Violence Started by Yugoslavian Signing

Police Forced to Break Up Strike Street Violence

BETHLEHEM, Pa., March 25 (AP).—A detachment of 125 Pennsylvania State Police, swinging night clubs and some riding horses, drove pickets and strike sympathizers from streets adjoining the Bethlehem Steel Company plant tonight on the heels of new violence.

Less than an hour before, pickets thrown around the five-mile-long mills by the Congress of Industrial Organizations' Steel Workers Organizing Committee, had begun overturning cars parked in the vicinity.

Thirty-five or more were overturned and damaged on a parking lot across the street from the Company offices building. A dozen were rolled over an embankment on the approach to a bridge, that spans the Lehigh River almost in the centre of the sprawling plant.

Strike leaders claimed the automobiles were owned by those who reported for work today—and who remained in the plant tonight when the Company provided food and sleeping facilities in an apparent move to "stand siege".

At least four men were injured in earlier disturbances today.

Governor Arthur H. James telegraphed the United States Mediation Board at Washington urging that it step in at Bethlehem "to relieve the threat of serious rioting and serious delay to defence work." Bethlehem has more than $1,000,000,000 of defence contracts.

Ald. Ross Fleming, Light and Water Chairman, reported to the City Council Tuesday night that the equipment which failed Monday had been repaired and was in service again.

Ald. C. W. Tyler, Street Railway Chairman, expressed appreciation of the work of Superintendent E. H. Simpson and his staff, and Mayor N. C. Stubbs commended Superintendent Leslie Hall of the Street Railway for stationing men at busy intersections to warn car users that service was suspended.

Police strove to halt the serious repercussions by making mass arrests of hundreds of persons in provincial cities, but schoolboys, Serb peasants, Communists and reincarnated Comitaji (Committee of Dissenters)—stemming back to Turkish Empire days—gave rising vent to their anger tonight.

The gray-haired Kosca Pecanac, old-time Comitaji leader and hero of the Salonika campaign of 1918, was reported to have sped out of Belgrade for Southern Serbia to recruit the sons of his First Great War revolutionary comrades for a new fight against the might of Germany.

C.C.F. Amendment Smashed 167 to 8 King Backs Effort

Answer to U.S. Criticism Says Almost Per Cent of National Income Pledged to Cause; Points Also to Men in War

OTTAWA, March 25 (CP).—Five weeks after its introduction, the largest money bill ever presented to a Canadian Parliament passed the House of Commons tonight.

It was the $1,300,000,000 War Appropriation Bill for fiscal year 1941-42, and passed without a recorded vote, though there were a few shouts of "Nay".

The third reading stage brought the House its first dress division since the session resumed Feb. 17. However, when an amendment by M. J. Coldwell, Acting C.C.F. House Leader, designed to write endorsement of the principle of interest-free loans into the bill, was defeated by a vote of 167 to eight.

Conservatives, Liberals and New Democracy members voted against the amendment but Mrs. Dorise Nielsen (Unity North Battleford) voted for it, with the C.C.F. group.

At the afternoon sitting, a similar amendment by Mr. Coldwell was ruled out of order, but by changing the wording his second amendment was put to a vote at the night sitting.

A New Democracy amendment, proposing that sums not raised by taxation and savings certificates be obtained interest-free from the Bank of Canada, was ruled out of order.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King, in a review of the Canadian war effort, said almost 44 per cent of the national income was pledged to direct and indirect support of the Allied cause. He was apparently answering critics' charges that Canada's war effort, which dropped during debate in Washington on the lease-lend bill.

Canada's war contribution for the coming fiscal year in terms of money would be the equivalent of $35,000,000,000 out of a total United States national income of $80,000,000,000, said Mr. King.

In addition, Canada was in the war and contributing men. The 290,000 Canadians on active service, proportionately to the population of Canada, is the equivalent of an American army of 2,250,000, in relation to the population of the United States.

In the enthusiasm with which Canadians greeted the assistance now offered by the United States, Mr. King said, there was no occasion to disregard the magnitude of the contribution the people of this country were making.

"Never in the history of war," he said, "have 11,000,000 people given so freely or pledged so fully their treasure, their resources and their manhood."

Conservative House Leader Hanson said the Government should give early in the next session, a detailed statement on how the war appropriations were spent. This should be done before the House was asked to vote additional funds.

Without debate the House passed an interim supply bill through all three readings. It authorizes the expenditure of one-sixth of the main estimates, $37,725,207, starting with the opening of the new fiscal year April 1. It enables Government business to carry on, pending approval of the estimates as a whole.

Mr. King said in his address that he had not objected to the long discussion on the war appropriation measure because he believed it had been "all to the good." But he feared the real significance of the measure might have been obscured.

"There is too great a tendency to refer to what we are doing as the Government's war effort," Mr. King said. "It is Canada's war effort."

Tribute should be paid those who were making the war effort possible—the great mass of taxpayers in Canada.

"Canada, in common with the United States, is an arsenal of democracy," he added. "Over $280,000,000 had been paid out in the form of capital advances to build up the war industrial machine in Canada."

It had taken time to get Canada geared for war production and there had been criticisms and evidence of impatience.

"None in Canada have been more impatient over delays than members of the Government itself," he declared.

Mr. King described the wide variety of implements of war now in production.

Between 330,000 and 350,000 additional men had been placed in industry since the war started.

In the next 12 months, the Prime Minister said, $1,500,000,000 worth of necessities of war, war materials and agricultural products would be sent to Britain.

Changing Diplomatic Picture Shows Britain and Allies Much Stronger Than a Year Ago; Nazi Policy Changed

Observer Sees a Turning Tide

EDITOR'S NOTE: The changing picture of diplomacy and what it means in the European conflict is set forth in an article appearing in this issue of the Observer, in the issue of March 2, 1940, by Dr. F. M. Auld of Nelson. While some of the events of the year since the outbreak of the war in Europe, the author has reached an opinion that the tide is still of absorbing interest in showing the greatly limited position of Britain and her allies compared with a year ago. The article follows:

Diplomacy in Action

It is such a thing as a diploma as well as a strategic initiative, and are often difficult to separate. In this war so far the diplomatic weapon has played a major role and has prepared the way for other. A change in that order is enacted.

It is the diplomatic initiative of immense importance to the world, who wielded it almost unopposed. It was we who did the guessing. This year the tide is changing sides. They of knowledge, and would like to see in Berlin what exactly Mr. Hitler is doing in Turkey; what Mr. Weygand is doing in North Africa; what part General Franco is playing in the Mediterranean; and how Italy is likely to be limited.

It would like to know, too, the precise relationship between General Petain and General Weygand, why else did they lately quarrel Weygand, through the medium of "Das Reich" that the French Empire, as well as mainland France, must consider itself as having been conquered last June?

That warning was interesting only as a feeble and a helpless admission that the Mediterranean does divide the two parts of France; and that the mastery of the Mediterranean makes all the difference.

The criterion of effectiveness in the diplomatic field is given intangibly by the small Powers. Those Powers are at all times a mirror or a reflex of what the Great Powers are doing, or can do. By their behavior the small Powers register and measure the comparative strength of the major forces that beset them. A year ago the small Powers in Europe went down like ninepins; mainly because they knew that Germany could, and unmercifully would, bomb their cities and their civilian population without hazard or opposition.

Holland was one of the small Powers that tried to resist, she held out for exactly five days. France, a Great Power temporarily afflicted with the weaknesses of a small Power, also resisted; for only 11 days. The assumption that Germany could inflict brutal, pitiless, unmeasured injury, and that she was gleefully disposed to do so, was so unqualified and so general that nearly the whole continent of Europe capitulated to little more than the threat that she would do so. Her diplomacy was the crude cultivation of fear. The decisive thing at that time was the lack of any effective barrier to German confidence.

Today, by contrast, German diplomacy works in a widening circle of hesitant experiments. It is used to be a matter of pride to Herr Hitler that he acted first and talked afterwards. Now he talks and action is delayed. The invasion of Britain is not yet of the Balkans? Not yet the Spanish bases? Not yet the French fleet, Bismarck, the Pacific Division; not yet. Though eight months have passed since the quick haul of five nations in the West of Europe, only Rumania has been added to the list. Bulgaria is being swallowed by a slower and more circumspect process. Yugoslavia may follow. But there are differences.

Chief Tells Young People of Methods of Crime Detection

Covering a wide field of police work, including methods of capturing criminals, and describing some methods used by criminals, Chief of Police G. R. Bone addressed the Anglican Young People's Association at a meeting at Memorial Hall Monday night.

