OUTNUMBERED FRENCH BEAT NAZI AIRMEN

Miss Jardine Fought Way Out of Sunken Car; Miss French Awakens From Daze With Arm in Water; Miss Stewart's Body Held by Sleeve

Miss Winnifred Jardine, one of two survivors of a fatal car plunge at Brilliant Sunday night, fought her way out of the submerged car.

Miss Beatrice French, the other survivor, came out of a daze to discover she was so close to the edge of the river that one arm was in the water.

A coroner's jury will view the bodies of Alfred Heath Sweeney of Castlegar, driver of the car, fatally injured in its plunge; and of Miss Clara Stewart, one of the two teachers who were drowned, in Nelson today.

The body of Miss Helen Lentsman, who was plunged into the river in the car, had not been recovered late Monday.

COAT CAUGHT ON HINGE

The body of Miss Stewart, recovered when the car was hauled out, was at arm's length from the auto, pulled by the current, but the sleeve of Miss Stewart's coat had caught on a door hinge and held the body.

Sweeney, who died en route to hospital at Nelson, was found by rescuers on the river bank. He and Miss French, riding in the front seat of the car, apparently were thrown out during its plunge down the bank.

Headlights which remained alight guided the crew of a wrecking car in pulling the sedan out. The current was beginning to break up the car.

Brilliant . . . Where Plunging Car and Swift, Bitterly Cold River Snatched Three Lives

Miss Clara Stewart of Vancouver and Miss Helen Lentsman of Barons, Alta., teachers at schools in the Brilliant District, drowned Sunday night in the swift water of the Kootenay River at Brilliant when a car driven by Alfred Heath Sweeney of Castlegar plunged down the steep bank in attempting to make a turn. Sweeney, whom rescuers found on the bank, suffered fatal injuries and died en route to Kootenay Lake General Hospital at Nelson. The body of Miss Stewart was recovered when the car was pulled out of the river shortly after midnight Sunday, but that of Miss Lentsman was still missing Monday night. It was believed she was swept down the river. Miss Winnifred Jardine of Nelson went into the river with the car, but was able to free herself and swim to the bank; and Miss Beatrice French of Nelson, fifth occupant of the car, awoke from unconsciousness to find herself lying on the river bank, one arm in the water. She gave the alarm which brought rescuers. Both are under treatment at their homes in Nelson, suffering bruises and shock.

At left, above, is the rock-stream bank down which the car plunged for 150 feet before going into the river. This scene is just below the Doukhobor bridge at Brilliant. At right spectators view the scene, from the point where the car went over, the dark stream immediately below them being the area cleared of loose surface rubbish by the plunging auto.—Daily News Photos.

Scouting Flights of British Fliers Continue Success

Mastery on Sea Is Still Britain's Despite Nazis

TONNAGE SUNK IS SMALL PERCENTAGE

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 6 (CP Cable).—Sir John Simon will seek power from Parliament tomorrow to issue the first war loan. It may total as much as £350,000,000 ($1,117,500,000). But when it will be marketed is a treasury secret.

British aircraft made reconnaissance flights over Western Germany again today while naval authorities repeated their claim the German submarine campaign has failed to shatter Great Britain's mastery of the seas.

The reconnaissance flight was the 20th since the outbreak of war. One of the British planes had not returned tonight.

Hundreds of square miles of German territory have been photographed from the air by British fliers, including Berlin, Hamburg, Kassel, Potsdam and Magdeburg.

Many of the flights have been over the industrial area of the Ruhr, including Essen, where the great Krupp munition works are located.

Referring to today's flight the Air Ministry merely stated "British aircraft carried out successful reconnaissance flights over Western Germany and secured a number of valuable photographs."

SEE VULNERABLE SPOTS

The flights provide the British and French high commands with photographic evidence of Germany's vulnerable spots. When the time comes for bombardment of German munition plants, shipbuilding yards, naval depots, airplane factories and such points the Allied pilots will have detailed information of the German positions.

In addition to the 20 big flights over German territory, R.A.F. planes have mapped the whole Siegfried line and the hundreds of square miles extending back from it where troop concentrations might be expected.

Expressing confidence in ability of British escort vessels to maintain sea supremacy and protect "cash and carry" arms shipments from the United States, an Admiralty spokesman said today:

"Despite the German boasting, the U-boats have been fairly mastered and many of them have been sunk. The task of the remainder is becoming increasingly difficult and dangerous."

Official figures on losses of British merchant shipping since start of the war listed 55 ships with a total tonnage of 238,795 as sunk. This was less than 1½ per cent of the total British merchant marine tonnage of 18,500,000.

Efficiency of the escort system was claimed after the weekend arrival at one port of 28 vessels in four convoys. They carried nearly 100,000 tons of food as well as petroleum, ore and lumber.

SHIPPING LOSSES

The office report gave this summary of shipping losses:

British—September, 37 ships, 155,636 tons; October, 18 ships, 83,159 tons; November, none; total, 55 ships, 238,795 tons.

Allied—September, one ship, 3660 tons; October, six ships, 45,275 tons; November, none, total, seven ships, 47,933 tons.

Neutral—September, 15 ships, 37,284 tons; October, 17 ships, 44,083 tons; November, two ships, 12,460 tons; total, 34 ships, 93,817 tons.

$15,000 BONDS STOLEN

BURNABY, B. C., Nov. 6 (CP).—British Columbia Police here today said bonds and securities valued at $15,000 and a quantity of jewelry was stolen from the home of J. F. O'Reilly here late yesterday. The bonds were in the name of Miss Clara O'Reilly, a sister.

MANY ISSUES IN U.S. ELECTIONS

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—Old age pensions, pari-mutuel betting, prohibition and a few contests involving President Roosevelt's policies confront the voters with a miscellany of issues in tomorrow's nation-wide elections.

The pari-mutuel referendum is in New York, the betting rings of its famous race tracks, Saratoga, Belmont Park and others, have been dominated for years by handbook makers.

The prohibition question arises in rural Indiana. In that state towns of less than 3000 population are electing town officials. The dry forces have concentrated on candidates who will oppose the issuance of local liquor licences.

The issue of Roosevelt policies is remotely present in a gubernatorial election in Kentucky and the election of a mayor in Philadelphia.

German Suggests New Way to Peace

MONTREAL, Nov. 6 (CP). — Establishment of a European Federation of States, possibly with Switzerland as a nucleus, was suggested in an address today by Dr. Gerhardt Seger as the way to lasting peace after Germany is "beaten again."

Dr. Seger, a former member of the Reichstag who escaped from a Nazi concentration camp in 1933, said defeat of Germany "seems a historical necessity in order to re-establish a free and peaceful Germany in a united continent of Europe."

The rise of Hitler to power, he said, came through inexperience of the German people in Democratic Government. They had regarded it as something put on them by the Versailles Treaty.

Dr. Seger believed more than 800,000 Germans have been in concentration camps at one time or another.

"Ham and Egg" Plan Vote Today

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6 (AP)—California's sweeping "ham and eggs" pension plan goes to the voters a seco d time tomorrow.

Nation-wide attention was focused on the new "$30 every Thursday" proposal, backed by the pennies and efforts of an army claimed by its leaders to number more than 400,000.

Opponents, who repeatedly have predicted financial chaos and state bankruptcy if the plan carries, declared openly tonight it would be adopted unless 75 per cent of the 3,605,907 registered voters went to the polls. A similar but less ambitious plan was defeated a year ago, 1,398,999 to 1,143,670.

The new plan would make radical changes in the state's economic system, pay $30 in scrip weekly to every unemployed citizen over 50, revise and add to the tax laws, virtually outlaw all forms of production curtailment, and declare private charity contrary to public policy.

VON PAPEN ARRIVES FOR BULGARIA TALKS

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Nov. 6 (AP)—Franz von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey, arrived today for a conference with George Kiosseivanoff, Bulgarian premier.

10,000 COAST WOMEN SIGN REGISTRATIONS

VANCOUVER, Nov. 6 (CP). — Officials in charge of Voluntary Registration of Canadian Women in Vancouver today said that 10,000 women had filled out registration slips here stating that they are willing to contribute to Canada's war efforts.

In nearby New Westminster, 1158 women or 26 per cent of those eligible, volunteered for war service.

Ohio to Vote on Pension Scheme

CLEVELAND, Nov. 6 (AP)—Defeat of the far-reaching Bigelow pension plan—drafted "to make old Ohio couples $24,000 rich"—was predicted tonight by one of its sponsors as well as by its opponents.

Herbert S. Bigelow, Cincinnati preacher-politician, held to his forecast of victory in tomorrow's balloting but coupled this with a declaration rejection would be met by a new and more drastic plan.

Bigelow, 60, gentleman farmer whose hobby is raspberry culture, explained his plan's guarantee of $60 a month to couples 60 or older retired from gainful occupation was equivalent to their receiving four per cent interest on a $24,000 investment. Single persons would be assured $50 a month. Ohio pensions now average $23, go on a "need" basis to 117,000 persons 65 or older.

Bigelow's pension would be financed by a new state income tax equal to one-fourth the present federal tax, and a two per cent levy on all land valued over $20,000 an acre.

Admitting Nelson Robbery, A. Grams Surrenders, Calgary

Admitting breaking and entering the Imperial Oil Company Ltd. office here November 1 and stealing $50, Alfred Grams surrendered to Royal Canadian Mounted Police in Calgary, according to a telegram to Chief of Police Alex Stewart, Monday. Constable Richard House is on his way to Calgary to escort the prisoner to Nelson, where he will face charges.

Theft of $50 was admitted by Grams, according to the telegram. According to the report of Mark W. Purser, Manager, to Nelson Police $30.78 was taken from an opened safe sometime Wednesday night.

Broker Fined for Exchange Violation

FORT ERIE, Ont., Nov 6 (CP). — In the first case of its kind to be heard in Canada, Russell G. McMillan, 42-year-old Toronto stock broker, today was convicted on three charges of violation of the foreign exchange clause of the War Measures Act.

The charges were that McMillan smuggled into the Dominion on Sept. 30, Oct. 7 and 14, a quantity of securities without first obtaining an import licence.

Police Magistrate John B. Jopkins fined McMillan $303 in each of the illegal importation cases, with an alternative eight-month jail term. On the fourth count he was fined $55 and costs totalling $91 or two months imprisonment to run concurrently with the other sentence.

Britain to Buy Lead and Zinc From Canada War's Duration

Producers Turn Over Industries Says Blaylock

LONDON, Nov. 6 (CP Cable).—The British Government has arranged to purchase Canada's entire output of lead and zinc for the duration of the war after all Canadian demands are met. The Ministry of Supply, in making the announcement today, gave no details and would not amplify its brief statement.

VOLUNTARY CONSCRIPTION

TRAIL, B. C., Nov. 6 (CP).—S. G. Blaylock, President and Managing Director of Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, said today that base metal producers throughout the Empire have "accepted what might be termed voluntary conscription of their industry" to aid Britain's war effort.

Blaylock was commenting on the London announcement that the British Government has arranged to purchase Canada's entire export production of lead and zinc for the duration of the war.

"Lead and zinc prices are fair, but far below the average of the last 20, 30 or 40 years," Blaylock said. "This assures cheap metal for the Empire's war needs, and at the same time gives a fair living for those in the industry."

He said the huge Trail smelter of his company is operating at full capacity now, producing about 970 tons of refined metals daily.

Censorship Is Planned, Finland

HELSINGFORS, Nov. 6 (AP). — Facing the critical stage in negotiations with Soviet Russia, Finland will tighten her defensive measures still further tomorrow by placing a censorship on mail, telegraph messages and telephone calls to other countries.

The danger of spy activities, a Government spokesman said, is the reason for the censorship, which also will apply to press telegrams and telephone calls.

The Government still has taken no action on new instructions for the Finnish delegation waiting in Moscow to resume conversations with the Kremlin. The Soviet is demanding, among other things, a naval base on the Southern coast of Finland and border revisions to "protect" Leningrad.

The Government was empowered to confiscate any publication containing matter considered harmful to the nation. Another decree gave the Government authority to prevent movement of civilians in specified areas.

ATTEMPTS TO OPEN ESTEVAN MINES FAIL

ESTEVAN, Sask., Nov. 6 (CP). — Attempts to reopen operations at two mines in this Southeastern Saskatchewan lignite coal field where 500 miners have been on strike since early in October failed today for lack of workers. There was no violence.

More Properties of B.C. May Open Up Says Asselstine

VICTORIA, Nov. 6 (CP).—Hon. W. J. Asselstine, British Columbia's Minister of Mines, said today the British Government's arrangement to buy all Canada's lead and zinc production outside Dominion requirements will "stimulate production in mines already in production and may result in opening up a few additional properties."

However, Mr. Asselstine said that unless the prices of the two metals "rise sharply," he thinks the "present producing properties will be the ones mainly affected.

The Mines Minister said that British Columbia today is in much better position to "play her part, not only as a Province within the Dominion but as part of the British Commonwealth of Nations, than she was when the 1914-18 war broke out.

"In 1914, Canada produced ores containing 22,600 long tons of lead, with smelter production of 16,222 tons. This year British Columbia alone will produce 184,368 long tons, or eight times as much.

"Zinc production figures show this Province increased its output this year to a figure 36 times as great as in 1914. We are producing 133,257 tons of zinc this year compared with 3017 tons. Last year Canada produced 165,320 tons of zinc, of which 128,211 tons was produced in British Columbia."

Motorcycle Youths Sought, Land and Air

VICTORIA, Nov. 6 (CP). — By land and air British Columbia Police today searched through the Northern wilderness of the Province for two Rochester, Minn., youths who left Fairbanks, Alaska, last September on motorcycles with the hope of being the first to traverse on wheels the proposed route of the British Columbia-Alaska Highway.

Pilot Russ Baker left Fort St. James, B. C., to scan from the skies the remote country where Jim Logan and "Slim" Williams were last reported.

Provincial Police detachments throughout the North Central part of the Province were ordered into the search at the request of Dr. A. H. Logan of the Rochester Mayo Clinic and father of one of the youths.

