Eight Nazi Ships, Five Loaded With Men, Sunk by Reds

Naval, Air and Shore Units Smash Attempt to Land Nazi Troops; at Leningrad Nazis Say Red Attacks Beaten

By HENRY C. CASSIDY—Associated Press Staff Writer
MOSCOW, Sept. 16 (Tuesday) (AP).—Sinking of eight German vessels, including five troop-jammed transports, in the repulse of a Nazi landing attempt on the Baltic Island of Oesel and in a clash in Arctic waters, was announced today by the Russians.
In the biggest of the two engagements the Soviet Information Bureau said four transports and two destroyers were sent to the bottom by Soviet naval, air and shore units which smashed the Germans attacking Oesel, an island off Estonia where Russia left strong forces after withdrawing from the Estonian mainland.
The landing force was wiped out, the communiqué said, and two transports and several torpedo boats among several others were badly damaged.
In the Arctic, off the far northern port of Petsamo, still another transport was declared sunk along with an escort vessel. The Oesel clash occurred last Friday, but the date of the Arctic sinkings was not given.
The defenders of Odesa, strongly supported by sailors of the Black Sea fleet, were reported to have smashed redoubled German and Rumanian efforts to breach the besieged city's defenses.
Today's morning communiqué confirmed its report of Western front fighting to its stock phrase—stubburn battles all along the line.

BERLIN, Sept. 15 (AP).—The German armies claimed tonight they had beaten off repeated Russian counter attacks supported by heavy tanks in a great and continuing struggle yard by yard for possession of powerful modern fortifications of Leningrad.
More than 500 motor vehicles were claimed to have been destroyed in a new German aerial thrust East of the Dnieper River, that is, hundreds of miles South of the Leningrad front.
D.N.B. reporting on action of the air force, claimed also that a Russian armored train and six transport trains were halted by bombardment and various artillery positions knocked out of action.
At some points, some sources claimed, German troops have pushed to within 15 miles of the centre of Leningrad.
To reach these positions, it was claimed, the Germans broke through 75 miles of defenses in which tank traps nine feet wide and six feet deep forced the advancing Germans virtually to discard mechanized warfare in favor of close-quarter combat.
The Nazis claimed they can take the city house by house, if necessary, in which case they said losses would be extremely bloody.
Of the front generally, the high command summed up the position by saying: "Great offensive operations in the East are progressing successfully."

Interpreting The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON—Associated Press Staff Writer
One significant aspect of the peace talk emanating from Finland is that it coincides so closely with the opening in Moscow of three-cornered Russian-British-American conferences. That raises the possibility that politico-diplomatic developments stemming from the Moscow meetings may be even more immediately affective in aiding Russia than the expected Anglo-American commitments to accelerate the flow of armaments to the Soviets.
Finnish readiness to discuss peace formulas with the Russians is clearly indicated in the statement of Vaino Tanner, cabinet member and powerful political leader, stressing "good hopes of peace in the nearest future."
Although insisting that Finland was not preparing to desert her Nazi ally, he contended that his country had none but defensive purposes and was not in any way aligned with the Nazi-Fascist orbit so far as "the great war" was concerned.
Tanner's most significant utterance, however, may prove to be his statement that the Finns had "not the slightest confidence in the Kremlin rulers" and that "since the Soviet will lose the war with Germany, a peace with her (Russia) would mean nothing."
There is a double loop-hole there for the Moscow conferees to consider. Presumably a peace deal between Finland and Russia under Anglo-American auspices and backed by Russian guarantees to London and Washington as well as to Helsinki would remove the first obstacle mentioned by Tanner. Moreover, the Finnish view that Germany is certain to master Russia in the end may undergo a change in the light of the Mos-

War Correspondents Taken by Iran Rebels

CAIRO, Sept. 15 (AP)—The Bucharest Radio reported tonight that British war correspondents had been captured in Iran and held as hostages, apparently by Iranian rebels, in an outlying province.
Their names were given as Richard Dimbleby of the British Broadcasting Corporation and John Holburn of the Times of London.

'Mixed' Marriage Is Ruled Legal in Quebec Province

MONTREAL, Sept. 15 (CP)—The Court of King's Bench, in an unanimous judgment today ruled that the celebration of a so-called "mixed" marriage by a Protestant clergyman is legal and valid in the Province of Quebec. The Court, sitting in appeal, ruled that such a marriage cannot be overturned by annulment because of religious faiths of the contracting parties.
The decision of the highest tribunal in the Province was believed to have solved a legal problem which has existed since 1908. It was the first time that Court of King's Bench has been able to pass judgment on such a case, as annulments granted from time to time in the Superior Court had never resulted in appeals.
Legal experts said tonight that they expected that the judgment would not affect annulments granted in the past, unless the individuals concerned carried their cases to the higher court.
Today's judgment upheld the appeal of Canon R. S. W. Howard of St. Ursula and Francis Arthur Anderson Church against the judgment of Mr. Justice Alfred Forest in Superior Court in July, 1929. Mr. Justice Forest had annulled the marriage of Laurier Bergeron, a Roman Catholic, to Wilhelmina Kriklow, a Protestant, the main ground for the annulment being that Canon Howard, as a Protestant minister, had no authority to celebrate a marriage between a Protestant and a Roman Catholic.
Mr. Justice Forest in his judgment delivered the judgment of the court. The appeal was allowed with costs both in the Superior Court and the Appellate Court, and the action dismissed.
In delivering the judgment, Mr. Justice Letourneau said there was no doubt that marriage was more than a civil contract, but this did not mean that marriage was not subject to civil law.

Plastics Great Hope for Manufacturers

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 (CP)—Plastics, made from Canadian materials, have become the great white hope of manufacturers in meeting ordinary business requirements at a time when metals are urgently needed for defence purposes, research officials said today.
Canadian research workers and manufacturers kept pace with plastic developments before the war and Canadian-made plastics products were on sale. Now the industry is expected to make good some of the gaps caused by defence priorities for aluminum and other metals used in the making of ordinary civilian goods.

BRITISH MISSION NAMED; MOSCOW MEETING SOON

Russians Pressing for All Material They Can Obtain

HURRIED MEETINGS HELD IN LONDON

LONDON, Sept. 16 (Tuesday) (CP).—The British Economic Mission to Moscow, with Lord Beaverbrook as its head, was named today soon after W. Averell Harriman, head of the United States delegation, conferred with Prime Minister Churchill.
The British-American group is expected to leave as soon as possible after a series of hurried consultations.
The British delegation will include a Military Mission already in Moscow—Lt. Gen. F. M. Mason-MacFarlane, Rear Admiral Miles and Air Vice-Marshal A. C. Collier—and these other members from London: Capt. H. H. Balfour, the Undersecretary of State for Air; Maj. Gen. Sir Hastings Ismay and Maj. Gen. G. N. McCreedy.
Harriman, shortly after his arrival by bomber from the United States, rushed into conferences with British authorities to find out how many United States guns, tanks and planes they can spare for Russia before the American delegation hurries on to Moscow.
His big job during his brief stop-over in London will be to establish equipment priorities satisfactory to both Britain and Russia.
The Russians, who have been expending vast amounts of material and whose own production has been cut by German gains in the Ukraine and threats to Leningrad and Kiev, are known to be pressing for everything they can get.
They are said to be anxious particularly about the availability of supplies for campaigns next Spring.
On the other hand, Britain considers her needs no less urgent and points out that she expects violent renewal of the German air offensive this Winter. She believed also that movements of Axis convoys in the Mediterranean and activity on the Libyan front are foretunners of big campaigns in Africa.
Within an hour after he and other top members of the United States Mission arrived, Harriman had begun conversations in which Prime Minister Churchill and British Army, Navy and Air experts participated.

Japanese Soldier "Little Man Who Isn't There" to Indo-China French

SAIGON, French Indo-China, Sept. 15 (AP).—To the Frenchman in Indo-China the Japanese soldier has become "the little man who isn't there."
Of course, he is here, and in large numbers, sent into this helpless French colony to forestall alleged "British intentions" against it. He is, as the official pronouncement put it, the guardian of Indo-China's sovereignty and independence.
But the French merely ignore him.
There is no rudeness, no outright discourtesy, no obvious contempt. The French simply don't see the Japanese.
It is the only weapon left to the French.
In a military sense they were powerless a year ago when Japan pressed the thin edge of the entering wedge against the colony. They have even less power or hope of resistance today.
Vichy governs Indo-China and the deal to send a Japanese army here was arranged in Vichy.
So now a Japanese army is here. More troops are coming. Japanese businessmen are rapidly burrowing into the rich fabric of Indo-China's economy. British and United States companies are liquidating, reducing staffs, sending their people home.
The French are helpless, but not beaten. They haven't surrendered. They are not without hope. All over Indo-China you see the

Norway State of Siege Ends Today

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 15 (AP).—Joseph Terboven, Nazi Commissioner in occupied Norway, in a move interpreted as a German attempt at conciliation, tonight ordered that the state of siege be lifted tomorrow morning.
Since the state of siege was declared last Wednesday, German authorities have executed two Norwegian labor leaders and arrested between 250 and 300 union leaders in the Oslo district alone.
No reason for lifting the siege was given, but informed quarters here said resentment over the rigid restrictions ran so high in the country that it was possible the authorities feared a nation-wide outbreak of trouble unless the regulations were relaxed.

