Wheat Conference to Be Held in U.S. Welcomed by Canada

Canada, Australia and Argentine Expected to Be Represented at Washington Plan Storage Collaboration

OTTAWA, May 28 (CP).—Canada today welcomed a conference to be held at Washington soon by the four major wheat-exporting countries, weighed down by a surplus of 1,198,000,000 bushels for which no market is in sight.

Canada, holding about half the total surplus, has informed the United States of her readiness to attend the conference, and Australia and the Argentine are also expected to be represented.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King tabled in the House of Commons an exchange of notes between the United States and Canada. These messages indicated that the two countries, in addition to the conference, plan to collaborate in making use of grain storage facilities.

In writing J. Pierrepont Moffatt, U. S. Minister to Canada, Mr. King said the Dominion Government was willing to participate in continuing consultations with the United States on wheat.

He said it was assumed the consultations would embrace such aspects "as the mutually advantageous use of storage facilities in the United States and Canada, as well as all decisions in the field of wheat policy which, although taken by one Government, may have a bearing on the interest of the other."

"In view of the problem of surplus wheat with which the Governments of almost all the major exporting countries now are confronted, and having in mind the altered conditions and prospects for trade resulting from the war, the Canadian Government welcomes the proposal that the discussions of this problem with the Governments of the United States and other interested countries, should be resumed," Mr. King wrote.

The United Kingdom, major wheat importing nation and mainstay of the Canadian wheat export movement, was expected to be represented.

At May 1, the estimated wheat surplus was divided as follows:

United States 400,000,000 bushels; Canada, 565,000,000 bushels; Australia, 73,000,000 bushels and Argentina 160,000,000 bushels. Estimates were that the 1940 world crop of 4,052,000,000 bushels would equal the disappearance by consumption of grain on hand, leaving the surplus on hand no smaller than it was last year.

Announcement of the conference came after a United States declaration of quotas on American imports of wheat and flour during the next 12 months.

Doukhobors May Work on District Highway Projects

OTTAWA, May 29—Doukhobors in the 21 year old class, under the National Registration Regulations may go to work on the improvement of the Nelson-Nelway road (Also see "Doukhobors," Page 7.) At least that is the proposal. An order-in-council tabled today provides for labor service, in lieu of military training for conscientious objectors, Mennonites and Doukhobors. Work on the Nelson-Nelway road will probably be allotted to the Doukhobors.

It is expected that the camps will be in operation by June 15 and will cover a period of three or four months. Those who fail to report at these camps for work will be dealt with in the ordinary way as defaulters.

In the West Kootenay and Grand Forks districts there are 143 Doukhobors in the 21 year old class.

Doukhobors Are Convicted on 2 Defence Charges

George Philipoff and George Konkin, Crescent Valley Doukhobors, are serving four months each as a result of convictions under the Defence of Canada Regulations and the National Registrations Regulations, in Provincial Police Court Monday.

The charges arose out of their arrests on the C. P. R. tracks in the restricted area of the West Kootenay Power & Light Company at South Slocan at 5 o'clock last Saturday morning. Constable Walter Martin of the Provincial Police, Bonnington was notified by one of the guards that the two men were trespassing and he immediately went to arrest them.

Constable Martin also discovered that they had not registered in accordance with the Registration Regulations.

Philipoff and Konkin each pleaded guilty stating they had always used the track, and figured they had a right to, but they were found guilty by Stipendiary Magistrate John Cartmel. They entered pleas of guilty on the charge of failing to register. They were fined $50 for the trespass and $150 each for the non-registery, with the alternative of four months in jail.

Constable G. A. Brabazon prosecuted in Court.

Gee King Fined $100 on Charge of Contributing

Gee King, Chinese laundryman, Thursday morning was found guilty by Magistrate William Brown of contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile and was fined $100.

Gee appeared in City Police Court and was charged on information of Constable R. R. House on May 18. At the request of the defence counsel, W. W. Ferguson, the trial was adjourned until May 21. Following the two-day trial, May 21 and 22, during which three witnesses for the prosecution and Gee and one other defence witness were heard. Magistrate Brown reserved his decision for one week. Constable R. R. House and two young girls, one of whom was mentioned in the charge against Gee, were prosecution witnesses; while Gee Hop was a defence witness. An interpreter, Cecil Nang, was required because of Gee's limited knowledge of English. L. S. Gansner appeared for the Crown.

Gee was charged under Section 33 of the Juvenile Delinquents Act, that he, "being an adult person not the parent or guardian of a child . . . did knowingly do acts likely to make a child a juvenile delinquent."

London Firemen to Tour U.S. and Canada

LONDON, (CP). — Three members of the London Fire brigade who have gone through the worst air attacks the capital has endured are to tour the United States and Canada. The trio, District Officer D. D. Ivall and auxiliary firemen R. Hayzrook and C. Palmer, will tell people in America first-hand stories of big fire raids on London.

Last Winter Fire Chief McElligott of New York sent two of his officers to study raid conditions in the metropolis. The coming tour will constitute a return visit.

District Officer Ivall was a professional fireman before the war. He has been fighting fires in London almost continuously since the severe attacks began last September. Haybrook formerly was a professional artist and also one of the crew of the fireboat Massey Shaw which rescued survivors from the beaches at Dunkerque.

The firemen are taking with them 100 paintings and water-colors of fire scenes in London, most of them the work of auxiliary firemen who were professional painters before the war. Some are the work of Haybrook. The pictures will be sold in America for the benefit of the firemen's fund.

Edmonton to Have Street Car Library

EDMONTON, (CP). —The first street car library ever established in Canada, possibly the first in North America, will begin operating in Edmonton in September, the Edmonton public library board has decided.

Tentative arrangements were worked out several months ago with the city's street railway department after the idea first was suggested to the board by Hugh C. Gourlay, Chief Public Librarian, formerly of Hamilton, Ont.

One of the city's oldest trams, known as No. 14 and not in use during the past two years, will be reconditioned for service, its seats removed and enough shelves installed to hold about 200 books.

The tram library will visit outlying districts of Edmonton in accordance with a regular schedule. It will "park" for about six hours while the motorman leaves the car in care of a member of the public library staff.

Residents of each district served will be able to borrow books from the tram library exactly as if it were the man downtown branch or the one in South Edmonton, and books borrowed from the tram will be returnable at either of those branches, Mr. Gourlay said.

BEAVERS TOO MUCH FOR W.P.A. WORKERS

ELLENSBURG, Wash. (CP),—One of the state game protectors tells this story about a Work Projects Administration crew on a road project. The crew had to tear out a beaver dam.

"They finally had to give it up," said the projector. "You see, the workers just simply couldnt catch up with the beavers. The WPA men worked regular hours and short weeks but the beavers never heard of overtime or five day weeks, and they'd build up as fast as the WPA men could tear down.

Hunt received the ex-Kaiser's autograph after five unsuccessful applications and when he asked Il Duce for his Mussolini wrote to the Chief Constable of York asking if he were a "fit and proper" person to receive it.

When he collected the signatures of the first British Labor Cabinet the sheet of paper travelled to and fro 50 times in the mail before it was completed.

People Can Live With Half Brain

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

CLEVELAND, May 29 (AP).—It is possible to live with only half a brain and still not be half-witted.

At the forthcoming American Medical Association meeting here, two Cleveland Clinic physicians, Dr. Louis J. Karnosh and Dr. W. James Gardner, will report the cases of three persons who lived more than two years with the entire right halves of their brains removed.

They would present a fourth case except that after the operation to remove the right hemisphere, the young woman got over-confident, insisted on walking without a cane, fell downstairs, and died from a brain concussion five years later.

All four operations were done because of brain tumors. The surviving patients are partially paralyzed on the left side (the right half of the brain controls the motor nerves on the left side of the body) but they are able to talk, write and walk with little difficulty.

Thinking, according to reports of brain specialists, seems to be a function of the whole brain but is not impaired by cutting out part of it. In fact, mental upsets, worries, hysteria and chronic palsy have been eliminated in many cases by cutting small cores in the prefrontal lobes of the brain, just behind the forehead.

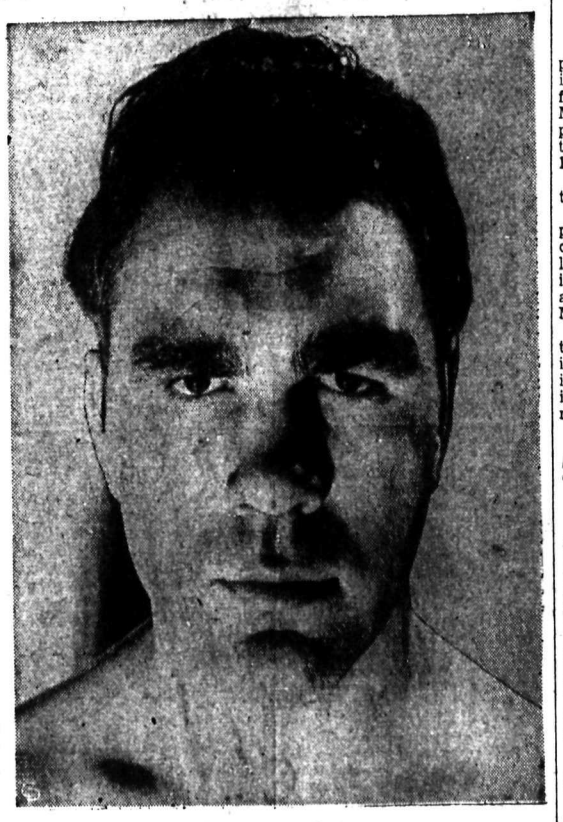
M. J. Coldwell, Acting C.C.F. House Leader, congratulated the government on the passage of the bill which, he said, had been advocated by his party for years. He said he wished the government had come farther and imposed a straight estate duty which could be called a capital levy.

NAZIS CLAIM SCHMELING ALIVE, BUT SUFFERING FROM TROPICAL DISEASE



MAX SCHMELING

BERLIN, May 30 (Friday) — (AP).—Nazi sources said today that Max Schmeling, former world heavyweight boxing champion, is alive, and claimed that he is suffering from a tropical disease picked up while fighting as a Nazi parachute trooper in Crete.

His illness was not regarded as dangerous, it was stated.

Taken from the thick of the fighting in which he participated actively, Schmeling was placed in an air force hospital—presumably somewhere off the besieged Greek island.

LONDON, May 30 (Friday)— (CP).—Authorized British sources said today there was no reason to doubt the announcement from Berlin that Max Schmeling is alive in a Nazi air force hospital.

These sources said the New Zealand ambulance driver's report in Egypt that Schmeling had been killed in Crete might have resulted from mistaken identity.

"New Zealanders had identified the man killed as Schmeling," they said, "but it certainly is possible that they were mistaken or misled by incorrect identification.

"There appears to be no reason why the German sources should say Schmeling is alive if he is not."

Big Glider Fleet Seen in Greece

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

ANKARA, May 29 (AP).—The German Air Force towed a huge fleet of gliders across Northern Greece a fortnight before opening the aerial invasion of Crete, it was reported today by a neutral merchant stranded in Salonika by the German occupation.

"I looked up from my front porch one morning and was dumbfounded to see big transports towing apparently broken-down planes at an altitude of 12,000 feet," this source said. "Then I got my field glasses and discovered it was a glider convoy.

Each transport trailed a cable of which five gliders were attached. The gliders had long, slender fuselages with tremendous wings and possibly were able to carry from 10 to 20 men apiece.

"The astonishing sight continued for hours, the convoys flying in three sections. I counted 299 motorless craft and couldn't help but think what soft pickings they'd be if the R.A.F. got them.

"It remained a mystery to me how the Germans got the gliders into the air, nor did anyone else in Salonika seem to know the takeoff method.

"None landed in Salonika. Supposedly they went to the Peloponnesus without stopping."

The merchant, an old friend of mine, had just left Salonika but requested anonymity.

"I saw 1500 British soldiers grouped miserably in a dirty prison camp outside Salonika subsisting mostly on bread and water," he related.

Census Information Cooperation Urged

OTTAWA, May 29 (CP)—Complete census information in Canada is 10 years old, "too old in these fast-moving days," Trade Minister MacKinnon said tonight in urging public cooperation in the taking of the decennial census, starting June 11.

Mr. MacKinnon spoke over a national network of the C. B C.

"Because of the large number of people in Canada born in other countries, it is essential that we learn all that can be known regarding the birth place, origin, language, and so on, of our population," Mr. MacKinnon said.

The 1941 census would advise as to housing conditions in the Dominion and provide data for a housing plan which might be instituted in Canada as an aid to post war reconstruction.

