HUNDREDS REPORTED KILLED IN RUMANIA

Fiery British Attack Too Much for Tobruk

Troops, Ships, Planes in Brilliant Attack

By EDWARD KENNEDY

WITH THE BRITISH FORCES ON TOBRUK BATTLEFIELD, Jan. 21 - (Delayed) - (AP). — Italy's second stronghold in Eastern Libya, the fortified perimeter of the Tobruk area, cracked at dawn today before a brilliantly-executed British and Australian attack.

Once inside the rim, the storming units speedily turned to a clean-up of the area of some 100 square miles enclosed by it.

By nightfall, numerous forts and gun posts within the perimeter had been silenced, Tobruk town and harbor bottled up and many thousands of Italians taken prisoner.

Although preparations for the attack had gone on openly since the investiture of the area two weeks ago, the British forces apparently took the Italians by surprise. Many were found sleeping in dugouts and were marched at bayonet point from their beds to the prisoners' lines.

Throughout the day's fighting not a single Italian plane appeared overhead nor did the Italian fleet venture out to aid the trapped and harassed Fascist soldiers.

During the last month the Italians had dug a wide ditch along the 30-mile stretch of the defence rim, employing thousands of soldiers and using mechanical excavators.

This ditch was 12 feet deep except at the Southeastern point where rock formations prevented digging more than two feet.

At 5:40 a.m. (Tuesday) a mighty artillery barrage went up and simultaneously British tanks charged over the ditch to the barbed wire, which the Australians, protected by the fire of tanks and cannon, were cutting. Australian infantry followed the tanks.

Once inside the stronghold the attacking groups split up, some turning to the right and others to the left, folding up the rim of the defences by lightning attacks from behind. Others went straight ahead and then spread fanwise, mopping up the strong points within.

After them came British artillery units and Australian motorized cavalry.

A drive along the inside of the rim permitted still other Australians to make a second gap two miles to the right. These detachments drove the Italians into gulches along the coast.

At the moment of the initial thrust, Australian units near the seacoast made a feint which attracted the brunt of the Italian artillery fire.

They had the protection of gulleys. The materials moved forward to that region in the last few days as decoys had been quietly withdrawn during the night, so that the bulk of the Italian shells fell on empty desert.

By 8:50 a.m. Tuesday, the first phase of the attack had been completed and the second, which carried the battle on from points gained within the perimeter, began.

By this time a sight which has become familiar in this campaign whenever the Italians are in combat —long lines of grey-green clad warriors marching resignedly into captivity—had appeared.

Late Flashes

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP)—Greek citizens in Egypt between the ages of 20 and 25 will be mobilized and formed into an army corps to be called "The Hellenic Column in Egypt," the British Broadcasting Corporation said tonight.

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP).—The British Broadcasting Corporation tonight quoted a Budapest report that the Hungarian Minister of War, Gen. Karoly Bartha, "is leaving for Germany today with a full staff."

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP).—The Admiralty announced tonight the destroyer Hyperion has been lost.

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP).—An announcement in the House of Commons today said a proposal is being discussed under which a few experienced trade unionists from England "will be selected for appointments as naval officers in certain colonies," the British rBoadcasting Corporation reported today.

TWO BOMBERS ARE SHOT DOWN

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP). — German bombers made relatively minor stabs at the Southeast coast and over Yorkshire today and two were shot down in aerial combat.

Nowhere in Britain were raid casualties reported during the day. Six bombs fell harmlessly in a town on the Kent coast and a Yorkshire area was bombed with similar negligible effect.

German planes also appeared over a Northeast coast town and over East Anglia, but no incident of consequence was reported.

$1,100,000,000 in War Contracts Placed

OTTAWA, Jan. 22 (CP).—Total war purchasing and plant enlargement contracts placed on Canadian and United Kingdom account by the Department of Munitions and Supply and the two purchasing organizations it has replaced amounted to $1,105,832,939 at the end of 1940, the Department said tonight.

The total does not include certain contracts yet to be placed under the plant extension program, the Department said.

Of the total, contracts valued at $871,568,791 were placed on Canadian account. This figure includes plant extensions. Contracts placed by the Civil Aviation Division for airport construction under the British Commonwealth Air Training plan totalled $17,047,938.

More Strikes Flare

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP). — While one threatened strike was settled others flared today in several plants throughout the United States, stopping or slowing down production of defence materials.

Completely paralyzing production of $26,000,000 worth of warship turbines, generators, shafts, pumps and gun mounts for the army and navy about 7000 employees of the Allis Chalmers Manufacturing Company marched from their benches in West Allis, Wis.

STRIKE AVERTED

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 22 (AP). —Strike which threatened to tie up the Ryan Aeronautical Company plant, busy on Government aircraft orders, was averted early today as company and C. I. O. representatives agreed on a new contract.

Italians Withdraw on Fronts in East Africa

By ERIC BIGIO

CAIRO, Jan. 22 (AP). — Fall of the major Italian Libyan base of Tobruk was announced tonight.

Mopping-up operations continued in the town's Western defences alone.

"The remainder of the defences are in our hands," said a communique.

Australian shock troops led the forces storming Tobruk. They immediately cut off the Italians still holding out beyond the port to the West.

These advanced units—the same Australians who had led the way in a campaign that now has all but consolidated 90 miles of Libyan coastline in British hands — entered Tobruk at noon after more than 24 hours of violent attack upon the town and port by British and Imperial troops, warships and bombers.

In the Tobruk fortress was the greater part of an Italian garrison of 30,000, and the fact that units of the British Mediterranean Fleet had been able to bombard the town for hours showed there could be no possibility of retreat by sea.

Above the town, smoke rose over the rubble left by the shells pumped into it.

Like Bardia, Tobruk was ringed by a strong outer arc of defences about 25 miles from the coast, and, with the sea, encircling the whole town.

Under cover of preliminary assaults by British and Free French forces, picked regiments of British and Australians were massed outside the Eastern — and main — sector of the defences.

At zero-hour — shortly after dawn Tuesday — sappers plunged forward to cut through the barbed wire barriers. Tanks smashed through, followed by shouting British and Australian infantrymen in steel helmets. They quickly subdued two of the nearest strong points and then the bulk of the attacking troops poured through fanwise.

Other defence points on the borders of the wide gap were sandwiched and surrendered after a short struggle.

Other tanks and infantry charged for a second and inner defence line which formed a semi-circle for 11 miles. This was broken in similar fashion.

By sunset of Tuesday, just 12 hours after loosing the attack, the British troops were eight miles within the defences and firmly established on cliffs overlooking the Tobruk harbor, three miles away.

The initial gaps in the Italian defence lines had by that time been widened to five miles.

In the Western sector of the town's defences the British troops also had broken through the perimeter of fortified positions and the Italians there were left up against it.

Ground forces were supported by the Royal Air Force, which pounded the Western sector heavily, silencing two anti-aircraft batteries. The Italians appeared to have offered little air opposition.

On two other fronts far away—in East Africa — as far as 2000 miles — the Italians were withdrawing today, said reports reaching British Military Headquarters here.

Two Italian divisions which had held Kessala, in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, and the nearby frontier posts were said to have withdrawn more than 40 miles inside Italian Eritrea with British troops in pursuit.

The other Italian retreat reported was along the Southern frontier of Ethiopia. Fascist detachments that had penetrated into Kenya some months ago are now moving back, harassed by British patrols.

APPEALS TO WOMEN TO JOIN IN PRAYER FEB. 28

TORONTO, Jan. 22 (CP).—The Inter-Board Committee of the Women's Missionary Societies of Canada issued an appeal today to all Canadian women to participate in a world-wide prayer service February 28. Mrs. R. G. Wodehouse, Dominion President of the Anglican Women's Auxiliary, will broadcast from Ottawa February 27 on a coast-to-coast network.

SHIP SENDS OUT CALL

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP).—The 2384-ton French steamship Cens sent a distress call tonight from a position 17 miles West of Marseille.

Her brief SOS, heard here, said she was off Cabbage Rock, Cap Couronne. The 269-foot ship gave no reason for her distress but it was believed she was the victim of a three-day storm raging in the Western Mediterranean.

KUNMING BOMBED

KUNMING, China, Jan. 22 (AP). —Six Japanese dive bombers followed by nine in formation raided the Kunming area today, but the damage was limited to two villages Southeast of the city, which were set afire. Casualties were estimated at 30.

General Inspects Defences on the Run

Having taken up his duties as C.-in-C. Southern Command, Lt.-Gen. H. R. L. G. Alexander of Dunkirk fame is now making thorough inspection of his command. Recently determined to see things for himself, and with very little time to spare to cover the defences over a widespread area, he led his accompanying officers from point to point at the double. Lt.-Gen. Alexander is pictured leading his officers at the double during his tour.

Hundreds of Nazi Prisoners Brought to Canada's Camps

Many Airmen Who Were Downed in Britain

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Jan. 23 (CP)—Long lines of German prisoners—their many hundreds made up mostly of airmen shot down over Britain—filed ashore late today and tonight from a ship and were rushed off toward internment camps in the interior of Canada.

Officers and non-commissioned airmen, along with a scattering of submarine sailors, stamped from the ship to their special trains between queues of Imperial and Canadian soldiers. Mostly, they went along stolidly, though here and there one grinned, and waved, and a few tossed up their right hands in the Nazi salute.

Lt.-Col. R. Weddell, commander of the guards who watched over the Nazis, told the Press they gave "not the slightest trouble." At the end of the voyage, they wrote him a letter saying they were "very pleased" with their treatment.

The Germans were posted to quarters in the aft of the vessel and were kept strictly to themselves. Talented internees entertained the others with three concerts. Their singing, Col. Weddell said, was "marvellous."

Imperial troops guarded them on the trans-Ocean trip. The Canadians took over here, observing the most rigid precautions against breaks or any incidents out of the routine.

Before each group was allowed aboard the trains, every man was thoroughly searched for possible hidden weapons. Aboard ship, each group was counted with extreme care and the vessel was searched from top to bottom as a precaution against hide-aways.

Aboard the trains, the Germans found their hosts were fully prepared. At each stop the guards were under orders to "fan out" outside to repel any attempt to break out the windows, or to hold back any crowds which might gather.

The prisoners were warned, through the interpreters, that only one man would be allowed to stand up at a time in each car. Doors had been removed from the lavatories before they came aboard.

An elaborate electric alarm system was the chief safeguard against a mass escape attempt. A guard in any part of the train could give warning immediately he spotted any trouble.

There were no bars on the windows but the fact that there were double windows was considered enough to thwart any effort to obtain freedom until guards could get into action.

More Airmen Come to Canada

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Jan. 22 (CP). — Royal Air Force men hailing from Poland to Australia were ready here tonight to take over the jobs which brought them across the Atlantic.

They will move Westward to various centres by train tomorrow, a day after their arrival aboard a British ship.

Scores of them are men to be trained under the plans by which Britain expects to build up sufficient air power to subdue the foe. Others are instructors and still more are officers who will carry out duties which must be kept secret.

There were numerous Canadians among them including Flying Officers E. W. Edser, Vancouver; G. Cranna, an Albertan, and Flight Lieutenant S. H. Kernaghan of Regina.

Five Poles, all of whom battled against hopeless odds at the time of the German-Polish war, were also listed. Other nationalities included New Zealanders, Australians, Irishmen, South Africans and Hollanders.

Ellis to Execute Indian for Murder of Cranbrook Man

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C., Jan 22 (CP). — Sheriff Frank Cotton said today that Hangman John Ellis would make a flying trip here from Ontario to execute Frank Sylvester, 21-year-old Shuswap Indian who is to hang at nearby Oakalla Prison Farm Friday morning for the murder of John Lundy, 81-year-old pensioner near Cranbrook, B. C., last September.

Cotton said Ellis, who succeeded to the position of Canada's unofficial hangman with the death of Sam Edwards last year, is scheduled to officiate at a hanging at Brantford, Ont., Thursday morning. He will fly here from Brantford.

Sylvester was convicted at Cranbrook last October of the September 26 murder of Lundy, whose body was found in the burned ruins of the home of Harold J. Forester, one-time member of the British Columbia Legislature. Forester also died in the fire.

SCHOONERS SAFE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22 (AP)—Two small coastal lumber schooners which called for aid during heavy weather last night were safe or under convoy today, the Coast Guard reported.

The 940-ton Solano, which requested aid off point St. George, North of Eureka, reached Coos Bay, accompanied by the freighter Derbley.

This afternoon, the Coast Guard cutter Shawnee from Eureka, reached the schooner aKtherine Donovan disabled by engine trouble off the Northern California coast.

FORMER MAYOR OF MOOSE JAW DIES

VANCOUVER, Jan. 22 (CP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Dr. Rober Henry Smith, 69, one-time Mayor of Moose Jaw and formerly prominent in Saskatchewan political life. He died on Saturday.

JAPANESE SEND $125 TO WAR CAUSE

VANCOUVER, Jan. 22 (CP). — The Canadian Japanese Association today sent Mayor Cornett two donations totalling $125 from two of its members as contributions to the Department of National Defence for war purposes.

One of Two Retaken in Escape at Port

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Jan. 23 (Thursday) (CP)—One of two German prisoners who escaped from a big concentration of captives landing here late yesterday was retaken early today.

An official police announcement, put on the radio here, gave no details of the escape. Location of the escape was not given.

"Two German prisoners of war escaped from detention," the announcement said. It added they might possibly be wearing peaked caps and dark civilian clothes. They might have on German Air Force officers' trousers of dark materials.

It was understood the escape of the men was discovered after the hundreds of captured Germans had been placed aboard a number of trains and a recount of their numbers carried out.

Many of those who came ashore from the ship today, bound for internment camps, were dressed in civilian clothes. Most of them, though, bore the distinguishing white circles sewn onto their clothing.

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Jan. 22—A Nazi flier ranked as one of the three most deadly in Goering's air force came to Canada on the way to an internment camp today.

The 25-year fighter pilot was credited in Berlin with shooting down 56 planes since the start of the Spanish Civil War.

The flier, whose name was withheld by regulations restricting the identification of prisoners, was one of Germany's most noted airmen.

He had been awarded the Oak Leaves, a high German decoration.

A British pilot shot him down over the English Channel.

Netherlands Planning Food Storage in U. S.

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP).—The Netherlands Government announced tonight it would open a New York office for the purchase and storage of food for the "replenishment of the Netherlands at the first moment possible."

Queen Wilhelmina appointed C. Van Stolk as Commissioner and Purchasing Agent and directed him to buy in the open market.

He is now en route to the United States.

The announcement said that "large stocks" had been accumulated in the Netherlands before the war, but due to "Nazi exploitation," the people are experiencing "serious hardship."

FATHER OF TWINS IS FOUND HANGING

VANCOUVE, Jan. 22 (CP).—Two 12-year-old twin boys, Donnie and Ronnie Inkinen, raised by their 40-year-old Finnish laborer father since the death of their mother nine years ago, were left orphans today when the fathers' body was found in his East-end shack.

Police said the body of the father, J. Inkinen, unemployed and ill, was found hanging from a beam in the shack.

WILLKIE LEAVES

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP). — Wendell L. Willkie started for Britain aboard a Clipper plane today as, in his words, "a private citizen—an individual determined to find out what is going on."

The big flying boat pulled away from the Marine Terminal at La Guardia Field bound for Bermuda and Lisbon. From Lisbon, Willkie is to fly to London on a British overseas airways plane.

Civil War Raging Unchecked; Rebels Claim 30,000 Men

Bucharest and Other Cities Reported to Be in State of Seige; Army Units Throw in Lot With Iron Guard Radio Says

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Jan. 23 (Thursday) (AP).—Civil war between Rumanian Extremists and soldiers of Premier Ion Antonescu spread rapidly throughout Nazi-dominated Rumania today and news dispatches said several hundred persons probably had been killed in bitter fighting.

Dispatches from Bucharest said the rebels claimed more than 30,000 were fighting for them. The revolters also were said to be claiming the ascendancy in most cities in Rumanian Transylvania, the remnant of the vast Province which the Axis left to Rumania last year in an enforced settlement between Rumania and Hungary.

Rumania's neighbors were nervous. Hungary was reported to have called up more troops, and the Turkish cabinet met for three hours to discuss the riots in Rumania and the presence of German troops in exiled King Carol's former domain.

