Serious Attacks in Belgium Held by British Troops

150 British and French Bomber Planes Halt German Advance in Sedan Area to Allow French Counter-Attacks

By J. F. SANDERSON—Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, May 16 (Thursday) (CP)—General headquarters announced in a brief bulletin early today that the British Expeditionary Force in Belgium "after hard fighting" had held successfully "serious German attacks."

Lending emphasis to reports that the Allies have taken the initiative in the air was a statement in the headquarters bulletin that the air component of the B. E. F. had destroyed at least 124 enemy planes since the German offensive started.

Havas News Agency today estimated at 750 the number of German planes shot down since the Reich's grand-scale Western offensive began. Wreckage of 690 Nazi planes has been found, Havas said.

Last night French military spokesmen announced that in the Northern sector, around strategic Sedan, French troops had emerged from the fortifications to begin a "war of movement."

The Air Ministry disclosed that in this fighting the Royal Air Force was pounding German troops in Belgium with such violence that the reported loss of 35 British planes was considered "not excessive" in the light of the results achieved.

The Allies have taken the initiative in the air, despite Germany's boasted air power. This was established by today's developments and by the fact that yesterday the British and French turned loose the greatest co-ordinated bombing attack in aerial history.

Correspondents with the British expeditionary force in Belgium telegraphed London that the Allied air arm was fighting the Germans "to a standstill" in a mighty encounter, and the Air Ministry announced "repeated low-flying attacks on enemy troops."

The biggest fleet of bombers that ever worked in unison, 150 British and French machines, halted the German advance over the Meuse River yesterday in the Sedan area, enabling French troops to launch counter-attacks. There were new German attacks in the area today.

Dropping low over long columns of German men and machines, the Allied bombers attacked in waves, stemming the forward march of the field grey legions by destroying bridges, wrecking tanks, blowing up roads and scattering German troops.

In operations of this sort the R. A. F. has been using low level bombing with its deadly accuracy but inevitable risk from ground defences of the light automatic type. Planes often drop as low as 100 feet, releasing their bombs in "sticks" or patterns, traddling the long narrow columns of troops and transports in the knowledge there will be enough hits to compensate for the added risks.

On the home front authorities heard without comment Berlin radio broadcasts that the Reich army was "standing at England's door" with fighters less than an hour away by air.

LONDON, May 15 (CP-Havas)—The Air Ministry issued the following communique tonight on latest Allied operations in the West:

British Ship Is Struck by Nazis

"Further details have now been received of the Allied air attack yesterday in the Sedan area. Yesterday morning it was seen that the offensive was developing at a crossing of the Meuse. Light bombers were sent out to attack pontoon bridges which the enemy had thrown across the river. Several of these bridges were destroyed and, although subjected to intense anti-aircraft fire, all our aircraft returned safely.

"Later in the day, as the situation deteriorated, a force of British and French bombers launched a combined attack on the crossing of the Meuse and the main lines of advancing reinforcements.

"The attack was opened by a large wave of French bombers with fighter escorts and followed up by still heavier British formations. One hundred and fifty Allied aircraft participated in this operation in which four bridges were destroyed. Large tank and troop concentrations were broken up and roads blocked.

"The effect of this operation was to halt the German advance in the Sedan sector and enable the French to launch a counter-attack.

"Throughout the day extensive bombing operations were also carried out on other parts of the battle front. Considerable damage was inflicted on the enemy. In these operations enemy fighters were also accounted for. During the night bombing raids were carried out in Germany on the enemy's line of communication.

"Relay fighter patrols, in some of which French and British pilots flew in company, were carried out yesterday from dawn to dusk. Sections

ONE-FOURTH OF HOLLAND'S ARMY KILLED BY NAZIS

Troops Driven Into Belgium Again to Fight

PARIS, May 15 (CP).—One-fourth of the Dutch armed forces—100,000 men—were killed in five days of fighting against the German war machine, N. N. Van Kieffens, Netherlands Foreign Minister, said today as the Dutch Legation in France announced that remnants of the shattered army of Holland driven into Belgium were reforming their units and preparing to carry on the struggle.

"Our losses were considerable," Van Kieffens said. "We had 400,000 men with the colors. One-fourth were killed.

"Some regiments, such as the Grenadiers who guarded our Sovereign, lost 80 per cent of their effectives. These losses were suffered in attempts to retake the airports."

The Dutch Legation in turn announced:

"We learn from a Netherland source that certain troops contingents were driven into Belgium from Southern Holland.

"These units will be reassembled immediately in order to constitute the nucleus of new Netherland military forces whose formation was immediately projected by the Netherland Government now at London."

In a Press conference Van Kieffens revealed that the Germans had captured the Key Meersch bridge across the Hollandsche Diep by the use of "Trojan horse" tactics. A group of German soldiers disguised in Dutch uniforms sped ahead of a motorized column in a captured autobus. At the bridge they shot down unsuspecting Dutch guards placed to blow up the bridge when the German column approached. The Germans threw the bodies in the river and took over the bridge defences, which they held until their main force arrived.

The motorized column then poured across the Hollandsche Diep unopposed and captured an airport near Rotterdam on the other side.

The Dutch Foreign Minister emphasized that surprise and deception in the German attack were a basic cause of the quick Dutch defeat.

"In attacking us," he said, "Germany used methods worse than those used against Norway, for then there was at least a pretence at negotiation. We were surprised Thursday night by the laying of magnetic mines at the mouths of the big rivers and in the ports and basins at Amsterdam, Rotterdam and Helder, our biggest naval base."

"The Germans," Van Kieffens said, "came down from planes in Dutch, French, British and Belgian uniforms. They also came disguised as priests, nuns, nurses and in many other ways. They spread through the countryside by the hundreds, so that no one knew who was friend and who was foe."

"Several hundred students were reported to have started a march to the Yugoslav legation but were dispersed.

Police dispersed about 10,000 students and others who gathered in the Piazza Venezia for a third day of parading and slogan-shouting.

Colonel Papademas, Undersecretary of War, arrived in the frontier region of Yanina, to take personal charge of preparedness operations.

Announcement that the British and French fleet had taken to the sea from Alexandria for manoeuvres caused uneasiness among the Greeks.

It was reported—but not confirmed—that British pressure was being brought to bear upon Greece to permit establishment of naval bases for the British fleet on Greek islands.

The 1100-ton Valentine, classified technically as an escort ship, normally carried close to 200 men. She was built as a destroyer in 1917, but was rearmored as an escort vessel in 1938-39.

The Admiralty said the information of damage to the Valentine was received following issuance of a statement which said that no British warships, with the exception of the lost British submarine Seal, had been sunk, set on fire or seriously damaged since Germany invaded the lowlands.

"The effect of this operation was to halt the German advance in the Sedan sector and enable the French to launch a counter-attack."

Unsuccessful Nazi Attack on an Aircraft Carrier

Released by the British censors, this cable-photo shows an unsuccessful aerial attack by Nazi bombers on an unnamed British aircraft carrier. Four huge spouts of water can be seen rising near the carrier. The location of the attack was not divulged, but the Germans recently claimed to have attacked British aircraft carriers off the Norwegian coast.

Fernie Assizes Hall; New Jury Panel Is Ordered

FERNIE, B. C., May 15 (CP)—The sitting of the Fernie Spring criminal assizes were adjourned until Thursday today when the court ordered the sheriff to increase the jury panel. The new list of 25 names includes residents of nearby Michel, Natal and other towns.

The original panel included 48 names but several were excused and last night a jury in the case of Roy Whitehouse, alias Roy Savage, charged with the murder of W. A. Ingram, disassembled and was dismissed.

Crown Counsel Harry Colgan told Mr. Justice Murphy when the court met today it would be impossible to secure a jury for the retrial of Savage and the two trials of James Albert Morgan and Walter Halle on murder charges in the Ingram death, from the remaining list of jurors.

Italians Parade Near Yugoslavia

BELGRADE, May 15 (CP-Havas)—Italian demonstrators gathered near the Yugoslav border tonight shouted demands that Yugoslavia Dalmatia be turned over to Italy.

The demonstration was held near the Ouhak frontier bridge linking the two countries.

During the First Great War Italy sought to obtain Dalmatia, which runs along the Eastern side of the Adriatic Sea.

In Rome troops were thrown around the Yugoslav Legation.

PARIS, May 15 (CP).—Havas News Agency tonight said it had heard a report from Berlin that German authorities had ordered the evacuation and closing of all schools, convents and castles in the German-Yugoslav border area. The buildings will be taken over by German military authorities, the report said.

Germany and Yugoslavia have been neighbor States since Germany annexed Austria in 1938.

Cotterell Passes Through Nelson on His Way to Golden

C. A. Cotterell, Vancouver, Assistant General Manager of Western Lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, passed through Nelson Tuesday night en route to Golden via the Lake Windermere sub-division. He arrived from the Coast Tuesday night and left by truck motor at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

He is on a regular tour of inspection.

UNITED CHURCH PLEDGES LOYALTY TO EMPIRE

VANCOUVER, May 15 (CP).—The British Columbia conference of the United Church of Canada met today and immediately passed a resolution affirming loyalty to the King and Empire and a firm belief in the justice of the Allied cause.

Rev. Peter Henderson, M. A., of Courtenay, was elected President of the conference when it met this afternoon.

AMERICANS WARNED TO QUIT WAR ZONES

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP).—A blanket warning to Americans in Western and Southern European countries to leave for the United States was issued today by the State Department.

Enemy Aliens Seized at Border

MONTREAL, May 15 (CP)—A Royal Canadian Mounted Police official said tonight that three enemy aliens taken into custody at "border points" are being held here and that one will be arraigned tomorrow on a charge of violating the defence of Canada regulations.

The R.C.M.P. official said David Loors, 42, of Montreal, a registered enemy alien, will appear on a charge of attempting to leave Canada without the "exact" permit necessary to re-registered enemy aliens.

GUNFIRE SHAKES ENGLISH HOUSES

LONDON, May 15 (CP)—Gunfire from the bat' s raging in Belgium and France shook houses at Deal on the Southeast coast of England tonight.

Deep vibrations which lasted for a full minute rattled doors and windows. Similar distant rumblings were heard earlier in the day. The tremblings were described as so violent that they resembled an earthquake.

Each rumbling was heard approaching like a mighty wind, first murmuring in the distance and increasing to crescendo violence as the windows and doors rattled.

Deal residents were convinced the rumblings were caused by the artillery bombing in Belgium and France. They said they frequently heard the same thing during the last war when the wind was blowing from the East.

Nazis Threaten to Bomb Brussels

BERLIN, May 15 (AP)—The German army tonight threatened to bomb Brussels, the Belgian capital, and hammered at French defences North of Sedan.

With his Nazi forces driving in a resurrection of the famed Von Schefflen plan for a move into France around the Allied left flank—a plan which failed in 1914—Hitler in an order of the day boasted the future will show the importance of the five-day Dutch conquest.

The German High Command threatened that if Belgian authorities wish to save Brussels from Nazi air fury, they must cease all military activity in the Belgian capital.

The Belgian Government declared on May 16 through its Foreign Minister in Brussels and likewise through mediation of its diplomatic intermediary, the United States embassy in Berlin, that Brussels is an open city, that no troops were in Brussels, nor would they move through the city, a High Command communique said.

"This statement of the Belgian Government does not correspond to the fact," the communique claimed. "German air reconnaissance during the last few days has established beyond doubt that all kinds of military columns are moving through Brussels as well as military transports through this railway junction."

Harry Lauder to Entertain Canucks

ALDERSHOT, May 15 (CP Cable)—A rare treat awaits the hardy men of the Canadian 1st Division who have had little time for recreation while finishing their training.

Sir Harry Lauder, Scotland's celebrated singing comedian, is coming to Aldershot to stage a series of concerts for the special benefit of the Canadians. He and his supporting company of all-star entertainers will make a four-night stand, May 20-23.

Defence Message to U. S. Congress to Go on the Air

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt decided tonight to deliver his special defence message to Congress in person.

He will speak at 10 a.m. Pacific Standard Time Thursday. The address will be broadcast nationally, and perhaps internationally over the NBC, CBS and MBS radio networks.

With little opposition in sight, President Roosevelt worked overtime preparing the message recommending new expenditures of perhaps $3,000,000,000 for defence of the United States.

Legislators abashed at the progress of German arms in Belgium and Holland, called for the perfection of American defences against any possible aggression. Controversy on the subject simmered down largely to a dispute over how the money should be raised.

From the Senate Naval Committee meanwhile came a report urging an 11-per cent expansion of the fleet, and a statement that such an increase would make the navy so effective "that few nations, not excluding victorious totalitarian nations, will challenge its power."

Van Der Stad New Dutch Commander

LONDON, May 15 (CP)—Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands has appointed Rear Admiral Van der Stad as Commander of all Dutch military and naval forces in the Province of Zealand, the Netherlands legation announced tonight.

The Queen herself announced the appointment to the Dutch forces by radio.

"I know that my people in the Netherlands as well as in the overseas territories are looking toward you with hope and admiration for the way in which you are carrying out your duties," she said.

"I know that I can have confidence in you. I am constantly with you in thought."

Zealand is the Province of low islands South of Rotterdam, and North of Antwerp, Belgium, resisting the Germans.

Legion Branches Urge Government to Stop Fifth Column Actions

OTTAWA, May 15 (CP)—Branches of the Canadian Legion in many parts of Canada have forwarded to Dominion Command headquarters resolutions urging that the Dominion Government take immediate steps to suppress subversive elements and "fifth column" activities in Canada. J. T. Bowler, General Secretary of the Legion announced tonight.

The resolutions also ask a ban on German language publications and all German language meetings as well as investigation of non-English aliens, especially those whose countries are displaying anti-British tendencies.

Clear Weather in Nelson Wednesday

The bright weather of last week and the weekend returned to Nelson after two rainy days Wednesday afternoon. Some rain fell in the morning in two or three heavy showers, but the sky cleared just after noon and remained so for the remainder of the day. A total of .02 inch of rain fell.

