BRITAIN TO JAIL RECRUITS FOR SPAIN

FRANCE MAY OCCUPY SPANISH MOROCCO

Act of 1870 Invoked to Halt Volunteers; Notes Sent Europe's Capitals

Illegal to Enlist or Recruit in Britain for War

CAN'T LEAVE WITH INTENTION TO JOIN

Soviet Paper Calls Western Nations "Cowards"

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, Jan. 10 (CP cable). — Great Britain today banned volunteers for Spain.

By radio broadcast and through the press the foreign office warned all British subjects in the United Kingdom that the Foreign Enlistment act of 1870 was applicable to the Spanish civil war.

This means any person is liable to two year's imprisonment who:

1. Accepts engagement in military, naval or air service of either side in Spain;

2. Or who induces any other person to accept an engagement with the military, naval or air forces of either side in Spain.

Trotzky in Mexico

TAMPICO, Mexico, Jan. 10 (AP). —Leon Trotzky was in Mexico tonight—in the haven European nations had refused him.

The tanker Ruth brought the one-time co-leader of Soviet Russia to Tampico Saturday from Norway, where he had been living in exile until Mexico invited him to come here and Norway expelled him.

Cecile Appears Pensive

Now what can be bothering Cecile? It could hardly be camera shyness. The fifth Dionne sister, who smiled so nicely for movie cameras in two film hits, would hardly be camera shy. Or perhaps Cecile is just temperamental and not in the mood to be photographed again.—Central Press Canadian photo.

11 Candidates Are in Ring for Eight Trail Civic Offices

TRAIL, B.C., Jan. 9—At 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Monday, January 11, will be the dead-line for presentation of nomination papers to City Clerk W. E. B. Monypenny and several citizens have the suspicion that several dark horses will be disclosed by that time.

To date no one has come forward with announcement of intention to oppose Mayor Bruno LeRose who has said he would seek re-election at the polls on Thursday, January 14.

For three aldermanic seats there are seven who have announced intention to contest. Aldermen J. L. Kitchin, John (Ice) Young and C. Lauriente are the three whose terms concluded at the end of the year and the first two will seek reelection. Alderman Lauriente who is now in California has not forwarded any intention of running again as far as can be ascertained but might arrive back in the city to file papers before the final hour.

FOUR NEW CANDIDATES

Of the four other candidates, A. A. Annandale, C. H. Jeffares, H. P. Kingwell and O. P. Westhaver, only the latter has previously held any civic office, Westhaver having served on the Trail-Tadanac and district board of school trustees.

One vacancy on the board of police commissioners exists with the conclusion of Commissioner Walter Brady's two year term. Commissioner Brady has announced he will seek office again.

Contesting him is C. A. Newman, who previously served as alderman on the Trail city council.

Although there are three vacancies on the school board only two of the retiring officers have so far announced intention of standing for reelection and no new candidates have come forward. Chairman H. J. Palmer and Trustee Charles Catalano will again stand but Trustee C. W. Guillaume to date has reserved decision.

No Blame Attached to Driver of Truck Which Knocked Down Rosalia Bertuzzi Who Died Trail Hospital

Jury Recommend Lines on Rossland Avenue for Pedestrians

DEFERRO-UNABLE GET AMBULANCE

Weather Bad, Woman Covered Face as Crossed Road

TRAIL, B.C., Jan. 10—"We find that the said Rosalia Bertuzzi came to her death at 6 o'clock a.m., January 8, 1937 in Trail-Tadanac hospital, Trail, B.C., from shock as a result of being accidently struck by a truck driven by Walton Vant on Rossland avenue in the City of Trail on January 4, 1937. We attach no blame to Walton Vant, the driver of the truck involved. We would recommend that crossing places for pedestrians be marked on Rossland avenue at certain intervals and accompanied by slow or stop signs for motor vehicles going in either direction."

The foregoing was the verdict returned by a coroner's jury which on Saturday afternoon investigated the death Friday of Mrs. Rosalia Bertuzzi. Dr. J. B. Thom, coroner presided and the jury consisted of S. R. Walley, foreman; Victor A. Folz, E. A. Jennings, Alex Irwin, Ivan H. R. Jeffery and Charles D. Kennedy.

CAUSE OF DEATH

Dr. J. S. Daly, who conducted the autopsy was the first witness called and in the conclusion of his findings stated death was due to shock and toxemia resulting from fractured left femur and extensive bruises about the face.

Dr. F. L. Wilson, who attended the injured woman told of being called to the scene of the accident on Rossland avenue, taking Rosalia Bertuzzi to hospital in the C. M. & S. company ambulance, the manner in which she was attended, of X-ray pictures being taken and a blood transfusion being made. He stated she suffered a great deal from shock.

BRAKES' CONDITION GOOD

Walton Vant, truck driver, told the jury he did not see the woman until she was right in front of the truck. He saw the brewery truck making preparations to enter the garage at the brewery and slowed down as he approached that point on his travel down Rossland avenue. He stated he did not see deceased until the brewery truck had cleared the highway. He applied the brakes immediately he saw her, he said. He stopped and found deceased underneath the front axle of the truck with one arm over the axle. His helper Sam Siminoff was with him in the truck sitting beside him. Vant pointed out that the truck was equipped with hydraulic brakes and vacuum booster. He imagined the truck stopped within 20 feet after applying the brakes. He said they were in the best of condition.

Siminoff told the jury he had not seen the woman at all. He said he saw the brewery truck indistinctly and corroborated Vant's testimony of slowing up when the brewery truck was in sight. He said he had aided two other men in carrying the injured woman across the street to the house she and her husband had been on their way to visit.

Charles Deferro, driver of the brewery truck said he had had the truck backed into the brewery for

$100,000,000 FRUIT CROP IS IN DANGER FROM FROST IN SOUTH

CALIFORNIA HAS ITS WORST COLD SPELL, 14 YEARS

Orange Crop Suffers 15 Per Cent Loss Overnight

IMPERIAL VALLEY RECORDS A FROST

Half Million Dollar Damage Done to the Crops

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10 (AP)—Anxious citrus growers fought desperately tonight to save a $100,000,000 fruit crop from the frosty touch of abnormal wintry weather, holding southern California in its tightest grip since 1922.

A canopy of brown smoke shrouded the orchards after another night of smudging the groves against the threatened blight of cold weather.

It was unofficially estimated the orange crop suffered a 15 per cent loss Friday night.

The government weather bureau cheered orchardists with a prediction that by tomorrow afternoon a break in temperature would end the coldest weather this semi-tropical region has experienced since 1922.

Low temperature in Los Angeles today was 35, but in surrounding towns the mercury dipped below the freezing point.

Freezing temperatures struck California's Imperial valley, ordinarily one of the nation's hot spots. The cold caused crop damage of $500,000.

In the southwest mountain regions airplanes were pressed into service to bring aid to snowbound persons.

Wind-driven sleet swept across south and east Texas, snapping communication lines, isolating many communities and bringing low temperatures which nipped at the rich citrus groves of the Rio Grande valley.

During the night the mercury dipped to freezing or below in many sections of California—19 at Stockton, 21 at Bakersfield, 20 at Merced and Del Monte and 23 at Porterville.

COLD MOVES EAST

CHICAGO, Jan. 10 (CP) — The sharpest siege of winter receded from the United States west and middle west tonight but a threat of traffic-hampering ice and sleet moved into the east.

As workmen in central and southern Illinois and Missouri attempted to restore normal traffic and communications after the worst sleet storm in 11 years, ice hampered travel further eastward.

As the cold snap receded in the middle west, the thermometer recorded these lows: Lander, Wyo., 20 below; Bismarck, N.D., 18 below; Huron, S.D., 14 below; Sioux City, Iowa, 16 below; Duluth, Minn., 14 below.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10 (AP)—Ellsworth Vines, ill since opening a professional tennis tour with Fred Perry Wednesday night, entered St. Luke's hospital for a rest today and it appeared that at least one engagement of the tour would be cancelled.

$250,000 FIRE AT SUDBURY

SUDBURY, Ont., Jan. 10 (CP). —Fire gutted the three-story New American hotel here early today, causing $250,000 damage and sending about 60 guests and employees scurrying from the 40-year-old building.

Manager W. Flanagan and his wife, still in night attire, carried their child from the flaming building. Several women raced down the back fire escape, screaming, while other guests ran down the wooden stairway.

Chief Constable D. Louden was struck by falling bricks, resulting in several cracked ribs, when he rushed to the rescue of Volunteer Fireman A. R. Cooper, manager of the Loblaws Groceteria, as the entire wall of the three-story structure toppled.

Fireman George J. Noble suffered minor injuries to his hip as he crawled to safety from the toppling wall.

Flames were brought under control about 10 a.m. A few of the bare walls remained standing and small fires continued to break out until evening.

CANDIDATES IN FIELD FOR ALL CIVIC OFFICES

Election Is Assured for Mayoralty and Council Seats

FOUR OFFERING SCHOOL BOARD

Four Vacant Seats; No Opposition Police Commissioner

Candidates are in the field for all civic vacancies in Nelson, and an election race is in prospect for two divisions of the four departments of civic service — the mayoralty and council. So far as was known Sunday night, there were candidates sufficient only to fill vacancies for the two other divisions, school board and police commission.

Today is nomination day and no additional nominations will be possible after 2 p.m.

J. P. Morgan, retiring mayor offering for reelection, is opposed by T. H. Waters, retiring alderman.

For the council fire candidates are in the field for three vacancies caused by the expiration of the terms of Aldermen Waters, Roy Sharp and A. G. Ritchie. Aldermen Sharp and Ritchie are candidates for reelection, and Spence J. Newell, John Draper and P. G. Morey are also offering.

Of the retiring members of the school board only A. T. Horswill is withdrawing from this field of activity. A. A. Perrier, D. L. Rees and F. T. Griffith are again in the field, though Mr. Griffith had intended to retire. Eric P. Dawson, a former trustee who retired a year ago, is the fourth candidate for the board. There are four seats to fill.

Gordon Bennett, retiring police commissioner, is unopposed as he offers for reelection to this office.

6-1 for Syracuse

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Jan. 10 (CP).—Syracuse Stars defeated Springfield Indians 6-1 tonight in an International-American Hockey League game. Near the end Tommy Filmore spoiled Syracuse shut-out aspirations while two Stars and an Indian were in the penalty box. Mann and Parsons, with two each, Locking and Convey were the Stars' snipers.

J. W. de B. Farris Now a Senator

Appointment of Vancouver Lawyer, Former B.C. Attorney General, Announced at Ottawa

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King tonight announced the appointment of J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., of Vancouver to the senate.

Appointment of Mr. Farris fills the senate vacancy created by the death last summer of Hon. Charles McDonald who held his seat for less than a year. It also reduced to two the number of official vacancies in the Red Chamber. Both are in Quebec.

A potential vacancy exists in the Alberta seat of Senator Pat Burns who has been ill for the last two years and unable to attend sessions of the upper chamber. It was believed likely, however, the senate will disregard Senator Burns' absence, this year at least.

