JAP BOMBERS POUND U.S.-HELD AIRFIELD

Russ Fall Back Before New Smashing Attack

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer
MOSCOW, Oct. 16 (Friday) (AP)—The Germans, in a new offensive spurt, hurled two infantry divisions supported by 100 tanks and huge air formations against northwestern Stalingrad Thursday, and "succeeded in slightly pressing back our troops," the Russians announced early today on the 53rd day of siege.

This German gain, made in a race with approaching winter, cost the enemy 1500 dead and about 45 of their tanks, the Thursday midnight communique said.

South of the besieged Volga River the Russians said another 300 Germans were slain and five guns and six blockhouses and two munition dumps were destroyed by one Red army unit. The Nazi blockhouse garrisons either were killed or captured.

North of the city where the Red Army has driven wedges into the Nazi flank extending from the Don River to Stalingrad, the communique reported only indecisive fighting of local importance.

In the mid-Caucasian area of Moscow the Soviet bulletin said the Red Army fought off three successive Nazi attacks, burning or disabling 19 German tanks and killing approximately two companies of enemy infantry.

The Russians in this area also were reported to have broken into a series of Nazi trenches where several scores of Germans were killed.

"Our troops," the communique said, "fought for the annihilation of enemy groups of tanks and infantry which had driven a wedge into our defenses." This wedge apparently was the same one reported in yesterday's communique.

Fighting also flared on the Bryansk front, about 210 miles southwest of Moscow. Two German at-

James Gordon of Nelson Disappears While Fishing, Kootenay Lake

Leaving no trace—not of a boat, of lightweight cushions that also serve as lifeavers, of oars, of a gasoline can nor a hat, all things which could be expected to float—James E. Gordon of Nelson, District Freight Agent for the C.P.R., disappeared while fishing on Kootenay Lake Wednesday afternoon. Searchers who began to hunt for him after midnight Wednesday with the thought that he might have been marooned on the beach away from settlements, and others who searched till after dark Thursday, found nothing.

A keen fisherman and fond of company, Mr. Gordon asked several friends Wednesday morning to go fishing with him. None was able to do so, and he finally left alone.

Late Wednesday night, worried because he had not returned, Mrs. Gordon telephoned John C. B. Wallace, often his companion on fishing trips, to tell him Mr. Gordon was still absent. Mr. Wallace contacted J. J. McKewen and the two of them drove to Balfour, and in Robert Andrew's boat searched through the night along the shores of the lake, covering 24 miles of shoreline. They were unsuccessful.

The C.P.R. Steamer Moyie, coming down the lake from the Laramie Wednesday night, saw no fire before nor on the water.

Early Thursday morning the search was intensified under direction of the Provincial Police. Constable T. W. Glablin of Kaslo took the police boat to the scene. Corporal J. G. M. Lock and Constable Cutler went out from Nelson.

Private citizens joined in the hunt. They included Mr. McKewen, W. R. Dunwoody, Ernest Collinson, William Young, Robert Andrew, Dr. Stewart of Calgary, Mrs. O. C.

Thomas and son Kurt of Balfour, Frank Seal of Balfour, Thomas Shorthouse, Cecil Hughes, Walter Duckworth and W. Harkness.

WIDE AREA COVERED
There were up to eight boats together on the lake, and their search extended from Ainsworth and Blenden on the North to Gray Creek on the South.

JAP CRUISER SERIOUSLY HIT IN PACIFIC

Airmen Give Heavy Support to Ground Troops

By MURLIN SPENCER

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA Oct. 16 (Friday) (AP)—Allied airmen supporting their comrades fighting the Japs in the lower Solomons bombed and evidently seriously damaged an enemy light cruiser yesterday near Faisi in the upper area of the island chain a communique said today.

The cruiser, attacked from a low altitude with 500-pound bombs "lost speed, turned and came to a dead stop, evidently seriously damaged," allied headquarters announced.

Faisi is a tiny island off the South tip of Bougainville Island, one of the multiple Japanese bases the enemy uses in an effort to dislodge the United States Marines from Guadalcanal, approximately 325 miles to the Southeast.

Meanwhile allied ground troops still were fighting the Japanese on the Northern slopes of the Owen Stanley Mountains at a point some 12 miles North of Kokoda, mid-way between Port Moresby and the Japanese base of Buna on the Pusan coast.

There were no details of the progress of this rugged struggle which has been going on since patrol clashes began last Monday. It was being fought in the vicinity of Templeton's crossing where a winding trail descends toward Kokoda.

Allied airmen cooperating with the Australian bush troops below bombed enemy installations at the rear point of Walcott near Templeton's Crossing itself, and all along the track leading to Buna.

An allied reconnaissance unit also ranged far to the North to attack Japanese installations at Salamaua in upper New Guinea.

In the Northwestern aerial theatre allied medium bombers raided the Japanese-held village of Aileu on the Island of Timor.

Ask Petain Protest on Call for Nazi African Aid

LONDON, Oct. 16 (Friday) (CP Cable)—The Daily Mail in a Madrid dispatch said today that reports from Vichy received in the Spanish capital declared Gen. Maxime Weygand and Gen. Henry Giraud had called on Marshal Petain to protest against Paris press agitation for acceptance of German military aid against a purportedly impending Allied attack on North Africa.

Weygand, commander of French forces in North Africa, and Giraud, a former German captive who escaped from his prison quarters and returned to unoccupied France, were reported to have told the Marshal that the French army in Africa would not stand for such "cooperation."

Mothers and Babies Are Among British Evacuees

A U. S. ATLANTIC PORT, Oct. 15 (AP)—A number of British evacuees, including expectant mothers and some mothers whose babies were born during the voyage, have arrived safely here.

The passengers also included some survivors of torpedoed merchant vessels and a number of American entertainers.

Among those who debarked was Bebe Daniels, American and English film and stage star.

Census of Rail, Bus Travel to Start Today

MONTREAL, Oct. 15 (CP)—Transport Controller T. C. Lockwood said tonight that a three-day census of rail and bus travel in Canada would start tomorrow. The census will cover both civilian and Servicemen travel.

Mr. Lockwood refused to comment on the reason for the census except to say that "it has nothing to do with travel rationing." He said he did not think there was any immediate prospect of such rationing.

Stranded Steel Clothesline Out for Duration

OTTAWA, Oct. 15 (CP)—When the Wartime Prices and Trade Board had to choose between wire clotheslines and armaments it didn't hesitate for a moment. Stranded steel clothes line wire is out for the duration.

By order of H. H. Foreman, Administrator of fabricated steel and non-ferrous metals, the manufacture of stranded steel clothes line wire has been prohibited.

Based on production in 1941, the restriction will make 518 tons of steel wire—enough to manufacture 51,800 Bren guns—available for more essential purposes.

SWISS APPROACH NAZIS ON CHAINING FIGHT

Red Cross Offer to Mediate Dispute Refused

OTTAWA, Oct. 15 (CP)—The External Affairs Department announced tonight that the Swiss Government, the protecting power for both Britain and Canada in Germany, has "made an approach to the German Government" in connection with the dispute over chaining of prisoners of war.

The Department said that when Canada last Friday protested, through the Swiss Consul-General, the action of the German Government in chaining a number of Canadians captured at Dieppe, the Swiss Consul-General was also informed "that the Canadian Government would welcome the services of the Government of Switzerland as the protecting power for both belligerents with a view to securing an early settlement of the dispute and the freeing of the prisoners."

LONDON, Oct. 15 (CP)—The Foreign Office announced tonight that the International Red Cross has approached both Britain and Germany with an offer to mediate the dispute over the chaining of prisoners.

The Foreign Office expressed "appreciation of this offer" but said that since Britain already had invited Switzerland, the protecting power of the Geneva Convention which governs the treatment of war captives, the Government is leaving it up to the Red Cross to decide in what way its services can be most effective.

The Red Cross, the statement said, pointed out that the chaining of prisoners as reprisal violated article 11 of the Geneva Convention and ex-

FRILLY HOME LIGHTING FIXTURES OUT

Permission Needed to Buy Replacements

BAN CAST METAL

By JAMES MCCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Oct. 15 (CP)—The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has brought down to earth any imaginative ideas of householders who have an eye for elaborate lighting fixtures.

From now on, it was learned today, decorative metal frills are out, lighter steel must be used and there may be no fluorescent fixtures for domestic use.

Special permission will be required for the purchase of replacement fixtures.

No manufacturer may use any metal, other than lead, silver, iron or steel of 22 gauge or lighter, in the manufacture of domestic lighting fixtures.

The use of cast metal fixtures is eliminated, conserving two-thirds of the weight of metal previously used.

"Allowing a saving of one pound of metal on each 94,000 watt bracket, and four pounds each on 141,000 ceiling type fixtures, a rough estimate of 329 tons of metals is reached," one official said.

The restrictions do not apply on current-carrying parts of the household equipment, and other subsidiary and essential equipment.

For economy of materials and power, the number of sockets or lampholders in bracket or wall-type fixtures has been restricted to one. As many as three were used in the past.

Ceiling fixtures of the "close-up" type such as are used in bedrooms are restricted to two sockets. The pendant type of ceiling fixture is cut down to three sockets. Both these types used as many as four or five sockets in the past.

Indicating the importance of the saving to be made officials said 235,000 fixtures were produced in Canada last year. If one socket were removed from each of the same number of fixtures during the next year the saving—at the rate of one ounce of brass a socket—would be more than seven tons, sufficient to supply the brass content of more than 1,700 army-tank radio receiving sets.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15 (CP)—The Vancouver Medical Association today was on record as supporting a Federal Department of Health order that Vancouver chlorinate its water supply.

May Ease Rules on Gold Mines Producing Metals

OTTAWA, Oct. 15 (CP)—Restrictions on the employment of men by gold mines may be relaxed for mines which also produce base metals essential to the war effort, it was learned today.

Selective Service officials have received representations from some mines which produce such war-important metals as tungsten and copper as well as gold. Consideration is being given to making special provision for mines of this type.

Final decisions are likely to be made by regional Selective Service officers, it was said here.

CROAT REBELS CAPTURE THREE TOWNS

Two Companies of Italians Are Wiped Out

RAID OIL FIELDS

LONDON, Oct. 15 (AP)—Embittered and disillusioned Croat peasant followers of Dr. Vladimir Masek were reported tonight waging a new and independent guerrilla war against occupation forces and the Brown-Shirted Ustachi Storm Troopers of the Italian Puppet Ante Pavelic.

In sharp fighting, official Moscow broadcasts said, the new guerrilla force captured the towns of Jalce in the Pliva valley, 30 miles Northwest of Sarajevo, Jastrebarsko, 15 miles Southwest of the Croat capital of Zagreb, and Ko Tinevac, 25 miles Southwest of Zagreb.

