ROOSEVELT MAY REVAMP ALL COURTS

Return of Two-Cent Postage to Rest on Revenue Developments

ELLIOTT MAKES STATEMENT IN HOUSE REPLY

Postmaster-general Reports Surplus Over $3,000,000

BENNETT TELLS OF AUSTRALIA

Criticizes $300,000 Atlantic Mail Subsidies

OTTAWA, Feb. 5 (CP).—More than $3,000,000 surplus on operations of the post office department for the current fiscal year was estimated by Hon. J. C. Elliott, postmaster general, in the house of commons tonight.

This figure, he said, did not include the service the department provided members of parliament and other departments of government by carrying mail free of charge. The value of this service was estimated at $1,100,763. In addition it cost $80,000 to operate the postal savings bank and any profit from the bank went direct to the consolidated revenue fund.

Gordon Isnor (Lib.-Halifax), A. A. Heaps (C.C.F.-Winnipeg North) and R. J. Deachman (Lib.-Huron North) urged a better arrangement of post office department accounts so the real surplus or deficit could be shown. They suggested the cost of buildings, now paid by the public works department and of steamship subsidies in so far as they paid for the carriage of mail should be charged to the post office department while services performed by the post office for other departments should be charged back.

Mr. Elliott said he knew something of the public works department, having one time headed it, and he knew that in the matter of renting and building no department could be more thrifty or careful.

Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, commended the minister for his system of operating the department with a view to making it pay its way. He told of his studies of the post office system in Australia which was also run as a business proposition and paid its way.

Mr. Bennett criticized the payment of $300,000 for Atlantic mail subsidies as too high. He also asked the minister if the revenues were going to justify return to the two-cent postage rate.

Mr. Elliott said he would not commit himself but that it would depend entirely upon revenue developments.

OTTAWA, Feb. 5 (CP) — A bill providing for amendments to the Canadian Red Cross Society act, reducing the council from 60 to 40 members, was passed through all stages in the house of commons today.

Make Big Plans for Low Fares to Nelson

Railroad and bus fares will be cut as low as one cent a mile. For example, the fare from Grand Forks to Nelson and return will be $1.90, from Castlegar to Nelson and return will be 55 cents.

There will be plenty of entertainment and the merchants are arranging for a city-wide shopping carnival.

LLOYD GEORGE PREDICTS WAR

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Feb. 5—(CP Cable)—Another world war was predicted by Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George before his departure after a two-months' vacation here, it was revealed today.

Referring to Europe's new armament race during an interview before he left, Britain's war time premier said "it is the same thing that happened in 1914. Some day or other they will fight.

"I was chancellor of the exchequer in 1914 and I said then this thing was bound to end in war. They said 'no, the countries are afraid to go to war' but they were not."

Bishop Declares Pacifists Real Danger to Peace

Church England Assembly Upholds Right of Christians to Bear Arms for Country

LONDON, Feb. 5 (CP Cable).—Differences between the modernist bishop of Birmingham, Rt. Rev. Ernest Barnes, and the older members of the Anglican hierarchy found further expression in the Church of England assembly today.

Mr. Barnes' declaration he was an "extreme pacifist" and was unable to see how war could be regarded as consonant with the spirit of Christ drew a sharp rebuke from the aged bishop of London, Rt. Rev. Arthur Winnington-Ingram, who said "the real danger to world peace today are the pacifists."

"If we had taken the views of the pacifists in 1914," the bishop of London told the assembly, "either the German emperor or Herr Hitler would now be in Whitehall—this little island in a silver sea would be a German province.

"The German plan was to swallow France, and then to go on to Great Britain. Coming up to later times, I should have thought that Ethiopia would have cured every pacifist in the world."

The assembly upheld the right of "Christian citizens to bear arms in the service of their country" as long as the government continued to base its policy on the covenant of League of Nations.

Two members of the Canadian legislature passed when Hon. Charles Marcil, dean of the house of commons and a member of the federal parliament since 1900 for Bonaventure, Quebec, died at the age of 76, and Dr. George A. Connection at Paterson Shut

Both Sides to Plow Week-end; Nelson District Open

Blocked by snow, which on the American side of the line has not been plowed since the start of the storm early in the week, the Paterson-Northport international highway connection is now not in operation, stage from Northport, which was still making connection early in the week, not having got through to Rossland since Wednesday.

Advised from Northport of the situation, the public works department will plow out from Rossland to Paterson over the week-end, to meet a plow from Northport.

With that exception, all the highways of the Rossland-Trail riding are open. The three plows of that riding were all "down" Thursday night, but night repairs enabled them to resume Friday morning.

All routes in the Nelson district are open. The Robson section, however, was still snow-bound Friday.

WOULD ABOLISH FREE MAIL OF M. P.'s

They were both Irishmen, David Spence, Conservative member for Toronto-Parkdale, and Rev. Dan McIvor, Fort William Liberal.

Mr. McIvor said he was better able to pay for his postage now than before he became a member of parliament. He thought it a marvellous thing the post office department was able to show the surplus of $3,000,000 reported by Hon. J. C. Elliott, post-master general, after carrying all the mail sent out by 245 members for nothing.

Postmen's backs were being broken carrying the stacks of letters, reports and literature sent out by members of parliament and government departments without charge, said Mr. Spence. The franking privilege should be abolished so that the post office department could be run on a business basis and show its real profit or loss.

Plan Gives Six Members of Supreme Court a Choice of Retiring or Being Juniors

Would Appoint Six More to Be Their Peers on Bench

"DICTATOR" IS CRY IN CONGRESS

Seen as Long-Waited Answer to Court's Rulings

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5 (AP).—A history-making proposal by President Roosevelt to inject "new blood" into a supreme court, hostile to many New Deal acts by raising the tribunal's membership to 15 if necessary, went to a surprised congress today.

It produced a sensation almost beyond comparison. Congress split into warring camps, with many New Dealers rejoicing, and their foes crying "dictator".

