Kootenay Municipalities to Seek Clarifying War Insurance; Turn Down Proposal for Vote at 18

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 18.—Association of Kootenay Municipalities, in annual meeting in Rossland today, adopted resolutions urging a clarifying of the Federal Government to clarify the position of municipalities with regard to war insurance.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the tribute paid to W. E. Watson, Nelson City Clerk who retired at the end of the year. A presentation was made to him by the Association.

A telegram from Victoria extended "sincere congratulations on his long and enviable record, extending for well over 40 years, as the senior official of the City of Nelson." The Victoria message was from Hon. Wells Gray, Minister of Municipalities, E. H. Bridgman, Deputy Minister, and B. C. Bracewell, Assistant Supervisor of Municipalities.

Trail's resolution urging the Union of B. C. Municipalities to take up municipal war risk insurance with Federal authorities to obtain clarification of the word "property," and to place municipalities and ordinary business in separate categories, was adopted. Trail claimed that under present regulations the cost was prohibitive for cities. Clarification of "property," particularly as to inclusion of paving, sidewalks, rock work, cement and wood walls and so on, was needed.

Nelson's proposal that the vote should be given to youths at 18 instead of at 21, based on the argument that if one was old enough at 18 to fight he was old enough to vote, was defeated after considerable discussion. Views were widely divergent. It was felt it would be discriminatory to give the vote to those under 21 who served in the armed forces, and to withhold it from others.

Another resolution, suggested by Mayor N. C. Stubbs of Nelson, requested the Federal Government to pay cost of living bonus to those on relief.

URGES OUTSIDE SPEAKERS
Mayor J. E. Gordon, Rossland, again brought forward the suggestion that the Kootenay Association should arrange to have qualified speakers from outside points at its meetings to keep the Association alive and keen. He felt more of those in municipal affairs should attend the B. C. Union conventions.

Nelson Soldier Commended

LONDON, Nov. 18 (CP Cable).—Eighteen Canadian soldiers have been commended in Canadian army routine orders for distinguished conduct when the ship in which they were crossing the Atlantic was damaged in a collision.

The stem of the troopship was damaged above and below the waterline by a collision with another vessel in a convoy bound for England.

The troopship was forced to leave the convoy because the captain feared the forward bulkheads of chain lockers might give way. When volunteers were called to help brace up the bulkheads, the 18 Canadians responded.

They included L. Cpl. E. P. Hogan, Nelson, B.C.

Violent Battle Fought Against U-Boats

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Nov. 18 (AP).—The British naval air force has fought a violent battle against Axis submarines in the Western Mediterranean in which an RAF plane reported blowing a German submarine to the surface with a bomb, the U-boat being sent to the bottom later by a naval aircraft torpedo.

The U-boats survivors were picked up.

GERMAN DRIVE ON FACTORY DISTRICT FAILS

Counter-Attacking Russ Seize Some Strong Points
600 HUNS LOST

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer
MOSCOW, Nov. 18 (AP).—German tank and infantry attacks on the factory district of Stalingrad which the Nazis are attempting to capture for Winter headquarters were beaten off again today and counter-attacking Russians seized several enemy strong points the Russians announced tonight.

"In the course of the engagement more than 600 enemy troops were killed or wounded," the Soviet night communiqué said.

The battle for the factory area of the ruined city represents the latest German attempt to gain a firm foothold in the Volga metropolis.

Only today the Russians said the Germans had lost from 1000 to 4000 men daily for three weeks and from 60 to 75 per cent of the personnel of the attacking divisions in a supreme but vain effort to carry out Hitler's orders to take Stalingrad by Nov. 6.

The Germans, balked in that drive, regrouped and for the last week have concentrated on the factory district. Thus far, the Russians reported earlier today, the enemy has gained only a few yards.

The midnight communiqué reported slight Russian triumphs in the general Stalingrad area, and Northwest of Stalingrad, it said the Russians dislodged the Germans from positions Northeast of Tsapue, on the Caucasus Black Sea coast.

The army newspaper Red Star in a review of the last month of the battle of Stalingrad, said the Germans averaged advances of 50 yards daily from Oct. 15 to Nov. 5, when they abandoned that attempt to reduce the city.

Prisoners were quoted as saying that Hitler ordered the city taken by Nov. 1, then fixed the date at Nov. 6.

The German air force made as many as 2000 flights daily while the army attacked constantly on a sector two to three miles wide.

The Germans were said to be on the defensive all along the Caucasus front, where the Russians attacked from with counter-attacks in the Nalchik sector and scouting raids in the Tsapue area.

Rossland Board Asks Temporary Use of Armory

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 18.—As the School Board has received no answer from the proper authorities granting the request to use the Armory for physical education classes, the Board Tuesday night decided to write to the local military authority, Robert McNish, asking for the use of the Armory temporarily, pending the Victoria reply.

Principal E. E. Perkins of MacLean School pointed out it was practically impossible to have physical education now that the snow was here, as there was no room inside the school building for it. He urged the board to hasten arrangements.

U. S. army helmets are of non-magnetic steel and don't affect compasses carried by troops.

Had Piles for 18 Years

Mrs. Daniel J. R. Mosher, Upper Kingsburg, N. S. recently wrote: "I've suffered from Piles for 18 years. I had both blind and bleeding. I've tried many things—nothing gave me relief. Finally I saw an advertisement of Chinoloid. Again I decided to try. Imagine my joy when it gave me the relief I've been unable to get. Chinoloid is the only medicine that gives relief to hemorrhoids without any harmful effects. I am now completely cured, and I can say that only Chinoloid is the only medicine that gives relief to hemorrhoids without any harmful effects."

To Investigate Hearing Deficiency in Rossland School; Give Janitor Part Time Helper

ROSSLAND, B. C., Nov. 18.—Rossland School Board Tuesday when informed by Principal E. E. Perkins, of MacLean School, that the janitor was putting in about 70 hours a week, decided on an assistant should be hired for possibly two hours a day or 16 hours a week, at 50 cents an hour. Mr. Perkins said that owing to the furnace not working well, it was necessary for the janitor to be at the school at 5:30 each morning in order to have the school warm by opening time. Three classrooms on the top floor, were not comfortable, and he was very much afraid that there would be a freeze up which would mean a loss of equipment.

After a great deal of discussion the Board agreed an expert should be called in to investigate and the secretary was instructed to write A. C. Ridgers, who designed the heating plant, asking him for his assistance. Mr. Ridgers was transferred to Calgary early last Spring, and has only recently returned to Rossland. It was brought out during the discussion that the chimney was large enough for four furnaces, and that the cold air vents were still open. Storm windows, and keeping radiator traps clear were suggested as aids to heating the rooms more easily. The janitor is to be asked to make a complete report to the maintenance committee. It is to contain concrete suggestions.