Chief Bone said that among the most recent developments in the tracking of criminals, he said, by this means, the police could often tell who had "pulled the job" by the methods used, which were the same, or nearly so, on every "job."

Criminals had been traced from coast to coast by their habits and actions.

Chief Bone was gaining in usefulness by leaps and bounds, the Chief said. Where a few years ago there were three men working in the finger print bureau at Ottawa, there were now 40 men, and 13 stenographers, and the system was constantly growing.

No two sets of prints in the world were identical.

If young people could see the effect of dope on human life, they would never touch it, Chief Bone said. He described the actions of people under the effect of dope and told how to detect a dope addict.

About 90 per cent of the gun-men of the underworld were dope addicts, and when they committed their wholesale murders they often did not know what they were doing.

Marvelous acids and chemicals were helping the police in the detection of crime. An acid had been developed which could "lift" a number out of metal even though the original number had been filed or brazed down until it was invisible to the naked eye.

When the original number was punched in the metal, the imprint was driven right through the fibre of the metal, and it was on this sunken impression that the acid worked. From a study of a person's hair, also, experts could tell the type of work he did, the climate in which he lived, his personality, and so on.

Police dogs were also a great help to the police, Chief Bone said.

When the original number was punched in the metal, the imprint was driven right through the fibre of the metal, and it was on this sunken impression that the acid worked.

Formidable Takes Toll of Nazi Dive Bombers

(The following dispatch from the Aircraft Carrier Formidable is the first indication that the ship, one of Britain's six new aircraft carriers of the Illustrious class, is in service. Only the Illustrious, which was attacked in January by German dive bombers, hitherto had been mentioned as at sea.)

By LARRY ALLEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

ABOARD H. M. S. FORMIDABLE WITH THE MEDITERRANEAN FLEET, March 25 (AP)—Britain's trouble-hunting battle fleet, making a routine sweep of the Mediterranean, answered the German dive bomber menace with barrages of hot lead, shooting down one or more enemy planes attempting to shadow the warships.

Three times German reconnaissance planes, taking a quick glance at the fleet, tried to get home to bring bomber reinforcements. Fleet Air Arm pilots shot down one and damaged and possibly destroyed the other two.

Battleships, cruisers, destroyers and aircraft carriers splashed through the Mediterranean escorting convoys within easy range of the bases of Goering's bombers, but no enemy formations appeared to attempt to duplicate the attack on the fleet of Jan. 10, when the Illustrious was damaged and the cruiser Southampton sunk.

A Junkers-88 West of Crete suddenly power-dived out of misty skies, apparently intending to bomb the convoyed ships. A few minutes before fighter planes had zoomed off the broad flight deck of this aircraft carrier.

They met the German half way to his target. A young British flight lieutenant's machine gun spat lead.

Bullets tore into the plane's engine, nosing her downward directly into bursts of flame from the big anti-aircraft guns and pom-poms of this carrier and accompanying destroyers.

I stood on the Rear Admiral's bridge of the carrier and watched the big explosions of 45 shells and the white ones of the pom-poms make the rain-laden clouds look like a field of mushrooms.

The blast of the carrier's gunfire splintered the windows of the Rear Admiral's glass-enclosed bridge as the German plane crashed into the sea.

Farther to the West a day later another Junkers-88 attempted to reconnoitre the fleet. Again fighter planes shot off the carrier and rose high into the brilliant sun like gleaming silver bullets pursuing the enemy at top speed.

The planes fired heavy bursts of machine gun fire at the undercarriage of the German bomber, hitting the port engine. The German was last seen plunging toward the sea.

Another British pilot emptied his machine gun chasing off a third Junkers. For the remainder of the voyage the fleet was unmolested.

"We fought off the Austro-Hungarian Empire during the 19th century, and struggled in the end of the First Great War on the Allied side."

Yugoslav Action Expected to Change Britain and Greece Defence Plans

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, March 25 (AP).—Yugoslavia's alignment with the Axis—opening the way for a battlefront in the Balkans—was expected by military observers today to force Britain and Greece to revise their defence plan.

It was said the defence probably would have to be drawn deep into Greek Macedonia — at best beyond the broad Vardar River Valley, and possibly widening the battlefront to 300 miles from Albania to the border of Turkish Thrace.

The chances British and Greek forces could hold the Struma Front against attack from Bulgaria alone had been regarded in some quarters as good.

The defence line there would be barely 30 miles long, with one flank against Yugoslavia and the other, running into Lake Tikhino and thence to the coast, able to be strengthened by the guns of British monitors and other war vessels like those which battered Italian strongholds in Libya.

The valley of the Struma is narrow, gouging through mountains, and would leave Nazi forces without rail or highway lines of supply back to their Bulgarian base.

The broader Vardar Valley, winding down from Yugoslavia farther West and emptying into the Gulf of Salonika, has a railway line and roads. Attack there, military observers said, probably would make the Struma defences impossible to hold.

The Cardar, too, is the direct route to the seaport of Salonika, regarded the No. 1 objective of a German drive.

A defence line West of the Vardar would be more than twice as long as the Struma line — and even then passage of German forces through Yugoslavia might turn its flank on forces British and Greek troops to broaden their defence across Albania and all Northern Greece.

Britain and her Allies in the First Great War picked the Vardar Valley as the road for attack when, in 1914, they moved North from Salonika against the Bulgarians. The Allied advance up the Valley continued in 1918 until Bulgaria signed a separate armistice.

Even if British forces now reported moving North through Greece from Southern ports were able to halt the Germans near the Greek-Yugoslav frontier, military sources said, the Nazis still could join the Italians in Albania to try a break-through there.

Evidence of the strategic importance of Yugoslavia's action was reflected in an article in the pro-German newspaper Vreme, which said "the fate of the Balkans lies in the hands of Yugoslavia."

entire Australian infantry forces were engaged in hand to hand struggles.

The News Service said the British forces took more than 300 prisoners and when the battle was over "dozens of Italians lay dead."

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP).—While fishing, a Maori woman found a floating mine and "jabbed" it with a knife. Fortunately she failed to touch a vital spot. Later a naval party demolished it.

It matters not whether they have been tried in New Zealand or any other country.

"They would be more subversive to Canada's well-being than even the system we now have."

Available surplus money had already been rounded up by aggressive taxation and borrowing, said Mr. Blackmore. What surpluses remained were needed for industrial enterprise.

"I find developing in Canada a very unfortunate attitude of pessimism and anxiety, he said. "People feel there is no use in striving, that all they earn will be taken away from them."

Nazi Criticize U. S. Return of Prisoners

BERLIN, March 25 (AP).—Nazi spokesmen described today as "very unchivalrous, to say the least" the action of the United States authorities in ordering the return to Canada of two escaped German war prisoners.

"That's putting it mildly," a Nazi spokesman said, "I'd like to go so far as to say that not even England would do a trick like that."

The fugitives handed over to Canada were described here as German marine officers who were "charged with no more serious offence than crossing the United States boundary without permits."

Your rousing response to this united appeal will be the cheeriest word you can send him

Private John Smith is through with drill and duties for the day. He is tired, maybe a bit "fed up." He is far from home and lonely. He longs for a dash of gaiety, a bit of cheer... years, perhaps, for a honey nook where he can read, play games, listen to the radio, write to the folks back home.

It is the job of these six organizations to see that discomfort, boredom, loneliness have no place in the precious leisure moments of our men in uniform. Wherever they go these services go too, come bomb or battle.

In camp, on the march, on the ranges, these services bring them hot drinks and snacks, smokes and other comforts. Recreation centres are set up... sports and entertainment organized... reading and writing materials supplied. Comfortable canteens provide extra food. There are educational facilities. Hostesses enable the men to enjoy healthy social contacts.

Character... Love Is Best Gift You Can Give a Child

Cleveland Myers, Ph.D. I write this column for the problems parents in their children and children with their parents, the love I am that the parents and abiding love is the big guarantee for a child to be a likable person and a useful citizen.

Such parental love will be a measure of the character we possess.

In contrast to the mother who wrote me that she would not allow her twenty-year-old daughter to come home after it was discovered that this daughter had begun smoking. But it amazes me that any mother would allow a cigarette to sever the heart strings which once tied her to her daughter.

