Canada-U.S. Defence Board Is Announced

Lawyer, Senior Officers, Counsellor Form Canadian Representation; Mayor LaGuardia of New York Tops U. S. List

OTTAWA, Aug. 22 (CP). — A constitutional lawyer, a senior officer from each of the three defence services and a counsellor of external affairs constitute Canada's representation on the joint Board of Defence for Canada and the United States, personnel of which was announced tonight.

The announcement was made simultaneously in Ottawa by Prime Minister Mackenzie King and in Washington by President Roosevelt. The decision to set up the Board was reached at a conference between the Prime Minister and the President at Ogdensburg, N.Y., last Saturday and Sunday. The Board will hold its first meeting in Ottawa, Aug. 26.

The Canadian appointees are:

O. M. Biggar, K. C., Ottawa; Brig. Kenneth Stuart, D. S. O., M. C., Deputy Chief of the General Staff; Capt. L. W. Murray, R. C. N., Deputy Chief of the Naval Staff; Air Commodore A. A. L. Cuffe, R.C.A.F. Air Member, Air Staff; Secretary; H. L. Keenleyside, Counsellor, Department of External Affairs.

Alternates to take the place of or to assist the three service members if the Canadian panel will be selected later.

This list of United States appointments follows:

Fiorello H. LaGuardia, Mayor of New York, President, Council of Mayors; Lieut. General Embick, U. S. Army, Commander of the Atlantic Division; Capt. Harry W. Hill, U. S. N., war plan division-operations.

Alternates: Commander F. P. Sherman, U. S. N., and Lt. Col. MacNarney, U. S. Army; Secretary: John D. Hickerson, Assistant Chief of the European Division of the State Department.

The Prime Minister told a press conference Tuesday the function of the joint board would be to study and develop plans to protect North America from attack.

General satisfaction was expressed here that the Mayor of New York tops the list of United States appointments. An aggressive outspoken man he made a deep impression in Government circles on his visit to Ottawa in June when he addressed a meeting of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities.

In Washington, President Roosevelt discussed with high officials Britain's proposal to lease naval and air bases in the Western hemisphere to the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt called in the Naval and War Secretaries, Col. Frank Knox and Henry L. Stimson, Sumner Welles, Under-Secretary of State, and Attorney General Robert Jackson for a conference on Britain's offer to lease Western hemisphere territory desired for naval and air bases.

Prior to the conference, it had been understood that plans for accepting the proposal were about complete. In fact, Stephen Early, White House press secretary told newsmen Mr. Roosevelt hoped to have an announcement after the meeting.

When the conferees left the White House, however, Early said merely there was "nothing new" on the proposal. Later in the day, Mr. Roosevelt conferred for two hours with the National Defence Commission.

Mobile Division at Libyan Border as R.A.F. Strikes

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 22 (CP).—Neutral but invasion-conscious Egypt shifted a mobile division today to Italy's Libyan frontier, where the Royal Air Force reported striking Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's Western desert offensive preparations another heavy blow by bombing and firing Italian supply bases, airdromes and aircraft.

The Government had made it clear Egypt will not strike first, despite demands of some influential political leaders for immediate entrance into the war on Britain's side.

"We will not attack," said War Minister Keissy Pasha, "but if we are attacked we will fight alongside our Ally, Britain, for the protection of our country."

British authorities were delighted by the "continual headache" their fliers were giving Marshal Graziani by their almost daily attacks on his Libyan bases which force him to keep shifting his troops and supply depots.

Naval oil tanks were set blazing at Tobruk, principal sea base some 70 miles West of the Egyptian frontier, a communique said. A seaplane jetty was smashed at nearby Bomba. Three planes were reported badly damaged at the desert base of Eltmimi, and landing fields at Tobruk and El Aden were pitted.

Wardens Patrol Coast of Greece

ATHENS, Aug. 22 (AP).—Air Raid Wardens patrolled the Greek coast tonight as the Government officially termed Italian charges of terrorism along the Albanian frontier "a fantastic invention."

Greek newspapers tomorrow, for the first time, will carry full statements of recent Italian Press attacks against Greece — coupled with sweeping Greek denials.

Greece's annual production of chrome ore, important in the manufacture of gun barrels and other war goods, is reported to be a new issue in her relations with the Axis powers. A trade delegation left today for Berlin.

Neutral observers predicted that Germany would try to divert Greece's yearly output of more than 60,000 tons of the ore from Britain to Germany.

Although Britain herself was overstocked with chrome ore, at the start of the war she bought the entire Greek supply as part of the economic blockade against the Reich.

ACTOR ORDERED NOT TO DRINK BY JUDGE

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Aug. 22 (AP).—Dick Foran, motion picture actor, was ordered by Justice of the Peace Cecil D. Holland today not to take "even one drink" of liquor for the next two years, on pain of serving 30 days in jail.

Foran was given the suspended sentence and fined $100 after his conviction on a charge of disturbing the peace outside a cafe.

71 YEARS YOUNG

F. E. Archer, Kaslo's mayor, celebrated his 71st birthday Wednesday. A Kaslo admirer describes him as the "youngest and most active man in Kaslo."

WIFE OF MAYOR HOUDE HAS SERIOUS OPERATION

MONTREAL, Aug. 22 (CP) — Officials of St. Luc Hospital said Mme. Camillien Houde had undergone a "serious" operation today, after authorization had been received from her husband, Mayor Houde of Montreal, who is in an internment camp somewhere in Ontario. Mme. Houde was "doing very well."

GOES BACK TO SLEEP AS BOMB FALLS NEAR

ABERYSTWYTH, Wales, Aug. 22 (CP)—A bomb fell 100 yards from the home of an 80-year-old farmer in this North Wales district. The farmer drawled a laconic "no" when asked if he was frightened. "What did you do?" an air raid warden asked him. "I turned my back to the wall and went to sleep again," was the reply.

BURNS PUSHES EFFORTS FOR N. P. A. M. UNITS IN KOOTENAY

TRAIL, B. C., Aug. 22—Efforts of R. R. Burns, M. P. P. for Rossland-Trail, to bring about the reestablishment of NPAM units in Kootenay, so that local men may take their period of training in them instead of having to go to camp are covered in correspondence between Mr. Burns and Ottawa and the D. O. C. at Victoria.

In error, Mr. Burns was quoted in yesterday's Nelson Daily News as having stated that the Minister of National Defence had stated that units of the Rocky Mountain Rangers were to be established in Kootenay. This was incorrect. Mr. Burns quoted a reference from the Minister to renewal of recruiting for the 108th Battery at Kimberley, the 109th at Trail and the 111th at Nelson.

Mr. Burns took up the matter on July 13 in a letter to Ottawa. He pointed out that many men wished to enlist in the NPAM for training, and he suggested that the old 54th be revived.

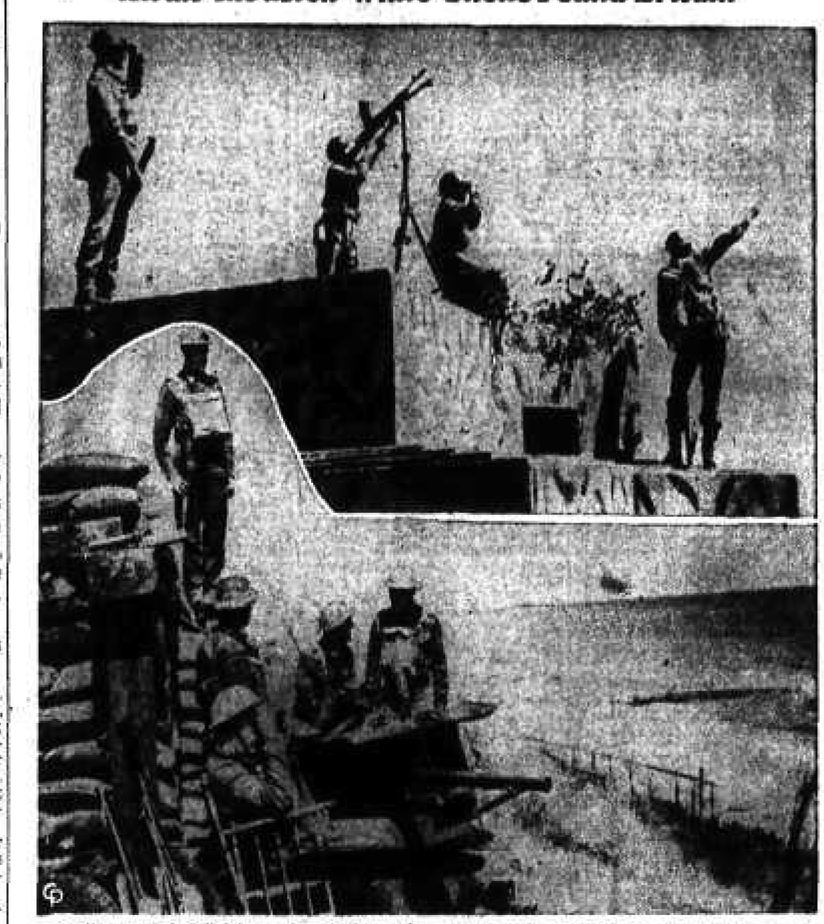
In reply to this he received from Hon. Ian Mackenzie a copy of a letter of July 30 from Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence. The Minister said that it was not the intention to expand the number of NPAM infantry battalions beyond the present structure, but that NPAM "counterparts of the CASF units have been authorized and this would apply to the 109th Field Battery at Trail, the 108th Field Battery at Kimberley and the 111th Field Battery at Nelson." These new units, said the Minister, would be organized as soon as commanding officers and other officers are selected to carry out the organization and recruiting. "This will probably afford the required outlet for training, mentioned in Mr. Burns' letter," said Mr. Ralston.

The Minister suggested that for detailed information as to recruiting facilities in the district he might communicate with Brig. Stockwell, D.O.C., at Victoria.

Mr. Burns took up the matter of the reestablishment of the Battery units with Brig. Stockwell and under date of August 12 received the statement: "I regret that, as at present there is no artillery equipment of any sort available, there is no object in forming a NPAM artillery unit in Trail, or any part of the Kootenays. If and when equipment becomes available the matter will be considered."

Mr. Burns is pursuing the matter. He has written again to Hon. Ian Mackenzie, pointing out the difficulties which will exist if men who are liable for training are unable in this part of British Columbia to take their training at nearby centres in spare time and therefore have to go away for training in camps.

Await Invasion While Shells Pound Britain



Shells pounded Britain's coast yesterday and these Bren machine-gun and anti-tank gun crews on the coast sprang to the alert just in case the Nazis had ideas about crossing the Channel.

Sirens, Bombs Rouse London

First Night Air Raid; Bombs Fall on West Outskirts of City; Searchlights Play, Guns Boom in Early Hours

By DOUGLAS AMARON—Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 23 (Friday) (CP Cable)—The wail of air raid sirens, the deep thud of falling bombs and the sharp staccato of anti-aircraft fire wakened the London area from its sleep early today. It was the first night raid of the war for this heart of the Empire.

The sound of high flying planes in the distance was the first indication of the approach of enemy aircraft.

With all lights doused I watched a dozen or more searchlights feeling about in the moonlit sky and finally converging on what appeared to be moving specks.

The lights followed the specks across the silhouetted skyline of the city. Two deep thuds far in the distance told of falling bombs.

Then came more deep booms like a dynamite explosion in a rock pit, followed almost at once by the heavy rattle of anti-aircraft fire and British "orange balls" bursting high in the sky.

It lasted only a few minutes. The lights died down, one by one and all was quiet for the balance of the raid save for the banging of doors and the subdued talk of some Londoners in a nearby house going to their shelter.

The night was crisp and the folks were well bundled in clothes. Some had bedclothes wound around them.

They didn't take long to return when they heard the all-clear signal sounded at 4 a.m.

Although there was no precise count of casualties so soon after the Germans swept in, it was learned one or two of those wounded had died.

Most of the bombs appeared to have fallen on the Western outskirts of the city but there were explosions which seemed to come from London's populous and fashionable West End.

Londoners did not classify the raid as the "real thing." They called it a hit-and-run affair.

The dull red flashes of anti-aircraft fire split the darkness.

A little later anti-aircraft gunfire could be heard by people in the heart of London. At that time many of the residents in the Central section crowded into air raid shelters.

A kind of "scream bomb" fell in the country West of London but no explosions were heard.

Later three bombs fell with loud explosions.

Over London, one plane caught in the beams of anti-aircraft searchlights was almost immediately ringed with bursts of red flame from anti-aircraft shells.

Two other planes roared nearby. The guns flashed a continued roar while the sirens sounded. From every side long white streaks of light traced the sky.

Power Inspects Sydney Defences

HALIFAX, Aug. 22 (CP)—Associate Defence Minister C. G. Power was back in Halifax tonight to continue his inspection of Canada's new Eastern command, after flying from Newfoundland via Sydney, N.S., during the day.

The group inspected the seaplane base at North Sydney and the Sydney airport today continuing their tour of the Eastern command. Tomorrow they are expected to fly to Prince Edward Island.

Other points in the command are to be visited on the tour, and the Minister will inspect army, navy and air force units before he returns to Ottawa over the weekend. So far, his inspection has been confined almost wholly to air activities.

Late Flashes

LONDON, Aug. 23 (Friday). (CP)—A direct hit demolished an empty motion picture theatre and an adjoining hall in a London area in this morning's German air raid.

A saloon and a number of dwellings were damaged badly, and flying glass caused a few casualties.

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP).—Indications that Germany was using French planes in raids over England were seen tonight in the statement of experts that a raider shot down yesterday was of French origin.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Rome radio claimed tonight that German long-range guns such as those used to shell the English Channel and Channel shore today would be placed all along the French Atlantic coast.

11 DIE IN AIR CRASH

BERLIN, Aug. 22 (AP via Radio)—Eleven persons in a commercial plane between Zagreb and Spalato were killed in a crash in the Karst Mountains today, reports from Belgrade, Yugoslavia, said.

NAZI BOASTS GUNS TO CONTROL CHANNEL

BERLIN, Aug. 22 (CP) — The Nazi news and propaganda commentary, Dienst Aus Deutschland claimed today that "range-finding and practice shelling" indicated that battery positions have been completed along the coast of France for cross-channel shelling of Britain.

"Germany now has a weapon to control the channel," the commentary boasted.

War Veteran Hero of Nazi Capture

MONTREAL, Aug. 22 (CP).—A 56-year-old veteran of the South African and First Great Wars frowned tonight at the idea that he should get any special credit for the capture of Guenther Lorentz, Nazi prisoner who tunnelled his way out of a Northern Ontario internment camp. (Also see "Nazi", Page 7).

The veteran, A. W. Drum, Supervisor of the Veterans' Guard detail at Victoria Bridge where Guenther was detained last night, was the man who became suspicious of the hatless German fugitive and held him for Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Wearing a dark-gray suit, and carrying chocolate and road maps wrapped in a newspaper, the escaped prisoner reached Victoria Bridge, stretching from Montreal Island to the Southern mainland, some time before sundown.

He looked weary and unwashed but it was the bundle which attracted first attention. Supervisor Drum stepped into his path to ask about the contents of the bundle.

Guenther held it out as he was asked who he was and where he was from.

The Nazi, a naval lieutenant, gave his name as Harm Nielsen and an address in Oslo, the Norwegian capital. He said he had been in Canada only a short while.

His guttural accent, though his English was perfect otherwise, betrayed him.

"Anonymous" Gift Lifts Bomber Fund to Total of $1200

Nelson District Bomber Fund Thursday reached the $1200 mark with a $50 contribution from "Anonymous," the twenty-fourth gift since the fund opened in mid-July. The contributor was a lady who did not wish her identity disclosed in print.

Objective of the fund is $2500 and when this is reached a meeting of the contributors will be held to decide upon the war equipment to be purchased with the money, held in trust by The Daily News.

PILOT DOWNED, BUT IN TIME FOR LUNCH

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP) — "Where am I?" asked a British pilot when he made a forced landing in his bullet-riddled plane after an air battle off the South coast. Members of the Home Guard who ran to his aid told him the name of a village close by. "Oh, I've got an uncle living there," said the pilot. "I'll drop in to lunch." He did.

