Armed Cruiser Liner Is Sunk in Atlantic

NAZIS REPORTED LINING UP ARMY ON NEW COASTS

Practise Operations in Preparation for Invasion

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP Cable)—Germany is seeking mastery of the air in Britain in what she hopes will pave the way for an invasion probably from Norway and the Netherlands, qualified sources said tonight.

These sources said the Nazis have troop concentrations both in Norway and along the coast of Holland awaiting the signal to move.

The armed men have been placed in isolated spots, it was stated, and have been practicing combined operations with the naval forces.

Whether they will be utilized as a military force to operate against this country seems to be predicated on whether the Luftwaffe can gain mastery in Britain's skies or at least dislocate temporarily the air defences—something it has failed to achieve in almost a week of steady mass raids.

There was no official explanation for the comparative lull in air operations today—the fourth successive day of mass attacks along coastal points and in the Midlands—but no one considered it more than a pause.

No matter in what form Hitler attempts to subjugate this country, whether by invasion or air blockade he must obtain—at least temporarily—control of the air.

During the last few days he has been feeling out Britain's air defences in what may be considered moderately heavy attacks, but so far he has not had anything like the success he must have if he is planning a full scale invasion.

Because of Hitler's failure to gain air supremacy over Britain, the pause may denote that other tactics will be tried.

Over 300 Saved, 30 to 40 Lost; Seventh Largest Sunk

TRANSYLVANIA OF CRUISING FAME

LONDON, Aug. 15 (Thursday) (CP)—The 16,923-ton armed merchant cruiser Transylvania—once a popular West Indies cruise ship running out of New York—has been torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine somewhere in the Atlantic.

The British Government had taken her over from the Cunard Anchor Line.

The Transylvania was the seventh largest liner to be sunk during the war.

Between 30 and 40 sailors were believed lost due to lifeboats capsizing in choppy seas. More than 300 officers and men were saved and landed at a West coast port.

Most of the rescue work was done by ships that picked up distress signals and dashed to the stricken liner. The liner kept afloat almost four hours.

The commander of the ship, Capt. F. N. Miles, was among those saved. Many had remarkable escapes. The ship's cat also was brought ashore.

One seaman said he was in a lifeboat that capsized, managed to get into another—which sank. He finally reached a steady third one.

Most of the seamen were from Glasgow and West Scotland. The date of the sinking was not disclosed.

Dominion Status for India Is Aim of Britain-Amery

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP).—L. C. S. Amery, Secretary for India, told the House of Commons today dominionship for India is the goal of Britain's policy and one that an "efficient" all-India Congress would do well to welcome.

"Dominion status as it is commonly described, or, as I prefer to call it—free and equal partnership in the British Commonwealth—is not as is so often suggested an inferior status," Mr. Amery said, opening the debate on India.

"Many independent nations are not free to live their lives as they will. They are overrun or dismembered by more powerful neighbors.

"We in the British Commonwealth enjoy the security, prosperity and friendship which is the result of our free and equal association. There is no higher status in the world than that and that is the status we have declared to be the goal of our policy in India."

Mr. Amery was followed by C. G. Ammon, Labor, who congratulated the Government on its policy and said it is now up to India to cooperate.

• The House of Lords also debated and heard Viscount Samuels, Liberal, former High Commissioner for Palestine, declare the "issue cannot be settled here and to attempt to settle it here would be contrary to the principles of the Congress itself." It was not possible to agree to the Congress proposals in the face of the passionate protest from the Moslems, he added.

Crops, Plants Hit by Raging Rivers in U.S.; Many Die

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 14 (AP)—Ramouging rivers brought death and destruction today to four Southern States.

Abnormally heavy rainfall in the wake of a hurricane that battered the South Carolina-Georgia coast Sunday sent the swift streams swirling out of their banks washing out highways and bridges, destroying lowland crops and causing millions of dollars damage to industrial plants along their banks, and driving hundreds of persons from their homes.

At least 13 deaths were attributed to the floods.

A 100-foot washout of Asheville's principal water main forced this tourists' mecca of 51,000 to use sparingly water from a single reservoir.

Decision Later in Dentistry Case

VANCOUVER, Aug. 14— Justice D. A. MacDonald reserved decision in Supreme Court here today in a renewal of the case to determine the right of dentists outside British Columbia to advertise in Provincial newspapers.

Action upon which decision was reserved was the application of the B. C. College of Dental Surgeons, which is suing in the name of the Attorney-General for an interim order prohibiting the Nelson Daily News from publishing advertisements of Dr. David Cowen of Spokane, Wash.

The Nelson paper is a co-defendant with Dr. Cowen in the second suit in two years by the Dental College to stop him from advertising in British Columbia.

In the earlier case the Appeal Court of British Columbia and the Supreme Court of Canada both found in favor of Dr. Cowen. The B. C. Dental Council then last Fall secured an amendment to the B.C. Dentistry Act under which no dentist outside of British Columbia whether in Canada or elsewhere, may advertise in this Province. The new amendment is very broad. It would go as far as to prohibit a newspaper from another Province of Canada which contained a dental advertisement from being circulated in this Province.

In the present case, the Dental Council is represented by R. L. Maitland, K.C., and the defendants by Senator J. W. deB. Farris. It is contended that the new law is ultra vires.

Plan Further Probe Into Lineman Death

PORT ALBERNI, B. C., Aug. 14 (CP).—Indications that Robert Wilson, 45, Government telegraph lineman, whose body was found floating in San Mateo Bay, Alberni Canal, Monday, did not die from drowning were revealed in an autopsy performed here by Dr. C. W. Pitts, Coroner.

Dr. Pitts reported today that further investigations are being made.

Joy Joins Canadian Scottish; Kay Lowdon Will Succeed Him

Arthur R. Joy, for seven years Nelson Daily News representative in Trail, has enlisted in the Canadian Scottish and will leave shortly for Victoria.

One of the well known newspapermen in Kootenay, Mr. Joy before becoming a member of the Nelson Daily News staff on May 13, 1933, was for four years on the staff of the Journal of Commerce in Vancouver.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Joy of Nelson, Mr. Joy was educated in Nelson. His first job was as a deckhand on the steamer Kuskanook. He then went to Vancouver, where for a short time he was an usher at the Capitol Theatre. Next he went into journalism, on the staff of the Journal of Commerce.

He left the Journal of Commerce to go to Trail as Manager of the Liberty Theatre, then operated by the DeWeese interests. Soon after Famous Players took it over Mr. Joy returned to newspaper work as Trail representative of the Nelson Daily News.

He will shortly be succeeded in Trail by Miss Kay Lowdon, for more than a year Daily News representative at Rossland.

BUDAPEST, Aug. 14 (AP) — A Hungarian delegation is leaving by Danube steamship for the Rumanian-Yugoslav frontier to talk with Rumanian representatives this coming weekend on a Transylvanian settlement, it was officially stated today.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 15 (AP)—A woman was killed and seven persons were injured last night in a burst of gunfire as Congressional candidates of opposing factions prepared for preliminary sessions late today to organize for opening of Congress September 1.

Persons Out of Own Constituency May Register at Nearest Station

Persons, who because of business or other arrangements, will be out of their own constituency during the registration period of August 19, 20, 21 for the National Registration under the Mobilization Act, may register at the nearest polling station to where they are located, C. B. Garland, West Kootenay Registrar, explained Wednesday. This explanation was in answer to a number of queries received from persons who do not expect to be at home at that time.

An explanation must be given the deputy registrar in charge of the station at which they register, however, when registering at other than the regular polling subdivision of their own constituency.

ALL OVER 16

All men and women of Canada over the age of 16 years are required to register under the Act. This corrects a slip made in Wednesday's issue. Employers are prohibited from employing any person over 16 who has not registered, by August 21.

Registration offices will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. on the three days.

Greece Believed Rallying Forces Against Italian Move

Today Last Day for Volunteers

OTTAWA, Aug. 14 (CP).—Tomorrow is the last day, for some time to come at least, on which a man can volunteer for service in the non-permanent active militia of Canada. After that men who wish to serve in the non-permanent army must wait until the Government calls them.

Canadians anxious to wear a uniform of course, will still be able to volunteer for the Canadian Active Service Force, the air force or the navy.

Service in these, however, is a full-time job and may take the volunteer anywhere in the world whereas service in the militia is part time and, limited to Canada, under declarations of Government policy.

U. S. Senate Adopts Amendment Raising Basic Army Pay $9

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Taking its first specific action during the present conscription debate, the United States Senate today adopted an amendment to the draft bill raising the basic army pay from $21 to $30 a month.

Critics of conscription have repeatedly urged such an increase arguing it would speed up enlistments and help provide manpower for the army by the volunteer method, with no need for conscription. Administration forces endorsed the idea.

BOAT HOUSE, CAR DEPOT LOST IN VANCOUVER FIRE

WEST VANCOUVER, B. C. Aug. 14 (CP)—Fire destroyed a boat house and automobile depot at Horshoe Bay, resort six miles West of here, this afternoon.

Premier Spends Hours With Army Head and Cabinet

ATHENS, Greece, Aug. 14 (AP)—Premier John Metaxas conferred for hours tonight with his army chief of staff and members of his Cabinet and foreign observers believed Greece's defences were being prepared should Italy climax with a military threat from Albania her press campaign against his country.

Although tomorrow is a national religious holiday, hundreds of Government officials made plans to work as usual—despite lack of any mobilization order.

The Government-controlled press answered with hot words the attacks of Italian newspapers, using the terms "wilful distortion of facts . . . slanderous campaign. . . evil manifestation."

Some Government officials privately drew a parallel between the Italian press campaign and that launched by German newspapers before the Nazi invasion of Poland, Norway, Belgium and Holland.

Germany and Italy apparently are not only demanding this country break away from Great Britain—which has guaranteed to support Greek independence against attack—but German quarters said the Italian Minister has insisted as well that Greece enter directly into Italy's sphere of influence.

Metaxas' night conferences with the Chief of Staff, General Papgos, and his Ministers were without precedent for him. They followed a crowded day in which he received the German and Italian Ministers and talked for two hours with Government officials.

There were authoritative reports hundreds of Albanians living in the Ioannina district have been arrested by Greek police on charges of plotting against Greek rule. The Italian press has asserted Ioannina is rightfully a part of Albania, now encompassed in the Fascist Empire.

Athlone Pleased With Canadians

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CAMP BORDEN, Ont., Aug. ← (CP).—Under a blazing sun, the Earl of Athlone toured this huge military camp and air station for 5½ hours today and put a soldierly stamp of approval on the Canadian troops training here.

The Governor-General hustled about the camp by car and foot seeing everything from the army cooking school to Bren machine gun practice.

It was His Excellency's second visit to a Canadian military camp, his first being a trip to Petawawa, and he told senior officers of Camp Borden he was much impressed with the efficiency and enthusiasm shown by the bronzed young fighting men.

Bamford, Nomads Gifts Lift Bomber Fund $1050 Mark

From W. B. Bamford, well known Nelson citizen, and from Officers, Members and Drill Team of El Kootenai Santha No. 59, Nomads of Avrudaka, Nelson, came Wednesday two $50 subscriptions to swell the Nelson and District Bomber Fund to $1050.

The contributions were the twentieth and twenty-first to the patriotic fund, instigated by Alfred Moore, West Arm Resident, in mid-July. The money will go toward the purchase of a piece of war equipment as a special contribution to Canada's war effort from Nelson and District.

Newfoundland Bases to Strengthen

OTTAWA, Aug. 14 (CP)—Newfoundland's strategically placed land and sea airplane bases at Gander Lake and Botwood, guarded by Canadian troops since early in the war, will be strengthened by the expenditure of close to $1,000,000 by the Canadian Government in the near future, Air Minister Power announced tonight.

Major Power will leave Sunday for a survey of the Eastern command including the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland in his capacity as Minister of National Defence for Air.

The Minister will examine progress of defence activities in the land sea and air services.

The Minister discussed his plans at a Press conference when he told of steps taken to provide adequate defence by Canadians of the $16,000,000 aerodrome at Gander Lake in Newfoundland, and the nearby seaplane base at Botwood.

Flashes Seen, Big Explosions Heard Across the Channel

Nazis Resume Attacks at Dawn Though Night Raids Light; Home Guards Searching for Parachutists; 30 Parachutes Found

By SAM ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SOUTHEAST COAST OF ENGLAND, Aug. 15 (Thursday)—(CP Cable).—Britain's Royal Air Force today smashed back at German-occupied France for the raids carried out on this island fortress during Wednesday.

Long after midnight the sounds of air raid sirens wailing along the French coast carried across the Channel told that British bombers were in action.

Giant flashes that lit the sky were visible from the balcony outside the window of my hotel on the English Coast.

Flashes could be seen at several points along 20 miles of the French coast. Searchlights stabbing the darkness in search of the British raiders reached towards the sky like giant fountains.

The dull "karump" made by high explosive bombs were distinctly audible from across the channel as the steady drone of airplanes could be heard overhead.

Searchlights along the English coast drew protective patterns in the inky blackness of the sky.

One hour after the first flash of white light indicated that a British bomb was bursting on enemy territory tiny stabs of light from anti-aircraft guns showed that the British attack was still continuing.

During 60 minutes of deathly drama I counted just more than 100 bomb flashes along the coast of France the Nazis occupy. That is about five times the number of bombs dropped within my hearing in Southeast England today.

A bright red glow similar to the crescent over a half-risen sun suddenly appeared across the Channel. It seemed some distance inside the French mainland and indicated that British bombers had struck a vital target.

