West Coast Radio Stations Are Again Ordered Off Air

Ralston Says Arrangements for Cooperation Between Canadian, U.S. Forces Came into Operation With Attack

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 4 (CP)——Canadian and United States naval and air forces scoured the North Pacific today for a Japanese aircraft carrier believed to be the base ship for the two bomber raids yesterday at Dutch Harbor, Alaskan naval base.

The raids, discounted here for the actual damage inflicted on the base itself, are believed to have been designed as feelers on American defences on Alaska but it was agreed they might lead to much bigger operations, perhaps in the immediate future.

OTTAWA, June 4 (CP)— Defence Minister Ralston gave the House of Commons word late today that the Japanese have made only one actual attack on the United States naval bas at Dutch Harbor, Alaska, correcting information he gave the Chamber earlier that there had been three.

In his first statement he said that arrangements for cooperation between Canadian and United States forces on the West Coast came into operation with the Dutch Harbor action.

As the House prepared to adjourn at 5 o'clock, Col. Ralston said

"I should like to make a further statement with regard to what I said this afternoon respecting raids on Dutch Harbor.

"A message has been received from the Pacific Command—and Honorable Members will be glad to know this—to the effect that a further report or further messages which they have received indicates that the reports which came, purporting to be from official sources, regarding the second and third attacks on Dutch Harbor, are unfounded, and that there was only one attack.

"The Canadian Commander-in-Chief, West Coast defences, (Maj.-Gen. R. O. Alexander) is operating in conjunction with the Commander of the United States forces on the West Coast in accordance with the joint plans."

Col. Ralston said Lt.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, Chief of the General Staff, has been on the West Coast for some days and is supervising Army dispositions on the ground.

Hope Debate on Service Will Open Soon

OTTAWA, June 4 (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King joined with Conservative House Leader Hanson today in expressing to the House of Commons a desire that the debate on compulsory service be brought on as soon as possible and said he hoped it might open next Monday or Tuesday.

But he said "it is entirely in the hands of the House as to how rapidly we get on with the different government orders," and reiterated his belief that the $2,000,000,000 war appropriation bill should be passed before going on to other business.

Debate on the war appropriation resolution continued at today's sitting with discussions centering around the auditor-general office for which the bill will provide an additional $196,000 for extra wartime activities.

CHECK AIR RAID PRECAUTIONS IS ADVICE TO B. C.

A.R.P. Is Prepared to Function if Necessary

ADVISE CONDUCT IN CASE OF RAID

VANCOUVER, June 4 (CP.)—The Provincial Civilian Protection Committee in a statement tonight said that "Japanese attack on Dutch Harbor had brought the possibility of "air raids on British Columbia" and asked all residents in the vulnerable coastal area to check air raid precautions in their homes and make sure they are ready for any emergency.

"Citizens are assured that all branches of civilian protection (A.R.P.) are prepared to function in case of necessity," the statement said.

The statement warned householders whose homes are not properly prepared for blackout that a precautionary blackout may be called at any time, for several days duration.

Suggestions for conduct in an air raid as set out in the statement:

1. In any air raid or blackout, take cover immediately.

(A). If you are away from home, get off the street. You are ten times safer in a building than standing or walking on the street. If you are in a car, pull to the side of the road immediately. Do not double park. Keep clear of the fire plugs. Get out of the car, bus or street car and take shelter.

(B). If you are at home, take immediate blackout precautions. Extinguish all lights. Have your fire protection equipment ready. Go to your blackout room, it should be the safest room. in your home. Stay away from windows. Bomb explosions shatter glass for considerable distances.

DON'T USE PHONE

2. Don't use the telephone. Remember those persons who have been trained to protect you—the air raid wardens, fire watchers, auxiliary firemen, auxiliary police and many others, must be able to get really important messages through. Your personal calls have got to wait until after the all clear signal.

3. If you are caught in the open lie down on your stomach, hands over ears, feet together. You are twice as safe lying down as standing up.

4. If incendiary bombs fall, play a coarse spray of water on them. Put out the fires started by the incendiaries first, then devote your attention to the bomb. The coarse spray of water burns the bomb up faster. A heavy jet, stream or bucket of water will make the bomb explode. If you have no way of treating the bomb with water, cover with dry sand. Then with a blunt nosed shovel scoop the bomb into a pile of sand, dump the sand and bomb into a pail and take it outside.

Incendiaries Dropped on English Town

A NORTHEAST ENGLISH COAST TOWN, June 5 (CP.)—(Friday)—German planes dropped incendiaries and started a number of fires which were quickly extinguished here early today. There were no casualties.

Flares were dropped on another town in this area, but no bombs followed.

LONDON (CP).—The Lord Mayor has received from the Queen's Canadian Fund, Montreal, a further contribution of £11,185, making a total of £201,491 from that source for relief of bombed cities.

U. S. URGED TO TAKE INITIATIVE AGAINST JAPAN

Three Commanders in China to Meet Chiang

SAY NEW FORCES IN MANCHUKUO

By SPENCER MOOSA
Associated Press Staff Writer

CHUNGKING, June 4 (AP)—The three United States Commanders in Southeast Asia gathered here tonight for war conferences with China's Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek against a background of appeals for the United States to take the initative in an immediate land, sea and air offensive against Japan.

Interest in the meeting was heightened by Chinese reports of new Japanese troop concentrations in Manchukuo, and the spread of speculation that the Japanese generals may have decided at last to try the strength of Russia's armies in Siberia.

Chinese circles said such a move would account for Japan's failure to follow up her early successes by attempting invasion of Australia or India.

There was no immediate announcement of the subjects discussed by Chiang and the Americans, Lt.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell and Maj.-Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, who flew here from India, and Brig.-Gen. Claire L. Chennault, who came from Kunming.

The influential Chungking newspaper Ta Kung Pao urged in an editorial that the United States assume greater responsibility for conduct of the war, and said the Allies should launch attacks against Japan by land, sea and air in collaboration with China's war effort."

Although hard pressed on fronts ranging from the Southeast Coast to the mountainous Burma border, Chiang's fighting forces were reported holding grimly and in some places lashing out on their own.

JAPS LOSE 2000

A Chinese communique on the fight for the walled city of Chuhsien in Western Chekiang Province said the Japanese lost 2000 men in a single day of repeated attacks Chinese artillery.

U.S. Navy Also Reports New Raid on Midway Island

Battleship, Carrier Damaged in Heaviest Midway Raid; Alaska Raids Believed Feelers on American Defences

HONOLULU, June 4 (AP)—A Japanese battleship and aircraft carrier were damaged, other warships were believed hit, and a heavy toll taken of enemy planes in the sixth and heaviest raid on Midway Island today, said a communique issued by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Commander-in-Chief of the United States Pacific Fleet.

VANCOUVER, June 4 (CP)—Radio stations in British Columbia's Coastal Defence Area were ordered off the air tonight by Western Air Command in what W.A.C. termed a "precautionary radio silence."

Radio stations in the area went silent at 9 p.m. the same time United States Pacific Coast stations were ordered off the air by the Fourth Fighter Command at San Francisco.

It was the second night of radio silence for the Pacific Coast. Broadcasting stopped last night from the Mexican border to Alaska after Japanese planes were reported over the U.S. Naval Base at Dutch Harbor, Alaska.

War Secretary Henry Stimson strengthened this view at a Press conference when he said the Dutch Harbor raids should not be regarded as the only and last raids, to be expected on the continent. He predicted further offensive action by the Japs but declined to say exactly what he expected or where he thought the attacks would be made.

It was stated here, and at Ottawa by the Canadian Defence Minister, Hon. J. L. Ralston, that pre-arranged plans between Canadian and American military authorities had gone into effect as a result of the Dutch Harbor raids. These plans were perfected months ago by the Canadian-American joint defence board which undertook a study of defences on the West coast soon after it was established by Prime Minister Mackenzie King and President Roosevelt in 1940.

The United States Navy, which disclosed the attacks on Dutch Harbor anounced a Japanese air way Island in the Pacific, far to the South of Dutch Harbor, at 9 a.m. local time today.

There were two flights of Jap planes over Dutch Harbor yesterday. The first set fire to warehouses and caused a few casualties, but no bombs were dropped by the second.

NO WORD OF LOSSES

In describing the second raid, the navy expressed the opinion the aircraft probably came from a carrier but no attempt was made to assess the losses if any to the Japanese formations or disclose how the attacks were made.

In some circles the raids were given an extremely wide strategic estimate. It was suggested they were an attempt by the Japs to prompt Canadians and Americans into making widespread demands that naval, air and ground forces be kept at home as defence units and not scattered all over the globe from Australia in the Southwest Pacific to Britain in the North Atlantic and from India to Iceland.

Others placed a much narrower interpretation on the raids, suggesting they were minor attacks on an exposed base in Alaska to test its defences and to give the Japs an excuse to write off publicly the bombing attack on Tokyo in mid-April.

Everyone seemed to be agreed however, on the one point that the raids presaged more offensive action against North America, perhaps even a grand assault on Alaska, the natural stepping stone to Canada and the U. S. from the Northwest.

U.S. Soldier Charged With Slaying Australian Women

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, June 5 (Friday)—(CP.)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced tonight that an American soldier, Edward J. Elonski, 24, of New York City, has been charged with the slaying of three Australian women.

Elonski's trial is expected to open June 10 and will be held under American law in accordance with an agreement between Australia and the United States.

Shorts-Clad Commandos Give Nazis Jitters in Smash, Grab Raid

WITH THE COMMANDOS OFF THE FRENCH COAST, June 4 (CP)—British Commando Troops clad only in shorts, stockings and soft woolen hats threw German defences into complete confusion when they carried out a "smash-and-grab raid" on the French coast early today, Reuters correspondent said.

The Commandos had established themselves on the beach before the Germans opened fire.

The defenders were so rattled that at times they fired at one another.

A pillbox at the edge of the Dunes put up stiff resistance until the Commandos concentrated Bren gun and anti-tank fire on it. They in a matter of minutes it was silenced and never fired again throughout the raid which lasted nearly an hour.

When the Commandos were ashore two searchlights were flashed on by the defenders. German machine-gun posts then directed their fire against assault craft lying offshore obviously with the aim of preventing the re-embarkation of our troops.

But by this time the Commandos had carried out their reconnaissance and gathered information they were there to seek.

The troops reembarked under the cover of a smoke-screen. As the boats made their way to sea the German defenders still were firing wild and sporadic bursts.

In the brilliant moonlight we spotted R.A.F. machines diving low over the coast. A series of heavy explosions followed as they dropped their bombs all along the foreshore in and around the defences.

BOATS IN BATTLE

While the Commandos were on the beaches naval supporting craft encountered two German patrol vessels about a mile offshore. In a short swift engagement one of the patrol boats was left in a sinking condition while the other ran aground, burning from stem to stern and providing a beacon which blazed for hours afterwards.

