HITLER'S MASTERY OVER CENTRAL EUROPE SEEMS COMPLETE; ARMIES GIVEN NO TROUBLE IN TAKING OVER

Assume Police Duties Answer to Ultimatum at Czech Coal and Iron Centre Starts Hungary on March

COMMUNISTS FAIL TO DAMAGE PLANT ENTRY CARPATHO-UKRAINE IS MADE

BERLIN, March 15 (Wednesday)—(AP)—The German reich of Adolf Hitler today took under its "protection" the home of the Czechs—Bohemia and Moravia—making a clean sweep of the post-war Czechoslovak republic. German troops began moving into the territory of the Czechs at 6 a.m. (9 p.m. PST) as the Prague radio warned the stricken citizenry not to resist the advance. Chancellor Hitler promised an undisclosed degree of autonomy would be guaranteed the Czechs, although it was believed the German occupation would be permanent and would give Hitler a domain stretching far eastward toward the Russian Ukraine which he dreams of making a vassal state.

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER Associated Press Foreign Staff BERLIN, March 14 (AP).—German troops marched into shattered Czechoslovakia without resistance today, while the president of that dissolved republic negotiated with the Nazi Fuehrer for establishment of a German protectorate over the Czech remnants.

Liner Stands By Distressed Ship

CHATHAM, Mass., March 14 (AP)—The huge luxury liner Conte di Savoia reported she was "standing by" the disabled Norwegian freighter Belnor in a howling northwest storm tonight, about 700 miles east of the Virginia Capes. The Conte di Savoia said she would remain alongside until the arrival of the Norwegian motor tanker Gylfe, bound from Houston to Havre. Brief radio messages did not indicate whether the Belnor's crew had decided to abandon ship, a hazardous undertaking because of the boisterous sea and darkness. With her number 1 hatch stove, her cargo shifting and hammered by furious seas, the Belnor had radioed "please assist."

BILL AIMED TO END DIFFICULTIES IN CHURCH DISPUTE UP IN SENATE

OTTAWA, March 14 (CP)—The senate disposed of minor routine business in a half-hour sitting tonight and adjourned until tomorrow afternoon, when it will take up the government bill to establish a penitentiaries commission. The upper house gave second reading to bill last week after it had passed the house of commons. Senator J. H. King (Lib. Presby. Church of Canada) introduced two private bills, one to amend the act to incorporate the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada and one to incorporate the missionary board of the Lutheran Church of Canada and Newfoundland. Both bills will come up for second reading Thursday. The senate also gave first reading to a bill from the house of commons, an act to amend the Lord's Day act

U.S. Senate Drops Amendment on Awarding of Rearmament Contracts

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—United States senate-house conferees yielded to the war department and business spokesmen today and dropped from the administration's $350,000,000 national defence bill a senate amendment forbidding the award of rearmament contracts to firms alleged to be violating federal labor laws. At the same time they voted that profits to manufacturers building army airplanes should be limited to 12 per cent. Meanwhile, the day saw other developments related to national defence and foreign policy. President Roosevelt asked congress for an appropriation of $14,700,000 to be spent in the next fiscal year to strengthen the defences of the Panama canal. Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, spoke in behalf of a senate resolution which would permit purchase of warships, coast artillery and other munitions manufactured in the United States. On the other hand, Rear Admiral Ben Moreel, chief of the navy's bureau of yards and docks, told the senate naval committee that naval shipbuilding yards were and would be "choked with work" for several years as a result of the United States' rearmament program and that the same situation applied at private yards.

JAPAN PROMISES FISHING BATTLE

TOKYO, March 14 (AP)—A warning was issued in parliament tonight Japan would fight over the valuable northern Kamchatka fishing grounds, involved in a long-standing Russo-Japanese dispute. A showdown in the quarrel is expected tomorrow when Soviet officials conduct an auction of 293 fishing lots, formerly assigned to Japanese who have announced they will not participate in the bidding. But Viscount Tadashiro Inouye, member of the house of peers, told parliament Russia was mistaken if he believed "Japan has no intentions of fighting to the last over the northern fisheries." (Soviet foreign commissar Litvinov and Japanese ambassador Shigenori Togo conferred in Moscow but failed to agree. Togo asked the Soviet government to reconsider the intention to hold the auction Wednesday, but Litvinov said the bidding would be conducted as scheduled.)

HUGE FIRE BURNS IN FLORIDA AREA

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., March 14 (AP)—A vast everglades fire was burning over an area of more than 14,000 acres west of here today, sending a pall of smoke over the lower east coast and even out to sea. From here southward to Homestead the smoke was thick, obscuring the sun. In downtown Miami the pall was so dense that visibility was limited to one block. Motorists turned their lights on and the tops of some buildings were obscured. The muck fire, burning the rich soil to a considerable depth, crept to within three miles of orange groves and nurseries at Davie.

Vancouver Harbor Prepares for Visit

VANCOUVER, March 14 (CP)—Vancouver's harbor and liners and freighters moored to the docks will be in full dress when the King and Queen visit the city in May. Plans went forward today in most shipping company offices, and through the junior board of trade and the national harbors board, for a "clean-up, paint-up" campaign along the waterfront. "The Kings love of the sea should make him particularly interested in our port," said Edward Orr, secretary of the junior board of trade. "So we should place particular emphasis on the port in a clean-up, paint-up campaign."

Life of Pope Pius XII

Appointed papal undersecretary of state in 1912, Monsignor Pacelli collaborated with Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, in carrying out the monumental task of codifying the canon law. Pope Benedict XV, who had served in the secretary of state, had come into close touch with young Pacelli. In 1917 he was named papal nuncio at Munich, at a time when half the Catholics of Europe were engaged in a great war with the other half. Three years later he was appointed nuncio to the German republic where he served nine years, preparing the way for the Vatican's concordat with Germany.

"Father of Seattle's City Light" Is Dead 50-Man Committee in Battle Over Plan for Inspection

PORTLAND, Ore., Mar. 14 (CP).—J. D. Ross, 67, Canadian-born administrator of Bonneville dam, died today in Rochester, Minn., where he had undergone an abdominal operation several weeks ago. Word of his death was received at Bonneville headquarters here. A native of Chatham, Ont., Mr. Ross was appointed administrator of the huge Columbia river power development in 1937. He was known as the "father of Seattle's city light" which he pioneered 36 years ago and went on to become one of the United States' leading public power authorities.

Canada Becoming Armament Ring Link Says Douglas

OTTAWA, March 14 (CP)—The government's defence purchasing board bill received second reading in the commons today as the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation group warned against the danger of Canada becoming a link in an international armament ring which was "menacing the peace of the world." T. C. Douglas (C.C.F. Weyburn) said Canada was contributing to the armament race when private manufacturers were selling arms to other countries. "Canada is rapidly becoming an armament dump for the world," he continued. "I say there could be no more serious thing for a country that loves freedom and neutrality to become a link in an international armament ring, and that is what Canada is becoming. The Weyburn member suggested the government was embarking on a policy of private manufacture of munitions and Prime Minister Mackenzie King rose to his feet to contradict this impression. Personalities flew thick and fast across the floor of the house of commons as Hon. R. B. Manion, Conservative leader, and Prime Minister Mackenzie King engaged in a clash of words. It ended with the prime minister assuring Dr. Manion he had no intention of making an offensive remark and suggesting the incident be a lesson to all members to keep discussion on a high plane. The dispute took place just before adjournment as the house was in committee on the defence purchasing board bill.

18 Die in French Freak Train Crash

CHATEAUXQUX, France, March 14 (AP)—Five more bodies were found today in the wreckage of the Toulouse-Paris express, bringing to 18 the number known to have died in last night's freak train wreck. A cow jumped from a cattle car of a freight train as it was being switched to allow passage of the express. The freight train struck the cow. Two cars were derailed and these were struck by the express. The engine, baggage and mail cars and two passenger coaches of the fast train plied up.

Dies at 61

HON. G. H. SEDGEWICK Chairman of the tariff board, Hon. George H. Sedgewick, 61, died yesterday. (See story elsewhere on this page).

