HOUSE OF COMMONS WILL ADJOURN TODAY

Communists Used Hollywood League as Source of Funds

Played on Fears of Jews Leech Tells Grand Jury

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 6 (AP).—John L. Leech, former Los Angeles County organizer for the Communist Party, told a Grand Jury today, the District Attorney's office said, that the party organized the Hollywood Anti-Nazi League as a rich source of funds from motion picture luminaries.

Leech, a principal witness in the Harry Bridges deportation hearing and before the Dies Congressional Committee on Unamerican Affairs, appeared before the County Grand Jury at the start of its investigation of a waterfront killing attributed by District Attorney Buron Fitts to Communist influences.

It was announced that Grand Jury subpoenas have been issued for Herbert Biberman, motion picture director, and husband of Actress Gale Sondergaard; Lionel Stander, comedian, and two score others.

"Because of Hitler's anti-Semitic program, the Communist Party conceived the idea of playing on the fears of the Jewish people and getting them into the Communist Party by selling them on the idea that the party, being an international organization, was the only agency in position to effectively combat the influence of Hitlerism and afford protection to the Jews," Leech was declared to have told the Grand Jury.

He said membership of the Anti-Nazi League grew to 3000 in Hollywood and was such a success, from the Communist Party's standpoint, that it was made national in scope About the time of the Hitler-Stalin Pact, its name was changed to the Hollywood League for Democratic Action.

7 Japanese Salvation Army Leaders Held on Suspicion Espionage

TOKYO, Aug. 6 — Seven Salvation Army leaders, reliably reported to be all Japanese, have been arrested on suspicion of espionage, the War Office announced today.

The War Offices said that those arrested included the Japanese Commander-in-Chief of the organization, which has its world headquarters in London. The arrests were made July 31, and the seven are still detained.

A Teddy Bear Now—A Parachutist Later

To give a more realistic touch to their training, members of the Local Defence Volunteers at Osterley Park, England, are using a teddy bear as their model during target practice. The men hold their fire until the parachute is within 25 yards and then let go. It is good-by to the teddy bear—and to the Nazi parachutists when they take his place.

CAMP BORDEN, Ont., Aug. 6 (CP)—Thirty-five young pilot officers received their wings today in a ceremony at the Royal Canadian Air Force Station here.

Mayor and Member of Quebec House; His Home Searched

MONTREAL, Aug. 6 (CP). — Municipal and Provincial authorities puzzled today over questions of procedure arising from internment of Camillien Houde, Mayor of Montreal and an Independent Member of the Quebec Legislature for a city riding.

Montreal legal authorities, after scanning the civic statutes, expressed opinion he still was mayor—unless he chose to resign—because there was no bylaw depriving a mayor of his position if imprisoned. The mayoralty duties, meanwhile, are being handled by the pro-mayor, Alderman Edmond Hamelin.

Then there was the question of Houde's seat in the Provincial Legislature, where he represents Montreal St Mary. Again there was no precedent but generally it was believed he would retain the seat until the next session of the House, at least. At that time, his position could be determined by the Legislature.

As Mayor, Houde will continue to receive his salary of $10,000 a year until December, when his two-year term expires. This will supplement his pay as an internee—40 cents a day.

Houde has another source of income, his sessional indemnity of $2500 as a Member of the Legislature. But this is payable only if he attends the required number of sittings.

HOUSE IS SEARCHED

MONTREAL, Aug. 6 (CP).—Police searched today the home and other quarters of Camillien Houde, interned Mayor of Montreal, and took away a considerable quantity of papers.

HAS RIGHT TO OBJECT

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP).—Under the Defence of Canada regulations, Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal will have the right to object to being interned. He was taken into custody in Montreal last night and interned under the War Measure Act.

Any objection by Mayor Houde would go to Justice Minister Lapointe and he would refer it to an Advisory Commission which would hear the objections. Two such Commissions have been appointed, one under Mr. Justice J. D. Hyndman and the other under Mr. Justice J. H. Fortier.

Every British subject interned has the right to register objection and have his case heard. This right does not extend to enemy aliens however.

Winnipeg Merchants Join in Drive for Volunteers for Registration

Places of Business Substations for Volunteers

WINNIPEG, Aug. 6 (CP) — Butchers, bakers, druggists, grocers, restauranteurs, confectioners and hotel clerks waited on a new type of customer here today as they switched their business places into application booths for persons wishing to volunteer for work under the National Registration Act.

While clerks in the main registration stations of Winnipeg's four federal seats pushed steadily forward with their arrangements for the listing of all persons here between the ages of 16 and 65 August 19, 20 and 21, retail merchants throughout the city opened a three-day campaign for volunteer workers. On almost every street the window of some modest business establishment displayed a card proclaiming the place a sub-station for registering willing workers.

Alderman Rhodes Smith, a Chairman of the Committee on Volunteer Effort for Winnipeg, said that early reports indicated an eager response from the public. About 4000 volunteers will be needed to assist the official registrars during the three-day registration, he added.

"We do not anticipate any difficulty because even before the substations were established about 100 volunteers offered their services each day at the main stations," Alderman Smith said.

Training of Pilots, Gunners and Radio Operators for Empire to Be Speeded by Reduced Training Time

Eight of 16 Service Flying Schools to Open This Year

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP)—Shortening of the elementary, intermediate and advanced training periods under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan from eight to seven weeks each was announced tonight by Hon. C. G. Power, Air Minister. He said the move, made at the request of the United Kingdom, was designed to accelerate the output of pilots.

The United Kingdom has advised that training overseas of air gunners and wireless operators has been reduced from 24 weeks to 16 weeks and action will be taken shortly to cut these courses at the wireless schools in Canada first by 4 and then by four weeks.

Subsequent courses will be on an 8-week basis, Mr. Power added.

Mr. Power's statement followed a meeting of the Supervisory Board of the training plan at which acceleration of the scheme was reviewed.

Altogether, Mr. Power said, the changes in courses will reduce the time it takes to make an airman from a civilian to 25 weeks for pilots compared with 28 under the original schedule, 22 for air observers, compared with 26, and 28 for air gunners, compared with 32.

Resumption of deliveries to Canada for the United Kingdom of certain types of advanced training aircraft, together with arrangements for acquiring aircraft in the United States, has made possible the accelerated plan for opening eight of the 16 service flying training schools this year. The original plan, he said, called for only five.

The Air Minister drew attention to the recent arrival of the first group of student airmen from Great Britain for study at service flying training schools in Canada and said the scheme is rapidly taking on imperial outlines.

This group, made up of 22 British students, is stationed at the Royal Canadian Air Force manning depot at Toronto, awaiting assignment to various training stations in the Dominion.

These students will be followed shortly and at regular intervals by others from the United Kingdom, Australia and New Zealand, the Air Minister announced.

First intake of pupils under the joint air training plan was received at Camp Borden service flying training school July 22 and the second began training at Uplands Airport, near Ottawa, Monday when No. 2 service school was opened by the Governor-General. An air observers school opened Monday at Edmonton.

German Blitzkrieg Is Not Yet Ready

Invasion Attempt Is Possible in Next Week or Two

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP.-Cable)—British authorities said information reaching them indicated Germany's preparations for the expected blitzkrieg on Britain are not yet complete, although they are well advanced. These sources said they believed an attempt to invade the Island Kingdom mightbe made within the next week or two.

Germany continued aerial attacks on British coasts. The Air Ministry said one German bomber was shot down and another threw off its load of bombs and fled when attacked.

British raids on the important Nazi naval base of Kiel and the great Port of Hamburg Monday night were announced by the Air Ministry. The raiders also bombed goods yards at Hamm and airdromes at Schiphol, Holland, Borkum, Germany.

ITALIANS ADVANCE

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP.-Cable)—The first major campaign of the war in Africa has started with three Italian columns advancing from Ethiopia into British Somaliland, the heat-ridden protectorate on the Gulf of Aden.

Military sources here suggested today that Mussolini is attempting the invasion for its effect on Italian morale rather than part of a broad strategical plan to carry the war into the Middle East.

It is considered here that Somaliland has little strategic value.

Carlos, 26, a former Notre Dame student, had studied in Germany and had written several songs.

Female Body Is Seen in Columbia River at Trail

TRAIL, B. C., Aug. 6—The fact that a female body floated down the Columbia River Tuesday evening, was established by Trail City Police after receiving a report from Tadanac Police that a form resembling a body floated down the river past Stoney Creek above Trail, early Tuesday evening.

Constable R. W. Hill of the Trail City Police saw the body float under the East Trail Bridge.

Acting Chief of Police F. H. Steele and other members of the force proceeded down stream in expectation of the body being swept ashore by an eddy, but they were unable to grasp it. Roy Salter, a volunteer, swam out from a boat in an effort to secure it, but it continued downstream in the current. A message to Waneta that a body was floating downstream brought no report of its being in sight there at a late hour Tuesday night.

Contests Loom in at Least Two of Four Federal Byelections August 19

Six Candidates Are in the Field in Saskatoon

By The Canadian Press

Contests are promised in at least two of the four Federal byelections that have been called for August 19. Official nominations August 12 will reveal whether the other two seats are to go by acclamation.

Six candidates were nominated Monday for Saskatoon in the by-election necessitated by death of Rev. W. G. Brown, successful United Reform candidate in the general elections March 26.

Liberals and Conservatives will each hold nominating conventions in Waterloo North, vacant by appointment of Hon. W. D. Euler, Liberal, to the Senate.

In Kingston, the Minister of National Defence for Naval Affairs, Hon. Angus Macdonald has notified the Riding Liberal Association he would accept the Liberal nomination. It is not yet known whether the Conservatives or others plan to contest this election, necessitated by the death of Hon. Norman Rogers, Liberal.

The fourth byelection is in Carleton, Ont., traditionally Conservative seat vacant by death of Hon. A. B. Hyndman. Russell Boucher, Conservative, is the only nominee there to date.

Tea by 2 Nurses Raises $50 for the Bomber Fund

"We are very happy to be able to contribute to this worthy cause," said Miss Sadie Terry and Miss Joyce Ibbotson of the Kootenay Lake General Hospital nursing staff Tuesday as they handed $50 to The Nelson Daily News to go toward the District Bomber Fund. The contribution bringing the fund to $650, was raised at a tea and entertainment staged by the two nurses at the Nurses' Home Monday night. Of the total proceeds, $50 was given to the Bomber Fund and the balance was turned over to the Red Cross.

The tea was a real success, with fortune telling, novelties, a bean guessing contest, candy selling, and card and teacup reading. Mrs. J. Vecchio read the cards and Mrs. Wallace Kelly read teacups. Laurence Simpson won the bean guessing contest.

The "Bomber Fund" is being held in trust by The Daily News until the goal of $2500 is reached.

Hundreds Fleeing Storm, Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 6 (AP)—Storm refugees by the hundreds fled Louisiana's low-lying Gulf coast today before a tropical disturbance edging Westward toward Texas after causing extensive floods and disrupting communications from Mobile, Ala., to Western Louisiana.

The death of one man from fright was the only casualty reported, but it was feared there might be additional loss of life in isolated coastal settlements swept by high tides that accompanied the gale and tropical downpour.

Late Flashes

LONDON, Aug. 7 (Wednesday) (CP) — Exchange Telegraph Agency reported in a dispatch from Hong Kong today that merchant seamen had sighted many Japanese Warships and transports Southbound from the Japanese-owned Island of Formosa. Their mission was not known.

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP)—Great Britain, it was indicated tonight, probably will refuse a plea by the United States Ambassador to Belgium that the British navy permit shipment of food from America to avert starvation in Belgium and elsewhere in Europe.

An informed British source said it is "unlikely that Britain will allow any food into German-occupied Europe."

The envoy, John Cudahy, had declared conditions "close to famine" will prevail in Belgium by mid-September unless American shipments get through.

War and Election Delayed Naming of Prison Commission

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP). — War and the Dominion election interfered with establishment of the Penitentiary Commission authorized by legislation passed at the last session of Parliament, Justice Minister Ernest Lapointe told the House of Commons tonight, but he said he expects to find suitable men for the job shortly.

The Commission would have been set up last Fall but the war called away men who were being considered for appointment, the Minister said.

$125,000,000 in Estimates Passed in Final Sittings

Little More Than Half an Hour for Post Office Estimates; Little Comment as Items Presented

OTTAWA, Aug. 7 (Wednesday) (CP)—The House of Commons cleaned up the business of the session at 1:28 a.m. EDT today and adjourned until 12:15 o'clock when formal adjournment to November will be taken.

ESTIMATES APPROVED

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP)—In rapid fashion tonight the House of Commons approved estimates for the Departments of Justice, Transport, Public Works, Post Office, Trade, Labor, Revenue, and Secretary of State and Finance Department.

From the 8 p.m. resumption hour until midnight the Commons, in committee of supply, approved estimates of more than $125,000,000.

Last estimates to be approved were those of $11,575,000 for the Finance Department. Previously, during the evening session, the House approved estimates for the Departments of Justice, Transport, Public Works, Post Office, Trade, Labor, Revenue and Secretary of State.

Estimates of $3,440,000 for the Justice Department and $5,312,000 for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police went through quickly while Post Office estimates of $38,719,000, usually the subject of lengthy debate, were approved in little more than half an hour.

Trade and Commerce figures were $8,907,000. Labor called for $22,830,000. These estimates were approved almost as fast as the Post Office Department figures. Estimates for the Revenue Department, amounting to $12,452,000, and $797,000 for the Secretary of State occasioned little discussion.

From time to time top ranking civil servants moved onto the floor of the House to help their ministers answer questions.

The House put through estimates of nearly $20,000,000 covering the External Affairs Department and other branches under the Prime Minister's jurisdiction, and the Department of Mines and Resources under Hon. T. A. Crerar.

Last action of the House was approval of the Supply Bill containing, in tabulated form, the entire main and supplementary estimates of approximately $450,000,000. This went through with the barest of formalities.

General opinion among observers was, however, that seldom if ever were the complete estimates approved in such a short time. In peace time members take the opportunity to make considerable comment in the various items as they are called.

Estimates for Post Office $38,719,000; $4,460,000 for Air

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP). — Post Office estimates, often the subject of days of debate in Committee, were all voted in a little more than half an hour in the House of Commons tonight. They amounted to $38,719,000.

The vote for air mail was $4,460,861, an increase of $2,250,000 over last year and providing for new and enlarged services in the Maritime Provinces, Western Ontario, Northern Canada and other points.

36 Japanese Enter Canada in 1939-40

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP). — Presentation of figures on Japanese immigration to Canada was described by Resources Minister T. A. Crerar as "approaching the danger zone" in the House of Commons today during discussion of his departmental estimates.

During the fiscal year ended March 31, 36 Japanese were admitted to Canada, almost all of them women and children, the Minister said.

Howard Green (Con., Vancouver South) asked the Minister for the figures.

"I can give the figures but I realize when we are getting into this we are approaching the danger zone," the Minister said.

"Well, it is certainly a danger zone for British Columbia," Mr. Green observed.

Canadians Fit, Strong

"If Hitler Would Only Start Something" Says Toronto Private; Vancouver Officer Is Aide-de-Camp

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Aug. 6 (CP)—Amid the grandeur of the countryside which forms Britain's bastion of defence, Canada's troops in the United Kingdom await the zero hour confident and strong.

