Rumania Boosts Defence Forces, Places New Bans

Export of Raw Material and Manufactured Goods Needed for "National Defence" Banned; Hope to Block Showdown

BUCHAREST, Feb. 22 (AP). — Rumania, showing increased concern over the possibility of war in the Spring, today increased her defence forces and published a decree banning export of certain raw materials and manufactured goods "necessary for the national defence."

Oil and wheat — Rumania's chief exports — were left out of today's decree although it was confirmed authoritatively that delivery abroad of aviation gasoline and lubricants has been banned.

It was learned large internal purchases of commodities in which Rumania is deficient — mainly by Germany — and delay in acquiring new stocks led to the decree.

Specifically forbidden were exports of iron, steel, lead, aluminum, copper, fur, leather, charcoal, wool, cotton, rayon industrial chemicals and all manufactures in which these materials are used.

The Government, meanwhile, was reported hoping to stave off a showdown in the Allied-German struggle for a major portion of its oil exports by offering Germany the Government's entire legal share of the products of Allied and neutral owned corporations at Ploesti.

With the arrival Monday of Dr. Karl Clodius, German economics expert, the Nazis were expected to demand that Rumania fulfill her promise to sell Germany 1,680,000 tons of petroleum in 1940.

Short of expropriating the output of the Allied-owned fields in Rumania, which raises the possibility of French-British economic retaliation, Government circles saw little chance of furnishing Germany's entire quota.

The Government, however, is entitled to 660,000 tons of oil annually from the foreign operators and could requisition from homeowned companies a total production of 350,000 tons.

Rumania has a 12-year agreement with the French-controlled Petrofina Franchise to dispose of its oil royalties for cash, but last May obtained a one-year's suspension of this proviso in order to build up internal reserves.

It was believed certain that Petrofina would demand resumption of the contract next May, or at least assurance none of this oil would go to Germany.

In another move to protect the nation's resources, economics Minister Constantin Angelescu announced a measure forcing holders of undeveloped mineral and oil lands to sell their properties for development to the State if it so orders. German interests were active recently in seeking drilling concessions in Rumania.

OLDER MEN OF FINLAND CALLED TO THE COLORS

2000 Russians Killed, Large Numbers of Tanks Lost

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HELSINKI, Feb. 22 (AP). — Finland called more of her older men to the colors tonight as the Red Army, hammering relentlessly at the Mannerheim Line, continued a tremendous offensive which the Finns said was being repelled with heavy losses after reaching a point 12 miles from Viipuri.

Approximately 2000 Russians were reported killed at Taipale in unsuccessful assaults on the East flank of the line, while on the opposite flank the Finnish High Command said the attackers had lost "large numbers" of tanks in fierce fighting.

The Finns did not mention their own losses, but the need of replacements was emphasized by an order calling out the classes of 1894 and 1895—men 44 to 46 years old. The three preceding classes were mobilized last week.

A snowstorm which swept the Isthmus yesterday failed to retard military operations appreciably. The sky remained heavily overcast, however, and light flurries of snow during the afternoon raised Finnish hopes that a traditional February blizzard might yet come to their aid.

The extent to which the Mannerheim Line has been penetrated in the bitter battle that has raged along the Karelian Isthmus for almost four weeks was indicated by the nightly communique, which acknowledged that the fighting had reached the vicinity of Kamara.

The village is a station on the railway line from Leningrad to Viipuri, about 32 miles from the Russian frontier and about 12 miles from the Finnish seaport at the head of the Gulf of Finland which is the immediate objective of the Soviet drive.

The Finnish High Command asserted that all attacks in this sector had been turned back yesterday, but described the action as very heavy.

Northeast of Lake Ladoga the Finns reported continuing successes resulting in the capture of "several enemy-strong points" and 200 prisoners.

In the Pitkaranta Islands along the Northern shore of the lake the Finnish communique said several Russian supply columns were dispersed and more than 200 vehicles destroyed.

Aerial activity grew in intensity as the Finns sought to relieve the pressure on the Mannerheim Line by bombing enemy troop concentration by night as well as by day.

MOSCOW, Feb. 23 (Friday) (AP). — The 22nd birthday of the Red Army dawned today without the announcement — hoped for by many Russians — that Finland's Mannerheim Line had been smashed.

The military communique from Leningrad reported only the capture of 21 more Finnish defensive positions on the Karelian Isthmus and the bagging of dozens of aerial operations by a Finnish blizzard.

GERMAN AIRMEN JOIN SOVIET FIGHTERS

ROME, Feb. 22 (CP-Havas) —German airmen are fighting with the Russian air force in Finland, the Giornale D'Italia reported tonight in a dispatch from its special correspondent at Helsinki.

"During the last four days, Finnish pursuit ships have shot down 28 enemy craft," the dispatch said. "The pilots of several of the downed planes knew only one language, and it was not Russian."

British Fishing Fleets Hit Back at Nazi Air Raiders

Part of Great Britain's huge fishing fleet, sometimes called Britain's food line of defence, coming into port after a trip to the fishing banks. Bearing the brunt of German aerial attacks in the North Sea, the trawlers have been equipped with anti-aircraft weapons and this week succeeded in beating off many attacks.

British Warships in North Rouse Scandinavian Fears

Possibility of Naval Action Against Trade of Germany and Russia Viewed With Anxiety; Neutrality in Danger

KIRKENES, Norway, Feb. 22 (AP). — An undetermined number of British warships are lying off Finland's Petsamo District and Russia's Arctic coast near Murmansk, it was learned definitely here tonight.

It was believed that the ships were placed in the area to prevent German vessels from using Norwegian territorial waters in trade with Russia.

By ELMER W. PETERSON

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 22 (AP).—Reports published in Scandinavian papers that British and French warships are cruising in the Arctic Ocean in the direction of Murmansk, possibly with the intention of interfering with German-Soviet trade, created new trepidation in Scandinavia today.

Murmansk is Russia's only ice-free Arctic port and has become an increasingly important factor in the part Russia plays in European affairs.

Possibility of naval activity in Northern waters was viewed with anxiety in the light of the probable effect on the increasingly delicate status of Scandinavian neutrality.

The Soviet Commissar of Naval Affairs, Admiral Nikolai Kuznetzoff, was reported by the Stockholm Aftonbladet to have flown from Moscow to Murmansk following reports of Allied naval movements in the Arctic.

Russia's Arctic navy was said to have been placed in complete preparedness for war.

This report and the Altmark incident last Friday—the Royal Navy's raid on a German prison ship in Norwegian waters— have given Scandinavian countries the feeling that as long as the Allied-German and Russian-Finnish wars continue their neutrality will be constantly in danger.

Consequently unusual attention was focused on the meeting of Scandinavian Foreign Ministers in Copenhagen Saturday and Sunday in the belief a greater degree of Scandinavian cooperation may result.

The Stockholm Dagens Nyheter in an editorial expressed hope the Foreign Ministers would draft identical rules to govern the passage of belligerent vessels in Scandinavian waters.

Swedish indignation was running high over the Russian bombing of Pajala, a village near the Finnish frontier, yesterday and the Press demanded full compensation be asked of Moscow.

Candidates for Election Warned Against Pledges

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 (CP).—Candidates in the coming Dominion election are warned of the serious consequences of signing pledges which would prevent their freedom of action in Parliament, in a statement made public tonight by Jules Costonguay, Chief Electoral Officer.

The Election Act renders a candidate who signs such an undertaking liable to fines or imprisonment or both and perhaps loss of his seat, if elected, Mr. Costonguay said.

The statement was issued because many complaints have come in that candidates in several electoral districts have been asked by persons or associations to pledge themselves to certain lines of conduct should they be elected.

Conscription is a question on which many people seek to pledge candidates, it was learned. Some want pledges to fight conscription, others to support it, and others to promise only to oppose conscription of farmers' sons.

"Recall" had many advocates in former elections and was said to be showing itself again this election. Under one form of this plan a candidate signs his resignation from Parliament and places it in the keeping of an organization which supports him. If his actions in Parliament are not satisfactory to the organization, all it has to do is to send the resignation in to the Speaker of the House of Commons. Other forms provide for petitions of recall and when signed by a certain number of electors, the candidate undertakes to resign.

12 Hurt as New Bombings Occur

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP) — Twelve persons were injured, two seriously, in two violent explosions tonight in London's West End. Police attributed the bombings to the outlawed Irish Republican Army.

The blasts followed in fast succession. The first, in Oxford Street, was caused by a bomb dropped in a litter basket near a bus stop. It sent cr wds scurrying and almost immediately afterwards a second blast occurred farther along the street at Marble Arch.

Windows in three stores were smashed by the first explosion and flying glass caused most of the injuries. The second explosion wrecked a men's lavatory near the Marble Arch. No one was injured there, however.

Panic occurred among the crowds in busy Oxford Street. Among those who aided police in administering first aid were sailors from the cruiser Ajax, who were sightseeing in that part of London at the time.

PUB DAMAGED

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Feb. 22 (CP)—An explosion, believed caused by a bomb, badly damaged a pub in Seaforth Street tonight. No one was injured since the blast occurred after the pub had closed for the night.

First Soviet Tanker With Oil for Nazis

BUCHAREST, Feb. 22 (CP-Havas) — The first Soviet tanker to arrive at the Black Sea port of Constantia with oil for Germany was the Sakhalain with a cargo of about 10,000 tons, it was learned tonight. Seven thousand tons of oil from the Batum oil fields on the Eastern shore of the Black Sea were stored in tanks at the Rumanian port and the balance was loaded into tank cars for immediate rail shipments to the Reich.

Austin Taylor Bank of Canada Director

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 (CP) — The Finance Minister, Hon. J. L. Ralston, announced tonight appointment of Austin C. Taylor of Vancouver as a Director of the Bank of Canada for the remainder of the term of the late Thomas Bradshaw, which ends Feb. 28, 1941.

Four directors whose terms of office expire the end of this month were re-appointed for another three years. They are W. D. Black of Hamilton, Lieut.-Col. Claude Brown of London, Ont., W. K. McKean of Halifax and G. G. Cowie of Nanaimo, B.C.

Mr. Taylor has been identified prominently with many developments in British Columbia and was a member of the Commission appointed in 1932 to investigate the financial situation in that Province.

YOUTHFUL MARRIAGES BOOST DIVORCE RATE

VANCOUVER, Feb. 22 (CP) — Mr. Justice Dennis Murphy said in Supreme Court today that youthful and improvident marriages were largely responsible for British Columbia's divorce rate, 70 in January.

He made the remark in refusing to sanction the marriage of Thomas Richard Lindsell, 20 year old truck driver, and Gladys Lillian Baker, 16. The girl's parents had consented to the marriage but the youth's mother, Mrs. Rose Hayes, objected. His father is dead.

FRANCE NOT TO FAIL FINLAND

PARIS, Feb. 22 (CP).—France will not fail in her duty to Finland, which "has astonished the world" by her resistance to Soviet Russia, Camille Chautemps, Vice-Premier, said tonight.

He said Finland "has proved the almost invincible force of a proud and courageous people who do not wish to die."

"Poland was a victim of one of the most monstrous pacts in history," he said. He referred to the Russo-German pact, signed a few days before the Polish invasion.

M. Chautemps spoke to the Washington Day dinner of the American Club, in place of Premier Daladier who was prevented from attending because of a recent injury to his foot.

"Great Britain and France never formulated any demand of any kind against Germany," M. Chautemps said. "We did not want war, but it is our duty to defend oppressed peoples whose liberty is linked with the liberty of our own country."

RUSSIA TESTING SOUTH DEFENCES

MOSCOW, Feb. 22 (AP)—Soviet Russia, fighting a war with Finland in the North, is also testing anew her defences in the vital South where her wealth in oil is concentrated.

Conclusion of important Winter manoeuvres in the Black Sea of the fleet commanded by Admiral Oktyabrsky was disclosed today simultaneously with word that a training blackout had been decreed from Tuesday until further notice at Baku, Caspian seaport from which the oil supplies of the region are shipped.

"The fleet was, is and shall be a reliable guard of the Southern borders of the U.S.S.R." Admiral Oktyabrsky announced after return of the Black Sea warships to their Sebastopol base.

He reported "the strength of the Black Sea fleet is growing daily" and though no figures were given Russians asserted two-thirds of the vessels were new and built in Russia.

NORWAY CONCLUDES TRADE NEGOTIATIONS

OSLO, Feb. 22 (AP). — Norway was reported today to have concluded satisfactory trade negotiations with both Germany and Great Britain. Details were not available.

The newspaper Aftenposten said the agreement with Britain probably would provide for modifications in contraband control for Norwegian ships.

Finns Continue Pressure Against Red 18th Division

By WADE WERNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE FINNISH ARMY NORTHEAST OF LAKE LADOGA, Feb. 22 (AP). — Finnish troops fighting amid the gorgeous scenery of this Winter wonderland fought on today in their weird, intricate war of encirclement against the Russian invaders.

They drew their lines tighter around the remnants of the shattered Soviet 18th Division — perhaps a whole battalion is valiantly holding out — while their comrades, operating tractors and trucks, hauled away tons and tons of war booty from one of Finland's latest victories.

Others, slowly and relentlessly, with phantom ski troops and artillery strategy prepared the way for new pushes elsewhere on this complicated front.

I motored 50 miles this afternoon and walked several more to reach the front where the last resistance of the famous 18th division is being wiped out.

A few miles behind the front I encountered a long calvacade of captured Russian tanks and trucks being hauled to the rear by the Finns for repair and later use against the enemy.

More tanks were scattered here and there in ditches and fields. Then we came upon whole parks of tanks and tractors, automobiles and artillery — and among them the frozen dead. We picked our way through a confusion of vehicles and what seemed to be thousands of grotesque, wax-like figures lying alone or in heaps.