G. H. Sedgewick, Head of Tariff Board, Is Dead

OTTAWA, March 14 (CP)—A distinguished career on the Ontario supreme court bench, as chairman of the tariff board and as chief commissioner of the Dominion trade and industry commission ended today with death of Hon. George H. Sedgewick, 61. After years of successful practice with several leading law firms in Toronto, Judge Sedgewick was appointed to the Ontario supreme court in December, 1930. He served on the bench until Feb. 6, 1933, when he was chosen by the then prime minister, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, to head the tariff board. Creation of this board was one of the provisions of the Ottawa agreements passed by the Imperial Economic conference here in 1932. Its purpose was to study adjustments in the Canadian tariff so that Canadian industry would be protected only to the extent its costs exceeded those of the United Kingdom in "economic and efficient production."

As chairman of the board he played an important part in the course governments have followed in tariff matters. His first big job was to study comparative costs of production in the United Kingdom and Canadian textile industries, a task which took him and other members of the board across Canada and to the United Kingdom. Other important investigations concerned the automobile and petroleum industries. His widespread philanthropic interests were reflected by his executive positions in many organizations. Mr. Sedgewick, a native of Musquodoboit, N.S., was named in the King's honor list in 1935, being created a commander of St. Michael and St. George. His widow and two daughters survive.

Vancouver Chief of Police Resigns, but Rehired in Minute

VANCOUVER, March 14 (CP)—Police Chief W. W. Foster today handed in his resignation but less than a minute later the police commission adopted a resolution re-employing him. This action was taken because of a clause in the new municipal superannuation act which makes it compulsory for firemen and policemen to retire at the age of 60 years. The act becomes effective April 1. Civic superannuation records show the police chief's age as 63 next Oct. 1. Chief Foster's resignation today, under a section of the old Superannuation act, placed him in a position to draw his retirement fund and, at the same time, remain eligible for reemployment. He will not be affected by the new act which applies only for municipal employees hired when they are under 30 years of age.

CZECHO-SLOVAKIA SMASHED APART AND ARMIES' RACE FOR CONTROL CREATES DANGEROUS SITUATION

Hitler Dictates Future of Czech Part of Dissolved Czechoslovakia to Hacha; Hungary Makes Demands

PRAGUE, March 14 (AP)—The republic of Czechoslovakia was smashed apart and both German and Hungarian armies rushed across its eastern stretches in an apparent race to clinch control of Carpatho-Ukraine, one of the pieces. German troops, according to a report telephoned from Marisch-Ostrava, on the border between Germany and Czechoslovakia, were advancing through northern Slovakia in what appeared to be a strategic maneuver to block the Poles from attempting to join forces with either Czech or Hungarians. Meanwhile Hungarian troops were marching northward through Carpatho-Ukraine, which until today was the Czech republic's easternmost province, toward Poland. Presence of three armies in the crumbling republic, with a fourth not far away, created a tinder box of the entire region. Germans were advancing eastward in Slovakia while 20,000 Czechs were retreating westward in the same area from Carpatho-Ukraine. Hungary during the day had given the Prague government an ultimatum demanding the Czechs evacuate Carpatho-Ukraine, and Hungarian troops marched into the province long before expiration of the ultimatum—3 p.m. tomorrow. The fourth army was the Polish, remaining on its own side of the border to the north.

BRITAIN SILENT OVER CRISIS IN CZECH STATE AS ARMIES MOVE IN

No Intervention Is Intended, Members Learn

NO EXCITEMENT IS SEEN ON STREETS

By J. F. SANDERSON Canadian Press Staff Writer LONDON, March 14 (CP Cable).—Great Britain remained discreetly on the sidelines today while the latest European crisis led to dismemberment of Czechoslovakia. While a separate Slovak state was being formed, giving Germany another economic and strategic foothold in southeastern Europe the British government kept a close but aloof watch over the changing situation. Prime Minister Chamberlain told the house of commons there had been no instance of unprovoked aggression against the Czechs, he said, who bring into operation Britain's "moral" guarantee of her frontiers. BLIZZARD RAGES OVER MARITIMES

HALIFAX, Mar. 14 (CP).—The worst March blizzard in years left snow piled inches deep over the Maritimes tonight, delayed shipping and in some sections brought land traffic to a standstill. Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island residents dug themselves out. On Cape Breton island, however, the blizzard still raged after 24 hours. The Canadian National Steamships vessel Lady Drake arrived in Saint John, hours behind schedule because of storms at Boston. Buffeted by a 40-mile gale, the lightship Halifax lost her 7000-pound anchor. She left her post five miles from Chabucto Head at the harbor mouth and arrived in Halifax tonight after a difficult battle against heavy seas.

Roosevelt Asks Huge W.P.A. Sum

WASHINGTON, March 14 (AP)—President Roosevelt stirred up a tempest of congressional strife today with a sharply-worded request for an immediate, additional appropriation of $150,000,000 for W.P.A. work, he said, nearly 5,000,000 people lose their livelihoods. His appeal cut to the core of the agitated issue of government spending and led to predictions of a battle even more strenuous than that which attended the refusal of Congress, earlier in the session, to grant the very same appropriation proposed today. Outlining the relief situation, the President said unless additional money were provided it would be necessary to cut the rolls by 400,000 in the first week of April, by another 600,000 in the first week of May and then in early June lop off 200,000 more.

Indian Found Guilty of Assault at Coast

VANCOUVER, March 14 (CP).—An assize court jury late today found George Wallace, 37-year-old Indian, guilty of common assault against Mrs. Emma Killeen, beaten unconscious in her room here on Dec. 1.

Earlier today Wallace was acquitted of the murder of Mrs. Marie Sam, fatally injured the same day in a nearby cabin. He still faces two assault charges and one of breaking and entering.

Almost Crippled With Rheumatism

There has just come to our notice a case of grand relief from severe rheumatic pains. The seriousness of the man's condition and the step that led to his ultimate recovery, are described in the following letter:

"For several years I suffered from rheumatism. I had all my teeth out, and still suffered. A year ago I lay in hospital for fourteen weeks, almost crippled. When I got home I continued to take medicine, but began to go down again. A friend of mine asked me to try Kruschen Salts, and I am very pleased to be able to say I have been on the mend ever since."—H.P.

Two of the salts in Kruschen are the most effective solvents of uric acid known to medical science. They swiftly dull the sharp edges of the crystals—the cause of pain and stiffness—and often convert them into a harmless solution, which is then expelled through the natural channels. (Adv.)

Bigger Bandstand at Arena Not Advisable

Opinion Commission
Civic Centre commission considered it was not advisable, until increased seating accommodation was required, to enlarge or move the bandstand in the Civic Centre arena, stated a letter received by the city council Tuesday night. A larger bandstand in a position at the side of the rink was suggested by J. Spence Newell, director of the Nelson Boys' band.

Revenue Loan and Dog Tax Bylaws Read Third Time

Nelson's 1939 Anticipation Revenue Loan bylaw was read a third time by title by the city council Tuesday night.
The Pound and Dog Tax bylaw was amended by inclusion of a section covering kennels, setting a license fee of "not over $50" for dogs of the police dog class, and of "not over $12" for other types of dogs. Council opinion was still divided as to whether dogs of this type were any worse than other breeds, but the bylaw was read a third time.

May Embrace King's Speech at Trail in May 24 Celebration

TRAIL, B. C., March 14 — The May 24 carnival committee of the Gyro club and Alderman J. A. Wadsworth and J. H. Woodburn tonight discussed plans for a greater May Day celebration when they met after the regular Gyro supper meeting in the Crown Point hotel palm room tonight. Lloyd Crowe, chairman of the Gyro carnival committee, presided.
The Gyro club holds its annual carnival and queen contest on May 24, but as King George VI will speak from Winnipeg over the CBC network on that day, the city has decided to cooperate with the Gyros and make the occasion a memorable one. It is proposed to have His Majesty's speech released over some public address system set up possibly in Butler park.
Members of the council and the carnival committee will meet again next week.
Guests at the supper-meeting included Robert McNeil, Trail and Ado Diebolt of Nelson Gyro club.

