RUSSIANS HURL AT SEVASTOPOL BACK GERMANS

Still Hold Highway and Famed Port of Balaklava

KHARKOV BATTLE IN RUSS FAVOR

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, June 17 (CP)—The fortifications of Sevastopol and historic, battered Balaklava presented an unbending defence tonight to the repeated attacks of Germany's greatest offensive against the last Russian ports to stand guard on the Western Black Sea.

Front-line dispatches described six Nazi assaults against an important highway on the upper approaches to the Sevastopol naval base and five others against the Southern defences, and said the fury of the German attacks exceeded that of last November and December.

However, the Russians said they still held the highway and remained in possession of Balaklava, the fishing port 7½ miles South of Sevastopol where the British Light Brigade made its famous charge in 1854.

The Germans continued fierce assaults on the Sevastopol lines today, the Russian midnight communique stated, ut the Red Army held firm and repulsed the attack.

On other sectors of the front no essential change took place, the communique said. It noted that in fighting on the Kharkov front the Russians destroyed 15 German tanks and "up to 1500 German soldiers and officers."

In the Ukraine, the second battle of Kharkov appeared to have turned in the Russians' favor. The Germans were reported lagging in the attack and falling back from a number of new lines in the face of Red Army counter-attacks. Field Marshall Fedor von Bock's forces appeared weakened by severe losses.

Nehru Warns Japs Would Not Aid Independence

NEW DELHI, India, June 17 (AP) —Jawaharlal Nehru, influential leader of the All-India Congress Party, said tday that "the situation in India is becoming intolerable", but warned that, despite Tokyo's promises, the Japanese, if victorious, would only continue "India's subjugation."

"We cannot carry on as impassive spectators," he declared.

"Other deeds are necessary."

Nehru, the still powerful Mohandas K. Gandhi and other influential men in the Congress Party have been conferring at Wardha on whether they can further their goal of Indian independence by helping or hindering Britain's war effort.

Say Britain Lost Four Warships

BERLIN, June 17 (AP)—The German radio claimed tonight that the Royal Navy had lost four warships in the air-sea battle in the Western Mediterranean, saying that 18 ships carrying dead and wounded men had reached Gibraltar this morning.

The radio said 22 warships left the British base last Thursday night. One of the cruisers which returned was said to be in a sinking condition.

Could End War Now if He Could Send 20,000 Bombers

LONDON, June 17 (AP.)—Sir Arthur Travers Harris, chief of the Royal Air Force bomber command who organized the thousand-plane raids on Cologne and the Ruhr, is the only Allied military leader to declare publicly that, given the right conditions, he could end the war by Autumn.

Watching the big bombers leave on one major raid, he said:

"If I could send 20,000 bombers over Germany tonight, Germany would not be in the war tomorrow; if I could send 1000 bombers every night it would end the war by Autumn."

ITALIANS THROW UP BIG BARRAGE AT RAF RAIDERS

Pilots Fly Through Wall of Fire to Score Hits

ONLY 2 PLANES NOT DAMAGED

By LARRY ALLEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

AN ALLIED AIRDROME IN THE LIBYAN DESERT, June 17 (AP.)—Veteran R.A.F. pilots today told how they flew through the heaviest anti-aircraft barrage they had ever experienced to score direct hits on an Italian battleship, a cruiser and a destroyer already crippled by United States bombers in the four-day battle of the Mediterranean.

So heavy was the fire that only two of the Brish planes returned undamaged. One pilot said it was like "a wall of fire" which started while they were still five miles away from the Italian warships and grew more intense as they dove in only 100 feet above the sea.

Their reception was in sharp contrast with that of the big United States Liberators, which had come in at high altitude and dropped 20 bombs on one battleship and 15 on another without losing a single plane.

Some of the British planes already were badly damaged before they reached their targets, but they did not turn back until they had launched their torpedoes.

One of these was piloted by Squadron Leader Gibbs, who previously had won the Distinguished Flying Cross. The hydraulic gear of his plane was punctured by a shell splinter and he flew in to throw his torpedo with oil squirting in his face.

One pilot gave this account of the attack:

"An Italian battleship was our target. We swooped toward her broadside on. The first thing I noticed was how slowly she was moving, as if she had been hit earlier.

BLINDING FIRE

"Then we went through a blinding wall of fire. The enemy ships threw up everything they had. I could see big red flashes from the battleship's guns. Their barrage became fiercer until it looked as if the whole ship was spurting flame.

"We dived to within 100 feet above the sea, fired a torpedo and immediately banked way. My observer confirmed that we hit her and that she listed to port. But that I saw an explosion on the near side of an enemy cruiser, then a huge column of water spouted up and rolled over her, indicating both our flights had given her a dose of torpedoes."

RELIEF SUPPLIES FOR HONG KONG MEN GO AHEAD

Leave New York for Portugese East Africa

RED CROSS WILL ARRANGE DELIVERY

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP.)—The Department of External Affairs announced tonight that relief supplies for Canadian and Allied prisoners of war and internees in the Hong Kong area are going forward on the diplomatic exchange ship which has just sailed from New York for Lourenco Marques, Portuguese East Africa.

At Laurenco Marques, the Department said, the supplies will be transferred to the Japanese exchange ship to be taken to Japan where they will be delivered to the International Red Cross delegate. He will arrange for their shipment to Hong Kong and distribution.

"The agreement with the Japanese government is reciprocal and the exchange ship from Japan will carry supplies for Japanese nationals in the United States, Canada and elsewhere," the statement said.

The arrangements made by Canadian and American Red Cross Societies in collaboration with Government departments concerned cover "the sending forward of surgical and medical supplies, food, tobacco, clothing and comfort."

TAKE OVER STOCKS

Pending arrival of these supplies at Hong Kong, the International Red Cross delegate in China is taking over from the American Red Cross "certain large stocks of cereals and medical supplies," at Hong Kong and Shanghai and is placing them at the disposal of the local authorities for the benefit of war prisoners and civilian internees.

It is agreed that relief supplies for the China coast should be shipped from this continent by the Canadian and American Red Cross Societies, and the first anticipation was they would go forward on a neutral vessel direct from the Pacific coast to Hong Kong.

"This proved impossible as the agreement of the Japanese government was not secured," the department said. "An agreement was reached however that supplies would be sent forward on the diplomatic exchange ship which just sailed from New York for Lourenco Marques."

A heavy downpour Tuesday night lifted the month's rainfall another .06 inch to 3.37 inches. Rain has fallen on 11 days out of 17 so far in June.

The temperature during the 24 hours to 5 p.m. Wednesday varied 28 degrees from a low of 39 to 67 degrees.

"BIG INNINGS" FOR THE ARMY COMING SOON

Time for Soldiers to Take Stock of Themselves

WAR NOW AT CRITICAL STAGE

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP) — The "big innings" of the army in the present war is coming soon, Lt.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of the general staff and acting Commander-in-Chief West Coast defences, said tonight in a broadcast speech directed to all soldiers in Canada, but particularly to junior officers.

The speech was broadcast over the National network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

The past 2½ years of war have belonged to the navy and the air force, Gen. Stuart said. The army had hard training but little fighting. The navy and air force had avoided defeat but it was necessary to win the war and the army would have to do that by the physical occupation of territory.

The general asked the public to visit the army during army week (June 29 to July 5). He asked the army to do its bit in interpreting itself to the public.

"Victory cannot be attained without the active participation of the army. We now are on the road to victory and the great opportunity for the army will soon present itself."

The war is at a critical stage. It was time for each soldier to take stock of himself so that the army could not match but improve upon the efforts of the enemy. He asked junior officers to examine their activities in the light of the application to them of moral, mental and physical qualities. The moral component was by far the most important. The quality of loyalty was important in the moral sphere, loyalty to superiors, loyalty to subordinates and loyalty to truth.

A junior officer had to look to the interests of his men and if he found loyalty to them in apparent conflict with loyalty to his superior he would probably find a referee in " loyalty and truth."

"Do not subscribe to the 'yes man' type of loyalty," said Gen. Stuart. "We have no place for such type of loyalty in the Canadian army today. We need individuals who have minds of their own and are not frightened to express their views and who are not frightened to fight for the interests of the men they command."

Willkie Not Likely to Take Public Office Again

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP.)—Wendell L. Willkie, Republican Presidential candidate in 1940, declared tonight that "I doubt if I will ever aspire to public office again." He made the declaration at an address at a dinner in honor of Senator Robert F. Wagner, New York Democrat.

Wave of Terror Sweeping Europe; Repressive Measures Savage

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 17 (AP) — A growing wave of terror, with repressive measures of the Nazi conquerors increasing in savagery and ingenuity, was reported from many parts of occupied Europe tonight.

On the German home front itself, reports added, the Nazis have opened a new propaganda drive calling for fortitude and "iron purpose"—and warning the people of the dire consequences of defeat.

By countries, the reports reaching London gave this picture of the latest Nazi moves to make good their "new order" in Europe:

Poland—more than 1000 persons were arrested in Warsaw yesterday, the Polish Government in London announced, in a mass raid and were carried away, presumably to join 5000 others who were seized in Warsaw a few weeks ago and sent to Germany as slave laborers.

Russia—Russians escaping from German-held Kharkov, Ukranian City, told of mass executions among suffering civilians who daily saw bodies of those who had died of starvation being carried to the city's outskirts.

250 HOSTAGES SHOT

Yugoslavia—Reports received by secret channel said 250 hostages were shot in a 10-day period during April in the German-occupied part of Slovenia, in Northern Yugoslavia. Yugoslavia resistance continued and 1500 Axis soldiers were reported captured recently in a battle between them and Gen. Draja Mihailovic's forces.

Greece—German authorities published a warning that 30 hostages would be shot unless sabotage ceases, a Moscow dispatch said. Several hostages already have been reported slain.