Actually there were only about 1500 dead in this particular scene of carnage — only a part of the 18th Division's fallen, who were scattered in various positions over an area of many miles.

As night fell and moonlight illuminated the scene, the impression of utter destruction, complete disaster and death was overwhelming.

Navy Trawler Is Sunk, 2 German Planes Shot Down

21 Men Believed Lost With Fifeshire; Loss of Finnish Ship Reported; One Nazi Plane Falls Into Sea, One in Field

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP). — The Royal Air Force today shot down two of Germany's black raiders and newly-armed small boats repulsed others with firece return fire as the Nazi Air Force attempted to raid British coastal shipping and succeeded in sinking one Royal Naval trawler.

German undersea activity also was reported in dispatches from Amsterdam to have resulted in loss of the 2621-ton Finnish steamship Brita off the Irish coast. The crew abandoned ship after an explosion.

"A submarine was sighted after the explosion," said the Brita's message.

Nine trawlers were attacked by the air raiders during the day, and one of them, the 540-ton navy boat Fifeshire, was sunk, the Admiralty announced. Two officers and 19 men were believed lost, the Admiralty said. Only one crewman was known to have survived.

The naval trawler Solon also was bombed and raked with machine-gun fire, but the attacking planes were driven off by sharp fire, and the boat returned safely to land.

The Fifeshire was the 14th British naval trawler sunk thus far in the war, but the first to be lost from aerial bombardment.

The Admiralty announcement said:

"The Secretary of the Admiralty regrets to announce that His Majesty's trawler Fifeshire, Acting Second Lieutenant J. V. Searles Wood, R.N., has been sunk as a result of enemy aircraft attacks.

"It is feared there is only one survivor, Able Seaman Albert Edward Blowers.

"Two officers and 19 ratings are missing and feared to have been lost. The next of kin have been informed.

"His Majesty's trawler Solon, Lieut. Commander W. Gillett, R.N., was also attacked by bombs and machine guns, but the enemy aircraft were driven off and the vessel returned to port."

One of the German bombers shot down crashed in a farm field on the outskirts of Coldingham, near St. Abb's Head, Southeastern Scotland, while the other plunged into the sea off the coast of Northumberland.

The crew of four in the first bomber set fire to their ship. One had a bullet wound in the leg. The four were taken prisoner.

The second bomber was brought down in a 30-mile chase through clouds by fighter planes piloted by victors of other recent battles. A flight lieutenant reported his pursuit ship sighted the enemy 10 miles off the Northumberland coast and as it dived to attack got a burst of machine-gun bullets from the bomber's rear gunner.

The British fighters then opened up and, the lieutenant said, "The Heinkel's undercarriage immediately dropped."

"I dived steeply to about 1000 feet," he added, "when it's wing tips were seen to drop off. Then it turned on its back and dived vertically into the sea."

Election Truce for Holy Week Urged by Member

HAMILTON, Ont., Feb. 22 (CP) —An election truce during Holy Week—the seven days preceding the general election March 26—was suggested today by John A. March, Conservative member for Hamilton West in the last Parliament.

In a statement to newspapers, March said "I think it is most regrettable that in this Lenten season with Holy Week or Passion Week coming directly before the election, that the joy of Eastertide should be disturbed by election talk from the public platforms, the radio and through the Press."

"I think that all Christian peoples in Canada," he added, "both Protestant and Roman Catholic, will regret this very deeply. People of Canada didn't want an election and certainly I think the circumstances must deplore the fact that Holy Week should be made the battleground for last-minute campaigning."

VEGETABLE CHINESE GETS CHERISHED PLATE

VANCOUVER, Feb. 22 (CP) — Ko Chew, Chinese vegetable vendor, beamed with satisfaction today when his long wait at the local traffic office was rewarded with a licence plate bearing the number C-4, the lowest commercial licence available to private citizens in British Columbia.

Traffic officials said it is the third year a Chinese has obtained that number. The first three C number plates are reserved for service.

Ko Chew was first in line as licence sales opened, but he was only one of nearly 1000 requests for special numbers.

Study Means to Cover Oil in Naval Blockade

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP Havas) —The Allied governments tonight were reported studying measures to extend their naval blockade to cover Russian oil shipments across the Black Sea to Rumania, en route to Germany.

According to unconfirmed reports current here, London and Paris are considering possibility of contraband control in the Black Sea, presumably with the assent of Turkey, and also steps to halt the flow of Russian supplies and Swedish iron ore to Germany through Norwegian territorial waters.

Dispatches from the Rumanian Black Sea port of Constanta said a number of Soviet tankers had arrived there with oil for Germany. The oil reportedly is being stored in tanks leased from the United States-owned Standard Oil Company until the Danube thaws. It then will be trans-shipped to the Reich in river tankers, it was said.

It was learned the British and French Ministries of Economic Warfare entered into the immediate consultation on receipt of the Constanta dispatch. Informed quarters said they intended to make a complete study of Russian supplies being furnished to Germany before taking any definite steps.

80 KILLED IN TURKISH 'QUAKE

ISTANBUL, Feb. 22 (AP). — Eighty persons were reported dead and hundreds injured tonight as a result of a series of earthquakes in Central Anatolia in Asiatic Turkey which damaged 11 villages and left thousands homeless.

Tens of thousands of cattle were said to have perished in the vicinity of Kaisari, near the centre of the disturbance, where four villages were devastated by 18 shocks during the night. Additional shocks were reported today.

Survivors were panic-stricken, fearing a repetition of the December disaster in which about 50,000 were killed by earthquakes and floods.

Bitter cold added to the suffering of the homeless and handicapped rescue work.

Turks to Control Trading Prices

ISTANBUL, Feb. 22 (AP).—The Turkish Government took a new step toward putting the nation on a full war footing today by deciding to group all exporters and importers into controlled syndicates.

Emphasizing again the close co-operation between Great Britain and France and their non-belligerent ally, Turkey, General Maxime Weygand and Lieut.-General Sir Archibald P. Vernon Puts Up Great Battle Before Lose Second Game 9-6

TRAIL, B. C., Feb. 22—Displaying a surprising reversal of form, the Vernon Bombers twice held the lead over the Trail Tigers, went into the second period with the score tied 3-3, and later led Trail 6-5, only to go down to defeat 9-6 at the Trail rink Thursday night. French Gunners Drive Off Nazis

PARIS, Feb. 22 (AP).—Military sources reported today that French machine gunners had driven off three German raids with enemy losses as patrol activity was renewed on the Western front.

In the sector East of the Moselle River, they said, German troops attempting to capture a French outpost were repulsed by French crossfire and retired in disorder.

The fighting resulted in the destruction by fire of one house in a frontier village.

Another German patrol was reported to have skirmished with French gunners West of the Saar River and to have retired leaving behind an unspecified number of dead.

Two German non-commissioned officers were said to have been captured in a raid engagement in the same region.

German forces along the Rhine continued to blast away at French loudspeakers broadcasting news and propaganda across the flood-swollen river. The French returned the fire.

French aerial squadrons, both observation and scouting, took advantage of clear skies to fly over the enemy lines.

British and Nazis Drink at Same Bar

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Feb 22 (AP). — Seamen from a German freighter and an armed British merchant ship forgot the war long enough to drink beer and exchange good-natured quips in the same bar at neutral Port Everglades today.

The English ship, the 4585-ton Harburton, arrived last night with two guns bristling from her stern and docked a few hundred feet from the German Arauca, which was chased into port last December by a British cruiser.

The Arauca since then has been tied up by libel litigation.

Soviet Freighter Reported Seized by British Ship

TOKYO, Feb. 23 (Friday) - (CP-Havas) — The newspaper Asahi Shimbun reported today a British warship had seized the Soviet freighter Selenga, 2492 tons, with a cargo of 1000 tons of tungsten ore from Manila en route to Vladivostok.

The British believe the ore is part of the supply Germany obtained from the Chinese Government under a barter agreement concluded before the outbreak of war, the newspaper said.

The newspaper interpreted the incident as indicating a sign of stiffening British policy toward Soviet Russia.

All Sailors Get Chance to Vote

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 (CP).— The Royal Canadian Navy, it was learned tonight, has undertaken to see that every Canadian tar in the service is given an opportunity to vote in next month's Dominion election, even if it becomes necessary to pick up the navy votes at sea by airplane.

Just how many men are serving in the navy must remain Defence Department information but only last night Prime Minister Mackenzie King gave 6000 as the number in the navy and the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer reserve.

As with those of the army and air force, Canada's men in navy blue will vote under the active service voting regulations, and the navy, falling in the same category as active service men in training in Canada, will vote from March 18 to 23.

Their ballots must be in the hands of the special returning officer for their active service voting area—there are three in Canada—by six o'clock on the evening of polling day March 26.

It is to meet this deadline that the navy has promised to provide an airplane ballot pick-up at sea should it prove necessary.

LONDON, Feb. 22 (AP). — The founder of the Boy Scouts, Lord Baden-Powell, 83 years old today, finds old age "ripping."

Cromwell in Favor Alaska Highway

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 (CP) — The proposed international highway has a friend in the United States Minister to Canada, H. R. Cromwell.

"I frankly confess prejudice in favor of the highway because in my younger days I completely succumbed to the charms of British Columbia and the Great Canadian West," said Mr. Cromwell in his first address since taking over his post here last month.

Speaking to the Canadian Club yesterday he said he was well aware that there were many who consider the proposed road from Seattle, traversing the length of British Columbia and terminating at Fairbanks, "a dream of impractical visionaries."

"Nevertheless, and at the risk of incurring the displeasure of these worthy citizens, I declare myself a supporter of the Alaska highway," said Mr. Cromwell.

Chinese Say Japanese Warships Damaged

HONG KONG, Feb. 22 (AP) — The Chinese reported today they had shelled and damaged four of six Japanese warships on the Yangtse River at Kiuklang.

Other reports of successes against the Japanese, related by the Chinese Government's central news agency, included:

Recapture of Mentowkow, West of Peiping, with a small Japanese garrison nearly wiped out; further mutinies among the Japanese-controlled "reconstruction army" of Chinese, bringing to 3000 the number going over to the Chinese side in Fukien Province; and recapture of Tungshan island, off the Fukien coast, with the surrender of 280 Japanese and "reconstruction" soldiers.

New Dalai Lama Is Enthroned

NEW DELHI, Feb. 22 (CP-Reuters)—Behind the great gold and jewel-studded gates of the Potalta—most famed of all Tibetan palaces—the six-year-old Ling-Erzh La-Mu-Tan-Chu was enthroned today as the 14th Dalai Lama, spiritual and temporal ruler of the country at the top of the world.

The child, selected by the portent of heaven and taken from the humble dwelling of a Chinese peasant in Kokonor, was born, it is said, at the exact moment on Dec. 17, 1933, when the 13th Dalai Lama drew his last breath.

The youthful lord of all the Lamas was conducted in pomp from a summer place near Lhasa to the gleaming Potala, a distance of a little more than three miles. He was borne in Palanquin by carriers dressed in green and wearing red hats adorned with white plumes.

The elevation of the new Dalai Lama was not merely an act of interest and concern to the Lamas and the tribes who inhabit the highest plateau on earth. It also holds its place in the tangled pattern of world politics. Because the new Dalai Lama is Chinese rather than Tibetian-born, and because the regent is regarded as ardently pro-Chinese, the new regime is expected to draw closer to the Chinese Government than any of its recent predecessors.

This new order of things was symbolized by the presence of General Wu Ching-Hsin, official representative of the Chungking Government.

British influence in Tibet—important because of the land's contiguity to India—has been exercised since the expedition of Sir Francis Younghusband in 1904 as relations between the two countries were established. Britain was represented at the ceremony outside the gates of the potala by B. J. Gould, British agent in Sikkim, an adjacent British protectorate. Mr. Gould was received by the new Dalai Lama yesterday.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 22 (CP).—A. R. Macdonell, K.C., was chosen last night as Liberal candidate for Winnipeg North Centre in tre March 26 Federal elections. J. S. Woodsworth, Federal Leader of the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation, represented the constituency in the recently dissolved Parliament.

British Navy Watches for Attack From Nazis' New Aircraft Carriers

By GUY E. RHOADES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP)—Britain's ever-watchful navy and the coastal command of the Royal Air Force are ready and waiting for a possible move by Germany to employ one or more of her 32-knot aircraft carriers in attacks on Allied and neutral shipping in the North and South Atlantic.

Germany launched the 19,250-ton aircraft carrier Graf Zeppelin in 1938 and started building another known only as "B". It is believed "B" may have been launched and two more carriers are known to be under construction.

The Graf Zeppelin carries 40 fleet-spotting and dive-bombing aircraft of comparatively short cruising range, is armed with 16 guns of 5.9-inch calibre, 10 anti aircraft guns of 4.1-inch calibre and 22 smaller anti-aircraft guns.

With her speed she could outdistance most battleships and with her armaments she would prove a formidable foe for any destroyer which overhauled her, although she could probably be crushed by a combination of vessels such as chased the Admiral Graf Spee into Montevideo.

Authorities are not overlooking the possibility that the aircraft carrier might be accompanied by escorts or submarines. Such an effort would provide considerable protection with their torpedoes but this might be offset by the fact their presence in convoy would force the carriers to reduce their speed to a comparative snail's pace.

It is believed the aircraft carriers could be provisioned for long voyages on which they would behave much as the commerce raiders of the first Great War.

Nevertheless it is likely they would be easier to trace than commerce raiders as activities of their aircraft would give notice of their presence over a greater area.

Allies Fear Soviet Concentration on Iran Border Presages Attack

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP)— The Daily Herald today said that reports of heavy Soviet troop concentrations in the Caucasus and along the border of Iran (Persia) are compelling the Allies to keep close watch on the situation in the near and middle-East.