The president's plan, regarded generally in congress as his long-awaited answer to the invalidation of New Deal efforts to regulate industry and farming, proposed a revamping of the entire federal judical system, including lower courts.

Under it six supreme court justices now past 70 would be given the choice of retiring or having six new judges of the president's own choosing take places as their peers on the bench. The judges who have been most implacable in their opposition to Roosevelt legislation thus would be a minority of the tribunal, which would then consist of 15 instead of nine justices.

The president's plan also called for appointment of additional judges to the lower federal courts, if present judges over 70 declined to retire.

Mercury Over 32 First Time This Year

Nelson's cold spell went into further retreat Friday when the mercury for the first time since December 28 climbed above the freezing point, reaching 33. The minimum also was higher at 19.

Snow in the early hours of the morning amounted to 2½ inches.

JAPANESE MAY INTERFERE IN NORTH CHINA

SHANGHAI, Feb. 5 (AP).—The threat of Japanese military intervention in China confronted the Nanking government tonight.

At Peiping a spokesman for Japan's North China garrison said Nanking had failed to suppress the Communists in the northwest provinces and therefore the Japanese military were "faced with the necessity of taking independent measures."

"Red activity in North China is increasing," said the Peiping spokesman, referring to disorders by rebellious troops and their Communist friends in Shensi province, especially the rioting Tuesday at Siangu, the provincial capital.

In spite of denials from Moscow there is evidence the Chinese Communists have contacts with Soviet Russia. Missionaries and other occidentals who have first hand knowledge of their strongholds assert they receive Russian arms and munitions through Central Asia.

Defence Subject at Imperial Meet

BRADFORD, Feb. 5 (CP cable).—An indication the position of the dominions in relation to Empire defence would be discussed at the Imperial conference that will follow the coronation was given tonight by Sir Samuel Hoare, first lord of the admiralty.

Speaking at a dinner of the Bradford chamber of commerce, Sir Samuel stated the sister states of the Empire would find any system of isolated local defence extravagant and inefficient.

From the viewpoint of Empire defence, power on the sea would be made more effective, not less effective, by the fullest use of power in the air, he added.

"The chief burden of defence—a very heavy burden—falls at present on the shoulders of Great Britain," he continued. "But anxious as we are to lighten it we should make a great mistake if we tried to impose some rigid plan upon other members of the Empire."

OTTAWA, Feb. 5 (CP).—Official circles tonight declined to comment on Sir Samuel Hoare's defence speech at Bradford, but it was generally believed Canadian government representatives would take part in any defence discussions that might arise at the Imperial conference succeeding the coronation next May.

$6120 FOR TRAIL, NELSON LETTER CARRIER SERVICE

Is Sum to Be Allotted to Each, Esling Is Told

MONEY AVAILABLE AFTER MARCH 31

Ex-servicemen to Be Given Preference as Carriers

OTTAWA, Feb. 5. — While the house was discussing estimates tonight the postmaster general told W. K. Esling, member for Kootenay West, that the sum of $6120 would be allotted to Trail, and a similar sum will be allotted to Nelson for the installation of a letter carrier system.

As soon as the money is available after March 31, the department will proceed to determine whether the streets are properly named, sidewalks constructed and houses numbered. Letter boxes or a receptacle of some kind must also be provided for each house.

When all requirements have been met, the department will hold civil service examinations for the selection of letter carriers. Ex-service men will be given preference; which means that a returned man with any mark above the minimum goes to the head of the list. In other words an ex-service man with a mark of 70 takes precedence over a civilian obtaining 100.

COAST STRIKERS BACK TO WORK

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 5 (AP)—Life returned to the strike-frozen Pacific coast waterfronts today amid a rush of eager men to their jobs, employer preparations for record-breaking business, union victory claims and one "incident" marring the new peace.

Maritime workers, 99 days without pay envelopes, flocked to piers and ships with speed that defied estimates as to their number.

Only a few hours previously union representatives and employers had signed the array of agreements ending the walkout of 40,000 workers and pointing the way toward peace until at least next Sept.

Such Is Statement of Dr. Peebles

VICTORIA, Feb. 5 (CP).—Dr. Allon Peebles, chairman of the British Columbia health insurance commission, in a statement today said the real question between his board and the medical profession was whether or not the doctors would give the plan of the commission a trial for one year.

North America's first state health insurance scheme is scheduled to come into effect on March 1 but doctors in the southern part of the province had declared they will not accept the planned operation of the project and a formal ballot of all medical men in the province is now being taken.

The "real objection" of British Columbia's medical profession to the scheme is that remuneration of the profession under the scheme is considered inadequate, Dr. Peebles said in a lengthy written statement.

Dr. Peebles' statement said in part:

"The commission, as the custodian of the funds to be collected from employers and employees, thinks that it is not justified in offering more than $5.50 per insured person per year.

"It should be pointed out that a considerable number of those covered will not consult physicians in any one year, but the doctors will be paid for everyone whether they are ill or not."

During the evening guests were entertained by group singing, led by Principal C. J. Tonks. An enjoyable number was the "Danse Militaire," a tap dance by Miss Corrine Wright of Greenwood, while two of her tiny pupils, Miss Jean Roylance and Eunice Campbell, also of Greenwood, delighted everyone with a Dutch dance. Misses Joan Peterson and Mary Cleeton also contributed a tap number, dressed in Dutch costumes.

Has Narrow Escape at Renata

Ice covering the lake here is hardly as sound as it appears to be. One of the residents crossed the lake successfully on a bicycle. Another tried to cross over to Deer Park, a distance of about three miles, and narrowly escaped drowning when the ice broke and his bicycle went down to a depth of about 20 feet.

He crawled on hands and knees to safety, but was completely drenched.

Do This For a Cold

1. Take 2 "ASPIRIN" tablets and drink a full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours.

2. If throat is sore, crush and stir 3 "ASPIRIN" tablets in ½ glass of water. Gargle twice.

The Modern-Day Way to Ease Cold and Sore Throat Quickly

BAYER

The modern way to curb a cold is: Two "Aspirin" tablets the moment you feel a cold coming on. Repeat, if needed, according to directions in box.