Two companies of Italians were declared to have been wiped out in the battles in the Pliva and Sava valleys between Zagreb and Sarajevo, while another guerrilla detachment was reported to have raided the Kulin oil fields where 130 soldiers were killed and nine oil wells dynamited.

4000 PEASANTS FIGHT

The outbreak of the new guerrilla war in Croatia was reported in Bern last night by Yugoslav sources, who said a force of 4000 peasant soldiers is operating independently of the regulars and guerrillas under Gen. Draza Mihailovic who have been fighting in the mountains since their country was overrun by the German war machine in April, 1941, and then parceled out among Italians, Germans, Hungarians and Bulgarians to administer.

The new developments were confirmed by Yugoslav sources here who said "unrest is greater in Yugoslavia than at any time since outbreak of the war."

The revolt in the state which the Axis set up along the Nazi pattern as a solution of Balkan problems apparently had its roots in popular dissatisfaction with the rule of Pavelic, who escaped to Italy in 1934 after the assassination of King Alexander of the Yugoslavs.

In an effort to curb dissatisfaction and please Berlin, he was reported to have reorganized his government and dismissed the chief of police.

Dr. Masek, veteran Croat peasant leader, was variously reported arrested, in house custody and in retirement on his farm near Zagreb. Dismissed with the part assigned to Croats in the Yugoslav state, Masek stood aloof from efforts to weld the nation into a solid fighting unit before his country was invaded, and many of his followers imagined that they would gain greater privileges from a breakup of the state.

Yugoslav sources said 49 trains were derailed in Croatia in September, a heavy blow to the German transport plans which call for a large movement of troops and supplies to Greece and the Black Sea in order to support the Russian and African fronts.

Risk Battleships Near Island in Grim Attack

Jap Vessel Shells Air Base in the New Hebrides; Three Jap Transports Previously Bombed, Burning on Beach

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (CP)—Japanese bombers have struck anew at the Guadalcanal airfield held by United States forces in the Solomon Islands, the Navy announced today, as a great struggle for domination of much of the Southwest Pacific Ocean raged on.

The latest air attack was disclosed in a communique which added but few details to what had already been told of the crucial aero-amphibious conflict in a communique earlier in the day.

It was stated that enemy naval forces were still operating, at last reports, in the vicinity of Savo Island, which guards the approaches to the Japanese-held Northern section of Guadalcanal. There was no mention of any action involving either American air or surface forces.

The Japanese armada had been disclosed earlier to include battleships. This was the first time the enemy has risked his capital vessels in the vicinity of Guadalcanal and the fact emphasized his grim determination to regain control of the island and smash the American offensive in the Southwest Pacific at virtually any cost.

While the outcome of the struggle still hung in the balance, the navy added these details of information in tonight's communique:

Twenty-seven enemy bombers blasted the Guadalcanal airfield shortly after noon on Oct. 15, Guadalcanal time. Results of this raid were not announced.

SHELLING DIVERSION

On the night of Oct. 14-15, American positions on Espiritu Santo Island, site of an air base, in the New Hebrides, were shelled by an enemy ship believed to be a submarine. Espiritu Santo is 450 miles Southeast of Guadalcanal, and the action had the appearance of a diversionary move by the Japanese.

Three enemy transports, which the navy previously had reported bombed by United States planes on the morning of Oct. 15, were observed beached and burning. Meanwhile the enemy surface forces, including two transports, were "still in the vicinity of Savo Island."

Those were the facts added by tonight's communique, which said in addition only that "no report pertaining to the land fighting in Guadalcanal has been received."

The earlier communique, however, had said that United States army troops now are fighting with the marines, who originally invaded the island and captured its airfield from the Japanese last August.

The fight for possession of Guadalcanal, on which the Japanese earlier this year built a first-class airport, has the primary objective of blocking the enemy from the vital supply line linking North America and Australia, and the secondary purpose of gaining an offensive base for future operations against powerful Japanese outposts in the North-east Solomons and beyond them, the main Japanese Naval and air bases.

Decisive Air Success Must Precede Second Land Front in Europe

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

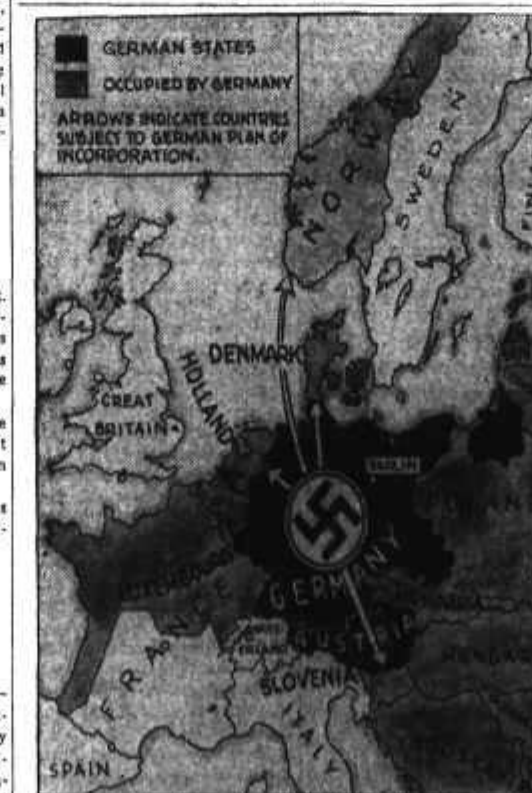

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP)—Captain E. V. (Eddie) Rickenbacker brought back today from an official survey trip to Britain the conclusion that second land front in Europe must await decisive success for the British-American air offensive.

Already aerial superiority is "definitely on the Allies' side" and "the trend is entirely in our favor," the first great war air ace reported to War Secretary Henry Stimson. But he added:

"The European Theatre will remain an air theatre until we have secured superiority of the German air force and paralyze the production capacity of the German aircraft industry."

In general, Rickenbacker said that "the picture, from our standpoint, is as bright as the grim portrait of war can be," although he warned against complacency. American planes and tactics have proven sound and have won the approval of British authorities.

"We must keep our aircraft plants going at full capacity and send a steady stream of bombers, fighters, air crews and ground crews, and all that goes with it, flowing to England, so that in time there will be a constant cloud of Allied combat craft over the skies of Germany," Rickenbacker advised.

CONFEDERATED-REICH HITLER PLAN

This map shows the set-up of Hitler's latest idea—a confederation of Germanized European states involving Germany, Holland, Norway and Denmark and possibly, Slovenia. Meanwhile, Denmark has already refused to agree to such an "anschluss" and there have been many indications of growing unrest among Norwegians.

Chief Justice Urges Service Clubs to Join Victory Loan Campaign; Garland Tells What Canada Is Doing

Two stirring messages were given to Nelson service clubs and other organizations at a joint meeting Thursday night at the Memorial Hall. Hon. Wendell B. Farris of Vancouver, Chief Justice, called upon them to be proud of living in these times and to take part in building a new world by support of the Victory Loan Campaign. C. B. Garland, chosen to present the message to Canadian service clubs prepared by Hon. J. L. Halsey, Minister of Finance, told what Canada had done thus far in the war, and how the tremendous effort was being financed.

R. B. Morris, representing the Gyro Club, presided. Other representatives were Mayor N. C. Stubbs, Chairman of the Nelson War Finance Committee; Mrs. O. S. Mcintosh, Kokanee Chapter, I.O.D.E.; Mrs. C. W. Tyler, Nelson Soroptimist Club; Mrs. T. Gorman, Women's Institute; K. C. McCannell, Rotary Club; and Edward Stromstead, Kinsmen Club.

Miss Shirley Herron, accompanied by Mrs. Gladys Webb Foster, gave two violin solos, and a trio consisting of Mrs. Tyler, pianist, Miss Molly Cottingham and Miss Margaret Gerrish, violinists, presented selections.

V. C. Owen led the gathering in opening community songs.

"OUR WAR"

"It's our war," said Mr. Garland. "We have a country coveted by other people... This country looked an easy prey to Hitler and those of his kind. We looked like a soft people, a decadent people."

Then he told something of Canada's war effort, and how the people's money was financing it.

In September, 1939, Canada had 32,000 men in its Armed Forces, few weapons, few war machines, and few tools. Now it had over 500,000 in the Active Services, 120,000 more in the Reserve Army, huge new industries turning out tanks, machine guns and artillery for the first time in Canada, and was sending equipment not only to its own men but to all of the United Nations.

"It is a very proud thing for a country such as we are," Mr. Garland asserted. "It has been achieved by your efforts—the efforts of the people in lending money and in construction."

DO SO MUCH; DO IT SO WELL

He quoted Mr. Halsey's declaration that Canada should aim at obtaining recognition of its achievement; should make the other Al-

you," he asserted, "to show, and tell your neighbors that it is not only a duty but a privilege to take that small part in Canada's affairs represented by Victory Loan subscriptions. There must be service and sacrifice, that at the conclusion of the war we may have the peace that we really expect and demand."

He looked back to the early days of the war, and contrasted those days with the present when Russia was an Ally, the United States was fully in the war, South American countries were "on our side," Mexico was united and fighting.

SUN BREAKING THROUGH

"So the sun is beginning to break through," the Chief Justice continued. A great transition was taking place and when the war ended there would be a different, better world.

"Be proud to be living in these times and to have the opportunity of taking part in building this new world," he urged.

Mayor Stubbs promised that the Chief Justice's message would be carried by members of the audience to "all parts of the city," and expressed appreciation for his address.

AIR LOSSES FOR AXIS OVER MALTA NOW 94

Beurling's Score Reaches 29; Tobruk Bombed

SALUM ATTACKED

By STEPHEN BARBER

CAIRO, Oct. 15 (AP) — Axis air losses over Malta increased to 94 since Sunday with the destruction of 15 more enemy craft over the rocky island fortress today as the Germans and Italians strove mightily to reinforce and supply their stalled army in Egypt.

Night results added two unspecified aircraft to the three bombers and eight fighters shot down before daylight.

Three of the craft destroyed today went before the guns of Po. George Beurling of Verdun, Que., the Canadian ace who knocked down Malta's 100th victim three days ago. Beurling now has accounted for 29 of the enemy.

Beurling destroyed two Messerschmitt 109's and a Junkers 88 before being forced to bail out of his bullet-riddled fighter, the Air Ministry's news service said.

1. The intensified air siege was in its fifth day after the R.A.F. had shot down 23 Axis planes during four enemy swoops on Malta on Wednesday, leaving only five Spitfires from which three pilots were saved.

Heavy U. S. bombers in daylight Wednesday again attacked Tobruk—Chief Axis supply base and destination of Axis convoys.

A large merchant ship was hit directly by two bombs and a nearby lighter was destroyed.