SWASTIKAS SCRAWLED ON GLASGOW WINDOWS

GLASGOW, Nov. 6 (CP).—Swastikas were scrawled on many show windows here last night. In one street alone 41 windows were daubed.

John McGovern, Independent Labor Member of Parliament, described the action as "deplorable" and said he planned to mention it in Parliament this week. No anti-Semitic activity or interference with any religion or race is wanted in Great Britain, Mr. McGovern asserted.

Consolidated, Hudson Bay Companies to Supply Metals

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP).—Two Western producers will supply practically their entire output of lead and zinc to Great Britain for the duration of the war it was learned today.

The lead, it was learned, will come from the Trail, B. C., plant of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company while the zinc will be supplied by the same company and also by the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Co., Ltd., mines at Flin Flon, Man.

Preliminary figures for Canada's lead production in 1938 showed a total of 418,913,257 pounds valued at $14,008,459. Zinc production was 381,506,588 pounds valued at $11,723,697.

Canadian lead exports in 1938 were 334,798,400 pounds valued at $14,115,946, of which 225,592,000 pounds valued at $9,145,964 went to the United Kingdom. Zinc exports totaled 369,470,000 pounds valued at $15,941,848, of which 200,134,000 pounds valued at $8,804,247 went to the United Kingdom.

Nazis Preparing for Celebration

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Nov. 6 (AP) — With quiet prevailing in the war, German attention was diverted today to the anniversary celebration of Adolf Hitler's Munich beer cellar putsch of 1923.

It has been traditional for Hitler to speak on the night of each Nov. 8 in Munich's Buergerbau Hall to the survivors of the old guard who assembled there the night before the unsuccessful march to conquer Germany was staged.

Orders creating "offices of trusteeship" in Poland were issued today by Field Marshal Hermann Goering as chairman of the council for national defence, indications some fort of government for German-occupied Polish territories is being organized.

The central "office of trusteeship" is to be in Berlin, with subsidiary offices in Danzig, Posen (Posnan), Zichenau, Kattowitz and Krakaw (Krakow).

Girls' Home Inmates Jailed After Riot

VANCOUVER, Nov. 6 (CP)—Eight inmates of the Industrial Home for Girls were charged with malicious damage to property and transferred to the City Jail after staging a miniature riot at the Home late today.

One policeman was cut about the face when the squad of 11 men broke into the dining room where the girls had barricaded themselves.

The girls pelted the officers with dishes and other crockery before they were arrested and taken to the jail.

Squadron of Nine Routs 27 German Planes; Down Nine

Overnight Possession by Nazis of River Islet Soon Lost as Trench Mortars Send Germans Scrambling

PARIS, Nov. 6 (CP).—A violent aerial combat between 27 German and nine French airplanes was reported by the General Staff tonight, with the French announcing they shot down nine of the enemy and escaped themselves without a loss.

The encounter was announced as German ground forces, supported by artillery, were reported increasing pressure on the French frontier town of Forbach.

The French air squadron took the initiative against the German formation three times its size, the General Staff said, and at least seven of the invading planes fell behind the French front lines.

The night communique said:

"Great activity of the two aerial forces. During a violent aerial combat nine French fighting planes attacked a group of 27 German fighting planes. Nine of the latter were shot down, including seven at least in our territory. Our complete patrol returned unhurt."

EMPHASIZE IMPORTANCE

The fact that the French High Command, so sparing of words, devoted an entire communique to the French fliers' performance emphasized importance of the aerial victory.

The safe return of all nine French craft to their bases indicated, in the opinion of military experts, the Frenchmen carried out their attack with exceptional skill and speed.

This first big clash between planes in battle formation and of similar type was a decisive victory for the French craft and proved their equipment and fighting qualities leave nothing to be desired, officers said.

Spotting the German craft through a rift in the clouds above Alsace, the French fliers swept into action in triangular formation. The Germans, apparently eager for a fight, attacked in groups of three planes each.

Outmanoeuvred by the French, one German machine after another fell in a long trail of black smoke.

TOLL MAY BE HIGHER

It was believed the toll of German planes might be higher than nine. It was established seven machines crashed within the French lines and two went down in flames behind the German positions. It was believed two other German craft were crippled and came down in a French forest.

The clash proved French officers said, that the planes at the disposal of the French airmen have incomparable striking power and manoeuvrability.

The German fighters may enjoy a slight edge in speed, but when great wheeling combat tactics are called for, the French machines have the advantage.

French land forces were surprised, when daylight broke over the Rhine today, to find that the Germans had taken possession of a barren islet in the middle of the river.

Heavy trench mortars, which Poilus have had few chances to use since war began, were trained on the perfect target. The fish-tailed mortar bombs, which closely resemble airplane bombs, rose high in the air, turned over in a slow curve and descended on the Germans.

The latter hastily scrambled into a small boat and made for their own shore, pursued by a hail of French machine-gun bullets. French military experts were at a loss to explain the aim of the Germans in attempting to occupy the exposed island.

In the attack on Forbach, German shelling alternated between intermittent shots into the town proper and a bombardment of three sides of the outlying sector.

King Leopold In Long Conference With Dutch Queen

THE HAGUE, Nov. 7 (Tuesday) - (AP). — King Leopold of the Belgians hurried here on a sudden motor trip last night and conferred with Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands at her palace until after midnight.

Leopold brought his Foreign Minister, Henri Spaak, with him, and Spaak and the Netherlands Foreign Minister Eelco Van Kleffens, joined in the palace consultations.

Everything pointed to urgency in the talks, although official circles gave no indication of their specific nature. Official sources said only that Leopold came here to "discuss some aspects of the international situation" with the Queen.

Informed circles here disclaimed knowledge of any new move by Germany which might have caused the urgent conversations. On the other hand, competent sources said it was unlikely the Sovereigns were considering any peace move. The entire question of keeping the low countries out of the war and of defending their vital interests was believed under discussion.

Lights gleamed from the Noordeinde Palace until 1:30 o'clock this morning as the conferees met. It was reported from Brussels that the Belgian Foreign Office also worked far into the night. It was learned Leopold decided to postpone departure pending further talks later today.

Gandhi Demands Indian Election

WARDHA, India, Nov. 6 (CP).—Mohandas K. Gandhi tonight demanded immediate election of an assembly to draft a constitution for the future Government of India and charged the British Government was fostering communal differences to thwart Indian plans.

He said that to represent the demands of the Congress Party as being Totalitarian in nature was to misrepresent the facts. The Congress Party deliberately discarded the use of force, and believed in communal unity from the time it was organized.

Gandhi said the only sanction at his disposal was constitutional agitation until it had forged weapons of non-cooperation and civil disobedience as effective substitutes for violence. The Nationalist leader emphasized the Congress Party never would be a party to communal quarrels.

Paulson Miner Has Broken Arm as Run Over by a Wagon

Douglas Miller, young mine worker at the Molly Gibson mine at Paulson, near Farron, was brought to Kootenay Lake General Hospital by the Coast train Monday night suffering a fractured left arm. He sustained the injury about 11 a.m. when he was run over by a wagonload of steel at the mine. Treatment was given by Dr. H. H. MacKenzie.

Miller gave his Post Office address as Cascade, but it is understood he came from the Prairies to Cascade.

HOUSING LOANS GIVE $40,000,000 WORKERS

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP)—The extent to which loans under the Dominion and National Housing Acts since 1935 have contributed to employment and the relief of unemployment was estimated today as at least $40,000,000.

This figure, a statement issued by Hon. J. L. Ralston, Finance Minister, said, does not take into account advances under the Home Improvement Plan, which is estimated to have provided an additional $28,000,000 in wages and salaries.

C.I.O. HEADS SEE LABOR MINISTER

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP)—Function of the Department of Labor should be to "promote the welfare of labor in this Dominion," rather than to act as "a neutral organization" as between labor and employers, a delegation of the Committee of Industrial Organizations told Hon. Norman McLarty, Labor Minister today.

In its first presentation of legislative proposals to the Government the Canadian committee, recently organized, urged that women taking the place in industry of men volunteering for army service should receive equal pay for equal services.

Climaxing a two-day conference which opened here Saturday the committee sent a delegation of 20 to call on Mr. McLarty this morning.

A joint representative of the C.I.O. and the All Canadian Congress of Labor held a separate conference with the minister and presented a resolution adopted yesterday covering wages and treatment of workers in the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, the Steel Company of Canada and the Algoma Steel Corporation.

The committee demanded Federal intervention "to prevent the destruction of franchise in municipal election now being ordered by the Province of Ontario."

In view of the likelihood of a serious unemployment problem as an aftermath of the war the committee urged the Government to immediately effect a system of national unemployment insurance.

REMEMBRANCE DAY SERVICE AT OTTAWA TO BE BROADCAST

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP) — Arrangements went forward today for the annual Remembrance Day service at Canada's national shrine, the peace tower of the Parliament Buildings where the Dominion soldiery of today will gather with veterans of other wars and civilians to pay tribute to those who fell in 1914-18.

Throughout Canada, from the largest city to the tiniest hamlet, civic authorities have arranged ceremonies for Nov. 11. But this service on Parliament Hill will be heard from coast to coast, a national tribute to those who died in the first Great War and to Canada's current war effort.

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will broadcast the national service from 7:45 a.m. PST to 9 a.m. and from 5:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. The Canadian Legion's special service from Toronto will be heard over a national network with Lord Tweedsmuir opening the service from Ottawa.

BAN COED "DATES"

EDMONTON, Nov. 6 (CP).—Coed initiative in arranging "dates" was banned by the University of Alberta senate today—scheduled first day of "Sadie Hawkins" week on the campus. Probably the order will be disregarded.

Because "Sadie Hawkins" week was not sponsored by any organization or campus society, supporters of the week said they believe the senate or university authorities have no authority to cancel the proposal.

Many coeds said they planned to proceed with the turn-about dating despite the official decree.

Press Man Expelled From Rumania

BUDAPEST, Nov. 6 (AP).—Ferdinand O. M. Jahn, who was United Press correspondent in Bucharest, arrived here today after being expelled from Rumania.

Rumanians said their government took action against him because of "official displeasure" over his dispatches. Jahn said no official reason was given for his expulsion.

Jahn, Austrian-born, now is a German citizen.

The United Press said John reported the Rumanian Government press director told him informally that the Government was displeased with his account of Crown Prince Michael's 18th birthday celebration Oct. 25.

That dispatch, it said, contained a reference to Michael's "mild romance last summer with a commoner."

School Teacher Tells of Flight From Poland

MONTREAL, Nov. 6 (CP)—Still pale and weak from the ordeal, Zofia Charuk, Montreal school teacher of Polish descent, was back home today after escaping from Poland where she was holidaying at the time of the German invasion.

Miss Charuk declared she witnessed the fall of Poland from the day the first bomb was dropped on the city of Lwow until she reached Latvia more than three weeks later.

During her flight, Zofia said, she suffered with hundreds of other refugees from illness and privation. She told of having exchanged four dresses for a small jar of jam.

The young school teacher said she had gone to Poland in July and had planned to start for home Sept. 4, but three days before she was due to leave, while she was at Lwow, the German bombers arrived there.

She told of a flight from Lwow to Warsaw where she served five days in a military canteen before authorities advised her to leave, and then of her departure aboard a train whose destination was not known.

The train was subjected to bombings the first day of its journey and afterwards only moved at night. There was no food and the refugees searched fields where sometimes they found potatoes, Zofia said.

German planes overhead were piloted by youths, she asserted. A girl flier had bombed Lwow and had been shot down, and a second plane shot down by the Poles carried a girl and a youth, she said.

"They are all youngsters, about 18 or 19, these Nazi pilots," Zofia insisted. "Some of them said they were given injections before they started out, to give them courage.

Soviet Press Warns Against War as Start 22nd Revolution Anniversary

MOSCOW, Nov. 6 (AP)- The Communist International called on the workers of Great Britain and France today to "go against those who favor continuation of imperialistic war" and accused the United States of "warming its hands near the fire of war."

In a sharply worded manifesto, issued as the U. S. S. R. began a three-day celebration of the 22nd aniversary of the Communist Revolution, the International assailed the United States for repealing the Arms Embargo and also attacked Italy and Japan.

No mention was made of Germany in the manifesto, which occupied four columns on the front page of Pravda, Communist party newspaper.

"The burgeois of the so-called neutral countries," the International said, "warm their hands near the fire of war. Under the mask of neutrality they become rich on military supplies.

The manifesto, signed by the International's executive committee, urged the workers of the world to unite to "defend the Chinese people, to go against those who favor continuation of war and unmask them as helpers to imperialisst."

Wives and mothers were told to "demand that their sons come back from the front."

Britain and France were accused of oppression in India, Indo-China, an dArabia and of "keeping half the worldin the chains of colonial slavery."

"The bankers in London and Paris will preserve the worst reactionary regimes in Europe," the manifesto added.

"The Italian bourgeois waits only for a convenient moment to throw itself on the oppressed and have its share of the spoils."

The statement praised Soviet Russia's power and said "when the Polish state ceased to exist the Soviets gave a helping hand to their brothers in the Western Ukraine and White Russia, taking 13,000,000 out of war and delivering them from oppression."

Britain and France, the manifesto said, are trying to involve the Balkans in war, but it declared, Russia will "disturb" this plan.

As Russia embarked on the gigantic celebration of the revolution, a Finnish delegation waited on the sidelines, a series of vital talks with Soviet officials apparently temporarily suspended.

Russia to Follow Own Dictates

MOSCOW, Nov. 6 (CP).—Premier Vyacheslaff Molotoff said today that Russia would proceed exclusively according to the dictates of its own intelligence and would fight against the transformation of the present war into "a fracticidal struggle throughout the world." Molotoff spoke at a mass meeting opening the celebration of the 22nd anniversary of the Russian October revolution.

"The capitalist world is fighting more and more seriously to increase the number of belligerents and to draw neutral countries into the war," he said.

"If this war continues—and the ruling circles of France and Great Britain are doing everything possible to see that it should do so—then the number of neutral countries will decrease more and more."