At the same time, if you have a sore throat, crush and dissolve three "Aspirin" tablets in one-third glass of water. And gargle with this mixture twice.

The "Aspirin" you take internally will act to combat fever, cold pains and the cold itself. The gargle will provide almost instant relief from rawness and pain, acting like a local anesthetic on the irritated throat membrane.

Try this way. Your doctor will endorse it. It is quick, effective and ends the taking of strong medicines for a cold.

● "Aspirin" tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited, of Windsor, Ontario. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

CHOCOLATE DOUGHNUTS — Four cups flour, four teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon, two tablespoons cocoa, two egg yolks, one cup sugar, one cup milk, one-half cup melted butter or similar fat. Sift flour, measure and return two cups to the sifter. Add baking powder, salt cinnamon and cocoa to it as each is measured. Beat egg yolks, add sugar gradually. Sift in a portion of flour in the sifter, mix it in, add a portion of milk. Continue alternating dry ingredients in sifter, and milk, beating well after each addition, but not over beating, until all is added. Add melted butter or fat that has been used. Then add enough of the remaining flour to make a dough soft enough to handle. Roll out to one-half inch thickness. Cut, being careful to make the cuts close together and fry a few at a time in deep fat heated to 360 degrees (a cube of bread will brown in 60 seconds). Drain well, and dust with powdered sugar.

A PLAN FOR PERIODIC HEALTH EXAMINATION

Alarmed at the loss by death and sickness of large numbers of scholars and teachers at the height of useful careers, Columbia university has announced plans for the development of a new health system which will "conserve and prolong the active service of scholars in the arts and sciences."

Periodic health examinations will be employed to protect the teachers, particularly those nearing middle life, according to Dr. William H. McCastline, university medical officer. The program will serve more than 3000 officers of administration and instruction at Columbia.

Dr. McCastline also urged yearly health checks for sophomores and upper classmen in Columbia college, similar to the physical examinations now given to incoming students.

"A scholar who has spent one or often more decades in preparation for a useful and fruitful career in the field of science or the arts should have available the best that medical science has to offer in conserve and prolong his period of active service," declared Dr. McCastline.

Endorsation of Columbia's plan of health examinations was given today by officials of the Health League of Canada. The promotion of periodic health examinations has long been on the program of this volunteer health education organization.

Modern medical science offers new hopes to men and women, declared officials of the Health league. Men and women need no longer accept the possibility of heart trouble, kidney disorders, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries and diabetes. Physicians call these "degenerative conditions".

Yet few men and women care to be bothered with precautionary measures when they feel perfectly well. A thorough going over may give a doctor an opportunity to prevent, certainly to alleviate, these bugbears of a less enlightened generation.

THE DOCTOR SAYS . . .

LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

Every year about this time this department receives many letters from generous-minded readers giving us methods of preventing colds. Many of these are accompanied by a recommendation to the effect that the user has not had a cold for 30 years, sometimes 20 years. In general, the remedies are worth trying: at least, they are harmless and may give mental comfort to the user, but the phrase that a person has not had a cold for 20 years suggests more that he has come into the period of immunity from colds rather than that any particular remedy will actually prevent them.

We eventually acquire immunity to colds, and people over 40 are seldom subject to them. They are certainly not as likely to catch a cold once or twice a year as those at the age of 20. Those who do catch cold over the age of 40 are likely to be the ones with chronic respiratory trouble of the nose or lungs, as described in the article yesterday.

The commonest recommendation for the prevention of colds that reaches this column is the use of fruit and fruit juices, especially lemons and oranges and grapefruit. Undoubtedly these natural fruits are useful through the winter and help to keep the body neutral. Another favorite remedy is the use of sodium bicarbonate to alkalinize the body. As I say, these are harmless and can be tried by anyone who wishes, but prevention of colds is certainly not guaranteed from their use.

We have not made much progress in the treatment of colds since the days of our grandmothers, and I believe the old-fashioned heating and sweating system is as good as anything for treatment.

The ordinary cold which does not fasten itself on the basis of a chronic infection of the nose, throat or lungs runs an acute course of about three days, with a recovery period of about two weeks in which the sufferer is more uncomfortable to his neighbors than to himself. The first day, as we said yesterday ushers in the cold with a raw uncomfortable feeling in the throat, tightness in the nose, a decided sense of chilliness on the surface of the body. This latter symptom is a point of attack by treatment which has proved itself through the years. If, on the first day, the victim is lucky enough to be at home where a faithful relative can give him, or her, the "works", this is what should be done:

A preliminary dose of Epsom salts. A hot mustard foot-bath before an open fire or radiator. A teaspoon of domestic mustard tied in a muslin bag should be allowed to soak in a quart of cold water. Do not put the mustard in hot water because that, if first applied, will not extract essential oils from the mustard. When the patient is ready a gallon of water at 110 or 120 degrees F. may be added. Remember that the feet are more sensitive to hot water than the hands. While taking the foot bath, the patient should drink a glass of very hot lemonade with five grains of aspirin. And then get into bed, well covered up, until the reaction with sweating sets in.

There is no good scientific explanation of the effectiveness of this treatment, although there are some suggestions. Winternitz found that heat or cold applied to the feet would increase intracranial circulation.

The dilatation of all the surface blood vessels makes the patient more comfortable and seems to induce a reflex action.

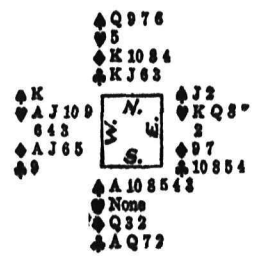
DANGEROUS PRE-EMPTING

Years ago it was found that an attempt to pre-empt, after an adversary has made an opening bid frequently leads the second bidder into trouble. Third hand, provided he hols a strong support for the opening call, will support over a jumped second bid, as if the call had been a lower one. Sometimes the opening bidder will be forced into a slam which normally would not have been bid and made. We have a case of that kind today, in which I happened to sit South.