R.A.F. medium bombers also attacked Salum near the Egyptian frontier, starting fires, attacked transport vehicles in the desert at Sidi Hannish and machine-gunned objectives in the Daba area.

The battlefield remained quiet while the quartermasters of both sides feverishly built their armies for what is expected to be the most withering campaign of the desert.

Portland Man Admits He Kidnapped Girl

RED BLUFF, Calif., Oct. 15 (AP) — Sheriff James N. Froom said tonight Belmont B. Dubois, of Portland, Ore., had admitted he kidnapped 4-year-old Vivian Miller of San Francisco.

GRANTS PASS, Ore., Oct. 15 (AP) — A smiling four-year-old girl, identified by Chief of Police Carl Dallas as Vivian Miller, who disappeared from San Francisco Tuesday was found in Grants Pass today.

The tot was left at a public school by a couple the girl identified as "my new mommy and daddy."

The chief of police did not have a description of the couple or the car, and the possibility of locating them is slim, he said.

The little girl was taken to a newspaper office, where she said she had never seen the couple who took her for a "long ride" until they picked her up on a San Francisco street and promised to buy her a doll.

Her disappearance started one of the most intensive hunts ever seen in the Bay city.

RED BLUFF, Calif., Oct. 15 (AP) — A man and his wife were arrested near here today by a California State Highway Patrolman for questioning about the kidnapping of four-year-old Vivian Miller of San Francisco, Sheriff James N. Froom said tonight.

Police Inspectors Marvin E. Donnell and John O'Connell left with the child's father by automobile tonight for Grants Pass to bring Vivian home.

The sheriff said the couple identified themselves as Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Dubois.

Interpreting The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

A crisis in the war in the Pacific of imponderable consequence is at hand, it seems, in what the U.S. Navy styles "the current battle" for possession of the Guadalcanal fulcrum for control of the Solomon Islands.

Washington official reports on the action were still too meagre as this was written to define its scope or clearly indicate its trend. There was very evidence, however that Japan had finally answered the challenge of the American seizure of Guadalcanal by making an all-out effort to retake it.

At least one enemy battleship was in action. The language of Navy announcements referring to other units sighted in the vicinity indicates that other capital ships are supporting the effort to land strong reinforcements on the island, already partially successful.

The strength and composition of American naval forces available to meet this major attack is not indicated. Only light naval units, and army and marine corps planes were mentioned in first accounts. But substantial army ground and air forces have arrived to reinforce the Americans.

In the light of the confidence of American ability to hold Guadalcanal expressed by Admiral Nimitz, Pacific Fleet Commander, how-

BRITONS WILL BE WARMEST OF EUROPEANS

Rationing of Coal Unlikely; Wool Clothing Suggested

By FOSTER BARCLAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 15 (CP) — British households will be a little duller and draughtier this winter due to fuel economies, but nobody is likely to freeze in Britain's damp and chilly climate.

"Even if fuel is rationed there will be only a 20 per cent reduction in 'heat comfort' compared with pre-war days," said an official of the Department of Economic Warfare.

"For the rest of Europe, however, the prospect is bleak. The best Germany can hope for will not be more than two-thirds pre-war-time comfort. In other continental countries the consumption of fuel permitted will be from half last year's consumption to none at all."

Although officials admit that Britain's coal position is critical, there is no immediate indication that a much-mooted rationing scheme, which Labor members of Parliament consider necessary, will be introduced.

Just when people were thinking about switching on electric heaters and heaping coal on the living room fire the Fuel Ministry banned heating in flats and hotels until November. Instead, they advised people to don woollies and heavier clothing earlier than usual.

This suggestion was directed especially to women—acquainted to going about in scanty underclothes and frilly dresses—by Sir Leonard Hill, eminent physiologist. His "prescription" for the save-fuel winter, was, in a nutshell, "open your windows and wear more clothes."

A crisis in the war in the Pacific of imponderable consequence is at hand, it seems, in what the U.S. Navy styles "the current battle" for possession of the Guadalcanal fulcrum for control of the Solomon Islands.

Washington official reports on the action were still too meagre as this was written to define its scope or clearly indicate its trend. There was very evidence, however that Japan had finally answered the challenge of the American seizure of Guadalcanal by making an all-out effort to retake it.

At least one enemy battleship was in action. The language of Navy announcements referring to other units sighted in the vicinity indicates that other capital ships are supporting the effort to land strong reinforcements on the island, already partially successful.

The strength and composition of American naval forces available to meet this major attack is not indicated. Only light naval units, and army and marine corps planes were mentioned in first accounts. But substantial army ground and air forces have arrived to reinforce the Americans.

BRITONS WILL BE WARMEST OF EUROPEANS

Rationing of Coal Unlikely; Wool Clothing Suggested

By FOSTER BARCLAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 15 (CP) — British households will be a little duller and draughtier this winter due to fuel economies, but nobody is likely to freeze in Britain's damp and chilly climate.

"Even if fuel is rationed there will be only a 20 per cent reduction in 'heat comfort' compared with pre-war days," said an official of the Department of Economic Warfare.

"For the rest of Europe, however, the prospect is bleak. The best Germany can hope for will not be more than two-thirds pre-war-time comfort. In other continental countries the consumption of fuel permitted will be from half last year's consumption to none at all."

Although officials admit that Britain's coal position is critical, there is no immediate indication that a much-mooted rationing scheme, which Labor members of Parliament consider necessary, will be introduced.

Just when people were thinking about switching on electric heaters and heaping coal on the living room fire the Fuel Ministry banned heating in flats and hotels until November. Instead, they advised people to don woollies and heavier clothing earlier than usual.

This suggestion was directed especially to women—acquainted to going about in scanty underclothes and frilly dresses—by Sir Leonard Hill, eminent physiologist. His "prescription" for the save-fuel winter, was, in a nutshell, "open your windows and wear more clothes."

Spitfire Pilot's Air Signals Saved Fortress Crew

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE BOMBER COMMAND, U.S. ARMY AIR FORCES, somewhere in England, Oct. 15 (AP) — Nine American Flying Fortress crewmen are alive and their $550,000 plane will fly against Hitler again because, in one split second, an alert British Spitfire pilot improvised an air sign language.

But for Lt. A. J. Andrews, fighter pilot of the R.A.F., the Flying Fortress would have crashed in the rough English Channel and the crew might not have been here today to tell the story.

Lieut. James Stewart was piloting his Fortress in the big raid against Lille last Friday when he was jumped by swarms of German fighters. They knocked two motors out, smashed the radio apparatus, riddled the life raft and drilled shrapnel holes in the rudder.

The Fortress finally shook them off but lost height rapidly over the channel until, approaching England's hills, it had dropped about 1500 feet. The third motor was beginning to cough.

"I knew it was only a question of several hundred yards before I would have to make a crash landing and with hills in front of me it looked as if the best chance was to land in the channel," said Stewart.

"I was plucking out a soft spot in the water which was very rough."

At this critical moment Andrews appeared and instantly sized up the situation. He could not communicate by radio so he jumped in front of the Fortress, wagged his wings violently and headed directly for shore.

"I knew he wanted me to follow him so I took a chance," Stewart continued.

The Spitfire sped straight over a low hill, he said, and "just as he reached the crest of the hill he wagged his wings again and dropped his landing gear to show me there was a field below."

The struggling bomber just cleared the hill and rolled on to a runway directly in front of a field of which its crew had no knowledge. The crew agreed that their plane probably could not have flown another 100 yards.

Military, Legion in Large Company at Whiteley Rites

Military honors were accorded here Thursday afternoon to the late Wilson Whiteley of Procter, veteran of service with the Imperial Legion in India, Burma and Aden, who died at Nelson Monday.

Members of the Veterans Guard of Canada served as a guard of honor and as pallbearers, escorting the funeral procession from the Thompson Funeral Home to St. Saviour's Pro-Cathedral, and again formed an escort for the hearse from the entrance of Nelson Memorial Park to the graveside into the soldiers' plot. As the flag-draped casket passed into and from the Pro-Cathedral the military escort and honorary pallbearers formed open ranks through which it passed.

Rev. W. J. Silverwood of the Church of the Redeemer, Fairview, conducted the services in the Church and at the graveside. Hymns "Abide With Me" and "Unto the Hills" were sung. Miss Margaret Graham being Organist.

Many from South Slovan and Slovan Park, where Mr. Whiteley lived for many years, and from Procter and other lake points attended the rites. The Canadian Legion, of which he was a member, was represented.

At the conclusion of the committal service, members of the escort, pallbearers, and Capt. H. E. Thain of the Canadian Legion deposited poppies on the casket as a final salute.

Sgt. Ingram of the Veterans Guard platoon, stationed here, was in command of the guard of honor.

Churches Are Urged to Assist on Victory Loan Sunday

A direct appeal to all priests and ministers in Nelson to assist in the Victory Loan Sunday by emphasizing the Third Victory Loan Campaign has been made by Mayor N.C. Stubbs, Chairman of the Nelson War Finance Committee.

"The Church," he added, "is the one dominant factor to which we must all look in this hour of grave danger which besets the world today. Thus we renew our strength and hope."

tried to locate and counter-attack the U-boat.

Disclosure of the loss of the 4000-ton merchant ship, one of the vessels in a small convoy, was withheld until today for naval security reasons.

(In Ottawa today Navy Minister Macdonald announced the loss and said:

"Although some statement in the toll of merchant ships taken by submarines in the Western Atlantic has been noticeable in August and September, the continuing attacks in the St. Lawrence have impressed the conclusion upon us that there can be no relaxation of our efforts.")

(At an Eastern Canadian port the quartermaster of the sunken ship said: "I'm sure one of the Canadian escorts got the U-boat." Other crewmen expressed agreement but there was no official confirmation for this remark.)

(Mr. Macdonald's statement said simply: "The U-boat was not seen.")

The incident, one of a number of sinkings which have occurred in the St. Lawrence River during the past three months, startled residents on the shore—particularly Octave Gendron, lighthouse-keeper, and his family who live on a point jutting out into the river.

Gendron, awakened by the explosion of the torpedo and the subsequent firing of star shells by naval vessels in order to light up the area and find the submarine, though his lighthouse was under bombardment.

Operational aircraft were sent to the scene at once but by the time they arrived the shooting was over and all they saw was some floating debris, presumably the remains of the sunken freighter.

Previous announcements have disclosed the sinking of nine other ships in the St. Lawrence area, and the damaging of one other. These earlier sinkings took place further down stream, mostly in the vicinity of Cap Chat where the St. Lawrence is about 100 miles wide and gives the undersea craft ample room to manoeuvre and hide. At Metis, near Mont Joli, about halfway between the river mouth and Quebec City, the river is about 20 miles wide and it is estimated last week's sinking occurred about 15 miles out in the river from Gendron's lighthouse.