"It is false to say that the present war is fought to defend democracy. It cannot be expected that those responsible for the war will renounce it voluntarily. It is probable, therefore, that the war may be extended, extending at the same time the domination of capitalism.

"The Soviet Union has decided to oppose it, acting thereby in the interests of all humanity. It is evident that the international consolidation of the U. S. S. R. and the reinforcement of its international position represent not only the duty of the Soviet people but also the interest of all who desire a rapid end of the war."

U. S. Navy Plans Fleet Expansion

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Swift acceleration of current United States naval shipbuilding is projected, well-informed legislators said today, to clear the way for the additional $1,300,000,000 expansion of the fleet to be submitted to Congress in January.

Shortly after Chairman Carl Vinson (Dem., Georgia) of the House of Representatives Naval Committee disclosed administration plans to ask Congress to authorize 95 new warships and almost 2400 more airplanes, another House member said today the navy already had decided to boost its next regular appropriation estimated by $400,000,000.

This would give the navy about $1,300,000,000 for the year starting July 1, 1940 — by far its biggest peacetime appropriation.

The increase was decided on, the legislator said, after the original estimates calling for about $9,000,000,000 were given to the House Naval Appropriations subcommittee, which had planned to start hearings within the next few days.

Chairman James Scrugham (Dem., Nevada) of the subcommittee disclosed the hearings had been postponed at least until Nov. 22, but said he did not know the sum which the navy planned to request.

Some Congressmen expressed a belief a substantial part of the proposed $400,000,000 increase in the navy's regular appropriation would be devoted to expanding shipbuilding and armament facilities at navy yards, besides assisting private shipping to gear their plants for bigger loads.

Manion Replies Unless Patronage Stops, Will Bring Before Parliament

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP)—Text of Conservative Leader Manion's statement in reply to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, issued today, follows:

The Prime Minister's statement in reply to mine requires a few brief comments. Before making them, however, it should be pointed out that the interpretation put upon my statement by some of The Press implying that my remarks referred only to war contracts was wholly incorrect. I spoke of "political patronage and favoritism in Canada's war work," referring to appointments and promotions, as well as to other branches of that effort throughout Canada.

Six weeks ago I wrote to the Prime Minister a suggestion that he issue specific instructions to do away with patronage and favoritism, particularly as it applies to war work, but from information which is constantly coming to me from all parts of Canada it is apparent that the Prime Minister's pledge to banish patronage is not being carried out. Therefore the necessity of bringing the matter to the attention of the public.

Mr. King's statement that he has every reason to believe the utmost care has been exercised to avoid partisanship, influence, or patronage is absolutely belied not only by the information given to me but as well by the series of articles carried in the Financial Post, in which many serious accusations have been made. The article on Oct. 28 contained these words:

"The articles in the Financial Post have cited many examples of unbusiness-like methods and of political favoritism in the spending of our defence millions. Contracts have been let to party friends. Contracts have been let on a cost-plus basis with inadequate control of possible profits. Contracts have been let to firms with ill-equipped plants or no plants at all. What does Mr. King think of such methods of doing government business?"

Mr. King has entirely ignored these serious and definite charges and I hardly know, therefore, why he wants details from me. However, I gave him two illustrations, one from the Maritimes and one from British Columbia, both as to refusal of permission to tender on work because they were not on the Liberal patronage lists.

Let me quote two other letters regarding jobs: (1) In a letter received this morning from a small central Ontario city, the writer states that any men employed on a war project there have to be approved by the Liberal member and the President of the Liberal Association. (2) In another letter from an Atlantic Coast city, the writer says that in certain war work being done there, even ordinary labor is hired only through Liberal channels. That is the type of letters which I am receiving from all over this country. However, I intend to offer no more examples through press interview but at the proper time and place, namely, at the next parliamentary session, the Opposition will, if this practice continues, see that these conditions are given a proper airing.

Mr. King says that if I "would make public the specific details of any instance of political charges . . . they will be at once investigated."

The Prime Minister is better at offering investigations than at correcting abuses. At a cost of $30,000 he investigated the scandalous Bren Gun Contract, but though Mr. Justice Davis condemned the transaction on practically every page of his report, the only result was a violent defence of the minister responsible by Mr. King, his ministers and his party. In spite of all the evidence adduced, Major Hahn and his friends are still working on the contract. Therefore, the public may justly doubt the utilities of accepting at its face value Mr. King's expressed willingness to "investigate" irregularities. Anyway, it is not investigations that the public wants, but a cessation of favoritism and patronage.

Let Mr. King adopt the suggestion in my letter to him (unanswered) of Sept. 23 and issue specific and emphatic instructions to all military and civil officials in charge of government purchases and appointments of any kind in all centres of Canada that patronage lists must be destroyed and not replaced, and that all appointments—during wartime at any rate—must be made absolutely on a basis of merit and not on political grounds. And let Mr. King make it his duty to see that his instructions are carried out.

Gardening Need Not Hurt Hands

By DONNA GRACE

Hands, so much a part of one's beauty and charm, always should be shapely and white. They are the hands that inspire romance and are the requisite of those who would be dainty and well-groomed. We know that at this time of the year, as well as in the Spring, there is much rough work to be done, chores in which the average housekeeper wants to have an active part.

Gardening and interior decorating are the old bugbears to hand beauty. Precious flower bulbs from the garden must be put away carefully. The fine urns, lattices, and other outdoor decorations will be moved too. The inside of the house must be changed to winter drapes and furnishings and no clever woman will leave all this to the supervision of anyone but herself. So we do have to expect soiled, dust-stained hands, and this calls for reconditioning.

When the hands are stained, make a point of cleansing them at once. Never wait until the decorating and planting is all done (you should wear gloves). Each night begin with a basin of warm water and plenty of soap. Take the handbrush and rub it over the soap until there is a thick, luxurious lather. Then scrub the hands and each finger, including the crevices at the knuckles, thoroughly. This will not only remove the soil but stains as well.

Take plenty of time. When you have finished with the soap and water dry only slightly and cover with a cream or your favorite hand lotion. Work the cream or lotion well into the skin and continue to massage until they are nearly dry. Finish drying with a tissue. Then use another application of the cream to refine the surface.

Packs of oatmeal, magnesia and other mixtures will bleach and improve the texture of the skin. The nails should be examined carefully and all hangnails and rough edges removed.

SERIAL STORY . . . By Elliott Fillion

Shadow Over Hill House

CHAPTER 16

I stopped short when I saw that flickering light ahead.

"Who's there?" I called.

"Paul Rutherford," came back through the fog. So he had had the same idea I did!

Then I heard a sharp exclamation. The light was focussed downward on what as I came closer, I saw to be a huddled body.

Paul dropped to his knees. "Hold this," he said curtly, forcing the flashlight into my hands.

I was shaking so that I could hardly hold it. But I gritted my teeth and flashed the ray downward. No one could for one moment mistake that form. My heart stood still with horror and distress.

Gently Paul turned the figure over. Where the flashlight focussed was a great dark blotch. A blotch I intuitively knew to be blood. He reached up and moved the light until its ray rested on the head. Mrs. Peake, with white face and sightless staring eyes, lay before us.

"I can't do anything," he said regretfully. "She is dead. Who could have done such a beastly thing? Poor Neal!"

"And poor Josie!" I half sobbed. "And poor Josie," he gravely repeated. Then, crisply: "Are you afraid to find Neal and tell him?" He mustn't come here without being prepared.

"Duncan Abbott is with me," I said brokenly. "He'll tell him." I pursed my lips and tried to whistle, but not a sound came from my quivering lips.

"Whistle, Dr. Paul," I muttered. "That is our signal."

Before the words had fairly left my lips his loud, clear whistle cut through the air. I jumped when I heard it, and almost dropped the light. Instantly Dr. Paul's strong hands steadied me.

"I'm sorry you had to be the one to see this," he said in a low, sympathetic voice. I thought of this walk and meant to search it myself, before anyone else came this way."

"I did too," I gulped. "Oh, it's awfull Why would anyone want to kill her?"

"I can't imagine. She was the kindest, gentlest soul imaginable." He sighed heavily. "It must be mixed up with the rest of the things which have happened around here: mother's prowler, the poisoned whiskey which she got instead of me, and now—Mrs. Peake. Ah, here he is," as Duncan loomed out of the fog.

"My God," Dunc cried as he saw the distorted form at our feet. "What does this mean?"

"Heaven only knows," answered Dr. Paul. "Dunc, you'll have to find Neal and tell him. I'll stay here. Sally, you go to the house and telephone to the police. Use the telephone in the office if Josie and Rhoda are in the lounge. Do it as quickly as possible. Every moment counts. We can't let the brute who did this escape."

I passed him the flashlight and turned to ask Dunc to walk back to the house with me before he went to find Neal. But Dunc wasn't there. Evidently he had hurried away while I was listening to Dr. Paul's instructions.

I was ashamed to tell Dr. Paul that I was afraid to go back to the house alone. I knew no reason why anyone should kill me, but the thought that a murderer might be lurking in that shrubbery was terrifying. Gathering up what little courage I possessed, I started for the house.

I was dripping wet, cold, shaking, and my breath was coming in painful gasps when my feet stumbled against the terrace flagstones. I gripped the door knob with both ands and, by main force, compelled myself to stand there until my panting breaths subsided to nearly normal. I couldn't appear before Josie like that. What I had to tell her was bad enough, and how I was going to tell her I didn't know.

As it turned out, I didn't have to tell her anything. I opened the terrace door, Josie and Rhoda were sitting on a davenport. Josie was crying softly and Rhoda, her arms around the piteous figure, was trying to soothe her fears.

They looked up as I stepped inside and stood blinking at the light. Josie sprang to her feet. For a long moment she stared at me; then a distressed moan broke from her lips.

"She's dead, isn't she?" she cried wildly. "Mother's dead."

I could only silently nod my head. Words simply would not come. She dropped back on the davenport and buried her face in the pillows.

"Look after her," I said to Rhoda. "Keep her here. I'll be right back."

Josie's stricken face drove all thoughts of fear or distaste from my mind. Straight through the lounge to the office I went. An emergency call put me quickly in touch with the police, and I poured out my story as rapidly as possible.

"Who is speaking?" demanded the authoritative voice at the other end of the wire.

I told him and he shot his instructions back in curt words.

"I'll be there as quickly as possible. Don't let anyone touch the body until I come." Bang! The receiver went back on the hook, with a crash which almost took my ear off.

I knew that Dr. Paul would stay with Mrs. Peake until the police arrived, and I judged that he, a physician, would know as well what to do as if I tore back and told him what the police officer had said. My duty was to Josie.

Maybe it was specious reasoning. In my heart I knew that nothing on earth could force me to take that walk alone again. Cold chills crept up and down my spine at the bare thought. "You're a coward, Sally Gordon," I snarled at myself, and the imp which lives in my mind rose up and chortled loudly at my discomfiture. But even that humiliation couldn't force bravery into my poltroon soul.

Back in the lounge I found Josie still prone against the pillows, with Rhoda hovering over her. She spread her hands wide, an impotent gesture, as I entered. I understood what she meant. She didn't feel any more helpless than I did.

I walked over to the davenport and, as I came to a stop beside it, Josie slowly raised herself and looked at me. Her face was white with great ghastly rings circling her brown eyes. Her lips were trembling, but she forced them to do her bidding.

"Where did you find her?" she asked.

Before her honesty compelling gaze, I could only answer as bluntly as she asked.

"On the grass walk beside the spite fence."

"That spite fence!"

Remembering what she had told me about her feeling for it, I could understand the depth of her piteous exclamation.

"Somebody killed her, didn't they?" She didn't wait for me to reply, but went on in a hopeless, dreary tone: "Just as they tried to poison Mrs. Rutherford or Paul or whomever they meant to kill. And now they can't bring her home, can they? She'll be taken down to that police station —because— she was murdered." Her voice trailed off vaguely.

I looked sharply at her. I couldn't tell if she were striving to realize all that it meant in a rational way or if she had gone completely whacky.

"But I must see her again, once more. I must." She struggled to her feet and stood trembling, as I sprang to grasp her arm.

She looked pleadingly at me. "Tell them that, Sally. You see, I'm sure just how things will be. I've read too many detective stories not to know. But you tell them I have to see her once more. I have to."

She turned to Rhoda and scrutinized her long and searchingly; then she turned back to me.

"Sally, I'm leaving everything in your hands. Whatever you do will be right with me and with Neal, too. I must lie down for a while." She swayed as she spoke. "I must. Will you come with me, Rhoda?"

I nodded approval of this to Rhoda, who slipped her arm around Josie's slender waist, and they went from the room together. Then I heard the thunderous roar of motor cars braked to sudden silence outside.

Experiments . . .

Cool Reception of Cold Vaccines

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Attempts to prevent colds by immunizing with vaccines are still on trial. Opinions differ as to their value. One person takes the vaccines, has no colds the following winter and concludes that the vaccines did the trick. He will possibly be recommending it to you next week. Then, when you are about persuaded, another fellow comes along who took the same course of vaccines, and says he had more colds that winter than ever before.

Colds do funny things and it is hard to draw accurate conclusions from single observations.

At the University of Minnesota, they made some carefully controlled experiments. They took a group of students and gave them, with their own consent, a series of cold vaccine injections. Then they took another group and gave them injections of sterile water, telling them it was to prevent colds. None of the students knew exactly what he was getting.

GOT STERILE WATER

Frequently after that a doctor would write and say, "I have a patient who was a student at the University last year, and took your cold vaccine with such splendid results that he wants to continue it. Will you be good enough to tell me what vaccines are used?"

The school doctor would look up the record and find that the person in question got only sterile water.

If the cold vaccines were a success it would be good news for many large industries. They have enormous time losses with employees who lose a day or two from colds, and would be very glad to have a way to prevent these losses. So they appraise the value of vaccines with a business-like eye.

They have vaccinated as many as 20,000 employees in one city, but the results have shown no reduction in the incidence of colds.

There is little scientific sense in the use of vaccines against colds because we do not know what the cause of the common cold is. It is supposed to be caused by one of the filterable viruses—that group of organisms too small to be seen under a microscope.

