Argentina, Chile Accept Plan to Declare Intention of Cutting Axis

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 21 (CP).—Argentina and Chile, holdouts against a joint Pan-American severance of diplomatic relations with Axis powers, tonight joined in a compromise with the 19 other Western hemisphere republics with a declaration of intention to to sever relations with those powers.

Argentina, considered from the start of the current conference of foreign ministers as the most likely obstacle to unanimity behind the originally-proposed declaration, accepted the compromise plan without reservation.

The wording of the all-important agreement, however, indicated that Argentina's acceptance nevertheless would have to be ratified by the Argentine congress.

It was recalled the Argentine foreign minister said even before the conference began that any agreements he made would have to be approved by his congress.

Chile's Foreign Minister Juan Bautista Rossetti, however, made the reservation that he would have to consult his government. From the start he had insisted that Chile's special geographical situation affected her position.

A four-point statement was threshed out in a series of talks among the conference leaders.

The first two points of the formula reiterate the long-standing declarations that any act of aggression against an American republic by a non-American state is an act of aggression against all of them and that all 21 nations will cooperate for their mutual protection.

The third and fourth points, embodying the question which has occasioned all the negotiations with Argentina and Chile, are:

"The American republics consequently declare that in the exercise of their sovereignty and in accordance with their constitutional institutions and powers, provided that these are in accord, they cannot continue diplomatic relations with Japan, Germany, and Italy, since Japan has attacked and the others have declared war upon a country of our hemisphere.

"The American republics finally declare that before they reestablish relations referred to in the previous paragraph, they will consult together in order that their decision may be collective and unanimous."

The agreement still requires the approval of the foreign minister or chief delegates of 16 other American republics.

NEXT SESSION MAY 1

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 21 (AP).—Barring a special session, which Acting President Ramon S. Catillo thus far has refused to call, the earliest date for Argentine congressional action on the Pan-American declaration for a unanimous break with the Axis would be May 1. The next regular session begins then.

Perry Attacks C.C.F. Policies in Long Speech; Adopt Address 43-2

VICTORIA, Jan. 21 (CP).—The 10-day debate on the throne speech ended in the Legislature today with a speech by Education Minister Perry devoted almost wholly to attacks on the C.C.F. policies as advocated in the Legislature.

The address to his honor the Lieutenant-Governor approving the coalition government was adopted on division, 43-2, the C.C.F. opposition supporting the coalitionists. Former Premier T. D. Pattullo (Lib.-Prince Rupert) and Tom Uphill (Lab.-Fernie) were the only dissentients.

Mr. Perry said that the Government had no mandate to be crusaders for particular causes.

"Nor were we elected to change the basis on which our social and economic structure is erected rather to consider all matters in the light of reason and common sense," he continued.

"Sacrifice of party advantage has taken place, common sense has triumphed in spite of the fact that history makes very unattractive the coalition of parties and the sacrifice of party identity," said Mr. Perry.

"Liberals and Conservatives in this House have put their country above party," said the Prince George Minister. "My friends of the Opposition, however, have advocated laws purely of Federal jurisdiction, not Provincial. In this way they gain publicity and carry on propaganda. It will be necessary, therefore, to deal with a few of their arguments and show that the Liberal and Conservative parties are not capitalistic parties simply because the C.C.F., like Dr. Goebbels, keep repeating the statement."

The policies of these two parties, he added, are based upon the philosophy of government of the people, by the people and for the people.

"The C.C.F. party has a different philosophy of Government which is the economic doctrine that the ownership of all productive and distributive wealth shall be vested in the state—not in the workers, not in the producers—but in the bureaucracy of the department of the state governed by Socialist ministries," he said.

"To this idea of government we are opposed, for it is nothing more or less that a vicious tyranny of total bureaucracy and total political patronage, the counterpart of which is seen in Russia, Germany and Italy, and is known as totalitarianism," he continued.

The C.C.F. believed industry could not carry the costs of all the reforms advocated and looked forward to the collapse of industry so that the state may take it over. They conscientiously believed that state ownership would provide plenty for all, Mr. Perry went on.

"We believe under state ownership of industry there will be less wealth produced at higher costs of production than at present and consequently there will be less wealth to distribute," he said. "We believe in income taxation and death duties as a better means of re-distributing wealth through the state to the needy, than of the state going into industry itself."

RUSSIAN ARMY PUSHES 7 MILES PAST MOZHAISK

Fierce Cold Fails to Hold Up Drive to "Full Victory"

ALSO PUSH FROM NORTH AND SOUTH

By ROBERT MAGIDOFF

MOSCOW, Jan. 22 (Thursday) (AP)—The exultant Red Army early today had rolled the remnants of three or more German divisions seven miles beyond recaptured Mozhaisk, dealing out heavy casualties and intent on giving the enemy not a moment to entrench.

Flanking attacks also were pressed from both North and South of the city. Twenty-five settlements were retaken on the North wing alone, in the Kalinin sector.

The battle cry was "the battle of Moscow is over; the road to full victory lies ahead."

The remnants of the 7th German Infantry Division, the 3rd Motor Division, the 321st Infantry Regiment and the 197th Infantry Division were being pushed back Westward by the victorious Russians, today's communique said.

"The Germans are suffering heavy losses, particularly in the South," the bulletin added.

On the Southwestern front a series of violent German counter-attacks were repulsed with the aid of cavalry and artillery, other dispatches said.

The Soviet Information Bureau's communique said that the Red Army was "inflicting heavy blows" on the Germans and that it was continuing its advance, having occupied "several inhabited localities."

Fierce cold maintained its grip on a huge area both North and South of Moscow, but it failed to chill the enthusiasm of the Red Army on any sector of the vast front, dispatches indicated. It was 40 below zero in Moscow.

By NOLAND NORGAARD

LONDON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Elimination of the Mozhaisk salient before Moscow has put the Russian Army in position to strike its next major blow along a front running from Kharkov South to the Sea of Azov, informed British sources said tonight.

The outbreak of savage Red Army thrust in the important Donets Basin was seen as the signal for this long-delayed counter offensive. Ready for instant action anywhere, Soviet quarters pointed out, are vast numbers of fresh troops which have been in training for months.

Coast Reserve Men Fit for Active Army Will Be Dropped

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21 (CP) — Men eligible for active service will be dropped from reserve units here, military officials said today as they moved to bring into being the reserve brigade which General R. O. Alexander, Officer Commanding Pacific Command, yesterday announced would be formed on Vancouver Island and the lower mainland.

All men between the ages of 19 and 35 who are physically fit for the active services will be dropped.

South Africa Arrests Mean "Dangerous Move Afoot"

PRETORIA, South Africa, Jan. 21 (CP Cable). — Colin Steyn, Minister of Justice, told the House of Assembly tonight that the roundup of police in Johannesburg and elsewhere was the result of evidence that "a dangerous subversive movement was afoot."

He said illegal "bomb factories" had been discovered in addition to the actual bombs found in the possession of detained policemen.

JAPS FALL BACK AS AMERICANS LAUNCH ATTACK

Japs Flee as Airport Raid by Guerillas Surprises Them

110 ARE KILLED

By WILLIAM F. FRYE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP).—A counter attack which drove the Japanese with heavy losses out of the positions they had won from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's main force, and a successful lunge by Filipino guerillas against an enemy airport were added today to the saga of the Philippine defence.

One of General MacArthur's guerrila bands swept out of the mountains North of Luzon in a raid on the airport at Tuguegarao in the Cagayan Valley. Taken by surprise, the Japanese fled in confusion, leaving 110 dead on the field. About 300 others were dispersed, said a War Department communique. Slight losses were suffered by the attacking force.

On MacArthur's principal front of the Bataan peninsula, American and Philippine regulars launched a fierce attack against Japanese who, by infiltration and by frontal assaults on the centre, had succeeded in penetrating the defending forces' lines.

Describing the fighting in this sector as particularly savage, the communique said MacArthur's forces hurled the enemy back, recapturing all the positions they had lost to the Japanese, and inflicting heavy losses. Casualties among the Americans and Filipinos were relatively moderate.

The attack on the Japanese-held airfield at Tugue-Garao was the second official report in two days that resistance of Philippine-American ground forces was not confined to the main body of troops on Bataan peninsula.

Commons Plans Secret Sessions When Necessary

OTTAWA, Jan. 21 (CP).—Secret sessions of the House of Commons for intimate discussions of war operations "may be arranged," Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House today.

The request for a secret sitting came from M. J. Coldwell, acting C.C.F. leader, who has made a similar request on several occasions since the war started.

Mr. King said "some of the reasons which the government had in mind earlier in this session and in previous sessions for not holding a secret sitting, do not have the same force at the present time.

"I think we can assure him (Mr. Coldwell) and honorable members of the House that if it is desired to have a secret sitting that can be arranged."

Mr. King said it would be desirable to have knowledge in advance of the questions to be submitted to the government so that officials with the necessary information to aid the ministers could be present.

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Jan. 21 (AP).—Seven crewmen of a United States Navy plane which was forced down at sea by motor trouble have been rescued and brought back to port after drifting for seven and a half days, Navy Headquarters announced today.

FIRE AT SHORT RANGE CUTTING DOWN JAPANESE

Singapore Batteries Down at Least 13 Planes

BASES BOMBED

By C. YATES McDANIEL

SINGAPORE, Jan. 21 (AP).—British artillery firing point-blank over open sights appeared tonight to have beaten the Japanese offensive to a halt in Northeast Johore State, and Singapore's anti-aircraft batteries and fighter planes shot down at least 13 enemy raiders in the best day's work yet for the defenders of this base.

The Royal Air Force, too, was in heavy and effective action against the invader's principal air bases, Kuantan and Kuala Lumpur having been especially hard hit and left alight with flames.

Only on the Eastern, and far less critical, side of the Malayan Peninsula was there evidence of Japanese progress of consequence. There the British Command announced that the Imperial outpost of Endau, about 85 miles above Singapore, had fallen back before superior enemy force.

In the Western anchor of the British line, however, British Headquarters reported that there had been only slight contact with the Japanese in the area of Batu Pahat about 70 miles North of Singapore, the farthest point of enemy penetration.

In the area of Buki Payong, a hill nine miles North of Batu Pahat and below the Muar River, said the British communique, "our on the enemy at short range over artillery inflicted heavy casualties open sights."

Heavy fighting continued there and in the nearby Bakri vicinity.

WARSHIPS IN ACTION

(A Japanese newspaper reported that Allied warships were operating in the Malacca Strait along the West alayan Coast, bombarding Japanese troops. The Japanese news agency Domei claimed that advanced Japanese units stood within six miles of the Strait of Johore, which separates Singapore from the mainland.)

The struggle in Northwestern Johore was a wild medley of artillery, aerial and infantry action, Japanese dive bombers heavily assaulting the British forward troops.