U. S. Army Aviation Grounded as Deaths Mount in Manoeuvres

WITH THIRD ARMY IN LOUISIANA, Sept. 15 (AP).—The United States' massive third army temporarily grounded its combat aviation—almost 400 planes—today after a collision of planes killed one pilot and increased to five the fatalities in the first day of manoeuvres with the second army.
Four soldiers, including a captain, were killed in pre-dawn traffic accidents in blackouts as thousands of troop-carrying vehicles, armored cars and tanks rumbled into no-man's-land in West Central Louisiana for the games testing the strategic training and staff work of 400,000 officers and men.
Only part of the third army's air force was able to take the air in the stormy weather.

Mrs. Kohar in Serious Condition From Gunshot, Says Self-Inflicted

Mrs. Antonia Kohar was found in bed at her home, 820 Hoover Street, by her son Monday noon suffering from a bullet wound she said was self-inflicted.
"I was crying all the time," she told City Police, who questioned her later at Kootenay Lake General Hospital, at the same time admitting she had intentionally wounded herself with a 22 rifle. From her 18-year-old son, Frank, police learned she had recently been in a highly nervous condition and had frequent crying spells.
She inflicted the wound while sitting in a chair downstairs by pressing the rifle against her abdomen, she told police. She then walked upstairs, returned the gun to a cupboard, and went to bed. An hour and a half later, her son found her, still conscious, but suffering considerably. He called Dr. G. R. Barrett, who had her removed to hospital and who then notified City Police.
From her statement, and their investigations City Police are convinced that the wound was self-inflicted. Her dress, with a tiny bullet hole, powder-burned about the edges, and the automatic rifle are held by police.
The woman, who is about 40 years of age, was of a reserved nature, police learned. The home in which the incident occurred, was well-furnished and "very well kept."
Her husband, an employee at the Whitewater mine near Retallack, was notified by wire, and was expected to arrive in Nelson Monday or early today.

"Loophole" Found for Keeping Coast Chief

VANCOUVER, Sept. 15 (CP).—The Vancouver Police Commission, seeking a legal "loophole" to retain the services of Chief of Police Donald MacKay, now due for superannuation, were advised from Victoria today that the Chief may be superannuated and then be eligible for immediate reemployment by the Commission.
The "loophole" was revealed in a letter from superannuation authorities in Victoria to the Commission.
Chief MacKay, who reached the retirement age of 60 last week, must accept superannuation.
Should MacKay be reemployed as Chief of Police, the letter said, he must forego the "service" portion of his pension, contributed by the employer for the period of his reemployment, so long as his income exceeds $100 per month.

Arms, Munitions, Passengers Come Under New Ruling

Arms-Bearing Ships Can Go to Colonies in Africa, Pacific Areas, Labrador and Newfoundland

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP).—The State Department tonight announced a ruling by Attorney General Biddle permitting United States ships to carry arms, munitions and passengers to many areas of the far-flung British Empire.
Under the ruling, the ships may go to all parts of the British Empire other than the United Kingdom, India, Australia, Canada, New Zealand and the Union of South Africa and areas included in "combat zones" delineated by the President.
Under the Neutrality Act, when the President finds a state of war to exist, American ships must not carry arms and munitions to the belligerents. On Nov. 4, 1939, the recognizing a state of war between Germany on the one hand and the United Kingdom, India, Australia, Canada, New Zealand and the Union of South Africa on the other.
On Aug. 27, the Attorney General was asked whether the terms of the proclamation applied also to British overseas areas not expressly enumerated.
Biddle concluded that the terms of the document included only England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland, India, Australia, Canada, New Zealand and the Union of South Africa.
State Department officials said this means that United States ships could carry arms and munitions to such British colonies as British West Africa, the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, Aden and Perim, near the Arabian coast, and Sokatra, at the entrance to the Red Sea.
It also means, the officials added, that arms-bearing American vessels could go to Burma, Malaya, the Straits Settlements, the Federated Malay States, British Borneo, Brunei and Sarawak, in the South Pacific.
Such shipments also may go to the Fiji and Pacific islands owned by Britain and these areas in the Falkland Islands, Bermuda, British Honduras, British West Indies, Newfoundland and Labrador.
The ruling, a Department announcement said, does not permit shipments to such British colonies proclaimed combat area. Officials indicated they felt the chief importance of tonight's announcement was to answer many queries as to where United States vessels may and may not carry the implements of war in connection with the aid-to-Britain program.
After citing numerous authorities, Biddle declared:
"The foregoing discussion demonstrates that the term 'United Kingdom' is a term of art with a well settled and precise meaning. No contrary purposes appearing, well settled canons of construction require that this term as used in the proclamation should be given this meaning.
"For the reasons given it is my opinion that the term 'United Kingdom' as used in the proclamation of Nov. 4, 1939, is properly to be construed as including only England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland and not the overseas territories and possessions of the British Empire."
"Accordingly," the State Department announced, "transportation of passengers, any articles or materials, including arms, ammunition, or implements of war, to the overseas colonies and possessions of Great Britain which are not in a combat area and which are not specifically enumerated in the proclamation of Nov. 4, 1939, is not prohibited by the Neutrality Act of 1939."

Canadians Urged to Spend Less and Save More

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 (CP).—Finance Minister Isley tonight appealed to Canadians to save more and spend less because "none of us can leave it to the other fellow to bear our share of the tremendous cost involved in this titanic struggle for freedom."
To pay for Canada's war effort and help provide Britain with the dollars she needs for purchases in the Dominion, the Government would have to borrow nearly as much as it obtained in taxes.
"This means that we must borrow from millions of persons in Canada—from everyone who can possibly save out of his income," Mr. Isley said. "We are doing that now to some degree; there were about 950,000 subscribers to the Victory Loan and there have been more than 1,000,000 applications in a month for war savings certificates this Summer."
"Our Victory Loan was a great achievement for the people of this country, but we cannot rest upon that success. We must save more and more from now on."
"If we are to get what we need for war, we must do without many things as civilians," he added.
"I ask every one of you tonight to increase your savings to the full extent of your ability. Buy nothing you can do without. Put off every purchase you can."
OTTAWA, Sept. 15 (CP).—An appeal to Canadians not to put off enlistment or wait for others to come forward was made tonight by Hon. Pierre Casgrain, Secretary of State, in a Reconstruction Week address broadcast over the national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.
Canada needs soldiers now, he said, and needs them in greater numbers than they were needed in the last war.
If Canadians did not accept the obligations of citizenship and respond to the calls of their country and their own consciences the war was lost in advance and Canada would be conquered.
The idea of a German conquest of Canada was in the Nazi plan, said Mr. Casgrain. Dr. Colin Ross, a Nazi who visited Canada in 1934 wrote a book called "between the United States and the Pole" in which he said: "the vital space sought by Hitler is Canada. Canada is an open area, destined to absorb our surplus population as well as our surplus energy."

U.S. Legion Long Against Entry Into Foreign War, Cheers New Navy Order

By J. NORMAN LODGE
Associated Press Staff Writer
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 15 (AP).—The American Legion met today in its 23rd annual convention with its members predominantly sympathetic to reversing their 20-year-old stand against United States participation in foreign conflicts.
With challenging words from Navy Secretary Frank Knox resounding in their ears and with President Roosevelt declared in a message that he knew the country could count on the Legion's continued interest and cooperation in whatever lies ahead, these soldiers of the first American Expeditionary Force applauded every intervention of intervention in the Second Great War.
The National Commander, Milo Warner, carried on the trend in his annual report by saying:
"We must so fully prepare ourselves for war that insofar as it is humanly possible we of America can keep war away from our shores. In order to be able to do so we must have an army and navy which are unfettered and unshackled and so well prepared by equipment, training and authorization, that they can strike wherever or whenever it is necessary for the purpose of defense."
It was a Legion convention different from any other held in the long history of the A. E. F. veterans. Every year in the past the convention has gone on record against ever again sending an American army to Europe. Today, however, many leading veterans, heretofore against active American participation overseas, were carrying support for a resolution to be reported later in the week favoring the lifting of the ban.

Dr. K. C. MacDonald Has a Stormy Meeting at Trail Over Marketing; He Accuses Accusers of Selfishness

TRAIL, B.C., Sept. 15—A meeting Monday at which Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, discussed members of the C.M. & S. Farmers' Committee as well as the public, broke into a turbulent session of accusations against the British Columbia Interior Vegetable Marketing Board, described by Dr. MacDonald and John Peropkin, two of the chief spokesmen of District farmers, as "an entirely monopolistic concern."

Interruptions and loud protests against price control, particularly in respect to the wide price differential between prices paid the consumer and the retail prices at Trail Market, brought Dr. MacDonald to the eventual reply, "Bring it up before the Commission."

Dr. MacDonald was compelled to leave for Pentiction before the meeting was finished, but the arguments, in which E. Stott of Columbia Gardens and Bert Repton and David Kennaway of Trail also participated, noted by them as "existing in the Okanagan," continued while A. E. K. Tookes of Balfour, Agent for the Marketing Board, took over.

Hot resentment was expressed against the activities of the Marketing Board in this District, together with accusations that a general retail price drive and curtailment of price to the producer was caused by the price control exercised by the Board.