The cost of living bonus, in line with that paid civic employees, was granted Myles Tyson, janitor of MacLean School, complying with a written request from Mr. Tyson.

A letter from Principal Perkins to the ARP Committee's chief warden, Herman Reimann, showed that the longest time it took a pupil to get to his home during the practice of Oct. 27, was 25 minutes and the shortest time, half a minute. Several parents had made valuable suggestions, such as offering to take children into their homes who lived a distance from school.

Mr. Perkins said he would ask Mr. Ridgers who is a construction engineer, to inspect the school to see if any part would be safe in an air raid, with little warning.

The general idea of an ARP meeting which he attended, seemed to be that the homes would be the best place for the children. Mr. Perkins asked Principal A. B. Thompson to make definite arrangements for the high school students, in case of raids.

Secretary T. H. Yolland was instructed in reply to H. S. Fowler's request for permission to install radiators in an unheated high school room being used by the ARP Committee to state that although the Board is willing to cooperate in granting permission for the installation, there will be no funds available from the Board.

It was agreed to fill out a questionnaire from the Manitoba Department of Education concerning statistical data.

"Dinsmore" Gave Information on Black Dragon

VANCOUVER, Nov. 18 (CP).—Red Ward, Vancouver News-Herald reporter, today told Judge J. C. A. Cameron that "a man named Dinsmore" had given him some of the information used in articles published by the News-Herald charging that the Japanese Black Dragon Society was active in British Columbia.

Judge Cameron said that it was stated in one of the News-Herald articles that Eisui Morik, head of a Japanese liaison committee which assisted the British Columbia Security Commission in evacuating Japanese from the West Coast, had terrorized the Japanese community here for 30 years.

"Who told you that?" he asked Ward.

"That was the general information we got from the Japanese," Ward replied.

Say Amery to Join Wodehouse in Broadcast

BERLIN, Nov. 18 (AP).—The German Radio said tonight that John Amery, son of Lord Amery, Britain's Secretary of State for India, would be joined by British author P. G. Wodehouse and possibly James Joyce, the notorious Lord Haw Haw, on a broadcast to England Thursday night.

Wodehouse, who has spoken on the German Radio before, has been living with his wife and friends in the South Herts mountains, but he is now at Berlin's Hotel Adlon, the broadcast said.

It added that Amery had arrived in Berlin three weeks ago "to study conditions," and said he had been prompted by the Allied invasion of North Africa to send a message to England.

Amery, who suffers from a lung ailment, had been living in Grenoble, France, before the war and stayed on after the fall of France. Grenoble was in the former unoccupied zone.

Big Trade Unions Support Little, Criticize Labor Minister

OTTAWA, Nov. 18 (CP).—Two major trade union organizations, the Trades and Labor Congress and the Canadian Congress of Labor, today issued statements expressing confidence in Elliott M. Little, Director of National Selective Service, and criticizing Labor Minister Mitchell.

Percy R. Bingham, Vice-President of the Trades and Labor Congress, said the position taken by his organization represented the opinion of the Trade Union movement in Canada and agreed, in general principles with that of the Canadian Congress of Labor.

Mr. Bingham said: "As far as Mr. Little is concerned we believe he is honest and capable. As far as the Minister of Labor is concerned we have resented his dictatorial and uncompromising attitude. Generally labor from coast to coast does not like him.

Allies Continue to Strike Burma Bases

NEW DELHI, India, Nov. 18 (AP).—Two patrol clashes in Burma within the past 48 hours and continued Allied air operations against Japanese Burma bases, were reported today in a joint United States-British communiqué.

A British patrol ambushed an enemy force Northeast of Akyab and killed and wounded several Japanese without loss to itself, the communiqué said. In another encounter, East of the Chin Hills, the Japanese withdrew after an exchange of fire which caused no British casualties.

NAZI SUB BASES POUNDED BY HEAVY BOMBERS

Nazi Fighters Fail to Accept Allied Challenges
TRAINS RAIDED

LONDON, Nov. 18 (CP).—United States Flying Fortress and Liberator Bombers dropped heavy loads of high explosives on Nazi Atlantic submarine bases today for the fourth time within 10 days in the aerial offensive designed to disrupt the Axis concentration of U-boats warring on North African convoy routes.

The submarine sheds of La Pallice and Loriet were raided at a cost of one bomber. The brief United States communiqué did not give the results of the attacks. La Pallice is near La Rochelle, 300 miles from the nearest British coast. Loriet is on the South side of the Breton Peninsula. There was no mention of a fighter escort.

This was taken as an indication of the United States confidence in the ability of the Fortresses and Liberators to cope with German fighters on their own. During recent daylight attacks the pilots have reported little enemy fighter opposition.

Hitler has expended millions of marks and employed tens of thousands of workers in an effort to make the U-boat bases "bomb proof" by erecting huge reinforced concrete roofs to shelter the submarines.

Squadrons of Allied fighters, meanwhile, made several sweeps over Northwest France and, although they flew close to the German air force bases, not a single German plane showed itself.

The fighters took another crack at the crackling German communications system by wrecking or damaging 10 freight engines. Members of one Spitfire squadron alone damaged four locomotives and left an oil storage tank smoking.

American pilots flying with the fighter command attacked a freight train near Berck and saw the engine blow up after several bursts of gunfire.

Gold Mines Want to Be Able to Rehabilitate After War

VANCOUVER, Nov. 18 (CP).—Predicament of Canada's gold mines is a precarious one, but if they are not further hampered by curtailment orders and labor shortages they will be able to rehabilitate themselves when normal conditions return, R. A. Bryce, President of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, said in an address today.

"At first the gold mines were told to produce all they could, but the Hyde Park agreement changed the whole picture," Mr. Bryce told the annual Western meeting of the Institute. "The need for gold is not so vital now and many of our mines have shut down. It will be ruinous if the whole industry is forced to close.

"We're doing all we can to maintain production under the most difficult conditions. What we want to preserve is a spring board from which the industry may leap after the war to its former position of economic importance."

Hon. Ernest Carson, British Columbia Mines Minister, declared the only slogan for the mining industry today was to win the war. "But we must not overlook that there will be a peace to be won, too," said Mr. Carson. "British Columbia's diversification of mineral wealth has been of tremendous significance since war began. I feel confident that it will help play a major role in postwar rehabilitation as well."

Parents of One of the Flying Tigers Lived at Invermere

Among the Flying Tigers—American airmen who before the entry of the United States into the war were flying for the Chinese Government—was Wing Commander Robert Neale.