Singapore's sharply improved aerial defence was in large part attributed to anti-aircraft batteries, which brought down nine enemy planes to four destroyed by British fighters. Others were damaged.

Again, as on Tuesday, the Japanese loosed their bombs alike on residential areas and fortifications in indiscriminate attacks; the details of the damage were not immediately made known.

Two More Ships Attacked in East

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP).—Two more ships in United States coastal waters — the 5269-ton City of Atlanta and the 3779-ton Latvian steamship of Cliivaira—and 46 more seamen were added today to the known toll of enemy submarines prowling off the Atlantic shore.

The vessels were attacked early Monday morning off the Carolina coast and the navy made public the details today when the 33 survivors reached port. The City of Atlanta was sunk; the Cliivaira, torpedoed amidships, was abandoned by crew in a flooded and sinking condition.

Japs May Attempt Landing on New Guinea Today

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 22 (Thursday)—(AP).—Australian Air Minister Arthur Drakeford declared today that a Japanese landing in the New Guinea area may be attempted today.

It is obvious that the Japanese have more than one aircraft carrier in the Bismarck Archipelago, supported by covering naval forces and shore-based aircraft.

138 MEN SENT TO HONG KONG ONLY PARTLY TRAINED

Inquiry Being Made Defence Minister States

WAR MATERIAL WENT TO EAST

By FRANK FLAHERTY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

OTTAWA, Jan. 21 (CP)—Somewhere in the Pacific war zone is a ship laden with 212 army vehicles, originally destined for Canadian troops who fought and died or were made prisoners at Hong Kong, Defence Minister Ralston told the House of Commons today.

His declaration drew a mixed reception as he addressed the House a short time before prorogation.

Col. Ralston revealed that 138 of 139 additional men and reinforcements added to the two battalions assigned to the contingent had less than the minimum 18 weeks' training prescribed by army orders for overseas duty.

The minister said an inquiry was being made into the circumstances under which the men were accepted and "action will be taken in accordance with the facts found."

"The defence of Hong Kong is in accordance with the finest traditions of Canadian armies," said the minister. "All ranks fought it out to the last man and more can not be asked of any man."

Conservative House Leader Hanson said he had no criticism of the Defence Department. The Canadian people must be prepared for bad news in a total war. Insofar as some of the troops had not the required training the affair involved the general question of manpower which members would have to face.

M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. Leader, thought a secret session at which members could discuss all aspects of the Hong Kong fighting and other matters was in order.

"The minister should resign," interjected J. F. Pouliot (Lib. Temiscouata) and a consistent critic of Col. Ralston.

SHIP WAS SLOWER

Some time after decision to send the contingent was reached it was decided to send a full outfit of mechanical transport (trucks, cars and carriers), 212 vehicles in all. This equipment left on a later and slower ship and could not possibly reach Hong Kong before the fighting started. The last report the minister was able to give on the ship was that it put into Manila and was under the direction of United States naval authorities.

"The events of Dec. 17 at Pearl Harbor and the loss of the Prince of Wales and the Repulse a few days later completely changed the strategic position not only in the China Sea but in the whole Far Eastern region," said the minister.

"It remained for the British, Canadian and Indian troops making up the garrison of Hong Kong to face heavy odds and fight it out, as they did."

Only Visas Needed by Military Men

VANCOUVER, Jan. 21 (CP) — Poul R. Josselyn, American Consul in Vancouver, today announced that regulations for soldiers, sailors and airmen going from Canada to the United States on leave or for other reasons had been eased.

Mr. Josselyn said passports would no longer be required but visas must be obtained from the American Consulate in Vancouver. Members of the Active Services must furnish identification in order to obtain visas.

Battle Raging on Mountain Side 20 Miles From Border

British Bombers Pound Thailand Airdrome; Chinese Forces to Take Up Defence on Upper Eastern Frontier

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

RANGOON, Burma, Jan. 21 (AP)—Burma's air and ground defenders effected a strong coordinated defence tonight in heavy fighting against mixed Japanese and Thai invaders who had struck almost a third of the way across lower Burma toward the Gulf of Martaban.

An intense struggle raged on the mountain slope near Kawkareik, 20 miles inside the Burma-Thailand border and about 45 miles East of the city of Moulmein, on the tide-swept gulf almost directly opposite Rangoon.

British aircraft were in the battle itself and British bombers with fighter escorts struck hard at Thailand's Rohaing (Raheng) airdrome East of the battlefield. No British planes were lost.

This second major enemy incursion into Southern Burma was first reported yesterday, and for a time the British forces held the invaders in check near Myawaddi, border town in the Dawna Mountain range. But the enemy finally swarmed through the mountain passes, striking down the road to Kawkareik.

Thai troops first attacked an Indian outpost at Pahu just South of Myawaddi while other Japanese-Thailand stabbed at British mountain positions Northwest of Myawaddi.

Japanese planes dive-bombed and machine-gunned for six hours before the land attacks.

Two British companies bore the main brunt of the Japanese pressure East of Kawkareik on the road which lies to the Gaing River ferry at Kyondo and then on to Moulmein.

What official attitude Britain will take toward Thailand was not known. It was pointed out the Thai soldiers may be "volunteers" in the sense of the Spanish Blue division troops fighting for the Axis in Russia.

But a communique quoted a Burmese official as declaring the attack "will give the Burmese just the opportunity they wanted to settle with Thai troops."

A sober appraisal of the lower Burma situation was contained in an official commentary which told of the fighting in Tenasserim, where the British forces have given up Tavoy, 170 miles South of Moulmein and are moving Northward over difficult mountain trails.

"The battles now being fought in Tenasserim are in very difficult county, well suited to infiltrations of the enemy who are present in superior numbers," it said.

The Thai and their Japanese associates struck with no warning, the belief here was that Thailand had been promised territorial booty on the Tenasserim coast, the Burmese neck which already has been severed by the Japanese by their capture of the port of Tavoy, 170 miles to the South of the present action.

Tavoy, it appeared, is being developed by the Japanese as the base for a second probably thrust upon Moulmein, to which it is linked by a railway and highway route.

The Japanese master scheme apparently is to undertake piecemeal occupation of exposed Southern Burma areas while the British command's main task is that of marshalling an offensive and not a defensive army (an eventual British thrust from Burma at the Japanese flank in Thailand to relieve Malaya is generally expected).

CONFER ON STRATEGY

The leader of the Chinese forces which marched 1000 miles from Kwangsi province to Burma and the British high command have just completed a conference on strategy somewhere in the Shan states of Eastern Burma.

Gen. Liu Kwan-lung conferred with Lt.-Gen. T. J. Hutton, the British commander in chief. Gen. Hutton said he was satisfied with the outcome of the conference, that Chinese forces in Burma already were considerable and probably many more would come to join the united nations' campaign.

Liu's troops were assigned to the defence of a sector on Burma's upper Eastern frontier, where deep gorges divide mountains up to 7000 feet high.

Equipped with new rifles as well as machine guns and light artillery, the men trudged long distances daily without a lorry or even a mule to carry their supplies.

"Our leader decided to send us to Burma as a token of his faith in the ABCD alliance and his determination to throw all China's weight into the struggle against tyranny," said Liu, after his conference with the British high command.

"If Burma should ask for more assistance, thousands of our soldiers will immediately be sent here."

Garden Club to Start Early In Encouraging Finer Gardens for Nelson; Jack Draper President

Organizing early to gain a good start in promoting and encouraging finer gardens for Nelson in 1942, the Nelson Garden Club Thursday night elected John Draper its President. Plans to strengthen the organization, to promote interest in amateur gardening, and to encourage interest in Club meetings were also made.

Other officers elected were S. G. Blaylock, Honorary President; Mayor N. C. Stibbs, Honorary Vice-President; Ald. H. H. Hiniti, Honorary Second Vice-President; J. H. Coventry, Vice-President; George Brown, Secretary; and A. S. Read, Charles Morris, and W. B. Melnechuk, Men's Work Committee; Mrs. F. E. Wheeler, Mrs. George Schupe, Mrs. J. E. Bedford, and Mrs. John Draper, Ladies Work Committee.

"GARDENS, LIVING ART"

"Gardens and flowers are living art. People gain in their sense of beauty and in health from creating gardens," said Mr. Melnechuk in applauding the Club's decision to begin its work earlier this year.

To stimulate more interest among gardeners and to encourage novices to increase the beauty of their gardens, it was decided that first prize winners in all divisions of competition would be barred from competing for first or second prizes in the same division the following season. However to maintain the interest of prize winners, they will be eligible to compete for ribbons and honorable mentions. Only gardens entered for competition will be judged, it was decided.

J. H. Coventry urged that all-year-round gardens be encouraged, in place of the usual fine showings in Spring and Fall. There were hundreds of annuals that could be raised from seed available for year-round display. He advised the Club to give advise and to encourage newcomers and novices.

Nelson rock gardens in quality, he declared, were equal to those of Vancouver and Victoria.

Designed to maintain interest in Club activities and to keep gardening before the public, talks on various amateur gardening subjects will be given at meetings. Mr. Coventry will give a discourse on "The Growing of Annuals" at the next meeting, in mid-February. Every effort will be made to strengthen and to increase interest in the Club. A small membership fee was adopted.

Votes of thanks to those who acted as judges in 1941, to the City Council and others who assisted were passed. The City was mentioned for its generosity in providing prizes for best garden, rockeries, and boulevard competition.

Trail Red Cross Workers Number 700 to 800 Women and 600 Students

TRAIL, B.C., Jan. 21—Output from the Trail Red Cross Workrooms during 1941, as reported by Mrs. F. J. Willis, Retiring President of the Work Committee, practically tripled that of 1940. The main items were civilian garments and quilts for air raid victims.

Five extra sewing machines, three supplied by the Patriotic Society and two lent by Mrs. J. Millen and Mrs. Sammartino, have increased the number in the workrooms to 12. Inadequate lighting in the service knitting department was corrected free of charge by the West Kootenay Power & Light Company.

33 OUTSIDE GROUPS

Twelve organizations, assigned to various scheduled times in the work rooms, and 33 outside groups were contributing work, and particular mention was made to the new Schools group managed by Mrs. W. M. Cameron with cooperation from the school trustees and teaching staffs. "The output of this group was slow at first as the pupils had to be taught to bring their work up to the high standard demanded by the Canadian Red Cross Headquarters. A steady flow of first-class work has now begun and will no doubt steadily increase," Mrs. Willis reported.

Workers represent a grand total of 700 to 800 women, and 600 school pupils. An index filing system, to check on work being done, is being kept.

Under very rigid inspection at the Provincial Warehouse at Vancouver, only seven articles were returned, indicating a very high standard of workmanship in the district.

