ANNIHILATION FACED BY NAZIS IN LIBYA

Nazis Stopped 36 Miles to West of Russians' Capital

At Tula and Volokolamsk Russians Slowly Retreat Under Powerful Pressure; Nazis Admit Hard Southern Fight

MOSCOW, Nov. 29 (Saturday) (AP).—More than 5000 German officers and men have been killed in a Northwestern sector of the front in 10 days of fighting, an official Soviet statement said early today. It added that 353 lorries and 32 tanks were destroyed.

KUIBYSHEV, Nov. 28 (AP).—The Russian armies on two bloody flanks of the Moscow sector were reported in front-line dispatches today to be beating a slow retreat under the most powerful German pressure, although a Nazi drive from the West appeared to have been stopped a scant 36 miles from the Red capital.

The defending armies were falling back Northeast of Tula, some 100 miles South of the capital, and in the region of Volokolamsk, 65 miles Northwest of Moscow, where a German wedge driven into the Russian lines imperilled the Red Army position.

These are called "distance approaches" to Moscow but the situation, especially to the East of Tula in the region of Stalinogorsk, is most dangerous.

Here, the Russians say, the Germans have hurled the last of the forces they have available on the central front in an effort to outflank Moscow on the East.

First of all, the Germans are trying to encircle Tula and its defences on the North and East, the battle-front dispatches said. They acknowledged the fall of a city called "N" near Tula, under the concentrated fire of artillery and trench mortars.

All German attacks in the Moshaisk and Maloyaroslavets areas West and Southwest of the capital were stopped, although in the former sector it was acknowledged the German lines had been pushed within 36 miles of the city.

Russian cavalry counter-attacks at Klin, 50 miles Northwest of Moscow, were launched against German forces which drove between Kalinin and the capital last week. Several villages were reported recaptured.

On the Rostov front in the South a Soviet counter-thrust several days old was reported netting further advances.

BERLIN, Nov. 28 (AP).—Admittedly hit in the Black Sea corner of the Eastern front by Russian counter-attacks of unusual strength, the German armed forces stabbed at the fringe of the Caucasian oil country from the air tonight in the start of new offensive operations.

The Nazi armies of the Crimea also opened a new drive on the Red navy fortress of Sevastopol, which has been holding out in the Southwest corner of the peninsula while more spectacular operations unfolded elsewhere.

The Germans claimed they wakened the stubborn land defences of the port considerably by breaking through the difficult mountain passes to the East, despite alternative cloudbursts and snowfall.

The Russians obviously had a good deal to do with the intensification of the fighting in the South. German dispatches admitted they had counter-attacked heavily in the Rostov-on-Don and Donets sectors with the support of both tanks and planes.

The German version was that these counter-assaults were closed up by the heavy losses which the Germans were able to inflict. How-

Roosevelt Forces a Compromise on Control Bill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP).—A tattered remnant of the Administration's price control bill was passed by the House tonight after President Roosevelt's forces, facing a complete rout, compromised on many points with a coalition of Republicans and Democrats.

As finally approved the bill would give a single Administrator power to impose ceilings on the prices of commodities whose prices get out of line with the rest of the price structure, but an Administrative Board of Review would have authority to set aside the Administrator's rulings.

Housewife Must Take Lead in War on Price Jumps

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (CP).—Canadian women received a call from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board tonight, little more than 48 hours before price control becomes effective, to act as guardians of the price law.

The appeal went out from Donald Gordon, Chairman of the Prices Board, who spoke over the national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

The price ceiling on goods will be effective Monday, Mr. Gordon said, and prices higher than those which prevailed between Sept. 15 and Oct. 11 would be a breach of the law.

"If you find some bootleg dealer who wants you to conspire with him to break the law you must not only refuse, you must also let him know, in unmistakable terms, that he is an enemy of this country," Mr. Gordon said.

Mr. Gordon said the Board proposed to deal drastically with any person who deliberately violates the law, "but the housewife must be the real guardian of the law.

"Her job," for her country, will be to watch prices every day. She is the soldier in the battle line.

"She must battle against dishonesty, greed, stupidity—all the human weaknesses which are the allies of inflation and destruction."

FIRST FIRE CHIEF OF VANCOUVER DIES

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28 (CP).—J. H. Carlisle, 84, Vancouver's first fire chief, died today.

Mr. Carlisle became fire chief in 1886, helped battle the big fire that destroyed the city in that year, and continued in the post until January, 1929. He came to the city the year before the big fire and it was chiefly through his efforts that the city volunteer fire department was organized.

Michael Zaffoni of Slokan Dies

Michael Zaffoni, oldtimer of New Denver, died Friday at Kootenay Lake General Hospital. He was 66 years of age.

Two nieces, Mrs. E. Marshall of South Slokan, and Miss Rose Zadra of New Denver, survive.

Signaller Hinch Is Now Overseas

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 28—Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hinch, 748 Spokane Street, received a cable Thursday morning from their son, Sgimn. Garde Hinch, stating that he had arrived safely with the 5th Armoured Division, which reached England last week.

Late Flashes

AN ENGLISH SOUTHEAST COAST TOWN, Nov. 29 (Saturday) (AP).—The rattle of machine-gun fire, flashes of tracer bullets and the spaced thud of heavier guns in the haze off the Kentish coast late last night led watchers to believe that Axis light naval forces had ventured closer and the English coast than ever before and had been met by Royal Navy patrols.

TOKYO, Nov. 28 (AP).—Dispatches purporting to describe a new British "menace" to both Thailand and Japan began to appear in Japanese newspapers tonight. One report said that more than 50,000 British troops had been brought up to Thailand's borders—among them "ferocious Indians."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (CP).—Priorities Director Donald M. Nelson today announced a 30-day suspension of his order forbidding manufacture of lead and tin for cigarette packages, chewing gum and candy, and said an investigation would be made which might lead to possible revocation or modification of the order.

LONDON, Nov. 29 (Saturday) (AP).—The Moscow radio said early today that "the threat to Sevastopol is growing."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (AP).—The United States State Department said formally today that Finland's latest actions had "confirmed our apprehensions that it is fully cooperating with the Hitler forces."

UNION HEADS TO TAKE UP STRIKE PROBLEM TODAY

Four Men Arrested on Intimidation Charges

DENY PLAN FOR 24-HOUR HOLIDAY

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., Nov. 28 (CP).—Trade union leaders from across Canada, representing 10 union organizations, will meet here tomorrow to discuss the strike of Local 240, International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (I.M.M.S.W.) against eight district gold mines.

But the possibility of the conference discussing a 24-hour holiday by Canadian labor in support of the 10-day-old walkout was disclaimed by union officials today. The possibility had been raised when Silby Barret, Board Director of the United Mine Workers in Nova Scotia, was heard by newspapermen to say at a meeting of striking miners Thursday that the holiday-action would be discussed.

A statement issued tonight by operators of the eight gold mines claimed $150,000 loss in wages thus far in the 10-day strike.

It also said 27 more men reported for work at the mines today, bringing the total of 1052 production men of approximately 4000 affected by the strike.

The union made no immediate comment, but in an earlier statement said the operators' work-figures were "fictitious inventions."

Chief R. Pinegar of the Teck Township Police Force said tonight that four men were arrested today on charges of intimidation arising from the strike in eight district gold mines.

70 Japanese Transports Reported Moving South; Situation is Precarious

SHANGHAI, Nov. 29 (Saturday) (AP).—Reliable reports were received here today that more than 70 Japanese troop transports had been seen moving in the direction of Hainan Island or French Indo-China early this week, a development which Americans here termed "far from reassuring."

Sources here estimated that the transports carried fully a division and a half—22,000 to 23,000 men—with complete campaign and landing equipment, including landing boats.

The development followed reports a week ago of unprecedented activity at Woosung, important Japanese army supply depot, where large transports were loading landing equipment and other military stores.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (CP).—A Japanese thrust into Thailand would be regarded here as a definite threat to American interests in the Far East and might lead to war between the United States and Japan, it was indicated here today on high authority.

That the precarious peace of the Far East is apt to be shattered any day, embroiling manynations, was demonstrated here in two announcements.

The first was that United States merchant ships on the Pacific would not be armed "under existing circumstances" but President Roosevelt, making the announcement at his Press conference, said it is up to Tokyo to decide how long the

Interpreting The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON—Associated Press Staff Writer

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON—Associated Press Staff Writer

A general Russian retreat on the Moscow front, forced by new Nazi advances on far-separated sectors of the 200-mile defence arc, appears under way.

It is clearly designed to recon-centrate Red armies in a tighter circle about the city from the Klin region in the North to the Okanara River line in the South, although full scope of the retirement is not yet revealed.

Stress laid by Russian commentators for several days on the increasing gravity of the Moscow developments indicated preparation of public opinion for a broad retreat. In the absence of such a withdrawal, advance forces West of the city would be in extreme peril of piece-meal encirclement and destruction. Similar dangers would face those to the South, now falling back from re-encircled Tula.

Like the British design for the flaming Libyan offensive, annihilation of armies, not occupation of towns, is Hitler's prime objective in the Moscow battle. Bitter Russian experience has taught Red leaders anew the military wisdom of the old adage that he who fights and runs away may live to fight another day.