"Counter Attacks" Begin as Planes Pound at Germans

30,000 Germans and Air Force Combine to Push Allies From Western Crete; Both Sides Suffer Heavy Losses

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP).—The British Broadcasting Corporation in a French-language broadcast heard tonight by CBS said it had received a report that British reinforcements in men and material have arrived in Crete and "attacks are being answered with counter attacks."

The BBC said that report was contained in a Reuters dispatch from Cairo.

By EDWARD KENNEDY—Associated Press Staff Writer

CAIRO, May 29 (AP).—The combination of 30,000 German troops and the Air Force dislodged the weary British and Greek forces from Western Crete today and destroyed a third British cruiser in Suda Bay, now in German hands.

All the while, British bombers and long-range fighters, operating from the Egyptian mainland, were striking back at the German air fleet which now crowds the Western end of Crete.

A Royal Air Force communique gave some idea of the magnitude of this invading air army when it reported successful attacks Tuesday night on more than 100 German planes on the beaches of Northwest Crete alone.

The Air Force also gave its version of yesterday's bombing of the Tunisian harbor of Sfax which the Vichy Government said it was protesting.

The Air Force said it attacked an Italian convoy seeking shelter in the port and hit a ship of about 10,000 tons which exploded with such force as to indicate it was loaded with munitions.

On the 10th day of their invasion, the German air-borne army, swollen by reinforcements, fought Eastward from the shores of the Bay, counter-attacked again and again by the retreating defenders. The struggle was as fierce as any in this war, and on both sides the losses were large.

The Axis claimed the capture of Candia, largest city of Crete and mid-way of the Island's 160-mile Northern coastal belt, and the arrival by sea of Italian troops in Eastern Crete, claims which were not confirmed by Britain.

Dive bombers, in endless assaults, destroyed in Suda Bay the 8250-ton cruiser York as she lay crippled and under intermittent repair. All but seven of her 600-man crew—two dead and five wounded—got away unscathed, the Admiralty announced.

Shortly thereafter the Middle East Command announced: "Our troops have withdrawn to positions East of Suda Bay."

The Germans already held the bomb-ruined capital of Canea, which lies across a narrow neck of land just West of Suda Bay, and the airport of Malemi, 10 miles Southwest of Canea.

Possession of the bay itself gave the Germans a possible bridgehead for sea-borne reinforcements. Until now, Malemi and the nearby beaches have formed the main gateway for the airborne invaders.

So far few Axis troops have landed by sea. The British forces have received some sea-borne help.

Britons, Australians and New Zealanders, with their Greek and Cretan allies, made several counter-attacks that cost the Germans many lives, but they were forced slowly back by sheer weight of numbers.

Despite the German advance the territory they hold is but a small fraction of the island area, consisting, so far as is known here, of a strip along the North coast from Malemi to an undesiganted new line East of Suda Bay.

The steep and cavernous mountains of the interior offer good defensive positions.

CAIRO, Egypt, May 29 (AP).— Capture of Khanuota, Iraq, halfway between Fallujah and Baghdad, was reported today by the Royal Air Force.

LONDON, May 29 (CP). — Axis forces driving across the Libyan-Egyptian frontier on a 30-mile front have been halted by British troops after occupying Halfaya Pass South of the border post of Salum, Reuters News Agency said today.

The only movements reported today around Salum were those of patrols.

In Ethiopia, British forces were clearing the roads from Dessie to Gondar and from Dessie to Assab. In the South, patriot forces were said to have surrounded Bako, in the lakes region.

BELIEVE JAPAN MAY WEAKEN TOWARD AXIS

Win Over British Claimed by Iraq

BAGHDAD, May 29 (AP). — More than 350 British Imperial troops were killed or wounded today in a fierce battle in Western Iraq and in artillery bombardment of British positions in the Persian Gulf region, the Iraqi Government claimed tonight.

(This claim was not immediately commented on in Cairo.)

Without locating the scene of the Western fighting, it asserted the 300 men were lost in a desperate struggle. The Britons counter-attacked but were beaten off again with new heavy losses.

The British forces left 50 dead or wounded on the field after an Iraqi shelling of the British positions at Maqil, in the South, the communique claimed.

Cranbrook Entertains Tourist Heads of Prairies; Welcomed by Minister

CRANBROOK, B. C., May 29—Thirty Alberta and Saskatchewan tourist directors who arrived in Cranbrook Thursday night in the course of a tour designed to acquaint them with "the glories of this section of British Columbia" so they might go home and describe them, were entertained at a banquet tendered tonight by the British Columbia Department of Trade and Industrial Extension. Major Gordon Smith, Commissioner of the B. C. Travel Bureau, welcomed the visitors.

Hon. C. S. Leary, Minister of Public Works, declared Alberta meant much to British Columbia's prosperity. He stated 1400 miles of road had already been paved and additional surfacing was under way.

"B. C.'s highways are rugged, but they take you to scenes that are always different and always interesting." The Minister said, "if tourists pay attention to the road signs they have nothing to fear."

Mr. Leary emphasized that B. C.'s tourist highways of today might become the military roads of tomorrow, and that the Province had stressed the necessity of preparing for this eventuality.

The Minister was introduced by Arnold McGrath, M.L.A., for Cranbrook, who spoke of the widely diversified industry of the district—mining, lumbering, agriculture, coal and the tourist business.

Visitors were welcomed by Mayor A. J. Balment of Cranbrook; C. J. Little, President of the Cranbrook Board; R. B. McLeod, President of the Kimberley Board; Frank Putnam, M.L.A., for Nelson-Creston; Dr. C. H. Wright of the Trail Board of Trade and J. V. Rewers of the Fernie Board.

S. F. D. Roe of Red Deer, formerly of Cranbrook, urged the tourist directors to specialize, to send each tourist to the district in which he would find what he wanted, and Eric Ramsden, Nelson, of hunting and fishing in the Kootenays.

George N. Hunt of Calgary, representing Alberta radio stations, declared British Columbia's own residents were the worst offenders in decrying road conditions and urged a campaign to educate them that the roads were not as bad as painted.

Emphasis that winning the war must come first marked the addresses of H. R. Banks of Kimberley, Consolidated Concentrator Superintendent; Dr. Wright, Mr. Little, Mr. Rewers and Mr. McLeod.

E. R. J. Forster of Lethbridge, Branch Manager of the Alberta Motor Association, introduced the visitors. Their appreciation was voiced by G. W. McLean of Edmonton, a director of the Alberta Hotels Association, and Ralph Edwards of the Dominion Government Information Bureau at Banff National Park.

Rossland Cadets Please Reviewer

ROSSLAND, B. C., May 29—"I am well pleased with what I have seen this afternoon. It is difficult to realize that these Corps are the same as those I inspected in September. There has been a tremendous improvement and they evidently have worked very hard to accomplish what they have done."

These were the words used by Major W. R. Critchley from M.D. No. 11 Headquarters at Victoria, when he had reviewed at the MacLean school grounds over 200 members of the Rossland Junior-Senior High School Cadets Corps. Accompanying Major Critchley was Serg.-Maj. C. N. Henry.

Seven platoons passed before the reviewing stand, and of these three were composed of boys and four of girls. The boys' platoon are commanded by Mike Johnson, Chesty Lenarduzzi, and Earl Martin; and the girls' by Irene Beguin, Margaret Wright, Marion Fertich and Ilda Agazzi. The unit formed by the boys' platoons is known as "A" Company, commanded by Jack Lees; and the girls' platoons or "B" Company is commanded by Alouize Mara. For the purposes of the Cadet organization these last two named hold the rank of Captain. James Wright Jr., holds the rank of battalion commander. The entire Cadet Corps project at the school is supervised by Captain Wesley McKenzie, Principal and Officer Commanding; with H. E. Smith, industrial arts instructor, second in command.

Major Critchley commented that this was the 66th inspection which he and Serg.-Maj. Henry had made since April 1, 1941 and they still had another 2500 miles to travel in urban and another 2500 miles to travel in further inspecitons throughout the Province.

In addition to review by the officers while at attention, and a general march past the reviewing stand, the battalion exhibited their knowledge of Section Drill, Rifle Drill, Physical Drill, Company Drill Platoon Drill, First Aid, and Signalling, as well as performing Battalion Drill, and a mass march past in Column of platoons, march past in columns of route and an advance in review order.

Trail Cadets Win Praise at Review

TRAIL, B.C., May 29—Major W. B. Crichley, of Military District No. 11, reviewed the Trail-Tadanac High School Cadet Corps at Butler Park, Thursday morning, afterward stating the corps was one of the smartest and best turned out units he had inspected. Sgt. Maj. Henry, also of Victoria, was with Maj. Crichley.

Principal A. E. Allison of the high school, and G. F. Reimann, President of the Trail Branch No 11, Canadian Legion, attended the inspection, and the high school pupils were given a recess to enable them to attend the review.

Major Crichley told the three companies that he was proud of the way they had carried out their drill, and was impressed with their steadiness on parade. "The officers and N.C.O.'s also made a very good showing" he said.

The Corps went through battalion formation, company drill, platoon drill, group games, and physical drill. One platoon gave a signalling demonstration and another a first air demonstration. Moir McLagan assisted by R. H. Lowe, both members of the high school teaching staff, instructed and trained the corps.

Germany Must Not Again Be Allowed to Disrupt World Peace Says Eden

LONDON, May 29 (CP)—Foreign Secretary Eden, in his first comprehensive statement on Britain's war political and military terms of peace will be signed to prevent a repetition of Germany's misdeeds."

Mr. Eden said that "under the system of free economic cooperation, Germany must play a part. But here I draw a firm distinction

"We must never forget that Germany is the worst master Europe has yet known. Five times in the last century she has violated the peace. She must never be in a position to play that role again."

Mr. Eden, addressing a London audience, termed President Roosevelt's speech Tuesday night "a momentous world event" because "by his words, the President has given resolute expression to the fixed determination of the most powerful nation on earth."

He asserted "a lasting settlement and internal peace of the continent as a whole is our only aim."

"It is obvious," the Foreign Secretary said, "that we have no motive of self-interest prompting us to economic exploitation either of Germany or of the rest of Europe.

"This is not what we want nor what we could perform. . . .

"Only our victory can restore both to Europe and to the world that freedom which is our heritage for centuries of Christian civilization and that security which alone can make possible the betterment of man's lot upon earth."

"We can not now foresee when the end will come. But it is the nature of a machine so rigid as the German to break suddenly and with little warning. When it comes the need of succor to European peoples will be urgent."

The Foreign Secretary, returning to the European situation declared it would be "foolish to belittle Hitler's conquest of a greater part of the continent of Europe."

"It is this man and his satellites, all except the Deputy Fuehrer (Rudolf Hess) now otherwise engaged, who control the lives and liberties of all who dwell in these vast territories . . . yet this vast and sinister fabric will not endure."

"We have declared that social security must be the first object of our domestic policy after the war," he said. "And social security will be our policy abroad not less than at home."

DID YOU TAKE A LAXATIVE TODAY?

Do you really know why constipation is so harmful?

You probably know that constipation sets up poisons in the large intestine or colon. But do you know that these poisons seep through the walls of the colon and infect the bloodstream? They set up toxic accumulations in kidneys and liver and are contributing causes of rheumatic pains, sciatica and backache.

Most laxatives only act in the colon. Kruschen does more. It is the laxative with a double action. Besides ridding the colon of stagnating waste matter, Kruschen's mineral salts have a diuretic action. They flush the kidneys, help to clear the bloodstream of all poisonous matter, and so protect your whole system from that form of infection.

Gasless Sundays May Come to U. S.

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—Interior Secretary Harold Ickes today advocated daylight saving in the United States on a nation-wide scale and suggested the country may have to resort to restricted use of electricity and institute "gasless Sundays" to meet shortages of power and oil.

The statement came as an official of the Federal Power Commission foresaw a power emergency, "perhaps the most serious in history," and revealed studies were being made on means of diverting power from civilian to industrial uses, to prevent interruption of defence production.

U.S. May Oust Axis Airlines From South America

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 29 (CP)—The United States Government, through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, may attempt to drive German and Italian airlines from South America where they criss-cross in a veritable maze of domination.

Alarmed at the dominant position of Axis airlines in South America, which not only prejudice Pan-American trade relations but constitute a threat to the strategic defence of the Western Hemisphere, the R.F.C. may subsidize existing American services to drive the Axis lines from the air or establish new companies.

Eight airlines owned by German and Italian interests operate without hindrance over routes totalling 21,762 miles, touching even remote sections of South America where commercial services cannot be justified. Pilots are reserve oficers of the German and Italian air forces and, it is believed here, cogs in the espionage and propaganda machines of the Axis powers.

There were nine Axis airlines in South America until a few weeks ago when Bolivia expropriated a German service which held an exclusive franchise in that republic.