LONDON, Aug. 15 (Thursday)—(CP).—New flights of German warplanes were heard over Northern England and Scotland today while in the South the Royal Air Force launched its own pre-dawn blows at 100 miles of the German-held coast of France.

The R.A.F. bombed objectives apparently between Calais and Le Havre for at least an hour without letup.

There were no reports of bombings immediately in Northwestern England and North and South Scotland where German planes were heard overhead. British sources said intensity of the Nazi night attacks had fallen off.

Throughout the night home guard forces afoot and in armored cars kept up a search of the Midland and Scottish countryside for possible German parachutists.

The search stemmed from the finding of German-marked parachutes, 17 in wooded sections of the Midlands, 17 in Southwestern Scotland and five in Western Scotland but the Ministry of Home Security said no other evidence had been found and there was no trace of any Germans who might have landed.

Some observers said the 'chutes might only be a "scare" scheme.

Yesterday's Nazi attacks were aimed at South coast cities—Southampton, Dover and Hastings—while German vessels moved stealthily about the English Channel in what might be preparations for an attempt to ferry an invading army to British shores.

Eleven German airmen were reported captured in the Midlands, but nothing was said of this in the reports dealing with the abandoned parachutes.

The Royal Air Force, far from hampered by the need for defending home skies, extended its raids on the continent Tuesday night to include Italy, and struck damaging blows at aircraft factories in four Axis cities—Dessau and Bernburg in Germany, Turin and Milan in Italy. German munitions plants were bombed at Lunen and Grevenbroich.

Struck by British bombers, too, were objectives in Germany's industrial Ruhr and 14 airdromes in German and German-held territory.

The Nazi raiders struck in serried waves, dropping bombs over the Southeast and Southern coast, in the Southwest, the Midlands and even in Wales. But the Channel ports again were the principal targets.

The Air Ministry announced that in a day of attack and counter-attack in the skies 26 German planes had gone down in flames and four British fighting craft had been lost.

At Dover, the Nazis tried to down barrage balloons, set up to protect the coast; at Southampton they poured down high-explosive bombs, at least one of which damaged a slowly moving train; several fatalities were reported at Hastings.

C.N.R. ENGINEER DIES

WINNIPEG, Aug. 14 (CP)—Edgar Murray McCheyne Hill, 58, Chief Engineer for the Western region of the Canadian National Railways, died today.

Mystery Plane Crashes at Coast

COURTENAY, B. C., Aug. 14 (CP).—An unidentified airplane crashed into the waters of Discovery Passage near here late today.

The yacht Southern Cross, two halibut boats and the British Columbia Provincial Police boat from Campbell River went to the scene.

The Southern Cross is owned by the Swedish industrialist, Axel Wener-Gren, and it was among the boats that effected rescues from the torpedoed liner Athenia.

Information here said the fish boat Patcosh out of Seattle saw a plane flying high in the area earlier but that the plane was too high to identify its markings.

Later, after the report of the crash was received, a gas boat picked up a pontoon with red bands on it.

States and B. C. Fire Fighters Flee Spreading Creston Blaze

Twisters Carry Fire Over Guards; Others in Better Shape

B. C. Forest Branch and United States fire fighters today will make another attempt to halt the spread of the raging Corn Creek forest blaze, East of Creston, from which they were forced to escape Wednesday when high winds sent it flaming and crackling, over the fire guards.

Over 175 U. S. fire fighters aided the Canadian crews on the South side of the forest conflagration that Monday destroyed a house and three barns of the West Creston settlement, and early in July, when it first broke out, threatened the settlement. The fighters had established a trench, but the high winds and "twisters" along the fire line caused the blaze to "blow up" over guards. On the Boundary Creek side the men were forced to come out to escape the flames. The fire was reported in "good shape" on the North side and all lines were holding, as were guard lines on the fires on Arrow Creek in the Creston vicinity.

MAKING PROGRESS

In other areas, fire fighting crews were making progress generally. A new fire about two miles Northwest of Cranbrook was brought partially under control and the crew expected to have it completely controlled by today. Fire on True Blue Mountain near Kaslo was "in very good shape," lines were holding and progress was being made against the blaze.

Lynch Creek fire in the Boundary was reported by Forest Branch officials to "be going strong", but was located high up the mountain and in an old burn, where little material damage could be done. No report was received from the Gable Creek fire also in the Boundary. A crew of 65 was working on this outbreak.

Fire conditions in the Nelson area were good, the Grohman Creek fire giving little trouble as it was travelling high in barren, rocky country. It was efficiently blocked on the lower end to prevent any possible downward spread.

Dora Perasso Recruits Young Women for Voluntary Training Corps Here

Colonel Asks for Those Interested in First Aid, Mechanics

Formation of a proposed Women's Voluntary Training Corps at Nelson has been instigated by Miss Dora Perasso, and already several young women have enrolled for the organization while others have expressed a willingness to join. Movement to organize the Corps followed receipt of a letter from M. Preston Harris, Colonel of the Coastal Women's Training Corps, in which Miss Perasso wrote to enlist.

Miss Perasso, a motor mechanic herself, is especially interested in that branch of training through the proposed organization. She already has seven recruits signed and has several enquiring about the matter.

The letter follows:

". . . Your letter was very interesting and I feel that if you could possibly get about 25 or 30 persons interested in first aid, anti-gas or motor mechanics, and transport driving, I may possibly consider forming a Women's Voluntary Corps at Nelson.

"Would appreciate an early reply, with names of possible recruits.

Yours truly. . . ."

Applications of recruits for the Corps will be received by Miss Perasso, who explains that if the Corps is successful in its organization, it will probably follow the same lines of training as the Coastal Women's Voluntary Training Corps.

Redmen Trounce Nelson Maple Leafs 18-6 in Lacrosse Game in Golden City

ROSSLAND, B. C., Aug. 14—Rossland Redmen trounced the Nelson Maple Leafs 18-6 in a West Kootenay Lacrosse League game on the Rossland floor Wednesday night.

The game looked like a shutout for the opening six minutes with both teams working hard and the two goalies backing their efforts with superb netminding. Ernie Carkner's counter was scored at 6:10 to draw first blood, and his goal was followed by a cluster of Rossland tallies which left the score standing at 4-0 at quarter time.

In spite of serious attacks on their goal, the Redmen piled in another seven goals in the second period, with Nelson's first tally coming from Dingwall.

It was during the third that the ball disappeared after Art Hill shot Nelson's second goal past Sapronoff. A general hunt showed the ball lodged in the Rossland goalies' pads.

With the score standing at 13-3 for Rossland, the opening of the last period started with another deadlock which a pass from Gibbons put out two lights in front of his goal. Time out was called while the two clubs searched for broken glass, and the lights were replaced.

Ralph Scott broke the non-scoring streak his goal beating Gibbons at 4:33. He hurled in Rossland's seventeenth goal a minute later, and Jorgenson scored the last counter, and the game ended after Townsend had added one and Mayo two more for the Leafs.

Henry Cotton Puts Away His Golf Clubs; Wants to Make Good in War Job

By DOUGLAS AMARON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, (CP). — Henry Cotton has put away his golf clubs for the duration to join the Royal Air Force as an Acting Pilot Officer.

Twice winner of the British open championship and one of the Empire's greatest golfers over a long period of years, Cotton has entered the administrative and special duties branch of the Royal Air Force. He volunteered for service several months ago but only recently was called up.

Unlike Sydney Wooderson, a private of less than a month in the Pioneer Corps, Cotton does not intend to remain active in sport. Wooderson, holder of the world outdoor record for the mile run, plans to race whenever possible, but Cotton says he is leaving his clubs at home.

"I am going to concentrate on my job in the Air Force," he said, "and I only hope I can make as much of a success of my new job as I have of golf."

F. S. Dornan, a Scot from Poland who barely escaped with his life from the Nazi invasion of that country, has been appointed professional at the Ashbridge Club where Cotton was engaged. Cotton made the appointment himself and Dornan will remain at Ashbridge until the British ace returns.

Since September, Cotton has been playing in a series of charity matches throughout Britain. Including one of his last matches, when he and J. E. Gent defeated the present open champion, Dick Burton and Bill Shankland 3 and 1, the series has realized £21,000 ($102,350) for the Red Cross.

Pam Barton, now a full fledged ambulance driver, Alfred Padgham and many other prominent British golfers have taken part in these matches, but poker-faced, eccentric Cotton has been the big attraction.

Many extra pounds have been collected through his appeals to the crowd to toss money on the greens in return for an exhibition of putting, and the sale of his autographed golf balls has been another large source of revenue.

Check Discharges From the Bowels
Bowel troubles, although happening at any time of the year, are more prevalent during the hot summer and early fall months.
Summer Flu is one of the worst troubles, but diarrhea, dysentery, colic, cramps and pains in the intestines, or any looseness of the bowels should have immediate attention.
The action of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is pleasant, rapid, reliable and effectual in helping to check the unnatural discharges.
It has been on the market for the past 94 years, so why experiment with new and untried remedies?

Defective Equipment Reported Sent Army

OTTAWA, Aug. 14 (CP)—In the first statement issued since taking over the post of Acting Master General of the Ordnance, Philip A. Chester tonight said an investigation is being made of reports, cabled from London to some Canadian newspapers, that defective mechanical transport and web equipment all the same size had been delivered to Canadian troops in England.

Mr. Chester said a statement of facts would be issued tomorrow morning.

The cabled reports from London said examination of army supplies and equipment sent from Canada for Canadian troops reveals several instances of "lax inspection methods and plain stupidity."

CUDAHY CLEARED BY U. S. LEADERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP). — Ambassador John Cudahy gained vindication from both President Roosevelt and the United States State Department tonight in a controversy over an unauthorized Press interview he gave in London concerning conditions in Belgium.

After a long talk with the President, Cudahy, Ambassador to Belgium, said he had been authorized to say "that I received no rebuke and none was intended."

Later he spent an hour with Sumner Welles, Acting Secretary of State, who previously had declared the envoy violated "standing instructions" of the State Department.

After this meeting, Cudahy left the talking to Welles except to say the discussion had been satisfactory and he had made a full report on conditions in Belgium.

Welles then announced that no rebuke had been administered, that Cudahy would take a vacation and that the incident is closed so far as the State Department is concerned. Welles said Cudahy had told him some Press reports on his London interview had misquoted him in many important particulars.

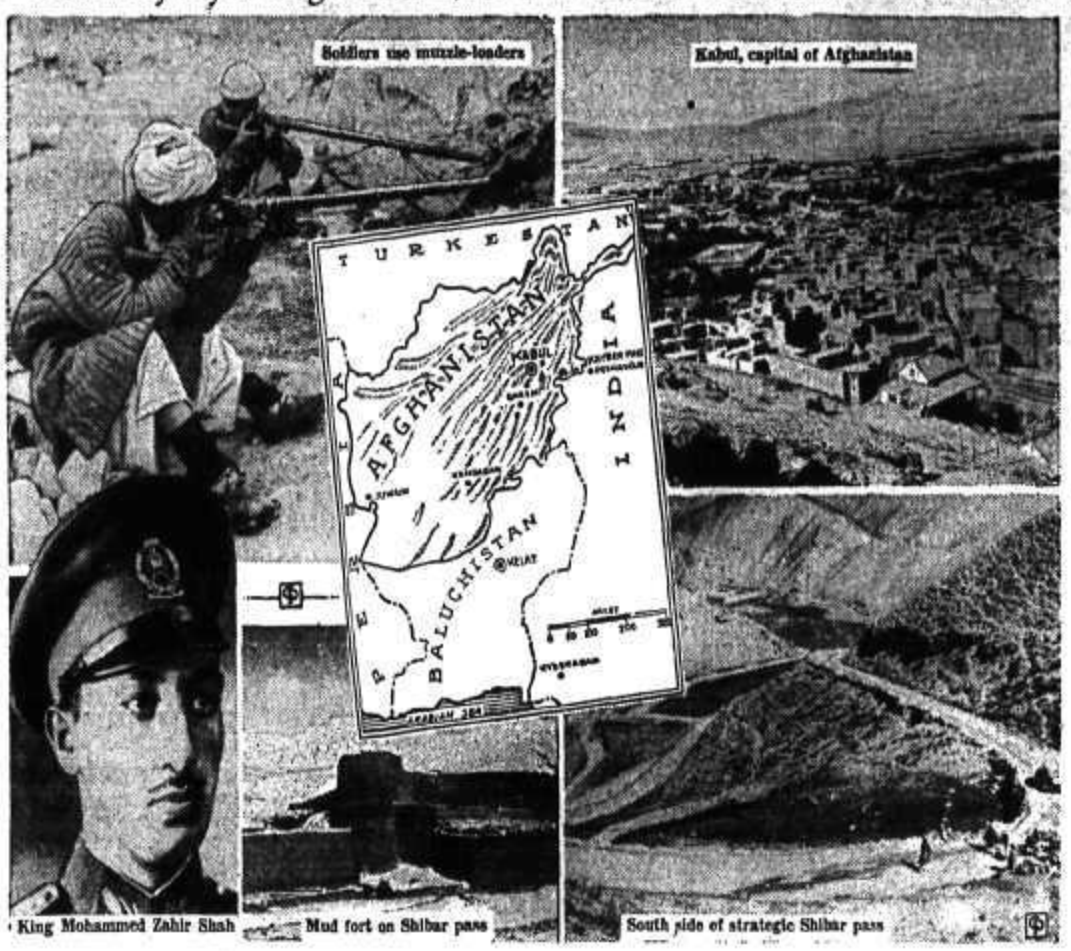
Germany Eyes Afghanistan, Athwart Road From Russia to India



Reliable reports have told of brewing trouble in remote Afghanistan, which lies athwart the only motor road from India to Soviet Russia. The road winds tortuously through Shibar pass, around hairpin turns, up steep grades, and is guarded by a series of mud forts. The reports say that German agents—natives, Germans and Poles and Czechs posing as refugees—have promised political leaders in the country to enlarge and equip the out-dated Afghanistan army of 100,000 men and to supply German experts to train it. King Mohammed Zahir Shah, 26, who succeeded to the throne in 1933 when his father was assassinated, would be replaced at the helm of Government by his uncle, Sirdar Ahmed Shah Khan, who would rule as dictator of a totalitarian state, according to reports.

