ARCHDUKE OTTO NAMED IN HUGE EMBEZZLEMENT SCHEME, VIENNA

Schuschnigg Gov't. Sent Him $4000 Monthly

DOLFUSS FUND WAS SPLIT THREE WAYS

VIENNA, Nov. 20 (AP)—Criminal police announced today discovery of "large scale embezzlement" through which they charged Archduke Otto of Hapsburg received 20,000 schillings ($4000) monthly from the government of former Chancellor Kurt von Schuschnigg.

The police asserted the cash was sent to Archduke Otto, pretender to the non-existent throne of Austria now living in Belgium through the Netherlands bank which, in turn, deposited it in the Brussels bank.

They charged other prominent persons who received money included Count Richard Coudenhove-Kalergi, president of the Pan-European union; Benjamin Schier, who administered the funds; Edward Ludwig, former chief of the press department and Wilhelm Klastersky, secretary to former President Wilhelm Miklas.

(Miklas resigned the presidency of Austria when Germany annexed the country last March 13 but remained in the nation. Von Schuschnigg two days earlier resigned as chancellor and since has been in custody of secret police in Vienna.)

Count Coudenhove-Kalergi is not in greater Germany but most of the others named in the police charges have been under arrest since last March.

Police said 10 persons involved had been arrested. These presumed were additional to men who have been under detention since last March.

Police said secret funds amounted to between 7,000,000 and 10,000,000 schillings ($1,400,000-$2,000,000) which were divided into three parts.

These were the Dolfuss and central gift funds collected from the wealthy to foster the interests of the regime of Von Schuschnigg and his predecessor as chancellor, the assassinated Engelbert Dollfuss, and a secret press fund voted by parliament.

Japan Extends Monopoly of Interior Waterways

Special Permission Is Needed for Travel on Han River

By MORRIS J. HARRIS Associated Press Foreign Staff
SHANGHAI, Nov. 20 (AP)—Japan broadened today her forcibly established monopoly of interior waterways of China.

Japanese military authorities in Hankow notified British and other consular officials that the Han river, great Yangtze tributary traversing Hupoh province, was closed to navigation except upon "special permission" of the Japanese army.

This action augments Japan's armed possession of the Yangtze, China's principal navigable river, which she has closed to commercial navigation by other countries.

Foreign businessmen said the action regarding the Han river added another exclusive avenue of entry for Japanese merchandise into an added huge interior region of China.

Japanese reports meanwhile indicated Japanese commercial exploitation of south China was following swiftly in the wake of military conquest.

They said a "civilian expeditionary force" of Japanese businessmen arrived in Canton "armed with briefcases instead of rifles."

Japanese stated the part included representatives of Japanese commercial houses and banks "come to China to assist in the reconstruction of Canton."

Author Seton a Father, Aged 78

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (CP)—Life began for Beulah Seton, now five months old, when her father, Ernest Thompson Seton, naturalist and author once in Canada, was just under 78. But Seton, far from feeling anything remarkable in that, said today he hopes to have another child.

"I know a man who was the father of a daughter at 92," he said with quiet modesty.

Perhaps there's a touch of disappointment in the fact that Beulah was a girl, for Mrs. Seton said they would have preferred a son.

"Twins," the naturalist corrected mildly.

Mrs. Seton is 49, the former Julia M. Buttrose, and went childless for 21 years through her first marriage. Seton has a daughter by his first marriage.

U.S. TO TALK LANGUAGE DICTATORS UNDERSTAND INDUSTRIAL MEN SAY

By HENRY PAYNTER Associated Press Business Writer
NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—The United States is about to embark upon new international and domestic policies of historic importance, in the opinion of some of the country's most prominent industrial leaders.

They understand the policy now taking shape, important parts of which are expected to be presented to the congress meeting in January, the United States will hereafter "talk a language the dictators understand," backing up diplomatic and trade policies with vast armaments.

They summarized the scope of the program—described as dwarfing by comparison the dreams of totalitarian nations—as follows:

4. Immediate diplomatic and economic rapprochement with all nations in the western hemisphere to forestall further political and trade penetration by aggressive European and Asiatic nations.

5. A swift drive to end unemployment, labor strife, and economic troubles within the United States to eliminate the chief argument of totalitarian nations regarding "democracy's failure."

6. Peace between business and government—without loss of existing gains of liberal social legislation.

7. A heavy industry stimulation program correlated with necessary rearmament spending in an effort to bring prosperity.

While the full scope of the rearmament program may not become known for months, it now appears early estimates of its size, measured in dollars, although large—a rough figure of $5,000,000,000 was several times previously mentioned—is likely to be revised upward, rather than downward.

