Pattullo Attacks Plan to Stop Public Expenditures

Ridicule of B. C. Would Follow if C.C.F. in Power, He Says

CHARGES TOLMIE WITH DEBT JUMPS

VICTORIA, May 25 (CP).—"I do not think this is the time for the people of British Columbia to elect a single individual to office who would tear down the present structure of confidence and sound credit, and nullify the extremely favorable position and outlook for the province," Premier Pattullo said in a public address tonight. "Nor can they afford to elect to office men who have no vision, no outlook and who propose to sit down and cease all public expenditures."

After citing social welfare, educational, marketing, hours of work and minimum wage legislation sponsored by his government, the premier asserted that a continued Liberal administration would add greatly to British Columbia's prestige in the next Dominion-provincial conference and future negotiations with the Dominion government.

"RIDICULE, CONSTERNATION"

Should the electors return a C.C.F. government the province at once would be the subject of ridicule and consternation from one end of Canada to the other, he charged. Securities would drop in value and capital would take flight.

Support Fascism Or Get Out, Jews Are Told in Italy

ROME, May 25 (AP)—Premier Mussolini's Milan newspaper asked Jews today to give whole-hearted support to Fascism or to leave the colountry, and to cease criticism of Germany.

The choice appeared to be one between race and country.

Editorial Writer Oreste Gregorio wrote in Mussolini's Popolo d'Italia that Jews must decide "whether they are Jews in Italy or Jews of Italy."

The editorial emphasized that Italian Jews must give up any opposition to the German Nazi principle of a pure Teutonic race (evidenced by many restrictions upon Jews in Germany) and must abandon any participation in the Zionist movement for a national Jewish home in Palestine.

The paper held that opposition to Nazi ideas would be "irreconcilable with the frienship that binds us to Germany and which has objectives far more vast and fundamental than the Jewish question." (Italy and Germany are linked by friendship accord to cooperate in action upon European problems.)

BRITISH SHIP IS HIT BY SPANISH INSURGENT BOMB

Gaping Hole Is Torn in Hull of Freighter at Almeria

EMERGENCY PUMPS KEEP SHIP AFLOAT

No Casualties; Franco Men Take It Easy Near Bilbao

ALMERIA, Spain, May 25 (CP-Havas)—The 1495-ton British freighter Great End was struck and severely damaged by a bomb dropped by an insurgent plane during a raid on this Spanish government port early today.

Twenty-five explosive bombs were dropped during the raid. The bomb which hit the freighter was tht only one causing serious damage. There were no casualties.

A gaping hole was torn in the Great End's hull, but it was kept afloat by its emergency pumps.

The Great End is owned by the Newbegin Steam Shipping Company Limited, and was built in 1920 at Southampton.

With the Insurgent Army on the Bilbao Front, May 25 (By Edward J. Neil), (AP)—The civil war on the northern front drowzed under a hot sun today as General Emilio Mola's forces continued slow encircling movements calculated to bring the all-important struggle for Bilbao to a climax within two weeks or more.

Trips along the insurgent front lines and talks with officers indicated the movement may build up to the real climax of the war.

Working through the picturesque mountain country, dozing under its first real summer weather, the insurgents are meeting little opposition from government forces.

KING AND QUEEN DINE AT "NO. 10"

LONDON, May 25 (CP Cable).—The King and Queen dined tonight with Prime Minister and Mrs. Baldwin at the prime minister's official residence, 10 Downing street. The last time a sovereign dined at the table of a prime minister was in 1911 when King George V was guest of Rt. Hon. H. H. Asquith.

The royal standard flew over the house while their majesties were there. Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada and the other Dominion premiers were among Baldwin's guests.

GERMAN FLAG TORN FROM STREET DECORATIONS AT SAN FRANCISCO

STEEL WORKERS STRIKE

CANTON, O., May 25 (AP). — Steel workers affiliated with the John L. Lewis committee for industrial organization went on strike tonight at Canton and Massilon, O., plants of the Republic Steel corporation. They established picket lines and prevented midnight shift workers from reaching the premises.

LINDBERGH BABE BORN ON MAY 12

LONDON, May 25 (AP) — Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, trapped in the tangle of Coronation day traffic, barely arrived at a London hospital before her third son was born May 12, it was disclosed today.

The Lindberghs, hurrying from their Kent home to the fashionable maternity hospital, were forced to make a wide detour because most of central London was closed from the royal procession.

The birth of a son to the flyer and the former Anne Morrow was made known only yesterday to United States embassy officials. After announcing the birth, Colonel Lindbergh retreated into silence, determined to ensure the privacy of his wife and 13-day-old son.

The mother and baby now are convalescing, apparently incognito, in a large and airy suite on the seventh floor of "The Clinic" in Harley street.

The hospital is under a special police guard. So is the Lindbergh home, the rambling, walled-in "long barn" near Weald, Kent.

Maritime Labor Union May Boycott Fiesta on Friday

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25 (AP)—A swastika flag of Nazi Germany was torn tonight from downtown decorations for opening of the $35,000,000 Golden Gate bridge, and maritime labor organizations threatened to withdraw from the festivities after city officials refused to remove similar banners.

A band of unidentified men ripped one of the flags from a central corner before the arrival of police, who were advised the men had a long bamboo pole with a cutting instrument on the end.

Flags of every nation have been woven into the elaborate downtown decorations for opening of the huge span Friday, and yesterday officials of the fiesta refused a maritime federation demand that the Nazi flags be taken down.

REFUSES REMOVE FLAGS

Late today Mayor Angelo Rossi denied the same request after which Z. R. Brown, secretary of the Maritime Federation's Bay District council, announced a meeting would be called to determine whether the maritime unions would withdraw from the fiesta parade Thursday.

"I will not order these flags removed and I think it is very unbecoming of you to make such demands. All nations have been invited to the fiesta." Mayor Rossi said.

Brown retorted "Labor is going to have something to say about that."

Mayor Rossi said he would order the arrest of anyone caught tampering with the decorations, which line famous Market street and several other major arteries.

Presentations Feature Gyro Meet at Trail

TRAIL, B.C., May 25.—It was an evening of presentations at the Trail Gyro club supper meeting in Crown Point hotel today when Queen Vera Devito, princesses, and all those who had aided the Gyro club in putting on their annual celebration which was this year on May 12, were guests. A. J. McDonell, chairman of the Rotary club playgrounds committee, P. F. McIntyre, chairman of the Trail-Tadanac parks board and Fred Edmund of the Rotary club, were guest speakers. Beautiful gold wrist watches were presented to Miss Devito and the other four competing princesses, who were Miss Betty Clark, Miss Flora McLeod, Miss Annabelle Forteath and Miss Helen Rommerdahl.

John Laurie, float committee chairman, was presented the second place cup for floats in the coronation parade. Dr. C.A. Mittun received the Pisapio trophy, being captain of the Trail Gyro club curling rink which defeated a Rossland team in a loop last winter.

An enlargement, 18 by 30, of their highnesses, King George and Queen Elizabeth, was the personal donation of Gyro John Laurie to the club.

An outline of the Rotary club's action regarding the new park at Shaver's bench was given by Mr. McDonell and Mr. McIntyre. Mr. Edmunds emphasized the immediate need for a playground specially for children.

Men of the public works department yesterday started repairing the road to the site, it was stated.

Bill Corey's dancing troupe provided a quarter hour of entertainment.

CLIPPERS EASILY MAKE OCEAN HOP

PORT WASHINGTON, N.Y., May 25 (AP).—Two big flying boats, which probably will inaugurate regular passenger service between New York and Bermuda next month, lazed over the 783 miles of open ocean today in what was described officially as survey flights.

Off the record, the crews regarded the trip as something akin to a holiday.

From Manhasset Bay, an indentation on the north shore of Long Island, a Pan American Airways plane of 21 tons picked up a tail wind the moment it lifted off the waters in brilliant sunlight and droned into the harbor at Hamilton, Bermuda, four hours and 54 minutes later.

The British Imperial Airways boat of 20 tons encountered headwinds on its trip from Hamilton to the harbor here, and settled its silver-hued hull into the water after five hours and 46 minutes of flying time.

5 Men, 2 Women Held in Jail After Mexico Money Is Passed at Ymir Celebration

Men Face Charges of Obtaining Money Under False Pretenses; Allegedly Passed $35 in Near Valueless Mexican Bills

26 OTHER $5 BILLS, WORTH FRACTION IN CANADA, ALLEGEDLY TOSSED AWAY

Women Held on Vagrancy Charges; All Are Remanded for Eight Days; Constable Robert Holliday Spots Suspect

Five men and three women were picked out of the Empire day celebrations at Ymir Monday night by provincial police after $35 in Mexican money had been passed. The five men are in custody at the provincial jail, Nelson on remand for eight days following their appearance Tuesday before Stipendiary Magistrate John Cartmel in provincial court here on charges of obtaining money by false pretenses; one of the women was released when it appeared she was not directly connected with the remaining seven; and two women were in custody on vagrancy charges.

Police had in their possession $35 in Mexican bills passed at a cafe and hotel at Ymir during the day's celebrations; and 26 bills of $5 denomination allegedly tossed aside by John R. Smith after his arrest.

REPLICA CANADIAN BILLS

The Mexican money, almost a replica of Canadian bills, is worth only a fraction of the bills it resembles. One of the five men is said to have admitted being released from Oakalla jail only recently after serving a term for passing similar money in Vancouver.

The men in custody are John Proven, Wilfred O'Connell, John R. Smith, Robert Borden and George A. Wood. Police are checking their records.

Constable Robert Holliday of the Nelson detachment, provincial police, assisted by Constable Clarence House and Constable C. Cahoon of Salmo, effected the arrests, while Constable Ernie Wallace maintained a patrol. Constable Holliday noticed a stranger furtively keeping out of sight as he spoke to acquaintances at Ymir, and shortly after Chinese operating a cafe rushed to the police office with a Mexican bill which had been passed in the cafe.