When news came that the armed ship Alcantara had engaged an armed German sea raider, the wife of the captain of the Alcantara, Mrs. Ingham, took it in stride and continued with her Red Cross work. The Alcantara lost a funnel and suffered two holes in her hull, but she managed to chase the enemy vessel, inflicting damages the extent of which it is difficult to check.

Injured Girl Rescued From Mountain

Anne Cedarquist, 22, mountain climber of Shelton, Wash., is about to be carried to safety from a narrow ledge 6000 feet up the precipitous slope of Mt. Shuksan where she lay injured nearly 24 hours. She was brought back to civilization by stretcher.

The Laugh's on Adolf

This is how at least one Briton reacted to the pamphlets dropped by German planes in flights over Southern and Southwestern England the night of Aug. 1. WAR ACTIVITY AT HIGH MARK IN MARITIMES

HALIFAX, Aug 15 (CP)—As Canada's second front line the Maritime Provinces probably see more of warlike activity, on the sea, on land and in the air than any other part of Canada.

Canada's first defence line is Overseas in and around the British Isles but if fighting ever comes to the home territory it will probably start with a blow at one or all of the Eastern ports.

Out of these ports men from all parts of Canada have sailed and will sail for the battle areas Overseas and out of them in ever-increasing quantities as Canadian industry swings into high speed war production move the weapons and materials of war.

The safeguarding of these outlets was and is one of the key jobs in Canada's war program and the first spurt of war activity related to this task.

Fighting ships of the Canadian Navy from the West coast and some from the Royal Navy joined the Canadian Atlantic destroyer fleet on the outbreak of war. Air squadrons moved into the Atlantic Provinces ready for action and an alert watch was set up at coast defence batteries guarding vulnerable points.

On the outbreak of war Maritime ports became closed harbors. That means NO ship may enter until it has passed inspection and satisfied naval authorities of its good intentions.

Along with the progressive strengthening of local defences has gone the same mobilization of men for Overseas service as characterized the war effort in other parts of Canada. The Maritime Province militia units are well represented in the 1st Division now Overseas and the other three divisions now mobilized.

Units selected trained at their home headquarters and, in recent months at Aldershot camp in the famed Annapolis Valley of Nova Scotia. At Sussex in New Brunswick another regular militia camp was prepared to accommodate large numbers of militiamen during the Summer months.

Maritime Province industries swung into production on clothing and other articles of equipment for the armed forces. The big steel mills on Cape Breton Island may play a large role in providing the metal for other war industries in Canada.

FORCES REPRESENTED

In the Maritime Provinces already there is a naval command and shortly there will be a military command. Headquarters of the Eastern Air Command are at Halifax. From there the flying operations of the coastal defence squadrons in patrolling coastal and nearby waters and escorting convoys in and out of Maritime ports are directed.

The naval command is in charge of Canadian fighting ships, minesweepers and auxiliary vessels in the Atlantic area and works in close collaboration with the Royal Navy.

When the military command is established in the Maritime Provinces shortly, it will have charge of troops concentrated here for training, of coastal defence troops and of the Canadian garrisons stationed in Newfoundland.

The City of Fredericton, capital of New Brunswick, claims the honor of having more sons Overseas with the 1st Division in proportion to its population than any other city in Canada.

Two field batteries and an infantry battalion recruited there and young men from the city and surrounding farming areas jumped at the chance to don the King's uniform. The city was also a recruiting base for a number of units in the 2nd, 3rd and 4th Divisions.

Seagoing sons of the Maritimes found opportunity to serve the country in the Royal Canadian Navy in large numbers. The knowledge of the bays and coves of the coastline possessed by fishermen was put to use as many of these men found places in the smaller craft used by the navy for patrol purposes.

FRENCH GOV'T. TO PAY BACK PART OF TAX

VICHY, France, Aug. 14 (AP)—The new French Government decided today that unmobilized men of military age had been taxed too heavily during the war and announced a part of the sums collected would be paid back through rebates on future taxes.

The action was taken by making retroactive a reduction in the original extraordinary war tax of 15 per cent levied on wages of this class of workers.

The government had decided several days ago that the tax would be continued on a five per cent basis.

PIRATES LOOT $250,000 CARGO ON BRITISH SHIP

SHANGHAI, Aug. 14 (AP)—A story of piracy and ransom off the Chinese coast was reported today by the British coastal steamship Shen Hwa, halted by junks swarming with sea-rovers and looted of a $250,000 cargo.

Officers said pirates boarded the ship off the coast of Fukien Province Aug. 7. A number of Fukien natives were carried off for ransom. There were no Occidental passengers.

Windsors Will Find War Signs in Bahamas

By FRED L. STROZIER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

NASSAU, Bahamas, Aug. 14 (AP)—Those humorous British placards warning the public against loose talk are pasted all over this peaceful colonial capital just as though the Bahamas were in the midst of an actual belligerent zone.

In public buildings throughout the small colony—the new domain of the Duke of Windsor—are brightly tinted pictures bearing the legend: "Loose talk costs lives."

Such tidbits as the hour for sailing of vessels, weather and other matter of possible military value are strictly taboo.

At several social functions and most other gatherings there is some program for raising funds. A bomber has been purchased for British use with funds from public subscription. Every piece of scrap metal on the islands is being sent back to London for munitions manufacture.

YOUNG WIDOW OPERATES ALASKAN SIX-PLANE AIR LINE

Loneliness . . .

Widow Is Better Off in Own Home

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Reader, what would you advise a widow do under these conditions? She's in modest circumstances and lives in a home where she has reared a family and seen them one by one go out to build their own nests. She has a great sentimental attachment for the old place which is rather shabby but comfortable. She dreads the thought of living with her married sons and daughters, though they have urged her to come to them. She believes that with strict economy she can live on her income but she dreads the loneliness of the empty house.

My honest opinion is that a woman who has spent the best part of her life in one house, that house her own home, can hardly be contented after closing it up and moving away to live with others—even her own children. My honest opinion is that there are many things worse than loneliness, and being homeless is one of them.

Suppose she wrenches herself loose and goes to live with her children, what is she going to do with the time she has spent in home tasks. Maybe for a while emancipation may be sweet, but the emptiness that follows must be bitter. If she has money she may divert herself with travel: new scenes. But most of those wealthy widows that travel carry a ray of hope in their hearts that sometimes, somewhere they will find a haven of peace and rest.

Suppose the children want her and the in-laws don't. Suppose the children resent her meddling in the housekeeping or the discipline of their children. Suppose life in another's home is the anguishing experience it has been to many a mother, wouldn't the loneliness of any empty house one owned be preferable to the bitterness of bread eaten in a house where one was not altogether welcome?

"All things come home at even tide." God pity the oldish woman who has no home to come to.

Coolness . . .

Pine Famous for Soothing Effect

By DONNA GRACE

In our recent advice on keeping cool we forget to remind you of an important relief that goes along with all hot weather aids. It's the pine bath and pine spray. There are lots of fine colognes and toilet waters but when it comes to a real mental and physical uplift, nothing compares with the aroma of pine.

The very thought of a cool shower makes us feel better, but when the same old high temperature continues, the relief seems all too short We can prolong this comfort, however, with the subtle, clean aroma of pine. It does something to soothe the senses and lets us forget our misery.

One may enjoy pine baths the year around. The addition of either pine oil, crystals or spirits to the warm tub makes it ideal. Physicians recommend it for nerve exhaustion and even muscle stiffness.

The pungent pine fragrance has no suggestion of cloying sweetness but imparts a sense of freshness we associate with quiet, shady forests. Men, who are always suspicious of anything that might suggest perfume, love pine in the baths and showers, also the good big pine bath soaps.

The pine oils or crystals may be used in the usual way or one may have the bath with only the pine bath soap and warm water, then follow with a sponging of iced pine spirits.

A good-sized bowl half filled with ice cubes is used for this. Two tablespoons of the pine spirits and a cupful of water will be the mixture. One may use a fresh wash cloth, but we prefer to have a nice large sponge for this toning up. The soap is rinsed off first, then sponge the whole body in the cooling pine. The ice firms the skin and one will step out feeling cool and stimulated.

The generous dusting of powder will add to the comfort and help to retain the comfortable relief for a long time.

Use the pine spirits to spray the rooms. This dispels heavy air but never be too lavish in using perfumed sprays. A little is delightful but unless there is good ventilation heavy sprays may be oppressive.

Don't forget a whiff of ammonia will revive one when even breathing seems too much exertion.

LOVE WITHOUT MUSIC

CHAPTER 17

Linda did not turn her head as Rob mentioned the fact that Mina Nevins was leaving the room in which they were listening to Spanish warblers and sipping cold drinks But as the actress passed she glanced straight at Rob. Her eye held no flicker of recognition. They were cold, so cold they were dead and frightening, Linda told herself.

"An act," Rob said when the haunting illusive perfume that trailed her had blown away. "By the way, what is that tuff? Sarah uses it, too. I don't like it."

Outside the club he bought three gardenias from a flower woman and Linda pinned them against the black neck of her frock. His car was waiting and Linda observed its long, strong lines.

"New?" she asked, seating herself luxuriously.

"I needed one, with Summer coming. This upstate job keeps me commuting between two places. We're trying to build a bridge where a bridge hasn't any right to be. But it's going through. Maybe you'll use it some day."

Maybe she would. Maybe she and Ronald would own a car and go down the long white roads of the land.

"Tell me when Billie Anne comes, and let me take her to lunch," she offered. "Is she pretty?"

"I think so, but I'm prejudiced." He pulled out his wallet and extracted a few pictures from it. "She's the one with the tumbled hair and the big eyes. The other girls with her are my sisters."

Far up the river road the Washington bridge hung in the sky like a slim, silver arc. An early star slipped through the sky and trembled just above it. The world was still. No sounds, no voices, no laughter.

Linda had forgotten that one night Rob had kissed her. The memory had not come back after the first few days. But now it returned, poignant and real, and suddenly she didn't want this girl with the flying hair and the laughing eyes to come too soon. She knew she was being ridiculous. She loved Ronald. But she was afraid—

As the car glided the miles to the yacht club where the boat waited she tried to think fairly. Ronnie loved her and she loved him. But she needed proof of her own desirability to help her understand that Ronnie cared. But why? Ronald leaned against her love, never doubting. Why couldn't she have the same faith?

Not because she cared, but in order to fill the spaces of silence with words, she said: "Do you like Billie Anne a lot, Rob?"

He smiled a second before answering. "She does nicely. And I've had to look after her so much, you see."

Then she forgot about the girl whose picture was in Rob's wallet, for they were at the yacht club and attendants were hurrying to gather their luggage and take them to the wharf where a small boat would convey them to the yacht that waited for them.

Sounds of laughter and music came from it as the ferry chugged across thew ater. More white-coated attendants were on hand to receive the newcomers and escort them to their cabins. Linda sat down and drew a deep breath when she reached hers. Its ivory and blue satin furnishings were finer than those of any cabin on any ocean liner she had seen. Paule pink roses nodded in crystal vases and a small radio was sending a gentle stream of music into the room. Before she had finished dressing Linda heard the motors turning and caught the rhythmic vibration of a ship in motion. They were going, which must mean that everyone, including Ronald, was on board.

She glanced out of a porthole and saw the lighted clubhouse, the boats that waited at anchor drifting past. She dressed quickly in a pale green frock, stepped into silver sandals, and fastened a wide silver girdle at her waist. She did not think she would need a wrap, but she picked up the gray-green cape whose color was as varied as a sea in storm and carried it with her.

The boat was going fast. Much faster than a boat usually went when it had nothing more important to do than cruise around on home waters for a week-end, she thought as she moved toward the lounge. Apparently the party was in full swing. Voices and laughter rose and fell with the waves.

Sarah came to meet her. For a brief moment Linda acknowledged Sarah's beauty. There were yards, even miles, of silver-threaded chiffon in the gown she wore. Linda became aware that her green frock had been reduced drastically and even at that she had been compelled to have it dry cleaned before she could wear it. Still it had been beautiful and expensive once and it could poin the party bravely tonight.

"You did come," Sarah said softly. "I was afraid you wouldn't. I was quite beastly to you once, you know. I'm sorry." She smiled, her eyes meeting Linda's squarely.

"I've forgotten all about that night and I think I had left my manners at home too. I'm glad you asked me to come on the party."

Linda spoke the words slowly, her eyes probing the other girl's. Sarah was arrogant and proud and defiant. Unless she had changed very much she was merely attempting a role for a purpose tonight. That Linda knew.

Now Sarah put her firm white hand on Linda's arm and turned her toward Ronald. "There he is over there, scared to death for fear a beautiful model upset the works at your office and you didn't get here. Better put his mind at ease."

All through the evening Linda had a sense of adventure. All anchors were lifted. The moorings were gone. The tall white boat, banners flying and light shining, was winging its way swiftly to anywhere.

