MORE ABOUT JOHNSON TRIAL

again. You're liable to kill him," and that Johnson's reply was three clouts on his own head with the baton. He said he was stunned by the third blow, and the skin was broken.

He was then arrested by two other policemen. He did not offer any resistance to them, he said, and did not shout or swear during the incident.

Dr. L. E. Borden testified he dressed DeRosa's head after the game, putting one stitch in it. The cut covered an area about as large as a 25-cent piece. He did not notice whether DeRosa had been indulging in liquor, he said.

William G. Jones of Ymir, whose evidence took up nearly all the afternoon sitting of the court, testified he tried to help push Mason back up the stairs when Mason attempted to return to the ice sheet. He said Thomas Monkhouse, who was in the Trail party, was trying to hold Mason back.

HIT BOTH MEN

Jones said Mason slipped and fell, and the first thing he knew, Masou was hit on the head twice by Johnson. At that point, Jones continued, DeRosa appeared, bent over Mason to pick him up, and said to Johnson, "Don't hit my friend again, you'll kill him." Johnson immediately hit DeRosa on the head three or four times, the witness stated. Jones put his arm over DeRosa's head to ward off another blow he believed was coming, and was struck on the arm by the baton. The blow glanced off and hit DeRosa again on the head, drawing blood.

Acting Chief Robert Harshaw then appeared on the scene and took DeRosa by the arm, Jones, addressing Harshaw, said, "That man didn't deserve what he got. Better get him to a doctor and have him fixed up, to which Harshaw replied, "Forget it, Bill." Jones said he did not see DeRosa grab at Johnson's scarf and did not hear him use any bad language. DeRosa seemed "sober and sensible."

Cross examined by Mr. Garland, Jones said he received a telephone call from Mrs. Sangherin of Nelson, asking him to come to Nelson as Victor Fabri, who was handling DeRosa's case, wished to discuss the matter with him, and with DeRosa and Mason. They discussed the case then and again March 23.

"FEELING GOOD"

Jones said the reason he pushed Mason back up the steps was because Mason was "feeling good." When Johnson hit Mason, he had remarked: "I knew you were dirty, Bill, but I never expected that of you."

Jones said that when he was pushing Mason back up the steps and Monkhouse also was pushing Mason, Monkhouse said: "Come on with me," and Mason replied: "No, I want to go back and see that fellow."

Jones was on the stand from 2:45 to 2:55.

Following an intermission to 7:20 p.m. Monkhouse testified till 8:20 p.m. He said that the Trail party, six men, sat together at the game and that afterward they all crossed the ice to the steps near the west end exit leading on to Vernon street.

He said that someone observed while crossing the ice that made Mason want to go back on to the ice after he was on the steps.

WOULD NOT FORGET

He did not know Constable Johnson when the affair took place, but he got a good look at Johnson's face, and would not forget it because the affair was "so mean," he said.

Mason had been drinking and was "a bit tight," but could walk all right. When Johnson hit Mason the man was in a stooping position and was knocked down, Monkhouse testified. DeRosa then appeared and attempted to pick his friend up, and said to the officer, "Leave him alone, we'll look after him." Johnson's reply to the request was "the billy club" on DeRosa's head, the blood spattering on Monkhouse.

Acting Chief Harshaw appeared and told Mason and DeRosa they were under arrest. They offered no resistance.

Under cross-examination, Monkhouse said that when he got outside the arena, he raised the money to bail his friends out of jail. He and another friend went to the jail with the money. They "didn't get a very nice reception," he stated.

Creston School Built Cheaper Than Estimates

CRESTON, March 21 — Consideration of a carefully prepared statement of the general health of the pupils in Creston Consolidated School district by Dr. J. V. Murray, school health officer, who strongly recommended the employment of a school nurse commencing in September, given Hamilton, headmaster, his first session in business fashion. Chairman S. A. Speers was in charge, with Trustees E. E. Cartwright, Guy Constable and J. E. VanAckeren in attendance. Due to illness Trustee Frank H. Jackson was unable to attend.

For the high school, Principal J. S. Graham reported a February enrollment of 348, with an average daily attendance of 89.8, which was below standard due to a slight epidemic of flu. The enrollment indicated that 55 per cent of the students were from outside school districts. Mr. Graham advised high school inspector J. B. DeLong and J. E. Brown would be here in April at which time it was hoped to have a conference with the trustees.

Supervising principal E. Marriott reported a total attendance in the nine public schools of 541, an increase of four over January. The average daily attendance was 89.3, which was also low due to prevalence of colds.

L. Allison Sid Rogers, in charge at Alice Sliding and West Creston, respectively, were given leave of absence to play basketball at Kelowna, provided they secured substitutes agreeable to the supervising principal. For Thursday, April 6, a unified musical program in which pupils from all nine districts would participate would be held at the high school auditorium. It would last an hour, and enable the buses to bring the pupils in and take them home so as not to interfere with the bus schedule of the high school. Parents will be invited to attend the entertainment.

Supervising janitor, R. R. Roebuck was voted $15 for the installation of new windows at Camp Lister school at Easter. Consideration was also given to request that metal strip to provide "hoisting" for the high school stairs be procured, as the steps were already showing signs of wear and tear. About 280 lineal feet would be required, costing 50 cents a foot.

Transportation Superintendent William Upton reported one bus had been late during February, only two hours since school opened in February. During the month the highest loads from the different schools were: Wynndel 39, Huscroft 45, West Creston 15, Arrow Creek 45 and Canyon 47. The February cost per mile was 18.2 cents; cost per pupil, 19.9 cents; and 1.07 cents cost per pupil per mile.

John Hall, Jr. was assured the East Kootenay Drama association could have the auditorium for the East Kootenay dramatic festival May 25, 26 and 27, on terms to be mutually agreed upon. J. E. Healey was granted permission to use Arrow Creek school for Sunday church service. The janitors and busmen would be advised they could use the auditorium for badminton on the same terms as the teachers.

The health report by Dr. Murray was read and would be discussed with him as soon as was convenient for the health officer.

Guy Constable reported fully on his recent trip to Victoria where he was able to get a final settlement with the department regarding the 40 percent grant on the new high school. Payment, alterations, extras, ground, etc. His mission was successful and a financial statement submitted disclosed the fact that the new high school had been erected at a cost of a few thousand less than the amount voted by the ratepayers.

General accounts passed for payment, totalled $450, besides $2714 for teachers' salaries and bus drivers. It was agreed to pay Poole Construction Company, Limited, who erected the new school $2500 of a substantial "hold-back" on the contract price.

For April it was agreed to have the regular meeting the second Monday afternoon, after which it was likely evening board meetings will be resumed.

Free Speech on Air Basic Says Dilworth Trail

Politics, Religion, and Wealth Must not Control It

TRAIL, B. C., Mar. 24 — "The basic principle of the relation of radio to the Canadian experiment in democracy, to the democratic pattern of life followed by Canada is that speech over the air should be free from control by politics, religion and wealth," declared Ira Dilworth, associate professor in the department of English in the University of British Columbia, in addressing the Trail Canadian club and guests at Knox United church tonight. Mr. Dilworth, a director of the Canadian Broadcasting corporation, speaking on "Some Problems of Radio in Canada," gave a vivid outline of the many serious problems confronting the C. B. C. in its efforts to establish a harmonious, democratic and adequate broadcasting system in Canada.

"You must make radio your slave and you must make it build the system you want," he told his audience, pointing out that Canadians must build their own cultural salvation and that the radio can be made into an enriching and beautifying force in Canadian life.

GREAT MYSTERY

"Radio is the great mystery of today and we do not know exactly how to take radio into our pattern of life, but it is not in the nature of things that we as Canadians should be overcome, overwhelmed by such forces that enter our democracy," the speaker declared.

Answering the question, where and how is the proper democratic control to be set, Mr. Dilworth stated that it would not be within reason to set up a chaotic state in which every man was his own ruler, nor in the opposite extreme would sane procedure permit the establishment of bureaucracy.

A case which arose recently in Trail in regard to the former state was symptomatic of many cases which did not bring themselves so readily to public hearing, he asserted.

The C. B. C. permitted forums in which diametrically opposite views were expressed, but the commission had found that often those wishing to use the facilities of the C. B. C. were not interested in a free and frank discussion of their problem. They were interested only in forcing down the throats of the public their own personal thoughts and feelings.

Mr. Dilworth urged tolerance in the matter of programs and believed that the standard maintained by the C. B. C. would compare favorably with any other network over any given period of broadcasting.

Deeper Spirit of Worship Urged by Edmonton Pastor

Rev. Mr. McDormand Calls for Purpose in Worship

DIRECTS WORK YOUNG PEOPLE

Urging that a worshipful purpose accompany Baptist Young People and Sunday school work, and showing the means of achieving the purpose, Rev. T. B. McDormand of Edmonton, newly-appointed director of Baptist Young Peoples and Sunday school activities in western Canada, gave instructive criticism of conditions within the Baptist church when he spoke at a banquet in the First Baptist church hall Friday evening.

The speaker spoke of wholehearted cooperation evidenced in the Nelson church and the progress shown in recent building renovation. There were excellent foundations on which to build young peoples work.

Success of any organization depended largely on its purpose and its members had to look toward a bright and shining mark.

A young peoples group should be a "spiritual gymnasium" making members stronger to face temptation and developing purpose. In it they should learn how to use the Bible and about its background, and also of prayer preparation and participation. After passing from the B. Y. P. U. a youth should be ready to enter the church with executive ability.

SPIRIT OF WORSHIP

Dealing with the manner of achieving this purpose, Mr. McDormand declared the spirit of worship had to be deepened in Sunday schools and young peoples societies. Besides being beautiful, dignified and fine, worship had to stimulate the desire to serve God and must be the driving force of Christian living. Services had to be planned to achieve values. There must be careful and prayerful preparation, and careful selection of scripture readings and hymns.

Mr. McDormand especially emphasized careful organization. The weakest link was found in which one or two persons did all the work. There had to be a wide distribution of responsibilities.

The speaker conducted a brief open forum in which he gave helpful instruction on Sunday school work, especially in the teaching of small children.

PAYS TRIBUTE

Rev. Gerald M. Ward, who introduced the speaker, paid tribute to the ladies who had prepared the supper and extended congratulations on the honors recently bestowed on Einar Domei, president of the Nelson Baptist Young Peoples society, and John Worthington, who would meet the King and Queen next month in Vancouver.

Miss Shirley Reid, in an amusing monologue of a lady at a ball game, and Robert Crerar, who gave a comical sketch of an imaginary party he attended, entertained the audience. Percy Halliwell recited a humorous toast to the workman. Tom Lawson, deacon, in an optimistic spirit told of recent work done by the church. Mrs. Eric Ramsden sang "The Old Rugged Cross." V. Crawford was chairman.

