Spanish Gov't. Forces Surround Teruel

TAKE UP SIEGE OF THE FOCAL POINT IN DARING DRIVE ON FRANCO MEN

"Great Victory" Won in Bitter Weather Near Valencia

IS TIP OF THE INSURGENT DRIVE

MADRID, Dec. 18 (Saturday) (AP)—The government today announced its troops had surrounded and laid siege to Teruel, focal point of a daring drive in bitter weather against heavily entrenched insurgents.

Teruel, in eastern Spain, 135 miles east of here and 70 miles northwest of Valencia, marks the tip of an insurgent wedge driven down toward the Mediterranean coast in an effort to cut off Catalonia from other government-held territory.

The government hailed its accomplishment as a great victory for troops who fought through snow and freezing weather.

Its announcement, issued in the form of a communique, came on the end of the third day of a surprise offensive against the important city in the Aragon where military experts long expected that Insurgent General Franco would launch an attempt to drive to the sea.

Premier King Denies Power Plan 'Made in Washington'

Refutes Hepburn Charges on Power Exports and on Alleged Pressure on Ontario Prompted by the United States

(See Story, "Hepburn Raps" on Page 10 Today)

OTTAWA, Dec. 17 (CP)—Power policies of the federal government followed those of previous administrations and were not dictated by any agreement with United States nor associated with Ontario's stand against the St. Lawrence waterways project, Prime Minister Mackenzie King declared tonight.

In a statement issued at a late hour the prime minister denied charges made earlier today by Ontario's Premier Hepburn that in refusing Ontario a licence to export power the federal government was endeavoring to force the province to become a party to the St. Lawrence power project.

"There has been no discussion with the United States either of a formal or informal character which has to do with granting licences for export of power", the prime minister declared.

"The government's decision with respect to the application made in recent months was based solely upon the desirability of deferring action until the matter had been considered by parliament."

NO CONTROVERSY FOR PREMIER

Last night the prime minister said the question of granting licence for power export would remain in abeyance until parliament had expressed an indication of the policy that should be pursued. Pending that expression of opinion, he said tonight, he did not propose to be drawn into any controversy on the subject.

At no time, the prime minister said, had the United States government sought to bring pressure on the government of Canada regarding Ontario's stand on the St. Lawrence waterways project, nor had the Dominion government brought any pressure on Ontario in that respect.

Other charges raised by Mr. Hepburn regarding use of St. Lawrence and Great Lake waterways for development of power were similarly denied by the prime minister who said use of these resources was governed by an international treaty and in their administration the interests of the provinces were given full consideration consistent with protection of Dominion interests.

WOULD DEVELOP HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER IN SASK. AS AN ECONOMY

Rowell Commission Is Told Would Cut Power Costs

URGED CONSIDER PRAIRIE UNION

By CARL REINKE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

REGINA, Dec. 17 (CP)—Increased western representation in the senate and Dominion control of marketing and large insurance companies were last-minute proposals by the Saskatchewan government today as the Rowell Commission wound up its eight-day sittings here.

Tonight the five commissioners and their staff were homeward bound, to re-assemble January 17 in Ottawa when they will hear representations from a score of national organizations ranging from the Canadian Bankers' association to the Communist party of Canada.

In its concluding session here today, the commission heard deputy ministers describe the work of their departments and of corresponding Dominion government departments from the viewpoint of possible overlapping in services.

CONFLICTING VIEWS

It heard two officials express directly opposing views on nationalization of relief administration and another explain the economic desirability of developing hydro-electric

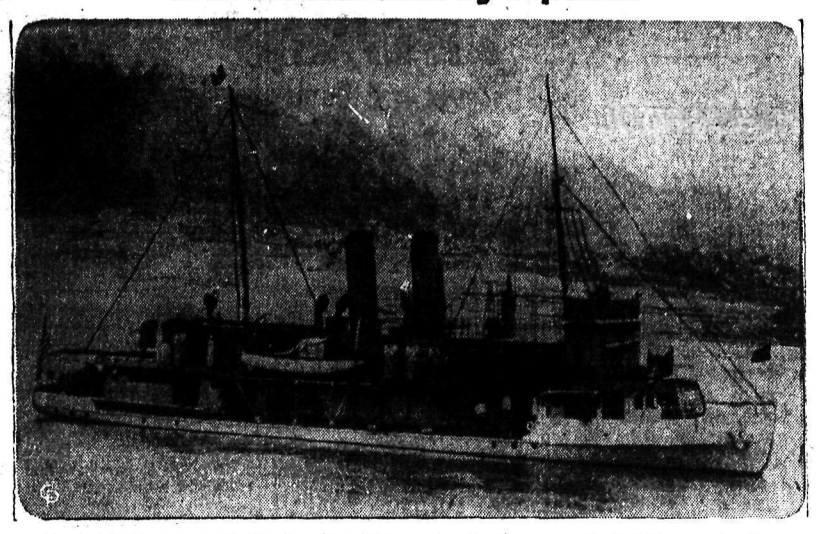
U. S. Gunboat Sunk by Japanese



Bombed by Japanese on the Yangtse river about 25 miles above Nanking, this American gunboat, the U.S.S. Panay, sank. Approximately 100 persons including the crew and many refugees were aboard when the Panay was attacked. She was steaming upriver in an effort to escape from the war zone around the Chinese capital. Japanese naval authorities accepted responsibility for the bombing.

MAY SEND A BIG PART OF FLEET TO THE FAR EAST IN THE NEAR FUTURE

Japanese Carry War Deeper Into the Yangtze Valley

GRAVE THREATS TO OTHER CITIES

LONDON, Dec. 17 (CP)—Great Britain looked to the defence of her far eastern possessions tonight as reports indicated Japan's conflict with China soon might be extended to the south.

The Associated Press quoted a high diplomatic source as predicting an increase in British naval strength in Chinese waters "by early in January"' with or without the United States taking parallel action.

Havas News Agency said admiralty circles indicated it might be necessary to send a substantial part of the fleet to the far east in the near future.

A definite decision to reinforce the China station was expected at next Wednesday's cabinet meeting, the Associated Press said. They quoted a diplomat as stating Prime Minister Chamberlain and Foreign Secretary Eden were convinced the French fleet can take care of any developments in the Mediterranean.

The admiralty announced the cruiser Birmingham would leave Portsmouth for Shanghai in about two weeks. It was explained the Birmingham would replace the cruiser Danae which recently returned.

TRIUMPHAL ENTRY INTO NANKING

SHANGHAI, Dec. 18 (Saturday) (AP)—With Japan's highest army and navy leaders in control of the situation in Nanking, Chinese hoped today that the period of harsh military rule which had gripped China's former capital since the Japanese captured it Monday would be ended.

General Iwane Matsui, commanding Japanese armies in the Yangtze valley, and Vice-Admiral Kiyoshi Hasegawa, commanding Japanese naval forces in China waters, made a triumphal entry Friday into the city which for a decade had symbolized hopes of a reborn China.

Fourteen United States missionaries who remained in Nanking throughout the siege and capture of the city and were still working to alleviate sufferings of the inhabitants sent an urgent appeal to Shanghai for doctors and other missionaries to go to their aid.

The Japanese forces carried the war deeper into the heart of the Yangtze valley, richest region of China. Fresh advances north, west and southwest of Nanking brought new areas under Japanese domination and carried grave threats to other Chinese cities.

Standing room only remained when mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters and ex-junior high school students thronged the junior high auditorium Friday afternoon for the students' presentation of "The Seven Gifts," a Christmas pantomime, directed by Miss Enid Etter.

The story of the seven gifts was wrapped around the Emerald Queen, beautiful in her robes of state, and majestic with her pages, heralds, standard bearers, princesses and major-domo.

TO RE-WRITE CUSTOMS ACT

OTTAWA, Dec. 17 (CP) — Rewriting of the customs act, to bring various provisions into conformity with present day methods of merchandising, is under way, but, it was learned here today, there is little likelihood of the task being finished for presentation to parliament at the next session.

A small committee comprising Finance Minister C. A. Dunning, National Revenue Minister J. L. Ilsley, Hector B. McKinnon, commissioner of tariffs, George H. Sedgewick, chairman of the tariff board, and Hugh D. Scully, commissioner of customs, has been working on the revision for some months. When the task is completed, it is likely opportunity will be afforded various commercial interests in Canada to make submissions.

Many Greetings for Premier on 63rd Birthday

He spent the day quietly at Laurier house. In speaking to the press this evening, he expressed his warm appreciation of the many messages and evidences of good-will of which he was the recipient throughout the day. The prime minister asked the press if, on his behalf, it would make known his appreciation of the many kindly greetings received.

NO TRAMP SHIPPING SUBSIDY

LONDON, Dec. 17 (CP Cable)—The tramp shipping subsidy will not be paid for the year 1937, the board of trade announced today. The action is in accordance with terms of the legislation providing for payment of subsidy only when the average level of freight rates is below that of 1929. The subsidy was paid for 1935 and 1936 when ocean freight rates were lower than this year.

While Death Waited

This is one of the last pictures for which Jean de Koven posed in New York before she sailed to Paris and to a rendezvous with death. The slayer of the 20-year-old dancer, George Weidmann, is said by Paris police to have been a member of a "murder ring" that killed for profit. Two more men and a woman were held in connection with the slaying.

HYDRO PLANS ARE SUSPENDED

TORONTO, Dec. 17 (CP)—Ontario Hydro-electric Power commission has suspended plans for two northwestern Ontario water diversion projects until an agreement respecting the use of additional water for power generation at Niagara Falls is reached, Dr. Thomas Hog, commission chairman, said today.

The commission had done preliminary work on the Long Lac diversion, intended to turn water now flowing northward, into the Great lakes and thus supply additional water at Niagara Falls.

The 25-year-old woman was found dead on an east end viaduct. She was believed to have been struck by an automobile whose driver failed to stop.

Police today said they were informed three suspected automobile thieves had been in the vicinity at about the time of Mrs. Mason's death.

HE SEES WITH GRAFTED EYE

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 17 (AP)—In a hushed charity hospital ward Dr. George Haik lifted the bandage from the surgically remodelled eye of Frank Chabina, Jr., 19, today and held up two fingers.

Quietly, he asked: "How many fingers do you see?"

"Two" came the answer.

A murmur swept the room.

Dr. Haik half smiled with pleasure and help up three fingers.

"How many?" he asked.

"Three," was the reply.

Dr. Haik was calm.