Russ Air Force Blasts 115 Motor Vehicles, Enemy Infantry

MOSCOW, June 4 (AP) —The Soviet Command reported early today a resumption of fighting and air force activity on some sectors of the front.

Actions afield were described as local, however, and there still was no indication of general fighting anywhere.

During June 4 engagements of local importance were fought in some sectors of the front, with active air operations.

"During June 3 units of our air Force on various sectors of the front destroyed or damaged 115 motor vehicles with troops and war materials and dispersed and partly annihilated up to six companies of enemy infantry."

The mid-day communique yesterday said 300 Germans were killed on the central front in a local Nazi attack, and that 12 more German planes had been shot down on the same front.

B. C. Civilians Advised What to Do in Case of Gas Attack

VANCOUVER, June 4 (CP.)—The Provincial Civilian Protection Committee in a statement today warnnig civilians to check air raid precautions advised what to do in a gas attack as follows:

1. Serious injury may result from exposure to liquid gas which may fall from air planes. It is, therefore, imperative to remain indoors and keep the windows closed.

2. Most war gases are heavier than air. If you are inside a building remain there, and, if possible, go upstairs. Do not complicate the military by leaving your house unless circumstances make it absolutely necessary. If you are outside and not able to immediately go indoors walks—do not run—get out of the gas area. Avoid puddles of liquid gas, basements, valleys and other low places.

3. If the windows of your room are broken, go to another room, or get out of the building.

4. If you have been exposed to a war gas;

A—Breathe through cloths wet with baking soda solution.

B—If you can go inside a building, do so, but first remove your outer clothing and leave it outside.

C—Wash your hands and then your face with laundary soap and water.

D—Wash your eyes at once with a large amount of solution of baking soda; one teaspoonful of baking soda in a glass of water.

E—Take a bath using plenty of laundry soap.

F—Wash your eyes again with baking soda solution.

5. If splashes of liquid gas have got on you:

A—Using small pieces of cloth, cleansing tissue or toilet paper, blot up as much of the liquid as you can, being careful not to spread it.

B—Daub the contaminated area with cloths wet with clorox, purex, sani-clor, etc.

C—Steps, B, C, D, E, and F in 4 above.

6. Don't get excited. Lie down and cover yourself with blanket. Your air raid warden will summon medical aid. There is no immediate danger from exposure to any known war gas if you follow these simple rules.

Interpreting

The War News

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Japan's air flights over the Dutch Harbor naval base, Unalaska, can be written off as scouting forays on the basis of information so far available from Washington. They had none of the earmarks of an operation of greater scope than to find out what was going on at that potential springboard for American attack on Japan.

That appears to be the Washington conclusion. The fact that no bombs were dropped during the second enemy flight tends to confirm it. The six hour time lapse between the two daylight sweeps also strongly supports the navy conclusion that planes involved were launched from a small carrier.

There had been no official mention of the incident from any Japanese source many hours after it had been disclosed in Washington. Axis broadcasts in Europe made much of it, picturing a virtual invasion panic on the West coast of Canada and the U. S. It was obvious however that they had no information other than that broadcast in the U. S.

The two daylight sweeps may have provided the raiders with notes on the scope and progress of the American base building operations.

Dutch Harbor must be of special interest to the Japanese. While there remains any doubt as to Russia's future role in the Pacific war it must be of keenest interest to Tokyo, for Alaska is an American bridgehead for contact with Russia for joint operations akainst Japan when the time for that comes.

And that might be far closer than surface indications in Europe yet disclosed.

Out of the Dutch Harbor raids Tokyo might hope to learn the true degree of American readiness to use that avenue of attack either alone or in odeperation with Russia at some future time.

Chinese reports insist that Siberia is likely to be the next Japanese target of attack. Signs are not altogether lacking that Hitler is again pressing his Nipponese accomplice fo help, as he did when Russian resistance forced him into a bitter retreat in Russia last Winter.

Claim Specially Trained Czech Chutist Dropped in Bohemia and Moravia

BERLIN, June 4 (AP)—Emanuel Moravec, propaganda minister of the German-controlled Czech government at Prague today, disclosed officially for the first time that young Czech parachutists had been dropped in Bohemia and Moravia with arms and explosives.

He added that most of them had been rounded up.

"The few criminals who escaped", he continued, "sufficed to bring misfortune to us" (an obvious reference to the attack on Reinard Heydrich, the Gestapo leader.)

"With the aid of Foreign instructors, young Czechs who were mobilized by compulsory means in foreign countries have been especially trained for sabotage acts," Moravec said. "They were told that revolution was imminent in Bohemia and Moravia, as a signal for the uprising, a number of assaults were carried out against prominent German and Czech personalities and series of attacks were made against industrial plants, public buildings and other institutions."

He declared the organizers "of this assault" believed the Czech people would care for these agents and even give them shelter.

"Benes (Eduard Benes, President of the Provisional Czech Government in London) knew, however, that he was sending these agents into certain death . . . He was therefore convinced that if it should not come to revolution in our country he could at least make Churchill believe that such a revolution had taken place."

BERLIN, June 4 (AP)— The German radio aserted today the fatal attack on Reinhard Heydrich was carried out by both bomb and automatic pistol made in Britain. The broadcaster read a dispatch from Prague giving the first complete German version of the killing.

Seattle Harbor Areas Put on Wartime Basis

SEATTLE, June 4 (AP)—Rear Admiral C. S. Freeman, 13th U.S. Naval District Commandant, issued ettle's harbor areas on a wartime sweeping orders today putting Sebasis against sabotage and attack. The orders included the Lakes Washington and Union shorelines.

He closed virtually the entire Elliott Bay waterfront area, except ramps and crossings to port commission buildings and ferry wharves and the retail establishments between Madison and Washington Streets, to the general public. His order also abolished sightseeing and photographing on the waterfront, required waterfront property owners to remove fire hazards and remodel structures if necessary.

Lieut. D. T. Adams, Coast Guard, Captain of the Port, said greatly augmented waterfront guards would enforce the orders. Compliance with earlier traffic restrictions had been on a voluntary basis.

Lieut. Adams said city and county authorities would be asked to clear the last remaining "squatters" from the harbor area, because "one match and five gallons of gasoline can silhouette the whole industrial area," and because "04 per cent of the squatters are aliens, and they must go."

Ban Sugar Prizes

VANCOUVER, June 4 (CP)—Warning was issued by officials of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board here today that officials of organizations offering sugar as prizes at raffles lay themselves open to a charge of violating the law.

The Board said charitable organizations, particularly in the Victoria area, which have been offering sugar as a prize at raffles, are being checked. It said a prize of 10 pounds of sugar was offered in one case.

The Board warned that not only officials of the organization offering the prize but the retailer who sold the sugar for such a purpose is liable to prosecution.

LONDON, June 4 (CP). — Sqdn. Ldr. J. A. F. Macchlachlan, who wouldn't let the loss of an arm interfere with his R. A. F. career, shot down two of four German bombers destroyed over France last night and damaged two others.

Sensible Girls Pass Up Fast Worker's Tactics

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

The other day the mail brought me a letter from a girl who objected to being made love to the minute she was introduced to a young man. She thinks all nice girls object to this procedure, and says, 'Some men begin with their high-powered, not-a-second-to-lose sales talk so quickly that I don't know whether they think I am a potential customer for a vacuum sweeper, insurance, or jewelry that's been smuggled past the Customs."

She goes on: "I like to get my breath, size up a man, and then discover whether or not we have anything in common."

Of course you do, and so do all girls who have had any attention at all paid to them. They know that the man who pays compliments like a book agent, with one foot in the door, isn't to be taken seriously.

Again, this book-agent type of lovemaking is apt to come back to the young man like a boomerang. The girl who has never had any lovemaking at all is apt to swallow it, hook, line and sinker. She tells Mamma and Papa, she orders her trousseau, she names the day, and your verbal Lothario finds that he has not one but both feet in the door and the door closed behind him.

PLANT HAIRDRESSERS PLANNED FOR WOMEN WORKERS

CANBERRA, June (AAP)—Women munitions workers may soon be able to have their hair waved and cut on the job, Munitions Minister J. Makin will suggest that hairdressers be attached to munitions staffs so women operatives can take an hour off for a hair-do instead of half a day as sometimes occurs now.

Poor Report Card Should Not Cause Scolding

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

The report card which the child brings home often symbolizes suffering which no pen can quite describe. Some children are scolded, some are shamed, some flogged, because their grades are lower than their parents think they ought to be.

It does no good to punish children for poor grades. The damage has been done, and punishment will almost never make a pupil study harder in the future.

Never hold up any child as a model for another child within the family or outside it.

Not all children are alike in ability to learn. Within the same family there may be very wide differences in mental aptitude.

Some children always find school work a slow, hard pull. They may never get along as well as the average child, no matter how hard they try. The slower learner finds it difficult to concentrate, and his failures add to his discouragements.

How can he pay attention, always, when he rarely enjoys success? To scold this child for laziness and inattention is torturing him for being handicapped by poorer learning powers. It's like kicking him when he is down. When a child can do things well he finds them interesting. Help him succeed so he will enjoy more success.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Some teachers say parents should not read to the child in the elementary grades since if they do the child will not want to learn to read to himself. What do you think about this?

A. An occasional child who has been read to a great deal at home will be a little slow in mastering the early reading skills. But we just kept on reading anyway. By and by the printed page has so much lure for them that they begin to dig it out for themselves and soon become very good readers.

Sugar Allowed for Canning and Jam Making

The quarter pound per week per person that has just been lopped off the sugar ration, bringing it down to half a pound per week per person, doesn't affect the canning regulations made public some time ago, according to Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

One half pound of sugar is allowed for each pound of fruit in canning or preserving.

Three-quarters of a pound of sugar to one pound of fruit is allowed for making jams and jellies.

Requirements for purchase of sugar for these purposes are that each applicant, on each occasion, supply the retailer with name, address and weight of fruit for which each lot of sugar is needed.

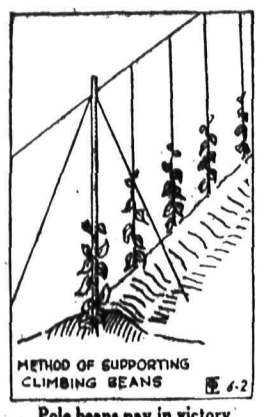
Weight of fruit means weight of fruit as purchased, or, for those who have their own fruit, its weight as picked.

In order that no more sugar than necessary be used, canning should be planned carefully, so as not to do any more than will be required. If, for any reason, all the sugar purchased for preserving or jam making is not used, it must be counted as part of the family's weekly sugar ration.