Big Attack Marks Open War Move; Nazis Gain Ground

Command in Sedan Area "Reorganized"; Three Points Penetrated by Nazi Attack; Powerful Motorized Units Used

By AXEL DE HOLSTEIN—Havas Staff Writer

PARIS, May 15 (CP Havas)—France today launched a "war of movement," hurling its Northern forces into a tremendous counter-attacks against motorized German columns and Nazi infantry which broke through at three points South of strategic Sedan and crossed the river Meuse at other points farther North.

The counter-attack was supported by more than 150 Allied planes and by tanks.

Taking what was regarded as one of the most significant decisions in the war to date, the French Command disclosed it was abandoning its "war of position" in favor of an "open field war of movement," the tactics being employed by the Germans themselves.

It was explained that by "war of movement" the military spokesmen meant a campaign in which armies, based at fortified positions—such as the Maginot line—are thrown out to do battle in the open field against the enemy. In a war of position, such as France has fought to date, the force remain behind permanent or semi-permanent fortifications and try to hold up the enemy along a given line.

Implementing its decision to fight open warfare in the field, the High Command announced "reorganization" of the command in the Sedan area.

At the three points near Sedan, a military spokesman disclosed the Germans penetrated "fairly deeply" into the French defence system.

The German mass attack extended all the way down the Meuse from Namur in Belgium to Sedan in France, with the main force hurled against the Sedan area. The Germans succeeded in crossing the Meuse at a number of points between Namur and Metziers, in France.

The evening war communique also reported Nazi attacks at several points between Antwerp and Northwest of Namur, but all these were repulsed.

The defence system into which the German motorized columns penetrated today in the Sedan area is not part of the Maginot line proper. The Maginot line—and its advance fortresses—is intact from Montmedy on the Belgian border, down to Switzerland.

From the Montmedy area to the North Sea the defences are semi-permanent in nature, with field positions and concrete shelters for machine gunners on the counter-orts of the Meuse. The Nazi thrust was against these positions.

None of Namur's main new German attack was toward Gembloux, on the Brussels-Namur road. This attack was repulsed.

The Nazi infantry hurled against the Meuse line yesterday was not supported by much artillery, but German bombers strafed and bombed French infantry units.

At the same time, following the tactics used by the Nazis in Poland, powerful motorized infantry were sent forward. French units stood up to the attack, but at some points were forced to fall back before the violence of the motorized drive. Such was the case in the three points where the Nazis broke through near Sedan.

When the enemy motorized columns drove into the defence system they spread out. French tanks counter-attacked while French infantry fought against the German infantrymen following up enemy tanks and armored cars.

British and French bombing planes launched a combined attack on Germans crossing the Meuse and the main lines of advancing reinforcements. Large tank and troop concentrations were broken up and roads blocked.

Then the French launched their counter-attack.

The "open field war of movement" played an important role in the first Great War on two separate occasions, the first when employed by the Germans and the second and decisive time by the Allies. The German war of movement was launched by von Klueke's smash through Belgium and Northern France to within striking distance of Paris. It was marked by the German victory at Charleroi and finally was halted by the Allied victory in the first battle of the Marne in September 1914.

The second use of the war of movement came in the Summer of 1918 after almost four years of trench warfare and after the halting of Ludendorff's Spring offensive by von Klueke's smash through Belgium and Northern France to within striking distance of Paris. It was marked by the German victory at Charleroi and finally was halted by the Allied victory in the first battle of the Marne in September 1914.

Germans Bite the Hand That Fed Them—Van Loon

NEW YORK, May 15 (CP)—Henrik Willem Van Loon, historian and biographer, in a letter to the New York Herald Tribune today revealed a little of how the Nazis made such a devastating attack behind the lines of his native country, the Netherlands.

He wrote:

"Listen America, here is something you ought to know. After the last war the people of the Netherlands took care of half a million German children, received them in their homes, fed them, clothed them and kept them for one, two or four years that they might be restored to normal health."

"And 20 years later those nice, docile children, speaking of course, perfect Dutch (that they had not been full-fledged members of a Dutch household for many years?), returned to the land of their hospitality, garbed in one of those 50,000 Dutch uniforms (about which our correspondents have been calling for three months), but again, nobody would believe them, and finally disgusted those grateful little Germans, now completely contaminated with the Nazi virus, burned down the houses that had been their homes and struck down the hands that fed them and saved their lives."

"But America won't listen, and America won't believe. Until it will be too late and the vermin of our office of state."

"And for this letter I will be called a warmonger and the Nazi boys will smile slyly and say 'just because we burned down his own birthplace he is perhaps just a little hysterical,' which God forbid."

Extra Men to Be Put on City Road Work if Needed Mayor States

Should extra men be needed to push surfacing work on city streets when the weather was more settled they would be available, stated Mayor N. C. Stibbs at Tuesday night's Council meeting, answering a query by Ald. T. H. Waters. The Alderman urged that no time should be lost in proceeding with this work when conditions were right.

Four Stunned, Radios, Phones, Lights Out of Order in Electrical Storm

Church Is Struck During Service; Homes Hit

Four people were partly stunned, windows were broken, radios and telephones were put out of commission, lights were blown out, the Church of the Redeemer was struck during a service, a water pipe leading to a wash basin was damaged, causing it to leak, and a hole was blown in the bathroom of a Fairview home by offshoots of lightning Tuesday night in the worst electrical storm over Nelson for several years. Bomblike peals of thunder and a short, heavy downpour of rain accompanied the storm.

It was theorized that the damage was caused by offshoots from direct lightning strikes, the offshoots members of the congregation were alarmed.

In the home of Mrs. A. McL. Fletcher, 402 Nelson Avenue, lights were blown out at one flash and a vase of flowers on the living room table was knocked over, spilling the water, at the next.

All damage reported by the City of Nelson Electrical Department was repaired in short order. Four transformers in Fairview and two in other parts of the City and light services on the North Shore were all affected but repairs were made quickly.

While the serial of CKLN Radio Nelson was struck three times, no damage was done.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Telegraph Company reported no damage to any of its equipment. The B.C. Telephone Company reported a number of Fairview phones were put out of order.

Windows in many buildings were shaken and heavy rain falling for a short time on the roof of the Civic Centre lacrosse arena sounded like thunder itself.

Patriotic Note Struck in Glee Club's Concert

Club Scores With Solo and Choral Numbers; Feature New Song

Zestful choral renditions and delightful solo numbers, with the featured singing of the current patriotic favorite, "There'll Always Be an England," brought a thrill to Nelson music lovers at the Nelson Glee Club concert in St. Paul's United Church Wednesday evening. Proceeds of the concert will go to the Canadian Red Cross.

A patriotic note was struck at the opening, with the singing of "O Canada" and England's latest favorite, "There'll Always Be an England," and it was maintained throughout by further choral singing of such stirring numbers as "Rule Britannia," "Men of Harlech," and "Comrades in Arms." The solo "There'll Always Be an England," by E. P. Baker, was followed by the same number and finally then with the entire audience joining in. It was the opening and closing number of the program.

VISITING, NELSON SOLOISTS IN LEADING PARTS

Two local favorites, E. P. Baker, baritone, and Mrs. H. H. Jenne, alto, soloist, together with Mrs. Courtney Scott of Calgary, soprano, and Mrs. Hans Fogh-Dohmstidt of Trail, cellist, both good entertainers, won the applause of the audience for their leading parts in the concert. Fine choral singing by the Nelson Glee Club chorus rounded out the entertainment.

The program as presented follows: Chorus, "There'll Always Be an England," Glee Club; vocal solos, "St. Agnes Morn" by Purcell, and "Songs My Mother Taught Me" Handel, E. P. Baker; recitations, "Visiting Grandma" and "Johnny's Pocket," Mrs. H. H. Jenne; chorus, "The Goodbye," Glee Club; vocal solos, "Voilà la Sapete" from "Cavalleria Rusticana," Mascagni, and "Carmen," Wilson Lake, Mrs. Courtney Scott; cello solos, "Rondo," Antonian Dvorak, and "Serenade," David Popper, Mrs. Hans Fogh-Dohmstidt; chorus, "Rule Britannia" and "Men of Harlech," Glee Club; recitation, "Mother's Helper," Mrs. H. H. Jenne; cello solo, "Le Cygne," C. Saint Saens, "Serenade," Victor Herbert, and "At the Fountain," C. Davidson, Mrs. Fogh-Dohmstidt; vocal solos, "Silent Worship," Handel and "I Heard a Forest Praying," Peter DeRose, E. P. Baker; chorus, "Tom, Tom" and "The Spacious Firmament," Glee Club; vocal solos, "Pilgrim's Song," Tchaikowsky and "Sing Birds on the Wings," Kutting, Mrs. Courtney Scott; chorus, "Comrades in Arms" and "There'll Always Be an England," Glee Club.

Encores were demanded of both the vocal and instrumental soloists, and the following numbers were rendered as encores: vocal solos, "The Naughty Little Clock," DeKoven and "My Hero" from "The Chocolate Soldier," Mrs. Courtney Scott; cello solos, "Rondo," Boccherini and "Cradle Song," Nolek, Mrs. Fogh-Dohmstidt; and vocal solo, "To Music," Schubert, E. P. Baker.

F. E. Wheeler was Conductor of the Glee Club chorus. Mrs. C. W. Tyler was accompanist for Mr. Baker, Miss Cynthia Docksteadler of Trail for Mrs. Fogh-Dohmstidt, and Miss Margaret Graham for Mrs. Scott. Ven. Archdeacon Fred H.

Falls Gun Jumping

Renato Enrico, 440-yard sprinter for Temple University, is shown in the starting gate for runners invented by that institution's track coach, Ben Ogden, when the gun is fired, the straps holding the runners back, are automatically released, thus preventing false starts and "gun jumping." Because, while in his crouch, the runner leans against the straps, Ogden believes faster starts will result. The apparatus is still in experimental stage.

Graham was Chairman, while three uniformed nurses of the Kootenay Lake General Hospital staff were ushers.

Tabernacle Folk Hold a Birthday Social for Pastor

A surprise birthday social was tendered Rev. C. A. C. Story, Pastor of Bethel Tabernacle, by members of his congregation Tuesday evening. An impromptu program directed by Miss Elsie Riddock, followed by refreshments and the cutting of a beautiful birthday cake, filled the evening.

The program follows: Vocal duet, "Near To The Heart of God," Frank Lang and Thomas Bishop; recitation, "As in the Days of Noah," Thomas Bishop; concert solo, "Love Lifted Me," James Johnston; piano duet, "The King of the Forest," Ira Kraft and Margaret Lang; mixed vocal quartet, "Under His Wing," Miss Riddock, Miss Edith Lang, Frank Dyck and Mr. Story; male vocal quartet, "A Shelter in the Time of Storm," Frank Dyck, Frank Lang, Erling Kraft and Thomas Bishop; vocal duet, "In the Pilot's Hand," James Lockhead and Miss Dorothy Bingham; and vocal solo, "He Who Watches," Frank Dyck. A contest on Bible questions was won by Mrs. Story and Miss Riddock.

While the congregation joined in singing "Happy Birthday to You," a beautifully decorated cake was carried in by Bill Rambold and Elmer Lang, following which a session of testimonies was led by Erling Kraft. Several of the gathering expressed gratitude for the faithful service of Mr. and Mrs. Story. Both Mr. and Mrs. Story in return thanked the congregation members for their cooperation, mentioning particularly "the spirit of love and goodwill that exists in our midst."

A dainty lunch was served at the close of the evening, the ladies arranging the cake while the younger men cut and served the food and lemonade.

Particularly surprising to Mr. Story was the singing of the male quartet number, "A Shelter in the Time of Storm," by Frank Dyck, Frank Lang, Erling Kraft and Thomas Bishop over Radio Station CKLN early Tuesday morning.

Trail Doing Its Part in War Declares Curran

TRAIL, B. C., May 15—At Patterson last June 4, American and Canadian citizens in unison sang "America" "God Save the King" and "The International Song" when a banquet commemorating 150 years of peace between the two countries was unveiled and dedicated.

Members of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce goodwill touring party, members of the Trail Board of Trade and the Trail Junior Chamber of Commerce, terminated a banquet tendered the visitors by the Trail bodies Wednesday evening by singing these anthems again.

"We assure you that our goodwill trip is more than just a visit," asserted H. G. Ferris, Vice-President of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce, "for we feel our relation with our Canadian cousins is a little closer at this time. I am sure there is no one in our group that questions the outcome of this terrible war. We join with you in every way it is possible to cooperate toward the ultimate and successful outcome of this conflict."

Referring to the tourist trade, Mr. Ferris pointed out that the Spokane Chamber of Commerce spent a great deal of money each year promoting tourist traffic. The Northwest Tourist Association, to which it belonged, was doing its utmost to attract tourists "this way." A greater influx of tourists to the Inland Empire and British Columbia was expected this year, he said, and he hoped that many tourist dollars would stay in the province.

"BELL" COULEE DAM

"We are particularly selling tourists the Coulee Dam," said Mr. Ferris, "and travel clubs are bringing tourists on up here to show them the sights of Canada. We are selling them the idea that it is a particularly good time because their dollars go farther."

Pointing out that the Spokane Chamber of Commerce was working for the extension and growth of the entire Inland Empire to which "we feel B. C. belongs," Mr. Ferris said "the success of Spokane must be the success of the entire area, and we take pride in the industrial development you have achieved in this area."

Despite being a newcomer to the Kootenays, Olaf Wolff, member of the Trail Junior Chamber of Commerce, most ably outlined the district attractions.

It had to describe the Kootenays in two words he said he would choose "beauty" and "variety." The Kootenays had a wealth of industry in lumbering and mining. For the tired businessman the Kootenays presented every pleasure. For the summer vacationist it offered every facility; for the fisherman the finny fighter, the Kamloops trout; for the hunter, his choice of game from the grouse to the grouse; and abundant winter sports for all.