"There is some progress," he remarked. "Now, only time can tell just how successful this case will be."

DAMAGE IS HUGE IN TIMBER FLOOD

ROME, Dec. 17 (CP)—The surging waters of the river Tiber tonight were estimated to have done millions of dollars of damage as rain swelled the flood that has taken six lives.

Whole sections of Trastevere, Rome's once "tough" district, were under water. The flood was waist deep in many homes in that quarter, while only leaky, sandbagged barricades held back worse inundation. Troops aided workers reinforcing the barricades.

Two of the city's 16 bridges were closed to traffic. The flood stage was 57 feet seven inches, highest in 67 years.

New, Thorough Investigation of Panay Sinking Started by Japan and the U. S.

Results From Declarations of U. S. and the Survivors That Gun-Boat Was Fired on by Machine-Gun Equipped Craft

SHANGHAI, Dec. 18 (Saturday). (AP)—A Japanese army and navy spokesman announced today that a new and thorough investigation of Sunday's Japanese warplane attack on American vessels in the Yangtze had been launched.

He said the inquiry resulted from declarations by the United States government and many survivors of the United States gunboat Panay that the vessel was machine-gunned from the air and from the river before she sank.

Japanese both in Shanghai and Tokyo have denied the sinking Panay was machine-gunned.

Survivors of the attack asserted with graphic detail that open boatloads of wounded were machine-gunned after Japanese warplanes deliberately bombed and sank the Panay.

Lieut. J. W. Geist, engineer officer, *said a Japanese motorboat machine-*gunned the sinking Panay although an American flag was painted on the side of the ship from which the attack came.

CHARGE RUSSIA

TOKYO, Dec. 18 (Saturday) (AP) —A foreign office spokesman said today Japan's reply to the United States' notes demanding full redress for the sinking of the gunboat Panay, would be materially delayed by United States charges that Japanese surface craft machine-gunned the Panay after she was bombed.

"This is the most serious type of charge to make," the spokesman declared. "Justice to both sides demands a full investigation, and a thorough inquiry cannot be made in a minute."

The Japanese foreign office Friday formally charged the Soviet Union with acting in a manner "utterly unthinkable in any civilized country" in connection with arrests of Japanese in Russia.

The protest listed cases, asserting Soviet authorities accused each Japanese of "military espionage" but failed to place them on trial.

The foreign office declared the Japanese were held incommunicado at Khabarovsk.

"The Japanese government takes the position it is impossible to forebear longer while its nationals' safety is so imposed upon," the note went on.

This will be the fourth time in five years since Grand Forks hydro plant was installed that city council has given free "juice" for the holiday season.

WAGE, HOUR BILL BROUGHT TO HALT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17 (AP)—The combined United States house of representatives votes of southern Democrats and northern Republicans disrupted President Roosevelt's special session program tonight by sending back to committee the bill to establish minimum wage and maximum hour requirements for interstate industry.

The vote, 216 to 198, brought the career of that battle-scarred measure to an abrupt, if possibly temporary, halt and evoked a triumphant roar of applause from the southern bloc, members of which anxiously kept tab of the balloting as it progressed.

Cahan Committed

VANCOUVER, Dec. 17 (CP)—A 50-year-old Vancouver lawyer today was committed to stand trial for the armed robbery of a branch bank here December 1 when a lone gunman escaped with $69.

Committment of Charles H. Cahan, Jr., by Magistrate H. S. Wood in police court ended a four-day preliminary hearing during which the lawyer, conducting his own defence, strove to prove he was not the man who held up a branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce and escaped in a fusilade of shots fired by bank employees.

"I would like to reserve the major portion of my defence," Cahan said when the crown closed its case.

Lost Glasses Are Found Hanging on a Christmas Tree

EDMONTON, Dec. 17 (CP) — "Who says there ain't no Santa Claus?" Chef B. V. Anderson wanted to know when a Canadian National Railways train arrived from Vancouver.

Anderson was leaning from a train window in the mountains near Blue River when a gust of wind snatched away his expensive glasses.

Expecting the glasses would be broken on rocks or the tracks, he decided to take a chance and wire the section crew to look for them. On arrival at Edson, Alta., Anderson got a wire:

"Found glasses hanging on a Christmas tree."

The wire will be accompanied by one from Dr. F. P. Sparks, medical health officer, recommending the move.

Pupils and Teachers Joyous as Break Up for Their Holidays

Two glorious weeks of skating, skiing, sleighing, and, of course topped off by that greatest of days, Christmas, and later seeing the old year go out and the new come in, stretched before Nelson school students Friday afternoon when they broke up for the Christmas holidays.

But the students were not the only ones leaving their institutions of learning for the holidays.

Taking teachers out of town for their Christmas holidays, the Great Northern train on the mountain line left Nelson for Spokane at 11 a.m. Friday instead of the usual time of 8 a.m. An extra coach was added to accommodate the teachers. Running according to the regular hours on the line, the train pulled into Nelson about 9 o'clock Friday night instead of 5 o'clock as usual, E. G. Westby, city freight and passenger agent, announced.

The C. P. R. adds an extra coach Saturday morning to accommodate teachers and students and another will be put on at Penticton.

THREE SHOT IN A CLASH AT FORD ASSEMBLY PLANT AT KANSAS CITY

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 17 (AP)—Three men were shot, one was overcome by tear gas, at least a dozen suffered severe beatings and more than 100 persons were arrested here late today shortly after employees of the labor-troubled Ford assembly plant quit work for the day.

Two deputy constables were wounded as they escorted approximately 300 Ford workers to their homes from the plant where the United Automobile Workers of America, a Committee for Industrial Organization affiliate, called a strike a week ago.

The officers, Dan Mustaine, 30, and Bob Scott, 20, were struck in the legs by shotgun pellets, but were unable to say who fired the shots. Russell Williams, 28, a bystander, was shot in the hand.

TWO ESCAPED ALCATRAZ CONVICTS BELIEVED DROWNED IN 'FRISCO BAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17 (AP) —The shadow of uncertainty still hovered tonight over Alcatraz Island's reputation as an "escape-proof" prison but Warden James A. Johnston concluded that the two desperadoes who vanished from it yesterday "escaped' only in death.

Johnston conceded there still was a "possibility" that the prisoners, Ralph Roe, 29, Duncan, Olka., robber, and Theodore Cole, 25, Stroud, Okla., kidnapper, remained in hiding on the 12-acre rock in San Francisco Bay.

The probabilities, he said, however indicated they left the island; that they had no outside help and that they perished in the treacherous tides, which were higher and more violent than usual because of flood waters from inland rivers.

"They had only once chance in a thousand, if they took to the water," said searching authorities.

But the tiny speck of doubt sent coast guard and police boats out into the bay again to search for traces *of the men. Heavy police detach*ments patrolled all possible landing places.

Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills are a remedy that all nervous, tired-out, weary women should take to help them back to the blessing of good health, and when this is done their household duties will be a pleasure instead of a burden.

MRS. A. K. MCLEAN, Pleasantfield, N.S., writes:—"A short time ago I was in a badly run down and nervous condition. I got so that my housework became a burden to me. I started taking Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills, and now I feel like a different person, and again am able to do all my own housework.

Associated to Submit Views on Government

Taking up answers of the Trail and Nelson boards of trade to a questionaire of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce urging substitution of Ottawa-appointed councils for provincial governments and urging unification and simplification of tax-collection and government services, the executive of the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia at a meeting in Nelson Friday night indorsed the views set forth. Copies of the replies to the questionaire are to be submitted to member boards for ratification.

The Associated executive indorsed a resolution of the B.C. Fruit Growers association protesting against any reduction in the British preference on Canadian apples or dump duties applying in season to American fruit. J. J. Campbell and Robert Foxall spoke on the resolution.

Attending the meeting were W. G Ternan and Lorne A. Campbell of Rossland, president and vice-president; and J. R. Hunter of Nelson, secretary-treasurer of the Associated; M. C. Donaldson, president and Fred White and S. C. Ellis of the Salmo board; W. A. Porteous, president of the Trail board; W. B. Bamford, president of the Nelson board; and S. G. Blaylock, Trail, vice-president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

MAKE THE OTHER PERSON FEEL IMPORTANT

HOW TO WIN FRIENDS AND INFLUENCE PEOPLE

By DALE CARNEGIE . . . Author of the famous book of this name

"There is one very important law of human conduct which, if obeyed, will bring us friends and happiness. The law is this: Always make the other person feel important—and do it sincerely.

"The greatest teacher of all time summed it up in these words: 'Do unto others as you would have others do unto you'."

"But how? When? Where? The answer is: all the time, everywhere.

"Almost every person you meet feels superior to you in some way. Then let these people feel that you appreciate their importance in their respective worlds. But remember, flattery is useless. You must be sincere."

"Considerate little phrases such as 'I'm sorry to trouble you,' 'Won't you please,' 'Would you mind,' used throughout the day will make the people with whom you come in contact feel that you look upon them as fellow human beings, and recognize their individual importance. And don't forget to give praise whenever you can."

"There is no better place for you to begin applying this magic formula than right in your own home. Your wife must have many good points—at least you thought so once or you wouldn't have married her. But how long has it been since you told her how much you appreciate her? How long?"

Spanking Unruly Child May Save Future Trouble

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.

"Dear Dr. Myers: I have a friend who has a very naughty little girl four years old. She simply will not mind, and delights to do the things you ask her not to do. She is very bright and normal in every respect. Her mother has never believed in spanking, so, of course, the child doesn't know anything about it.

"My friend has been quite interested of late in reading your articles and has asked me to write you about her problem.

"Please write full details as to how she can give her child a good old-fashioned spanking that will do her some good. What to use, hand, hairbrush, ruler, or what. How many spanks to administer each time and how often, in case there are no good results from the first spanking. She will greatly appreciate any suggestions you may have to offer.

"Have you yourself ever spanked your own children, and what method did you use?

PSYCHOLOGIST REPLIES

My reply: If that mother still disbelieves in spanking she should continue not to spank her child. Nor can she get results unless her husband also believes in spanking, and unless both of them plan carefully together a program, agreeing on the specific types of situations in which they would spank and exactly how. This child is already old enough to have outgrown spanking. It will be pretty costly to her and her parents now; but not to spank her may be still more costly by and by.

