BRITISH HOLDING AGAINST NEW JAP DRIVE

ENTIRE GERMAN CRIMEA ARMY IS THREATENED

Russ Smash Forward in Every Vital Area

MESHCHOVSK IN NORTH IS RETAKEN

By ALFRED E. WALL (Associated Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, Jan. 7 (AP)—Russian forces threatened the entire surviving German army of the Crimea tonight, and smashed forward in every vital area along a vast battle line extending to the far Northern Finnish front.

In the Crimea, the Soviet garrison of the Black Sea naval base of Sevastopol, formerly a city under German siege, had been converted into a central offensive body which in cooperation with Soviet forces landed North and South of the city was moving toward envelopment of the Nazis.

An operation similar to that which already had cleared the Kerch Peninsula—Crimea's Eastern extremity—appeared to be in motion.

Strongest of current Russian thrusts was developing from the area of their Northernmost landing on Crimea about Yevpatryevka, some 40 miles North of Sevastopol—and there heavy fighting was reported with Nazi troops hurled Northward from Sevastopol itself.

From Feodosiya, which stands in Eastern Crimea in the area of the junction of the main Peninsula with Kerch, a second Russian offensive was driving Westward.

The second most active theatre of the day was in the Ukraine where the upper column of the Russian armies of the South was reaching out for Kharkov, the great industrial centre whose recapture would put Marshal Timoshenko a long way forward in his campaign for the restoration of all the Ukraine.

There were reports the main Russian force had pushed forward to within 30 miles of Kharkov on the East. While there was no specific confirmation of this, the German communiqué acknowledged a "local breach" in the Nazi lines Northeast of the city.

On the Russian centre before Moscow where the imprisonment of the main Nazi stronghold of Moshensk 37 miles West of the capital, was being attempted—Soviet reports told of strong Red cavalry raids which forced the Germans to weaken their front lines to protect rearward communications.

In the far North, the Finns themselves announced Russian forces had penetrated the Finnish lines North of Lake Onega in an offensive that remains unaltered.

From Stockholm it was reported a major battle had been raging for four days in the Southern sector of the Finnish front in Eastern Karelia. The Russians, it was added, were hurling battle after battle into the struggle and for the first time in some months had considerable armored forces at hand.

MOSCOW, Jan. 8 (Thursday) (AP)—The Russians announced today the recapture of Meshchovsk, only 40 miles short of the Vyasma-Bryansk German Winter defense line, and also said that five Nazi companies had been annihilated in the Southwestern front.

The retaking of Meshchovsk 40 miles Southwest of Kaluga, represented a Red Army advance of at least 120 miles since the big Soviet counter-offensive got under way East of Tula early last month.

Many Kootenay Men Overseas to Be Heard in Saturday Broadcast

VANCOUVER, Jan. 8 (CPI)—British Columbia members of Active Service Forces serving Overseas will send greetings to wives and others, brothers and sisters in a provincial Canadian Broadcasting Corporation network starting at 11 p.m. PST Saturday.

The men who will be heard on the broadcast are members of two different units now stationed in the United Kingdom.

Names of those who will be heard and their homes include: Gnr. Hughes, Gnr. Leo Powers, Gnr. F. C. Waller, Gnr. Max Kas-

SAYS JAP FLEET IS FIGHTING U.S. FLEET

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System reported late today it had heard the Tokyo Radio quoting the Navy section of Imperial Headquarters as saying, "The Japanese Fleet is fighting the United States Fleet in the Pacific."

The CBS said the broadcast added that British forces also were involved and that the engagement was in "the Western Pacific."

RUTHLESS RAIDS ON LUZON TOWNS MADE BY JAPS

Corregidor Suffering Continuous Air Attacks

HEAVY FIGHTING ON WHOLE FRONT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—The United States War Department said today Gen. Douglas MacArthur had received reports of wide-spread damage to defenceless towns in Luzon by Japanese air raiders.

"Mercilessly bombed," the War Department said, were the Philippine towns of Baler, Santa Rosa, Calamba, and Tarlac.

These towns, all in Northern Luzon, were "completely raided" and many natives were said to have been killed.

In other towns of Luzon—Arayat, Camiling, and San Fernando—civilians were machine-gunned in the streets, the department said in a communiqué late in the day.

It added that Japanese apparently chose Sundays and religious holidays for their blasting with the knowledge that great numbers of people would be attending church or on the streets.

"The first attack was made on Sunday, Dec. 7, and on each subsequent Sunday and on Christmas and New Year's day enemy air attacks have been particularly heavy," the communiqué said.

In a morning communiqué, the War Department said defenders of the Philippines were withstanding continuous bombing and machine gunning on their front Northwest of Manila.

Heavy fighting has been resumed along the entire front with the enemy increasing pressure at all points," said the communiqué.

Again Japanese planes blasted at Corregidor Island, the Philippines Gibraltar, which has taken bombs from more than 100 planes in the last five days.

Men of the fortress struck back, hardly given time to rest as one long attack ended until another struck. In the latest raid 48 bombs were hurled over hour after hour, several were hit by anti-aircraft shells, the department said.

In previous raids damage and casualties were reported light. Today, the army said, "the extent of damage and casualties has not yet been determined."

OTTAWA, Jan. 7 (CPI)—Trade Minister MacKinnon today announced the appointment of Donald Gordon McKenzie, 34-year-old Winnipeg agricultural leader and businessman to the chairmanship of the Board of Grain Commissioners.

RAID ON SICILY FIELD DISRUPTED MALTA INVASION

Axis Forces Had Been Concentrating Forces Weeks TO HAVE BEEN AID TO ROMMEL

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 7 (AP)—A terrific eight-hour Royal Air Force assault on Castel Vetrano air-drome in Sicily in which 44 Axis planes were destroyed, gasoline supplies fired, and soldiers machine-gunned, was believed by informed sources tonight to have disrupted plans for a German parachute invasion of the British island of Malta.

Malta, only 90 miles from the tip of Sicily, is the rugged British stronghold which has withstood constant Axis air attacks, and from which British sea and air patrols have played havoc with Axis convoys trying to cross the Straits of Libya to reinforce Gen. Erwin Rommel's depleted army.

British sources said the Germans and Italians began concentrating air forces in Sicily weeks ago. The RAF waited patiently, then smashed at the Castel Vetrano air-drome Sunday afternoon in an attack which continued on into the night.

An R.A.F. communiqué said only one plane failed to return from this "highly successful" raid, and listed these results:

"Forty-four aircraft were destroyed... many others were seriously damaged... enemy troops were machine-gunned, inflicting many casualties... fires were started all over the air-drome. A petrol dump received a direct hit and blew up... the bombing resulted in a huge column of black smoke rising over 1000 feet."

British sources said that General Rommel's decision to make a stand at Agadaba on the Gulf of Sirte instead of withdrawing Westward into Tripolitania apparently was inspired by Axis hopes of a quick aerial seizure of Malta, after which Italian ships could push reinforcements to him.

Bad weather hampered both ground and air operations in Libya, but there were indications that the British were awaiting only a clear day before trying to annihilate Rommel's harassed forces.

In the Halaya area near the Egyptian border 300 miles East of the impending major battle of Agadaba, the British said their forces were "steadily rising in on the isolated enemy garrison."

OTTAWA, Jan. 7 (CPI)—The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's shortwave listening post here today picked up a Vichy radio broadcast which said Salum, on the Egyptian frontier, had been evacuated by Axis forces. A Cairo report picked up earlier this week said the Axis was evacuating several border outposts menaced by the British drive in Libya.

Retired Cranbrook Mill Superintendent Dies at Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Jan. 7 (CPI)—Funeral services will be held Friday for George Hutchinson Sadler, 74-year-old retired superintendent of the King Lumber Mills at Cranbrook, B. C. He died at his home here Tuesday.

Surviving are his widow and a daughter, Nancy, here and a son, King, who is an aircraft inspector for the British Purchasing Commission in New York.

"No Truth" in Japs' Story Warship Sunk

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—An authorized Navy spokesman said today "There is not a iota of truth" in a report Japanese war vessels had attacked the United States battleships New Mexico and Mississippi and had sunk one of them.

The Nazi-controlled radio station at Hilversum, in the Netherlands, was the source of the report. Its broadcast said the battleships were attacked en route to Darwin, Australia.

Hitler Prepares for Overthrow Try by Generals

LONDON, Jan. 8 (Thursday) (CPI)—The military reporter of the Daily Express, Morley Richards, wrote today that gun ports are being set up in strategic points of Berlin and other German cities against the possibility of an attempted coup by generals reported to be disaffected.

"The Gestapo defensive nests are precautions against a possible attempt to overthrow the Nazi party regime," Richards wrote. "The breach between Hitler and the army command is no longer a secret kept from the German people."

NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (Thursday) (CPI)—A split between the Nazi party and a group of German generals and officers of disaffection, hunger and disease among German troops on the Russian front were related today by the New York Times in a dispatch from Washington.

The Times said the story of conditions in the German armed forces was told in an official report "by one of the governments of the United Nations" to the United States War Department. The newspaper did not say where it obtained the information contained in the report.

It lists 125,000 German soldiers and 25,000 officers as having been killed or missing in Russia up to Dec. 1. The report said these figures did not take into account the Germans who were wounded or taken prisoner.

Late Flashes

CANBERRA, Jan. 7 (CPI)—Long-range Japanese flying boats struck twice at the Royal Australian Air Force field at Rabaul last night and today, following up the earlier attacks made recently upon that South Sea outpost in the Bismarck Archipelago.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (AP)—Crown Prince Olav of Norway said today that 98½ per cent of the people of his country "are solidly democratic, anti-Nazi and have ruled out any cooperation with the invader as an impossibility."