Savage Bombings Follow Shelling of British Coast

Great Red Glow Seen Across Channel; Some Casualties, Buildings Hit in Britain by Shells; Channel Convoy Escapes

R. A. F. STRIKES DEEP INTO GERMANY

By J. F. SANDERSON—Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP Cable). — Heavy bombs of the Royal Air Force were believed to have blasted Germany's "Little Berthas" on the French coast tonight while the guns were shelling the Southeast coast following an unsuccessful barrage on a convoy in the Straits of Dover during the day.

The guns resumed their shelling of the Dover area after being silenced for half an hour and sent five shells over the English Channel in half as many minutes.

But the R.A.F. roared to the attack again, and the guns stopped. Only the bark of anti-aircraft could be heard.

German planes also were over the British coast and some onlookers in the Dover area mistook anti-aircraft fire for a counter bombardment by Britain's big coastal guns.

The British bombers struck savagely near Calais after the first shellfire which lasted about 45 minutes. The detonation of heavy bombing could be heard miles inland in England.

Observers on the English coast saw numerous flares and a great red glow in the sky across the Channel. Tracer shells cut through the darkness and searchlights played across the skyline.

Anti-aircraft guns flashing all along the French coast from Calais to Boulogne indicated that big formations of British bombers were overhead.

The bombers apparently redoubled their attack when the second period of shellfire began, because the guns ceased abruptly. More searchlights groped through the sky and the burst of bombs was heard more frequently.

Vivid spouts of flames mounting high in the air showed how heavily Calais was being bombed. Calais is the closest French point to Dover.

There were some casualties from the shelling—none knew just how many. Several buildings were hit, including a church and its vicarage, from which the rector was brought out on a stretcher.

For 80 minutes at noon the big guns fired at the convoy in the Straits of Dover at a 20-mile range but no merchant or naval ship was damaged. Warships darted among the cargo boats, throwing protective screens of smoke around them.

German planes later attacked the convoy but were driven off by gunfire from the ships and fighter planes that swept to the rescue. One German machine was shot down by a fighter.

German air raids over this country were few in number during the day, generally by single planes, but tonight a raiding party of about 90 crossed the Southeast coast in the early dusk.

The main body was turned back by hot anti-aircraft fire and it was reported at least three raiders were brought down in an air battle over a Southeast coast town.

PLANE TOLL 1002

Throughout the day seven Nazi planes were downed, it was announced officially, bringing the total since June 18 to 1002. Two R.A.F. fighters were lost and the pilot of one was saved.

All German radio stations went silent at 10 p.m. tonight (1 p.m. PST), indicating R.A.F. fliers were over the Reich. The Air Ministry announced that in raids Wednesday night R.A.F. bombers struck heavily far into German territory with the thunderous kind of attacks which have been going on night after night.

Oil refineries at Magdeburg and Hanover, German airdromes at Caen and Abbeville in Northern France, and railway centres in the Ruhr and the Rhineland were bombed. Bombs fell on a tunnel before Heinburg and Verben, Northwest of Hanover, just as a supply train entered. The train did not emerge.

Over Germany the bomber pilots battled thick clouds and layers of cold air that frosted their instruments. One plane collected two inches of snow in the cockpit.

By waiting patiently for cloud gaps through which they could glimpse German refineries, many pilots were able to drop bombs but it was difficult to determine the results as the gaps closed and concealed the bursts.

Master Mind Is Believed Behind Trotsky's Death

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 22 (CP).—Mexican authorities, declaring they believed an "international master mind" was behind the assassination of Leon Trotsky, disclosed tonight the confessed assassin, Frank Jackson, recently entered Mexico posing as a Canadian.

The authorities said that despite several versions of Jackson's nationality, he had United States citizenship papers when he visited Mexico in 1938 and 1939 although he subsequently entered as a Canadian.

Police maintained constant guard tonight over both Jackson and his Brooklyn, N. Y., friend, Sylvia Ageloff.

They held both incommunicado, but permitted Arthur P. Shaw, the United States Consul, to interview the girl. Shaw said he found her hysterical.

Associates of Trotsky said they believed Miss Ageloff was an "innocent tool" of Jackson, but Col. Leandro Sanchez Salazar, Chief of Secret Service, said his investigation of the young woman was incomplete. The girl, who introduced Jackson to Trotsky, insists she had no knowledge that Jackson planned to kill him or that she knew he was a Soviet agent.

Ten police were guarding Jackson in the police hospital where Trotsky died, to prevent either an attempt on his life or a suicide.

Miss Ageloff, arrested when she arrived at Trotsky's home soon after Jackson had attacked the old Bolshevist with a pick-axe Tuesday, was likewise guarded, sometimes in the hospital; sometimes in her hotel.

Albert Goldman, Trotsky's United States attorney, arrived by plane this afternoon and went into conference with Mrs. Trotsky on funeral plans while hundreds filed past the coffin, lying in a private funeral chapel.

BRAIN OF TROTSKY IS ONE OF LARGEST

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 22 (AP).—The brain of Leon Trotsky, slain co-genius of the Russian Revolution, weighed three and a half pounds—one of the largest in the experience of Mexican medical authorities.

This was reported today by police physicians who performed an autopsy.

The brain was not replaced. Police said it either would be returned to Trotsky's family or preserved in a museum here.

Fighters Are 'Holding All Fires'; Rain Reported Beaverdell, Nakusp

Rain was reported at the Goat Mountain lookout near Beaverdell and in the Nakusp district Thursday to help ease the forest fire situation, and while no more than a few drops fell in the immediate district, including Nelson, forest officials said that they were "holding all fires."

Reports of five new fires were received during the day, but none of them was serious. There is one in the Creston district near the Thompson Mountain lookout, and another on McFarlane Creek South of Gray Creek. There are crews of about 20 men at each fire.

A small crew was sent to a fire breaking out near the No. 1 mine at Ainsworth. High up on Hamill Creek in the Lardeau a fire was reported, but it is not regarded as serious. There was a report of one on Coffee Creek, and two men were sent out to investigate, but up until Thursday evening no statement was available.

A big blaze, breaking out Wednesday near the Reno Mine on Fawn Creek that empties into Sheep Creek was under control Thursday and men will be taken off today. Yesterday there were as many as 150 men fighting the fire.

Men are also being laid off from the big fire at Burn's Meadows South of Nelson which is well under control.

Personalities on Defence Board

OTTAWA, Aug. 22 (CP).—Personalities of Canada's members of the Canadian-United States Defence Board: (See "Canada" on page one for story).

Oliver Mowatt Biggar, aged 64, Ottawa, has had a many-sided experience in military, legal and international affairs. Early in the first Great War he was appointed Judge Advocate General of the Department of Military and Defence. As then Prime Minister, Sir Robert Borden, placed great confidence in this young lawyer and when he went to France to take part in the negotiations which led to the Treaty of Versailles, he took Col. Biggar with him.

During the peace talks Col. Biggar was British Secretary of the Commission on fixing the responsibility for the war. Sir Robert in his memoirs frequently praised the advice and assistance Col Biggar was able to give him.

After the war, in addition to his duties as Chief Electoral Officer to which he had been appointed, Col. Biggar was Vice-Chairman of the Air Board which supervised both civil and military aviation. He remained Chief Electoral Officer until 1927 when he retired to take up law practice in Ottawa.

He is regarded as one of the greatest constitutional lawyers in Canada and on occasions had been engaged by the Senate to assist it in investigations of Canadian problems.

He represented the Alberta Government in its recent appeals to the Supreme Court in Canada and before the Privy Council. He is a grandson of Sir Oliver Mowatt, Premier of Ontario from 1873 to 1896. He was born in Toronto.

Brig. Stuart brings to the Joint Defence Board 29 years of varied experience in Canada's army. On graduation from the Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont., he was commissioned in the Royal Canadian Engineers in June, 1911. From that point he moved steadily forward, reaching the important post of Deputy Chief of the General Staff of the Canadian army in the shakeup of the High Command early last July.

Brig. Stuart, who comes from a long line of army men, was born at Taree Rivers, Que., son of an Anglican clergyman. After being commissioned in 1911, he studied for two years at the School of Military Engineering, Chatham, England and then served nine months with the British First Division at Aldershot.

In the last war, he proceeded Overseas in command of the 1st Army Troop Company, Canadian Engineers, then commanded the 7th Field Company, R.C.E., and finally the 7th Battalion, R.C.E.-returning from France with a D.S.O., M.C., and two mentions in despatches.

Back in Canada he was stationed at Winnipeg, Calgary and Quebec until 1923, when he went to the Staff College, Camberly, England. On his return he was stationed at Victoria as District Engineering Officer, coming to Ottawa as Assistant Director of Military Intelligence in 1929.

In 1933 he was appointed second in command of Royal Military College, which he held for five years. Then he was brought back to the General Staff at Defence Headquarters in Ottawa as Director of Military Operations and Intelligence, which he held until last October 15 when he became commandant of Royal Military College. Last July 6 he was appointed Deputy Chief of the General Staff.

As with the army, the navy's representative on the board is the Deputy Chief of Staff, Capt. Murray, whose regular duties include direction of operations. Capt. Murray has spent a lifetime by or on the sea. He was born at Granton, N.S., in 1896, started to Royal Naval College of Canada at Halifax in 1911 and since then has ranged over most of the globe with the Canadian or British navies.

Capt. Murray served for almost three years in the British fleet during the last war. After the war he was with the West Indies squadron and then navigator for the leader of the submarine flotilla at Portsmouth. He took a course at the navigation school and returned to the Canadian navy. When that service was reduced in 1922, he returned to the Royal Navy as an assistant navigation officer of the flagship of the first battle squadron which stood off Constantinople.

The next post was assistant to the master of the fleet, involving manoeuvrings, staff work in harbor and at sea. After a further course at the navigation school, he returned again to Canada to become second in command at Halifax, then back to England for two more years as Navigation Officer of H.M.S. Tiger, a battle cruiser used for experimental purposes.

In sequence came a session at the Royal Naval staff College, Greenwich, senior naval officer at Esquimalt, naval staff officer Canadian destroyer Saguenay and, in 1934, commander of Canada's main fleet, four destroyers in the West Indies.

Then he was commander at Halifax, including dock yards, and two years later went to England again to join the operations division of the Admiralty. In 1937 he was second in command of the Iron Duke. His training was rounded out at Imperial Defence College in 1938, when Staff Officers of all the services organized combined operations in case of war. He took up his post as Deputy Chief of Staff early in 1939.

Air Commodore A. A. L. Cuffe, known to his comrades as "Pat", is the officer in the air force responsible for the air defence operations of both the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts and, therefore, became a more or less obvious choice to represent the air service on the defence board.

A flier of distinction in the first Great War, Air Commodore Cuffe has been with the Royal Canadian Air Force ever since. He took a staff course at Andover, Eng., and became Officer Commanding the R.C.A.F. at Trenton, Ont. Later he was Commander of Air Training Command in Toronto.

When Air Commodore W. R. Kenny was appointed to Washington as air attache at the Canadian Legation last Winter, Air Commodore Cuffe was moved to Ottawa to succeed him as the Air Staff representative on the Air Council. In this position he directs the operations on the two coasts.

Shortly after the war started, Cuffe with other air officers, was sent to the United Kingdom to make a three-months' study of air training and defence.

Dr. H. L. Keenleyside, who will be Canadian Secretary of the Board, is Counsellor of the External Affairs Department and head of the United States and Far East branch. He came to the department from the University of British Columbia where he was lecturer. Previously he had been lecturing in different United States universities for three years.

He first became secretary at the Canadian Legation in Japan and in 1936 was moved to Ottawa as First Secretary. This year he was promoted to Counsellor.

He played an important part in arranging the Royal Tour last year when he was Secretary of the Inter-Departmental Committee and was on the Royal train throughout the tour.

In 1938 he was Chairman of the Board of Review which investigated charges of illegal entry of Orientals into British Columbia.

Urges Confidence in U.S. President

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP). — William Allen White, Chairman of the Committee to defend America by aiding the Allies and a frequent Republican critic of the Roosevelt administration, appealed tonight for "the patient confidence of a united people" for President Roosevelt.

"He has earned it," said White in a broadcast. "I, as a partisan Republican who has opposed him for eight years, want to pause to pay tribute to the President of the United States.

"From the beginning of this war against Democracy he has known that our first line trench lay across the Rhine. His vision, more than that of any other ruler of the world, has seen from the start the meaning of this ancient conflict.

"We may agree or disagree with him on domestic policies; but I think no American statesman of the first order has risen to deny that his leadership in foreign affairs has pointed the only direction of safety for the American people."

White also approved the foreign policies expressed by Wendell Willkie, Republican Presidential candidate.

"Mr. Willkie's acceptance speech revealed his anxiety for British victory. This is a national cause. It calls for national unity."

Greece Charged With Distribution of Arms

ROME, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Albanian newspaper Tomori contributed another allegation today to the Italian Press campaign against Greece, charging that Greeks in the Clamuria and Pinto regions had "intensified distribution of arms."

Stefani, Italian news and propaganda agency, quoted Tomori as saying Greek authorities are working actively in formation of large bands of "revolutionaries."

These charges are typical of the anti-Greek campaign kept alive for 11 days since Greeks were accused of beheading a so-called Albanian patriot, Daut Hoggia. Greek sources said he was killed by Albanians.

BLOOD SERUM SUCCESS

TORONTO, Aug. 22 (CP)—Concentrated blood serum, formed from blood donated by Toronto residents, was used with "remarkable success" in the treatment of British soldiers wounded in the evacuation of Dunkerque, according to word received here by Dr. C. H. Best of the University of Toronto.

HERMIT JAILED ON MURDER CHARGE

DETROIT, Aug. 22 (AP)—John Madju, 50-year-old "hermit of Humbug Island," was jailed on a murder charge today, accused of fatally shooting a boy who swam to his tiny Detroit River island to play.

100,000 to Have Touch of Army Life by October

OTTAWA, Aug. 22 (CP)—More than 100,000 young Canadians by October will have a touch of army life under canvas. These are the boys of the Non-Permanent Active Militia of whom 21,500 are at the moment encamped for two weeks.

Most of them are at the big camps in Central Canada, 5500 at Farnham, Que., 5300 at Niagara, Ont., and 3500 at Petawawa, West of Ottawa. At Sarcee, near Calgary, is another crowd, 2300 strong.

Attendance at camps is staggered to suit industry and agriculture. Some units go in two batches, for example, in the wheat country, and when the fruit harvest is on in British Columbia, arrangements are made so that bringing in the crops will not be interfered with. Arrangements are also made with industrial firms so employees will not be absent in camp at the same time.

Special camp schools are operated for the qualification of officers, sergeants and specialists such as instructors. These are usually held at regular camp sites and last from about 10 days to a month. From 10 to 200 students, officers taking examinations, and others my attend them.

This Summer is different from the last for 65,000 young men. At the outbreak of the war there were only about 35,000 non-permanent militia men in the Dominion and numbers of them didn't get to camp. This year the estimate of total N.P.A.M. strength is 100,700.

Location of Western Canada camps, period of training and units include:

Military District No. 11 (British Columbia)

Heal's Range, sometime in September; 3rd Bn. Canadian Scottish Regiment; Irish Fusiliers (Vancouver Regiment); Blair Range, sometime in September; Vancouver New Westminster Regiment; Nanaimo, sometime in September; all other Coast units (artillery etc.); Vernon (sometime in September); B. C. Dragoons; Rocky Mountain Rangers.

Mobilization Is Pushed by House

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP). — The House of Representatives pushed the National Guard Mobilization Bill to the verge of final congressional approval today and then, quickly, voted to empower President Roosevelt to seize for United States use machine tools and other war supplies sold, but not yet delivered, to foreign nations.

There was no expectation the latter measure, if finally passed, would interfere with the flow of planes, munitions and other supplies to Great Britain.

The action on the guard measure — empowering the President to call out 242,000 militiamen and 166,000 army reserves for a year's training — consisted of a routine vote approving the measure as revised to bring the differing bills originally passed by Senate will send the legislation to the White House for the President's signature.

CARDINAL DIES

MADRID, Aug. 22 (AP)—Isidoro Cardinal Goma y Tomas, Primate of Spain, died just before midnight tonight after an illness of several months.

Isidoro Cardinal Goma y Tomas was one of the staunchest defenders of the Catholic Church in Spain in the Civil War period.

His efforts won commendation of North American Catholic leaders who in May, 1939, just before Gen. Franco's triumphant entry into Madrid, sent him congratulations for leading the church to a "glorious victory over evil forces, modern Atheism, Communism, Anarchy and Paganism."