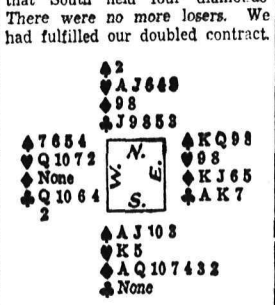


Bidding went: South, 1-Spade; West, 4-Hearts; North, who was an aggressive bidder, promptly went 4-Spades; East, 5-Hearts; South, 5-Spades, which would have ended the contest had West passed; West, 6-Hearts, not being vulnerable; North, 6-Spades, instead of making a doubtful double, which would have yielded us only 300 points, as it happened; West doubled on his two Aces and the fact that East had supported. This ended bidding.

The opening lead was the Ace of hearts. Declarer ruffed. It may have been a hunch which made South lead off the Ace of spades. Possibly I saw no other reasonable method of playing trumps, with both K and J missing. Anyway, the lone K fell and dummy's Q picked up the missing J.

Next four club tricks were run off, with the lead left in South's hand. West let go three of his now useless hearts, hanging on to his four diamonds. East followed suit four times on clubs.

Diamonds had to go just right to yield contract. The Q of diamonds was led. West played low South held the trick. East dropped the 7. A low diamond was led. Again West played low. Under the circumstances it would have been folly to risk a finesse of the 10 perhaps to lose to the J and then have to give West his Ace. That surely would have defeated us. Dummy's K was played and held the trick. Declarer had to give the last trick to West, who probably had thought that South held four diamonds. There were no more losers. We had fulfilled our doubled contract.



Can South go game at diamonds against an opening lead of the 4 of clubs? The answer will appear on Monday.

Deep Principle Not Mere Gnat Involved in Sweep Argument Says Rev. Mr. Donnell

To the Editor,
Nelson Daily News.

Sir.—Will you permit a reference to a letter signed by Adjutant David Hammond that appears in your issue of February 5. I am glad you are opening your columns to a discussion of hospital sweepstakes. If the people of Nelson will consider the matter patiently and courteously and tolerantly, great good may come of it.

But at the outset of such a discussion there are certain facts that should be clearly in the minds of us all. May I mention some of these? First of all it is a fact, or I believe it to be so, that any citizen of Nelson who can write a letter has the power to put a stop to sweepstakes for the hospital. Secondly it is a fact that no one, so far as I know, has recently exercised this power. Thirdly, it is a fact that no one, so far as I know, has any intention of exercising it in any hasty or arbitrary manner. If all the people of Nelson will get these facts firmly imbedded in their minds it may help us to go on to seek a solution of this problem that may do credit to us all.

Inasmuch as I am one of those most deeply involved in this discussion, may I write a few sentences of a more personal nature? I accept my full share of responsibility for bringing the question up in the Ministers' fraternity where it has been more or less under advisement for months. I have urged that we consider it most carefully so that as religious leaders we should give only the most far-seeing and sane counsel to those who are willing to accept leadership (not dictation) from us. The last item of business before adjourning last Monday was to decide that we must meet for further discussion of the matter on February 15. The suggestion that we do this was made by the president and so far as I know heartily agreed to by us all. I personally have it in mind to seek the counsel of my fellow presbyters when the Presbytery of Kootenay meets in Nelson on the sixteenth of this month. I have it further in mind to consult the members of the United Church conference of British Columbia at their meeting in Victoria next May. Not only so, but I am willing, yes anxious, to talk the question over with any citizen of Nelson who can approach me courteously and talk tolerantly and patiently. And may I sincerely thank those who have already done this? I have been deeply touched by the earnest solicitude of some of my friends, who have felt and who still feel that I am greatly mistaken, but who are determined that this serious difference of opinion shall not render ineffective our cooperation in other matters.

There is just one statement in Adjutant Hammond's letter that I would ask your readers to note at this time. He makes reference to the fairly well known saying of Jesus about straining at a gnat and swallowing a camel. Of course the inference is that those of us who are troubled about hospital sweepstakes are, if not pharasaically, at least unduly anxious about a trifle. I hope Adjutant Hammond will reconsider such a suggestion. He certainly will get no support in it from the hospital board, not if I understood aright the position they took on Monday. They advised us that they were most reluctant to resort to sweepstakes. They told us that before doing so they had explored every other avenue they could think of. They gave us to understand that it was only because they were faced with the desperate alternative of breaking the law or of turning poor helpless sick people out in the cold that they were falling back on this method of raising funds. They were far from speaking of sweepstakes as a "gnat". The hospital board are far too discerning not to know that it is no trifling matter for a group of our best citizens to deliberately, openly, consciously, disobey one of the long established laws of our nation. They know it is a serious matter, and their only plea was that they are doing it in a desperate situation to prevent great suffering.

To sum up then for the present. The facts are these as I understand them. The hospital board assures us that the people of Nelson and surrounding district are either so poor that they cannot, or so indifferent that they will not, give adequate support to our hospital, whether by voluntary contributions or by insisting on the requisite taxation. Now I have only been in Nelson some 18 months but I cannot help thinking the hospital board must be mistaken in their estimate of their fellow citizens. Surely when we realize what the situation is we will meet it in a lawful manner as becomes British, Christian men and women.

But if not, then the hospital board are not faced by a choice between a "gnat" and a "camel". They are faced by a choice between two very serious alternatives. As to which is the more serious there will probably not be, especially at first, much doubt in the minds of many people And so those of us who are in doubt can only ask those who are not to try to believe that we are as disinterestedly sincere as they are and also to believe that very seldom is all the intelligence on one side of a question and all the stupidity and perverseness on the other side. By believing this each may possibly learn something from the other and very difficult and complicated problems may move toward a solution.