Cancer Can Be Cured in Early Stages, Says Dr. Daly at Rossland

ROSSLAND, B. C., March 14 — "Fifty per cent of the cancer cases can be cured if they are treated in the earlier stages," asserted Dr. J. S. Daly of the C. S. Williams Clinic of Trail, addressing the Young People's society of St. Andrew's United church on the subject of "Research of Cancer" here tonight. Three weapons used in modern warfare on this disease, the speaker said, were surgery, radium treatments, and X-ray treatments. Some cases required the entire three processes, while others required two or one.
The meeting was in charge of group 1, under Jack Neal, George Jamieson acted as chairman.

Dictators Alone Plan Economies Prof. Tells Trail

TRAIL, B.C., March 14—In our generation we have no right to receive anything—no right to tell our children that any particular economic system is the best system—but we do have the right to give young people a complete education, pointing out the fallings as well as the virtues of the existing economic structure," declared Prof. J. A. Crumb of the University of British Columbia, speaking on "Planning the economic millennium," in a university extension lecture at the city hall tonight.
There was a marked tendency, the speaker said, for everyone to carry his troubles to the government, looking upon the public purse as the only avenue for escape from his financial difficulties. Governments, consequently, must eventually fall from their own weight, for no existing government, with the exception of the Republic of Finland, was functioning on a balanced budget basis.
The speaker traced the spread of the scope of the economic universe from the man himself, up to the present day when it embraced the whole world. He then reviewed the economic systems of various world powers, and pointed out the significance of the fact that the only planned economies in the world today were in the hands of dictators.
There was a tendency, he said, for people to blame the economic system for their unhappiness, instead of their previous ungodliness, which was the cause of the present economic situation.
J. D. Hartley was in the chair.

Radio Interference Okanagan Complaint; W.K.P. & L. Is Blamed

VICTORIA, March 14 (CP)—The associated boards of trade of the Okanagan valley have asked the public utilities commission to remedy interference to radio sets which they say is caused by high power lines of the West Kootenay Power & Light company's plant at Greenwood, B.C. The application says sets in Greenwood, Oliver, Penticton, Summerland, Kelowna and Naramata are affected.
A point as to the jurisdiction of the commission was raised in connection with the application. The commission is empowered to regulate unnecessary interference and inconvenience caused by a utility, but up to the present, cases of radio interference have been handled by the trouble section of the radio branch, Dominion department of transport.

Trail Man Wins Dismissal False Pretence Charge

TRAIL, B. C., March 14 — A charge of obtaining credit under false pretences, laid against E. V. Brown, was dismissed by Magistrate Donald MacDonald in city police court today.
The charge was laid on information of Ben Miller, store proprietor, who testified that Mr. Brown had obtained credit valued at $338 on credit on March 10, when he informed the merchant that he was working for the C. M. & S. company. A notation was made on the sales slip at the time that Mr. Brown was a company employee.
Brown told the court he had informed Mr. Miller that he was working, but did not say where. He said he had intended to pay off the account on two successive paydays.
The accused stated he was "peddling papers" for the Union of Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers, and was paid $20 for every day he worked. He worked two days a week. Arthur Evans, he explained, had been paying for his room for the last month and a half.
When Magistrate MacDonald asked Mr. Brown why he did not tell Mr. Miller he was working for Mr. Evans, he said that Mr. Miller had not asked him.
In dismissing the charge, Magistrate MacDonald said there was "room for doubt," and he "would not like to have a man convicted on a mistake."
Robert Oliver of the C. M. & S. company testified Mr. Brown had not been employed by the company since last October.

Spending a couple of days in the city after attending the unemployment conference in Vancouver over the weekend Mr. Uphill said he is looking forward to the royal visit.
"But it seems the coat is running out of high hat and formal coats so I'm going back to Fernie to get some," he said.

At the end of 645 miles Walthour and Crossley topped the standing by virtue of a greater sprint total, 180. But right on their heels were the Pedens with the same mileage and 182 points.

Edmonton Beats Bralorne 4 to 1

VERNON, B. C., March 14 (CP).—Edmonton Capitals defeated Bralorne Gold Diggers 4-1 here tonight in the first of a two-game total point interprovincial series for the right to enter the western Canadian intermediate amateur hockey final. The second game will be played here Thursday night.
Bralorne opened scoring as Purcello made Moffat's pass good at 2:30 in the first period. Edmonton tied it up at 9:45 as Yanev scored.
The Gold Diggers held the Capitals to one goal in the second as Bob Graham scored, but the prairie lads slipped through for two more in the third, Bob Graham and Horn scoring.

Old Timers Beat Midget Reps 9-6 in Intoxicating Hockey

By turning on all the flashes of their former hockey talent that they could muster, and combining with it various tricks and formations each had learned in other lines such as basketball, baseball and lacrosse, the Nelson Old Timers blasted the Nelson "Rep" midgets for a 9-6 victory in a hockey tie that had everything, at the Civic Centre arena Tuesday night, in seemingly the season's last hockey game.
The old crocks tried their utmost to outgeneral each other, each having his own ideas on how the game should be played. But they did agree on one thing however, and that was a case of "if we win, we win, but if we lose, we protest," and with that in mind they gave them much needed confidence after their first stepping on the ice they were a bit leery of what was to come, they proceeded to give their all to uphold old traditions and stretch to two straight triumphs they have gained over up-and-coming hockey teams. Last winter they trimmed the Nelson Junior Tigers.
FORMER GREATS SCINTILLATE
The former greats were determined there was to be doubt as to the outcome, and 'twas rumored that they offered Walter W. (Wellington) Wait untold sums to transfer his affections from the youngsters to the oldsters. Whether the Midgets decided they needed a change of management after the recent losses to Vernon, or the lure of the ice-planes was too much for him, was not divulged, but anyway Wait was out there in all his glory. His stick-handling rivalled Johnny Gottselig's and he laid down some wonderful passes.
Jack (Hannibal) Annable, showed that his legs had not given way yet, and he had the youngsters chasing him like a dog in an effort to hold him in check. "Dutch" Richardson, whose crafty solo rushes netted a couple of pretty markers, was another outstanding puckster.
Sid Deslreau, former professional and Nelson stalwart, in days gone by, again resembled a windmill as he swept up the ice in numerous rushes. Although he did not enter the scoring column his defensive play was outstanding. Elmer Gustafson looked a little rusty at the beginning of the game, but he soon opened up and gave the midget goalies some anxious moments.
The O'Genski clan was right in the limelight, especially George, the youngest of the lot, who rose to heights his rival, retained in Nelson, Civic arena. He was really good after a shaky start, and batted out flying rubber with utter abandon. He alone held the fort in the last couple of minutes of the game when his team was three men short due to various miscemaneors.
TWENTY IN POWER PLAY
Slim Porter, who was handling the Midgets, put on his power play, and it was one that will be long remembered. At one count there were 23 players on the ice, includ-

Six Others All of Scandinavian Origin

Of 11 applicants for Canadian citizenship who appeared before His Honor Judge W. A. Nisbet, in county court Tuesday, five were born Austrians and became Jugo-Slavs when that country was created following the World War. The remaining six applicants were Scandinavian, three having been born in Sweden and one each in Finland, Denmark and Norway.

His Honor approved each of the applications. Stan Korack, miner, was one of the five applicants from Jugo-Slavia, formerly part of Austria. He was born in 1906 at Udina and came to Canada in 1930. After a year at Vancouver he was employed at Anxox until 1934, and from that date on at Sheep Creek, where he now resides with his wife. Arriving in Canada in 1923, he came directly to Nelson and now is employed by the West Kootenay Power & Light company. His wife and one child, Mandy, reside at Perusic. Also born in Perusic was Dane Petric, laborer of South Slokan. He was born in 1909. Arriving in Canada in 1926, he spent a short time in Edmonton and came further west to Cranbrook in October of that year. In 1929 he came to Nelson to live, returning to Cranbrook in 1932 for six months and then coming back to Nelson. A single man, he is working at Bonnington. Filip Starcevic of Nelson, laborer, was born at Lic, Jugo-Slavia, in 1890. He emigrated to Canada in 1924, coming directly to British Columbia. He lived in Nelson from 1929 to 1936, when he went to Cranbrook for two years, returning to Nelson last year. His wife and two children reside at Lic, Jugo-Slavia.