This "disquieting information", the Herald said, "reveals that more heavy concentrations of Russian troops are taking place in the Caucasus on Turkey's Eastern border and the North frontier of Iran."

"Coinciding with the arrival of these reinforcements—they are reported to be crack units of the Red Army—comes news of wholesale arrests in Georgia and Armenia.

"The Moscow press and radio have launched a violent campaign directed against both Turkey and Iran. A torrent of abuse accusing these two countries of being tools of capitalism and of having bowed down before the imperialistic Britain and France is being poured out.

"Iran with its rich oil wells is especially singled out for attack and the abuse that is being levelled against her is so similar to that heaped on Finland before the Soviet invasion that real fears are entertained that Russia may be contemplating new aggression. This and renewed Nazi pressure on Rumania are believed to be the reasons for Turkey's sudden application of her emergency national defence law two days ago.

"Turkey, for her part, is determined to leave nothing to chance."

The Times quoted reports, neither confirmed nor denied at Ankara, that Moscow had asked for resumption of the parleys broken off when Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu left Moscow. If true, the Times said, this would mean that Moscow has accepted Turkey's view that she can enter into no undertaking with respect to the Black Sea area that would clash with Turkish commitments to Great Britain and France or the Straits Convention.

Speaker Disputes McLean Statement There Is No National Agricultural Organization

TORONTO, Feb. 22 (CP).—The Canadian Chamebr of Agriculture today stood prepared on the word of its President, H. H. Hannam, to "gladly meet and confer with the Chamber of Commerce or other businessmen's organization at any time as partners in support of policies for the welfare of Canada as a whole."

In an address before a joint banquet of the Ontario Whole Milk Producers' League and the Ontario Concentrated Milk Producers' Association last night, Mr. Hannam took issue with a speech delivered before the Chamber of Commerce annual convention here last Monday by the Chamber President, J. S. McLean, Toronto businessman.

Mr. Hannam challenged a statement made by Mr. McLean that there is really no national organization which represents agriculture at large. Mr. McLean added that even if it were desired, therefore, to broaden the membership of the Chamber of Commerce to include agriculture on even terms with industry, the method of doing so would be by no means simple.

"His is a farmers' organization to maintain friendly relations with a business man's organizaton which defies the most elementary rule of courteous recognition?" asked Mr. Hannam in his address.

"It is difficult to understand why the President of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce would make a charge so disparaging to a Dominion-wide farmers organization—the Canadian Chamber of Agriculture. We do not of course claim that all farm organizations in Canada are in it, but the great majority of them are. The organizations of eight provinces are affiliated directly and the ninth one indirectly."

Empire Honors Tweedsmuir Memory in Service at Westminster Abbey

Divine of Scottish Church Reads Lesson

By SAM ROBERTSON

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP Cable)—The Empire today honored the memory of the late Lord Tweedsmuir at a service in Westminster Abbey that was richly impressive for its simplicity.

Upwards of 1000 ranging from a representative of the King and the Prime Minister himself to a few humble alms seekers, filled the pews and the age-worn transept seats for the service the origin of which is rooted in antiquity.

In their velvet gold braided holy vestments, the Dean of Westminster, Rt. Rev. Paul de Labilliere, conducted the service, while the Archbishop of Canterbury, Most Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, gave the blessing.

Although the service was Anglican, a divine of the Scottish Church was invited into the most famed of all worshipping places of the Anglican faith to read the lesson. He was Dr. Archibald Fleming of St. Columba's (Church of Scotland) in London, an intimate friend of the Scottish-born Lord Tweedsmuir, who read from Revelations: "And I saw a new heaven and a new earth; for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away."

While the Empire was paying homage in Westminster Abbey, Lord Tweedsmuir's "Ain Land" honored him at a service in St. Giles Cathedral, Edinburgh.

Other services were held at Aldershot where the Canadian Active Service Force is in training. All units of the first division participated.

The memorial service at Westminster drew a gathering of British statesmen and other notables, past and present, seldom congregated under one roof.

Seated in individual stalls were the Lord Chamberlain, the Earl of Clarendon, representing the King, Prime Minister Chamberlain and most members of his cabinet, Earl Baldwin and Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett Prime Minister of another day.

There, too, sat the Earl of Bessborough, former Governor General of Canada, and a representative of the aged Duke of Connaught who served at Ottawa during part of the last war. Hon. Vincent Massey, the Canadian High Commissioner, was there for the Dominion Government and the high commissioners of Australia and South Africa were nearby.

At the head of members of the immediate family was the new Lord Tweedsmuir in the uniform of a staff lieutenant of the First Division of the Canadian Service Force.

Canada's khaki also was visible elsewhere in the great edifice. In transept seats were upwards of 200 officers of the first division and Canadian military headquarters, headed by Major-General A.G.L. McNaughton and Major-General H. D.G. Crerar, Senior Officer of Canadian military headquarters. Each wore a black mourning band on his left arm.

Off in the nave of the church, where they could see little of those conducting the service but could hear it all, were more than 100 men of the ranks. They were mostly troops on leave, drawn to the Abbey of their own free will. Along with them was a massive negro from Ontario and an Indian from Nova Scotia.

With the new Lord Tweedsmuir in the immediate family group were his brother, Hon. William Buchan, and his wife, his sister, Hon. Mrs. Brian Fairfax-Lucy, and her husband; Hon. Mrs. Norman Grosvenor, the late Governor General's mother-in-law; her daughter, Mrs. Peyton Jones and the latter's two daughters and a son.

PSYCHIATRISTS SAY MOTHER SLAYER INSANE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22 (AP)—Repeated incoherent pleas of Mrs. Betty Hardaker, 25, confessed slayer of her 5-year-old daughter, that she be permitted to kill herself have resulted in establishment of a 24-hour guard around her cot in the county jail hospital ward.

There will be an inquest tomorrow. Soon afterward, police said, a murder charge will be filed and Mrs. Hardaker will be given a sanity hearing.

Two psychiatrists who examined her yesterday declared her insane.

Japanese Budget Passed Lower House

TOKYO, Feb. 22 (CP)—The Lower House of Parliament today passed without amendment Japan's record general budget for 1940 of 10,360,000,000 yen ($2,427,657,000) and the measure was sent to the House of Peers where passage was expected.

Fighting forces are allotted about 65 per cent of the budget total.

Meanwhile a naval spokesman said that the United States plan to build 45,000-ton battleships means a new naval race.

The spokesman refused to say whether Japan would join in the race, but he said the "Japanese navy was watching the situation with grave concern."

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Pepless Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did — even look healthy and strong, yet — you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, dopey, tired and pepless.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams Pink Pills today. (ADVT.)

Where Physicians Select Patients

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

My colleagues are terribly perturbed about the possibilities of socialized medicine. It might comfort my fellow physicians to see how smoothly it works in Mexico, where I saw many things of medical interest in my recent southern trip.

In our land the patients select their physicians, and the physicians do not always want the ones they get. But in enlightened Mexico the physicians select their patients and they are allowed to treat the diseases in which they are most interested.

IDEA ON FATIGUE

I noticed what I thought was a very sensible attitude of the Mexican laborer to fatigue. I saw an old man carrying a bundle on his head, and all of a sudden the afternoon 'let-down' seemed to get him. He just squatted down in a doorway, rested his bundle, and fell fast asleep. I understand that here, up North, the idea prevails in some offices that when the afternoon let-down occurs, the office force is mustered and put through some exercises to wake them up. The poor things go back to work even more tired than before the restorative was applied. How much better it would be instead of further fatigue to provide couches for them and allow a 20-minute snooze; I wager the work would be done twice as well than after an exercise period.

I went among the people in Yucatan that were on as low a level of civilization as I have ever seen. They live in and off the jungle. They build their houses of straight sticks and thatch; they go barefoot, they eat bananas and fruit which grow wild and hunt the wild turkey and the deer. I must say they look a very healthy lot.

NO RICKETS

I must have seen a thousand little children, going around almost naked, and in that land of sunshine I saw not one case of rickets. And the mouths I examined which had not the benefit of tooth brushes or tooth pastes, were filled with glowing, shining natural dentures.

Divine intervention in disease is an article of implicit faith with most of the population around Mexico City. The shrine of the Virgin of Guadalupe is the only healing shrine I ever visited. Outside the churches they sell little silver votive offerings shaped in the form of the part that is diseased. Before the cathedral I found only arms and legs. The healer there must specialize in orthopedics. But the Virgin of Guadalupe is a general practitioner, for there were votives of hands, ears, eyes, hearts and the domestic animals, prayers could be made for a sick dog, cat, pig, donkey, cow—even for an automobile.

Mix apples and lemon juice, add green pepper, celery and pickles. Sprinkle paprika and salt over the mixed ingredients. Arrange lettuce or finely-chopped or shredded cabbage, endive or other salad green on plates, put portions of salad on each, and mayonnaise on top.

FILLED COOKIES

One cup butter, four cups flour, three egg yolks, one cake loose yeast, one tablespoon sugar, juice, rind one half lemon, little milk.

Mix filling ingredients, adding more sugar if desired. For dough, place flour on pastry board crumble in butter, add egg yolks also yeast and sugar dissolved in milk.

Work dough until smooth. Divide into three parts, roll out each to thickness of piecrust or a bit thinner and cut into three inch squares. Place about one teaspoon of filling on each square, fold dough over in any shape desired, covering filling, place cookies on ungreased baking sheet and bake in 350 F. oven until delicately browned.

FISH CAKE RECIPE

Six ounces cooked fish, two ounces bread, one egg, one half pint of milk, five tablespoons butter, chopped parsley, with a seasoning of salt, pepper and nutmeg.

The fish is chopped, mixed with other ingredients, shaped into rissoles and fried in butter.

FAVORITE DUTCH DISH BEETS WITH APPLES

Peel and slice two large, cooked beets or four small ones, and put them in a saucepan with five tablespoons butter, one shredded onion, four finely-chopped, sour apples, season with salt and a good dash of nutmeg, Simmer till reduced to a pulp.

BREAD AND BUTTER CAKE

Put the mixture in a well greased pan, a sandwich loaf pan is best, and bake for one to one and one half hours in a moderate oven. Let stand until quite cold. Should it be a little hard, keep it in the bread box with other breads before using.

THIN PANCAKES

One and one quarter cups flour, one half pint milk, two eggs, pinch of salt, three tablespoons butter. Break eggs into a bowl, stir, add salt, flour and six tablespoons of the milk. Beat well with a whisk until the batter is quite smooth and light. Add the remaining milk gradually. Warm a little butter in the pancake pan, and drop in a small quantity of the mixture, so as to make a very thin pancake. This is essential. Cook to a very light color on both sides. Fill with jam or with brown sugar.

Dignity Differs From Laziness

By DONNA GRACE

It always is interesting to talk with women who have, through experience, made worthwhile observations.

A former well-known actress says she believes signs of age are signs of mental laziness. Women who are alert enough to keep their face and figure in good condition, will not look old.

They may age as, they mature, but the change will not make them less attractive if they are smart.

She says that although women are accused of spending too much time before the mirror, they do not study themselves half enough. Time spent before the mirror should not be just to enable one to put the lipstick in the right place or to see that the hair is neat and trim. It should be a business of impartial checking of everything from top to bottom.

After one is full-grown the size of the body should vary only very slightly through the years. The placid stiffness of age may be avoided if one will keep up the vivacious movements of youth. "Dignity," the actress says, "has been the worst enemy of real beauty."

One must assume the dignity that goes with advancing years, but there is no reason for the placidity that keeps one stiff and awkward. This assumption of fatal dignity comes to most girls when they marry, but they never discriminate between dignity and laziness.

The worst of all this is that it's true. While we believe there is nothing more ridiculous than the prancing frivolous old gal engaged in the antics of youth, there are thousands of mature women who are far better at sports and modern dances than some of the debutantes.

The rule is, we suppose, never give up, but this need not be too discouraging for the mature ones who have been sitting back. But it's never too late to resume. Dancing lessons is the way to start. Take as many during the week as possible and you will soon lose the desire to be left to yourself, and when the swing of the music gets into your blood, all the stay-at-home ideas will vanish.

Dancing will be the stimulus necessary to do exercise at home, and with ambition to diet there will be a general rejuvenation. Happiness makes one beautiful, agreeable and much more worthwhile than the placid, ill-centred state that leads nowhere. So have fun and you will soon be beauty conscious.

Politeness Is a Peace Weapon

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Dear Miss Chatfield:

Three years ago I was married and came to live with my husband's sister. In three weeks I realized I had made the mistake of my life in trying to live with a jealous, selfish, avaricious woman. She insulted me daily and even accused me of taking her things. When the time came for the worm to turn I stood up and asserted myself and so the battle continues.

She goes to business every day and could easily support herself in another home but my husband dares not suggest it as her cloven hoofs are upon his neck. I'm bewildered and am not sure what to do. I gave up a lucrative position to marry my husband and now I am merely housekeeper for him and his sister and not a wife in any true sense of the word. Your advice will be greatly appreciated.

ANSWER:

Friend, it would be fine if you were able to overcome your antagonism to the sister-in-law and acquire an attitude of utter indifference to her insults and verbal assaults. But you and I know this can't be accomplished so long as you are searching out her faults and accusing her of every selfish crime in the catalog.

Granting that she's as bad as you paint her and that you are the innocent, injured party in the war, your present methods are not yielding you personal satisfaction nor are they helping your cause with the husband whose neck is under her heel. Then why not try a different sort of strategy? Make up your mind to lose a few preliminary skirmishes in the hope of an ultimate victory.

People can't insult us if we treat them to formal politeness. They can't continue an argument if we don't take up the gauntlet they throw down. They can't fight with pacifists. And so that little sentence about turning the other cheek contains more than meets the eye, namely a fool-proof recipe for peace.