Make Trellises for Pole Beans

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Many gardeners believe that pole beans require far too much space and therefore in small gardens they will only grow the bush varieties. However, the pole beans bear more abundantly than the bush varieties and they continue to yield over a longer period.



METHOD OF SUPPORTING CLIMBING BEANS

Pole beans pay in victory garden

As illustrated, for pole beans temporary trellises easily can be made of stout cord, wire and a few supports. The posts can be set from 15 to 20 feet apart. Wire is stretched between the posts, one placed six inches above ground and the other six feet high. Cord is strung between the wires, one foot apart.

QUICK COFFEE CAKE

2 cups sifted flour, 3 tablespoons baking powder, 2 tablespoons sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons butter or other fat, ½ cup chopped raisins, ½ cup milk, ½ cup citron or other candied fruit, ¼ cup chopped nuts, 1 teaspoon cinnamon mixed with 2 tablespoons sugar.

Sift flour, baking powder, sugar and salt together, saving out 2 tablespoons flour to mix with fruit. Cut in fat with biscuit cutter, add milk and floured fruit. Put the dough in a greased pan, pat down until it is about 1½ or 2 inches thick, and bake for 35 to 40 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.). When done, butter top and sprinkle over it a mixture of chopped nuts, cinnamon and sugar. Put into oven again and let it remain until sugar begins to melt. Serve hot or cold. Or you can make a honey topping for the cake. Before baking, spread top with strained honey blended with equal portions of melted butter. Sprinkle with raisins and slivers of nuts. When baked the cake will have a deliciously flavored top coat.

PRUNE COFFEE CAKE

2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup sugar, ¾ cup milk, 1 egg, 1-3rd cup melted butter, 1 cup stewed prunes (raisins may be substituted), 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ cup brown sugar, 1tablespoon melted butter.

Sift dry ingredients together, stir in milk, well-beaten egg and melted butter. Turn into greased nin-inch pan, brush top with melted butter. Seed prunes and cut in strips, and place over dough. Sprinkle brown sugar into which melted butter has been mixed over top. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.), 20 to 25 minutes. Remove from pan as soon as taken from oven, and serve hot or cold.

SERIAL STORY . . . . . By ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES

YOU ARE THE ONE

SYNOPSIS

Three young airline hostesses, TIBBY LANE, sweet and natural; STEENA WINTERS, beautiful and sophisticated, and MARG BAKER, plain, sturdy and direct, share an apartment together in New York, where they are based. A friend of Tibby's, Tommy Dare, is spending his first year out of medical school at a clinic in Brooklyn.

YESTERDAY: Steena outlines the rules to apply when one of the girls, especially Steena herself, has masculine company. However, the first man to call does not come to Steena. The buzzer sounds—

CHAPTER THREE

"IS THIS where Miss Elizabeth Lane lives?" a masculine voice inquired over the squeaky tube from the apartment house foyer, a voice not squeaky however, but vibrantly masculine, and warmly familiar.

"Tommy!" Tibby squeaked back, surprised at the delight that filled not only her voice but her whole soul, for it was good to hear a familiar voice, to know that someone you had known as long and well as Tommy Dare was just outside your door.

"In person," the voice returned promptly, "this time with a chuckle accompanying it. "Are you going to press a buzer so I can break in, or do I have to tackle the fire escape?"

Tibby said she'd press the buzzer. "Only give me a minute or two," she added hastily. They would receive their first masculine caller when the apartment was in something of a mess and the girls themselves not too presentable. Steena, however, was out.

"Give me a hand," she said to Marg, who lolled, her hair rolled up on bobby pins because she had just shampooed it, on the couch, her feet in the air, reading a book. "It's someone from home. I DO wish Steena would pick up her belongings! Although I realize she was late. If you'll scoop the rest of those things underneath some place, I'll run a wash rag and a powderpuff over my shiny nose."

Marg and Tibby had had their first leaves, two long days in which to relax, which explained why they were taking life easy.

"Scooping stuff under things is the best thing I do," Marg said. "You attend to your mug, darling; I'll have this room so straightened it will topple backards. I hope your friend from home won't mind my curlers. I have to leave 'em up, or sure as I don't get a call—and get called down again from Miss Picklepuss."

Miss Picklepuss was the name the girls had given the chief hostess. She was new at her position and took its importance too much to heart. She also seemed to have taken a special pleasure in picking on Marg, as she checked the hostesses for tidiness, too much makeup, and the condition of uniforms. Tibby would not have time to slip out of her old sweater and slacks, donned for comfort when off duty, but since it was only Tommy it would not matter. She had wondered when he would look her up after receiving the card she had sent giving her new address, but she supposed he had been busy in his new work at the clinic.

"Why, Tommy, you're looking grand!" she exclaimed, extending a hand in welcome as she opened the door. Her tone, as well as the handclasp, was meant to put him immediately on the footing she intended keeping him on, because of that resolution she had made of no more kisses. It would have been just like him to have grabbed her—right in front of Marg, who was wide-eyed as it was—and given her a bear-hug and a big smacker for the sake of auld lang syne or something or other.

However, he accepted her cue, as he had that last night when she had tried to laugh off that extra kiss. "You aren't doing so badly yourself!" He returned her hand clasp firmly, his blue eyes laughing down into hers. "Your new job must agree with you—though I still don't approve of it. No, not even though t brought you here, young lady. And say," his eyes approved the surroundings," you've not done badly, either, in other fields. Do you live alone in such swanky splendor, Tib? This makes ye old home town fade into utter insignificance."

Tibby said she did not live alone. Dragging Marg foward to present Tommy and explaining another roommate was absent, she said, "We come in a package of threes—when we're all here at one and the same time, which is not too often."

"Oh, no, we don't," Marg murmured, after acknowledging the introduction. "When any one of us has a visitor she lives alone. That's one of our rules. If Tibby had told me you were a man you wouldn't have had so much as a glimpse of me and my curl papers. Though it's nice to have met you, Dr. Dare."

She started to back a hasty retreat, one hand clasped over her head.

3 Bad Reasons Why People Don't Eat Right

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Indifference, ignorance and economics—and in that exact order, are the reasons only one-fourth of the people eat right.

Most are willing to concede that spinach is good for them but they won't eat it. They think it is actually in the same class as vegetable plates and whole wheat bread.

They know that milk is needed for their teeth, but they don't drink it seriously until threatened with a store set.

Such indifference probably applies to half of those who do not eat right. All they want in food is to have it taste good and be filling and not too fattening.

This indifference is due partly to ignorance.

Today there is no excuse for not knowing why foods are important and which ones are needed daily. In fact, with the national swing to nutrition, it is difficult to see how you can escape knowing quite a lot about right eating.

Did you know that it can keep you mentally as well as physically efficient, tone you up and calm you down, and do as much for your personality as a course in charm? Calcium—that's what you get in milk, and cheese, can do all that for you in addition to helping you hang on to your teeth.

If you lack the money to buy good nutrition that is something else, but the more you know of the subject the closer you can come to getting your money's worth.

BLACKOUT SANDWICHES

Emergency Food For Hungry Families

ALL the family will praise your sandwiches if you will just avoid "flat taste" by the addition of H. P. Sauce. This is the secret to appetizing sandwiches.

"Blackout" Sandwiches are the latest wartime "newey". To make them, whip together ½ lb. of cream cheese with 1 tablespoon of H. P. Sauce and ½ tablespoon of horseradish; then sauté a 3½ oz. can of chipped beef and a tablespoon of butter until frizzled. Break up fine and add to cheese mixture. Spread on buttered brown bread.

H. P. is a fine old English type, thick, fruity sauce. It is economical because it is concentrated. Try it on meat, fish, fowl, salads, soups, stews, etc. You'll be surprised at the wonderful flavour it gives foods.

Quinine Supply Is Sufficient

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The conquest of Batavia has affected American life for the future probably more than any other aspect of the war. One feature of this which worried me was the outlook for the quinine supply. Nearly 100 per cent of the supply of quinine for the world came from the Dutch East Indies. If this supply were shut off, it would have a very serious effect.

Over most of the continental area of North America it would have no special effect, but in our Southern states we still have to combat malaria with quinine and in combat troops anywhere the possibility of a malaria epidemic is very imminent and it might be very serious if quinine were not available.

DUTCH MONOPOLY

The Dutch did not allow the cultivation of cinchona trees, from which quinine is obtained to die out, as happened in Ceylon where it was abandoned for more profitable crops.

NO SHORTAGE IMMINENT

However, the quinine situation is quite favorable for several years to come.

For the future it is possible that the quinine industry can be developed in South America. It is curious that the first place quinine was ever found was in South America and that it has fallen behind so completely in production.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A.G.—What are the symptoms of Calcium deficiency? What are the symptoms of too much in the system?

Answer—Calcium deficiency in young people causes rickets, a disease in which there is a softening of the bones. In adult life calcium deficiency does not affect bones because they are already formed, but it causes a spasm of the muscles known as tetany. Bad teeth are also ascribed to calcium deficiency. But there is no definite sign of too much calcium in the tissues.

MONTREAL, June 4 (CP.)—The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire passed a resolution today to petition the Dominion Government to repeal the act granting exemption from military service to members of certain sects on "such grounds as their religious beliefs."

The preamble said Canada is "in need of every measure of loyal support, moral and military, available within her own borders" and added that there are "known to be in our midst organizations and religious sects of direct enemy origins, Hutterites, who, while claiming exemption on religious grounds, we believe, at the same time to be using their language as a means of spreading propaganda among their youth, subversive to the Defence of Canada Regulions."

Laval Has a Destiny for Quebec

W. L. Clark, a columnist of the Windsor Star, comments pointedly on the results Laval is trying to secure from his spiritual leadership of some elements in Quebec. Apparently Hitler's stooge thinks he has but to beckon and the map of this continent will be changed.

Mr. Clark's illuminating comment is as follows:

"The Laval program from Vichy is becoming more distinct. He wants the French people of the United States to follow the group in Quebec and develop a French bloc that will cooperate with a Separatist bloc in Canada. Laval neglects to remember that many thousands of Quebec young men are with the armed forces.

"It is a pretentious scheme. It goes back to the old idea of the formation of a Latin bloc in Europe, which hopes to extend its sway over North America. Laval is trying to line up the French descendants of New England to pull them into a group with Quebec and so set up a separate state.

"Under the direction of Vichy, the Separatist movement would take in Quebec, Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire and any territory that would be willing to join in to withdraw from Canada and the United States and become a separate nation.

"It will be interesting to watch how Laval progresses and whether Vichy will meet a response in the United States that can be at all comparable to Lower Canada."