LOVE NECESSARY

Feelings are too treacherous to be wholly trusted. Having purpose and ideal, despite the inner feelings we need to guide and cultivate the feelings of love and affection which we parents should ward our child. Wishing to bring this child, we will help nurture our love for that nothing can ever do this love to lessen. How we are able to demonstrate

By LOGAN GLENDENING, M. D. "The Idea of March" and that general period of the calendar, whenever it meant to Julius Caesar, means to a friend of mine the period of the year when people usually begin to tussle up again and complain. It is true, my friend is a drug manufacturer who makes a preparation for the treatment of ulcer of the stomach and this may explain his particular interest in this season.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

B. B.: "I have neuralgia in my right arm. What is the treatment for neuralgia? I have rubbed liniment on it but it does no good." Answer: Rubbing liniment on a sore arm is beneficial only for the simplest kind of muscle sprains, and the rubbing does more good than the liniment. Neuralgia is a general term that means only nerve pain. The important thing is to find out what is the cause. It may be an injury to the bones or tendons and it may be a constitutional condition, such as diabetes. Or a focal infection, such as abscessed teeth or tonsils. Proper treatment follows on correct diagnosis.

More Changes... When Talkative One Turns Silent

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD Today we will take the case of the woman who used to be a teetotaler and gradually became a keen drinker of old-fashioned whisky. In one of several ways it may have come, this change from teetotaling to tipping. Constant dripping will wear away some stones. It takes strength of character to refrain from doing what everybody is doing in the old days when one heard of drinking parties, one was shocked. In the new days when practically every party is a drinking party one pines then endures and then embraces the idea that fun can't be had without alcohol. Then there are some middle-aged women who sit back and say: "Well, my children are married and gone! I've done all I could to set them a good example; from here out a little drink can't hurt anybody." Or it may be that the snifter is a sop to physical ailments.

CAUSES OF ULCERS

Ulcers are due to various causes; bad circulation, as varicose veins of the leg; infection, as ulcer of the cornea of the eye; chemical irritation, as destruction of skin from lye or other caustic or physical destruction, as from burns. Ulcers from infectious causes and burns usually heal promptly unless the infection is augmented or unless the irritation is continued. Now, using this as a background in order to try to explain peptic ulcer we may say, in the first place that we do not know definitely the cause of it but we do have these elements present. In the first place, very often, infection—perhaps infection which has three from a tooth or tonsil, and in the second place, and this is the reason it is called "peptic"—there is an increase in the normal amount of gastric juice and especially an increase in the hydrochloric acid, which is always present in gastric juice. In other words, we have a continuously irritating chemical substance, which keeps the ulcer going.

SERIAL STORY... EVELESS EDEN

CHAPTER TWO (Continued) Joel said nothing more. But he did a lot of thinking. He was becoming more and more convinced that Rita wasn't the girl for Bill. He felt that their marriage would turn out to be rather like some of those marriages Bill had written about. But perhaps that was only wishful thinking on his part. That was certainly possible, since he wanted Rita for himself, or had thought so for a rather unhappy period of time. Like practically every other man in Ardenvale, he had experienced palpitations when Rita came into view. All she had to do was pass by—even on the other side of the street—and his heart did hand-springs. Rita was easy to look at; there was no denying that fact. And the other fact—that she wasn't especially brilliant—hadn't bothered him in the least. He had spent many a lonely night visualizing Rita as the charming and ornamental mistress of his home, that house he was building out on the old Randall farm.

But Rita saw Bill—and after that Joel found himself just part of the scenery, so to speak; just something that helped to make background for what the townspeople called "the best-looking couple this side of Hollywood." Bill and Rita, with old Joel Randall being about as important to them and to himself as the rubber plant in the ballroom set, or the papier mache rock in a seashore scene. "I've found it!" Aunt Sallie exclaimed. "Where?" Bill and Joel asked in unison. "Hidden in the fur of the rug under his surrealist hideosity," said Aunt Sallie. She arose, ring in hand. "Serves you right for buying such an ungodly looking thing."

Bill grinned and glanced at the piece of furniture to which his aunt had referred, a table whose mother might have been a bathtub and whose father could easily have been a square piano. "I was a bit tight when I bought it," he said. He took the ring from his aunt and handed it to Joel. "Here, Joel, you keep it." He patted his cousin's shoulder. "Good old Joel, an reliable, so steady, and Bill Latham, the giddy, the unpredictable, and—"

"And about to be married," Joel cut in shortly. "Come on, we've got no time to lose." "Yes," said Aunt Sallie. "If you must get married, let's get it over with. . . . Though heaven knows why you chose Rita Linwood instead of Mary Kate Brown. Now there's—"

Discuss Complaints on Refugee Ship

LONDON, March 25 (CP Cable)—War Secretary David Margeson told the House of Commons today that although there may have been some evidence of unsympathetic treatment by some individuals on board the motorship Strick which took refugees to Canada, he was satisfied it was not of such nature as to warrant trial by court martial. He said no complaint had been received of general ill treatment, brutality of discipline on the part of the military escort. The majority of complaints concerned discomfort on the ship due to overcrowding.

Beauty... Minerals Needed in Daily Menus

By ALICE WADE ROBINSON Poor complexion, lustrous eyes, bad teeth, bowed legs, lifeless hair—may be due in greater part to food lacks in your daily menus. Certain vitamins, potassium, sodium, calcium, phosphorus or lessens such beauty lacks. But more informed precautions as to what you eat may cut in half the time needed for such repairs. And they may also prevent the oncoming of other sins against comeliness. See that menus contain calcium, phosphorus, iron, iodine and sulphur—see to it that you will also then receive enough magnesium, potassium, sodium and chlorine. The menu has ample: the last four minerals are usually found in conjunction with the first four.

FOR CALCIUM AND PHOSPHORUS

Good posture, straight legs and strong white teeth are dependent upon your food supply of calcium and phosphorus. Milk will give you both. But other good sources are cheese, hazelnuts and almonds, molasses, dried beans and lentils, greens such as turnip tops, kale, broccoli, watercress and cauliflower. And remember your egg a day. That will also do its bit towards keeping up your body's health with better looks.

FOR IRON

If you have had a seizure of the common cold bug, replenish your iron supply. Or, if you are usually pale or listless or unduly nervous, iron is not stored in the body to any great extent. That's why each day's menus should provide you with enough iron to keep the red pigment of the blood in tip-top health. Here are food suggestions: beef liver, molasses, oatmeal, apricots, eggs, whole wheat, raisins, parsley, beefsteak, oysters, cabbage, lettuce, mutton and spinach. The first two foods mentioned in this iron list are richest in this "build-up" mineral but the others help in menu variety.

FR IODINE

A lack of iodine causes simple goitre enlargement of the thyroid gland. That unattractive condition of the neck is found more often in women than in men. And it occurs most frequently in those parts of the country where the water supply is largely glacial in origin and so deficient in iodine. Specially prepared iodine salts help to combat iodine lack, but all salt water fish contain some of this mineral. It is especially found in salmon, oysters, haddock, and in cod liver oil. Get your supply of the fishy kind this Lent. It's a step up toward the beauty that stays.

Hints for Housewives

By BETSY NEWMAN ASPARAGUS WITH CHEESE Asparagus with cheese makes a tempting luncheon dish. Use a No. 2 can of green asparagus and empty carefully so that stalks will not be broken. Heat to boiling. Drain the liquid and save for sauce. Cover asparagus to keep warm. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in top of double boiler. Add 2 tablespoons flour and 1 teaspoon salt, stirring to blend well. Add hot asparagus liquid. Cook until mixture begins to thicken. Add one cup evaporated milk and one cup grated cheese. Continue cooking over boiling water until sauce is thickened and cheese is melted. Arrange asparagus on crisp buttered toast. Pour the hot sauce over it. Garnish with pimento cut in strips. This will yield five or six servings depending on the number of stalks in the can. With this serve crisp broiled bacon.

BAKED ORANGE ALASKA Cut off the tops of 8 oranges. Carefully remove sections and mix with 2 tablespoons granulated sugar. Refill orange cups with sections and chill thoroughly. Top orange shells with vanilla ice cream, using one quart. Cover the cream to the very edges of the orange shells with heavy meringue. Bake meringue by beating 1 egg whites until frothy; then adding 1/4 cup sugar gradually while beating until mixture holds peaks. Cover bottom of shallow pan with several layers of heavy wrapping paper. Then place orange cups in pan and bake for about one minute for just long enough to brown the meringue in a very hot oven (500 degrees F.). Must be served immediately.

ORANGE WALDORF SALAD Sprinkle 3 cups unpeeled, red-skinned apple slices with 2 tablespoons lemon juice and a little sugar. Combine with 2 cups orange sections, 1/4 cup diced celery, 1-3 cup chopped walnut meats and 1/4 cup lemon mayonnaise. This serves six to eight.