None of which is to say that a couple of women who hate each other can be happy or permit the man between them to be happy when they are under one another's noses. No dice. Yet for the wife, at least, the part of wisdom is to drive the wedge between her husband and his housemate sister by a studied policy of politeness and pleasantness which leaves him no alternative but to conclude that sister is at fault for any trouble that exists. When he's convinced of this he will put her out.

Volunteer Which Is Equivalent to Private Gets 30 Cents a Day Pay

By DILYS THOMAS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, (CP).—Total of 893,000 in national service shows that Britain's womenfolk have answered the country's call as readily as her menfolk.

Of the women's branches of the three services the Women's Auxiliary Territorial Service, headed by Dame Helen Gwynne-Vaughan, leads with more than 30,000. Originally the number aimed at was 20,000 but last October it was decided to double the strength.

The "ATS" uniform is khaki tunic, skirt and cap. These girls are attached to army training camps as cooks, clerks and drivers, and rank from volunteer to chief commandant.

A volunteer—equivalent to a private—gets 30 cents a day pay. Section leaders—sergeants' rank—wear three stripes, are usually in charge of platoons and earn $1 a day. Company assistants, like second lieutenants, wear a seven-pointed star and receive $1.68 a day. Company commanders have two stars, are equivalent to army captains, and earn $2.75 daily. Commandants correspond to lieutenant-colonels and earn $7 a day.

The Women's Royal Naval Service, has a membership of 2500 and is up to strength. Led by Mrs. Laughton Matthews, daughter of Sir John Matthews, its members wear navy blue uniforms, with caps for rank and file and three-cornered hats for officers. "Wrens", as they are called, are enrolled for shore jobs only and work at naval bases as cooks, bookkeepers cipherers and drivers.

An ordinary Wren earns $7.50 a week while Chief Wrens, who correspond to naval petty officers and wear no badge of rank, earn $10 a week. Second officers wears a blue braid strip on the cuff and earn $20 a week. First officers wear two thick braid strips and receive $23 weekly Chief officers, corresponding to naval commanders, have two thick and one thin strip and get $26.25 a week.

POPULAR AIR FORCE

The Women's Auxiliary Air Force is also full up with membership of more than 8000. The "WAAFS" have as their head Miss J. Trefusis Forbes, and they don't fly. This is the most popular of the women's services, probably on account of the snappy uniforms of air force blue.

The girls are employed as cooks, drivers, teleprinter and telephone operators and fabric workers. Airwomen 2nd class earn 30 cents a day. When promoted from airwoman 2nd class to airwoman 1st class a volunteer's rate of pay is increased to 50 cents daily. Sergeants, corresponding to R. A. F. sergeants with three stripes on the sleeve, are paid $1 to $1.30 a day according to duties. Senior sergeants, corresponding to flight sergeants, with three stripes and a crown, receive from $1.25 to $1.50 a day.

Assistant section officers, equivalent to R. A. F. pilot officers, with one ring on the cuff, get $1.80 a day. Flight officers, equivalent to flight lieutenants, with two rings on the cuff get $3 a day. Squadron officers, equivalent to squadron leaders, with two thick rings and one thin, earn $4.57 a day. Wing officers, corresponding to wing commanders with three thick rings on the cuff earn $5.60 a day. Rates of pay for Controllers and Air Commandants have not yet been fixed.

FIRE AND HOSPITAL

The Women's Auxiliary Fire Service has a membership of 5000 in London and roughly 25,000 over the whole of England. Their uniform is navy blue with "AFS" in red on the left breast pocket and red piping on the caps. They are allowed choice of skirts or trousers and work as cooks, clerks and telephonists. Their rankings are firewoman; section officers, who have one thick red band on the sleeve; company officers, wearing one thick band and one thin; group officers, with one thick band and two thin; and deputy commandant with one thick band and two thin; and deputy commandant with one thick band and three thin. All receive $10 a week irrespective of rank.

British Red Cross nurses—the Voluntary Aid Detachment — has 67,000 members. With Dame Beryl Oliver as their directress they are under contract for the duration of the war, earn from $150 to $200 a year and serve in military and naval hospitals at home and abroad. V. A. D. nurses will not have the job of looking after civilian air raid casualties. This is the work for which the Civil Nursing Reserve was recruited. There are about 20,000 trained reservists and 100,000 more have been or are being trained as auxiliaries. They earn $10 a week.

WORKING ON LAND

The Women's Land Army, pay $7 a week, uniform dungarees, gum boots and raincoats, seems to be the biggest white elephant of the war. Out of the 25,000 enlisted, only 2000 have been placed in employment. The remainder are carrying on their civilian jobs until the Ministry of Agriculture calls on them for service.

Biggest and best achievement of women in wartime is the Women's Voluntary Services with a membership of 570,000. Organized by the Dowager Lady Reading they receive no pay and their uniform consists of greyish-green overcoat and a chromium badge.

Both Lady Reading and Walter Elliot, Minister of Health, paid tribute to their work in evacuating women and children at the outbreak of war. Now part of their jobs is feeding, clothing and schooling the evacuees.

Among other tasks, are such jobs as making bandages, nightshirts, stuffing mattresses, recruiting and classifying blood donors and transporting the transfusions.

Women's Voluntary Services was responsible also before the war for training 46,006 ambulance drivers now stationed at first aid posts throughout the country and paid $10 a week for standing by.

Spurned Suitor Says Imprisonment Preferable

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 22 (AP) — A spurned suitor, transferred from self-padlocked shackles to jail, told officers permanent imprisonment—even death—was preferable to life without the woman he has loved 12 years.

Police found Melvin Miller last night in a tent near the woman's home in protest to her coolness. His neck was chained to a tree and secured by padlocks whose keyholes he had filled with cement.

FIRE VERSUS SWEETNESS

"The idea of the stormy Manion working with a Government composed of all the political parties strikes one as comical."

So chuckles one of our good friends in Trail, in a letter to The Daily News.

As it happened, the fiery zeal of Lloyd George in Britain's National Government in the Great War, in various posts, culminating with that of Prime Minister, was not regarded as a detriment by the British people.

But since the question of the Manion temperament has been raised, it is fair to examine just how far the Manion fire, and the Mackenzie King sweetness, are under control.

In the Parliamentary session that declared war on Germany, Dr. Manion pledged to the Government the full support of the Conservative Opposition in the National war effort. That pledge he kept, in spite of the evidence of official slackness, until the news was broken to Parliament and the Nation that Parliament was to be summarily extinguished, without even the semblance of a report on the Government's doings.

Only twice did Dr. Manion break his self-imposed silence regarding the way things were going. One of these was to reveal that after receiving letters from fully-equipped contractors all over the Country who had been barred from bidding on war contracts, he had written to Prime Minister King twice, asking him to look into this matter, and had received not even an acknowledgement, in addition to which the condition complained of remained unchanged.

The other matter that spurred the Conservative Leader to break silence was the shameful delay in arranging allowances to the dependents of the new Canadian Army, and in this case also Dr. Manion spoke only after his representations by letter to the Prime Minister had brought neither acknowledgment, nor amelioration of the condition.

As to the sweet-tempered and cooperative Mackenzie King, between the time Prime Minister King pledged Parliament in September that he would report to it later, and the time he met it again and broke his pledge, he did not communicate once with the Leader of Opposition, except to make radio retorts on the matters Dr. Manion had finally mentioned publicly in order to get the Prime Minister's attention. He was undoubtedly the only head of a cabinet in the British Empire who did not consult the Opposition, or go further and give its leaders a part to play in the United war effort. He went to the last extreme possible, and ignored its existence.

Toward Provincial Governments the apostle of sweetness and light was equally cooperative. The Ontario Legislature pledged all possible help, and by its instruction the Province's Natural Resources Committee, headed by the Lieutenant Governor, the Premier, and the Leader of the Opposition, went to Ottawa to convey the message. Ontario's offer went into the files, and over four months passed with nothing happening, except the accumulation of evidence of a spirit of casualness, almost a spirit of "sweet do-nothing," in the Ottawa war drive, a spirit that was completely "sweet do-nothing" as regards the Ontario Government's urgings that Ontario's utmost capacity should be utilized.

When it got to the point that Canada was shipping wheat to Russia, to release Russian wheat for Germany, and the Government was giving out statements that it could do nothing about a private matter of that kind, the Legislature's lid blew off, and the Liberal Premier, seconded by one of his cabinet colleagues who was also the President of the Ontario Liberal Association, moved the famous resolution criticising the Ottawa Sacred Elephant, a resolution to which the small Conservative Opposition also gave its support.

And the sweet-temperd and always cooperative Mr. King?

Oh, he just accused the Conservatives of having opened a political campaign against him, threw Parliament out on its ear—thereby denying the People any effective voice of inquiry about the carrying on of the war—and, with the cry of "National Unity" on his lips, forced division upon the Country.

Classes and Castes in Germany and Russia Rapidly Following Historic Patterns

In his Sportpalast speech Adolf Hitler said the Nazis had forever abolished "class and caste" in Germany. Lenin and all the other early-day Bolshevik leaders repeatedly said the same thing, but in both Germany and Russia new classes and castes are rapidly forming, and this stratification is following historic patterns.

I had confirmation of this a few days ago from a friend, a writer, who was in Russia when the war started and who recently returned. Apart from the small, powerful inner oligarchy which runs the show, artists and writers are the top cut of the Russian population. They get the big salaries, fine automobiles, good clothes, the seats on the aisle, and the first-name, backslapping intimacy with power and pelf. The boys like their caviar and, naturally, they model their stories, poems and statues to the party blue-print. All through history, the first order of business for Mr. Raw-Head-and-Bloody-Bones is to line up the "me, too" boys in the press coop or the studio. They usually go peacefully.

I am thinking of that august statue of Napoleon in Caesar's robes atop the column in the Place Vendome in Paris—a custom-made job quite in keeping with the dutiful performance of the artist through history, who, even as you and I, has to eat and likes to keep out of jail. When Napoleon tossed out the old Roman Salic law, on which the laws of France had been based, and set up the Napoleonic code, he provided that no mere merchant or tradesman, could force an artist or writer into bankruptcy. In France today, these are still the privileged classes, and in a purely commercial deal you can't bring them into court if they owe you money.

The little Corsican knew the value of a good press and he got it. Even the musicians gathered around with the psaltery and harp, for which witness the great "Emperor Concerto," which is a hymn to the eternal glory of Napoleon. In his first drive against the old Salic law, Napoleon was more the liberator and humanitarian and less the despot. He was in an advanced stage of the power itch when he rigged the law for his yes-men of arts and letters and had himself measured for that Caesar statue. One is reminded here of the "contemporaneousness of the past." Mussolini, Hitler and Stalin have rallied and rewarded pliable artists and writers in exactly the same manner, to the enhancement of their power.

Italy's de Medicis are perhaps the most authentic laboratory samples of power psychology in all history, barring a few of the great, or possibly notorious, dictators. The first thing they did was to chain all the sculptors, painters and writers to their chariot of state. That happened at a time of a great up-surge of the creative spirit and the ground-swell of the Renaissance surged out beyond the confines of bloody political dominion and on down into the centuries, to the enrichment of mankind. But a vast proportion of the art of that day was tailored for the gang in the city hall—or the Palace of the Doges, as it happened to be.

It isn't done with mirrors, but I believe there's a trick in it, which the dictators know instinctively. Here's the idea, as I see it! Pour anything you please into the mould of the classics and you divorce it from all logic and plant it definitely in the zone of emotion. The first thing a dictator has to do is to overthrow reason and stir only emotion. Art reaches far into the past and anything far enough away in time becomes emotion instead of reason.

I will be challenged, of course, if I suggest that cartoonists are really artists, but I think they are in this picture, and I believe they signalize one great hope for this continent of keeping clear of the ball and chain of dictatorship. So long as we can keep a free press, we will have gifted and irreverent young men puncturing stuffed shirts with a sharp pencil, and condensing a volume of logic in the turn of a line.

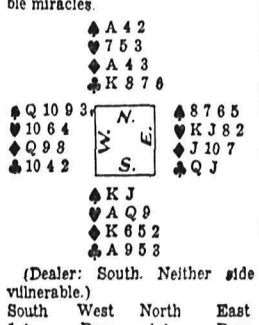
It might be a good idea if the government should pass a law declaring cartoonists to be privileged class, with the highest standing for the more raffish and sceptical among them. It would be a bulwark against tyranny. Adolf Hitler never could have come through such a line of defence.

"Celia! Do I see that young man putting his arm round you?" "Oh, mother! You know you should never discuss the movements of the troops."—Humorist.

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

IT MAY BE A BLESSING

WHAT MAY seem like a plague, in the form of an absurdly high contract into which your partner pushed you, may turn out to be a blessing in disguise. If you stick by your guns, you may find a lot of lucky breaks in the cards and also in the way your opponents choose to play them. The ultimate result may be a lot better score than you figured to get out of the deal without performing impossible miracles.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	4 ♦	Pass
5 ♣	Pass	6 ♦

Did anybody ever know of crazier bidding than North did on this deal? In the duplicate tournament where it arose, all experienced pairs got into 3-No Trumps and made four. This North was an auction player to whom contract bidding had been explained—the idea of getting as high as you can. And did he do it?

On examining the dummy, it looks as if two tricks may possibly be lost in each suit except spades. But West led the club 10 to the J and A. Next came the diamond A and K and one to the Q. West returned the spade 3 to the J. The spade K was cashed, club led to the K dropping the Q and setting up the remainders, the spade A furnished a heart discard, the heart finesse won, and the rest of South's hand was now good. He had lost only one trick, to the trump Q.

Paradise Is Here

SYNOPSIS

The characters:

Romany Haile, who wants to be a radio star.

Cholly O'Neil, her pal, who plays in a music store.

