CHRYSLER AND LEWIS MEET MURPHY TODAY

Auto Magnate Firm in Stand Against Strikers

NO ACTION ON EVICTION YET

Hope to End Sit-down Strike of 6000 Soon

DETROIT, March 23 (AP)—Michigan's automotive peacemaker, Governor Frank Murphy, drew the pattern tonight for a new "Lansing Agreement", by which he hoped to induce 6000 sitdown strikers peacefully to end their 16-day occupancy of eight Chrysler corporation automobile plants here.

Walter P. Chrysler and John L. Lewis, of the committee for industrial organization, accepted invitations to meet with the governor in Lansing tomorrow but Chrysler added:

"We will not enter any trade or complete agreement to get the men out of the plants."

Lewis earlier had informed the governor he would be present, but said the invitation suggested "that I confer under duress."

An injunction calling for the eviction of the sitdown strikers was issued in circuit court last week, but no steps have been taken thus far to enforce it.

A crowd, estimated at upward of 60,000 by Police Supt. Fred W. Frahm and at 250,000 by union headquarters, swarmed into downtown Detroit at the dinner hour to hear a speaking program headed by Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America.

No Blame Laid in Boy's Death

Death of Emmanuel Suckent Accident Jury Decides

That the death of Emmanuel Suckent, 12-year-old bicyclist fatally injured when hit by a car near Oliver Sunday evening, was an accident, and that no blame could be attached to anyone, was the verdict returned by a coroner's jury which investigated the death Tuesday, according to radioed information to divisional headquarters of the provincial police at Nelson.

The lad, riding his bicycle about three miles south of Oliver, was struck by a car driven by Anthony Reopel of Oliver, allegedly when he swerved in front of the car. He died of his injuries about 3 a. m. Sunday.

FIRE IN DRYDOCK DAMAGES SHIP

BOSTON, March 23 (AP)—Flames damaged a dry dock, a ship cradled in it, and threatened another vessel today before firemen brought it under control.

Fire Chief Samuel Pope estimated damage to the Simpson dry dock of the Bethlehem shipbuilding company and to the San Gil, a United Fruit steamer undergoing repairs, at $30,000.

Oil, believed to have leaked onto the dock from the recently grounded tanker Halo, also under repair here, fed the flames.

Duchess Missing

DUCHESS OF BEDFORD

LONDON, March 23 (AP)—Alarm for the safety of England's aged flying Duchess of Bedford mounted tonight when no trace of her had been found more than 24 hours after her disappearance on a routine flight.

Land and aerial searchers combed a 20-mile-square area in the Bedford fenlands without result. A royal air force plane joined in the search.

All available policemen and scores of estate workers were concentrated in the countryside between Bedford and Cambridge while the duke awaited news at home.

The duchess took off yesterday for a two-hour trip over flooded meadows.

The duchess, now 71, began flying at 62. She has one son, the Marquess of Tavistock.

UNION OFFICIAL WARNS FORD

"Might as Well Get Ready to Do Business"

DETROIT, March 23 (AP).—Addressing a gathering of union workers who packed the concourse of Cadillac square here tonight, Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America said "Henry Ford might as well get ready to do business with his organized workers." More than 100,000 persons filled the square.

Addressing himself to Ford, Martin said: "You can't stop the union. You can't keep your workmen from joining the union. The automobile workers of this city and nation are going to organize, and we are telling you that is going to happen. You might as well get ready to do business with your organized workers."

Charge Manager of Burns Refused to Recognize Union

VANCOUVER, March 23 (CP).—Robert Cranston, former employee in the casing room of Burns & Company's Vancouver packing plant, told an inquiry into the three months' old Burns strike that Plant Manager Walter Williamson told an employees' delegation he would refuse to recognize an "outside" union.

Cranston, testifying before Judge J. C. McIntosh at resumed hearings of the inquiry here today, quoted Williamson as saying he "would work the plant with only two men rather than recognize a union with outside affiliations."

CAN NOT PREVENT COMPANY AID TO POLITICAL PARTY

Only Candidates Must File Return on Funds

BUT EVEN THAT NOT ENFORCED

Changes Suggested in Discussions by Committee

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP). — Nothing can be done under the Elections act to prevent corporations from contributing to the campaign funds of political parties, according to views submitted today to the commons committee studying changes in the act.

Election machinery takes no cognizance of parties but only of individual candidates. The act requires candidates whether successful or unsuccessful to file a return giving their expenses and personal contributions received. However, corporations usually make their contributions to the central party fund and would not be shown in these returns.

The question came up when Hon. Grote Stirling (Cons., Yale) asked if the act required unsuccessful candidates to file returns as well as the successful ones. Jules Castonguay, chief electoral officer, said all the candidates were required to file returns within two months of the election.

The returns should be handed to the returning officers and published at the candidates' expense, he said. The returning officer was not required to make a report on these returns to Ottawa and therefore Mr. Castonguay was not in a position to know how completely candidates obeyed the law, but many returning officers had told him of candidates failing to make returns.

LAW NOT ENFORCED

No steps had been taken to enforce the law, Mr. Castonguay said. The act provided for heavy penalties where a member of parliament took his seat without making the expense return, but it was not enforced. No action was taken in the matter by the committee.

G. A. McLean (Lib., Simcoe East) said there was general agreement corporations should keep out of elections. If a law were passed forbidding them to make party contributions it would be difficult for them to evade the law without the contributions being shown in their books. He appreciated it could not be taken care of in the Election act, however.

"It would have to be put in the Companies act," C. E. Bothwell (Lib., Swift Current), chairman, suggested.

Members of the committee said even then it would be impossible to regulate companies which operated under provincial charters.

Robert Fair (S.C., Battle River) protested the committee should at least make a recommendation asking parliament to take such steps as might be necessary to prevent corporation contributions.

The committee voted down his motion on the ground it could not give parliament a lead as to how the curbing should be effected.

Lumberman Dies

VANCOUVER, March 23 (CP).—Albert Eugene Beaulieu, prominent British Columbia lumberman and former chief lumber inspector for the B.C. Lumber and Shingle Manufacturers' association, died in hospital here today. He was 63 years old.

NO BLAME FOR BLAST

NEW LONDON, Tex., March 23 (AP)—Convinced there is no evidence upon which to base prosecutions for the London school blast with its 455 deaths, public officials marshalled technical and legal preventives tonight against any such future disaster. "There was no evidence at all on which to base a prosecution," Secretary of State Edward Clark reported to Gov. James V. Allred at Austin upon his return from New London. As a national guard captain, Clark sat in the military court that investigated the disaster, and decided it resulted from an accumulation of escaped natural gas.

STEAMER SINKS

BOSTON, March 23 (AP)—Coast guard headquarters tonight reported a message from the cutter Chelan, said the Norwegian steamer Bjerkli sank at 10:50 p.m. E.S.T. Commander Lyndon Spenner said in his message the Chelan immediately headed for Boston with the 17 rescued members of the crew of the Norwegian vessel. They were expected to reach their dock at the navy yard here late Thursday.

Canada's New Stamp

A new, non-commemorative regular issue of Canadian postage stamps, bearing the portrait of His Majesty King George VI, will be issued for sale by the post office department of Canada April 1. The stamps issued will be in the following denominations: One cent, green; two cent, brown, and three cent, red. The three cent stamp is pictured above, and according to the department officials, the stamps will be identical with the exception of denominational values. It is expected further issues of this series will be issued about the time of the coronation. These are the first stamps issued in the British Empire showing His Majesty King George VI.

NAZIS DECLARE A TRUCE WITH THE PROTESTANTS

BERLIN, March 23 (AP)—The Nazi government declared a truce tonight in its quarrel with rebellious protestants rather than engage in simultaneous conflict with both Catholic and protestant churches.

Hans Kerrl, reichminister for church affairs, issued a decree reconstituting evangelical church governments as they existed before Feb. 15, when Adolf Hitler ordered general synodical elections, and ordered maintenance of the status quo until the church elections, for which no date has been set.

The truce was declared, a spokesman for Kerrl's office explained for the purpose of "ensuring freedom of faith and conscience as well as freedom of the election"—opportunity for protestants to choose the kind of government they want.

Many New Taxes in Saskatchewan

REGINA, Sask., March 23 (CP)—The levying of corporation taxes on chain stores and grain elevators, estimated to net the province increased revenues of $300,000 annually was forecast in the budget brought down in the Saskatchewan legislature today by Premier W. J. Patterson, provincial treasurer.

In addition increases in taxation will be levied on telegraph companies on the basis of offices in operation, and the present taxes on express companies will be increased.

No increase is in prospect for insurance companies.

SHORTAGE OF SHEET IRON FEARED BY BENNETT

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP)—Canada is faced with a possible shortage of galvanized sheet iron as a result of the rearmament program in the United Kingdom, the house of commons learned today as Conservative Leader R. B. Bennett urged a temporary lowering of the tariff on black sheets from the United States for galvanizing. Thus the house witnessed the leader of the protectionist Conservative party pressing a liberal government to lower tariffs. Hon. C. A. Dunning, finance minister, said he was not sure of all the facts but if the facts were as Mr. Bennett put them he would not hesitate to act.

ALBERTA TOWN WITHOUT A MAYOR

HANNA, Alta., March 23 (CP)—This town 150 miles onrtheast of Calgary was without a mayor tonight because of dispute in council over taxation of the Canadian Legion Memorial hall. The former chief magistrate I. F. Shacker, theater operator and heavy tax payer, resigned after the council had adopted a motion calling for the rebate of 1935 taxes to the Memorial hall.

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP)—Efforts will be made to close parliament April 10, it was learned from government sources tonight. This will entail forenoon sittings early next week, possibly starting next Tuesday.

BLUM WINS ON VOTE

PARIS, March 24 (Wednesday)—(AP)—The popular front government of Premier Leon Blum fought way through a bitter all night debate on the Clichy riots today to win a 362-to-215 vote of confidence from the chamber of deputies.

SOCIAL CREDITER DEMANDS ACTION ON ALTA. PLANS

R. E. Ansley Asks That Social Credit Be Started at Once

SEVERAL VOTE AGAINST GOV'T.

Hon. J. C. Bowen Is Sworn in as New Lieut.-Gov.

By GEORGE FINLAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON, March 23 (CP)—Immediate introduction of a definite plan of Social Credit was demanded in the Alberta legislature today by R. E. Ansley (S.C., Leduc).

"We want to know where we are going," said Mr. Ansley, in continuing the budget debate when the house resumed after the adjournment following the death last week of Hon. P. C. H. Primrose, lieutenant-governor.

"The time has come when we must have definite plans," he added, as he attacked the present budget as an "orthodox budget with little or nothing as regards the introduction of Social Credit."

He advocated the bringing of a Social Credit advisory expert to aid the government.

WANTS MAJOR DOUGLAS

"I would like to see Major C. H. Douglas, British economist and 'father of Social Credit', or a person equally experienced, come to Alberta," he said.

Twice during the afternoon session, Social Credit members voted against the government on a division to sustain the speaker's rulings against resolutions of D. M. Duggan, Conservative leader. First, the speaker was sustained 42 to 14, and on the second, 46 to 10.