Rockefeller Is to Be Carried to Rest Today

TARRYTOWN, N.Y., May 25 (AP).—The body of John D. Rockefeller arrived from Florida in the family's rented private car tonight and was carried to his Pocantico Hills castle. The coffin was placed in the huge reception room overlooking the Hudson river.

John D. Rockefeller Jr. and his five sons, two of whom had just completed a plane dash from Panama, headed a throng of several hundred persons at the railroad siding when the special engine, drawing only the private car and one empty coach, pulled in.

Silently, the eight-car procession started on the two and a half mile journey to the Rockefeller estate.

D. F. de Lap, superintendent of the estate, said that arrangements had been made for the estate's 160 employees to file past the casket after the brief private funeral services at 11 a.m. tomorrow. Only the family and a few business associates will attend.

The services will be held in the great hall of the 47-room mansion.

Father of Robert Kerr of Trail Is Dead at Coast

TRAIL, B.C., May 25.—Father of Robert Kerr of Trail passed away at Vancouver Monday night, according to word received here. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thompson left the city Tuesday morning to attend the funeral.

Beware Mexico $5 Bills; Nelson Store Stuck

Carefully examine any $5 bill which is offered to you.

A Nelson merchant Saturday had palmed on him a Mexican bill, worth only about $2, instead of a Canadian "five-spot".

The Mexican money is rich in appearance and the bill at a casual glance can easily be taken for a genuine Canadian bill, similar to that issued by one of the eastern Canadian banks.

"WHAT IS BRITISH SUBJECT?"

Such Is Poser Before Conference at London

LONDON, May 25 (CP Cable).—"What is a British subject?"

In an interval of grave discussions on international politics and empire defence, Prime Minister General Hertzog of South Africa today placed this poser before the imperial conference.

Hertzog wants the term defined. In making the request he has raised a problem for the legal pundits of Whitehall. The imperial conference appointed a committee to consider it with Ernest Lapointe, Canadian minister of justice, as chairman.

This development in the conference came shortly after it was stated at Canadian headquarters today Canada is not considering any new obligations in regard to empire defence. Her delegates have pointed out that Canada, in doubling her defence appropriations and thus safeguarding her own territory, has made a substantial contribution to defence.

Some delegates to the conference are understood to desire a central authority established in London to handle defence matters. Canadian delegates oppose the suggestion, feeling cooperation can best be accomplished by exchange of ideas and information through regular channels.

Oil-Fed Fire Rages in Navy Yard in California; Hope Save Gasoline

VALLEJO, Calif., May 25 (AP)—Fire broke out late today in an oil depot at the Mare Island navy yard. Firemen were battling to prevent the flames from spreading to a nearby building in which a large quantity of gasoline was stored.

The yard's entire supply of marine oil and gasoline was consumed. Two buildings were destroyed and one freight car. None of the ships was endangered and a preliminary check disclosed no one was injured.

Yard officials said the origin of the blaze had not been determined. The entire Vallejo fire department and all available fire ships were aiding the yard's fire department in battling the flames, which still were raging.

The fire spread rapidly and the huge oil and gasoline supply was in flames before the fire department equipment arrived from Vallejo. There was no explosion.

Three Planes at North Pole Base

MOSCOW, May 25 (Wednesday) (AP).—Three Soviet planes bearing a year's supplies for the Russian north pole base completed their flight to the top of the earth today, circling the camp seven hours after taking off from Rudolf island for their 560-mile Arctic flight.

The fleet of three planes sighted the camp established by Dr. Otto J. Schmidt on a floating ice floe in the polar seas at 6 a.m. Rudlof island time (4 p.m. P.S.T.) and immediately prepared to land.

The commander of the expedition, which it is hoped will eventually make possible a commercial air route from Moscow over the pole to the United States, radioed the news of the feat back to Moscow as soon as he had achieved his objective.

APPARENTLY USED POWDER HOUSE AS A TARGET FOR RIFLE SHOOTING; TWO SOLDIERS KILLED BY LIGHTNING

Six Others Seriously Burned at Camp in Colorado

WIDE DAMAGE IN DYNAMITE BLAST

Town Two Miles Away Shaken, Windows Shattered

SCOTTDALE, Pa., May 25 (AP)—Three boys were blown to bits today in an explosion that demolished a dynamite warehouse near Pine Tree, two miles from this Westmoreland county coal town.

Investigators tentatively identified the boys as Isaac Secrist, Boyd Long and William Stull, ranging in age from 14 to 18 years, all of Scottdale.

The bodies were found about 50 feet from the twisted timbers of the old frame building which had been used for stroring blasting powder sold to nearby coal mines.

A huge crater marked the site of the building which was leased by the Loucks Hardware Co. of Scottdale.

Investigators found a rifle near one of the bodies and concluded the boys had been using the powder cache for a target.

The blast shook this town and shattered windows in hundreds of homes and in many stores.

Mrs. Ida Anderson was cut about the face and arms by flying glass when the explosion blew out the windows in her home 400 feet from the explosion.

Her husband, Irving, and 14-months-old baby were knocked down the cellar stairs by a door blown open by the concussion.

James Long, a motorman for the West Penn Railways Co., walked into the temporary morgue at an undertaking establishment, to offer his help. He discovered one of the dead boys was his son.

Westmoreland county authorities immediately began an investigation to determine whether warning signs had been posted on the powder depot.

LIGHTNING HITS CAMP

BUFFALO CREEK, Colo., May 25 (AP)—A bolt of lightning that struck a United States army rifle range camp eight miles southwest of here killed two men and seriously burned six this afternoon.

The dead are Lieutenant William Fickes and Private Bowes of the 2nd Engineers Regiment at Fort Logan army post immediately south of Denver. The injured were soldiers from the post, where they were taken for medical treatment.

The remaining 39 men at the camp were badly shocked by the bolt as they sat at noon mess in the mess tent, site of the tragedy. The tent, erected for occupancy during the construction of a rifle range, stands on the side of a mountain about 55 miles southwest of Denver.

C. L. Burton, U.S. forest ranger at the Buffalo station, examined the camp after the lightning struck. He said it apparently followed wires from the camp light plant to each tent.

Lieutenant Fickes was alone at mess in the officers' tent, and Bowes had stopped at his tent before joining the others in the larger mess tent, Burton said.

SUGGEST FURTHER BUS STRIKE PROBE

LONDON, May 25 (CP cable).—The full report of the court of inquiry that examined conditions surrounding the current strike of 25,000 bus conductors and drivers showed tonight the court was not convinced the men's complaint concerning injury to health through severe schedules, was proved.

It expressed the opinion a case had been made for a further, immediate investigation by a properly qualified body into the charge, a main issue in the strike begun May 1.

Blame Brady Gang for Shooting

LONGANSPORT, Ind., May 25 (AP).—A new foray of crime — in which a bank was robbed and two peace officers were showered with machine gun fire—was charged tonight by state police to the notorious Al Brady and two of his lieutenants, all of whom already had price tags on their heads for murder and robbery.

The robbers escaped.

Vernon Campbell, Escaped Oakalla Convict, Critically Wounded in U. S.

Shot Six Times in Gun Battle With Police at Tacoma

SOUTH TACOMA, Wash., May 25 (CP).—Bullet-shattered and near death, Vernon (Blackie) Campbell lay under police guard in a hospital here today, his two-months freedom won in a death-chamber escape from Oakalla prison farm in B.C., at an end.

Shot six times in an early morning gun battle with Tacoma police, the 23-year-old Hawaiian who broke from the Burnaby, B.C., institution with Gordon Fawcett last April 4, was seriously wounded. He was captured shortly after dawn when four patrol officers cornered him in South Tacoma park. His capture followed by less than two hours his $10 holdup of a Seattle apartment-hotel clerk.

The officers who brought an end to Campbell's sensationally earned freedom, followed his careening automobile from the eastern edge of Tacoma at an 80-miles-an-hour speed. Six pistol slugs entered his body and arms as officers fired on him.

Both arms were shattered and one bullet lodged just below the heart.

GIN PILLS FOR THE KIDNEYS

New-Born Son of Lindberghs Is of Dual Nationality

WASHINGTON, May 25 (AP).—As long as he lives, the new-born son of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh will be regarded as a citizen of both Great Britain and the United States unless he definitely swears allegiance to one or the other.

This is true because of his birth to American parents on British soil.

Authorities on citizenship questions said today both countries operate under laws recognizing dual citizenship in such cases. One is known as the "law of blood" under which the country of origin of the parents claims their issue as citizens regardless of what country they may have been born in. The second is known as the "law of the soil" whereby the country of birth claims new-born children as citizens regardless of the nationality of their parents.

GODERICH, Ont. (CP). — Capt. Russell Knight of Sarnia, opening navigation here with the Icolite, put in during the night, unloaded and cleared early in the morning while the mayor slept. The traditional silk hat was mailed.

Green Urges the Voters to Elect Capt. Fitzsimmons

C. F. McHardy Also Is Speaker at New Denver

NEW DENVER, B. C.—Captain James Fitzsimmons, Conservative candidate for Kaslo-Slocan riding, addressed a well attended meeting in the Bosun hall May 20.

J. A. Greer, chairman, spoke of the faithful way the captain served the people in the riding the last time he was member.

Captain Fitzsimmons expressed his confidence in A. L. Levy as district returning officer. He said he had more time to give to the welfare of the people, visiting the riding and to report to the sessions the requirements of the industry of the riding. He believed in a fair distribution of money to the people. He sad "with my 40 years residence in the Kootenays, my knowledge of the needs of the Kaslo-Slocan riding, I believe I can give valuable service."

The captain is strongly in favor of an appropriation for the opening up of roads and trails to mines, so they can start operating earlier in the spring. He closed his address by saying he had lost none of his independence and would support the Conservative party so far as "I think they are acting in the best interests of the Kootenay in general. The support which is given to me in the election on June 1 will be worthy of me I hope, and I hope I will make good."