G. T. Jewell, Secretary of the Board, and L. R. Stephens, Board member, who accompanied Dr. MacDonald from Pentiction, offered explanations, stating that local farmers should place their grievances, if legitimate, either before the Board, or before the Commission, now being established at Vancouver.

Mr. Stott wanted to know who selected the Board, and why the local farmers had no say in the matter, but Mr. Jewell replied that notices of meetings of delegates to select representatives to the Board had always been published in the local papers on or about October 15 each year in compliance with the Marketing Act.

These notices also required the owners to register, but little attention had been paid to them.

MacDONALD BLAMES OVERPRODUCTION
Dr. MacDonald attributed present price conditions to curtailment of the export market and to overproduction. With the stabilization of prices, farmers who previously farmed five acres were now farming 16, in addition to which the crop yielded this year had been exceptional. A glucose factory was now being established in Vancouver to take care of some of the surplus potatoes on the market.

The question of crop being left to rot on the ground was broached, and Dr. MacDonald retailed with the suggestion that the farmers should be persuaded to go to the extent of shipping the excess produce to other areas in order to give it away. Owing to war conditions it had been impossible to ship anything to England.

It also was reported that Peruvian gunboats subjected the small port of Tumbul to an intensive 20-minute bombardment before withdrawing. Ecuador has only 60 mounted carabinieri to protect that entire region.

Infantile Paralysis and Sleeping Sickness Vie With War in Alberta

ALBERTA infantile paralysis and sleeping sickness vie with war in Alberta, says a spokesman of the Alberta Health Department.

"In Alberta infantile paralysis and sleeping sickness vie with war as subjects of conversation. It's like having a spy in the country. For no one knows whose home may be stricken next."

Dr. R. B. Shaw, just back from a trip to Alberta, made these assertions Monday night as he spoke to the Gyro Club at a dinner meeting at the Hume Hotel, his theme being infantile paralysis and sleeping sickness.

To guide his listeners, the doctor used a chart of the human body and described the brain, spinal cord and nerves as a telephone system, the brain being the central exchange, the spinal cord the trunk lines and the nerves the individual phone lines.

Interest in the present epidemic on the Prairies was widespread, he continued, for it offered opportunity for study of the disease and means of combating it. Its cause, a filterable virus, was known. If the virus contained a minute germ, it might be possible to find it with the new electron microscope.

NOT INTENSELY CONTAGIOUS
Infantile paralysis was not intensely contagious, said Dr. Shaw. It was believed that it was spread mostly by healthy carriers, probably adults.

Quarantine and isolation were the chief preventive methods. Spraying the nostrils, a popular combative practice for a short time, had not proved effective.

Dr. Shaw described the symptoms and effects of the use of iron lung. When the paralysis affected breathing, he stated, the iron lung could not cure a patient, but it enabled him to breathe while Nature made the necessary repairs.

In earlier days massage was frequently used, but it only made the condition worse as it was hurting a damaged muscle, he said. Treatment today was to relieve pressure on the spine as much as possible by taking out fluid; to keep the patient in an iron lung if the chest or diaphragm were affected; to use splints on affected arms and legs, avoiding massage until tenderness disappeared. Treatment was often given in the home rather than in hospitals.

ANOTHER VIRUS DISEASE
The only similarity between sleeping sickness and infantile paralysis was that both were caused by a virus, Dr. Shaw stated. In sleeping sickness the brain was affected. Big epidemics occurred in 1890, 1916 and 1918.

It was rare, Dr. Shaw continued, that one caught the disease from a person suffering from it. Seldom in homes where a person fell victim to it did other members of the household become patients.

Describing its symptoms, he said that some patients progressed from weakness to drowsiness, and some almost to a comatose state, while others were affected by severe twitching.

Dr. Shaw stated one of the great dangers was that when a patient recovered he or she might have an entirely different personality. Sometimes the victim became a mental patient.

Spinal puncture to relieve pressure and the use of certain medicines were common treatments.

The death rate in sleeping sickness was about 25 per cent, and in infantile paralysis 77 per cent.

J. J. McEwen described briefly the construction and method of operation of an iron lung.

Concrete Paving Costs Double of Rock, Trail

TRAIL, B. C., Sept. 15—In answer to a previous inquiry, by Aid. P. R. McDonald regarding the relative cost of concrete paving to rock paving, C. P. Coates, City Engineer, informed the Trail Council Monday that concrete paving cost approximately $350 a square yard for six inch depth, compared to a cost of $160 per square yard for a 12 inch depth of rock paving, such as was being used to surface Spokane Street.

Mayor Herbert Clark pointed out that the rock paving involved labor costs only, as the City had its own rock crushing plant, but that the costs of materials had to be considered in the concrete estimate.

President Reports on Actual Exports Under Lease-Lend Program

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP).—President Roosevelt reported to Congress today actual exports of United States war supplies to nations fighting the Axis, under the Lease-Lend program, had totalled $190,447,870 up to August 31.

Of this amount, the report said, $10,606,550 was for agricultural commodities. The President said, however, that shipments were still being made on orders placed prior to passage of the Lease-Lend Act and for which Britain is paying cash.

The figure of $190,447,870 represented expenditures for weapons and other supplies actually sent abroad. But, the President added, defence articles transferred, including some still waiting to be shipped, amounted to an additional $55,946,701 while various services, such as repairing naval vessels, added up still another figure of $78,169,377.

Thus, in services, transfers of title and actual exports, the United States has provided $324,563,748 in assistance to the foe of the Axis.

Furthermore, expenditures for articles for services not yet finished added up to approximately $162,000,000, Mr. Roosevelt said.

Thus, the President figures in his report that "through the month of August the total dollar value of defence articles transferred and defence services rendered, plus expenditures for other Lease-Lend purposes, amounted to approximately $487,000,000."

"Planes, tanks, guns and ships have begun to flow from our factories and yards," he said, "and the flow will accelerate from day to day, until the stream becomes a river, and the river a torrent, engulfing this totalitarian tyranny, which seeks to dominate the world."

While the report was on its way to Congress, Mr. Roosevelt was conferring with his Budget Director on a second Lease-Lend fund. The total is expected to be in the neighborhood of $6,000,000,000.

The report showed that upwards of a dozen nations have been getting some measure of Lease-Lend assistance, but the bulk has gone to Great Britain.

Declaring that aid is not an act of charity or sympathy but a means of defending America, the President added:

"We offer it because we know that piecemeal resistance to aggression is doomed to failure; because the ruthless war machine which now bestrides the continent of Europe can be combated only by the combined efforts of all free peoples and at all strategic points where the aggressor may strike."

He said that America must offer "not only a shield but a sword; the tools of a final and total victory to those peoples who are gallantly shedding their blood in the front lines of this struggle."

"The people of the United States know," Mr. Roosevelt said, "that we can not live in a world dominated by Hitlerism. They realize that there can be no real peace, no secure freedom until we have destroyed the evil forces which seek to work us woe."

Of the original $7,000,000,000 Lease-Lend appropriation, the President told Congress, $6,281,237,421 has been allocated, $3,535,587,865 has been put under contract and $308,912,115 has been spent. Congress also authorized the President to turn over another $1,300,000,000 for war supplies already on hand for

Stealthy Figures Commit Dark Acts as People of Enemy Held Countries Revolt and Harass German Forces

By DON WHITEHEAD
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—Revolt is stirring among Europe's restless millions. From Norway to Greece, dark figures slip through the night to kill, burn, wreck and spy on the occupying forces.

Some are caught in the Gestapo's net or by the military police. Then the firing squads tramp through the gray dawn. Or bodies dangle from the hangman's noose.

Not for a moment can Hitler relax his vigilance over the occupied countries. The Germans defeated the armies, but they haven't crushed the people... and many watch hopefully in the belief that the Nazi hold finally may be broken by a revolution.

The vignettes of violence, intrigue and revolt coming out of Europe form a bloody pattern.

NORWAY
One night a German sentry plodded his beat on the waterfront in Oslo while the city seemed asleep. A stealthy figure moved out of the shadow. A thin, steel knife blade gleamed in the moonlight. There was a smothered cry, and a splash in the water.

German military police found the sentry's body next morning. They couldn't find his gun.

The moon hadn't risen when a small boat set out from an isolated fishing village on the West coast of Norway and headed toward Britain. The three men aboard waited tensely for a warning shot from shore. None came. They ran the gauntlet to Britain, these three. They could have stayed, safe from the invaders who had overrun their country.

But a few days later they were in their little boat headed back toward Norway. They carried with them a radio transmitter set to establish communication with Britain and plans for organizing anti-German elements in their homeland for sabotage and revolt.

This time their luck played out. A firing squad wrote finish to their adventure.

Ever since Vidkun Quisling helped the Nazis in their invasion of Norway and his name became synonymous with treason, the Norwegians have openly and passively fought the Germans.

Once a bomb exploded near Quisling, but he escaped injury. Street fighting broke out in many towns. The situation rushed to a climax last week when Joseph Terboven, German Commissioner for Norway, clamped Oslo and its environs under civil siege. Death or imprisonment to those who opposed the Nazis! And no appeal.

Oslo became a virtual prison for 500,000 Norwegians. Steel-helmeted German troops with Tommy guns patrolled the streets.

