POLICE SEEK HER MURDERER

Top left: Mrs. Laura Green of Nelson, formerly Mrs. A. B. Hall, whose murdered body was found in a railway cut about 100 yards west of the C. P. R. railway bridge at Granite. The body, battered and cut, was found by a freight crew about 5:30 a.m.

Top right: A closeup of the ground, the circle enclosing the largest bloodstain on the ground. The amount of the blood and the extensive wounds indicated she had been killed elsewhere and flung on the bank of the railway cut, and condition of the body indicated she had been dragged some distance.

Below: Provincial police, whose investigation began at 6 a.m. and was unbroken up to midnight, fit one of Mrs. Green's shoes into a footprint apparently made as the body lay against the bank.

isted by Snowdon to put Trail up, 12-10. Snowdon drew a two-minute penalty and shortly after Davy and Saundry rendered the nicest exhibition of wrestling seen at a boxla game for some time. If cost them each 10 minutes. Wilson, Forrest and Temple drew two minute penalties in rapid succession, Redmen being reduced to five men. Despite this Wood burst through twice, once alone and the other time assisted by Caraker, to tie the game 12-12 at full time.

After Trail shot in the first two goals of the overtime Ross Forrest delivered a beautiful left to Merlo's chin and the two were hard at it. Referee Wheatley went in to break it up and in so doing took a couple of wild blows here and there. He came out the victor, however, and sent both to the pen with 10 minute penalties.

When play was resumed Simcock thrust in Rossland's last counter, leaving Trail still ahead 14-13. Then Smoke Eaters broke loose to score four more markers to put the game on ice.

MORE ABOUT ROSSLAND DEATH

"The course of events clearly showed she planned to take her life," Dr. Christie said, following the hearing.

No blame for her death was attached to anyone. Testimony of two witnesses, Miss Grace Holmes, sister of the dead woman, and Mr. Strawbridge, her husband, revealed that Mrs. Strawbridge left her home about 6 p.m. Tuesday to attend a party, and was not seen again by any member of the household until her husband, who was searching for her, found her body in the reservoir Friday morning. Mrs. Strawbridge had shown no despondency and never mentioned suicide, both testified.

Mr. Strawbridge described his search for his wife, and the ultimate discovery of her body in the reservoir. Her husband described Mrs. Strawbridge as "very hard worker and high strung." Friends who had attended the party with Mrs. Strawbridge reported she had seemed cheerful enough Tuesday evening.

How he and Fire Chief Kenneth Martin, using a boat, raised the body from reservoir waters where it was found by Mr. Strawbridge, was told by Corporal J. F. Johnson, who came up from Trail this morning to take charge of investigations. The body was recovered about 10:30 a.m.

Herbert Martin, owner of the home in which his family, Miss Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. Strawbridge resided, stated Mrs. Strawbridge had shown no indication of despondency.

Mr. and Mrs. Strawbridge came to Rossland from Nottingham, England, about 11 years ago. Mr. Strawbridge, entering the employ of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company as an operator almost immediately.

MORE ABOUT MRS. GREEN

ing a flashlight. She returned to the business section by the midnight car, apparently visited her home at 702 Baker street, spent a short time in a cafe and then hired a taxi to take her to Taghum.

GIVES 'DOUKHOBOR LIFT

Egil Alstead, driver for the 66 Taxi left Nelson with her about 2 a.m. John Chernenkoff, Doukhorbor living on the south side of the Kootenay river at Taghum, asked for and received a "lift" as far as the old Granite-Poorman road, where he got out.

Alstead said he took Mrs. Green across the Taghum highway bridge and left her near Marsden's store on the north side. In response to his query she said she would be all right, that friends were to meet her with a car, Alstead explained.

Nothing further of her movements was known until the freight crew reported discovery of the body at 5:30 a.m.

TRAIL PERSONS SOUGHT

Late Friday night Sergeant Barber asked that persons in a Trail car who had tire trouble between Nelson and the top of Taghum hill about 2 a.m., Friday morning should communicate with him. Having learned that such a car was on the road but not having its license number, he asked for the assistance of the persons in this car from the viewpoint particularly of whether they had seen Mrs. Green at Taghum or along the road.

Mrs. Green, 52 years of age, was born in Truro, N. S. She came to Nelson on her honeymoon in 1910 when she married A. B. Hall, former Canadian Pacific railway conductor, and had resided here since. Mr. Hall died suddenly on duty in the caboose of a freight train near Creston about four years ago. Three years ago she married E. W. Green, a C. P. R. fireman now stationed at Cranbrook.

With her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Norlund, she had been operating a boarding house at 704 Baker street for some time.

Besides her second husband and daughter, who was her only child, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Minnie Sinclair Brine of Mount Vernon, Wash.

LIFE HONORS FOR A. B. SMITH

CRANBROOK, B.C.,—A. B. Smith was presented with a life membership by the District Farmers institute as a token of appreciation for his many years of service as president of this group. R. G. Newton of Invermere spoke the appreciation of other institutes for the fine work of Mr. Smith, and H. E. Waby followed by references to a long association in agricultural movements and efforts.

In reply Mr. Smith recalled the first meeting he had attended in Cranbrook, and of the 10 members, all of whom he remembered well. Angus Morrison is the only one actively occupied now. He thanked the members for their kindness.

Short addresses were given by Mr. Newton and Mr. McMeans, who is in charge of potato beetle work in this district this year.

Mr. Waby addressed the gathering on weed control, breeding problems and other phases of farm life. He showed specimens of Toad flax, which he condemned as a very persistent weed, and explained that unless taken care of when it first appears surely to extend itself, it will be as costly as couch grass. He also showed Wild Salix, which is giving a great trouble in the Salmon Arm district and spreading fast. Much advice was given on the use of chemical weed killers and the need for care with sodium chlorate to avoid fire.

The reply of the C.P.R. in the matter of livestock shipments via Kootenay-Central Railway to Vancouver was filed, and a complete statement in the matter and copies of correspondence were sent to the Beef Breeders association.

Vocal solos were rendered by J. C. Little with C. V. Edwards at the piano. A supper was served by the ladies.

Wheatley-Paterson Named for Lacrosse Game Nelson Monday

"Curly" Wheatley of Trail and Bob Paterson of Nelson will handle the Nelson-Rossland boxla game in Nelson Monday night, it was announced Friday night by R. C. Crear, president of the West Kootenay boxla league, and a complete statement in the matter and copies of correspondence were sent to the Beef Breeders association.

Mrs. Garland of Nelson Passes Suddenly, Home Health Poor for Six Years; Talented Musician

Margaret Jean Garland, wife of C. B. Garland of Nelson, died suddenly at her home, 702 Mill street, Friday morning. She had been in poor health for six years.

Mrs. Garland was born in Ontario in 1888, but had lived in British Columbia 40 years. The daughter of Rev. James Irvine of Vancouver, she was married to Mr. Garland in 1918. In 1919 they took up residence in Creston, and 12 years ago came to Nelson, her husband being a member of the law firm O'Shea & Garland.

Besides her husband she leaves a daughter, Gwen, in Nelson; her mother and two sisters in Vancouver, a sister in Seattle, and a brother at Powell River.

Mrs. Garland was a talented musician and some years ago was actively engaged in recital work. She took a leading part in organizing musical movements in Vancouver, Creston and Nelson at various times. During the war she was president of the auxiliary of a battalion to which Mr. Garland was attached and undertook a great deal of work in that direction besides organizing and staging concerts for the battalions and for the Red Cross.

At Creston Mrs. Garland again was active in musical circles, planning and holding concerts in aid of local objectives.

She was one of the founders of the Music Lovers' club in Nelson, and was one of the original directors of the Kootenay Music festival.

The funeral will take place Tuesday.

Good Fishing in Creston District
CRESTON, B.C.—Week-end reports from anglers at various points in the district indicate that fishing is fair in the creeks and Goat river, and with the high water period set steady improvement is looked for.
Middle creek, on the west side of Kootenay Lake, is the bright spot of the week with some very fine jolly Varden trout taken at the mouth of the stream.
A few nice catches have been made in Kootenay lake in the vicinity of Gray Creek but, generally speaking, the lake is still a little too muddy for best results.
Creston fishermen have had luck in Kid and Meadow creeks in the Kitchener country.