The German labor service has conscripted 26,000 Macedonians, an Athens dispatch to the Vatican newspaperL'Osservatore Romano, said.

Norway — Four-hundred loyal Norwegian teachers who refused to bow to the quisling regime now are toiling on wharves at Kirkenes, North Norway, besides Russian prisoners of war. One hundred and sixty others were assigned to similar tasks at Elvenes.

At least 60 Norwegians were arrested at Skien after defying the curfew.

Belgium—An unspecified number of peasants who refused to hand over their wheat were held as hostages in Liege Province until sufficient wheat is delivered to meet requisitioning orders.

Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania—All men of 21 to 29 have been called up for a year of labor service in Germany.

SUGAR CARDS TO BE MAILED TO ALL CANADIANS

Rationing Effective July 1; Plan No Changes

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP) — Coupon sugar rationing will come into effect throughout Canada on July 1, Donald Gordon, Wartime Prices and Trade Board Chairman said tonight in a radio talk outlining plans for introduction of the coupon scheme.

The present individual allowance of one half pound of sugar a week for each person will be continued. The board has not decided to ration any other commodities, Mr. Gordon said.

First coupon books to be issued will be for a 10-week period and subsequent books will be good for six months.

"Beginning July 1—it will be unlawful for anyone to buy any sugar for ordinary use unless coupons are surrendered to the seller at the time the purchase is made," Mr. Gordon said in his address, over the National Network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

"Any rumors you hear about the rationing of other commodities by coupons are without foundation because the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has made no decision to ration any other commodities by the use of coupons or ration tickets."

Householders taking advantage of the additional allowance for preserving and jam making—½ pound of sugar for every pound of fruit weight to be preserved and three quarters pound of sugar for each pound of fruit to be made into jams or jellies—will be required to complete a purchase voucher which retail stores will furnish.

Special arrangements for the use of purchase vouchers by istitutions and industrial users of sugar have been completed and will be described through newspapers, Mr. Gordon said.

Simple aplication forms for coupons will be distributed June 23 to homes receiving a daily house to house mail delivery. Distribution by mail will also be made on rural routes.

The forms will provide space for the name of each member of a family and in houses occupied by more than one family separate cards must be filled out for each family, Mr. Gordon explained.

Cards will be collected from homes in urban areas between 6 p.m. and 10 p.m. on the evening of June 25. The cards will be gathered at a central point from which coupon ration cards with coupons attached will be issued in sufficient time to reach each family by July 1, allowing continued purchases of sugar at the rate of ½ pound a week for each person.

"However, if you have two weeks' or more supply of sugar on hand, you must not use your coupons to buy sugar," Mr. Gordon warned.

Application cards from householders on rural postal routes will not be collected, Mr. Gordon said. These people will be required to drop them in the nearest postal box or if it is customary for them to pick up their mail at a post office, to return the cards there.

VANCOUERV, June 17 (CP) — Magistrate David Gillies, 44, of Burnaby Police Court, died at his home there today.

R.C.A.F. Squadrons and Anti-Aircraft Troops Take Part

Aleutians Attack Intended to Destroy Air Bases Which Might Be Used for Raids on Japan; Near Canadian Objectives

VICTORIA, June 17 (CP)—Royal Canadian Air Force squadrons and anti-aircraft units of the Canadian Army have been operating for some days with the United States Forces in Alaska, Lt.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, Chief of the Canadian General Staff said in a statement released here today.

Gen. Stuart, who arrived yesterday to take over temporarily as General Officer commanding the Pacific Command, said he had been authorized by Defence Minister Ralston to make the statement.

Gen. Stuart said he attached considerable significance to the latest Japanese move (in the Aleutians). "It is an obvious defensive attempt to neutralize, destroy or occupy such air bases in the Aleutians as can be used for 'jumping-off points' for raids on Japan by shore-based aircraft.

"It is also true that if Japan can hold the gains in the Aleutians she will be much closer to Canadian objectives than she was before. In these circumstances it is idle to say that we are not concerned with development."

(Yesterday Gen. Stuart, in an interview at Vancouver, was quoted as saying there is "no reason to be alarmed," over the "little invasion" of the Aleutian Islands by the Japanese).

"I am afraid I could not have expressed myself clearly when questioned by the Press at Vancouver recently," Gen. Stuart said tonight.

"The implication from my statement, as reported, is that I do not place any strategical significance on recent events in the Aleutians. I would like to correct this impression."

GUILDFORD, Eng., June 17 (CP Cable)—Charged with the murder of Pte. Charles Reginald Tapley of Saint John, N.B., Lieut. William Hemmant, 39, of London, today was committed for trial at the assizes beginning June 29. He pleaded not guilty.

Tapley was fatally wounded June 4. Police testified that Hemmant said on his way to the police station after the shooting: "He had taken my wife."

The prosecution charged Tapley and Mrs. Hemmant while walking on the street met Hemmant and that several minutes later the officer drew his revolver and fired five or six shots, three of which struck the Canadian soldier.

Canadian Legion Rifle Club has qualified 25 members for bronze trophy buttons and nine for silver buttons in Dominion Marksmen competition. Sixteen of the 25 qualified for the first button are ladies, while four ladies have earned the silver button. The gold buttons, which call for a still greater excellence of marksmanship, will be their next goal.

One member, Miss Doris Stevens, who won her bronze, silver and gold buttons while a member of a Calgary rifle club, plans to try for the highest award, a Dominion Marksmen shield. Twenty targets shot from the three positions, standing, sitting and prone, must be entered to gain the shield.

The Club boasts an active membership of 55 in its first season on the 25-yard indoor range at the Legion. Many of them are newcomers to the sport, and are displaying keen enthusiasm. The women members especially have shown an interest in learning to shoot, and many, afraid of a gun at the start, have under competent instruction developed fine marksmanship. President W. A. Harrison, J. J. McEwan and Walter Vatin have instructed the members.

When the level or the West Arm drops sufficiently, the Club will transfer its activities to the fine new outdoor range on the C.P.R. Flats. There 25-yard, 50-yard and 100-yard targets are provided.

Rossland Class Has Lecture on Drownings

ROSSLAND, B. C., June 17.—"Resuscitation from Drowning, Electric Shock and Gas Poisoning" was the title of the talk given by Dr. Leonard Wrinch to the Home Nursing Class Tuesday evening.

The four most common causes of drowning were deep water panic; exhaustion, loss of balance, usually by being swamped by waves or tripping over a submerged log or rock, and failure to reach an objective. Poor swimmers often overestimated their prowess.

Drownings were divided into two kinds; passive and active. The first was usually due to a physical ailment such as stroke, heart-failure, cramps, etc. The second was manifested by panic, shouting, struggling, terror and kicking until exhausted.

The number of times a person reappeared depends upon his strength physically and the amount of air in the lungs. It was a pity so many people in the present day still believed the old superstition that the third time a person disappeared meant the end.

Drowning was painless and it had been proven many times that there was no passing of life in review, the doctor said.

LOOK FOR BUBBLES

Pressure of water on the chest and abdomen causes bubbles to rise and these bubbles are often the clue to where the drowning person is lying. People doing life saving look for these bubbles.

In Canada the swimming season was from June to September and it was dangerous to go swimming in the off season when the water was very cold. The ideal temperature for swimming was 70 to 80.

Dr. Wrinch warned against going swimming soon after a heavy meal, not because of possible cramps, but because one should not undertake any strenuous exercise after eating heavily.

No intelligent person would dive into unknown water, one reason being the possibility of hitting an unseen obstruction. It was wise to explore carefully waters that were unfamiliar before swimming, to avoid the danger from weeds.

Needless drownings occurred when people became panicky.

FIRM SUPPORT

If possible rescue should be attempted from a firm support rather than by swimming methods. A floating object such as a plank, tire, log, or anything at hand would keep the victim afloat until aid could be summoned. The human chain method was also explained.

Even good swimmers were warned against long swims unless accompanied by someone in a boat. This was especially necessary in cold water, when even an expert could develop cramps.

Correct methods of resuscitation were fully explained. The doctor stressed that hope should not be abandoned until the victim was pronounced dead by a physician or other authority.

A question period followed.

Mrs. Ronald Eccles conducted the home nursing class in the absence of Mrs. John Lonsbury.

A.R.P. Workers Treat Patients In Realistic Test

Nelsonites in the business section Wednesday night received a few minor shocks as they apparently saw helpless accident victims lying about the streets, first aiders busily treating and bandaging others, and stretcher-bearers and ambulances carrying away still others. But it was only the first aid and ambulance personnel of No. 3 A.R.P. District practicing their work. The efficiency they displayed was "most commendable" said District Warden B. L. Jeffries after the practice. Boy Scouts served as "casualties."

A communication system employing runners instead of telephone as would be necessary in emergency was also tested, and proved "very satisfactory."

Rossland Junior Board Attends School Meeting

ROSSLAND, B. C., June 17 — When Rossland Junior Board of Trade attended the School Board meeting Wednesday, Harold Clegg, President, explained that William Darby, chairman of the Board's Civic Committee, arranged the meeting for two purposes; first, so we might acquaint ourselves with the activities of the School Board, and second, to show our interest."

Several interested taxpayers also attended the meeting.

The School Board received application forms from the Minister of Education regarding becoming affiliated with the B. C. School Trustees' Association. The annual dues being $25, this was deferred for consideration.

A complete report from the City Engineer, Rupert Haggen, was read regarding the sagging of the basement and first and second floors at McLean School. He recommended that sections of the concrete be taken from each floor and tested for safety. The concrete on the top floor was not up to proper specifications. Mr. Haggen was instructed to carry on.

John Ayres, Secretary of the A.R.P. Committee asked for hot and cold water connections in the auditorium of the High School, the Civilian Protection Committee to pay the cost. The rock gas plant for heating water is waiting to be installed. Wesley McKenzie suggested the art room would be suitable for an operating room as it already had two sinks and was located right across the hall from the auditorium.