Fifth of the Jugo-Slavs to ask for Canadian citizenship was Luka Krgan of South Slokan, laborer, who was born at Sv. Rok in 1898. He emigrated to Canada in April, 1926, and arrived at Nelson in March of the following year. He is employed by the West Kootenay Power & Light company. His wife and three children live in Jugo-Slavia.

While his residence has been at Nelson since 1930, he has been employed at various mines in the district, including the Bayonne, Yankee Girl and Velvet.

His family resides in Nelson, the only dependent children being Iris Sofia, born in Sweden in 1921; and Doris Gloria, born in Nelson in 1930.

A third applicant from Sweden was Otto Norberg of Nelson, miner. He was born at Sidsjens in 1902. Emigrating to Canada in 1926, he came directly to Nelson. He is not married.

Nick Hakola, laborer of Tughum, was born in Kanhaajoki, Finland, in 1903 and came to Canada in 1927. For eight years previous to going to Tughum May 1, 1938, he lived in Nelson, and before that at Revelstoke and Vancouver. He is employed by the West Kootenay Power & Light company.

Father Anxious for Missing Son

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 14 (AP)—An anxious father, Daniel M. Hunsaker, indicated today he might appeal to the United States navy to search for his son, Daniel, 21, and Hector Morrison, a Vancouver newspaperman, who have been unreported since they sailed Feb. 4 from the port of Esmeralda Ecuador, bound for Balboa.

Young Hunsaker wrote his father Jan. 18 of purchasing a 28-foot boat jointly with Morrison at Guayaquil. The latter said they sailed 1000 miles north, only to run aground near Esmeralda, where they were towed for repairs.

Hearing no more, Hunsaker, an attorney, got in touch with state departments, port officials, the navy commandant in the canal zone and other agencies. He learned from the customs collector at Esmeralda that the boat cleared there Feb. 4, but not another word was forthcoming.

LAYMEN ADDRESS CONGREGATION AT ROSSLAND CHURCH

ROSSLAND, B. C., March 14.—The congregation of St. Andrew's United church here heard an informative sermon at Sunday morning worship on the work of the United church in Canada and the achievements of the "Missionary Maintenance fund," delivered by C. F. Daily of Rossland in the absence of Rev. T. W. Reed, pastor. The junior choir conducted by Harold Mellor-Langdale, led the singing.

At the evening service, Stewart Jamieson, a prominent young people worker, gave an address on the optimism of youth.

"Of civilization, if it could be compared with an automobile," he said, "the following the analogy would be true: Optimism of youth would be the gasoline which is the potential power and the driving influence. The maturity of age would be the motor or engine that could take that useful gasoline and transform it and use it to make progress."

Open session was held at the Sunday school service in the morning when Ralph Arrowsmith, Ronald Lennox and Clifford Dally, members of Bill Polonikoff's class, gave brief talks on the story of Jesus according to St. Mark. The class had full charge of the service. Singing was conducted by A. H. Freeman with Miss Yvonne Langdale accompanying.

Under the bill a municipality may take a vote of all residents over 21, and if the bylaw carries, may impose taxation to provide medical and hospital services but the taxation must not exceed $50 per family in any year. Moving Mountain No Longer Dangerous

GILROY, Cal., March 14 (AP)—Experts said today Gilroy's moving mountain had ceased to be a peril to the main coastal highway so long as the weather remained dry, but that heavy rains might cause it to race over the country again.

The advancing mass of earth, a quarter of a mile wide and 100 feet high, still is a half mile from the highway.

The "moving mountain" started its march a week ago, sliding down a heavy clay base from the "Dead Hills" along the San Andreas earthquake fault. In six days it covered a mile and three quarters but slowed down so much yesterday that it covered only a little more than three yards yesterday.

ESSENTIAL FACTS ABOUT SCIENTIFIC FERTILIZATION

Don't buy a fertilizer just because it is a fertilizer and expect it to give a maximum increase of better-grade crops; it may not be the correct fertilizer for your purpose.

Varying soils will require varying proportions of the best standard fertilizers to give the greatest amount of nourishment. This can best be determined by soil experts. When Elephant Brand Fertilizers are recommended you are certain to obtain superior chemicals which are imperative to profitable fertilizing programs.

Elephant Brand Fertilizers are chemically combined proportions of nitrogen and other elements essential to soil conditioning. These are obtainable in varying concentrations to suit your requirements.

Another Elephant Brand product is Mono-Calcium Phosphate, a highly concentrated and purified mineral health food for all classes of live stock, especially recommended for dairy cows.

CIGARETTES FLY NORTH

Canada today pioneers on wings—and Imperial Tobacco products are only half a jump behind. For a typical "flying boxcar" load for the North includes such things as a dog team, sleeping bags, snowshoes, machine parts, ammunition, cigarettes. More freight is carried by air in Canada than in any other country, with the possible exception of Russia.

Yellowknife, the booming new mining base on Great Slave Lake in the Northwest Territories, is some 600 miles north of Edmonton. But, if you fly there, or to any other far-off point in the Dominion, you will find your favourite brand of cigarettes or pipe tobacco ahead of you. Today they are flown in. Yesterday they were packed in by canoe or dog team. Wherever there are stores—on fashionable street or newest frontier—there the products of the tobacco industry await your pleasure.

QUEEN'S GOWNS FOR CANADIAN WEAR ARE SEVERELY CUT

Royal Wardrobe for Washington Affairs Will Be Less Formal

LONDON, Mar. 14 (CP)—May-fair couturiers hint that Queen Elizabeth may introduce some new fashions in Canada and the United States during the royal visit in May.

Sketches for designs of the Queen's wardrobe, which will include 50 dresses and as many coats, have already been presented at the palace and have been selected with the cooperation of the King and Catherine MacLean, mistress of the royal wardrobe and so nearly a physical prototype of the Queen that she can "stand-in" for royal fittings.

The Queen—as member of the Empire's ruling house in Canada and wife of a visiting state head in the United States—has planned a wardrobe suitable for both roles.

At least four severely-cut gowns will be included in her luggage for Canadian social functions. But in a world of smartness in the array of lovely girls and sophisticated matrons.

As a matter of fact, we haven't had a vogue for any definite hair coloring since the passing of the platinum blonde. We do see a few whose hair is this delicate tint, but they are likely to be the ones too young to wear it when the epidemic was on, so who can blame them for experimenting. It's a pretty tint, but requires too much attention to keep it up. Besides, it is not good for the hair to be bleached every few days especially with the powerful bleaches that are necessary.

According to our usual surveys of the shops, there is just as much tinting and bleaching as ever, but it is done so well it never looks artificial. We have now reached the stage of individuality and independence in our appearance. Any coloring may be attractive, if we know how to accent the type. This can be done with the style of the coiffure, makeup and clothes.

Good grooming is the important thing, and it takes minute scrutiny of the whole ensemble to discover the little things that are so likely to ruin even the smartest attire. For instance, the slip that shows. This is always unpardonable; it is instant before the mirror will reflect the fault as well as the good points. There will be plenty of ruffles peeping beneath the short skirts for the coming season, but they will be the crisp colorful contrast in the costume.

Gloves, too, are important. You will never be smart when there are little rips, or dullness from being used too long. If you find the better gloves are too expensive to use for every costume, shop about and find some you can afford to buy.

Vails too must be crisp and fresh.

Boorish... Wife May Invite Husband To Be Rude and Nasty

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Once upon a time, not so very long ago, an ardent churchwoman fell out with her pastor, due to one of those things. She discussed the row with anybody that would listen and she didn't hesitate to put the clergyman in the worst possible light. Naturally her friends were surprised to see her sitting with weekly regularity, in her church pew and one of them, a runner-in, asked her how she could bring herself to sit under the ministry of a man she disliked and distrusted. With a toss of her head she replied: "This is my seat; I pay my dues, say my prayers and I'll be here every Sunday regardless of the man in the pulpit."