A G. Cuthbert, North Shore resident, informed R. G. Joy that he knew Neale's parents when they resided near Invermere. They were then fruit farming, but were dissatisfied with the returns, and left for Vancouver. Their son was born shortly after. Later the family went to Wenatchee, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Neale and Robert's grandmother, who was born in Ireland, now live in Seattle. Mr. Cuthbert told Mr. Joy.

Japs Admit Loss of Battleship and Cruiser in Battle

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP).—Japanese headquarters admitted today the loss of one Japanese battleship, the damaging of another, the loss of one cruiser and three destroyers and damaging of seven Japanese transports in the third Solomon's naval battle.
It said the Japanese also lost 32 planes which dove into the enemy and nine other planes did not return.
This marked the first Japanese report of the loss of a battleship.
The United States Navy already had announced two days ago that American naval forces in the Solomons in the most recent battle sunk a battleship and damaged another.

The Japanese claimed their forces sank eight cruisers and four or five destroyers and heavily damaged two battleships, three cruisers and three or four destroyers in the battle from November 12 to November 14.
They also claimed they sank one transport and heavily damaged three transports.
This contrasts with the Navy's announcement that the only United States naval vessels reported sunk in actions November 13, 14 and 15 were two light cruisers and six destroyers while details of an engagement during the night of November 14-15 were yet to be received.
Weighing against the Japanese admission of heavy losses, the frankness by Tokyo in the war thus far, however, was the Navy's report that they were even greater.

In the series of engagements beginning November 13, but not counting the unreported details of the night of November 14-15, the Navy's November 16 communique said the Japanese losses were:
One battleship sunk; three heavy cruisers sunk; two light cruisers sunk; five destroyers sunk; eight transports sunk; one battleship damaged; six destroyers damaged; and four cargo transports destroyed.

Small Dusty Truck to Lead Parade on Alaska Highway

WHITEHORSE, Y.T., Nov. 18 (CP)—Two young soldiers and a small, dusty Army truck, battered with use, will take their place in Northland history the day after tomorrow.
Their truck—a sort of Cloderella's coach—will be the first land vehicle ever to be driven between the interior of North America and the territory of Alaska. The soldiers are Cpl. Otto Gronke, Chicago, and Pte. Bob Rowe, Minneapolis.
Some time ago the two drove the truck on the first through trip here from Dawson Creek, B.C., at the Southern terminus of the Alcan International Highway. Today they were chosen by Col. K. B. Bush, Chief of Staff of the Northwest Service Command, to head the trucks which will proceed Northward to Fairbanks, Alaska after the highway's formal dedication Friday.

Canadian Workers May Receive Christmas Bonus

OTTAWA, Nov. 18 (CP)—Canadian workers are eligible for Christmas bonuses which were usually paid prior to introduction of wartime wage regulations or for new bonuses not in excess of $25, National War Labor Board officials said today.
The ruling of the Canadian authorities was given a year ago in an order specifying that bonuses must have been customary in the past and could not be increased. In a supplementary explanation the Board said it would not take exception to Christmas bonuses being introduced if they did not exceed $25.

Pacific Council Talk of Mass Bombings on Italy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16 (AP)—Members of the Pacific War Council expressed the view today there was a possibility that "mass bombing" raids would be directed at production centres in Northern Italy.

Walter Nash, New Zealand's Minister to the United States, spoke of the North African campaign as opening the way for Italy to receive some of the devastating raids on key industries, comparable to those the R.A.F. has directed on German war plants, with what he termed "amazing" effectiveness.

Gathering at the White House, the representatives of the nations actively engaged in the war in the Pacific said it was perhaps their most significant meeting.

Leighton McCarthy, the Canadian Minister to this country, suggested that probably the raids would originate in England, but Nash said any available jumping-off points might be used.

The New Zealander said they had devoted considerable time to what he termed the "ninth front", which he said was the air front. They also considered, he said, other fronts leading up to the ninth.

He listed the fronts as the Solomon Islands, New Guinea, the Middle East, North Africa, Burma, China, the Aleutian Islands, the Atlantic and the bombing front. In addition, he said, the Russians alone are fighting on six fronts.

"The Solomons are as good as anything we have seen," Nash remarked. "But the Japs are coming again. They can't afford not to. MacArthur in New Guinea is doing reasonably well."

Some discussion centred on the Aleutians, Mr. McCarthy reported, adding that they were not being lost sight of in the whole of the Pacific operations which "would seem to be going fairly well."

Seeks Power to Conscript Aussie Militia

By J. E. HOLDSWORTH
Canadian Press Correspondent
SYDNEY, Nov. 18 (CP Cable).—Political circles today understood that Prime Minister Curtin has announced to the inter-state conference of the Labor Party that he will seek its authorization for use of Australian militia anywhere in the Southwest Pacific.

The conference is being held in camera in Melbourne.

Such a proposal involves fundamental changes in Labor Party policy. Labor in Australia has opposed conscription for service anywhere overseas since the party split on the subject in 1916.

It is expected some delegates and members of Parliament will oppose the proposal.

When the great bulk of the A.I.F. returned from the Middle East after Japan's entry into the war the Government made pay and other conditions equal between the A.I.F. and the militia, but the Government refused to adopt conscription for overseas duty, even in the Pacific area.

Bombs "Crash" 2 Victoria Homes

VICTORIA, Nov. 18 (CP)—Two battered roofs today marked the unintentional accuracy of practice bombs dropped yesterday by an R.A.F. plane while approaching the bombing range at nearby Cordova Bay.

One bomb crashed into a kitchen where Mrs. A. Bramhall was washing dishes, shattering a drainboard 18 inches from where she was standing. The house was filled with dense white smoke but she was unharmed.

Another bomb went through the roof of the home of James Muldoon while he was absent whizzing through the kitchen into the basement where it exploded. Three other bombs dropped in the immediate vicinity did no harm.

A hole about eight inches in diameter was torn in Mrs. Bramhall's roof by the 114-pound bomb, which broke open a cabinet full of kitchen utensils under the sink, and burst through the side of the house at an angle, tearing away two or three cedar planks. Mrs. Bramhall reacted calmly to the sudden explosion.

Premier Announces Independent Purchasing Commission to Be Set Up for B. C. Government

VICTORIA, Nov. 18 (CP)—Premier Hart announced establishment of an independent Purchasing Commission for the British Columbia Government and reorganization of the Provincial audit system.

