that leads to the Dominion crown.

The boys decided they couldn't waste any time in getting back to their jobs before the next series so they took the plane. April 27 they meet Winnipeg in a best-of-five series for the Western Canada title.

B Division Gun Team Provincial Shoot Champions

B Division revolver team of the Provincial Police was crowned as champion British Columbia marksmen when it rolled up a 1352 score in March to capture the season's grand aggregate of 3963 in the British Columbia Revolver League.

Shoots were held in January, February and March. The B Division squad's aggregate of 3963 was 27 points higher than its nearest rival, the Headquarters team of the British Columbia Police Revolver Club, which scored 3936 for the season.

In January the Victoria team took a 25-point lead, scoring 1310 against 1285 for the Interior squad. In February and March, however, the B Division team shot 1326 and 1352 to 1317 and 1309 for the Coast team, thereby rolling up the higher aggregate.

Constable J. D. H. Stewart of Penticton was the high individual scorer for B Division, shooting 267, 263 and 274 in the three months for an aggregate of 814. Constable John A. Henry of Castlegar was runner-up with 813.

For the Victoria team, Constable J. A. Young was high individual with 272, 272 and 267 scores for an 811 aggregate.

Stampeders in Tough Workout

TORONTO, April 19 (CP)—Marty Burke was never one to spare himself which perhaps accounts for the way he drives his Calgary Stampeders. In a final tuneup today for tomorrow night's Allan Cup game against Kirkland Lake Blue Devils, the former National Hockey League defenceman sent the Stampeders through an hour's hard drill.

The Western Canada Champions, without an exception, left the ice in a sweat. If they were not charging three abreast in on the defence they were tearing in alone on the unguarded goalie. To vary things Burke picked up the pucks every so often and told his players to hotfoot it around the rink.

"I believe in condition," the Calgary coach said afterward.

Kirkland Lake reported that "All was well" with them. Goalie Johnny Durnan, who remained in bed yesterday with a cold, shook the germ in quick order and was up today.

Blue Devils haven't played since they beat Montreal Royals for the Eastern Canada honors last Saturday afternoon and the long layoff is beginning to pall on the players.

"Our fellows are becoming somewhat impatient," remarked Doc Ames, the Manager. "They are anxious to get this series started."

Fleet Air Arm in First Major Battle at Narvik

By PAT USSHER

LONDON, April 19 (CP Cable)—The fleet air arm engaged in its first major offensive operation of the war when the navy smashed its way into Narvik, it was learned today.

The navy planes synchronized their attacks with those of the battleship Warspite and the flotilla of destroyers under Vice-Admiral W. J. Whitworth last Saturday, securing two hits on German destroyers.

The previous day the air arm registered two hits on one destroyer and one on another in the Narvik region. Since April 13 these aircraft have attacked a number of enemy planes on frozen lakes in Northern Norway and have destroyed several.

Reports reached London that the party which landed near Narvik from the destroyer Hardy captured 120 German sailors and handed them over to the Norwegian police.

Leafs to Start Boxla Practices Sunday Morning

The Nelson Maple Leafs will open their training grind, which they hope will send them off to a third successive West Kootenay box lacrosse championship, at the Civic Arena Sunday morning, when their first workout is scheduled at 10 o'clock.

The Leafs will be the first team in the league to get into actual action on the floor. Their next practice is slated for 7 o'clock Tuesday evening.

The Nelson Leafs are expected to be short a number of stars from last year's title squad, but capable replacements will probably be found. Al Hooker and Freddy Graves, both on the injured list, and Foster Mills and Al Maxwell, who will be at Kelowna, will definitely be among the missing. And the prospect of Pat Egan, the team's second leading scorer last season, being back this Summer is not too bright, according to Joe Buckna of Trail, who saw him in Calgary a couple of weeks ago. It is not definite yet about the coaching question, but it is believed the executive will try to get Jock Walmsley back again.

Irvin Unable to Win Over Smythe

TORONTO, April 19 (CP)—Dick Irvin conferred today with his old boss, Conny Smythe, and then announced he had been unable to swing a player deal for his Montreal Canadiens.

Irvin, appointed this week as Manager-Coach of the Canadiens, said he was interested in some members of Toronto's National Hockey League club but he just couldn't arrange a transaction with Manager Smythe. Before the conference Smythe had said he was anxious to do what he could to strengthen the new interests of Irvin, who relinquished his job as coach of the Maple Leafs reluctantly when the Montreal post was offered.

Irvin said he would head for his Regina home this weekend, calling at Chicago to see Major Frederic McLaughlin, owner of the Black Hawks, in an attempt to obtain a player or two. In the West he will discuss sales and trades with Mervyn (Red) Dutton of New York Americans and Paul Thompson of the Black Hawks.

POLICE SEEK TWO BANDITS

VANCOUVER, April 19 (CP).—City police are searching today for two bandets, who held up Allan Ward on a downtown street shortly before midnight and robbed him of $15. Ward told detectives the robbers stopped him, pressed a gun to his side and fled after taking the money from his pocket.

BOWLER GETS AVERAGE OF 229.27 IN 100 GAMES

WAKEFIELD, Mich., April 19 (AP)—Ted Eliason, miner and trapper of Anvil, Mich., wound up a 100-game ten-pin bowling marathon tonight with an average of 229.27 pins a game. Rolling one game after another on a single alley with a one pin-setter, Eliason required 9 hours and 45 minutes to attain his goal. On the 59th game he bowled a perfect 300. His lowest game was 134.

Maxwell to Leave Soon for Kelowna

AL MAXWELL

Championship hopes of the Nelson Maple Leafs boxla team received a severe jolt when Al Maxwell revealed Friday that he would be leaving next Wednesday morning for Kelowna, where he has been transferred by the Royal Bank of Canada.

Maxwell, one of the outstanding first-year men in the West Kootenay League last season in his rookie year, led the field in actual goals with 53, two more than the leading pointgetter, Booney Sammartino of the Trail Golden Bears. In all he compiled in 21 league games 62 points, sixth best in the league and third on the title-winning Nelson club.

Although one of the smallest men in the circuit, scaling a mere 150 pounds or so, Maxwell more than made up for his lack of stature and avoirdupois by clever tactics that enabled him to slip through nearly any kind of opening. Great things were expected of him this season after his first year's performance.