(The National Broadcasting Company in New York quoted the British Broadcasting Corporation as saying the Rumanian stations Radio Romania and Radio Bucharest broadcast an order for all Iron Guardists believed to form the backbone of the rebel movement, to remain at their fighting positions and wait for orders from their Chief, Horia Sima. The BBC also said a Rumanian Army Corps—presumably the Fifth —is marching towards Bucharest).

Advices from Brasov, North of Bucharest, said a revolutionary leader, General Dragalina, was reported marching to Bucharest with troops.

The Bucharest radio, held by the revolters, appealed to troops there not to fire on the rebels. The radio emphasized that the Extremists are "ready to die like our captain," meaning Corneliu Codreanu, Iron Guard leader killed in 1938, for whose death Iron Guardists slew scores of Rumanians in a blood purge last November.

Gen. Dragalina was said to have appealed to Sima to assume leadership in a new regime and restore order.

Extremists in Bucharest were reported holding the Post Office, several Ministries and the telephone central.

Over the Bucharest radio, which they seized, the revolutionaries announced Rumanian Air Force units at one point had joined in the revolt.

While German troops had been expected to intervene they thus far were reported to have kept clear of the fighting.

Troops at Carlova, Yashi and Constanza were reported to have joined the revolt and at Galatz and Braila Extremists overpowered and disarmed regular troops.

The fighting was reported especially bitter after the death of an Extremist Leader, Victor Silaghi.

Martial law was proclaimed by Premier Ion Antonescu, who was reported to have only the support of troops unfriendly to the Legionaires. No estimate of the strength of Antonescu's troops was given however.

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP). — The British Broadcasting Corporation reported tonight that an announcer of the Bucharest radio, who claimed to be speaking on behalf of the "Rumanian Legionary radio said a number of army units "had thrown in their lot with the Iron Guard."

"Among them was the Fifth Army Corps, which he said was on its way to Bucharest by forced march," the BBC said.

BELGRADE, Jan. 22 (AP). — Street fighting between Rumanian army units and Iron Guard Extremists raged unchecked tonight, advices reaching here said, resulting in a virtual state of siege in Bucharest and other principal cities of that turbulent, German-dominated country.

Numerous casualties, including two deaths, were reported in repeated clashes in the streets of the Rumanian capital today.

One diplomatic report received here said that Baron Mannfred von Killinger, Nazi Minister to Rumania, is expected to arrive in Bucharest and might become "Gauleiter"—Nazi District Leader—of all Rumania, assuming direction of German efforts to quell the strife.

R.A.F. Officer Is Training Director

OTTAWA, Jan. 22 (CP)—Group Capt. A. L. Paxton, of the Royal Air Force arrived in Canada today from England to become Director of Air Training under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, Royal Canadian Air Force headquarters announced tonight.

Group Capt. Paxton fills a vacancy caused by appointment of Air Commodore Robert Leckie to the Air Council as air member for training.

Italian Convoy of Trucks Destroyed by Greek Raiders

ATHENS, Jan. 22 (AP).—Destruction of an entire Italian convoy of more than 100 trucks by Greek bombers in Central Albania was announced tonight.

Italian troops also were bombed and machine-gunned in repeated attacks, it was stated.

The transport column was smashed after a Greek bomb had dislodged a great boulder which rolled into the road, blocking a narrow mountain pass and enabling the Greek planes to pour bombs upon the trapped trucks.

In this sector Greek infantry was reported far enough advanced to permit the transfer of artillery to new forward positions. At one point 200 Italian prisoners were taken, a Greek Government spokesman said.

Four Italian counter-attacks along the central front, he added, had been easily repulsed with "heavy losses" to the Fascists.

Gains in the Tepeleni sector of the Southern Albanian front also were announced.

Dusseldorf Region Bombed by British; Machine-Gun Troops

LONDON, Jan. 3 - (Thursday) - (AP). — Royal Air Force planes attacked targets in the Duesseldorf region in Western Germany last night, an official announcement said today.

The region is in the heart of the industrial Ruhr.

In other offensive operations, the Air Ministry announced, British fighter planes swept across the French coast in daylight yesterday to machine-gun German troops, ground defences and airdromes.

Machine-gun raids also were made on motorboats off the French coast, on convoys and on troops working on construction projects.

Seven Hurt as Coast Street Car Crashes

VANCOUVER, Jan. 22 (CP), — Seven persons were in hospital today with injuries suffered when a street car jumped the tracks on a curve last night and ploughed into a two-storey, East-end building. Seven other persons, including the motorman, were released from hospital after emergency treatment.

Farmers Urged to Improve Industry

TORONTO, Jan. 22 (CP).—W. A. Amos, a farmer from Palmerston, Ont., after listening to five Provincial Ministers of Agriculture "diagnose the ills" of the Canadian farming industry, today exhorted his fellow farmers to get together, dictate their own agricultural policies and improve their own industry.

He spoke at the Canadian Federation of Agriculture's annual convention.

SEES FINEST HORSES FOR SASKATCHEWAN

REGINA, Jan. 22 (CP).—Canada will soon be the premier breeding place of Belgian horses, and unless there is an immediate and drastic alteration in present world conditions, the time will not be far distant when Saskatchewan horse breeders will be turning out the world's finest farm work horses.

This was the opinion expressed by Robert Thomas of Grandora, Sask., President of the Canadian Belgian Horse Breeders' Club held today.

GERMANY BOMBED BY BRITISH IN WEST AREA

BERLIN, Jan. 23 (Thursday) (AP).—The German news and propaganda agency, DNB, reported today that British planes dropped "a small number" of bombs in Western Germany last night causing "minor damage to private property" and "small fires."

The agency said apparently no casualties were caused.

Canadian Legion War Services Plan to Help Overseas Men in Courses

By DOUGLAS AMARON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—University and high school life is being brought to the war campus of the Canadian Army.

Dr. A. S. Chatwin, Saskatoon educationalist who came to England in November as Director of Overseas Educational Services for the C.L.W.S. is in charge of the program and estimates that as many as 7000 soldiers and airmen may in time be taking courses.

The program was designed primarily to make it easier for the soldier to rehabilitate himself after the war but many of the courses and these are the most popular among the troops, serve a practical purpose in the Army. Electricity, radio telegraphy, diesel engineering, mathematics and a long run of similar subjects are foremost in requests for correspondence courses being received daily by Dr. Chatwin at his headquarters at Gilford, Surrey.

The C.L.W.S. allotted $350,000 for education purposes at home and overseas in 1941 and its program, now being in full swing, is a mammoth proposition. There is an educational officer in each unit of the C.A.S.F. and it is planned to appoint one for each squadron of the Royal Canadian Air Force. Staff officers who will look after education have been assigned for the holding units, corps troops and first and second divisions.

TAKE TWO COURSES

More than two score extra-mural courses have been received from Canadian universities and more are anticipated as the number of universities participating in the program increases. Soldiers are advised not to take more the two courses at a time and to supplement their correspondence study facilities of a number of civilian technical schools have been made available to the Canadians. Classes are held at night during the week and during the day on weekends.

The correspondence courses last four months each, with 20 lessons to a course. A set of questions has to be answered after each lesson and examinations held at the halfway mark of the course. Examinations are corrected here and the results recorded so that when peace comes if the soldier desires to continue his education at home he will receive full credit for what he already has done.

Soldiers pay $18 a course for university subjects but there is no charge for elementary courses. Purpose of the fee was to make sure soldiers were serious in their intentions of furthering their education.

A three-year term, with two compulsory and three optional subjects a year, was agreed upon as qualifying a soldier for junior matriculation. English and social studies are the compulsory subjects in the first two years and English and history in the third.

There is a wide range of optional courses, among them many technical subjects which usually aren't found in the Canadian high school curriculum but which will be useful to the soldier when he seeks a position after the war. Shorthand, typing and business management are among these subjects.

Special attention is being paid to French Canadian soldiers, many of whom, because of their inability to speak English, have been unable to pass N.C.O. exams.

A German language course is popular among the Canadians. It is different from the ordinary German course taught at home and, although not specifically designed for such a purpose, will come in handy if and when the time comes for the Canadians to join in an attack on Germany.

Y.W.C.A. Sheltering Canadian Soldiers

TORONTO (CP).—Canadian soldiers, Australians, and New Zealanders can always obtain a comfortable mattress in the Young Women's Christian Association public air raid shelter in the heart of London, states a report from the British Y.W.C.A. just received by the National Council in Toronto.

"Hardly a night goes by when some stranded Canadian soldier does not find his way to our public shelter and sleep comfortably on special mattresses kept for such stranded travellers. Many existing Y.W.C.A. centres in London have extended their social activities to meet wartime needs by arranging dances and socials for troops. They especially welcome those from the Dominions and Colonies. Sometimes the men arrive during an air raid and then our shelter is very welcome," the report states.

After 14 months of war 113 new huts or centres for women of his Majesty's Forces have been opened by the, Y.W.C.A. in Britain. All these centres include canteen facilities, opportunities for recreation and exercise, religious, educational and social amenities, permission to entertain soldier friends. More Y.W.C.A. mobile vans are urgently needed throughout the country, the report states. These cater to the needs of small units in inaccessible areas. The travelling Y.W.C.A. brings to these women library books gramophone records, portable cinema projectors, handicrapt materials, etc.

428 Trail Men Are in Active Service

TRAIL, B. C., Jan. 22—At the annual meeting of the Trail Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society in the City Hall Wednesday night, G. A. Wallinger, Chairman of the Records Committee, reported that his Committee had recorded 428 Trail men in active service. This figure including 270 officers and other ranks in Canada and 151 officers and men serving overseas. Seven officers and other ranks are serving in non-Canadian units overseas.

Quickens Rising to Rear-Admiral by Good Service

LONDON, (CP)— Tossing overboard a system dating back more than 200 years, the Admiralty has just made promotion from the rank of captain to rear admiral dependant on merit instead of seniority.

This revolutionary step opens up opportunities for brilliant young naval officers to show what they can do in the higher commands of the navy.

In a formal statement announcing the change of policy, the Admiralty said it had decided to widen the field of selection for promotion to rear admiral so that captains of outstanding merit may rise to flag rank earlier than is now possible.

The new system, which comes into effect with the next batch of promotions early in 1941, supersedes the seniority method which has prevailed for more than 200 years. Agitation for the change began as far back as 1747 but hitherto it has always been successfully resisted.

In Nelson's day—when Napoleon's dreams of conquest made Britain's sea power of paramount importance to her survival—they got around the seniority system so as to give capable younger men a chance. If such a man were spotted well down the list of captains the number of promotions was accelerated. But the drawback to this was that many officers who might have made first-class commanders were put on the shelf. All those promoted couldn't be given flag rank. Those who were not were retired.

Among the appointments was that of Vice-Admiral Sir Frederick Edward Collins to relieve Admiral Sir Dudley North, at Gibraltar. Vice-Admiral Collins commanded the Empress of Australia's escort on the voyage of the King and Queen to Canada in the Spring of 1939. Admiral North was in command of the royal yachts before the war and accompanied their Majesties in the Empress of Australia.

Appointed to the aircraft carrier squadron is Rear-Admiral Arthur L. St. G. Lyster, who commanded the aircraft carriers responsible for the brilliant fleet air arm attack on Italian warships at Taranto.

HOUSEWIFE CLAIMS PHEASANT DAMAGES

DENVER, Colo., (CP).—A housewife heard the Colorado game and fish commission had paid for a rancher's hay that wild deer had eaten.

"And so," she said in a letter to the commission, "I don't see why you shouldn't pay this bill too."

A statement was enclosed, covering the cost of installing a new plate glass window to replace a pane broken by a wild-flying pheasant.

The commission is thinking it over.

Itching, Burning, Stinging Eczema or Salt Rheum

Eczema, or salt rheum as it is commonly called, is one of the most painful of all skin troubles.

The intense burning, itching and smarting, especially at night, or when the affected part is exposed to heat, or the hands placed in hot water are most unbearable, and relief is gladly welcomed.

The relief offered by Burdock Blood Bitters is based on the knowledge that such ailments as eczema, and other skin troubles, are caused by an impure blood condition.

Bring about inner cleanliness by using B. B. B. to help cleanse the blood of its impurities.

McGerrigle Is in the Semi-Finals of the Rossland Cup

TRAIL, B. C., Jan. 23—R. C. McGerrigle's Trail rink was the first to enter the semi-finals of the Rossland Cup competition of the B. C. Curling Association bonspiel Wednesday. He defeated T. H. Weldon of Trail 14-11 to reach this point.

Weldon had eliminated three Nelson rinks — J. J. McEwen, F. D. Cummins and C. E. Jorgenson—in succession; while McGerrigle won his way at the expense of W. D. McColl of Rossland, Les James of Chapman Camp and Joe Rochon of Kimberley.

The first meeting of two Vancouver rinks, W. Finlay and Dave Garnham, will take place in the eights of the Rossland Cup Thursday. Other games in the eights will be A. E. Calvert, Trail, vs. Donald MacDonald, Trail; and Roy Sharp, Nelson, vs. Robert Somerville, Trail.

GRAND CHALLENGE RESUMES TODAY

The Grand Challenge, which reached the semi-finals Tuesday night, was suspended Wednesday but was expected to resume Thursday. Three Trail and one Vancouver rink are in the running. A. E Calvert of Trail and William Finlay of Vancouver, unbeaten with six wins each up to the last draw Wednesday night, meet in one bracket. Walter Brown and A. D. Turnbull meet in the other.

Play in the Nelson Cup, a primary event, opened today.

Today the B. C. Curling Association holds its annual meeting; and this evening curlers will gather at their annual banquet. The last draw before the banquet will be at 2:45. At least one draw will be played following it.

Senior C.Y.O. to Resume With a New Program

Planning a full program of activities for the New Year, the Nelson Senior Catholic Youth Organization this week resumes activities after a lengthy Christmas recess.

A council of President Joseph DeLucrezio and four activity committee chairmen will act as a guiding body. Miss Dorothy Nicholson and Joseph Winkelaar are chairmen of the Cultural and Athletic Committees, respectively. Chairmen of the Religious and Social Committees will be appointed. Miss Agnes Stewart is Secretary and B. Vecchio Treasurer.

The suggested program includes the formation of a charity group to procure and mend clothes and shoes for needy children; distribution of The Prospector to offices and public waiting rooms; staging a play or musical in the Spring; holding a Mardi Gras dance; promotion of a Catholic Lending Library; provision of wholesome leisure activities for members; staging a Catholic retreat; and holding four Communion breakfasts with guest speakers during the year.

CANADIANS GAY AT BLACKPOOL

BLACKPOOL, England (CP). — Canadian soldiers got a taste of the warmth of Lancashire hospitality when they were guests for a week at this seaside resort in Northwest England.

Civic authorities of the town played host to men of the Canadian (Active) Army, representin among them 10 different units from the Dominion. They climbed Blackpool's tower, strolled along its long sand beach, enjoyed its movies, its swimming baths and golf courses, and took a coach trip to the nearby lake district.

One of the visitors was 38-year-old Company Sergeant Major D. Murdoch of Montreal, youngest man to serve with the Canadian armed forces in the First Great War. He ran away and joined the army at 13, serving in a minesweeper and later at Zeebrugge.

Said Murdoch, who came to Blackpool in the last war, "It's great to be back."

Staceys Edge Out Win Over Varsity

VANCOUVER, Jan. 22 (CP). — A last quarter rally gave Staceys a 42-42 win over Varsity, Inter-City Basketball League leaders, here tonight.

Staceys, the league cellar dwellers, held the Varsity squad to one basket and two free throws during the final frame while they collected eleven points.

Bob Wilson and Bill Anderson led the victor's scoring drive. Wilson counted 11 points during the game and Anderson 10.

Art Barton was high man for Varsity with 13.

Bob Gilmour in Hospital After an Eye Injury

CALGARY, Jan. 22 — Bob Gilmour, Playing [illegible] the Nelson Maple Leafs [illegible] West Kootenay Hockey League, may be lost to his club for some time as a result of an injury received during tonight's game with Turner Valley Oilers.

Gilmour was hit on the eye with a stick early in the game and was rushed to hospital for medical attention. Two stitches were necessary to close the cut.

It is probable that when the Leafs leave for home Thursday night they will be without Gilmour, as further observation may detain him in the hospital for two or three days.

