Britain Sends More Warships to Search for Pirate Submarine

DR. KATZ ADMITS HE'S NOT CERTAIN FUMES IN TEST WERE DETROIT'S

Qualifies His Previous Statement When Cross-Examined

TRAIL FUMES CASE CONTINUES TODAY

OTTAWA, Sept. 2 (CP) — A searching cross-examination of Dr. Morris Katz, dominion chemical expert, carried on by J. F. Raftis, Spokane lawyer who is associate United States counsel, continued today before the Trail smelter arbitration tribunal.

Mr. Raftis sought to draw from the witness detailed reasons for the selections of comparative plots for testing purposes in the Washington area where farmers are claiming $2,200,000 for alleged damage to vegetation from sulphur dioxide fumes emanating from the smelter at Trail, B.C.

United States counsel suggested that other selections of comparisons might have indicated a greater deposit of fumes than those used in the Canadian case. Dr. Katz declared the selections were made in the manner best calculated to give a fair picture of the whole.

DR. LEDINGHAM NEXT

Dr. G. A. Ledingham, who like Dr. Katz, is a member of the national research council at Ottawa, will be the next expert witness for Canada. Tomorrow he will describe tests of plant life in the areas where the alleged damage took place.

During the course of today's examination Mr. Raftis referred to testimony given by Dr. Katz that sulphur dioxide fumigation in the air about Detroit had at one time reached the volume of more than nine parts in one million. Since remedial efforts were initiated at Trail the fumigations have been less than one part in a million, he had said.

Under crossexamination, Dr. Katz said he was not certain the fumes came from Detroit. The tests were made in Windsor. He assumed they came from Detroit. Nor was he able to state definitely that the gas registered was sulphur dioxide, Dr. Katz said. They were the gas fumes customarily registered on a machine for recording of sulphur dioxide content of the atmosphere.

14 STILL MISSING AS SHIP IS SUNK

PANAMA CITY, Fla., Sept. 2 (AP) — A rescue fleet saved nine members of the crew of the sunken steamship Tarpon today, three others swam ashore and two bodies were recovered as frantic efforts were made to account for all aboard before nightfall.

With 14 saved or known dead, it was believed 14 others were still in the sea. Four coast guard cutters and a number of small craft scoured the area.

Searchers feared other possible survivors could not stand the privations of another night in the water.

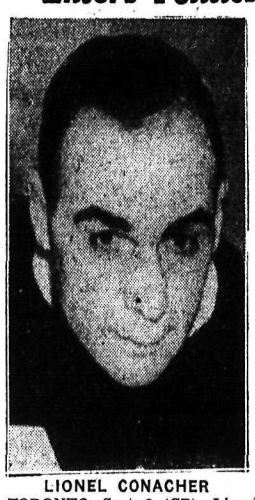
Lionel Conacher Enters Politics



LIONEL CONACHER

TORONTO, Sept. 2 (CP)—Lionel Conacher, recognized as Canada's greatest all-round athlete, will be the Liberal candidate for Toronto-Bracondale riding in the Oct. 6 Ontario election. A convention last night gave him a unanimous vote. No other name was brought before the meeting.

Conacher, once a university of Pittsburgh football star but more noted for his hockey activities, enjoyed one of the best seasons of his long ice career with Montreal Maroons of the National league last winter. A Toronto boy and brother of Charlie Conacher of Toronto Maple Leafs, he has also been outstanding at baseball, lacrosse and wrestling and once boxed Jack Dempsey in an exhibition.

Today Conacher said he had given up sports for politics.

Wynndel Grower Fined For Assault on Fruit Bd. Man

Gus. Steiner Ordered Pay $20 for Hitting W. E. Haskins

CRESTON, B. C.—Police court activity in connection with the B. C. Marketing act took a new turn this week when Stipendiary Magistrate Col. Mallandaine, imposed the maximum fine of $20 on Gus Steiner of Wynndel, for assaulting W. E. Haskins, chairman of the B. C. tree fruit board, who was here at the first of the week.

A deputation of growers who wish to market their own tree fruits interviewed Mr. Haskins Monday with a view to getting a special permit to sell their crop, other than the regular licence issued by the tree fruit board under the Marketing act.

The deputation was informed that no such special consideration would be given, and it was thought that the incident was closed, but Tuesday morning Mr. Steiner persisted in having another interview with Mr. Haskins, while the litter was on his way to town to keep an appointment. After listening to Mr. Steiner's renewed request for a special permit, and again being assured it would not be granted, Steiner still insisted on prolonging the argument. Finally Mr. Haskins said he had other business to attend to and must hurray along. Steiner, who was walking beside him, is reported to have suddenly swung his right arm, hitting Mr. Haskins just above the nose, breaking his glasses and inflicting some cuts about the face.

ANTI-COMMUNIST MOTION IS LEFT UNTIL LATER BY ANGLICAN SYNOD

Session Adjourns on Promise Matter to Come Up Again

ONE SUGGESTS THE PRESS PASS IT UP

By HAROLD E. FREEMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX, Sept. 2 (CP)—What started out as a discussion of Evangelism in the church, led off by the remarks of Rt. Rev. C. C. Bardsley, bishop of Leicester, changed to a discussion of the church's attitude toward communism which ended only by a motion for adjournment as the general synod of the Church of England in Canada made slow progress through ordinary business today.

Just before adjournment, Judge G. W. M. Morley of Owen Sound, Ont., and Chancellor E. S. Wigle, mayor of Windor, Ont., agreed to withdraw their motion respecting communism on the assurance of Rt. Rev. D. T. Owen of Toronto, primate of all Canada, that a committee would be appointed to draft a new resolution and pres-

Insurgents Enter Oviedo Province

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, September 2 (CP)—A n insurgent column smashed its way five miles into Oviedo province today although Asturian miners dynamited a mountainside in an effort to block the road into the only province of the northern coast remaining in government hands.

The blast was set off on a peak just within the Oviedo frontier in the Cuera range. It hurled a mass of debris into the path of the insurgents advancing on Port Llanas on the road to Gijon, the government's last remaining Bay of Biscay port now that Bilbao and Santander have fallen.

Insurgent dispatches, however, said the road was only partially blocked and that the advance was not halted.

ONTARIO PARALYSIS CASES NOW OVER 800; DEATH TOLL IS AT 32

Third Death in Five Days Recorded at Medicine Hat

'IRON LUNG' SAVES BABY AT DENVER

TORONTO, Sept. 2 (CP) Measures taken by Toronto health authorities to restrict the spread of infantile paralysis have been approved by the council of the Academy of Medicine, Dr. Gordon Jackson, medical health officer, told the board of control today.

The board of control met as the number of cases here rose from 294 to 313. More than 800 persons have been striken with the disease since it broke out in Ontario early in June, with the central and western sections of the province chiefly affected. The death today in London of William Marr, 20, the fourth in that city, raised the death toll for the province to 32.

Public health officials were fearful the epidemic was spreading northward.

At Temagami in northern Ontario precautions were taken by having 153 children, eight of them infants, treated with zinc sulphate nasal sprays. Doctors said tourists going into northern regions might carry poliomyelitis germs.

In the Kawartha lakes district, Fenelow Falls reported a rush, especially of Toronto citizens back to their summer cottages with their families as school opening had been pushed back in many places. At Simcoe, in western Ontario, theatres, churches, beverage rooms and all public gatherings were placed under ban.

ANOTHER DEATH AT MEDICINE HAT

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., Sept. 2 (CP) — Another death from infantile paralysis, the third in five days, was reported here today. A seven-year-old child died in hospital after a week's illness.

One new case was reported today, bringing the total for Medicine Hat and district to 11.

BABE PLACED IN AN "IRON LUNG"

DENVER, Sept. 2 (AP) — Little Shirley Krasue, two-and-a-half-year-old infantile paralysis victim, was placed today in an "iron lung" speeded here from Chicago by streamlined train.

As soon as the ton-and-a-half lung reache Steel Memorial hospital, where both Shirley and Maybelle Outcalt, 15, are receiving artificial breathing treatment, the little girl tired but determined and gritty, was lifted into it.

She was taken from an emergency wooden respirator into which she had been placed a few hours earlier when it arrived from Toronto by airplane.

Arrival of the respirators definitedly ended the possibility physicians might be faced with the task of deciding which girl to save should both need simultaneously the only "iron lung" in the Rocky Mountain region, which they had shared alternately for more than 36 hours.

THEATRES BAR CHILDREN UNDER 16

CHICAGO, Sept. 2 (AP)—Theatres barred children under 16 today in a new move to stem the spread of infantile paralysis.

Playgrounds and wading pools also were closed as the crippling disease attained tht highest incidence of the current outbreak in the nation's second city.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, announced 12 new cases had been reported today—the greatest number for one day since the onset of the malady. Two babies died.

CHINESE SHELLS BREAK CLOSE TO U.S. FLAGSHIP, WHANGPOO RIVER

Widespread Fires Blaze on Land as Barrage Opened on Japanese; Report Chinese in an Air Raid on Japanese City

SHANGHAI, Sept. 3 (Friday). (AP)—Chinese shells fell dangerously near the cruiser Augusta, flagship of the United States Asiatic fleet, today in a heavy bombardment directed at the Japanese cruiser Idzumo.

Giant Howitzers in Pootung, industrial section across the Whangpoo river from the international settlement, burst into action at 10:48 a.m. today (6:48 p.m., P.S.T. Thursday) against the battlescarred Idzumo.

Many of the shells fell in the Whangpoo between the American and Japanese flagships.

Widespread fires blazed on land points struck by the bursting missiles.

The barrage followed the opening of a Guerilla campaign by Chinese snipers concealed along the Pootung shore, opposite the Augusta, against Japanese warships and warplanes which have been harrying the area.

FIRE AT DESTROYERS

Other sharpshooters peppered away at Japanese destroyers farther down the Whangpoo off the Woosung shore and along the Yangtze river, near Paoshan, causing little material damage but keeping their enemy discomfitted and on the alert.

Chinese circles earlier were electrified by unconfirmed reports that Chinese bombing planes had flown to Japan and bombarded Kagoshima on the southern island of Kyushu.