Today's Horoscope

If your birthday is today, you are rash and impulsive, easily aroused to joy or anger. You work enthusiastically but without foresight or careful planning. You look for the easy way. You are kind and symapthetic, but could before tactful. In the next year a family event brings pleasure and gain, but a business disappointment is likely. Seek no favors from your employer. Domestic affairs are more propitious. A child born on this date will be somewhat inclined to anticipate trouble and to worry unduly, especially over business matters. Much sympathy and good-nature will be forthcoming, however.

J. G., Nelson—A grocery man told me he was not allowed to sell sugar with which to make jam from rhubarb. Is this correct?

No, this is not correct. The Wartime Prices and Trade Board have issued instructons stating that one half pound of sugar to each pound of fruit will be allowed for preserving and canning and that three quarters of a pound will be allowed for making jams and jellies. Requirements for purchase of sugar for these purposes are that each applicant, on each occasion, supply the retailer with name, address and weight of fruit for which each lot of sugar is needed.

Reader, Nelson—My father owns a farm and I work on it. Would you say that I am employed or unemployed? Do I have to get registered?

You would be considered as gainfully employed if you have been working steadily on the farm, and should have registered in April, and if you have not done so, apply at the Unemployment Insurance Office at Nelson for a form. At present only those ungainfully employed are being registered.

F. V., Creston—What are the areas of Japan and Australia, respectively; also distance from New York to Japan?

Japan, 263,000 square miles; Australia, 3,000,000 square miles. New York to Japan via Cape of Good Hope, 15,099 nautical miles; via Panama Canal, 9699 nautical miles; via Suez Canala, 13,056 miles.

A. N., Nelson—Can you give me a recipe for home-made tooth powder?

Charcoal, 30 ounces; cream of tartar, eight ounces; yellow cinchoha bark, four ounces; sugar, 15 ounces, scent with oil of cloves.

Dominion's Effort Needs Publicising Across the Line

(Brooke Claxton, Liberal M.P. for St. Lawrence-St. George, in the House, May 29.)

I hold in my hand a large number of clippings from Canadian papers expressing their view of this question. The Ottawa Journal says:

"There can be little doubt that Canada has suffered considerably in the United States through lack of any coordinated effort on our part of let the American people know what we are doing."

The Toronto Globe and Mail says:

"The lack of knowledge in the United States concerning Canada's effort has been exploited by the isolationists with substantial effectiveness."

The Saint John Telegraph-Journal:

"We have still a long way to go before our system of information, especially to our American cousins, is satisfactory."

The Family Herald and Weekly Star:

"Canada continues to receive a bad press in the United States, and it is high time something was done to tell the American people our story."

In an address delivered before the Canadian Club of Montreal, Sir Wilmot H. Lewis, Washington correspondent for the London Times, said:

"There is not enough Canadian publicity in the United States or in the other American nations. . . ."

The Montreal Standard says:

"Most people in the United States at the present time have no conception of the part Canada is playing in this war."

And again:

"Canada is failing dangerously in the esteem of the American people because of the poor impression they have of our war accomplishments."

From the Montreal Star:

"We have on several occasions advocated an organized campaign to make the details of Canada's war effort more widely known throughout the United States than they are."

From the San Francisco Chronicle:

"The result—"

"That is, of our failure to give information.

"—Is that a great and vital story, as vital to us and our way of life as to Canada's goes untold."

It continues:

"That is why we wish our Canadian friends were not so gun shy about propaganda. There should be official, recognized agencies of information, telling us at least as much about what the people next door are doing in their war, and our war, as we know from Overseas."

From the Minneapolis Star-Journal:

"Doubtless Canada has been reluctant to carry on in the United States any thorough and systematic effort to make Americans better acquainted with her, lest she be suspected of propaganda for some ulterior purpose.

"But it would be a service to Americans if she would do so. It would help to end misconceptions, and to make honest differences of opinion debatable as between friends, not strangers.

"The United States and Canada are going to be more and more important to each other, whatever happens in the world. The better they know each other, the more harmoniously they can work together for the good for both."

Then from the Daily Star, Windsor, Ont.:

"The American people are actually anxious to hear about Canada's war effort. This is a fact that we have been stressing for some time. It has taken certain persons in authority much too long to realize its truth.

"The result has been that, because of timidity about spreading propaganda, Canada has suffered a volume of unjusified criticism."

From the Vancouver Sun:

"Canada has been so diffident or incompetent about giving Americans the facts that the Mineapolis Star-Journal finds its readers pitifully ignorant about the whole Canadian situation. Some of them, says the Star-Journal think that Canada is a dependency of Britain, paying taxes to the British treasury."

The Winnipeg Free Press, commenting on this, says:

"The need for an alert, full-time Canadian information bureau in the United States has been apparent for a long time."

And they refer to these United States editorials.

LEGION DEMANDS ACTION ON FOREIGN SECTS

The kindly but dangerous tolerance in time of crisis of democracies to non-cooperative minority groups is exemplified in Canada's treatment of foreign sects who refuse to assume the responsibilities of citizenship because many years ago they were allowed entrance on foolishly lax terms. Little pressure has been placed on them to play the part of good citizens in this war, a pressure that is being applied to all other elements of the population.

In Alberta there is a large colony of Doukhobors. There is also a large colony of Hutterites. Their attitude to the war is well known and it formed a topic of discussion at the Canadian Legion convention in Winipeg yesterday. In a resolution unanimously carried dealing with the acquisition of real property by the Doukhobors and other groups inspired by similar communal selfishness and lack of citizenship quality, the Legion demands that these people be prevented from purchasing, or acquiring or leasing real property beyond a period of one year, or increasing their real estate holdings during the war and for five years thereafter.

The Legion suggested further that any breach of this policy should be a criminal offence, carrying with it confiscation of the property in question and the deprivation of special pivileges granted certain sects aganst the bearing of arms. The Legion's idea is to prevent their taking advantage of loyal neighbors who take up arms.—Calgary Herald.

WHY "A" CATEGORY

The News-Herald this week reported a warning from War Time Prices and Trade Board officials that holders of the higher gasoline category ration books faced "drastic action" for using their cars for pleasure trips.

Admittedly, we must conserve gasoline. But isn't that what the rationing plan was designed for?

Holders of "A" category books are persons whose cars are not essential in their business. In other words, their cars are primarily for "pleasure" purposes.

And they are given ration books which entitle them to approximately 8000 miles of motoring a year.

Regulations say that holders of other categories are entitled to this special consideration if their cars are used 5 per cent on essential driving.

Well, what about the other 25 per cent?

Are they not entitled to use their cars as "A" drivers do?

It looks as if there should be either a tightening of the "A" regulations or else a thorough revision of the whole rationing system.

What, exactly, is the dividing line between "non-essential" and "pleasure" driving.—Vancouver News-Herald.

MASTERY IN THE AIR

It has been estimated that the present number of German bombers in the West is some 300. That could only be increased by the transfer of others from Russia and from the Mediterranean. Whether at a moment when he must stake desperately high Hitler will choose that course, is beyond conjecture. The fact that the air offensive has opened a second front most dangerous to Nazilsm is now patent. "The policy is," as Sir Archibald Sinclair restates it, "to destroy the enemy's capacity to make war by bombing his factories, means of transport and military stores wherever they may be found." With the air strength now coming into action that policy will be more and more effectual. Air supremacy over the coastal areas of the occupied territory is being won and etended inland, and the way is thus prepared for further offensive action. The power of the United Nations in the air is growing beyond rivalry and the Germans cannot be defended by any fiction "from the impact," to quote Mr. Lyttleton's phrase, "of the colossal forces which are being gathered against them."—Daily Telegraph and Morning Post, London.

PLANNING FOR HUMAN BEINGS

The State, active in an electric spirit, can surely remove the more destructive types of insecurity without greatly changing the incentives to personal efficiency. It is an unmitigated evil that men and women should be poor when they are temporarily ill, unable to work, or when they have children; and it is untolerably unjust to allow them to become opor when they grow old. It is essential for the wealth of the nation (to maintain its power of production) that those who are ill should be nursed back to strength, that those who are unemployed should be kept physically and mentally healthy, and that children should be properly nurtured. The wise nation wil lsee that provision is made—on a contributory basis—to provide income to all its citizens in their time of need. This is not charity. It s common sense. And all this can be done without either abolishing the habit of paying differential wages to stimulate the productivity of labor or removing profits as a motive for maintaining the efficiency of management. Both Britain and America have moved far along this road and Britain, at any rate, will move farther.—E. F. M. Durbn in Harpers Magazine, New York.

Tank Units Drive Huns Out of Tamar

CAIRO, Egypt, June 4 (AP).—British armored forces were reported today to have routed Axis soldiers from a desert strongbold in a fierce engagement while their Free French allies held fast against efforts by Field Marshal Erwin Rommel to seize the key position of Bir Hacheim.

A Middle East Headquarters communique said British forces, attacking at the "last light of June 2," drove the enemy out of Tamar, 21 miles Southwest of Tobruk and six miles West of Knightsbridge, a track centre around which has occurred much of the fighting in this latest Libyan campaign.

"The enemy is known to have lost at least 14 tanks in this engagement," the communique declared.

The German field commander apparently desires to capture Bir Hacheim, Southern end of a severed line which once extended to Ain el Gazala, to make impossible a British counter-attack from that tiny oasis, about 50 miles Southest of Tobruk.

There are Indian troops at Bir Hacheim, but British sources said the main force consists of Free French metropolitan troops plus a battalion of the French Foreign Legion which now is about 85 per cent French.

The communique said Italian troops and some German tanks approached the defending positions at Bir Hacheim but the attack was not pressed home.

"Our columns in the neighborhood attacked the enemy in the rear," the communique said, while dive bombers which assaulted Bir Hacheim.

Strong Free French and British forces were assaulting German supply lines which flow around the British position at Rotunda Segnali, 44 miles West of Knightsbridge.

The Free French were commanded by Gen. Pierre Koenig, an Alsatian who fought in the foreign legion in the riff warfare, helped capture Narvik in the Norwegian campaign, was in Brittany during the battle of France and then joined the Free French forces in the French Equatorial Africa.

The communique made no reference to the situation developing North of Bir Hacheim where Rommel's armored columns prevoiusly had been reported attempting to widen a nine mile wide breach in the British line through which the Axis leader was feeding supplies to his hard pressed forces at Tamar.

R.A.F. headquarters announced down seven Junkers dive bombers in the Bir Hacheim air battles.

Declaring it was giving maximum support to the British land forces, the R.A.F. reported concentrations of Axis mechanized units South of Bir Hacheim were effectively bombed and machine gunned from a low level," and numerous motor transport vehicles damaged and set on fire.

Night bombing raids also were made against the Axis main landing grounds at Derna and Tmimi. Eight British planes were lost.