James Hansen, Taber, and S. A. G. Barnes, Edmonton, read out of the Social Credit party caucus last year, voted with the Conservative and Liberal opposition as well as six followers of Premier Aberhart. Other Social Crediters voting against were Fred Anderson, Calgary; C. Cockroft, Stettler; C. R. Ross, Athabaska; A. L. Blue, Ribstone; H. E. Ingrey, Drumheller; G. L. MacLachlan, Coronation.

With a brief but colorful ceremony, Hon. John C. Bowen of Edmonton was sworn in as lieutenant-governor shortly before the house opened this afternoon. The oath of office was administered by Chief Justice Horace Harvey.

It was the first time in the history of Alberta a lieutenant-governor has been sworn in while the legislature is in session.

Tonight, a party caucus was in session, considering future legislation plans.

INTENSIVE SEARCH FOR SLAYER OF CHILD

WINNIPEG, March 23 (CP). — Search for the slayer of six-year-old Julia Johnson, who mysteriously disappeared from the yard at her home nine years ago, was on tonight.

Old fyles, long lying on police shelves, were scanned closely for clues that might lead to identity of the old man with the brownish beard and moustache seen with Julia the day she disappeared.

Likewise were efforts being made to determine if the old man with the brownish beard was the same man whom Julia a few days before she disappeared had called the "boogey man." She had run home breathlessly that day.

An underground river of gold in East Kootenay! That is what William A. Drayton, socially prominent in New York, and nephew of the late John Jacob Astor, believes he has found. A mining engineer, Drayton is en route to British Columbia, where he will begin placer mining operations on an old underground river bed which he discovered 40 feet below Wild Horse creek, near Fort Steele, where already he carries on extensive mining operations. Drayton is accompanied by Mrs. Drayton, the former Joan Bergere, daughter of one of Australia's foremost wool king and breeder of thoroughbred horses. SOVIET AIR BASE AT NORTH POLE IN OFFING?

MOSCOW, March 23 (AP)—Fulfillment of a long-cherished Russian plan for a north pole air base to speed transarctic flights to America appeared a step nearer tonight.

O. J. Schmidt, director of the Soviet northern sea route, departed for Archangel, on the White sea and near the Arctic circle, presumably to supervise preliminary surveys.

His departure yesterday was secret, and official comment was lacking on reports plan for the north pole base were nearing completion.

CHARGE PLOT IN FRANCE

PARIS, March 24 (Wednesday) (CP)—Communist charges of a carefully planned plot whereby Colonel Francois de la Rocque's fascist-inclined Social party intended to overthrow the Popular Front government by force provoked a near riot early today in the chamber of deputies. Jacques Duclos, communist vice-president of the chamber, made the accusation and further accused certain "fascist groups" of acting in liaison with Reichschancellor Hitler. Nerves frayed as the heated debate on last week's Clichy rioting went into early morning hours and the allegation brought members to their feet in stormy comment.

VOTE SOON ON R. R. STRIKE

MONTREAL, March 23 (CP)—Secrecy clamped down an even tighter lid tonight on all developments in Canada's railway wage fight.

Lips were sealed all along the line as rail union leaders debated all day on their general strike issue and high officers of the two major railways got together to consider the men's demands for collective pay raises.

But though no one on either side would talk, every outward sign suggested the spokesmen for 117,000 workers were on the verge of voting, one way or the other, on the question of a coast-to-coast strike.

AMBASSADOR IN LONDON MAKES THE STATEMENT

Declaration Termed "Unofficial", But Causes Furore

FRANCE, BRITAIN GO INTO CONFAB

"Hands Off" Group to Ask U. S. to Join in Pact

By PAUL LOUIS BRET
(Copyright, 1937, by the Havas News Agency)

LONDON, March 23 (CP-Havas)—Count Grandi, Italian ambassador, created a sensation at a European non-intervention sub-committee meeting today by expressing, it was learned, the personal opinion not a single Italian "volunteer" would leave Spain until the civil war was over. He asked to have this assertion, which he represented as strictly unofficial, kept out of the communique on the day's developments.

A furore followed. The Russian delegate warned such a stand would endanger European peace. French and Swedish representatives saw in it at least a threat to the neutrality committee's continued existence. All delegates, including German Ambassador Joachim von Ribbentrop, rushed to get in touch with their home governments.

HURRIED CONFERENCE

The Earl of Plymouth, committee chairman and British foreign undersecretary, hurriedly called Foreign Secretary Eden and French Ambassador Corbin to a Whitehall conference.

Earlier today the Havas news agency reported Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, protested formally to British Ambassador Sir Eric Drummond against British newspaper references to the defeat suffered by Italian troops in Spain. He took particular exception to allusions to Caporetto, scene of an Italian retreat in the Great War. In some quarters the Spanish setback had been referred to as a "Little Caporetto".

MAY ASK U.S. TO JOIN

LONDON, March 23 (CP)—Europe's long and stormy efforts to isolate the Spanish civil war took an unexpected turn tonight with a move to poll the 27 nations adhering to the "hands off Spain" pact on the question of inviting the United States and other non-European states to join.

The subcommittee of the 27-nation group announced it would ask the full membership to state their views about extending the roster outside Europe, with the idea of obtaining action, perhaps worldwide, to smother the inherent danger of the Spanish conflict spreading.

While Britain accepted tonight an Italian explanation that only medical aid had gone to Spanish insurgents since the ban on volunteer enlistments, official circles here expressed fear Premier Mussolini still might scrap the Spanish non-intervention agreement.

The Italian explanation, following an official British government inquiry into movements of troops since the non-intervention deadline, was that a medical unit landed at Cadiz, Spain, March 5, two weeks after the neutrality committee ban on volunteers. No Italian troops have landed in Spain, Italy informed Britain. Doctors and nurses do not come under the volunteer ban, which is against fighting forces.

British officialdom expressed satisfaction with the Italian stand on that point.

30 PERCENT INCREASE IN FARM PRODUCTION PLANNED BY NAZIS

Vast Agricultural Adjustment Program Is Announced by Goering; to Replace Laggards With Producers

BERLIN, March 23 (AP)—Farmers were warned tonight those who fail to pull their weight in German's struggle for self-sufficiency will have to make room for those who can.

General Herman Goering, guiding force of Germany's four-year plan for self-sufficiency, issued the warning to farm leaders assembled in Berlin and backed it up with a decree.

He made known a vast agricultural adjustment program to restore denuded farm land, extend credit to farmers, record individual farm production and provide better homes for agricultural workers.

The governmental decree, published after his warning to farmers, empowered agricultural authorities to replace an unwilling or inefficient farmer with one who knows how to produce.

It also authorized authorities to compel owners of idle agricultural land to choose between utilizing it for good production or turning it over to someone who will.

The decree did not mention church lands specifically but it was recalled churches are among Germany's most important large landholders.

(The German government last month called on the churches to share part of their lands with the landless and spoke of the "necessity of compulsory measures" if they failed to do so voluntarily).

Five million acres of land would be improved, Goering told the farm leaders. A 30-per cent increase in farm production is the goal.

A grant of 200,000,000 marks ($80,000,000) was announced for advancing agricultural readjustment in 1937. By 1940, a total of 1,000,000,000 marks ($400,000,000) would have been made available, Goering said.

The price of rye was increased to spur production, and Goering announced economic advisory counsels would have power to force a laggard farmer to lease his farm if necessary.

Police Operatives Charged With Breaking Law by Buying Liquor

Alleged to Have Made Purchases to Obtain Evidence in Two Vancouver Cases

VANCOUVER, March 23 (CP)—Summonses were issued here today against two Vancouver police operatives charging they unlawfully purchased liquor to obtain police evidence in alleged bootlegging cases. It marked the first step in an action which will decide the future course of police in enforcing the Liquor act.

Acting on informations laid by Thomas S. Hurley, Vancouver barrister, Police Court Clerk W. W. Compton issued the summonses against Charles F. Weldon and Oscar Gerwin who are alleged to have purchased liquor to obtain evidence in two Vancouver cases last December.

Mr. Hurley bases his prosecution of the police operatives on a recent decision of the Alberta court of appeal which held it was unlawful for police operatives to break the law in obtaining evidence unless they had been authorized to do so by the attorney-general of the province or the officer commanding the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the district.

The barrister swore the information against Weldon several days ago but a summons was not issued by Police Court Clerk Crompton until today when Hurley laid the charge against Gerwin.

NELSON CURLERS TOAST THE "ROARING GAME" AT BANQUET

Hume Silver Room Scene of Foregathering; Winter's Prizes Presented; Best Wishes Extended to Adolph Browne

For nearly four hours, Nelson devotees of "the roaring game" foregathered about the festive board in the Silver Room of the Hume hotel at the annual banquet of the Nelson Curling club Tuesday evening, drank toasts, told stories, heard talks on the game, and applauded the winners of the season's prizes Adolph Browne, president of the club, was toastmaster, and in addition to the toasts, there was a considerable musical program.

Rev. J. A. Donell said grace and E. Gould, substituting for L. R. Butler, gave a piano-accordian solo.

After the toast to the King was honored, Mayor J. P. Morgan, on behalf of the city, congratulated the club on the successful season just concluded, expressed the desire of the council to cooperate with the curlers, and urged that all organizations in the field of sport get behind the civic centre in order to make it a success.

Mr. Browne assured the mayor the council had the support of the curlers on that matter.

SCOTS' CLAIM DISPUTED

J. B. Gray in toasting "The Roaring Game," explained that it was called "roaring" because the Scots, who invented it, had to roar to be heard, as they scooted 100-pound boulders along their frozen lochs and dodged avalanches. He said there were real skips in those days, and he learned the game there.

Responding, R. E. Horton took issue as to the alleged Scottish origin of curling, and called on Ikey Asbell to give the facts, Asbell promptly crediting it to the Jews. After paying his respects to the "taking ways" of the Scots, who took the game and adopted it, Mr. Horton paid a tribute to the young curlers, one of whom Alan Dill, curled 147 games this season—and urged the club to keep the membership fee down to $13.50 so all the young fellows could curl. He also urged the young fellows not to wait to be asked.

It was announced that W. M. Myers was getting along well, though not equal to being present, and the chair directed P. T. Andrews, secretary, to write him, giving him the club's greetings.

DUD HOPES NO ONE CHOKES

A wire of regret from C. D. Blackwood, at Vancouver, read: "Regret cannot be with you tonight, but as one of the unwilling hosts I think I hope that our guests do not choke. Trust Bill Myers is with you. Wire me collect any casualties among our guests. You should be able to bag a few of them anyway."

BIKER REVIEWS HISTORY

The feature address of the evening was by W. J. E. Biker in proposing the toast to the B.C. Curling association. He compiled a history of curling in the Kootenay and gave all the salient dates of the early years, from the formation of the Golden club in 1894, the first curling in West Kootenay at Kaslo in 1896, the formation of the Nelson club in 1898, and the organization of the district association, which later became the provincial. He also gave appreciations of many veteran curlers who had been pillars of the game.

S. P. Bostock, responding to the toast as a young curler, paid tribute to the men mentioned by Mr Biker, who had made the Kootenay famous for its curlers, and, remarking that most of the bonspiel cups had migrated lately, urged the younger generation to work to bring them back.

Mr. Browne expressed the indebtedness of the club to "Bike" for digging up the historical material, for the information of the present membership.