SAYS SUNDAY OUTLOOK BRIGHTER
WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—Works Progress Administrator Harry Hopkins is optimistic over the employment outlook of the United States, despite a year's peak of 2,833,354 persons on the relief rolls.
"I don't want to be a Pollyanna, but there are signs that the relief rolls might come down," Hopkins said.

Cascade Traffic Increase Large In 1938 Over 1937

Total autos cleared at Cascade in the first six months of 1938, ending June 30, increased by 1938 over the same period in 1937 according to the report of A. J. McLean, collector. The total increase of passengers in the first six months was 5403.
From January 1 to June 30, a total of 9424 Canadian and foreign autos passing both inwards and outwards, was cleared, as compared with 7931 autos in 1937.
Passengers passing both ways in 1938 totalled 28,487 in 1938, as compared with 21,084 in 1937.
Traffic figures for the first six months of 1938 as compared with 1937 follow:

EDMONTON, July 15 (CP)—George Leblanc came to Edmonton today driving his dogs and cart—and he expects to go on to Vancouver and cover the 1200 miles between Vegreville, Alta., and the coast in 40 nights. He's travelling by night because the sun is too hot in the daytime.

STORMS PLAY HAVOC ON ATLANTIC COAST
NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—A lashing rain storm and gale-like winds left a trail of havoc along the middle Atlantic seaboard today.
Raging across southeastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and the eastern shore of Maryland, the storm, accompanied by lightning, flooded scores of homes, scattered fishing boats helter-skelter, ripped off roofs, felled trees and damaged corn fields and orchards.

Should Encourage Development of Dominions, Says

MANCHESTER, England, July 15 (CP-Havas)—"One of the main objectives of imperial policy ought to be encouragement of the gradual development of the dominions until they attain the status of first class powers, having decisive influence in the affairs of mankind," Colonial Secretary Malcolm MacDonald declared here today.

"What wants developing in the dominions is simpler forms of manufacture," he continued. As people went into the commonwealth countries and engaged in production they would make the dominions a far larger market for Great Britain in the manufacture of more complex products, he maintained.
The minister said he would like to see British and dominion industrialists get together to work out a plan for complementary industrial production whereby, in the long run, he believed not only the dominions but also the mother country would profit.

Convention Report Given Creston W. I.
CRESTON, B.C.—The July meeting of Creston and District Women's institute was held Friday with Mrs. R. Stevens, presiding and 13 members present.
The feature of the session was a report on the June conference of the Kootenay-Arrow lakes institutes held at Nelson. Mrs. Charles Murrell submitted a carefully prepared report that outlined the more important happenings and had something to say of most of the resolutions coming before the convention.
Mrs. Murrell was tendered a vote of thanks for attending the conference and complimented on the excellence of her report.
Under the head of general business the members discussed the holding of a baby clinic at Creston. These are featuring institute efforts at other centres in B.C., and are proving helpful and popular. No decision was come to in the matter.
For the fall fair on Labor day the institute is considering serving refreshments, but in final decision will be made at the August meeting which is to be at the home of the president.
The tea hostesses were Mrs. M. Young, Mrs. H. W. MacLaren, Mrs. C. F. Hayes, Mrs. W. McL. Cooper and Mrs. Hopwood.

MUST SAVE THEMSELVES U. S. FARMERS WARNED
MOSCOW, Idaho, July 15 (AP)—The farmers of the United States by way of the American Institute of Cooperation, were warned today by a high official of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration that, in the long run, they will have to save themselves.
Federal farm-surplus relief programs are only "a palliative and not a cure," Francis R. Wilcox, AAA director of marketing and marketing agreements, said in an address prepared for the institute's final general session.

Study Wind Speeds in Stratosphere
PASADENA, Calif., July 15 (AP)—Wind speeds in the stratosphere, one of the "great unknowns" of the weather, register themselves on a new radio direction finder at the California Institute of Technology here.
The finder is an automatic weather-man, who sits on a roof and records the vertical and horizontal angle of radio balloons such as the United States weather bureau is sending into the stratosphere to report temperature, humidity and pressure.
The new direction finder, the smallest yet made, writes the direction on a chart.

Ottawa Street Cars to Vanish, He Hopes
OTTAWA, July 15 (CP)—Street cars will vanish from the centre of the capital within the next 20 or 30 years if Jacques Greber, noted French town-planner who is advising the Canadian government in the development and beautification of Ottawa, has his way.
The noted architect spoke of a plan for a plaza, in the heart of the city, where the national war memorial will be placed. Work has already been started in this area, an old post office having been torn down and work begun on the base for the memorial.

COST $1750 TO CREATE DUKEDOM
LONDON, July 15 (AP)—It cost £350 ($1750) to give the duke of Windsor his dukedom. Supplementary civil estimates issued today included an item for stamp duties on "Royal Warrant letters patent and the docket creating the Dukedom of Windsor."

ZEBALLOS GROWING STATES PATTULLO
VICTORIA, July 15 (CP)—Premier Pattullo said today that mill construction and other buildings at various properties in Zeballos are under way. "Everybody seems buoyant and happy. Several utilities are required, such as water, school, road, hospital and so forth and must receive attention. Here we see development from its very inception. The men and women who are there are truly pioneers and deserve every encouragement."

Killed by Bee Sting
LOGONIER, Pa., July 15 (AP)—The sting of a honey bee yesterday killed Mrs. Nancy Hamlin Shaffer, 52, wife of a councilman in 20 minutes. She was stung in the throat while working in her garden. Dr. C. D. Ambrose said the resulting swelling strangled her.

Must Keep Canadian-Australian Route for British Says Beatty

By GUY RHOADES
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON, July 15 (CP Cable)—Sir Edward Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway company, said today the Imperial and Dominion governments were agreed in principle that the Canadian-Australian route should be preserved for British shipping and had overcome the main difficulties in negotiations looking toward provision of more modern, faster and larger liners for the service now being operated by the Aorangi and the Niagara.
"In the view of the Canadian-Australian line," said Sir Edward, who arrived from Canada last night, "it is essential the ships should be of a type that will enable the competition of foreign lines to be met effectively and that they be constructed at a cost which will permit at least the prospect of profitable operation."
"These features, I think, will be determined before I return to Canada and we shall then know whether contracts can be let now or must be deferred until building costs can be reduced."
Amplifying his statement in an interview at Southampton that the Canadian Pacific planned a large building program, including a sister ship for the Empress of Britain and two luxury liners for the Pacific service, if world conditions remained favorable, Sir Edward said:
"The situation in regard to new tonnage on the Atlantic and on the Pacific is equally simple. Under present conditions large liners cannot be built in less than 30 months to three years. Consequently, tonnage to replace ships in service must be planned some years in advance."
"Naturally everything will depend on the general economic situation, particularly in Canada, and upon shipbuilding costs."

Present Conditions in U. S. Better Than 1931
LONDON, July 15 (AP)—Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, told the house of commons today that the present economic situation in the United States "bears no sort of resemblance to the situation that existed before the great depression of 1931—none at all."
"In the United States there has, of course, been a setback," Sir John said, "but, on the balance, undoubtedly things in that great country are vastly better than they were in 1931—and the same thing is true in our own case."
Aside from the United States, he contended world consumption of commodities had "shown no special reduction in the first five months of this year."

GUN FOUND BESIDE BODY OF SPORTSMAN
VICTORIA, July 15 (CP)—Harold Ewert (Bob) Stacey, 58, well known Brentwood fisherman and sportsman, was found dead late last night in his Brentwood home by Saanich police.
A shotgun was found beside the body.

LONDON NOTABLES DISCUSS PERFECT WOMAN PROBLEM

Needs Cooperation . . . Helpful Teacher Solves Problems Of School Child

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.

"Dear Dr. Myers: My five-year-old son and only child of a nervous salesman father, and likewise a nervous teacher mother (nervous from too much work, too little money and too little play) started in the first grade with the boys he has always known.

"Almost from the first day, five or six boys have punched and kicked him all the way home twice a day for almost nothing, as far as I can find out—something about a marble thrown away a long while ago. I laughed about it to myself and tried not to take it seriously, thinking that the fight was over, and it would do him more good than anything I could say. I suspected that he whined when they chased him, so warned him against that. When the minister's son hit him in the back of the neck so that he complained of pains there, I began to wonder whether it should go on. We had so much trouble during his third and fourth years with his hitting habit that I disliked to urge him to fight back, but I finally told him he would have to use his fists, if they hit him first. He said he tried that but he later became so desperate that I found him using stones and setting his dog on them.