The parent's bare, flat hand applied to the child's bare thighs, with several sharp slaps should suffice. Begin with only one specific act to be forbidden, as playing in the fire. See that the spanking immediately follows the offense, and that the child never can do this forbidden act without instant pain from spanking. The specific act spanked for once should be spanked for always thereafter — absolutely no exceptions—until the act permanently ceases. This one mater settled, attack another specific act to to be forbidden, saying "No" just once as the pain is applied. A ruler or hairbrush may bruise the flesh. Low on the fat thigh, to avoid jarring and to afford stinging pain. Yes, indeed, I spanked each of our children before he or she was five; so did their mother. Today, at the ages of 23, 21, 15 one child can remember none, the others remember but one each, the only spankings as late as five.

Considers Suicide . . .

Youth Is Lonely Since Pal Lost Life Saving His

By VIRGINIA LEE

"Dear Virginia Lee: I am a boy 17 years old. I am working and am making good money, but it seems I just can't get interested in life. I pray every night to God to take me off the earth, and some times I think of killing myself. I would if it would be fair to my mother.

"I go out with girls and other boys, but then I break away from them and won't go out any more. The only pal I ever loved is dead. He died trying to save my life. I often think of him and wish I could see him, but I never do, so I guess there is only one way to see him, and that is by killing myself.

"The reason I wrote to you is I often read your piece in the paper, so I thought you could help me.

"WEARY"

I am glad you did write to me, Weary. Do it again. You say your best pal died trying to save your life. Of course you must miss him like everything. Life always seems a bit useless after a good friend has gone. It is hard to reconcile oneself to it. I know. I, too, have lost good pals whom I loved, but somehow one has to go on and even keep cheerful.

This friend saved your life, you say, and this naturally makes you feel even worse about his loss. But as he DID save your life, why not try to make worth something to prove to him that his act was not in vain? He was a brave chap, and I am sure he would not want to think that his friend could not face life and be courageous about it, would he? He would probably like to think of you as growing into a strong, cheerful man, doing a good job of living. Why don't you try hard to do this instead of thinking of taking your life?

And it would be a rotten thing to do to your mother—killing yourself. A psychologist I know of says that a person who wants to take his own life really does it to spite someone. He hates someone and wants to get even. You don't hate anyone, do you, my boy? As you are working and earning good money, why don't you look up someone who is more unfortunate than yourself, and do them a good turn? It doesn't matter who it is —old or young, rich or poor—there are people who are lonely and hungry and very unhappy. Life would seem more worth living if you could do some good. It is the self-absorbed person who commits suicide. Write me again son.

Heartburn Not a Serious Symptom; Tells What to Do

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The symptom which usually is called heartburn consists of a burning sensation at the lower part of the esophagus and the throat, with the regurgitation of acid, gastric juice into the back of the mouth. It is a common symptom in many digestive disorders, and is generally thought to be due to an excess amount of gastric juice.

However, it may be present without digestive disease at all, simply as part of a neurotic temperament. In fact, studies made by the Bowen scholar of the New York Academy of Medicine, on a series of patients suffering with this symptom, showed that it was present in several instances when the gastric juice was deficient in hydrochloric acid, and was secreted in less than the normal amount.

Carrying the experiments further, it was found that when a dilution of hydrochloric acid was injected into the lower part of the esophagus it sometimes caused a burning sensation and sometimes it did not.

NEED NOT CAUSE ALARM

It is, therefore, not a symptom which need cause any alarm. I say this because patients are usually frightened at the onset of this symptom, to that aside from the mere uncomfortableness of it, it always makes people unhappy. If it does become annoying or uncomfortable, it can easily be relieved in most instances by the use of baking soda, sodium bicarbonate.

Certain foods are likely to provoke it, among them white bread, tomatoes, spices, pickles and sour things generally.

How the gastric juice gets from the stomach into the esophagus has been the subject of a great deal of work in the last few years. There are some people who are constitutionally so built that the lower esophagus and the first part of the stomach are above the diaphragm in the chest, and in these people it is quite a regular thing to find that a meal does not go into the stomach entirely, but remains in the dilated esophagus, and may be regurgitated into the back of the throat. Heart burn people probably have about the same kind of a mechanism so that their anatomical structure makes it easier for them to bring acid material up.

Serial Story . . .

Peacock Feathers

By TEMPLE BAILEY

READ THIS FIRST:

Jerry Chandler, son of a country clergyman in modest circumstances, after a course at Yale, finally meets Mimi Le Brun, now a St. Louis society girl, whom he has admired for years. She is a cousin of Lionel Clark, Jerry's only close friend at college. All three, with several other young people, are at a Maine camp presided over by Olga, an attractive young woman who married Mimi's wealthy grandfather shortly before he died. Jerry has just met Andy Fuller who is in love with Mimi. And now Jerry is with Mimi herself. More impressed than ever with Mimi's charm, Jerry feels he is going to enjoy the house party.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

CHAPTER 14

There were 10 guests besides Lionel and me. With our hostess, we made 13 at the table.

Bernice was much disturbed. "Something will happen to some of us, you see if it doesn't! And it will probably be Mimi. She can't miss it, with her peacock feathers and 13 at table. She laughs at me when I say such things, but look at the awful luck she's had with her grandfather dying — and all that."

She caught herself up as Olga turned a little toward us, and changed the ending of her speech skillfully.

"Well, thank heaven, there won't be 13 of us in the cars. Andy Fuller will drive six, and Drake four, and the rest will go in Scott Selden's car. I am going with Scott. Far be it from me to ride behind Andy when he's got Mimi on the front seat!"

Remembering the episode of the afternoon, it seemed to me surprising that Mimi should ride with Andy. But she did, wrapped in a wonderful cloak with a fur collar which came up to her eyebrows.

It was just as she was stepping into the car that she turned and saw me.

"Aren't you going to ride with us?" she asked. "We've plenty of room for him, haven't we, Andy?"

Andy nodded, and before I knew it I was sitting on one of the small *folding seats in Andy's seven-pas*senger car, with two pretty girls—the Ammidon twins — in the toneau, and a stocky little youth, Girard Sylvester, on the other small seat.

I was just behind Mimi, so near that by leaning forward a little in the dark I could touch my cheek to the fur of her collar. I could hear her low laugh — the things she said to Andy.

"I haven't forgiven you, Andy," floated back to me, "but I'd rather have you drive me than Drake or Scott Selden."

"Thank you. Bernice says she wouldn't trust me when I've got you beside me."

"I would trust you, always—as a driver."

I felt that I ought not listen, that I ought to talk to the Ammidon wins. But they seemed absorbed in the little Sylvester chap. So once more Mimi's words floated back.

"I do like you, Andy. And the things you do for me are—wonderful. But I won't stand being bossed. I never have been. I never will be."

"That's why I—love you."

Again, in desperation, I turned to the twins and spoke of the beauty of the moon.

But they cared nothing about the moon. Sylvester had left his seat and was sitting between them, and they were apparently entranced by some story he was telling. They lent unwilling ears to my remarks, so I gave up in despair.

Mimi was saying, "But when you do things as you did this afternoon—trying to make love to me, when you know how I hate it."

The world was, all at once, flooded with light. So this was why she had thrown her hat at him—why she had cried.

"If you loved me," Andy expostulated.

"But I don't. How many times must I tell you? Why can't we be just friends?"

"Because I want more than that." His voice was tense. "And I am going to have it, Mimi. You can't get away from me. You are—mine."

I was listening now with all my ears. I wanted to know what Mimi would say to this autocrat who claimed her. I played eavesdropper unashamed.

For a long time she said nothing and Andy drove as if a thousand devils were pursuing. I began to realize what Bernice had meant. Yet always, in spite of his wild speed, he seemed to have the car under control.

Then Mimi said, "That isn't the way to make me care—to act like a Turk and a tyrant."

"Do you want to care, Mimi?"

"Oh, well, perhaps. Everybody says it would be the ideal thing."

I sat back in my seat, sick at heart. Oh, that hard little voice! It seemed to me it could not belong to the girl with whom I had talked in the afternoon — to the woman of whom I had dreamed.

The Bradleys' house was more like a country club than a private residence. It was part of a fashionable summer colony, and was furnished with a sumptuousness that seemed out of place in the heart of those wild mountains. Yet it was lovely, none the less—a sort of fairyland—and my heart quickened to the beat of the music.

Lionel danced first with Olga, then turned her over to me. I'll confess that I felt sorry for her. She was ill at ease and showed it. I was ill at ease, but I did not show it. I was sure of that, for Lionel said afterward:

"You might have been born to the purple, Jerry."

But I was not born to the purple. I had been born in a parsonage, and the thing had left its marks upon me. I had not inherited, as those other young people had inherited, a tradition of gayety. It was not until I danced with Mimi that all the stars sang. I knew then that I had never been young, that I had never been happy, that never before had I drunk of the wine of life so that it was warm in my veins, making me mad with the joy of it.

Then and there was born in me a fierce determination to win her. I did not know how I was going to do it. Without her my life would be wasted, my ambitions would go down in a crash. I would wander on, aimless, in an empty world!

I am sure that Mimi did not have the least idea of my state of mind. She treated me in a comradely fashion, as she had treated me in the wood. She gave me three dances

Not Bulky Foods Though . . .

Increase the Calories if You Would Gain Weight, She Says

By GLADYS GLAD

"As I am quite a bit underweight I'm going to try to increase my weight by counting calories. I have a calorie chart, but do not know how many calories my daily diet should contain.

"Can you tell me how many calories my diet should contain so that the weight of my body will increase? FLORENCE."

If you are a normally active woman, your normal intake of food should range from 16 to 20 calories a day for each pound of your weight. If your normal weight, for instance is about 120 pounds, your maintenance diet, to supply the needs of your body, should be equal to from 1,920 to 2,400 calories a day.

If you wish to gain weight, you should increase this number by 1,000 calories each day until you have reached your normal weight. Do not make up this extra 1,000 calories with foods that are bulky and take up a lot of room. Make it up with foods that are high in caloric count, but are not very filling, and you will be able to do it without overeating.

"I expect to get a permanent wave next week and was wondering whether I could continue using castor oil shampoos? Would these shampoos in any way harm the permanet wave? AGNES".

Castor oil shampoos should not in any way harm a good permanent wave. The permanent waving process tends to have a drying effect on the hair and scalp.

Weekly or fortnightly hot castor oil shampoos after the permanent will nourish the hair-roots and the scalp, and will correct any dryness. Moreover, they will keep the hair soft and glossy, and will help to bring out the full beauty of the wave.