There was a report two years ago that the virus had been isolated, but that report has not been confirmed. And no vaccine made from the virus has ever been produced.

Controlled experiments in the use of vaccines are few and far between. The most extensive one was that carried out at the University of Minnesota, to which I have just referred. One large group was given cold vaccines subcutaneously. Another group of equal size was not treated at all. (This was a different experiment from the one in which the group got the sterile water injection.) When the results were tabulated, it was found that the vaccinated ones had a reduction of 26 per cent in the number of colds during the following winter. But colds were seldom completely abolished.

LESLIE HOWARD "LITTLE BETTER" AFTER ACCIDENT

Camp Lister Wedding

A late October wedding of particular interest at Huscroft-Camp Lister was conducted by Rev. H. J. Armitage at Trinity United Church Manse, Creston, when he united in marriage Miss Lillian Marie Wocknitz and Edwin Chesley Pendry, both of Camp Lister, where they are to reside. Previous to the happy event the bride was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower the Deer Lodge community hall tendered her by the ladies of that district.

I Love You . . .

3 Little Words That Never Fail

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

He's going to be married in December after a short and snappy courtship. He doesn't know much about women because this is his first and only love. He would like to know what a young husband can do to insure against divorce.

I know the answer to that one and if he will accept it he may have happy days, sleep-sweet nights, peace and contentment, with plenty of excitement thrown in to keep peace from pelting.

Young or old, rich or poor, high or low no wife can quite believe in her husband's love unless he says it with support and fidelity and habitually puts his love into words. When all is laid on the line, the three little words—"I love you," —words that have inspired the human heart sine time began, are sweetest music to a woman's ears. She is never so low in spirit but they lift her. She is never sold but they thrill her.

Naturally his words must be backed up with visible proof things over and above what the law requires of him (The law requires him to support his wife and be faithful). Every woman knows that the over-and-above things are tenderness and generosity; compliments and confidences; and the greatest of these are confidence.

Let a man refuse to satisfy his wife's curiosity and she's set back. Let her get the idea that her husband is holding out on her and she's frightened. Let him deceive her and she's thereafter suspicious. Let him lie to her and she's sunk. She was born knowing that a man's confidence is the ultimate, incontrovertible proof of his affection. So, whatever his sins of omission or commission she will wipe the slate clean if he tells her his thoughts.

The close and comfortable companionship that every woman wants with her husband is finished when he's ducking and dodging to keep her from knowing what he's been up to. Concealments, deceptions, little white lies and big black ones will give any man the fireside fidgets and when he gets the fidgets the jig is up; no more fun at home for either party.

Isn't it strange that lasting love and the success of the great adventure—marriage, hinge on such small matters as a few "words fitly spoken," the common courtesies that are practiced with casual acquaintances, and confidence, full and free? Not so strange either when you consider that these are the things that awaken love in the first instance and put it into the hearts of a pair to put their love in perpetuity.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be published in this column. Letters unsuitable for publication will be answered personally provided they contain stamped, self-addressed envelopes. All names are held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, in care of this newspaper.

Emotional . . .

Consistency in School Success

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Over a period of weeks or months we can usually predict about how a child will behave and how he will succeed at school. Yet, there are some children whose conduct and learning progress are not easily predictable.

"Dear Dr. Myers:" writes a mother. "I have a little girl, nine years old, who has poor habits of concentration. She doesn't want to stay with any kind of work or play except for a few minutes.

Her teachers tell me that at one time she will do excellent work and then next day very poor work. Will you please tell me how to handle her and give me some suggestions?"

EMOTIONAL CONFLICTS

I answered her that this child probably has many emotional conflicts. No doubt she varies widely from day to day in her state of hopefulness or discouragement, happiness or unhappiness, elation or depression. It would be well to study her in relation to the other members of the family, especially to other children there, and to have a general medical check on her.

It would be safe to do all possible to create for her a serene and comfortable family atmosphere in which she feels she is loved as much as others there. She should not grow over weary or excited.

HOLD HER TO ROUTINES

It is best to hold her rigidly to routines and enforce home regulation in relation to them. Before she is asked or told to do something, her mother should make sure first she has her attention. Then it may be desirable to have her repeat the request or command before she sets out to execute it.

It would be good to read aloud to her at home. But the moment she moved about or grew inattentive, I would close the book and put it away. I also would assume that she will concentrate when she is interested and succeeding. When she began a play enterprise, I would encourage her to see it through, to finish the job.

Now, a word about the child who has been doing well at school over a period of one or several years but suddenly slumps into an indifferent school laggard. We find him all along the line—in the early grades, high school, college. Such things don't just happen; there's a reason. We should try to find it instead of exploding emotionally, scolding and nagging at the child. Although there may be a health reason, and we should check it, most often the case is emotional, frequently too deeply hidden for the parent alone to unearth.

If you would like to receive a selected list of books which aim to help parents and teachers understand children better and win their cooperation, write me in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

TODAY'S MENU

Spiced Rolled Shoulder of Lamb
Baked Sweet Potatoes
Peas Cabbage and Celery Salad
Date Butterscotch Pudding Tea

SPICED ROLLED SHOULDER OF LAMB

Have lamb shoulder boned and rolled at the meat market. Make a sauce of six whole cloves, 12 whole allspice, three tablespoons brown sugar, one cup diluted vinegar (half vinegar and half water).

Pour this sauce over the lamb and let stand for half an hour before cooking. Season meat with salt and pepper and place, fat side up, on rack in open roasting pan.

Cook in moderately slow oven (350 degrees F.) basting occasionally with the spicy sauce. Allow 40 to 45 minutes per pound for cooking lamb. Thicken liquid in roaster and serve as sauce.

DATE BUTTERSCOTCH PUDDING

Ingredients: four tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, one-eighth teaspoon salt, two cups hot water, three tablespoons butter, six tablespoons brown sugar, one-half teaspoon vanilla, one cup finely-cut dates.

Combine quick-cooking tapioca with remaining ingredients in a greased baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes, or until done, stirring well every 10 minutes, and again when removing from oven. Serve warm with cream. Serves six.

PRUNES WITH MEAT

Prunes add an interesting tang to pot roast, as we discovered when dining with a woman who loves to do kitchen experiments. Soak one-half pound (one cup) dry beans overnight; cook them next morning until tender.

Also soak one-half pound prunes overnight. Brown a piece of pot roast on all sides in hot lard in a skillet. Season well and place in covered roaster. Surround the meat with the beans and prunes, add one-third cup molasses, more seasoning, if desired, and enough water to barely cover the beans and prunes.

The water in which prunes have been soaked should be used. Cover and bake at 350 degrees F. until meat is tender, 30 minutes to a pound. An hour before meat is done add pared and halved potatoes.

MEAT PIE

It is made with one pound inexpensive beef or left-over meat, flour, four tablespoons lard, one small chopped onion, salt, pepper, three medium potatoes, three medium carrots, biscuit dough.

Cut meat in small cubes, flour and brown in the hot lard. Season well. Add a little water, the chopped onion and cook until tender, 30 45 minutes.

Cut the potatoes in cubes and the carrots in crosswise slices and boil in salty water until tender. Make a gravy over the meat by adding more water or milk and thickening with flour stirred up with cold water. Add the vegetables and mix gently.

Pour into a casserole oiled with lard, place baking powder biscuits over the top and bake at 425-450 degree F. until biscuits are well browned—about 15 minutes. Serves six.

"The Commission is exploring all the circumstances involved in the transfer, as is customary when such applications are filed. x x x The Commission hopes to be able to reach a final decision promptly."

Miss Jardine Fought to Safety From Sunken Car; One Body Is Recovered

Miss French Comes Out of Daze to Find so Close to River One Arm in Water; Sweeney Former Rosslander

How Miss Winnifred Jardine, displayed great presence of mind, fought her way out of a car which had plunged into the icy Kootenay River and overcame a swift current as she swam 30 feet to shore; and how Miss Beatrice French, apparently thrown from the car, recovered from a daze to find herself so close to the edge of the river that one arm was in the water, were features revealed in Monday's investigation of the car accident at Brilliant Sunday night which resulted in three deaths.

Miss Jardine and Miss French were the only survivors when a heavy sedan containing four women teachers of the Brilliant District and Alfred Heath Sweeney of Castlegar, driver, plunged 150 feet down a 45-degree bank into the Kootenay River about 8:40 Sunday night. Sweeney died of chest injuries en route to Kootenay Lake General Hospital at Nelson. The body of Miss Clara Stewart of Vancouver, one of the teachers, was recovered when the auto was pulled out of the river about 12:30 Sunday night, nearly four hours after it went over the bank.

BODY STILL MISSING

Late Monday efforts to find the body of Miss Helen Lentsman of Barons, Alta., fourth teacher in the car, had been unavailing and it was feared the body had been swept down the river. A search was prosecuted along the Kootenay from Brilliant to its confluence with the Columbia River opposite Castlegar, and watchers along the banks of the Columbia kept an unsuccessful lookout.

Miss Jardine and Miss French are at their homes in Nelson, under treatment for severe bruises and shock.

Dr. H. H. MacKenzie, District Coroner, described Miss Jardine as "a very brave young woman," and said she was "most courageous" in her escape from the death car.

The 20-year-old teacher, resting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jardine, of Nelson, said she was not sure just how she got out of the car.

PROTECTED HEAD

When the auto started to back over the edge of the bank she threw her arms over her head to protect herself.

Seeing the auto was about to plunge into the river, Miss Jardine took a deep breath and held it. Then as the vehicle sank in the swift water, she fought her way out. She could see no one else when she reached the surface, and the 15-mile-an-hour current swept her swiftly away from the sunken car. She battled ashore, overcoming the current.

Miss Jardine is the holder of a life saving medal of the Royal Life Saving Society, won while at Normal School during the past year.

When the car was pulled out of the river examination revealed that the top had been bashed in during its plunge, and that two doors had been smashed off. It went over the bank near the Doukhobor bridge as Sweeney backed up to negotiate a sharp turn to a branch road leading to the C.P.R. station at Brilliant.

MISS FRENCH DAZED

Miss French, who suffered bruises on her back, and smaller bruises and cuts over her body, told how she was thrown from the car and landed dazed at the river's brink.

She did not know how long she lay there, but when she came to one arm was extended into the water. She had to make three attempts to rise. She clambered painfully up the steep rocky bank and went to the C.P.R. station to notify V. J. Lamphear, who phoned to Constables George MacAndrew and John Henry at Castlegar and initiated rescue work.

Miss Stewart's body was floating at arms' length from the submerged car, the water pulling her from it while the sleeve of her coat, caught in a door hinge, prevented the current from washing the body downstream. This was revealed when the car was recovered. Headlights gleaming under water as they remained alight guided the men working with a wrecking car to recover it.

When the car was removed from the river, it had started to break up in the force of the current. It had been washed about 15 or 25 feet downstream. In its mad tumble down the 45-degree bank, the top was bashed in and two doors ripped off. The doors and Miss French's purse were found on the bank. Miss French had been riding in front with Sweeney, and the other three women were in the back seat.

HAD DINED TOGETHER

Three of the four women, all of whom were teachers in the Brilliant area, were at Miss French's home in Nelson for supper Sunday night, while Miss Jardine was at her own home. The four went out to Brilliant on the bus and Mr. Sweeney met them with his car. They were on their way to the Lamphear residence to pick up Miss Wilma Milne of Nelson, another teacher, and take her with them to their various schools, when the tragedy occurred.

A coroner's jury will view the bodies of Sweeney and Miss Stewart in Nelson this morning.

St. Paul's Church Celebrates 48 Years of Service In Community

Enlightened by a fine program of music and addresses, congregational members of Nelson Churches gathered in St. Paul's United Church hall at the annual supper, commemorating the forty-eighth year of the Church's work in Nelson. About 200 sat down to a tasty supper served by the Women's Auxiliary.

Greeting the representative gathering, Rev. Foster Hilliard, St. Paul's United Church Pastor, spoke of the pride of achievement the congregation could feel in looking back over the 48 years as "descendants of those who planted the flag of Christ in the community." While respecting the traditions built up, he urged that his congregation should look to the future as well for "the work of Christ was never done."

ARCHDEACON BRINGS HUMOR

Injecting a touch of humor into his address, Ven. Archdeacon Fred H. Graham urged the people of St. Paul's to look to future growth, with the energy, buoyancy and happiness of youth, tempered by the sagacity and experience of age developed in their 48 years of organization. He brought the good wishes of the Anglican Churches in Nelson.

Stand against darkness, prevent corruption, sweeten and make wholesome the surroundings, all the while being a leavening influence, was counsel given by Rev. J. A. Donnell, Pastor of Trinity United Church, in expressing his good wishes for the Church's future. In brief these were the lessons of three favored sermon subjects: "Ye are the Light of the World," "Ye Are the Salt of the Earth," and "Ye Are Living Leaven." He outlined the origin of the church as Presbyterian in that it was governed by a Presbytery, Catholic in that it had a universal outlook and Protestant in its faith.

Dr. F. M. Auld and Rev. Mr. Hilliard introduced the speakers.

THE PROGRAM

The musical program included two beautifully rendered violin solos, "Serenade" by Franz Drdla, and Handel's "Largo," by Miss Catherine Argyle; two pleasing vocal solos, "O Thank Me Not," and "Clarinda" by Miss Doris Habegard; and two delightful piano solos, "Humoresque" by Felix Swinstead and "Valse Caprieuse" by Frank Bridge. Miss Margaret Graham supplied piano accompaniment for Miss Argyle, while Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson accompanied Miss Habegard.

A community sing was led by Charles Morris.

Sunday Archdeacon Graham and Dr. A. P. McDiarmid of Robson spoke at anniversary services in the church.

American Ship Is Warned by Germany

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP). — Short-wave listeners of the Columbia Broadcasting System reported tonight that an official German news bulletin from Station DXB, Berlin, said "the American ship Black Gull sailed from New York today at her own risk."

The German announcement said, they reported, that "her cargo consisted of contraband allegedly destined for Belgium and Holland."

They said the enigmatic statement was made in German but not repeated in the English language broadcast immediately following from DXB.