ROME—The Italian high command claimed today the battle in the Libyan desert took a favorable turn yesterday for the Axis forces, with capture of a number of prisoners.

Five Curtiss planes were reported shot down in air combats and two Italian planes were missing.

The high command claimed German fighters had intercepted a British air formation over the island of Pantelleria, midway between Sicily and the North African coast, and had shot down five Spitfires.

Fractures Theme of Nursing Talk Rossland Class

ROSSLAND, B. C., June 3—Mrs. J. A. Lonsbury, R.N., conducted the Red Cross Home Nursing class, also gave the scheduled talk on Fractures, Sprains and Dislocations" in place of Dr. L. Wrinch, who is in hospital.

Automobile accidents, the speaker explained cause most of the fracplained cause most of the fractures and fractures constituted the largest single group of injuries resulting from accidents.

The speaker quoted instances of accidents where passers by were of no assistance and advised such persons keep on going and find help qualified to render the necessary first aid. In some cases these useless persons complicated matters by having hysterics or fainting.

If the accident occurred on dangerous ground such as a highway, it is advisable to move the injured carefully to safety before rendering first aid. The too common practice of bundling victims into the back seat of a car and racing to the nearest hospital was to be deplored. It was much better to take the doctor to the patient.

Hemorrhage was the first thing to look for. Direct pressure would stop the bleeding and a sterile kerchief or man's shirt should be used for bandaging. Unless there was hemorrhage there was no need to cut the clothes of the victims. Mrs. Lonsbury asked that first aiders be practical and cut the clothing along the seams so that it could be repaired. Many accident cases she had seen brought into hosplitals, looked as if beavers had been put to work to chew off the clothes.

Wounds came next to hemorrhage in importance and it was important to cover with clean cloth.

The signs to look for to determine fractures were specified, as were the many kinds of emergency splints to be made, and the various ones necessary for the different fractures. If nothing was available a broken leg could be bound to the other one and a broken arm to the chest.

RECORD THE TREATMENT

If a doctor had arrived on the scene, a sedative would have been given, if the injuries were painful. The speaker advised the members if they ever found themselves at the scene of an accident to write down what had been given, and by whom, and pin it on to the victim's clothing. This would be of great help when the patient arrived at the hospital.

Patients must not be left unattended after a tourniquet had been applied, as many cases of gangrene had occurred because this had not been loosened every 20 minutes or when clotting had occurred.

How to treat when internal injuries were suspected was given fully. Hot fluids, were to be avoided, especially alcoholic beverages.

It was very important that external heat, blankets, etc, be aplied to prevent shock. Hit fulids with plenty of sugar, except where internal injuries were present, should be given.

The subject of sprains was covered. Ice bags or cold compresses were recommended also rest for the first 12 hours.

Signs, symptoms and emergency treatment of dislocations were given. Emphasis was placed on "Do not correct a dislocation for fear of harming nearby tissues, the only exception to this rule being in the case of dislocated jaw.

Mrs. Lonsbury gave in detail the correct procedure with regards to nursing patients with infectious diseases and the methods of preventing spreading.

She hoped most of the classes would write the exams which will be held in three weeks. Women holding Red Cross certificates in War emergency work would be much more likely to be chosen for any of the women's auxiliaries, etc, and with the shortage of nurses locally many women would be taken into the hospitals as nurses' helpers, if they held the necessary certificates, she said.

Commandos Raid French Territory, Bremen Bombed

LONDON, June 4 (CP)— British bombers heavily blasted Bremen, Germany's second seaport and British commandos scouted the Boulogne area of Hitler's French coastal defences overnight it was announced today.

The Bremen raid, the 94th of the war, was linked with an attack on the Dieppe docks, and the Air Ministry announced 10 bombers and two fighters were missing from the night operations.

A strong R.A.F. force flew up through moonlit skies to strike at Bremen targets, in a follow-up raid to the mass raids upon Cologne and Essen.

Black faced commandos, escorted by warships and protected in their withdrawal by R.A.F. fighters, stabbed across Dover Strait after midnight on a reconnaissance raid officially declared to have produced valuable information.

The force was described as a small contingent, casualties were officially declared to have been slight.

British fliers found weather conditions favorable and cast their explosive loads upon Bremen by the light of flares.

Nazi airdromes in the occupied area and the Low Countries and the harbor installations of Dieppe, on France's channel coast also were attacked and mines were laid in enemy waters, it added.

Bremen is a city of 385,000 population occupying sandy plains on both banks of the Weser river 48 miles from the North Sea and 300 miles from England's East coast.

Reliable sources said the new nocturnal thrusts were on a moderate scale for the second night in succession, following the crippling 1000 plane assaults against Ymome and Essen Saturday and Monday.

Four German aircraft were destroyed during the night over Nazi bases in France and another over Britain.

A small number of German planes tried to cross the Southeast heavy fire from ground batteries forced them back in some disorder.

Bolstering preparations for the contemplated 2000 plane a night raiding off Germany is a new twin-motored Manchester bomber which the aircraft production ministry announced is equipped to carry five tons of explosives.

Strawberry Yield in Nelson, Creston Districts Likely to Be Lighter; Fruit, Vegetable Crops Advancing

Frost damaged strawberry blossoms in all parts of the Kootenay and Arrow Lake District, states the horticultural newsletter of the Department of Agriculture. The newsletter continues:

"The damage to the early varieties in some sections was quite severe, 25 to 30 per cent of loss is estimated by some growers. Later blooming varieties such as British Sovereign and Parson's Beauty, the two varieties making up a very large portion of the tonnage in the district, were not damaged to the same extent, perhaps 10 to 15 per cent in some sections, while in some fields there was no injury at all. The crop will be later than last year by 10 days at least. A few ripe berries should be on the market by June 10, but the heavy movement will not be on much before the twentieth or later. The weather has also been favorable for the raspberry crop and the canes are making good growth with some recovery in the Winter injured patches Currants and gooseberries appear to have set quite well and the fruit is sizing quite good.

TREE FRUITS

"Sweet cherries appear to have set well in all parts of the district, but the drop is yet to come, so it is still too early to determine just what the crop will be. Peaches appear to be a good crop at this time. Plums are off, taking the district as a whole, 1941 being the heavy year for this crop. Prunes should be about the same as last year, as will pears. There was a very heavy bloom on most all varieties of apples throughout the district; even in the neglected orchards the bloom was quite heavy. The blossom period extended over a very long period and spraying operations have been delayed to a considerable extent by wet weather conditions.

Vegetable crops are coming on quite slowly, but with a few warm days, growth will come on very rapidly. Seeding and planting of all vegetables has been completed, with the exception of some tomatoes, late cabbage, beans and late turnips.

"In general farm crops are developing nicely in all sections of the district. There appears to be an increase in Spring grains. There is very little winter grain as the weather was very bad for seeding last Fall. Alfalfa fields were injured to some extent in the heavy clay soils by heaving and this crop will not be as heavy as last year. Some of the fields have been plowed up and put in to Spring grain and reseeded to alfalfa or other mixed hay crops. Pasture is good throughout the district.

"The pest situation in both orchard and field is not serious, but weather conditions have been favorable for development and spread of apple scab.

CRESTON DISTRICT

"Slight damage to cherries, and prunes principally; more especially those situated in lower levels. Tomatoes recently put out were set back, and early planted potatoes were affected wherever they had made their appearance above ground.

"Strawberries were in full bloom and some damage to blossoms occurred. Yields may run 20 per cent lighter than last year, chiefly on account of reduced acreage throughout the valley. Raspberries are looking very well and a full crop can be looked forward to. Bush fruits are well advanced and promise well for the coming season.

"There was a full showing of cherry blossoms, but the season was cold and damp, checking pollenization. The recent frost did some damage to the Bings, more so than the Lamberts, but present indications are that the total yields may exceed last year's. Prunes are light as the blossom was off this season, owing to a heavy crop last year, and the recent frost hurt all low lying areas. Plums are fair, and will run close to average. Pears give promise of an excellent crop and as many young trees are coming into bearing, an increase can be looked forward to. McIntosh and all early apples are heavy. Rome Beauty are good, but Delicious are light."

PROTEST INCREASE IN BEEF PRICES

VANCOUVER, June 4 (CP)—The Vancouver Restaurant Owners' Association, in telegrams today to James Stewart, Wartime Prices and Trade Board Director of Services, and "various members of Parliament," repeated protests over an increase in beef prices approved recently by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

June 10 Closing Date Fixed for Garden Entries

Nelson Garden Club, meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Draper, Robson Street, decided to make June 10 the closing date for entries for the various competitions in lawn gardens, general gardens, boulevards, rock gardens and rock boulevards.

A general discusion was held on the use of various insecticides for the control of the pests of different sorts which infest the average garden.

Speaking especially upon flowers W. B. Melnecznk, who has a fine garden of his own and in addition has charge of the P.R. gardens, declared the countries which had practiced floriculture had always been the most highly cultured countries of their time.

He traced the history of flower culture, beginning in Asia under pagan conditions. He followed through to Greece; and then to the Ukraine, now devastated, but once known as the country of flowers and song. Vienna took up floriculture, then Switzerland and France. Cultivated flowers were introduced to England, he said, by the Romans, and, in England had come to perfection, as an integral part of the average home. Holland and Denmark took flowers seriously, but largely for commercial purposes. Russia, he said, had not yet developed a keen sense of the value of flowers. His audience gathered that Germany's favorite flower was cauliflower.

He visited California and saw much to admire, but could not get away from a feeling of artificiality, he said. He had seen many fine gardens in Eastern Canada and the Eastern States, but felt they lacked the background available in the West for natural beauty.

Mr. Melzeczuk said it was useless to plant seeds or set out plants unless one intended to look after them. ultivation let them breathe and conserve moisture. They must be sprayed, fertilized, and pruned when necessary to get good results. As a hobby, gardening would grow on one if he stuck to it intelligently, and would give more pleasure than most pastimes. Like children, the more care, given thebetter results in size, beauty and character.

Big Jap Transport Ship Sunk by Subs

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, June 4 (CP)—An Allied submarine sank an armed transport of 6900 tons "with probable loss of all troops," sent two heavily-loaded supply ships to the bottom and damaged a third, a Headquarters communique announced today.

The ships sunk totalled 20,000 tons It is estimated the Japanese might have lost 12,000 troops.

Earlier, Gen. MacArthur's Headquarters announced Japanese submarines had sunk one ship off the East coast of Australia, and Prime Minister John Curtin said at Canberra that three of four Japanese submarines which entered Sydney harbor last Sunday were sunk before they could attack.

Mr. Curtin told Parliament the fourth submarine, alone able to fire its torpedoes, also was sunk.

Headquarters made two announcements concerning the submarines:

The first, without giving any results, merely recorded that attacks were made on two small cargo vessels 35 miles East of Sydney and another ship 425 miles South of there.