At the suggestion of the chair, the company paid a silent toast to "that good curler," the late Dr. J. H. Bennett.

PRESENTATION TO J. B. GRAY

J. B. Gray was then called to the front and presented with $2 from Alderman Roy Sharp, having paid back a loan of that amount twice. Mr. Gray, who had earlier claimed to have appropriated $1.35 from the saucer passed to him for his contribution for the waitresses, declared it was a lucky night for him, and he wished there could be a banquet every week. Later he claimed the $2 was "three cents short."

J. R. McLennan, a "humble and miserable third," happily proposed the toast to the winners, reciting a poem to the effect that "we lost the game but kept our goat ... a better way than to lose our goat and win the game," the losers, who were paying for the dinner declaring in song that the winners were "jolly good fellows."

In a happy reply for the winners, C. H. Hamilton was glad J. B. Gray did not claim the Scotch had perfected the game as well as developed it, for he did not believe that a curler in Scotland would do as well in a game as J.B had done in a single night.

WINNERS GET PRIZES

The 12 winning rinks of the winter's competitions, embracing the six winners of silverware and the six runners-up, were then presented in turn with their trophies and prizes, one member of each rink being elected to return thanks. The J. J. McEwan and L. S. McKinnon rinks each stood up twice, once as winner and once as runner-up. This function was carried out by the president.

Art Wallace was picked to hold the "Dogan and Protestant" cup, which was given at Carman, Man., in 1894 by John White, went through a fire and was lately put up here for this special event.

A wooden "Brewery Cup" with bottles of beer as supporting prizes, was awarded to a rink composed of C. F. McHardy, T. W. Ledingham, George Clerihew and J. G. Bunyan.

DATE SET FOR ANNUAL

At this point the meeting reverted to club business, and the annual meeting was set for next Tuesday night, March 30.

A. Browne, president, who is moving to Vernon, referred to the splendid support given him by the executive, and particularly by the successive secretaries, J. H. Long and P. T. Andrews. He also credited H. M. Whimster, vice-president with splendid work, particularly in connection with bringing in visitors for Saturday night games, a feature that ought to be continued.

A. L. Creech as a "young curler" made a plea for greater frankness from the skips, in handling beginners, so that the latter would know "what it was all about."

The winners had their turn in toasting the losers, H. M. Whimster performing this function, and commenting on the pride of the president's side that went before a fall, a surplus of 28 points becoming a deficit of eight points the last night. This time the losers were declared to be "jolly good fellows."

TRIBUTE TO BROWNE

In proposing this toast, Mr. Whimster also paid a tribute to Adolph Browne, saying the Curling club was losing a fine curler, and Nelson a good citizen, and that Mr. Browne would take with him to Vernon the good wishes of all 219 members of the club.

The response from the losers was by Dr. G. A. C. Walley, "only a lead" who portrayed a skip as a superior being, and expressed the hope that the winners had enjoyed the banquet.

A toast to the Press was proposed by C. F. McHardy and responded to by H. H. Currie.

In the course of the evening, beside the dinner number given by Mr. Gould, Arthur Stringer rendered vibrant baritone solos, W. J. Coleman and W. H. Sharp appeared on two occasions with string and vocal duets, and Murray Clark gave an imitation of a bashful schoolboy reciting "Maud Muller." Alderman P. G. Morey was accompanist.

SHE WAS AFRAID TO SHAKE HANDS

Rheumatism in Joints Caused Her Intense Pain

Read this letter from a woman describing the manner in which she was affected by rheumatism.

"For several years," she writes, "I suffered with rheumatism of the joints, especially in my hands, and this caused me intense pain. I was even afraid to shake hands with anyone, for it made me suffer terribly. I began taking Kruschen Salts regularly, and after a little while my pains disappeared completely. I am naturally delighted with Kruschen."—(Miss) K.

The pains and stiffness of rheumatism are frequently caused by deposits of uric acid in the muscles and joints. The numerous salts in Kruschen assist in stimulating your liver and kidneys to healthy, regular action, and so help them to get rid of this excess uric acid. (Advt.)

"Heaven" Subject at the Opening of Church Assembly

Spring convention of the pentecostal tabernacles of the Kootenay district opened in the Bethel tabernacle in Nelson Tuesday afternoon with Rev. Clifford P. Nelson of Penticton taking the leading part. Rev. C. A. C. Story, pastor, conducted the opening and welcomed the visitors, while Evangelist Elwin Argue conducted the song service and rendered a baritone solo.

"Stopping Short of the Goal" was the theme of Mr. Nelson's afternoon message, while in the evening he spoke on "Heaven." Both were related to this latter topic in which he described heaven as a land of eternal peace. In heaven he declared, there was no disappointment, sorrow, regrets or weariness, but continual joy, well-being and ever-lasting life. With the assertion that there were over 100,000 persons passing into this promised land nearly every day, it was well to be prepared, he said, and went on to describe some of the physical dimensions, beauties and the life in heaven, as the Bible led him to believe.

Appropriate to the subject was a song by Thomas Bishop entitled "Heaven," and one by Mr. Argue, "No Disappointments in Heaven."

Discussions on various subjects will begin today.

Duke of Connaught Will Attend the Coronation if His Health Permits

Former Gov.-General Dominion Nearing His 87th Year

By THOMAS T. CHAMPION

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, March 23 (CP).—Popular governor-general of Canada from 1911 to 1916, the Duke of Connaught, only surviving son of Queen Victoria, will, if his health permits, attend the coronation of his grand-nephew, George VI, on May 12.

Nearing his 87th birthday, the duke has already taken part in two crownings of British Kings those of his brother, Edward VIII in 1902 and his nephew, George V in 1911. At the latter ceremony he made his homage immediately after another grand-nephew, the then Prince of Wales, afterwards Edward VIII and now Duke of Windsor.

The duke's sister, Princess Louise, Duchess of Argyle, also a former resident of Rideau hall at Ottawa, was 89 on March 18. As the wife of the Marquess of Lorne (later Duke of Argyle) she enjoyed influential association with Canada when her husband was governor-general from 1878 to 1883. Another daughter of Queen Victoria, Princess Beatrice, who married Prince Henry of Battenburg, will be 80 in April. These widowed grand-aunts of the King are rarely seen in public nowadays.

AN ARMY MAN

The Duke of Connaught, like his mother before him, has in his later years become to the people of England and the empire at large something more of a legend than a mere personality. From his earliest years he devoted himself to service in the army, serving in practically every part of the world. He was taught to play the kettledrum by a man who fought at Waterloo, and rose to command the force which captured the Malakahoof in the Crimea.

The duke's only son, Prince Arthur of Connaught, has performed great service in many capacities, notably as governor-general of South Africa. For some time during the war he was attached to the Canadian headquarters staff in France.

Princess Beatrice, one of the duke's surviving sisters, was held in high regard over a long period of years by reason of her gracious manner in fulfilling the smaller functions which fall to the lot of members of the royal family. Her husband, the Duke of Battenburg, died in 1896 on active service with the British forces in Africa. Her only daughter, Victoria Eugenie, was married to Alphonso, now the ex-King of Spain, in 1906.

MADE FRIENDS

During his term as representative of his nephew, George V, in Canada, the Duke of Connaught, with his affable and democratic manner, came in close personal touch with the people. His Royal Highness, together with the duchess and their daughter Princess Patricia, entered enthusiastically into the life of the Dominion and in the warm greetings extended to them wherever they appeared in public, religious differences, party factions and racial divisions were forgotten.

The Duke was in his 67th year when he returned to England in 1916, when the nation was midway in the war. The duchess died the following year. Princess Patricia, who had given her name to a regiment of Canadian infantry which gained a glorious record, married Commander the Hon. Alexander Ramsey in 1919.

Some years previous to his appointment to Canada, the duke was high commissioner of the Mediterranean with headquarters at Malta. It was during the reign of his brother Edward VII. The duke resigned this post—much to the annoyance of the King—because he considered the duties of the office did not justify either the salary or the status attached to the position.

His eldest daughter, Princess Margaret, was married in June, 1905, to Prince Gustavus Adolphus, crown prince of Sweden, and died on her father's 70th birthday in 1920.

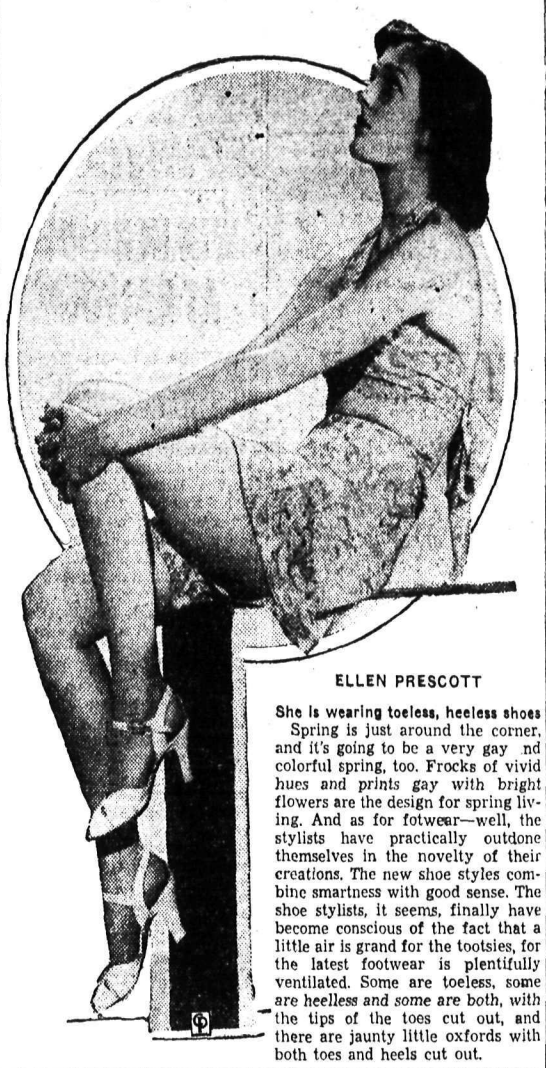
AIRY NEW SHOES



ELLEN PRESCOTT

She is wearing toeless, heeless shoes

Spring is just around the corner, and it's going to be a very gay nd colorful spring, too. Frocks of vivid hues and prints gay with bright flowers are the design for spring living. And as for fotwear—well, the stylists have practically outdone themselves in the novelty of their creations. The new shoe styles combine smartness with good sense. The shoe stylists, it seems, finally have become conscious of the fact that a little air is grand for the tootsies, for the latest footwear is plentifully ventilated. Some are toeless, some are heelless and some are both, with the tips of the toes cut out, and there are jaunty little oxfords with both toes and heels cut out.

Nelson Seniors Likely Be Few Music Festival

Interest Low; School Competitors Hard at Work

Fears that Nelson will have but meagre senior representation at the Kootenay Musical festival at Trail next month are being expressed in musical circles in this city. School representation is, however, expected to be heavy. School choirs, elocutionists, instrumentalists and singers are hard at work on their test selections.

Adults complain that the late date at which they received the syllabus, and difficulty in some cases in obtaining music, is the chief cause of lack of senior interest here.

Both Nelson and Trail officials have been late in getting the syllabus into the hands of prospective competitors for the last several years, they assert, arguing that in both cases officials could do more to bring out senior competition by issuing the syllabus early than by any other effort.