JOINS MILLS AT KELOWNA

At Kelowna Maxwell will join another former Nelson boy, Foster Mills, who was transferred to the Okanagan centre earlier this year. Mills also performed with the Maple Leafs last season, breaking into senior ranks the previous season from city junior circles. Foster piled up 19 goals and 10 assists in 16 games, to rank high in the standings and he will also be greatly missed.

In Maxwell and Mills, Kelowna has also acquired two top-notch basketball players. Before being transferred, Mills scored 93 points in 10 games to lead the City League with plenty of spare, and even then held his lead for several games before being finally overhauled. Maxwell went on to net 170 points in 20 games, to grab top scoring honors himself.

Valley Giants Beat Columbia in Ball

GRAND FORKS, B. C.—The Valley Giants outslugged the Columbia Baseball Club 12-10, in the opening game of the baseball season here Sunday. The Giants opened the onslaught with a seven-run barrage in the first two innings, a lead that their opponents found too big to overcome.

City Is Grading Down Roads Hit by Winter

City grading equipment is at work steadily on Nelson streets, "ironing out" the humps and hollows caused by Winter traffic and the Spring breakup. The tractor-drawn grader is in daily use. Before use of grading equipment was practicall, owing to soil conditions, the City Public Works Department hauled crushed rock to fill a number of the worst holes.

Dokkies to Spokane Ceremonial Today

Five Nelson members of the Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorassan plan to leave this morning for Spokane to attend a Dokkie ceremonial tonight. Those making the trip will be William Irvine, Frank A. Stuart, Frank Goucher, Anthony Matassa and John R. Swanson. They will go in Mr. Stuart's car.

Several Salmo members will probably attend also.

Quebec Newsie In Record Time Wins Boston Marathon

BOSTON, April 19 (AP).—Gerard Cote, 26-year-old newspaper dealer from St. Hyacinthe, Que., today won the 44th annual A. A. marathon by wearing down a field of 164 other road racers in the 26-mile 385-yard grind.

Cote's time was 2:28:28 3-5, which smashed previous mark of 2:28:51 4-5 set only last year by Ellison "Tarzan" Brown of Westerly, R. I.

Sprinting across the finish line in second place came little Johnny Kelley of Arlington, Mass., winner of the race in 1935. His time was 2:32.00 3-5.

A bit of poetic justice marked the winning race run by the stocky smooth striding Cote, for he had declared beforehand that this would be his last effort in the A. A. marathon.

"It's my last B. A. A. race anyway," he said before the start, "because next Summer I'll be in the Royal Air Force."

Third place went to Don Heinicke of Baltimore, a protege of the late marathoner Pat Dengis, and winner of the recent race run as a memorial for Dengis. A dark-horse second-place man last year, Heinicke finished today in 2:32:21.

Indians' Infield Chances Jolted

SPOKANE, Wash., April 19 (AP)—The Spokane Indians' quest for an infield to start the opening game of the Western International League schedule here April 24 took a couple of hard jolts today.

From Charles Garland, owner of the Wenatchee Chiefs, it was learned that Wayne McCue, first baseman, who was released by the Vancouver Capilanos last weekend, would be signed by the Chiefs today.

A previous telegram received by Eddie Leishman, Indian Manager, had informed him McCue would be released to Spokane, but McCue stopped in Wenatchee instead.

Leishman added he had learned from Seattle that Paul McGinnis of the Rainiers definitely would not be available to Spokane for the opening games. The Indians are depending heavily on McGinnis to plug the second base hole, if and when he arrives.

Unless a fairy sends some new players, Skip Evart will start at first and Ernie Bishop at second.

Generals Even Money to Win

WINNIPEG, April 19 (CP)—Oshawa Generals were an even money bet tonight to retain their Canadian Junior Hockey Championship in three straight games and betting odds on Kenora completing a successful challenge for Western Canada were pretty near as good as you wanted to offer.

Generals are two games up in the best-of-five series and the betting gentry around the Winnipeg amphitheatre are offering dollar for dollar that the Easterners will finish off the struggling Thistles in the third contest Saturday night. Generals won 1-0 in the opener Tuesday and 4-1 last night.

Few Thistle backers appeared for bets on the final outcome and even the die-hard Kenora fans, down from the Northwestern town to cheer their club in the Dominion finals, were holding on to their money. Odds were reported as high as 10 to 1 that Thistles won't take the Memorial Cup home.

Irvin Has Several Irons in the Fire

TORONTO, April 19 (CP)—Dick Irvin, newly appointed manager-coach of Montreal Canadiens, said today he has "one or two deals pending" with other National Hockey League clubs.

Irvin, returning to Toronto where he coached the Maple Leafs for nine seasons until his acceptance of the Montreal post this week, said "Lester Patrick has offered us Goalie Bert Gardiner of his Philadelphia farm club and a couple of other farmhands."

On his way West to his Regina home he hopes to talk with Major Frederick McLaughlin, owner of the Chicago Black Hawks. In the West he will confer with Paul Thompson, Manager of the Hawks, and Red Dutton, Manager of New York Americans.

Bigger Crowds Allowed Now in English Soccer

LONDON, April 19 (CP.-Cable)—English soccer clubs go into first-round games in the Football League's War Cup competition tomorrow with prospects of bigger crowds than at any time since the war started. Throughout the country the Home Office's announcement that anti-crowding restrictions would be lightened was hailed with enthusiasm.

Sixty-two teams battle for the wartime trophy and attendances will be limited to 50 per cent of the existing accommodation. This represents a real step towards bigger crowds. In the case of big clubs, gates of approximately 30,000 will be allowed.

First and Second Division teams get into the fray along with the survivors of the preliminary round played a week ago. The participants start in four geographical divisions with home-and-home games scheduled and goals to decide the winners.

RANGERS, DUNDEE FAVORITES

Rangers and Dundee United have emerged as Scottish Wartime Cup finalists and until the end of the month interest North of the Tweed will be confined to regional group games. As matters stand, Rangers are likely winners of the West division and Falkirk's chances look particularly good in the East.

London and Midland teams are included in the South "A" Division for English Cup play. Arsenal is regarded as a sure winner over Notts County at White Hart Lane. Leicester City may go into the second round at the expense of Clapton Orient and the West Ham United-Chelsea battle should prove one of the best of the London "Derbies."