Many Well Known Women Pilots Do Men's Work Without Asking Favors

By LOUIS V. HUNTER Canadian Press Staff Writer LONDON (CP)—It is grit, not glamor that counts with Britain's 25 "Atta" Girls. Except that their hands are smaller and their voices softer these women of the Air Transport Auxiliary might easily be men. Their uniform is the same, hours of duty as long and arduous as those of the men and there are no privileges when it comes to quarters or meals. Women and men ferry pilots meet and work on terms of absolute equality. A legend of wealth and glamor has obscured the daily work of the Atta Girls but there is a job in which an ounce of grit outweighs a ton of glamor. Qualities that obtain their admission as ferry pilots are unusual flying skill, steadiness, patience and reliability in all circumstances and the will to work hard and obey orders. Social distinction and colorful background mean nothing to the Selection Board if the applicants cannot produce the right sort of pilots logbook.

PROMINENT NAMES

Louis Butler, wife of the Chairman of the de Havilland Aircraft Company, has been flying since 1928. Mrs. Douglas Fairweather Lord Runciman's daughter, was a professional instructor, training Civil Air Guard pupils at Retford, for a year before the war. Mona Friedlander, whose father is a banker, was one of the first women to qualify as a commercial pilot and second class air navigator. Miss Friedlander has worked for a commercial aviation company and flew as a practice target for units of the Observer Corps.

These three women, with their 22 companions, are daily sharing the rigors and dangers and discipline of active service in the A.T.A. The woman who ferries, say, a twin-engine Airspeed Oxford from the factory to a Royal Air Force training school is as truly on active service as R.A.F. pupils who, in the same machine, will learn to pilot a twin-engine Wellington or Manchester bomber on night raids over Germany.

Nine of the ferry women, all of whom are between the ages of 23 and 45, are married and four have husbands serving with the forces. Captain Grace Brown has a son of 11. She is 43 and has been flying for seven years. In the First Great War she was attached to a Voluntary Aid Detachment in East Africa. In this war she was the first woman to pilot an airplane to the French war zone.

ANOTHER MOTHER VETERAN

Captain Winifred Cromley has a son of 12. Her logbooks show 2000 hours—much more than the required minimum of 250 hours. An aerobically expert, she is the daughter of Dr. Ernest Harrison, who attended at the birth of the St. Neuts quadruplets. Winifred flew their daily milk supplies. PRE-WAR INSTRUCTORS Scotland's first woman flying instructor is also in the ferry team. She is Margaret Cunnison, 36, and her father is a lecturer at Glasgow University. Rosemary Rees, another pre-war instructor with A.T.A., is 34. In 1930 she flew her own machine to Czechoslovakia with Christmas parcels for distribution to refugee camps. Marion Wilberforce is 36 and married. In 11 years' pre-war flying she logged more than 1000 hours. Sir George Arthur Ogilvie-Forbes, British Minister to Cuba, is her father. Also flying with A.T.A. are Audrey Sale Barker, the British acting air attaché, who has been flying all over Europe and Northern Africa since 1934, and Joan Hughes, who took her "A" licence on her

Rossland Will Point to Idle Gold Properties in Answer to War Quiz

ROSSLAND, B.C., March 25—A communication from Ald. H. G. Wilson of Vancouver, Chairman of the B.C. War Contracts Committee, was read to the City Council Monday night, requesting it to advise the Committee of any facilities in this City which might be used in the manufacturing of war equipment.

Ald. J. R. Corner referred to the recent announcement by the Provincial Minister of Mines that the government would subsidize prospectors and small gold-producing properties as an aid to the war effort, and asked why some of the Rossland properties could not be re-opened under this plan.

The City Clerk was instructed to state these facts when replying to the Coast mail.

Formal confirmation was received from E. W. Griffiths, Provincial Relief Administrator, that commencing April 1, the Province will assume 80 per cent of unemployment relief costs, including the 40 per cent formerly borne by the Dominion.

TELEPHONE POSITION Further to an application by the B.C. Telephone Company to install a new pole line along First Avenue from Spokane Street and thence landers may, within the next few months, be forced to travel in a different direction when on their way to purchase bottled spirits at the Government Liquor Store.

The Mayor stated he had received a request on behalf of the Liquor Control Board to state the sale price of a lot situated near the office of the B.C. Telephone Company on First Avenue for the purpose of a site of a new liquor store.

The present one is located in the Court House on Columbia Avenue.

Ald. J. R. Corner asked whether the presence of a liquor store would detract from the value of adjoining property, which consists mainly of residences. He noted that the new store would be situated directly across from a funeral home.

Ald. William Cunningham pointed out that there were plenty of jobs available on the South side of Columbia Avenue between Queen and Washington Streets, and he asked why one of these could not be used instead.

The City Clerk was instructed to ask the Liquor Board to send a definite bid for the lot in question, and at the same time point out to the Board that there are lots available in the business district other than that specifically referred to.

Axis Shipping Suffers Heavy Blows, British Losses Down During Week

LONDON, March 25 (AP)—An Admiralty announcement today showed a drop in Britain's sea losses for the second successive week, while she returns blow for blow in the Battle of the Atlantic.

Twenty-three British and allied merchantmen totalling 71,773 tons were lost in the sea war in the week ended March 18, the Admiralty said. Of the vessels 17 were British totalling 60,670 tons and six were allied totalling 11,103 tons.

This compared with total losses of 98,832 tons the previous week and 41,314 tons the week before that.

The authorities declared that in the same period Britain's own naval and air raiders were sinking almost three tons of Axis ships for every four tons Britain and her allies lost.

Compared with the announced total of 416,000 tons lost to allied and neutral shipping in the five weeks to March 16, Axis losses in that period were 300,000 tons.

This announcement gave no details of how many Axis ships had been sunk, but came at a time when Britain has been reporting increasing successes in bomb raids on shipping along the continental coast.

Although German and Italian merchant fleets have been swept from the Atlantic coastal trade is regarded as vital to the Axis, war economy.

Experts here say the Axis must have full use of continental waterways supplementing rail routes to feed raw materials and armaments to its industries and armies.

Much of Britain's bomb strength has concentrated in raids upon shipping and rail centres, despite growing popular demand for about bombing of Berlin.

The Daily Express newspaper of Lord Beaverbrook Minister of Aircraft Production, today reported an immense public clamor in letters to it for persistent bombing of the Nazi capital.

The Press rejoiced over the Sunday night bombing of Berlin, and air correspondents said British raids would grow heavier as more and more new bombers and planes from the U. S. came into operation.

The Admiralty said that since the beginning of the war the Germans have lost by sinking and scuttling approximately 1,449,000 gross tons of shipping and the Italians 790,000 tons.

In addition they have suffered the loss of some 62,000 tons of neutral shipping under their control, or useful to them.

Axis shipping losses in the five weeks ended March 16 were estimated at approximately 1,449,000 gross tons of shipping and the Italians 790,000 tons.

The Daily Express newspaper of Lord Beaverbrook Minister of Aircraft Production, today reported an immense public clamor in letters to it for persistent bombing of the Nazi capital.

The Press rejoiced over the Sunday night bombing of Berlin, and air correspondents said British raids would grow heavier as more and more new bombers and planes from the U. S. came into operation.

The Admiralty said that since the beginning of the war the Germans have lost by sinking and scuttling approximately 1,449,000 gross tons of shipping and the Italians 790,000 tons.

In addition they have suffered the loss of some 62,000 tons of neutral shipping under their control, or useful to them.

Axis shipping losses in the five weeks ended March 16 were estimated at approximately 1,449,000 gross tons of shipping and the Italians 790,000 tons.

Although German and Italian merchant fleets have been swept from the Atlantic coastal trade is regarded as vital to the Axis, war economy.

Experts here say the Axis must have full use of continental waterways supplementing rail routes to feed raw materials and armaments to its industries and armies.

Much of Britain's bomb strength has concentrated in raids upon shipping and rail centres, despite growing popular demand for about bombing of Berlin.

Dust of Gold

"The Lord is my shepherd."
Psalm 23:1

One day while rummaging through an old library I came across a Bible that looked very much like yours. The margin held many notes. Perhaps some of you know the man whose name I found inside the cover. It was James B. Stirling. This is what I found written beside the 23rd Psalm: "They shall lack nothing who have Jehovah for their Shepherd. He knows and pities their weaknesses and their sorrows. He will certainly, if they trust in Him, guide them through all and give them all things that be needful both for their souls and their bodies. He will lead their sons and make them a righteous people, and they can have nothing to fear. For this end the good Shepherd laid down His life."