PALMOLIVE

the soap made with Olive Oil!

DR. DAFOE TELLS WHY HE CHOSE PALMOLIVE

"At the time of the birth of the Dionne Quintuplets, and for some time afterward, they were bathed with Olive Oil . . . When the time arrived for soap and water baths, we selected Palmolive Soap exclusively for daily use in bathing these famous babies"

(Signed) Allan Roy Dafoe

Because the Quins were born prematurely, they have always had unusually sensitive skin. That is why, for some time after their birth, they were bathed only with Olive Oil. Because there is nothing so soothing for delicate skin as gentle Olive Oil.

Then, when the time came for soap and water baths, how important it was to choose a soap made from the gentlest, most soothing ingredients! That is why Dr. Dafoe chose Palmolive, made with Olive Oil.

And now . . . if you could only see the smooth, satiny skin of those lovely Dionne Quins . . . then you would realize how wise Dr. Dafoe was when he decided that gentle Palmolive Soap, should be used exclusively for bathing them.

IS THE SOAP YOU ARE USING AS GENTLE AS PALMOLIVE?

Are you sure the soap you're now using is as pure, gentle and safe as Palmolive? You know Palmolive is made only from real beauty aids . . . a secret and unique blend of Olive and Palm oils—the finest known to beauty science! That is why Palmolive gives your skin such matchless beauty care.

MENUS RECIPES and HINTS

Good Housekeeping

By Mrs. Mary Morton

Menu Hint

Lima Beans au Gratin
Stewed Tomatoes
Buttered Canned Corn
Baked Apples
Maple Gingerbread
Coffee or Tea

Lima beans au gratin is a good meat substitute in a Lenten meal.

Today's Recipes

LIMA BEANS AU GRATIN — Three cups cooked dried lima beans, one cup medium white sauce, three-fourths cup grated American cream cheese, three-fourths cup buttered bread crumbs. Arrange layers in baking dish. Cover top with crumbs. Bake in 360-degree oven about 30 minutes.

MAPLE GIGERBREAD — Two cups flour, one-half teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon ginger, one-fourth cup butter (or similar fat), one cup maple syrup, one egg, two cups flour, rind and juice of one-half lemon. Grease a shallow pan or 12 to 16 cupcake pans, heat oven to moderate, 350 degrees. Sift flour, measure and sift with soda, salt and ginger. Cream butter until of whipped cream consistency. Add maple syrup gradually, stirring it in to blend well. Beat eggs, add to first mixture. Add dry ingredients alternately with sour milk, beating well after each addition. Add grated rind and juice of lemon. Turn into prepared pans and bake in a moderate oven 25 to 50 minutes, the former time for cupcakes, the latter for loaf. Remove to cake rack, cool slightly and frost with cream cheese frosting. CREAM CHEESE FROSTING—Work two cream cheeses to a creamy consistency. Add one cup powdered sugar gradually, working it in well. Fold in one stiffly-beaten egg white. Spread on gingerbread.

Salt

Salt, which is possibly the commonest and most used household product, is chloride of sodium, known mineralogically as halite. It is obtained by evaporation of ocean water, from layers of deposit in swamps and old lake bottoms, or as rock salt in beds, lenses or mines.

In the United States salt is produced in New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Kansas, Louisiana and Texas. Also from the waters of Great Salt Lake, in Utah, and from San Francisco bay.

In Europe the most notable deposits of salt are in the Cheshire district of England; in Germany, Austria, Poland, Hungary, Russia and Spain. The mines at Wieliczka, Poland, near Cracow, are famous for their great antiquity and the unusual size of the underground workings.

Cooked Salad Dressing

One teaspoon salt, one teaspoon dry mustard, dash of cayenne, two tablespoons flour, two tablespoons sugar, two egg yolks, one cup irradiated evaporated milk, one tablespoon lemon juice, three tablespoons vinegar. Blend salt, mustard, cayenne, flour and sugar. Add egg yolks. Mix well, then add milk. Cook over boiling water until mixture thickens. Stir in the vinegar and lemon juice slowly. This amount makes one and one-fourth cups.

Commander and Mrs. Smith Are Back From Calif.

LONGBEACH, B. C.—Commander and Mrs. B. A. Smith have taken up residence again at "Craijend", Longbeach, after wintering at Vancouver.

Word has reached here of the illness of D. J. Kerr, who has spent the winter in California with his wife and daughter, Rene. This will delay their return for at least another month.

Percy Young left Saturday for the coast. He will be away for two weeks undergoing treatment in Vancouver, rendered necessary by an accident last fall.

Jack James has brought his bride home from California. Next month the newly married pair, accompanied by Mrs. D. H. Ferguson, will leave for California to spend a month's holiday. Later Mr. and Mrs. James will return to stay with Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson for the rest of the summer.

Mrs. Rutherglen spent last weekend in Longbeach.

BURNS' BACON WON HIGHEST BRITISH EMPIRE AWARD FOR EXCELLENCE

The 1936 Dairy Show, held last October in London's Famous Agricultural Hall drew exhibits from all over the British Empire. The comment of one of the judges, conveyed to us in a recent letter from our London agent was that this year's show was the "Finest Exhibit of Empire Bacon yet seen."

Amid the stiffest competition put up by meat packing plants from all over the British Empire, Burns' Bacon won the highest award for Quality, Fineness, and Mildness of Flavor, thus definitely establishing Burns & Co. Limited as "Canada's Leading Bacon House."

The Shamrock Bacon and Shamrock Hams too, regularly offered for sale from Victoria to Halifax are prepared and processed in the same exacting manner as the bacon we shipped to the Royal Dairy Show. Remember, therefore, that when you order Shamrock Hams and Bacon from your butcher or grocer for Easter, or any time throughout the year, you will receive and enjoy the finest quality the British Empire has yet produced.

Young Alberta Miss Is Typing Champ

Claimant of the world's crown for speed typing in her class, seven-year-old Reta Louise Elder, of Raymond, Alta., pictured here at her machine, has already won international fame through her ability to type 120 words a minute without effort. The young typist had her first typing training with a number of other children in a kindergarten experiment which included spelling and writing. The young Alberta miss recently made a tour of the United States where she was hailed as a marvel, but though she pratices regularly at her typewriter, her general education is not being forgotten. Her general average is 91 per cent.

Plan Coronation Day Program at Kaslo

Committee Named; to Be Distinct From Empire Day

KASLO, B.C.—About 25 attended a public meeting Friday to discuss plans for a Coronation day program. Mayor F. E. Archer was chosen chairman and T. H. Robson was appointed secretary for the meeting.

Rumors that Coronation day and May 24 celebrations were to be combined this year seemed to have no foundation. May 24 will be celebrated in the usual manner and Coronation day will have its own program.

As the Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary had already made tentative plans for a Coronation day program it was suggested that they and the Canadian Legion should take responsibility for the whole affair, but it was pointed out that it was and should be a purely civic affair.

The meeting was unanimous that it should be a children's day. The following heads of city organizations were appointed as a committee to go ahead: Mayor F. E. Archer, Rev. J. Fielding Shaw, pastor of St. Andrew's church, Rev. Gardner, vicar of St. Mark's Anglican church, Rev. Father Cheevers, priest of Sacred Heart church, A. L. MacPhee, to represent the city, C. W. Webster, the school board, G. H. Giegerich, the board of trade F. S. Rouleau, the boat club, E. H. Latham, the fire department, James Speirs, the Farmers' Institute, F. H. Abey, the Canadian Legion, Mrs. E. M. Sandilands, St. Mark's Anglican Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. Fred McGibbon, Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. F. S. Chandler, Kaslo and District Women's Institute, Mrs. E. H. Latham, Ladies' Hospital Aid and W. L. Billings.

The committee met and appointed Mayor F. E. Archer permanent chairman and T. H. Robson permanent secretary-treasurer.

The Women's Auxiliary of St. Mark's Anglican church held a tea and home cooking sale Saturday at the home of the president, Mrs. E. M. Sandilands, on B avenue.

Mrs. Sandilands was general convenor. Mrs. C. G. Bowker, Mrs. Fred Moulton and Mrs. Fred McGibbon had charge of refreshment arrangements, guests being served Chester presided at the tea table. Mrs. John Cadden and Miss A. Hodges were saleswomen at the cooking table.

Rev. C. S. Wright was a visitor in Nelson Monday.

PROSPECTING BELOW

Modern geophysical prospecting methods which use electricity and magnetism instead of a forked branch of a tree to detect the presence of valuable ore deposits, is the way mining engineers are outwitting the obscuring blanket of rocks and earth which the great glacial invasions threw over the earth tens of thousands of years ago. At the meetings of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers in New York this week, the applications of the seemingly "divining rod" methods of modern prospecting to Canada and the United States were under discussion.

In Canada, in particular, the method finds wide usefulness and its greatest development says the Victoria Times. Hans Lundberg, noted Swedish engineer who has pioneered in the use of the equipment, has pointed out that most of Canada's great mineral wealth has been, in the past, discovered by geologists who prospected on the indications of surface rocks and their formation. And this, he added, despite the fact that almost 99 per cent of Canada's visible terrain is a layer of glacial deposits from a few feet to 120 and more thick.

It is the method of geophysical prospecting which allows science to penetrate beneath this overlying glacial drift layer and tell what the real nature of the bedrock below may be like. "Since the rich ore deposits known in Canada," said Mr. Lundberg, "are found in the one per cent of the country where they are visible, it is logical to assume that there must exist valuable and rich ore bodies in the 99 per cent of the country where they are not visible, as we know that the geological conditions must be similar."

Geophysical prospecting serves to supplement the findings of a geologist in quite the same way that X-ray studies add to the knowledge of a surgeon. Typical of success last year were surveys made in British Columbia, where, for a cost of $6000, deposits were found which in six weeks yielded gold ore valued at a million dollars. The same company in the previous year had spent $60,000 in prospecting to find deposits of a similar value.

CANADIAN AIRMEN WELCOMED

The announcement from Ottawa that approximately 150 pilots, holding Canadian civil flying licences, have left this country to join the Royal Air Force in Great Britain, is an interesting one. It recalls the role played by Canadians in the British aerial fighting during the war. The Canadians developed a peculiar aptitude for war flying, and before then end of the war formed a very large proportion of the British pilots. The achievements of Col. W. A. Bishop, V.C., and many of the other Canadian flyers have been recorded by Col. George Drew.

Flying in Canada has been a difficult business. Few of the governments since the war have seen their way clear to do much to aid aviation. The result has been that the flyers have had to work out their own problems without any considerable help. But a great deal has been accomplished. The development to the Northland has offered a huge bonus to capable flyers, and young Canada has hastened to supply the demand. Most cities have flying clubs.

Needless to say the British officials are very glad to receive Canadian pilots. Great Britain is engaged in the most ambitious peace-time armament program of her history. In connection with the rebuilding of the air force some 1175 pilots will be trained next year. Civilian pilots will have to undergo additional rigorous training, but their flying experience will be valuable. Australia and New Zealand have arrangements whereby cadets in the air service of these two dominions serve part of their time in the British Royal Air Force.