WELCOMES

Mayor Herbert Clark extended the visitors a cordial welcome "on behalf of this little town of ours which we are extremely proud of."

W. A. Curran, President of the Trail Board of Trade welcomed the visitors on behalf of the Board, expressing delight in being able to extend a welcome particularly when Canada was at war.

While there were no apparent indications in Trail of Canada being at war, he assured the members of the touring party that Trail was doing its part. The great industry which had its home in trail was producing the sinews of war, he said.

Due to the marvellous metallurgical processes developed in Trail, products produced at a price far less than for the last war. There was more metal and a better quality of metal.

Lee S. Libby, Chairman of the Inland Empire Relations Committee, took over the program from Mr. Curran and introduced all the visitors.

Harry Goetz, Trip Chairman, who spoke briefly, pointed out that Canadians should be optimistic in spite of the things "look bad" now, he said, Curran assured him that "we are."

Travelling with the Spokane party were Benny Lindberg and Art Shumaker, musical entertainers who each rendered several numbers.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should purify your blood daily. If bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sore, weak and the world looks pink.

A new bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a cathartic but have no cathartic or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. If stubbornly refuse a substitute else.

Nazi Officers Carry Dress Uniforms to War

By GERARD JOUVE (Havas Staff Writer)

LONDON, May 15 (CP-Havas)—Before fleeing Holland aboard a British destroyer Monday night, I inspected a German air drome, near The Hague, where I saw the wreckage of 15 Nazi bombing and pursuit planes. Inside the hangar were others, some of them undamaged.

The Germans captured the air drome the first day of the invasion, rained parachutes and planes onto the field. Dutch pursuit planes and anti-aircraft battery took a murderous toll, but the Germans were evidently under orders to effect the capture at all costs, and kept coming until the defenders finally ran out of ammunition.

The Germans were in full possession for six hours. Finally Dutch reinforcements came up and reoccupied the field after terrible fighting. Inside the main hangar, where the best planes were stored, the Nazis had placed their prisoners. Dutch artillery blasted the hangar during the battle. I saw the results afterward—the charred bodies of some 40 Dutch soldiers killed by shells fired by their comrades in arms.

Some of the German planes in the hangar completely escaped damage and the Hollanders took them over when they recaptured the air drome. On the field I saw several Nazi craft whose crews had been killed by machine-gun fire while seated at their posts.

I examined the Nazis' gear. They had come prepared for almost anything. They had brought with them automatic arms, grenades, large stocks of ammunition and provisions and motor scooters.

The officers all had their dress uniforms along—to be donned for the triumphant march into The Hague.

I saw two parachutists brought into The Hague. They were between 18 and 20 years old. They told how they had sat on the floor of their plane and had been automatically dumped when the chief pilot gave the signal.

In the night sky I saw the red glare from fires burning at Rotterdam, where 4000 persons were reported to have perished.

I was told the last before German-born Prince Bernhard fled to Britain with Crown Princess Juliana and their two little daughters, he took a potshot at a parachutist with a sub-machine gun from a wood outside The Hague.

Another Red Cross Dance at Blewett

BLEWETT, B. C.—A second successful Red Cross dance was sponsored recently by the Blewett and City Plant Auxiliary under the co-sponsorship of Mrs. R. Greyson, with Mrs. J. A. Robinson, Acting Convener. Music for the occasion was donated by a local orchestra consisting of E. Nemrava, J. Nemrava, B. Nemrava, H. Wilson and T. Wilson. Master of Ceremonies for the evening was D. Jerome. Mrs. A. Nelson was Refreshment Convener, and was assisted by Mrs. J. A. Robinson, Mrs. S. E. Karr, Mrs. D. Jerome, Mrs. Rempl, Mrs. G. Fieldhouse, S. E. Karr and A. Nelson. In charge of door receipts was H. Jerome, and the colorful posts were made by the children of the Blewett School.

Eric Greyson returned to his home at Enderby recently.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hawkins of the City Power Plant had as their guest the former's mother, Mrs. J. H. Hawkins, of Mara.

Miss M. Irving and nephew, little Ned O'Neil, who were visiting for a few days at the home of the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. Greyson, have returned to Tara.

Mrs. Charles Cotterill, who visited at the home of Mrs. R. Jerome for two weeks, has returned to Nelson.

Bob Haddow, who was injured recently, is making satisfactory progress, but is still under medical supervision.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Harris of Trail spent the weekend at their Summer home at Forty-Nine Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jerome and young son, of the Second Relief, Erie, visited at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Jerome.

Miss Elizabeth Fleck of Creston spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hawkins.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Robinson had as their guest over the weekend their daughter, Miss W. Robinson, teacher at Castlegar.

Dutch Campaign Future Military Importance—Hitler

BERLIN, May 15 (AP)—Adolf Hitler, in an order of the day to the German troops in Holland, said today that "the future will demonstrate the military importance" of their five-day campaign.

Hitler's order follows: "Soldiers of the Dutch theatre of war.

"In five days you have attacked a strong, well-prepared army which stoutly defended itself behind barriers and military fortifications, seemingly almost invincible; you have eliminated its air force and finally forced it to surrender.

"You thereby achieved a performance which is unique.

"The future will demonstrate its military importance. This success became possible only through your model cooperation, through determined leadership as well as the bravery of soldiers; especially, however, through the heroic part in the face of death of the courageous parachute soldiers and the troops landed by plane.

"In the name of the German people I express thanks and my admiration."

British Warn U. S. of Atlantic Danger

LONDON, May 15 (AP)—The Daily Express, one of the newspapers owned by Lord Beaverbrook, Britain's newly-appointed Minister of Aircraft Production, said in an editorial today: "If, as a result of the German victory in the low countries, Britain ceases to control the Atlantic, the possibility of invasion of America is at hand. Americans therefore have a period in which to make preparations. They should do so on a scale larger than anything that ever has been known."

The East Indies Declare Loyalty to Dutch Queen

BATAVIA, Netherlands East Indies, May 15 (AP)—Dutch military authorities prepared today "to meet all eventualities" as Governor-General Tjarda Van Starkenborgh Schapouwe broadcast a proclamation announcing the laying down of arms in the Netherlands.

The Governor urged Batavians not to despair.

His broadcast was received with deep emotion. One of the first reactions was the decision of many Dutch citizens to apply for service with the Allied armies.

All native rulers and the representatives of other nations in the East Indies, including the Chinese and Arabs, declared their loyalty to Queen Wilhelmina, who will continue to rule her Overseas possessions from Great Britain.

The head offices of many Dutch firms will be transferred from the Netherlands to the Indies. Shipping for Europe is at a standstill, but traffic to the United States is being carried on.

The K. L. M. (Royal Dutch) Airways henceforth will operate their European service in conjunction with British Imperial Airways. The Dutch planes will fly from Batavia to Alexandria, Egypt, and there their passengers and cargoes will be transferred to British planes.

EAST INDIES GOVERNOR GIVEN POWERS
TOKYO, May 15 (AP)—J. C. Pabst, Netherlands Minister to Japan, notified the Japanese Foreign Office today that "in cases of extreme urgency" the Governor General of the East Indies had been empowered to act on his own responsibility and to issue instructions to Dutch diplomatic representatives throughout the world.

Pabst assured the Foreign Office in a letter that the status of the East Indies Governor General was otherwise unchanged.

Life Sentence and 20 Lashes for Assault

TORONTO, May 15 (CP)—Life imprisonment and 20 lashes were the sentences imposed today by Mr. Justice J. Kellier MacKay on Tony Bello and Leonard Hill, convicted of criminally assaulting the 26-year-old wife of a Royal Canadian Air Force officer.

Hill's brother, David, received 15 years and 15 lashes on a similar charge.

Each faced three separate counts. The life sentences and lashes were imposed on the most serious charge; other life sentences for a second revolting offence. In addition, Bello received a concurrent term of eight years for robbery with violence and Hill 10 years on this count.

David Hill's sentence covered all three counts.

Paper Says Early Cooperation With Allies Would Have Saved Holland

LONDON, May 15 (CP)—The Daily Mail said today Adolf Hitler's campaign in the Netherlands would never have succeeded if Holland had cooperated with the Allies before Germany marched.

"Once again Hitler has gambled and won," this newspaper said.

It continued: "The enemy's progress has been rapid. The first wave of his murderous thrust is not yet spent. The Allied peoples must anticipate important withdrawals by their armies, but they should remember that any such retirement will form part of the high strategy of the Allied Command."

"Our friends should be encouraged by the change of spirit which has swept this country in the past week. Industrial Britain has taken its coat off. There has been talk enough in the past eight months. Now the time has come to work—in the robust words of Mr.

Bevin 'work like hell' to beat Hitler."

"Belgium fights gallantly," said The Daily Express, "and the decisive battle for Brussels is still to be waged. The thrust towards France, the attack on Sedan, may be a feint to draw off French troops. Hitler probably wants the low countries as bases for attacks against Britain."

"Hitler means to win the war before Winter. That is the challenge facing us."

The Daily Herald said: "We have changed our Government and with the change accomplished, a dangerous contentment instantly reappears among a large section of our people."

"You hear faithfully repeated with many a wise wink and knowledgeable nod, the alchemical doctrine that 'Britain loses every battle except the last'. Hearing such things you realize that there are many among us who still combine the worst attributes of the parrot and the ostrich. You realize that despite all, the time is on our side; seductive administered by the Chamberlain Government has not yet been purged from the public mind."

Churchill Makes Gov't. Complete

LONDON, May 15 (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill tonight issued a list of appointments which completed his Government. All major offices had been filled in the last four days.

A new post, "Secretary for Petroleum," has been created and given to Geoffrey Lloyd, the former Secretary for Mines.

W. S. Morrison remained as Postmaster General. Sir Walter Womersley is again Minister of Pensions and Viscount Cranborne was appointed Paymaster General.

It was announced that Lord Caldecote would be Government leader in the House of Lords. He is Dominions Secretary.

Other appointments: Attorney General, Sir Ronald Somervell, re-appointed.

Lord Advocate, Thomas M. Cooper.

Color . . . Hair 'Touching Up' Requires Care

By DONNA GRACE
Every modern teen age girl is fascinated with the delightful change in her appearance when she first uses makeup. And if she's the inquisitive one we think she is, her hair is destined to take on new lusters and rare, delicate tints.
Natural blondes may be satisfied for a while to let well enough alone, but even those so favored often feel the urge to use some of the bright rinses. Many bright rinses are made up on a bleach base, and while they are seldom of the strength it takes to change the color of the hair to a shade very noticeable at first, continued applications will make a difference in the color, especially of the ends.
For the first time the rinse is poured over the entire head, but when used frequently, it should be sponged on the top of the head and about the roots only. The ends will retain the bleached tone and do not need any application to keep them light.
The new growth and hair on top of the head may be sponged often, or whenever it is necessary to match with the ends. This method must be used for all bright rinses if you would keep the hair one shade.
Remember that when you have a permanent always tell your operator that you have used a rinse and just what rinse it was, so she can take the necessary precautions in doing the permanent.

SERIAL STORY . . . THE KILLER SPEAKS

CHAPTER 35
I expected to be knifed or clubbed, but my assailant was not yet ready to do away with me.
His hand expertly found my mouth and stuffed a fold of the sack into it before I could cry out. Another rope went around my head and I felt myself biting into it, thoroughly gagged.
"There!" granted William Calla, "There ain't going to be any more spying on me."
I kicked fruitlessly. He knocked me to the ground and tied my ankles. Then he picked me up and dumped me on the steps. His key rattled in the lock. I was dragged inside. The door was shut.
For a long time I lay there, my mind whirling with wild ideas of how I might escape, while he continued his work with the clinking bottles.
Through the sack I could just make out the dim glow of the electric light. Suddenly it snapped out and a moment later I was lifted by those steel arms again and carried down a flight of steps, somewhere inside the building. We were in some secret boat refuge.
I was dropped so that the sharp edge of a board struck me in the middle of the back. The board was rocking under me. I was in a small boat again, probably another row-boat like the one in which he had kidnapped me.