The second bulletin said further information indicated one of the ships was sunk but the others escaped.

Today's regular Headquarters communique reported only one development in the air war, an Allied air force attack on Rabaul, Northeastern New Britain, which caused large fires in the wharf and military camp area.

Hated Nazi Killer Dies From Wounds

BERLIN, June 4 (AP).—Reinhard Heydrich, 38, "protector" of Bohemia and Moravia, died in Prague this morning of wounds suffered in an attempt on his life May 27, it was announced officially today.

The assassination of the man known among scores of millions of Europe's oppressed peoples as "der henker"—"the hangman"—expected to bring about the shooting of hundreds of hostages in addition to the 163 already slain in swift reprisals, Czech circles in London asserted.

London sources declared Heydrich recently was appointed Gestapo chief for occupied Europe and it was pointed out ironically that the "butcher of Moravia" died in virtually the same manner as hundreds of hostages he had ordered shot in France, Holland, Belgium, Norway, Poland and other countries during his hated career.

A Czech source in London said automatic rifles used by two men to shoot Heydrich were from the ordnance of the disbanded Czech Army and possibly were dropped by parachute. The Czech Government appealed by radio to the Czechs to stand firm against the Gestapo bloodshed and not disclose those connected with the shooting.

Forty-six more Czechs were reported executed yesterday. Among the 163 thus far shot were 29 women.

"There is no doubt the Gestapo has just begun to kill," a Czecho-Slovak Government source said in London. "Hostage shootings will run into the hundreds."

The names of those executed disclosed to the Czech Government in London that roundups had been made not only in Prague but in every province of Bohemia and Moravia.

The Berlin radio announced Heydrich was wounded at 2 p.m. May 27 on the Berlin-Prague highway within the limits of Greater Prague.

A reward of 10,000,000 crowns ($335,000 at the last quoted rate of exchange in May, 1941) was immediately offered for his assassins and martial law was proclaimed in Prague.

These reports also said three bullets which injured Heydrich's spine were removed by a German specialist rushed to Prague.

Czech circles in London declared May 30 the Germans were working on the theory parachutists dropped from foreign planes had a hand in the shooting.

Quoting a dispatch from Stockholm, Tass, Soviet News Agency, said last Monday the Heydrich case had come as a thunderbolt to Hitler's circle of leaders and had touched off arrests in the German capital itself.

So important was the case that Himmler was said in the Tass dispatch to have notified Hitler of the attack in an urgent telephone call.

"The bloodiest of all the bloody Nazis."

That was the hated sobriquet applied to Heydrich by Europe's oppressed millions.

Long before assassins' bullets cut Heydrich down Britain had his number.

His was the first name on the list of Germans announced in London on Oct. 7, 1941, for probable post-war punishment as a result of murder and oppression in German occupied-countries.

Sharing this list with Heydrich were Joseph Terboven, German Commissioner for Norway; Gen. Alexander von Faulkenhausen, German Commander for Norway; and Gen. Otto von Stuelpnagel, German Commander for France.

An early convert to Hitlerism, Heydrich was little known to the world generally until the fall of 1941 when Hitler sent him to Prague to quell a rising tide of Czech unrest. There he succeeded Baron Konstantin von Neurath as "protector" of Bohemia and Moravia.

What followed constitutes a terrible page in the history of freedom-loving Czechs. Hundreds were summarily executed and the Germans announced order had been restored. As a reward, Heydrich was raised to the rank of general in the Security Police.

But the fires of revolt still flared in the protectorate and more executions followed. In one sweeping order 90,000 Jews were uprooted and herded into a ghetto at Terezin, Bohemia.

Even if the world in general hadn't heard of Heydrich much before 1941, Europe's common overrun countries had.

CHUNGKING, June 4 (AP)—Lt.-Gen. Joseph Stilwell, American Commander of Chinese force which fought the Japanese in Burma, and Maj.-Gen. Lewis Brereton, Commander of United States Army forces in India, arrived by plane today for conferences with Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek.

Coast 'Tipped Off' Before Raid

VICTORIA, June 4 (CP)—The Victoria Times in a newspage story says the Japanese air raids on Dutch Harbor, Alaska, yesterday "came as no surprise to many Victorians" since "it was known here Monday that the attack was expected momentarily by military authorities as there had been a tip-off that Japanese forces had started North."

"It was not known which part of the Alaska or British Columbia coast the Japs would strike first," the paper said, adding that "many here linked the knowledge with the visit of Canada's head soldier, Lt.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, Chief of General Staff, with Maj. Gen John P. Mackenzie, Quarter-Master General."

(Gen. Stuart and Gen. Meckenzie flew from Victoria to Northern British Columbia Tuesday.)

Rationing to Go on Coupon System

OTTAWA, June 4 (CP)—Introduction of coupon rationing for household commodities is being planned by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board with the probability that sugar will be the first commodity affected, Donald Gordon, Board Chairman, announced today.

Gasoline already is subject to coupon rationing in Canada, but it is handled by the Munitions and Supply Department. Mr. Gordon presumably referring apparently only to commodities over which the Prices Board has jurisdiction—all foodstuffs, clothing and textiles, some metals and a wide range of other products.

Mr. Gordon said a "canvass of householders" will be necessary before coupon rationing goes into effect, to provide a registration of consumers for issuance of the coupons.

Further details of the proposed coupon system and the canvass would be announced "within a few weeks."

The Board Chairman said the method of rationing sugar without coupons—introduced last January—has been "a great success" and that there has already been a "gratifying reduction" in consumption of tea and coffee, brought under the "honor system" of rationing May 26.

"There are, of course, many ways of evading any kind of rationing regulations, and the use of coupons does not necessarily mean any greater reduction in consumption or a fairer distribution," said Mr. Gordon's statement.

"However, it is recognized that the use of coupons is a great convenience to the public in keeping track of their consumption, and now that three commodities in general use are subject to rationing, it was evidently desirable that the use of ration cards and coupons should be introduced."

During the past few months the Board has been studying the methods used in other countries and making preparations for the time when the use of coupons would be the most convenient way of rationing in Canada.

No rationing system could be successful unless it had the full support of every individual citizen, and voluntary reductions in consumption were just as important under a coupon system as under any other system.

"It is probable that coupon rationing will commence with sugar only, in order to give consumers a chance to become accustomed to the method and give the administration experience of the various difficulties which will have to be overcome," Mr. Gordon said.

"In the meantime the present rationing law, both with respect to sugar and with respect to tea and coffee, remains in full force and effect.

"In addition, it is important for everyone to realize that there is a law against hoarding any commodities whether rationed or not. buying anything at all in excess of current needs, unless advised to do so by responsible officers of the Board is hoarding.

"Further details of the proposed system and of the necessary canvass or householders before issuance of coupons will be announced within a few weeks."

Army Asks Public to Report Japs in Uniform

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4 (AP).—The general public was asked by the Army today to report any Japanese in a United States Army uniform and to assume that such a soldier in the Western defence area might be a fifth columnist.

"All Japanese who are members of the Army of the United States have been removed from the Western defence command and the Fourth Army, except three on the post at Fort Ord who are on a special assignment, the Army said in a communique.

Paulette Goddard Gets Divorce

EL PASO, Texas, June 4 (AP)—Six years to the week from their China marriage, dark-haired Paulette Goddard and Charles Chaplin were separated today by a Mexican divorce decree.

Substantiating rumor that such an action was impending, Judge Xavier Rosas Ceballos of the Mexican civil court at Juarez this morning announced that a consent decree woudld be granted and then made it final at noon.

The divorce was granted less than 24 hours after Miss Goddard filed her petition.

Miss Goddard stated as her grounds "incompatibility" and separation of more than a year.

Chaplin, in answer, denied the charges but consented to award of the decree.

Close secrecy surrounded the plans of the actress. Last week, while en route to New York, she stopped over in El Paso for several days.

Miss Goddard celebrated her birthday in New York last night with Woolworth Donahue and Winston Guest at a night club, but said she had no statement to make.