WAVELL IS SCOT

It has been claimed that General Wavell was born on the Isle of Wight, son of a family which has resided there for centuries. But the Glasgow Sunday Post says: "He's a Scot by birth and began his soldiering with the Black Watch, his father's regiment and his son's. Over 40 years ago his father was officer commanding the Black Watch at Perth depot. He resided at Kenneth House, Rhind, near Bridge of Earne, where Archie spent most of his youthful years. John Rennie, of Craggan, Lochearnhead, who was gamekeeper at Kenneth, recalls that he taught young Wavell to shoot." This, of course, does not affect the assertion that the Wavell family come from the Isle of Wight.—Toronto Star.

Norway Carries On

By Wilhelm Munthe Morgenstærns, Minister of Norway, at the annual dinner of the Overseas Press Club of America.

As you all know, and as history will record, the Norwegian Government since the outbreak of the war followed a policy of strict neutrality, without fear or favor.

Then suddenly on April 9th, 1940, in the dead of night, Nazi-Germany attacked us, without warning, without the least provocation on our part. We could not understand it. We thought the German people were our friends. But now, suddenly, their war ships were in our harbors, their wings over our heads, their tourists and spies and fifth columnists, posing as friends, were in our midst.

Our towns and villages and farm houses were bombed and burned, our men, women and children were ruthlessly machine-gunned.

Naturally our people were dumbfounded. It took a little time to realize that such things could really happen. But soon, very soon, the Norwegians rallied and fiercely defended themselves against the invader. A chapter of heroism was added to the long saga of the Norwegian people. The stories about treason among Norwegians were untrue. With one conspicuous and tragic exception there was no treachery by our own people.

For two long months, from April 9 to June 9 our people fought stubbornly and practically single-handed against the overwhelming forces of the enemy, until at last we were forced to give up temporarily the fight on Norwegian soil.

STRUGGLE CONTINUES FROM ABROAD

King Haakon, Crown Prince Olav and the legal Norwegian Government are today carrying on the fight from England. This is in full accordance with the Norwegian Constitution as well as with the explicit authorization of the Norwegian Parliament.

The free Norwegian Government in London is today fully recognized by every Government in the world except the one which attacked us—and its puppets.

Under its direction about 90 per cent of our merchant marine—more than four million tons and 25,000 sailors—is sailing the seven seas under the Norwegian flag.

The Norwegian foreign service is functioning all over the world, and taking an active part in the preparations for the day when we shall all return to a free Norway.

Norwegian training camps have been established in Great Britain and Canada, and Norwegian units will soon be in the thick of the fight at the side of our Allies. Norwegian ships are already actively cooperating with our friends the British.

Norway has never as yet defaulted on any foreign loan, and true to that tradition the Norwegian Government even today is paying every cent due as interest on our dollar loans and other foreign obligations.

Yes, the legal, free Norwegian Government, temporarily residing outside Norwegian territory is a going concern, a government in being, paying as it goes, carrying on politically, financially and in a military way.

Around this Government, around our great King Haakon, all Norwegians at home and abroad, are rallying, determined to work and fight until we have regained the country of our fathers—and of our children.

In the meantime an unending, determined fight is going on in Norway between the foreign invaders and their Norwegian puppets on one side, and a practically unanimous Norwegian people on the other. It is not a fight with arms—because our countrymen do not have any. You cannot fight mechanized barbarism with your naked fists or with flower-pots!

But it is a fight with all the weapons of the spirit and of the will and love of country. It is a fight of immeasurable bitterness, because the Norwegian people are witnessing the enemy pulling down everything that we have been building through generations.

Some of you, our American friends, have visited Norway, and you have seen with your own eyes how we tried and partly succeeded in building a society, based on democracy, social justice, freedom, security and equality under the law, economic well-being and intellectual and spiritual development for all the people.

JUSTICE HAS DISAPPEARED

Today, there is hardly a vestige of these things left in Norway. Popular Government has disappeared altogether. Freedom of speech and of the Press does not exist. One of the cornerstones of a civilized society: the integrity of the courts, has been brutally destroyed. There is no security, no justice, no protection. The members of the Supreme Court of Norway resigned in a body as a protest against the arbitrariness of our temporary masters. People are arrested, imprisoned and tortured without cause, without legal proceedings. No one is safe in his own home. Gangs of young boys are being armed, called guards, and allowed to terrorize the population. In vain the seven bishops of Norway unanimously and indignantly protested against this anti-Christian, brutal terror.

Now, here is something open for all the world to see and to contemplate. We are facing not a theory, not an ism, not an ideology—but an actual situation—and a comparison!

Peaceful, progressive, friendly Norway as we knew it, as the world knew it, a year ago and Norway today under the heel of the Nazi.

This is "The New Order", not an abstraction, not a blue-print, but the new order in deadly practice. To anybody with ears to hear and eyes to see, it is plainly and blatantly a return to dark, barbaric ages.

With these facts in our mind and hearts every waking hour, you will appreciate, I am sure, how difficult it is for us Norwegians to understand the contention that there is no difference between the methods and the aims of the nations opposed to each other in this war. How can anyone be indifferent as to whether the attacker of peaceful homes should overpower his victims—or vice versa? I wish that any such person might see just once with his own eyes the work of destruction now going on in Norway, the distress of the people, and hear the heartbreaking cries of those innocent men and women who are being tortured by the Gestapo.

Why is it that all freedom-loving small nations fear and hate the rule of the Nazis, and fervently pray and trust that the British Empire and its Allies shall be victorious? Why do we hang breathlessly on the outcome of the indomitable and epic fight which the British are waging today for freedom, civilization and decency among men and nations?

To the people of Norway, in their cruel, temporary bondage, the future is certainly not associated with the hard-hearted oppressors of free, civilized peoples, with strutting dictators haranguing the world with cascades of angry, loveless words.

To us sons and daughters of Norway the hope of the future is associated with the spirit of the man of old who said: "To do justice, to love mercy, to walk humbly with thy God". It is associated with the spirit of your great, kind man of Illinois, who personifies to the ages the virtue of humility, true democracy, the dignity of man, neighborly good will and brotherly love. The spirit of Abraham Lincoln to us, is the always recurrent wave of the future.

Britain's Battle to Increase Food Supplies

While Great Britain is fighting the battle of the Atlantic, to keep open the route for supplies, it is also fighting a great battle on its own farms.

Millions of acres of grassland are being converted to arable land. Scraps of all sorts of food are being saved for pigs. Food production is being stimulated in many ways. Special efforts to increase vegetable and milk production are being made. Scientists talk of a nation of lactovegetarians during the war years.

With Spring not far off, a drive to plough up more grass and fenland in Britain is being pressed and thousands of women are being recruited and trained for farm work. Between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 acres of "lost" land that has stood idle and unfarmed has been put to crops since war began, and the harder problem of finding still more such land is now absorbing local agricultural committees. Inspecting every farm, they search for grass fields that might be ploughed, and report that 99 per cent of the farmers are willing to co-operate, regardless of their own plans for the land. The Minister of Food, Lord Woolton, has declared that the war crop program means the land will be in a better state than it has been in 40 years.

Grain and potatoes, with special emphasis on potatoes, are leading crops to go into the newly-reclaimed land. Not content with the record-breaking size of the United Kingdom's potato crop, food officials are calling for ever higher production in 1941. An additional 186,000 acres of potatoes are wanted, bringing British potato fields up to about 1,000,000 acres. The objective aimed at is not merely to assure enough potatoes for the dinner tables, but a surplus, which the government buys at fixed prices to store for a reserve against possible food shortage. Also, with a surplus, the poorer grades of potatoes can be spared as stock feed. This was possible to some extent last year. Women and schoolboys are being urged to help with potato growing, since there is a shortage of labor in Britain.

All this, of course, is part of the reply to Hitler's threat to make the North Atlantic unsafe for all ships sailing from Canada, the United States and the Latin Americas with food or any commodity urgently required to sustain and strength the people in their defence of the island fortress. Latest shipping losses lend sinister emphasis to the fight in the food war and its relation to the destruction of cargo space.

SAPRUNOFF'S GOALS LEAD TRAIL TO 3-1 WIN

Trail Comes From Behind Move Ahead in Series

Trail's Unbeaten Streak Reaches 13 Games; Series Moves to Calgary; Saprunoff Scores Two to Break Tie

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., March 25 (CP)—Trail Smoke moved another step along the Allan Cup trail when they defeated Lethbridge Maple Leafs 3-1 in the second game of a five Western Canada senior hockey semi-final series tonight. The two played to a scoreless draw in the first at Trail last Saturday.

Next game will be played at Calgary Thursday and the final match will also be played at Calgary, Saturday.

By winning, the Smokies survived Game No. 13 in their unbeaten streak that dates way back to early in February when they won 4-2 over Calgary. Included in the unbeaten string are four draws, including the current series opener.

