Plane Crashes, Boat Upsets in a Search for 'Santa Claus' Parachuter Lost in Ocean

BOSTON, Dec. 22 (AP)—High over Boston airport, a brightly-lit plane, taxied to a landing, and a police automobile, rushing under water searchlights to the scene, crashed, sending Seaguard Edward J. Selboldt, Boston police ballistics expert, to East Boston relief hospital critically injured. Less seriously hurt was his assistant patrolman John Clorin.

Several hours later, two army pilots reported they had seen the body of the parachute jumper, 35-year-old Harold Kraner of Winthrop, half on a sandbar, half in the water. They said he still wore the parachute.

Coastguard, army, navy, and harbor police craft converged on the general locality. Darkness and a falling tide impeded the search.

Soon after the search started, an army plane, taxiing to a landing, and a police automobile, rushing under water searchlights to the scene, crashed, sending Seaguard Edward J. Selboldt, Boston police ballistics expert, to East Boston relief hospital critically injured. Less seriously hurt was his assistant patrolman John Clorin.

Almost simultaneously, a small boat in which two enlisted army men, Richard Miller and Earl Jordan, were searching for the parachute jumper, capsized. Coastguards pulled the men, half-drowned, from the frigid water. They, too, went to East Boston relief hospital.

The accidents came at the climax of a party for children of Christmas.

FARMING PAYS, HE HAS PROOF!

ERSKINE, Alta., Dec. 22 (CP)—Don't tell Mr. and Mrs. Lester V. Lohr that farming doesn't pay. They know it does.

The Lohrs who know what it is to pioneer in a log cabin will spend this Christmas in a $10,000 home, their "Dream House," paid for solely out of the profits of farming.

It is one of the most modern farm homes in Alberta, even supplying a shower bath for the hired help. It also has a billiard room and a "den for the master" complete with gun shelves.

"There is no need for other people to envy us," said 49-year-old Lohr as, with his 36-year-old wife, he told the story of the Dream House, "for what we have done, anyone else can do."

"The farm has always been a paying proposition," he said, drought hit his farm only one year, in 1924, and no crop was harvested.

Bachelor of Science, University of Manitoba, Mr. Lohr has been farming "on his own" since the Great War. Today he has 1440 acres.

Gets $10,000 of Her Husband's Insurance

VANCOUVER, Dec. 22 (CP)—Mr. Justice D. A. Macdonald in supreme court today granted an order awarding Mrs. Mary Gertrude Macdonald $10,000 of $26,477 insurance monies left by her husband, Donald Alexander Macdonald, who died here last August.

His lordship ruled the money formed part of deceased's estate so far as the testator's family maintenance act was concerned. Mrs. Macdonald invoked the act to increase the $3300 which had been left her from the insurance. She claimed $15,000.

Scout Toy Shop Gives Out Toys for 155 Kiddies

Some 155 kiddies of 44 of Nelson's less fortunate families will not go to school Christmas day, thanks to the efforts of the Boy Scout toy shop. Toys for that number of kiddies were distributed by Fred Gill, the "Scout Santa Claus," from the toy shop in the I. O. O. F. hall Wednesday night.

Last opportunity will be given parents to collect toys for their kiddies Christmas stockings tonight at 7 p.m. There was still a number of good toys left when the shop closed Wednesday at 9 p.m.

FOUR SOLDIERS, A SAILOR AND A SCRIBE ARE BRITISH VICTIMS

Total Killed on Duty in Sino-Japanese War, Eden Tells the British House of Commons

LONDON, Dec. 22 (CP-Havas)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden in the house of commons today said four soldiers, a sailor and a newspaperman comprised the British subjects killed while on duty in connection with the Chinese-Japanese conflict.

The soldiers, privates of the Royal Ulster Rifles, died in or near Shanghai, the sailor was fatally wounded aboard the gunboat Ladybird at Wuhu Dec. 11, while the newspaper-

TRAVELLERS TELL OF HEAVY GUARD

(Copyright 1937 by The Havas News Agency)

LONDON, Dec. 22 (CP-Havas)—The "volunteers" question was still at issue tonight following another meeting of the "hands off Spain" sub-committee held amid report Italy had sent 8000 North African troops into the insurgent ranks within the last two weeks.

The Spanish question was also mentioned in the house of commons when Foreign Secretary Eden disclosed the ambassador at Hendaye had been instructed to request the immediate public trial of a British newspaperman arrested in insurgent territory more than a year ago for alleged violation of currency regulations.

While reporting progress on several subordinate points in the plan, the non-intervention sub-committee was unable to reach agreement on the "substantial" number of foreign effective to be evacuated before certain belligerency rights are granted to the two combatants. The deliberations were adjourned until after Christmas with a solution apparently as far away as ever.

The Daily Herald, Labor, in a despatch from its Gibraltar correspondent, charged Premier Mussolini had sent 8000 Moors into Spain from Italian East Africa within the last two weeks.

(Travellers reaching Gibraltar, from Cadiz, Spain, said insurgent authorities had thrown a heavy guard around the port, possibly to prevent observers from witnessing the debarkation of troops and war supplies.)

To Licence Betting on Horses, Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 22 (AP)—The city council voted tonight to licence "pari-mutuel brokers" to handle bets on horse races.

The unprecedented ordinance—designed to take the multi-million dollar business out of the hands of scottlaw "bookmakers," drive hoodlums from the trade and raise $2,000,000 a year in revenue—was adopted by an overwhelming margin of 43 to 4.

APPEAL SUSTAINED

WINNIPEG, Dec. 22 (CP)—A judgment of Manitoba appeal court yesterday sustained Ernest Chiswell's appeal against Mr. Justice J. E. Adams' ruling he must pay $100 costs before his action against Charleswood municipality and two golf courses can go to trial.

For nearly three years Chiswell has been fighting the golfers. He claims the bouncing golf balls roll across his property much to the discomfort of the Chiswell family.

NEW CONTEST FOR PLANS OF $2500 HOMES IN B. C.

OTTAWA, Dec. 22 (CP)—To provide the benefit of professional planning for low cost residences built under the Dominion Housing act, Finance Minister Dunnington tonight announced a new architectural contest for homes costing not more than $2500 in British Columbia or $3000 elsewhere in Canada.

Architects throughout the Dominion will be eligible to compete and the contest closes January 24, 1938. From the entries the judging committee will select not more than 10 and not less than five sketches for which the government will pay $250 each. Architects submitting winning designs will then be asked to send complete plans and working drawings.

These finished plans will then be made available to prospective home owners at $10 each. Thus giving to even the lowest-cost home builders the benefit of architects' plans.

Baroness Jailed in Japan Niece of Vice Consul in Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Dec. 22 (CP)—Baroness Shidzue Ishimoto, one of two women among the 370 Japanese arrested in the Tokyo campaign against suspected Communists and Fascists, is a niece of Yozo Tsurumi, vice-consul for Japan here.

The baroness was well known in the Pacific coast cities, she is related to the Tsurumi family, known in Seattle diplomatic circles and was in Seattle herself last April 21 at the end of her fourth lecture tour of the United States.

Another uncle is Ken Tsurumi, formerly Japanese consul at Portland and now consul general at Harbin, Manchuria. Yusuke Tsurumi, famous Japanese author, also is an uncle.

NEW DEAL FOR CANADIAN RADIO

OTTAWA, Dec. 22 (CP)—New arrangements that will go far toward clearing the air of interference nuisance were completed at the radio conference recently completed at Havana. It was announced tonight. When ratified by the various governments concerned the agreement reached at Havana will give Canada sufficient channels to care for all the present and projected high power stations using five kilowatts or more.

BROKEN-HEARTED FATHER LEARNS AFTER SEVEN YEARS MAN NOT SON

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 22 (AP)—A broken-hearted father learned today that the man who had posed as his son for seven years is in reality a stranger to his flesh, bound not to reveal the secret by a strange death-bed oath to his real son.

But today Mesrov Kalustian, alias Solomon Papazian, a 34-year-old apprentice tailor, disclosed the true story to A. L. Barkman, head of the United States immigration bureau here.

In 1915, Kalustian said, his mother and the mother of Solomon Papazian were killed during a massacre of Armenians in Turkey. The two boys, both 12 years old, fled as they saw their mothers slain.

He said they roamed around Turkey until Solomon died of starvation, but on his death bed, Solomon made Kalustian promise he would find the father and pose as his son.

Kalustian finally located and joined the father, Abraham Papazian, now a resident of Meadville, Pa. The father had seen his son only as a six-month-old baby.

A week ago, Kalustian said, he became stricken with fear that some day his real identity might be learned and went to a friend, Attorney Edward Petrillo and made a full confession.

term on a breaking and entering and theft conviction, disappeared yesterday from the prison yard where he had been working with a number of other young men.

He surrendered to guards at the gate of the prison late today and told Warden Owen he had heard that his girl friend was "in trouble" and went to Vancouver to see her.

WEALTH MOVES CLOSER TO SOME FAMILY AS WILL OF MILLAR VALID

Stork Derby Will Is Upheld by Supreme Court of Canada

WHO GETS THE $500,000 NOW?

OTTAWA, Dec. 22 (CP)—Wealth moved up a step closer to some large Toronto family today but the question of which one remained unsettled.

The supreme court of Canada declared clause nine of the famous baby-race will of Charles Vanoe Millar was valid and rejected an appeal by Millar relatives based on the ground of public policy.

Clause nine directed that the residue of Millar's estate, estimated at $500,000 or more, should be paid to the mother who gave birth in Toronto to the largest number of children in the 10 years following his death. In case of two or more mothers having an equal number of children, and a larger number than any others, the money was to be equally divided between them.

BACK TO THE ONTARIO COURT

Millar died October 21, 1926. The court's decision throws the question back to the Ontario court, probably to Mr. Justice Middleton, who will be called upon to decide which mother or mothers will get the money.

The only thing likely to delay matters is an appeal by Millar's next of kin to the privy council. Samuel Factor, solicitor for Arabella West and Alexander Butcher, who carried the appeal to the supreme court of Canada, was unable to say whether a further appeal would be launched.

An official of the National Trust company, one of the executors of the estate, said every effort would be made to expedite matters so that the woman entitled to the money would get it.