Three chief points of the new program are:

1. Establishment of an independent Purchasing Commission, free from political influence, to direct and take full responsibility for the purchase of all Government supplies, including those for institutions.
2. Transfer of all police stores and other accumulations of supplies and equipment held by other departments to control of the Purchasing Commission.
3. Appointment of Price, Waterhouse and Company, chartered accountants, as consultants and advisers in connection with suggested changes in the audit system.

Establishment of a Purchasing Commission will be effected immediately, the Premier's statement said. Personnel of the Commission will comprise three high officials of the Civil Service, whose status, in one respect will be similar to that of the Comptroller-General, in that it will be responsible directly to the Legislative Assembly and not to the Government.

With regard to the appointment of the firm of Price, Waterhouse and Company to examine and report on the Provincial audit system, Premier Hart said the Government planned to act as quickly as possible upon any recommendations the firm made with a view to improving the auditing and accountancy structure of the Provincial Government, and to establish, where-ever possible, pre-audits to minimize to the greatest extent possible any further recurrence of such instances as those which led to the recent court cases.

The Government policy, as announced by the Premier, culminates a series of events which started more than a year ago, when the Include KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN in your "must" list. Remember, ALL-BRAN is more than a delicious, nourishing cereal. It's also a grand, laxative food that provides a "better way" to avoid constipation caused by the lack of the proper amount of "bulk" in the diet. But remember, ALL-BRAN doesn't work like harsh cathartics. It takes time.

Eat ALL-BRAN in tasty breakfast muffins or as a crunchy cereal every day... drink plenty of water... and see if you don't agree that ALL-BRAN is a better way to a brighter day!

Buy ALL-BRAN at your grocer's in either of the two conveniently sized packages. Order it in the individual serving package at restaurants. Made by Kellogg's at London, Canada.

A Fault... Jealousy Makes Him Unhappy

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Dear Miss Fairfax—I'm in love with a girl I met at a party for service men. She says she loves me also, and we hope to marry after the war. But my trouble is that I'm an extremely jealous person. When she talks or dances with other men, I just see red and am very unhappy.

I know I shouldn't be like this, but it is part of my nature. I would not harm a soul and would like to change. Will you please tell me how I can overcome this fault? I'm now in an Army camp taking basic training, after which I expect to go overseas. I want to go away with a feeling that I needn't worry about her going with someone else.

A Soldier.

If I could tell you how to get rid of jealousy, I would be very happy. Indeed, there is no way to be completely rid of it, but you have made a fine start, even though I believe you don't realize it. You have recognized it as a fault. Hang on to that idea—that jealousy is doing you harm, that it weakens you, and it is cowardly and unmanly.

Indigestion... Eat More Slowly to Avoid Soda Bicarbonate

By IDA JEAN KAIN

It's easier to sell a cure than a preventive, even though an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. But I am going to try!

There is too much tension connected with living for us to go out of our way to get nervous indigestion. The least we can do toward keeping well is to get into the habit of eating slowly.

I find you don't scarce worth a copper penny but you will be interested in knowing what happens when you swallow your food down with only a couple of chews. Take a hot roll—if you don't chew it, all that starch turns into a solid lump in your stomach and just stays there for an hour, perhaps two. Finally it moves along to the small intestine. Mashed potatoes behave the same way. The fact that they are mashed doesn't make any difference.

We get the idea that because soft foods go down easily they don't require chewing. But part of the digestive process takes place in the mouth.

This applies to all food, but particularly to the carbohydrates—bread, rolls, macaroni, rice or anything else in the line of a cereal, potatoes, vegetables, fruits, pies, doughnuts, cakes and cookies.

The funny thing is, we are apt to chew meat thoroughly, because if we don't, it is hard to swallow. That's not nearly as important. While thorough chewing helps, it is not essential to the digestion of meat. The stomach juices can digest the protein.

My druggist tells me that there are as many calls these days for soda bicarbonate as for soft drinks. But an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of soda bicarb. We are going at too fast a pace and living under too much strain not to give ourselves every break we can. Just eating slowly is a great help.

T.B. Fight on Home Front Must Be Carried On

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.

During the battle of Wagram, Beethoven sat in a cellar in Vienna about 10 miles away and composed one of the movements of the Eroica Symphony. During the French Revolution, Joseph Priestley, in England, although his country was at war with France, conducted a correspondence with the French chemist, Lavoisier, concerning the structure of certain gases.

When the soldiers of Marcellus found Archimedes in Syracuse, he was in his garden working on the hypothesis of a right-angled triangle. Charles Martel smashed the infidels at Tours, but one of them Ibn Razab, was writing his commentary on the Canon of Avicenna at Cordova. During the battle of Waterloo a young man was studying in the wards of the Necker Hospital in Paris and a year later he invented the stethoscope.

All of which is put down to indicate that wars come and wars go and one side wins and one side loses, but the great tides of civilization sweep on undisturbed and they are the most important things. Man's ordered thought has made only a few halts in its advance from the days of Egypt, and those halts were not due to wars.

MUST KEEP GAINS

It is one of my deepest convictions that during this present emergency, no matter how urgent the demands for funds for war, we must hold the gains we have made to the permanent happiness of mankind.

Among these specifically is our mounting victory over tuberculosis—one of the worst enemies mankind ever had.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

N.K.:—His doctor tells my husband he has had active tuberculosis for 10 years. Could it be possible for him not to lose weight and carry on all this time? Is it necessary for the wife to have X-rays and tests taken?

Answer: Yes, a person may have active tuberculosis but have acquired such an immunity that his activity is little affected. The wife should certainly have a thorough examination.

SERIAL STORY... MARK'S WIFE

Of course it was Tony. She knew that every waking moment and in many of her sleeping dreams as well. Tony was the only man she'd met that she couldn't conquer, the only one worth conquering.

She thought of Nicky, of his letters in her handbag. What a little fool she'd been in the beginning! For an instant she recaptured the look of him, his good looking, almost beautiful features. It was only for an instant.

Yes, that's what was wrong with her. That furious restlessness because she knew that he was right here in South Wintbridge, and yet as far away from her as he could be.

The car came to a down grade and she coasted silently, swiftly, asking herself what was wrong with her that Tony couldn't see her as a woman.

One time he had. That was the night of the carnival when he'd kissed her. It had been no brotherly kiss. He had not kissed her since, not even when she'd tried practically every way she knew the night he'd come into the dim drawing room with her after the movies.

Twice they had been to the movies together. Each time she had to ask him to take her, calling him on the telephone and telling him that she was perishing with boredom.

They'd had fun, laughing at the picture, sitting close in the dark, eating ice cream in a drug store after the show. And Tony hadn't once talked to her as if she were a little girl. Nor, she admitted with unhappy truthfulness did he talk to her as if she thought she wanted to be the special person to him. Neither of them had mentioned Tom or the hospital.