West Bromwich Albion and Portsmouth clash at Birmingham in the feature of the South "B" group, while in North "A" Wolverhampton Wanderers are big favorites against Wrexham. A big crowd is expected at Old Trafford for the first of the two games between Manchester United and Manchester City.

Appearance of Sunderland in the cup competition is hailed with satisfaction throughout the North. The Wearsiders have taken no part in regional group play but are expected to triumph in a North "B" series against Darlington. Huddersfield Town, leader in the Northeast regional group, opposes Chesterfield, setting the pace in the East Midlands.

Old Grover Wants to Get Back Into Ball

By BILL WHITE
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—Meet 53-year-old Grover Cleveland Alexander, who's still in there pitching.

For Grover, out of the big time since 1930, is doing a personal appearance stand. He got a job a year ago January at a 42nd Street nickelodeon that was to last three weeks—and he's still here.

Neatly dressed, clear-eyed and erect, he climbed off the basement platform where he gives talks about himself and baseball.

"Yes, I'd like to get back in baseball," Grover said, "if there's a place for me. But I don't feel that the game owes me a living. They paid me well when I was up there.

"I'm working for a nice guy here. He lets me off to see the games and they treat me swell. And that idea of me being sick is out. I never spent a day in a hospital in my life."

So baseball enters another year, and the Fellers, the Kellers and the DiMaggios are the talk of the town. But down where Broadway turns honkeytonk, the man who pitched four one-hit games in 1915, who has the third lowest all-time earned-run average in the Majors, and whose pitching feats put him in Cooperstown's hall of fame, is "living off the fleas".

HORNER RETIRES

RED HORNER

TORONTO, April 19 (CP). — Manager Conny Smythe today announced the retirement of Captain Reg (Red) Horner from the playing ranks of Toronto Maple Leafs to the role of "Goodwill Ambassador" of the National Hockey League Club.

"He'll make speeches for us, generally go places and ring hockey doorbells for us," Smythe said.

Horner, who played with the Leafs for 11 seasons, led the League in penalties seven years in a row. He is 32.

"Red is retiring after 11 years of heavy-duty service while he still can hold his head high," Smythe said. "He showed in the recent Stanley Cup series that he has lost none of his fire or his ability to inspire the youngsters on our club. When he finished his playing career, the Toronto people still loved him and the people around the League were howling at him as loudly as ever.

"As Goodwill Ambassador, his job will be to keep Ontario interested in the Leafs. He will coach young amateur teams. If he should prove a success at that and a bigger job in hockey should open up for him, I'll be well pleased."

"My one regret," Horner said, "was that we couldn't have won the Stanley Cup and world championship this year. I've been considering this retirement business for two seasons and I would have liked to have closed with a wallop. They tell me I set a modern record by reaching seven cup finals, but only once was I on the cup-winning team."

TORONTO LEAFS DEFEAT NEWARK

NEWARK, N. J., April 19 (AP).—A Frank Merriwell home run by Outfielder John Bates with one mate aboard and two out in the ninth inning today enabled Tony Lazzeri's Toronto Leafs to nose out Newark Bears 5-4 in their International League baseball opener.

The Bears outhit the Leafs 8-5 with a homer in the sixth by Second Baseman Alex Kampouris with none on featuring the attack.

ALONG TRAILS SPORTS WAY

By A. B.

APOLOGIES TO M. HELLINGER

It was a Monday night I filed 1000 words at the telegraph office, bid Gibson Kennedy, night operator, "goodnight", and headed for home. I called the Nelson Daily News by telephone and sent in a few tid-bits.

"How about the curling?" queried Eric Ramsden from the other end.

"Hold the wire, Eric," I returned, "I'll have them for you in a jiffy."

Feverishly I searched through the reams of copy paper on my desk. Then I searched through the 10 pockets of my suit. The clock on the wall indicated that it was 15 minutes after midnight, a half-hour past absolute deadline. I found the first portion of the scores and read them off. Some of the names were minus their initials. Again I laid down the phone and began searching. I picked up the scores I had already given. Ah, what luck, the remainder were on the back.

"Well, make it snappy," fired Eric.

I proceeded to call them out.

A total stranger walked into my room, hung up his coat in my cupboard, and walked through a door to an adjoining room, a door which has been sealed and in front of which, for seven years that I know of, a bookcase has been fixed.

As I called off the curling results the list looked like the widow's curse. Then there were names of skips, but no scores. I stared at them.

The luminous dials of my big ben indicated that it was a few minutes after 3 a.m. Gradually the fog lifted. Why, the curling season was wound up three weeks ago. I rolled over and went back to sleep.

NICE WORK

It's all settled. The Trail Senior Cardinals baseball team will be known as the Cardinals. The Trail Senior Baseball team will be known as the Indians.

RAINY DAY CAME

A few years back, Art Davidson, another of Trail's ardent sports fans, mustered a group of young baseball enthusiasts and provided them with many games. He also managed the club efficiently and economically, for the team blossomed out in full equipment and neat grey uniforms. They were "the Indians". Art also took good care of that outfit, for with the exception of one or two uniforms (I heard indirectly) he has all of it tucked away, no doubt for such a situation as arose this Spring. Now the old Cards are the Indians and the Junior Cards are Cards.

"THE CHALLENGAH!"

Tick Hall and Don McIntyre with a few other lilicums, interrupted a street-corner huddle to tell me "The Seniors" (with broad grins) challenged the Cardinals to a game Sunday. Splendid idea.

Louie Demore and Wish Milburn are seeking to provide their youthful Cardinals with baseball experience. They could perhaps get none better than right at home. For, don't forget, Hank Laurientes Cards never suffered distasteful defeat from any barnstorming club which invaded these parts. Furthermore they beat those travellers often.

Red Sox Split With Athletics to Lose First Game; Giants Blanked 12-0

After launching their home American Baseball League season by coming from behind for a 7-6 victory over Philadelphia Athletics yesterday morning, the Red Sox lost their first 1940 game by a 3-1 margin when they returned to Fenway Park for the afternoon end of their Patriot's Day doubleheader.

