Turkish Foreign Minister Again Talks With Nazis

Bulgaria Staying Out of Axis Lineup for the Present

ANKARA, Turkey Nov. 25 (AP).—In a busy round of interviews, Turkey's Foreign Minister, Sukru Saracoglu, today conferred with the German Ambassador, Franz von Papen, for the second time since that envoy returned from Berlin. He talked also with the Greek and Yugoslav Ambassadors.

No official comment was available after any of the conversations but it was known they dealt with the threatened spread of the Balkan War.

It was the second time in three days von Papen had seen Saracoglu. The military attaché of the German Embassy left Istanbul by plane for Berlin yesterday. It was reported unofficially he carried confidential memoranda on the results of the first von Papen-Saracoglu talk.

The Ankara radio said tonight that Italy, whose attack on Greece it classed as a "debacle", was seeking Bulgarian aid. The radio added that "Bulgaria is hesitating and it is clear that German and Soviet interests in Bulgaria have not been reconciled."

The commentator said Yugoslavia was greatly encouraged by Greek successes and "it seems Yugoslavia now means to resist."

BERLIN, Nov. 25 (AP).—Bulgaria, long viewed as likely to join the Axis lineup, is staying out, for the present at least, informed Nazi sources indicated today.

Curbing of Strikes in U. S. Is Sought

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP).—Possible legislation to curb strikes in defence industries was discussed by members of the Judiciary Committee today after an hour's House of Representatives session devoted almost exclusively to critical comment on work stoppages in plants having army and navy orders.

Reason for "Beaching" of Prince Robert Chief Demanded by Winch

VICTORIA, Nov. 25 (CP).—Reason for the "beaching" of Cmdr. Charles Beard after his command, the auxiliary cruiser Prince Robert, captured a German freighter off the Mexican coast and escorted the prize to Esquimalt, was demanded in the British Columbia Legislature today by H. E. Winch, C.C.F. whip, speaking in the budget debate.

Several Bombs Only Dropped in Britain to Give Most of Country Quiet Eve; Hamburg and Other Dockyards Are Pounded

LONDON, Nov. 26 (Tuesday).—Several bombs dropped in the West of England, killing a few persons, marked the only overnight activity of German air raiders against Britain, the Air and Home Security Ministries announced today.

Previous reports indicated the entire country escaped the raiders for the first time since night bombings began September 7, but the Government communique acknowledged the Nazis kept their chain unbroken by the one "token" attack despite bad weather.

The Air and Home Security Ministries said several houses were damaged yesterday in an attack on a Kent coast town but that few persons were injured.

These Ministries said bombs also were dropped on the South coast and at two other points in South-east England "but only slight damage was done and no casualties are reported."

Two German planes were reported downed.

Labor Shortage Seen by Liberal

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP).—Possibility of a serious labor shortage in Canada even at a time when unemployment remained a problem, was envisioned in the Commons today by R. W. Maybank (Lib., Winnipeg South Centre).

He urged consideration be given to the unemployment problem when contracts are being let, with a view to making use of idle industrial plants and idle men.

Hon. G. Stirling (Con., Yale) opened the day's debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

Mr. Stirling criticized the Government for failing to awake early enough to the realization that Canada's utmost would be required in the war effort.

If Canada could now embark on manufacture of everything needed for war it could have done so a year ago, he declared.

Mr. Stirling felt that "official reticence" regarding war production had been carried "rather far." When a question had been asked about Bren gun production, the general reply had been that production was "satisfactory." These three days later, production figures had been given to the Canadian Press.

"It's likely Hitler knew the figures of Bren gun production before we did," he said.

"I bring the matter up here because a Federal Minister said Cmdr. Beard left the service because of the return of an old ailment, when a checkup at the hospital showed he was 100 per cent physically fit."

"The people of this Province have pledged wholehearted cooperation in Canada's war effort and are entitled to an explanation in matters affecting the lives of hundreds of British Columbians in the Royal Canadian Navy."

British Bombs for Italian Bases

On the outskirts of an R.A.F. airfield, somewhere on the African desert, an armorer prepares bombs for an attack upon Italian bases. He is shown cleaning sand from the missile before placing in the fuse without which it is harmless. The bombs on the ground, marked by the warning signs, are already fused and all set to do their stuff.

New Congress May Discuss Financial Help for Britain

By J. C. STARK
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP).—Administration leaders and the Marquess of Lothian, British Ambassador to the United States, appeared to be in agreement tonight on putting off the question of financial aid to Great Britain until the new Congress convenes in January.

Lord Lothian, just back from London, spent an hour each today with President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Cordell Hull but said credits were not mentioned.

Earlier, Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky, Democratic leader, said after a White House conference that the question of British credits would not be taken up at the current session of Congress.

Hull was asked at his Press conference whether there might be ways of extending financial assistance without revising the Johnson and Neutrality Acts, which bars credits to a debt defaulter or a belligerent. Hull replied he would not undertake to say there was any way without action by Congress in some approving manner.

At the capitol, meanwhile, Senator Gerald Nye (Rep.-N.D.) introduced a resolution calling for an investigation by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of British credit resources in United States, including British property holdings.

Nye declared he believed the groundwork is being laid to "open avenues of credit to Great Britain" and said "we should be justly guard against taking that step until it has been definitely ascertained that Great Britain is coming to the end of her financial rope."

Late Flashes

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP).—A broadcast report by Domei, Japanese News Agency, said today Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, former Foreign Minister, has been appointed Ambassador to the United States to succeed Kensei Horthorn, recalled last September.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 25 (AP).—The United States export liner Estavia arrived from Lisbon today with 12 war refugees and $1,600,000 in Portuguese gold destined for the United States federal reserve bank of New York.

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Nov. 25 (CP).—Two children of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Jackson, Jr., died today in fire which destroyed their home at Kakabeka Falls.

MERCY FLIGHT ENDS
VANCOUVER, Nov. 25 (CP).—Alex Graham, youthful resident of Tatla Lake, in Northern British Columbia, was safe in a Vancouver hospital today after a 500-mile emergency journey yesterday from his blizzard-bound home by automobile and plane.

Loss of Life Possibly Heavy; Had Been Held From Palestine

HAIFA, Palestine, Nov. 25 (AP).—The refugee steamship Patria, packed to the gunwales with 1771 wandering, homeless Jews, exploded and capsized in Haifa harbor today with an undetermined but possibly heavy loss of life.

The refugees, who had sought illegally to settle in Palestine, had been placed aboard for transportation to some other British colony for the duration of the war.

Causes of the explosion was not determined.

Many of those aboard managed to swim ashore, but an official announcement said "some casualties" were feared.

The refugees had been aboard the ship since last Thursday, waiting to start their voyage as soon as authorities deemed conditions in the Mediterranean to be reasonably safe.

The Patria was an 11,855-ton French freight and passenger vessel recently taken over by British.

The refugees, mostly from Austria, Slovakia, Bohemia, Hungary and Rumania, reached Haifa early in November. They had sailed from an unidentified Black Sea port.

British authorities were reported to have held their ships unseaworthy and arranged to transport the refugees elsewhere on the Patria.

Canadians Down 3 Italian Planes

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP-Cable).—Canadians played a daring part in smashing the first Italian air raid against Britain Nov. 11 accounting for at least three of the 13 Italians brought down, it was disclosed tonight.

A Canadian Flight Commander from Edmonton outlined his experiences in a British Broadcasting Corporation talk.

The Flight Commander said he sighted formations of strange planes so he did not "like to rub in bald-headed" without having a good look at them. He decided to attack when he realized they were not British.

"I singled out one enemy and gave him a burst," he said, "immediately he went into a loop. I thought he was foxing me as I had never seen a bomber do that sort of thing, so I followed him."

"Suddenly he went down in a vertical dive. I still followed waiting for him to pull out. Then I saw a black dot move away from him and puff like a white mushroom—someone bailing out. In the next second the bomber seemed to start crumpling up suddenly in a burst of hundreds of small pieces. They fell to the sea like a snowstorm. I must have killed the pilot. I think he fell back, pulling the stick with him causing the loop."

De Gaulle Returns

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP).—Gen. Charles de Gaulle, leader of the Free French forces was said today to have returned to London after a journey to Equatorial Africa to rally France's African possessions to his standard.

Raids Affecting British Output Says Labor Head

By JAMES MARLOW

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 25 (AP).—A British Labor leader, appealing for "planes, planes and more planes," today said German bombings have become so intense they are affecting "our output."

Sir Walter Citrine, General Secretary of the British Trades Union Congress, told the American Federation of Labor convention:

"I say to you something that no British statesman has yet said: bombing is having an effect upon our output. Speed is of the essence now as never before because our output cannot keep up on full schedule because of the bombings."

"How long we can continue, depends not merely upon our will but also upon the will to hit back. The only thing the Nazis understand is the power to make them suffer."

He said the three aims of the British Labor Party are to prosecute the fight with "inflexible resolve," safeguard the rights of the citizenry and widen the range of the movement.

"When I speak of inflexible resolve I am speaking for the whole British nation. I know that our present Prime Minister, Mr. Churchill, in the eyes of many is the embodiment of the determination and doggedness of our people."

Reprieve Comes Less Than 24 Hours Before Indian Was to Hang

WINDSOR, Ont., Nov. 25 (CP).—Less than 24 hours before he was to have gone to the gallows, Stephen Kiyoshik, 49-year-old Waipole Island Indian was granted a stay of execution until Jan. 3 after a surprise reprieve application.

Kiyoshik, convicted of murder once before and acquitted after a second trial, was to be hanged tomorrow for the murder last August of another Indian, 36-year-old Jerry Blackbird.

The arrangements for his execution at the jail in Sarnia had been completed after word was received from Ottawa that the Department of Justice would not interfere with the sentence. The application before Mr. Justice Gerald Kelly followed and a stay of execution was ordered.

Icy Winds, Snow Hide Fate of Lost Fliers

EAST LAKE, Que., Nov. 25 (CP).—Strong icy winds blew tonight across this desolate countryside and whistled through dense woods which held secret the fate of three Royal Canadian Air Force men lost for more than a week.

More than 600 men returned to camp after another fruitless search in which they tramped at times through snow which piled three feet upon the tangled underbrush. To add to difficulties, a 25-mile-an-hour wind whipped up and sub-zero weather settled on the region.

KING SYMPATHIZES AT LORD CRAIGAVON'S LOSS

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP Cable).—The King today sent a message to the Duke of Abercorn expressing the "profound regret" with which he had received word of the death of Viscount Craigavon, Prime Minister of Northern Ireland.

Albanian Port Is Bombed by British; Score Hits on Ship

City 25 Miles North of Koritza "Overshot" by Speeding Troops; Greek-British Plan to Take Dodecanese Islands Seen

By MAX HARRELSON — Associated Press Staff Writer

ATHENS, Nov. 26 (Tuesday) (AP).—Greek troops advancing in most places along a 100-mile front in Albania have "overshot" Pogradetz, 25 miles North of Koritza, and have entered the outskirts of Argirocastro, main Italian base in Southern Albania, it was reported today.

At the same time, Royal Air Force headquarters in Greece announced heavy daylight raids were carried out yesterday by R.A.F. bombers on Durazzo, described by the R.A.F. as the "only important port on the Albanian coast."

The R.A.F. said direct hits were scored on shipping, including two hits on a 10,000-ton ship.

The Greek forces pursuing the Italians across Albania were reported in advances from the front to be about to take Argirocastro. The entry into the Southern Italian base, the last remaining to the Fascists in that sector, was reported yesterday, just four days following the capture of Koritza, Northern base of Mussolini's back-firing invasion of Greece.

A Government spokesman said the Greeks were pushing ahead despite a lack of good roads and were capturing more equipment.

Below the threatened Southern base, a large number of Italians have been almost isolated, the Greeks reported.

At this end of the curving 100-mile battlefield the Greeks said the Fascist troops were fighting fiercely against forces threatening to back them up against the Adriatic coast.

Additional Greek columns were thrusting toward Premeti, East of Argirocastro, and on the Central Front the Italians were said to have abandoned their fortifications on Mount Ostrovitza.

On the Northern Front, where the Greeks have driven their deepest salient in the Pogradetz area, the Greeks declared the Italians were retreating so fast their cavalry was unable to catch up with them.

Coupled with the Greeks' proclaimed aim of wresting the whole of Albania from Mussolini was a possible plan for Greek-British seizure of Italy's strategic Dodecanese islands, lying between Southeast Greece and Turkey.

An expeditionary army of Greek and British troops was reported massed on the island of Crete, ready to spring the attack on the strongly fortified Dodecanese as soon as the British naval blockade weakens the island's bases.

Since the fighting started the Greeks have taken around 6000 Italian prisoners, a neutral military observer estimated. About 1000 arrived today in Athens.

Order-in-Council to Halt Importing New Model Machines Soon

MONTREAL, Nov. 25 (CP).—An order-in-council prohibiting the importation of new models of automobiles, radios and other appliances and equipment probably will be passed shortly at Ottawa, it was learned here tonight.

An authoritative source said that another order prohibiting the export of machine tools manufactured in the Dominion also is expected.

The order-in-council respecting importation of new models would be designed to protect manufacturers affected by an earlier order which limited their production to existing models, except by special permit.

Centralization Policy Essential if Canada to Progress Says Winch

VICTORIA, Nov. 25 (CP).—The British Columbia Legislature reconvened in a night sitting tonight after hearing the C.C.F. Party whip, Harold E. Winch, announce his party's stand on the recent Rowell-Sirois Commission report on Dominion-Provincial relations and declare that the policy of centralization of power is "not only inevitable but essential if Canada is to progress as a nation."

In regard to the report on Dominion-Provincial relations, Mr. Winch said his party was not recommending acceptance of the report in toto, but added:

"Recognizing that provincial, national and world trends are towards the centralization of power, and that this policy is not only inevitable, but essential if Canada is to progress as a nation, the C.C.F. say that more power centralization in the hands of the higher authorities is necessary, with, however, a clear enunciation of provincial safeguards so that one province will not be able to limit the progress of another, and so that all progressive and developing provinces may be able to share on an equitable basis, the benefits of their own progress and development."

He said that this would entail the following steps:

1. The Federal Government must accept definite responsibility for either the actual development in the Province or for financial assistance to provincial authorities for undertaking same.

2. Should the Province lose its

Mayor Stibbs, Alderman Morey Are in Field for Reelection; Sharp Is Retiring; Ritchie Is Uncertain Yet

Fairview Group Said to Be Seeking Candidate

Mayor N. C. Stibbs and Ald. P. G. Morey announced Thursday that they would be candidates for reelection at the municipal elections December 1; and Ald. Roy Sharp announced his withdrawal from the field of municipal service. Ald. A. C. Ritchie, the other member of the City Council, whose term is expiring, is expected to announce his intention at the City Council meeting tonight.

