AXIS POWERS CALL BALKAN CONFERENCE

First Single Men to Be Called Up Oct. 1

Number of Age Classes for First Year May Be Announced in Few Days; University Students Exempt From First Call

EMPLOYERS MAY SUBMIT PLANS TO EASE BUSINESS INCONVENIENCE

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (CP)—The Department of National War Services tonight promulgated the regulations governing the calling up of single young men for military training.

An explanatory note by the Department said that under the regulations medically fit single men throughout Canada would be called up for a 30-day period of training.

"Within the space of a few days, we will know, as a result of national registration, the number of single men in Canada and in each Province in Canada and in each administrative district under these regulations. We will also know the number in each age group, 19 to 45.

"The Minister should be able to make an announcement later in the week as to the number of age classes likely to be called out during the first year. It has already been announced that the first class will be the 21 year class, and so on in consecutive classes until the number to be trained has been provided.

"A general proclamation will be issued calling out age classes and then a notice will go to each individual within the age class. The names and addresses of these individuals will be procured from the registration cards. Should any person have failed to register, then he is still subject to the call provided in this proclamation."

Noting that the first call would be made about October 1, the explanation said students would not be included in the first call in order to give universities a chance to furnish a list of their students.

Exemptions are listed as Judges of the Superior Court, District or County Courts, members of the clergy and religious orders, members of the naval, military or air forces on active service and cadets entered at the Royal Military College, members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Provincial Police Forces, members of Police or Fire Departments in cities, wardens and officers of penitentiaries, prisons, lunatic asylums or mental hospitals.

The Dominion is divided into 13 administrative divisions. For each the Governor-in-Council may establish one or more National War Service Boards.

Each Board shall consist of three members one of whom shall be a Judge of the Superior or other Court who shall be the Chairman of the Board. Decisions of Boards shall be final. No legal action is permissible against a member of a Board for discharge of his duties. No proceeding of a Board may be stayed by legal process, including habeas corpus.

The Governor-in-Council is empowered to appoint a Registrar for each administrative division. His duties shall include immediate preparation of lists of men who on July 1, 1940, had attained the age of 21 years and who were on July 15, 1940, unmarried or widowers without children.

The Registrars will prepare four lists:

1. Men 21 to 24 not engaged in agriculture, fishing, trapping, lumbering or other occupation of a seasonal character.
2. Students of those ages.
3. Men in the active forces who have served in those forces.
4. A list of all other men of those ages to be called "the immediate call list."

The Department of War Services will instruct any Registrar to call out any number of men from his division for any period of military training at any place and time.

The Registrar will attempt to call out men proportionately from all parts of the division.

He will notify each man called by registered post to submit himself for medical examination within three days and if he is found physically fit to report for training within three days after second notification.

After the calling of first classes the Registrar will compile lists of the men between 25 and 29 and after that of the men up to 45.

Provision is made for appointment of examining physicians. If doubt arises as to the physical fitness of the man the Registrar may decide on another examination.

Provision is made for Registrars to furnish manufacturers, financial institutions and employers generally upon request the numbers of men in age classes likely to be called out for military training during the year and employers may formulate plans to enable employees to take training with least inconvenience to the carrying on of business.

The Boards will approve or disapprove the employer's plan.

Students taking military training at universities may have their training periods postponed at discretion of Boards.

Doukhobors and Mennonites who came to Canada under agreement with the Government they would not have to take military training will be entitled to indefinite postponement of their training.

Conscientious objectors who belong to tenets or sects which object to bearing arms may apply for an order for postponement of their training. Boards or Courts will make a final decision.

Such conscientious objectors will be compelled to do non-combatant duty either with military or civil authorities.

Employers are obliged to reinstate employees without loss of status or favor on pain of imprisonment for six months or a fine of $500, or both.

Worst Drought in Years Hits Farm Areas, Australia

By J. D. HOLDSWORTH
Canadian Press Correspondent

SYDNEY, Aug. 27 (CP Cable)—Australia is suffering from its most serious and widespread Winter drought in many years. It extends all across Australia and unless there are good rains within a fortnight, thousands of farmers will be faced with ruin.

The drought is affecting all kinds of production—wool, wheat, dairy products and orchards—while domestic water shortages are acute in many areas.

The New South Wales Agriculture Department reported today the position of the State's wheat crop is serious and the yield is bound to be considerably reduced. There will also be reduced production in all other wheat growing areas.

From the point of view of the Wheat Board responsible for sales any lower wheat harvest will not be unwelcome owing to the heavy carryover and the difficulties of finding overseas markets and ships to carry grain. But unless rain rapidly changes the prospects, the Government is sure to have to come to the rescue of many wheatgrowers.

Weights of fleeces of new wool are five per cent under last year's and on that basis Australia's wool check will be £57,000,000 (Australian) $190,950,000) instead of last year's £65,000,000. ($217,750,000)

Daring British Submarine Lost

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP)—The Spearfish, adventurous British submarine which torpedoed the German pocket battleship Admiral Scheer last April 11, is "overdue and presumed lost" the Admiralty announced tonight.

The Spearfish was a 670-ton vessel normally carrying 40 men. Her Commander was Lt. Cmdr. J. H. Forbes. She carried six 21-inch torpedo tubes and was capable of making a crash dive in 30 seconds.

The Spearfish had one narrow escape last October on a raid on Heligoland Bight. Sighted there, she made a crash dive to the bottom. German depth charges blew away her periscopes, wrecked her wireless and disabled her engines.

The crew, counting the depth charges, held a sixpence sweepstakes on whether each successive one would split the hull. But the submarine survived, even though the wires of German sweeps scraped her conning tower.

Then, in the fighting that marked the Nazi invasion of Norway, the Spearfish had her revenge. The Admiralty reported that more than one torpedo from this venturesome underwater boat had hit the prized Admiral Scheer on April 11.

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Aug. 27 (CP)—Members of the International Joint Commission, headed by Hon. Chas. Stewart, former Premier of Alberta, continued to survey the irrigation projects and irrigation possibilities of South Alberta today.

On completion of studies in this area, the Commission plans to leave for Nelson, B.C., Wednesday night.

Late Flashes

LONDON, Aug. 28 (Wednesday). (CP)—The Government charged German night raiders with "indiscriminate bombing attacks" in many sections of Britain today. Raids on London itself, the Government said, caused slight damage and no casualties.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—MacKay Radio tonight intercepted a short wave broadcast from Eire reporting that the Finnish freighter Elle had been torpedoed off Malinhead, the Northernmost point on the Irish Coast.

The message said the vessel was without lifeboats and that her receiving set had been put out of order. The exact position of the Elle was not given, MacKay Radio said.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—American carriers of mail between the United States and Lisbon are stopping at Bermuda because the American export lines chose that point for examination by British officials in preference to Gibraltar or other ports, it was learned tonight.

Nelson Worker Dies High River; Family Wanted

Nelson Povincial Police are trying to locate relatives of William Rochet, late of Nelson, who was found dead beside his team of horses on a farm 1½ miles West of High River, Alta., Tuesday morning, the reins still clutched in his hands.

Rochet was believed to have come to Nelson early in the year, and resided on Vernon Street, until leaving a week ago to seek work on the Prairies as a harvest hand. Papers in his possession indicated he was about 65 years old, and that he was born in Switzerland.

After investigation and an autopsy, a coroner said death was due to a heart attack, and an inquest would not be necessary.

He was 5 feet, 5 inches, and had a moustache, and very bushy eyebrows.

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (CP). — The Department of National War Services tonight announced personnel of Boards appointed under the National War Services Regulations.

Canada was divided into 13 administrative divisions by grouping the Federal electoral divisions into 13 groups.

The list of divisions with personnel of Boards and Divisional Registrars includes:

To Probe Charges Paish Said He'd Get U. S. Into War

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—A justice department official said today that an investigation would be made of charges voiced in the Senate that Sir George Paish, 72-year-old British economist, came here to try to get the United States into the war.

If the investigation reveals that Sir George was here for such a purpose and failed to disclose it in his application for a visitors' permit, this official said, that could be made the grounds for revoking his permit.

Senator Burton Wheeler, Montana Democrat, said in the Senate yesterday and Sir George subsequently denied the charge—that the Briton had told him in a conversation:

"I am responsible for getting this country into the last war and I intend to get it into this one."

Nazi Raid Activity Lightens; R.A.F. Sets Fire to Factories

Synthetic Fuel Plant and Other Nazi Targets Hit

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP). — Principal target of heavy Royal Air Force bombardment in Germany last night and early today was the I. G. Farben industries plant at Leuna, 20 miles West of Leipzig, which produces 400,000 tons of synthetic motor fuel annually, the Air Ministry News Service said tonight.

Elaborating on a bulletin issued earlier in the day, the News Service declared several bombs were dropped directly across the target by one plane.

"Another pilot observed vivid green flashes soon after his bombs had fallen," it said.

"Fires broke out in various parts of the target area, and there were seen to blaze up as further incendiary bombs were unloaded.

"A third pilot scored hits on the main buildings, and the rear gunner reported seeing a large explosion."

Besides Leuna the bombers maintained "systematic attacks" on other German industrial targets and harassed "many enemy occupied Netherlands and French airdromes serving as bases for operations against this country."

Objectives "ranged from Leipzig through the Ruhr and down into Normandy and Brittany."

On the outskirts of Frankfurt fires were started at a large munitions factory at Griesheim, and "the explosions which followed lasted for several minutes."

An oil refinery at Frankfurt also was successfully attacked.

Nearly 400 incendiary bombs were dropped.

GENEVA, Aug. 27 (AP). — An air raid alarm sounded briefly here tonight but there was no anti-aircraft fire.

Nine Killed in Coal Mine Blast

BATES, Ark., Aug. 27 (AP)—Nine men were killed late today and a 10th was still unaccounted for late tonight after an explosion at the Bates Coal Corporation mine near here.

Bodies of the nine men, all reported badly burned, were taken to Heavener, Okla.

TRAIN ATTACKED BY NAZI PLANE

A NORTHEAST TOWN IN ENGLAND, Aug. 28 (Wednesday) (CP)—A German plane swooped and machine-gunned a train near here early today.

Bullets ripped through the tops of the coaches, but no casualties were reported. At least two previous attacks on trains have occurred since the German air assaults on Britain began June 18.

The train raced to shelter in a tunnel. Passengers said British Spitfire fighters drove the raider away.

PLAN BIG PART FOR CANADIANS

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP).—Before next Spring Lieut.-Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton may command an army corps almost entirely composed of Canadians, it was learned today.

At present his corps is made up of the Canadian 1st Division under Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes and other Canadians and British troops. However by Spring Maj.-Gen. Victor Odlum's Canadian 2nd Division will have completed its training and taken its place alongside the 1st Division.

It was authoritatively stated the Canadian Active Service Force, which crossed the Atlantic for service in France, may be expected to play an important part when the Empire opens its big offensive push against Germany and Italy which Prime Minister Churchill has forecast for 1941 or 1942.

Sepy Londoners Go to Shelters Twice From Beds

By HAROLD FAIR
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 28 (Wednesday) (CP Cable)—Hitler's night raiders twice sent sleepy Londoners to their shelters late last night and early today, dropped a few incendiary bomb clusters but failed to penetrate the main defences of the Empire capital.

The raiders ranged also over wide areas in other parts of England and Wales at the end of a day of "very light" air activity in which three Nazi planes were downed. No Royal Air Force losses were reported.

As far as Central London was concerned it was just another series of "nuisance" or "insomnia" raids, disturbing the slumber of millions, but achieving little else. There was less anti-aircraft activity and fewer searchlights lit the sky. Many a yawning householder refused to leave his snug bed.

At one time bomb flashes could be seen in the distance extending in a semi-circle and an enemy plane appeared over a red glow where apparently a fire started.

Incendiary bombs fell without damage in one area, but were known to have caused some fires in other areas which were quickly extinguished.

The raiders again operated singly or in small groups, but threw in the pace-changing "all-clear" period in contrast with their chain raid marathon of the previous night.

Similar harassing raids were conducted through the dark hours over nearly all of England and Wales.

Everywhere searchlight and anti-aircraft fire was at a minimum.

Bombs fell North of one Midland town, and Germans were reported over several other communities in the same area.

In Southeast England, incendiary bombs hit two churches. A large fire in the roof of one was extinguished.

Also in the Southeast, a raider dropped high-explosive and incendiary bombs just as searchlights picked him out and guns hammered at him.

The punctuality of the raiding Nazis occasioned comment; they came within two or three minutes of the time of Monday night's "visit."

A plane dropped a high explosive bomb on one Northeast Scotland town and hurled a number of incendiaries down on flower gardens.

A Midland town had its longest alarm of the war during the night. Explosions were heard and it was announced about 100 incendiary bombs fell in open country.

Intermittent raids kept one Southeast England area awake most of the night. Fire brigades dealt with incendiary bombs. One big fire lit up the surrounding region for several miles, but firemen got it under control in about an hour, they announced.

Timber Outfit Wins Award of $92,000

VANCOUVER, Aug. 27 (CP)—The Elk River Timber Company has awarded $92,594 in Supreme Court here today for loss of logs and logging equipment in the Campbell River forest fire of 1938.

The amount of damages was assessed by J. F. Mather, Registrar of the Court, against Bloedel, Stewart & Welch Ltd., defendants in a Supreme Court action won by the Elk River Company.

The original judgment was given against the defendant company which was charged with responsibility for the fire. It was left to the registrar to fix the amount of damages.

Seek Quick End to Balkan Crisis Lest Russia Moves

Axis Ministers Rush Home to Tell of Fight Between Rumanians and Russians in Which Hundreds Are Killed

BUDAPEST, Aug. 27 (AP). — Rumania and Hungary have been summoned to a conference with the Rome-Berlin axis at Vienna in an apparent move to obtain a quick settlement of the mounting Balkan crisis, lest Russia seize the opportunity for further penetration into that area, it was learned tonight.

The Hungarian and Rumanian Foreign Ministers have been called to Vienna, where they will meet the Italian Foreign Minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano and the German Foreign Minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop.

The Vienna meeting was understood to be designated to force a settlement of Hungary's claims upon Rumania for Transylvania which would avoid a conflict disturbing to the Balkan productivity so necessary to Hitler and Mussolini in their war with Britain.

Accounts of the Soviet-Rumanian clash first reached Budapest in diplomatic dispatches from Rumania and subsequently were confirmed by Soviet circles in Bucharest. These dispatches indicated the fight in which several hundred troops were killed, had begun after Russians overstepped the Rumanian frontier at a point where Rumanian troops had been removed for service in Transylvania.