Five judges of the supreme court of Canada were unanimous in upholding decisions of the Ontario courts that clause nine of the will was not offensive to public policy and should not be disregarded. Mr. Justice Crockett disagreed with some of the reasons in the main judgment, written by Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff, but reached the same conclusion.

The litigation started with a reference by the executors to the Ontario courts to determine whether clause nine was valid and if so, who were entitled to benefit. At the same time action was started by the next of kin to set the clause aside.

DECIDED WILL WAS VALID

Mr. Justice Middleton decided the clause was valid but illegitimate children could not be counted in arriving at the ultimate beneficiary. The court of appeal for Ontario, first, and the supreme court of Canada today affirmed this decision.

A dozen or more women are ready to claim the bequest, among them Mrs. Martin Kenny, who says she has 12 children eligible for the count.

Seven mothers, Mrs. Grace Baginato, Mrs. Lucy Timleck, Mrs. Hilda Graziano, Mrs. Kathleen Nagle, Mrs. Annie Smith, Mrs. Vera Meldrum and Mrs. Pauline Clark have reported nine children. Mrs. Marg Feeagan and Mrs. A. Harrison have said they have eight. Mrs. Margaret Lescomb, seven, and Mrs. Manuela Darrigo, six.

PROBE HIGH RIVER'S DISPUTE ON RELIEF

CALGARY, Dec. 22 (CP)—Disputes between the High River municipal district authorities and the Alberta government relief department over payment of jobless aid in the town is being investigated by A. L. Smith, K. C., agent of the attorney-general in Calgary, it was learned today. Relief recipients in the town complained to the government agency they were receiving insufficient aid from the local authorities. High River officials blamed provincial rulings for reduction in relief grants.

BRITAIN AGAIN PROTESTS TO JAPAN AFTER BOAT TAKEN OFF HONG KONG

By MORRIS J. HARRIS Associated Press Foreign Staff

SHANGHAI, Dec. 23 (Thursday) (AP)—Japanese declared today the fall of Hangchow was imminent while thousands of foreign and Chinese refugees fled from Canton, Tsingtao, Hankow and other widely scattered cities where attacks were expected.

A Japanese spokesman said the invading troops were approaching Hangchow, seaport south of Shanghai, and were hopeful the Chinese would withdraw to prevent destruction of the famous beauty spot and Buddhist mecca.

Foreign sources reported the Hangchow defenders were offering stiff resistance in the vicinity of Wukang, but that Japanese armored trains had advanced to within 16 miles of the city along the Shanghai-Hangchow railway.

Japanese said approximately 10,000 Chinese troops were in Hangchow-Kanking area.

Reports the Japanese were massing troops for an attack on Canton, south China metropolis, increased the evacuation of natives to enormous proportions. Thousands fled westward into the interior and toward Hong Kong.

Unverified reports said Japanese attempted to land forces in Blas bay, northeast of Hong Kong, but were beaten off and now were planning a second attempt.

Gold weather brought a heavy increase in the death rate among Shanghai refugees. The daily average for the past two weeks was 443, of which 371 were children. More than 40,000 refugees were reported to have died here in the past three months.

Two new incidents involving disrespect by Japanese troops for the United States flag were reported from Wuhu, recently captured Yangtze river port. According to foreign dispatches, both flags over an American school and a boat belonging to the Wuhu hospital were torn from their staffs.

Alberta Varsity to Play Rossland University Team Due Tonight; Townsend on Defence

University of Alberta hockey team which played Wednesday in Spokane, will match shots with Rossland Miners at Rossland tonight, it was announced by Irving Trembleth, manager of the Miners.

Rossland's lineup will be: Williams, goal; Neil, Wynn and Wade, defence; Salmond, Hanson and Wansley, Forsey, LaCree and Cowland, and Petrosky, forwards.

Varsity will take the ice with Art Townsend, ex-pro manager, on defence in place of a regular who was injured in the Gonzaga game. Townsend is a hockey player of considerable ability.

JAPAN CLAIMS STRAY BULLETS MAY HAVE STRUCK THE PANAY

No Intentional Machine-Gunning of U. S. Gunboat, New Statement From Tokyo Declares

TOKYO, Dec. 22 (AP)—Japan admitted today "there might have been stray bullets" flying toward the United States gunboat Panay after she was bombed by Japanese aircraft, but said the vessel was not machine-gunned intentionally.

The new statement on the Panay incident was contained in "interim report" issued by the foreign office. Previously the Japanese had denied reports by American eye-witnesses that surface boats had fired on the Panay.

"The shooting was aimed at the Chinese vessel, the Linta," the foreign office said, "and the American ships were never objectives. It is supposed the allegation of the machine-gunning of the Panay was made on the part of those who mistook this and it is supposed there might have been stray bullets flying toward the Panay."

FRUIT, VEGETABLES, TOBACCO IN SPOTLIGHT, WHOLESALE ROW

Other Lines Quieter; Fancy Vegetables in Demand

TURKEY PRICES ARE UP SLIGHTLY

With the exception of fruit, vegetables and tobacco, wholesale row at Nelson was comparatively quiet during the past week. But Christmas business on the whole was fairly good.

Fancy lines of fruits and green vegetables have been in demand for the past two or three days, and dealers have been bringing supplies into the district in express and truck lots to keep pace with demand. Cauliflower, tomatoes, brussels sprouts, cranberries, sweet potatoes, celery, lettuce and so on are among the popular choices. Some fine field tomatoes are reported to be due for the Christmas trade. Christmas candy in the hands of wholesalers is about cleaned up. In fact, dealers expect but little carryover of most such lines.

JAPANESE ORANGES MOVING

Sales of Japanese oranges, comparatively slow on the Christmas market to date, have been moving faster this week and demand is expected to be much keener today and tomorrow. Bananas also are in demand.

Turkey prices have advanced slightly, as anticipated a week ago, due to shortage of supplies. Meat dealers point out that turkey prices are low compared with a few years ago, some of the recalling prices of 42 to 48 cents a pound. Since that time sales have become much more widespread, however, and with the volume up prices have come down.

MEATS, FLOUR STEADY
Meat prices otherwise are steady as are egg and butter prices. Flour, rolled oats and bran and shorts have not changed in some time.

Carlot arrivals were extremely light in the week, two cars of flour and feed and the regular meat arrivals being the only cars reported.

Trail Knox Church

Has Christmas Tree

TRAIL, B. C., Dec. 22 — Knox United Sunday school children enjoyed a Christmas treat in the church hall Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The beginners and primary classes were entertained at supper followed by games. Impromptu vocal solos, recitations and dances were given by Florence Bailey, Pearl Lee, Henry Lee, Jacqueline Jones, Harold Jordan, Roy Harrison, Louise Watts, Ruth Stiles and others.

SANTA ARRIVES

Santa arrived at 5:30 and amid much excitement distributed Christmas bags and books. Mrs. A. C. B. Cooper was in charge of the program.

East Trail Sunday school children under the direction of Mrs. A. K. Cairns, entertained the intermediate school with concert numbers in the evening. Carol singing and games followed after which Santa arrived and distributed treats to all.

R. E. Hawkes, superintendent of the Sunday school was in charge of both afternoon and evening affairs.

TRAIL SOCIAL

By MRS. H. S. ALLEN

Old St. Nicholas chose Tuesday afternoon to visit the pupils of the beginners and primary departments of First Presbyterian church. Games and a musical program was enjoyed by all after which each child was presented with a bag containing candy, nuts and fruit. The children of the Cradle Roll with their mothers were also entertained. During the afternoon tea was served. The members of the junior, intermediate and senior departments were treated with an early supper, after which a program was enjoyed. Mrs. D. J. Duffus convened the catering committee and J. M. Allison was in charge of the program and was assisted by Hugh McLaren, J. Alexander, J. S. W. Hardy, R. Livingstone and the teachers. Twenty-five pupils, Jackie Ferguson, Campbell Henderson, John McDonald, V. Macaulay, Josephine Hardy, Norman MacLukie, Madeline Lauener, Billy Milne, Campbell Aitken, Donald Murray, Ira Macaulay, Margaret Duffus, Elsie Hardy, Rita Melrose, Margaret Henderson, Joyce Crombie, Jean Pearson, Angus McLeod, Bert Milne, John Stjensen, Allister Macaulay, Frances McIntyre, Sandra Aitken, Ina Aitken, and Mary Melrose, were awarded prizes for attendance at Sunday School. Mary Melrose received the award for perfect church attendance, while Rita Melrose, Jean Pearson and Frances McIntyre received prizes for being absent only once during the term. An honor certificate was given to Ina Aitken, while John McDonald, Roland Lauener, Josephine Hardy, Barbara Milne, Kathleen Cook, Heather Forbes, Madeline Lauener, Norma Wilson, Catherine Morrison, Norma MacLukie, Jack Birch, Billy Ross, Donald Murray, Campbell Aitken, Douglas Melrose, Jean Pearson, Joyce Crombie, Nella Owen, Rita Melrose, Sheila Downie, John Stjensen, Mary Melrose, Violet Fletcher, Peggy MacLukie, Edith Crombie and Thomasina Carter all received honor rolls for proficiency in bible lessons.

When the ladies of the Royal Purple held their weekly whist drive in Elk's hall Tuesday evening, Mrs. H. Johnson and W. H. Russell held the high score, while Mrs. H. Cox and Mrs. E. L. Rhodes came second. Mrs. W. Langlands won a turkey draw. Nineteen tables were in play.

R. E. Hawkes, superintendent of Knox United church Sunday school, was in charge of arrangements when Santa Claus made his annual visit to the members Tuesday afternoon and evening. The beginners and primary classes enjoyed a delicious supper, which was followed by games and a short program. Mrs. A. C. B. Cooper was in charge of the program, which comprised recitations, dances and vocal solos, those taking part being Louise Watts, Ruth Stiles, Pearl Lee, Jacqueline Jones, Florence Bailey, Henry Lee, Harold Jordan, Roy Harrison and others. At 5:30, Santa arrived. Mrs. A. K. Cairns was in charge of the East Trail Sunday school which entertained the intermediate classes in the evening, when concert numbers were given, after which games and carol singing was enjoyed. At the close of the evening St. Nick arrived and treats for all were given.