While no new candidates are definitely in the field, the municipal political pot is beginning to boil and announcements of candidature are expected shortly. A Fairview group is reported to be seeking an aldermanic candidate to represent that section of the City upon the Council, but it has not yet secured a candidate definitely.

Mayor Stibbs has served three years as Chief Magistrate, following two years as an Alderman. Alderman Sharp is retiring after serving six years on the Council. Alderman Ritchie also has served for six years. They were elected to the Council at the same time. Alderman Sharp heading the poll, and on the two occasions they have submitted their names to the voters since, Alderman Ritchie has headed the poll.

Alderman Morey is completing his first two-year term as a Council member.

Quiz Government on Kuskanax Road

R. L. Maitland, K. C., asked in the House at Victoria last Tuesday the following questions of Hon. C. S. Leary, Minister of Public Works:

1. Has a survey been made for a road from Nakusp to Nakusp Hot Springs on the North side of Kuskanax Creek?
2. What is the mileage?
3. What is the estimated cost of constructing this road?
4. Have any expenditures been made on this road this year?
5. If yes, what is the amount of these expenditures?

Hon. Mr. Leary replied as follows:

1. Yes, in 1938.
2. 10.4 miles as surveyed.
3. No estimate prepared.
4. No.
5. Answered by No. 4.

500,000 Jews to Live Behind Big Wall in Warsaw

BERLIN, Nov. 25 (AP).—Approximately 500,000 Jews will begin tomorrow a new life behind an eight-foot concrete wall built by Germans to enclose the Ghetto district of Warsaw, dispatches from the former Polish capital reported tonight.

By German decree, all Jews in Warsaw have been required to take up residence in the Ghetto, which lies in the central district of the city, and it has become over-crowded, with as many as seven persons living in one room in some buildings.

The Germans built the wall last winter, claiming the action was not anti-semitic but simply a health measure to protect Poles and Jews alike from the pestilences likely to follow total war.

They left 18 entrances open—but effective tomorrow all persons who wish to enter or leave must have a special pass. This applies also to any gentle Pole wishing to enter the district temporarily.

The wall surrounds 100 or more city blocks and closes off 200 streets and even street car lines.

The Warshawer Zeitung (Warsaw Times) reports from Radom that another Ghetto has been founded there and the Jewish population ordered to take up residence within it.

DE VALERA BOWROWFUL

DUBLIN, Nov. 25 (AP).—Eamon de Valera, Prime Minister of Eire, expressed sorrow today on learning of the death of Viscount Craigavon, Prime Minister of Northern Ireland.

Anna Verigin Is to Be Buried at Brilliant Today

A long procession, similar to that which paid last tribute to her husband two years ago, will wind up a hillside road at Brilliant today, carrying the body of Anna Verigin to a concrete and stone tomb overlooking Brilliant. The tomb, hewn out of hillside rock and already containing the remains of Peter Verigin I and of her husband, Peter Verigin II, will be her last resting place.

Mrs. Verigin died Friday at Vancouver. Since the arrival of the body at Brilliant Saturday night Doukhobors have maintained unbroken vigil at her bier, while eight choirs have sung hymns in tribute to her.

The funeral procession will leave the family home at Brilliant late this morning.

An increasing number of Doukhobors from Grand Forks, the Slocan Valley and other Kootenay-Boundary points, and from Alberta, was joined Monday by delegates from the Saskatchewan Doukhobor settlements for the final rites.

De Gaulle Takes Up War Problems

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP).—Gen. Charles de Gaulle, leader of Free French Forces, has returned to London and conferred with Prime Minister Churchill on the war in Africa, it was announced today.

Gen. de Gaulle's headquarters issued a communique saying he "wanted to examine with the British Government various political problems in connection with the war, after having organized the administration and forces of French Equatorial Africa and the Cameroons who have decided to carry on the war against Germany and Italy, and after having completed the rallying of Gabon."

Later Gen. de Gaulle declared in a broadcast to the French people that the Greek successes, the blow struck at Taranto, Italian naval base by the British Navy, and developments in Libya, Egypt and Ethiopia should make the French war effort that they had been "deprived of a glorious part in the eventual victory."

The French Air Force and Navy, intact at the time of the "armistice betrayal," could have played a paramount part in these actions," he said.

Old Sock Hoards Return to Banks

LONDON, (CP).—Those "old socks" and home strongboxes are going out of favor here now and money is returning to the banks. Some observers say the reason is fear of losing it all in an air raid but the most popular explanation is that the money had been taken by people fearing an invasion threat after France's collapse.

Nearly £4,500,000 ($20,025,000) was returned to London banks in mid-October. In the few weeks preceding that about £16,000,000 ($71,200,000) was taken from household hoards and brought to the comparatively greater safety of bank vaults, some authorities estimated. The old custom of keeping money buried in the garden is still being followed, however. Several cases of buried treasure have been revealed by bombs which fell on private houses.

PRITCHETT RESIGNS

COURTENAY, B. C., Nov. 25 (CP).—Harold J. Pritchett of Vancouver, B. C., said here tonight he tendered his resignation as President of the CIO-International Woodworkers of America "because I was thwarted in my attempts to return to the United States to carry out my duties as International President."

Says No Survey Glenbank Road

In the House at Victoria last Tuesday R. L. Maitland, K. C., asked Hon. C. S. Leary, Minister of Public Works, the following questions regarding Glenbank:

1. Has a survey been made covering a road from Glenbank to Nakusp Hot Springs?
 2. What is the mileage?
 3. What is the estimated cost of constructing such a road?
- Hon. Mr. Leary replied as follows:
1. No.

Fairview's Late Drive Nets Win Over the Eagles

Those Fairview Falcons just don't seem satisfied unless they make a game out of it, and Monday night at the Civic Centre they stopped the surprising bid of the last-place Eagles only after they put on a great scoring rush of their own in the dying moments of the fourth quarter.

In retaining an equal share of second place in the four-team basketball league with C.Y.O. who defeated the league-leading Nuthatchers the same night, Fairview won 41-32, but the Falcons registered the win in much the same way as in many of their previous encounters varying their procedure slightly, they were out in front all the way in the game, and at one stage in the third quarter were ahead 19-8, but then the worm turned.

Still without a win in 10 starts, the Eagles outscored Fairview 15-3 in the third quarter and midway through the final period were out but one point down—29-28. After that—well, 41-32 for the Falcons tells the final story.

Jim Cherrington came back to action with the Eagles, and scored 10 points. Ernie Colman, who left the Nuthatchers with Cecil Maloney a week ago, scored 16 points for the Eagles. Maloney is now again in the Nuthatch fold. For Fairview Frank Morrow scored 14 points and Steve Smith 10.

Score by periods:
Fairview — 8 9 8 16—41
Eagles — 2 4 15 10—32
Lineups with scores follow:
Fairview—Steve Smith 10, Paul Hookoff 7, Tom Crack, Frank Morrow 14 and Gordon Straker 8.

Nakusp Street Is Question Subject

Bay Street in Nakusp figured in the following questions asked by R. L. Maitland, K. C., of Hon. C. S. Leary, Minister of Public Works, in the House last Tuesday:

1. Was an extension of Bay Street in Nakusp established as a public Highway?
2. If so, at what date?
3. Did the Department of Public Works build this extension?
4. If yes, between what dates and at what total cost?
5. What purpose was served by the extension of Bay Street in this way?

Hon. Mr. Leary replied as follows:

1. Yes.
2. May 16th, 1940.
3. Yes.
4. Feb. 20th to April 30th, 1940; $63 exclusive of compensation, under advisement.
5. To connect Bay Street with Nakusp-Vernon Highway.

Rev. F. St. Denis at Nelson Church on Eve Departure

Rev. F. St. Denis, formerly pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Trail, who has accepted a call to the Coast, spoke at Sunday services at the First Presbyterian Church at Nelson.

Following the evening service Mr. and Mrs. St. Denis were guests of honor at a congregational social at which best wishes for their success were extended.

Mr. St. Denis formerly was Moderator for Kootenay Presbytery, and more recently Moderator for British Columbia. During his service at Trail he has frequently taken services at the Nelson Church.

Mrs. St. Denis is a former Nelson resident, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James May, 403 Richards Street.

Tennis Star Dies in R.C.A.F. Crash

LONDON, ONT., Nov. 25 (CP).—Two Royal Canadian Air Force men, LAC Lewis Duff, 23, Montreal, and LAC John Higginbotham, 23, South Orange, N.J., were killed today when their training planes collided near here and crashed.

The airmen were members of a class at No. 3 Elementary Flying Training School at nearby Crumlin Airport.

"Lt.-L. C. W. Burgess, Commandant of the school, said Duff and Higginbotham were approaching the landing field when their machines collided at an altitude of 500 feet. Observers said they believed one of the pilots lost sight of the other plane in the setting sun and descended in a rapid glide, believing the man below him had landed. The planes locked in midair and crashed to earth together.

Duff and Higginbotham, who came to the Crumlin Training School Nov. 5, were engaged in solo flights and were not flying in formation.

The crash marked the first fatal accident at the Training School at Crumlin since it was opened last June.

MONTREAL, Nov. 25 (CP).—LAC Lewis Duff, one of two Royal Canadian Air Force men killed in a crash today near London, Ont., was one of Canada's leading tennis stars, having placed sixth in Dominion rankings for 1940.

12 Ships Stop When U. S. Warships Seen

TAMPICO, Mexico, Nov. 25 (AP).—Three United States destroyers of the neutrality patrol were seen before dawn today two miles offshore from Tampico Harbor, and 13 German and Italian merchantmen which earlier made preparations as if to depart remained at anchor.

Italian Money Aids Egyptian Victims

CAIRO, Nov. 25 (AP).—Egypt today began aiding victims of Italian air raids on Alexandria with Italian money.

A commission set up under a new decree drew on sequestered Italian funds in Egypt to add to Egyptian relief funds.

Seventy-six persons were killed and 204 wounded in last Tuesday's raid. Eighty houses were destroyed. Four were killed and 28 wounded in a raid yesterday.

Joy Stresses Value of Prospector as Tells Gyro Club of Kootenay History

A humorous and extremely interesting review of the highlights of the history of Nelson and district, with special emphasis on the value of mining in the future welfare of the district, was given to the Nelson Gyro Club at its supper meeting at the Hume Monday by R. G. Joy, Historian of the Nelson Old Timers Association.

"If you want prosperity in the Kootenays do not forget the old prospector," said Mr. Joy. "Columbus found America when he was searching for treasures, and Nelson came with the discovery of the Silver King."

Reading occasional extracts, Mr. Joy displayed a number of histories of Nelson and the Kootenays compiled by old timers and also had an abundance of data of historical interest.

Among these was a booklet published by the Nelson Exchange in 1902. This was given to Mr. Joy by Alfred Tregillus, who came to the Kootenays in 1890. Mr. Joy read a number of advertisements from the publication, including one of Glicker's Store and Dr. E. C. Arthur's Pharmacy.

Mr. Joy also showed a copy of the Slocan Review which was published at the time of the fruit land boom. It was not dated. Mr. Joy surmising that a Scotchman must have been connected with the paper and thought that it would do for a number of years. There was a picture gallery of many of the notables of that day, and also splendid photos of the old Hall Mines Smelter in Nelson.

Doings of A.Y.P.A. Members Divulged in "Scandal Columns"

All the doings of the various members—humorously spiced with dashes of gossip—were included in a "scandal sheet" published by the Anglican Young People Association at its meeting Monday night. Four editors were chosen to direct the activities of the sports, scandal, poetry and news departments of the paper. The editors were: Nelson Fletcher, Miss Margery Fraser, James Leduc, Ambassador from United Young Peoples, and James Ryley.

During the business part of the meeting, the four existing groups were reformed into three groups, the members being divided according to their birth dates. Those born during the months from December to March were placed in the "Winter" group; those with birthdays from April to July in the "Spring" group; and those from August to November in the "Fall" group. Group leaders were Miss Shirley Hunter, Basil Matthews and Nelson Fletcher.

Group D, with Basil Matthews as leader, had charge of the meeting.

Seldom could anybody overshadow the personality of the first Mayor of Nelson, John Houston, Mr. Joy stated, but he told several colorful stories of Frank Fletcher, a former Nelson Mayor. He told of E. E. H. Applewhite, the first private banker in Nelson, and of the time he lent Col. Topping of Trail money, with a half interest in the LeRoi mine and an interest in the townships of Trail as security. When the time came to pay, the Trail man came to Mr. Applewhite whether he wanted the money or the security, to which the latter replied "The money and interest." He did not realize the fortune he was passing up, Trail developing the way it did, and the mine producing $60,000,000.

Mr. Joy delved deeply into his wealth store of memories of the Kootenays, and among his stories to the Gyros was the founding of the Silver King mine.

Herbert Harrop was in charge of the program. R. B. Morris and V. C. Owen led a sing-song. President F. D. Cummins was in the chair.

Guests were Addo Diebolt, former Nelson Gyro and now of Vancouver, James Donaldson of Saimo and Arthur Waller of Seattle.

Bucs Beat Lions

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25 (CP).—The high-stepping Portland Backaroos outscored the Vancouver Lions 4-3 in a Pacific Coast Hockey League game here tonight to go into a tie with the Lions for first place in the league standings.

Jimmy McFadden led the Bucs to victory, opening the scoring in the first period before Bill Hutton matched his marker and again in the second season before Tip O'Neill scored for the Lions to even it up.

O'Neill sent the Lions ahead in the final session, but the Portlanders came back with a fast goal by Fergie Grieve, former amateur of Swift Current, Sask., who then passed to Louis Holmes for the other Portland marker.

Canada War Output Planned for Speed

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP).—Producing the maximum quantity in the minimum time has been the paramount consideration of Canada's war effort, Munitions Minister Howe said in a statement today.

"The armaments and munitions we are producing are those which meet our requirements best," Mr. Howe stated. "Our industrial plans have been developed solely on the basis of producing these materials in the shortest possible time."

The Minister said "mere purchasing" of war material had been replaced by a planned production program based on the potential capacity of the country.

Torpedo Boats Patrol English Coast

Somewhere off the coast of England, this torpedo boat makes the spray fly as it speeds along on patrol duty. So high does the water leap that it obscures the lines of the craft and gives it the appearance of a submarine. Scores of these tiny craft are doing a full-size job in protecting Britain from raiders.

Italy Withdraws Rest of Navy to Safer Port

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP)—British naval sources said today the Royal Navy's bombing of the Italian fleet in the harbor of Taranto had forced the Italian Navy to withdraw the major portion of its fleet from the badly damaged port to an undisclosed place of greater safety.

The Italian fleet movement was disclosed by photographs released for publication today. They were taken by British scouting planes making daylight flights as low as 6,000 feet above the fortified port.