Isn't there a parallel here? "My husband has never been what you might call a polite gentleman, but lately he's taken to the most abusive language and before the children, too. Last night I told him that I wouldn't sit here another day and he subjected to such talk. Whereupon he told me to pack up and make off whenever I liked as he and the children could get along very nicely. If I go it will have to be to my family, who can't afford to support me. I am not prepared to make my living and I don't want to be separated from my children. Where is my out?"

It seems to me that woman's place is in her home where her children are, even if she's not on the best of terms with her father. Surely, so long as she does her duty by the family nobody can put her out and she shouldn't resign. With this much settled she should use her woman's wit to better her position, make peace with the husband and get some fun out of life. Pretty much it's true in every relationship that people aren't rude to us unless we invite it. It's also true that by being courteous at all times to everybody, from the hired help to the husband and children, we get consistent courtesy in return. Verily a lot of spitting and spitting has taken place in a home when a man uses insulting language to his wife before the children.

Furthermore, while there are some boorish men who don't know how to treat a lady, largely speaking it's only when a woman sees herself as a footstool that she gets kicked around by her spouse. When she regards herself as a Queen Ann chair he accords her a choice position in the home, handles her with care and teaches the children to do the same.

chops followed her tantalizingly, reminding her that she had no lunch and that it was nearly six o'clock. Setting down her suitcase, as soon as she was around the corner, where she couldn't be seen from the house, she opened her shabby purse, and searched it with trembling fingers. Three thin dimes were all she could find. Thirty cents between her and the city!

Serial Story... CONVICT'S DAUGHTER

By RUTH RAY KANE

CHAPTER ONE

Wiping her feet on the door mat with mechanical precision, Lona Ackerman wished fervently that Mrs. Peterman might not observe her entrance. "Make her see in the kitchen. . . . Don't let her see me. . . . Make her be in the kitchen." She kept repeating over and over to herself in a childish refrain as she opened the door cautiously, and tiptoed through the hall to the stairs. Her heart thumping with much apprehension, as if she had just robbed a bank, she started up, stairs, her shoes one at a time, trying to be quiet.

Half way up she paused, and, clinging to the banister, listened intently. Voices were coming down from above. A man's tones, low and rumbling, and a woman's high pitched and querulous. Lona's spirits sank. Mrs. Peterman was in the hall upstairs. Interviewing a new boarder, probably. And she had to pass them in order to reach her room. No getting out of it now, unless she went back down the stair and out into the street again. The eternal street she had been walking all day. The sickening, grinding pavement. Even facing Mrs. Peterman was preferable to that.

Straightening her slight figure resolutely, she marched up the stairs, her shoulders flinging themselves back defiantly, her brown hair making a halo about her set young face. After all, she had done nothing wrong—as yet! She was no criminal to be sneaking about avoiding people. The worst Mrs. Peterman could do was to put her out for not paying her rent. Put her out on the street again. . . . "Don't let her speak to me. I don't mind kept saying over and over again as she trod on each step. It was odd the way things had been, saying themselves like that inside her head all day. Whenever she tried to plan, there seemed to spring up a little refrain, quite independent of what she wanted to be thinking. Two weeks that had been going on yesterday.

At the top of the stairs, she stopped suddenly, and waited. Standing in the hall were Mrs. Peterman and a strange man. In one hand the woman carried a bunch of keys and her face lighted up when she saw Lona.

"I've been looking for you, Miss Ackerman," she said, in her crackling, big city voice. "This gentleman here is hunting a room and she told me you were thinking of—of—moving. I took him in to see yours." She jingled her keys and peered at Lona through the gloom of the hall. Then she turned to the man.

"This is the young lady that I've been telling you about," she said, significantly. "If you don't mind going down to the parlor and waiting till I sort of talk things over with her." She beamed on him.

For a moment he looked at Lona doubtfully. He was a tall young fellow, with brown eyes that made Lona remember the brown spaniel she had once owned. The hand that held his hat was hard looking, and marked by work.

"I hate to hurry the young lady," the man looked from her to the landlady doubtfully. But Mrs. Peterman would have none of his objections.

"The parlor's the room to the right," she directed. "I'll be down in a few minutes. I'm sure you won't mind waiting."

When he had gone she turned to Lona. "Well, dearie, you see how it is," she began.

"Yes, I see how it is," Lona was trying desperately, now that the moment had come to keep her shoulders straight, her chin up.

"I'll go and start packing," she said, brushing past Mrs. Peterman. "It won't take me long. You can tell your prospect I've decided to move." She even managed a crooked smile.

"Oh, listen here now dearie!" Mrs. Peterman followed her and stood in the doorway jingling her keys. "You mustn't take it like that. I hate to see you go—but it seems to me it would be worse for you to stay on. All you have to do is hunt up a Y. W. C. A. They take care of girls like you, and it won't cost you a cent. If I let you

Greens... Vitamin E Helps Spring Feeling

by LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

Vitamin E might be called the love vitamin. It should be the sort of thing that we use in the spring to regulate our general peppiness, love's young dream, etc.

I remember how the old ladies used to talk down in the Ozarks about this time of year (they'll do it so far as I know, but I don't go down there this time of year any more; I only go down in the fishing season). They would say, "Sarah Jane don't look so well. She's kinda lovesick but I think I can fix her up when I get out and gather me a mess o' greens for the salt rheum on my hands."

It must have been vitamin E that made Sarah Jane feel so much better, because vitamin E is found in leafy vegetables, lettuce, legumes, corn, oats, barley, spinach, watercress, dandelion greens, etc. That is the very sort of thing that the old ladies would get when they themselves a mess of greens in the spring.

CHEMISTRY OF LOVE

Vitamin E has something to do with nutrition and reproduction fertility and the activity of the thyroid and the pituitary glands, all of which have something to do with the chemistry of love.

The vitamins are those factors contained in a well-balanced diet which regulate a number of the functions of the body. They are not exactly foods and have no direct connection with the chemistry of nutrition except as control factors.

FIND NEW ONES

New ones are being discovered all the time. Vitamin E is also now a well-established vitamin. By "well established," I mean that there is no doubt of its existence and of its action.

It is widely distributed in nature. The exact requirements of the amount that should be taken daily are not definitely determined yet, but it would appear that a well-balanced dietary would supply adequate amounts for both the male and the female. But in spite of its wide distribution in food products, it is suggested that many women do not receive an ample quantity of this factor to safeguard their pregnancies and reproductive life.

A full list of the foods in which vitamin E is present is as follows: wheat germ oil, wheat germ, butter, eggs, lettuce, legumes, meat, milk, leafy vegetables, molasses, peanuts, palm oil, rice oil, cottonseed oil, corn (whole) oats, (whole) wheat, whole, rice (whole), barley, peas, spinach, watercress and beans.

 QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. A. E.: "Kindly inform me in your column the effects of digitalis on one's system if taken in tablet form, if the patient has only a rapid heart caused by bad nerves? Would it prove fatal?"

Answer—If your question is properly phrased, I would say that digitalis would further irritate a rapid heart action. I would not advise its use although it would not prove fatal. The reason I say "if your question is properly phrased" is that I suspect if a doctor prescribed digitalis for you, there is something more the matter than simply a rapid heart due to bad nerves.

G. S. B.: "Would the regular use of powdered penicillin have any injurious effect on the body?"

Answer—No permanent effect. It sometimes causes irritation of the kidney, but this passes away shortly after discontinuance of its use.

Parents Attitude Towards Domestic Help Sets Example for the Child

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

We parents reveal unawares much of our best and worst to our children through our attitude toward domestic help. While some parents choose to treat their servants on a level with themselves and family socially, most do not; nor do the help, as a rule, prefer such an attitude toward them.

Nevertheless, all servants in the home desire and deserve to be treated with reasonable respect; they have feelings and self-respect; they have hopes and fears and joys and sorrows, just as we and our children have.

ARE PERSONALITIES

We owe it to them and our children observing us to keep in mind that our domestic help are personalities, even sacred personalities. We cannot afford to cause them needless work or worry, to speak to them as if they were brutes, or make them feel needlessly subservient.

I am thinking now particularly of those women who once enjoyed high standards of living in a cultured home, but because of some one's bad management or thoughtlessness, or because of unfortunate incident to the depression or some

Dog In Sawdust Hole Is Rescued

A police dog which in the course of its wanderings fell into a sawdust hole under the B. C. Veneer Works plant, and which resented somewhat the efforts of a number of men to get him out on Monday, was "rescued" at 1:30 Tuesday morning.