Officers Pythian Lodges Installed at Joint Meeting

Joint installation of officers of the Nelson Lodges of Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters took place Tuesday night in the Eagle Hall.

Richard Drew, Deputy Grand Chancellor, was Installing Officer for the Knights, assisted by S. J. Newell, Grand Prelate; James McIvor, Grand Vice-Chancellor; and Frank Goucher, Grand Master-at-Arms.

Mrs. Frank Goucher, Deputy Grand Chief, installed the Pythian Sisters, assisted by Mrs. Charles Sewell, Manager and Mrs. J. Olson, Senior.

The main speaker was Mr. Newall, who stressed the value of co-operation in all Lodge activities. Other speakers were A. Forbes of Gold Range Lodge, Revelstoke; Mr. Goucher, Mr. McIvor, Mrs. Percy Perdue and Mrs. B. Percival.

Refreshments arranged by E. L. Wright, incoming Chancellor Commander, assisted by Thomas Stenson and E. Calbick, were served. Cards were enjoyed.

Officers of the Knights follow: E. L. Wright, Chancellor Commander; Thoman Stenson, Vice-Chancellor; E. Calbick, Prelate; J. C. Robison, Master of Works; David Laughton, Keeper of Records and Seals; G. R. Drew, Master of Finances; Sidney Wade, Master-at-Arms; A. Matassa, Inner Guard; David Rees, Outer Guard; A. Neil, Pianist; and R. G. Joy, Correspondent.

Pythian Sisters officers follow: Mrs. Percy Perdue, Past Chief; Mrs. W. T. Calbeck, Chief; Mrs. J. C. Robison, Senior; Miss Josephine Riley, Junior; Mrs. J. Edwards, Manager, Mrs. Frank McClements, Mistress of Records and Correspondence; Mrs. W. P. Kidwell, Mistress of Finance; Mrs. Gold, Protector; Mrs. Elmer A. Calbeck, Outer Guard.

Trail Red Cross Returns Officers

TRAIL, B. C., Jan. 21 — Trail branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society reelected its full 1940 executive by acclamation at the annual meeting in the City Hall Wednesday night.

W. A. Curran continues in the office of President, with his last year's executive comprising Mrs. F. S. Willis, Vice-President; D. H. Bayley, Secretary and W. H. Raikes, Treasurer.

Clifford McKinnon Suffers Head Gash in Fall at Trail

TRAIL, B. C., Jan. 22 — Slipping and falling on the ice at the Trail rink tonight Clifford McKinnon of Nelson suffered a gash on his forehead and was taken to Trail-Tadanac Hospital, where two stitches were taken in the gash. He was then released. McKinnon was a visitor to the B. C. Curling Association bonspiel.

Stylist's Husband Picks Own Clothes

NEW YORK (CP)—The problem of your husband's clothes and how he should wear them has made a unique job for Mrs. Dorothy Stote.

She runs fashion shows for men, displaying the last word in suits, haberdashery and hats and pointing out what the mere male should wear and where.

But she can't choose clothes for her own husband, who is a writer. He selects his own suits and ties, sometimes wears dark green or plum colored socks with a black dinner suit. Mrs. Stote hasn't a word to say against them.

Scottish Country Dances "Carry On"

MANCHESTER (CP) — Yes, it's all-out wartime in England and plenty to emphasize it but the annual report of the Manchester branch of the Scottish Country Dance Society says that despite its members' enthusiastic war work several meetings have been held and "attended with undiminished vigor by members anxious to find relaxation from strenuous duty."

The report continues:

"Two outside events are recorded in the year, one being the response from a local Irish association to 'demonstrate the beauty and distinctive culture' of the Scottish dances. The 'Edinburgh Volunteers' and the 'Montgomeries' Rant' particularly won the Irish applause.

"The branch will hold a tea dance at which annual business will be discussed and a program of dances given, including such attractive items as 'Dashing White, Sergeant,' 'Tartan Plaidie' and 'Linton Ploughman'."

MILITARY MEDAL FOR W.A.A.F. GIRL

LONDON (CP).—Corporal Josephine Robins of the Women's Auxiliary Air Force was sheltering in a dugout when it received a direct hit.

Some men were killed and others were injured in the dugout. The 21-year-old "WAAF" rendered first-aid and stayed with the injured "in a position of extreme danger" until they could be removed. Her bravery has been signalled by the award of the Military Medal—for "courage and coolness of a very high order," as the citation says.

Corporal Robins, brunette, open-air girl, from Faversham, Kent, was modest about her exploit. "I just did what anybody else would have done—I was on duty at the time," she said.

U.S. Bomber Wing Completing Base for New England

By JOHN D. PILLSBURY
Canadian Press Correspondent

CHICOPEE, Mass. (CP) — New England's greatest air base at Westover Field, about 100 miles west of Boston, is beginning to take shape.

It will be the base for the 4th Bombardment Wing of the Northeast District, U.S. Army Headquarters Air Corps, with a supplementary base at Bangor, Me., which is about 60 flying miles from the New Brunswick border.

The Bangor base will include 96 barracks for enlisted men, five buildings for bachelor officers, seven administration buildings, mess buildings, 11 magazines, motor repair shops and two warehouses. About 2400 officers and men will be stationed at Bangor. Other "Wings" in the Northeast District are Langley Field, Virginia; Mitchel Field, Long Island; Selfridge Field, Michigan; Fort Wayne, Indiana; Bowman Field, Kentucky, and Manchester, N. H.

It is impossible at this date to tell how many planes will be at Westover Field. In the U. S. Army Air Corps a "Flight" consists of three airplanes, although it is sometimes more and occasionally less. There are three flights in a squadron. The number of squadrons to a "group" is also an indeterminable factor. A Wing consists of whatever number of groups the high command may decide is best.

FOR LARGE PLANES

Westover will be a field for large planes, bombers, transports, reconnaissance. There will be no pursuit, attack or interceptor ships using the field as a home. These types of planes, depended on to protect the air base, will be stationed at small fields 50 to 100 miles from Westover, so they might rise and intercept an enemy attack.

Five of the projected nine hangars are under construction and will be finished in early spring. In front of the hangars will be aprons of concrete, 40 feet wide. Behind the line of hangars are rows of wooden tempocary barracks and other buildings for the troops. So far, 22 barracks, six mess halls and five motor sheds are finished, and 79 more structures, now being built, are due to be completed soon.

Other parts of the layout are a 200,000 gallon underground gasoline storage and distributing system; a 10,000 gallon storage and distributing system for lubricating oil; a photographic laboratory; a central heating plant for hangars; a fire station and guard house; permanent lighting and electric system; and steam distributing system.

A railroad siding five and a quarter miles long going into the camp is not yet completed; a service road is also developing rapidly and will be finished shortly.

In the midst of the confusion of construction army life goes on. There are more than 60 officers and 1100 men already on the strength of the base and more are arriving daily.

J. R. Hunter Is Again Head of Mines Chamber

At one of the best-attended annual meeting of the Chamber of Mines of Eastern British Columbia for some years, J. R. Hunter was again elected President. Mr. Hunter was President for two years, being succeeded in 1940 by Major A. W. Davis.

The President's report reviewing the past year's activities of the Chamber and of Kootenay mining, was read by Miss Edythe Thomson, Secretary-Treasurer, in the absence of Major Davis.

It was proposed that an interesting pgram of speakers for the monthly meetings should be lined up at the next monthly meeting.

Brief talks on Kootenay mining were given by Mrs. D. Petty, owner and former operator of the Victor Mine at Sandon; H. C. Hughes, Mining Inspector; A. P. Paparian, keen follower and booster of Kootenay mining; Nick Sardich, I. G. Nelson, W. H. Foster and W. S. Harris.

Mr. Harris declared there was an urgent need for more optimism in mining in this district if it was to survive.

Other officers elected were Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Honorary President; W. K. Esling, Honorary Vice-President; Hon. C. S. Leary, Honorary Second Vice-President; Frank Putnam, Honorary Third Vice-President; S. G. Blaylock, Patron; Harry Lazier, First Vice-President; R. E. L. Dewdney, Second Vice-President; H E. Dill, Auditor; Miss Edythe Thomson, Secretary-Treasurer; R. J. Macconachie and H. C. Hughes, Advisory Committe; and W. R. Hunter, Finance Committee Chairman.

Executive Committee will be named at the next meeting.

Women Protesting Against Insurance

LONDON (CP). — Eight women M.P.'s are up in arms because the government's extended death and injury insurance scheme provides different rates of compensation for men and women.

Representing all parties, the eight wrote a letter of protest to Sir Kingsley Wood, chancellor of the exchequer. The letter said "we wish to register the strongest possible protest against the indefensible differentiation in the rates . . ."

Under the new scheme a woman who is injured will receive an allowance of 14 shillings ($3.06) weekly. A man in the same circumstances gets 21 shillings ($4.62). These rates apply to men or women "not gainfully occupied" while not in hospital. When in hospital, the rates for men "not gainfully occupied" are 10 shillings sixpence ($2.31) and for women seven shillings ($1.54).

The letter of protest was signed by Mrs. Mavis Tate, Lady Astor, Miss Irene Ward, Miss Thelma Cazalet, Lady Davidson (all Conservatives), Miss Eleanor Rathbone (Independent); Miss Megan Lloyd George (Liberal) and Dr. Edith Summerskill (Labor).

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food rots and decays. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't relieve and get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those great, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c. (Advt.)

Good Samaritan

A British medical officer who had no sleep for three nights is shown right, dressing the wound of a native Libyan soldier who was one of the prisoners taken in the British drive into the Italian colony. The native troops showed little desire to continue fighting.

Generals Captured in British Libyan Drive

Three Italian generals with their staffs, were among the first Italian officers to be taken prisoner in the early stages of the war on the African front. They were captured by the British at Sidi Barrani. The generals are Pescatori, Mezzari and Gallina. They were immediately flown to Cairo to be interned at officers' prison camps there. The generals are shown surrounded by British officers upon their arrival at Cairo.

War Brings Closer Unity to English-Speaking Peoples

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP Cable) — The war has banded English-speaking peoples closer than ever before, Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner in London, told a luncheon of the National Defence and Public Interest Committee today.

He said that after the victory has been won these relations will continue.

Mr. Massey pointed out how the war had united the people of the British Isles and described in detail how Canadians had welded their strength to produce an "all out" war effort.

The United States, he said, had realized world liberty was in peril and to our lasting gratitude they have identified themselves in no uncertain manner with our cause that is also theirs."

New Denver Auxiliary to Send More Parcels

NEW DENVER, B. C. — The monthly meeting of the Legion W. A. was held Jan. 15 at the home of Mrs. Shannon.

Several letters of appreciation have been received from the local boys in the army who received Christmas parcels.

The Auxiliary is sending for more wool and expects to send more parcels in the near future. The W. A. is also holding a whist drive in the Legion Hall soon. Members present were Mrs. Burgess, Mrs. J. Burkitt, Mrs. G. Burkitt, Mrs. Browne, Mrs. Crellin, Mrs. Christofferson, Mrs. Flint, Mrs. George, Mrs. Levy, Mrs. Schnaebele and Mrs. Shannon.

Dr. Francis Heads Denver Trade Board

NEW DENVER, B. C.—The annual meeting of the Slocan Board of Trade was held in the New Market Hotel, Jan. 15 with a good attendance of members.

F. Broughton, Chairman of the War Savings Certificates, reported the progress made by the committee was very encouraging

Election of officers for 1941 resulted as follows:

President, Dr. A. Francis; First Vice President, T. R. Flint; Second Vice President, A. H. Ham; Second Treasurer, Colin C. Clifford.

NEW DENVER Y.P. HAS PING PONG TOURNEY

NEW DENVER, B.C.—The weekly meeting of the New Denver Young People was held Monday with President F. Dowling in the chair.

Business of fixing over the hall was discussed. Work has already been started.

Results of the Ping Pong Tournament held Sunday between the three groups were given by Murdie Campbell, showing that Group 3 had come out on top, beating Group 1 by a point.

The meeting was then turned over to Miss Flora Boates, leader of Group 3, who took charge of the entertainment.

Dancing was enjoyed for a short while.

CHARGES FORD COMPANY FAVORED BY WAR DEPT.

DETROIT, Jan. 22 (AP) — R. J. Thomas, President of the United Automobile Workers-Congress of Industrial Organizations, charged today the United States War Department had "favored" the Ford Motor Company at the expense of defence requirements in awarding contracts for the army's new "midget" trucks.

Thomas said the U.A.W.-C.I.O would press for an immediate congressional investigation of the midget truck order, said to be worth $1,400,000, given to Ford.

Mrs. Paterson Is President Nelson Women's Liberals

Mrs. E. H. Paterson was elected President when the Nelson Women Liberal Association held its annual election Tuesday night, meeting at the home of Mrs. Alex Carrie, 619 Josephine Street.

Other officers were: Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and Senator Cairine Wilson, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, and Mrs. Paul Smith, M.L.A., Honorary Presidents; Mrs. J. D. Spiers, First Vice-President; Mrs. R. L. Oliver, Secretary; Mrs. H. M. Wood, Treasurer; Mrs. Nelson Murphy, Mrs. J. P. Herron, Mrs. George Clerihew, Mrs. Alex Carrie, Mrs. Robert Mills and Mrs. Thomas Mansell, Executive; Mrs. R. J. Elliot, Auditor.

Mrs. A. N. Winlaw and Mrs. Carrie were named the Telephone and Social Committee; and Mrs. Paterson was elected to represent the Association on the Nelson Refugee Committee.

Reports showed the Association enjoyed a year of accomplishment. It was the best financially in the past five years. All receipts went to the war effort.

Mrs. Carrie and Mrs. H. W. Wood were hostesses.

Parent and Child Same World Over

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

The longer I have been writing this column, reading letters, and listening to questions and problems from parents, the surer I am that parents' problems are about the same everywhere. With few exceptions these problems differ only in degree. But for the post mark and an occasional reference to "form" instead of "grade" as applied to school, I would not be able to recognize a letter as coming from Canada rather than from Texas, California or Maine. Parent-child relationships in the United States and Canada have no geography.

What may seem amazing to some of you is that I rarely hear or read a question or problem that seems basically new. Between last September and December, Mrs. Myers and I spoke before 194 groups, chiefly parents, totalling about 50,000 in 66 cities of 14 States. From practically every group there came questions from the audience. Moreover, at the close of each meeting individual parents presented problems to Mrs. Myers and me.

NO NEW QUESTIONS

I can scarcely recall a single question or problem on this entire tour of 10,000 miles which I had not often heard, or read in a letter before. Indeed, one often gets too much credit for answering a question as if he had thought it all out at that moment, when, as a matter of fact, he probably had answered the same question hundreds of times before. And yet the parents asking it supposed, no doubt, that she was the only one in all the world facing such a problem.

PROBLEMS DISCUSSED IN COLUMN

Incidentally, the problems which parents present to me face to face or by letter are the kind which are discussed in this column. As a matter of fact, I constantly aim in this column to cover those subjects which most parents write or talk about.

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEMS

Q: Should the parent choose the vocation his child should prepare for and insist the child accept his choice?

A: No! No! No!

TODAY'S MENU

Creamed Ham in Noodle Ring
Stewed Tomatoes
Mixed Green Salad
Cherry Bread Pudding
Coffee

NOODLE RING

2 cups uncooked noodles, ¼ cup chopped green pepper, ¼ cup minced pimento, ¾ cup grated cheese, 1 teaspoon salt.

Cook noodles in salted water until tender, about 15 minutes, drain thoroughly. Melt butter, fry green pepper in it and add pimento. Mix cheese thoroughly with noodles and stir lightly into butter. Pile around a small bowl placed in the centre of a large serving plate. After the ring is formed remove the bowl and fill centre quickly with ham mixture.

CREAMED HAM

4 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 cups milk, ½ cup toasted almonds, 2 cups diced ham, few drops Worcestershire sauce.

Melt butter, add flour and blend well, then add salt and milk, the latter slowly, mixing it in as it is added. Cook until thick and smooth, then add diced ham and season with the Worcestershire sauce. Turn into the centre of the noodle ring, and, if you wish, sprinkle toasted shaved almonds over the top.