One after another I felt thudding jars in the craft as sacks of bottles, and other sacks containing something softer, were dropped into it. I decided that the bootlegger took along a few sacks of potatoes in case he were ever stopped and questioned.
A door slammed shut overhead and the man climbed into the boat and shoved off, kicking my leg aside. One arm began to feel damp. This boat was not as good as his other one had been.
The oars cranked slowly in the darkness but there was scarcely a sound in the water. The fellow was an expert.
Dimly again through the sucking I saw a light shining, and knew we were out on the river. There, exactly there came a deep throated whistle and a great splashing near us. Our boat tossed and rocked as though it would upset.
I wondered if the man was going to tie a weight to me and drop me overboard.
Time went on and on. It seemed as though we must have rowed and drifted for miles. Occasionally we stopped and the boatman would go ashore and return jingling coins in his pocket and resume rowing.
Finally, after an extra long time without landing, when I had come to the conclusion that our boat must be nearly empty, I heard the oars scrape as he drew them in, and then his hoarse voice in my ear.
"Well, I got rid of it all tonight, in spite of you. Thought you were pretty smart, didn't you. Too smart!" He gave me another kick. "It ain't any satisfaction to you, I'm leavin' town. You've made it too hot for me. But you're going a long long ways farther."
I decided this was his way of telling me he was about to kill me, but how he intended to do it I did not know.
He was not rowing now. We were drifting. I could tell from the darkness that the fog had settled down.
"What gets me," he said, emphatically, "is that I'm gettin' out of town for something I didn't do. I never killed that jeweler. So help me, I didn't get there until after he was dead. But the cops have a way of not believing a guy like me. I ain't takin' any chances—not even with you. You'll be found somewhere between here and Frisco. It'll be an accident."
He must have planned this thoroughly, I told myself.
I twisted to keep my face out of the water. The boat was leaking badly.
The splashing almost died away as we lost all our momentum and drifted into a sheltered place. There was a bump as we gently contacted something. I heard my captor dragging a rope aboard. He was trying to tie the bow of the boat. Then he left me for ten minutes.
I wondered if I could grow loud enough to attract attention, but I decided not to try. Mr. Calla was not far away, and my ribs ached now from his kicks.
The water was deeper in the boat. It was cold, uncomfortable, and alarming.
The sound of feet on planking directly overhead startled me. A gas engine suddenly sputtered to life, and I realized that I was under the stern of a fairly large boat. The water churned into life as the screw began to spin. My small craft rocked then gave a violent jerk.
My captor had tied the rowboat to some kind of motor craft, and had gone off and left me!
"Somewhere between here and Frisco," he had said. He knew the small boat in which I was held would soon fill with water and in the morning the crew would find the rope and wreckage. My body would be somewhere within one hundred miles of the river, victims of an "accident."
The police wouldn't call it an accident, however, not with the victim tied up in a sack. Calla was gambling that my body would not be found or, at least, not until he was safely out of the country.
Bobbing and rolling continuously the rowboat began to fill as it ducked under the waves. I rolled over as best I could, but only slipped deeper. An extra large wave suddenly splashed over the boat and I knew the boat could stay afloat only seconds longer.
I hit into the gag, chewing on the dirty sack and the rope in desperate hope that I could wear through them.
Perhaps I had been chewing on the rope unknowingly, for the past hour. It parted, just as I thought the next wave would send me under.
Spitting out the pieces, I called as loudly as I could. "Help! I cried.
"Help!"
There was a commotion of feet on the big boat and the engine stopped.
"Fret! There's a boat astern of us. Looks like she's tied to us with a rope!" someone called.
"Help!" I yelled again. "I'm sinking!" My voice cracked.
"No mistake about that!" said the first man.
I felt hands pulling on the line, and a scraping and bumping as my craft was drawn alongside. They someone lifted and pulled me up to the deck of the bigger boat, and I found myself with the sack cut away, looking at the startled faces of the crew.

Traffic Nerves . . . Caused By Two Types of Strain

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.
What is the cause of "traffic nerves?"
Investigations by a psychologist, Dr. George H. Mount, have given quite a definite answer to this question. Doctor Mount constructed an apparatus which would make a continuous record of the pulse rate, the blood pressure and the muscular tone of automobile drivers. It was almost possible in reading these records to locate the bumps, the bad paving, the narrow bridges and the sharp curves that had been followed.
Doctor Mount found there were two types of strain—one the steady strain caused by mental irritants, and, the sudden shocks which put the driver's pulse way up. When a passing car cut in ahead of the test car, the driver's pulse jumped to 115. The steady strain was due to noises, loose windows, improper ventilation, poor sitting posture.
Two sets of drivers were tested. One group was instructed to go through a city and "not spare the horses"—try to get ahead of other cars, cut the traffic signals. The other group was told to obey all traffic laws, consider the other cars and not make any deliberate effort to cover ground speedily. The speedy group made a run on an average of 28 minutes while the law-abiding group averaged 33 minutes. This microscopic saving of four minutes was accomplished at the risk of nervous upset because the speeders had a pulse rate of 112 after the run, while the law-abiders had a pulse rate of 90.
The nervous irritation due to steady strain can be cut down at very small cost. A wrench and a roll of friction tape will do wonders towards making any car quieter.
Ventilation in modern cars is taken care of by air conditioning. In older cars the right way to ventilate in a sedan, for instance, is to open the rear small quarter windows about three-eighths of an inch, open the right door window not less than half or more than an inch. This way will insure complete change of air in the car every few minutes and there will be no draft.
In heavy downtown traffic the driver's pulse reaches, on the average, 110. If he allows himself to try to get into competition with more rapid cars, he suffers nerve shock after nerve shock. The speeder who is determined to get ahead saves very little time and does so at the regular damage to his nerves and patience and endurance.

Two Rossland Buildings to Go

ROSSLAND, B.C., May 15 — Another two of Rossland's old buildings has received the death sentence from the City Council. The buildings, both former properties of the late A. D. Christie, who died here last Fall, are located, one on Columbia Avenue, near the Davis Street bridge, and the other back from Washington Street, between First and Second Avenues.
These buildings were recently put up for sale, but the tenders, opened at Monday's meeting, were ordered ignored, and it was decided to call for tenders to have the houses torn down, and then to place the sites for sale.

F.T.J. Funche of Nakusp Is Buried

NAKUSP, B.C.—Funeral services for Friedrich Theodor Jacob Funche, aged 80, who died in Arrow Lake Hospital May 10, were held Sunday in Nakusp United Church, Rev. Callum Thompson officiating.
Mr. Funche is an old-timer of the district, having arrived in Nakusp with his family 39 years ago from Doornburg, Holland, where he was born. The family settled first on the farm now owned by Mrs. J. Harlow at Brouse. Later they moved to town, and Mr. Funche was employed for years by the late Thomas Ahrli.
Mr. Funche leaves three daughters, Mrs. A. Giraud of Smithers, Mrs. H. L. Miller of Nakusp, and Mrs. R. Sanderson of Trail. His wife died a year ago.
Acting as pall-bearers were C. B. Hembling, W. A. Herridge, A. E. Fowler, K. Miller, A. Berling and G. Keys.

Powell Company and B. C. Veneer Works Seek Fire Hydrants

Requests of W. W. Powell Co., Ltd., and of B. C. Veneer Works for installation of fire hydrants on the North side of the C. P. R. track, to serve their properties in the event of fire, were referred by the City Council Tuesday night to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.
H. D. Dawson, City Engineer, estimated the cost of installing a hydrant, including materials, for the Powell Company factory would be $444; and the cost of a hydrant for the Veneer Works would be $180.
In each case the installation would make it unnecessary to lay hose across the C. P. R. tracks in the event of fire.

Subdivision Loan Lot Is Authorized

Subdivision of a lot on Third Street, to permit sale of a lot by Mrs. Triemle loan, was granted by the City Council Tuesday night at the request of A. G. Jounin.

Wrongful . . . Hitch-Hikers Are a Public Nuisance

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph. D.
"Dear Doctor Myers: It is obvious that I read your column, and it is also obvious that I place enough value on its contents to spend my time reaching it, and in the main agree with its contents. But you are off on the enclosed, causing one to wonder what your experience has been.
"Brother, do you not know that to the average man and woman the joy of giving someone a lift is the most enjoyable thing about driving and owning a car? Just where can one experience greater satisfaction than to know that one has helped someone to make progress? . . .
"Should you find time to acknowledge this, I would get some of the seeds before I get when I pick up some of the finest fellows I have ever met."
Here is the statement of mine to which he refers: "In my humble judgment, hitch-hiking, except in cases of distress, is morally and economically wrong. In many states it is illegal. I'd rather have a child of mine begging for bread than for a ride. He would be less of a public nuisance."
I wrote this correspondent that I sincerely believed that if one of my sons or I had the privilege to take a ride with him in his car, we would have a profitable journey; that I admired his generous spirit; but was not swayed from my former statement by his argument; that, moreover, I hoped to quote from his letter and make a few comments on it in this column. The comments follow.
I would certainly agree with this critic that great joys come from sharing and that about the greatest satisfaction one can experience is "to know that one has helped someone to make progress." I disagree, however, that by encouraging hitch-hiking we can win this satisfaction without contributing to the inconvenience of some persons and the delinquency of others.
DID THE SAME THING
Prompted by the same motives this man reveals, I used to pick up hitch-hikers and never had any unhappy experiences with them. But I have known others who have had. Besides, hitch-hikers impede traffic and add to accidents. Business concerns hardly would post a "no rider" sign on their trucks and would state legislators declare hitch-hiking illegal if there were not good reasons.
Should one share just for one's own satisfaction? Think of the thousands of children who have been spoiled, even ruined, because their parents got so much satisfaction from excessive generosity, even self-sacrifice. Consider the paupers who have been made through indiscriminate giving by those who give only for the joy of

Mrs. Henderson of Province Modern Kitchen Gives Interesting Recipes

Nelson "housewives" were out en masse to attend the Vancouver Province Travelling Cooking School held in Civic Centre Theatre Wednesday when they watched Mrs. Margaret Henderson demonstrate many new and interesting dishes. Classes will be held again today with many new favorites on the program and the cooked dishes being distributed among the audience as they were Wednesday.

Mrs. Henderson kept her audience interested while demonstrating with many "hints" and explained cooking problems which "stick" even the most experienced at times. In answering questions the audience learned such facts as "why meringues fall" and "what makes the fruit sink to the bottom of a cake" etc.

Among the recipes demonstrated were Braised Short Ribs of Beef with a special Duchess Potato Topping; Maple Walnut Pumpkin Cake with Baked Meringue Icing; Salmon Mousse, an ideal dish for Summer luncheon or bridge parties which was served with a French Potato Salad; Buff Puff Pastry and its many uses such as cream tarts with fruit meringue icing and butter butter tarts, etc.; Paradise Loaf, Prune Loaf and Pineapple Squares. Recipes for Jaconny and Spritz Cookies given were as follows:

JACONNY COOKIES

Take one cup light brown sugar, one cup dark brown sugar, one-half cup shortening, one half cup of butter and cream well together. Add two tablespoons vanilla and two eggs slightly beaten. In a separate bowl mix together two cups all purpose flour, one half teaspoon baking powder, one half teaspoon baking powder and two cups rolled oats slightly crushed with rolling pin and one cup of medium long coconut. Mix dry ingredients well together then turn cream mixture into dry ingredients and mix with spoon. Bake in a oven at 375 degrees F. in pan for 15 minutes.

SPRITZ COOKIES

Two and one half cups pastry one cup butter, one and one half cup flour, one half teaspoon salt, one cup icing sugar, two egg whites, two tablespoons vanilla and one teaspoon almond extract. Sift together salt and flour, and cream butter and sugar then add slightly beaten egg yolks with flavoring added. Add flour to consistency where the dough can be softly kneaded. Make into a roll and cut in half. To one half add one square melted chocolate and mix well. Make up into two neat rolls and let chill before cutting.

ANGEL CUP CAKES

One and one half cups cake flour sifted with two teaspoons baking powder and one half teaspoon salt. Cream together one-quarter cup of butter gradually adding three of creamer cup fine sugar until light and fluffy and add two tablespoons of milk from one half cup milk and beat until smooth. Gradually fold in sifted dry ingredients with the balance of the milk. Add one teaspoon almond extract and fold in two stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in well greased tin muffin tins at 350 degrees Fahrenheit from 20 to 25 minutes. Allow to cool in the tin.

CREAM CHEESE ICING

One three-ounce package cream cheese and two tablespoons of cream. Beat cream well together, then add enough icing sugar to make fairly thick and add two or three tablespoons of pineapple juice and a little more sugar and mix to spreading consistency. This icing is also grand for sponge or angel cakes.

CHOCO CRUNCHES

Cream together one-half cup of butter and one cup brown sugar. Add to creamed mixture two eggs one at a time and beat well after each. Add two teaspoons vanilla and mix well. Combine and add next one half cup molasses with two squares melted chocolate. Sift together three cups all purpose flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, one half teaspoon soda, one quarter teaspoon mace and ground rind of one orange. Add to first mixture and blend well. Add two tablespoons melted butter and mix thoroughly, lastly "old in one and one half cups of coarsely chopped walnut meats. Place on greased sheet and bake for 15 to 20 minutes in a oven at 375 degrees Fahrenheit.

Mrs. Henderson thanked her audience for their interest and cooperation and stated she always felt thrilled at the prospect of holding these classes at Nelson, where facilities at the Civic Centre and the conditions were of the best.

Nelson Fire Loss In April Is $466 McDonald Reports

Fire loss in Nelson in April totaled $466. In a report to the City Council Tuesday night Fire Chief G. A. McDonald stated building loss through fire was $466, and content loss was $223 in that month. Insurance on buildings endangered was $9000 and on contents $1300.

Damage to the building amounting to $400 and to contents amounting to $150 was caused in a fire at the residence of Albert Cooper, 818 Cedar Street, April 1. A roof fire at 602 Front Street, caused $30 damage to the building owned by Wing Lee. At 610 Silica Street, owned by Mrs. Ida Thurman and occupied by Raymond Young, a chertfield fire resulted in $38 damage to the building and $73 damage to contents.

Other fire alarms included a call to the fish hatchery, Falls Street, April 3 when a report was received that brush was afire but it developed that City men were clearing and burning; and a call to a chimney fire at the home of Mrs. Frances Jasper, 204 Delbrook Street. No damage was caused by the latter fire.

Thirty-seven public buildings were inspected under the Fire Marshal Act, one order, being issued, for improvement of conditions.

Creston Schools Make Plans for Active Program

CRESTON, B.C.—The end of May will be an active one for students in the High and Elementary Schools of Creston Valley United School District, according to the schedule submitted the trustees at the May meeting Monday.

First on the list is "Play Day" for the 335 pupils of the seven elementary schools in the district. This is set for Thursday, May 23, and a committee of Miss Florence McClure, Sid Rogers and Glen York have about completed the program, which will consist of supervised games beginning at 11 a.m. During the morning part of the program the pupils will be divided into 15 groups—five for each of the senior, intermediate and junior divisions. Games will last from 15 to 30 minutes and each group will get a new teacher with each change. At noon there will be a group lunch and community singing led by Miss Helen Moore. All parents are being invited to bring their lunches and join the pupils during the noon hour.