Reading Tuesday morning's Nelson News carrying the story of the obstinate dog, and of the unsuccessful efforts to bring it out of the hole, Mrs. R. Ayres sent her Chin-ese cook to the scene. It was her dog and knew the Chinese, but the problem was not as easily solved as that.

With the aid of Veneer Works employees who were working night shift to fill an order, a lasso was thrown around the dog and he was finally pulled out of the hole.

The dog was taken home by taxi.

Hinitz Is Suing McGibbon, Kaslo, For Car Damages

Asks $165.50; Claims Kaslo Man on Wrong Side of Road

Trial of the damage action in which H. H. Hinitz of Nelson seeks damages of $165.50 from Fred McGibbon of Kaslo, the outcome of a collision between their automobiles on the Kaslo-New Denver road last year, opened before His Honor Judge W. A. Nisbet in county court Tuesday morning.

E. P. Dawson of Brown & Dawson is acting for the plaintiff and C. B. Garland of O'Shea & Garland for the defendant.

Mr. Hinitz was on the stand for the greater part of Tuesday's hearing. Constable R. C. Glicker of the Kaslo detachment, British Columbia police, was on the stand at the close of the day, and will reappear today for cross-examination.

COLLIDE ON CURVE

Mr. Hinitz told the court the collision occurred about three miles out of Kaslo, on a curve, and said his car was two feet from the inner edge of the road at the time. The oncoming car hit his right front fender, he stated. His speed from Kaslo to scene of the collision averaged 9 or 10 miles an hour. Approaching the curve at about 15 miles per hour, he took his foot off the accelerator as was his habitual custom. The McGibbon car appeared suddenly before him as he rounded the curve, some 27 to 30 feet away.

The plaintiff stated he had driven his own car 120,000 miles with only one minor accident, which occurred in his first year of driving, previous to the collision near Kaslo. In addition he had driven other cars.

TAKES MEASUREMENTS

Constable Glicker stated the front wheel of the Hinitz car was 24 inches from the "toe" of the bank and the rear wheel 29 inches from it. The road was 24 feet wide at the point, less two feet for safety on the outside. From the point of collision he traced the tracks of the McGibbon car back for 47 feet, both approaching and backing up from the point of the impact; and from

Kokanee Chapter I.O.D.E. Hears Transportation Systems Explained

Advantages of the bus service as an economical and modern transportation system over that of the present street railway system of Nelson were explained to Kokanee chapter I.O.D.E. at the monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon by R. E. Potter, city engineer and Alderman C. W. Tyler. Financial and engineering advantages were specially stressed by Mr. Potter.

Giving definite facts and figures it was shown that the total cost to repair the railway, which is at present dangerous to operate because of derailment would be $78,000 and would still be outmoded. Points in favor of buses were less expense to operate and increased service to areas of the city not served by the present railway would be offered they said.

Mrs. C. F. McHardy on behalf of Nelson Girl Guides extended an invitation to the regent, Mrs. H. H. MacKenzie and any members interested, to a dinner in honor of Miss McMahon, Dominion field secretary of the Girl Guide association of Canada who will visit Nelson Thursday and Friday of this week on an inspection tour. It was decided to give the Guides $10 to help defray expenses.

Mrs. F. A. Jewett in giving the educational report suggested a grant be made to the rural school libraries and it was agreed to give the sum of $25 for this purpose.

It was decided to partially re-furnish the semi-private ward maintained by the chapter at the Kootenay Lake General hospital by providing a new easy chair, a swing lamp and window brackets.

The various committees in charge of arrangements for the annual spring tea and fashion show to be given March 24 gave satisfactory reports.

Mrs. W. J. McLean of Penticton was welcomed as a visitor and Mrs. Peebles and Mrs. H. H. Pitts, old chapter members.

Mrs. G. B. Benz and Mrs. R. W. Haggen were favorably voted as new members.

LIGHT ON INDIA

Gandhi's latest fast has probably done some good for the general cause of self-government in India, but how much good it has done the little state for whose benefit it was staged, and which as yet has no class of its population in the least prepared for this advance, is a question.

It has almost certainly done something for Canada, in extending a little the general knowledge of Canadians respecting India. To the great majority of Canadians who do not have some kind of a far eastern background, India is one great administrative unit, which is of course entirely incorrect. While a great part of India has now the benefit of government in which a popular assembly is a factor, there are a large number of states that still have patriarchal government, some of them of large population. In fact, there are native rulers of all grades.

The Gandhi fast has been similarly serviceable, no doubt, in revealing to the ordinary American that there is diversification among the Indian states.

The late William Jennings Bryan in his heyday paid a few days visit to India in passing, received a number of native deputations, and soon was telling the world all about the villainy of the British Raj. He felt quite confident Britain was oppressing India shamefully.

As it happens, we are not entirely restricted to the cables about Gandhi, for Indian self-government atmosphere.

Readers of The Daily News gleaned some atmosphere no doubt from the recent Delhi dispatch about the Indian congress celebration which is coming up, in which the president of congress will ride in a car drawn by 52 elephants. This is a degree of magnificence that probably neither Indian potentate nor British viceroy ever dreamed of, and is somewhat in contrast with the example of the humble Gandhi.

STRINGS TO YOUR BOW

IT IS WELL TO have several strings to your bow. In playing a no trump contract especially, you should select the order of events that will enable you to preserve other possible ways to build the extra tricks needed for your game. If the first effort fails, you try the next one, and so on, in the hope that if any of the various methods will work, you are safe. By this procedure you avoid guessing that some one method will succeed and others will not.

clubs if East had led from a short holding. The logical spot to begin was with hearts, where there were a couple of chances to develop both of the extra tricks. So the heart finesse was tried first. When that failed and West returned a club to the A, North laid down two top hearts, but the suit didn't break. Next he led another heart to West, building up his last for one of the extra tricks needed.

When West switched now to his diamond 2, a third try for the needed trick was made in playing the J. That was covered by the Q, and the third chance to make the contract had failed. A spade to the 9 forced the A, a diamond knocked out the K, the club K won, another spade lost to the K and West took the setting trick in diamonds. But North had the satisfaction of having given himself as many chances as possible to succeed.

Fine for Reckless Drivers 'Sea-Fleas' on Inland Waters

OTTAWA, March 14 (CP)—Operators of "sea-fleas" or other speedy watercraft who have hitherto skittered about Canada's mainland waters unhampered by a restriction, will have to behave henceforth or face a charge of reckless driving.

The department of transport, it was learned today, has passed a regulation providing a penalty of not more than $200 to any one convicted of driving recklessly or in a manner or speed dangerous to life and navigation.

The reckless driving offence will apply on all inland waters in Canada, except the Great Lakes and Lake Winnipeg.

Big Brother Oakley

By W. BOYCE MORGAN

"What's the idea?" Tom demanded angrily, shaking him. Blind with anger, Joe struggled to free himself. "Let me go," he howled. "I'll push his face in!"

"I'll let you go, all right," Tom said, his face ugly. Holding Joe with one powerful arm, he slapped his face sharply with his other hand until tears came to Joe's eyes. Then he turned him around, pointed him toward the road, and gave him a mighty shove.

"Go on home!" Tom commanded. "And don't come back, or you'll get hurt!" The shove sent Joe sprawling to the ground. He picked himself up, trying vainly to hold back the tears, and stumbled out of the yard.

"The big bully," he raged to himself. "If I was a couple of years older I'd knock his head off. Just like I'd knock Egg's head off. If Oakley could only lick him! Oh, if he'd just try, even if he didn't do it! Why do I have to have a brother who's just — just a big panty-waist!"

Joe dug at his eyes with muddy knuckles and walked disconsolately home. As he turned into the yard a tall boy with a pale, rather thin face and dark, deep-set eyes approached from the other direction. It was Oakley.

Joe tried to avoid his brother, but Oakley caught up with him. "Hello, Joe," he said. "What happened to you? Did you fall down?" "Yeah, I fell down," said Joe shortly.