Well authenticated reports said the Chinese airforce struck telling blows closer to home, with punishing raids against the Japanese forces which have gained a footing on the southern bank of the Yangtze river.

Ten Chinese bombers from bases west of Soochow inflicted heavy losses and returned to their bases unscathed.

ANOTHER TANKER SUNK EVEN AS BRITISH CABINET PLANS ACTION; ENGINEER IS KILLED, SIX WOUNDED

THE THREE MARKS BROTHERS

Expect to Add Eight Destroyers in the Mediterranean

CALL EMERGENCY CABINET SESSION

Copyright, 1937, By The Havas News Agency

LONDON, Sept. 2 (CP-Havas)—An aroused British government tonight sent additional warships into the western Mediterranean to search out submarines responsible for attacks on shipping, and reached other decisions aimed at ending the "piratical" incidents.

A meeting of key cabinet ministers decided:

1. To accept a French proposal for a Geneva meeting of Mediterranean powers to formulate joint measures to end the mounting list of Mediterranean incidents.

2. To increase the destroyer fleet now patrolling the troubled area with orders to pursue and sink any submarine attacking British shipping.

3. To hold an emergency cabinet meeting next Wednesday. Prime Minister Chamberlain will return from Scotland for the meeting.

TANKER IS SUNK

Any hesitation the foreign office might have felt over the French proposal vanished today with word the tanker Woodford, provisionally registered in London, had been sent to the bottom 36 miles northeast of Valencia, Spain, with the loss of one life. The concussion of the torpedo that sank the tanker re-echoed like a bombshell in Whitehall where the ministers had gathered to consider the attack the previous day on the destroyer Havock.

It was expected in naval circles that eight destroyers would be added to the 11 units now patrolling the Spanish basin of the Mediterranean. Four would be drafted from the eastern Mediterranean fleet, it was believed, with the other four assigned from their present duties with the non-intervention naval patrol in service along Spanish coasts.

TO SINK "SUB"

The 19 warships will be under instructions to "pursue, track and sink" any submarine guilty of aggression against British shipping, it was authoritatively stated.

Foreign Secretary Eden conveyed the decision in regard to the Mediterranean meeting to French charge d'affaires Roger Cambon immediately following a ministerial session attended by leading members of the cabinet.

The French proposal called for a conference at Geneva among representatives of Great Britain, France, Turkey, Egypt, Yugoslavia and Greece to consider possible resurrection of the mutual assistance pact effective during the Italo-Ethiopian war.

SUB UNIDENTIFIED

The second engineer of the Woodford was killed. Six of the crew of 30, who succeeded in reaching Benicarlo, Spain, in two open boats after ieght hours strenuous work, were wounded. According to their story, the unidentified submarine was painted grey and carried no insignia. Two torpedoes were fired, they said, with the Woodford sinking within three hours.

The Woodford's sudden end brought an angry outcry in the press. The Evening News decried the mounting lists of incidents, but asserted it would be better for all concerned if the identity of the submarine responsible "disappears with it." The Evening Standard came out in defence of Italy, tacitly indicated by a number of newspapers as the guilty party.

Typhoon Wreaks Havoc at Hong Kong; 20 Ships Sunk

Destruction Widespread; Thousands May Be Dead; Port Jammed With Shipping Held There by Sino-Japanese War

HONG KONG, Sept. 2 (AP)—125-miles-an-hour typhoon roared across Hong Kong and the nearby teeming Chinese coastal communities today, exacting a death toll which officials believed to be at least 500 and feared might run into the thousands.

Ocean liners were hurled aground, fires spread by the gales swept through congested Chinese quarters of Hong Kong, trapping many in their homes.

There was heavy loss of life among thousands of Chinese who live on small boats when their floating homes dashed against the Hong Kong seawall or rocky coasts and smashed to bits.

DESTRUCTION GREAT

Destruction in Hong Kong harbor was especially great because the port was jammed with shipping of all descriptions held here by the dangers of the Chinese-Japanese war raging to the north.

Among big ships snatched from their storm moorings and hurled aground were the Japanese transpacific liner Asama Maru, 16,975 tons, and the Italian liner Conte Verde, 18,765 tons. It was believed both could be refloated.

The 4552-ton Dutch passenger ship Van Heutsz was a total loss. Two British ships, the Mausang and the Boong Court and the Chinese Queton were reported sunk, as was the Hunan, carrying 1200 Chinese refugees from Shanghai. At least 20 ships are believed to have gone down.

The wind carried destruction through wide areas of this British crown colony and filled its lower sections waist-deep with water.

MORE ABOUT

ANGLICAN SYNOD

The synod was making fast progress through the section by section adoption of clauses of the report of the general board of religious education, when mention was made of a resolution concerning communism passed by the synod of the diocese of Huron in May. Judge Morely moved, seconded by Chancellor Wigle, the resolution be endorsed by the general synod.

"MENACE OF COMMUNISM"

The resolution read in part: "Whereas the menace of communism was brought to the attention of the provincial synod of Ontario at its last session September, 1935, and whereas it was thought advisable that the best method of attacking communism was by persistent teaching of the Christian religion  be it resolved that all dioceses of the Church of England  unite in recommending that the provisions of the Public Schools act be taken full advantage of with a view to give religious instruction for a certain period each week to children of their particular religious body."

R. J. Westgate, Regina, suggested the matter be dropped as "unfortunate" and that the press be asked not to mention it, to which Principal R. B. McElheran of Wycliffe college replied such a move would be most unwise "because this is one of the greatest questions before the whole church today."

IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

In moving adoption of the resolution, Judge Morley claimed "the only way of combatting communism and all the other 'isms' is by the teaching system in our public schools." Chancellor Wigle told of what he called the "inroads of communism" in the city of Windsor, and asked for a strong pronouncement in order that it be attacked.

Rev. R. K. Naylor of Montreal spoke against the motion on the grounds there was "no reason to single out one 'ism' and place all the blame for world conditions on it. We should fight the things that produce communism, and not the thing itself. The resolution has no place in this synod."

Rt. Rev. D. T. Owen asked for a motion of adjournment in order that members would be on time for the Services of Witness in the evening, and assured the synod that the subject would be reintroduced at later date.

He was followed by Father Beck, Father Kennedy, Father Bisset, Father Ehman, Father Hartman, Father Anthony, Father Michel and lastly by Father J. The first church was built in 1922 and the move to the present church made in 1927. Prior to the building of the church in 1922 Mass was said in the old school house and in Summers hall.

A resident secular Priest will be in charge. At the annual retreat for the priests of the diocese held in Nelson, it was made known that Father F. Monaghan of Revelstoke has been appointed to Kimberley. He is expected here before the end of the week.

Father Delestre Honored Before Leaving Fernie

FERNIE, B. C.—Two hundred people gathered to bid farewell to Father A. L. De Lestre in the Holy Family School auditorium Monday. The Knights of Columbus sponsored the reception. Grand Knight James Corrigan acted as chairman. District Deputy J. J. Harrington made the presentation of a beautiful enlargement of Father De Lestre and a purse of money subscribed by parishioners and friends of Father De Lestre.

In his reply Father De Lestre looked back over the 30 years or more since he first came to the Crows Nest Pass as rector of Coleman and other foothill parishes. He visited Fernie often in those days and in 1911 blessed the cornerstone of the present Holy Family church in Fernie. He loved Fernie and its people, and its wonderful scenery, he said and regretted leaving but hoped to be back abain next year for the fortieth anniversary. He hoped to see soon the day when Fernie would again prosper as in the olden days.

Father De Lestre leaves for Rutland, B. C., to take up his duties there on September 1. He has been in Fernie for four years.

Mayor "Shows His Stuff" as He Opens Legion Bowling Club For the Season

Rolls First Ball for His Team, Then Gets First Strike

"Roll" of the 10-pin bowls again recchoed through the Legion alleys as the Legion bowling club swung into another season's play Thursday night and Mayor J. P. Morgan officiating at the opening, proved himself the "No 1 man" of the evening.

His worship not only officially opened the alleys for the season, but enrolled himself as the season's first member, rolled the first ball and spilled the first pins for his team and then "just to show his stuff" sent the pins flying for the first strike of the season. However he was unable to lead his team to the first victory of the year and J. H. Chapman's team tolled the victory bell with a 1089 score against 1021.

Mrs. J. H. Chapman, "Ma" to the bowlers, not to be left out of it, was the first lady to down the pins for a strike. She performed this feat in the seventh frame.

FUN PREVAILS

From his worship's short opening address to the closing ceremony when Mrs. J. H. Chapman presented the first lady bowlers with bouquets, an air of sportsmanship and fine sociability, marked by laughter and fun, prevaded the alleys.

The mayor was presented and requested to perfom the opening ceremony by J. H. Chapman, president. "It is a great honor to me and it is with a feeling of pleasure I perform this service, said the mayor. "I wish the bowlers the very greatest success during their coming years. season. In declaring the alleys open for the season, I also find pleasure in becoming a member of the Legion Bowling club."

As a mark of appreciation for their support on the opening night of the club's season, Mrs. Chapman made presentations of bouquets to Mrs. Nick Cassios, Mrs. J. Annable and Mrs. Thomas Sowerby.

Claiming high individual and high aggregate honors for the opening match Jack Hamson chalked up a neat 206 single in the second and final game to bring his aggregate score to 357, the highest of the evening.

YOUR own driving experience tells you you can't GO very far these days without STOPPING!

That's why stop and go is costly! One stop can waste enough gasoline to take you ⅓ of a mile!

Shell engineers, recognizing the high cost of stop and go, have developed a way to "balance" gasoline. By completely rearranging its chemical structure, this process does to gasoline what cooking does to food—makes it "digestible."

Hence, under all driving conditions—starting, shifting gears, accelerating—your engine gets the full benefit of Super-Shell's high energy content.

Try Super-Shell next time. There's a Shell dealer near you.

New China Scores Hall of Chastity

NANKING, China (CP).—China's traditional glorification of widowhood is blamed by Madame Chiang Kai-shek's "New Life Movement" for turning "halls for encouragement of chastity" into "hells on earth". Madame Chiang Kai-shek is wife of the dictator.