Early Pastor Helps Trinity Keep 30th Birthday of Stone Edifice

Rev. J. P. Westman Preaches Twice and Tells Stirring Reminiscences; Church Has Near 50 Years of Service

With a half hour's special music last night, and morning and evening services conducted by Rev. J. P. Westman, pastor of the church many years ago, who brought back memories of the church's early days, Trinity United congregation Sunday opened its two day celebration of the 30th anniversary of the erection of the present stone church edifice. An "at home" this afternoon in the church hall will close the festivities. Mr. Westman, who became pastor in 1910 for four years, and again in 1919, that time serving five years, told at the evening service, how another man and he had raised $3000 in six hours for church work after the fire that partly destroyed the new edifice; how the church women had raised $1200 in one day and how that $1200, with $800 more, had bought the present church organ; and gave many other reminiscences of that period.

NEARLY HALF CENTURY OF SERVICE

"Today you are celebrating an occasion that is worthy of note. You have been 30 years in this building, but nearly 50 years as a congregation," Mr. Westman said. He thanked Rev. J. A. Donnell, pastor of the church, and "my many friends" for their kindness to him, and welcomed the congregation of St. Paul's United church, who joined with Trinity congregation for the anniversary service. "Nelson has honored me as much as any place I have ever been," he said. Three months ago he could not have come to Nelson. He could neither speak nor walk. But, through faith, and after a "10-cent cure" after paying a doctor $3 for a diagnosis, he had made a miraculous recovery.

The congregation and he were much closer—they knew and understood each other better—than when he was pastor of the church, Mr. Westman believed. He stated he was glad to meet Mr. Donnell, with whom he had no former connection, and welcomed Rev. Foster Hilliard, St. Paul's pastor, to this "city, province and country."

Choosing as his topic, "Can We Do It," Mr. Westman found his text in Paul's second letter to the Corinthians. "Who is sufficient for these things?" "There is an 'if' in everything. We must perfect the sufferings of our Lord in ourselves. Jesus did not pay it all. We could all do it, if we were willing to pay the price," Mr. Westman believed. During the service, Mrs. James Johnston sang Gounod's "Ave Maria," with violin obligato by Vincent Fink, and the choir sang "Hallelujah," from Handel's Messiah.

SPECIAL MUSIC

In the half hour of music before the evening service, a violin solo by Mr. Fink and selections by the senior choir, were heard. The program follows: Walmesley's "Music All Powerful"; Mendelssohn's "Judge Me O God"; violin solo, Lalo's "Andante" from Spain; "Symphony" by Vincent Fink; Handel's "And the Glory" from the Messiah; and Sullivan's "O Glad some Light."

CHRIST'S SPIRIT BEHIND

Il Duce's Son and Fiancee

or held back," Mr. Westman declared, "but when about 60 or 65 per cent of the people in British Columbia never darken a church door, it looks as though the spirit of Jesus Christ has been hidden away some place." A spirit could not be buried, but Christ's spirit must have been tied for the moment when people on the prairies burned their wheat this year, and would ask for help next year; when fish were taken from the Fraser river and dumped into Burrard harbor; when cotton was burned in the Southern States and then the people appealed for something with which to clothe the poor; and when growers burned their potatoes, rather than take a poor price for them.

"We can do anything else, but we cannot tie up spirits—they will break forth. And some day Christ will break through, and the Spirit will come to all of us," the speaker declared. He urged the congregation to "get rid of your materialism, and to get into the beauty and glory of an untiled soul, or a filled soul." Of course things were not done in a hurry in a Christian life he said. It took years and years to bring about the Reformation, but some day, Christ would break through, and His spirit would come to all.

To get results, the human mind must be released from any limitations. It could not be released when it dwelt on anything material. But it could be released when it was in contact with the mind of God. In prayer was strength, the speaker said.

NELSON DAYS

Mr. Westman stated he was delighted to be back in Trinity United church, in his old familiar pulpit. In 1901 he was in a church on the same ground, although it was not the same building. In 1906, he was asked to be pastor of the church; in 1910 and again in 1919 he was asked, and the last two times he accepted. He had many, many friends in Nelson, he said.

He led in prayer, asking that every leader and person who had helped to make "this church and this edifice possible," be blessed, and asked that "on this anniversary day, may the spirit of God be with us."

He spoke "just a word or two to the Sunday school children in the front of the church. He made the children a doll "just like I used to play with," out of his handkerchief, and asked the children to tell their "mamas and papas that I said God put us in the world to make a heaven."

DONNELL GIVES WELCOME

Rev. J. A. Donnell, pastor of Trinity United church, welcomed Mr. Westman, who succeeded Rev. Newton Powell as pastor. Mr. Donnell, besides explaining that it was the 30th anniversary of the erection of the church, said it was also the anniversary of the choosing of "Trinity" as the church name. From 1908 to 1925 it was known as Nelson Methodist church. Mr. Donnell led in prayer. The choir sang Stainer's anthem, "An Alpha and Omega," and Miss Lottie Annable sang the solo "Open the Gates of the Temple." The offering taken was placed in a model of the church, built about two feet high.

CRESTON HAS OLDEST APPLE TREES E. KOOT.

CRESTON, B. C. — After delving into the records at several points in East Kootenay, it now seems quite certain that the oldest apple trees in the country east of Kootenay Lake are some Wealthys on the farm of Charles French at West Creston.