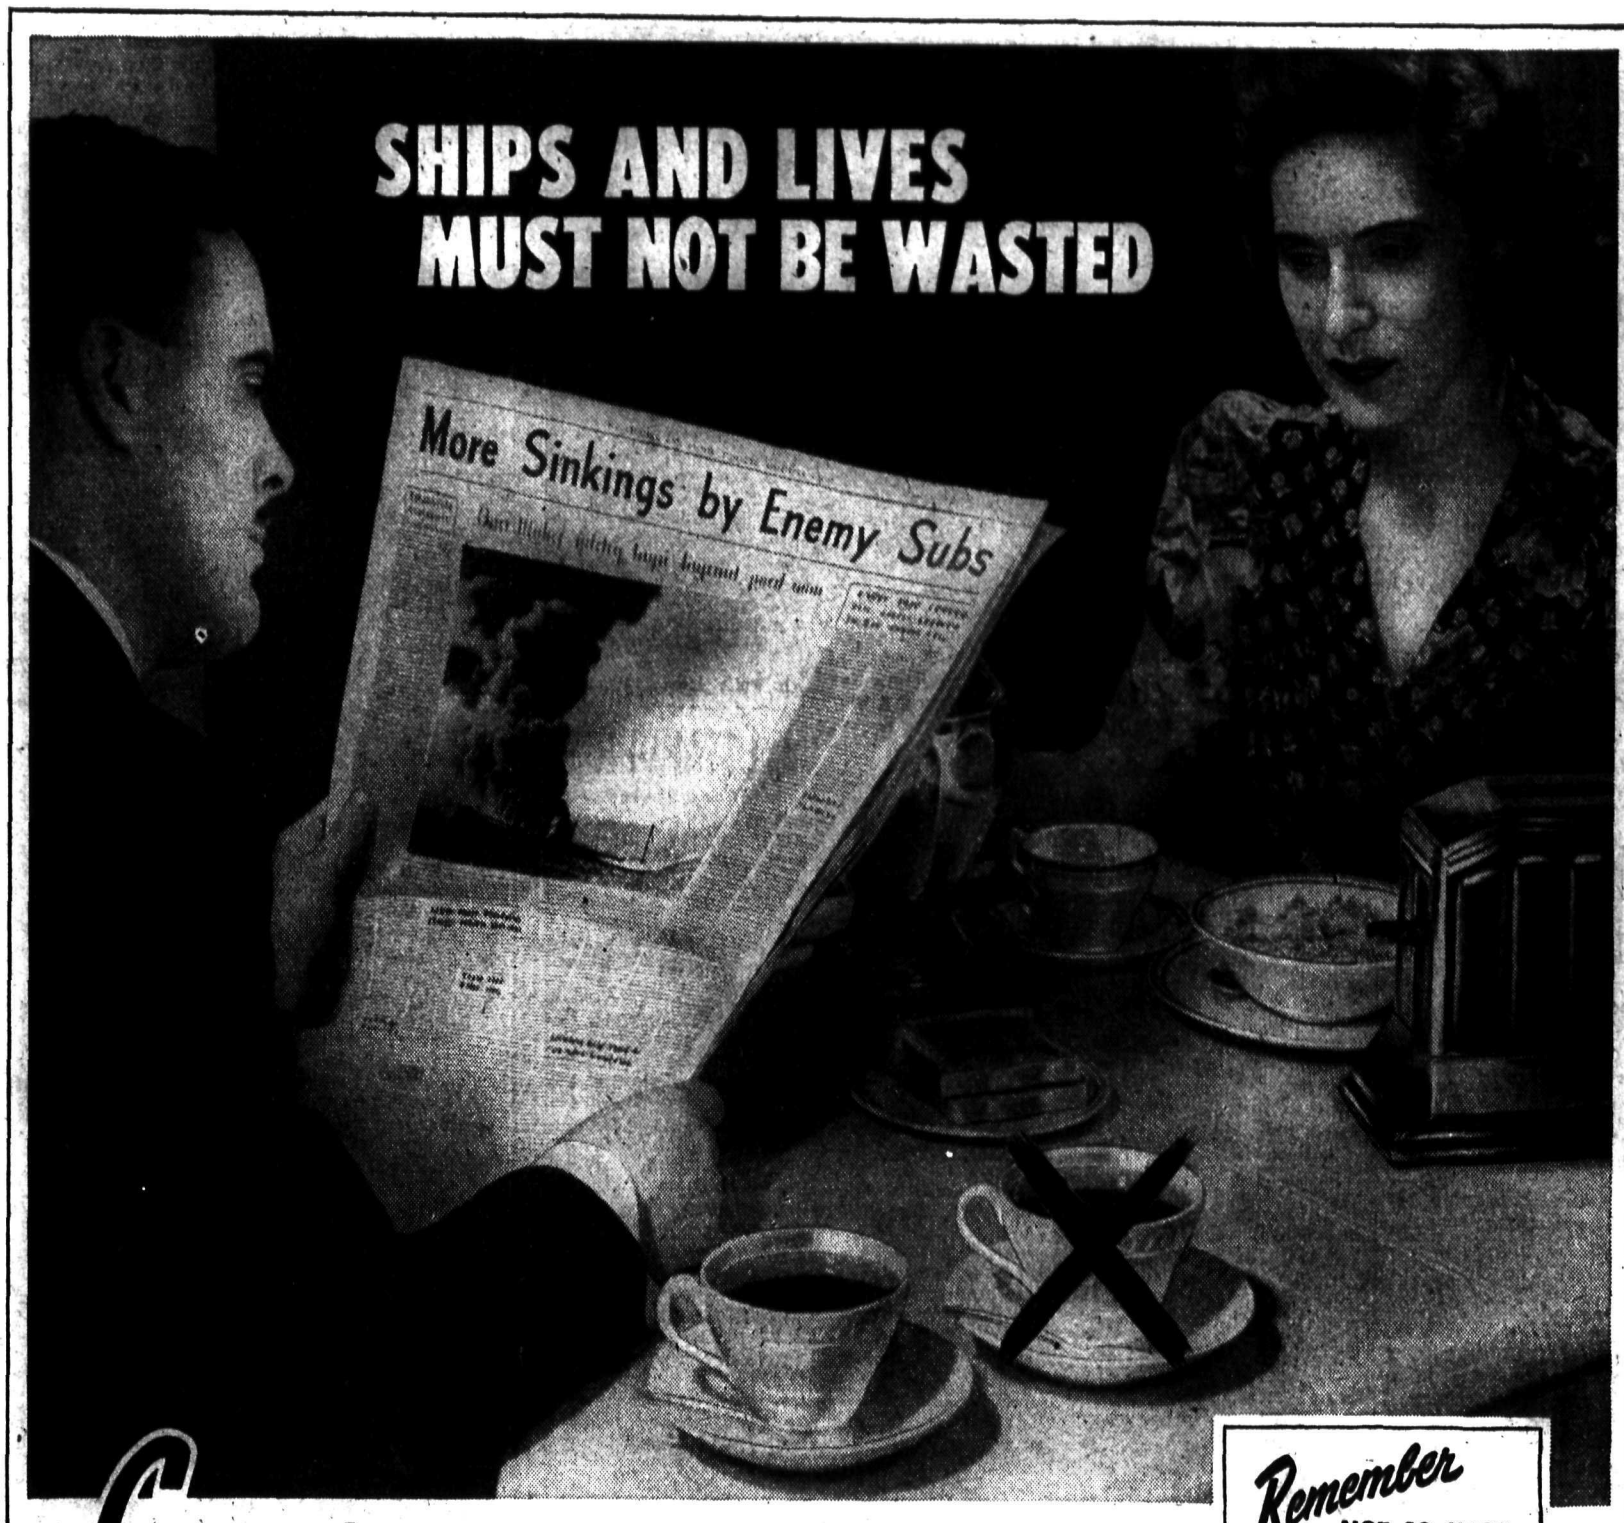
SHIPS AND LIVES MUST NOT BE WASTED



Canadians must use less TEA and COFFEE

SUPPOSE your boy were in the merchant marine. Would you want him to risk his life to bring you tea or coffee, through seas infested with submarines? Would you want to waste precious cargo space to bring you more than your barest needs?

Every decent citizen will gladly obey the law now in effect. The law requires that every Canadian home must cut its consumption of tea by at least one half — cut its consumption of coffee by at least one-fourth.

HOW TO ECONOMIZE ON TEA

- Measure carefully the amount of tea and the amount of boiling water. Don't guess.
- Use one level teaspoon of tea and one cup of boiling water for each cup of tea.
- Brew the tea for at least 5 minutes before pouring. Don't guess—watch the clock.
- Don't take the kettle to the teapot. Always take the teapot to the kettle.

HOW TO ECONOMIZE ON COFFEE

- Never make more than you need. Get into the habit of measuring quantities exactly.
- Purchase in small quantities and store in an airtight container. Buy the correct grind for your coffee-maker.
- For percolated coffee, use 1 level tablespoon to each standard measuring cup of water. Percolate 10 to 12 minutes to bring out the full flavour.

Remember

NOT SO MUCH NOT SO OFTEN

You must reduce your consumption of tea by at least one-half.

You must reduce your consumption of coffee by at least one-fourth.

You must not buy more than 2 weeks' supply of tea or coffee for yourself and family in any one week. You must not make further purchases of tea or coffee at any time when you have two weeks' supply on hand at the reduced ration. There are heavy penalties for breaking the law.

Mel Ott, New York Giants manager, yesterday set a National League record for runs batted in when he drove out a long fly as Giants defeated Chicago Cubs 4-3. Ott has batted in 1583 runs in in 17 years, one more than the National League record set in 23 years by Rogers Hornsby. Babe Ruth has the American League record with 2209 runs in 22 years.

TRAVEL BUREAU

The Board also sent its protest to W. K. Esling, M.P. for Kootenay West, and Mr. Esling handed it on to the Government Travel Bureau. Forwarding a copy of the reply made to him by D. Leo Dolan of the Bureau, Mr. Esling commented "it appears that tourist traffic is pretty much out for the duration."

Mr. Dolan's letter to Mr. Esling explained the new regulations prohibit the import and export of gasoline in cans and added some of the regulations "on the face of it look rather strange, but the gasoline situation is so critical that apparently these drastic rulings have to be put into effect."

Gas rations for tourists' cars have been cut, he said, and concluded: "I quite agree with you that this whole situation is going to seriously affect tourist traffic, but frankly I cannot see that any steps can be taken now to remedy this situation. I regret that the exigencies of war have made necessary such restrictions on travel across the border.

Two Rookie Wonders Called to Arms

PHILODELPHIA, June 4 (AP)—Connie Mack, already harder hit by the army draft than any other manager in the Major Leagues, received the news today that he may lose his two rookie wonder boys.

Catcher Jim Castiglia and shortstop Jack Wallaesa, greenhorns who became sensations with the Athletics overnight, both were hearing the call to arms. Manager Mack was frankly worried, but patriot Mack was pleased.

"It will leave quite a hole in the team if they both join up," Mack said, "But it'll be hard on the enemy if they do as well in the army as they did for me."

Trail Club Proposes Contests for Best Deer Heads; to Release Pheasants in Champion Creek Area

TRAIL, B. C., June 4—Discussing means of improving hunting and fishing in the district, enthusiastic anglers and hunters gathered in the Memorial Hall on Tuesday night under Trail Rod and Gun Club auspices.

A committee was named to discuss posting a prize for the best blacktail and whitetail deer heads taken next Fall and to determine the boundaries in which they may be shot to quality. The committee consists of William Jones, Frank Casler, Frank Vellutini, C. J. Currier and James Schofield.

A resolution asking that the present fishing season for Beaver Creek, June 1 to Sept. 15, should be changed to May 1 to August 31 was passed by the Club. The earlier opening and closing was proposed on account of spawning conditions.

It was decided to import half a dozen pairs of pheasants from Creston, to be released in the area across the Columbia near Champion Creek.

FISH SCALE COLLECTION

A. Farnum volunteered to establish a fish scale collection centre and information bureau. Anglers wishing to aid the fisheries department in gathering data were asked to turn in scales of large fish, particularly those caught in Champion Lake. Walter Veitch will conduct a creel census at Fruitvale.

The Club proposed a 12-month bounty on coyotes instead of the present six-month bounty.

The West Kootenay Zone organization had proposed to the Game Commission later opening of the grouse season to allow young birds to mature; the proposed season for Ruffed or Willow grouse being Oct. 1 to Oct. 15 inclusive, and the season for Blue grouse Oct. 1 to Oct. 31 inclusive.

A letter from the B. C. Security Commission stated Japanese now in the district have been deprived of fishing, hunting and trapping licenses.

ZONE OFFICERS ATTEND

J. J. (Mickey) McEwan, Zone President, W. M. Young, Zone Secretary, and C. H. Robinson, Fisheries Supervisor, attended the meeting from Nelson. Mr. McEwan and Mr. Young were paying their semi-annual visit to the Club. Visits of zone officers to individual clubs have been reduced from four a year to two due to gas and tire restrictions.

R. H. White protested the use of multiple lures and Fisheries Supervisor C. H. Robinson replied that the question was under consideration.

Mr. McEwen gave an outline of the East Kootenay Zone Rod and Gun Club meeting which he attended six weeks ago, and of the activities of the various clubs in the Kootenays. He suggested a coarse fish derby for boys would make the boys enthusiastic anglers as well as eliminating a large number of coarse fish.