Nelson Plans New Production Setup

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP).—Donald M. Nelson announced today he would abolish the office of Production Management and bring all of its functions and activities under his authority as chairman of the new War Production Board.

Rossland High Closes Earlier Raid Account

ROSSLAND, B.C., Jan. 21—School Trustees decided Tuesday night that no need exists for closing MacLean School at 3 o'clock instead of the present 3:15, but authorized Principal Wesley McKenzie to close the High School at 3:45 instead of the customary 4 o'clock. The earlier closing is effective only for January and February.

Earlier closing was suggested in a letter from S. J. Willis, Superintendent of Education, in order that children could be home in daylight during the Winter months in the event of air raid warnings or actual attacks.

The Superintendent also suggested that adets over 16 years of age should be registered as A.R.P. workers and function during and after air raids and in civilian evacuations, provided the consent of parents is secured. Principal McKenzie stated that this policy is already being observed.

Red Pilot Lights in Art Department

ROSSLAND, B.C., —Jan. 21. — The customary half-yearly report of Blaine, Fullerton & White of Vancouver, covering fire prevention measures in local schools, was referred to the School Board's maintenance committee Tuesday evening for action. Included in the recommendations was one advising the installation of red pilot lights on certain electrical equipment in the Home Economics and Industrial Arts departments, as well as the provision of meal waste containers for the High School.

Dim-Out Order Gets Rossland

ROSSLAND, B.C., Jan. 21—Rossland is now required to observe a partial "sundown to sunrise" blackout, according to the B.C. Police, where formal instructions to enforce a dim-out order here have been received only within the last two or three days. The order provides, in brief, that no porch lights and no neon signs are to burn during the prescribed period, and no lights anywhere unless someone is on the job to turn them off instantly in the event of an air raid warning. Street lights, of course, continue to burn. Police say they have been making the rounds of business places and residences and find that the response is good.

Chief sufferers from the order are the outdoor skating rink on First Avenue and Ed Walters rink on Le-Roi Avenue. Both Mr. Walters and J. Ware, operator of the First Avenue rink, assert that their floodlights can be extinguished in a moment, but police say they have no authority to make exceptions, so skaters are currently making their way around in partial darkness which would be complete were it not for nearby street lights.

ROSSLAND TEACHER SENDS RESIGNATION

ROSSLAND, B.C., Jan. 21—J. C. Wilkie, in a letter to the School Trustees Tuesday evening, tendered his resignation from the MacLean School staff. Mr. Wilkie was given a year's leave of absence commencing in September last in order that he could study for his B.A. degree at the University of British Columbia.

The resignation was accepted.

BOARD FAVORS BONUS FOR NORTH VAN. EMPLOYEES

VICTORIA, Jan. 21 (CP).—Municipal employees of North Vancouver, if an Arbitration Board recommendation is accepted, will receive pay boosts and a cost-of-living bonus.

Curran Reelected President Trail Red Cross Branch

TRAIL, B.C., Jan. 21.—W. A. Curran was re-elected President of the Trail Branch of the Red Cross Society at the annual meeting Wednesday evening, with J. L. Crowe as First Vice-President; Mrs. F. S. Willis, Second Vice-President; D. H. Bayley, Hon. Secretary; W. H. Raikes, Hon. Treasurer; and Dr. M. R. Basted, J. A. Millar, Dominic Daloise, A. P. Leveque, G. A. Walliner, Ald. William Thomson, J. R. Bryden, Leo Levy, H. J. Palmer, Mrs. D. H. Bayley, Mrs. W. M. Cameron, Mrs. A. M. Chesser, and J. L. Hallam as Executive. E. R. Humphrey, representative of the Trail-Rossland Boy Scouts Association, and C. H. Jones, representing the Canadian Legion, are also on the Executive.

R. W. Diamond was made Honorary President, and Mayor Herbert Clark, Honorary Vice-President.

F. Strachan Roberts was named auditor.

Credit for the successful financial operation of the Society was given to the Trail Patriotic Society, through which $18,000 of the $19,970 year's receipts had been donated. This donation represented one third of the patriotic body's revenue for the year and obviated the necessity of direct public canvass.

Relating to this report was the adoption, en clause with the Canadian Red Cross Society's constitution, of a resolution admitting to membership all persons donating at least $3 annually to the patriotic society.

Disbursements totalled $552, including $145 for janitor's services and a $50 grant to the Junior Red Cross Society.

A shipment of first aid equipment from Provincial eadquarters augmented by a large qantity of dressings and bandages made by local workers, and arrangements now under way to provide supplies for five carualty clearing stations were mentioned in Mr. Bryden's report on A.R.P. activities. Nelson and Rossland branches have also been contacted with regard to providing shelter for air raid victims, and a canvass is being made made among graduates of the Red Cross home nursing classes for volunteers to assist in nursing casualties not hospitalized.

Men serving overseas, 689 of which were registered through assistance of the Canadian Legion, were reported by Mr. Wallinger, in charge of these records, as being difficult to locate as specific military classifications could not be obtained upon enlistment.

Acknowledged as one of the most important annual contribution to the local branch was the use of the basement of Knox United Church, causing continual inconvenience to the Church membership. The meeting voted to absorb the taxes, water rent, and other expenses for use of the Orange Hall, now turned into temporary headquarters for church activities. Anticipated cost was estimated at $15 monthly, and a vote was taken to discredit any impression that this sum was in any way considered in proportion to the service rendered by the Church.

Mrs. F. S. Willis' resignation as chairman of the Women's Work Committee was regretfully accepted, Mrs. Willis recommended the spointment of Mrs. D. H. Bayley, Assistant Chairman, in view of Mrs. Bayley's splendid work throughout her entire term of office.

Curran Tells Trail Red Cross of Highly Successful Work of Year

TRAIL, B. C., Jan. 21 — Arrangements to provide accommodation for activities of Knox United Church curtailed when the parish hall, located in the church basement, was turned over to the Red Cross Society for a workroom, have furnished use of the Orange Hall, W. A. Curran, President, reported to the Society's annual meeting Wednesday.

Payment of taxes on the hall, and a portion of other charges to be determined between the Knox Church and the Society's executive, estimated at an annual cost of $180, would have to be included in the 1942 budget, Mr. Curran advised. Mr Curran thanked the Patriotic Society for a $50 donation toward improving the Orange Hall for occupancy.

Two public drives, the first for scrap aluminum, resulting in a collection of some 1900 pieces, weighing approximately 800 pounds, shipped to Vancouver; and the second for blankets," sponsored by the Trail Scroptimist Club and which netted $283 and five blankets, were also reported.

Thanks were expressed to the Kitsilano Boys Band for their band concert in Trail, which raised $161.34, with mention of cooperation from the Gyro Club, and the City of Trail; and also to the C. M. & S. Company for painting the entry to the work rooms.

A request for special aid to Russia, recently received, had been referred to the Patriotic Society owing to the fact that the Red Cross was a participating member of that organization.

Mrs. F. S. Willis pointed out the unfeasibility of using the work rooms as a receiving station for salvage inasmuch as the women workers were already fully occupied; space was limited; and the unsanitary condition resulting from the accumulation of materials would prove a detriment to the cleanliness required for the work now being undertaken.

Appreciation for services rendered throughout the year were expressed to Harvey Webber, who serviced machines; the Glenone, C. M. & S. Company Store, O. K. Bakery, City Bakery, Fourex Bakery, Model Bakery and Star Bakery; and to Mrs. D. H. Bayley, assistant chairman; Mrs. A. O. Mustart, Assistant Secretary; Mrs. N. Moir, Mrs. R. R. Burns, Mrs. W. H. Raikes, Mrs. A. M. Chesser, Mrs. H. B. Fuller, Mrs. W. Wagstaff, Mrs. Miller Mason, Mrs. R. K. Blois, Mrs. J. T. Woods, Mrs. James Devito, Mrs. R. W. Diamond, Mrs. Alexander Smith, Mrs. J. Kazzler, Mrs. A. J. Edmonstone, Mrs. C. H. Jeffares, Mrs. G. W. Wheatley, Mrs. W. G. Kennedy, Mrs. G. G. Cumming and Mrs. F. Jackson.

33 Letters From Enemy-Occupied Lands Make Trail

TRAIL, B. C., Jan. 21—Thirty-three letters came to Trail through the local branch of the Red Cross Society, from enemy-occupied countries, addressed to citizens of Trail and district, D. H. Bayley, Red Cross Secretary, reported to the annual meeting Wednesday night.

"These letters are handled by the International Red Cross Society with headquarters at Geneva. In every case I was able to locate the addressee and pass the letter on," Mr. Bayley stated.

Mr. Bayley acknowledged publicity supplied by the Canadian headquarters and through the local press and stated that an increase, over 45, to subscriptions of the Red Cross magazine "Despatch" being distributed among workers, was necessary.

Thanks were tendered the C. M. & S. Transportation Department, Glover's Transfer, the Snappy Service Transfer, D. Deloise and various Castlegar, Fruitvale and Robson residents, for arranging for transportation of supplies.

ROSSLAND HIGH CABINET PICKED

ROSSLAND, B.C., Jan. 21—The Cabinet of the Junior-Senior High School Students' Council for the second half of the present term is composed of: President, Celleatino Lenarduzzi; Vice-President, Marcel LeSergent; Treasurer, Jack Bryan and Secretary, Helen Purcello. The elections were held Tuesday afternoon.

LONDON (CP)—George Hall, 53, was sent to jail for seven days because his amorous shoves in a shelter led to a contravention of the defence regulations in threatening the shelter marshal who expostulated.

Rossland Body Reduces Name "Welfare" Only

ROSSLAND, B.C., Jan. 21—Rossland's Patriotic and Welfare Society, organized last Fall to combine all patriotic and welfare appeals in one all-embracing drive each year, has run into a temporary snag of government regulations. An executive meeting in the City Hall Tuesday evening heard a letter from the War Charities Act administrator at Ottawa suggesting that the Society change its name to the "Rossland Welfare Society". The explanation, as described by the administrator, is that during the last war, under Dominion sponsorship, organizations known as "Patriotic Funds" were established, and should these be required in the present struggle there will be no local confusion as to the identity of the two organizations.

On February 12 then, at the City Hall, representatives to the Society from the various local patriotic and welfare bodies will receive the resignations of the Patriotic and Welfare executive and return these same officers or others to guide the Rossland Welfare Society.

According to G. W. Mara, President of the presently-constituted society, as soon as the executive of the Welfare organization is chosen, work will commence on plans to conduct the War Services appeal in the Spring, and in the Fall the Welfare body will conduct a campaign to raise at one stroke sufficient funds to carry local charitable bodies, Community Chest for example, until the Fall of 1943.