New Order or Fall of Civilization, Says Japanese Minister

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka declared today that the present world crisis must end either in destruction of modern civilization or in establishment of a new world order, Domei, Japanese News Agency, reported in a radio broadcast.

TOKYO, May 29 (AP)—German Ambassador Eugen Ott conferred for more than an hour today with Japanese Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka and their subject matter was reliably understood to have been President Roosevelt's fireside chat.

The British Ambassador, Sir Robert Leslie Craigie, talked with Matsuoka, also for more than an hour, after the Matsuoka-Ott conference, but the nature of this conference was not disclosed.

CRESTON SPORTS SHOP ENLARGED

CRESTON, B.C.—The year's first building permit for enlargement of premises in the business section has been issued to Vic Mawson, who has carpenters at work putting a 28x24 foot addition to his sports shop. It is authoritatively stated the new home will be occupied by the C.P.R. section foreman on the East side of Creston, and as soon as it is completed the present, and original section boss' residence will be taken down and the land on which it stands along with a quite extensive garden, will be used to provide additional trackage due the needs of the new 90-96-foot two story pea cleaning and fumigating plant, now under construction on a site next the cold storage plant of Creston Co-Operative Fruit Exchange.

'Nazis Didn't Seem to Care How They Landed Parachutists Over Crete'

LONDON, May 29 (CP)—There were few moments in the battle for Crete "when we weren't being bombed, machine-gunned or being descended upon by German parachutists," Royal Air Force officers just returned to Egypt from Crete said today in interviews with Edward Ward, British Broadcasting Corporation observer with the Imperial Forces in the Middle East.

Ward's account was broadcast by the BBC.

One officer told Ward that on the first day of the attack German bombers and fighter planes "gave us a terrific strafing."

"Next day came the parachutists," he said. "The planes carrying them were only about 200 feet up and as soon as they got over land the parachutists started to jump. But they didn't allow for the height of a hill and lots of the poor devils were dropped only a few feet from the ground."

He said some of the parachute troops had stained their hands and faces green, and told of the use of white and red signal lights for communication between them. One parachutist captured by the British "was a big, strapping fellow whose nerves seemed just shot to pieces."

"After the first troop carrying planes arrived at the island they carried out a complete taxi service," the officer continued.

"They didn't seem to care how they landed—some crash-landed on the field and some landed in the water. They must have landed 5000 troops that day."

He described how he and some of his fellow Air Force men made their way to the Cretan capital.

Some of our fellows joined up with a bunch of Maoris (native New Zealand troops) and went into a bayonet attack with them. Some of our boys had hardly handled a rifle before but they put up a marvellous show.

"But you should have seen the Maoris. They were terrific. They just seemed to laugh at wounds."

A Royal Air Force observer told Ward how Germans in gliders landed in an R.A.F. camp.

"They captured 40 of our men and officers," he said, "and then drove them ahead of them with their hands up toward some Australians.

"The Germans shouted to the Australians to surrender but the Australians just held their ground. Then, suddenly, at a signal from an R.A.F. officer, all the prisoners ducked and rolled down the hill. The Australians fired over their heads and got all the Germans"

The observer said parachutes were used to drop extra equipment for the parachute troops, such as guns, ammunition, bombs, trench mortars, hand grenades, food and wireless sets.

Air Cadet League to Swing Into Operation at Beginning of Week

OTTAWA, May 29 (CP)—The Air Cadet League of Canada, aimed at providing a grounding in air force training for boys too young to enter the force, will begin functioning as a national organization next Monday.

"We are ready to operate now, and feel that we have the organization in proper shape," said George B. Foster, K.C., of Montreal who accepted presidency of the League last Fall at the request of Air Minister Power.

"I think we can anticipate at least 25,000 cadets enrolled by next September, possibly a great deal more. . . ."

Next Monday and Tuesday delegates from all parts of Canada will gather at air cadet headquarters here to set the League in motion. The Earl of Athlone is patron and Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, Director of Royal Canadian Air Force recruiting, is Honorary President.

While the cadet movement will be administered by civilians, it will be under control and inspection of the R.C.A.F. there will be two sections to the movement, senior for boys 15 to 18 and unior for boys 12 to 15, but it has been said the intension is to form a junior unit only in connection with a senior.

Wearing uniforms which in most respects resemble those of officers and airmen of the R.C.A.F., the cadets will undergo basic training in the ground and technical features of aviation, elementary drill and physical training, games and boxing.

Germans Ruthlessly Machine-Gun Civilians as They Destroy Crete

LONDON, May 29 (CP) — Prime Minister Emmanuel Tsouderos of Greece, now somewhere in the Middle East, informed his legation in London today that German bombers had so hammered the Crete cities of Canea, Heraclean (Candia) and Retimo that there was "not one stone left sanding."

Tsouderos said the German raiders "ruthlessly machine-gunned" the civilian population, including children.

Raging fires, he declared, completed the work of destruction started by high explosives.

He said he "hoped to be able to make the announcement before adjournment.

"It won't be made at a calf auction?" asked Conservative House Leader Hanson amid laughter.

"That depends what my honorable friend regards as calves," replied the Prime Minister.

W. Point Guides Send Clothes to British Kiddies

Willow Point Girl Guide Company, recently reorganized, is busily engaged preparing new members for enrollment in Tenderfoot work and nature study, and furthering their work in the Guides' national war effort.

Working throughout the Winter months, the Guides were able to make a large contribution of knitted and sewn articles for children in Britain. A recent shipment included one baby blanket, seven pairs of sox, three pairs knitted woollen panties, four print dresses and panty sets, two frocks, six baby jackets, one pair of pyjamas, seven crib quilts, one large quilt, and one petticoat. The quilts were made entirely by girls aged eight to ten years, the remainder of the knitting and sewing being done by four older Guides. The large quilt contained 400 squares. Mrs. J. Learmonth, Leader, supervised all the work.

The Company, depleted by the removal of several members was recently reorganized and eight new members were enrolled. The older Guides have been holding up their First Class work to help instruct the newcomers in their Tenderfoot work. With the advent of Spring the Company has turned to nature studies, and at the past two weekly meetings members have brought specimens and given a talk on each subject.

HAM SALAD

Two hard boiled eggs, 1½ cups cooked ham, 1½ cups celery, ½ cup cream, ¼ cup mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons horse-radish.

Combine diced celery and diced ham. Whip cream, fold in mayonnaise and grated horseradish, add a dash of pepper; fold in ham and celery. Line plates with crisp lettuce and watercress, pile ham mixture in center, garnish with slices of hard boiled eggs and slices of stuffed olives. Serves 4 or 5.

PEANUT MACAROONS

1 cup pecan or other nut meats, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 egg white, ¼ tsp. salt.

Scald nut meats, by pouring hot water over them, drain and chop coarsely. Be sure brown sugar is free from lumps, then measure by packing well into cup. Grease the baking sheet. Set oven at 300 degrees F. Break egg white into mixing bowl, add salt, and beat until it stands up in peaks. Add brown sugar 1 tablespoon at a time, beating in each spoonful before adding the next, then fold in pecans. Drop from tip of spoon onto prepared baking sheet and bake until nicely brown and firm—15 or 20 minutes. Remove from sheet at once and put on cake rack to cool.

Miss M. Dyck Is Crushed by Car Granville Street

An auto that backed over the curb crushed Miss M. Dyck of 1086 West Tenth Street, Vancouver, against the wall of a store in the 900 block Granville Street, at 7:15 p.m., last Friday. Miss Dyck was formerly of Nelson, having been nurse to the late Mrs. Mary Kerr. She left Nelson a few months ago for the Coast where she had been practising up to the time of her accident.

Miss, Dyck and another woman were standing on the sidewalk when the auto, driven by a 16-year-old boy, moved backwards along the roadway, then swerved suddenly and jumped the curb.

Plate glass windows on both sides of the entrance of a stort front nearby were shattered by the machine. Miss Dyck suffered one broken leg, while the ligaments of the other were badly torn. Her friend, however, who was also knocked down, escaped uninjured.

Miss Dyck's condition is described as critical, and she is at present in Ward "R" of the Vancouver General Hospital. Frank Dyck, Rosemont, is a brother, and has already left for the Coast.

Sparkle . . .

Model Is Strong on Health Note

By ALICE WADE ROBINSON

Whether or not a woman happens to look beautiful to you depends of course, on what you look for in beauty. Susan Shaw, beautiful model had to fulfil the liversified expectations of a cimmittee of artists, a fashion authority, society writer and your dietitian.

To a man, the artists demanded a "natural beauty" — they regarded the glamorous, exotic type as too unreal. The fashion authority stipulated that she be tall and have a flair for clothes. The society writer suggested she be photogenic, and your dietitian insisted on "a good healthy specimen" and turned thumbs down on a couple of candidates who looked as though they didn't eat regularly.

So Susan, was the composite choice and a highly satisfactory one all around. She is a blonde with a peaches and grade A cream complexion and has a figure like this: Bust, 34 inches; waist, 24 inches; hips, 35 inches. She weighs 110 pounds for her height of five feet, four inches.

Besides being a model, Susan is a housewife and she loves to cook.

To keep in trim, she goes out for tennis as often as possible, does a lot of walking every day, and takes a daily half dozen on her terrace every morning. She says you can't depend on general exercises to keep your figure perfect and that it saves trouble to have a set of specific streamliners which you take as a matter of course.

This model has been brought up to believe that sparkle can't be faked, and you can't sparkle unless you have had a good night' sleep. So she gets her rest, along with her varied diet and enough exercise.

The Kootenay Barrier to B. C. Travel

One of the worst barriers to traffic on the Southern Trans-Canada Highway is the delay and expense to travellers due to the length of the ferry journey between Fraser's Landing and Gray Creek.

The remedy is simple and in relation to highway expenditures generally would not involve a very large expenditure.

Under present conditions it takes one hour to travel from Fraser's Landing to Gray Creek or vice versa. On account of the length of the journey the ferry charges are sufficiently high to cause tourists to dodge travelling by this route as well as imposing a hardship on the people of the district. Not infrequently in the Summer the ferry lacks sufficient capacity to handle the traffic. Consequently travellers are sometimes stranded at Gray Creek or Fraser's Landing for a night or at least for the hours between ferry runs. Worse in its total effect than the occasional stranding of a party in a car for an all night stay at one end of the route or the other, is the fear that this may happen. Fear of being stranded causes the average traveller to take almost any other route than the Kootenay route if he wants to travel between East Kotenay and the Coast or from the Coast to East Kootenay.

Kootenay as a whole is suffering not only through the loss of through traffic but West Kootenay is losing a large volume of business which it would otherwise get from places on the East side of Kootenay Lake and from East Kootenay, while East Kootenay is losing the business which it should be getting from the West side of the Lake.

The solution is a shorter ferry route, from Balfour or some other suitable points to Kootenay Bay or Pilot Bay, the installation of an open ferry which would permit a larger number of cars to be carried and which would not restrict the passage of the larger motor vehicles, and the completion of a reasonably good highway from Gray Creek to Kootenay Bay or Pilot Bay.

At various times in the last ten years some work has been done on the road between Gray Creek and Crawford Bay. Improvements have been made at both ends. The condition of about a mile of this road midway between these two places is very bad. The distance to be reconstructed is short, the cost in relation to the benefits to the people of that district and to the people of East and West Kootenay and the Province generally would be small.

With a shorter ferry route and a ferry of suitable construction the time of the lake journey could be cut in less than half. The schedule could be more than doubled. Blockades of traffic, due to the inability of the present ferry to move enough cars in a busy season or to move more than one large vehicle at a time, would be ended. Charges to the travelling public could be materially reduced.

It is time that we got action on this important section of the Southern Trans-Canada Highway.

It, as far as we can see into the future, will continue to be the only one capable of being kept open all the year around.

M. P., Lumberton—What is the fastest time made by the pacer, trotter and racer in the mile? How many races, if any, has Man O' War won?

The world's trotting record is credited to Greyhound, whose time was 1.55¼ for a mile run at Lexington, Kentucky, September 2, 1938. The pacing record is credited to Billy Direct, in a mile run at Lexington, Sept. 28, 1939, when the time was 1.55. The world's running record was made by Roamer in 1.34 minutes 4-5 seconds at Saratoga, New York in August 21, 1918. Man O' War, as a two-year-old in 1919, won 10 races with winnings of $83,000, and as a three-year-old in 1920 won 11 races with winnings of $166,140. Man O' War, now 24 years old (in 1941) lives in luxury at Faraway Farms, the stud farm which his owner, Samuel D. Riddle, built for him in the rolling meadow country, North of Lexington. It is estimated that Man O' War has brought his owner close to $1,000,000 in prize money, stud fees and sale of foals.