Mr. Young reported on Creston Club discussions at a recent meeting regarding migratory birds.

A synopsis of conditions in various lakes and streams, and fish-culture work, was given by Mr. Robinson.

The appointment of Mr. Young as Zone Secretary succeeding Jack Fleury was indorsed by the lub executive at a meeting following the general meeting.

Alaska Raid Not the Only One Says Stimson

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—War Secretary Henry Stimson predicted today yesterday's Japanese air attacks on the Dutch Harbor naval base in Alaska were "not the only and last raids" to be expected on American territory.

The War Department chief told his press conference, "I reminded you last week that raids were coming and I caution you now this is not the only and last raids."

Stimson declined, however, to predict where further attacks might be expected, telling a questioner he did not "care to go into that phase of the Japanese minds," and similarly fended off a question as to why the foe struck first at the Aleutian outpost.

His guarded comment came just before a scheduled communique by the Navy and he referred to this as the proper source of information, commenting, "you can readily see how the Navy's judgment as to secrecy must be paramount."

Charges Churchill Gov't Bungles War Campaigns

LEEDS, England, June 4 (CP).—Cmdr. Robert Bower, Conservative Member of Parliament for Cleveland, charged today that Prime Minister Churchill's "war-making organization has botched and bungled nearly every campaign so far" and "lost half an empire in a few weeks."

Congress Votes War Against the Axis Balkans

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP). — The United States Congress formally voted war again Bulgaria, Hungary and Rumania today, with the Senate unanimously approving resolutions passed by the House without dissent yesterday.

Without debate, the Senate quickly voted to include the three Axis puppets with three other nations, Germany, Japan and Italy, against which the United States declared war last December.

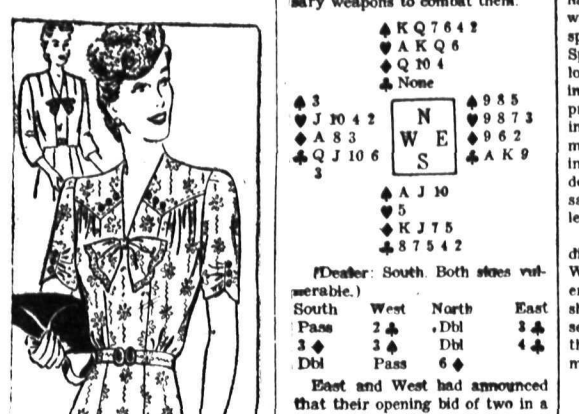
CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

HAS HE THE WEAPONS?

A PLAYER'S ability to cope with tactics used by his opponents does not depend primarily upon his shrewdness and general intelligence. In the bidding it is also important to him to have some way to tell his partner the facts about his hand regardless of what the enemy may attempt. In some situations he may lack the necessary weapons to combat them.



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
Pass	2 ♣	Dbl	3 ♣
3 ♦	3 ♠	Dbl	4 ♣
Dbl	Pass	6 ♦

East and West had announced that their opening bid of two in a suit was on a weak hand, not good enough for a sound bid of one. With a hand strong enough to guarantee game, they would merely bid one of a minor, which must be kept open, and would jump on the second round. That explains the peculiar looking opening call of 2-Clubs in the bidding sequence given above.

North might have done better if he had decided to treat his hand as a two-suiter, by bidding spades on his first turn, and then hearts later, perhaps after a spade rebid. Instead, however, he doubled to show the general strength of his hand at once. That opened the door for West to fenagle North out of the correct contract, by making that crazy-sounding bid of 3-Spades, which was not particularly dangerous, since he knew that the side had a club fit for an escape if doubled, and that the opponents were strong.

North's double of that showed a certain amount of strength in the suit, but he could not dare leave in his partner's double of 4-Clubs, and consequently had a hard job to do. Not knowing whether his partner had any spades, he was afraid to bid 6-Spades. He also feared that any lower bid might result in missing the slam which seemed to be present, and so he decided to bid it in his partner's suit with 6-Diamonds. South could not take this into 6-Spades, as North's earlier double of spades did not necessarily indicate any appreciable length in the suit.

The brilliant young man who did the opposing business in the West was Peter Leventritt, holder of several national championships, and he had the pleasure of seeing South beaten two tricks in the wrong contract of 6-Diamonds, after he led the spade 3.

• • •

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

If West bids 1-Diamond over South's original 1-Club and later 3-No Trumps are bid, what is the correct defense by East and West to beat the contract?

225 Gay at 7th Joymakers' Banquet; Smith Prexy; Make 3 War Gifts

A successful windup to a successful season was the seventh annual Joymakers Club banquet attended Thursday night by over 225 members and guests.

Eagles Hall was gay in red, white and blue decorations for the occasion and the large crowd made merry with dancing, cards and other enjoyment after a grand turkey dinner. A varied program by Club artists augmented the entertainment.

SMITH IS PRESIDENT

Succeeding William Sommers, as President for three years, Albert Smith was elected to that office for 1943. Others elected were W. J. Smiley, Vice-President, Miss H. Gold, Mrs. W. J. Smiley, and Mrs. P. J. Cote, Ladies, Committee, William Freno, George Walton and J. Leeming, Men's Committee; A. S. Mead and William Stone, Auditors.

Extending their patriotic endeavors the members voted donations of $25 each to the Red Cross, Salvation Army, and the Women's Auxiliary to the Active Forces. It was also decided to set aside $100 in a trust fund for use "when the boys come home." A letter of appreciation for a previous gift of $60, proceeds of a March social, was received from Mrs. A. D. Oliver, Auxiliary Secretary.

The financial statement, presented by Retiring President W. Sommers, during the annual meeting, revealed the year's receipts had been $1439.69, the expenditures of $1005.57, leaving a bank balance of $434.12. From this balance were voted gifts to the President, Secretary and Floor Manager Albert Smith, and Cashier F. W. Johnson. Votes of thanks were extended to the 1942 women's committee, headed by Mrs. D. McGinn.

A welcome to the guests and to Mrs. W. H. Foster of Burnaby, a former member who was in attendance, was extended by the Retiring President. Letters expressing their regret at being unable to attend were received from Leslie Pickard of Powell River, a former member, Mrs. Hazle Hardington, and Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Vulcano, while a letter from Glen Morris expressed his thanks for a farewell gift received when he joined the Canadian Army.

Included in the entertaining program were songs by W. Coleman and Mrs. Gordon Shaw, acordion solos by Ernest Lepinski, expert novelty dances by Miss Sheila Horswill. The evening opened with the singing of "O Canada" and before the banquet grace was said by Mr. Anderson.

Gold Watches to 2 Bus Drivers for Safe Driving

Eric W. (Pat) Paterson and E. W. Steiner, bus drivers at Nelson, have received gold watches presented by Western Canadian Greyhound Lines for driving 100,000 miles in two years without accident. They will also receive National Safety Council awards, Mr. Paterson's for six years of driving during which he covered approximately 300,000 miles without an accident.

The gold watches were offered two years ago by Western Canadian Greyhound. Thirty-one qualified, the two Nelson men and 29 on the Prairie. It was much easier for Prairie men to meet the 100,000-mile requirement because mileage piled up on their long routes, whereas 100,000 miles was close to the maximum a driver could attain on the comparatively short routes of the Nelson district.

Upon each watch is an inscription stating the presentation is "in recognition of having driven a motor coach 100,000 miles without an accident, 1940-1941," and signed "Western Canadian Greyhound Lines, G. B. Fay, President."

South Highway Is Reopened at Rock Creek

Reopening of the Southern Transprovincial Highway in the Rock Creek canyon, where cribbing and a bridge was washed out in the torrential rains of May 23-25, was accomplished at 4 p.m. Thursday, District Public Works Engineer Ernest Smith reported.

He stated the work was still incomplete and that drivers must exercise the utmost caution in going through.

Completion of repairs to the Trail-Pend d'Oreille Road will restore all storm-damaged roads in the district to use. Seven cribs were washed out on this road in the heavy storm.

TRAIL, June 4—The Provincial Police reported a slide on the Trail-Fruitvale road about 2½ miles from Trail yesterday. There was about 18 inches of mud and rocks on the road. One car and a Trail-Nelson bus were stuck in it for a couple of hours until pulled out by the Public Works Department. The slide was due to the heavy rain.

Retail Price of Beef Will Advance 8 to 10 Cents Pound In Nelson District as Result of New Ceiling

Beef prices are to advance eight to 10 cents a pound in Nelson district. This will be the result as it affects consumers, of recent increases in wholesale ceiling prices announced at Ottawa.

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board has set up 15 zones across Canada and has established uniform maximum prices which packers and wholesalers may charge in each zone. This district is in Zone 14.

Retail maximum prices are tied to the packers' and wholesalers' prices.

MARK-UP FIXED

The Board has ruled that each retailer is to regulate his selling price for the various cuts or portions of fresh beef so that the aggregate selling price of all such cuts and portions from an carcass, side, quarter or cut purchased by him from a packer or wholesaler shall be his laid down cost, including any transportation charges, actually paid, plus the mark-up of such retailer as established during the basic period (last Sept. 15—Oct. 11) for sales of fresh beef of similar cuts and quality."

The Board may intervene to determine the maximum mark-up for any retailer.

Higher prices and keen demand in the United States for several months past resulted in heavy movement of Canadian beef cattle to U.S. markets. But now, with a ceiling established across the line and the Canadian maximum raised, it is expected the movement will be checked somewhat.

Present beef prices are subject to seasonal regulation, to take care of the extra cost of feeding stock in Winter.

New Fuel Chief Forceful

LONDON, June 5 (CP Cable.)—Maj. Gwilym Lloyd George, 47, full of vim and snap of a youthful, well-trained athlete, can be counted on to carry out forcefully his new, and probably often onerous, duties as Minister of Fuel, Light and Electricity.

He is the man who is going to make the multiple fireplaces of the British homes get along on less fuel when he administers the new rationing plan designed to deal with the present coal shortage. At the same time, he must get miners to produce more coal.

Maj. Lloyd George was appointed Parliamentary Secretary of the Board of Trade a few days after the war started, and a year and a half ago was chosen to fill the importatnt post of Parliamentary Secretary of the Food Ministry.

Nelson District Goes $1000 Over Red Cross Quota

Nelson District Red Cross subscriptions reported to E. E. L. Dewdney, Campaign Chairman, reached a total of $16,022 Thursday. There are still two or three reports to come in.

At first doubtful of reaching the $15,000 quota, Mr. Dewdney was able to report the day before the campaign closed that this had been exceeded. Additional contributions still in sight at that time indicated $16,000 might be attained, and this figure was passed Thursday, placing the District more than $1000 over its objective.

The total is made up as follows:

Cash	$ 7,365
Pledges	8,482