These were planted in 1896 and are still bearing in considerable quantity. The 1938 crop was heavy and, according to Mr. French, some of the apples measured 11 inches in circumference.

It was surprising to learn that at Golden there are some trees of the same variety, that have withstood the severe winter main line climate for 31 years and are still bearing. In the area south of Creston, Golden Wealthys are being grown successfully on many farms.

ALL SCHOOL GRADES NOW AT CRESTON

CRESTON, B. C. — All six grades of high school work in Creston Consolidated School district are now being handled at Creston after more than two months of maintaining high schools at Wynndel, Canyon and Creston — due to insufficient class rooms here.

This is made possible by the completion of rooms on the second floor of the new high school building which became available late last week. Fred Martello, Ben Crawford and D. Cobbit, the former in charge at Wynndel, and the two latter taking a half day each at Canyon, are now permanently located in town.

The change added 37 students requiring transportation to Creston from the two rural centres, but the bus accommodation is ample. The October enrolment was 340, which is slightly less than the midsummer estimates.

Construction work is well along and the new high school building should be fully occupied next month. When this is accomplished there will be some moving of public school grades into vacant high school rooms, with a view to closing the present two-room primary and Grade 2 school.

Public school attendance at the nine districts in the consolidation was 540 for October, a net gain of six over September. Of this total 229 are at Creston, 62 at Wynndel, 50 at Erickson, 32 at Canyon, 61 at Camp Lister, 25 at Alice Sliding, 14 at West Creston, 29 at Arrow Creek, 20 at Huscroft.

At the November meeting of the trustee board a donation on the per pupil basis was made to encourage Christmas entertainments and the response has been satisfactory.

Gyro Hoedown Is Big, Gala Affair

The whole thing was "hoedownish," from orchestra to decorations, when a large crowd made merry at the Gyro club's annual fall hoedown in the Eagle hall Friday night.

Hay rakes and hay forks on the walls, bales of hay in front of the orchestra stand, and crepe paper in arches from side to side of the hall, gave the hoedown the "right" atmosphere. Ado W. Diebolt, Gyro club president, was master of ceremonies, and R. B. (Jack) Morris was in charge of novelty numbers. Costumes ranged from Alaskan dance hall "gals," to plain "farm-bunks," and cotton dresses and overalls were everywhere.

"Klondyke Kate" and "The Alaskan Lass" were ladies' prize winners, and "Groucho Marx" took the men's prize. Committees in charge, with P. E. Poulin at their head, were: Concessions — Poulin, Roy Freeman, Clyde Emory and Dan MacNaughton; entertainment — Clyde Emory, Dan MacNaughton and Roy Freeman; decorations — D. D. Townsend, G. C. Amson, Dr. G. A. C. Walley and B. C. Poulson; judges of costumes — R. D. Barnes, Arthur Baird and David Beattie; tickets and advertising — George Fleury; door — C. H. Hamilton, J. P. McLaren and T. H. Glover.

HALIFAX (CP) — Advertising sound trucks and loud speakers on Halifax streets would be banned by an ordinance being considered by the city's laws and privileges committee. The by-law would also prohibit construction work, loud radios and playing of musical instruments within certain hours.

Broadway Star Dies

May Irwin, Broadway's toast of the 90's and one of the brightest stars of the stage at the turn of the century, died recently after a short illness. Miss Irwin, 76, first won fame as a "coon" singer, then turning to comedy roles, she appeared year after year in starring vehicles. She retired from the stage in 1922 and since then her palatial home has been a mecca for former comrades of the stage. She is reputed to have made a fortune in real estate in addition to her stage earnings.

Warning to Hunters and Fishermen

Each hunting season, through the careless handling of fire-arms, a number of people are seriously or fatally injured. The law protecting females of big game has been and is still in effect not only for the purpose of conservation, but also in order to prevent shooting at objects which the hunter does not clearly see. Fortunately there has greatly reduced these unfortunate accidents, although each year one or two hunters, generally through carelessness, are shot in mistake for Deer.

Hunters and fishermen have also been warned to be careful in setting fires, and to see that they are put out when breaking up camp, but not withstanding this fact, a number of forest fires have been attributed to the carelessness of fishermen and hunters.

If sportsmen desire to have hunting and fishing, then every precaution should be taken to see that fire-arms are handled in a proper and careful manner, and that any camp-fires are extinguished.

Kootenay-Boundary Pays $1,353,000 for Beer and Liquor in Year 1937-1938

Net Profit of 13 Government Liquor Stores in Fiscal Year $372,247; Rossland-Trail Highest Riding, Nelson Highest City

Kootenay-Boundary residents paid $1,353,282.85 to government liquor stores for liquor and beer in the fiscal year ending March 31, 1938. Net sales to this amount returned gross profit of $435,568.93. With operating and administration costs such as rental, salaries and so on amounting to $63,321.18, the net profit on Kootenay-Boundary business was $372,247.75.