SEATTLE, Jan. 7 (AP)—The United States Federal communications commission has reported the possibility of unknown radio stations sending messages to the enemy and is maintaining a strict monitor system in Alaska as well as in the United States, the 13th naval district commandant revealed today.

LONDON, Jan. 7 (CPI Cable)—Two officers and 10 ratings were killed in the loss of the trawler Phineas Beard, the Admiralty announced tonight. One officer and four ratings were killed in the loss of the trawler Milford Earle.

British, Free French Rain Bombs on Stronghold

LONDON, Jan. 7 (CPI Cable)—The Royal Air Force and Free French air force have turned on a full-scale air blitz against isolated Axis forces in the stronghold of Halfaya Pass in Eastern Libya, the Air Ministry's news service reported tonight.

Formations of Stenhelm bombers are roaring over Halfaya every quarter hour in "unceasing procession," the news service said, adding that the rain of bombs starts at daylight and continues until nightfall.

B.C. Blackout Rules Tightened

VICTORIA, Jan. 7 (CPI)—All unattended lights in British Columbia's coastal cities and towns must henceforth be extinguished from sundown to sunrise under new and tighter air raid precautions regulations issued today by Premier John Hart, Chief Civilian Protection Officer for the Province.

The new orders set out that henceforth "no persons shall leave any light without first providing that there shall be, at all time, some persons in proximity thereto, who has the authority and the means of immediately extinguishing or masking such lights."

Under the new regulations ARP wardens, police officers, peace officers and members of fire forces are given the right to enter homes and buildings during a blackout if lights are showing. They may also board any vehicle or vessel where blackout orders are not being carried out properly.

Carol Announces He Will Be Head of Free Rumania

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 7 (AP)—Exile King Carol of Rumania denying he ever abdicated but only delegated his royal powers, announced today he had placed himself at the head of a "Free Rumania" and would go soon to the United States.

Carol, whose action had been predicted reliably for some time, said he hoped to leave Mexico in two weeks and establish contact with the Free Rumanian Committee in the United States.

The next step will be formation of his free government, with himself entitled "Regent of the Kingdom of Rumania," the exile King declared.

He planned to take with him to the United States his faithful palace chamberlain, Ernest Urdararu, but did not mention Mine, Elena Lupescu, his companion-in-exile.

They now occupy a small villa in a garden at Coacatlan, a Mexico City suburb.

Thus, for the second time in less than a dozen years, Carol has proclaimed himself successor to his son Michael.

As Crown Prince, Carol renounced his rights to the throne in December, 1925, rather than forego his private life, in which Madame Lupescu figured even then.

Michael succeeded to the throne, but on June 8, Carol flew back to Bucharest from exile and proclaimed himself King. He ruled for more than 10 years, until the Nazi influence and infiltration broke up the country and he again went into exile Sept. 6, 1940, again turning the sceptre over to Michael then a youth of 18.

Muselier Wanted to Ask for Agreement Before Occupation

ST. PIERRE, St. Pierre-Miquelon, Jan. 7 (CPI Cable)—Vice-Admiral Emile Muselier, commander of the Free French naval forces which saved these islands from Vichy Dec. 24, said today occupation of the islands was discussed with Canadian Government officials at the United States Ministry in Canada while he was in Ottawa before setting out on the expedition.

"I wanted to ask for the agreement of the governments to the occupation," the vice-admiral said in an interview, "but received a formal and secret order from General De Gaulle (the Free French leader) to act."

Snowing at Coast

VANCOUVER, Jan. 7 (CPI)—The British Columbia Lower Mainland's first real snow of the winter season mantled the district in an inch of powdery flakes late today and continued to fall tonight.

Trans-Canada Air Lines reported all flights both in and out of Vancouver were grounded "partly because of the snow here."

Veteran Jap Shock Troops Hurlled At Stubborn British

Imperial Line Pierced at One Point; But in General Holds Firm; British Attack Counters Main Front Threat

By C. YATES McDANIEL Associated Press Staff Writer

SINGAPORE, Jan. 7 (AP)—Britain's forces tonight were stubbornly contesting a renewed Japanese onslaught along a semi-circular West Malayan front which was spearheaded by the Japanese 5th Division, veteran shock force of a dozen campaigns in China.

With strong support in the air and armored units to tip its thrust, the Japanese force was said by British quarters to have made a penetration of the Imperial line at one point in Lower Perak.

But in general, British authorities said, the defenders were holding firm along a line extending from the Southeastern Perak Hills Southwestward across the railroad to the West coast of the Malay Peninsula near the mouth of the Selangor River, 240 miles from Singapore.

The Japanese 5th division, which landed in Southern Thailand a month ago today and headed the thrust into Western Malaya, was disclosed by the Ministry of Information to be the same which met Japan's major defeat in China at Taerchwang in Shantung Province on the Yellow River front in May of 1938.

After its defeat at Taerchwang, the division subsequently led the Japanese forces which captured Canton in South China in 1938, covering 150 miles from Blas Bay in nine days.

It repeated its lightning success the following year by landing on the South Kwangtung coast and fighting its way for 100 miles in eight days to capture Nanning in Kwangsi Province. By this exploit it cut China's major supply line from Indo-China and forced the Chinese to resort to the Burma Road.

The division next made news which will always be bitter to Frenchmen in Asia, when it violated an agreement with the French and crossed the Indo-China frontier and set up or captured a French army corps at Langson and Don Dang. For this the Japanese emperor "apologized" to the French and recalled the division's commander.

The current Japanese thrust to the British main Malayan front, between Ipoh and Kuala Lumpur, a 100-mile line running North and South down the Malayan West coast, was regarded as having been successfully countered by offensive action around Kuala Selangor, a port 35 miles Northwest of Kuala Lumpur.

The Japanese, apparently realizing ing this, resumed their frontal drive down the main road area.

Scores of Japanese fighters, bombers and dive-bombers again have been brought into action on this front, but the British line still holds.

On the Eastern side of the Peninsula British headquarters said their troops still were withdrawing from the Kuantan area which has an air-drome 100 miles from Singapore.

These troops withdrew Westward over the mountain ranges dividing the two fronts, since jungles and swamps inhabited by tigers and crocodiles lie to the South between Kuantan and Singapore.

A correspondent of the Singapore Straits Times said that the British forces were fighting against five-to-one odds and that "dogged rearguard actions compelled the enemy to pay a terrible price."

Here, Dornier claimed, Japanese forces "tightened an encirclement" of British troops who were said to be "putting up a desperate resistance from strongly-fortified defence lines built along the edge of the dense jungles."

Big Montreal Fire Is Under Control

MONTREAL, Jan. 7 (CPI)—A general alarm fire of undetermined origin in the building of Fraser Brothers Ltd., in downtown Montreal, was brought under control after a three-hour struggle tonight. Five firemen were injured or overcome by smoke. Unofficial estimates of damage ran from $100,000 to $125,000.

As little as possible, and keep their vehicles in good mechanical condition, no matter how long the war may last there will be enough cars for those who really need them," Mr. Berry said tonight.

"Of passenger cars there are more than 1,000,000 and of trucks more than 250,000. This 1,250,000 total, when compared with our 11,000,000 population, gives us approximately one vehicle for every seven persons."

"So long as there is one second-hand car available, so long as there is one passenger car in use for nothing but pleasure driving, it cannot be said that a shortage exists," said Mr. Berry.

Prices of second-hand cars would not be allowed to skyrocket, the Controller emphasized, and he added: "It is illegal to sell a used car at a price higher than would have been obtained for the same car during the period of Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, 1941, as fixed by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board."

John Jackman, Nelson Pioneer Dies at 89 Years; Leaves 46 Descendants

John Jackman, resident of Nelson for 46 years, died Wednesday night at Kootenay Lake General Hospital at his 89th year. He had been in a lingering sickness for some time and a fall at his home, 415 Robson Street, Sunday, in which he broke his hip, hastened his death.

Mr. Jackman is survived by a son, two daughters, 21 grandchildren, 21 great grandchildren, and one great great granddaughter. Edward Jackman of Nelson is his son and Mrs. R. S. Nichols and Mrs. N. Johnson, both of Vancouver, his daughters. His wife predeceased him in 1930 after 57 years of married life; and another son, James, died at Nelson in 1935.

Born in England on Sept. 2, 1853, he came to the United States almost 60 years ago. In his occupation as a miner he worked in the copper and iron mines of North Michigan, at Central City, Colo., and for a time in Mexico. From the States, he came to Nelson and built a home at 415 Robson Street where he had resided since. He was employed in various mines of the vicinity, among them the Silver King, Athabasca, and Granite Poorman. Before his retirement about 18 years ago, he was employed by the City in rock work.

Snowball Heads Rossland Board School Trustees

ROSSLAND, B. C., Jan. 7.—Rossland's Board of School Trustees cleared the decks at the City Hall Tuesday evening in preparation for what is expected to be another busy year. With a new $11,500 heating plant functioning since the first of the week, although a few details affecting operating remain to be completed, the Board plans further developments and improvements to the schools, and intends at the same time to maintain a firm hand on the purse strings. How successfully this policy worked last year is indicated by the fact that when year-end accounts are paid a balance of $2000 is expected from the 1941 appropriation.

COMMITTEES NAMED

After Magistrate R. E. Plewman had sworn in the two trustees elected in December, James A. Wright and Arthur Turner, the latter commencing his second term on the Board; and A. F. Snowball, who was elected at the same time for one year to fill the vacancy which was not filled in 1941; the trustees unanimously returned Mr. Snowball to the chairmanship, and appointed Trustees Arthur Turner to the secretary's shores, and named T. H. Tolland assistant secretary. Trustee Turner has been doing this work since R. D. Gardner's resignation early in December. Mr. Tolland is expected to be offered the job after he has served a few months' "apprenticeship" under Trustee Turner. Mr. Tolland was a School Board candidate at the December elections.