Mr. Snowball, chairman of the School Board, emphasized that the A.R.P. must obtain permission from the School Board Maintenance Committee before making any changes in the High School. Mr. Snowball stated that the School Board was anxious to cooperate with the A.R.P. but school activities could not be interfered with. The A.R.P. engineering department is to work with the School Maintenance Committee.

Principal Wesley McKenzie reported that there would be a probable enrollement of 295 students for the Fall term; this would necessitate an increase in the staff of one teacher, making the total teaching staff 12.

A. F. G. Drake reported that he and the Parks' Board chairman, Alderman W. Cunningham, had the rocks and debris at the East corner of the MacLean School grounds cleaned up. A fence had been constructed at the High School and was now being painted. He also reported that plants had been donated and planted by interested parties.

Mr. MacKenzie was authorized to make suitable arrangements with E. Gibney re a flutina concert that Mr. Gibney proposed to put on before school closed in order to show the progress made and also the possibilities for advancement. Sixty pupils in the flutina band are MacLean School boys and girls.

Painful, Pus Filled Boils the Cause of Much Misery

If you suffer from boils you know how sick and miserable they made you feel.

Boils are an outward indication of impurities in the system, and just when you think you are rid of one another crops up to take its place and prolong your misery. All the lancing and poulticing you can do may not stop more coming.

To help overcome boils you should purify the blood, so why not give that old, reliable blood medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, a chance to show what it will do in helping you get rid of them? Thousands have used it for this purpose for the past 60 years. Why not you?

Germans Smashing Steadily at Line Defending Tobruk

CAIRO, June 17 (AP)—British guns and tanks were reported today to have beaten off two Axis attacks at Sidi Rezegh and Acroma as Field Marshal Erwin Rommel sought to storm Tobruk before the vital supplies, newly landed at the port under cover of British and American planes, could be put into the fight.

A military commentator said the position is substantially unchanged with the British army holding a semicircular position West, South and Southeast of the port, and the Germans smashing steadily at that line with tanks and artillery.

The commentator said the Germans, for the moment, were in the favorable position of having superiority in numbers of tanks and anti tank guns.

Three weeks of intensive fighting were said to have depleted the strength of General Grant tanks which the British forces had at the outset, thus compelling the British command to fall back on older type reserve tanks described as no match for the mark fours which Rommel's forces have thrown into action.

Some sources expressed the belief the supplies landed at Tobruk might include the necessary weapons to enable the British forces to counter attack and perhaps regain damaged but repairable tanks which they left behind in withdrawing from the Knightsbridge area and their Bir Hacheim line.

The British line apparently is anchored on the West at Acroma, dips Southward through El Adem and veers North from there to Sidi Rezegh, 25 miles Southeast of Tobruk, 50 miles West of the Egyptian border.

Having escaped an Axis trap near Ain el Gazala in a successful withdrawal of two divisions to complete the reshaping of Britain's line, the 8th Army apparently was standing firm again as the fighting for Libya stretched into the fourth week of its newest, fiercest battle with the strain of heat, sandstorms and conflict telling on the men and machines of both sides.

Tanks and truck loads of infantry of both sides were reported engaged in fierce fighting between Sidi Rezegh, 25 miles Southeast of Tobruk, and El Adem, 18 miles South of Tobruk. The Axis forces were believed to have been reinforced by a new column which moved up to this area at mid day yesterday.

Quezon Becomes Member of Pacific Council

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP) — President Manuel Quezon of the Philippine commonwealth became a member of the Pacific War Council at its regular Wednesday meeting at the White House today, and listened to a report on events in the Aleutians Islands.

President Roosevelt gave the representatives of the nations actively fighting in the Pacific a review of what had been happening up at the Islands," but in disclosing this development, the British ambassador, Lord Halifax, said he could add nothing to that simple statement.

Lord Halifax did say, however that "what the U. S. forces have done to the Jap naval forces are encouraging."

F.D.R. Signs Bill to Increase Army Pay

Italian Navy Unit Routed Before It Contacted Convoy

LONDON, June 17 (CP). — An Italian naval squadron in the central Mediterranean was so battered and hurt by British and United States airmen that it never made contact with the Tobruk-bound convoy it had set out to intercept, a British source stated today.

It was declared officially that convoys early this week had delivered necessary supplies to both Malta and Tobruk "at considerable cost."

What this cost was in ships and men was not disclosed, but the convoy operations were described officially as "a limited success."

On both the Allied and Axis sides shore-based aircraft apparently did the major portion of damage to the opposing surface forces.

Failure of the heavy Italian squadron even to get into contact with the Tobruk convoy was declared here to have taught Mussolini's navy that "like the Japanese fleet in the Pacific," it was no match for shore-based planes.

Sources in London acknowledged the hazards of supplying such a base as Malta but emphasized the necessary for braving them.

"If Malta was neutralized by the enemy or in his hands," a London source said, "the Axis supply problem in North Africa would be a comparatively simple one."

There were indications the Axis knew the convoy from Gibraltar was leaving and it was shadowed by long-range reconnaissance planes almost from the beginning of the voyage.

When it came within range of the Axis bases, high-level bombers, dive-bombers and torpedo planes attacked.

CAIRO, Egypt, June 17 (AP).—Air Headquarters announced today that a second air attack Monday night had resulted in another hit on one of the two Italian battleships set afire by British and United States bombers and torpedo planes Monday morning.

The battleship was hit despite a heavy smoke screen laid down by the accompanying four destroyers, which also were attacked again, a communique said.

Fourteen Axis planes were listed as definitely shot down in the Central Mediterranean fighting, with many more "so severely damaged that it is unlikely they returned to their bases."

AN ALLIED AIRDROME IN THE LIBYAN DESERT, June 17 (AP).—The United States Army's big Liberator (Consolidated) bombers were credited today with scoring 36 direct bomb hits on two Italian battleships in operations with the R.A.F. in the Central Mediterranean and their commander said "it was like shooting fish in a barrel."

Nazi War Plants Under Fire

LONDON, June 17 (CP)—British bombers smashed again at Nazi war plants in the Ruhr and Rhineland regions of Germany last inght although bad weather which had forced a week-long lull still had not fully cleared.

Eight British bombers failed to return from the night's offensive which included minesowing, the air ministry said.

The size of the raiding party was average, observers said, appreciably below the scope of the 1000-plane attacks upon Cologne and Essen May 30 and June 1.

SERIAL STORY . . . . . By ADELAIDE HUMPHRISS

YOU ARE THE ONE

CHAPTER EIGHT

They went to Coney Island, of all places. It was Tommy's idea. It proved to be fun, but Tibby could not help wondering if he would have made the same suggestion had he been dating someone else—say, Deena. Tommy seemed to think he had to provide a hilarious, school-girl time for Tibby just because he had known her all through such adolescent activities. Of course she would have laughed in his face had he gone gallant suddenly on her. And she did adore roller coasters and ferris wheels and popcorn and peanuts. So it was her own fault, too. Some day she might give him a shock by appearing in a low-cut, close-fitting gown, with her curls pulled off her ears. She had just never bothered to let Tommy know she could look and behave quite grown up and sophisticated, should she choose.

They took in all the sideshows, too. The man who was turning to stone. The snake charmer. The bearded lady. The House of Mirrors, where they both nearly had convulsions, seeing each other as they might have been squashed dow nto the same breath as height, or pulled through a needle's eye to a scarecrow's tall thinness.

They shrieked on the dips, Tibby's hands clutching Tommy's lapels, her head buried on his shoulder; they ran into one another in the toy automobiles, locking bumpers. They stuffed themselves until they were near to bursting with pop and peanuts and queer concoctions spun from sugar and water or contrived of splintered ice and various colorings.

Finally, when they had done and seen everything, they agreed reluctantly that they had better call it a day and go home. It seemed a pity to bring such goofy fun to an abrupt ending, to return to a world in which laughter was often outruled. There was something to be said for kid stuff; it did not hurt the poor old tired world, maybe it helped it a little.

Tomy said, "if only I didn't have to toil for my living! We'd stay untilthe last neon stopped fluttering. But alack-a-me, I have to arise, almost with ye dawn, come morning." He pounded his chest comically, rolled his eyes. He looked comical with a sillyhat, picked up somewhere along the way, perched on the back of his head, carrying an enormous doll, rigged out in the Tibby had won for hitting the tar-Tibby ha dwon for hitting the target in a shooting gallery, and both hands filled with drinking glasses and a pitcher and a couple of ash trays, magnificent loot from rolling balls and knocking a black-faced comedian into a bucket of water.

"How 'bout me?" Tibby protested. "I have to face the cold-hard light of tomorrow, too. I'm scheduled for a flight at ten — which means I have to check in at nine or earlier. It's a long run, besides—Kansas City instead of Chicago, with return trip so that I shan't catch up on myrest until day after tomorrow."

"I wish you weren't doing it," Tommy said, turning suddenly grave and grumpy. "You don't have to. You know your dad was against it, same as I. I wish you'd just go back home and grow up there and wait for me. Though I know darn well I haven't any right to wish, or much less to say it."

Tibby looked at him, or rather at his back, since he was tumbling their spoils into the rear of the borrowed car. His back looked as if he actually had meant what he had just said, whether he should have said it or not. It was stiff and purposeful.

But of course he couldn't. It was no way to propose to a girl. Not the proper time. At that, it would be just like Tommy to propose in a deserted parking lot, littered with picnic remains, without even a smiling moon or any touch of romance.

"Will you say that again?" Tibby asked.

14 YEAR OLD MUST GO BACK TO SCHOOL

CLOVERDALE, B.C., June 17 — (CP).—The Surrey Police Magistrate ruled today that Mrs. Mary Rubby's 14-year-old son must attend school until 15 years old. Mrs. Rubby, of Port Mann, was charged with failing to send the boy to school as required by the School Act. Evidence disclosed that he had been working on a tug.