Once she was near Rob when Mina passed. He smiled and mentioned having seen her that afternoon. Mina's eyes contracted. "But I haven't been in that place for days," she said.

"Let's stroll," Rob said and led her out on deck. "Do you know, wild sea lions couldn't have dragged me on this shindig in spite of Sarah and Billie Anne's friendship if it hadn't been that you were coming and Mina had accepted? I'm afraid for you truthfully speaking. Notice the secrecy about her now?"

Linda nodded. "But she's using Terry as though he were a marionette; something on a string she pulls.

"That's just what she's doing, but he can't get wise. He's a grand fellow, too. But stay out of Mina's way won't you? By the way, I'm in the cabin across the way from you so if you feel afraid, call out."

Linda nodded scarcely hearing. She was thinking that in the excitement of seeing Ronald and being with him she had overlooked the quality of danger which the place would hold for her as long as Mina shared it.

Ronald came for her just then, and they stood watching the wake of white foam that trailed the ship. He pulled the girl's arm through his and covered her hand with warm fingers.

The boat went on serenely, stars swung down to dance on the water, and the waves grew wilder.

"Where are we going?" Linda asked her head resting against Ronald's hard shoulder.

"To an island toward the South which belongs partly to the Markleys," he answered. "We're having breakfast there Sunday morning, then we'll come home a shorter way. Sarah says every cruise should have one port of call if it's only a place to roast potatoes and fry bacon."

"It's heavenly to be on a boat where nothing can happen," Linda murmured, smiling into the darkness. At the moment she believed her words. She was on a boat—and nothing could happen.

GRACIE GREETED BY COUSIN AT EDMONTON

EDMONTON, Aug. 14 (CP). — Gracie Fields, the Lancashire singer, was greeted by a cousin she had not seen for 20 years when she arrived here today by airplane from Calgary. The cousin, Herbert Stansfield of Edmonton, recalled that when he last saw Gracie in Rochdale she was having a "row" with her parents as to whether or not she would go on the stage.

Gracie had little trouble recognizing Stansfield.

"There's my father," she shouted as she jumped from the plane. "I can see it all over him."

Plans for Child in Family Life

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

For the mother of the infant in arms it is not too early now to map out a program designed to help this child get along well at school by and by. Here are some things you will aim to do:

Cultivate good health habits in your child, holding him strictly to essential routines. Train him early in self-care, self-reliance and responsibility. Don't do for him what he can do for himself. As soon as he begins to toddle, teach him without doubt the meaning of NO (which he should rarely hear), using the hand at the proper place when necessary — for safety, regard for the rights of others and respect for constituted authority.

Make your child feel he is loved, wanted and worthy. Encourage him to play freely with many other children his age, settling his own quarrels, fighting his own battles. Be generous with affection and deserved approval but miserly, though consistent, with punishment.

Answer all his questions kindly and listen patiently and attentively to what he has to say. Never laugh or grow angry at his mistakes. Treat him as a sacred personality, trying always to put yourself through your imagination in his place, in order to see a little as he sees, understand a little as he understands and feel as little as he feels. Read daily to this child, from his second year onward. Keep on reading after he enters school. Provide him with ample simple toys and tools and encourage his creations with words and things.

Don't hamper his imagination; encourage it by having some yourself. Go with him into his land of make-believe. Learn to see his fairies, talk with them and walk with them. If he plays with many other children and does many things with his hands he will not have any trouble over being mixed up over what is real and what is imagined—he won't if you exercise enough imagination yourself. Don't rob him of fairytales, so long as they are not fearful.

PLAY SCHOOL

Guard him against unwholesome suggestions from other children, if you can, about the teacher or bullies. When, before he enters school, he and his playmates want to "play school," encourage them.

But please do not burden him with formal lessons as in reading or numbers. He will have this formal teaching all too soon. Let his learning be attractive to him and in the nature of play.

PICKLE RECIPE NO. 4

SOUR SWEET YELLOW CUCUMBER PICKLE—Peel, cut into strips and seed twelve large yellow cucumbers. Place them in brine for 12 hours, then drain. Have ready 8 or 10 sterilized quart fruit jars.

Prepare the following mixture: one gallon cider vinegar, eight cups sugar, one-quarter cup mustard seed. Place in a bag and add three-quarters cup whole mixed spices.

Boil about five cupfuls of the mixture at a time—enough to cover the bottom of a large pan to the depth of about one-half inch. Place them in the jars. Fill the jars with the boiling vinegar mixture. Seal them at once.

CORNED BEEF AND CABBAGE

Three or four pounds corned beef, one medium sized cabbage.

Wash meat in cold water, put in heavy kettle, cover with boiling water, cover and simmer until meat is tender, between three and four hours. Add cabbage cut in eighths or smaller pieces suitable for serving, and cook, uncovered, until tender, which should not be more than from 5 to 10 minutes if the cabbage is fresh and tender. Serve on large platter with cabbage around meat. This amount of meat would serve 8 or 10 persons and would leave plenty to serve cold, in sandwiches and for hash. It is difficult to get a good cut of corned beef of less weight than this.

ALLERTON SALAD

Wipe, pare and cube one cucumber, add an equal amount of celery, cut in thin slices crosswise half as much English walnut meats or peanuts broken in pieces; third the amount of finely chopped green pepper, moisten with your favorite salad dressing and pile on slices of peeled, chilled tomatoes on lettuce.

GRANT CAKE

One-half cup butter, one cup sugar, one egg, 1 cup sour milk, two and three-quarters cups flour, one and one-quarter cups raisins, one and one-half teaspoons solda, three-quarter teaspoon allspice, three-quarter teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon salt.

Cream butter, add sugar gradually, creaming well, then add beaten egg and sour milk. Sift 2½ cups flour with soda baking soda and salt and add to first mixture, then add raisins, seeded and cut in quarters, and sprinkled with remaining ¾ cup flour. Turn into oblong cake pan and bake in 360 degree F. oven for 50 minutes. Ice with coffee confectioners' frosting.

COFFEE CONFECTIONERS' FROSTING

Two tablespoons hot coffee, 1 teaspoon butter, one-half teaspoon vanilla, confectioners' sugar, pinch salt.

Melt butter in coffee and add vanilla salt and confectioners' sugar until mixture is the right consistency to spread.

Plans Winter Flights of Great Value to Trappers and Miners

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 14 (CP) — While 24-hour Summer daylight prevails here, Mrs. Madeline Mirow, the only woman in North America and possibly the only one in the world to be president of an air line operating on scheduled service, already is drawing up plans for Winter operation.

Small and attractive and in her twenties, Mrs. Mirow, the widow of Hans Mirow, a pioneer airman who was killed attempting to fly supplies to a marooned party, spends long hours charting courses and drumming up business that will take her six-plane air line deep into isolated Alaskan territory.

So important are Winter air operations to Alaskan life that if they should go amiss hundreds of prospectors, miners and trappers scattered in tiny communities on the Alaskan tundra North of Nome would receive no mail during the long Arctic nights.

Also the small business of the miner and the claims of the prospector depend on air travel. Soon the Mirow planes will cart pokes of gold nuggets worth sometimes up to $75,000 a plane load from isolated mines They will enable many a miner to move in freight needed for his project a ton at a time.

CARRY FOX FURS

Even the Eskimos have more than a passing interest in the air fleet. For early next Spring before the ice on the Bering Sea has broken, a plane will call at little Eskimo villages for cargoes of fox furs. If the planes did not call, the shipments would have to wait the first boat which comes in mid-Summer.

Making plans for air service this far North is not easy. Now, chill winds that sweep into Nome from the Bering Sea and Siberia often bring fogs that hang like curtains over the Nome airport. And the airports to which the planes fly farther North are seldom more than cleared areas on the tundra or sandbars and beaches that will be covered with snow and ice early in October. Besides, there are few weather reports to guide the planes.

However, Mrs. Mirow is not worried about her task despite its difficulties. Reared in Nome, she knows Alaska and its problems. She has a radio operator's licence and takes charge of operating the ground stations which keep in communication with the Mirow aircraft.

And with all her work, she still finds time to keep house with her mother and her two young children.

The Mirow planes fly scheduled operations between Nome and Anchorage where the U. S. army air corps is building a huge air base. The line now carries mail brought directly from the United States by the clipper planes of the Pacific-Alaska Airways.

"It is by my judgment of fine shades of flavour," writes Rolland Riendeau, Coffee Blender for London House Coffee, "that I earn my living. Preserving Peaches Expected Next Week; Tomato Prices Down

Few price changes and little other activity other than usual business stirred Nelson Wholesale Row during the week.

Tomatoes listed quite a fair price decline as local stock was placed on the markets. The pork market weakened early in the week, but strengthened later, and there was no change after the price adjustments.

PEACHES NEXT WEEK

Some varieties of peaches were already on the market, but peaches for preserving were not expected until next week. The apricot season was all but over, while cantaloupes and melons were enjoying fair sales.

Return of hot weather brought a return of the soft drink market, and sales were reported "good."

Carlot imports during the week included two of mixed fruits, a car of salt, one of canned goods, one of oranges, one of meat, one of corn, one of hay and one of flour and feed.

Wright Gets Year With Hard Labor in Swift Burglary

Lawrence Wright, Wednesday morning pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking, entering and theft, in Nelson City Police Court, and was sentenced by Magistrate William Brown to serve one year with hard labor in jail.

Wright, a previous offender, was charged in connection with breaking and entering of the Swift Canadian Company warehouse at 611 Front Street Friday night or Saturday morning, and the theft of foodstuffs valued at $10.84 from the warehouse. He confessed the crime to Chief of Police Alex Stewart following his arrest Monday. Information for the charge was laid by the Chief of Police.

Wright, with William Hayes, fellow-occupant of a cabin above the Ymir Road, about 10 miles South of Nelson, also faces a Provincial Police charge of being in possession of stolen goods in connection with the same burglary. The foodstuffs, stolen by Wright from the Swift warehouse, were found in the cabin by City and Provincial Police officers Monday.

Hearing of Wright and Hayes on the possession charge was set over for eight days by Stipendiary Magistrate William Irvine when they were before him in Provincial Police Court Tuesday.

Belgian King's Children Return

BRUSSELS (Via Berlin) Aug. 14 (AP).—A prisoner of war in his own castle, King Leopold of Belgium has his three children with him again—after weeks of separation—but he still awaits the return of hundreds of thousands of his countrymen who fled to France during Germany's invasion of the low countries.

About 1,500,000 Belgians were wandering refugees in France when the armistice was signed. They have been returning only gradually to their homes.

Even before the conclusion of the battle of France, Leopold did what he could to speed repatriation of Belgian refugees. He asked the President of Switzerland June 13 to negotiate with French and German authorities for the return of Belgians across Swiss frontiers. Last month he won the Red Cross cooperation.

Also with the King now are his mother, The Dowager Queen Elizabeth, and his brother, Prince Charles.

London Crowds Outwardly Almost Indifferent to Dangers of Warfare

By D. E. BURRITT
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP Cable)—Luncheon crowds blocked the pavement in front of news bulletins in downtown London today to learn the latest number of Royal Air Force victories over the invading German Luftwaffe.

In groups at almost every corner men and women paused to read "78 or More" or "78 More Jellyfish" or just plain "78." The figures need no embellishment or amplification with details. Everyone knows to what they refer and reads them with about as much visible emotion as they would if the chalk-scrawled figures told of cricket's mythical "ashes" score at teatime.

No doubt the latest count of planes shot down is one of the main topics everywhere you turn but it by no means monopolizes conversation. People readily applaud R.A.F. successes but they discuss the subject almost in terms of a game rather than grim warfare.

The fact that hundreds of German aircraft are making swipes at various parts of Britain all day long does not seem to convince the general public that real war is ready to break wide open.

The general feeling of the man in the street seems to be that the R.A.F. is beating back the German air force and invasion by land does not appear feasible immediately.

So life continues quite normally, at least in this section of England where the closest we have come to hearing the sound of battle is an air raid alarm. Even that was weeks ago and long forgotten now.

Newspapers used their largest type to proclaim the destruction of German raiders in yesterday's battles.

"The biggest day yet," said the News-Chronicle. "One a minute crashed at battle peak."

Said the Daily Herald: "60 down yesterday—191 in three days—all records beaten."

The Daily Mail said "69 more," adding "whole Nazi squadrons driven back."

The Daily Express observed "Blitzkrieg—by the R.A.F."

The Mirror headlined its story "Nonstop Air War," and the Times brought out double column type reserved for big events to tell its readers "all day air battles in channel."

The evening papers devoted themselves mainly to the R.A.F. raids over Northern Italy in earlier editions, putting the channel raids in second place.

Survivors of Transport Ship Are Praised

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP) — The Ministry of Information paid tribute today to the survivors of the British transport Mahomed Ali El-Kebir, torpedoed and sunk in the Atlantic Aug. 11 with the loss of 120 lives.

The troops went about the task of abandoning ship "as if carrying out a peacetime drill," the Ministry said, describing how the men were routed out as they were turning in for the night.

William Jackson Slocan Pioneer Buried Victoria

Last rites for William Alexander Jackson, who was for 13 years a resident of Trail and for 23 years a resident of Slocan City, who died at St. Joseph's Hospital at Victoria Friday, were held under the auspices of the I.O.O.F. Lodge, by Rev. J. Herdman at Victoria Monday. Interment was in the family plot at Colwood Burial Park, Victoria.

Born in Toronto, Mr. Jackson came West many years ago, and had been a resident in British Columbia 43 years at the time of his death. The past seven years he spent as a resident of Victoria, moving there from Slocan City. He was 93 years of age.