LINDBERGH'S BOOKS

One can understand the motives behind this action, (A proposal of the Ottawa City Council that the Library Board should throw out books by Lindbergh.) Lindbergh is actively pro-German and anti-British. By doing everything in his power to prevent the United States from helping Britain he is working for a Nazi triumph. To all this he adds a singularly mean ingratitude, because it was to Britain he fled when life in his own country became unbearable. Few Canadians, while war passions might ride high, would want to read the books of such a man.

But officially, to exclude them from a public library is another matter. If Lindbergh were ot write a book about the war, or bearing on the war it should be excluded from this country as enemy propaganda. His present works, however, were written some years ago and so far as we know dealt entirely with aviation. They can do no conceivable harm to our country and cause, and we shall be accused of petty intolerance if we throw them out.

Freedom is the thing we are fighting for, and that includes freedom of the printed word. War necessity compels us to exclude matter which might help the enemy by impairing our will and determination, but beyond that point it is unwise to venture.—Ottawa Journal.

DANGEROUS MAIL

Those misguided people who have ignored or overlooked the regulations as to the type of mail that may be sent overseas should pay strict heed to the warning that has been issued by the Post Office Department. Don't put inflammable material in the parcels you send the boys overseas.

Lighter fluid is the substance most commonly inserted in violation of the rules. The temptation may be strong to send a bit of this to the soldiers, because there is undoubtedly a shortage of such things in Britain. The main consideration, however, is that the parcel shall reach its destination, and, more important still, that the ship carrying it shall not be destroyed en route. One can of lighter fluid could be the cause of such destruction, and perhaps the loss of precious lives. It is certainly worth a moment's thought to prevent anything of this kind happening.
anything of this kind happening.—Windsor Ont., Daily Star.

WOMEN AND BICYCLES

It is estimated that some 20,000 bicycle licences will be issued this season by the City of Winnipeg—taking no account of the suburbs—and that at least 30 per cent of them will be issued to girl riders.

Six thousand girl cyclists is quite a number, and automobile drivers may therefore be somewhat alarmed over a recent statement by one whose business it is to observe such things that "girls go about on bicycles in flocks."

Today the girl cyclist is subject to the chaperonage of the traffic policeman, whose duty it is to see that she obeys the traffic laws, and to know the reason why if she doesn't.—Winnipeg Tribune.

To the Editor:

Sir—We have been in this district nearly 25 years, and have watched events without protest or comment. Now, I think, it is time for both.

When we came here in 1922 the orchards along this Lake were beautifully kept and the fruit business was flourishing. Today very few bother to spray, or even to cultivate their orchards. I know of very few which are self supporting. Some owners are on relief, some have pensions of one kind or another, and others are fortunate enough to have outside incomes. Two or three have government jobs.

Our friend who expected to find Mr. Harris and his ranch as well preserved and prosperous as he was 25 years ago must be an incurable optimist. I have seen prosperous ranches become decadent in the last 10 years. He should come and take a peek.

We used to watch the papers each year to find out when we should spray and what solution to use. If we did so now, our returns would not cover the expense.

It is time the Government dispensed with an office which no longer functions. The cry is to save for our war effort. Here is a splendid chance.

Just what happened to the fruit industry? The "Associated" was formed with all of its overhead expenses and there ceased to be any profit left for the grower.

We then turned to vegetables, but the profit in them was very short lived. A few of our more enterprising neighbors went to a vegetable growers convention. They claimed to represent the district, and voted for the new "Vegetable Board regulations." As a matter of fact, very few farmers were even consulted, and certainly would not have voted for them.

How many ranchers want to raise fruit to support the expenses of the Associated Growers? Also, how many care to raise vegetables to support a vegetable inspector, or think it worth their while to go through all the rigmarole required by these new regulations?

There is no point in setting a price on fruit or vegetables unless a market is found for them at that price.

Recently, a hotel keeper received a visit from an officious looking gentleman who said to him, "You will not be allowed to purchase your vegetables for your dining-room direct from the farmer, anymore. You must deal with him through the wholesaler."

The hotel keeper answered, "Is that so." Well, that may suit me all right, as I recently purchased a piece of land in the country and intend to grow my own vegetables."

The man answered, "No! you can't do that! As soon as you do so, you become a producer, and must send your vegetables to a wholesaler before they can be used in your dining-room."

The hotelman's answer was too expressive to repeat, but I think it is the same answer any free born Canadian would have given.

They tell us this is a free country and then make so many restrictions that it becomes impossible to make a living.

They also say that "the Farmer is the back-bone of the country". These regulations and laws are doing their best to "break" the Farmers. It might be an interesting experiment to find out how long a country can exist with a broken "back-bone". However, where one is a victim of the process, it isn't even funny.

Lack of Better Main Lake Ferry Service Is Strangling Business

To the Editor:

Sir—A visit to Crawford Bay would be well worth while to those who look forward to the future of Nelson with some degree of confidence and yet fail to find the solution to dwindling business and tourists whilst the rest of Canada moves forward.

Leaving Gray Creek a visitor soon finds the road becomes nothing more than a narrow wagon road that might have done duty half a century ago. In some places only about eight feet in width is safe for wheeled traffic. The holes in the surface at bridges convey the impression of something abandoned long ago. At the entrance to Crawford Bay a fairly modern hotel stands idle, no one caring to risk his neck over the present road to get there, yet strangely enough we are told this road will soon be a link in the Southern Trans-Canada Highway.

Crawford Bay with its glorious surroundings may well be called the pearl of the Kootenays, a place tourists would come far to visit and spend their holidays, in ever increasing numbers if given fair road conditions and ferry service. Long hours of waiting and poor ferry service send many the other way at present.

It seems hard to realize that for the past eight years two Ministers of Public Works have lived in adjacent territory, who know the urgent necessity of completing this link of the main highway and making its ferry runs as short and frequent as possible, but have neglected to put in the very few miles of good road necessary to obtain this result.

In addition to loss of tourist trade to Nelson, most of the local residents go East to do their business, as they are unable to return from Nelson the same day. Surely a morning and evening bus service is long overdue.

Is it not time Nelson cut the bonds that are strangling her business and call for immediate action on this road and ferry service?

Dust of Gold

"Be not deceived; God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. . . . Let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not."—Gal. 6: 7, 9.

How many of us are honest enough to search our own hearts to find if by any chance we are to blame for any of the problems in which we find ourselves? It is so easy to blame the other fellow, to see his faults, and so hard to see how we may have influenced him for evil and been the cause of bitterness. Are our thoughts always kind, generous, forgiving? We need to watch them for—
We sow our thoughts and reap our actions
We sow our actions and reap our habits;
We sow our habits and reap our characters;
We sow our characters and reap our destiny.

Many Floats Will Feature the Rossland Victory Loan Parade

ROSSLAND, B. C. May 29 — According to the reports of the various sub-committee chairmen presented at a meeting of the Rossland Victory Loan Cimmittee held at headquarters Tuesday evening, by the end of this week everything will be i nreadiness for the opening of the campaign on June 2.

In the Victory Loan Parade scheduled for June 2 will appear the Naval Band form Esquimalt, the Rossland City Band, the Voluntary Defence Corps Bugle Band members of the Veterans Guard of Canada stationed at Trail, the Mayor and most of the Aldermen, Boy Scouts and Cubs, Girl Guides and Brownies, the Fire Department, school children, and at least one platoon of the Voluntary Defence Corps. The Canadian Legion will also parade, as well as the Cadet Corps and a bicycle section of the later.

Floats have been assured from the Junior Board of Trade, the Junior Board of Trade Salvage Committee; the Parent-Teacher Association, I.O.O.F., and the Mayflower Mine. Floats are also expected from the West Kootenay Power & Light Company, Rossland Cooperative Transportation Society, Hunter Bros, Ltd., and the nursing staff of Mater Misericordiae Hospital. Additional floats and decorated cars will probably add to this number on the day of the parade.

Programes for the Victory Loan concert to be presented in the Capitol Theatre une 8 have been printed, and the Boy Scouts will assist in the sale of these.

The Torch Ceremony, so successfully staged in other cities on May 24, will be employed as the basis for a program at the cenotaph when the Victory Loan parade has assembled there. Addresses will be given by prominent residents.

SPEAKERS SUPPLIED

Speakers are now being supplied to appear before meetings of various organizations in order that the particulars of the Victory Loan may be as well known as possible. Spot announcements have also been secured over Radio Station CJAT, and the first of these was given by F. C. Ransom, Chairman of the Radio Speakers' Committee, Tuesday evening. Strictly speaking, these are not "spot" announcements, for the reason that they are of five minutes' duration. This practice will continue in both the morning and evening until the end of the first week of the drive, at which time a special 15-minute program designed for Rossland listeners will be presented.

Special sermons will be preached from the pulpits of churches throughout the City on "Victory Loan Sunday", which is June 8.

Most of the business houses have left up the decorations displayed for Victoria Day, but are handicapped in adding to these displays by reason of a shortage of bunting, flags, etc. It is expected, however, that additional supplies will be on hand by the end of this week.

L. W. Laslett, Officer Commanding the Voluntary Defence Corps, was Tuesday evening appointed Final details of the campaign will Parade Marshal.

R. A. F. Flyers to Start Training In U. S. June 7

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP). — War Secretary Henry Stimson disclosed today that a far-reaching undertaking to train 8000 Royal Air Force flyers in the United States would start June 7.

The first class of 550 students, all from the British Isles, is to begin instruction on that date, followed by new groups at five-week intervals.

Both air corps and civilian schools will be used to train the R.A.F. pilots from Britain and the Empire. The War Department explained that 4000 would be trained annually as fighter and bomber pilots in seven civilian and six army schools.

A second group of 3000 will be trained annually under a British course of instruction at schools yet to be selected. A third group of approximately 1000 will be trained annually as aerial navigators.

Doukhobors to Do Labor Service in Place of Training

OTTAWA, May 29 (CP)—Conscientious objectors, Mennonites and Doukhobors in the 21-year-old class will be required to perform labor service in lieu of military training, War Services Minister Gardiner announced in the House of Commons today.

"The 21-year-old class now is being called out for military training," said Mr. Gardiner.

"Members of that age class whose military training is postponed, as either conscientious objectors, Mennonites or Doukhobors now will be required to render either three or four months' labor service in lieu of military training and be subject to such further labor service as may be decided in the future."

Arrangements have been made with the Mines Department to open camps in national parks and in Ontario, where Mennonites and conscientious objectors will be sent for labor service, where they will be supplied with board and lodging and paid 50 cents a day.

They must supply their own clothing.

In the case of Doukhobors, all of them in Western Canada, Mr. Gardiner said negotiations are being conducted with Provincial Governments whereby certain road projects will be carried on under Provincial control and, under the same conditions as for conscientious objectors and Mennonites, Doukhobors will be required to work on the roads.

The Minister said it was hoped to have the camps in operation on June 15. With one or two exceptions, they will be Summer camps.

Gyros to Stage Amateur Contest Over Air on Wed.

Calling all entertainers, skilled and would be! All of you who can sing, dance mimic, hog-call, play musical instruments, etc., etc.,— all ages.

Dan McNaughton of the Nelson Gyro Club announced Thursday that the Gyros would sponsor an amateur contest for a full hour from 8:30 to 9:30 over CKLN next Wednesday night, serving a double-barrelled purpose of providing homebrew entertainment for radio listeners and of being another publicity stunt in aid of the Victory Loan Campaign, which will have started Monday.

Plans for the night for the amateurs are still in the formative stage but there's going to be a great program.

Tentative plans call for the contestants to be divided into three age groups, so that persons of all ages will have opportunities of winning prizes. Entries are asked to be in by Tuesday night.

A meeting of the directors of the Gyro Club will be held tonight, and a committee to take charge of the program will be appointed.

JACK GRAY, NELSON AIRMAN, FINDS THRILLS IN BRITAIN

Jack Gray of Nelson who is in the R.C.A.F., tells of his experiences crossing the Atlantic and in Scotland and England in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gray. He mentions having met his brother Hampton, who is in the Royal Naval Air Force, Jack Richmond of Trail and Merlin Liversidge and Jimmie Hughes of Nelson.

"At last I can write and tell you all about this new country we are now in. We landed last Sunday morning. It was really a thrilling sight when we went up on deck, to see green hills of Scotland about which I had heard so much. No fooling Dad, I really fell in love with Scotland right from the first. It was a beautiful Spring day when we first saw land," says Airman Gray.

"The voyage across was quite uneventful and smooth. We saw no submarines and if we had I need not say that we were well protected. There were just three of us together . . . about two or three days from this side though we were met by a ——— and boats. They were taking no chances.