"OUR WAR" TOO SAYS AUSTRALIAN MINISTER

LONDON, Nov. 6 (CP). — German radio statements that Great Britain can expect little help from the Dominions are "complete nonsense, as the German people will realize before very long," R. G. Casey, Australia's Minister of Supply, said in a broadcast tonight.

Mr. Casey is in London to attend conferences among British and Dominion Ministers on wartime cooperation throughout the Empire.

"This is our war as much as it is your war," he told the people of Great Britain. "All parts of the Empire always would rally to each other's assistance when any part is threatened."

Germany Has Lost Interest in British Fleet Says Officer

BERLIN, Nov. 6 (AP). — Britain's war fleet no longer interests Germany's Air Force, First Lieutenant Hermann Buelow told Foreign correspondents in an interview. Wearing a decoration acquired as a pilot during an aerial attack on the British fleet, he said:

"After five attacks by our Air Force and the Scapa Flow deed of valor by submarine (the sinking of the battleship Royal Oak) the British Royal Navy has disappeared completely from the North Sea.

"It has thus disappeared from our sphere of interest. If it is on the Atlantic it doesn't interest us. Our navy, however, is interested in commercial ships."

JUST AS PATRIOTIC AS MAITLAND SAYS GUTHRIE IN DEBATE

VICTORIA, Nov. 6 (CP)—R. L. Maitland, K.C., Conservative leader, saw a bogey under every C.C.F. desk, said Sam Guthrie, C.C.F., Cowichan-Newcastle, in the Legislature today, continuing the throne speech debate.

"I am just as patriotic as Mr. Maitland, but my patriotism is of a different kind; it is of that kind that wishes Canadians to live in abundancy. I hate Hitler as much as anyone, but Hitler probably will be crushed from inside rather than from outside," said the speaker.

"We must have the people unitedly behind us to crush Hitlerism," he went on. "But it was Britain who gave money to the madman to build up his machine. Who rushed to Munich to give Czecho-Slovakia away? It was Chamberlain. He also sent over an office boy on a slow boat to Russia and because of the dilatory methods negotiations broke down."

PUNJAB STATES TO BACK BRITAIN

LAHORE, India, Nov. 6 (CP Reuters). — The Legislative Assembly of the Punjab States today pledged unconditional aid to Great Britain and endorsed the British plan for re-examination of India's status after the war.

By a vote of 104 to 39, the Assembly approved a resolution to aid Britain and urged "that it should be made clear that the constitution of India should be examined afresh at the conclusion of the war with a view to immediate attainment of the objective of Dominion status with effective protection for all minorities and in consultation with all parties concerned."

In presenting the resolution Major Sirdar Sir Sikander Hyat-Khan, Premier of the Punjab States, said India was in sympathy with the Allies and that the Nationalist demand for clarification of British war aims toward India was "bargaining of a despicable kind."

RAISE GOOD SUM POPPY TAG DAY

Nelson's Poppy Day Saturday, the first under war conditions, was particularly successful, with financial results ahead of recent years. From the $382.29 collected in the taggers' boxes, $252.50 will be deducted to pay for the poppies, fabricated by disabled veterans, and this will leave a few cents short of $130 toward the Canadian Legion's Local relief fund, upon which heavy calls are made. All other expense than the purchase price of the poppies, including advertising, was borne by the Legion, and all work was voluntary.

The good weather increased the day's success, which was already assured by the strong ladies committees and the army of enthusiastic taggers. H. E. Thain, Secretary-Manager of the Legion, stated.

Do Not Remain a Slave to Constipation!

Don't believe that common constipation is an ill that has to be endured. Becoming "regular" would no longer be a problem if your food aids to form the "bulk" necessary for "regularity."

This "bulk" will be obtained easier by eating Kellogg's All-Bran every day. All-Bran is not completely assimilated and helps form in the intestines a soft "mass" favourable to "regularity."

All-Bran is a crisp and browned cereal, delicious to taste, and which is one of the foods the richest in Vitamin B1, the natural intestinal tonic.

Eat All-Bran every day, drink lots of water, and see how agreeable life is when you are "regular." Made in London, Canada, by Kellogg. At all grocers.

RUSSIAN PRETENCE GONE

In a single sentence, Premier Molotoff in his address to the supreme soviet, revealed Russia's rapacity in the present and her treacherous intentions in the past.

"One swift blow to Poland," he said, "first by the German army and then by the Red army, and nothing was left of this ugly offspring of the Versailles Treaty which had existed by oppressing non-Polish minorities."

These words strip Soviet diplomacy naked, end the pretence that the invasion of Poland was necessary to protect Russia's frontier, and show that the partition was the result of a conspiracy between gangster powers. They explain Polish fears, justify the distrust of the democratic statesmen and confound the critics who clamored because Britain did not accept Moscow's terms in order to protect the threatened republic.

The revelation goes farther back. The same terms which Molotoff applied to Poland he could have applied to Czechoslovakia. If war had broken out last year, Russia would have seized the opportunity to plunder for her own hand and would possibly have betrayed the democracies in conspiracy with Hitler. The charge that Britain is the aggressor because she is continuing the war shows how little reliance could have been placed on the Soviet as an ally when Czechoslovakia had been overrun. With the conquest an accomplished fact, the Moscow diplomats would have felt free to leave the democracies in the lurch and proceed to take spoils for themselves.

The charge that Britain is the aggressor needs no reply, but the charge that British statesmen tried to provoke strife between Germany and Russia will be used by Canadian Communists, and is being paralleled by our own C.C.F. leaders, and it may be swallowed by those who were willing to believe in Russia's pose as the friend of peace and democracy. It is confuted by the obvious facts.

Hitler's hatred of the Bolshevists was his own offspring, born in him long before he came to power. He fathered and fostered it, without help from anyone. It was not Britain that brought him as an opponent of Russia into the Spanish quarrel. It was not Britain that induced him to form an anti-Commintern entente with Japan. It was not British statesmen who inspired his writings in "Mein Kampf" or his bitter anti-Bolshevist speeches in Berlin.

It was British statesmen who last year averted the war that might have brought the mortal enemies into conflict, and it was British statesmen who stood in the way of the Fuehrer's march to Ukraine. If they had allowed themselves to be bought off, there would have been no Berlin-Moscow axis, and the dictator would now be concentrating all his force on the domination of Eastern Europe and the advance to Russia's granary.

The Bolshevist premier's speech shows that the two pagan powers are one in their resolve to crush freedom and Christianity. It shows, however, that Russia will make no sacrifices for her ally. She will assist Germany but will refrain at present from war, urging a peace that would mean profit for aggression and would confirm her own title to plunder. Bolshevist treachery, unscrupulous cunning and rapacity have been made indisputably plain by recent events. Molotoff's speech has merely added to evidence that was already become overwhelming.

Curious, Galloway—Does a wife have to pay a bill that is in her husband's name, if her husband is dead?

This depends on whether the husband left an estate. All bills are paid from the estate of a deceased person. For instance if the husband left money to his wife, she would have to pay the bills but not actually out of her own money.

H. A. S., Creston — Would you kindly tell me where to write or how to rewind generators?

Write to a local electrician for this information.

R. T., South Slocan—How can I remove a grease spot from a suede shoe?

Grease spots on suede shoes will disappear if they are rubbed with a clean cloth dipped in glycerine.

O. S., Procter—How long have ice skates been known?

They were known as long ago at least as the 10th or 11th century, when they were mentioned in the Icelandic Edda. Carvings of older times show crude skates. Probably the first objects used to assist men in propelling themselves over the ice were smooth animal bones tied to the foot coverings.

W. G. W., Nelson—What part of Devil's Club is used for medicine?

The roots of the Devil's Club are used for medicine.

SOUTH OF THE BORDER

South of the Border down Mexico way,
That's where I fell in love,
When stars above come out to play
And now as I wander my thoughts ever stray
South of the Border down Mexico way.

She was a picture in old Spanish lace,
Just for a tender while,
I kissed the smile upon her face
For it was Fiesta and we were so gay
South of the Border down Mexico way.

Then she sighed as she whispered Manana,
Never dreaming that we were parting,
And I lied as I whispered Manana
For our tomorrow never came.

South of the Border, I rode back one day
There in a veil of white by candlelight she knelt to pray,
The mission bells told me that I mustn't stay
South of the Border, down Mexico way.

EL RANCHO GRANDE

(Verses):
Give me my ranch and my cattle
Far from the great city's rattle.
Give me a big herd to battle
For I just love herding cattle

(Chorus):
I love to roam out yonder,
Out where the buffalo wander,
Free as the eagle flying
I'm roping and a-tying,
I'm roping and a-tying.

Give me my bridle and saddle
And my old pinto I'll straddle,
I'll get the cowboys a-riding
Out where the rustlers are hiding.

Sometimes the Winter storms teasing
Set all the cattle a-racing
But when the Winter is over
We're sure enough in clover.

Give me the wide open spaces,
That's just where I know my place is,
I love the rodeo dearly,
And the big round-up yearly.

Tho' we play seven-eleven,
My ranch is next door to Heaven.
We smile when we take a beatin'
But hang a rat when he's cheating

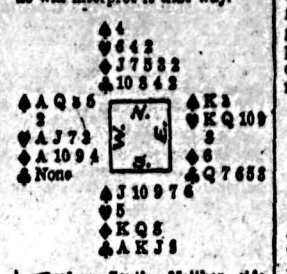
CONTRACT - - - - - - By Shepard Barclay

BETWEEN TWO FIRES

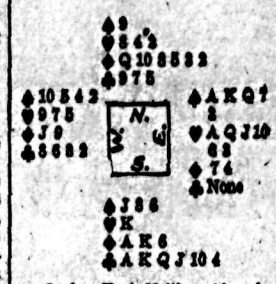
IF YOU are opposed by two players who know how to use every device of defensive bridge to beat points out of you, it is well to be a bit wary. You are between two fires. Perhaps the one at your left has made a "trap" pass of your opener. If his partner then doubles, it is hazardous business to redouble to beg a take-out from your partner, unless you feel sure he will interpret it that way.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

At one table of a duplicate game South bid 1-Spade on this deal and it was passed to East, who doubled, so as to give his partner a possible chance for a business or penalty pass. South decided to chance a redouble, not caring particularly how North interpreted it. When the latter passed, East and West set him three tricks, for a score of 1,000 points, giving them top and him bottom on the deal.

Another West passed South's spade bid, but in this case East bid 2-Hearts, then South 2-Spades. West decided there might be a possible slam in the cards, so went for it by jumping to 4-Hearts. South had the temerity to double this and West gleefully redoubled. An overtrick was made, producing a total score of 980, including the 300 duplicate bonus for game, but this was not as good a score as that made by the pair which was wise enough to double in the East on the first round.



(Dealer: East. Neither side vulnerable.)

If East bids 1-Heart on this deal, what would you do in the South?

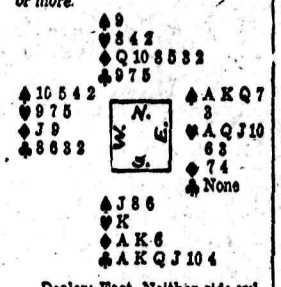
"THE PLAY'S THE THING"

BRIDGE enthusiasts who think contract is mainly a bidding contest will do well to remember that old quotation from Shakespeare. The bidding is really nothing more nor less than an effort to forecast the play, which fundamentally is the heart and soul of any form of bridge. In many a case, regardless of how the bidding may have gone, the play of a single card can mean a difference of 10 tricks or more.



(Dealer: East. Neither side vulnerable.)

Here is a deal upon which the play of a single card meant the swing of 11 tricks. The bidding was short, sharp, spectacular and somewhat peculiar, although also somewhat logical. East had called 1-Heart, South then called 3-No Trumps, because he expected a heart lead and a duck of the first trick. East doubled and South redoubled. West led the heart 9 and East decided to play the 10, expecting South to have a guarded king. The result was that South took 13 consecutive tricks.

Had East seen fit to play the heart ace on the first trick, his side would have taken the first 11 tricks.

U-Boat Campaign Failure Despite Shipping Losses

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 6 (CP Cable) — Britain has lost 55 merchant ships aggregating 238,793 tons since the outbreak of the war, the Admiralty announced today. That represents 1½ per cent of Britain's total merchant fleet.

French losses have been seven ships of 47,933 tons aggregate, while neutral nations have lost 34 ships of 93,823 tons.

Despite these losses naval authorities insist Germany's U-boat campaign has been unsuccessful since the first few days of the war when submarines caught unprotected vessels on the sea lanes.

An admiral said today that "Germany's determination to stop British ships and neutral ships trading into British ports has failed signally."

He went on to say that while British ships still sailed the Seven Seas, Germany's merchantmen are confined to the Baltic and territorial waters which could be reached from the Baltic.

The first two weeks of the war saw the biggest losses to U-boats. In the first week Britain lost 11 ships of 64,000 tons, the second week, 16 ships of 67,000 tons. Since then the weekly totals have dropped steadily. In the last week three ships, of 16,000 tons aggregate, have been torpedoed.

At the outbreak of the war Britain had 18,500,000 tons of merchant shipping, so losses through submarines and mines have not greatly damaged her, let alone crippled her. Shipbuilding yards all along the coast are working 24 hours a day to make up the losses.

Plan "Comb-Out" of Fighting Force

LONDON, Nov. 6 (CP Cable).—A big "comb out" of Great Britain's fighting services is foreshadowed by talks now taking place between engineering unions and government authorities with the object of finding out what technicians are now being unsuitably employed.

Leaders of the shipbuilding and engineering unions fear that young men who entered the forces are not being utilized according to their special technical knowledge. They want them allocated either to technical units of the services or returned to civil life to resume jobs in munitions factories or the export trade.

The men involved include not only those between the ages of 20 and 22 called up under the National Service Act, but volunteers, reservists and territorials of various ages.

The Government and unions are agreed that in the interests of winning the war skilled labor and the best brains in engineering should be used to the best advantage. The Ministry of Labor and other Government departments have requested the unions to institute enquiries and forward names of men whose labor they believed to be misplaced.