A retired railway conductor, Mr. Jackson had served the Canadian Pacific Railway for 48 years. He was also a member of the I.O.O.F. Lodge, Enterprise No. 43 of Trail.

His wife Mrs. Mary V. Jackson, survives.

SLOCAN CITY, B.C.—The following officers were installed by Floral Rebekah Lodge No. 15 of Slocan City, by Mrs. Tracy Cooper, D.D.P.:

Mrs. F. A. Clough, N.G.; Mrs. H. H. Horne, V.G.; Mrs. M. T. Terry, recording secretary; Mrs. D. Ewing, treasurer; Mrs. C. Harrison, warden; Mrs. F. Brooks, outside guard; Mrs. W. Innis, chaplain; Mrs. C. Wilford, organist; Mrs. J. Innis, R.S., N.G.; Mrs. F. Storgard, L.S.N.G.; Miss Rita Paterson, R.S.V.G.; Mrs. R. Horne, L.S.V.G.; Mrs. G. Strong, P.N.G.

Inside guard and conductor were not appointed.

Police Tactics Become Issue in Goggin Case

Hearing of P. C. Goggin, express truck operator, charged with carrying on an express business within the city without a proper trade licence in violation of the Nelson Trades Licence Bylaw, 1939, was adjourned until August 21 by Magistrate William Brown in City Police Court Wednesday morning, after a third prosecution witness, and Goggin's arguments for dismissal were heard.

Goggin, in appealing for a dismissal of the case, suggested the civic police authorities should be "severely censured" for the method employed in bringing the charge against him. City Police officers, according to the testimony given, arranged transactions with Goggin, to secure evidence, while, Goggin pointed out, they were empowered under Motor Vehicle Act registrations to examine his truck and weigh billings at any time. He also argued that operation of his business was covered by a Provincial licence, and that a City licence was not necessary because he did not operate within the city, but between Creston and Nelson; and that the prosecution had no concrete evidence of the alleged transactions in receipts or other forms.

WITNESSES BECAME ACCOMPLICES

The Magistrate, before adjourning the case, pointed out that there was reflection on the witnesses, Constable R. R. House and Constable John Carpenter, because in obtaining evidence they "attempted to inveigle Goggin" into committing the offence of transporting goods from within the city, and in knowing that he operated without a City licence became accomplices to the offence."

To this C. B. Garland, City Prosecutor, replied where it was definitely known a person was an offender, officers attempting to prove it were justified, and "such action was necessary to social life." He also indicated the difficulty in obtaining technical evidence in such a case, and because of the circumstances any evidence secured, to be entirely satisfactory to the Court, would have to be secured with the knowledge that Goggin was operating illegally, and would thereby fall into the same category as that already given. Under other circumstances, the testimony of the witnesses would be received unquestionably because of the character of the men, and therefore the opinion that because of the motive behind securing the evidence the testimony could not be believed and was not entirely necessary.

TELLS OF TRANSACTION

Constable John Carpenter, third witness for the prosecution, testified to a transaction with Goggin for the transport of a parcel to Creston within the city. While he had no receipt, Constable House witnessed his payment for the delivery to Goggin, and Goggin "said he would deliver the goods, put them in his truck, and drove away."

The defendant, in cross-examining the witness, obtained the answer that no receipt had been received for the money allegedly paid him in the transaction, and that no acknowledgement of receipt of the goods had been received from the addressee.

Two other witnesses, Constable House and City Clerk W. E. Wasson were heard Monday morning, before the case was remanded until Wednesday.

Nazi Troops Learn to Play Bag Pipes; May Try to Pull Fast One on the Scots

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP Cable) — Predicting that the Nazi invasion attempt may come soon, Basel Cardew, air reporter for the Daily Express, said today that Germans have been buying flat-bottomed boats fitted with engines, each capable of transporting 36 men in shallow water and have been teaching swimming to great masses of troops.

"So there will be fighting on these shores?" he wrote. "In my views, yes, maybe in a quite short time. The Germans know the North Sea becomes too rough at the end of August for their shallow boats and in their neck-or-nothing gamble they may be forced to act quickly."

Cardew said that observers had seen large concentrations of big ships in the Baltic and there was a big scale massing of smaller vessels in the Norwegian fjords. Flat-bottomed boats which are stored in large ships are not thought capable of carrying tanks or mechanical equipment, he said. These would be brought with infantrymen crowded in other parts of big ships.

The writer believed the Nazis may try to pull a fast one on the people of Scotland where German soldiers have been seen taking mass lessons on bagpipes in Norway. These instruments presumably were captured when the 51st Highland Division was surrounded at St. Valery.

He said he expected Hitler to use gas as the Germans have built thousands of large containers which can be dropped from the air. The gas for these containers is of the arsenic type used at Lille and the Maginot Line, he wrote, but no fear need be felt because fittings recently put on all British masks render it harmless.

Cardew said he thought the first indication that invasion proper had started may come when Italy strikes at Egypt. However before the Germans can land they must clear the way at several ports by sweeping balloon barrages from the skies to allow dive bombers to go to work.

NOT THE TIME TO SINK BILLIONS IN THE ST. LAWRENCE

That war time is no time for the Government to saddle upon the country such an undertaking as the St. Lawrence Waterway, which in any case is of entirely unproven merit from Canada's point of view, seems to be the opinion of the Railway Review, organ of the National Union of Railwaymen, which publishes an article of that tenor by Lloyd Potter, and also the opinion of the Labor Review, organ of the Canadian Federation of Labor, which gives two-page prominence to the same article.

After referring to the propensity for building castles in the air, and to Britain's stern rejection of the dream tunnel under the English Channel, Mr. Potter's article read in part:

"By estimates which are not free from wishful thinking, the Channel tunnel has been justified as a convenience which would eventually pay its way and defray the enormous cost of construction through the increase in travel which it would promote. But by no estimate has it been indicated that the canalized St. Lawrence River would return the hundreds of millions of dollars which it would cost the two countries. By sober calculation, Prof. W. T. Jackman of Toronto University finds that the cost would be between $2,500,000,000 and $3,000,000,000.

"As a means of transport the canal would bring no revenue whatever. Even the wages of the lock-tenders would have to be paid out of public funds, as it is a traditional policy that no fees are levied for the use of waterways in North America. And the most optimistic estimates of the revenue from the 2,00,000 horse-power that would be generated at the dam come nowhere near the interest and sinking fund charges that the project would entail. All that the St. Lawrence waterway offers, so far as Canada is concerned, is a free channel for ships to compete with the Canadian railways. It may offer something more to the United States, but that is doubtful, and it is most certainly not our business.

"It is astounding that the Government of Canada should contemplate proceeding with this scheme at a time when the Dominion is engaged in a desperate fight for existence as a free nation. One looks in vain for any considerable section of the community which wants the watreway. Even the Prairie farmers, who might be expected to see in it cheaper transportation for exported grain, are not enthused at the prospect of a fractional saving; they are mindful of the railway across the tundra to Hudson Bay, which was to have been such a boon, and which turned out such a white elephant. . . . Eventually, we may be sure, the truth will trickle through the dam, as it did at Beauharnois. But it is rank folly to hide the real reason for proceeding with the St. Lawrence waterway at a time when Canada cannot afford to commit itself to lay out hundreds of millions of dollars for an unprofitable public enterprise at a time when the credit of the country must be sedulously guarded against impairment for the winning of the war, and when expert opinion damns the undertaking as economically unsound."

The article points out that the waterway would be equivalent to the provision of a third transcontinental railway which no one would think of suggesting, seeing that there is already expensive and uneconomic duplication in the two existing.

While the author does not suggest it, many Canadians see the project as one way for the country to proceed on the road toward financial suicide.

"BELEAGUERED" BRITAIN

The explanation of the British Government's ability to remove all restrictions on raw materials needed for her export trade is to be discovered in the "accounts relating to the trade of the United Kingdom" for the first half of the year.

Over that period Britain's imports have gone up by £164,793,621, to £612,527,356, compared with last year.

Exports are also millions of pounds higher than last year, or even the year before: a total of £249,737,661, or £13,418,938 more than 1939, and £16,544,145 upon the last year of peace, in spite of the disappearance of certain European markets. Trade with the United States, South America, Canada, South Africa and Australia has, in each case, been well maintained.

Coupled with the announcement that more raw materials are to be freed for exports, is the damping down of home purchases in Britain, both by the new taxation, and by definite ban, such as the prohibition of the sale of new motor cars for private use. The volume of exports, already soaring in the teeth of the "blockade", is expected, as a result, to go higher and higher.

The bigger the "blockade", indeed, the greater the trade.

MASTER OF PHRASE

Although Mr. Lloyd George's greatness is long past, he is one of the few men in Parliament whom every member rushes in to hear when he gets up. He is still the master of phrase, truly a silver-tongued orator; not the classic style of Asquith or Rosebery, but the orator of democracy. Today, he crosses swords with Neville Chamberlain as he did with the former Prime Minister's father in the late eighties. There is a good deal that one would like to forget about his later years, but the country can never forget his ministry of munitions, nor his sickness and unemployment insurance.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

FINLAND'S CANDLE

How far that little candle throws his beams!
So shines a good deed in a naughty world.

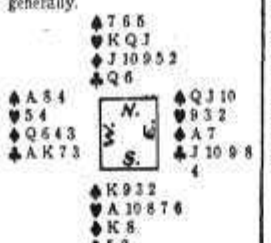
Honor still has its advocates, decency its practitioners, and gratitude its estimony. The urgent need of the times is to make the world safe for morality once more. Somehow the brave little country of Finland steadies and fixes our faith in the certainty that it shall be. The way will be hard and not easy, but the way has been hard before, and mankind was equal to its tribulations. There is a false light and a true one. The false sometimes seems to dwarf the true, yet always it is the one that is extinguished. But the truth, the little candle, shines on.—Portland Oregonian.

1941 STAFF PROBLEM?

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

HE HAS THE SAME HAND

IF A PLAYER, who once passed his chance to open the bidding, later makes a strong jump bid, double or redouble of some kind, it should not mislead his partner into believing he has a powerful holding. He still has the same hand which he passed, and nothing he ever does can make that hand as strong as one which would be shown by an original bid, though it may have certain distributional values and be somewhere near to an initial bid hand generally.



(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

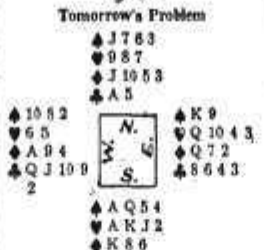
North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♥	Dbl
Rdbl	2 ♣	Pass	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	2 ♥	3 ♣
3 ♥	4 ♣	4 ♥	Dbl

West took the club K and A, led low to the diamond A, used his spade A when South's K covered East's Q, led back a spade for the 10 and J to score and was pleased to see his side have the first six tricks, setting the contract three for a score of 500.

South was completely all wet during the post-mortem. He reasoned that North's redouble must have shown at least about three or three and a half high card tricks, in justifying his bid of 4-Hearts. North argued that South should have let the 4-Clubs come up to him to decide whether to bid any more against it, which he would not have done.

South was wrong on two counts. North's hand could not possibly have been that big, as he passed originally. South should not have gone on except with strength above the minimum shown by his opening, which he surely did not possess. When North, following his redouble, bid diamonds over 2-Clubs, he showed he had hoped the opponents would bid that suit so he could double it. When he later showed the heart fit, it was only secondary. Sacrificing away 500 points when the vulnerable opponents had not bid a game was too much.

Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: East. Both sides vulnerable.)

After South bids 1-Spade on this deal and North 2-Spades, what should South do in order to be sure of getting into a game contract at the best possible declaration?

Adriatic Coast and Corfu Part of Italy's Plans

ROME, Aug. 14 (CP)—A hint that Italy might demand the Greek Adriatic Coast and the Greek Island of Corfu as an idemnity for the hatchet slaying of Daut Hoggia, Albanian "patriot," was contained in an editorial today in Il Popolo Di Roma.

"Italy restored to Albania that civilization which the entire Adriatic coast and the island of Corfu knew in past centrues through the activity of the Republic of Venice, of whose splendor traces still exist," the newspaper said.

"All this sector stretching from the Adriatic to the Black Sea enters the picture of the construction of a new Europe."

The press campaign against Greece, opened by the weekend disclosure of Hoggia's death, was marked today by these additional developments:

Stefani, official Italian news agency, reported in a dispatch from Tirana that "acts of violence against Albanians show no sign of diminishing" in Greece.

(Greece has denied any responsibility for Hoggia's death.)

The newspaper Il Messaggero asserted that restoration of Albanian territorial integrity "must be satisfied in the shortest possible time."

Stefani's Tirana dispatch alleged that a number of Albanians had been arrested in Northern Greece and "dragged in chains" to prison.

Nazis in Canadian Camp Sing There'll Always Be an England

TORONTO, Aug. 14 (CP)—The war-famous song "There'll Always Be an England," has caught the fancy of German war prisoners in a camp somewhere in Ontario, visitors to the district revealed here today.

Camp guards informed visitors that twice each day a pleasure boat sailing on a nearby lake passed the internment camp and the band on the boat makes it a habit to play the patriotic song while in the vicinity of the enemy prisoners.

Now, unaware of the words of the song, the Nazis are humming and whistling the tune.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c (Adv.)