Jimmy Foxx, who collected his second homer in as many days, Dom DiMaggio and Doc Cramer hit hard enough to knock in all seven of the Sockers' runs in the first game.

The Athletics however, settled the afternoon contest at Emerson Dickman's expense in the first inning. They scored three runs, with Bob Johnson hitting a homer to clinch the game.

The machine-like Yankees opened their American Baseball League home season with a 5-3 triumph over Washington Senators before 15,299 fans.

Before the game started Commissioner K. M. Landis presented the Yankees with emblems of their fourth consecutive world championship.

The champions clinched the game with four runs in the first inning during which Joe Gordon hit a homer with one on. Manager Bucky Harris thought Gordon's blow was foul and was banished from the Park by Umpire Joe Rule.

Johnny Allen and Jeff Heath sprinted the comeback trail to give Cleveland Indians a 4-0 shutout victory over Detroit Tigers before a crowd of 26,529 fans.

Allen, who won only nine games last season after an arm operation, turned in an impressive three-hit pitching performance. Outfielder Heath, native of Fort William, Ont., who slumped to a batting mark of .292 in 1939 after hitting .343 in his first season, connected for a three-run homer.

Chicago Cubs opened their National League season at home with a 5-0 shutout victory over St. Louis Cardinals before a shivering crowd of 9029.

Larry French tossed airtight ball all the way, giving up six hits, including two doubles.

Manager Gabby Hartnett was banished in the eighth inning when he went out to speak his mind to Umpire Ziggy Sears.

Brooklyn Dodgers slaughtered New York Giants 12-0 to give a crowd of 24,741 Flatbush fans an opening day thrill of practically National baseball pennant proportions.

Hugh Casey allowed nine hits in steering Brooklyn to its second straight shutout. The Dodgers gave a grand fireworks display of six runs in the eighth.

Defence Minister Announces New Plan to Reinforce Overseas Troops

OTTAWA, April 19 (CP).—Units of the non-permanent active militia not yet mobilized will be given an opportunity of contributing reinforcements for mobilized units, serving overseas under a plan announced today by Hon. C. G. Power, Acting Minister of National Defence.

All militia units will be grouped with mobilized units of the Canadian Active Service Force in territorial regiments for the purpose of supplying reinforcements as required by overseas units. The scheme applies to all arms and services but especially to infantry.

Thus all infantry units will be grouped in the following territorial regiments: The British Columbia regiment, the Alberta regiment, the Saskatchewan regiment, the Manitoba regiment, the Western Ontario regiment, the Central Ontario regiment, the Eastern Ontario regiment, le regiment de Quebec, the Quebec regiment, the New Brunswick regiment and the Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island regiment.

The Prince Edward Island Highlanders will be grouped with Nova Scotia infantry units to form the Nova Scotia and P. E. I. regiment.

Quebec infantry units, if French-speaking, will be group in le regiment de Quebec, and, if English-speaking, in the Quebec regiment. Territorial regiments will include all rifle, machine gun and tank units in the respective areas.

The continued and independent existence of the militia units will not be affected and they will continue to bear their regiment names

All units in a territorial regiment will be permitted to contribute a proportional share of reinforcements required for battalions of their own territorial regiment serving overseas. This reinforcements required for the Hastings and Prince Edward regiment, now overseas with the 1st Division, will, in future, come on a proportionate basis from all infantry units in the Eastern Ontario area.

The same principle will be applied to the other arms and services. If and when a divisional cavalry regiment is sent overseas reinforcements for it will come from other cavalry units in the same area. Pending the despatch of cavalry units overseas cavalry units will be given the opportunity of providing quotas of reinforcements for overseas infantry units from their territorial areas.

When artillery reinforcements are required each military district will be called upon to supply a quota and in turn the Commanding Officer of each district will call on each artillery unit in his district as well as localities from which artillery units have gone overseas to raise its proportion of the district quota.

Reinforcements for engineers, signals, army service corps, army medical corps and ordnance units will be raised on the same system as for artillery units.

Units employed on coast defence duties in Canada will also have a chance to despatch personnel for overseas service in units of their respective armories.

The scheme, it is believed, will distribute to the widest possible extent the opportunity for service overseas.

Cromwell Will be New Jersey Senate Candidate

SOMERVILLE, N.J., April 19 (AP)— James H. R. Cromwell, United States minister to Canada, today formally announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator from New Jersey and linked himself to the economic and international views of President Roosevelt.

Cromwell was in Canada as the statement of candidacy was made from his home here through State Senator James I. Bowers.

Identifying himself as "what is generally referred to as a 'liberal'," Cromwell, 43, an economist, former automotive executive, real estate promoter and the husband of Doris Duke, "the richest girl in the world," allied himself to the President with this statement:

"Recent years have witnessed great upheavals and radical changes in governments throughout the world. President Roosevelt has demonstrated that our form of government is adequate to meet changing economic, social and world conditions and that our representative constitutional Democracy will survive. I stand with him in his ceaseless endeavor to find through our Democratic process security and a better way of life for the great masses of our people. I stand with him in his sound and successful policy of keeping America at peace by facing facts as they are instead of pretending we live in a world apart."

Turning to national issues, he said: "Our country needs time to assimilate and adjust itself to the progressive social measures of recent years. If we can solve our unemployment problem most of our other problems will solve themselves."

Cromwell is unopposed thus far for the Democratic nomination as U.S. Senator W. Warren Barbour is unopposed for re-election on the Republican ticket. Party primaries will be held May 21.

Cromwell, who returned to Ottawa last night after spending several days in the state conferring with Democratic leaders, said he only expected to ask for several months' leave of absence "to do my campaigning."

Cromwell's expected running mate at the head of the state Democratic ticket in November is Naval Secretary Charles Edison, who recently was announced for the Gubernatorial nomination also with the blessing of Mayor Hague, the State party leader.

Cromwell became U.S. Minister to Canada in January and last month precipitated criticism and demands by some Congressmen for his recall because of a pro-Ally, anti-Nazi speech at Toronto. In it he criticized the philosophy of totalitarian governments which he charged were threatening "the end of democracy and free economy on which democracy depends."

British Warning Refused in Italy

ROME, April 19 (CP)—Virginio Gayda, authoritative Fascist Editor, today replied to the warning of Ronald Cross, British Minister of Economic Warfare that Italy should behave like a neutral if she wishes to be treated as one.