The staff of the Soviet legation in Bucharest said a bloody clash between Soviet and Rumanian troops occurred Sunday and Monday with heavy casualties on both sides.

The calling of the Vienna conference was the latest in a chain of events which began Saturday with the breakdown of a Hungarian-Rumania conference on the Transylvania dispute.

Rumania immediately countered Hungarian strategic measures by moving thousands of troops from Moldavia to Transylvania.

No sooner had King Carol's Government taken this action than Red army units penetrated Rumanian soil.

The opinion was expressed in quarters close to the Governments in Budapest and Bucharest that Soviet troops crossed the Rumanian frontier in a major "scouting expedition" to prepare the Red army for the possibility of a real push in the event that Hungarian-Rumanian differences over Transylvania develop into open warfare.

Thus, some foreign military observers conjectured that perhaps the Soviet's ultimate plan was to profit directly from the current Rumanian-Hungarian crisis over Transylvania.

Soviet informants in Bucharest said "several hundred" Russian troops had been slain by the Rumanians.

In a second incident further threatening the uneasy peace of Southeastern Europe, the Hungarian Foreign Office accused a Rumanian pilot of shooting down a Hungarian bomber on Hungarian soil today, and protested angrily to Bucharest against what was termed this "unprovoked and murderous attack."

After Hungarian officials had been in communication with Berlin, however, the Foreign Office spokesman said:

"The attack was provocatory, but we ourselves will not provoke."

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Aug. 27 (AP)—A Rumanian Government spokesman said tonight a Hungarian plane had dropped propaganda leaflets in Transylvania Sunday and that this probably was the craft which the Hungarian Foreign Office asserted had been shot down.

War Committee Members Go to Important Posts

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (CP)—Munitions Minister C. D. Howe announced tonight the Executive Committee of the Department of Munitions and Supply has been dissolved and its members have been appointed to important administrative posts within the Department.

Col. W. C. Woodward of Vancouver, former Chairman of the Executive Committee, and Col. W. A. Harrison of Saint John have been appointed executive assistants to the Minister.

Mr. Howe explained the Executive Committee, formed of dollar-a-year men, had been created to undertake the development and expansion of the Department during the initial months of the Department's operations.

"The members of the former committee now will continue to serve in the various divisions of the Department they have helped to create," said Mr. Howe. "In short, the growth of the Department has made it necessary further to departmentalize its efforts."

Duties now assigned to other former members of the committee are largely those which they fulfilled on the committee. Posts now filled by them are:

Ralph P. Bell, Halifax, Director General of Aircraft Production; Henry Borden, K.C., Toronto, General Counsel; R. A. C. Henry, Montreal, Economic Adviser; J. P. D. Malkin, Vancouver, Director General of Purchases; Lt.-Col. W. K. Phillips of Toronto and Oshawa, President of Research Enterprises, Ltd.; Hon. Gordon Scott, Montreal, Financial Adviser; and E. P. Taylor, Toronto, Joint Director General of Munitions Production.

Creston Wheat Quota for "Local Situation"

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27 (CP)—George McIvor, Chief Commissioner of the Canadian Wheat Board, said tonight the order permitting delivery of 18 bushels per seeded acre to the elevator at Creston, B.C., was prompted by a local situation and does not affect the Prairies.

"It is purely a local situation," McIvor said. "There is enough elevator space at Creston to provide for the local wheat production. Creston is in the Interior of British Columbia, where it would not be logical to ship grain for storage, and the storage situation there does not affect any other point."

Canadian, U. S. Officers to See East Coast Canadian Defences

Opening Session Very Satisfactory Says La Guardia

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (CP)—Naval and air officers of Canada and the United States will leave tomorrow to inspect existing Canadian defence facilities on the East coast in connection with preparation of plans for the joint defence of the two countries.

This announcement was made tonight when the permanent joint defence board adjourned to meet again Sept. 9 in Washington. The board, appointed last week, opened its first session here yesterday.

The inspection tour will be made by three service members of the United States section of the board, and two from the Canadian section, all representatives of the naval and air arms. They will travel by Royal Canadian Air Force planes.

No details were announced but it was assumed the tour would extend to Newfoundland where there are important air and seaplane bases and where, it is understood, a United States defence force is most likely to be sent.

Mayor Fiorello la Guardia of New York, Chairman of the United States section, said the opening sessions of the board today and yesterday were "very satisfactory, as of course we all expected."

With Col. O. M. Biggar, Ottawa, Chairman of the Canadian section, Mayor la Guardia received newspaper correspondents late today.

"Service members of the board are proceeding on a tour of inspection of existing Canadian defences on the East coast in connection with preparation of a plan of defence for Canada and the United States," Mayor la Guardia said.

He said this tour by service members would be confined to the existing Canadian stations and did not contemplate any study of proposed new defence sites which might be taken over by the United States. No United States defence would be studied at this time, he added.

Mr. Simpson stated that lack of terest, coupled with the fact that veral players enlisted leaving ly three of the original players the team, had caused the decision.

This decision also carries the rice of forfeiting the Bowl to Kimerley, only contender in the field this year, should the East Kootenay team demand the silverware.

An invitation had been extended to the Trail and Kimberley teams from Fernie to stage the title game as part of the sport celebrations at Fernie on Labor Day in aid of the Red Cross Society.

Rossland Water Down Four Feet

ROSSLAND, B. C., Aug. 27—Alderman Leo Nimsick, Chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, reported to the City Council Monday night that two weeks ago the water in the reservoir was down 9 inches, but on Monday it had fallen 4 feet.

E. A. Manning's bid of $15 for three lots was rejected, in view of the fact that Mr. Talbot had already offered $40 for one of the lots, and the Council voted that a value of $10 each be placed on two of these three, numbers 18 and 19, and Mr. Talbot be sold the remaining one for $40.

Donald McDonald, who had paid $80 for an option on 4 lots, numbers 11, 12, 13 and 14, Map 379, and now is unable to build, asked that they be transferred to Norman Cunningham. This was approved.

A. H. Keffer's offer of $10 for a lot on which he proposes to erect a garage, was approved, with the stipulation that the front 10 feet be reserved by the City for road clearance.

British Order for 4000 Tanks in U. S. Points to Future Offensive

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP).—The attitude of unruffled assurance with which beleaguered Britain proceeds with preparations for a long war must be somewhat disconcerting at times to her foes.

As bombs rain on London, the British Government has an official mission of experts in the United States quietly completing arrangements for the manufacture of some 4000 medium tanks.

British orders in the United States for other munitions are approaching a $2,000,000,000 total. Thousands of warplanes have been ordered from American aircraft plants. More than 200 were scheduled for completion this month.

The urgent need for planes in the defence of the British Isles and for counter-raids on Germany and Italy is obvious, but what about fleets of 25-ton tanks, the first of which probably cannot be completed for a year?

Four thousand is a tremendous number of this particular weapon, presumably far more than would ever be required for the home defence of the United Kingdom itself in any type of conflict even hinted by Nazi-style blitzkrieg.

The projected acquisition of 4000 of the 25-ton monsters indicates further the intention to build up a force of several times that many smaller and faster light tanks. The ratio in modern armies is five or more of these to one medium tank.

The explanation of this long-range attitude is suggested by Prime Minister Churchill and statements of his War Cabinet. It is that they regard the aerial siege as only a temporary phase of the conflict, destined to be succeeded by a decline in Nazi fortunes — a decline of which Britain must prepare to take advantage in ways which cannot be clear at this time.

There is expectation in Britain that next year, in 1942 or 1943, Britain will gain powerful Allies, in some way; that perhaps conquered nations will turn on the Germans, the Balkans will blaze, or the United States will enter the war. Any Allies other than the United States would have to be largely armed by Britain, and there would thus be ample demand for tanks and all other weapons. In the meantime these are urgently needed in the land warfare on other Empire fronts if not in England itself.

All Rossland Employables Who Were on Relief Are Now Working

ROSSLAND, B. C., Aug. 27 — Announcement was made at Monday night's City Council session that every man who recently was on relief, and was capable of employment was now working. This not only relieves the City of a heavy financial obligation, but also means material and mental benefit for the citizens concerned.

Alderman R. T. Fraser, who has been called up for army service, was granted three months' leave of absence, and the Council agreed that his position could be filled at the elections in December unless he should return in the meantime.

BUY UNION JACK STICKERS

The Council voted to purchase an initial quantity of Union Jack stickers, which are being made available through the Union of Canadian Municipalities to every city and town desiring them. These stickers are made in the form of a Union Jack, and bear the words "There'll Always Be an England." They are designed for affixation to letter-heads and other papers.

The Council accepted Robert Barrie's bid of $127.00 to supply lumber with which to effect repairs to the Columbia Avenue and the Durham Addition bridges.

Mr. Negus had suggested a double-header for each city, the schedule proposed being a game in Nelson early Sunday and a second game at Trail at 5 p.m. the same afternoon, a stay overnight in Trail, the third game to be played at 12:30 p.m. in the Smelter City and the fourth at Nelson on the Huskies' return home.

More Firearm Forms Received

TRAIL, B.C., Aug. 27—Provincial police at both Trail and Rossland have more firearm registration forms on hand, and are again busy taking registrations. Owing to the sudden rush, both offices were temporarily out of forms.

"Hitler" Sends in Registration

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (CP).—In a big brown envelope addressed directly to him and marked "personal" Mr. Justice T. C. Davis, Associate Deputy Minister of National War Services, today received a registration form made out and signed by "Adolf Hitler."

There was an amused twinkle in the eye of Mr. Justice Davis as he scanned the form, for the envelope was postmarked Regina, where he served on the bench on the Saskatchewan Court of Appeals. He gave the impression that he might have known who prepared and mailed the form but if he did, he was saying nothing about it.

On the form, "Adolf Hitler" gave his age as 49 and his dependents the Gestapo. Under the sub-heading dealing with the number of child dependents, the "Fuehrer" wrote in "thousands in Poland, Norway, Belgium and France."

Answering the question, "Are you an employer of labor other than domestic," "Hitler" jotted down: "Yes, Henri Petain of Vichy."

To the "can you milk"? question, this neat answer was jotted down: "Yes, all the conquered countries."

Girls' Fellowship of First Baptist Church Has Children's Party

The Girls' Fellowship, formerly the Girls' Club, of the First Baptist Church, held its first gathering of the season at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Dodman, 408 Huston Street, Tuesday night.

The gathering took the form of a "kiddie party," all the girls wearing rompers. The room was decorated in accord with the apparel, high chairs, rubber dolls and so on being used. Divided into two groups the girls enjoyed children's games, each trying to win a point for her side.

Before lunch was served the group was led in a short devotional by Miss Geraldine Dodman. Choruses were sung.

The group planned a hike and bean feed on Labor Day. The following Monday the Fall program will be launched.

Is Rossland to Have Skunk Farm? Council Debates

ROSSLAND, B. C., Aug. 27—The question of garbage collection again came up for discussion by the Rossland City Council Monday night, and it was decided to continue during September the twice-monthly collection employed during July and August. September collections will take place on the 3rd and the 18th, and garbage containers are to be placed at the edge of each property.

A complaint that someone in the city was maintaining the nucleus of a skunk farm was under discussion. Alderman J. R. Corner stated that he had received the complaint, and wished to know what action would or could be taken.

Britain Will Extend Aid to All Loyal French Overseas Territories

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP).—Prime Minister Churchill today gave an assurance to Gen. Charles De Gaulle that economic assistance comparable to that granted to British colonies will be extended to all French overseas territories loyal to the Allies until an independent and constitutional authority has been re-established on French soil.

The Prime Minister's statement followed an announcement by General De Gaulle that the Governor and Commander of Chad Territory in French equatorial Africa had decided to fight on with Britain. Gen. De Gaulle leads all Free Frenchmen who are continuing the war against Germany.

De Gaulle in a broadcast said the Governor of the Chad territory had issued a declaration at Fort Lamy yesterday saying the territory refused the French capitulation and would remain in the war. He said the declaration was also signed by Colonel Marchand, commanding troops in the territory.

French circles in London considered the Chad decision as of the greatest importance since the territory of 461,203 square miles in area borders Libya and the Sudan and is a key to equatorial Africa. It was thought certain other French African possessions may follow suit.

R. A. F. Drop Six Tons of Bombs on Big Italian Armament Factories

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP). — The Air Ministry made the following announcement Tuesday:

"Industrial targets in Northern Italy were again successfully attacked last night when, for the fifth time in a fortnight, R. A. F. bombers made the double journey over France and the Alps.

"The objectives on this occasion were the Societa Aeronautica Italia Fiat works at Turin and the Magneto Marelli factory, which makes ignition generators, and Sesto San Giovanni, near Milan.

"The raiders arrived over these factories just before 12:30 a.m. In the next 40 minutes they dropped some six tons of bombs.

"The log of one pilot who made three attacks on the Marelli works states: 'Weather hazy. No clouds. Visibility showed up target to advantage. First stick of bombs started four fires and two large explosions. Second stick caused bright blue and white explosions. Third stick caused 14 fires in a line.

"Another pilot arrived 10 minutes later. He had had an exciting journey, for his oxygen supply diminished when he was over the Alps and he was able to obtain very little while flying three miles up. He carried on, however, and got over safely.

"Fires already were burning at Sesto San Giovanni and a great cloud of white smoke which was drifting upwards to nearly 6000 feet guided him to the target. The moon was covered by a layer of high clouds and there was a haze partly shrouding the factory, but he made his attack and his bombs caused new fires on the West side of the works.

"The Fiat works at Turin were also set on fire early, and guided later arrivals promptly to the scene. One pilot who made a 10-minute attack observed explosions for some time after he had left.

"Bombs from another aircraft were dropped on the Southern end of the target. While these attacks were being made, two Italian fighters appeared, but did not interfere with the proceedings."

ROME, Aug. 27 (AP).—British bombs scored hits on the Fiat airplane, automobile and tank factory at Turin in a night raid, the Italian High Command announced today.

The High Command did not disclose the amount of damage done.

Canadian-U.S. Defence Board Seen as Most Important War Development

By SAM ROBERTSON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer).

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP Cable). — Recent formation of the Canadian-American Joint Defence Board is viewed in official British circles as one of the most important international developments which has taken place since the outbreak of war.

The new phase of cooperation between the Dominion and the Republic might be only the first of a series of steps toward greater cooperation not only between those neighboring countries but between the United States and other parts of the Empire.

Unofficial quarters believe that one development might be enlargement of the already large flow of war supplies coming to Britain from America.

The sale to Canada of some of the hundreds of over-age destroyers gathering barnacles in U. S. Navy yards is discussed in these quarters as one possibility.