During the Civil War he was the Vatican's provisional, semi-official representative to the Franco regime at Burgos. Following the death of Eustachio Cardinal Ilundain y Esteban in 1937 he was the only Cardinal resident in war-time Spain.

Major Weaknesses in U. S. Defences Are Shown by War Games

CANTON, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP). — Conceding the United States' war manoeuvres in Northern New York demonstrated "vital major weaknesses," Lieut.-Gen. Hugh A. Drum, first army commander, demanded tonight that "all citizens be called to serve with us in preparing for the threatened crisis."

Delivering his critique of the three-week war games which ended yesterday, the commander maintained the United States is "wasting time" with discussion of the volunteer versus the conscription system.

He cited weapon and equipment shortages, lack of manpower and need of longer and more frequent training, as "basic preparedness weaknesses."

Turns in Alarm When Sees Flaming Paper Carried From Chimney

A well-meaning citizen, alarmed by a piece of flaming paper carried out of the chimney of a neighbor's home, turned in a call to the Nelson Fire Department and brought the fire laddies on a run to the home of Norman Roscoe, 302 Victoria Street, Thursday night.

The residents were burning paper and other such debris in a furnace and a sudden up-draft apparently carried the flaring paper up the chimney. The Roscoe residence is owned by Vincent Eperson.

The alarm was turned in about 9:40 p.m.

Single Canadians to Be Called for Training by Ages

OTTAWA, Aug. 22 (CP)—First action on the mass of information obtained in this week's National Registration will be taken next week when the Department of National War Services begins tabulation for military training purposes all single men of 21 to 45 years.

Already registration headquarters here is receiving from each constituency wire reports of the numbes of single men in each age group. By Monday the Department expects to be in position to start sorting them out by age groups across the country, in preparation for calling up of the first military training classes for Oct. 1.

Regulations governing this calling up will be announced next Tuesday, Mr. Justice T. C. Davis, Associate Deputy Minister of National War Services announced tonight. At the same time, the Government will announce the personnel of the 13 boards (one for each military district) which will regulate the taking of men from certain industries and occupations for army training.

Judge Davis emphasized that there will be no exemptions from the 30-day training period for any called up for that purpose. Farmers will not be taken from their fields during harvest and fishermen will not be taken from their nets during fishing season, but they will be given military training at other periods. The same thing applies to university students engaged in special studies and others.

The same principle will apply in munitions and military equipment industries. If the class of 21 years is called for example, and an airplane factory finds it has 10 essential employees of that age, loss of whom might cripple its operations, that factory will present its case to the board in that military district. An agreement will be reached whereby the Department will call not more than two, perhaps, in any one month and the remainder will be called as the year goes on.

U.S. Plane Flies 500 Miles an Hour

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22 (AP)—The United States' newest warplane, the Lockheed Interceptor, can fly more than 500 miles an hour, Major Gen. H. Arnold said today in releasing for the first time its performance figures. He said the plane was "the world's fastest."

Its range is 1100 miles; rate of climb 4000 feet a minute; armament, one rapid fire cannon, shooting a one pound shell, and four machine guns.

Major K. B. Wolfe, Chief Production Engineer for the Army Air Corps, said the army has ordered a large quantity of these new type planes—"I can't tell you the exact number, but it is the largest order for combat planes under the national defence program. We hope to get delivery of 100 a month."

ENGLISH CLERGYMAN SAILS TO U. S. PLANS TO GO TO VICTORIA

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug. 22 (AP) —The Rev. John Antle, 73-year-old mariner-clergyman, said today he planned to leave port Saturday in his 40-foot auxiliary yawl for Victoria, B.C.

The Rev. Mr. Antle arrived here today weeks ago to end a 347-day voyage from Falmouth, England. He formerly lived in Vancouver, B.C., but said he was retired now and probably would reside on his boat for a while after reaching Canadian waters. Even with favorable cruising conditions, the minister said he did not expect to reach Victoria before 30 or 40 days.

The Canadian weighed 142 pounds and Guggino 136.

Britain Develops Faster Bomber, Fighter Planes

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP.-Cable)—Great Britain has developed new bomber and fighter planes which the Air Ministry expects will add appreciably to superiority of the Royal Air Force over the German air squadrons.

Designs of the new machines are a secret but the bombers are said to be faster and more manoeuvrable than the present types in service, and are almost impregnable to ordinary defence fire.

"We haven't been standing still," a spokesman for the Air Ministry said tonight when questioned about the new aircraft. It is understood the planes profit from many lessons gained by R. A. F. pilots in air battles since the outbreak of war against German machines and in long bombing raids over German and Italian territory.

The new fighters are stated to be an improvement on the Spitfires and Hurricanes, Britain's leading pursuit planes, which have been hailed as the finest of their type in the world as a result of their work in the mass Nazi air raids over this country.

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP.-Cable)—Orders were reported tonight to have been placed in Canada for some of Britain's newly-developed "battleships of the air" — bombers and fighters which will add appreciably to the superiority of the Royal Air Force over the enemy.

Registration Is Job Well Done in West Kootenay

With the exception of a few Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, a general picture of the national registration in West Kootenay riding Thursday was that of a large three-day job well done. Compilation of District returns had not been completed and therefore figures were not available.

Practically all Doukhobors of the West Kootenay, with the exception of a small number of Sons of Freedom near Krestova, West of Nelson, and the Gilpin colony near Grand Forks registered, according to C. B. Garland, Chief Registrar. The Sons of Freedom are a minority group which has broken with the main Doukhobor body in B. C. The number of non-registrants among the sect was small, and for the most part the cooperation received from the Doukhobors had been splendid.

From some of the centres these registration totals were available: Trail, 8300; Nelson 5655; Rossland, 1744; Annable-Warfield, 500; Castlegar, 435; Tadanac, 94; Park Siding, 59; and Kaslo, 570.

The huge fighter has been under construction secretly in the Douglas Factory at nearby Santa Monica for four years.

Canadians Quickly Avenge Death of Comrades by Downing 3 Nazi Planes

By EDWIN JOHNSON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Aug. 22 (CP Cable)—Three German bombers with a combined complement of 12 men fell prey in a recent attack to the upstring marksmanship of Canadian ground crews who are playing a prominent role in beating back the assault of Goering's air raiders.

Caught in a withering barrage of fire from the ground, the Germans jettisoned their cargo in an effort to escape. Several of the bombs dropped at random over a wide area failed to explode but two that crashed on a square and nearby roadway killed three Canadians.

The victims were:

Lt. Leslie Wheeler, Moncton, N.B.; Sgt. F. J. E. Jennings, Verdun, Que., and Cpl. F. C. Shaw, Toronto.

(These casualties were announced at Ottawa Aug. 18. The date of the German attack was not given but it was understood it took place during last week's mass aerial onslaught.)

The death of the three men was speedily avenged. Within a few minutes three raiders came toppling to earth, their wreckage strewn over the countryside. Two remaining machines of the squadron limped away badly disabled.

Lt. Wheeler lost his life in attempting to rescue a British Tommie who was hit in the leg by a splinter. As Lieut. Wheeler was running towards the prostrate soldier a high-explosive bomb burst nearby, killing the Canadian officer instantly.

Jennings and Shaw were struck down by fragments of a bomb which landed in a square. Sgt. F. T. McAuley, Toronto, suffered superficial neck wounds from the same blast. Two others, Ptes. E. T. Johnstone and N. W. Morrit, both of Montreal, sought shelter behind a sand-bagged parapet 10 yards away and escaped unscathed.

Lieut. A. A. Burne, Hamilton, preparing to fulfil an appointment when the raiders appeared, was obliged to change his plans when he discovered his office had been wrecked by an explosion.

He sent the following note to the party he had arranged to meet: "I am afraid my office is a bit upset and I may be a trifle late for the appointment."

Later he established himself in temporary quarters and hung up a sign reading "business as usual."

Sgt. W. H. Dunn and Sgt. H. Harper, both of London, Ont., paid high tribute to the marksmanship and morale of their machine-gun crews. They told of seeing tracer bullets drilling through the enemy planes but neither caught positive credit for bagging the Huns.

"There were altogether too many firing at them," Dunn said. "The main thing is we got them and I really think all should share in the credit."

NAZI PLANE ATTACKS SHIP IN IRISH SEA

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Aug. 22 (CP)—An unsuccessful German aerial torpedo attack on a steamship i nthe Irish Sea was reported by its crew today. They said a German plane launched two torpedoes.

Canadian Forces Treated Royally by Newfoundlanders

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 22 (CP cable)—Canadian air and land forces guarding vital spots in Newfoundland are being treated royally by Newfoundlanders.

Since the Island's defences were integrated with those of Canada, its people have been striving to outdo each other in extending hospitality to the blue and khaki-clad guardians from the neighboring Dominion.

The forces guarding the great $16,000,000 Newfoundland airport, 125 miles from here, are the special proteges of the residents of Grand Falls, a pulpmill town on the railroad West of the airport.

No sooner had the first contingent arrived on their Newfoundland job than a deputation of Grand citizens arrived to issue an invitation to 100 soldiers to visit the town as its guests every weekend. As a result every Saturday 100 men leave camp for Grand Falls by train.

There they are billeted in homes—adopted would be a better word—that range from those of company executives to the humblest workers. They are entertained, taken to the movies and to the grand dance on Saturday night.

Small Boat Safe After Stormy Trip

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 22 (AP)—The 32-foot Ketch Idle Hour—one of the smallest boats ever to circumnavigate the world—was tied up safely here today after a stormy 16-day cruise from Los Angeles in which her skipper, Dwight Long, narrowly missed drowning.

Long, a former University of Washington student, was accompanied by two youths from Southern California, Bill Lansdale and Le Roy Fansler.

Since the Idle Hour left Seattle in 1934, it has sailed 48,000 miles, weathered three hurricanes, been beached on Long Island, battered by South Sea storms and blown up on the Spanish Coast. A Spanish gunboat interned the Americans for two days.

Long sailed most of the way with only one companion. A 15-year-old Tahitian boy was his only crew member for two and a half years. At another time his travelling mate was an ex-postal carrier, 69 years old, blind in one eye, and lame.

The 27-year-old navigator is waiting now for a "Southerly gale" to carry him to Seattle. Meanwhile, he is tied up beside an old Chinese junk at Fisherman's wharf.

MISSING AIRMAN IS PRISONER IN GERMANY

INVERMAY, Sask., Aug. 21 (CP)—Pilot Officer Art H. Deacon, previously reported as missing in action over Dunkirk, May 28, is a prisoner of war in Germany according to word received here by his father, H. Deacon. Cable from the British Air Ministry said that the information had been received from the International Red Cross in Geneva.

Heroism of French Generals Is Cited

VICHY, France, Aug. 22 (AP)—Heroic conduct of 11 French generals, seven of whom were killed in the war with Germany, was set forth today in the first official account of what has become of France's senior officers. More generals were killed or wounded at their posts than during the first Great War.

The seven killed, most of them identified only by their last names, included Janssenn, who fell June 2 at the head of what remained of his division after holding up the Germans for several days before Dunkerque.

The courageous conduct of Gen. Henri Honore Giraud, former Governor of Metz, who held back superior German armored divisions until he was captured with the last of his soldiers, was cited.

Sir Oliver Lodge, Spiritualist, Dies

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP) — Sir Oliver Lodge, 89, scientist and spiritualist, died at his home in Wiltshire, in Southwest England today.

Sir Oliver had given friends to understand he was unafraid of death.

"Death is but a new adventure," he wrote once. "In the life beyond we go up or down according to how we made use of our opportunities in life."

In an effort to prove his belief in survival after death, the eminent Victorian scientist left a sealed message with the Society for Physical Research.

He promised that when "the right people are sitting with the medium, I shall try to give them a message. But it might take as long as a year. Shall not get anything in a hurry."

Sir Oliver lived long enough to regret some scientific advances made by 20th century workers.

"We know things that we never should have known—things of the devil," he declared four years ago.

"Think of radio—my first love. I never dreamed that an electrical discove of mine would ever be used to send airplanes to bomb innocent children. Yet that has happened.

"And I feel responsible, even though other hands than mine brought the fulfilment of that idea. . . ."

AIR TRAINING SCHOOLS OPEN, CALGARY, REGINA

Buildings for No. 3 air observer school in Regina are now nearing completion and planes will arrive within a few days, he added.

Arms Industry Speedup Program 'Beats the Clock'

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP).—Herbert Morrison, Minister of Supply, said in a broadcast tonight tat the war effort speedup has given Britain "an arms industry greater in its output and far greater in its future productive capacity than anyone would have dared to think possible three months ago."

"When we think of our world-wide tasks of defence and offence and of the two or three years of campaigning in many parts of the globe that may well be before us, we see our work hitherto as but the beginning of the beginning," Mr. Morrison said.

Britain, however, is still behind Germany in arms making, he observed.

"We are beginning to see daylight through the trees," he said, and cited the case of one ordnance factory which began production four months ahead of schedule.

"It's a lovely thing to beat the clock in these days."

NO GENERAL WARNING WHERE RAIDS EXPECTED

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP Cable)—The Government will not substitute general air raid warnings in place of the present policy of local warnings where raids are delivered or expected, Sir John Anderson announced today.

The Minister of Home Security in a statement said that "wars cannot be won without taking risks" and contended that giving warnings in all towns in the course followed by raiders would interfere with war production.

Chastity Has Its Own Reward

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Dear Miss Chatfield:

Here's my hard problem. I am deeply in love with a girl, was engaged to her, but broke it because I heard on good authority that she had a past. I was very frank with her as to the reason for what I was doing. She remained silent. She didn't show any anger. When I asked her why, she replied she loved me too much to be angry with me. Now it seemed to me then and does still that a girl who was wrongfully accused would be indignant; that she would defend herself hotly even if she loved the man who had accused her wrongly. Please discuss this point.

UNCERTAIN.

Answer:

Friend, it's dangerous to lay down categorical rules about feminine reactions to stunning blows. Certainly an innocent girl with spirit would fight a tiger if her chastity were questioned by her fiance. She would be divided between pride and flaming anger. But there are some people who haven't much spirit. There are still a few Alice Ben Bolts that have no fight in them. Stunned by the breaking of an engagement, there's no telling how they'd take the bad news.

However, this is not the point at issue. You accepted the word of an outsider that your girl has a past. You broke the engagement because you were convinced that she had lost her chastity. Presumably she denied it. Now one of three things you must do. Take her word for her innocence; or bury the past, come to an understanding with her that the subject shall never be mentioned; or drop the whole business and mark it off your books. Better for you and for her that you take the heartache of separation now than to go on with a marriage built on the volcano of suspicion and jealousy. It will surely erupt.

Here's a good object lesson for the girls who hold personal chastity lightly and a good object lesson too for the boys who encourage the girls in that demoralizing philosophy. The time will come when personal happiness and peace of mind will hinge on this point: "Is she caste?" If there's doubt about it, the world crashes and nothing and nobody can be relied upon.

Summer Is Time to Gain Physically

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Summer affords most teachers an opportunity to improve themselves psycially for the year ahead.

Many teachers will spend some of the Summer at school with profit to themselves and their children; others might much better have been lolling and basking in the sun. Too many teachers who need physical rehabilitation are forced to take Summer school work, thanks to the inordinate pressure for grades and credits.

EMOTIONAL DRAIN

Some teachers in Summer improve their minds and bodies by traveling. Those working on farms and serving as counselors in camps should profit, as a rule, and be more efficient teachers next Winter. In my student and early teaching days, I think I built up considerable physical reserve in Summers from hard work on the farm.

A few teachers will have to care for the aged and sick at home. In doing so they probably gain spiritually, but often lose physically and must begin with children in September, emotionally unfit. I wish all parents who expect a great deal during Summers of their sons and daughters who teach in Winter would keep in mind the children and youth who will be pupils and students of these sons and daughters. More might plan their own programs with the physical and emotional welfare of the children getting first consideration. Children come first.

STUDENTS' OPPORTUNITY

Now is a good time, too, for high school and college students not regularly employed to effect a plan for putting themselves in good shape physically. They need exposure to the sun; some need vigorous exercise to which they should grow adapted gradually, such as swimming, rowing, camping, hiking, mountain climbing. Work on the farm, even without wages should be profitable investment. Girls there should not shun the sun, as so many do. How I wish parents of young farm children would dress these youngsters so that most of the child's body will be exposed to sunshine.