She'd really made an effort to help him by talking to her father, but Tom, with unusual courtesy, told her that the matter was closed as far as he was concerned, and volunteered the information that he had told the doctor the same thing on the occasion of his second visit to him.

She'd said to him, "You've seen father again? Was it pretty bad?" Tony's mouth tightened and he had answered briefly, "He practically kicked me out on my ear," and he hadn't ever indicated in any way that he expected her to do anything toward helping him.

The questions were coming quick and fast in her mind now. Had Tony cultivated her for her dad with her father?

The answer was plain: Tony had not cultivated her at all.

But he had seen her, been with her. What was the matter with the man? She was young and pretty. It was Spring and he was a man.

Once she asked him if he had a girl and he said he hadn't. But he hadn't told her in those words! He hadn't really answered.

WHO?

Barbara! Barbara Wistert! Of course! Tony was in love with her. Her heart felt like a wood wedge in her chest.

What a little fool she'd been not to see it.

Was Barbara in love with Tony? She had to know, so she turned her car in the direction that led to Maple Street where Barbara lived.

District Workers

(By Work Room Reporter)

A letter from the Provincial Chairman of the Red Cross Women's Work Committee has been received at the Nelson Red Cross rooms thanking the workers who are again assembling for Winter work, especially those who have been willing to do the more uninteresting types of work because they were very helpful. She urged that every effort be made to make the public realize the need for more workers.

"Picture to yourselves the plight of our Canadian soldiers returning from Dieppe by the hundreds and the others requiring fresh supplies of socks, sweaters, etc., being deprived of the necessary surgical dressings, hospital supplies and service comforts because the Canadian Red Cross had let them down.

"We cannot go forward with our men into battle, but we can make supplies for them. This is our job. Let us do it well and keep up our B. C. standard and records."

CHANGE IN SERVICE SOCKS

Word has also been received that in order to save wool it has become necessary to shorten the length of the "service socks". History of Stagecraft Told Little Theatre

History of stagecraft from its origin in the early Greek theatre to its place in modern drama was traced in a paper given Tuesday night before the Nelson Little Theatre Society by Miss Mollie Cottingham.

"Good service designing, like good painting and architecture, is good thinking, supplemented by reasonable performance in execution. Theatre practice today is an outgrowth of conventions and traditions inherited from major epochs of the theatre's past. Every play must be its own designer," she said.

Miss Cottingham detailed the change from the outdoor theatre to the indoor theatre, and told of the architecture employed in theatres, early and present.

She described architecture, setting, and methods employed in the Roman Theatre, Church theatre, Shakespeare's theatre, 18th Century French theatre, and the modern theatre. The modern theatre had advantage of elaborate mechanized stages, she said. A description of the part played by design, mechanics and lighting in the modern theatre was given.

If you cannot get Crown Brand Syrup from your favourite grocer now and then, here is the reason. Because "Crown Brand" in addition to its other uses is being very generally used to help supplement the supply of sugar in Canadian Homes, the demand has increased tremendously.

Though there has been a much greater amount of Crown Brand syrup produced this year, even this increased supply cannot cope with the shortage of millions of pounds of sugar.

Don't hoard . . . buy normally . . . we are making every effort to supply the increased demand, and your grocer will do his best to fill your needs.

Stern Uphill Fight Lies Ahead Before Victory Cripps Tells House

LONDON, Nov. 18 (CP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, Government Leader in the House of Commons, told the House today the Allies' gains in Africa provided a very solid reason for greater confidence in the future, but that there must be no over confidence for a stern and uphill fight lies ahead of us before we can even gain mastery of North Africa itself.

"Very special measures are being taken to make effective both our offensive and defensive actions on U-boats," Sir Stafford said, speaking in debate on the speech from the throne which opened a new session.

The new stage of the war reached with victory over the Axis in Egypt, he said, "will place an even greater strain on our resources than we have hitherto experienced."

The enemy still has ample strength with which to strike back," he added. Pointing out that an essential element for defeat of the Axis was to deliver a heavy, continuous load of bombs upon Germany and Italy when ever the weather permits," he assured Parliament no effort would be spared to carry that out.

When we are established in north Africa, the Italians will come to realize what their German allies have suffered in the last few months," Sir Stafford predicted.

Turning to the Pacific front, he declared that "it is probable that the Japs will be unable to hold Buna following the extremely heavy casualties which have been inflicted."

The Infantry

Henry L. Stimson, United States Secretary of War, has come to the defence of an arm of the forces which has been in danger of falling into unearned oblivion. He has pointed out that it was the infantry which actually conquered most of the territory seized in North Africa by United States troops.

This was not intended as a slight to other branches of the fighting services. Mr. Stimson was enthusiastic in his praise of the gallant work done by naval and air forces, but he stressed the part played by the humble foot soldiers, and there seems good reason for him to do so, comments the Windsor Star.

Perhaps it is natural for the more spectacular services to attract the bulk of public attention in modern warfare. People are attracted by the dramatic, and there has been so much said about the mechanization of conflict in this day and age. The inevitable result has been that tanks and planes have come to be looked on as the only really deadly and effective instruments.

This impression has been intensified by the writings and public utterances of technical experts. Some of them have deliberately relegated the infantry to the background, and not a few have stated definitely that the day of the foot soldier is over. All have, either consciously or unconsciously, rather looked down on the men who march and crawl and fire rifles and machine guns.

The result has been to push the infantry rather into the status of an unwanted stepchild, and this has led to a serious injustice being done a fine and valuable branch of our fighting forces.

Not only is it unfair; it is foolish and short-sighted. The infantry may have lost something of their glamor, but they have sacrificed scarcely any of their solid usefulness.

Planes can blast enemy positions and soften them up for offensive operations on the ground. Tanks can punch holes through defence positions. After they have done their work, however, there is always much mopping up to do, and it can be carried out only by the infantry. All the ingenuity of modern science has failed to produce a satisfactory substitute for soldiers on foot, physically fit and well trained, and brave enough to fight without protection other than the weapons they can carry on their shoulders or backs.

This fact should not require argument. It has never been more conclusively proven than in the present war, which has been hailed as the ultimate in mechanization.

At Dieppe, ships and landing barges carried the troops to the French coast, planes blasted at the defending enemy positions, and tanks rumbled ashore. When the fighting became hot, however, it was the infantry who had the ability and the raw courage to penetrate into the town and beyond. No greater vindication of the foot soldier has ever been achieved.