If the Royal Canadian Navy did secure a sufficient number of these warcraft the Dominion might be able to take over the policing of the waters of the Western hemisphere and released for action on this sea front the British warships now stationed in the Caribbean and elsewhere.

Officials here frown on suggestions which have appeared in some sections of the press that the defence facilities offered to the United States in the British West Indies and Newfoundland are part of a larger deal by which America will wipe out the British war debt and many other concessions.

It is emphasized that the defence facilities—and they are facilities—not necessarily bases—were a free offer by the British Government. No strings, financial or otherwise, were attached and the sovereignty of the territories would be in no way affected.

Ninety-nine-year leases would be a guarantee to the United States which might spend considerable sums preparing the facilities to meet its special needs.

The lease would guarantee that the British "landlord" would not ask the American "tenant" to vacate the premises on short notice.

Illusion of Garden Vanishes During Raid as Planes Find Objectives

By MILO THOMPSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Half of metropolitan London's population had to ask this morning how long the night's air raid lasted.

They had given up the show and gone to bed.

How can one go to bed with the grinding beat of a German bomber overhead? At any moment a blast might end your existence.

But so might a bolt of lightning in any thunderstorm.

You think of the odds, shrug and turn in.

Watching the show wearies you like sitting at a grand fireworks display for hours.

For those who do watch there is a horrid splendor about these night raids.

Your feelings are mixed. For short periods you feel that you personally are the hunted one—but most of the time it is the fellow somewhere up above who is hunted.

The black sky becomes a garden of unimaginably tall flowers, usually in swaying clusters. The stems, of course, are the searchlight beams and they blossom where they touch downy clouds.

The heads come together as if the flowers are reaching unnaturally for a bee buzzing above.

The droning bee up there is the hunted thing now and you belong with those who are stalking it.

Discretion comes to you when the stalks and blossoms are all about you and you look up into a cone of light and hear the bee almost directly overhead.

The illusion of a garden vanishes.

So you seek shelter a moment until your bee discloses he thinks he has found an objective and dropped a bomb—another—two more.

Somewhere unlucky watchers who stood as you did may be dying. That's a side of it you cannot dwell upon.

13 SHIPS LOST IN AUG. 18 WEEK

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP)—Thirteen British, Allied and neutral merchant ships totalling 52,899 tons were sunk by the enemy during the week ended Aug. 18, the Admiralty announced today.

The Admiralty said: "The enemy claims to have sunk 151,711 tons, or nearly three times the actual reported losses" for the period.

The total tonnage lost was slightly above the weekly average for the previous 49 weeks since the beginning of the war, the Admiralty said.

Axis losses to Aug. 26 totalled approximately 1,187,000 tons, the Admiralty reported. German losses were 923,000 tons and Italian 264,000.

Neutral shipping seized by "the enemy" amounting to 32,000 tons also has been sunk, the Admiralty reported.

The German claim that a British destroyer of the Viscount class had been sunk and authoritatively denied.

KENDAL, England (CP)—John Francis Smith, wireless dealer, was fined £10 ($44.50) on a charge of making statements liable to cause alarm and despondency, although previously warned.

Hospital Patients Put Under Beds, Bombs Hit Poorhouse, Several Kille

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP)—Houses were damaged in London suburbs in last night's raid but casualties apparently were few.

A bomb demolished a house in one London area. Air raid wardens dug the occupants from the debris. The householder was killed but his wife and two other occupants survived.

There were several casualties in the neighborhood. Two were taken to a hospital and the rest were treated at first aid posts.

One Associated Press employee telephoned his office from his suburban home that he and his wife had arrived home just 10 minutes after a bomb fell 10 yards from their home. The explosion shattered all the windows, shooting splinters of glass into the walls like arrows. One corner of the brick house was blown away.

Fourteen bombs fell in this neighborhood but there were no casualties.

Convalescent patients in a London hospital were taken to trench shelters during the raid and others too ill to be moved out of the buildings were placed on mattresses under their beds. The hospital was shaken by the explosion of two bombs in the vicinity but no damage was done to it.

One of the attacks on the fringe of a London suburb was made by a dive bomber which tossed three comparatively light bombs. The only damage was done to roads, in which craters were dug, and to an indoor bowling green building, the glass roof of which was smashed.

In another London suburb four bombs fell in a residential district, breaking windows and blowing in doors. Little other damage was reported in this area.

In a Southwestern town, described as having had its "worst raid of the war," two bombs fell on a poorhouse, killing several people and injuring others.

A number of casualties were reported from a midland town which had "three heavy raids during the night. High explosive and incendiary bombs were dropped.

There were a number of reports of persons being machine-gunned from the air during raids in the midlands and the Southwest, but only one death was listed. Several were reported wounded.

Buildings were demolished in one coastal town and a woman was killed. It was feared that other bodies might be buried under the debris.

At another town in the Northeast a large number of houses were razed, but only five persons were injured. Incendiary bombs fell over a wide area.

Navy Air Guns Get 12 Nazi Planes by Aug.

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP)—The Admiralty stated today that naval anti-aircraft guns had accounted for 122 German planes up to Aug. and that an additional 64 probably had been destroyed and 45 damaged.

The fleet air arm shot down an additional 28 planes and damaged 25 others, many of which "can be considered lost," the Admiralty said.

o incubator babies attain full elopment or are they likely to undersized?

nfants born at seven to eight nths have such a low vitality t if they are handled in the or- ary way they survive but a few eks. The incubator takes the ce of the mother's womb—poor- of course, but for practical pur- es in a good percentage of cases effectively. It provides an even temperature and other protection. The two other problems of the premature infant are to keep it breathing and to provide nourishment. The breathing centre is not well developed in prematurity because such infants were not prepared yet for an atmospheric existence. Suckling and swallowing reflexes are also at low ebb, and digestion poor, so feeding is always difficult to manage.

If these are overcome, however, the premature infant develops quite naturally. There is a lag in development in the first few months, and nutritional diseases, such as anemia, rickets and tetany are frequent. "By the end of the first year," write Holt and Howland, "many have compensated for their early handicaps and are as large and vigorous as other infants. There seems to be no lasting result produced by prematurity."

What are the commonest causes of painful, weak feet?

Bad shoes! The barefoot savage never has broken arches, while among shoe wearing civilians thirty out of every hundred rejections for army service are due to flat feet.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT

"Could anyone have wanted your life?" the commissioner had asked Linda just as she saw the initial in the handkerchief which she had retrieved from the floor of the office.

A small, hand-blocked initial appeared in one corner. It was an C English "M." It might have stood for Mina or it might have stood for Markley or maybe it just represented a Margaret or a Mary.

She gazed at it, fascinated. Still not answering the question, she lifted the small square to her nose and the scent was stronger now.

She handed the object to the commissioner. "I found this on the floor just now. I thought it was mine until I picked it up."

"An 'M'," the man said. "And your name is Linda Avery and the dead girl is Clarabell Ackerman. Do you know an enemy whose name begins with 'M'?"

Linda hesitated. If only she had someone to guide her. If Ronnie would come, or Rob had been present they would answer for her. It was quite possible that the murderer had mistaken Clarabell Ackerman for her, but that murderer couldn't be Mina Nevins. She had been on the air at the time of the murder.

Her hesitation was noticed by the police. "Better answer all questions, Miss Avery. It will be easier. And simpler."

"Could I see you alone?" she asked, and her voice sounded small and tired even to her own ears.

She dared not mention Mina Nevins front of these reporters. Some of them had gone, scampering to the nearest telephones to tell their night editors to change a page.

Whether the commissioner would have said that he would talk to her alone or not, Linda never knew, for at that moment the door opened and a tall figure appeared.

"Oh, Robert!" She was across the room, and his strong arms were steadying her, before the words had left her lips.

There was peace and poise and comfort in his presence. She was so joyfully, tearfully glad that he had come.

"Someone sent word to your apartment that you were here. No one was home, but I happened to be passing," he said. "Of course I came right away."

Briefly Robert was informed of the events of the past hour. His eyes sobered at the sight of the girl who slumped over the desk. No move had been made to conceal her or take her away.

"Couldn't we have a conference commissioner?" Robert asked. "You said that this murder might be a case of mistaken identity. It's quite true, and yet—"

"May I talk alone to Mr. Barton?" Linda asked. "For just a moment, please?"

The man hesitated. From the canyon of the streets below there came the subdued sound of the night traffic. The theatres were long since out and the play spots were gay and crowded, and the taxicabs carried groups from one to another.

The rain was growing steadier and harder, and it beat against the windows. Grateful as she was for Robert's protection, Linda wished anxiously that Ronnie would come. Maybe he hadn't received any message. And why didn't the commissioner give his consent?

"Everything will come out in the investigation and the coroner's inquest," the official answered. "Any light you may throw on the happening now will save you embarrassment later. However, if you wish a conference, the inner office will do nicely. I'll stay on guard."

It was Robert who answered. "I think you had better come with us. I've a pretty good idea what Miss Avery hesitates to say. It involves a third party, and on the surface sounds ridiculous."

Robert took the lead in the conversation, but it was Linda who mentioned the fact that Mina Nevins could not have left the room where she was broadcasting to come to the office, do a murder, leave, and continue with the program.

In the first place, there would not have been time for her to even reach the place, let alone return. In the second place, the doors always were locked during a broadcast and she could not have left the auditorium where she was speaking during the musical intermission.

"And in the third place, there will be dozens of witnesses to testify she was on hand all the time," the commissioner added. "I'm afraid she's out. But that 'M'— stands for Mina. How many girls in your office have the initial 'M'—models, office force, anyone?"

Linda thought carefully. There wasn't an "M" in the group. She would have declared that there were several, speaking off-handedly, but the inventory showed none.

"Could a model, applying for a place on the Bagley list, have dropped it?" the query came.

"Probably, but the charwoman who cleaned the office earlier in the evening would have found it."

The charwoman, summoned, knew nothing. Her eyes were a tired blue and she looked often at the night watchman.

Back in the larger room, Linda noted that a sheet had been thrown over the dead form of the girl. There was something more frightening in that disguise than there had been in the figure of the girl itself.

"Didn't you bring anyone up here, anyone outside of Miss Avery?" the detectives kept asking the elevator operator, who persisted in his denial.

"Nobody but the watchman."

"And you took nobody down?"

"Nobody."

"Then how could anyone get in? Twelve flights are a long distance to climb. Humph! If someone did this as an outside job, that person must have been on the stairs while the commotion was going on and made an escaped while the door was unguarded. Well, we'll have a coroner's inquest in the morning."

Ronnie came then, face white and worried. "They held me up to question me about all this," he said. "I didn't know what had happened. Seems that you were supposed to be killed and somebody else got it." He put his arm around Linda, searched her face. "All right, Linda sweet?"

Suddenly she knew where Ronnie had been. Someone had taken him to the police station, remembering that Linda stood in the way of any profitable marriage he might wish to make with the daughter of the man who was giving him a fling at stardom.

Fashions . . .

Ears Beautified for Decoration

By DONNA GRACE

This is going to be an "Ode to the Ears". These little appendages, because of their modest undercover habits, are usually ignored when we talk of facial beauty. It is true they are now in evidence, but until this season, we haven't thought them important enough to glamorize.

Now according to fashion editors and the smart Fall shows, ears have come into prominence. Earrings of unusual design will be worn. Instead of the pendants, buttons or clips, we may expect to see jeweled clips covering the top as well as the elabdrate pendants fastened to the lobe.

Because of the lack of soft tissues and nourishing blood vessels in the ears, there is sometimes a tendency to dry scales. For this we use plenty of soap and warm water. It will remove the fine dry surface and help to prevent the tense little lines and wrinkles.

After a gentle but thorough washing, rinse with clear water. Do not let water run into the passage. Use a washcloth to cleanse the little grooves and do not twist or pull the ears vigorously.

For the massage, cover the ear with a light film of cream and with the fingertips stroke gently until the surface is smooth and pliable. Remove cream with soft tissue, then squeeze out pads of cotton or fresh washcloth in skin freshener or diluted cologne and wipe carefully. The cool freshener will impart a feeling of coolness.

When using dark powders or rouge, do not make the mistake of leaving the ears white. They will look conspicuous and detached from the face. Cover with the powder, and for the gipsy rose type of make-up or any dark one, a bit of rouge applied to the lobe and about the rim will complete the ensemble.

This ear consciousness will be sure to prepare them for smart adornment and will keep them in harmony with the well-groomed face.

Second Childhood . . .

Life With Aged May Be Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph.D.

A Chicago mother writes: "Last August I wrote you for help and received such excellent advice, that I feel you can help me straighten out my present problem. . . . I can't get along with my father . . . he lives with my husband, my three children and myself. . . .

"He must be the cock-of-the-walk. He must be consulted and included in all our plans—or else. He must be the whole thing, or he is not happy, and if he isn't happy no one else will be either. We all bend over backwards trying to please him, and heaven help us when we fail. . . ." More and more letters like this are coming to me.

SPOILED CHILDREN

In contrast with this case I wish I had space and adequate words to describe a man 85 years old who used to play games with Mrs. Myers and me nearly every evening. I wish I might be half as easy to live with if or when I reach that age.

I just wonder what kind of persons you and I will be when we are in our eighties or beyond. If we should have to be cared for and linger long, long years. I wonder how irritable or good natured we will be; how morose or cheerful; how stubborn or cooperative. Will we be spoiled children during our second childhood? Yes, if we were spoiled children during our first childhood, no doubt—unless we made improvement in the meanwhile.

There may be a few people hard to manage in old age who had a childhood of wholesome, happy guidance and discipline. But this number must be very small, indeed.

Knowing now that we have ugly traits which make it hard for others to live with us, or minister to us when we are ill, let us struggle with ourselves daily to improve.

You are rearing your child not only to live well in the family, but to prepare to be a good wife or husband, father or mother, and good citizen; you are also rearing this child to grow old agreeably and gracefully.

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEMS

Q.—My nine-year-old boy bolts his food and will finish a meal in eight minutes and run out to play.

A.—Say nothing about his speed of eating. Merely tell him he shall remain at the table for exactly 20 minutes. With all this time on his hands, he will hardly find so much urge to eat rapidly.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A.D.—"Will you please explain something? If a person has tuberculosis and it is said to be 'inactive,' what does it mean? What is the meaning of active and inactibe tuberculosis. Can a person with inactive tuberculosis be cured? And could you tell me if it is possible for other people to get the disease from that person?"

Answer—Inactive tuberculosis is defined as tuberculosis in which the disease is not progressing and no germs can be found in the sputtum or from stomach washings. It is really the sage of active tuberculosis in which cure has begun. If we accept the definition literally, that there are no germs being cast out, other people cannot get the disease from a person with inactive tuberculosis.