Hearty approval was given a plan submitted by Principal J. S. Graham for "selling" the High School to all parents and ratepayers at an Open Day, June 1. The school will be shown as a going concern from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. Classes will be at regular studies. The work of the various classrooms will be on display. There will be a program in the auditorium from 3:30 to 4:30, which will feature a physical education display and a fashion show, interspersed throughout with musical numbers. Work of the home economics, technical and arts classes will be on display. From 4:30 to 5:30 tea will be served by the home economics students.

Sanction was given for the holding of a closing party on May 31. There will be games, dancing, music. Principal Graham points out that these affairs are essential for the development of a fine school spirit and for a high type of social growth in the school.

Liens of Five Are Confirmed Against Estate of Patrick

Declaration of liens against the estate of the late Gas Patrick of Kitchener, brought by five men for back wages, was granted by His Honor Judge W. A. Nisbet in County Court Tuesday, while claims of two other men were adjourned for further information. Sheriff M. E. Harper, as Official Administrator, was appointed defendant for the estate. The seven men claimed a total of $397.66 under the Workmen's Lien for Wages Act. Mr. Patrick died February 1.

Claims of B. R. Bohmer, George Isles, Frank Bunce, Mike Foshag and Edward Orth were confirmed, while those of Elear Cardinal and Richard R. Clarkson were held over. H. C. Irving acted for the seven men, and E. P. Dawson of Brown & Dawson appeared for Sheriff Harper.

Miss G. Jacobsen Honored by Kimberley Friends at Shower

KIMBERLEY, B.C.—The IOOF Hall was the scene of a delightful shower when Mrs. John Morrison, Mrs. Duncan Morrison, Mrs. Dan Morrison, Mrs. Don Morrison, Mrs. Alex Fergie were joint hostesses in honor of Miss Gertrude Jacobsen of Cranbrook whose marriage takes place shortly to Angus Livingstone of Kimberley. The evening was spent in playing court whist and bridge, the prizes for which going to Mrs. Doug Smith, Mrs. E. Westgate, and in bridge to Mrs. J. Crossley and Mrs. Penuff. After a dainty lunch the bride-elect was presented with a basket decorated in pink and white and laden with many lovely and useful gifts to which the bride-elect responded in charming manner.

Miss B. Lundberg Wed to A. Johansen in Kimberley Ceremony

KIMBERLEY, B.C.—A pretty wedding took place Saturday in the United Church when Britt Eva Lundberg, daughter of E. Lundberg became the bride of Alfred Carl Johansen. Rev. Galbraith officiated. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, attired in a floor length gown of white sheer with a pleated boero. Her silk net veil was caught around fashion by a wreath of white and blue flowers. She also wore a ruby pendant which had belonged to her mother and grandmother. White gloves and silver sandals completed her costume and she carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaid, Miss Gunnild of helle sheer with a deep purple belt chose a floor length gown with a white jacket and matching hat. Little Ann Lindgren, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore a pale green taffeta dress and carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations. Rolf Elstad supported the groom, while Carl Jacobson and Albert Dellert were ushers. Mrs. J. K. Walker played the wedding march and during the signing of the register Mrs. W. Yulle sang "I Love You Truly." A reception was held in the IOOF Hall with 200 guests present. Mrs. V. Augustson was convener for the wedding supper while Mr. and Mrs. Helland and Mr. V. Skalk supplied the music for dancing. Amid the wishes for future happiness the happy couple left for a honeymoon at Calgary. For traveling the bride changed to a brown tailored suit with rust accessories.

Creston Creamery Manager Is Expected to Arrive This Week

CRESTON, B.C.—H. Smith of Vancouver, who will have charge of Creston Valley Co-Operative Creamery Association plant, is due at Creston before the end of the week, to supervise the installation of the balance to the machinery, and buttermaking should be under way about the first of June, according to the creamery association directors, who met Friday with D. K. Archibald, K. Feidler, C. C. French and H. A. Rogers present.

Before leaving Vancouver, Mr. Smith has been authorized to purchase a boiler for the plant, and at their meeting the directors decided to acquire a loading scale from Matt York. Mr. York has also agreed to handle cream separators which will be available to the farmers on favorable terms.

H. Curtis' offer was accepted for the supply of the office desk and cupboards. For these he will provide the labor and take payment in shares of the company. A typewriter has been purchased. The electric motors have been shipped and after full discussion the directors agreed on their location to best serve operating the plant.

Must Keep City Street Railway Up, Morey Urges

"If we are to operate the street railway we've got to keep it in workable condition," declared Ald. P. G. Morey at Tuesday night's City Council meeting as estimates for proposed repairs were presented by Ald. C. W. Tyler, Street Railway Committee Chairman.

"But we said if we were going to do this work we'd do it by bylaw," objected Ald. Roy Sharp, arguing such expenditure should not be financed out of general revenue.

"We've got to keep the system up," said Ald. T. H. Waters. He said all legitimate costs should be charged against the system so that citizens would know exactly what it was costing to operate it.

The Council referred back to the Committee the estimates presented, for consideration in the light of money available under its estimates. Alderman Tyler informed Mayor N. C. Stubbs the Committee had $4000 in its estimates for maintenance.

ARMY DISTRIBUTION

"France has several million men under arms, most of them manning the Maginot Line . . . .

"Britain has about 200,000 soldiers on the Continent, concentrated principally on the French-Belgian frontier in positions for a quick drive to succor Belgium."

So reads a Canadian Press dispatch from London in Saturday's Daily News, and in view of the complete British censorship we must assume that the figures represent the facts.

The 200,000 are not the only Britons under arms, of course. We know that the British Army now exceeds a million trained men, and that, with new classes called up, it will soon be much larger.

Presumably the 200,000 British troops at the Front represent what the technical chiefs of the War Office consider proper, at the moment, in view of all the circumstances, including the due protection of the Englishman's home. No doubt Chamberlain and Churchill have deferred to them in the matter.

But now that the sole responsibility is upon Churchill's shoulders, it is permissible to wonder whether he will take steps for a more equal distribution, in view of his record on these matters in the last war.

During the period of the Great War when he was a free lance, having been dropped by Asquith, and not yet taken up by Lloyd George, Churchill was an unsparing critic of the hampering of the war drive by the technical chiefs of both Army and Navy.

With vehement eloquence, he showed how that of every three British soldiers at the Front, only one represented a man in the line with a bayonet, the others being engaged in supplying and feeding him. Thus, the effective fighting strength was only one-third the number of men South of the English Channel.

Further, the Army chiefs, he showed, insisted that of the immense new army being raised, half should be retained at home for defence of the British Isles. No matter how great the forces raised, he showed, this rule of "man for man" was being enforced.

Thus, of every six men in the British Army, only one was in fighting position against the enemy.

When Churchill was taken into the Lloyd George Government, he was apparently unable to influence the military management, not becoming Secretary of War until 1918, and the Army in France was paralleled by an Army at home. Thus, when the German Drive of March, 1918, was on, and the British were thrown back, it could be attributed in part at least to the fact that the reinforcements had to be embarked, conveyed across the water, disembarked, and moved up to the front, all motions that would have been unnecessary had they been in immediate proximity to the line. But the theoretic possibility of an invasion of the British Isles then ruled British war policy.

Happily Churchill, or somebody, was able to loosen up the Home Army later, to play a distinguished part in the final stages of the Great War, as reinforcements, but it must have been a wrench to the War Office.

While it seems probable that Germany will at some stage attempt to strike Britain at home in the present conflict, it is hard to believe that any possible landing—assuming the Navy somehow eluded—could require an Army of a million or two to handle. Of course the Home Army at present is also a reserve for the Eastern Front, should that materialize.

But in view of the great theatre of war now opened, by the invasion of the unhappy Low Countries, it would seem that the situation requires more than three or four British army corps at the Front, equal to one of the five or six British armies that held the British share of the line in the latter part of the Great War. No doubt in the immediate future the British Expeditionary Force will be greatly expanded, and probably soon there will be a number of British armies acting under the Commander-in-Chief, Lord Gort.

OUR FRIEND, OLD LION TOOTH

The dandelion is nature's most brilliant illustration of the axiom that too much is enough of anything. Viewed dispassionately—if any one is able to do that—the dandelion must be considered a cheery, bright and not undecorative plant. If it were hard to cultivate, every amateur gardener in the Kootenay would be laboring as back-breakingly to grow it in his flower bed as he does now to eradicate it from his lawn.

The trouble with the dandelion is its all-fired persistence and plentitude. Give a dandelion an inch and it takes the whole front yard. There are two schools of thought concerning this plant: The what-difference-does-it-make-let-'em-grow, or masculine school, and the fight-to-the-last-ditch-what-will-the-neighbors-say, or feminine school. Husbands generally lend unwilling hip service to their wives' school of thought.

There are three recognized ways of fighting dandelions: With a butcher knife, the Adam's apple and the ankles being in close proximity; with a long-handled swallow-forked blade that saves back strain but discourages thoroughness, and with certain chemicals supposed to destroy the weed, but which usually only encourage it to fiercer fecundity.

The trouble with the dandelion is that it is a flower of civilization. It shuns country lanes and woodland glades and prefers, with blatant insistence, the choicer portions of the front yard. We would not discourage those who wish to toil in the vineyard of dandelion eradication, but here is a

"Darn those migrating geese. They're always using my penthouse as a detour!"

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

PRETTY DEEP FIGURING
WITH A SIMPLE set of facts to work from, a fine deductive player can reach conclusions on some deals which result in making the prettiest sort of plays. The mere failure of a player to lead the suit bid by his partner may furnish the necessary clue to every vital fact needed by the declarer who thinks. If it is clear the suit was not so long that he was void in it, then he must be ducking a lead away from an honor. Going further, if the suit bidder did not hold that honor, then he must have a certain other honor in another suit. And so on, and so on.

terday, Mr. Hasen had to build a squeeze position on this one. When West led the club 8, he reasoned that a spade bid had been led unless West had the guarded king; in this event East must have some other high honor for his bid. When the heart A. then dropped the singleton K, he reckoned it must be the diamond K. He led a heart to the Q and, when West returned the diamond 6, he came up with the A.

Next came a heart, then three clubs, for a diamond discard. The crucial play then was the diamond Q, covered by the K and ruffed. This transferred the high diamond from East's K to West's J. Hearts were run then. When the last was led West was squeezed between his diamond J, as the dummy had the 10, and his two spades, both declarer and dummy having two of them. Had the diamond K been allowed to stay with East, he could have guarded that suit while West protected the spades.

Braces to Hold Evergreens Up

"Proper posture for foundation evergreens"

After a severe winter, evergreens should be inspected to ascertain if their posture has been impaired by bowing to wind, snow and sleet. Most likely the narrow, pyramidal evergreens which are used as accent plants in foundation plantings suffered this past winter from the heavy snow and ice which weighed down their tops. In extreme cases the tops of such trees may have been broken, but in most instances it will be found that such evergreen trees have lost their erect carriage from bending submissively before the weather.

To restore proper posture to this type of evergreen, and to keep them from becoming bent or broken, next winter, wire columnar evergreens to the house or wall against which they are growing, as shown in the accompanying Garden Graphic. Two such braces may be necessary, one towards the bottom of the tree, and another towards the top. Run heavy wire through sections of rubber hose, the latter to prevent injury to the bark of the tree, then anchor the wire to heavy screw eyes on the side of the house.

Strong sunlight will also cause columnar evergreens to grow in a leaning position, thus marring their appearance. When this happens, they should be straightened by the use of guy wires so they will again grow in an erect position, thus emphasizing the vertical lines of the house against which they are planted.

Hospital Adopts New Basic Rate

A new basic rate for public wards, recommended by a committee appointed at a second regional meeting of West Kootenay Hospitals, was endorsed by the Kootenay Lake General Hospital Board Tuesday evening, and is scheduled to come into effect August 1. The recommendation will be submitted to Boards of all West Kootenay Hospitals for endorsing.

Hospitalization for adults under the new rates will be $3 per day in public ward, $4 per day in semi-private ward, and $5 per day in private ward; while for children up to 14 years of age, the basic rate will be $2.50 per day in public ward. At present the basic ward rate is $2.50 per day for adults in public ward.

An increased basic ward rate to meet increased costs of hospitalization was found necessary by Coast hospitals some time ago, and a new rate has been in effect at the Coast for many months.

RED CROSS NOTES

Mrs. Pearson, Dawson Are Added, Executive of the Nelson Branch

When the Executive of Nelson Branch of the Red Cross Society held its May meeting Mrs. C. D. Pearson and H. D. Dawson were elected to the Executive, Mrs. Pearson succeeding Mrs. A. T. Horswill as Chairman of the Ladies' Work Committee, and Mr. Dawson succeeding Russell E. Potter as Chairman of the Disaster Relief Committee.

It was reported the Ladies' Work Committee could make use of more volunteer workers. The District Auxiliaries were lauded for the amount and quality of their work.

First Aid Classes at Thrums

First aid classes are being sponsored by this Branch at Thrums in anticipation of establishing a first aid post at that point. David Rees of the St. John Ambulance Association is instructing the class.

District Auxiliaries Making Fine Record

One of the happy features of work of the Red Cross Society in Nelson and District is the manner in which the District Auxiliaries are working, state officials of the Nelson Branch. The Auxiliaries are contributing heavily, both in funds and in volunteer work, and the record of districts women in this effort overflows that of Nelson itself, they added.

At the present time two work rooms are open in Nelson—the Society's quarters at the Board of Trade building, and the work room of Kootenay Chapter I. O. D. E. Much of the work now under way is preparation of materials for distribution, and there is room for many more assistants in this task.

Still Seeking Names of Young Canadians in Royal Air Force

So far the Nelson Branch has not received the names of any young Canadians from this district who went Overseas previous to the war to join the Royal Air Force. Some time ago an appeal was issued by the Red Cross for the listing of such names—there were estimated to be 1500 young men in this class—in order that they might care for them should they become casualties or prisoners of war, particularly the latter since the Red Cross is the recognized agency for such work.