A quiet wedding took place at Colville today when Verna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Wightman of Creston and Leonard, son of T. H. Negus, Trail, were principals. Miss Emma Sandow and William Fowler, both of Trail attended the happy couple. After a short honeymoon spent in Creston the guests of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Negus will return soon after Christmas and will reside in the Marlett block.

Harold Davies has left for New Westminster, called there through the illness of his father. He will return after Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Farrar, Dock-erill street, will have as their guest during the Yuletide holidays the latter's brother, Rupert Slater of Vancouver, who will arrive Tuesday.

Mrs. W. H. D. Campbell, who has spent the past few months at Vancouver has arrived here to spend Christmas and New Year with Chief Campbell.

Miss Mary Marshall, Douglas apartments, has as her guest her mother, Mrs. Marshall of Robson.

William Godber will spend the next five days at Penitence, where he will visit his parents.

ROYAL FAMILY LEAVE LONDON FOR THEIR NORFOLK HOME

Huge Christmas Tree in Westminster Abbey Has Gifts for Needy Children

By EDWIN JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, Dec. 22 (CP Cable)—Frisp blasts which brought the heaviest snowfall in years throughout the British Isles faded today before mild breezes and dashed the hopes of old and young in many sections for an old-time white Christmas.

Today the royal family moved to Sandringham in Norfolk where their Majesties will spend a quiet Christmas with their family. Queen Mary, the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester and the Duke and Duchess of Kent will join them.

The Princess Royal and her husband, the Earl of Harewood, are entertaining their own family party at Harewood house, near Leeds. It is expected, however, they will visit the King and Queen at Sandringham early in the new year.

Prior to their Majesties' departure, the King was presented with a huge Christmas tree, cut from the coppices of the Sandringham estate, which will be erected in Westminster Abbey to mark the end of the Coronation year. Lighted with colored candles and loaded with gifts for needy children, the tree will be placed near the tomb of the unknown warrior.

On their arrival at Sandringham the Queen will be busy supervising the distribution of presents to many villagers and tenants of the royal estate. On Christmas Eve the royal family and guests will attend a party at Sandringham house and receive gifts at the hands of the King and Queen from a giant Christmas tree. This will be followed by caroling and dancing.

On Christmas Day the royal family and their guests will gather around the luncheon table where a turkey from the King's own farm will be served with viands from scattered parts of the Empire. After luncheon the King will go to his study to broadcast his first Christmas message of his reign—a custom inaugurated by His Majesty's late father.

Daddy reminded Mummy that "the spirit" was what counted at Christmas as she hanged a wreath over the hole in the wall and never made no how!

Angina Pectoris Heart Malady Is Easily Diagnosed With New Methods

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
The form of heart disease which kills suddenly due to affection of the small blood vessels of the heart muscle itself, variously called "angina pectoris" or "coronary thrombosis" is probably increasing more rapidly than any other form of heart disease.

People are easily frightened by pains in the heart, however. Of about sixty patients who complained of heart pain, over half of them were not found to have any real angina, and even with real angina, the psychological attitude has a great deal to do with the attack.

In the same series of cases 21 of the people were subject to mental attacks and disturbances and psychological upsets, such as anxiety states and anxiety hysteria. I have heard that angina pectoris is practically unknown among the Chinese, although they have every other form of heart pathology. Physicians who have practiced there state that they have never seen a case of angina in a Chinese person. This interesting observation shows that the Chinese mind probably keeps them from worrying about angina, if it occurs, and therefore they do not complain about it.

Our methods of diagnosing and treating angina are improving regularly. A patient may have very severe heart pains and yet have no change in the size of the heart or in the blood pressure or in the sounds of the heart as examined by the stethoscope, but of the disease is really present it will show up in a heart tracing—electrocardiogram.

Another method of diagnosis which has been developed is the observation of the reaction of the patient to exercise. True angina can usually be brought on by exercise. False angina, due to tobacco usually, on the contrary goes away with exercise.

ACTIVITIES SHOULD BE LIMITED
In treatment, the most important thing is the limitation of strenuous living. If the patient with angina will bank his fires and be content to reduce his activities, he may continue to live comfortably for many years. This specter of our national life (for contrary to the Chinese, angina is particularly common on American disease) will probably continue to be with us. It is a disease of middle life or late middle life, and the fact that it is increasing simply means that more people are living into middle life.

Marlene Dietrich and Studio Part

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 22 (AP)—Marlene Dietrich, 33-year-old German star, parted company today with the studio which paid her $150,000 a picture for her blond charm.

The rift between Miss Dietrich and her studio was disclosed in Paramount's announcement that it has "indefinitely postponed" filming of "French Without Tears."

Behind her formal separation from the studio, film industry observers cited the facts of million-dollar production costs and waning box office receipts of Dietrich pictures.

Half-Moons Daily Care of Cuticle Will Keep Finger Tips Attractive

By GLADYS GLAD

ALICE FAYE Gives her pretty hands excellent care.

Modern women's hands, on the whole are far more presentable than they've been in any other era. However, there is one step in nail care that a great many women neglect nowadays, and that is the half-moon on each nail. The cuticle, if neglected, tends to quickly adhere to the nails and to cover the half-moons partly or entirely, but it really is possible to develop perfect half-moons and to retain them if they are given proper care.

The basic factors in preserving attractive half-moons on the nails is that the cuticle must not be given an opportunity to adhere to the nails. Any girl who really wishes attractive fingertips should not be content merely with a weekly manicure.

If you haven't time for this daily procedure, you can benefit your fingertips somewhat merely by the manner in which you wash your hands and the way in which you use your hand lotion or cream before retiring each night. When you lather your hands, give them a bit of a massage, rubbing the lather around the cuticles on each nail and gently pushing back the cuticle with your fingertips. After rinsing your hands well, take your towel and go over the cuticle again while drying.

First dry your hands, then rub the towel from the tip of each nail up to its cuticle, and finally follow the line of the cuticle with a firm massage movement. After cleansing the hands in this manner, a good hand lotion or cream should always be used. And when massaging such a lotion in, give your cuticle a final massaging.

Serial Story Peacock Feathers

By TEMPLE BAILEY

CHAPTER 18
It was on the day before my mother died that I told my father about Mimi. Confession was easy. I was consumed with a desire to speak her name to someone. I wanted to dwell on her beauty, her remoteness from the rest of the world, her graciousness to me. I was bursting with big thoughts—dreams—hopes—and these things cried for utterance.

We were in the church when I talked to him. It was Saturday night, and we had brought flowers from our garden for the vase by the pulpit. This had always been my mother's office, and she had worried lest it should not be done. My father had not let her illness interfere with his preaching. Heavy-hearted though he was, he still spoke to his people and found refreshment, I think, in doing it.

When the flowers were arranged finally in the big vase, I came down to where he stood waiting for me in the dim aisle.

"I want to tell you something," I said. "Do you remember, years ago, you said that some day I should find the woman who would hold my soul in her hand? Well, I've found her!"

He did not seem surprised. He stood there beside me, tall and stiff in his black coat. "I thought it might be so, Jerry. You are much changed."

"How am I changed?"
"You are! Your world of your own. Your body is here, but your thoughts are far away!"

He was smiling at me, and I knew him for the same man to whom I had poured out my soul as a boy—that whatever might be stiff and formal in his outer aspect, there was softness within and sympathy.

I described Mimi, sitting down in one of the new fashions, and he sat beside me and listened. When I was through, he said:
"She doesn't love you?"
"She says she doesn't know. She's very proud. And they're always had money. And her family is very distinguished."

"And she wants these things in you?"
"Yes. But—I tell her that some day I'll make a name for myself and that she won't be ashamed of me."

"Love is never ashamed, Jerry." But she has a right to expect that I shall give her something in exchange for all she would give me.

"If you give her youth, hope, aspirations, she can give you no more than that."

"I know. I was eager, assured and some day she is going to give it."

"How can you know that?"
"Life couldn't be so cruel as to take her away from me!"

"Life is often what we call—cruel—I saw him clench his hand as it lay on the back of the pew. But we have to bear it, and find the good in it."

"I couldn't bear it if I lost Mimi." "You would have to bear it, as I have to bear—losing your mother." It was the first time he had spoken of it. There was a break in his voice—an agony—

I laid my hand on his. Yet even in the face of what he was feeling, I would not admit that losing my mother could mean to him what it would mean to me to lose Mimi.

"Mother loves you—do you know she is yours throughout eternity—but if I lost Mimi, I should go alone through all the ages."

"Oh, it was utterly high-flown, but I was much in earnest. And he knew it and put aside his own sorrow to help me.

"Perhaps it would be best for you to meet the situation strongly and put her out of your life now."

"Oh, no," my voice was sharp with the fear of it. "Why should you say that?"

"Because you have nothing to offer her, and she wants things offered."

"I—I have my ambitions, Father—and some day I shall have Uncle Jerry's ranch."

His sad, steady eyes met mine. "You are standing on that?"

"Why not?"

"You won't have it until he dies, Jerry. And there is nothing more stultifying than waiting for a dead man's shoes."

"But I am not waiting. I—I am going to work and achieve—and make her love me—and nothing else will matter."

He stood up and laid his hand

Crowds Home Thoughtless Youth Makes Extra Work; Won't Aid in Home

By VIRGINIA LEE
My friend, the child psychologist, states that a properly brought up child will respect others' rights and show consideration for them.

That is, he says that if a youngster is trained from his earliest years to wait upon himself when he is able, to respect the possessions of the rest of the family, and to do his share of the household chores, he will be a popular member of any circle, and a good citizen.

Maybe I exaggerate a little, but that is the gist of his theory.

Now when a young man, fully grown, goes to live with a relative in a very small apartment, where his mere presence is an inconvenience; when he expects said relatives to pick up after him all the time, to cook his meals, whether they are preparing for the other members of the family or not; when he refuses to lift his hand to help in any way, or to show any appreciation for things that are done for him, I am sure the good psychologist would say he had been very badly spoiled when he was young.

That is what I am sure you have been thinking, my dear Mrs. L. A. I can see no reason why this young relative should clutter up your small place and make such a bore of himself. If he were a little child that you could hope to correct or show the error of his ways, with some hope that he would reform, it would not be so bad. He is, however, of age, capable of taking care of himself, and I feel sure he needs the training he would get in finding for himself and taking his chances at a regular boarding house.