Fred Smith, General Secretary of the powerful amalgamated engineering union with 400,000 members, declares: "We recognize the requirements of the Army, Navy and Royal Air Force, but we say it is a pity to use the 100 per cent skilled man for a 15 per cent job — digging trenches or doing minor engineering work. Also, production at home is required to keep the forces in the field and we must look to the maintenance of export trade, on which the nation's income depends."

A similar comb-out was not made until the first Great War was well under way. This time it is happening much earlier, authorities observe.

French Say Germans Attempt Blockade

PARIS, Nov. 6 (AP)—French economic experts said today Germany is attempting to close European supply sources to Great Britain and France in hope of offsetting the Allied blockade and the United States' repeal of the arms embargo.

They expressed skepticism, however, whether Germany could organize such a "continental blockade."

Germany would corner the economic aid of the neutral nations of Europe if she succeeded, they declared, since the plan envisages a bloc including Soviet Russia, the Netherlands, Italy and the Scandinavian and Balkan nations, all pledged to trade exclusively among one another.

But if the entire group joined, the experts said, it was doubtful whether the plan could prove fully successful since those nations lacked sufficient amounts of such prime materials as cotton, tin and oil products.

Changes In Youth Training Program

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP)— Labor Minister McLarty announced changes today in the Dominion-Provincial Youth Training program to aid Canada's war effort by building up the physical condition and morale of Canadian youth with a wide extension of projects.

These projects will be carried out in more than 400 centres in all Provinces which have approved of them and will include physical training, health, first aid, citizenship and other group activities.

Last year more than 20,000 unemployed young people were enrolled in the projects. It was anticipated the number will be doubled this year. During the past Summer, the Minister reported, valuable work was done in conserving and developing natural resources in the primary industries of forestry, mining and prospecting. More than 6000 young men enrolled in these divisions.

Industrial training will concentrate on occupations where there will be an increased demand for skilled workers in war contracts work, particularly in metal working trades. Meantime, training classes for rural young people in a wide range of subjects pertaining to agriculture and rural homecraft are proceeding.

To help the youth training program determine in what industrial occupations training should be concentrated, an effort is being made to have a survey in all Provinces carried out by cooperation of the Employment Service, employers and organized labor. This will seek to ascertain the available supply of labor in skilled occupations essential to war production. Workers can then be trained for those jobs where shortage of skilled mechanics may arise.

Precious? Certainly!

When, during the reign of James I., clay pipes were first made in England, the bowls were only a quarter of an inch across — about the width of a cigarette! They were so small because tobacco was so precious. It cost three shillings an ounce. Three shillings then was worth eighteen shillings now. So, roughly speaking, tobacco 300 years ago cost the equivalent of $72.00 a pound.

In those days it was stated officially, "Some of the gentry bestow three and some four hundred pounds a year" on tobacco. Four hundred pounds under James I. had the same buying power as $12,000 under George VI. So, it was only "the gentry" who could enjoy tobacco.

Today smoking is among the most democratic of pleasures. And, through the unceasing efforts of the tobacco industry, the lowest-priced brands are far superior in fragrance and flavour to the best procurable 300 years ago... at that, half the money you pay for a package of cigarettes goes to the Federal Treasury.

Kimberley Only Squad Relying on the Weatherman

It won't be long now before the Fall training season for the 1939-40 West Kootenay Hockey League warfare is in full swing.

Denny Edge's Bulldogs from Gonzaga University have been on ice for some time now in their conditioning program, and they'll be at least one long jump ahead the other league teams when they make their debut into the league at home on the 26th.

And now Bill Ramsay, Manager of the Trail Rink, announces that first ice will be available in the Smelter City Wednesday. So the Smoke Eaters won't waste much more time before they ease their itching feet.

ONLY NATURAL ICE

Naturally all the Kimberley Dynamiters, being the only team in the circuit not having artificial ice, can do is have their collective fingers crossed and keep hoping that the weatherman will be kind to them and let them have their Christmas present at least three weeks beforehand. Kimberley plays its first game December 9 at home against Gonzaga, playing a return game in Spokane the following night.

Nelson won't be far behind Gonzaga and Trail for although Denis St.Denis, Manager of the Nelson Civic Centre, insisted some time ago that there won't be ice in the Civic Arena before a week from Wednesday, that is the 15th, it is barely possible that ice might be ready a couple of days earlier, perhaps even on Sunday. The Nelson Skating Club is practically assured of ice for their opening night, November 15.

LIFTING UP FLOOR

Monday saw the beginning of the three-day job of pulling up the floor in the rink and storing it in the Recreation Grounds grandstand. Yesterday the sections of the floor within the blue line at the East end were taken up by a seven-man crew.

It takes longer taking out the floor than installing it for it is necessary to hoist the sections into position in the grandstand. When getting ready for the lacrosse season, the workmen just have to pull the different sections down off the piles.

After the floor is lifted by Wednesday, it will be another day before testings of the pipes, machinery and other preparations for the actual ice-making is completed. So if everything runs smoothly, there may be ice by the beginning of next week.

It was necessary to leave the floor in place after the end of the boxla season for the hockey carnival which was staged last Friday and Saturday.

Surprise Basketball Victories at Creston

CRESTON, B. C. — The basketball fraternity received a surprise at the Commercial League games at Park Pavilion Friday night when the Universal Motors squad turned in a 23-20 win over Imperial Groceteria. Wynndel, last year's winners in the men's division, bowed to the 1938 tailenders, the Canadians, 18-12, while the pee wee section established an all-time Creston record with a shutout for the Creston Review, bowled over by C. Y. O. 13-0.

Universal Motors had an advantage in height over Groceteria, and Friday night they also showed a superiority in combination play. Both teams were off in their shooting, Motors take particular satisfaction out of their win for Kolthammer was the only member of the squad that had previously appeared in senior company. Armitage with eight points was Universal's big basket getter. Thorpe, with the same total, was the high scorer for Groceteria. Teams were:

Universal Motors — Schade, Kolthammer, Armitage, Husband, Erickson and Amatto.

Imperial Groceteria — LaBelle, Gillis, Bakken, Thorpe, Rogers, Avery and Cliff York.

Wynndel had no reason to feel bad over the 18-12 trimming received from the Canadians. The berry pickers are minus most of their 1938-39 lineup, and with only a couple of workouts and but five players on the floor their game was impressive. Canadians were short two of their regulars, George Crosson and Ben Crawford, who were at Cranbrook for High School League fixtures. F. Hagen with six and Herb Couling accounting for eight were the scoring stars of the Wynndel team and Canadians respectively.

Teams were:

Wynndel — Cooper, Bathie, Hindley, F. Hagen and B. Martell.

Canadians — Truscott, Morabito, Gabelhei, Couling, Nastasi, Ferguson, Corner, Dale and Wolfman.

The midget clash was uninteresting, particularly in the first half, when C. Y. O. ran up 10 points before the Review had become acquainted with their surroundings. In the second frame C. Y. O. was held to three points.

Teams were:

C. Y. O. — R. Archambault, K. Gariepy, R. Gariepy, B. Patrick, J. Bullock, O. Perricini, J. Rodgers, E. Kilback and F. Rota.

Creston Review — R. Tompkins, B. Beatty, G. French, E. Joy, D. Aldridge, B. Ward and A. Ward.

The refereeing was handled by Allan Speers, Gus Morabito and Buster Martell.

CRESTON SWEEPS LAST HOOP GAMES

CRESTON, B. C. — In the East Kootenay High School Basketball League championship honors in the girls' section have been won by Creston, while Creston finished in second place, behind Fernie boys, who didn't drop a game all season.

The league ended at Cranbrook Friday night when Creston boys, girls and intermediate squads all were victorious.

Playing in abbreviated quarters Creston was slow in getting under way, but once familiar with the floor and surroundings, had no trouble in dominating the scoring.

Scores were:

Cranbrook girls 8, Creston 19; Cranbrook boys 16, Creston 23; and Creston Intermediates 16, Cranbrook 12.

This was Creston's first year in High School League play and gave a good account. The girls won five out of six and the boys annexed four out of the half dozen. Fernie was the only town showing superiority over Creston, and only at Fernie in the case of the girls.

One of the big school buses was used for transport but all expenses as to gas, oil and so on were taken care of by the Student Council, which handles all student activities.

Patrick Wants Gonzaga Hockey Player Banned

Guy Patrick, Manager of the Vancouver Lions of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, who always seems to find himself in the centre of committee room hockey arguments, is now ranting over the indifference of a young amateur to his approaches.

This player is Pat Murphy, who is now enrolled at Gonzaga University at Spokane, and who will play with the Bulldogs in the West Kootenay Hockey League. That is, he will if Patrick doesn't have him suspended.

According to an interview with Patrick by the Vancouver Sun, "Patrick is very keen on young stuff and spends much time and money collecting rookies. He thought he had a good one in Pat Murphy, who played and starred for Vernon juniors. But Pat hustled off to Gonzaga College.

"By the agreement between organized amateur and professional hockey Guy has a claim to Murphy. He does not want to take the kid out of school, but he does want to sign him up for future years.

SEEKS TO SUSPEND

"Murphy has refused to reply to Patrick's letter, so the Vancouver boss will appeal to the amateur organization and ask that Murphy be suspended.

"This will be possible because Gonzaga is playing this year in the Kootenay League and, if Murphy is ordered out, all the Kootenay players will be unable to play against him—unless they wish to be outlawed."

Guy now seems to have been bitten by the farm system bug as well. The tremendous success Brother Lester has enjoyed with his Four-R system has impressed Guy so much that he would like to have some place where he could farm out good up-and-coming simon-pures who at the moment did not quite measure up to professional calibre.

WANTS GOOD COACHING

"I have Ritson, Boyd and Bak (three amateurs who have been trying out with Lions this Fall) that I would like to send to some good junior club and keep a string on them," Patrick is quoted as saying.

"I don't want them playing around this poor amateur league here. They get too many bad habits. Boyd played in New Westminster last year and he developed a couple of habits that were tough to correct. I would like to send Ritson to Edmonton Roamers. He is just 17 and is the most promising kid I have ever seen. So I want him in good hands."

"A wedding present from the Ranger organization," was the way Lester Patrick announced that Alf Pike, above, would be carried with the team in the N.H.L. this season. Twenty-two years old, Pike played with Winnipeg Monarchs, Memorial Cup winners in 1937, and since that time has been with New York Rovers and Philadelphia Ramblers, both in the Ranger chain. He was married the day after Patrick stated he would be retained as utility forward with Rangers.

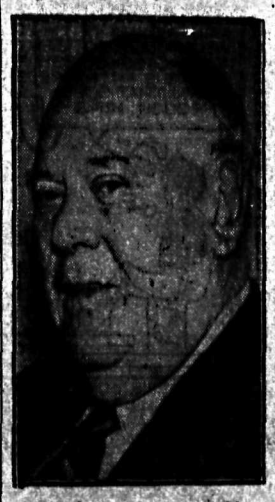
Ups Derby Prize



Very happy about everything connected with the American turf's No. 1 event, the Kentucky Derby, is Col. Matt J. Winn, above, President of the American Turf Association, who recently announced that the 1940 renewal of the historic event would be for $75,000 added, an increase of $25,000 over last year's purse. The good colonel is the only man who has seen all the derbies run and for the past 36 years he's been in charge of things.

270,000 Eastern Brook Trout Eggs Nelson Hatchery

In a week or 10 days it is expected that the annual collecting campaign of the Provincial Fish Hatchery at Nelson for Eastern Brook Trout eggs will be finished. To date there have been approximately 270,000 eggs collected of the anticipated total of 500,000.

These eggs are being stripped from parent fish in Violin and Boundary Lakes. Last year a large number were also collected at Loon Lake, but so far hatchery officials haven't found it necessary to go there.

About 1,800,000 redfish eggs are at present in the Hatchery, collection of these from Kokanee Creek terminating two or three weeks ago. One small amount was brought in from Meadow Creek in the Lardeau.

Pro-Rec Grows Rapidly, Nora Tells Rotarians

Explaining the benefits of the movement and how it had grown since its inception in 1934, Trygve (Trig) Nora of Rossland, Head Instructor for the Kootenays, told the Nelson Rotary Club of the Provincial Recreation or Pro-Rec movement at the club's luncheon meeting in the Hume Monday.

"Nelson has always been sports minded and we are looking forward to a good enrollment when the classes open here November 15," Mr. Nora said.

The movement, sponsored by the Department of Recreation and Physical Education, was strongly backed by Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Health and Education. Ian Eisenhardt was Provincial Director. He was assisted by Mrs. Keatley and Jerry Mathisen, Chief Instructors for the Province.

FOR ALL AGES

"Our aim is to give the people—people of all ages above 16—something beneficial to do in their leisure time. It is to teach them health, sportsmanship, and cleanliness. There will be exercises for everyone, young or old. For ladies, the exercises will be somewhat easier. I would like to see as many as possible take part, and not just sit back and look on all the time. The main duty of the instructors is to teach things that people will enjoy," he said.

The movement was not restricted to those people over 16 who were not in school. "The more students the better," he said.

Exercises to suit the majority were given, and they were exercises that made everyone feel "at home." There was "no advanced stuff." Included among them would be games, basketball, boxing, wrestling and so on for those who wished them.

GROWN RAPIDLY

When the movement started in 1934, there were 19 centres with 2766 members. In 1935-36 there were 39 centres with 5520 members; in 1936-37 there were 81 centres with 19,435 members; in 1937-38 there were 115 centres with 21,493 members; and in 1938-39 there were 176 centres with 26,831 members. The movement was spreading all over the Province and into the rest of Canada.

In 1937 when it was started in Rossland there were about 110 members, while in 1938-39 the membership had grown to 249.

Miss Eileen Macdonald had the charge of all ladies classes. Classes had started at Castlegar last week and were doing "very well."

In addition to other exercises, instruction would be given in skiing this Winter. Skiers would be shown how to turn, stop, run and perform other gyrations.