THE BALKANS
The Yugoslavs never had a chance against Hitler's Stukas and mechanized divisions. In the rugged hills the natives refuse to give up the fight even though their armies were crushed.

A correspondent driven before the German invasion came upon the remnant of an army division, burying weapons and ammunition.

"Why are you burying your guns?" he asked.

"We'll return one day and have need of them," was the answer.

And that day seems to have arrived. Bands of hardy mountaineers are waging guerrilla warfare in the Balkans, making sudden, fierce forays against the invaders and then retreating to their hideouts.

Firing squads have executed hundreds, but the revolt continues.

From Rumania, Bulgaria and Hungary, too, come reports of dissent. The government of pro-Nazi Gen. Ion Antonescu broadcast that 500 "Jewish Communists" had been executed for sniping at German and Rumanian troops.

Starting Today All of Lease-Lend Cargoes Will Be Guarded by U. S. Navy

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 15 (AP)—Navy Secretary Knox told the American Legion convention today that, beginning tomorrow, the United States navy will protect all lease lend cargoes traversing the sea "between the American continent and the waters adjacent to Iceland."

He described the Atlantic fleet's orders in unequivocal language "to capture or destroy every Axis surface or subsurface raider encountered. Knox avoided the particular word 'convoy'."

The Knox announcement constituted the first official disclosure of how the navy was preparing to carry out the new policy enunciated by President Roosevelt last Thursday—that henceforth Axis war vessels entering United States defensive waters would do so at their own peril and that American naval vessels would not wait for them to shoot first.

In a speech prepared for the Legion convention, Knox said: "Beginning tomorrow, the American navy will provide protection as adequate as we can make it for ships of every flag carrying lease-lend supplies between the American continent and the waters adjacent to Iceland."

"These ships are ordered to capture or destroy by every means at their disposal, Axis-controlled submarines or surface raiders encountered in these waters."

"That is our answer to Mr. Hitler's declaration that he will try to sink every ship his vessels encounter on the routes leading from U.S. to British ports."

Whether protection as adequate as we can make it means that U.S. warships would begin escorting convoys of British and other cargo vessels tomorrow was a matter of conjecture, but the fact that in four days was necessary between President Roosevelt's statement and the beginning of this protection indicated some special arrangements requiring time to complete had been made.

Moreover, the fact the protection will be extended into waters adjacent to Iceland was taken as an indication U.S. probably had agreed

Axis Advance in Egypt Routed

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 15 (AP)—Two Axis armored columns based in Libya penetrated 35 miles into Egyptian territory yesterday but were routed by British mechanized forces operating under close cover of the Royal Air Force, the British Command announced today.

The disorganized Italian-German forces were said to have fallen back to Libyan territory.

British General Headquarters called the Axis thrust "a reconnaissance in force" and said that it reached "some miles" into Egypt. Falling back, the invaders lost considerably in men and equipment, the daily communique said.

The British Command at the same time announced "a series of brilliant raids" against Axis siege positions at Tobruk, Libya, in which an Italian officer and three other men were captured at one strong point. A British force was seen under siege at Tobruk since April.

The raids were carried out by British patrols Saturday night, a communique said.

At two other strong points the besiegers lost 20 dead and two prisoners.

"In retaliation a strong enemy force supported by a number of tanks engaged and overran by sheer weight of numbers one of our listening posts containing six men," the communique said.

"Three German tanks employed in this operation were subsequently engaged and captured by British tanks and the enemy concentration then was dispersed by heavy artillery fire."

British sources said that the thrust into Egypt and clashes outside Tobruk, 75 miles within Libya, constituted the heaviest fighting of months in North Africa. They said there was every indication the Libyan situation would be "boiling" by early October.

There are now more than 50,000 Allied troops in the Middle East—the largest force by far since the Allied position, the informants said, is "the most secure" it has been since war came to the hot, sandy wastelands.

Change Is Object of 1942 Farm Program

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (CP)—Claude R. Wickard, United States Secretary of Agriculture and a farmer from the Indiana corn belt, has set out to change the eating habits of 130,000,000 people and the whole agricultural setup of the United States.

In its broad outlines, the 1942 farm program seeks to change the whole emphasis from wheat, cotton and tobacco to dairy products, poultry, vegetables and stock. Wickard wants to smash the system of regional one-crop farms.

His bait is guaranteed minimum prices for the farmer and an educational program among the public on nutrition, balanced rations and energy foods.

There are two other factors in the program—Britain's need for food and a determination to build up stocks for use after the war to feed impoverished and starving nations.

Soviet Warns Iran to Oust Germans

TEHERAN, Iran, Sept. 15 (AP)—A spokesman of the Soviet embassy declared today the Iranian Government "will find itself in very great difficulties" unless Axis legations leave Teheran by tomorrow.

German, Italian, Hungarian and Rumanian diplomats had asked post-pone their own departures until all their nationals had been sent off to internment.

Another contingent of Germans left this morning, 220 for India, in British custody and 21 for Siberia under Russian guard. About 150 men still are awaiting transportation.

Ancient Tombs Used as Shelters

By GODFREY ANDERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

SIWA OASIS, in the Western Desert, Egypt, Sept. 15 (AP)—Ancient Egyptian tombs from which mummies have been removed provide the safest air-raid shelters in the world for the people of this sand-girt oasis.

When the war first touched the far fringe of the Western Desert the Siwa inhabitants flocked from their crumbling mud hut city to nearby Jewel Muta (Mountain of Death), and made new homes inside death chambers hewn from solid rock thousands of years ago.

Two thousand persons—Egyptians, Bedouins, Berbers, Senusi, Arabians—there in rock caves so low it is impossible for a man to stand upright.

Niches which once contained mummies of their ancestors now house crude pottery, cooking pots, smoky oil lamps of Biblical design and modern kettles from Birmingham, England, the latter via Cairo bazaars.

Veiled women and young girls squat before fires of dried palm leaves like figures from an old Egyptian frieze.

Goats and chickens wander freely through the innermost recesses of darkened caves which still smell faintly of the rich spices used to embalm the mummies of long ago.

Long Life... Old Age Increase Constitutes a Real Economic Problem

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D. Our friend, Dr. Karl Menninger, contributed a review of Barclay Newman's book Must We Grow Old? which induced us to buy the book.

Dr. Menninger thinks that Mr. Newman, while he has not proved his point, has contributed some interesting suggestions to the age-old problem.

The most striking situation of Mr. Newman's book is to call attention again to the fact that we are living in a period of old people. In 1850 over half our population were under 18; nearly 90 per cent were under 45; we were a young, vigorous nation.

Today, such movements as the Townsend Party and Old Age Pension legislation are indicators that the problem is a real one and not artificial.

The situation has given rise to a new specialty in medicine—geriatrics—the specialty of the diseases of the aged.

It is a little ironical to observe a book of this kind coming on the book-stall blithely searching for a way to prolong life while the world is busily engaged in killing millions of young men in their prime and in sowing the seeds of epidemic and disease, which will last throughout our generation.

Mr. Newman's concluding chapter is called "Old Age, a Convenient Fiction." For Mr. Newman's benefit, I can tell him that old age is not convenient, nor a fiction.

New Park Dedicated to Manning's Memory

PRINCETON, B.C., Sept. 15 (CP)—The memory of E. C. Manning, British Columbia Chief Forester killed in the crash of a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane last February near Armstrong, Ont., is perpetuated today in a forest park covering 268 square miles of rugged Similkameen back country.

Manning Park was dedicated yesterday in an impressive ceremony on the Hope-Princeton Road at a spot overlooking the falls and canyon of the Similkameen River.

Understanding... Help the Child to Respect Teacher

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D. When your little child began school, you may have had some unhappy inner feelings as he applauded the virtues of his teacher.

After several years at school, there occasionally come from the child remarks about the teacher and school of a very different tone, in which the teacher is considered by the child to have infringed on what this child supposes was just.

Our method in these matters was: When the child consciously or unconsciously revealed what we considered very bad practice at school, we would let him talk freely so long as he was reasonably courteous, but would make no comments then. We waited for several days then we would go to talk things over calmly and courteously, not to quarrel with the teacher.

In numerous cases, we were able to build up in the child an understanding of the teacher and, in a few instances, an enthusiasm for the very teacher he had most severely disliked.

Of course, the teacher and the school are not always right, but they generally are. Even when we parents are sure they are wrong, we need to keep our heads and consider what is the most practical thing to do about it. As a rule, our main problem as parents is to help the child adjust himself to the school. In doing so, he usually will gain far more in personality, character and education for the larger life than if we tried to change the school to suit him.

While there will be times when we will agree with the child that he was treated wrongly, we should try to lead him to see that in the teacher's place, with all her care, responsibility and nervous strain, we might do worse. Furthermore, we parents hope to guide the child to realize that after he leaves school he will often work for people and with people who won't respect his rights and feelings but to get on best with such people he will, while keeping his own self-respect, make the most of it.

Why do you advise against trials to make a child confess when he is suspected of having stolen something or done some other wrong?

Robson W. I. to Send Presents to Refugee Children

ROBSON, B. C.—Opening the Fall season, a meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. C. E. Tutt, Mrs. L. M. Quance, presiding.