Each squad netted a goal in the second period after a scoreless first session and Sam Saprunoff rammed in two counters in the final stanza, one unassisted, to clinch the victory.

Mike Backus got the other Trail goal while Doug French netted the lone counter for Lethbridge.

BLAZING CLIP
Play opened at a blazing clip and continued that way until the end of the first period. Both goalies played brilliantly to keep their ciadel untouched and after the first five minutes both squads settled down to play a close-checking affair.

Len Wade drew the first penalty of the game and Leafs put on a terrific power play and on three separate occasions forced Duke Scodellaro, Trail goalie, far out of his net but were unable to score. Late in the period Alex Kaleta was tagged for charging and Smoke Eaters turned on the pressure giving goalie Andy Young several busy moments. As the bell sounded, Kaleta and Mel Lunde charged in on top of the Trail net, but Scodellaro was able to save.

Leafs entered the scoring column three minutes after the second period got under way after a three-way passing play with French netting the puck. Walter Rimstad picked up Marshal Darling's cross pass and relayed it to French who rounded the cage and uncorked a blazing backhand shot past Scodellaro.

Penalties to McFadden and a pair to Len Wade gave Leafs a chance to put their "ganging attack" into play but Smoke Eaters held them back and finally ended the score after stealing the puck near a Leaf corner.

Ab Cronie grabbed the disc and passed to Mike Buckna, who shook loose from a mass of players and drove a low backhand shot past Young. Mel Lunde was penalized near the end of the session but Trail played defensive hockey, keeping two men back to guard against breakaways.

Rimstad, French and Darling gave Smoke Eaters some anxious moments as the third frame got under way but Scodellaro held his fort.

TWO FOR SAMMY
A penalty to Ken Stewart, his second of the entire season, was handed out for kneeling and Andy Young rose to new heights as he held Smokies out.

A three-man break from their own blue line produced the winning goal. Morris slipped Saprunoff a pass as they hit the defence pair of Harvey Barnes and Doug Lane and the slim centreman coasted in and picked the right side with a low shot.

Leafs opened up wide and Young had to be good on several occasions to foil Smokies as they broke away. Finally Saprunoff intercepted at his own blue line and racing down the right side he pumped a high shot into the rigging to clinch the decision. Lethbridge tried desperately to cut down the margin in the final minutes, but a penalty to Barnes slowed up their attack.

Phelps Wants to Get Back Into Dodgers' Fold

By The Associated Press
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 25 (AP)—Here's a hint for those who believe Brooklyn Dodgers have given up on Babe Phelps, the big catcher who failed to put in an appearance at training camp. Phelps visited Monday he was ready to report. In reply, Secretary John McDonald told him he could join the Montreal Farm Club at Macon, Ga., and get into shape at his own expense. But, McDonald added, "We would like to see you get him a rate at the hotel."

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—With Hugh Mulcahy in the United States army and Kirby Higbe sold to Brooklyn, Bill Crouch may be the star pitcher the Phillies always seem to have on their roster. He turned in his third fine pitching trick of the exhibition season Monday, shutting out Cleveland with three hits in five innings.

LOS ANGELES—Dick Conger, who celebrates his 20th birthday April 3, seems close to winning a berth with Pittsburgh Pirates. The six-foot, 185-pound youngster from Beaumont Monday allowed only one hit in five frames against Los Angeles, although he made two wild pitches and walked three.

LOS ANGELES—Jimmy Wilson, Chicago Cubs' manager who is awaiting a writ from Larry MacPhail of Brooklyn, said he is ready to "trade anybody on the club." Bill Lee and Hank Leibler, both unsigned, are regarded the most likely trading material, and Babe Phelps as the player the Cubs may get. Chicago's main needs are a right-handed pitcher, a first baseman who can hit and a catcher.

Port Arthur Juniors Lose Pair of Stars

WINNIPEG, March 25 (CP)—The two Port Arthur junior players injured last night when Winnipeg Rangers defeated Juniors 6-3 in the first of the best-of-five Western Canada semi-final series here will be out for the rest of the season.
Hospital attendants reported early today that 16-year-old Tom Brown, Port Arthur goalkeeper, suffered a fractured pelvis and Defenceman Bob Drainville torn heel ligaments.
Brown was injured in the closing minutes of the first period during a scramble in front of the Port Arthur goal and left the game with the score 1-1. Johnny Savas who replaced him at the start of the second period played an outstanding game as Rangers swarmed around the Port Arthur end.
Drainville, described by Coach Bill Wear as the "spark-plug" of Juniors, rested in hospital today with a cast on his left foot.

Pettigrew and Sturk at New Westminster

Jerry Pettigrew and Syd Sturk, two of this season's Nelson Maple Leafs have left for New Westminster to take up employment. They will likely line up with the Cubs or one of the other teams in the Coast Intercity Amateur League next winter.

George Boothman may also be heading west soon.

Mungo Still in Dodger Doghouse

MACON, Ga., March 25 (AP)—Van Lingle Mungo is getting the old "silent treatment" from General Manager Larry MacPhail, but if the Brooklyn Dodgers' fireballer is sizzling under the collar about it he's keeping it to himself.
As far as MacPhail is concerned, Van Lingle is still in the doghouse. Mungo was fined and banished from the Dodgers' Havana training camp on charges of drinking and ordered to report to their Montreal farm club here.

MacPhail, here for a two-day check on his Montreal and Durham farm hands indicated interest in how the big right hander has shopped up since reaching Macon. But he had nothing to say regarding the chances of Mungo rejoining Brooklyn and, especially, nothing to say to Mungo personally.

There has been speculation that the Dodgers might pick up Mungo on the team's Northward swing next month. MacPhail, however, declined to venture a suggestion the big hurler would return to the good graces even then.
For his part, Van Lingle continued to observe his vow that he would behave himself and keep quiet about the whole thing.

STRANGE GOINGS-ON
What went on at Detroit the other night, anyway. One announcer said, "One of the fighters has one foot off the ground." Another discovered that one of the boys was holding the other six feet away from him. Our favorite speller yelled "Simon has two left eyes," when all the time we thought it was two left feet; Abe was afflicted with. . . . Anyway, Papa Simon, way up in the Bronx, sure hotted Abe's feelings by stomping off to the movies just before the main bout went on.

Rose Bowl Stars Trying to Enlist in Canuck Forces

VANCOUVER, March 25 (CP)—Two outstanding American footballers—Norman Standlee and John (Jake) Thompson, failed in their first attempt to get into this war, but they're still trying.

Standlee, Stanford Indian full-back, was turned down by Royal Canadian Air Force recruiting officers here yesterday because of color blindness. Thompson, another member of the Indians' Rose Bowl winners last New Year's Day, wouldn't join without Standlee.

The two big footballers, who hitchhiked 1200 miles to Vancouver from Palo Alto, Calif., are determined to get into a bigger battle than Nebraska was able to give the Indians in the Rose Bowl last New Year's Day.

They plan to try some other branch of the Canadian Active Services.

Wings and Hawks Knock Out Rangers, Canadiens; Toronto Takes Game Lead

Detroit Takes Rangers 3-2; Bruneteau Nabs Winning Goal

DETROIT, March 25 (CP)—Detroit Red Wings knocked New York Rangers, defending champions, out of the Stanley Cup playoffs here tonight before 8842 howling fans at the Olympia. The score was 3-2.

Wingmen Mud Bruneteau and Syd Howe scored what proved to be the winning goal in 9:30 of the third period when they shook themselves loose and skated over to the goal mouth where Bruneteau fired the puck by goalie Dave Kerr.

The Rangers, fighting back desperately, came close to knocking the score in the final nine seconds of play as Neil Colville took a pass from Al Pike and blasted a close-in shot past goalie Johnny Mowers.

The game, which had gone without a penalty until the final period, suddenly blew wide open during the closing 10 minutes.

The explosion was set off by a double penalty involving Detroit Defencemen Jimmy Orlando and Pike, who were sent to the cooler for cross-checking and slashing.

The players flocked around the penalty box and Lynn Patrick's protests earned him a match penalty from Referee Bill Stewart. Before Patrick left the ice, Ranger Defenceman Art Coulter drew a misconduct penalty.

Bill Jennings opened the scoring when he slipped a rebound shot in to the cage in the first period, and within five minutes the score was deadlocked on a freak face-off from Kirby MacDonald's stick. The puck dropped through Mowers' arms.

Jimmy Stewart, Red Wings defenceman, shovelled in Don Grosso's long pass for Detroit's second tally of the first period, as the puck bounced off Kerr's skates.