Household Fly Is Disease Carrier

The common housefly is notorious for the part it plays in spreading dangerous diseases, such as typhoid, infantile diarrhoea, tuberculosis, cholera, and dysentry. It is a menace to health because it breeds in filth and may pass directly to foodstuffs. Particles of decaying organic matter, bacteria, or other living organisms cling to its hairy legs and body and sticky feet and mouth parts. It is computed that one fly may carry as many as 1,600,000 germs, and that female housefiles may become a great grandmother in 60 days, laying around 2700 eggs during a lifetime of three months.

Houseflies are particularly dangerous during warm weather from mid-Summer to Fall, when they are most numerous. The most effective method of controlling them consists in eliminating or reducing their breeding places by properly treating or disposing of manure and garbage. In the cities, garbage is an important factor in fly production. Control measures to be fully effective should be organized on a community basis, because one neglected garbage dump or manure heap may infest a whole neighborhood. Collections of manure should be removed from city stables and disposed of at least twice weekly.

In rural sections, where practicable, the manure should be removed daily and spread thinly on fields where the drying effect of sun and wind will prevent breeding. An alternate method consists of taking advantage of heat produced by fermentation when manure is placed in tightly packed piles. The heat produced by fermentation destroys all fly eggs, larvae, and pupae, except perhaps those close to the surface of the top layer. The application with a watering can or sprayer of a solution of borax consisting of one pound of borax to six gallons of water will destroy any fly stages in the top layer of the packed manure.

London Fosters Dustbin Brigade

LONDON, (CP)—London boasts a "Dustbin Brigade" of 250 women who have undertaken the task of collecting waste food and bones from neighbors in their respective streets.

The "salvage mothers" as they have been called by their neighbors, were organized at the suggestion of Cleansing Superintendent Eric Bell of the Borough of Walthamstow and they receive no remuneration for their services.

Each of the "mothers" was given two dustbins labelled "waste food and bones." The bins were set up in conspicuous spots in front gardens so that neighbors can bring along their kitchen waste and bones. Duly the bins are emptied.

It is estimated that when the scheme is working fully Walthamstow will collect enough waste food to feed 4000 pigs.

Jackets Go to New Lengths

By ALICE ALDEN

Jackets go to new lengths to give smariness to suits now being shown for early Autumn wear. The long line is molded to give a slim, snug effect that is flattering to most figures, and of course, divine on the slender girl.

This suit is of finely ribbed inky black woolen, and the tunic jacket is fastened with sparkling jet buttons. The revers show original detail. They are of white bengaline cut out in a leaf motif.

The breton sailro is of black and white taffeta with white stitching to form a scalloped line. Gloves, shoes, bag are of black suede.

Alice Marble Restores Health and Keeps Beauty by Following Rules

NEW YORK, (CP)—Alice Marble, queen of Uncle Sam's tennis courts, wants an ice cream soda. Before every match she says: "This time I'll really have my ice cream soda if I win!" She usually wins. But she never gets the soda.

Her coach, Eleanor Tennant, always says, "Now Pinky, you know you'd rather have a rare beefsteak."

And Pinky (Alice to us) says, "Yyes," I would."

Miss Marble has found her way to tennis championships, restored health and continued beauty by listening to her coach.

"I never overeat," she explains. "I choose a lot of vegetables and drink lemon juice in water—not hot water."

"I practice the year round, play golf for exercise and fun, and jump rope daily to keep my figure trim and to improve my breathing."

She listens to a teacher who is determined that she shall keep the sleek beauty she began with. Her skin is even better than it used to be.

Alice never grips the racket and never contracts her muscles, but plays an easy game with good rhythm and timing. Such a system often makes the difference, she says, between imitating men and holding your own as a woman.

The champion's legs are nearly perfect, with a grand Summer tan, and are free of hair. Her toenails, bright red, match finger nails and lipstick. She has learned how to use makeup since she was called down for using too much during an English match.

Her only rigid muscles are of the waist and diaphragm, which ought to be the envy of every girdle-clad woman.

Rotary Must Carry Torch in Post-War Adjustment Declares Rotary District Governor in Address to Nelson Club

Recalls Days Played Baseball for Moyie

"Wherever there is opportunity for service there is opportunity for Rotary and in this time of war and in the ensuing period to come when there will be an adjustment, you must be the standard-bearers of everything the government requires." This was the keynote of an address by R. Vincent Borleske, District Governor, to the Nelson Rotary Club at a luncheon meeting at the Hume Tuesday. Mr. Borleske is Director of Athletics at Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash.

Rotary had the greatest opportunity of any organization in the world today, Mr. Borleske said, for in the club were the best business heads and resources of each community. And there was a bigger need for Rotary now, he emphasized, because of its fundamental principles.

"Rotary is still young enough to dream and doesn't limit its dreams. It has ideals of service to its fellow-men and other nations," the Governor said.

VINCENT BORLESKE

PATTERN FOR SERVICE

Rotary developed fellowship and in turn friendship, which was the greatest thing in the world. After Paul Harris, a lawyer, founded the organization Rotary became a service club early in its life, and set in motion other service clubs patterned after Rotary—a world movement.

"Rotary demands you give service. Rotary wants as many roots in the community life as possible. That's why every profession is represented in the club. And your job is to continue to extend its influence," Mr. Borleske said as he explained how the organization gradually spread out to include cities of 1000 population.

"In the adjustment to come you must create a continuing environment in which Rotary is to work.

"It's the natural instinct of man to grab what he can, and that's the reason for the work of Hitler, who was not educated to what was right. Among the first things that Hitler and Stalin did when they assumed power was to kick out Rotary, because they realized its potential power."

OLD WORK AND NEW

Mr. Borleske said in his duties at Whitman College he naturally came in contact with young people facing the future, and in his present work as Governor of No. 101 Rotary District, he wished to tie it up with his old work. He had just been up to Alaska—"a new country," on the first leg of his visits to 94 Clubs in the district.

"When I used to play ball in Nelson and Trail with Moyie 30, 31, 32, years ago, I tried to form a permanent memory of each town I visited. There were two gems that stood out in my mind. One was Nelson, still the beautiful gem it was when I first saw it nestling in the green hills; and the other was Wallace."

Tuesday night he met the directors and chairman of the various Nelson Rotary committees at the home of the President, H. W. Robertson.

A Londoner Sees Nelson

By LILLIAN A. H. DILL

Of Nelson and the Kootenay as seen through the eyes of an exchange teacher from London to Winnipeg, Man., Miss Sophie Norvick for the past three weeks the guest of Miss Vera B. Eidt, gives us her observations Miss Norvick is a widely travelled, interesting young woman whose experiences as an exchange teacher in foreign lands, makes her competent to express an opinion about our own

With refreshing charm in delicious brogue whose cadences echo the rugged speech of Welsh ancestry and the more dulcet tones of English associates, with here and there a word of fluent French, Miss Norvick tells us:

"Through membership in the Soroptimist Club I chose Nelson for my holiday, because I felt that I would not be coming to an unknown place where there would be no one to welcome me, and I have not been mistaken. I have never met such whole-hearted charm and friendliness as has been shown me by the people of Nelson. The city and its environs ranks in beauty with the lovely fjords of Norway, the fields of sunny France, the mountains of Switzerland, and my own beloved country.

MISS SOPHIE NORVICK

ANOTHER PICTURE FOR MEMORY'S ALBUM

"From the North Shore, where I have been staying, this lovely city nestling at the foot of the kindly mountains—by day a green jewel enhanced by the blue and shimmering lake; and by night a fairyland of sparkling reflections—has given me one more picture for my album of memories of beautiful places

"During my stay here, I have visited as many as possible of the local industries and thoroughly enjoyed my trips to them all. Particularly interesting were the Chamber of Mines and the gold mines themselves at Sheep Creek; the sawmill at Castlegar; the local match block factory at Nelson; the Doukhobor farm settlement at Brilliant; the great industrial centre at Trail; and the series of power plants along the River Kootenay.

"I am amazed at the speed of development of this new country and I have been especially struck by the justifiable civic pride of the people of Nelson, culminating in the very fine Civic Centre."

Miss Norvick, who goes this weekend to Banff and Jasper before taking up her duties in Winnipeg, leaves this wish for our prosperity:

"I hope that peace and prosperity will always smile on you—that you grow from strength to strength, never losing that wealth of charm and beauty."

Costs Sixpence to Watch Raid

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP) — It costs sixpence (about 11 cents) to watch an air raid in Wembley, site of one of Britain's biggest football stadiums.

Air raid precautions wardens urge spectators to take cover when a warning sounds and then take up a sixpence collection from those who prefer to watch.

The money goes to buy Spitfire fighting planes.

Britons also are turning German raids to account in these ways:

Nazi planes which have been shot down are placed on exhibition to raise defence funds.

Women are using the hours they spend in air raid shelters to knit "comforts" for service men.

In Chatham, air raid wardens are growing Winter cabbage atop their lookout post in an earthworks barricade.

MISS J. LEAHY OF SHEEP CREEK GOES TO CONVENT

Miss Jeannette Leahy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leahy of Sheep Creek, Tuesday received the habit of the Sisters of St. Joseph at a Reception in the Sacred Heart Convent, Edmonton. She was the second member of her family to enter the convent. Mother Mary Rose, Superior at Wetaskiwin, Alta., is a sister.

Miss Leahy spent her early life in Nelson, later moving to Salmo, and then to Sheep Creek with her parents. She entered the novitiate at Edmonton last Winter.

'R.A.F. Are Supermen'

TORONTO, Aug. 27 (CP) — Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, former Prime Minister of Canada, wrote in a letter received by a Toronto resident today that members of the Royal Air Force "are not airmen but supermen."

His letter written Aug. 13 reads in parts as follows:

"It is quite clear that every ounce of energy of the Empire will be necessary before the conflict is ended. We are not suffering from lack of food. Despite the raids, people remain calm, determined and courageous.

"The superiority of the British airmen over the Germans was made apparent during the last few days. The truth is that these are not airmen but supermen, and it is a matter of great pride and satisfaction that there is a large number of Canadians in the British Air Force."

London, Front Line City, Stakes Its Life on Five-Layer Defence Pattern Which Features Offensive

By ROBERT E. BUNNELLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 27 (AP).—This front line city — an Empire's nerve centre only 20 minutes flight from the nearest German air bases in France — is staking its life on a five-year defence pattern.

Those defences are:

"Nighthawk" bomber patrols which attack German bases and military objectives — an "offence-defence."

Interceptor planes working with observer posts to pounce on the raiders before they get here.

Anti-aircraft and searchlight crews to harass them when they arrive.

"Our fat friends" — high-flying balloons trailing lengths of steel cable, as well as other snares.

Swift Hurricane and Spitfire fighter planes.

The underlying principle is that a good offensive is the best defence.

The job of the Royal Air Force bomber — its crew of highly-trained personnel winging far over Germany and into Italy — is to freeze or destroy the enemy at his bases, keep him busy at home to sap his offensive strength.

When observers catch the sound of approaching enemy planes they notify interceptor planes and inner defences. The interceptors whirl aloft, the "inners" get ready.

These observer posts and interceptor bases are scattered up and down the Channel coast to the East, the West coast and throughout rural England.

Searchlights and anti-aircraft batteries ring London so that when both go into action as last night, beams and gun flashes resemble a huge wide-spaced picket fence. Inside this big ring are nests of other guns and searchlights.

These guns and lights work together so that when light beams converge on a raider the guns automatically get his range and let go. Eyewitnesses saw a bit of this last night — the big beams picking out their target and shells screaming aloft up a silvery path to strike a plane whose crew took to parachutes.

The fourth defence layer is the balloon barrage and secret airplane traps — both to protect objectives and catch unwary low fliers.

"Hundreds' of these "floating elephant" balloons encircle London, protecting particularly the central area, and they have won a pat on their broad backs from military experts.

This stockade of balloons swings aloft on the end of 10,000 to 25,000 feet of heavy cable, raised or lowered by mobile ground crews. German fliers interviewed at their home bases, have admitted how murderous these "sausages" can be.

Then there are finally the fast pursuit planes stationed at scores of concealed airfields. They operate in close coordination with the anti-aircraft and searchlight units under a plan which divides the skies like a checkerboard, worked out square by square.

Ironside Testifies at Strange Trial

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP)—Field Marshal Sir Edmund Ironside testified today at the strange court martial of a man who wished to go to fight.

The case was that of Major A. D. Wintle, accused of feigning poor eyesight and threatening Air Commodore A. R. Boyle, director of intelligence at the Air Ministry, last Winter.

The major denied threatening the commodore and said he pleaded bad eyesight so that he could get out of the British service and go to France "and fight."

Sir Edmund Ironside said that Wintle was disappointed when given charge of a cavalry depot at home and that his "chief anxiety appeared to be to get into the firing line."

"To put it plainly he became to me a little bit of a nuisance like many people with guts who wish to go and fight," he added.

It took the court only 15 minutes to acquit Major Wintle of feigning defective vision. It announced that a sentence on the second charge of assaulting Air Commodore Boyle—would be promulgated "in the due course."

Wintle has been confined to the Tower of London for 60 days in military custody.

Food and Water Limit in Nazi Camp

GENEVA, Aug. 27 (AP)—"Short on food and water but long on entertainment" is the description by an American or a German internment camp where he was held for three months.

The former prisoner is Alfred R. Raymond of Chicago one of the organizers of the American Volunteer Ambulance Corps which served with the French army.

Raymond and three comrades—Murray Shipley of Cincinnati; Louis Wehile of Ft. Wayne, Ind., and Marcus Clark of Hollywood, Cal., were released from the camp near Dresden last Friday and reached Geneva yesterday. They had been prisoners since they were captured at Montcornet, in Northern France, last May 17.

"Our camp which was divided into three parts, contained 18,000 French, Polish and Belgian officers and men," Raymond said.

"Daily rations were a fifth of a loaf of bread, small rations of soup, one vegetable and sometimes coffee. That wasn't enough for active men, but I suppose the Germans were doing the best they could.

"We had lectures by French officers who in civil life were experts in their own fields—ranging from business management to architecture.

HITLER'S ADVENTURE IMPOSSIBLE

There exists in Britain an association or organization calling itself the Imperial Policy Group, which for some years has had its representatives studying foreign opinion, in all strata of society in European countries. Its studies were communicated to British leaders. In its latest "Memorandum of Information on Foreign Affairs and the World Crisis," Memorandum No. 20, it discloses some of the reports it had made on France, which showed that there was such division in France that it was unlikely it would remain a combatant long, if war should be declared.