The most dangerous Nazi stab at the moment is within 36 miles of the city's inner fortifications through the Moshaisk Western bastion. At some untested point on the Moshaisk-Moscow main line they are perilously close to a junction with the Northern Nazi spearhead in the Klin break-through region.

Should those most advanced German columns threatening from the Northwest and West join hands before the Red forces in the Volokolamsk sector between them effect a withdrawal, the latter might be trapped and destroyed. That would open a 50-mile gap in Moscow's defences, fed by three railroads and highway systems over which Nazi reinforcements and supplies could be brought up.

On Moscow's South flank a similar situation was developing. Tula had been virtually ringed and was again under direct artillery fire. Its evacuation was to be expected and its garrison probably will fall back Northward to the Okanara line for another stand, still 180 miles outside Moscow's inner defences.

Berlin says German forces which broke through below Tula to fan Northward have also swept Eastward and Southward along the Rysaisk Railway more than 80 miles. This looks on the map to be a curious deflection of the Southern wing of the Nazi effort to encircle Moscow, because it extends Nazi lines away from the city rather than toward it. However, it probably has another strategic significance.

This advance, as described by the Germans, has already carried them across the Moscow-Kremlevo rail line and to within 30 miles of the Moscow-Rysaisk-Koslov route. Presumably in preparation for the close siege of Moscow the Nazis are establishing to sever all direct communications between the Moscow and Don fronts from possible inter-change of reserves to meet German attacks either upon Moscow or against the Caucasian defence line along the lower Don.

Solid British Line Slowly Closing in on 2 Axis Columns

One Dispersed in Two-Hour Battle; Other Allied Forces Move Steadily to West; Main Battles Still in East

CAIRO, Nov. 28 (AP).—Strong Axis formations trapped East of the Tobruk-Rezegh zone—the elite among Lt.-Gen. Erwin Rommel's surviving North African tanks corps—threw against a closing British line tonight in a desperate effort to escape annihilation.

Retreat to the West and to a junction with other German and Italian forces simultaneously and heavily engaged deeper in Libya, beyond Rezegh, was blocked by an Imperial wall standing athwart the coastal routes.

Rommel thus struggled for the life of two Axis columns, one returning sorely weakened from a foray across the Egyptian frontier and the other formed of troops leaving their broken positions in the frontier region of Sidi Omar and Haliaya (Hellfire) Pass.

The Northernmost of these columns had been under violent British bombing assault for more than 24 hours before it was met head-on by British tanks and dispersed in a two-hour battle, said British headquarters. The second column was not precisely located save that it, too, was threatened with envelopment and destruction.

While this series of battles raged East of the imperial Tobruk-Rezegh line other British and New Zealand forces now in full contact fought forward mile by mile over powerful German opposition to the West toward the strong Axis positions of Gazala and Derna beyond Tobruk.

It was the East, however, into which the imperial commander, Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham was throwing the greatest of his striking power, for while Axis forces West of Tobruk are perhaps more numerous than their snared comrades behind them, the Axis mechanized arm is concentrated in this latter area—and that is objective No. 1 for destruction.

The Tobruk-Rezegh zone itself appeared all but cleared by Axis forces, for substantially the whole of the Italian Bologna division holding the Eastern side of the Tobruk perimeter has been annihilated and only a few of Rommel's remaining tank units still hold out near Rezegh.

The main fighting has swept back some 30 miles to the East below the region of Gambut where Rommel's two frontier columns moved up to the showdown to break the imprisonment or be crushed.

British informants reported the remainder of his mechanized forces had now been widely scattered—two, in the North around Rezegh and West of Bardia, with infantry support and that enveloped in the Gambut area having none.

In the area just beyond Tobruk to the West, however, he still was bringing up reinforcements, for the Royal Air Force announced that big Axis concentrations North and Northwest of El Adam had been heavily and successfully attacked.

While there still was no disposition at imperial headquarters to claim a final victory, and much bloody fighting still was clearly ahead, quiet confidence prevailed. The naval and air arms of the offensive, still in heavy action, reported a series of successes during the day.

British bomber and fighter attacks upon Axis tanks, bases and air fields over a wide area met only "negligible" opposition, the Royal Air Force announced in its communique. Bomber assaults were extended as well to Axis shipping in the Mediterranean, where it was reported that a liner and its destroyer escort were squarely hit, certainly badly damaged and perhaps destroyed.

It was authoritatively disclosed, however, that while 139 Axis ships had been sunk or damaged in the Mediterranean by the Royal navy and the fleet air arm during the last four months as a prelude to the Libyan campaign, British Mediterranean shipping itself now is taking increasing punishment.

The growing power of such German air attacks was attributed to a forced withdrawal of Nazi squadrons from other theatres—presumably including Russia.

Frisby Declares He Will Not Seek to Unseat Putnam; Riding Would Be Without Member at Crucial Period

That he had no intention of taking action to unseat Frank Putnam, Nelson-Creston member who this week was sworn in as British Columbia's Minister of Agriculture, was stated Friday by Frank Frisby, C.C.F. candidate. Mr. Frisby ran third to Mr. Putnam in the election but only 20 votes separated them. The count included the ballots of 21 persons who voted illegally, their names not being on the voters' list.

When the final exacting count for Nelson-Creston was completed last week and W. E. Coles, Returning Officer, announced the official figures as 2144 for Mr. Putnam, 2140 for M. C. Donaldson and 2124 for Mr. Frisby, the C.C.F. candidate declared he would not seek a recount. His statement Friday that he would not seek to upset the election because of irregularities in the voting further clarified the position of Mr. Putnam, for Mr. Donaldson had also given his assurance.

WOULD BE WITHOUT MEMBER

"If Mr. Putnam were to be unseated, Nelson-Creston would be without representation at Victoria for possibly six months before a bye-election could be completed," Mr. Frisby explained. "And there would be additional uncertainty at Victoria, which is uncertain enough as it is.

"With the possibility of war with Japan looming over us the most important thing right now is to settle down and do the best we can. This is no time for bickering.

"In any case," the C.C.F. candidate continued, "if things go on at Victoria as they are, there will probably be a Provincial election before long and the outcome then will undoubtedly be much more definite."

Mr. Frisby congratulated Mr. Putnam upon his elevation to cabinet rank and hoped he would be successful in this office.

Slight Colliders Called to Court; One Is Beginner
TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 26—A slight collision on Bay Avenue near the Colorado Street intersection, shortly before midnight last Sunday, resulted in Raymond Wallace and Gordon McLean appearing before Magistrate Parker Williams in City Police Court Friday afternoon.
McLean pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge. Acting Police

Chief F. H. Steel, prosecuting, stated that McLean, driving a taxi down Bay Avenue from Victoria Street, passed cars driven by Fred Morrish and Wallace within the block. Wallace had crashed into the back of McLean's car as the taxi driver slowed up to pull in to the curb. McLean was fined $10 and costs.
Wallace was charged with driving without a subsisting driver's licence. He pleaded guilty, stating that he had obtained an application for a licence from the Provincial Police office, and had thought that it would be necessary to learn how to drive a car first before taking his driver's test.
Acting-Chief Steel explained that he should have taken out a beginner's licence, which stipulates that an adult driver must accompany a learner. Wallace said he had been driving only one month.
He was fined $5 without costs.

Joe Gets Excited, So Accidentally Kayos Exhibition Partner
SAN JOSE, Calif., Nov. 26 (AP)—An unexpected flurry of hard blows last night excited Joe Louis, heavyweight boxing champion, so much that he knocked out George Giambastiani, Los Angeles heavyweight in the third round of a scheduled four-round exhibition at Municipal Auditorium.
The business blow, a left hook flush to Giambastiani's jaw, came after one minute and 24 seconds of the third round.
The excitement developed after two rounds of colorless boxing in which Louis shuffled slowly around the ring toying with his sparring partner.
Suddenly in the third round, Giambastiani decided to exchange a few blows with the champion. He did and Joe retaliated with a Sunday punch.
"In the excitement I slipped one too many in. I'm awfully sorry," the champion apologized later.
Louis weighed 210; Giambastiani 213.

St. Paul's Combined Choirs Score a New Triumph Before Capacity Crowd

Reaching to heights probably never attained by any musical presentation of the year, St. Paul's Choirs Thursday night sang their beautiful Musikhans to an audience that filled to capacity St. Paul's United Church.

FIRST COMBINED WORK
It was the first public performance of the combined choir, and it was a performance the like of which has brought to St. Paul's musical organizations their high rank in West Kootenay music circles. The sweet, clear voices of the boy sopranos, the loveliness of the feminine voices, and the fuller voices of senior choir members gave the singing a balance that was perfection.
There was variety too, to round out the entertainment. Besides the choral singing, there were solos and duets, recitations, and instrumental numbers.

REACHES CLIMAX
The Musikhans was excellent in its every part, but it reached a climax in its second half. The thrill of fine music and singing was brought to the audience as the boy soprano George Spence lifted his voice with the strains of Meg Gerriah's violin in the beautiful "Ave Maria". An organ background was given by Mrs. T. J. S. Ferguson. The climax was maintained with the sacred cantata, "The Rolling Seasons" by the Senior and Intermediate Choirs.