In the old days widows who lived out their lives without remarrying were honored by the erection of stone arches at the emperor's expense or with his sanction. The "face" gained by the deceased's family because of this lasting mark of imperial favor was so coveted that families made every effort to prevent the remarriage of their widowed women folk.

Sometimes they even went to the extreme of placing such unfortunate relicts in "halls of chastity" whose barred windows and bolted doors prevented contact with the outside world.

Coming in for special condemnation by the "New Life Movement" is one such chastity hall at Hankow, where 680 widows are deprived of their freedom as completely as if they were criminals serving life sentences. One elderly inmate of this hall has neither seen nor heard from her family for 30 years.

May Be There Years . . Needles, Small Pieces of Glass Wander in Body

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

The following news dispatch catches my eye:

"Twenty-three years ago, in Peru, Ind., a three-inch steel needle was swallowed by a little girl. Recently the little girl, now a full-grown lady, became annoyed at a lump appearing on her thigh, and examination of the X-ray showed the needle. Under local anesthesia the lump was opened and the needle parted company with its host after nearly a quarter of a century of close association."

This business about wandering needles and pins and pieces of glass is regarded with great skepticism by most of my professional colleagues. I wonder whether Dr. Morris Fishbein is going to include any such cases in a book on the curiosities of medicine which he is compiling.

I know of one authentic case in which a small piece of glass did some wandering. A man had a splintered pane of glass dropped on the top of his bare foot. A number of pieces were taken out, but for nine years his foot was uncomfortable. Finally two inches from where the cut was made, up the tendon of the great toe, a small piece of glass made its way to the surface and was removed.

PRIZE CASE

The prize case I had heard of is, I believe, well authenticated. A man for years complained of pains in his back. He consulted doctor after doctor to no avail. X-rays of his spine showed nothing. Then the pain in his back left and he began to have pain in his abdomen. Finally it got into his groin. Then he noticed a small red spot on the front of his leg which was opened by a doctor and a broken hypodermic needle was removed.

Then he remembered that more than 15 years before he had been given a hypdermic of serum to prevent tetanus, after he had cut himself with the prong of a pitchfork. The serum was inserted in the skin under the shoulder blade. While it was being given the doctor made an exclamation and said his hypdermic needle had broken off. But he didn't say that part of it had been left in the skin.

The needle had followed the lines of cleavage of the body—around the ribs to the spine, down the spine, then following the psoas muscle which goes from the spine to the front of the leg. A well-known form of abscess, which starts in the spine, may follow this course.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

A. P. D.: "Is it possible that an adult who has been exposed to a case of scarlet fever and three days later has a violent attack of vomiting with no other symptoms has contracted a light attack of scarlet fever? If this is possible, how long should this person be segregated to avoid danger of contagion?"

Answer: Possible, but if you are sure there are no other symptoms—sore throat, red tongue, eruption—not probable.

Six weeks is the classic quarantine period for scarlet fever.

Must Have Cause . . . Wife Believes Untruths About Unhappy Hubby

By VIRGINIA LEE

Here is a letter from a husband whose wife has been told untruths about him. She seems to take other folk's word for his conduct instead of his. She now says these stories have made her hate him and she doesn't want to have anything to do with him. She refuses to go out with him.

He says he loves her and is anxious to make things right, but doesn't know how to go about it.

The amount of jealous fury your wife shows over these stories seems to me to prove that she does care a lot for you, Silas. Can't you prove in any way that they are untruths? Can't you confront the tellers of these yarns with your wife and make them confess they are lies?

If there is no way you can prove yourself innocent, you will just have to go along in the regular way until time shows her she is wrong. Truth usually comes out in time. Don't force yourself upon your wife, but let her "cool down". Maybe when she becomes more calm she will be able to see that these stories are falsehoods and that your way of life, as she knows it, disproves them. She must have had some doubts of you or she would not have believed the stories or even listened to them. Most wives would indignantly deny such yarns immediately. Has she any reason to doubt your love for her?

At any rate, "lay low" and be yourself and I imagine the time will come when she will be sorry she was so disloyal as to doubt you.

* * *

SILENT LOVE: I imagine if you have not found out by now you will shortly that you had a girlish crush on this young man, and you have recovered so that you can "bear to date" other boys your own age.

* * *

WORRIED MOTHER: The hardest thing for any mother to face is the fact that she cannot live her grown-up children's lives for them, or even direct them. She can only pray that things will come out right for them and that they will be happy. If they are not she must stand aside and let them work it out themselves, giving only her love and sympathy—which is a great help and comfort to them.

So, dear Worried Mother, your girl will have to do as she thinks best. If she and the young man she plans to marry love each other enough, maybe the difference in nationality, even the opposition of his people, will not prevent them from being happy together. It is a great

Exercises Will Help . . . An Erect, Graceful Carriage Gives Distinction and Promotes Health

(By GLADYS GLAD)

In the history of sartorial arts, it has been established that fashions in figures change more frequently and more radically than fashions in faces. The ancient Greek women, for instance, had an entirely different type of figure than the Romans. The Egyptians had their own characteristic silhouette, too. Women of the age of chivalry were buxom and plump. Women of the Victorian age were thin and fragile. Yet there is one common feature of figure beauty that has never been influenced by the times, and that feature is good posture.

Alice Faye
Always carries herself well

An erect and graceful carriage not only promotes the well-being of the body, but also gives the figure grace and distinction. Of course a woman who has always been careless of her body and maintained poor posture, may find it difficult at first to correct her carriage, but if she practices holding herself correctly often enough, she'll find it increasingly easy to assume proper posture, and eventually, such posture will become natural to her.

Exercise Helps

There are a number of exercises that a woman may practice in order to improve her posture, and the following are effective.

Standing with the feet slightly apart, toes pointing straight ahead, bend your body forward from the waist, all your muscles relaxed. Then slowly straighten up, pulling in the abdominal muscles and flattening the lower curve of your back by pulling down the rear muscles. chest up, abdomen in. Place a book on your head and walk about with the book balanced in this manner. The need for preserving perfect balance will make your body naturally assume proper posture.

Stand erect, feet slightly apart and with knees slightly bent, lower the sitting muscles as if you are about to sit down. Then move the hip muscles forward and upward to a straight position. Next, push the hips back and down, thus completing a circle of the pelvic girdle, forward, upward, back and down.

Assume proper posture, head up, when fully erect, retain this proper posture, clasp hands overhead and stretch upward until the body is on tiptoe. Relax and repeat.

Stew . . . hints for housewives

MENU HINT

Meat Stew
Sliced Tomatoes and Cucumbers
Prune Pie Coffee

An economical and delicious menu is suggested—unless, of course, some member of your family is "agin" stews. We love 'em at our house, and they are nourishing and inexpensive.

TODAY'S RECIPES

MEAT STEW—Two pounds of one of the cheaper cuts of beef, two-thirds each of turnips and carrots, cut into one-half-inch cubes; four cups of potatoes, cut into small pieces; one-half onion, chopped; one-fourth cup of flour, salt. Cut the meat into small pieces, cover with boiling water, boil for five minutes, and then cook at a lower temperature until the meat is tender. This will require about three hours on the stove or five hours in the fireless cooker. Add the carrots, turnips and onions, and salt during the last hour of cooking, and the potatoes 20 minutes before serving. Thicken with the flour diluted with cold water. If the dish is made in the fireless cooker, the mixture must be reheated when the vegetables are put in. If foods depended on for vitamins are scarce, cook the vegetables separately from the meat so as to avoid the danger from overcooking them.

PRUNE PIE—Two cups cooked California prunes, one orange, one-half cup brown sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt, two tablespoons cornstarch, one cup liquid from prunes, two tablespoons butter, baked pastry shell, meringue, flavored with few drops lemon extract (use two egg whites and four tablespoons sugar). Pit prunes and cut in half. Peel orange, removing white inner peel completely, and dice orange. Combine sugar, salt and cornstarch; add prune liquid and bring to a boil, stirring constantly until thickened. Add prunes, orange and butter, and continue cooking for ten minutes, stirring occasionally. Pour into baked pastry shell, cover with meringue and brown in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Serves six.

Outline Is Given of New Health Courses For Senior High Schools

VICTORIA, September 2, (CP) — British Columbia's department of education today made public its new health and physical education course for senior high schools in the province.

The new course will come into effect September 7 when the 1937-38 school year begins. It is part of an entirely new curriculum introduced by the department to complete modernization of provincial school programs. Reorganization of junior high school and elementary school curricula was completed last year.

HEALTH FIRST

The bulletin said health was listed "first among the constants in the senior high school curriculum. This course, therefore, must be accorded its proper place in the time table of every senior high school in the province. The time allotment is one period per week in each grade throughout the entire school year."

In the main the courses are divided into the following units:

Exercise, fatigue and rest; respiration and allied problems; nutrition, posture, communicable disease, first aid, care of special sense organs, aspects of rural health, public health agencies, mental health, safety education, foods, health fad and fallacies the glands and personality, heredity, current problems in public health and occupational diseases.

ONTARIO BATTLES POLIOMYELITIS

Dread infantile paralysis continues its attack in Ontario but health officials are of the opinion the peak is near. Meanwhile civic health and educational officials, police and government bodies and the press are working hand in hand in efforts to restrict the disease. There have been several cases in Manitoba but so far the far west has been free of the malady. Ontario is tackling the paralysis epidemic in a sensible way.

Ontario department of health is carrying large advertisements in the daily press telling the people about dread Poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis). These advertisements run under several headings emphasizing first, that Poliomyelitis is not really an infants' disease but that it might attack grown-ups; that it is highly infectious; that it attacks the grey matter of special portions of the spinal chord; that it is believed the germ enters the body through the nose and throat.

Source of infection, the Ontario health advertisements point out, is a human being who is carrying the virus and such person may not be suffering from the disease.

Signs and symptoms of the disease are pointed out as: rapidly rising temperature, headache, drowsiness, irritability, vomiting, cold or sore throat, soreness of the muscles of the back and stiffness in joints of arms and legs.

The Ontario health bulletin points out that there may be added symptoms in the second stage of the disease when stiffness of the spine occurs and the patient may take a peculiar sitting posture.