Hints for Housewives

By MRS. MARY MORTON

Menu Hint

Baked Stuffed Potatoes
Buttered Vegetables
Stewed Prunes or Baked Apples
Sponge Cake Milk

This is a luncheon or supper menu for school children. The recipes and those I used yesterday are taken from "How to Feed Young Children in the Home," published by the Merrill-Palmer school, in Detroit, and written by two members of its staff, Mary E. Sweeny and Dorothy Curtis Bock.

Today's Recipes

BAKED STUFFED POTATOES— Six medium potatoes white or sweet, two-thirds cup scalded irradiated evaporated milk or bottled sweet milk, one teaspon salt, one tablespoon butter. Scrub potatoes, oil skins with an unsalted fat to keep them soft. Bake in hot oven 50 to 60 minutes. Cut potatoes in half lengthwise, remove inside without breaking the skin, mash, add, milk, salt and butter. Beat until light and creamy. Refill skins, piling mixture in lightly. Reheat and brown in a moderate oven for about 20 minutes.

BUTTERED VEGETABLES— Allow one-half tablespoon butter to each cup of vegetables. Melt butter and add to hot vegetables just before serving.

SPONGE CAKE— One and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, two tablespoons cornstarch, three-fourths teaspoon salt, six eggs, one-eighth teaspoon cream of tartar, one and one-half cups sugar, one-fourth cup water, one table spoon orange juice. Sift flour and measure. Resift with baking powder, cornstarch and salt; repeat three times. Separate eggs, beat whites until foamy, add cream of tartar and continue beating until stiff but not dry. Beat egg yolks and sugar until thick and creamy. Add water. Fold in white of eggs gently, then flour, then orange juice, folding it in. Bake in ungreased tube pan in slow oven (325 degrees F.) 50 to 60 minutes. Invert on wire rack and cool in pan.

CORRECTION

One pound of flour was omitted from the Christmas cake recipe which appeared in this column, December 15, and about which a reader was telephoning. The correct recipe follows:

CHRISTMAS CAKE

Fruit cake—One pound butter, one pound sugar, ten eggs, one pound flour, two pounds raisins, two pounds currants, one-half pound citron peel, one-half pound each lemon and orange peel, one pound dates, one *pound figs, one pound English wal*nuts or other nuts in the shell, one pint brandy or other liquid, one teaspoon each allspice, cloves, cinnamon, one whole nutmeg, ground, or its equivalent (a good teaspoon); one-half cup black molasses, two teaspoons soda. Bake in very slow oven in bread tins. You can also add candied pineapple and cherries to this recipe. They make it that much better.

Christmas Mail Begins Pile Up at Post Office

Christmas is arriving with a rush at the Nelson post office. In addition to the increasing volume of local mail, the staff is beginning to receive the brunt of district receipts, which are sorted here for their various destinations. Two additional employees are already at work in the post office, and another may be added at the beginning of the week.

Letter carriers are putting in 10 and 11 hours daily, and to assist them three carriers' helpers will be employed. Pickup depots will be established so that trucks can take out mail to various points on each carrier's route, whence he will carry on distribution.

R. M. Manahan, postmaster, who is entering his thirtieth year with the post office department, stated Friday that the volume of mail handled at Nelson had been increasing rapidly during the past few days. He expected the major rush to begin about Tuesday.

Mail destined for Ontario and Quebec points has mostly gone, and mail to prairie points is expected to occupy the spotlight during the next day or so.

The postmaster urged that residents receiving parcel cards call at the post office for their parcels as soon as possible instead of leaving them until a day or two before Christmas. Parcels left until that time have to be handled over and over again, increasing the work and adding unnecessary confusion in distribution, he said.

Mr. Manahan also suggested that local mail improperly addressed might not be delivered as quickly as desired. At the present time two post office employees are kept busy putting street addresses on letters lacking this information, and their attention is directed first to mail coming in from outside points.

He also suggested that persons mailing "handfuls" of Christmas cards drop them in the post office boxes in bundles, faced the same way, so that they might more speedily be put through the stamp cancelling machine without first being "faced." When up to 22,000 letters must be handled in a day, such bundling saves time and expedites the work, he said.

INFRINGEMENT OF CIVIL RIGHTS

A definite and deliberate infringement of private rights is intended by the new coal and petroleum legislation of the Pattullo government, according to the Victoria Colonist, which stresses the provisions to protect the administrative body from any come-back for injuries it inflicts, and to bar from the courts those whose rights may be infringed. The Victoria paper says on this subject:

The primary object of the new legislation to regulate and control the coal and petroleum industries in British Columbia is to "fix the price or prices, maximum price or prices, minimum price or prices at which coal or petroleum may be sold in the province for use in the province." The legislation purports to give the lieutenant-governor-in-council power, as well, to fix different prices for different parts of the province; to fix schedules of prices for different qualities, quantities, standards, grades and kinds of coal and petroleum products. The power is sweeping enough, if it can be made operative. Evidently the government is not sure of the ground on which it is about to set its feet.

There is to be a controlling board, with the customary staff of operatives which is a feature of bureaucratic control. The legislation provides that "no action shall be brought against the board or against any person employed by the board for anything done by him in good faith in the performance or intended performance of his duties under this act." This clause might have been borrowed from legislation in Alberta, where it has been sought again and again to estop the courts from performing their legitimate functions. In other words, the new legislation is an attempt to curtail civil rights. Industrial interests are to be meddled with and no recourse allowed in the nature of an appeal to justice.

The legislation is autocratic in its inception and intention. It is contradictory as well. After providing that no action may be brought against the board or any of its employees, it is provided that, "if any clause, sentence, paragraph, sub-section, section or part of this act is for any reason found to be beyond the powers of the province" . . . all such shall be read "distributively," and all other "clauses, sentences, paragraphs, subsections, sections and parts of this act shall stand and be valid and operative, etc." Apparently parts of the act may be tested as to whether they are intra vires of the province, and yet action in the courts against the board is estopped. What is the explanation?

Obviously the legislation was devised hurriedly and with the minimum of legal advice. The probability is that it is in large part ultra vires of the province and that the attorney-general himself, who has the reputation of being an authority on what is and what is not ultra vires, is persuaded of this. Otherwise he would hardly have introduced a clause in the act which attempts to prevent its being tested in the courts. The new-fangled notion in autocratic legislation that seeks to curtail civil rights is a definite infringement of the liberty of the subject and will be opposed strenuously wherever it arises. Unfortunately many of our modern legislators seem wholly uninstructed about the history of the age-long struggle for the development of civil liberty, which is a part of the framework of British freedom. Much of modern legislation is reverting to the regimentation of the dark ages, influenced by the processes of Fascism and Nazism and their desire to reintroduce something in the nature of serfdom. The act to attempt to control prices of coal and petroleum contains provisions that infringe on civil rights. Ways will unquestionably be found to test the powers of the province in this regard in the courts of the land."

No wave on the great ocean of time, when once it has floated past us, can be recalled. All we can do is to watch the new form and motion of the next, and launch upon it to try, in the manner our best judgment may suggest, our strength and skill.—Gladstone.

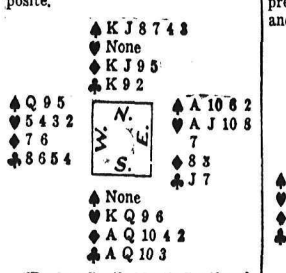
CONTRACT BRIDGE

As Written by SHEPARD BARCLAY

A SAD CALAMITY

ONE OF THE sadest calamities that can befall a strong side is to have the bidding drop at less than game when there is a slam in the cards. Upon rare occasions, this is difficult to avoid by even the best bidding, but most of the time the disaster is blameable upon one partner or the other. Usually it is due to the negligence of one, who fails to realize that he is in possession of knowledge about the great strength of his side, whereas his partner doesn't know certain salient points about the hand opposite.



(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

Over South's 1-Diamond bid, North responded with 1-Spade and East went to 2-Hearts, which South doubled. North now rebid his spades and South bid 3-Clubs. When North took this to 3-Diamonds, South passed. Seven-Diamonds was made on the hand.

South was perfectly right in his severe criticism of North's bidding. South had bid diamonds, doubled hearts and later bid clubs. It should have been clear to North that South held five diamonds, four or five clubs and three or four hearts. With four trumps in the North hand to take care of heart ruffs, if needed, and a filler for the club suit, North's bid should have been 4-Diamonds and the slam could have been reached. However, South read North's bid of 3-Diamonds as merely showing a preference for that suit over clubs and decided to drop the bidding.

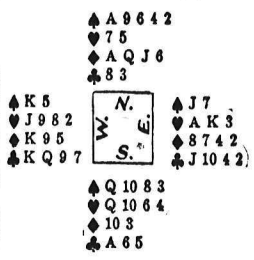
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable.)

How should South play for 4-Spades on this deal after the lead of the club K?

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

COMPULSORY INSURANCE

While drunkenness at the wheel and excessive speed are the main causes of automobile accidents, dilapidated, worn-out cars operating on the highways also contribute a quota of death and injury.

Not until insurance is made as compulsory as a licence and driving permit can it be considered that all possible steps toward safety in respect to mechanical fitness of motor cars have been taken. The man who is not able to afford to maintain a car in good condition and who cannot afford insurance ought not to have the privilege of driving.—Toronto Telegram.

This column of questions and answers is open to any reader of the Nelson Daily News. In no case will the name of the person asking the question be published.

Phone, Nelson—When was Lloyd George born?

Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George was born in Manchester in 1863.

W.E., Trail—How long has Six-day bike racing been a favorite sport in the countries that have promoted it at times? What is the record of Reggie McNamara and how old was he when he retired?

The first International six-day bike race was run in Madison Square Garden (New York) in 1891. From then until 1899 it was a single affair. McNamara was on championship teams in 1918, 1922, 1924, 1926, and 1927. Believe McNamara was between 45 and 50 when he retired but no definite information is available.

R.A.M., Ymir—Is aluminum paint a suitable finish to use on the inside of vessels used for bread and cake containers?

Believe this to be suitable for the purpose you mention.

Z.Y.X., Nelson—Can you tell me when X-rays were discovered and by whom?

The X-rays were discovered in 1895 by Professor Wilhelm Konrad Roentgen, of the University of Wurzburg; the name being given by him to signify that the ultimate nature of the radiation was unknown, X being a letter that is commonly used in algebraic operations to represent an unknown quantity.

before the evening was over, cutting out one of Andy Fuller's to do it, and I could see that he was seething.