Compresses . . .

Back Blemishes Need Daily Care

By DONNA GRACE

In these days of abbreviated costumes one must do more than beautify the face and hands. Though we don't see so much of the back except before mirrors, backs need attention. A smooth, well-molded back is a "must" for all occasions.

Those who are troubled with skin blemishes are likely to have the same annoyance on the back. These blemishes can be removed so if one will just take the time to use a simple treatment. Some of the beauty salons treat skin eruptions but we find the average girl likes to correct such things in the privacy of her own home.

The bath brush is the first consideration and we believe there would be more perfect backs if one made a point of having a thorough soap and water back scrub every day. A good soap lather cleanses the skin and removes dry surfaces that nature tries to shed. The skin, you know, is imperceptibly shedding as we live and breathe and new firm surfaces are exposed.

A rinsing with clear water to remove all soap film is just as important as the scrubbing. For the eruptions, use a hot boric acid solution. Apply hot compresses over the whole back. A small Turkish towel may be used for this.

Keep on until it begins to cool and apply another. Repeat until three are used. Do not dry but throw a clean towel over the shoulders to blot the dampness.

This may be repeated every day for several days. For closing the pores, the final towel compress may be soaked in an iced boric solution. Three treatments a week will be sufficient.

When the trouble has been chronic, one may alternate with compresses of alcohol. The boric acid compresses should clear the usual case of skin eruptions and give the skin a new clean surface. If the blemishes do not disappear in a short time, one should consult a physician.

BRITISH CHILDREN ARRIVE AT EDMONTON

EDMONTON, Aug. 22 (CP). — Nine British guest children arrived here today and Alberta Government officials announced another group of 45 would arrive here tomorrow night. All of them left the Old Country under the British Government sponsored scheme.

The youngsters arriving today told of seeing a "sinking wreck" as they left a British port.

'Looking After Childrens Health' Is Reply to Criticism of Evacuee Train

OTTAWA, Aug. 22 (CP). — The Canadian Government is doing "everything we think reasonable" to assure the safety and comfort of British evacuee children travelling across Canada, F. C. Blair, Director of Immigration, declared today when confronted with reports of criticism of the arrangements.

"There are some people who think that if they put enough sulphuric acid into a letter they are performing a national service," he added. One reported criticism was that pillows were not being supplied for children travelling under the "assisted" plan in colonist cars.

Mr. Blair said all plans for the transportation of children who came at the cost of the Governments of the United Kingdom and Canada, had ben thoroughly gone into at conferences with transportation companies.

"We are doing everything that we think is reasonable," he said, "to look after the health and welfare of the children. We would be glad to send the children across Canada in pullmans but we are more interested in having nurses on the special trains and a conductor in every car.

"There is a commissariat car on every train and good meals are served to the children right at their own tables in their own cars."

One advantage of the use of colonist cars, he pointed out, is that reasonably comfortable arrangements for sleeping can be made in them at night.

"A lot of Canadians," he added, "travel in day coaches and have to sit up all night. No great hardship is occasioned to the children by travelling in colonist cars."

"Blankets and sheets are supplied but no pillows. You can't use a pillow a second time unless you clean it any more than you can a sheet, and the cost and trouble of cleaning and handling pillows was considered excessive. We keep the sheets and the blankets clean. You have to draw the line somewhere.

"It won't hurt the children to roll up their coats for pillows while they are crossing the country. If Jacob could use a stone the youngsters can use their coats for two nights."

Allergy . . .

Hay Fever Victim Is Born That Way

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

This week begins the Fall hay fever season, and most of those who have obtained relief of their annoying symptoms from modern methods of treatment may well spend a little time recalling the fundamental experiments upon which our modern knowledge of the phenomena of hay fever and the related symptoms of allergy are based.

It all began at the dawn of this century on board the luxurious yacht of the Prince of Monaco. The Prince, besides owning the largest gambling joint—Monte Carlo was one of the greatest marine biologists in the world. He had his yacht fitted up as a laboratory and often invited distinguished scientists to take trips with him. In 1901 he had as guest a French physiologist named Richet, and the Prince pointed out to him the peculiar effect of the tentacles of a certain small jellyfish on the human skin. It produced a reaction almost a burn, out of all proportion to the amount of poison secreted or the size of the jellyfish. Another peculiar thing was that some people were hardly affected at all, and others very seriously.

SERIOUS POISON

Richet became interested and continued his studies of this poison in his Paris laboratories all through the Winter and made one most annoying discovery that a small dose was fatal but a large dose wasn't.

He found what the fatal dose of his jellyfish poison was for his animals. He could give a dog a fourth or a third of that dose without producing any very serious symptoms. But then if a few days later he gave a tenth or a twentieth or even a hundredth of the dose to a dog which had already had a sub-lethal dose, it immediately died. Why should a hundredth of the dose kill when the dog had previously absorbed a quarter of the dose without any bad effects?

Richet said the first dose had sensitized the animal, that this state was the opposite of prophylaxis, so he called it anaphylaxis, and the second minute dose did something to precipitate that state. That's all he said, but he got the Nobel Prize for it—and incidentally practically nothing of any consequence has been said on the subject since.

STILL A MYSTERY

If anybody would only explain exactly what does happen to the cells or the chemistry of the body of the sensitized animal, it would be a great help in dealing with the human conditions of sensitization that are similar to experimental anaphylaxis, which we call allergy. Plenty of people are working on it. It is certainly one of the most closely guarded of nature's secrets.

Natural allergy, such as hay fever is a good deal like experimental anaphylaxis, but it differs in some points. One is that with natural allergy there is no initial dose of the sensitizing substance. The hay fever patient seems to be born sensitized to pollen. Natural allergy too is almost never as severe as anaphylactic shock.

SIGHT RESTORED AFTER 52 YEARS

WINNIPEG, Aug. 22 (CP.)—Rev. John Hunter of Crystal City, Man., today had his power of sight restored after being almost blind for 52 years.

A pair of contact lenses made of transparent plastic, closely adjusted over his eyeballs brought about the transformation to the 66-year-old man who is pastor in a mission church in the little town, 130 miles Southwest of Winnipeg.

Befuddled for a time by the sudden change the lenses had made to him, he gazed at W. N. Fowler, the optician who advised him to try the lenses, and at Dr. F. A. Macneil, the oculist whom he had been advised to consult, then said:

"I had forgotten human beings looked like that."

Contact lenses have been known for 100 years but the kind which restored sight to Mr. Hunter are of the type developed in recent years by Theodore E. Obrig of New York.

Canadians Urged to Increase Purchases of Empire Material

TORONTO, Aug. 22 (CP)—Maj.-Gen. Sir T. William Glasgow, Australian High Commissioner in Canada, speaking here tonight at the official opening of the British Empire Building at the Canadian National Exhibition, urged Canadians to increase wherever possible their purchases of Empire goods to assist the war effort.

The ceremony was held under auspices of the British Empire overseas branch of the Toronto Board of Trade.

Sir William said the British have an initial advantage in the war against Germany in the strong morale of the peoples of the Empire. In addition, "The wheels are now turning ceaselessly in Great Britain, Canada, Australia and the other parts of the Empire to attain superiority of weapons and munitions and particularly the power to dominate the air."

Seek Cause of Sash and Door Company Fire

Inquiry by W. Percy Nichols of Vancouver, Assistant B.C. Fire Marshall into the cause of the fire which occurred at the Nelson Sash & Door Co.'s plant June 28 opened in the Nelson City Council Chamber yesterday.

The factory at the time of the fire, which was at about 2 a.m., just after the night shift left, was engaged on an order for the manufacture of 3500 seamen's chests for the Department of National Defense.

Over 900 had been almost completed and were stored in the Nelson Ironworks warehouse and 160 were in the factory.

CONTRACT PROVING PROFITABLE

Monday Aug. 12 460 of these were shipped to the Coast, stated Frank F. Becker, Secretary-Treasurer of the company. Wednesday evening of this week a wire from the department asked how many more were ready for shipment. Long storage during the hot weather and after the fire had occurred had caused some warping, but this was not due to any defect in workmanship. The materials were the best they could buy and the work in accordance with specifications. His opinion was that if the boxes had been oiled on the inside they would not have warped, but the specifications did not call for oiling.

Mr. Becker said that costs had proved well within the estimates and the contract was showing up as a profitable one. He gave details as to costs and profits. He also mentioned that payroll obligation had been met up to date.

Fire insurance carried was $31,500 on the building and equipment and $16,000 on the stock, stated Stewart Oldham, President of the company. Insurance was carried on an 80 per cent coinsurance basis, placing the value of the building and equipment at nearly $40,000 and the stock at $20,000. After the war contract was obtained, the stock of supplies was increased and at the request of the Royal Bank the insurance on the stock was raised from $8000 to $16,000. This latter figure represented the amount called for under the 80 per cent coinsurance plan —$16,000 on $20,000 worth of stock. Total insurance was therefore $47,500 on a valuation of $60,000.

BUSINESS NEVER BETTER

Employer - employee relations were without friction, said Mr. Oldham, and the future of the business had looked very good indeed at the time of the fire. They had never been busier. Besides the war contract which would undoubtedly have been finished on time, they had lots of local orders.

Other witnesses were David S. Scott, night engineer, B.C. Veneer Works; William A. Latta, Veneer Works employee; Herbert Brindle, Nelson Ironworks watchman; Henry Leslie, ferryman; and James M. Fletcher and Thomas W. Hunt of the Sash & Door Factory the last two who described how the plant was shut up at night and said there was nothing suspicious when they quit work.

Chief G. A. McDonald of the Nelson Fire Brigade was the examining officer. E. P. Dawson appeared for the Sash & Door factory.

RED CROSS News Notes

Nelson District to Preserve Jam by Surplus Fruit

Answering a call for preserving of surplus fruit for the Red Cross, the Executive of the Nelson Red Cross formed a Central Committee to work on the matter, at a special meeting at the Red Cross Rooms Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Harold Lakes, Chairman, Mrs. W. H. Smedley, Mrs. B. Townshend, Reeve Harper and Norman Brown were named. W. R. Grubbe to act ex officio. Power to add to the committee was given.

The Central Committee at Vancouver suggested grape, peach and plum jam was needed, but it was decided jam to be put up here would be limited to plums.

The committee will contact district Auxiliaries to find how much fruit they could make into jam, so that amount of sugar and number of four-pound cans, which are to be provided, needed can be decided on.

The committee also hopes to contact Nelson people who have surplus fruit which, on request, would be picked by Red Cross members. Persons having clean four-pound tins they are not using are urged to turn them in. It was also suggested ladies making jam at home might make an extra four, five or 10 pounds for donation to the Red Cross.

JAMAICA SENDS, NEW DONATION FOR BOMBERS

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 22 (CP.-Cable)—Jamaica today sent another £5000 (about $22,250) to Britain to be applied for the purchase of bombers. The money, raised by public subscriptions, brings to £35,000 (about $155,750) the total collected here and sent to the Mother Country.

Gen. McNaughton Praises Canada-U.S. Defence Pact

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP)— The New York Herald Tribune in a copyright cable from London today quoted Lt.-Gen. A.G.L. McNaughton, Canadian scientist-soldier and commander of a British Army corps which included the Canadian 1st division as praising the joint defence agreement between Canada and the United States.

The newspaper quoted Gen. McNaughton as saying:

"It is the most heartening thing that has happened in decades. It brings a quiet confidence which does your heart good to find two nations, which for 100 years and more have settled their differences by arbitration, taking an equally practical point of view about defence. It marks the culmination of a trend, while maintaining thorough mutual independence and respect for one another's rights and privileges.

The Herald Tribune reporter said the general laughed at the German assertion that the joint defence agreement meant the first step toward absorption of Canada by the United States.

"Canada and the United States do not have to rationalize; as long as both believe in Democracy political matters come easy," he said. "I like Lord Haldane's dictum, "the secret of Britain's success in organizing governments in diverse countries and diverse climes has been to think much of convenience and little of symmetry."

"We meet the practical problem of the moment. It is the practical things for the service of the people that we are after. The fundamental things like freedom of thought and expression are already taken care of.

"Canada and the United States have both taken the objective point of view. The moral value of the move is excellent, and in the long view will be increasingly important."

Gibraltar Is Italian Target

ROME, Aug. 22 (AP).—The Italian high command communique issued Thursday noon:

"One of our formations bombed military objectives in Gibraltar. One plane failed to return.

(This raid caused a small fire, Gibraltar announced.)

"In the Eastern Mediterranean, one of our torpedo boats sank a submarine, and one of our submarines torpedoed a destroyer.

"An enemy naval formation composed of cruisers was reached in the Eastern Mediterranean by our air formations and subjected to intense bombardment. Two cruisers were hit repeatedly. All our planes returned to their bases of departure.

(The British Admiralty did not comment on this claim.)

"In East Africa, an English plane was shot down by our Dubats (native Eritrean troops) at Coracia, in Kenya."

ALARM IN ALEXANDRIA

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Aug. 22 (AP).—Alexandria underwent a 35-minute air raid alarm today. Low flying planes were seen in the distance and explosions were heard, but details were lacking.

TOBRUK OIL TANKS HIT

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 22 (AP).—British planes have scored hits on the port and airdrome at Mogadiscio, capital of Italian Somaliland, and on buildings at the nearby town of Merca, the Royal Air Force announced today.

It also reported hits on the Italian naval oil tanks and a jetty at Tobruk, Italian coastal base in Libya near the Egyptian frontier.

South African and Rhodesian squadrons made the Somaliland raids.

Archaeology in Spite of War

Boy Scouts and English archaeologists are providing an example of British imperturbability during the German blitzkrieg. In the quiet spells, Southampton Scouts and the members of the local archaeological society are carrying on excavation work along the remains of a Roman road in the grounds of Bitterne Manor, searching for the ancient walls and bastions and domestic dwellings of ancient Clausentum. They also are excavating an old Norman wink of the Manor House.

Man Disappears From Liner on Route Pedro

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Aug. 22 (AP) —Mysterious disappearance of Henry T. Pamphilon, 63, Melbourne, Australia, inventor, from the liner Monterey was disclosed after the vessel's arrival from San Francisco.

Capt. E. R. Johansen of the Monterey said Pamphilon remained in his cabin after the ship left San Francisco and reported to the room steward he was ill Tuesday night. His head was bandaged.

On arrival of the ship, Pamphilon was missing. In his effects was a note asking that his luggage be left at his sister's home in Melbourne. Letters indicated he had come to this country last month for expert medical treatment.

Japan Minister to Canada Called Back in Shakeup

TOKYO, Aug. 22 (AP)— Domei, Japanese news agency, reported today that Foreign Minister Yosuje Matsuoka has summoned home five ambassadors and 10 ministers, including the Minister to Canada, Baron Shuh Tomii, in a sweeping shakeup of the diplomatic service.

Domei said one of the ambassadors affected was Kensuke Horinouchi at Washington.

Yoshiuke Aikawa, one of Japan's outstanding industrialists and head of the great Manchuria industrial development corporation, was said in informed quarters to be a likely choice as Horinouchi's successor.

Domei said 19 ministers and 16 holders of important consular posts including those at New York, Chicago, San Francisco, Honolulu and Manila, also were being recalled in the shakeup, which affects the foreign service in the Americas more than any other part of the world.

Domei said the changes, which had been expected since Matsuoka became foreign minister, were considered preparatory to a "diplomatic offensive."

Besides Horinouchi the Ambassadors named by Domei as called to home at Katue Kuwashima, Brazil; Toshihiko Taketomi, Turkey, Renzo Sawada, France, and Masaaki Hotta, Ambassador at Large, now in China.

The ministers affected were said to be those in Canada, Spain, Argentina, Peru, Chile, Colombia, Venezuela, Panama, Mexico, Afghanistan, Hungary, South Africa, Finland, Rumania, Latvia, Egypt, Bulgaria, Iran and Iraq.

CONFIRMED AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, Aug. 22 (CP) —While not aware that other ministers were affected, the Japanese legation here today admitted that Baron Shuh Tomii, Minister here since May, 1938, had been summoned home to Tokyo.

Baron Tomii was Consul General here in 1927 and after the opening of the legation in th efollowing year became First Secretary. Afterwards he served in Tokyo and San Francisco and in 1936 was appointed Counsellor of the Embassy in London, leaving that post to come here.