C. F. McHardy of Nelson paid high tribute and said it was a pleasure and a privelege to speak for a man so worthy of support as Captain Fitzsimmons. He spoke of road conditions in the early days and drew attention to the Liberals' last slogan "Work and Wages" and reminded the people three weeks after the election not a truck was on the road. He spoke of the highway commission. Of health insurance, he said—it should be a federal affair, from a hospital angle. There is no money for indigent people. He appealed to the people to support Captain Fitzsimmons.

Mr. Greer, in introducing Howard C. Green, federal member for South Vancouver, spoke of him being born at Kaslo, He said Mr. Green attended public and high schools at Kaslo, and he enlisted with the Kootenay 54th battalion.

Mr. Green paid high tribute to the teachers and especially the school children present, for the interest they took in the election. He drew their attention to their future responsibilities of taking in the job of building up Canada. He spoke of a new Conservative party built up of new and younger folk, and paid high tribute to Dr. Frank Patterson, leader of he Conservative party in British Columbia. He spoke of civil service and said more steps should be taken to restore confidence in the mining industry, "so seriously undermined in recent years." Mr. Green said the public should be protected from dishonest promotors and stock market manipulators. He said this could only be done by revising of the securities act, reorganization of the securities department, encouragement and assistance to prospectors, organization of department of mines, with a view to promotion of orderly, sound development of the mineral sources.

He spoke of the forests, and of a policy designed to conserve the forest wealth. He spoke of cooperation between producers and consumers, saying all possible assistance should be given to agriculture; that settlement on isolated and remote lands without roads and schools should be discouraged and provision made to relocate settlers who are at present on unsuitable lands.

In connection with the British North America act, he explained an amendment to the act would make it possible for the government to meet present day problems without weakening the bonds of confederation.

He closed his address by asking the people to support Captain Fitzsimmons on June 1 and expressed pleasure to be able to assist a man so worthy of support. He expressed pleasure at being back in the Kootenays and renewing acquaintance in the battalion to which he belonged.

Creston Hospital Has Royal Oak

CRESTON, B. C.—The May meeting of the board of directors of Creston Valley hospital association was well attended. President F. V. Staples was in charge.

Gib Sinclair reported for the house committee that among other improvements during the month the kitchen and pantries had been painted.

Charles Murrell reported for the building and grounds committee that the top floor had been insulated. This should make the hospital much more comfortable during extremes of hot and cold weather, besides effecting a saving in fuel.

An oak from the royal forest, donated through Creston Farmer's institute, was planted between the hospital and the nurses' home.

The secretary's report showed a quiet month. There were 279 hospital days, compared to 438 in March, and 438 in April, 1936.

Twigg, district agriculturist and made a survey of the dyked lands on both sides of the Kootenay river in company with Guy Constable, chairman of the committee on agriculture of Creston board of trade. Mr. Moinan's visit was due pressure being brought to bear at Ottawa by West Kootenay Central Farmers' institute and the local board of trade, both of whom are pressing for the establishment of an experimental sub-station, if a regulation farm is out of the question. All information gathered will be submitted to Ottawa. Mr. Moinan had been on a similar mission in the Bulkley valley. Last year a preliminary survey was made by Mr. Newton.

The theatre was filled to overflowing Thursday for the Liberal rally which was addressed by G. G. McGeer, M.P., former mayor of Vancouver, with Frank Putnam, Liberal candidate speaking briefly. The chair was occupied by W. Linden Bell, vice-president of the riding Liberal association.

Can Hold My Own Against Anyone, Uphill at Fernie

FERNIE, B.C.—A challenge to his opponent to meet him in debate was thrown out by Thomas Uphill, Labor candidate in the provincial election, Monday night. The occasion was a brief address he delivered at the Labor party's whist drive and dance at which an enthusiastic crowd packed Victoria hall.

"I challenge any lawyer, doctor, or anyone else to meet me on the platform and debate the issues of this campaign" he exclaimed. "Harry Colgan can have all his friends in the room and the doors locked if he wants them, and he'll see if I can hold my own against him."

The speaker was in fine form, except for a noticeable hoarseness from too much speaking, as he assailed the local Liberals for going so far from home to find a candidate and attacked their campaign methods, especially the spending of so much money for campaign purposes. The Labor party, he declared, was more unselfish and interested in others besides themselves. He said that those who know him best are the ones who are working for him in the campaign, and added; "I know there are poor people working for me for nothing, who could get dollars working for the other side."

The ones who should be considered most seriously, he said, are the ones who have suffered most from present conditions, those with insufficient work, the unemployed, and boys who have spent so much time in camps. He said that the support he wanted was the support of those who know what the real needs of the day are. "It's more important", he exclaimed, "to get milk for the babies than free beer for the men."

Before Uphill took the floor two young boys, John Savage and Tom Uphill Jr., grandson of the candidate were hoisted onto a table and each delivered a speech in support of the labor cause.

MACCHIONE IS IN DEATH CELL

BURNABY, B.C., May 25 (CP)—Vincent Macchione, convicted murderer of Michael Hudock at Fernie, B.C., today was placed in the death cell at Oakalla prison, apparently unhurt in his unsuccessful break for freedom last night when he leaped from a moving Canadian Pacific railway train.

Macchione, sentenced to hang Aug. 5 by Mr. Justice A. M. Manson at Cranbrook, B.C., assizes last week, was recaptured by Constable R. A. Lees of the British Columbia police detachment at interior Coalmont, a few miles from Brockmere, B.C., where he escaped from Constable George Blaney and Lindsay A. Doree who were escorting him to the coast.

A former railwayman familiar with trains, Macchione asked to go to a washroom, and several minutes passed before he was missed. His guards ordered the train stopped when he failed to reappear, and a search was instituted over the rough country along the C.P.R. line.

26 DEAD OVER THE HOLIDAY

By Canadian Press

Canadians, many of them refreshed by their first outdoor holiday of the season, looked back with pleasure today on the long Victoria day holiday, but many homes had been touched by tragedy. Twenty-six persons died in holiday week-end accidents.

Ontario led the list in tragedies with 15 deaths from drownings, automobile mishaps and other accidents. Quebec had four; Nova Scotia, one; Manitoba, five; and Alberta, one.

Rain spoiled the New Brunswick holiday, while the western provinces had fine weather after rains Saturday and Sunday cheered wheat growers. Through Ontario the day was fine for fishing, hiking, motoring sports and other outdoor recreations.

Few celebrations were of an elaborate or military nature, possibly because of recent Coronation day splendor. Ottawa held a horse parade Edmonton and the British Columbia cities of Nanaimo, New Westminster, Vancouver and Victoria had fireworks displays. Harness racing was held in western Ontario.

PICCARD LOSES BALLOON IN FIRE

BRUSSELS, May 25 (AP)—Professor Auguste Piccard's $35,000 stratospheric balloon was destroyed by fire today as final preparations were being made for a new ascent.

Flame from a gas burner used to heat air for lifting the balloon touched a pocket or fold in the bag just as the ground crew began attaching the basket in which Professor Piccard was to have explored the sub-stratosphere.

A fiercely burning fire engulfed the 14,000-cubic yard rubber silk bag in a few seconds. It was reduced to a heap of charred wreckage.

KILLED WHEN HIT BY TRAIN ON A BRIDGE

BRADFORD, Ont., May 25 (CP)—Wilfred Taylor, 39, Toronto, died after being hit by a locomotive and knocked into the Holland river from a railroad bridge near here today, while his wife and son narrowly escaped a similar fate.

Mrs. Taylor tried, as did her husband, to race across the bridge ahead of the train when she tripped and fell. Landing in a three-foot ledge between the tracks and the edge of the bridge, the woman hung precariously to her position while the train passed within inches of her.

The son, Gordon, 14, jumped to the water, 15 feet below, and swam 75 feet to shore. Another Toronto man, Fred Perrin, pulled the elder Taylor from the water, but he died almost immediately.

BLUE HAIR FOR WALLIS FOR WEDDING

MONTS, France, May 25 (AP)—Mrs. Wallis Warfield may be a bride in blue from tip to toe.

Pierre, one of Paris' better-known coiffeurs, asserted today he had been asked to come to the Chateau Cande on May 31 to tint Mrs. Warfield's hair a dark blue—to go with her eyes and the wedding gown of blue she will wear June 3.

That was one tidbit of the day's news about the Chateau de Cande, where the whirl of a lawnmower rose and died in springtime cadence for an hour this afternoon. At the handle was the Duke of Windsor.

SOCIAL CREDIT OBJECTS GIVEN NELSON VOTERS

Howe Claims Material Destroyed at Close Relief Camps

CALGARY MAN SHOWS PLAN

Miss Halldorson Gives View Housekeeping in Government

Declaring thousands of dollars' worth of equipment, furniture and clothing concentrated at Salmo had been destroyed under the direction of a Calgary official, that this occurred during a time of great need, and that he had a photograph to prove it, H. L. Howe, Social Credit candidate in Nelson-Creston, in a speech at the Eagle hall Tuesday night described this destruction as characteristic of "orthodox finance." Supporting him on the platform were Clive Willmott of Calgary, Social Credit lecturer who gave an illustrated lecture on the principles and operation of the Douglas system of social credit; and Miss Salome Halldorson, member of the Manitoba provincial legislature for St. George. W. D. Fleet was chairman.

"So-called sound finance" was "ruining the country," Mr. Howe asserted, holding that the per capita debt of Canada, $1827, was "the consequence of financial manipulation." He said a Dominion election would be called in a year or two, and that Social Credit exponents were now engaged in a drive to make the people "Social Credit minded".

"SERVANTS OF FINANCE"

He described Liberal and Conservative parties as "servants of finance" and asserted the people could "get the same from them in future as they have in the past". The situation of Canada today was that "we are borrowing money to pay interest on the interest of the money we borrowed."

Characteristic also of "orthodox finance", in Mr. Hope's opinion, was that the City of Nelson as reported by the Nelson Daily News was making a drive to collect debts. Debts must be paid, but if these debts were to be paid "at the expense of a bottle of milk for the baby it's time to draw the line," he felt. As a party, Social Credit believed in meeting "contractual obligations," but it did not intend to tax the people forever to meet bonds.