Pacific Milk

"I use no other milk. Pacific gives a richer, creamier flavor to tea, coffee or cocoa. For cooking I find it unequalled. A rice, sago or tapioca pudding requires no eggs if Pacific Milk is used."—From the letter of Mrs. E. M. C.

Pacific Milk Irradiated and Vacuum Packed

One of the major difficulties to be overcome is that many of the young men, upon enlistment in England, stated they were English rather than Canadian in order to facilitate enlistment. There is therefore no means for the Canadian Red Cross to learn their names unless relatives in Canada submit them.

Communist Party Illegal in Canada

Ban Follows Conviction of Three Ottawa Men Who Receive Sentences and Heavy Fines for Defence Violations

OTTAWA, May 15 (CP).—Communism became beyond the pale of the law throughout Canada today, but there was no indication of an immediate roundup of known Communists.

Under the broad powers of the Wartime Defence of Canada Regulations, Mr. Justice E. R. E. Chevrier of the Ontario Supreme Court declared formally that the Communist Party of Canada was an illegal organization by virtue of Regulation 82 of the regulations.

That regulation provides that once an organization has in such manner been declared illegal, not only are all persons continuing as members or officers deemed guilty of an offence against the regulations, but anybody advocating or defending the acts, principles and policies of such an organization is also guilty.

The ban on Communism followed conviction of three Ottawa men on indictments charging publication and circulation of anti-war pamphlets tending to prejudice recruiting, cause disaffection and prejudice the safety of the state and the efficient prosecution of the war.

Commissioner S. T. Wood of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police said today he had received no instructions so far to institute a Dominion-wide roundup of known Communists.

I just saw a movie that you ought to see. The trouble is, I don't know how you're going to see it. Some of our engineers made it a while back, and it's a dilly.

It shows what happened to two motors which started out in life without any carbon in their cylinders. They were each driven 6000 miles over the same roads. At the end of that time, the engines took the lids off the motors, and what do you think they found?

Nope, not Scarslet O'Hara. But it's the motor that had been driven with one kind of oil there was a lot of carbon. Enough to make the motor plug on the least excuse.

However, in the other motor—the one that had been driven with Triton Motor Oil, on my word of honor, there wasn't enough to make the least practical difference. What little there was, was so soft you could scratch it with your finger nail.

Triton forms very little carbon itself. The movie showed that. And because it forms so little, it will allow your motor to burn up most of the old carbon formed by other oils and blow it out the exhaust pipe! In other words... Triton changes Ping to Purr!

And just in case you're a skeptic and you don't believe me, or the movie I saw, you have your crankcase filled with Triton Motor Oil this very day. Then drive 2 to 3 thousand miles, and see for yourself. You'll never use anything else, I can promise you.

Urges Internment for Subversive Element in Canada

TORONTO, May 15 (CP).—Communists and members of other subversive organizations throughout Canada should be interned immediately as enemy aliens now are, Attorney-General Gordon Conant of Ontario said today before a local service club.

Declaring the nation comes first in wartime, he asked: "Are we going to wait until some major catastrophe occurs to wake us up to the fact that there are enemies within our gates, not just aliens but those who are just as dangerous to the nation's existence as many aliens who are now in concentration camps?"

"I do not suggest that these offenders should be treated like criminals and confined to penitentiaries and jails. I do urge, however, that they be detained in internment camps with provisions similar to those which apply in the case of enemy aliens."

"That, however, can only be done by the Federal authorities, enforcing the Defence of Canada regulations as they apply to subversive elements."

Mr. Conant reviewed action taken by Federal authorities against enemy aliens and commended the work of Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the Dominion Justice Department. It had been left, however, to the Provinces to dispose of other subversive elements with none of the power vested in the Federal officials.

He reiterated a belief that in such cases the ordinary safeguards that protect accused persons might well be suspended.

Removal of these safeguards would apply only to "Communists, Fascists, Nazis who aim at the destruction of our nation and our civilization." It was "a question as to whether these people who by every conceivable manner and means are undermining our social and political structure should be accorded the means of escape that now prevail," and not a question of removing any safeguards for ordinary accused persons.

TESTS MAY SHOW YOU ARE A SAFE DRIVER—But Is Your Car Safe

AFTER YOU HAVE BEEN TESTED AS A DRIVER, YOUR CAR IS STILL LIABLE TO TEST BY TRAFFIC OFFICERS. ARE YOUR BRAKES OKAY? ARE YOUR LIGHTS LEGALLY ADJUSTED? ARE YOUR TAIL LIGHTS EFFICIENT? ARE YOUR WHEELS PROPERLY ALIGNED? IS YOUR STEERING GEAR IN GOOD SHAPE? ARE YOUR TIRES DANGEROUS? YOUR CAR IS SUBJECT TO POLICE CHECK-UP. MAKE SURE THAT IT IS IN FIRST CLASS CONDITION. YOU HAVE SERIOUS LEGAL LIABILITIES IN THE EVENT OF AN ACCIDENT.

THIS IS WHAT YOU DO WHEN YOU TAKE YOUR DRIVER'S TEST

By Constable Ralph Lees

The main purpose behind the tests is to oblige each and every driver to possess as much as possible, a complete knowledge of traffic laws and regulations and to act upon this knowledge at all times when driving upon our highways. To effect this will make for a greater degree of safety for all concerned. Contrary to many opinions these tests are not made with a view to depriving anyone of the privilege of driving but rather to restrict such persons in whom actual physical faults are found, to driving only under circumstances in which they are found to be competent. This can best be explained by describing the actual tests and the manner of restriction, if any, which may be imposed.

The applicant first approaches the officer in charge of the examining unit and pays to him the sum of one dollar. He is issued with a receipt and a copy of one of the examination papers. As explained before, the examination papers list 25 questions, all taken from the driver's manual. There are 10 sets of papers, all with a separate set of questions and the examiner hands one to each applicant, taken from this set of 10.

Upon the applicant completing the written section of the paper he is taken to the testing room where will be found all the equipment and apparatus for testing. He will be shown to the seat in a machine called a reactometer. This machine resembles the actual driving compartment of an automobile, insofar as it is equipped with seat, steering wheel, clutch and brake pedals, also a foot throttle or accelerator. Tests are first made of the subject's eye-sight while seated in the reactometer. The subject is asked to read, with both and then alternate eyes, a series of letters of graduated size on an illuminated chart, 25 feet in front of him. These charts are familiar to all who have undergone elementary eye tests in the offices of doctors, optometrists and others.

If the applicant passes this preliminary, the examining officer proceeds to check his ability to distinguish between the colors red, amber, green and white. This is done by means of lights placed just under the lettered chart mentioned. The purpose of the two preceding tests is to determine whether or not the applicant is near sighted or color blind in one or both eyes. The result of all tests are endorsed on the examination papers of the subject in a space provided.

Next a test is made for diplopia, otherwise described as a double vision condition. This is done by means of a set of specially ground lenses, mounted in a manner similar to the lorgnettes affected by some of our ladies of high society. This test has proven that a considerable number of people are afflicted with double vision without being aware of it.

The periphery or tunnel vision test, which now follows is one of the most important checks of all. Tunnel vision is one of the chief causes of accidents at intersections and sharp corners. This test is effected by placing in front of the subject, a semi-circular shaped instrument, the ends of which extend along each side of the subject's head to a point approximately opposite each ear. With alternate eyes he is obliged to look straight ahead and yet record his ability to see an object which is slid along the semi-circular shaped instrument toward the side of his head. The normal side vision is 90 degrees or at right angles to the eye. Should there be a blank section as is very often the case, the subject is obviously afflicted with tunnel vision.

Yet another test is made of the subject's ability to judge depth or distance. The applicant looks into an elongated box-like arrangement at the base of which are pictured in miniature, two objects such as a railroad crossing and a road sign. The examiner, by means of his controls, moves these objects toward and away from the subject's eyes, the subject being obliged to judge as to their position in relation to each other. Very often one eye will make an accurate estimation while the other will be definitely out of balance. The effect of this will of course impair the subject's judgment of distance.

The last test is probably the simplest of all, that is the test for reaction to danger and is done by means of the reactometer already described, the machine in which the subject has been seated throughout the previous tests. The examiner, by means of his controls, causes the green and amber lights on the board in front of the applicant to flash alternately, off and on. At this time the applicant is sitting in the normal position of driving, with the right foot depressing the throttle or accelerator. Without further warning, the examiner causes the red light to flash on in a steady beam, in place of the green and amber. This is the signal to the driver that sudden danger confronts him and he must immediately remove his foot from the accelerator and depress the foot brake pedal. The time which elapses from the moment when the red light first flashes to the time when the foot brake pedal commences to depress is recorded on an electrically operated stop clock on the examiner's control panel. This clock registers the time in one hundredth parts of a second, making an extremely accurate check. Four such recordings are taken from each subject, the average of all four being taken. These averages all range around three-fourths part of one second.

Just prior to leaving the testing room the applicant is required to demonstrate his ability to interpret the standard road signs, all of which are displayed in the Driver's Manual, are familiar to all of us, yet the subject must be able to explain the difference between an acute angled turn, a curve and so on.

Many questions have been asked as to what happens to the person taking the tests who fails to pass all or part of them. As regards the written section of the test, a passing mark of 80 per cent is required and should an applicant fail in this, he is told to try again in one week's time. If he fails again, he is told to return in 30 days. If upon this third attempt he again fails, his driver's licence is ordered suspended for a period of 30 days, to afford him an opportunity for further study of his driver's manual.

In the case of someone failing to pass the eye tests, he is given a form upon which all details of the defects found are endorsed. The subject is obliged to take this form to some competent authority, who may be a doctor, optometrist or similar official. After corrective measures are taken, the competent authority endorses the form in a manner prescribed. Upon the subject returning this form to the examiner, his driver's licence is restricted or otherwise. In accordance with the recommendations of the competent authority. If for instance the subject's eyes are found to be inefficient without eye-glasses, his driver's licence is restricted to driving only while wearing them. If, for another example, he is found to be color blind, he may be restricted to speed in addition to other restrictions. If the tests show that he has a dangerously slow reaction time, he will probably be restricted in his speed, such speed not to exceed the given number of miles per hour endorsed on the driver's licence.

In amputation and other cases of similar nature, the driver's licence may be restricted to operating cars equipped with automatic clutches, mechanical arms signals and similar devices.

From the foregoing it may be seen that everyone is given every possible opportunity to pass the tests yet no one is summarily deprived of the right to drive. Without a doubt, these tests will go a long way toward proper education of our motorists, at the same time limiting the driving of those whose ability is somewhat less than average. The result cannot but make for a much greater margin of safety on the highways.

There is one more point that should be cleared up. The present holders of driver's licences will not be required to undergo an actual road test. That is to say, they will not be required to give an actual demonstration of their driving abilities. This will only be required of persons who have not held a driver's licence in this Province and the holders of Class "A" and Class "B" chauffeur's licences. The chauffeur's test will comprise a demonstration under actual conditions such as they will be called upon to meet in the course of their usual employment, operating buses, taxis and similar equipment.

A point of interest perhaps is that all drivers tested to date only about one half of one per cent of the total have been deprived outright of the privilege of driving. A good number have of course been obliged to drive under slight restriction orders, the majority of these being confined to the wearing of eye-glasses while driving, or restricted in their maximum rates of speed.

This system of restriction may at first glance, appear to work a hardship on the motorist concerned yet considered in the light of Traffic Safety as a whole, there cannot be any doubt as to the benefit derived. Motorists can prevent the disappointment of failure in the written section of the examination by careful study of the Motor Vehicle Operators' Manual before presenting themselves for testing. These Manuals are available at the local offices of the British Columbia Police. Apart from the necessity of knowing the answers to the few questions, all motorists will find that the information contained in the Manual will prove of immense value in their everyday driving.

PEDESTRIANS

Every year a number of pedestrians are injured, in many instances fatally, through coming into contact with motor-vehicles. Last year 616 pedestrians were injured through this source, 47 of whom died as a result, while in the preceding year 659 pedestrians were injured in this manner, 43 fatally.

There is no need for this number of deaths and injuries from this source and it could be substantially reduced if both pedestrians and motorists would use ordinary caution.

To the pedestrian, and we are all pedestrians at times, might I point out that our legislation provides that when proceeding along any highway where there is no sidewalk, it is necessary to proceed on the extreme left-hand side of the roadway. I would also point out that before crossing a highway it is most advisable to look both ways before proceeding, the second required to do this may save you being injured or may possibly save your life, while the habit that some have of popping out into the roadway from behind motor-vehicles is extremely dangerous and is very likely to result in severe injuries or death.

To the motorist might I say that it is never advisable to travel at a speed at which you cannot come to a full stop within a safe distance ahead. This particularly applies to intersections and in passing other motor-vehicles. The driving of a motor-vehicle demands your full attention and when such is not given you are not prepared for any emergency which might arise.

Gonzaga Decides to Drop Hockey

Coach Denny Edge to Try Keep Team in W. K. League

SPOKANE, May 15 (AP).—Gonzaga University is dropping ice hockey as a collegiate sport. Athletic Director Claude McGrath announced today.
The Gonzaga team made up entirely of students recruited from the Western Canadian Provinces, finished last in the West Kootenay Amateur League last season, but McGrath said the deciding factors were the high cost of the game and that collegiate competition in the amateur league was frowned on by the Pacific Coast Conference.
Denny Edge, who coached the Gonzagans, said he would attempt to keep the Spokane team in the league through commercial sponsorship.
N. J. Lowes of Nelson, President of the West Kootenay Hockey League, Wednesday said he had no comment whatsoever to offer on the new development. He has yet heard nothing officially whether or not a team from Spokane would compete in the league next winter.