While the original objective of a single appeal each year to provide for both patriotic and community services, as in Trail, cannot be attained, it is held by the Society that even two big drives each year, spaced about six months apart, will, by eliminating a multiplicity of appeals, find instant favor with the citizens.

A Pimple Covered Face Kills Many a Romance

The lives of many young people are made miserable by the breaking out of pimples, and you probably know of cases where a promising romance has been spoiled by those red, white, festering and pus filled sores on the face.

The trouble is not so much physical pain, but the mental suffering caused by the embarrassing disfigurement which very often makes the sufferer ashamed to go out in company.

The quickest way to get rid of pimples is to improve the general health by a thorough cleansing of the blood.

Burdock Blood Bitters helps to cleanse the blood and with the blood cleansed the complexion should clear up.

Plan Gigantic New Production Setup in Western World

By JACK BEARDWOOD
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP). A gigantic war production plan for the Western Hemisphere — which includes abolition of all trade barriers and establishment of a common currency for all those anti-Axis nations which accept it, and use of United States naval and air units to convoy hemispheric shipping — was disclosed today by a high official of the United States Commerce Department.

The porgram, drawn up by the United States, is expected to be agreed upon at the American conference of Foreign Ministers, now in session at Rio de Janeiro.

Ir Argentina, Chile or any other nation, does not enter the hemispheric collaboration plan, he said, they will be ignored and the plan will be pursued by the remaining American republics.

The plan—known as the Joint War Production Plan—is being outlined at Rio by the Under-Secretary of State, Sumner Welles, the Assistant Secretary of Commerce, Wayne C. Taylor, and Warren Lee Pierson, President of the Export-Import Bank.

Major provisions of the plan are:

1—Removal of all barriers, including tariffs, import duties, customs and other regulations or restrictions of any character, which prohibit or delay the free flow of necessary munitions, war or civilian supplies between the American nations. They will be eliminated for the duration of the war.

2—Creation of a free international exchange currency to facilitate flow of goods and prevent delay in transactions. It would be on a gold basis and in addition to the American nations, Great Britain, China, the Netherlands, India and all British Dominions would enter into the agreement. A pool of Allied gold holdings would be created. The Latin American countries would agree to peg their national currencies into the free international exchange currency.

3—Creation of an emergency labor program for the hemisphere whereby skilled labor would be allowed free movement between countries and whereby any hemispheric labor shortages would be met.

4—In return for the pooling of hemispheric shipping, the United States will take the responsibility of transportation of war supplies and essential exports and imports. This will include convoys with naval and air protection. The United States will underwrite warehouses, ports and collect the war essentials for marine movement. The United States also will repair and operate the ships if the subscribing nations are unable to do so.

5—Latin-American nations will nationalize all airlines and air services, not now nationalized, for a 10-year period. In return, the United States will underwrite the cost and maintenance of the airlines and pledge reduction of international air freight rates and place a ceiling on international passenger rates.

6—The United States guarantees the basic essential exports required to sustain the internal economy of each Latin-American Government. Those nations agree to pool all international resources. The United States will supply the capital and technical personnel for the plants necessary to the conversion of these war supplies.

7—The United States will provide a standard international formula for collecting, tabulating and distributing economic, commercial and financial information.

8—The United States agrees to finance and complete the Pan American highway, construction of international transportation systems, processing and refining plants, storage warehouses and special conversion industries. In return, the Latin American countries agree to forego their property rights under private ownership laws. The United States agrees that such properties can be acquired by the affected governments or citizens, at the end of 10 years, by purchase.

9—The United States will finance and create free ports wherever the Latin - American countries want them. The signatory republics donate the land for 99 years and the free ports will be administer by a board of governors.

HUGE RUBBER PROJECT

Informed sources said the plan for special projects embraced several of huge proportions. They include:

1—Dredging of a 60-mile canal to connect the Amazon and Orinoco Rivers in Brazil so that the vast resources—principally rubber—can be transported more easily from the area. Casiquiare River, an Orinoco feeder, providing transportation drainage for the entire area.

2—Connecting of the Amazon River route with the East end of the Trans-Andean highway from Peru so the products of the West coast can be transported to the East coast of South America without the delay of shipping via the Panama Canal or the Straits of Magellan.

3—Construction of a new port West of Guayaquil, Ecuador, so ships wouldn't have to wait as long as 24 hours for sufficient tide to get to sea again.

4—Conversion of the banana industry of Central and Northern South American to production of industrial alcohol.

1st AEF Vanguard Already in Action

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP) — The vanguards of new American Expeditionary Forces are en route to far-flung battle lines or already in action today, as the country on the home front took the final step to convert the huge auto industry exclusively to war production.

Size of the troop movements and their destinations were military secrets. The same held true for the supplies that went with them. But together they represented a trickle, at least, of the great flood to come, and be news enheartened the other United Nations, particularly the Netherlands and China.

First official disclosure of the movement came from President Roosevelt.

Japs Warn to Be No Letup in Fight

TOKYO, Jan. 21—Premier Hideki Tojo told the Diet today that Japan, acting in close cooperation with Germany and Italy, planned "increasingly vigorous operations" in the Pacific and would go on fighting until the United States and Britain are "brought to their knees."

He said Japan would "gladly enable the Philippines to enjoy honor and independence" provided the Filipinos showed what he called a genuine willingness to collaborate.

In reference to Australia and the Netherlands East Indies Tojo declared:

"If they continue their present attitude of resisting Japan we will show no mercy in crushing them."

Dome said the premier made "virtually no mention of Japanese relations with the Soviet Union."

Japs Smash at Key Ports, New Guinea

MELBOURNE, Jan. 21 (CP) — Japanese bombers raided the key ports of Eastern New Guinea and the Bismarck Archipelago for hours today in strength which the Australian Air Command said suggested that "major attacks in this area can be expected."

Principal targets of the raiders were Kavieng, at the North cape tip of New Ireland where the Bismarck Archipelago juts closest to the Japanese-mandated Caroline Islands, and the East coast New Guinea cities of Madang, Salumaua, Bulolo and Lae.

Prime Minister Curtin said the mass attacks showed the peril to Australia was "nearer, clearer and deadlier than ever."

Strong Japanese aerial forces were sighted at a number of other places along the Northern coast of New Guinea and over the Bismarck Archipelago.

More than 50 Japanese bombers and fighters were observed flying in the direction of Salamaua, South of Madang, and shortly after noon a small group of raiders attacked Salamaua airdrome.

"The extent of damage and casualties in these raids has not been reported," the communique said, but it added that from the strength of the forces the Japanese had put into the air "major attacks in this area can be expected."

"This evidently was an extension of operations instituted yesterday against Australian-manadated New Britain Island. The Bismarck Archipelago links New Britain and New Guinea."

Churchill Withdraws His Motion for Transcription of Pacific War Review

LONDON, Jan. 21 (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill, with his finger on the pulse of the House of Commons, withdrew today his own motion to permit an electrical transcription for later broadcasting of Parliament's forthcoming review of the war in the Pacific.

After he had counted Parliamentary noses overnight, the Prime Minister announced good-naturedly:

"Since there seems to be such a difference of opinion about this motion, I don't intend to stress it."

Leslie Hore-Belisha, former Secretary of War, and other critics called the withdrawal a democratic gesture.

The objection to the motion was that the Prime Minister's recording would get the lion's share of the radiotime, with little or none for his critics.

Mr. Churchill had wished to have his own remarks recorded so that by electrical transmission they could be broadcast to the United Kingdom, the Dominions and the United Nations.

"My reluctance to do the same thing twice over on the same day arises less from fatigue than from a certain artistic quality naturally inseparable from such a rehash."

CHUNGKING, Jan. 21 (AP)—The Chinese press appealed today to the United States and Britain to institute a convoy system to rush huge quantities of war materials to China and also to extend credits to the Chungking Government to facilitate its war effort.

"American statesmen apparently see eye-to-eye with Chinese leaders that no effort should be spared to inflict heavy losses on the Japanese Navy in order to hasten Japan's total defeat," one article said.

Husband Suspects Beautiful Wife Has Secret Love

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I married a beautiful and lively girl who was so different from the women of my own family. I have no positive proof that my wife has been unfaithful to me, but my suspicions have been aroused because all men find her so attractive.

She does not repel this admiration, as I think a married woman with three children should. I don't like the way men look at her on the street, though she has never done anything so common and vulgar as to return their glances.

She's an excellent mother, is devoted to the children and manages the affairs of our household well and economically, but she is unhappy. I've caught her weeping several times, and she likes to dance, go to movies, the skating rink. When it's not convenient for me to accompany to these places, I disapprove of her going. I'm wondering if she has not some secret love affair and if that is the reason she seems unhappy.

HER HUSBAND.

You'll probably want to murder me if I say you appear to have the makings of a kill-joy husband. When you courted this girl and married her, you realized she was lovely, attractive, and full of the joy of living. These charms drew you to her and now you want to annihilate them because the ladies of your own family had not her powers to attract.

She's a devoted mother, an economical manager, and attractive. For goodness sake, what more do you want? You know nothing of any secret affairs, but wonder and poison yourself with jealousy. Stop looking for imaginary trouble or you may get some very real ones to bother you.

Disappointments. . .

Keeping Promises Made to Children

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Our children never seem to forget a promise we have made. We often wish they would.

Suppose you promise the older children to go to a movie with them, say, on Friday evening. You are about ready to go when some guests arrive. If you know them very well you may properly tell them of your plans, and if they have a sensible attitude toward children they will not be hurt. But in most instances you will feel compelled to play the part of good hosts and your children may even have to forego the much cherished picture show. In that event they should have learned long since that situations arise that cannot be prevented, which make it impossible for you to always fulfill your promises, but that you will do your utmost to fulfill them.

INEVITABLE DISAPPOINTMENTS

Of course, it is a wholesome thing for our children to learn to adjust themselves to inevitable disappointments, and to be ready to make great sacrifices at times out of consideration for others.

In case you find your child much upset when fulfillment of your promises is inevitably delayed or interfered with. You can reduce your difficulties if you will make it a habit to add a reservation to each promise somewhat like this "If nothing arises which we cannot avoid."

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEMS

Q. My daughter now in senior high school is earning good grades. For years she has had her heart set on becoming a nurse, but we are trying to make her go into teaching.

A. How cruel you are! I beg of you to change your ways, ask her to forgive you for your transgressions against her. Encourage her to prepare for nursing.

Foods . . .

Vitamin Waste Is Worst Offense

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Waste of food is rapidly coming to be frowned upon as a national offense. But we should face the fact that real waste means more than throwing away food that is edible. It is even more wasteful to throw away the elements a food should contribute toward health and efficiency.

For many a home maker the first step toward getting the full value out of food is revision of the menu planning. It is past time we stopped dolling up a dish at the expense of its vitamin content. Grapefruit topped with honey and broiled is delicious but it contains far less Vitamin C than when left in its natural state.