I did not go back in Andy's car. Olga asked me to ride with her. She thought, I am sure, that she was being kind to me, and that I felt as alien as she among those merrymakers. She could not know I was at last recklessly one of them; that the Puritan in me had succumbed to the Pagan; that I meant to grasp at happiness, at whatever sacrifice of previous scruples. I wanted to drink life from a brimming cup.

I am afraid I was not very good company. My thoughts were with Mimi on that front seat with Andy Fuller, and I wondered what he was saying.

When at last we reached the camp, it was after 2 o'clock. I had expected, of course, that we would go at once to bed, but I did not know the nocturnal habits of Olga's guests.

"We can sleep in the morning," Lionel told me, "and they want the play, Jerry.'

I found that "they' meant, specifically, Katherine Merrill and Stiles Sanderson. They represented, it seemed, the literary element in Lionel's list of acquaintances. Stiles had written some verse which had been published in magazines of the better class, Katherine had tried to write, and having failed to do anything significant, she won a reputation for brilliancy by her ruthless criticism of the work of others.

Hume School Pupils Bring Term to Close in Fine Christmas Concert

Dramatizations, Plays Dances Find Spot on Program

Christmas and the Yuletide spirit was predominant in the themes of the plays, songs, drills and dances embodied in the two-hour Christmas concert presented Thursday afternoon by Hume school pupils in the school auditorium, thus marking an official close to the first term.

Gay and fitting costuming, prepared through the cooperation of parents and teachers, added greatly to the entertainment. Directing of the various parts of the concert was done entirely by the teachers, each class preparing at least one item of the program. Miss Greta Curwen and George Wallach of the teaching staff were joint chairmen, while Hanna Busk was announcer.

A pleasing tableau by three of Miss A. Jerome's class, Robina Daye as Miss Canada, Barbara Hamer and Margaret Arnott as flag bearers, accompanying the singing of "O Canada", opened the program. A welcome was extended to the hall-filling crowd through a recitation by Anna Jane Kraft, Derek Jepson and Douglas Jackson.

Highlighting the entertainment were three plays "A Christmas Miracle" by Mr. Wallach's Grade IV. pupils and "King Cole's Reception" by Miss A. Olson's pupils, and "A Strike In Santa Claus Land" by Miss Connie Smith's pupils, together with two nursery rhyme dramatizations of "Little Miss Muffett" and "Hickory, Dickory Dock."

THREE PLAYS

Characters of the play "A Christmas Miracle" were: Eva Holm, the Spirit of Christmas; Jack Glover, Stanley Triggs, Gordon Jepson, Ken Wanbig, Harold Rowley, Douglas Morris, Joe Nemeth, and Fred Brett, Frost Spirits; Audrey Maxwell, Ruth Balding, Irene Linus, Rose Ferguson, Candles; Merian Armstrong, Aileen Cathers, Carmen Fletcher, Joan Annable, Louise Bjertness and Edith Wesley, Tinsels; Ivey Cote, Peggy Wood, Lois Whimster, Delores Ward and Delores Smith, Dolls; Katherine Clarke, a Fir Tree; Gordon Leask, Ice King; and Dick McInnes, Elf Spirit.

A duet "Away in a Manger" by Fay Johnson and Ester Brodie; a solo "Come Upon a Midnight Clear" by Eva Holm; and the singing of "Jingle Bells" by the Frost Spirits and of "Holy Night, Peaceful Night" by the Helpers were all included in this play.

Parts in "King Cole's Reception" were taken as follows: Douglas Smith, King Cole; Billy Walley, Clifford Underwood, and Johnny Lemming, Fidlers; Lawrence Webster, Baker; Louise Hendricks, Man and Wife; Irene Freed, Old Woman in a Shoe; Allan Silverwood, Lillian Anderson, Mary Arnott, Bob Huyk and Helen Sindel, Children; Carol Fetterley, Bo Peep; Myrtle Liness, Mother Hubbard; Denis Kraft and Joan Phillefent, Jack and Jill; Levina Stillwell, Mistress Mary; David Townsend, Jack Horner; Joan Hunter, Miss Muffett, and Glenys Mancell, Mother Goose.

Special entertainment in the play was supplied by Billy Walley in a fine violin solo "Pop Goes The Weasel" and by Clifford Underwood in a mouth organ solo "Isle of Capri."

SANTA IN TROUBLE

Troubles of a sick Santa when his workers went on strike were excellently portrayed in a cute play "A Strike in Santa Claus Land." Characters were Douglas Abbey, Santa; Hazel Nelson, Mrs. Santa; Jimmy Butler, Doctor; Laurie Johnson, Colleen Fletcher, Jack Morris, Ruth Purney, Colleen Reid, Helpers; Pat Hunter, Fairy Youngheart, and Joan Dawson, a Mortal.

The primary tots in the nursery rhyme dramatization were especially pleasing. Characters of the nursery favorite "Hickory, Dickory Dock," were Karin Franklin, Betty Spiers, Betty Horbath, Rosemary Phillefent, Alice May Harlow and Dona Sanft, Clocks; Billy Hunter, Jimmy Gold, Ted Annable, George Sutcliffe, Val Pretney and Fred Johnson, Mice.

Cast of the "Little Miss Muffet" dramatization was: Margaret Arnott, Sheila Hicks, Muriel Hesse, Joyce Dolhquist, Maxine Staples, Joyce Clark, Barbara Hamer and Sylvia Fetterley, Miss Muffets, and Gordon Felty, Bill Hunter, Ted Annable, Bob Jacobson, Fred Johnson, Keith Stainton and Welden Reid, Spiders.

TAP DANCE IS FEATURE

Featuring the drill "Come Let's Play We're Indians" was a smart tap dance by Gilford Brett and vocal solos by Pat Carew and George Butler.

Characters in the drill were Robert Pitts, Blanche Poulsen, Ernest Briad, Anna Jane Kraft, Bill Ferguson, Richard Talbot, Beverley Ure, Douglas Jackson, Keith Buchard, Graham Dawson, Rollie Darough, Grace Jepson, Donald Anderson, Gordon Hillyard and Carol Potter.

FOLK DANCES

Delightful entertainment was provided through a group of difficult national folk dances. These included the Crested Hen, Danish dance; the French Minuet, the Kamarinska, Russian dance; the Kiderpotha, Kul Densen, Swedish dances, and the Vinyard dance. Excellent costumes were a feature of this entertainment.

The dancers were Elmer Hansen, Arthur Andrew, Delores Johanssen and Dorothy Walace for the Russian dance: Jeannie Pederson, Pat Edwards, Audrey Greer, D. Desireau, Ronald Musfelt and Lawrence Hansen for the French Minuet; Douglas Armstrong, Howie Desireau, Harry Golz, R. Hall, Fred Leeming, Maurice Renwick, Billie Towley, Jack Burgoyne, George Morgan, D. Desireau, Douglas McLean, Jennie Donaldson and Bill Jackman for the Vinyard dance; and May Axelson, Douglas Armstrong, Lillian Ball, Edna Bradford, Allan Clarke, Howie Desireau, Harry Golz, Raymond Hall, Elmer Hamson, Betty Hilton, Doreen Jackman, Sonja Jansrud, Thelma McEwan, George Morgan, Jenny Pederson, Maurice Renwick, Helen Spiers, Kathleen Stefanac, Elsie Thomas, Bill Towley, Don Virtue, Ruth Lindille and Doreen Doerr.

"Come All Ye Faithful" and "The Santa Claus Express" sung by the choirs of Grades III. and IV. brought seasonal close to the program.

Mrs. James Fraser and Mrs. Ruby M. Young were accompanists for the various musical selections.

In addition to the performers an essential part was played by three boys, Fred Brown and Telford Oliver, who handled the curtains, and the cashier, Jim Coleman.

No More Dance Pick-Ups for Toronto Girls, Says Board

TORONTO, Dec. 17 (CP).—Toronto police commission is putting a double check on young ladies at public dances. A bylaw compels them to have a male escort to gain admittance, but many girls "pick up" eligibles at the front door. The commission has amended the bylaw to provide a chaperone at each hall to make sure there are no more pick-ups.

Laurier's Birthplace as National Shrine; Care for Macdonald's Grave

OTTAWA, Dec. 17 (CP)—The government has purchased the birthplace of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at St. Lin, Que., and created a fund for perpetual care of Sir John A. MacDonald's grave at Cataraque, Ont., it was announced today by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Sir Wilfrid's birthplace will be retained as a national possession and a shrine to the memory of the French-Canadian leader who was prime minister from 1896 to 1911.

Sir John MacDonald, Canada's first prime minister after Confederation, was born in Scotland but emigrated to Kingston, Ont., as a boy.

The prime minister issued his statement from his residence, Laurier House, where Sir Wilfrid lived for many years. It read as follows:

"I am pleased to be able to announce that, with the unanimous approval of the members of the historic sites and monuments board of Canada, the government has authorized the minister of mines and resources to acquire, as a national possession, the birthplace of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, located in the village of St. Lin, Quebec, and, with the approval of the board of directors of the Cataraqui Cemetery company, to create a trust fund to provide perpetual care for the plot in the cemetery of the village of Cataraque, Ontario, where Sir John A. MacDonald is buried.

In view of their national historical importance, I am sure the people of Canada will welcome provision being made for the pepetual care of the burial place of Sir John A. MacDonald and for the preservation of the birthplace of Sir Wilfrid Laurier."

Mexico to Restrict Activities of Foreigners to Very Few Lines

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 17 (AP)—Legislation designed to tighten restrictions on foreigners in Mexico and end what some Mexicans call "forced servitude imposed by foreign economic power," was well on its way to approval by the chamber of deputies today.

The bill would require, among other things:

1. That Mexico be zoned into regions where foreigners might, or might not, live.

2. That the commercial activities in which foreigners might engage be limited to agricultural and industrial production and the export trade.

3. That the executive fix the maximum percentage of foreign-controlled enterprise to be permitted in Mexican commerce and industry, and that properties of all over that number be confiscated and given to workers' cooperatives.

WOOLWORTH HEIRESS HAS TAX OFFICIALS WORRIED

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—Renunciation of United States citizenship by the Countess Haugwitz von Reventlow, heiress to the Woolworth five-and-10 cent store millions, set tax authorities to wondering today whether she will escape heavy taxation in her native country.

Persons familiar with Danish law observed although taxes in Denmark are generally higher than in the United States, the former Barbara Hutton, who recently inherited $40,000,000, has been automatically a Danish subject since her second marriage and had little opportunity of escaping taxation there.