Gendron, a middle-aged man with a family of 13 children, claims he saw a submarine in the bay between the lighthouse point and the beach last July 10. It remained there about an hour during the evening and then disappeared.

As a dance was in progress in the hotel at the beach that night it is believed this may have been the incident referred to in a German communiqué which quoted a submarine commander as saying his crew listened to dance music on the shores of the St. Lawrence.

Mr. Gendron reported the incident to local authorities and said several officers came to question him about it. He also wrote a letter to Defence Minister Ralston about it and received a reply stating the matter had been referred to Navy Minister Macdonald.

Because of the position of the lighthouse, the Gendron family got more of a shock from the sinking than other residents who could see and hear less, although many heard enough to know that something unusual was taking place.

This gunfire was what made Gendron think the enemy was firing at his lighthouse but what was really happening was that Canadian corvettes were firing starshells to illuminate the area in the hope of sighting the submarine.

"But the subs take no chances," a naval officer in the area said.

He said it is easy for a submarine to lie in wait until it gets a shot at a ship and then make itself scarce, remaining under water with motors stopped until the danger has passed.

The job of fighting submarines in the huge expanse of water which is the lower St. Lawrence is carried out jointly by the Royal Canadian Navy and Royal Canadian Air Force. The Navy's ships make patrols in the river and escort convoys. The Air Force maintains a 24-hour patrol.

"But an aircraft can only see a submarine when it is on the surface and the submarine with its listening devices can hear an aircraft long before it is seen and get under water," an Air Force officer said of St. Lawrence operations.

The main effect of air patrols is to make the submarines stay down. When they know aircraft are flying in their vicinity they keep under water because one accurately-aimed depth charge from a plane is "certain."

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, Oct. 15 (CP).—Survivors of the latest-announced submarine sinking in the St. Lawrence River expressed belief here that the U-boat which made the attack was subsequently sunk by Canadian naval vessels.

Twelve men, including a Verdun, Que., mess boy and a Halifax wireless operator, lost their lives in the loss of the 4000-ton merchant ship and 18 were landed at an Eastern port, coming here later. The sinking was announced in Ottawa today.

"I'm sure one of the Canadian escorts got the U-boat," said the quartermaster, whose best friend was among those lost.

Reports of Nazi Army Shake-up Grow Persistent

LONDON, Oct. 15 (CP).—Belief that Hitler has made a drastic shake-up in his military commands, ousting both Col. Gen Franz Halder and Field Marshal Fedor von Bock, was expressed today by qualified London observers on the basis of persistent reports from Stockholm.

Halder was chief of the German General Staff, and Von Bock commanded the powerful Nazi drive on Stalingrad.

These observers, whose names could not be disclosed, said that the continued reports that the generals had been ousted appeared based on fact, but that the names of their successors had not yet been disclosed.

U.S. Troops Push Supplies to Russ in Caucasus

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (AP).—United States supply troops at the head of the Persian Gulf, Secretary of War Stimson said today, are now hastening the flow of equipment to the Russians in the Caucasus.

The Secretary noted this in a Round-The-World discussion at his press conference which also touched on these points:

Occupation of the Andean Islands in the Aleutians by army forces under naval command in an advance which "changed the entire picture in the Aleutians."

The mounting activities of American airmen in cooperation with their British Allies in Europe, North Africa and over the Mediterranean.

American army operations in patrolling off the Continental United States, in China, and India.

The army's big supply base in Eritrea where tanks and motor vehicles are assembled and sent forward to the British armies in North Africa. Through the heart of Central Africa is a series of landing fields for planes enroute to India, Egypt, China and Russia.

Drastic New Dim Out Rules for Vancouver Isld.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15 (CP).—Drastic new dimout regulations for the Southwest portion of Vancouver Island including the city of Victoria have been agreed upon by military and civilian defence authorities, it was announced here today by W. C. Mainwaring, Chairman of the British Columbia Civilian Protection Committee.

The order has the effect of extending Northward regulations recently imposed on the Pacific coast of the United States which require the shielding of all lights visible from the sea.

Mainwaring said full details of the dimout would be announced later. A partial dimout of the entire British Columbia coast, banning exterior advertising signs and unattended lights, with the exception of street lighting, has been in effect for some time. The new dimout order does not affect the mainland.

"Broadly speaking," Mainwaring said, "the dimout will require that all street lighting and other exterior lighting that would direct light seaward or skyward would be extinguished completely or shielded so that the rays would be directed away from the water."

"Motor traffic would operate in the area, to be dimmed out with either small individual parking lights or very small filaments in the headlights."

The Civilian Protection head said that since the dimming-out of the Olympic Peninsula directly opposite Victoria a serious hazard to shipping had resulted since enemy undersea craft would use the reflection and glare of lights thrown seaward to silhouette the vessels, ensuring perfect targets.

Details of the exact limits of the area to be dimmed out are under survey and full instructions will be issued to the public together with reasonable notice before the order is put into effect, Mainwaring said.

LA FLECHE IS CHAIRMAN OF GROUP STUDYING CANADA LIQUOR POLICY

OTTAWA, Oct. 15 (CP).—Gen. L. R. LaFleche, newly-appointed Minister of National War Services, today was named chairman of the cabinet committee which is studying the liquor consumption problem in Canada.

gunner, said that nearly 30 depth charges were dropped by the warships. They said the U-boat fired at close range from a point not more than 2 1/2 miles from the near shore and they guessed the escorts trapped the sub in these confined waters and then administered the death blow.

Habits... Home Study Helps Build Character

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

In keeping with the practice for years of looking for easy ways, there has developed in recent years considerable demand for abolishing all homework for school children, even at high school level.

Curiously enough, this demand for no homework has come most frequently and naturally from the highly-favored, economic areas and more often than not from parents of children who have more than average ability to learn—from the very parents whose children should profit most in education and character from regular practice at doing homework.

I should like to see some home work assignments begin at about the fourth grade so that the child might develop the habit of being home and getting down to mental work each evening prior to a school before reaching the age where he might develop the habit of running about at night.

TOO MUCH HOMEWORK

Unfortunately many teachers or entire schools assign too much home work. Half an hour of intense, actual study at the fourth or fifth grade and not more than two hours at senior high school level would seem ample and reasonable. If your child is requested to do more, keep a careful record of the time he actually spends at this lesson and convey these facts in a calm and courteous way to the school.

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEMS

Q. Do you believe in an allowance?

A. I certainly do and have written a special bulletin on this subject to be had without cost, by writing me in care of this paper enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three cent stamp on it.

Q. Would you try to make a left-handed child right-handed?

A. No; lest it might disturb him emotionally, or cause him to stutter. Teachers in the modern school are instructed not to tamper with the child's handedness. Parents are harder to manage.

MARK'S WIFE

CHAPTER TWELVE

Tom Kieran ran his fingers through his hair and looked extremely worried. "You know, Pamela, there are lots of girls and boys here who have a good time. Maybe we could cook up..."

"Look, sweetie," she said affectionately, "you're not to worry about anything, mostly me. I'll find plenty to do. Only I'm used to playgrounds and lots of people around and I sort of miss them. That's Claire's fault, I guess. She does provide an exciting background."

"You mustn't blame your mother. She was meant for better times. She never should have married a plain business man like me. I often blame myself..."

Half angrily his daughter retorted, "Don't talk nonsense, father. The trouble with you two is that you never got together really. You should have put your foot down and stopped her. But you didn't, so if she, if I, or we... ever do anything you don't understand, or feel like forgiving, I hope you'll be lenient."

Tom felt like his daughter was trying to convey something that her words did not. He said, "What do you mean, Pamela?"

She flicked a lighter on, held it to the tip of her cigarette and dismissed his question with a shrug. "You haven't told me who the young man in the thunder-cloud was?"

"Bradshaw. Dr. Bradshaw."

Pamela put down the lighter and forgot her cigarette. "Tony Bradshaw? The one who used to play football?"

"That's the one. Know him?"

"I never met him. I was in pines when he was the high school hero. And to think that when I finally met him all he has to say is 'sorry.' What was the rumour about? I could hear your voice as I came up the stairs."

"He thinks I ought to build a hospital for the town, that's all. Anything you'd like today, like a million dollars?"

"Why don't you?" she asked coolly, ignoring his sarcasm. "If he wants one, I'm sure we ought to have one. We could have it named after us."

"A hundred and fifty thousand dollars to have KILCRAN chiseled in marble over a door?"

Pamela snapped her fingers. "A drop in the bucket. Let's have him up to the house and talk it over. I love earnest young medics."

"You stay out of this, miss. I've enough expenses, trying to keep everybody on the payroll now."

"Realization," his daughter told him. "You know the war in Europe is going to shoot the woolen business sky high. Next time he comes round tell him my shell-like ear is available if he'd like to talk to me about it."

"I'm warning you to keep out of it. You leave him alone. He's got a lot of work to do. He's no play-boy."

"You never can tell. Lunch!"

"If you can wait half an hour, you can drive me home to lunch."

Pamela went around the desk and kissed him. "I'll run around to the post-office and pick you up at one."

"If it's stamps, oh wait..."

She shook her head and hurried out before he had a chance to ask her any further questions. She had very private business at the post-office, of which she didn't want her family to be aware.

She hoped the check would not be a stranger. He wasn't. She said, "Mr. Hunsaker, I want to rent a box. If any mail comes for a Miss Betty Brown, will you keep it there for me and not send it up to the house? ... You see ... er ... Miss Brown used to be maid for us ... and ... well, I'll take care of her mail."

"Betty Brown, you say? ..."

"Seems like there's a couple of letters in the general delivery for her right now."

Charm... Let the Man Talk About Himself

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

"Dear Miss Fairfax:

There seems to be something about a charming girl that attracts all men. What is charm? Can it be taught? I have been told there are a number of charm schools. I'm 24 years of age, and have never had a proposal of marriage or anyone seriously in love with me.

"Elate."

Of course, every woman knows, or ought to know, that if she is immaculately neat, thoroughly well-groomed, and doesn't paint herself like a Red Indian, that she'll be much more charming than if she presents herself to a critical world in a slovenly or indifferent manner.

In the old days, ladies like du Barry and Ninon d'Enclos were supposed to rule men with no harsher arsenal than a pair of violet eyes, pouting lips or the way they used their lovely hands. These natural charms went through life conquering all and sundry.

Today, any girl possessed of a liberal dose of horse sense can be her own charm instructor. She gives the gentleman she's charming a chance to talk about himself and the things in which he is interested. She looks her best; she'll even leave off things which grate on his nerves.

If she has access to a kitchen, she can learn to cook him the things he remembers fondly. If she has no kitchen privileges, she can do almost as well with a chafing dish or grill.