"We are so far in the hole that we can't economize ourselves out of debt," Mr. Howe asserted. Nor would borrowing find a way out. It was time to use the real wealth of the province. Money, he said, was only a medium of exchange, but control of it was in the wrong hands. "The banks monetize your social credit," he argued.

BOOKS SUPPRESSED

Mr. Willmott asserted Social Credit was not new, but that "finance" had suppressed his books on it after subscribing a £5,000,000 fund for that purpose. Alberta was moving toward putting Social Credit into effect, having taken the first step by acquiring a newspaper and a radio broadcasting station under "unchallengeable power of the province."

The "big guns of finance" had so far prevented the organization of a credit institution "which would give access to the effective creation of effective demand through the credit system on principles already recognized and established", he claimed.

This was the second step in introducing Social Credit. Through a state credit house internal credit could be exchanged for external credit.

Mr. Willmott described with diagrams "the industrial body" receiving the "red blood of finance" and prospering; of the same body staggering with the stream restricted; and of it flourishing again with "the blue blood of social credit" taking up the slack.

FIGURES IN BOOKS

Canada's actual ready cash was only 10 per cent of its money, he said, declaring "we do not do business in Canada by cash but by figures written in banker's books."

Mr. Willmott visioned the four western provinces each with a Social Credit government, and then, without secession, setting up a western Social Credit government and leading eastern Canada into a similar path. Alberta was "never stronger than she is today," he averred.

Miss Halldorson described the political situation in Manitoba and stated the Social Credit members at the present time had "the balance of power," and had persuaded the government to make an economic survey which, it was hoped, would prove Social Credit contentions to be correct.

Describing government was "really a larger kind of housekeeping," Miss Halldorson contended that "if the men had managed as well in government as the women have in their homes we would not have the chaos we have today." Women, she said, conducted their homes on "common sense principles."

PAYING FOR BUILDINGS

No woman, the Manitoba speaker claimed, would consent to a system such as the method of paying for the beautiful Manitoba parliamentary buildings. These had originally cost $7,000,000. The people had paid $8,000,000 so far and still owed $8,000,000, she declared.

"Scientific price control," appealed to women as offering "a continuous bargain counter," she claimed. Social Credit would aid in preventing crime by removing poverty, and would avoid wars brought about by commercial rivalry.

Miss Halldorson urged that the home market be made effective "by giving purchasing power at home."

EMPIRE GREAT BECAUSE IT'S FREE GRAHAM TELLS ROTARY

Autonomous Nations Freely Associated With Throne Central Symbol; Fate of World in Its Hands; Victoria Day Talk

Picturing the British commonwealth of nations as absolutely unique in human history, inasmuch as it was an association of free peoples bound by intangible ties, Ven. Archdeacon Fred H. Graham gave the Rotary club Monday a brief sketch of the growth of the throne in the affections of the Empire for the last 100 years, and the recent constitutional development under which King George VI, who was a fortnight ago crowned King of Canada, was previously chosen for the kingly office by Canada, and by all the separate parts of the Empire. His reflections were related to the Victoria day holiday, the 100th since the accession of Queen Victoria.

Recalling the Canadian postage stamp issued by Sir William Mulock at Christmas, 1898, depicting the British Empire marked in red, and the criticism launched at him for the quotation on it, "We Hold a Vaster Empire Than Has Been". Archdeacon Graham said while the assertion sounded flamboyant, it was literally true, and in its original setting in the jubilee ode by Sir Lewis Morris was fine and impressive. The verse containing it he quoted as follows:

"We love not war, but only peace,
Yet never shall our England's power decrease.
Whoever guides our helm of state—
Let all men know it—England shall be great.
We hold a vaster empire than has been."

While Kipling properly cautioned the British peoples in the "Recessional" to humbly seek divine guidance, and not to be boastful, it was the simple fact, the archdeacon said, that not only in geographical distribution — which, however notable, was not the main consideration—but also in unity, potentiality, and firmness, the British Empire was greater than any of the many that the world's history recorded.

All the others passed—those of Babylon, Egypt, Rome, Persia, Spain, Portugal, Turkey all went their way.

In the cataclysm of the Great War, modern empires were seen to totter and fall. Only one empire, in the changes undergone by civilization, continued to grow, not only geographically, but also in unity, loyalty and permanence.

SLAVE EMPIRES WENT

Why had this been, he questioned. Analyzing the conditions that destroyed the other world empires, the speaker noted one common characteristic—all of them were built on slavery. Every one of them exploited the blood and bones of subject peoples, whose suffering shoulders bore the burden. They had been built by law and by force.

Contrasting with those past empires, the British Empire grew, not by slavery but by abolishing slavery;not by applying force to subject races, but by treating them as friends.

Mentioning a personal coincidence between his own life and later developments of the Empire, the archdeacon stated he was born in 1870, about the time that the Empire under Queen Victoria was beginning to realize its greatness. It was the time of the Franco-Prussian war, the time when Christian missions were spreading to all lands from the centre in England, or, if not from England, from hearts of people who were desiring to give the world freedom and light. Queen Victoria, who had gone into retirement on her husband's death, and had hardly been seen for two decades, was appearing in public again, and her return was marked by a growth of the affection in which she was held, it increasing till 1887, when she celebrated her golden jubilee as sovereign.

Ten years later, with the kingdom wider still, and her place in the hearts of the Empire peoples deepened and strengthened, she celebrated her diamond jubilee — the same date in the archdeacon's life being marked by his coming to Canada. Then in 1901 she died, leaving a memory so fragrant that she went down in history as Victoria the Good.

Her son, Edward, so long the Prince of Wales, came to the throne January 22—just 11 days after the archdeacon's arrival in Nelson.

EDWARD PEACEMAKER

King Edward VII during his reign of nine years so proved his power as a statesman and a diplomatist that he was widely known as Edward the Peacemaker, and he was known especially for his tying up of international friendships that had long been severed, the ties formed in his later life as Prince of Wales also contributing.

On his death in 1910, King George V succeeded to the throne, about this time of year. Coming into the succession after the death of his brother, and visiting Canada twice, once before and once after his marriage, he was not widely known, and was by common repute a jolly sailor lad, untried in statecraft.

GEORGE WELL-BELOVED

"Yet look at what he did in his 26 years' reign, in which he was able to attend his own silver jubilee!" exclaimed the archdeacon. During the great war he bore a great burden. It was doubtful if the world ever saw a ruler so well loved by his people, and when he died he was known as George the Well-Beloved. His nearness to the people was helped enormously by the development of radio, his voice, full of charm, and his spirit, so British in its hope, kindness, and love of family, being known to millions. He not only was notable as a monarch, but he typified the fundamental characteristics of the people.

Then for a short time, said the archdeacon, Edward VIII reigned; probably it should be called a provisional reign. He had the love of the people when he came to the throne; he had been the Empire's greatest salesman. He was buoyant of nature, hopeful, romantic—and because of these characteristics he became "one of us."

WISH WINDSOR WELL

Archdeacon Graham said he was not sure that it was not because Edward had become one of his people, and by his travel had become cosmopolitan, that it was fated he should not be crowned King of the British Empire.

He was now looking forward to his marriage a few days hence, on his father's birthday.

"Whatever our own feelings toward that marriage," said Archdeacon Graham, "—and however we agree with the rulers of all parts of the Empire that that marriage was not suitable for one ruling the British Dominions, — we all wish him good luck.

"We may have our own feelings about it," continued the archdeacon, "and have our little fears for what may lie ahead for him; but we must not forget his fine service, even though we may feel he has in some measure let us down!"

Quoting the line, "A divinity which shapes our ends," the speaker said he could not help feeling that with all conventions and stupidities of men, a divinity had again shaped the ends of that great and still increasing Empire of which Canada was a constituent part.

STATUTE OF WESTMINSTER

A very great thing too place a few years ago, said the speaker, at the imperial conference, a unique step in the history of the Empire, when all the nations in it became completely and absolutely autonomous. It was no longer the home government and the Dominions, but a commonwealth of nations, every one of which was free to govern itself and run its own show.

This new relationship was expressed in the following declaration of the conference:

"They are autonomous communities within the British Empire, equal in status, in no way subordinate to one another in any aspect of their domestic or external affairs, though united by a common allegiance to the crown, and freely associated as members of the British Commonwealth of Nations."

Subsequently this was incorporated in the Statute of Westminster, enacted by the Imperial parliament in 1931.

Thus, said the archdeacon, was this remarkable Empire, of nations grouped together, having one centre and symbol—the crown, and the king who wore that crown. It was an Empire bound together with invisible bonds—the family life of its nations. Its keystone was the crown.

Here the speaker quoted a remark from King George V's jubilee broadcast, to the effect that the unity of the British Empire was no longer expressed by the supremacy of the parliament that sat at Westminster, but by the crown, which was the symbol of Empire unity in every quarter of the world.

On that marvellous Coronation day a fortnight ago, when all round the world Empire peoples shared in the Coronation, one of the things that was wonderful about it was not only that King George VI was crowned King of Canada, and each part of the Empire, but that, taking part in it was one of the leading generals who had been one of the Empire's most bitter opponents in the Boer war, General Hertzog, now prime minister of South Africa.

HOPE OF WORLD

Expressing the conviction that this Empire of free peoples had in its hands the fate of the world, Archdeacon Graham hoped the day would come, though probably not in his time, when there would be a union of the English speaking peoples of the world, in which day world peace would be maintained—not by force of arms, but by the weight of an enormous public opinion.

Declaring he could see no end to the possibilities that lay before the British Empire, the speaker quoted from a note found after the death of Lord Balfour, containing perhaps one of his last reflections. It read:

"Whence comes the cohesion of the British Empire?

"1. Patriotism. Loyalty, Custom.

"2. Religion. Race. Fride in nation's manifestation. Habit. Language.