Panthers Defeat F.A.C.-Transfer in Close Match

With both teams setting a terrific pace, Stewie Paterson's juvenile Panthers and a pick-up team of Nelson Transfer and Fairview players—playing under the colors of the Transfer club—dished up the feature game of the season with the Panthers taking a close 4-2 decision at the civic arena Thursday night. The Albert Hooker, Jim Niven and Keith Younger line make one of the sweetest combinations ever seen in local hockey circles. John Dingwall, who played goal for the pick-ups in the last two sessions, played a great game.

Albert Hooker opened the scoring on an assist from Jim Niven, and half way through the period Hooker returned the compliment, Niven scoring. DelPuppo received a two-minute penalty, but while Scott had several close calls, no scoring resulted. Just before the period ended McClain brought the score to 2-1 on Kapak's assist.

Guscott scored on a pass from Breeze in the second period, but Ray Rowe brought the score to 3-2 with a shot from the blue line. Raukets got a two minute sentence for cross checking.

DINGWALL GOES FAST

The Transfer clu held an edge on the play in the first half of the third period, but towards the end John Dingwall was forced to dislay his best wares to stop the nthers, just before the final whistle brought the score to 4-2 for the Panthers on DelPuppo's assist.

The teams were:

Panthers—Eslie Scott, Frank Raukets, Victor DelPuppo, Albert Hooker, Jim Niven, Keith Younger, Roy Breeze, Art Guscott, Ken Vere.

Nelson Transfer pickups—Ernie Elliott, John Dingwall, Earl McNicol, Ray Rowe, Bill Kapak, Bud McClain, Lorris Blackwell, Eddie Jacques, Charlie Lindsay, Tom Carlisle, Glen Price.

The kick turn is used for turning while stationary in preference to stepping around. It is especially useful when climbing in alternate traverses to right and left (zigzagging) to change direction at each traverse. Try it first on the level as follows. Stand with skis parallel and close together, sticks somewhat to the rear of the feet. Take all the weight on the left ski and swing the right leg forward freely.

When the leg reaches the horizontal position, the knee should be straight and the heel of the ski placed on the ground close to the bend of the other ski (fig. 1).

Turning the body to the right, let the right ski swing outwards and down (fig. 2) to a position parallel and close to the left ski. As will be seen from the illustrations, the sticks are held pretty much at arms length and swung around as the body turns. Now lift the left ski around over the heel of the right and place it parallel there too (fig. 4).

On a slope when climbing, the turn should be made uphill whenever possible, the upper ski being turned first. If the slope is not too steep, the ski need not be brought down parallel to the other, but can be placed in the direction of the next traverse. If the slope is too steep to permit of the turn being made uphill, it can be executed downhill paying attention to the following points.

Stand with the skis horizontal across the slope, and close together. Turn the lower ski first and place it parallel with the upper, then carry the upper one around.—Copyright, Central Press Canadian.

Trail Bantams May Enter B.C. Loop

Winnipeg Pee Wees to Play in Trail on Tour

TRAIL, B.C., Feb. 5.—In line with the popular practice in other western provinces, it is possible that a bantam hockey playdown will be staged in British Columbia in the near future, Fred Edmunds, chairman of Trail Hockey Booster club, said Thursday. While such a series might not be arranged this year, plans are going forward for what will likely be an exhibition series between Trail and Vancouver rep bantam teams at the coast. Interested persons both here and in Vancouver are working on the idea.

If the necessary backing can be obtained here to send out a team, such a series would likely take place in the latter part of March, Mr. Edmunds added. Plans were discussed at a meeting of the executive Wednesday night. Vancouver sponsors have signified their willingness to pay a fair share of the expenses.

PEE WEES POPULAR

In the offing also, Mr. Edmunds said, was a series here with Winnipeg Pee Wees, touring bantam puck teams which proved a sensation in their swing through western Canada last year. Two teams play against one another on most of their appearances but if they showed in Trail it was felt that a better drawing card would be to provide local opposition. Trail bantams were strong enough to give the visitors a "run for their money" Mr. Edmunds believed.

Pee Wees are anxious to include Trail in their western tour and the local executive is working on the idea now.

MINERS WIN AT BEAVERDELL

BEAVERDELL, B.C. Flashing a much improved brand of hockey, the H.B. Miners left the Beaverdell Stars trailing on the small end of a 6-3 score here Sunday.

The Miners opened the scoring when Seaman scored on a solo effort. Five minutes later he repeated on a beautiful pass from Watson. Just before the period ended, A. Day drilled a hard one at McDonell and Roberts, trying to clear, pushed the puck in.

From the faceoff for the second period, the Stars pressed their opponents hard but after four minutes of play A. Day broke free, beat the defence and gave Seaman a pass for another goal. With the score 4-0 the Stars pulled up their socks and Kernaghan scored twice in five minutes. Johnson was credited with an assist on the second goal

T. Crowe shone brilliantly on defence for the Miners. His partner, F. Day, also turned in a sparkling performance. Kernaghan was the headliner for the Stars.

L. Lycentе handled the bell. Johnson and H. Bakke were the only players to receive enforced rests.

Lineups:

Stars: McDonell; R. Bakke and H. Bakke; Johnson, Kernaghan and Houlind; Cranna, Foyle, Richter and Roberts.

Pattullo Thinks Provinces Will Back Up Ottawa

OTTAWA, Feb. 5 (CP).—Premier Pattullo of British Columbia, saw no serious difficulty today in lining up the provinces behind a scheme of amendments to the British North America act aimed at the social and economic improvement of Canada.

There was no need, or desire on the part of anyone, to bring into discussion the educational and religious rights enjoyed by any minority, he said. With that eliminated he felt there would be no obstacle placed in the way of amendments in other lines.

The west coast premier is in Ottawa negotiating agreements concerning various matters involving the Dominion and the provinces, including unemployment aids, public works agreements. He will be joined here tomorrow by his attorney-general, Hon. Gordon Sloan.