Brent Nelson, successful young announcer.

Myra Noyes, famous radio star, engaged to Brent.

Terry O'Rourke, who has a weakness for Cholly and for liquor.

Baxter Tree, a continuity writer without a job.

YESTERDAY: Finding that Dover likes Cholly very much, Romany encourages their friendship.

CHAPTER 12

Cholly was on duty at Leo Dane's playing the piano the next afternoon. She dreaded going, for fear she would meet Terry. There might be a scene if he had been to the Beer Barrel. She was relieved when the afternoon wore on and he did not show up.

Baxter Tree called on Romany, telling her he did so in passing. But she could see there was something on his mind.

"Now," she smiled, after greeting him, "I have someone to go swimming with."

"I'd have brought my bathing suit if I'd have known you'd be here."

"Aunt Cissie keeps a guest-supply on hand." She got up. "You can dress in the guest room."

It was a stifling late August day.

"Any news of the recordings?" Romany asked then, puttingonher sun glasses. "Did the powers that be, like them?"

"Nope." Bax admitted glumly. "Lane says they weren't so hot. Cromwell says they wouldn't do at all. He doesn't blame it on Delecarte's direction and re-write job, however. Indian Blanket Lane says that they'll have to be cut over again."

"Oh," Romany said sympathetically, "I'm so sorry. They'll do them over right away of course."

"Lord knows." Bax's jaw was set. "I dropped in to see Bob Lane today and he was very vague. Said the boss was raving mad now that so many records had been cut, since Afra has forced them to pay for rehearsals and recording time."

Romany ached to comfort the writer's disappointment.

"They'll do them again soon, I'm sure," she said again lamely. "Someone will see the beauty of them one of these days. And when they do, nothing can stop you, Bax. You'll make radio history."

"Thanks," he smiled crookedly, stretching out on his back for a sun bath. "Too bad you're not a sponsor."

Romany stretched out beside him lying on her stomach.

"By the way, have you seen anything of Terry?"

"Yeah, I'm afraid I did." Bax nodded shortly.

"Where?"

"When I dropped into the Beer Barrel last evening looking for a fellow who has some of my scripts he's been studying as samples. Terry didn't see me though."

"Blotted out completed, I suppose, Cholly and he had a big row. I thought he'd go crazy again."

Bax turned toward her, lighting a cigaret.

"Too bad. I hate to see a guy with a voice like his throwing it away. And what a football player he was! I guess that sort of went to his head, too. Maybe he'll brace up."

"If he won't snap out of it for Cholly, I'm afraid there isn't any hope for him. He pretends to love her so much. They fought because she wouldn't marry him right away. He said if she would he'd reform."

Bax shook his head.

"I wouldn't like to see Cholly marry Terry. Not now, anyway. He is too undependable. She deserves a better break. Someone who'd help her take care of her mother and brothers and sisters."

"On that point we certainly do agree," Romany assured him. "I took Cholly out on a double date last night. I'd give anything I've got to break up Terry and Cholly."

Bax raised on an elbow.

"You might try taking him away from her," he smiled. "I imagine you could just about break up anybody's romance if you made up your mind."

"Don't flatter me!" Romany denied she had any such charm.

But it was an idea. If Terry could show an interest in another girl, Cholly's pride would certainly cause her to break their engagement at once. And nothing would ever make her change her mind.

Bax wanted to hear more about the double date. He grinned whimsically.

"Did you say something about a double date last night? I suppose you were getting yourself in the gossip columns again."

When Romany told him she and Cholly had been on the Hayworth yacht with the syrup heir and Brent Nelson he raised his brows.

"Well, now that puts you practically in the Blue Book. You won't be speaking to the likes of me very long."

"You're still my favorite author." Romany's green eyes laughed at him. "That reminds me. Did you bring some scripts?"

"I did. The first four scripts of 'Paradise'."

"I want to read Sylvia," Romany decided. "Let's go up and raid the ice box. Then you can coach me."

It was Romany's chance to help Bax save the price of a dinner. And she was afraid he'd ask her out and waste a couple of dollars. She zipped into one of Aunt Cissie's taffeta housecoats while Baxter took a shower and changed back into his street clothes in the guest bathroom.

When he joined her at a little table in the kitchen there was cold fried chicken, lettuce and tomato salad and a variety of cheese and odds and ends. Coffee perked on the stove. Bax ate with relish, and Romany had the uncomfortable feeling that perhaps he hadn't eaten his lunch.

Afterward in the living room, Bax read the part of the lawyer of "Paradise," while Romany read Sylvia. It was amazing, Bax thought, how quickly she had caught on to things he had told her the day of her audition.

"You are Sylvia," he said when she had finished. "I'll never be satisfied with the way anyone else does it."

"Do you mean it?" she asked unbelievingly.

He got up and walked over to the window, and his lean intelligent face was grave.

"Of course I mean it." he turned from her, looking out over the water. "Now one will ever be Sylvia to me but you."

Romany was silent because she did not feel like making light of it. Bax had paid her a wonderful compliment, and he was not in the habit of saying things for effect.

In the drooping of his tall frame lined against the window, Romany

M. T., Brilliant—Could you give me the address of a Canadian Company that sells cameras and accessories, such as Agfa, Kodak, etc?

Cameras and photographic supplies can be obtained at Allen's Art Shop, Fleury's Pharmacy, City Drug Company and Mann-Rutherford Drug Company, all of Nelson.

X. Y. Z., Vallican—Can people who send disgusting valentines be punished?

The Criminal Code makes such an offence contrary to the laws of Canada. It is also a criminal offence to send "poison pen" letters through the mail.

A. T. J., Trail—Where can one obtain information on joining the R.C.A.F.?

Write Officer Commanding, Royal Canadian Air Force, Vancouver, B.C.

A. H., Nelson—Would you please tell me how to clean a baby's pink lamfur coat?

All infants coats should be made of material that may be laundered.

B. M. K., Nelson—Could you tell me how to clean and glaze a fur coat?

The coat is first brushed with special fur cleaning fluid (gasoline or ordinary cleaning solvent must not be used), then put into a drum filled with hardwood sawdust and tossed in this until sawdust penetrates into the fur. The coat is then taken out of the sawdust and brushed thoroughly. To glaze a fur coat make a mixture of Chinese bark, wood alcohol and water and brush coat with this mixture. There are several good glazing mixtures on the market. A mixture of corn meal and rice flour is used in place of sawdust for cleaning white fur coats.

G. T., Camp Lister—Can fish swim backward?

It is possible for fish to swim backwards. They occassionally back up when swimming, but as rule do not go far swimming backward.

M. J. M., Nelson — What is the quotation to the effect that men must be taught without their suspecting it?

"Men must be taught as if you taught them not. And things proposed as things forgot" Alexander Popoe's Essay on Criticism, part 3, lines 14 and 15.

EPSTEIN'S 'ADAM' EN ROUTE TO U.S.

By JOHN FERRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (AP) — Jacob Epstein's "Adam" is on his way to the United States from London to rear his thumping big three-ton figure in public and beat his great hairless gorilla chest of alabaster from coast to coast on an exhibition tour.

This Adam stirs up minor riots among critics, sculptors and laymen wherever he goes. He is seven feet tall and Epstein, the 60-year-old American born Jew of Russian Polish blood who created him, calls it his "greatest work", a description which may be taken to be synonymous with his "most controversial work," since Epstein's statues have always roused anger as well as praise.

The statue is travelling on a British ship, due to dock in New York this week.

The London Daily Telegraph called it "a Simian veneering of the human form, and boldest experiment in neo-barbarism that its creator has yet attempted."

Epstein called it "an epitome of man's appetites and aspirations."

Art or monstrosity?

Well, an old London woman looked at it and dropped her market basket.

Replanned Britain May Follow War; to Control Drift

By FRED BACKHOUSE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP).—National action required to solve the grave problems created by the gradual but constant drift of the population to the great towns may lead to a drastically replanned Britain at the end of the war.

Authorities here are envisaging a solution of problems raised by the country's "chaotic, muddled development" — revealed in the report of the Royal Commission on the Distribution of the Industrial Population—in a scheme to divide Britain into 10 regional areas.

Each area would have a regional capital such as London, Birmingham, Bristol, Liverpool, Manchester, Newcastle, Edinburgh or Glasgow.

The Commission urged establishment of a national authority to deal with distribution of the industrial population.

If the present drift continues, say the experts, it will result in be*tween one-third and one-half of* the population of the country living within 30 miles of Charing Cross, in the centre of London. London and the home counties already have a population of 12,000,000 people.

It is recognized that there will always be a movement of population to a big centre, but if 10 regional capitals are set up and properly developed the drift will be spread over the whole country.

Members of Parliament and public bodies are expected to urge the Government to deal with the problem swiftly, despite the burdens of the war.

MARKETS SHOW UPWARD TREND

By The Associated Press

Most foreign security and commodity markets tended slightly higher yesterday while stock and most staple exchanges in the United States remained closed in the observation of Washington's birthday.

Cattle at Chicago were steady to strong, hogs advanced 10 to 15 cents a hundredweight, and lambs were up 10 cents a hundredweight.

Shares in the London stock exchange continued to rise as British Government requisitioning of British-owned American shares was estimated to have released for reinvestment in London around £24,000,000 (about $98,000,000).

Up also were shares in the Paris bourse following Finance Minister Reynauld's report of steadily rising French savings bank deposits and armament bond subscriptions.

Shares at Amsterdam were reported as "not weak" despite dismay in the financial sector over large shipping losses and fears the European war might assume larger proportions. The Amsterdam close was uneven.

SERIAL STORY . . .

Paradise Is Here

could see that he was not happy. Her heart went out to him in sympathy.

"Oh, Bax," she pleaded then, "don't be discouraged because you're having trouble selling 'Paradise Is Here.' That's radio. Brent Nelson says it has taken a year or two to sell all the good shows. It's the same way with plays."

Bax turned, coming back to sit near her in the big chair.

"I know," he nodded wearily. "I could stand the waiting, if they'd just leave the show alone. It's got everything! That isn't bragging. I know it's. Don't tell me people aren't fed up with most of the tripe being dished up to them on five-day-a-week shows. I'd give 'Paradise' to a sponsor with the courage to try something different."

"I know," Romany nodded understandingly, "just how you feel. If we just had the money so that we could afford to wait, it wouldn't be so bad. I'll just about go crazy if I don't get a call from Interstate soon. I've got to have a job!"

"That," Bax sighed grimly, "is just my trouble. I'm sick of trying to live on nothing."

And, Romany thought unhappily, Terry O'Rourke owes you fifty dollars you're probably counting on and never will see. Just then the phone rang. It was Brent Nelson.

Could Romany be at Interstate at eight o'clock in the morning? She was to be on a nine-thirty broadcast. Brent had spoken to a director friend of his, Hal Trotter, about helping her get a start. Trotter had told Nelson to call her.

She almost kissed Bax in her excitement when she hung up.

"Imagine," she yelled happily. "I'm going to be on the air in the morning. Hurray! I'm an actress!"

Bax smiled his crooked, whimsical smile.

"Brent Nelson certainly isn't wasting much time in getting your radio career launched, is he? He must be a pretty swell egg."

Romany did a happy little dance. "He's marvelous!" Her green eyes sparkled. "Would you mind murdering Myra Noyes for me?"

Happy Birthday From No. 1 to No. 2

Field Marshal Herman Goering looks unusually grave as he takes a vigorous handshake from Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, left, in congratulation on Goering's 47th birthday recently. Nazi No. 1 made a special trip to Goering's estate outside Berlin to offer his personal congratulations to Nazi No. 2.

British to Clean Up Northwest as Assurance Against Red Push

NEW DELHI, India, Feb. 22 (CP).—Combat broke out on the troubled Northwest frontier today as British military forces moved into that jagged land of ambuscade and adventure to clean out marauding tribesmen and perhaps to meet again their old and elusive foe, the Fakir of Ipi.

"Our casualties were light," said a military communique. "The second of two columns encountered considerable opposition from tribesmen concealed in caves on either side of the Tangai Valley."

Aided by artillery and two companies of Gurkha rifles (native troops), "We eventually seized the caves," it said.

The newest of nearly a century of campaigns to pacify the wild mountain men was linked here with rumors of possible Soviet Russian incursions through Afghanistan — and Great Britain intends to take no unnecessary chances.

Particularly designated for a clean-up is the Ahmadzai salient, flanking the vital Khyber Pass.

In that region, Mehr Dil and two other native leaders under the influence of the Fakir are reported to have strongholds from which they can launch looting raids into the Bannu and Kohat districts of North Waziristan.

The Fakir of Ipi, a giant figure with beard and hair dyed red when he goes into battle, is a champion of Islam. Religion is his generally accepted motive, but the British often have suspected him of heeding Russian influences.

In addition to the usual raids and ambushes, he is blamed for planting crude bombs on army parade grounds, connecting telephone circuits with electric power lines, and poisoning wells.

The son of a caravan driver, he was a coolie named Mirga Ali Khan in the bazaars of Peshawar in his *youth. Incensed over a court de*cision which favored Hindus over a Moslem, he became a religious leader and was a power among the tribes by the time he was 24.

Occupational Survey Held on Coast

VICTORIA, Feb. 22 (CP). — Hon. G. S. Pearson released today a synopsis of what was explained as a sample occupational survey conducted on Vancouver Island during the last year; at the same time inviting suggestions from the public for the prosecution of similar surveys on the mainland at a later date.

The survey was conducted by the Provincial Bureau of Statistics in conjunction with labor officials. Questionnaires were sent to employers, who were asked to detail their staffs; and efforts were made to trace seasonal occupations in both active and quiescent periods. Material was also gathered by field investigators.