Gayda, in Il Dis ha, said Italy "has nothing to learn from anyone about the rules of conduct and would not accept a warning from anyone."

Gayda called Mr. Cross' words "of unprecedented severity." He decried the headlines with which British newspapers reported "his speech . . . as despite intolerable affront."

At the same time Premier Mussolini's newspaper, Il Popolo D'Italia, said Italy desires peace and "collaboration" in the Balkans.

AUSTRALIAN COMMUNIST PAPERS TO BE BANNED

CANBERRA, April 19 (CP-Reuters)—Sir Henry Gullett, Vice-President of the Executive Council, announced today that within a fortnight all Communist newspapers in Australia will cease publication.

Sir Henry said he had decided the censorship should treat Communist publications as enemy publications.

BRITISH DENY 6000 KILLED IN NARVIK

LONDON, April 19 (CP)—Italian Press reports that 6000 British soldiers had been killed, wounded or made prisoner in fighting around Narvik, Norway, were described as "fantastic" in authoritative circles today.

HULL DENIES HE IS CANDIDATE

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—State Secretary Cordell Hull whose name often has figured in speculation over possible Democratic presidential nominees, said today that he was not a candidate for anything.

The Secretary made his statement at his press conference after his attention was called to the fact that Governor Clyde R. Hoey of North Carolina yesterday endorsed him for the nomination.

The Secretary of State said he had requested person interested in any phase of the matter not to say anything or do anything contrary to the position he had assumed, which he previously had described as no political aspirations and in no sense a candidate.

Churchill Speaks to Hardy Crew

LONDON, April 19 (CP)—Winston Churchill, speaking before a cheering throng on the Horse Guards' parade, today told survivors of H.M.S. Hardy that they were the "vanguard of armies which we, and our French Allies, will use during this Summer to purge and cleanse the soil of the Vikings, the soil of Norway, from the filthy pollution of Nazi Germany."

The First Lord of the Admiralty spoke at a welcome to about 100 men of the Hardy, back from Narvik where their ship was grounded in the first battle of that far Northern Norwegian port on April 10.

The Hardy's crew, which landed near Narvik when the rest of the British flotilla withdrew after that e mbat and maintained themselves ashore despite German occupation of the port, later were rescued by other British warships and returned to England.

"Your countrymen are well content with the manner in which you have discharged your duty," Mr. Churchill said.

The sailors rode from Euston station past lines of cheering Londoners in three buses to the Horse Guards' parade, where the First Lord welcomed them.

The band of the Royal Marines played "See the Conquering Hero Comes."

The First Lord told the survivors that after losing their ship, "you did not hesitate, with rifles in hand, to carry on the war, which proved the amphibian qualities of the British forces."

"The hard service of the destroyer flotillas has been freely given," r. Churchill said. "It has played a notable, indeed an indispensable part in securing the safety of our country during the opening months of this hard and obstinate war."

The seamen were dressed in everything from Norwegian ski suits to lumber jackets.

Thousands of workers homeward bound thronged the parade ground to cheer the unshaven crewmen. The survivors, waving kerchiefs and scarves, wildly cheered "God Bless Churchill."

Seaman John Walters, telling of the engagement with the larger force of German destroyers said, "we kept on firing they hit us and we knew it, but we just kept on shooting."

Petty Officer George Cook, who weighs 336 pounds, pointed to his stomach and said, "Getting ashore was easy. I just slung myself overboard and sort of floated in."

U.S. NAVY ASKS FOR 11 PER CENT INCREASE

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—The U. S. Navy Department asked Congress today for authority to contract immediately for an 11 per cent increase in its fleet.

Admiral Samuel Robinson, Chief of the Bureau of Engineering, presented to the Senate Naval Committee an amendment designed to permit the navy to obtain bids for construction of 160,000 tons of fighting ships which would be authorized but not appropriated for in a bill pending before the House of Representatives.

BLUE BOOK ACCUSES NAZIS OF "BARBARISM"

PARIS, April 19 (AP) — The Czecho-Slovak National Committee in France today published a blue book accusing Germany of "scientific barbarism" in universities and colleges of occupied Bohemia and Moravia. The document said universities and large schools had been closed, students imprisoned, tortured and assassinated and teachers exposed to persecution and jail sentence.

Science Doesn't Take Work Out of Prospecting

TORONTO, April 19 (CP). — There's still no hocus-pocus way of locating mineral deposits in these days of scientific advancement, even if you do use the newest geophysical methods. Prospecting is still work.

However — and it's quite a big however—the geophysicist can now join the geologist to speed the business of mineral exploration, with greater certainty, less effort and less expense. But the geophysicist makes no claims to supplanting the geologists.

Dr. A. A. Brant and a group of geophysicists from the University of Toronto have demonstrated new electrical magnetic and gravitational methods in locating iron. Ore deposits under Steep Rock Lake, 140 miles West of Fort William. When drilling became too costly ($5 a foot), owners of the property turned to this new development.

Large areas of haematite, the iron ore, have been blocked out by this method, working over the water when the lake is frozen solid. It is expected it will prove especially useful in Northern Ontario where 60 per cent of the surface is water or muskeg.

By drilling several holes to begin with, it was found at Steep Rock that the haematite was always found at the contact between the limestone and the ashrock, an ingenious rock. Then the geophysicists found that ash rock was conductive and magnetic, limestone was conductive but not magnetic and the ore material between them was neither conductive nor magnetic.

By playing a series of electrodes in the water and then at a mile or more distance, the increase in resistance to the current is calculated. Spots of the same resistance may be correlated to indicate the pattern of the deposits beneath. Points of the same magnetic intensity are similarly linked up. Then there are gravitational surveys indicating the density of the matter beneath, haematite being much denser than ashrock or limestone.

Oils Weaken

CALGARY, April 19 (CP). — In sympathy with other markets, oils weakened fractions to a point in the cheaper issues and to six points for Okalta, which closed at 1.15.

Calmont at 37 was 1 down, Anglo-Canadian at 90 was off 2 from yesterday's close. Lethbridge Pete and Anaconda were down fractions. A.P. Con. in an odd-lot trade was off 3¾ to 14¾.