Marking the 3rd anniversary of Canada's declaration of war, members repeated the reconsecration pledge.

A tea and bake sale netted $28.25. Donations towards park expenditures from Girl Guides, Farmers' Institutes and proceeds of a dance were acknowledged. Talent money raised from a loan of 25 cents per member and turned in was satisfactory. Of this sum $4 was raised from sale of seeds and baking by Mrs. Kay Berry.

A contribution of a gift from each member toward Christmas cheer for evacuee children was asked. The parcel will be sent through Trail Branch Red Cross. Correspondence included a letter from Mrs. H. R. Foxlee, thanking members for expressions of sympathy on the reported missing of their son, Ted Foxlee of the R.A.F.

Resignation of Lieutenant Mrs. C. Smith of the Girl Guides sponsored by the Women's Institute was accepted with regret.

Mrs. F. E. Osborne was appointed to act on the war work committee during the absence of Miss Ruth McDiarmid.

Mrs. C. E. Tutt, war work convener, presented her report of work done July and August. Articles sent to Red Cross included 4 pairs socks, 5 sweaters, 8 pair day socks, 4 pair children's socks, 6 dressing gowns, 12 dozen handkerchiefs, 1 skirt, 3 pair bloomers, 1 shirt, tin foil and 5 boxes razor blades.

Committee for canning fruit to be sent overseas reported large donations of fruit were received and shipped. Further work will continue during the fruit and vegetable season.

Entertainment featured sing-songs led by Mrs. R. T. Waldie with piano accompaniment by Mrs. O. B. Ballard. Tea was served by the hostesses, Mrs. C. E. Tutt, Mrs. Gordon Hett, and Mrs. A. F. Mitchell.

WAR GUESTS—"OLD PALS"—MEET IN NELSON

Thrown together for an ocean voyage and a trip across Canada by the war, these two youngsters held a reunion in Nelson. They are James McCluskey, left, the guest for the duration of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stone of Cranbrook; and Ann Silvers, right, the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Scribner, of Nelson.

Jim, who was visiting another uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Simpson of Nelson, when this photo was taken, likes Canada very much. He thinks Nelson is "a bit of all right" also, but it would be much better if it had an air field. He's keen on planes. Ann, now back at school, had the big thrill recently of hearing her mother and father speak to her on one of the Empire radio broadcasts in which Old Country parents speak to their children in Canada and the United States.

Jim and Ann crossed to Canada on the same boat at the time a large number of children were being evacuated to this content. They travelled by train, across Canada together, and from Vancouver to Nelson together. So they were "old pals."

By RICHARD HOUGHTON SERIAL STORY... Death at the Switch

CHAPTER THIRTY-THREE ALL THE WAY home Henry and John Jones puzzled over the disappearance of the supposed murderer in the abandoned tunnel. They were arguing about it as Mrs. Potter welcomed them in the door. She was so relieved she didn't notice Henry's overshoes were missing.

They were still arguing about it at breakfast. "I tell you the fellow must have heard us coming," declared Jones. "He went into the tunnel, yes—but he slipped out again before we got there."

"He didn't have time to do that," Henry objected. Richard leaned across the table, wiping his shirt sleeves in the syrup on his pancakes. "Why did he go into the tunnel, do you suppose?"

"Maybe he was looking for shelter," Jones suggested. "It was raining last night—and yesterday morning, too!" Henry was sarcastic. "He walked a long way to get out of the rain. All the way over the hill!"

Richard observed wisely. "People usually go into tunnels because they want to go through them. I'll betcha there is some way through that tunnel!"

Bulges... Flattering Lines Keep Figure Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN Not all the movie stars have beautiful figures, but from where we sit they look well-nigh perfect. That in spite of the camera's trick of exaggerating bulges and angles there's just one answer: It is the dressing.

The Hollywood designers are a clever bunch and follow the lines that will flatter a star's figure. Some of the sights we never expect to see in pictures are Myrna Loy in a waist and skirt combination, Loretta Young in a strapless evening gown without a net waiving, or Mae West in a dirndl. Such styles are not for them and no designer would think of suggesting them.

You and I can't have a personal designer. But there is no reason why we can't follow some of their cues. The next time you go shopping, forget about the silk stocking shortage and concentrate on the lines that will do the most for you. Unless your waistline is so far above the level order and you have no stomach to speak of, a skirt and jacket will not do right by your figure. Not unless you always wear the jacket. The fat that doesn't fit is twice as conspicuous in a waist and skirt. A much more flattering style is the one-piece dress with separate coat which can be worn either as a dress or a suit and which looks well either way. But above all, if you have broad hips don't buy a coat of one color and a skirt of another.

Sleeve lengths are quite important. Short sleeves, in line with the bust, are especially good on the girl with the small bust. This length should be avoided, however, by the girl with the large bust as it exaggerates the measurement. Sleeves that are three-quarters or wrist length are better. If the arms are long, the most flattering sleeves are long and fairly loose.

Necklines can add length or curves to the face. The girl with the thin face does not look well in the plunging neckline drawn sharply down to the V. The girl with the round face adds pounds when she wears a high round neckline. The same holds true for tight, chunky necklaces.

When the waistline is on the ample side, it is accentuated by bright, shiny or broad belts. A fairly narrow belt of the same color and fabric as the dress is much better.

The new dark shades of hose like navy blue or black—just as it exaggerates the measurement—should not be worn by girls with thin legs. Lighter shades make thin legs appear larger and so do full or pleated skirts. Skirts that are straight and not too full are a help to large legs.

When buying a dress or suit, step out where you can see yourself coming and going past a full-length mirror and study your best lines.

They were accompanied by J. Mukuk of Michel and Mr. and Mrs. J. Bonar of Kimberley. Ricky Harrison has returned to his unit at the coast after spending a two-week leave with his parents.

No Use Waiting for Career Girl

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX She Prefers a Career to Marriage I started going with Ellen when we were in high school, and I patiently waited for her till she finished four years at college. Then she wanted to take up a business course, so I consented. Now she wants to take a position in the Government and work a couple of years before she marries.

She says she loves me, but what kind of a love is this which strings a man along from year to year? She even offers to release me if I am not satisfied with this arrangement, and I'm seriously considering it. I'm almost 30 years old and feel that if I ever marry, now's the time to do it.

I became acquainted with another girl in the last year who is less ambitious, and who acts as though she'd like to marry me. I've taken her out several times. Both these girls are 24 years old. Bachelor.

As you seem to be no nearer marrying Ellen than you were while waiting for her to take her college degree—and goodness only knows what she may decide to do when once she gets started on a Government job—perhaps it would be just as well to take her at her word and each of you go your several ways.

When Ellen is out of the picture, perhaps you'll discover that you love the less ambitious girl as much as you do the career lady.

Several of us girls go out on Sunday afternoon hikes with a certain club, and then cook supper over a fire at the end of the trail. There are several boys who always hang around while we do the cooking, and are always glad to eat what we prepare. They speak enthusiastically about how good everything tastes, but they never suggest buying the supper or doing any of the cooking. They have taken us on an occasional movie but that's all. We're disgusted with them and want to know how we can hint around that they ought to do their share.

Four Girls The best way to intimate to boys who display the talents of gold-diggers is to stop inviting them to eat with you. I really believe these young men aren't aware of being "close." The next time you are to go on the hike, you might hint that you're expecting them to furnish the next supper and also to prepare it over the campfire.

Holmes Tells Rotarians Canadians Must Rededicate Spiritual Forces

Reconciliation of Canadians' spiritual forces was most important in this Reconciliation Week, being observed throughout Canada, Rev. J. G. Holmes told the Nelson Rotary Club Monday, for it gave value and meaning to the reconsecration of all intellectual and physical forces.

The present war, he said, was not a war between two Governments, but between peoples with two different conceptions of life, the Nazi conception and the Christian conception.

"We must win this war," Mr. Holmes said, "not only to save ourselves, but to set the captives free."

The Christian way was the way of righteousness and justice. It was the knowledge that they were on the side of right that buoyed the Empire's people and fighting forces.

True peace was the outcome of the Christian guiding principle that was responsible for the conduct of man. Peace would not necessarily come with the cessation of hostilities.

With such a reconsecration there would come without effort the reconsecration of industry, man-power, labor and of the other necessities.

Designed for Service and Smartness, Women's Army Uniform Is Approved

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 (CP).— Defence Minister Ralston announced today that design of a service uniform for the Canadian Women's Army Corps has been officially approved.

Designed by a Canadian couturier working under defence headquarters instructions, the final model was approved for serviceability and its neat, smart appearance by a committee of prominent Canadian women.

The uniform is made of khaki barathra and several innovations give it distinctive Canadian lines. Uniforms will be issued at the completion of training courses.

The cap is quite different from that worn by women doing similar service in the British Army. It sheers up from a broad peak, then streamlines downward at the back providing room for tucked-in curls.

At the back is an arrangement styled after the French Army "kep" that can be folded down for wet or cold weather.

The fitted jacket, cut on long lines is similar to that of an army officer but has no belt. It has brass buttons and shoulder straps of dark beech brown to contrast with the khaki. There are buttoned pockets of the "bellows" type on each side and one breast pocket on the left.

The skirt has a swing effect and is made with six gores. Regulations provide that it is to be 15 inches from the floor.