I think your husband shows very little affection or consideration for you in his attitude. Couldn't you leave the two alone for a few weeks

Veal Birds Baked Sweet Potatoes
Frozen Cheese Salad
Steamed Ginger Bread Coffee

This frozen cream salad may strike you as too elaborate to bother with, but is very delicious and can be made early in the day if you are planning this as a guest menu, and it does dress a meal up.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Veal Birds—Take veal steak that is cut fairly thin. A small bit of dry bread dressing is placed in the center of each serving piece, and the veal rolled around it. The steak is then held in place by skewers or toothpicks. To prepare the best veal birds you ever tasted, saute them first in fat until they are evenly browned, and then add sour cream and simmer until the veal is tender. The sauce that remains makes a delicious gravy without adding anything to it or further cooking. For each pound of veal used, allow one cup of dairy-made sour cream. This will make ample sauce. If you care to omit the bird style of serving the veal steak, prepare it by searing first, then adding the cream and simmering as directed for the veal birds.

Frozen Cheese Salad—Use three tablespoons of thin cream or of French dressing to one package—three ounces—of cream cheese. Vary the usual half cup of mayonnaise used when thin cream is used to dilute it, by adding instead a similar scant measure of fruit juice of the fruit used to give accent to the salad. Canned pineapple cubes, sliced peaches or pears allow variety of flavor. Add to either fruit, one-half cup of finely sliced or chopped ripe olives, and two teaspoons of lemon juice, if French dressing is not included in the making. Fold in one-half cup of whipped cream for bulk and lightness of texture if desired. The addition of whipping cream is optional. Pour into refrigerator trays and freeze until firm enough to cut into slices for service on lettuce, shredded cabbage, or watercress. A tart cream mayonnaise accompanies this salad. Garnish with olives.

Steamed Gingerbread—One and one-half cups flour, one cup chopped suet, one-half tablespoon ground ginger, one-half teaspoon baking powder, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one-half cup molasses, one-fourth cup milk. Sift together the flour, ginger, baking powder and salt. Stir chopped suet and molasses mixed with milk. Steam two hours. Serve as a dessert with a thin custard sauce.

MANY MEN CATER TO THE VANITY OF THEIR LADIES IN CHRISTMAS GIFTS; PERFUMES IN SPOTLIGHT

Ladies Reciprocate
With Fine Shaving
Accessories

HUSKY TOYS,
FINE DOLLS

Madame's private beautifying and m'sieur's facial attentions are coming in for a great deal of attention this Christmas, for hundreds of toilet and shaving sets are being purchased as gifts. The choice of the buying public runs heavily to the finer classes of these goods.

Perfumes and toilet waters, particularly the more expensive lines, are attracting many shoppers. New perfumes designed to make madame more entrancing, and beautifully packed toilet waters and bath salts are also in demand.

High quality men's shaving accessories are high in the favor of women shoppers, possibly a matter of reciprocity for the perfumes and toilet waters destined for them.

Novelty packs of dusting powder—musical boxes, mirror boxes, cubes and spheres and so on—make extremely attractive gifts. So do the new manicure sets, which this year are presented in especially fine materials and designs and in highly attractive cases. Many-styled compacts are being sold to numerous shoppers.

Billfolds and key cases for men, featuring zipper fasteners, and men's fitted cases of brushes and so on are moving out fast in response to popular demand. Fountain pen sales, dealers state, have been remarkable, and the supply is by no means limited. Boxed stationery is another popular line.

Chromium trim is strikingly to the fore in many of the foregoing, particularly the toilet sets. Leather is emphasized. A distinctly modern note is struck in many designs. Trays using chromium trim and modernistic designs also are receiving attention.

TRAVELLING CASES ATTRACT
Overnight bags and travelling cases in new shapes and styles, in many instances filled with the esentials for mademoiselle's dressing table, will be the spotlight this Christmas for a good many ladies. Novel clocks emphasizing the modernistic in color and shape are eye-catching.

It will be a sturdy Christmas for a great many Nelson youngsters, for sturdy toys have the preference in gift buying. Trucks and cars, particularly those with electric lights, continue to be the leading choice for husky youngsters. Their chief competitors are the many types of dolls offered especially for Little Sister. Her favorite book or film character, or her favorite doll type, are among the large family.

There has been a tremendous swing back to books this year. The animal stories beloved by children, and familiar volumes of years past are in favor again. There is a heavy demand also for new fiction for adults.

Small dish sets of china, glass and aluminum, will gladden the heart of many a tiny miss, and the new scooter skates will provide action for the boys.

Airplanes with wheels attached that Sonny can ride, streamlined wagons that will make him the envy of every kid in the neighborhood, small blackboards, tiny furniture and games the whole family will enjoy are rapidly disappearing from store shelves. Mechanical toys are among the most popular, and there has been a great sale of animated "Popeye," "Mickey Mouse" and other favorites of the movie cartoons. Even in painting books, it is the ones featuring these favorites which are most in demand.

Failure to Take Out Decrees After Divorces Granted in B.C. Cause of Warning by Mr. Justice D. Murphy

VANCOUVER, Dec. 22 (CP)—Mr. Justice Denis Murphy in supreme court today warned Vancouver lawyers he would grant no more divorces unless they gave their undertaking to take out the decrees within a week.

"I regret to have to do this, but it has come to my knowledge that a great number of these decrees are never entered," his lordship said. "It may be that people are going and getting married and it won't be a legal marriage. If there is issue, these children are illegitimate. That such a thing should happen in Vancouver is almost inconceivable but it has happened" Mr. Justice Murphy said.

LONE FAMILY IN ONTARIO GHOST TOWN

NORTH PINES, Ont., Dec. 22 (CP)—When Bert Botham and his family sit down to enjoy their Christmas turkey and plum pudding Saturday it will mark the 16th year they have celebrated the Yuletide season as the only residents of this deserted mining town 270 miles east of Winnipeg.

The North Pines mine, where Mr. Botham is caretaker, was operated successfully from 1909 to 1921, producing large quantities of sulphur, but reduction in the price of this valuable wartime material following the great war, forced the company to abandon production.

Veneer Factory Has Long Season

With its longest run on record featuring the year's operations, B.C. Veneer Works will continue to operate as long as the weather will permit, it was announced Wednesday by George Dvorjcz, manager. Open weather and maintained demand for veneer is responsible.

Cottonwood logs are being obtained for the present from Grand Forks, Canadian orders comprise the bulk of shipments, but the factory is also shipping to the United States and New Zealand.

In celebration of its long season, the Veneer Works is distributing turkeys to employees for Christmas.

UPHOLDS LIBERTY OF SUBJECT

It will come as a surprise to most people to learn that the admittance to bail of a man charged with murder is a rare thing in Canada.

A dispatch in Regina states that Mr. Justice Embury allowed Jacob Daum out on bail of $16,000. It was the first time in the history of Canada that a man charged with murder had been given this privilege.

Veteran officials of the justice department at Ottawa did not confirm the statement that this was the first time in the history of Canada that a person charged with murder had been let out on bail, but they said that they were unable to recall any precedent. If there was danger that it would become established as a definite inviolable practice in our Canadian courts to refuse, no matter what the circumstances might be, to grant bail to a man charged with murder, it is a very good thing that Mr. Justice Embury has preferred to base his action on fundamental principles of British justice rather than upon the habit of the courts.

If a man or woman is charged with murder its does not follow that the accused is guilty. In fact in a very large proportion of murder cases, the jury decides otherwise. Guilt or innocence has very little to do with the decision of a court in the matter of bail. The circumstances surrounding the alleged offense; the character of the accused and the real and personal property held by himself and his friends, are factors which are taken seriously into account by the court. The court does not care to risk turning loose a person who may be a danger to society. No court, no matter how much bail may be available, will knowingly allow temporary freedom to a homicidal maniac. Neither will a court allow freedom to a man of great wealth if the court has reason to believe that such a person intends to jump his bail.

On the other hand a court will quite often allow bail for a relatively small amount, to a person of generally good character, who the court feels, will honor his pledged word to appear for trial when called upon.

This consideration applies in murder cases. There are cases of murder in which the court may have good reason for believing that the man it is asked to release on bail is not a danger to public safety, that he has no intention of

Terror in the Old Mill

By W. BOYCE MORGAN

Whoops! Buzz exclaimed. "That almost scares me, and I know what it is!"

INSTALLMENT 6

Vi's important doings made it easy for Buzz to get away early, and he met Jimmy behind his house at a little before seven. It was a clear, cold night, and they had both bundled up well. They examined the lights on their bicycles to be sure that they were working, and started out the Frankville road.

A pale moon made the concrete road a white ribbon stretching before them. There was little traffic, and their lights and the moonlight made them easily visible to the few cars which passed them. It did not take them very long to reach the dirt road which led to the old mill, and as they pedaled along it, they saw the tumble-down building, squatting on the bank of a stream a short distance ahead.

"We can't leave our bikes here," Buzz pointed out as they reached the mill. "The girls would see them."

They pushed the wheels back around the mill and hid them behind a large tree. Then Jimmy uttered an exclamation of annoyance.

"Damn!" he said. "We both forgot flashlights. We'll have a fine time tying the dummy up, because it will be as dark as your hat in there."

"Push your bike up to the door," Buzz suggested, "and shine your headlight in. Then I can see to tie the rope to the neck of the dummy."

Jimmy ran to get his bike. Buzz found the dummy and dragged it into the mill. In a moment he had fastened the rope, and the grotesque figure swung above the floor. Buzz retreated to Jimmy's side, and they surveyed the dangling dummy in the beams from the bicycle headlight.

"Whoopsie!" Buzz exclaimed in awe. "That almost scares me, and I know what it is! Imagine how the girls will feel. We'd better find a place to hide now, for they ought to be here in a few minutes."

Jimmy wheeled his bicycle back to the big tree, and they settled down there to wait, talking eagerly and snickering now and then as they anticipated the laugh they were going to get when the sisters of Pi Pi saw the "hanged man."

But it was cold waiting behind the tree, and soon they began to jump up and down and swing their arms to keep warm.

"I wish they'd hurry up and get here," Jimmy complained. "You don't think there's any chance of their leaving their cars on the highway and walking up, do you? We might have missed them."

"We haven't missed anybody," said Buzz confidently. "We see the road from here, and nobody could come up to the mill without us seeing them."