In spite of its established aim, however, of seeking to have correct information, and of avoiding all self-deception, The Imperial Policy Group entertains no doubt of Germany's coming defeat. In Memorandum No. 20, the one issued in July, it observes, regarding Germany:

"The Germans are, not unnaturally, somewhat elated by their successes, which have followed swiftly one upon another in recent years. We venture, however, to recall the concluding paragraph of our last issue:

"'Those who regard the British Isles as the last outpost of the Continent are wrong. It is, of course, nothing of the sort. These islands do not represent the geographical and political extremity of Europe; they are not the last corner of a continent in which the remnants of a well-nigh shattered European civilization now repose. They are rather the first line of defence of a great world system, made up of an Imperial Commonwealth, and the freedom-loving countries of the new world.

"'He who attempts to invade these shores dare not, and must not, regard his expedition as one rounding off a series of European conquests, but rather as the beginning of a great and terrible adventure which offers not the slightest prospect of final success, against an Imperial system, and great continents possessed of illimitable man power and resources. They command the oceans and spirited peoples who do not know defeat, and if necesary will blockade the whole continent of Europe so that Germany and her allies would perish in their very triumphs. Military success on the Continent is one thing; sometimes in the past we have failed to prevent it. Conquest of the world is another; no one has yet achieved it.'

"If Hitler goes plunging from one dangerous adventure to another, leading his forces ever further from home and ever deeper into hostile countries and perhaps continents, where the love of liberty has deep roots and finds vigorous expression he, like Napoleon, may find himself anxiously asking himself day by day what his own capital is thinking. A military campaign to conquer the world must involve Germany in hostilities of unpredictable length during which the Nazi leader will be obliged to neglect the home front, and lavish ever more attention upon the creation of huge military forces.

"As weeks drag themselves into months, and then into years, the enthusiasm of his peoples may flag, and the resentful foreign populations which his troops have to hold down become ever more revengeful. Rivalries at home and enmities abroad will plague him. His main centres of production and channels of communication will be persistently harassed from the air. Whatever foreign lands he conquers, so long as Britain commands a single aircraft, each morning he will receive a report about some new devastation within the borders of the Reich. No amount of glory far from home will console the civilian population of Germany, which must inevitably suffer.

"With the transport facilities of Europe devoted to military purposes, and with the oceans commanded by the fleets of Britain, shortage of raw materials at least in certain parts of Europe may become acute. Peoples desperate and hungry, torn from their liberties and under the oppressor's yoke, may well perform feats of revolt which we now regard as unthinkable.

"Even though these Islands of Britain be overcome, it is difficult to know how Herr Hitler could bring the war to an end, and consolidate his gains. If his forces venture into Africa or Asia, he will find himself confronted with new and terrible problems which will defy solution. While with his forces far from home he may find that even the most carefully calculated strategy has flaws from which an enemy commanding the great communications can snatch victory. The mastery of Europe is a hollow sham, unless that continent is in friendly relations with the rest of the world. A conquest of Europe alone then can bring no permanent gain to the victor. The conquest of the world on the other hand, is impossible."

DEVIL'S ADVOCATES

Reports Newsweek, the Dayton, Ohio, weekly:

"Denouncing Democrats, Republicans, Jews, Negroes, and newspaper reporters and praising Fritz Kuhn, Adolf Hitler and Charles A. Lindbergh, several hundred members of the New Jersey Realm of the Klu Klux Klan met with about 700 members of the German-American Bund at the latter's Camp Nordland, near Andover, N.J., Sunday, for an all-day 'Americanism' rally."

It is an inspiring thought, the mental picture of the Klan and the Bund joining hands to build Americanism.

A somewhat comparable picture in Canada would be the sight of Adrien Arcand, head of the owtlawed Canadian Fascists, now out of harm's way in an internment camp, and Howard Scott of New York, whose Technocracy, Inc., was dissolved in Canada under the Defence of Canada Regulations, deliberating on how to build up "Canadianism."

As exemplars of Americanism, and of Canadianism, respectively, the elements named bring to mind the classic example, of "Satan rebuking sin," the absolute peak of dissembling.

"Yes, he's digging for victory, all right. That girl's the little boy's sister."—Humorist.

J. G., Slocan—Please tell me how to take dry putty from a window sash.

Putty may be softened by using a paste of caustic potassa, easily prepared by mixing the caustic alkali, or even carbonate of potash or soda, with equal parts of freshly burned quicklime which has been previously sprinkled with water so as to cause it to fall into powder. This is then mixed with water into a paste, and is spread on the putty to be softened. Where one application is not sufficient it is repeated.

Soft soap, rubbed on pretty thick and allowed to stand about 12 hours or more, will soften putty so that it can be cut out quite easily with a knife.

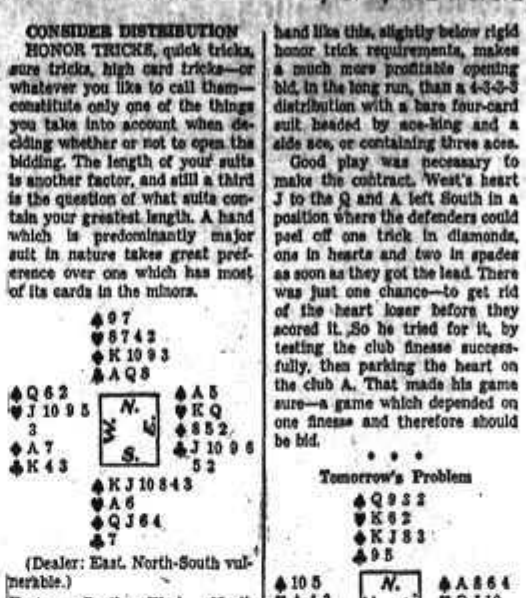
CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

CONSIDER DISTRIBUTION

HONOR TRICKS, quick tricks, sure tricks, high card tricks—or whatever you like to call them—constitute only one of the things you take into account when deciding whether or not to open the bidding. The length of your suits is another factor, and still a third is the question of what suits contain your greatest length. A hand which is predominantly major suit in nature takes great preference over one which has most of its cards in the minors.



(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♠	2 ♥	3 ♠
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	3 NT
Pass	4 ♦	Pass	4 ♠

South, a canny cardsman, knew that North, a keen partner, would make the correct deduction from his takeout of the No Trump game—that he had greater distributional values than shown, but less honor power than at first indicated. He was, of course, dead right. South is one of those analytical fellows who has learned that a hand like this, slightly below rigid honor trick requirements, makes a much more profitable opening bid, in the long run, than a 4-3-3-3 distribution with a bare four-card suit headed by ace-king and a side ace, or containing three aces.

Good play was necessary to make the contract. West's heart J to the Q and A left South in a position where the defenders could peel off one trick in diamonds, one in hearts and two in spades as soon as they got the lead. There was just one chance—to get rid of the heart loser before they scored it. So he tried for it, by testing the club finesse successfully, then parking the heart on the club A. That made his game sure—a game which depended on one finesse and therefore should be bid.

THE BATTLE OF BRITAIN

The world's two greatest forces are standing face to face.
On one side stands a people to whom liberty's life's breath,
Against them is a mechanized, debased, degenerate race.

This is not just another war, with glory for the brave,
A war of flaunting banners and brilliant martial show;
Tis not a war on Britain's part some outworn creed to save
But war against the brutal might of a morally putrid foe.

The vile saprogenous leader of a nation lost to truth
Would to his own foul level the whole wide world reduce:
The filth of his own birthright he taught to German youth
Till they became a docile tool for his envenomed use.

His aim is just destruction of everything that's good,
Of the honor, truth and justice that through ages we attained,
Of liberty of thought and speech for which our race has stood
And make us rotten as himself and the race that he has trained.

In ages past Attila, known as, "The Scourge of God,"
Wove for himself an evil fame that centuries cannot span
But we could by comparison his gentle kindness laud
For he, compared with Hitler, was a polished gentleman.

His greatest prototype, Genghis Khan, a foul inhuman beast
Traced a fierce trail of blood and death across a continent
But never in his orgies nor in celebrating feast
Did he call his pillage crusades nor proclaim his good intent.

The foul thing we are facing now, this wave of blood and lust
Has rolled o'er most of Europe as a juggernaut of crime,
Tis up to us who view its trail with horror and disgust
At any cost to sink it in its own deep putrid slime.

The British people stand alone against this horrid thing
As 'gainst hydra-headed dragon of old stood valiant knight;
The world is looking to her hoping she relief will bring
And slay the grisly monster in the impending fight

The question oft arises, "Why is it all the world
Looks to that little island their lands and lives to save?
Why is it Britain, only, will face two forces hurled
Into this Armageddon that would the world enslave?"

Whatever be the reason and whichever side survive
We know the British Empire will fight to its latest breath.
These different ideologies cannot both be left alive
And the loser in the struggle must be surely put to death.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING

NOT EVEN PEA SOUP

When one comes from other countries to the Province of Quebec one expects to find the gastronomic qualities of the old Mother Country. Our outside publicity to foreigners in order to attract visitors never stops saying that we have kept our French atmosphere, our customs, our traditions, our architecture, our modes of living. So, tourists, relying on this publicity, come here to find something different from what they have at home, among other things, French cooking, or at least French-Canadian cooking. Unfortunately, they may be deeply deceived on this score.

We are forever deploring our lack of hotels and restaurants. Meanwhile Montreal, with its 800,000 French-language Canadians, can list only one or two places where one can eat suitable French-style dishes, the City of Quebec only boasts of one restaurant worthy of mention. Everywhere else, in the small towns and important villages, not only is one badly lodged, in general, but one eats badly, very badly.

One is constantly served with omelets, pork and beans, ham and eggs, steaks toughened by bad cooking. One can hardly find, from one time to another, some real Canadian pea soup. We don't even know how to deserve our nickname, "pea soup".

We wouudn't want this article, for anything in the world, to fall into the hands of tourists. Our aim is to inspire French-language Canadians to take advantage of the treasure they possess in French cooking. The cities of Montreal and Quebec at least should be the two centres in Canada where one east best. And our country hotels would be reorganized from top to bottom. Our duty and our interests demand that we give tourists a good reception, if we want them to bring us each year the millions we need more than ever.—Le Jour, Montreal.

Londoners Dance Till Dawn and Theatres Stage Impromptu Concerts to the Drone of Aircraft Overhead

By DWIGHT L. PITKIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Robbed of their sleep by nocturnal Nazi bombers, thousands of Londoners danced and sang until almost dawn today, ignoring intermittent sounds of gunfire and the drone of airplane motors overhead.

The air raid alarm came as homebodies were retiring and as West End theatres were thronged with amusement seekers. When the German bombers kept sweeping over in relays and the all-clear signal failed to sound, many decided to make a night of it.

In most theatres, many stayed on when the shows were over and responded with zest to stage managers suggestions for impromptu concerts.

At the Hippodrome Prime Minister Winston Churchill's son-in-law, the comedian Vic Oliver, organized an informal "songfest". At Price's Theatre Arthur Riscoe called for "partners for the girls," and generals, officers and naval men stormed the stage. Riscoe said it "was more like a new year's eve party than an air raid."

Aircraftsman B. Kaplusky of the Royal Canadian Air Force, selling shoes in Cleveland, Ohio, six months ago to earn money for a musical education, was the life of the party at the Hippodrome where he got a chance to display his tenor voice by singing "Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

Family groups had singing parties or played cards in air raid shelters.

Many persons caught away from home when the sirens shrilled their warnings went without supper because the large restaurants close their doors during the raid. Regulations compelled pubs to close also but cafes and milk bars remained open and did a rushing business.

Hundreds defying possible danger remained on street corners to watch the spectacle as searchlights and bursts from anti-aircraft guns lighted the skies. Many walked because surely home when they were unable to get transportation.

Buses and taxis reappeared as if by magic when the all-clear signal finally was sounded at about 3:4[illegible] a. m.

I had a half-hour's ride in one from a hotel in the Western residential district to Fleet Street while the raid was at its height. Whenever we came to anything that looked like a military objective the driver who seemed to know his way by instinct in the blackout, pushed the accelerator down to the floor and took the corners on two wheels.

When we reached my destination he seemed to lose all interest in speed and sauntered off to the nearest shop for a cup of tea—although the sky was still bright with pyrotechnics.

Henry Jackson, an Associated Press employee, was in a bus en route to the office when the first raid warning sounded. Escorted by the bus conductor, playing a harmonica, the passengers marched off to an air raid shelter singing "Tipperary" and "Pack up Your Troubles in the Old Kit Bag."

They continued the journey when the conductor announced "Jerry seems to have buzzed off," but it took Jackson five hours and 20 minutes to complete a 10-mile journey that normally takes an hour.

Morale of Britons Remains Unshaken by Days of Ceaseless Nazi Air Raids

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Aug. 27 (CP Cable) —In spite of days of ceaseless air raids climaxed by last nights most sustained offensive since the outbreak of the war, the morale of the British people remains unshaken.

That is the impression gained after a personal tour covering several hundred miles through areas that have been special targets in Hitler's latest aerial war of nerves.

With Maj-Gen. Odlum we have been privileged to visit practically all the so-called hot spots which have been bombed, shelled and machine gunned without let-up for weeks. Wherever we went citizens had accepted the ordeal with calm coolness and resolute determination to carry on.

There is no evidence of devastation. A number of houses and shops lay in ruins and some roads were temporarily blocked by craters but in the bulk of the explosives apparently had been dropped harmlessly in fields and gardens.

Taking into consideration the vast number of bombs dropped in that section of the country, the damage is considered exceedingly small.

Although we passed through five separate zones of attack, the wail of the sirens produced only an orderly movement to shelter. There was no sign of panic and for the most part clusters of people stood in the streets peering into the air.

At Herne Bay hundreds of persons lined the boardwalk to watch the progress of a dogfight being waged high in the air between two squadrons of Nazi bombers and British fighters. A motorboat was speedily sped to sea to rescue a British pilot who had bailed out after destroying four enemy machines. The crowds gave a roaring cheer when he was brought ashore.

In a field near Dover lay a Messerschmitt whose pilot escaped injury after making a pancake landing. A bent propellor appeared to be the only damage to the machine.

On the way back to camp we travelled more than 200 miles during the time of a six-hour warning but the only result of the bombing we could see were flames which shot up from incendiary bombs dropped on Woodlands some miles from the Canadian encampment. A western Ontario Scottish regiment had the fire under control before it made any appreciable headway.

"R.A.F. Are the Best Fliers in the World"

CALGARY, Aug. 27 (CP)—James R. Reilly, of New York, world traveler who arrived recently from Rome declared here today that the war was not popular in Italy and that "only the fanatical Fascists" are in favor of it.

"The Italians were greatly surprised when the British airmen flew over Milan and dropped several tons of bombs in the industrial areas of that city. They had been led to believe that the R.A.F. had been wiped out by the Germans during the invasion of the low countries," he said.