Naval sources said the total strength in the whole of Taranto harbor, at the inside of the heel of the Italian boot, at the time of the first attack Nov. 11 was six battleships, 10 cruisers, 27 destroyers and a large number of submarines.

After the attack the Italians withdrew all ships except three battleships, all damaged, eight cruisers and nine destroyers.

The four photographs made public today were taken on a second scouting flight, Nov. 14, three days after the attack, and after a preliminary reconnaissance flight.

One photograph, according to British naval experts, shows a battleship of the Littorio class—probably the 25,000-ton Littorio Veneto, badly down by the bows in the middle of Outer Taranto harbor. Salvage ships and tugs are shown alongside and evidences of oil appear on the water, they said.

The second photograph shows a 23,622-ton battleship of the Cavour class beached on the East shore of the outer harbor.

The pictures show the ship with heavy list to starboard and the whole length of its starboard side submerged as well as its stern, aft of the rear gun turrets.

There were no signs of activity about her.

The same photograph shows another battleship of the same class, around which some activity was apparent, perhaps indicating she also was damaged.

The third photograph shows another battleship of the Cavour class down by the bows and beached on the Northeast shore of the outer harbor, with auxiliary craft alongside.

Naval sources saw in the picture evidence of "obvious attempts to make her seaworthy so she could be towed out for repairs."

The fourth photograph shows two cruisers, one of the Trento class and the other of the Bolzano class. The experts said there was evidence of a considerable quantity of oil on the water and "it is far enough to say this probably indicates some damage to two ships, although no damage can be seen."

The fifth photograph shows a salvage vessel in rescuing three trainee planes destined for the Royal Canadian Air Force from a foundering British freighter in the Atlantic recently.

They said the incident occurred on their last trip to Atlantic seaboard ports. The Canadian arrived in port here yesterday.

Counter Attacks Made on Greek Front by Italian

ROME, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Italian High Command issued this communique today:

"On the Greek front, effective counter attacks were made by our forces. Our air force carried on bombings of enemy positions, particularly along the Epirus coast."

(Athena dispatches indicated the Greeks were continuing their drive in Albania.)

"Enemy aircraft carried out raid on Durazzo, wounding several and causing light damage. An enemy plane was shot down."

"Our planes attacked the naval base at Alexandria, in Egypt, repeatedly hitting port objectives. Other planes attacked military works South of Matruh."

(A Cairo announcement said for civilians were killed and 28 injured in an Italian air raid Sunday at Alexandria.)

Italian Column of Fifty Tanks Routed by Famed British Regiment in Egypt

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE BRITISH DESERT FORCES IN EGYPT, Nov. 25 (AP)—Out of the silent desert case-hardened officers of a famed British Hussar regiment brought a spectacular account yesterday of how an Italian column of 50 tanks was routed in a six-hour battle Nov. 19.

The little party, as they put it, took place at Hikut, 75 miles South of Sidi Barrani in the 70-mile wide no man's land between the Italian and British lines.

The fight started at 8 a. m., when Italian planes dive bombed and machine gunned one of the Hussar patrols. As such attacks usually precede land movements, British headquarters sent out more patrols.

"We sighted an enemy column of 50 tanks and other vehicles," recounted a Hussar officer.

"We gathered full forces into the region, the Italians opening fire when they saw our movements."

"Our colonel gave the order to attack. One squadron of our tanks darted around the enemy's left to cut off retreat, while the rest of our forces closed in to within 200 yards of the Fascist vehicles."

"With heavy fire we disabled several of their tanks and sent two ammunition trucks sky high when their cargoes exploded."

"Our tanks which had closed around their rear inflicted heavy damage on the Italian light tanks because they have less armor in the back."

"As the land battle raged, 17 Italian planes appeared overhead. The Royal Air Force charged into the enemy formation, shooting down three. The remainder took flight. One of our planes was lost; another was forced down but the pilot was safe."

"As additional British tank patrols came into sight at 2 p. m., the Italian column beat a full retreat, abandoning three heavy trucks, five tanks and some guns which had been dismounted from trucks during the battle."

"The Hussars remained on the spot to blow up Mussolini's disabled tanks, while the Italians—from a great distance—looked on at them."

"The Italians left nine dead in the desert. We took 10 prisoners and suffered only two casualties."

"I visited the prisoners today in a camp behind the lines. Two of them complained bitterly that their commanding officer fled, leaving them at the mercy of the British fire."

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 25 (AP)—The British High Command announced yesterday Italian forces virtually had abandoned Matemma, just within the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan and across the border from Ethiopia.

Before the Blitzkrieg

CHAPTER THIRTY-SEVEN

"Oh, you jealous old thing!" she suddenly took his arm, and held it close to her side—an unusual demonstration from her, as Otto was quick to realize. "Anyway, you needn't worry. I'm not partial to puppies—I like older dogs, who've got all their teeth, and can use 'em, too."

Whereas Otto, pleased and flattered, chuckled quite pleasantly. "I'm going straight to bed—the bed here makes one tired, I think," Coral announced, when they had reached the quarters. She kissed Otto lightly on the forehead, waved her hand to Trent, and ran gaily off. The two men went into Trent's office.

Some twenty minutes later, when they were in the middle of a heated argument, there came a tap on the door, which opened to reveal Coral again. She looked very young and charming in a white linen dressing gown worn over dark red pyjamas.

"Sorry to disturb you two," she apologized, "but I've got one of my attacks of insomnia coming on—I can't feel it and I've forgotten to bring any dope with me. Have either of you got anything that will make me sleep?"

"Sure I have!" answered Trent, only too eager to be of assistance. He opened a drawer of his desk and took out a small bottle of tablets—the same with which he had supplied Gun. "One of these ought to make you sleep right through. But if it doesn't work in half an hour, take another. But no more, mind you, or you'll sleep for a week."

"Oh, thanks a lot!" Coral picked up the bottle. "How do I take it?"

"Drop it in a little water. It dissolves at once, and there's no taste."

"Thanks again—and good night again!"

Coral's face, as she went back to her own room, with the little bottle clutched in her hand, seemed to express rather more satisfaction than the occasion warranted.

In the bungalow, Tommy turned to Gun.

"You made a bloomer over that kid, you know," he began—but Gun made a gesture for caution, and urged him out into the air.

"I'm beginning to think I did," he said, when he thought they were safe from mechanical or other eavesdropping. "What did she say to you, anyway?"

"Oh, she was absolutely frank. She said that, of course, you had told me what her game was supposed to be—to make me talk about my invention. But she said she was

WOMAN DIES IN FALL FROM HOSPITAL WINDOW

OLYMPIA, Wash., Nov. 25 (AP)—Mrs. Smith Troy, wife of Washington's attorney-general, died early today in a fall from the third story of St. Peter's Hospital where she had been resting recently following a slight attack of pneumonia poisoning.

Coroner Jack S. Lynch, Jr., said it was believed Mrs. Troy fell when she went to a window to get some fresh air. He said it had not been decided whether an inquest would be held.

Housekeeping... Slovenly Home Not Inducive to Married Bliss

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Dear Miss Chatfield: I'm step-mother to my aunt's children. She died when they were very young. The daughter was promising, led her class, was most popular member of her set and married soon after graduation. Her husband is a hard worker, has given her a lovely home, well furnished in which she takes no interest. Instead of doing little things around the house that most women delight to do, she lets the whole thing slide, lies in bed and reads, reads, reads.

I feel terribly reproached, although I kept a neat house and tried to teach her the importance of it. She isn't neat about her person, her baby or her house and seems to take no pride in anything. Can you advise us how to approach her without irritating her?

Answer: A woman without feminine vanity, without pride in her home and her housekeeping, is pretty hard to get at. Yet there's usually hope for a person who has a passion for reading. The printed page is a power and you may be able to apply the power to the young wife. Christmas isn't far off and there's no better Christmas present for a reader than a shelf of books. Can't you go to a book shop, browse around and find some volumes that may awaken your slothful stepchild to the necessity of holding up her end of the marriage firm. You will find plenty of books on every phase of homemaking, the career of wifehood and motherhood. And you should throw in one on the psychology of marriage, of which the girl is woefully ignorant.

She doesn't realize that she's as slipshod to her duty as her husband would be if he didn't furnish her any grocery money. As guilty toward him and the baby as he would be toward his family if he gambled away his salary and provided no clothes for them. This information should be got over to her before her husband loses respect for her and her marriage is wrecked.

South Slocan Plans Community Tree

SOUTH SLOCAN, B. C.—A special meeting of the parents of the school children was held to arrange for the annual Christmas Tree which in previous years has been under the auspices of the Women's Institute.

The parents decided to carry on as a Community affair with the help of Mrs. John Murray, who for many years has been the convener when the Institute arranged the Tree.

Miss W. W. Bennett, Mrs. H. H. James, Mrs. A. Mitchell, Mrs. A. Dunsmore, Miss Mollie Murray and Miss Lily Edwards were appointed collectors, the committee also to aid in buying decorations, etc.

The Supper Committee comprises Mrs. W. Nixon as convener, Mrs. Dawney, Mrs. E. Olson, Mrs. J. Nixon and Mrs. A. Mitchell.

GREENWOOD INSTITUTE SENDS GIFTS TO MEN

GREENWOOD, B. C.—The Greenwood Women's Institute of Greenwood met in the Institute Hall, Mrs. J. Roylance and Mrs. Parsons were delighted to purchase, pack and ship Christmas boxes for men who have enlisted from this district. The card party recently held showed a net profit of $21.25. The sum of $47 was realized on the sale of tickets. This amount was placed in the Patriotic Fund. It was decided to substitute other commodities for Japanese goods as much as possible.

Mrs. Tanner and Mrs. Wallace were hostesses for the evening.

Prisoners Fail to Get Food Parcels

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP)—Officials looking after the sending of parcels to British and Canadian prisoners of war in Germany said today that as yet food parcels had not been received by the prisoners because of transportation difficulties. Prior to the occupation of France and the low countries parcels for prisoners of war followed channels through France, Belgium or Holland.

The German occupation interfered with the personal parcel service—parcels from prisoners' next-of-kin—and announcement was made only last Nov. 8 that it had been resumed. However the difficulties in getting such a parcel to its destination mean that none has been received by prisoners yet, according to authorities.

A prisoner of war in Germany may receive one personal parcel every three months through food packages, sent by the Red Cross, may be sent more frequently. At present negotiations are underway to speed the sending of food packages which now enter Germany by way of Spain, Portugal, unoccupied France and Switzerland.

MANCHESTER (CP)—After two months of intense air raids on Britain, only 29 permanent disability pensions to civilians were granted on that account. Pensions (Minister Sir Walter Womersley said, but claims were being received at an increasing rate.

Rossland Pupils Donate $20.85 to Fund of Princess

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 24—The sum of $20.85 has been donated to the Princess Elizabeth fund by the pupils of the MacLean School. Five cents was asked from each pupil, and the response was most encouraging. The fund is sponsored by Mrs. Eric Hamber, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia.

Soul Maladies... Jitters, Penalty of Pace Today

By LOGAN GLENDENING, M. D.

My friend Dr. A. E. Hertzler lives out in Halstead, Kansas, and gets wise. A lot of the rest of us are rushing around in the city, getting a house and lot, and an automobile, and a lot of clothes we don't need, and acquiring excitement and information while he sits on the prairie and goes to the root of things. He wrote, if you will remember, "The Horse and Buggy Doctor."

Now he comes out with another book, "The Doctor and His Patients," and explains how in his experience people get upset and sick, not because of germs and cancers, but because of bad adjustments in lives and living conditions and human relationships.

COURAGEOUS BOOK

It's a very curious book—and a very courageous book for Dr. Hertzler to write because he knows all about the physical side of disease. I have a complete set of his works on surgical pathology—10 or 11 volumes—illustrated by photographs of the hundreds of specimens he has collected in the course of his surgical work. So he knows all about bad appendices, and gallstones, and goitres, and all the rest of it. But here he writes an entire book about how much sickness is the result of maladjustments of the soul.

There are plenty of examples of Dr. Hertzler's humor. He is a little suspicious of the value of a prolonged university education nowadays. He tells the story of a woman who taught Greek in a state university and who gave it up to get married and have a baby. She called Dr. Hertzler once and he wrote in sight she said, "There isn't a single thing in Goodwin's Greek Grammar that tells me to do for a yelling child." A trained nurse with a High School education, would have known what to do.

AGREES WITH BOOK

Even though closely associated as I am with university life these remarks arouse a responsive chord in me. I visited a great university the other day and saw literally hundreds of students lying around in the campus, toying with their books. When my father and mother were that age they were married and had started in business in a new country. Now there is no new country and no new business. Those young people in the campus are temporizing with life; they have no thirst for knowledge, nor are they destined to be great scholars. They are simply breeding some swell-elegant neuroses.

Dr. Hertzler has a good deal to say about marriage and divorce, and youthful love. To quote again, he feels that the social workers who specialize in the divorce problem are a queer lot. One he knew was on the surface a sweet, reasonable, gentle little lady, but underneath she was a cruel, nagging pagan who loved to see others suffer especially her husband. The husband's doctor urged him to buy a one-way ticket to South America and save his health. But his duty made him keep on and he was fed broomsticks for years until finally he took his own life.

EDITOR'S NOTE—Dr. Glendenning has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed envelope, stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Glendenning in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Garden Body in Rossland Hears Talk on Plants

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 24—A talk on "House Plants" was given by Mr. T. P. Somerville at the meeting of the Rossland Horticultural Society Friday night at the City Hall.

Following business, moving pictures of the Big Bend Highway and scenic skiing pictures of Rossland were shown by R. E. Plewman.

Canned Fruit and Cash Donated to Creston Hospital

CRESTON, B. C.—Seventy-three dollars, accounting for 353 jars of canned fruit, jam, jelly, pickles—and still more to come—remembered Creston Hospital at the annual fruit shower earlier in the month according to Mrs. C. H. Messinger of the Shower-Committee, who reported at the meeting of Creston Hospital Women's Auxiliary in Trinity Church Hall, Thursday when President Mrs. J. P. MacDonald was in charge.

Another timely remembrance was $21 from Mrs. Hee. This was the intake for part of the opening day's business of the new Burma Cafe. A membership drive was discussed but action was deferred until the December meeting. Miss M. Dixon, Hospital Matron, gave a talk on hospital linen, and read a list of the many articles of this sort required by a hospital.

There were reports by Mrs. C. F. Hayes, for the Good Cheer Committee; Mrs. C. H. Messinger, Buying Committee, and Mrs. James Cherington, Auxiliary Representative on the Hospital Executive.

Germans Scramble for Spilled Apples

BERLIN, Nov. 25 (AP)—About 100 Germans beat the strict food rationing system today when a truck spilled 200 apples on Berlin's main street.