Senior C.Y.O. Blasts Win Over Baptists 28-7, Church Softball

Rev. Gerald Ward held the Senior C. Y. O. team well in check for the first three innings at the end of which his Baptists were leading 4-2, but from then on the Catholics broke out in a hitting rash to pound his deliveries for a 28-7 victory in a Nelson Church Softball League game at the Junior High Wednesday evening.
Pete Kunz, Bill Kapak, Tom Maglio and Joe DeLucrezio hammered out home runs for the winners. Ward struck out three Catholics. Bill Kapak, while he failed to register a single strikeout, kept C. Y. O. opponents in control.

Boxla League Is Not Likely to Accept Salmo for the Playoff Only

ROSSLAND, B. C., May 15—An interview with J. C. Urquhart, President of the West Kootenay Amateur Lacrosse Association, regarding the possibility of Salmo being allowed to enter the West Kootenay Lacrosse League playoffs drew a negative answer on Wednesday afternoon.
"Of course the matter would have to be put up to the Executive, but I don't believe that, if Salmo did not enter the regular league games, it would be permitted to enter the league playoffs," he stated.

Junior High to Hold Athletic Meet May 28

The Junior High School will hold its annual inter-house track and field meet at the Recreation Grounds May 28. It was previously hoped to run off the meet this week. The High School has scheduled its meet for Friday.

Trinity Plays Church Softball Tonight With St. Saviour's Squad

Trinity and St. Saviour's boys play tonight in the Nelson Church Softball League at the Junior High. It is the last game of the first round for the Trinity squad, while St. Saviour's will still have one more.

Presidents Take Opening Creston Golf Competition

CRESTON, B. C. — The golf season at Creston was opened Sunday, the day's play featuring a two-ball foursome competition between teams representing President M. B. Joyce, Vice-President Allan J. Gilroy. The President and his aides were winners four to three, by having 370 strokes to their opponents' 380.
At the end of the sixth flight honours were even, both registering 322 strokes for a showing of three points each. The decision came after the President and Vice-President with their lady partners played an extra round, the former turning in a score of 48 strokes and the latter 58.
The afternoon's turnout of players was 33, and following the match play, tea was served by the newly-formed Golf Club Auxiliary.

Montreal Canadiens Buy More Rimstad

MONTREAL, May 15 (CP). — Officials of Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League announced today the purchase of Morey Rimstad, a centre, from Vancouver Lions of the Pacific Coast League—the third such purchase this week.
Rimstad, 24, an Edmonton product, was purchased in a straight cash deal. The purchase price was not disclosed.
Earlier this week, Canadiens bought Loren Mercer, defenceman, and Jack Adams, a centre, from the Lions in similar deals.
Rimstad, with the Lions for two years, headed the Pacific Coast League in scoring last season.

KILLIES, MOTHERWELL WIN SCOTTISH SOCCER

GLASGOW, May 15 (CP).—Killmarnock defeated Rangers 3-1 and Motherwell whipped Partick Thistle 6-1 in Scottish West football matches today.

Columbia Wallops Pioneer 21-0 in Grand Forks Ball

GRAND FORKS, B.C.—Slugging out a total of 20 hits from 18 offerings, three Pioneer hurlers, and displaying flawless fielding behind the two-hit pitching of Al Donaldson, the Columbia Ball Club overpowered their opponents 21-0 at the Columbia Park Sunday.
Disregarding the fact that their opponents already held wins over both the Giants and Redstarts, the Columbia boys began their onslaught from the opening frame when they reaped out three singles and two doubles to tally five times.
The winners scored six runs in each of the third and fourth innings to take a 17-0 lead.
Boyer and Clark led the hitting attack, the former garnering three doubles and a single in seven trips to the plate and the latter getting one double and three singles in four times at bat.

Rosland Boxla Club Gives Up Suggested Canvas Roof on Rink

ROSSLAND, B. C., May 15—Rosland Lacrosse Club officials have been investigating the cost of covering their open air arena for the Summer season, but said Cecil Pitt, Manager, the cost is at present prohibitive.
The proposition was to have a canvas covering over the whole rink. "The canvas alone would cost $600. Of course the boys were willing to supply the labor, but we felt that it was too much money to try to raise, especially with war conditions as they are," he said.

Maple Leafs Are Greeted on Return

VANCOUVER, May 15 (CP). — Mayor Lyle Telford last night led a group of about 100 persons to the Civic Airport to greet Vancouver Maple Leafs, the newly-crowned Canadian senior basketball champions on their return from Montreal.
All the players, with the exception of Ralph Henderson, came home by plane. Henderson is coming by train.

Rural Track Meet Is Held at Fife

FIFE, B.C.—A rural school track meet and picnic was held at Christina Lake last Saturday, with children competing from schools at Brown, Creek, Cascade, Christina Lake, Fife and Gilpin.
Winners of the meet will compete in the Central School track meet in Grand Forks May 18. This is the first rural school track meet held and it is hoped that it will be made an annual event.
Teachers in charge of the picnic were Miss Alice Clark, Miss Niels Macrochi, Miss Elnora McLeod, Mrs. Cook and F. Shirley.

Grads Prep for Wichita Series

EDMONTON, May 15 (CP). — Edmonton Grads, world senior women's basketball champions, will go through a strenuous training session here tomorrow night in preparation for their exhibition three-game series against Wichita Thunder, opening here Saturday. Second and third game will be played Monday and Wednesday.

REMEMBER WHEN? By The Canadian Press

Remember when—
Southpaw Billy Weil, with Toronto Maple Leafs on option from Boston Bees, pitched himself back into consideration for a big-league job one year ago today with the season's first no-hit, no-run game, beating Baltimore Orioles 5-0. It was the seventh victory in 23 starts for the last-place Leafs. Weil started the 1940 season on the roster of Boston Nationals.
The Montreal Club in the International League is not a farm club for Brooklyn Dodgers, as is the general belief. The Royals are a Montreal owned institution.

Fairview Again to Enter Boxla Field

The Fairview Athletic Club will enter at least one team in the Nelson Baniam Lacrosse League, Managing Director "Slim" Porter said Wednesday night. Porter believed that he might be able to field two, but at any rate the Fairview Club would supply the backing.
"If there are to be Fairview teams in lacrosse, the F. A. C. and nobody else will do the backing," he said.
Up to now turnouts to practices have not been satisfactory enough for teams in the midget and juvenile divisions.

Lady Golfers of Kaslo Organize

KASLO, B. C. — Monday evening lady members and other ladies interested in the Kaslo Golf and Country Club met in the City Hall to discuss plans for 1940.
The reports of the Secretary-Treasurer, Miss K. M. Streit, showed a small balance in hand.
Mrs. L. Sandilands was re-elected President and Miss Streit re-elected Secretary-Treasurer.
The President was to confer with the Match Committee and arrangements would be made by her, and Mrs. J. E. Papworth to serve tea on the day set for the first friendly club tourney.
Mrs. Sandilands was also to make arrangements to have the club house kitchen cleaned.
The invitation to hold the West Kootenay Ladies' Golf Association tournament in Kaslo had been accepted and June 15 and 16 were the dates set. Other clubs will be immediately notified of this decision. The meeting to make final arrangements will be held early in June.

Britain to Put Out New Stamps to Mark Century

LONDON, April 24—A new issue of postage stamps on May 6 is expected to bring to Britain about 250,000 worth of foreign money. Collectors all over the world are creating an export demand for sets of these stamps, to be issued by the Post Office to commemorate the centenary of the famous Penny Black, which gave Britain the distinction of producing in 1840 the world's first adhesive postage stamp.
"It will be an event of commercial as well as historic importance, and will probably rank as the most sought after issue ever presented," said a member of a London firm who are the biggest and oldest retail stamp dealers in the world. "At a low estimate I expect that 8,000,000 sets will be brought by collectors overseas. This represents 60,000,000 little bits of paper with face values ranging from one half penny to twopence halfpenny. And of the £250,000 worth which will go abroad I expect more than £50,000 worth will be bought by Americans for their own collection. There are probably over 2,000,000 collectors in the U.S.A."

Mer, Flour Down, Wholesale Row; Potatoes Plentiful; Veal Down

Slight decline in the butter market; a drop of 20 cents per pound in flour and 10 cents a bushel in wheat; a larger quantity of new potatoes at "reasonable prices" featured the week's wholesale row, Nelson dealers said Wednesday.

Veal and fertilizer for spring planting are still moving in good volume although sales are slackening off to some extent, most buyers having purchased their supplies some weeks earlier in the season. Good potatoes are more plentiful on the market also and are enjoying a good sale.

There is still a shortage of spring lambs and the market is firm. Veal is a little more plentiful and prices have eased a bit. Eggs are still being received in large amounts.

The first shipment of new crop Australian raisins has arrived on the market at prices slightly higher than those at the beginning of last season.

Stocks of new peck asparagus are expected by Nelson dealers within the next few days and prices are expected to be about the same as last season's opening. Some lines of syrup and starches have shown a slight increase in price recently. A shortage of bulk dates is reported.

Carlot arrivals of the week included two of meat, two of mixed fruit and vegetables, two of flour and feed, one of groceries, one of sugar, one of vegetables, and one of California new potatoes. One truckload of jam was shipped to the Prairies.

Stockholders of Gold Belt Mining Company Ltd. will share in the distribution of $50,000 when the next dividend is paid. This sum represents a dividend of two cents per share. The share issue is $255,000.

After payment of the dividend the company will still have over $100,000 in cash on hand. Gold Belt became a producer when its 150-ton mill started operation October 24, 1938, and has maintained a steady output since.

The consolidated balance sheet as at March 31, 1940, shows current assets of $90,410.02 of which $48,857.545 was cash. Working capital of $39,578,957 was up from $26,257,184 as at March 31, 1939. The figures given are in United States currency.

In distribution of the current interim report on operations, Robert C. Stanley informed shareholders that nickel is finding a wide new use in the manufacture of storage batteries.

The production of Canadian tobacco production gains. Ottawa, May 15 (CP)—Creating a new high record for the third successive year, Canadian tobacco production amounted to 109,846,000 pounds from 91,035 acres in 1939, an eight per cent increase over the 1938 crop of 101,396,000 pounds from 83,573 acres, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

A preliminary estimate places the value of the 1939 tobacco crop at $19,247,800, a decrease of $1,021,800 or five per cent compared with the 1938 crop. The average price for all varieties of tobacco last year was 17.5 cents a pound compared with 20.0 the previous year.

Central Zeballos Gold. Output $25,630, April. Production of Central Zeballos Gold Mines Ltd., Zeballos, in which Reno is interested, was $25,630 in April, an increase of $507 over March.

Excavation Upon North Side From Street Complete

Reviewing work of the City Public Works Department during the two weeks ending May 13, H. D. Dawson, City Engineer, presented the following report to the City Council Tuesday night:

Streets. Crews averaging five in number have carried out street cleaning work throughout the period. The gas "cut" and grader were operating in the earlier part of the period, and the steam roller was employed in consolidating the road beds.

The heavy truck repairs have been completed and the power sprayer tank loaded. A car of mild curing asphalt No. 3 has been purchased and reloaded, and we have commenced patching of asphalt pavements preparatory to giving these a seal coat.

Sidewalk patching has been carried out by one continuously, and continuous attention is being given to street draining, side ditches, catch basins etc.

Front Street—The grading project on Front Street is being satisfactorily proceeded with, all the excavation on the North side of the track has been completed and we are now reballasting with gravel and crushed rock. We alternate the shovel between excavating on the street and loading gravel in the pit.

Following we have installed permanent concrete catch basins. Also taking advantage of the excavating the street railway crew has replaced a number of worn out ties.

Robson Street—On the North side of Robson Street, between Kootenay and Ward Streets, we are constructing a concrete curb to better take care of storm water.

Lanes—We have erected a number of low stone retaining walls to support alley roadways, namely in the alley East of Stanley, North of Gore, and East of Josephine, North of Hoover. The approach to the Jane West side of North of Victoria, has been in an unsatisfactory and dangerous condition, and we have now taken out considerable rock to ease the corner, and by giving a super elevation to the outside curve going down from Cedar Street, have eliminated some of the danger to vehicles tending to skid down into the Currie grade. Small amounts of stone retaining walls have been necessary to support the property on the upper side of this corner.

STREET RAILWAY. Street Railway Inspector W. Rae was in town today and with your engineer made an inspection of the tracks.

PARKS. During most of the period a small crew has been working at the Cemetery, including the Diesel cat, on road grading, stump pulling and moving rocks.

One or two men have assisted the Lakeside Park caretaker. At the Gyro Park we have completed the cleaning up of the bowling green area.

At Cottonwood Park stacks have been removed and in some cases hauled to other locations. This is a step toward the tidying up and beautification of this park with its very promising possibilities.

SEWER. The laying of the sewer up Elwyn Street to serve several houses on Sixth Street has progressed well, and we have reached the junction with Sixth Street.

WATERWORKS. At the Five-Mile intake the flow of water over the spillway was somewhat behind the flow of last years until the warm weather has very rapidly, and there is now over two feet of water over the spillway. This peak flow of water has arrived.

Bralorne Regains 65 Cents of $1.45 Loss in Vancouver Trading

Bralorne Gold regained 65 cents of the 1.45 loss of yesterday and closed at 8.70. Cariboo at 2.18 dropped 20 cents, and Hedley Masco at 25 dipped five cents from yesterday's closing bid. Sheep Creek was off 2 at 98 while Premier eased a cent to 99.

Homes was the most active stock among the oils with a turnover of 7100 shares but remained unchanged at 1.50. Okalta rose six cents to 80 and Calgary & Edmonton eased 3 to 1.32. Anglo Canadian was up two cents at 62 and Commonwealth gained 2 over Tuesday's closing bid at 20. Royalite was off 1.90 at 21.10.

Among base metals Nicola was the only trader, remaining unchanged at 2 1/2.

Wheat Drops the Limit for Second Day at Chicago

CHICAGO, May 15 (AP)—Wheat prices collapsed again today, dropping 10 cents a bushel for the second consecutive session, as traders dumped millions of bushels of grain because of the pessimistic war news coming from Europe.