WARDHA, India., Aug. 22 (CP-Reuters) — The working committee of the All-India Nationalist Congress, ending a five-day session, passed a resolution today rejecting the latest British offer of ultimate self-rule for India. It urged Indians to condemn the attitude of the British Government in the public protest meetings.

R.A.F. Bombs Dessie Airdrome in Ethiopia

ADEN, Aug. 22 (CP)—The Royal Air Force has heavily bombed Dessie, in Ethiopia, scoring direct hits on an airdrome, it was announced tonight. No R.A.F. planes were lost.

Heavy bombing attacks were also carried out on hangars and the railway station at Diredawa, where direct hits were observed.

British authorities said they encountered some opposition from Italian fighter planes, and one R.A.F. 'one was shot down.

They also reported that a French crew carried out an important reconnaissance flight into Italian territory.

Northern Frontier Buildings Are Hit

NAIOBI, Kenya Colony,, Aug. 22 (AP).—The British communique issued at noon Thursday:

"Ground patrols were again active in the Northern frontier district and gathered very valuable information.

"The South African Air Force raided Magdiscio. Direct hits were obtained on transport and administrative buildings. A wireless station and hangars were set on fire. High explosive incendiary bombs fell in the target area.

"All our aircraft returned."

Canadian Gov't. Considers High Powered Radio

OTTAWA, Aug. 22 (CP). — Construction of a high powered Canadian shortwave broadcasting station, for carrying Canadian news and views to the far corners of the earth, is under consideration by the Government, it was learned today.

Such a station has been periodically urged in the last two or three years in the House of Commons Radio Committee and elsewhere as a means of promoting Canadian trade and good will.

The question has been reported on by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation on several occasions, always with a recommendation of the desirability of such a station.

The obstacle has been the money. Since such a station would be primarily a service to people outside of Canada, its financing out of funds obtained from radio licence sales in Canada has been considered somewhat objectionable. It is felt the funds should be provided by a special appropriation from general government funds, just as the recent tourist advertising campaign in the United States publications was financed.

A. R. Babington, Former Trailite, Dies at Melfort

Death came unexpectedly to Arthur Richard Babington, editor of the Melfort Moon, and once an employee of the former Trail News, Sunday afternoon, while he was en route with members of his family to Greenwater Lake, Sask., to spend the day.

After entering the park the car left the road and plunged down a ravine. Mr. Babington was at the wheel and was able to keep the car upright. He drove it up again on to the road from the bottom of the ravine, got out, inspected the engine and oil, walked around the car and collapsed. Artificial respiration was applied but to no avail. A doctor called from the lake found that he had passed away due to heart failure.

Born in Tara, Ont., in 1878, he had reached the age of 62 years, 11 months, and 20 days. In 1911, he married Ethel Mary Freeman, Peterboro, England, and of this marriage were born three daughters, Frances, Jean and Flora, and one son, Michael all resident at home together with his widow who survives him.

He learned his trade with the Hepworth Journal, and worked on the Ingersoll Sun, Port Arthur Chronicle and Trail News.

Mr. Babington was a resident of Melfort since 1914, coming here from Trail. He took over the editing of the Melfort Moon and successfully operated the weekly since. He was always actively interested in civic affairs having served on the Town Council and as Mayor. He also took an active part in school affairs and served on the Public and High School Boards of both Melfort and Trail, and as the Chairman of those Boards. At the time of his death, he was a member of the High School Board, a Mason and a Shrine member and a member of the Board of Trade. He also was one of the first members of the Melfort Fire Brigade.

He took an active part in politics and was President of the Melfort Provincial Liberal Association.

Since leaving Trail, he has visited this district many times.

The funeral services were held from the All Saints' Church Wednesday afternoon under the guidance of the local Masonic Lodge. Members from Kinistino, Nipawin, Tisdale, Birch Hills and Pleasantdale were also present.

Pallbearers were Alex. McKay, R. Hastie, J. D. McFarlane, S. G. Moore, Dr. Sutherland and R. MacLeod.

Oppose Time Limit on Base Leases

LONDON, Aug 22 (CP Cable)— A group of members of Parliament representing all parties today opposed the placing of a time limit on the proposed lease of air and naval bases to the United States in Great Britain's Western hemisphere possessions.

An amendment to a proposal by Somerset de Chair, Conservative, which urged a reduction in the 99-year-lease period, was presented, stating the group 'sees no reason to place any limit of time on this association of the two great English-speaking democracies."

Among the 13 members who signed the amendment were Geoffrey Mander, Liberal; J. B. Rathbone, Conservative; P. J. Noel-Baker, Labor; and Commander Stephen King-Hall, National Labor.

NEWSMEN SEE SHEEP RANCH IN AUSTRALIA

BRISBANE, Australia, Aug. 23 — (Friday) (AP).—A group of visiting United States newsmen today had the opportunity of seeing the inside workings of Australia's major industry when they visited a 65,000-acre sheeprun in Northern Victoria.

Members of the party, which had visited Melbourne yesterday, were greeted here after an 800-mile nonstop flight from the sheep country by Hon. William Forgan Smith, Premier of Queensland, who entertained them at dinner.

COL. WILSON TAKES OVER LETSON COMMAND

VICTORIA, Aug. 22 (CP)— Appointment of Col. A. D. Wilson as Acting Area Commander for the Vancouver and Fraser Valley military area was confirmed today by the headquarters of Military District No. 11 here.

Col. Wilson replaces Col. F. G Letson, whose appointment as military attache to Washington was announced at Ottawa Monday.

OLDEST PRESS FOUND

TORONTO, (CP) — Lost for 15 years, the oldest existing printing press in Canada has been discovered in the basement of the Ontario Legislative buildings here. The press, built about 1780 was presented to the Toronto Normal School museum by the late John Ross Robertson. The press was set up at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Ont., in 1793 to print the Upper Canada Gazette.

It's a Water-Bug

No ferry or bridge is needed by J. E. Bradley, above, in crossing water in his "water-bug", pictured travelling through the waves just off the C.P.R. Flats below Nelson; and on the flats just after emerging from the water. The car-boat, which has caused Nelsonites to gape at its weird appearance lately, travels about 5-miles-per-hour in the water.

The bug is driven through the water by a propeller, powered by an extra shaft working through an additional pinion on the crown gear of the car. It is steered by a rudder attached to the front wheels and operated from the steering wheel. The propeller spins and the rudder wags while driving on the land just as they do when the bug is operated on the lake. The barrels are attached to a heavy wooden framework.

The bug, constructed by Bradley and Lloyd Renwick, is the experimental forerunner of a car-boat they hope to construct, employing pontoons instead of barrels, and having almost the appearance of an ordinary car.

B.C. Recruit Given Year for Defence Rule Violation

VICTORIA, Aug. 22 (CP).—Frank Beaufort, a recruit of the Canadian Active Service Force, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment today when he was convicted on a charge under the Defence of Canada regulations.

It was the first occasion on which the maximum jail term for the offence had been imposed here.

Beaufort was sentenced by George McGregor, J.P., and L. C. Lytton, J.P., after evidence showed the accused made subversive statements while talking to a fellow soldier at Yates and Douglas Streets.

Beaufort admitted he became argumentative after he had been drinking.

BAUDOIN SAYS REFUSAL TO LIFT BLOCKADE IS ACT OF HOSTILITY

VICHY, Aug. 22 (AP).—Foreign Minister Paul Baudoin tonight called Britain's refusal to lift the blockade against France "an act of hostility."

This, the Foreign Minister said in a speech, is "perhaps even more painful than the Mers-el-Kebir attack."

He referred to an action by the British fleet at France's North African base early in July, as a result of which French ships were prevented from returning to France.

"The French Government will not bow before this decision," the Foreign Minister said. "It must do everything in its power to save this country from hunger."

'Canada and U.S. Ties to Be Closer in Future'

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP) — The Times predicted in an editorial today that Canada and the United States will "have closer ties than they have ever had in the past, and Canada will be the linch-pin of Anglo-American relations."

Commenting on Germany's control over the greater part of Western Europe's seaboard, the newspaper said:

"It is therefore imperative that the United States and the British Empire — which of course is an American power as well as an Asiatic, African and European power—should have a close and regulated understanding about the defence of their position in the Western Hemisphere where Germany may at any moment attempt to gain a foothold by putting pressure upon one of her victims."

QUAKE FELT AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, Aug. 22 (CP) — A sharp earthquake which shook the vicinity of Unalaska, Alaska, last night, was recorded on the seismograph at the Dominion Observatory officials reported today. The shock was described by local seismologists as "severe."

First Flight of Red Cross Ambulances Kept Busy Overseas

By PAT USSHER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP Cable)— Twenty-two ambulances donated by the Canadian Red Cross already are busy on their work of mercy with the Canadian Active Service Force in the United Kingdom.

They are the first flight of a number of ambulances the Canadian Red Cross is sending to Britain and were handed over, without ceremony, to the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps immediately they arrived.

Col. R. M. Luton, director general of Canadian medical services, said he was most grateful to get them. "They are of very great assistance, and are thoroughly well equipped," he said.

Four emergency operating lamps given by Col. George Nasmith of Toronto, adviser on public health to the Canadian Red Cross Society, were handed over to No. 1 Canadian General Hospital nursing unit today at the Canadian military hospital somewhere in Surrey.

To Review Cases of Interned Anti-Nazis

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP Cable)— Sir John Anderson, Minister of Home Security, told the House of Commons today that "in principle" the Government accepted the view that the policy of releasing aliens "who ought not to have been interned at all" should be applicable to internees sent to Canada and Australia as well as to those in Great Britain.

He said it might be difficult to extend to the Dominions the process of review of cases of category "B"—friendly—aliens.

A number of modifications in internment policy were announced by Sir John, including lowering of the upper age limit from 70 to 65 and releasing scientists, research workers and persons of academic distinction.

Agencies will be set up to review cases of interned aliens known to be anti-Nazi or anti-Fascist.

Only Those of 'Pure' Origin Hold Jobs in Alsace and Lorraine

BASEL, Switzerland, Aug. 22 (AP)—German authorities in Alsace and Lorraine were reported to have completed removal of all state employees—from provincial officials to common laborers—not of pure Alsatian or Lorraine origin.

The last group of such state employees left the two provinces yesterday on German order for the parts of German-occupied France, or for the zone governed from Vichy, according to advices reaching Switzerland.

They were permitted to take 50 pounds of baggage and 5,000 French francs, or 250 marks (nominally about $100) with them. All their property was confiscated by the state.

Their jobs had been filled since July 15 by German appointees, or men hired by the Germans, including many Alsatians who moved to Germany after the provinces were taken back by France in the First Great War settlement.

So far as civil organization is concerned, Alsace already is joined to Baden and Lorrainne to the Saar in the German Reich.

TRAINING PLANE HAS HIGH CRUISING SPEED

LONDON, Aug. 22 (AP) — A track assembly line introduced in a British aircraft factory is being used for final stages of construction of the fast Miles-Master single-motored training plane. Jane's All the World's Aircraft says the two-seater Miles-Master monoplane has a cruising speed of 216 miles an hour, with top speed of 250 m.p.h.

Nazi Prisoner Captured, Had No Registration Card

MONTREAL, Aug. 22 (CP)—A member of the Veterans' Guard of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, suspicious when a meek-looking man failed to produce a registration certificate, is responsible for the capture here of an escaped Nazi prisoner.

The capture was announced today by R.C.M.P. officials who said the German, who escaped Monday from a Northern Ontario internment camp, was taken into custody last night on Victoria Bridge spanning the St. Lawrence River between the island of Montreal and the mainland.

Officials declined, however, to disclose the name of the guard, who became suspicious when the Nazi war prisoner, Guenther Lorentz, sought to cross the bridge from the Montreal side. It was not known how long he had been in this city.

The fugitive was reported to have hesitated when he saw the armed veteran at the bridgehead. Lorentz was stopped by the guard and questioned. His answers unsatisfactory, the prisoner was asked for his registration certificate. He had none, claiming he had been away from his "home" in Toronto.

The man then was taken aside by the guard for further investigation and he was identified definitely by Canadian Mounted Police officials through his handwriting.

Lorentz was taken to the cells at R.C.M.P. headquarters here for detention pending instructions from internment officials at Ottawa. One offical commented: "He won't get away this time. We have him safely —very safely—under lock and key."

Officials said Lorentz did not resist arrest.

His escape from the internment camp was made through a carefully contrived tunnel.

At first it had been believed the name of the prisoner, a German naval lieutenant, was Werner Koche. It was learned, however, that it actually was Lorentz who escaped, the error in name being caused by another prisoner answering for Lorentz when the roll call was taken.

The capture ended a widespread search through the dense bush country of Northern Ontario. For three days armed police and Home Guards, aided by an airplane that scouted the countryside, sought the prisoner.

It had been reported that R.C.M.P. headquarters had ordered a nation-wide hunt for Lorentz. Every officer in Canada was said to have been on 24-hour call and every highway was reported to have been watched.

Lorentz, who speaks almost faultless English, made his escape from the internment camp through a timbered tunnel, which was more than 100 feet long and which police said probably took two months to build. Then he managed to escape through a heavily guarded area around the camp.

'African Planes Go to France'

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP).—General Charles de Gaulle, Leader of French forces fighting at Britain's side, declared in a broadcast tonight that "at this moment 300 French airplanes, the mainstay of African defence, are leaving Morocco, Algeria and Tunis to be taken to Istres (France) and put at the disposal of the enemy."

Lord Strickland Former Prime Min. of Malta, Is Dead

VALETTA, Malta, Aug. 22 (CP-Reuters) — Lord Strickland, 79, former Prime Minister of Malta, died today. He was the first Baron Strickland and the Maltese Count Della Catina. He had been ill three days.

The picturesque nobleman once was involved in a personal quarrel with the Pope over whether the Catholic church had authority to order a priest, a British subject, to leave the island as a disciplinary measure.

After an investigation by a British Royal Commission, Lord Strickland finally apologized to the Pope for "wards that should be withdrawn." He was prime minister from 1927 to 1932.

Denies Britain Seeks Military Pact, U.S.

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP)—A foreign office spokesman emphatically denied today that Britain is seeking a military alliance with the United States.

He laughed off the question of a reporter who asked if Britain would refuse an alliance if it were offered.

The Associated Press reported usually well-informed quarters yesterday said Britain is seeking an alliance.

OUR RARER METALS

Canadian production of virgin antimony during 1939 totalled 1,225,585 pounds valued at $151,469. Of this the major part represents antimony metal recovered in the metallurgical plants of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada, located at Trail. In addition there were relatively small quantities contained in ores exported from Nova Scotia and British Columbia. Prior to the close of 1938 there had been no commercial production of antimony metal in Canada since 1917, and no by-product output of the metal since 1926, in which year it was reported as contained in silver-lead-bismuth bullion produced from cobalt-silver ores mined in Northern Ontario.

Bismuth production in Canada during recent years represented the metal recovered from the silver-lead ores smelted at Trail, and the metal contained in silver-lead-bismuth bullion produced in the treatment of silver-cobalt ores at Deloro, Ont. Production in 1939 came entirely from the treatment of silver-lead ores in the Trail smelter, and totalled 409,449 pounds valued at $466,362. The total output of bismuth in the Dominion to the close of 1939 amounted to 1,531,362. The total output of bismuth in the Dominion to the close of 1939 amounted to 1,531,752 pounds worth $1,775,768. The largest previous annual production occurred in 1936.

The output of cadmium in the Dominion in 1939 totalled 939,691 pounds valued at $662,209 compared with 699,138 pounds at $561,799 in 1938. The quantity of the 1939 production was an all-time high record in Canadian production of the metal. Of the 1939 production, 799,253 pounds valued at $563,241 were credited to British Columbia, 73,830 pounds at $52,029 to Manitoba and 66,608 pounds at $46,939 to Saskatchewan. Cadmium was the first of the by-product metals to reach a commercial production at Trail.

After these large figures, those for molybdenite seem puny. Canadian mine shipments of molybdenite concentrates in 1939 totalled 2722 pounds, valued at $816 compared with 14,000 pounds worth $4500 in 1938. Of the 1939 output, 2240 pounds valued at $600 were produced in the Malartic area of Abitibi County, Quebec, by the Molybdenite Corporation of Canada, while the balance of Canadian production represents concentrates shipped by Regnery Metals from its property located near Hawk Junction, Algoma District, Ontario. Molybdenite ore is the chief source of the metal molybdenum, the mineral, a soft steel-blue colored sulphide, is usually found in pegmatite dykes and along the contacts of lime-stone and gneiss. A renewed interest in Canadian deposits was apparent throughout 1939, especially after the declaration of war against Germany.