Making a short turn into Unter Den Linden, the truck lost part of its load. Before the driver could stop, hundreds of pedestrians ran into the street and scrambled for the fruit.

Some got three or four apples. Some got one or two. An Associated Press correspondent was one of 50 who 'also ran' and got none. The driver scratched his head in puzzlement and drove off.

Recently a truck cutting a corner spilled a few hundreds of coal. Women filled shopping bags with the smutty fuel.

WHOLE WHEAT GRIDDLE CAKES

Two cups whole wheat flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one half teaspoon salt, one or two eggs, two cups milk, two tablespoons butter.

Sift flour, measure and return to sifter. Add baking powder and salt. Beat egg or eggs in mixing bowl. Add milk, beating it in as added. Stir in melted butter. Sift in dry ingredients. Stir enough to moisten and mix well, but not until batter is smooth. Bake in spoonfuls on a hot griddle, turning the cakes as one side appears bubbly but not dry. This makes 15 or 16 average sized cakes. For two people, halve recipe, using one egg.

CORNMEAL GRIDDLE CAKES

One cup yellow cornmeal, one cup hot water, one cup white flour, one teaspoon baking powder, one-half teaspoon soda, one tablespoon sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, one or two eggs, one cup sweet or sour milk, one tablespoon butter.

Scald cornmeal in hot water and let cool. Sift other dry ingredients together. Beat egg, add milk and add to cornmeal alternately with dry ingredients; add melted butter last, stirring just enough to mix well, no more. Too much stirring makes the cakes tough.

NO DECISION ON JOINT CHARITIES CAMPAIGN

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP)—Public opinion was not yet fully settled on the question of a joint campaign for all war charities, War Services Minister Gardiner said today.

The Department of War Services, he said, felt a joint campaign was desirable but it did not think it would be helpful to use any form of compulsion.

Deodorant... Cool Salt Bath Helps the Nerves

By ALICE WADE ROBINSON

Soap and water are headlines on any good grooming program. But for sure personal distinctness, they need a cooperative and sympathetic supporting cast. Foremost among which are those staunch trouper: Deodorants and anti-perispirants.

Let's be modern among ourselves. Let's see what help research can offer in putting the boots forever to the fear that "we may offend."

First of all, away with that idea that a preventive campaign against perspiration is limited to the Summer. Nothing "ould be so false. For it is not heat alone which induces the sweat glands to secrete moisture, the cause may quite easily lie elsewhere.

Excitement, anger, a pleasant or distressing surprise, nervousness, embarrassment or fatigue — any unusual stimulant of this sort may start the process. So, because no one can foretell just what circumstances the day will bring — if for no other reason — let's be "safety first" advocates on this count, now and forever after.

SPECIFIC GUARDS

Crems which offer the same sort of protection are preferred by those with sensitive skin. Other ointments, salves and powders deodorize the secretion without lessening the flow — a fact which makes other folk their strong adherents.

If you are unusually bothered by excessive secretion of the glands of perspiration, see your doctor about it.

But suppose you are healthy and yet unduly bothered by all-over perspiration; find relief in taking cool salt baths. They tone unstable nerves and seem to sweeten the skin. And to all who think they perspire too much: Avoid highly seasoned, pungently spiced dishes, abstain for a short time... they may be the root of the trouble.

Eight Confirmed at Creston by Bishop

CRESTON, B. C.—Christ Church was well filled Friday on the occasion of a visit to the parish of Rt. Rev. Walter Adams, of Vernon, Bishop of Kootenay, who officiated at a confirmation service at which eight were received into church membership.

The class included Dorothy Miller, Dorothy Powell, Elizabeth Rumsay, Margaret Simister, Terence Davidge, Lewis Millin, Frank Simister Jr., and Leslie John Harris. The congregation at Camp Lister and Wynndel were represented in the group, and members from these churches were in the congregation.

After the rite had been conferred the Bishop spoke to those who had allied themselves with the church. After the service those present were guests of the Rector, Rev. A. S. and Mrs. Partington, at a reception at the rectory.

Big Rush to Buy Silk Stockings Stores Limit Orders to 12 Pairs

By DOUGLAS AMARON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP)—There's no place for the lowly silk worm in Great Britain unless it's working for the war effort.

The Government's ban on silk goods, effective Dec. 1, means milady's legs will have to be encased in something less glamorous than sheer 25-shilling ($3.56) stockings, and milord's silk topper will have to do until the war is over after all. The silk industry hasn't yet found a substitute for the topper, but judging from reports, milady's legs won't lose much of their glamor just because those cobwebby stockings aren't available any more.

"We have the whole process worked out," said a manufacturer, "and our machines will be able to produce first-class artificial silk stockings in five weeks' time." And he insisted even the most fastidious customer won't be able to distinguish the artificial from the real thing.

AS FOR SUBSTITUTES

There's little chance of homely wool winning a place in the hosiery business — women wouldn't stand for it anyway — but lisle and rayon seem bound to come into their own.

S. F. Peshall, chairman of the hosiery rationing committee, indicated this when he said it's impracticable to make woolen stockings of as fine gauge as silk. "If the yarns were made," he said, "the wearing properties would be so few that a wearer would find holes in her stockings after a short walk. The only substitutes are rayon and lisle."

Thousands of pairs of stockings were sold after the silk ban was announced. There were such long queues and such huge orders that after half a day a large department store restricted sales to 12 pairs to a customer. Even if the rush continues women will be able to get real silk stockings after Dec. 1. The order for bidding sale of "it" goods after that date applies only to dealings between wholesalers and retailers and stores may sell stocks to customers until they are depleted. Most stores, anticipating a rush before the purchase tax came into effect, had full stocks on hand when the ban was announced.

The British press has been generous with its praise of the "heroic women" who will forego loveliness to aid the war cause. But the women themselves are taking the ban in stride.

SLACKS HELP

In normal times it would have been a bombshell in feminine circles to know that after a certain date it would be impossible to buy, not only silk stockings, but any real silk garment.

Now the women joke about it. "My dear, they tell me woollies scratch but if we have another of those cold Winters they'll at least be warm. And just think, no more runs to worry about!" That's the sort of talk you hear these days. If you're brave enough to listen to women's private conversations.

Bare legs were quite the style in London during the Summer and there are still a few to be seen now that Autumn is here. But it's getting damp and cold and the bareness is disappearing under slacks. They don't look too bad at that!

R. Andrew & Co. Leaders in Footfashion

Andrews Is New Prime Minister of North Ireland

BELFAST, Nov. 25 (CP).—John Miller Andrews today was elevated from the post of Deputy Prime Minister of Northern Ireland to be Prime Minister, succeeding Viscount Craigavon who died unexpectedly last night.

Mr. Andrews is 69 years old. He has been Finance Minister since 1937 and was Labor Minister from 1921 to 1937. He has been a member of the Northern Ireland Parliament since its inception in 1921.

Lord Craigavon, first and only Prime Minister since the Northern Ireland Government was formed in 1921, was a bitter foe of proposals for union of Eire and Ulster and his death occurred as various rumors circulated on a proposal for a united Ireland in return for leasing Irish naval bases to Britain.

Mr. Andrews also has opposed union proposals and although no suggestion has yet been made that Lord Craigavon's death would alter the situation some observers thought there might be a remote possibility of a stronger move for unification.

London Wonders If Italy Will Ask Nazi Help

By J. F. SANDERSON Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 25—(CP CABLE).—With the Italian army on the run in Albania, driven back by fierce fighting Greek forces, the big question being discussed in London is: will Mussolini appeal to Hitler for help?

Mussolini's prestige has suffered a shattering blow by his loss to the Greeks of his army's forward base, Koritsa, and with his forces retreating along the entire front his position in Albania may become so precarious he may be forced to appeal to Berlin for assistance.

This question raises many complicating considerations, not the least of which is the fact the Germans could help the Italians on through Yugoslavia and Bulgaria. This would almost certainly bring Turkey into the war on the side of the allies and ignite the whole Balkans.

Germany has many divisions in Rumania, Slovakia, and other parts of the dismembered Republic of Czechoslovakia that could be used to help the Italians, but the test of the modern blitzkrieg lies in the preparations that have gone before. These cannot be telescoped into days, even weeks, particularly for a winter campaign in the Balkans.

The Turks would fight automatically if the Germans moved against the Greeks through Bulgaria. It is generally understood here that the same guarantee would apply if the used the monster gap in Southern Yugoslavia which incidentally leads to a bottleneck in Koritsa where all the roads converge.

Turkey has transferred to the European side of the Dardanelles many of her forces and large quantities of war material, in addition to declaring martial law in European Turkey.

The governing consideration in Russia's foreign policy at the moment seems to be her determination to keep out of the war or any entanglements that might lead to war.

There is little doubt here the Yugoslavs would fight if the Germans attempted to use their country as a corridor for troops. The example of the Greeks has stiffened their resistance to Axis pressure. The Yugoslavs have been noted for centuries for their strong anti-German and anti-Italian feelings.

Meanwhile, strong pressure is being brought by the British Government to redouble assistance to the Greeks in the effort to drive the Italians out of Albania.

War Correspondent Says Britons Feel Battle for Survival Is Won

By MILO M. THOMPSON Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 25—(AP).—Britons, tremendously stimulated by events of the last few weeks, are starting to rebuild their pocket-marked capital as earnestly as Hitler's forces try to tear it down.

They feel they have won the battle for survival. They seem to have lost any fear whatsoever of bombing or invasion.

The bombing of the Italian fleet at Taranto gave them a tremendous lift.

The successes of the Greeks to date confirm their expressed belief that Italy is the Achilles heel of the Axis.

Most recent of the stimulating suggestions reaching them is bound up with the presence of Gen. Maxine Wagan in Northern Africa.

In that connection I have it from a diplomat who talked to Weygand himself that the French military genius, though at present identified with the Vichy Government, has placed himself intentionally in a trading position so that if the German demands are too great the German terms of peace too dishonorable, in his opinion, he can swing the military forces of Algeria (possibly Syria, too) in a new direction.

This will not be a matter of joining the Free French forces of Gen. Charles De Gaulle. Weygand is not disposed to play second fiddle.

Another source of comfort to Britain is the accelerated speed of supplies from United States.

Both Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Aircraft Production, and the Marquess of Lothian, Ambassador to Washington, have told me the arrivals now are more than gratifying.

At the time of Britain's greatest need—when invasion was imminent and the Germans began to pave the way for it with their reckless use of aircraft attack which enabled the Royal Air Force to down more than 150 on a couple of days and more than 130 on others—American planes and war material were so slow arriving as to be an unimportant part of the picture.

Now that machine tools have been put to their task on each side of the Atlantic and assembly lines are operating full time the flow has become impressive. Scarcely less impressive relatively is what Canada and Australia have been doing.

Britain worries about the availability of supplies less than about some means of financing it because even her wealth is not inexhaustible.

I have just completed a flying trip from the centre of the battle along with returning members of an American military mission and I know they share the opinion that the British authorities lean over backward in claiming war successes.

Take the number of German planes knocked out of the sky, for instance. Neutral militarists say you have to increase the figures by approximately 60 per cent to arrive at something like a true figure, so insistent are the British officials that they have absolute proof a plane is down before they claim it.

The same thing is true of figures of industrial losses. It is not propaganda when the British authorities say most of the bombing has had small military significance.

This is not to diminish in any respect what has been happening in London. The world's largest city probably will bear forever the scars of the present conflict.

Montreal Unit of R.C.A.M.C. Fights In Civilian Line

By SAM ROBERTSON Canadian Press Staff Writer

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Nov. 25 (CP-Cable).—A Montreal unit of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps is in the civilian front line fighting against death that flies by night.

In addition to caring for 140 children placed in the comparative safety of a Canadian General Hospital after being evacuated from children's hospitals in a bomb-scarred Midland city, the unit has established surgical teams for performing operations on the scene of bombings.

It has been suggested that medical units of the British Army should be used for such civil work throughout the United Kingdom. While the suggestions were receiving official consideration Col. A. E. London, Commandant of the Canadian Hospital, hurried red tape and established the surgical teams for work among civilians and servicemen alike.

The teams, composed of two surgeons, an anesthetist and the required number of orderlies are subject to call at any hour day or night for operations within a five-mile radius of the hospital. The British-American Ambulance Service is cooperating in the scheme. A first aid post has been established at the Canadian hospital for the care of bomb casualties until they can be safely moved to a civil hospital.

The children, who are receiving the expert attention of the commandant and his medical staff of 22 officers, range from six weeks to 12 years.

A small staff of nurses who accompanied the children from their own hospital are being assisted by khaki-clad orderlies.

"It was a shock when we found a baby in one hand, a feeding bottle in the other," one brawny orderly confessed "but we are used to it now and it's good training. I hope to have babies of my own some day."

Beecham Scores Politicians Failing to Speak the Truth

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (CP).—Politicians who deliberately withheld information from the public were responsible for the present European catastrophe and had brought about their own downfall, Sir Thomas Beecham, British orchestral conductor, said in a luncheon address to the Canadian Club here today.

He questioned whether the failure of politicians to tell the truth was not akin to the German method of concealing truth from the press. He considered it the "essence of sham democracy."

Tracing the development of the English Parliamentary system Sir Thomas said since the right to vote had been made universal the power of administration had gradually been taken out of the hands of property owners.

"In the last 50 years there has been a cloud over this valuable element of the state," he said.

Report Bulgaria-Soviet Relations 'Politically Sound'

MOSCOW, Nov. 25 (AP).—Pravda, the Communist party newspaper today printed addresses made in the Bulgarian parliament saying that Bulgaria's relations with Soviet Russia "are now established on a sound political basis."

The newspaper printed a two-column dispatch from Sofia reporting demands made in parliament for settlement of Bulgaria's territorial claims on her Greek, Yugoslav and Rumanian neighbors.

DENIES DISSENSION OF CREW ON U.S. SHIP

MANILA, Nov. 25 (AP).—The United States liner Washington, carrying 804 refugees from China and the Philippines, left here direct for San Francisco late today after Captain Harry Manning had denied dissension existed among his crew or that search of the vessel at Manila was anything more than a routine precautionary measure created by troubled times.

Captain Manning praised his crew for its assistance in evacuating Americans from Shanghai.

Trainees Outnumber Objective by 936 Men

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP).—The turnout for the second military training period under the National Resources Mobilization Act exceeded the objective by 936 men, War Services Minister Gardiner announced today.

He told a Press conference that 36,536 men aged 21, 22 and 23, reported at training centres on Nov. 22 and against an objective of 29,600.

The capacity of the 29 training centres was 29,750. Rejections on medical grounds likely would reduce the number who would remain for training to something like 28,350, well within the capacity of the centres, Mr. Gardiner said.