The victory once again upheld the magic of the Red Wings' jinx over the Rangers, who have won on Olympia ice only once in two seasons.

Apps Blasts Boston 7 to 2

MAPLE LEAF GARDENS, Toronto, March 25 (CP)—Inspired by the return of their mighty captain—Syl Apps—Toronto Maple Leafs overwhelmed Boston Bruins 7-2 here tonight to take a one-game lead in best-of-seven semi-final series for the Stanley Cup. The teams had previously won one game each.

Out of action for a month due to a knee injury, big Syl potted three of the Toronto goals and assisted in another. His driving play sparked the Leafs all night as they came from behind twice to win going away from the powerful National Hockey League champions.

A crowd of 13,825 fans saw the Bruins take their worst pasting of the season as the Leafs outplayed the champions in the second and third periods. The Bruins held an edge in the first session which ended 4-1 but the Leafs were in front 4-2 when the second period closed.

Penalties played an important part in the contest, the Bruins scoring once and the Leafs twice while having extra manpower. The two late second-period counters which sent the Leafs in front for the first time came with players serving time. The Bruins were two men short and the Leafs one when Apps sank the Leafs' fourth goal.

In addition to Apps' three goals, Sweeney Schriener counted two of the Toronto goals, and Nick Metz and Bucko McDonald completed the count. Mill Schmidt and Howie Cain were the Boston marksmen.

After Schriener matched Schmidt's first period goal, Cain scored a fluky counter early in the second to give the Leafs a 2-1 lead. Cain touched Flash Hollett's backhand shot and with Broda sitting on the ice, the puck trickled beneath his leg.

The Leafs charged back to amend the lucky goal and Apps started his one-man scoring spree to tie the count on a pretty passing play with Reg Hamilton and Nick Metz. Before the period ended a shot by Bucko McDonald deflected off Clapper's leg into the Boston net and Apps added another.

Goalie Frank Brimsek was given little protection in the final period as the Bruins struggled vainly to come from behind. Schriener, Apps and Metz scored in order on break-aways and Brimsek stopped several other dangerous drives.

Jack Crawford, Boston defenceman, suffered a skate cut in the opening game of the round in Boston.

Boston—Brimsek, Clapper, Smith; Schmidt; Bauer, Dumart, Smith—Reardon, Hollett, Crawford, Jackson, Cain, McKewen, Wiseman, Conacher, Hill.
Toronto—Broda; McDonald, Hamilton; Langelle, Marker, Davidson, Subs—Apps, N. Metz, Drillon, Stanowski, Church, Taylor, Schriener, D. Metz, Heron.

Chicago Edges Out Canadiens; Joe Benoit Scores

CHICAGO, March 25 (CP).—Chicago Black Hawks moved on to the Stanley Cup semi-finals to night with a 3-2 victory over the Montreal Canadiens in a closely-fought game, deciding encounter of the best of three series between the clubs.

A third-period goal by Cully Dahlstrom gave the Hawks their win after Canadiens had rallied from behind a two-goal deficit to tie the score near the end of the second. The win moved Hawks into the semi-final series against Detroit Red Wings who eliminated New York Rangers tonight.

A crowd of 14,562 cheered the Hawks on in a close victory in a series that saw all games won by a single goal. Hawks took the opener here 2-1, and dropped the second in Montreal 4-3 in the second overtime period.

The Hawks outplayed the Canadiens by a wide margin throughout the first period and well into the second, only to see the invaders tie the score with two sudden thrusts in 21 seconds.

The game was only 15 minutes old when George Allen hit the net for the first goal. Johnny Mariucci, and Cully Dahlstrom assisted on the play.

They stretched this margin to 2-0 at 12:11 of the next period on Dahlstrom's brilliant manoeuvre near the net after Allen and Joe Papke had set up the play.

But the Canadiens, just when it appeared they were badly beaten, struck back swiftly. Joe Benoit scored, assisted by Toe Blake, and Johnny Quilty, at 18:37. Twenty seconds later Ray Gettiffe tied the score with another goal from close range.

The aroused Hawks bounced back with the clincher in the fourth minute of the final period, Dahlstrom hitting the net for the winning marker. Then the Hawks laid back and concentrated on defence.

Canadiens barely missed tying the count repeatedly but great defence work not only by Lo Presti but also Earl Selbert and Dave Mackay turned them back.

Montreal—Gardiner; Reardon, Portland; Chamberlain; Sands, Gettiffe, Subs—Goupile, Benoit, Blake, O'Neil, Adams, Quilty, Graboski, Singbush, Demers.
Chicago—Lo Presti; Mackay, Selbert; Dahlstrom; Allen, Papke. Subs—Wiese, March, Cooper, Hercheimer, Mariucci, D. Bentley, Carse, M. Bentley, Chad.

Workman Killed by Plant Blast

PORTLAND, Ore., March 25 (AP)—A terrific blast at 9:35 a.m. today leveled the recently-completed R. N. Chipman Chemical Company factory here and killed one workman, Harry G. Ray, 32, Portland.

The plant was being converted to the production of explosive chemicals but held no defence contracts. At least a dozen others were injured, among them Ralph Chipman, local manager. He suffered a fractured ankle and cuts.

The factory was a total loss, according to Fire Marshal Fred Roberts, who said he was positive the blast originated in a large mixing machine.

The Chipman factory, drawn here by Bonneville Power, was manufacturing only agricultural chemicals, chiefly weed killer.

BRITISH BATTLESHIP HIT SAY GERMANS

BERLIN, March 25 (AP)—The German High Command claimed today heavy bomb hits were scored by Nazi air raiders on a British battleship in the Mediterranean Southwest of the Greek island of Crete.

A communique also claimed an enemy outpost boat was destroyed there and two large freighters, each about 8000 tons severely damaged in an air raid on a British convoy South of Crete.

CONTRACT By Shepard Barclay

NOT "PURE VELVET" — THEY EITHER gain you a trick, or they fail to gain you a trick, but they can't lose one," said a fair player the other day in explaining finesse to a neophyte. But the very next hand proved the fallacy of that. Following it resulted in the defeat of an otherwise air-tight contract. The plain fact is that plenty of finesse entail a risk of your entire enterprise, whereas refusal of them might make its success a sure thing.

A double of the 3-Clubs would have been rather profitable for North, but he was trying to become declarer, although he had four spades for his partner. South finally got the contract anyway, and then proceeded to lose it by his inexperience.

West led the club Q to dummy's A, and the declarer proceeded immediately to his fatal mistake. He led the spade J and finessed it to West's K. The club 9 was returned to the K and East ruffed with his spade 8. This set the contract because there was no way to avoid a loser in clubs and one in hearts. All that South had to do to make his contract was to play to the spade A immediately after winning the club lead, and then another spade, which would have made the defenders trumplers. A more experienced declarer would have reckoned that West's vulnerable overall must have included the spade K and also a six-card suit, since West was a pretty experienced player not given to frequent doubtful overcalls when vulnerable.

Of course, if the spade finesse had worked, the declarer could have made an extra trick above his contract, but that was worth risking the whole business?

Water Main Installation Program Nearly Completed Dawson Reports

Engineer Reviews City Work for Two Weeks

Program of water main installation authorized by deputation by-law will be completed by the end of the week, stated H. D. Dawson, City Engineer, in a public works report to the City Council Tuesday night covering the fortnight ending March 24.

He described a variety of City undertakings, as follows:

STREETS During the period we have completed the graveling of that portion of the Ymir Road extending from the end of the pavement on Hall Mines Road to the City boundary. We have also carried out minor graveling jobs on a number of portions of other City streets, including Vancouver Street.

On Hall Street South from Front Street as far as Lake Street we excavated silt and other poor material on the East side and have backfilled with gravel. We set a 6 by 6 wood curb to allow for a six foot boulevard.

A stream of considerable size rising between the Great Northern Railway and View Street, which had been diverted from its normal channel, has caused mud holes on View Street, High Street, and Douglas Road, and has washed out large portions of the backfilling in the recently made water ditch. This stream the Provincial Government Public Works have now controlled, sending it back to its original channel, and we have been enabled to regrade the bad spots and have re-filled and gravelled the water ditch on High Street. This road, which was closed for the period, is now opened again.

SEWERS We have completed the installation of 123 feet of 10 inch sewer pipe, connecting up to steel portions between the railway and the lakeshore. The portion extending to the lake had become almost blocked, but we have been enabled to clear this and the outlet now appears to be in good shape.

We have commenced the construction of the eight-inch sewer Eastward from Third Street through Blocks 14, 12 and 11, to Sixth Street. That portion extending through the easement obtained from Mr. Willits is that which is now being laid.