Standing committees named by Chairman Snowball are made up as follows: Finance Committee: A. F. Snowball and J. A. Wright; Maintenance, William Arrowsmith and A. F. G. Drake; Purchasing, Arthur Turner and J. A. Wright; Development, A. F. G. Drake, Principals, Wesley McKenzie and E. E. Perkins, and such other members as may be required from time to time as the development work expands. Trustee Drake is the Chairman of this committee, which has as one of its chief aims the implementation, as funds are available, of a complete landscaping program for both the MacLean Public and the High School.

Mrs. Margaret G. Douglas of New Westminster, a former member of the East Trail school staff, was appointed to fill a vacancy at the MacLean School from the resignation of Mrs. M. V. Toews at Christmas. Mrs. Douglas arrived Tuesday to commence her duties. Her appointment is probationalary until June.

During the next two weeks the sub-committees will prepare their 1942 estimates and will discuss them at the next meeting, Jan. 20.

Deadlock on Auto Industry Conversion Leads to New Heads

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—A deadlock between management and labor representatives, attempting with officials of the Office of Production Management, to work out a program for converting the automobile industry to war materials production led the O.P.M. today to replace the special committee with a new group.

O.P.M.'s action, constituting a rejection of labor proposals for joint industry-labor-government supervision of the pooling of resources during the conversion task, was attacked by the labor members of the dissolved committee.

The new committee will be made up equally of labor and industrial leaders and will be headed by an O.P.M. official. Personnel has not been announced.

HIROHITO USED AS BALL-TROW TARGET

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 7 (AP)—Baron Shu Tami, Japanese Ambassador to Argentina, protested to Foreign Minister Enrique Ruiz Guinazu today against use of an effigy of Emperor Hirohito as a target for baseball throwers in a sidewalk at a British carnival.

Do You Suffer From Headaches?

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time. A headache need not be an illness in itself, but it may be a warning symptom that there is intestinal sluggishness within.

To help overcome the cause of headache it is necessary to eliminate the waste matter from the system. Burdock Blood Bitters helps to remove the cause of headache by regulating the digestive and urinary organs, neutralizing acidity, regulating the constipated bowels and toning up the sluggish liver, and when this has been accomplished the headache should disappear.

Caught after their car crashed into another passenger vehicle and was wrecked at Burlington, Ont.; Owen McNeil, left, and William Osborne, right, both of St. Catharines, Ont., were charged by police with a bank holdup at Port Dalhousie, Ont. The men fled while handcuffed together while police sought an accomplice. Most of the $1341 loot from the holdup was recovered.

New Violent Fighting Breaks Out in Serbia

BERNE, Jan. 8 (Thursday) (AP)—The Belgrade radio station said today new violent fighting had broken out between insurgents and Government troops in Serbia. In one encounter 17 insurgents were killed and 15 captured, while four Government men were killed, the station said. In another fight near Leliah, the insurgents lost 110 killed and captured, according to the report.

Collaborationist authorities in Yugoslavia used the term "insurgent" loosely when referring to troops loyal to the Royal Yugoslav Government established in London. It is pointed out in Free Yugoslav circles that the Yugoslav Army still fighting in its own country is constituted in regular military manner and is under the command of Gen. D. Mihaljevic, recently promoted by King Peter from the rank of colonel.

TEMPERATURES EASE LITTLE ON PRAIRIES

By The Canadian Press
Temperatures at Prairie points moderated a somewhat Wednesday night although west areas continued to show below-zero readings. In Eastern Canada, Ontario experienced the coldest spell of the winter and on the Pacific Coast the mercury slipped down to zero at Prince Rupert.

Minneapolis, Oct. was the coldest spot, registering a low of 38 below zero.

MANCHESTER (CP)—Raid-shocked children, previously good and intelligent become destructive, mischievous, lazy, truant and unmanageable because their parents are too short-sighted to evacuate them for the duration.

Man Whose Heart Stopped 20 Minutes Recovers Completely

CHICAGO, Jan. 7 (AP)—A man whose heart stopped beating for 20 minutes during an operation has astonished the medical world by recovering completely.

The man's heart stopped beating while he was undergoing an operation on the left lung. Heart stimulants were injected and a quick incision was made to expose the man's heart.

Artificial circulation of blood was maintained by rhythmic compression of the heart by hand. Oxygen was supplied to the lungs by rhythmic pressure on the rebreathing bag used to administer anaesthesia.

After 20 minutes, the heart resumed its own contractions and a few sections later the man began to take rapid shallow breaths, then rapid deep breaths. His color, which had become almost a violet hue, turned a livid pink and the breathing slowly quieted to normal.

The operation was finished, using Oxygen only, and the patient left the hospital 60 days later in good condition.

PLANES, TANKS, GUNS COME UNDER NEW PLAN TO SPEED PRODUCTION

OTTAWA, Jan. 7 (CP)—Total value of contracts awarded and commitments made by the Department of Munitions and Supply on Canadian, United Kingdom, and other account now is more than $3,200,000,000, it was announced today.

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Jan. 7 (CP)—Canada's wartime production will be expanded in a similar manner to that of the United States as outlined yesterday by President Roosevelt, Munitions Minister Howe told a Press conference today.

This, he said, is in accordance with the mission to North America of Lord Beaverbrook, British Ambassador of Supply who has been in Washington conferring with American authorities and who received Canadian supply officials there for talks.

Mr. Howe said Lord Beaverbrook's mission was to raise our sights on what we can produce.

The munitions minister added that Canadian war equipment now was being used on every battlefield of the war—the Philippines, Singapore, China and the Middle East.

Of Canada's war production efforts he said:

"We are expanding as rapidly now as at any time during the war."

"Since July, 1939, total contracts let by the Munitions and Supply

Department totalled $3,200,000,000.

Main increase in production will be in guns, tanks and planes, Mr. Howe said.

The cargo shipping program for 1942, involving production of 100 vessels of close to 10,000 tons, was already an all out program and cannot be increased greatly in view of the naval construction underway.

A new shipyard for cargo vessels was being built at Bickerton in Montreal, to be owned by the Government and managed by the Dominion Bridge Company.

"We are expanding ship capacity just as rapidly as personnel and equipment permit," the Minister said.

Keels were about to be laid at an Eastern Canadian port for two tripartite class destroyers. This work had been delayed by other operations but the turbines and other equipment had been in production for some time and this was well advanced.

Mr. Howe said there was nothing secret about his talks in Washington with Lord Beaverbrook, British supply minister.

What Lord Beaverbrook has accomplished was indicated in the President's speech yesterday.

"He discussed the same program with me and we are stretching our production in a similar way. We can do it but not to the same extent as the U. S. because we were farther up on full production than the United States."

Mr. Howe discussed the recent production agreement with United States and said the two countries now were on a parity with regard to production priorities and mutual supply of raw materials.

A report that the tariff wall has been broken down between the two countries so far as war materials is concerned was not correct, Mr. Howe said.

No Canadian customs duties are paid on materials shipped into Canada from United States to be placed in equipment being manufactured here for United States.

But the tariff applies to materials imported from U. S. for use on war contracts, although the resulting transaction is merely taking money from one pocket of the federal treasury and putting it into another.

Canada was making enough alloy steel to meet requirements and intended to maintain that production if possible. Great quantities of aluminum, nickel, zinc and copper were being produced for United States war industries.

On Canadian expansion Mr. Howe said labor remained a problem but we are still getting it. Management was a greater problem but this was being overcome.

The Minister was reticent about giving production figures but said the 1942 estimates called for 1500 tanks and 9000 universal carriers although he expected to do better than that.

German Production Falls Below Peak

LONDON, Jan. 7 (CP)—The Ministry of Economic Warfare said today Germany is producing more planes, tanks and submarines than in the Spring of 1941, although the overall production of armaments has fallen slightly below the peak level reached at that time.

The Ministry said the Germans were planning to turn out more planes, but their full aims in submarine production had been impeded by the Royal Air Force.

Armaments production in Germany, outside of Germany, is not anything like fully utilized—in France because of the shortage of raw materials, in Czechoslovakia because of internal trouble and in Italy because of a shortage of workers and food.

The Ministry added that German war production is not likely to be seriously restricted during the next six months by the metal shortage but that stocks of some metals, particularly nickel and copper, ought to be exhausted by the end of the year at the present rate.

The Nazis are also in urgent need of iron ore and paper pulp, the imports of which were restricted by the fact that they owe $200,000,000 to people in Europe, the report said. There is also a deficiency in textiles.

Netherlands Forces Destroy Jap Planes and Warships in Pacific

LONDON, Jan. 7 (CP)—Piet Kervens, newly appointed Netherlands minister of shipping and industry, announced today Netherlands East Indies forces had destroyed a total of 15 Japanese airplanes, two cruisers, two destroyers, nine transports and two merchant ships in the Pacific war.

In addition, he said, two cruisers and two destroyers, four transports and nine airplanes were damaged.

The islands will not need United States troops, he said but require additional ships and planes.

TOKYO, Jan. 7—Imperial headquarters acknowledged in a communiqué today that a Japanese submarine has been sunk in the Pacific area and that a cruiser has been slightly damaged.

BATAVIA, Jan. 7 (AP)—Eight Japanese flying boats attacked military and naval objectives last night on the island of Ombon in the Eastern part of the Netherlands East Indies, dropping 20 bombs which killed three civilians and wounded four other persons, a communiqué today said.

The attack was said to have resulted in a certain amount of damage.

A joint communiqué issued today announced one German supply ship of medium tonnage and two trawlers were sunk off the town of Florø.

A German canning factory also was damaged but low visibility, they made shore targets difficult to see, caused naval units to do little firing at another German factory.

JOINT RAID HITS AT HUN SHIPPING ON NORWAY COAST

LONDON, Jan. 7 (CP)—A joint naval and R.A.F. raid was carried out on Helge Fjord on the Norwegian coast yesterday.