Cantata soloists were Mrs. Victor Crawford, Mrs. J. C. Hiescher, Miss Jean Walton, Mrs. Arthur Bradshaw, William Coleman and Donald Brown.
Guest artist Yvonne Armstrong of Trail charmed the company with two solos. The former Nelson girl sang "A Maiden's Wish" and "Dawn". Ever-popular Donald Brown, baritone, scored high once more, and in a duet with Mrs. Arthur Bradshaw, pleasing soprano, showed a new ability in presentation of "Tell Me Pretty Maiden" from "Florodora".
Part of the proceeds of the concert will go to the Russian Relief

Billets for 200 Airmen Offered for Christmas
At least 200 British airmen separated from their homes and spending their first Christmas—in a strange land, will find a bit of home in Nelson District this Christmas and New Year's. Invitations for 200 men of the Royal Air Force Service Flying Training School at Medicine Hat, Alta., to spend their Christmas and New Year's leave as guests of residents of this district have been assured, and the number is likely to be increased.
Mrs. G. G. Lambert, Secretary of the Nelson Citizens' Committee in charge of the entertainment of British and Anzac airmen on leave now has a list of 110 homes which will be opened to the men from the R.A.F. school at Medicine Hat. Ninety-nine of these homes are in Nelson, five in Kaslo, two in Procter and one each in Balfour, Ainsworth, Bonnington and Nakusp. It is possible Trail homes also may be opened to the airmen.
SOME COMBINE
In most cases the invitation is for two men. In some instances where a host or hostess feels unable to provide complete entertainment, two will have combined and while one will offer rooms, the other will lay extra places at the table.

Trail Plans Four Teams in All Kid Hockey Circuits

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 26—Trail's Booster Club executive feels hopeful of forming four teams in the bantam, midget and juvenile leagues this season. Applications so far number 117, including 64 bantams, 36 midgets and 17 juveniles. Application forms have been distributed through the schools to bantams and midgets, although several still have not been turned in. Forms for the juveniles are available at the Memorial Hall, and all applications must be turned into James Gagnon at the Trail High School by noon Tuesday. Teams will be drawn up by Mr. Gagnon and F. C. Pritchard Tuesday afternoon.

Eleven prospective coaches have stepped forward to offer their services. Jack Kwasnie, former senior coach, Rico Martin, Tom Johnston, Wish Millburn, "Speed" Moynes, Bert Richards, Tom Bisho, Glen York, Charles McLean, Lloyd Murdoch and Cliff Clelland of Rossland. Mickey Brennan and Earl Dwyer will be referees.
Suggestion of Rossland entering a team was brought forward by Ed Walters Rossland's kid sports promoter, at an executive meeting of the Booster Club Friday night, but the executive decided to hold the matter over for further discussion before giving any definite decision. The idea of forming an equipment committee, responsible for the tallying, keep and repair of all equipment was also mooted.

The first practice night will be Thursday, the bantams from 4 to 6 o'clock, midgets from 6 to 8 o'clock and juveniles from 8 to 10 o'clock. The tentative date set for the first "Old Timers" game between Nelson and Trail, at Trail, is December 22, although the executive plans to move the date to earlier in the month if the ice is obtainable.

New Zealanders and British Meet and Toast Tobruk Victory With Beer

WITH THE 8TH ARMY IN LIBYA Nov. 27 (Delayed) (AP) — A New Zealander, perspiring and dirty from 10 days of battling with the 8th army into Libya, met a British Tommy from Tobruk in a rutted battlefield at Ed Duda early today—and shook hands.

That meeting, without benefit of formal introduction, was the first contact between the seven-months-besieged Tobruk garrison and the second British offensive into Libya. Tonight the men from Tobruk, dug from their duffel precious bottles of beer—not iced, but with only one sip per man, it was cool nectar for a toast of victory.

The drive South to Ed Duda from Tobruk had been fiercely contested, frontally and a flank by the Germans and Italians who had kept Tobruk under siege since last April.

But in the first day's operations the men from Tobruk, repulsing all counter attacks, held their hard won gains and attacked by night. The next day, the second out of Tobruk, the garrison pushed on to within four miles of its rendezvous with the 8th Army.

At one time a famous Highland regiment held first place in the line, the skirling of pipes rising in the moonlight night to fill in the lulls in the gunfire.

The British barrage was intense. In this covering fire the British guns fired 40,000 shells on the first day alone. A Highland regiment was in the van for the third day of fighting, while Poles and Czechs, holding Tobruk's perimeter defences on a possible thrust by their foe, made a successful sortie.

After that the men awaited the chance for a new effort to close the gap—in all not more than 10 miles from Tobruk's perimeter to Ed Duda.

Back of them were strong positions wrested from the Axis encirclement. Five strongholds, many prisoners and miscellaneous material, including field guns, had fallen to them on the first day of assault.

FIVE DIE IN FIRE

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 28 (AP) —Five persons, all members of an Omaha, Neb., family were burned to death, and two others were seriously injured in a fire in a downtown room house early today.

Civilians Injured in Raid on Naples

ROME, Nov. 28 (AP) — British planes caused "notable damage" during raids on Naples last night, an Italian communique said today.

Anti-aircraft batteries and night fighters shot down three planes, the communique claimed.

British bombs were admitted to have started a number of "small" fires which were extinguished. Five civilians were injured.

Survivors Risk Chances of Rescue for Convoy Safety

By DOUGLAS AMARON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP) —Warriors from a torpedoed ship who tossed in a lifeboat in the Atlantic for seven days, risked their chances of a rescue rather than betray the presence of a convoy to lurking submarines. In the dusk they saw the convoy three miles away—they signalled with a pocket flashlight. They received no acknowledgement but their signal had been seen and a British warship came to their rescue.

A Free French submarine, sighted by two German E-boats, submerged and lay on the sea bed for more than eight hours while the Nazis dropped depth charges. The crew was nearly asphyxiated when, an hour after the 25th and last depth charge was dropped the submarine came to the surface and found the E-boats gone.

Official inspections revealed a shortage of blankets in prisoner of war camps in Germany, the war office announced. Demands of the Russian campaign and the number of Russian prisoners for whom provision had to be made are believed to be the reasons for the shortage which is being investigated.

24 Axis Ships in Mediterranean Sunk During November

LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP) —Authoritative British sources said today that thus far in November 24 Axis ships have been sunk, four probably sunk and 13 hit in attacks by the Royal Navy and Air Force in the Mediterranean.

Since August the Royal Navy has sunk or damaged 139 Axis ships in those waters.

A spokesman denied Axis reports the battleship Malaya had been damaged, saying "she is doing her work as usual."

These sources said there was no confirmation of Rome's claim today to the sinking of three British submarines.

R.A.F. Makes Heavy Raid on Dusseldorf

LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP) — A large scale aerial attack on Dusseldorf was announced today by the Air Ministry, which said "railways and industrial districts were heavily bombed."

Docks at Ostend and German air-dromes in the low countries also were said to have been attacked as the British bombers swept Eastward into Germany.

(In Berlin Nazi sources admitted a number of British planes flew over Western and Northern Germany and claimed they dropped a few bombs that caused property damage and killed or wounded several persons.)

The Air and Home Security Ministries announced a small number of persons was injured and some damage was caused in German air raids in coastal districts of East Anglia and Southeastern England.

Nazis Sought to Destroy Polish Free Religion

By HAROLD FAIR
(Canadian Press Staff Writer).

LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP) —Religion and culture were twin targets of the Nazis they sought to stamp out Poland's national life. From the beginning of the occupation they "tried either to suppress or restrict" religious freedom, says the Polish Government in London.

Churches, synagogues and religious objects were destroyed or desecrated, the clergy and faithful proscribed. Education was restricted, a considerable proportion of Polish literature proscribed and the Germans, in order to lower moral standards, "encourage inclusion of pornographic scenes in the theatrical programs."

A report to the Vatican by Cardinal Hlond, Primate of Poland, showed that 800 of the 650 priests in Polish Pomerania "suffered ill-treatment at the hands of the occupation authorities, chiefly in concentration camps."

Meighen Expects to Seek Election in York South

TORONTO, Nov. 28 (CP) —Senator Arthur Meighen, newly-chosen leader of the Conservative party, said today he "expects to seek election" to the House of Commons in York South. Resignation of the member for that riding, Man. Alan Cockeram, to pave the way for entry of the new leader to the House was announced last night.

"I am very grateful to Maj. Cockeram," Senator Meighen said, adding that he would resign from the Senate "in due time."

India Has Million Men Under Arms

By J. F. SANDERSON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer).

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (CP) — India has 1,000,000 men under arms, scattered from the sandy battlefields of Libya to the steaming jungles of Malaya, Sir Girja Shankar Bajpai, India's First Agent-General in the United States, stated here at his press conference.

Sir Girja said India is fighting to uphold democracy, not because India had enjoyed its benefits but because it wished to see it flourish so it could take root there after the war.