CHERRY BREAD PUDDING

1 No. 2 can pitted sour cherries, 4 cups soft bread cubes, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons butter, 3 cups liquid (cherry juice and milk) 1 cup sugar, dash of cinnamon.

Butter casserole; drain cherries and combine them with the soft bread cubes. Arrange cubes and cherries in alternate layers in casserole. Beat eggs slightly, add sugar, cinnamon and cherry juice, plus enough milk to make 3 full cups. Pour this combination over contents of casserole, dot top with pieces of butter, and bake in slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 1½ hours. Serve either with hard sauce or slightly whipped cream. Serves 8.

VICTORIA POLICE PROBE THREATENING LETTER

VICTORIA, Jan. 22 (CP). — City police today investigated a crudely written, threatening letter which Terence O'Neill, theatre manager, said he had received in the morning mail. The letter said "I hope you have a curse on you for showing that lying Mein Kampf," anti Nazi film currently running at O'Neill's theatre.

New Beauty . . .

Start With Hair to Change Style

By ALICE WADE ROBINSON

Take yourself in hand now that the year's young. Leap out of whatever rut you may have taken to. Present a comelier picture to everyone — including yourself.

CHANGE YOUR HAIRSTYLE

First upon the program do your hair differently. Experiment with this topknot, now with that. Away with that antedated way of wearing your hair. Nothing so alters one's looks or one's outlook upon life as a changed hairdo.

It may take the family a short time to grow accustomed to the new style. Possibly some of your friends won't like it. Maybe you won't yourself. What of it? You can always try something else.

WIN A BETTER COMPLEXION

Make a real effort this year to present a better skin to yourself and the world. You know what most bothers you: dry flakiness, open pores, roughened texture, blackheads, whiteheads, "hickies," or worse.

And be gentle with your face. Avoid pulling the skin, stretching it, using undue pressure when massaging it. Use only upward movements when caring for your face. Cream it up. Remove excess cream with upward strokes. Wash face up. Rinse it up. Dry it up. Apply make-up with upward movements. Protect complexion against weather hazards. Use foundation daily before applying powder.

And, above all—for 1941—remove make-up at bedtime.

CORRECT POSTURE LACKS

It is often not so much how much you weigh (or how little) as it is how well you carry what you have. Lift your pounds this year. Consciously lift them as you walk. Keep your neck straight and you'll run no danger of "dowager's hump." Sit erect at table. Many a canny observer can tell another's age by the forward curve of the backbone.

Look at your posture stance, profile-pattern, in a long mirror. Get that tummy in! Contract the abdominal muscles, pullin that derriere. Tummy in, flat back. Now walk, weight on balls of the feet. You should be able to balance a book on the crown of your head without trouble as you walk. Try it. Keep it there as you lower yourself to knees, then up again. Did it fall off? It won't next time — not if you carry yourself and your weight as if both belonged together.

Blood . . .

Transfusions Are Valuable in War

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Last week I mentioned the fact that the Committee on National Preparedness had appointed medical committees to attack certain problems and one of them is blood transfusion. One of my friends asked me just what problem was involved because he thought transfusion was a form of medical treatment which had been solved technically. Perhaps my readers will be interested in the explanation.

Transfusion of blood from one human being to another has been, indeed, one of the great advances in treatment. It is valuable in surgical shock, in hemorrhage after any injury, and, therefore, of course, particularly valuable in war surgery for war wounds. Military practice, however, creates problems in regard to transfusion which are not met with in civil life.

BLOOD BANKS

In large scale engagements a great deal of blood is needed and donors cannot be spared from the fighting line. The first attempt to solve this problem was to create blood banks. As is well known, people must be tested to see whether the blood they give will fit the blood of the recipient. There are certain classes known as "universal donors" whose blood can be transfused into anybody without harm. These blood banks are obtained from the universal donors and stored in sterile flasks with an anti-coagulant, sodium citrate, added. The trouble with this was that these banks are liable to degenerate and cause severe reactions when transfusion is given.

It took six months of the present war for the British to rediscover what was found in 1916: that glucose added to these blood banks will do much to preserve the blood and reduce reactions. It has been further found, however, by the British and French, that whole blood is not necessary. When hemorrhage occurs, and often in surgical shock, the principal difficulty is simply lack of fluid in the blood vessels. Salt solution put in simply pours out through the kidneys and sweat glands, but it is possible to replace the volume by the use of blood serum, or blood plasma, which is the substance which results after a clot has formed in drawn blood.

USE OF PLASMA

These plasma banks have proved very useful and are not subject to the deterioration that occurs in whole blood banks. The only objection to them has been their bulk. A new development has been that the plasma is allowed to dry so that very large amounts of what is potentially blood plasma can be stored in a relatively small space and moved with moving troops. All that is needed to be done is to add some sort of a dilutent so that this plasma is put back in solution.

The series of experiences, with gradual improvement, has been the result of a great deal of work on the part of the English Medical Research Council and the Medical Department of the U.S. Army.

Fun Is Safeguard In Married Life

BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Most adults carry over into maturity plenty of childishness but usually it's the wrong sort. We lose our playfulness and cling to our pettishness. We lose our faith in fairies and hold on to our fears of goblins. We lose our imagination, our inventiveness, our enthusiasm, but expect to enjoy life as though we had retained them.

Remember how as children we loved to play games? We put everything we had into those games. We played as if it were the last opportunity we should ever have to play and while we were anxious to win, it was the fun of playing that held us in.

We got mad with the playmates and threatened to quit, but we usually stuck to the end. We went on and on and even if we got licked sometimes we knew we'd had fun.

One time a great religionist remarked that unless we became as little children we couldn't get into heaven. Well it's equally true that that we can't have heaven on earth which marriage may be unless we learn to make a game of marriage and play the game as we played other games when we were children.

Every pair starts out to play the game in marriage; yet somehow many lose the playful attitude. The childish sense of glee gives way to a sense of grind. There are young wives who haven't the imagination to see beyond the dishpan. They can't escape from the monotony of three meals a day. There are wives who spend so much time trying to have fun away from home that there's no time left for play and fun at home.

There are money-minded men who can't leave off figuring long enough to see their wives as playmates. Others so hard pressed by business burdens that they can't rise above the weight of the bills. And some husbands who plainly prefer extra-mural games to inter-mural games.

All of these are missing the big fun and satisfaction that marriage can be to those who think of it as a game and put all they have into playing it in a big way.

Army Revival Services Open

First of a week of Salvation Army revival meetings was conducted Tuesday night by Lieut. G. Fitch of Cranbrook at the Citadel, 319 Victoria Street. He took his text from Psalms 24, 3-4: "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in His Holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifteth up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully."

He said that a person's hands represented his outward actions, and the heart his affections. In order for the actions to be right, the heart must first be cleansed.

Singing, led by the Army band, opened the meeting. Prayers were followed by a testimony meeting. Two persons responded to the invitation to give themselves to the Lord.

Inside & Out!
OF NELSON HIGH SCHOOL

Because of the loss of our Prime Minister, Helen Alexander, the uppermost question in all our minds is who will be the new Prime Minister. Last Friday a parliament meeting for nominations was held and on this Friday the election will take place.

Many activities have been planned for the coming term. Creston basketballers have been overcome by measles so the game and dance this weekend are cancelled. The Rossland High School basketball teams have also been invited to come in the near future.

Debates replacing the oratorical contests of the last two years will begin January 31 in house meetings. The first interhouse debate will be on February 7 when House A meets House D.

The Dramatic Club at its last meeting decided to put on three programs, one in each of March, April and May. At present the production of two plays is under way. "Fantastic Flight", cast by Marjorie Jorgensen, and "Be Home at Midnight", cast by Susan Berry.

The Publications Club has decided to publish a Hi-Ways at the end of the month. The present editor is Mike Lakes, who replaced Ward Redshaw, now residing in Cumberland.

HERE AND THERE!

Mr. Gray, our math teacher, has been away for the last couple of weeks. He was relieved by Mr. Elmes of Central School.

We have two new students in the High School—John Forbes, who hails from Kamloops; and Margaret Timmens from Creston.

You may expect to see a lot of girls driving cars this Spring. Under the supervision of Miss Lang about 20 girls took Drivers' Tests last Wednesday.

One of our ex-students missed our fair institution so much that she just had to return. Lois Gamble has once again joined our happy throng.

Bookworms are in their element now up at the High School. A new shipment of books has arrived and promises to be a splendid addition to our fine library.

Mike Lakes came to school in a taxi Tuesday morning. I suppose his sore foot is the excuse.

ARE YOU RUN DOWN OR DEPRESSED?

If you are run down, weak or depressed, or catch cold easily, it may be due to the lack of the vital vitamins A, D and C in your diet. You can make up for the lack of these vital vitamins if you take a steady treatment with Haliborange. Haliborange is the nicest way of taking Halibut Liver Oil, which is twice as rich as Cod Liver Oil in vitamins A and D. Vitamin C is in the fresh orange juice which makes Haliborange so delicious to taste.

Haliborange is used in many hospitals and is prescribed by many physicians.

Get a bottle of Haliborange. Take it for a week or two as directed. See how quickly it will restore your vitality.

Atkinson Fined $15 on Charge Driving to Public Danger

George Atkinson, transfer company operator was sentenced in City Police Court Wednesday to pay a fine of $15 on a charge of driving in a manner dangerous to the public. He pleaded guilty to the charge before Magistrate William Brown. Constable R. R. House laid the information.

While proceeding East along Latimer Street, Monday morning, Mr. Atkinson's truck collided with J. G. Bennett's car, parked at the roadside. Rear fender, body and bumper of the Bennett car were damaged to the extent of about $50, while the truck escaped damage.

Machine Shop Owners Ask Leaders' Suggestions for Obtaining War Work

In an effort to bring war work to Nelson industry, and to lend their facilities to Canada's war effort, H. E. Stevenson and J. G. Bennett, proprietors of Nelson machine shops, have appealed in letters to 11 men in public office for suggestions as to how they might achieve this.

The letters were sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King; W. K. Esling, M. P. for Kootenay West; Arnold McGrath, M.L.A. for Cranbrook; Hon. C. S. Leary, B. C. Minister of Public Works; Dr. George C. McKinnon, M.P. for Kootenay East; Hon. C. D. Howe, Dominion Minister of Munitions, Supply and Transport; Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, Dominion Minister of Public Works and Transport; Hon. Norman McLarty, Dominion Minister of Labor; K. W. Morton of New Westminster, Government Engineer; Senator R. F. Green of Victoria and Donald MacDonald of Trail.

Replies have been received from Mr. Esling, Mr. McGrath and Mr. MacDonald. Mr. Esling replied that he would do what he could to bring the matter to attention in the proper quarters, while Mr. MacDonald said he would get in touch with the authorities.

The letter follows:

"Following several months of attempting to obtain war contracts in which we have been unsuccessful, and as we are confident we can be a source of assistance to the Government war work at present being pushed to the utmost, we are appealing to you to see if you can possibly suggest a source where we can find an outlet for our work.

"There has been a voluntary combing of the resources of our shops in this City and we have at our command ten engine lathes, planers, shapers, presses and drill presses, etc., and could employ a hundred-man crew on various types of jobs. We are also equipped to do both acetylene and D.C. electric welding and have skilled help to handle this machinery. We can positively guarantee our work.

"It may also be added that any materials manufactured here can be electro-plated locally.

"Since the general repair work can no longer be depended upon, in fact it is practically non-existent, we will be forced to lay off our regular crews unless we can get some type of war work.

"The war department is asking everyone to do all possible to aid, and we feel that we can do our part by manufacturing something that is essential. Furthermore it might be pointed out that no contracts have been awarded his immediate district in latter months.

"We would consider it a great favor if you could put us in touch with the proper authorities. As far as prices are concerned, we are positive we can meet those prevailing anywhere else."

Clouds Bring an End to Sunny Spell Here

Wednesday's brisk, cloudy weather brought an end to Nelson's two-day spell of dry sunny weather. The sun showed its face only very briefly during the day through the bank of heavy clouds. A few snowflakes drifted down in the early evening.

Temperature extremes were 19 and 32 degrees, the lowest in some time.

PLYMOUTH

Dispatches from England report that German bombers have left Plymouth "a sorry sight." The reference, obviously, is to the beautiful old seaport of Devonshire.

Something better than two hundred miles from London, the town nevertheless was a gateway of a sort to the metropolis in Elizabethan times. Colonization of the New World brought the place a durable prosperity. Sir Walter Raleigh sailed from Plymouth Sound for Virginia in 1584. The one hundred and one Pilgrims of the Mayflower company were banqueted in a building until recently still standing. It was in 1620 that their "best British ship afloat" set forth across the Atlantic. Martin Frobisher and Sir Humphrey Gilbert already had made the name of the port famous. It was the departure point of Sir Francis Drake when he commenced his voyage 'round the globe in 1577. Captain James Cook in the Endeavor moved out of the Sound for New Zealand in 1768. Within the circle of hills which guarded the docks and piers the English fleet waited for the Spanish Armada in 1588. The Black Prince, Warwick and Clarence, Margaret of Anjou, Katharine of Aragon, Admiral Blake, William of Orange—the shades of these worthies are said to move through the ancient streets.

Of course, the Catholic cathedral, the Church of St. Andrew, the Guild Hall, the Citadel, the shops and stores and houses which have served a quarter million residents and unnumbered transients these many years may be battered to pieces. The Nazis have the power to ruin the physical aspect of Plymouth as they have blasted London, Coventry, Southampton, Bristol and other centres of British life. It is part of the business of modern war to commit such crimes against civilians. But the legend of England is not hurt by destruction. The tradition of the people of "this dear, dear Isle" persists. Nothing that Adolf Hitler can do with his stukas will destroy the faith and the hope by which his foes are sustained. The futility of trying to accomplish that must be evident now, after months of experimental devastation.

Y. M., Trail—I have heard that spider webs are sued in war industries and would like to know if this is true?

In England, munitions makers use the webs as hair lines in gun-sights and periscopes. In the U.S. the webs are used in the manufacture of surveying telescopes and other optical instruments.

G. C., Nelson—Could you please give me the address of the company that sells the gadgets to mend runs in silk stockings?

Mastercraft Menders, 317 Hibben-Bone Building, 1122 Government Street, Victoria, B.C.

Kootenay Resident, Thrums—How did Los Angeles get its name?

The pious Spanish pioneers who first introduced civilization in Alta California were in the habit of giving names to places in accordance with the church calendar. Consequently when mass was first celebrated on the present site of the city, it was named Nuestra Senora Reina de Los Angeles (Our Lady Queen of the Angels), which the practical "Yankees" upon their arrival, at once proceeded to shorten to Los Angeles.

P. M., Nelson — Do goldfish lay eggs?

Goldfish are oviparous. The eggs are about 1-16 of an inch in diameter and of a pale amber hue. From 10 to 20 eggs are deposited at a time, and after a short time the operation is repeated several times.

W. H. D., Nelson—Is the present King of Egypt, King Farouk, an Egyptian, born to 'full blooded Egyptian parents?

Yes.

E. C., Cranbrook—Who is credited with making the first cold cream?

Cold cream was invented by Galen, a Roman. His formula is essentially the same as that used today.

W. L., Trail—Who is the three-cushion billiard champion?

Willie Hoppe holds the world's three-cushion billiard championship with a string of 20 straight victories. He won the title on April 2, 1940, at Chicago.

ONE-MINUTE TEST

1. Who is considered England's greatest historian?
2. Who lives the longer, industrial or office workers?
3. Why is an oratorio so named?

WORDS OF WISDOM

It is a great sin to swear unto a sin, but greater sin to keep a sinful oath.—Shakespeare.

HINTS ON ETIQUETTE

If you are out with a young man, or he calls on you, don't talk all evening about some "dream man" with whom you are infatuated, but who is too busy to be with you on the occasion.

TODAY'S HOROSCOPE

An active, busy year is ahead of those who have birthdays on this day. Success in business, through correspondence, travel and children is foreseen for them, but they should avoid overstrain. An elderly relative will cause annoyance. Born on this date a child will be energetic, ambitious, enthusiastic and clever; also a great lover of freedom and independence, with a strong desire to rule. Success through writings, art and travel is indicated.

ONE-MINUTE TEST ANSWERS

1. Edward Gibbon.
2. Office workers are said to have a life expectancy of eight years longer than industrial workers.
3. Because music of this type was originally given in the Oratorio or oratory of the church.