A joint communiqué issued today announced one German supply ship of medium tonnage and two trawlers were sunk off the town of Florø.

A German canning factory also was damaged but low visibility, they made shore targets difficult to see, caused naval units to do little firing at another German factory.

Will Pay the Price of Victory—Roosevelt . . . Largest Budget in History of World

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—Speaking the determination of the United States to "pay whatever price we must to preserve our way of life," President Roosevelt called today for a war budget of $56,000,000,000 for the next fiscal year, $9,000,000,000 of new taxes on top of all existing taxes, and unprecedented borrowing that would send the Federal debt above $110,000,000,000.

"This is a war budget," he said in his annual budget message to Congress. "Its magnitude and composition depend on events at the battlefronts of the world . . . nothing short of a maximum will suffice. I cannot predict ultimate costs because I cannot predict the changing fortunes of war. I can say only that we are determined to pay whatever price we must to preserve our way of life."

It was the biggest budget in the history of the world. Government estimates indicated it was nearly double Germany's annual war expenditures. It called, the President said, for a step-up in the rate of war spending from the current $2,000,000,000 a month to $5,000,000,000 a month.

To the United States armed forces and their allies, the President promised the budget meant a crushing superiority of equipment.

To the public he said it meant heavy new taxes because "a fair distribution of the war burden is necessary for national unity."

In the current fiscal year, he figured, treasury expenses would total $30,675,796,162, including $23,906,325,400 for defense, and calculated taxes would yield $11,943,993,000, leaving a deficit of $18,731,803,162 to be covered by borrowing.

This meant that the First Great War spending peak of $18,322,000,000 will be passed this fiscal year and approximately tripled next year.

In his tax program, the President asked for approximately $2,000,000,000 of added social security taxes plus $7,000,000,000 of income, excess profits, estate and gift, and excise taxes. He approved of almost any kind of new taxes except a general sales tax—and he indicated that even that type of levy later might become necessary on a temporary basis.

"I do not at present propose general consumer ration cards," he said. Non-military agencies of the Government, he said, will be cut more than $1,000,000,000 in their next year's budgets.

Roads not needed for defense, postoffices, and other public works considered non-essential would get no money, he said, unless they were already under construction. He said he hoped Congress would skip its usual blanket road-building grants in states.

Patience Needed to Cure Nervous Habits in Child

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

"Dear Dr. Myers: I have long been a reader of your articles. I have received much help from them in the rearing of my 10-year-old son.

"This morning after breakfast I sat patiently with my 11-year-old son. After the boy and his father had gone to the office I read your article on Charity of parents toward their adolescent children. Can you offer me any advice for my problem?

"This, our oldest son, has formed a habit of snuffing, which has continued for two years. Sometimes he seems to control it better than at others.

BAD NERVOUS HABIT

This boy since early childhood has been troubled with nervous, facial twitchings, such as twisting his nose or stretching his eyes. Our efforts at checking them were entirely wrong, as we pleaded with him not to do it, as in the case of biting his nails.

"Physically, he has always appeared to be a perfect specimen, and above average mentally — an honor student in school and a very affable, sweet-tempered youngster always. The last few years he has left off the nail biting and only occasionally makes a facial grimace.

DOCTOR'S REPLY

"Answer: I can sympathize with you, for I know that you have grown very anxious and disturbed about your son. Please do not condemn yourself for having scolded him in earlier years for his habit spasms; you thought you were doing the best! If you had it to do over again you would now take him to a nerve specialist. The thing to do now is to interpret the snuffings as just the same kind of a nervous manifestation as was the facial twitching. Persuade him to go to a nose and throat specialist first.

Then, if the habit continues, and it probably will, to a nerve specialist.

MOTHER CAN HELP

Since you are a loving parent, it is not your comfort you are seeking, but his relief from the awful suffering he now must endure. Please, mother, never again suggest to him to stay away from company; urge him to go and have as good a time as possible. The more he mixes the more social courage and self-reliance, he will be able to correct the habit.

SOVING PARENT PROBLEMS

Q Why is it usually unwise for a young married couple to delay having children for several years, assuming they want children by an boy?

Castle of Contentment

By LORENA CARLETON

As Ylena recovered from the first sickening lurch connected with making a wretched return trip by boat, she became more and more enthusiastic. First there was the natural excitement of making an unusual journey. Second, she relished the thought of giving Tate a little of his own medicine. Let him spend a few days worrying, let him have a few painful pangs of curiosity.

There was a sort of wicked consolation in the thought. It strengthened her as she and Scott trudged wearily toward her hotel in the lamp-lighted late winter afternoon. "Let's have some hot chocolate," Scott suggested. Ylena agreed. They turned the corner and there it was! In one of those not very large Madison Avenue places. A white chiffon dancing dress, layer upon layer of the foamy material, an abbreviated, wasp-waisted bodice, no trimming to re-create the beauty of expert cut and drape.

Scott followed the girl's avid green gaze. "Yeh! I have a feeling you're going to be a fool again!" He pushed open the door of the shop and they went in.

On the ensuing day they left the city, driving to the pier in Vernon Stone's machine. Piled high beside the chauffeur were gifts for Rose and Ylena. Baskets, gay with colored cellophane paper and enormous bows of wide satin ribbon. Flowers, violet corsages to wear and Talcott roses for their little stateroom; fruit, bonbons, peaches, pears, apples and bunches of grapes tied to the arched basket handle, candied, cool biting Mint Glacia, bonbons of real fruit fondant, caramels, delicate Jordan almonds.

"All those presents!" Rose said in a voice that tried to sound, but instead, sounded as though as a high school girl accepting her first date. "You'd think we were bound on a regular ocean voyage on a liner!" She gave the little ship, waiting at dock, a critical glance. "Instead of this canoe!"

Her employer said, "But you're going on a much longer trip!" He put his arm about her.

Ylena and Scott shook hands with Vernon Stone, then tactfully turned away from the tender, rather pathetic farewell between him and his housekeeper.

Ylena said, "It is a small boat, isn't it?"

"It somehow gets bigger after you sail," he told her. "Only it never gets big enough that you can hide render them unable to have children, and they tend year by year to want more ease and luxury and to exercise less self-sacrifice. Besides, as they grow much older they may be poorer parents than while young."

Essentials Do Streamlining on Victory Diet

By IDA JEAN KAIN

This year, the diets are different. You will do your streamlining on victory victuals and will be healthier as well as slimmer. While losing your 10 or 20 pounds, you will get in the pink of condition.

A vitamin or mineral deficiency is often the indirect cause of overweight. When the necessary elements are missing from your menus, you experience a "hidden hunger." Your craving is really for the missing essentials but the appetite cannot discriminate. You just know that you crave food, not that you crave Vitamin C or calcium.

You need, every day: one pint of milk or one glass of milk and one ounce of cheese; one egg; two fresh fruits, one a citrus; two vegetables, one a green; whole grain or enriched bread; butter; a liberal serving, about six ounces, of lean meat, fish or fowl. These are the victory victuals. Eat them and stop on the starches, sugars and fats and you will be fit and you will look it.

Mental Forget Self to Cure Inferiority

By SEATRICE FAIRFAX

"Dear Miss Fairfax: I'm married to a wonderful husband and we have a lovely son. I'm not bad looking; we have a nice home in a good neighborhood, and I dress as well and even better than some of my neighbors. I mention these things because, being blessed with them, you'd think I would be happy, but I'm not.

"I need help desperately, for my mental safety. I have the worst case of inferiority complex that I've ever heard of or read about. I lay awake nights crying, pining myself, wishing I knew how to make friends. I have been thinking about suicide.

"I've heard there's something wrong with a person who hasn't even one friend. Well, Miss Fairfax, that's my predicament. I can't that I haven't opportunities, but I don't know how to make friends. Would it help if I went to a psychiatrist? Do they treat people for inferiority complex? Maybe they could teach me how to have poise so that I wouldn't crumble up every time someone speaks to me, and teach me to laugh so that I could enjoy living. What would you advise?

"Stick in Mind"

If you know of a reliable psychiatrist you would probably be helped materially. A poor one is worse than nothing. Your family physician might help you or direct you to the specialist you evidently require.

You will probably be indignant with me when I say that a good many of these cases of so-called "inferiority complex" actually have their roots in an innate feeling of superiority. Such a person expects every one he meets to do all the work of getting acquainted, and to lay the foundation of friendship.

The remedy is to forget one's self, if possible.

At the moment, there is a crying need in a world full of anguish for every pair of hands which can help. There is no better way of forgetting one's own woes than to help someone in actual need.

Some Advice Ancient Greeks Could Have Told You About Colds

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

We are running into the period of expected frequency of the common cold. One of the few things actually and scientifically known about the cold is that it has a seasonal incidence.

WARNINGS

Since we are running into the period of expected frequent incidence, it is natural that health authorities about this time of year begin to give out warnings somewhat to this effect: "Look out for the common cold." Just what you do besides look out for a cold in order to prevent it is left more or less in the realm of speculation.

TWO WEEKS TO DEVELOP

It is estimated that it requires about two weeks after you have been exposed to a cold for it to develop in your own body. When the cold sufferer is all stopped up and talks through his nose and is coughing and generally miserable, he probably is not in a position to transmit a cold to anybody else at all.

So much for prevention by avoiding contact. What about the vaccines? Well, I pointed out in this column a year or two ago that Dr. Diehl gave a number of students cold vaccines and another group sterile water hypodermically, and in the two groups he found the incidence of colds was no higher among those who had received sterile water than among those who had received the vaccine.

Since colds are definitely seasonal with cold weather, especially sloppy weather, perhaps the only admonitions that really make any sense are the old wives' warnings: "Keep your feet dry and your body warm and change everything from the skin out when you come in from cold, wet weather."