There are 50 establishments in Canada, of which 42 were in Ontario, six in British Columbia, one in Quebec and one in Saskatchewan. the PRESS BOX by ERIC RAMSDEN

Hockey opinions picked up here and there about the town and district—and worth thinking about:

Albert Euerby, if his hockey continues to improve, may get a bid for a pro tryout next season.

Glenn Vickers, booked to play his favorite position at center Saturday night, may be extremely valuable to Nelson Maple Leafs if he works as hard in Kootenay games as he did playing with the Alaskan Polar Bears here.

Pat Egan could become an effective body checker; if he was content to check his man and not smear him all over the ice.

Kimberley hockey fans are pulling for Nelson Maple Leafs to beat Trail Smoke Eaters; and believe they can do it.

Scotty Ross' Trail Tigers, junior squad, is going quite as far this season as it did last; possibly further if at full strength.

The sooner the Nelson Hockey association adopts completely and wholly C.A.H.A. regulations for junior, juvenile, bantam and midget hockey, the easier and more efficient officials of it will find their administration.

Juvenile hockey is going to produce several fine hockey players in Nelson in a few years; if present performance is any indication.

There ought to be an argument or two result from these opinions. They're not mine but I heartily subscribe to them.

Fans Guessing Miner Strength Hockey Tonight

Just what Rossland Miners will do when they take the ice at the civic centre arena tonight is something Nelson fans would like to know. It will be the fourth meeting of Miners and Maple Leafs this season. So far Nelson is one up.

Miners have had an up and down career in the league to date this season, and were apparently hitting into a real winning streak when sickness cut out several valuable players and the weakened team absorbed a succession of reversals. But it's a team that's just as likely to break out with another victory rush and make it tough for the Maple Leafs in tonight's struggle.

F. A. C. Protests Panther Victory

After being held scoreless until half way through the second period by the hard-working Fairview club, the Panthers broke loose in the latter half of the session to score four goals and added three more in the last period to win their fifth consecutive league game by a 7-0 score on Friday. Previously to the start of the game, Bert Ramsden, captain of the Fairview team, advised the Panthers' coach that the Fairview club was playing the game under protest on the grounds that Bud Emery was no longer eligible to play in the midget league through having appeared in three juvenile games, also that Alfred Ball was over midget age.

Bud Emery scored four goals with Fred Parks getting the other three. Howie Breeze and Alfred Ball were credited with assists. Art Matheson and Ted Cornfield were penalized together in the second session and in the last period Alfred Ball and George Milne were banished together.

The teams were:

Fairview A.C.: Tommy Cookson, Everett Kuhn, Cecil Maloney, George Milne, Alsid Desireau, Art Matheson, Bert Ramsden, Emmett Anderson, Jack Morgan, Reg Newell, Dennis George, Gordon Smith.

Skiers Merry at Annual Dance

Skiers and friends gathered in the gaily decorated Eagle hall when the Nelson Ski club entertained at its third annual dance Friday night.

The hall, resounding to the merry voices of the crowd, was decorated with green and white streamers, rows of fir boughs, crossed skis and poles and wheels formed from green and white streamer paper.

Supper was served from a decorated table.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By The Canadian Press

Nine years ago tonight Frenchy Belanger, Toronto flyweight, was stripped of his world title by Frankie Genaro in a 10-round bout at Toronto. Belanger previously had won a close decision over the New Yorker but the return bout was never in doubt after the halfway mark. Belanger slipped into obscurity. Now he serves beer in a Toronto tavern.

South Slocan to Meet the M. R. K.'s

South Slocan's midget hockey team will play an exhibition game with the M. R. K. bantams at the civic centre arena Saturday at 11 a.m., filling the vacancy in the morning's hockey card made by advancing the Scout-M. R. K. bantam league game to Thursday night. The visiting team comprises both midget and bantam players, captained by Ronnie Edwards, and sponsored by Lieut.-Col. John Murray.

Salmo Is Scene Boxing Tonight

Bill Flagel of Ymir and Al Kenney of Canal Flats, heavyweights, will provide the spotlight bout in Jack Vardeen's "Little Madison Square Garden" boxing show at Salmo tonight. Flagel, who has appeared twice on Nelson Sports club shows, has tough opposition in Kenney, an experienced glove tosser.

Tim Paris meets George Barnett of Ymir in a six-round semi windup. Prelim bouts include Gordon Nelson vs. Vernon Chrysler of Ymir; Alan Kalstrom vs. Robert Kuhn, Gus Flagel vs. "Terror" Roach of Salmo; and Stan Castle vs. Ernie Pounder.

Miss Martin Makes Mark in Ten Pins

Miss Kay Martin, lady 10-pin trundler spilled the maples for a 210 single in a game of 10 pins on the Gelinas alleys Thursday to set the high point for lady bowlers on these alleys so far this season.

Groups of ladies have been practicing on the alleys regularly, and are expected soon to start a competition.

LAZZERI SIGNED

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP).—Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of New York Yankees baseball club, announced tonight he had effected a compromise with Tony Lazzeri on the veteran second baseman's salary for the 1937 campaign. Lazzeri, who returned his contract which called for $12,000, the same amount he received last year, had asked for $16,000 for the coming season. Ruppert declined to say what figure had been agreed upon. The guess was around $14,000.

ACES REPLACE BUDDIES; BEAT PICK-UP GIRLS

Trail Buddies girls' basketball squad called off their game with the Nelson reps late Friday afternoon and the league-leading Aces played a pickup team as a preliminary to the Trail Colombos vs Nelson senior men's game. The Aces were working to perfection, and they took a convincing win over the pickups by a 28-12 score.

Elvera Matheson played her best game of the season to score 10 points for the winners. Doreen Dunnett was second with eight points

The half-time score showed the Aces leading 16-4, but the pickups got working together in the second half to make the game close

The teams were:

Aces: Doreen Dunnett, Margaret Thompson, Elvera Matheson Almeda Graves and Isabel Donovan.