Referring to precautionary measures the Ontario bulletin says:

> The precautionary measure of first importance is to protect the child from contact with infection. Since other human beings are the primary source of infection, then children, who are evidently much more susceptible than adults, should be protected as far as is reasonably possible from contact with people.
> "Keep your child in your own yard" is a wise precaution. In crowded stores, street cars, motion picture theatres, bathing pools, picnics,— in fact, in any setting where there is a large number of people, the chances of exposure to possible infection are tremendously increased.
>
> Medical opinion is divided concerning the effectiveness of the so-called "Convalescent Serum" in poliomyelitis. In the absence of conclusive evidence, the department is continuing to supply this serum to physicians on request. Owing to the limited supply available, its use must of necessity be limited to cases suffering an attack of the disease.
>
> Based on the assumption that the virus enters the body through the upper part of the nose, attempts are being made to prevent its entrance by spraying the nasal passages with certain chemicals. Since this method is still entirely in the experimental stage, it is not one which can be recommended for general use.
> When a diagnosis of poilomyelitis has been made, the patient must be isolated for a period of at least three weeks. Since other members of the family are likely to be carriers of the virus, the protection of the community requires that they be quarantined until the danger of further spread has been eliminated. Care should be taken to see that articles which may have become contaminated by the patient are disinfected or burned. Special precautions should be taken in regard to the disposal of nasal and alimentary discharges. Those who are handling the patient should exercise special care regarding their hands and person before coming in contact with other people.

Ontario is doing everything possible to acquaint its people with the disease and the means of combat. There is no doubt this effort has cut the severity of the epidemic many fold.

GREAT BRITAIN IS "FED UP"

Great Britain has begun to lose patience with privacy on the high seas. When a mysterious submarine made an attack upon the destroyer Havock between Alicante and Valencia on the eastern Spanish coast additional ships were rushed to the vicinity and depth charges dropped in an effort to sink the menace to shipping. Anthony Eden forthwith called a meeting of the British cabinet and more definite orders regarding piracy by "mystery" submarines will likely result.

Great Britain is beginning to get what the soldiers used to call "fed-up", with General Franco's methods in the Mediterranean. Only a week ago a note to the Spanish insurgent leader intimated that if his ships, submarines or aeroplanes attack Britsh vessels on the high seas they were liable to be sunk or shot down on sight. Explosion of depth bombs by British warships shows Britain means business. The note, addressed to Franco, implied a warning also to Mussolini, as his submarines are believed to be responsible for many of the attacks on merchant vessels. Britain has trod the path of patience for a long time but it is possible to try her patience too far.

As a neutral, she has difficult and dangerous problems on two continents, and it will tax all the resources of tact and firmness which her statesmen possess to bring her safely through the difficulties that beset her in Europe and the Far East. The way of a neutral is not easy and in the past four years she has had to pay with the loss, or diminution, of three friendships that were considered traditional—those with Italy, Spain and Portugal. To these there may shortly be added that of Japan. There was a time, not long ago, when she had forfeited not only friendship but respect. Her resolute rearmament has already restored the respect.

Sit-down strikes may be a Red innovation as President Green of the A. F. of L. asserts, though Russia would be about the last place in the world a worker would dare try them.

FLY IN THE EYE

Should the pain make you cry
Till you sob and you sigh,
You may find, if you try,
That a very large fly
Stopped when passing you by
And laid eggs in your eye.

WOODPECKER NUISANCE

The story of a woodpecker that repeatedly pecked his way into the columns of a daily newspaper despite the efforts of a united editorial staff was told recently in his "Smoke Rings" column of The San Francisco Chronicle, by Earle Ennis.

This woodpecker was in a filler item reading:

"The woodpecker is a scansorial bird and its tail feathers are rigid," so Mr. Ennis declared.

The scansorial bird appeared in succession on page 2, page one of an early edition, in the society columns, on the marine page and on page 5. By this time the editorial department was in an uproar of frenzy over the failure of repeated "kills" to kill the woodpecker. Executives went into conference and then the composing room foreman was called. He in turn gave personal instructions to make-up men that the woodpecker must be killed.

Three days later a copy reader screamed and it was found the woodpecker was back in print again. An investigation to end all investigations was started. Probers finally concentrated their cross-fire on one printer who was slightly deaf, as he had been working on copy for the page to which the woodpecker returned.

"No, I ain't seen no woodpecker item," Mr. Ennis described the printer as stating, adding the explanation that "a printer is always ungrammatical when fighting for his honor."

The foreman was thoroughly aroused by this time and insisted that the printer empty his pockets. Out tumbled a handful of little lead slugs about the woodpecker and a chorus of triumphant 'Ah Ha's" arose.

"Oh," said the printer, "is THAT the woodpecker slug? I didn't read it. It was such a nice size I made up a lot of them. They're fine for plugging up the first edition."

But the woodpecker was killed then and there.

PROTESTS AGAINST KILLING OF THE BLACK BEAR

To the Editor:

Sir—One would imagine that what appears to be the indiscriminate killing of bear of the black species requires some careful supervision by the game department, through its authorized representatives, if any of this species of bear are to survive the slaughter, which at this time is reaching serious proportions in certain sections of our glorious Kootenays.

While it is realized that the farmers of the district deserve sympathy, together with protection from damage caused by these creatures during this very abnormal season, still to all sportsmen and lovers of the outdoors, it must appal them to see the manner in which some of our so-called sportsmen are taking advantage of the shortage of berries in the hills, to drive these poor, lean hungry creatures into the range of their 30-30's, at a time of the year when our game laws are trying to offer them protection.

These animals are so poor at this season, that neither the hide nor the meat is of any value to the killers, and in some cases, cubs are being mercilessly destroyed under the pretense of damaging property, when in several instances, these playful creatures were not even near inhabited land, when brought down by the guns of some of our brave (?) bear hunters.

How often has one heard the remark "Gee, but I would love to see a bear in its native surrounding" even by permanent residents of the Kootenays, which country boasts of the presence of these native animals in some of its advertisements, Yet an attempt to annihilate them appears to be going along unchecked at this time, the excuse being destruction of fruit trees and the intimidation of the public.

As I have already mentioned, the farmer deserves protection against damage, but as a man who spent the best part of the 30 years roaming the hills, either in the course of his work or for his pleasure, I can assure anyone who fears the attack of the black bear, that these creatures will do no harm, unless wounded or molested.

This letter is not written in the form of criticism of our game laws nor yet the enforcement of them, but merely to draw attention of the public and the game authorities, the fact that an illegal attack on the black bear of the Kootenays is being carried on under the guise of "Protection for farmers". Signed "Bear tax".

Reader, Nelson — Can you please advise whether an ordinary policeman has authority to arrest a soldier or naval sailor?

Members of His Majesty's permanent forces, air land or sea, come under military law at all times. Members of the non-permanent forces come under military law only at certain times but men in both forces come under civil law criminal code as well as military under certain circumstances, as in cases of theft, fraud, desertion, refusing oath, impersonations, etc. In other cases members of His Majesty's forces may be taken and held by civil police and then turned over to the officer commanding for action. Members of the non-permanent forces are under military law while on duty; while in His Majesty's uniform; while on a rifle range or in an armory or drill shed; during a drill; while at a parade as a spectator or while in uniform going to and returning from a parade.

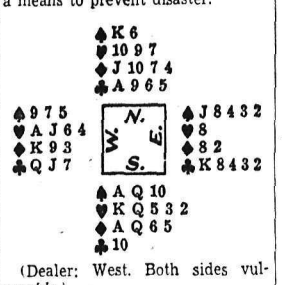
CONTRACT BRIDGE

As Written by SHEPARD BARCLAY

GETTING OUT OF A FIX

Most hopeless of all situations in which a declarer finds himself is generally considered that when an opponent winds up the intermediate play still holding one more trump than the declarer has in either of his two hands. Extreme care can often prove justified, however, in those situations and perhaps devise a means to prevent disaster.



(Dealer: West. Both sides vulnerable.)

North and South ended up in a contract of 4-Hearts on this deal and West's opening lead against it was the club Q, which was won in the dummy with the A. The declarer saw that he could make the contract if he lost only one diamond and two trumps.

After winning the first trick, the heart 10 was led from dummy, East playing the heart 8 and West winning with the J. Unless East was falsecarding, the remaining hearts were held by West, in which event there was the danger of losing another heart.

The declarer made his contract, however, by ruffing the return club, cashing the spade K and finessing the diamond J to West's K. A third club was returned and ruffed by South, who now held only two trumps as compared to West's three. The spade A was cashed and on the Q a diamond was discarded from dummy. The diamonds A-Q and 6 were led and on the later West had to play either a low trump or the A. In either event, he won only one trick, so that the 4-Hearts contract was made.

(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

How should South play to make 3-No Trumps after having lost four spade tricks?

Kootenay's Premier Track and Field Event Looms; Piping, Dancing Draw

Gala event for Kootenay track and field stars, pipers and highland dancers from many parts, the Labor Day meet looms just four days distant, and an enthusiastic committee daily labors lining up entries, preparing prizes, the field and the multitude of other details that are embodied in an event of this kind.

Nelsonites and district fans will see four great track performers in action Labor Day, for Albert (Major) Wallach Thursday announced his receipt of the entries of the two Haley brothers, Pat and Paul, of Trail, who will journey to Nelson to pit themselves against the fleetest of local athletes in the track and field events.

Another champion to compete will be Lorne M. McLean, champion piper of the Caledonian sports at Calgary.

So far the "Major" has received 10 track and field entries from Trail and 11 from Nelson. With the competitive spirit so keen between the two cities in every branch of sport, fans will see fireworks Monday.

The greatest number of entries ever to compete in Highland dancing in Nelson has been received, the final count showing that 24 dancers plan to display their wares before the judges. The entries include nine from Calgary, five from Edmonton, two from Red Deer, Alta., one from Clover Bar, Alta., three from Nelson, two from Vancouver and one from Trail.

MUST HAVE CARDS

The meet held under the auspices of the Clan McLeary and the Nelson Kiltie band, is sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, and therefore all male contestants must have amateur cards. These cards may be procured at the grounds on the day of the meet. Rules and regulations of the union will be strictly adhered to.