Certified fit and battleworthy by their corps commander, Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, these men of the 1st Canadian Division have adjusted themselves to the new technique of manoeuvre and strategy evolved to meet the threat of Nazi invasion.

The spirit pervading every unit of the division was reflected in the following remark by Pte. W. Travers of a Toronto Highland regiment:

"If Hitler would only start something instead of shooting off his face he'd be marching right down our alley. Sure, we can wait just as long as Jerry, but we'd much rather have it out right now."

YOUNG VANCOUVER OFFICER IS AIDE-DE-CAMP

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Aug. 6 (CP)—When Brigadier G. R. Pearkes of Calgary, was promoted to Major-General and given command of the 1st Canadian Division, he selected as his aide-de-camp, Lieut. E. D. Danby, of Vancouver.

Although only 24, Lieut. Danby has been associated with military life for the past seven years. He served four years with the Seaforth Cadets in Vancouver and since then has held a commission with a famous Pacific Coast Highland regiment which formed part of the Second Canadian contingent.

SECOND DIVISION ON ROUTE MARCH

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Aug. 6 (CP Cable)—Perspiring and dust-begrimed, but still smiling, new arrivals of the 2nd Canadian Division returned to barracks tonight after a crowded day's program along England's winding country roads and on the parade grounds where famous British regiments have drilled.

The men simply revelled in the first real outdoor workout since they marched from their Canadian training camps some time ago for the great adventure.

Maj. Gen. Victor Odlum, General Officer Commanding the 2nd Division, and senior members of his staff have been in constant conference with ranking officers of the Canadian military headquarters. Pressing duties kept them in London most of the day.

Other branches of the division have been occupied fitting and redistributing billets, drawing stores and equipment.

Scotland holds a wide edge over London as a point of attraction among the early applicants for "time out".

Goat and Kid Visit Lookout

ROSSLAND, B. C., Aug. 6—W. R. Gibbard, in charge of the Old Glory forestry lookout, reported the visit of "an old lady and a kid" last week, to the Rossland Ranger headquarters. They appeared several times during the week, and the last time Mr. Gibbard saw them was Saturday.

Goats were unusual near the lookout, stated Mr. Gibbard, who mentioned that the odd one was seen as a rule during July.

$21,435,000 in Grants Toward Building New Ships

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP.-Cable) — The British Government has requisitioned nine-tenths of the liners belonging to established British shipping lines, Ronald Cross, Minister of Shipping announced tonight.

This was apart from ships adapted as armed merchantmen, hospital ships and transports.

Terms of the agreement between the Government and shipowners show owners will be paid a rental varying according to the class of ship and the conditions under which it was requisitioned.

In addition they will receive sums for depreciation and a "reasonable return on capital."

Merchant shipping was requisitioned at the outbreak of the war and the Ministry of Shipping was established last October 13.

The agreement also showed that loans totalling £4,817,000 (about $21,435,650) had been approved toward the cost of building new ships. Under the British Shipping (Assistance) Bill about 100 cargo vessels already built or building will be entitled to a grant under the scheme.

A Ministry of Shipping memorandum explaining the agreement said the tonnage replacement scheme is designed to "go some of the way" toward the replacement after the war of ships lost due to war risks, but it cannot guarantee funds will be available for this purpose.

The Admiralty announced today the naval trawlers Drummer and Oswaldian had been sunk by "enemy mines" with some loss of life and that the next of kin had been informed. The announcement did not indicate where the trawlers were lost.

JULY STREET RAILWAY RECEIPTS ARE $1600

Turkey Asked to Define Position

ROME, Aug. 6 (AP)—It was rumored in political circles tonight that Germany and Italy have asked Turkey to define her position toward Great Britain and the Axis power.

Turkey was a potential ally of Britain and France until France collapsed and foreign observers considered it likely that Hitler and Mussolini, after gathering the rest of the Balkans into their camp, would try to bring in Turkey.

Reduced Rentals Boathouse Berths Are Retroactive

Hoping to settle a perennial problem, that of collecting rental for boathouses using the city float at the foot of Josephine Street, the City Council Tuesday night approved new rental rates, drawn up by the Finance Committee, and established a definite policy in dealing with boathouse owners in arrears.

An annual rental of 50 cents per foot on a frontage basis, a considerable reduction from previous rates, was approved. These rates will be effective as from January 1, 1938, and credit will be given owners having paid up rental charges.

A condition under which the new rates are made effective is that all arrears be paid up, and it was decided to have a legal agreement effecting conditions of lease and rental of the City yards and float frontage drawn up, and each renter required to subscribe to this agreement. Under the agreement, if rents are not paid, boathouses will be removed.

In any case the City Clerk was instructed to have any boathouse, on which arrears were not cleaned up by September 1, removed.

Estimated cost of the work was $90.

Road work to give improved access to homes on Union Street was also approved, while authority to lay a 6-inch sewer to lots on Union Street on the receipt of a proper local improvement petition from H. M. Busk was also given. Mr. Busk has constructed a residence on lots to which the sewer may be laid, and lots are available for the construction of three houses immediately adjacent.

Green Asks Justice Minister Why Celona Released on Parole

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP).—Parole and re-arrest of Joe Celona, convicted in Vancouver of white slavery charges, was raised in the House of Commons tonight during discussion of Justice Department estimates when Howard Green (Con., Vancouver South) asked why the man was released in the first instance.

Justice Minister Ernest Lapointe said the man had served his sentence and was entitled to parole if his recommendations were in order. This man was represented as having learned his lesson, reformed and anxious to lead a better life.

Public opinion reacted so strongly against this release that a further investigation was made and the man was sent back to penitentiary.

Mr. Green said the Remission Branch had not consulted the Vancouver Police.

Lists of Helpers In Registration Are Asked, Clubs

All service clubs and other organizations in Nelson had been or would be contacted to supply lists of members willing to donate time during the three national registration days, August 19, 20 and 21, said C. F. McHardy, organizer, Tuesday. A dozen High School girls had also been asked to serve.

Mr. McHardy said that the organizations would be asked to supply a list of members willing to help, with their addresses and phone numbers, by Thursday August 8. The names would be arranged alphabetically by Mr. McHardy and he would then consult C. B. Garland, Registrar for Kootenay West, to divide the volunteers into shifts. The shifts would run from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 3 p.m. to 10 p.m. There would be no "split shifts" unless they were arranged for between individuals. How much time the volunteers could give and what days they could serve would all be taken into consideration in portioning out the work, Mr. McHardy said.

CKLN Radio Nelson would be a medium for contacting volunteers as to what days they would be asked to work. A meeting of volunteers will be called for Friday night, August 16, when Mr. Garland will give instructions.

The volunteers will go to the Hume School, Central School or City Hall, and will ask registrants the questions contained on special forms. They will then fill in the forms when the questions are answered. The registrants will not handle or fill in the forms themselves, but will just answer the questions.

Preparations for Asphalting on Avenue, Victoria Street Under Way

With the Vernon Street asphalting completed and preparations made for asphalting on Nelson Avenue fronting the Hume School and on a section of Victoria Street, Nelson's street surfacing project continued its fine, progress in the past two weeks, according to the report of H. D. Dawson, City Engineer, to the City Council Tuesday evening.

The report for the two week period ending August 5, follows:

STREETS

Crews have been engaged on usual work of street cleaning, brush cutting, attention to boulevards, catch basins and ditches, repairs of board sidewalks including the plank walk to the boat houses. We have done some small amount of grading removing high ground and filling on Fourth Street, and have completed the grading on three blocks of Victoria Street, and are now laying premix asphalt. At the intersection with Josephine Street there was some small amount of poor subsoil to be removed, and between Hendryx and Cedar Streets a small fill was made. The bulk of the work consisted merely in laying crushed rock and gravel to an even surface in preparation for asphalt, which we have commenced laying.

Poor sub-material in the block in front of the Hume School has been extavated and pouring the concrete curb for the sidewalk of asphalt is under way. The work of reballasting is now proceeding and asphalt will be laid here.

During street reballasting operations excess of sand produced at the gravel pit has been hauled for the stock pile on Vernon Street for Winter use.

Asphalt has been completed on Vernon Street between Cedar and Park.

The removal of the old concrete curb for widening of the Victoria to Silica Street block, and the reballasting and laying of asphalt has been completed. During the course of the work a number of very heavy storm showers cut the new asphalt in places, necessitating re-laying.

As opportunity offers we have cast a number of lengths of concrete pipe.

WATER WORKS

During the rains over the greater part of the period the water in Five-Mile Creek rose slightly, and the amount going to waste over the spillway is greater than for the past two periods; it is 3½ inches in depth and amounts to 16,000,000 U. S. gallons per day.

A number of new water services have been installed, namely: To the two Nelson houses on Chatham Street, to the new Dahlquist house on Sixth Street and Behnsen, to the new Pearson house on Victoria Street, and two for the Hume School. We have installed a spray system covering the garden and grass area near the waiting room of the street car terminal.

Sewer connections have been installed serving the C. D. Pearson house on Victoria Street, and the Anderson house on Morgan Street near Elm.

PERMITS

Fifteen building permits have been applied for and issued during the period, amounting in value to $6114, and the required number of building inspections made.

Plumbing permits to the number of six have been issued.

A fair number of enquiries as to operations under the Zoning Bylaw have been dealt with.

"Silent Column" Is Dead

Killed by Government That Created It to Stop Rumors and Gossip

By PAT USHER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 5 (CP)—Britain's "silent column" is dead, killed by the Government which created it.

Purpose of the column was to stop rumors and gossip on topics of national security. During its short-lived existence British newspapers daily carried items of court cases in which heavy fines or jail sentences were imposed for "careless talk"—mostly because it was supposed to cause dependency.

Stiffest sentence went to individuals originating or repeating false rumors about parachutists landing or supposed enemy attacks on the United Kingdom.

No one is quite sure where the silent column idea originated. But most people believe it was the product of Alfred Duff-Cooper, Minister of Information. Some attributed it to Harold Nicolson, Parliamentary Secretary to the Ministry, and a few thought Sir John Anderson, Minister of Home Security, had a hand in it.

But there was no doubt as to who killed the column. Prime Minister Winston Churchill struck its death blow in the House of Commons.

He said: "The Government have no desire to make crimes out of silly vaporings which are best dealt with on the spur of the moment by the more robust members of the company."

Mr. Churchill said he has asked Sir John Anderson to have all sentences imposed by courts for loose and defeatist talk "carefully and immediately reviewed" and that sentences should be remitted or reduced where it was obvious there was no "systematic purpose to weaken the national effort."

A letter, from City Clerk W. E. Wasson notifying the Company that precautions against such an occurrence could be taken by installing a valve on their line and that under these conditions the City would not consider itself liable for future damage, was approved.

Another claim, from C. W. Appleyard to cover the cost of a plate glass window in Valentine's News Stand, broken by a street car trolley line, was also ordered paid.

Reduced Vote for Forests Brings Protest, Ottawa

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP).—Reduction of the appropriation for forest conservation from $200,000 to $40,000 brought strong protest from New Democracy members today when the House of Commons in Committee considered estimates of the Department of Mines and Resources.

John Blackmore, New Democracy Leader, said the Government was endangering one of Canada's greatest natural resources for the sake of economy which was not necessary. Money could be made available if the Government chose to adopt the proper fiscal policies.

Resources Minister T. A. Crerar said the vote was only for fire protection in National Parks and that other forest resources outside the parks were under jurisdiction of the Provinces.

Nelson's July Fire Damage Nil

While there were some small chimney and grass fires handled by the City Fire Department during July, fire damage for that month was nil, Chief G. A. McDonald's monthly report to the City Council Tuesday night stated.

Thirty-one inspections under the Fire Marshal's Act were carried out and the Department spent considerable time in ladder and fire fighting drill, first aid and inhalator instruction and other practice.

Purchase of materials to improve the hot water heating system at the Fire Hall, covered in the estimates was authorized.

A letter of appreciation from the B. C. Department of Lands for help given by the Department in extinguishing a small fire near the Cemetery in July was received and filed, along with the Fire Chief's report on the Firemen's College which he attended at Victoria last month.

Howard Green Urges Solicitor-General to Aid Justice Minister

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP). — A recommendations of the Special Commons Committee on Defence of Canada Regulations are to be carried into effect Justice Ernest Lapointe said when the House of Commons tonight took up estimates of the Department of Justice.

Howard Green (Con., Vancouver South) who questioned the Minister, said he believed the Government should revert to the former custom of having a Solicitor General as well as a Justice Minister so one Minister could devote himself to Defence of Canada Regulations. It was humanly impossible for one Minister with all his other responsibilities, to review every case arising from administraton of the act Mr. Green said.

Any suggestions would be studied carefully, Mr. Lapointe said.

Defends Belgian King . . .

Continent Is a Howling Hell and Winter Will Be Worse Says U.S. Minister

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP). — John Cudahy, formerly United States Minister at Brussels, declared today that the food situation in German-occupied Belgium is "very, very serious."

"Belgium imports 75 per cent of her wheat!" he said. "Present supplies, with severe rationing — 225 grams, or half a pound, of bread per person per day — will last until Sept. 1, or at best until early October.

"If the Continent is a howling hell now, what do you think it will be this Winter?"

"All industry has stopped. Thousands upon thousands of people left the country and there are still more than 2,500,000 Belgians somewhere in France.

"In their homeland, harvests are rotting in the sun."

Mr. Cudahy, en route to the United States, said the Belgians "know that British victory is their only hope of "salvation," but at the same time defended the action of King Leopold in surrendering his army and exposing the British Expeditionary Force to the danger of annihilation.

"I feel we should try and see both sides of this predicament, not judge harshly on insufficient facts," he said.

"Put yourself in his place. He commanded an army of half a million men which intermingled with as many panic-stricken refugees. He was haunted by the thought that each hour he continued the resistance it meant death not only to his soldiers but to those helpless people.

"Faced by the prospect of this sacrifice of human life, he had no other choice."

On the food question, the Minister said that unless supplies are found by mid-September, a condition "close to famine" will prevail.

He conceded that the question of supplies from the United States was "academic" since the British Ministry of Economic Warfare at present is believed to be unwilling to allow any supplies of food to go to Belgium for fear they would fall into the hands of the Germans.

Time Inopportune for Canada to Join Defence Treaty With U.S. Says King

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP) —Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons today that discussion of proposals that Canada join the Pan-American Union and make a mutual defence treaty with the United States was inopportune at this time.

George Fulford (Lib. Leeds) suggested Canada should be a member of the Union and J. F. Poulliot (Lib. Temiscouata) said President Roosevelt's promise to defend Canada should be implemented by a treaty in which both countries would fight for the other in case of attack.

Mr. King said the Pan-American Union was a Union of Republic, and so far Canada has not been invited to join. With Canada at war and the other American nations at peace this was not the time for any move in the matter.

"I believe it would be embarrassing to the United States, to the Central and South American Republics and to ourselves, and would create misunderstanding were we to seek at this time to become a member of the Pan-American Union," said Mr. King.

Rodney Adamson (Con. York West) said any attempt to join the Union now would be construed as a sign of weakness and a sign of the disintegration of the British Empire.