"The vessel we are on is about 2800 tons and fairly new. We had second class quarters as the first class were for officers. The bunks are not bad although when the mighty Atlantic gets rough you toss about like a cart. It was amazing to watch the other troopship bounding around in the heavy seas while the battleship hardly wavers. It just forges straight through and appears underwater half the time.

"There were all sorts of new things which I had never seen—such things as whales blowing and porpoises roaring and playing about. I slept nearly 15 hours a day on board as I was lucky to miss guard duty. They had Airforce men spotting for subs. The food wasn't bad although we were on rations as soon as we were aboard.

"I know now how Columbus must have felt when he saw land though he had a lot longer than we. A fellow gets pretty tired of seeing nothing but water. It was a little more interesting when we got closer here.

It was wonderful to see those fast destroyers suddenly dart somewhere at top speed—boy, they are fast. They investigated every little fishing boat and all. When you see some of the British Navy you figure there's something to this "Britannia Rule the Waves'

LIKES THE TRAINS

"I managed to go ashore before the others at ——— so spent a pleasant hour walking around there. I find many things here not as they were in Canada but very interesting to me. Soon after we got ashore we boarded a train. The next six hours were the most pleasant I ever spent on a train. The trains, as you know, are not the same as ours but have little compartments seating about six—I like them.

"The first city we came to was Glasgow and the trip from ——— there was a revelation to me. All the way people were out waving and cheering us on—and they did mean it. The people here know there is a war on. I hate to say it but I have never seen anything like it in all my time in Canada. I felt like cheering myself when I saw these women and men in Glasgow standing by ruined homes but still waving us on. We went from Glasgow straight across to Edinburgh but were unable to get out at any of these places. What I saw of Edinburgh I liked very much but the open country is what I liked most. It made me want to get out and just stroll among the hills. I hope we get moved to Scotland for our training for a couple of months.

MEETS BROTHER

"Perhaps I had better interrupt my chronological review to tell you of my visit with Hampton. I wrote him a letter as soon as I got to London. Next I went to Canada House and learned his whereabouts. Of course on learning he was only 30 miles from London at a place called ———, I got on a train and went there. I was sitting in the mess having a cup of tea when he came in. It was wonderful meeting so far from home. I met some of those friends of his but Jack Diamond is at another station.

"Boy, I'm sure proud of my brother now. He had about 45 hours in the air but the real thing is to have a brother who is a pilot in the Fleet Air Arm. Those fellows have to be really good. They are training at a R.A.F. station so they are getting good training you may be sure. He still has lots of work ahead before he gets his wings but I am sure he will. Hope to get up to see him again. One other thing I neglected to tell you was that I am at ——— about 15 miles from London.

"To get on with my story, we continued down through Scotland and into England. We ate at Newcastle supper—and then went on again. The train was blacked out at night and when an alarm sounded they were not content with drawn blinds. Every light went out. Of course the ship was blacked out all the way over.

THE SPIRIT OF LONDON

"I have been in London twice already now. It is a wonderful experience to see all these places about which we have heard so much. It is impossible to imagine the size of London until you have been there. We are 15 miles from the heart of London yet you can see no spot that isn't jammed with houses all the way. London at night is something too. There are few weak lights around to guide you but when an alarm sounds it becomes pitch black there. It is queer when you think of being in the heart of a big city yet there is not a light to be seen. The Piccadilly Circus used to be an absolute blaze of lights but not one is to be seen now.

"There is something to that song "Till the Lights of London Shine Again," It is going to be a wonderful day when they do. You never saw anything like the spirit of the people here. They just laugh and say he will get it all back and then some. It look as though, to me, that the Nazis care little what they bomb as there are wrecked buildings all over London. Another thing that amazes me is the way they clean everything up after a raid. Buildings which have been ruined are cleaned up and fenced off—It is really amazing. It would do a lot of people in Canada good to see London and an air raid—they would know then what we are fighting a war for.

FOOD IS GOOD

"The food here we are getting is quite good although there is little butter or sugar and seldom any milk. We eat considerably better than the civilians though as we are supposed to need it more. One thing which I am getting already so I hate is to miss and that is the famous tradition of afternoon tea—it is really just another meal, but a good one.

"I was surprised when we landed to meet Merlin Liversidge there. I also was talking to Jim Hughes—he is a brother to Kay Hughes who works in Collinsons. It seems funny. Yesterday at Canada House in London I had a short chat with Mrs. Vincent Massey. She was very nice and friendly.

"Some of our fellows spent a few hours with the Royal Family yesterday—were they ever thrilled—King George is mighty popular but Mr. Churchill is the real thing here. The people nearly go nuts when they see him. Another thing I was pleased at seeing was the number of Roosevelt pictures. It is quite common to see a big picture of Churchill and Roosevelt hanging together.

Weather Unsafe for Bomber Stunt

Trans-Canada Airlines official report on the weather conditions which made it unsafe for the torch-carrying bomber to circle Nelson and Trail last Sunday has been received in Nelson from A. E. Jukes of the B.C. Victory Loan Committee. It reads:

"Clouds broken to overcast over the mountains. That type of cloud would be liable to have icing conditions. Also, the weather at Lethbridge was not good. Due to smoke, only one to two miles visability. The weather at Calgary was very bad, due to rain and smoke."

The airlines further stated that if the weather had become slightly worse at Lethbridge the Pilot would have had to fly to Regina non-stop, so that he would not risk wasting his gas by climbing down and then up again to 14,000 feet. Due to the icing condition he decided to go straight through to Lethbridge.

Rossland Defence Corps Given Use of Fire Equipment

ROSSLAND, B.C., May 28—That the City of Rossland will give to the Voluntary Defence Corps all cooperation and assistance possible in the latter's recently announced A.R.P. program, was the assurance given by the City Council Monday night. The Corps had requested, through Mayor John Gordon, that it be given instruction by Fire Chief Kenneth Martin, and also that, under Fire Department supervision, be permitted the use of the fire trucks and other equipment in carrying through the course of instruction. The Fire Chief, incidentally, volunteered his services.

The only objection to the scheme was raised by the Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committe, Ald. Leo T. Nimsick, who stated that the fire-fighting equipment would be subpected to extra wear and tear.

Mayor John Gordon stated that the action of the Corps in endeavouring to secure A.R.P. training was a commendable one, and should be encouraged.

On a motion by Ald. J. R. Corner, the Council approved the scheme, and the fire trucks and equipment will be used at the discretion of the Fire Chief and the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Verigin Urges Doukhobors Buy Victory Bonds

Victory Loan officials are highly gratified by the immediate and patriotic response of Doukhobor leaders, according to information received by H. A. Matthews, unit organizer at Nelson.

Verigin is counselling his people to support Canada's efforts, and issued a proclamation to them above his signature. He also recommended G. Goloff, Deputy Registrar of vital statistics at Brilliant, for the role of canvasser. Goloff speaks perfect English and will prove an invaluable aide.

Verigin's proclamation to Doukhobors reads:

"The Government of the Dominion of Canada is inviting the people of every walk of life and nationality to invest in a Bond which will have as security the backing and assets of the Dominion as a whole.

"Therefore there is no better security to be had in Canada.

"This security is considered so sound that all the banks are writing to their depositors recommending they transfer their savings into these bonds.

"The Bonds bear interest at double the rate at present paid by the banks.

"These bonds can, of course, be converted into cash at any time desired.

"at a later date a representative of the government will call upon you for the amount of your investment.

"Having personally investigated this matter, I intend to purchase some of these bonds myself and recommend you do the same."

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Pepless Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong, yet—you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, dopey, tired and pepless.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams Pink Pills today. They are world-noted for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams Pink Pills today.

Sees Trail for First Time in 42-Year Period

TRAIL, B. C. May 29 — Trail had an interesting visitor Friday, when Mrs. Thomas Powers, of Grand Forks, returned to Trail for her first visit here since 1898.

Mrs. Powers first came to Trail in 1894, and lived here for two years, when she went to Nelson. There she married Mr. Powers, and later returned to Trail, where Mr. Powers worked as a brick mason at the Heinze smelter. He was on the "gang" which constructed the first stack.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers went to Grand Forks in 1898 and took up farming and have lived in the Grand Forks valley ever since. After Mr. Powers' death about eight years ago, Mrs. Powers moved into Grand Forks where she is now residing.

FINDS SITE OF HOME

Trail has changed unbelievably, Mrs. Powers said, adding that she had been trying to find where their home had been, near the foot of the old smelter stairway. She felt sure she identified the house that used to be next door, still on Victoria Street, although her former home had been absorbed by the City's progress.

When she first came to Trail, Mrs. Powers helped in the opening of the old Windsor Hotel, along the waterfront, which has long since been torn down. She lived at the hotel before going to Nelson. Mrs. Powers also remembered the first Presbyterian Church, now Balfour's Plumbing Shop, which was then located at the corner of what is now Spokane Street and Pine Avenue.

Her husband was one of the original North West Mounted Police who fought their way through the Canadian wilderness to establish an outpost in Saskatchewan, and at his death, he was believed to be the last of the hardy band. Since then, Mrs. Powers recalls reading an article in an Eastern paper written by an ex-Mountie in England, telling of his experiences on the same treck to Fort Garry.

Mrs. Powers returned to Grand Forks, Saturday morning, with Mr. and Mrs. Klaus Scheer.

Scurvy . . .

Vitamin C Speeds Healing Process

By LOGAN CLENDING, M.D.

Scurvy in adults in one of the diseases that was once so common that every physcian had seen many cases. Snce we have found out how to prevent it—that is, by the use of fresh citrus fruits—it is among the rarest of diseases. I think I have only seen two cases in my life—one was in a man who insisted on remaining on a strict sippy diet for ulcer of the stomach for several years after he was advised to desist; and the other, a recluse in the mountains, who insisted on living on crackers and salt pork.

Not only does Vitamin C deficiency seem to interfere with the healing of wounds, but it also predisposes towards post-operative pneumonias.

Researches indicate that healing in tuberculosis is aided by a high level of Vitamin C. The healing of tuberculosis in the lungs is characterized by the formations on the action of Vitamin C indicate that it exerts most of its effect upon the fibers of connective tissue. It is, therefore, reasonable to assume that in order to produce healing in tuberculosis, Vitamin C should be exhibited. It has been shown that patients whose bodies have been exhausted of Vitamin C show slow healing.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

S. G.—"Please tell me if a person who has had childhood tuberculosis, now in her late twenties, would have tuberculosis without having fever in the afternoon."

Answer — It is possible but not probable. To be certain, you should have an X-ray of the chest.

Big C.Y.O. Rally Is Held at Fernie

NATAL, B.C.—Some 35 members of the Natal-Michel C.Y.O. journeyed to Fernie May 24 where they joined in the mass rally held by the Fernie C.Y.O. Here they were joined by members from the Creston, Kimberley, Cranbrook, Coleman, Blairmore, Bellevue-Hillcrest and Pincher Creek groups. The program was opened by a High Mass in honor of Miss Colleen Hughes, who died recently.

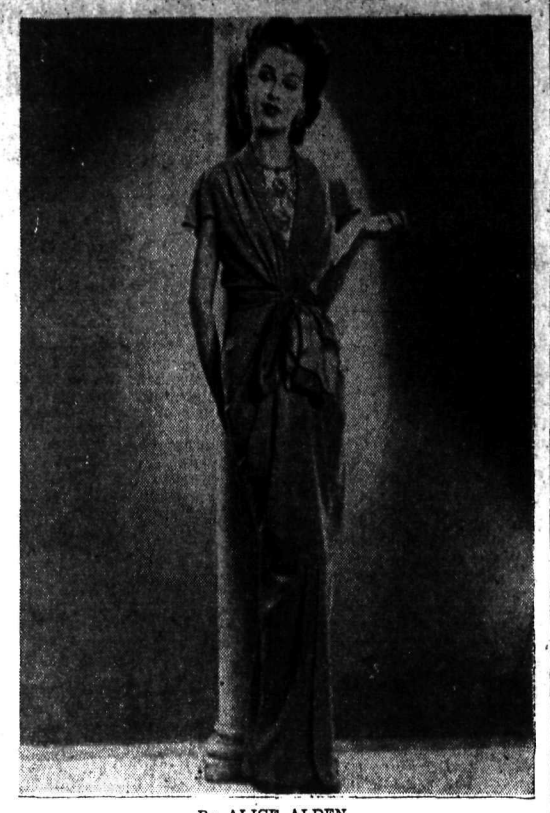
In the afternoon two softball tournaments were staged with the Fernie C.Y.O. girls nosing out the Natal-Michel C.Y.O. girls by a 12-10 score in the final while in the final of the boys the Natal-Michel C.Y.O. drubbed the Fernie C.Y.O. 12-3. In the preliminary the Fernie boys took the measure of the Coleman C.Y.O. boys by a 9-3 score.