Grease Creek, only stock showing a gain, was up ⅜ to 5½.

Italian Bonds Make Recovery, New York

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP).—Recovery in Italian bonds today apparently was motivated by indications Italy would stay out of the war for the time being, anyway. Italy 7s jumped more than 2 and Rome 6½s more than a point.

Norway 6s of 1943 broke 5 on a sale of a single bond. Off fractions to more than 2 at one time were Copenhagen 4½s, Denmark 5½s, Denmark 6s, Norway 4¼s and Denmark 4½s.

Netherlands Bonds Slide at London

LONDON, April 19 (AP)—Forward tendencies in Kaffirs and British Government bonds helped to steady a lackadaisical securities market today. Netherlands issues weakened following news a state of siege had been proclaimed in Holland. Industrial leaders held their ground fairly well. European and Far Eastern bonds were under pressure. Commodity stocks, including oils and coppers, were shaky.

COAST GOLDS OFF; PEND OREILLE UP

VANCOUVER, April 19 (CP).—Prices were irregular during light and scattered trading on Vancouver Stock Exchange today. Golds were down slightly while oils and base metals held steady. Transactions totalled 27,132 shares.

Bralorne Gold dropped 10 cents to 10.40 and Cariboo Gold Quartz slipped five cents to 2.65. Island Mountain gained a cent over yesterday's closing bid at 1.09 while Sheep Creek was off slightly at 1.07. Hedley Mascot at 46, Minto at 3½, and Privateer at 65 remained unchanged.

In the oil issues A. P. Consolidated was down two at 14 while Royal Canadian finished fractionally higher at 18½. Freehold and Okalta were unchanged at 2⅝ and 1.14.

Pend Oreille closed five cents higher than Thursday's closing bid at 1.95 while Grandview and Nicola at 3½ remained unchanged.

Wall St. Stocks Pick Up at Close

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP) — Stocks travelled a rocky road in today's market but found the going a bit smoother just before the close.

Leaders were down from the start some as much as two points or so. Extreme losses, however, were reduced or converted into minor advances in the final hour. There were one or two weak spots.

Dealings picked up occasionally and transfers for the full proceedings exceeded 1,000,000 shares.

Business news was fairly encouraging, but much confusion persisted in Wall Street over European war developments. Some nervousness was revived by the action of the Premier of the Netherlands in putting that country under martial law.

Quiet strength was exhibited by American-Hawaiian Steamship, Atlantic Gulf & West Indies, International Mercantile Marine, American American Airlines and N. Y. Shipbuilding.

Backward were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Johns-Manville, Sears Roebuck and American Smelting. Rails and utilities were moderately resistant.

Cereals Lower

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP)—Profit takers attracted by gains of 9 cents in wheat and corn prices the past 11 days contributed heavy selling pressure that lowered values of most cereals here today.

Wheat declined almost 2 cents at one stage but rallied slightly before the close. Corn rose a cent in early dealings to new highs since 1937 but then reacted sharply. In the spot market, however, cash wheat sold as high as $1.15½ for No. 2 Red, the highest since the Fall of 1937, while yellow corn was quoted up to 68 cents.

Wheat closed ¾—1¼ cents lower than yesterday, May $1.10⅞, July $1.09¾—½; corn ⅜ higher to ¼ lower, May 64½—⅝, July 65½; oats ⅜—½ lower.

Russians Predict Trade Talks With Britain to Resume

LONDON, April 19 (CP).—Russian spokesmen in London today predicted Great Britain and Russia would soon conclude their long-discussed trade agreement, sidetracked by the Russo-Finnish war.

They said it was believed Russia's differences with Britain over the blockade—which have centred on the detention of two Russian ships by Allied naval forces in the Far East—could be composed and general relations improved, barring some unforeseen development.

Anglo-Russian trade discussions broken off when Britain sided with Finland in the Finnish-Russian conflict.

Russians believe there will be no serious argument between Britain and Russia over Russia re-exporting goods to Germany, because Russia's state monopoly on business permits definite assurances in this regard.

They insist that the increased imports of copper, rubber, tin and similar goods from the United States, by way of Vladivostok, are principally to meet Russia's expanding needs.

A Russian source said Russia's position simply was one of wanting to be let alone, without helping one side or the other.

Moderate Losses in Toronto Trade

TORONTO, April 19 (CP) —The stock market's downward drift was continued through today's session of Toronto Exchange and moderate losses showed.

Alberta Pacific Grain preferred ruled strong. Ford A, C.P.R., Brazilian, Imperial Oil and International Petroleum posted minor losses.

The Canadian Car & Foundary issues, Dominion Bridge and Canada Wire "B" weakened about a half.

Noranda, Sherritt, Steep Rock and Waite-Amulet weakened. Waite fell to its low for the year at 5.25. Smelters held a minor gain.

Bidgood-Kirkland Gold advanced 4 to 43.

Pamour was offered down to 1.50 and it closed at 1.52 for a net loss of 8.

Royalite, Home Oil and Davies weakened and other western oils held steady.

Papers Lead, Mtl.

MONTREAL, April 19 (CP)—Papers and construction led the stock market to slightly lower levels today.

St. Lawrence Corporation, St Lawrence Paper preferred, Price Brothers, Howard Smith and Bathurst were easier.

Smelters and Hudson Bay Mining improved somewhat but Nickel appeared with a small decline.

Bawlf Grain common continued easy while the preferred gained a few points.

Gainers included Canadian Celanese, National Breweries and Seagrams but Imperial Tobacco and Massey-Harris were on the downside.

ECONOMIC INDEX UP

OTTAWA, April 19 (CP) — The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today its economic index indicating trend of business conditions in Canada rose to 105.6 in the week ended April 13 from 103.5 the previous week and 102.4 in the same week last year.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

Estate of Wynndel Woman Is $10,122.97, Goes to Son, Daughter

Letters of administration for the estate of Mrs. Mary Grady of Wynndel were issued to her daughter, Mrs. Anna Hook, by His Honor Judge W. A. Nisbet in Chambers Friday. Bond was dispensed with.

Mrs. Grady died at Wynndel June 26, 1939. Her son, James E. Grady of Yakima, Wash., consented to the appointment of Mrs. Hook as administratrix without bond.

The petition was presented by W. Linden Bell of Creston.