Apparently the air service has the greatest romantic appeal of any branch of military activity at the present time, so it is not wonder that young Canadians are attracted by it. The British air force has probably the most up-to-date equipment in the world, and should it be necessary to expand the Canadian air force the Canadian members of the Royal Air Force would prove valuable instructors.

It is encouring that the public is awakening to the need of conservation of forests and soil. A few years more and it might be too late.

BETWEEN You and Me

FROM THE TRACK

Here's an amusing little turf story from the Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News:

The jockey had come in last in the race, and was met by the enraged owner.

"You're a fine jockey" spluttered the owner. "Why didn't you follow my instructions? I told you to come away from the corner with a rush."

"Yes, I know," replied the jockey "I tried my best, but I didn't like to come away without your horse."

Owe a lot to me?

Gems of song and story,
Sundry calls for aid,
Letters that when written
Failed to make the grade.

Letters never answered,
Never even read,
Propaganda costly,
Into me are fed.

They would overwhelm you,
Cover land and sea,
If nobody ever
Had invented me.

HAIL, THE SWEET POTATO!

After three years of experimentation, U.S. government chemists at Washington have announced that the sweet potato may soon provide a new industry for the south. They declare that the potato will produce:

1—Fine quality adhesive required by the government for postage stamps and envelopes.

2—Pulp about equal to sugar beet pulp as a livestock feed.

3—Starch for sizing or glazing paper and yarn.

4—Starch for laundries.

The chemists said that trial operation of a plant at Laurel Miss., had demonstrated that the sweet potato industry could succeed, particularly in sections where large yields can be produced at low cost.

Anti-Sweepstake Law Is Invidious Says J. T. Bealby

To the Editor.

Sir: The Plain Blunt Man who criticized my study of hospital sweepstakes has completely misunderstood my purpose in writing it; or perhaps he has preferred to ignore it. I was not concerned to set forth either benefits (if any) or evils of gambling.

In that study my concern was solely with the mental attitude of those who condemn sweepstakes intended for the benefit of indigent sick and suffering people in hospitals. Let me be plain and blunt too, but, I trust, with all courtesy. Legislation has been procured which makes sweepstakes for benevolent objects illegal. But certain of the churches have got, or did get, an exception made of raffles at bazaars, when those raffles were for ecclesiastical or charitable purposes.

Thus with one breath the same class of people condemn and champion precisely the same kind of action, according as other people perform that action or they themselves perform it. This to the plain, blunt common sense of the man in the street savors of unfair and invidious treatment, and he, not unnaturally, resents it. All the more since the people who adopt this attitude take, he observes, no specially energetic steps to combat (for suppression) professional gambling on the race-course, football games and card games and leaves severely alone all those forms of gambling which are carried on at Monte Carlo and similar resorts. But they attack actions that are indulged in occasionally by people of moderate means who desire to help the afflicted, and who are not without conscience in the matter. At the same time these objectors endorse, defend, praise, and personally share in the results of actions which stand fundamentally on the same footing as the actions they condemn in other people.

It is usage, and usage alone, which determines the current meanings of words. To the man in the street every one of the types of action involving the arbitrament of chance, which I enumerated, are forms of gambling. That sufficiently justifies the term I applied to them, and insofar forth attaches that term to the mental attitude of those who praise and defend any or all of those acts.

My critic commends Shakespeare for making the characters of his dramas work out their own several destinies; although that is of course simply the A B C of the dramatist's art. But when the critic comes to the drama of real life, his own behavior is diametrically the opposite of that which he commends in Shakespeare. He objects to let his fellow-men determine their own destinies in the light of their own conscience. In the case of hospital sweepstakes he insists, under cover of the coercion of legislation, in substituting his own conscience for theirs. Nevertheless I thank Mr. Plain Blunt Man for providing such an apt illustration of what my study aimed to make clear, namely, the inconsistency of thought and attitude on the part of those who scotch sweepstakes for hospitals. *My study was meant for noth*ing more than an application (however imperfect) of the Socratic or dialectical method of reasoning to this particular type of thinking and acting.

This Debtor Just Couldn't Pay After Gov'ts. Cleaned Him

A reader of the Daily News has forwarded the following skit on the over-government and the over-taxation of Canadians:

" LOTS OF TROUBLE"

This remarkable answer came in recently from one of our Canadian customers, whose bill has been long overdue. It was so good that we marked the bill "Paid in Full." Smiles like these come rarely in business today—so we pass it on to the boys at the club.

Old Authors Shop

Ottawa, Canada.

Dear Sir:

In reply to your recent and more recent requests to send you a cheque for my bill due you, I wish to inform you that the present shattered condition of my bank account makes it impossible for me to take your request seriously.

My present financial condition is due to the effect of Dominion laws, provincial laws, municipal laws, county laws, corporation laws, traffic laws, liquor laws, by-laws, mother-in-laws, and outlaws, all of which have been foisted upon an unsuspecting public.

Through these laws, I am compelled to pay a business tax, amusement tax, gas tax, income tax, water tax, school tax, auto tax, hydro tax, and syn-tax.

In addition to these irritating taxes I am forced by a strong arm of the law to get a permit for this thing and a permit for that thing. I am requested to get a business licence, a city licence, a provincial licence, a sign licence, a dog licence, a motor licence, a radio licence, a liquor licence—not to mention a marriage licence.

I am also requested and required to contribute to every society and organization which inventive genius of man is capable of bringing into life,—to the Society of St. Jean Baptiste, the Women's Relief, the Near East Relief, the unemployment relief and the gold diggers' home; also every hospital and every charitable institution in the city; the Red Cross, the Black Cross, the White Cross, the Green Cross, the Purple Cross, the Flaming Cross and the double cross.

For my own safety I am required to carry life insurance, liability insurance, burglarly insurance, accident insurance, collision insurance, rain insurance, hail insurance and business insurance.

The government has now so governed my business that it is no easy matter for me to find out who owns it. I am expected, inspected, introspected, suspected, compelled until all I know is that I am supposed to supply inexhaustible means and supply money for every known need, desire and hope of the human race. To beg, borrow or steal money to give away, and if I refuse to donate to each and all, I am cussed, discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, held down and robbed, until I am nearly ruined.

I can foretell honestly, Mr. Clarke that, failing a miracle, you won't be paid just now, and the only reason I am holding on to life is simply just to see what the hell is coming next.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

BAD FOOD, BAD TEMPER

Ford Madox Ford, the British novelist, is of the opinion that the present ferocity of the world is the result of badly prepared food. When people have bad cooking they have indigestion and when they have indigestion they cannot be amiable with their fellows, and want everybody belonging to a race other than their own to be stood against a wall and shot.

It is an attractive theory, but it contains one or two flaws. Some people would say it reverses causes and effect; that Germany, for example is not war-like at present because it has bad food, but that it is reduced to food shortages because it is so warlike. But there is a more serious difficulty.

Among the world's worst cooks are the English, yet they are far from the most warlike people in the modern world. Further, cooking was no better in the Victorian era than it is now, but somehow the world was on the whole distinctly more peaceful. As a social theory, in short, Mr. Ford's conclusion is 'a little too *sweeping, but as a theory that ap*plies to many individuals it has a great deal to recommend it.—From the New York Times.

THE RIGHT TO ARM

"In an exclusive interview Baron von Neurath, German Minister of Foreign Affairs, stated: 'The extent of German armament is in no proportion to the potential strength of her neighbours, which is increased in relation to the military alliances on which they can count. Germany has to rely on her own strength alone.' He who views German armaments as a menace to other nations confuses the connection of events,' says Hamburger Fremdenblatt.

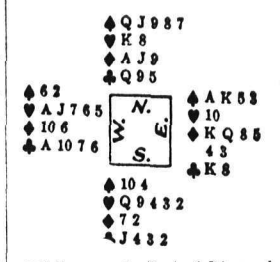
"The British taxpayer does not relish his government's constantly rising expenditure on armaments. What is easier than to make the demands on his resources more acceptable by raising the ghost of the German danger? We do not deny the British government's right to decide what armaments it needs. We demand the same degree of loyalty in regard to ourselves."

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By E. V. SHEPARD
"Teacher of Teachers"

POORLY PLAYED

A "reader" of the Dispatch, Columbus, O., sends in the following deal, inquiring if East can go game at no trumps, against an opening lead of the 3 of hearts. What do you think?



Bidding went: East, 1-Diamond, fourth hand; West, 1-Heart; North, 1-Spade; East, 1-No Trump; West 3-Hearts, East, 3-No Trumps which stood, doubled by North.

As North had both bid and then doubled the final call, nearly all players will agree that South's opening lead should have been the 10 of spades, and not the 3 of hearts, even if the declarer went down against the heart lead. That was due to his misplay of the cards, not to the choice of opening lead. With the same poor offensive strategy, East would have gone down against either opening lead, while proper stategy would have enabled him to fulfill his contract against either opening lead.

To go down on his contract, evidently declarer must have taken a finesse in hearts, allowing North to win the first trick and lead back spades, taking out one of declarer's high honors of that suit. Now declarer must lose two diamond tricks to North, as declarer cannot lead diamonds through North but once, so that the doubler establishes spades before East can establish diamonds.

The long diamond suit is the backbone of East's no trumps. At all cost East must at once begin establishment of that suit. Play the hand as it should be played, and see if the defenders can avoid giving East a trick above his contract. Win the opening lead with dummy's Ace of hearts. Lead the 10 of diamonds. North should cover with the J and declarer must win with the Q. North has dia*monds stopped twice if declarer at* once leads that suit from his own hand. To fulfill his contract declarer must lead diamonds again from dummy.

Lead a low club from declarer's hand. Win with dummy's Ace. Lead *the last diamond from dum*my. If North plays the 9, win with declarer's K, then give North the Ace of his suit. If North wins with the Ace of diamonds over the 6 led from dummy, declarer will pick up the 9, when he gains entry. North will take his K of hearts, when he gains entry with his Ace of diamonds, then he will lead a spade, which declarer will win with his Ace. Two tricks in spades, one in hearts, two in clubs and five in diamonds will give declarer one trick over game.

THE DOCTOR SAYS . . .

LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

QUESTIONS NURSES MUST ANSWER ON EYES

The following questions are those which nurse or social worker is supposed to be able to answer about the eyes:

I. What can a nurse do to prevent birth infections of the eyes?

She must help in educating each expectant mother to insist on the use of a prophylatic in the eyes of her baby at the time of birth, in order to guard against all infections. One per cent silver nitrate is the prophylatic usually used.

II. What is meant by testing of visual acuity?

The testing of visual acuity is a means of determining acuteness of central vision in each eye. It is the most common method of detecting deviations from normal. By using this test it is possible to find many persons of all age groups who are in need of examination by an oculist. There are some eye conditions which do not affect central vision. The nurse can observe evidences suggesting visual difficulty, such as abnormal posture of head or body during the test, frowning, an obvious effort to see the chart during the test, the eyes filling with tears.

III. When should the first test of visual acuity be given?

A vision test should be part of the health examination of every preschool child.

Charts for performing this test can be obtained from the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, 50 West Fiftieth street, New York, N. Y.

MOST COMMON DIFFICULTIES

IV. What are the most common eye difficulties found among children?

1. Errors of refraction of various degrees and seriousness.

2. Failure of the two eyes to work together, arising from a variety of causes and generally referred to as strabismus or squint.