We have made a new sewer connection for the Provincial Government building for automobile drivers examinations.

Helpers in the War Effort WORK OF EVERY KIND FOR EVERY HAND AT NELSON RED CROSS ROOMS

A visit to the local Red Cross Work Rooms impresses even the most casual person with the scope of the work and the efficiency and economy with which it is carried out.

Just before their monthly shipment, their cupboards resemble the well stocked shelves of a department store. The miscellany of knitted garments, for instance, makes one realize that the excuse, "I simply can't knit socks," is no longer a valid reason to sidestep work, for here is everything from the soft, white face cloths for beginning knitters, to the more exacting articles for experienced knitters. Mitts of every description are tied in their separate bundles; socks are sized and made up into dozen lots; turtle-neck sweaters and V-necked sweaters in small, medium and large sizes are sorted into separate packs, ready for shipment. There are helmets and scarves, and for the added protection of men with strenuous, outside work, there are body belts of soft grey wool.

In modern warfare, severe raids produce, very often, severe injuries. Limb amputations are frequent enough for the Red Cross to send out a call for amputation covers in Nelson's own Red Cross cupboards knit by the most careful workers in fine, white wool and wrapped carefully away, are a supply of these covers in five sizes.

PERSONAL TOUCHES BRIGHTEN REFUGEE WORK The knitting department also looks after the refugee knitting. Here a personal touch is allowed and embroidered motifs add a touch of color and variety to the uniformity of the wool.

In the other rooms various activities are carried out. Here the Cutting Department works on different days throughout the week, cutting out garments of all descriptions in specified patterns. Nightgowns, underwear, suits and trousers in all sizes are cut out and tied together with instructions, ready for those who sew in their own homes as their contribution to the Red Cross work. By doing practically all the cutting at the rooms, a bolt of cloth can be cut with a minimum of waste by those whom practice has made extremely proficient at the work. All scraps are carefully gathered up and used to make warm and attractive baby's quilts in plain patchwork. Nothing is wasted by Red Cross workers!

ECONOMY A BYWORD Several women are on hand each very necessary bias and straight bandages. Unbleached cotton is torn in a specified width, the torn edges are ironed smooth, then carefully rolled into five-yard lengths on the hand rollers. The material left over from a bolt of this unbleached cotton is cut on the bias and used as bias binding on small boys' hachways. Again the workers set an example in economy. The bias bandages are of a soft flannellette. Three strips are seamed together with a flat fell seam, making a bandage about three yards long. They are then rolled on the rollers at an even tension to prevent stretching. In the hospital supplies are included surgeons' gowns and caps, pneumatic jackets and convalescent jackets, all looking very professional in their tailoring.

Clothing for mothers and children who have lost everything in bombing raids is a particularly essential contribution of the Red Cross and a great many articles have been shipped from time to time from this district. An effort is made to send out the clothes in complete outfits in the different sizes. Nelson women are still talking about a bolt of fine grey flannel which went out to South Slopes, and arrived back as beautiful little suits for small boys and girls, all expertly tailored.

Many of the younger women's clubs are working on babies' layettes and there are a number of them and turned in to the Red Cross complete even to pins and soap. Many dainty and attractive layettes have started on their journey overseas from the Nelson Red Cross.

These are the activities of the local Work Rooms—varied enough, surely, for every woman in Nelson to find her own special niche.

TRAIL SOCIAL

By MISS FLORENCE BIRD

TRAIL, B. C., March 25.—Miss Annie McIntyre was guest of honor at a delightful party on Saturday night given for her by her mother, Mrs. William McIntyre, on her seventeenth birthday. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. James McKinnon 1943 Second Avenue. The rooms were decorated with vases of pussy willows and daffodils, while the table was centered with a lighted birthday cake flanked by pink tapers. Guests were Misses Annie McKinnon, Lena, Jean, Lollins and May Anderson, Mildred Guesford, Mary Wilson, Margaret Henderson, Mrs. McInnes, Roberta McKinnon, and Beth Miller, and Hugh McIntyre. Tom Anderson, Campbell Henderson, James McKinnon, Mrs. J. Henderson, Mrs. William McKinnon, Mrs. Samuel Anderson, Mrs. Frank McIntyre and Mrs. Hugh McIntyre, Sr.

The Excelsior Young People's Club met Monday evening in the Upper Odd Fellows' Hall, with Gordon Ellison, Vice-President, in the chair. It was decided to hold an Executive meeting Thursday, and to play ping pong Tuesday evening in the Orange Hall. The Devotional session for the evening was taken by John Doughty and Connie Green, with Miss Joyce Easton presiding at the piano. An open forum discussion was conducted by George Santano on "Is the Motion Picture Theatre a Disincentive or a Bar to the Human Race?" Miss Margaret Santano took charge of the social part of the evening. The young people will practice Thursday evening for the play they are putting on the latter part of April. At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the group under the leadership of Miss Gertrude Hollett.

Mrs. A. E. Haynes was complimented Friday afternoon, when Mrs. William Houston, 1951 Second Avenue, entertained at the tea hour. Vari-colored anapansons were prettily arranged throughout the room, while the attractive tea table was centered with a low bowl of pansies. Mrs. E. L. Hodge presided at the urns. There were 10 guests present. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Spence motored to Nelson Sunday to visit relatives.

Christians' Lives Should Glorify God Evangelist Declares

Christians' principal aim should be "to walk so that God will be glorified by His people." Evangelist Madge Black of Winnipeg said "Tuesday night in her "Five Ways in Which to Glorify God" at the Bethel Tabernacle.

God was glorified in the ministry of giving, when trusted, when offered praise, when Christians worshipped, when Christians united and He could be glorified "in our bodies," the Evangelist said.

"We often sign 'Glory to His Name,' she said, "and we can only bring glory to the name of God when we live for His glory."

Evangelist Bessie Wood of Centaur, Sask., led the song service. A solo was sung by Frank Dyck. Following the evening service, a prayer meeting was held.

Cement Sidewalk on Fifth to Cost $548 Engineer Estimates

Nelson Cleanup Drive to Tie in With Salvaging

Nelson's annual Arbor Day cleanup is scheduled for April 23. The City Council Tuesday set this date to tie in with the National Salvage Campaign in which all useful material will be collected for war purposes. In Nelson the Junior Chamber of Commerce is organizing the campaign, and is already collecting scrap.

Suggestion that the city might help the campaign by contributing copper wire and so on was placed before the Council in a letter by J. R. M. McNaughton Secretary. The letter also suggested that the annual local cleanup should be timed to coincide with the salvage campaign.

J. H. Aylwin explained that originally the Chamber planned to ask the city to schedule the local cleanup for the week beginning April 14, but upon advice that a national advertising and billboard campaign would be held the week of April 21, changed its plans to conform.

Rossland Council Takes Action to Protect Children From Open Ponds

Applicants for Free Water Asked to Show Income

ROSSLAND, B.C., March 25.—Alderman William Cunningham used emphatic language in drawing to the City Council's attention Monday night the existence of a pond at the foot of Fourth Avenue. The pond, he said, was some 14 feet square and seven feet deep, was situated in what is known as "Vetere's Field," and was being used by John Vetere for irrigation purposes. He contended the pond was a menace to children who played near it, and pointed out that measurements taken by City Foreman Roy Hancock showed that not only the pond, but also part of Mr. Vetere's fence properly, actually encroached 28 feet upon the street.

The Council took action, on motion of Ald. Cunningham, to request Mr. Vetere to either fence in the pond, or cover it.

On recommendation of the Finance Committee the Council left the Rossland Library Association's request for a grant in abeyance for three months; refused an additional grant to the Catholic Children's Aid Society, as not provided for in the estimates; voted $25 toward the Salvation Army's Grace Hospital in Vancouver; ordered advertising of the 1941 dog taxes being now payable; and decided to make minimum income the basis for granting of free water service to widows and needy householders.

The council authorized the refunding. The Public Works report, presented by Ald. Leo Nimsick in the absence of the Chairman, Ald. C. H. Ridgers, showed 67 man-days expended in the fortnight.

MUST FILE INCOME RETURN Applicants for free water service will have five days in which to file an income return after being notified by the City that one is required, and if they fail to comply, will receive no consideration, but will be required to pay the full rate.

On behalf of the Recreation Committee, Ald. Cunningham, its Chairman, reported that Frank Grubisic and Louis Proffil, operators of the outdoor rink on Second Avenue, had left the premises and equipment in good order, and recommended that a $50 deposit made at the beginning of the season, be refunded.