"Mere law is among the weakest of bonds."

Pointing out that in the crisis of last December, the great prime minister of Britain took no steps until he had consulted all the members of the Empire, Archdeacon Graham noted that King George was not only crowned as King of Canada, but was also the King Canada had chosen.

"On this birthday of the great Queen," he concluded, "let us sing 'God Save the King,' and may the Empire grow in greatness!"

A special vote of thanks was extended to Archdeacon Graham for the address, which was given on a program sponsored by E. E. L. Dewdney.

Trail City May Have Officer on the River Bank

Discuss Danger That Exists in Regard to Children

MEDICAL OFFICER GETS PAY RAISE

Examinations of the City Watershed Are Reported

TRAIL, B.C.,M ay 25—Trail city fathers Tuesday night discussed the dangerous situation along the river bank that existed as far as young children were concerned. In order to prevent fatalities the council is thinking seriously of placing a policeman on duty along the waterfront.

The report of the board of works was submitted by Alderman J. R. Anderson. Authority was granted for replacing the worn wooden steps on Victoria street and Green avenue, the new steps to have stone foundations.

The city engineer was requested to estimate the price of a new flume for the Buchna property and submit it to the council.

The engineer was authorized to replace the broken cribbing on the lower side of Nelson avenue and Warren street.

Application of J. G. Wilson and H. Bothun for water meters were referred to the city engineer for further report.

D. J. Teek asked the council to construct a road to the Halliwell property. He was acting for Harold Jordon and himself. The matter was referred to the engineer and the council.

Alderman J. H. Woodburn reported a broken sidewalk on the McDonald property as being dangerous. Alderman Hepburn also requested the city to pick up rubbish on the Evans' property. Alderman Hepburn was authorized to purchase a picture of King George and Queen Elizabeth, the pictures to be hung in th city hall.

The Groutage Avenue bylaw was finally adopted. Three readings were given the Secbanti land sale bylaw. Regarding the keeping of animals bylaw the council gave it two readings and it will likely become effective July 1.

A certificate of approval from the provincial department of municipalities regarding the sewer bylaw was received.

Three water applications from F. Decembrini, D. Davy and T. L. Robertson were referred to the fire, water and light committee. Dr. J. L. Gayton, medical health officer, reported two examinations at the city watershed.

The baby clinic, he declared, was reopened May 13. A checkup was being made concerning sewer connections for the new part of East Trail.

At the conclusion of the doctor's report Mayor Bruno Lerose announced that following a meeting of the council and a committee of the school board, Dr. Gayton had been granted $25 per month increase in salary. The city will in future supply him with gas and oil for his auto free of charge.

TWO DIE IN PLANE CRASH SASKATCHEWAN

NORTH BATTLEFORD, Sask., May 25 (CP)—A small biplane owned by the Brisbane Aviation Company of High River, Alta., crashed at the air field here tonight, killing both its occupants, Charles Dube, a passenger, was killed instantly and Pilot Fred Russenburg died while being rushed to hospital.

Bonnington Is Winner of the Daily News Cup

Running up a total only two points short of a century, the Bonnington elementary school won the South Slocan Victoria day track and field meet with 98 points, to 87 for its rival, the South Slocan elementary school, and with the championship also took the Nelson Daily News cup, which has been in competition at this meet for the past three years, Maurice Walker, secretary of the Empire day committee, announced Tuesday. The silverware now becomes the property of the Bonnington school, by virtue of having been won by it three times.

The biggest point-maker of the meet was young Eddie McGregor of Bonnington, who with 39 points had no rivals whatever, and won the F. F. Payne cup for boys' aggregate in the elementary grades.

Margaret Dawson of South Slocan won the girls' elementary aggregate with a total of 21 points, and with it the other F. F. Payne cup. Her nearest rival was Lily Edwards of South Slocan, who ran up 17 points.

The W. J. Tindale cups for senior district aggregate, above 13 years, were won by Winnifred Ridge and David Motley, both of Bonnington.

These four individual cups were in competition for the first time, and will remain in competition until won for a second time by one individual.

Painful to Move!

YOU can prolong life by taking the advice of a famous physician, which is: "Keep the kidneys in good order, avoid too much meat, salt, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking A-nuric in tablet form." It is the discovery of Dr. Pierce of the Invalids Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all druggists.

Read what Mrs. Wm. Blore of 15 Oxford St., Hamilton, Ont., said: "A few years ago I was in bed for eight weeks and felt that I would never be well. I couldn't move without pain. Finally, I started taking Dr. Pierce's A-nuric Tablets. I took three bottles and gradually was restored to health."

Meats Tested

Experiments carried on at state agricultural experiment stations and the United States department of agriculture and termed the "Co-operative Meat Investigations", are said to be the most extensive research ever conducted in any field. Questions which the research answers concerning the difference in breeds of animals, feeding, etc., in their palatability, were:

No importnat differences found in the quality or palatability of meat from beef animals representing different breeds.

Heifer and steer beef were found to be equal in palatability.

Wheat in the swine ration produced as firm and palatable pork as corn.

Meat from an animal that is fattened quickly has the most desirable flavor.

Tea Cart Saves Steps

A tea cart made by a family friend out of an old bedstead saves one family a great many steps. The cart has four-inch rubber casters so it can easily be wheeled about the dining table. All the dishes on the table can be scraped and piled on the cart, and so just one trip to the kitchen need be made. The cart may then be wheeled to the sink, and when the dishes are washed and dried they may be wheeled to the cupboard to be put away. A newspaper covering the top of the tea cart when the soiled dishes are put on it saves the woodwork.

A LEISURELY COMET

Whipple's comet is approaching the vicinity of the earth—it will be only 119 million miles away on June 20—at the leisurely pace of a million miles a week. Comets travel faster at this end of their trips. Whipple's is somewhat unusual, in that it takes 300,000 years to make a round trip. At the other end of its orbit, it is out of sight, but astronomers think it manages to get a million million miles away from our civilization.

The last time it was hereabout, Peking man was flourishing, if the estimates are correct, and the next time it comes around, according to Professor Charles B. Davenport of the Carnegie Institution, mankind may not live here any more, having, if the professor's fears eventuate, "become the victim of excessive concentration on brain development."

Looking back on Peking man, who lived on a diet of choke-cherries and fried squirrel—they have found the pits and bones in his cave—we may come to the conclusion that the first 300,000 years are the hardest. But looking to the future we may find ourselves in mild disagreement with Prof. Davenport.

Possibly Prof. Davenport and his associates in the Institution are excessively concentrating on brain development, but is there any great body of evidence to show that this or any other form of concentration is being indulged in widely enough to have any effect on the race as a whole? Does anyone know anyone who has done himself any perceptible injury by concentrating on brain development? Or, for that matter, how does one by taking thought add a cubic centimetre to the size of the cranial cavity?

The more one examines this particular etude in blue ruin, the more one must be driven to the conclusion that the professor was either talking carelessly, lossely and unscientifically, or that he was misquoted. Often and often we have been told, by men qualified to speak, that mankind has not been getting any brainier during the 20 or 25 centuries during which the fashion of writing biographies has prevailed. But it is possible that this view is not accepted in the Carnegie Institution, and of course we are all inclined to admit that rapid strides have been made in our own time.

So, let the professor have his way, for the sake of argument. After all, almost anything is rather more than likely to happen in the coming 3000 centuries, and if we must become extinct through some mistake of our own, what more creditable mistake could we make? "He died trying to learn a little sense" would make a glorious epitaph for that strangest of of all creatures, the featherless biped who for quite a while now has been calling himself, more in hope than in conviction, Homo Sapiens—"Man, the Wise."

The British army, we are told, is planned for home defence alone. The next war is evidently going to be a reversion in some respects to that which gave William the Conqueror his throne.

Historian says the custom of giving a cask of wine to the Poet Laureate was abandoned after Tennyson. Subsequent falling off in the quality of verse, we have no doubt, was due purely to coincidence.

Among other interesting events this month is the quintuplets' third birthday on May 28. This will be Callander's big day.

When in doubt concerning eye trouble, have the teeth extracted, advises a Toronto oculist. If still in doubt, have the tonsils removed.

Endeavour II, challenger for the America's cup, has arrived off Rhode Island. Thus, further international ructions may also be in the offing.

Salt Lake City official values the municipal shade trees at $2,000,000 now. In August, of course, their value will be inestimable.

Winter is ended, but the common cold lingers on.

"Oh!" cried Eric, "have you swallowed my tadpoles and everything?"

THINKS $740 IS TOO HIGH FOR PUTTING IN A ONE-CAR SPUR

To the Editor:

Sir—It might be a good thing to publish the enclosed copy of a letter received from Mr. McCracken, superintendent of C. P. R., Nelson; letter dated May 3, 1937:

"Mr. S. P. Pond, Nelson, B.C.:

"Dear Sir: Referring to your inquiry as to the cost of putting in a spur at Westley.

The laying of this track, including the value of the ties, would cost $740 and the annual rental on steel and fastenings would be $56.00.

"Yours Respectfully,
(Signed) "E. N. McCracken,
"Superintendent."

I might say I asked what a temporary one-car spur would cost to load out about six cars of freight. Imagine, if you can, this deal for a one-car spur coming from the C.P.R., a company that works men for 25 cents per hour, and borrows millions of dollars with out paying interest.

I might say there was a siding at this place until recently; there would be no grading to do; a section crew would install this spur in one day, or less time.

The Great Northern would do a simular job and the cost would not exceed $50 and there would be no siding rental.

"With out prejudice, Mr. Editor."

FEARS DEATH AT BAD CORNER BY BALFOUR SCHOOL

To the Editor:

Sir—In your paper today, May 21, I read an article, entitled "Fatal Motor Accidents Grow," giving statistics as to the number killed in the dominion, through automobile accidents, and the interest in Ontario to try and eliminate by preventive methods, future accidents.