Appointment of Mr. Farris makes the party standing in the senate: Conservative 62, Liberal 32, vacant two.

FORMER CABINET MINISTER

VANCOUVER, Jan. 10 (CP).—John Wallace de Beque Farris, K.C., whose appointment to the senate was announced in Ottawa tonight, has been prominent in British Columbia legal and political circles for more than 20 years.

He is a former Liberal attorney-general and miniser of labor for the province and has appeared before the privy council in London on eight occasions.

His last appearance before the privy council was last December when he represented British Columbia in connection with legislation passed by the Conservative government of Hon. R. B. Bennett.

Born in White's Cove, N.B., in 1878, the son of the late Lauchlan P. and Mary Louise Farris, he was educated at St. Martin's seminary, New Brunswick, Acadia university, N.B., and University of Pennsylvania.

After reading law for a short time with the firm of Weldon & McLean, St. John, N.B., he came to British Columbia where he was called to the bar in 1903.

The newly-appointed senator is Dominion vice-president of the Canadian Bar association and president of the British Columbia Bar association

Six in Hospital, Two Seriously Hurt, as Coast Takes to Sleighs

VANCOUVER, Jan. 10 (CP). — Six young people were in hospital here tonight, two in serious condition, with injuries suffered in sleighing accidents as hundreds of youths flocked to snow and ice-coated hills in and around Vancouver.

The most seriously injured was 19-year-old George Campbell who suffered a possible fractured skull, fractured arm and possible internal injuries when a sleigh on which he was riding with Ken Walker, 14, collided with a truck in the east end of the city today. Walker suffered a fractured leg.

Norman Seaton, 14, suffered injuries to his leg and back when his sleigh struck a tree on Quilchena golf course. His condition was also reported serious.

Willow Black, 19-year-old Vancouver girl, and 16-year-old Lawrence Young were injured in similar accidents at the golf course late yesterday. Both were reported in good condition tonight.

Roderick Hamilton, 13, suffered internal injuries last night when a sleigh on which he was coasting down hill struck a rock. His condition was reported good tonight.

Although streets and arterial highways were coated with ice few traffic accidents wre reported to police.

Robert Alfred, 26, suffered a cut scalp when struck by an automobile as he crossed a suburban street. His condition was reported good.

Seven Stores Burn as Fire Guts the Business Section of Nanaimo

NANAIMO, B.C., Jan. 10 (CP).—Fire swept through the business section of this Vancouver Island mining city today destroying seven stores and bringing injury to three firemen. Loss was estimated at $75,000.

James Anthony suffered a broken ankle and Albert Dunn and William Gordon head injuries when the verandah of one of the blazing buildings collapsed while they were battling to bring the fire under control.

Cause of the fire was unknown but it was believed to have started in the basement of Powers, Doyle & Derry, men's clothiers.

The flames spread rapidly through adjoining frame structures. The Williams block, 60-year-old business block housing a barber shop, jewelry store, women's clothing store and a tobacconist, next fell prey to the flames which later spread to an adjacent jewelry store and a shoe repair shop.

The three firemen were injured when the verandah of the Williams block collapsed and they were struck by timbers as the roof fell in. They were quickly dragged to safety by fellow firemen and taken to hospital where none was said to be in serious condition.

All available fire apparatus was rushed to the scene, in the center of the city's business district, and volunteers joined regular firemen to battle the flames which raged uncontrolled for three hours.

Hundreds of residents flocked to the fire attracted by the huge billows of smoke which rolled out over the harbor.

Canada's Revenue Up $52,639,194

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP).—The comptroller of the treasury reported tonight Canada's revenue for the nine months of the fiscal year ending March 31 at $340,931,862, compared with $288,292,668 for the last fiscal year, an increase of $52,639,194.

Total ordinary expenditures for the nine months totalled $276,513,732 against $270,058,351 the first nine months of last fiscal year.

SAWMILL FIRE LOSS IS $10,000 AT SLOCAN PK.

Loss estimated by the owners at $10,000 was caused by a fire which destroyed the boiler house of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood sawmill at Slocan Park, known also as "the old Koch Siding mill."

The plant had not been in operation, and it was planned to resume operations Saturday to turn out a quantity of lumber which had been ordered. Friday a fire was started in the boiler in preparation for the reopening of the plant, but it was said to have been extinguished before the men left for the night.

A Doukhobor going to his barn about 3:30 Saturday morning saw the flames and turned in an alarm, it is stated, and the mill employees were able to confine the damage to this part of the plant. The planer mill started to burn but the fire fighters were able to save it.

The boiler house building was valued at about $1000 and the boiler and other machinery in it at $9000. It is understood there was no insurance.

Britain Expected to Aid France When Action Taken

REPORTS DENIED

CASABALANCA, French Zone, Morocco, Jan. 10 (AP) —High Commissioner Beigbeder of Spanish Morocco declared in a telephone interview today there were no foreign troops in his territory.

Speaking from Tetuan, the high commissioner denied categorically that German soldiers had entered the Spanish Moroccan zone.

He denounced reports of German troops arrivals as "an odious marxist manoeuvre—both Spanish and Russian—intended to pioson the international situation."

High Commissioner Beigbeder, former Spanish military attache in Berlin, continued:

"You can declare no soldier, German, Italian or even Japanese—for they will soon invent news of Japanese landing—has crossed our frontiers."

GERMANY GETS BACK PROPERTY GIVEN PORTUGAL IN GREAT WAR

Argeement Signed in June Effective Dec. 18 Official Gazette Reveals in Berlin

BERLIN, Jan. 10 (AP).—Chancellor Hitler returned from his Berchtesgaden estate today for a belated New Year's diplomatic reception to find another British note urging him to take immediate steps to halt the flow of volunteers to Spain.

The British embassy received instructions from Foreign Secretary Eden today and said the new note will be in Hitler's hands tomorrow before the diplomatic corps assembles at noon at Hindenburg palace.

It was disclosed Germany, which has courted Portuguese friendship simultaneously with her drive for colonies, has succeeded in getting Portugal to forego the right of German property acquired through the treaty of Versailles and The Hague convention of September 1, 1929.

Portugal by a treaty signed June 29, 1936, effective last December 18, agreed to turn back to German certain properties taken over during the Great War, both in Portugal and Portuguese colonies, and to reestablish fully the rights and interests of German citizens and companies.

The agreement was published in the last issue of the official gazette. Officials said it was regarded here as a step towards closed friendship between the countries.

Authoritative quarters predicted a cool reception for the new note, which announced Britain already has declared a ban on volunteers, because Hitler's answer to last week's Franco-British note laid down specific conditions to acceptance—that all other nations cooperate, and that effective means be devised to enforce a volunteer ban.

The press denounced as "foreign lies" the reported existence of German troops in Spanish Morocco.

Workers Demand Agreement in Writing if to Leave G. M. C. Plants

General Motors Men Refuse; 93,849 Are Still Idle

DETROIT, Jan. 10 (AP)—Peace negotiations in the United States automotive strikes that have closed General Motors plants in 15 cities were stalled tonight, temporarily at least, on the issue of plant evacuation by union members.

Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan, however, was hopeful statements of attitude by both sides had left the way open for further parley efforts. James Dewey, head of the federal conciliation department, conferred with Murphy.

Only the conditions upon which the United Automobile Workers of America would withdraw its "sit down" strikes in five General Motors plants apparently stood in the way of a joint conference between the two sides to the controversy.

The union expressed willingness to withdraw the men but stipulated guarantees "in writing" which General Motors declined as placing it in the position of condoning "illegal occupation of our plants."

The union stipulation was that no effort be made to operate the plants or remove equipment while negotiations were in progress.

On all other differences developed in the controversy that to date has made 93,849 General Motors employees idle, both sides apparently were ready to negotiate.

General Motors planned to resume scheduled activities in its Buick, Pontiac and Oldsmobile divisions tomorrow morning in keeping with Knudsen's statement that "we will keep going as long as a car can be made," but C. L. McCuen, president of Oldsmobile, said his plant and Fisher body unit at Lansing might be forced to close Tuesday night or Wednesday because of shortage of supplies. The two plants employ approximately 12,000 workers. None of them are on strike.

TRAIL POLICE DEPARTMENT IS HIGHLY COMMENDED ON YEAR'S WORK BY MAYOR BRUNO LEROSE

Claims Understaffing of Force Is to Keep Down Expenses

TRAIL, B.C., Jan. 10.—Following reading of the annual report of Chief of Police John Laurie, which was accepted, Mayor LeRose discussed at large its contents and highly commended the department for its work during the year closed, at a meeting of the board of police commissioners.

"I wish I could address a large number of citizens and tell them what is in my mind," he began.

"This has been my fourth term of office and I know that the work of this department has increased every year. In 1936 the department experienced a year that was the hardest I can remember since 1923 when I first became a member of the city council.

"From the beginning of that year the department had much hard luck. When the lost child was sought I know the men were on duty 24 hours for several days. The police commission tried to do its best to find the child and never denied anything that was thought might aid locating him. There was also a murder and many other cases that involved considerable extra work besides the general routine.

"The people of Trail are equal to the best citizens in Canada but as Trail is a payroll town many drifters enter the city and it gives the police force much to do keeping track of them.

"Im here every day and I see what the department is doing. I feel they should be highly complimented. I have heard a lot outside talking but people just criticize and often don't know what for.

"If there is anything wrong don't think the police and the commission let it get away from them.

"It is easy enough to make mistakes. Only people who do nothing are spared from erring.

FORCE DID BEST

"Our police force has done its best and each member of it although working more than 70 hours a week never ask for a day off when the department is busy and needs them.

"We know the department is understaffed. No one knows that as well as we do. But we keep the department understaffed to save expense to the ratepayers. All the departments of the city have cooperated to the full and are worthy of high commendation.

"The commission has promised the police department means of transportation for five or six years. We all realize the necessity of it if the department is to work with greater efficiency. But I don't think there are any complaints coming regarding the force's present standard.

NO COMPLAINTS

"I want to ask the citizens that when they have a complaint to make they know where the mayor lives, and where other members of the police commission live. We are in town all the time and easily reached. But I have had no direct complaints during the year 1936.

"Regarding a recent letter in a local paper knocking the police department I feel that it is only one person complaining. I believe it is the same person that wrote previous similar letters.

"People say that the police are not watching things that have been going on around town.

"Regarding New Year's eve, if there is anyone to take any blame it is me, not the chief of police.

"If they don't want people to drink liquor they should close the liquor store.

"We can't put all our citizens in jail. If people who made a little noise on New Year's eve were arrested we would have to put about 50 per cent of our citizens in jail.

"I told the chief I didn't want any prosecutions. Around Christmas and New Year's I like to see people enjoy themselves. Of course if they get reckless and do damage, that is different.

"About the younger people, I feel parents are a lot to blame for their behavior on such occasions.

"As far as I am concerned I appreciate the work carried out by the police department and hope it will be conducted in the same manner in 1937.

"I never yet have seen anything in papers about other police commissions in this district but I have nothing to say against the papers which publish our meetings. Sometimes they publish a dispute but on the whole they cooperate splendidly.