"That was after nearly two weeks. The boys told me that day that they had all talked in school and had been kept in a few minutes, and when my boy talked again they all had to stay longer. I did not blame them, but could not see that six against one was fair, either.

TALKED MATTER OVER

"When I had occasion to speak with the teacher, I mentioned the gang, not feeling she would think it in her power to do anything about it. However, when George came home he very happily announced that the talked the matter over in school and the fights were called off for two weeks to give him an opportunity to show the others he could do what was right. George was so relieved that it brought tears to my eyes.

As I read the above, I suffered with that child and that mother, and admired her for her wisdom and self-control. I also could not be too hard on those other children. When a number of boys in a group turn consistently on a playmate, there almost always is a reason in some item of the victim's behavior. While I wish this teacher had not punished all the children for the offense of the one boy, I admire her for going at this problem in a way that seems very wise. Often a

Baby's Health . . . "Second Summer" No Longer Worry To Young Mother

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The old dread that mothers had of the baby's second summer is fast disappearing. There is no reason for it any more.

Tradition had it that the second summer is very critical and that the baby must be sick some time in that period. But the situation has changed, and, as a matter of statistics, the summer months show less sickness for those under five years of age than any other part of the year.

None of us need as much food in the summer, and this includes the baby. "Less to eat and more to drink in the summer time" is the slogan of a wise old practitioner of my acquaintance.

The summer is a fine time to let the skin get acquainted with the air. Take all the baby's clothes off and let it roll around in the good air and sunshine on these warm days.

Fruit juices are important foods and should be added liberally to the diet of any baby during the first and second summer. And fruit is all right, but oranges and tomato juice have the best supply of Vitamin C. A half cup to a cup of tomato juice or the juice of a large orange every day is the proper ration. Sweet oranges to which no sugar has been added should be used. Before the orange is cut it should be dipped into boiling water and wiped with a clean cloth so that no germs get into the juice when it is squeezed.

The best preventive of overheating is cool water. Two or even three baths—without soap, of course—are not too much in hot weather. The stimulating effect of the cool bath is enhanced if it is thrown with some force on the body. So water from a hose or sprinkled on from a watering can is most refreshing.

In its second summer the baby begins to show some will power and selection about its food. It is more liable to eat irregularly. From this it becomes sick. Someone says: "Yes, naturally, it is sick; this is its second summer." It is the wrong food, or food eaten at irregular intervals and not the second summer that is at fault.

Leaving Home . . . Girl Not Willing To Sacrifice For Low-Salaried Boy

By VIRGINIA LEE

"Dear Virginia Lee: I am very much in love with a young man. He is 23 and I am 22. He is going away on his job soon, and we want to get married before he leaves, but to keep it a secret for six months. Then I will join him and live out there for a few years.

"His salary is just enough to keep a roof over our heads, feed and buy very few clothes. As he has to work a few nights a week I will have to be alone some nights, a thing I dislike very much. Here I have a loving family, a comfortable home, a job and many friends. Out there I will be with him, but there isn't a person I know.

"Please help me. Should I marry now and join him after, or should I wait for him to come home in two and one-half years? I will miss him terribly, but I want to do the right thing by my parents and my boy friend. M. F. F."

I do not usually approve of secret marriages, but why not be married openly before your sweetheart goes away, and then get ready to join him when the time comes?

And never spoil your husband's chances for a change of job by saying you can't go with him and make a home for him. I've known women who have done that little thing. A woman was telling me the other day that she considered her sister-in-law had ruined her brother's life. He had always worked hard for a small salary and when his chance came to get a better job in a distant city she refused to let him take it. She "wouldn't know anyone there," she wailed. So her husband is still working for the same firm in the old home town at a small salary.

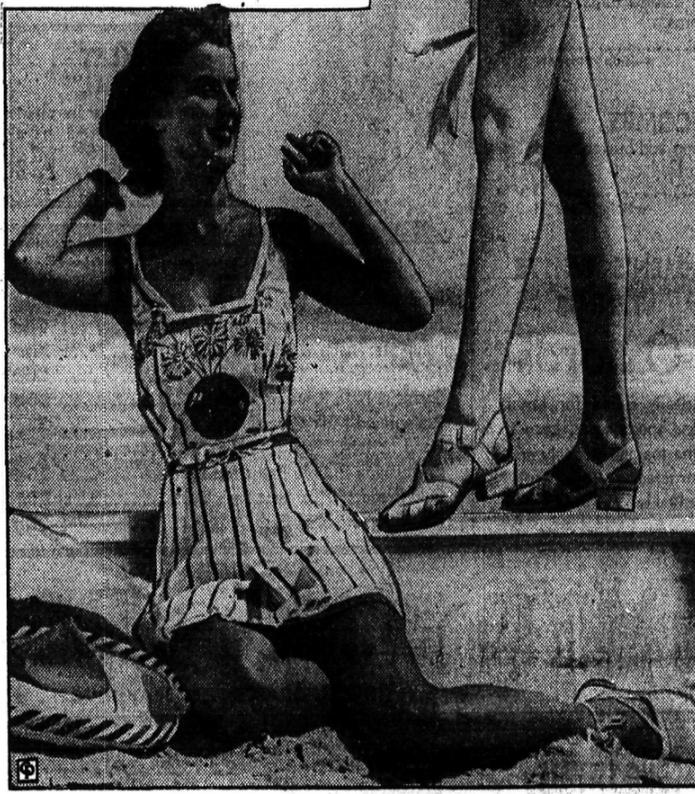

What would have become of the American continent if women had not been willing to face, not only strangers, but untold hardships in the new life to be with their men? Think of all the brave women who crossed wide oceans to settle in Canada, the United States or Mexico and found homes in what was then a wilderness. That is the spirit for you to imitate.

One cannot help missing the old friends, and especially the family, but one can always make new friends, and in time they become as dear as the old ones. I know because I've done it. At first there is no one to reminisce with in the new home and one feels out of things. But if you are friendly and pleasant, you will be surprised how soon you acquire a new circle of pals and have good times. And they are your OWN friends because you have made them all yourself, not through your family or by growing up with them.

If you cannot wholeheartedly marry and go out to your sweetheart, prepared to make a happy home for him on his slim salary, better say so and let him go alone and not expect you to join him. He will be much better off in the end without a wife who will spend her days moaning about how much she misses folk "back home," even if he is keenly hurt now.

"Perfect Woman" Subject of Talk by Prominent Men, Literary Lunch

LONDON, July 16 (CP)—What, or where or why is the perfect woman? At a recent literary luncheon here half a dozen prominent men ventured to discuss—but hardly answer—the question.

Rev. Desmond Morse-Boycott said it was good theology that Eve was never perfect but only innocent. He thought present-day tastes varied. "Some like them round, like moon; others thin, like serpent."

Will Fryfe, English comedian extraordinary, said he would have spoken more easily of the ideal man, though it might have seemed boastful. Every man had his ideal woman. If his wife was there he'd only need to say, "Darling, stand up."

Sports Commentator C. B. Fry was content with the old quotation: "If she be not fair to me, what care I how fair she be?"

Said C. B. Cochran, producer and theatre manager: "I raise my glass to the perfect woman and, with more sincerity and love, to her less perfect sisters."

C. R. W. Nevinson, many of whose paintings are well known in Canada: "In history the inspiration of artists has been, not woman, but first, food, then fear, then religion. Sex only entered in after thousands of years. The present craze for slenderness, due to the magnification of the cinema picture, will no doubt be reversed by television." He added: "In Victorian days she was a fat chorus girl who married a peer."

But The Evening News wasn't altogether impressed with these various bits so it concluded the controversy by saying the perfect woman's ideal of the perfect man is something between a cad and a dandy crook. On the other hand the perfect man's ideal of the perfect cad is the chap who gets away with the perfect woman.

Serial Story . . . FIESTA

By OREN ARNOLD

CHAPTER 39

The town of Hermosillo, Sonora, in Mexico, was peaceful enough there in the twilight of evening. Workmen had come to their homes and were enjoying supper. Phonographs brightened some of the homes along Cinco de Mayo street, and the inevitable dogs played or loafed on the dirt sidewalks. A few children were in sight. But the only adult visible was a rather large man, walking along.

The man wore a battered straw sombrero, a very old and faded cape-like serape—a woven thing like a rug with a hole in the middle through which he had thrust his head, his pantaloons were dirty. He wore no shoes. He walked slowly as if tired. Unkempt beard suggested further that he was a laborer.