Home makers can't seem to let tomatoes alone. We grill them, stuff them, scallop them, and let the canned variety simmer away. Next to the citrus fruits, tomatoes are the richest source of Vitamin C, which is extremely perishable.

Given proper care, many foods furnish small but valuable amounts of Vitamin C. Cabbage is a good economical source.

Vitamin C is also contained in appreciable amounts in bananas, apples, potatoes, and green leafy vegetables. Bananas and apples are more valuable raw.

In addition to Vitamin C, the green leafy vegetables furnish Vitamin A and the Vitamin B complex.

Parsley and watercress are more than decorations—even though we don't seem to realize it.

The statistics have it that our annual sugar consumption exceeds 100 pounds per person. This is sheer nutritional extravagance for sugar furnishes carbohydrates but none of the protective elements.

It is nutritionally uneconomical to have an excess of any one food element in the menu. For example, a meal that includes lima bean, corn, potatoes and a dessert with a flour base is too high in starch.

One that contains meat, eggs and cheese is top-heavy in protein. Too many friend foods, such as friend potatoes, fried meat and pastries, supply too much fat. Those menus supply calories to spare, but not enough of the essentials.

To make sure your family gets all the protective elements, balance the menus to include daily: a protein dish such as eggs, meat, cheese or beans; two vegetables, one a green leafy; a raw vegetable, which might well be a salad; whole grain or enriched bread; milk, butter, and a fruit base. Those foods are the best buys for your money. They are the ones that are necessary to health.

SERIAL STORY . . . By LORENA CARLETON

Castle of Contentment

With all fairness, Ylena said, "He wasn't mine, Francie. If he really belonged to me, no one could have taken him." She raised her green eyes to Francie's solemn dark ones.

"Oh, but he was yours, Ylena, enough so that he talked constantly about you even on the night we eloped. I could have prevented this mistake that affects the three of us. He was drinking, but I didn't try to stop him." She confessed frankly, "I kept him at it. And I didn't say anything about being of a different religion until after the ceremony."

Stunned with that information, Ylena sat down limply. She realized that beneath all her animosity toward Tate had been a sing-song comfort, "It can't last! It can't last!" That in some way the matter would clear itself, like shadows cleared by the sun, like a bad dream my a pleasant awakening. She had even thought it woul dteach Tate a lesson, do away with some of his outrageous temper. Prepared to face something unpleasant, she was overwhelmed to find herself confronted with an obstacle not only disgraceful, but insurmountable as well.

She moaned. "Oh, Francie, what a detestable trick!"

Ashamed and completely unhappy, the dark girl began to cry. She buried her face in her hands, and with no regard for her appearance, let the tears flow where they would.

"Stop it," Ylena crisply commanded. "If anyone has the right to cry, it's me."

"I know, Ylena, I know," the girl agreed wretchedly. "I've done you such a wrong, you of all people. You're the only person who has ever been kind to me." She reached for the blond girl's hands. They were taut and unfriendly in her grasp.

It would have been entirely unnatural for Ylena to feel no enmity toward Francie. It was inside her like some vicious sore wound. All the same her pity for the girl was so great she felt herself weakening.

"It does no good to cry, Francie. Besides, I have a hunch your tears are more for Tate's lack of love than for me. You'd keep your distance from me if things were going right. Surely he'll be home in a few days. Why don't you try to patch things up?"

"Patch up what?" Francie asked dolefully. "You can't patch up nothing."

Angry, Ylena said, "Francie, if you don't stop crying, I'll have to ask you to leave. Someone might come in and see you. It would make a very bad impression. This is my place of business, you know, not an advice for the lovelorn studio office."

The wretched girl tried tostifle her sobs. She dug in her purse for a handkerchief and dabbed at her tears. "Ylena, I must have something to do with my time or I'll go mad." Her voice shook. "Help me. Please let me work for you again."

"Heaven no, Francie! Are you out of your mind?" And then she thought, why not? What difference did it make? What if people did talk? A little talk, gossipy talk even, was good business publicity, and it would be an excellent way of shaming Tate—that if, if shaming him were possible. At any rate, she would show her complete disregard for the entire Cromwell family, and that pleased her.

Francie was sobbing again, more dreadfully than before. Barker peeped from the workroom, shook her head frenziedly and made a gesture to send the girl away. With clenched hands, Ylena beat a soft tatoo against her own temples. "All right. All right," she suddenly shouted. "Come to work. Start now if you wish, but stop that incessant, insane crying—and don't ever mention Tate Cromwell to me again! And now, please, Francie, get control of yourself. Someone is coming."

That someone was Diane Cromwell O'Neil. Her excited clicking footstep darted into the shop, then paused as silently as if her feet had been plunged into a bale of cotton. The dumfounded expression on her face gave way to one of accusation, as she looked from Ylena to Francie, and back again to Ylena.

"Well, I must say—" she began, but could get no further. Limply she accepted Ylena's extended hands and they kissed. Above the bright spotted scarf, tied high about her neck, Diane's face was cool and white. She made no pretense of speaking to Francie, who had turned aside and was running her fingers around and around the edge of a musical powder box.

Partly from pity at seeing the dark girl crushed, more because she wished, in a perverse joy, to embarrass Diane still further, Ylena said in clear ringing tones, "Diane, this is your sister-in-law, Mrs. Taylor Cromwell, Jr."

Mrs. Clark Again Head Rossland Red Cross; Year's Remittances Are $2224

ROSSLAND, B.C., Jan. 21.—Rossland Branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, remitted to Provincial headquarters at Vancouver $2282.90 during 1941, according to Treasurer S. R. Davies' report at the anual meeting Monday evening. Expenditures totalled $84.21.

Another 435 pounds of rags is on hand, from which it is expected $95 will be realized.

Members were enthusiastic over the financial picture, especially as the President, Mrs. R. W. Clarke pointed out, there was no appeal by the Red Cross for funds last year. Mrs. Clark asserted that garments turned out from the work room during 1941 were of high quality throughout.

Mrs. E. Morrison, work room Supervisor, reported 7081 articles shipped. Included were articles of all kinds for babies, children, men and women, but outstanding items were 390 pairs of knitted sox, 100 knitted scarves, 160 pair rifle gloves, 116 men's sleeveless sweaters and 74 dozen khaki handkerchiefs. GRANTS MADE

Treasurer, Mrs. R. Saare reported the Asociation had on hand $236.79, but $104.78 would remain in the general account when $50.20 was remitted to the Queen's Fund, $72.40 placed in trust for the Rossland Patriotic Society, and $11.40 on outstanding accounts.

Mrs. B. G. Lees, retiring convener of the Membership Committee, reported 90 members enrolled.

At the monthly meeting preceding the annual gathering, several recommendations from the old to the new executive were approved. These suggested that the Association investigate the placing of radios in the schools, the possibilities of using loudspeakers in the rooms, these to be served by one main radio; and also check the time of the school broadcasts with a view to having these work in with the school timetables. Another recommendation was that the local theatre be requested to run Friday evenings and Saturday afternoons films which could be secured by the Association from the Department of Education. A third recommendation suggested that five dozen cups and saucers and spoons be purchased.

WELCOME MEN ON LEAVE

The final item of business was the endorsation of a resolution in which the Association expressed its intention "to know the soldiers who are on leave in Rossland and make them welcome here, and that this Association work in this connection with the Rossland Soldiers' Cheer Fund." H. E. Smith declared that local soldiers were not heartily welcomed as they come home on leave, and one soldier told him he was cutting his leave short because "he could find nothing to do."

Our Celestial Victory Sign

Casual admirers of the starry Heavens who are willing to add to their knowledge of the star map spread before them on clear nights—which are all too few this Winter in the Nelson locality—have now the opportunity to trace the movement of the planet Jupiter very easily.

It is now so near the mouth of the brilliant "V" in the constellation of Taurus that if one mentally marks its present position, he will be able to note, from week to week, its movement.

A month or two ago Jupiter, a brilliant object by itself, was roughly at the apex of a right-angled triangle whose extremities were the "head" of the Giant Orion, and the red fixed star, Aldebaran, in the "V". But now it has moved quite close to the "V", and anyone may take its present position as a starting point.

Thinking back to the Fall, one can recall white Jupiter rising in the Southern section of the Eastern sky while red Mars was declining in the West. Jupiter takes quite a number of years to make its circuit of the Sun, while Mars does its round trip in a little over a year. As we view Jupiter from one part or another of the Earth's orbit, naturally to our vision its course will be erratic. And of course for a portion of every year it will be lost to us in the daylight, but later we are able to pick it up again, travelling in a different constellation from that in which we last saw it.

Those who recall when Jupiter and Mars were widely apart on the Nelson horizon a couple of years ago, and when they passed each other, and when later five planets formed a vertical line in the Western sky, will find it of interest next Winter to see how far from the Taurian "V" Jupiter will be found, and also to note where Mars turns up, or Saturn. If we happen to have a planet under observation at the right period, we can catch it reversing its apparent motion.

Meanwhile, for present observation, our vivid "V for Victory" sign is hustling Westward, at the speed of one zodiacal constellation per month. When three more have passed, the sky will have taken one complete quarter-turn of the circle, and we will be beholding a different celestial map.

Today's Horoscope

The person whose birthday is today is neat and precise in all his or her habits, being especially particular about clothing. He or she has the ability to retain the confidence of friends, and should be moderately successful in business. During the forthcoming year he will experience anxiety concerning love and domestic affairs, also business documents and journeys, but some gain may be expected during this period. He should avoid disputes and changes. An uncertain temper and waywardness will be exhibited by the child born on this date. These tendencies should be countered by tactful kindness, which will help to minimize love sorrows in later life. The fortunes will be moderate, it is indicated.

W. A. B., Trail—Will you please tell me how to bleach flour sacks? You published a method a short time ago.

Make a strong solution of chloride of lime (hydrochlorite of lime—bleaching powder) in water, allow to settle, and draw off the clear liquid. Rinse the sacks in clear water containing about 5 per cent sulphuric acid, and then pass them slowly through the bleaching solution. They should then be well rinsed in water containing a little carbonate of soda. It may be necessary to allow them to remain in the bath a short time.

A. C. T., Nelson—Where can I make application for a patent? Does it protect an invention?

Unrest in Italy

(Windsor Star)

While Italy lets it be known that the wave of sabotage and attempted assassination for which 60 allegel plotters are on trial took place in the prewar period, there is a good reason to believe that much of it is of more recent vintage. The open revelation that there have been serious accidents, which amounted almost to major uprisings, sheds the light of certainty on what have thus far been shrewd suppositions.