Prices closed as low as trading rules would permit in today's session and were the lowest since early last winter.

The market had shown some signs of rallying earlier in the session but renewed selling in the final hour caught the pit without support. Wheat finished 94-10 cents lower than yesterday, May 64 1/2-3/4, July 84 1/2-3/4, Oct. 84 1/2-3/4 down and 3 1/2-1/2 lower.

Buying Strengthens Montreal Futures. MONTREAL, May 15 (CP)—Buying forces continued to strengthen prices in late dealings on the stock market today.

Howard Smith neared the close with a two-point gain and Price Brothers was up one point. Bathurst, Lawrence Corporation and Dryden lacked on fractions.

St. Lawrence Paper preferred suffered a point decline. Imperial Oil was up a fraction while International Petroleum eased a small amount.

Smelters strengthened but Nickel and Hudson Bay Mining declined a point. Bell Telephone had a gain of 3/4 while Shawinigan was up one. Galtineau, however, last 1/4.

Oils Continue Slide. CALGARY, May 15 (CP)—Oil prices slipped further to lower levels on Calgary Stock Exchange today. Transalta 22 1/2.

C. & E. sold at 132 compared with yesterday's close of 135. Home lost 3 to 1.45 and Sunset 2 to 27. Closing bid for Royalite was $20.50 compared with yesterday's close of $27.50.

Some two to three weeks earlier than most other years. New screens have been installed and all of them have to be cleaned daily, and on several days additional trips have to be made. The screens above the new reservoir also have to be frequently cleaned.

We have installed two new services, viz., one to the Schmidt house on Beasley Street, and one to the T. Lane house, the corner of Houston and Falls Streets.

We have stopped a leak in the main on Carbonate Street near Hendry and on Innes Street. West of Ward, and on the corner of Second and Behrens Streets. The first two of these leaks occurred in mains which have been in use for over 40 years and are known to be in very poor condition.

SIX plumbing permits have been applied for and issued, and the required number of plumbing inspections have been carried out. Twenty-one building permits have been issued, totalling $4036 in value. As usual a considerable number of investigations into matters pertaining to the Zoning, Building and Streets and Lanes Bylaws have been made, and redrafting of the latter has been carried out. The attention of a number of citizens has been called to cases where they have contravened one or other of these bylaws.

Widdowson Tells Where Find War Metals and Uses. Where to expect tungsten, a war mineral, how it may be found, and what it is used for is the subject of a circular sent to mining men throughout the district by E. W. Widdowson, Nelson. Some time ago Mr. Widdowson received a questionnaire from the Federal Government, Research Bureau at Ottawa dealing with the requirements of war metals at the present time, and subsequently prepared the circulars.

Lectures on the war metals were given in different sections of the country during the winter and the circular is to help those who could not attend the lectures. The first circular deals with tungsten, one of the most important war metals, which is used for making high speed steel tools. Tungsten is one of the most important war metals, which is used for making high speed steel tools. Tungsten is one of the most important war metals, which is used for making high speed steel tools.

Winnipeg Trade Panicky as Price Drops the Limit

WINNIPEG, May 15 (CP)—All wheat futures prices plunged the full 10-cent limits during the final minutes of trading on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today after fluctuating actively at lower levels all through the session.

Quotations finished the hectic session 10 cents down, May at 74 1/2, July 75 1/2 and October 79 1/2. Selling came from all sides as traders unloaded wheat into the panicky pit. Bottom levels were touched shortly after the start.

Despite good resting orders a short-covering, quotations fell to stage a sustained comeback. It was suggested that some of the heavy offerings came out in connection with the unwinding of the spreads involving sales here against purchases at Chicago.

Coarse grain trade was featured by the firm stand of oats quotations which posted two-cent gains while all other grains plunged to lower levels.

Fix values dropped the 10-cent limits early in the session and remained there while barley prices touched their lowest point since last September and rye their bottom levels since October.

In the cash wheat market, exporters bought fair amounts of Nos. 1 and 2 Northern and there was a fair demand for all other grades except No. 1 hard and No. 1 Northern.

Few Small Gains on Toronto Mkt.

TORONTO, May 15 (CP)—Toronto stock market shifted over to a narrower range today, as distress selling and the war news influenced prices. Western oil stocks had only a minor setback.

Nickel came back from 29 1/2 to 31 1/2 and closed around 31 for a net loss of a point. Smelters finished about a point up and narrow gains were noted by Noranda and Hudson Bay. Steel Rock finished at two low around 1.45.

Kerr-Addison, Kirkland Lake, Little Long Lac, East Malartic, Preston and Pickle Crow were down 3 to 10. Bralorne and Buffalo-Akerite weakened 20 to 25. Dome and Lake Shore improved slightly. Royalite Oil more than recovered an early loss of 2, while the close was down a few for Home, Calgary-Edmonton, Okalta, Highwood, Commonwealth and Foothills.

Bell Telephone added a point or two. Dominion Foundries added about 3/4. Steel of Canada firm 2, and National Steel Car closed 2 up.

MONTREAL PRODUCE. MONTREAL, May 15 (CP)—Spot butter, Que. 23 1/2, Egg, Eastern A-large 23 1/2-24. Butter futures: June 23 1/2, Nov. 23 1/2-24.

Development Fourways Park Proceeding Rapidly

Development of Fourways Park, children's playground on Hill Mines Road, is in full swing under the active and energetic direction of Percy Jeffery and Eddie Boyes. It is hoped to make the spacious playground one of the most beautiful and most popular parks in the district. E. L. Wright, President of the K.P.-D.O.K.K. Playground Association, said Wednesday.

Sixty-five trees—alder maples and American elms—have been planted, and the highway end of the playground has been seeded to grass following the spreading of 30 loads of surface soil. Three pieces of playground equipment have already been erected. Last Sunday the playground attracted about 150 youngsters, in the course of the next couple of weeks a teeter-totter and swings will be constructed and put in place. This equipment has been set some distance back on the actual playground for it is planned next winter to operate, on the lawn, the outdoor skating rink which proved so popular last season.

Among those turning out to work on construction of the playground are Richard Drew, Secretary, Percy Jeffery, Eddie Boyes, E. L. Wright, Finance Chairman, Lawrence George, J. C. Robison, George Latta, H. H. Sutherland, James McIvor, Overseer, Steve Maco, A. S. Calbick, W. T. Calbick, E. W. Somers, "Scotty" Neil and Norman Norcross.

Financial help has been prominently given by William Irvine, E. W. Widdowson and many others, including the Nomads of Avruddaka. S. G. Blaylock has donated 500 pounds of fertilizer for the plant beds and the lawn, and S. P. Pond is donating fence posts. M. J. Varsveld loaned a truck for bringing in top soil.

A great deal of credit for our progress goes to Mr. Jeffery and Mr. Boyes, Chairmen of the Planning and Construction Committees. In six weeks they have accomplished wonders and about 25 other members of the two organizations have cooperated to the limit.

BLOW AREA FOR CARS

Two hundred feet of four-foot fence wiring of chain link style has been ordered and will be placed along the highway frontage. Through the cooperation of the City Council, a slow area of 15 miles an hour is being established for motor vehicles as a safety precaution for children.

In connection with the park which extends across Cottonwood Creek clearing of brush will commence.

Lightning Strikes Church Redeemer During Service

Blue Flash Is Seen by Altar During Confirmation

Religion was a matter of choice and not something to be forced on people, declared Rt. Rev. Walter R. Adams, D.D., Bishop of Kootenay, at a confirmation service at the Church of the Redeemer Tuesday night. There were traffic signs and many laws which one was compelled to obey, but religion was a matter of choice, he said.

"He took his text from John 15:3. 'Without me ye can do nothing.' Religion was also a life of fellowship, and one must help his fellow men," he stated.

Members of the congregation were startled during the service when lightning struck the cross on the roof and travelled down beside the altar, causing a brilliant blue flash. Those present, however, said that Bishop Adams remained perfectly calm.

Following the service a reception was held at the Parish Hall, when members of the congregation met Bishop Adams. Refreshments were served by the Women's Association.

Those confirmed were Lionel Sells, Elmore A. Calbick, William C. Marshall, Robert W. Elsdon, Mrs. G. A. Erhanson, Mrs. Elmore A. Calbick, Miss Margaret Ida Triggs, Miss Margaret Dawson, Miss Joyce Riley, Miss Marvel Lewtas, Miss Evelyn Hammer and Miss Isabel Mack.

C.G.I.T. HAS MOTHERS DAY SERVICE, NAKUSP

NAKUSP, B.C.—A special Mother's Day service in Nakusp United Church was conducted by the Canadian Girls in Training.

Two anthems were rendered by the Junior Choir and Miss Dorothy Welch rendered a vocal solo. The address was given by the Member of the C. G. I. T., Mrs. E. W. Bill. The girls assisting were Misses Hazel Herridge, Irene Buerge, Dorothy Welch, Gladys Olson, Ruth Johnson, Selma Soderman, Margaret Vinall, Louise Brodie, Margaret Salstrom and Patricia Maland.

SUNSHINE JUNIOR POULTRY CLUB ACTIVE

SUNSHINE BAY, B.C.—Members of the Junior Poultry Club of Sunshine Bay met at the home of their leader, T. Neale. Each member received their quota of chicks, which were in excellent condition.

The names of the boys and girls who are enthusiastic members of this club are Viola Saunders, Marjorie Secres, Florence Pettit, Russell Saunders, Edmund Pettit, Eli Podmoroff, Allan Donaldson and Gordon Donaldson.

Robson Institute to Have Bread Contest

ROBSON, B.C.—At the May meeting of the Robson Women's Institute, 25 members and visitors attended. Mrs. Duncan Carter, President, being hostess.

The Public Health and Community Welfare Committee reported on the question of a baby clinic and services of a district visiting nurse.

The Parks Board reported work done and selection of a name was held over. The Home Economic committee announced a bread-baking competition.

Red Cross work ready for shipment was 12 pneumonia jackets, 12 pillow cases, 12 towels, seven night gowns, four scarves, seven sweaters and nine pairs of socks.

The speakers for the afternoon were Mrs. R. Devitt and Mrs. R. Berry.

A pianoforte solo by Mrs. William Campbell was enjoyed.

Tea was served by the hostesses.

Oratorical Contest Winners, Cranbrook

CRANBROOK, B.C.—The oratorical contest at the high school was finished and awards made among the 15 contestants with the following results: First, Robert Phillips; second, Lorraine Waiters; junior first, Joan Irwin; second, Annie McGillivray.

The contest was arranged for and directed by Charles Harrison, Vice-President of the Debating Club, under the club's sponsorship. The club chose a contestant for each house in each class and the chosen speaker was allowed to select his own subject.

The speeches were delivered before the school, with judges W. W. Brice, and Miss Estie Wilby. Judging was on a points basis for material, delivery, voice control and posture.

TRAIL, B. C., May 15—Constable Fred Steele of the Trail City Police has been appointed Acting Chief of Police during the absence of Chief John Laurie. The latter, now on leave of absence, is a Provost Marshall in the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Report of the Tourist and Publicity Committee by W. E. Gray, Chairman, showed that 175 "telean" posters had been displayed throughout the city. A beautification parade, planned for last Saturday but cancelled on account of weather conditions, would be held in the near future. Mr. Gray humorously offered to lead the parade to the ball park in order to supplement the work "bee".

Mr. Gray also introduced "Ski Hi" as an official publication for the Junior Board. He was complimented on the edition, and was decided to adopt the magazine as a monthly bulletin, and also to circulate it among other Junior Trade Boards.

The "Hollywood Committee" which had been working on a project of publicizing Rossland by moving pictures of skiing was suspended until Fall, when it is hoped to complete the shooting, reported Arthur Turner.

Rossland Junior Board Studying Civic Financing Committee at Work; Smokes to Rossland Men Overseas

ROSSLAND, B. C., May 15—That funds were being used toward the investigation of various phases of municipal financial administration, with the object of enlightening members of the Board on civic affairs, was announced by chool Trustee Arthur Snowball, Chairman of the Finance Committee, at a meeting of the Junior Section, Rossland Board of Trade, Tuesday evening.

F. L. Fletcher and F. C. Ramson had been appointed to investigate the city's bonded indebtedness and the hospital finances, while he himself was preparing a statement on school costs. Mr. Snowball stated. He added that he was waiting to hear the report of the Rowell Commission in order to establish lead points in his own field of endeavor. Mr. Snowball is a member of the Rossland School Board.

L. J. Nicholson, President, told the members that the Rossland City Band had approached the Civic Committee for assistance in supplying material to build a floor in the bandstand at Esling Park, where it planned to hold summer concerts.

The contest was arranged for and directed by Charles Harrison, Vice-President of the Debating Club, under the club's sponsorship. The club chose a contestant for each house in each class and the chosen speaker was allowed to select his own subject.

The speeches were delivered before the school, with judges W. W. Brice, and Miss Estie Wilby. Judging was on a points basis for material, delivery, voice control and posture.

Rossland Junior Board Studying Civic Financing Committee at Work; Smokes to Rossland Men Overseas

ROSSLAND, B. C., May 15—That funds were being used toward the investigation of various phases of municipal financial administration, with the object of enlightening members of the Board on civic affairs, was announced by chool Trustee Arthur Snowball, Chairman of the Finance Committee, at a meeting of the Junior Section, Rossland Board of Trade, Tuesday evening.

F. L. Fletcher and F. C. Ramson had been appointed to investigate the city's bonded indebtedness and the hospital finances, while he himself was preparing a statement on school costs. Mr. Snowball stated. He added that he was waiting to hear the report of the Rowell Commission in order to establish lead points in his own field of endeavor. Mr. Snowball is a member of the Rossland School Board.

L. J. Nicholson, President, told the members that the Rossland City Band had approached the Civic Committee for assistance in supplying material to build a floor in the bandstand at Esling Park, where it planned to hold summer concerts.