He went on down the street and turned into a saloon. He had a glass of beer, and dozed for a while back in a corner chair. More people came in later and the man did some talking then.

He explained once that he wished he could get into America to live. He had no family, he said, but had friends in Arizona. Ah, if he could just get over the line safely! He had saved a little money for the trip. Friends already there had sent it to him. If he could but be smuggled in.

After a while he moved to another saloon and repeated his longings, to whatever chance listeners he could find. He went to a small hotel and talked the same way. He struck up conversations on the street and continued his yearnings for transportation across the line into Arizona, where his friends lived. He had a little money. Nearly 300 pesos.

In front of the police station, officers were sitting on sidewalk benches. The man told them his story. They listened but made no comment. Disgruntled Mexicans always were waiting to go to the United States; they knew very well that the man was lying.

He sat in a little plaza parkway and discussed his hopes with chance loafers there. About midnight he went on back down Cinco de Mayo street, turned up an alley and entered his shabby room. Several people were on the street at that hour.

It developed that one of the persons had been following him, for a short, furtive sort of little man came down the alley and tapped on the big fellow's door. They talked a moment in low tones. Then the big fellow passed something through the door to him, and presently followed the little man back out of the alley and up Cinco de Mayo street although it was quite dark and deserted at that hour of night, the big man kept 100 yards behind the smaller one.

Ellen Dale had been so distracted for three days that she could hardly sleep. Felix Montoya had been a guest at one more breakfast in her home, but had made his farewell that morning and gone away. She was glad she didn't want to discuss her and Bill's affairs with him, and she was thinking constantly of Bill.

"Uncle Buckshot" she approached that individual on the third day. "do you think maybe I ought to go down to Mexico myself? I mean—see about it, and all?"

"See about what?" the old man jabbed.

"Well—I mean, to help Bill with his inquiry. He will contact the authorities, no doubt, and—"

"You don't even know where he's at. Now, you don't go down there.

Consult Specialist . . . Ailing Feet Cause Trouble, Exercise, Massage Helpful

By JULIET SHELBY

IF OUR mothers (and grandmothers) had known that our generation would find the bare foot as common a sight as the ungloved hand, I bet they'd have insisted on a little more foot lore in our education.

Many a foot that strikes you as being an attractive one, however, is a "rebuilt" job—a makeover beauty which is as satisfactory as the real article.

To start with, its owner has probably learned the truth about "comfortable as an old shoe," that it is a pernicious saying and a good maxim by which to tick and ruin your feet. An old shoe isn't any more comfortable than a well-fitted new shoe—and it is very much more dangerous for your feet. Proper support has been broken down; one's body is thrown off balance by its lack of support, and faults to carriage as well as to feet may be blamed alike on your comfortable old shoe.

FOOT SPECIALIST HELPFUL

The knowing woman who suddenly realizes that her feet look alien to the rest of her body, marches them to a shoe salesman who knows his business, and then to a foot specialist for checking on fit, and for advice as to structural treatment.

Her second stop is, very likely, the chiropodist who starts her feet off on their first toddling step toward pulchritude. After that, she takes up pedicuring herself in a quiet way—keeping after the new job until constant care begins to get results. A backache is no longer a simple backache to her: it is, for all she knows, a rebellious message from arches improperly supported. So she checks on that point. Burning feet, feet which puff when the temperature goes up, or get chilly no matter what the temperature does, are all interesting phenomena to her, and worth investigation.

The puffy, burning foot may inherit all its aches from a shoe which strains across the instep, although it is a perfect fit elsewhere. Alternate baths of hot and cold water—finishing the evening's series with a wipe off with astringent—will make the foot comfortable again. But it will relapse if you stuff it into a too tight shoe again.

For cold feet, try this simple exercise: Slip off your shoes and push out your feet straight ahead, one at a time. (You are sitting for this exercise). Stretch out each toe—reach with them—and then revolve your foot from the ankle, slowly. This should stimulate circulation and stop the chills.

... takes good care of her feet

Poems That Live A CONTEMPLATION UPON FLOWERS

Brave flowers—that I could gallant it like you,
And be as little vain!
You come abroad, and make a harmless show,
And to your beds of earth again.
You are not proud: you know your birth:
You come abroad, and make a harmless show,
And to your beds of earth again.
You are not proud: you know your birth:
For your embroidered garments are from earth.

You do obey your months and times, but I
Would have it ever Spring:
My fate would know no Winter, never die,
Nor think of such a thing.
O that I could my bed of earth but view
And smile, and look as cheerfully as you!

O teach me to see Death and not to fear,
But rather to take truce!
How often have I seen you at a bier,
And there look fresh and spruce!
You fragrant flowers! then teach me, that my breath
Like yours may sweeten and perfume my death.

—Henry King.

Just for fun why don't you scrap that bathing suit that you could make do, and go in for one of the delectable new styles you will see on every beach this summer? You can't stay in the water all the time, you know, and when you come out on the beach you will look so pretty in one of the new suits.

Take, for instance, the white latex model, printed in multi-colored flowers, shown here. The bright young swimmer holds a new banana swim cap that is adjustable for snug fit; she wears rubber swim shoes.

BIG THREE IN PLAY SUITS

A softer type of suit for the sun lover is the dish-towel suit printed in a yellow-and-blue pansy pattern with pleats in the skirt and slide fastener in the back. It has adjustable straps and a Deauville Mexican hat is beside her on the sand.

Hopsacking, sharkskin and linen are quoted as the Big Three of play clothes. And the play suit with the pleated skirt is well liked in chamber.

Then there are the pastel colored burlap boxy coats—some of them with fish buttons—truly a season of original details.

The ever present bolero is seen, too, in burlap, and it may be worn with a flowered print country frock. It is a "pretty" season, I might add, in case you haven't noticed it before.

TIMELY HINTS

Red and yellow will still catch a fellow when it's in salad; arrange segments of canned grapefruit on a salad plate to form a "fan". Cut a ripe banana into halves lengthwise and lay one of the halves at base of fan. Decorate with strips of pimento, sprinkle with walnuts and dot with mayonnaise. If this salad is made a half-hour to one-hour ahead of time, sprinkle banana with grapefruit juice to prevent discoloration.

It looks now as though the straight silhouette will replace the vogue for flares this fall. The narrow skirts have an even slimmer look when they are contrasted with softly-bloused bodices.

Hints for Housewives

Menu Hint

Planked Frankfurters Vegetables
Cabbage or Lettuce Salad
Ice Cream Cake or Cookies
Coffee

This is frankfurter time of year, and you can eat your frankfurters in your home or on a picnic, just as you like. This planked frankfurter recipe is very good and you can use the mustard sauce with it or not, as you choose. Here also are two new ice cream recipes, in case you like to make your own.

SPICED PUMPKIN ICE CREAM
—One and one-half cups sugar, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon ginger, one-fourth teaspoon mace or nutmeg, one-eighth teaspoon salt, two cups evaporated milk or rich bottle milk, four egg yolks, one and one-half cups canned pumpkin, one teaspoon grated orange rind, two teaspoons gelatin, one-fourth cup cold water, one cup nutmeats, one cup whipping cream. Combine sugar, spices and salt, and mix well. Add the milk slowly to this mixture and scald over boiling water. Add the slightly beaten egg yolks to the pumpkin, then add this to the scalded milk. Soak the gelatin in cold water, and add to it the grated orange rind. Now add this mixture to the milk mixture. Return to the fire and cook five minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from fire, and chill thoroughly before adding chopped nutmeats. Finally fold in the whipped cream. Pour into tray of mechanical refrigerator and freeze about three hours. This ice cream is particularly delicious when served in a baked tart shell and garnished with toasted coconut.

SPICED PRUNE ICE CREAM
—One can evaporated milk (fourteen and one-half-ounce size), one teaspoon unflavored gelatin, one tablespoon cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg, one cup whipping cream, one-eighth teaspoon salt, two cups cooked, seeded prunes, two tablespoons brown sugar, one teaspoon vanilla, one cup ground nutmeats. Scald the evaporated milk. Soften the gelatin in the tablespoon of cold water, then add to the hot milk and let it dissolve. Add the

Edging a garden path

There are many different materials which can be used to edge a garden walk, among the metal strips, bricks, stones, edging plants or strips of lawn.