Oakley caught his arm. "Here," he said. "Let me wipe off your face. And you'd better try to brush off those pants. Do you want Mom to know you've been fighting?"

Joe paused and brushed at the knees of his trousers. Then Oakley took out a handkerchief and wiped some of the dirt from his face.

"Who were you fighting with?" Oakley asked. "Egg?" Joe nodded sullenly. "Yeah, I was licking him, too. But Tom pulled me off him and — and slapped my face and shook me and shoved me down on the ground. He's a big bully."

"He was just trying to stop you kids from brawling, I guess," Oakley said.

"He was not. He was sore. He was picking on me for licking his brother. He had no business slapping me."

"No, I suppose he didn't, at that," Oakley said calmly. "Well, I guess it didn't hurt you any."

Joe pushed his way past Oakley and into the house. He managed to get upstairs without encountering his mother, and went to the bathroom to remove the rest of the marks of conflict. But before going back downstairs, he sat for a long time on the bed he shared with Oakley, and his thoughts were gloomy.

Why couldn't he have a brother like Tom Eggleston — a big husky that all the younger fellows looked up to? Why did he have to have a brother like Oakley, who was sort of queer and different? If Oakley had come along when Tom Eggleston was slapping him, probably Oakley wouldn't have raised a hand to defend him!

Joe walked disconsolately down the stairs. Tonight he'd go to the public speaking contest, and see Oakley win the prize. Sure, but who cared about a brother who couldn't do anything but "shoot off his mouth," as Egg put it? Who wanted a brother who was a — a coward?

Three Shipping Tags Are Used to Create Clever Bit of Magic

By THOMAS THE MAGICIAN

EFFECT: Removing three ordinary shipping tags from his pocket, the magician passes them for examination.

On one tag is the figure 1, on the second tag is the figure 2, and on the third tag is the figure 3. The entertainer explains that he is able to tell which tag is handed him behind his back by using his mental powers. To prove this statement, he has one of the spectators act as his assistant and hand him one of the tags.

This is done while the magician's back is turned, and after one of the three tags has been chosen and placed in the performer's hand, the other two tags are placed out of sight in the volunteer assistant's pocket.

Now the magician turns around so he is facing the spectators, and instantly names the correct number on the tag.

EXPLANATION: After you have secured three small shipping tags, secure a razor blade and follow closely these directions. On tag number 1, use the razor blade to loosen the small "washer" at the top. That is, loosen it just halfway down from the top.

On tag number 2, loosen just the bottom half of the reinforcing washer. And on tag number 3, leave it just as it is.

Now, when you are handed the tag behind your back, just determine whether or not the tag is loose at the top or bottom. If it is loose at the top, then you know it is number 1. If loose at the bottom, it is number 2, if solid, number 3.

The drawing will clear up any doubt in your mind concerning the explanation.

Rosemont Resident Would Extend Car Lines for Revenue

To the Editor, Nelson Daily News: Sir—Mr. Lindsay is entitled to our thanks for his able explanation of the transportation system. If added revenue is required, why not spend little of the money to tap the Rosemont and Cemetery road districts for passengers. This would also take care of the idle time at Fairview terminus. Why not convert the cars into a one-man job?

The engineer is funny. He tells us the buses are to last for six years, possibly more, but says nothing about a set of new buses when the first ones are scrapped. A vote of the users of the street cars would result in 100 per cent for the present mode of transportation.

Thanking you for space,
GEORGE BATLEY,
Rosemont, March 11, 1939.

Ski Spray

There were some 15 hardy plankmen at the Silver King on Sunday. Fifteen times several six-marks marked the course that they took, up the hill and down again.

The number was made up by 13 boys and two comely skiettes. The first to arrive were Ray Hunt, Phil Hoskins, Chubby Greenwood, Ossie Harper, and your correspondent.

We spent a little time in the bath house at the Daylight mine, then went on up to the Silver King buildings. At the one building that was left more or less intact by the ravages of wind, snow, sleet, hail and similar balmy weather, we waxed our skis and started up over the ridge toward Hall creek.

We had just started a lovely climb when we heard a hail below us. It was the second party with Danny McKay, Dee Desjardins, Hedley Wilton, Ella Desjardins and Henry Stevenson. We waved reply and greetings, then started on up.

Improper waxing had caused our skis to clog; that was fine for climbing, but not for downhill running. We stopped, and remedied our skis with surfaces with a light application of "para"-wax, and glided over the edge of a really steep slope.

Phil went first in a cloud of powder spray, followed by Ray in a smooth swift run down through the powder snow for about three-quarters of a mile. Then they both swung about in a "halemark" to watch our descent and to wait for us to catch up.

I started next, but my run was "nipped in the bud," so to speak, when I piled up in five feet of snow. I climbed back up to the surface just in time to see "Ossie" swish past me leading a long plume of spray. He was heading for a group of husky trees when he was hidden from sight by a cloud of flying snow.

SKIS SPLITS I heard the crash of rending wood then a rather ominous quiet. It was a rather frightened me that hollered.

HELINSKI (CP)—Australia has intimated her intention of participating in the 1940 Olympic games to be held here.

Ladies Out to Teach Men About Curling at Ladies Night Tonight

Watch your laurels, men—there's those women again. It's Ladies' Night at the Nelson Curling club tonight and the fair ones are out to show their hosts a thing or two in the gentle art of curling.

Of course, speaking of curling, the men have a few ideas of their own about the game. It was whispered Tuesday night that after four months' practice, "Scotty" Marr will demonstrate his ability tonight and Alderman Alex Ritchie, after taking pointers from T. R. Wilson, feels fit for the evening's competition.

42 Runs Required for a Win, England Breaks Run Record

"All right?" but a cheerful and rather disgusted voice answered, "Sure." When I sided down to him surface, and of all things, digging for his hat. The sound of breaking wood I had heard was two parts of Ossie's ski parting company.

Finally he clawed himself out of the white stuff, and we got over to one side as "Chubby" glided down the hill. He made a beautiful run of a little better than a mile, then started to worry about the climb back.

Ray and Phil had gone, so "Chubby" followed their tracks as Ossie and I started back.

We climbed back up to the top of the ridge, Ossie using his broken ski as a snowshoe. Once on top of the ridge, Ossie took off the injured partner of a good ski, and after removing the harness, planted it firmly in a snow drift, and with a tear in his eye shuffled off on the now lonely plank. He did very well for in no time he was manoeuvring down the one as well as I was on both hickories.

MAKE SMACKPUSSES Back at the "King" "Briek" Varseveldt, Bob and Norm Brown, Freddy Brunton and "Monty" Montgomery were up and busily engaged in making "smackpusses" on the upper dumps.

A fire was burning brightly in the "King" cabin, so we entered and started to eat. Ray and Phil arrived back just as we got nicely started. They were greatly surprised to hear that "Chubby" had followed their trail, and a little concerned. However an hour later that gentleman appeared, tired and very snowy.

He expressed his amazement that any trail could have so much uphill for the amount of downhill there was to it.

ALL-DAY SNOWSTORM Skiing was rather hindered by a dense snow storm that had started in the morning and was now a small blizzard. The gang came in out of the snow and sat around the fire swapping tales of past hikes, ski trips, and grizzly bear. A lively discussion was led by Norm about this summer's Hiking club.

We started down early, some skiing and a few in the cars. All in all it was a fine outing despite the broken ski and the snowstorm. Another trip is planned for next week.

Tony Has to Show Commission He Can Face Joe's Fists

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP)—Two-Ton Tony Galento, the bear-brawl that walks, will have to prove his physical soundness before New York state athletic commissioners give their blessing to his heavyweight title battle with Joe Louis.

The three commissioners, listening to a request from Promoter Mike Jacobs for permission to stage the scrap here, ruled today that first the Newark Nightstick will have to apply for a boxer's licence in New York and then will have to undergo a strict physical examination to determine whether he is in the proper condition for such a fight.

JOE DOESN'T LIKE IT The commission's indicated doubt over Tony's physical makeup doesn't tally at all with his manager, Joe Jacobs, but despite his hurt feelings, Joe announced he would have Galento apply for the licence immediately and appear for the examination next Tuesday.