Warlime Problem of Children

By Garry Cleveland Myers, Ph.D.

At the Institute on Personality Development recently, I heard Martha Elliott, M.D., Assistant Director of the U. S. Children's Bureau, speak on Our Children and the War She also reported some of her observations of children in Britain.

Reminding us that many more mothers in England than here are working away from home, and that the number of working mothers here is growing rapidly, she stressed the need for more community aids for protecting the children of these working mothers.

She said Britain was better prepared in health measures for their children when war came to them but not so well as we in social welfare. They are, however, making rapid strides.

Dr. Elliott described some of the bad housing conditions in many of our defense centres and pointed to the need for many more day nurseries, more clincs, dispensaries and hospitals.

SOLVING PARENT PROBLEMS

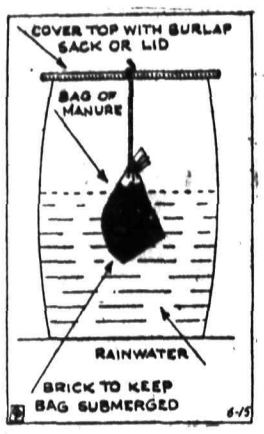
Q.—I have a nice playroom for my only child four years old and he has lots of toys. But he won't stay in this room and play alone. He wants to be about the house with me.

A.—Of course, just as any other normal child would. As you go about the house give him something to do or play with, such as a toy sweeper. Listen to his talk. Answer his questions. Try to enjoy the little tyke. Attract a playmate of his age and let him go to another home occasionally where a playmate is. Read to him several times a day. Dad should too, and make things with him.

Liquid Manure Forces Growth

By DEAN HALLIDAY

As plans can only obsorb food which is in solution, quick results are obtained by using liquid manure.



As illustrated in the Garden-Graph, liquid manure is made by soaking a bagful of manure in water. Stir the mixture once a day for a week before using and then dilute it to a pale straw color or to the color of weak tea to prevent any burning action. When manure is not available, sulphate of ammonia, nitrate of soda or a well-balanced complete fertilizer can be substituted. Dissolve one ounce in two to four gallons of water. Do not use oftener than once every two weeks and be careful to keep the solution off the foliage.

Never use any liquid fertilizer when the soil is dry; wait until after a rain or soak the soil well with water before applying. If applied when the ground is dry, it is absorbed by the plants so quickly that there is danger of the roots being burned. Watering lightly after the feeding is a good practice.

CBC Needs Boss Who Has Some Say

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP)—Gordon Graydon (Con. Peel) said today before the House of Commons radio committee that the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's greatest need is "a boss who has some say."

Mr. Graydon was discussing with Gladstone Murray, CBC General Manager, the Corporation's organization.

"It seems to me that above you and Dr. Frigon (Dr. A. Frigon, Assistant General Manager) there is a need for a boss who has some say," Mr. Graydon said.

"One thing becomes crystal clear —you haven't got a man at the top who has the say quickly and decisively, which most businesses find necessary."

Commends Girl on High Ideals

Dear Miss Fairfax:

You recently printed a letter from "Claire", who says she comes from a family of "old-fashioned folks," and who wonders whether a girl can be innocent and also modern and popular.

I'm a young man who has lived rather a hard life among hard-crusted people, working in such places as oil fields, construction camps and ranches. I've ridden freight-trains too. In these places a tough shell is a necessity, but I've always believed that fine ideals mean a finer life.

I've known my share of girls, most of them good girls. But when the one woman comes into my life I hope she'll be one who has saved her deepest love for the man she marries, and one whom a man can always respect, love and trust. Often I've felt doubts, but "Claire" has shown me there are still really fine women for one of whom a man would gladly work and fight to give a good home.

Her letter has helped me and I hope my letter will help her and others who feel as we do.

WILD SWEDE

Of the dozen or more letters which have come to this department in answer to one written by "Claire", this is the best. It answers all the Claires who, lonesome and unhappy, still believe in and hold fast to their ideals, in the belief that the right man will make up for everything.

Well-Being . . .

Proper Function of Gall Bladder Helps Digestion

Among its many functions, the liver secretes bile. It manufactures bile from the remains of broken-down red blood cells. The bile flows in small channels and bile bile ducts until it empties into the intestine in its upper part. A peculiarity of the bile canal sytem isthat it backs up into a reservoir or sac called the gallbladder.

RESERVOIR FOR BILE

The most reasonable explanation for the existence of the gallbladder is that it stores bile when it is excreted in excess and ollows it to be poured out at intervals as the digestion in the intestine needs it.

The bile is discharged into the intestine when fat s present and plays an importan part in the digestion of fat. It also plays a very important part in our well-being.

I remember one eminent surgeon who had a gallbladder operation after which his bile did not flow into the intestine for several weeks. He described a sense of melancholy that settled on him ,a lack of interest in any meal, and the delight which he experienced when the bile finally did begin to flow out and he began to digest hit fats.

SAFEWAY Homemakers' Guide

★ "Everyday low prices" ★ About vegetables and how to cook them
★ Meat that's guaranteed ★ How one wife made one husband happy

Six secrets you may not know —and should

. . . about vegetables

There's nothing elaborate or fanciful about the modern methods of preparing and cooking vegetables. On the contrary, the new way is much simpler—(as you'll discover when you read these hints that come from the Safeway Homemakers' Bureau).

1. To start, always buy the freshest, finest vegetables available. The older they are, the less attractive they become, and they lose some of their vitamins, too.

2. Wash vegetables quickly—but don't let them soak in water, or you'll wash away minerals and vitamins. Put greens in a covered container, wrap other vegetables closely in waxed paper; and store in the refrigerator until ready to use.

3. Don't pare, cut or shell fresh vegetables until just time to cook or serve, because vitamins escape once cut surfaces are exposed to air.

4. Cook quickly, as short a time as possible, using as little water as possible, and using cooking water when it is palatable.

Quick cooking means less vitamin loss, less color change. To speed the cooking, add vegetables to rapidly boiling water; cook covered.

5. Green vegetables (to keep their color) and strong-flavored vegetables (to modify their flavor) should be cooked uncovered, in slightly more water than other vegetables.

6. Serve vegetables as soon as possible, to get full benefit in goodness as well as nutrition. Over-cooking lessens attractiveness, sacrifices vitamins and minerals, and may cause unpleasant color changes.

Huge Grain Reserves May Help Relieve Rubber Famine

The United States Government is giving serious consideration, through a Senate Committee, to the possibility of producing synthetic rubber from grain alcohol.

The foundation for synthetic rubber is a substance known as butadiene. This can be produced from petroleum, natural gas and alcohol. The butadiene, from whatever source it comes, then must be processed into rubber.

The American government has devoted its efforts to producing butadiene from petroleum. One advantage claimed for this process is that it can be extended to the manufacture of aviation gasoline. But that is not an essential part of the problem. The essential thing is speed, with economy for the moment a secondary consideration.

Proponents of the alcohol process insist that production of butadiene can be obtained more speedily from alcohol plants that would use the surplus corn and wheat of the prairie states. If a synthetic rubber industry could be built in part at least on surplus grain, one of the great farm problems would be solved and the agricultural West would be cushioned against a post-war depression

The alcohol method is no experiment. It has been used on a large scale in both Russia and Germany. The petroleum method will be slow in getting under way and it might be wise to undertake the alcohol production at the same time. The country is going to need all the synthetic rubber it can get and is going to need it in a hurry: There will be no overproduction if both methods are used in Canada and the United States.

Speed Limitation Not the Reason

Automobile accidents in Canada fell to a very low figure in May. The reduction in casualties was promptly attributed by some commentators to the enforcement of the 40-mile an hour speed limit.

The truth, of course, was that the reduction in number of accidents coincided with the enormous reduction in the automobile mileage resulting from gasoline restrictions and desire to conserve tires.

Speed limitation is only one factor, and a relatively small factor, in automobile accidents. Speed of an automobile in relation to surrounding circumstances is a very big factor. In some circumstances 10 miles an hour is dangerous; in others 60 miles an hour is relatively safe.

Under present gasoline and rubber conditions to put down speed is essential, but we will never bring traffic accidents to a minimum as long as we continue to use speed-limitation as a remedy. The detailed traffic accident statistics are proof to the contrary.

Today's Horoscope

A charming, interesting personality is possessed by the person celebrating a birthday today. You should, however, cultivate a more positive attitude toward life. Don't let obstacles deter you. Your fortunes will be good during the coming year if you will avoid speculation and excessive pleasure and merry-making. Some disappointment in love or friendship threatens you during this time. Born on this date a child will be very romantic, emotional and generous ,so that unscrupulous persons posing as friends may cause sorrow and loss. Indisposition and extravagance must be guarded against. Business abilities will be excellent.

Words of Wisdom

True glory takes root, and even spreads; all false pretences, like flowers, fall to the ground; nor can any counterfeit last long. —Cicero.

Etiquette Hints

Even if it would be fun to tell a certain piece of gossip, don't tell it if it will hurt someone in even the slightest degree.

Chronometers Must be Found

MONTREAL, June — "Chronometers are urgently needed for Canada's newly built cargo ships, and every persons giving up to the Wartime Merchant Marine one such valuable instrument will be making a direct and important contribution to the country's war effort." This is part of the invitation now being extended by D. McK. Ford, Vice-president, Purchases and Stores, Canadian National Railways. Mr. Ford's Department is responsible for the "storing" of the cargo vessels built and building in Canadian shipyards, "storing" in this instance covering the multiplicty of requrements from navigating instruments to food in the galley.

In his appeal Mr. Ford states: "Standard chronometers are necessary to enable a ship to fix its position with some degree of accuracy, an dwithout such apparatus navigation would be difficult. They are not made in Canada, and before the war they were imported from abroad."