Mussolini undoubtedly sits in the most uncomfortable seat in all Europe. He has to deal with a nation which is completely disillusioned, and the trial at Trieste gives some hint as to how far the discontent has progressed. Whatever may eventually happen in that unhappy country, the Duce appears to be definitely at the end of his career as an effective dictator.

He has, of course, only himself to blame. He stands revealed as the prize dupe of the age. With immeasurable opportunities to lead his country to great things, he made a tragic bad guess and lost all.

Accustomed to having a whole nation bow to his slightest whim, he has tossed away all his power and prestige. He has lost his vaunted Ethiopian Empire. He has seen his navy virtually destroyed. He has had the galling experience of seeing his troops fought to a standstill by an heroic little army of Greeks. He has, above all, been forced to allow the Germans, whom the Italians hate, to overrun and dominate his country.

No man could hold his influence over the people in such a set of circumstances. He stands as a thoroughly discredited and disgraced national leader, revealed to his people as a blundering, inept and stupid politician. His influence is a thing of the past. He is a hollow shell.

This whole situation inevitably will lead to a revival of conjecture as to the possibility of an invasion of Italy by the British with the object of knocking that country out of the war and of commencing to draw a ring of steel around Germany. There is a widely held theory that the Italian people would hail the British as deliverers, that the landing of troops would be the signal for a complete collapse of the Italian war effort, such as it is.

All this may be true, but it would not justify any hasty move in that direction. To paraphrase a classic, "Beyond the Alps lies Germany," and any invasion of Italy would undoubtedly find a strong Nazi force ready to fight on Italian soil to defend Hitler's European conquests. This means that, before any such attempt can be made, the British must have great stores of equipment, and, what is even more important, a base from which to operate.

This makes the North African campaign of peculiar importance. That area is the logical base for any such attack, and thus it would not be sane even to consider an assault in force until the Axis forces in Libya have been entirely destroyed and until the part of North Africa now under Vichy French domination shall have come under British control.

The blow may, and probably will, yet be struck through Italy, and with fine prospects of success. That move, however, cannot come until certain matters are settled in other parts of the world.

Churchill Child of the Commons

To us, declares the Ottawa Journal, one of the finest passages in Winston Churchill's memorable speech before the United States Seante was in this personal confession of faith:

I am a child of the house of commons. I was brought up in my father's house to believe in democracy; trust the people, that was his message. I used to see him cheered at meetings and in the streets by crowds of working men 'way back in those aristocratic Victorian days when, as Disraeli said, the world was for the few and the very few. Therefore, I have been in full harmony all my life with the tides which have flowed on both sides of the Atlantic, against privilege and monopoly, and I have steered confidently toward the Gettysburg ideal of government of the people, by the people, for the people.

I owe my advancement entirely to the house of commons, whose servant I am. In my country as in your public men are proud to be the servants of the state, and would be ashamed to be its masters. On any day, if they thought the people wanted, it, the house of commons could by a single vote remove me from my office.—

We here in Canada, continues the Journal, have been prone to look down on the house of commons, to sneer at the "talking shop on the hill. "It may help us now to know that the empire's man of action at this hour, the pilot who is weathering the storm, confesses himself proudly a "child of the house of commons," a product of those institutions to which we have given indifference and some scorn.

And Church, later on in his speech, gave a perfect example of the quality of his creed when he said: "If people ask me, and they have a right to ask me in England—' There, in a sentence, spoke the parliamentarian, the democrat, the responsible British minister, the man who knows what democracy is about. "They have a right to ask me." The right to audit, to apply checks and balances, to debate and discuss. The right of freemen. The people.

We in Canada have been taught to extol the "strong, silent man"; to look down on those who mastered, or tried to master, the majesty of our speech, the Journal declares. Winston Churchill, master of words, is the answer of that thought. For what he demonstrates is what is told by all history: That from the days of Attica to our own it has been what Kipling called the "naked phrase" which has moved men to toil and often to die for the things of life worth while.

Not all of us can be Winston Churchills. But all of us may try to know the majesty of our language and what Morley called the "glory of words," know what human speech has meant, and will continue to mean, in fashioning a better earth.

FIRST AUTO

Let it be known in the interests of accuracy and progress, Bob Davis writes in The New York Sun, that in 1806 the first automobile built in any country chugged its way down the main street of Charlottetown. The front page of The Charlottetown Herald thus describes the historic event:

A single-seated steam wagon passed through the city this week on its way to the owner, the Rev. Father Belcourt of Rustico. When we saw the wagon it was drawn by horses, and can be propelled by steam. It is the first vehicle of its kind introduced into this island."

The Herald did not go far enough, Mr. Davis continues. The owner of the vehicle was also its maker. The Rev. Father l'Abbe Georges Belcourt, a mechanical genius, finding time to do material things between his work as a parish priest turned his mind to machinery.

An affidavit by a Prince Edward Islander who saw the vehicle in action is quoted by Mr. Davis "to clinch the actual invention and operation of the first automobile."

MASSACRE ECHO

Chief Crazy Bull, grandson of the famous Sioux, Sitting Bull, is in New York, compiling information for a book he is writing on the Indians' version of Custer's Last Stand, when, in 1876, the General and his cavalry were wiped out in the Little Big Horn massacre.

Incidentally, Crazy Bull is plugging the movie bulls about the massacre. "They Died With Their Boots On." A good picture, he says, except that the title is wrong. He explained to a New York Sun reporter:

"All of the men did not die with their boots on. My fathers have told me that many of the Sioux went around and took the boots off and tickled the feet. If the men moved they hit them again.

"You are the first white man I have told this truth. Never has it been published."

TOKENS OF U. S. INGENUITY

Out in Oklahoma, where they have metal sales tax tokens, aluminum ones representing a tenth of a cent, brass ones representing a half cent, tax authorities were puzzled because the state ran out of tokens, though 87,000,000 of them were issued.

And they found that plumbers used them for washers, roofers for nailing roofing material, poker players for chips, children for toys. In every case the tokens were so much cheaper than the regular article that nobody paid any attention to the fact that they were in a sense "money," but used them in whatever way seemed most practical.

What we as a people lack in automatic and unthinking respect for authority, we make up in initiative and ingenuity. No good German and no good Jap would ever think of using coins bearing the imprint of the state to nail down a roof.—Beloit Daily News.

TONS OF 'EM

Australia's sausage-making industry, already working at high pressure, will have to be further stepped up to meet an urgent order received from India by the Supply Department for 1000 tons of sausages. At least 32,000,000 sausages will be needed to supply Australians and Imperial forces overseas. For some time the monthly output has been 3,500,000 pounds, or 28,000,000 sausages.

Orders for 16,500,000 yards of sausage casing, equal to 9375 miles, have been placed, and manufacturers are now faced with the problem of filling the casing with meat—60 per cent pork and 20 per cent prime beef—and putting the sausages into cans.—Australian Press Bureau.

SELF-HEATING

Popular science tells of cans that heat themselves. The cans are double, with a chemical between the walls that heats on contact with air. Turn a can over, punch four holes, and let stand about fifteen minutes. The result will be piping hot, ready-to-serve spaghetti, beans or coffee.

Calgary Beats Kimberley 5-3 for Third Victory in 4 Kootenay Games

KIMBERLEY, B.C., Jan. 21—Calgary Stampeders, class of the A.B.C. Senior Hockey League, snapped back into their winning stride here tonight when they won their fourth victory from Kimberley Dynamiters this season 5-3. Tonight's triumph marked the Cowboys' fourteenth win in their last 15 starts, a 4-2 loss last night at Trail being the only blot on their record.

Doug Grant, who has been going like a whirlwind during the successful Calgary trip, started the Calgary victory push with the first two Stampeder goals, the first opening the scoring and the second knotting the score in the second period after Kimberley had gone ahead on the second of three goals by Sammy Calles, who furnished all the scoring for the Dynamiters.

Ernie Trigg, a rookie from Calgary junior ranks, moved the Stampeders ahead in the dying minutes of the middle period, and Joe Shannon put the game on ice with pair of tallies in the finals.

The victory left Calgary far ahead in the leadership of the league, and Kimberley is now in fourth place, a game and a half behind the Trail Smoke Eaters who are third.

First period—1, Calgary, Grant 13:16; 2, Kimberley, Calles 18:05.

10 Trail Rinks Are Expected for Spiel

TRAIL, B.C., Jan. 21. — Trail Curling Club entries to the B.C. Curling Bonspiel at Rossland next week, must be in the hands of R. P. Dockerill by Friday night.

About 10 rinks are expected to enter, compared to a 45 entry last year when the spiel was held in Trail.

Some of O'Genskis Return, but Old Timers Lose Again

The Nelson Old Timers have gone into another huddle in desperation before they start their Winterly differences with the Beards of Trail on Friday night in the Smelter City Rink. The Lakeside Oldsters fell by the wayside 17-9 for their second straight defeat at the hands of the Nelson Juvenile Reps Tuesday night to wind up their "conditioning" program for the Trail series. But if the truth be told, they're more in need of reconditioning now than ever before.

About the only encouragement the Old Timers could get out of the shellacking was the fact that they showed sufficient improvement to score one more goal than they did last time. But they're optimists won't look on any but the bright side of things, so they're overlooking the fact that this time the opposition went way up into double figures in its own scoring.

One of the features of the night was the appearance of two-thirds of the O'Genskis. However, only one of them, Johnny, was able to take the ice, and Stan had to content himself with managing the Nelson team from the bench when Omar, the Tent-Maker, could not be procured to outfit this, the biggest member of the O'Genski clan. But Frank, the self-styled brains of Apex's No. 1 family, was still among the missing, and nothing in the nature of an explanation was forthcoming. And with the hour of the Trail battle drawing nearer and nearer.

Samuel Taylor Colville, the Ancient Mariner, who stoppeth one in three, had an uncomfortable night of it between the pipes for his squad as the Juveniles, playing a closely-knit style for the first half of the game that completely disorganized the Oldsters, ran in a lacrosse score.

DYING STRATEGY

Something new in dying minute strategy was presented by the Old Timers when they yanked the great Colville from his duties, and sent on six forwards. But Johnny Marquis took it upon himself to go out there also and guard the sanctum all by his lonesome, so that left the Old Timers still with six other attackers on the ice. It was a good thing too for he was called upon to make a save reminiscent of the illustrious Georges Vezina.

Gordie Olson was the top point getter with six goals, closely followed by Lloyd Ridenour of the same team with three goals and four assists, John Milne with three goals and an assist and Jack Gallicano with two goals and four assists. Mac Norris also got a pair of counters and Red Wassick a singleton.

Buddy Hammond returned to great heights as he sniped a quartet of goals and got an assist after the Juveniles had run the score to 11-0. Pat Aitken got two goals and as many assists, and Dick Mulloy with two and Johnny O'Genski wound up the scoring.