"It would be so construed deliberately," said Mr. King. Regarding the United States, Mr. King said mutual defence was a large subject. With Canada at war and the United States at peace and engaged in an election campaign, a statement might have one meaning in Canada and a dozen different meanings to others who might wish to give it a different meaning.

British Shipping Losses Put at High Figure by German Command

BERLIN, Aug. 6 (AP)— Today's German high command communique:

"One submarine sank three armed enemy merchant ships totalling 16,875 tons in a strongly protected convoy.

(This claim is unconfirmed.)

"Frequent air fights developed over the Channel Aug. 5. In the course of this action one German reconnaissance plane shot down two modern-type British pursuit craft. Six additional enemy chasers were downed by our pursuit craft.

(Four German fighters were shot down yesterday by the R.A.F., itself suffering no losses.)

"During the night of Aug. 5-6, the German planes attacked several English ports. British planes last night dropped bombs on Northern and Western Germany. Property damage was slight. No lives were lost."

"The result of merchant warfare against England from the outbreak of the war until July 8, 1940, was announced by the high command July 12.

"In the period from July 9 to July 13, the following enemy merchant shipping and shipping usable by the enemy were sunk:

"By submarine—344,174 tons.

"By surface craft—68,500 tons.

"These figures do not include sinkings by mines, which have occurred in increasing amounts, especially lately and which the enemy have concealed.

"These successes have been proved by repeated closing of enemy ports and other evidence.

"The air force sank 21,650 tons of warships and 215,000 tons of merchant ships.

"Damaged were: 32,000 tons of warships and 328,000 tons of merchant shipping.

"The total ship losses sustained by the enemy between July 9 and 31 thus amounted to 679,324 tons, not counting losses by mines or damage to enemy war and merchant shipping.

"The enemy thus since the beginning of the war has lost, of his own shipping and shipping usable by him, through operations of the navy, 3,725,547 tons and through operations of the air force 1,261,113 tons, a total of 4,986,860 tons.

"Besides this the air force, since the outbreak of war has damaged merchant ships totalling approximately 1,500,000 tons."

BRITISH SCOFF

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP)—Authoritative sources scoffed at the German high command communique today which put total losses of useful shipping to Britian at 657,674 tons in the last three weeks of July, exclusive of warships and tonnage sunk by mines.

One informant declared that the communique "once again multiplies the truth nearly fourfold."

"British allied and neutral merchant shipping sunk during the three weeks from July 7 to July 28 totals 196,112 tons, of which British shipping accounts for 136,141 tons," he said.

"These figures cover all losses, whether by torpedo, aerial or mine attack."

Hours of Preparation Before Raids; Fliers Know Continent Like 'Pockets'

By DREW MIDDLETON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE ROYAL AIR FORCE, Somewhere in England, Aug. 6 (AP) —Long hours of methodical preparation go into every one of the hundreds of raids in which Royal Air Force bombers have battered at the heart of industrial Germany.

Here is a description typical of any of the last 30 days during which the R. A. F. has dropped 37,000 bombs.

Objective: The Ruhr Valley.

At noon, as orders come through specifying the target and the number of planes to be used, the R.A.F. station goes into action.

All through the afternoon, seating men in overalls feed gas to the heavy bombers, overhaul motors, restock the gunners' supplies of machine-gun bullets, prepare the bomb racks.

Pilots bend over plotting their courses — "Guns are pretty thick there. Better go North of it."

Wireless operators check codes and signals. Gunners inspect their weapons.

Then comes dinner, a merry meal despite the possibility that in 12 hours, at another meal, some places at the table may be empty.

At 11 p.m. when the English countryside sinks into sleep in the hush of a Summer evening, a Whiteley bomber, bearing two tons of bombs, trundles down the runway. A moment later it noses ponderously into the air.

The others follow. They fly above the airdrome for a moment, then the motors break into a roar and the formation heads East.

As the drone of engines dies, the ground crews troop off to their billets to sleep. The raiders will keep silent until sometime during the night when word will flash back to the command, telling whether the bombing was successful.

What's it like?

A Flight Lieutenant who has flown his Whitley over Germany two or three nights for six weeks gives this picture:

"We know the continent as we know our pockets, from the leflet flights (which preceded actual bombings). It's easy going until we reach Germany. We rendezvous and then glide toward the target to obtain maximum surprise.

When you near the target, things heat up. It's dark, then suddenly searchlights are around you like pillars of white. Their anti-aircraft starts to hammer.

"Their blackout is very good. So if there's no moon, we drop flares. Moonlit bombing is a picnic. The blackout doesn't help very much then. We go over the target, drop our 'sticks' (dropping the bomb-load in a line across the target) and head home singly."

German fighter planes don't bother him, he says, with the true bomber pilot's scorn of fighters.

When German barrage ballons were mentioned he laughed and said "Sometime we give them a couple of rounds on our way home."

As returning planes pass over the coast, they give a recognition signal.

The ground crews wait at the airdrome counting the planes as they come in. The first plane lands and its weary crew steps out, joins in scanning the skies and counting other planes, it's men swearing or praying according to their natures.

Then they go silently to breakfast and bed.

The ground crews work the planes over to their ground "garages."

There is silence over the vast expanse of airdrome as dawn breaks.

But in five or six hours the telephone from General Headquarters of the R.A.F. will ring briskly. Another night's work will start.

BRITISH WOMEN TACKLE ANYTHING IN GREAT WAR EFFORT

Take Voluntary Registration of Women in Quebec

MONTREAL, Aug. 6 (CP)—A complete survey of what the women of Quebec Province are willing and able to do for Canada in case of national emergency was launched today in cooperation with the Federal Government and with the blessing of Cardinal Villeneuve.

Madame Athanase David of Montreal, chairman of a committee conducting a voluntary registration of women in the province in line with similar surveys already completed in Ontario and the Western provinces, said today many women's organizations in the province had indicated "great interest" in the scheme.

Explaining the purpose of the registration, coming only two weeks before the compulsory national registration, she said that it would serve the purpose of training a body of volunteer workers who would help Government officials in the compulsory survey.

It would also provide the Government with an extensive outline of the aid Quebec women could render in case of a sudden national emergency coming before questionnaires of the compulsory registration could be sorted and filed.

Mrs. David said her newly opened office here already had received a letter from Cardinal Villeneuve wishing it all success. War Services Minister Gardiner also had approved the scheme and asked for its rapid completion. The registration will take about three weeks and will cover every corner of the province.

Fitted Bag Presented to Mrs. Austin by Sheep Creek Friends

SHEEP CREEK, B. C.—At a Service Club to elect a new treasurer to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Mrs. G. Austin, who leaves Sheep Creek shortly, Mrs. Bremner voiced regret in receiving Mrs. Austin's resignation.

Mrs. W. Whitely was elected by acclamation to her place. The books showed a balance on hand of $22.22.

Several of the members volunteered to help with National Registration in the district.

Plans were made to hold a dance.

A vote of thanks was tendered to H. Linblad who repaired the playground equipment.

Following the meeting a farewell tea, honoring Mrs. Austin was held at which several community ladies besides members were present.

The tea table was centred with a bowl of delphinium and California poppies.

Mrs. Cosnett and Mrs. Tonkin poured and the serviteurs were Mesdames Bromner, Vandergrift, Duncan and May. After tea, Mrs. Tonkin on behalf of the Club wished Mrs. Austin God speed and hoped that she would take many trips to use the fitted suitcase which was then presented to her by Mrs. Bremner. Everyone joined in singing, "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Mrs. Austin thanked her friends. Guests included Mesdames Cartwright, Thomson, McDonough, Johnson and McDowell.

Grandson and Step-Daughter of Former Kaiser to Marry

Princess Henriette is the youngest daughter of the ex-Kaiser's second wife, Princess Hermine. Prince Karl is the son of the late Prince Joachim, Wilhelm's sixth son.

Money . . .

Moderate Means Bring Happiness

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

A man who has been eminently successful in business and, up to this date, had thought he was going to bequeath a sizeable fortune to his children, remarked the other day that he was quite resigned to the thought of his children starting out from scratch as he had done, and while he had worked hard to give his family everything they wanted, he didn't regret the hard work nor grieve for his plans that had gone a-glee.

"People of moderate means get most out of life after all," he said. "They eat hearty but they don't have indigestion. Generally speaking, they pay as they go and they aren't tempted to go too far. For the most part they don't lose sight of the simple pleasures nor raise their living standards to the point of strain. They aren't faced with the problem of false friends. They aren't always asking themselves who is after their money or their influence and who is currying favor with the purpose of asking a subsequent favor. I want my children to be in this category."

All of which is in perfect accord with the wise Solomon who said, in effect, that people of moderate means had the best time in life since they weren't like the very poor, so hard pressed that they were given to profanity, nor like the very affluent, inclined to be hoity-toity.

However, it must be said that Solomon wasn't disposing of his silver and his gold, his cattle and his herds, his wives and his lady friend, all of which were coin in his realm. He was steadily building up the bank account and enlarging the chorus. When the Queen of Sheba came to visit him and brought him a mess of fine gifts he evidently took them and said, "Thank you," for there's no written evidence that he sent them back with her.

Which is the way most of us are about money. We don't approve it but we can use it. We realize it may be a curse but we are sure we could handle it without catching the curse.

So I say a man who sees his fortune fading and cries, "Peace it's wonderful," that man has the goods all of us could use.

WOMEN MOUNTAINEERS BROUGHT TO SAFETY

GLACIER RANGER STATION, Wash., Aug. 6 (AP). — Two feminine mountaineers, one injured, were brought to civilization early today after being marooned near the top of 9000-foot Mount Shuksan for 32 hours.

Anne Cedarquist, 22, a Shelton, Wash., chemist, was taken in an ambulance to Bellingham after being brought to the end of a Forest Service road by stretchers. Faye Plank, 36, Bremerton High School Librarian walked to the road end unaided and planned to return to Seattle immediately.

Milk Is an Ideal Summer Drink

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Milk is generally acknowledged as the most nearly perfect food. It provides the dietary essentials—protein, fat and carbohydrates—as well as minerals and vitamins. Nowadays with the improvement in dairy hygiene and Public Health inspection it has lost the dangers of causing intestinal infection in the Summer and its easy digestibility makes it an ideal Summer beverage food.

Milk and the dairy products are really among our most economical foods as they give more nutritive value at less cost than so many other foods. Government nutritionists suggest that from one-fifth to one-third of the average American family's allowance for food could well be spent on milk and its products. Physicians as a rule recommend a quart of milk a day for children and at least a pint for adults.

SOURCE OF VITAMIN A

Milk is an excellent source of vitamin A, something frequently lacking in our diets. Without vitamin A growth of children can be impaired, night blindness can result and resistance to infections is lowered, especially in the respiratory tract. Of the minimum daily requirement of 3000 units of vitamin A, one quart of milk contains 2000 and 1½ ounces of butter will supply 1500 units.

A quart of milk provides all the calcium needed by an individual for a day, much of the phosphorus, at least one-fourth of the energy and some of the vitamin B, C and D. Calcium and phosphorus are responsible for the hardness of teeth and bones, so milk is necessary for their good growth. One pint of milk contains as much calcium as 15 to 20 ordinary servings of fruits and vegetables.

A PROTECTIVE FOOD

Milk proteins are the best building material for growth and repair of body tissues. The proteins in milk are composed of amino acids similar to those found in the human body and therefore are well adapted to conversion into body material.

In energy value, a quart of milk is equivalent to 1 lb. lean steak, 8 eggs, 1 2-3 lbs. peas, 7 oranges, 3 1-3 lbs. codfish, 5 lbs. spinach, 7-8 lb. fowl, 3 1-3 lbs. oysters, 6 lbs. tomatoes.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. E. W.—"Please give me a list of foods, giving vitamin and mineral content, carbohydrates, protein and fat."

Answer—Tables like this have been given in this column many times. The complete list is too long, but may be obtained in such books as mine, The Balanced Diet (D. Appleton-Century Company), in Wolf's The Human Fuel, Peters' Diet and Health, and the U. S. Department of Agriculture Bulletin No. 29.

Gov't. Shouldn't Take Responsibility for Children Crossing

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP Cable) — Geoffrey Shakespeare, Under-Secretary for the Dominions, told the House of Commons today that the Government has come to the conclusion that it "ought not, in the existing circumstances, to take responsibility for sending children overseas unless they went in escorted vessels."

The much-discussed problem popped up again when a member began asking if financial assistance would be given by the government to aid the evacuation of poor children.

In the Government view, Mr. Shakespeare replied, "to encourage by the offer of financial assistance the sending of children abroad otherwise (without naval escort) would be inconsistent with Government policy."

It was explained that one party of children had arrived in Canada under the Government scheme but that the bulk of those who had reached there did so under their own auspices.

MARY PICKFORD PLANS TO AID CANADIAN RELIEF

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 6 (AP) — Mary Pickford said today she plans to assist the Canadian Government in raising war relief funds and that her first venture in that direction will be to re-edit all her old films and combine the highlights into a cavalcade with a modern prologue.

"I have other plans in mind, but these are in a formative stage," the Toronto-born actress said. "I hope to go to Vancouver late in October or in November, where they are to auction a piece of jewelry I have contributed."

Bomb Threat Fails to Upset Audience at Hollywood Play

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 6 (AP) — A bombing threat with fantastic possibilities—death or injury to hundreds of motion picture celebrities—simmered down to an apparent hoax today.

Formally dressed film notables thronged to the $3-a-seat gala opening last night of a week-long performance of three Noel Coward one act plays for the benefit of the British War Relief Association of Southern California. English film actors handled the stage roles.

Before the opening curtain a sign was discovered in a telephone booth at a drugstore adjoining the theatre reading. "Warning—three time bombs planted in Br. Relief show. Do not go unless you want to be blown to bits. A. C. L."

While the capacity audience—including such personages as Ronald Colman, Charles Boyer, Mary Pickford, Richard Greene, Gracie Allen, Elsa Maxwell, George Jessel, Brian Ahearne, Irene Dunne, Hedy Lamarr, Rosalind Russell, Mary Martin and Simone Simon—sat undisturbed, homicide detectives quietly made a fruitless search for bombs.

The plays went off without untoward incident.

Registration Will Aid Women After War

HALIFAX, Aug. 5 (CP)—Voluntary registration of Canadian women for war service was seen as a boon to post-war Canada by Miss Margaret Hyndman, Toronto, who is directing its organization. Miss Hyndman has been in Halifax for three days and left last night for Charlottetown.

She said the registration would be of value in relieving unemployment and in allowing a more efficient distribution of the nation's food products after the war. More than 150,000 individual reports had been filed with the Government and another 100,000 are sought.

K.P. Quartette Sings at Creston High School Band Concert

CRESTON, B. C. — The High School Band under the leadership of John Barrigan was favored with a large audience at the second of their Sunday evening concerts at Park Pavilion.

There was considerable variety to the offerings by the Band, which showed considerable improvement over its June appearance with its semi-classical offerings.

Sacred numbers were included in both the band numbers as well as the community singing, which was in charge of W. J. Truscott.

The outstanding feature was the Knights of Pythias quartette of Arthur S. Reed, William Ferguson, Percy R. Truscott and W. J. Truscott, who favored with their own arrangement of "There Will Always Be an England", which was enthusiastically received.