Annual report of the British Columbia Liquor Control Board for the fiscal year showed the Kootenay-Boundary had 13 of the 75 liquor stores in the province in the fiscal year. Although the area had 20 per cent of the number of stores, it provided less than 10 per cent of the province's total net sales in the province, $1,110,458.81. Proportionately, net profits in the Kootenay-Boundary represented 9.4 per cent of the total for the province.

Rossland-Trail riding provided the largest total of net sales in any one of the six electoral ridings comprising the Kootenay-Boundary, $304,061.75, and Nelson the largest total for any one of the 13 stores, $328,194.25. Significant of the amount of district business going to the Nelson office was the fact that, with a considerably smaller population than Trail, its sales were $8421.70 higher.

Rossland Ladies Attending 'Gym' in Good Numbers

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 20 — "You've got to bend down, sister; bend down, sister, if you want to keep fit!" That is the sage advice Eddie Cantor sang to his fans some years ago, and it is surprising to know the number of Rossland ladies who have taken him literally and are turning out to gym classes now being held in the Armory here.

These classes fall under the auspices of the department of recreational and physical education, a branch of the department of education. They are conducted free of charge.

Conducted by Miss Eileen Macdonald, instructor, the lady classes number over 100 members who turn out in bodies ranging between 50 and 75 to twice-weekly classes on Tuesdays and Fridays. Miss Macdonald, who is well known in Rossland as an instructor of dancing, studied the summer course in recreational and physical education at Vancouver last summer and is a competent teacher.

The class program varies and consists of folk classical and tap dancing; tumbling; games and calisthenics or gymnastics.

It is reported two mats and a tumbling spring board arrived lately. These are being used by the gymnasts.

Underweight Appelle Loss Often Serious

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

Lack of appetite is called "anorexia" by the doctors. One of those who are afflicted by it realize how serious it may be.

The various grades of lack of appetite may range from a general lack of interest in food to a very serious disease called anorexia nervosa.

ANOREXIA NERVOSA But the problem of the thin person who has no interest in food, but who manages to force down a little every meal, is as nothing to the cases—fortunately rare—of anorexia nervosa.

These people, usually adolescent girls with unstable emotional systems, have not only a want of desire for food, but a morbid aversion to eating.

One such typical case was in a girl 15 years old. Suddenly her family noticed she ate or drank hardly anything.

REVEALED NOTHING Examination, however, revealed nothing the matter with the stomach. There were some indications of disorder in the endocrine glands and a diagnosis of anorexia nervosa was made.

Mrs. H. Farenholtz, Stanley street, and Mrs. G. Brownell were joint hostesses at a tea held at the home of the former complimenting Mrs. Jack Jenkins who leaves shortly for Vancouver and Mrs. Gertrude Muel, who leaves this week for Seattle.

Among the invited guests to the Birrell-Wade wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moberg.

Mrs. T. M. Roberts, R. R. 1, visited in Nelson Saturday.

Carl Larson has left for Calgary, where he will visit his sister, Mrs. J. W. Templeton, and will be accompanied home by his mother, Mrs. A. Larson, who has been visiting in Calgary for the past two months.

Mrs. Noel Harrop of Salmo was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rieser, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hall and son of Corra Linn were city shoppers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Diebolt, Medical Arts apartments, have taken up residence at 315 Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Helbecque of Bonnington spent Saturday in town.

A. Dosenberger of Harrop was spending money. This is by training children, boys as well as girls, as soon as they are old enough to help about the house.

In making up the family budget, the average father is not disposed to assign enough to wife-saving. Many a mother does not demand it because she fears she might seem selfish if she did.

Even in the well-to-do city home there are opportunities to train the child to share in family duties and to relieve the mother of many responsibilities.

Even though there are thousands of mothers whose burdens are heavier than they need to be because they do not have so much domestic help or modern equipment as the family income warrants.

There's another way to save urban and rural mothers without spending money. This is by training children, boys as well as girls, as soon as they are old enough to help about the house.

Beginning... First Love Often Great Influence On Girl's Beauty

By DONNA GRACE

You know, there are statistics and records about everything, even beauty. Some of the records are not so interesting but we thought you might like to hear the following which most beauty experts find to be true. It is this: "To be beautiful, one must be in love."

This has been going on since Eve's day and has always been the stimulus we need to look our best.

Our carriage, too, will no longer be the careless slouch or scampering steps of children. No, indeed, we are going to walk with grace and style.

These early love affairs are in truth the first steps to beauty and we think should be encouraged.

MADE-IN-CANADA DISHES WILL BE THEME OF SCHOOL

Stage of Civic Theatre to Be Transformed Into Bright, Modern Kitchen

Hundreds of Nelson and district women are going back to school next week. It won't be a little red school house, either, but the beautiful Civic theatre. It will be a school for little girls grown up, and school days will be Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, November 22, 23 and 24 when Mrs. Madeline Day conducts "The Parade of the Foods", her famous cooking school program featuring "Canadian Cookery."