This was followed by a C.Y.O. track meet with the Natal-Michel C.Y.O. making practically a clean sweep of all the events as they took first in every event and second in all but three events to win the annual C.Y.O. Trophy which was donated by Harry Colgan of Vancouver. This trophy is to be competed for every year with the winning C.Y.O. group to stage the rally at their home grounds. The next rally will take place at Natal-Michel next year.

This was followed by a banquet when Father Sullivan of Coleman and Father Wales of Bairmore thanked Father Morelli and the Fernie C.Y.O. on the splendid affair that they had put on. The trophy and prize winners were then presented by Mr. Mangan of Fernie with the trophy being taken by Sports Manager Paddy Dalton on behalf of the Natal-Michel C.Y.O. The evening came to a close with a show being followed by a dance which was well enoyed by the huge crowd that was on hand.

OTTAWA (CP). — Twenty-five persons were killed and 590 injured in Canada in 19 years while playing with blasting caps. Seventy per cent of the casualties were children.

Material Interest



By ALICE ALDEN

When a gown is fashioned of an interesting or exquisite fabric, beautifully cut and detailed, it needs but little in the way of embellishment or trimming. As an example of this fashion fact, we present the delightful dinner dress shown here. It is fashioned of a new fabric in celanese rayon and silk, a fabric that is indicative of the increased activity and interest in domestic fabrics. The material has a pronounced check, somewhat reminiscent of sports weaves, and is very supple. The color is a soft sage green with a twisted girdle in two-tone orange and apricot taffeta. The skirt is beautifully draped and is slit to the knee in front. A low neckline makes an effective frame for costume jewelry.

Dorothy Thompson Says War Aim of Democracies Is "Merely to Survive"

MONTREAL, May 29 (CP)—The first war aim of the democracies has become "merely to survive" and the most important question of the war is "Who is going to win the world revolution?" Dorothy Thompson told the 1941 graduating class of McGill University today.

"It is the question," said the noted newspaper columnist, "of who is going to catch up and revivify the broken but never extinguished yearning of the masses of the people for a society that makes sense, and that is in harmony with the most characteristic longings of the 20th century, and that is genuinely founded on peace."

Miss Thompson, awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Literature, was one of five persons to receive honorary degrees at the University's Spring convocation. Dr. F. Cyril James, Principal and Vice-Chancellor, presided and conferred the degrees in the absence of Sir Edward Beatty, Chancellor.

Princess Alice, wife of the Governor-General, and Malcolm MacDonald, British High Commissioner to Canada, received degrees of Doctor of Laws. Jean C. J. Mackenzie, acting head of the National Research Council, was awarded a degree of Doctor of Science and Dr. Hu Shim, Chinese Ambassador to the United States ,was given a degree of Doctor of Literature.

Remarking that Hitler's allies did not want to war with him, only to "gang up with him in his struggle for the elimination of pity from life, and that his opponents were unwilling to resort to war, Miss Thompson said Hitler thus had a dual advantage. With natural allies inside all countries—"the ruthless; and self-disarmed opponents—he was able to exploit both the worst and the best instincts of men."

"This explains," she continued, "why not a civilized nation moved until the realization broke over the people that aggression was reaching their very door-steps, and that too long delayed, and with disgust in their hearts, with hatred for the very weapons they have to use, they would have to fight for mere survival and for the survival of the very dream contained in the conception of peace."

The first war aim of democracy had become one of survival, "to save whatever margin we can of territory, of peoples, of instruments, out of which we may build the society of the future."

Little Refugee Princess Probably the Last Baby to Be Christened in the Royal Chapel of Buckingham Palace

By GLADYS ARNOLD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, May 29 (CP)—A child living in Ottawa—Princess Irene, daughter of Princess Juliana of the Netherlands—probably was the last baby baptized in the Royal Chapel of Buckingham Palace.

It was Queen Elizabeth, godmother of the little refugee princess, who suggested the service be held there. Now the chapel is in ruins, hit by a Nazi bomb during a London air raid.

"I have known the Queen since she was Duchess of York," Princess Juliana told The Canadian Press in an interview. "I cannot tell you how wonderfully kind she was to us when we arrived in England."

Princess Irene was born in August, 1939, but the outbreak of war made it difficult to arrange a baptismal service in the Netherlands. Then Queen Wilhelmina, the Crown Princess Juliana, her husband Prince Bernhard and their two small daughters fled to England, chased and hunted down by machine-gunning German planes which bombed roads and harbors.

Princess Irene arrived in England at nine months of age, unchristened and "already out of long clothes."

And even in the Royal Chapel there was no long christening robe. As Princess Juliana said, fleeing with only one suitcase meant little thought for such things as baptismal dresses.

"We just bought here a short white dress for the service," she added.

Princess Irene, now almost two, and her three-year-old sister Beatrix and a little companion who accompanied them from the Netherlands, live a quiet and orderly life in their suburban Rockcliffe home.

Home Is Place to Teach Tolerance

By G. CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

It is in the home where we need to first teach tolerance. Speaking recently before an audience representing a number of different groups, I said that the first essential in wise regilious education of the child in the home is tolerance and it is best taught by the example of the parents. How can we be truly good with hate in our hearts? How can we promote regard for the inherent rights of others? Only by setting an example of love and tolerance ourselves.

NEVER RIDICULE OTHER'S BELIEFS

Let us parents never speak unkindly of any religious faith. When we hear a child in the family ridiculing any religious group or religious practice let us calmly say "In our home, you know, we never say such things," and then be sure this is so. I wish teachers would do likewise.

To be always tolerant toward the religions of others does not mean we must be indifferent or disloyal to our own. On the contrary, we should be proud of our religion or philosophy of life.

EXAMPLE THE BEST TEACHER

If we can prove to children that our faith works and makes us lovable and easy to live with, they will be inclined to give it a serious trial themselves. What we need today is more people with convictions and the stuff of character to live by them, so long, of course, as they do not interfere with the convictions of anybody else and his right to believe.

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEMS

Q. "Your articles on arithmetic informed me for the first time that the basic addition and subtraction facts did not mount up into millions of combinations. Please send me the 100 addition and 100 subtraction facts. Enclosed is a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

A. They were sent, and with pleasure. They are sent to anyone who writes me as this mother did, enclosing the stamped and self-addressed envelope, at 235 East 45th Street, New York City.

Q. When are we parents most likely to exhort the child concerning his conduct?

A. When we're are least fit to give it and he least ready to profit from it. We tend to make painful the very things we want the child to choose to do, rendering him less ready, therefore, to choose our way.

Q. How should vegetables be cooked?

A. Vegetables should be cooked in just enough water to keep them from burning, the kettle being covered with a tight fitting lid. A good way to know when they are done is to taste them. Overcooking destroys some of the vitamins. The cooked vegetables should be put through a sieve before they are served to the baby.

Q. Should a child ever be induced to memorize anything he doesn't understand?

A. Yes; sometimes, if it can be made a satisfying experience, as applied to beautiful gems of literature and terse statements of ideals. Some of the rarest bits of literature that you and I learned by heart in earlier years have grown more meaningful and beautiful as we have grown older.

Open Letter to Crippled Girl

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

Have you ever known a girl with one leg who had lots of dates, enjoyed herself and then got married? I am like every other young person: I want a home, a sense of belonging to somebody but it looks as though I shall never have these things. When I was five I suffered a bone infection and in an effort to stop the infection my leg was amputated just below the hip. I was cured but now I wish I had died. I walk on crutches, haven't enough stump to wear an artificial leg.

I am told that I'm a beauty. I have plenty of girl friends, which shows I haven's a bad disposition. These girls try to get dates for me but the truth is a boy is ashamed to be seen with a cripple girl. I have a fine job with a good salary and I dress smartly — even wear one high heel shoe though it causes me a great deal of trouble. I do everything I can to look dainty and feminine but it is all useless. Is there any hope?

VICTIM

ANSWER

My dear girl, the lame, the halt and the blind get married and live happily ever after. There seems to be no physical handicap that in itself, keeps a girl from getting married, or from living a useful, exciting life. It isn't exaggeration to say that whenever a letter like yours appears in this column, many letters come in from persons afflicted in the same way. And of course only those who have overcome their handicaps trouble to write.

First thing to be done is to try again to see if the artificial leg is out of the question. One firm might turn you down and another attempt to fit you. While you are exhausting every means to get rid of the crutches you should remember the only thing that can defeat you is your attitude toward your affliction. Not minimizing the personal tragedy which the loss of a leg is to a girl, not minimizing the disappointment at having no boy friends, you can begin now to live instead of wishing you were dead.

For every affliction there is compensation. Unless we are altogether selfish, suffering gives us a sublime sympathy and tenderness with others which means we will love and be loved. And there are satisfactory substitutes for boy friends too: girl friends, animal pets and hobbies that occupy head, hands and heart.

Finally a crippled girl should realize that while a lad in his early twenties might be sensitive about dating her, after she has reached the age where she will be companionable with older men, there's strong probability that romance may came — provided of course she's kept a sweet spirit and a pleasant personality to go along with her pretty face.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Letters unsuitable for publication will be answered personally provided they contain stamped, self-addressed envelopes. All names are held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, in care of the Nelson Daily News.

SERIAL STORY . . . By Allen Eppes

EVELESS EDEN

CHAPTER THIRTY

"Brave girl," said Joel somewhat huskily. "Brave, wonderful little Eve!"

"No, not that, Joel," Eve said. "Just a girl who tried to take it on the chin . . . that's all."

"You're brave," Joel insisted, "and sweet—darned sweet. I have never seen a girl I admired as much, Eve. I'm getting fonder of you every moment. I've never felt quite like this before. Darned if I don't believe I'm—falling in love."

"Joel!" Eve exclaimed, laughing softly, "You mustn't let your sense of chivalry and sympathy get you involved."

"It's no joking matter, Eve."

Eve saw the seriousness which had come to Joel's sun-tanned face. "I'm sorry, Joel," she said. "I didn't mean to be flippant. Shall we dance now?"

"Yes, let's do," Joel said. He pushed back his chair and went around to pull out Eve's. "And thanks a lot for opening up to me. I'm glad you felt that you could."

"But maybe I shouldn't," Eve said, as they moved out into the space cleared for dancing. "Maybe it's cowardly to burden others with a tale of woe."

"I asked for it," said Joel. "It does one good now and then to blow off steam." They danced in silence for a moment and then Joel asked: "Did you tell Bill about Carey Watts?"

"I didn't mention any names," said Eve. "But I thought it would make Bill feel less badly if he knew that he wasn't the only one whose marriage had been called off."

"I see."

"And, oddly enough," Eve said, "and carrying coincidence still farther, Bill looks a lot like Carey. It's almost uncanny at times. It's rather like suddenly looking up and finding that Carey has come back."

"Does Bill know that?"

"Yes," said Eve. She smiled. "I'm afraid he didn't like being told that he looked like the man I might have married. I'm afraid it did something to his ego."

"Don't let that bother you," said Joel in a somewhat hard voice. "Bill's ego can take a lot."

"That's not very kind of you, Joel," Eve said.

"No, I know it isn't. I'm sorry."

When their dinner was over they strolled out upon the wide terrace. There was a moon. It was washing the world in silvery radiance, turning the golf links that stretched out at their feet into a carpet of luminous white.

Music came to their ears from the big room behind them.

They stood close together beside the rough stone parapet, looking off into the mountains that towered up frfom the very edge of the grounds which surrounded the massive stone structure.

"Eve," Joel said, "what would you say if I told you I was falling in love with you?"

"I'd say you mustn't!" Eve replied. "And I'd mean it, Joel. Please don't fall in love with me—please."

"Good heavens, Eve, would it be as bad as all that?"

"No, Joel. But I mean love hurt me. I'm afraid of it.—I don't think I want anything to do with love."

Joel slipped his arm about her waist, drawing her nearer to him.

"That's not fair," he said. "You mustn't judge all men by one."

"It's not that, Joel," Eve said quickly. "It's just that—that I don't want to go through with it again; with falling in love, I mean."

"Do you still love the other man?"

"I'm not sure. I wish I were!"

Canada Faces Gas Rationing

TORONTO, May 29 (CP)—G. R. Cottrelle, Oil Controller in the Department of Munitions and Supply, said in a statement here today that it is "necessary to control" prices of gasoline and that "we are faced with a curtailment in consumption whether we like rationing or not."

Mr. Cottrelle said he could not say when gasoline price control would come into effect.