Brown moccasin style oxfords, khaki hosiery and matching brown gloves are worn. The shirt buttons to the neck with a soft, attached collar, and is of fine khaki broadcloth. Dark brown army ties will be worn.

The raincoat is raglan style with full belt and is made of lawn-colored cloth, wind and waterproof. Brown rubbers and overshoes will be issued and other woollen accessories including pullover and wool scarf.

In addition to the issue of clothing each girl will receive an allowance to buy underclothing.

Badge designs for the C. W. A. C. have not yet been approved but Col. Ralston said a decision will be reached shortly.

Recent shoppers in the city included Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gilker and family of Bonnington.

Mr. and Mrs. George Palethorpe and daughter of New Denver were weekend visitors to town.

Mrs. J. G. Bunyan, Kerr Apartments, had as guests over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. William Kuhn, Mrs. Bunyan's niece and her husband, Miss R. C. A. F. brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewis, all of Spokane, who have returned.

Mrs. R. V. Smith and daughter Virginia of Appledale spent Saturday in town.

At the flag exercises held at the High School Monday morning, the highlight of the program was the presentation of the Royal Humane Society Parchment to Miss Peggy Triggs for bravery during a near-drowning accident which occurred last summer near Walton's boat-houses.

Miss Triggs is credited with having saved the life of 13-year-old Ronald Edey when he became unconscious and sank below the surface. She immediately dived in and freed the boy from the logs which had pinned him down. By applying artificial respiration Miss Triggs brought him to consciousness.

The presentation was made by Rev. W. J. Silverwood, sponsor of the award, who paid tribute to the young girl, saying that she had brought honor to her family, her school and to the entire Kootenays.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Triggs of Nelson, and the past season was swimming instructor at Lakeside Park.

Following the presentation, R. Smillie read the Reconciliation pledge and prayer. Roy Mann acted as Chairman.

Why Can't the Government Do the Sensible Thing?

A Manitoba passport authority has refused passports to six Canadian players, suggesting they would look well in uniform.

The Ottawa comment on the Manitoba board's action appears to be that the Manitoba board was speaking for itself but acting within its authority.

If this can happen in one Province, it can happen in any of them, and doubtless will happen in others—if the Dominion Government does not get a little backbone and take the responsibility of telling each eligible young man in Canada exactly what job of war work it wants him to do.

It is the shame of Canada that the Government of the Day insists on the country's war effort wearing shackles.

Those who feel deeply the slackness in recruiting, and feel that someone must make up for the Government's delinquency, express their feelings in caustic comment upon those visible who are not seeking to enlist.

As a matter of fact, the young man who might look well in uniform might be doing a far more useful job in overalls, or leaning over a drafting table, or manipulating test-tubes, or handling a rivetting machine.

There is just one set of shoulders on whom the responsibility for deciding these matters should rest — the shoulders of the Government.

Men essential at civilian jobs will otherwise, for the sake of Canada's name, enlist for soldiering in the ranks, with a consequent loss to the nation's war effort.

From every part of Canada, appeals are being made to the Government to effect conscription. These appeals come from the country's war veterans, who have been through the mill. They come from the young men who have fitted themselves for responsible tasks, and who are willing to accept any destiny, provided the Government, with a knowledge of the needs, makes the decision. They come from the country's young men generally, as the only fair method of dealing between those who should serve in uniform and those who should serve in production. They come from the country's business men, who see no other way of meeting the needs, and of securing a maximum war effort.

Appeals of this kind are universal, and from every section of the Canadian people, and without reference to race, creed, or political party. What is asked of the Government is simply common sense.

Show It to Canada

When Britain is through with that captured film, showing the Nazi offensive against Russia, it should be sent over here for exhibition to both Canadians and Americans. We need the shock which the picture is supposed to administer to the people in the Old Land.

We have seen numerous motion pictures, of course, depicting the horrors wrought by German attacks on peaceful cities. This film, however, is a Nazi product. It would bring home to our people what kind of enemies we are fighting, people who will deliberately photograph scenes of their brutalities and distribute them for public exhibition, gloating over their ruthlessness. We need to be constantly reminded of what it is we have to beat, unless we want to suffer the same fate that has befallen other peace-loving nations that couldn't wake up.

Questions? ANSWERS

Open to any reader. Names of persons asking questions will not be published.

D. M. Creston—Please advise me how I can claim a debt from a promissory note in Alberta. The debtor has a good job. Can I write to his company and have his wages garnished?

If the debtor refuses to pay, making a garnishee necessary, the garnishee would have to be handled through a lawyer, or directly through the local Alberta small debt courts. The employing company is not concerned in the matter until it receives a court garnishee.

M. E. S. Nelson—Is there a limit to the amount of money for an American citizen leaving Canada and going to the U. S. to live, to take with him and if so, how much?

There are limitations. For full details see your bank, which is an agent of the Foreign Exchange Control Board.

Snuggles, Trail—If a person gets married this Fall would he be able to claim a married person's exemption for the whole year?

No, he may only claim married person's exemption for the proportion of the year in which he is a married person.

E. B. Procter—Will you please tell me the value of a Mexican (June 1915) five pesos bank note? If it is valuable, where would I send it?

Write T. J. Wilson, La Tuja Station, Los Angeles.

G. Nelson—to settle an argument, can you tell me when the picture, "Moon Over Burma", played in Nelson?
June 23 and 24, 1941.

Reader, Nelson—Will you please give me a good recipe for pickled Seckel pears?

Seven pounds Seckel pears, one pint vinegar, one pint water, three and a half pounds sugar, one tablespoon cinnamon, on a tablespoon allspice, one tablespoon cloves.

Pare the fruit, remove the blossom end, but leave the stem on. Make a syrup of the vinegar, water, sugar and spice, boiled for five minutes. Add the fruit and cook until clear. Seal in hot, clean jars.

A. N. E. Kimberley—In a four-handed game of horseshoe pitching, can one advise the other?

Partners may coach each other. Other contestants or onlookers are forbidden to coach a player, or interfere in any manner with the pitcher, during the progress of the game.

Dust of Gold

"I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the House of the Lord."
Psalm 122:1.

How sincerely the Psalmist had the welfare of God's House in his heart. It is a human folly to sometimes go to church and forget that it is God's house and think only of the people sitting in it. Sometimes our thoughts are not always happy, kind thoughts either. If we could more easily realize the presence of God though unseen, we might more easily forgive our neighbour whom we see. The attitude that David had was "May all thy homes be safe, may all go well within thy walls." "For the sake of my friends and my fellows I pray 'May all be well with thee.' Then he ends up his thoughts with, "For the sake of, or because of the house of the Lord, our God, I will seek Thy good."

Gems of Thought

"However brilliant an action, it should not be esteemed great unless the result of a great and good motive."—Rochefoucauld.

"When a man has not a good reason for doing a thing, he has one good reason for letting it alone."—Walter Scott.

"If the motives of human affection are right, the affections are enduring and achieving."—Mary Baker Eddy.

"Let the motive be in the deed and not in the event. Be not one whose motive for action is the hope of reward."—Kreeshna.

"It is not the incense, or the offering which is acceptable to God, but the purity and devotion of the worshiper."—Seneca.

Today's Horoscope

Provided hasty conduct and extravagance are checked, those who have birthdays today will enjoy excellent fortunes in the next year. Promotion and substantial gain, expected and unexpected, will materialize for them. Born today a child will meet with a good deal of success through superiors and old people. If caution is exercised in love affairs and the opposite sex generally, rapid progress will be assured to him or her.

Words of Challenge

"There is no prize or advantage in civilian life for the young man of fighting age which would repay him for remaining aloof from the present struggle. Those who do not play their part in the time of their country's need place themselves outside the spiritual existence of their fellows. If this seems an exaggeration, let any one ask one of those who was of age and able to serve and who missed out in the last war."—James S. Duncan.

Commandments Would Empty the Hospitals

To the Editor:

Sir—For a gentleman to spend two days in frantic effort to get some meaning, from a letter, as Realist recounts he did with mine, seems to me waste of time, because so many other people told me the next day that my letter was very good and to the point. I did not spend more time in discussing the banks, etc., because I did not wish to take up too much space in the News.

I still maintain that our banks, transportation facilities, industrial establishments etc., should be government owned like the post office for the benefit of the nation as a whole.

The day of the rugged individualist is past, and instead we have large corporations catering to the shareholders at the expense of the workers. "Realist" goes on to mention some of the older statesmen that lived in the day when an individual had a chance, when bathrooms were a luxury and autos, radios, refrigerators and many other things were unknown. I believe these men would have been just as incompetent as those of today.

All that I am worried about is what are we going to do with our unemployed and relievers, people who are denied the bare necessities of life, except possibly when they get a Christmas Cheer parcel.

We are supposed to be a Christian country, but we even forget the first commandments, which are, "Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself" and "Do Unto Others as You Would They Should Do Unto You". As I see it, our Christianity is just mouthings and nothing practical about it.