SERIAL STORY . . . . . By ELLIOTT FILLION

Murder Makes a Hero

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

Between bites, each one of us examined the paper which Cary wished us to see. When it came to me, I looked at it long and curiously.

It wasn't at all what I had expected. On a half sheet of cheap notepaper were pasted words cut from what I thought must be newspaper print. The word Althea, probably because it was unusual and not to be found easily in a newspaper, was carefully formed of letters cut out and pasted together, the final one being the letter "r".

The longer I examined the paper the more positive I became that Miss Althea — although she might have planned the letter — could not have done the work herself.

The words were pasted into two lines, each row as evenly spaced as though done by a micrometer. There wasn't one uneven or crookedly cut word or letter. Each word was clipped into a perfect rectangle, each letter into a precise square and pasted with unerring accuracy.

Miss Althea's claw-like hands were distorted with rheumatism, from which I had been told she was a great sufferer. Her fingers were very stiff and each knuckle was swollen and enlarged. I had seen her hands shake when handling anything, and she almost invariably lifted her teacup with both hands. Never could those crippled, trembling hands have done that meticulous cutting, spacing and pasting.

One thing puzzled me greatly. Why did the maker of the letter tack an "r" onto Miss Althea's name? In that case he could not be a close friend or acquaintance, certainly not one of the Bands. Could I have been mistaken all along? Could some unknown be taking a hand in the game?

I passed the letter on to Kaye and waited for remarks. None came. Carefully each one examined the paper and quietly passed it on. Now, when it again was in Cary's hands, I might expect to hear their varying ideas.

But I was mistaken. Not one comment was made, whatever might be their thoughts, they were being kept to themselves. Every eye was fixed on Cary.

"As far as this thing is concerned," he began, arrogantly crumpling the paper in his hand, "the only place for it is the wastbasket."

Quickly Mark put out a restraining hand.

"I wouldn't do that, Cary, if I were you."

Surprise flooded Cary's face.

"You wouldn't throw it away!"

"I would not. I'd keep it for future reference. You may want it some day."

Cary's forehead wrinkled into a frown; his lips pursed together.

"Perhaps you are right," he said, after a brief consideration, "but an anonymous letter is always rank poison. My only thought was to get rid of it."

"I'd keep it." Mark spoke impressively.

"I think it's merely another attempt on Aunt Althea's part to get dad's papers. She's tried everything else, and it would have been easy for her to slip this paper part way under the door this morning. This thing didn't come through the mail, you know."

"She didn't hit Jabez over the head!" Mark's words were like an icy gale sweeping over me. "And can you imagine her spelling or allowing any one to spell her name with an 'r'?"

"You mean you think—"

Impatiently, Mark interrupted him.

"I don't know what I do think—except that that paper is worth keeping."

Slowly Cary smoothed out the rumpled ball, folded it, drew out his wallet and placed it within.

"You win, Mark. I'll keep it. I'll be glad when I can go over those papers. That'll end all this foolishness. I should have done it before, but Granddad asked me to wait until we could go over them together. We're starting on them in the morning."

"That's fine," Mark said heartily. "When you've done that you'll know what, if anything, Aunt Althea's raising all this rumpus for."

With that we left the breakfast table. If there was anything more said on the subject, I didn't hear it.

Senator McNary Voices Opposition to Lease-Lend Bill in Present Form

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP).—Senator McNary of Oregon, the Republican Leader and running mate of Wendell L. Willkie in the 1940 Presidential campaign, announced today that he was opposed to the Administration's Lend-Lease Bill in its present form "because it grants extraordinary and total power to one person."

Senator Norris (Ind., Nebraska), only present member of the Senate who voted against United States participation in the First Great War, declared he was for the bill provided some "time-limit" was placed upon the authority which would be, given the President. "I don't think we are going to get into this war," he said. "I think we can go a long way toward helping Britain without getting in."

At the White House, meanwhile, Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, Republican, called on President Roosevelt and reported afterward that he had "assured him of support and unity on matters affecting national defence and foreign policy."

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee decided to begin public hearings on the legislation at 10 a.m. Monday. Chairman George (Dem., Georgia), said State Secretary Hull who already has appeared before the House group, probably would be called as first witness.

The Senate Committee also decided to assign to a single sub-committee two resolutions seeking an inquiry into foreign propaganda in this country.

McNary's outline of proposed restrictions corresponded in some respects, but differed in others, with statements by two mn whose positions in Republican party affairs have been closely aligned with his One of these, Willkie, who left New York by plane this morning for Britain, declared recently that he favored the Lease-Lend Bill "with reservation." Likewise Senator Austin, who is acting minority leader in McNary's absence, has stated his position in terms of an endorsement in principle, with some modification, rather than in the terms of opposition which McNary preferred.

Thomas described the Lease-Lend Bill as a measure "to authorize undeclared war in the name of peace, and dictatorship in the name of defending democracy."

Thomas emphasized that he was not opposing aid to Britain. The United States already is rendering "enormous" aid, he said, mentioning the gold purchase policy which he described as a subsidy to the British; the guaranteeing of the security of Canada; the patrolling of the Pacific and the alteration in "our neutrality law during the war."

But Thomas said he did not believe the United States was required by present policy to guarantee war supplies to Britain. The commitment, he said, is only to permit the British to come and get supplies.

Victorians See Huge Searchlight Display

VICTORIA, Jan. 22 (CP)—Victorians were treated to a rare searchlight display last night, as batteries around Victoria thrust their beams into the star-lit sky and picked out high-flying military planes.

Searchlights have been seen many times at night in the sky in recent weeks, but last night was the most elaborate rehearsal yet held.

The planes carried red and green lights and signaled from each other with white flares.

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

MUST KNOW SQUEEZES

MANY duplicate players choose No. Trump contracts frequently in preference to suits because, if the same number of tricks be taken, a few more points will result, and consequently a possible top score over those who try the suit contract. But if they do this very much, they had better become familiar with the standard types of squeeze plays. Plenty of hands will produce easy suit contracts because of the ruffing tricks which are possible, whereas No Trump contracts of the same height cannot be made without development of a trick or tricks by means of a squeeze.

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1♠	Pass	3♥	Pass
3♠	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5♦	Pass	7 NT

That last bid by South was an ambitious one, shooting for a top. Whereas the spade grand slam would have been easy to make, as the cards lie, because the heart king can be captured and a diamond can be ruffed, the No Trump project involved some real work.

West helped none at all by leading his club 9, which could not be read with any degree of accuracy. South now could count eleven tricks. He needed to catch the heart K right, so tried it at once, the K covering and the A winning. Now twelve were in sight, and he squeezed out the thirteenth. The diamond A, heart J and spades were run.

As the last spade was played, declarer held on to his last three clubs and heart 8, with the heart 9, diamond 5 and club 5 still in dummy. If the holder of four clubs also had the heart 10, he was wrecked. It happened East had these cards. He tossed a club on the last spade, since he could not afford the heart 10 discard to set up dummy's 9, and the clubs therefore completed the contract for South.

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

If West leads the club 3 against South's 3-No Trumps, the suit not having been bid, how should declarer play for his contract?

Britain Is Ready to Meet Any Axis Action at Home or in Mediterranean

By SAM ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP Cable)—Britain, it was reported here today, is ready to speed enough of her battle-tested fighter craft to the Mediterranean "to take care of the situation" if Germany diverts a large number of bombers and fighters to that theatre of war in an effort to strengthen Italy's diminishing forces.

Such a move, it was indicated, would not weaken the defence of the British Isles.

Observers pointed out German and Italian efforts to draw British armed strength from the United Kingdom to other theatres of warfare have failed and that at the present moment it is Germany who is spreading her forces thin, on land and in the air, over wide areas.

Hitler has had to send part of his forces to the Mediterranean—in addition to those he has been pouring into the Balkans. Nazi dive bombers are being driven through Southern skies by the Reich's top-notch fliers and they have more than a match in the British airmen. In the Malta area alone more than 30 Axis craft were shot down in three days.

The Hitler-Mussolini Conference Monday was followed by Axis-inspired suggestions that heavy attacks are about to be launched in the Mediterranean and that this is bound to draw off a great part of the Army, naval and air strength guarding the heart of the Commonwealth.

Such a transfer, it said, would pave the way for the Axis aim of an "irresistible attack" across the English Channel.

Official London has paid scant attention to these suggestions and reports.

The diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph said: "Neither Germany nor Italy has been able to force the situation in which Britain has been obliged to weaken the defence of these island to meet the serious new threat in the Mediterranean."

A broadside of rumored threats that Germany at least is ready to attempt an all-out invasion of the British Isles has failed to cause a ripple of consternation in official circles here.

It was stated authoritatively today there is no fresh evidence to indicate that Hitler will make a great gamble in the immediate future.

Ilsley Answers Charges Against Emergency War Conservation Act

OTTAWA, Jan. 22 (CP).—Canada's war effort would be reduced to "very small limits" if the Government's emergency actions were so restricted as not to interfere with established business and individuals, Finance Minister Ilsley said in a statement today.

The Minister's statement was in reply to a submission from the Canadian Importers and Traders Association, Inc., made public in Toronto yesterday, criticising the War Exhange Conservation Act passed last Fall.

The Association said the bill would mean sacrifice of $16,000,000 in customs and tax revenue, would throw large numbers out of employment and have a tendency to advance the price of certain goods to consumers.

It was also represented a better way to obtain additional exchange would be to liquidate foreign securities and investments held by residents of Canada.

Mr. Ilsley's statement covering a letter he wrote the Association, said the Government knew when the bill was enacted, that prohibiting entry of a large range of commodities from non-sterling countries would mean loss of revenue but he believed the amount had been overestimated by the Association which had made no allowance to switching of imports to supplies from domestic sources.

The Minister's statement added:

"If there are not sufficient goods available to meet the demand, the remedy in this case is not to pay out foreign exchange to provide a greater supply of goods, but, rather, to ensure by every possible measure that the demand is reduced.

"The Government regrets very much the disturbance to established business which legislation of this sort entails, and regrets even more the disturbance to individuals who were forced to find other means of livelihood. These are, however, unfortunately, adjustments which have to be made in time of war, and if the government were to limit its policies so that no such adjustments would be required, it would reduce the proportions of Canada's war effort to very small limits.

"The Government did not assume that in all or a majority of cases Canadian industry should replace out of its own production the imports which have been discontinued. It was distinctly stated that it was not desired that new plants should be built up behind this emergency legislation. A great deal of the importations which are now prohibited was made up of additional varieties and ranges of goods which we could, for the time being, do without. It was clearly stated by the Government that the measure was an emergency measure, and would not be continued longer than was necessary. It was further stated that no vested interest would be recognized in the maintenance of these measures.

"It is quite true that the Canadian people own substantial amounts of capital assets in the United States, though probably only a small part of the estimated total is immediately realizable. While the Government will not hesitate to take any measures necessary to ensure the flow of war materials from the United States, it would not be sensible for the country as a whole to start selling off its capital in order to avoid making reasonable economies in its current purchases. It is quite true that Great Britain is liquidating her foreign securities. This, however, did not precede the establishment of import controls very much more severe than those which have been imposed in this country. Similar measures were taken in Australia and New Zealand.

"The Government had already given consideration prior to the introduction of this legislation to all the points which the brief raised. The legislation was recommended because it seemed the most effective way in which to meet the emergency.

"With regard to the final recommendation that a committee be appointed to pass on requests for permits, the responsibility for granting or refusing permits rests on the Minister of National Revenue who does not act on his personal knowledge alone but as well on the knowledge of his officials and others who are in a position to contribute information.

"With respect to Part II of Schedule I where permits are being issued, the Minister of National Revenue has established working arrangements with the groups of importers and producers who are concerned."

Two Minesweepers Launched at Coast

A WEST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Jan. 22 (CP)—Two war vessels of the minesweeper type were added to Canada's growing naval strength today in a launching and double christening at this West Coast port.

One of the vessels, newly constructed, slid down the ways into the water for the first time. The second, already launched, was christened by Mrs. J. H. King, wife of Senator King, who acted as sponsor for both vessels.

The newly launched vessel was christened Minas by Mrs. King, who cracked the traditional bottle of champagne across the bow just as the vessel began to move down the ways. The second vessel was christened Wasaga.

POWELL RIVER BOARD CRITICIZES PATTULLO

POWELL RIVER, B.C., Jan. 22 (CP).—A resolution criticizing the attitude of Premier T. D. Pattullo at the Dominion-Provincial conference in Ottawa last week was adopted last night at meeting of the Powell River Board of Trade. Copies will be sent to Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Premier Pattullo, and the Federal and Provincial Members for the district.

Ralston Returns With High Opinion of British Courage Under Battle Fire

By DON COVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Jan. 22 (CP)—Back from a "worthwhile" trip to the United Kingdom, Defence Minister Ralston disembarked here today with a studied report for the Prime Minister and a high tribute to "the courage and unshakeable determination of the people of the British Isles."

The defence minister and his aides were abroad for eight weeks.

Col. Ralston, who went overseas to learn at first hand the conditions under which the Battle of Britain is being fought, said: "Newspaper dispatches and broadcasts from the other side cannot possibly convey the spirit and the courage and the unshakeable determination of the people of the British Isles.

"We have seen something of what they have gone through. We know what they are prepared to face. . . . I am convinced that there is a spirit in that island fortress which cannot be beaten. That spirit shows itself everywhere you go, not alone in personal courage but in painstaking and universal preparations for whatever may come.

"But this is Canada's fight as well as Britain's. It is a fight to hold the freedom we prize on this North half of the continent. While the front line of that fight is fortunately for us still in the British Isles, no Canadian should forget for a moment that it is our front line and the front line of North America and that it must be held at all costs.

"I come back convinced more than ever that to help hold that line in the precious days and weeks ahead calls for the most united strength and the most unsparing energy which we Canadians can muster."

Col. Ralston was still using a crutch, following the illness which confined him to bed for some time after his arrival in England.

With the minister were Maj.-Gen. Crerar, Col. A. A. Magee, General Executive Assistant to the Minister; and Capt. Eden Malone, Staff Secretary.

Canadian Squadron Has Its Own Crest

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP Cables).—The Royal Air Force's Canadian squadron, whose Hurricanes carry a caricature of a doubled-up Hitler being kicked by an airman's boot, now have their own crest.

The Canadians have designed for them a picture of the great moose which hangs in Canada House against a background of the royal insignia with a border of interwoven maple leaves.

The moose picture is that of the head presented to the King and Queen in Winnipeg during the royal tour of Canada.

At the base is the motto: "Toujours pret."

Calls on Farmers to Exert Influence in National Affairs

TORONTO, Jan. 22 (CP)—H. H. Hannam, President of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, today called on the 700,000 farmers of Canada to exert more influence in formation of national policies and to press systematically and persistently to get expression and effect for our views in the political sphere."

He outlined briefly the situation in the various branches of the farming industry and then recommended three principles which he said will best fulfil Canada's "obligation to democracy at home."

1. That the problems of agriculture be faced and met in the same manner as the problems of industry and labor.

2. That there should be equality of sacrifice on the part of all citizens and all groups.

3. That if one period (1926-29 for example) is accepted by the Federal Government as a standard of remuneration for one group, the same standard should apply to the other groups.

Mr. Hannan reported the affiliated membership of the Federation at approximately 350,000 farmers.

Roosevelt Plans Unit to Look After Economic Defence

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP) — A Federal Agency entrusted with responsibilities of economic defence is planned by President Roosevelt, authoritative officials reported today.

One of the main tasks of the unit it was said, may be to keep dollar exchange and essential materials out of the hands of the Axis Powers.

One of the most widely publicized of its potential powers is a proposal the Treasury "freeze" the American funds of every nation on earth as it has already done to the invaded European countries.

The purpose of this, officials said, would be to disguise a control aimed only at Axis funds. But they added, it might prove a clumsy and dangerous weapon, especially because Axis assets here were not large.

"WAR WILL FORCE SIROIS REPORT"

WINNIPEG, Jan. 22 (CP)—Premier Bracken of Manitoba declared in a statement issued today that Canada's war needs "will force implementation of the (Sirois) report" or its equivalent.