Russia furnishes another example. If planes and tanks could win a war unaided, then the Red Army would today be annihilated, for no greater array of mechanized might has ever been thrown against a nation than that which the Axis has used. Yet, the successful defence of strategic Russian points has been achieved by soldiers on foot, manning machine guns and anti-tank rifles, hurling grenades, and opposing the puny weight of their bodies to the steam-roller of Nazi might.

Modern warfare demands all the machines that can be thrown into it, but they can never be enough. They must be backed up and supported by the infantry. Every arm has its place in the fighting organization of today, and a grave error can be committed by slighting any branch of the service.

R. O. Cranbrook—Could you give me some idea of the ranks in the Canadian Navy?

The ranks in the navy are as follows, from the lowest to the highest: Ordinary seaman, able seaman, leading seaman, petty officer, chief petty officer, midshipman, warrant officer, acting sub-lieutenant, sub-lieutenant, lieutenant, lieutenant-commander, commander, captain, commodore second and first class, rear admiral, vice-admiral, admiral and admiral of the fleet.

Reader, Trail—Will you please tell me how I can clean leather?

Apply a solution of oxalic acid with a sponge. Dissolve in warm water. Or, beat the whites of three eggs, then with a piece of soft flannel cloth rub the beaten whites into the leather, which should soon shine as if new. Or, since eggs can be used to better advantage these days, take a solution of soap and water to which oil and alcohol are added. Use one bar of white soap dissolved in one cup of water, then add one cup of alcohol and two cups of light oil.

P. A. Creston—Would you please tell me if Greer Garson is of Jewish nationality, and her age; also what nationality is Richard Ney, and his age?

Greer Garson is Irish on her mother's side, Scotch on her father's. She is 31 years old. Richard Ney is 29 years old—we do not know his nationality.

F. H. Nelson—Where should I write to obtain the present address of a soldier friend? Please also state the information I should give.

Write the Records Branch, Department of National Defence, giving name, where enlisted, name of unit, if possible, and any other information you have.

A. T. Nelson—What orders have been conferred upon Lt.-Gen. McNaughton?

The C.B., C.M.G., and D.S.O. He is an honorary LL.D. and honorary D.C.L. in his own right. He also holds military awards won in the First Great War.

Trondheim Terror Manufactured by the Germans

(From News of Norway)

Additional information received by the Royal Norwegian Government in London reveals that the Oct. 6-12 state of civil emergency in Trondheim, which brought with it no less than 34 executions, was not due to acts of sabotage or attempts to disrupt the public food supply, but that the "emergency" had been planned well in advance by the German leadership in Oslo and that it was intended to terrify people, to cripple all opposition, and to "bolster" prestige of the quidlings. By Oct. 3 leading German circles in Trondheim knew the emergency was no the way, and preparations for the terror had been started long before that. Trondelag had been selected for the "show" because of its highly important military significance. In addition the Germans wanted to make "quick disposition" of a number of farm boys from Grane who had shortly before been arrested on suspicion of having knowledge of hidden stores of weapons. It was decided early to lead off the terror with the execution of 10 prominent hostages, taken from lists supplied by NS leaders.

TEN HOSTAGES FIRST VICTIMS

The Trondheimers' first suspicion that something extraordinary was afoot came on Oct. 6 when the morning newspapers failed to appear. The explanation came at 8 a.m. when soldiers and police in steel helmets began posting notices stating that civil emergency had been invoked. After that job had been completed, the newspapers were allowed on the streets, but neither they nor anyone else explained to the people why the drastic action had been taken. Later in the day Reichskommissar Terboven and Gestapo Chief Redless rode through the city, surrounded by escort of German police on motorcycles which were armed with machine guns. They had arrived on a special train that had left Oslo the previous afternoon. Another special train laden with Gestapo agents, SS troops and Norwegian police, had followed them to Trondheim. As soon as Terboven and Redless had conferred with local authorities the drag-net for the 10 selected hostages was put in operation, and by nightfall the 10 were dead.

The killings fulfilled a promise made by Terboven in a brief speech that afternoon. He said the Germans meant business and would prove it. People had been advised to listen for reports on the day's events which would be broadcast through loudspeakers set up in various parts of the city. The first report was promised for 7:30 p.m., but it did not come until 8:02, by which time people had gone home in order to obey the curfew rule of remaining indoors after 8 p.m. Therefore only people residing nearby, along with the Germans and quidlings still on the streets, heard the first report through the loud speakers. It was a horrifying account of the executions, with the names of all victims painstakingly enunciated. At 8 o'clock police patrols began moving about the city, sweeping the streets and houses with the bright beams of powerful searchlights. Home after home was entered, and fathers and sons were carried away as hostages. All Jewish boys and men, ranging in age from 12 years to 70, were arrested. But several of the families of the first day's victims were not informed of what had happened until they read it in the newspapers the following morning.

FARM BOYS ERASED

On that second day of the emergency Trondheim was as if paralyzed. Everybody anticipated further executions. Heavily armed SS soldiers patrolled the streets in pairs, stopping people at every turn to check their credentials. It was a common sight to see a Norwegian being led off to prison between two Germans. Such arrests continued all day and jails and prisons were soon overcrowded. That evening people gathered about the loud speakers in great crowds, and in due time they heard the report of 13 additional executions, though now the names of victims were not well known ones. They were in large part, the names of the farm boys from Grane. The next day was like the one that had preceded it, and in the evening the loudspeakers reported nine more executions. On Friday night the loud speakers told of no new executions, and people felt the crisis had passed. Towards the end of the week many Norwegians in public and private employ were dismissed and replaced with Nazis. Sunday was marked by widespread "house searches" during which police confiscated food, clothing and private papers. Throughout the days of the emergency Terboven made his residence in the luxurious railway cars of his private train.

The terror rocked Trondheim severely, but aside from German patrols sent out to enforce the curfew the outlying districts of Trondelag were not particularly affected. At Steinkjer a number of "house searches" were made, and a woman was killed by a recklessly driven Nazi car. From a nearby camp the Germans also brought tanks into Steinkjer, giving that community an extra-spectral taste of the "emergency."

QUESTION STANDS

When Hon. G. Howard Ferguson in 1939 passed on the Provincial premiership to Hon. George S. Henry, he chose for his successor a man exactly his opposite in personality, in temperament, in astuteness, and in general attitude towards public questions.

When Hon. Mitchell F. Hepburn in 1942 let his mantle fall upon the willing shoulders of Hon. Gordon D. Coombs, he, too, chooses his own exact opposite for this honor.

Loss of Camilli May Touch Off Dodger Trading

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—Brooklyn Dodgers want to know if they have or haven't a first baseman for next season and President Branch Rickey has decided not to wait till the 1943 contracts are mailed to find out if Dolph Camilli really has retired.