It will be the biggest parade of its kind ever held in the interior.

MODERN KITCHEN

The stage of the Civic will be transformed into a modern and up-to-date kitchen for the occasion, and among the many interesting and instructive features of "The Parade of the Foods" will be the presentation of generous sized food hampers, all dishes prepared by Mrs. Day on the stage, as well as many attractive gifts.

"The Parade of the Foods" is heralded as more than a cooking school program. It has been termed by the many thousands of women who have attended its sessions at other Canadian cities as "a congenial conference of Canadian housewives."

Mrs. Day's arrival in Nelson follows successful appearances at Vancouver, Trail, Penticton, and other British Columbia towns where the school attracted capacity crowds of housewives and men, too.

A graduate in domestic science and household economics of the University of Chicago and Ward Belmont in Nashville, Tenn., Mrs. Day has been conducting "Cooking Schools" that are different in Canada since 1931 making her headquarters in Winnipeg for the past four years.

In paying tribute to the housewives throughout the Dominion Mrs. Day states: "I have received hundreds of the choicest recipes from western Canadian women—recipes which have been changed a little, perhaps, to adapt them to the needs of the average family. But they are Canadian recipes for Canadian families and as such I am offering them with assurance that they'll be successful. Each one has been tested over and over again, and all have been selected to meet the needs of women running their homes on a moderate budget."

"I firmly believe," says Mrs. Day, "that every woman loves to read

CANADIAN COOKERY

By MRS. MADELINE DAY

Apparently there are just as many recipes for shortbread as there are for apple pie—and those number up in the hundreds. But of all I have ever tried, I like this one the best.

It makes a very tender shortbread, so remove them carefully from the pans. And if you have been accustomed to baking this kind of cookie for only 10 or 15 minutes—some people do, you know, try this long, slow baking and see if you don't think that that improves them.

SHORTBREADS

3 cups pastry flour
1 cup rice flour
1 cup icing sugar
1 lb. butter
Blanched almonds

Method: Sift the flour and note that the recipe calls for rice flour, not ground rice. Cream the butter until it is softened then add the icing sugar gradually and continue to cream until the mixture is like whipped cream.

Add the flour gradually, working with the hands until it is all worked in. Now pat out on a floured pastry cloth to about 1/4 inch thick. Cut with a small, floured cookie cutter.

If you want them extra fancy, press around the edges with the tines of a fork. This gives a pretty, crimped-edged effect. Press half a blanched almond into the top of each cake and lift carefully to a floured cookie sheet.

Bake in a slow, 200 deg. F. oven for about 1 hour, or until the shortbreads are a pale straw color. Lift off the pans and cool on a cake rack.

No matter how carefully you plan, there are almost sure to be left-overs occasionally. The scrappy little pieces from the roast that are too small to slice nicely, the ends of the steak, even a left-over chop or two, are good food and it's real extravagance not to use them.

But the question is HOW? There's a real art to using left-overs so that they don't give themselves away, and in this first recipe which we are giving here, you'd never believe that anything so good could be made from the remains in the refrigerator.

Like all left-over recipes, this one is fairly flexible. You can't always have the same amounts on hand. But that's easy. If you have a fair amount of meat, cut down on the rice. On the other hand, if the meat is a little bit skimpy, then use more rice, and I'll promise you that nobody who will ever suspect.

In our family, it's a favorite recipe, and I often plan to have left-

CANADIAN COOKERY

By MRS. MADELINE DAY

We're just about ready for the cooking school and I do hope that you are planning on being there on Tuesday. I know that it isn't always easy to cut two or three hours out of a housewife's day, but we'll work fast, and get you out on time, so dinner needn't be late.

After all, if meals are served promptly, most families don't object to mother acquiring a few new recipes, and we have some this year that we are mighty proud of. They are the kind that you can take home and put right into practice, and every one of them has been accurately tested, so we know that you can't have a failure.

I'll tell you something else. While we've spent a lot of time searching for, developing and testing recipes that would appeal to you because they are different, and new, we've spent even more making sure that they were easy, practical and economical. I won't tell you any more at this time, but remember, you're invited to come every day and I'm looking forward to seeing you there. I suppose the most helpful thing we can do right now is plan a few simple meals that you can get ready in short order, so that you may have the school hours free, and how is this for one suggestion:

COOKING SCHOOL DINNER

Mock Chicken Pie
Buttered Peas
Sliced Tomatoes
Lemon Tarts
Tea

That dinner can be ready to serve 30 minutes after you come into the house. But of course you'll have to start the preparation before you leave.

Get the mock chicken filling ready for the pie. Have the tomatoes washed and ready for slicing and the tarts made.

You can even have the biscuit top ready for the pie before you go. Just cover it and place in the refrigerator until you are ready to bake it, but even if you didn't do this, you'd need only an additional five or ten minutes to stir it up. Here is the recipe for the pie.