Trophies have been posted for each of the women's events, for the high aggregate winner and also the best Nelson athlete. Merchandise will be awarded as prizes for other track and field events. For the dancing cups will be presented as special awards, and medals for first and second places.

On arrival at the Recreation ground entrants for all events must report to the clerk of the course, and after their arrival they will receive their numbers from the secretary, Albert Wallach.

As nearly as possible events will run off on scheduled time and every attempt will be made to retain the schedule, it was announced.

DANCING, PIPING RULES

For the piping and Highland dancing a strict set of rules have been laid out. These follow:

For all Highland dancing events the committee will supply pipers. All pipers in open competition must play, it is ruled, for any dancer requesting their services. Dancers are at liberty to choose their own pipers.

Pipers and dancers must be on hand for their events otherwise they are liable to forfeit their entry in the contest. Competitors in dancing events will be allowed to compete in events only to which their respective ages apply, e. g.—dancers in the under 10 years class are not allowed to compete in the under 13 years class.

Any communication or attempted communication with a judge in respect of a competitor will result in the disqualification of the competitor. As many dancers as the committee wishes may compete on the platform at one time.

If the entry for any single event should be less than the number of prizes for that event the committee has the right to cancel it.

Wooden sole shoes or jingles will not be allowed for any competitor in the Irish jig.

Appropriate costumes must be worn by all dancers.

Lenore Wingard Wins in Big Swim

No Canadian Girl in Money at C. N. E. Feature

TORONTO, September 2 (CP) — Lenore Kight Wingard, shapely Homestead, Pa., mermaid, won the women's professional three-mile swim and its $750 prize late today. May Looney, Warren, Ohio, was second, and Susan Robertson, Seabright, N. J., third in the Canadian National exhibition feature.

Mrs. Wingard, a former amateur champion, who led all the way, covered the distance in one hour, 21 minutes, 24 seconds to pile up a 150-yard lead at the finish.

May Looney passed last year's winner, Susan Robertson, in the last of the six half-mile laps. Mrs. Wingard and Miss Robertson went to the front at the plunge.

After the first mile there was little doubt as to the outcome. The 78-degree water proved suited to Mrs. Wingard's conditioning and she drew steadily ahead.

First Canadian to finish was Margaret Gribble, lightest girl in the swim at 100 pounds, from Barrie, Ont. She completed the course 20 yards behind the last money winner. It was the first time since 1928 no Canadian girl took a prize.

REDFISH RUN IS BEGINNING

Illegal to Take Them Fisheries Overseer Points Out

Redfish are running in the Slocan, Arrow and Wilson lake systems, and warning was issued Wednesday night by C. H. Robinson, fisheries overseer, that it is illegal to catch them. He has completed a trip through these areas and noted the fish were beginning to go up the creeks to spawn.

Fisheries regulations for British Columbia state: "No one shall fish, for, catch or kill Little Redfish (Kokanee) in any creek or stream up which these fish ascend to spawn."

The Redfish, protected as food fish for the "big ones" in southern interior lakes, are doing extremely well in Wilson and other lakes in which they have been placed as food fish, Mr. Robinson stated.

He anticipates the run in Kootenay lake will begin almost at once.

MANCHESTER (CP).—Four London girl guides, displaying great courage when they attempted to rescue two girls caught by tides on high cliffs were also marooned. Coastguards got them all down.

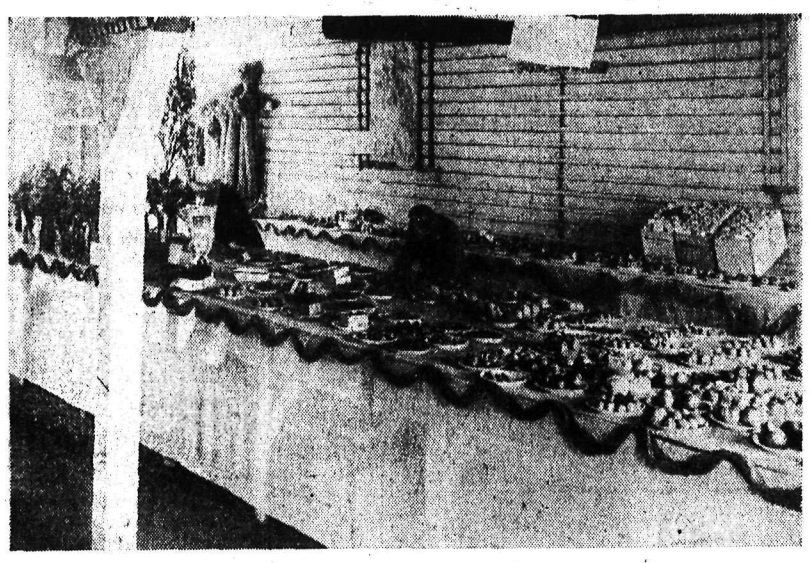
FLOWERS, FRUIT

Harrop's welcome to visitors at the fair was as big as the "Welcome" sign at the entrance to the fair grounds, and as cheerful as the decorations arranged on it by Sydney R. Pope.



While E. C. Hunt, at the left, was carefully sizing up fruit entries and awarding the prizes, C. S. Price of Harrop, right, his assistant for the day, was recording the awards already made. The splendid fruit exhibits took up the best part of two big tables.

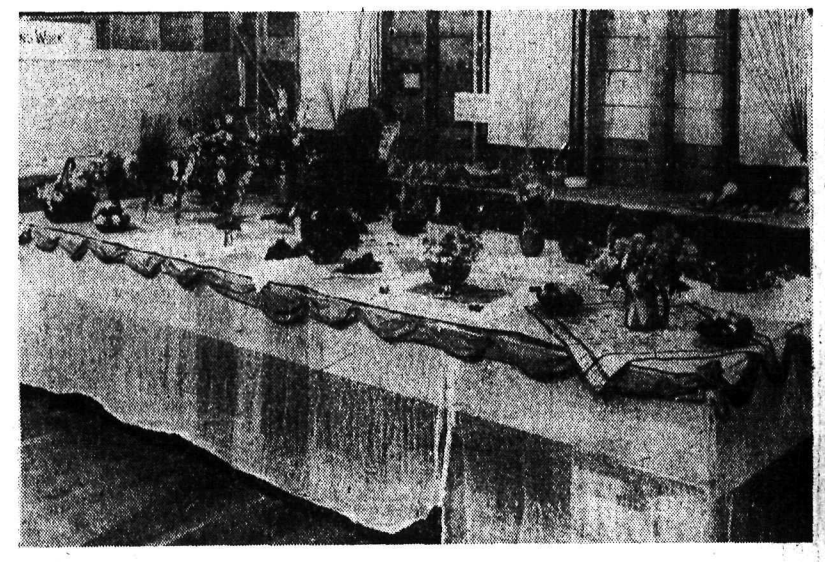
INSTITUTE WORK

A happy crowd on the midway, flocking about the booths and ready for all the fun of the fair.

The wheel and housie housie booths were among the most popular.



A new class at the fair was the competition for table decorations using fruit and flowers, and the eight entries pictured above were splendid tributes to the taste and decorative talent of the entrants.

The prizewinner is at the extreme right in the foreground, the entry of Mrs. H. Leggatt of Longbeach. At the left is another keenly-contested class—the vase, bowl or basket of cut flowers.

Discard Plan of Canada-U.S. Puck League Schedule

To Continue Play-Offs Between England, Canada and U. S.

NEW YORK, September 2 (CP)—Projected plans for a Canadian-United States senior amateur hockey league this winter have been scrapped in favor of continuing the international duel of champions between teams of the two neighboring countries and England.

Decision to continue the international title series, tried out at Toronto last winter, was reached during a meeting of Canadian and American amateur officials in Hershey, Pa., and Baltimore last week-end, but was not made known until today.

The second tournament to be played in the United States the end of the coming season, will bring together Canada's Allan Cup winner, champions of the Eastern United States league and the British Ice Hockey league titleholders.

The plan discarded in favor of the international titular playoffs would have seen the Montreal senior group and the eastern circuit playing an interlocking schedule.

Beginners Rate High in School Clinic Thursday

Dr. F. P. Sparks and Miss Nancy Dunn, Nelson's public health officers, reported a highly successful clinic at the Central school on Thursday. In all 56 children, 53 of whom were accompanied by their mothers, were examined. The clinic was a pre-school examination for school beginners.

The public health officers were pleased with the general condition of the children, most of whom were in a healthy condition, many obtaining 100 per cent rating.

There were three cases where defects might prove serious and these were referred to their private physicians.

Dr. Sparks spoke to each parent on the value of toxoid for dyphtheria and vaccination for small pox, and was highly gratified at the interest taken by parents.

Free From Sciatica for 35 Years

In Perfect Health at 73 —Thanks to Kruschen

Thirty-five years ago this septuagenarian was helpless with sciatica. Then he heard of Kruschen. Since that day, he has enjoyed perfect health. Here is his remarkable story:—

"Thirty-five years ago, I had a severe attack of sciatica, and could scarcely move for about six weeks. Then I started taking Kruschen—about half - a - teaspoonful every morning in hot water. In a few weeks, I got rid of the awful pain in my hips. I have never had to consult a doctor since, and am still in perfect health at 73 years of age, which I can only attribute to taking Kruschen Salts every morning."—T.A.

Most people grow old long before their time because they neglect one vital need of health—the need of internal cleanliness. Eventually, they start the healthy Kruschen habit. Then, probably for the first time in their lives, they start getting rid, every day, of all waste matter from the system. The result is renewed health and vigour. Ailments due to clogged systems vanish, youth returns, and life becomes really worth living.

Batting Leaders

The batting races in both big leagues virtually stood still yesterday, with only the third-place holders gaining an advantage through the batting doldrums of the pace-setters. Ducky Medwick of the Cardinals and Paul Waner, of the Pirates, one-two in the National league, each hit one-for-four, and each dropped one point, to .293 and .375 respectively.

Charley Gehringer of the Tigers, leading the American league, hit one-for-five, and Lou Gehrig, his nearest rival, went hitless in three chances. Each dropped 2 points.