3. Congenital and hereditary eye defects.

V. Why do the two eyes sometimes fail to work together?

1. A difference in the state of reaction of each eye.

2. There may be imperfect vision in one eye at birth.

3. There may be a deviation from normal in the muscles which control the movements of the eye.

4. The fusion faculty may be lacking or fail to develop perfectly.

5. Eye disease or injury may be responsible for the failure of the two eyes to work together.

VI. Does reading in bed harm the eyes?

If the proper posture is maintained, adequate light is supplied free from glare, and attention is given to the selection of the size of the type and the character of the paper upon which the printing is done, reading in bed is not harmful to the eyes. Reading in bed during an illness should not be encouraged, even with the physical arrangements mentioned above, except with the consent of the physician. After a serious illness special attention should be directed to the protection and care of the eyes. During convalescence the delicate structures of the eyes may be damaged through mususe and overwork.

TRAIL TIGERS ON THEIR WAY TO SASKATOON

To Meet the Wesleys Third Time Cup Playdowns

WORKOUTS HERE IMPROVE TEAM

Staying Power Much Better for Use Nelson Ice

Trail Tigers packed their warbags and skates Tuesday night and climbed aboard the eastbound Canadian Pacific railway train on their way to Saskatoon in their fifth drive along the Memorial cup trail, and scheduled again to meet Saskatoon Wesleys.

Coach "Scotty" Ross was advised early Tuesday that the Trail junior team was scheduled to play in Saskatoon Friday afternoon — Friday being a holiday — and Saturday night. Admitting the lineup might make a tough series of it, Coach Ross declared it would be just as tough for Wesleys as for Trail, and his team would be out to make it tougher.

Trail Tigers have won the B.C. title five times in six years. Twice as they hit the cup trail Saskatoon Wesleys have turned them back. But the young speedsters believe this is their year to go to town and they're in the right mind to turn the trick.

"Our team has benefitted wonderfully during the last few days in Nelson through the workouts we've had at the civic centre arena," declared Coach Ross. "Mr StDenis and the men in charge of the rink have been most kind to us and we certainly appreciate the help they have given."

The Tigers moved to Nelson Thursday of last week when their home ice was laid out for a post-season curling bonspiel.

Trainer Bert Repton asserted the workouts on the Nelson ice had increased the team's staying power appreciably, and declared it would be in much better condition for playdown games as a result.

The Trail officials and players joined in tribute to the splendid sheet of ice at the arena.

TILDEN TAKES ON PERRY TONIGHT

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP).—Before another prospective sellout crowd, the pro tennis troupers will return to the Madison Square Garden court tomorrow night with one important change in the cast of leading characters.

When Fred Perry made his commercial debut last January he was matched with Ellsworth Vines Tomorrow evening his opponent will be Bill Tilden, 44-year-old perennial of the courts.

Chief speculation about the match first of a series of five, revolves about Tilden and his ability to stand up under the strain of a five-set encounter with the British player who last year was the world's ranking amateur.

Yanks and Cards Are Favored

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 23 (AP)—A poll of baseball writers conducted by the Sporting News disclosed today overwhelming support for New York Yankees and St. Louis Cardinals in the 1937 Major League pennant races.

Yankees were picked to repeat their American league triumph by 148 out of 197 experts. Cardinals were the choice of 141 in the National league, with the Champion New York Giants rated to finish no better than third.

RULE BOWLING SCORE INVALID

Bowler Competed in Unsanctioned Play

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—For the first time in American bowling congress history a score was declared invalid by officials today.

The Terminal Industrial team of Flushing, L.I., which rolled 2973 last Friday for second place in the five-man standing, was ruled out when it was learned one of its members, John Reeber, had competed in an unsanctioned league last night.

Reeber, who bowled in the Metropolitan Life Insurance league, also lost his place in singles, where he had scored 607, and the team's high game score of 1062 also was ruled out as a probable prize winner.

Braddock Dodges Process Servers

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP).—Heavyweight Champion James J. Braddock wasn't in a receptive mood today. Through his manager, Joe Gould, the titleholder definitely rejected Max Schmeling's $350,000 offer for a fight in Berlin. Meantime, sought on a court order in Miami, Florida, Braddock was disclosed by his manager to be secretly en route to Chicago, where the champion plans to fight Joe Louis June 22 in spite of all attempts to frustrate this objective.

The Berlin offer, understood to have bonafide backing from the Berlin government, disappeared whence it came. Schmeling announced it was withdrawn when the time limit expired, at noon, without any further show of interest by Gould or Braddock. The German challenger, still on the outside looking in, leaves for home tomorrow.

Schmeling, still much mystified by Braddock's refusal to accept a cash guarantee of $350,000, plans to return to New York late in April. He will then go into training to fulfill his part of the contract to fight Braddock here.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By The Canadian Press

Montreal Maroons and Detroit Red Wings played the longest game of big-league hockey on record one year ago tonight. In the first game of the National League title series at Montreal the teams battled 176 minutes and 30 seconds — almost three hours — before Modere Bruneteau, 22-year-old Detroit rookie, scored the only goal of the game. The previous record marathon game was that between Boston and Toronto in 1933. It went 164 minutes, 46 seconds.

FOUR PLAYERS GIVEN MAJORS TORONTO RINK

Rough, Thrilling and Tough Battle Sees Leafs Blanked

By A. E. FULFORD
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

TORONTO, March 23 (CP).—New York Rangers' finely tuned hockey machine turned berserk tonight and fought out a 3-0 win over Toronto Maple Leafs in the first game of a two-of-three game Stanley cup preliminary series.

The game, steamed up as a contest that would be clean and fast, turned out rough, tough and thrilling. Thirty-two seconds before it ended a young riot broke out.

Players tumbled over the ice poking and jabbing at each other, sticks and gloves were dropped for the heavy going, Badman Red Horner made menacing gestures at Referee Ag Smith when he singled out Horner as a good man to keep out of the fight and, for a minute, a fight threatened between Manager Conny Smythe of the Leafs and Referee Smith.

Bob Davidson, tough all evening, cross checked Phil Watson across the mouth to start the outbreak. In a second players were sprawled over the ice, some standing upright and swapping punches, others rolling across the ice jabbing each other.

FOUR MAJORS

The battle royal ended with Conacher, Phil Watson, Bob Davidson and Art Coulter receiving major penalties that didn't mean a thing because the game had only 32 seconds to go when they were imposed.

Shots on goal show clearly how much advantage Leafs had over the New Yorkers. Toronto banged 45 at Dave Kerr in the Ranger net and Turk Broda handled only 17. But superb Ranger backchecking beat them.

The break that started Rangers on the way to victory came in the second period when Horner was penalized five minutes for boarding Alex Shibicky into the boards violently. In a power play, Lynn Patrick, uncovered before the net, took Frank Boucher's pass to drive a puck behind Broda.

Less than five minutes remained to play when Murray Murdoch, scoreless through a 48-game National league schedule took Butch Keeling's pass back and beat Broda from close in.

In less than a minute more, Alex Shibicky and Neil Colville roared down together. They snapped the puck across the ice in a dazzling passing play and Shibicky lifted it over Broda's shoulder.

Lineup:

Rangers — Kerr, Heller Coulter, N. Colville, M. Colville, Shibicky.

Toronto—Broda, Horner, Fowler, Thoms, Boll, Conacher.

Rangers subs: Johnson Pratt, Cooper, Dillon, Boucher, Patrick, Watson, Keeling, Murdoch.

Toronto subs: Jackson, Drillon, Apps, Metz, Davidson, Finnigan, Shill, Day, Hamilton.

Officials: Bill Stewart and Ag Smith.

SUMMARY

First period—

Scoring: None.

Penalties: Jackson, Coulter, Horner, Coulter.

Second period—

Rules Changed in English Rugby

LONDON, March 23 (CP Cable)—Important changes in English rugby rules affecting scrummaging and converting of penalty tries have been made by the International Rugby board. Proposal to cut down the value of a drop-kicked goal from four points was considered but it was decided to make no change.

To improve scrummage play it was decided the ball must be put into the scrum at a moderate speed and first touch the ground beyond the foot of the nearest player in each front row. Previously the ball might first bounce outside the scrum.

The board altered the rules surrounding the rarely-awarded penalty try. In future penalty tries will be warded if scored between the posts. Previously they were awarded at the point on the goal-line opposite where the offence was committed. Penalty-try converts will accordingly be made from in front of the posts.

On the convert of a penalty try, defending players must be 10 yards back of the point where the offence was committed or on their own goal-line.

The obstruction rule was also tightened. A player stooping to pick up a ball could be pushed over under the old law but this will not be allowed in future.

THE FORTS AND THE PEGS

When Leo Atwell was back in Winnipeg last fall the Packers team of that city wanted him to stay around for the hockey season. But he wouldn't have been eligible for the Allan cup playdowns so someone else who was eligible caught the proffered place. All of which seems to intensify local interest in the now complete Fort William-Winnipeg Packers series, and this is how Ralph Allen of the Winnipeg Evening Tribune saw it, and how he figures the Forts in the playdowns:

FORT WILLIAM—The band can tune up any time for Canada Packers.

They fooled me, and if you are quite honest, Mr. Murgatroyd, you'll admit they fooled you, too. It took 180 minutes—not 179—to box them out of this Allan Cup scramble and they might be there yet if the dice had been a little more amiable. Not that they have any legitimate complaint against the breaks as they run over the three games against Fort William. They will dispute this mildly themselves, and there are even a few natives of this strictly one-club city who will lend a friendly ear to this theory. Personally, I have an idea it wound up about right—a victory for Fort William after as tough a series as has ever been played in this unrelenting vendetta between Manitoba and Thunder Bay.

* * *

How do Forts rate in the Allan Cup sweepstakes? Off hand, I'd say just a notch better than usual. Fort William's most learned hockey men told Cece Browne before the series between Packers and Wanderers opened that Gus Forslund was sending out the best hockey team this town had ever had. This bureau hasn't had a look at them all but if they ever turned out a better tone, it must have been before my time.

* * *

They miss greatness by a fairly noticeable notch. Still they have these assets:

A goal tender who knows the business from every angle and will break your heart every time if you're pounding in after a one or two goal deficit.

A defense that excels in bruising, bustling hockey of the type that imbues opponents with a healthy respect no matter which side has the puck.

Two centremen who can make and finish plays with a sure and sudden finesse that stamps them as a pair of the best mid-ice men any one team has carried into the Allan Cup maelstrom in recent seasons.

Four wingmen who patrol the traffic lanes with the precision and mechanical doggedness of robots.

* * *

Beyond that they have skilled coaching that has produced a long-passing team backed by occasional spurts of puck-hounding which are ideally adapted to the wide rink here. It's hard to say how well these tactics will go in foreign fields, but you can take it as a statement of positive fact that the Forts won't be out-smarted, out-skated or outfought to any noticable extent from now until they have either won the national championship or hung up for another year. This was the club that Packers almost beat, which brings us to the stout-hearted Winnipeg kids who will never be completely forgotten when my dotard days are taken up with memories. Most of them are better hockey players than us average folk ever guessed. As a unit they had fight, speed, and a general effectiveness which invariably grew with mounting pressure.