TURN DOWN REQUEST TO KEEP ROAD OPEN

CALGARY, Nov. 25 (CP).—A request to keep open for the Winter the Castle Mountain-Radium Hot Springs Highway, sponsored by the Alberta Motor Association and the Associated Boards of Trade of the Rocky Mountains District has been turned down by the Dominion Government.

TRAIL SOCIAL

By MISS FLORENCE BIRD

TRAIL, B. C., Nov. 25—Miss Denise DeLespree of Coleman, Wash., is visiting her parents during the American Thanksgiving weekend.

Miss Ruby Nelson of Fruitvale spent the weekend visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Nelson, 93 Aldridge Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. George Renssion, 1575 Pine Avenue, have as their guest Mrs. Norman McInnis of Cranbrook. Mrs. McInnis is also visiting her son, Donald McInnis, of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Couch, 1389 Columbia Avenue, have as their guests Mrs. Ernest Gayre and son Jimmy of Kaslo.

St. Francis Xavier Subdivision of the Catholic Women's League held a successful bazaar and tea Saturday afternoon, in the St. Francis Xavier Parish Hall. The lace covered tea table was centred with a silver basket of bronze, white and yellow "mums, and tall green tapers in silver holders. Yellow "mums in silver vases centred the individual tea tables. Mrs. B. LeRose, Mrs. C. Butorac, Mrs. Vincent Carberry and Mrs. S. C. Stewart presided at the urns. Those in charge of the various booths were, home cooking, Mrs. A. McDonald and Mrs. J. Campbell; home sewing, Mrs. E. J. Provost; preserves, Misses Carmela DeMeo, Mary Filippelli and Violet Catalano; Miss Donna Langille was in charge of the doll raffie. Servitors were Misses Irene Savard, Jeanne Butorac, Rita Wall and Anne McDonald. Culinary arrangements were in charge of Mrs. E. Kinahan.

Free Yourself from Constipation!

The surest way to rid yourself of any ailment is to discover the cause and to overcome it. Constipation is caused, in the majority of cases, by a diet lacking "bulk."

If your usual menu is made up mostly of bread, meat, potatoes in all probability your bowels lack the necessary "bulk." Purgatives do not give any lasting relief. Then eat Kellogg's All-Bran. It helps form a "soft mass" in the bowels that is favorable to "regularity."

A delicious, crisp and tasty cereal, All-Bran is also one of the foods richest in Vitamin B, the natural potassium tonic.

Eat All-Bran every day, drink lots of water, and regain your gayness and well-being. Made in London, Canada by Kellogg. At all grocers.

Inspector Urges Better Lighting Rossland Schools

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 24 — A letter from School Inspector K. B. Woodward regarding better lighting in the Rossland schools was discussed by the School Board Wednesday evening. The chairman of the Repairs and Construction Committee was authorized to purchase certain lighting fixtures for one room as an experiment.

The inspector also commended highly the standard of physical education training given by Miss Margaret Forbes.

EXTRA LUNCH BENCHES

As over 50 pupils of MacLean School bring lunches and are served hot coles during the winter months, it was decided to improve the lunch room facilities by building extra benches for the use of these pupils. Another decision made was to employ help for the janitors of the schools for two hours a day in cold weather when so much attention must be given to the furnaces.

Principal Wesley McKenzie reported that the night school classes now have an enrolment of 30. It is hoped that this may reach 50.

The fee is $2.50 for 30 hours of instruction and $5 for 100 hours. Arrangements are being made with the St. John Ambulance Association and Dr. Topf to give first aid instruction to the senior pupils. Examinations will be held and certificates awarded for this work. The juniors will receive their training from the high school staff.

A letter from the Teachers' Association asked that salaries be paid by the fifth of each month. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Board was advised that reproductions of the Union Jack are now available for the class room flag raising ceremony. Donations of $5 to each school from the Parent-Teacher Association were reported.

To Build Bomber for Christmas Present

BURBANK, Calif., Nov. 25 (AP).—Representatives of the 20,000 employees at Lockheed and Vega aircraft plants started a movement today to give the Royal Air Force a 400,000 Hudson bomber as a Christmas present.

E. J. Morgan, an employee of the Vega Material Planning Department, said workers had agreed through their trade union organizations to donate their time to building the craft, identical to many now in service for the R.A.F.

Morgan added that company officials had received "enthusiastically" a proposal that parts and plant facilities be donated.

The craft will be christened "The Spirit of Lockheed-Vega" and presented to a British Air Ministry representative sometime before Christmas, Morgan said, adding: "We plan to paste 'Do Not Open Until Christmas' seals on the bomb chutes. We think that will appeal to British humor."

New York Paper Urges Supplies Be Given Britain

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (CP).—The New York Herald Tribune said editorially today the problem of Britain's financing the war "should be faced by the American people in its broadest terms."

"It is not for Americans to wait on British pleas; it is for Americans themselves to decide how they are to meet the financial necessities of the American policy to which they are committed," the paper said, adding:

"The policy of all aid is not a policy of only such aid as the British can beg or borrow the money to pay for; it is a policy of all aid that the United States can give, because the United States has a vital interest in British survival."

SEEING THAT THE PARCELS GET THERE

Parcels for troops in Britain are one of the continuing problems of the Canadian Postal Department, and now more than at any other time.

On the one hand, sailings and flyings are irregular, and frequently altered, and there may also be other complications in getting mail to its overseas destination, all independent of the Postal Service itself.

Then there is the problem of the mail that is not adequately addressed, or that, in the case of parcels, is inefficiently packed, resulting in loss, or at least delay.

Perishable articles, and glass containers, are not ideal for the parcel going overseas. Think of a broken bottle of jam in a bag of mail! At the least the parcel will be ruined; at the worst, many other pieces of mail matter with it.

If the Kootenay housewife making up her parcel reflects, first, whether the ingredients of the parcel would be damaged if subjected to a crushing weight; and secondly, if it could be up against a hot radiator or steam-pipe, or conversely, subjected to freezing temperature, without damage, she will be in a better position to score a bulls-eye in the matter. Certain types of things are best packed in tins. Heavy pasteboard cartons make good containers, but should be so substantially fastened that only a railway wreck could break them open accidentally. No means of address that is removable should be considered, such as tags. The parcel should finally be sewn up in cloth, and the address marked indelibly on the cloth.

For members of the Canadian Active Service Force serving in Britain, there is one form of address; for Canadians serving with the British forces, there is another form of address.

For members of the C.A.S.F., the form of address is as follows:

Regimental Number
Rank and Name
Unit (Company, Squadron, Battery, Holding Unit, etc.)
Full name of Regiment or Service
C. A. S. F.
Base Post Office
Canada.

In the case of Canadians serving with the British Forces, the form of address is exactly the same for the first four lines, which identify the individual. After the Regiment or Service, however it proceeds:

C/o Canadian Auxiliary Services
6 Dilke Street
Chelsea, London, S.W.3
England.

Is so addressed, gift parcels for Canadians serving with the British Forces, and containing cigarettes and tobacco, will be admitted free of duty, the same as for members of the C. A. S. F.

There should not be a lull in the matter of parcels for our overseas men after Christmas. Their need will be exactly the same later, and the sending of parcels should be a continuing service; should never cease.

LONDON UNDER BOMBARDMENT

(From the Ottawa Journal)
An Ottawa lady, at present in England, writes to a friend on The Journal staff:

"I cut the enclosed verses out of the London Telegraph and thought it a beautiful expression of London's heroic stand. Perhaps as tribute to her you would print it in The Journal. No one can say too much for the way, not only in London but everywhere, the people are enduring."

"LONDON UNDER BOMBARDMENT"

I, who am known as London, have faced stern times before. Having fought and ruled and traded for a thousand years and more; I knew the Roman legions and the hard-voiced Danish hordes; I heard the Saxon revels, saw blood on the Norman sword. But, though I am scarred by battle, my grim defenders vow Never was I so stately nor so well-beloved as now.

The lights that burn and glitter in the exile's lonely dream. The lights of Piccadilly, and those that used to gleam Down Regent Street and Kingsway may now no longer shine. But other lights keep burning, and their splendor, too, is mine. Seen in the work-worn faces and glimpsed in the steadfast eyes When little homes lie broken and death descends from the skies. The bombs have shattered my churches, have torn my streets apart. But they have not bent my spirit and they shall not break my heart.

For my people's faith and courage are lights of London town Which still would shine in legends though my last broad bridge were down.

Democratic Freedom for Public to Say From Whom Will Buy

To the Editor of The Daily News:

Sir—Your issue of November 20 contained a telling cartoon on the subject of the United States' trade with Japan. On the same page is a report of a meeting of the Nelson Women's Liberal Association in which a "lively discussion" centred on trade with Japan, the members asking why imports of goods from Japan should be permitted.

A day or two previously a public official was reported as criticizing a protest from the Okanagan against importation of Japanese oranges, as being actuated by selfish motives. He reminded us that we are not at war with Japan and claimed such matters should be left to the government, implying it was something like impertinence for ordinary people to concern themselves about it.

Where can any support be found for that opinion? There is everything to support the opposite view.

For a government to cut off trade with any country is regarded as an unfriendly act — perhaps the most unfriendly short of declaring war. Therefore it is seldom done while there is any hope of preserving peace. Germany was allowed to buy on the London Exchange right up to the time war was declared. Without arguing as to the right or wrong of government action or inaction it is easy to see why a government is so reluctant to cut off trade with a potential enemy.

But there is nothing of this kind to restrain individual action. In a democratic country we are allowed to deal, or not to deal, with whom we like, except an enemy. Even Japan would not expect our government to force us to buy her goods. In such matters the common people are more free to act than governments. Their action also has more moral weight than the action of a government or of any organized group, for there can be no suspicion of their motives.

Apart from the possibility of the Japanese entering the war against us, their unprovoked war on China, conducted with all the barbarous methods of Germany, with the added horror of the drug traffic, has caused indignation and disgust among decent people all over the world. Some people have not bought Japanese goods for years. It is refreshing to find some business people coming out with the positive statement that they do not and will not handle Japanese oranges. As for those half-hearted ones who say they would rather not handle them, but if the public demands it they must — thus making the public the keepers of their conscience — they may find they lose more customers by handling them than if they refused to. Then they may ponder over what the word "must" means.

But again: It is the common people who are in the best position to act.

H. G. Blewett — What is the name of the game something like bridge, in which one bids to lose tricks?

Nada is such a game. Bids are to lose 7, 8, 9 or 10 tricks. If a player thinks he can lose 11, he bids nil; if he can lose 12 he bids grand nil; and to lose all 13 he bids Nada.

There is also the misere bid 'in solo (or slough) and in the English solo game.

J. K. Nelson — Is it correct to say cold slaw or cole slaw?

The name is cole slaw. Cole means cabbage, and slaw is from the Danish slaa meaning salad.

M. B. Creston — Which is rougher, the Atlantic or the Pacific Ocean?

The zone of greatest storm frequency lies between latitudes 40 degrees and 60 degrees. The most severe storms are the hurricanes that begin in the tropical portion of the Atlantic. The North Atlantic lies in the path of the great procession of cyclones and anti-cyclones of the middle latitudes, and also in the path of the West India hurricanes over its lower latitudes, and counterparts of these atmospheric disturbances in the South Atlantic. The Pacific is subject to sudden and violent storms, especially typhoons, but the frequency of storms is not so great as in the Atlantic.

J. M. Nelson — I have a canary which seems to be healthy but will not sing. What can be done about it?

As no disease seems to be apparent, suggest that you take it to a canary dealer where the bird can hear other birds singing. Frequently this has been known to restore song.

F. B. Castlegar — Could you give me a recipe for good plum pudding?

One pound chopped suet, 2 pounds raisins, 1 pound currants, 1 pound mixed peel, 2 cups flour, 2 cups of crumbs, 1 teaspoon mixed spices, 2 cups brown sugar and 8 eggs. Mix the suet, the fruit and the chopped peel, and dredge with some of the flour. Mix together the remaining flour, crumbs, spices and sugar, and add the well beaten eggs. Stir the fruit and suet into this mixture and mix the whole thoroughly. Put into greased molds or pudding cloths. Drop into a large kettle of boiling water and boil from five to seven hours, according to the size of the pudding. Serve with either hard or liquid sauce.

Dust of Gold

"Let us walk honestly . . . not in rioting and drunkenness . . . not in strife and envy. But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ." —Rom. 13:13, 14

The perfect dying to self is to "put" on the Lord Jesus Christ and thus to triumph over one's self. When you can lovingly and patiently bear with any disorder, any irregularity and unpunctuality, or any annoyance — that is dying to self.

When you never care to refer to yourself in conversation, or to record your own good works, or to bask in commendation, when you can truly love to be unknown — that is dying to self.

When you can stand face to face with waste, folly, extravagance, spiritual insensibility, and endure it all as Jesus endured it — that is dying to self.

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

THE BIG LITTLE SEVEN

ONE OF the most interesting things about the game is the way that the exact size of little cards can sometimes decide the fate of a contract. Hiding can never become so exact that it can show whether a defender holding four trumps has them topped by a seven-spot, or a six-spot, yet the result of your endeavor can depend upon such an apparent trifle. In brief, you never can eliminate the uncertainty and gamble from the game, and if you could, your intelligence would make you quit playing it. What you strive for always is to become so that you take more sound gambles and fewer unsound ones.

He cashed the spade A. Then, probing trumps, he led the 8 to the heart K and was chagrined to see the J drop, marking West with four trumps. At that stage South did not realize how important West's 7 was at the top of those four cards, but he soon found out.

Seeing that he must ruff one diamond to set up that suit, enabling him then to get only three diamonds, in clubs, he also had to get rid of a losing spade. So he ruffed the spade 9 with the heart A and returned to his hand with the heart 10 to the Q. The heart 9 made a third round of trumps, but it left West with the high 7 against South's 6 and 3, so he had to go down one trick. If the 10 or 8 of hearts could have been in South's hand in place of the 9 or 8, the contract could have been made.

North and South were using the Vanderbilt club system, also the Blackwood slam convention. When West made the unorthodox lead of the diamond 10, South promptly figured it as a probable singleton and planned accordingly.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

COMMON LANGUAGE

The "Elegy in a Country Churchyard" might interest students of propaganda who are busy trying to explain just how Britain goes about luring America into war says The New York Times. Such experts in British guile might take a look at Thomas Gray. Pick up the "Elegy," for those thirty-odd stanzas of four lines apiece and see how much of it has gone into the everyday speech and everyday writing of the American people.