Still another edging material which provides permanent at moderate expense is pecky cypress wood. Used in strips, as shown in this garden-graph, pecky cypress boards will last for many years, especially if the boards and anchoring pegs are given two coats of creosote before being installed.

The pecky cypress boards should be four or five inches wide, and should be set down an inch or 'vo into the soil. The strips should be one-inch thick and nailed to stakes every four feet. The stakes should be two by four inches in thickness and 20 to 24 inches in length, to permit them to be driven down below the frost line.

A dressing, several inches thick, of gravel, pebbles, lime chips or tan bark spread between the boards will make an attractive, yet practical walk.

NELSON Social..

By MRS. M. J. VIGNEUX

Twilight filtered through the trees at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Simpson, 418 Victoria street, throwing subtle lights on a beautiful arch of vari-colored roses and fern where on Friday morning, Norah Elizabeth, eldest daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson became the bride of John Montague Morley, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Morley of Greenwood. Rev. C. B. Brown of New Denver officiated. On the arm of her father the bride entered the garden to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Miss Marion Younger. Melody pink sheer was intricately shirred to mould the lovely lines of the gown worn by the bride. From a dainty toque of shaded pink French flowers and braided bands hung a shoulder length veil of fine net. A colonial bouquet in which had been blended tulle, roses, sweet peas, and lily of the valley was carried by the bride. Dainty Irish crochet gloves, fashioned by the bride's grandmother were worn. Her only adornment was a dainty gold locket which was the gift from the groom. The bride's sister, Eleanor, was her only attendant. Her dress was cream flowered sheer over yellow satin. She wore a chic cap of matching flowers and dainty wristlets. A French bouquet, composed of roses, stalks and baby's breath completed a pretty ensemble. Arthur Godfrey acted as Mr. Morley's best man. During signing of the register Mrs. S. MacIntosh sang, "Because". Following the ceremony the mothers of the bride and groom assisted in receiving the guests. Mrs. Morley chose a gown of printed silk with a navy redingote and hat to match while Mrs. Simpson wore a becoming frock of navy sheer, appliqued in white. Her hat and accessories were white. A three-tier wedding cake embedded in a mass of tulle over yellow roses and flanked by white tapers formed an artistic centerpiece for the bride's table. Mrs. E. M. Fleury and Mrs. L. Varner presided at the urns. Friends of the bride, Mrs. Victor Davies, Mrs. Jack Fleury, Miss Edna Watts, Miss Phyllis Gray, and Miss Marion Younger acted as serviettes. When Mr. and Mrs. Morley left for a motor trip through the southern United States and Mexico, the bride wore a don gray French

U. S. MAY RESUME SERVICE TO ORIENT
WASHINGTON, July 15 (AP)—The United States Maritime commission, Chairman Emory S. Land said today, hopes to resume service "in the near future" on the Pacific Northwest Orient trade route. "A program will be expedited in order to afford service over the Seattle-Orient trade route as soon as possible with vessels that are specially designed and equipped for the needs of that trade," Land said.

A delightfully youthful ensemble is a box jacket in pale blue which tops a pleated black dress.

AUSTRALIAN PUBLICITY

Australia is so far away from the larger centres of world population that one might think it had little chance of getting a large share of tourist business. But Australia does not think so. It is making a bid for the traffic by unusual methods.

The latest Australian news letter, issued by the Empire Press Union, tells something about it. Australia, of course, has scenery. It has beautiful forests and flowers. It is summer there when it is winter in the thickly populated parts of the world. It has great and beautiful cities and it is different from Europe or America.

But Australia does not seem to be depending especially on these factors to build its tourist business although it makes use of them. Instead it is going in for welcomes on a large scale. Thus, when liners have recently been docking at Melbourne huge crowds have assembled to greet the new arrivals, present them with flowers, make them feel at home and generally assure them that Australia has a personal interest in them, as it has. For example when one Canadian liner pulled up at the wharf at Melbourne the passengers found that 50,000 Australians, mostly young and handsome, had assembled to greet them.

Australia, too, seems to be trying to build up a reputation for the beauty of its women. And the news letter quotes some testimonials from tourists. Thus a Toronto business man is quoted: "Never have I seen such magnolias. Never have I seen such really good looking policemen. Never have I seen such attenuated skirts—or such shapely limbs." Of course a Toronto resident would say limbs. That gives it the authentic touch—but how did the Australian publicity man know it?

A visitor from Philadelphia, Miss Polly Brown, was impressed by the short skirts. She said, according to her testimonial: "Lordy! I never saw such short skirts. At least six inches too short."

A French woman was struck the same way. She is quoted as exclaiming: "Les jeunes filles sont chic! Zey are smart, tropical—non, not tropical; how you say? Ha! I have it—hotcha."

And so on. From which one may deduce that very short skirts are fashionable in Australia and are considered to be a tourist attraction.

However, Australia has not caught up with Florida or California where shorts or bathing suits are featured—or have they? Perhaps they are just a little ahead of those states.

GODERICH PAYS OFF

"In confess I am old-fashioned enough to believe that a municipality should honor its words, and should pay its debts in the exact form it has contracted to."

These words, or some words very like them, were spoken by Mayor T. M. Roberts of Cranbrook some years ago, in the Nelson city council chamber, at a convention then in session, probably of the Associated Boards of Trade of Eastern British Columbia. It was at a time that some governments, and some municipalities of congested population were discussing repudiation of public debts; when many men in public life were arguing that repudiation was justified; and when the teachers' organization of this province published advertisements indicating it thought repudiation less reprehensible than certain kinds of educational economies.

A few years before, Hon. J. D. MacLean had been able to boast that in no case in British Columbia's history had the bond-holders of a municipality lost their principal. Where a community had dwindled in population, steps had always been taken to see that gradual repayment of the principal was made.

Greenwood, Sandon, Merritt, Phoenix, are illustrations of this sense of honor.

It has not been the small towns that have ever brought British Columbia's honor into question. Just where things stand now, with certain large municipalities that have defaulted, is not so certain.

Goderich, an Ontario city that was left holding the sack through underwriting a railway that was never finished, has illustrated the same sense of honor, and has just finished paying off a debt that it has carried for many years.

The Toronto Globe and Mail pays Goderich the following just tribute for the course it has honorably pursued:

The town of Goderich is to be congratulated for getting rid of its own railway debt. It has shown fortitude and persistence in meeting an obligation which, events showed, was ill advised. Thirty years ago bonds were issued for $150,000 to subsidize the Ontario West Shore railway. The road was never completed, but Goderich lived up to its end of the contract and has just paid off the last of the debt. Interest amounted to $225,000, so the town is out of pocket $375,000 for something of no value to it, unless the experience is counted an asset.

"Goderich, be it noted, did not shirk its responsibility through either good times or bad. It has paid up, wiped out the debt with clean hands, a clear conscience, and unsullied credit. Probably the good people of the community never thought of beating the creditors, although they were beaten by the promoters of the railway. In any event, they have retained a sound reputation and set an example in honesty for other municipalities.

"Subsidizing Canadians was considered good policy once upon a time, Canadian municipalities contributed more

In Nelson By-Paths

Today's topic will be cats, and more particularly one cat, a Siamese cat, a rarity in Canada, which has been missing from its home in Keslo since June 5. Its mistress, Mrs. G. C. Gardner, thinks it possible that the "young wild cat" that invaded the home of Mrs. A. P. Whiteman of Passmore, as mentioned in this column, could conceivably be her missing pet, but in this she is mistaken, as the dates do not jibe. It was the week before the Women's institute conference that Mrs. Whiteman told us of the wildcat, as an episode many weeks old, and at the time of our contact June 5 had not yet arrived. Incidentally, the denizen of the wild that had the poor judgment to stalk Mrs. Whiteman's cat as a prospective meal, had no conspicuous tail, this agreeing with the supposition that it was a lynx or "bobcat." While the picture here shown of a Siamese cat, a "double recovery, and I would be most grateful if you could do anything to help me find him. I have advertised his loss, but it occurred to me when I read the article you wrote, that many people would be looking for an ordinary cat, and would not recognize a Siamese if they saw him. If anyone sees him and notifies me, I would come at once. Thank you."

SYNTHETIC MANX CATS

Since we are on cats, Nelson for many years has boasted a Manx or tailless cat, that may be encountered anywhere up and down Front street, or the Recreation grounds, or Chinatown. It seemed to be a kitten when I first saw it, a decade or more ago. In this connection, I read recently that the Isle of Man has exported Manx cats so heavily for many years past that the real Manx cats have dwindled to small numbers in the country of their origin, and that the people of the Isle of Man are making synthetic Manx cats for commercial purposes by de-tailing ordinary cats that resemble the genuine Manx pussies in color scheme.