"The reporters are nice and decent."

Dr. J. H. Bennett Laid at Rest by Masonic Service

Large Number Attend Services; Flowers Are Numerous

A full Masonic funeral was accorded Dr. J. H. Bennett Saturday afternoon. Members of the order marched from the Masonic temple to the Bennett home on Baker street where the funeral service was conducted by Archdeacon Fred H. Graham, a past master. The service at the graveside in the Masonic plot of the Nelson cemetery was conducted by Dr. C. E. Bradshaw, master of Nelson lodge. Members of the Kootenay Lake General hospital nursing staff and private members of the Registered Nurses' association attended in a body. The medical profession was largely represented. Many friends were also in attendance. Floral tributes were especially numerous.

Hymn sung at the service in the home was "O Come All Ye Disconsolate," a favorite of Dr. Bennett's.

Pall bearers were Dr. R. B. Shaw, Dr. H. H. MacKenzie, Dr. D. W. McKay, E. A. Mann, J. B. Gray and J. C. Forbes, all of the Masonic order.

Dr. John Henry Bennett was born on a farm at Gorrie, Ont., in June, 1879, and died Tuesday, January 5, shortly before midnight, in the Kootenay Lake General hospital. He obtained the degrees of bachelor of medicine and doctor of medicine from the University of Toronto, graduating in 1904. Later he took post-graduate work at New York and at the Mayo Brothers' clinic in Rochester. He came to Nelson in 1922 after practicing in a small town in southern Ontario and as company surgeon of the International Nickel company at the Creighton mines and Copper Cliffe.

He leaves his wife and two sons, Dr. Clare and Allan, in Nelson.

Trail Legion Is Host, Smoker

TRAIL, B.C., Jan. 10.—Although attended by a comparatively small number, a smoker conducted by Trail branch No. 11, Canadian Legion, at the Memorial hall Saturday was thoroughly enjoyed. Community singing was a feature.

Entertainment was provided by the following: John Wilson, piano solo; Cecil Stratton, vocal solo; Cecil Turner, piano accordion solo; Mr. Spencer, monologue; Bill Cooper, harmonica solos; H. A. MacLaren, comic songs; Ernie Leschuitta, accordion solo; Thomas Wilson, violin solo; Ed Halsey, cornet solo. Mrs. R. W. Watson was piano accompanist. Mr. Wilson's orchestra contributed to the musical features of the evening.

SELINGER AND BARNETT DRAW VARDEEN SHOW

With all the "fixin's" for a fine show, including a new ring, white-garbed seconds and other ring attendants even to a young peanut-vendor, Jack Vardeen's "Little Madison Square Garden" presented its first boxing show at the Legion gym Saturday night. Between cold weather, a change of address and a change of show night, attendance was not what it might have been but it was encouraging and the program was worth all that encouragement. Promoter Vardeen looked after the announcing and Bill Freno was the third man in the ring.

George Barnett of Ymir and Lawrence Selinger, N.S.C. protege, in the star bout boxed the first round and went into the second full of fire, slowing a little toward the end of the round but again coming out fast in the third. Barnett brought a claret to Selinger's nose in the closing attack of the third. Selinger had Barnett groggy in the fourth but the Ymir boy weathered the storm and was as ready to go as Selinger at the final bell. It was a draw.

Plenty of infighting marked the opening round of the Tim Paris—Morrie Morris tangle, other half of the double main event. Paris' crouch was tough for Morris, but the latter up fairly effectively when they got to close quarters. Morris drew the claret to Paris' nose in the second round. Tim went better in the third and fourth and there was no quarrel with Referee Freno's draw decision.

Less schooled but willing all the way and pushing the attack in the third round though contributing claret to the general color of the bout, Laurence Wigg won a close decision over "Kayo" Castle in the opener.

FAN PLEASERS

Those fan-pleasing leather pushers, "Tarzan" Milburn and "Dynamite" Swain, loving their gloves, milling, and greatly improved in style and because of that easing off the slugging attacks that made their first popularity, went three rounds to a draw,

Billed for three rounds of action, Ernie Pounder and Roy Bobier were reluctant to get together at the start but pulled no punches when they got going and took turns rushing each other into and almost through the ropes. Their willingness was tempered when Pounder injured his thumb and Bobeir eased the pressure of his attack. This also was a draw.

Two young fellows showing marked improvement since they first appeared on a Nelson Sports club card three months ago, Beverley Cady and Gordon Nelson, filled their three rounds with action. Nelson's more effective attack won the decision.

Draws Made for Lady Curlers

Going into the second week of their Ledingham competition Nelson lady curlers plan another 10 games this week. Play will take place on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

Draws for the week are:

Tuesday—Mrs. Alex Dingwall vs. Mrs. George Cady; Mrs. W. Kline vs. Mrs. John Gansner.

Thursday — Mrs. L. Maddin vs. Mrs. Alex Dingwall.

Friday—Mrs. Andy Kraft vs. Mrs. John Gansner; Mrs. L. Maddin vs. T. A. Wallace; Mrs. George Cady vs. Mrs. Tom Bishop.

Ban on Sneezers Across Line

SPOKANE, (CP)—Mid-winter vacation time loomed unexpectedly over the week-end for some employees of the Washington Water Power company when department heads were instructed to send home at once all workers who begin to cough or sneeze.

The order was issued to forestall a possible influenza epidemic.

Spokane has had relatively little influenza which has taken a heavy toll of life throughout the United States and in Europe. Only two flu deaths and six attributed to pneumonia were reported in the first eight days of January.

ON WANE IN N.Y.

NEW YORK (CP)—Commissioner of Hospitals Coldwater gave no instructions Sunday for tabulations of new cases of flu and pneumonia in New York and indicated the virulence of the flu attack was on the wane.

Jack Draper Is Again in Field for the Council

During his 16 years residence in Nelson Mr. Draper has been active in community welfare in several directions, particularly in connection with the Christmas Cheer and Welfare association, of which he is now president. A keen lawn bowler, he is an honorary president of the B. C. Lawn Bowling association, and has been one of the leaders in bowling locally and in the district.

He has also been an active supporter of the Nelson Boys' band, and has been active in I. O. O. F. circles.

Offering for the council three times previously, Mr. Draper missed election by a few votes each time, running fourth by a slim margin when there were three vacancies to be filled.

An Aldermanic Battle Looming for Rossland

ROSSLAND, B.C., Jan. 10.—From the present outlook, Mayor W. A. Arrowsmith is not to be opposed. The three councilmen whose terms have expired are understood to be in the running for reelection, James F. Cooper, W. G. Mara and A. Bourget. Opposing them is F. J. Buckles, a smelterman, who has been a resident of the city for 11 years. John Gordon and John Bryan are also understood to be lining up for the council, so the ratepayers are assured of a ballot being called for.

Maple Leafs in Trail Tonight

On the trail their supporters hope will carry them to the top in the Kootenay hockey league, Nelson Maple Leafs travel tonight to Trail to take on Canucks, the fourth meeting of the season of these two teams. Leafs have been on the upgrade recently.

In their three games to date Canucks and Leafs have divided honors, each team winning once and drawing once.

There has been a good deal of talk to the effect that Coach Pat Aitken of the Leafs might step into uniform to strengthen the team, but Pat has not made any definite announcement to this effect. He has been right "in there" with the boys during their long session of workouts and is in shape to go should he decide to get into it.

HITLER HESITATES

PARIS, (CP) Havas News Agency in a despatch from Berlin, stated Saturday it had been confirmed there that reichs Chancellor Hitler, confronted with the resignation of his chief admiral and threatened resignation of his army chief-of-staff, "has not yet dared to send an army expeditionary force to the aid of General Francisco Franco." But blackshirted Nazis, ultra-powerful weapons and war technicians have been rushed to Spain because Hitler demands an insurgent victory at any costs, the despatch added.

Canucks Out to Beat Nelson

TRAIL, B.C., Jan. 10. — Feeling slightly down in "the dumps" after taking a beating from Rossland Trail Canucks sought high levels Sunday night when they went to the mining town for a stiff workout at the rink there.

Canucks have drawn one, lost one and won one in matches played with Nelson and promise to do their utmost to defeat the Maple Leafs here Monday night.

Coach Rene Morin had McIntyre working on right wing with Cook at center and Kaleta at left wing as he had previous to bringing Wade up from defence to right wing in the last game. The remainder of the team will be the same with Scodallero in goal; Wade, Parkhurst, Thompson and Kendall on defence; and Kinnear, Benoit and Marshall forming the other string.

Trail Orioles Win From Nelson 37-13

TRAIL, B.C., Jan. 10.—Trail Orioles, leading ladies' team of the city league, organized for several years, handed a much younger Nelson girls' team a 37-13 drubbing in an exhibition hoop game here Saturday night.

With only a week's practice behind them, the visitors were sadly lacking in the arts of the game but showed great improvement over the first quarter as the play advanced. However, they displayed a keen fighting spirit and kept digging in to make the scoring by their adversaries as difficult as possible.

Teams and scores follow:

Nelson — E. Matheson 2, Isabel Donovan, Almeda Graves, Carmella Del Puppo 2, Rosa Stewart, Deanie Wallace, Phyllis Wallace 4, Pauline Stangherlin and Hazel Spiers.

Trail—Pauline Loblick 12, Dixie Edwards 4, Lily Saprunoff, Jean Davidson 11, Molly White 8, Mary Adamchuk and Rose Severn.

Eric Dawson Is Candidate for School Trustee

Fourth Candidate for Four Vacancies on the Board

Eric P. Dawson, barrister, former member of the Nelson board of school trustees, was announced Sunday night as a candidate for reelection to the school board at the civic elections.

Mr. Dawson served a complete term on the board and resigned a year ago after completing half of his second two-year term, illness in his family forcing him to retire.

Four trustees are completing their terms—A. T. Horswill, F. T. Griffiths, A. A. Perrier and D. L. Rees. Mr. Horswill has withdrawn owing to the pressure of business and other activities. The three others whose terms are complete have announced their candidature for reelection. With Mr. Dawson's entry there are four candidates for four vacancies.

Mr. Rees has been a member of the board for six years, Mr. Griffith for two years and Mr. Perrier for one year.

Nelson Junior Hockey Reps to Have Workouts

Special practice hours are to be given over to the choice of the junior hockey talent in Nelson, under the tutelage of Pat Aitken, senior coach.

The team as outlined contains players from each of the three junior teams, and these players are to turn out for their first workouts as a team at 6:30 Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

For goal Elliott of the Hawks and Pisacreta of the Tigers are to battle it out for regular duties between the pipes. The defence will consist of McCracken and French of the F.A.C. and Horswill of Tigers.

For one forward line the F.A.C. first string, Mayo, Campbell and Dick Wallace, has been given the call and for the other the Tigers' top performers, Beattie, Taylor, Gore and McEwan. Pete Lutkiwich is chosen from the Hawks for forward duty also.