Production of tellurium in Canada during 1939 totalled 2940 pounds, valued at $4769. This output was credited entirely to the province of Quebec. No commercial production was reported in Ontario, Manitoba or Saskatchewan in 1939. Tellurium is used in rubber hose and cable coverings, and greatly increases the toughness and abrasion resistance of rubber. Tellurium is usually marked as slabs and sticks of 99 per cent purity, but for use in compounding rubber it is furnished in the form of a steel grey powder. The metal is also used to harden, toughen and increase the corrosion resistance of lead.

Tin is known to occur in the Snowflake and Sullivan mines in British Columbia and in certain pegmatites in Southeastern Manitoba. It has also been reported at New Ross, Nova Scotia. No tin ore deposits have been worked or tin ore production recorded in Canada during recent years. The Nova Scotia Department of Public Works and Mines reported that some prospecting was performed in 1938. No official reports of any primary tin production in Canada were received in 1939 and no development of any Canadian tin bearing deposits was reported.

FIVE MILES HIGH

What would you say if someone called you up at 2 o'clock some morning and asked you to go half way around the world to India, help carry food and equipment 330 miles into the heart of a great range of mountains, work there for six weeks at an altitude of 16,000 feet preparing to complete the trip to "Five Miles High"? asks Herbert B. Nichols in the Christian Science Monitor of which he is Natural Science Editor.

Chances are you wouldn't say yes with quite the alacrity Robert Bates of Philadelphia did in answer to Charles S. Houston of New York, prime mover of the American Alpine Club Expedition to climb K2, the second highest mountain in the world, 1,000 miles North and West of Mount Everest. There were six expedition members in all, six seasoned climbers who produced this book.—"Five Miles High"—with "Bob" Bates serving as editor and chief contributor, and six coolies. For 120 miles all equipment for the climbing group had to be carried on men's backs.

If that doesn't discourage you and you're still thinking about the pleasures of the long boat ride between New York and Bombay, it might be well to mention that the walls of this nearly symmetrical, four-sided pyramid rise 12,000 feet above its base in exceptionally steep and broken slopes of rock and ice.

In fact the climb is so formidable that many Alpinists have felt the ascent to be impossible. Climbing like that is almost prohibitive at such great altitudes. K2, highest peak in the Karakoram, is 28,250 feet above sea level, compared with Mount Everest's 29,002. A few hundred feet at that height might as well be 1,000—or the 999,999,999,999,999,999,999th straw on the camel's back. Anyway four of them had the closest peek at the topmost rocks and ice of any explorers so far. They managed to reach 26,000 feet, the highest climb yet made except on the slopes of Everest.

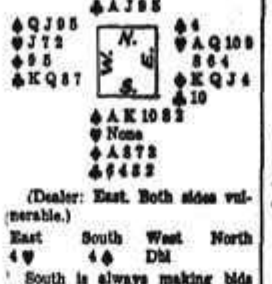
K2 was discovered in 1856 and since then only two expeditions have approached it with any thought of attempting to scale it. Both fell far short of their mark, but that they were an aid to the latest group is attested by the dedication of this book: "To our predecessors in the Karakoram on whose shoulders we climbed."

They really did better than they hoped, for there was so much conflicting advice as to the best time of year to climb, the best method of approach and the best route upward that the main purpose was to really learn by experience which route offered most possibility of success. Theirs was to be a preliminary attack whose main idea was to find the way for a later party. Capt. Norman R. Streatfeild acted as chief surveyor, and the party did get to the top of Abruzzi Ridge, to the base of the summit cone.

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

THEY HAVE THEIR VALUE

IF YOU are opposed to a vulnerable player who refuses to be shut out by a high pre-emptive bid in a suit, you can sometimes lure him into presenting you a generous gift by tempting his weakness. If your hand contains pretty good defensive or high-card values, enough to justify a bid of one, pre-empting will seldom pay you. It usually will crowd your own side and do more damage to your side than to your opponents. But when you face one of those fellows who always acts over a pre-empt, Old Man Psychology is on the job.



(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
4♥	4♠	Dbl

South is always making bids like that one, and East knew it. Probably South is incurable, as he hates pre-emptive bids and advises everybody never to make them. So everybody wise to his weakness looks for chances to prey upon him. Any sound player would pass the 4-Hearts, but not this poor chap. He simply just can't let a successful pre-empt go by and perhaps beat his side out of game, since that would show up his theory.

West led the heart J, which South ruffed with the spade 2. He then led his two high spades and switched to a club. West split his honors and the A won. South next led to the diamond A and offered a second club. West roared in with the K, cashed his two high spades and led a heart, so that East took the rest of the tricks, setting the contract five.

East could have made his heart game by ruffing a third diamond and finessing trumps, but what is a mere game as against a gift of 1,400 points?

• • •

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

After West leads the club K to the A, East playing the deuce, and then wins the returned diamond to the K with his A, what should he try in a desperate effort to beat the contract?

Old-Time Stuntsters Appear to Have Passed Out of the Picture

For the last year we have had a slightly uneasy feeling that something was missing. We went back over games like "knock-knock" and Mah Jong and all sorts of popular gags and sports, but that didn't supply the answer. They are missing, to be sure, but none of them would leave the slightest touch of nostalgia in its wake. Then, a few days ago, we saw some men rolling empty barrels into a brewery and it all came clear. "Nobody ever goes over Niagara Falls in a barrel any more" was our illuminating thought and then suddenly we knew what had been bothering us.

There are no more stunters; no more Flagpole Kellys, or Steve Brodies jumping off the Brooklyn Bridge; no human flies; nobody diving one hundred feet into three feet of water, and even the human cannonball isn't what he used to be. Some qualification is necessary, as journeyman death-defyers are still at work around county fairs and resort beaches, but it's a trade, and the great Siegfrieds of such high hazard have passed or are passing. The last mild excitement of this kind was pretty much of an anti-climax. That was when the college boys took to eating goldfish a couple of years ago.

The classical stunters perhaps have been discouraged by too much amateur competition at home and abroad. If Steve Brodie really did jump off the Brooklyn Bridge in 1886, swathed in so many garments that he was nothing less than a cocoon, his story wasn't nearly so exciting or important as that casual little news story about that Norwegian family that shoved out into the dark, lowering Atlantic in a tiny smack with the Nazis dusting bombs all around them, and made land safely on the Canadian coast—grand-dad, who is 74, the father and mother, and brothers, wives and children, making 23 in all. They could say "shoo!" to a mere human fly, maybe to old Lief Erikson, to, when you come to think of it.

Any brisk dogfight over the British channel makes public aerial stunting just rocking-chair business. The Russians the other day claimed a 32,000-foot parachute drop, without opening the chute until within 1,000 feet of the ground. The old county fair was never like that. If there are any barnstormers left among our airmen, their best hair-raising exploits are just routine in the dive-bombing workouts which are being given our boys at the training fields.

LOVE WITHOUT MUSIC

CHAPTER TWENTY-FOUR

There was a silence, a waiting, expectant hush, as Sarah's words died away on the warm, sun-scented air. Linda knew that she was expected to answer. But she did not want to.

Instead she kept her eyes on the silver speck going northward in the far sky.

What did people want from life? How did they know what they wanted? Life was so simple when the world was a wilderness and a man chose the girl he wanted, went forth to hew trees, raise crops, shoot game, while she stayed behind to plant a garden and keep something simmering in a kettle on a fire when he came at dusk.

But now Ronald had a horn, a silver-noted, magic trumpet, and the feet of the world stepped to gayer music when he played and the hearts of the world—no, that wasn't true—just one heart, Sarah's, swung out of the world with him.

And Robert, who had been a fortress, a Rock of Gibraltar, had gone away with somebody else in an airplane.

"Airplanes never have accidents any more," Linda said at last. "I hear they are much safer—than boats."

Her green eyes met the blue eyes of the ex-deb and held them.

"For you, probably," Sarah answered, forgetting that she was the hostess. Then, swiftly, "I'm being an utter cad! Forgive me, or anyway, try to, won't you? You know what's wrong, and you won, so you're ahead."

Utter candor. Or maybe that was the new way, Linda reflected.

"I did look as though I'd never seen an airplane before," she said, trying to laugh lightly. "Ronnie, let's take a walk."

He arose at once and started with her down the beach. When he tried to speak, she shook her head.

"Don't say it. Then it will be easier for us to forget it. Sarah is upset and it's too bad. Maybe she got caught in her own web. Anyway, I'm sorry for her."

"You're pretty swell," the man answered. "I've been doing some thinking, too. The show is closing soon and I'll be free. Linda, let's announce our engagement soon—tomorrow ,when we get back."

This was what she had wanted. For this she had waited as the March weeks drifted into April and June followed May. But the old glory was dead. As suddenly as though a cold wind had blown out a red fire. Yet, life without Ronald—oh, no, no, no!"

It was because she was so tired, because she had borne so much that she had reached this stage of emotional fatigue, she told herself.

"Tomorrow—as soon as we can," she promised, but she felt no better. Maybe you wanted something, someone, tried to obtain it and make the pattern of a dream come true for so many years, that when you received the completion, the joy was gone. But it would come back. Always it would come back! For life was not fixed in an unchanging mold. It was liquid, flowing and love and dreams came back, just as the tides or the moon or Spring.

But when she reached her own apartment the next morning the old elation had not returned, though Ronald was devoted and attentive. She slipped into a crushed rose linen frock, placed a cart wheel on her bright curls, picked up white gloves and bag, and went to her office. She was early, for the boat had docked at six and she had left it as soon as she could. Ronald had come with her, though most of the house party were sleeping until much later.

It was around noon when her telephone rang. She sat up, alert, at the question that a drawling, strange masculine voice sent across the wires.

"Miss Avery? Any truth to the story that you and that trumpet player—he swingman — are stepping off soon?"

"Stepping off"? She was hunting for an escape.

"Huh-huh. Going to a justice of peace, getting married, you know."

"And who are you?"

"Oh just a member of the inquiring profession. Well, what about it? Want to verify or deny it?"

"Have you talked to—"

"The swing prine?" Just hung up on him. He said to call you."

"I've nothing to say." She replaced the telephone.

This wasn't the way to make an announcement—to tell it to a careless, inquisitive voice that laughed at you. Down home she would have taken the story to Miss Mattie, the society editor, and there would have been a whole column about it in the local paper, with her picture. There would have been an announcement party, too, in the old white brick house under tall trees and her friends would have gathered.

But that story had ended. Ended as surely as though life had closed the covers of a green and gold story book. Growing up wasn't the smooth proposition she had believed.

No more reporters called Linda, but bout two o'clock Mr. Bagley came to her desk, his keen eyes twinkling. "What's this I hear about your picture being wanted for the Press?"

"My picture?" she gasped.

"I just had a call. Your engagement to Ronnie Stafford is out, and seems to be news." His smile was puzzled. "Want to give out pictures?"

"I haven't any, really—" Then she remembered that a staff photographer had taken some one day when she first came to the agency. At the time she had thought there might be a model opening, but outside of an occasional call, she had stayed at the desk.

Now she recalled a picture with her eyes looking up, looking high, and her hair spilling under a halo hat. There was another with the curls caught in wings on her cheeks and her wide eyes demure and questioning. She had given Ronnie one of those when he first came back. There was a third with her legs crossed. That, of course, she decided, would be the one that the Press would want.

The papers favored women who sat with their knees revealed.

She wrinkled her brows in perplexity. "But Mr. Bagley, I thought a girl announced her own engagement!"

"Not in Manhattan. But this is good publicity for you. Young Stafford's all right and going far. Shall I release the pictures?"

"I don't know—"

When Ronald called his voice was warm and reassuring. He didn't apologize because the secret was out. He stated it matter-of-factly, and his voice sounded happy. For the first time in two days Linda felt better. Dusk was coming, and lights were shining in the buildings that marched along the skyline.

Watching the nightly come slowly to the city, from the wide windows of the office, she felt a deep peace and a sense of rhythm with the world. The weekend, the emerald ring, even Robert's going, were not important. Robert—she wondered if he and Billie Anne had done whatever Billie Anne wanted done.

She was still at the window when Mr. Bagley came from his inner office.

"Would you feel like resigning if I asked you to work overtime? The printer wants the cutlines for our new year book in the morning, and half of them aren't written. I have to dash now, but I'll be back around ten. If you would get busy and do some captions I won't forget."

He was a good employer. Linda's work was amusing and not strenuous, though sometimes it was nerve wracking. Tonight, though, she wanted to see Ronald.

But she said that she would stay.

"Miss Ackerman, who helps when we are busy, is coming in pretty soon and give her anything to do you wish," the head of the agency said as he explained the work.

Linda knew Clarabell Ackerman well. She was a girl with dark brown hair, about Linda's own height and size. She was quiet and steady, removed from the tension of life, and tonight Linda felt a little sorry for her because she looked white and tired.

Because she wasn't hungry Linda decided to work for a while before eating. At nine o'clock she decided to cross the street to a coffee shop for a sandwich. The ringing of the telephone, shrill nd a little ominous in the quiet office, brought her back from the door.

Words to the song requested by X.Y.Z., Kimberley:

WHEN YOU WISH UPON A STAR

When you wish upon a star,
Makes no difference who you are,
Anything your heart desires
Will come to you.

If your heart is in your dream,
No request is too extreme,
When you wish upon a star
As dreamers do.

Fate is kind;
She brings to those who love
The sweet fulfillment of
Their secret longings.

Like a bolt out of the blue,
Fate steps in and sees you through.
When you wish upon a star
Your dream comes true.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

WAR EFFORT UNSATISFACTORY

A Liberal Member from Quebec suggested in the House of Commons a few days ago that a National registration of the country's man power might well be deferred until next year when the regular decennial census would furnish the desired information. Later the Prime Minister said that the question of inaugurating a National register was being duly considered.

All this is typical of the hesitation and timidity which have characterized Canada's war effort from the outset. There is a continued lack of National leadership at a time when men and women all across the Dominion are demanding, as they have demanded for many months, to be shown how they as individuals can best contribute to the success of the Allied cause.

A Dominion census in 1941 does not meet the crying need of today. The war in Europe, whose result this country is vitally concerned, may be over long before that census can be completed. What is urgently needed at once is a registration of the manpower and womanpower of this country, together with an enrolment of its industrial and economic resources, thus providing the Government with knowledge by which may be determined and evolved the greatest possible war effort.—Calgary Herald, June 9, 1940.

WAR — 25 YEARS AGO TODAY

By The Canadian Press

AUG. 23, 1915—Ossowetz, Russian fortress near the East Prussian border, captured by Austro-German forces. Zeebrugge bombarded for three hours by British warships. French made gains in the Vosges on the Lingekopf-Schratzmannele-Barrankopf line.

ONGAR, England (CP) — F. A. Wheelhouse was sentenced to four weeks' imprisonment for hoisting the Nazi flag over the Ongar Council offices "as a practical joke."

DENOUNCING LINDBERGH

AN EDITORIAL IN P. M., NEW YORK DAILY

I say very simply that Col. Lindbergh in his speech in Chicago Sunday identified himself as Spokesman No. 1 for the Fifth Column. The Fifth Column, in America, as in Madrid, is a group who love their country's enemies and who first argue and then fight for them. The Fascist states, as Gen. Pershing said, have "sworn to destroy the American idea." Germany under Hitler is thoroughly identified as the arch enemy of Democracy, and as such is the arch enemy of the arch Democracy, the U. S. A. On Sunday, Col. Lindbergh first tried to frighten the people of the U. S. by saying "A war between us (the U. S. and Germany) could easily last for generations and bring all civilization tumbling . . ." then counseled "cooperation" . . . "never impossible when there is sufficient gain on both sides."

These are Fifth Column statements, naked and unashamed. They are preachment of the inevitability of German conquest, defeatism—followed by the suggestion that if we deal reasonably with the conqueror, he will deal reasonably with us. These are the things Fifth Columnists—friends of their country's enemies—have been saying for years now—in Austria, in Czechoslovakia, in Norway, in France.

Not all the slick Goebbels-like reasonableness of Lindbergh's windup will wipe these things out—neither his argument that European affairs are too messy anyway, nor his sly appeal to social consciousness with his Chinese proverbs about the rich being too rich and the poor being too poor. Goebbels' genius has always been that he wrapped his poison in sweet reasonableness—the same sweet reasonableness that took Chamberlain in and led to Munich.