In a real democracy with Christian principles, the first thing done would be to eliminate fear from the lives of every man, woman and child. In other words, there would be work for every one able. They would be able to obtain the necessities and luxuries of life. The best medical and surgical attention would be obtainable when needed, without cost. People would be paid while sick and until properly well. The mentally disabled would be cared for and possibly cured. Old age could be one of contentment without any financial worries. All children would have the same opportunities of education and a chance to be fitted for a place in the world. These things and many more could be had, with a properly controlled state. Furthermore, until we come back to the Christian ideals, we shall still have the chaos we have. Our laws were based on the laws of Moses given by God. (We have added a few hundred unnecessary ones) and were the necessary ones for the good of all people. It is time our religious teachers started teaching these things again.

GOD'S LAWS

I will quote some of God's laws:

1. Economic Law: No interest or usury shall be charged on money or wealth lent. There shall be a general remission of all debts every seven years.
2. Land Tenure: A certain portion of land or house to be apportioned to every family, to become this perpetual property. At every fiftieth year or jubilee any such land which in the meantime had been sold or rented out would automatically return to the owner.
3. Cultivation of Land: Every seventh year the land must lie fallow and the fruits remain ungathered.
4. The Sabbath to be kept:

What would follow the keeping of these laws? A high and complete standard of living for all; no unemployment; every citizen would own his own house; blights and diseases would disappear from crops and there would be bumper harvests every year. Ill health would go and hospitals be emptied.

I trust that soon the people of Canada will know there is something radically wrong when in lean years we have one million unemployed, and two or three millions just making a bare existence. And then we have to get into a war to get prosperous again.

I hope I have said something that will make people at least think. I admit I am no letter writer, but I feel that we cannot go on much longer in our mad escapades to make some wealthy while the large majority just exist. I trust my friend "Realist" will not waste two more days, but will find food for thought at the first attempt.

SPENCER J. NEWELL.

Let Us Pay Our Way in Hockey With Team

To the Editor:

Sir—We hear that we won't have a senior hockey team in Nelson this year if Trail and Kimberley don't "come through". It is hard for us to take this asking other towns to help us to put a team in competition with theirs. Anytime that a city like ours can put up a place the sort that Nelson put up for its people's pleasure, such as skating and hockey games, it should be able to support a team of its own.

What it boils down to is this. Was this rink put up as a money making scheme, or a place that would bring people from far and near to see the epic battles that are fought out on its surface? It may not be sound in a business way, and our City Fathers would frown on anything that did not make money. Well, it is about time that the people of this town had something to say about what went on in a public place that they voted in.

The thing that I am going to say will not be liked by some, but they, I believe, will be in the minority. Why, if we are to import enough players to make a team, don't we get the best we can? If we had a winning team in Nelson we could pack the rink every game, and that means money to pay the taxes, with plenty to pay the players, that is, unless those who want to make money out of a thing that was put up by people who wanted to derive pleasure from it are to have their way.

Trail never asked Nelson to pay for its rink. Kimberley never asked Nelson to help it to put in artificial ice, but Nelson asks them to get a team to put in their rink that has artificial ice.

What I am getting at is, why can't we get a good team, a good coach, take the excess that is left and pay the City back for the money that they have put out for these men's wages during the hockey season, or until these men have located a job?

VANCOUVER, Sept. 15 (CP)—Vancouver Grizzlies slogged through in almost continual downpour here tonight to nose out Regina Roughriders 7-6 in the second of their two-game Western interprovincial baseball series, Regina won Saturday's game.

Playing on a field soaked by rain that had scarcely let up since their Saturday game, Grizzlies opened the scoring in the second quarter when Stan Leacock and Chuck Millman downed Roughrider Norm Geller back of his own line for a safety touch.

Playing Coach Greg Kibben of the Grizzlies set up the scoring opportunity when he hoisted a punt from midfield that boomed well behind the Regina goal line and that Jim Kinney was barely able to run back to his own one yard strip. It was on the next play that Geller was unseated before he could get the ball away.

Why hasn't he really been out of training since the start of his two-year-old season and this enough to wear any other horse down, but only a couple of days ago Ben Jones said his horse was taking on weight with all that hard work... Low Jenkins Hurt in Motorcycle Accident

LITTLE FERRY, N. J., Sept. 15 (AP)—Low Jenkins, lightweight boxing champion, was injured today when his motorcycle slid off the roadway at a traffic circle.

Jenkins, training at Pompton Lakes for a non-title fight October 6 in New York with Welterweight Titleholder Freddie Cochrane, was treated at Hackensack hospital for contusions and abrasions. His condition was described as not serious by hospital attaches.

Semi-Season Playoffs for Trail Bowling

TRAIL, B. C., Sept. 15—Two separate playoffs, one at the end of the first half of the season, and the second at the end of the second half, was agreed on at a meeting of the Trail Bowling Executive.

The Executive, comprising Mike Turk, President; Tom Grieve, Secretary; and James Forsythe, Alberta Cancian, C. Iott, R. Bortolussi and Bruno Merlo, met in the Memorial Hall Friday night.

Opening date for bowling was set for September 20, and all entries must be in the hands of the Secretary on or before September 23.

Saskatchewan to Stop Puck Men

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 (CP).—Major Gen. L. LaFleche, Associate Deputy Minister of National War Services who is in charge of arrangements for calling men for compulsory military training, reiterated today the Department's stand that Divisional Selection Boards are autonomous bodies and their decisions are final.

Gen. LaFleche said as yet the Department had received no representations from hockey players who, because of their liability to military training, have been denied permission to go to the United States to play there during the Winter season.

Today the Associate Deputy Minister referred to a statement he issued last June 30 in which he said that "with all the goodwill in the war towards sport," Departmental officials considered training for the defence of Canada "more important than hockey."

REGINA, Sept. 15 (CP).—The Saskatchewan Divisional Board of the National War Service will allow no hockey players, or any other young men, liable for call into the Canadian Army, to enter the United States, Mr. Justice J. F. L. Embury, Chairman of Saskatchewan Board, said today.

Syndicate Seeks Control of Phils

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15 (AP)—John B. Kelly, United States Director of Physical Training, today said he is interested in purchasing control of the Philadelphia National League baseball team.

"A syndicate with which I am associated is anxious to give Philadelphia a winning baseball team in the National League and we expect to make an offer within the next few days and hope we can acquire the controlling block of stock," Kelly said.

Kelly said James Peterson, a former pitcher for Philadelphia Athletics, probably would handle negotiations with Gerald P. Nugent, President of the club.

Kelly asserted he was not at liberty to name the other members of the syndicate at this time.

Kelly is a former world champion oarsman, and was a Philadelphia Democratic leader for years.

Friends of Peterson and Kelly say the group, which includes three other men, is ready to go as high as $500,000, to include any debts the club may have, and that a $300,000 fee already has been put before Gerry Nugent, the Phils' President.

Pitt, Redmen's Coach, Unbeliever as to Nelson Player Registration; Wants Delayed Playoff in Mid-Week

TRAIL, B. C., Sept. 15—"Nelson will have to prove it to us," was Ceece Pitt's comment on the story in the Daily News Monday morning, that the six Nelson players ground that they had not registered with the Provincial Amateur Lacrosse Association before August 16, the closing date, had been accepted at a special meeting of the Provincial Executive Friday.

The Rossland coach stated that he had not received any word of this, and as far as he could ascertain, was not sure that the information, released by Mayor N. C. Sibbs, of Nelson, had actually been received by him.

"I still don't think they are registered. Two of the men came up from Vancouver on the 19th of August, so I don't see how they can be eligible," he said.

He also added that concessions had been made, allowing Scuby and Emery to remain on the team, because Scuby was the only goaltender on the Nelson team, and Emery was actually a local boy who had returned from being transferred to Calgary by his employer with the C.P.R.

The general feeling throughout Trail and Rossland is that the postponed playoff game, stated in the Daily News to be slated at Nelson next Saturday, should be played off earlier in the week.

"If I have anything to do with it, it will be played off before then," Pitt said, commenting that it cut too much time off for the playoffs to fit in with the Coast League playoffs.

Incidentally, Joe LaFace, who married Dorothy Edith Leary of Trail Friday, is spending part of his honeymoon close to Nelson so as to be on hand to join the team in its next clash with the Maple Leafs.

Down in Trail the Golden Bears are getting mighty restless, what with ruling-outs, postponements in everything. They are practising every night, and their "let's get up and at 'em" spirit is reminiscent of the spirit of the Canadian troops overseas.

"The boys are getting anxious to play, and are tired of practising," said Hughie Miller, Trail Coach, Monday afternoon, adding that the fact of their being restless showed they were in fine form.

Bert Repton, Trail trainer, was at least a one-man vote for having the Nelson-Rossland game played off earlier this week.

"Besides making it a crush in the play-offs with the Coast League, these extra weeks of practising in the rink are mounting up our light bulb, which isn't a small item," he added.

"In reply to the query as to what Rossland would do if they got over to Nelson and found that Nelson still insisted on playing Arthur, Andrew, Jardine or Hunden, the four remaining 'ineligible' players, 'If there is no proof of their official acceptance, we will still play, so as not to disappoint the fans, but it will be under protest,' was Pitt's answer.

In the meantime, district fans and players alike are playing a conundrum game, since Mayor Sibbs' announcement that the six Nelson players have been put back on again.

MYSTIFIED FOLLOWERS

The game is a matter of conjecture. If the players are accepted, will the first game between Rossland and Nelson, played last Saturday week with a 15-8 win for Nelson, and later ruled out by the West Kootenay executive because as to be on hand to join the team in its next clash with the Maple Leafs.