But Buzz was wrong about that. For at that very moment, a roughly dressed figure was inside the mill, standing beside the hanging dummy, running his hand over it in the darkness.

Clever Christmas Tree Ornaments Are Easily Made

By RAY J. MARRAN

Very few Christmas trees have too many ornaments on them, for it seems that the more bright and sparkling ornaments there are, the more appealing the tree is to young children.

Last-minute Christmas tree ornaments are quickly made at home. Use colored cellophane to wrap stick candy, gumdrops, lemon balls,

Cellophane covered candy

Cardboard and soda straws

Cellophane covered spool

Short lengths of soda straws and oblongs of cardboard may be strung on a thread to form a gayly colored festoon. Popcorn and cranberries also make splendid tree trimming chains.

Tin foil may be used for coverings instead of cellophane.

By making a number of foil-covered ornaments and a number covered with cellophane, you should be able to fill out any vacant looking spot on your tree.

Mother's Christmas

If yours is one of those families that have a big Christmas celebration in their own home, with a tree and a big dinner, it means an awful lot of work for some member of the family, usually Mother. She has been working hard for several days before making preparations. She probably stays up late on Christmas Eve, trimming the tree. And then all Christmas morning, she labors in the kitchen, getting that huge and wonderful Christmas dinner.

As a result of all this, when Christmas night comes she is often pretty tired. Christmas hasn't meant much for her but work.

Of course, she loves to do it for you and the rest of the family, but she deserves some appreciation, and some help.

You can give her both. You can let her know how much you like the turkey. You can find time to help her with the dinner, or the dishes. In other words, you can do a lot of things that will make her Christmas a lot "merrier."

And it will make your Christmas just that much happier, too. And that's what we wish you—a really Happy Christmas.

—The Editor.

and other hard candies in small squares of this shiny material. Then attach these bright-colored "drops" to the tree branches with wire or string hangers. Old thread spools, painted with bright-colored watercolor paints, may be used in the same way. Also, small toy blocks make excellent tree ornaments when covered with colored cellophane.

Just an exhibit

"Congratulations, Mr. Jones," said a friend. "I understand your oldest son is a model boy."

Mr. Jones looked a bit sour. "Yes," he acknowledged, "but he's not a working model."

AERIAL SCENERY

"I've been cheated!" stormed an irate guest at a resort hotel. "You said there was a beautiful view for miles and miles from my room."

"So there is, mister, so there is," soothed the hotel owner. "Just stick your head out the window and look up."

COOL

He—"I dreamt of you last night."

She (coldly)—"Really?"

"Yes, then I woke up, shut the window, and put an extra blanket on the bed."

KAY'S CORNER

By KATHERINE HOUSON

CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS
Christmas is the time to decorate and here are ways and means to make the job interesting and unusual!

If you're near the woods, get a small birch log to fit your table for the centerpiece. Bore holes in it here and there and fill them with pine branches, holly, mountain ash berry clusters, etc. Use birch bark place cards with this table decoration.

When you use a Christmas tree on your table, "plant" small pine branches full of cones in tiny flower pots and set one at each place with the guest's name lettered on it. If you're using snow and can't get the artificial kind, melt some sugar in water and spread it on the branches—its just as effective.

And if you're tired of evergreens, try making your Christmas tree of boxes this year! With a family group this is a fine idea. Get a number of various sized boxes, plenty of metallic wrapping paper and cellophane. Put the gifts in the boxes, wrap them artistically and colorfully, then pile them roughly in the shape of a tree with a small one on top to which is fastened a glistening star. You can twine your Christmas tree lights among the boxes for added effect.

And don't forget strings of white popcorn with fat red cranberries between, when you're decorating the tree. Pine cones dipped in gold and silver bronze liquid are very effective too, while cornucopias of candies and nuts add just the right finishing touch.

A FUTURE PRESIDENT

LETHBRIDGE SAVES TWO POINTS ON WESTERN TOUR WITH FINAL PERIOD 2-1 WIN OVER NELSON

Ding-Dong Affair Up to End Marked by Lack Penalties

GOOD ONE WIN, TOUGH TO LOSE

Lethbridge won the game, but Nelson Maple Leafs gave them an almighty jolt in the first meeting of these two teams in the new Kootenay Hockey league setup. The score was 2-1. It was the first win in three West Kootenay starts for the leaders of the eastern division.

It was a ding-dong affair, full of action all the way through and packed with thrills. The boys didn't hesitate to hand out tough body checks, and there was an occasional high stick, but despite that and the high tension there wasn't a penalty throughout 60 minutes of fast hockey.

Nelson's 1-0 lead on a Johnny Smith-Jim McPhee goal in the second period looked good until a quarter of the way through the third, when Lethbridge began to break through more effectively. A disallowed goal broke the ice for the visitors, and goals by Stewart and Christensen tucked it away.

It was a good game to win, and a tough one to lose.

Waiman started Onyfrechuk and Cormier, with Kirkpatrick, McIndoe and Ursaki on the forward line. Opposing them were Johnny Smith, Euerby and McPhee, and Bicknell and Atwell on defence.

It was up and down for the first five minutes, with play mostly between the blue lines, until with the change of lines Nick Smith got in a hot shot on Young and the Nelson forward line piled in to give the Leaf goalie a really hot time. Anderson of Leafs' second string battled through for the first test of McKay. Stewart repeated on the next rush on Anderson's pass. McKay stopped Stewart again and then a third time. Young had another taste of action under a Kirkpatrick-Smith-Carr drive to the net.

Four Lethbridge men moved in to retaliate, losing the puck in the scramble. Young came out with McPhee and J. Smith in behind his defence, but Smith's snap shot was wide.

Young came clear out to upset Carr as the Nelson wing got in behind with only the goalie to beat, and Leafs piled thrills on thrills with Anderson going in to test McKay similarly. Both teams were playing much tighter defence. Lethbridge cleared up the ice to break up the pressure.

Young again came through when Carr twice got in through the Lethbridge defence, once bodying the Nelson wing.

Opening of the second stanza was slower, with Lethbridge penetrating to better effect. Kaleta's shot from Stewart's pass was close, McKay kicking it across the goal mouth behind him after taking the puck on the pads. Kirkpatrick made a save for Young as Nick Smith's shot hit his stick.

The game began to hit its pace when McPhee broke away and passed through the Lethbridge defence for Johnny Smith to go in, draw Young, and backhand the biscuit into the centre of the net. The visitors' first string started to put on the heat then and McKay made a brace of saves. The boys also began to hand out the body checks a little heavier.

Fighting to break through, Lethbridge sent four men up to the Nelson zone to make it tough for the home defence, with occasional breaks living it up for the local fans.

Kirkpatrick got through to give McKay the opportunity for a fine save. When four men failed to break it up five moved in. Nelson shot up the ice to clear.

Kilpatrick, Carr and Nick Smith had Young in trouble until his defence covered him near the end. Nelson kept on the heat at the start of the third, taking a lot in the way of bodying and high sticks, and Young was on the spot on two rushes before his team mates had settled down. Stewart led another attack on which Christensen tested McKay, then Carr gave Young a chance to do the split. Lethbridge came right back and found the net in a scramble that gave rise to a great game of "arguing." The goal was disallowed, Lethbridge having a man in the creche when it was scored.

Stewart worked in to test McKay, and then drove down on another similar rush to catch the light. This one was argued too, but it was a goal. Onyfrechuk's rush and a scramble in the goal mouth gave Christensen his goal and Lethbridge the lead. And the prairie boys, with 10 minutes to go, settled down to hold it Nelson attacks met five men at the blue line almost every time.

Breaks by Stewart and McIndoe were dangerous. Nelson started four and five man rushes in a fight to make up the deficit, but that five-man defence was too tight. When the visitors began to shoot up the ice under the pressure the refs called them back. A rolling puck beat Carr in front of the Lethbridge goal. Two Lethbridge breaks failed by inches in the last driving minutes for the finals thrills.

Teams: Lethbridge—Young; Cormier, Onyfrechuk and Stewart; Kirkpatrick, McIndoe and Ursaki; Hayes, Anderson and Christensen, Kaleta. Nelson—McKay; Atwell, Bicknell, Sutherland and Duckworth; J. Smith, Euerby and McPhee; Kilpatrick, N. Smith and Carr. Officials—Leo Desjardis, referee; Henry Viney, judge of play; T. R. Wilson and Alex Tickle, timekeepers; Bill Freno, penalty timekeeper.

SUMMARY
First period—No score.
Penalties—None.
Second period — 1, Nelson, J. Smith (McPhee), 6:14.
Penalties—None.
Third period — 2, Lethbridge, Stewart, 6:42; 3, Lethbridge, Christensen, 7:40.
Penalties—None.

Rossland Sport Spot

By M. W.

GOOD FELLOWS AT HEART

Wonder how Trail will make out with Rossland on Christmas Day? It should be a great tussle, though the Rossland miners will be handicapped without the services of Stan Smith, who is going home to Fernie for Christmas, but though Stan is undoubtedly one of the most valuable players the Miners have, still you may rest assured that Coach Morin will have a strong line-up out there.

The intermediate playoffs will be staged at Vernon this year, in their new $50,000 arena. Although there are all kinds of players in both Trail and Rossland who are anxious to play hockey, and from whom a strong intermediate team could be built, little hope is entertained of an entry from this district unless Mr. Albo of Rossland, who has other years sponsored a team, breaks out of his seclusion, or some other enterprising group or individual steps forward. I am sure that those who are anxious to play and not quite good enough to catch on with the Miners or Smoke Eaters would pay part of their expenses or find other ways of financing the team.

The 6-4 defeat of the Lethbridge Maple Leafs at the hands of the Trail Smoke Eaters substantiates my belief that the Rossland victory was won on fair grounds, and not on the "sardines in a can" excuse that Duke Waiman, the Lethbridge coach, would have the fans believe. Only four of the Rossland Miners had previous game experience on Rossland ice. Lethbridge might have had what the critics would call bigger names, but Rossland had a better defence than Duke Waiman's outfit, and the forwards were four goals to one better. Considering the number of exhibition games and the experience of playing together that the Lethbridge club had before meeting Rossland, I believe credit is due, rather than an excuse for the defeat. No, Hockey Fans, that win and the previous one were not accomplished by mere chance.