Rickey disclosed today that Red McGrew, the Dodgers' Chief Scout, is in California and that part of his mission will be to check up on Camilli at his ranch at Laytonville, Calif., where Brooklyn's veteran captain last week told newspapermen he would not be willing to play for any Eastern club.

On the report that Rickey gets from McGrew will depend what trading campaign the Dodgers undertake at the Winter baseball meetings in Chicago next month.

As soon as Rickey settles the question of his manager for next season, and this probably will be done tomorrow at a conference he has scheduled with Leo Durocher, the club's next president will start laying his plans for rebuilding the team this Winter.

MAY LOSE DOZEN

Rickey already has made a survey of the draft status of all the players on the Brooklyn roster and has found at least a dozen who might be called to service at any time.

This group of men who either are single or are married but have no children, includes Durocher, pitchers Curt Davis, Kirby Higbe, Hugh Casey and Chel Kehn, catcher Cliff Dapper, infielders PeeWee Reese, Stan Robek and Les Burge and outfielders Pete Reiser, Johnny Rizzo and Augie Galan.

Burge, who was at Montreal last year, was being groomed to succeed Camilli. Therefore if the veteran decides to give up his better-than-$20,000 salary with the Dodgers to stay at home on his ranch with his family of five children, or to manage a Coast League Club, then Rickey will have to touch off the Winter trading season with a deal for a first baseman.

Rickey will decide tomorrow afternoon, he said, whether he will keep Durocher as manager for the fifth year.

Members of Bar Honor Constable Brabazon on Eve of Departure

Members of the bar at Nelson paid tribute Wednesday to Constable G. A. Brabazon of the B.C. Police, who leaves today to take a new post at Invermere. He was their guest at luncheon.

C. B. Garland, presiding, described it as a "unique occasion," the first time in his years in Nelson that members of the bar had paid tribute in such form to a member of the B.C. Police. "This action expressed, he said, appreciation of 'the happy relations between us.' Each of the hosts had at various times enjoyed Constable Brabazon's assistance, rendered 'heartily and well.'"

Each had, at various times, been on the opposite side in police court cases, and the luncheon also expressed "appreciation of your high sense of duty and your approach to your work." Mr. Garland declared the bar had "full understanding" of "the fair and proper manner" in which the constable performed his duties.

MOVED AND HONORED

Constable Brabazon described himself as "not only deeply moved by this expression of appreciation, but also highly honored." In his service at Nelson he had taken part in many court cases in which members of the bar were on the opposite side. These cases were imprinted on his memory not because of the results, but because of "the manner in which they were conducted." Relations had been "most cordial and most happy."

Constable Brabazon counted himself "privileged to feel proud of what I have done and that the manner in which I have done it seems to have left a good impression." For any police officer the number of cases he took to court was not nearly as important as the manner in which he took them and the decisions he made upon action that should be taken, said Constable Brabazon.

Mr. Garland remarked that in his experience in Nelson relations with police officers were excellent. There were "only one or two occasions when I had to cross-examine a police officer with any enthusiasm."

Slocan City Man Released on Bail

Daniel Rosland McKenzie of Slocan City, who was committed for trial on a charge of shooting a loaded firearm at Haruo Maeda, Japanese evacuee, with intent to do grievous bodily harm, was released on $300 bail by His Honor Judge W. A. Nisbet in County Court Judge's Criminal Court Wednesday.

The offence occurred Nov. 9, and McKenzie was committed for trial Nov. 16, by W. E. Graham, Slocan City Justice of the Peace. Information was laid by John Dowling, Provincial Constable at New Denver.

"The War—and Your Underwear"

While we are doing our best to provide good underwear for our retailers and consumers in every city, town and village in Canada we would like to remind our patrons that good underwear is more precious than ever. This, of course, is because the needs of Canada's gallant fighting forces must come FIRST. Furthermore it must be remembered that our allotments of wool, cotton and practically everything entering into the making of good underwear are limited by government restrictions.

For this reason we ask STANFIELD'S distributors, retailers and consumers not to buy any more underwear than they actually need; and to consumers particularly we suggest that they take good care of the underwear they now have on hand. In order to help you do this please write for our new folder: "How To Make Your Underwear Last Longer." The folder covers instructions for the underwear worn by men, women, children and infants.

Job Johnson To Be Traded

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 18 (AP)—Smile Mack and Big Bob Johnson, Philadelphia Athletics' hard-hitting Indian outfielder, came to a peaceful parting of the ways last 10 years.

Mack announced that the pride of the A's will be traded at the Chicago Major League meeting opening Dec. 1, if a suitable deal can be arranged, and added:

"He deserves a chance to play on pennant contender."

Johnson went home to Oregon to hunt and get a war plant job the close of the 1942 season, announcing he never again would say "with a team as the last-place Athletics."

Johnson, who will be 34 years old Nov. 28, joined the Athletics in 1933 after four years with Portland in the Pacific Coast League.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (AP)—Football isn't All Fun Dept: A few weeks ago when the Woodward, Iowa, high school football coach entered the United States Army, the town parson took over his coaching duties.

... now comes a letter from Rev. (Dad) Krennmyer reporting that after Woodward had a fair season, someone dug up an old rule requiring a coach to teach two other subjects ... since the parson merely was working for nothing he couldn't fill that requirement ... as a result, all of Woodward's games were ordered forfeited and even the three teams that beat Dad's school lost credit for it when the officials' scores were changed to 1-0.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Gordon Cobbledick, Cleveland Plain Dealer: "What the war has done and will do to baseball is well known and loudly lamented, but it may prove a boon to ball players ... at least to those of the current generation. For some hundreds of them are learning what most of us had to learn long ago—namely that working for a living isn't such a tough dodge after all."

O'Connor moved into a tie with Lynn Patrick of Rangers with 11 points. Gordie Drillon, who is leading the heap, did not score in the game, but his lead was unimpaired with Patrick, his nearest rival, remaining idle.

All Out Effort Will Shorten War—Mrs. F.D.R.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18 (CP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt told reporters today that her trip to Britain had convinced her that if American citizens could only realize that the length of the war will depend on what they do "we might put a great deal more into our war effort."

Mrs. Roosevelt, whose return was announced by the White House, yesterday, talked to reporters for an hour and a half.

Asked for examples of what Americans could do, she said living up non-essentials for one thing. Also if women were willing to do a great deal more work, there could be relieved more manpower for war industry and the armed services.