Arithmetic . . .

Learning Basic Tables Essential

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

"Dear Dr. Myers: On several occasions you have paid special attention to the subject of arithmetic and the different methods by which it may be taught.

"I am now a senior in high school and have never given it much thought. However, since I majored in commercial work, mathematics was not required. Besides it was never my specialty. I don't care for figures and calculating. But I realize that even if I will not need mathematics in my course of life, it is essential to be quick with numbers.

"Perhaps, as you said, I started learning wrong in the first place. I was taught to count with my fingers and now I find I still have to.

"Normally I am not a slow person and can usually think fast, but I wish I could improve in arithmetic and could understand figures as quickly as some do. I didn't quite understand the method you prescribed in the paper. I wish you could write me personally on this subject and maybe help me to facilitate my method of calculating and to be quick in getting answers."

SOLVING THE PROBLEM

My reply:

"In your ordinary life's experiences you will constantly need to do some work with figures, and I am sure you don't want to go on counting on your fingers and wasting time in simple everyday calculations. You will need to master the simple fundamentals in addition, subtraction, multiplication and division, especially addition and subtraction. Most of all you will need to know by heart the 100 basic addition facts like 5 and 9 are 14 and the 100 basic subtraction facts like 3 from 11 are 8.

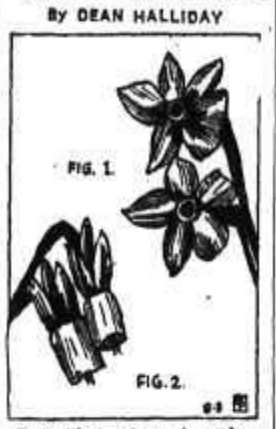
"Since you still must count on your fingers you never have learned these simple foundation number facts by heart. You can easily do it now by devoting fifteen minutes an evening to the job. I am enclosing a page with the 100 addition facts and another page with the 100 subtraction facts. Begin with the addition sheet.

Memorize 8 or 10 of them at a sitting. Never allow yourself to guess or count. Always go back and look at the whole fact such as 7 under 8, a line under that and under the line, 15, and say it over and over while you look at it. Do it as mechanically as if you were learning to spell biscuit.

"After you know all these addition facts, attack in the same way the sheet of subtraction facts.

Daffodils for the Rock Garden

By DEAN HALLIDAY



Daffodils for the rock garden

Conditions in Europe and a resultant shortage of important tulip bulbs will focus attention upon narcissus bulbs, since they are all practically "home grown"—that is grown in this country. The farsighted gardener, however, will place orders early for choice narcissus varieties.

Today's Garden-Graph pictures two of the "tiny daffodils" which are recommended for rock gardens. These types only grow from six to eight inches high.

Figure two shows Triandrus Albus. This tiny daffodil has clusters of creamy white flowers with globular cups.

All daffodils are easy to grow and they increase rapidly. Bulbs do best when planted in a slightly shaded location. Cover the bulbs with soil to one and one-half times their own depth, or at least four inches of soil. Bonemeal is recommended as a fertilizer, but not fresh manure.

Women Determined "It Can't Happen Here"—Wish to Be Armed and Trained

By GLADYS ARNOLD
Canadian Press Correspondent

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP)— There are few jobs in Britain that women aren't doing today and none they wouldn't tackle if given the chance. Repercussions from the crumbling of France before the blitzkrieg has pushed the national service doors a little further ajar to women here as more men became needed for the armed forces.

"Women were aware of the work they could do and were itching to do it even before France was overrun," Miss Elizabeth MacDonald, writer and influential member of many women's organizations told me. "Their determination has only been strengthened to make 'it can't happen here' a reality. That's why I'm behind the Amazons Defence Corps. The desire thousands of the British women are expressing to be armed and trained to shoot is only one symptom that the lesson of France had been understood. Had the women over there been armed who knows what might have happened!"

Red-headed, wide-awake, Dr. Edith Summerskill, Labor M. P., agreed with her. "Yet it is being objected to by those who still believe we are frail and helpless creatures," she lamented.

"Don't you think it perfectly ridiculous that G. B. (another member of Parliament) totters into the house between two sticks trembling with age and weakness, and yet he is allowed to carry a gun if he wishes in the fond illusion that he may protect people like me?" she laughed.

It did sound ridiculous coming from this woman, nearly five feet ten inches tall, the picture of health and strength, who had just returned from an hour on the House of Lords rifle range where she collected seven out of 10 bulls' eyes.

Dr. Summerskill's gallants are drawn from the women and girls of many industries. They come to her tired and worn after weeks of working 12 hours a day but there is a dynamic enthusiasm among the women behind those factory walls and tremendous will to win.

"I'm in contact with these fine strong girls about 21 or 22 years old now working in canteens handing out cups of tea or pounding typewriters, who would make excellent pilots," Dr. Summerskill continued. "They plead with me to do something for them. They say 'why so much protection for us? We are the real surplus population in England—aren't there nearly two million more women than men. Why shouldn't we fight then?"

Every time a call goes out for women, thousands flock for the few positions open. When London bus companies asked for 200 "smart alert girls, used to handling money and who won't get flustered in an awkward or difficult situation," more than 40 times as many applied, an official reported.

Housewives have discovered many ways of speeding up their part besides giving tons of aluminum kettles and saucepans for building aircraft. Mass canning of the country's fruit by methods that require little sugar in proceeding at more than 1000 "national jam" depots. Tired factory workers are being given a day's rest or a weekend by volunteer housewives. Some have joined in ARP work by guaranteeing supplies of hot water, blankets and bandages for the wounded.

Women members of the National Cyclists Union have found jobs as messengers for the Minister of Information, ARP and other services. More thousands are applying. White coats and smart blue "kepis" are uniforms of girls delivering milk in parts of London. Garages all through the country are filling with girl mechanics.

Honor Martin, celebrated singer, left the concert platform for her brother's garage.

In London there are 140 policewomen but women are urging the number be increased to release men for other work. Even the staid London banks have opened cashier jobs to women just as they did 25 years ago.

Another outlet for women desiring to help in the land army.

Serial Story . . . By Helen Welshimer

LOVE WITHOUT MUSIC

SYNOPSIS

The Characters:

LINDA AVERY, receptionist at a New York models' agency, starts to rebuild her romance with

RONALD STAFFORD, her childhood sweetheart, who has "swung his way to fame on a trumpet" but

SARAH MARKLEY, a wealthy glamor girl, is trying to capture Ronald for herself. Meanwhile

ROBERT BARTON, young engineer, strikes up a friendship with Linda. He introduces her to

TERY ADAMS, publicity man, and Terry's sweetheart,

CAROLINE PICKARD, who has been unable to find work. Life is complicated by

MINA NEVINS, a famous actress, who is determined to marry Robert. She believes Linda is romancing with the young engineer.

YESTERDAY: Ronnie asks Linda to marry him right away and promises to call her later that night after rehearsal. Sitting in her apartment, Linda picks up a newspaper.

CHAPTER TEN

The news story was not long. It did not need to be. To Linda, reading it as she waited for Ronnie to finish rehearsal and call her, the words held double meaning.

The item expained that all members of the band and cast of the Markley company were being asked to sign a contract that they would not marry, unless already married, until the completion of the show.

So this was Sarah's way of erecting a blockade. Linda let the paper fall to the floor. She knew that Ronnie had not been informed of the decision yet, when she rode through the park such a brief while before. Of course he knew by now. And what would he do?

Leave the show to do as he pleased, she supposed. And she knew that she could not let him do that. If love was real, if it endured, if it suffered all things, bore all things, believed all things, hoped all things, then it could wait and not grow tarnished in the waiting. If it did, then it was not real. No, Linda told herself in the amazed moment that followed the reading of the feature, she had no reason for fear. In a certain scene she was relieved. That was odd. It was cowardly, she reflected. Loving Ronnie as she did, even a little while ago she had been afraid to interfere with the web the fates were spinning.

But she put all philosophy aside as the real knowledge came home. Ronnie was bound to a job and the job put her out for a long time.

When the telephone call came her voice was light and casual, though.

"I've read the news in the morning papers. Good going isn't it"

"There are other spots for a trumpet player, honey. Don't let that upset our plans. We're going straight ahead." His voice meant it, too. She knew that stern quality from old. He would have his way unless she prevented.

"We're taking a detour. Listen, nut, do you think I would let you slave to get a certain height and then destroy your billing? Anyway, I wanted to marry a trumpet man whose scales were on the up-and-up!"

It worked. And the man's relief was almost humble, as it came across the midnight city.

When he had hung up at last, still not sure that the delay was right, but grateful that Linda understood, she turned to Caroline and explained.

"We run in the same track," the other girl said. "Last night I refused because pity prompted the grand gesture and tonight it's thumbs down for you because a man's work should come before a man's love. But you're right. My father gave up a medical education for my mother and went to work in her father's bank. And he never forgot or quite forgave. He thought he did. But she knew better and so did I."

"How is Terry today?" Linda asked, storing away this new bit of comfort for her actions.

"Fine. He called at noon." She lifted her eyes to meet Linda's. "But he is awfully busy this week—is lining up a new radio program for his company, so I'm to stay on call for free moments. I know about that. He won't have any this week and then next week he'll want to celebrate nightly if the contract brings a raise. Only—maybe I will, and maybe I won't be included. But he'll come back. He always does. Preceded by orchids and bon-bons."

Her voice was a little bitter. She stood up. "May I have some more milk? I want to put on weight and get a job in a hurry."

The new two weeks went so swiftly that they might have been torn from the calendar, Linda reflected one night near the end of April. The show opened. It was a hit. The critics were approving and enthusiastic. There were special notices for Ronnie, and his face appeared in theatre sections.

Linda cut them out, and put the notices and pictures away. She even bought a scrapbook and began to paste up the stories. Tere were parties following the theatre several nights and she went with Ronnie. She bought two new evening gowns. One was a white lace frock, rivuleted with white organdy ruffles, and the other was a yellow crepe, printed with white kangaroos, full and low over the bust, and smooth fitting at the hips, after which it billowed into yards and yards of unneeded material. Her slippers for it were yellow, and she knew that it was more sophisticated than the other more feminine one.

It was difficult to go partying so many nights, and yet be alert and eager at her desk the next day. Now and then she found her eyes closing and lectured severely to herself. Finally, one day, she declined a party date with Ronnie.

"I'd adore it," she murmured into the white ivory telephone on her desk, "but I have to work until nine tonight and honestly, I'm too dead to go home and dress. Count me out, just this once, won't you, honey?"

And count yourself out, too, she wanted to add. After all, none of the others went merrymaking—that is, the stars didn't. Ronnie would wear out at this pace. And Sarah would adore it if his horn grew rusty. Only she, Linda, could not tell him.

But Ronnie sensed her thought, "I've been overdoing it this week, there's a halt called now. One milk shake after performances, a walk, and home. Like that better?"

"Much. Except on Saturday night. Sunday you are free—"

"Oh, by the way, I'm going out of town this weekend. A party the Markleys are throwing until Monday noon. But I'll hurry back, since I stayed put I'm in for it. But I'll hurry back. I may get Sarah to invite you. She knows I want it, and she's doing a peaches and cream act lately. Maybe she needed to be taken down a few pegs—have the glamor spanked out of her."

That's what you think, Linda mused, when the telephone was back in its cradle. But I know the girl, and she's waiting, waiting!

Caroline had been engaged at the agency and she continued to live with Linda. It was nice to have someone with whom to share the rent, she had decided, especially since frocks like the kind she was choosing weren't found on $19.95 racks.

Rob, busy with plans for some city engineering, came by once in a while to drag both girls out to dinner, amused at Linda's insistence that she escape to dress on nights when she and Ronnie were playing.

Tonight, going into her rooms, Linda heard the telephone ringing. Caroline was not home. The fire was not lighted and the living room was cold. The hands of the clock pointed to a quarter of ten. Linda said hello into the transmitter.

"I've been calling you regularly every half hour," Rob told her. "If you aren't busy, could you run up? Chin Lu, my inherited man of all trades is here. I need advice."

"I'd love to, but I haven't had dinner. I worked through. Give me ten minutes to scramble some eggs first—"

"Chin Lu has a steak in the refrigerator. Come on up here. I can eat again."

So it happened that an hour later she and Bob were loitering over their coffee in front of the fireplace in the great brown living room, with its luxurious, deep, soft chairs and divans, its touches of copper and brass, when a slow knock came against the door.

But the knocker did not wait for a greeting. The door opened.

Defends Coward's Visit to U.S.; House Hears Gracie Fields Allowed to Take £8000 Out

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP) — Noel Coward's "contact among certain sections of American opinion" ordinarily difficult for others to reach were cited today by Harold Nicolson, Parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of Information, in defence of the playwright's current visit to the United States. He said Mr. Coward went abroad with the approval of the Minister of Information and was invited to call on President Roosevelt, a friend of long standing.

A treasury spokesman told the House that Gracie Fields, English comedienne, had not sought permission to take out more than the regulation £10 ($44.50) when she went to the United States recently, but had been allowed to take £8,000 last October.

Monte Banks, Gracie's husband, was allowed to take out £20,000 at the same time, he said. (They are now in Hollywood.)

J. J. Davidson, Labor, asked whether the treasury knew about "a thousand pounds worth of diamonds bought from a firm in Holborn Viaduct" and inquired whether these people left practically no assets in this country after enjoying its generosity for many years."

Gracie was born in Lancashire. Her director-producer husband is a native of Italy.

Capt. H. F. C. Crookshank, answering for the treasury, said it knew nothing about those allegations and asserted that the couple left Britain before there were restrictions on taking out jewelry.

NOT A BRITISH CITIZEN

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 6 (AP). — Monty Banks declared today that "just because I am Italian" British Treasury officials "are trying to make things disagreeable" for his wife, Gracie Fields, English movie comedienne.

Banks referred to a statement by a British Treasury spokesman regarding money Miss Fields took out of England.

"We followed the usual procedure when we left England," Banks asserted.

"I have no comment—" began Banks, but then he added: "Yes, I have. I am not a British citizen and it was my own money. Anyway we followed the usual procedure, making the regular application for permission to take our money with us."

"If they bother us any more, I am going to telephone her to come home and live like a normal person."

Tree Felling for New Road Starts

By LESLIE STILWELL

Monday was a general day of activity. The campers arose at 6:30 and checked in at 9:45.

Tents with the highest points follow: Tent 7, first, 1350; Tent 6, second, 1275.

Four Scouts trying for their Rescuers Badge have been successful so far. They are John Maglio, Bud Hesse, Herbert Street and James McIvor.

The campfires have been the greatest fun. As each is opened "O Canada" is sung, and then the sing song starts. The boys are accompanied by John Weaver, cook, on his accordian.

The Scouts assigned to tree felling have begun to clear the trail for the new road, which will come in at the back of the camp. Other boys, with the aid of the cook, have started to switch the creek. This was done to prevent high water washing down the bridge at Camp Busk.

The Mascot, Garry Walton, arrived three days late after recovering from a case of 'flu.

Would Pay Passage of Lindberg and Ford to Germany

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP). —Henry Ford and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh Senator Smathers (Dem. N. J.) said today, should "Pick up the little iron crosses given them by Hitler and go back to Germany."