In our district, Balfour, we have a corner at the school and post office. This has been pointed and repeatedly to the department of public works, and they have admitted, the corner is a very dangerous one, but still no action has been taken to remedy same. What is the road committee of the board of trade doing? Yesterday, which was Thursday, we had another crash, so why wait until some school kid or several of them, or some person riding an auto, gets killed. It seems that someone has to pass beyond before there is something done. I wonder who that will be?

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

NAZIS WOULD PROMOTE BABEL

Former German subjects of Southwest Africa are agitating for the recognition of the German tongue as a third official language for South Africa, English and Africans being the two now recognized.

That their demand will be granted is unlikely, for multiplicity of languages can add nothing to the unity of people, and the movement to add German to the official speech of a growing Dominion too evidently emanates from a minority which is more or less openly opposed to the democratic principles of that Dominion's government. In other words, it is not in accordance with the unanimous wish of all Southwest African Germans, but only with that of the declared Nazi party.

It is natural enough that a community of other than British origin settled within the Empire should wish to retain the tongue of its forefathers; but experience has proved that its being encouraged to do so at the cost of neglecting to learn, and to use, that of its neighbors and its adopted country is detrimental both to the community itself and to the land in which it has settled.

Canada has evidence of this in the Doukhobor settlements of the west, whose problems could be more easily solved were the Russian migrants and their descendants willing to adopt the English tongue. On the other hand, the Dominion has many citizens of German origin who have never made any claim to be allowed to ignore English in favor of their native speech.

In theory, South Africa or any other British Dominion may be in sympathy with the desire of any minority to keep up the customs, traditions and language of its homeland; but in practice it cannot afford to set up isolated foreign communities within its border.

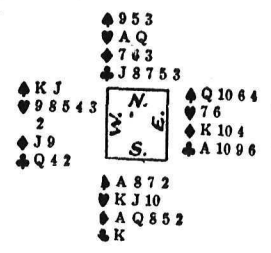
CONTRACT BRIDGE

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

"The Authority of Authorities"

ACCEPT ALL GIFTS

If your partner has made such a bad bid that he had to excuse himself and leave the table, you have a perfect alibi for going down at your contract. But if you keep a stiff upper lip, you may still manage to make it if the opponents display a certain amount of genius in helping you. Be prepared at such a time to recognize and accept all gifts.



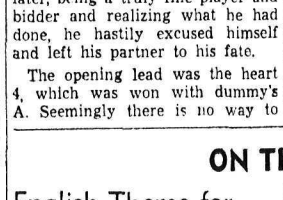
(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

Joseph M. Rothschild, sitting in the South position on this deal, opened the bidding with 1-Diamond, West called 1-Heart, North, 1-No Trump, and after East's pass. Mr. Rothschild made a considerably speculative force of three spades, hoping to find four in his partner's hand. North took it to 4 rather nonchantly. A moment later, being a truly fine player and bidder and realizing what he had done, he hastily excused himself and left his partner to his fate.

The opening lead was the heart 4, which was won with dummy's A. Seemingly there is no way to avoid losing 1 trick in clubs, 1 in diamonds and 3 in spades, but all of the players working in perfect unision found a way to make the contract.

A small club from dummy to the second trick was ducked by East, letting the singleton K score. The spade 2 was lost immediately to the J of West, who didn't like the heart situation and was afraid to lead into a diamond tenace, so preferred the club Q. Mr. Rothschild ruffed this with his spade 7, overtook the heart J with the Q, finessed the diamond Q and led the heart K, discarding a diamond from dummy. East trumped this with the spade 6 and returned the club Ace, which was ruffed with the spade 8. The spade Ace and diamond Ace were now played, the diamond 2 ruffed in dummy and the club J furnished sufficient tricks to make the contract.

Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

After bidding of 1-Diamond by South, 1-Heart by North, 1-Spade by South, 3-Spades by North and 4-Spades by South, what is West's best lead?

THE DOCTOR SAYS . . .

LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

PROBLEMS PECULIAR TO OLDSTER

In her book called "Guiding Your Life" Dr. Josephine Jackson considers some of the problems which confront older people.

Being Out of Sorts: In middle age, when many of the responsibilities of life have been taken away, people are sometimes inclined to become discontented. They are "out of sorts" all day long. One woman said, "I am not like myself any more." She felt sick all over. Every time she would complain she would be advised to go to a doctor. In the course of time she had X-rays of every part of her body, reports on examination of her blood and of her other excretions, tracings of her heart and respiration and blood pressure.

With all of them there was just a little something wrong because she was a middle-aged woman, but that wasn't what was the matter with her. Like Othello, her occupation was gone. Her children had grown up. Some changes had occured in the glands all over her body; the sap wasn't flowing quite as rapidly.

For women of this kind, Dr. Jackson has three words of advice: One is a balanced diet with a predominance of fruits and vegetables as time goes on. Second, don't let any nervous habit grow on you, such as "feeling your feelings" or noticing any little nervous sensations; they will soon be forgotten if you ignore them. Third, go on with the job of setting your children an example of an unselfish woman who is willing to meet life unafraid. In thinking of your families you will save yourselves.

WOMAN SAYS SHE'S LAZY

Another type of experience which is fundamentally the same thing, is a woman who writes as follows:

"I wonder if you could offer any advice to a woman of forty-eight, mother of five grown children and grandmother of two babies?

"I am so lazy! I keep writing schedules for my work and plans for my garden, but I peter out before I do more than get my men folks off to work in the morning. I do my washing and ironing all through the week and accomplish little, just rousing to clear up and get dinner for their home coming at night."

Women like this are apt to get the idea that there is something physically the matter with them. Of course, it is well enough to have an examination to prove whether there is or not, but fundamentally the trouble is psychological. She should humor herself a little. It is perfectly natural, after a useful, busy life, that she should feel let down. Give in to it. Take some rest. A man of this type needs a hobby and so does a woman. In the course of time, the tides of life will flow back and a feeling of health will be restored.

Doctors are more and more coming to the realization that these cases must be treated psychologically. Even if there is some organic disease present, the primary treatment should be psychology.

JEFFERSON CUP UP FOR PLAY TRAIL GOLF

Knockout Competition Gives Way to Play Lower Flights

TRAIL, B.C., May 25.—Saturday, May 29, will again see the golfers of the Rossland-Trail Country club competing for the Jefferson trophy, in the annual mixed two-ball foursome handicap.

The competition is usually unique in the closeness of the matches played, due partly to its being a handicap and also the fact that partners are drawn for by the match committee, thus eliminating the possibility of any one couple being too strong for the rest.

This year an innovation is being tried. Previous years the competition has been a straight "knock-out" one, but 1937 sets the losers in the main competition being given another chance to win glory in two lower flights.

Entries close Thursday evening and a heavier entry list than ever before is expected. Draws for partners will be made Thursday evening.

UNITEDS LEAD SOCCER LEAGUE

TRAIL, B.C., May 25.—Including tonight's game in which Trail United defeated Rossland 3-2, standing of the City Soccer league follows:

	W	L	D	P
Trail United	3	0	1	7
Adanacs	1	1	1	3

In tonight's fixture Jimmy Stewart, powerful left back, for the Uniteds, scored the first counter by a long drive from his own half of the field. Jimmy Patterson booted home another to leave the score 2-0 at half time.

Trail squad further increased their lead after the interval when Jimmy Patterson repeated. The visitors made a splendid rally before time, Swanson and Hamilton scoring.

Philly Southpaw

WAYNE LAMASTER

One of the big reasons for Philadelphia Phillies' surprising showing this season in the National league is the sparkling pitching of southpaw Wayne Lamaster. He is an old hand at pitching, having been going places for 11 years—never into the majors, however, until this year. Wayne was drafted from Louisville where he won 13 and lost 10 last season to get his big chance.

DODGERS BEAT PIRATES

PITTSBURGH, May 25 (AP). — Brooklyn's Dodgers overcame the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 today behind the fireball pitching of Van Lingle Mungo.

They did it in spite of the banishment of their manager, Burleigh Grimes, for protesting the way Umpire George Magerkurth called balls and strikes—the third time this has happened to the Dodger pilot this season.

Bill Swift, for the Pirates, pitched equally good if not better than Mungo. He struck out five men, limited the Dodgers to six hits and did not walk a man. Mungo walked five.

GIANTS SECOND

CINCINATTI, May 25 (AP).—By giving him a working margin of six runs in the first inning, the New York Giants today made it easy for young Harry Gumbert to ring up his first victory of the year. Gumbert allowed the Cincinatti Reds 11 hits in stopping them, 9-3, and the Giants moved into second place behind Pittsburgh and ahead of the idle St. Louis Cardinals.

HUGHES LEADS

PARIS, May 25 (AP). — George Patrick Hughes of Great Britain led the men's singles field in the French court tennis championships into the fourth round today with a straight set, 7-5, 6-1, 6-3, victory over Jacques Jaimain of France.

Heinrict Henkel of Germany defeated Pierre Pelizza of France, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1, in another third round match.

BELLOISE WINS

BROOKLYN, N.Y., May 25 (AP). —Mike Belloise, recognized as world featherweight champion in New York state, gained a clean-cut eight-round decision over Jimmy McLeod of Tacoma, Wash., before a crowd of 3000 at the Coney Island velodrome tonight. Belloise won every round but the seventh, when he was rocked by a right to the jaw. McLeod, at 136, had a six-pound weight advantage.

Ymir and Salmo Split Baseball, Softball Games

Feature Events Give Gallery Plenty of Fun

Ymir and Salmo divided honors in senior baseball and girls' softball games which were among features of the annual Empire day celebration at Ymir.

Salmo turned the tables on Ymir 11-5 in the senior baseball struggle, a game that had the gallery shouting continuously and which produced hits galore to keep the fans in the bleachers constantly looking for a new spot free of fly balls. The boys bounced the odd ball off a hotel also. It was lots of fun, which after all was the main purpose of the day and the game.