BASEBALL COMING ON, ENGLAND

Baseball appears to be another invader in English sports field that is catching on. Here's what one Toronto writer has to say about what a London writer has to say about it:

They are saying in England that the equipment of a baseball player, now almost a novelty to the Britisher, will soon be as familiar to the public as cricket pads and gloves. It seems like a startling statement to make, but Clifford Webb of the London Daily Herald visializes this day, and goes on to tell of the great strides the great American pastime has made in Europe.

This summer will see 300 organized English teams, an increase over the preceding year of exactly 50 per cent. Webb finds favor with the shrewd campaign that the baseball promoters have conducted. "They have been 'pushing' their campaign among schools and organizations catering for boys," he writes. "The results is 150 boys' teams are ready for a new season—83 of them in the London area.

"The baseball people insist that they are not out to hurt cricket and that anything against cricket finds no place in their propaganda," the writer adds. "All the same, if their progress is continued on the same lines, cricket is bound to feel the draught." Webb adds that baseball has found popularity because of its continued action, whereas cricket's rest periods break up the continuity of activity.

12,000 WATCH MAROONS TIRE DEFEAT, BRUINS

Trottier Goes Wild and Punches the Ref; Score 4-1

MONTREAL, March 23 (CP)—Montreal Maroons, riding a late-schedule winning streak into the Stanley cup playdowns, wore down the powerful Boston Bruins and defeated the United States section second placers 4-1 tonight in the opening game of the best-of-three playoff.

The second game of the series goes on at Boston Thursday night with a third, if necessary, there Sunday.

Carl Voss, scoring his first goal of the season at 13:56 of the first period, shot Maroons into the lead and they coasted through after that, surviving Bruins' bumping and a late flurry of punch swinging. In the last minutes, Dit Clapper tangled with Dave Trottier, punched Referee Clarence Campbell and took a major penalty.

Baldy Northcott got the second Maroon goal midway through the second period, while Alan Shields served a penalty, but a third-period penalty to Jerry Carson enabled Boston to wipe that out. Ray Getliffe shot the goal right after Carson skated off.

Unable to shake off the leechlike Maroon checkers, Bruins were nearly helpless after that and their gang attacks boomeranged twice. First Bob Gracie and Herb Cain broke away and Cain easily fired past Goaler Tiny Thompson. Then Cain and Gus Marker set up Gracie for the final goal, scored on a rising shot from 15 feet that caught the goalie unaware.

A crowd of more than 12,000 watched the bruising battle.

Lineup:

Boston — Thompson, Portland, Shields, Cowley, Getliffe, Sands. Subs — Clapper, Smith, Weiland, Goldsworthy, Cook, Beattie, Hollett, Dumart, Schmidt.

Maroons — Beveridge, Conacher, Wentworth, Gracie, Marker, Cain. Subs—Northcott, Evans, Voss, Trottier, Carson, Blinco, Robinson, Runge, Shannon.

"Proud of Team" Rotarian Wire Told the Leafs

"Sorry you lost, but from broadcast you had best of game. We are proud of our hockey team!" This wire was sent by A. A. Perrier secretary of the Nelson Rotary club to the Nelson Maple Leafs at Edmonton Thursday night, after the eliminated by the Edmonton Dominions in the closest series in interprovincial playoff history.

Mr. Perrier reported the wire at Monday's club meeting, and Dr. D. W. McKay, president of the Maple Leafs, thanked the club for the sentiments, and promised they would be duly acknowledged if they had not been dealt with already.

Cloud d'Or Wins Oakland Event

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23 (AP). — Cloud d'Or, the favorite, won the Oakland handicap, $1000 added, on a muddy track at Tanforan today. Happy Knot was second and Manners Man third. Time for the six furlongs was 1:14 3-5.

The mutuels paid $4.20 and $2.80 on the winner, and $4.40 on Happy Knot.

Happy Knot and Manners Man fought for the early lead. Cloud d'Or remained in back of the field for the first half mile, but came up on the outside of the leaders at the turn into the stretch and won by a length, going away.

Cambridge Crew Favored for Big Boat Race Today

PUTNEY-ON-THAMES, March 23 (CP Cable).—The closest race in years was forecast tonight as Oxford and Cambridge completed training for tomorrow's 89th inter-varsity boat race on the Thames.

Cambridge were 3-to-1 to 5-to-1 favorites to score their 14th consecutive victory over the dark blues, but confidence in the Oxford crew was higher than for years past.

The Oxford crew together weighed 1562 pounds, 56 pounds heavier than the Cambridge eight, constituting one of the heaviest benefit this year as plenty of water is coming down the river and the race will be rowed in a strong flood tide.

Trophies for Net Meet Displayed

Efforts of Nelson and outside bird enthusiasts entering the four-day Kootenay badminton tournament to be held in Nelson, commencing Friday, are to be well rewarded. Six challenge cups have been posted for the various competitions as well as trophies for the four junior events. These are on display in a local store window.

Highlighting the display are the six large challenge cups put up for annual competition in this tournament. These are the Wragge cup for open mixed doubles, the Central club trophy for ladies' singles, the Andrew cup for veterans' doubles, the Transfer cup ladies' men's singles and the Wood-Vallance cup for men's doubles. Besides the large cups are smaller ones to be retained by the winners as their own property. Cups for junior events have, for the first time, been posted and are displayed.

WORLD HOCKEY CHAMPS BLANK LES CANADIENS

Detroit Is Favored to Retain Stanley Mug This Year

By ELMER DULMAGE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

DETROIT, March 23 (AP)—Detroit Red Wings, world champions, crushed the challenging Montreal Canadiens 4-0 here tonight in the first game of the National Hockey league title series and became top-heavy favorites—if they weren't before the game started—to retain one of their two championships.

Gunning furiously at game little Wilf Cude in the Montreal cage, the Red Wings found power in every functioning division to outplay and outhit a team that failed to bring speed and organization into the playoffs.

As speedy Hec Kilrea filled in brilliantly at right wing for the injured Larry Aurie, giving the Red Wings as potent a No. 1 forward line as ever, 12,495 cheering Detroit fans figured the crimson home forces would win again Thursday night and go to Montreal with every advantage.

KILREA SHINES

A year ago Red Wings won the best-of-five series in three straight from Montreal Maroons.

Kilrea, shooting from the wrong side but skating with the efficient Marty Barry and Herbie Lewis, scored Detroit's last two goals in the third period.

Ebbie Goodfellow had given Detroit a lead in the first period in a lightning raid that left Canadiens' defence out of position.

Late in the second period as a steady Montreal bombardment gradually died down, Lewis pushed in the second Red Wing goal. Racing through to the goal crease, Barry slashed the puck into the post and Lewis had only to tap the rebound into an empty cage.

Boisterous Bucko McDonald was just out of the penalty box in the third period when Kilrea snapped up a pass from Lewis and rifled in to make it 3-0 from his backhand. Toward the finish he stickhandled down alone and drove a puck that glanced into the net off Cude's leg pads.

LINEUP—

Canadiens—Cude, Buswell, Siebert, Haynes, Gagnon, Joliat.

Detroit—Smith, Bowman, Goodfellow, Barry, H. Kilrea, Lewis.

Canadiens subs—McKenzie, Lorrain, Miller, Brown, Lepine, McGill, Mantha, Desliets, Blake.

Detroit subs—Gallagher, McDonald, Pettinger, Sorrell, W. Kilrea, Howe, Bruneteau, Kelly, Mackie.

Officials—Mickey Ion and Johnny Mitchell.

SUMMARY

First period—

1—Detroit, Goodfellow (Lewis), Barry) 5:21.

Penalties—Gagnon, Barry.

Second period—

2—Detroit, Lewis (Barry) 16:54

Penalty—McDonald.

Third period—

3—Detroit, H. Kilrea (Lewis, Barry) 1:20.

4—Detroit, H. Kilrea, 17:52.

Penalties—None.

Over 400 Entries for the Annual Kootenay Badminton Tournament

Miss M. Taylor of Kelowna, Dominion Titlist, Coming

An unexpected number of entries have arrived to be dealt with by the committee arranging for the Kootenay Badminton tournament to be held in Nelson over the Easter week-end. They have climaxed all entries in any previous Nelson badminton event. Late Monday night about 15 entries were received from Metaline Falls, Wash., that sent the total number of entries well over 400, to top the previous high set in 1936 by over 40.

For the first time a Dominion title holder will take part in a Nelson badminton tournament. Miss Margaret Taylor of Kelowna, Dominion ladies' singles champion for 1935 forwarded her entry into three events. She will take part in the ladies singles, the ladies doubles with Miss Hazel Brown of Kelowna and in the mixed doubles with Allan France also of Kelowna.

An inovation, the four added junior events, has proved popular and by the number of entries from district juniors promises to make this an outstanding affair in itself. Appraisal of the entries show that the men's singles and doubles will probably be the most keenly contested event of the affair and of any previous one.

Arrangements of the draws for the day night and it is intended that each tournament were commenced Tuesentrant be given a time card showing the time of every play during the four days, Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday. With plenty of space available in the Civic Centre courts and this arrangement the committee plan to run of the events with the least possible bother.

The DAY THAT I FORGET by MARIE BLIZARD

The raw losses of December, the frosts of June shall fret, The day that you remember, the day that I forget.—Swinburne

CHAPTER 33

Russell didn't say anything more to Janet while they danced but when the dance was over he led her gently out toward the garden. Then he found a bench and asked her to wait for him.

He was gone for only a little while, a little while in which Janet reflected: I will not think of Joel. If I do, I'll probably find myself crying on Russell Bede's shoulder. He's that kind of a man. He makes you want to tell him the story of your life. Janet had never met anyone before who affected her that way. It was usually Janet who did the listening.

He came back with two plates loaded with salads and sandwiches which neither of them touched.

"Now what is it that I have that disappoints you," she asked softly.

"A husband," he answered at once. "I used to think that men who made a fuss about their wives going crazy over movie heroes were stupid, but now I know how they feel. Only more so."

Janet really didn't understand and she said so.

"It's plain, isn't it? Why shouldn't I be jealous? There are thousands upon thousands of women who think they're in love with your husband and would lay down hearts and hands for him and he has to be married to you."

Janet laughed. "Mr. Bede, you say the nicest things!"

He groaned, "Don't, Janet. Please don't give me an ingenue's line. One more gurgle and I'll be finished. I expect better things of you."

"All right, I'm sorry. But you mustn't expect too much of any man's wife. I'm doing the best I can pretending that I'm a femme fatale."

"You'll never have to pretend that, Janet." He never called her anything else but by her first name, then or later. You're a dangerous woman."

She laughed sincerely then.

"Yes, you are. You're the woman that many men wait for. You're not a predatory female gotten up with blandishments. You're no cinema version, you're the real thing and when a man realizes that, he fits you into his dreams and that is what makes it fatale."

Janet said, "I have a feeling that I oughtn't to sit here and let you say things like that to me but I'm too weak to do anything about it. I really enjoy it."

He was silent then. He was thinking amazedly that perhaps she seldom heard those things He didn't know anything about Joel Paynter—he might be a right chap—but he knew that a girl like Janet married to a man like Joel, would play a secondary part in their joint life. The compliments would be for Joel.

"What do you do when you hear these things?" he asked after a long moment.