Lieut.-Col. S. P. McMordie, who stated he had watched an "amazing improvement" in a class of swimmers at Vancouver under the Pro-Rec movement, expressed himself as a solid backer of the movement, and thanked Mr. Nora on behalf of the club for his address.

Penticton Girl Is Accidentally Shot

Another shooting accident near Penticton, the second within a short time, was reported Monday in radio advices to B Division Headquarters of the B. C. Police at Nelson.

A 14-year-old Penticton girl, Mariam MacDonald, one of a hiking party of seven, was accidentally wounded in the right shoulder by a .22 bullet from a rifle in the hands of Ruth Wainright, 16, of Penticton, a member of another hiking party, in the Max Lake vicinity near Penticton Sunday. The girl's condition was described as "not serious."

Schmeling Worried How to Make U.S. Trip

MADRID, Nov. 6 (AP). — Before taking off in an airplane for Seville, former World Heavyweight champion Max Schmeling told the Associated Press today he would like to go to the United States to challenge Joe Louis, but that the problem of transportation was bothering him.

Asked why he couldn't take the "Clipper" from Lisbon, bushy-eyed Max, sipping orange juice at the airport, cagily replied, "Oh yeah? The Clipper sometimes stops at Bermuda — that's British."

NEGROS TO STAGE MUSIC BOWL GAME

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 6 (AP). —Music (hot variety) took its place today along with flowers, food, fruit, clothing material and sunshine as inspiration for post-season football "bowls".

Plans were announced for a "Bluesbowl" game December 9 between two Negro High School teams one from Memphis and the other probably from New Orleans or Nashville, Tenn.

Among added attractions will be a chorus of 300 going to town on such favorites as "St. Louis Blues" and other tunes composed by Beale Street's favorite son, W. C. Handy.

Grizzly Shot, Sirdar

SIRDAR, B. C. — A large grizzly bear was shot near Boulder Creek during the week. So far as can be ascertained this is the first of the species to be seen in this locality. This is evidently the bear that has been doing damage to a ranch nearby the place where it was shot.

HUNTERS AT SIRDAR

A large party of hunters from Nelson were here over the weekend. Many Creston and District hunters were also out. Quite a few geese have been secured, local sportsmen being notably successful in this respect.

DUCKS HARD TO GET

Ducks and geese are more plentiful so far this year but sportsmen have to use every guile and trick they know to get results. All birds caught are reported to be in the best of condition. Friday saw the geese much on the wing but owing to the inclement weather few sportsmen were out to take advantage of the low flights.

Syd Fenn First String Possible With Stampeders

CALGARY, Nov. 6 (CP). — Calgary Stampeders cellar occupants of the Alberta Senior Hockey League a year ago, today looked like "potential" Allan Cup timber as Coach Marty Burke, former National League luminary, trained his collection of "ivory," gathered from Ontario to the Pacific Coast.

Coach of the Quakers last Winter and the former professional who played 7½ years with Montreal Canadiens and 3½ years with Chicago Black Hawks, lost no time in grabbing Art Rice Jones of Winnipeg.

Then Burke scrapped half of the 1938-39 Stampeder squad and built a strong defence around Jones, who performed at Geraldton, an Ontario mining centre, last Winter. Chuck Millman, a chunky St. Catharines youth, weighing 205 pounds, was tabbed at his Stratford, Ont. home while Tommy Dewar, last Winter's Moose Jaw Millers defenceman, was told of the hockey-mad foothills city here.

An open race developed for Stampeders' second defence couple. Elton McFadzen, former Saskatoon junior who came here last Fall, Pat Hill, ex-Lethbridge Maple Leafian, and Gordon Dedley of Winnipeg, recently of Wembley Lions, England's National League champions, are battling it out.

Up front, the prize packages include Tony Demarais, a Regina product and former New York Rover, Syd Fenn of Trail, B. C., up from Lethbridge via New York Rovers, and Mike Patrick, a breezy 21-year-old rightwinger from the Edmonton E.A.C. Juniors, Western Canada titlists last Spring. Demarais journeyed West after leading the Saskatchewan League scorers last season.

Coach Burke indicated Davy Duchak, last year's Calgary playing-coach, Bill Reay of Stampeders and ex-Winnipegger, left wing, and Fenn, right wing, likely would be Calgary's first string trio.

Demarais was tabbed as pivot for the second line, flanked by Bill Gauf from Olds Elks and Cam Burke, a Calgary leftwinger last Winter. A third line will feature Patrick at right wing, Howie Hill, late of Turner Valley Oilers, in centre, and either Les Thirlwell or Jimmy Jampson, Stampeders veterans, for the left lane.

Manion Letter to Mackenzie King

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP) — Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, National Conservative leader, made public today the text of his letter to Prime Minister Mackenzie King Sept. 22 regarding claims that patronage was being indulged in in Canada's war effort.

Text of the letter follows:

Ottawa, 22nd September, 1939.

Dear Mr. Prime Minister:

I regret to inform you that I am receiving letters from various parts of the country claiming that patronage is being indulged in very much the same as in peace times.

I have had letters about this from Hamilton, Regina, Halifax, and other places. I have been ignoring them in the hope that instructions might go out that, in view of the fact that all classes are expected to enlist and do their bit for us during the war, all classes also would have the right to tender on supplies and to obtain whatever positions there may be. The letter I have from Halifax claims that "not only in contracts but in employing ordinary labor to work at the outer defences and forts surrounding Halifax" the patronage system is being utilized to the utmost.

I am quite sure you are not aware of this but I suggest, with the best of intentions, that you have instructions sent out that this type of thing must cease, particularly as it implies to war work but it seems to me that at this time it ought to cease in regard to all work. I am placing the matter before you with the hope that you will give instructions along that line,

Yours very sincerely,
(Sgd.) "R. J. Manion."

Board Suggests B.C. for Air Training

VANCOUVER, Nov. 6 (CP).—The Vancouver Board of Trade in a brief sent to Dominion Government and Royal Canadian Air Force officials today stated that British Columbia's Lower Mainland and certain sections of Vancouver Island offer every facility for successful training of pilots for the Royal Air Force and that such areas should be chosen as training bases.

The brief states that climatic conditions here are similar to those of the British Isles and Northern France.

"In fact, it is considered that there are more favorable flying hours in a years in this section of British Columbia than anywhere in the British Isles," the brief continues. "But the similarity of conditions, such as closeness to sea level, mists and light fog at certain periods, dampness, low-hanging clouds, long periods of twilight, absence of electrical storms, high winds, etc., would appear to be greatly in favor of acclimatizing pilots from other parts of the Empire before they proceeded overseas."

Copies of the brief have also been sent to Premier T. D. Pattullo, and Frank M. MacPherson, Federal Transport Commissioner.

FRENCH CHILDREN RETURN TO SCHOOL

BASEL, Nov. 6 (AP). — School bells rang today for thousands of French children in the Alsation towns of Mulhouse and Colmar, shadowed by the Maginot line defences and within the range of the big guns of Germany's Westwall forts.

Encouraged by continued quiet along the Rhine front, French authorities deferred plans for removal of the civilian population from those two centres and ordered resumption of many normal peacetime activities.

Communist Leader Asks Investigation of His Accuser

BOSTON, Nov. 6 (AP)— Earl Browder, Communist leader under indictment for using a false name on a passport, sought today an investigation of his accuser, Representative J. Parnell Thomas, New Jersey Republican, who, he said, was "himself sitting in Congress under a pseudonym."

Making his first public appearance since his release under bail, Browder called upon Attorney-General Frank Murphy to investigate Thomas. Browder also advocated Socialism for the United States and hailed the Soviet Republic as the "world's greatest power for peace."

WELCOMES INVESTIGATION

ALLENDALE, N. J., Nov. 6 (AP) —Representative J. Parnell Thomas replied to Earl Browder's charge that he is using a false name by declaring today that "everybody" knows he changed his name.

Thomas said he took his mother's name through court action in Westchester County, N. Y., in 1919 after returning from war service.

"I welcome any investigation by the Attorney General on any question," Thomas said.

FOX HUNTERS START CHASE TODAY, TEXAS

CUT-AND-SHOOT, Tex., Nov. 6 (AP)—Thousands of fox hunters, eager for a zestful chase and a few days' comraderie, bore down upon this little community today to stake a claim for a tent home.

A picturesque city emerged deep in the pine country of Southeast Texas as each hunter picked out a favored spot, grabbed a tent from a trailer, seized a hammer and stake and set to work.

The affair—one of the biggest of its kind in the country—formally begins tonight with the bench show. The first chase in the field will come at daybreak tomorrow Besides the native game, hunters will have a chance to chase 25 foxes released especially to insure good hunting.

'White Feather' Cause Protest From Doctor

By FRED BACKHOUSE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 6 (CP Cable) — The White Feather, so-called symbol of cowardice handed young men who stayed home in the First Great War—and frequently to soldiers on leave and to men in reserved occupations—again has made its appearance.

One was sent anonymously to Doctor E. A. Wilson of Southport. The envelope in which it was contained bore no markings.

A public protest was issued by the Southport Medical War Charity Committee which said Dr. Wilson offered himself for war service at home or abroad soon after the outbreak of war. The Committee said Dr. Wilson's name "is on the list, ready for duty when the army or navy make the call."

Expedition Seeks Cocos Island Gold

BALBOA, Calif., Nov. 6 (AP) — The legend of Cocos Island's buried gold lured another expedition to sounthward today, guided by letters a century old.

George L. Bosley, an automobile club official, told of the newest hunt today. He said the sailing schooner Spindrift left Newport harbor here several days ago with eight men and a woman aboard.

He told this story of the trip's background:

In 1821, the Mary Dear, commanded by a captain Thompson, was anchored at Callao, Peru. Treasure from Lima's Spanish Catholic Church—valued at $60,000,000 and including two life-sized statues of the Virgin Mary cast in solid gold—was put aboard because church officials feared revolutionists.

The articles were buried on Cocos Island. A few years later, the unnamed First Mate wrote letters and drew maps detailing the burial and its location. These came into the hands of James Alexander Forbes, a doctor and navigator. They have been in the Forbes family since.

"They appear so authentic," said Bosley, "that we feel certain we are on the right track. They have never been used as the basis for a search."

Markeling Board Distrid Agency Is a Probability

Homersham Indicates Good 'Market Year' for Kootenay

Indication that a B. C. Interior Marketing Board agency or clearing house for the Kootenay may be established if district vegetable production and trade should sometime warrant it, was given by R. B. Homersham when he visited Nelson to address a meeting of District 9 grower-producers and registered members. Just where or when the agency would be established was not stated. It might be at Nelson, but not for some time yet, it was indicated.

The Board has done splendid work in stabilizing prices and arranging for distribution at the Coast for Interior growers and the establishment of a Kootenay agency would be another step in extension of their efforts, he said. The Board at present experienced difficulty in aiding Kootenay growers, Mr. Homersham stated, partly because of the smallness of the membership and trade. However an increased membership and increased trade would mean increased efforts by the Board to aid district growers.

"MARKET YEAR"

Kootenay growers should find little trouble in marketing this year, Mr. Homersham declared, for it is a growers "market year" here.

He urged Kootenay growers to contact the Board more often for cooperation in settling market problems. In this way more beneficial settlements would result.

Present circumstances would not warrant a Board agency office here, said Mr. Homersham. In the event of an agency being established it would be through an already existing office.

U.S. Govt. in Red for Farm Insurance

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP). — The United States Government went into the "red" in the first effort to insure farmers against crop losses from drought, floods, hail, insects and other natural causes.

Government policies were taken out by 165,551 farmers on their 1939 crop. They paid 6,769,120 bushels of wheat as premiums. About a fourth of the policy holders, or 42,420, reported crop losses and received indemnities totalling 9,461,730 bushels.

Thus, the Government Insurance Corporation's losses totalled 2,619,610 bushels of grain, or a cash equivalent of about $1,885,000 at current prices. The losses were taken from a $20,000,000 capital stock with which Congress invested the agency.

U.S. Farmers Look to Brighter Year

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Official predictions that 1940 would bring a moderate industrial and business improvement in the United States led farm leaders to speculate today on the possibility that the next session of Congress may be able to reduce Government subsidies to agriculture.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics, in its annual outlook report, said farmers are expected to receive a larger cash income for their products in 1940 than in 1939.

The last Congress appropriated approximately $1,000,000,000 for subsidies to finance crop-control programs and for removal of price depressing surpluses. While Federal farm officials declined to give any figures for 1940 subsidies, they said that if the predictions of better prices and enlarged markets for farm products were borne out, the demand for Government financial aid would not be so great at it has been for several years.

CRESTON, B. C. — Directors of Creston Valley Cooperative Creamery Association had a business session Friday afternoon, followed by an inspection trip of the three properties at Erickson offered them by West Kootenay Power & Light Company, Ltd., J. G. Connell and B. Goodwin. The latter was not seriously considered as it has no buildings. The other two have structures on them that can be converted to house the buttermaking plant.

Col. Fred Lister, President; H. A. Rogers, D. K. Archibald, C. B. Twigg and J. G. Connell made the trip. At the close of the session no information was given as to the site selected.

The list of those who had agreed to purchase stock in the creamery was divided into districts and a man named to make the rounds of each section calling up the stock subscribed, under the general direction of J. G. Connell.

If the response is as favorable as anticipated it is expected announcement will be made as to site and purchase of required machinery.

Allied Ships Await Cargoes U.S. Grain

CHICAGO, Nov. 6 (AP).—Tons of grain pouring from elevator spouts into vessel holds for shipment through the Great Lakes today attested to improved wartime European demand for some United States farm products.

As rapidly as ship space can be obtained grain is being loaded here. Boats are in demand because of expanded requirements for cargoes of grain as well as other commodities, particularly ore to feed the booming Eastern United States steel furnaces.

Elevators lining the Calumet and Chicago Rivers were disgorging their grain into waiting ships at an even faster pace than some commodities could be shipped into Chicago. For example, soy bean shipments last week by boat and rail totalled 1,904,000 bushels compared with receipts of 1,005,000 bushels.