As this column will not appear again until after the Christmas holiday, I wish you a Merry Christmas.

High School Drops Stiff Hoop Battle to Old Crocks 23-19

Nelson High school basketballers, although turning in their best performance of the season, were unable to hold down the league-leading Old Crocks in a senior battle Monday night. The final count was 23-19.

Pacing the victors Jim Cherrington rang the bell for an even dozen points. George Russell and Jim Allan led the school boys with six points apiece.

Teams and scorers were:
Old Crocks — Jim Cherrington, 12; George Wallace, 5; Jack Clements, 4; Alex Joannin, 2; Bob Patterson.
High school — George Russell, 6; Jim Allan, 6; Duffy Stewart, 3; Ken McBride, 4; Bob Crerar, Howard Campbell, Nick Apostoliuk, Bob Morris and Frank Raukuc.

Concentrates From Kimberley

By W. E. L.

Picking up only one point out of a possible six in three league games has by no means made the Dynamiters camp downhearted. The boys realize that it's quite a handicap to overcome this lead they have spotted Lethbridge and Trail, but they figure to make it up. They realize that competition is going to be tough all the way, but the old spirit is good, and we all know the ability is there, so don't think the Champs are down and out. Monday night Achtzener had the boys out and put them through their paces in a most uncertain manner. A month late start on teams such as the Leafs and Smoke Eaters is no joke and the club is working hard to make up for that period of time. Their condition is improving all the time and their timing is the main fault at this moment, but that will soon adjust itself. We have never seen so many chances missed by split seconds as we did in the game with Lethbridge on Saturday night—all a matter of timing.

POST MORTEM

Just a short resume of Saturday's game. This bunch of boys representing Lethbridge are one sweet outfit. They back check from the drop of the hat, and break very fast. This Kirkpatrick-McIndoe-Ursaki line is one of the nicest combinations we have ever seen in action on Kimberley ice since the arena was built. If they click as well in the West Kootenay as they did over here Saturday night, fans in that district are in for fine entertainment. The defence is also very good, and the three boys who took care of that position on Saturday were just as good in their defensive work as in their offensive duties. Young, the goalie, is also high class.

The Kimberley team, for more than half the game looked far from the Dynamiters of old. The other half of the game they were ace-high Swede Hornquist was beaten seven times, but could hardly be blamed for any of them. Johnny Pratt on defence played a bang-up game and was most valuable. Burnett and Brown rounded out the defence, and worked hard, but are not as yet right up to form. Tom Almack was not used, but in practice is going great guns.

The famous "kid" line of the Dynamiters finds Red Goble on the wing that used to belong to Ken Moore. Most of the topic of conversation in the gloomy aftermath centred around this line. We refuse to be drawn into any argument. You folks can judge for yourselves when you see the team. On the second line Achtzener used Cris Sorensen flanked by Wilson and Kemp. Ness and Baribeau were not in uniforms.

We believe this season's team will, in time, come up to standards set by Dynamiters of the past few seasons. Don't take them too lightly, because they have been licked twice by the boys from the prairie.

CALLED THEM CLOSE

And now a few compliments to the referees, a feature not often heard of. Kimberley Dynamiters took eight penalties to their opponents' three. The officials in charge were Reddick of Kimberley and Viney of Lethbridge, and they did a swell job. They called them very close, but very impartially, and kept the game in check all the way. When the old thumb went up to signal one of the boys to the cooler, it was a deserved rest.

The Kimberley Arena was jammed to the rafters for this first senior game in two winters, and the customers sure got their money's worth.

The rule calling for a face-off in

Dynamiters Take Measure of the Coleman Canadians by 7-3 Score

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Dec. 22—Hitting a high scoring pace for the first time this season, Kimberley Dynamiters smashed out a 7-3 win over the Coleman Canadians in a clean hockey game here tonight. Dynamiters scored two goals in the first period, added another pair in the second, and rounded out the night's performance with three more in the third.

Canadians fought back hard but were unable to keep pace with the Dynamiters team, which looked like the club of two seasons ago. Goble and Pratt scored Kimberley's two goals in the first period, which was marked by the only penalty of the game. This went to Bill Burnett for cross-checking Ainsworth.

KID LINE CLICK
The Kimberley kid line clicked for the third goal for the locals, Reddick getting the marker. Wilson banged in No. 4, taking a perfect pass from Pratt. Ainsworth of Coleman scored the Pass team's only goal of the period on a long shot from the blue line. The Dynamiters disputed the point hotly.

Landiak caught the Dynamiters napping in the first minute of the third period to score Coleman's second goal of the game. Reddick, Goble and Wilson then added three goals to the Kimberley count to make it 6-3. A Coleman ganging attack in the last three minutes of play brought results in the form of one more goal scored by Schnepf.

Lineups follow:
Dynamiters — Campbell; Brown,

the defence area of a team that clears the puck the length of the ice to relieve pressure when they are not short-handed came into play several times Saturday in the second period, with the Leafs responsible. Viney and Reddick both called the play a couple of times. It looks like a good rule all the way. Kimberley fans saw the red penalty line for the first time, but it was not used.

Kimberley fans will witness Coleman and then Nelson in action next, and following on that will be the Trail Smoke Eaters. Rossland will be the last of the clubs to put in an appearance.

We were warned that personal opinions were not to enter too freely into this column, so to conform with these instructions we will bring this first offering to a close, with the opinion that West Kootenay fans will still find the Dynamiters putting up an entertaining brand of hockey and that they will, if they lose, go down fighting. Kootenay fans pulled hard for the club when they were fighting for the Allen cup, and the boys will try and show them they appreciate it.

Aorangi Sails With Canada's Hopes to Games 78 Leave Vancouver for Long Jaunt to Australia

VANCOUVER, Dec. 22 (CP)—The trans-Pacific liner Aorangi bearing Canada's powerful team of 78 to the British Empire games at Sydney, Australia, steamed out of port here at 4:30 p.m. today, 6½ hours behind schedule.

The crack amateur contingent lined the deck rails as the big green and white vessel backed into the harbor, then headed about for the six-hour run to Victoria, last stop before starting the Pacific crossing. Pat and Joe Haley of Trail, track and field entries, were among those on board.

Friends, relatives and other well-wishers waved good luck to the departing athletes, selected after recent trials from the cream of Canada's amateur talent—boxing, wrestling, swimming, track and field and lawn bowling.

To the final list was added a pair of cyclists, I. Lampard of Toronto and G. Graves of Montreal. Morris Robinson of Vancouver was the third wheelman making the trip.

Track and field representatives numbered 37, with 18 swimmers, six boxers and four wrestlers.

Pat and Joe Haley of Trail Out on Ocean Heading for Australia to Seek Sport Laurels for Canada

VANCOUVER, Dec. 22 (CP)—A pair of towering young athletes left today on the trans-Pacific liner Aorangi with the Canadian team to the British Empire Games in Australia, one of the two brother combinations making the trip.

Joe Haley, who tops the six foot mark by two inches, and his younger brother, Pat, who has two inches on Joe, left with hopes of adding Empire laurels to the Canadian high jump championships they already hold. Their home is at Trail, B. C.

The other brother combination is of H. Brown and W. Brown, Meaford, Ont., twins, both on the track and field squad.

Joe Haley holds the Canadian senior high jump championship. His official mark was six feet 3 3/4 inches, made at the last Canadian Olympic trials in Montreal.

He will enter only in his specialty at Sydney.

JUNIOR CHAMPION

Pat, who plans to compete in the 100-yard dash and the relay in addition to jumping, is Canada's junior champion high jumper. It will be his first trip for competition outside Canada, but Joe has two previous jaunts to his credit.

The elder brother tied with Thacker of South Africa and Mitchell of Scotland in the 1934 Games at London. Each cleared the bar at six feet three inches. In the jumpoff Thacker was placed first and Joe second.

Joe also travelled to the Berlin Olympics in 1936.

The boys were born in Pictou, N. S. and came to British Columbia 12 years ago, when their parents moved to Trail. They lay out their own training routine and act as coach to each other. Joe is 23 and Pat 19.

Out of the PRESS BOX By Eric Ramsden

CAUGHT ON THE REBOUND

Noticed a Vancouver reporter reported Bruins were "badly handicapped by the loss of Munro Tully and Stu Paterson" when they lost 3-2 to Canadians "tother night." Tribute is paid in the same story to "Shrimp" Milne, Canadians' goalie.

"Remember his whiskers? "Hockey greetings to hand from "Gus" McDonald and Johnny Wadsworth of Trail, president and secretary of the B.C.A.H.A. . . they're reciprocated, fellows, and more power to you. . . ."

You may have missed it, but this is worth a whole page in the record book. . . . When Lethbridge made its final drive against Trail the boys scored three goals in two and a half minutes. . . . eight points in that time. . . . of which Kirkpatrick collected three points and McIndoe two. . . . that's scoring.

Three members of the Lethbridge Leafs, Jim McIndoe, Bob Kirkpatrick and Johnny Ursaki, bet two of their home town medics that the Lethbridge first string, themselves, would score three goals against Kimberley Dynamiters. . . . the amount was nine simoleons. . . . they scored four, to win the bet. . . . but their winnings and their own bets go to the Lethbridge Herald Christmas cheer fund. . . . which was to get the winnings in any case. . . . but it was a sporting bet. . . .

Down Fort William way a referee knotted his brows as to whether a goalie was committing a breach of the rule that calls for a faceoff after clearing the puck down the ice. . . . In one game a goalie made several such clearances. . . . F. W. Edwards, sports commentator, could find nothing in the rule book, nor any official opinion, to prohibit him doing it. . . . But a goalie may not throw the puck forwards. . . .

Dick Matthews of the Lethbridge Herald is quite gleeful over the suggestion of Jack Kelly, sports ed of the Edmonton Bulletin, that the new year might bring a shakeup in Alberta hockey, with Lethbridge and Coleman being invited to play in their own back yards by re-alignment of the Alberta Senior Six to form northern and southern divisions. . . .

Matthews adds: "Lethbridge and Coleman officials are still seething at the manner in which they were cold-shouldered when they applied for admittance to the Senior Six. . . ."