These are typical of the questions the women of Canada will be asked when they register

THE human resources of the nation must find their fullest and freest expression. The abilities and powers of our women must be mobilized as well as that of our men. Registration is the first necessary step. Since the outbreak of hostilities, the women of Canada have individually, through Church, Red Cross, Women's Clubs and other organizations, responded magnificently to the urgent call of the nation. In addition to these, however, there are thousands of others who, within the limits of their time and capacity, are anxious and willing to do their bit. National Registration will open up for these women new opportunities for national service. Many positions left vacant by men who have enlisted, or will enlist, will have to be filled. Many men, now employed, because of necessary transfer to war work, may have to be replaced by women.

REGISTRATION DATES: August 19th, 20th, 21st

VOLUNTEER WORKERS NEEDED—The work entailed in registering more than eight million people in three days will be enormous. Volunteer workers will be welcomed. As an immediate way of assisting you are invited to get in touch with your local registration officials and offer your services.

WHERE TO REGISTER

Registration offices are being set up by electoral districts in the same manner as in the last Dominion election.

Registrants are required to register in the regular polling subdivisions of their own constituencies. But should a registrant be in some other province or district out of the regular polling subdivision on Registration Days, he or she may register at any registration office convenient, upon satisfactory explanation to the local deputy registrar.

Your Registration Certificate

To every person answering the questionnaire fully and satisfactorily a certificate of registration will be issued by the local deputy registrar. This is a small card which must be carried on the person at all times.

Penalty for Non-Registration — Failure to register will make any male or female, married or single, over the age of 16 years, liable to a fine not exceeding Two hundred dollars, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding Three months, or to both such fine and imprisonment, and moreover to a further penalty not exceeding Ten dollars for each day, after the day upon which he should have registered, during which he shall continue to be unregistered.

SOCCER TO BE PLAYED BETWEEN AIR RAIDS AND LONG WORK HOURS

By LOUIS V. HUNTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP).—Like beer, soccer is something English and Scottish snorts fans just won't do without. Hitler and his bombs may scream and explode, but between air raids and long working hours, soccer will be played this Autumn in areas not under military restrictions.

The competition will not be what it used to be—what with so many of the players in the army, navy and air force or toiling in industrial plants—nor will the crowds, but they will be just as enthusiastic. Because so many teams are "pick-up" squads much of the old home-town enthusiasm is gone and the experts have no more chance of guessing the winners than of forecasting the time of the next air raid alarm.

Last season, when eight regional groups operated in England and two in Scotland, managers found difficulty raising teams. Now their problems will be increased tremendously. More and more professional footballers are being called to the colors and busy civilians have less time for the game. But football authorities and the Government take the view that a sport which in peacetime attracts upwards of a million spectators weekly should continue in some form or other to strengthen morale.

Regional competition in England begins Aug. 31 and ends late in December. Sixty or more teams are expected to operate. Among the missing will be clubs from the East and South coasts, sections of which have been declared military zones. Sixteen of Scotland's 38 big-time clubs started the season a week ago with unfamiliar lineups.

NO SCORES ON WIRES

Ordinarily scores of English and Scottish League soccer are cabled from the London Bureau of the Canadian Press and published in Saturday papers across Canada. In view of the pressure of war news and the curtailment of soccer, the scores will not be cabled this season. News stories will be provided from time to time on the sport's general trend and significant developments in competition.

WESTERN GOLFER WINS PRO TITLE

TORONTO, Aug. 14 (CP).—Stan Leonard, former amateur star from Vancouver and now a professional at Calgary, won the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship today in his first attempt, defeating handsome Billy Kerr of Toronto in an 18-hole playoff.

Leonard, first Westerner to win since the P. G. A. inaugurated its title tournament in 1912, scored a sizzling 69, one under par, to Kerr's 72 over the difficult Cedar Brae course. The playoff foes were tied at 280 yesterday after the 72-hole tournament grind.

With $250 prize money in his pocket, Leonard will start out in the Canadian open tomorrow shooting for a total of $1000 available to a Canadian winner. First prize in the open is $1000 and the top Canadian wins $600.

Kerr's shakiness today on the outgoing nine holes enabled Leonard to build up a lead of four strokes at the turn and the Toronto pro's brilliant 33 on the back nine fell short of threatening the big lead.

Johnny Reed, aged 16, high school pupil in Rochester, N.Y., broke 100 straight to win the opening event of the 11th annual New York state skeet championships.

Halifax Nelmen Gain Semi-Finals

HALIFAX, Aug. 14 (CP).—Three Halifax players—two of them brothers—and Canadian champion Don McDiarmid of Ottawa today entered the semi-finals of the Eastern Canadian tennis tournament.

While McDiarmid was blasting his way past Bev Piers, a Halifax veteran, Don and Gordon Bauld and Hugh Little of Halifax kept pace with him by ousting players from Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick in the quarter-finals.

Mrs. Dorothy Round Little, the English player who is in Bridgewater, N.S., for the duration, swung easily into the semi-finals of the women's singles, ousting Mrs. T. W. Thompson of Halifax without loss of a game.

Hubbell Hurls Giants to Win Over Bees; Dodgers in Split; Yankees Win

By The Canadian Press

King Carl Hubbell was the peerless one again today—pitching the Giants to a 12-inning five-hit 1-0 victory over Boston Bees in the first game of a National League doubleheader. Manuel Salvo, a Giant cast-off, beat his old mates in the second game 6-0.

Mel Ott, who had been benched for not hitting, stepped in as a pinch hitter in the 12th inning of the first, singled, was sacrificed to second and sent home on Frank Demaree's timely blow.

Brooklyn Dodgers had a chance to cut the first-place lead of Cincinnati Reds to a mere four games but they blew it by dividing a doubleheader with the Phils. The Brooks took the first 6-5 but lost the second 9-8 due to their own ineffectual pitching plus some heroic hitting by Johnny Rizzo who blasted out a pair of homers.

Under the night lights Pepper Martin, making a belated appearance in a parade of substitutions, worked Pitcher Mace Brown for a walk with the bases loaded in the 11th inning to force in the winning run as the St. Louis Cardinals shaded the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-6.

In the American League, Red Ruffing kept the Yankee winning streak alive by humbling Boston Red Sox with six hits to win 8-3. It ran the Yankee victory string up to six.

Three of the hits the Sox got off Ruffing were homers by Lou Finney, Ted Williams and Jimmy Foxx.

Buddy Lewis' triple in the ninth inning with two on gave Washington Senators a 5-3 victory over Philadelphia Athletics.

The Tigers picked up the St. Louis Browns for seven runs in a merry-go-round eighth inning to win a loosely played contest 13-7.

In a night game Al Smith held Chicago to one hit as Cleveland Indians beat the White Sox 4-0 before 50,068 fans. Jimmy Webb's single in the third inning cost the left-hander a perfect game. He fanned four and walked only one in notching his 13th victory against five defeats.

Natal Wins Crow Baseball Title

NATAL, B. C.—The Natal-Michel Buffaloes at Blairmore Sunday swept both ends of a return double header with the Blairmore Columbus Club Cardinals by scores of 9-6 and 12-3, thus winning the best of five game series three straight for the Crow's Nest Pass baseball championship. They gain possession of the J. K. Ringland Cup for one year.

The Buffaloes took a two-game lead a week previous by winning two games at Natal; and needed but one win at Blairmore to cinch the championship. The fourth game was played as an exhibition.

In the first game Sadlish scattered 12 Blairmore hits while his team-mates were pounding the offerings of Herman for 18 hits including a home run by Peters with two on in the ninth when the Buffaloes came from behind to cinch the game.

In the second game the Buffaloes took an early 8-0 lead to send starting pitcher Herman, to the showers in the sixth when Chala poled out a home run with two mates on. Dobek finished the game allowing but one run and striking out five batters. Chizmar started for the Buffaloes and was relieved in the third by Halko who allowed seven hits and three runs in the seven innings he worked. His team-mates gathered 13 hits including a triple by Sadlish with the bases loaded in the fourth.

In the first game Peters' home run was matched by two Blairmore home runs by Draper and Shannon.

The J. K. Ringland Cup was presented to the Natal-Michel Buffaloes Baseball Club during the second game, President J. McDougall of Blairmore presenting the cup to Captain J. Katrichak of Michel.

Hay Fever Gets McSpaden Again

By ROBERT CLARKE

TORONTO, Aug. 14 (CP)—An attack of hay fever brought Harold (Jug) McSpaden his greatest concern today as the Winchester, Mass., Professional prepared to defend his Canadian open golf title against a star-studded field with entrants from four countries.

It certainly wasn't causing any noticeable hardship to McSpaden's game in a practice round today over the Scarboro Golf and Country Club course, for he toured the narrow fairways in a four-under-par 67. But McSpaden is afraid it may catch up with him right in the middle of the tournament which starts tomorrow and ends Saturday.

"Once it gets me I'll be a beat pigeon," said McSpaden today, while fooling around on a putting green with another American star, Horton Smith. "I was up to Toronto four years ago for the open and got hay fever. I swore I'd never be back again but here I am."

Jenkins Cancels Bout, Rushes to Mother's Bedside

SWEETWATER, Tex., Aug. 14 —(AP).—Cowhand Lew Jenkins, tired of all "that goofy New York talk," turned from the bedside of his gravely ill mother today and promised to punch Manager Hymie Caplin in the nose the next time I see him."

The lightweight champion hurried by motor to be with his mother after cancelling the Aug. 19 bout with Bob Montgomery at Philadelphia.

The threat of suspension in Pennsylvania rings, telegraphed him by Leon Rains, Chairman of the Pennsylvania Boxing Commission, unless he went through with the Montgomery bout, caused Jenkins to explode.

He blamed Caplin, his manager. "Sure, I'll punch him in the nose. I believe I have a right to say that. Caplin didn't want me to come home—he didn't believe my mother was critically ill. My mother means more to me than all the fights and money in the world."

Jenkins complained Caplin took him to "a country club" to train for his recent fight in which he went down before Henry Armstrong. "But it was a resort and no place to train. Caplin didn't want any of my friends around the place But his stooges from New York were simply overrunning the place They nearly ran me nuts."

Trotting Veteran Finally Is Victor in Hambletonian

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP) —The hard luck man of trotting, finally broke his jinx today.

After finishing in the money in 10 of 12 Hambletonians, barely missing out on two of them, Fred Egan, Lexington veteran, drove C. W. Phallis' Spencer Scott of Greenwich, Conn., to a straight-heat victory in trotting's most famous stake.

With about 30,000 packing Good Time Park, the son of Scotland reeled off the first mile in 2:02 and the second in 2:03 to justify his position as the people's choice. He won like a champion, taking the lead soon after the start in each brush and setting the pace all the way.

Genius, owned by Paul Bowser of Boston, Bill Ickerson of Goshen and his trainer-driver, Harry Short of Columbus, Ohio, trailed by a half-length in the first heat and a full length in the second.

Kuno, flying the silks of Polo-player Dunbar Bostwick of Westbury, Long Island, was another half length back in the opening test and a length and a half behind in the second.

The other three money awards went to Queen Victoria, Bill Strang's New York-owned filly who finished fourth and seventh in the respective heats. Mrs Edith Mix' Princess Pert of Sherbourne, N. Y., with a fourth and ninth and Joseph Neville's Milestone of Delaware, Ohio, who was sixth in the first heat and fifth in the last.

Kimberley Comes for Softball in Nelson Sept. 8

The Kimberley Hi-Grades will come to Nelson to play an exhibition softball game with the Savoy Hotel of the Nelson Men's Softball League probably September 8, according to tentative arrangements being made through Vernie Ahrens, former Savoy third sacker now residing in Kimberley.

The Kimberley team wanted to play here Labor Day, or falling that the previous day, a Sunday. However, it would be impossible to stage the game at the Recreation Grounds because the Baseball Club has the grounds for a three-day baseball tournament, drawing entries from the B. C. Interior, Washington and Idaho.

A third alternative date is the second Sunday of the month, and that is when it will probably be played.

At present the Savoys are Nelson's leading team, and they will have plenty tough opposition in Kimberley. The Hi-Grades won the prize money in the Kimberley Dominion Day tournament, defeating Fernie 3-0, Lumberton 6-1 and Creston 13-7.

R. A. F. Flies Over Alps to Smash at Italy's Air Works

LONDON, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Caproni factory at Milan and the Fiat plant in Turin, "two of Italy's most vital aircraft works" were "seriously damaged" by Royal Air Force bombers which flew 1600 miles in a double crossing of the Alps, the Air Ministry said today.

The R. A. F. planes, after climbing more than three miles to avoid the snow-capped peaks, "smashed the factories" and set them afire in attacks lasting until early hours today, the Ministry said.

One pilot saw "a dull glare from the blazing Caproni works miles behind him," the statement said.

Over France the planes met dense clouds but conditions improved as they flew on and only a ground haze impeded visibility when the attacks on the Italian cities started around midnight.

One pilot in a raid lasting three-quarters of an hour "scored several direct hits which pierced in several places the roof of the works," at the Fiat factory in Turin.

"He could see his incendiary bombs hitting the holed roof and after a fierce blaze had broken out there followed two large explosions" the statement said.

Another pilot who made three separate runs over the works scored direct hits with incendiary bombs, starting fires, and with a heavy bomb struck the other end of the works.

A third pilot scored hits with heavy bombs, starting more fires. The increasing haze was illuminated by blazing fires which "took hold and spread." Another pilot from 10,000 feet dropped "fresh salvos of high explosives and more incendiaries which further increased the blazing area."

Railroad sidings West of the factory were also hit and the railroad junction South of Turin attacked, one plane straddling the junction with heavy bombs while another "tore up railway lines with a direct hit on the permanent way."