The net result of today's hemming-and-hawing appear to be that the commission would okay Tony next week, would give his go-ahead to Mike for the bout, now slated for the Yankee stadium on June 23, and would keep his dignified eye on Galento's training sessions to make sure he did not practice his rigid diet of beer and spaghetti to excess.

Creston Anglers Have Good Catches

CRESTON, B. C.—From West Creston comes word that with mild and sunny weather giving an appeal to outdoor life, the 1939 fishing season has opened auspiciously with some fine catches of ling brought in from Corn Creek, the latter part of February, but with not such good luck prevailing in March. The catch has been of exceptional quality, one angler having a 28-inch sample on exhibition.

Some catches are also reported at Washout Creek, west of Wynndel. With no close season to worry about local Indians are keeping down the cost of living with some catches of char, which they are getting through the ice in Kootenay river. There is no close season on whitefish, but so far no take of this is reported.

Bass is another species on which the season is open the year round, and have been taken through the ice in other seasons by the more enthusiastic, but so far have gone untempted in their favorite haunts in the backwaters of the Kootenay river.

Alberta Hockey Finals Extended as Miners Win

DRUMHELLER, Alta., Mar. 14 (CP)—The speedy Drumheller Miners, their backs to the wall, regained form tonight to wallop the Lethbridge Leafs 5-1 before a capacity crowd to prolong the Alberta senior hockey final series to at least four games.

Leafs, on home ice, triumphed 4-2 and 4-1 in the first two games of the best-in-five series last week and must fathom a system that can stop the four Bentley forwards if they hope to win the fourth game here Thursday night.

It was another "Bentley night" for the hometowners from the drop of the puck at the initial faceoff. Max, ranking point-maker all season, beat burly Andy Young in the Leafs' goal twice, and assisted brother Doug on another. Reg tallied once and Scoop drew an assist. "Babe" Hemming got the other Miner goal.

Doug French's brilliant solo at the start of the last period prevented Davie Pow getting a shut-out for Miners.

"ON ICE" At the Rosland Curling Rink

ROSSLAND, B. C.—Competition is becoming keener as the finals of the Demolition curling competition of the ladies' club approach.

Draws for the balance of the week are: Wednesday—Mrs. Johnson vs. Mrs. Spilker; Mrs. Wilson vs. Mrs. Lennox.

Thursday—Mrs. J. A. Cullinane vs. Mrs. Johnson.

Silverton Migdets Win Two Games From the New Denver Lads

Scotland leads with victories over Ireland and Wales. England defeated Ireland but lost to Wales. The final match of the tournament is scheduled for April 15 at Glasgow between England and Scotland.

The Welshmen are relying on seasoned internationals in tomorrow's encounter but the Irish eleven will include Butler, Blackpool back, Weir, Clyde halfback and Millington, Chesterfield centre-forward, who will be representing their country for the first time.

The teams: Wales: Goal, John (Swansea Town); backs, Turner (Charlton Athletic), Hughes (Birmingham); halfbacks, Green (Charlton Athletic), T. Jones (Everton); Dearson (Birmingham); forwards, Hopkins (Brentford), L. Jones (Arsenal), Glover (Grimsby Town), B. Jones, Cunner (Arsenal).

Panthers Lead Bantam Playoff

The Panther bantams took a one-game lead in the final playoffs when they took the Fairview squad into camp 6-0 Monday. The faster-skating Panthers had a larger part of the play over their opponents, who seemed to be leg weary from their four-game semi playoffs with the M. R. C.

Little Bobby McCormie in the Fairview nets played a nice steady game and was only beaten for five goals as one was a gift to Bud Hesse. Ref Doug Chamberlain awarded a goal to Bud after Charlie Johnston had thrown his stick. Bud Hesse with three goals, Bud Whitfield with two and Jackie Breeze with one were the Panther scorers.

Penalties were handed out to "Pee Wee" John, Freddie Hinit, and Charlie Johnston of the F. A. C.'s, while Bud Whitfield and Jackie Breeze were off for the Panthers.

The hardest workers of the losers were Charlie Johnston, Fred Hinit, Billy Ludlow and Thain. Doug Chamberlain was the referee and Reed Sahara, the timekeeper.

BUYERS AID RECOVERY ON WALL STREET

NEW YORK, March 14 (AP).—Buyers returned to the stock market today and put recovery propellers favored steels, motors, rails, paper, aircrafts and specialties. While gains running to a point or more were fairly well distributed at close, there was an assortment of losers and numerous issues were a standstill.

Dealings were slower than in yesterday's sluggish session until final hour when volume picked. Transfers approximated 700,000 shares.

The market apparently took its lead from London, brokers said, as stocks rallied after an early prediction of larger steel orders stimulated growth of automobile stocks.

Most of the list recovered from portions of early losses and fish funds, tobacco and motor shares were in good demand. Oil stocks were firm, while foreign bonds were very uncertain and transients lower.

Europe Affairs Depress Market

TORONTO, March 14 (CP).—European troubles had a mildly depressing effect on the stock market today. Aggregate turnover was little better than 400,000 shares.

A decline in Lake Shore to 40, new low for recent years, was practically recovered. Wright-Hargreaves posted a net gain of about 10. Uchi lost a loss of about 10. The close was off narrowly for Famous, Pickle Crow, Central Patricia, Premier, Consularium and Stadacona.

Smelters and Nickel boarded fractional losses. Noranda and Waitlamet held to the up side.

Western oils recovered practically all their losses. Home had a small net gain. Davies and Okalta were off a few. Homestead slipped to a new low of 12 1/2.

Abitibi issues weakened. Brazilian was down to 1 1/4 for a half loss.

Wheat Hits Low For Over Month CHICAGO, March 14 (AP).—Falling about 1/2 cent, wheat prices today touched the lowest levels in more than a month.

Weakness of foreign markets, particularly Winnipeg, where season's lows were reached, depressed domestic values. The grain markets virtually ignored political developments with dissolution of the Czech-Slovak state.

Wheat closed 1/4 cent lower than yesterday, May 67 1/2-3/4, July 67 1/2-3/4, corn 1/4 cent down, May 47 1/2-3/4, July 49 1/2, and oats unchanged to 1/4 lower.

Radio Expansion Not Possible if Licence Fee Cut

OTTAWA, Mar. 14 (CP).—National radio in Canada must continue to expand—not contract—if it is to fulfill its purpose of bringing enlightenment and entertainment to the Canadian people, L. W. Brockington, Winnipeg, chairman of the Canadian Broadcasting corporation, today told the parliament radio broadcasting committee.

Reduction of the corporation's income by cutting the annual licence fee from $2.50 to $2, as some members suggested, would compel a policy of general curtailment.

The committee turned to the question of changing or maintaining the licence fee at its present level, to reach a definite recommendation before the transport department announces the fee for the fiscal year beginning April 1.

Mr. Brockington showed today how the corporation had fixed administration and operating charges totalling about $1,400,000 in 1938-39, before anything was spent on programs. A cut of $100,000 in revenue increases and $90,000 for a sinking fund provision not set up in previous years.

Alderman Sullivan said the deficit would have to be faced unless estimates were drastically reduced or new sources of revenue found.

Westminster Faces $230,376 Deficit NEW WESTMINSTER, March 14 (CP).—New Westminster today faces a deficit of $230,376 in its 1938 budget of $1,517,470, an increase of $181,500 over expenditures for 1938.

Alderman H. J. Sullivan, chairman of the civic finance committee told the city council Monday receipts totalled only $1,287,004 while expenditures including civic salary increases and $90,000 for a sinking fund provision not set up in previous years.

Alderman Sullivan said the deficit would have to be faced unless estimates were drastically reduced or new sources of revenue found.

STANDBY WATER SERVICE PUT IN FISH HATCHERY

A standby water service for emergency use has been installed by the city at the provincial government fish hatchery. The city council on Tuesday night approved the action and decided to wait to see how much water was used before setting a charge.

The standby service was needed in a hurry when it was discovered that water was escaping under the dam of the hatchery's private supply, and that there was considerable sediment in the water. Its winter temperature was higher than was advisable the mayor explained.