Kootenay Should Be Included in Tour of A.R.P. Head

Col. R. J. Manion, Director of Civil Air Raid Precautions, is to visit British Columbia and other areas which are in greatest danger of enemy attacks.

We will hope that this will not mean that Dr. Manion will visit only the Coast areas of British Columbia. The extent of Kootenay's danger is a matter for the experts, but expert opinion personified by Dr. Manion can only accurately be based upon investigation in all areas which are within known bomber range of the enemy. And, if the Coast is within bomber range, so from a practical viewpoint is Kootenay as the difference in flying time is a matter of less than two hours.

Public bodies in Kootenay are urging that the area from Rossland to the Alberta boundary be declared a vulnerable area. The authorities seem to show no enthusiasm for this course. We in Kootenay would like Dr. Manion to come here so that we could inform him, and show him some of our reasons for the request.

Until a district is declared vulnerable legal powers for enforcing black-out and curfew restrictions are lacking. There is also the matter of additional supplies and weapons of defence.

They Had Tanks

Japanese troops invading the Philippines are distinctly fourth-raters, according to a toughened American cavalry colonel. This officer has seen some of the scrapping on Luzon Island and he says the Japanese are no good on the ground. The Americans "licked the pants off them three times and were beaten only by their tanks and planes."

But, that is just the trouble. The Japanese have the tanks and planes to take the ground that they could not otherwise capture. There is no question about the Americans being better fighters. Neither do we doubt for a moment the ability of the Americans to lick the pants off them in an even fight.

At Dunkerque, the British licked the pants off the Nazis in more than one gallant rearguard action. The Germans did not make a good showing against the British in even battle. But, the Nazis also had the tanks and planes and that is why they caused the evacuations of Norway, Dunkerque, Greece and Crete.

It is all right to declare that we can lick the Germans and the Japanese in anything like an even fight. But as long as the enemy can throw in superior numbers of tanks and planes, raw courage is not enough for our side. We, too, need tanks and planes. To win the crushing victory we are going to score in the end, we must have many more tanks and planes than the Germans, Italians and Japanese can muster. Production and more production is the key to our being able to launch an offensive that will smash the enemy.

Wondering, Nelson—Would you please give me information on auxiliaries for girls to join? What units are there and where does one apply to get the necessary application forms?

The Canadian Women's Army Corps and the Canadian Women's Auxiliary Air Force are the two major women's auxiliaries. For application forms write Department of War Services, Ottawa. Write Mrs. Norman Kennedy, Maj. General of the Canadian Women's Army Corps, Vancouver.

A. A. Moyle—I am interested in war work. Can you tell me where to write for full information?

Write Department of War Services, Ottawa.

J. M. Kimberley—Could you please tell me how to make paint? Is linseed oil boiled before mixing?

A general outdoor house paint (white) is made by mixing 15 pounds of white lead with a gallon of boiled linseed oil. For indoor work use three parts oil to one part turpentine.

J. M. Sheep Creek—Could you tell me whom a person would consult on business with the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company?

Advise you write company. A letter containing your proposition or asking for information would quickly reach the right executive.

Reader, Nelson—Where should I address a communication to Hon. C. G. Power, who recently spoke on conscription of manpower?

Address, Hon. C. G. Power, Minister of National Defence for Air, Ottawa.

E. V. Cranbrook—Are uniforms and other equipment of boys training in the Sea Cadet Corps provided free of cost?

Yes; all uniforms, boots and other equipment, as well as instruction. No fees are charged for this training.

Aid to Canadian Business

By Frederick Griffin

OTTAWA — Business must hold to the retail price ceiling. No weakness or pressure down the line to the primary producer will be allowed to flow the lid. To help business hold it, here in Ottawa a picked force of accountants and business engineers, a corps d'élite of industrial analysts, is being enlisted and trained.

Industry itself has, in the past, hired accountants and industrial efficiency experts to nose out weakness and waste. Now the government will provide them to help business reduce costs and keep under the retail price ceiling.

These men will be primarily diagnosticians. They will x-ray examine and check. But their purpose will not be punitive. It will be to help business help itself.

This is the point: As long as a firm or industry can live under the retail price ceiling the Wartime Prices and Trade Board does not need to be concerned with costs or with how the "squeeze" is met.

But the moment an industry says it can't meet the "squeeze," the Board has the right to find out why. It may send in trained men to go over cost records. It may question methods, suggest economies and institute changes to cut out waste and "frills."

According to the Board's statement of policy, as shortages of labor, materials and machinery become more and more acute, the necessity for economies in production and distribution, for standardization of products and the elimination of unnecessary varieties, styles and models, and, in general, for the most economical use of all available resources, will become increasingly important.

In brief, under a compulsion to make ends meet under the price ceiling, many a business or industry will have to go searching over its methods. The old ways of go-as-you-please are done for the duration; there's an end to laissez-faire and hang the hindmost. From now on it will be necessary to weigh the cost and value of packaging, delivery methods, display and many a "frill" in order to meet the Board's insistence on basic quality and quantity at an anchored price to the consumer.

This is where Mr. Henderson's squad of efficiency engineers will come in. In a case where costs are running high or where a business seeks aid in its own interest, they will make a study of manufacturing processes, industrial or merchandising practices. They will advise about lighting, sales force, window display, delivery routing and the dozen and one costs of modern business.

"A year hence, when everyone looks back, I think it will be clear that our role has not been one of covering business men so much as of helping them to help themselves," says Mr. Henderson.

Antiquity of Man in North America

Until recently it was believed that the bones of "the Folsom man," discovered in Minnesota, placed the existence of mankind on the American continent at 20,000 years. The man himself was believed to have lived 15,000 years ago, but certain ornaments found with him indicated that human beings who had developed beyond the ape stage—if man is descended from the ape—were living 2000 years earlier.

A bulletin just issued by the Smithsonian Institution discusses the recent finding of parts of another human skeleton in Minnesota, believed to be that of a young girl, and there again, judged by ornaments, this would place the habitation of the continent back to 25,000 years. The principal evidence as to date is shells traceable to the Gulf of Mexico. The remarkable fact about that is that people seemed to migrate and carry on some kind of trade between the Gulf of Mexico and the vicinity of what we know today as Lake Superior, which at that time was probably all covered with ice so that there were no Great Lakes dividing the United States and Canada. Undoubtedly the first inhabitants of the American continent came from Asia, which was the cradle of civilization. They trekked overland into the North American continent across what is now the Bering Strait to about where the town of Nome is established, there then being no water barrier, Asia and America being literally one.

The vast and inhospitable spaces of Canada make exploration difficult, but we have no doubt that some day Canadian expeditions will uncover the bones of these early Mongolians and put the early Canadian many thousands of years before the young miss in Minnesota.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Ottawa is Tungsten Capital of Canada

War in the Pacific has suddenly made Ottawa the home of one of the country's most important ore refineries.

Surprising as this may be to those who have always looked upon the capital as a centre of government rather than a mining city, it possesses the only plant in Canada which refines tungsten, a metal more precious than gold to the war factories of the country.

Tungsten is used as a hardening agent in the manufacture of fine tool steel. Canada and the United States have always obtained a large portion of their supply from far-off China. Concentrates of the metal were shipped across the Pacific after being trucked over the long haul down the Burma Road.

The metal is refined from an ore called scheelite. Although no large deposits have so far been found in Canada, occasional bits crop up with the ore mined in the gold fields.

Some months ago Canada's Bureau of Mines decided it could make an important contribution to the country's war effort if it gleaned these scheelite fragments and milled them into tungsten concentrates for the tool steel industry.

DETECTED BY VIOLET RAY

The Bureau has a small but very modern refining plant, normally used for processing large bulk ore samples. This mill was utilized for an experiment that has already provided the tool steel factories of Canada with more than 30 tons of tungsten concentrates.

Considering that a comparatively small amount of the metal is required for each ton of steel, every pound milled by the Bureau's refinery is a valuable asset to the Canadian war effort.

Scheelite is a buff-colored ore that often gives no hint of its tungsten content when viewed under ordinary light. But when it is subjected to the beam of an ultra violet ray lamp the tungsten in the rock gives off a fluorescent glow that is a tell-tale sign of the mineral's presence.

The mines which supply the scheelite sort it by hand from the gold ore. A conveyor carries the ore beneath a violet ray lamp and the sorter picks out the chunks that glow with flakes or strips of tungsten. When a car load has been gleaned by this method, it is shipped to the Ottawa refinery.

The gold mines do this work on a patriotic basis. Because the smallness of the deposits makes it necessary to sort the scheelite by hand and freight it to Ottawa, they actually lose money on it.

NEW TYPE OF PROSPECTOR

Now that war with Japan has made the wide Pacific a particularly hazardous gap between the factories of Canada and the tungsten deposits of China, a new type of prospector will soon be tramping the wilderness, armed with his violet ray lamp. These are now being made in portable form for the express purpose of tracking down the precious scheelite and wolframite, another tungsten-bearing ore.

The Bureau of Mines, anxious to encourage the search for the vital war metal, has offered its aid to all who wish to go prospecting for it. It is ready to put its testing equipment and scientific knowledge at the disposal of any one who wishes to submit samples or obtain advice.

Most of the tungsten milled by the Bureau of Mines comes from the Porcupine area of Northern Ontario. Mines in British Columbia have also sent shipments of scheelite to Ottawa. Some samples containing tungsten have been sent in from the Yukon, scene of the great gold rush of yesterday.

If the mineral is found in sufficient quantities, a mill may be set up at some central point in the North to reduce freight charges. In the meantime, the Bureau of Mines in Ottawa carries on the job that has already helped to place thousands of additional tools in the hands of Canada's workmen.

Dodgers Holding Up Mailing of 1942 Contracts

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (AP)—Because of the war Brooklyn Dodgers have decided to postpone mailing 1942 contracts to the National League champions until next month, but most other clubs insisted today they are following a "business as usual" policy.