The Caproni works at Milan were "badly damaged" when the raiders dropped a salvo of incendiaries "in a line right down the length of the buildings," followed by heavy bombs which caused a "series of large explosions."

An airdrome adjoining the factory and a seaplane base were also damaged by a "great explosion and then fire."

A big explosion blew up parts of another section of the factory and additional bombers arriving "added systematically to the destruction and soon many fires were to be seen all over the target areas." One pilot reported direct hits on hangars which burst into flames.

The raid was carried out by relays of bombers and late arrivals at 12:30 a.m., saw the "Caproni works themselves and airdrome buildings on fire."

A road-rail bridge at Casant D'Adda was directly hit by two bombs from 1000 feet.

"Italian defences apparently were taken completely by surprise and anti-aircraft fire was scanty and ineffective," the bulletin said.

The attack was made by a large force, all of which returned except one which made a forced landing on the sea near the British coast, the communique added.

LEAFLETS URGE ITALIANS TO OPEN EYES

ROME, Aug. 14 (CP).—Royal Air Force aircraft, coming from the direction of Switzerland today bombed Milan, Turin and other cities in Italy's industrial North and killed 22 persons whom the Italians described as civilians. Authorities said more than 50 other persons were hurt.

The planes, all of which apparently escaped Italian anti-aircraft fire and pursuit planes, dropped leaflets over Northern Italy, urging the Italians to "open your eyes because war with its terrors is at your door."

(Milan lies 615 miles from London across Northern France and Switzerland.)

Today's Italian communique said: "Bitter fighting is still under way in British Somaliland East of Adaweh. Our manoeuvres, although strongly opposed, continue. (There have been no definite British reports of this action).

'Alessandra and Tortona also were bombed. Nine were reported killed at Alessandra, including three firefighters who ran to carry out their work. Several were reported as wounded.

"A bombardment of Augusta, near Syracuse, where four bombs were dropped caused neither casualties nor damage."

"An enemy torpedo plane was shot down by our naval anti-aircraft artillery. The crew, composed of an officer and a flier, was captured."

(This obviously referred to another action).

'Real War to Start Where Britain Takes Offensive'

LONDON, Aug. 14 (AP). — Britain's War Secretary, Anthony Eden, told the world in a broadcast tonight that "for us the real war will begin when we take the offensive and strike home at the enemy."

"That is the way wars are won and that is the way we mean to do it," Mr. Eden said.

"There must be no war weariness or peace weariness this time. There must be no third war in our time or in our children's time."

Northcott Chief Australian Army

CANBERRA, Australia, Aug. 14 (CP-Reuters) — Maj-Gen. John Northcott was appointed chief of the Australian army staff today, succeeding Lt-Gen. Cyril B. B. White who was among 10 persons killed yesterday in an air crash.

Senator Philip McBride and Representative Arthur Fadden were sworn in as Acting Defence and Air Ministers, respectively.

They succeeded Defence Minister Geoffrey A. Street and Air Minister J. V. Fairbairn, who also were killed along with Sir Henry Gullett, Vice President of the Executive Council.

As parliament adjourned in tribute to the victims, official circles hinted that in the future cabinet ministers and other important officials would not be permitted to travel together by plane.

"India Could Drive Italians From Africa"

By D. E. BURRITT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP Cable)—India, if armed and with her manpower mobilized, could drive the Italians out of the whole of Africa, Lord Strabolgi, Labor, told the House of Lords during a debate on India today.

Discussing attempts to reach a working settlement of all parties in India, Lord Strabolgi said one factor in hoping that an agreement may be reached is the fact "Indian sentiment is overwhelmingly with this country in the present war."

"There is no doubt about that," he said. "Indian sentiment is also overwhelmingly with the Chinese people because they recognize that these two wars are being fought fundamentally over the same issues. That perhaps is more clearly realized by thinking Indians than the ordinary Englishman."

NAZIS DON'T DENY LONG-RANGE GUNS USED

BERLIN, Aug. 14 (AP).—The Berlin radio said today that "inquiry in competent quarters regarding the employment of long-range guns against England's Southeast coast elected no denial."

This was in connection with "reports published in New York newspapers" that the English coast had been shelled.

U.S. Consul Tells of Warsaw Siege

VANCOUVER, Aug. 14 (CP). — John Ker Davis, United States Consul-General in Warsaw at the beginning of the war, told here today of the German siege of the Polish capital.

Mr. Davis, who arrived here yesterday from Washington for a short holiday, saw the fighting in Warsaw from Sept. 8, when the Nazis reached the city's suburbs, until Sept. 21, when he led a band of more than 1200 refugees from the city.

"To watch on, helpless, is a terrible experience," said the American diplomat. "We were constantly under fire from artillery and bombing planes and the Polish defenders set up their cannon in the streets outside of the Chancellory. We were in the heart of a fortress and a city of devestation."

He said that a short truce was arranged and a band of 1200 Americans and refugees were taken through the Polish lines and escorted through German-held territory to Konigsberg. Mr. Davis said he went to Berlin, thence to Oslo. Later he was transferred to Dublin and returned to Washington this June.

Of the defenders of Warsaw he said: "They fought as long as they had a chance."

Returning Refugees Must Admit They Are of German Blood

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ, Jr.
Associated Press Staff Writer

BASEL, Switzerland, Aug. 14 (AP). — Peasants who were moved from Alsace-Lorraine to Southern France last Autumn are being welcomed back by the German conquerors, but reports reaching here say they are being informed by the Nazi authorities that by their return they "admit they are of German blood."

Reports reaching here from Alsace said that persons who owned farmlands and do not return to them would be allowed a certain percentage of the value, up to 5000 French francs (less than $100), and that there would be a limit on any personal possessions which they could remove.

Jews may not possess farms and have been warned to leave the cities, it was reported.

The frontier at Sain Louis, opposite Basel, will be opened for six hours on Aug. 19 and Sept. 2, and all who seek to cross must provide proof of pre-armistice residence in Alsace-Lorraine.

DEMAND ANNEXATION MONACO, MONTE CARLO

ROME, Aug. 14 (AP). — Italian annexation of the principality of Monaco and the famed resort of Monte Carlo was demanded today by an organization formed at Ventimiglia by former Italian residents of Nice.

Monte Carlo lies just beyond Mentone, outpost of Italian-occupied territory in France.

HUNGARIAN DELEGATES TO CONFER AT BORDER

BUDAPEST, Aug. 14 (AP). — A Hungarian delegation is leaving by Danube steamer for the Rumanian-Yugoslav frontier to talk with Rumanian representatives this coming weekend on a Transylvanian settlement it was officially stated today.

The Vice Regal party arrived after an uneventful trip in a big Grumman amphibian plane of the Royal Canadian Air Force, greeted by Group Captain A. T. N. Cowley, Officer Commanding the R.C.A.F. Station, and Group Captain George Brookes, O. C. of the No. 1 Air Training Command.

U.S. NAVAL SECRETARY URGES CONSCRIPTION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP). — Navy Secretary Frank Knox urged the House of Representatives Military Committee today to approve compulsory military training legislation because if England should be defeated "we will be left without a friend in the world."

However, Knox said, in event of a British defeat, there would not be an immediate attack on the United States but rather a German effort to "calm our fears" and to "interrupt preparedness measures we are taking."

Predicts Greater Price Control by Canadian Govt.

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP Cable).—The Financial News, discussing what it called "Canada's War Boom" in its leading editorial today said the Dominion Government "may well be called upon to impose still more rigid controls over prices and consumption to meet increasing war expenditures."

"Increasing strains of war will obviously call for sums well in excess of the total normal savings both individual and institutional" the editorial said.

"So far however there has been no perceptible degree of inflationary pressure and commodity price and cost of living indices show only a modest advance from the corresponding figures of last year."

The paper noted at the same time soaring industrial production as reflected in Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures and referred to new high levels in the output of non-ferrous metals, minerals, steel and electric power. The upward curve of construction activity, railroad traffic and employment were also observed.

It said that due to the German invasion of European countries, Italy's declaration of war and the European blockade, there has been a material fall of Canadian imports and a corresponding setback in farm incomes.

While it was still too early to assess the precise position of the farm population at the close of the present crop year, the paper said, it may be said with certainty that "prevailing obstacles in the agricultural field by no means are sufficiently weighty to invalidate the general conclusion that Canadian business activity will continue on a decidedly high level so long as present war conditions obtain."

The war will naturally bring considerable burdens for the national debt is even now relatively heavy at around $8,000,000,000 and will increase materially if the war is protracted.

"But the Dominion has immense natural resources still capable of vigorous development and the burdens of war finance will be offset to a large degree by the intense industrial effort which is rapidly bringing Canada to a position of a highly-developed nation."

Restricted Imports May Go to Spain

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP). — An informed British source said today that Great Britain probably will permit Spain to receive restricted imports of raw materials which the Royal Navy is keeping out of Germany and Italy.

This informant expressed belief that Spain and Portugal do not consider they are under any great hardship because of the blockade, extending from the Arctic to North Africa.

It was asserted that Spain, in a note delivered in London early last week, "reserved her rights" with respect to the blockade but the British source said this was not to be considered a protest.

Nickel Profit for 6 Months $18,000,000

TORONTO, Aug. 14 (CP) — Net profit of $18,060,293 in United States currency is reported by the International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., and subsidiaries for the six months ended June 30, 1940, after call charges, including depreciation and provision for income and franchise taxes, equivalent, after preferred dividend requirements, to $1.17 on each common share outstanding. This compares with $1.15 a share earned in the corresponding period of 1939.

U.S. Consular Officer Will Issue Visas at Cranbrook This Week

OTTAWA, Aug. 14 (CP)—United States consular officers will visit several Canadian points to facilitate the issue of visas to Canadians who wish to enter the United States but who do not live near centres where there is a U.S. consular office, the External Affairs Department announced today.

This week, one officer will visit Penticton, and Cranbrook, B.C., and Lethbridge, Alta. Holders of Canadian passports living near these centres may apply to these officers for their U.S. visas.

No Great Increase in Farm Wages

WINNIPEG, Aug. 14 (CP)—Despite a big demand for harvest labor in Western Canada, there has been no great increase in harvest wages, Dominion Government Labor officials said here today.

Wages vary from $2 a day for stooking to $5 a day paid to combine and swather operators.

A scarcity of women farm workers has been reported from Northern and Western Saskatchewan and from parts of Alberta and British Columbia.

Wages for stooking in the four Western provinces range from $2 to $2.50 a day; for binder operators from $2.50 to $2.75, and for combine and swather operators from $3 to $5. Board and room is included in all these wages.

Wheat Price Steadies After Initial Drop

CHICAGO, Aug. 14 (AP).—Wheat prices dipped about ½ cent a bushel today and then steadied, holding at a level only fractionally above the seasonal lows established yesterday. With the exception of yesterday's lows, current prices are the lowest since last September 1, the day the German invasion of Poland began.

Wheat closed ¼ to ⅜ lower than yesterday, September 72⅜ to 72½, December 74 to 74¼; corn ¼ to ½ lower, September 60½ to 60⅝, December 65¼; oats unchanged to ⅜ lower.

Creston School Improvement $800

CRESTON, B. C. — The sum of $800 has been spent on improvements at the schoolhouse in Creston Valley United School District during the holidays, according to the report submitted the Trustees by Supervising Janitor R. R. Roebuck at the meeting Monday, which was in charge of Chairman H. A. Powell, with Trustees D. Bradley, H. S. McCreath and Hilton Young in attendance.

Of this total $31 had been expended at Arrow Creek, $6 at Huscroft, $45 at Camp Lister, $104 at Canyon, $77 at Erickson, $26 at West Creston and $75 at Wynndel. Mr. Roebuck advised the Summer maintenance work will be completed by August 30.

Arrow Creek School has been made ready for use when the term opens September 3. Seating has been provided for 38 pupils, and the Waterbury heating system transferred from the closed Alice Siding School to Arrow Creek. At Creston the desks have been removed in Miss Hobden's room and tables made to accommodate 40 pupils—a similar arrangement to that prevailing with Mrs. McGregor in the Primary room.

Accounts passed for payment totalled $1757. Of this $417 was for payroll, and of general expenses of $1340, the Ashdown firm got $413, much of which was for paint used at the mid-Summer rehabilitation of all the schools. Wynndel irrigation district got $43 for two years' supply of water to the school.

Trustee Bradley reported on the school grounds and buildings at outside points, with the exception of Wynndel and West Creston which he has not yet visited. He was successful in getting funds for the erection of a single lavatory at Camp Lister, and for white paint to brighten up the ceiling at the South room of Canyon school. At the rural schools he advocated a policy of encouraging the placing of the flagpole at a central location and surrounding it with lawn and some flower beds.

Dr. Murray submitted a schedule of dates and schools at which he will undertake the 1940 vaccination work. He commences at Creston August 19 and concludes at Wynndel August 26. He will be at Alice Siding the same date as Wynndel. The remaining vacancy in the Elementary School teaching staff, at West Creston, is filled with the appointment of George Low, of Vancouver.

The appointment of a school stenographer was stood over until a special meeting. The Board also delayed the purchase of an electric sewing machine for the Home Economics room until the arrival of Miss Miriam Horn.

There was some discussion as to the status of the bandmaster, in view of the $650 voted by the ratepayers for the conduct of the High School Band. It was agreed he would be under the same committee as the teachers, which is headed by Trustee Hilton Young. Mr. Barrigan is to be asked to submit something in writing as to how he thinks the band affairs should be administered and he will be invited to attend a special meeting with High School Principal S. J. Graham, at which the future policy of the band will be mapped out.