Steve Smith and Max DesBrisay refereed.

Girls Basket Contest Clean

A feature of Wednesday evening's girls' basketball league game between the Candy Box Maple Leafs and the Aces was the fact that only three personal fouls were called on both teams in the entire game, and the fact that four of the five free shots given were converted.

Two fouls were called against the Aces, with Hazel Spiers converting three shots out of four throws. Isabel Donovan converted the only free throw given the Aces. While several of the girls were still feeling the effects of severe colds, Pauline Stangherlin of the Candy Box club was the only player unable to play.

Forsey Scores as Rangers Draw

LONDON, Feb. 5 (CP Cable).—Earl's Court Royals, cellar team of the National hockey league, won its fourth victory in 27 starts tonight, ending a long losing streak with a 6-5 win from Streatham. Southampton Vikings and Earl's Court Rangers played a 4-4 tie in a game at Southampton.

Don Willson of Bradford, Ont., Jack Forsey of Calgary and Kimberley, and Howie Peterson of Newmarket, Ont., scored for Rangers.

Ernie Elliott on Roster of Tigers

Ernie Elliott announced on Thursday evening that he had never signed any agreement to play for the Hawks club this season, and that he had signed to play for the New Grand Tigers during the balance of the local hockey season.

Sam Pasacreta has originally signed as a forward and may revert back to forward duty, although both Pasacreta and Elliott will be carried as goalies.

CHAPTER 48

Selden turned the car round in the direction of Grinfold, and proceeded up the road at a good pace. After going for about half a mile, to the astonishment of the occupants, Selden steered the car under a large overhanging tree and switched off all the lights. He waited in the dark, listening intently, and the others held their breath in tense excitement. They heard the sound of a car coming from the village, approaching rapidly at a cracking pace on such a night, and the great headlights swept the road. It passed them in a whirl of mud and water from the sopping road, the rain showing in a myriad tints before the headlights. Selden laughed heartily, and quietly switched on the lights, turning leisurely back in the direction they had come, and into a side road that led to the Abbey. Away to the left on the high ground the lights of Graham's Manor gleamed from the upper windows, but all the ground floor was in pitch darkness.

And then out of the night they heard the ominous sound of the deep baying of the bloodhounds; and the twins clung to Sylvia in sudden terror.

Reid got out to open the gate, and the car bumped its way down a mere track of the main drive, and drew up at the desolate unlighted pile of the Abbey, silent and deserted. Once inside, and the door shut, a sense of security came to the party, and Selden switched on the lights and led the way to the library. He had brought a big basket from the inn filled with provisions which would obviate going to the servants' part of the house, and soon the fire was alight and the kettle simmering.

Wont' the Colonel be annoyed?" Reid asked, looking up from the fireplace where he was attending to the fire.

"Colonel Graham!" Selden laughed softly. "That message never came from him. I saw him at the inn, and he had just returned from Grinfold. It was a clumsy ruse, but only shows, Jack, that my irksome precautions are not useless."

The time passed pleasantly enough, though there was an atmosphere of expectancy which could not be banished. Selden looked at his watch, and rose quickly. "Time I was going," he said. Don't be frightened, children, you are quite safe, and can go to bed. Tomorrow night you will be safe in your own rooms."

"You are going to leave us?" Reid said, none to pleased.

"It is absolutely necessary. But I can assure you of this, no one shall interfere with you tonight, and I shan't be far away."

"But I suppose it's no good asking you questions?" Reid said almost petulantly. "I should have thought that with this huge place entirely empty, and the fact that the attack last night showed that the hiding place is known, the danger would have been more real."

Selden clapped Reid heartily on the back. "My dear Jack, some little time ago you were complaining to me, with some heat, that you were not going to allow our young friends to be used as a bait to catch the fish. Now I have set my trap instead. That alters matters, doesn't it?"

A sudden misgiving came into Reid's mind—he took the other by the shoulder almost roughly. "You are going into danger."

"It's my trade," Selden said, smiling still. "From being the hunted I have become the hunter, and I hope to have my beasts caught before tomorrow."

"Good Luck to you—I wish I could come with you."

A whimsical smile crossed Selden's face. "You will be more useful here, and will be able to keep Miss Lawrence company when the children have gone to bed."

He went out without waiting for any comment.

* * *

The Bull Inn was doing a roaring trade in the last hour before closing time. Reports of the strange happenings at the Abbey had brought strangers from Grinfold and places further afield, and there were newshawks come to get a "story" for their papers. Selden drew his car up a short distance from the front entrance and walked round to the back, going in from the garden. A babel of talk sounded from the bar, and Selden caught a brief glimpse of the expugilist in his shirtsleeves, his mighty arms bared, serving out drinks, with the sweat of his labor covering his face.

Turning from this busy scene, Selden entered the exclusive smoking room where he had first met Colonel Graham. Here were a few of the most regular customers, who looked up with annoyance at the entry of anyone to their sanctum, but Selden was known by sight, and they were satisfied.

The maid was busy here, as the potman and even the chauffeur had been roped in to serve at the main bar and the billiards room.

The girl approached Selden, who, to establish his footing, requested her to take orders all round. The talk was all of the Abbey, and of James, the butler, who had suddenly become a huge and monstrous figure of crime, for arrest is invariably taken for a proof of guilt with such people. It appeared that most of those present had always thought he was a "wrong un", and expected that this was not the first time that he had been in the hand of the police. In fact, not a shred of good was left to James when they had finished with him.

The girl returned with a huge tray, far too heavy for her, and Selden took it and passed the drinks round. The girl was standing at the doorway waiting, and the detective gave her the tray, and held out a 10-shilling note. His back was to the room, and the door was half open.

"Have you any news for me?" he whispered.

"Mrs. Thornton has gone up to Paynton Manor. Colonel Graham asked her to come to make a statment," the girl told him.

"Good heavens!" Selden muttered under his breath. "When did she go?"

"About half an hour ago."

"She is staying here, tonight?"