The curfew tolls, the lowing herd over the sea, the plowman plodding his weary way, the glimmering landscape, the solemn stillness, the drowsy tinklings, the distant folds, the ivy-mantled tower, the secret bower, the ancient solitary reign, the narrow cell, the rude forest-father, the cock's shrill clarion, the lowly bed, the useful toil, the homely joys, the short and simple annals of the poor, the boast of heraldry, the pomp of power, the inevitable hour, the paths of glory, the pealing anthem, the storied urn, the heart once pregnant with celestial fire, the rod of empire, the living lyre, the gem of purest ray serene, the dark unfathomed cave of ocean, the flower born to blush unseen, the village Hampden, the mute inglorious Milton, the maddening crowd, the cool sequestered vale of life, the noiseless tenor of their ways, the hoard-headed swain, the peep of dawn, the upland lawn.

INDIA AND THE WAR

The crisis caught India when she was still standing on the threshold of Dominion status, so that, while all the Dominions were free to choose, India was committed to war by a constitutional procedure which, though legally correct, provided for no consultation of the Indian people. That was bound to affront the self-respect of Indian nationalists, since the essence of nationalism is the claim to a footing of equal freedom in the society of nations. For that reason the recent announcement by the Secretary of State and the Viceroy ought surely to be welcomed by all Indian statesmen; for both in its spirit and in its most important clauses it treats India as already Britain's partner in the Commonwealth. More than that, whereas the Act of 1935, though the representatives of India were fully consulted, was primarily British work, the primary responsibility for framing a new Indian constitution is now declared to rest in Indian hands. It is hard to believe that on these terms Congress will persist in its refusal to join with all the other parties and communities in India in the common effort to save the world from barbarism. The British people for their part most earnestly desire to see the day when India attains her full free nationhood. It will be, as Macaulay said a century ago, the "proudest day" in our history. For it will mean that the Commonwealth has become in solid fact a world society, linking Asia and Europe in one communion of freedom. — The Round Table, London.

RIDES FOR SOLDIERS

The Ontario Command of the Canadian Legion has undertaken a campaign to get motorists to give rides to men who are serving their country. "Rides for Soldiers" stickers, (surmounted by the Legion badge), are being provided, and Captain Tom Magdery, the Provincial President, points out that "by displaying these stickers, car owners will be showing their appreciation and good will to the men in uniform, and their desire to help them on their way whenever possible, and that seating capacity is reserved for soldiers only."

As Captain Magdery points out, car owners will understand that in giving service men a ride, overcrowding should be avoided and only the seating capacity available utilized. Another primary and important reason for the use of "Rides for Soldiers" stickers was the hope that, but the majority of cars carrying them, more cars would be available, and there would consequently be no necessity for overcrowding.

Giving rides to soldiers tramping our highways and looking for a lift while on their brief leave is the least all citizens with cars — ex-servicemen and civilians alike — can do to help the lads on active service. — The Legionary.

IT HURTS

It hurts. This increasing importation of fresh fruits and vegetables into Canada when this country is at war hurts. It hurts us, as a nation, at a time when our financial position was never more critical and yet, as a nation, we go about this business of buying more and more imported non-essentials although we preach, at the top of our voice, that we should conserve every cent to purchase and pay for the necessities of war.

The last monthly report to hand from the Dominion Department of Trade and Commerce is for the month of June. It records that the importations of fresh fruits into Canada for that month were valued at $4,043,000 as compared with $3,678,000 for the corresponding month last year. The increase is $365,000 or $100 for every day of the year.

If and when another big war loan comes up it is certain that Canadians will subscribe to this or any further war loans to the absolute limit of their ability. When it comes to the direct support of war financing, Canadians are 100 per cent willing and intelligent.

When it comes to indirect support of war financing, and it is distasteful to have to record this — the opposite is true.

What is wrong with us as a people when we reverse our attitude on exactly the same issue?

LASTING VALUE FOR THE MONEY

THE BALLAD OF THE JERVIS BAY

While roar the Roaring Forties—
While salt the ocean spray—
The tale will run of the raiding Hun
And the cruiser "Jervis Bay".

She was a one-time merchantman;
They fitted her out with guns.
The Atlantic roll was her patrol
To guard our ships from Huns.

Thirty-eight ships in the convoy
Plodding the long sea-swail
On that Autumn day when the Raider gray
Came up to them, throwing shell.

"Break formation—scatter!"
Signalled the Jervis Bay.
She laid her smoke and the convoy broke,
But the cruiser steamed away.

Straight for the battleship ahead,
As gay as for an outing.
Her ranging shells dug deep green wells
And sent salt water spouting.

Thundered the Raider's heavy guns
(So ranged, he can't be loser)
Four freighters sank, but to save his flank,
He turned on the spit-fire cruiser.

"Now, Raider, fight, for your eyes show white;
And I'm here to die today."
And the Jervis guns so laced the Huns
That the Raider left his prey.

He raked the cruiser fore and aft;
He split her shattered side.
Through the spray and smoke, his guns still spoke,
And the Jervis guns replied.

And so the Jervis Bay went down
Fighting at water-line
She had done her deed at the convoy's need,
And she found her grave in brine.

One ship came back—he could not flee—
The stout Swede, Cap. Olander.
They found some men, but never again
Was seen that brave commander.

Who steered for death, as for open strait,
And swung the great odds even.
Below he lies—shells on his eyes—
His soul escaped to Heaven.

This is the tale of the running fight
When the convoy got away—
We'll be better men if we think again
Of the gallant Jervis Bay.

Howe Holds First Place Lead

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP). — Howe, veteran Detroit Red forward, holds first place lead among National Hockey individual point-getters after three games during the week to break out of a three-point lead.

Statistics released today by President Calder show Howe placed second in the league with 15 points, ahead of Earl Ladd of the Chicago Black Hawks, with 14 points.

Howe fell from a first-place lead in a third-place tie with the Detroit Red Wings, when he was held pointless in the last game of the week. The Syl Apps of Toronto Leafs led into second place by scoring his point-total to eight with one goal. Tied with Allen and one point behind Apps is another Toronto player, Gordie Drillon.

Egan, rookie New York defenseman, is officially the most-played player with 15 minutes.

The Whites escaped with a 4-0 victory on carnival night, but since then the forward lines of both squads have been changed around. Jack Kilpatrick and Jackie Mann will be at centre and on left wing respectively for the Greens, but on the right flank will be Dave Hainey, starry ex-Junior Jerry Pettigrew and Len Bieknell will form the defence pair and Junior Mason the guard the twine.

Hustling Bob Proulx draws down the pivot berth for the Whites while Bus Algar moves back to leading where he proved so capable last Winter. On the other side of the ever-colorful and durable Red Carr, Syd Sturk will supply relief for the forwards. George Boothman and Nick Smith is the defence combination, with Jesse Seashy in goal.

The Junievels will be without Ernie Defeo, on the injured list as a bad hand, and he is the centre man of the first string. It is not certain whether Trummy Griffiths, who

First Air Graduates Arrive in Britain

By DOUGLAS AMARON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP Cable)—Eager to be posted to bomber stations so they "can take a business trip to Berlin," the first contingent of Canadian graduates of the Empire Air Training Scheme arrived in London today.

The smartly-uniformed air observers with the Canada tab on their blue coats were not adverse to accepting a week's leave, which they hope to get shortly, but made it known that they have come to England to fight.

"It's great to be here at last," said Sgt. Herb Eaton of Winnipeg. "We're here on business and the sooner they let us visit Berlin the better we'll like it."

The small group of Canada-trained fliers—all have the rank of sergeant or pilot officer—may have their wish fulfilled soon. The Air Ministry announced they were to be posted shortly for active service in the Royal Air Force.

The Canadians, who arrived at a West coast port over the weekend, are the vanguard of the Empire scheme graduates. From now on pilots, observers and air gunners will be arriving in the United Kingdom at frequent intervals in ever-increasing numbers.

The Atlantic crossing was uneventful though rather rough, said red-headed Sgt. Tom Royan of Calgary.

"Jerry didn't bother us at all," he commented. "In fact I think you people have been fooling us. We expected there would be air raids all the time and that we would find everything in ruins. So far we haven't heard a siren and we're still looking for ruins."

Sgt. Jack Smith of Toronto said he understood the Germans claimed they had sunk them en route and that they had been taken prisoners. Well, you can say we're safe and you can say the same thing after the first flight to Berlin," Smith added.

The party was in charge of PO John Gellner, a Czechoslovakian who went to Canada after the outbreak of war and received an air training commission there.

PO. R. W. Alexander of London, Ont., was anxious to see England and London and other boys wanted to know where they could find Canadian Air Force and army units so they can deliver messages from home.

As members of the R.A.F. the Canadians will receive R.A.F. pay while in England but the Canadian Government makes up the difference between it and the R.C.A.F. pay and credits it to their accounts in Canada.

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP)—The first Canadian graduates of the British Empire Air Training Plan who arrived at a Northwest England port during the weekend left Ottawa on a November Friday, eager to get overseas and get into the war.

The men came from schools scattered throughout the country. They kept in trim at the air force station here for two or three days and then left Ottawa in two special cars for the seaboard.

Before they reached Ottawa each member of the party had had a chance to go home and say farewell to his own people. Only three of them had friends at the station to see them off.

One of the group of air observers was Jim Jepson of Atlantic City, N. J. He stood on the steps on his railway car and told reporters, "I came up here to see whether this was a private war and found it wasn't."

Fleet Aircraft Plant Only Industry Complaining of Military Training

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP)—War Services Minister Gardiner told a Press Conference today that Fleet Aircraft Limited of Fort Erie, Ont., was the only industry which complained about its employees being called for compulsory military service.

He revealed that the President of that company, W. J. Sanderson, in the man referred to in the House of Commons last week when Mr. Gardiner said that one factory manager had objected to employees being called for training.

The Minister told newspapermen today that in common with other industries Fleet Aircraft was asked to submit a plan by which those of its employees eligible for training could be called without interfering with production.

The company did not submit a plan but sent a letter stating that the danger of retraining production of aircraft by calling up men was great.

Mr. Gardiner said he had instructed the board to call the men they required from the Fleet staff and the board had called seven out of the 20 it was first proposed to call. The company, Mr. Gardiner said he was informed, employed about 240 men on the outbreak of war, had increased its staff to 1,000 and proposed to employ 4,000 more.

"So far as I know," said the Minister, "this is the only firm which did not submit a plan and which has complained."

The Minister reviewed reports on the postponement of training for men engaged in war industries by administrative divisions across the country.

In Division D, Port Arthur, for both October and November calls two companies asked for and obtained seven postponements.

In Division J, Winnipeg, on both October and November calls 13 firms submitted plans affecting 132 men. The plans were accepted and there were no complaints.

In Division K, Vancouver, 28 industries applied for postponements for 82 men of which 61 were granted.

No requests for postponements by industries were made in Divisions G, Halifax; I, Charlottetown, or M, Regina.

"The position I take," said Mr. Gardiner, "is that when we set up this plan of training there was considerable discussion of what provision should be made for industry. We finally entered into an arrangement with industry, whereby each industry would submit a plan under which they considered their men could be called without interfering unduly with production."

"Satisfactory arrangements have been made in all districts and there are very few individuals complaining so far as we know," he said.

Mr. Gardiner said there was no conflict of view between himself and Defence Minister Ralston on the question of military training.

Both he and Col. Ralston felt it would be necessary to give more intensive training to a greater number of men in the future if the war was to be won.

"Col. Ralston has indicated certain methods of obtaining men may be helpful to industry," said Mr. Gardiner. "So far as this department is concerned when the Defence Department has determined on any training program and how many men they desire to train under the plan for a certain period of time it is our duty to provide the men."

It was possible young men could serve best both in the armed forces and in industry. On the other hand it was obvious older men and women could not serve in one of these capacities—the army.

The tabulation of results of the national registration now proceeding might indicate ways in which Canada's labor supply could be adjusted, the minister said. He felt there were still very considerable reserves of labor in the country although there might be shortages or prospective shortages in some areas.

The total cost of national registration last August would be under $1,000,000, the minister said. This was less than was expected and due to the large number of persons who gave their services voluntarily.

Employee Mentioned in Dies White Paper Loses Job on Paper

CINCINNATI, Nov. 25 (AP)—On the heels of a Dies Committee report that an employee attempted to obtain for the paper free use of an alleged German propaganda service, the Cincinnati Free Press, German language daily, today announced his dismissal "due to Un-American connections."

The Dies Committee's white paper said Ludwig Schmitt, employed as a translator, had written to K. Kupp, German Consul at Cleveland, asking that Kupp use his influence on behalf of the paper with Trans-Ocean News Service, New York.

Beecham Repeats Australian Remark

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (CP)—Sir Thomas Beecham, noted conductor of the London Philharmonic Orchestra, has thought over the remark that caused such a furor on his recent trip through Australia, but he is still of the opinion that "Australia's contribution to the musical, literary and artistic sum of the world has been nil."

In fact, he added to it when he arrived here during the weekend. "Australians have invented nothing, written nothing, painted nothing or composed nothing," Sir Thomas said last night.

He said, also, that he wished he had never gone to Australia where, he added, he was criticised steadily for three months and received 250 letters, none of which was complimentary.

One Nazi Warship Sinks 90,000 Tons of Enemy Shipping

BERLIN, Nov. 25 (AP)—The German High Command issued the following communique Monday: "One of our warships operating in overseas waters reported sinking 90,000 tons of enemy shipping space as a total result of her activity up to date."

(No comment was forthcoming from the British Admiralty on this claim.)

"The Air Force's retaliatory attacks against London continued on the night of Nov. 23-24. Battersea, Southwark and other sections of the city were targets of successful bombings."

"Furthermore, numerous German combat squadrons, as previously reported, bombed Southampton with all caliber in ceaseless attacks. Tremendous fires flared in the harbor and industrial plants which were visible far into France. Several war vital objectives on the English West and South coasts were successfully bombed. Mining of the British coast continued."

Last night British planes dropped bombs in Northern Germany without noticeable success. The report of the British Information Ministry that British planes bombed Berlin railway stations the night of Nov. 23-24 is false. Not one single enemy plane crossed Berlin that night.

(Shipyards and industrial plants at Hamburg, a chemical factory at Hamburg and the Altona Gas Works were among the R.A.F.'s objectives.)

"One British plane was downed in an air fight. Three German planes are missing."

Italian Ship Bursts Into Flames After Bombing Attack

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 25 (CP)—A British bombing attack on Durak, a point of entry for supplies going to Italian forces in Albania, was credited today with making direct hits on a 10,000-ton vessel and on a small ship which burst into flames.

(The Italian High Command today acknowledged a raid on the port, but claimed only "light damage" was done.)

The attack, made yesterday despite heavy ground fire, was directed at shipping, quays, jetties and harbor buildings, said a Royal Air Force communique. One plane failed to return.

Okanagan Leaders Describe Fruit Situation as Far From Gloomy One

Export Market Seems Gone but Domestic Is Brighter

PENTICTON, B.C.—The fruit picture is far from an entirely gloomy one. Local leaders of the industry are of the opinion that the movement is better than was expected earlier in the season, and the clearance on all varieties is quite good.