Lindbergh is a political novice. His speech was post-graduate work. Obviously, he was helped in writing it. Who are the people who did his thinking and helped in his writing? Who are his gang?

Some weeks ago I wrote in this newspaper that the reasoning of the appeaser argues that the mayor of a city should "cooperate" with the gangster if the latter gets big enough and tough enough and he seems "here to stay."

This is the reasoning in Col. Lindbergh's speech, whatever group prepared it for him. This is the way Fascist Fifth Columnists work.

I denounce Col. Charles A. Lindbergh as the spokesman of the Fascist Fifth Column in America.

utchinson Holds Boston as Tigers Win 9-8; Yankees Wallop Indians 15-2

Yanks Move to Third Place; Cards Gain Third Place Tie

By The Canadian Press

Relief Pitcher Freddie Hutchinson hurled shut-out ball after replacing Buck Newsom in the second inning yesterday and drove in the winning run as the second-place Detroit Tigers topped the Boston Red Sox 9-8 in 10 innings.

The victory breaking a six-game losing streak, dropped the Red Sox from third to fourth place, behind the New York Yankees, who climbed by defeating the American League-leading Cleveland Indians.

Hutchinson allowed only four hits in the eight and one-third innings he pitched. His game-winning single came after Meyers singled and advanced on Tebbetts' sacrifice and Bartell's infield out.

Barney McCosky spear-headed the Tigers' uphill surge with two triples one with the bases loaded.

Homers by Joe Cronin and Bobby Doerr sent the Sox off to a flying start in the first two innings, but Boston could do nothing after Hutchinson stepped in.

The Yankees knocked the roof in on Cleveland Indians by turning loose their biggest one-inning scoring spree of the season for a 15-2 victory over the league pacesetters. The result cut the Indians' lead over Detroit to 4½ games. In the second inning the Yanks shoved nine runs across the plate, featured by Joe DiMaggio's homer with the bases loaded.

New York Giants split a National League double bill with Pittsburgh Pirates. Victors in the first game 5-4 thanks to Mickey Witek's game-winning 12th inning single that scored Mel Ott, the New Yorkers folded in the second and were whitewashed 4-0.

The split, coupled with St. Louis' 9-0 rout of the Phils, enabled the Cards to gain a third-place tie with the Terrymen.

In the first Vince DiMaggio blasted out two homers, two singles, got two walks and drove in three runs.

Bill Werber has been hitting home runs only on occasion this season but he got his 12th at the best possible time and Cincinnati Reds finally gave Bucky Walters his long-awaited 17th victory. Boston Bees were the victims, 3-2.

The victory, coupled with Brooklyn's loss to Chicago, ran the Reds' lead to 6½ games.

For six innings 22-year-old Verne Olsen of Chicago Cubs had visions of a no-hit, no-run game. But in the seventh Ducky Medwick and Joe Vosmik of the Brooklyn Dodgers touched him for singles. The Cubs won 5-0 to hand Brooklyn Dodgers their fourth straight Western setback.

The onrushing Cardinals won their seventh straight victory, beating Philadelphia 9-0 and jumped into a tie with New York Giants for third place in the National League. Johnny Mize hit his 36th homer of the season.

Led by Johnny Berardino, who got five hits in five trips to the plate, the St. Louis Browns pounded out 18 hits last night to beat the Athletics, 8-4.

ouble-Play Pair and Two Nifty Southpaws Make Cleveland Step

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP) — ...uble-play combination that can, ... a couple of left-hand pitchers ... know how have made a dif...nt ball club of Cleveland In...s this year.

One and all, from Ossie Vitt, ... boss, right down to "Lefty the ...e" Weisman, who heads the ...arley-horse and rub-down de...rtment, are agreed the sparkle ... Lou Boudreau and Ray Mack ...ound second and the portside ...mebacks of Al Smith and Al ...linar have pulled the tribe right ...t there in front of the pen...nt parade.

"...ou gotta know what it means ... pitcher to have a hot double ... pair behind him," Vitt ex...ned today. "Why, we lost nine ...es alone last year on balls ...ght the middle that we couldn't ... up with for double plays. ... of them were dropped to the ...s, alone. Now we make 'em ...e time.

"...ike Wednesday's game in Bos... We get a little lead in the ..., but Mel Harder's tiring and Red Sox put men on first and third. Lou Finney's up, and he's a hard guy to handle. He hits a ball down to Boudreau on three hops. It's over to Mack, to Trosky—and the ball game's over, and saved.

"Y'know, after that one, Mel told me, he'd have been a 25 game winner four-five years ago, if he had those two kids behind him. And they don't fold."

Without taking a thing away from Bobby Feller and his zip ball, the lefties, Smith and Milnar, have been carrying a lot of weight. Between them, they've won 29 and lost 12. Left Al Smith was given his walking papers both by the New York Giants and by Brooklyn and Catcher Frankie Pytlak believes the year he spent at Buffalo after that may have made a winner of him.

"One season under Steve O'Neil is gonna help any flinger," Frankie explains. "Al has lots more stuff now than ever before—a screw-ball, a good curve, and once in a while he puts a slider in there."

"Left the Doc" puts his finger on another possible reason the tribe is no longer the club that "has it in May and loses it in September."

"We got reserves on the bench who'd make the first-string on any club," he points out. "Jeff Heath is a pretty good outfielder, isn't he? But he's on the bench, ready when needed. And Pytlak is a good catcher and Ossie Grimes—well, in my book he's the best all-round utility man anywhere."

"Mighty Casey" Sad as Thayer, Writer of Casey at the Bat, Dies

SILVER SPRING, Md., Aug. 22 (AP)—There was sadness in Silver Spring today, for the "Mighty Casey" had just learned that Ernest L. Thayer was dead.

"I think that Mr. Thayer always thought I was mad at him for writing that poem," said 77-year-old Daniel M. Casey. "I want everybody to know I wasn't."

Thayer, who died of a cerebral hemorrhage in Santa Barbara, Calif., yesterday, published the famous Casey at the Bat—which became an American classic—in 1888.

He never admitted that he had any particular ball player in mind when he penned his account of the strikeout that plunged Mudville into despair, but Dan Casey believes an incident in his career was the inspiration.

"I did my strikeout the year before," Casey said. "Mr. Thayer, who saw it, moved to California and wrote his poem, or at least he published it out there. I always thought he held it back because he thought it would hurt my feelings."

Casey recalled the details of the day.

"I was pitching for Philadelphia," he said, "and we were playing the Giants. It was 4-3 in the ninth inning, the bases were full and two were out when I came up to bat."

Excitement ran higher than usual because Philadelphia was in a race for the pennant and earlier in the season Casey had hit a homer to beat Boston.

Thayer's poem at this point reads:

"There was ease in Casey's manner as he Stepped into his place;
There was pride in Casey's bearing
And a smile on Casey's face.
And when, responding to the cheers,
He lightly doffed his hat,
No stranger in the crowd could doubt
'Twas Casey at the bat."

Casey thought for a moment.

"I guess," he said, "they were thinking of that hit against Boston. Anyway, by George, try as I might, I didn't so much as touch that ball. He got me, one, two three."

There was gloom in Philadelphia that night, gloom as deep as there ever was in the joyless Mudville.

Out in Silver Spring things were sort of that way today, for the Mighty Casey was sad—sadder, he said, than he'd been in a long, long time.

American Enters 19-Pounder In Salmon Derby

A nineteen-pound Kamloops trout caught last week by an American from Naples, Idaho, stepped into a contending position for prizes in the Kootenay Lake Salmon Derby sponsored by the Nelson Gyro club. The lucky angler was Dick Hilbert, and the entry form has just been received by Derby Secretary Danny McNaughton.

The 20-pounder caught in June by Leslie Pickard of Nelson still ranks as the derby leader.

The latest entries follow:

David Maloney, Nelson— 10¼-pounder caught at Irvine Creek August 7 with weather bright, Lure—Jack Lloyd, single hook. Weighed in by O. C. Thomas at Balfour.

Nelson City Police are now prepared to handle registration of firearms, Chief of Police Alex Stewart said Thursday night. The registration forms have been forwarded to Nelson from Ottawa through Victoria.

The City Police will record the rifles and shotguns of persons inside the city.

The Provincial Police and the Game Office have also received the registration forms, and owners outside the city can register their firearms at the Provincial Police office in Nelson, at the Game Office or wherever a Provincial Police officer is stationed.

NEW CARD PLAYER GOES BACK HOME

Ian Lowe, one of Louis Demore's acquisitions for his Trail Cardinals, has returned to the Prairies. Lowe, a crack third sacker, played in the first game of the West Kootenay Baseball League semi-finals against Nelson.

Lowe is also a capable hockeyist and may line up with senior teams either in Saskatoon or Regina.

Savoys Can Win City Softball Title Tonight

Savoy Hotel is just one step away from the championship of Nelson men's softball as the final playoff series is resumed with C.Y.O. this evening at the Recreation Grounds.

The Hotelmen grabbed the first two games of a best of five series, and another victory will complete their conquest. If they win, they will succeed the now-defunct Puckasters on the Nelson softball throne.

The Catholics are still shorthanded with Pete Kuntz, league's all-star catcher, out fire-fighting, but otherwise Louis Aurello has his boys in fine shape. The catching duties will be handled by either Tommy McInnes, recruited baseballer, or young Barney Prestley who caught the second game of the series. Les Trainor will be on the mound, opposing Jack Fisher, who has yet to be beaten in five starts in a Savoy uniform. He has four victories and a draw to his credit. Denis Ball the league's most aggressive player, will do the catching.

Savoys' Coach, Bob Paterson, figures on having his team back to full strength, but he isn't quite sure about Jim Cherrington, first baseman.

The probable lineups follow:

C.Y.O.—Trainor p, Prestley or McInnes c, Carl Locatelli 1b, Ernie Beland 2b, Lawrence Selinger ss, Eugene Maglio 3b, Armando Maglio lf, Jimmy Eccles cf, and Rev. Edward Doyle Andy Selinger, Louis Maglio and Joe DeLucrezio.

Savoy—Fisher p, D. Ball c, Jim Cherrington 1b, Jimmy Niven 2b, Sid Ball ss, Bill Kapak 3b, Art Hill, Glen Scribner, George Russell, Eric Packenham, Archie Hardy, Wilbur Bentz and Jimmy Allan, outfielders.

Jesse Seaby will be chief umpire.

English Cricketers Beat West Indies

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP.-Cable)—A cricket team captained by Sir Pelham Warner today defeated a representative West Indies eleven 283 to 146 in a Red Cross benefit match at Lords.

Only West Indians to reach double figures were E. B. Eytle with 47, H. M. Forde with 27, and Leslie Compton with 26.

Denis Compton, who scored 73, and Len Hutton, member of many English Test teams, who put together 44, led the English batsman.

Bowling features of the match were provided by Denis Compton, who took three wickets for no runs, and C. B. Clarke, captain of the West Indies side, who took five for 68.

Champ Jeffra Retains Featherweight Title

Though "Spider" Armstrong of Toronto had hopes of bringing a boxing crown back to Canada, Featherweight Champ Harry Jeffra of Baltimore had different ideas and just about wrecked the "Spider's" parlor. The above was made in the eighth round as Armstrong missed a hard, straight left to the champ's head. Jeffra dumped him to the canvas in the 11th and 12th rounds and got the decision at the end of the 15th round.

Nelson Maple Leafs make what may turn out to be their last visit to the Trail Rink of 1940 tonight when they play their second-to-last game of the West Kootenay Lacrosse League schedule. A Nelson-at-Rossland engagement on Monday will complete the second half.

Then probably next Friday Nelson will open a best of three semi-final series against the Redmen in Rossland, and then it will resume in Nelson the following Monday. These dates, however, are only guessed at by Nelson officials.

If a third game is necessary it will be played in Rossland, and the winner will proceed against the Bruins in a five-game battle, with a trip to the Coast looming in the offing for the champion.

The Lakesiders will be short Defencemen Bud Cooper and Stan Morris and Pivot Pete Bonneville tonight, but they expect to make a good showing against Hughie Miller's gutted stick boys. Gibbons will be in goal, and Townsend, Miller and Stirzaker his defence, Walmsley and Tapanila have drawn rover positions, and Bishop and Price will face off, flanked by Dingwall, Mayo, Hill and Morrow.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP)—Pennant talk is strictly taboo on the Cleveland Indians' bench. . . . Mike Jacobs promises all five champions under contract to him—Joe Louis, Billy Conn, Ken Overlin, Henry Armstrong and Lew Jenkins—will fight in the Garden next Winter, but what has the main stem guessing is who he's going to feed to Louis. . . . St. Louis fans give Joe Medwick the razz every time he moves at Sportsman's Park.

WHAT THEY SAW

Ed Barrow: Stan Bordagary has settled down at Kansas City and don't be surprised if you see him on the Yanks next season. . . . Dutch Meyer (T.C.U. coach): Kenny Washington (U.C.L.A.'s Negro star) is the best halfback a team of mine ever played against. . . . Frankie Frisch: The Dodgers will never catch the Reds with Pee Wee Reese gone. . . . Jim Farley: I'll talk about the Yanks very soon—and very frankly. . . . Connie Mack: I picked the Yanks to crack this year and now I think they may bounce back next year. . . . Col. E. Bradley: Despite his three losses, Bimelech is still the greatest horse I ever owned.

OH MY!

He turned and on the umpire spat;
And now he's crying in his beer,
For he's suspended for a year.

OPPORTUNITY BECKONS

After repeatedly showing signs of returning to their old-time prestige and power and then just as often letting their followers down again, the New York Yankees seem to be on their way up once more. But—this time the Bronx Bombers have to keep going forward, for any more series of reverses will end their pennant bid.

What is going to go a long way to deciding who will win the American League this year is the current Eastern swing of the Western clubs, the last time in the schedule they tour the four Atlantic Coast cities. And the most crucial series of the 16 is the one between the Indians and Yanks in progress right now.

Nothing short of a sweep will help the New Yorkers to any extent, and they started in the right direction yesterday. Their 15-2 trimming of Cleveland came on the heels of the three-straight shellacking they handed the Tigers earlier in the week. And just before that they took three out of four from the failing Boston Red Sox, who are almost definitely out of pennant consideration now. So if the Yanks can continue their rampage through the ranks of the first division clubs by beating Bob Feller and Ossie Vitt's Indians today and tomorrow—well, they will have a chance.

They are eight games off the pace set by Cleveland before today's game, and they are in position to cut it to six before the series is over. Vitt will probably throw Feller against the Yanks today for he has had two days' rest, and even one win in this series will help a great deal.

Chicago White Sox continue to hang on to the shirt tails of the first division, being a game and a half out of fourth place, and they are the only other club with any reasonable chance of startling the baseball world with a stretch drive finish to enter the World Series. They trail Cleveland by 9½ games.

Coming down to bare figures, the Yanks can take the pennant by winning 29 of their remaining 40 games, just under .750 ball, providing Cleveland slumps sufficiently to perform just at the .500 mark from here in. Of course if the Indians play at anything like their current .600 pace, the Yanks will be paying their way in to see the World Series.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By The Canadian Press

Youthful Bobby Feller, Cleveland Indians' pitching ace, startled baseball fans by striking out 15 St. Louis Browns in his first major League baseball game four years ago today. Later in the same year the 17-year-old Iowa schoolboy broke the American League strikeout record and equalled Dizzy Dean's modern major league mark by whiffing 17 Philadelphia Athletics.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22 (AP). — Jim Ferrier, Australian open and amateur champion, defeated Walter Buzkemo, Evanston, Ill., 3 and 2 today in the 36-hole finals of the Chicago District Golf Association's amateur tournament.

Coach Humble Is Lost to Baseball Club for Season

The Nelson Senior Baseball Club has lost the services of its Playing Coach Ray Humble for the remainder of the season as result of a knee injury suffered in the last inning of the first semi-final game against Trail Cardinals.

The husky Coach, who will be 22 late next month, threw his knee out a split second after successfully stealing home to score Nelson's fifth run of an 8-5 defeat, and was admitted to the Kootenay Lake General Hospital the next day and remained there for nearly a week. Water on the knee developed and he is definitely out for the Summer. He is at Salmo at present.