MORE ABOUT SPANISH WAR

There was no confirmation of the peace negotiations in Burgos where it was said the nationalists were ready to launch an end-the-war offensive against Madrid unless the republicans surrendered unconditionally.

Revelations of the negotiations brought Italy's territorial claims on France to the front of Europe's tense situation, since consolidation of the remaining one-fourth of Spain under Premier Mussolini, the occasion to announce Italy's plans of future action in a speech scheduled for Sunday.

Italy considers her aspirations for more space, at Franco's expense, to be next in line for satisfaction after her axis partner's absorption of Czechoslovakia and Memel.

Britain and France were believed anxious to handle the matter of Italian claims without complications in their efforts to bring Soviet Russia and Poland into an anti-aggression coalition.

St. Noel Charles, British chargé d'affaires called on Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano yesterday. It was presumed to have no effect on Prime Minister Chamberlain's assurance that Britain was not going to set up a democratic bloc against dictators.

Mussolini said such an attempt had failed, leaving only a plan for collective condemnation of Germany's methods of acquiring territory.

The authoritative Fascist writer, Virginia Gayda, said creation of a power "bloc" encircling the totalitarian powers had failed because countries around Germany "declined the invitation."

Reeve Solomon Mussaell of Maple Ridge sponsored the resolution dealing with cost of education and warned "the time is coming when land cannot stand the burden of taxation any longer."

"If taxation continues at the present rate I doubt if 50 per cent of the municipalities will survive," he said.

Lang Sands of the Abbotsford board of trade secured support for a resolution which condemned loan companies for refusing to finance houses in rural areas under the National Housing act and demanded that the Dominion government make the money available directly.

HOME SHORTAGE

"As a result of the present arrangement," he said, "there is a desperate shortage of homes in the Fraser valley."

The meeting decided to refer the question of compulsory automobile insurance back to their boards for further study after hearing Captain Macgregor Macintosh, provincial Conservative organizer, urge caution in adopting the principle.

"If adopted, it should be done by established insurance companies," he said. "It will probably be a good thing in the long run but we are sure to get all the facts first. We are sure to put ourselves in the hands of another government bureau, which gives jobs to many people but is supported by the taxpayers."

Earlier President L. R. Wilson told the meeting he believed the Empire preference would make the coming season the greatest in history for export of Fraser valley berries to Great Britain.

CRESTON HOSPITAL HAS BUSY MONTH

CRESTON, B. C. — There was a fair attendance at the March meeting of Creston Hospital Women's Auxiliary in Trinity church hall, Thursday afternoon. Mrs. V. V. Shapp, president, was in charge.

The feature business was striking committees and also arranging for the hospital. Miss Irene LaBelle was named to arrange for the music.

Mrs. Messinger secured for the buying committee the Cherrington, representative of the hospital operation of the hospital.

Miss Dixon, treasurer, submitted a list of equipment that would be appreciated, including a new operating table and a sterilizer for the instruments.

The tea hostesses were Mrs. C. F. Hayes, Mrs. H. W. MacIsaac, Mrs. George Jacks and Miss Irene LaBelle.

March is proving to be the busiest month the hospital has known for some time. The week every bed was occupied, and about six patients in the hospital.

FRUITVALE SOCIAL TO SEND STUDENTS TO COAST IS SUCCESS

FRUITVALE, B. C. — A military whist and dance sponsored by the Fruitvale Service club, which took place in the Community hall Wednesday evening, was a huge success. The hall was filled.

The proceeds will furnish funds to send pupils from the Fruitvale school to Vancouver during the visit of King George and Queen Elizabeth.

Fifteen tables were in play, "Salmo" winning the high score, with Mrs. J. Jones, Mrs. J. Sadler, Mrs. F. Halifax and J. Buchanan as winners. Delicious refreshments were served and the evening closed with dancing.

Deeper Spirit of Worship Urged by Edmonton Pastor

Rev. Mr. McDormand Calls for Purpose in Worship

DIRECTS WORK YOUNG PEOPLE

Urging that a worshipful purpose accompany Baptist Young People and Sunday school work, and showing the means of achieving the purpose, Rev. T. B. McDormand of Edmonton, newly-appointed director of Baptist Young Peoples and Sunday school activities in western Canada, gave instructive criticism of conditions within the Baptist church when he spoke at a banquet in the First Baptist church hall Friday evening.

The speaker spoke of wholehearted cooperation evidenced in the Nelson church and the progress shown in recent building renovation. There were excellent foundations on which to build young peoples work.

Success of any organization depended largely on its purpose and its members had to look toward a bright and shining mark.

A young peoples group should be a "spiritual gymnasium" making members stronger to face temptation and developing purpose. In it they should learn how to use the Bible and about its background, and also of prayer preparation and participation. After passing from the B. Y. P. U. a youth should be ready to enter the church with executive ability.

SPIRIT OF WORSHIP

Dealing with the manner of achieving this purpose, Mr. McDormand declared the spirit of worship had to be deepened in Sunday schools and young peoples societies. Besides being beautiful, dignified and fine, worship had to stimulate the desire to serve God and must be the driving force of Christian living. Services had to be planned to achieve values. There must be careful and prayerful preparation, and careful selection of scripture readings and hymns.

Mr. McDormand especially emphasized careful organization. The weakest link was found in which one or two persons did all the work. There had to be a wide distribution of responsibilities.

The speaker conducted a brief open forum in which he gave helpful instruction on Sunday school work, especially in the teaching of small children.

PAYS TRIBUTE

Rev. Gerald M. Ward, who introduced the speaker, paid tribute to the ladies who had prepared the supper and extended congratulations on the honors recently bestowed on Einar Domei, president of the Nelson Baptist Young Peoples society, and John Worthington, who would meet the King and Queen next month in Vancouver.

Miss Shirley Reid, in an amusing monologue of a lady at a ball game, and Robert Crerar, who gave a comical sketch of an imaginary party he attended, entertained the audience. Percy Halliwell recited a humorous toast to the workman. Tom Lawson, deacon, in an optimistic spirit told of recent work done by the church. Mrs. Eric Ramsden sang "The Old Rugged Cross." V. Crawford was chairman.

There was no confirmation of the peace negotiations in Burgos where it was said the nationalists were ready to launch an end-the-war offensive against Madrid unless the republicans surrendered unconditionally.

Revelations of the negotiations brought Italy's territorial claims on France to the front of Europe's tense situation, since consolidation of the remaining one-fourth of Spain under Premier Mussolini, the occasion to announce Italy's plans of future action in a speech scheduled for Sunday.

Italy considers her aspirations for more space, at Franco's expense, to be next in line for satisfaction after her axis partner's absorption of Czechoslovakia and Memel.

Britain and France were believed anxious to handle the matter of Italian claims without complications in their efforts to bring Soviet Russia and Poland into an anti-aggression coalition.

St. Noel Charles, British chargé d'affaires called on Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano yesterday. It was presumed to have no effect on Prime Minister Chamberlain's assurance that Britain was not going to set up a democratic bloc against dictators.

Mussolini said such an attempt had failed, leaving only a plan for collective condemnation of Germany's methods of acquiring territory.

The authoritative Fascist writer, Virginia Gayda, said creation of a power "bloc" encircling the totalitarian powers had failed because countries around Germany "declined the invitation."

MORE ABOUT MOTOR DEALERS

The debate on motor cars occupied the last two afternoons in committee of ways and means during consideration of the automobile item in the Canada-United States trade agreement.

By virtue of the agreement the duty on automobiles imported from United States was bound at 17 1/2 per cent for a period of three years from last Jan. 1, and the government undertakes to ask parliament to remove the three per cent excise tax on all commodities mentioned in the agreement.

Mr. Martin wanted the Customs act to be used as a means of compensating the industry for protection to be lost in removal of the excise tax.

ASK LESS PROTECTION

From western members and free trade liberals, including A. M. Young, Saskatchewan; R. J. Deochan, Huron; North and Malcolm McLean, Melfort, came arguments for even less protection on this industry because of the resultant high cost of cars in Canada as compared with United States.

Following Mr. Dunning's statement, the committee adopted this paragraph:

Three small companies had left Windsor, Mr. Dunning said, but not because of this agreement as they left long before it was negotiated.

Hon. J. L. Lisle, minister of revenue, said with reference to suggestions the Customs act might be used to overcome the loss of protection from the excise tax, "there must be no slightest suspicion" any change would be made in administration of the act to meet a specific demand of this nature.

Any change in the act's administration must be made only when, in the opinion of those competent to decide, such a change must be made and then only on a logical basis in the light of the act's intent.

Convalescing After Sickness

After many severe illnesses such as influenza, scarlet and typhoid fever, pneumonia, etc., or an operation, the patient is usually left in an extremely weak, nervous and exhausted condition.

To all those convalescents who need a tonic to strengthen and build up their weakened system we would recommend Milbura's Health and Nerve Pills to assist them back to the full enjoyment of robust health. They supply the elements so necessary to build up the shattered nervous system, and bring back bodily strength and vigor.

A trial will convince you of their merits.

Test to Prove Seed Vitality

Better give a vitality test to the seeds you gathered so carefully last fall for planting this spring. The test will reveal the germinating power of the seeds, and will thus save you the disappointment of planting seeds which have no life.
 As illustrated in the today's Garden-Graph, a vitality test can easily be made by placing squares of white blotting paper in a soup plate. Moisten the blotting paper thoroughly, then place 10 or a dozen of the seeds on it. Place a second piece of moistened blotting paper over the seeds, and cover the soup plate with another plate, top down over the first one.

 Place the covered plate containing the seeds in a warm room. Keep the pieces of blotting paper moist, but not swimmingly wet, otherwise

SIX CONVICTS DIE IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 24 (AP)—Six white convicts were executed in the state penitentiary electric chair early today for the slaying of J. Olin Sanders, the prison guard captain, in an escape attempt Dec. 12, 1937.
 The execution took 48 minutes. The youngest of the six, George Wingard, 39, of Columbia, was the first to go at 8:31 a. m. He was followed in order by William B. Gentry, alias Wood, 25, Biloxi, Miss. Roy Suttles, 29, Simpsonville; Herbert Moorman, 42, Detroit, Mich.; Clayton Crans, 26, Rochester, N. Y.; and J. V. Bair, 29, Sumter. Bair took his seat in the chair at 7:15 a. m.