The doubt of the Dodgers was explained by Secretary John McDonald:

"We operate on a budget and in normal seasons we have a payroll of around $300,000. But right now I don't guess anyone knows what receipts to expect from next season and we're going to sit on the situation a few weeks before committing ourselves on salaries."

President Larry MacPhail is toying with the idea of including bonus clauses in the contracts of some of his higher priced stars, McDonald added, so that their salaries would reflect whatever financial success the Dodgers might have next summer.

So far the Dodgers have signed two players—Pitcher Kirby Higbe and batting champion Pete Reiser. But they expect some trouble in reaching terms with First Baseman Dolph Camilli and possibly with some of their other stars. The salaries of at least five of their past run into five figures, with Joe Medwick probably tops at about $20,000. Camilli was supposed to have been paid $15,000 last year.

Veteran Sparmale Says Joe Better Than in Old Days

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. H., Jan. 7 (AP)—It's nice, steady work with good pay, George Nicholson pointed out, but this business of being a regular partner for Joe Louis is "getting to be mighty dangerous in times like this."

George ought to know. The kind of boxer who's as hard to hit as Feller's fast ball on a cloudy afternoon, he was a sparmale in Joe's camp in 1937 while the Bomber was training to win the title from Jim Braddock. Since then, Joe has had 20 camps, and George has been in 18 of them helping to sharpen the big 236.

And just to show you that George isn't the ordinary kind of punching bag, in some 200 rounds of boxing Joe has been able to drop him just once. "That time, I went into a crouch 'cause Joe came in, instead of keepin' Joe guessin'," George admits.

The job has been so steady that George hasn't bothered trying to get a fight in two years. So when he tells you that Joe, training for his heavyweight title, tele-a-tele with Buddy Baer Friday night, is just as fast a more deadly puncher and a smarter fighter than he was back there in the early days, you're listening to a guy who knows slightly more than one-and-one about the matter.

"He punches 'em as hard," George explained today as Joe put the finishing touches on his sparring, "but the big difference now is that he don't waste none of 'em."

Olympics Fined $100 for Walking Off Ice

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (AP)—President Tom Lockhart of the Eastern Amateur Hockey League today fined Boston Olympics $100 for walking off the ice in protest of a decision by Referee Mel Harwood in a game with Washington Eagles at Washington last night.

Harwood slapped a five-minute penalty on Ty Anderson of Boston and Paul Courteau of Washington and an additional 10-minute misconduct penalty on the former for fighting just as the first period ended. Coach Rago Harrington sent the Olympics off the ice and they did not return until warned by the referee, said Lockhart. The Olympics won 7-0.

Yankees, Dodgers Place 3 Players Each on All-Stars

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 7 (AP)—New York Yankees breezed past Brooklyn Dodgers four games to one in the 1941 World Series, but the National League champions had just as much all-star talent in the collective opinion of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Both Yanks and Dodgers landed three players on the 17th annual all-star team, chosen by 386 members of the association, and announced by the Sporting News, a baseball weekly.

Boston Red Sox, Chicago Cubs, Chicago White Sox, Cleveland and Washington each placed a representative in the lineup.

Joe DiMaggio, the Yankees' center fielder, was an unanimous choice for the second time, counting votes for all outfield positions, and was named on the team for the fifth consecutive year.

Ted Williams of the Red Sox, first 400 hitter in a decade, gathered 303 first-place votes and led for both left and right field. The latter post went to Pete Reiser, Brooklyn's batting champion rookie, who was runner-up with 103 votes.

The remainder of the all-star lineup with individual vote totals:

First base, Dolph Camilli, Brooklyn, 223; second base, Joe Gordon, Yankees, 206; shortstop, Cecil Travis, Washington, 185; third base, Stan Hack, Chicago Cubs, 178; catcher, Bill Dickey, Yankees, 262; pitchers, Bob Feller, Cleveland, 247; Whit Wyatt, Brooklyn, 209; and Thornton Lee, Chicago White Sox, 137.

Dickey returned after a year's absence to become dean of the team and win recognition for the sixth time.

Leafs' Cripples Soon to Return

TORONTO, Jan. 7 (CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League were brought closer to full strength than at any time since late November when forward Don Metz and defenseman Wally Stanowski were out of the lineup.

For Metz it was the first taste of hockey since he cracked an ankle bone early in the season, although he had been taking light skating exercises.

Stanowski had been suffering since Nov. 22 from an old ankle injury, although he had returned to the lineup briefly after that date. There is little chance, however, that either Stanowski or Metz will be used against Detroit here Saturday.

Appe has been instructed to continue treatment for a shoulder injury and not to join the club until it is in shape.

Winning both games of her match against D. Foster, Mrs. Mac McGovern maintained her unbeaten record in the second round of the first tournament of the Nelson Five-Pin Ladies Bowling League at Gellinas Alley Tuesday night.

Mrs. McGovern now has won eight games in as many starts. Her nearest opponent, Mrs. Dot Waterer, took two games from her sister-in-law, Mrs. Florence Waterer, to remain two games behind.

Mrs. Guy Brownell and Mrs. Jack Fisher divided their match, and Mrs. T. S. Shorthouse swept hers in the other match of the night.

Tuesday's play was the first since before Christmas. Two more nights remain in the second round of the current tournament.

Turkey Shoot Is Held at Gray Creek

GRAY CREEK, B. C.—The Rod and Gun Club of Gray Creek and district held a turkey shoot, a number of members coming from Crawford Bay and others from LaFras.

There was some good shooting from junior members, though the absence of so many overseas was keenly felt. A midday lunch was provided by the Club.

The winners were as follows: Johnny Johnson, Port Crawford; Ralph Oliver, Gray Creek; George Oliver, Gray Creek; Raymond McGregor, Crawford Bay; Brennan Drew, Gray Creek; Miss Marjorie Fraser, Kootenay Bay; Jim Burge, Gray Creek; Bob Fraser, Kootenay Bay, and Ralph Oliver.

The three sweepstakes on a hidden target were won by Leonard Clark, John Wolfart and Bob Fraser.

The Vice-President's Shield for largest number of bulletins through the day lies between Bill Burge and Ralph Oliver, and will be shot off at a later date.

The ladies of Gray Creek served the lunch.

Stampeders Trounce Lethbridge 4-3 to Take 9-Point Leadership Margin

CALGARY, Jan. 7 (CP)—Unearthing a tremendous display of power that produced six successive goals in 12 minutes of third period play, Calgary Stampeders tonight smothered Lethbridge Maple Leafs 4-3 and firmly established themselves at the top of the A.B.C. Senior Amateur Hockey League standings with a margin of nine points over the second place Leafs.

Down 3-1 at the seven-minute mark of the closing period, the Calgary pucksters gave one of the greatest displays of power even seen at the local rink as they rammed in goal after goal until Leafs shied from the ice a badly beaten sextet.

Dunc Grant and Doug Cairns spearheaded the brilliant attack by netting two goals each, Ettinger, Atkinson and Sprout snaring one each. Culley, Lane and Burke counted the Lethbridge goals.

Both teams went scoreless in the opening session with Maple Leafs earning a 2-1 lead in the middle period and scoring the first goal of the third before Stampeders cut loose with their powerful attack.

Penalties played a big part in the game, four of the Calgary goals in the third period coming while Leafs were a man short.

Maple Leafs went into action without the services of Mel Lundie and Dick Gray. Lundie was taken to hospital in Lethbridge today where he was operated on following an acute attack of appendicitis while Gray was understood to be on his way to report to the Royal Canadian Air Force which he joined several days ago.

Play was held up for several minutes during the second period when Ettinger crashed into the boards head first and was carried from the ice.

Lineups: Lethbridge—Young; Lane, Slobodan; Rimstad; Pringle, Culley, Subb—Burke, Maher, Negrello, Mullen, Camyre, Tennant.

Calgary—Rice-Jones; Ettinger, Millman; Cairns; Thirlwell, Grant, Subb—French, Atkinson, Desmarais, Sprout, Shannon, Trigg.

Louis Picked to Knock Out Baer in Three Rounds

By SID FEDER
(Associated Press Sport Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (AP)—Joe Louis is considerably annoyed when another fighter dumps him out of the ring—especially when he lands on his head.

He is also somewhat irked when he is accused of any foul action. And he is always put out at any kind of a "squawk" from a rival.

Buddy Baer did all of these things to the bomber last May before Joe stopped his challenge in six rounds. Louis isn't angry at the big easy-going Californian, but he doesn't want such a matter as this to stand in the books without a clear cut settlement.

So he figures on walking out in Madison Square Garden's ring on Friday night and telling Buddy over—pudly. This corner believes he'll do it just that way, and that Buddy won't be on hand when the gong sounds for round four.

Of course, an accident can happen this time. Buddy is big and strong and apparently unafraid of playing with the Bomber's dynamite a second time. He has that right hand that tagged Joe last Spring, and he could conceivably pull the trigger on it again. But if training work and mental attitude mean anything, he's going to find himself working with a different dancing partner this time.

And when Joe has a peevish on, it hasn't been safe, up to now, to try to knock a chip off his shoulder.

That's the chief reason the betting boys in the 48th Street shops will just about let you write your own ticket in the 20th defense of Louis' record run as heavyweight champion.

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y., Jan. 7 (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis donned the big gloves for his final sparring session today before he faced Buddy Baer in the 20th defense of his crown for the Naval Relief Society at Madison Square Garden Friday.

The champion went one round, each against four sparring mates. He did the most damage to Doc Ames, whose lower lip was cupped from a sharp right uppercut. Joe will be out on the road tomorrow morning and then will rest until time to motor to New York for the weighing-in at noon Friday.