MOCK CHICKEN PIE

4 tablespoons butter; 1 green pepper, chopped; 1 small onion, minced; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 5 tablespoons flour; 3 cups milk; 1 lb. tin tuna fish; biscuit topping.

Method: Melt the butter and cook the chopped green pepper and the minced onion until they are tender—but not browned. Blend in the flour and add the salt. Add the milk gradually, stirring to prevent its lumping. Add the flaked tuna fish.

You may prefer to add the peas to this part and serve another vegetable, if you do, buttered carrots would be nice with this. Anyway, as soon as the ingredients are well blended, turn into a buttered baking dish.

When you are ready to bake the pie, set small baking powder biscuits closely together over the top of the casserole and place in a hot 425 deg. F. oven until the biscuits are puffed up and browned, about 25 minutes. That will be time enough to heat the contents of the baking dish and there is your dinner ready to serve on a half hour's notice.

Here is another suggestion that takes about 40 minutes to bake, but if you have it all ready to slip into the oven before you even take off your hat, it can be starting while you powder your nose. And after all, it will pretty nearly take you that long to cut the bread and get the butter on the table all set and ready.

MACARONI POT LUCK

1 lb. ground beef; 1 egg; 1 1/2 teaspoons salt; 1 1/2 cups sliced onions; 2 cups uncooked macaroni; 1 tin tomato soup; 1/2 cup grated cheese.

Method: Mix the meat with the well beaten egg and salt. Fry the onions in a small amount of dripping until they are tender, and cook the macaroni in boiling salted water.

CANADIAN FRUIT CAKE

1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
3 eggs
1 lb. bleached sultana raisins.
1/2 cup blanched almonds
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
2 cups mixed peel
1/2 lb. glace cherries
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon brandy flavoring
1/4 cup fruit juice

Method: Cream the butter and then add the sugar gradually and continue to cream until the mixture is light and fluffy. Add the well beaten eggs.

Scald the raisins and dry them thoroughly between towels. Blanch the almonds and chop or shred them and chop the walnuts coarsely. I generally buy the mixed peel already shredded, but if you don't, then chop or slice it fine. Cut the cherries in small pieces.

Sift the flour and measure, then sift again with the baking powder and salt. Put the fruit in a bowl

MRS. MADELINE DAY

Press the meat into the bottom of a well buttered baking dish and place over it a layer of cooked onion. Then a layer of the macaroni, which has been rinsed and drained. Pour the soup over the entire contents and sprinkle the top with grated cheese. Bake in a moderate 375 deg. F. oven for about 40 minutes, until the cheese melts and the top browns slightly.

Since a dish like that is almost a whole meal in itself, there isn't much else to do but serve a salad and dessert. Salad is easy for you can have the lettuce washed and waiting in the refrigerator, and there is nothing much better than plain lettuce with French or Thousand Island Dressing.

Sliced or stuffed tomatoes are simple, too, and easy to prepare. So are many kinds of fruit salad. Pineapple slices or peach halves, served on a bed of lettuce, with a spoonful of cream or cottage cheese, or prunes stuffed with peanut butter or chopped apples and nuts.

There are so many that it's hard to mention more than just a few. But a dessert you can get ready in the morning and have waiting for you is:

PINEAPPLE SLICES

24 Graham Waters; 1/2 cup butter; 1 cup sugar; 2 egg yolks; 1/2 cup milk; 1 cup crushed pineapple; 1/4 cup pineapple juice; 2 egg whites.

Method: Roll the graham waters until they are like fine crumbs,

CANADIAN COOKERY

By MRS. MADELINE DAY

If there is one place in the world that you want a sure enough, tried and tested recipe, it is when you are making your Christmas cake. The ingredients are too costly to take chances with, not to mention the work that such a cake means.

This recipe is one that we developed right in our own Canadian Kitchen test kitchen. It has been made over and over again, and I can assure you that it is delicious. Not only that, but it isn't very expensive, for it makes about a 3 1/2 lb. cake and costs about one dollar.

I use a medium sized tube pan for this cake, one measuring about 7 inches in diameter and about 8 1/2 inches deep. If you use a loaf pan, it will take a little longer to bake for with the tube pan, the heat can reach the centre of the cake more readily.

With any Christmas cake, the time you need to bake it depends on the size and depth of the pan you are using. Naturally if it is a small pan and the batter is pretty deep, it will take longer. But if the cake starts to brown before it is done, set a shallow pan with a little hot water in it on the grate below the cake. Then cover the cake with a piece of brown paper and it will finish without getting too thick a crust.

You can use any kind of fruit juice you like in the cake, pineapple, peach, pear or even orange or grape juice. And if you haven't any of these, then use milk, but the fruit juice gives a nicer flavor.

Do not remove the paper from the cake when you take it from the pan. That helps to keep it. Just store it in a stone jar with half an apple and it will be moist and soft when you are ready for it.

Line a square pan with waxed paper and sprinkle thickly with the crumbs.