Asked if she could sum up what she got out of her trip, she said: "I am glad I went because I learned a tremendous amount I came back with an enormous pride in the ability of human nature to rise above the things that bother us the most—the little inconveniences. I came back with a tremendous feeling that when you have to face things you can do it."

CHERTSEY, England (CP)—When H. M. corvette Dianthus rammed and later sank a U-boat the fire party had taken the rifles and revolvers and fired at the enemy vessel. But one man, the Commander said, found a locker of potatoes and peated the U-boat with spuds.

DO IT WITH BRAINS
OPIE, A GREAT artist in his day, was once asked by a student painter: "With what do you mix your colors?" His answer was: "With brains, sir." That is a good idea for bridge, too. In the use of perfectly sound standard plays, such as splitting honors. Sometimes a brief examination of the dummy will show you that splitting your honors will simplify a situation for the declarer and make it certain he takes an extra trick in the suit, whereas ducking forces upon him a guess he is likely to make wrongly.

Hand 1:

♠ A 4	♥ 10 9 7 5	♦ Q 9 3	♣ 9 6 4 3
♠ K Q 9 6	♥ Q 6	♦ A 5 4 3	♣ Q 10 7

Hand 2:

♠ 8 7 5	♥ A 5 4 3 2	♦ K 8	♣ J 5 2
♠ J 10 3 2	♥ K J	♦ J 10 7 5	♣ A K 3

(Dealer: West. North-South vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♥	Pass

Various things happened on this deal in a nine-table duplicate. Most East-West pairs getting set in 2-No Trumps or 3-No Trumps. At two tables, however, East's bid of 2-Hearts was treated as a sign-off and left. One declarer made the contract, with a little help from South, and the other was beaten a trick.

At both of the 2-Hearts tables, the play began in similar vein, the club K drawing the 3 from North and causing a shift to the diamond 6, the Q forcing the K. Both Easts then led the heart 2 toward the Q, the K winning and the diamond J forcing the A. The heart Q was scored, the club Q led to the A and the diamond 10 returned for a ruff by the heart A. The heart A won at both tables, and then came the difference, when East led the spade 8.

One South split his honors, playing the spade 10, and the Q forced the A. That was the only spade lost by that declarer, as on the next spade round, after winning the returned club with the J, he finessed the spade 9. The K, now top, forced North to ruff with his heart 10, East getting the last trick with the heart 8.

The other South saw that covering that spade 8 with the 10 would almost surely tip off East to finessing on the next round, so he played low on it. The declarer then went up with the Q from dummy to force the A. After East won the club return with the J and led the spade 7, South now properly split his honors, the 10 forcing the K. When the spade 9 was returned, North figured his partner for the J, so discarded his last club instead of ruffing. South won the trick, sure enough, and his diamond return was ruffed then by North's heart 10, East being obliged to under-ruff with the 8 and thus losing the final trick and his contract as well.

Christmas Confection Supply Slim; Potatoes, Oranges, Twine Scarce

Wholesalers reported Wednesday that there is some scarcity of potatoes at the moment because of labor shortages at shipping points. Grand Forks has been unable to make shipment of cars on order for Nelson for some days.

There is still a good supply of local turnips, carrots, beets and parsnips. Cabbage is coming from the Prairies and onions from Grand Forks.

Hothouse tomatoes are on the market from Victoria. Spinach and head lettuce are arriving from Wally Walls, Wash., and Utah celery is arriving from the Okanagan, Okanagan McIntosh and Delicious.

apples are supplying this market now, and a few local Jonathans, Spies and Ogeners are still available.

Oranges are scarce at the moment but naval oranges should be available by the end of the month.

There is a great scarcity of twine of all kinds including counter twine, and it is almost impossible to secure now.

Confectionery of all kinds is still very scarce. A little, if any, but candy will be available for Christmas.

Car arrivals are one car of peaches, one mixed car and one of alfalfa.

Creston W.I. Hears Talk on Public Health

CRESTON, B. C.—Mrs. J. Maxwell was hostess for the November meeting of the Women's Institute which was held Friday afternoon.

A feature of the afternoon was the talk on public health given by Miss Frith, Public Health Nurse for this district.

Among the correspondence was a letter regarding a Study Group as outlined by the U.B.C. The meeting decided they would not take this up. The Government grant of $10 was received.

The Institute bulletin was read and gave a detailed account of the effort put forth by Institute members helping the Red Cross put up jam this season. The Province was credited with making 58 tons of jam. This was not the only war effort of the Institute as it was also announced that the Federated W.I. is making a donation of an ambulance.

The meeting took the form of a grocery store with each member making a donation of groceries. These groceries will be raffled at the next meeting. The Institute decorated the monument for Remembrance Day and a letter of thanks is being sent to Mrs. E. Martin of Sirdar for donating flowers.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Shouse, Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Ness.

Production of War Metal Properties Maintains Value of B. C. Mining; B. C. Proud of Mercury Contribution

VANCOUVER, Nov. 18 (CP).—Dr. J. F. Walker, Deputy Mines Minister, said today the gross value of British Columbia mine production for 1942 should be about $75,000,000 and that the current rate of production is not likely to decline "provided there is no further loss of labor and provided that our present rate of gold production can be maintained."

He reviewed other metals as follows:

1. Copper production, after a "remarkable recovery," had suffered seriously because of labor shortage but "we still hope that plans can be formulated whereby additional mine labor will be found not only to restore production but to increase it."

2. Zinc production has been maintained at a high level.

3. Coal production, after a substantial increase in the early part of the year lately had started to decline but "it is anticipated that, if no further shutdowns occur, coal production will show a fair increase for the year."

4. Gold production. Thirteen or 14 mines and many smaller operations had closed down during the past 18 months and it was estimated conservatively production would be down perhaps $2,500,000 from 1940.

In predicting the general value of mine production would be maintained Dr. Walker said:

"On the one hand we have lost production to the value of something over $10,000,000 per annum, and on the other hand, have gained production to the extent of nearly $4,000,000, leaving a net loss in rate of current production of about $2,000,000, as compared to 1940."

"There are war metal properties coming into production that next year will offset, to a great extent, this loss and, as I have said, if there is no further loss in production through labor shortage or other restrictions, our production for next year should be at about the same level as 1940."

"Silver production looks as if it may assume a new importance and the Cindersella metal may again come into its own," said Dr. Walker.

The Federal Mines Department was investigating chromite deposits. Dr. Walker continued, but results had not yet been made known. As for molybdenum, preliminary work on the Moss Mountain property of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company had resulted in development of about 30,000 tons "of reasonably assured ore," containing 0.81 per cent molybdenum. . . . with possibilities of proving up a greater tonnage."