Teams were:

Ymir—W. Fisher, c; R. Gille, p; E. Squires, 1b; R. Jones, 2b; R. Edwards, ss; "Scotty" Ross, 3b; M. Eyjofson and G. Boran, rf; R. Nash, cf; "Lefty" Fairbairn, lf.

Salmo—H. Moore, c; Humble, p; S. Anderson, 1b; McLennan, 2b; E. Gibbons, ss; "Rusty" Gibbons, 3b; Smith, rf; Boahan, cf; Adams, lf.

NELSON AID

In the softball battle Ymir doubled the score on Salmo at 12-6 between arguments staged by coaches and officials. Ymir had the aid of Nelson girls in the victory, among them Hazel Spiers, pitcher.

The teams were:

Salmo—S. Hamburg, J. King, G. Moore, D. Fair, M. Miller, O. Fair, A. Stewart, H. Davey, G. McDuffy.

Ymir—H. Spiers, A. Ball, A. Gillett, I. Graves, P. Wallace, G. Jones, L. Anderson, L. Roberts, F. Hanson.

The committee for the celebration consisted of Sam Ball, general chairman; S. A. Curwen, secretary; Dan McKay, Jake Haines, sports; Jake Haines, John Gillis and F. R. Pritchard, Mrs. John Valance, Mrs. W. O. Jones and Mrs. William Jones, queen contest; Mrs. Archie Smith and Mrs. John Clark, prizes.

Very often a player will step on the line of another putt. Obviously he wouldn't think of stepping on his own line because a footprint or the mark of a club is enough to cause him to miss the putt. Yet, in his haste to get across the green to his own ball or to the next tee he will make depressions right in the line between another player's ball and the hole.

The only possible excuse for such an act is thoughtlessness, but even this doesn't make it something to be overlooked. After all the spirit of the rules calls for every consideration of other players so that you may not, in any way, hinder them or keep them from doing well. The next time you find yourself confronted with a walk to get to your ball, by all means walk around either the cup or the other player's ball.

Don't even try to hop over his line of play because you may falter in your step or drop your club and thereby injure his line. Caddies sometimes drop a flag or mark the green but not often. As a rule players are to blame. Be considerate of others on the course and it will help your own game.

Pucksters Play Hume Thursday

The Pucksters, who defeated the Shamrocks by a close score in an exhibition game 10 days ago, will make their first start in the Nelson men's softball league Thursday evening when they stack up against the Hume club in a game scheduled to start promptly at 6 p.m.

The Pucksters have several players of last year's B.C. Telephone club, which captured the Nelson league title in 1936, in their lineup. Among the players who will play for the Pucksters are Ty Culley, Len Bicknell, Nick Smith, Pat Egan, Max DesBrisay, "Red" Carr, Glen Vickers, Bill McKay, Jim McPhee and Albert Euerby. Players of both clubs are asked to be on the field on time so that the game can start promptly at scheduled time.

Nelson Athletes Shine at Ymir

Hazel Spiers Sets New Strikeout Record by Fanning 20 Batters

Along with Hazel Spiers, who set a new district strikeout record of 20 in nine innings while pitching for the Ymir ladies' softball club against Salmo on Monday afternoon, Nelson athletes figured prominently in many events of Ymir's big Victoria day celebration. As Ymir only had six players available, Hazel Spiers and Alice Gillett formed the Ymir battery and Phyllis Wallace played first base. All play for the local Maple Leafs. Hazel Spiers hit two home runs and a triple and Alice Gillett collected four hits including a home run, while Phyllis Wallace came through with two hits and played well at first base. In the first, fourth, fifth and sixth, Hazel Spiers retired the side on strikeouts in succession.

Going to Ymir with six players who had never touched a baseball all season, the Nelson boys' showing in carrying the Ymir baseball juniors to two extra innings before losing 13-12, when the club put three seniors into the game as pinch hitters, was considered creditable. Austin Brennan was the star of the Nelson team.

TRACK STARS DO WELL

Nelson's star runners were late in getting on the field, but they carried away many prizes when they did arrive. The Nelson girls' relay squad ran away from all opposition to win this event, with Audrey Emery, Doreen Long, Helen Wigg and Pat Guy all showing plenty of speed. In the ladies' open event Audrey Emery finished first with Helen Wigg second and Doreen Long third. Doreen Long was first in the ladies' open broad jump with Pat Guy second. Audrey Emery and Helen Wigg finished first in the girls' 16 and under three-legged race. Pat Guy finished first in the girls' 16 and under race, and finished second in the 14 and under, also finishing second in the 14 and under sack race. Gwen Guy won the 12 years and under race.

George Bishop won the men's open 100 yards event. Bob Clarkston won the 16 and under boys' race, and the boys' broad jump. George Lapointe won the cracker and whistle event, and Howard Campbell was second in the 16 and under sack race.

In addition to the three members of the Nelson Maple Leafs club playing for Ymir, Deannie Wallace, Iris Johannson, Mary Payne, Eva Hendrickson and Lillian Fisher of the same club made the trip, with Lillian Fisher being the official scorer in both baseball games and the softball game.

Nelson athletes and officials were loud in their praises of the fine treatment they received in Ymir, as Ymirites went out of their way to make their stay as enjoyable as possible. The Nelson softball players also had a word of praise for the fine pitching performance of Olive Fair of the Salmo team, and predict a great future for her. Miss Fair fanned 13 Ymir batters.

It is estimated that well over 300 Nelsonites were in Salmo, including the Bugle Band, which paraded several times during the day.

STEEPLECHASE RIDER INJURED

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP). — Henry Little, veteran steeplechase rider, was injured seriously today when thrown from J. E. Widener's Bushranger while schooling the famous jumper at Belmont park. The horse broke his neck and was destroyed. An examination at the hospital showed Little to be suffering from a possible fracture of the skull. Hospital attendants described his condition as "fair."

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP). — A seventh-inning home run by Tony Lazzeri, his third of the season, today provided the winning margin for the Yankees as they defeated the Detroit Tigers, 4-3, for their fifth straight victory and widened their first place margin to two full games over the beaten Philadelphia Athletics.

The game, which marked the Tigers' first appearance of the year at Yankee stadium, also cost them the services of Manager Mickey Cochrane.

After his homer in the third temporarily had tied the score at 1-all, Cochrane came to bat again in the fifth with a man on first and two out. He was struck in the right temple by a ball pitched by Irving (Bump) Hadley and was knocked unconscious.

A crowd of 15,026 saw Schoolboy Rowe start his first game of the year for the third-place Tigers. The Schoolboy gave up 10 hits, including Lazzeri's four-bagger and another by Joe DiMaggio, his fourth, that scored Hadley in the fifth.

Though it was Hadley's fifth start, he has yet to finish a game. Today he gave up five bases on balls in addition to "beaning" Cochrane.

Between Innings

FRANK A. PYTLAK

Cleveland Indians of the American league are counting greatly on Catcher Pytlak to carry them to the pennant next fall. He is the number one catcher of the club.

Frankie was born in Buffalo, New York, on July 30, 1909, and entered baseball in the season of 1928 with Buffalo of the International league. In 1931 Pytlak was purchased by Cleveland Indians from Buffalo and the following year the Indians optioned him to Toledo of the American association. 1933 saw Frankie on his way back to the majors with Cleveland recalling him.

Frankie has played but one position during his baseball career and has also shown himself capable of smacking the old apple around. His batting average over a period of five years is .293, which is not to be scoffed at.

He is a right-hander weighing 160 pounds and measuring five feet seven and one-half inches tall.

Tolley Advances

SANDWICH, Kent, May 26 (CP). —Favorites generally progressed through the second day of knockout match play today for the British amateur golf championship but a few oldsters, like Dr. William Tweddell and Harry Bentley, were tumbled into the deep traps of the Royal St. Georges links by younger opponents.

Main fireworks of the second round were supplied by Jack Levinson of Chicago, New England titleholder, who fired an amazing 31 on the out-nine and went on to eliminate C. W. Timmis of England 3 and 2. Levinson's outgoing 433-443-424—31 equalled the best previous effort over that part of the long course.

In the battle of ex-champions, Cyril Tolley eliminated Hon. Michael Scott, 2 and 1. Tolley's superior length was the deciding factor. Tomorrow Tolley will meet Frank Pennick, English champion, who eliminated S. H. Newman, 5 and 4, today.

TIGER MANAGER IS HIT ON HEAD WHILE AT BAT

High Inside Ball by Bump Hadley Puts Him Out

CONDITION SAID TO BE SERIOUS

NEW YORK, May 25 (AP).—Gordon (Mickey) Cochrane, manager and catcher of Detroit Tigers, suffered a fractured skull when he was hit by a pitched ball during today's game at Yankee stadium. Dr. Robert E. Walsh, Yankee's club physician, said Cochrane was in a serious condition.

Cochrane

He was hit by one of Irving (Bump) Hadley's pitches in the fifth inning of the Tigers' game with the Yanks, after hitting a home run his last time at bat in the third inning.

Hadley's pitch was high and inside and Cochrane tried to duck away as the ball came up. He dropped to the ground as the ball hit him but thousands in the stands thought he had been hit on the wrist.

In the clubhoue ice packs were applied to Cochrane's forehead and temple. He lay swathed in blankets, as Ray Hayworth, second string catcher, replaced him behind the plate for the Tigers.

CHAPTER 39

Charles had said on the phone that Jacqueline should come to his apartment at 97 Grayford street at 8 p. m. to tell of her misgivings.

It was a little past 8 o'clock that evening when Jacqueline got off the bus and turned into Grayford street. She found that it was a long, rather narrow street, dismally lighted and almost deserted. Ther was no traffic save an occasional taxi taking a short cut—or benefiting tht meter with a long detour—but her and there a car was drawn up beside the curb. Most of the houses were let off in apartments, Jacqueline noticed, and though, as she strode along in search of No. 79, that it was just like the unimaginative Charles to choose a depressing spot like this in which to spend his leisure hours.