As a result of the survey it is found that the total population of Vancouver Island and adjacent Gulf Islands in 1938 was approximately 140,000, of whom 42,852 persons were within the scope of the survey. Dominion, Provincial and municipal employees were excluded, but agricultural workers were included, the report states. Employment varied between 42,853 and 25,624 persons, mostly male workers; of whom 25,624 were steadily employed, and 17,228 others classed as seasonal.

Returns were received from 4539 separate establishments on Vancouver Island; all of whom reported there was no shortage of help, when required. Included in the returns were 528 farms, with 1140 people living on them; and representing work for 192 farm hands and 960 fruit pickers in season. Forestry and logging absorbed 14,700 persons, coal mining 1431, metal mining 348, stone and other quarries 138 persons. A total of 6508 persons were engaged in manufacturing enterprises, the report stated.

INDICATIONS U.S. SENATE WOULD APPROVE RECIPROCAL TRADE PLAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP).—An administration poll was said authoritatively today to have indicated that the United States Senate would *approve continuation of the reci*procal trade program by a close margin.

The poll, conducted quietly by Senators Alben Barkley (Dem., Kentucky), Pat Harrison (Dem., Mississippi) and James Byrnes (Dem., South Carolina), was described in *administration quarters as disclos*ing that if all 96 Senators answered the roll call, 49 would oppose an amendment to require Senate ratification of the trade agreements, 41 would favor it, and the votes of six would be in doubt.

Junior Chamber to Send Vincent Fink Message of Hope for Early Recovery

British Say Bermuda Report Is Nonsense

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Feb. 22 (CP)—British officials today termed "utter nonsense" a report that armed British marines boarded a Pan American Airways clipper ship here to enforce removal of mail for censorship.

An official statement issued today said:

"The story of removal of mail (from the clipper) at bayonet point is utter nonsense. A request to hand over the mail was made to Capt. Lorber by an unarmed officer at the shore airbase and there were no armed men in the vicinity.

"Lorber made a formal protest as in duty bound but thereafter did not put any obstacle in the way of the censorship officials who waited while the protest was being put in writing before boarding the plane."

Officials said relations between Pan-Americans and themselves are "most cordial."

MINER KILLED BY CAR

HINTON, Alta., Feb. 22 (CP)—A coroner's jury found yesterday that Fred Babeluk was killed last Friday in the mine here when he was struck by a mine car which broke loose when rope parted from the improperly-capped cone of a mine car coupling.

Five others were injured in the accident.

Preparation for Tourists Theme Junior Chamber

"Prepare for the tourist season." This was the theme of a broadcast by Nelson Junior Chamber of Commerce over CKLN Radio Nelson Thursday night, and of a discussion by the Chamber at its dinner meeting at the Hume. A civic campaign, coordinating the efforts of interested organizations, was proposed. Agreeing that the subject was en*tirely too big for the Junior Cham*ber, members felt that their best course would be to outline in a general way the directions in which such a campaign might be carried out; then to take this outline to the Nelson Board of Trade with a pledge of wholehearted cooperation from the junior body; and thereafter to give vigorous support to any course decided upon.

It was felt that, with the Dominion and the Province conducting campaigns to bring tourists to Canada, individual localities should prepare to welcome and entertain them.

Cleaning up the city generally, acquainting those coming in contact with tourists with points of historic and scenic interest, educating the public to the value of cordiality toward visitors, use of the facilities of the Nelson Travel Bureau and so on were suggested.

Opportunities beckoned on every hand, it was pointed out.

Taking part in the radio broadcast were Reeve Harper, Donald Deacon and Clare Jewett. The script was prepared by Stanley Penny.

COLORED BEAMS TRIED BY NAZIS

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP). — Royal Air Force pilots have discovered in reconnaissance flights that the Germans are experimenting with colored searchlights in an attempt to increase efficiency of anti-aircraft defences around Berlin and other cities, the Air Ministry announced tonight.

British pilots have flown over Berlin "more than once" since the war began, the Ministry said.

"There has been no apparent result," the Minister commented on the experiments, "although the pilots report the searchlights are 'very pretty'."

The beam from an ordinary searchlight, the Ministry said, reacts at a sharp angle when it strikes clouds.

Apparently the Germans are experimenting with such colors as violet, blue and orange in an endeavor to develop a light that will pierce the clouds.

The Ministry reported the fliers deliberately "courted" the beams from the colored lights "just to see what would happen."

GYMNASTIC DIVE ENDS IN DEATH

NANAIMO, B. C., Feb. 22 (CP).—Wilfred Sprutson, 20, died in hospital here today from injuries he received while taking part in a gymnastic display last night.

Spruston apparently broke his neck when he fell during a tumbling act, part of a program given by the Provincial Recreation Centre here prior to a basketball game.

The youth had taken part in a fencing and gymnastic exhibition and was doing a "swan dive" from a springboard over a high box when he was injured. He completed the dive and went into a forward flip but evidently misjudged his timing and fell on his forehead and face.

Brief on B. C. Tourist Trade Being Prepared by the Junior Chamber

Preparation of a brief on the tourist trade in British Columbia, to be presented to the annual meeting of Junior Chamber of Commerce in June, was under way Clare Jewett, Publicity Committee Chairman, reported to the Junior Chamber of Commerce at its dinner meeting at the Hume Thursday night. The Nelson Junior Chamber was named the tourist committee of the B. C. Chamber when the last convention was held in Nelson.

U. S. Secretary Favored War With Germany in 1915 Papers Reveal

By ANDRUE BERDING
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—President Woodrow Wilson wanted both the German and the Austrian ambassador to quit Washington a year and half before the United States entered the war, it was disclosed today through the State Department's publication of papers of *Robert Lansing, United States Sec*retary of State during the first Great War.

The same papers show that Lansing advocated a rupture with Germany as early as August, 1915, and also that the United States Government was seeking to separate Austria from German a month before it declared war on Germany.

President Wilson was determined to get rid of the German ambassador, Count Johann Heinrich von Bernstorff and the Austrian ambassador, Constantin T. Dumba, following a disclosure that they had employed United States citizens to carry secret messages to Berlin. These messages outlined activities of the envoys to cripple United States plants manufacturing munitions for the Allies.

One of the Lansing papers is a note from Wilson to Lansing, saying, "I entirely agree with you that we shall have to take some decided action with regard to the activities of Dumba as well as those of Bernstorff . . . What do you think would be the best course, a private intimation to each of them which would allow them to ask to be relieved, without public rebuke, or a direct request on our part to their governments? I do not know the practice in these matters."

The recall of Dumba was requested shortly thereafter, but *Bernstorff was permitted to re*main on.

The Lansing papers, revealing that Lansing was seriously considering war with Germany as early as August, 1915, contain a letter from Lansing to President Wilson, in which he says:

"On the assumption that we sever diplomatic intercourse with the German government, which responds by a declaration of war, the consequences internationally would seem to be the complete restoration of friendship and confidence with the Allies and the necessary recognition of the United States as a party to the peace negotiations.

"We would be in a position to influence the Allies, if they should be victorious, to be lenient in their demands and to regain a part of the good will of Germany by being a generous enemy. If, on the other hand, Germany should triumph, we would be included in any settlement made, and Germany would be deprived of the free hand she would otherwise have in dealing with us after she had overcome her European adversaries.

"If the foregoing views are sound, it would appear that our usefulness in the restoration of peace would certainly not be lessened by a state of war between this country and Germany, and it might even be increased."

The Lansing papers show that, even while still a neutral, the United States had engaged in con*versations with Austria which* might have led to a separate peace, with Austria deserting Germany.

Press Advocates Seizure of Ore

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP) — The Daily Express today urged that the Swedish iron ore sent down the Norwegian coast to Germany should be seized by the Royal Navy, even though the route goes through Norwegian territorial waters.

The Swedish ore is shipped by rail from Narvik, the paper said, "then it slides down to Germany in ships that cling to the Norwegian coast within the three-mile limit."

"That ore would be very useful to us," it continued. "The Germans have abused Norwegian ships in Norwegian waters. They have even attacked *Norwegian ships in Nor*wegian waters. And the Norwegians have permitted such violations of their neutrality.

"Since the German fleet has taken the war into Norwegian waters we should not tolerate supplies being sent through these waters under the pretense that they are neutral."

Winter or Summer, Kootenays Are Constant Challenge to Camera Pictorialist

Slocan Lake . . . Jewel of the Mountains

Often has it been said of mountain lakes in the Kootenays that they are jewels. If ever that description was wholly adequate, it was when it was applied to Slocan Lake, pictured above. A short distance South of Silverton the Slocan District Board of Trade has put up a walk and railing on the lip of a 1000-foot cliff, and has called it Lookout Point. The Lookout is only a few yards from the Nelson-Nakusp Highway, which passes through the main centres of the Slocan. Nelson Juvenile Hockeyists Leave for Vernon Sunday

Walter Wait's Nelson Juvenile Reps will go through one last practice this afternoon before they entrain Sunday morning for Vernon, where they will engage in the Provincial juvenile hockey finals with the winner of the Vernon-Merritt series. The first game of the two-game total-goal finals will be played Monday, with the second scheduled for Wednesday.

The Nelson team gained the right for a berth in the finals by eliminating Trail in two successive games, and brushing Kimberley aside in a two-game seres after a hard uphill fight.

In the midget division, the Provincial finals will be staged at Trail in a best of three series February 28, 29 and March 2. Vernon, the defending champions, still have Merritt to eliminate before the Trail team's opposition is decided. The Young Smokies walked over the Nelson Reps in straight games, and then showed Kimberley the way in a two-game series.

Ski Tournament Is Financial Success

First Kootenay zone ski tournament held in Nelson last weekend was a financial success, reports to the Nelson Ski Club, meeting at the Savoy Thursday night, revealed. Reports of committees showed the whole tournament had been a success.

The club discussed the possibility of approaching the Government with a request for improvement of the road to the Silver King mine so it could be plowed out each Winter, and for construction of a ski cabin at the King.

A trip to Rossland to enjoy the superb skiing in that district was proposed.

Pitchers to Show Red Sox the Way

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 22 (AP).—Just how far Boston Red Sox go in the 1940 American League pennant chase, Manager Joe Cronin believes, depends entirely on the pitching staff.

As for the rest of the lineup, which will include young Dominic DiMaggio, the Red Sox boss and shortstop says it's "all set".

"Everbody said Bill Butland and Herbpe Hash of Minneapolis were the best looking pitchers in the minors last year," the Boston pilot recalled, "and we've got them both. Lefty Grove appears able to go on forever, and we're counting on him again."

Dominic DiMaggio, brother of the New York Yankees' Joe, will start in left field, replacing Joe Vosmik, waived out of the League and sold to Brooklyn.

"We are going to give young DiMaggio the starting position," Cronin said. "He can field and throw and the only question is whether he can hit major league pitching. He hit .360 in the Pacific Coast League and ought to do all right in our League."

"Gene Desautels and Johnny Peacock will be the regular backstops, Foxx on first, Doerr on second, me on short, Tabor at third, Williams in right, Cramer in centre and DiMaggio in left," he added. "That looks like our lineup."

Rossland Rangers at Kimberley for Series

The Kootenay intermediat finals open tonight at Kimberley when Rossland Rangers, conquerors of Mike Welykochy's Trail All-Stars, last year's champions, open a two-game total-goal series with the East Kootenay champions. The second game of the series will be played Saturday.

The Kimberley pucksters won their way to the Kootenay finals by eliminating Cranbrook in a series which went three games, all ending in Kimberley wins. The first game was thrown out after a lengthy dispute, but Kimberley continued its victorious ways to take the series. The West Kootenay game between Rossland and Trail was a sudden-death affair at Trail, the Rangers, then coached by Pete Morin, overcoming an early 3-0 deficit to win 4-3.

Bill Duchak is now at the helm of the Golden City team, Morin having assumed the coaching reins of the senior Nelson Maple Leafs for the remainder of the season. Players who travelled by private cars to Kimberley are Cy Polson, Tubby Turnbull, Rusty Wynn, Orald Neil, Johnson, Johnny Hughes, Riley, Jack Spencer, Zanussi, Buck Weaver, Ross Jackson, Padavelle, Harry Beaulieu and Duchak himself.

The winner of this series will advance to a provincial semi-final round at the Coast with the winner of the Nicola-Similkameen-New Westminster round, and then comes the B.C. title series with the winner of the Okanagan League titlist Bralorne Gold Digger series. Salmon Arm and Vernon are at present battling it out in the Okanagan final series for the right to meet Bralorne, last year's winners of the B.C. title and Coy Cup.

Hammond Ends Up League With Big Flurry of Scoring

Nobody in the West Kootenay Hockey League finished league play in quite such a blaze of glory as Buddy Hammond, sparkling centreman of the Nelson Maple Leafs. In his last seven games Hammond picked up 19 points, composed of 14 goals and five assists, and if he had gone along at that pace all season he would have finished with over 70 points, and well in the lead.

Hammond more than made up for his slow start by supplying the scoring spark in the drive of the Leafs to hold second place. During that stretch he added to his effectiveness by not incurring a penalty. As it was he served only two minor terms all season with the timers.

This was Hammonds' second season in a Leafian uniform since he arrived from Saskatoon Quakers. Last Winter he finished third in the scoring standings with 18 goals and six assists, while this year he had 19 goals and 11 assists to end up in third in his own team's point-getting, and sixth in the league.

Toronto Tightens Third Place Hold by Beating Wings

Early in the second period Toronto scored its last goal, "Red" Heron slapping in a rebound of a shot by Walter Stanowski.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 (AP)—Arrivals from Dixie say the fair grounds track at New Orleans will not open next year and old Jefferson Park will be brushed up for revival. . . . Ambers is 5-8 over Al Davis tomorrow night and that's about the way it looks from here. . . . The Oklahoma Aggies cagers (22 straight wins) are as good as invited to the invitation tournament in the Garden next month. . . . Only thing is, pressure may be brought to keep 'em home for the N.C.A.A. meet. . . . Fred Apostoli wants to make his comeback start against Al Hostak in Seattle. . . . Since he took charge of the Dodgers in 1938, Larry MacPhail has spent $430,500 for playing talent. . . . Attention, printers: Peter Hawrychiw, the Michigan State trackster, is thinking of changing his name.