The estate of $10,122.94 consisted of $4300 in property in British Columbia; $4000 in property at St. Paul, Minn; $1510.97 equity in three agreements for sale; $61.97 in the bank at Creston; and $250 in household goods and furniture. One-half goes to Mrs. Hook and one-half to Mr. Grady.

BOEING AIRCRAFT MAN VISITS OTTAWA

OTTAWA, April 19 (CP)—Stanley Burke, President of Boeing Aircraft Company of Canada, was in Ottawa today and it was understood his visit was in connection with contracts for construction of airplane parts. No official information was available.

VANCOUVER, April 19 (CP). — Contract which Stanley Burke, President of Boeing Aircraft of Canada, is reported negotiating at Ottawa is believed to be for the manufacture of ailerons, landing flaps and anson spars, lateral supports in wing construction.

Company officials here refused to comment on the contract pending word from Mr. Burke, but it was believed 150 men would be given employment if it were obtained.

PATTULLO INVITES PREMIERS TO COAST

VICTORIA, April 19 (CP) — Premiers of the three Prairie provinces have been invited to come to the British Columbia coast this Fall by Premier Pattullo.

The invitation was extended in connection with the Vancouver Exhibition in August. The Vancouver Fair Association asked the Western premiers to come to the coast and Premier Pattullo followed this up with an official Government invitation.

No replies have yet been received.

FOREST FIRE DAMAGE SUIT ADJOURNED MAY 1

VANCOUVER, April 19 (CP) — Assessment of damages in the Vancouver Island forest fire suit in which Bloedel Stewart and Welch Ltd., were held liable for losses suffered by Elk River Timber Company, was adjourned Thursday, after four days hearing before the Supreme Court Registrar, until May 1.

Controversy Over Norwegian Ships in Pacific Ports

LOS ANGELES, April 19 (AP)—A campaign between German and British interests to obtain custody of Norwegian ships and cargo now in United States Pacific ports appeared to be developing today.

Dr. George Gyssling, German Consul here, in a letter to Norwegian shipping representatives, asked for the names of all their ships now docked in California ports.

He said his instructions came from Germany and requested that the ships remain in neutral ports pending the outcome of the present German-Norwegian fighting.

The shipping representatives were silent on the German Consul's request, but indicated they saw no reason why they should report their vessels' movements to him.

British authorities recently communicated with Norwegian shipping agents in the United States and offered to insure their vessels on return voyages provided they are sent to British or French ports without stopping en route at a neutral port.

Selling Weakens Winnipeg Wheat

WINNIPEG, April 19 (CP).—Selling dropped wheat futures prices from early highs in a dull session on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Final quotations for wheat futures were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, May at 91, July 92⅝ and October 94½.

Weakness at Chicago, which followed liquidation of Joan wheat and profit-taking by yesterday's buyers, was the main factor in the Winnipeg trade.

The general European war situation appeared to be in the background of wheat dealings. North American traders saw no incentive to buy in today's news and yesterday's substantial purchases were sold in profit-taking operations.

Canadian wheat export business was practically at a standstill with only odd loads reported shipped to United Kingdom from the Eastern seaboard.

Cash wheat trading was dull with a few bushels of No. 4 Northern the only noticeable trade.

All grain futures were steady in the coarse grains pit with oats and barley featured by export house support.

AUSTRALIAN TRADES APPROVE WAR POLICY

SYDNEY, Australia, April 19 (CP-Reuters)—The Australian Trades Union Council today voted 67-65 approval of the official war policies of the Federal Labor Party, which are to support the Government during the war and maintain Australia as an integral part of the British Commonwealth.

Construction of Ships in Canada Head of Schedule

OTTAWA, April 19 (CP)—Canada's $50,000,000 wartime ship construction program is proceeding ahead of schedule, it was announced today on the authority of Hon. C. D. Howe, in his capacity as Minister of Munitions and Supply.

The announcement was the first word from the new department since Mr. Howe took over that portfolio in addition to being Minister of Transport. The new department took over operations formerly conducted by the War Supply Board 10 days ago.

"At 15 shipyards somewhere in Canada, or more accurately located along the coasts and inland waters, work is proceeding day and night on the effort which involves the ultimate construction of more than 100 vessels for naval and air service purposes," said the announcement, given out by the public information office.

A variety of plants throughout the Dominion now are working at capacity on shipyard orders ranging from raw materials and semi-finished articles in steel, bronze and timber to products like boilers, engines, pumps, cables and other equipment.

Some 4000 men are engaged in the work and the announcement anticipated this number would be more than doubled "in a few months."

CANADA AIDS THE EMPIRE

GOLD

ONE of the largest gold producers in the world? That is Canada's enviable position today! During the past ten years Canada's gold production has increased from a value of $39,861,663 to an estimated total of more than 180 million in 1939.

This is a new high record and each new discovery has been the signal for a further step in the advance of this industry. The number of gold milling plants in operation has increased during this period from less than 30 to 155, which has stepped up the daily capacity of the plants from about 15,000 to more than 47,000 tons. During the first three-quarters of 1939, 19 new gold milling plants began production.

At a time like this, when the Empire is in need of her vast resources, Canada's actual and potential gold reserves are a bulwark of strength. They firmly establish our country's credit and put Canada and Canadians in an extremely favourable position to extend timely and worthwhile aid to the Heart of Empire.

With this thought in mind, the Explosives Division of C-I-L is proud of the part its products are playing in the development of this most important industry.

Nelson to Be Centre for Drivers' Tests; Cooperation Vital Says Hood

Nelson will be the focal centre from which testing units will be sent out in the forthcoming drivers' tests which are expected to start the first week in May, said Inspector George A. Hood of the Provincial Police Motor Branch, Victoria, in Nelson Friday morning. Inspector Hood has been touring the Kootenay in the past few days arranging for places in which to set up the testing apparatus.

Tests will be given at Nelson first and when most of the drivers have been tested, the units will go out to other centres such as Kaslo, Nakusp, New Denver, Salmo or Ymir, and Rossland or Trail. The Inspector went to Salmo Friday afternoon to arrange for the tests, and was to go on from there to Trail and Rossland.

COOPERATION IS VITAL

He stressed that "by far the greatest part of the battle" was securing the wholehearted cooperation of the public in the tests.