Make Sure the Kiddies Know It's Christmas

If at this forthcoming Christmas season there is nothing in a home but the bare necessities for living—a loaf of bread, a little sugar, some tea and half a pound of butter—how are the children to know that it is Christmas. Except, of course, that they will see their neighbors having a good time. Here is where the Nelson and District Christmas Cheer fund steps in. It sends to some homes some of those delicacies which are such an essential part of the celebration of Christmas. Gifts sent by the fund are not expensive, but the total amount of money involved is large. At least $1500 is needed this year. It can only come from those of us who are fortunate enough to have a dollar or two to spare. Every dollar will help to make some family happy. Please send contributions early.

Please send contributions to President John Draper, W. E. Wasson, City Clerk; The Royal Bank of Canada or the Daily News.

JOE DOG'S CHRISTMAS

How's your dog going to fare this Christmas? Haven't forgotten him, have you? Why not give him something new this year? He may like it a lot. Some dogs are awfully vain, and they'll strut around like everything if they have a new collar!

A collar is one thing that isn't very often replaced. Of course, the little lap dogs that are fussed over all the time get new collars and leashes very often. But the average dog—just old Joe Dog himself—has to put up with the same collar for years and years.

Or maybe you'll like to change from a collar to a harness. If so, you want to get the advice of a good kennel man. If he knows much about different breeds of dogs, he'll be able to tell you what is just right for yours.

Short-haried dogs, the size of an airedale or smaller, can have a flat collar, as wide as looks well on their neck. A Doberman's traditional neckwear is a necklace of steel, looped over the neck to form a choke-collar when the outer ring is pulled.

A new collar will make your dog's Christmas merry.

Long-haired dogs usually have round collars. Small dogs have harnesses more often than not.

OTHER GOOD GIFTS

Then there are feed dishes you can get your pets—the kind that won't tip over or break. And combs and brushes for their pelts. Or perhaps you'd prefer a sleeping mat that gives off a pleasant aroma and kills fleas.

A supply of a different brand of dog food would be a welcome change. But don't stock up with it too heavily if you aren't sure your dog likes that particular mixture.

Rubber bones and rubber balls for him to play with are swell. Or a new leash. Or a long light chain for tying him out of doors on fine days. Oh, there are all sorts of good things for Joe Dog's Christmas.

Merry Christmas, everybody! See you next year!

Fish Captured in Ancient Swamps Run Modern Autos, Heat Houses

Palatial steamers that cross the sea at record speeds, automobiles which afford Sunday excursions to thousands of people, the very warmth of many homes on cold winter days—all of these luxuries we owe to fish captured in salty swamps which existed long ago. Some were formed over one hundred million years ago, and others are as modern as six million years ago.

These salt marshes preserved and changed the oil of sea plants and animals for us. Buried in the crust of the earth is the crude oil which we inherit from them, to use in a thousand different ways.

In every geological age (and geological ages are counted in millions of years) until as recently as six million years ago, there have been sea animals and plants that have, somehow been cut off from the great ocean in which they originally lived, and left to perish in some drying bay, which, sooner or lattr, became only a salty marsh.

UNDER GREAT PRESSURE

These animals and plants were covered with layers of sand and mud; slowly, of course, because the land was settling slowly, and gradually the layers got heavier and heavier, pressing down much harder on the dead plants and animals below.

Whenever it happened that a layer of limestone or of some other hard rock was slowly formed above the mud, there was no escape for the oil which was all that was left of the plants and animals. It was caught under the heavy pressure, to stay for millions of years until we humans, walking about on the upper film of the earth's crust, drilled down with wells to let it up.

Now, when we drill our oil wells in Pennsylvania or Texas or California or any other place, we find that there are two kinds of crude oil. One, we say, has a paraffin base. The other is said to have an asphalt base. The lighter colored oils— amber and red and brown—are generally the paraffin oils. The black crude oil contains asphalt.

BOTH ARE VALUABLE

Both kinds are valuable because of the many things we make of them.

When the paraffin oil is boiled, the first thing that boils up from it is naptha. When it gets hotter and boils harder, gasoline is boiled off —first the 'high test' and then the low. Then kerosene, and last of all paraffin.

This kind of oil is found in large quantities in Pennsylvania.

When the asphalt oil is boiled, much the same thing happens. Only there is less naptha and gasoline and kerosene and there is more of the sort of oil which is used for lubricating. In the end, asphalt is left.

Much of the crude oil found in the west has as asphalt base.

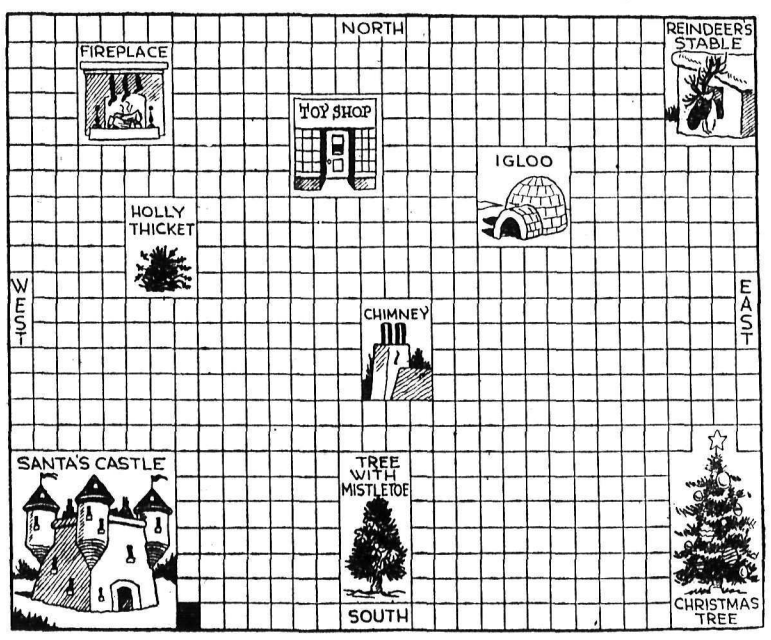
You'll Have to 'Know the Answers' If You Hope to Locate Lost Toys



Santa Claus is in serious trouble! It's almost time to start his annual toy-distributing trip, and he can't find his pack anywhere. Perhaps you can help him, and have a lot of fun doing it.

Study the chart carefully—it contains a number of different places where the pack might be hidden. You must start your hunt for it at the black square beside Santa's castle, and if you make no mistakes in following directions, you'll find it for him.

North, south, east and west are marked on the chart. In going northeast, for example, you move diagonally to the right and upward. Each square represents one pace. All set? Let's go!

DIRECTIONS

From the starting point, go north as many paces as there are points on a Christmas star.

Next, if mistletoe has red berries, go east seven paces. If not, go northeast five paces.

Now go northwest as many paces as the difference between the number of days in December and the number in February.

If eight times six is more than nine times five, go north ten paces. If not, go south, ten paces.

Go east as many paces as there are cookies in a baker's dozen.

Go southeast as many paces as there are ounces in half a pound of mince meat.

Go south as many paces as there are consonants in BETHLEHEM.

If winter began officially on December 1, go south ten paces. If not, go southwest nine paces.

If the next leap year will come in 1940, go north 15 paces. If not, go west 12 paces.

There—did you find Santa's pack? Better look at the answer elsewhere on this page and make sure that you're right.

Terror in the Old Mill

By W. BOYCE MORGAN

Buzz Thompson and Jimmy Lane both have older sisters. Vi Thompson is an officer in a high school sorority, and Sylvia Lane is about to be initiated to it. Buzz and Jimmy are very much annoyed when a meeting of the sorority at Buzz's house keeps them from playing table tennis. Believing that the girls are planning a rough outdoor initiation such as has been prohibited by the school authorities, and eager to "get something on" their sisters, they steal into the house and listen in on part of the meeting. They learn that the girls are going to take the pledges out to an old mill on the Frankville road, and that some of them don't expect Sylvia Lane to stand up under the terrifying ordeal. The boys decide to throw a scare into the sorority members by visiting the mill first and hanging a dummy to one of the rafters. The next morning they get together the materials for the dummy and ride out to the mill on their bicycles. While they are working busily in the gloomy old building, they suddenly look up, to find a rough-looking man staring at them.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

* * *

INSTALLMENT III

Buzz and Jimmy were both too startled to speak. The man stared at them for a moment longer, then shuffled slowly forward.

"Whatcha doing?" he demanded gruffly.

"Noth-nothing," Buzz managed to gulp. "I mean we - we're just sort of fixing up a dummy, sort of."

The man grunted. Then his hand darted forward, and he snatched up the coat which Jimmy had been stuffing. He pulled the rags out of the sleeves and flung them on the floor. Then he took off his own ragged coat and tried on the other. Satisfied, he glanced around until his eyes lit on the hat which Buzz had been fastening to the top of the false face. He examined it, yanked it loose, and put it on, tossing his own battered hat on the floor.

"Thanks for the clothes, kids," he said, with a mirthless smile. Then he turned and shuffled out the door of the mill.

"Who-who do you suppose he was?" Buzz whispered after a moment.

"Just a tramp, I guess," said Jimmy, scrambling to his feet. "Let's see where he goes."

They hurried to the door of the mill, and watched their visitor walking down the road toward the highway.

"Gee, I'm glad he didn't steal our bicycles," Buzz exclaimed thankfully.

They walked back and surveyed their dummy. The coat and hat which the tramp had left behind could be used just as well as the one he had taken, so they set to work once more. But the meeting had made them a little nervous, and they kept glancing up as they stuffed gether. Finally Buzz got to his feet. the garments and fastened them to-

"I guess that will do in the dark," he said. "I'd just as soon get out of here, anyway, I don't like this place much."

"Neither do I," replied Jimmy, "Shall we try hanging it up with the rope, to see how it looks?"

Buzz agreed. They searched until they found a box, then fastened the rope over a rafter. When they had tied the other end to the dummy. it swung a foot off the floor. They moved to the door of the mill and examined it from that distance.

"Whoopsie!" exclaimed Buzz. "It looks real enough to scare anybody And those girls will probably be sort of half-scared already, just from coming out to this place."

Jimmy agreed. He suggested that they leave the rope on the rafter, merely hiding the dummy. This they did, and a few minutes later they were on their way back to town, pedalling briskly to get warm again after their chilly stay in the old mill.

They arranged to meet right after supper on Monday night. It would take them a little while to get out to the old mill, and they wanted to be sure to be there before the girls arrived.