"Just what hockey fans in the central and northern part of the province think of their league has been indicated in no uncertain manner in the box office receipts. Lowest gate at an exhibition game in Lethbridge is better by several hundred than the best gates at league games played in Edmonton or Calgary. . . ."

NO COMPARISON IN CALIBRE "There is no comparison in the calibre of hockey played in the two leagues, and Lethbridge promoters and fans know it. With drawing cards like Kimberley Dynamiters, Trail Smoke Eaters and Coleman Canadians included in the circuit, what kind of chumps would we be to desert the Kootenay league to play against teams in the Senior Six?"

"As for the statement 'Lethbridge and Coleman are in the Kootenay circuit for the first half of the season only and may withdraw then', somebody has been pulling Friend Jack's leg. The schedule for the entire season has been drafted and Lethbridge and Coleman will be in there to the end."

"Question of receipts to the B.C. and Alberta hockey associations is also more or less beside the point. It is up to the two associations to come to some kind of an agreement in this regard. The A.A.H.A. executive can't order teams in and out of leagues just to suit their own financial ends."

"We don't forget."

ASSIST TO BE ALLOWED FOR GOAL SCORED ON REBOUND IN THE N.H.L.

NEW YORK, Dec. 22 (CP)—The federation of minor and professional hockey leagues stole the spotlight from the big-timers here today when it virtually decided to stage play-offs for the "minor league championship of the world."

Maurice Pödoloff of New Haven, president of the association formed last spring, also announced the international-American league, the American association and the Pacific coast league would adopt the three minor rule changes decided upon by the National league board of governors in session here.

The N. H. L. heads, in a pow-wow prior to the testimonial banquet for President Frank Calder, of Montreal tonight, cleaned up an old controversy by ruling that a player is entitled to an assist on a goal scored from a rebound.

The move was a reversal of the present rule but brought the rule-book in line with the opinion of most scorers in the circuit who have been crediting assists on rebounds this season to date. To balance the point-scoring problem, it was also ruled no assist will be awarded a player who starts a scoring play from behind centre ice.

Also amended was the rule on loosing the puck. If contending teams are on even strength and a player shoots from his defensive zone and the puck goes into the net, it shall be scored as a goal.

So happy were Rosland Miners and the fans who have been cheering them for a long time with a lump in their throats, following Miners' victory over Lethbridge we feel sure you could have smacked anyone of them on the kisser and they would have said "Thanks."

When we walked into the dressing room of Miners following the game we understood the thrill Napoleon must have received with victory. For five years we've walked into that dressing room at the far end of the Rosland rink but never was the atmosphere as glowing as it was on this occasion.

There's a reason, and a good one. After Rosland was defeated 10-1 by Trail in their first game of the loop here, everyone figured Miners' chances of picking off wins were mighty slim. It is different now. For the team considered the most likely one to slump into the cellar wallowed the undefeated Lethbridge Leafs. And what makes it more puzzling is that Miners defeated the squad that took into camp the highly publicized Kimberley Dynami-

Despite results to date, many just won't believe what has happened. They are looking for excuses for Kimberley on every hand. Some argued black and blue that Lethbridge just took it on the chin as a "come along." Some said Kimberley and Coleman had a bad start, only having a practice game before entering the West Kootenay loop.

Perhaps so, we say, but Rosland didn't go to prep school either. Miners were badly broken when they lost four of their men to Gonzaga university, Spokane. Wouldn't these boys feel a bit upset if Rosland won the league championship? You say that is impossible? Humph, after that game at Rosland Monday night nothing's impossible in the league this year.

We can't help thinking about Morin's predictions since he has been in the Kootenays. Practically every one he has made has turned out accordingly. He didn't predict on every turn, and the law of averages didn't help him, but he has given his opinion of the outcome from time to time, and a high percentage of them have been true.

Morin, after being defeated 10-1 by Trail and then beating Nelson, was mighty proud of the crew he produced in that second battle. He had reason to be, for they have beaten the eastern division champions. Morin said Smoke Eaters wouldn't beat him by five goals as they had Nelson, and from what his team has just done, we shouldn't think so either.

Lethbridge is supposed to have a bunch of expert and seasoned players. But Miners consist of many juniors playing their first season in senior company. And many of those juniors made Lethbridge look woody. Smith, Cowland and LaCree are three of those juniors, and their slick handling baffled the boys in the dark uniforms. Maurice Williams is playing his first season of senior hockey. Apparently the Miners have confidence in him, and that means a whole lot.

C. A. H. A. hockey laws:

"No. 5—Each rink shall be provided with seats or benches for the use of players of both teams. Such seats or benches shall have accommodation for at least 14 persons and shall be placed immediately alongside the ice as near to the center of the rink as possible and conveniently adjacent to the dressing rooms. None but players in uniform, manager, trainer and coach shall be permitted to occupy the bench as provided.

"No. 6—Each rink must be provided with a bench capable of seating eight persons, for the use of penalty timekeeper, timekeeper, scorer and penalized players."

Hornets Fade Before Grocers Attack 28-22

Snatching back a lost-lead in the fading moments of the game, Grocers ran off with a 28-22 decision over the Hornets, senior men's basketball team, Monday night.

Teams and scorers follow:
Grocers—Howie Hunt, 8; Det McQuail, 7; Colin Baker, 6; Jack Bishop 4; Gilbert Hunt, 2.

Hornets—Fred Graves, 12; Doug Johnson, 5; George Bishop, 3; Bill Townsend, 2; Frank Jones, Howie Jeffrey and Frank Korakak.

C.B.C. Midgets Win Game, Lose Points

In a hard fought Midget league game Tuesday morning, the Catholic Boys' club puck-chasers defeated an ever-trying Scout aggregation 3-1. All four goals were solo efforts; Hunden, Defoe and Barney Prestley netting for the C. B. C.'s and Frisby for the Scouts. Frisby, Hunden and Desirau drew penalties. Bud Emery refereed, aided by Jack Gray as judge of play.

As neither team had qualified for league play by turning in the required age certificates to the Nelson Amateur Hockey association, it was announced later that the game was a total loss to the two teams, the C.B.C.'s losing the two points won, and the Scouts the two points they might have obtained on the C.B.C.'s default had they themselves attended to this detail.

Team were:
C. B. C.—Goal, Louis Gagnon; defence, Syd Desirau, Jim Reisterer; forwards, Ernie Defoe, Frank Christian, Bob Hunden, Barney Prestley, Micky Prestley.
Scouts—Goal, Earl Jorgensen; defence, Dick Hornett, Alan Frisby; forwards, Herb Gusscott, Martin McLennan, Warren Ferguson, Dalton Irvine.

M.R.K. Banlams Beat Fairview

M.R.K. Banlams, who in two years have hardly lost a game to any team outside themselves—in 1936 they were "twins"—started league play Tuesday morning auspiciously by defeating the Fairview squad 5-2 in spite of having lost their entire first string of last year to the M.R.K. Midgets.

Hiescher tallied thrice for the M.R.K.'s, twice from combination, while Whitehead and Slader got the other tallies. Matheson and Norris tallied for the F.A.C.'s. Two F.A.C.'s, Hinit and Ludlow, drew penalties. Jack Gray refereed, with Leo McKinnon judge of play. Teams were:
M.R.K.—Goal, Jim Ritchie; defence, Red Wassick, Bob Fercival, Alex Allan, Bob Graham, Jerry Jerram; forwards, Jack Whitehead, Paul Hiescher, David Slader, Dick Wassick, Ian Currie, Bernard McNicol, Bill Holland.
F.A.C.—Goal, Bill Buchanan; defence, Jack Ludlow, Fred Hinit, Jack Greer; forwards, Mac Norris, Wallace Matheson, John Milne, Doug Currier, Joe Crosby, Charlie Johnston, Billy Ludlow, John Buchanan.

Rookies Score 15-8 Over C. G. C. Team

Rookies, senior basketball lasses, took a firm stand on the second rung of the league ladder Monday night when they downed the Catholic Girls' club 15-8.

The fair winners played a tight defensive game all the way. Their scoring was split between six players. Mary McDougall, star of the C. G. C. lineup, ran up seven of their nine points.

Teams and scorers were:
Rookies: Iris Johansson, 4; Phyllis Wallace, 3; Deanie Wallace, 2; Dorcen Long, 2; Hazel Spiers, Freda Hunsicker, 2; Hazel Gillett, Marjorie Todd, Lillian Fisher and Beulah Greer.

C. G. C. Mary McDougall, 7; Betty Kirkpatrick, 2; Rosa Stewart, Kay McDougall, Louise Colett, Lillian Hickey and Edna Gormley.

LONDON (CP)—Valuable because overprinted "office" a 10-shilling Edward VII stamp brought £850 ($4250) at auction here.

Halleran Recitals Please Big Crowds

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Halleran of the Halleran studios presented an extremely pleasing and interesting recital by their students in Trinity United church last Tuesday. A "full house" greeted both afternoon and evening presentations, which included piano solos, along with something new introduced into Nelson—pre-school singing and rhythm band numbers. Particularly interesting were the pre-school age singing and rhythm band selections, which included Mother Goose songs, singing game, folk dancing and a dramatization, "Pirates and Robbers", by children ranging between the ages of six, seven and eight years. The rhythm band, which the Hallerans have introduced into Nelson, is composed of boys and girls between the ages of five and 12 years. The pre-school singing and dramatization was also introduced by Mrs. Halleran.

PROGRAM
The program as presented follows: Demonstration of pre-school singing and rhythm by the junior class; piano solo, "Jolly Roger", Clara King; Austrian folk dances, Mollie Arneson, Bubbles Hawes, Dorothy Harrison and Dawn Spencer; piano solo, "On the Meadow", Doreen Manahan; dance, "Rustic Courtship", Glensy Mansell and David Townend; piano duo, "March", Donald Hunter and Ted Atfield; piano solo, "Flower Song", Constance Manahan; tap dance, "School Days", Glensy Mansell, Carol Fetterley, Sylvia Fetterley and David Townend; piano solos, "Folic in the Forest" and "Lament", Ted Atfield; high school tap dance, Audrey Maxwell, Merriam Armstrong, Bernice Marapodi and Fay Johnson; piano solo, "The Butterfly", Kay Manahan; chorus, "Dashing Away With a Smoothing Iron" and "Jenny Wren", junior singing and rhythm class; piano duo, "Romance", Constance Manahan and Virginia James; rhythm band selection, rhythm band; piano solo, "Fifteen Minutes", Donald Hunter; piano solo, "Pirates and Robbers", junior singing and rhythm class; piano solo, "Gypsy Dance", Virginia James; vocal solos, "One Fine Day" and "Smile of Spring", Mrs. James Stallwood; piano duo, "Valse Gracieuse", Kay and Doreen Manahan. John Riddick was cashier.