To Stage Two Trail Golf Contests Soon

TRAIL, B.C., Sept. 5—After two months of leisure play at the Rossland-Trail Golf and Country club, competitions will be taken down off the shelf and afford some keen contests this month.

On September 11, the Ladies' open Blaylock cup singles championship will be played and on September 18, the men's open Directors' cup competition will be staged.

Trail Rink Might Declare Interim Dividend in 1937

TRAIL, B.C., Sept. 2—James Buchanan was reelected president of Trail Rink Company, Limited at the annual meeting Tuesday night in the city hall when the entire slate of officers was returned.

Directors are: R. C. Crowe, J. A. Wadsworth, C. W. Guillaume, Emilio Pisaplo and G. J. Kinnis. R. M. Hoyland was reappointed auditor and H. L. Jestley, secretary-treasurer.

The strong financial condition of the company was outlined by Mr. Buchanan who said that there was a possibility that an interim dividend would be declared before the end of the year. The balanace sheet and profit and loss statement were approved.

Net profit from the year's operations, after setting aside $2750.03 for depreciation, was shown as $393.57.

It was pointed out that the sharp decrease in attendance at hockey games had appreciably affected revenue for the year. This was partly offset by the increase in revenue from skating. It was hoped that the revenue from lacrosse would continue to increase with the increased popularity of the game.

Extensive improvements and repair work were carried out during the year and the rink building and equipment were reported in excellent condition.

Dundee Has Good Chance to Stay in the No. 1 Position

GLASGOW, Sept. 2 (CP Cable)—Given advantage of a home game this Saturday, Dundee, on top of the Scottish football league standing with four consecutive wins, has a good chance to retain the No. 1 spot as the campaign starts its fourth week.

The Dens Park entry has impressed with its powerful offensive. Although they have yet to meet really strong opposition, the club has won all its games, scoring a total of 10 goals against one. Queen of south, yet to gain a maximum-point contest, provides the opposition at the week-end and indications point to another loss.

Feature match is billed for Motherwell where the colorful Rangers, last year's champions, are scheduled to play. Both teams are bracketed Hearts. The Edinburgh club travels to Falkirk, top dog in two of its four matches to date.

Celtic entertains Hamilton Academicals while Aberdeen goes to its bad-luck ground, Cathkin park, home of Third Lanark. The Celts are given the nod but Aberdeen will have to hustle to take all points.

Ross Wilson Out of Net Title Play

FOREST HILLS, September 2. (AP)—The tennis greats and near-greats indulged in a lot of firing on the courts of the West Side tennis club today as the men's and women's United States singles championships got under their cumbersome way. But little of it was more than target practice.

Twenty of the 48 seeded players in both divisions saw action, but when play ended only one, Ross Wilson of Toronto, seeded last among foreign entries, was eliminated.

Laird Watt of Montreal, scored the lone Canadian victory in the first round, defeating W. H. Earle of England, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Moving to the sidelines with Wilson went the only two Canadian women who played today—Mrs. H. L. Beer of Ottawa, and Jean Milne of Vancouver.

Wilson was defeated 4-6, 6-3, 6-4. 6-4 by Merrimon Cunningham of Nashville, Tenn.

Mrs. Maud Bluementhal of New York, the former Baroness Levi and one-time ranking United States player, defeated Mrs. Beer 6-0, 6-0.

Miss Milne collected four games in a plucky stand in the second set of her match with the German star, Fraulein Marie Louise Horn, seeded fourth, before losing 6-0, 6-4.

The third Canadian woman entered in the championship, Effie E. Billing of Montreal, plays Alison Harrison of Chestnut Hills, Pa., tomorrow.

Bluebird Bantams Beat F. A. C. 12-9 in a Boxla Game

With the score standing at 3-3 in the first quarter the Bluebirds bantam boxla club stepped into a 6-4 lead in the second and in the third added five goals against three for their opponents, which proved a more than sufficient margin to defeat the Fairview A. C. bantams 12-9 on Wednesday evening.

Doug Winlaw and John Dunnett each scored three goals for the Bluebirds with Ernie Wilson and Herb Guscott scoring two goals and getting the same number of assists. Oliver Laakso and Gordon Olson came through with the other two scores with Warren Ferguson getting two assists.

Giants Pull Full Game Ahead By Beating Cards as Cubs Defeated

NEW YORK, Sept. 2 (AP) — Those galloping Giants pulled a full game in front of the National league pack today by outlasting the St. Louis Cardinals for a 5-4, 10-inning victory.

The victory, seventh in their last eight games, boosted their pace-setting lead since the Cubs dropped their start in Brooklyn.

The Cards took a one-run lead in the first half of the tenth and appeared to have the game sewed upp, but Mel Ott tied it up with his 30th homer, and then Hank Leiber, Harry Danning and Burgess Whitehead singled the winning run across.

The Cards not only lost the game, but their first baseman as well. One of Harry Gumbert's slants felled Johnny Mize in the sixth and he was carried off the field on a stretcher. Although he was not believed seriously hurt, he was taken to a hospital for an X-ray examination.

Johnny McCarthy's bat struck the balance that saved the Giants from throwing the game away, through their four errors. After the Cards took the lead with a run in the second on one hit and two errors, McCarthy, got them back in the ball game with his homer with a mate on base in the sixth. A passed ball, a hit and two walks gave the Cards two in the eighth, but McCarthy promptly tied it up again with his second homer.

(10 innings):

St. Louis	010	000	020	1	4	8	1
New York	000	002	010	2	5	16	4

Johnson, Weiland, and Owen; Gumbert, Smith, Coffman and Danning.

DODGERS WIN

BROOKLYN, Sept. 2 (AP)—The Dodgers kept the Chicago Cubs in second place in the National league pennant sweepstakes again today by outlasting their rivals for a 4-3 decision in 11 innings.

The defeat, coming while the league-leading Giants were defeating the St. Louis Cardinals, dropped the Cubs a full game back in the runner-up slot.

The victory was the Dodgers' second straight over the Cubs and gave them their third straight series.

They had to come from behind a 3-1 advantage to do it, but they accomplished it with a two-run score tying splurge in the eighth, during which the collapsible Cub infield committed a costly error, and then won out in the second extra frame. Max Butcher, big Dodger pitcher who took over the mound assignment in the 10th after Luke Hamlin and Jim Lindsey had given up, won his own game with a single that sent the winning run across the plate.

(11 innings):

Chicago	010	100	000	00	3	8	1
Brooklyn	100	000	020	01	4	13	0

Lee and Hartnett; Hamlin, Lindsey, Butcher and Phelps.

Arsenal to Battle Wolverhampton in Saturday's Feature

LONDON, Sept. 2 (CP Cable)—Though the new soccer season is less than a week old, many midweek games have been played and only two teams, Arsenal and Wolverhampton, have 100 per cent records, each winning two straight. These teams meet at the Gunners' grounds in the feature match Saturday.

Saturday's tussle between the leaders at Highbury should provide a stern battle, but the Gunners, with Hulme back to winning form, should survive.

Another feature match brings together the league champions, Manchester City and Leicester City, second division champions of last season. The senior champions, on their own grounds have the edge.

Chelsea after a totally unexpected scoring splurge a week ago when they overwhelmed Liverpool 6-1, played pretty football and did not attempt a scoring burst against Leeds United, who beat them 2-0 in midweek. These tactics against West Bromwich Albion Saturday would be suicidal.

Cranbrook Takes Second Place in Boyd Cup Tourney

Boyd and J. Atchison. The trophy was presented by J. Boyd last year to be played for by Fernie, Kimberley and Cranbrook. Fernie members won the trophy this year with 472. Cranbrook was second with 492 and Kimberley third with 512. The trophy was won by Kimberley last year. F. Hughes and T. Baker of Fernie made the low net 113.

OLYMPIC GAMES ORGANIZER DEAD

GENEVA, Sept. 2 (CP)—Baron Pierre de Coubertin, 74, organizer of the modern olympic games, collapsed and died today while walking with friends in La Grange Park here.

Baron de Coubertin, an ardent enthusiast of physical culture, urged the revival of the ancient Greek games for years and his efforts were crowned with success when the first modern olympics were held at Athens in 1896.

LILLIAN BOYD IS BEATEN IN GOLF

ST. CHARLES COUNTRY CLUB, Sept. 2 (CP) — Rita Shuttleworth of Hamilton, Ont., set a winning precedent for outsiders in the Canadian women's open golf race today with a stunning extra-hole conquest of the Minneapolis favorite, Bea Barrett.

Her sensational quarter-final victory, achieved through a birdie three on the 363-yard 19th hole, was the greatest of three major upsets. Mrs. H. W. Soper surprised with a 3 and 2 triumph in an all-Montreal match with Nora Hankin and long-hitting Evelyn Mills, Ottawa, was ousted 4 to 2 by Winnipeg's Mrs. John Rogers.

Lillian Boyd, Vancouver, could not maintain the pace she set in beating the highly-ranked Mrs. J. D. Pearce of Montreal and Kaye Farrell, Vancouver, and bowed to the steadier golf of Mrs. Eric Phillips, Toronto, 2 and 1.

In 18-hole semi-finals tomorrow afternoon, Mrs. Shuttleworth meets Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Rogers plays Mrs. Soper. The final Saturday will be over 36 holes.

He Thought "Caddy" a Publicity Stunt But Not Now — He Saw It!

VICTORIA, September 2 (CP)—Take Alfred Rumney's word for it—cadborosaurus is back.

Victoria's pet sea-serpent, unreported for so many months, Vancouver Islanders were beginning to worry about him—or her—cavorted near Esquimalt harbor four miles from this British Columbia capital this morning.

Alfred Rumney wasn't fooling. He said his wife saw Caddy, too.

"We got to Safe Point (in Esquimalt) about 9:00 o'clock this morning," Mr. Rumney said. "Twenty minutes later my wife called out what's that?"

"I looked out to sea and when it came up again I saw it was a big monster. It had three coils, one of them was all of two feet six inches in diameter.

"We saw it several times from 9:20 to about 10:15. It turned out to sea but there was a boat coming out of Victoria and a tug going the other way. I guess they turned it back.

"It came right into the edge of the seaweed, about 200 yards from shore. It had a head like a horse or a cow, but without ears."