It is doubtful if oil rationing would be extended to homes in Eastern Canada now using that fuel, said Mr. Cottrelle. However, the situation in British Columbia is different. All oil supplies for that province are shipped in by tankers. There are a lot of big buildings in British Columbia on oil heating. They may have to go on coal as a matter of necessity as the oil may not be available."

Baptist Pastor Calls for United Stand

ST. THOMAS, Ont., May 29 (CP) —Dr. T. T. Shields, Pastor of Jarvis Street Baptist Church, Toronto, addressing the 82nd session of the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario West last night, called for organization of a "British-Canadian Party" to rally all loyal Canadians and declared that Protestants should be more determined than ever to stand their ground.

Dr. Shields declared Canada should have 500,000 men overseas to support the armies in the Middle East, and charged this was not an accomplished fact "because the hierarchy of Quebec is holding us back in every way."

Bombers to Play Pucksters Today

High School Blue Bombers and Pucksters will meet in a Nelson Men's Softball League game at Recreation Grounds this evening.

Bombers were beaten in their initial League start against C.Y.O., but the Pucksters came through with six runs in the last half of the ninth to nose out the Catholics in their first test of the season. Savoy Hotel, the League's other team, won't get into action until Sunday against C.Y.O.

Both teams will use the same pitchers as in their first game, Ernie Colman for the Bombers and Len Bicknell for the Pucksters. Bob Collinson will catch for Colman, while Jesse Seaby, Manager of the Pucksters, will be behind the plate for the hockey players.

Crow Ball Will Start on Sunday

NATAL, B. C.—The annual meeting of the Crow's Nest Pass Baseball League took place recently at Blairmore where the league reorganized for the 1941 baseball season. Four teams were admitted to the league, Blairmore, Coleman, Natal-Michel and Kimberley, the latter replacing the defunct Fernie team.

J. McDoughal and A. Tiberg of Blairmore were reelected President and Secretary-Treasurer.

The Natal-Michel Buffaloes won the Crow's Nest Pass League championship along with the Ringland Cup last year while Blairmore won the Goddard Cup.

Golden Bears and Leafs Raise Curtain on Boxla Tonight in Civic Arena

Scuby Arrives to Play Goal for Leafs on Eve of Game

TRAIL IS HEADED BY INDIAN STAR

Box lacrosse in the Kootenays bows in for 1941 in Nelson tonight when the finely-conditioned Maple Leafs tangle with a formidable Golden Bears' aggregation from Trail. Game-time is 8:15 at the Civic Arena.

Right on the eve of tonight's opening engagement, Bill Scuby, the Leafs' long-awaited import from New Westminster Salmonbellies, arrived, and the Nelson management, gave a big sigh of relief and complete contentment. Judged the most promising goaltender on the Coast, Scuby is still in his teens, 6 feet tall, and 185 pounds.

As soon as Bill got into Nelson on the evening train, he was hustled down to the Arena for a workout so that he might become accustomed to his new surroundings. A few of the other Leafs were out too, although it wasn't a regularly scheduled workout.

WIDE-OPEN LACROSSE

Jack Bishop, Coach of the Leafs, has had his team practising steadily for a month now, and they are in good condition. Their legs are in great shape, to serve them in the wide-open style they are to display this season.

Bishop does not plan to play this year, but he will be available whenever the emergency arrives. Behind the team he has chosen for tonight, he has a number of fine substitutes, and they will see a lot of action this Summer so as to keep the regulars hustling all the time.

With Scuby on the scene, the Leafs have three of the last year Salmonbellies. Joe Gallicano played last year with the Fishmen at centre, and had a great rookie year. He first planned to play there again this season, but he is awaiting his call to the Air Force, and he chose to spend his last civilian days in Nelson. He expects to be around all Summer. Bert Bryant, a really dynamic rearguard and driving force, spent the season of 1938 in Nelson, but has since played for New Westminster.

AWAIT CALLS

John (Pro) Dingwall is in the same boat as Gallicano, awaiting his call to serve King and Country, but he too will likely be here all season. He will play on the same line on one of the wings with his cousin, Ian, a Leaf veteran, with Galicano at centre and Bill Townsend, another husky home-brew, at rover.

The other line will be pivoted by young Jimmy Eccles, who is tabbed as a coming ball carrier along the pattern of the Golden Bears' Marcus Smith. It is Jimmy's first year in Senior company. On the wings he will have Art Hill, starting his second season, and Glen Price, his first year as a regular. Hill wound up last season like a house a-fire, and was the Leafs' top performer in the last stages of 1940. Price is proving a great substitute for Harold Mayo, now in the Army. Both are built the same, and Price is showing the same aggressiveness and dangerous style of play.

Milburn Feeney, a tough customer from Salmo, will start on the Leafs' defence with Bryant. Feeney created quite a reputation for his ruggedness while playing the last couple of seasons in Salmo Valley lacrosse. Bud Cooper and Everett Kuhn, two repeaters, are on the other defence line.

Trail, with the exception of their big Indian, Paul Seymour from North Shore Indians at the Coast, will present much the same club as last year. Coached by Hughie Miller again, they still have the Kendall brothers, including Bob, the most valuable player in the League in 1940, the Sammartinos, and the Turiks.

BILL TOWNSEND

One of the Leafs' several married players, Bill has developed into one of the League's top performers in his several years with the Nelson club. He starts the 1941 season as first-string rover.

Ringwood Hooks Beaver Swimming in the Columbia

TRAIL, B. C., May 29 — Trail's super-fish story, as related by J. G. Ringwood, 2119 Riverside Avenue, Secretary of the Trail Rod and Gun Club, took place at the foot of the Columbia River Bridge near Elks Park, on May 17.

Mr. Ringwood, fishing with a Wickham Fancy fly, snagged on to a beaver which was swimming down river. The beaver tore away, leaving fur on the end of the hook, and started to climb up the bank.

Several other witnesses, including Mrs. J. A. Kerr, her daughter, Mrs. J. Langille, and K. Lund, saw the beaver when Mr. Ringwood called out. Disturbed by the commotion, the beaver ran back into the river and swam downstream.

"I know a lot of people won't believe me, but I have the piece of fur, and the witnesses to substantiate my story," stated Mr. Ringwood, who added that he had placed the under-fur from the hook under a miscroscope, and the hair was even finer than the feather hackle on the hook.

Spokane Indians Get a New Righthander

SPOKANE, Wash., May 29—Manager Ray Jacobs announced John Lewis, rangy righthander with the Yakima club in 1938 and 1939, would join the Spokane team next Tuesday at Salem. He won 12 and lost 7 games for Yakima in 1938.

The army took one of Spokane's catchers when Jack Roche was order to report to King City, Calif., to accept an appointment in the Army Air Corps.

Feller Blanks Detroit 9-0 for 10th Win of Season; Sox Blank Browns; Cardinals Win Tenth Straight Game

(By The Canadian Press)

Rapid Robert Feller improved his reputation yesterday as Cleveland's slump breaker by blanking Detroit Tigers 9-0 for his 10th victory of the season and extending to 29 his string of scoreless innings.

In recording his fifth consecutive victory and third straight shutout, Feller permitted only two Tigers to advance beyond first base while scattering seven singles. The Indians blasted Tommy Bridges and Floyd Giebell, their 1940 nemesis, for 13 hits, including Ken Keltner's fourth-inning homer, his sixth of the year.

Operating without Jimmy Foxx, their slumping slugger, who was benched at his own request, the Red Sox squared a four-game series with Philadelphia Athletics by pounding Jack Knott for a 6-4 victory.

Rain washed out a five-run rally by New York Yankees in the sixth inning and ended their American League game with Washington Senators in a 2-2 tie when the score reverted to the fifth inning.

A fourth-inning single by Chet Laabs spoiled a no-hit game for Bill Dietrich as Chicago White Sox shut out St. Louis Browns 4-0. Only two other Brownie batsmen got on base, George McQuinn, who walked in the first inning, and Johnny Lucadello, who drew a pass in the fourth.

Equalling a previous winning streak, the National League-leading Cardinals captured their 10th straight game, and their fifth in a row by one run, staving off Cincinnati Reds 10-9.

The Reds, last year's world champions and this season's big disappointment, threw practically everything they had into the game. Manager Bill McKechnie shook up his batting order and used five pitchers.

It took the Cards' fourth double play of the game to snuff a ninth-inning rally after the Reds had scored three runs. With runners on first and second, big Ernie Lombardi lined into the twin killing.

The combination of youth and age in the Giants' battery—23-year-old Bob Carpenter pitching and 40-year-old Gabby Hartnett catching — brought New York a 9-2 triumph over Boston Braves.

Carpenter gave four hits and both Boston runs in the first inning and then allowed only one single during the next eight innigs. Hartnett hit a home runs and three singles in five times at bat and drove in four of the Giants' runs.

Ball League Is Delayed Until Butler Park Ready; No Game Sun. In Nelson

TRAIL, B. C., May 29—"Butler Park won't be ready for baseball until the end of June," Wish Milburn, Coach of the Trail Cardinals, said today. The grandstand has been torn down, and the new one has yet to be erected, as well as a fence around the park. It had been expected that this work would be completed by the beginning of June, but it has been delayed temporarily.

Milburn said that although the Cards had been practising regularly, there was no chance of fielding a team for a game in Nelson this Sunday. However, he said negotiations were under way to play in Nelson June 8.

"There will be no game here Sunday," T. Con Cummins, President of the Nelson Baseball Club, stated Thursday night. "I'm sorry to keep Nelson ball fans waiting for a game, but I absolutely haven't been able to get either Trail or Rossland over here."

He had hoped to open the West Kootenay League with a game in Nelson Sunday against Trail. However, when the Cards were unable to come, he tried to get Rossland, without success.

"I phoned Joe Morasco tonight," Cummins said. "But he claimed that the Miners needed Red Tulloch and George Petrunia for their battery, but that they still wouldn't come to terms. Without them, Rossland didn't want to come to Nelson Sunday.

"Another thing, Morasco said that Trail was interested only in independent baseball, games now and then. We wouldn't be very much interested in this sort of a setup, nor would Rossland, so the best thing would be to disband.

TRAIL HAS PRACTICE

"However, I also got hold of Wish Milburn at Trail, and he said that they had a practice tonight, with about 18 or 19 players turning out, although Les Christensen was the only pitcher on hand. They expect Bogstie out in a day or so, so they'll be all set.

"I told Wish that until their ball park was ready, we'd bring them over here as often as they'd want to come, and split the gate so as to cover their travelling expenses. He seemed to think that would be all right, and said they'd like to come here Sunday after next. Most of the players are playing softball this Sunday, so they can't come here then."

Cummins stated that the Club would attempt to make a trade of Sundays with the Nelson cricketers, since the Recreation Grounds that day had been allotted to the Cricket Club.

In the meantime, "Lefty" Mydansky called practices of the Nelson team for Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and Tuesday and Thursday at 5:30.

Tottenham Hotspurs beat West Ham 5-4 in a football Cup Final, but the game was played on the Isle of Wright instead of at Wembley and players were prisoners from Parkhurst Prison. Wearing shirts given to the prison sports club by the Tottenham and West Ham, the teams competed for a cup given by a former prison chaplain.

Lindsay Offered Bout

NEW YORK, May 29 (CP)—Promoter Jack Allen of the Toronto Boxing Club said today he had offered Ken Lindsay, Vancouver bantamweight, a 10-round bout with either Johnny Gaudes of Winnipeg or Nels Broadhead of Hamilton. Broadhead recently scored a technical knockout over Eddie Petrin of Montreal, Canadian bantamweight champion, in a non-title bout.

Allen said if Lindsay accepted the offer, the bout would be fought the last week in June.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, May 29 (CP Cable)—Sergeant Jack London of the Royal Air Force scored a three-round knockout over Larry Gains, former Empire heavyweight boxing champion, in a scheduled 10-round bout here last night.

The aging Negro, formerly of Toronto, resident of England for many years and sergeant in the British Army, was on the defensive from the opening bell.

Creston Had Fine Record in Meet

CRESTON, B. C. — Scoring 11 first places in 22 events, and picking up the occasional second and third prize, Creston athletes dominated the doings at Fernie at the weekend at the annual field day of the high schools of Kootenay-Boundary, annexing a total of 87.5 points. Of nine silver trophies that were awarded six came to Creston and Kimberley took home three.

Creston's outstanding winners were Mary Imhoff in the senior division, who was first in both the broad and high jump. In the juniors Frank Rota won the 880-yard run and pole vault. In the latter event Rota broke the junior record, clearing 9 feet 5¼ inches.

Creston winnings were:

Juniors — boys 880 yards, broad jump, pole vault, boys relay, girls relay.

The 1942 meet will be held at Creston.