The British Government, he said, has the avowed aim of extending dominion status to India after the war.

India has at least 8,000,000 men available for the Army among the so-called martial races that form part of its total population of 400,000,000. The recruiting stations are not big enough to accommodate the rush to arms, equipment being the limiting factor in the size of the India Army. All the men are volunteers. India has no conscription.

Steady progress is being made, he said, in displacing British officers with natives. Before the war started, 80 per cent of all officers in India's Army were British but now they represent only 50 per cent.

In addition to the development of a big army, India is manufacturing guns, rifles, mortars, machine guns, armor plate and has started an aircraft industry. Steel production has risen to 1,000,000 tons a year in an industry that did not exist 20 years ago.

TEACHERS ASK PATTULLO FOR HIGHER WAGES

VICTORIA, Nov. 28 (CP).—Premier Pattullo returned from Vancouver today and presided at a meeting of the Executive Council attended by Mines Minister C. S. Leary, Public Works Minister Thomas King, Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam and Lands Minister and Provincial Secretary A. Wells Gray.

The Cabinet received a delegation from the B. C. Teachers' Federation, headed by Harry C. Charlesworth, Secretary. The group asked consideration for teachers, especially for a higher, more standardized basic wage rate for rural teachers, in isolated districts.

"I have every sympathy with their plight, and I promised every consideration for their requests," the Premier said, adding, "You know, I had forgotten for a minute, when they came in, that I was also Minister of Education."

The delegation asked the Government to raise the minimum wage of teachers above $780 a year, because, it was pointed out, when superannuation and defence tax were taken away, the teacher had only $680.

The Premier also said he was in favor of more equitable distribution of education costs.

Questioned about a cost-of-living bonus for civil servants, the Premier said a lump sum for this purpose would have to be included in the estimates.

Young People Hear of Growth of Missions in China in Decade

How United Church Missions in Szechwan, China, grew in the decade from 1911 to 1921 is described for St. Paul's Young People Wednesday night by Rev. Foster Hilliard in a talk entitled "Cities of Refuge."

Mr. Hilliard stated that in the decade the missions established 80 primary schools, 10 upper primary and three high schools, and in addition several hospitals in larger cities. The missionaries had also acted as mediators in disputes between war lords.

Stanley Eddy had charge of the devotional period, assisted by Miss Ruth Rixen and Harvey Moir.

The Society decided to change its meeting night to Tuesday.

The hymn "Abide With Me" and "Taps" closed the meeting.

Bargains... Wise Buying Helps the Family Budget

By IDA JEAN KAIN
We are beginning to see that it is just as necessary for people to have a liberal diet as to get a liberal education.

When fresh vegetables are out of reach, buy canned ones. The modern canning process preserves their food value. In buying the canned products, take note of the weights given on the label for only by comparison of the contents in ounces can you tell whether a "special" is really a bargain.

It doesn't matter whether a green is low in price as long as the color is good. Never buy wilted vegetables no matter how cheap they are. The old leaves and roots have lost too much of their protective value to be worth taking home.

As a routine way of boosting your family's Vitamin B intake, buy whole grain or enriched flour and cereals and bakery products. There is no better cereal than rolled oats.

If you are watching your budget very closely, you will find that day-old bread is much cheaper than that which is freshly baked. It is just as good for your family. And cereals in bulk cost considerably less than those which have been packaged.

When the budget suggests a butter substitute, insist on one which has been enriched with Vitamin A. And peanut butter is an excellent and economical spread—it is high in Vitamins A, B and G, as well as rich in protein.

Molasses makes a much more important contribution to the dietary than refined sugar and should be kept on hand for use several times a week. For a delicious and healthful dessert, have ginger-bread made with enriched flour and molasses and topped with hot applesauce.

If possible, each child and adult should have an egg daily. Otherwise, include three to four eggs per week in their menus.

Use potatoes every day and dried beans or peas, which are good but cheap sources of protein, several times a week. Vary the meat and have meat organs at least once during the week. A later article will tell you about the economical meat cuts. Cheese, is high in protein, vitamins and minerals, and is less expensive when purchased in bulk.

Also, the hard, compressed cheeses are richer in calcium than cream or cottage cheese and more important from the nutritional viewpoint.

Castle of Contentment

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN
Instantly Tate left the romantic proximity of his companion and faced the motionless Ylena, across the top of his business desk. The most evident emotion on his face was a fury at being caught. He was furious with himself, furious with his dark friend, and decidedly furious with Ylena. He didn't even greet her. From ingredients on top the blond-toned desk, he mixed himself a highball, then walked to the opposite side of the room, his attitude of disdain a definite insult to both women.

The dark girl got to her feet, looked Ylena up and down, then went to sway accusingly before the lounging Tate. "Now I know why you wouldn't take me to the La Madera club for dinner. You've been waiting for her. That's why you're dressed up." She clutched a bit of her own street frock between trembling fingers. "I'm not good enough—"

"Oh, for Lord's sake, Francie, stop talking like a tent-show leading lady." He cast a brief glance toward Ylena. "I didn't even know she was coming."

"That's very apparent." Uncontrollably she laughed.

Young Cromwell said, "It isn't funny."

Francie broke in, her voice thick and reproachful, "I'm not going to be treated this way."

"Oh, good home, Francie!" The dark girl looked at Tate's disgusted face and was instantly crushed. Mascaraed tears slid down her cheeks.

"No," said Ylena. "I'm the one who is intruding." She stripped the white suede glove from her left hand. "You know, Tate, I think you have the ring on the wrong girl."

Francie's eyes widened and she blinked away the blurring tears. In determined, sullen doubt she said: "You're not trying to tell me Tate gave you that?" Ylena's nod of affirmation meant nothing. "Oh, no!" Francie declared. "A gift? Sure, Flowers, a necklace, even a wrist-watch, but not a ring. Not THE ring!" She blew a snorting breath through her nostrils.

Standing straight, icy in appearance, raging actually, Ylena looked at Tate, slouching over his drink.

Modern... Great Changes in Treatment of T.B.

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.
The management of cases of tuberculosis has entirely changed since I was in active charge of a tuberculosis pavillion thirty years ago. We had learned then the primary importance of rest—day and night—and that still is probably the greatest factor in restoring these patients to health. There was a time when they were encouraged to take active exercise which simply broke down their resistance and helped spread the disease further through the lungs.

OPEN AIR TREATMENT
We were also using fresh, open air, a practice that was introduced about one hundred years ago by George Bodington, who broke with the old tradition of shutting these patients in air-tight rooms and put them out in the open air, no matter what the weather. The public was shocked when he did this, and thought the exposure would kill the poor consumptives, but they improved greatly. Fresh air, and if they can afford it, sanatorium treatment and a good climate are still important elements in treatment.

Plenty of excellent food was a great factor in the treatment thirty years ago. These people still need extra nourishment, but we have found that it can be overdone. It is easy, when they are at rest in bed, with fresh air to give them an appetite, to put weight on these patients. But it gives a sense of false security and after the disease is quiescent when they get back to activity, they regain their emaciated appearance quickly.

SEMI-SURGICAL METHODS
The great advance in treatment has been in the use of semi-surgical methods, most important of which is collapse of the affected lung and the introduction of air into the

Example... Blames Parents for Poor Speech

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph. D.
The baby beginning speech will form statements which sound strange to some adults. Some parents, thinking them "cute" will imitate them and use these mistakes when talking to the child. Other parents will even employ "baby talk." Most "baby talk" by youngsters is imitation of adults.

Trust... Boy Feels Parents Went Back on Him

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Dear Miss Fairfax—My parents have threatened to put me out because of some unfair gossip they heard about me. I feel like a black sheep and as my relatives side with my parents, I can't turn to them for help. Even my grandparents, who really raised me, want me out of the house. I feel as if I'm only in the way.

A friend of mine has asked me to go away with him to seek a position in another state. I would like your advice about this, whether you think it is all right to leave home and find work elsewhere? S.N.H.

If parents refuse to stand by a boy or girl in trouble, what can be expected when the worst happens? Granted this boy has been guilty of some fault which he denies, one would expect a more sensible reaction from his family.

A petty offence, treated as if it were murder, is likely to turn a youngster into an out-and-out criminal if he feels his little world of parents, grandparents and friends is against him.

Example... Blames Parents for Poor Speech

Therefore, it is not necessary to keep correcting the child. If you do, merely say the right form after him, occasionally and let it go at that.

Many children from 10 to 15 invent among their small groups, types of secret language and seem to derive much enjoyment from it. Moreover "Pig Latin" may be used by them with one another. All these efforts of their own way need not worry the understanding parent at all.

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEMS
Q. Is reading to the child good for him if he has been slow in talking?

A. Yes, indeed; also for the stuttering child. A selected list of books for reading to the baby and young child may be had by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City.

QUEEN TELLS HOLLANDERS TO CONTINUE RESISTANCE
LONDON, Nov. 28 (CP).—Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands urged her subjects in Occupied Holland tonight to continue their "tenacious passive resistance" to the Germans but cautioned them against "rash acts."

She praised United States military protection in Dutch Guiana as "extremely important not only to ourselves but our Allies."