Jimmy could hardly conceal the excitement he felt as he sat at the family supper table on Monday. Sylvia, sitting across the table from him, was eating hardly anything. Her father noticed it.

"What's the matter with you, Sylvia?" he inquired. "You're as pale as a ghost. Are you sick?"

"Oh, she's all right," Mrs. Lane replied. "She's just nervous about this sorority initiation tonight."

"A little initiation is nothing to worry about," Mr. Lane grunted. At that, Jimmy could hardly resist the temptation to say, "Oh, yeah?"

As for Buzz, he watched Vi closely during the evening meal at the Thompson house. A little earlier Vi had been holding many mysterious telephone conversations, and when her mother asked her what it had all been about, she would only say that it was sorority business.

"Yes, and what a business!" Buzz said to himself. "You and your gang are all set to have a big laugh, but the laugh's going to be on you! Just wait until you get a look at our dead man, hanging from a rafter."

LOUIS' FAILURE TO K.O. FARR IS RATED THE YEAR'S BIGGEST UPSET

Newark Bears' "Little World Series" Coup, After Losing Three Straight Games, Is Chosen as Baseball's Big Surprise

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—For the second straight year, Joe Louis and Minnesota's football team figured in the events that caused the biggest surprise among United States sports-writing experts.

Although carrying nothing like the impact of Max Schmeling's knockout of Louis, which was rated the biggest surprise package of 1936, the Brown Bomber's failure to do better than outpoint Tommy Farr in their 15-round heavyweight title match last August was rated the year's No. 1 upset.

Sentiment expressed in the seventh annual Associated Press sports poll was divided between surprise over Farr's good showing and the negro's inability to land so much as a knockdown punch. Pooled together, however, the expert views combined 18 first-places votes and a top rating of 83 points, tabulated on a 3-2-1 basis, for the bout.

FOOTBALL SURPRISES

Football surprises, as usual, covered a wide range but not even subsequent developments minimized the general view Minnesota's team was the victim of the season's biggest upset when beaten early in October by Nebraska. Eleven experts put this result at the top of their list and it took second place in the poll with 52 points.

The pennant victory of the New York Giants, the poll revealed, was the source of more eyebrow-lifting than their semi-collapse against the Yankees in the world series, but the Newark Bears were credited with producing baseball's biggest surprise when they came from behind to take the last four games of a seven-game "little world series" from Columbus.

Outstanding individual upsets, in the experts' opinion, were sprung in women's tennis by Chile's diminutive Anita Lizana in stroking her way to the United States singles title at Forest Hills in September.

YOU CAN BE SURE OF FIGHT

There's one thing of which Kootenay hockey fans can be certain, and this is that when Rossland and Nelson teams get together they'll see two teams which will not, from beginning to end of the game, cease battling for goals. That's a lot to say about any team, and it carries a lot of weight at the box office.

Few things in the sport world offer more to the fan than a fighting team, particularly if it is fighting against odds. And to watch the individual members of such a team as they take part in an uphill fight, to watch a team being welded and built into a unit, are among the intimate privileges of home towners. To watch the sponsors of such a team in their work is a privilege accorded only a few.

It's easy to be a knocker, it's easy to make comparisons, and it's easy to tell the other fellow what he should do. But none of these things are important in the final anlysis.

* * *

NELSON FANS ARE HISTORICAL

Nelson fans who have been rather disappointed in the showing of the club to date, particularly those with long memories, are recalling the Kootenay hockey circuit of last season. Nelson didn't win a game until January 1, and lost quite a few in a row after that, but when the boys finally got the breaks, they really capitalized on them.

Beverley Baxter informs us that the past is parent to the future. He's hardly a hockey writer, but his words are worth reading, marking and inwardly digesting just at this time.

Maple Leafs are losing games just now, but they're still fighting, and if they keep on fighting they'll get a break eventually.

Rossland Sport Spot

By M. W.

Rossland, B. C.,
Dec. 16, 1937.

In attempting to supply you good readers with sport news, etc., my one chance of success lies in the fact that I have purchased a "Reporter's Typewriter", which always pounds out good news regardless of what I have doped out beforehand. Which reminds me that practically every man on the Rossland Miners hockey team is wearing a C. C. M. "backchecking" outfit this season as an added assurance of winning games. They received them just in time for last Tuesday's game with Nelson.

WAIT TILL MINERS GET ICE

You sport fans who received such a surprise last Tuesday night when Rossland beat Nelson, last year's B. C. hockey champs, probably can't quite figure how it happened. I was there with the Miners and can only say that the 10-1 defeat they suffered at the hands of the Smoke Eaters was a very poor indication of their true hockey ability, team work and determination to carry out Rene Morin's orders. The boys were not in shape, and won't be till ice is available in Rossland, but once they get a good week's practice they'll be the worry of every club in the league.

Nelson is scheduled to play here Saturday, December 18, and the game should be a real treat to Rossland fans if played, but if the warm weather continues the game will likely be played elsewhere. The scheduled game with Lethbridge, Monday, December 20, will be played in Rossland or Trail as weather permits. . . Heard Morin making arrangements with Bill Ramsay of the Trail rink in case the game had to be played there. After the telephone conversation, all Rene could say was that they certainly had the right man looking after the shekels at the Trail rink. . . Nevertheless a practice was arranged for after the Trail-Nelson game.

Rumors that the teams in the West Kootenay Hockey league would be permitted to use three forward lines were quashed when A. W. McDonald, president of the B. C. A. H. A. ruled that C. A. H. A. rules would prevail; that is, 12 men in uniform, including an extra goalie.

C. U. Doughty of Lethbridge, official scorer for the W. K. H. L., thinks it would be a good idea if he were able to make the trip around the circuit with the Lethbridge club and get acquainted with the scores in each city. . . Unfortunately funds of the league do not permit it at this time. . . Lou Crowe is official scorer for hockey games played in Rossland.

SECTIONAL PLAYOFFS

A play-off system has been submitted for the approval of the W. K. H. L. clubs. . . It is planned to group Rossland, Nelson and Trail in the east section, and Kimberley, Coleman and Lethbridge in, the west section. . . Top two teams in each section playing off. . . The winners of the east section meeting the winners of the west section for the B. C. championship. . . , all the games played throughout the schedule to count for sectional standing. Coleman and Lethbridge being under the B. C. A. H. A. jurisdiction for this season by an agreement between the B. C. and Alberta associations.

A junior hockey league is being mooted to take in Rossland, Trail and Nelson. The juniors around these parts are not receiving the support needed to bring up younger players. If you check over the names of the players on the West Kootenay teams you will notice that the majority are players from the prairie provinces, where a lot of consideration is given to midget, juvenile and junior hockey. . . I believe that if a junior league were organized this winter, it would win real favor with the hockey fans. Rossland has prospects of a strong junior team, coached by Rene Morin and it is rumored that Scotty Ross's juniors might provide some good opposition for the Rossland juniors.

CANADIAN AIRMAN KILLED IN ENGLAND

CHICHESTER, Sussex, Dec. 17 (CP Cable). — Flight Lieut. Harry Hamilton Peack, Montreal, and Sergeant Robert Patten from Sussex, were killed today when two planes collided in mid-air near Stanstey park, estate of the Earl of Bessborough, former governor-general of Canada.

Then men were attached to No. 1 fighting squadron at Tangmere, Hampshire. Peack was one of the two officers selected in 1935 by the Royal Canadian Air force to qualify for permanent commissions with the Royal Air force.

Nelson-Rossland Game Postponed

Scheduled Rossland-Nelson Kootenay Hockey league game slated for Rossland ice tonight and proposed for Nelson ice, has been indefinitely postponed. It will probably be played after the New Year, stated R. E. Crerar, Nelson Maple Leafs business manager, Friday night.

December 23 has been suggested by Frank Coates, league president, for the game.

Rossland is without ice and with Lethbridge due on West Kootenay ice next week, necessitating Rossland playing its game with Lethbridge at Trail, it was felt there would be too many games in a short period on one sheet. With Nelson ice already taken, postponement was the next course.

Indian Broom to Face Stiff Test

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17 (CP)—Indian Broom, owned by Major Austin C. Taylor of Vancouver, and holder of the world record for 1⅛ mile, gets one of the major tests of his career tomorrow in the $10,000 added San Francisco handicap.

The Broom, as the awkward-looking horse is known to turfdom, will share favoritism in the classic with Amor Brujo, South American thoroughbred whose racing speed has provoked a controversy through comparison with the best in the United States.

The black thunderbolt from Uruguay will pack top weight of 125 pounds in the 1 1-6 mile race which completes the fall racing season at Tanforan track. Indian Broom will carry 118, the same poundage assigned to King Saxon, king of American milers in 1935.

With Indian Broom as the A. C. T. stock farm entry will be Whichee, carrying 100 pounds.

GLASGOW, Dec. 17 (CP Cable)—Wintry conditions prevailing throughout Scotland threaten many soccer matches scheduled for tomorrow. Postponements are likely to be more numerous than last Saturday when play was impossible in 11 Scottish league matches.

PATRICK SPURNS $20,000 OFFER FOR SON LYNN

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (CP) — For the present at least, Lester Patrick made known tonight, the hockey stars of New York Rangers are going to stay in the blueshirt livery.

This was the way in which he countered an offer from Toronto Maple Leafs of $20,000 for the services of young Lynn Patrick, the sharp-shooting left winger who spark-plugged Rangers to a National Hockey league victory over New York Americans last night.

Conny Smythe, chief of the Maple Leaf outfit, made the offer. He went $5000 over the bid he made a year ago for the youthful son of the Ranger mentor. But Patrick would have none of it.

DALES BATTLE ITALOS TODAY

HAMILTON, Ont., Dec. 17 (CP)—They are still playing football here though the bewhiskered Mr. Claus must be about ready to hitch those reindeer to his sleigh. A mythical Canadian championship will be the stake tomorrow for Regina Dales and Hamilton Italo-Canadians.

Despite the junior final lacking Canadian Rugby Union recognition as for a Dominion title, it's unlikely anyone would care to argue that the winners haven't the right to call themselves Canadian champions. The C. R. U. quit sponsoring inter-sectional junior finals several years ago.

Dales, 24 strong, arrived today and it wasn't long before the Reginans were cavorting around the rugby field under the watchful eye of Coach Paul Dojack.