Mr. Reilly said the men of the R.A.F. "are the best fliers in the world right now. I saw two Spitfires attack eight German bombers one morning and they shot three of the Germans down, and drove the remainder out to sea. One of the pilots then dropped into a field to have a look at a big Dornier that he had shot down. He was as cool and unconcerned as if he had dropped into his home airdrome for tea after a practice flight. I'm telling you, those chaps are wonderful."

Penalties Follow Failure to Register

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27 (CP).—Penalties for failing to register were imposed on two men and a woman in police court here today.

Arthur Hollingsworth, who said he had not registered because he could not get British justice in Canada, was fined $100 and costs with the option of spending three months in jail. Mary Somich told the court, through an interpreter, that her religion prohibited her from registering, and was fined $50 and costs with the alternative of two months in jail.

Paul Solchub said he did not know whether he wanted a chance to register or not and wased fined $50 and costs.

Ship Survivors Land at Galway

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP)— Rescued at sea after being adrift in lifeboat for six-days in the North Atlantic, 25 survivors of a torpedoed vessel were landed yesterday at Galway, Ireland.

Seventeen of the men were British sailors. The remainder were other Europeans. They were picked up by the Norwegian vessel Vareg.

For 12 of the 25 it was the second escape from death in a torpedoing in the Atlantic. One of them was the second wireless operator aboard the Montreal-bound liner Athenia sunk Sept. 3, first day of the war.

The men were at sea in a lifeboat last week from Monday to Saturday. An officer said the lifeboat had in tow a raft with 30 men but was forced to cut it loose. The name of their vessel was not given.

Passeau Builds Up Win String by Beating Cubs

Yankees Push Upward by Beating Sox in 10 Innings

By The Canadian Press

Workhorse Claude Passeau, who has been doing as much pitching as resting in the Cubs' drive toward a first division berth in the National League, won his fifth game in 13 days yesterday with a seven-hit 3-1 victory over the New York Giants. It was his 17th victory of the year against 11 defeats. Martin Marion's first home run of his major league career in the fourth inning turned out to be the run needed by St. Louis Cardinals to defeat Boston Bees 4-3.

New York Yankees continued their belated drive toward the top in the American League by turning back Chicago White Sox in 10 innings 5-4. The victory advanced the champions within 5½ games of the idle Cleveland Indians and 2½ games of the likewise idle Detroit Tigers.

Babe Dahlgren was the hero of the 10th inning uprising after Joe DiMaggio, in the role of pinch hitter, had struck out. Dahlgren dropped a single into short right to score Red Rolfe with the winning run. It was the only game played in the junior circuit yesterday.

Metz Brilliant In Pro Tourney Qualifying Round

HERSHEY, Pa., Aug. 27 (AP) — Dick Metz of Chicago, one of the more popular of professional golfers, practically wasted two grand rounds of 69-71 here the last two days to capture medalist honors in the qualifying round of the annual P.G.A. tournament.

For all his dead-eye shooting through the slanting rain and his inspired putting on a water-logged course, the former Texan received a medal for his pains and a trophy for his mantel. When the real shooting begins tomorrow in the first two rounds of match play, he will be starting from scratch, just like the other 63 who qualified for the main event.

Metz's two round total of 140, in fact, might have the distinction of being the last in P.G.A. play. Tom Walsh, President of the body, is thinking seriously of abandoning the preliminary skirmishes hereafter and having the boys start in match play from the first day.

Pursuing Metz to the wire through today's steady rain was Harold (Jug) McSpaden, the old Kansas boy who now plays out of Winchester, Mass. He shot rounds of 70-71-141. Henry Picard, the local professional who knows every inch of clover, took third place with 73-69-142.

Today's activity, already dreary enough because of the weather, was saddened further by a late announcement that Denny Shute had been taken to the hospital for an emergency appendectomy.

Kimberley Women's Softball Team May Play Trail, Nelson

Tony (Chum) Arcure Tuesday morning received a wire from Tony Muraca of Kimberley requesting the scheduling of a game in Nelson Sunday afternoon between the Nelson reps, West Kootenay Women's Softball Champions and his girls' team, the Huskies, from Kimberley.

The Kimberley team has already arranged for a game in Trail later in the day.

It is doubted arrangements can be made to play in Nelson Sunday but it may be possible to bill one for the following day, Labor Day, when the travellers are on their way home.

Bombers Win In Two Overtimes in Salmo Boxla

SALMO, B. C., Aug. 27—Lacrosse fans really got their money's worth in the Salmo Rink Monday night when they saw the Sheep Creek Bombers punch out a thrill-packed 25-20 victory over Salmo-Second Relief in two overtime sessions. The game was the second in a series, proceeds of which will go to the Nelson District Bomber Fund.

The power of last year's champs asserted itself in the second bargain period as the Bombers outscored their opponents 5-0, largely through the prolific scoring of Younie, who counted eight goals during the night.

The referees were kept on their toes throughout the game, particularly in the second period when 41 minutes in penalties were handed out, including a 10-minute stretch to Keith Younger of the winners for slashing Tommy Newton across the nose and drawing blood.

Myers co-starred with Younie in keeping the Bomber cause alive. For the losers Guy Cawley and Coach Pro Dingwall worked fine together again, with Dingwall in the role of playmaker and Cawley doing the sniping.

Hartnett to Be Held as Chicago Manager

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—P. K. Wrigley, owner of Chicago Cubs, announced today that Charles Leo (Gabby) Hartnett will be retained as Manager of the team.

Wrigley said he was convinced Hartnett had done a good job this season. Hartnett, now serving his 19th season with the club, succeeded Charlie Grimm in 1938.

Interest Drops In U. S. Tourney as Ferrier Out

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP). — The United States Golf Association took all the international flavor and a lot of the interest out of the 1940 National Amateur Championship by ruling out Jim Ferrier yesterday.

Counting out Ferrier and the 10 former champions who don't have to play in the sectional rounds, 747 players remain on the list. After today's 36-hole tests in 28 locations, only 140 of them will remain to go into the championship tourney at New York's Winged Foot Club Sept 9-14.

The last-minute disqualification of Ferrier, amateur and open champion of Australia, was based upon the publication in Australia of a profusely illustrated book called "Jim Ferrier's Golf Shots."

The U.S.G.A. contention is that it is a book of instruction and as Ferrier receives royalties from it, that makes him ineligible under the U.S.G.A. amateur rule. Ferrier argues the book merely analyzes his own unorthodox style without trying to tell other golfers how to play.

"The U.S.G.A. has a right to its own opinion," Ferrier conceded. "But I think it is mistaken. The book is not of an instructional nature. The Australian Golf Union certified me as an amateur in good standing when I came to this country in March.

"And the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, England's governing body, has sanctioned by my journalistic work.

"What are they trying to do to me? Have I been playing too well recently? I can't understand their attitude."

Challedon Forced to Break Record to Win Whitney

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—Challedon won the Whitney stakes today, as everyone had expected, but he encountered difficulties no one had expected.

William L. Brann's handicap king had to run the fastest 1¼ miles in the history of the event to beat out William Woodward's Isolator in a photo finish. His time was 2:03 1-5. Dusky Fox, Isolator's stablemate and the only other horse to run, finished 10 lengths behind the battling pair.

Challedon, ridden by Jockey George Woolf of Cardston, Alta., picked up $2726 for his third victory in four starts this year. With straight betting only Challedon paid $2.40 for $2.

Campbell Wins Entry Into Amateur Tourney

SEATTLE, Aug. 27 (AP)—Against only two competitors, Albert (Scotty) Campbell of Seattle, former Walker Cup team member, easily won the Northwest qualifying round today for entry in the National Amateur Golf tournament. He shot a 5 under par 72-69—141 over the Seattle Golf Club course.

Campbell will be the No. 2 representative of the section which boasts the National champion, Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane.

The only other competitors were Bud Haskell, a former golfing buddy of Ward at Olympia, who shot 70-74—153, and Vaughan Spalding Jr., a vacationist from Fort Sheridan, Ill., with 83-81—164.

The National amateur is scheduled for September 9-14 at Winged Foot Country Club, N.Y.

Gabby Street owns one managerial record which stands by itself. He has managed St. Louis baseball teams in the American, National, and indoor leagues.

Holiday Weekend Ball Tournament Plans Abandoned

Cards Though Come in Playoffs, Indians for Benefit

Con Cummins, Manager of the Nelson Baseball Club, said Tuesday that preparations for an international baseball tournament in Nelson over the holiday weekend had terminated, and instead local ball fans will likely witness a pair of games with the Cardinals and Indians from Trail.

There were too few entries received up to yesterday to make the staging of a tournament feasible, so Cummins decided to drop the idea. It had been hoped to secure eight teams for the tourney, but definite acceptance was heard only from three other clubs.

Cummins is also anxious to continue the West Kootenay playoffs, so the second game of the semi-finals with the Cardinals will probably be played here Sunday afternoon, in spite of his efforts in conjunction with George Petrunia of the Indians to have the Cards thrown out because of their insistence on using imports. However, the Cards are defending champions and they lead 1-0 in the semis, so it wouldn't be very satisfactory to leave them out of it.

The Nelson Manager is also dickering with Petrunia, Indian playing boss who has just returned to Trail from a holiday at the Coast, to hold a benefit game Labor Day for Nelson's injured Coach, Ray Humble, whose knee has forced him to the sidelines for the rest of the season. The Nelson-Indians game will be an exhibition, and net proceeds will go toward paying Humble's hospital bill.

If the Cards take Nelson into camp Sunday, the final best of five series between them and the Indians will start the following Sunday. If the Nelsonites square the semis, a coin will be tossed to decide where the deciding game will be played on the 8th.

Appendicitis Throws Shute Out of Golf

HERSHEY, Pa., Aug. 27 (AP)—Denny Shute, P.G.A. champion in 1936 and 1937, was taken to hospital for an emergency operation for appendicitis today shortly after he had completed his two qualifying rounds for the current championship.

Shute had been out of competition for nearly a year because of wrist trouble that necessitated an operation, and this was to have been his return to active play in the United States. He scored rounds of 75-76 to qualify handily for match play starting tomorrow.

Kootenay Champs Start Series at Coast Sept. 18

VANCOUVER, Aug. 27 (CP) — The British Columbia senior lacrosse championship finals, between the champions of the West Kootenay League and the Intercity League winners, are slated for the Coast this year.

If the Canadian champion New Westminster Adanacs win the Intercity League title, the Kilmarnock Cup games will be played in New Westminster but if either Vancouver Burrards or Richmond Farmers triumph, the two-out-of-three series scheduled for Sept. 18, 20 and 21, if necessary, and will be held in Vancouver.

Trail Golden Bears are strong favorites to represent the interior in this play-off series to determine British Columbia's representative for the Canadian championship in the Mann Cup finals to be held in the East this year.

Winnipeg Opens Football at Calgary Friday But Hanson Won't Be There

By CHARLES EDWARDS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Most Winnipeg fans refused to believe the 27-year-old halfback could resist the pigskin's lure but the season opens with Winnipeg at Calgary on Friday and Hanson has made no move to don the moleskins. He removed the last doubts today.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27 (CP)—Melvin (Fritz) Hanson, on whose flying heels Winnipeg Blue Bombers rode to the only two Canadian senior football championships ever to come West, said today he has no intention of changing his decision to retire.

A halfback choice for every Western Interprovincial Union All-Star team since The Canadian Press selections were instituted in 1937, he announced his retirement in Ottawa last December immediately after Winnipeg beat Ottawa Rough Riders 8-7 in the Dominion final.

The blond bombshell said then he wanted to quit the game while he was still "on top" and because his job of selling bonds and insurance was taking more and more of his time.

Indication that Hanson actually was "on top" when he made that decision was given two weeks later when he was chosen Canada's No. 1 athlete of 1939 in The Canadian Press' year-end poll of sports writers.

"If I had any idea of playing again I would have turned out for Spring practice and I certainly would have checked in for the Fall workouts," he said. "It's suicide to play in this league without intensive physical preparation."

Born at Perham, Minn., Hanson was a star halfback at North Dakota State College but it was not a well-known football school and he received no national prominence. He came to Winnipeg in 1935 with five other United States players and promptly caught the fans' fancy with his terrific speed, his deceptive change of pace, his swivel-hipped elusiveness.

In five seasons of Canadian football Hanson scored 176 points in 52 games. He ran for 32 touchdowns, several counting six points under American rules as Bombers played exhibition with U. S. Colleges.

Foster Mills to Row for Kelowna in Nelson Regatta

FOSTER MILLS

There have been countless cases of boys leaving their home-towns and then bobbing up unexpectedly in other fields as a star in some sport or other.

This time it is Foster Mills, who left Nelson to reside in Kelowna last Winter, and he is returning to the Lakeside City Labor Day to team with Bruce Paige in representing Kelowna in the rowing doubles event of the Nelson Kinsmen "Win the War" regatta.

Mills was initiated into the sport before he left Nelson, and this Summer be developed into quite a rower under the tutelage of crack oarsmen at Kelowna. Paige stroked the Kelowna fours to victory in last year's Nelson regatta and was a member of the doubles which bowed to the superior ability of the Nelson team, Art Godfrey and Bud Greenwood, perennial champions in this event. Godfrey and Greenwood are all set to defend their laurels again.

Arrangements are under way to add spicy entertainment to the program by the holding of a "war canoe" race across the lake between Junior Chamber of Commerce and Kinsmen quartets. That will provide lots of comedy, and besides there will be mens and mixed canoe tilting competitions.

Challenge Softball Series Is Delayed

Because of unsettled weather conditions, the opening game of the challenge softball series between the Savoy and Hume Hotels will not be played until the weekend. The proceeds of the game, and the gates of other games in the best of three series, will go toward some patriotic purpose.

Since the evenings are now too short to hold full nine-inning games, the whole series may be run off on Sundays.

It had been originally planned to start the series this evening.

Lacrosse Interest Reaches Feverish Pitch as Playoffs Open in Rossland

Leafs to Play Redmen Tonight in First of Semis

Lacrosse playoff fever grips the Kootenays again tonight as Nelson Maple Leafs and Rossland Redmen start duelling in Rossland in a best of three semi-final bracket that will send the survivor against the Trail Golden Bears for the right to represent the Interior against the Coast winner.

What has happened in the long League schedule matters little except to determine how the teams will be lined up in the playoffs. For instance, Jock Walmsley has been doing a good deal of experimenting in rebuilding his lacrosse machine this Summer, and the lineup he will send out tonight, and it is at full strength, is one that has not been placed on the floor in its entirety previously this season. Then the Redmen, who slumped after a furious mid-season pace, ran into a flock of injuries, and tonight will be the first time since early in July that they will have all their stars on hand. In that way it is difficult to draw accurate comparisons.