The Chairman reported a contract had been entered into with the Remington Rand Company for the maintenance of the 30 typewriters in the Commercial room, which are to have an overhaul three times during the teaching year. It was also agreed to renew the insurance policy on the school buses which will necessitate an outlay of $528. This protects against passenger hazard, collision and fire.

CADET TRAINING APPROVED

Along with musical affairs, the introduction of cadet training was discussed and warmly approved by the Board. The Chairman had made some enquiry and learned that Ben Crawford and Tom Gautier of the teaching staff were qualified to take on the work, which will be part of the physical training, and include first aid and drill without arms. The Board deemed the information sent them in this connection insufficient and more complete information is to be asked for.

After two years of waiting the Trustees have an offer for the bell that did duty for so many years at the old Central School at Creston. Pastor Peterson of the Mission Covenant Church at Erickson will pay $10 for it. The original sale price was $40, but Trustee Bradley will negotiate. The Board agreed to rent the vacant teacherage at Alice Siding to Charles Ostrensky at $5 a month. At the request of the Chair, Trustee Bradley consented to include health matters in his work as Chairman of the Building and Grounds Committee.

War Reshapes Economic Scene in Tennessee Valley

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 14 (AP). — A world at war is reshaping the economic scenery in the Tennessee Valley which suddenly has found itself in the limelight as a strategic region in United States' defence plans.

Cotton fields are being ploughed up for factories. New industries are spending millions in building. The tempo of life has changed for thousands of farmers who are leaving the plough for the machine.

The industrialization of the South, under the drum-beats of war on other continents has been quickened beyond the realization of most of the inhabitants.

Industry has at last turned its eyes on the valley's rich resources in labor, materials, electric power, rail and water transportation facilities, temperature, climate and inland security in event of possible future invasion by enemy forces.

Canada Is Main British Supply

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP Cable)—Canada, regarded at the start of the war as one of Britain's distant supply points, is seen now as one of the United Kingdom's nearest suppliers because of the changed conditions since Germany overran most of Europe.

This statement was contained today in an announcement by the Ministry of Information that Britain seized 65,300 tons of contraband during July, 34,600 from neutral ships and 10,700 from Italian vessels. Most of the neutral ships were bound for Italy.

The increased shipping advantages obtained in recent months have compensated for the much longer distances the vessels now have to go for supplies the Ministry said.

The statement added that Canada has embarked on a "very large" shipbuilding program involving about 100 vessels of all kinds.

There are now 7,500,000 more gross tons of shipping available to the Allies than when the war started, due largely to the increase in the number of Allies, the Ministry said. When the war started Britain and the Empire had 21,000,000 gross tons of shipping, including all vessels of more than 100 tons.

These included all types—troopships supply ships and armed merchant cruisers—and less than half the total should be counted as available for cargo carrying.

The ships now available for the Allies include those of Norway, 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 tons; the Netherlands more than 2,000,000 tons; Belgium and Poland, 800,000 tons; and Denmark and France 800,000 tons.

Despite continuance of fierce aerial warfare over England, trade appeared to have taken a calmer view of the war vents in contrast with the nervous apprehension displayed the previous day. 'Italian Attacks Serious But by No Means Critical'

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP)—British military sources said today the situation in British Somaliland is "serious but by no means critical" after two days of very strong Italian attacks and British counter-attacks.

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP)—British light naval forces bombarded Italian troop concentrations along the Somaliland coast yesterday, the Admiralty announced in a communique today.

The Italian attacks were said to have been pressed with "great vigor," but there were few local advances.

Except for one point where they penetrated a British position and captured two guns, military sources said, the line was "practically restored."

The first Italian attack gained some ground when a British platoon was flanked and had to retire. The British then launched a series of counter-attacks, with fierce hand-to-hand fighting over broken ground, and recovered their position.

Military sources emphasized that the Italian attacks were made on a wide front against forces numerically inferior.

The Italians have invaded the Gallabat region from Ethiopia.

ROSSLAND CITY REFUNDING PLAN AT 4 P. C. IS OUTLINED

The City of Rossland after a careful examination of its financial position, finds itself unable to meet all its obligations and is endeavoring to make an adjustment with the holders of its outstanding debentures to refund the present bonds by exchanging them for a new 20-year issue with interest at 4 per cent per annum payable half yearly.

The question of the necessity for the refunding was gone into by the Department of Municipal Affairs and the proposal was discussed with Jules Fortin, Secretary of the Dominion Mortgage and Investment Association of Toronto, and it was the considered opinion that to avoid default some relief would have to be given to the city, provided it would make every effort to keep down expenses and materially to increase the tax rate.

The City Council for 1940 realizing the gravity of the situation has increased the tax rate this year from 42 mills on land and upon 50 per cent of improvements to 60 mills on land and upon 40 per cent of improvements. The result of their action for the first six months has been satisfactory and the Council is living up to the spirit of the agreement by holding down expenditures as far as it can consistently do so, having regard to the essential services to be given to the ratepayers and residents.

The conditions to be imposed upon Rossland if the bondholders consent to the refunding, would be very much along the lines of other Refunding Acts passed by the British Columbia Legislature, and include:

1. That the City bonds held in the sinking fund would be cancelled;
2. The present sinking fund will be transferred to outside control, to be approved by the Provincial Government;
3. The city will be required to levy a special rate each year to meet principal and interest on the new bonds;
4. No further bonds to be issued by the city except in cases of actual necessity and then only upon the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council;
5. The exchange of outstanding debentures for the new issue will be handled through a responsible agency to be designated by the Provincial Government;
6. New debentures will be callable at face value on any interest bearing date, subject to 30 days prior notice;
7. All new debentures will carry existing obligations, except as to date of repayment and rate of interest;
8. Before the final passing of the city's annual estimates they must first receive the approval of the Department of Municipal Affairs.

Castlegar Wins Protest Replay

TRAIL, B. C., Aug. 14—There was great excitement in the well-packed bleachers Wednesday evening when the ever-increasing softball fans witnessed the Castlegar Millionaires down the Crown Points 7-6 in a protest game of the City Softball League that ended in a photographic finish.

August 4 Millionaires protested the game on the grounds that Crown Point used an ineligible player. Loop officials saw it their way and Wednesday the tie game was replayed.

It was an uphill struggle for the Castlegar boys until Gripich clouted a double to score the tying and the winning run in the last half of the ninth.

Coroner's Jury Finds Kennedy Was Fatally Injured In His Ordinary Course of Work, Relief-Arlington

That George Kennedy, 57-year-old shift boss, was fatally injured "in the regular course of his duties" July 21 when he was caught in a slide of muck in the Relief-Arlington mine, Erie, was the verdict returned by a coroner's jury to Dr. H. H. MacKenzie, District Coroner, at an inquest Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Kennedy died in the Kootenay Lake General Hospital August 6 after taking a sudden turn for the worse. He was buried at New Denver August 9.

The jury, consisting of George W. Pease, Foreman; Eric Ambrose, Egil Alsted, George A. Brown, Kerby Grenfell and John Wood, returned the following report after a short deliberation:

"That George Kennedy came to his death on the 6th day of August 1940 at the Kootenay Lake General Hospital as a result of an accident.

"That death was caused by an internal hemorrhage caused by being crushed under a slide of muck on the 21st day of July 1940.

"That his death occurred in the regular course of his duties."

The jury arrived at this verdict following a recapitulation of two sections of evidence—one given by Dr. N. E. Morrison and Dr. F. P. Sparks, connecting the death and the accident, and the other given by mine officials and employees dealing with the theory of how the accident took place and the finding of Kennedy after he had been missing for 1½ hours.

Dr. Morrison, Nelson physician, said he was called to the scene of the accident about 1 p.m. July 21, and that first examinations revealed profound shock, compound fracture of the right arm and severe lacerations of the scalp. He treated the patient for shock and cleaned the wounds, until an ambulance took Kennedy to Nelson. He remained in poor condition for three days, but then began to show slow but definite improvement. At the beginning of the month he began to decline slightly, and on the morning of his death took a sudden turn for the worse.

ACCIDENT, DEATH RELATED

"His death was due to internal hemorrhage, which I'm sure was directly a result of the injuries he received in the mine," Dr. Morrison said.

Dr. Morrison's statement was borne out by Dr. Sparks, pathologist at the Kootenay Lake General Hospital, who performed an autopsy the following day, and reported his findings at the inquest. He stated that death was caused by the rupture of an old and well-healed ulcer which "I consider has relation to the accident." It was explained that the connection between the old ulcer and the accident could have "flared it up again, agitating the healed condition."

Harold Smythe, a medical student who is acting as interne at the Kootenay Lake General Hospital, told the jury that the first indication that he received of hemorrhaging by Kennedy was August 1. There had been nothing to suggest it previously, he said.

Description of their ideas of the accident were given by J. C. McCutcheon, Manager of the Relief-Arlington Mine, and Walter Tattrie, Mine Foreman, Ernest George Westby and Cornelius Reyden, employees, who first located Kennedy after it was discovered that he was missing, gave their versions of their search, as did George Baird another employee, who aided in the freeing of the injured man which took approximately another hour and a half.

FAILS TO SHOW FOR LUNCH

The first inkling that Mr. Kennedy was missing was given when he failed to show up for lunch at 11:30 a.m. A search was instituted, and the call of "Get me out of here" attracted the attention of Westby and Reyden. His position was described as his back being forced against "the hanging wall", his left foot down in a rather normal position, his right foot straight out in front of him, his left arm held behind his back and his right arm and head forced downward.

Kennedy, who had been shift boss for five years, had started on a tour of inspection that Sunday morning, shortly after both McCutcheon and Tattrie had been in the mine. According to what Kennedy told Tattrie afterward, Tattrie surmised that Kennedy had been along the 700-foot level, and then started downward to the 800-foot level. Halfway between was an intermediate raise, at the far end of which some timbering was soon to be done. Mr. Kennedy apparently went along it and at the end he lost his footing and dropped to another short level about 12 feet below. He likely jarred the muck loose as he lost his footing, and it tumbled down on top of him against a wall, covering him up to his head.

T. Stanley Dawson, first aid man at the mine who tended Kennedy until Dr. Morrison arrived, said Kennedy was conscious when he was found, but later seemed to drop off into a coma, but when he was taken to the manway a draft of air revived him. The first aid man treated Kennedy more for shock than anything else, and examined for hemorrhages.

The only other witness was Henry C. Corbie, who had identified the body at Somers Funeral Home before the burial.

District Crops Better as Cutworms Let Up; Scab, Moth Damage to Apples

An improvement in Kootenay and Arrow Lake vegetable crops in the last two weeks with a lessening of damage by cutworms is noted in the bi-monthly news letter of E. C. Hunt, District Horticulturist. Quality of Fall and Winter varieties of apples however will not be up to that of the 1939 crop as apple scab and considerable codling moth injury is evident.

"Very warm and sultry weather" has aided the crops, and generally they are making satisfactory growth. Plums and peaches are being harvested and enjoying a good local demand as are most varieties of vegetables. For the most part local markets are being well supplied with vegetables of fair to good quality. Tomatoes are on the market in "rather large quantities," while there is a "very heavy supply of corn, cucumbers, and potatoes."

The pear season is about a week to 10 days ahead of that of 1939 and Clapp's Favorite are just about ready to pick in some sections, and will be in all sections by August 25, according to the report. Bartletts are also coming into maturity in early sections.

Haying is about completed throughout the area, while harvesting of grain crops is in full swing again after the long spell of rain and dull weather in July.

Jack Carpenter Proposes Formation of Nelson Senior, Kid Ball Leagues

Jack Carpenter, late of Smithers, and recent addition to Nelson's Police Force, has taken a keen interest in baseball of all branches in Nelson, and is currently advancing the idea of establishing the sport on a sound basis among the younger players as well as those of higher calibre.

The mightily-built policeman, 22 years old, is a regular starter on the Nelson Senior Baseball Club, and has been showing up well, despite the fact he has absorbed three losses in as many games. Breaks in two games turned two tight duels over to the enemy and last Sunday he had one bad inning, when the Cards got to him for a pair of home runs.

What Jack would like to see is the formation of a school league, likely embracing three teams. His plan would be to run off a short series as soon as school starts in the Fall, no matter if even just half a dozen games are able to be played. Then as soon as the ball grounds become clear of snow in the Spring, he would have the league resume action.

This woulh revive interest in baseball among the students, and would simplify organization of minor leagues in the city during the Summer. The latter has been attempted for the past two Summers by "Slim" Porter, but his energetic efforts have been to no avail, players' interest petering out rather quickly. Porter still has his junior rep team playing occasional games.

Carpenter says he would be glad to coach in all his available time, and others could be found willing to help.

WANTS MORE BALL

More baseball for the Seniors is another of his pleas. His suggestion is that perhaps a three-team City League be formed at the beginning of the season and operated thrpughout the Summer. An all-star team would be used for West Kootenay League games, and the players would have to fight for positions and the spares would not become discouraged through lack of work, and the new setup would give them ample opportunity to develop.

There would be a greater incentive for boys to play baseball from now on, for there is a great chance for them to be picked up if they wish to turn professional. Because of this league's proximity to the three-year-old Western International, scouts of those teams will keep an eye trained on prospects from this neck of the woods. As it is, the Spokane Indians are reported to be interested in young Julie Bilesky, Trail Cardinal shortstop, who is a graduate of Trail Bantam League.

There is a strong movement around town to have lights installed in the park for next Summer, at an estimated cost of $1800, and chances for a City League schedule punctuated with frequent games with outside teams as special attractions, would probably be very bright.