She spoke over radio Orange, one of the foreign language transmitters of the British Broadcasting Corporation.

DANCE FROLIC TONIGHT
CKLN's monthly Dance Frolic will be on the air tonight—starting at 9:30 instead of 9 o'clock however—to accommodate an interesting "actuality" broadcast to be conducted by Bob Bowman from Vancouver. This feature is an all-request programme, given in response to the demand for an all-dance programme providing music for many home parties throughout the district. Music is by many of the leading "name" bands in this country and the U.S.A., among them Bob Crosby, Will Osborne, Freddie Martin, Alvino Ray, Henry Buase, and many others.

HEDY LAMARR VISITS CHARLIE MCCARTHY
Gorgeous raven-tressed Hedy Lamarr, in whose hands many of Hollywood's handsomest leading men have been putty, will work her charms on Edgar Bergen's brash dummy and closest friend, Charlie McCarthy, when she puts in a guest appearance on his show Sunday at 5 p.m.

Charlie gets weak in the knees when he thinks of holding the incomparable Hedy's hands at the microphone. He has been walking on air, in fact, ever since she accepted his invitation. To get Charlie completely under her power, all Hedy needs to do is twist a lock of his red hair around her finger. After that there will be no insults or ill-mannered retorts from McCarthy. He will just mumble incoherently.

Bud Abbott and Lou Costello will contribute their usual laugh-provoking high-jinks and Ray Noble's Orchestra will provide the music.

DOUGLAS MILLER TO SPEAK
The speaker on the programme "We Have Been There" Sunday afternoon at 5:30 p.m. will be Douglas Miller, author of the recently published book "You Can't Do Business With Hitler." Miller spent fifteen years in Germany, during which time he was Trade Commissioner and later Commercial Attache. He is now associated with Col. W. J. Donovan in the Office of the Co-Ordinator of Information at Washington. He will speak from Washington.

STEAMED FISH
1 or 2 pounds fish steak of fillets, or 1 1/2 or 3 pounds whole fish; salt solution; cream dressing or seasoned butter dressing.

Cover fish with salt solution, which should be made in proportion of 2 tablespoons salt to 1 cup cold water, allowing it to stand from 2 to 8 minutes, depending on the thickness and variety of the fish.

Drain, place fish 1 layer deep in well oiled steamer and cook from 5 to 12 minutes, or until tender. Serve with cream sauce or seasoned butter dressing.

If you use a cream sauce, make ordinary white sauce with plenty of butter, then add chopped parsley just before serving. Serve over fish with lemon on the side, or serve sauce in separate dish with lemon with the fish. For the butter sauce, try Maitre d'Hotel Sauce.

MAITRE D'HOTEL SAUCE
1/2 cup butter, 10 drops onion juice, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1

tablespoon chopped parsley, salt and pepper.
Beat butter to a cream, as for cake, add lemon juice a little at a time, and when well blended, stir in the parsley, onion juice and seasoning. Form into a ball or flat cake and set aside to chill before serving.

APPLE DUMPLINGS IN MAPLE SYRUP
1 1/2 cups flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar, 3 tablespoons fat, approximately 1/4 cup milk, maple syrup, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 4 apples.

Sift flour, measure and sift with baking powder, salt and sugar; work in fat with pastry blender or the tips of the fingers, add milk to make a soft dough. Roll out to 1/4 inch thickness and cut into 4 rounds or squares. Pare and core apples, roll each in maple syrup and place in centre of pastry round. Fill centre with sugar, dot with butter, bring ends of pastry together.

Place in small greased baking dish, pour additional syrup over dumplings to come well up on them. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) from 30 to 40 minutes. Serve with syrup poured over them, with cream, if liked.

BLOND FAILS IN HOLDUP ATTEMPT

VANCOUVER, Nov. 28 (CP). — Blond Marie Dueck, 26, was held in City jail today on a charge of attempted robbery with violence following her arrest in a downtown cafe yesterday after an attempt had been made to hold up an East End branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

She was remanded to Dec. 3 when she appeared in Police Court today.

Dennis Boyd, teller, said that shortly before 3 p.m. closing time "a platinum blond with blue eyes" approached his wicket and pushed the barrel of a gun through the bars of his cage with the command: "Stick 'em up."

Boyd said he ducked behind the counter and shouted to an employee, Miss C. Yipp, to telephone police. The woman bandit took alarm and fled, pursued by Boyd, who followed her to a nearby cafe. He remained outside until police arrived.

Police subsequently said the woman's weapon was a toy pistol but Boyd said "It looked realistic enough at the time."

R.M.R. Recruit Finds Enlistment Is Rapid Affair

"Well, I never expected anything as fast as that."

This was the comment Friday afternoon of a new recruit for Nelson Platoon of the Rocky Mountain Rangers as he stood in the Armory, his arms loaded with complete army uniform, web equipment and respirator, and with the words of his oath of allegiance still echoing through the big hall. He was A. M. Dunmore.

His rapid acceptance and outfitting was due to a combination of circumstances that made his enlistment one of the speediest on record here. He called at the Armory on the day that Capt. J. F. Roberts, M.C., Adjutant of the 2nd Battalion, Rocky Mountain Rangers, was making his first visit to Nelson in his new capacity as recruiting officer. His call was so timed that he was able to complete his enrollment form, go to a doctor for medical examination, return to the Armory for attestation by Captain Roberts and then receive the uniform and equipment with hardly a halt.

Five new recruits have been added to the Platoon, speeding it toward full strength. They are Edward Gordon, William G. Johnston, B. B. Stalwood, A. M. Dunmore and J. C. V. Ramsden.

Trail, headquarters of the West Kootenay Company, is up to strength and Rossland is coming ahead more rapidly.

A Trumpeter Swan Shot

The law which great numbers of hunters and conservationists in Idaho vainly petitioned for the past Summer—the removal from the game bird list of the Snow Goose or Wavy, in order to remove any possible excuse for shooting of the protected Trumpeter Swans—might have saved the life of one of this fast diminishing race that was shot early this week.

A 17-year-old hunter from Ohio was fined $100 for shooting a Trumpeter Swan, and his defence—which the Idaho court refused to accept—was that he thought the bird was a Snow Goose, which could be legally shot in Idaho.

This very alibi was stressed in the big petition, as the one every killer of a Swan would employ, as long as the Idaho game laws permitted Snow Geese to be hunted.

At the time the petition was up, The Daily News pointed out that if Trumpeter Swans were to be found in Idaho, on migration, presumably they also made contacts in this Province while passing South from the Northland; and that a Trumpeter Swan killed on this side of the line in mistake for a Snow Goose was just as serious a loss to this rare race as one killed for a similar reason in Idaho.

The Snow Goose is the only large white bird that is still open to hunters to shoot. The large white herons, known as Egrets, are protected. So are the White Pelicans. So are both Whistling Swans and Trumpeter Swans. If the Snow Goose were moved to the permanently protected list, then every hunter, however careless or however experienced, would know automatically that any large white bird he saw in front of him was protected.

Every naturalist, every conservationist, knows that the Trumpeter Swan is fighting for survival, with only the barest chance of winning. It is often said that not over a couple of dozen pairs are known of in the United States—all in the West. British Columbia also has a few nesting sites up North, sites whose location is never divulged.

If the Snow Goose could be protected, at least for the Western half of the continent, the accidental shooting of Trumpeter Swans would be over. They would still have all the other hazards to shtmount, predators at their nesting sites, and the accidents of Nature, but at least man would not be taking an intermittent toll.

China's Three Year Reconstruction Plan

At the beginning of July China entered upon a three-year reconstruction plan, recommended at the Eighth Plenary Session of the Executive Committee of the Kuomintang last Spring. The objectives aimed at included an increase in China's mineral production with definite goals set for enhanced supply of antimony, tungsten and tin, and an increase in agricultural production of tung oil, tea and silk. The reconstruction plan provides for the establishment of 15 industrial centres, each of which will form an entirely independent unit with an equivalent number of power plants supplying current to the projected industries in each area.

Considerable space could be devoted to what Free China has already accomplished in the way of reconstruction such as: the building of many miles of new railways and highways; the record of a new industrial economy in the Southwest and Northwest that has been built up to replace the enterprises in the coastal provinces now held by the Japanese; the reestablishment of the Hanyang Iron and Steel Works and the Tayeh Mining Works in Szechwan; the opening of new coal mines in Kiangsi, Hunan, Szechwan, Yunnan, Shensi, Kentsu and Sikang the bringing of oil wells into production in Kansu; the establishment of alcohol distilleries in Szechwan and Yunnan to produce essential substitutes; the opening of new copper mines and the systematic production of gold, mercury, wolfram and antimony. Judging from what has been done in the last four years in reconstruction, the new three-year plan should accomplish quite a lot. —The Chamber of Commerce Journal.

R. D. Creston—I have a small spray gun, used for touching-up purposes. Due to not having cleaned it the last time it was used, the paint has hardened in the tube, shutting it up completely. Have you a suggestion?

Try soaking in a solution of trisodium phosphate. Dissolve a cupful to the quart of water. This mixture is an excellent paint remover, and will undoubtedly soften the paint in the gun. Rinse thoroughly with clear water after removing the paint.