The outstanding triumph was totally celebrated at a Victory assembly at the High School auditorium Monday morning, at which Principal S. J. Graham spoke in high praise of the outstanding work of the athletes and the handling of the students by Ben Crawford, B.A., who had charge of the field events, and Fred Martello, who handled the track competitions.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP)—Rumor Foundry: We suppose reports that some of the Cincinnati Reds aren't speaking to each other are just part of the gossip that always goes along with a slump. . . . The Washington Boxing Commission says it paid Arthur Donovan $150 to referee Louis-Baer. Ray C. Alvis, one of the promoters, says Donovan got a grand. Which is right, and h's Alvis, who made up the difference?

Annual Track Meet Held at Invermere

INVERMERE, B. C. — The annual sports day for the district schools was held in the Fairgrounds on the afternoon of May 22, when school children and high school students from Athalmer-Invermere, Windermere, Wilmer, Edgewater and Radium Hot Springs participated.

No individual prizes were awarded, but ribbons were given to the winners of first, second and third places, and the point system was used to determine the winners of the Junior and Senior Girls and Boys cups.

The sports program was well organized and was run off with little delay. By arranging that High School students assist in running off the Junior events, the sequence was kept to schedule and the result was a highly satisfactory meet.

It was unfortunate that after so much preparatory work on the part of the teachers and such an excellent turnout of children, that more parents did not make the effort to attend. Only one such School Sport Day is held each year.

A complete list of winners in the different events and the winners of the cups for inter-school competition will be given next week.

French Aces for 500-Mile Speedway

Soft Figure-Flattering Dress

Marian Martin

PATTERN 9677

Lovely lines for a lovely lady—in an entrancing new Marian Martin dress made from Pattern 9677. A dress to provoke those welcome 'how-slim-you've-grown' remarks from everyone. There's clever designing through the bodice, where two panels start just below the cool, low sweetheart neck and flow smoothly down into a wide, curving waistband. Each side-front bodice section is soft and full-cut, with darts at the shoulders and gathering above the waist. The skirt has a single smart panel down the front; the short sleeves are straight or tucked. Lace all around the neck and sleeves adds daintiness. Another suggestion is to make the panels and waistband in attractive contrast. Do start this frock soon!

Pattern 9677 may be ordered only in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 requires 3⅛ yards 39 inch fabric and 2⅛ yards lace edging.

Send twenty cents for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your size, name, address and style number.

HOW TO WORK CRYPTOQUOTES

Cryptoquotes are quotations of famous persons written in cipher. A substitute character has replaced the original letter. For instance, an "R" may substitute for the original "E" throughout the entire cryptoquote, or a "BB" may replace an "LL". Find the key and follow through to the solution.

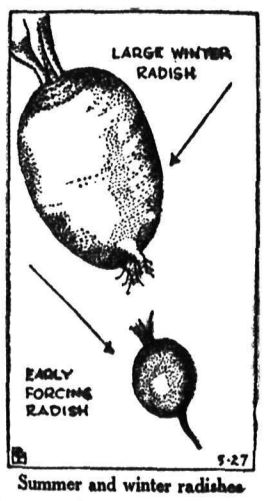
Plant Winter Radishes in July

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Radishes to be good, need to be grown rapidly and used as soon as they are large enough. This is best accomplished by frequent plantings of small amounts.

Radishes do not require garden space of their own since the small early red variety can be planted



Summer and winter radishes

mixed with seeds of carrots, parsnips, or salsify. The radishes will germinate quickly, marking the row long before the other vegetables sprout. When the radishes are ready they can be pulled up, allowing ample space for the development of the other vegetables.

About June, sow the long, white varieties of radishes as fillers in the space where the earliest peas or lettuce have matured. White Icicle and Long White Vienna varieties stand the hot weather better than most other radishes.

In July plant the Winter radishes. As shown in the Garden-Graph they grow to a large size. They should be dug up before frost and stored like turnips.

The winter radishes are not as well known as they deserve to be. They can be eaten raw, but are more appetizing when cooked in the same manner as turnips.

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

DON'T BE TOO DEFINITE

IF SOMEBODY asks you what you would do in a particular situation, it may pay you to indicate a bit of doubt. There are some bidding sequences so complex that the greatest players will admit they are not quite sure what they would do. Either decision may prove profitable or costly, and only those claiming clairvoyant powers or some supreme kind of intelligence may pose as knowing positively just what should be done.

(Dealer: West. North-South vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1 ♣	Pass
1 ♠	2 ♦	Dbl	Pass
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	Pass
Dbl	Pass	Pass	3 ♦
Dbl

Wouldn't you consider it pretty hard for North to keep from injecting that diamond overcall, after he had passed once? And then, after he was doubled, could you blame him for then bidding his seven-card spade suit? Even after West had bid it? Certainly not, if you knew West as a player who occasionally sticks in a stick psychic.

And then, after that had been doubled, too, what would you do in South's position? Would you let your partner play it in the suit in which you held a singleton jack, instead of the one in which you had three cards headed by the queen? Would you have any way of knowing he would be set only two tricks at the 2-Spades and four at the 3-Diamonds? You surely would not.

If you feel like calling any of these players palookas, just note that West was Theodore A. Lightner, North Myron Fuchs, East Oswald Jacoby and South Robert A. McPherran, and that they were battling their hardest in the final of the Vanderbilt cup.

At the other table of the match, West opened the deal with 1-Spade, so North, Howard Schenken, did not get a chance to make an overcall at only two after having once passed. Hence he never got in the bidding. East and West therefore played at 3-No Trumps, making five, for 460 points, whereas Schenken's teammates scored 1,100 points where the bidding was as shown above.

* * *

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

If East opens this deal with 1-Club, South ultimately gets into 3-No Trumps and West leads the club 3, why should South figure out the logical line of play which will make his contract plus an overtrick?

Canadian Industry After the War Will Be on a Much Broader Basis

The Canadian branch of an American hosiery mill, one of the recent imported industries.

By JAMES MONTAGNES
Central Press Canadian Writer

After the war Canada is due for an industrial expansion similar to that which took place following the First World War, but this time the economic transformation will be on a broader scale. European industrialists and scientists will bring new specialized industries to the Dominion, Canada's non-agricultural industries will increase to account for more than their present 75 per cent of Canadian income, and the Dominion's permanent defence forces will keep in operation a part of the varied armament factories which have grown up with the present war.

These are the opinions of C. M. Short, Assistant Secretary of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, one of Canada's outstanding economists. Basing his views on the industrial expansion which followed the First World War and the increased industrial tempo of the past decade, he feels that after the present war Canada will tend to come closer to United States industrialization where only 10 per cent of the country's wealth now comes from agriculture.

"In the last war Canada's main armament production was in the manufacture of munitions," Mr. Short stated. "This time, partly because of the industrialization following the First World War, Canada is manufacturing a much more varied line of armaments, in fact nearly everything but airplane and tank motors. While, after the war a large number of these factories will close up in the period of post-war adjustment, a number of them will remain open to supply a standing army for coastal defences. This may not be a large army, possibly about 100,000 men. In addition, Canada will maintain a large navy, not necessarily of battleships and large cruisers, but destroyers and small coastal defence vessels. An Air Force to work in conjunction with these two defence forces will also be maintained on a full strength basis. The armaments needed by these forces will keep a number of war industries going."

Pointing out that this was really no time for definite forecasts, he saw at least a two-year period of post-war adjustment, perhaps more economically painful than that following the First World War. This readjustment period would not start immediately after hostilities ended, but some time later. Dependent on political developments, this post-war adjustment period might even equal the five-year period following the last war, when Canada's economy was largely a matter of export of raw materials with imports of many manufactured products.

HAD TO BECOME INDUSTRIALIZED

In the intervening years many nations have striven to become self-sufficient in raw materials, largely agricultural, of which Canada had large exportable surpluses, and the Dominion has, as a result, had to become more industrialized, thus better able to meet her own need for manufactured materials. In the past decade Canada has changed from a predominantly agricultural country to one based on agriculture, mining, forestry, fisheries and manufactures. It is not expected that agriculture will again account for more than a quarter of the annual income, especially since there has been little expansion in the past 10 years in the area under cultivation. In the development of new types of enterprise which lifted Canada to a highly industrialized plane, there were many peacetime advantages, including a much greater range of commodities for domestic use and for export. A similar development can be expected after this war, especially in view of the greater diversity of new types of industries built here as a result of our armament production.

NEW INDUSTRIES WILL COME

"After the post-war adjustment," Mr. Short continued, "many of the armament factories which will have to close down at the end of the war may be reopened for peacetime requirements; new industries will come to Canada as a result of immigration of skilled specialists, scientists, industrialists and others from Europe, people who will want to live outside that danger zone. New industries will also come from Canadian sources in the march of inventive progress. Canadian capital will help open up some of these closed armament plants for European-originating industries. Already, as a result of pre-war political unrest in Europe, we have new industries in Canada brought by refugee European industrialists, producing materials which we formerly imported.

"There may be a large influx of selected people from Europe after the war, aside from the specialists. Canada, according to all authorities, will need that larger population. We now have Governmental services capable of looking after a population three times as large as at present."

During the first year of the war Canada increased her volume of exports by 12 per cent, more than any other country except the United States. In other countries, due to war industries, industrial plant has also been increased as in Canada. There will be keen competition for Canadian industry after the war to hold the export volume increases gained during this war. The reconstruction of Continental Europe and the United Kingdom will require great quantities of materials, some of which undoubtedly will come from Canada.

Few Montreal Stocks Fail to Hold Ground

MONTREAL, May 29 (CP).—Most issues traded in the final hour on the stock market today held their ground but here and there recessions were registered.

Dryden, St. Lawrence Corp. common, National Steel Car and Canadian Car were off fractions in newsprint.

Shawinigan was firmer among utilities, while in the miscellaneous section Imperial Tobacco slipped ¼.

MELBOURNE (CP).—More than 160,000 Australians applied for enlistment in the Royal Australian Air Force in 58 weeks — an average of one application every 3½ minutes.

Wall St. Denotes Rising Trend

NEW YORK, May 29 (AP).—The stock market absorbed its vitamins more or less synthetically today but managed to work up moderate rising energy in several departments.

Closing gains were small for many leaders although 1 to 2 points were tacked on scattered issues in generally slack dealings. Transfers were around 350,000 shares.

Another flurry in aircrafts, coming after mid-day, helped prop some other faltering groups.

A little short covering brokers said, in preparation for tomorrow's holiday when major exchanges will recess, tended to steady trends.

Motor Financing Figures Show Gains

OTTAWA, May 29 (CP)—Financing of motor vehicles in Canada during April was up 28 per cent in number and 43 per cent in dollar volume compared with the same month in 1940, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today. Total volume of financing during April exceeded that in any month since January 1932, when Bureau records in this division began.

DIVIDENDS

Dominion Glass Company Limited, common 1¼ per cent, preferred 1¾ per cent, for quarter ending June 30.

Bell Telephone Company of Canada, $2.

Canadian Oil Companies, preferred, 2 per cent.

National Breweries Limited, 50 cents and, preferred, 44 cents.

General Weakness on Toronto Market

TORONTO, May 29 (CP).—The Toronto Stock Market registered general weakness in slow action today after looking promising in the opening stage. Losses were narrow throughout.

Aunor, Pickle Crow, Preston, Beattie, MacLeod - Cockshutt, Senator Rouyn, Hard Rock, Upper Canada, were lower while Lake Shore and Wright-Hargreaves were slightly higher.

Narrow recessions in base metals affected Hudson Bay, Sudbury Basin, Sherritt and Chromium.

Three penny oils, Calmont, Foundation and Prairie Royalties, declined fractions and Anglo-Canadian was off a cent to 52. Other Western oils held unchanged.

Dull Trading on Winnipeg Market

WINNIPEG, May 29 (CP).—Fairly liberal selling by outside interests and elevators pinned wheat futures prices to their minimum levels through a dull session on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. May wheat is pegged at 75⅞, July at 77½ cents a bushel.

Traders appeared discouraged by the lack of export interest in Canadian wheat and a drop in wheat values at Chicago.

Buenos Aires prices were about unchanged.

Oats and barley held about unchanged as Southern houses made light purchases. Scattered selling clipped about a cent from rye and two cents from flax.

Few Price Changes in Active Coast Day

VANCOUVER, May 29 (CP) — Few price changes were registered during fairly active trading on Vancouver Stock Exchange today. Transactions totalled 13,330 shares.

In the golds Bralorne at 9.85 advanced 10 and Golconda closed fractionally higher at 4¾. Privateer at 50 and Cariboo Gold Quartz at 2.30 were unchanged.

Calgary & Edmonton Oil at 1.06 firmed a cent and Calmont gained a fraction at 14½. Highwood Sarcee at 8 and Royal Canadian at 7 remained unchanged.