The Nelson-Rossland series is going to be a tough one. There's no mistake about that, although five full games separated them over a 23-game route. Although their season's records show Rossland with a comfortable margin of seven victories to four in games with the Leafs and a lead of 163 goals to 136, their showings in the latter part of the second half indicate that the series will be a toss-up.

ROSSLAND FAVORITES

The wise guys undoubtedly have the Redmen tabbed as favorites to win the semis, and their logic is probably the same as Jock Walmsley's—that home floors will go a long way to settling the issue. The two squads have displayed decided superiority lately in their familiar haunts, and the fact that, if the series goes three games, the deciding one will be played in Rossland, if for no other reason swings the betting the way of the Golden City representatives. On the spacious Nelson floor with perfect lighting conditions, the Leafs count on victory, but the Rosslanders are used to their own band-box open-air affair, and things are bound to be difficult for Nelson up there.

However Walmsley is secretly wishing these days that Jupe Pluvius turns on all faucets full for the next couple of weeks, and in that way it will be necessary to switch the Rossland home games to Trail.

The second game in the series will be played in Nelson Friday night, and if a third is needed it will be scheduled for Rossland the night of Labor day.

LOTS OF SPIRIT

"Until our gang began to come along in the later stages of the schedule, I didn't expect too much of them until next season," Walmsley said Tuesday. "But besides polishing up their offence and defence, the boys have acquired a fighting spirit that you can't help noticing as soon as you go into the dressing room. And WHEN we get past the Redmen, those Trail guys better look out. They were just as confident last year—and what was it? Three straight."

Lineups follow:

Nelson — Dave Gibbons, goal; Regie Miller, Bud Cooper and Everett Kuhn, defence; Bill Townsend and Jock Walmsley, rovers; Jack Bishop and Pete Bonneville, centres; Harold Mayo, Ian Dingwall, Art Hill and Harold Tapanila, wings.

Rossland—Sam Sapronoff, goal; Sid Simcock, Ernie Carkner, Ralph Scott, Ross Saundry, George Anderson, Ken McGuire, Gordon Ezart, Joe Laface, Jack Cox, Ferguson, Angus McDonald, Jim Scott, Al Sitton and Paddy Dougan, wings.

Johnny Gidinski and Len Wilson have been named referees for this series and also for the finals.

Rossland, Nelson Continue Softball Series on Sept. 8th

The Rossland-Nelson series in West Kootenay men's softball playoffs will be resumed in Nelson September 8, Jimmy Allan, in charge of playoff arrangements, said Tuesday. The first game of this semi-final bracket went to Nelson 20-12 in Rossland August 16.

If a third game is necessary it will be played the same afternoon in Nelson, and the winner will advance against either Trail of Castlegar, whose series will be decided about the same time. The final will be best of five games.

Before engaging Rossland, the Nelson team eliminated Salmo in three games of a preliminary round.

No Men's Rep Softball Practice for Tonight

There will be no practice of the Nelson men's rep softball team tonight at the Recreation Grounds, and instead one will be held Friday, Coach Louis Aurello said Tuesday night.

British Navy Strikes Forcefully at Italian North Africa Ports

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 27 (AP). — British naval blows against Bardia and Bomba in Italian Libya was reported today to have inflicted a severe setback on Italy's North African forces.

The Navy announced that its forces Aug. 24, for the second time within a week, had "successfully bombarded" both Libyan war ports, making the Bardia attack "at point blank range." Full details have not been disclosed however.

Many observers here believed Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, Italian Commander, will be forced to start a drive against Egypt soon despite any reverses because, they say, constant British air and sea bombardments, with consequent disorganization of war preparations, cannot be withstood indefinitely.

Graziani, they said, is known to have concentrated on re-garrisoning bomb-blasted Fort Capuzzo as a possible front line base but apparently, at the cost of leaving his rearguard unprotected.

ROME, Aug. 27 (AP) —Tuesday's Italian communique:

"In North Africa mechanized equipment at Bir Sceferzen and barracks at Sidi Barrani were bombed by our aviation.

"An enemy convoy escorted by warships was repeatedly bombed by our air formations in the Eastern Mediterranean.

"In East Africa an attempted air raid at Asmara (Eritrea) failed because of the quick reaction of our defence. Enemy planes dropped their bombs in open country without causing damage. Our pursuit planes shot down one plane."

CASF Would Play Prominent Part in Army Attack

By SAM ROBERTSON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer).

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP Cable).—When the Empire opens its big offensive push against Germany and Italy, it is authoritatively stated, Canada's overseas forces may be expected to shed their present role of defenders of the United Kingdom for a prominent place in the army of attack.

Prime Minister Churchill has said that the military machine is being built with a view to transforming Britain's defensive war into one of offence in 1941 and 1942.

A high official who discussed long range strategy paid the Canadians the compliment of classing them among the "best trained and best equipped troops we have to hurl against the axis."

In the present phase the Canadian 1st Division under Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes and other Canadians in the corps of Dominion and British troops commanded by Gen. McNaughton, are filling an important role in the Army now defending the British Isles.

However, if Hitler's air offensive fails to knock Britain to her granite knees—and officials are ultra-confident it must fail—the axis powers are expected to try a military adventure in another direction and it must be recognized that a lapse of air attack will not mean the end of the war but only of one phase of the war.

The possibility is foreseen of Hitler striking at Gibraltar through Spain in an effort to slam that doorway to the Mediterranean. While Gen. Francisco Franco and the Spanish Army are understood to be opposed to German orientation, Spain's Fascist Falangists are strong for it.

It is possible that Italy's feints toward Greece may be a cloak for a thrust in some other direction. For instance, Mussolini could be preparing a push on Egypt, where a military reverse to Britain would strain the fabric of the Eastern sector of the Empire.

Nazis Rage Over Raids on Berlin

BERLIN, Aug. 27 (AP) — The German News Agency D.N.B. raged today at the Royal Air Force, accusing it in yesterday's raids over Berlin of having dropped incendiary bombs on non-military targets in the outskirts of the capital and threatening reprisals on London.

The agency, with the customary bombast drilled into its staff by Chief Goebbels, declared apparently for home consumption only: "London knows very well that the German air force has confined itself to military objectives in the vicinity of the English capital."

These military objectives so far have included a theatre, empty fortunately, St. Giles' Cripplegate Church and a non-military warehouse near St. Paul's Cathedral in a district where the streets are so narrow and tortuous they could not be used for military purposes and where there are no war industries.

The agency added: "All these criminal assaults are manifestations of the well-known British theme that the war is not to be waged against the armed forces of the enemy but against the enemy people itself—against aged women and children."

In contradiction to this attitude of which they now apparently disapprove after declaring "total" war on Britain, the German air force yesterday bombed the market place at Folkstone on the Channel, killing at least 50 persons. Today they bombed a poor house further along the coast, killing several aged persons. Folkestone, in peace time at least, was not a military town but a fishing port and port of clearance for Boulogne and Dunkirk.

People machine gunned in midland towns today, or relatives of the three women blown to pieces by a bomb as they walked along a midland country road, a few days ago, probably will be unimpressed by D.N.B.'s outburst.

REPORT AXIS WILL INTERFERE IN HUNGARY RUMANIA DISPUTE

BERLIN, Aug. 27 (AP).—Informed sources said tonight Germany might arbitrate in the Hungarian-Rumanian territorial dispute over Transylvania, possibly with Italian aid.

The long-drawn-out Turnu-Severin negotiations are irking the Axis partners.

Vienna would be the site of the arbitration meeting and German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop would preside, it was said.

KING SEES CHURCHILL

PEASANTS CLOG ROADS AS TREK FROM DOBRUJA

By ROBERT ST. JOHN
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

SILISTRA, Rumania, Aug. 27 (AP)—Roads leading out of Southern Dobruja are clogged with peasant caravans and the bank of the Danube is jammed with refugees seeking to leave districts they fear soon may be occupied by the Bulgarian army.

About 150,000 Rumanians live in this borderland which their government took from Bulgaria in the second Balkan war 27 years ago and now has agreed tentatively to relinquish.

Ignorant of the exact status of negotiations between the two countries, peasants and ownfolk trudge shoulder to shoulder toward the "old kingdom." They have received permission to carry with them grain, furniture, clothing and anything else they want to save.

Both Rumania and Bulgaria hope for the proposed transfer of territory to proceed smoothly but already refugees are reporting bandit raids in small villages resulting in deaths and pillaging.

Six Rumanian gendarmes were reported slain at one place and their bodies hung from trees.

Radio Station on Scilly Isles Hit Says Nazi Report

BERLIN, Aug. 27 (AP)— Tuesday's German High Command communique:

"German flying units again raided air ports and troop concentrations in Southern England as well as the naval base at Portsmouth.

The radio station on the Scilly Islands was destroyed.

Three convoyed merchantmen sustained heavy bomb hits North of Freserburgh. In the course of fighting several air battles developed which the Germans won.

(The British Air Ministry said the attack on Portsmouth met with no success. In the Scilly Islands no casualties were caused.)

Last night larger fighting plane units carried out attacks on the Plymouth naval base, the Cornwall airport, Coventry and Birmingham airplane works as well as port facilities at Hull and Newcastle.

Fires and explosions were started by numerous bombs dropped, especially at Plymouth and Hull.

"Mining of British seaports by airplanes continued.

(A British statement said that in the midlands fires were caused and industrial property damaged in two towns. Elsewhere damage was described as slight.)

"British planes last night dropped bombs at several points in the Reich territory. Damage was unimportant. Two civilians were killed and eight injured.

"The enemy's total losses yesterday were 70 planes, 61 shot down in air fights and nine on the ground. Twenty-one of our own planes are missing."

(The British Air Ministry said that at least 46 German aircraft were destroyed yesterday. British losses were put at 15 planes with 11 of the pilots safe.)

Englishman First to Register in U.S.

SEATTLE, Aug. 27 (AP).—E. A. Sleigh, a native of London, England, was the first to be registered here today in the nation-wide tabulation under the Alien Registration Act. He arrived an hour and 20 minutes before registration headquarters opened.

Although it took him 35 minutes to register, Sleigh did not complain.

"I think it's a wonderful idea," he said, wiping the fingerprint ink off his hands.

Dozens of persons were on hand when the office opened, eager to answer questions put to them. Most were British subjects, the first group called, although aliens of any nationality may report any time they wish. Several interpreters were on hand.

Registration will continue until Dec. 26 and, over the country, an estimated 3,600,000 foreign subjects will be tabulated.

900 FAMILIES JOIN BODY FAMILY ASSOC.

HARDING, Ill., Aug. 27 (AP) — The Body Family Association, an organization of Canadian and American kinsmen of the celebrated Indian scout, Buffalo Bill Cody, announced today its registration had reached 900 families.

The association, holding its 15th annual reunion, voted to meet next year in Beverly, Mass. Spokesmen said 120 members were present today, from widely scattered parts of the United States and Canada.

Plan Check Up On Registration

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (CP)—Federal Provincial and Municipal police ill immediately begin an intensive campaign to trace persons who have failed to register, according to an announcement by the Department of National War Services.

The Department announced that a letter had gone forward to the attorney-general of each province requesting the police to conduct such a campaign.

"They are being particularly asked," the announcement said, to have traffic officers require the production of registration certificates."

The R.C.M.P. are conducting a similar campaign.

The law provides that persons who without a legal excuse have not registered are liable to a fine of not more than $200 or imprisonment for three months or both and an additional penalty of $10 a day for every day following the date on which they should have registered.

Swiss Want R.A.F. to Cease Flying Over Country

BERNE, Aug. 27 (AP) —The Swiss Government today asked Great Britain "immediately and scrupulously" to enforce orders given to the Royal Air Force to cease alleged continued violation of Swiss territory in flight to Italy.

The request was made in a note to the British Foreign Office.

The Swiss Government met to discuss the "repeated violations" of Swiss territory after a night of flights across Switzerland, presumably by British planes, in which a number of persons were injured by dropping fragments of anti-aircraft shells fired at the high-flying craft.

In a dawn communique the Swiss high command stated that the times the planes crossed Switzerland and their direction made it "perfectly clear" violation of Swiss territory was "intentional."

(Switzerland already has protested twice to Britain against the flight of her bombers over this neutral state.)

Two air alarms were sounded in various Swiss cities during the night and anti-aircraft batteries fired as planes crossed and recrossed the land.

BRINGING UP FATHER

THE GUMPS

ighter Planes fo Be Shipped fo Britain Soon

BY SAM ROBERTSON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer).

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP Cable).—large and ever increasing flow the sort of fighter and bomber lots known in the British Air rce as "wizards" will soon be ming to the United Kingdom as a sult of giant strides being made in e Empire Air Training scheme, it as learned authoritatively today.

The quickening pace at which e scheme is going forward means at hundreds of the fliers needed match the numerical strength of e Italo-German Air Force—eventlly to surpass them numerically they do now in skill—will be aching combat stations shortly.

The scheme, which originally proded for 67 training schools in nada and 35 in Australia, is well ead of schedule.

It was anticipated that there ould be 15 schools in Canada by ug. 1 but instead there were 22. lot trainers have rocketed from bout 300 on June 1 to 3500 today.

Australia has already established schools and pilots are being taken t at a rate of 500 monthly.

When the ambitious scheme was unched, it embraced only Canada, ustralia, New Zealand and the nited Kingdom. Now the Union of outh Africa and Southern Rhoesia are cooperating in a big way.

Training personnel numbering 00 are understood to have left for hodesia since Spring. It is intended establish seven schools there

Pilots turned out by the schools ave started reaching here and here is not the slightest chance hat the British training period for ilots might be shortened to meet he axis air thrusts.

Airmen of the British and Dominion Forces are given twice the lying experience Nazi airmen reeive before going into action. This considered one important reason hy British, Canadian and other mpire fliers have been able to outght the numerically superior foe.

Creston Approves C. P. R. Special Rate

CRESTON, B. C. — The Canadian Pacific Railway, Monday, improved its special express train service at freight rates by reducing the maximum car load from 10,000 to 5000 pounds for any one point.

The old rate has been effective for two years and has been popular, averaging two carloads daily for a two-month period in 1938 and 1939.

The new rate should be a still greater favorite. On a 2½ ton basis many retailers will be able to handle carloads direct and can cut out the jobber.

The territory in which the special rate prevails is quite extensive. It applies at practically all stations as far as High River, to Medicine Hat, to Lethbridge and Cardston, and East on the Lethbridge-Shaunavon branch as far as Pontiex, Sask.