A new cat story I heard this week of the missing one, does not clearly show the tail, another picture sent by Mrs. Gardner shows a long and flowing tail, like the ordinary cats of this country.

The picture is reproduced here with the idea that any reader who may have seen a large creamy-fawn cat with "dark brown muzzle, ears, legs and tail," under circumstances that it may be the lost pet, will so advise Mrs. Gardner.

In her letter to The Stroller, Mrs. Gardner says:

POINTS OF A SIAMESE

"Sir—I was very interested in your account of a strange animal which had invaded a wood-shed at Passmore. I wondered if it could possibly be a Siamese cat which disappeared from our home on the evening of June 5. So many people think the Siamese cat is some species of wild animal when they first see one, that I thought it might help in the recovery of my pet if you would be kind enough to give a little publicity to their appearance.

"Their coloring is a creamy fawn, with dark brown muzzle, ears, legs and tail. There is a possibility that my cat was stolen, and if this was the case he might have escaped, and that would account for his being in the Slocan valley. I enclose a picture of one of his relatives, and also a negative of a cat that is his counterpart (if it were possible to reproduce it in The News).

"If anyone sees him he would have to be coaxed into the house, as he is very timid, and will be more so now after being astray so long. There is a $10 reward for his was from the camp at Koolaree. Mrs. Hart, the cook—by whom all the boys swear—has her cat with her at the camp, and it is the reverse of timid. It makes the rounds of the cabins, sleeping with a different group of boys each night. There is of course nothing very remarkable about that, except it is a mark of individuality.

COOLS ITSELF IN WET SAND

What distinguishes this cat, however, from any cat I have ever previously heard of is that in the heat of the day it slips down to the water's edge, and makes a bed for itself in the wet sand. Visitors to the junior boys camp Wednesday observed the wet and dragged appearance of the cat, and learned that this was its daily practice.

One more cat item. A certain cat lives in one of the blocks on the west end of Baker street; the McCulloch block, I think. Three or four days ago a little short-legged brown spaniel was dashing under a parked car in front of the Hipperston Hardware, and barking at something. After a couple of minutes, the "something" shot across the street, and under a car in front of Valentine's. The dog followed, and continued its uproar, and repeated charges. A close scrutiny revealed the cat at bay facing the dog, which, however, had sufficient respect for its hide to actually close with its small adversary. After a time the spaniel obeyed the calls of a mistress, and dashed away up Stanley street.

Did the cat then fly to a refuge? It did not. It crossed the street to than $16,000,000 over a period of years in cash grants, loans and stock subscriptions. The provinces contributed over $43,000,000 and the Dominion government more than $280,000,000 up to 1920. Besides there were government guarantees exceeding $450,000,000. The total was nearly $700,000,000, before public ownership became a hot solution.

"Add the interest, as Goderich did, and it is seen where the railway problem originated.

"It would be interesting to know how many other municipalities and governments have taken their losses manfully."

The diamond K was cashed by West and the repeat of the dia-

South played the hand to the best of his ability, but was not able to offset the poor bid he made.

?? Questions ?? ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers is open to any reader of the Nelson Daily News. In no case will the name of the person asking the question be published.

CURIOUS, Winlaw—How much sugar is necessary to put with fruit to preserve it without cooking and is there any chemical that can be used with the sugar to lessen the quantity of sugar used?

The amount of sugar varies with the type of fruit. Raspberries should be mixed pound for pound with sugar and the fruit must be crushed until every berry is broken. Have ready sterilized jars in boiling water; empty the jars and fill to overflow with the berries and sugar; adjust new rubber and sterilized covers and fasten them securely. Store in a dark place. These are particularly good for shortcakes and have the exact flavor of freshly picked fruit. Currants may be done in the same manner as raspberries except that 1 1/4 pounds of sugar should be allowed to each pound of currants. Be sure that each currant is crushed. Strawberries are a little more difficult to keep and it is safer to do them in the following manner: Boil one cup of sugar and one cup of water and when boiling hard add one quart of strawberries. Just bring to a boil then put into thoroughly sterilized bottles and put in the sun. Leave the bottles in the sun for four days turning them so that all sides of the bottles are exposed to the sun's rays. We do not advise the use of any chemicals in making home food products.

H.K.C. Nelson—What is the best wood to make arrows for archery? Deal (fir or pine) well seasoned is most favored—boards out of an old house would do. Other woods used are lancewood, lime, ash and poplar.

L.R.B. Nelson—Why do people who go swimming get more sunburned than those who stay out of the water? Persons who go in and out of the water on hot days are liable to be burned more severely than those who stay on the beach or out of the water, as the drops of water on the skin act as small magnifying glasses increasing the power of the rays of the sun, making the burn more severe.

BATHER, Nelson—What is a good remedy for sunburn? Clean the skin with cleansing cream (not soap), apply a paste of baking soda and water and leave on for at least half an hour, moistening the paste from time to time. Then smooth on a reliable salve made especially to cure burns. This would stay on for at least two hours or until it has had a chance to be absorbed. If all your efforts do not seem to relieve the burning or if your face and arms start to swell, call a doctor. Light cases of sunburn can be treated successfully at home but severe ones require medical attention.

THE BOMBED SHIPS

The sinking of British ships in Spanish waters has roused the wrath of the opposition in the British house of commons, but has left Prime Minister Chamberlain unmoved in his determination not to do anything which might plunge Great Britain into a war and which might spread the Spanish conflagration outside the confines of Spain, bringing about a European war. The ships, according to Mr. Chamberlain, were in Spanish waters of their own risk in spite of the warning given. British shipping companies that their craft would be protected only on the high seas, adding that many shipowners had increased the number of their ships, and raised the pay of their crews, for the sake of higher freight rates. "Is it plain," asked Mr. Chamberlain, "that this country should go to war or take action which may very conceivably involve us in war in order to give protection to people like these men who have gone in for the purpose of making profits this way?"—Lethbridge Herald.

The local merchant is the connecting link between producer and consumer.

His contact with the buying public is direct, intimate and personal. He knows his customers, their likes and dislikes; why they buy one product and refuse another; why one brand sells more rapidly than others.

It may be assumed, therefore, the retail merchant knows the best way to produce immediate sales in his locality, and it is significant that his basic advertising medium is the local daily newspaper.

In the first four months of this year the Canadian daily newspapers carried more than 40,000,000 lines of retail advertising—striking evidence of nationwide confidence in the value of the daily newspapers in Canada, as productive advertising media.

Britain and United States Take 60 Per Cent of Exports From B.C.

VICTORIA, July 15 (CP)—British Columbia's trading interests lie as much with the United Kingdom 6000 miles away, as they do with the United States, next door, it is shown by the report of the British Columbia bureau of economics and statistics on trade of the province for 1938.

In 1938 British Columbia sold $34,039,195 worth of goods to the United States and $34,021,571 to the United Kingdom, these two markets alone taking 60 per cent of the entire exports of the province.

From the United States the province purchases $11,918,324 worth of products and from the United Kingdom $10,290,466 worth.

REPORT SHOWS GAIN

The report shows that, with improvements in business between 1935 and 1936, the total trade of the province rose by 15 per cent from $205,890,502 to $238,819,250. There was a gain from $110,112,267 to $127,073,388 in exports and from $95,778,233 to $109,243,852 in imports.

With this increase went a gain from $14,334,032 to $17,831,546 in the favorable trade balance.

EASTERN CANADA NEXT

Next to the United States and the United Kingdom, the largest customer of the province was eastern Canada which took $18,887,181 worth of goods, the prairies, following with $10,278,160, Japan $11,160,465, Australia $6,366,002, China $2,782,515 and South Africa $1,663,216, and 50 other countries taking less than $1,000,000 worth of products.

Robson Ladies Seek Dental Aid, Children

ROBSON, B. C.—The monthly meeting of the Robson Women's Institute was held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. C. Waldie.

The president, Mrs. R. H. Devitt was in the chair. Several committee reports were given. The welfare committee was asked to proceed with its plans for arranging for a dental examination of the children. They reported another jayette was ready. The visitation committee reported having made several calls on sick and shut-ins. The cemetery committee reported a balance on hand and work proceeding satisfactorily at the cemetery. The Country Women of the World committee contributed a selection "Collect for Club Women" by Mary Stewart, superintendent of Indian affairs for California, from the magazine.