Generally speaking, the market is the up-grade, it is reported, and prices are rising rather than lower. It is also reported that buyers are "receptive," which is taken as a further hopeful sign.

Packing ceased in local houses this week, but may be resumed in a short time, according to indications. Lack of cold storage space is said to be a factor in the shutdown.

EXPORT RATE CONTINUES

Continuation by the railways of a lower rate for fruit to Western Canada markets from November 30 to March 31, 1931, was announced by B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., following receipt of a joint wire from chiefs of the C.P.R. and C.N.R. freight departments in Montreal. S. E. Effers, and G. R. Fairhead, respectively. This means that the $1.13 rate reduction to $1 for Saskatchewan and Manitoba markets will be continued at the deadline date earlier this season. Other rates are reduced accordingly to Western Canada markets. It is stated, as Alberta and Saskatchewan rates are lower than the $1.13 standard to the Eastern portions of the prairie.

"We appreciate the reduction on a part of the railways," declared K. Lloyd, "but, even at that, paying fifty cents per box to ship fruit to Saskatchewan does not seem sensible."

FRESH APPLE EXPORT

KELOWNA, B.C.—Although H. G. Gardiner, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, on his return to Canada from a conference with the British Food Control Board, announced widespread gains for certain commodities in their export to markets of the British Isles, he has been no mention of any visible export of fresh apples to Great Britain this season.

It is anticipated that Okanagan processing plants will benefit from the order for dried apples to the value of $1,750,000, which Canada has agreed to supply the United Kingdom, but there has been no mention of any export of fresh apples.

DOMESTIC OUTLOOK

"It would appear now that there is little likelihood of any export market developing to the Old Country," declared A. K. Loyd, General Manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd.

On the other hand, Mr. Loyd was optimistic regarding the domestic outlook. British Columbia apples are selling on a rising market and last week further price advances were enforced. It would appear that further increases in prices will take place from time to time, as conditions improve.

Optimism on the prairies regarding the successful disposal of the wheat stored in temporary bins by the farmers, in the near future, has been on factor in providing a ready sale for Okanagan and Kootenay apples.

Toronto Prices Remain Firm

TORONTO, Nov. 25 (CP)—Except for good action in several of the penny goods Toronto stock market was dull today but prices were firm. Oils were steady to strong. The market was a bit stronger for Preston, Powell, Rouyn, McKenzie, Aunor, Pamour, Macassa and Wright-Hargreaves. Nickel weakened ½ and Steel Rock, Sherbrooke and Pend Oreille were narrowly higher. Royalty lost ground and Highwood-Sarcee dropped 2 to 3 while Home Oil advanced 3 to 2.53.

$16,900,000 in Gold Is Produced in Sept.

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP)—Canadian production of gold totalled $16,900,000 in September compared with $16,225,000 in the previous month and $17,942,500 in the same month last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Output in the nine months ended Sept. 31, totalled $153,341,000, valued at $151,510,828 against 1,501,700 ounces valued at $154,425,588 in the same period last year, the report showed.

Wall St. Falls Off After Opening With Activity

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—Efforts to instill a little rallying vim in today's stock market were partially successful. Dealings reverted to sluggishness after a fair amount of opening activity and transfers were around 500,000 shares, smallest turnover for a full session in about a month.

A tinge of pessimism was seen in the announcement of a Stock Exchange membership sale for $34,000, off $60,000 at a new low since 1914 when the price was duplicated.

Chicago Prices Drop After Earlier Rise

CHICAGO, Nov. 25 (AP)—Backsliding down after an early rise, wheat prices today closed fractionally lower in action which largely paralleled a setback in securities. While traders watched the action of stocks for a cue to financial circles' interpretation of European developments many dealers expressed dissatisfaction with lagging domestic demand for flour, which has limited buying of wheat on the part of milling interests.

Petroleum Sales Up

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP)—Gross selling value of petroleum products in Canada totalled $104,578,517 in 1930 compared with $97,033,248 in 1929, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Good Ore at Gold Belt Continues

Gold Belt Gold Mines, Ltd., Sheep Creek, continues in good ore, according to advices from M. O'Donnell, Mine Manager.

Mr. O'Donnell reports that the 3500 vein has been drifted on Easterly on the 14 level for 178 feet. The first 74 feet were in argillite. From that point on to 134 feet the vein averaged 2.4 feet in width, assaying 37.4 ounces of gold.

From 134 feet to 178 feet the average over four feet assayed 1.72 ounces.

"This gives an ore shoot of 102 feet averaging 3.1 feet in width, assaying 1.12 ounces gold," states Mr. O'Donnell.

Gold Belt's present development campaign followed diamond drilling which supported the theory that a heavy quartzite formation at depth would make stronger and larger ore-bodies.

U.S. STARTS NATIONWIDE FOOD SUPPLY INQUIRY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (AP)—The Justice Department made the United States' food supply a subject of investigation today, with the twofold objective of establishing whether present prices were fair to both consumer and producer.

Evidence existed, the Department said, that "the food industries function badly for both consumers and farmers." If such is proved to be the case, lower food costs to consumers and increased farmer income should result.

New Knob Hill Mill Treating Refractory Ore

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 25 — The large flotation plant of the Knob Hill Company at Republic, Ferry County, was started on a scheduled operation a month and a week after its construction was started. It is reported.

The equipment of the plant and its facilities enable the company to treat refractory ore, of which it has great quantities. The concentrate produced is of a grade a little better than the metallurgical tests indicated.

It is reported that 30 tons of concentrate is being produced daily. It is said to contain a little more than 350 a ton, which is slightly better than had been expected. The values are chiefly in gold.

NEW EQUIPMENT

The change of equipment was made under the supervision of F. M. Mitchell, General Superintendent, who obtained the metallurgical results he wanted. This was done with six 14 by 14-inch new style flotation machines with motors. Also, with one 20 by 8-foot heavy duty concentrate thickener, a two-inch diaphragm pump and a six-foot eight-lift filter.

All of the units have individual motor drives. The plant has the ability to work a large body of refractory ore which it could not work before. The tonnage dressed is about the same as before the change.

British Gov't's Gain

LONDON, Nov. 25 (AP)—British Government bonds slanted upward after early hesitation today in the securities market but elsewhere the price changes were narrowly irregular.

Several leaders dipped a few pence but most stayed at the previous close. Selected domestic rails declined.

Oils remained on a firm price footing and diamond stocks attracted further support.

Fifteen New Canadian Plants Manufacture Wartime Chemicals

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP)—Production of high explosives and "propellants" in Canada now exceeds one-third of the full output scheduled to be available by the middle of 1941, the Department of Munitions and Supply announced today.

"The manufacture of explosives and chemicals for war purposes has enabled the construction in Canada of 15 plants, several of which are comparable in magnitude to anything of a similar nature in the Empire today," a department statement said.

"Rapid progress has been made in this program, and more than 10,000 men are employed on construction."

"Two new plants are in production. One devoted to the manufacture of trinitrotoluene (TNT), already is attaining its capacity output of this important high explosive. Sufficient rifle cordite is being made to meet present needs, and production of cannon cordite, the propellant explosive for shells, will be started in January. The second plant, 'some where in Quebec,' began full operation last week. It will manufacture hexachlorothene, a chemical for making smoke screens."

"The present chemical and explosive program will provide all the necessary materials to fill all shells, bombs and mines which will be made in Canada, and it will also permit the export of large quantities of explosives and chemicals overseas, or to the United States, for shell filling purposes there. All projects should be complete and in production by next July."

Administration and supervision of 14 explosive, chemical and other similar projects are handled by Allied War Supplies Corporation, a Government-owned and controlled company. Total investment in the projects is about $80,000,000, the major part of which has been financed by Great Britain.

In another statement, Munitions Minister Howe said deliveries of single-engine training planes for the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan will be completed about 15 months ahead of schedule. Production which was originally expected to take 25 months will be completed in 10 months, he said.

A third statement said orders will be placed shortly for 40 more craft in the Department's small boat construction program. The orders include refueling scows, aircraft tenders, bomb-loading dinghies, flat scows, and derrick scows.

Grandview Mill to Be Stepped Up

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 25—A set of rolls, a screen and an elevator have been installed in the Grandview mill at Metaline Falls, according to Dale I. Hayes, Western Manager of the American Zinc, Lead & Smelting Company. The purpose is to reduce the size of the feed from 4 to ½ of an inch.

This change will increase the capacity of the mill 440 to 500 per cent. It was made that production from the Grandview mine might be increased.

The two mines together (including Metaline M. and L.) are producing 450 to 500 tons of ore daily on a six-day week basis, he revealed. The ore contains zinc and lead.

Bank of Commerce Assets 700 Million

TORONTO, Nov. 25—Continued strength in its general position and greater activity in its commercial departments characterize the annual financial statement of The Canadian Bank of Commerce as at 31st October. Total assets are shown as $704,486,000, as compared with $745,651,000 on 31st October last year, of which quick assets aggregated over $365,000,000 including $119,000,000 in cash and cash items. Net profits were slightly greater, after providing for Dominion and Provincial Government taxes of $1,525,000, about 54 per cent higher than in the previous fiscal year.

On the liability side note circulation was $17,100,000, $1,231,000 above last year due to rising general business throughout the country and the greater need for currency. Total deposits of $815,074,000 were about $47,000,000 below 31st October, 1929, accounted for partly by a decline in balances due to the Dominion Government which were abnormally large a year earlier, $50,900,000 as compared with $28,767,000 this year. Provincial Government deposits rose from $13,876,000 to $17,327,000. Subscriptions by savings bank depositors to the two Dominion Government war loans caused a decline of nearly $26,000,000 in deposits by the public bearing interest which stood at $348,805,000. Balances due to other banks in Canada and abroad declined by $1,187,000 to $8,822,000. Total liabilities to the public were $653,078,000, as compared with $694,256,000 in October, 1929.

Total quick assets of over $365,000,000 were the equivalent of 60.63 per cent of total liabilities to the public. Included in the cash and cash items of $119,122,000, were notes of the Bank of Canada of $14,159,000 and deposits with that institution of over $48,000,000, as well as $20,000,000 in Government and other bank notes and cheques on other banks. Also included in the cash account were balances due by banks and banking correspondents outside Canada amounting to $34,226,000.

Security holdings of $258,238,000 made up most of the remaining items in the quick assets. These securities holdings were lower than last year owing to the retirement of maturing bonds and the sales of other securities in order to provide for the increase in the Bank's lending activities and for withdrawals of savings deposits for subscriptions to the Government's war loans, Dominion and Provincial Government bonds maturing within two years stood at $101,393,000, as compared with $118,805,000 in October, 1929, but a smaller decline occurred in securities of this class of more than two years' term, from $118,195,000 to $107,881,000. Canadian municipal securities were $8,661,000, as compared with $9,590,000; public securities, other than Canadian, $20,943,000, against $31,082,000 and sundry securities $19,359,000 in comparison with $25,107,000. Call loans in Canada and elsewhere declined owing to the inactive stock market conditions, advances of this kind in Canada falling by $2,919,000 to $2,766,000 and elsewhere by $2,476,000 to $7,859,000.

Current loans in Canada at $219,947,000 were $18,172,000 above those of October, 1929. Loans to Provincial Governments also rose from $8,205,000 to $9,892,000, but loans to municipal and school authorities dropped by $3,549,000 to $17,130,000 and current loans outside Canada by $3,380,000 to $17,211,000. Acceptances and Letters of Credit for customers' account increased by $5,235,000 to $20,443,000.

Net profits for the 12 months, $3,008,035, after deducting the Dominion and Provincial taxes shown above were disbursed as follows: $2,400,000 dividends, $253,831 transferred to the Staff Pension Fund, and $350,000 written off Bank Premises, leaving a balance to be carried forward to next year of $785,000.

Gains in Majority in New York Trade

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 (AP)—The bonds of utilities and communications companies gave an upward slant to an otherwise irregular market today.

Gains were in the majority in light trading.

U.S. Governments inclined mildly upward.

Foreign dollar loans received little attention.

Vancouver Gains

VANCOUVER, Nov. 25 (CP).—Prices were slightly higher as trading continued quiet on Vancouver Stock Exchange today. Transactions totalled 10,100 shares.

Among the gold issues Hedley Masco at 58 and Island Mountain at 90 both advanced 3 from Saturday's closing bids. Gold Belt at 28 and Sheep Creek at 95 both firmed 2 cent while Privateer was down 2 at 58.

In the oils Foothills at 80 gained 5 from Saturday's bid and Anglo-Canadian was up 2 at 62 while Home remained unchanged at 235.

Mining Men Name Disadvantages of Smelter at Coast

VICTORIA, Nov. 25 (CP)—Leaders in British Columbia's base metal industry told the Mines Committee of the Legislature today that the smelting block to a smelter at the Coast can be summed up briefly—lack of a steady supply of ores over a long enough period to amortize the cost.

"Personally I cannot see where the tonnage is coming from to supply a smelter on the Coast. Britannia is definitely over the hump as far as its present operation is concerned," said C. P. Browning, head of the Britannia Mining & Smelting Company on Howe Sound.

A. S. Bailey, Vice-President and General Manager of Granby Consolidated, said his company had already laid the groundwork for a smelter at Allenby.

James Buchanan, of Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company, said his firm wouldn't be interested in a Coast copper smelter unless the copper prices were at least 15 cents a pound higher than it is now.

Mr. Browning summed up for the Committee the ore that might be available to a Coast smelter from the present operating properties. In the final analysis it boiled down to the available reserves at Britannia, which did not have a long enough life ahead to amortize the cost of building a smelter.

C. M. Campbell, Vancouver Mining Engineer, long an advocate of a Coast smelter, maintained that if nothing were done now, B. C. mining industry faced a desperate position.

He said the Government could subsidize the mining industry just as it subsidized farmers and other lines of endeavor, by assisting with smelter construction.

He said the Province was losing $5,000,000 annually in treatment costs for ores going South of the line.

He urged the Government to foster every line of the metal trade, arrange to get ores from other countries if necessary, and "to mine, refine and fabricate everything from ore to watchspring."

Few Sales on 'Peg' Wheat Exchange

WINNIPEG, Nov. 25 (CP)—Trading was almost at a standstill for the major part of the session today on Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

The price trend was narrow and few sales were recorded. At the close wheat futures were ¼ cent lower, December at 72½, May 70½ and July 71½.

Prices showed only fractional changes throughout the day. Mills offered minor support early in the session, but this was offset by scattered selling by Southern houses.

No export business was reported, although there was a suggestion of light trade in domestic flour.

In the coarse grains market mills sought oats, but sales were not heavy. Routine spreading was reported in barley while there was some investment business in flax and rye. The price range was narrow.