MONTAGUE TO GOLF AT COAST

VANCOUVER, Dec. 17 (CP)—F. A. Musgrave, sports promoter, announced here today he had John Montague, "mystery man of golf," under contract for a tour of British Columbia and United States Pacific coast.

BUDDY BAER TRIMS HOGAN

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—Buddy Baer, younger of the fighting California brothers, moved nearer a fight with champion Joe Louis tonight by knocking out young Eddie Hogan of Waterbury, Conn., in the third round of their 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden. Baer scaled 243 to 222½ for Hogan.

FIGHTS

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — Nathan Mann, 188½, New Haven, knocked Chicago (3).

TACOMA, Wash.—Mike Kanskie, 155, Fargo, N.D., and Bobby Collins, 149, Portland, Ore., drew.

Lewis Beats Risko

McCabe Scores a Century, Adelaide

ADELAIDE, Dec. 17 (CP Cable)—A sparkling century by Stanley McCabe featured the opening day's play in the Sheffield shield cricket match between New South Wales and South Australia here today.

At the close of play the visiting team had compiled 292 runs for six wickets. McCabe hit up 106 in a faultless innings that lasted two hours and 26 minutes.

Restored Skull of "First Woman" Now in America

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (CP)—First reconstruction of the entire skull of an adult woman belonging to the race of Peking Oan, with evidence to support the claim this human prototype is the oldest known ancestor of modern man, was revealed today when the restored skull of the "Anthropological Eve" arrived unobtrusively in the workshops of the American museum of natural history.

The Peking man, according to present calculations, must have lived about 500,000 years ago.

The skull of this "first woman" was brought here by Dr. Trevor Bowen, controller of the Peiping Union Medical college, Peiping, China, who will officially present it to Dr. William K. Gergory, authority on comparative anatomy and the origin of man and curator in this field at the American museum.

Reconstruction of the bony structure of the entire head makes it possible at last to model the facial features, so man will be able to see what his earliest known ancestors looked like.

The Duke and Duchess of Manchester were among the passengers left standing on the pier amid heaps of baggage.

Hepburn Raps Premier King for His "Made-in-Washington" Power Ideas

TORONTO, Dec. 17 (CP).—Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario charged today that "made-in-Washington" policy of the Dominion government, designed to force Ontario into supporting the St. Lawrence waterways development scheme, was responsible for the province's inability to export power to the United States.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King, asserted the premier, was "still licking his wounds from personal defeats suffered in Ontario." He charged an agreement existed between Ottawa and Washington that Ontario would not be allowed to divert more water at Niagara Falls until the province becomes a party to the St. Lawrence development.

Mr. Hepburn said behind the whole scene of the disagreement between his government and Mr. King's was the desire of Ottawa to get control of succession duty collections.

Civic Political Pot Begins Boil

Waters Is Mentioned as Candidate for the Council

Nelson's civic political pot is already on the boil. Mayoralty candidates—J. P. Morgan and N. C. Stibbs, now mayor and alderman respectively—have announced themselves as candidates for the office of chief magistrate, and with a fight assured in this department, citizens are beginning to look around for aldermanic candidates.

No announcement has been made as yet by the other members of the council whose terms are expiring—Aldermen T. W. Slader and H. B. Lindsay.

Among possible candidates whose names are being mentioned is Thomas H. Waters, a former member of the council, who was unsuccessful as a mayoralty candidate a year ago. Mr. Waters is not certain as yet whether he will toss his hat in the ring.

Another name mentioned within the last day or two is that of T. J. Scanlan, a former alderman. Mr. Scanlan denied categorically Friday night that he would offer.

SHARP GAINS IN VANCOUVER OILS

VANCOUVER, Dec. 17 (CP) — Sharp gains were posted by all leading oils on Vancouver stock exchange today. Trading was confined chiefly to these stocks as transactions totalled 248,245 shares. Gold and base metal prices were firm.

Royalite led oil advances, up $3.00 at 49.00. Calgary & Edmonton was up 26 cents at 3.15, Okalta 18 at 1.93 and Home 8 at 1.54. Anglo-Canadian at 1.87 and Davies Petroleum at 52 both added 7, Dalhousie firmed 6 at 78 and Calmont 4 at 61.

Pioneer Gold was moderately active and added 7 at 3.00. Premier gained 4 at 1.92 as Reno at 59, Minto at 3 and Big Missouri at 36 held unchanged. Bralorne slipped 5 at 7.90 and Sheep Creek a cent at 92.

Base metals were dull. Pend Oreille slipped 3 at 1.95 while Grandview at 7½ at Noble Five at 2½ eased fractions. Nicola held steady at 5.

NEW YORK SLIPS

NEW YORK, Dec. 17 (AP)—Buying forces turned thumbs down on the stock market today and leading issues fell back fractions to a point or more.

It was a creeping decline, however, with transfers of 792,760 shares being the smallest for a five-hour session since December 1. They compared with 1,033,830 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off .3 of a point at 45.2.

Gold mining favorites and a handful of specialties contested the trend, but steels, motors and coppers slipped from the start.

The reversal was attributed partly to the fact that some speculative contingents cashed profits accruing in the past two recovery days. Also, further year-end tax selling dribbled into the list.

Winnipeg Wheat Prices Irregular

WINNIPEG, Dec. 17 (CP).—Increased southern hemisphere wheat shipments and lack of export interest in North American wheats brought irregular fluctuations to future on Winnipeg grain exchange today. At the end of the quiet session values were ⅛ higher to ¼ cent lower, December at $1.26⅝, May $1.17—17⅛ and July $1.11¾—⅞.

Prices moved within a two-cent range and were sensitive to varying outside market trends. After advancing about a cent on scattered continental buying wheat eased as locals liquidated in sympathy with lower Liverpool prices. The late recovery at Chicago brought futures back to previous closing levels.

Sales of Canadian wheat worked overnight were estimated at 150,000 bushels.

Liverpool closed ¾—1d lower. Buenos Aires at noon was ⅝-1 cent higher.

Cash wheat spread were unchanged though it was reported improved prices were obtainable for round lots of top-grade wheat.

Oats appeared to be going into strong hands and futures moved fractionally higher. Other coarse grains generally fluctuated within a one-cent range.

HARDWARE STORES CAN PROVIDE THOSE REALLY PERSONAL GIFTS; TOOLS, KITCHEN AIDS POPULAR

Workshop, Kitchen Gifts Reach Heart of Recipients

MANY PRESENTS FOR YOUNGSTERS

Have you ever wandered into a hardware store at the Christmas season? You'll find personal gifts for every member of the family to a degree seldom associated with hardware stores; you'll find the answer to the eternal Christmas question: "What shall I get for Dad? Mother? Sister? Brother? Aunt? Uncle? Cousin? Pal?"

For male members of the family who almost without exception, even though they give it no expression, want to "make things", nothing is quite so personal and expressive as tools. If the recipient has no tool box, he'll welcome the beginning of one. And if he already has tools, whether his equipment by meagerly or extensive, there's always something more he wants.

Today's power tools provide a field of seasonal gifts that will make almost any male sing. And if the purse won't run to drill presses, lathes or table saws, there are smaller pieces or accessories "without end".

For mother, or sister, or aunt, or girl friend—particularly if she's a very special girl friend who is looking forward to having her own kitchen—glass ovenware and cooking utensils offer choices that will reach the heart. The uses of this type of cooking utensil have gone far beyond the original ovenware. Double boilers, for instance, are new this year, as are glass percolators. Saucepans introduced a year ago are still popular. And, of course, for the modern home there are many kinds of refrigerator dishes that will be really useful.

Many wives today make a practice of buying tools for their menfolk, and the men of giving "kitchen tools" to their ladies. It's a reciprocal business, and a fine idea.

LIMITLESS CHOICES

And if perhaps one's preferences are not in these directions, hardware stores offer many more choices: Lamps lighted by electricity or by kerosene or gasoline for those friends in the country; silverware, the increasingly popular coffee "drips"; fishing rods; guns; sporting equipment of all kinds; thermos jugs; clocks of a dozen descriptions; and dozens of other articles that for someone will "just hit the spot".

Hardwaremen state that at Christmas one of the most popular lines for youngsters is scooters, tricycles, wagons and so on. More of these are sold than sleighs, skis or other winter equipment, excepting possibly skates. Badminton and tennis racquets appeal to all ages, as do sports accessories, kitchen aids, sitting room odds and ends, workshop equipment—there's almost no limit to the choices available in today's hardware store.

REDUCED TARIFF N. Z. MUTTON DETRIMENTAL TO CANADIAN BREEDERS

EDMONTON, Dec. 17 (CP).—Reduced tariffs on New Zealand lamb and mutton were detrimental to Canadian sheep breeders, E. W. Brunuden of Calgary, secretary of the Alberta co-operative council, told the Alberta Provincial Sheep Breeders association.

TORONTO GAINS

TORONTO, Dec. 17 (CP)—Selective trading on Toronto market today brought substantial gains in spots as well as sizeable recessions. Volume was the heaviest of the week at 574,000 shares.

Dome and Buffalo-Ankerite, both up ⅞ to a point, posted their top prices for the year or longer. McIntyre firmed ¾ to 39¼. Moneta hit a new high at 2.22 and it closed at 2.20 for a six-cent gain.

Nickel weakened ½ to 44½ while Smelters and Noranda firmed fractions. Sudbury Basin, Ventures and Falconbridge ruled higher.

ROWELL HEARING

power from the Saskatchewan river if the capital layout could be arranged.

It was urged to encourage use of the Hudson Bay railway and Port Churchill by recommending a temporary subsidy on marine insurance in Hudson Bay.

Premier W. J. Patterson read the commission a statement on his government's attitude, too, in the question of amalgamation of the three prairie provinces. No economies would result, he said, but it was worth serious consideration from the standpoint of "increased status" for the prairies in confederation and uniformity of legislation for the area.

SENATE REPRESENTATION "OUT OF LINE"

In suggesting "a little more" representation in the senate from western Canada, Attorney-General T. C. Davis said the distribution of members was "a little out of line" The old distribution of 24 senators from the Maritimes, 24 from Quebec, 24 from Ontario and 24 from the four western provinces was not now proportionate to population, he contended.

L. A. Thornton, chairman of the Saskatchewan Power Commission, told the commission development of power on the Saskatchewan river 200 miles north of Regina would provide a saving in power costs to municipalities outside Regina itself and in the long run would be most economical even there, where an efficient steam plant is operated by the city.

The Brahmaputra river, in India, more than 1800 miles long, is not spanned by a single bridge.