Lineups:

Old Timers — Nelson Colville, goal; Walt Walt, Walt Gillett, Art Scribner, Johnny O'Genski, Dick Mulloy, Wilf Marquis, Johnny Marquis, Bill Wallace, Joe Boyle, Pat Aitken, Buddy Hammond, Joe Winkelaar, Murray Hilton and Andy Redman.

Juves—Jim Heuston, goal; Bob Noakes, Dalton Boomer, Frank Christian, Jack Gallicano, Mac Norris, Lloyd Ridenour, Red Wassick, John Milne, Gordie Olson and Buzz MacDonald.

Referee — Everett Kuhn. Timekeepers—D. G. Chamberlain and Jack Wood.

Pacific War Affects Sugar Supply; May Also Affect 1942 Salmon Pack

There is some speculation in Nelson wholesale circles as to what will take place in sugar supplies since a good portion of raw sugar has been coming from the Philippine Islands.

The war with Japan may affect the 1942 salmon pack, but as the new pack doesn't start until next August, many things can take place to counteract that.

Although grapefruit juice, the major portion of which is imported from the United States, has advanced considerably in prices at the source of supply, it has been reported that importers are being subsidized by the government and this will allow this commodity to be sold at the usual price.

DRIED FRUITS HIGH

Some lines of evaporated fruits being imported from the U.S. such as prunes and raisins, have advanced to such an extent that they can't be sold at the price prevailing during the basic period unless the importers are subsidized to take care of this advance in price.

There has also been considerable speculation as to what will happen regarding soaps since a good portion of the oils come from the Pacific.

Locally the supply of vegetables in some lines is cleaned up, there being no carrots or parsnips available now. These have to be brought in from outside points. There is still a good local supply of turnips, beets, potatoes and cabbage. Onions are brought in from Grand Forks.

The demand for vegetables has been fairly good, and for certain lines of imported vegetables, such as head lettuce and celery. Other vegetables from California like Brussels sprouts, rhubarb and cauliflower are not moving freely. Grapes from California are almost finished, and bananas are difficult to procure at the present time in good condition. Oranges are moving freely, and the price is quite reasonable. There is a fair movement of apples, but very few varieties are available.

Hay is getting scarce, the supply being nearly exhausted in Grand Forks and Okanagan districts. Prices have gone up considerably in oats and barley because of the fact that the government has placed a higher ceiling. Feed, however is moving readily.

BEEF UP AGAIN

The beef and veal market is up again, and the paying price to farmers is now higher than it was during the peak.

Car arrivals during the week have been two cars of flour, and feed, two of groceries, one of oranges, one of cereals, and one car of meals.

Growers Give Favorable Reception to Terms of New Selling Contract

"The new fruit contract proposed by the B.C. Tree Fruits, Limited, has been received by fruit growers of the Interior with very great interest," stated A. K. Loyd, President and General Manager, who, with Lieut.-Col. Fred Lister of Creston was in Nelson Wednesday.

A series of meetings has been held throughout the district to put the contract before the growers for their discussion, criticism and approval. The meetings have been good, and there has been little criticism, Mr. Loyd said.

The purpose of the contract is to consolidate the position of the central selling agency which sells a crop "over one desk." It is suggested that the contract continue over more than a year; a three-year term is proposed. The original "one-desk" agency was set up in 1939 by the B.C. Fruit Growers Association, in which the Kootenay has its own representatives.

Meetings have been held at Creston, Willow Point and Robson, and a meeting is scheduled at Grand Forks today. The contract will be brought before the convention of the B.C.F.G.A. at Vernon next week.

PROVISIONS OF DRAFT CONTRACT

The contract proposed by the B.C. Tree Fruits, Limited, provides that the Grower and the Shipper and the central agency will handle fruits co-ordinately during the term of the contract, with all selling done by the agency. The growers agree to use only shippers who are under contract with the B.C. Tree Fruits, Limited. The contract will also provide a basis for rebate. Both the grower and the shipper agree on damages for violation of the contract; the shipper agrees to account in any pool for surpluses; the shipper agrees to forfeit packing charges on overages above 2 per cent for size and 1 per cent in grade and variety.

A committee of six will be set up to rule on pooling details. The contract sets the maximum charge the B.C. Tree Fruits, Limited, may make for its services as selling agency.

Rossland School Hoopsters Here Twin Bill Friday

Martin McLennan, Minister of Athletics at Nelson High School, said Wednesday night that arrangements had been completed to bring Rossland High School boys' and girls' basketball teams for a doubleheader here Friday night.

It will be the third set of games between the teams this year. Nelson swept a doubleheader recently at the Nelson gym, and in Rossland Rossland boys and Nelson girls triumphed.

A return doubleheader will be probably played in Rossland next Friday.

The Nelson teams are hoping to play in Creston Feb. 7, with the games being returned in Nelson on the 14th.

Coach Roy Temple has mapped out some new plays for his teams and working hard on them in recent practices. He looks for them to be highly successful against the Rossland and Creston opposition.

FITTED LINES ON NEW FROCK

Marian Martin

PATTERN 9986

A Pencil-Slim Figure is yours if you wear this new Marian Martin creation for mature women! The subtle panelling of Pattern 9986 contrives to give height to a shorter figure and minimizes a large waist-line. The darted side bodice sections come below the waist in an eye-deceiving curve—the sash that begins at either side is trim too. Aren't the curved shoulder yokes and the scalloped neckline attractive? The optional sleeve-bands are curved to match. You'll look still thinner in a contrast version with the center panel made of another fabric. The Sew Chart helps you finish this frock nicely—and shows you may add a touch of ric-rac.

Pattern 9986 may be ordered only in women's sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. Size 38 requires 3¾ yards 35 inch fabric.

Send twenty cents for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, name, address and style number.

Send your order to The Daily News, Pattern Department, Nelson. Pattern will be sent to your home within 10 days.

Webster; First Vice-President, Eric Aldous; Second Vice-President, Angus McGillivray; Secretary-Treasurer, H. Hartin; Executive, E. H. Latham, T. Williams and Mrs. E. H. Latham.

Some new members were voted on and accepted.

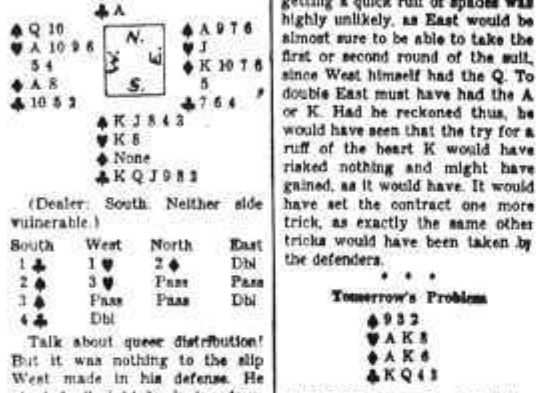
CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

EVERY BID IS A CLUE

DURING the play of a hand, if you at any stage forget any one bid which had been made, or fail to make deductions based on it, you are likely to read the situation wrong and therefore make a play which is not the best. The fact that somebody doubled a particular suit somewhere during the auction may tell you not only how to play that suit, but how to figure out your play of another suit or suits.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	1 ♥	2 ♦	Dbl
2 ♠	3 ♥	Pass	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	Pass	Dbl
4 ♣	Dbl

Talk about queer distribution! But it was nothing to the slip West made in his defense. He started all right by laying down his heart A, but then made his big mistake. After seeing the number of hearts in the dummy, he knew only one was still out, the K. If the declarer had it, a repeat of hearts, furnishing a ruff by East, would be the best play. But if East had it, that would give the declarer control of the hand.

Furthermore, he reckoned, it would enable South to take a couple of top spades and ruff a third round in the dummy with the club A. In view of that danger, West decided to switch to his club 2, to knock the A out of dummy and prevent a ruff with it. This he did. South then led the spade 5 from dummy. When East ducked he put on the K, laid down two more high trumps, led the spade 3 to the Q, won the returned heart and then lost two more spades to East, being down exactly one trick.

Where West missed his signals was in forgetting about East having doubled spades. If he had figured correctly from that, he would have realized the danger of South getting a quick ruff of spades was highly unlikely, as East would be almost sure to be able to take the first or second round of the suit, since West himself had the Q. To double East must have had the A or K. Had he reckoned thus, he would have seen that the try for a ruff of the heart K would have risked nothing and might have gained, as it would have. It would have set the contract one more trick, as exactly the same other tricks would have been taken by the defenders.

Market Trends . . .

LONDON, Jan. 21 (AP).—The security market rallied after tending downward in early trade.

Anxiety over the Far Eastern situation caused small offerings and prices were marked when support failed to appear.

NEW YORK—Stock market resistance levels were softened a bit with a recurrence of pressure on steels, aircrafts and industrial blue chips and losses of fractions to a point or more were established over a wide front.

TORONTO—Stocks declined moderately in comparatively light trade. Late in the afternoon losses in golds were reduced or eliminated in a minor rally led by Dome.

MONTREAL — Issues generally were inclined to be sluggish.

Noranda and Consolidated Smelters worked higher.

VANCOUVER — Prices remained generally unchanged during fairly active trading.

WINNIPEG — In dull trading wheat futures closed ¼ to ⅜ higher with May finishing at 80¼ cents a bushel and July at 81⅛ to ¼.

CHICAGO—Corn, rye and wheat prices were up about a cent a bushel and soybeans almost 4 cents.

Services Rendered by THE IMPERIAL LIFE
in 1941
Largest volume of New Business in any year in the past Ten.

The personal savings of each and every one of us, be these savings large or small, are required for the successful conduct of the war. Owners of Imperial Life policies have the satisfaction of knowing that by investing their savings in this way they not only provide personal and family security but make further money available for the war effort. That is because The Imperial Life is investing in Government War Loans and in essential business enterprises the funds required to be laid aside to meet future obligations to policyholders and their dependents.

Evidence of the services rendered by The Imperial Life in 1941 is revealed by the following figures from the Company's 45th Annual Report:

Benefit Payments $7,097,697

These represent death and disability benefits, settlement of matured endowment, annuity payments, etc. They lessened the financial stress of dependency, old age and death on policyholders and their dependents—as well as on the government.

Total Assets $100,684,636

Imperial Life assets increased by more than $4,500,000 in 1941 and, notwithstanding the abnormal business conditions which have existed throughout the world, the Company's assets have grown during the past ten years by more than $34,500,000.

Reserves for Policies and Annuities $78,584,789

These constitute an amount which, with interest and future premiums, is sufficient to meet all obligations to policyholders and their beneficiaries. They are substantially in excess of government requirements.

Premiums and Interest Received $13,939,727

More than 75,000 men, women and children deposited with the Company during the year premiums to the amount of almost $10,000,000. Interest earnings on invested funds made up the balance of this item.