Press Comment

MR. PATTULLO

The Hon. T. D. Pattullo, K.C., Premier of the Province and—to quote the latest portfolio statistics available at this time of writing—also Minister of Finance, Minister of Education, and presiding director of the P.G.E. Railway, is providing the good people of British Columbia with as diverting a tragedy-comedy as has been presented on the legislative stage for many a season.

The times, we need hardly say, do not make for wide appreciation of the political opera. There's a war to be considered. Critical and deadly serious events crowd the stage too. But Mr. Pattullo is certainly winning all the limelight before the curtain falls on the last act of his "Victorian" drama, with all its Gilbert and Sullivan overtones.

We never supported the argument that because of the times there should be no election. There was evidence of declining confidence in the premier and his administration, and he called for his mandate. He got it—though not in the way he expected. He should now abide by what he himself asked for.

The Premier's comment that there was no mandate for coalition of any sort is pure balderdash. Rarely have the voters of any Province or state broken more nearly equal in results affecting the parties offering themselves. It was a clear-cut suggestion of compromise government. To carry the argument to its logical answer, moreover, there was certainly no mandate given Mr. Pattullo to form an administration in which he, in Mussolini-styled dictatorship, could declare that he would meet the legislature holding every portfolio by himself if he need be.

Mr. Pattullo, we might add in all honesty, may be quite capable of offering as capable an administration of many of these departments as aides who have now left him. That is really the pity of it all. A man who for 25 years has played such a role in the public life of B. C. and admittedly has done much for his own province, has no right to make a farce of the legislative processes in which he has been so vigorously involved. He is disappointing faithful followers, many of whom have sweat blood to strengthen the name of the "Pattullo Government". And he is now confirming every taunt that was flung at him in earlier times.

In our judgment, the premier was capable in power. But a man's character is more properly judged in defeat or what approximates it. He has never met a personal defeat at the polls. Perhaps if he had, he could have made a neat today that would have enlarged rather than decimated his stature.

Rightly or wrongly, the great mass of the people of this province regard Mr. Pattullo's recent antics as those of a stubborn, self-willed egotist. When tempered with wisdom, these are qualities that make for leadership. But in excess they lead to buffoonery. The premier no doubt regards himself as a courageous lion. The sad truth, however, is that he is behaving much more like an insanely charging hippopotamus, wounded to the death. At any rate, there is about as much subtlety as the latter would suggest.

But even among Mr. Pattullo's bitterest enemies there can be no pleasure at this spectacle. Those experienced in government affairs know well that his abilities were remarkable. It is the old story of character not equalling capacity. And, frequent as it is, it remains the saddest story of political effort. —Penticton Herald.

Zale Outpoints Abrams to Clear Up Middleweight Title Situation

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 28 (AP).—Tony Zale came off the floor tonight to outpoint George Abrams and become the first undisputed world middleweight champion in a decade. Zale weighed 188 1/2; Abrams 159.

In a slashing, brilliant 15-round bout opening bell to final gun, the Gary (Ind.) steel worker came off the Madison Square Garden floor from a first-round knockdown to nip Abrams with his last round rally and clear up the middleweight situation for the first time since Mickey Walker abdicated the crown in 1931.

The decision was unanimous on the part of Referee Billy Cavanagh and both judges. The Associated Press score card had Abrams in front eight rounds to seven at the finish, with Zale landing the heavier punches for the route, except for two occasions when the sailor boy from Washington had his rival hurt.

The factor that told most for Zale, who had been recognized as champion up to now by the National Boxing Association, was the brutal body beating he dished out with right shots that whistled like high-explosive shells as they sailed home.

Abrams had him on the floor in the first round from a left hook on which Tony took a nine-count before coming up for more. And in the eighth, Zale staggered half across the ring from a right hand that did him no good.

But in between those two thumps, and after the eighth, Zale just pegged away with chops to the ribs and tummy to pile up points and slow his "cutie" rival down. Except for occasional sallies to the head with right hands, Zale kept his attack almost exclusively on an economic warfare basis—in the breadbasket.

In the stretch, George's legs did not dance any more, and Zale moved in trying to polish off this challenger, just as he did Al Hostak in winning the N.B.A. blessing as boss.

This late pummeling, in addition to insuring the decision for Zale, also left George with a hemorrhage in the corner of his right eye, the most serious injury either man suffered in the 15 rounds of fireworks. He was attended by a physician after the bout.

C. Blaine of Ymir Captures Riotous Liar's Competition at Derby Banquet

A liar's competition, something that appeals to the second nature of every fisherman, was one of the high lights of the Nelson Gyro Club's Kootenay Lake Trout Derby banquet Wednesday night at the Eagle Hall.

After the four contestants, Curly Wheatley of Trail, C. Blaine of Ymir, and R. E. Crerar and Hector Angus of Nelson were heard, Lem Hanson of the Gyro Club determined on the "slapometer" that Blaine had scored 98.42 per cent for first place, followed closely by Wheatley's 98.21 per cent.

E. E. Hopwood, Derby Chairman, explained that C. H. (Pat) Murray at some considerable expense to the Gyro Club had been chasing all over the district searching for the Western liar champion. At considerable more expense R. E. Crerar had been back East and had brought back the greatest liar that Eastern Canada could produce. He was Jack Otterbein of Toronto, and though the latter was present, Crerar gave the story in his stead. He is a visiting officer in the 87th American Life Assurance Company.

As the story goes, Otterbein went fishing one Sunday, and as was the custom, he was aboard his favorite mule along a mountain trail. Coming along a steep precipice, a rock gave way, and the mule and the fisherman toppled down the canyon for 300 feet. Just a few feet from the bottom, Otterbein yelled "Whoo," and since he had been kind to the mule and trained him well, the mule obligingly "whoosed." But so abruptly that Autobone was thrown into the creek, and when he came to the surface again—lo and behold! in the basket strapped on his back was an unsurpassed catch of mountain trout.

TRUTH NOT IN THEM

The next candidate for the lying championship was Curly Wheatley who told a true story of Trail

Scotchmen coming over to Nelson to go fishing with some Nelson friends. Sandy McLaren, Scotty Cheyne, Bob McGerrigle and Bob Magee were the Trail men, and the Nelsonites were Mickey McEwen, Scotty Marr and Jim Muir.

They fished all day, and as was the custom of all true fishermen, "they returned late smelling of strong drink and the truth was not in them." There was only one fish caught, and that was eight inches long. As it happened, Frank Seal of Balfour donated to Scotty Cheyne one of the better specimens of the Kootenay Lake's Rainbow trout, to Scotty decided to put that one in the window in his barber's shop, with a suitable placard proclaiming that it was his catch.

This was done, and Cheyne boasted about his fish to all his acquaintances, and told them to go to see it. In the meantime, his colleagues had taken the big fish out, and replaced it with the eight-inch catch, and planted No. 5 Gibbs Stewart spoon, vice leader and other paraphernalia to further dwarf the size of the fish. Cheyne thereupon took quite a razzing.

Wheatley recited a masterpiece of a poem written by Bill Allen of Trail about the incident.

MEMORABLE CHASE

Then came the winner, C. Blaine of Ymir, already champion of Ymir, Salmo, Sheep Creek and by-points. After an amusing introduction to his tale, Blaine got around to the point where his camp had been burned up when he was in the Bayoune country. Everything was burned except an apple which had rolled out of his flaming pack-sack. Then on the trail, Blaine met up with a caribou, which charged him with open mouth. Bob Feller never put more on the old apple than Mr. Blaine when he heaved his missile down the throat of the onrushing animal.

The whole upshot of the incident was Blaine became the pursuer of the caribou for big game. On the way, they came to a cougar, all crouched to spring, but the caribou jumped right over it, landed on its tail, pushing it down a crevice in a rock. Blaine jammed a wedged-shaped rock down the crack to trap the tail, and keep the cougar safe till he got back to get the skin.

Then they came to a cliff overlooking Devil's Hole. The caribou jumped right over the cliff into the water below, and when it came up it had seven lovely mallards on its horns as well as fish, "for the caribou's horns had a terrific spread, just like this, and had prongs to spare."

Next a mountain-goat cut its throat on one of the prongs when it unfortunately got in the road, and Blaine grabbed the goat, threw it on the horns, and continued after the caribou, for now it was "winner-take-all." Then there was a whirr of wings, and blue grouse flew up right in front. As it happened, only three of these attached themselves to the horns, which were now ready for the S.R.O. sign.

THE SUPREME HAZARD

Finally there came the worst hazard of all—the Ymir road—where the caribou fell and broke his neck and the memorable chase was over.

"This is the first time that I ever told this tale," said Mr. Blaine, "for I was afraid some unscrupulous C.C.F. or Conservative would get some campaign material out of it."

Hector Angus was the fourth contestant, and he said that it really should have been Jack Mulholland telling the tale, for that it happened to him. There were two dentists up from the States after grizzlies, and they engaged Mulholland as their guide.