Inter-City Game With Nelson Adds Zest to Basketball Sport at Trail

Trail Wins 50-30 in Tilt That Pleased Good Crowd

INTER-CITY LOOP PLANS DISCUSSED

Nelson Shows Promise of Providing Trail Stiff Opposition

TRAIL, B.C., Jan. 10—Despite a Nelson senior men's basketball team coming out on the short end of a 50-30 score chalked in a tilt here with Trail representative team Saturday night, fans reacted favorably toward the exhibition.

Nelson now having available the large hall in the Civic Centre for the hoop game and anxious to get going, a possible inter-city loop was discussed by players following the game.

The fact that inter-city play is a boon to the sport was indicated in the large attendance which was far larger than any assemblage of spectators at any fixtures of the first half of the city league.

START CLOSE

Nelson's hurriedly picked team, which had had little or no practice this season handed fans a thrill at the outset of the fixture when they romped along parallel to the local squad at scoring.

The first three minutes of play was keenly contested with neither team caging the ball. Merlo of Trail was first to break through the visitor's guard when he scored on the end of a combination of short fast passes. Cherrington tossed one in to even the count but soon Miller set Trail again in the lead. Graves scored and then Miller sunk another to put Trail again in the lead, which was maintained and increased from then on. Carl Baillie and Bruno Merlo tallied for four more points after which Graves scored for Nelson. Miller, resting under the net, received a long pass to score again putting Trail ahead at quarter time 14-8.

Half time score was 24-14 for Trail.

With Nelson having only two substitutes, it was remarkable the manner in which they tenaciously clung to their adversaries who set a terrific pace.

NO PUSH-OVER

It was no push-over for the Trail rep squad, every basket scored being obtained by well planned and practiced combination attacks.

Hughie Miller was the big gun of the home team, running up a score of 14 points. Miller was in the game continuously and figured in almost as many baskets his teammates sank as he himself dropped in.

For the visitors, lofty Cherrington led in scoring nabbing 12 points. F. Graves was a close second with 10 points.

Teams and scores were:

Nelson — Patterson 4, Cherrington 12, Smith 4, Carter, Murraro, F. Graves 10, White.

Trail—P. Smith 4, LeRoy 2, Baillie 4, Merlo 8, Sammartino 8, Scott 4, Strachan 2, Miller 14, Burrows 4 and Pagnan.

King winter slackened his icy grip on Nelson and vicinity slightly over the week-end and the mercury came to a halt at a low of one degree below zero Saturday afternoon, measuring the minimum for the two days. Sunday at noon when the sun was in the middle of its two hour stay the highest temperature of the cold spell was noted when the glass showed a high of 18 degrees, after having showed a low of two above for the 24 hours ending at 4:30 p.m. However, after the sun disappeared a slight wind sprang up and the mercury began to drop steadily and at 4:30 p.m. was at six above while at 7:15 p.m. it was falling more rapidly and was at three above. The weather man promised even colder weather to come. The maximum temperature for Saturday was 15 degrees above zero.

Skating activities on the ice-covered surface of the West Arm were cut short by a fairly heavy fall of snow beginning late Saturday and continuing well on into Sunday morning, adding another two inches to the covering already on the ground. However, a few enthusiasts journeyed to the lake with plows and shovels and cleared a sheet preparatory to enjoying an afternoon skate. Slight flurries of snow were experienced early Saturday morning.

MRS. IBBITSON HEADS INSTITUTE AT CRESTON; YEAR IS SUCCESSFUL

$51 Spent on Social Welfare; Sponsored School Fair

CRESTON, B.C.—Due the blustery weather that prevailed Monday afternoon the turnout of members for the annual meeting of Creston and District Women's institute was below par. The gathering was in charge of the president, Mrs. R. Ibbitson, who presented a statement covering the year's operations of the institute, and a more comprehensive report of the year's proceedings was submitted by the retiring secretary, Mrs. J. E. Johnston. After meeting all expenses the treasurer's report showed a balance of $25 to start 1937. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. R. Ibbitson; vice-president, Mrs. H. W. MacLaren; directors, Mrs. G. Vigne and Mrs. "Bud" Andrews. The fifth director, who will likely be secretary-treasurer, will be named at the meeting in January. The office was declined by Mrs. Johnston, who has been secretary for two years. January meeting will be at the home of Mrs. M. Young, with Mrs. Mallandaine assisting. Tea hostesses at the annual meeting were Mrs. Ibittson, Mrs. MacLaren, Mrs. C. Murrell and Mrs. Andrews, all of the 1936 executive.

RAISED $115

The financial statement revealed that during the year the institute had raised $115 by teas, raffles, bridges, etc., and including teas, and miscellaneous ways $235 had been raised in all; $51 was spent on social welfare, $42 was donated hospital institutions, etc. The institute ward at Creston hospital had received a full share of consideration.

The school fair was sponsored with five schools competing all of which received a share of the prizes. A baking contest was backed by the institute and the proceeds used for Christmas hampers through the Knights of Pythias hamper committee.

The institute was represented at the B.C. institutes' provincial conference at Vancouver by Mrs. Johnston, who reported fully on the get-together on her return. The most active committee for the year was the social welfare, on whose recommends $51 was spent on local welfare effort. First aid kits at the schools were kept fully stocked, and one member donated 10 pairs of mitts for school children. The donation to the hamper fund of the Knights of Pythias was $20.

RENOVATE FLAG

Mrs. A. R. Lynn and Mrs. A. B. Ness of the home economics committee did splendid work renovating the institute flag which was worked several years ago by members of the institute. A first-class job of repair was done by these ladies. Throughout the year, when flowers were available the cenotaph was decorated by Mrs. F. C. Rodgers. The social features included: party to celebrate the institute's twenty-first anniversary, and a farewell party for Mrs. R. L. Skillicorn on her departure to reside at Bridge River. She was presented with an electric table lamp.

"TIRED" ALL THE TIME

She felt miserable—draggy—low in vitality—lower in spirits. She hadn't thought of her kidneys, until a friend suggested Dodd's Kidney Pills. At once she took Dodd's. The "washed out" feeling was soon replaced by clear headed energy and restful sleep. Headache, backache, lassitude and other signs of faulty kidneys disappeared. 112

Ask Your Husband to Help You

END A COLD Quicker

Of course, you can really do most of this yourself. But he'll gladly help you end the misery of your cold.

Massage VapoRub briskly on the throat, chest and back (between and below the shoulder blades). Then spread it thick over the chest and cover with warmed cloth.

Already, your VapoRub has begun to bring relief—two ways at once:

1. Through the Skin. VapoRub acts direct through the skin like a poultice or plaster.

2. Medicated Vapors. At the same time, its medicated vapors, released by body heat, are breathed in for hours—about 18 times a minute—direct to the irritated air-passages of the nose, throat and chest.

This combined poultice-and-vapor action eases the breathing—loosens phlegm—relieves irritation—helps break congestion.

While you relax into comfortable sleep, VapoRub's two-way treatment keeps right on working. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Now White—Stainless

Thanks to a new process, VapoRub now comes to you in white stainless form. Only the color is removed; it is the same VapoRub—the same formula and the same effective double action.

BONNINGTON NEW YEAR DANCE IS MERRY ONE

BONNINGTON, B.C. — A New Year's eve dance in the West Kootenay Power and Light company's hall under auspices of the Badminton club proved to be the merriest for years.

The hall was a brilliant scene with its attractive decorations in Yuletide colorings. Streamers were arranged on the walls while overhead red and green crepe paper was used in a basket weave canopy, further enhanced with a draped center light in chandelier effect. The stage setting, where the orchestra played was like a fairy bower scintillating with colored lights.

The committee was composed of R. McFadden, G. Biddlecombe, E. Gordon, R. Kennedy and J. Thompson.

Mrs. E. Gordon, Mrs. C. H. Bland, Mrs. W. C. Motley and Mrs. W. G. Elsdon were in charge of the supper arrangements.

"SACRAMENT" IS SUBJECT LESSON-SERMON, NELSON

"SACRAMENT" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text was: "Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies" (Psalms, 23: 5).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me" (Luke 22: 19).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "His followers, sorrowful and silent, anticipating the hour of their Master's betrayal, partook of the heavenly manna, which of old had fed in the wilderness the persecuted followers of the Truth. Their bread indeed came down from heaven. It was the great truth of spiritual being, healing the sick and casting out error. Their Master had explained it all before, and now this bread was feeding and sustaining them. They had borne this bread from house to house, breaking (explaining) it to others, and now it comforted themselves."

ABERDEEN HOLDS LEAD; HEART AND RANGERS IN TIE WITH THE CELTS

GLASGOW, Jan. 10 (CP Cable)—The home stretch has been turned in the Scottish football league and Aberdeen supporters have their fingers crossed. Mindful of last season's campaign when they led the circuit for a greater part of the race only to be passed by Celtic and Glasgow Rangers, the Dons are hoping for a continuance of championship form.

Undisputed leaders of the loop since Aug. 22, Aberdeen has kept clear of the triumvirate of Celtic Rangers and Hearts and today boast a four-point lead. They came through the hard year-opening grind of two games in two days with colors flying and Saturday went home with a neat 4-2 decision over Partick Thistle at Glasgow.

A newcomer from South Africa, R. Strauss, has been a big cog in the smooth-working machine. He seldom goes through a game without scoring and against the Thistles boosted his total by two, splitting his goals in the first and second periods. Mills and Beynon got the other pair, against McKennan and Wallace counters in the first 45 minutes.

There were many team changes owing to an epidemic of influenza throughout England and Scotland. Celtic was hit hard, James McGrory, brilliant centre-forward going to outside left and Carruth making his debut at centre-forward. The changes did not weaken the champion's line although they had to fight hard, tinged with some aid from lady luck, to gain a 3-3 tie with Kilmarnock.

CELTS IN EARLY LEAD

Carruth gave the Celts an early lead but it was wiped out before the first-half whistle when Beattie and Collins climaxed dangerous rushes with counters. Carruth again netted but J. Robertson sent the home team in the lead. Eight minutes from time McGrory's shot was deflected into the Killies' net by Anderson, Kilmarnock half-back, to give the Celts the division in points.

Rangers and Hearts, in a tie with Celtic for the runner-up position with 39 points, returned comfortable wins. The cupholders smothered Arbroath under a 4-0 avalanche while Third Lanark could score only two goals against Hearts' five.

Motherwell hopped into a fifth-position tie with Third Lanark with a clear 2-0 margin over Queen of South. Both goals were scored in the first half, Stewart and Ogilvie getting the markers.

Glasgow's amateurs, Queen's Park Rangers, bowed to Falkirk 6-3 in the highest-scoring contest of the day. Keyes led the Falkirk marksmen with three, Dawson, Carruthers and Nisbet completing the bout. The amateurs replied once in the first half through Dodds, Kinghorn and Martin, bulging the twine after the interval.

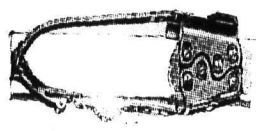
Ski-ing

By Charles Schaer

Swiss Ski Instructor



A good binding with adjustable toe plates that can be made to fit every ski boot

12. SKI BINDINGS

Bindings or harness must be well fitted. There must be no sideways play of the foot in the bindings and this is an essential qualification. The boot must be firmly attached to the ski but not too far forward in the toe irons.