Cream the butter and the sugar. Mix the beaten egg yolk with the milk and cook over hot water until it coats the spoon, then stir into the butter and sugar. Cool and add

DEMOCRATS WON, BUT —

Certain Canadian newspapers seem to lightly assume that since the Democrats still control both houses of congress, the United States electorate at the recent election gave President Roosevelt and his New Deal another endorsement. They assume this by the same easy logic by which President Roosevelt arrives at the conclusion that everyone who questions his administration of affairs is a reactionary. "We won, didn't we?" So Postmaster-General Farley sums up the matter.

The Democrats won, it is true. They could hardly do anything else two years after carrying 46 out of the 48 states. But such a win! Nearly every conspicuous Democratic legislator whom the president tried to "purge" for opposing the packing of the supreme court or the centralization of power in the hands of the executive, is back with a mandate to persist in his opposition to presidential encroachment. Nearly every conspicuous Democratic leader who had the president's special endorsement lost out either in the primaries or at the polls. Among states that voted Republican are some that have not been Republican for a political generation or two. The great block of agricultural states, in spite of the "gentle rain of checks" upon the farmers for not growing crops, gave the Republicans four state administrations. It is claimed that the Republicans and the conservative Democrats together can defeat any surges toward executive dictatorship in the next two years and any unsound schemes the bright boys among the president's advisers may think up to replace those now failing or now being repudiated.

Few American newspapers that reach The Nelson Daily News, or that are quoted in the columns of those that do, pretend that the election was an endorsement of Roosevelt or of the New Deal. Nearly all accept the results as evidence that the New Deal is on the down-grade, and that Roosevelt is on the way out if he maintains his course.

While the Chicago Tribune is an opponent of Roosevelt, its telling analysis of the election results shows just how much of a setback for the president the verdict of the electors has been. It comments as follows:

"Only two years ago Mr. Roosevelt was looking over election returns which were pleasing to the view and sweet to the taste. Less than 43,000 citizens in Maine and less than 20,000 citizens in Vermont had kept him from a clean sweep of the country. Except for them he had every state in the Union. He easily persuaded himself, and the White House pressure group agreed with him, that he had been given permission to proceed at will to make over the government of the United States. He at once undertook to do so.

"The recent election only partly reveals the consequences of Mr. Roosevelt's attempt. Full of self-confidence and apparently unprepared for reverses, he started as soon as congress had adjourned to make his will effective. It was his understanding that he provided the ideas of the Democratic party and that any one who argued with him should be immediately removed from any position in the party and in the government.

"The decline and fall begins there—last spring. He lost Iowa and Indiana. Unexpectedly he suffered a defeat in Idaho. He could hardly believe that Senator Pope was not returning to Washington. He was advised not to expose himself too much in Missouri, Connecticut and Colorado, and in those states he acted prudently, losing, but not putting himself up personally to be defeated.

"Then he was advised and persuaded himself that if he lost more he could not fall to win. In Georgia he made it a personal issue between himself and Senator George, and repeated his experiment in South Carolina. He lost both states, Texas completely turned against him, defeating congressmen to whom he and John Lewis were particularly pledged and renominating the men they particularly disliked.

"Mr. Roosevelt then threw himself into the Maryland primaries, hoping to retrieve his political fortunes by one outstanding success. Senator Tydings turned him back and Maryland was lost. Three decisions in the Democratic party indicated that Mr. Roosevelt had vastly over-estimated the significance of the vote of '36, which had given him everything but Maine and Vermont. Even before the country had gone into the election campaign he had been set back in his own party and the power of the one-man will had been deflated.

"Mr. Roosevelt apparently thought that this situation would yield to proper handling, that the political resources of the New Deal had been by no means exhausted and could be relied upon as invincible. He was ready to make some compromises, as was shown when Governor Lehman was forgiven for his revolt against the principal item in the revolutionary program born of the 1936 landslide, the court packing bill, and was asked to save New York.

"Mr. Lehman consented to run, thus encouraging Mr. Roosevelt to believe that the dissensions he had created could be patched up. With new confidence he reverted to the methods which had been successful in 1936. He discarded the party in Minnesota to take advantage of what he thought was the dominating left wing Benson strength, and he trailed along with the LaFollettes in Wisconsin, sacrificing his own party candidates in that state also. He allowed Curley in Massachusetts and Quinn in Rhode Island to be his standard bearers, although they represented the most unscrupulous politics in New England. He astonished even his own people by accepting Frank Hague in New Jersey. He took the responsibility for Earle and the Penn-

Mystery! Mystery!!

Mystery!!!

From the London Reader:

It seems, boys, that one Crisis night recently a speedy bomber streaked through the dusk over the English coast, came to rest in a London aerodrome alongside a sleek black saloon car.

"From the cockpit descended a muffled form. For a moment the headlights revealed a slight figure and a fair, boyish face whose lips were set in an anxious line.

"Nervously a gloved hand went up towards the collar—as if to straighten a tie. Without a word the car drove away towards Buckingham Palace. Two hours later the journey was reversed."