New 'Excess Tax' For Germans

BERLIN, March 24 (AP)—Germany imposed a new "excess income tax" today to meet the reich's growing financial requirements for armaments and development under the four-year economic plan.
 The new tax, effective May 1 of this year, will be a 30 per cent levy on any excess of income in 1938 over that of 1937.
 Persons earning incomes of up to 3000 marks ($1200) are exempted. Further abatements are granted in the case of persons whose salaries were raised in 1938 in the course of scheduled promotion or because of increases in their families.
 Dienst Aus Deutschland, authoritative news service which disclosed the new impost, also revealed a new arrangement under which all payments for public purposes made by the postoffice, federal railways or municipalities henceforth shall be 60 per cent in cash and 40 per cent in "tax credit" bills.
 Informed persons regarded these measures as an indication Chancellor Hitler's advisers have come to the conclusion the German money market's power of absorption is exhausted as far as state loans are concerned.

Japanese Officer Kills 1, Wounds 6

TOKYO, March 24 (AP)—A shell shocked army officer killed one passenger and injured six others in an outburst on a Japanese express, the war office said today.
 Police said the lieutenant was returning from Manchoukuo, he argued with a fellow passenger, suddenly drew his sword and attacked.

VANCOUVER, March 23 (CP)—Col. H. F. G. Letson, senior militia officer commanding the Vancouver garrison, said today invitations had been received by the Seafort Highlanders of Canada, the British Columbia Hussars and the fifteenth Royal Canadian Artillery to visit Seattle April 15 to take part in Washington state's golden jubilee.
 "It is very nice that Canadian troops can return the visit made by the 148th artillery regiment of Tacoma which visited Vancouver on July 1 last year," Col. Letson said.
 Sanction for the visit is being sought from Canadian military headquarters at Ottawa.

Believe S.F. Arrest Will End Jewel Thefts of Bel-Air

VENICE, Calif., March 24 (AP)—Det. Capt. Harry Seager said today he believed the arrest in San Francisco of Ralph Graham, 40, with $80,000 in gems, had ended a five-year search for the "phantom burglar of Bel-Air" whose particular prey has been the wealthy in the motion picture colony.
 Seager disclosed officers had found jewels "worth at least $20,000 in a Venice residence, the address of which was supplied by San Francisco police after Graham's arrest, and Mrs. Charlotte Graham, 39, his wife, and had been apprehended as she attempted to flee the house by a window and was being held for questioning.

New Nazi Warship to Be Named for Late Von Tirpitz

BERLIN, March 24 (AP)—Germany's second new 35,000-ton battleship will be named for the late Admiral Von Tirpitz, initiator of unrestricted submarine warfare during the great war, it was disclosed today.
 The warship, under construction at Wilhelmshaven, will be launched April 1 in the presence of Adolf Hitler.
 The vessel was known only as "Battleship G," will be christened by Altmuth von Hassel, granddaughter of Von Tirpitz.
 The Von Tirpitz will be a sister-ship of the Bismarck, launched Feb. 14, the largest vessel in Germany's expanding fleet.

Police Give Chase, 3 Escape, 1 Caught

VANCOUVER, March 24 (CP)—A 19-year-old youth who gave the name of Cyril Watts was charged with breaking and entering by police today and three other suspects were being sought following a police chase throughout Vancouver's residential district last night in which police fired several warning shots.
 Called to the home of Raymond Hawkins, police saw four men bolt the door. Giving chase, police fired several shots into the air and captured one man.

Japanese Report Capture of Wucheng
 SHANGHAI, March 24 (AP)—Japanese land and naval forces, clearing out flank resistance to their offensive toward Nanchang, reported today they had captured Wucheng, 35 miles north of their goal on the edge of Poyang lake.
 Wucheng's defenses were described as the last remaining major fortifications north of Nanchang, Kiangsi provincial capital.
 The Japanese reopened their long stalled drive through northern Honan province, near the junction of the Lunghai and Peiping-Hankow railways. They reported occupying Sanluochai, halfway between Kailfeng and Chengchow, after an all night battle.

U.S. Marine to Ask War Risk Rates
 NEW YORK, March 24 (AP)—United States marine insurance underwriters are planning to put into effect Monday war risk rates on overseas cargoes, it was learned today.
 The new rates, it was said, will represent a "substantial" increase over present charges.
 Marine underwriters here said, they understood London rates also were being hiked to a war risk basis.
 Similar boosts in insurance rates were made in war crisis preceding the Munich pact last September but were rescinded when the danger passed.

QUEEN'S AIDES FOR THE DOMINION TOUR ARE OLD FRIENDS

Both Ladies-in-Waiting Popular, Efficient and Mothers of Families

LONDON, March 24 (CP)—The Queen has chosen two ladies-in-waiting of about her own age from among her friends to accompany her to Canada. They are both women who have known her since the days when they went to children's parties, and both have children who play with the young royals.

Well versed in all the little intricacies of court life and accustomed to dealing with those unforeseen incidents that occasionally impede the smooth running of royal public appearances, these two members of the court circle will be a great help to his nervous escorting Canadian or his nervous-shy wife.

Lady Nunburnholme, tall, stately, lovely to look at, has fair English coloring and large grey eyes. She is 35, and as the youngest daughter of the Marquis of Bath, was Lady Mary Thynne before her marriage in 1927. Popular with the royal family—at one time rumor went she was to marry the then Prince of Wales—she was one of the large retinue of bridesmaids at the Queen's wedding in Westminster Abbey and also an attendant when Princess Mary, now the Princess Royal, married Viscount Lascelles.

She has great poise of manner, is an excellent conversationalist, and among the best groomed women in London. It was partly due to her influence that the Queen changed her fashions in dress and chose Norman Hartnell as her designer for her Paris visit clothes.

When not duty a Buckingham palace Lady Nunburnholme is busy with a variety of interests. She is a member of the Northamptonshire County Council and the devoted mother of an 11-year-old son and two smaller daughters who are among the children on the list of those invited to nursery tea with Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret Rose.

Lady Katharine Seymour is the same age as the Queen and a widow of a few months. She has three small children, one son and two daughters, also playmates of the Buckingham Palace children.

Youngest daughter of the Duke of Abercorn, she was appointed to the present royal household as lady-in-waiting on the same day as Lady Nunburnholme, March 1, 1937, when preparations for the coronation were under way, and the Queen asked the help of her close friends.

Lady Katharine worked with the Queen when she was the newly-married Duchess of York and became confidential secretary of Queen Mary so that she might become accustomed to all the detail of royal correspondence and the constant of royal engagements. Lady Katharine was for some years lady-in-waiting to Queen Mary and her clear round signature graced the majority of letters in answer to those sent to that seemingly tireless royal mother.

It was also due to her efforts that the Queen's personal secretary was allowed to use a typewriter. Previously it had been considered essential that all notes from royalty, even though written by ladies-in-waiting, should be by hand.

"Winsome Smile"

Correct Shade... Subtly Applied Lip Rouge Aids Facial Beauty

By DONNA GRACE
Have you ever thought what the dominant note of your makeup might be? You may say it is the eye and you would be almost correct, as eyes are important in making up. But to know the most important feature, just omit lipstick and see the difference.

When we know what a bit of lip color will do, to accent the beauty of the eyes and cheeks, we will never forget to rouge the lips whenever we apply powder, for lips are never out of beauty, and nowadays, since we have become accustomed to the universal custom of rouged lips, those without it are conspicuous.

School girls who have plenty of natural color in the lips have no need for artificial color except for formal evening affairs and even then a light touch of brilliantine will impart a lively sparkle and accentuate their natural coloring. But the rule should be to have definite, colorful and well-shaped lips.

While many lipsticks are said to be indestructible, it is more satisfactory to refresh the lips from time to time. The original outline may be retained in perfect condition throughout the day, but the inside will need retouching after eating.

Lips can be made more attractive with a deft line outside the natural lip line. Do this first for the upper lips and if they are the naturally thin type, you will be delighted with the change in your expression. We frequently are told to do the centre of the lips and not the corners, but while the outside corners are never accentuated, they must be included with a very light blending of the color or there will be a line showing. A line drawn to the corners will prevent the abrupt ending of color but will not distort the perfect lip contour.

Many of the newest lipsticks are a blending of the blue and red; but for blondes, redheads and those with grey eyes and medium light hair, one of the natural tones will be more flattering.

It is easy to dream of what you are going to do in the future for your child. It is hard to find time now to sit down with the child's father and to decide just what are the important habits which you are going to build them. The things you do right now, as soon as your baby is born, are much more effective than your dreams in determining your subsequent success.

First of all list the habits which seem to you important, then work out a schedule which will be rigidly adhered to. There are mothers of older children who think this is an impossible task. I am sure that it is difficult, but we overcome difficulties for things which we think are worthwhile. If we decide that a regular schedule is important, we will not let a guest interfere with a baby's bath, or a washing keep us from feeding him at the proper time.

IT'S WORTHWHILE
Even though a few unavoidable things are sure to interfere, it is worthwhile to have a schedule. The baby who is fed at the regular time, prescribed by your physician learns to want his food when you are ready to give it to him. He is then happy because things come at the proper time. The baby who is fed every time he fusses, finally fusses all the time because he learns that cries and whines will always bring him what he wants. He cannot feel that there is any constant power governing his life. His life is governed by how he feels, how much he cries, and how his mother responds.

Infant's Future May Be Governed By Early Habits

HAPPY ARRANGEMENT
The happy baby and the happy mother are the baby and the mother who have a regular hour at which definite things are done.

Once you have listed important habits, and have worked out a regular schedule, you will wonder the activities which you can do easily if you attempt to make the child feel happy when the right thing is done. We tend to repeat things which bring us pleasure. If we can associate pleasure, then, with things we want the child to do, we shall make the doing of these things much more certain.

ANSWER:
You are one hundred per cent right but neither you nor I can convince the sister that she is a sap. She likes the boy friend, it suits her to believe that he likes her, and so long as she can deceive herself she'll continue to do it. The sweet nothings he whispers in her ears are music to her. She forgets the broken date in the joy of the filled date and she's so glad to see him when he comes that she'd just as soon sit at home as not.

Even a selfish lad wants to share his pleasure with his best girl. He doesn't get the full kick out of any excursion unless she's along. He's proud to be around her. However poor he is, he manages to buy two movie tickets occasionally and if he hasn't a car to ride her around in, he walks her in the park.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:
My younger sister has come from the country to live with me in town and naturally I feel responsible for her. Soon after she arrived she met a boy who dated her several times a week and she went for him, but I'm not satisfied with the way he treats her. She won't listen to me, but said she would abide by your judgment. On Sundays, the only day he's free, he takes all sorts of excursions, but never includes her. Night after night he comes to fill his date in our sitting room but never asks her to go anywhere not even to a movie. If something turns up the day of his date, he doesn't come and doesn't telephone to say he isn't coming. So I think he's making a covenant of her, and if he cared two snags of his finger for her he'd say it with something besides two or three home dates a week. Am I right?