Mr. Rumney was positive it was Cadborosaurus.

"I had always put Caddy stories down as a hoax, or a publicity stunt before, but not now," he said.

Men's Entry For Leith Cup Golf Soars, Now at 40

Hopes Are High for Best Tourney of Recent Years

11 ENTRIES FOR LADIES' TOURNEY

Hopes are high in Nelson golfing circles for the most successful Labor Day tournament in the last few years as entries in the form of qualifying cards continue to flood into the match committee. Up until Thursday night over 40 entries had been posted for the men's battle for the Leith cup, the largest in recent years, and 11 for the ladies' event.

Today is the last day for golfers wishing to qualify, for draws are to be made tonight.

A start in the three-day tournament will be made Saturday morning when the ladies open their race for the ladies' singles championship and the Kootenay Brewery cup. The men's contest starts in the afternoon of the same day.

While Nelson golfers form the bulk of the entries, Trail is well represented with six contestants, Creston so far has one, and Kimberley one, who have signified their entry. The remainder are of the Nelson Golf and Country club.

Miss Ellen E. Hughes of Fernie, has announced her intentions of travelling to Nelson for the week-end to defend her Kootenay championship title. Miss Hughes is the present holder of the Kootenay Brewery cup which she won in Nelson last season.

Fair Day Means Ice Cream

Fair time's ice cream time too, say Ray Ogilvie and his cousin, Sylvia Fitchett, and even dressing up for the Harrop fair Wednesday, didn't halt their enjoyment of cones.

Board to Back City on Wharf and Convention

To Get Fullest Data on Wharf to Be Effective

Strong support of the city council in two courses that it is taking was voiced by the Nelson board of trade Thursday, at the first council luncheon of the fall, one being the effort to secure proper wharf facilities, and the other the effort to bring the Union of British Columbia Municipalities here for its 1938 convention.

John Learmonth, chairman of the roads and bridges committee, reported respecting the wharf, that he had talked with Mayor J. P. Morgan and been told of steps taken urging the Dominion government to provide a small wharf.

To this E. A. Mann added the information of the patching being done to the present wharf by the B. C. Veneer Works for the purpose of unloading cottonwood logs brought by rail, and referred to the reported intention of the West Kootenay Power & Light company to use it in connection with its dredging campaign below Nelson.

The committee was requested to go into these other points, and obtain the fullest information, so that the board will be able to take the most effective action in support of the city's efforts to get wharf facilities such as conditions require.

BRIDGE ANGLE

In this connection J. R. Hunter referred to the possibility of the province building the long-desired bridge across the West Arm, and suggested that any wharf should be up-stream in relation to the bridge.

Mr. Learmonth pointed out that W. E. Keyt, of the Dominion district engineer's staff in New Westminster, was now in the district.

Regarding the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, a motion sponsored by C. F. McHardy and J. R. Hunter, to forward a letter to the Union warmly supporting the city's invitation, which will be before the convention, was adopted.

NO CHANGE IN NELSON BOXLA SQUAD TONIGHT

Clark Says Team Goes Into Playoff Series "as Is"

Nelson will go into the Kootenay boxla playoff series at Rossland tonight with the same lineup that put on the climbing drive as the league series drew to a close.

Manager Murray Clark announced Thursday night that the personnel of the team would be unchanged. He said he might make a switch, using three defencemen instead of four and moving Kelly up to rover to release Cooper for forward line duty with Bishop should the Paterson-Carr wing line fail to click, but he expected the boys to be in the playoff form and to go through without a change.

Gibbons, ace netminder, will have his regular defence out in front—Atwell, Horswill, DesBrisay and Kelly.

The league's ace combination pair, Dingwall and Hooker, will work with Bonneville, centre, and Egan, rover. Short of an accident, there will be no change in this lineup, for the Dingwall-Hooker passing game has lately extended to bring Bonneville and Egan into it and make a four-man attack that is particularly effective.

Working with Cooper, rover, and Bishop, centre, will be Paterson and Carr, the mighty mite and the colorful, effective "Red". The game starts at 8 p.m.

Giants and Cubs Are Softball Finalists Trail Men's League

TRAIL, B.C., Sept. 5 —Giants will meet the Cubs in a best two out of three series to decide the city senior men's softball league second half champions, the first game to be staged on Wednesday, September 8.

Giants won the right by defeating Meakin Hotel 4-2 at Victoria park tonight, Cubs having nabbed the bye by defeating Giants yesterday.

It was a 1-1 draw until the fifth inning when Meakin brought in another run to take a flimsy lead. Giants came back with two runs in the sixth to snag a one run margin and sew up the victory with another in the eighth frame.

Serial Story . . .

Rustle of Silks

By MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Mary Barrett, ambitious to become a dress designer, has established herself in Paris through a partnership with Countess Anetka that was made possible by Mark Sutherland, an American playboy she met on shopboard. Mary likes Mark but misses Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York shop who gave her her start. She left the Castle shop suddenly nearly three years previously after an altercation with Tony's head buyer. More and more she realies she is in love with Tony. Her success in Paris has been phenomenal and, thanks to Mari Barat, the name she has assumed, Anetka's shop is growing famous. Mark Sutherland, in Paris again, tells Mary he has big plans for her.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 19

Mary fixed an accusive eye on Mark when he said he had something important to tell her. "Now, Mark Sutherland, if this is one of your little games to keep me from my work . . ."

"Far be it from me to impede the progress of industry, my gal. I've really got something here."

"And I've got a movie actress with money to spend," she reminded him.

"Pshaw, you'll have Garbo and Dietrich when I get through. You asked me when I was going to work. Well, I'm working—for you."

Mary's expression said that she doubted it. But it was good to see him.

"Something tells me that you're making conversation. You'll forgive me if I'm inclined to doubt your seriousness."

"After more than a year, do we have to start our conversations where we left off?" she begged.

"No, seriously, Mary, I think I have a good idea. I know more than you think about your success and hard work and all that, but I do know something else that you ought to have . . ."

"Mark, if you're going to start talking about 'a girl having experience, and living, and not knowing anything about life,' and all that wornout line, you'll have to do it at another time. Truly, I don't want to be ungracious and I am glad to see you, but . . ."

"All right, then. I feel deeply aggrieved but I'll come to the point. The point being: That tonight, regardless of whatever plans you have, you are dining with me at, shall we say, the Ritz at 8?"

Mary laughed.

"Oh, Mark, what a long memory you have! You even remember that? Wasn't I a silly girl?"

Mark looked at her long before he answered.

"Not a bit. I liked it. I'm going to have to know you all over again. You're not the same little girl you used to be. I think I'm going to like you better."

"Perhaps you'd better not," she advised.

He shrugged his shoulders. "What about tonight?"

"Not tonght."

"Come, come, Mary . . ."

"Then tomorrow night at 8? And why must you 'meet' me? Don't you think we out-wore that custom? I have an apartment and would like you to see it."

"And I'd rather you meet us—for reasons of my own."

"'Us'?"

"Yes, that's what I've been trying to tell you. I have a very important person for you to meet."

"A customer?"

"No."

"Then he isn't important, darling."

"You're wrong on two counts. It isn't a 'he' and SHE is important. She happens to be Claire Todd, a very old friend of mine and the wife of one of my classmates."

"Claire Todd," Mary repeated the name and drew her brows together. "Her name sounds familiar. Where have I heard it before?"

"Lots of places. She was another disappointment in my life. I first knew Claire when she was a debutante and fell hard but she decided on a career. So I dropped her. Let that be a lesson to you."

"If I hadn't had a career, you never would have met me," she retorted, "and you can't intimidate me with any threats. Go on about Claire Todd."

"Well, Claire's an up-and-coming writer. Perhaps I should say that she has arrived. You're sure to hear more about her. She's fashion editor of LADY OF TODAY, and holding down a lot of other posts. Posts that are very important to you."

Mary nodded. Mark had all her attention from the moment he had mentioned the words "fashion editor."

"She is also one of the editors of MODE, and head man in the fashion department of a large American newspaper syndicate. It seems that millions of women read her dope."

"And?"

"And she's here looking for news. And to make it! So see that you do something special in the way of costumes for yourself tomorrow night. I'll be doing my part."

Mary held out her hand. "Mark, consider me abjectly apologetic. I'll wear a hair shirt for the next two years for interrupting you before."

Mark regarded her critically. "Not with those shoulders! And not tomorrow night, my dear. By the time I get through with Claire, she's going to expect something pretty darn sensational and you're not going to let me down."

"I'm not going to let myself down. And now, Handsome, if you'll please run along, I may be able to dash off a couple of sensational numbers for La Rohde."

After he had gone, she picked up her sketch pad but the lines she drew there were not for Roxanne Rohde. Hastily her skilled fingers drew long flowing lines Then she got up and hurried on eager feet to the work-room. She pulled a bolt of soft black wool from the shelf, another of soft, very bright red wool from another shelf. Sharply she called to the cutter and a seamstress.

* * *

Mary timed her entrance at the door of the dining room of the Ritz where she was to meet Mark and his friends. She was quick to realize the importance of impressing Claire Todd. She had grown up and learned that it took more than dreams to ascend the steep ladder of success.

"Is she really as good as all that?" Claire Todd was saying at the moment Mary approached the doorway.

"She's too good," Mark said glumly.

"So that's the way it is! Did it ever occur to you that when you find a woman like that, you might ask her to marry you?"

"You know I'm not a marrying man, Claire."

Claire exchanged a glance with her husband.

Mark held a match for Claire's cigaret a moment later, but Claire didn't see it. She was looking past him toward the door of the dining room, and she was not alone in the direction of her glance.

Mark followed her eyes and got up. "Excuse me. It's Mary!"

Mary didn't see him at first as she stood there motionless, timed. Here was a beautiful, slender young woman in a gown of diaphanous white that clung to her figure, accented by a heavy girdle of bronze that weighted it against the curve of her waist. It was the exact tone of her coppery hair drawn smoothly over her proud head. A long black woolen cape lined with bright red hung from her shoulders to the floor

Mark Sutherland caught his breath. "The girl has distinction," he murmured.

A little later, Claire Todd said, "I'm very anxious to see your things. May I come Friday?"