First Christmas Parcels to Men on Service in Mail Today; Ladies Give Up Rationed Sugar for Cakes

First three Christmas parcels for Nelson District men on active service were made up last night by the Women's Auxiliary to the Active Forces. They will be mailed today — one to Madagascar, one to India, and a third to the Middle East. The parcel going to Madagascar is for Sub-Lieutenant Hampton Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gray; and the one for India will be addressed to Sgt. Patrick H. George, son of Mrs. E. George. The third will go to Ac. 1 Harold E. Stuart of Nelson, who is serving with R.A.F. in the Middle East. Lieutenant Gray is with the Fleet Air Arm; and George is with the American Army Air Corps.

Each parcel will contain a Christmas cake weighing 1½ pounds, socks, handkerchiefs, cigarettes, chocolate bar, toothpowder, two packages of razor blades, and chewing gum.

Overseas parcels—and the Auxiliary expects to send about 400 of them—will be made up on this basis. It may however, Mrs. H. H. Currie, President, said Thursday, be necessary to eliminate the chewing gum unless an additional supply can be obtained. The Auxiliary has 28 packages and needs over 300 more. One carton was donated.

IN MAIL EARLY

Sixty parcels are to be mailed in the next day or two and the balance of these going overseas will be mailed next week. Last year the first parcels were mailed Oct. 26, and reports received later indicated this date was none too early. So far 66 Christmas cakes have been made by Auxiliary members. It is planned to complete the cakes next week, using a bakehouse volunteered by the owner.

All members of the Auxiliary are to have a part in the assembling of the parcels, in cake making, packing, addressing or other work.

SACRIFICE OWN SUGAR

For many members of the Auxiliary and their friends, the baking of these Christmas cakes represents a real sacrifice—much more than the time and work involved. Many of them have given up their rationed sugar so that it can go into cakes for Nelson District men and women on the war's many fronts. Some have given part of their ration; others have given a whole fortnight's allowance.

One of the least desirable tasks in Christmas baking was undertaken by one of the members, Mrs. E. George. She is washing and cleaning the raisins, 180 pounds of them. Even the school children are helping in the preparation of soldiers' cakes this year. Wednesday afternoon young followers at Central and Hume schools gathered in the coffee and tobacco cans that they were asked to collect, scalded and scoured them, and prepared them for the Auxiliary. The cakes will be baked and shipped in these cans.

Scrap of Even More Importance Than the Money It Yields

British Columbia division of the Canadian Red Cross has benefitted by $1000 from the work of the Nelson District Salvage Committee. It will gain further financial benefits as the work continues.

To raise money by salvage is important, but most vital is the fact that 100 tons of urgently needed material has been thrown into Canada's war treasury. Steel and rubber are the chief components, but glass, non-ferrous metals, rags and paper products also formed a part of the shipments.

Scrap iron and steel are required not only to enlarge our supply of raw material for new steel, but because the best grade of steel requires a mixture of scrap and newly mined iron. Raw iron ore alone will not produce the best quality. As to rubber, everyone knows the situation. We have to depend almost entirely on scrap and the small amount of synthetic rubber which is being produced. Imports of raw rubber from South America are not yet a major factor in the situation.

Nearly All Italians in Canada Are Also Loyal

The United States, like Canada, has found that the overwhelming majority of residents of Italian birth are loyal to their adopted country. Out of 600,000 Italian aliens in the United States it has been found necessary to intern only 288.

Consequently, the United States Government has decided no longer to treat Italians as enemy aliens.

American experience has paralleled that of Canada. When Italy entered the war beside the Germans the reaction of the great mass of Italians in Canada was one of anger and disgust. They promptly repudiated Mussolini's assault on the freedom of the democratic countries which they had grown to enjoy and admire. Only a very few showed enmity toward Canada or any desire to interfere with the country's war activities. Such as did so, of course, were promptly dealt with. But for every one that it was necessary to intern hundreds continued loyally to carry on their work as usual and to cooperate as far as they were able in Canada's wartime economic life.

Reader, Kaslo—Would you please give the name and address of the Secretary of the Arctic Mission of the Church of England?

C. L. Foster, Esq., Hon. Secretary, Diocese of the Arctic, Church House, 804 Jarvis Street, Toronto.

How do I go about it to locate a patient in a mental hospital in Ontario?

Suggest you write Dr. George Davidson, Executive Director, Canadian Welfare Council, Ottawa. We could give you a list of the mental hospitals in Ontario, if you wish.

Reader, Trail—If a person is making $61 a month, how much cost of living bonus would they receive and how much income tax would they pay?

If a male and over 21 years of age, you would get 60 cents a week cost of living bonus. A male under 21 years of age or a female you would receive 24 per cent of your salary. The Income Tax payable on $61 per month for a single person without dependents would be $12.12, of which $3.46 would be savings.

N. P. Silverton—Is there a safe way to remove nail polish from wool and other fabrics?

If the material is a pure cloth without any chemical content or coloring in it, acetone may be used to remove the nail polish. However the safest procedure would be to test the material or an inside seam where the result would not show, by applying the polish there and putting acetone on top.

RATIONED HOUSING

Rationing of housing, compulsory billeting? These are possibilities. If such steps prove necessary there is no sound reason why we should balk at them when we adopt emergency measures in other cases.

It is argued that one expedient toward easing the present housing shortage lies in the conversion of homes in the one-family-dwelling districts into two-family-dwellings. If it can be proved that such a move would represent a worthwhile step toward alleviating the present deplorable overcrowding in other areas then we believe the move should be made.

Shelter is one of the basic necessities of life. Shortage of shelter works against the health and welfare of a large number of important people—including war workers and soldiers' families. If it comes to a point where we must choose between the well-being of our people and the retention of peacetime conceptions of residential zoning then, certainly, we shall have to choose in favor of the former as the most likely to help in the winning of the war.—Vancouver News-Herald.

EDOUARD HERRIOT

By arresting former French Premier Edouard Herriot, the patriot who has lost none of his pride in the real France, the Vichy Government has convicted at Nazi clumminess. This man only recently resigned his membership in the French Legion of Honor; he could not retain the decoration which old "Tiger" Clemenceau had pinned on his breast because he had learned that three French officers who had been fighting side by side with the Germans against Russia had become members of the order on the gift of Pelestin, Laval and Company. This was too much for Herriot. He coupled his resignation, incidentally, with a blast at the collaborationists. Hence his arrest—and more popular determination to fight the Nazis by any and every means available.—Victoria Times.

KEEP WORRY OUT

That is excellent advice which the Red Cross gives to those writing letters to men in the armed forces. It is that discussion of family troubles be kept to a minimum. Most correspondents, it is said, do just that, but there is a minority who insist upon telling at length everything that goes wrong at home.—New York Sun.

PINCHER PINCHED

The Germans have repeatedly used pinch tactics. Now, the Russians, by exerting pressure on the flanks, threaten to nip off the Nazi army investing Stalingrad. The pinchers is being pinched.—Vancouver Province.

Defends Course of the Doukhobors

To the Editor:

Sir—Will you please publish the following letter in answer to the letter recently published, written by Citizen of Nelson?

You refer to the matter of why we never hear a young Doukhobor receiving their calls to the armed forces.

That is because they have an exemption for military services and because our Government is respectfully fulfilling their word of honor. Their conscience does not allow them to work against this granted privilege.

In regards to the land they live on you write about, I believe that Hon. Pattullo, as a conscientious citizen and a trustworthy member of Parliament did not allow such individual companies take over the property into their control and took it over under the control of the Government in order to avoid such worthy property to be taken over for such little debt. Furthermore, knowing the Doukhobors' ideals and principles, he considered them equal same as other respected people in the country.

You refer to the phrase that you explain the Doukhobors' figure, as you word it. "You go to war, and we get big wages." I am not a Doukhobor, but live in amongst the biggest Doukhobor settlement, and am well acquainted with their customs and practices. I see every morning at 7, countless numbers of young boys and girls with ages ranging from 12 and up and men and women up to the ages of 70, working daily on heavy farm work as long as 9 to 10 hours a day, with as little as $1.15 to $2 per day. Next door to us lives a farmer that hired a crew for threshing, including three school-aged girls at above wages, regardless of the heavy work and their feminine handicap. Where have we seen such low wages, even throughout the entire scope of Canada? We must remember that there are hundreds of such Doukhobors working at these "top" wages. They do their part.

Writes of Difficulties of Farmer Producers

To the Editor:

Sir—A letter printed in the Manitoba Free Press regarding the cut in cattle prices in the writers opinion was very true. We are being told there is a beef shortage, which is all rot and nonsense, as Hon. J. G. Gardiner pointed out.

But if there were a beef shortage, did any one over hear of putting down the price, to induce the seller to sell and discourage the consumer from buying? By what method of reasoning any sane person could arrive at that conclusion is difficult to understand.

This same line applies with regard to other farm produce. Recently I wrote a butcher for his offer for a 150 pound hog, grain-fed, the best he would quote was 13 cents dressed, F.O.B. shipping points. A ceiling price is put on eggs, yet there is no ceiling on the price of the grains we have to buy to produce. The best the writer can get for eggs, poultry farm eggs ungraded, is 22 cents a dozen, while his feed has jumped from: Wheat from $1.65 per hundred pounds to $1.95; barley, ground, from $2 per hundred to $2.50; oats, ground, from $2 per hundred to $2.50; bran $1.65; shorts $1.75; concentrate $4.50.

The wheat we get is usually a very low grade, possibly a No. 3 or 4. Whole oats run from $2 per hundred up. The man trying to produce eggs or hogs today cannot tell from week to week what his feed will cost. Farmers never expect to be paid for their labor. Yet, is the manufacturer of armaments in the same position? Does he know what the price of his raw material will be? If he doesn't, how can he quote a contract price?

We were told in the earlier stage of the war, the manufacturers of armaments must not be allowed to loose on his contracts. Is there the same assurance for those producing the greatest armament of all—food? Could we, producing food, not have an assurance that our feeds would not exceed a certain price? If this was done one would be able to figure if it was worth while trying to produce food or to quit, or our Government give us an assurance that the price of mill feeds and grain will not exceed a certain figure and the price of hogs, cattle, eggs and poultry will not go below a certain level.

Then and only then will we know whether to stay in or go out of business. As it is now there looks like only one way for the small producer and that is go out and join the army or take any other job than producing food.

C. H. BEBBINGTON.

Boswell, B. C.,
October 8, 1942.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mr. Bebbington is correct in stating that feed prices have risen since the outbreak of war, but there is a ceiling on prices of feed.

Dieppe Heroes Say Hun Prisoners Were Treated Well

By JACK BRAYLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Oct. 15 (CP).—His arm in a sling and a D.S.O. ribbon pinned to his chest, tall Lt.-Col. Dolard Menard of Les Fusiliers Mont-Royal strode into a hotel here today leading a party of 17 battle-scarred Dieppe raiders and told of that bloody fight which he described as "the enlightening and necessary preliminary to the forthcoming permanent landing."