Prepare Trees Before Moving

Preparing trees for transplanting

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Before moving trees having a large root spread, it is advisable to root prune them a season before they are to be transplanted. Large trees are usually transplanted in winter when the ground is frozen, thus making it possible to obtain a large ball of earth with the roots. This Garden-Graph shows how to root prune a tree's roots. Make a deep cut all around with a sharp-bladed spade or dig a trench around the tree. Do this just within the area where you intend to dig the root ball for transplanting.

Fibrous feeding roots will form where the cut has been made about the trees, and these will help to sustain the tree's life when it is transplanted.

ESTIMATE THE LENGTH
SUCCESS IN the play of a difficult contract can depend sometimes upon your making a correct estimate of the length of some suit bid by one of your opponents. It may indicate to you that his partner has only one card of it, or perhaps none, and consequently may point the way to some type of end play.

6 ♠ Dbl

Against this West led his club 5, and South saw that he was up against a tough job, with West surely holding at least four trumps and probably a half dozen clubs. With so little honor strength out, he reckoned that East would not have made his vulnerable overall in hearts at the range of two with only a six-card suit, and that therefore he probably held seven, with West blank. If that was the case, the diamonds would be evenly divided. Basing his entire plan upon that premise, he overtook East's club

10 with the A, laid down the spade A and Q and the diamond A, then led to the spade K.

Next he laid down the diamond K, discarding the heart 3, and led the diamond 8, covered by the J and ruffed with the spade 6. When West had to follow suit on that third diamond trick, South felt certain his card reading had been correct. He therefore led the spade 9 to the J of West, discarding the heart 8 from the dummy. If West had now held a heart, it would have been too bad for South, as the lead of that suit would have compelled the loss of a heart trick. But West had nothing except clubs and had to lead one to South's K, the heart 9 being tossed from dummy. The heart 10 to the A, followed by three diamonds, then completed a contract which this writer was happy to make.

If East bids 1-Club, South 4-Hearts, West 4-Spades, North 5-Diamonds, East doubles, South 5-Hearts and East doubles that, what unusual principle of defense should govern West's lead?

B. C. Tree Fruits Ltd., Would Welcome Board Investigation Says A. K. Loyd

KELLOWNA, B. C., Sept. 15 (CP) — A. K. Loyd, President of B. C. Tree Fruit Ltd., said today that he believed that all concerned "would accept with alacrity" any suggestion that the administration of any regulations affecting the fruit industry by Marketing Boards should be reviewed.

Asked what his organization's reaction was to the announcement at Victoria Saturday by Premier Pattullo that a Royal Commission will be named to investigate the operations of the various Marketing Boards functioning under the Natural Products Marketing Act, Mr. Loyd said: "I am not familiar with the situation in regard to other Boards working under this act within the Province, but have had an extensive acquaintance with the set-up initiated by the growers in the fruit industry. In my opinion the benefits derived there from have been of very great value during the past six years."

For some considerable time now the operations of this act have been under fire from many directions at the Coast. It is our understanding that these are largely directed at Coastal Boards. However, from time to time, the barrage shifts a little in the direction of the B. C. Fruit Board and its operations and to date plenty of misrepresentation, either intentional or otherwise, has been given publicity directed against the apple industry.

Bunker Hill Said to Be Planning a New Fuming Plant

WALLACE, Idaho — The Bunker Hill & Sullivan Mining Co., at Kellogg is reliably reported drawing plans for a new building of a new proposed $1,000,000 unit to be added to the present Bunker Hill smelting plant.

It is understood the new plant has Government approval and priority rights for new machinery and equipment. It will take about a year to complete the plant after actual construction work is started. It is the general understanding in Kellogg that the new plant will be started this year.

The proposed new addition to the present fuming plant, designed to recover lead, zinc, and cadmium from smelter slag. There are said to be only two other similar installations in the Northwest, one at Toole Utah, and the other at Trail, B. C.

The Bunker Hill slag dump is said to be one of the largest deposits of zinc in the Northwest. The metallic product is recovered from the fumes and results in the recovery of a zinc-lead oxide.

Central Zaballos Is Nearing Objective in New Low Level Tunnel

Recent encountering of a blind vein on low level crosscut at Central Zaballos encourages belief that downward extension of the main vein will be cut. At present rate of progress the objective should be reached before the end of September. Production in August continued somewhat below normal at $19,640. Montreal repairs to a compressor equipment but showed improvement over the July figure.

Toronto Metals Close Strong

TORONTO, Sept. 15 (CP) — The volume of trading dropped sharply in Toronto exchange today, but prices maintained a firm front in all groups but golds. Base metals and industrials held the main interest and both groups closed with gains.

Consolidated Mining and Smelting was the base metal leader. It advanced 1 1/2 to 41 1/2 in quite active trading. The "street" heard a report that a syndicate of Toronto and Montreal brokers had been formed to market a block of smelters stock that had been taken over from English holders. Hudson Bay added 1/4 and Noranda 1/4. Steep Rock went to a new high for the year at 1.96, up 7/8.

East Malartic held the spot-light in golds, firming 1 1/2 to 2.58 in active trading. Macassa, Teck, Hughes, Kirkland Lake and Jason were moderately strong.

Royalite and Foothills were stronger. Western oils and Home and Anglo-Canadian were slightly weaker.

City of Trail Takes Power to Borrow $50,000

TRAIL, B. C., Sept. 15—An additional Anticipation Revenue Bylaw, for $50,000, was given three readings by the Trail Council Monday night. Anticipation Revenue Bylaw for $100,000 was passed early this Spring, and the amount was paid off in full on June 30.

In non-legal language, this means that the City has taken the power to borrow, against anticipated income, a further $50,000 from the bank, as and if required.

Din in Nelson Friday Night Will Be "Call to Arms" in Drive to Collect Aluminum for Canadian Airplanes

City Is Divided for Eight Simultaneous Collection Drives

When a din of pots and pans, whistles and bells, horns and sirens, breaks upon Nelson at 7 o'clock Friday night it won't be the din of an air raid—but it will be the harbinger of a campaign of air raids. For 7 p.m. Friday will be Nelson's zero hour in the campaign to collect aluminum for airplanes to fortify and bolster Canada's war effort.

Every householder will be in the line of fire in this drive, for the city has been mapped out into districts, and each district will be canvassed by a separate organization assisted by Boy Scouts and Cadets. The instructions to every one participating are to make plenty of noise so that every individual in Nelson hears—and answers—the call for this vital war material. Each modern bomber requires 28,000 pounds of aluminum, and each modern fighter 4000 pounds.

NO STEAMROLLER

A letter from Great Western Smelters, Vancouver, suggested it might not be wise to use the City steamroller to flatten the aluminum for shipment, since this would make it difficult to remove scale and iron. A steamrolling ceremony had been proposed.

Sacks would be needed for packing the aluminum. J. H. Aylwin, Chairman of the Packing and Shipping Committee, stated it was decided in making appeals for aluminum contributions, to ask as many persons as possible to place their contributions in sacks.

F. R. Pritchard reported trucks operating over rural routes had agreed to bring in, free of charge, all aluminum collected at district points by Auxiliaries to Nelson Branch of the Red Cross.

"Crime" on Decrease in Cranbrook City

CRANBROOK, B. C., Sept. 15 (CP)—Report of the City detachment of Provincial Police to Cranbrook's City Council shows "crime" on the decrease in this interior city. Only six prosecutions were carried out during the month of August, three under the Hours of Work Act, two on intoxication charges and one on a vagrancy charge. All resulted in convictions, with fines collected totalling $80.

Property lost or stolen was limited to one club bag which was recovered and 800 feet of lumber stolen from a Scout hall, which is still being investigated.

Rotary Club Favors Year-Round Daylight Saving Time for B. C.

Nelson Rotary Club Monday went in record as favoring daylight saving time as a year-round measure, and it was decided to send a copy of the resolution to Government authorities urging at the same time that advanced time be reinstated at the earliest convenient moment.

Rotary Clubs were among the organizations advocating daylight saving time in the early Spring, and the advanced time was placed in effect during the Summer. Recently it was ordered that B.C. return to standard time September 27.

Cranbrook C.W.T.C. Parade Turned Back by Downpour

CRANBROOK, B. C. — The C. W. T. C. (No. 9 detachment) held a Drumhead Service and parade on Sunday afternoon. The parade, led by the C. W. T. C. Bugle Band and followed by C. W. T. C., Guides, Brownies, Legion, City Council and Cranbrook Boys' Band took the salute from Major Gray of the C. W. T. C. at the Armories and proceeded down Baker Street only to be met by a downpour of rain, midway to the Cenotaph. Constable Stanton wheeled the parade about and back to the Armories for the service. Captain Harrison, padre of the East Kootenay Regiment, was in charge of the service and spoke on the three "M's": Manpower, the men and women to whom no sacrifice was too great to pay for freedom and justice. Mechanized, or material, power, which meant the factories behind the lines and the workers who would not allow slow down strikes to hinder production. And thirdly, morale, a living faith in God that the cause for which we are fighting is just, and that His will must overcome wrong. Four hymns were sung and members of the Boys' Band, under the direction of W. Burton, provided the music.