After their first night in the hills, when Mulholland looked after his companions in royal fashion, the dentists said they would get the breakfast since he had been so good to them, and asked Mulholland to go for a wa or something. So he went empty-handed along the trail, and who should loom up on the trail ahead but a mama grizzly and three cubs. Promptly Mrs. Grizzly took chase after the fleeing Mulholland, who managed to get to the threshold of the cabin. There he tripped, and the grizzly floundered in turn over him and into the cabin, occupied by the two dentists at the time.

Mulholland quickly shut the door, preferring to remain on the outside

Trail Juniors Ready for Puck League Opener

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 28—Trail junior hockey team is now practically lined up and stands ready to enter the West Kootenay Minor Hockey League against the Nelson juniors at the Trail rink Monday night.

The juniors spring a surprise in the fact that three Rossland boys—Jack Cox, and Jim and Ray Scott—will be in the lineup, as well as Ab Patrick, formerly of Calgary, who took a chance on coming to Trail as a self-appointed senior import, and slid under the 19-year-old ruling to make a berth with the young hopefuls.

As yet five goalies are fighting for this position, keen rivalry being shown between Don Twaddle, Mike Sammartino, Tony Merlo, Don McDonald and Dick Baril. Patrick, Cox, Garth Barnes, Gerald Burch and Joe Monaldi have been selected for defence. Forwards, in their practice lines, are Bill Dimock, Earl Dwyer and Jake McLeod; Ernie Defos, former Nelson junior, Brick Edmunds and Jack Harrison; Jim Scott, Jack Page and Ray Scott.

KOOTENAY LAKE'S 1941 FISHING CHAMP

Meet the champion of Kootenay Lake fishermen, Lorenzo Sammartino of Trail, with a fine catch, all Derby fish, he got in mid-October. There's the record-breaking trout, 26 pounds 4 ounces, the second from the right—"the poppa" as Mr. Sammartino calls it.

Feller Not in Line for Draft Deferment

CLEVELAND, Nov. 28 (AP)—Bob Feller's 1-A draft classification will not be reconsidered on the basis of his mother's recent letter to selective service officials concerning his parents' dependency on the Cleveland Indian pitcher's estimated $45,000-a-year income.

John E. Morley, chairman of Feller's local Draft Board, declared today "his mother's letter was not in the nature of a request for reopening of his case," and "until there is an actual request for reclassification and cause shown for deferment, Feller will remain in 1-A."

Trail Ends Scoring

Leafs continued to press in the third session and gained the lead with a clean-cut goal by Lunde who shot in the lower left corner of the net. Ten minutes later Trail ended the scoring as Duffy finished off a three-way passing play with Wade and Buckna.

Wade drew a 10-minute misconduct penalty during the period when he argued with the referee over a minor penalty given to Bobrosky.

In the overtime period both teams played ragged hockey and at no time did it look as though the 7-7 deadlock would be broken.

2800 Roar As Lethbridge and Trail Fight to 7-7 Overtime Hockey Draw

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Nov. 28 (CP).—While a crowd of 2800 fans roared approval at the high-scoring game, Trail Smoke Eaters bottled Lethbridge Maple Leafs to a 7-7 overtime draw here tonight as the British Columbia sextet opened a gruelling six-game series with Alberta members of the A.B.C. Senior Amateur Hockey League.

Smokies, who move into Calgary tomorrow night for the second stage of the series in which they play six road games in seven days, uncorked a five-goal attack to lead 5-1 in the first period, slipped into a 6-6 deadlock, and then stayed even at 7-7 in the third frame. Neither team scored in overtime.

Duffy, with three goals, set the scoring pace for Smoke Eaters with three goals, and Buckna getting two and Stanton and Cronie one each. Negrello and Maher each counted twice for Maple Leafs, Rimstad, McIndoe and Lunde adding the other goals.

Maple Leafs got away to a quick lead when they made the most of a scramble in front of the Trail goal, Rimstad poking the puck past Scodellaro on a short pass from Cully but the edge lasted for only 21 seconds.

TRAIL SHOTS AHEAD

Buckna started things moving when he raced in after the centre-line faceoff to accept a pass from Cronie and deadlock the score with a 20-foot shot that Young couldn't reach. Eleven minutes later Duffy took Buckna's pass to make the count 2-1 and Stanton, Cronie and Buckna rapped home speedy goals to put Lethbridge far behind as the period ended.

Kwong provided the pass for Stanton's goal, Cronie got through unassisted after picking up a loose puck in centre ice, and Buckna added the other tally at the end of a three-way passing play that saw the rubber go from Kwong to Cronie to Buckna before the latter beat Young.

The fans were amazed when Leafs roared back into life to tie the score in the second period while Smokie, apparently content with their big early lead, went on the defensive and found themselves unable to cover up sufficiently.

Maher netted the rubber for the Leafs after four minutes on a play with Slobodian. Playing-Manager "Moon" Mullen of Leafs drew a 10-minute misconduct penalty for arguing with the referee over an offside but his team went right on with its attack. Negrello scored on Lane's pass, Maher netted unassisted and Negrello scored again with Burke assisting all in the space of a minute. McIndoe shoved Leafs ahead when he drove home a pass from Cully but Duffy got the goal back with a solo effort while Lunde was serving a minor penalty half a minute before the period ended.

TRAIL ENDS SCORING

Leafs continued to press in the third session and gained the lead with a clean-cut goal by Lunde who shot in the lower left corner of the net. Ten minutes later Trail ended the scoring as Duffy finished off a three-way passing play with Wade and Buckna.

Wade drew a 10-minute misconduct penalty during the period when he argued with the referee over a minor penalty given to Bobrosky.

In the overtime period both teams played ragged hockey and at no time did it look as though the 7-7 deadlock would be broken.

Odds Shorten for Football Title Go

TORONTO, Nov. 29 (CP)—Two powerful football teams clash here tomorrow in the national final and the odds shortened tonight from the mid-week talk of 2-1 to 1 on Ottawa Rough Riders against Winnipeg Blue Bombers to the hard cash of even money.

With the forecast of fair and mild weather, there was every indication 20,000 fans would jam Varsity Stadium to watch renewal of the East-West classic being fought on what are probably the most even terms since it began 20 years ago.

Junior Squad Is Cut for Its Final Practice Tonight

The axe has fallen in the camp of the Nelson Spitfires, who will carry the banner of the Lakeside City in junior hockey this winter.

Coach Walter Wait has done most of his weeding out, and Friday night he named 15 players who will likely represent Nelson in the opening game of the West Kootenay junior-intermediate league in Trail Monday.

He will put his squad through its last practice at the Civic Arena from 8 to 9 o'clock tonight, and will make his final choice of goaltender and positions for the initial game.

There are three goaltenders still shooting for berths with the team, Earl Jorgensen, a holdover from last year, and Jim Heuston and Jim Ritchie, two fine prospects still eligible for juvenile hockey.

Likely to be successful for defence spots are Bud Emery, George Iosin, Joe Hilliard, Everett Kuhn and Stewart Peterson. The forwards are Doug Winlaw, Harold Tapanila, Wally Matheson, Art Matheson, Bud Smith, Frank Christian and Mickey Prestley.

Nelson High Sweeps Rousing Hoop Doubleheader From Rossland Teams

With the Nelson teams finding themselves after change of strings at the start of the second quarter, Nelson High School Bombers and Bomberettes swept a pair of thrillers from Rossland High School in a basketball doubleheader at the Nelson school's gym Friday night.

The Bomberettes, who defeated the Rosslanders earlier in the month, wound up in front by a 26-12 margin, and the Bombers evened the count with their opponents by nipping a Rossland rally just in time in the last quarter and going on to triumph 39-31.

The boys' game was the high light of the card. The visitors led 10-6 at the end of the first quarter, but they folded right up before a terrific assault by the Nelson second-stringers in the second quarter, in which the Bombers outscored their rivals 10-1.

By the start of the fourth quarter, the Rossland boys looked out of it, trailing 28-19. But a basket by Donaldson and three by Toplift, while Nelson replied with only a conversion by Smith of a free shot, left Rossland behind only 29-27. Then Yaakso fouled Toplift when he was about to shoot, but the referee awarded only one free shot, which was converted to cut the margin to one solitary point. Laakso promptly made up for that by dropping home a long shot, and the tension was off as Gagnon scored three baskets in a row and Laakso got another.

In the girls' game, Eileen Radich got a pair of baskets in the first quarter to put Rossland ahead 4-0, and Helen Purcello made it 6-0 early in the second. Then the Nelson girls, breaking fast to completely outplay their opponents, whipped in six baskets in succession to move into a 12-6 lead, and they were never in danger thereafter.

Red-headed Edna Peacock got two of the baskets in that spurge and had eight for the game to lead the scoring department.

TOPLIFF STARS

In the boys' Whiz Toplift was top scorer with 13 points for Rossland, while the scoring was much more evenly divided for the winning Nelson team. Louis Gagnon and Doug Winlaw got eight points each, and Roy Mann and Oliver Laakso six apiece.

Business manager Frank Patrick announced the trio, backbone of the Quebec Hockey League entry, would be in action with Canadiens against Boston Bruins here tomorrow night.