Harness can be secured (an illustration is given) which will give an accurate toe fitting to every foot. the toe irons being adjustable to the size of the foot by moving a few screws. It is imperative that these irons be properly adjusted to fit the boot and then kept tight.

There are several types of bindings that have been proven satisfactory, the essential being that they hold the boot in place on the ski without slipping, and yet allow for freedom of movement. In attaching your skis make sure that the bindings will remain in place, will hold your foot in the correct position yet will not hamper your movements, or prove uncomfortable. A little time in adjustment is well worth while.

A distinct necessity of skiing is to have complete control of the skis which you only get with well fitted bindings. The cable binding gives perhaps the best control over the skis and the heel can be held absolutely rigidly on the ski. The downhill—cable—binding is especially recommended for intermediate and competitive skiers.

DINNER
Broiled Steak
Mashed Potatoes Onions
Cabbage and Raw Carrot Salad
Pound Cake With Orange Icing
Tea or Coffee

The onions for dinner may be fried, broiled, baked or creamed. They can be baked in the oven while the steak is broiling. Simply put them into a baking dish with butter, pepper and salt, cover and let them bake. Or scallop them by adding milk or a thin cream sauce and top with bread crumbs. The chestnuts added to the brussels sprouts make a nice variation and add protein to the dish.

TODAY'S RECIPES

CREAMED BRUSSELS SPROUTS WITH CHESTNUTS — One-half pound chestnuts, one box brussels sprouts, one and one-half tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour, one-half teaspoon salt, few grains pepper, one cup boiling water, one cup irradiated evaporated milk. With a sharp knife cut a slit in shells of chestnuts. Set chestnuts in a moderate oven 15 to 20 minutes or until shells begin to pop open. Cool slightly and remove shells. The inside skin should come off. Trim brussels sprouts and boil briskly in salted water until just tender, but not discolored, about 15 minutes. Drain. Combine with chestnuts and white sauce made of remaining ingredients. This amount serves six to eight persons.

ORANGE ICING—Stir one cup confectioner's sugar gradually into two tablespoons orange juice. Add one and one-half teaspoons melted butter and one teaspoon grated orange rind. Blend well. Let stand over hot water a few minutes to eliminate uncooked taste. Cool and spread.

FRUIT ROLL

One package dates (one and one-half cups), one-half pound figs, three-fourths cup shredded coconut, one-half cup nut meats, one teaspoon orange juice, candied cherries, whole nut meats. If bulk dates are used, wash and remove seeds, if pasteurized dates are used, washing is not needed. Force dates, figs and coconut through food chopper. Add nut meats, orange rind and juice. Blend well by working or kneading with the hands. Shape into a roll, or into small balls. Roll in powdered sugar and garnish with candied cherries and whole nut meats.

WIFE PRESERVERS

To reheat sliced roast beef, take two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour, one-fourth cup tomato catsup, one-half cup cold water, one teaspoon prepared mustard, one tablespoon vinegar, one tablespoon brown sugar. Blend flour and butter, add other ingredients and cook until boiling, stirring constantly until a smooth sauce is made. Put slices of beef in and heat through.

JAPAN MUST CHOOSE

Japan's capital is preparing for what looks like a real showdown between civil authorities and the army gang which has been exercising control over the administration in Tokyo.

The opposition parties in the Japanese diet, who won the last election but were forced from power after the army coup last winter, have many grounds for launching a bitter attack on the misrule of the military clique. The foreign and financial policy has been disastrous. Expenditure on armaments has been pushed sky-high, but security is father away than ever. The good will of China, which provides Japan's most valuable potential market, has been completely destroyed. The Manchurian adventure has been a financial fiasco, and the abortive uprising in North China, designed to bring the five northern provinces under Japanese control merely made Japan look ridiculous. Arrogant demands presented to China in connection with long-standing disputes were treated with unexpected firmness, and met by counter demands which included evacuation of Manchuria.

Relations with Soviet Russia have been strained by publication of the anti-Communist agreement between Germany and Japan. This has resulted in delay in extension of the Siberian fishing rights, which are of vital importance to Japan. A temporary treaty, effective for a single year, has been arranged, but this provides for less security for Japanese fishermen than the eight-year pact which had almost been concluded.

Japanese prestige also suffered when most western nations refused to join the anti-Red pact on the invitation of Japan. Italy, one of the few nations which did so, is alleged to have put one over on the Japs, by securing recognition of her conquest of Ethiopia without according similar treatment to Manchoukuo. Indeed Japan has been far less successful in securing recognition of her conquest in Asia than Italy was in connection with her African adventure.

The execution of General Wang Yin, leader of the irregular troops who invaded the Chinese Province of Suiyuan, and were soundly trounced, is evidently an attempt to pin failure of the Japanese-backed expedition on this convenient scapegoat.

It is evident that the civilian leaders are endeavoring to use the series of undeniable blunders to prevent the setting up of a thorough-going Fascist dictatorship in Japan. Apparently they have public opinion behind them at the moment. Whether the army will feel strong enough to go ahead with its dictatorial plans remains to be seen. The only claim a dictatorship has on public support is superior efficiency, and the Japanese army leaders have shown no signs of this.

A NEW DANGER

Some years ago a congressional committee conducted an investigation into subversive activities in the United States. Recently there has been a revival of this type of investigation, and a great number of books have been classed as dangerous to the youth of the nation.

Apparently one author was overlooked. Dr. Paul Schilder, of the psychiatric division of Bellevue hospital in New York read a paper before the American Pschoanalytic association in which he described Lewis Carroll as a particularly destructive writer.

Most of us have had some acquaintance at one time or another with Alice, and have followed with breathless interest her adventures in Wonderland, and her excursion through the looking-glass. Whether or not they have tended to increase our destructive attitudes beyond a measure which is desirable is difficult to decide. Most of us had enough destructive attitudes whether we read "Alice in Wonderland" or not. But we liked Alice and was fascinated by the queer characters she met, and those who are in a position to know what the children of today read say that the same devotion persists.

Of course Dr. Schilder may be correct. Undoubtedly the characters were given to cruelties of a most reprehensible savagery. It would be difficult to defend the Duchess for saying:

> Speak roughly to your little boy
> And beat him when he sneezes
> He only does it to annoy
> Because he knows it teases.
>
> I speak severely to my boy
> I beat him when he sneezes,
> For he can thoroughly enjoy
> The pepper when he pleases.

Similarly the trick played on the unsuspecting oysters by the walrus and the carpenter is hard to justify. But these regrettable occurrences unfortunately much more truly reflect the world as it is than does some beautiful story where everything comes out right in the end, and virtue is rewarded.

Indeed no more realistic presentation of the grotesque world of today has ever been written than Lewis Carroll's fantastic tales. The child cannot learn too soon that this is a mad world in which one has to run at top speed if he wants to remain in the same place. But the child will probably still love "Alice in Wonderland" despite the psychiatrist's warning merely because it is a fascinating story where the impossible happens, and the limitations of ordinary existence disappear.

NO TYPEWRITER

I was going to write a column today, a humdinger, but when I landed at the office all the typewriters were in use. It is pretty hard trying to write a column in long hand. However, I'll do my best. Monday and Tuesday I hope to meet some old friends. I will be in Kimberley and Cranbrook those days. Sort of a business trip in which I will be looking for pictures.

NOT AS BAD AS THAT

A minister of the gospel returned from the Sunday service one evening feeling greatly depressed that he had missed his calling, that his sermon had been feeble and that his delivery of it had been even worse. That night he went to bed, but slept badly worrying over the matter.

Early next morning the phone rang. He answered it to hear a voice say, "You've got a damned poor delivery."

The minister replied, "Yes, I know it is not very good but I didn't think it was as bad as that."

The voice came back, "I left an order for meat on Saturday morning and it hasn't been delivered yet."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. V. SHEPARD

"Teacher of Teachers"

A BRILLIANT IDEA

Being alert and knowing partner well often allow a player to make a contract through having the lead come up to him, that a lead through may kill, as was the case with South on today's hand.

	♠ 9 3 ♥ A Q J 10 7 6 2 ♦ A 4 ♣ A 10
♠ A 8 6 4 2 ♥ None ♦ 10 9 6 5 ♣ J 9 5 3	N. W. E. S.	♠ Q J 10 5 ♥ 4 ♦ 8 3 2 ♣ Q 8 6 4 2
	♠ K 7 ♥ K 9 8 5 3 ♦ K Q J 7 ♣ K 7

Bidding went; North, 4-Hearts, after two passes. South knew his partner's opening bids. North never would have made an opening bid in hearts unless he could count a reasonably safe eight tricks in his own hand. Upon great length and seven fairly safe tricks the opening bid would have been only 3-Hearts. With the lead coming up on him, South felt justified in counting his own cards at four tricks, which should mean a small slam at no trump, so he made that bid and neither defender dared double.

Against a grand slam West would have had no option. He must have led his Ace of spades, which would have defeated the contract. Against the small slam he had two things to consider: laying down the Ace might just hand the contract to dealer. On the other hand leading any other suit might give him a grand slam, by allowing South to discard all losers on dummy's long hearts. He decided to play safe, and led off his Ace, to view dummy for the next lead. When East played low, West led his lowest club, but the slam was assured, and South spread his hand for 6-odd. Had not West led his Ace the score would have been 7-odd.

North could only have made 5-odd at hearts, as the opening lead would have been the Q of spades, giving defenders two immediate tricks. Bidding 6-No Trumps was a brilliant idea.

	♠ K 9 6 ♥ 6 4 3 ♦ 7 ♣ Q J 10 8 4 3
♠ None ♥ K 7 5 ♦ A J 10 9 6 4 ♣ None	N. W. E. S.	♠ 7 5 3 2 ♥ 7 2 ♦ 8 3 ♣ 9 7 6 5 2
	♠ A Q J 10 8 4 ♥ J 10 9 ♦ ♣ A K

South played 6-Spades. The opening lead was the Ace of diamonds, followed by the K of hearts. Before tomorrow look over the holdings. Only East and West were vulnerable. West jumped to 5-Diamonds, over an opening bid of 2-Spades. Was that a good bid? Would it have paid West to bid higher than he did?

ALPHABETICAL IMPRESSIONS OF NELSON TO A PRAIRIE VISITOR

By M. HARRISON MANEY of La Fleche, Sask.

K FOR—KNOCKS

"Laugh and the world laughs with you"
Weep and you weep alone."

For Nelson, the above may be changed to read:

Boost and others boost with you.
Knock and you knock alone.

In a very short time the impression made is that Nelsonites are true boosters, for it has been something good said in every line about everybody by everyone, when inquiries have been made or casual remarks passed.

Truly a Christmas Spirit carried throughout the year and down the ages.

THE DOCTOR SAYS . . .

LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

LESSENING HAZARDS OF HOLIDAYS

The week between Christmas and New Year's usually is not a very busy one. There is not much to occupy business people. But there is one piece of business that everybody can attend to, and that is to get the Christmas tree out of the house before it dies up and becomes a fire hazard.

Christmas time is distinctly a fire hazard period, and an analysis of 245 Christmas fires showed the following causes; Christmas tree fires caused by smoking and carelessness with matches; candles on Christmas trees; short circuits and defective wiring; candles as decorations other than on trees.

In Dayton, O., a few years ago, Christmas fires virtually were prevented by local safety council, which attached cards to each of the 20,000 trees sold in the city listing a half-dozen or more conditions regarding the hazards connected with Christmas trees. Here they are:

"Avoid lighted candles in the decorations of the tree.

"Use carefully wired electric lights.

"Place the tree a safe distance from the stove or fireplace.

"Use metal tinsel for trim, and mica or flake asbestos for imitation snow.

"Cotton trimmings and cotton whiskers for Santa Claus are very dangerous. Santa suits and whiskers should be made resistant to fire.

"Never leave a lighted Christmas tree ungarded.

"Doe not place the tree where it will obstruct a room exit.

"Keep candles and open lights away from window curtains, paper wreaths and Christmas bells.

"Remove tree from the house before it becomes dry."

There is an old English superstition that to keep the Christmas tree in the house after the first of the New Year is bad luck. It is not all superstition, as any analysis of Christmas accidents will show.

Christmas fires are not all due to candles. Electrical decorations themselves are not safe. Bulbs of one firefly candle-power are the strongest that should be used on trees indoors. They generate little heat.

We hope also that such potentially dangerous toys as air rifles and knoves will be accompanied by careful instructions as to their safe use before the recipient is turned loose on the neighborhood with them.

Canadian Mint Will Put Out Silver Dollars Commemorating Coronation

Dominion of Canada mint will coin a new silver dollar to commemorate the year of coronation according to word from Ottawa. B.C. Chamber of Mines and other organizations recently petitioned the minister of finance at Ottawa for coronation coins. It is hoped that at least 1,000,000 of these coins will be minted as they will be in demand as souvenirs far beyond the confines of the Dominion.

Frank E. Woodside, manager of the B.C. Chamber, in Vancouver, states that the first silver dollars in Canada were issued in 1935 and all of these are now out of circulation, as they were taken away as souvenirs by tourists.

The 1936 issue of silver dollars is also becoming scarce, he says, as they are also of historic interest to coin collectors for the season they contain the design of the late King George V.

Chamber of Mines officials think that Coronation silver dollars would also be hoarded as souvenirs.

This silver would then be off the market and would result in helping to absorb production of Canadian silver of which British Columbia supplies about 60 per cent.

nloading, had driven across the reet to the tracks, backed up Rossnd avenue and turned in toward e garage, which adjoins the brewry, when he stopped in the street allow a man and a woman who ere coming up the sidewalk to ass before he crossed the sidealk. The man crossed the road at n angle, Deferro believed, leaving e woman on the sidewalk. The oman followed and he waited for er to get past the front of his truck. e pulled ahead into the garage. e got out of his truck and came out see the woman being taken from nderneath Vant's truck.

DEFERRO PHONES FOR AMBULANCE

Deferro immediately went into the rewery and asked "central" for e hospital. He said there was a elay of about a minute. He asked e person answering at the hospital send the ambulance to the brewry. Deferro was then told to call 90" the phone number for the C. M. & S. company ambulance. He called 90" and after a delay of about a inute was answered. He asked that e ambulance be sent. He was asked ho was speaking. He replied that hat did not matter but that the ambulance was needed in a hurry. He as then asked which doctor had sked for the ambulance. Deferro aid he had said "no doctor" had sked for it. He was told the ambulance would not be sent until a doctor had ordered it.

Vant then entered the brewery nd called a doctor and the police.

WEATHER BAD

Millard Donaldson, who had been walking up Rossland avenue at bout the time of the accident did ot see the woman before she was truck but saw the brewery truck He estimated that the truck moved bout 12 feet from the time it struck the woman till it stopped and that had dragged her from three to ive feet. Asked about weather conditions, he said it was snowing and bit windy, the wind blowing down Rossland avenue.

WINDSHIELD O.K.

Chief of Police John Laurie told f visiting the scene of the accident nd taking measurements from narks in the snow which he believed were made when the accident ccurred. He measured 17 feet from narks indicating where the truck as when brakes were applied to here it stopped. Marks showed that he truck had travelled six feet before striking the woman and had ragged her for 11 feet. Chief Laurie old of examining the truck's windhield and finding visibility to be s good as could be expected considering the weather. Questioned by ounsel about the side window on he driver's seat, he said he believed it to be open a little but was not ure.

Deferro was recalled and questioned by A. G. Cameron, counsel for Vant and R. J. G. Richards, counsel for the deceased's relatives. Asked about the weather he said it was snowing and a wind blowing and the woman appeared to be holding her coat collar over her face protecting it from the wind and snow blowing up from the gulch.

AMBULANCE RULES

Dr. Wilson was also recalled and questioned by the coroner. Dr. Wilson was asked if he knew of a rule about the smelter ambulance being used to take people, other than employees to hospital.

Dr. Wilson believed that private people were supposed to call a private ambulance. Dr. Thom asked if he knew of a rule the company had regarding getting the smelter ambulance for use for private cases Dr. Wilson believed that it would be sent out only when a doctor called for it.

"On this particular afternoon," said Dr. Thom, "both these private ambulances were at the cemetery being used as hearses.

"If one of these private ambulances had just returned from the cemetery and you were being taken to hospital, which would be your preference, the smelter ambulance or one of the private ones."

"I think I would prefer the smelter one," replied Dr. Wilson.

MORE ABOUT BRITISH BAN

It is also and offence for any British subject to leave or attempt to leave the United Kingdom with the intention of accepting any such engagement and for any other person in the United Kingdom to do so.

INTENSE ACTIVITY

This swift, drastic action to check the flow of British volunteers to Spain follows on the heels of intense political activity with meetings of cabinet ministers, hurriedly summoned to No. 10 Downing street.

It was taken spontaneously as evidence of Britain's sincere desire for an international agreement to end indirect intervention in Spain.

Britain tonight also addressed new instructions to His Majesty's diplomatic representatives at Paris, Rome, Berlin, Lisbon and Moscow. These constitute the British response to replies received from the five capitals of Britain's Christmas eve appeal to check the movement of volunteers to Spain.

"It appears to His Majesty's government," the British response proceeds, "that this scheme could without difficulty be extended to cover the arrival in Spain both by land and sea of volunteers and military personnel as well as war material. Such an extension, indeed, might render the scheme more acceptable to both parties in Spain than it may be in its present limited form."

NEED COOPERATION

The British government recognizes a scheme of supervision can only be genuinely applied if all governments are willing to carry out their engagements.

His Majesty's government, the note says, "are ready to consider with the utmost secrecy any suggestion which may be put forward to this end. They would also be glad to consider any detailed proposal for control of other forms of indirect intervention which would be ready for early discussion by the non-intervention committee of any such proposals submitted to it."

Britain further informs the five governments of the steps she took tonight to ban volunteers for Spain.

Volunteers from the United Kingdom now fighting in Spain are officially estimated at between 500 and 1000. The exact number cannot be given as no British visa is necessary to travel to Spain and consequently the volunteer did not have to declare his destination in applying for a passport. There are British volunteers on both sides of the Spanish war.

ALABAMA CASE

Announcement the foreign enlistment act is applicable to the Spanish civil war follows a study of the situation by the government's legal experts. The Foreign Enlistment act was a sequel to the famous Alabama case under which Britain paid the United States an arbitration award of £3,000,000 ($15,000,000). The act forbids enlistment in the armed forces of any state at war with a state friendly to Britain.

The Spanish (Valencia) government meanwhile sent a strongly worded note to Britain which indicates its acceptance in principle of a suggestion the Spanish frontiers should be supervised may be withdrawn.

It accused Germany and Italy of continued violation of the non-intervention agreement and suggests that the proposed supervision runs the risk of converting itself in practice into another form of intervention in favor of the insurgents.

At Moscow the semi-official newspaper Izvestia strongly denounces the "indecision and cowardice" of the western powers which, according to Izvestia, are encouraging Fascist Germany to ever fresh provocations.

"Thanks to this policy," Izvestia said, "British steamships today are afraid to proceed in seas where Fascist pirates conduct their brigandage and with impunity."

More than 50 warships have been ordered into manoeuvres in or near Spanish waters and Admiral Sir Dudley Pound, commander in chief of the Mediterranean fleet, reached Gibraltar today on an inspection tour.

Failure to achieve definite agreement in the past for a ban on enlistments to Spain the reports of German military activity (denied in Berlin) in Spanish Morocco were viewed with grave concern here.

CANADA MAY ACT

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (CP).—Rumors were current tonight the Canadian government will produce legislation in parliament early in the session designed to prevent a national of this country taking part in the Spanish civil war or any other foreign conflict.

Enlistment in foreign forces is forbidden under the terms of the Foreign Enlistment act which is applicable to the whole British Empire but which applies only in cases of international conflict and not civil war.

Jack Kearns Signs Barney Ross

DETROIT, Jan. 10 (CP).—Barney Ross of Chicago, welterweight boxing champion of the world, has been signed for a bout here January 29, it was announced tonight by Jack Kearns, Detroit promoter and former manager of Jack Dempsey.

Kearns said he had not yet signed an opponent for Ross but would get one of three title contenders, Jimmy McLarnin, the Vancouver Colt, from whom Ross won the title; Al Manfredo, welterweight champion of the Pacific coast, or Ceferino Garcia.

Kearns said he had signed contracts of John Henry Lewis, world light heavyweight champion, and Al McCoy, hard-hitting Montreal French-Canadian battler, for a bout here in February.

THIS WEEK'S GAMES

With Nelson Maple Leafs doing a lot of travelling until their next home game January 21, hockey interest in the Kootenay centers for the next couple of weeks in Trail and Rossland, with those teams catching up on their home games and gates. So far Nelson has had the break as far as home games are concerned.

This week's games are scheduled as follows:

January 11 (tonight)—Nelson at Trail (Canucks).

Tuesday—Smoke Eaters at Rossland.

Friday—Nelson at Trail (Smoke Eaters).

RAMBLINGS, MERE RAMBLINGS

Statistically-inclined curlers in Nelson figure 70 rinks, or thereabouts, for the B.C. Curling association bonspiel at Trail next week. And they also figure that, by curling from 6 a.m. to 1 a.m., 70 rinks can't curl all the games necessary in the six days allotted to the 'spiel. So what?

As a personal observation we note the most positive development in curling in these parts in the last few years has been brought about by the entry of Vancouver rinks into the B.C. bonspiel, their objective being the British Consols Dominion playdowns, and the new and not altogether likeable feeling this has introduced. Formerly bonspiel week was just a week each winter for a bunch of good fellows to get together and have the best time their convivial spirits could produce. In those days a fellow, except in rare instances, didn't care whether he came home with a cup or not. Joe Dundas, who broke the ice for Vancouver by taking a rink to Trail a few years back and playing a winning game, changed all that. Maybe "bonspiel curling" has benefitted; but the good fellowship of the bonspiels hasn't.