By way of raising money it was decided that each member would pay 10 cents for her tea at the next meeting. Also it was decided that each member would contribute 75 cents in place of having a bake sale. Money disbursed was $200 to the Robson Sunday school toward expenses on the recent picnic to Nelson.

PARTY FOR CHILDREN IN FALL

Since the children had just had this picnic, it was decided not to hold the usual Institute picnic but to entertain the children at a party in the fall.

The ladies wished to send Mrs. Fred Mathews a letter of appreciation for her invitation of the Institute to hold a meeting at her home in Trail. The ladies felt they could not go at present but would likely be able to accept in the late fall.

Mrs. O. B. Ballard gave her report of the district conference held in Nelson in June. She was given a hearty vote of thanks, as also was Mrs. Carter who took many members to Nelson to attend the conference.

Following the meeting tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. R. T. Waldie, Mrs. Heuston and Mrs. J. C. Waldie.

Those at the meeting were Mrs. R. H. Devitt, Mrs. H. R. Foxlee, Mrs. A. D. Clyde, Mrs. Lindsay, Mrs. A. F. Mitchell, Mrs. O. B. Ballard, Mrs. Nichols, Miss Ruth McDermid, Mrs. C. F. Natal Miners Win

NATAL, B. C.—Natal Miners defeated the high stepping Hillspring team, who have been touring the Crow's Nest Pass, by a score of 8-4 on Sunday. J. Krall pitched superb ball for five innings for Natal, allowing but five hits while striking out eight. He was relieved by his brother Tom who finished the game allowing but three hits and striking out five making a total of twelve strikeouts. Hillspring used two pitchers in a vain attempt to stop the heavy hitting attack, as their ace chucker, 18-year-old Woolf, sensation of Southern Alberta was knocked out or the box in the fifth inning to be replaced by Young who weathered the storm. The only home run of the game was hit by T. Androllek of the Miners with two men aboard. The game was umpired by J. Josay of Natal.

CAST YOUR BREAD UPON THE WATERS. Again and again we hear people exclaim: "Ah, there's too much done for the kids in this town. Why when I was a kid..."

Yes when we were kids we played catch with an apple. It was all right in early spring when the Gravenstines were green but later on, not so good. And when we were able to scratch together enough money to buy a ball, that ball was precious kept for play. It was too valuable to just throw around.

But think how our boyish faces would have beamed if some public spirited citizen had come to our gang, or the gas-house gang, and said: "Boys, we're going to start a baseball league. We want you all to turn out for a practice tomorrow evening."

That was three years ago. By now much of the equipment has worn out. Each boy naturally provides his own glove, but new equipment is needed.

RAIN DRENCHES BISLEY RANGES EVE OF CLASSIC

Montreal Marksman Only Two Points Behind Leader

By EDWIN JOHNSON Canadian Press Staff Writer. BISLEY-CAMP, England, July 15 (CP Cable).—Rain drenched the rifle ranges tonight on the eve of the final for the classic King's prize and the wind-up of the fortnight's Empire meeting of the National Rifle Association.

The King's final is at the longest ranges of the meeting, 900 and 1000 yards, demanding 15 shots at each distance from the 100 finalists who include five Canadians. Since final placings are determined by the aggregate scores in the second and third stages, today's second stage winner and silver medalist, 24-year-old Lance-Corporal R. Greig of the Winchester College P. T. C., goes into the shoot with a lead over all.

Highest of the Canadians, Sgt. L. S. Vaines of Montreal, is only two points behind Greig, scoring 145 out of a possible 150 in the second stage today. Aircraftman T. W. Gregory of Ottawa and Lieut. C. F. Kennedy of Hilden, N. S., qualified with scores of 142, and the remaining Canadians in the final are Captain T. E. Hayhurst of Windsor, with 141 today, and Lieut. G. A. Molecky of Vancouver, who also scored 141 in the second stage.

Capt. W. Worsick of Winnipeg, adjutant of the Canadian team, went into a tie-shoot with 27 others for 22 places remaining in the "King's Hundred," the King's prize finalists, and lost out. Three other Canadians were eliminated in the second stage proper. Sgt. N. L. Beckett of Hamilton with a score of 139, Sgt. Ziola of Ottawa, 138, and Lieut. F. R. Morwick of Guelph, 138.

Bisley's second great imperial team trophy, the Mackinnon cup, went to the team of 12 representing England, who finished the shoot at the long 900 and 1000 yard ranges with an aggregate of 1082 points out of a possible 1200. Scotland and Rhodesia tied for second at 1073. The Canadians aggregated 1059, Wales had 1020, Ireland 1018 and India 1003.

The Junior Mackinnon, otherwise the Barnett Imperial Challenge cup for teams of four from the colonies, was won by the Sudan with 347 at the same ranges as the Mackinnon itself.

PASCH WINS

NEWMARKET, England, July 15 (CP Cable).—H. E. Morris Pasch, the Derby favorite who disappointed his backers at Epsom, today won the Eclipse stakes, important event for three and four-year-olds run over 1 1/4 miles. The son of Blandford-Paxa defeated the Earl of Derby's Fair Copy by three lengths, with Viscount Astor's Cave Man, another two lengths away, third in the field of six.

Seabiscuit Heads Gold Cup Runners

INGLEWOOD, Calif., July 15 (AP).—Ten candidates, headed by Charles S. Howard's valuable question-mark, Seabiscuit, were named today to race in the mile and one quarter $50,000 Hollywood gold cup handicap tomorrow at Hollywood park.

Cricketers' Wives to Join Them After Tour

SYDNEY, Australia, July 15 (CP Cable).—Wives of Australian cricketers playing in Great Britain will be permitted to join their husbands in England at the conclusion of the tour. This concession was announced by the Australian cricket board of control today in response to cabled requests by the players.

Wilson and Watt Doubles Winners

BALTIMORE, July 15 (CP).—Ross Wilson, Toronto, and Laird Watt, Montreal, today paired in doubles to defeat Robert Murray, Montreal, and Gilbert Hunt, Washington, in a long match, 6-2, 4-16, 7-5 as the Maryland State Tennis Championships reached the semi-finals.

Scores Two Double-Centuries in County Match to Set World Record

COLCHESTER, England, July 15 (CP Cable).—Arthur Fagg, 23-year-old Kent professional, scored two double-centuries against Essex in a county championship match concluded today to set a world record in first-class cricket that leading batsmen have been aiming at for years. In the opening day's play Wednesday, Fagg compiled 244 runs following this up with a second-inning score of 222 not out. Rain stopped play today Kent being held to four points for its first innings lead. In reply to Kent's total of 429 and 313 for one wicket declared Essex made 350 and eight for two wickets. Several double-centuries in consecutive innings have been recorded but never in the same match. Don Bradman, holder of the world's score—452 not out—scored 304 and 244 in consecutive innings in 1934 and year later made 235 and 397. Fagg, an excellent first-wicket batsman who has represented his country against Australia and India, is a prolific scorer. His highest total in the first class cricket is 237, made against Hampshire at Southampton in 1930.

ALSTON ONTARIO PRO GOLF VICTOR

TORONTO, July 15 (CP).—Slender Bobby Alston of Ottawa's Chaidere club retained his Ontario open golf championship today by scoring a sub-par 70 again at Summit club for a 26-hole score of 140. Slim Bobby Reith, former Winnipeg pro at the Windsor, Ont., Essex course, toured the course in 73—six strokes better than his total in the first round yesterday. Reith, making his professional tournament debut, came in for $5 prize money with his 36-hole total of 152.

Yorkshire Leads County Cricket

LONDON, July 15 (CP Cable).—Yorkshire improved its position at the top of the English county cricket championship today, defeating Northamptonshire by an innings and 62 runs. Lancashire, in second place, only had a few hours cricket in a match with Somerset and the fixture will not count. Kent took first innings points with Essex, the encounter being featured by Arthur Fagg's record-breaking score of 244 and 202 not out for Kent. Surrey drubbed Hampshire by an innings and 71 while Sussex obtained a 10-wickets margin over Gloucestershire. Derbyshire and Leicestershire took first innings points from Worcestershire and Nottinghamshire respectively. The gentlemen-players match at Lord's resulted in victory for the former by 133 runs.