APRON IS INEXPENSIVE GIFT

Marian Martin

PATTERN 9909

Here's one gift idea that you will want to make for yourself, too! It's a clever, serviceable apron that can be finished quickly. Pattern 9909 by Marian Martin has a long narrow panel in front that has a decidedly slimming effect—it may be bias or straight. It has two different necklines—a deep rectangle or an oval, and the back bodice is cut all in one piece to keep this apron from slipping off the shoulders. The optional pockets are cute edged with ric-rac like the bodice, as shown in version A; or use the ric-rac as accents on the bodice and pockets, as shown in version B. A Sew Chart is included.

Pattern 9909 may be ordered only in sizes small (32-34), medium (36-38) and large (40-42). Small size, view A, requires 2 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric and 2 1/2 yards ric-rac; view B, 2 1/2 yards 35 inch fabric and 1/2 yard ric-rac. Send twenty cents for this Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, name, address and style number.

Send your order to The Daily News, Pattern Department, Nelson. Pattern will be sent to your home within 10 days.

Sikorski to Discuss Plans for Polish Army With Stalin

TEHERAN, Iran, Nov. 28 (AP)—Gen. Wladyslaw Sikorski, Premier and commander in chief of Poland, announcing that President Roosevelt had promised lease-lend help for a Polish army mobilized in Russia, left by Soviet plane today, en route to Moscow to complete arrangements with Stalin.

Sikorski told foreign correspondents that 50,000 British uniforms and firearms had been distributed to Polish soldiers in Russia, while another 50,000 had arrived at Archangel and 60,000 kits are on the way from United States.

He said he would "like to see Polish forces fighting in the front line as soon as possible" and described the outlook as good for "recreating a strong Polish army" from the 500,000 of his countrymen now in Russia.

COMBINING TWO PLAYS
SOME OF the prettiest plays in the game are those which combine a lead-throwing end-play with a squeeze. On a particular late trick, the unhappy choice is presented to a defender of picking one undesirable discard or another. If he selects one, he lets himself be squeezed into a situation in which a high card can be dropped by the declarer. If he tries the other, then he is thrown into the lead and must pitch back right into the jaws of a tenace.

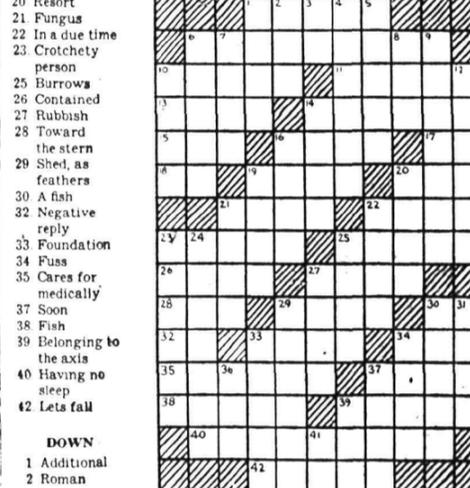

After West laid down his spade A, his spade 10 to the K gave the declarer all the help he needed. He did the rest himself by immediately cashing the heart A, Q and then the 8. On the last of these, West had to choose a discard from his diamond K-3, which would have caused the dropping of his K by the A, making the Q the game trick, or else a club from his A-9. He selected the club 9. Mr. Low then threw him into the lead with the club K to the A, and West had nothing left but to lead a diamond into the A-Q.

Your Week-End Lesson
Do you know the saying, oft-repeated among experts, that an ace is usually at the left of a king? Also that a king is usually to the left of a queen, a queen at the left of a jack, a jack at the left of a ten? That in each case a secondary honor is more likely to be where it can be "killed off" by the next higher honor than it is to be in the reverse position? Do you consider this mere superstition? If not, what is the cause of it? Does it apply equally to rubber and duplicate? If not, why not?

Last Italian Stronghold in Ethiopia Surrenders

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, Nov. 28 (CP).—Gondar, mountainous stronghold and last bastion of Mussolini's East African empire, surrendered last night after a hard-driven, two-day attack, British East African Headquarters said today.

The announcement gave no details on the number of prisoners taken by the attacking Empire forces of Highland troops, Indians, Sudanese and South and West African units.

Military observers said, however, the Gondar Garrison was believed to exceed 10,000 men—at least half of them Italians.

The announcement said the final assault on the hold-out stronghold in Northeastern Ethiopia was made principally by East African troops who thus had "the honor of finally overthrowing Mussolini's East African empire."

"The attack began at dawn on both flanks and was pressed home with great determination by all available forces," the communique said. "The battle took place in high mountainous country every favorable to defence and averaging 7000 feet above sea level.

"By 1:30 a.m. the enemy lines had been pierced on both flanks. Our troops fought magnificently. By mid-day the whole of the enemy Southern flank was turned and our attack was passing around to his rear."

New Order Prevents Raise in Official Salaries Above Rate Paid on Nov. 6

OTTAWA, Nov. 28 (CP).—Finance Minister Isley announced today the Canadian Government has approved a wartime salaries order providing that no employer shall increase the rate of salary paid to an official above the most recent rate established and payable on or before Nov. 6.

Mr. Isley said salaries were defined to include bonuses and all other forms of income received from the employer.

The wartime salaries order will stabilize managerial, executive and other salaries, clarifying the more general requirements of the wartime wages and cost of living bonus order in their application to salaried officials, the Minister said.

The order applies to all employees above the rank of foreman or comparable ranks. It does not require the payment of a cost of living bonus, such as it required for wage earners, and merely permits the payment of such bonuses to employees receiving less than $3000 a year.

"It should be noted that the provisions of this order will require an adjustment and probably a cancellation of any increases in salaries which have gone into effect since Nov. 6, the Minister said.

Special provisions are made for dealing with the promotions of salaried officials, and such promotions must ultimately obtain the approval of the Minister of National Revenue, the statement said.

For promotions where the total salary rate after the promotion is $75000 a year or more, approval must be obtained before any increase can be put into effect.

Skiers Organize for Holding of Championships

A joint meeting of the executives of the Trail and Rossland Ski Clubs has been held in Trail to organize the Kootenay Ski Zone Tournament Committee, headed by H. S. (Pete) Fowler.

Fowler is the President of the Kootenay Ski Zone, and will be in charge of the 1942 Kootenay ski championships, assisted by Dorothy Graham and Velma Trembath as secretaries.

Three other members of the committee, Richard Gore, Art Morris and Harold Knight are chairmen of sub-committees of competitors, hills and runs, and publicity respectively.

Considerable interest and enthusiasm was shown by both clubs, which will sponsor the tournament this winter. They have selected a tentative date late in February.

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 27—Giving a comparison of civic finances from the time he took office in 1909 up to 1940, W. E. B. Monypenny, Trail City Clerk, Thursday night presented the following figures to the Trail Junior Chamber of Commerce:

|-------------------|-----------|-------------|
| Assessments | $431,118 | $6,436,925 |
| Cash receipts | 14,625 | 334,426 |

| Trades licences | 600 | 11,583 |
| Road taxes | 728 | 3,388 |

Three-Way Tie Now in Bowling

In a closely-contested match, Interior Truck Lines took two points, Dodge one point and the teams tied for the fourth point in their match in the second half of the Fleury Trophy tournament at Gellinas Aileys Friday night.

The Tru-Trucks, who won the first half and who are seeking to clinch the Trophy by winning this half too, took the first game by 10 pins. Then the next game was tied, and the Dodge bowlers got the third game by five pins. So the Tru-Trucks also had most pins for the match, by a margin of five.

Not taking the tie game into account, no disposition having as yet been made about that point, Dodge, Tru-Trucks and the Daily News are tied for first place with nine points each, Wolves and Millionaires come next with seven, and Cherry Pickers are sixth with six points.

Johnny Aurelio of Dodge had a great night, with an aggregate of 594, bowling consistent scores of 202, 194 and 198.

Trail Chamber Cancels Charity Play Under Act

TRAIL, B.C., Nov. 28 — Due to amendments to the National War Charities Act stipulating that the cost of all productions used to raise funds for war purposes must not exceed 25 per cent of the receipts, the Trail Junior Chamber of Commerce has been forced to cancel plans for a play, "The Clutching Claw," to have been presented by the Nelson Little Theatre Group, as a means of raising funds for Christmas cheer for Trail men serving overseas.

This was announced at the Chamber's meeting by President Thomas Armstrong, Thursday night.

Addressing H. J. Palmer, Chairman of the School Board, who was one of the guests present at the "civic night," Mr. Armstrong stated that he felt the charge of $40 per night for the three nights, fixed by the School Board as rental of the High School Auditorium, was very reasonable, but that, owing to other costs, the possibility of realizing 75 per cent of the proceeds for war charity would be out of the question.

"That is the first time I have been told we were reasonable. I have been told by people many times that our price for the auditorium was reasonable except to themselves," commented Mr. Palmer.

Mr. Armstrong stated that the Junior Chamber hoped to sponsor the production under its own name in the Spring. He also expressed appreciation of the consideration of the Nelson play group who had charged only $9 as compensation for having bought the play and gone through several rehearsals, with 20 members on the cast, before being notified that the production was cancelled.