Mr. Ford explains: "What is required is a true ship's chronometer of standard size, with a compensated balance, and not what is commonly known as a watch chronometer. This apeal is made to all people in Canada who have such standard chronometers, and the Canadian National Railways' Purchasing Departmen at Montreal and Vancouver is prepared to pay a fair price, up to $250 each, having regard to the value of a new instrument, for standard chronometers in first class shape. Even if an instrument is not running, it may be repairable, and in such case a fair price will be offered."

The appeal is directed to retired sea captains who may have chronometers, jewelers who use them for time display, or any other individuals in possession of chronometers, Mr. Ford adding: "Each ship being built in Canada must be equipped with a chronometer, and we ask the public to help us to find the necessary number."

Whole School Put Before Firing Squad

(Movie Radio Guide)

William Tencer, a Balkan expert speaking over the London short-wave station, recently gave some details as to what happened when the Nazis overran Jugoslavia:

"Through the sleepy streets of the Jugoslav capital a German firing-squad marched a group of Serbs to the place of their execution. In the main square, right in the heart of the city, the procession halted. A few short commands—and all was over.

"Belgraders flocking to their work saw a grim picture. There were men and women hung up on lamp-posts with their faces already black and their hands tied together behind their backs.

"For several days the corpses were left hanging. The Germans hoped this would frighten the Serbs into submission. They have probably never heard of blood vengeance. Anyway, the Serbs soon took action. Unprecedented violence broke out in Belgrade. German soldiers were attacked from roofs and windows. Schroder, the German commander, dared to rush out into the street. He did not survive. He was stoned to death.

"Now a surprising thing happened. Dankelman, the new German commander, asked for reinforcements. He needed them. Jugoslav Tchetnik forces, already in command of large parts of the country, were within a few miles of Belgrade. But Berlin could not spare troops to be sent to Jugoslavia. So Dankelman decided to make use of the Serbian Quislings. He set up a Serbian puppet government. Neditch, a Serbian general and an extremely vain man, became prime minister. The first act Dankelman asked from Neditch was to mobilize 10,000 Serbian gendarmes to fight the Tchetniks. You see the trick? Still Neditch obeyed. He still does obey—yet Neditch knows what happened in Kragujevac, the largest armament centre of Serbia. As a reprisal for a spontaneous Serbian school children demonstration, the German police cleared the entire municipal school and put all its children before a firing squad. The horrified school master offered his own life to save those of the children. So he was shot, too. On this day in October, 1941, over 4000 persons in all were shot in Kragujevac and over 2000 in Kraljevo. But Neditch, the Quisling, still carries on to serve the German butchers." The Nazis can rule only with the aid of traitors.

TOPPING THE RIDGE

British Columbia will mark with some satisfaction the successful outcome of negotiations conducted by Premier John Hart for the refunding of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway guarantee of $20,160,000, and its reduction by outright retirement of $4,160,000 of the debt. Very favorable terms have been secured for the refunding of that part of the debt which canont be retired, terms indicating that the credit of he Province stands high, and that its major financial burdens are being successfully whittled down. Those who know provincial finances will realize that the present negotiations have brought British Columbia to the top of the ridge, with its greatest obstacles behind it.

There are several features in the transaction which will make it welcome to the Legislature and people of this Province. The $16,000,000 to be refunded, while it becomes the direct obligation of the Province, is being advanced by a Canadian syndicate for repayment in Canadian funds, at a cost of 3.75 per cent to the Treasury. The debentures to be issued against the reduced loan are to be of the serial type, bearing interest rising from 2 per cent to 3.50 per cent, towards the end of 20 years. In this, British Columbia is narrowly matching Federal financing, a result which speaks for itself. hile conditions favored the result, ths is the cheapest loan British Columbia has ever secured on the open market.—Victoria Colonist.

AIR POWER PROVES DECISIVE FACTOR

The Midway battle, from what meagre details have been reported, gives another striking proof that superior air power is a decisive factor in war today.

Every major battle in the war has demonstrated the dominant role of air power. The Midway engagement appears to add testimony that had already become conclusive.

Command of the air made possible Germany's astonishing victories in Eastern Europe. Temporary command of the air over Dunkerque explains the miracle of the evacuation of rBitain's expeditionary force from France.

With their command of the air the Nazis won Crete from the British and drove the British Navy from those waters.

Command of the air enabled the Japanese to invade and capture the Philippines, sweep the British from Malaya and Singapore and the Allies from the Dutch East Indies and to conquer Burma.

Equality of aterial strength stopped the Germans in Russia. The fact that the British have gained aerial superiority over Western Europe and America is building planes in numbers o give the Allies command of the air on every front is the biggest promise of ultimate Allied victory.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

Higbe Leads Dodgers to 4-1 Win over Cubs; Trout Hurls Tigers to Shutout Over Yanks; A's Climb

By The Canadian Press

Kirby Higbe suppressed Chicago Cubs on four hits yesterday as Brooklyn Dodgers hammered out a victory with timely thumping against Bill Lee. The only run off Higbe was a second-inning homer by Glen (Rip) Russell. Dolph Camilli connected for his 10th home run of the season with one on in the fourth after Brooklyn had scored in the seventh on two singles and an infield out.

Altogether the Dodgers made seven hits, two of them, a double and a triple, extending Joe Medwick's current batting streak to 20 games.

FOURTH SHUTOUT

Big Mort Cooper held New York Giants hitless for six innings and won though he was touched for runs in the closing frames he had some trouble steering St. Louis Cardinals to their seventh straight triumph, 3-0. This was Cooper's second shutout over the Giants and his fourth in the National League this season, during which he has won seven games and lost three.

Cincinnati Reds ran their string of victories over Boston Braves to nine straight by capturing the opening game of a doubleheader 5-4 and then coming from behind to gain a 4-3 decision in the 11-inning nightcap.

Paul Derringer gave the Braves seven hits during the opener and both of the Braves' tallies were unearned. Ray Starr gained his ninth victory while out-duelling Jim Tobin in the second.

Paul Waner, who needed only two hits to become the seventh 3000 hit-maker in major league history, managed to get one out of eight tries during the twin bill.

Pittsburgh Pirates shelled two Philadelphia pitchers at will to romp past the Phils 6-1 before a meagre crowd of 1500 in a night game.

The World Champion New York Yankees were shut out today for the first time this season as Paul (Dizzy) Trout outlasted Marvin Fuller for a 1-0 Tigers triumph. The only run of the game came in the ninth inning on three Detroit errors with Ned Harris' blow with the bases loaded providing the pay-off.

Dizzy Trout, who had lost five games in a row, pitched flawlessly.

Phil Marchildon, Philadelphia Athletics' righthander who had a seven-game winning streak stopped by a 4-3 score May 16, broke a five-game losing streak by the Yankees as the A's beat Chicago White Sox to move into sixth place.

Marchildon, who graduated from Toronto Maple Leafs, pitched six-hit ball and was backed up by a lonely nine-hit attack, principally against Johnny Humphries. The A's scored six of their seven hits for all their runs during Humphries' seven innings.

THREE STREAKS

Three streaks ended as St. Louis Browns defeated Boston Red Sox 5-4. Boston's consecutive victories ended at nine, the Browns broke a seven-game losing streak and Jim Auker won his eighth game of the year after being defeated his first three times out.

George McQuinn drove in half of the Browns' tallies with a homer and a single. Bobby Doerr of the Red Sox hit his 11th home run of the season in the fifth inning.

Kenny Keltner's single in the seventh inning drove in the tying and winning run as the Cleveland Indians beat the Washington Senators 5-4 in a night game. It was the Indians' seventh victory over Washington in eight starts.

Curtin Warns Australia Can Be Lost in Call for War Loan Support

MELBOURNE, Australia, June 17 (CP).—Prime Minister John Curtin told Australians sombrely today that the war news is not good, that "Australia can be lost," and that the fall of this continent would lay Hawaii and the whole North American coast open to Japanese attack.

In a radio address appealing for war loan subscriptions at the rate of $9,000,000 a day for the remaining five days of a current drive, Mr. Curtin based his statements on confidential official telegrams.

He declared the Axis is engaged in three powerful separate thrusts against the United Nations and that each is of vital importance to Australia.

The dynamic operations now proceeding, said Mr. Curtin, are the powerful German onslaught against Russia, the thrust in Libya and the sustained and widespread submarine attacks on Allied shipping.

"Australia is irrevocably linked with the wars in Libya and Russia," he said.

"The news from Libya is not good. Rommel has made gains at great cost, but nevertheless gains which are clearly reverses for our forces.

"Submarine warfare against the allies has reached a high intensity and shipping losses, I tell you bluntly, are beyond our present annual replacement capacity.

"Six Australian warships have been lost since the war began. Recently I defied the enemy to land in force in Australia. I said that because I was fortified with the knowledge of blows struck by America in the Pacific and because Gen. MacArthur and the Australian war cabinet had completed a war program."

Simultaneously in Wellington and New Zealand, Prime Minister Peter Fraser and United States Minister Patrick Hurley issued warnings against over-optimism on the part of the United Nations.

Japs Who Refused to Leave Families Go to Internment Camps

VANCOUVER, June 17 (CP)—Almost 200 second-generation Japanese men who refused to accept employment in areas East of the coastal defence zone in protest against separation from their families, were entrained under military guard for internment camps last night and more will follow, a spokesman for the British Columbia Security Commission said today.

"There are still several hundred Japanese awaiting internment in Vancouver," Maj. Mellor said. "While they refuse to go to work, protesting against separation from their families, they are not causing any trouble. They are just cheerfully awaiting to be picked up."

He said the Immigration Building would be filled again with these Japanese as soon as they can be picked up. Their movement to internment camps will be governed by the supply of accommodation.

Last night's departure was conducted quietly without a repetition of a short-lived riot which occurred at the Immigration Buildings in mid-May when Japanese smashed windows and furniture and turned a fire-hose on guards on the roadway below.