New Assurances $26,403,675

This total represents an increase of 16% over the previous year. It is the largest volume of new business obtained by the Company in any year of the past ten.

Total Assurances in Force $310,460,303

These show a gratifying increase over 1940. An ever-growing group of policyholders refers to The Imperial Life as "My insurance company."

The part the agency force of The Imperial Life plays in encouraging thrift and sacrifice is suggested by the above figures. They indicate the vital and essential function performed by life insurance men and women in wartime.

Parliament Ends And Begins Again

OTTAWA, Jan. 21 (CP) — The second session of Canada's 19th Parliament since Confederation — the longest session in history in point of elapsed time since its opening in November, 1940—ended tonight.

Thursday afternoon members will gather again and a new session will begin.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King led other leaders in the House of Commons today in paying tribute to the late R. Hon. Ernest Lapointe who died since the House last met.

Of 493 additional men and reinforcements added to the Canadian contingent for Hong Kong 138 had less than 16 weeks training, the minimum specified as the requirement for Overseas duty, Defence Minister Ralston told the Commons.

Canada's first corvette was the Charybdis, a wooden steam vessel loaned by the British government for training purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. Laughton Are Honored as Four Lodges Join in Presentation

Four Nelson lodges joined Tuesday night in a tribute to two members of long standing who were celebrating their golden wedding—Mr. and Mrs. David Laughton—and climaxed their tribute with the presentation of a purse of gold, William Irvine handing the gift to them. Through James McIvor a bouquet was presented to Mrs. Laughton.

Participating lodges were Knights of Pythias, Pythian Sisters, Brotherhood of Railway Trainment and Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood.

R. G. Joy, Chairman, spoke of "the great faculty" of Mr. and Mrs. Laughton for making friends, and found in the words "golden wedding" a parallel to the ability of gold to resist hard knocks. Mr. Laughton had been Keeper of Records and Seal of Nelson Knights of Pythias for over 30 years and "has more than done his duty."

LOYAL FRIENDS

Mrs. W. O. Rose, a charter member of Nelson Temple of the Pythian Sisters along with Mrs. Laughton, spoke of the loyalty of the couple and said of Mrs. Laughton: "I can testify to her work as a friend and as a Pythian Sister."

Mrs. Laughton was also a charter member of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and its pianist for a number of years, said Mrs. Charles Beltner, expressing the hope that "we shall see them at their diamond wedding."

For the Brotherhood of Railway Trainment D. D. McLean declared railroad men "today have reason to be grateful to men like Dave Laughton who blazed the way and made possible better wages and conditions that we enjoy." He described Mr and Mrs. Laughton as "a beacon to follow."

Mr. Irvine, declaring it was a rare privilege to attend a golden wedding in Nelson, spoke of the great advances in the past 50 years and the memories it contained for Mr and Mrs. Laughton.

"Life is what the individual makes it," he asserted. Mr. and Mrs. Laughton had moulded everlasting friendships.

"THANK YOU ALL"

"It's nice to look back. Thank you all," said Mrs. Laughton, with tears close to the surface.

"My heart is full tonight," Mr. Laughton added.

Mrs. Frank Goucher, Grand Chief of Pythian Sisters for British Columbia, extended the congratulations of the Grand Lodge with the assertion that "if we all give half the service these two have, we will be able at the end to say our lives have been well spent."

She reminded the gathering that a similar function was scheduled at Rossland Wednesday in celebration of the golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Trembath. Mrs. Laughton and Mrs. Trembath both were Past Grand Chiefs.

SING IN TRIBUTE

As the presentations were made the gathering swung into "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and followed with "Auld Lang Syne."

Significant of the theme of the evening were decorated alcoves at each end of the hall. Mr. and Mrs. Laughton stood at the one while receiving their gifts. The other, in traditional wedding colors, formed a bower for a wedding cake bearing the date 1892. Tall golden tapers and vases of golden daffodils flanked the cake.

Cards opened the evening. Miss Evelyn Grant won first prize and A. Matassa received consolation at cribbage; and Miss Mildred Irvine was first and Mrs. H. Maundrel received consolation at whist. G. B. Drew was Master of Ceremonies for cribbage, and Percy Jeffery for whist.

Contributing to a musical program were J. C. Hooker and Mrs. Hooker vocal solos; Miss Ruby Hart, piano solo. A. W. Nejll, pianist, led the singing of "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

A dance concluded the affair.

Committees were:

Pythian Sisters — Mrs. Frank Goucher, Mrs. F. McClement, Mrs J. Carlisle, rMs. C. Kidwell, Mrs. A. Hart and Mrs. W. Calbick.

Knights of Pythias—Frank Goucher, G. R. Drew, George Lester.

Trainmen's Auxiliary — Mrs. Charles Beltner, Mrs. J. Edwards and Mrs. R. E. Parker.

Archbishop of Canterbury Resigns to Make Way for Post-War Planning

LONDON, Jan. 21 (CP). — The Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate of all England, announced today he was relinquishing his high office to make way for "someone younger in years and more vigorous in mind and spirit, who will be better able to prepare now for post-war plans."

The Archbishop, Most Rev. and Rt. Hon. Cosmo Gordon Lang was 77 last Oct. 31 and has been the Archbishop of Canterbury since July 27, 1928.

It was considered likely in some British quarters that the present Archbishop of York, 60-year-old Dr. William Temple, would be named Dr. Lang's successor.

The Archbishop of Canterbury is the first peer of England. The only other archbishop of the Church in England is the Archbishop of York.

Many dramatic events crowded the life of the retiring Archbishop. He was a central figure in the abdication of King Edward VIII, now the Duke of Windsor, and it was he who on May 12, 1937, placed the crown on the head of King George VI in New Westminster Abbey.

He has been an Archbishop of the Church of England since 1910, when he became Archbishop of York.

It was said that on one occasion Queen Victoria asked him why he did not marry, to which he replied: "If I have a curate who doesn't suit me, I can change him for another but couldn't do that with a wife."

Once he told an audience of women: "Infinite patience is needed in dealing with husbands. They may be poor things but they are your own and you've got to make the best of them."

He officiated at the weddings of the Dukes of Gloucester and Kent, brothers of the King; at the Silver Jubilee service of King George V in St. Paul's Cathedral in 1935 and at his funeral.

After the abdication of Edward VIII, he made a broadcast which provoked much criticism.

In that broadcast, Dec. 13, 1936, he said it was "strange and sad" that Edward "should have disappointed hopes so high and abandoned a trust so great."

"Even more strange and sad it is," he went on, "that he should have sought his happiness in a manner inconsistent with the Christian principles of marriage, and within a social circle whose standards and ways of life are alien to all the best instincts and traditions of his people."

This criticism drew considerable comment and the subject was aired on the floor of the House of Commons, where one outspoken Member, Jock McGovern, Independent Labor, declared bishops should "get out and deal with unemployment instead of kicking a man when he's down."

Canada's first team to the National Rifle Association meeting at Wimbledon—later held at Bisley—was sent in 1872.

The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
(Associated Press War Analyst)

Regardless of where and when Generalissimo Hitler now hopes to establish his Winter line across Russia, loss of the Mozhaisk bulge is a grave strategic setback for the Nazis.

Coupled with earlier loss of the Rostov and Kerch Peninsula keys to attack on the Caucausus, and mounting Russian threats to the whole German Northern flank above above Moscow, it means the Nazis will lack the best springboard for the new offensive they talked about launching "in the spring.' They might have to start again virtually at the Dneiper River line in the Centre and South, and almost back at the Russian frontier North of the Dneiper.

There is little as yet to warrant the conclusion that Russian recapture of war-ravaged Mozhaisk marks the beginning of a German retreat to the Dneiper. It seems obvious, however, that a retreat in the centre beyond Vyazma Junction is in progress on a front of undicated width.

Only the centre section of the Rjhev-Bryansk line, between Vyazma and the vicinity of Lyudinovo, is still in German hands. There appear to be more or less isolated pockets of German resistance North and West of retaken Kaluga, but the Russian Southern pincer jaw already West of Lyudinovo and stretching Northeastward to Mozaisk renders their position precarious.

Whether the Germans back-tracking from Mozhaisk can escape to Vyazma down the main Smolensk-Moscow route appears doubtful.

Rearguard action West of Mozhaisk, in the vicinity of historic Borodino, is reported. It was there Napoleon scored the victory that allowed him to reach Moscow, only to meet utter disaster in a Winter retreat.

Some military observers expect a new German stand at Vyazma. Integrated with an efort to hold also the Ugra River bulge Southeast of that point in lieu of the lost Mozhaisk position. The strongest natural defence position on the Napoleonic road is West of Vyazma, however, along the rise of the Dneiper, 60 miles East of Smolensk.

Japs Pay Dearly for Conquest on Celebes Island

By HENRY HOOGENDOORN
(Associated Press Staff Writer).

BATAVIA, N. E. I., Jan. 21 (AP) Japanese landing forces heavily supported by parachute troops and equipped with radio sets to direct the fire of their naval guns had completed occupation of the Minahassa Peninsula of the Island of Celebes, but "paid dearly for this conquest," the Netherlands High Command announced today.

Within a few hours the Japanese were landing at five or six places.

Hudson bombers of the Australian Air Force and Netherlands naval planes attacked the invaders constantly and were credited with direct hits on two Japanese cruisers, near misses on a destroyer, and two transports, and destruction of several Japanese planes. Four of the Australian Hudsons were lost.

Talented Boy Violinist in Recital Here

Frank Hosek, talented Czech boy violinist from Blairmore, will be heard in recital next month at St. Paul's United Church.

Young Hosek for five successive years was a consistent winner at music festivals at Calgary, Lethbridge, Blairmore, Cranbrook and Nelson. Having obtained the highest mark in Canada for Royal Academy exams, he was awarded a scholarship for the Academy in London. The war however prevented him accepting this scholarship. In 1939 he had an audition at Toronto for Sir Ernest McMillan, and as a result was awarded a scholarship for study at the Conservatory. There for the past two years he has been under the tuition of Frank Blackford. One performer from each section is chosen for the annual Conservatory Recital at Massey Hall and Hosek was honored by being chosen from the violin section.

Under Herbert Pye of Toronto, Hosek has also studied the clarinet. He has played in the Band of the Royal Regiment of Canada, as well as in the Toronto Conservatory Orchestra.

Nelson music lovers may look forward to a real treat in the works to be played in the forthcoming recital—a Bruch concerto, a Kreisler arrangement of a work of Corelli, the ever-popular Schubert's "Ave Maria," and some modern compositions.

He will be assisted by a chorus of 40 voices, under Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson. They will present favorite songs from Balfe's opera, "The Bohemian Girl."

The "Battery" section of New York is so named as the former site of some Dutch fortifications of "New Amsterdam," which preceded New York.