This development throws a crimp into the Nelson team's hopes for the Labor Day weekend baseball tournament here. The Nelsonites counted on Humble, Jack Carpenter and "Lefty" Mydansky to form a reliable pitching staff but their plans have received a severe setback.

After a week's rest Humble will likely return to the club to serve as bench manager for the remainder of the league playoffs and for the tournament.

MANY SURPRISES IN NET DOUBLES

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 22 (CP)—Top-seeded Frank Parker and Don McNeill stroked into a 6-3, 6-4, 7-5 win over William Reedy and Kenneth Bartell without much exertion but unseeded teams in both the men's and women's divisions staged surprising upsets to crash the semi-finals of the United States doubles tennis tournament.

The nearest to an overturn in the other divisions was in the mixed when Mrs. Johnny Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., gained a 6-4, 6-4 win over Miss Mary Hardwick of Britain and Charles Mattman.

Gets Thousands of Dollars as Hitler Agent In United States

By HENRY PAYNTER
In New York PM

Hitler's No. 1 Benedict Arnold is George Sylvester Viereck, whose association with Capt. Torkild Reiber resulted in Reiber's resignation of the Presidency of the Texas Corporation.

Some other prominent Americans parrot Hitler's Nazi propaganda for America, over the radio and in leading publications, and receive no pay for it.

But Viereck is well paid.

Viereck has been playing Germany's game against the U. S. A.—for dough—since long before Hitler.

He was naturalized in 1901, but he still comes close to Hitler's definition of all 8,000,000 German-Americans—"part of the German nation."

He has as interesting a Nazi record as any U. S. citizen.

He received scores of thousands of dollars in World War I for activities ended with the exposure of the notorious Dr. Heinrich Albert, then German commercial attache here. Dr. Albert is the partner of Gerhard Westrick, now German commercial attache here and Hitler's secret emissary to corrupt Wall Street leaders.

It was Viereck who wrote to the notorious Capt. Franz von Papen, German military attache ousted for spying:

"I am thoroughly ashamed of my country."

LUSITANIA CHARGE

It was Viereck who, Albert L. Becker, New York Deputy Attorney General charged, received $100,000 from German Government agents, after the U. S. entered the war.

It was Viereck, according to sworn testimony of a newspaper man, who said in advance that the Lusitania would be torpedoed. He later denied he'd said it, although he thought it "justifiable."

It was Viereck who testified in 1934 that he had got $1750 a month from Carl Byoir & Associates for swinging a German Government "publicity" contract to that firm.

It was Viereck who said in 1934:

"I am a friend of Adolf Hitler's Germany."

In addition to special fees, Viereck now expects to earn $15,000 this year for his talents in fitting Hitler's propaganda to current N. S. needs.

In the last World War, German propaganda here was clumsy. Viereck was a good deal less experienced. It was probably at least equally as effective as British propaganda in getting us into war against Germany.

Hitler didn't want to make that mistake, so Viereck shades Hitler's Nazi propaganda to fit nuances in U. S. feeling.

Viereck is paid $500 a month by a Munich newspaper, Munchner Noueste Nachrichten, Sendlinger-strass 80, Munich; another $500 a month by the German Library of Information, Hitler's official Nazi propaganda agency in this country, 17 Battery Pl. He lives at 305 Riverside Dr. in a 10-room, $3500-a-year apartment.

SPECIAL FEE

During the critical period this Spring, when Hitler planned his U. S. peace-intervention barrage, helped by Lindbergh, etc., Viereck got a special fee of $1200 for special consultation from the German Library of Information. He expects to get more.

Hitler zealously tries to get his message to every American. On the lowest levels, the propaganda comes here, now by way of Russia, from the Fichte Bund, Hamburg. For middle levels it comes from Welt-Dienst, World Service, in eight languages.

Similar material is broadcast by Father Coughlin, the Rev. Gerald Winrod, the Dishon, Joe McWilliams and others.

For the highest levels, there is personal contact, such as Westrick, who uses the U. S. name of A. Webster. Westrick worked on James D. Mooney and many other prominent U. S. industrialists.

It is Viereck's Benedict Arnold job to corrupt the thinking of backbone Americans. His contract with the German Library of Information has his signed promise to prepare news for Facts in Review, official Hitler upper level propaganda organ published under the supervision of Nazi Consul General Dr. Hans Borchers, to hold himself at all times for consultation on Nazi propaganda problems in the U. S. A. and to interpret the news to favor Germany.

VIERECK'S JOB

It is Viereck's job to "interpret" or "color" information, whether it is to appear in the Free American, Hitler's No. 1 U. S. propaganda sheet or elsewhere, so that it will further Hitler's strategy in his war against America.

It is obvious, then, that no Benedict Arnold is doing so much for Hitler in this crucial period as Viereck.

He is assisted by Herr Heinz Beller, actual manager of the library.

The chief function is to supply information for non-Nazi publications here, and for intelligent Americans, Germany's view of the progress of the war is told ably, with subtle implication always of Germany's confidence in victory.

Germany's post-European war economic plans for America are subtly developed.

By some strange magic, if you write to 17 Battery Pl., you get other Nazi publications; if you write to Father Coughlin or other Hitlerite publicists, you are likely to get Facts in Review.

The German Library of Information is in the same building as the German Consulate General, where a bomb went off not long ago.

MAILING EQUIPMENT

Its modern mailing equipment takes care of a mailing list of 100,000 individual names, including the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., clergymen, university faculty members, members of Congress, university publications editors, school teachers, radio commentators.

The library also puts out and mails propaganda tracts, such as one to prove that Polish atrocities against Germans caused the war.

They have been successful in getting their statements, including those in special books, reprinted in the Congressional Record, and distributed at public expense.

Among these were writing criticizing the FBI for exposing "fifth column" activities!

Viereck's work in this field, important as it is to Hitler, is secondary to Viereck's work in toning down Nazi propaganda to fit the palate of leaders of U. S. opinion, to whom it is fed by word of mouth through such persons as Westrick, and by slick paper monotones mailed to selected lists.

Thanks to Viereck, this vital Hitler propaganda seems superficially harmless, legal, even praiseworthy, to millions of Americans.

So it is not surprising such persons as Charles A. Lindbergh and James D. Mooney publicly parrot the same propaganda message as Hitler's short-wave radio.

Moreover, everything they have done has been perfectly legal. Hitler boasts that he can spread his power everywhere because the democracies are too dumb to prevent his propagandists from conquering before a shot is fired.

Everything Lindbergh said and Mooney said along the same lines as Hitler's propaganda for this country has been perfectly legal. It is clear they have not violated the federal statute against treason. But the two men have done more for Hitler than all his Bunds and spies here.

LINDBERGH, MOONEY

Lindbergh is an American idol. Despite his half dozen outbursts favorable to Hitler, he may have been until recently the most popular man in the United States next to President Roosevelt. His prestige, then, was tremendous. He holds a commission as a flying colonel in the U. S. Army reserve.

PM has shown how, sentence by sentence, Lindbergh's recent radio talk paralleled official German propaganda broadcasts.

Of all Americans, only Roosevelt could have done Hitler a greater propaganda favor.

Mooney, relatively unknown to the public, has distributed similar ideas.

Mooney is also a reserve officer, a lieutenant-commander in the U. S. Navy, and occupies a key position in U. S. defense, as liaison and defense production man for General Motors.

SOCIAL JUSTICE

More than 100 Hitlerite propaganda publications here were hammering away at the same thing — one of the loudest and most persistent Father Coughlin's Social Justice, in which official Nazi propaganda is continually parroted.

In the June 10 issue of Social Justice, Father Coughlin gave the entire back page to adulation of Senator Johnson of Colorado. In the same issue Coughlin's page one headline was "American Nations Need to Begin Peace Plans.'

On June 10 Senator Johnson introduced into the Congressional Record the full text of Mooney's speech.

Then the Congressional Record publication was reprinted at private cost, but distributed at taxpayers' cost.

Thus, at a time when every possible means was being used to get President Roosevelt to intervene to bring peace — which would be a Hitler peace — the Congressional Record was distributing similar sentiments.

Asked by PM, Senator Johnson said he did not remember who paid for the reprinting, and that the speech had originally been sent to him by somebody in Chicago. He said he would look into it. He is for peace, and thought the speech was all right because it was for peace, he said.

Mooney also paid to have the talk reprinted in pamphlet form, and widely distributed.

But that apparently was not enough.

The Saturday Evening Post claims the largest audience of any U. S. periodical. One of the Post's largest single sources of income is from General Motors. In the Post of Aug. 3, Mooney's talk, considerably bolder in amplification, was republished.

(Mr. Paynter quotes part of the Mooney article and goes on to say:)

This is almost precisely what the German short-wave radio has been saying to Americans for two months except that England's plight is depicted somewhat more delicately by Mooney. And Hitler does not call the English "Our friends."

It is almost precisely what Westrick told Mooney two or three months ago.

I know, because I heard Westrick say it, then. At the time, I was a financial writer on the staff of The Associated Press.

LESS DELAY IN AIR RAID NEWS TO NORTH AMERICA

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP).—Alfred Duff Cooper, Minister of Information, promised the House of Commons today there would be less delay in the future in allowing news accounts of German air raids to reach North America.

He said the delays were due to "rules which were made at a time when it was expected that official communiques would be issued more promptly than has so far been the case." That situation is being remedied.

B. C. Minister of Labor Sets Hours of Work Policy

VICTORIA, Aug. 22 (CP). — A policy on the administration of Hours of Work laws to meet the labor situation created by war effort activity was laid down today by Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor.

Object of the policy is to promote the absorption in industry of the unemployed group not now receiving relief and at the same time to assist employers who find a lack of skilled labor in some trades.

Mr. Pearson said the Province has not reached the point where there is a shortage of labor with the exception of a few skilled trades. In recent weeks, however, his department had received an unusual number of applications for overtime work from employers who prefer to work their present employees extra hours, rather than employ new men.

The Minister laid down a threefold policy to meet the situation.

1. All applications for overtime permits will be personally examined by the Minister himself. Firms wanting to work overtime will be encouraged where possible to put on extra shifts instead of using overtime, thus employing more men.

2. Both employers and workmen will be asked to keep in contact with Government employment offices which can act as clearing houses by getting full reports on the labor that is needed and that which is available.

3. Employers will be urged to consider the cases of men who may need a little instruction before they can give full service.

Increased Shipping Rates Still Lower Than in Last War

LONDON, Aug. 22 (CP) — War risk shipping insurance rates, increased Monday to 20 per cent of valuation in certain sea areas, still are lower on the whole than those during the last war, London Insurance circles said today.

Even in Germany's unrestricted submarine campaign of 1917 rates never rose above 20 per cent, one informant said, but he added that the present rates generally are lower than in 1914-18 "because Germany has no navy to speak of and her attempts to blockade Britain by bombs have failed."

It was learned the maximum rate announced Monday, applies to cargoes travelling between one small area of England and Eire, Northern Ireland and parts of America, West Africa North of the Equator, and the Canary Islands, and on voyages to Australia and the Orient, not via the Mediterranean.

U.S. Exports Gain War Demands

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (AP). — War demands for airplanes, steel, machinery and other vital military supplies boosted United States exports 35 per cent to a $3,372,000,000 total in the first 10 months of the second Great War.

The Commerce Department reported today that shipments from Sept. 1, 1939 to June 30, 1940, went in large quantities to the major parts of the British Empire, Latin America and the Far East. Gains in these territories overbalanced lost markets in the countries occupied by Germany and blockaded by Great Britain.

American imports increased 19 per cent over the 1939 figures for the same period, and totalled $2,097,000,000.

Although France, Italy, Scandinavia and the Mediterranean countries were open to American goods for substantial parts of the 10-month period, the gain in British purchasing made the Empire the outlet for 37.2 per cent of all the goods sent abroad. This proportion was growing steadily, moreover, and in June reached 46.2 per cent.

The period saw the export of $183,100,000 worth of airplanes, mostly all to Britain and France, or three times the amount in the corresponding months last year. While shipments of firearms and ammunition did not get under way seriously until the end of the period, they totalled $36,600,000 or more than five times as much as last year.

Similarly shipments of metals, mostly steel but also including large quantities of aluminum and copper, jumped to $582,100,000 in the 10 months, compared with $307,300,000 in the similar 1939 period. Machinery exports jumped from $412,300,000 to $544,200,000, chemicals from $115,900,000 to $163,100,000, and textile fibres and products from $241,300,000 to $451,100,000.

Exports of grain, vegetables and fruit, however, dropped from $315,100,000 to $188,800,000, and meat and lard shipments fell from $42,400,000 to 39,600,000$.

French Govt. Fixes '40 Wheat Crop Price

VICHY France, Aug. 22 (AP).—The French Government fixed the price for wheat from the 1940 crop today at 214 francs a quintal.

(At pre-armistice rates of exchange, this would be $1 to $1.22 a bushel. There are no dealings in the franc now.)

The price applies to all of France not under Nazi occupation.

The Government set an additional charge of two francs a quintal a month for storage and other expenses and agreed to advance funds necessary for these expenses to farmers during 1940 and 1941.

This move was one in a series designed to prevent speculation in sorely-needed products this Winter when an acute shortage of many materials is expected.

Chicago Wheat Prices React to Buying

CHICAGO, Aug. 22 (AP)—A renewal of mill buying of wheat to fill coming flour requirements today helped to lift wheat prices more than a cent a bushel here, carrying the market to a level more than four cents above the 1940 lows reached last Friday.

Strength in securities and reports of below freezing temperatures last night in parts of the Canadian wheat belt attracted trade attention. Damage to Canadian crops, however, was not expected to be great as harvesting is well advanced in the affected areas.

$1,000,000 Cost of Registration

OTTAWA, Aug. 22 (CP). — The cost of taking the National Registration of approximately 8,000,000 Canadian residents, completed in three days this week, was about $1,000,000, Mr. Justice T. C. Davis, Associate Minister of National War Services said tonight.

With obvious satisfaction he set this against the cost of the last general election, about $3,000,000. The staff required for registration, he said, was also considerably larger than that needed in an election and it was here that the value of the contributions of voluntary workers came in.

Three constituencies, he said, Regina, Ottawa West and Lincoln, Ont., had already reported they had carried out registration on a completely voluntary basis and that costs had been paid, "and there will be lots more like them."

War Services Minister James G. Gardiner issued a statement expressing appreciation of volunteer efforts and general public cooperation.

"I wish to publicly thank the citizens of Canada for their splendid support of this tremendous undertaking," Mr. Gardiner said.

LONDON (CP)—Foreign cheeses are disappearing from British menus and the absence of the popular French and Italian cheeses is a reminder that Canada's famous Oka cheese is an offspring of the First Great War. The Canadian industry was established after Port-Salut cheese was unobtainable.

DERBY, England (CP)—Railway engineers have received instructions to continue their journeys as far as possible but at reduced speeds in event of air raids. Passengers may alight at the nearest station if they desire.

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa (CP)— Passenger trains will be more fully loaded so that wartime exigencies may be met, it was announced here recently.

Labor Board Recommends Increase in Wages, Rates of Algoma Steel

OTTAWA, Aug. 22 (CP).—Labor Minister Norman McLarty tonight gave out findings of a board of Conciliation and Investigation that dealt with disputes between the Algoma Steel Corporation, Ltd., and three different categories of its employees.

A unanimous report was brought in by the Board in respect to the Corporation's dispute with employees in the Algoma Steel Workers Union.

The Board recommended a general increase of 8½ cents an hour and proportionate increases in tonnage rates. Moreover employees receiving less than $125 a month should, in the opinion of the Board, receive two cents an hour increase, and those in receipt of between $125 and $150 a month one cent.

With reference to the railway employees, the Board stated it could find no justification for interfering with the present rate of structure of the corporation. It recommends, however, that they be considered as maintenance employees and receive the same two per cent increase as the latter.

For all employees, the Board recommended a war bonus be paid if an increase in the cost of living from the date on which both parties accept this remuneration shows an increase of five per cent in a period of six months from the said date; Labor Gazette index numbers (all items) to be the guide to determine whether the increased cost of living has reached five per cent or more.

The first revision shall be Feb. 1, 1941, and shall be based on a comparison with the cost of living at Aug. 1, 1940, the report said. Subsequent revisions to be Aug. 1 and Feb. 1 of each year, and said bonuses to be revised downward should the cost of living show a decrease on any of the revision dates on the same basis. No revision to affect the basic wage rate.