MADE REPORT
In 1877 a certain Dr. Robert Bridges was appointed to the post of casualty physician. He made a report a little later in which he pointed out certain abuses. In three months he had seen 7735 patients and the average time spent on each was 128 minutes.

With the lowest estimate of female garrulity," he wrote, "one may recognize the grandeur of the feat accomplished in giving separate audience to the troubles of 150 women in three hours and a quarter." And he remarked that most of their troubles were brought on by indiscretion, for which the cure would be discretion. Most of them preferred Epson salts.

DIDN'T SEEK SOURCE
They had many cases of a peculiar atonic dyspepsia in which the diet was long working hours in stale air, and eating cheap, miscellaneous food, but in spite of the number of cases nobody ever went to the source of the trouble and tried to clean up the industry. Instead, they gave them a routine mixture of quassa and iron.

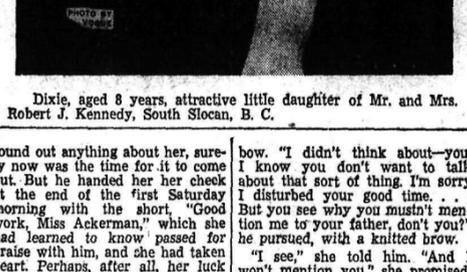

When Bridges made his report of these conditions, he hoped that without living to the millennium, one might see the day when such conditions would be considered fabulous and incredible. The reading of this report had the result, however, that Bridges was never again offered another appointment at the hospital. However, he managed to obtain the position of poet laureate, and although his output was meager, he remains one of our most sensitive medical poets.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
H. O. "Should one having tuberculosis use mustard on the chest when one has a cold? What is good for hoarseness and sore throat? Is there any medicine one can take to build the body up and give an appetite? What would you advise for a regular diet?"

Answer — It seems to me that all the symptoms of which you complain are basically due to the disease itself. I would advise sanatorium treatment for all of them. But each time you have some balanced diet such as anyone uses, not trying to eat more than the appetite demands. Mustard on the chest is just as safe as in a normal person.

Serial Story... CONVICT'S DAUGHTER
By RUTH RAY KANE
In a blanket, peel off her stiffened stockings, scold her gently, make her a hot drink, and in a few minutes she would be toasting before the fire, comfortable and drowsy. But each time she awoke, some where deep inside of her there would be a shiver. As if she could not quite soak up enough heat to wipe out entirely the stinging cold. It was that way now. After all those desperate, lonely months, to find herself suddenly possessed of a job and a friend. It was too wonderful to last. Something would happen, she kept telling herself. Something was bound to happen. Ever so often in those first few days her finger would falter on the typewriter keys, and she would remember Hardy and his threats with a little inward shiver. If she could only be sure he wouldn't make good this threat, she would let herself wistfully, looking about the big cheery office room that had come to be so familiar to her as to seem almost like home. If only she were not so afraid.

When her first payday arrived she waited with bated breath. If anything turned up, if Sanders had found out anything about her, surely now was the time for it to come out. But he handed her her check at the end of the first Saturday morning with the short, "Good work, Miss Ackerman," which she had learned to know passed for praise with him, and she had taken heart. Perhaps, after all, her luck had changed.

Dixie, aged 8 years, attractive little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Kennedy, South Slokan, B. C.

She spent that Saturday afternoon shopping. Out of her twelve dollars she put aside room rent and lunch money and two dollars she gave to Jim Claridge as a first instalment, and still managed a new hat. A cheap hat, of necessity. She had to shop diligently to find a becoming one that would fit her pocket-book. But it was such fun. And the hat, when she found it finally, gave her, despite its flimsiness, the biggest thrill she had ever had from a mere hat. It was a saucy little thing, gray with a tiny blue feather, and a flying wisp of veil from which her blue eyes looked out merrily.

It made a new woman of her, that hat. "You're a knockout, girl!" Jim Claridge, waiting for her in the stuffy boarding house parlor, acknowledged it admiringly, his eyes reminding her more than ever of "Fanny's when she had done something to please him!"

"Like it?" she asked, prolonging the moment as long as she could. It was so wonderful to have someone give her compliments, someone to who she could talk without being on her guard, someone who understood, as Daddy used to understand. In the week since she had met Jim, she had realized all over again how terribly lonely she had been. He had fallen into the habit of stopping at the boarding house and taking her out to dinner with him. Because he was lonesome, a stranger in a strange town, he told her. She had been suspicious the first few times that he was really doing it out of pity for her. Then she had come to realize that he really wanted her, liked to talk to her, needed her. They had seen two shows together since that first one. And tonight he was taking her to another when they had finished dinner.

"Can't help but like it," he assured her in his husky drawl. "It sort of — looks like you somehow." He was studying her as she fumbled in her bag a little self-consciously, now that she had drawn his attention to herself. "You're such a little thing. But what's this?" He drew back as she thrust something into his hand.

"The first payment on what I owe you," she explained. "But see here, girl!" His voice was dismayed. "Can't you see. Why, you're robbing yourself!" "But you—you're spending so much on me!" cried Lona, her money sense, quickened by the times she had been through, rearing its head. "I feel ashamed."

He laughed. "You're the first girl I've run across who didn't take all she could get and ask for more. He approved, and the admiration in his tone brought a flush to her cheeks beneath the new hat. It was so good having a friend. As he pushed the bills back into her hand she thought swiftly of the way she had doubted him that first terrible day when her frightened count turned to a flush of shame, and Lona, watching him go, felt a little more certain.

"I'm going to tell Daddy all about you the next time I write," she told him, slipping into step beside him as they went down the street.

HOPEFUL TRANS-CANADA RIDER CHANGES PLANS
LONDON, March 24 (AP)—The squire's daughter who hopes to become a trans-Canada rider, Mary Bosanquet of Devizes, Wiltshire, has now changed her plans for travelling to the Dominion.

She arranged originally to go direct by cargo boat to Vancouver where she's going to start the trans-continental ride on horseback. But the ship on which she was to go to travel, cancelled its sailing date so Miss Bosanquet decided to sail to Halifax and cross the continent by train from west-to-east ride. She will sail from Liverpool March 31 on the Duchess of Bedford and is due at Halifax April 7. She hopes to be ready to start on the long ride from Vancouver about April 19.

CANADA IN THIRD PLACE IN 1938 TRADE WITH UNITED KINGDOM

Finding the United Kingdom an outstanding market for her products in 1938, Canada was in third position among countries dealing there, her total in trade being £102,135,532 compared with £117,657,317 in 1937. United Kingdom imports from Canada totalled £78,564,459 against $88,847,634, domestic exports to Canada $22,532,312 against $27,551,843 and re-exported commodities £1,308,761 compared with £1,258,340.

The United States stood in first place as a trader with the United Kingdom. Australia was in second position.

Australia replaced Canada as the leading supplier of wheat in the United Kingdom market during 1938, Australia's contribution totalling 31,005,730 hundred-weight and Canada's, 28,853,371. The United States was third with 15,789,880 hundred-weight.

Canada was first in 13 commodities listed; second in nine; and third in three.

From a report compiled in Ottawa, showing the competitive position of this country in sales to the United Kingdom, the following shows the position of the various countries in order of first, second and third.

- Wheat—Australia, Canada, United States.
- Barley—Canada, Soviet, Iraq.
- Oats—Canada.
- Wheat meal and flour—Canada, Australia.
- Animals for food—Ire, Canada.
- Bacon—Denmark, Canada, Netherlands.
- Ham—United States, Canada.
- Cheese—New Zealand, Canada.
- Unsweetened condensed milk—Canada, Netherlands.
- Apples—Canada, United States, Australia.
- Canned lobsters—Canada.
- Unstripped, unmanufactured tobacco—Canada.
- Soft wood and timber—Canada.
- Undressed hides, skins—Soviet Union, Canada, United States.
- Aluminum and aluminum alloys—Canada, Switzerland, Norway.
- Electrolytic copper—Canada, Chile, United States.
- Copper rods, sections, angles and shapes—Canada.
- Lead—Australia, Canada, British India.
- Nickel—Canada.
- Zinc—Canada, Belgium, Australia.
- Non-ferrous metals and manufactures—Canada, Chile Northern Rhodesia.
- Machinery—United States, Germany, Canada.
- Manufactures of wood and timber—Finland, Canada, United States.
- Footwear—Canada, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland.
- Paper, cardboard, etc.—Sweden, Canada, Finland.

Other items enumerated and Canada's position, included:

Canned salmon, fourth; Japan being first and Soviet union second; and United States third.

Paper-making materials, sixth; Finland being first, Sweden second, Norway third, Algeria fourth and Tunis fifth.

Iron and steel and manufacturers thereof, sixth; Belgium being first, United States second, France third, Sweden fourth and Germany fifth.

It is often more necessary to conceal contempt than resentment; the former is never forgiven, but the latter is sometimes forgotten.—Chesterfield.

Contract Bridge

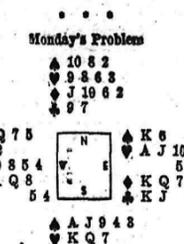

THE INITIATIVE IS YOURS IF YOUR PARTNER has had a chance to double the opponents' game contract and has not done so, the decision must be made for the side by you. If you are pretty sure your side could not make the contract, in case you ever did the other side, your partner never did the other side. Do you think the enemy can make their contract? If the answer is yes, you still have a problem. You of course will not double them in that event, but will consider only the question of a sacrifice. How many points will it probably cost you? If less than the value of the hostile game, go ahead and sacrifice.

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable) East opened this deal with 1-Spade. West hid 1-No trump, North 3-Clubs, East 2-Spades, South 3-Clubs and West passed. North was satisfied to let the 3-Clubs alone, but East now revealed his six-four division with a bid of 3-Diamonds. South, having made one free bid, thought he had better wait to see what his partner wanted to do, so passed. West then shifted from 3-Diamonds to 3-Spades. North called 4-Clubs and East 4-Spades. South again felt he had already pictured about all that he held, so passed, as did West. North reflected that his hand was very weak against spades, so sacrificed at 5-Clubs, which East doubled on general principles. By leading the spade A, shifting to diamonds, and West then shifting to hearts, the defense took the first five tricks, setting the contract two for a score of 300. It was profitable to North-South, however, for East would have made his 4-Spades, losing only one trick in trumps, one in hearts and one in clubs.