"Yer, sir, Mr. Hucks is expecting her back, and I have some supper waiting for her in the dining room."

"It's now a quarter to 10—you close at 10?"

"Yes, sir," she smiled at him. "I expect it'll take 10 minutes or so to get them all out tongiht, and the village cnstable is over at Grinfold."

"When you bring my change, say I'm wanted on the phone," he whispered.

Selden turned back into the room, where tankards and glasses were raised to wish him luck. He raised his own, and waited with what patience he could for the girl to return. With the congested state of the bar, it took some minutes, during which Selden had to exchange courtesies with the farmers.

"Your change, Mr. Selden, and you are wanted on the phone."

"Thank you," he said quietly, leaving her tip on the tray and rising with apologies. He would not be long, he said.

The telephone was in the hall, and Selden very carefully shut the door leading to the bar and took off the receiver.

He called up Paynton Manor, and heard the slow thick tones of the native servant.

"Can I speak to Colonel Graham, please — Mr. Selden is my name."

"I am sorry, sar, the Colonel has gone to bed in his room in the roof, and we have orders not to disturb him."

"But this is very urgent," Selden insisted.

lews of Near Famine in Europe Helps

WINNIPEG, Feb. 5 (CP). — Re-rts of approaching famine in rts of Europe, and a growing vareness among importers of rap-ly diminishing world wheat sup-ies, resulted in sharp boosts on e Winnipeg grain exchange today. Mining and Market News

N. Y. SLUMPS

NEW YORK, Feb. 5 (AP).—Stocks suffered a relapse in today's market, many dropping 1 to 5 points, follow-ing upon President Roosevelt's pro-posal to congress that the supreme court membership be increased if necessary.

Wall street, on the whole, seemed to have been surprised by the chief executive's move and nervous trad-ers unloaded holdings at rapidly de-clining bids. Some, however, thought that nothwithstanding the generally unexpected message from the White House, a sharp reaction had been overdue in view of the lengthy price advance.

Transfers totalled 3,319,810 shares compared with 2,388,480 Thursday.

Churchmen Put On Farce Twice

"Are You a Mason?" Packs Fairview Parish Hall

"Are You a Mason?", three acts of scintillating humor, that flowed from one anti-climax of mirth to the other, was the two-hour play presented to a hall-packing audi-ence by the Fairview Churchmen's club in the Fairview parish hall on both Thursday and Friday evenings.

Not one dry moment was provided throughout the entertainment, and even in the intermissions interest was kept at a high point by suit-able music by Miss Margaret Thompson and Lorne Mahon, with piano and violin.

The story revolved around an incident in the lives of an American family. The troubles of a young and handsome husband, who suf-fered because of being young and handsome, and the troubles of a father-in-law, Amos Bloodgood, who in order to please their respective wives joined or pretended to join the Masonic order.

The cast consisted of Thomas Milburn as George Fisher, the young hubby; Reeve Harper as Frank Perry, his friend; Stan Hors-will as Amos Bloodgood, Fisher's father-in-law; Thomas Camm as John Halton; George Massey as Hamilton Travers, blackmailer; Miss Lillian Bennett as Mrs. Blood-good; Miss Ruby Morgan as Eva (Mrs. Perry); Miss Barbara Carlisle as Annie, Mrs. Perry's sister; Miss Alan McMillan as Lulu, the other sister; Mrs. A. D. Tullock as Mrs. Halton (Angeline), former spouse of Bloodgood; Miss Cynthia Nichols as Lottie; Doris Lemon as Fanchon Armitage; and Donald Sinclair as a policeman.

The play committee consisted of L. P. Walton, chairman of the pro-gram, advertising and sale of tick-ets; J. P. Horswill, Clarence Ward and William Triggs, stage finishing; and Rev. W. J. Silverwood and C. R. Craven, seating accomodation.

Aim at 15,000 Tourists Here Coming Season

Publicity Plans of 1937 Cover Much Ground

An objective of 15,000 tourists for Nelson by the ports of entry of Nelway, Paterson and others where formal records are kept, has been adopted by the tourist and publicity committee for 1937, Chairman H A. Pearson reported to the board of trade council Thursday. Last season's volume was 11,000. In neither figure does the bus traffic enter.

Plans for the issue of the new "Nelson and the Kootenays" gift book, to be issued late in the year, depend at this stage on the funds, and in this connection the committee, reenforced from the council, will wait on the city fathers next Monday night.

A sub-committee is working on possibilities of bringing conventions the coming summer in addition to any already allocated, the chairman reported.

Utilizing of Christmas cards for making a scenic appeal to the eyes of the distant friends receiving them is one of the ideas being studied, and it is proposed to approach publishers regarding the possibility of Christmas cards showing Kootenay views.

BROADCAST SERVICE

Future board of trade broadcasts over CJAT, Trail, will be under the title of the Nelson Travel Hour, with February 17 as "The Land of the Heather" night, with J. B. Gray in charge and Mrs. C. W. Tyler arranging for Nelson and Trail artists; March 17 as "The Land of the Shamrock" night, with Adolph Browne in charge; the April broadcast featuring "The Pleasant Land of Home," in charge of Rev. W. J. Silverwood.

A Kootenay weather broadcast from CJAT is being requested on behalf of the farmers, Mr. Pearson stated. Hitherto this service has been given to the Creston district by wire from Victoria.

Homersham's Apiary on Thompson Ranch

KEEPS DOG FROM WOLVES

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP).—Tige, Chick Wilson's big mongrel dog, is living in exile here because he couldn't leave the wolves alone in his former home in Timiskaming district. He has a crippled forepaw from a recent battle with two wolves.

KEG RIVER, Alta. (CP).—Eliminating the necessity of taking seriously ill persons 180 miles to Peace River or 100 miles to Fort Vermilion, a hospital will be built at this post 375 miles northwest of Edmonton. Increase in population to about 300 was believed to warrant erection of the institution, for which The Church of England will be responsible.