It may be too much to hope, but I'd like to see bonspiels get back to their old basis, with the "go-get-'em" guys doing their stuff in the British Consols competition and leaving the rest of the boys to have their week of fun as they used to.

THERE'S ALWAYS A FIRST TIME

It doesn't particularly matter who it was, but someone once said: "There's always a first time." J. B. Twaddle, who two years ago provided a fortnight's Christmas work that changed the festive season from a dirge to a dance for me in his Trail post office, was ruminating three or four nights back as he travelled to the curling rink to play a scheduled game with A. G. Harvey. It appears that for some years past J. B. has always beaten George in Trail Curling club competitions—but this time George was the winner.

Also along the line of "first times" Rossland and Nelson set something of a precedent for this winter's hockey during the past week—Nelson first by holding the Smoke Eaters to a tie and thereby for the first time this season depriving them of the two winning points in the game; and Rossland more spectacularly by winning its first Kootenay league game in a long time with a 6-5 victory over Canucks. Also in the way of first times was the Nelson-Smoke Eaters squabble, wherein Nelson escaped without a penalty, the first time in ages that Maple Leafs have gone a whole game without someone going to the cooler.

STILL RAMBLING ALONG

Haven't seen one of Larry Hamilton's summaries of Kootenay hockey in the Rossland Miner latterly, not because they haven't been there but because, missing seeing the Miner among the various office exchanges for the past month, we haven't seen what he's doing about it. Somewhere in today's paper we're using a scoring standing of the Kootenay league. And if you, Larry, are keeping records this winter, kindly let us know how they check up with yours. If they don't check up maybe we can start a fight about it.

It's probably escaped your notice, but with the weather of the past week or so Trail and Nelson have probably avoided running up costs on their ice sheets. It's hardly necessary to freeze artificially the way things have been.

DUN'T ESK THIS LEDDY

But if you think the weather's been cold, don't ask Mrs. Gazeley for her opinion. She thinks it's fine—"I've been so long where it goes 38 or 40 below," she says, "that I don't feel cold at all." And 'tis a fact that a good deal of weather comfort hereabouts is psychological. People who go around looking at thermometers or asking "how cold is it tonight" or shutting windows and closing doors often kid themselves into being colder than they really are.

We don't know any reason why junior hockey players shouldn't use the visiting hockey team's room at the Nelson arena and get the benefit of the showers. But maybe that's too complicated.

THE SCORING AVERAGES

So as to stretch this Press Box and make it the first time it has been as long, here are the scoring averages and penalties of the league to date—as contributed, not compiled.

New Record for Indoor 100 Metre

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP).—An "unknown" sprinter, Herb Weust, Columbia sophomore, stole the show from a flock of Olympic stars at the Columbus council, Knights of Columbus, games here by shattering the world indoor 100-metre dash record.

Weust sped over the boards of the 106th infantry armory last night in 10.6 seconds in the final race of the sprint series. The accepted indoor record of 10.8 was set by Bob McAllister in 1927 and equalled three years later by Karl Wildermuth.

New Haven Wins by 6 to 1

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan 10 (AP).—New Haven's Eagles went on a scoring spree tonight and walloped Providence Reds 6-1 in an International-American Hockey league battle. Goupille, Farrant, Fields, Doran, Hemmerling and Mondou scored the Eagles' goals. Rivers counted for the losers.

HORTON SMITH IN LEAD

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10 (AP)—Knocking seven strokes off par 71, Horton Smith posted a brilliant 64 today to lead at the 54 hole mark of the $8000 Los Angeles open golf tournament.

With a 54-hole score of 206, he was two strokes better than Harry Cooper of Chicago and Ralph Guldahl of St. Louis.

Winnipeg Skaters Win in U. S.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 10 (AP).—Two Winnipeg skaters won class championships and a third captured a share in another at the two-day, Ten Thousand Lakes skating championships concluded today at Powerhorn park.

Jim Frame swet the midget boys class to take one individual title and Meriam Kernaghan outskated Geraldine Bates, Minneapolis, to win the 440-yard final and capture the intermediate girls title with 60 points, 10 more than Miss Bates.

Fight Believed Doomed as Opposition Grows

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—Boycott of the James J. Braddock-Max Schmeling heavyweight championship fight picked up momentum today.

Jewish war veterans of the United States, 250,000 strong, threw their support to the non-sectarian anti-Nazi league, the A. F. of L. and various Catholic and Protestant organizations seeking to stop the fight from being held in this country.

Harry H. Schaffer, commander-in-chief of the veterans, announced here he is notifying the 150 posts throughout the country to withhold support from the fight.

The boycott was launched by the anti-Nazi league as part of its program to oppose German goods, shipping and services.

Although Madison Square Garden and the 20th Century Sporting club, joint promoters of the fight, continued to withhold comment, belief was general along Broadway that the battle is doomed.

BERLIN, Jan. 10 (AP)—Appeals to United States fair-play came from Max Schmeling today when news of a movement to boycott the forthcoming heavyweight championship fight between Schmeling and Jimmy Braddock reached Germany.

"I believe the American public is too fair to be influenced by a political campaign against a sportsman like me who never went in for politics," Schmeling said.

While the Teuton boxer confidently put the decision up to the United States public, German papers universally greeted news of the boycott with indignation.

FRANCE MAPS PLANS

PARIS, Jan. 10 (AP)—France has mapped plans for occupation of Spanish Morocco, circles close to the army general staff declared tonight, if insurgents refuse to oust Germans reported in the territory. Full British support has been promised, these sources asserted.

France's Moroccan armies, 100,000 strong, could occupy most of the Spanish zones within 36 hours, it was stated, and British troops might be expected to fill any gaps left in France by departure of additional French soldiers for Morocco, it was claimed.

Any action, it was stressed, would be preceded by a second protest to Insurgent General Francisco Franco and a direct representation to Berlin, which has denied a German troop invasion of the Moroccan territory.

In a protest Friday France warned General Franco it would not permit incursion of any foreign force which might menace French African possessions.

The new protest would be made if the Spanish insurgents failed to expel German soldiers now reported in Morocco, authoritative sources said.

Official circles said an answer to the first note of protest was expected tonight.

ACT FOR SULTAN

Any military action, authoritative spokesmen said, would be made by armies as an instrument of the sultan of French Morocco rather than as French forces.

The sultan would issue a decree calling on the French to act for him in meeting a threat to the integrity of his empire—which France is pledged to protect by treaty.

Such an action by the sultan would necessitate calling up special reserve forces, reinforcement of fortifications on the German frontier, and manning of anti-aircraft defences as a "precautionary" measure while north African operations continued, army sources said.

There is, it was emphasized, no question of general mobilization.

Official circles were pessimistic regarding the chances of favorable action by General Franco. They pointed out he cannot very well tell any Germans to get out of Morocco, because they are believed to have provided essential aid in the drive against Madrid.

"The reich may expect a powerful, energetic thrust," from Britain and France if Germany continues "madly to play this dangerous game," the Petit Parisien declared.

TROOPS REROUTED

Reports were the 8000 German soldiers supposedly enroute to Ceuta had been sent to Rio De Oro, Spanish West African possession, because of French alarm. (Berlin denied last night German "troops" were enroute to Morocco but did not mention volunteers).

French Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos broke his vacation at Perigueux and rushed to Paris for a Sunday conference with foreign office officials. After the meeting he returned to Perigueux.

Naval Minister Alphonse Gasnier-Du Parc and Vice-Admiral Jean Darlan, chief of the navy general staff, arrived at Algiers aboard the cruiser Colbert to inspect coastal defences, and the French Atlantic fleet was in Moroccan waters, ostensibly engaging in routine manoeuvres.

France also stepped up her military forces in Morocco. General August Nogues, resident general of French Morocco, took over command of 100,000 troops, compared to the normal 40,000, and fortifications bordering on Spanish Morocco were strengthened.

JAPANESE TROOPS TO JOIN?

LONDON, Jan. 10 ((CP-Havas)—Reuters news agency dispatches from Gibraltar tonight said Spanish insurgent authorities are reported taking all necessary steps to receive 5000 Japanese volunteers expected at Cadiz and Jerez shortly.

Reuters said its information had been obtained from a traveller who returned to Gibraltar from Cadiz. The Japanese troops are expected this week, it was said.

The Japanese, joined by 10,000 Italian troops now at Seville, will be dispatched to the Madrid front, it was claimed.

Reports from Cadiz said many boxes of airplanes and spare parts of Italian manufacture had been landed at Cadiz and Jerez, where they will be assembled.

JAPAN DENIES

TOKYO, Jan. 11 (Monday). (CP-Havas)—Government officials formally denied today reports Japan was sending volunteers to Spain. They described the reports as "absurd."

The Japanese government has not departed from the rule of strict neutrality since the beginning of hostilities, officials said. They added the government had absolutely forbidden collections or funds for one side or the other, and stressed that Japan has not recognized the Burgos (Insurgent) junta.

B. C. GETS 1940 OLYMPIC BIKE TRIALS

TORONTO, Jan. 10 (CP)—Amendment barring promoters of professional bicycle races or their permanent employees from holding office in the body's Dominion executive was approved Saturday at the 55th annual meeting of Canadian Wheelman's association.

The amendment to the association's regulations governing eligibility of executive officers was proposed by vice-president W. D. Marr of Toronto and carried unanimously.

The meeting accepted the application of A. Fraser Reid, British Columbia district chairman, to hold 1940 Olympic bike trials and the Dominion championships in Vancouver.

Maple Leaf Bicycle club of Toronto was awarded promotion and staging of the 1937 Dominion championships.

President A. E. Humphrey was re-elected while John Smith of Toronto was named past president. Other officers: Vice-president, W. D. Marr, Toronto; secretary, J. D. MacDonald, Toronto; treasurer, W. G. Urbach, Tornoto; chairman of the Dominion racing board, Bert Sharpe, Toronto.

CHAPTER 25

The subsequent movements of Mrs. Holden after the funeral would Mrs. Holden after the funeral would have interested and astheBull Inn and put her car into the garage, entering the inn by the back door from the garden. Hucks was standing in the hall, looking strange in his rusty black suit, worn as a mark of respect to the dead baronet. Also he had been drinking deeply to drown the melancholy induced by the sad occasion.

"Good afternoon, Mr. Hucks."

He turned round hurriedly and placed the glass he was holding on the hall-stand.

"I beg your pardon, Miss, I didn't see you." He gave her a friendly smile, showing his irregular set of yellow teeth.

"What did you think of the show?" she said, smiling at the huge man roguishly.

"Well, miss, funerals ain't much in my line — fair give me the creeps; but I felt it my duty to go."

"Quite right, but I expect you've seen many on your tome. You must have had a wonderful life, Mr. Hucks."

The woman took a few steps up the stairs: "I've enjoyed myself very much here; it's a wonderful little village."