Under a constant barrage of photographers' flash bulbs and while news-reels whirled and shutters clicked, Col. Menard and other members of his party told 50 newsmen, conducting a mass interview, that:

1. Dieppe was necessary;

2. German prisoners were treated honorably;

3. Security precautions leading up to the raid were excellent;

4. The raid accomplished its object;

5. Our tanks, planes and naval craft timed their operations effectively and efficiently;

6. The men are ready to go back tomorrow and finish the job.

The interview was conducted in a big lobby of the hotel after the party, which arrived earlier from an East coast United States port, had breakfasted.

Most of them say, all of them bearing scars of the tough fight, they told their stories with hesitation until asked about the treatment of German prisoners. Then they strongly reiterated the statements of other returning Dieppe men that, contrary to German charges, prisoners were treated—as Col. Menard put it—"honorably and in the case of wounded with great kindness."

"Our men, before the battle, were 'briefed' on the subject of treatment of prisoners," Col. Menard said. "They were told there must be no brutality or unkindness and German wounded must be taken care of where it was at all possible. I watched those orders being carried out."

He had talked with one German prisoner—a young Pole who told him he had been forced into an "occupation unit" of the German army by threat of imprisonment or even death. This suggested the Germans might be using an infiltration of foreign reinforcements to make up for their Russian losses. "That chap was pretty glad to get into our hands and so were the rest—German or non-German," the officer said.

Col. Menard, whose D.S.O. citation says he continued to lead his men even after he had been wounded five times, laughed derisively at the German suggestion that German prisoners were shackled.

"What the hell would we use to shackle or even bind them," he declared. "We don't play it that way and naturally we didn't take excess equipment along on that jaunt. Anyhow we certainly wouldn't have needed to use it. The Germans I saw were pretty docile fellows, who looked a bit emaciated and very fed up with the whole business. It was not necessary to tie them up because they showed no fight."

Cpl. J. A. Gregory of Calgary, quiet, soft-spoken member of the South Saskatchewan Regiment, also had a hard word to say about prisoner treatment. He captured seven along the route and "found them pretty quiet lads who held up their arms and came along without trouble. We gave them some cigarettes and then put them to work as stretcher-bearers picking up their own and our wounded. They worked willingly and were glad of our 'tags'."

He last saw his gallant "O.C."—Lt.-Col. C. C. I. Merritt, V.C., of Vancouver, B.C.—leading a party of men forward to organize an advance post designed to fight the rear-guard action when the Canadians withdrew.

"I watched him running along the road in the direction of the enemy fire. It wasn't worrying him. All he was worried about was providing good cover for our withdrawal. We all hoped he'd get away although we knew he would be the last to leave. We were glad to learn he was still alive, even though he is a prisoner."

The stubby corporal, who lost an eye and received other wounds, said his right flank unit had taken the German defenders completely by surprise. "They obviously had no wind of our approach for we saw a couple of German officers poke their heads out of a window to look us over and noticed they still had shaving soap on their faces. We captured one of these officers and he was not fully dressed."

After charging through the shell-ridden two miles of his regiment's objective, Corporal Gregory said he found he was still uninjured. He got back to beach "and I looked around for some wood to touch as I figured I'd been pretty lucky but just then a sniper's bullet ricocheted off the iron side of a landing craft and took my left eye after I was struck by shrapnel."

Cpl. Gregory said he wouldn't like to say too much about how the Canadians were received by the French people. "I understand reprisals have already been taken against them and I wouldn't like to add to their troubles by anything I say."

He said the Canadian "cleaning up" operations had been hampered by the cautious German billeting system. It was a staggered arrangement with every other house containing soldiers and the remainder containing only civilians. "This meant we couldn't shoot through doors for fear of hitting Frenchmen and the Germans on the other hand could shoot us down if we withheld our fire while we investigated whether a house contained soldiers or civilians."

He described his entrance into one house where two German soldiers had apparently been having an all night drinking bout with some girls. He crashed open the door with the butt of his rifle and the slightly-drunk German, their clothes rumpled, wobbled to their feet and gave him a smart salute apparently mistaking him for a German officer in the half-light of early dawn. "I took them along," he said.

Army education authorities now Service girls instruction on scientific running of homes and balanced feeding as a means of helping the post-war careers.

Big Fortresses Pound Rabaul

By DEAN SCHREDER
Associated Press Staff Writer

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Oct. 14 (Delayed) (AP).—Flying Fortresses left the whole airdrome area alight with fire early today in the fourth heavy pounding they have dealt Rabaul, Japan's key base on New Britain, in eight days, returning fliers said.

It took scarcely more time to do it than it takes to tell.

The lead plane dropped flares which lit up Lakana and Vunukanau airdromes, flanking Rabaul's crescent-shaped harbor. The other Fortresses winged over, dropped their cargoes of destruction squares on the illuminated targets and then they all came home.

The returning fliers, shaking the links out of their cramped-up legs after the 1000-mile round trip, said that no enemy fighters molested them and that both searchlight and anti-aircraft fire were weaker than they had encountered on the three previous raids since October 5.

The whole force returned without a scratch on a ship or a man.

Lieut. Al Preger of Springdale, Pa., who piloted the flare plane, said, "We made our run over the targets unloading bombs and then started dropping flares."

Rabaul was well blacked out, he said, but he saw several fires around the base "most likely lit by the Japanese" to confuse our bombers, but they were too obvious even from our altitude.

Union Avenue In Rossland To Be Widened

ROSSLAND, B.C., Oct. 14.—On recommendation of the Board of Works, the City Council Tuesday night authorized placing of two or three loads of gravel East of St. Paul Street between Fifth and Sixth Avenues, restoring to its original shape the rock wall on lane between Le Roi and Koolenay Avenues, between Butte and Georgia, washed out by rain; widening of Union Avenue six feet, between Spokane and Washington Streets, and "proper grading of it."

Ald. William Cunningham reported overgrown brush at the West end of Second Avenue needed cutting. It was extremely bad, and he asked if the Board of Works Chairman, Ald. F. M. Ethridge, would look at it.

Ald. Leo Nimsick asked why the owners, whose view was obstructed, couldn't cut it themselves?

Ald. Cunningham replied that if the owners did not object to it, civic-minded persons did, and he wanted the Board of Works Chairman to look at it.

Mr. Ethridge said he would do so.

Jap Landing Force Beaten Off North of Hong Kong

CHUNGKING, Oct. 15 (AP).—A Japanese attempt to land a small force of troops in the Bias Bay region, just Northeast of Hong Kong, on Oct. 6 was reported tonight by the Chinese High Command to have been repulsed.

The communique said the enemy force, aboard a steamboat and several junks, tried to land, south of Tamabai but "retreated after meeting strong Chinese resistance."

Chinese troops drove in close last December in an effort to assist the defence of Hong Kong. Today's communique discloses that the Chinese still maintain a strong force there.

"Sure—I know I'm paying more taxes. But my taxes—and all the other fellow's taxes—aren't enough to do the job. My wife and I have talked it over—we're willing to stop buying the things we can get along without—we're glad to tighten our belts—we're proud to save money for our country."

Proposed U.S.-Canada Extradition Treaty Would Clamp Shackles Upon the Initiative of Canadian People

By SIDNEY NORMAN

How would citizens of Nelson and vicinity like to be governed in all financial transactions involving raising of capital for development of natural resources by that super-bureaucracy, the Securities & Exchange Commission of United States?

That is the intent of a clause in a new Extradition Treaty arranged as between Canada and United States on April 29, 1942, subject to ratification, so far as Canada is concerned, by the Dominion Parliament, "for the extradition of criminals."

Item 32 of Article 3 of this treaty provides, among other things, for extradition by both nations from the other for offence against laws regulating securities markets, or activities affecting such markets, or the registration of licensing of securities or persons or companies doing business in securities or giving advice with respect thereto.

The United States Federal statutes, under whose jurisdiction these super-bureaucrats hope to bring every Canadian dealing in securities, or offering advice concerning them, are the "Securities Act" (1933) and the "Securities & Exchange Act" (1934), laws which have done more to kill the initiative of a people than all the other laws passed since the Union was formed.

An offense by a Canadian citizen or company against either of these acts, whether innocent or otherwise, would become an extraditable crime, subject to maximum penalties of a fine of $10,000 and or five years' imprisonment.

By inference, such an offense by a Canadian citizen or company within the scope of extradition for the commission of an indictable offense.

The laws, briefly, provide that it shall be unlawful for any person, directly or indirectly, to make use of any means of transportation of interstate commerce, or communication, or the mails, to sell or offer to buy any security unless it has been registered with the Securities Exchange Commission.

Furthermore, no broker or dealer shall make use of the mails or any other means of communication to effect any transaction, or to induce the purchase or sale of any security, otherwise than on a national securities exchange, unless such broker or dealer is registered with the Securities Exchange Commission, and such security also registered with the same agency.

In a nutshell, ratification of Section 32 of Article 3 of this proposed treaty would make any person or company in Canada liable to extreme penalties as an extraditable criminal if he or it telephoned a customer or friend in Spokane, Seattle or Portland and "induced" him to buy $100 or $500,000 worth of any mining security in this Province.

Opposition to ratification of this so-called treaty, which is, in effect, merely an effort on the part of rapid bureaucracy to invade a foreign nation for the purpose of inflicting upon its people impertinent interference with legitimate business, is now being marshalled from one end of the Dominion to the other.

The Toronto Stock Exchange has undertaken to mobilize concerted action by either exchanges and bond dealers' associations of the East and the Vancouver Stock Exchange will perform a similar duty for the West, mobilizing action by the Winnipeg and Calgary stock exchanges, the B.C. mining associations, the B.C. Bond Dealers Association and other public and semi-public organizations of the Province.

Local organizations are urged to take immediate action in support of briefs that are to be presented at Ottawa within the next week or ten days by eminent counsel from Toronto. Copies of regulations adopted should be forwarded as soon as possible to the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, C.M.G., Prime Minister and Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs and Hon. L. S. St. Laurent, K.C., Minister of Justice, Ottawa. Other copies might also be sent to Executive Manager, Toronto Stock Exchange and President Vancouver Stock Exchange.

Russ Would Punish Axis Leaders as They Are Captured

MOSCOW, Oct. 15 (AP). — The Russian Government, contributing Premier Stalin's view on punishment of Axis war leaders, proposed today that a special tribunal undertake at once to punish "any one of the leaders of Fascist Germany who, in the course of the war, has fallen" into the hands of states fighting against Hitlerite Germany.