She walked quickly, surprised and annoyed with herself to discover that her nerves were hardly less jumpy than they had been as she walked along Park Lane that afternoon, and that she still felt an almost irrestible impulse to glance back over her shoulder at every few steps. Once or twice she was certain that she could detect the sound of footsteps following her. She halted and glanced quickly around, discovered that the sound of the footsteps had ceased, decided that she was hearing only the echo of her own heels and went on again. Charles had said that he would be on the lookout for her. She wished he would turn up and meet her.

Most of the houses were numbered on the fanlight above the front door; most of the halls that were lighted at all were but dimly lighted, and locating any particular house meant counting on in odd numbers from the last legible number. Jacqueline made out No. 91, counted three houses forward and paused outside the one which she imagined must be No. 97. There was a big limousine waiting at the curb, and she caught a glimpse of a shadowy figure seated at the driving wheel, and the glow of a cigaret. She wondered vaguely if Charles had brought his important client home with him, and turned to peer up at the fanlight above the front door to assure herself that this was actually No. 97.

From behind her came the sound of a soft footstep, and she suddenly started and turned her head. At that instant a massive arm was slipped under her chin, jerking her backward, a massive hand was clapped over her nose and mouth, and a sweet, sickly smell assailed her nostrils.

She tried to struggle, but the sweet, sickly smell seemed to be numbing her brain, spreading out into every cranny of her body, sapping all her strength. She got a vague impression of a deep, hoarse voice that seemed to travel to her over immense distances, and then she remembered nothing more.

* * *

The frist thing of which Jacqueline became aware was a dull ache in her head and a faint, rather sickly smell; the next, that she was lying on her back on something which was too hard to be a bed.

For a time these facts were quite enough for her. She felt extremely tired. She had not the physical energy to open her eyes and discover where she was, or the mental energy to puzzle out what was the cause of that queer sensation in her head and the faint sickly smell. Gradually, however, as consciousness crept back, though she still lay with closed eyes, her mind began to stir, and she began vaguely to wonder where she was and how she had come there and what it was that had happened to her.

Colonel Lutman was mixed up in it somewhere, though what part he had taken the the matter she hadn't the faintest idea. Charles, too, was somehow involved in it. She had been going to see Charles — Yes, that was it. After that dreadful scene with Colonel Lutman about the will and the check she had been going to see Charles to tell him everything and to ask him what she was to do about it.

Slowly recollection returned to her. She remembered travelling by bus—or had she taken a taxi? She certainly had intended to take a taxi, because it was most important that she should get to Charles as quickly as possible. But no, she had gone by bus; she was sure of that now, because the conductor's punch had failed to work and he had made a hole in her ticket with the tip of his pencil. Besides, Charles had told her to take a bus when she had spoken to him on the telephone. The bus passed the end of his street, he had said, and she was to get off there and walk along the street and he would come to meet her. That was what she had done.

She remembered quite distinctly now getting off the bus and setting off along the street, looking for No. 97 as she went along. Then had come that quick furtive step behind her. An arm had been flung round her neck, forcing her head backward, and a hand had clapped something over her mouth and stifled her screams. She remembered struggling desperately, twisting and wrenching to free herself. The arm had tightened around her neck, and she had been aware of a strong smell; it had seemed that, with every breath she took, keen, pungent fumes had rushed up into her brain and sent fierce tongues of vivid red and green swirling across her eyes. She remembered realizing that her struggles were growing weaker, that it was no use struggling any more, that whatever was happening to her must happen because she could fight against it no longer. Then, it seemed, she had sunk deeper and deeper into darkness—farther and farther away from the world of reality, not knowing where she was going and feeling far too weak to care. It was chloroform, she supposed, or something of that sort; though why anyone should want to chloroform her, she couldn't imagine.

Colonel Lutman, perhaps; though it was difficult to see what he had to gain by it. Chloroforming her couldn't make her marry Jim Asson, and that, of course, was the colonel's chief concern. She could not understand why he should be so desperately anxious for the marriage to take place; but she couldn't worry about that now. It didn't particularly matter for the moment who had clapped the chloroform pad over her mouth and given her this splitting headache. The most important question now was, what had happened to her subsequently and where was she now?

She made an effort to open her eyes. There was nothing to indicate where she might be: she was in total darkness, without a glimmer of light even to indicate the position of a door or a window.

Groping, her hand found a wooden ledge and felt its way along. She seemed to be lying on a wooden plank with a ledge around it, she discovered—a straw mattress from the feel of it—but she was still wearing her coat and skirt, and there were no coverings of any sort.

She thrust out a hand, groping in the darkness, but nothing met her touch. She withdrew her hand, and lay quite still for a time, trying to imagine where she might be. A straw mattress on a plank sounded rather like prison; but they could hardly put her in prison for refusing to marry Jim Asson, and she smiled faintly as she realized that chloroform pads were not included in the normal equipment of London policemen. But where was she?

Very cautiously she sat up and again groped around her with an outstretched hand. This time her fingers found a wall to her left. It was a wooden partition, she decided. Then she tapped it with her knuckles and realized that it was no ordinary wooden partition; the sound told her that it was built of thick, heavy timber.

She got onto her knees and edged her way slowly forward as her fingers followed the wall. Then suddenly her knee struck the ledge at the end of the plank, and she drew back quickly, with a sudden feeling that she was on a ledge at some tremendous height and that she had almost gone over it.

She gave an nervous little laugh. She mustn't get jumpy. After all, she was on a mattress on a shelf of some sort, and a mattress on a shelf couldn't be at any very terrific height from the ground.

MORE ABOUT

MEXICAN BILLS

The man Constable Holliday had seen was arrested and when he was questioned he told the police the names of the men with whom he had gone to Ymir by car. Constables House and Cahoon took up stations at the car and arrested several of the men and women there, completing the "roundup" in a hotel room and arresting the fifth man on the street on identification by the Chinese.

PROTEST INNOCENCE

The eight arrested were rushed to Nelson under guard in two police cars, and at about 3 a.m. were "booked in" at the provincial jail. When the men appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate Cartmel and Constable Holliday asked for an eight-day remand Proven, Borden and Wood protested their innocence and protested at being retained in jail. His worship advised them that they could obtain a lawyer and apply for bail.

Two of the bills, a twenty and a ten, were passed at a Ymir cafe, and the third was in the possession of one of the women. Smith was said to have had in his possession 26 bills.

A number of the bills have turned up in Nelson among merchants.

That radioactive spots on the earth's surface may be centres for the spread of new disease is the theory of Dr. R. R. Spencer of the U.S. Public Health service. As a result of experiments, his idea is that sudden epidemics or sudden changes in the character of diseases or disease germs are due to powerful effects of radium on the ordinary variety of germs. Recently a distinguished Russian physicist, Dr. V. T. Vernadsky, proposed a world-wide survey of amounts of radium in the soil of different countries. If radium rays are proved responsible for sudden germ changes, and the proposed survey succeeded, science might have an entirely new way of controlling disease.

Rev. Morrant Is Speaker at Trail Rotary Luncheon

Compares Rotary to Courses on Menu

TRAIL, B.C., May 25.—Resembling Rotary education to the different courses of the weekly-luncheon, Rev. L. A. Morrant rendered a unique address when he spoke at the Rotary club's meeting in Crown Point hotel palm room today.

"The weekly luncheon is Rotary," he said, "and in it you will find: recreation for mind and spirit; order in the conduct of the chair; trust in the mutual regard for one another; activity in the business brought before you; responsibility in tasks allotted; yearning to do more for your fellowmen at large in the field of Rotary education and service."

J. J. Warren, Toronto and Fred Walters, Calgary Rotary club, were guests.

Turning to the Conservative platform, Mr. Pattullo cited plank No. 1, as saying that increase of public debt must cease and periods of increasing revenue utilized to reduce the debt. Plank No. 2 says cost of government must be drastically reduced and public debt must be refunded at lower rates wherever possible.

"If increased public debt must cease, then all capital expenditures must cease," asserted the premier. "I wonder if the people of British Columbia want all public expenditures to cease. Would the province continue to develop and prosper without capital expenditure?" he asked. "Are the people prepared to pay double taxation in order to provide money with which to carry out public undertakings?"

TOLMIE GOVERNMENT

The Tolmie government, after running expenditures up to $29,000,000 in a single year ended their regime minus credit and cash. The last full year they showed a reduction of $6,000,000.

They cut off $2,400,000 from the municipalities, reduced civil servants' salaries from 5 to 20 per cent, omitted provisions for sinking funds and charged up unemployment relief to capital account, he said.

The government, he continued, intended to meet large maturities in the next few years by paying them off from available funds or by refunding them.

Experiments in air conditions in hospitals in San Francisco proved a distinct aid in the treatment of patients suffering from acute and chronic sinusitis, acute bronchitis, asthma, hay fever and allergic skin conditions.

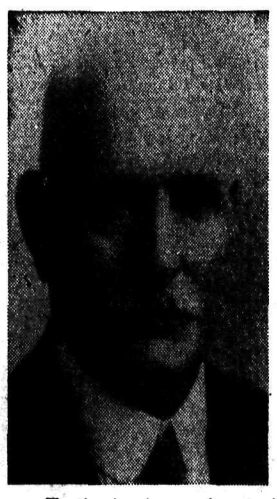
For Better Conditions IN THE Kaslo-Slocan Riding



The present election is especially important to the people of the Kaslo-Slocan riding, where conditions call for consideration and remedy.

With 40 years residence in Kootenay and my knowledge of the needs of every part of the Kaslo-Slocan district and its people, I believe that I can give valuable service I can devote my whole time to the interests of the riding.

Mining should be encouraged by construction of more roads and trails by aid to the prospector and by better service to the industry generally.

To the lumber and agricultural industries much attention should be paid. Like mining, they concern the livelihood of hundreds of families.

I am strongly in favor of the fair distribution of government expenditures, not only as regards places but as between individuals as well.

Support which is given to me in the election on June 1 will be deeply appreciated and I believe that I will prove worthy of it.

James Fitzsimmons

Conservative Candidate, Kaslo-Slocan Riding.