Adds the Reader: "Several people who were present at the aerodrome when the plane arrived and saw the muffled figure step out and enter the official car said they had no doubt that it was the Duke of Windsor. Were they mistaken?"

Joke

A post office inspector, on his annual round, called at the little post office of Mudville, which was run behind a few barrels and sacks in a grocer's shop.

The slipshod way it was managed surprised him.

"Look here," he said angrily to the shopkeeper-postmaster. "You're going to hear about this when I send in my report!"

The shopkeeper disappeared behind the barrels, and a little while later emerged with a small box which contained some stamps and coppers and two small exercise books. He thrust them toward the inspector.

"Here," he said, "take your old post office and get out!"

An Aviator Looks Down on His Victims

"... I could see dead-white faces swivel round, and at sight of the plane, comprehension would turn them even whiter. I could see their lips drawing back from their teeth in stark terror. Some of them tried to run at right angles, but it was too late; already they were falling like grain before a reaper. I pushed the rudder back and forth gently, so that the bullets would cover a wider area, then pulled back on the stick—just as gently—thus lengthening the swath. I pulled out of the dive about twenty feet off the ground, zoomed up to rejoin the squadron, and started looking for more victims.

sylvanians Democrats, for Frank Murphy and the Communists in Michigan, and received the support of the gangsters and racketeers in New York.

"The election continued the rout which began in the Democratic primaries earlier in the year. Mr. Roosevelt has lost Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Connecticut in addition to Maine and Vermont. He has lost New Jersey in spite of Hague. He has lost Pennsylvania, Delaware, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. He lost South Dakota, Kansas, Montana, Colorado, Wyoming and Idaho. On the Pacific coast he lost Oregon. Some of the states in which Democratic senators have been elected are the states which were on the black list—such as Iowa and Colorado.

"If what happened in the Democratic primaries be added to what has happened in the election, the decision against Mr. Roosevelt is almost as overwhelming as was the decision against the Republican candidates two years before. It is a verdict of "not wanted" passed upon the administration which fully disclosed its program for the first time after Mr. Roosevelt's reelection. He mistakenly thought, two years ago, that he had a mandate for things he had not disclosed. He revealed his purposes—and this year he got a mandate. It is against him and it is plain enough to be read by anybody."

TIME TO DUCK

PLAYING THIRD HAND high is one of those old generally rules which help to guide relative beginners. But if you are opposed to a trump game and your partner leads a suit in which you have more length than he, it will usually pay you to play low when you have no possible entry to your hand except a single high card in that suit. Sometimes the fourth-best lead will enable you to read the exact situation and see just how the low play is certain to beat the contract.

Cranbrook Junior Board Asks Supervision Christmas Tree Cut

CRANBROOK, B.C. — Christmas tree cutting was discussed at the meeting of the Cranbrook junior board of trade, and as a result it was decided to draft a resolution for presentation to the authorities at Victoria to the effect that a government supervisor be appointed, and that a royal assent tree be imposed on all trees cut in the province.

A resolution was adopted advocating the numbering of all motor roads under a system similar to the one in force in other provinces and the United States, which proves of immeasurable assistance to strangers using the highways. Another resolution urging the abolition of the border patrol and police reporting stations at the Alberta-British Columbia border, which are considered very detrimental to our tourist trade and regular motor traffic from other Canadian provinces. These resolutions will be passed on to other bodies for their approval having already been endorsed by the Cranbrook Retail Merchants' association.

A letter was read from the Cranbrook Welfare association requesting the junior boards assistance in the annual canvass for clothing and cash for Cranbrook needy, and it was decided that three members and a car would assist with the canvass.

John M. Sutcliffe, Blondel, Dies In Spokane Hospital

After an illness of eight months, John M. Sutcliffe, well-known Kootenay youth, died in a Spokane hospital Saturday morning. He had been admitted to the American hospital six months ago, after two months in the Kootenay Lake General hospital at Nelson.

The 21-year-old man was born in July, 1917, in Kaslo. While he was quite young he moved with his family to Blondel, where he received his early schooling. Six years ago he enrolled in Nelson high school which he attended for three years and then attended Nelson Business college for a term. He then joined the office staff of the Reno mine as a bookkeeper.

Over Two Inches Snow Falls Here Succeeding Rain

The mercury again dipped below the freezing point Sunday after several days of fairly mild weather, when a minimum of 31 was recorded by Howard Jeffery, Nelson meteorologist, during the 24 hours ending at 5 p.m. Sunday. The maximum was 38 degrees.

After two hours of sunshine in the morning, the sky again clouded up and about noon half began to fall. This shortly began to gradually change to snow and for the rest of the day, snow fell in large wet flakes, amounting to 2 1/2 inches. Snow continued to fall Sunday evening after the day's official measurements had terminated. On the lower levels of the city, most of the snow melted as it touched the ground but late in the afternoon a thick layer of slush was formed, making it uncomfortable for pedestrians and automobiles alike.

On Saturday, 23 inch of rain fell while temperatures were quite high the extremes being 43 and 38 degrees.