The rush was due partly to efforts to fill delivery on accumulated business before navigation closes and also to increased European demand for soy beans, which is breaking all export records in that commodity, and for corn. Navigation probably will be closed here about Dec. 1 but shipments of grain bound for St. Lawrence ports or for exports have to be made before that date.

WORLD EXCHANGES

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (CP).—The crack between the official price range for the British pound and the local free market widened a little more today with a fresh drop in the pound.

Sterling declined 3¼ cents to $3.94 in relation to the United States dollar which was eight cents below the Bank of England's buying rate of $4.02.

Foreign exchange dealers associated the recent persistent weakness in sterling with changes in the U. S. neutrality policy. Great Britain now can buy war materials here, they reasoned, which might still further tip the balance of international payments toward the United States.

The belga gained .06 cent. The French franc dipped .01 to 2.24 and the Netherlands guilder as much. The Canadian dollar, at a discount of 10⅛ per cent, was unchanged. The Swiss franc was also unchanged.

Closing rates: Great Britain in dollars, others in cents:

Gold Belt Output $33,360 in October

Low-Priced Stocks Active, Wall Street

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP).—Aircrafts lost their zooming power in today's stock market and many other leaders found the going a bit tough.

Low-priced issues among aviations and other groups again were liveliest performers, but the majority failed to pull out in front. Several stocks selling around $1 to $10 turned over in blocks of 10,000 to 18,000 shares in the first hour, but much smaller trades were the rule thereafter.

Losses generally ran to 2 points or so in the forenoon. Modest buying support appeared in the latter part of the proceedings and extreme setbacks were reduced or transformed into minor advances here and there at the close.

Despite occasional speed-ups of the "little fellows," dealings were far less feverish than in Saturday's session. Transfers for the five hours approximated 1,300,000 shares.

North American aviation did comparatively well as the company voted a dividend of $1 a share against a 40-cent payment declared last July. Glenn Martin, Boeing, Curtiss-Wright, United Aircraft and Consolidated Aircraft were feeble throughout.

Shares in arrears the greater part of the day were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Western Union, American Smelting, N. Y. Central, Montgomery Ward, International Mercantile Marine and Kennecott. Bus Terminal, Coca-Cola, Budd Wheel and Graham-Paige were up most of the day.

Sugar Output Gains

OTTAWA, Nov. 6 (CP).—Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today increased output of refined sugar was indicated during the four-week period ended Oct. 7 when the total was 101,604,562 pounds compared with 96,562,943 in the same period last year. The cumulative total from Jan. 1 to Oct. 7 was 862,803,108 pounds compared with 868,679,817 in the same period last year.

Stocks of raw sugar on Oct. 7 amounted to 3,790,094 pounds compared with 78,175,087 a year ago. Receipts of raw sugar during the four weeks totalled 33,127,267 pounds compared with 74,500,438 while meltings and sales totalled 91,700,771 compared with 81,059,334.

Construction Starts on Friant Dam, Calif.

FRIANT, Cal., Nov. 6 (AP) — Shovels bit into the brown hills of the San Joaquin River valley today as construction got under way on the Friant dam unit of California's huge Central Valley water project.

A 15-mile lake will be backed up behind the concrete wall for the regulated irrigation of Central Valley, almost 500 miles long and nearly 50 miles wide.

Conservatives of Trail In Support Premier Pattullo

TRAIL, B. C., Nov. 6—The Trail Conservative Association has wired Premier T. D. Pattullo congratulations on his stand against the speech by Mrs. D. G. Steeves, C. C. F. member for North Vancouver, in which she attacked the British Empire.

H. L. Jestley, President of the Association, announced today that the following telegram had been dispatched:

"R. L. Maitland, K. C.,
Leader of His Majesty's Loyal Opposition,
Parliament Building, Victoria.

"Please convey to Premier Pattullo our appreciation of his stand against disloyal C. C. F. element in the Legislature. Your cooperation with the Government at this time approved."

Commenting on the matter, Mr. Jestley today said: "It is significant that in this war a similar speech has not been made in any Parliament or Legislature in the British Empire. In England the Labor party is 100 per cent behind the Government in its defence of our democratic ideals."

Rossland Child Breaks Fingers Protecting Pal

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 6—An attempt to save her chum from injury resulted in three badly broken fingers for Barbara Lewis, 11-year-old daughter of Mrs. R. G. Lewis of Rossland, Sunday afternoon.

Barbara was playing with Orma Bray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Bray, who was swinging on an improvised rope swing at the back of Mrs. L. B. Cameron's home on Columbia Avenue. Orma was swinging back against a tree, and Barbara put out her right hand to prevent her friend from injuring her back, and caught her hand between the rope and the tree causing a double fracture of the index, second and third fingers.

She was taken to the Mater Misericordiae Hospital where she was given medical treatment by Dr. H. R. Christie of Rossland, and Dr. D. J. M. Crawford of Trail. She was able to return to her home.

Victorious Hitler Would Have Men Shot for Sayings Such as Heard In House Says Pattullo; Scores Cameron

VICTORIA, Nov. 6 (CP).—If Hitler emerged victorious the Cooperative Commonwealth party couldn't say the words we have heard the past two sittings; they would be taken out to concentration camps or probably shot," Premier T. D. Pattullo said in the Legislature today.

The Premier spoke after twice suggesting Colin Cameron, C.C.F. Comox, withdraw remarks referring to British policy and Government.

"We should all temper our observations because we are at war," said Mr. Pattullo. "Let the people of British Columbia judge. Do not try to weaken our cooperation with the Ottawa Government. Where would the C. C. F. party be if Hitler emerged victorious? They couldn't say the words we have heard the past two sittings. They would be taken out to concentration camps or probably shot."

"We are being criticized for criticizing the Chamberlain Government," said Cameron, native of England who served with the British forces from 1914-18. "We are not criticizing the Chamberlain Government for what it did, but for what they were and for what they are." (He mentioned Spain and Czechoslovakia but withdrew his references to those countries on the objection of Capt. C. R. Bull, Liberal, South Okanagan.

Previously Cameron had withdrawn a reference to H. G. Perry, Liberal, Prince George for remarks concerning Mrs. Dorothy Steeves' speech last Friday in which the C. C. F. member for North Vancouver criticized British policy and Government.

"We are asked to forget the cruel betrayal of the past, Cameron said. "Patriotism is not a sentimental attachment to a symbol. Patriotism is that devotion spoken of by Lord Tweedsmuir, the welfare of the people of Canada. The Canadian Government has been grossly unfair and disloyal to the unemployed of this Dominion."

ASKS WITHDRAWAL

Mr. Pattullo said the statements should be withdrawn as they tended to discourage enlistments. He objected again but the speaker was not asked for a ruling and the statements stood.

Referring to remarks of his colleague, Mrs. Steeves, uttered in the House last Friday, Mr. Cameron began his address by saying: "Members who served overseas seek the right to criticize the actions of those who caused the last war; of the unspeakable mess, of the folly, and chicanery of those in control of the lives of men.

"We saw cheap heroics and heard shoddy rhetoric by those whose patriotism never met the test in the last war and whose loyalty has never been expressed except in the cheap coinage of words."

Mr. Cameron asked if it was necessary for a patriot to "leave common decency and honesty outside."

Continuing, the Comox Member told the House that youths of today knew nothing of the administration of affairs in 1915-19. "If they did they would think that shyster lawyers, racketeers and bucketshop operators had gained control of the political democracy. Today those men are patriots who will not allow those who know what war is to speak their minds."

"I would suggest," he added, "that we have a duty not to be laid on the shoulders of those who do not know what war is."

J. A. Paton, Conservative, Point Grey, interposed that other soldiers could speak for themselves.

Mr. Cameron: "Those in our position have a duty to perform. We must demand the guarantee that we were too innocent and too ignorant to demand in the last war.

"Are we men not to demand that those who would lead a new crusade should have their credentials examined and found beyond reproach? I'm not prepared to forget the men still in France. There has been no voice raised suggesting that the lives of Canadian youths are too important for that sacrifice unless that sacrifice is worth it."

The Hon. leader of the official opposition R. L. Maitland, K.C., knows the power of words but does he know the definition of patriotism and loyalty. War aims of the Allies must be made clear. That demand has been made in the British House of Commons.

"We are asked to commend the British Columbia Government for patriotism in offering wholehearted support to the Ottawa Government. I am astonished by the censorship regulations that we must not have opinions in our possession.

"Who has and who has not the right to swath himself in Union Jacks? The crowning obscenity of the last war was the sending of our youth to the front by those in smug and safe positions at home, who cheered on others to the danger zone. Those who died in France 25 years ago were foully betrayed by those who sent them and stayed behind.

"So many patriots of today are those who didn't go overseas 25 years ago and who have been singularly silent on the returned man's question until now," Mr. Cameron concluded.

Winch Demands Ruling on Immunity of Speakers on Wartime Utterances

VICTORIA, Nov. 6 (CP)—Harold Winch, Cooperative Commonwealth Federation leader in British Columbia's Legislature, failed today in his effort to obtain an immediate formal ruling on whether members of provincial legislatures have immunity during wartime for their utterances on the floor of their respective chambers.

Mr. Speaker Norman Whittaker had not replied to Winch's request —opposed by Premier T. D. Pattullo who commented that even more important than preservation of members' rights is assurance that "The interests of Canada shall be preserved"—when the house began consideration of ordinary business.

During debate on Winch's request, however, the speaker said he would have to give a decision "in light of certain words spoken in the House."

In asking for the ruling, Winch said that last Friday in the Legislature "I made the statement that I interpreted censorship regulations as abolishing immunity of members of the provincial legislatures for utterances made on the floor of their respective chambers.

"This interpretation was indirectly supported by the Premier. Since that time a controversy has raged across Canada on this question of utmost importance. I ask you to give a clear indication as speaker of this House on the rights of members as enunciated in 1688 by the Bill of Rights."

Premier Pattullo said he could see no necessity for the speaker to give a decision at present. The House should carry on with the ordinary business of the day.

Winch insisted a decision should be given. "Evidently Ottawa doesn't know itself," he said, "and in all fairness to the members, we should know now."

Winch commented the Bill of Rights gave freedom of speech for members of Parliament and protected them from being hailed into court for expression of opinion.

"Our group is not contemplating any treasonable action or action inimical to the people or interests of Canada," he said. "All we ask is that we have the protection of this legislature, speaking as members of the legislature."

Mr. Pattullo interrupted again. "When the occasion arises, members should speak in proper fashion," he said. "We can deal with this matter as the occasion arises."

Widdowson Calls on Prospectors, Miners Spur Efforts Find War Metals

Needed Metals Native to West but Bulk Is Essential

With the declaration that "We are in this war and we have got to win" and that "finding commercial metals will be of the greatest assistance toward that end," E. W. Widdowson of Nelson, widely-known assayer and analytical chemist, has prepared a descriptive list of "metals we require for war purposes," for distribution among prospectors and mining men. The list describes the important uses of each metal.

"Mining for metals in use for armaments of all kinds will be of vital importance," Mr. Widdowson said Monday. Gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc are not included in his list because they are already produced in quantity.

All the metals listed are found in Western Canada, though not in commercial quantities, or rather in bodies large enough to be commercially valuable, and it is with the object of finding them in bulk big enough to handle that we are taking the matter up with you," Mr. Widdowson said in his letter to prospectors and miners.

The metals listed are:

WANTED METALS

Nickel is principally used for alloying with steel. It has the power of making such steel exceptionally strong and tough and able to resist corrosion. Largely used in alloys in manufacture of guns.

Manganese is used in alloys with steel, small amounts make steel brittle whilst larger amounts, 13 per cent or more, make steel hard and ductile. It is used for tools and machinery. Also used in manufacture of chlorine gas.

Chromium is also used in alloys with steel and nickel making an extremely hard steel which possess great strength and hardness. There is an increasing demand for this metal on account of its use for machine tools, etc.

Tungsten makes the finest alloys for high speed steel. Chiefly used for cutting tools and dies. It is also largely used for electrical apparatus, lights, etc.

Molybdenum makes an alloy with steel which is both tough and ductile and raises its tensile strength. It is largely used in aircraft and automotive steels, and replaces tungsten in large speed tools.

Cobalt is extensively used in alloys both with iron and steel, and with other metals.

Titanium is largely used alloyed with steel in sheet bars and forging steels. A very large tonnage of it is used assaying from 15 to 25 per cent titanium. It also alloys with aluminum where it is used for hardening purposes.

Vanadium, only small quantities of this rare metal are found and used. It is useful for aircraft and automotive parts where resistance to gas penetration is required.

Aluminum, Magnesium and Beryllium are metals that are coming more into use, but there is not a great demand for war purposes.

Tin is industrially important, chiefly used in the bronzes and alloys with copper. Used in hardware and marine work and engineering alloys. Also for bearings and auto friction surfaces.

Antimony is of great importance. It alloys with lead and is extremely useful in hardening "shrapnel" bullets.

Platinum is largely used as an excellent catalyst in the manufacture of T. N. T. and other explosives, though it is gradually being replaced by other elements and processes.

The Rossland Brownie pack entertained at a delightful tea and social in the Orange Hall, Saturday afternoon, under the supervision of Mrs. L. M. DeLong, Brown Owl and Mrs. Peter Fowler, Tawny Owl. Tea was served by the Brownies, attractive in little paper caps and aprons, between 3 and 4 p.m. after which songs and folk dancing entertained the visitors, followed by a play, "The Meeting of the Ghosts" enacted by Pam Topliff, Marion Postill, Jean Martin, June Palmer and Yvonne Fleury.

A New Sweater Awaits Benoit

TRAIL, B. C., Nov. 6 — That he "will be back as soon as you need me," was the short but joyful reply O. H. Nelson, President of the Trail Hockey Association received from Joe Benoit, flashy right winger of Trail Smoke Eater World Championship fame, now in Edmonton.

"There's a brand new No. 10 sweater waiting for you here," Mr. Nelson wired Joe.

It is understood that Joe will leave Edmonton Thursday.

No doubt Joe is renewing old acquaintance in the Alberta City where he played with the Edmonton South Side Athletics under Coach Rene Morin, who brought Joe to Trail, and who now resides in Rossland.