The automobile manufacturer, Smathers stated, "with his hand on the Hitler cross says he will make airplanes to defend the United States but not Britain. Everyone knows that in helping to defend Britain we are defending ourselves."

DEMOCRACY ACTS

All Canada will applaud the Mackenzie King Government for its action in interning Mayor Houde of Montreal for his attempt to interfere with National Registration and particularly will this applause come from the loyal people of the Province of Quebec, one of whose great leaders, Hon. A. Lapointe, Minister of Justice, signed the order for internment.

Once again has it been demonstrated that Democracy can act with celerity and vigor against enemies within as well as against enemies without.

DON'T BE A FLIPPER

We should not take the recent cool and rainy period as relieving us of all need for caution in the matter of fires.

Fortunately the copious rains just about put an end to the great collection of active forest fires we still had in the last week of July, but the last couple of days have indicated a return of the normal midsummer weather, and if August follows the usual lines, we still have a month of hot weather ahead, during which the forests will be dry as tinder.

Across the International Boundary, in the State of Washington, in furtherance of the State campaign to "Keep Washington Green," billboards are now being erected, which conveys the cautions, "Prevent Forest Fires," and "Don't Be a Flipper."

There is no way we can prevent lightning striking, and setting forest fires, but we can avoid the careless tossing or snapping of the still dangerous lighted match, or of the cigarette or cigar butt.

The number of live butts that can be seen on the pavements of our Kootenay towns indicate a carelessness in disposal, that suggests that numerous smokers have not ingrained in themselves the habit of quenching the spark before casting forth the match or stub or pipe dottle that has served its original purpose. The same carelessness, exercised on the country road, or from the railway train, means possible fires.

No one can claim now not to know what a live ember can do, whether from a locomotive, a camper's fire, or the remnants of a smoke.

Kootenay residents, old and young, should use the utmost circumspection with fire, and should insist on the ordinary rules being obeyed by all.

DOING WITHOUT THE SUN

With the kind of weather we have been having lately, —the kind that the Forest Branch likes,—it is interesting to reflect that after all, the sun is not so indispensable as it once was.

Take the agricultural operation of haying. The old maxim, "Make hay while the sun shines," is fast losing its universal application in connection with the process of converting grass and legume crops into feed for livestock, we are told by Ottawa.

The relatively newer method of ensiling these crops enables the grower to produce a good quality of feed under adverse weather conditions which might render hay making impossible. This does not mean that rainy weather is more suitable than fine weather for making silage, but since it takes several days to make grasses and legumes into hay, while they can be ensiled immediately as cut, the chance of weather damage is practically eliminated by the latter method.

For 16 years the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa has conducted experiments with regard to various methods of ensiling some 20 different crops, we are told. Red clover or alfalfa cut when in full bloom, sweet clover in the bud stage, and timothy, oats or barley cut just after heading, have all been made into excellent silage. The moisture content of the crop is extremely important in making silage. If it is too wet there is danger of rotting, and if too dry, molding may take place. Normally, a moisture content of 70 per cent is nearly ideal, and cutting at the stages mentioned will give approximately the correct amount of moisture, providing there is not too much added by the outside influence of dew or rain.

As further insurance against spoilage in the silo, the addition of molasses to grasses and legumes for silage is recommended by the Farm's experts. Molasses provides the necessary carbohydrates upon which bacteria may feed to produce lactic acid, which in turn preserves the silage. These materials, though relatively high in corn, are comparatively low in grasses and legumes, and their addition artificially to the latter is accordingly recommended. Approximately 50 pounds of molasses per ton of crop ensiled is supposed to give good results. The more adverse the weather conditions, the greater the need for adding molasses.

Grasses and legumes — a family name for clovers, peas, beans and vetches — properly handled as silage will provide highly nutricious feed with comparatively little loss and at relatively low cost. In contrast to hay making, ensiling is not so dependent on the whims of the weather man.

And in case of quite a rainy spell, the Kootenay rancher can just roll out the barrel — the molasses barrel in this case.

There Will Always Be a Canada

There will always be a Canada
Wherever there's a snowclad peak,
Wherever there's a boundless forest,
A lake or splashing creek;
Wherever there's a mine producing
A wealth of precious ore—
There will always be a Canada,
Great resources fill her store.

There will always be a Canada
Wherever there is waving wheat,
Wherever there's a fruitful valley,
The good earth 'neath one's feet;
Wherever there's a park or garden
To gladden a tourist's eye—
There will always be a Canada,
In the world she's ranking high.

There will always be a Canada
Wherever there's a fishing fleet,
Wherever there's a trapper's cabin
In the furry tribes' retreat;
Wherever there's a moose or grizzly,
Or a rainbow trout to play—
There will always be a Canada,
Where the wild geese wing their way.

There will always be a Canada
Wherever furnace fires are aglow,
Wherever there is brawn and muscle
To deal out a heavy blow;
Wherever there's hum of industry,
The clang of hammer on steel—
There will always be a Canada
Wherever the Church bells peal.

There will always be a Canada
Wherever there are deeds of fame,
In the air, on sea, in the Army,
She'll uphold her noble name;
A mighty limb of the Empire
Her destiny is sublime—
There will always be a Canada
Till the Judgment day calls Time.

IN THE LONG RUN

The clouds of war will clear away
In the long run.
Peaceful days shall come to stay
In the long run.
The gallant men who struggle on
In armies many thousand strong
Shall triumph for to right the wrong
In the long run.

Friendship will be just the same
In the long run.
Sorrows will find their smiles again
In the long run.
Do your best and have no fear
Pray for those who are not here
And God shall wipe away each tear
In the long run.

Pleasant times are yet to come
In the long run.
When fighting's o'er and victory won
In the long run.
Families will reunited be
And British lands once more be free
From tyrants of dishonesty
In the long run.

AN ALLEGORICAL DREAM

Apollyon sat upon his throne,
A scowl upon his face,
Before him stood his councillors
Obedient to his mace.
I rule, he said, this great wide earth
And herd mankind as sheep;
I tune the world to war and jazz
And put the church to sleep.

In booming war drums I delight
And landscapes painted red,
But now I hear another drum
Whose boom I've learned to dread
That Booth Salvation Army band
To marching round the world
With song and drum they raid my ranks
Their flag is never furled.

I call on you my councillors
To help devise a plan
By which to turn that army down
And put it under ban.
Then up spake all his henchmen true,
We've done our very best
With brick bats, jeers, and rotten eggs
To rid you of that pest.

But all our efforts are in vain
We've tried out every trick,
Their leaders are a stubborn lot
Their lads and lassies stick.
Then up spake one, a cunning elf,
I'll tell you what we'll do
We'll turn our tactics right around
And try with something new.

Tence open war has not availed,
Our ridicule and lies,
We'll put it in the hearts of men
To laud them to the skies,
We'll move the great ones of the earth
To range, upon their side.
When prince and prelate smile on them,
Their hearts will swell with pride.

Pride may work where brick bats fail,
Pride that deadly leaven.
'Twas pride that cast your highness down
And rocked the gates of heaven.
Apollyon's face relaxed in smiles
His scowl became a grin.
Try that, he said, with thunderous voice
Try that, and we may win.

So in my dream I thus beheld
That "roaring lion's" paw.
Then slept again, and dreampt again
And this is what I saw:
The S.A. lass upon her knees
With hands lift up in prayer,
The S.A. lad with high resolve
The cross of Christ to share.
An army hurdled from above
With balm all grief to sooth
And gird this great round earth with love,
"The dream of William Booth"

"No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the Lord, and their righteousness is of one saith the Lord."

—Isaiah LIV-1.7

I greatly admire the Salvation Army. They are doing a grand world work, and now under a Canadian general. I just recieved a statement and appeal. Being too poor to help financially, I pray that with my pen I may help a little.

The Little Things

Thoughts that are prayers
Wafted high above
To Him who listens in;
Showered by His love.

The way of love
Has given my heart
A change of mood,
And left its mark.

A few words spoken
To east a hurt
A moment takes;
A deed we dare not shirk.

A timely message,
Words that bring cheer
When joy or woe,
Come to us here.

A Baby grown:
His tender kiss,
And thoughtful words,
His smiling face we miss.

Happy moments spent
By the fireside
In love and unison;
What more can we desire

Words of praise—
You have done well;
Heart of my heart
A hurt it quells.

A dew drop
On a rose
That reflects a million stars;
A sweet repose.

Baby's rose bud mouth,
Tiny feet and hands,
A mother's loving prayer
Firm may he stand.

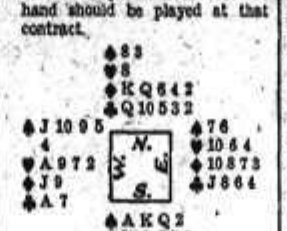
CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

STOP THAT CROWDING

PRUDENT students of the way things work out are cranks about not crowding their partners during the bidding, if they can prevent it. Most especially do they seek to avoid pushing the bidding past the 3-No Trumps level if there is any likelihood that the hand should be played at that contract.



(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	1♥	Pass	2♠
Pass	3♠	Pass	4♣
Pass	4NT

Though the pair was using the Blackwood convention, South's 4-No Trumps was obviously a natural bid in this situation, since he had been crowded into it—mainly his own fault. His jump to 3-Spades was very bad bidding, even with his tremendous hand, as a 4-Club or 4-Diamond bid by his partner might well have been necessitated by it. He should have bid only 2-Spades. This "reverse" bid—a higher-ranking suit than his first one—would have been a force to the next level anyway. Then, when North responded with his clubs at three, South could have gone to just 3-No Trumps.

With all that power, South could not find a way to make 4-No Trumps. He took the opened spade J with the Q, led the club K to the A, took the spade 9 with his A, led to the club Q, returned the club 10 to the J and East led the heart 10 to the K and A. The spade 10 then knocked out the last honor of South, who cashed the heart Q and J, then took the three high diamonds. That made nine tricks, but the suit didn't break, so he had to give up the last diamond to East for the setting trick.

PEERLESS DENTISTS
JAMIESON BLDG.
CORNER WALL AND RIVERSIDE AVENUE

TO THE EDITOR,
NELSON DAILY NEWS,
NELSON, B. C.

SPOKANE, WASH.
AUGUST 5th.

DEAR SIR:

"I would like to congratulate you on the plan you have put into effect of making it possible for payment of Peerless Dentists accounts to be made directly to the Canadian Bank of Commerce branches at Nelson or Trail. Several people I know have commented favorably upon this plan. I know that I personally have found it a great convenience."

So writes one of our patients in Trail, B. C.

We are glad to know that the plan for payment of Peerless Dentists accounts at the Bank of Commerce is working out so well. The above is typical of a number of letters which we have received.

A patient at Silverton, B. C., asks if it is necessary to write to us and inform us that payments have been made at the Bank of Commerce at Nelson or Trail. The answer is that this is not necessary, though we always welcome letters from our British Columbia friends. Directly the bank receives a payment it notifies us in Spokane and we promptly credit the amount to the patient's account.

A personal visit to the Bank of Commerce is not necessary. Money may be sent in by mail or may be deposited personally. It makes no difference.

Sincerely Yours,

David C. Cowen

Yankees Lose Fourth Straight as Boston Wins 8-3; Rookie Blanks Philadelphia; Pittsburgh Climbs

By The Canadian Press

Detroit Tigers regained the American League leadership with a 6-2 victory over St. Louis Browns tonight as Buck Newsom chalked up his 16th pitching triumph of the season, although rescued by Archie McKain in the ninth inning.

The World Champion New York Yankees continued to crumble today, losing their fourth straight game as Boston Red Sox hammered out an 8-3 American League decision.

Rookie Sidney Hudson from the Class D Florida State League barely missed a no-hit game as he shut out Philadelphia Athletics 11-0 for Washington Senators. He yielded a single safety to Sam Chapman in the seventh inning as he scored his 10th victory of the season.

Earlier this season Hudson missed no-hit fame by the same margin as he beat St. Louis Browns 1-0.

Calling upon Bobby Feller to squelch a ninth-inning rally, the Cleveland Indians defeated Chicago White Sox 3-2 in the second game of a doubleheader after succumbing in opener 5-1 to Southpaw Thornton Lee's two-hit pitching.

Manager Oscar Vitt sent Feller, who had scored his 18th mound decision Sunday, to the mound in the last of the ninth with two runners on base and two men out.

The upsurging Pittsburgh Pirates climbed into a tie for fifth place with St. Louis in the National League race by trimming the Cardinals 3-1.

Rain twice interrupted the game and so delayed it the second part of a doubleheader was called after three scoreless innings because of darkness.

The Phillies tried a "good luck charm" in an effort to end their six-game losing streak but it failed and Boston Bees won a National League doubleheader 3-0 and 12-2.

After Manuel Salvo, aided by Eddie Miller's two-run homer, blanked the Phils with four hits in the opener an eight-year-old boy was brought into the Phillies clubhouse. All hands from Manager Doc Prothro down, rubbed his head for "luck."

The "charm" worked for five innings, then Kirby Higbe blew up.

Doyle Now Favors Indians and Reds for World Series

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP)—Jack Doyle's book the home stretch favorites in the Major League pennant races are the Cleveland Indians and Cincinnati Reds.

The well-known Broadway odds-layer quoted 6 to 5 against the Indians in the American League with the Detroit Tigers 8 to 5 second choices. Boston's Red Sox were rated 4 to 1. The New York Yankees, who before the season opened were almost prohibitive 7 to 20 favorites with no prices quoted on finishing second or third, now are 3-to-1 shots to win and the Chicago White Sox 7 to 1.

In the National League the Reds were 1 to 3 standouts with the Brooklyn Dodgers priced at 2½ to 1 and the New York Giants, Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals all jumped at 6 to 1.

Humble to Change His Batting Order

LEAGUE STANDING

	W	L	Pct.
Indians	6	2	.750
Cardinals	3	5	.375
Nelson	2	6	.250

"I'm going to switch the batting order around to something like the way it was at the beginning of the season," Coach Ray Humble stated Tuesday, as he racked his brain for ways and means to put an end to Nelson's annoying string of one-run defeats. The Lakesiders have lost six games during the league schedule, which ended Sunday in Trail, and all of them have been by one tally.

The playoffs will get under way next Sunday in the semi-finals stage when Nelson Seniors are expected to travel to Trail to play the Cardinals in the first of a best of three series. Nelson is attempting to bring the first game to Nelson, but in case the series does start in Trail Sunday, the second game is slated for Nelson on the 18th.

Didrickson Now a Star Golfer

CHICAGO (CP) — The harum-scarum tompoyish Babe Didrickson—whose running and jumping turned the 1932 Olympic Games into a one-girl show—has matured into a pleasant, snappily dressed young lady who is just about tops in another sport, golf. After she went professional, following the Olympics, Babe took a fling at exhibitions in various sports, then concentrated on golf.

She won her first major golf championship at Milwaukee this Summer—the U. S. Women's Western open. "No other woman in the world can hit like she does," says a rival, the veteran Mrs. Opal Hill.

As a kid Babe played every sport she ever heard of. The Texas girl hit the headlines in 1930 by setting national records in the baseball and javelin throws and performing so well in other events.