Mary's gratitude was charming, and not a bit overdone. "I should feel complimented. We're too small to have a showing, but I'd like you to see what we're doing and planning to do."

To Restrain Child . . .

Doctor Believes in Spanking But Writer Disagrees

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.

Only a few times a year someone writes me a letter like the following, and nearly all of such have been printed in this column. It is an echo of much that is written and taught by those who have no children of their own or who have a wife or husband who has employed some pain on the child in his early years to establish respect in him for authority. An eminent author of a book for parents once admitted to me that her husband used to spank their children, though she never did. Suppose he had not. Also a certain columnist who advises parents never to lay the hand on the child to restrain him told me, "We spanked our children some when they were little."

Show me the child who from the time he could toddle has been unspoiled, who has been considerate of the rights of others, respectful of the property in the neighborhood and of authority in whomsoever it is vested, and I will show you a child who learned restraint in his early years through some pain administered by some one, or a child who has grown up with neighbor children who were well disciplined and who in turn disciplined him—we're running short of such neighbors—or a child who has been restrained by a shrieking, piercing voice more cruel and painful than any pain can be.

DISAGREES ON SPANKING

"Dear Dr. Myers: I have just read your article . . . this evening and would like to comment on it. I agree with you that children should have plenty of sleep and also learn to have consideration for the rest of the family. I do not approve of your method. Spanking is to my mind the least effective method of getting either obedience or cooperation from the child. If the child is properly trained and knows that the parent means what he or she says, the child will obey. If he doesn't at first, he should be put back to bed quietly but firmly and if possible without a word. If old enough to read, merely pointing at the clock will suffice.

"I have had a good deal of experience with children (with her own?) but have never found spanking effective — it merely gratifies parent's vanity—that he has such power over the child. Unless you can make the child (of any age) comprehend the fact that you are always on his side . . . the obedience you get through fear is worthless . . ."

Just how is the child to learn that you mean what you say? Through your voice and eyes? Don't you want to reserve them for companionable fellowship with him?

UNHAPPY HUBBY

misfortune that their stepfather is not fond of your girls and will not welcome them to your home. It is unfortunate, and he must be a very selfish man. It is his loss, too, when he is so disagreeable to your children. They might be loving daughters to him if he would meet them halfway, and he surely isn't considerate of you and your feelings as a mother.

* * *

SMILING wants to know if it matters if her boy friend is of a different nationality; if he is too old for her, as she is 17 and he 25, and whether she should wait for him when they have a date, as he is never on time.

The first question about a difference of nationality depends upon you two, Smiling. If each of you can adjust yourself happily to one of a different nationality, it is all right. There are many happy international marriages. You are quite young and shouldn't consider marriage yet, but if you are the type to like an older boy and he to prefer a younger girl, and you have happy congenial times together, there is no reason why you should not go together.

A person who is always late to appointments is a good deal of a pest, and should reform, my dear. He is inconsiderate of the other fellow. Maybe if you "ran out on him" once when he is late it would teach him a lesson.

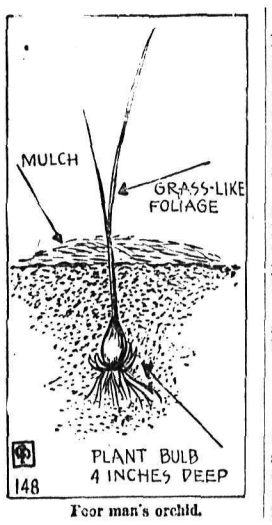
Iris Bulbs Should Be Planted Now For Early Spring Blooming



Poor man's orchid.

All of these lovely orchid iris, English, Dutch and Spanish varieties, grow from bulbs. The bulbs should be planted early in September. The reason for this early planting is that they begin growth at once. The foliage is slender and looks like heavy grass. It grows to be about a foot high.

As shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph, these bulbs should be planted four inches deep. Later mulch the bulbs well, especially if your winter weather is below zero in temperature.

WOMEN LIVE FOR POKER

JOHANNESBURG (CP) — The increase in the number of "poker schools" among Johannesburg women is condemned by social workers, who declare the women here live for little else than poker.

Market and Mining News

CHICAGO STRONG

CHICAGO, September 2 (AP) — The wheat market developed unexpected strength today with volume expanded considerably after a slow, indifferent start.

The trade was impressed by the strength at Buenos Aires despite reports of rain there beneficial to parched wheat lands. Wheat was 2½ cents a bushel higher and trade on a fairly broad scale, but profit taking near the close erased part of the bulge. Private reports, estimating crops about as expected, had little influence on grains.

Wheat closed firm, 1¼-2 cents higher than yesterday's finish. September 1.05¾-⅞, December 107½-⅝, corn was stronger, ⅛-1⅜ advanced. September 95½-⅝, December 62⅞-63, and oats ½-1⅛ up.

Synopsis of Land Act

PRE-EMPTIONS

VACANT, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation and improvement.

Full information concerning Pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C.; Bureau of Provincial Information, Victoria, or any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes within reasonable distance of road, school and marketing facilities and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre east of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre west of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division in which the land applied for is situated, on printed forms obtained from the Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

Pre-emptions carrying part time conditions of occupation are also granted.

PURCHASE OR LEASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes. Minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land, $2.50 per acre. Further information is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

As a partial relief measure, reverted lands may be acquired by purchase in ten equal instalments, with the first payment suspended for two years, provided taxes are paid when due and improvements are made during the first two years of not less than 10% of the appraised value.

Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtained after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under grazing regulations amended from time to time to meet varying conditions. Annual grazing permits are issued based on certain monthly rates per head of stock. Priority in grazing privileges is given to resident stock owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free or partially free permits available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.

REEVES HEAVY LOSER, COAST

VANCOUVER, Sept. 2 (CP) — Prices continued to dwindle on Vancouver stock exchange today with losses ranging from fractions to nine cents. Trading was quiet and scattered as transfers totalled 129,560 shares.

Calgary & Edmonton Oil lost 7 cents at 2.34, Dalhousie 5 at 65 and Okalta 4 at 1.50. Home dropped 3 at 1.75 and Commonwealth was unchanged at 30. Calmont gained 2 at 49 while Monarch Royalties at 34½ and A. P. Consolidated at 32 firmed fractions.

Bralorne Gold at 7.65 and Pioneer at 3.90 both dropped 5 and Premier 4 at 2.18. Dentonia eased 1½ at 13½ as Sheep Creek at 90 and Reno at 84 both lost a cent.

Reeves MacDonald was heaviest base metal loser, down 9 at 75. Whitewater declined 1 at 13 while Nicola at 5 and Pend Oreille at 4.00 were unchanged.

N.Y. Rally Slight

NEW YORK, September 2 (AP)—A few rallying signs appeared in today's stock market, but they were hardly clear enough to do more than temporarily stem the declining trend.

With steels in the lead many issues dipped one to three or more points at the start. Dealings were fast on setbacks and relatively slow in come-back periods. Most shares closed above their lows of the day, although they tended to give ground at the finish.

The international scene, coupled with domestic business skepticism, brokers said, helped to promote further selling.

Volume of 1,204,400 shares was the largest since July 7, and compared with yesterday's total of 818,910.

Japan's warning to foreign shipping to keep away from the Chinese war zone, in addition to the sinking of a British ship in the Mediterranean by an unidentified submarine, apparently were viewed as omens of possible international trouble.

TORONTO LOSES IN ALL GROUPS

TORONTO, Sept. 2 (CP)—Volume picked up today on price recessions involving all groups of Toronto share market. A mid-afternoon rally was short-lived and the close was around the low point for the day.

In the case of O'Brien a sell-off to 4.85, its low points for the year was co-incident with rumor (entirely unfounded) that M. J. O'Brien, a heavy shareholder in the property, was dead. A rally to 5.10 flattened out and the stock closed at 4.95, down 35 cents.

Brazilian Traction changed hands to the extent of 4000 shares and closed ⅝ lower at 23⅜. Dominion Steel B weakened ⅜ to 20⅝.

Steel of Canada common lost 3 to 82 and the preferred 6 to 76.

SMELTERS OFF

MONTREAL, September 2 (CP)—Prices staggered on the stock market today under persistent selling thrusts. A mild recovery effort at the close helped occasional issues.

Loss of 1½ points each appeared for St. Lawrence Paper preferred at 90 and Dryden at 15½. Montreal Power, at 30¼, and Canadian Hydro Electric preferred at 88, lost a point each.

Cement touched a new low for the year at 14¼, off ¾, and so did Dominion Tar at 12, also off ¾. Noranda sold off 1½ at 59½. Nickel eased ⅛ and Smelters ¼.

Papers slumped on the curb. Abitibi preferred finished at 53, loss of 2¾ points, while Fraser Voting Trusts went to 38, off 2½ points. Consolidated dipped a point to 16½ and Donnacona sold at 15, off 1⅛.

MERCURY SOARS TO 83 DEGREES

Citizens rejoiced and Nelson's street buses were filled to capacity on Thursday on their way to and from Lakeside park as Old Sol really came back to his midsummer stride and lifted the mercury to 83, a raise of four marks over that of Wednesday and a "hot" peak in any part of the country. Coats and sweaters donned a few days ago were cast off again as the minimum went up to 49, three degrees higher than the previous day. The sun, in raising the mercury to its peak, shone for 11 hours in an almost cloudless sky.

Invite Beatty to Speak Here on His Presidential Tour

An invitation to Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific, to address the board of Trade, when he is here September 17 on his annual inspection of the system, is being extended. When advised by W. B. Bamford, president, of Sir Edward's visit, and his desire to meet members of the board, members suggested this was the time to ask Sir Edward to redeem his promise to be the guest of the board.

Whether Sir Edward will be limited to the hour allowed him by the arranged schedule—2 to 3 p.m.—or will arrange for more time by arriving later on the Crow, members expressed a desire to hear him, even if he limited himself to half on hour. Presumably he would speak on the railway question.

It was left to Mr. Bamford to wire Sir Edward, and to make whatever arrangements are necessary for the gathering if he should accept.

When a train passed near a rifle range at Lincoln, a bullet shattered a window but missed all passengers.