ADJOURN DR. LAMBERT FASCIST CASE IN QUE.

MONTREAL, Dec. 22 (CP)—Dr. Gabriel Lambert, Montreal Fascist leader, sought in court today to justify his action in urging a group of university students to prevent a Communist meeting in north-end Mount Royal arena two months ago.

Conducting his own defence at preliminary inquiry into a charge of inciting to riot, the blue-shirted Fascist, a red swastika on either arm, sat quietly in a corner of the crowded courtroom with Armand Arcand, leader of the National Social Christian (Fascist) party, until his case was called.

The crowd was dispersed but the officers said in their opinion there was no disorder and peace had not been disturbed.

Jones at the piano, Trail Rotary club members sang Christmas carols at their regular luncheon meeting in Crown Point palm room Tuesday. It was announced that Dr. Ernest Cleveland, past president of the Engineering Institute of Canada, would address the meeting next Tuesday.

Santa Pays Visit Trail Anglicans

TRAIL, B.C., Dec. 22—Approximately 180 children of St. Andrew's Anglican church enjoyed their annual Christmas tree celebration in the hall here Tuesday. About 60 junior members banqueted in the afternoon, and after a light supper, to which senior members sat down, a concert program by the church junior choir, conducted by Mrs. R. G. E. Anthony was rendered.

The Rev. L. A. Morant, rector, presented prizes to Sunday school pupils. Santa Claus made a hurried visit to the affair and gave each youngster candy and other goodies and presented some special prizes.

STOLE MAIL BECAUSE HE GOT NO LETTERS, GIFTS FOR CHRISTMAS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22 (AP)—A forgotten man, head down, hands twisting, painfully told his story in United States federal court through an interpreter.

Yes, he, Hugo Zander, had stolen letters from a hotel mailbox. He had not opened them. He did not want money.

Why had he stolen? Because, judge, it was Christmas. Because everyone else in his hotel had letters, greetings, gifts from loved ones.

PROFIT TAKING NIPS NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Dec. 22 (AP).—Tax selling and profit taking nipped a feeble stock market rally today and losses of fractions to as much as two points predominated among leading issues.

What recovery there was took place about midday and was based largely on some accumulative buying and a small amount of short covering.

Steele and aircraft swung widest, enjoying brief periods of prosperity but closing at or near their lows. Rails were mostly ignored. Coppers were active but failed of headway, oils and utilities were narrow.

Dealings were fairly lively in the first half-hour, with prices mixed. After that they remained at only a moderate pace for the rest of the day. Transactions totaled 1,153,000 shares compared with 1,283,540 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks slipped 7.7 of a point at 46.1.

LOSSES GENERAL CALGARY MARKET

CALGARY, Dec. 22 (CP).—Oil Share values were generally lower on the Calgary stock exchange today.

Aside from C. & E., which dropped 10 to 3.00 and Dalhousie off seven at 72, losses were not severe. Calmont lost 1 1/2 at 40 1/2. Model was ahead 2 at 45.

PRODUCTION DOUBLED

OTTAWA, Dec. 22 (CP).—Canada's petroleum production of 2,233,557 barrels the first 10 months of the year almost doubles that of the corresponding 1936 period and is 700,000 barrels greater than that of all 1936.

ROYAL BANK'S PROFITS UP TO $3,411,383 YEAR

MONTREAL, Dec. 22 (CP).—Increase of $107,141 was shown today by Royal Bank of Canada in net profits of $3,411,383 for the year ended November 30, compared with $3,304,242 in the previous fiscal year.

The figure was reached after deduction of a $300,000 contribution to the bank's pension fund. Dividend payments totalled $2,800,000.

SMELTERS OFF

MONTREAL, Dec. 22 (CP).—Late selling, at the heels of a mid-session buying rush, weakened stock market prices today.

St. Lawrence Paper preferred dropped five to 43 while drops of a point or so each came out for Price Brothers common and preferred and St. Lawrence Corporation preferred.

Fracturally ahead were Dominion Bridge, Dominion Steel B, Steel of Canada and United Steel.

Nickel finished up 1/4 at 46 1/2, Noranda and Smelters sold off. Narrow losses shown in Brazilian, Gatuana and Montreal Power. Canadian Car issues advanced but Steel Car and C.P.R. failed to hold.

Grain Loses in Drab Session

WINNIPEG, Dec. 22 (CP).—Wheat futures lost most of yesterday's gains in a drab session on Winnipeg grain exchange today. It took only minor sales in sympathy with easier overseas markets to depress prices with final quotations 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cent lower, December at $1.26 1/2, May $1.16 1/4, and July $1.10.

Trade in Canadian wheat was estimated below 100,000 bushels but even exporters withdrew near the close.

Liverpool gave way to Australian new wheat hedging and United States selling to close 1/4 to 3/4 cent lower. Buenos Aires in mid-afternoon deals was 2 1/2 to 3 1/4 cent lower. Chicago eased about a cent at low levels.

Liverpool established new seasonal lows, slumping to the lowest levels since November.

TORONTO SPOTTY

TORONTO, Dec. 22 (CP).—Spot weakness was displayed by the Toronto market today, chiefly in gold and western oils, carrying both mining indices to slightly lower levels despite fair strength in the base metals.

Announcement Steel of Canada was paying a $2 extra on the common boosted the price to 70 1/2, but the close at 69 1/2 was up only a minor fraction. The preferred added 2. Dominion Bridge advanced a point. The close was up fractions for Canadian Steel B, United Steel and Dominion Car common.

Albiti preferred dropped 1 1/2 and Gatuana Paper preferred 2 1/4. Nickel added a fraction while Noranda advanced 1/4. Walte-Amulet 6, Sherritt 5 and Aldermac 2. Eldorado Silver was down 5.

Weakness in the golds centred in the junior issues. Dome and Lake Shore closed higher.

T. V. LORD OF C. M. & S. AT TRAIL IS APPOINTED PROFESSOR AT QUEEN'S U.

TRAIL, B. C., Dec. 22 (CP).—T. V. Lord, member of the technical staff of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada, has been appointed professor of metallurgy at Queen's university, Kingston, Ont., according to word reaching here today.

The appointment will be effective at the opening of the fall term in 1938.

Mr. Lord was an honor graduate in metallurgy at Queen's in 1922, and has been on the Consolidated staff here since then.

He was principally identified with ore concentration. Prior to graduation from university, he spent vacation periods as a student with the Consolidated company here.

He had a long period of war experience between 1914 and 1918 proceeding overseas with first Canadian contingent on the strength of the 6th Field Company of Engineers. For 15 months he was a prisoner in Germany.

At the first of the year he will leave with Mrs. Lord for the Big Missouri mine, where he will take charge of the concentrator which is expected to commence operations in January. They will remain at Big Missouri until proceeding to Kingston.

Kellogg-Briand Pact Highlight of Frank Kellogg's Brilliant Career Over Period of 57 Years

In Early Life, to Get Job for Firm, He and His Partner Opposed Each Other in Contest for Office of District Attorney

The Kellogg-Briand pact, in which 59 nations joined to renounce war as an instrument of national policy, was the highlight of Frank B. Kellogg's career, a line of achievement which took him from a pioneer Minnesota farm through the mutations of law and politics to successive reputations as a corporation lawyer, "trust-buster," United States senator, ambassador to Great Britain, secretary of state and, finally, judge of the permanent court of international justice at The Hague. Mr. Kellogg died Tuesday.

When Kellogg tendered his resignation from the international tribunal on September 9, 1935, he wrote "finis" to public activities which embraced a stretch of 57 years.

Kellogg, and Aristide Briand, "France's apostle of peace," whose names were joined in the anti-war pact, each gave the other credit for originating the idea. It grew from a 1927 Easter message of good will issued by Briand through The Associated Press to the American people in which he proposed that America and France forever renounce war upon each other.

That message, pigeon-holed for months in the state department at Washington, was hauled out of obscurity the following Christmas-tide at the behest of President Coolidge when Jane Addams, Chicago's world-famous social worker, called it to his attention.

It was translated at first into a Franco-American agreement for perpetual friendship, then blossomed into a world-wide idea, was publicized and pushed in various capitals until finally there was a rush to join in the declaration. With Kellogg wielding the first pen and Briand the second, the pact was signed formally by 15 nations at Paris on August 27, 1928. Later more than two score other governments gave formal notification of their acceptance of the terms.

The treaty brought world-wide acclaim to the joint authors and award of the 1928 Nobel peace prize to Kellogg. But it didn't halt war, nor did it check aggression, China, the United States, Great Britain and other powers cited it in vain when Japan carved Manchukuo out of northeast China in 1931, and Ethiopia, without effect, called attention to the fact that both she and Italy were signatories when the latter invaded the African monarchy in 1935. Critics of the treaty always said that it was futile because it "lacked teeth."

Kellogg, slight, stoop-shouldered and in his 73rd year, was about ready to call "quits" with active life when he finished his four years as secretary of state. But a year and a half later Hughes, appointed chief justice of the United States, resigned his place on the bench of the world court and the League of Nations, in September, 1930, chose Kellogg as his successor. One of his outstanding findings as an international jurist was a dissenting opinion when the court ruled against a proposed customs union between Germany and Austria. Kellogg held the plan entirely legal, discarding the idea that it contravened the German territorial limitation clauses of the treaty of Versailles.

Kellogg was a bachelor until his fortieth year. In 1896 he married Clara M. Cook of Rochester, Minn.

He was made secretary of state when Charles Evans Hughes, after serving in the Harding-Coolidge cabinet, decided to resume private law practice when Coolidge's own administration took office March 4, 1925. Kellogg's flair for diplomacy had full play in the four years he held the cabinet post. In addition to the multilateral anti-war pact, he guided negotiations that resulted in more than 80 international agreements, many of them providing for arbitration, conciliation and other peaceful means of settling disputes between nations.