M.R.K. Midgets, with 10 players available, won a one-sided Midget Hockey League game Tuesday night from a short-handed Fairview team, 12-3, giving the blue-and-red uniformed team four straight wins over the F.A.C. representatives. At one time in the third period the M.R.K.'s led 11-0, after which the F.A.C.'s netted three out of the last four goals.

Nine of the 12 M.R.K. goals were unassisted, while the F.A.C.'s got four assists on their three goals. DesChamps and Breen led the M.R.K.'s scoring with three tallies apiece, while Wassick and Crawford each had two, and Cassios and Waldie each found the net once. DesChamps also had two assists, and Cassios one.

For the F.A.C. Ludlow, Jarvis and Melvor each had a tally, while Irving had three assists, and Ludlow one.

Penalties were served by Lyon, Cassios, Hiescher and Crawford. M.R.K.'s and Jarvis and Irving. F.A.C.'s Richard Tins had the whistle and Don Potanick kept score and time. Teams were:

M.R.K.—Dick Coates, Paul Hiescher, George Ratcliffe, Bill Waldie, Ron Lyon, Ritchey Wassick, Con Cassios, Allan DesChamps, Ron Crawford, Jack Breen.

QUICK-TO-SEW PINAFLORE APRON

Marian Martin
PATTERN 9931

If you like to sew, yet like to finish quickly, make a Marian Martin Apron. You have your choice of two styles in Pattern 9931—apron A is like a child's pinafore, with contrasting ruffles at the shoulders and hem. Don't you like the ric-rac "border" on the centre panel? In apron B, which is made all of one fabric, the ruffles are omitted and the pockets and centre panel outlined with ric-rac. A third version, apron C, may use narrow ruffle trim on the bodice and pockets. Make this apron up in perky cotton—it's so practical for work because the back bodice buttons together!

Pattern 9931 may be ordered only in sizes small (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Small size, view A, requires 1½ yards 35 inch fabric and ½ yard contrast; view B, 2½ yards 35 inch fabric and 2½ yards ric-rac.

Send twenty cents for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, name, address and style number.

Send your order to The Daily News, Pattern Department, Nelson. Pattern will be sent to your home within 10 days.

Zeppelin Raids on U. S. East Coast Cities Expected

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—Responsible military officials said today it is "definitely in the cards" that Germany may use her zeppelins in token raids on East coast cities of the United States.

The Nazis, these sources believe, still have two dirigibles—the trans-Atlantic veteran, Graf Zeppelin, and the LZ-130, sister ship of the Hindenburg which was destroyed by fire at Lakehurst, N. J., in 1937.

Either dirigible could be fitted to carry up to 10 bombers within easy striking distance of the Atlantic coast and could hover off shore while the planes joined destruction on the cities experts here said. On the zeppelins, themselves could undertake a suicide mission and do their own bombing.

Rice Rationing for Japs After Feb. 1

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7 (AP)—Food rationing will begin Feb. 1 in six of Japan's most thickly populated provinces, the Tokyo radio said today in an official Japanese language report.

The broadcast recorded here by CBS, fixed the food quota for each person living in the affected provinces at 35 handfuls of rice a month and slightly less than four kilograms of mima (bean products) daily.

PENESSE THAT 8-SPOT
THERE ARE players who seem to have a congenial fear of finessing low cards. The fine card reader, however, can sometimes know that a little spot card is marked as a sure winner because he can tell just what one of the defenders has in his hand. This kind of reasoning is among the prettiest things in advanced bridge.

One of New York's most brilliant players of the cards was in the South position on this deal, when it came to him in the national Championship Tournament at Richmond, Va. He was Frederick Kaplan, who likes to bid boldly because he knows he can generally take every trick that is possible. This is one time when he also showed great conservatism by not jumping to slam over his partner's invitation, but he proceeded to make one just the same. West led his spade 5 to the J.

and K, and the club 10 was led to the Q. The diamond A and Q and the heart 2 to the 10 were followed by the diamond K and the heart 5 to the A, East discarding a diamond.

That card was the key to the hand. It showed that West had five hearts. If he also had at least four spades, as shown by his lead, he could not have had more than one or two clubs. If he had two and one of them was the J, he probably would have put it on the 10. Hence East was marked with probably four clubs to the J. Consequently Mr. Kaplan now led the club 8 and let it ride, playing the five from his hand. When this won, he led to the club K, overtook the heart Q with the K and scored the Heart J, Club A, dropping the J and the club 9. Thus he took all 13 tricks.

Japanese Claim
Hong Kong Losses

LONDON, Jan. 7 (CP)—Japanese Imperial headquarters, in a Tokyo broadcast recorded by Reuters News Agency, claimed today that British troops at Hong Kong included 13,000 prisoners, 2100 killed, 5000 planes shot down or destroyed on the ground, and 50 ships sunk or damaged.

(No British figures on Hong Kong have been issued to date.)

In addition, the Japanese gave this list of material claimed captured at Hong Kong:

"Seven airplanes; 3200 rifles, 1100 machine guns, 200 guns including 40 heavy guns, 60,000 cartridges, 81 tanks, 2800 cars, 210 trucks, two torpedo boats and a great quantity of gasoline and other material."

The Japanese broadcast continued: "Some 350 enemy planes were shot down or destroyed. They included 410 fighters and 140 bombers. Enemy vessels sunk or damaged totaled 55. These included two destroyers, one submarine, nine gunboats, four torpedo boats and 38 transports."

AMMUNITION CACHE
CAPTURED AT BARDIA

LONDON, Jan. 7 (CP)—British Empire troops captured a large store of Axis ammunition concealed in a tunnel at Bardia after the recent seizure of that German-Italian hold on the Cirenaican coast, a military commentator said today.

He said however, that the ammunition as well as captured weapons, was not likely to be of value because it is not feasible to try to train men to handle unfamiliar weapons unless a steady supply of ammunition is available.

350 TONS OF RUBBER
GOES UP IN SMOKE

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 7 (AP)—Twenty thousand used automobile and truck tires—350 tons of rubber, went up in acid smoke at a North Sacramento wrecking yard last night.

Loss was estimated at $100,000.

44 PLANES DESTROYED
IN RAF RAID ON SICILY

CAIRO, Jan. 7 (CP)—British air headquarters today said 44 Axis planes were destroyed Sunday in the Royal Air Force raid on Castel Vetere airfield in Sicily.

Market Trends . . .

LONDON, Jan. 7 (CP)—The securities market today drew strength from President Roosevelt's message to Congress. Gains were scattered liberally throughout the list and final prices in most cases were tops for the session.

Ldn mkt avg: Inds 102.2 up 9.6; 15 34.8 off 0.1.

NEW YORK—Stocks moved to lower levels today but market action generally was a trifle better after the publication of President Roosevelt's budget message at midday.

NEW YORK—U.S. Governments lost 1-32 to 3-32 of a point on the bond market today.

TORONTO—The selling was more pressing than the buying on the Toronto exchange today and prices were marked down moderately in the industrial and mining groups.

Imperial Oil and N.P.R. moved in considerable volume, both holding firm.

CHICAGO—Buying that centered in the rice and oats pit today gave grain prices another general advance.

Steinhardt New U. S.
Envoy to Turkey

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (AP).—Laurence A. Steinhardt, now Ambassador to Russia, was nominated by President Roosevelt today to be Ambassador to Turkey.

Steinhardt would succeed J. V. A. Macchiarri; both are at present in the United States.

The sending of Steinhardt to Ankara from his diplomatic service in Soviet Russia was regarded in some official quarters as significant.

Russian-Turkish relations have appeared to observers merely as wavering back and forth between the German and United Nations cause as the tides of war have changed on the Russian front.

Warn Shortage of

LONDON (CP).—The "secret weapon" of Dutch workers, who dislike the idea of producing for the Nazis, is alleged stupidity. It is reported a "gradual lessening of the intelligence of workers and foremen is gravely interfering with German production plans."

Nakusp Royally Entertains
Holiday Party of Airmen

NAKUSP, B.C.—Nine of the British airmen stationed at Medicine Hat "swooped" down on Nakusp for New Year's holidays, to be guests of the citizens. Brought in by cars (graciously loaned) from Nelson, the boys arrived New Year's Eve, at the home of Frank Rushton, and were received by their various hostesses. Mrs. R. Buerge, Miss Jean Waterfield, Mrs. Oscar Salstrom, Mrs. S. Jackson and Mrs. Frank Rushton. Tea was served, which was followed by a cheery word of welcome by Rev. F. W. Daglish. The airmen were then escorted to their designated homes.

Many social functions were given in their honor, the first of which being the New Year's dance, at which they were guests of the Legion. They were joyfully introduced from the platform by President F. Rushton, mentioning the places whence they came and whilst they stood at attention on the stage, Percy Young, (accompanied by his wife) sang "The Wings of England". The usual festive and midnight frolic followed and text was added by the presence of the airmen.

New Year's day brought skating to the airmen and for some of them it was their first appearance on skates, however, they found many willing helpers, male and otherwise—mostly otherwise. Later a sleigh riding party was organized and the boys and girls made "whoopie" in the real old fashioned Canadian way, to the tune of sleigh bells; later they gathered at the hall for dancing. Private dinner parties at the homes of the hostesses were the vogue—and no ration cards were necessary!

The Knights of Pythias Lodge were hosts on Friday evening; dancing, mixed games and novelties were immensely enjoyed "and rather" by the airmen, A. R. S. Stanley acted as chairman, but Roy Bradley, the Chancery Commander of the Lodge, gave the address of welcome, expressing delight that his Lodge were in a position to entertain them and hoped they would enjoy their visit and the scenery. Corp. "Dick" Ketchell and "Sammy" Morby (the wit of the party) responded in a most delightful manner.

The citizens of Nakusp took the visiting airmen into their hearts and wherever they went or visited welcome and the "boys" on many occasions expressed their appreciation—and hoped they could come again, soon.