(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable) If South gets into the crazy contract of 4-Spades doubled here, because of his partner's psychic bidding, and West leads the heart 2 to the A, what heart should East return and why, if during the auction his partner had bid clubs?

?? Questions ?? ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers is open to any reader of the Nelson Daily News. In no case will the name of the person asking the question be published. INTERESTED. Kimberley—After the recent ski tournament at Kimberley some of us ventured guesses as to how fast a skier was travelling at various times when making a jump in a class A competition, and as to "just where" he attained maximum speed; the snow being ideal for jumping and the length of jumps 125 to 175 feet. We are not interested in exact figures; round figures would be very satisfactory, as our estimates are very far apart. It has been estimated that at the peak of his speed, just before he leaves the take-off, a skier is travelling about 40 miles per hour. This speed however, is not maintained. The degree of the slope and characters appearing in both of these works as well as in "The Courts of the Morning," "Thirty Nine Steps," "The House," "The Watcher by the Threshold" and "The Moon Endureth." READER—In the three books by John Buchan that I have read, the same characters occur; chiefly, Richard Hannay, Sandy and Peter. These books are "Greenmantle," "The Three Hostages" and "The Island of Sheep." Could you tell me in how many of his books these characters occur, and also in what order they follow? There is no definite sequence form in John Buchan's books, except "Greenmantle" and "Mr. Standfast," the above mentioned type of snow also affect the speed. XYZ, Burton—How can horns be prevented from making nests in the attic or barn, and how can one get rid of them? Little can be done to prevent horns building their nests, but if discovered as soon as the queen hornet starts to build, it may be easily squashed. But if it has become well developed and well populated cyanide gas is effective, and a small amount placed at the entrance of the nest will destroy them very readily. If nest is in the open or under eaves or other places, a lighted match applied in the evening after all hornets are in the nest is also effective. Big Brother Oakley .. by W. Boyce Morgan

A few minutes later after congratulations had been given and received all around, Oakley quietly left the platform and joined the other members of his family. "Sorry I lost," he said briefly, forcing a smile. "But Jane was awfully good. You folks go on home in the car. I think I'll wait around a while." "We don't need to go until you're ready Oakley," his mother said quickly. "You go on," Oakley insisted. "I'd just as soon walk home, anyway." They watched him turn and go back toward the platform. Mr. Barnes took his wife's arm and they started for the door, with Joe bringing up the rear. A dozen people stopped them to congratulate them on Oakley's winning second prize, or to sympathize because he missed the first prize. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes answered all remarks with praise for how well Jane Gregory had done. Joe shuffled along behind them, his eyes down, his cap in his hands. Meaningfully Oakley did not rejoin the group of people around the platform. He didn't want to talk to people just then—he wanted to be by himself. He made his way to the side door of the school and went into planning to circle around and walk home by a back road to avoid other people returning from the contest. As he walked along beside the school building, he caught another glimpse of A. T. Temple's new streamlined car. He stopped, letting his eyes run over the beauty of its lines, and almost immediately all thoughts of the contest were banished from his mind. He fumbled in his pocket until he found a piece of paper and a pencil. Taking them out, he began to sketch the car, resting his paper against the side of another automobile. Two or three people passed him, but he did not notice them. Finally he walked up to the car, opened the door and began to examine the interior fittings. Then, forgetting of his surroundings in his admiration for the sleek new automobile, he climbed in. He examined the elaborate dashboard, pressed the pedals, tried the ignition and was surprised to find it unlocked. At last, his mind a thousand miles away in the designing room of some future automobile factory, he climbed out of the car and started home. Walking along the narrow pavement to the back road, Oakley scarcely had a thought for his defeat in the public speaking contest. It had been a bitter disappointment, but he had forgotten it in the exciting business of building dream automobiles. He trudged slowly along the dark road, hands in pockets, head bent, going toward home almost by instinct. And then suddenly, as he rounded a curve, he heard the roar of a motor behind him. He stepped off the pavement as powerful headlights snapped toward him, and he suddenly found himself in the roadway. "That fellow's driving too fast for this road!" he cried aloud. The car plunged into the curve. As it roared past, Oakley, he saw dimly that there were two people in the front seat. The first screamed as the rubber bit into the pavement. For a breathless moment Oakley thought it would get out of the curve safely; then he saw it lurch toward the ditch. The driver frantically tried to pull it back, but it plunged into the shoulder, careened along it for 50 yards, and then piled into a fence post with a tearing crash.

Kay's Corner

By Katherine Houlson ON APRIL FIRST To give an unusual touch to your April Fool party this year, try this menu idea. Before the party, cut colored cards the size of a regular menu and letter them with the menu below, making one for each guest. Attach a small pencil to each. SELECT YOUR OWN MEAL FROM THIS MENU 1—Noah's Ark, sliced. 2—Cuts of a well-known talking aid. 3—Enchantresses of his desert, assorted. 4—Golden nuggets in white cases. 5—The fruit of a tree, stuffed. 6—Nuts that didn't grow. 7—A celestial dainty. 8—A wicker complaint plus a letter of the alphabet. 9—A glass of white magic. Here are the answers: 1—Ham; 2—tongue; 3—sandwiches (wiches); 4—poached eggs; 5—olives; 6—apple; 7—doughnuts; 8—Angel food cake; 9—coffee (cough-E); 10—milk. Serve refreshments at tables completely set with dishes and silverware but no food. Have a couple dressed in waitresses' caps and aprons come in and pass a menu to each guest. When each has made her selection (without help from any other guest or waitress) and signed her name to the card, collect the menus and serve the "order" from the kitchen just as a restaurant would. You can plan any menu with this idea and your guests will thoroughly enjoy this novel way of serving refreshments.

Magician Thanks Readers Who Are Sending in Tricks

By Thomas the Magician I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all of you readers who have written me nice letters and contributed interesting tricks, to be published in this column at a future date. Since my first request for your favorite bit of magic several weeks ago, I have been literally flooded with letters. Most of them contained very clever tricks, and I'm trying to get your books and pictures off to each of you as fast as I can. I hope you will be patient with me, and I'll do the best I can to hurry things along. For those of you who haven't yet written me, let me once again give the facts... Write me a letter explaining some simple trick which you have seen performed recently, also giving its explanation, please be certain that you HAVEN'T BEEN THIS SAME TRICK IN MY COLUMN. Now write your name and address and mail it to me in care of this newspaper. If your trick is accepted for publication, you will receive a personally autographed picture of me, and a clever book of magic which explains many, many tricks. But hurry, please! The supply is limited, and letters are coming in every day. A Mind-Reading Trick Here's a small trick in the telepathy line that you might enjoy working! EFFECT: The magician is blindfolded and seated on the far side of the room. Anybody is asked to call out the name of some person with whom he is familiar. As he does so, the magician immediately gives the telephone number of that person! EXPLANATION: The entertainer is seated in front of a door or a screen and behind this door or screen is a confederate. This assistant, who is unknown to the audience, has in his hand a telephone book, with the pages indexed so that they may be turned quickly. As the person calls a name, the confederate hurriedly thumbs on through the directory and finds the number. He then whispers it to the magician. The entertainer then slowly and dramatically reveals the number. This effect may seem too simple for a good trick, but just give it a try. It'll keep your audience mystified for some time. RIDDLES Since April Fool's Day is coming, I know you'll all be watching your steps. But these riddles are asked in all seriousness, so you can relax and be sure that there are answers—strange as they seem. 1. What is the most appropriate residence for a musician?—Nellie B. Chapman. 2. A railroad crossing, look out for the cars. Can you spell that without any 'e's? 3. What nut has no shell.—Jessie Dong. 4. If a man was locked in a room all by himself, without any doors, windows, or even a speck of open air, with only a hat and a ball, how would he get out?—Jessie Dong. 5. What time is it when a Chinaman has a tooth pulled?—Samuel Angelson. ANSWERS TO LAST WEEK'S PUZZLES 1. Crossword puzzle solution.

Trade Balance Fallacies It is a fallacy to explain the British trade balance by reference to the sterling-dollar rate; it is equally fallacious to explain the sterling-dollar rate by reference exclusively to foreign trade. The sterling-dollar rate depends on the aggregate of transactions that take place between the sterling area as a whole and the dollar area as a whole, and of these transactions only a fraction are trade transactions. In recent years, as everyone in touch with exchange markets knows, the sterling-dollar rate has been determined mainly by capital movements from Europe to America and vice versa. Even in the figures for Anglo-American trade there is a fallacy lurking. The "gigantic figure" of the excess of American sales to Britain is given without any reference to the large amount of gold which has been sold by Britain to America. If Britain is paid with gold for exports to South Africa, and then exports the gold to America to pay for imports from America, can she expect—or should she wish—to pay for these imports with British exports again?

Words of Wisdom

When worthy men fall out, only one of them may be faulty at first; but if the strife continues long, both commonly become guilty.—Fuller.

Gold Still Policy Instrument

It must not be overlooked that the departure from the gold standard is by no means the same thing as the abandonment of gold as an instrument of monetary policy. Gold plays and will continue to play an essential part in the exchange relations between countries conducting the bulk of international trade. But for us it no longer plays a governing part. The great achievement of monetary progress since 1931 is the discovery that our domestic business can be protected against extraneous developments with which it has nothing to do and for which it is not responsible, and that we can expand or contract credit according to internal needs. To this extent at least we have become master in our own house.—Rt. Hon. Benjamin McKenna, chairman of Midland Bank.