The very idea!

Certainly Mike Jacobs is not going to call off the Buddy Baer-Valentin Campolo fight because Valentin was knocked down six times and beaten by Jack Marshall the other night. . . . "Any guy can have an off night," says Mike. . . . That's right. . . . And anyway, Campolo was on his feet occasionally.

DEAN MAY STAY ON FARM YET

DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 22 (AP)—Ole Diz Dean, the man of a few thousand words, boiled down his annual holdout skit to blunt comment today:

"I won't sign for no $10,000."

Frankly, the Chicago Cup pitcher is vexed about the whole thing and may take his new role of gentleman farmer a little more seriously than he thought when he purchased a few acres of black land on the outskirts of Dallas several weeks ago.

"Guess I'll just get my farm ready and sit there all Summer," remarked Mr. Dean after once again going over the details of Owner Phil K. Wrigley's $10,000 offer and Player D. Dean's refusal to sign for anything less than $15,000.

FRENO IS AGAIN TRAINER OF NELSON MAPLE LEAFS

Chicago Swamps Canadiens 10-1

CHICAGO, Feb. 22 (AP).—Chicago's Black Hawks extended their own undefeated streak to eight games and tied Boston for the season's high-scoring record in the National Hockey League by defeating the hapless Montreal Canadiens 10 to 1 tonight.

A crowd of 11,675 persons saw the wild contest which brought injuries to two players — Defenceman Art Wiebe of Chicago and Goalie Wilfe Cude of Montreal. Wiebe suffered a wrenched knee. Cude aggravated an old shoulder injury and had to leave the ice with five minutes to go in the second period and the Hawks leading 5 to 0.

Charlie Sands, Montreal forward, donned Cude's pads and made a valiant stand but despite added efforts by his mates, the Hawks rained in five more goals.

The Hawks' management announced Bill MacKenzie would be recalled from Providence to replace Wiebe and added that Mike Karakas, its suspended goalie, had been given permission to play with Montreal for the remainder of the season.

Frank Calder, President of the league, will be asked by the Hawks to lift Karakas' suspension so he can join Canadiens.

Rangers Champions 'South B' Soccer

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP Cable)—Queen's Park Rangers became champions of South "B" English wartime soccer group today when Bournemouth was defeated 4-3 by Chelsea in a postponed match. The Rangers, with 26 points and a game to play, cannot be headed, but Bournemouth, now in second place two points in arrears, may be ousted by either Chelsea or Reading.

West Ham United made sure of finishing runner-up to Arsenal in South "A" by trouncing Clapton Orient 4-1. It was West Ham's concluding game of the competition in which the squad compiled 25 points. The Gunners, with a game to play, have bagged 28 points.

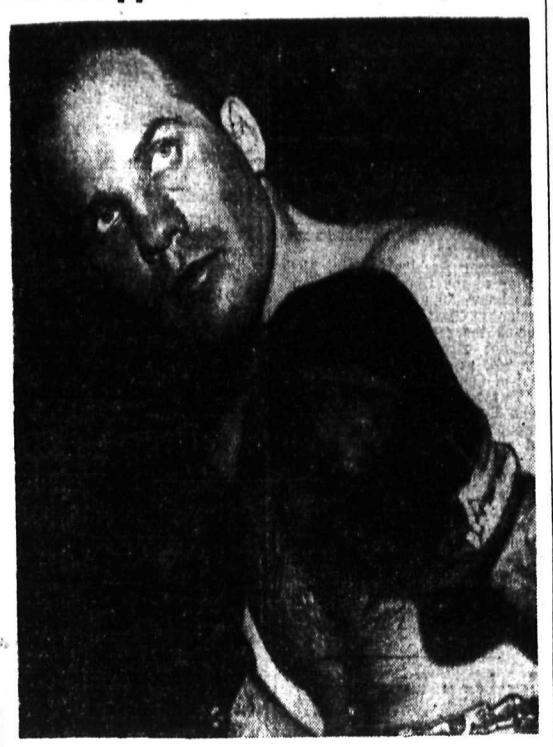
Ed. "Strangler" Lewis, Calif., who could grunt and groan with the best of 'em when he was one of the heavyweight champions of wrestling, has definitely said his farewell to arms and is now running a successful restaurant and cocktail bar in Glendale. He is shown here with a tie-hold on a joint.

Has an Appointment With Champ Louis



The next pugilist to face Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis is John Paychek, of Des Moines, Iowa, who is pictured at Stillman's gym, New York city, during a training session. The fight, for the benefit of the Finnish relief fund, will be held at Madison Square Garden, March 29. Perhaps Mr. Paychek is a little more confident now that Arturo Godoy, of Chile, managed to go 15 rounds with Louis, although the South American lost the decision.

Kapak Gives Banquet for Kimberley, Nelson Juvenile Puck Teams

One of the most enthusiastic sport fans in Nelson and a particularly ardent follower of youngsters' sports Pete Kapak was host at a banquet in the Golden Gate Cafe Thursday morning for the Kimberley and Nelson Juvenile hockey squads and a group of officials.

The banquet was held just shortly before Jimmy Livingstone's team, unsuccessful in the Kootenay finals played this week in Nelson, started its return trip to Kimberley by private car. Among the officials present were D. G. Chamberlain, President of the Nelson Amateur Hockey Association; A. S. (Pat) Aitken, Secretary-Treasurer of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association and M. N. (Slim) Porter.

Wait Making 3rd Trip to Vernon With Puck Team, as Many Years

A few more hockey expeditions to Vernon and Walter Wait will almost be able to call the Okanagan centre a second home. For right now as the Nelson Juveniles prepare for their invasion of Vernon for the Provincial final series, Wait is anticipating his third trip in as many Springs, but as yet is still looking for a successful journey as far as championships are concerned.

In the Spring of 1938 he went with the Fairview Intermediates in the capacity of Playing Coach, but Vernon showed the Nelson outfit the exit from the hockey picture. Vernon bounced the Nelson Midget Reps, coached by Wait, out of the Provincial finals last season in straight games, and now Wait will travel to Vernon Sunday with a team that has several graduates of the midget team to try his luck once again.

Santa Anita Is Won by Sweepida

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22 (AP).—Sweepida won the sixth running of the mile and one-eighth $50,000 added Santa Anita Derby. Royal Crusader placed second and Weigh Anchor finished third. Mioland was fourth.

Time of the race was 1:51 3-5 compared with the track record of 1:48 4-5 set in 1937 by Seabiscuit. It was a fast track, after light sprinkles. There were 17 starters.

The pari mutuels paid on Sweepida $68.50 to win; $21.20 place; $10 show. On Royal Crusader $23.00 place;. $3.00 show. On Weigh Anchor $6.60 show.

Jockey Ralph Neves broke third from the gate on the H. C. Hill gelding, and in the first quarter took the lead having the race well in hand. Luther Balaski came up from behind steadily, piloting the R. C. stable's colt Royal Crusader, and moved into contention, but Neves pulled Sweepida away.

To the winner went a purse of $43,850. Thirty-five thousand witnessed the race.

Convent Plays at High School, Hoop Exhibitions Today

REMEMBER WHEN?

Azucar, Irish-bred steeplechaser, galloped home a winner in the 1935 Santa Anita handicap and took the greatest sum ever won by a race horse in a single race five years ago today. First money of $108,400 surpassed the $105,830 earned by Witchone in the Belmont Futurity of 1929.

Noisy Baseball Holdouts Fade

CHICAGO, Feb. 22 (CP).—Shades of Ruth, DiMaggio and Mungo — where are those noisy baseball holdouts of yesterday?

Perhaps Ol' Diz Dean is a little lonesome as he "sets" down on his Texas farm awaiting a $5000 message from Chicago Cubs. Maybe he's wondering what's happened to that old holdout guard of which he appears to be a lone but still embattled member. What has happened to those rousing salary squabbles that once echoed from coast to coast this time of the year? Have they gone with it—or just run out of wind?

Outside of Dizzy, this Spring hasn't produced another No. 1 noisy, colorful, headline-making holdout squawk. There are lots of ballplayers seeking more money, but their technique drips with dignity.

Australia War Effort Program Is Outlined

Important Contributions on Sea, Land and Air Made to Great Britain From Dominion

MELBOURNE, Feb. 22 (CP).—Australia's determination to fight by the side of Great Britain and France in every phase of the war was set forth today in a declaration by Prime Minister Menzies, supported by a detailed statement of the Commonwealth's war effort program.

"We are one with Great Britain in rejecting the German doctrine that small states must succumb to the strong and that there can be no justice for the weak," said the Prime Minister.

"On the sea, on the land and in the air we will stand with Britain in contributing to a great cause the vigor and determination of a young, free nation.

The statement outlining the Dominion's war effort recalled in detail the important part played in the first Great War by the people, industry and resources. And the "national effort in the present struggle is vaster, costlier and more intricate."

The World knows, the statement added, that "the new Australian army has landed in Palestine, a force which for the present will comprise a division of 20,000 men, all volunteers." But what is not so widely know is that Australia has under arms inside her own borders a militia force of 80,000 men trained for a home defence force which include besides volunteers, men who have been drafted in camps under the compulsory military training introduced since the outbreak of war.

In addition to sending its land army overseas Australia, by becoming a partner in the Empire air training scheme, has contracted to raise a force of 26,000 pilots, observers and a ground staff of 24,000—a total air force strength of 50,000 men—to fight in France or any other war zone. Thirty-four training schools are being established in Australia. But the Empire air training scheme is only part of Australia's air effort, the statement said.

The Dominion is maintaining a squadron of Sunderland flying boats in England and is building up an air force for home defence of 19 squadrons which will be ready by June. An order for 100 Lockheed Hudson bombers for this purpose is now being delivered from the United States, their release having been permitted by revision of the Neutrality Act.

The Australian Navy, though small by comparison with naval strength of the great powers, nevertheless is an extremely useful, efficient unit and may be yet an important factor in Pacific strategy. At the start of the war Australia had six cruisers, nearly all of them modern vessels; five destroyers, two escort vessels and one seaward defence vessel. Since then, however, a third escort vessel, a second seaward defence vessel have been launched.

Being built in the same Australian yards are three more destroyers—"the biggest, most powerful type ever constructed for the British Navy"—and two more escort vessels. Altogether 15 warships are being built or are under order in Australian shipyards.

"On the economic front Australia's effort is prodigious. She already is an immense storehouse for supply to the British armies and the British civil population of such commodities as wool, wheat, meat, dairy produce. Contracts have been made with Great Britain for sale of more than $320,000,000 worth of these and other commodities, including 2,800,000 bales of wool and 1,500,000 tons of wheat."

The statment, outlining the great industrial and engineer progress made since 1918, said this progress coupled with the country's immense mineral resources and manufacturing facilities, has enabled the building of armament and munition plants, "deliberately designed to make the country, isolated as she is from the World's great industrial countries, a supporting unit for war purposes." Within the next few months "she will become in truth a huge arsenal in the South Pacific." Already she is manufacturing her own rifles, machine guns, anti-aircraft guns, war planes, armored cars, hand grenades, depth charge throwers, steel helmets, and ammunition ranging from small arms ammunition to eight-inch shells for naval use."

AIRCRAFTS BECOME MAJOR INDUSTRY

Aircraft manufacturing is becoming one of the Dominion's greatest industries. Being turned out at increasing rate are single engined, general purpose military planes — the Wirraway—fitted with Australian-made engines. The statement said the planes were claimed to be superior to ones previously bought from the United States for the Australian Air Force.

Production will start this year of Bristol Beaufort bomber planes, plant for the manufacture of which were laid during a visit of the British air mission a year ago. These machines, to be entirely of Australian manufacture, will be produced in such quantities as to make the Commonwealth the best source of supply, not only for her own air force but also for all British possessions East of Suez, including India and Singapore.

Another important step in Australia's "march to self sufficiency" in armament production will be reached this year when plants for the manufacture of Bren guns will come into mass production. These, too, will be available for distribution to British possessions.

Even part of the country's huge steel output is being provided to Great Britain. Ship building yards are available in anticipation that orders to replace war losses will be given to Australian yards.

Gasoline is one of the very few war essentials not readily obtainable in Australia "but even in this field an important step has been taken in the direction of self-sufficiency by the erection of a huge, modern plant which is now in production for extraction and refinement of high grade gasoline from Australian shale.

"Thus by a powerful united effort, unprecedented in her history," the statement concludes, "Australia is determined with her manpower, financial resources, good supplies and munitions, to make her shores invulnerable and at the same time contribute substantial — if in the enemy's view, unexpected—contribution to winning the war."

U.S. Mail Seizure Deemed Necessary

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP). — The Ministry of Economic Warfare today characterized seizure of United States mail from Pan-American Airways clippers at Bermuda as "absolutely necessary to the British effort to strangle Germany's economic and financial life."

A Ministry spokesman said the main advantage of holding the mails for inspection and possible confiscation was "preventive."

He added, "while the actual value of currency and commodities seized might be relatively unimportant, stoppage of inspection would mean that mail immediately would be flung wide open to a vast inflow of currency and other materials to Germany.

"Continuance of inspection and seizure obviously has a valuable deterrent effect."

He said use of a marine boarding party at Bermuda confirmed with practice at contraband control ports in Great Britain and elsewhere.

Authoritative sources last night said, "You can be certain it will not happen again."

No formal protest against the British procedure has been received in London, the Minister said.