Authorities said this outburst had ben caused when the Japanese were denied daily conversation at close quarters with friends and relatives who came to see them.

Labor Shortage at Coast Causes Zeballos Shutdown

VANCOUVER, June 17 (CP)—Shortage of labor on the West Coast and difficulty in maintaining steady supplies have compelled shutdown of Spud Valley Gold Mines, one of the largest operations in the Zeballos camp.

Mount Zeballos Gold Mines were closed down several weeks ago due to the physical condition of the mine rather than to the labor situation.

Privateer Mines, largest company in Zeballos, is continuing to operate.

Notification of Tax Refund Will Be Mailed

VICTORIA, June 17 (CP).—Premier Hart announced today that because many persons have failed to make application for a refund of their one per cent wage deductions made during Jan. 1 to June 30, 1941, arrangements have been made to notify each person individually that he or she is entitled to a refund.

The notice will be mailed to the address stated by the employer and will be accompanied by a refund application form.

Duty of Garage to Keep Cars on Road Say Dealers

"So that our tempo may not be slowed down, and so that still greater pressure on our over-burdened public transportation systems may be avoided, as many cars as possible must be kept on the road." This reported statement by Alan H. Williamson, Controller of Supplies for the Department of Munitions and Supplies, is being accepted by Nelson garagemen and service station operators as clearly setting forth that it is their duty to keep cars operating as long and as efficiently as possible.

So far the effect of gas rationing has been lightly felt, though the new reduction Wednesday to four units per coupon instead of five, might, they suggest, make it necessary for some persons to reduce driving slightly. The restrictions on sale of tires and tubes have not as yet brought many cases of real hardship.

The duty of the tire dealer is plain, they feel. With his cooperation, the new regulations afecting the use and sale of casings and tubes, and retreading services, can operate smoothly. Without cooperation myriad difficulties would rise and the chief sufferer in the long run would be the dealer himself.

Mine Production Gains in B. C.

VICTORIA, June 17 (CP)—British Columbia mine production in 1941 was valued at $78,479,719, an increase of $2,778,564 over 1940, it was shown in the annual report of the Mines Department released today by Mines Minister Anscomb.

Gold production totalled $23,370,463, of which $21,984,501 was lode production and $1,385,962 placer. Since 1858 the province has produced gold valued at $383,250,826.

Coal production for 1941 was valued at $7,660,000.

Production of silver, copper, lead and zinc for 1941 was valued at $40,231,518. Production of antimony, bismuth, cadmium, magnesium, mercury, platinum, and tungsten was valued at $3,120,053.

Discontent Grows Says Petain

VICHY, June 17 (AP)—"Discontentment is growing", Chief of State Petain admitted today in a brief broadcast to the French people on the second anniversary of his suing for peace with Germany.

The 86-year-old chief said, however, that he hoped to realize his country's salvation "even after my death."

"Frenchmen," he began, "on June 17, 1940, at the tragic hour of the armistice request, I summoned you to silence your anguish so as to hearten only your faith in the destiny of your country.

"A year later, on June 17, 1941, I declared to you that the trail would be long and hard. Today I cannot speak to you in different terms."

He went on to say, "I do not at all hide from myself the feebleness of the echoes my appeals have met with . . . the workman suffers—and his enforced passivity cannot be taken for resignation; the peasant grows impatient".

Every Person Must Obtain Permit to Go to a New Job

By JACK WILLIAMS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer).

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP).—New regulations to provide control over movement of labor by requiring official approval for job changes in most industries were announced today by Elliott M. Little, Director of National Selective Service.

He said the regulations, under which practically all employment will be compulsory channelled through Government employment offices, will "ultimately lead to rationing of labor by direction, not by compulsion."

Men and women of all ages are affected immediately by the new order. Its range covers executives and office boys.

Mr. Little warned that the time will "probably" come when it will be necessary to transfer workers from one job to another to meet labor shortages in vital industries, but he added: "We do not want to do that until we have to."

To provide selective service officials with a day-to-day picture of the labor supply situation, employers who anticipate a need for workers, or who anticipate they will be laying off workers, are required to report that fact to the officials.

The order extends to almost every form of work the same necessity for permits as was previously put into effect for physically-fit men from 17 to 45 who wished to enter a long list of so-called "restricted occupations"—but there are no health or age limits involved in the new system.

Decision of a selective service officer in granting or refusing a permit may be appealed to the District National War Services Board and decision of the Board will be final.

Officials said that as a temporary measure to avoid delays, employees until further notice, may engage employees without obtaining permission first, providing they submit an application for permission within three days.

Exceptions from provisions of the order, in addition to agriculture, are fishing, hunting, trapping, employment by provinces, scientific and technical employment, domestic service in a private home, part time employment of students, subsidiary employment not the principal means of livelihood, and casual or irregular employment.

"None we say that no man or woman may take any job anywhere, with a few exceptions, without the approval of a selective service office," Mr. Little said. "In includes executive and messengers.

"This is not 'freezing' because a man or woman still has the right to seek a job and an employer has the right to seek an employee, but the man or woman can't take a job and the employer can't hire anyone without the approval of the local office.

"It enables us to control the movement of labor and guide it where it can contribute to winning this fight we're in. We have got to a stage where we must carefully measure out our manpower on a priority basis as materials have ot be rationed."

The new regulations will not interfere with current practices of advertising for employees, but before an employer actually engages an employee he will be required to obtain a permit. This responsibility rests equally on the employee but in practice it will be the employer who makes the application, Mr. Little said.

Outright refusals were not anticipated on any large scale but a determined effort would be made to channel workers into war industries and minimize the mobility of labor.

The leniency in granting permits will be dependent upon employment conditions in the area where the application is made.

In addition to using the 115 established offices of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, which will probably be increased, it is planned to licence certain offices, particularly in larger plants in isolated districts.

Already a licence has been granted to the Civil Service Commission which has undertaken to fulfil the regulations.

"We are going to try to take care of local needs with local help to avoid secondary problems," Mr. Little said. "We will probably reach the time when we have to transfer workers but we do not want to do that until we have to."

While employees of Provincial Governments do not come under the order it is applicable to both Dominion Government and municipal employees.

The order, which is signed by Labor Minister Mitchell and Mr. Little, provides that except for the specified exceptions "no employer shall take any person into employment except by notifying a local office of the vacancy to be filled and engaging for that vacancy either a person referred to him for such vacancy by a local office or a person whose engagement for such vacancy is approved by the local office."

It further provides that "Whenever an employer learns that he requires or will require to engage any additional employees or to lay off any employees, he shall forthwith report such vacancies or layoff to a local office."

The selective service office is authorized, upon not less than 10 days notice, to revoke any approval granted by him.

France Grows Defiant Since Defeat

BY ROY P. PORTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—France began her third year of servitude under German military masters today.

Late at night just two years ago, his trembling voice barely rising above the crackling of a Bordeaux thunderstorm, Marshal Petain told his country: "I made contact with the adversary last night, asking him as soldier to soldier to seek with me the means to stop the

Thus did the Commander in Chief of all French armed forces—the man who 20 years earlier at Verdun had said "They shall not pass" — translate 42 weeks of wearying warfare into German military domination.

Then—France was defeated. Today—she is defiant.

Then—France was hungry. Today—because Germany has taken carloads of her foodstuffs, she is hungrier, to the point where her babies are dying, her children sick and her parents aging prematurely.

During two years of almost ceaseless labor, Petain has seen France rising slowly and with difficulty, licking her wounds, binding her sores. Three governments, all slanted toward collaboration with Germany, have held the reins in Vichy and Pierre Laval, most pro-Nazi of all French political figures, is again in the saddle.

Petain has been called both patriot and traitor. The most authoritative American source, the United States Ambassador, William D. Leahy, spoke on his return recently of the "high personal regard" in which he holds the Marshal.

"Except for the agreement entered into between France and Japan in Indo-China," Leahy said, "no positive action as yet taken by the Marshal's Government since the Armistice has been of material assistance to the Axis Powers."

But the greatest thing in France today is the indomitable will of 90 per cent of her people to fight off their German oppressors—and to help those nations which are fighting the same battle.

Associated Press War Analyst

Just what inspired Prime Minister Curtin of Australia to contribute so sombre a picture of war developments as a basis for his warning that "Australia can be lost" is only conjecturable. Only recently he was broadcasting a fiery challenge to Japan to attempt invasion of the down-under continent.

The Pacific theatre itself has witnessed no developments since then calculated to abate his confidence. On the contrary the Midway Island fight should have added to his optimism. It was a hard blow for Japans ambitions yet Curtin all but hinted it to cast far and gloomy shadows at the Libyan, Russian and Western Atlantic theatres.

His attitude would be understandable if it were clear that some loss of confidence in Australia. That invites speculation as to whether he knows, of or fears some shift in United Nations strategy which might decrease the flow of American help to Australia. For the general purport of his warning was that Australia is a vital pivot of the United Nations war effort.

The Australian leader elected to paint a darker picture of Libyan developments than has come from any other British source. There was an implication that Axis capture of the Suez Canal to open an Indian Ocean route for attack on Australia was possible due to British reverses in Libya.

That is looking far ahead, through any but rose-colored glasses. British forces still hold a segment of Eastern Libya bulwarked by the port of Tobruk as an outpost for defence of Egypt and the Canal.

Russia is giving as well as receiving heavy lows. Hitler's great offensive has yet to get rolling, and Russian accounts picture him as stalled both in the Crimea and on the Kharkov front.

There has been no intimation from any quarter of any fundamental change in United Nation strategy which would divert to other fronts United States troops or fighting gear previously destined for Australia.

There is, of course, always a possibility that Japans abortive attack on Midway Island and her Aleutian Island enterprise are diversion moves designed to draw American forces Northward or to keep them on home defence assignments instead of mustering in Australia. It may be fear of such a development that has revived Curtin's apprehensions.