The Premier's statement was issued upon his return from Ottawa, where he attended the Dominion-Provincial Conference called by Prime Minister Mackenzie King to discuss the Sirois Report. The conference collapsed when Premier Hepburn of Ontario, Premier Aberhart of Alberta and Premier Pattullo of British Columbia opposed consideration of the report on Dominion-Provincial relations.

Minister Promises to Help Farmers

TORONTO, Jan. 22 (CP)—Hon. P. D. Dewan, Agriculture Minister, today promised "to encourage and direct the agricultural representatives of the various counties of this Province to assist wholeheartedly in the economic union and federation of farmers in their respective districts."

In an address prepared for delivery before the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, he assured "that this help will continue to be given just so long as we and they are convinced that the organization is for the economic improvement of agriculture and has neither political nor partisan flavors."

"One thing is evident," said Mr. Dewan, ". . . that were our farmers organized in a manner to make their influence felt, some of the injustices that have recently existed and have indeed been emphasized by certain Government actions, would never have been permitted.

Speaking of the Federal Government's order pegging the wholesale price of butter at the maximum price prevailing in each locality last Dec. 12, Mr. Dewan said:

"The butter price should not have been pegged and the more I think about it the angrier I get."

Netherlands Are Loyal to Royalty Despite Nazis

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP) — The Nazis are having a difficult time attempting to prevent the people of the Netherlands from showing their loyalty to Queen Wilhelmina and the royal family.

The Netherlanders' patriotism is shown through the Nazis' ban on any reference or demonstration in favor of members of the House of Orange. Books containing royal speeches and pictures of the royal family and the singing of the national anthem also have been banned.

Reuters News Agency quotes well informed circles in London as saying the Germans have found it necessary to take further action in an effort to stop the wave of patriotism sweeping through the country. Disturbances have occurred in many parts of the Netherlands these circles report.

Every night, it is reported, people can be heard walking along the streets and whistling the national anthems of Great Britain, France and Belgium along with their native songs. Often in the daylight after the blackout, British and United States flags are found flying in the morning breeze.

Vrij Nederland, the free Netherlands newspaper published in London, reports six Protestant groups sent a manifesto to Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Nazi Commissar for Holland, against new anti-Jewish laws in the Netherlands.

The churchmen have told Seyss-Inquart the rules are in contradiction to the Christian ideals of tolerance and have asked him to withdraw them and "keep the promise you gave in a solemn hour when you said that you respect the character of our people and that you did not want to press upon our country any ideology alien to it as these measures undoubtedly are."

New Deal Opponent to Retire From U.S. Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP) — Justice James Clark McReynolds, outspoken opponent of much New Deal legislation, notified President Roosevelt today that he would retire from the Supreme Court Feb. 1 after 26 years of service.

The veteran jurist, who will be 79 years old Feb. 3, was the only member of the Tribunal described by Administration officials as "conservative."

His retirement opens the way for Mr. Roosevelt to make his sixth appointment to the nine-man court. There have been reports that Chief Justice Hughes, 78, might retire soon, but they have been unconfirmed.

Two Italian Motor Schooners Captured

WITH THE BRITISH MEDITERRANEAN FLEET, Jan. 22 (AP). — A British destroyer recently captured two 440-ton Italian motor schooners off the Libyan coast without a fight, it was disclosed today.

The schooners, carrying light guns, were identified as the Maria Giovanna and the Tiberio. Both were used in carrying war supplies between Bardia and Tobruk.

Thirty crewmen were taken prisoners. A British destroyer officer reported those from the Maria Giovanna "said they were fed up with the whole show."

Buck Newsom Tops Indians' Feller In Salary Bracket

DETROIT, Jan. 22 (AP)—Your voluble old pal, Louie (Buck) Newsom, who pitches baseball for the Detroit Tigers, now seems to have the authority for his biggest boast of all, and Buck has to keep silent.

Reliable sources disclosed today that Newsom—not Bob Feller of Cleveland Indians—has become the highest paid twirler in the game's history at a salary in excess of $30,000. Buck will draw pay checks for that tidy sum for the 1941 season.

In keeping with an unwritten law of the Tigers that salaries are never mentioned publicly, Newsom won't say a word. It was established, however, that Buck will draw a heftier salary than that to be paid Feller, whom the Indians signed yesterday for a reported $30,000.

Winner of 13 straight games and a World Series star, Newsom in 1940 enjoyed his finest season in a long career in the big leagues. He won 21 and lost five during the regular season.

Jesse Seaby Robbed of Shutout in Late Minutes

PROULX WITH TWO PACES THE 3-2 WIN

CALGARY, Jan. 22 (CP). — Nelson Maple Leafs of the West Kootenay Hockey League, wound up their inter-league series with Alberta Senior Hockey League sextets in spectacular fashion here tonight when they defeated Turner Valley Oilers 3-2 before a small crowd of about 1000 fans.

The victory gave Nelson a record of two triumphs, a draw and one loss—to Calgary Stampeders—on their four-game tour of the Prairie circuit.

The Leafs showed early class as they drove in two goals in the first period, added another in the third after a scoreless middle session, and then held a brilliant Turner Valley rally to two goals in the dying minutes of the game.

Proulx counted twice and Mann once for the British Columbians with Cairns and Martinson scoring the Turner Valley goals during the last five minutes of play.

Seaby, Nelson custodian, was the hero of the game as he broke the hearts of Turner Valley forwards with his spectacular work in the nets. Time and again he kicked out shots that appeared ticketed for the hemp as Oiler forwards swarmed about him. Boothman, former Calgary boy, gave a smart display on defence and also in rushing. With any luck he would have found the cage on several occasions.

BRILLIANT FROM START

Seaby was called upon to show early brilliance when he stopped Atkinson's rush during a Nelson power play, the Oiler breaking away to almost make the play backfire. Midway through the period Sturk made a nice opening for Proulx, who beat Harney with a hard, close-in shot. Oilers failed to organize their power play when Bicknell and Mann drew penalties.

Ursaki was in the box when Nelson netted the second goal, Mann scoring on Bicknell's pass during a power play.

Proulx opened the third period, after a strongly defensive middle session, by stick-handling the length of the ice and beating Harney with a smartly executed shot.

With five minutes left to play Oilers finally got their attack clicking and started a brilliant rally that all but forced the game into overtime. Cairns finished off a three-way rush with Craddock and Martinson, then the latter drove in for another goal that forced the Leafs to renew their efforts in the last 90 seconds in order to preserve their margin.

Lineups were:

Nelson—Seaby; Bicknell, Pettigrew; Kilpatrick; Haire, Mann. Subs — Boothman, Sturk, Algar, Proulx, Gilmour, Euerby.

Turner Valley—Harney; Ettinger, Craddock; Ursaki; Atkinson, Holditch, Subs—Davis, Cairns, Martinson, Evers, Sanderson, McIntyre.

Officials—Jack Arbour and Dutch Gainor.

SUMMARY

First period: 1, Nelson, Proulx (Sturk) 8:12; 2, Nelson, Mann (Bicknell) 18:14.

Penalties: Cairns, Bicknell, Mann, Gilmour.

Second period: No scoring.

Penalty: Kilpatrick.

Third period: 3, Nelson, Proulx, 2:43; 4, Turner Valley, Cairns (Craddock, Martinson) 15:04; 5, Turner Valley, Martinson (Cairns) 18:46.

Penalties: Boothman, Craddock.

SHUSWAP INDIAN SENTENCED FOR SHOOTING MOUNTAIN SHEEP

INVERMERE, B. C. — Three police court cases speared before Magistrate Chisholm this week. William Stevens, Shuswap Indian, was given three months for shooting mountain sheep out of season.

Matt Budnarchuk received three months sentence for supplying liquor to Indians and Dong Yung, of Canal Flat was charged with keeping liquor for sale and was remanded to January 23.

Flying Frenchmen Defeat Vernon 3-2

VERNON, B. C., Jan. 22 (CP). — Lumby Flying Frenchmen jumped to within one point of the league-leading Vernon Hurricanes with a 3-2 victory over the top place team in North Okanagan Hockey League game here last night.

Johnnie Hughes, "Itchy" Gorgeson and Reg Krowchuk scored for the winners and Cliff Gannon and Stew Paterson supplied Vernon's goals.

The Frenchmen went into an early lead and ran it to 3-0 before Vernon was able to crash the score column.

Gene Tunney gained his first title victory 18 years ago tonight when he outpointed Battling Levinsky in 12 rounds for the United States light-heavy crown. Tunney lost the title to Harry Greb four months later, regained it the following year, then entered the lists with the heavies. He retired undefeated after taking the heavyweight title from Jack Dempsey in 1926.

Scoreless Game Is Second for Nelson and Edmonton Teams

Not only was the Nelson-Edmonton game on Tuesday night the first stalemate in either the West Kootenay or Alberta Leagues this season, but the second shutout in the Prairie circuit and the first in the Kootenay.

It is also believed that it is the first scoreless tie game in either league since a Spring night in 1937 when Nelson and Edmonton Dominions battled 90 minutes in a play-down game without a single puck beating Bill McKay or Scotty Munro.

Through Tuesday's performance Dave Pow, the Edmonton goal custodian, joins Art Rice-Jones of Calgary with one shutout each to their credit. Rice-Jones recorded his early in December when Turner Valley was beaten 1-0 in a game played on neutral Lethbridge ice.

Seaby's is the only one so far for Kootenay goalies.

20 CANADIAN TEAMS TO BOWL AT ST. PAUL

TORONTO, Jan. 22 (CP)—Harry Tobin, President of the Canadian Bowling Association, said tonight that 20 Canadian teams are scheduled to participate in the American Bowling Congress opening at St. Paul, Minn., March 13.

Seventeen teams from Western Canada, mostly Manitoba, two from Toronto and one from Montreal.

Vernon's Classy Juves Nip Army Pucksters by 3-2

VERNON, B. C., Jan. 23—Hydrophones, juvenile stars aiming for the Provincial juvenile title this year, met a picked army squad from the Vernon training centre and nosed them out 3-2 in one of the most thrilling games played on Vernon ice this year.

The army team included Al McFadzen of the Trail Smoke Eaters; Jack Gorbett, Kimberley Dynamiters; Petrosko and Devlin of the Trail All-Stars; Nestor Bilinski of the Vernon Hurricanes; Chuck Embrey, the Kelowna Applejacks and Buzz McGibney of Trail.

The game was fast from start to finish. The younger players were out to show what they could do and the army squad was not anxious to be beaten by a team of juveniles.

Star of the game was Don Saunders in the Vernon net. His play will be talked about for the rest of this season.

Les Smith, Lawrence Kwong and Bill Husband scored for Vernon with George Dobie and Smith getting assists, while Army's scoring was handled by Petrosko and McGibney, each with a goal and an assist.

Old Charley Root Is Cubs' Holdout

By TOM SILER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (AP).—"I'll never sign the contract they offered me."

That unequivocal statement came from quiet, genial Charles Henry Root, who has built up a tremendous following in his 15 years with the Chicago Cubs.

Root and the Cubs, represented by James Timothy Gallagher, new General Manager, are reportedly far apart on their respective estimates of Root's worth to the club in 1941.

Winner of only two games last season when he was used mainly as a relief hurler, he was asked to take a heavy cut this year.

"I can still pitch every week, but I can't be in the bullpen every day warming up and expect to do any good," said Root.

Root, who will be 41 years old before another season gets under way, also has his heart set on reaching the 200-victory total. Only four big leaguers now active are over that mark—Red Ruffing, Lefty Grove, Ted Lyons and Fred Fitzsimmons.

The Cub veteran has won 193 games since joining the Cubs in 1926, winning 13 or more games in 10 of his last 15 seasons.

He was paid in the neighborhood of $10,000 last season.

Kootenay Big Six

Snapping out of his slump extending through six games in which he notched but one point, a goal, Bob Proulx, Leaf centreman, banged home two goals last night against the Oilers at Calgary to clamber back into the West Kootenay League's Big Six. He is now even with Sullivan of Kimberley with 18 points each.

Meanwhile Mann notched a goal to pull out into sole possession of fifth place with 19 points.

Magic-Eye Ump for Baseball Is Dumont's Latest

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 — That man is here again, folks. You know, the fellow who is plotting to mechanize baseball. Already Ray Dumont has the game so you practically can run it from a switchboard, and now he has something else up his sleeve. A camera, no less.

Dumont is the futuristic young man who originated and nursed along the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress to its present state of well-being, and he overlooks no new stunt which might lure customers.

He started these innovations rather modestly with an automatic home plate duster in 1939 to relieve the umpire of the bends. In 1940 he adopted the leaping microphone to pipe player-umpire arguments to the fans.

This year he will try to magic-eye umpire on balls and strikes, although what will happen if the eye falls asleep and fails to catch a ball coming over plate is open to question. Probably a balk on the contraption.

Anyway, Dumont already has designed his 1942 improvements. They include a photo-finish camera to catch plays at home plate so that when some outfielder comes tearing down the stretch, carrying 185 pounds, there will be no argument over a nose finish.

The camera will be concealed under the ground. In fact that Wichita Park will offer a strange sight when someone accidentally punches all the buttons at once and all the buried contraptions leap up at the same time.

When a runner starts from third for home the button-puncher goes into action and the camera rises to record everything that happens within 40 feet of home plate.

On close plays, Dumont says, the films will be developed immediately and at the feature night games the lights in the Park will be turned off and the pictures projected, in slow motion, on a huge screen in the outfield.

Original Gag Wrestler Dies

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 22 (AP) — Villainous Billy Edwards, a side-burned old wrestling figure of 51 years who pioneered in mat hokum by taking a punch at Jack Dempsey just for the hell of it, ended a violent, 32-year career in a country hospital today.

The squat and bald heavyweight who rose from circus sawdust to the original mat meanie, died in a Hillsboro hospital 32 hours after his automobile had collided head-on with a truck.

Sweet William panicked the sports world several years back, with the famed Dempsey incident. The Manassa Mauler, who had just been retired by Gene Tunney, came into Dallas on a barnstorming tour as a wrestling referee.

Smack in the middle of the Edwards match, with 9000 jammed into the old fair park livestock pavilion, Edwards suddenly stopped gnawing and beating on his opponent and turned on Dempsey.

Viciously he ripped off Dempsey's shirt and then planted a mild right on the former champ's ear. Just a little showmanship, you know. But Dempsey misunderstood.

He countered with a crushing blow that landed full on Edward's rather prominent proboscis.

The old wrestler crumpled to the floor—came back into this world some 20 minutes later.

"Had to eat soup for three days," he grinned later. "Just couldn't chew. But what a gag!"

Leonard, Wood May Play Easterners in Golf Benefit Series

VANCOUVER, Jan. 22 (CP).—A best-ball match between Canada's outstanding golf professionals to determine who is Canadian "champion" was proposed today by Fred Wood, Vancouver pro who has just returned from California with a tidy piece of change collected in three open tournaments.

Wood said that he and Stan Leonard of Vancouver would challenge two Eastern Canada pros to a home-and-home series, with the possibility of a third game being played at Winnipeg. The challenge would go to Stanley Horne at Ottawa and either Jules Huot or Bobby Gray.

Sponsorship of the Red Cross Society is sought for the match.

Edmunds Believes Future Bright for Puck Home-Brews

He Tells Old Timers the Youngsters Are Likely Seniors

"Nine out of 10 players we have on our Trail junior hockey team this year are Trail-raised, and if given sufficient ice and good coaching, I am confident that Trail could raise its own senior players," Fred Edmunds, staunch supporter of Trail "kid" hockey, said at a banquet of Trail and Nelson Old Timers Tuesday night in the Golden Gate Cafe following their hockey game.

"And I am sure Nelson will do the same," he added, paying particular praise to three or four members of Nelson's crack juvenile squad.

The presentation of the "Winter Garden Trophy" was also made to the winning team. The trophy was accepted by Alf Dupuis, the Trail goalkeeper, from D. G. Chamberlain, President of the Nelson Amateur Hockey Association. The ingenuity of the Wait family was again shown, in that W. L. (Papa) Wait of Trail was responsible for posting the Trophy for annual competition, while making sure that it wouldn't go out of the family. Frank (Deacon) Waite was on the winning Trail team, while another son, Walter, managed and played for Nelson.