Many private parties were given and between times skating filled the gaps and before leaving some of the airmen were becoming quite adept skaters.

Four of the party left for camp Saturday, the remaining five leaving Monday, all were given a very hearty send-off, never did guests leave so reluctantly.

The group visiting were as follows: Corp. R. J. Ketchell of Tunstun, Somerset; Lac. "Sammy" Morby of Birmingham, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rushton; Ac. Denis Pitt of Birmingham, Ac. George Roberts, of Liverpool, guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Buerge; Ac. Eric Midridge of London, and Eric Bennett, of Huddersfield, Yorkshire, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Jackson; Lac. W. Burlington of Newcastle, and Ac. Ernie Wright of London, guests of Mrs. H. C. Waterfield; Ac. L. Ridgeway, of London, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Salstrom.

Wholesale grocers report considerable demand for fruit jar accessories. This is probably due to the shortage of tin and rubber. One wholesaler reported that it is doubtful if further supplies of Singapore pineapple can be produced. Apart from the war being waged in the Singapore district, the prices have advanced approximately $1 per case. This price advance would prohibit the sale on this market in order to comply with the new regulations set out by the Wartime Prices and Trades Board.

The shipment of paper supplies seems to be slow in arriving from the manufacturing plants, with the shortage of bleach it is likely that the grade of white paper will be lower. It has been necessary for one wholesaler to pre-rate stocks of canned vegetables, particularly peas, corn and tomatoes, in order to eliminate hoarding and to assure the smaller buyer of some supplies.

CALIFORNIA FROST

Severe frosts in California have resulted in an increase in the price of several lines of vegetables and also in the orange market. There has been a considerable difficulty getting delivery of cars of fruit and vegetables from California owing to the congestion of traffic on the West Coast line. Bananas have advanced slightly, and tomatoes are coming in from California and Mexico.

Local vegetables are still plentiful except for carrots, which are practically cleaned up locally. There is a free movement of these local lines.

There has been a slight decline in the lamb market, and a slight advance in the beef market. The demand for eggs is good and the prices are unchanged.

There were two car arrivals containing wheat, oats, barley, bran, shorts and alfalfa meal; one carload of California vegetables and one of oranges; two carloads of hay, and one of four-pound jam tins.

Mercury Again One Above Zero

A blustering wintry day, Wednesday at Nelson was the second coldest of the winter and of the new year. The mercury dropped to one degree above zero during the early hours, while at its peak for the day it was only 16 degrees higher. A few snow flakes whirled down before a biting wind during the day, and with the barometer falling at nightfall there was indication of more snow to come.

Public Urged Not to Start Rabble-Rousing Over Jap Situation

VANCOUVER, Jan. 6 (CP).—Mayor J. W. Cornett today appealed to Vancouver residents to refrain from "rabble-rousing" after an attempt by Ald. H. D. Wilson to have City Council ask the Federal Government to move British Columbia Japanese East of the Rocky Mountains failed.

Deny Finland Is Ready to Stop Fighting Russia

EDITOR'S NOTE:
This dispatch came through the severe Finnish censorship less than 24 hours after a dispatch from neutral Sweden reported the recurrent presence in Stockholm of several officials from Helsinki including the former Finnish Minister to Moscow who helped make the 1940 peace with Russia, with Sweden as an intermediary. It is possible since Finland is admittedly no longer on the offensive—in fact has been turned to defence—that Russia has ignored peace overtures for the time.

HELSINKI, Jan. 7 (AP).—Official Finnish spokesmen tonight denied widespread rumors that Finland is ready to withdraw from the war against Russia.

Questioned as to an editorial in a Helsinki newspaper last Sunday suggesting that Finland's strategic goal had been reached, these spokesmen said, however, that it was not possible at present to make any official pronouncement on the correctness of this intimation.

For military reasons official silence must still be maintained on the subject, it was asserted.

Authorities admitted, however, that the Finnish army has not engaged recently in offensive operations.

It was pointed out that, while the German army was withdrawing to Winter defences farther South, the Finns could hardly be expected to risk a large-scale offensive even though their ultimate strategic aims remained unaltered.

Essentially, it was said, Finnish policy remained the same as expressed in the November memorandum to the United States: That the Finns distrusted agreements with the Russian regime and had received no guarantees respecting the future security and independence of Finland.

HULL, England (CP).—A Military Cross, first awarded to a Norwegian soldier, was won by Lt. Q. M. Ashjorn Ludvigsen, an officer in the Norwegian army who helped British soldiers cross a turbulent river during the Narvik evacuation.

Airmen Entertained by Nakusp Pythians

NAKUSP, B. C.—The Knights of Pythias, Nakusp Lodge, No. 42, entertained in honor of the visiting British airmen, who were in Nakusp over the New Year holiday. The Pythian Sisters and their families and the hosts and hostesses of the airmen also attended.

FISHERMEN'S RESERVE KEEPS WATCH ON THE WEST COAST

Typical of the stout little vessels which have forsaken the fishing trade to serve the Royal Canadian navy for the duration as patrol boats is the craft shown here, bucking a Pacific gale.

One navy regulation that the ex-fishermen find "easy to take" is the one calling for regular rum rations each day. When winter gales sweep across the Pacific, the daily "tot" is welcomed.

A fishing boat captain, offering the services of himself, his vessel and his crew, is given a navigational test by two officers of the R.C.N.—Photos, Public Information.

Mrs. Colina Kimpton of Windermere, Dies

INVERMERE, B. C.—The fast dwindling ranks of the pioneers had another loss this week with the death of Mrs. Colina M. Kimpton, aged 78, wife of the late Rufus A. Kimpton, at Windermere on January 2.

Mrs. Kimpton came to Calgary from Eastern Canada in 1886, lived for many years in Donald and moved to Windermere in 1900, where the family has since resided. She is survived by a son, Vaughan Stanley Kimpton of Windermere and a grandson.

The funeral was held Monday from St. Peter's Church, Rev. F. Stanford officiating.

FIRST 60-TON TANK FOR U. S. ARMY
The United States army's newest and most powerful tank, a 60-ton monster of the M-1 type, crushes a truck as if it were an eggshell in a demonstration at the Eddystone, Pa., plant of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, when it was turned over to U. S. army.

3 Cases Here in Month; Holidays "Very Orderly"

Three cases, two under the Summary Convictions Act and one of an indictable offense, were tried in City Court in December, according to Chief G. R. Bone's monthly report to the Police Commission. Fines totalled $128, no jail sentences being imposed.

Articles reported stolen during the month were valued at $80, and were all recovered. Two bicycles were reported stolen and recovered. Five automobile accidents were reported and investigated, and one child reported lost was returned to its home.

Thirty-six complaints were investigated, and seven investigations were carried out for other police departments. The patrol car covered 1287 miles on police duty.

Celebrations over the Christmas and New Year's holidays were "very orderly," according to Chief Bone's report. There were no reports of damage, no arrests made, and no automobile accidents reported.

Mrs. Motherwell to Head Nakusp Aux.

NAKUSP, B. C.—Miss A. A. Allen officiated at the installation of officers at the January meeting of the Nakusp Evening Auxiliary at the United Church Manse Monday evening. The officers installed were: President, Mrs. J. Motherwell; Vice-President, Mrs. E. Oxenham; Secretary, Miss B. Jamieson; Treasurer, Miss N. Johnson; Supply Secretary, Mrs. L. Embree, and Strangers Secretary, Mrs. H. Sunstrom.

Mrs. Oxenham reviewed a chapter of the book "Freedom", and the devotionals were led by Miss N. Johnson. Mrs. J. Motherwell had charge of a contest which was won by Miss Jamieson. The Auxiliary will sponsor a party for the Sunday School children it was decided.

Mrs. O. Goudish served tea assisted by Mrs. J. McCulloch.

Man Mountain Dean Can Still Lick Japs

ATLANTA, Jan. 7 (AP).—Frank S. Leavitt, 30, bewhiskered former wrestler known as Man Mountain Dean, signed up today with the Tank Corps.

"I've beaten every Jap I ever wrestled, and I can still do it," he boomed as Sgt. Cecil Myles filled out the necessary papers.

Eighteen per cent of all U.S. defence contracts awarded from June, 1940 to September, 1941, went to the three Pacific Coast states.

Interpreting The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst
The second month of war in the Pacific opens with mounting evidence that time is the least expendable war commodity available to the Japanese aggressors and it is slipping away from them as it did for Hitler in Russia.

There are implications of desperation in what seems to be Japanese efforts to invade the rich Netherlands Indies in force even before the Luzon and Singapore pivots of allied defences have been cracked or definitely neutralized.

The size and composition of the naval escort provided to guard a dozen Japanese troopships intercepted by United States bombers off the Southern tip of the Philippines lends color to the conclusion that invasion of Borneo on a grand scale was being attempted.

Whether heavy American air strafing broke up the attempt is not yet indicated. The fact that a Japanese battleship, five cruisers, six destroyers and 12 submarines were sighted and some of them sunk or damaged, clearly indicates, however, the major importance of the move in Japanese strategy.

That constitutes an important segment of Japanese fleet strength. It gives allied naval strategists new and vitally important information on present dispositions of that fleet. And interception of the convoy in the vicinity of Japanese-occupied Davao on the Southeastern corner of the Philippine island of Mindanao, hundreds of miles from its probable destination, is almost as important as the damage inflicted.

It proves that an air-implemented allied barrage against further Japanese incursions Southward from the China Sea is taking shape among the islands, big and little of the Southwest Pacific.

Reported selection of Gen. Sir Archibald P. Wavell of a central headquarters site in Java reflects the defensive pattern of united nation strategy. He is supreme commander of American-British-Netherlands forces on which falls the burden of manning those island ramparts, a sea-and-land front nearly 2000 miles wide and half that in depth from the Northern tip of