Four Ships Lost in Caribbean

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP) — The U. S. Navy announced today that two merchant vessels, a medium sized Panamanian and a small Honduran have been torpedoed in the Caribbean and survivors have been landed at an East Coast port.

Extend Call Up Age to Include 35 Years

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP)—Single men and childless widowers up to and including 35 years of age are subject to compulsory military training under a proclamation tabled in the House of Commons today by war services Minister Thorson.

This is an extension of five years in the upper age limit for men called up under the National Resources Mobilization Act for service within Canada and its territorial waters.

Now before the House of Commons is an amendment to the N.R.M.A., which would remove the restriction against compelling men to serve outside Canada. Today's proclamation contains the restrictions.

Extension of the age limit to include men up to 35 was predicted in the House several weeks ago by Mr. Thorson. The next step is expected to be the calling of married men starting with those who were 21 years old and married in July 1940.

Only last March the call up age was raised from 25 to 30. The raising of the limit again is believed to have been necessary because the supply of men eligible for call under the existing regulations was about used up in some war service divisions.

Affected by the new proclamation are men born in the years 1911, 1910, 1909, 1908 and 1907 who were single or childless widowers at July 15, 1940.

Last March it was announced it was intended to extend the call to persons of foreign nationality living in Canada but today's proclamation relates only to British subjects. Considerable international negotiation is necessary before the call can be extended to other national groups.

Now subject to call are men born in the years 1921 to 1907 inclusive but persons born in the year 1921 are not to be called until they reach th eage of 21.

Only 7 Soldiers Relieve at Logging Camp

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP)—Elliott M. Little, Director of National Selective Service, said today seven soldiers have been granted leave to assist in relieving a labor shortage in the British Columbia spruce forests.

Commenting on a Vancouver report that soldier-loggers are being used in the spruce forests, Mr. Little said of a total of 170 men sent to the Queen Charlotte Islands, seven were experienced loggers who had been granted leave by military authorities.

There was no immediate likelihood of using soldiers to fill labor shortages in war industries, Mr. Little said.

CONTRACT . . . By Shepard Barclay

DON'T ASK SURE THINGS

IF YOU are unwilling to gamble on probabilities, and confine yourself to sure things, you should not play games of any kind, let alone bridge. Any game is a problem of attempting those moves which you consider most likely to succeed. If you do it soundly and skillfully, you make out all right in the long run. If you do it unsoundly—being either too timid or too venturesome—you will be doomed to ultimate failure.

North's jump to 3-Spades was perhaps a slight overbid, but he preferred it to a weak 2-Spades, or any other call which would give the opponents any facts about his type of hand. South was ready for 7-Spades if North's response to the Blackwood convention had shown two kings, and 7-No Trumps if it had shown three of them.

Following the lead of the club J, North putting on the Q on the chance that West led from a king, the K forced the A. Develop the play any way you want, and you will see that the contract is now impossible of fulfillment unless West has the heart K. Since he has not, the contract is bound to be beaten. As soon as that card wins, the setting club is scored.

But that does not prove the bidding too venturesome. If the East and West hands are traded, a grand slam can be made. Or if the K of either hearts or clubs happened to be held by West, the contract would be made. Would you take a chance on bidding a slam which could be made under any of all of those circumstances? If not, you are not a sound bidder.

WAR COST HIGHEST IN HISTORY – KINGSLEY WOOD

LONDON, June 17 (CP). — The House of Commons voted a new £1,000,000,000 ($4,450,000,000) credit for war purposes today at the request of Sir Kingsley Wood, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who said it brought Britain's total authorizations during "the costliest war in history" to £10,050,000,000 ($44,700,000,000.)

Britain's rate of Government expenditure recently has risen to £84,250,000 a week, Sir Kingsley added.

He said that votes of credit already given, not counting the new request, exceeded the total of those granted from 1914 to 1919 by £300,000,000.

"This is by far the costliest war in history but this does not dismay us," declared the Chancellor. "There will be no faltering in the financial or any other sphere."

SAYS MEN LOCKED OUT OF COAST SHIPYARD

VANCOUVER, June 17 (CP).—Max R. Sharpe, business agent of the Amalgamated Welders' Union, said today 160 of its members were "locked out" when they tried to return to work at the Burrard Dry Dock's South yard.

The men were those who began a walk-out from the yard last Friday in protest against a closed shop agreement held by the Boilermakers' Union, and the alleged failure of the Federal Government to deal with an amalgamated union application for conciliation and arbitration proceedings for an open shop.

Sharpe said that 125 members of his union in the Burrard North Yard who had joined a sympathy walkout are also being locked out.

MONTREAL, June 17 — Canada has three more publications than it had at this time last year, though the dailies have decreased by five and the weeklies by 31, the losses being compensated by 20 new monthlies and 23 miscellaneous publications.

These figures are from the 36th edition of McKim's Directory of Canadian Publications, just issued. Chinese publications lead, among the dailies, in the foreign language field of 66 publications; the Chinese have four dailies, two in Toronto and two in British Columbia. Disappearance of the two Japanese dailies leaves the Japanese with only one publication, a weekly.

The Directory, comprising 483 pages, includes extensive data on markets throughout Canada. POWELL RIVER, B. C., June 17 (CP)—The manufacture of newsprint in the Powell River Company's plant will be cut by an average of 140 tons daily beginning the week of June 22 and continuing for five weeks thereafter, the management announced today.

A shortage of stocks of hemlock logs and loss of the "corrugating board" business because of changes in United States Government specifications are given as the reasons for curtailing output.

Conscription Now Would Be Harmful Says War Minister

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP).—War Services Minister Thorson said today in the House of Commons that introduction of conscription for Overseas service at present would be harmful to the war effort.

Speaking in the debate on the amendment to the National Resources Mobilization bill which would remove the restriction against compulsory Overseas service, Mr. Thorson said Canada is nearing completed mobilization of her manpower and care should be taken to maintain a proper balance between the armed forces and other essential war services.

"In my opinion the imposition of conscription for service Overseas at the present time would definitely be hurtful to the war effort," Mr. Thorson said.

"The people of Canada are more concerned with the achievement of results than with the application of theories and the actions of the Government will be governed accordingly."

There were three primary objectives to Canada's total war effort; production of materials of war, production of food and raising and equipping armed forces.

"If we are to make a maximum effort we must not lose sight of any of these objectives," the Minister said. "We must attain them concurrently as far as that is possible to do. Each step that is taken must be carefully considered in the light of its effect on the totality of our war effort."

"An attempt has been made to identify conscription for Overseas service with total war effort," he continued. "There is no necessary connection between the two."

"Indeed, conscription for service Overseas would in my opinion, by reason of its over-emphasis on the Canadian Army Overseas, have resulted in a less effective total war effort than the one we have been able to achieve."

Volunteers were essential for the continued efficiency of the Navy and Air Force and conscription for Overseas service would be of value to the Army.

Canadians could be proud of having "the largest volunteer armed forces in the world"—the Canadian Overseas Army which will have a larger proportion of armored troops than any other army in the world.

Military service for the defence of Canada was the duty of every able-bodied citizen and had been law since the Militia Act of 1868.

The Government's policy remained one of voluntary enlistment and that policy would be maintained "as long as that method of raising our Overseas forces remains adequate."

"I am further of the opinion that if we do have to resort to it (conscription), which I hope we will not have to do but which we will do if necessary, it will be only a second-best method of fulfilling our armed forces program," the Minister said.

Gas Ration Unit Cut to 4 Gallons

OTTAWA, June 17 (CP)—Munitions Minister Howe announced today in the House of Commons that the value of the gasoline ration unit will be reduced from five to four gallons in Quebec, Ontario and British Columbia, effective at midnight tomorrow night.

The ration unit in the Maritime provinces remains at two gallons for the time being but Mr. Howe said "we hope to be in a position to raise the unit to three gallons in the Maritimes as of midnight June 30."

There is no change in the unit value in the prairie provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. It remains at five gallons there "for the present."

The Minister also announced the setting-up of a new and lower gasoline ration category, to be known as Category "A—A" this category is to cover owners of more than one car in the present "A" category, and drivers who use their cars "entirely for pleasure purposes."

"It is obvious that these motorists should not receive as much gasoline as those who use their cars mainly in the earning of their livelihood," Mr. Howe said.

Amount of gasoline which would be made available to cars in the new "A—A" category could not be made public now as the setting up of a new category took time, but the allowance would be announced in due course.

It will be less than the present 60 to 76 gasoline ration units available to cars now classed in "A" category.

"Because there are many thousands of farmers, industrial workers and business men now in category 'A' the quarterly restriction of the coupon in this category will be abolished after midnight tonight," Mr. Howe said.

"This means that the category 'A' coupons in any quarter may be use dat any time regardless of the date printed on them."

Reason for the change in the gasoline unit value in British Columbia, Ontario and Quebec was the decision to order refiners of crude oil to change their refinery runs so as to make available more fuel oil for heating purposes, Mr. Howe said.

By doing this we hope to build up sufficient stocks of fuel oil between now and Oct. 1 to provide for household heating equipment during the Winter months," said Mr. Howe.

"It must be understood," however, that even after these steps have been taken, no guarantee can be given that fuel oil for domestic heating equipment will be available to meet normal requirements, because it is impossible to say at this time whether sufficient tankers will be available to maintain a continuous supply of crude."

Canadians Down Nazi Fighter Over Holland

BY ALAN RANDDAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, June 17 (CP Cable)—Canadian bomber squadrons were out in considerable force during the night as the aerial hammering of German industry was resumed.

R.C.A.F. fliers not only bombed targets in the Ruhr and Rhineland but scored a victory over a Nazi fighter over Holland as they headed home.

Super-happy was Sgt. Patrick Murphy of Halifax, N.S., who downed the Nazi fighter interceptor from his rear-gunner's spot in a Wellington captained by Flt. Sgt. Jim Foy of Toronto. He managed to get in a good burst of gunfire and the crew reported the Messerschmitt 110 blew up under the hail of bullets.