"They are given purely in the interests of safety and in an effort to arrive at some statistics with which we can work to cut down traffic accidents. There is nothing in them to fear or to trip anybody up," he said.

Out of several thousand tested so far, less than one-half of one per cent of drivers failed to pass and were barred from the road.

The tests are in three parts in some cases. First there are 25 written questions. These are picked at random from any of 250 questions and are on 10 different sets of papers. No two sets of papers have the same questions. Each person is required to answer only 25 of them. The second part of the test is done with machines and apparatus. There is the reaction machine to test one's alertness to given signals; another is a test of one's knowledge of signs; another is a color test; and there are five eye tests. These are for accuity, or power to see; diplopia or double vision; field of vision, or width of vision; depth of perception; and the color test.

SOME NEED DRIVING TEST

The actual test of driving on a road is given in cases only where it is deemed necessary by the examining officers. The average time for the written examinations is from 10 to 12 minutes, and the time for the tests for reaction and so on is from 11 to 14 minutes for average persons. Some take even less time and others naturally take longer.

In cases where a person is found to have some defect ir his sight or hearing or reactions, he may be restricted as to speed of driving, or in some other manner.

"Some very interesting facts have arisen out of the tests," Inspector Hood said. "Through them, some people have found that they had defects or good points which they knew nothing about before taking them,' he said. "For instance, one man found a defect for which he underwent an operation. If he had not had the operation he would probably have been dead by now. As it is, he is back on the road with his speed restricted to 25 miles per hour. As time goes on and his condition improves, his speed limit will be raised."

Officer Tells of Battle in Narvik When Hardy Lost

LONDON, April 19 (CP).—Petty Officer Edward Baggley of the destroyer Hardy tonight gave a description of the battle last Wednesday in which five British destroyers stormed into Narvik Fjord where they engaged six large German destroyers in close action.

Baggley said that in a blinding snowstorm the Hardy led four other British destroyers up the Fjord just after midnight. After nearly running aground they went into action.

"We sighted the targets and our torpedoes came out. So many ships were there, both warships and cargo ships, that it was impossible to miss them.

"The Gunnery Officer spotted a German destroyer and we opened fire. The signalman said the first salvo went straight through her bows. Torpedoes started exploding with millions of sparks going miles into the air.

"A German ship opened fire with her pompoms (anti-aircraft guns), thinking she was being attacked from the air. Our gun fire or torpedoes set fire to a jetty.

"We turned around a bend, the other destroyers (the Hunter, which was subsequently lost, Hostile, Havoc and Hotspur) followed and fired their torpedoes. The gunners then had a dim outline at which to fire and thousands of shells were bursting all over the place. We altered course and came round for another run and blazed away with out guns at a German destroyer.

"We put out (of action) a fort near the harbor with out second salvo. We blazed away again and when we altered our course we found three German destroyers and concentrated the fire of all (our) destroyers on those three.

"The enemy replied. We altered course and the other ships wheeled round and then we sighted two more German ships on the other side of the Fjord on our port bow. Two German destroyers tried to head us off from the exit and a salvo fell on us.

"I heard a terrific bang and there was a great smash. From this time the other ships carried on independently.

"We lost all headway and we gradually drifted toward the beach. One of our guns was still firing as we went aground. We let off a final torpedo.

"The order 'abandon ship' was given and with just rubber lifebelts on we swam 100 yards to shore."

Rossland Community Chest Proposes Vegetable Gardens to Assist Needy

Committee Will Ask How Many Willing to Work

ROSSLAND, B. C., April 19—Rossland Community Chest Executive Friday night thrashed out a plan to institute vegetable gardens for relief and needy cases and appointed H. M. DeLong, Mrs. F. St. John Madeley, Miss Olive Mills, Mrs. W. M. Anderson and D. B. Smith a committee to ascertain the number who would work on the project and to complete the details of arranging for gardens to be started as soon as possible.

Major J. E. Gordon indorsed the plan enthusiastically and stated that if the recipients of this help proved willing to work, he felt sure the City and the Government would be willing to assist. Mayor Gordon suggested that permission should be sought to convert a tract of farm land in the South belt, the property of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company, into a Community Chest garden. Land might be supplied by the City if necessary, he thought.

Suggestions for obtaining seeds from local merchants and individuals were made.

It was decided to send out circular letters to find out the number of families which would take part in the project.

Baby Inland Empire From Kellogg Had Rossland Forebears

ROSSLAND, B. C.—The Baby Album Edition of the Spokane Chronicle, April 6, had as frontispiece a picture of the prize-winning baby of the Inland Empire, the baby, Patricia Jo, being the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Joseph Dolan of Kellogg, Idaho. Mr. Dolan was born in Rossland, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Dolan, resided for many years, his father having been employed as blacksmith for the C. M. & S. Company.

Patricia Jo was the first "Baby Inland Empire" winner, competing against 634 other contestants from 125 Inland Empire communities.

Mrs. J. H. MacDonald, of Rossland, and her sister, Mrs. G. A. Wellwood, of Kamloops, who is at present her guest, are aunts of Baby Patricia Jo.

20 Trail Cyclists Lectured by Police on Bicycle Bylaw

TRAIL, B. C., April 19—Acting on complaints that cyclists were causing a traffic hazard on Riverside Avenue each noon by riding three abreast, City Police ordered 20 boys to the police station, where Friday they were lectured on the Trail Bicycle Bylaw, and instructed on the equipment needed for every bicycle.

Particulars Trail Men Serving Are Sought by Legion

TRAIL, B. C., April 19—To provide information urgently needed by the Canadian Legion Services, Inc., Trail Branch No. 11, Canadian Legion, is seeking full particulars, including number, name, regiment, naval or air force station address, of all Trail men in service.

H. L. Jackson is head of the committee, seeking the particulars.

Trail Scouts and Guides to Parade St. George's Eve

TRAIL, B. C., April 19—Commemorating St. George's Day, May 23, Scouts, Cubs, Rover Scouts, Guides and Brownies will hold a church parade Sunday evening.

Headed by the Canadian Legion Band, they will parade from Memorial Hall to the Columbia River bridge, and then back to the intersection of Cedar Avenue and Eldorado Street, from where they will go to their respective churches.