Babe gained international fame by bettering world javelin and 80-metre hurdle records in the 1932 Olympics at Los Angeles. She was hailed as "the greatest woman athlete" on the basis of these accomplishments. She turned pro late in 1932 after a mix-up over an advertising testimonial affected her amateur status. There followed a series of exhibitions, some featuring her as a baseball pitcher.

Then golf. Babe was medalist in her first tourney in 1934. Next year she won the Texas crown. Then she was ruled ineligible for amateur golf because of her professionalism in other sports.

Outfielder Hubert (Buddy) Bates, of the Toronto Leafs, has been traded in a straight player deal to Atlanta of the Southern Association for Third Baseman Johnny Hill. Bates will report to Atlanta immediately but Hill will not join the Leafs until next season.

Salmo Valley Is Expected, Nelson Ball Tournament

"I'm also expecting an entry from the Salmo Valley for our big three-day baseball tournament over the Labor Day weekend," Con Cummins, Manager of the Nelson Baseball Club, said Tuesday, as he was getting extensive plans for the tournament into high gear.

Besides Rossland, Kimberley, Cranbrook and two teams from Trail, American entries in Spokane Ritchies and Sandpoint are also expected.

Cummins thinks that Salmo would be able to field a strong team, judging from the talent available in the Valley. A five-team softball league drew the individual interest of the major portion of the athletes around the town and the mines, but the softball season is all over now. Most of the team that paced the West Kootenay League by a sizeable margin during the regular schedule last season is still on hand, and there are a number of starry newcomers.

Some of the material Salmo has are the Gibbons brothers, Elmer and Rusty, Jack Kelly, George Niblow, Ted Clever, Archie MacDougall, Rege White, "Skinny" Anderson, Cede Esche, Harry Liebscher, J. Fairhirst, Johnny Thompson, John Nygard, Fred Lindstrom and Norman Bugg, and members of the junior team can complete the roster.

There is still three weeks for them to get into shape.

TORONTO, Aug. 6 (CP)—Canadian athletes have responded gallantly to the call to colors and as to be expected the fighting men—the boxers—were right to the fore.

The more prominent boxers to join up include Orville Droulillard, Windsor; Billy Townsend, Vancouver; Tommy Bland, Toronto and Bobby Leitham, Montreal, all former professional champions in their respective classes. Ross Galloway, St. Thomas, a former amateur titleholder is in the Royal Canadian Navy.

Not as well known, perhaps, to the current generation of fight fans as the above but favorite a decade ago is Soldier Jones of Toronto. Jones came back from the First Great War to campaign as a heavyweight. To get into the present conflict, he joined a medical corps unit stationed at Ottawa.

Perhaps the best known athlete soldier of all is Ross (Sandy) Somerville, many times Canadian golf champion and a one-time holder of the United States amateur crown. Somerville is in England with a unit from his home town, London, Ont.

Others who rank right behind Somerville in athletic fame are Willard (Bill) Crocker, Montreal. Johnny Loaring, Windsor graduate of the University of Western Ontario, London, and Cliff Bricker, Galt. Crocker has been Canadian singles tennis champion many times during his career.

Loaring and Bricker are known whenever track and field fans gather. Loaring, a sprinter and a hurler and Bricker, a marathoner, have represented Canada at the Olympic and British Empire games.

Two soldier footballers, both with long records of service are Jimmy Keith, a member of Toronto Balmy Beach and Toronto Argonauts and Dr. Don Young, McGill University. In their prime Keith at outside and Young at flying wing were without peers. Keith joined a Toronto unit and was in the first contingent to go overseas. Dr. Young is with a medical corps in Montreal.

Professional hockey has contributed among others, Goodfish "Tony" Savage, Calgary and Gordie Poirier, Montreal both are former Montreal Canadien players.

Other sportsmen doing their bit, either at home or elsewhere in the Empire, include Hank Rowe, Victoria basketball player; Buddy MacEachren, Sydney Millionaires hockey player; Don Baull, Halifax Wanderers football captain and ranking Nova Scotia tennis and badminton player and Jimmy and Paul Snyder, Waterloo, Ont., Canadian badminton doubles champions.

First athlete reported to have given up his life for his country is Richard (Dickie) Ball. The Montreal boy, a Royal Air Force pilot, died in a German prison camp.

Hundreds of other athletes have joined non-permanent active militia units. In some cases members of the various teams, particularly those in the National Hockey League, have signed up in groups for home defence.

Natal Takes Twin Wins in Opening Games Crow Final

NATAL, B. C. — Collecting a total of 30 base hits, many going for extra bases off the hurling of three Blairmore hurlers, the Natal-Michel Buffaloes took both ends of a baseball doubleheader, the first games in a best-of-five series for the Crow's Nest Pass Baseball Championship and the J. K. Ringland Cup. They trounced the Blairmore Columbus Club Cardinals by scores of 9-5 and 13-7 at the Natal ball park Sunday.

In the opening game T. Krall kept the Blairmore hits well scattered and allowed but one run after the first inning when he was touched for six hits for four runs. He struck out 11 batters. Herman pitched the entire game for Blairmore, being nicked for 18 hits including a home run by Weaver in the fifth. After spotting Blairmore four runs, the Buffaloes scored three runs in the third and one in the fourth to tie the game. Again in the fifth the game was tied at five all but the Buffaloes moved ahead in the sixth scoring three times and added another in the eighth to settle the issue at 9-5. Weaver and Chala led the Buffalo attack with four hits in five times at bat.

In the evening game the Buffaloes went to work in earnest in the first inning to score a single run and added four more in the second to send Starting Pitcher J. Dobek to the showers. He was followed by Schlaseur who finished the game. Little pitched shutout ball for five innings and then weakened in the sixth when Blairmore scored three runs. He was relieved by T. Krall, who finished the game allowing but four runs as he breezed in with a big lead which reached 14-0 by the sixth. The Buffaloes once again outhit their rivals collecting 12 hits to Blairmore's 11 and made good use of the eight walks issued by the two Blairmore pitchers. Gergel of the Buffaloes had a perfect day at bat with four walks and a hit.

The games were umpired by J. Josay of Natal and C. Decoux of Blairmore.

The Buffaloes will journey to Blairmore next Sunday to play a return doubleheader and need but a single win to win the series.

First game:
Blairmore	5	13	3
Natal-Michel	9	18	1
Second game:
Blairmore	7	11	5
Natal-Michel	13	12	2

Nelson, Rossland Bants in 5-5 Tie

The Nelson bantam boxla squad battled the heavier and more rugged Rossland Bantams to a 5-all draw at the Civic Arena in a curtain raiser game to the Senior go Monday.

Both teams checked closely with Rossland having a decided edge in the first period to gain a two-goal lead. In the second period the Nelson team came back to tie it at 2-all. In the third Rossland moved ahead with two more goals but Nelson rallied to make it four-all at the close. In the final period the teams fought closely again, with both clubs netting a goal apiece to keep things even. For Rossland, "Pie" Laface notched three goals and an assist, while brother "Babe" Laface and Conroy netted the other two counters. For the home boys, lanky Art Choquette hit the twine twice, with Moffat, Hielscher and McDonald getting one apiece. In penalties Nelson had Thain, Breeze, McDonald and McAllumn taking enforced rests while the visitors had "Pie" Laface and Kiway off.

Lineups were:

Double Victory Is Cheering News for Nelson Coach

Tony (Chum) Arcure, popular Nelson softball coach, is resting easily in the Kootenay Lake General Hospital convalescing from an operation he underwent late last week.

But the fact that he was well on his way to recovery was of only secondary importance to him for the most cheering news he heard in a long time was when he learned the Nelson women's rep softball team swept both games of the opening doubleheader of the Nelson-Trail championship series here Sunday.

Arcure accepted the coaching assignment of the Nelson team some two weeks ago for the second year in a row, and he put them through all their workouts before he was admitted to the hospital last Wednesday. Meanwhile George McCulloch and Anthony Scanlan have taken over the coaching.

If the second doubleheader of the series is played in Trail this coming Sunday, Arcure will be unable to go with them, but the Nelson team is asking for a week's postponement for other reasons as well. Tony expects to be okay though if the series continues another Sunday.

Trail Bruins to Play at Rossland Tonight, Boxla

TRAIL, B. C., Aug. 6—Whether the Rossland Redmen trounce the Trail Golden Bears or not at the Golden City Wednesday night matters not to Trail's high class boxla team for they already have clinched the West Kootenay Boxla League. However, Redmen have always given the fans something to talk about in Trail, so the Bruins will be in there battling to assure the fans of a first rate battle.

The Trail lineup for Wednesday night in Rossland follows: Moro, goal; Turik, Casey, Merlo and Jim Kendall, defence; Bob Kendall and Gallicano, forwards; Temple, Booney Sammartino and Pagnan; Marcus Smith, Turik and Rolando Sammartino.

Rossland Redmen have hied themselves back to their own boxla haunts and are hoping perhaps there they will find some solace for their last pair of defeats. Tonight's game on the Golden City floor with the West Kootenay League-leading Trail Golden Bears winds up a particularly arduous schedule for the Rosslanders, their fourth game in a week.

A week ago tonight they hammered Nelson almost through the floor to pick off a 33-6 victory, the most one-sided game of the season. Since then they have played games in Trail and Nelson, and have ended up on the losing end of the stick both times. After tonight's game Rossland still has another game to play—a postponed tilt at home next week with Nelson the opposition.

Mimico Advances in Ontario Lacrosse

Chuck Millman will try out with th eBoston Bruins in the fall, but if he doesn't make thee N.H.L. in one jump he will return to his defence berth with Calgary Stampeders.

Trail Soldiers to Form Company of Smoke Eaters

TRAIL, B. C., Aug. 6—Once a Smoke Eater booster, always a Smoke Eater booster, apparently is the motto of Trail men who have entered the Canadian Active Service Force since the 109th Field Battery, R.C.A., departed from Canadian shores. For an effort is being made at the Coast to form a complete Smoke Eater company in Duke of Connaught's Own Rifles, Rifleman William Irvine, in Trail for a few days, reports.

Already 118 Trail men are in the unit, and 30 more are needed to complete the all-Trail Smoke Eater company.

Lieut.-Col. Carmichael, brother of Harry Carmichael of Trail, is pleased with the soldiers from the Trail district, and is enthusiastic over the men's own suggestion to form a Smoke Eater Company; Mr. Irvine said.

Mr. Irvine reports that the Trail boys are enjoying their army life, and find their quarters and food good. Through him they sent greetings to their many friends and their relatives in the district.

The Trail lads, always interested in sports, are working up interest in softball and other sports, and any contributions of or toward softball equipment would be welcomed by them.

Pastor-Conn Bout Winner Gets Shot at Louis in Fall

Jacobs has already received propositions from Detroit, Chicago, Pittsburgh and Washington for the bout.

Maxie was supposed to get the title shot, as a result of his recent win over Tony Galento. But Madcap Maxie has the idea that if he risks life and limb against Louis again, anywhere, it should be worth a guarantee of $50,000. Mike, however is guaranteeing "nuthin" to anybody."

A week ago, Mike announced that Conn, if he passed Pastor next Tuesday in the Polo Grounds would get Louis as a "reward". Today he expanded that to include Pastor.

Cincinnati Reds All But Have Their Second Straight Pennant All Sewn Up

Their Pitching Staff Ranks Tops in the Majors

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Canadian Writer

The old pennant cry is being heard around the Cincinnati street corners these days. And, judging from the league standings, there's not much left to it but the shouting.

Several items may be pointed out as to the why of the Cincinnati march to the pennant. Itemized they read:

1. Pitching.
2. Fielding.
3. Hitting.
4. Reserve strength.

"Without a doubt, the Redleg pitching staff is the best in the National League, and, with the possible exception of their Ohio brethren, the Cleveland Indians, the best in both loops.

WALTERS STARS

Bucky Walters, big winner last year, is equally as excellent this season. Already he has won 15 games. Paul Derringer, the other Cincy star, has won almost as many. Great help has come from Gene Thompson, who has won 10 games. Joe Beggs a Yankee cast-off; Jim Turner, once of the Boston Bees, and Lloyd Moore.

If Walters and Derringer continue their blistering pace, which they set last year, when they won 46 games between them, the Reds won't be headed unless their infield drops out.

And speaking of the infield, the Cincinnati team has one of the best defence units in the senior circuit. Bill Werber at third is playing great baseball. Lonnie Frey continues to join with Billy Myers and Eddie Joost in piling up double plays. Frank McCormick is a steady first sacker and one of the big offensive guns on the team.

GREAT SUPPORT

Redleg players have made fewer errors than any other team in either loop. That means much in the long run where runs count in the playoff.

In the outfield, experts agree Harry Craft is one of the best fielders in the league. Flanked by Ival Goodman and Morrie Arnovich the Cincy boys have support where support is needed.

As for batting, the Reds aren't the class of the loop. But some of the boys are .300 hitters and others do manage to hit in the cluiches to keep the runs pouring across the plate. Frank McCormick, and Ernie Lmobardi are hitting above the select .300 figure and Goodman is improving after a slow start.

JOOST GOOD SUB

Injuries haven't proved detrimental to the Reds' 1940 pennant chances, as Gabie Paul, secretary, points out. Joost, called in to play when Bill Myers went down with injuries, made an excellent substitution both at the plate and in the field. Lew Riggs supplanted Bill Werber at third when the latter tore a leg muscle. He, too, made his presence known, getting six hits in two games.

Mike McCormick, rookie outfielder, isn't blasting down fences but his play has been steady and he hits in the pinches.

The Reds have completed more than 80 double plays. And that is 18 more than the opposition has made against them.

With the favor of Lady Luck, often called upon to play her hand should come marching home with another league crown and perhaps a world series winner.

Van Horn Is Knocked Out, Eastern Tennis

RYE, N.Y., Aug. 6 (CP)—Welby van Horn of Los Angeles, last year's boy wonder of tennis and this year's problem child, was knocked out of the Eastern grass court championships today in the second round by Hal Surface, Kansas City veteran, 6-0, 6-3.

Bobby Riggs of Chicago, the defending champion, disposed of Ronald Lubin, Los Angeles, 7-5, 6-2.

REMEMBER WHEN?

Joe Louis smashed King Levinsky to the floor in one round at Chicago five years ago tonight. Louis had been fighting professionally only two years. In 1937 he became heavyweight champion of the world when he dropped champion Jimmy Braddock.

Willow Point Tennis Tourney Play Sunday

The annual singles tournament of the Willow Point Lawn Tennis Club will be played on the club's courts Sunday. Only full members of the club are eligible for the play, which opens at 9 a.m.

It is hoped that a mixed American tournament will be held later in the season. Summer visitors, as usual, are invited to participate.

Nelson Juniors Have Games on Tap, E. Kootenay

The Nelson Junior Baseball Club has received an invitation to play in the East Kootenay, either in a Labor Day tournament or in single exhibition games at Cranbrook and Kimberley this month.

If the junior ball tournament, to be played at either Kimberley or Cranbrook, comes off, Fernie will also be entered. However if the tourney does not materialize, Nelson will travel for games in Cranbrook and Kimberley on dates tentatively set for the 17th and 18th respectively.

The Nelson squad has been working out steadily, under the supervision of Coach Ray Humble and Manager "Slim" Porter, and will likely play Rossland here after the senior ball game Sunday.