'Telephone' Party Is Novel Idea for a Get-Together on April 1

By Seth and Margaretta Harmon

Everybody likes to get a telephone call. And most of us have had some amusing experiences with wrong numbers, crowded phone booths, or "party lines." Mix these ingredients with just the right amount of tomfoolery, and you'll have a jolly party for April 1, or any other day of the year. The invitation will start your friends guessing ahead of time. At each side of a correspondence card sketch the top of a telephone pole. Draw four black "knots" on each cross-bar, as illustrated. Thread a needle with black thread and knot the end. String the "wires" through the card by bringing the needle up through the top knob one pole, down through the corresponding knob on the other pole, then up through the second knob, across and down again, and so on. Write this little jingle between the "wires" on the card: Hello, you're on my "party line," So call at my home, rain or shine; Here's the number, hour and date: Now make a memo—don't be late! (Your name, address and the time) As the guests arrive, take their wraps and hand each boy and girl a telephone number. These are simply slips of paper on which you have written numbers in even order, the first being 100, the second 200, and so on. If you have 19 people at your party, for example, the last to arrive would receive the number 1900. GAMES TO PLAY "Twirling the Dial" is fine to break the ice. On each side of a tin pie pan, paste a paper circle on which you have drawn a telephone dial with the numbers 1 to 0. Have the players sit in a large circle on the floor, and make a chalk mark in the center. The "operator" stands the pan on edge on the chalk mark and starts it whirling. At the same instant he or she calls out, "I'm dialing 200" or some other number. The first to reach that number takes a place in the ring. The player whose telephone number is called must jump and try to grab the pan before it stops whirling. If he catches it he becomes "operator," whirls the pan, and calls another number. If he misses and the pan falls flat, the number on the dial nearest the chalk mark is written on his slip of paper. The winner is the lowest final score receives a toy telephone for a prize. "Seeing the Switchboard" comes next. In an adjoining room set up a piece of board on the floor behind a table. Bring your guests in one at a time, and tell them to look under the table to see the switchboard. When they stoop to do so, switch and call out, "Switchboard!" Then let them stand by while the next victim is brought in. A TEAM GAME "Holding the Wire" creates a lot of excitement. Divide the players into two equal groups and line them up on opposite sides of the room, facing the center. Hand the player at one end of each row a ball of twine. At a given signal, he passes the ball to his neighbor, but holds the end of the twine. The ball is passed on down the row, unrolling as it goes. The last player to get it passes it around him, and it goes back up behind the line again in the same way. The side that finishes first is the winner. Then the race is repeated by passing the ball back around the lines, winding up the twine as it goes. For a "Long Distance" stunt, stretch two threads tightly from tacks across the room parallel to one another and about as high as your shoulder. Slip each thread through a circle of light cardboard three inches diameter in the center of which you have cut a small hole. A player takes his place at one end of each thread, directly behind the suspended cardboard circle. At the signal to begin, he blows against the circle to move it along the thread to the opposite side of the room. He may not touch the circle with his hands. If time permits, the race may be complete against one another until the grand champion is determined. Award him or her a tin horn for being the best "blower" in the crowd. Your games will come to a rousing finish with "The Line's Busy." Mark off a four-foot square on the floor for the "telephone booth." Two players stand in the square, stop over and grasp their own ankles. At a given signal each tries to push the other out of the square. The player who first loses his balance, lets go with either hand or steps out of the square must drop out, and another player challenges the winner. FUN AT THE TABLE Decorate the refreshment table to suggest a telephone system. You may do this by stringing ribbons from small cardboard poles around the table. Suspend from these ribbons small place-cards bearing only the telephone numbers you assigned to the guests. Or you may rig up a big switchboard on one wall of the room, with ribbons running from it to each place card at the table. Small glass telephones filled with candles can be bought for favors. Or, better still, you can make funny little French telephones of gum-

WHY APRIL FOOLS?

Have you ever wondered why we paste "Kick Me" signs on our friends' faces then carry them off with soap and do all the other tricks associated with April Fool's Day? Historians offer many explanations as to the starting of this old custom. One of the best of them lays it to the change from the old calendar, by which the year started about April 1, to our present scene, with the year starting on January 1. When this change was made, the New Year celebrations were moved to the new date, and the former celebration that had taken place around April 1 were discontinued. But many people objected to the change, and they became the butt of all sorts of jokes and mockery. Their friends sent them mock New Year greetings, paid them foolishly formal visits, and generally "cut up." Thus the customs were started. Whether or not this explanation is the true one, it is admitted that the day is a very old one. People have joked and baited each other for hundreds of years on April 1, and probably will continue to do so for hundreds of years to come. —The Editor.

BABY, CHILD AND LABORER COLLECT $70,000 EACH, CANADIAN WINNINGS

By The Canadian Press

Flying hooves thundered down historic Aintree in England yesterday and kicked approximately $200,000 worth of sweepstakes pay dirt into Canada. No Canadian, however, held an Irish Free State hospital sweeps ticket on Workman, winner of the Grand National classic.

MacMoffatt's feat in driving over the finish line in second place brought approximately $70,000 each to a baby, a child and a laborer. A country doctor from Saskatchewan pocketed nearly $47,000 when the favorite Kilstar galloped home third.

Youngest winner was 16-month-old Marcelle Zalkind, daughter of a Regina jeweller. Other ticket holders on MacMoffatt were 10-year-old Betty Manley of Finmark, Ont., Fort William district village, and Thomas Lee, Port Colborne, Ont., a lead burner at the International Nickel company plant.

The third-place winner was Dr. H. A. Woodside of Bateman, Sask. He refused $10,000 for a half-share in the ticket before the race on the theory, he said, that he'd gambled at hard work against odds for 20 years and was sticking to that attitude.

Thirty-one other Canadians held tickets on starters and reaped a total of about $82,150 when their entries failed to place in the first three. Another 33 took $87,500 with pasteborders on entries which did not start, and 101 others will receive about $500 each in consolation awards. Residual prizes to four Canadians boosted the Dominion's taking by $16,800.

Betty Manley's ticket was bought by her father, a railway telegrapher. The entire amount will go to Betty because her father rejected offers of a New York syndicate that wanted to buy a share of the ticket.

Two-Ton Tony, Joe Louis to Meet in Title Bout

Every year, usually, there is at least one big outdoor fight for the world's heavyweight championship and this summer's fistic fray will have as its principals, Two-Ton Tony Galento, the beer barrel that walks like a man as he is known in many circles and Joe Louis, the champ, believed by many observers to be one of the greatest of the fistic great. It is hardly necessary to say that the garrulous Galento is the party wearing the rug on his chest at the top, with the devastating champ below.

Rogers Is Coach Creston Basket Team at Kelowna

CRESTON, B. C., March 24. — Creston Reps., challengers for the B. C. interior intermediate basketball championship playing at Kelowna, are under the direction of Coach Sid Rogers and are the same who wrested the Kootenay championship from Trail in a like series at Creston last month. Those making the trip are Allan Cooper, and Elmer Hagen, Wynndel; Wilf LaBelle, Gordon Martin and Lawrence Gillis, Groceteria; Sam Nastasi, Gus Morabito and Des. Truscott, Canadians; Ariel Schade, Blue Bombers.

Winners at Kelowna will qualify to meet the coast titlist for the B. C. championship, final being scheduled in the interior.

Should Creston win at Kelowna, and the guarantee be not too high, it is possible Creston may see the B. C. championship series this year.

Lawson Little Shows Way in Greensboro Golf

GREENSBORO, N. C., Mar. 24 (AP). — While the paying customers trailed the heels of the fellows who have been cashing all the big checks, W. Lawson Little of San Francisco, the former amateur king pin blazed the way today in a record shattering score in the $5000 Greensboro open golf tournament.

Little, 27-years-old, and one of the newcomers to professional ranks, nonchalantly batted the ball around the Sedgewick course for a sensational 65, five under par and a new record for the battle scene, and at the end of the day's firing the curly-haired sharpshooter was four strokes in front of the field.

Little had as his nearest competitor after the first round of the 72-hole event, a former local club professional—Tony Manero, now of Peabody, Mass., and former national open champion. Manero clicked off an opening round 68, one under par. Eight players congregated at 70. A half dozen were veterans, pro-headed by Slammin' Sammy Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Ralph Guldhall of Madison, N. J., the national champion.

The second 18 will be played tomorrow, and Sunday will bring the 36-hole finale.

Workman Grand National Winner; First Victory for Ireland Since 1920 Race

Kilstar Disappointing Third; MacMoffat Is Second

AINTRÉE, England, March 24 (CP). — Workman, Sir Alexander Maguire's sturdy jumper, today sprang from behind in the final mile of the 101st running of the Grand National steeplechase to score the first Irish victory in the big race since Troytown triumphed in 1920.

Cornared in the pack starting the final lap of the 4 1/2 miles, manoeuvred free by his grinning Irish jockey, Workman, nine-year-old son of Cottage-Garilla, made his bid just where he faltered a year ago, bounded over two fences from home and beat Capt. L. Scott Brigg's MacMoffat by three lengths.

Kilstar, Dorothy Page's 8 to 1 favorite, was third in the field of 37, 17 lengths back. When he blundered four fences from home the crowd settled down for a duel between the 100 to 8 shot Workman, and the 25 to 1 outsider, MacMoffat. Taking the lead together half way down the far side of the course, MacMoffat and Workman took three fences like a pair of show jumpers. Two fences from home the brawny Irish gelding got his head in front and rounding the final bend both jockeys pulled their whips.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By The Canadian Press

Mrs. Marion Scott's Battleship, stired by the great Man o' War, won the 10th running of the Grand National Steeplechase a year ago today. The 4 1/2-mile trap-laden course cost the life of Rock Lad, first Canadian-owned horse to compete. Owned by H. Rupert Bain of Toronto, the horse fell at a water jump and was killed.

M.R.K. Puck Club Celebrates Its Seven Birthdays

Forty-five hockey players and club officials banqueted in royal style, celebrating the seventh birthday of the M.R.K. Hockey club, at the Golden Gate cafe Friday night. A big birthday cake lighted with seven candles, one for each year the club has operated, featured the decoration, along with the Nelson Amateur Hockey association's mid-get title trophy, won again by the M.R.K. midgets in the season just closed. Juvenile, midget and bantam teams participated.

John Wood, president, was in the chair. Nelson Winlaw, vice-president, led in saying grace. James Avis, coach, in the chief speech of the evening expressed his pride in the boys and their accomplishments.

Mrs. H. H. Currie, whose faithfulness during the season to the M.R.K. clubs and her activities on their behalf were constant and enthusiastic, was presented with a huge box of chocolates.

The midget title cup was filled and refilled and refilled with "pop" for everyone to toast the continued well being of the M.R.K.'s.

WINS RESIDUAL PRIZE ON IRISH SWEEP

DRUMHELLER, Alta., March 24 (CP). — While no horses were drawn in the Irish sweepstakes, approximately $4500 will come to a residual prize ticket. A resident of Nacmire also drew a consolation prize of $500.

Sinclair Leads Basket Scorers Creston League

CRESTON, B. C., March 24. — Averaging 11 baskets per game for the season—180 points in 12 appearances—Clayton Sinclair of the High School squad as the best individual showing in the men's section of Creston Commercial Basketball League's 1938-39 schedule.

Joe Martell of Wynndel is second with 104. Labelle of Imperial Groceteria and George Crosson of Canadians tied for third place with 60 each. Then comes Hipwell of High School with 57, and Allan Cooper of Wynndel with 60 to complete the men's big six.

Mrs. Fred Martello of Wynndel is well out in front of the ladies' division with 86. The other members of the select circle are: Ruby Palmer, High School, 73; Hazel Spiers, Creston Motors, 55; Thelma Erickson, High School, 48; Yvonne LaBelle, Creston Review, 43; Theo Thompkins, Motors, 41.