Asks American Workers to Speed Arms Production

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 25 (AP).—Sir Walter Cline, Executive Secretary of the British Trades Union Congress, told the American Federation of Labor here today that American workers by speeding arms production, could "conquer the Nazis without firing a shot."

The Executive of the British organization which is analogous to the A. F. of L. told of sacrifices by British labor for the war effort, and said the people had pledged their determination to "carry on until the dictators are destroyed."

"The only thing dictators fear is force," he declared, "and if you can hasten the process of producing force you will serve humanity."

"We need planes, planes and more planes. The British Navy may be the first line of defence for America but I want you to make the first line of defence for all democracy in your workshops."

Responding to Sir Walter's address, William Green, President of the A. F. of L., declared:

"We must place our profound duties in the factories and produce as never before, so that our friends may win this battle."

Champ Aces Win First of Season

After winning the Nelson ladies' basketball championship last season as they have for many seasons past, the Aces have found it tough to get rolling this season. But Monday night at the Civic Centre, aided by seven points by last year's scoring queen, Isabel (Red) Donovan, they handed the Rookies their first reverse in three league starts by 11-8.

The Aces were on the short end of the score as the teams went into the last quarter, but then they scored the only two baskets of the quarter to swing things their way.

Score by quarters:
Aces 0 2 7 2-11
Rookies 2 0 6 0-8

Lineups with scores follow:
Aces—Isabel Donovan 7, Mary DePuppo, Louis Coletti 2, Frances McMullin 2 and Vera Matheson.
Rookies — Phyllis Wallace 4, Deanne Wallace, Doreen Long 4, Marjorie Todd and Eileen Herridge. Ward Redshaw was scorer and timekeeper.

Kootenay Contributing Heavily to Enlistments but No Troops in the District, No War Orders—McGrath

Firms Ready Compete on Cost Basis He Tells House

VICTORIA, B. C. — Arnold McGrath, Member for Cranbrook, speaking in the debate on the budget complained that "despite the large numbers in Active Service and the growing number of enlistments every day from the Kootenays, there is no concentration of troops at any point in that large area."

The same condition prevailed in respect to orders for war materials. So far these orders were being placed with firms in the larger centres.

The Kootenays had the resources, the facilities and the factories to produce many vital war needs, declared Mr. McGrath, and an effort should be made by this Province's representative, recently stationed at Ottawa, to bring about a more equitable distribution of this work.

It would improve local conditions and alleviate unemployment in the interior, and would result in a healthier and happier condition for the Province as a whole, Mr. McGrath went on, pointing out that interior firms were ready to compete on a cost basis.

Speaking of a land settlement scheme, the Cranbrook Member asserted there was general agreement that the Province would welcome more settlers. He also said that admission should not be refused to

Britain Develops New Type of Army and Air Command

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP).—Britain is developing a new type of army cooperation plans which air experts said today will make the German dive bombers that pulverized resistance in France and Flanders, look obsolete.

Taking a leaf from the German book, Britain had made elaborate plans for coordinating work of the air force and army in land operations, looking forward to the day when the offensive can be taken.

The new Army Cooperation Command will be under Air Marshal A. S. Barratt who commanded the R. A. F. in France last Winter and Spring.

Working on the theory that joint action between land forces and air forces is here to stay, the new command will have an elaborate set-up. In its essence it will be a joint force of airmen and soldiers subject to the Royal Air Force for training but under the operating control of the army during battle.

The object of the new command is to bring into harmonious cooperation the land and air forces so that one central authority will control them during battle. It is axiomatic under modern war conditions that control of the air, even if local, must be obtained before land forces can advance.

Using the Junkers-87 plane developed in 1933 the Germans smashed French resistance by coordinating the tank and dive bomber. British authorities, realizing the JU-87 was extremely vulnerable to ground defence and fighter planes, are developing an army cooperation plane of their own which they claim is the most modern type in the world, combining speed and manoeuvrability with adequate armor.

It will be the duty of the Army Cooperation Command to train two forces in joint operations. Not only will each corps commander as at present have his own Army Cooperation Squadron for artillery spotting and general observation, but he will be able to whistle up fighters and bombers to cooperate with his forces as the battle progresses.

It will be the duty of the fighters to clear the skies of enemy machines and of the bombers to blast obstacles from the path of the tanks and infantry. The bombers will be regarded in terms of artillery as long as the battle is one of movement. When the battle becomes static and static, guns will supply the barrage.

Behind this general set up will be Air Marshal Barratt and the army officers working with him. He will be setting under the general orders of the Army Command who alone will have complete control of the joint forces.

URGES EARLY PLANNING OF TAX PAYMENTS

HALIFAX, Nov. 25 (CP).—Canadians who wait until the April 30 deadline to do their income tax figuring may be in for a shock, according to Revenue Minister C. W. G. Gibson. The Minister, in Halifax today on an inspection trip, said taxpayers should begin planning their payments now if they don't want the April bankroll to take a heavy blow.

Kootenay Contributing Heavily to Enlistments but No Troops in the District, No War Orders—McGrath

those who might come to escape conditions in the war-torn lands of Europe. At the same time he cautioned against settling people who might become a charge on the Province and advocated a careful survey before placing people on the land.

"Only two per cent of the land area of our Province is irrigable and we don't want to place farmers on the land if they are going to require relief or road work in order to live," he said. "Too often in the past, when immigrants have come to this land, they have been allowed to take the better jobs in the country and our own people have been pushed back to do the pioneering. Any immigration which would be the detriment of our own people should be opposed."

Mr. McGrath congratulated the Minister of Finance on his fifteenth birthday, the first balanced budget in many years and the only balanced budget in Canada at the present time. Full provision had been made for debt retirement and the continuance of necessary social services, indicating that this Province had been rescued from its financial difficulties and placed on a sound foundation for the future.

He declared that the people did not want services in the interests of health, welfare and education reduced nor B. C. standards, which had taken so long to attain, lowered in any way.

Battle Dress of Canadian Troops an Amazing Garment

When Johnny, the Soldier Boy, goes marching past, take a second look at his battle dress. It is an amazing garment. There is more to it than appears on the surface. It is the most scientifically-built soldier's uniform which ever covered a fighting man.

Battle dress is made of drab serge which weighs between 21 and 22 ounces to the yard. The average soldier requires 3 1/4 yards. With this must go 2 1/2 yards of lining, two rubber and 38 metal buttons and two pairs of hooks and eyes. Then there is collar canvas, thread, and a few other odds and ends to make it complete. The suit weighs from 4 to 4 1/2 pounds, depending upon the size, and in the Canadian army there are 21 sizes to fit soldiers of every height, weight and shape.

A finished suit contains 99 pieces of cloth and lining, 46 in the tunic, 53 in the pants. There are just 120 operations in the making of a uniform... and the tasks of sewing on 40 buttons is classed as but one operation. All buttons are concealed. This serves the dual purpose of eliminating the chance that a gleaming button might reveal the position of a soldier in action, and of doing away with the arduous task of button cleaning.

Apple Industry Means $90,000 to $100,000 a Year to Kootenay and Arrow Lakes Foxall Tells Rotary

Farmers Ready to Aid in Canada's War Effort

The apple industry means $90,000 to $100,000 a year to the Kootenay and Arrow Lakes district. Labor in preparing them for market represents $16,000.

Box manufacturers and mills receive $13,500 for containers. Nails—over 3,200,000 are used—cost $500.

Power for the cold storage at the Nelson plant costs $400 to $500 a year.

Paper mills receive $3000. Freight amounts to approximately $30,000 a year.

These figures were given to the Nelson Rotary Club, at its luncheon at the Hume Monday, by Robert Foxall, Manager of Nelson Sub-Central of the Associated Growers of British Columbia. H. W. Robertson, President, was in the chair.

Presenting a "Do You Know?" talk, Mr. Foxall described the place of the fruit industry, particularly apples, in the business life of the district. He asserted the farming industry was "the most important in this or any other country." Improvement of farm income would benefit the whole country.

HIGH QUALITY

Evidence of the quality of Kootenay apples could be found in the fact that up to the outbreak of war the British Empire Exhibition sent to the Kootenay each year for 10 boxes of Cox Orange, best apples of this variety available in the Empire.

He described the necessity for proper storage temperatures for different varieties; correct picking to avoid damaging next year's fruit buds and also to assure the best quality of the fruit picked; and so on.

Each year wider fields for the apple were found. A few years ago German scientists upset the conception that apples should not be fed to babies when they used them to cure stomach troubles of infants. Actually, from the health standpoint, the apple had greater value than many other fruits.

APPLE JUICE, APPLE BUTTER

Apple juice, one of the newer products available as a result of scientific development, now was packed to suit varying tastes. Various means were being developed to use surplus, not necessarily culls. Some canners were packing apple butter.

In spite of the war B. C. apples were finding their way to many quarters of the globe, Mr. Foxall stated. Only gift boxes for soldiers were going to England, unfortunately, but apples were reaching South Africa, South America, Singapore, the Malay States, India and other countries.

Mr. Foxall pointed out that market demands varied. In London better prices could be obtained than in Glasgow for 180's and smaller; while at Glasgow better prices than in London were obtainable for 180's and larger. The St. Louis market would pay only 90 cents for Golden Delicious that were yellow in color, since buyers wanted them green; but at New York $1.35 was obtained for the yellow apple. Montreal called for smaller sizes than Western markets.

To eat apples was to assist Canada's war effort, Mr. Foxall declared. He anticipated, before long, restricted import of fruits from other countries.

Canada could produce all its own small fruits; Kootenay and Okanagan cherries were "the finest in the world"; peaches, pears, apricots, apples and crabapples were being produced in quantity; cantaloup and watermelon were grown in the Okanagan; vegetable and fruit juices were being packed.

FARMER IS PREPARED
"The farmer is prepared to do anything he can to fill any of the gaps caused by the necessities of war," declared the speaker.
Thanking Mr. Foxall, J. R. McLennan expressed the opinion it would not be long until "we have to use B. C. fruits to a much greater extent."

G. A. Hoover stated the Fruit and Vegetable Jobbers' Association of Canada, following a meeting with Government officials, issued a request that purchases of various lines of fruit and vegetables outside of Canada should be discontinued voluntarily. This request reached him only Monday. It indicated that importers are willing to do their part without waiting for imposed restrictions.

Replying to J. A. Ferguson's question as to the net returns received by apple growers, Mr. Foxall stated "they are not enough to pay the costs of production if costs are figured as in other businesses."

WORKERS DEMAND HIGHER WAGES
LONDON, Nov. 25 (CP).—Workers are demanding higher wages to meet the higher cost of living.

The Confederation of Engineering and Shipbuilding unions, comprising about 40 organizations, has decided to ask the Labor Ministry to set up a special tribunal for dealing with demands for a 10-shilling—$2.20—increase a week on both the engineering and shipbuilding sides. Such a tribunal would supersede the existing National Arbitration Tribunal.

The governing body of the Amalgamated Engineering Union has been summoned to meet at Southport Thursday to decide its course in the face of refusal of employers to grant a three pence—about six cents—an-hour increase on basic rates and restoration of pre-June 1931 working conditions.

Three railway trade unions shortly will place before the railway companies a uniform claim for further wage increases, the exact amounts of which have not been disclosed but which are expected to be between five and 10 shillings a week.

Employers refusing workers' demands have argued that increased wages would mean a still higher cost of living, thus nullifying the wage increases.

Tories Top Trail Girls' Hoop League

TRAIL, B. C., Nov. 25—With three wins and one loss, the Tories head the Girls' Basketball League in Trail. The Buddies, with a two win, two loss record, place second, and the Jummies, registering one win against three losses, are third.

Cases Adjudged in Trail Court

TRAIL, B. C., Nov. 25—Two cases were adjudged to Dec. 3 by Stipendiary Magistrate Parker Williams in Provincial Police Court Monday morning.

James Jenkins was charged with operating a vehicle with a faulty headlight and windshield wiper. Leo Koukolevsky was charged with operating a vehicle without proper headlights.

JAPAN PROTESTS ATTACK ON CIVILIANS IN BATAVIA

TOKYO, Nov. 25 (AP).—The Japanese Consul General in Batavia, Netherlands East Indies, protested today against an alleged assault by a policeman in which a Japanese resident in Batavia and his wife were reportedly seriously injured.

A foreign office spokesman said "Japan is keenly watching the attitude of the East Indies Government in this outrageous case."

PROMOTED TO COMMAND OF SYDNEY DEFENCE AREA

OTTAWA, Nov. 25 (CP).—Promotion of Lt.-Col. W. H. Dobbin, D.S.O., to the rank of Colonel and his appointment to command the Sydney and Canoe area defences in Nova Scotia, was announced at National Defence Headquarters today. Recently he has held permanent force artillery appointments at Halifax and Esquimaux, B. C.

War Equipment Results In Big Increase in Costs

GLASGOW, Nov. 25 (CP).—Describing this as the most costly war the world ever has known, Sir Kingsley Wood, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said today that Britain's average daily war expenditures had risen from £3,300,000 ($21,585,000) for the first year to £8,100,000 ($40,435,000) for the first 77 days of the second year.

Sir Kingsley, speaking at the opening of war weapons week in Glasgow, said the rise in expenditures was a cause for gratification "provided always that the increase means output and not merely senseless increases in prices or wages or wasteful use of resources."

The Chancellor explained that new and expensive weapons had resulted in the big increase of war costs.

"An airplane costs something like seven times as much as it did between 1914 and 1918," he said.

Referring to losses suffered by the Italian Air Force in the Battle of Britain, Sir Kingsley asserted that "an inferior airplane, as the Italians are discovering to their cost, is largely money thrown away."

Declaring that taxation in Britain "already has reached very considerable proportions," Sir Kingsley said that the gap between income and expenditure must be bridged by the people "saving every pound and every penny to the point of real sacrifice."

SHAKE ROOF UPON SHED IN ROSEMONT BURNS FIERCELY

"Shakes," forming the roof of a shed at the home of James Jenero, Rosemont, sent a brilliant glow into the sky as they burned fiercely Monday evening. The shed was filled with coal, wood and so on, but damage was confined to the upper section.

Although it was outside the City limits, the Nelson Fire Department fought the fire, laying 800 feet of hose to reach it.

It was estimated it would cost $10 to replace the roof.

Three Fires in Week Due Ashes in Paper Boxes

Three fires caused by hot ashes placed in paper cartons were extinguished by the Nelson Fire Department last week. In each case the damage was slight, the heaviest being $5 at the home of James Livesley, 604 Fifth Street, Saturday night.

Fire Chief G. A. McDonald stated that under the terms of all fire insurance policies, insurance could not be collected for fire damage due to ashes being placed in paper or wooden containers.

In the case of the Livesley fire, third of the week, the ashes were in a paper carton on a verandah.