Nelson at Trail Softball Sunday

By a long distance telephone conversation, T. H. Negus, Secretary of the Trail Softball Association, informed Nelson softball officials that it would be impossible to delay the Nelson-Trail series a week to the 18th, as was asked by the Nelson club.

Difficulty in fitting in available time at Victoria Park, Trail's softball grounds, was the reason for Trail's inability to comply with Nelson's request, which was made when it was learned the Lakesiders will still be without the services of Coach Tony Arcure, and that Hazel Spiers, ace chucker will not be available.

Rep Teams Will Practice Today

Nelson men's and women's rep softball team will practice this evening at 6 at the Recreation Grounds according to their respective coaches.

Louis Aurello doesn't know for sure when the West Kootenay men's playoffs will be continued, but nevertheless he intends to keep his squad in shape until Trail and Castlegar get around to deciding which will advance to the Bowling Trophy final. Nelson City League playoffs, with Savoy and Hume Hotels and C.Y.O., from whom all the rep players are derived all still in the running, will also help in keeping the players in trim.

The Nelson girls plan on making it a clean sweep in their best of seven joust with the Trail Reps, and they have practices lined up for this evening and Friday. The Trail-Nelson series will be resumed either this Sunday or the one following.

The best of three semi-final between Hume Hotel and C. Y. O. will be decided Friday when the teams meet in the third game. Savoy Hotel awaits the winner for a best of five final.

Pilotless Gliders Would Find Landing Rough; No Secret Weapons In War Yet

By GUY RHOADES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP)—Royal Air Force intelligence officers are inclined to agree that raids of British thus far have been only armed reconnaissance flights to obtain information, and expect that when the blitzkrieg comes—if it does—British fighter aircraft may have to contend with as many as 500 or even 1000 enemy planes at a time.

Some even suggest that German planes will appear towing strings of pilotless gliders loaded with food and equipment to supply men dropped by parachute from aerial troop transports.

Should this stunt actually be tried British farmers are likely to get a lot of free food and military equipment, because, unless some new controlling device has been invented, it is impossible to land a glider accurately without a pilot.

Taking a motorless plane off the ground on the end of a tow-rope is easy. The glider will fly itself in reasonably good air if it is being towed, but coming down is something else again. Chances are it would pile into the towing plane on the ground or overshoot the mark and become lost.

There has been a great deal of talk about secret weapons, but none has appeared so far in this war. The Nazis tried to boast that the magnetic mine was a secret weapon, but a quick glance through a few illustrated magazines of last-war vintage show it was used in that conflict.

The only secret weapon to emerge so far in this war has been the element of surprise which is secret only until it is sprung and is as old as war itself. Strictly speaking there has not been a new weapon since aircraft were first employed in war.

Even the tactical principle of the blitzkrieg is at least as old as the combined night infiltration and daylight massed charge of Zulu warriors behind rhinoceros-hide shields.

Weapons have been improved and explosives made more efficient, old tactics have been streamlined and machines do many of the jobs men did in former wars. The tank, in principle as old as Hannibal's armored elephants, has given protection to men who used to lead spear-head advances afoot or on horseback. The motorcycle, armored car, automatic and semi-automatic gun are merely improvements of weapons used in the last war.

Even the dreaded parachute troops aren't exactly new. They are only a fairly long stride from the man who used to delight you at the country fair by parachuting from a big round smoke balloon.

French Minister Will Remain at Canadian Post

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP). — Canada has permitted the French Minister, Rene Ristelhueber, to remain at his post in Ottawa and carry out his duties Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons today.

He said he believed this met with the approval of the British Government, although it has, to a certain extent, severed relations with France.

The Prime Minister said he was convinced the French Minister would not be sending to his Government any information which might be injurious to Canada if it fell into the hands of German authorities in France. If there was any possibility of that happening it would not be permitted by the Canadian Government.

"Mr. Ristelhueber is a very honorable man and has given us every reason to believe his sole desire is similar to our own. He is doing everything he can to relieve the situation."

The question came up during a discussion of external affairs Department estimates and was raised by King Hazen (Con. Saint John-Albert) who asked for a statement on the status of the new French Minister who came to Canada shortly before the French capitulation.

"In relations between countries today there are circumstances that are difficult and sometimes critical," Mr. King said. "Canada's policy has been to avoid anything that would add to these difficulties."

There had been "certain severances" of relations between the United Kingdom and France, but not complete severance. French Consuls-General were still functioning normally in Great Britain, and the Empire.

"Our policy has been to permit the French Minister to remain in Canada for the present," Mr. King said. "He understands the situation is a delicate one and he is here to assist, not to do anything that will embarras us.

"The situation is well known in the United Kingdom and I think we are meeting their desire in not severing relations with France."

King Decorates Canadian Officer

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP Cable). — Brig. C. A. P. Muirson, distinguished Canadian officer of the British army, received the insignia of Commander of the Order of the British Empire today from the hands of the King at Buckingham Palace.

Close to 300 members of His Majesty's armed forces received honors during the investiture.

Brig. Muirson, native of Grenfell, Sask., who spent much of his life in Vancouver, received the honor for distinguished services in the Field. He was with the British Expeditionary Force in France and the Low Countries and was one of those who came through the "Hell of Dunkerque."

At present Brig. Muirson is a staff officer of the Canadian English army corps under Lt.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton. He joined the Royal Artillery in 1912 and has been with the British army ever since. He served at Kingston, Ont., several years ago as British Exchange Officer.

The widow of Lance Corporal Harry Nicholls received the Victoria Cross her husband won at Dunkerque while Capt. H. M. Ervine-Andrews was decorated with the V. C. at a public investiture on the palace quandrangle.

Also decorated was Daphne Pearson of the Women's Auxiliary Fire Force who rescued a stunned pilot from a crashed and burning airplane which she knew contained bombs. She received the insignia of Officer of the Order of the British Empire.

R.A.F. Swear Revenge for 'Ruthless Murder'

By SAM ROBERTSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP). — The young leader of a Royal Air Force fighting squadron, who attended McGill University, revealed today that the "ruthless murder" of one of his men as he floundered in the waters of the Channel caused all members of his squadron to swear to "do everything in their power to avenge him."

Sqdn. Ldr. E. Donaldson, who in May was awarded the Distinguished Service Order, said two pilots under his command collided in mid-air during an operation. The flight commander, who survived the crash, was returning home on a ship which was torpedoed.

"As hundreds of people swam about hoping for rescue," Donaldson said, "German boats turned machine guns on them. The Flight Commander's cries for help brought a searchlight on him and the Germans then shot him dead."

When the report of the shooting reached the air station it brought a tremendous change in the squadron.

"The men had looked upon their work as tremendous fun," Donaldson said. "However, the fate of their colleague caused all hands to vow to do everything in their power to avenge him. The Germans have suffered very much for that crime."

Claim Canadian Shot Finn Worker

MOSCOW, Aug. 6 (AP). — Tass, Soviet News Agency, claimed today in a dispatch from Helsinki that a member of the "Society for Friendship and Peace with U.S.S.R." had been shot and killed by a "Canadian volunteer," apparently meaning one of the Canadians who joined the Finnish International Brigade during the Russo-Finnish war.

The shooting occurred during a public meeting in the Finnish capital, Tass claimed. The slayer was alleged to have aimed at one of the leaders of the Society who was addressing the meeting, but hit another member.

"The murderer was detained by workers," Tass said.

(The Agency did not name the alleged slayer and gave no indication of when the shooting took place.)

The News Agency added that the Finnish press is persisting in its campaign against the pro-Soviet Society.

It was recalled that Russia's Premier and Foreign Commissar, Vyacheslaff Molotoff, told the Supreme Soviet Aug. 1 that Russo-Finnish relations "may be damaged by the campaign against the Finnish circles who try to strengthen good neighborly relations with the U.S.S.R."

HART EN ROUTE POWELL RIVER CONVENTION

VICTORIA, Aug. 6 (CP)— Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, is in Vancouver today en route to Powell River where he will attend the Liberal Party's convention on Wednesday to name a candidate for the Mackenzie by-election in September. He left here last night.

Hull Warns U.S. of Dangers and Calls for Personal Sacrifice and Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP). — State Secretary Cordell Hull called on the people of the United States today for individual sacrifice and "hard personal service" to help keep the nation at peace.

Without mentioning specifically the controversial question of conscription, he counselled against complacency "in the face of terrific problems and conditions" and declared:

"The one and only sure way for our nation to avoid being drawn into serious trouble or actual war is for our people to become thoroughly conscious of the possibilities of danger, to make up their minds that we must continue to arm and to arm to such an extent that the forces of conquest and ruin will not dare make an attack on us or on any part of this hemisphere.

"To this end, each citizen must be ready and willing for real sacrifice of time and of substance, and for hard personal service.

"In the face of terrific problems and conditions, and until the present serious threats and dangers have disappeared, we cannot pursue complacently the course of our customary normal life."

Hull's views were expressed in a statement prepared before he left for a West Virginia mountain resort to rest from his work at the Havana Conference of American Republic Foreign Ministers which ended last week.

At Havana, Hull said, it was "agreed that full and adequate preparations for continental defence could not be taken too soon if the threatened danger from abroad was to be checked and terminated."

There was general agreement also, he said, that "if the peaceful nations of Europe had thus promptly organized themselves for self-defence on the most effective cooperative basis, the chances are Europe would be vastly different today."

that their situation and that of

"The vast forces of lawlessness, conquest and destruction are still moving across the earth like a savage and dangerous animal at large," Hull's statement continued. "By their very nature, those forces will not stop unless and until they recognize that there exists unbreakable resistance.

"At Havana we forged new instrumentalities of continental defence. These will be of vast importance to our nation and to every American nation."

The Conference adopted a resolution providing that an act of aggression by a non-American state against an American state would be considered an act against all the countries signing the declaration.

While the resolution came from Venezuela, it was regarded here as possibly useful instrument for negotiations for United States naval and air bases in strategic Latin American areas.

U.S. Navy Relies on Mass Output of New Warships

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP). — The United States Navy is taking a leaf from industry's mass production book to speed up construction of the projected "two ocean" fleet.

Although they said there is no thought of turning out battleships like cup-cakes, officers engaged in adding more combat vessels to the existing navy asserted that they are hopeful of having the majority in service within about four years.

Instead of trying to make each new battleship, cruiser or destroyer a little better than its predecessor, as it has in the past, the navy — to save time — is going to let one design stand for as many ships in each category as possible.

Development of aircraft has forced naval shipbuilders to make radical changes in designs in order to give warships adequate protection both from aerial bombs and from shell-fire and torpedoes.

Rear Admiral S. M. Robinson, Chief of the new Bureau of Ships, told a Congressional Committee recently there was a good possibility that the development of Diesel engines might revolutionize battleship design by doing away with the need for space-taking boilers.

This would permit more weight to be devoted to armor or, with the same armor, to increase the ships' speed, he said. It was recalled in naval circles, however, that the German pocket battleship, Graf Spee, was diesel powered and proved incapable of withstanding the beating handed her by three smaller British cruisers.

Bread Price Is Fixed at Price Prevailing July 23

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP). — The Wartime Prices and Trade Board today ordered that the maximum selling prices of bread and flour "will be the prices which prevailed on July 23 prior to the imposition of the wheat processing tax."

This is "to prevent exploitation of consumers of bread and flour while the implications of recent legislation are being studied," the Board announcement said.

In respect to flour, millers are ordered to share with bakers the levy of 70 cents a barrel resulting from the 15 cents a bushel tax on wheat milled for domestic consumption.

Fixing of the price of bread was the first formal price-fixing by the Board of a necessity of life.

(The Processing Tax, included in legislation passed by Parliament in the past few weeks, is 15 cents a bushel on all wheat processed into flour or other such commodities for domestic consumption. The tax is collected by the miller when he sells the flour and returns are made monthly to the Canadian Wheat Board.)

In its announcement, the Prices and Trade Board, under the chairmanship of Hector McKinnon, said it "would have preferred to pursue the more logical course of gathering complete information before the taking of such a step, but that the concerted action of bakers in a Western city in increasing bread prices immediately had left the Board with no alternative.

"Today's order of the board is, therefore, in the nature of a 'standstill' ruling and will apply throughout Canada until the Board has had opportunity to inquire fully into the facts and to determine more precisely the effects of the Wheat Processing Tax on the milling and baking industries."

VANCOUVER, Aug. 6 (CP). — Bread prices were increased one cent a loaf here Aug. 1, after local bakers claimed the move was forced upon them by the Federal Wheat Processing Tax.

Ian Davidson, Secretary of the Vancouver Master Bakers' Association, which includes most of the city's bakeries, said today he had not been informed of the Ottawa edict, revoking such increases. He said that future policy of the Association would depend on official information from Ottawa.

Toronto Weaker

TORONTO, Aug. 6 (CP)—A quiet Toronto Stock Market registered slightly more weakness than strength today.

Preston was the heaviest trader in the secondary gold group and weakened ½ to 20 and Sylvanite 10 cents to 2.15. Soft spots in the junior list involved Sladen, Kirkland Lake and Gunnar. Against these losses appeared higher prices for Wright Hargreaves, Teck Hughes and Pioneer.

Smelters and Noranda were down fractions to a point and Ventures and Pend Oreille dropped 5 cents or more.

Western Oils were unchanged but for a loss of 2 cents for Home and a small gain for Extension.

WINNIPEG WHEAT TRADE LIMITED

WINNIPEG, Aug. 6 (CP)—Dealings in wheat on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today were limited to a few trades in October future at the pegged minimum of 73⅝ cents. The December future did not open.

There were indications that a small amount of Durham wheat was worked for export out of New York, presumably for the United Kingdom, but outside of this little activity was reported. In the cash grain market a small amount of No. 1 Northern was picked up by shippers and mills, and there was some demand for other grades at unchanged spreads. Offerings were light, however, and principally on an odd-car basis.

Narrow Oils Gain Point at Calgary

CALGARY, Aug. 6 (CP)—Narrow oils featured trading in another listless session on the Calgary Stock Exchange today. The stock advanced a point to 17 with a turnover of 3,500 shares. Only other transaction during the morning session was 200 Highwood at 10½, down ½ from previous close.

General trend, on the basis of bids and offers, was about steady.

Rain Impedes Pea Harvest at Creston

CRESTON, B. C. — The official weather report indicates that the district was favored with a July rainfall of 1.05 inches, which is generous for the month, and while welcomed by the orchardist was not so pleasing to the pea grower, the maturing of which latter crop has been delayed to the point where it is holding up Fall wheat combining. The past month was well up to normal for heat, with a touch of 100 in the shade on the 12th and 11 days when the mercury was 90 or better. The coolest morning was the 25th when it was 43 above zero. July provided 11 days of showery weather, closing with .01 of an inch on the 31st.

Women Farm Corps Suggested for B. C. to Harvest Crops

TORONTO, Aug. 6 (CP) —Women farm corps may be needed to take care of labor shortage for harand other crops this Fall. The suggestion has been made to the Government, Premier Pattullo said today, but as yet it is not indicated how serious the shortage may be.

Most of the seasonal labor on fruit crops is composed of women in normal times. However, packers and growers are concerned lest enlistments take men from trucking and heavier jobs.

Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, said when the National Registration is completed this month the situation will be clarified.

In Ontario high schools are to open a month later than usual so that young people will be available for harvesting.

Early Gains Wiped Out at Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 6 (AP)—Early advances of as much as 1¼ cents a bushel in corn and wheat today were steadily whittled away and the close saw wheat gains turned into net losses while corn finished only ⅛-⅜ cents higher.

The market tone was firm but offerings were limited and after the early upsurge the market sagged steadily under scattered local selling. Reports of rains in the corn belt and more favorable conditions in the Northwest Spring wheat areas were also factors in the decline.

Wheat finished unchanged to ⅜ cents lower, September 74⅜-¼, December 75⅜-¼; corn was ⅛-⅜ higher, September 60-60⅛, December 55⅞-56; and oats were unchanged to ⅜ cents higher.

Stocks Waver After Strength, London

Expect New Tax in Two Months

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP). — Sir Kingsley Wood, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told the House of Commons today that he hoped to bring the new purchase tax into effect in two months.

The Chancellor said the public would have adequate notice before further taxation was imposed. He urged that the utmost savings be devoted to the state which, he said, had received a total of £758,000,000 ($3,373,900,000) in loans and bonds in the first 36 weeks of the savings campaign.

Sir Kingsley told the Commons, which had been critical of his recent budget as "timorous," that the budget deficit of £2,200,000,000 "fortunately is not a measure of a potential inflationary gap that must be bridged by taxation or new savings if demand is not to outstrip production."

The House took up the Finance Bill without hearing an expected statement from R. A. Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, on Anglo-Japanese relations. It was expected the statement will be made tomorrow.

New War Scares React on Wall St.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP)—New war qualms today served as an excuse for light selling in the stock market.

Dealings, fairly lively in the first hour, slackened from then on and the ticker tape frequently was at a standstill. Transfers approximated 300,000 shares.

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP)—Work will start immediately to provide additional storage space for between 22,000,000 and 25,000,000 bushels of grain in country elevators on the Prairies, Trade Minister MacKinnon announced today.

Arrangements also are being made with the pools for additional elevator space of from 7,000,000 to 10,000,000 bushels.

"The shortage of lumber," the minister's statement declared, "is affecting the amount of additional elevator space that might be constructed, but with the assistance of the timber controller, Department of Munitions and Supply, it is hoped that timber to permit at least of this amount of additional construction can be made."

New Fire Fighting Equipment, Creston

CRESTON, B. C.—Creston's fire fighting equipment has been augmented with the arrival of a 32-foot extension ladder of durable aluminum, a 100 feet of 1½ inch hose, a solid brass shutoff nozzle and a Siamese coupling. The addition of the coupling and the new nozzle will greatly increase the pressure and general efficiency of the brigade.

With the addition of the new equipment Fire Chief M. R. Joyce is having one of the old ladders converted into a grappling ladder for roof work. Wooden pegs are replacing the metal pegs on the truck which hold the nozzles and the truck is undergoing some rebuilding in order to assure prompt action on arriving at a conflagration.

Up to the present, Creston's 1940 fire loss has been nil, and outside of a couple of calls to chimney blazes the firemen have had no work within the village limits, and but one call to a blaze North of town.

CANADA AND SOUTH AMERICA MAY EXCHANGE DIPLOMATIC ENVOYS

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP). — Exchange of diplomatic representations between Canada and some of the South American countries is under consideration, Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the House of Commons today.

He mentioned particularly Brazil and the Argentine as a "good guess" when questioned as to what South American countries he had in mind.

The Prime Minister said he had received intimations from several South American countries that they would like to exchange representatives with Canada.

British Think Mussolini Prepares for Drive in East

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP). — British sources expressed belief today that Premier Mussolini has put an Italian army of 500,000 in Africa in preparation for a drive against Egypt.

The High Command in Rome reported today that Italian vanguards had pushed across the border from Libya into Egypt and a British communique at Cairo reported an offensive into British Somaliland, bordering Ethiopia, by three Italian columns.

Against the Italian forces, Britain has a smaller but better trained army, informed sources said. Its strength was not divulged.

It is believed in British quarters here that Mussolini is ready to gamble 250,000 Legionnaires in Libya and 100,000 white and 150,000 native Askaris in Eritrea, Ethiopia, Italian Somaliland and Libya to conquer Egypt.

The plan accepted by most neutral authorities here as likeliest for the Italians is three-fold:

1. An Eastward drive along the Mediterranean shores toward Alexandria and Cairo, with advance forces mushrooming towards the Nile;

2. Concerted drives from Eritrea and Ethiopia into the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

3. Local engagements along the Kenya frontier to keep South African forces engaged.

"Texas Shorty" Given Credit for German Plane Destruction

LONDON, Aug. 6 (AP)—Arthur Donahue, stocky, 27-year-old American volunteer flier from Laredo, Texas, was given credit by the Royal Air Force today for the "probable" destruction of a German plane in a dogfight over the English channel.

To Donahue, who joined up because he "wanted to do something more than just teach people to fly," the fight was "great fun."

Donahue and other members of a Spitfire squadron shot down two Messerschmitt-109 fighters and possibly downed two others in battle off the French port of Calais yesterday.

The young American joined the Spitfire squadron less htan 24 hours before the engagement. Known to his British mates as "Texas Shorty" he returned from the battle with his plane riddled by machine-gun bullets but escaped unscratched.

YOUNG AMERICANS HITCHHIKE 2600 MILES TO VOLUNTEER IN C.A.S.F.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 6 (CP)—Two young Americans, who hitch-hiked 2,600 miles from Houston, Texas, J. W. James, 30, and S. V. Dutkiewicz, 21, were here today hoping to be accepted as volunteers in the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. The men said in the long trek North they had worn out two pairs of shoes and on one occasion nearly suffocated in a freshly-painted box car where they had been locked in while asleep.

Dutkiewicz, who is of Polish ancestry, lost his uncle when the Germans invaded Poland.

Questions Canada's Status as Nation

OTTAWA, Aug. 6 (CP)—Canada's status at a nation needs some clarification and attention, J. F. Pouloiot (Lib. Temiscouata) told the House of Commons today when external affairs estimates were under consideration.

The British North merica Act,
The British North America Act, ed clauses fixing Canada's inferior status, despite views frequently expressed that Canada was a sovereign nation. Canada had no power to amend its own constitution. Certified copies of all Acts to the Canadian Parliament had to be sent to London and were subject to disallowance by the British Government.

Prime Minister MacKenzie King questioned the wisdom of starting debate on constitutional questions when most members wanted to adjourn. He said the questions raised by Mr. Pouliot were most important and merited serious consideration. He disputed Mr. Pouliot's suggestion Canada's status was in any way inferior.

Canada could obtain the power to amend its constitution any time it wished it and the British Government's power of disallowance was "dead" by the decision of Imperial conferences.

Italians Attack British Somaliland

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 6 (AP) — Italian forces have begun an invasion of British Somaliland with three columns driving into that little British possession adjoining Ethiopia, a British communique reported today.

British Somaliland, 68,000 square miles in area and with a population of 346,000, is wedged between Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland and fronts on the Gulf of Aden.

The communique said:

"The invasion of British Somaliland began August 4. The enemy is operating in three columns, one moving on Oadweina (near the Ethiopian border), one on Hargeisa (just West of Oadweina) and one from Jire toward Gargara.

"Our land forces are organized to resist these advances in spite of the collapse of French Somaliland (to the Northwest).

"On other fronts, nothing to report."

The order, described as essentially "a warning," provides for three months to two years imprisonment and fines of £100 to £500 ($445 to $2225.)

Forests Becoming Hazardous; One Fire Is Reported

Only one fire in the Nelson Forest District was reported from the Nelson Office of the Forest Branch Tuesday, as forests again became dry and hazardous in August heat.

The fire was a small one high on the headwaters of Dutch Creek, on the divide between Kootenay Lake and the Invermere country. Dutch Creek flows into the Columbia River South of Lake Windermere. A patrolman was sent up to look at the fire, but no crew was sent.

Officials said that conditions in the forests were again becoming hazardous with hot, sunny weather. While recent rains had soaked down parts of the forests, they were not general enough, and it would not take many sunny days to again dry out the woods.

Dangerous Aliens Ordered Abroad Bribe Internees

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP)—The Home Office, which has taken control of internment camps from the War Office, was reported today to have discovered that at least 100 dangerous aliens ordered shipped abroad had bribed other internees to take their places.

"So inadequate was the check on the camps," said the Evening News, "that it was possible for the most dangerous aliens to change their identity as they desired."

The paper added that active fifth columnists among the aliens would go to any extreme to remain in Britain for the expected German offensive.

'Nazis About Ready to Attempt Attack'

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP). — Royal Air Force Intelligence Officers, analyzing scouting reports from across the English Channel, are convinced the Germans have about completed organization of a blitzkrieg attempt, Larry Leseuer, Columbia Broadcasting System correspondent in London, reported in a broadcast heard here today.

Nazi activity, particularly on railroads and highways in Northern Belgium, Holland and France, has been stepped up, he said.

Air Force officials, Leseuer said, expect the German onslaught to come partly on barges towed by transports believed to be under construction in the Baltic now and on gliders, towed by transport planes, which would carry food, munitions and guns but no men.

Carbon-Dioxide Is the Surprise Gas of the War

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 6 (AP). — The gas surprise of this war is harmless carbon dioxide.

Carbon dioxide is the fizz of soft drinks, the collar on beer, the stuff that Nature put in the air to make man breathe regularly.

With all nations set for poison gas as a result of experience in the First Great War, carbon dioxide stole in the back way.

It ferried the Germans across flooded Holland Lowlands and European rivers.

It is saving aviators on both sides from fire and from drowning.

The facts about the war uses of this gas come from Walter Kidde, New York engineer, one of the pioneers in use of carbon dioxide for fire-fighting.

A bottle about twice the size of the family quart-of-milk container is attached to folded rubber coats. It is filled with liquified carbon dioxide, which is carbon dioxide gas under pressure.

The turn of a valve releases this liquid, which expands so fast it rushes out as gas and inflates a large boat in a few seconds. That's how the Nazis crossed the water defences on the Lowlands.

The aviator who has to bail out over water yanks a cord which in three seconds opens a tiny bottle of liquid carbon dioxide that inflates his vest to the volume of a life preserver.

Refugee Committee Plans Be Ready for Refugee Children From Britain

While it was understood that the British Government's policy did not at the moment cover the convoying of large shipments of children evacuated from Britain, yet smaller numbers were coming to Canada, and it was felt that all preparations should be in trim for handling them. This was the feeling expressed at an Executive meeting of the Nelson and District Branch of the Canadian National Refugee Committee Tuesday.

Present at the meeting were Dr. G. A. C. Walley, Chairman; Mrs. Leo S. Gansner, Secretary; Mrs. E. H. H. Applewhaite, for the Willow Point Committee; Mrs. Burrard A. Smith, West Arm Committee; Mrs. J. D. Yeatman and D. Crasier, South Slocan Committee; Mrs. T. W. Brewer, President of the Nelson Refugee Sewing Club; Miss Jean Holbrook, head of the Provincial Welfare Department; H. D. Dawson, F. B. Pearce, Rev. John Cheevers, and A. G. Thompson, executive members.

TWO COMMITTEES FORMED

Mrs. Gansner read letters from Ymir, reporting the formation of a Sub-Committee with Mrs. Halverson as Convener; at Sheep Creek with Mrs. Cosnett as Convener; and a letter from Mrs. W. A. MacCabe of South Slocan, Divisional Commissioner of the Girl Guides, offering the services of all Guides and Guiders of the Kootenay Division.

It was stressed that those offering to accept children needed to assume full responsibility. Government assistance was not enough, and where the family in Britain was in a position to send financial support, no means as yet had been devised of doing so, owing to the exchange control regulations, said Mr. Thompson, of the Publicity Committee.

It was decided to forward 80 per cent of the $40 received from St. Paul's Boys' Choir to the National Committee at Ottawa, retaining membership fees received from individuals or societies for local funds.

TO AID PLACE RIVER REFUGEES

Mrs. Brewer reported a considerable accumulation of made-over clothing. It was decided to send part of this for the immediate use of Sudeten and Czechoslovakian refugee families in the Peace River District.

It was agreed that district Sub-Committees should send clothing they might collect to the central depot at Nelson, to be redistributed under the supervision of Mrs. Brewer's Sewing Club.

Monte Cristo Mountain Fire Up to Campers

ROSSLAND, B. C., Aug. 6—An outbreak of fire on Monte Cristo Mountain was checked by Assistant Forest Ranger J. F. Killough Tuesday morning.

Mr. Killough attributed the fire, which was reported by Mrs. T. E. Davies, to youngsters who had failed to extinguish a camp fire. "They had put sand on it, but did not clear the ground, and the fire crept through the sand. If they had dug around the fire, or cleared the rubbish back, the outbreak would not have occurred," he stated.

Ask Probe of Nazi Fascists in U.S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (AP) — The Interstate Commission on crime suggested today an investigation of "the Nazi-Fascist's use of attaches of legations and consulates for subversive propaganda and other fifth column activities in the United States."

"Espionage and sabotage are to be expected from Nazi-Fascist consular agents and business firms," a commission statement signed by Judge Richard Harthorne of New Jersey, President, said. The statement was distributed to delegates at the Federal-State conference on national defence law enforcement problems.

The Commission said that some prominent German firms in this country "have recently greatly increased their staffs, in spite of the reduction in their legitimate business," and compared this to what it said were similar developments in Belgium and Holland before the Nazis moved in.

Streicher, it became known, was relieved some time ago of his duties as Gauleiter (Nazi Party District Leader) for Franconia, but his name still appears in the masthead of Der Sturmer, Jew-baiting weekly.

By KEN CLARK

While the Governor-General was at the camp, Princess Alice officially opened the Y. W. C. A. Hostess House at Pembroke. The house had been set up to serve the wives and women relatives of soldiers at Petawawa.

Australia Abandons Plan to Prolong Life of Parliament

CANBERRA, Aug. 6 (CP.-Reuters) — The Australian Government has abandoned the proposal to seek from Westminster power to prolong the life of the present Parliament whose term expires November 28.

A Government spokesman said that had the power been obtained it would have been used only in an Empire or Australian emergency, but that a lack of unanimity at presessional meetings of the three parties—United Australia, United Country, and Labor—made it difficult to proceed with the plan.

The Labor Party charged the plan to prolong the duration of the Parliament beyond its normal three-year life was an attempt on the part of the Government to avoid elections.

Deny Resolution Was Hit by Bomb

LONDON, Aug. 6 (CP). — Mercantile shipping losses due to Axis war action for the week ended on July 29 were 18 British ships totalling 65,601 tons and two Allied ships totalling 7,090 tons, the Admiralty announced today.

It was denied authoritatively that H. M. S. C. Resolution was hit by a bomb or that a cruiser was damaged off the Baleares Islands in the Mediterranean.

A German claim to have sunk 229,288 tons of shipping during that week was termed "absurd."

The Admiralty said "enemy losses to Aug. 4 were approximately 1,172,000 tons, including 918,000 German and 254,000 Italian, plus 20,000 tons of former neutral shipping which had been brought under Axis control.