WITH THE R.C.A.F. SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, June 17 (CP)—There are no idle moments for the Royal Canadian Air Force Squadron station here.

Members took part in the big Ruhr raids then returned to the attack with a bombing expedition against Bremen led by Sqdn. Ldr. Len Fraser of Vancouver, a former bush pilot. Flt. Sgt. W. L. Scott of Yorkton, Sask., whose aircraft was among the first over the target, said there were many fires when he left.

Kootenay-Arrow Lakes Will Benefit Through Okanagan Fruit Byproduct Industry as Competition Is Reduced

The fruit byproducts industry under development in the Okanagan would prove of benefit to the Kootenay and Arrow Lakes areas by taking competitive fruit off the market and helping to maintain satisfactory market prices, stated W. M. Vance of Kelowna, formerly of Nelson, in an address Tuesday to representatives of cooperative growers' associations of the Kootenay and Arrow Lakes affiliated with the Associated Growers of British Columbia Ltd.

J. J. Campbell was Chairman and John Robb Secretary of the meeting.

Mr. Vance, Manager of the Kelowna Growers Exchange, and an ardent advocate of byproducts manufacture, expressed his hope that the byproduct industry would be extended. The relative volume of production and the cost of transportation to a central point were factors unfavorable to the development of an extensive byproduct industry in this area, but the Kootenay and Arrow Lakes would benefit through an improved market, he said.

Robert Foxall, who succeed Mr. Vance as Manager of Nelson Sub-Central of the Associated Growers of British Columbia, discussed local operations.

NOMINATE DIRECTORS

Making their annual nominations for directors of the Associated Growers, to be elected at Vernon June 25, the growers named:

For the Kootenay Lake section—J. J. Campbell, Willow Point; with J. D. Macdonell, Willow Point, as alternate.

For the Arrow Lakes section—W. J. Claridge, Nakusp; with H. W. Herridge, M.L.A., Nakusp, as alternate.

The meeting was well attended by representatives and other growers E. J. Chambers, President of the Associated Growers, having been called to Ottawa in connection with his duties as Director (Western Division) of Fresh Fruits and Vegetables Foods Administration of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, was represented at the meeting by K. W. Kinnard, Secretary-Treasurer of the Associated.

Lake Ferry to Be Suspended Over the Weekend

Ferry service on the main lake will be suspended Saturday, Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, but may be resumed by the C. P. R. steamer Moyie Wednesday.

Ernest Smith, District Public Works Engineer, stated the Tug Granthall at present providing ferry service with a barge would be required by the C.P.R. for other work from Saturday to Tuesday inclusive and with the Ferry Nasookin tied up, it would be necessary to suspend service.

Repairs now being made to the Moyie probably will be completed in time for the steamer to be inspected Tuesday, Mr. Smith said, and in that case the Moyie would go on the run Wednesday, C. P. R. officials were cooperating in an effort to restore ferry service as quickly as possible, he added.

The Nasookin will be tied up three to four weeks. Arrangements have been made by the Public Works Department to take over the boilers of the Steamer Bonnington, now tied up at Nakusp, and to install them in the Nasookin. Gangs are at work on the two boats preparing for the change. The Bonnington boilers have been inspected and had passed necessary tests.

Former Lieut-Gov. of Quebec Dies

QUEBEC, June 17 (CP) — Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, 91, former Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec, died today.

Sir Charles, Lieutenant-Governor of the province from 1918 to 1923, died after a few weeks illness.

Sir Charles, who gained national prominence in 1885 as chief counsel for Louis Riel—executed for his part in the Northwest Rebellion—was Minister of Justice in the Laurier Liberal Government, 1902-1906. He resigned to become Chief Justice of Canada from which post he retired and accepted the appointment of King's representative in Quebec.

Rossland School Principals Reply to Criticism at Board Meeting

ROSSLAND, B.C., June 16. — Three applications for the post of supervising principal of schools were before the Rossland School Board Tuesday night. The Board decided to appoint a supervising principal for the junior and senior high schools and to require coordination between him and the MacLean School principal in keeping with Department of Education policy.

Trustee J. C. Wright opposed the proposed change in administration, expressing the opinion the taxpayers of Rossland would have to shoulder additional expenses and would have to purchase new equipment. He questioned whether the taxpayers could afford it.

Trustee A. F. G. Drake agreed with Trustee Wright that it would mean increase in the cost of education, and asked whether it would be worth the increases to obtain the desired result.

The expense would be heavy, Trustee William L. Smith felt.

OPPOSES WRIGHT

Trustee Arthur Turner declared that "if we have to find a man to supervise the High School why not have him supervise the whole school system of Rossland?" He took issue with Mr. Wright.

Coordination between the schools was definitely necessary, Mr. Drake asserted. He believed this could be accomplished by the principals getting together.

Principals McKenzie and Perkins expressed surprise that they should be charged with lack of coordination. They had never, they said, had complaints of this nature. It was suggested inspectors should have brought this complaint before the two principals.

Ald. A. F. Snowball, School Board Chairman, asserted "the School Board Chairman, asserted "the Act definitely states that we must operate under the jurisdiction of the school law. Rossland does not know what is going on. The schools of Rossland must be put on equal footing with other British Columbia schools if the children are to have an equal chance."

NOT UP WITH TIMES

He said new educational methods which had come out during the last 10 years would be known by a new man and that while he regarded the present principals highly as men and as citizens, they had not advanced with the times.

In reply to a question as to whether statistics showed Rossland students were below average, Mr. McKenzie replied that figures showed they were above average.

When Mr. McKenzie was asked to express an opinion he said he did not care to enter into an argument nor to defend himself; that his 14 years service "speaks for itself." He was proud of the school, proud of the pupils, and proud of his work. He challenged the charge that "the product is rotten" and said hundreds of his students were now holding important positions. He also said he had been obliged to measure what he did with the finances available.

To have a supervising principal would be ideal, but few places in B.C. could afford such a setup.

He wanted it clearly understood that if he was not satisfactory he did not want to remain in Rossland.

"IMPOSSIBLE SITUATION"

"Gentlemen, you have made an impossible situation by giving the authority to the vice-principal of hiring and firing, and when he fell down on the job I was asked to step in. It was then too late."

MacLean school had not been perfect "but in my opinion the product of the school is as good as any in the Province," declared Mr. Perkins. He was not aware of the criticism by the inspectors of lack of coordination, which "to my knowledge never appeared in any report." As far as he knew he was entirely satisfactory to the School Board except that too much time had been spent on routine work compared with the classroom. Without a school secretary, even a part time secretary, it was impossible to carry on in the classroom and look after all the other duties.

As far as the inspectors were concerned they spent seven to 10 days in the year in the school and in Mr. Perkins' opinion a true report of the merits and deficiencies could not be given on this basis.

READY TO STEP ASIDE

"If you feel from the children's point of view someone else would be more satisfactory I will step aside," he stated.

Trustee Snowball said "the Provincial Government does not employ men who do not know what they are doing." Neither of the present principals had investigated modern methods, he added.

"Possibly all our ideas in Rossland are old-fashioned. Is Rossland going to be a city in British Columbia or simply the isolated golden city of Rossland?"

Mr. Snowball said he had received verbal criticisms from the inspectors and stated the final decision did not rest with the taxpayers nor the School Board, but with the Department of Education.

Junior High Cadets and Bugle Band Give Splendid Demonstrations at "Pink Tea"

Smart cadets marched, a trim bugle band displayed formation marching, first aid crews and signallers demonstrated their work—all this preliminary to a 'pink tea' Wednesday afternoon at the Junior High School, and it added up to a highly creditable 'ispla, providing first class entertainment for a large crowd of spectators. The "pink tea" which was featured by pink lemonade, was staged to raise funds for cadet uniforms.

Mayor N. C. Stibbs took the general salute as the smart boys and girls of the Junior High Cadet Corps swung into their demonstration. With His Worship were School Trustee C. L. Sewell, Ald. Ross Fleming and Sgt. Joseph Holland of the Veteran Guard, the last now in Nelson on leave. The Cadets were impressive as they drilled in neat columns under the orders of their youthful officers. The Corps was instructed by D. G. Chamberlain.

Striking in white uniforms, the Corps Bugle Band provided new and additional interest with its formation marching, led by Drum Major Clarence Ward and two dainty drum majorettes twirling their batons.

SUGARLESS REFRESHMENTS

While the girls of the Junior High Red Cross served sugarless refreshments outdoors, demonstrations in first aid and signalling were carried out by Cadets. The first aid "patients" were bandaged and borne on stretchers to first aid "posts", while the signallers sent messages to each other across the grounds and after writing them out on blackboards demonstrated to the spectators.

A table with displays of handicraft by the girls of the Junior High Red Cross proved to be an attraction. Needle cases, dolls' dresses, brooches, beads, bookmarks, string mats and pin cushions were among many novelties on sale. The excellence of the handicraft work was shown by a group of wooden bowls which the girls had varnished, waxed and stamped with floral designs.

Throughout the afternoon the girls sold pop corn and candy.

V FOR VICTORY

The grand finale came with the second demonstration of formation marching by the Bugle Band, which the members of the ba formed a giant "Victory V", co plete with three dots and a dash a wooden mount.

The signallers were John Mor Alan Mosher, Richard Brown, R ert Wassick, Ronak Ward, Gor Fleming, Bruce McKay, Her Clive, John Holmes, Joseph Stap William Horner and George Drew

First aid crews included Jo Waldie, Douglas Smith, Robert C entry, John McDowell, Thom Waters, Richard Radcliffe, Rob Bostock, Norman Staley, Arth Nelson, Clifford Holland, Ron Cathgar, Ivan Laughton, Ron Jarret, John Glover and Fred Br