Hucks came to the edge of the staircase, looking up at the woman. "Come now, miss, you don't cod me. You didn't come here just to see the village. When I saw you on the day of the inquest I says to myself, 'She's a smart 'un, and too smart to be wasting time her'—"

"There's no use trying to hide things from you, Mr. Hucks, but you'll keep my secret, honor bright?"

Huck's made an old-world gesture with his wetted finger and his throat to express his utter secrecy.

"Well, as a matter of fact I am writing for the Daily Echo, and came down here to get some firsthand copy about the Abbey and this murder."

"Well, I'm darned! But look here, miss, you're safe with me, but I shouldn't go blabbing it about too much."

She laughed merrily. "It's only you — and we are now quite old friends."

Hucks scratched his large bullet head. "My missus thinks we're too much good friends. She was on at me for being too attentive to you. She says, 'That Miss Norton is no fit company for you, 'Ucks. She's a lady and you're a prize fighter.'"

"I'm sorry to have caused mischief," she said. "I shall be going away tomorrow; in fact, I think I had better go tonight."

"I shouldn't do that, miss. Wait till tomorrow." There was a look in the eye of the ex-prize fighter that amused Miss Norton. She skipped up the stairs to her room and locked the door. Then with a sigh of relief she took off her hat and furs and flung them into a chair, lit a cigaret and helped herself to a whiskey and soda.

She walked to the looking-glass and surveyed herself carefully and then broke into a merry laugh. Very carefully she removed a tight-fitting wig of black hair, and the face of Selden stared from the glass. For four whole days he had worn this disguise, for the art had been taught thoroughly at the "school," and amateur theatricals had been encouraged.

He seated himself on the bed and opened a dispatch case, taking up a note book in which he had entered the results of his inquiries. He took a fountain pen and proceeded to write:

1. Funeral. Passed off without incident. James not present, but was playing organ. Strange procedure. Library interesting — adjoins chapel and probably connection from there to organ loft, as in many college chapels. Must investigate. Panel — hollow. Would account for James coming in unseen.

2. Colindale going — probably row with Lady S.

3. Lawyer Livingstone — knows more of family than he will tell. Strange will — not all read. Query what James has been left?

4. Colonel Graham and Reid both at funeral—afterwards talking in court. Must call on both.

He was in the middle of his diary when a knock came at the door and he hasily donned his wig. One of Huck's maids handed him an official-looking letter, and asked whether "she" would be taking dinner.

Selden got rid of the girl and eagerly tore the missive open. It was from Livingstone, forwarded to "Miss Norton" from Scotland Yard.

Dear Mr. Selden (it read),

As you are in charge of the investigations at the Abbey, I feel that it would be only right to inform you, in accordance with your request, of the probable amount that Sir Henry Severinge left after the various bequests have been paid and the death duties settled. It is of course impossible to give more than an approximate figure, and that depends very much on the state of the stock market and other considerations, but from my knowledge of the affairs of my late client I should estimate that it will not fall short of the sum of £150,000. This sum, as you are probably aware by this time, has been left unconditionally to Mr. James Conolly, who has been for many years in Sir Henry's employ, and has been more than a butler.

As the will will be made public when it is proved, I think it is proper for me to inform you of this fact, but let me warn you that if the amount of the bequest causes you to have any suspicions of James being implicated in this crime, I can assure you that I think you are altogether wrong. In saying this, I am speaking without prejudice, and as much in your own interest as in that of James, for whom I have a high respect.

Faithfully yours,
J. Livingstone.

"Humph!" Selden exclaimed, as he locked the letter away. "That's a nice bouquet for Master James; and he has been managing the affairs of the dead baronet for years, and has actually written his letters for him."

He opened a compact and put a few touches to his face. "I don't wonder Hucks is trying a mild flirtation; I make rather a good-looking wench."

He glanced round the room to see that no tell-tale signs of his alter ego were visible, and then went down the stairs to the dining room.

The heat wave that had covered the country for a week broke during the night, and a steady, pitiless downpour of rain succeeded a brilliant spell of sunshine. To the farmers it was a welcome change, but to Reid, watching from his cottage window, it presented a dreary prospect. The cottage itself stood almost on the boundary line between the estates of the Severinges and that of Colonel Graham, and the shooting was held in common between the two. Neither house was visible from the windows, a thick wood hiding the Abbey and a hump of the hill rising behind and shutting out the view at the back.

Reid had lived hard all his life, and cooking his meager breakfast was nothing to him. He washed up the plate and cup and placed them in a cupboard methodically.

The contact of the last few days had brought acquaintances if not friends, people who had met him as an equal and accepted him on his face value. There had been no false identity to maintain. Tragedy had brought them together in a common bond where questions were not asked, as in a more formal meeting. Stranger still, everyone seemed to want his help—flattering, of course, but embarrassing. Colindale, Selden, and then Sylvia, and even the haughty Colonel had accepted him with an easy tolerance. He had fitted so completely into his surroundings that he could not help speculating whether these surroundings were not his heritage and right, had fate dealt more kindly with him. The nightmare of his youth, the criminals who had taught him crime, and the sordid squalor of the underworld had always been to him as an alien world to which he was a stranger.

What would be the upshot? Would the murder be found and he go off again on his shameful existence without purpose or object until some slip placed him in the grip of the law and he sank deeper and deeper in the mire? Up till now he had not cared or even given a thought to the possibility, but in his mind he saw the people here reading in the paper the story of his arrest and history of crime: Colonel Graham openly scornful, Colindale perhaps sympathetic. Selden openly gloating, perhaps having seen through him from the start; and then—Sylvia, reading the shameful story and perhaps crying a little, murmuring: "And this was the man I trusted!"

And but for an accident he might even now be in gaol, waiting trial on a capital charge if he had been caught in the chapel with the murdered man.

He shuddered at the gloomy thought, and viewed the dripping trees with a curious feeling of depression unusual to his buoyant nature. And what was to be the next move? For a moment a strong temptation to turn his back on the place and try to forget he had ever been here seized him; but then a bewildering force — the same he had felt when sitting in the courtyard the day before — seemed to grip him, compelling him against his will and judgment to stay and see it through.

He was still grappling with the problem when a timid tap came at the door. For one moment his heart gave a bound as he thought it might be Sylvia; but the door opened and a quiet voice said, "May I come in?"

SIX BOUTS ON CRESTON CARD

Fine Boxing Show Is Staged; Four of the Contests Draws

CRESTON, B.C.—The boxing card under the auspices of Creston Valley post, Canadian Legion, at Park pavilion Wednesday night attracted quite a good turnout. Six bouts were featured, and each of them was full of action. Four of the contests were declared draws, while Irving Ferguson punched out a four-round decision over Johnny Nelson of Trail. The referee's decision was given at the close of each bout.

The preliminaries brought "Nooky" Bourdon and Kid Kline of Nelson and Des Truscott and Don Smith together. Fighters in both mixes were evenly matched and went at it hammer and tongs from start to finish. In the bout between Bill Vigne and "Young" Sullivan over the four-round route, Vigne was given the decision. The fight was stopped in the third round.

NELSON BEATEN

Irving Ferguson outpunched Johnny Nelson of Nelson in a four-round battle in which Ferguson had it pretty much his own way from the opening to the final gong. He floored the Nelson battler six times—twice in the first and second rounds and twice in the third stanza. Ferguson is becoming a real fighter, fast on his feet, and with plenty of hitting power.

The feature bout of the evening brought together Bill Bourdon of Creston and Fred McDonald of Calgary. It packed enough action for the most rabid fight fan. Both boys deserved the draw decision that was given. Each won two rounds Bourdon was dropped for the count of seven in the first round, but came back to outpunch his opponent in the final two frames. The Calgary lad is a fast battler with good footwork and plenty of hitting power.

The officials for the evening were —Announcer, Frank Staples; timekeeper, Bill Gilchrist; referee, Jim McMahon. While the Legion backed this card, Bill Ferguson is directly responsible for the evening show.

FINE DANCE AT EDGEWOOD

EDGEWOOD, B.C.,—A New Year's dance under the auspices of the Badminton club was one of the most successful dances for a long time. The officers of the club were assisted by many others.

W. D. Jowett, sold the tickets. Mrs. W. E. Lewtas played "Auld Lang Syne" a few minutes before the New Year. Supper was served shortly after midnight and balloons and fancy paper hats were distributed.

NEW RECORD ATTENDANCE AT SKI CLUB

100 Have Grand Time Ski Running at Golf Course

Attendance records of the Nelson Ski club were smashed as approximately 100 enthusiasts flocked to the Nelson Golf and Country club golf course Sunday afternoon for a grand outing.

"It was swell up there," said one official of the club as he described the day. "Everybody had a darn good time and everybody was doing swell—'Christies', telemarks and everything."

About half of the gathering went out to the club cabin in Fairview for refreshments, and despite preparations for an anticipated large attendance, there were so many more than expected that refreshments were insufficient to go around.

Members of the club interested in jumping spent the morning at the new hill on Foster's ranch. The take-off platform was completed, and all that remained to prepare for jumping was to round off slightly the top of the landing hill and to make a small fill at the bottom. Then with snow the hill will be ready for the boys. They figure the hill, with this work done, will be good for about 150 feet.

Nelson Hoopers Lose in Trail

TRAIL, B.C., Jan. 10.—Outplaying their opponents in both periods, the Trail Elephants rep men's basketball squad handed the visiting Nelson pickup team a convincing 50-30 defeat here on Saturday evening. The winners outplayed their opponents all the way and displayed more organization than the tired Nelson players, who were playing their first game of the season. The Nelson league is scheduled to open within a week at the new civic centre gymnasium. Trail league has been operating for over two months although few games have been played since before Christmas.

The Nelson team was further handicapped through the inability of Bud Greenwood, George Kulai Stan Horswill and Len Bicknell to get away in time to make the trip.

Considering the handicaps the Nelson club played under, their showing was an indication that with a few games under their belts and with a full lineup they will be heard from in intercity competition in the near future.

The Trail center players got away from their checks repeatedly, with Merlo and Miller hanging up 22 of the winners' points, Miller collecting 14. Jim Cherrington led the losers with 12 points and was closely followed by Fred Graves with 10

Ace Bailey and Hartley refereed the game.

Teams were:

Trail reps—Smith, LeRoy, Baillie, Merlo, Sammartino, Scott, Strachan, Miller, Burrows, Pagnan.

Nelson — Paterson, Cherrington, Smith, Carter, Muraro, Graves, McLeod.

Vines Again Is Loser to Perry

CHICAGO, Jan. 10 (AP)—Broad-shouldered Fred Perry, brilliant British star who relinquished the world amateur tennis throne to play the game for money, ripped through ailing Ellsworth Vines in straight sets last night, 6-0, 6-2, 6-3, for his third consecutive triumph of their tour, before 12,602 spectators in the Chicago stadium.

Vines, ill with a cold, said before the match he felt "much better," but to the spectators, who paid $21,242 to watch, the slate-like Californian did not look it except for rare flashes.

Perry and Lott defeated Vines and Barnes 6-3, 6-2, in the doubles.