With the intermediates the leader is G. Amatto, Bombers, with 96. The other five leaders are: Ariel Schade, also of Bombers, with 93; "Bud" Lowther of High School, 92; Dave Armistead, Bombers, 81; Elmer Hagen, Wynndel, 60; and Linden Bell, High School, 59.

Smokies to Sail Today; Win 55th

FALKIRK, Scotland, Mar. 24 (CP. Cable). — In the last game of their triumphant European hockey tour, Trail Smoke Eaters of British Columbia, tonight defeated a team of Scottish selectors 3-2.

Tonight's was the 55th game of the Smoke Eaters' European campaign in which they suffered only one setback.

Bunny Dame was the hero of the final engagement, scoring all three goals for the Canadians.

The team leaves for home tomorrow. A tender will meet the players at Greenock and take them aboard the Duchess of Richmond.

The Canadian Allan cup holders began their exhibition tour last December, opening in The Hague on Dec. 21. They played teams in Holland, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Belgium and Switzerland before entering the world amateur hockey tournament at Basle and Zurich.

On Feb. 12, at Basle, Smoke Eaters trimmed the United States 4-0 in the final game of the 14-nation tourney. It was Canada's third successive title.

After the tournament, the Smoke Eaters played three exhibition games in London and it was there March 16 that they were beaten for the first and only time, 4-1 by the Wembley All-Stars.

Upsets Mark Junior Hockey in the East

Upsets marked last night's Memorial cup games in eastern Canada as Charlottetown Royals whipped Perth Blue Wings 7-4 and Quebec Castors upset Verdun Maple Leafs 4-3. Charlottetown's victory evened the three-game series at a game apiece while Beavers will carry a goal advantage when they meet Verdun at Montreal in the second game of the home and home total goals series.

TONY READY FOR LOUIS' DYNAMITE

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP). — The New York State Athletic commission put its stamp of approval today on Two-Ton Tony Galento's physical condition, thereby removing the last obstacle in the way of holding his fight with Joe Louis for the heavyweight championship in Yankee stadium, New York.

Five physicians who examined the roly-poly puncher last Tuesday at the commission's request found him in "satisfactory physical condition," General John J. Phelan, the commission chairman, reported. The examination had been ordered to determine whether either an attack of pneumonia last summer or the usual Galento diet of beer and spaghetti had left the barrel-shaped battler in anything but "the pink."

Although the physician's report just about killed the hopes of Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and several other places for holding the fight, which promises to attract a million-dollar gate, a new development made it appear today that the original June 28 date may be delayed to accommodate Promoter Mike Jacobs' rapidly growing summer boxing program.

GRIMSBY TOWN'S GOALIE LAID UP

GRIMSBY, England, Mar. 24 (CP. Cable). — J. Tweedy, Grimsby Town goalkeeper, will be missing from the team in its English cup semi-final match against Wolverhampton Wanderers at Manchester tomorrow. The well-known custodian developed a high temperature today and his absence will be a real blow. George Moulson, 24-year-old Irishman, is to take Tweedy's place. He has never previously played in major-league or cup matches.

Clouds Rise Over Louis-Roper Fight

LOS ANGELES, March 24 (AP). — All was not serene on the Joe Louis-Jack Roper fight front today. Dick Donald, dapper little manager of Roper, issued the first verbal blast when he declared he had balked at demands of Mike Jacobs that his fighter sign a contract to give Louis an immediate return bout in the event Roper lifted the heavyweight crown from Champion Joe in their fight here April 17.

"Anything can happen in a heavyweight fight," said Donald, "and if Jack were lucky enough to knock Louis out, we think we are entitled to at least one crack at the gravy before giving Louis a return match."

Donald declined to say how much Roper's share of the coming engagement would be, but said it "wasn't much."

Acadia University Wins Hoop Title

WOLFVILLE, N. S., March 24 (CP). — Acadia University senior hoopers retained the Maritime intercollegiate basketball crown tonight with a 21-13 win over the University of New Brunswick girls. The Fredericton team won the first game at home, 36-31, but lost the series, 52-49.

Acadia U. Seniors Win Basket Title

WOLFVILLE, N. S., March 24 (CP). — Acadia University senior hoopers retained the Maritime intercollegiate basketball crown tonight when they downed the Mount Allison university, 38-25. The Axemen lost the first game of the home-and-home series but won the round 70-61.

Junior Finals Are at Edmonton on 30th

EDMONTON, March 24 (CP). — The Western Canada junior hockey finals will open in Edmonton March 30, it was announced here tonight by Prof. W. G. Hardy, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey association.

Second game of the best of five series will be played in Edmonton April 1 with remaining games scheduled for Winnipeg April 4 and if necessary, April 6 and 8.

New Men Sought for Dutton Men

NEW YORK, March 24 (CP). — The New York American Hockey club, sometimes dubbed "the old men of Manhattan" or "the ancient Americans," seems destined for a face-lifting operation and a liberal shot of youth serum before next winter sets the continent to shivering and pucks to flying.

Less than 24 hours after Toronto Maple Leafs scrambled the creaking Americans' Stanley cup hopes, Manager Red Dutton hopped an airplane tonight for the broad Canadian west, which harvests a good crop of top grade hockey players as well as top grade wheat.

"Don't be surprised if there are three or four — yes even five or six — new faces on the club next season," Red said as he flew away to see junior and senior amateur hockey playoffs in the west.

DETROIT BEATS DODGERS

LAKELAND, Fla., March 24 (AP). — Fred Hutchinson, the Seattle pitching recruit on whom Tiger fans have fastened their eyes and pinned their hopes, didn't come up to expectations today, but Detroit managed to whipl the Brooklyn Dodgers 6-4 in an exhibition baseball game.

Creston Basket Year Best Yet

CRESTON, B. C., March 24. — The 36-game commercial league basketball schedule (12 games each in three sections) provided a dozen clashes when the winners margin did not exceed two points, and on four of these the margin of safety was a single counter.

So far as thriller finishes are concerned the 1938-39 campaign has never been equalled, but attendances, while in excess of the previous year, were not in keeping with the equality of the league play, which shows the quintessence as follows:

Men's division—Wynndel 18, High School 14, Imperial Groceteria 10, Canadians 6.

Ladies—Creston Motors 16, High School 14, Wynndel 14, Creston Review 4.

Intermediate—Blue Bombers 68, Wynndel 56, High School "A" 54, Camp Lister 38, High School "B" 27.

In the men's class, with Wynndel never in danger of losing first place, much interest in the last half of the season centred on Imperial Groceteria and Canadians who alternated much of the time for the cellar position.

In addition to the regular schedule the fans saw Creston's Intermediate O squad win two in a row from Trail, and Creston Senior B take the Michel-Natal girls by quite a wide margin—these titles bringing two Kootenay championships to Creston for the best honors showing in the history of the sport here.

Chicago Flinger Suffers Fracture

PASADENA, Cal., March 24 (AP). — Vic Fraser, Chicago White Sox pitcher, was confined to a hospital here tonight with a lineal skull fracture suffered two days ago during a practice session but undischarged until today.

Port Arthur and Hull Senior Winners

Kimberley Dynamiters, seeking to regain the Allan cup they won in 1936, neared the western Canada final last night by defeating Lethbridge Maple Leafs 4-2. In the other western semi-final, Port Arthur upset Saskatoon Quakers 4-2 in the opener of a best-of-three series. Hull Volants kept in the running in the east by defeating Saint John Beavers 2-1 for their first victory against two defeats in the best-of-five round.

All-Star Hockey Team Poll Ends

TORONTO, March 24 (CP). — Big-league hockey's select players of the season will be recognized tomorrow when The Canadian Press' ninth annual National league all-star team, picked by writers in N. H. L. cities, is made public.

Thirty-four hockey writers have chosen the high-priced lineup of talent. A first team and an alternate team, with a coach for each, have been selected as usual.

Detroit Warming to Hockey Series

DETROIT, Mar. 24 (CP). — This city became hockey-conscious today as Detroit Red Wings held the favored spot in the betting to wind up winners in their Stanley cup elimination series with Montreal Canadiens.

Only 8200 fans — an all-time low for a National Hockey League playoff game in Detroit — witnessed the second game of the best-of-three series Thursday night as the Wings walloped the Flying Frenchmen 7-3 to even the round at a game apiece.

But Manager Lou Giffels of the Olympia stadium reported today interest had quickened and it seemed likely a sell-out crowd of 13,000 would watch the deciding game on Sunday night.

Both squads were reported in good condition. Winner of the series goes on in another best-of-three elimination round against Toronto Maple Leafs, victors in their playoff engagement with New York Americans.

FLAMING CRICKET AUKLAND, N. Z., (CP). — P. Panther, a cricket batsman, was struck by a ball which ignited wax matches in his pocket. Flames burst from his clothing but he escaped with slight burns and continued batting.

HOLE-IN-ONE AT EIGHT HOBART, Australia (CP). — Peter Toogood, aged eight, is the latest recruit to the Hole-in-One club. Using one of a special set of small clubs made for him, he played 110 yards from the hole and the ball rolled neatly into the cup.

Fernie Hoopists Win Twice, Natal

NATAL, B. C. — Playing in the Natal-Michel Mission hall before a large crowd Saturday the visiting Fernie high school girls and boys took both ends of a double-header in basketball when the Fernie girls defeated the Natal-Michel girls 22-18 in the first game, while the Fernie boys upset highly-rated Natal-Michel Pirates, edging out a close 28-25 decision in the final game.

In the first game the Natal-Michel girls took an early lead and led 14-12 at halftime, but weakened in the final minutes when the visitors scored several baskets to win the game. Fernie's M. Oley with 9 points led the winners while M. Oley with 14 points was the top scorer for the losing Natal-Michel girls. The game was refereed by Tom Krall and J. Katrichak.

In the other game the Pirates took things easily as they led until halftime, until Fernie, playing its best game of the season, tightened up in the last half and forged into the lead, the winning baskets being scored by Minifie who snagged a fumble with only seconds to go to score. A. Krall with 12 points and T. Krall with 11 points were high scorers for the losing Pirates while C. Osbourne with 12 points was top pointgetter for the winning Fernie team.

In games previously played the Natal-Michel high school boys have defeated the same Fernie team twice in two games played while the Natal-Michel girls defeated the Fernie girls once previously. The game was refereed by J. Katrichak of Natal and D. Brewster of Fernie.

The lineups and scorers were:

Fernie Girls — V. McKenzie 9, A. Crescote 6, H. Horchuk 6, J. K. Pell 1, P. Dreyden, M. Mulrhead and M. Halliday. Total, 22.