Kennecott Copper Income Jumps Up

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP). — Kennecott Copper Corp. and subsidiaries reported today net income after depreciation but before depletion for the six months ended June 30 of $24,787,364, or $2.29 a share, compared with $10,112,169, or 93 cents a share, in the like period of 1939.

Creston Farmers Can Deliver 18 Bushels an Acre

CRESTON, B. C., Aug. 27 (CP)—This district's grain storage problem is expected to be solved by the increased delivery quota for this area which now permits farmers to deliver 18 bushels per seeded acre. This is two bushels more than had been requested before an inspector was sent into the district to investigate storage facilities and crops.

The three elevators here can hold 200,000 bushels and new and old farm storage is expected easily to meet the estimated 40-bushel crop off 13,000 acres.

Canadian Crop Yield Favorable

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (CP)—Canada's 1940 harvest is in full swing with generally satisfactory yields reported from all provinces, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today in the last of a series of fortnightly telegraphic reports covering crop conditions throughout Canada.

Cutting and threshing is general in Ontario and the yields and quality of grain crops are satisfactory. About one-quarter of the total flue-cured tobacco crop was damaged by frost in the Norfolk district. Truck crops are doing well, though somewhat late.

In the prairie provinces, temperatures moderated during the past week and cool weather and rains were experienced in Manitoba and Eastern Saskatchewan in the latter part of the week. Threshing was well advanced in Manitoba and in the extreme South of Alberta, but elsewhere in the Prairies it was just nicely started. Wheat yields are good on the whole in Manitoba, and are very favorable in Saskatchewan with some notable exceptions between Moose Jaw and Saskatoon, Northeast of Weyburn, and in the extreme Southwest where the crops are poor.

The yield and quality of spring grains in British Columbia was not up to earlier expectations due to the prolonged drought in July and wet weather at harvest. Apples have matured earlier than usual and will shortly be moving to market in volume.

Only Few Trades on Winnipeg Exchange

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27 (CP)—The wheat futures prices remained fixed at Government minimum levels of 73⅝ cents a bushel for October and 74⅝ for December in a lifeless session of Winnipeg Grain Exchange today, marked only by a few early sales believed to have been made to Southern interests.

In cash wheat there was a good demand for most grades, especially Nos. 2 and 3 northern. Spreads were unchanged to fractionally better.

Domestic buyers gave good support to barley but prices did not advance. Local interests and mills purchased some oats.

C. B. Twigg Judges at District Fairs

CRESTON, B. C., — C. B. Twigg, District Agriculturist, returned on Saturday from Kimberley, where he had been judging at the Kimberley-Chapman Camp Horticultural Association exhibition, which runs heavy to flowers, with vegetables from C. M. & S. employees garden tracts at Marysville. The fair features some classes in poultry. Mr. Twigg reports a large entry in the flower classes and exceptional quality throughout.

He left Tuesday for Harrop where he will complete his allotment of the fruit and flower judging in time for the fair opening on Wednesday.

Friday he is at Invermere taking care of several of the classes at the old time Fall fair that has been staged continuously in the Windermere country for about 30 years and which, this year, plans to pay some of its prizes in War Savings Certificates.

Monday morning he will place the red and blue tickets at the Golden Fair. This exhibition was revived in 1930 after a lapse of more than a dozen years, and in 1939 attracted a fine entry in the agricultural sections from the farmers in the district surrounding Golden.

Pound Notes Up to Bid of $3.57

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP).—The price of an English £1 bank note soared to a closing bid price of $3.57 late today as holders all over the United States deluged money brokers to escape the deadline on a British ban against current imports.

Last week the British Treasury announced that after August 27 no English currency could be imported. The move was planned to circumvent Nazi use of huge amounts of English currency circulating in German-controlled areas in Europe.

A few months ago a £1 bank note was worth between $2 and $2.50 in the local market. At the time the import announcement was made last week the price had reached around $3.50. The quotation broke sharply, then abruptly shot forward when holders learned London had allowed until today to dispose of their money.

Veteran money dealers estimated around £200,000 in currency reached the market in the last week. A sizeable portion of this, they said, came from war refugees holding the money in the hope of getting a better price. As the 3 p.m. deadline approached such offerings increased to about £75,000.

The price of English notes has no relation to the quotations for the free and the official pounds, currently around $4.03. The two latter, in which the vast business between England and the United States is cleared, are transferred by cables and checks which merely establish credits and debits here and in London.

Farmers Ask Change in Grain Policy

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (CP) — The wheat committee of the Cabinet, headed by Trade Minister MacKinnon, probably will meet early next week to deal with problems arising out of the large grain crops in Western Canada and the lack of storage facilities.

One pressing question is whether farmers will be advanced money on grain stored on farms because of lack of elevator accommodation. Officials close to the situation expect the committee will urge the Provincial Governments to take the initiative in this matter, with the Dominion lending support.

The belief is that special legislation on the part of the provinces would be necessary.

On his return to Ottawa today after a trip to Prince Edward Island with a batch of petitions from the Prairie farmers asking several changes in the grain policy. The Minister issued a statement saying the petitions were coming in from different parts of Saskatchewan and while they were signed by many persons most of them gave no indication where a reply should be sent.

Trucks Prominent in Creston Business

CRESTON, B. C., — Trucks of various capacities play a prominent part in the transport business at Creston. At the end of June licenses for 204 had been issued at the local Provincial Police office. With the grain and fruit haul now in full swing the number will have been possibly increased to the 1939 total of just over 260. At the same date license plates had been issued for 318 autos, which is in line with 1939.

Revenues from the Motor Vehicle Act had reached $13,236 at the middle of the year. Along with car and truck plates, 669 drivers' licenses have been issued, and 105 chauffeur licenses.

Up to July 1 the Provincial Police office intake from all sources was $14,202. Of this $160 was from police court fines and costs, $300 from the Game Act Tax, and at the end of May there was demand for Free Miners' Licenses that accounted for for an intake of $323, which is a gain over the same period in 1939.

A few provincial orders sustained domestic rails. Foreign bonds coasted along evenly.

Livestock Demand Puts Prices Up

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (CP)—Wartime increase in the consumer demands for meats has put millions of additional dollars into the pockets of Canadian livestock producers, both through increased marketings and increased prices, it was calculated here today.

Hog raisers along have received $14,000,000 or $15,000,000 more in 1940 so far than they did in the same period of 1939. Cattle men have benefitted similarly under market conditions which are the best in several years.

Agricultural economists here feel the improvement is directly traceable to the war. Employment and purchasing power generally have increased. Then the defence forces are buying a lot of good quality meat and paying "decent prices" for it.

Cattle prices have increased substantially since the first of the calendar year, although marketings have increased only slightly the rise in good butcher steers is typical. Priced now at $8.25 a hundred pounds, such steers were $6.50 a year ago and $6 two years ago.

The Chicago market has been strong in recent weeks but not sufficiently stronger than the Canadian market to attract the maximum number of Canadian cattle permitted under the quota system.

Hogs are about $1 a hundred above the price of a year ago, averaging now about $9 compared to $8 then. On top of that price rise, marketings have increased greatly, from 2,022,000 head in the first 34 weeks of 1939 to 2,987,000 head in the first 34 weeks of 1940. When the average hog weighs about 200 pounds, those additional 915,000 hogs mean a heavy increase in farm income.

Discuss Market for Boswell Apples

CRESTON, B. C., — A. Mackie, President, and A. Hepher, Manager, of Boswell Fruit Growers' Association, Boswell, visited Creston, Monday, conferring with O. W. Hembling, manager of Creston sub central of Tree Fruits Ltd.

The marketing of the Boswell output is not an easy one this year. The district is heavy to Cox Orange and Jonathan apples, which are popular for export, but up to the present there is nothing definite as to what tonnage can be moved overseas. Along with these two varieties Boswell is noted for the quality of its Gravensteins, but the planting of these is limited. According to the visitors the apple crop is heavier than in 1939.

Boswell's sweet cherry crop was handled this year through Creston Cooperative Fruit Exchange and a few thousand dollars will be placed in circulation at that point before the week is out. The cherry pools have been closed and payment will be made at once.

Wheat and Corn Gain Briskly at Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—Both wheat and corn prices rallied briskly in the final hour today. Traders reported the upturn was due to a rush to novel commitments by local shorts. December and May wheat and May corn touched new highs for the day.

Firmness in the Northwest markets and slackening of liquidation caused some of the earlier sellers to cover and wheat advanced as high as 1¼ cents from the day's low points.

Declines General on Mtl. Exchange

MONTREAL, Aug. 27 (CP) — Scattered declines outweighed the few advances boarded on the stock market today.

Nickel and Hudson Bay backed fractionally. Price Brothers also sold off.

Calgary Strengthens

CALGARY, Aug. 27 (CP)—Prices were slightly stronger in oil issues on Calgary Stock Exchange today. Transfers 2015.

Sunset at 20 was three points up from previous bid; Extension at 18¼ was one up, and Coronation at 12½ was fractionally higher. Home sold at $1.50, unchanged.

Francisco Sugar Reacts to Cut in U.S. Import Quotas

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP) — Francisco Sugar 6's broke 5 to 35 on the bond market today after announcement of cut in U.S. sugar import quotas.

Australia 4½'s fell more than a point. On the sale of one bond, Belgium 6½'s tumbled 7.

Wall St. Suffers From 'War Nerves'

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—Apprehension over the war was the principal excuse given by brokers today for another dragging and uneven stock market performance.

A few rails, coppers and specialties managed to take on a mild recovery tinge but many leaders were a shade under water when the final gong sounded and numerous stocks held at Monday's levels or never even opened.

Dealings picked up at intervals and transfers of around 225,000 shares compared with 161,000 yesterday which was the second smallest turnover for a full session in 24 years.

Individual shares were propped by good business items, including earnings and dividends. Tax problems, at the same time, clouded the speculative scene.

Canadian issues generally were inactive. Canada 4's, in the bond market, dipped slightly.

"Time Has Come for Decisive Action"

MONTREAL, Aug. 27 (CP)—The time has come for "bold and decisive action—let us have it," Maj.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, Joint Deputy Minister of National War Services, said here today in an address before a service club.

General LaFleche, military attache at the Canadian legation in Paris, said the proposed joint defence measures between Canada and the United States came "as a refreshing breeze following defeat after defeat of the Allies."

"A few more such moves and we will have the enemy on the run," he said.

The ware had advanced "a long step" towards Canada. North America was in danger and its one bulwark was Britain. "We must be ready to carry our burden."

Speaking of the preparations made in France, General LaFleche said France was "not inspired, was not aroused to resist."

LIFT BAN ON PRESS ATTACK ON RELIGIOUS BELIEFS IN FRANCE

VICHY, France, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Vichy cabinet tonight annulled a law which forbids newspaper attacks on any person on account of his religious beliefs.

No details were given on this important step regarding racial and religious questions in unoccupied France. A communique after a cabinet meeting said the annulment decree had been signed and would be promulgated tomorrow in the official journal.

Resignation of Egypt Premier Quickly Denied

CAIRO, Aug. 27 (AP).—Egypt's political situation was confused today when Premier Hassan Sabry Pasha announced that his cabinet was holding office despite an earlier announcement that it had resigned.

"There is no change," the Premier declared. "The cabinet has not resigned. I did not go to the palace in that connection and I have told the press not to anticipate events."

Earlier it had been said that his cabinet, after less than two months in office, had submitted its resignation and that the Premier had begun immediately to form a new government at the request of King Farouk.

The Premier's statement mystified political circles, but informed sources expressed belief that differences within the cabinet probably had been quickly patched up and the resignation withdrawn.

Discuss Plans for Central Church in New Japan

TOKYO, Aug. 27 (AP).—Japanese representatives of 40 Christian denominations are discussing the elimination of foreign influence from their administration and the unification of all sects in a Japanese central church to conform to Japan's new nationalistic and totalitarian ideals.

Domei, Japanese News Agency, said today that an agreement is expected next week.

Foreign clergymen and officials expressed belief a growing campaign to eliminate all foreign financial aid and direction from Christian religious institutions in Japan, even including hospitals and schools.

There are some 300,000 Japanese Christians.

ACTOR DENIES MEMBER OF COMMUNIST PARTY

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP) —Actor Francis Lederer appeared at his own request before Representative Martin Dies today, and after a 20-minute closed hearing said an allegation that he was a member of the Communist party "is a complete and vicious lie."

Vermilion Favorable for Oil Development

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 27.—Vermilion area appears favorable for future development according to Dr. G. S. Hume, senior oil geologist of the Dominion Geological Survey, on his return frfom the area. He said the field will be controlled by local structures, and that wells not closely related to local structures are likely to have little success.

Reviewing the field, Dr. Hume said Battleview No. 2 crude discovery well which was drilled by Franco Oils Ltd., is producing oil steadily. This well was brought into production May 13, the producing sand having been contacted at 1353 feet. Battleview No. 3, also drilled by Franco Oils, is being given a production test.

Dr. Hume is now preparing a report which will be based in part on the results of recently completed wells and which will supplement his reports of 1935 and 1936.

Removing Children From War Zone to Give More Freedom for Fighting

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (CP) — The bringing of children from the United Kingdom to Canada has practical strategical significance, R. Keith Jepson, representative of the Children's Overseas Reception Board of the United Kingdom, told Canada over a National Network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation tonight. H. was introduced by resources Minister T. A. Crerar.

He hoped the evacuation of the children might be the beginning of a better distribution of the population of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

"The more non-combatants that are removed from the war zone, the more freedom there will be for the movement of troops; the less mouths there will be t feed within our fortress; the more currency and ships will be available for the purchase and transport of munitions of war; and the less strain there will be on Island Transport and Air Raid Precautions Services", he said.

"It is no small thing for parents in the Old Country to send their children abroad perhaps for a lengthy period, perhaps forever, to be cared for by foster parents whom they do not know and have never seen . . . but the parents will be fortified in the certain knowledge that Canada will assume this role of foster parent with a full sense of the grave responsibility of this trust; that she will give to these children every bit as much care and loving devotion as she would to her own sons and daughters."

The children at an impressionable age would form associations and friendship which would strengthen the ties of the British Commonwealth of Nations. Their outlook would be broadened and those that returned would be imbued with new ideas and impressed with wider horizons. Those who remained would contribute to the prosperity and greatness of the Dominion.

"The mathematical chances of being killed by a bomb are small. That is not the reason we are sending our children to Canada. It is because we want to protect them from the nervous and physical strain of taking them from their beds, night after night, and sometimes several times a night, and putting them into an air raid shelter in the back yard. And there is another potent reason. It is because we parents feel that once we have put our children into safety we can roll up our sleeves and make a better job of dealing with the Nazis."