Mr. Edmunds, Mr. Chamberlain and Walter Wait each in turn thanked the Old Timers of both cities for turning out in aid of the boys. Hank Lauriente, Trail Manager, and Frank O'Genski, 46-year-old Nelson stalwart who was still playing senior hockey for Nelson in the 1936 playoffs, were also called upon to speak.

The teams will meet again in Trail in a week or so.

Glace Bay Miners of the Cape Breton Senior League are glorying in the skill the wizard from Winnipeg has acquired down through the years when he goaled the Moncton Hawks to two successive Allan Cups and gave England her stunning victory over the Dominion's forces in the 1936 Olympic championships.

He's hung up four shutouts this season.

If any team is to overtake the Miners apparently it will have to be Sydney, now three points behind. North Sydney is firmly fixed in the basement.

Rossland Hoop Teams to Play in Nelson in Doubleheader Friday

It will be Rossland High School vs Nelson High School basketball teams in Nelson Friday, instead of Creston supplying opposition for the Blue Bombers and the Bomberettes. Roy Mann, Captain of the Nelson boys, announced the change Wednesday night.

An epidemic of measles has "hit" the Creston school, and the trip to Nelson had to be postponed. So the Nelsonites got busy on long distance telephone and made arrangements to bring Rossland boys' and girls' teams to Nelson for a doubleheader.

Second Relief to Play Hockey With Spitfires Tonight

Nelson Spitfires, juvenile representative hockey team, will meet the Second Relief Rams for the second time this season at the Civic Arena tonight.

The teams were scheduled to meet in a return game at the Relief rink last week, but a snow storm forced cancellation of the game. Last month the intermediate Rams, coached by Hal Bergstrom, who also occupies a pivot berth on the first forward line, went down to a 4-0 defeat on Nelson ice.

It will be a warmup for both teams for district playoffs which get under way next month. The Salmo Valley may enter a rep team in the intermediate playdowns. The Nelson team will soon start defence of its provincial juvenile title.

LINEUPS

The Nelson lineup will be: Jim Heuston, goal; Joe Hilliard, George Ioanin, Everett Kuhn and Ernie Wilson, defence; Ernie Defoe, Doug Winlaw and Harold Tapanila, Bud Smith, Wally Matheson and Mickey Prestley, and Lloyd Ridenour, forwards.

The Relief team will include such players as John (Pro) Dingwall, Nelson-born goalie who is expected to be in a West Kootenay League senior uniform in another season; Arnold Wood, Bergstrom, Harley Breeze, Howie Breeze, Dick Hambly, Ray Rowe, Earl Rickard, Knute Holmes and Cy Balcom.

The game will get under way at 7:30, and as soon as it is over the Nelson Juniors will have a practice. In preparation for a return game in Trail, the Nelson Old Timers will practice with the Juniors.

Britain to Need All Manpower to Realize Fullest War Effort

By HAROLD FAIR
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill disclosed today that behind Britain's decision to conscript labor lies an intense demand in the next six months for man and woman power to supply an army on a scale for fighting both overseas and at home.

Before the House of Commons Mr. Churchill said the size of the army was settled within a few weeks after war started, that the only change had been to provide equipment for 10 more divisions and that "the scale of the army is the same as that in November, 1939 . . . a very large and formidable force both for fighting overseas and defence."

Now, he explained, "this great nation has got into its war stride" and most of wartime munitions and supply plants, planned in 1939 to provide the army "with all the equipment it required in continuous action on the continent of Europe against the German enemy," are coming into production.

The Prime Minister said Britain is "accomplishing the transition from days of peace and comfort to days of supreme, organized, indomitable exertion."

Winding up the debate on manpower the Prime Minister said the industrial registration policy announced yesterday by Ernest Bevin, Labor Minister, was necessary because during the next six months Britain will for the first time witness an intense demand for man and woman power.

He admitted the peak of the war effort had not yet been reached and that it cannot be until all war plants are working. In the coming six months munitions and agriculture, rather than the fighting services, will make the chief demands on manpower, he said.

Only at times in sober defence of the Government policy did Mr. Churchill's eloquence flame, but his justification of the establishment of import, production and steering committees and his explanation why manpower is needed were lightened with flashes of the Prime Minister's wit.

He replied to persistent critics of the policy of including departmental ministers in the war cabinet by asserting that it was best such key ministers should be in the responsible directing centre of the Government.

Mr. Churchill singled out Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Aircraft Production, for special praise after a Labor member called him a "likeable old sea raider" in questioning the Canadian-born publisher's ability to work as a team with other members.

The Prime Minister called Lord Beaverbrook a "man of altogether exceptional force and genius who is at his very best when things are at their very worst."

The Prime Minister spoke in defence of the Government's decision, announced yesterday, to register industrial manpower for work in war factories.

"Counting the home guard, we will have 4,000,000 armed and uniformed men who will all play a part in the defence of our hearths and homes," Mr. Churchill declared.

Mr. Churchill, speaking after members of the House had shouted down a Communist charge that the Government suppressed the Communist Party newspaper, The Daily Worker, to kill opposition to the Labor draft law, promised an early vote on the plan.

The Prime Minister observed that "an army that could be taken overseas in the form of military units" would be measured by different standards than those at home.

The Prime Minister said that after 6 months of war "between the greatest states armed with the most deadly weapons not more than 60,000 British folk—nearly half of whom are civilians—have lost their lives by enemy action."

"I look forward to a very considerable combining and scraping in the Air Force and in the Army . . . to reduce their demands upon the manpower market as far as possible during the coming stringent months, so that we may be able to man the new factories and shipyards and till the new fields which are coming into production.

"The great nation is getting into its war stride but the future contains no evidence which would justify lassitude, despondency or despair," the Prime Minister said. "His Majesty's Government welcome the impulse which the House of Commons, the press and the public of this island gives to us in driving forward our war effort and trying to gain the most favorable hour that is possible."

The Prime Minister said the loss of 60,000 Britons is a "terrible figure but far less than the lives lost in a single protracted battle on the Western Front in 16-17."

Mr. Churchill then struck at critics who a few weeks ago "were crying out about our inaction against Italy and wondering whose was the hidden hand sheltering Mussolini from British forces."

"At that time I endured these taunts in silence because I knew that large and daring measures had already been taken by which it has since been rendered possible to gain splendid victories at Sidi Barrani and Bardia. . . .

"Apart from the Libyan victories, extremely important developments are taking place on both the frontiers of Abyssinia (Ethiopia) and Eritrea which may themselves be productive of fruitful and extremely pregnant results.

"Far be it from me to paint a rosy picture of the present or the future. . . . Indeed the whole English-speaking world is passing through a dark and deadly valley."

COMMUNIST MEMBER SHOUTED DOWN

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP). — The House of Commons shouted down a Communist charge today that the Government's suppression yesterday of the Daily Worker, Communist party organ, was intended to quash opposition to the labor conscription plan announced by Labor Minister Ernest Bevin.

Herbert Morrison, Minister of Home Security, in a statement to the House, pledged the Government would maintain the freedom of the press, but accused the Daily Worker and The Week, a Leftist publication also suppressed, of attempting to "weaken the will of our people to achieve victory."

William Gallacher, only Communist Member of the House, called it a propaganda statement. He accused Mr. Morrison of timing suppression of the Daily Worker with the announcement of the labor conscription to quash opposition.

When the Members finished shouting "No!" Mr. Morrison denied there was any connection between the suppression and the announcement of the plan.

GREENWOOD HAS OPPORTUNITY

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP Cable).—The job given Arthur Greenwood, Minister Without Portfolio, of studying post-war reconstruction problems "gives the Minister a grand and growing opportunity of historic national service," Prime Minister Churchill today told the House of Commons.

"It is not his task to make a new world comprising a new heaven and a new earth and no doubt a new hell," Mr. Churchill said. "I am sure that it would be necessary to have that in any balanced system."

The Prime Minister said it was also not Mr. Greenwood's duty to "establish a new order or to create a new heart in the human race," and that these tasks must be undertaken by other agencies.

Palace Searched in Vain for Passport

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Jan. 22 (AP)—The palace of King Boris today was searched in vain for the diplomatic passport of Col. William J. Donovan, United States observer who has been touring Europe and Northern Africa on a secret mission.

Donovan discovered his loss as he was about to leave for Belgrade, Yugoslavia. He searched his pockets, his luggage, his hotel room, and finally appealed to the staff of the palace, where he had spent an hour and 20 minutes talking to the King.

The Orient Express was held up 20 minutes. Finally Donovan boarded it after the American Legation had made arrangements for him to cross the border without his passport.

Donovan was reported to have emphasized, in his talk with the King, United States determination to aid Britain.

Aboard the same train was the Yugoslav Minister to Sofia, who called at the United States Legation yesterday. Also reported on the train was the Yugoslav Minister to Turkey. Both were said to be returning home for consultation on the Balkan situation.

Report Thai and Indo-China Seek Peace Settlement

SINGAPORE, Jan. 22 (AP)—Reports from Bangkok and Hanoi today were interpreted here as indicating readiness by leaders of Thailand (Siam) and French Indo-China to seek a peaceful settlement of the territorial dispute behind their undeclared war.

Informed quarters said both the Thai and the French still maintained the justice of their respective attitudes, but were being drawn together by fear the frontier strife was developing into a general conflict.

A general outbreak, these quarters explained, might enable Japan to enter the controversy as a pacifier, but then to remain as a strategically-strengthened menace to all states around the China Sea.

Britain and United States were reported by authoritative sources to be encouraging an early peaceful settlement of the dispute.

British-American influence already was credited, they said, with dissuading Thailand from carrying out an expressed intention of bombing Saigon and other Indo-China population centres.

Fleet Moves Italian Prisoners and War Booty From Africa

LONDON, Jan. 22 (CP).—The Admiralty announced tonight that ships of the Mediterranean fleet, cooperating with the land and air forces in the Libyan campaign, had removed 54,000 Italian prisoners and huge supplies of war booty from the North African war theatre.

This work, as well as the job of keeping British troops supplied with large quantities of stores and water during part of the operations, was carried out without loss, the Admiralty said.

Has Counter Plan for Aid to Britain

WASHINGTON Jan. 22 (AP) — Representative Hamilton Fish (Rep. New York) today offered a counter proposal to the British Aid Bill which called for lending Britain up to $2,000,000,000 of federal money to buy American-made war supplies.

Fish, a leading foe of the administration measure, said his substitute bill would provide quick credit without destroying our constitutional form of government."

Under Fish's proposal the Federal loan agency would be authorized to lend money to Britain on the best available security obtainable. A monthly accounting would be made to Congress.

He criticized Wendell L. Willkie, 1940 Republican presidential candidate for approving the administration's bill with modifications.

City to Ask Former Starland Be Painted

A request that the front of the former Starland Theatre building on Baker Street should be painted will be made to the representatives of the Famous Players Canadian Corporation, the Nelson City Council decided Tuesday night. The front of the building was described as "an eyesore on our main street."

LETTER ASKING DOG LICENCE BE REDUCED IS RECEIVED, FILED

Nelson City Council Tuesday night received and filed a letter from Mrs. E. F. Edgington, of the Nelson Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, requesting that the $15 licence fee on large dogs be reduced. The letter stated that the licencing had served its purpose in decreasing the number of large dogs, the Society having itself supervised the removal of some 30 dogs.

BROTHER OF COAST MAN ON DOOMED SCHOONER

VANCOUVER, Jan. 22 (CP).—C. A. Moulton of 4048 West 11th Ave., Vancouver, was notified today of the death of his brother, Thomas Moulton, of Boston, Mass., believed to have been among the 18 men drowned when the Boston schooner Mary E. O'Hara was split open as it approached Boston harbor and sunk.

PUBLIC WORKS TO ACT ON LETTER ON TRUCK

A letter from the Nelson Transfer Company stating that a City Truck could be put into condition for $125 Tuesday night was turned over to the Public Works Department Committee with power to act by the Nelson City Council. The truck has been in the Company garage for some time.

TORONTO MILK PRICE UP 1 CENT TODAY

TORONTO Jan. 22 (CP)—Price of milk in Toronto will increase one cent a quart tomorrow from 12 to 13 cents, the Ontario Milk Board ruled today. Price of pints remains at 7 cents.

Demand for Rails Brightens Wall St.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP).—Demand for rails and steels helped turn the stock market around today for a plodding rally. Advances of fractions to about to a point were listed in leading shares.

Conspicuous was the buying in Santa Fe and Southern Pacific among the carriers. Demand for these, brokerage circles said, partly grew from reports the war-time shipping shortage might divert traffic from coastwise waterways to transcontinental roads. Rail loadings, however, started the new year at the highest level in a decade.

Canadian issues were easy. Lake Shore Mines, Canadian Pacific and Hirma Walker dipped fractions. Dome Mines gained ¼ point.

Traders Look for New Wheat Policy

WINNIPEG, Jan. 22 (CP).—News that the Canadian Wheat Board advisory Committee has submitted its 1941-42 wheat policy recommendations to Trade Minister MacKinnon was received with interest today by traders on Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Discouraged by weeks of consecutive dull sessions, grain exchange traders hoped the committee recommendations might prove startling enough to jar wheat futures prices from the narrow price rut they have been following.

Offer $600,000,000 U. S. Defence Notes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP) — The United States Treasury will sell tomorrow $600,000,000 of national defence notes bearing three-fourths of one per cent interest and maturing in three to four years.

The Treasury last month sold $330,000,000 of similar notes maturing in five years. After that sale, Secretary Henry Morgenthau remarked that the next issue might cost the Treasury a little more because of anti-inflation plan of the Federal reserve system had depressed the market.

Small Losses Mark Quiet Coast Trade

VANCOUVER, Jan. 22 (CP). — Minor losses were general in both golds and oils during quiet trading on Vancouver Stock Exchange today. Transactions totalled 21,984 shares.

Cariboo Gold Quartz dropped 5 to 2.65 and Privateer eased a cent to 57. Gold Belt at 30 firmed 1.

Among the oils Anglo Canadian slipped 4½ to 68½ while Anaconda at 7 and Prairie Royalties at 8 both added fractions. Commoil was up 1 at 22.

In the base metal group Grandview traded 2500 shares and gained 2 to 15.

Republic Steel Has Record Net Profit

CLEVELAND, Jan. 22 (AP)—Republic Steel Corporation today reported an all-time record net profit of $21,513,507 for 1940. The figure was twice that of the previous record of $10,671,343 in 1939.

Rate of earnings in 1940 was $3.30 on each of 5,670,628 common shares, against $1.42 in the preceding year.

Montreal Quiet

MONTREAL, Jan. 22 (CP)—Stock market fluctuations today were held down to fractions.

C. P. R. was up ¾, and Asbestos up ½, Nickel and McColl Frontenac advanced.

Gains Marked on Dull Toronto Mkt.

TORONTO, Jan. 22 (CP). — In comparatively dull trading the stock market posted more gains than losses today.

Preston, Chesterville, Upper Canada and Wright-Hargreaves Golds showed net gains of 5 to 10.

International Nickel firmed ⅛ to 35¾ and Steep Rock added a cent or two.

National Steel Car, C. P. R., and International Pete were gainers of fractions and Cosmos mills firmed a point to 23. Walkers common dropped ¼.

Narrow gains were posted in Western oils for Calgary and Edmonton, Anglo-Canadian and Home Oil.

Depressing News Felt on Chicago Mkt.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (AP).—Rains over the grain belt, the favorable domestic wheat crop prospect, a larger than expected estimate of the new Argentine harvest and upward revision of last Summer's production in Canada were price depressing factors in the wheat pit today.

Wheat closed ⅛ lower to ¾ higher compared with yesterday, May 83⅜—¾, July 70½—⅝; corn ⅜—⅝ higher, May 63¾—¼, July 63¼; oats unchanged to ½ up.

BUYING HOLDS WHEAT STEADY

WINNIPEG, Jan. 22 (CP).—Light offerings combined with fair buying by Canadian mills to hold wheat futures prices steady throughout today's session on Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Final quotations were ¼ cent higher, May wheat at 77 and July 78⅝ cents a bushel.

The mill purchasing appeared to be in connection with domestic sales of flour as no export business could be traced in Canadian wheat or flour.

In the coarse grain pit, mills were credited with taking some oats while export houses bought small quantities of barley. Reports from New York indicated Canadian barley was being picked up for shipment overseas.