REPORT BRACKEN WANTS PACKING INQUIRY

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 (CP).—While Premier Bracken of Manitoba was reported trying to obtain a Federal inquiry into the packing industry, Hon. W. D. Euler, Trade Minister, said today he had received no request for such a probe.

In the Manitoba Legislature yesterday Mr. Bracken said he would make one more effort to obtain a Federal inquiry and if that failed the Province would make its own plans.

A Winnipeg dispatch stated the Premier would be prepared to set up a Royal Commission if the Dominion Government did not act.

Lord Tweedsmuir Always John Buchan to Scottish People

EDINBURGH, Feb. 22 (CP Cable)—Men who knew Lord Tweedsmuir since boyhood and enjoyed his friendship ever after were in the congregation which filled St. Giles Cathedral today for Scotland's memorial service.

Professor Archibald Main, Moderator of the Church of Scotland, who knew John Buchan as a quiet student at Glasgow University, conducted the service, reviewing the brilliant career of the minister's son who rose to be Governor-General of Canada.

"To most Scots, he will always be John Buchan," said Dr. Main, and throughout the service in the capital city of his native country it was as John Buchan that he was most frequently referred to.

Present in deep mourning were a brother and sister of the late Governor, J. Walter Buchan, who is town clerk of the nearby little town of Peebles, and Anna Buchan the authoress.

In the crowded pews dukes and earls sat side by side with humble working people and university students.

Cruiser Seamen to be Honored

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP)—A locomotive named after Lord Nelson puffed into Waterloo Station today pulling a trainload of 500 seamen from the cruiser Ajax, which helped defeat the German pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee in the Battle of Montevideo. Cheers greeted the seamen, home on leave.

Shortly afterwards 270 men from the cruiser Exeter, which also took part in the battle, reached London.

Tomorrow both groups will be guests of honor at a luncheon at the Guildhall. Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, and the captains of the Exeter and Ajax will speak.

The proceedings will be carried at 6:30 a.m. P.S.T. on the National Network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

CAPE TOWN, Feb. 22 (CP) — Nearly complete assembly election returns from Southwest Africa indicated today a crushing defeat for the Gooste Nationalist party, which has supported former Prime Minister J.B.M. Hertzog in his campaign to have the Union of South Africa make peace with Germany.

The party includes most of the German residents in the territory, formerly a German possession but which became a mandate of the Union after the last war.

Chamberlain Rejects Secret Session for Services Budget

LONDON, Feb. 22 (CP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain, questioned in the House of Commons, regarding the status of British volunteers fighting for Finland, declined to say today whether such fighters would be pensioned if wounded.

The terms of service, he said, are arranged between the Finnish Aid bureau and the Finnish Government and the British Government is not concerned.

Asked whether he would approach leaders of the churches to fix a suitable day for a United Kingdom prayer for a speedy end of the war, and the overthrow of the enemy, Mr. Chamberlain replied:

"I do not think that time has yet arrived."

Mr. Chamberlain rejected a request for a secret session to debate the "shadow" budgets for the services, saying it would be "inadvisable" to hold it. The House is to pass token budgets of £100 ($445) for each wartime item, the real amount to be kept secret until after the war.

THE GUMPS

Ontario Liberal Scores Workings of Lands and Forests Department

TORONTO, Feb. 22 (CP)—Charles Cox, Liberal member of the Ontario Legislature for Port Arthur, stood before a special committee today and levelled a barrage of criticism against administration of the Ontario Lands and Forests Department.

Cox, former minister without portfolio in the Hepburn Government, was interrupted by Chairman Paul Leduc when he attempted to read from his lengthy brief about charges of "greasing". The reference was accepted as an exhibit but it was not permitted to be read into evidence.

But Cox went on to condemn the Department for granting the permit and cutting rights to the now-bankrupt Lake Sulphite Pulp Company which he described as a "fiasco" which has "given a black eye to the North". He also declared that big timber companies had failed to live up to the agreements entered into when they were granted cutting rights.

He also accused the Department of "absolute disregard for the welfare of Fort William and Port Arthur" and said it was responsible for "even more profligate and shortsightedness than the previous administration, if such were possible."

CHANGE NEEDED

"You will note," read Cox, prominent timber operator, "that there has been very little change in the administrative personnel which deals with timber matters, and inquitous deals of colossal magnitude have been perpetrated during their tenure of office. We should have a complete change of Departmental Administration and place this industry on a sound business basis. Remove the political toll-gates, thus securing for the people the benefits to which they are entitled."

He suggested the industry be governed by a non-partisan, non-political board. He expressed a readiness to pay personally expenses up to $25,000 if a commission, including Premier Hepburn, the Conservative Leader, Col. George Drew, an accountant, a representative of finance and a representative of labor were sent to investigate timber resources in Thunder Bay area.

The reference to "grease" and "greasing" was made when Cox began to read from a report of the Arrow Land and Logging Company in which he explained expenditure of $1000 as "grease".

Cox went on to describe working conditions in his district: claimed that peeling of pulpwood brought transients into the area, adding that "More people are riding freight trains in Western Canada than passenger trains."

CHARGES FIRES MAN MADE

Expressing the belief that within 50 years rich forest regions would be as barren as the Sahara Desert", Cox charged that many forest fires which took huge annual toll in the bush were man-made. He said "Fire fighters are sometimes firelighters," explaining that "It is more lucrative to fight fires than work in a camp."

"Do you suggest our fire control is not effective?" asked Provincial Secretary Nixon.

"No," replied Cox. "It is only a matter of time until the whole country is burned out. Since we have had 'efficient fire protection' the whole country is burning down."

Vancouver Island mines registered a total increase of 17,090 tons with production of 74,538 tons in January.

Nicola-Princeton district collieries showed a slight increase for the month, with total production of 9,898 tons and 17,434 tons a year ago.

The Northern district produced 675 tons this year compared with 900 tons in January last year, while East Kootenay district produced 51,960 tons last month and 34,971 a year ago.

French Finances Depend on Nation

PARIS, Feb. 22 (AP)— Finance Minister Paul Reynaud has quoted figures to prove that financial ruin need not accompany a modern war and declared "we are mastering the situation.'

In an address yesterday to veterans of the first Great War, he stressed the necessity of cooperation between the Government and the people, expressing confidence in the French ability to continue her 'financial mastery' of the war if the nation continues accepting sacrifices.

Describing how France has financed the first six months of the war, the Finance Minister pointed to four evidences of strength:

1. Steadily growing subscriptions for national armament bonds;
2. An increase in savings bank deposits over withdrawals;
3. The low bank rate;
4. Maintenance of the gold reserve at almost the level at the beginning of the war despite heavy buying abroad.

The reserves of gold and foreign exchange have been maintained largely by the "inflow of capital which began in November, 1938, and has continued since September, 1939," Reynaud said.

But partly, too, he declared, they have been kept up by the government's policy of eliminating luxury imports and using exchange only to buy such necessities.

Reynaud said the Government's caution was exemplified in the actual handling of its gold. It used to be stored in the subterranean vaults of the Bank of France, considered as safe as human ingenuity could make them, but now most of the gold has been transferred to provincial banks "to anticipate the worst."

International Nickel Offers Use of Refinery to Falconbridge Company if Need Arises

TORONTO, Feb. 22 (CP) — If disaster or destruction should overtake the Norwegian refinery of Falconbridge Nickel Mines, the international Nickel Company of Canada has consented to assist Falconbridge, by handling its Matte, President J. Gordon Hardy, told Falconbridge shareholders at their annual meeting here today.

He said that Company directors faced with the seriousness of the European situation, had to decide whether to construct a refinery in Canada.

The offer by International Nickel to bridge over any disaster that might befall the Norwegian refinery, solved the question and Falconbridge definitely shelved the idea of a Canadian refinery.

If Norway could maintain her neutrality and if markets for the Company product continued as they were, there wasn't reason to change the present routine, he said, "and 1940 should be as good as 1939 when Falconbridge had gross metal sales of $8,235,016 and final net profits of $2,005,403."

MacDonald Finds Nationalism Tide Rising in Canada

TRAIL, B. C., Feb. 22—"There is a rising spirit of nationalism in Canada," Donald C. MacDonald, touring lecturer, told the Trail Canadian Club Wednesday night.

A year ago, on a flying trip to the Canadian West prior to leaving for the British Isles and Europe, Mr. MacDonald detected a strong sectional feeling, a conviction, that with divergent economic interests, the Canadian West had little in common with the East. On his present tour, in which he was lecturing West of Fort William under auspices of the Association for Anglo-American Understanding, the speaker received an entirely different impression.

Mr. MacDonald warned that the war's aftermath would create new problems for Canada. He emphasized, however, that these problems could be solved peacefully. Peaceful solution of her difficulties was a characteristic of the Dominion through her 75 years of history. Other nations had been torn with recurring internal war and revolution.

"There will be no war in Canada," he said emphatically.

W. J. Porter Dies at 60 After an 8 Months Illness

Shortly after suffering a stroke, William James Porter died in his sixty-first year at his home at 715 Kokanee Street in Fairview at about 6:45 Thursday evening following an illness extending over eight months. Mr. Porter, a well-known resident of Nelson of 23 years' standing, was in Kootenay Lake General Hospital for two periods during his sickness, and had been home for about a week this last time.

Mr. Porter, a carpenter by trade, was born of Irish parents at Manvers, Ont., Oct. 13, 1879. He spent his early youth at various points in Ontario, during which time he was prominent in athletics, particularly soccer.

CAME HERE IN 1918

Then at about the turn of the century he moved to Carbery, Man., and then in 1906 he came still farther West to Lethbridge. He was there for 12 years, and then he arrived in Nelson with his family in 1918 to take up employment as a ship's carpenter at the Canadian Pacific Shipyard in Fairview. He was forced to retire from this position when he became afflicted with heart trouble.

At Carberry he was an active member of the Orange Lodge for a number of years.

He is survived by his wife, Hannah; four daughters, Miss Kathleen Porter of Grand Forks, Miss Helen Porter of Castlegar, Mrs. Jack McQueen Morrison of Ymir, and Miss Violetta Porter of Nelson; two sons, Lawrence Porter of Erie, and M. N. (Slim) Porter of Nelson; one grandson, Jack Porter Morrison at Ymir; and two brothers and five sisters, all in Ontario. He was predeceased by two daughters, Evelyn and Frances.

Trail had arranged a full program including sports in the afternoon, a supper meeting and a business meeting in the evening, Mr. Foxall reported.

Fourteen Nelson members indicated they would attend.

Enumerators Were Stumped by These

TRAIL, B. C., Feb. 22—On advice received from Ottawa after he had cited the cases, J. A. Wadsworth, Returning Officer for Kootenay West Electoral District stated today that a Doukhobor woman born in British Columbia and married to a naturalized Swede, did not have the right to vote.

However, a Canadian woman married to an American may exercise her franchise.

The information came in a letter from Jules Castonguay, Chief Electoral Officer, at Ottawa.

20,796 Electors Enumerated West Kootenay Riding

Wadsworth Thursday announced the total number of electors registered in the West Kootenay Electoral District by the recent enumeration, as 20,796, there being 11,706 in urban areas and 9020 in rural.

Restriction of Traffic Lifted

With cold weather tightening up all district roads, restrictions on traffic imposed early in the week were lifted Thursday night.

Earlier in the week, with frost coming out of the ground and road surfaces in danger of breaking up, load and speed limits were announced for sections of four district roads: the East side of Kootenay Lake, Nelson-Balfour, Nelson-Castlegar and Trail-Pend d'Oreille.

The cold weather Wednesday and Thursday enabled the Department of Public Works to cancel all restrictions until further notice, O. G. Gallaher, Nelson-Creston District Engineer, stated Thursday night.

Marie Fotos, Victim Cerebrospinal Fever, Is Reported Improved

He had been advised Thursday of improvement in the condition of his daughter Marie, under treatment in Kootenay Lake General Hospital for cerebrospinal fever, stated Chris Fotos Thursday night. Mr. Fotos is in quarantine with other members of the family.

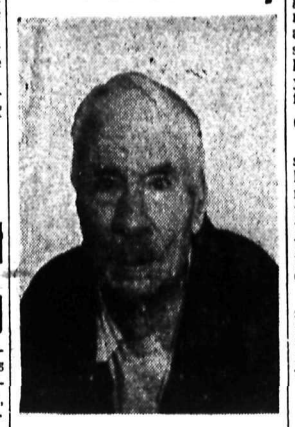
Loved Rossland Old Timer Will Be 82 Saturday



JOHN EVANS

ROSSLAND, B. C., Feb. 22—"Old John" Evans of Rossland celebrates his 82nd birthday Saturday.

Mr. Evans came to Rossland with his wife and son in 1903 and for nearly 25 years worked for the C. M. & S. in the boiler room at the Centre Star mine. He was superannuated at the time the main activity ceased in 1931.

During the years of his employment at the mine he lost his son, who died about 25 years ago, and his wife, who passed away in 1927.

In January of 1932 Mr. Evans was appointed janitor at the Rossland High School, at which post he remained until his retirement in 1937. A brother, W. J. Evans, and a niece, Mrs. Charles Ward, reside in the Golden City.

Devoted to children and a practical adherent to the philosophy of helping his fellow man, Rosslanders young and old recount tales of his generosity and kindness to those in need. This, as well as his indomitable spirit and cheerfulness, made still more evident through failing health during the past four or five years, has earned him a host of friends.

CHEERS YOUNGSTERS

At the hospital, where he has been since last June, "his children" are his main thought, and in spite of repeated warnings from members of the staff he manages to walk up the long corridor on the third floor to the nursery to talk with the little ones, and to visit patients in the oher wards on his return.

And so, on Saturday, Rossland salutes a grand old man who although 82 is still among the "young in heart."