Natal-Michel Girls — M. Oley 14, D. Lemachuk 4, M. Benson 2, M. Gergel, M. Lancaster and S. Chala. Total, 18.

Fernie Boys — C. Osbourne 12, V. Minifie 6, M. White 3, B. Moore 3, J. McLean, D. Minton, B. Mitchell and D. McLean. Total, 26.

Natal-Michel Boys — A. Krall 12, T. Krall 11, J. Gergel 2, J. Krall, B. Volpatti, M. Turyk and J. Thomson. Total, 25.

ROSSLAND ROYALS Wind Up Season

ROSSLAND, B. C., March 24. — Rossland Royals, Kootenay Senior B basketball champions who were eliminated in the interior playoffs by West Summerland, signed finish to their hoop season with a banquet in Trail recently.

After the meal each member of the team was called upon to speak a few words.

Those present were A. J. Johnson, Arthur O'Reilly, Frank Coates, L. Croose, Joe O'Reilly, Lawrence Nicholson, coach; Harold Taylor, Jack Neal, Pete Williamson, Bob Scott, Louis Demore, Roger Quinn, George McConnell, Allan Simm, and Jack Ross.

LACROSSE ON SKATES

COLLINGWOOD, Ont., Mar. 24 (CP). — Something new in sport, lacrosse on skates, made its debut here last night. The Collingwood Junior Lacrosse club defeated a team of all-stars 12-6 in a rough game.

Soviets Fortifying Northern Hills, Says Japanese Press

TOKYO, March 24 (AP)—Domei (Japanese news agency) in a Manchoukouan dispatch, declared today Russian forces were fortifying hills north of Changkufeng where bitter fighting occurred last summer.

Domei's dispatch said observers saw large scale works progressing in an apparent effort to convert every peak into a virtual fortress.

Finland Raises Defence Budget

HELSINGFORS, March 24 (AP)—The Finnish government today budgeted an additional 350,000,000 markkaa ($1,750,000) for military purposes, raising the nation's defence budget to a total of 1,743,000,000 markkaa ($8,731,500).

New U.S. Associate Justice Approved

WASHINGTON, March 24 (AP)—The United States senate judiciary sub-committee unanimously approved today the nomination of William O. Douglas to be an associate justice of the supreme court.

The committee voted to approve the nomination after less than five minutes discussion.

The 40-year-old nominee, now chairman of the securities commission, came before the committee in company with attorney general Murphy but members said they did not wish to question him.

The full judiciary committee is expected to act on Douglas' nomination soon. Prompt approval is expected.

Net Profit Ford Motors, Canada, $3,253,175, Year Capital Expenditure Includes Assembly Plant, Coast

WINDSOR, Ont., March 24.—Net profits of $3,253,175.92 for the year ended December 31, 1938, are shown in the annual report of Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, released today. This is equivalent to $1.96 per share as compared with earnings of $2.27 per share in 1937, a decrease of 13.6 per cent.

In the directors' report to the shareholders, W. R. Campbell, president, points out that net operating profit on the output of the Canadian factory and branches, including export shipments, was $1,897,746.26, an increase over 1937 of $1,295,540.71. Increased prices prevailing in 1938 corrected the unsatisfactory relationship between production costs and prices which existed in 1937.

Dividends received from overseas subsidiary companies amounted to $1,651,473.50, in comparison with $3,429,489.43 in 1937. Earned surplus retained by subsidiary companies after payment of dividends was $3,228,960, an increase of $1,023,937 over the surplus of $2,205,023 held by those companies at the end of 1937, according to the report.

Receipts from sales and other income, exclusive of investment income, totalled $46,850,150.63, an increase of 1.4 per cent over 1937, to give the company the highest gross receipts since 1929. Sales of automotive units, including sales to subsidiary companies, totalled $6,164, a decrease of 8.6 per cent in comparison with the previous year, the report states.

Investment in shares of subsidiary companies increased by $1,097,554.00. The increase was necessary to provide additional working capital to subsidiary companies in India and Malaya of $879,101.50 and $218,453.40, respectively. The total investment in shares of Ford Motor Company of India, Limited, now amounts to $1,484,864.89, and in Ford Motor Company of Malaya, Limited, $418,848.30.

Capital expenditures amounted to $1,909,480.26 during the year. These expenditures were chiefly in connection with the completion of branch assembly buildings at Vancouver, B.C.; the construction of a new branch building at Saint John, N.B.; continued progress in the program of modernizing power plant facilities, and replacement and renewals of machinery and equipment.

Canadian Apples Sell in Scotland

"A government advertising campaign on behalf of Canadian apples has been carried on in Glasgow and other centres ever since the season opened in September last, by means of large and attractive posters on innumerable hoardings. The large sale of samples at the Canadian pavilion at the Empire exhibition, Glasgow, in 1938, also doubt stimulated interest in the Canadian fruit, which easily dominates the market," states G. B. Johnson, Canadian trade commissioner at Glasgow, in a report to the department of trade and commerce.

Imports of fresh apples into the Scottish ports of Glasgow and Leith in 1938 amounted to 403,208 hundred-weight as against 377,055 hundred-weight in 1937, and 275,750 hundred-weight in 1936, reports Mr. Johnson, and that of canned apples amounted to 41,598 cases as against 53,409 cases in 1937 and 13,114 cases in 1936.

Canada shipped 42,089 cases of canned pears and 5629 cases of peaches to Scotland in 1938 as compared with 38,093 cases and 3609 cases respectively in the previous year. Imports of canned lumber from Canada increased from 365 cases in 1937 to 601 cases in 1938.

U.S. Dollar Gains

LONDON, March 24 (AP).—The United States dollar finished foreign exchange trading 1/2 cent higher today at $4.68 5-16 to the pound, compared with $4.68 7-16 for sterling in New York late yesterday. French francs were net unchanged at 176.81 to the pound.

Large Shipment Of Gold Leaves Britain for N.Y.

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., March 24 (AP).—The largest single cargo of gold ever shipped out of Great Britain left for New York today aboard the United States liner Manhattan, which carried $12,000,000 ($56,100,000 in gold consigned to the United States because of European tension. The shipment included $11,000,000 ($51,480,000) sent from Britain and $1,000,000 ($4,680,000) loaded at Le Havre, France. Other consignments are to be sent on the Normandie tomorrow.

NEW YORK GAINS

NEW YORK, March 24 (AP).—Stocks extended the recovery march by 1 to 3 points in today's market, but the slow-going advance inspired profit taking and closing prices were well under the best. Transfers approximated 650,000 shares.

Continued firmness of foreign markets, apparently buoyed by a further lull in war worries, served to maintain the modest buying urge for domestic securities, brokers said. Purchasing orders here from abroad were reported by commission houses with overseas connections.

Stocks in favor of the greater part of the day included J.S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Westinghouse, General Electric, Sears Roebuck, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Santa Fe, Great Northern, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Air Reduction, American Telephone, International Telephone and North American.

In the Canadian group gains of around 1/2 point were posted for Dome, McIntyre Porcupine, Hiram Walker and Canadian Pacific. Canada 4s were neglected.

LONDON FIRM

LONDON, March 24 (AP).—Stock market trading today consisted mainly of week-end evening up, but the tone was firm. Textile, motor and brewery shares received support and domestic rails improved fractionally. Brazilian and Czechoslovak bonds gained about three points and British gilt-edged funds held steady. Continental buying of oils helped that group while Transatlantics closed steady.

RECONSTRUCTION Starts in China

"Although there is no reason to believe that the end of recent hostilities is in sight, the industry and trade of China is rapidly becoming adjusted to existing conditions and what may be termed a period of reconstruction has already set in. This movement, of course, would be greatly accelerated by the cessation of warfare," states M. T. Stewart, acting Canadian trade commissioner at Shanghai, in a report to the department of trade and commerce, reviewing conditions in China.

"With the coming of peace the need for equipment and materials to rehabilitate the railways, to rebuild devastated areas, and to equip new industries, will create great opportunities for these countries in a position to participate in the China market."

"The bulk of Canada's export trade to Central and North China comes from the Pacific coast and is largely confined to softwood timber, base metals, newsprint, salt fish and other 'less items,'" states Mr. Stewart. "All of these are more or less necessary materials for China, and when the period of reconstruction is further under way substantial recovery business may be confidently expected."

Cranbrook Enjoys Amusing Play

Cranbrook, B. C.—Costumed in old fashioned gowns in beautiful pastel shades with a spring setting in a rose arbor with swings of rose vines and gardens of tulips, the members of the Cranbrook Choral society presented "A Garden of Songs" in the parish hall Tuesday evening, with an exceptionally large crowd in attendance.

The splendid cast of well known Cranbrook artists, under the direction of T. Beynon, was assisted by Gordon Finley, violinist, Joe Little, tenor, Douglas Patton, bass baritone, and C. V. Edwards, accompanist.

The program was as follows: The Spring Revelers, members of the choral society, rendered "Dancing on the Green," an old English dance song; "Call of Spring," by Arditi, and "Bells of St. Mary's" by A. Emmett Adams with Mrs. W. Selmes soloist; "Spring Comes Laughing" by Bach, Tom, Tom, the Piper's Son" by Allen; and "The End of a Perfect Day".

Vocal solos were rendered by Joe Little, "When Moonbeams Siftly Fall" by Ernest Selts and "Passing By" by Harding. The ladies vocal trio, Mrs. Bennison, Mrs. Hinton and Mrs. Aldrich, sang "Brown Bird Singing" by Wood; and the vocal duet, Mrs. S. McNeil and Mrs. George MacDonald, sang "O That We Two Maying" by Alice M. Smith. C. V. Edwards rendered piano-forte solos, Nocturne No. 9, and Merry-makers' Dance from "Neil Gwynn". Gordon Finley played "Rondo Brillante," Opus 6, and "Romance," Opus 26, on the violin.

The second part of the program consisted of a farce entitled "The

Windermere Farmers Prepare for Fall Fair Business

WINDERMERE, B.C. — It would seem to be early to be puzzling one's brains about 1939 fall fairs. Yet if prize lists are to be prepared in good time to be helpful to prospective exhibitors they must very soon be put into print.

The members of the Windermere District Farmers' Institute at a well attended meeting of March 13, in addition to prize list matters, talked about improvements it is proposed to make to the interior appointments of their fair building. A very full agenda included such items as sleeping sickness of horses; the control of warbles on cattle; the eradication of weeds by means of sodium chlorate; the annual war on gophers; the need of a larger consumption of butter by the people of Canada; and well-drilling in the district. Resolutions on these and other subjects were passed, and a spirit of co-operation pervaded the meeting.