Heat Bother to Japanese Squad

FOREST HILLS, June 15 (CP).—Rated the strongest Davis cup threat to come out of the far-east since 1932, Japan's team today headed for Boston to compete in the Longwood bowl invitation tennis tournament. Bothered by the heat here, Tamiro Abe, veteran captain and adviser of the squad, said he considers the meet would serve as a tune-up before facing the Canadian team in a first-round Davis cup match in Montreal July 28, 29, 30.

WINNIPEG, July 15 (CP).—Ernie Palmer and Jack Hopwood both of Winnipeg, reached the Manitoba Amateur Golf championship final today and will meet over 36 holes tomorrow.

Grove Released for Mound Duty

BOSTON, July 15 (AP).—The famous fiery temper of Bob (Lefty) Grove flared as of old tonight as feeling and pulse returned to his numbed pitching arm. Grove, improving steadily as the blood vessel spasms quieted in his aging but effective salary wing, became wrathful when Dr. Edward J. O'Brien, the Boston Red Sox physician, advised him to remain in hospital for a second night. Dr. O'Brien has authorized Grove's return to duty but he instructed Manager Joe Cronin to force Grove to go easy with his flipper until he is certain it has regained its normal strength.

Five Rossland Divers to Enter Trail Meet

ROSSLAND, B. C., July 15.—Five and probably more members of the Rossland Water Babies club will compete against district performers in the annual Trail diving contest at the Trail Jubilee swimming pool July 22. The Rosslanders who so far have signified their intentions of entering the contest are Tommy Ham, Ray Scott, Hank Hart, Herby Olsing, and Joyce Toppitt.

Remember When?

Jack Delaney, French-Canadian light-heavyweight boxer, went to the top of the division 12 years ago today with a 15-round decision over Champion Paul Borienbach. Delaney resigned his title in 1927 to enter the heavyweight class.

Little Pat Wins

GOSHEN, N. Y., July 14 (CP).—Two professional events and one for amateurs drivers brought the grand circuit meeting at Historic track to a close today. Little Pat, owned by Viery Farm, Butler, Pa., and driven by Harry Short of Columbus, won the feature, the free-for-all pace, pacing the third heat in 2:02 3/4, three-quarters of a second slower than the pacing track record made by Her Ladyship this week.

Berger Beats Baker

NEW YORK, July 15 (CP).—Maxie Berger, 139 1/2, Canada's welterweight champion, tonight scored an easy eight-round decision over Phil Baker, 139 1/2.

MORE ABOUT FOREST FIRES

District Forester C. J. Haddon said "anything can happen," and added that the forest was "like powder."

"Anything can happen unless rain falls shortly," he said, explaining that the fire menace was the worst he had seen for a number of years.

Highway MAY CLOSE
SEATTLE, Wash., July 15 (AP)—A 40-acre forest fire close to Sunset highway threatened to close that trans-state thoroughfare three miles west of Snoqualmie Pass late today as the latest outbreak in a bitter battle with fire in tinder-dry forests of western Washington and Oregon.

Forest officials in north Idaho warned conditions there were approaching the critical stage after three days of abnormal heat.

Largest and most threatening blaze in the entire Pacific Northwest raged through 12,000 to 20,000 acres of logged off land and into green timber today, fanned by a northeast wind.

Residents of Ryderwood, "world's largest logging camp," many of them under-going treatment for smoke-inflamed eyes and for minor burns, began evacuating the town fearful a shift in the wind would sweep the blaze back over the mile of intervening untouched timberland. One rural home was destroyed.

The Snoqualmie Pass fire broke on the western boundary of a preserve of big trees and apparently started from a cigarette, state patrolmen and federal rangers reported.

It was still on land being cleared by civilian conservation corps men for conservation planting, but authorities feared it would spread to the highway and endanger traffic.

Portland dispatches told of the efforts of 800 fire fighters to control a 2000-acre blaze on Smith river and that boys had seen a man with a California-licensed automobile set a string of fires more than a mile near Canyonville.

But Washington state was hardest hit with 100 fires reported and close to 2000 men on the firelines.

More ABOUT HOWARD HUGHES

Hughes spoke shyly and almost inaudibly, his flying companion nodded as he expressed the belief a camarade of airmen of the world would prove an agency for peace.

He asked, with quiet fervency, that the flight would not be regarded as a stunt. He reviewed the careful preparations and said 200,000 engine hours had gone into the record-breaking plane.

"I have been asked what the purpose of the flight was," he said, "and my answer is that if it succeeds in bringing the fliers of the world closer together in closer cooperation, then it has accomplished something worth while."

"There is a kinship among fliers the world over," he said.

Trend Toward Lakeside Park During the Tropical Weather

The trend, during this tropical weather, is toward the lake and particularly toward Lakeside park. On bicycles and motorcycles, on cars and street cars and on foot they stream by the score toward the water. Picnic baskets and lunch kits are a common sight. And at the park—children are gaily romping about the well-kept grass, playing with beach balls or under the sprinklers; adults are resting under shades of poplar and birch trees, watching with amused interest, the swimmers and the boatmen out on the lake waters.

The float with its shoot, diving tower and diving boards, is the swimmers' paradise. The shoot is continually occupied; down its slippery surface they glide in different styles. For the advanced swimmers and divers, the tower and diving boards prove a great source of amusement. Pleading it is to watch the high divers as they swim through the air with perfect grace and ease to strike the water without so much as a ripple.

MANY SWIM LAKE
George Fox, park lifeguard, states the average age of swimmers, who have swum the lake this season is 14 years. He names Bill Crosey, Dave Slader, Gib Goucher, Eva Hendricks, Lillian Thame, Betty Benwell, Doreen Manahan, Beverley Cady, Pat Cady, Bob Wilson, Vic Graves, Muriel Smith, Genevieve Grizzelle, Dick Norman and Jerry Wallace. Of these Goucher has been across five times, Betty Benwell and Doreen Manahan, three times and Muriel Smith, twice.

Many victims of foot bruises and slivers come to the life guard for treatment. Cases of drowning are not numerous, the life guard reports. Only recently he rescued a woman and her daughter when their canoe tipped. Minor accidents of this sort are not many.

YOUNGSTERS' WATER DRILL
Miss Shirley Boomer, swimming and diving instructor, describing her method of teaching the youngsters stated at the beginning of the season she gave the younger ones, of four, five and six years, drill on land. This consisted of teaching the motion of the arms as in swimming. But with the arrival of hot weather she had been teaching them in the water with a belt.

This belt is made of a wide canvas strip attached to a rope. The canvas strip is slipped over the body of the pupil, and it held up by the instructor as the pupil goes through the form of swimming in the water. No adults have come forward to be taught so far this season, though instruction is available and a class can be formed at any time.

WATER SKIERS
It is interesting to watch the sail-boats slipping along the calm water and the surf board riders tossed about by the miniature waves caused by the motor boat. Water skiers have been seen on the lake on several occasions this year, though not as frequently as the surf-boarders.

The city check booth operated by Misses Edith Smythe and Marjorie Teague, is a great convenience to swimmers and bathers and picnic parties.

Wednesday 400 checks were issued and 401 Thursday, the high marks for the season thus far.

The "Morgan Family," the most versatile and talented family in Radio today, are due to make a personal appearance at the CIVIC Theatre.

"Royal Family of Screen and Radio" can point to an enviable record. For two years alone they were the mainstays of the popular "Hollywood Barn Dance" at Station KNX, the Columbia Chain program in Hollywood, and were considered so outstanding in their interpretations of Western Music that the picture producers immediately cast them in two pictures which are probably familiar to you all—"Stars Over Broadway" with Pat O'Brien, and "Cowboy Millionaire" with George O'Brien.

Born and raised on a ranch in Texas, this family came to know and love the music, merriment and ballads of the West. Years of training together were to give them a sense of harmony that is making them famous. They are considered "tops."

The bright star of this troupe of eight is "Little Mary Morgan," very aptly called the "Shirley Temple of Radio." This child, only five years of age, has a natural coloratura soprano voice that has so captivated air audiences that she actually holds the record for fan mail received at KNX, topping some of the greatest names on the air. She never fails to stop the show. Unquestionably she is the number one child star of the air.

Equally adept at putting over a song as her youngest brother, Duke, aged three, the "Littlest Buckaroo" that ever swaggered in cowboy clothes. The other members in the troupe consist of Pop, Robert, Charlie, Ruby, Dick, and Uncle Hank.