"Do?" Janet returned thoughtfully. "Why I don't 'do' anything for the simple reason I've never heard them before. I guess the only thing I can do is to change the subject. Have you . . ?"

"Don't ask me if I've read any good books, lady, or I'll take you back to the wading pool and douse your pretty head."

Janet felt relieved that the conversation was taking a lighter turn. She said:

"I was only going to ask you if you had any idea what time the fireworks start? I've a hangover from my childhood about fireworks. I love them! I, oh! and, ah! and wait with bated breath for the American flag at the end."

Russell knew that their brief interview was over. He picked up their plates and put them on the tray on which he had brought them.

"Come on," he said. "I'll stand in back of you to catch you when you bend over to see the bursting bombs."

Yes, Janet thought, he is the kind of a man who would always be in back of a woman when ever she needed him.

But Russell wasn't in back of her for long. He was, after all, the guest of honor and Caroline dragged him from one group to another.

Away from him, Janet's thoughts returned to Joel and in spite of her enthusiam about fireworks, she did not see the exploding stars and streaks of brilliant color before her eyes.

A miserable, sickening thing was happening to her. Something she had fought to keep out of her mind these last few weeks since Joel and she had been having separate dates.

She was trying to shut out the picture born in her imagination. She was seeing Nina Harley and Joel together. It was Carol Griest all over again. What were they saying? Where were they? At Nina's house a mile beyond her own where Nina would be saying, "Come in for a nightcap," or Joel would suggest stopping for something to eat.

It'll go on and on this way, she thought, and some day I'll find I've either stopped caring or else I'll blow up and scream and there'll be little bits of pieces of me like these fireworks all over the place.

She felt a little sorry for herself, thinking of her sacrifices to keep her marriage intact on the shifting sand foundation.

For the first time in the three years of her marriage, she wished that Joel were something else other than what he was. She wished that he were a . . . an instructor in a boy's school, an engineer on a train, anything but a man whose associates were beautiful women of standards different from her own. She wished that women had a little more sportsmanship and decency about other women's husbands. Particularly her own who seemed to be fair meat for every siren.

She thanked her stars, looking up toward them in the peaceful heavens above her, that she trusted Joel, that she had respect for him even as she thought that, she told and faith in his faithfulness. But herself, I don't really know.

I don't really know now and I can't bear it!

She was sitting in a chair on the verandah of the Maynard's house. It was dark there and she slipped out quickly and ran across the back lawn toward the playhouse where she had left her bathing togs.

She got her things quickly and went toward the garages to look for her chauffeur.

She heard a whistle at her back and turned as Russell Bede came up to her.

"I lost you," he said, "but I'm taking you home if you're going."

"Yes, I'm going," she said rather breathlessly. "But do you mind if I ask you to let me go alone?"

She couldn't have him with her. She had to be alone. Emotions heretofore unexperienced had stirred her up, unbalanced her and fatigued her.

"Of course I don't mind," he said, "Not if I can see you again. May I come to call on you tomorrow?"

"I'd like to have you," she said and gave him her hand.

"At 5," he said and closed the door of her car for her.

Her thought, which had nothing to do with Russell Bede, beat against her temples and her heart pounded so that her head ached with a dull thudding pain when her car swung into the drive of her house. There were lights, she noted, in her living room. It must mean that Joel was at home. Relief was painful to her. She had meant to go directly to her room and close the door without looking to see if Joel was in his room. She was so afraid he wouldn't be.

"That you, Jan?" Joel called from the living room.

She went to the door swiftly. Joel was lying on a lounge in his pyjamas and robe.

"I couldn't sleep," he said. "I guess I was jealous. I got thinking about that guy chasing you around all evening. You lay off those eastern millionaires, Mrs. Paynter."

Mrs. Paynter felt as though the gates of heaven had opened to her.

Silk Print

The new prints are as gay and colorful as is possible. Mme. Schiaparelli's designs for reproduction on silks are delightful.

For instance, the charm of the Madame's own French garden is captured in this "French garden" silk print designed by this famous dressmaker.

Soft red and green flowers are posed on a black silk crepe ground, and the dress is trimmed with a green cartridge pleated hem border, a green belt, and some green flowers at the neckline.

"The flower pot" hat is black, as are bag and shoes, making an intriguing costume for southern resort wear now or for next spring and summer.

Rain-spots will often mark cloth quite badly, if they are allowed to dry on. No damage will result if the marks are dealt with promptly. Wipe off the wet with a silk handkerchief, going the way of the nap of the cloth. When all spots have disappeared, allow to dry slowly and this will leave the material free from marks and quite smooth.

WHITEWATER'S ORES FIGURED AT $9,602,000

Estimate 400,000 Tons Ore; Scheduled to Reopen Soon

COMPANY CLEAR INDEBTEDNESS

Mine Producer for 40 Years; Ross Will Reopen It

Ore reserves at the Whitewater property at Retallack are estimated at $9,602,000 according to S. N. Ross, who has been leasing at the property, there being 400,000 tons of ore averaging four ounces of silver per ton and carrying 4 per cent lead and 11 per cent zinc, the Vancouver Sun reports. The coast paper describes the property, which is scheduled to reopen shortly, as follows:

At today's prices, silver in the reserves would be worth about $730,000 lead, $2.272,000, and zinc $6.600,000, or a total of $9,602,000. From these figures all charges would have to be deducted for mining, milling, transportation, smelter charges of all kinds, including administration expenses, etc.

W. H. Burgess, managing-director, has just returned from Spokane and confirms the above. He also states he has placed S. N. Ross in charge at the mine with instructions to take in all necessary supplies, hire a crew, re-condition the mine and have the mill in operation by May 1.

Whitewater Mines limited has 24 mineral claims and fractions, covering 507.73 acres in a solid block.

EARLY-DAY STAKING

The claims were among the first staked in the district, following the discovery of silver, in 1891. It has had the most continuous production operation in the entire Slocan camp.

For well over 40 years the mine has been listed as a producer. Official records credit the property with an output of 150,183 tons of ore, yielding a return from the gold, silver, lead and zinc recovered of $3,699,868.

Since 1930, leasers have developed and shipped a considerable amount of high grade ore. Some of the ore was shipped and returned fair profits despite low prices and a quantity of ore was accumulated awaiting improved prices.

GOOD PROFITS

Good profits were returned from ore mined in the upper levels, notwithstanding the fact that the original mill, which was destroyed by fire in 1910, only recovered 60 per cent of the values.

During 1926 or before the present modern concentrator was constructed, more than 10,000 tons of ore was shipped to Trail smelter. Out of the profits derived a 35 per cent dividen was paid to preferred shareholders.

Whitewater is equipped with 150,-ton mill, a diesel power plant, and hydro-electric plant, installed at a cost of $30,000, electric haulage and other mining equipment, and comfortable camp buildings for 50 men.

FORCED CLOSE

After operating from January 1 to July 31, 1929, and treating 21,900 tons of ore, the mill was forced to close down owing to low metal prices.

On completion of recent financial arrangements the company has authorized capi ilization of 3,500,000 shares, par value $1, all of which are outstanding. Working capital of $30,000 is in the bank as at February 15, 1937, ready for consumption.

CLEAR OF DEBT

The company is clear of all indebtedness. The entire mining and milling plant together with hydro-electric power equipment and camps have been paid in full. No major expenditures will be necessary before producing to capacity. All profits from the outset, therefore, will be available for divident purposes. . . .

In future operations of the plant the Whitewater concentrator will be operated on a 24-hour basis, handling about 150 tons of ore daily. It is planned to carry out considerable amount of exploration work as well as further development of known ore-bodies. . . .

The board of directors is as follows: President, Major-General J. W. Stewart, C.B.; vice-president, Donald McLeod; directors, W. H. Burgess, Angus Stewart and James R. Court, London, England; solicitor, Gen. J. A. Clark, K.C.

Ford A was marked up 1¾ to 26¾. Brazilian added 1⅝ while Consolidated Smelters gained 2¼ and Nickel firmed 1½. Other interlisted leaders to advance ½ to ¾ were C.P.R., Distillers-Seagrams and Walkers Common.

MAY WHEAT UP AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, March 23 (AP)—Reports that Germany will purchase 30,000,000 bushels of wheat in addition to amounts already bought gave a lift to May wheat prices today.

On the other hand, July and September futures, representing the 1937 winter crop, underwent simultaneously a downturn in value owing to reports of widespread beneficial moisture.

At the close, wheat varied from ⅞ cent lower to ⅝ higher. Corn ⅛-¾ up, oats unchanged to ¼ advance, and rye showing ¼-⅞ bulge.

LATE RALLY AT WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, March 23 (CP). — Wheat prices were erratic on the Winnipeg grain exchange today as bullish and bearish news reached traders. A moderate rally in the final minutes left values ⅝ cent higher to unchanged for the day.

At the final bell, May wheat was quoted at 1.39⅞, July 1.36⅞ and October at 1.25⅜.

Strong tone of overseas markets and good commission house buying rallied prices to within fractions of yesterday's close. Reports of rainfall in the United States winter wheat belt encouraged liberal profit taking.

Exports of Canadian wheat were placed at less than 500,000 bushels. Germany and Italy were heavy buyers of Argentina wheat with the former taking one cargo and the latter three cargoes of plate wheat.

A little vinegar added to the washing and rinsing water in which floral voiles are washed will help to preserve the colours and make them clear and bright. The voile will be crisper after ironing if a very small quantity of starch is also added to the last rinsing water.

Artificial silk underwear or stockings should never be wrung when washed, as wringing causes 'ladders.' The material must be gently squeezed between two towels.

N.Y. RECOVERS

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP).—Wall street took a little better view of the labor outlook today and stock market leaders climbed back on the recovery wagon.

Steels, rails, oils, mines and miscellaneous issues regained fractions to four or more points on their Monday's losses which, on the average, were the most severe since last August.

The fly in the day's ointment, however, from the standpoint of analysts, was that the total turnover amounted to only 1,590,450 shares, the smallest for a full session since January 4. The aggregate compared with 2,021,750 yesterday.

Pall bearers were Alex Grant of Ainsworth, O. E. Desmond, John Paterson, Charles Peterson, William English and William Robb, all old time friends and neighbors of Mr. Johnson.

The church was filled with friends.

Rev Mr. Shaw paid high tribute to the character of Mr. Johnson, taking for his text, in a short address, "He is not dead, but sleeping."

Hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Unto the Hills."

Mr. Johnson was born in Sweden 74 years ago. Coming to Canada as a young man he followed railroad construction work for a number of years, arriving in Kaslo in 1895. He followed mining in the district from then until his death.

He was married here a few years after his arrival. For the past few weeks he had been seriously ill at his home here, and died at an early hour Wednesday.

Survivors are his widow, a son, Erling, employed by the C. M. & S. company at Trail, and a daughter, Clara, who is on the teaching staff of the Shoreacres school.

Shute and Smith Set New Record

PINEHURST, N.C, March 23 (AP). — The professional brigade took advantage today of rare golfing in the first round of the north and south open golf tournament to give the famous Pinehurst course its worst lacing in many moons.

The gale-like blows customary here in spring gave way to a calm summer-like day, and the salaries shooters grabbed the opportunity to bombard par thoroughly, as Denny Shute and Horton Smith hung up a new competitive course record of 67, five better than perfect figures.