While Rudolf Hess was not mentioned specifically in this passage of the Russian announcement, he seemed to be the most important if not the only captive Axis adherent falling in the category of prisoners against whom immediate action was sought by Russia.

The Russian proposal started London. A British Foreign Office commentator said that "Hess, of course, is regarded as one" of the Nazi leaders who might be affected by the British Government's own earlier declaration proposing a tribunal to indict war criminals.

The Russian Government announced approval of the program outlined by British leaders and President Roosevelt and went further by reciting names.

Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov issued the announcement on behalf of Premier Stalin.

"The Soviet Government undertakes to cooperate fully in providing information of specific crimes by specific persons and bringing the criminals to book in meeting our punishment," it said.

"The whole world knows the names and bloody crimes of the leaders of the Hitlerite clique—Hitler, Goering, Hess, Goebbels, Himmler, Ribbentrop, Rosenberg and others."

LONDON, Oct. 15 (CP). — A Foreign Office commentator declared today that Rudolf Hess, former deputy Nazi leader, is "of course regarded as one" of the Nazis who might be affected by the British Government's declaration proposing a tribunal to indict war criminals.

But the Russian suggestion that Nazi leaders who fall into Allied hands during the war be turned over without delay for trial startled British official circles.

It was pointed out that such a trial during wartime would jeopardize the well-being and possibly the lives of scores of thousands of British war prisoners and many hundreds of British civilians interned in occupied Europe, and result in even more harsh treatment of the peoples of the occupied countries.

The commentator also emphasized that the Moscow statement of Foreign Commissar Molotov suggesting that Nazi leaders be tried for war crimes without delay was not addressed to London and was known here only through broadcasts.

There will be no more new carpets, rugs or linoleum in Britain after Nov. 30, the deadline for the release of materials for making them.

Rossland Group Plans to Fix Cabin for Skiers

ROSSLAND, B.C., Oct. 14—W. A. Hutchings, A. Nichols, and Fred Hanson were guests of the Junior Board of Trade at its monthly dinner meeting at the Empire Cafe, Tuesday evening.

Mayor John E. Gordon called in to thank the members for their cooperation in Victory Loan campaign and for the efficient manner in which they are handling the salvage collections. During the evening a letter had been read from the city of Rossland expressing its appreciation.

It was decided to hold regular salvage bees on Sundays and Mondays throughout the winter.

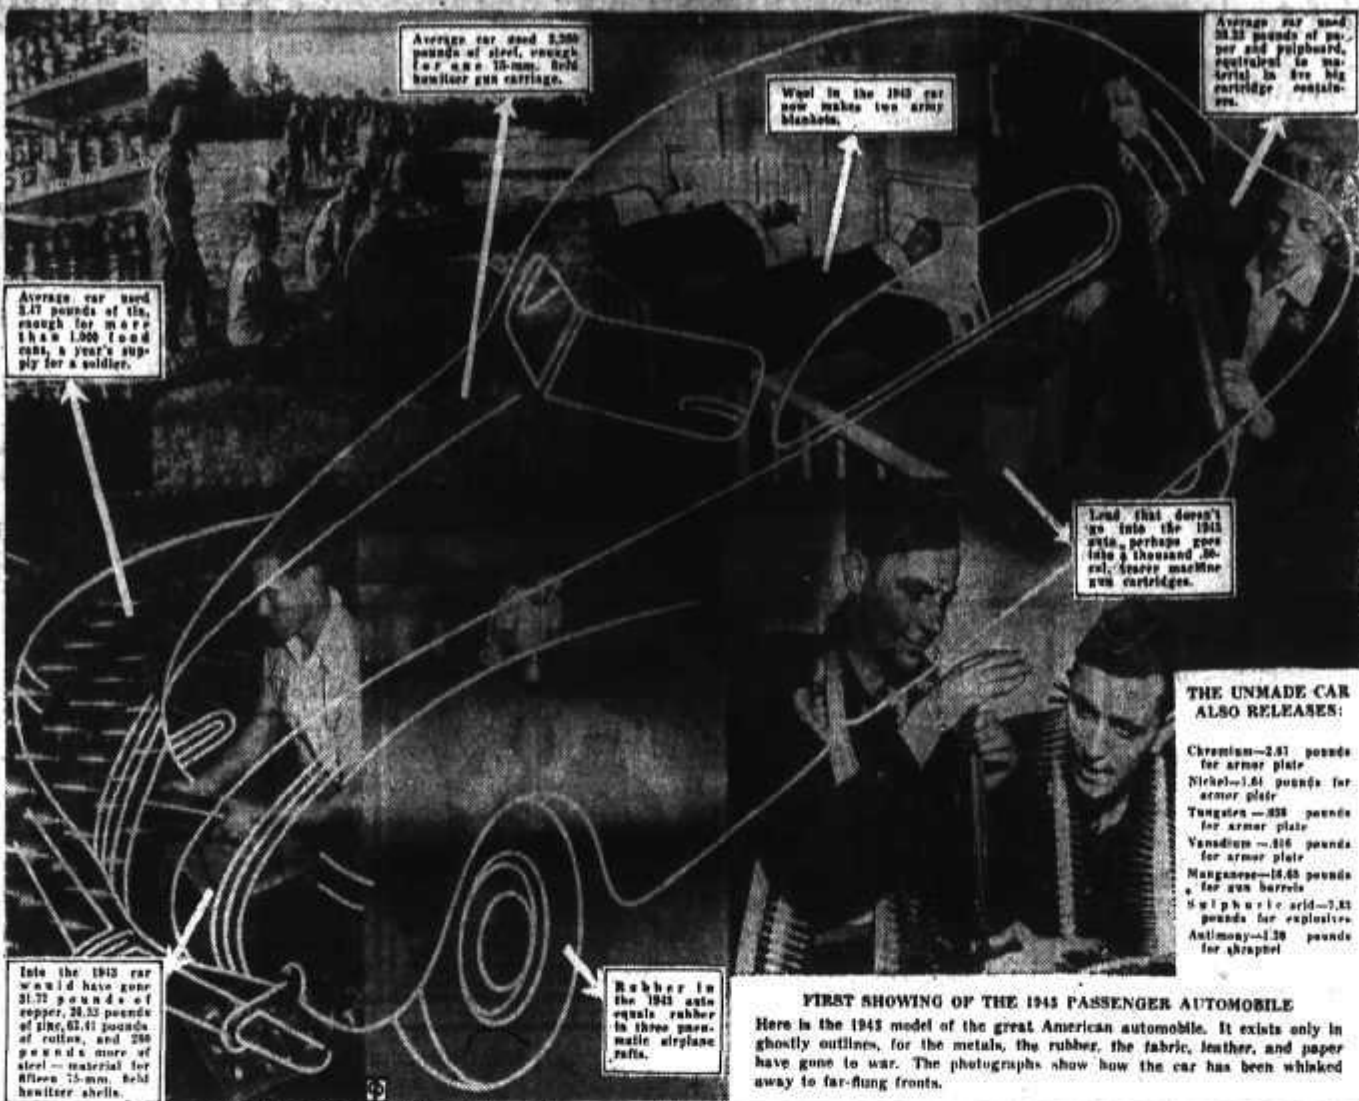

Sanction will be sought from the members, some of whom are in the armed forces and who built a cabin on Indian Flats some years ago, to fix it up and use it as a resting place for skiers. It is hoped to have it ready this winter.

Expect Rickey to Be With Browns Next Year

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 15 (AP)—The goose that laid golden eggs for St. Louis Cardinals may be nesting just across the hall next year.

Despite many rumors circulated since it became known that General Manager Branch Rickey was quitting the Cardinals organization, the boys "in the know" are pretty confident that Rickey will join the reorganized St. Louis Browns of the American League.

In such case Rickey, father of the baseball farm system and one of the most dynamic figures the game has produced, would merely have to change offices at Sportsman's Park. The move also would take him back to where he really got his start in baseball, as Manager of the Browns.

"All the straws bend one way," said J. Roy Stockton, baseball expert of the Post-Dispatch, who flatly predicted today that next season would see Rickey taking over the job of building up the Browns, who last year tasted success for the first time in many moons by finishing in third place. It is Stockton's guess that Rickey will become President or Vice-President and General Manager of the Browns.

In an interview at Denver, Colo., today Rickey admitted it's possible he might become business head of the Dodgers, but added, "I just don't know."

Cranbrook Boys Win 70-15

CRANBROOK, B.C.—A friendly basketball game was played Tuesday night by the City League Red Wings girls and Cranbrook High School boys. The personal penalties were collected by the girls throughout most of the game which was more of a friendly scrap than a basketball game, with snappy repartee going on all during the play. The game ended 70-15 in favor of the boys who were lucky to escape all in one piece from the girls who made the game rough and ready.

The Redwings line up was as follows: Vivian Eberlein, Eileen Rouse, Helen Staples, Helen Volsey, and Mita Murray Wheaton. The boys' team consisted of Jack Huxtable, Steve Cribb, Stan Eberlein, Mirk Proctor, Bruce Malcolm, Bill Huxtable and Ray MacDonald. Timekeeper was S. Stoney. Score keeper, Joyce Alward. Score marker, Sam Fyles. Referees were Scotty Malcolm and Al Bakken.

Metz, Former Smokies to Play at Coast

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Oct. 15 (CP)—Nick Metz, who starred with Toronto Maple Leafs in their Stanley Cup victory last year, will play for an army team here, it was disclosed today as plans were completed for a four-team mainland amateur league.

Metz is stationed at an army camp at Chilliwack and Lt. H. H. Haines who will manage the army team said he also expected to enlist the hockey services of other first class players including several former Trail Smoke Eaters and leading amateurs from across Canada now stationed in the army here.

Present plans for the new mainland amateur league call for entry of teams from Vancouver, New Westminster and the Royal Canadian Air Force as well as from the army. The league is scheduled to open with a double-header here Nov. 7. Army occupation of Vancouver's arena, only ice sheet in that city, forced the playing of all league games here.

Dieppe Heroes Lauded

MONTREAL, Oct. 15 (CP)—Air Minister Power addressing Dieppe heroes before 6000 persons at an open air public reception in Lafontaine Park here tonight told them their exploits had become an inspiration to the war effort and he charged them "to remind the men of this country that their first and prime duty is to serve in the armed services if they are physically fit to do so."

Under the glare of Kleig lights, the row of 21 scarred and ribboned veterans of the Canadian raid nervously puffed at cigarettes, crossed and recrossed their legs, and modestly averted their eyes when the crowd offered lusty cheers.

After a busy round of engagements following their arrival here this morning from a U. S. port they were taken through streets lined with cheering spectators in a military parade that included units from the three services.

Some of them gave impromptu speeches and were loudly cheered.