Cash wheat trade consisted chiefly of minor sales of low grade feed wheat for all-rail shipment to Eastern points.

Western farmers delivered 825,000 bushels of wheat to country elevators yesterday compared with 194,000 unloaded on the same day a year ago.

Grain Surpluses Present Problem

By H. ALAN VOLKMAR
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (AP).—Ever-mounting record grain surpluses in the Western hemisphere posed new problems today for producers and legislators.

Favorable weather conditions, increased acreages and greater yields per acre in North America have resulted in larger carryovers for each of the past several years until all storage space was glutted.

The disappearance of export markets, cut off by the war blockade of most of continental Europe, adds to the huge surpluses weekly.

United States' supplies as of July 1, 1941, were estimated by R. O. Cromwell, Crop Statistician, at 722,000,000 bushels in all positions, compared with 615,500,000 in mid-1940.

Broomhall, British crop authority, said Canada was discussing the possibility of wheat acreage control next Spring because supplies were reaching the burdensome stage after three consecutive years of heavy yields.

Individual Spending Must Be Limited in Favor of War Effort, Says Bank Head

HALIFAX, Jan. 22 (CP).—"If we are to pull over full weight in the cause to which we are dedicated, individual spending must be progressively limited in favor of the war effort," J. A. McLeod, President of the Bank of Nova Scotia, told the annual meeting of the Bank here today.

Mr. McLeod stressed possibility of inflation if the savings of the people are not loaned to the government for war purposes and spending on luxuries is not curtailed.

"If anything is clear," he said, "it is that the problem of finance is rapidly assuming larger proportions. . . . The Dominion over-all requirements for its own war expenditures, for ordinary outlays and for financing British purchases in Canada during the fiscal year ending March 31 next appear to be somewhere in the neighborhood of $1,500,000,000, the bulk of which has been raised. While it is not possible to say just what will be the requirements of the coming fiscal year, a total of $2,000,000,000 would seem to be a conservative estimate."

"It stands to reason," continued Mr. McLeod, "that this country cannot go on indefinitely producing more and more war materials and equipment, withdrawing more and more men from the productive system into the armed forces and at the same time continue providing more goods for civilian consumption and use. Since we must have a rapidly mounting war production and larger armed forces, we shall have to forego an improving standard of living and, in a great many cases, accept a somewhat reduced one."

The Assistant General Manager, H. D. Burns, reviewed briefly the bank's 109th financial statement, showing earnings of $1,941,330 after taxes of $1,004,027 and after all deductions. The net was only $62,000 under that of the previous year despite an increase of $445,000 in taxes. Withdrawals for the purchase of war bonds had resulted in a drop of about $10,000,000 in deposits to $269,639,000.

WINSTON CHURCHILL—V

Retirement and Illness

When the Conservatives won in 1924, Churchill's return to the good graces of the party became complete with his being tendered the post of chancellor of the exchequer in the new cabinet of Stanley Baldwin. He served as such for five years.

Churchill's political career appeared at an end in 1929 and he retired to his home in Kent, to write and paint and to criticize the fumblings of the men who had succeeded him in exalted offices of public life.

Always restless and eager to see more of the world, Churchill visited the United States. During his stay in "the States" it appeared that America was as delighted with him as he was with America.

In 1932 the heavy hand of illness struck him down. He was stricken with paratyphoid. But he managed to keep the Churchill smile through it all. Soon again he was back on his feet, as vigorous and energetic as ever.

Italian Legion Branch at Trail Aids Londoners

TRAIL, B. C., Jan. 22 — Trail Italian Branch of the Canadian Legion turned over $70.25 to the Trail Rotary Bombing Victim Fund. This sum represented the proceeds of a concert given recently by the Branch for this purpose.

Accompanying the cheque which was sent to the Trail Times was the following letter:

"It is with a great deal of pleasure that I enclose a cheque for $70.25 which was the net proceeds of our recent concert and dance in aid of the victims of the bombed areas in Great Britain. This is but a forerunner of what we hope to be able to do in the future in assisting in the great cause which has been espoused by our adopted country.

"We regret that the cheque is not larger but we had the misfortune to time our entertainment on an evening when there were many other events going on in the community, including a hockey game between Trail and Lethbridge."

Peebles Will Move Central Equipment to the Iron Works

R. A. Peebles Tuesday night obtained the City Council's permission to operate a garage and a trucking business in the old Nelson Iron Works Company building, provided certain alterations were made to the building. City Engineer H. D. Dawson and Fire Chief G. A. McDonald both gave approval of the use of the building as a garage when alterations were made.

Central Truck & Equipment Company business, now located at the corner of Baker and Hendricks Streets, will be moved into the building. It is planned to lay a concrete floor, remove the lean-to additions at the rear and sides of the main building, make some structural alterations, and stucco the exterior.

Rosslander Describes Life in South Seas for Trail Rotarians

TRAIL, B. C., Jan. 22 — Thor Heyerdahl, a Norwegian university student who resided for a year on the Island of Fatu-Hiva, addressed the Rotary Club at its luncheon Tuesday.

Mr. Heyerdhal spoke of the time he and his wife first went to Tahiti, where they stayed a month learning of the Polynesian life. They went to the island of Fatu-Hiva, once a large centre where thousands of natives and three kings ruled. He described how they stayed at the island for a year, adopting native customs and exploring the many historic relics on the island.

Mr. and Mrs. Heyerdahl are living in Rossland, Mr. Heyerdahl being employed by the Consolidated Company at Tadanac.

William Ward, Pioneer Nelson and Procter Hotelman, Dies Suddenly

Arrived 1892; Worked on Slocan, Lardeau Surveys

"Billy" Ward, whose life was a page in the colorful history of West Kootenay, died suddenly Wednesday morning at the Outlet Hotel, Proctor, which he had operated since 1914.

Construction worker, teamster, prospector, miner, survey worker, hotelman and sportsman were all designations that could be applied to William Arthur Ward in his Kootenay life.

Born in London, England, in 1870, he came to Canada in 1888. After eight years in farming work in Quebec he came to Nelson 48 years ago, in 1892. He was among those to see the first lights go on in this City from a plant built even before the old Cottonwood Creek plant.

WORKED ON SURVEYS

For about a year he worked as a teamster here, then in 1892-93 worked in a survey party in the Slocan District. There he took part in the survey of such well-known properties as the Slocan Star, Slocan Boy and the Payne. For a time he was employed in survey work in the Lardeau.

When the Great Northern Railway's Nelson & Fort Shepherd branch line from Waneta to Nelson was put in, Mr. Ward was with the construction crews. He also prospected. At Nelson he worked in various hotels.

These activities were almost part and parcel of any pioneer's life, however, and chiefly he was known to Kootenay people as a veteran hotelman. In 1905 he took over the Nelson House, pioneer hostelry, situated about where the Golden Gate now is on Baker Street, and when that property was sold in 1914, he went to Procter. He operated the Outlet Hotel since.

FISHERMAN, HUNTER

To the sporting fraternity he was widely known through his hotel and store at Procter and his actual participation in both fishing and hunting. For a time he catered to the trade of wealthy tourists here for sport, renting them fishing tackle and equipment.

The wide lawn fronting his hotel has been a favorite picnic spot for District Churches and other organizations, and Mr. Ward was known to many who as youngsters attended picnics there. He was "Billy" Ward to all.

Mr. Ward was an excellent shot and for years was a member of the Nelson Gun Club. He was also a member of the Canadian Hotelmen's Association.

His wife, Mrs. Sarah Ward at Procter, and a stepson, Everett Brasch at Trail, survive. Mrs. Ward was visiting her son and daughter-in-law at Trail when her husband died.

Mr. Ward was a cousin of Thomas Ward, well-known Kootenay pioneer, after whom Nelson's Ward Street was named.

ARRIVED IN 1884

R. G. Joy, Nelson and District Old-timers' Association, found the following on Mr. Ward's pioneer life:

William Arthur Ward, a cousin of the well-known Kootenay pioneer Thomas Ward, was born in London, England, in 1870. He was educated at Hayward Heath Ardingley College.

He left England at the age of 13 years and came to Stanhope, Province of Quebec, in 1883, and worked on a farm there for eight years, coming to Nelson in 1892. Billy Ward was among those attending the first 24th of May celebrations, presumably at Kaslo, travelling there on the old steamship Nelson.

DROVE TEAM OVER ICE

As his first occupation here he drove a team for Bob Lennon for a year. On one occasion he drove a team of two horses, weighing 1400 pounds each, and three tons of freight over the ice from Busk's to Nelson. He made three trips. The freight was put on the steamship Nelson at Harrop, being conveyed on sleighs to the steamer. One of the Maddin boys, either Hugh or Tom, helped in this.

Later he was on a survey party for Ray Davies on the Slocan Trail for the Bigelow addition at New Denver. He helped in the survey of a preemption near Three Forks and worked on a timber limits survey 45 miles up the Duncan River for J. R. Cook of Kaslo, and on surveys at Argenta before coming back to Nelson.

Billy Ward helped whip-saw lumber for Tom Ward's ferry. Joe Wilson and Blake Wilson, later a C.P.R. director, were running a pack train at that time.

SURVEYED IN SLOCAN

Ward told Mr. Joy that "Tom Ward was a cousin of mine. His father was a surgeon in the Indian Army. Tom went to Guelph College before he came West. He was up the Big Bend country mining before he came to Revelstoke, then to Nelson."

Billy Ward helped to survey the Slocan Star, Slocan Boy and the Payne in 1892-93. He worked at various occupations, and prospected and owned a mineral claim at the head of Give-Out Creek. He did assessment work, then worked at the Glue-Pot Saloon, named by Jack Hargraves, on Vernon Street. He also worked at the Hume Hotel 2¼ years and at the Athabasca Saloon before buying an interest in the Nelson House on Baker Street.

AT CHRISTENING OF LIGHT PLANT

Ward told Mr. Joy of the first electric light plant in Nelson. It was situated near the site of the Nelson Sash and Door Factory. A few men formed a syndicate, put up the poles and half the wire. They also had a donkey engine and some primitive machinery. They had to quit construction as money ran out. John Houston went around, sold shares and formed a company. Business men with no money gave notes, which were discounted at the Bank of Montreal. The plant only ran two or three weeks in order to hold the charter. The engineers were Monty Gray and Hector Sproat.

This is how Ward described the first lighting.

"I was in the store known as the Ark, which was R. E. Lemon's business house, and we were watching for the lights to come on in the incandescent bulb. At last a red glow appeared. Lemon told me to get a case of champagne. He broke one over the stove that was in front of him and he said, 'I now christen the first Nelson electric light plant and wish it every success and may it always see prosperity'."

Later part of the plant was moved to Cottonwood Creek. Dr. Arthur was the only other pioneer to mention this first plant. After the Cottonwood plant was in operation they forgot to open the penstock and the pipes flattened, and Nelson was without light till the pipes were replaced. Mr. Bliss rectified the mistake.

Later Mr. Ward resided in Procter 21 years. Of the times of '92, he said: "There was very good comradeship among old timers of the early days of Nelson and very few quarrels."

Tree Fund Surplus to Go to War Fund, New Denver Decides

NEW DENVER, B. C.—The final meeting of the Christmas Tree Committee was held Jan. 17 at the home of Mrs. A. Francis, with 20 present.

Various committees reported and the Treasurer's report was presented by Mrs. G. Burkitt.

The meeting was unanimous in passing a hearty vote of thanks to those who helped in any way to make the tree the success it was.

A general discussion took place over the disposal of surplus funds and it was finally decided that $15 should be given to some war effort.

It was agreed that the last stamp be given to school children, purchasing war savings stamps through the school, one to each child, until funds are exhausted. Committee in charge of this work is Mrs. Francis, Mrs. G. Burkitt and L. Grodzki.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Francis and Mrs. Burkitt, assisted by Miss M. Francis.

Perepolkin Is Fined at Trail on Charge of Reckless Driving

TRAIL, B. C., Jan. 22—Peter Perepolkin of Beaver Falls pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving when he appeared before Magistrate Parker Williams in City Police Court Wednesday afternoon. He was fined $12.50 and costs.

The charge resulted from a car accident at the corner of Bay Avenue and Farwell Street January 8, when Perepolkin's car crashed into a car belonging to Joe Cantalini of Trail. The Cantalini car was parked at the curb.

Duchak III, Is Ordered to Bed

CALGARY, Jan. 22 (CP).—Meyer Flett did not play for Turner Valley Oilers tonight when the team met Nelson Maple Leafs and Dave Duchak, Stampeders, who has been ordered to bed by the club's physician, will not play in Saturday's Calgary game with Edmonton Flyers, P. D. Egan, President of the Alberta Hockey Association, said today.

Both players had been suspended by President F. J. Cameron of the Alberta Senior League, and the Calgary club has appealed Duchak's three-game suspension.

Mr. Egan's Executive is to meet in Calgary on Sunday, and will consider the matter then.

Duchak suffered recurrence of headaches and dizzy spells as a result of being cross-checked on the chin in last Saturday night's game. The attack was similar to those suffered a year ago when the player was recovering from brain concussion suffered in a hockey injury.

Duchak played in Monday's game against Nelson and was taken ill following the game.

ASKS MURDER CHARGE

VANCOUVER, Jan. 22 (CP). — Police today checked the recent movements of a man who appeared at police headquarters last night and asked to be locked up on a charge of murder after mentioning the case of a man found in a downtown alley 10 days ago. The man was believed to have been killed in a fall.

LONDON (CP).—Mr. Justice Malcolm Hilbery is not afraid of bombs, but of colds contracted in air raid shelters. "I think it is much more likely that we shall all die from colds, coming down into these refuge rooms, than from any bombs," he remarked.

Edward Simpson Dies at Nelson; Here Nine Years

Edward Simpson, age about 60 years, died Wednesday in the Kootenay Lake General Hospital. He suffered an attack of pneumonia and had been a hospital patient for four or five weeks.

Mr. Simpson was born at Rock Forest, Que., and came to Nelson about nine years ago. At various times he was employed in Government forestry work.

Four sisters, Mrs. Joseph Stirgeon and Mrs. C. V. Gagnon of Nelson, Mrs. J. A. Paquette of San Francisco and Mrs. F. A. Stevenson of Vancouver; and one brother, James of Kirkland Lake, survive him.

Trail First Aid Heads Reelected;

officers of the Trail Centre. St. John Ambulance Association, were re-elected at the annual meeting Wednesday afternoon. B. A. Slimmel is Chairman, R. W. Diamond, Vice-Chairman; and C. E. Marlatt, Honorary Secretary-Treasurer.

Annual report submitted showed 422 successful first aid candidates during the past year. This number included both men's and women's classes. Forty-two women passed home-nursing tests.

Home nursing and first aid classes will commence in February. Spring first aid sessions will consist of men's classes only. It is planned to form men's and women's classes in the Fall.

Abundant Coal for People of Britain

LONDON (CP).—Great Britain looks forward to the remainder of the Winter with the satisfaction there is abundant coal for everybody. These three coal facts speak for themselves:

1—Britain already has 9,000,000 tons more coal in stock than she had last year.

2—No fewer than 469 reserve dumps have been set up in different parts of the country—161 in London—and these will store another 5,000,000 tons.

3—Public utility companies such as gas, electricity, water undertakings and railways, have about 35 per cent more coal in stock than they had this time last year.

DR. COY OF INVERMERE LEAVING TO JOIN C.A.M.C.

INVERMERE, B. C. — It is with great regret that the residents of the district learned of the coming departure of Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Coy, probably for the duration of the war, Dr. Coy has joined the Canadian Army Medical Corp. They will leave later in the week for the Coast where the doctor will take up his duties. Dr. and Mrs. Coy have taken an active part in many community organizations.

LONDON (CP).—For supervising rescues from wrecked houses and organizing fire teams when incendiary bombs fell on a factory, Station Inspector Gahan of the London police has been awarded the O.B.E. (Civil Division).

KNUDSEN'S REPORT HAS BRIGHTER TONE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP).—William S. Knudsen submitted today a cautiously optimistic report on the progress of efforts to gear United States industry quickly to the manufacture of arms.

The defence director told reporters he hoped 33,000 military planes would be turned out by July of next year, although "we were slow getting under way." Of these, he said, 14,000 were earmarked for Great Britain.