Sea Explosions Lend Support to Battle Rumor

LISBON, Oct. 15 (AP)—Explosions at sea shook buildings and shattered windows yesterday afternoon on Cape Roca, westernmost point of Portugal—and Europe—tending to bear out earlier reports, still without confirmation, of a naval battle in the Atlantic off Portugal.

Russians Find Hun Dummy Forts

LONDON, Oct. 15 (CP)—The Moscow radio said tonight that the Germans had erected a number of dummy fortifications in an attempt to head off the Russian counter-offensive Northwest of Stalingrad. The report said Soviet troops "again had made some headway inflicting considerable casualties on the enemy."

The dummy fortifications were disclosed by aerial reconnaissance, the report added.

Boothman Hurt in Leafs' Training Camp

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. Oct. 15 (CP)—George Boothman, formerly with Sydney Millionaires, became the first casualty of Toronto Maple Leafs National League training season today when struck on the jaw by a rising shot from the stick of Douglas (Red) Garrett, youthful Leaf rookie.

Apart from Boothman's injury, the feature of today's workout was the mid-season form displayed by Captain and Centreman Sylvanus Apps. Apps centred a line with Mel Hill and Bob Davidson and the trio formed the most dangerous attacking unit on the ice.

Balldogs also fancied the play of Centre Gaye Stewart, the Port Arthur rookie who starred in the Stanley Cup playoffs last Spring. Stewart was flanked by Norman (Bud) Poole, last year with Port William Hurricanes-Rangers and Port Arthur Bearcats, and Shep Mayer of Guelph, Ont.

Red Wings Like Almas' Form; Watson Is Good

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 15 (CP)—Detroit Red Wings today welcomed the arrival at their National Hockey League training camp of Harry Watson, 19-year-old Saskatoon rookie acquired from the disbanded Brooklyn Americans.

Watson took part in his first workout with Wings and looked impressive. Manager Jack Adams plans to use Watson at left wing on his third line, but the newcomer will have to beat out Adam Brown for the job. While Detroit counts on Johnny Mowers as its goalie, Adams currently is excited about the form displayed by 18-year-old Frank Almas, also of Saskatoon. In an exhibition game last night, Almas performed nobly in the nets for Detroit's Indianapolis farm club as his team beat Cleveland Barons 5-2. Red Wings open their exhibition schedule here Sunday night against Cleveland.

Walt Killo Takes 10-Pound Trout

Another entry for the Gyro Trout Derby, the 16th to be sent in this week, was received Thursday. It was for the 10 pound, 10 ounce trout taken Oct. 12 by Walter H. Killo, Nelson angler. The Kamloops was weighed in A. Merr's depot, at Queen's Bay. Killo has at least one other entry in the Derby.

Canadiens, Bruins May Play California Series

MONTREAL, Oct. 15 (CP)—Montreal Canadiens may be able to get in some pre-season practice for the National Hockey League schedule in California, provided officials of the United States War Loan drive on the West coast are impressed with the offer of Senator Donat Raymond, President of Canadiens, and Charles F. Adams, President of the Boston Bruins.

Both Senator Raymond and Mr. Adams offered the services of their teams for series of exhibition games in California after collapse of arrangements to have two teams representing Canada's armed services play in a series of games.

More than half of the railroads in Chile are owned by the Government.

Jack McGill May Make Grade in Ranger Goal

WINNIPEG, Oct. 15 (CP)—New York Rangers National Hockey League training camp opened here today with the arrival of the remaining eight members of last season's league championship team.

When Manager Lester Patrick and Coach Frank Boucher checked off old regulars they found nine men missing who had helped win the league title last Spring.

Players here are Babe Pratt and Ott Heller, defencemen, Lynn Patrick, Bryan Hextall, Phil Watson, Clint Smith, Grant Warwick and Alf Pike, forwards.

One of the chief problems is a replacement for Jim Henry, netminder. Henry, the Colville brothers, Mac and Neil, Alex Shabick, Allan Kuntz, and other regulars have joined Canada's active armed forces. Art Coulter, team captain, is with the United States coast guard.

A Ranger spokesman said that it is possible goalkeeper, Jack McGill, who performed for New York Rovers of the Eastern United States amateur league last season, will make the grade with the blue shirts.

A BAD SUIT TO BREEM
MAKING the first lead, in a suit which has the queen opposite the partner's jack, is often costly to the side which does it. If the side holding those cards makes the first lead, it gets no trick in the suit, if the ace and king are in different hands, unless it also has a well-located ten or nine. If, however, the opponents lead it, then the jack or queen is surely promoted to top rank for the third round.

and then led a club to the J and K. A spade return knocked out the A and a second club brought the 10. Q and A. The club 9, spade 9 to the Q and heart 4 to the A best that contract.

At a third table dummy led a club to the second trick. A spade was returned to the K, a second club to the 10, a third spade to the A, a third club to the Q and A and then it was set by the spade Q and heart A.

The declarer who made it followed the spade 10 with the K, then led the heart 8. With two major tricks sure by East, if North ducked, and five diamonds to complete the contract, North had to play his heart A. For exit he used a diamond, but after five tricks there dummy sent the club J to the K. South returned the 10, to avoid leading into East's set-up spade and heart. West played low and North naturally did. Now South had only major cards left, so East got the two tricks he needed to make his contract.

That contract got four different kinds of play at four duplicate tables, only one declarer making K, though the lead was always the spade 4 to the 10.

The first declarer then led the heart 8 to the J and K, the spade 3 to the K and then broke clubs with the 5 to the J and K. Fearing other returns, South put dummy in with a diamond, five tricks there ensuing. Declarer then had to lead clubs again. He used the 5 to the 10. A heart return gave North the Q and A, and the club A set it.

At another table dummy followed the spade 10 with the K

Canada Year Book Contains War Information

The 1943 edition of the Canada Year Book, published by authorization of the Hon. James A. MacKinnon, Minister of Trade and Commerce, is announced by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The Canada Year Book is the official statistical annual of the country and contains a thoroughly up-to-date account of the natural resources of the Dominion and their development, the history of the country, its institutions, its demography, the different branches of production, trade, transportation, finance, education, etc.—in brief, a comprehensive study within the limits of a single volume of the social and economic condition of the Dominion. This new edition has been thoroughly revised throughout, and includes in all its chapters the latest information available up to the date of going to press.

The 1943 Canada Year Book extends to over 1000 pages, dealing with all phases of the national life and more especially with those susceptible of statistical measurement. A statistical summary of the progress of Canada is included in the introductory matter. This gives a picture in figures of the remarkable progress that the country has made since the first census of the Dominion was taken in 1871.

The special articles that are shown in this edition of the Year Book have been selected to illustrate the effects of the War on the Canadian economy and to show such changes and developments as have taken place to date.

Heavy Jap Losses Made Known in Awards List

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (AP)—Heavy Japanese losses of top ranking army and navy commanders in the opening months of the war in the Pacific were disclosed yesterday today in a Tokyo broadcast of posthumous awards of the Order of the Golden Kite, Japan's highest military decoration.

A vice-admiral, two rear admirals and two major generals were among thousands honored after death in connection with a current extraordinary national festival of exalting the souls at Yasukuni shrine.

The Order of the Golden Kite alone—and many other orders were conferred—went posthumously to 955 Japanese army and navy officers and men for their actions in the Pacific war, and to 3031 others for services in China.

Even at that, it was an incomplete list. It covered only Pacific war losses up to mid-February, and was the 42nd such list of awards for services in China.

Delicate Operation Removes Live Shell From Man's Leg

LONDON, Oct. 15 (CP)—Henry Coates of London is alive today—thanks to the courage of a surgeon who removed a live shell from a German Messerschmitt cannon from his thigh.

Coates was wounded recently as a German plane bombed and machine-gunned the building in which he was working.

Shells of the type which penetrated Coates' leg frequently explode at the slightest touch. A bomb disposal squad, which was called in suggested that with extreme care the shell might be removed.

Disregarding the danger to himself, Dr. Donald Hall undertook to perform the delicate operation. Assistants and nurses quickly volunteered to help.

Kootenay Farmers Again May Obtain Subsidy on Fertilizer Used

Kootenay farmers may again avail themselves of the Dominion fertilizer subsidy. E. C. Hunt, District Horticultural, has been advised that the fertilizer subvention policy has been extended to December 31, 1943.

Most of the farmers have obtained fertilizer under this arrangement through their local institutes. Mr. Hunt stated, He thinks had no record of those in the district who had benefited, he believed a considerable number had taken advantage of it. Approximately 1800 farmers in B.C. availed themselves of the subsidy as it applied to Spring sown feed crops, and the total paid was over $10,000.

C. Ties of Vancouver, Provincial Supervisor, Fertilizer Subvention for B.C., has advised him that the regulations governing the subvention this fall are:

(a) Subsidies will be paid for fertilizers to be used on pastures, meadows, ensilage or green feed crops, Fall wheat and other Fall sown crops.

(b) The kinds of fertilizer mixes recommended by the B.C. Fertilizer Board are eligible for the subventions. The standard chemicals are also eligible for the subsidy.

(c) The amount of the "subsidy" allowed is based on 30 cents per unit of nitrogen and 15 cents per unit for each of phosphoric acid and potash. This works out at $3.90 per ton for the 2-14-6.

(d) The subvention is applicable up to a total of five tons of all fertilizer purchased, or a total payment of $35. for subventions to any one farmer.

(e) On signing a form stating that they will use these fertilizers on the crops referred to above, farmers are allowed the amount of the subsidy off the price of the fertilizer when making their purchases. The seller of the fertilizer is then repaid by the Dominion Government.

(f) The closing date for receiving subvention vouchers for the Fall of 1942 will be November 15.

Market Trends . . .

LONDON, Oct. 15 (CP)—The stock market maintained a firm tone today with dealings on a restricted scale.

Industrials displayed a good tone excepting store stocks which eased on the Government's plans to aid small shopkeepers. Home rails closed higher and oils rallied in later dealings. Kaffirs were dull.

NEW YORK—Leading stocks continued to back water but it was a case of suspended buying rather than pressure of real liquidation.

TORONTO—The mining stocks turned in a strong performance today, both groups posting index gains of a half to a full point. Industrials leaned slightly to the down side and the Western oils held steady. Volume was about 110,000 shares.

The golds were the strongest group.

MONTREAL—Gains and losses were about evenly distributed. In industrials, Canada Cement Preferred, Steel of Canada and Building Products were slightly stronger spots.

VANCOUVER—Gains were small at the noon close, golds showed slightly firmer issues, base metals were steady and oils dropped a fraction.

WINNIPEG—Wheat trading was at a minimum with only minor mill demand in the pit. Futures prices were unchanged to fractionally lower with October at 30 cents a bushel and December at 30 1/2.

CHICAGO—In a downturn that gained momentum as the session progressed, grain prices slipped to seasonal lows in some cases today.
